Dr. W.R. White, President Of Hardin-Simmons Will Speak At McCarty Friday

Annual Homecoming To Be Observed By Citizens And Former Citizens

Evening Program Which Begins At 8:15 Is Open To General Public Of Lamesa And Dawson County

Every committee has functioned perfectly to make McCarty's Seventh Annual Homecoming party Friday a huge success, according to leaders in the movement. Indication is that there will be the largest crowd to ever attend one of these gatherings, present when the event gets under way at 1:00 p. m.

Invitations have been sent to scores of former citizens of the community and many of these have written the committees signifying their intention of being present.

The leaders in the movement are happy to announce that Dr. W. R. White, president of Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, as the main speaker for the evening program, which will culminate the day's activities. He is well known to the people of West Texas and the entire public of Dawson County is invited to hear him.

Dr. W. R. White, president of Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, will be the principal speaker at the final meeting of the McCarty Homecoming program to be held Friday of this week.

At this meeting the entire public of Lamesa and Dawson County is invited to attend and to hear this outstanding educator. The McCarty people are proud of the fact that they were able to secure Dr. White as a spokesman Monday, and they urgently request every person in the county to attend his address Friday night. They say they will have plenty of room to accommodate the crowd.

This talk will climax a day of activity for the citizens and former citizens of this progressive community.

They will gather at 1 p. m. on Friday to begin the festivities with a play period that will see games for persons of all ages.

An afternoon program will be held at which time the principal address will be made by Miss Beatrice Whitmore, a citizen of the community. Each year the program committee arranges for some person who has received their education in the McCarty school to be the main speaker at this meeting.

Recognition will be given to all former citizens and prizes will be offered to the person of the longest continuous residence of the community, provided they have never won before. Prizes will also be given for the oldest lady present, the oldest man, the youngest baby, and the person coming the furthest distance to the reunion.

Two barrels of lemonade and one barrel of iced tea will be provided to go along with the basket picnic which will start promptly at 6 p. m. These activities are open to all citizens, former citizens and those who have served McCarty in a professional way.

Dr. White's talk at 8:15 is open to the general public.

Dan Davis, owner and manager of the store, states that this increase is the second given his employees this year. Higher costs of living are given by Mr. Davis as the reason for the higher salaries.

Worm Poisoning Keeps Farmers On The Jump

Farmers of Dawson County and the entire South Plains have been very busy during the past few days, poisoning worms.

Reports state that the worms are the thickest this year they have ever been in the history of farming here. This is attributed to the unusual amount of moisture throughout the growing season and the rankness of the crop.

Some have reported that the worms have done very little damage thus far, and that they are being successfully stopped with poison, while others state that the poison seems to have little effect on their crop. Many farmers have already poisoned several times. Showers have fallen over the territory necessitating additional poisoning.

Those familiar with the situation predict that the present crop of worms will web up within a few days and if they can be held down until that time, little serious damage would be suffered.

Some sections of the county report much heavier infestation than other parts, but every section has a certain amount of worm trouble.

Safety Program Will Be Held At Rotary Meeting

W. D. Arnett will have charge of a special safety program at the regular meeting of the Lamesa Rotary Club this week.

The club will meet in regular session Friday at noon at the Plaza Hotel.

Attendance at the club has shown an increase as the vacation season ends and it is expected that a one hundred per cent attendance will be recorded Friday.

NEW WATERMELON KING

L. T. Shick who lives ten miles southeast of Lamesa, is the new Watermelon King for Dawson County, having gathered from his patch the past week, a melon that weighed 84 pounds. The melon was the round variety and was grown without the aid of special cultivation or irrigation. A party of ten people who gathered at the Shick home Sunday afternoon, were unable to eat all of the giant melon.

Our program this year has at least one sermon for each session, and we are expecting some great hours together. Our own Bro. Shipley will bring the Annual Sermon Tuesday morning. He needs no introduction to our folks. Come, hear him, and receive a blessing. Klondike and Wilson will be expecting you with a big welcome.

Ernest Phillips, Moderator, Lamesa Association.

Ask Motorists Not To Leave Bundles In Cars

With the approach of fall, Lamesa merchants are being warned against shoplifting, by local officials. Every fall there is a seige of petty thefts from stores, caused by the influx of strangers into the section to help gather the crops.

Officers are also warning the people of the section to not leave bundles in parked automobiles, unless they are locked. In the past several motorists have reported losing articles from their cars parked around the business district.

"It is better to not leave packages in cars where they may be seen," one officer stated, "but if they must be left in the car, by all means lock your car when you leave it. Where the car is unlocked it is too easy for a thief to take packages from it, and officers who might see him in the act, have no way of knowing whether it is his car or somebody else's."

Lamesa National Farm Loan Association To Hold Stockholder's Meeting

Interesting Program Has Been Arranged For Meeting To Be Held In District Court Room

Final arrangements are being rounded out for the annual meeting of stockholders of the Lamesa National Farm Loan Association, to be held at 2:30 o'clock next Saturday, September 6, 1941, in the District Court Room in Lamesa.

This year's meeting of land-owners will bring important discussions in view of the vital need for farmers and ranchers to carefully plan their future operations and safeguard their interests in these stirring times. "National defense is putting a heavy responsibility upon the farmer," Mr. Baker said, "and they are ready to do their part, at the same time realizing farm management becomes a more difficult problem in view of the hardships that such periods bring to agriculture."

The program will include a review of the year's activities of the association, discussion of the affairs, Judge J. E. Garland is to give a talk on "Our Part In National Defense."

Members of the Association will elect three directors to serve on the board for the next three years.

"Juaraz Corner" Perking Up As Fall Approaches

The first signs of fall were noticeable this week over around the "Juaraz" corner, which is as sure a harbinger of fall as the first green leaves on the mesquite trees signifies the end of winter.

Eating places are being put in shape, fruit stands, as well as various other types of stands are springing up, and by the time the cotton really starts moving this section of Lamesa will be a beehive of activity.

Indications are that the 1941 crop in this county will be later than is usually the case, and the crop is not expected to really get under movement to any large extent before October 1.

Gins of the town and county are all ready to go and many, have been completely remodeled and rebuilt since the season closed last year. All have been completely renovated and placed in the best possible shape for the new crop.

With worm activity on the increase, estimates as to the number of bales Dawson County will produce, have varied slightly, with most guesses still placing the total around sixty thousand bales. Each one interviewed however, has made his estimate upon conditions today, with the explanation that things could change so that the crop would be far below the above figure, or it could be a great deal higher.

