

Evangelist's Son Joins Workers In Revival Here

James Elton Wood, 17, son of Rev. and Mrs. S. L. Wood of Hillsboro, who has charge of junior class work in the Nazarene revival in progress at the church here this week. His father is preaching in the meeting, and his mother has charge of the ladies' prayer band.

The revival opened July 11 and is to close Sunday, July 18. Services are held twice daily, at 10 a. m. and 9 p. m.

Rev. Odell Brown, pastor of the Nazarene church at Grassland, and his wife have charge of singing and special musical numbers.

Young Wood is an evangelist, dramatist, singer, chalk talk artist and young people's worker. He is quite well known for his work in his denomination, and also does some work in the Salvation Army.

Much enthusiasm has been created by the contest now on between the two "armies" under command of "General" Louise Smith and "General" Harold D. Rhodes.

The interest and number is increasing nightly, and the young man reports that a picnic may be held Saturday.

"I am greatly encouraged, as well as interested in the young people," Wood said, "and I'm sure I am going to enjoy myself here, especially if all the boys, girls and young people attend and take part in this work."

Save Tin Cans For Salvage Drive Soon

Residents of this area are asked to save all tin cans for a state-wide tin can salvage campaign planned for the near future. Cans should be washed after they are emptied, and dried, to prevent rust, and the tops and bottoms should be cut out and the cans flattened, to conserve space. Put the cans with their lids inside them, in a box in a dry place. Announcement will be made later regarding the date of the campaign.

Tin in used cans can now be reclaimed, and several hundred pounds of waste tin can be saved in this territory alone if housewives will cooperate in the campaign, officials state.

Mrs. Roland Fuchs of Lovington, N. M., recently visited her mother, Mrs. C. M. Barrick, here.

Marketing Quota On Cotton May Be Lifted

The War Food Administration is preparing an order suspending rigid AAA marketing quotas on the 1943 cotton crop. Decision to lift quotas was made after a survey showed the 1943 crop at about 8 million acres less than the 30 million acres would have had in cultivation under the AAA program. Farmers will be free to sell all cotton they harvest this year without regard to penalty. Under quotas, excess sales were subject to a penalty tax of about 8c per pound.

Hail and Wind Damage Crops

Hail and rain driven by a windstorm last Thursday night damaged crops and blew down windmills and small farm buildings in the County Line area. Cotton in the damaged area was completely ruined. Feed crops, although badly lashed by hail and wind, probably will survive the beating, farmers report. Farmers were busy this week replanting cotton land to quick maturing varieties of feed.

Some crops in the western Eagle Springs area which escaped hail destruction suffered from the deluge of rain which totaled as high as seven inches in some places, reports said. Crops on farms by the draw were nearly washed away.

Rainfall in town Thursday night measured about seven-eighths of an inch. Territory south and east received about ½ an inch of moisture. Portions of the territory north and west of town received a heavy rain early Wednesday of this week.

NEWS BRIEFS

Rev. Sherrill, Methodist pastor at Dimmitt, is to preach in a revival to be held at the local Methodist church from July 25 until Aug. 1.

Frances Caffey of Loop has been elected head of the home economics department of the local school, it was announced this week by Supt. W. V. Swinburn. Miss Caffey, who holds a degree from Texas Technological college, was home economics teacher at Southland last term. She succeeds Mrs. Jack Hackler, who resigned to go to Mobile, Ala., to be with her soldier husband who is stationed there.

Contractors started drilling the second well for the city water system last week. It is located south of the first well.

Winford Rhodes, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Rhodes, won a Poland China gilt in the Sears-Roebuck essay writing contest. Essay subject was "The Advantage of the Cow-Hog and Hen Plan of Farming."

Ted Watts, Odie Hamilton and O. D. Rhodes recently bought new Chevrolet pick-ups. Co-op gin bought a new Ford truck last week.

Buck Young bought a new Dodge pick-up.

