$75,000,000 FOR FINANCING COTTON

PRESIDENT BARRETT ANNOUNCES THAT ENGLISH-FRENCH SYN-DICATE WILL LOAN THAT AMOUNT.

INTEREST AT 6 PER CENT

Details of Plan Are Being Worked Out
At Montgomery, Ala., Meeting.

By Associated Press.
Montgomery, Ala., Sept. 13.—That the National government be memorialized by the Cotton Growers Convention now in session here to discontinue issuing all crop and acreage reports was recommended in a resolution submitted by N. P. Blackwell, the editor of a Dallas cotton paper. The resolution recommended also the suppression of ginners' reports if the government cannot secure figures on cotton stock in spinner warehouses at the same time.

The Southern cotton growers estimate this year's crop at 12,240,000 bales.

President Barrett, of the Farmers' Union announced that a French and English syndicate has guaranteed $75,000,000 to finance the South's cotton crop. The money to be loaned at six per cent interest. Details are to be perfected by a committee to be appointed here today.

One thousand men from every State in the Union are in attendance.

One of the principal speakers was Senator E. D. Smith of South Carolina, who attacked the accuracy of the government cotton report and said that the Southern farmer had lost money enough because of it to establish an insurance department or to insure proper figures. He declared, too, that Attorney General Wickham attempted to break a social monopoly to boost the price of cotton but took no action against combinations trying to force the staple down.

WOULD TWO SHOWS COME HERE SAME DAY?

Effort Will Be Made to Induce Wallace
Hagenbeck and Sells-Floto to Come Here on Same Date.

The Wichita Falls Route this morning made a contract with the Sells-Floto circus from Albus to Wichita Falls, and back again the next day to Frederick, which the circus shows the day following its appearance here.

Advices from the railroad offices are to the effect that a movement is on foot to have the two circuses which are billed here on October 10 and 11 come on the same day instead of following each other. By such an arrangement it is thought that the patrons of the shows can be better pleased and a bigger crowd will come as a result. It is thought that where the people can come from a distance and see one show in the afternoon and the other at night, there will be a larger attendance at each than if it is necessary for people to stay over night or come again the next day in order to see both circuses.

Circus men say this is the only way that either of the shows can make money, and certainly the plan would be to the benefit of the patrons as well as to the city.

The Sells-Floto show made this arrangement with another company showing at Austin this year, with the result that the biggest crowd, with one exception, ever in the city was in attendance.

CONCRETE TOMB FOR 2,000.

Cincinnati Company to Erect $100,000
Structure of Fireproof Material

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 13.—A monster mausoleum, capable of holding the bodies of 2,000 people, will be built in St. Joseph's Cemetery by the Cincinnati Mausoleum Company at a cost of over $100,000. Ground for the improvement, which will be the first one of its kind erected in this part of the United States, will be broken next Friday afternoon, the first spadeful being turned up by Oscar J. Verkamp of the corporation, which has secured the necessary charter from the Secretary of State.

The building will be absolutely fireproof and of concrete construction, being reinforced with steel, and will have dimensions of 160x120 feet. The crypts will be large enough to hold the biggest coffin yet made, and in case a family desires to bury a member in this manner an opening will be left into the opening, and as soon as mourners leave the premises workmen with mixed concrete, will immediately cover up the opening, thereby hermetically sealing the coffin and its contents.

JUDGE FELDER WAS ACQUITTED

Special Judge Holds That County
Judge Under Constitution and Statutes Is Given Right to Carry Pistol

County Judge C. B. Felder was acquitted before Judge Edgar Scurry, sitting as special judge in the county court this morning on charges of carrying a pistol and rudely displaying a pistol. Authorities were cited yesterday showing that a county judge has a right to carry a revolver. The county attorney could find no authority to the contrary.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 13.—Between 200 and 300 internal revenue officers of the United States will meet in this city next week to discuss plans for the betterment of the service. The conference will be the first of its kind ever held, with the exception of a preliminary meeting held in Washington last year for organization purposes.

FLYNN SHOWS SPEED IN TRAINING

Pueblo Fireman Confident He Will Take Measure of Carl Morris.

New York, Sept. 13.—Carl Morris crawls over the Jim Flynn rocks on the road to the heavyweight championship fight fans will certainly regard him as the real white hope. That is the impression the Pueblo fireman has created since he struck the training camp at Johnson's roadside. Flynn is working like a beaver to blast the hopes of the Oklahoma giant, and he feels certain that he will do it. Anyway, he is working to attain that end.

Three men almost as big as Morris have been helping Flynn get into shape and their lives have been made miserable by the fireman. He spared not a blow and seldom lets one go that does not hit the mark aimed for. In the early part of the day Flynn takes a long run on the road, not with the purpose of taking off any weight, because he has none to spare against such a mountain of flesh as Morris but for the purpose of strengthening his wind, for he expects to work next Friday night at Madison Square Garden against Morris that will test his strength to the limit.