Lamesa Schools Get Off To Good Start Tuesday

Enrollment Not Quite As High As Last Year

Is Expected To Be Ahead Of Last Year Before This Week Is Finished

The Lamesa Public Schools opened Tuesday with 1421 pupils reporting. Eight hundred and sixty-six of these were in the elementary and primary grades, 515 pupils were accounted for in high school grades, and there were 40 pupils reporting in the colored school. The number counted on the first day was approximately 50 fewer than for the first week's enrollment of last year. On Wednesday, however, many pupils were standing in line for enrollment and admission into classes in each of the principal's offices, but a final count for the second day was not available.

Classes met during the day Tuesday and will meet on regular schedule. Pupils who have not yet enrolled are urged to present themselves as soon as possible that their class progress may be continuous with that of the pupils who now here. Pupils who are late in entering are warned that they will find themselves behind their fellow pupils and that very quickly. There has been no loss of time in getting classes underway. It may not be generally known that classes in high school and upper elementary grades met for their regular periods on the first day and lesson assignments were given in detail and on the second day of school the recitations were in full swing, and that there is no way for pupils who are late in entering to catch up with their fellows except by hard work.

Marcellus E. Foster, one of Texas' best known newspaper publishers, retired this year (1941) at the age of 70. He founded the Houston Chronicle and after 25 years as its editor sold the publication in 1928. A year later he became editor of the Houston Press.

Audrey Cox To Build Theatre On East Side

Audrey Cox, who owns and operates the Palace, Majestic and Mesa Theatres in Lamesa, today announced that beginning as quickly as possible he will begin the construction of a new theatre on the east side of the square.

Mr. Cox already owns property on that side of the square and his plans call for the demolition of the present structure and the building of a new and modern theatre building.

He also announced that the new theatre would be equipped with the very latest equipment and that no pains would be spared to make it as nice and comfortable as any show house in West Texas.

He promised more complete details on the new place within the next few days.

Lobos Lose Final Games To Big Spring Monday By Scores Of 4-0 And 6-0

Wee Willard Ramsdell, diminutive Big Spring hurler, not only did the iron man stunt by pitching two games against the Lobos here on Monday night, but he won them both, and both by the shutout route. He limited the Lobos to only one hit in the final game.

Thus the Lobos ended the current season by dropping both ends of their final series and winding up in sixth place, just behind Lubbock and just ahead of Pampa.

A goodly crowd was present for the season's final tilt Monday. Big Spring was well represented in the stands as they saw their home charges whitewash the Lamesa team 4 to 0 and 6 to 0. The two wins were records for Ramsdell and the league. He set the pitching record for the West Texas-New Mexico league last year with 23 wins. His double victory Monday night represented his 23rd and 24th wins of the 1941 season to tie and break his former record. Lefty Courtney was the losing pitcher for Lamesa in both contests.

Although definite figures were not obtainable as this is written, it is a known fact that the Lamesa club went into the hole financially with their season's operation. Every club in the circuit experienced the same difficulty with the exception of Amarillo and, possibly, Borger, who showed a small profit.

There has been a great deal of discussion during the past few weeks as to whether Lamesa would have a club in the league next year, and at this time the matter stands just that way—at the talkative stage and that's all. Some are inclined to think that the town is too small to support organized baseball while others believe that it will. Time alone will tell whether the town will be represented next year or not.

Wide Commercial Courses Will Be Offered Here

The commercial courses heretofore offered for part-time employment persons will be given again this year. These classes consist of training in typing, shorthand, and elementary bookkeeping, business English, and other subject matter related to commercial school courses. Lamesa Golfers Winners In Big Spring Tournament

Quite a large number of Lamesa golfers attended the invitation tournament at Big Spring Saturday, Sunday and Monday, and some of them brought home prizes.

Besides the above, those attending from Lamesa and participating either one day or all of the days were T. F. Vaughn, L. B. Vaughn, Jackie Vaughn, Allen Barnard, Bob

1941 Tornadoes Look Good In Early Practice

Coaches Gregg And Neil Putting Charges Through Workouts Daily

The Lamesa High School Golden Tornadoes first football game of the 1941 season will be on Friday night, September 12, beginning at 8:00 o'clock. This game is with the Tahoka High School team, which gave the local squad so much trouble last year. It will be remembered that the Tornadoes had to extend themselves to defeat the Bulldogs from Tahoka. It is reported that Coach Leo Jackson has brought the Tahoka team along well, and that although his team has only a few of last year's squad members returning, they are expected to be among the leaders in their Conference A District.

Thirty-eight candidates are working out each afternoon with Coaches Lester Gregg and Jim Neil, as candidates for this year's starting squad. Several veterans are among the group and there are others who are coming up from the "B" team and from the Whirlwind group, as well as a few who are out for football for the first time.

The game with Tahoka will see the team in action for the first time this season and will likely reveal the style of play, the spirit with which the boys will go into the game and determination, and in general, how the team will likely succeed against future competition. It is expected that this game will be watched with considerable interest by football fans in the "AA" and "A" conferences in which these two teams are members.

The attention of fans is called to the fact that parking space is available on the campus south of the football stadium and car drivers are requested to park their cars in rows as an aid to the traffic at football games.

For Safety's Sake—

Keep Your Speed Under 30 Miles When driving in town

—and—

Keep Your Lighting Over 30 f.c.* When reading at night

You know that it's safer to keep your speed UNDER 30 miles an hour when driving in town. You also should know that it's safer to keep your lighting OVER 30 foot-candles when reading at night.

If you travel at a greater speed and don't get arrested, you may not have an accident. But if you read under a poor light, scientific tests show that you are definitely putting extra and unnecessary work on your eyes.

So, for "Safety's Sake", watch your speedometer and stay UNDER 30 on the streets. And also for "Safety's Sake", get the right kind of lamp and bulb so that your reading light will stay OVER 30 foot-candles.

Dealers will be glad to demonstrate these new lamps so you can see for yourself how much more light they give.

MANEUVERS ARE AMUSING In This Man's Army The Eyes Have It

By JOHN GROVER
AP Feature Service Writer

CAMP BLANDING, Fla. — The 62nd Brigade column, U. S. Army, rolls west, poking its motorized nose into a test tube 1,000 miles long. It's under military microscopes every mile. Brass hats cock critical eyes on it, checking the progress of a vital experiment—forging an army from an untrained mass of citizens.

This is military chemistry on a cross-country scale, shaking up men and machines with mud and dust and heat to find flaws in the army amalgam. The 62nd is a typical outfit, a cross-section of your new army. Its selectees and National Guardsmen have been training since November—grammar and high school stuff. The September maneuvers are "college." What happens to the 62nd is happening to 500,000 other soldiers en route to the Louisiana war games.