Mrs. L. E. Groves of Knox City has been elected teacher of sixth grade subjects in the local school for next term, Supt. W. V. Swinburn announced. She was here early this week. Mrs. Groves, whose husband is with the U. S. Air Forces in Hawaii, holds a degree from Texas Technological college.

A new honor roll bearing the names of 22 boys from Lakeview serving in the armed forces has been placed in the Methodist church there.

Due to the tire shortage and gasoline rationing, the annual home coming event held the fourth Sunday in July at Lakeview for many years past will not be held this year, it was reported.

Applications for new A gasoline ration stamps must be made by July 21, date the current book expires. Mrs. Leota Goldston is writing applications at the city fire hall across the street south of Delmar hotel.

GARDEN CLUB HONORS WAR MOTHERS

On July 6, as 13 of our 14 members entered the home of Mrs. Cecil Gartin, we felt a sequel to the poem, "The House by the Side of the Road," should be written in honor of a typical American couple, who had bought the place and fixed it up the way a place should be. Not until the four war mothers of the club, Mrs. Reed, Mrs. Rollin Albers, each with two sons in service, Mrs. Jack Barton and Mrs. Clyde Rhodes, Sr., each with a son overseas, saw the big American flag, the flag place cards, white carnations, and the service stars, did we realize it was all for us, because of our sons.

The luncheon was as only Country Garden Club mothers can prepare. The program consisted of an invocation, 4th verse of "America," book review of "Happy Land," by Cantor, given by Mrs. Jno. Lewis Haral.

$132,984.75 Paid In 6 Months For War Stamps and Bonds Here

First State bank and the post office received a total of $132,984.75 for War Savings bonds and stamps during the first six months of 1943, it was reported. During June, the bank sold War bonds totaling $16,725.00, purchase value, and the post office received $1,650.00 for 31 bonds and $150 for stamps.

Postal Receipts Gain Over $600

Edwin Hardesty, acting postmaster, reported a gain of $684.15 in postal receipts here in the first six months of 1943 over the same period last year. Total for the first half of 1942 was $2,886.32 and this year the amount was $3,570.47.

Wheat Loan Rates Are Increased

An increase of 1% per bushel in the loan rate on wheat has been ordered, County Agent C. B. Martin reports. The increase was caused by increase of parity price of wheat as of June 15. Applicable loan rates for Hale county, based on No. 1 eligible wheat now is $1.28 on farm stored wheat; $1.21 on warehouse stored wheat; $1.21 on warehouse receipt in local elevator; $1.45 on warehouse receipt for wheat stored in Galveston or other terminal warehouse with all freight paid. Martin said loans on warehouse receipts for wheat stored in other terminal or sub-terminal storage are based on the Galveston rate less amount of transit balance of freight unpaid.

Conservation News Briefs

Troy T. Neeley, Roy C. Sell, and E. A. Thomas, among local farmers co-operating with the Hale County Wind Erosion District report on their soil and moisture conservation efforts.

Mr. Neeley, who farms the Silas Maggard place here, says, "I went out to see what had happened to my terraces just after the last heavy rain. The steep land held the water just as good as the flat land and the soil never washed a bit. Water backed up behind the terraces from end to end."

Roy C. Sell has just had his terrace lines surveyed by the District engineers. Construction will begin right after harvest. He plans to move his fence and put it on a contour line to get rid of some point rows he might otherwise have.

E. A. Thomas is very well pleased with his conservation plans. He says, "I would never again farm anything without terraces except flat land. I would not go without my terrace system even if I had to pay the full cost of them myself."

The erosion district offers the technical services of the Soil Conservation Service personnel to its co-operators. Their office may be found on the top floor of the court house building.

Fred Joachim says: "The diversion terrace on my field spread water evenly on the flatter ground and prevented it from washing into the lake." Morris Eubanks says: "I expect to add another terrace to my present system of five terraces when the wheat crop is off the ground."