Del Rio, Texas, Sept. 12.—Four cases of endemic Mediterranean Malta fever are reported here by the U. S. surgeon. The patients are goat herders and the fever is said to result from their drinking goat's milk. This is the first demonstration of the indigenous occurrence of this disease in the United States. In the Mediterranean countries it is regarded as highly fatal.

GUMBEL'S SLAYER HELD WITHOUT BAIL

EMOTIONAL INSANITY WILL LIKE-LY BE PLEA OF MAN WHO SHOT WICHITA FALLS
REAL ESTATE DEALER.

APPEARS UNCONCERNED

Man Charged With Murder Shows No Emotion When Arraigned—A Letter His Wife Wrote Gumbel

Special to The Times.
Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 13.—Robert F. Curtis, the slayer of Henry C. Gumbel, the Kansas City and Wichita Falls real estate man, was held without bond Monday on a first degree murder charge.

The arraignment was at the prosecutor's office, the accused walking up stairs to face the charge and make his plea and then returning to his cell. He pleaded not guilty. It is believed his defense will be "emotional insanity."

When the name of Robert F. Curtis was called in the prosecutor's office a heavy set man of middle age arose from a chair. He flicked some ashes off the cigar he was smoking and laid it on the edge of a table. Behind the table sat Justice Setzler.

"Are you Robert F. Curtis?" Judge Setzler asked.
The man nodded. His lawyer stepped to his side and informed the justice that he would answer for his client. The judge picked up the long and rather technical complaint. He read: "That one Robert F. Curtis, wilfully, premeditatedly and in a cool state of blood, did with malice aforethought upon the person of one

"That's enough," the lawyer interrupted. "We waive the reading of the complaint."

"Guilty or not guilty?" the judge asked.
"Not guilty," the lawyer answered.
The judge turned toward Curtis. He merely nodded. He looked warily out of the window. He picked up the cigar, absent mindedly and puffed on it. The other arm hung down his side. The flat was clenched. That was the only trace of emotion.

The preliminary will be Saturday at 10 o'clock in the courtroom at Independence and Forest avenue. Mr. Ahearn, the lawyer, asked if bond could be arranged for. Justice Setzler replied:

"In cases of first degree murder where the proof is evident and the presumption great, bail is not permissible. Mr. Marshall, take charge of the prisoner."

But a marshal wasn't needed to take Curtis. He shook hands with a friend. He nodded to another and walked down stairs to jail. There he asked to use the telephone, before being locked up in his cell. He took the telephone and called a number.

"Then he drew from his pocket an order blank."

"This is Curtis," he said, as he got the connection. "Take these orders, will you?"
He read off to a clerk at the Niles & Moser cigar store a list of orders he had taken Saturday shortly before going to the Kupper Hotel, where he shot fatally the man he believed had had improper relations with his wife. He hung up the receiver and walked to the cell door. It clanked behind him.

The oldest deputy at the jail says there never has been a man quite like Curtis behind the bars there. Curtis's friends and the state say it was a mad infatuation for a faithless wife that caused him to become a slayer. But Curtis disapproves and does not meet any qualification of the man popular imagination would have you picture as the type that would kill for love. As he sat in the prosecutor's office this morning he was the keen, calculating business man. He wasn't worried. He wasn't brooding over his troubles. At least, no worry was apparent.

Curtis is middle aged. He was dressed carefully. He wore tan shoes, a checked suit, a black tie, a black derby. He was smooth shaven. His clothes were neatly brushed. A cigar fitted naturally between his fingers. His arm was slightly raised as often is the custom of smokers as they talk.

The few words he spoke to his attorney were in the tone a business man might use to give the day's quotation on flour or lumber or sugar or butter. Robert Curtis or his formal accusation of murder couldn't be called dramatic in the least unless it were for his perfect self-control.

Curtis's silence was unbroken. His lawyers told him not to talk Saturday night when he went down to the prosecutor's office to give himself up. He is minding their orders. His friends say his lawyers are waiting to learn the secret of the letters Gumbel tore up as he lay dying, before

IGNOMINIOUS END FOR LIBERAL UPRISING

Attack on Juarez Falls for Want of Weapons and Liberal Band Has Disbanded.

Juarez, Sept. 13.—The attack upon Juarez by a band of 160 Liberals warning of which threw this city into great excitement last night failed to materialize today through the inability of the Liberal Junta in El Paso to supply arms and ammunition. The Liberal band composed of about thirty Americans, a few Italians and Germans and a hundred or more Mexicans, gathered on the banks of the Rio Grande to receive the arms promised. A member of the junta delivered them three rifles and an old pistol saying, "This was the best the Junta could do" and the invaders disbanded. It is said the Liberal uprising is over.

PROS ARE LEADING BUT WETS WILL WIN

PROHIBITIONISTS ARE AHEAD 500
VOTES BUT PROHIBITION PA-PER SAYS MAINE HAS GONE WET.