Take a close look at this typical unit for a better idea of our army. Taking a look at the army is the army's own favorite sport. Boy, do they inspect 'em. A double-check is just a casual glance. After quadruple, quintuple, and untemper-multiple inspections, a soldier envies goldfish all that privacy.

The 1,000-mile trip begins with inspection. Captains check every man and every pack. They even check extra socks and soap. No required item is overlooked.

Double Double Check
I ride with Maj. Ken Miller of brigade staff. Officers have regular "P's"—inspection points—to scrutinize the moving column. They note such details as conduct of men, condition of uniforms, speed and spacing of trucks, a hundred others.

The 31st division, the 62nd brigade's boss, has an inspector along to make an independent check. The VII corps gives the double-O to the division. Third Army, topping the corps, checks the checkers checking the checkers. Third Army in turn runs the gauntlet of GHQ inspection.

Maj. Miller notes some men are wearing smart field caps—girls like 'em better—instead of "dodges" (work hats) as ordered. Somebody will get "reamed" (bawled out) when the report goes in. He jots down the number of a truck with its canvas cover sloppily fastened. Even the rookie who sneaked his shoes off for a quiet snooze en route is spotted. It's unimilitary, makes a bad impression.

The major checks speed and spacing with a stop watch. Trucks should stay twice as many yards apart as the speedometer shows—60 yards at 30 m.p.h. In perfect formation, ten trucks a minute pass a given point. Maj. Miller notes sloppy driving in his "hell book."

These reports go to unit commanders, are relayed to sergeants, who single out the culprits for "reaming" or extra duty.

Perfect Timing
The system gets results. These kids nine months away from plows and factories and desks wheel $3,000,000 worth of mechanized equipment along on split-minute schedules. Even when a truck is disabled in a crash at a small-town traffic light the column doesn't lose a minute. A "nurse" speeds ahead for an "elephant." (A motorcycle rider falling the column to spot trouble brings back a repair truck.)

The men get ten minutes rest every two hours. Marching sitting down doesn't tire the feet like old-style hoofing. About a yard north of the ankles gets tired, though. It's a relief to get a furlough from wooden seats.

A sign flashes: "Thomasville city limits." The column hits the objective on the nose, less than a minute off schedule. Military police stall them to the bivouac area. It's already neatly laid out by the advance officer. Kitchen trucks, which went ahead, have dinner ready. Camp is set up in jig time.

All these kids have done is move a city the size of Manassas, Va., 200 miles—bag, baggage, utilities, medical units and vital services—between breakfast and supper.

MANEUVERS ARE AMUSING It's A Rocky Road To Romance In The Army

By JOHN GROVER
AP Feature Service Writer

LAUREL, Miss. Uncle Sam's soldiers are catching more woo than they're pitching. Riding with the 62nd Brigade from Florida to Louisiana, it's easy to see that Miss America is definitely daffy about uniforms. What's more, she isn't sitting demurely home with her embroidery, waiting for romance. She goes and gets it.

You don't believe it? Read on. One girl puts her chosen soldier in a hospital at Waynesboro, Miss. She throws a note with her name and address into his truck. Trouble is, she's tied it to a rock, and it makes him the maneuver's first casualty. This isn't an isolated instance. Outside Donaldsonville, Ga., I get a flash of a missile heading our way. Prudently, I duck. It catches Major Harold Nathan, knocking off his glasses. It's another note tucked in a booklet.

The major and I, baldheads both, can't credit for the romantic assault. The girl obviously meant it for Pvt. Nick Rizzo, the major's clerk, riding in front. Handsome Nick has a lush head of curly hair, so we pass the note to him in middle-aged resignation.

Popular Front
College girls in Mississippi toes just as many notes as mill-workers in Alabama. The colonel's lady and Judy O'Grady have the same idea about the army.

Isn't it unusual, Nathan about this. "Just better feeling between 1941 soldiers and 1941 civilians," he says. "Any veteran can remember when an army visit was as popular as a skunk on a picnic. The civilian attitude has changed plenty in the past eighteen months. They're friendly now."

He pointed out instances. Citizens at every overnight stop arrange entertainment for the 62nd. Thomasville, Ga., Andalusia, Ala., Laurel, all have big street dances. American Legionnaires set up canteens. Fleets of cars take the boys around town.

'E' In Department
Little towns, where the outfit only stops five minutes, if at all, have flags out. Boy Scouts snap to attention as the column goes by. At Enterprise, Ala., it's typical. Townspeople give every boy in the column a bag of boiled peanuts. (They boil new-crop peanuts there. Take the word of a dam-yankee reporter that they're swell.)

I talk with local policemen, thinking I'll get the dope on army hell-raising. "These kids behave. Better than civilian's the same age. Discipline is the answer. Folks were dubious at first about having an army on their hands. Now they're glad to have the boys stop."

That's the consensus. They prove it. At Andalusia, the MP's didn't arrest a single soldier for breaking the 11 p. m. back-to-camp curfew. Not a single case of drunkenness reported.

Cooperation
You see other instances of civilian goodwill. In Thomasville, Ga., I wanted a cold watermelon for the mess. No grocery store had 'em on ice. I called Jim Keaton, ice plant executive. He didn't know me from Adam. No they didn't have 'em to sell, but he'd fix me up. Insisted I take five.

"Nobody in Georgia eats less'n half a melon at a sitting," he explained. That's the way it goes. Townsfolk are 99 44-100 friendly. Immorality? Vice? Army doctors say it's largely exaggerated poppycock. Venereal disease is far less in the army than in comparable civilian age groups.

"Take a walk downtown and see for yourself," an army doctor advises. "If you don't find 250 at the dance with decent girls for every one you see going up to that brothel—and we know about it—I'll buy you a hat. I'll bet you another hat I can show you ten drinking sodas for everyone taking liquor aboard. Go see for yourself."

OMAHA, Neb. Aug. 14. (AP) — Happy enough but a little monotonous is grandparenthood for Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Langfeldt. Mrs. William A. Jewell, a daughter, presented them at first with a granddaughter. Not long afterward Mrs. Armand Allard made them grandparents of another girl.

Two days later daughter No. 3, Mrs. Golden Crouch, bore a grandson. And a little later the same day, Mrs. Joseph A. Dinovo, presented the now-used-to-it Landfeldts with a granddaughter.

NEGRO WOMAN IS HELD ON MURDER CHARGE

SEMINOLE, Aug. 14 — The body of Joe Grant, 45, a negro who was shot to death here Tuesday night, is being held here, while his wife is in county jail, unable to post $2,500 bond on a murder charge.