Otto Steinberg is using two inch pipe for taking water from his irrigation ditch. Each pipe waters six rows of potatoes one row at a time. It gives an even distribution of water.

E. L. Fisher and Roy C. Sell both plan to use a complete terrace system along with their contour farming. The Mrs. S. E. Hogan place is being farmed by H. A. Hegi and will be planted on the contour as surveyed by the district engineers.

Albert T. Whitfield Plainview farmer reports, "the new terraces held all the water. There was no run-off where before some small gullies were forming."

Applications are being received at the district office in the court house for work to be done in all parts of the county.

A letter from a war mother given by Mrs. Wheeler, a talk given by Mrs. Odie Shadden on "Origin of American Flag," pledge of allegiance, given by group and led by Mrs. Shadden, and songs, led by Mrs. Haral. The songs were "God Bless America," "Coming in on a Wing and a Prayer" and "When the Lights Go on Again."

The songs very touchingly expressed the love of friends and neighbors. We adjourned with the scripture: "Behold how they loved," and the prayer, "God bless us everyone" in our hearts.—Reported.

V. L. Hall Dies In Jap Prison

V. L. Hall, who would have been 26 years old next month, is the first Abernathy man to be reported dead in World War II. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Hall, received a telegram Sunday from the International Red Cross stating that he had died in a Japanese prison camp in the Philippines. The Red Cross promised additional information in a letter to follow.

On June 30, 1942, the Halls heard that V. L. was missing in action, and in January of this year word came from the Red Cross that he was a prisoner of the Japanese.

V. L., who attended school here and at Science Hill, entered the service in January of 1941, and was stationed at various posts, including Ft. Bliss and Ft. Brown, in Texas. He was with the 27th Bomb Group when he sailed from San Francisco in November of 1941. The last letter his parents received from him was written just before he left the States.

V. L. was born Aug. 8, 1917, in Oklahoma. He was about 7 years old when his family moved to the Abernathy community.

Surviving, other than his parents, who reside on a farm southeast of Abernathy, are five brothers: Curtis, with the U. S. air forces in England; Willie D., stationed at Sheppard Field; Gerald, Burl and L. M., Jr., of Abernathy; two sisters: Mrs. R. C. Patterson, Jr., and Bobbie Jane Hall, both of Abernathy.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Pig Boat

At sea on a submarine isn't exactly the "life of Riley." In the Battle of the Atlantic, or on the great stretches of the Pacific these sailors know the hazards of their work.

One of the spots aboard these "Pig Boats" that all crew members enjoy is the galley, or kitchen. Space limitations prevent an elaborate set up, but cooks aboard these vessels are justly proud of the meals they prepare for their crews. Your increased purchase of War Bonds helps make submarine life as pleasant as possible.

LETTERS FROM WAACS & WAVES

Dear Buford:

Again I have a new address. We moved to a hotel which was taken over by the navy last week. Now there are only WAVES here and we have our bunks (double-deckers) again. The WAVES are in complete charge—on duty at the desk and hotel switchboard. Four are on duty day and night. We receive incoming calls in our rooms but no outgoing calls except on the pay telephones in the lobby. Also, a marine guard is stationed in the lobby day and night. We like it here better because now it is all navy.

Tonight beginning at 7:30 we will march in the Independence Day parade. I understand it will be a two or three hour affair. However, it has been raining all day so it may be put off until tomorrow.

I hope that by next July 4, our boys will be home and we can celebrate a real freedom and peace.

Buford, last week-end a cousin, Robert Moore, whom I hadn't seen since June of 1933, visited me here. He is stationed at Camp Shenango, Greenville, Pa. I'm sure many of the Abernathy people remember the Sid Moore family, who lived there sometime ago. Mr. Moore passed away recently in California. Mrs. Ethel Moore, daughter of J. N. Daniel, and her five boys were in Alaska for some time. They have a little home there and plan to return after victory.