IS CLAIMED BY BOTH SIDES

Big Lead By Wets. Overbalanced By Pros and Now Seems About to Turn Bare Majority for Antis.

Portland, Me., Sept. 13.—Late this afternoon the bulk of the indications were that Maine had gone dry, the count of the pro majority varying from 505 to 389.

By Associated Press.
Portland, Me., Sept. 13.—The prohibitionists lead on the face of the official returns to date by about five hundred but the Portland Evening Press, a prohibition paper, says the state has gone wet by five hundred.

Portland, Me., Sept. 13.—Revised returns on the question of the repeal of constitutional prohibition at 1 o'clock this morning reduced the majority against repeal to 295. The total vote stood as follows:
For repeal 60,216
Against repeal 60,511

Portland, Me., Sept. 13.—After a day of almost constant surprises, during which the result was many times hanging in the balance, it appeared last night on the face of the official returns from town and city clerks in all but 196 towns and plantations that prohibition had won in the special election of Tuesday by 465 votes. Most of the towns yet to be heard from have been unofficially reported with small majorities favoring retention of the prohibition amendment in the constitution and any change in the vote of these places is likely to help the prohibitionists.

In addition to the 465 majority shown by the clerks' returns, there are fifty more "dry" votes known to exist in Portland which are not included in the city clerk's report because of an admitted error. If necessary the anti-repealers will petition for a recount.

The change from an apparent victory for the "wet" side by 700 votes to 500 votes in favor of the "drys" came as a big surprise. The prohibitionists had practically conceded defeat, while representatives of those who sought repeal had sent out numerous statements on the strength of their apparent safe majority.

On the other referendum questions before the people Tuesday, that proposing to make Augusta forever the capital of the state, and that favoring the direct majorities according to returns at hand late last night.

Mrs. L. M. Stevens, president of the National W. C. T. U., made a statement last night in which she said the "final day of the overthrow of the liquor traffic has been hastened."

Frederick G. Fassett, secretary of the Maine non-partisan local option league, said:

"We do not concede that the amendment has been confirmed. We shall await the official canvass of the vote and at that time shall decide whether to take steps to secure an inspection of the ballots."

MILLER CONVICTED TO SERVE LIFE TERM

WOODWARD, OKLA., JURY TAKES BRIEF TIME TO DECIDE MURDER CASE.

THE PRISONER IS STOLID

With Smile for Family He Marches Off to Cell After Hearing Sentence.

Woodward, Okla., Sept. 12.—It took twelve men of Woodward county just seventy-five minutes Tuesday to decide that N. L. Miller, the Alva cause of the death of Mabel Oakes, the 18-year-old girl who was his stenographer during part of the time he was justice of the peace there.

When the jury retired shortly after 2 o'clock, many of those who had crowded into the little court room to hear the closing arguments of attorneys believed that no verdict would be reached for some hours.

About 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon there was a knock from the jury room, and when the bailiff unlocked the door the twelve men filed out, their faces solemn with the knowledge that, in doing what they believed to be their duty they were taking away the liberty of a fellowman.

Crowd Gathers.
The report that a verdict had been reached spread like wildfire, and hundreds of people gathered outside to push their way back. The men who occupied seats and lined the wall watched the face of the foreman, and whose future depended on the words spoken by the jurist.

Not the slightest sigh was there in the face of Miller to show that he even heard the verdict as the foreman read it to the jury. He sat silent and stolid in his chair, his brow slightly clouded by a frown.

Reaching the jury's verdict, reached the word "guilty." Miller looked up with an interested expression, but immediately his face grew calm again and he made no sound while the reading was going on.

When the verdict had been read and the sheriff came to take him to his cell, he turned and smiled at his family and marched away, his step steady and his bearing erect.

The closing day of the case found the interest keyed to the highest pitch. Not within the history of Woodward county has any case excited so wide an interest. The morning was occupied by the closing plea of Judge Wilson for the defense and Moman Pruett of Oklahoma City for the state.

Arraignment Bitter.
Never in the history of criminal trials has the Woodward county court house rung with such bitter denunciation as poured from the lips of Pruett as he traced to the jury the various steps along the path that finally led N. L. Miller to the bar charged with killing Mabel Oakes.

The case went to the jury at 2:30 and when the verdict was reached at 3:45 that they were back in court it was supposed they desired instructions.

Instead they delivered a verdict of guilty, fixing the punishment at life imprisonment. All through the trial Miller has proved and acted as the least interested of those present.

Discusses Deeper Waterways

Richmond, Va., Sept. 12.—The betterment of waterways throughout the entire country, but mainly those in the eastern part of the United States is the subject to be discussed by the 1,000 delegates who assembled in Richmond today for the annual convention of the Atlantic Seaboard Waterways Association. The purpose of the convention is to pass upon measures that may best bring about the deepening of such waterways and to promote the project for a chain of inland waterways from Boston to Beaumont, N. C., and thence to the Keys of Florida. Several of the links in the proposed intercoastal route are already completed or under construction.