The woman, Lelia Grant, about 45, admitted to Sheriff John Greenwood she shot the man after domestic trouble. The shooting occurred about 10:30 o'clock Tuesday night in the negro section of Seminole. Singleton Funeral home said the body probably would be taken to Quitaque for burial.

Complaint against the woman was filed in justice court of J. P. Mahon.

Texas Tenants Poise For New Offensive

Using past experience as the yardstick, an estimated $2,000 of the 204,402 tenants who now till Texas soil will move to another place this fall.

Trus R. Timm, economist in farm management of the A. and M. College Extension Service, suggests that although this mass exodus of 40 per cent of the farm tenant population probably will shift only a few miles "tenant mobility, in general, certainly is disadvantageous to both landlords and tenants."

He points out the necessity for soil conservation and soil improvement on most farms, need for crop rotation over a period of years, and the importance of introducing, or adding, livestock on tenant farms make it all the more important that tenants remain on the same farm for several years.

The tenant migration will begin in the Lower Rio Grande Valley about September 1, and the shift continue northward toward the Panhandle region during the winter. As heretofore, nearly every tenant will feel that in his new landlord he at last has found an agricultural doctor who not only can ease his agrarian pain but also cure the ill.

"Nevertheless," Timm adds, "if history repeats itself four out of every 10 of the tenants will have a change of heart within the next 12 months and be ready to move again next year."

The Texas Extension Service, in cooperation with the United States Department of Agriculture, for several years has been trying to help landlords and tenants adjust their differences, and thus make it possible for the tenant to stay more than one year.

The major attack has been thru the medium of written leases. While improved lease forms are not, within themselves, the solution to the problems between a particular landlord and a particular tenant, Timm feels that improved lease forms and related materials are instruments with which to approach the problem in a definite and concrete way. Regardless of whether it is planned to have a written agreement on a place this year, a thorough understanding should be had between the two parties on at least the following points:

- Length of lease; assurance and guaranties by the tenant and landlord; agreement with respect to credit furnished by the landlord;
- Whipping Cream
- Creamed Cottage Cheese
- Espeula Ice Cream and Butter

Army's Homey, Domestic Hubby Crop Looks Good

By JOHN GROVER
AP Feature Service Writer
BREEZY HILL, La. — So you women think mere men don't know anything about home-making? You should see the army keeping house in the field.

You think you could do as well? Maybe so, lady, but your day would be full of little incidents like this:

"Junior, kill that rattlesnake for mama like a good boy. Then run over to the mudhole and see if they have got the kitchen loose yet."

Just a sample. I watched the 62nd brigade setting up camp after their 1,000-mile trek from Florida. Quite a suburban development goes up in these pine woods. Uncle Sam, realtor. Build your home on Breezy Hill, soldier. No modern improvements. Southern exposure—also north, east, west and straight up.

Close Quarters
And they call this Breezy Hill. That's conservative. When we arrived, the "breeze" would blow the paint off a wall, if there was a wall. This heavyweight zephyr blows up a pelting rain. Try wrestling up a tent in the rain sometime. It's like necking an octopus.

The road is a degenerate cow-path. It goes all to pieces. Trucks groan through it in compound low gear. Pretty soon they just groan—no go. The road has dissolved. Where it was is a mess that looks like equal parts waffle batter, chocolate pudding and library paste.

They hook wire ropes to the trucks and snake 'em out with winches. They get their tents up. The smart ones ditch all around their tents so the rainwater drains off, leaving the tent floor dry. Lazy rookies don't. Their bedding begins to float. They'll dig ditches next time.

Your bungalow in Military Heights is a snug affair, called a pup tent. The pup was the runt of the litter. Two soldiers share a space roughly seven by four feet.

Panhandle Fair Adds Outstanding Midway Features

LUBBOCK, Sept. 3 — Featuring four shows that last year were outstanding at the New York's World's Fair, the Beckmann and Gerety Shows, one of the largest carnival companies in the United States, will present a new type of midway this season at the 28th annual Panhandle South Plains Fair here, October 6 to 11.

A full mile of glittering, streamlined, modernistic midway with 26 thrilling rides and 20 attractive tented theatres, have been combined by Beckmann and Gerety to make their midway the nation's largest and most beautiful. More than 30 acres of amusement and thrills are illuminated by eight Deisel light plants, seven large beacon light towers that are visible for miles, thousands of bulbs and more than five miles of brilliantly colored neon tubing.

The four added attractions from the World's Fair include the celebrated Zorima Sun-Bathers, the show that played to more than 3,000,000 people last year and is now making its first tour of the larger fairs; Zorima was the most photographed woman in America last year, her picture being used by practically every magazine and newspaper in the country. Other featured attractions are the Midget village, Wilson's Expedition Show, the London Glass House and Royal Ice Palace Skating Review.

New attractions also include the Casa Rhumba show, an international revue of artists from "south of the border"; Gay Old New Orleans, negro show with 38 talented negro performers; Hollywood Monkey Circus; Shunway's Thrill Show and Globe of Death; Illusion House of Magic; Kortes circus side show said to be the largest collection of freaks and strange people in this country; and the "Monster" show. Rides are available for the sensation seeker and for the more sedate, including the latest Spitfire ride, named after the British fighting plane.

Beckmann and Gerety have played many of the larger state fairs this season, including Michigan, Kansas, Iowa, and Oklahoma, and will go from Lubbock to the Louisiana State Fair at Shreveport. It is the largest carnival that has ever played on the South Plains.

Landscape Design Should Be Simple

Since the beauty of a landscape depends upon its well kept appearance, this should be kept in mind by busy people when their original design is made, says Sadie Hatfield, extension specialist in landscape gardening.

There are some arrangements which will aid materially in making the home grounds easy to keep in a neat, orderly condition. The design should be simple. Well screened work and play areas will help to keep the public area from becoming cluttered. The lawn should be kept unbroken except for shade trees, which should be placed where they are needed.

Flowers and shrubs scattered about make the lawn difficult to mow. Beds of flowers dotted here and there not only make mowing difficult but they are hard to cultivate because they have to be worked by hand. When flowers are placed in the vegetable garden they may be cultivated along with the vegetables.

In order to save time in caring for the landscape, only hardy shrubs and trees should be used. Plants which are not adapted to the local soil, climate and rainfall, are a source of worry, work and disappointment, Miss Hatfield cautions.

The use of dwarf and low growing shrubs also is a time saver because they need less pruning. Another method of saving time in the landscape is to retain the natural rainfall. This will reduce the amount of irrigation needed for the grass and trees.