Jimmie and Billy Moore, the twins, are both in the army and are now in service overseas. Roy, the oldest of the boys, is with the Forest Service in Ketchikan, Alaska. The mother is residing in Arkansas for the present. Lester is a member of the U. S. Navy.

MARINE OFFICER IN SPECIAL COURSE

The Army Ordnance department announced that 2nd Lt. Dewey E. Johnson, above, has completed a special course in the operation, maintenance and repair of automatic aircraft and anti-aircraft cannon at the Aircraft Armament Training school, conducted by Oldsmobile Division of General Motors at Lansing, Mich.

Lt. Johnson was selected to attend the course in practical aircraft gunnery, operated by the Ordnance department, which maintains schools, in cooperation with manufacturers throughout the country.

Establishment of the school at Oldsmobile's Lansing plant is in keeping with the selection of this division by the Ordnance department as a major producer of aircraft and anti-aircraft cannon. Ordnance department

Fortenberry Is Big Cotton Farmer

(From Lubbock Avalanche.)

W. O. Fortenberry, Monroe farmer, gin operator and grain dealer, is the largest cotton planter in Lubbock county. His crop this year totals 1,400 acres. Some of it is south of Lubbock, some of it east, and some west, but most of it lies in the north part of the county, near Monroe.

Fortenberry's gin here is operated electrically. It is a five-stand, modern unit, capable of turning out 130 bales of cotton in a 24-hour day, which is the length of every day's work during the cotton harvest. The owner not only gins his own cotton, but also gins for the farmers generally in the community. His own crop this year, if an average is made, will yield 700 bales. Fortenberry said his farm manager last year, with 1,300 acres of cotton, obtained a perfect stand on all of the planting with the first seeding. He accomplished the same miracle again this year, with considerable talk throughout the county of his "good luck" but damaging weather later caused some replanting. The second planting however, was a success.

Plans Mechanical Harvesting

ment representatives in Lansing are responsible for the design, development and maintenance of all manner of armaments manufactured by this division. Included among these are the aircraft and anti-aircraft weapons which are in use on battlefronts throughout the world and are employed in the training of troops at the Lansing aircraft armament school.

The program conducted by the Ordnance military division as aimed at creating the greatest force of trained specialists in the history of military aviation to meet demands of modern aerial warfare.

Lt. and Mrs. Johnson visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Johnson, here last week. He reported for duty at San Diego, Calif., this week.

Fortenberry is interested in mechanical harvesting of cotton, and believes strongly in the success of such a transformation. He now is negotiating with manufacturers for a limited number of strippers to be used in his own crop next fall, after frost has denuded the plants of foliage, not only because of the scarcity of farm labor, he said, but because of the money saving and the speed of such operation.

Fortenberry is an outstanding leader in the county among the agricultural interests, diversified as they are. He makes frequent trips to Washington, and is a member of the Southwide organization of state agricultural commissioners which serves as a contact agency with important Washington bureaus administering farm policies. He is also president of the Plains Ginners association, a group of some 264 West Texas gin owners, and will preside at the annual association meeting which probably will be held in Lubbock during the later part of July. The association's territory comprises 34 counties.

Strong efforts are being made by ginners and many planters for increasing the cotton acreage, and especially in behalf of the cattleman and livestock producer who now are sorely in need of cottonseed meal and cake, the dependable protein concentrate for livestock feed in the area.

THE MEN IN SERVICE WRITE HOME

Somewhere in the North Pacific.
July 7, 1943.

Dear Buford:

Well, Buford, I feel awful about waiting so long to write and thank you for the Review which I enjoy so much. It brings good old Abernathy and all it holds that is so dear to me. As you know you almost let me hear about the arrival of my baby son, Sammy Kay, before my wife did. He was a month old before I knew he had taken up board and room at my house. I don't need to tell you how happy I would be to see him and the rest of my family and all my dear friends there. I have hopes of being with all of you Christmas. Buford, I am sorry I can't tell you something of my work and the places I have been, but, fellow, we are getting the job done just like we always have and always will. With the things we have back home backing us all the way, Victory is ours and that is understood.