I. X. L. CAFE WILL OPEN SUNDAY

Under the name of the I. X. L. Cafe, the restaurant heretofore known as the Saratoga, will be opened Sunday under new management and after a complete overhauling and re-modeling. The old Saratoga has enjoyed a fair patronage and apparently did a successful business. Through the slack summer months business has dropped off considerably, and the owners have determined to completely re-arrange the business methods as well as remodel the interior of the place, and improve the service.

As stated above, the intention is to open the place on next Sunday and to make for that occasion, as well as succeeding Sundays a feature of the table d'hôte dinner. For these dinners no expense will be spared to give the very best cuisine and service to be had at a price within the reach of all.

In the re-arrangement, while it is the intention to conduct a strictly first-class cafe, the prices will remain the same as heretofore.

WILL CELEBRATE 29TH BIRTHDAY

LADIES OF CIVIC LEAGUE WILL GIVE ENTERTAINMENT ON CITY'S BIRTHDAY.

PROGRAM IN MAKING

Many Attractive and Interesting Features Are Being Planned—Entertainment to Be Given in Theatre.

The twenty-ninth anniversary of the founding of Wichita Falls will be celebrated by the Ladies of the Civic League with an entertainment at the Wichita Theatre on the night of September 21.

The program has not been completed, but it will include music under the direction of Dr. Dunaevski, of the Wichita Falls Conservatory of Music, addresses by some of the founders of the city and other features. An effort will be made to depict Wichita Falls at the town site sale on September 27, 1882, and also represent Wichita Falls of today.

It is expected that several who were present at the sale of the town site will take part in the entertainment.

The announcement of the entertainment has met with an enthusiastic reception and a very successful celebration is looked for. Former days when the anniversary was celebrated a band of Comanche Indians would have a war dance by make believe Indians will be staged at the entertainment. Sketches of Wichita Falls as the town site appeared in 1882, and at several different stages in the city's history together with sketches of some of the pioneers will be thrown on a curtain with a stereopticon.

Among those now living here who were here when the town site was sold in 1882 are: Judge J. H. Barwise, Mrs. A. H. Carrigan, W. E. Brothers, Alanson Dickinson, W. J. Howard, Ed Wilson, M. H. Barwise, J. C. Ward and R. E. Huff.

WHY WE SHOULD VOTE FOR THE BONDS

To The Times.
After traveling over many miles of the Dallas county gravelled roads, it has made a believer of me, that good roads is what we need in Wichita county. While I believe they have made some mistakes in their construction that we might profit by, yet they are a success. The land has increased in value in spite of short crops. We will be benefited in various ways by voting for the coming bond issue. First, it will turn some money loose in the county; Second, it will be a benefit to our town and country; Third, a large per cent of the money will come from the railroads and other corporations. If the heads of these railroads are willing to vote these bonds, why not all of us? We should not look at the few extra dollars that we would have to pay out, but look at the benefit it will be to our town and country. We can't get something for nothing. Let's build these roads, and run the risk of making a good crop next year. If we have both, all the better for us.

J. P. JACKSON.

TRIAL AT LOS ANGELES.

McNamara to Be Tried in California
City Instead of Indianapolis.

According to Judge.
Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 13.—Judge Bondwell, before whom John J. and James J. McNamara will be tried Oct. 11 on indictments charging them with dynamiting and murder in connection with the blowing up of the Los Angeles Times plant, ruled that John J. McNamara must be tried in Los Angeles and not at Indianapolis, from which city it was claimed he had been kidnapped as the defense had requested.

The bill of exceptions filed by the counsel for the defense questioned the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court, but the court held it had jurisdiction. Cyrus McNutt, of the attorneys, for the defense, stated there would be no appeal from his decision.

To Stop Jewel Robberies.
New York, Sept. 13.—Representatives of eight jewelers' societies of the United States and Canada met in this city today to devise plans for the better protection of those engaged in selling jewelry and precious stones. The jewelers have been plagued to action by the unprecedented number of assaults and robberies reported by the trade during the past year. It is expected a large reward will be offered for the capture of the murderers of Adolph Stern, the clerk who was killed in the daylight raid on a Sixth Avenue jewelry store some months ago.

SHERIFF MAY NOT PERMIT BOUT

MILWAUKEE DECLARES HE WILL PREVENT LIGHTWEIGHT CHAMPIONSHIP CONTEST.

PREPARATIONS CONTINUE

Promoters Announce Bout Will Take Place Friday as Scheduled.

FACTS ABOUT FRIDAY'S CHAMPIONSHIP BOUT

Contestants—Ad Wolgast, of Cadillac, Mich.; Packey McFarland, of Chicago.
Place and Time—The Coliseum, Milwaukee, Friday night.
Title at Stake—World's lightweight championship.
Length of Fight—Ten rounds in twenty-four foot ring.
Referee—Marquis of Queensberry.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 13.—"The boxing contest between Ad Wolgast and Packey McFarland in Milwaukee Sept. 15, will be given as scheduled," said Matchmaker Frank Molkern last night after a conference with the promoters of the affair.