In choosing grass for the lawn, labor should be considered. Perhaps Bermuda grass is the best all around lawn grass for the state as a whole, but it has the disadvantage of spreading rapidly to cultivated areas and it requires frequent mowing. The native buffalo grass, which is often called curly mesquite grass, looks like bermuda but requires less mowing. It does not grow as tall as bermuda unless it is watered and fertilized excessively. Buffalo grass has the added advantage of being easy to destroy through cultivation. Hence it is not a pest in gardens and fields.

Individual shrubs or hedges pruned to make stiff and definite forms require more care than plants allowed, or trained, to grow into natural forms. An informal and natural landscape will require less care than a formal landscape.

More Livestock Moves From Texas Markets

All classes of Texas livestock except calves moved in greater numbers to out-of-state markets and the Fort Worth stockyards in July, than a year ago, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Shipments totaled 5,427 cars, compared to 5,167 in July, 1940. A gain of 59 cars marked cattle shipments, bringing the July figure to 3,060 carloads; hogs increased 64 cars to 945; and sheep gained 106 cars to 947. A total of 775 carloads of calves were shipped, down 69 cars from July a year ago.

Defense Bond QUIZ . . .

Q. I would like to provide a regular income for myself when I retire. Can this be done by buying Defense Savings Bonds?

A. Yes. If you purchase a Bond for $37.50 each month, each Bond will mature in exactly 10 years. Thus at the end of 10 years you will have $50 payable each month as each of your Bonds reaches maturity.

Q. But I will need more than $50 a month.

A. Then you should invest a larger amount each month. Every $75 you put into Defense Bonds will pay you $100 ten years from now. Meanwhile, your money serves your Government during this period of national emergency.

NOTE: To buy Defense Bonds and Stamps, go to the nearest post office, bank, or savings and loan association; or write to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C.

BUSINESS THRIVES ON DISCOMFORT

NASHVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Russell Nash worked his way out of college into a business that deals in the discomfort of freshmen. Nash's Old Hickory Paddle company last year produced 8,000 paddles for fraternity initiations.

An Alpha Tau Omega pledge, Nash was given the job of replacing broken paddles. Out of school, he began turning out decorated paddles. Michigan mills send him unfinished paddles and his force sands, paints and polishes them and puts on Greek letters to order.

Sardines don't get better acquainted.

Army kitchens are compact, gas-burning units. They can cook a meal bouncing along at 40 miles an hour. Even if the kitchen truck stalls, dinner will be ready. That makes up for plenty in the field.

The bathroom lacks a certain touch of privacy. The bath is a 10-gallon can with a shower-head hung in a tree. You stand in line for it. (That's when things are going good, under war conditions you just remember your last bath.)

Household utilities? Every soldier is his own vacuum cleaner. Camps are kept spic and span by not throwing things around. Anybody caught tossing cigarette butts away wins a job policing the whole company street.

Brothers Under The Skin
How about the class of neighbors in this military subdivision? The boys kill three rattlesnakes and a water moccasin. There are nearer neighbors than that though. Much nearer. Closer than your skin, in fact. They go right through your skin.

Yes, indeed—chiggers, man-eating redbugs.

Chiggers make an army democratic. Generals scratch just as hard as corporals when the redbugs invade. Chiggers invented the boring from within technique.

They say an army in the field doesn't need belts. Just button your pants to the insect bites, soldier.

Reduce Kitchen Casualties Says Farm Economist

Life insurance companies have figures showing that many thousands of deaths and disabling accidents each year result from accidents in home kitchens. To cut down on kitchen casualties, Louise Bryant, Extension Service specialist in home management, suggests a check-up to make this important room in the house safe.

A third of the deaths of children under five from home accidents comes from scalds and burns. To avoid such tragedies, cook with the handles of all pots and pans turned to the back of the stove so they'll be out of reach of children.

Safety catches can be put on petcocks to prevent children from turning knobs on the gas stove; matches should be kept in non-flammable containers out of their reach. Canning in a pressure cooker and deep-fat frying are two of the more dangerous cooking jobs, so children should be kept out of the kitchen during these processes.

"Be sure to cover your hand with a cloth before you lift the cover from a steaming kettle or roaster," Miss Bryant advises, "and lift the far side of the lid first." Here are other warnings:

Fat accumulating under a broiler is a fire hazard.

Long, loose, flowing sleeves are dangerous. Cook in short sleeves and plain smooth aprons and dresses.

Keep your curtains safe by fastening them so they can't blow in a fire or by fireproofing them.

Don't touch anything electrical with a wet cloth or wet hands or when you're standing on a wet floor.

A fire extinguisher for the kitchen is a good safety investment, especially for homemakers who live in the country.

BURIAL PLOT TRUSTEE QUILTS AFTER 51 YEARS

Columbus, Ohio (AP) - For 51 years Johnson Thurston, 82, of Long Beach, Calif., served free as trustee of a $100 fund to care of a family burial plot near Centerville, making an annual pilgrimage to the ground.
Recently he resigned. He said age made it necessary to care for the plot through correspondence.

Kerosene Kills Mesquite Trees

A demonstration on the San Pedro ranch near Carrizo Springs shows that Kerosene is an effective and economical in killing mesquite trees and brush. Says Robert R. Lancaster, Extension Service pasture specialist.
In 1938, 2,000 acres were treated, 3,459 in 1940 and 3,000 this year. Program calls for another 3,000. There was some resprouting, but such instances were readily found and treated the next year.
The oil is applied by means of a two-foot sprout attached to a two-gallon can equipped with a carrying ball and side, or pouring, handle. The sprout opening is about the size of a lead pencil. Approximately 12 inches of the base of the tree is thoroughly saturated with oil to a point where some of it flows into the ground. It is the kerosene on the roots which kills the shrubs and trees. Special care should be taken in treating brushy and "slick" bark mesquite, as these have been found to be more resistant to the oil.
The spray program on the San Pedro ranch, carried on under the supervision of County Agricultural Agent A. L. Sebasta, starts in July and runs through September. No more than government allowance has been used in the eradication work.

Texas Co-Ops Get REA Loans

Six Texas REA cooperatives recently have been granted loans to extend electric services to rural families in the state.
Loans were granted to the Kaufman County Electric Cooperative of Kaufman to build 113 miles of line serving 350 members in Kaufman, Van Zandt, Hunt and Henderson counties; Hill County Electric Cooperative of Itasca to build 54 miles of line serving 132 members in Dallas, Ellis, Hill and McLennan Counties; Hunt-Collin Electric Cooperative of Greenville to build 47 miles of line serving 144 members in Hunt and Collin Counties.

Worth.