Say, Buford, I see in the paper of the places that are changing hands, but they come right back to Abernathy to live so it must be a grand old place. Yeah, man! It's the tops in my book. I wouldn't give one block of it and good old Texas for this whole darn world.

Well, I received a nice bunch of mail from home today. I got a letter from Rudolph Struve. He is just a short distance from me. Part of Virgil Zeman's battalion is here and Virgil is supposed to arrive here soon. I have heard of Jack Hurst but haven't seen him.

Well, I have to answer my wife's letter and my buddies', Sam and Stella Carpenter. Tell everyone hello for me. Thanking you again for the Review. Your friend, Lester Floyd Davis, SF1c, USNR.

Norman, Okla.

Dear Buford:

Since I have the duty today and there being nothing doing, I will write you a few lines. First, I want to change my address a little. It is now Carl K. Hudgins, PH1c, Disp. No. 158, the NATTC, being the same as before. I was made first class on July 1 and moved to the WAVES' dispensary while I was on leave. I have the same duty in the new dispensary as I had in the other one, that of filling prescriptions only. I have a pharmacy about the size of Ray Pinson's drug store and it surely is fixed up first class.

I have good liberty now, as I only have to work one night out of every eleven, and get to stay in Norman all the other nights.

Buford, I surely wanted to see you when I was home, but as time was short and the time I came in the office, you were out, and I never got back. I want to thank you for sending the paper. Your friend, Carl Hudgins.

Dear Buford:

I have received my Review regularly, and surely am glad to get it to read all about the boys in the service and that they like it, but for me, I can't say whether I like it or not for they are pushing us from daylight until dark. When I was in Abernathy on furlough it wasn't like it used to be with all the boys gone now.

Well, I will have to close. Remaining your friend, as ever, Pfc. Luther C. Carter, Jr., Co. A, 782nd Tank Bn. (L), Camp Campbell, Ky.

Dear Buford:

This card is to inform you of the change of my rating and address. My rating is seaman second class, and my address is Lynn G. Medlin, S2c, Co. 1309, Yoeman School, U. S. Naval Training Station, Newport, R. I.

I left San Diego, Calif., June 27, arriving here July 1. I won't say anything about the country I went thru because of lack of space.

I saw Henry Clay Struve at San Diego the day before I left. Sincerely, Lynn.

Dear Buford:

We have just been notified of a change in our address. Our APO No. has been changed to xxx. The rest is the same as it was.

It is very hot and dry here now. It may come a light shower, but that makes it hotter the next day. My mail has been messed up for a while but we are hoping it will soon be better. It surely is nice to get the old home town paper. The boys in my gun section like to read it. It means a lot to me to know what everyone's doing at home.

I have seen most of North Africa from the desert to the Mediterranean and Indian both. Can you send me the names and addresses of the boys over here. I surely would like to see some of them. Sincerely, Sgt. Joseph J. Barton.

Funny How Everybody Still Calls it the "Light" Bill

Funny, isn't it, how we still call it the "light" bill? "I can remember when it really was the 'light' bill ... and we were mighty proud to have just electric lights.

"In those days we paid about as much every month as we do now, and all we got was light. Sometimes we weren't even too sure of that.

"Just think how much more we get now for our money. To start with, we light our homes a lot better ... then we wash and iron the clothes, protect our food, clean the rugs, toast the bread, run the radio and give electricity dozens of other jobs to do every day ... and that's what I call getting a lot for our money!"

"Yes, Mr. and Mrs. Homemaker, Electricity is today's biggest value. Despite the general trend of upward prices, your Electric Rates have continued to come down."

Our constant aim is to keep on giving you better and better service at less and less cost!