Sheriff Arnold is just as positive that the contest will not be staged. "This does not mean," said Sheriff Arnold, "that the men will be permitted to fight and then be arrested. It means that Wolgast and McFarland will not fight in Milwaukee Friday night. I shall prevent the fight taking place."

Both Wolgast and McFarland ceased their heavy work of training today and will indulge only in light exercise until the timekeeper's signal calls them into the ring. Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, according to the article of agreement, they are to tip the beam at 133 pounds, the lightweight limit.

Each fighter expressed himself to be a certain of victory, and the consensus of opinion of fight followers, preaches a contest that will make ring history. The followers of Champion Wolgast appear to share his confidence. The Chicago crowd, however, can see nothing but the stockyard fighter. Most of them assert McFarland should be the top favorite in the betting.

They contend that Packey will overshadow the Cadillac boy in ten rounds and earn a decisive verdict. Even if one will not be given.

The general view of the conservative critics is that the affair will be an even go and that it will lead to a longer mill to be staged on the Pacific coast. To them it does not seem possible that McFarland will knock out the champion in ten rounds, nor do they regard it as likely that Wolgast will make Packey take the count.

History. Lightweight Championship Title.

The lightweight pugilistic championship, for which Wolgast and McFarland are to battle, has been an open and even disputed title since the adoption of the Marquis of Queensberry rules. Jack McAuliffe and Joe Jans were about the only claimants to the title whose superiority was unquestioned.

McAuliffe showed his first championship form when he knocked out Bill Frazier in 21 rounds at Boston, October 25, 1886, in a contest advertised as for the lightweight championship. McAuliffe won the championship of Canada also, and clinched his claim to the title when he knocked out Harry Gilmore at Lawrence, Mass., in 28 rounds in 1887.

Then came the famous international contest between McAuliffe and Jim Carney at Revere, Mass., November 16, 1887. The fight went 74 rounds and was declared a draw. The memorable 64-round draw with Billy Myer at North Judson, Ill., February 12, 1889, was McAuliffe's next important championship contest.

In 1890 McAuliffe went to San Francisco and on March 21 of that year he fought Jimmy Carroll there, winning in 47 rounds. After defeating Austin Gibbons in six rounds, September 11, 1891, at Hoboken, N. J., McAuliffe did not defend his title again until September 5, 1892, when he knocked out Billy Myer at New Orleans in 17 rounds.

McAuliffe was never beaten for the title. At a big benefit given for him in New York in 1896 he sparred all rounds with "Kid" Lavigne and formally turned over the title to the Michigan boy. Lavigne won the championship of England June 3 of that year by knocking out Jim Burge in London in 17 rounds. Lavigne was then admitted to be champion light weight of the world, and he held the title until July 3, 1899, when he lost a decision to Frank Erse in 20 rounds at Buffalo.

Erse held the championship three years, losing it when Joe Gans knocked him out in one round at Fort Erie, May 13, 1902, acquiring the title that was not wrested from him until he met Battling Nelson at San Francisco July 4, 1904. Nelson knocked out the colored boy in the seventeenth round. Nelson retained the title until his second battle with Wolgast, which took place at Richmond, Ga., February 22 of last year. Wolgast won in the fourteenth round. Referee Eddie Smith stopping the fight. Wolgast was given credit for a knockout. Since then the present champion has defended his title against "Knockout" Brown, George Meneke, "One Round" Hogan, Frankie Burns, Owen Morris and several fighters of minor note.

If the name Yogo means "Peaceful Son of the Eastern Country," the Japanese translation of John Arthur Johnson probably is something like "Tender Little Fighter from Texas."—Springfield Union.

GUMBLE'S SLAYER HELD WITHOUT BAIL

outlining his defense. Those letters, friends of the accused say, might explain what prompted Curtis to drop suddenly the role of a keen business man, assume that of a man slayer and then just as quickly drop back to the business man again.

One of the letters Gumble took to places has been restored to legality. It was addressed to Gumble and is signed "Lucie," the first name of Mrs. Curtis.

The letter follows:
Sweetheart: I am so all fired spooled by your sending my letters, special that I can hardly wait for 4 o'clock to come when the postman brings your letters. I have been especially impatient today, for I am terribly worried about the outcome of your meeting with X. I have let my imagination play horse with my nerves and I haven't slept four minutes since I received your wire at noon yesterday.

I know you will say I am foolish, but dear sweetheart you know there is much a thing as not being able to control one's thoughts and being nervous as I am, it only makes things look worse to me. If somebody knew I would not be so desperately anxious. It is the uncertainty that kills me.