In addition, the Wood County Electric Cooperative of Quitman has been allotted $2,000 for re-lending to individual farmers to finance installation of wiring and plumbing and purchases of electrical appliances and equipment.
The winning dairy teams are to compete in the national contests at the National Dairy Show in Memphis, Tennessee, in October.
For the county, district and state fairs, in which hundreds of dairy club boys will compete this fall, Gibson suggests that dairy animals need not be fat to show well. "They should carry enough flesh to be in thrifty condition. This means that most animals will need some grain and plenty of good hay and silage. No special grain ration is necessary; just see that the ration is balanced."

Increase Payment On Cotton Bags

COLLEGE STATION, August 23. -Payment per pattern under the cotton bagging for cotton bales program has been increased from 15 to 35 cents per bale cover, U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced. The change in rate pattern will effect only patterns manufactured and sold after August 1, 1941.
Increase in the payment is attributed to higher cotton prices and increased processing costs. A San Antonio cotton mill was authorized earlier this year to manufacture 775,000 patterns for cotton bagging.

NAMES GIVEN FEDERAL DEFENSE HOUSING PROJECTS

Names which have been given to four defense housing projects in Texas were announced last week by Federal Works Administrator, John N. Carmody, in a communication received by Governor Coke Stevenson.
"Kelly Homes" was approved as an appropriate name for the 200 homes approaching completion at San Antonio, for the families of Army enlisted men attached to Kelly Field. The project is located in the city, and is about one and a half miles from the Air Base.
Another project under construction near San Antonio, consisting of 100 homes for married enlisted men stationed at Brooks Field, will be known as "Brooks Homes." The project is located a mile and a half south of the city limits and about two miles from Brooks Field.
A third project at San Antonio will provide 200 homes for the families of enlisted men attached to Fort Sam Houston will be called "Carson Homes." This name, suggested by the executive director of the local housing authority, serves to identify the location of the dwellings. Carson Street traverses the brag between a couple six-foot armed guards. Instead, a slight smile curled the Captain's lower lip and he said, "Back to your barracks... Henry!"

I have a great deal to write you, but you owe me a letter so until you write, so long.
P. S. There is a cannon right outside my barracks window. They shoot it twice a day, at 5 p. m. and 5-45 a. m.
P. P. S. I don't mind it at 5 p. m.

Pvt. Ezra Stone Writes Of Army Life And Events

Ap Feature Service
Editor's Note: Ezra Stone, "Henry" of the Aldrich family radio show, is in the Army now as a draftee. Also a stage and film star and a stage director, Stone now goes into the letter writing business with this rollicking piece from Camp Upton. You will hear from him again.
Hi-ya!
Maybe I'm crazy. So far I think Army life is swell, even the coffee. Although I have to use both hands to lift the cup.
I've been here at Camp Upton, Long Island, seven days now and it's still hard for me to believe I'm a soldier. It's hard for my Captain to believe it too.
The second day here, I was ordered to deliver the morning newspapers to him. As I approached his headquarters I became very nervous, ten times as nervous as I've ever been on any opening night on the stage or on the air.
"Where you going, soldier?" someone called. "Hey, you with the papers? Hey, Shorty!"
I turned. It was my corporal, who always calls me Shorty. He himself is a full inch shorter than my stately 5 foot 3.
"Why aren't you policing around your barracks?" he snapped.
"I'm on special detail, sir," I explained. "I have to deliver these papers to the Captain. I'm worried too. How do you go about it?"
He looked at me blankly for a moment and then as he disappeared into our barracks, he barked: "Open them up to the funny page. Heave them through his window, yell P-A-P-E-R and run like h---!"
Just then a screen door flew open behind me. "What's all the racket?" I moved my lips but nothing came out. There on the porch behind me was "satan in sun-tan," the Captain.
"Who are you? What do you want?" he asked coldly.
I advanced to him as smartly as I knew how, my legs straight without stiffness, my head up, chin in, and eyes straight ahead. But I completely missed aim on the first step and fell flat on my face.
The newspapers blew across the lawn and my garrison hat went rolling down the walk.
Without getting up I raised my hand to salute and blurted out: "Mister Block, I'm Captain Stone, I'm supposed to--to--"
I couldn't believe my ears. But that's what I said. I addressed my commanding officer as "Mister" and appointed myself "Captain" my second day in the Army.
I saw myself being marched to

4-H Club Cows Furnish Milk

The milk supply in many homes is furnished by the 4-H Club cow. G. G. Gibson, assistant dairyman of the A. and M. College Extension Service, estimates that approximately 2,500 dairy animals, mostly heifers, are owned by the 2,338 4-H dairy club members in Texas. In 1940, 423 of the 2,293 boy-owners of milk cows kept production records. These showed that the average milk production was 4,465 lbs. and the average butterfat was 245 pounds for each cow that year.
"This," Gibson says, "was far above the average production for all cows in Texas and speaks well for the feeding and management of the good dairy animals owned by club members."

In order to learn more about selection and management, dairy club members take part in dairy cattle judging and dairy team contests. More than 100 dairy club boys took part in the dairy cattle judging contest at the recent State 4-H Short Course at College Station. The Ellis County team was first and Willing Brigham of Jones County was the highest individual scorer. The team showed the construction and arrangement of a safety bull pen, while the Hopkins County team, which won the dairy demonstration contest, demonstrated the classification method of judging dairy cows.
The winning dairy teams are to compete in the national contests at the National Dairy Show in Memphis, Tennessee, in October.
For the county, district and state fairs, in which hundreds of dairy club boys will compete this fall, Gibson suggests that dairy animals need not be fat to show well. "They should carry enough flesh to be in thrifty condition. This means that most animals will need some grain and plenty of good hay and silage. No special grain ration is necessary; just see that the ration is balanced."

JUDGE WANTED PROOF

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - Judge Harry S. McDevitt just couldn't believe George Ferguson, 40-year-old negro weighing 127 pounds, had lifted a 600-pound section of bronze city hall railing he was accused of stealing.
When Ferguson insisted he had, McDevitt summoned a 250-pound detective and told the negro, "let's see you lift him."
"I just can't do it, judge," protested Ferguson. "My heart ain't in it."
He got six months.

Fall Fryers Are Very Profitable

COLLEGE STATION, August 23. -Fryers are now the best sellers on most homemaker's markets in Texas, and many producers are buying baby chicks now to meet an increased demand for fryers during the early fall months.
That's the report from Myrtle Murray, Extension Service specialist in home industries, who supervises the work of the markets.
She says the other farm women can take this tip from those who sell on markets: Some of the producers are getting ready for Christmas sales now by preserving products for holiday sales. Among these are canned sweet pickled, preserved and dried peaches; preserved, spiced and crystallized figs; jellies and juices of all kinds; and brined cucumbers to be made into sweet and sour pickles as needed.
Some women are storing fruits and vegetables in freezer lockers to sell at premium prices next winter.

Dr. Cox Says:-

The prevalence of typhus fever in Texas during the last week was almost three hundred per cent higher than the seven year median for the disease at this time of the year, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Whereas we could normally expect thirteen cases of typhus fever during the first week in August, actually 38 cases were reported and the number continues to increase.
The rat is the animal host for the insect vector which spreads typhus, and since dry, hot weather favors the increase of fleas among the rat population, the possibilities of typhus transmission are thus increased.
Old World typhus fever has a high death rate, while the type we have in Texas, sometimes called Brill's disease, has a much lower death rate. Typhus occurs most frequently among persons who work or live in rat-infested buildings. It was this fact that led to the discovery that rats are the carriers or transmitters of the disease. It appears that the rat suffers attacks of typhus fever and that the fleas harbored by the sick rat bite man, and thus human infection results.
Although typhus is not commonly fatal, it cannot be considered lightly. The intense headaches, the high fever, and the great mental depression are its most commonplace features. In common with seasickness, the patient's greatest fear is that he is not going to die. The illness generally lasts about two weeks.
The control of typhus fever is primarily dependent upon the extermination of rats. Trapping and poisoning are helpful in exterminating them, but the best results are obtained by starving them. Rat proofing of buildings where food is stored is the surest method of exterminating rats by starvation. The State Department of Health and the U. S. Department of Agriculture will be glad to assist communities in their programs of exterminating this pest.

Mrs. D. M. Campbell has returned to her home in Sulphur Springs after spending the summer here with her son, Truman Campbell.

Dr. Cox Says:

"The Venereal Disease Program of the Texas State Department of Health in cooperation with the Texas State Medical Association composed of some five thousand Texas physicians, has rapidly expanded during the past two years."

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, declared this week "And at present it is reaching 90 per cent of the State's population."

"This work is vital to National Defense and has been highly commended by those in charge of Selective Service. Young men infected with a venereal disease are not acceptable for training in the armed forces for the defense of this Nation. Every effort is being made, in cooperation with military authorities to keep venereal disease infections to a minimum. The need of this work in National Defense and in civilian life is apparent when the records of the draft boards in Texas show that six out of every one hundred men examined are rejected for military service because of a syphilitic infection.

At the present time 90 venereal disease clinics are in operation in 62 counties and in an additional 130 counties treatment is available to the indigent patients through service given by the physicians of Texas. In this latter case, through plans worked out between the State Health Department and local medical societies, drugs are supplied through the State Health Department to assist the physicians in giving service to the indigent patients. Of the 44 cities in Texas with a population over 10,000, only a few are without available treatments, and in these venereal disease services are being rapidly developed. When this is accomplished, Texas will be among the leading states in meeting its venereal disease problem.

Aaron Scott of Gallup, N. M., spent the week end here visiting with his wife.

Clifton Crowley, with the title of director, is in charge of production, accounting and oil statistics of the oil and gas division of the Texas Railroad Commission. He was elevated to this position after serving with the commission since 1932.

Income Of Texas Farmers Increases Fifty Million Dollars Over Last Year

Cash is more plentiful for Texas farmers than it has been in a long time, with a fifty million dollar margin of gain in income this year over last, up to August 1, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports. During the first seven months of 1941, farmers have sold produce valued at $205,589,000, the bureau estimates. In July, for example, an index of agricultural income compiled by the bureau stood at 111.7, or 11.7 points above the five-year average for July from 1928 to 1932, and 43.1 points above the index for July, 1940. All sections of the state shared in the increase, the largest gains over January 1-August 1, 1940, occurring in the Panhandle, around Amarillo—plus $10,000,000—and in the sections around Wichita Falls and Abilene, around Fort Worth and Dallas, and around San Angelo, with increase of five to six million dollars.

MANEUVERS ARE AMUSING

Morale Report: Army With No Place To Go

By JOHN GROVER
AP Feature Service Writer
NATCHEZ, Miss. — Cock an ear carefully when buck privates talk if you want to get the lowdown on this morale business.

On the motorized march from Florida to Louisiana I listen plenty when the boys are "beating their gums together." (Army for shooting the breeze.) Some swear they heard the outfit's going through to the west coast to relieve a regular outfit for Asiatic duty. Others say it's straight dope that they'll be recalled for Caribbean duty. What's behind these rumors? Wishful thinking. These young men want to feel that what they're doing is vital, not playing cops and robbers. Officers say the root of the morale problem is this country's ambiguous position—neither in nor out of the war.

Eve On Congress
National confusion obviously confuses the soldiers. The vast majority left good jobs on induction. They want to know where they're going. Uncertainty isn't so good. From listening, you also get the idea they'd sometimes like a ration of barbecued congressman, served with a rasher of senator's ears. Isolationists and interventionists are both damned as political poisons. To prove it, they show you pictures of bitter political enemies grinning and shaking hands after a momentary vote on foreign policy. "What the hell? You'd think it was a tennis match!" is typical comment.

Tired Of Playing
Shortages of equipment raise another important gripe. The boys tell you by the hour of material shortages. They're tickled almost pathetically when they do get modern arms. While I was along, word came that an anti-tank battalion would get an issue of 37-mm guns. You'd have thought it was Christmas. Those kids had been training nine months. Not one had ever seen an AT gun. The guys in ranks don't analyze reasons for shortages. They see powerful weapons in rotogravure sections. They want 'em. They'll be dissatisfied—with reason—until they get 'em. They say so. Minor beefs: low-paid enlisted men still must pay for their laundry; sailors aboard ship don't pay federal tax on cigarettes—soldiers do; sailors are generally higher paid than soldiers; and they think FDR babies the navy. There's a brighter side. Pride in the outfit is pretty general. "My platoon can outmarch, outfight, out shoot, and outlove your bunch of farmers," is a common attitude. It's a healthy sign.

Migratory-

A clinic with a nurse constantly on the grounds is provided in the 50c weekly charge. Incidentally, that 50c is called dues—not rent. The nurse gathers all the kids each morning, gives them cod liver oil (no charge) and tinkers with their bruises and scratches. A physician also calls once weekly and is available at all times. Opening Day Nursery When the mothers go to work in the fields, which will be soon with cotton picking due, the camp's home economist, one of the nine camp staff members, will open a day nursery for the youngsters. There they will play games, absorb a little kindergarten teaching and get three meals (no charge). The FSA officials do not find work for the migrants. When they arrive they usually contact nearby farmers and register with the state employment bureau. They are given little plots of ground for gardening and a brand-new tractor, with every conceivable device, is theirs for the asking. Too, every farming tool known is in the storeroom in many numbers. They can be borrowed. A couple of huge power mowers will be used to cut the large grassed area around the shelters. Soon the migrants will band together and lease some sixty-five acres from the government for the staggering sum of $1 per year. They will farm the land, toss all the crops into one big co-operative and can the results for future consumption when times get hard.