I haven't time or the inclination for doing anything but think of you, dear. I am not really fit to associate with anyone and I am sure Ethel is thoroughly disgusted with me. She has to beg and insist on me going with her, and then gets sore at me when I am stupid and uninteresting to her friends, but I don't want to go. I want to be left alone with my thoughts of you, baby. I am much more contented. She went downtown this noon in a bad humor with me because I refused positively to go with her.

By the way, she is in a lot of trouble in regard to her divorce. Mr. Alford's lawyers are going to cheat her out of getting anything from him and she may have to go to Adrian, Mich., on the 11th. Her mother is still very ill, and if she is out of the hospital in two weeks she will be doing very well. Of course Ethel will go back to the store next week, as she can't afford to be idle and I don't relish the idea of being alone all day.

I wish we could be together somewhere, darling, but it seems not—I'll try to be patient; dear. If ever a poor devil was relieved of a nervous strain, I am it. I have just read your letter, darling, and deep down in my heart I have made one prayer to the God of all things good, but I still have no cause for uneasiness, dear. Really, I can hardly wait for the utter relaxation of my nerves.

Do you know what I expect next? I will tell you—a suit for alienating my affections. (Affections underscored). It wouldn't surprise me any moment if he sprung that on me. I would rather see you a bankrupt than let him have a penny of your money, and I would fight him tooth and toenail to beat him to it.

So you met him and he didn't have the nerve to even say "hello" at you. I am not worried about him saying or doing anything to you, darling for you are my own brave little man. While not much on the Sandow order, still I am sure you would take a licking like a gentleman if you could not help it.

So you think you are being watched. Well, dear, it takes money to employ detectives, and he'll get tired of it after while. I approve of you sticking around where he can watch everything you do. Be careful about your mail, dear, and don't keep my letters for it may not require much effort for someone to get them. It is easy to bribe a maid or a bellboy to go through your things, so read them and get rid of them.

Don't be careless now. When are you going to Texas? Are you still so busy in K. C.? And how about your Swaps "Park Boulevard" suit? Settled it yet? There are several more pages of the letter that had not been deciphered at 3:45 o'clock.

GOOD PROGRAM DRY FARMING CONGRESS

Practical Subjects Will Be Discussed By Practical Experts.

A very practical and interesting program has been arranged for the West Texas Dry Farming Congress to be held on September 27-28 as indicated in the following outline:

"The Soil Mulch," by an original soil mulcher, Prof. R. R. Clearidge, agricultural commissioner, I. & G. N. R. R.

This lecture deals with the mulch in its relation to soil moisture; when to mulch, how to mulch, and explains the scientific reasons for it, by a man who is fully competent to tell them.

"Forage Crops and Legumes for Dry Regions," by Prof. A. B. Connor, of the Bureau of Plant Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture. Prof. Connor has at his command all the information acquired by the National Government from all parts of the world and by hundreds of experiments made in the drier regions of this country, hence his lecture should be unusually valuable.

"Dry Land Cropping Systems for West Texas," by Prof. B. Youngblood, now on the staff of the Texas A. & M. College and formerly for a number of years one of the most practical and successful farm demonstrators for the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"Diversification and Crop Rotations in Dry Farming," by Hon. Ed R. Kope, State Commissioner of Agriculture. Judge Kope's well known ability and his long experience as a farmer in Western Texas makes it certain that his address will contain a valuable message for our farmers.

"Seed Selection and Development of Drought Resisting Varieties," by J. W. Neill, director of Farmers' Institutes. Mr. Neill is a practical and successful West Texas farmer who is qualified by experience and study to advise along the lines indicated in the title of his lecture.

"Growing Cotton in Semi-Arid Regions," by Prof. J. L. Quicksall of the U. S. Department of Agriculture farm demonstration work for the Western District of Texas. Prof. Quicksall will also explain in another address the Government's system of co-operative farm demonstration work.

"Good Roads, How to Build and their Importance," by Judge T. A. Bledsoe, of Abilene. Judge Bledsoe has made a marked success in directing this work in Taylor county and his address will be interesting and valuable.

Besides the foregoing there will be short talks on pertinent local questions by farmers. A free opening for questions and discussions following each lecture.

THE DOCTOR'S QUESTION.

Much Sickness Due to Bowel Disorders. A doctor's first question when consulted by a patient is: "Are your bowels regular?" He knows that ninety-eight per cent. of illness is attended with inactive bowels and torpid liver, and that this condition must be removed gently and thoroughly before health can be restored.

Reflux Ordinaries are a positive, pleasant and safe remedy for constipation and bowel disorders in general. We are so certain of their great curative value that we promise to return the purchaser's money in every case when they fail to produce entire satisfaction.

Reflux Ordinaries are eaten like candy, they act quietly, and have a soothing, strengthening, healing influence on the entire intestinal tract. They do not purge, gripe, cause nausea, flatulence, excessive looseness, diarrhoea or other annoying effects. They are especially good for children, weak persons or old folks. Three sizes, 50c, 25c and 10c. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store. O. F. Marchman.