Own Governing Body
The migrants have their own governing, or legislative body. One judge from each district (every 12 houses) is elected to the council's judicial body and the Oakties are put on trial when various offenses occur. They meet in the big assembly hall of about 350 capacity—also of California redwood. The camp takes up ninety-five acres, with sixty-five of it tillable land the migrants divide up among themselves. Opened on June 15, its present population of 115 is due to bulge within the next two weeks. Manager of the new deal's model camp for wandering land tillers is James H. Martin, a former Lubbock school teacher. On his staff are a clerk, home economist, nurse, physician, maintenance man and caretaker. The usual migratory camp also calls for an assistant manager and an underclerk typist, but these haven't been added as yet. Other camps in Texas are located at Lamesa, McAllen, Sinton, Robstown, Raymondville, Harlingen and Westaco.

Morale To Spare
Here's an example: In June, the 62nd brigade made a practice march to Ocala, Fla.—120 miles on foot. On return, three miles from camp, they flabbergasted their officers by asking to march into camp in parade formation, instead of the easier, sloopier route step. It was their own idea. Why? They're part of the Dixie division. The Yankee division from New England, is quartered next door. The Yanks had razed the 62nd, said they "couldn't take it" on the long march. They wanted to "show" the Yankees they could finish full of beans. They swept up the camp street cocky and proud and chip-on-shoulder. "Morale? Hell, they were busting with it," says Brig. Gen. J. C. Hutchison. (You get the idea he's near to popping, he so proud of them.) Sum it all up: There IS some dissatisfaction. Analyze the beefs, and they're mostly legitimate. Don't blame the army for it. If the whole country isn't sure of where it's going, how can the army tell? FULL RETRIBUTION PHILADELPHIA VERSION PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Keenan Wynn, arriving late for a personal appearance explained that he had been halted for speeding. He was taken before a justice of the peace who said: "So you're Ed Wynn's boy eh? Well I was to his last show, and I certainly enjoyed it. You know, I've heard some funny stories I think your father could use." The justice told them and Wynn laughed heartily. "Like 'em eh?" said the justice. "Well, that'll cost you $4.40—which is what I had to pay to laugh at your father!" Bulgaria has a wartime army strength of about 500,000.

TODAY'S SLIGHT MISTAKE

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — It's a question whether the lady or the copper was frightened the most. She went on a vacation and asked the police to keep check on her house while she was gone. The officer on the beat tried the door, several nights later, and found it opened. He walked in, turned on the lights and stepped into a bedroom. A blood-curdling yell came from the bed. The lady was in it. She had returned unexpectedly and had failed to notify the officers.

Pasture Is The Cheap Roughage For Dairy Cattle

Pasture is the cheapest and best roughage for a dairy cow, and according to E. R. Eudaly, A. and M. College Extension Service dairyman, September is the time to plant oats, barley or wheat for fall and winter pasture.

Prompted by the request of the secretary of agriculture for increase in milk production, Eudaly suggests that the coming fall and winter offer an opportunity to farmers "to make a little money producing milk provided they can keep the cost down." Pasture is the best means of holding down the cost and, currently, "milk is selling for a fair price," he says. Texas cowmen have pasture about as often as they are without it, "and if we don't plant we sure won't have any."

Cows grazing on oats, barley or wheat during the fall and winter will need some hay since the grain pasture will be high in water and low in dry matter. An average Jersey cow needs from 18 to 20 pounds of dry matter daily in the form of roughage. She will eat about eighty pounds of the grain pasture daily, which furnishes the equivalent of 12 to 14 pounds of dry matter. Therefore, the cow will need from two to six pounds of hay daily. If some hay isn't furnished she will develop scours. When this happens she fails to get the full benefit of the grain mixture which is fed at milking time. This lowers milk production, increases the cost and reduces profit. Eudaly advises that the protein content of the grain mixture should be 12 to 14 per cent when the cows are getting their fill of oats, barley and wheat pasture. If they are not getting all the pasture they want, and as a consequence are eating more hay or silage, the protein content should be raised. If the cows are eating as much as 10 pounds of carbonaceous hay, such as cane, and Johnson grass, daily, or 25 pounds of silage, the protein content of the grain mixture should be raised to 16 or 18 per cent, dependent upon the quality of hay. "Keep the cows producing help national defense," the dairyman counsels.

ON THE THEORY OF KILL OR CURE

KINSTON, N. C. (AP) — Glenn Swicegood, farm agent, tells of a man whose children had been plagued with summer colds and brought a herd of goats to cure the kiddie's colds. "The man said he had heard many times that a cold would not stay on the same premises with a goat. When I arrived at his house a week later three of the goats were gamboling on the top of an automobile and a couple were just wrecking a rose arbor—but the children's colds were gone."

Laughing and crying are virtually the same process physiologically.

Cotton Stockings To Come In Many Different Styles

More than 150 different cotton stocking designs now are available to the hosiery industry as a result of investigation by the Bureau of Home Economics at the Beltsville, Maryland, research center. Three years ago Congress appropriated funds to the Department of Agriculture for investigating the use of cotton for women's hosiery. According to Dora R. Barnes, specialist in clothing for the A. and M. College Extension Service, the designs vary from cotton web mesh for evening wear to plain knits in various weights for sports wear, and for around the house and garden. Several are in production and more will be soon. They are produced on a modern full-fashioned knitting machine and undergo severe laboratory and "field" tests for wearability, washability and appearance. Surveys made in 1940 showed that 89 percent of the 16,200 full-fashioned knitting machines in the United States are suitable for knitting cotton as well as silk, while only 47 percent can handle nylon yarns. Last year, American women bought more than 43,000,000 dozen pairs of full-fashioned stockings. If these had been made from cotton, it is estimated that nearly 300,000 bales of long-taple fiber would have been required.

Three Times As Many Eggs Sold In '41 As '40

Texas farmers and poultrymen sold almost three times as many eggs in July as a year ago, with total shipments amounting to 305 carloads, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports. Bulk of the shipment—259 cars—went to out-of-state points, New York taking 73 cars and Pennsylvania taking 41. Movement of Texas-raised chickens was cut in half, however, to only 15 cars, while five carloads of turkeys were shipped compared to six in July, 1940.