To Fight for Bantamweight Title.

London, Sept. 12.—Considerable interest is manifested in sporting circles in the fight at Liverpool tomorrow night in which Digby Stanley is to defend his title of English bantamweight champion like Bradley. The two fighters will meet in a twenty-round bout for a purse of $2500 and a side bet of $1000. Eugene Corri, the well known London sporting man, has been selected to referee the contest.

If the pros in Maine are as enterprising as it is intimated the ants were in Southwest Texas, the matter of getting rid of that majority of 168 against them in the state will be easy.

It is always best to refrain from shouting until you are out of the woods. The latest from the Maine election is that the pros have a majority of over 500 and there is hardly any doubt but that this majority will be increased by the time the official returns are in.

In the Muskogee, Oklahoma Phoenix, we read "Hugh Robinson, the daring aviator who intends to cross the Atlantic ocean in an airship will make three flights daily at the second annual Muskogee fair, Oct. 9 to 14."

Robinson, Robinson, let us see. Oh Yes! Robinson, Pontius, the Flying Dutchman, the Fool Flyer, can they be the same? The managers of the Muskogee Fair might learn some interesting and valuable information by writing to the Chamber of Commerce, Wichita Falls, The Oklahoma City Motor Co., the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, or the directors of the Frederick, Oklahoma Fair. Are Roosevelt and Bryan to launch a new party? Is a question that is bothering some of the leading presidential candidates. The rumor that these two really great men have such an object in view comes from the fact that while in New York the other day Mr. Bryan spent two hours in the office of the Outlook of which Col. Roosevelt is one of the contributors, and while in the building had a two hours' conference with the ex-president. The way things look now, neither Taft or La Follette can become the nominee of the Republican party for president without the approval of Roosevelt, and the candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination who attempts to ignore Bryan will have cause to regret his action. Bryan is not a candidate, and realizes more than some of his political enemies that, even if he was, and could secure the nomination, he could not be elected. But that does not necessarily mean that Bryan is a dead one politically speaking. He is yet the biggest and brainiest man in the party.

Wilson's support in all quarters is exceedingly significant. He has certainly caught the popular fancy, and it is given to men who unconsciously attract the public's admiration and confidence to win the highest stations. Dr. Wilson is different from the stereotyped order of politicians. There is something fine and unusual about him, and much the sort of culture and magnetism that is inherent in the elder statesmen of the ante-bellum period. He is graceful in person, gracious in manner and forceful in utterance, yet tactful, virile and resourceful. Moreover, he is still comparatively young, being in the early fifties. Governor Harmon, his principal opponent for the nomination, is an elderly man. He is 67 now, and on his inauguration day would be nearly 70. He is still a vigorous and highly efficient man, but his age is against him in the forthcoming contest.

A large majority of the newspapers which have expressed a preference have preferred him. The Bonham Favorite, as mentioned above, is a firm supporter of Senator Bailey, but is equally firm in its support of Wilson. The Cleburne Enterprise, a consistent and steadfast friend of Senator Bailey, is also very strong for Wilson, and represents the efforts of those who have said to marry Bailey's friends against Wilson's friends. Many other adherents of Senator Bailey have pronounced in favor of the New Jersey man, and the attempt to make it appear that every good word in favor of Woodrow Wilson is "a slap at Joe Bailey" is naturally distasteful to them and a reflection upon their personal intelligence.

GEORGIA'S HEAVYWEIGHT SENATOR.

His height is six feet three. His weight is eighteen stone, that is to say, about 250 pounds. His disposition is far from indolent. He is a "progressive democrat," and he has been diligently engaged for years in answering affirmatively many of the questions of the forty-first chapter of Job. "Canst thou draw out leviathan with an hook?" Hoke can. "Or his tongue with a cord which thou lettest down?" Yes. "Canst thou put an hook into his nose, or bore his jaw through with a thorn?" Hoke has done so repeatedly. "Will he make many supplications unto thee?" He has made them so often to Hoke in vain that he is discouraged. "Canst thou fill his skin with barbed iron, or his head with fish spears?" That is Hoke Smith's favorite pastime. For the Leviathan, as you will see by reading the whole of the chapter, if not a modern trust, is so much like it, especially a big railroad trust, that we may for rhetorical purposes consider them as one and the same thing. Hoke Smith is described as the La Follette of Georgia, with intimations that the description might better be reversed, and La Follette described as the Hoke Smith of Wisconsin—Current Literature.

PUT THE LID ON THEM.

Beulah Binford went to New York, and so great was the interest in her that in order to avoid a crush she had to change roads and enter the city at a remote depot. Beulah will pose for moving pictures. Beulah says she wants to make an honest living. No one should raise his hand against any person making an honest living, but the theatrical manager or the picture promoter who tries to pose for the pictures ought to be watched until his pictures are placed on exhibition. Then he should be arrested and put in jail, but the owner of any picture show, exhibiting the films should also be arrested and put in jail.

If Beulah should attempt to go upon the stage, the proprietor of the theatre where she exhibits should be arrested on a charge of offering an indecent show and should be put in jail. Another woman has started for this country to make commerce out of an alleged liaison with an uncrowned king. Her name is Gaby Des Lys. It was said that King Manuel lost his crown because of his attention to this dancer. The American Sunday papers were full of double-truck stories of the escapades of the young king and this woman. The king probably was not any too good to form an association of this sort, but a close official investigation showed that he had never seen the woman.

Now Gaby is coming to dance in this country, and says if her press agent mentions the fact of her romance with the king that she positively will not display her twirling legs. Women and men who have no other recommendation than infamous notoriety, should be barred from public places. Exhibitions based on vice and sensational crimes are equally worthless, and if the public taste for such things, the law should be used to protect such people for the evil of their own puritan minds.—Commercial Appeal.

Howard Darringer, playing in the Three-I league, recently set up a freak home run record when he made three four-base walks in three consecutive games.

News From the Oil Fields

Elks Notice
On next Tuesday night, Sept. 19, the local lodge of Elks will give an entertainment and social session to all the visiting all men in the city.

A hearty welcome is hereby extended to all the oil men and the entire membership of the lodge is requested to be present.

A. H. BRITAIN, E. R. V. G. SKEN, Sec.

The Fort Worth & Denver has a crew of men at work at Electra building a new switch track.

P. Y. Krohn, of St. Louis, is here looking after his interests in the oil field.

Ed R. List and wife of Centralia, Ill., are the newest arrivals at the oil colony at the Westland.

The Texas Company is building new loading racks at Electra which will give them a capacity for handling between thirty and forty tank cars daily.

F. D. Woodruff, W. J. Sheldon and R. H. Cook, of Electra, are in the city today in connection with the transfer of property in the oil field.

Woodruff and Sheldon expect to let the contract for a new garage at Electra within the next few days. Automobile men here and at Electra are reaping a big harvest from the oil men.

Red River No. 2 has been drilled into the 975 feet sand and is one of the best producers in the field. The derrick is now being skidded over about fifteen feet and another hole will be sunk into the deeper sands.

W. C. McBride, the big St. Louis operator, is building a rig on the west part of the McGarry farm about 2 miles northeast of Electra. This well will test the field half a mile beyond any other well.

The Producers Company brought in Stringer No. 3 late yesterday evening. The flow is estimated at 500 barrels. This well which is only about ten rods from the first Clayco gusher was brought in with a Star rig.

The Electra Development Company and Sol Williams are today transferring the Electra Development Company's section to J. M. Guffey and Company, who will develop this section at once. The Matthews Oil Co., already has a well started on this section.

The Electra Oil Field Company is starting a rig on section 32 two and one-half miles southwest of Electra. This section adjoins the Texas Company's leases and is in very promising territory. The development of this section will be pushed rapidly from now on.

A. J. Kline, of Oklahoma City, was here today for the purpose of arranging for the sinking of an oil well on a 160-acre tract near Loveland, Okla. Mr. Kline has secured leases from land owners in the vicinity of his tract. He says that several rigs are going up in the vicinity of Loveland and he believes he will strike oil.

The Magnolia Petroleum Company has a force of between two and three hundred men at work laying pipe lines connecting the wells in the field with its tanks on the William Eckelkany's farm near Electra. The Magnolia Co. has started the construction of four 40,000 barrel steel tanks on the farm. A pumping station is being erected there and it is the intention to lay a pipe line to Petrolia. Arrangements have been made for the unloading of pipe for this line at Burk Burnett.

From an authentic source comes the prediction that the Bonaker-Electra well will be brought in within the next twenty-four hours. The drill is now down over 800 feet in this well. The results in the well are being watched with the closest interest and if a good flow of oil is struck all doubt as to the extent of the field will be removed. That the company itself is confident of the outcome is indicated by its purchase in fee simple at a long price of a tract adjoining that on which the well is being drilled.

The deep well reached the two hundred and eighty mark yesterday and drilling has been suspended today long enough to get the casing in. This casing is twelve inches in diameter by inside measurement. It is screwed together at the mouth of the well, being let down by cable as it is joined together. Hereafter a slightly smaller bit will be used in drilling and after going as far as possible without a cave-in more casing will be let down. This casing will be of a diameter sufficiently small to allow its passage through the casing now being put in. The second casing will be joined together and brought to the mouth of the well exactly as the twelve inch casing can be pulled out and be used elsewhere. This process of putting in a smaller casing each time and digging with a slightly smaller bit until more casing is required will be continued until the well is completed. Only the smallest and innermost casing will be left in the well. The rest will be removed.—Altus Times.

Four Feet of Hail Destroys Crops and Kills Stock in Wyoming.

Hail that piled up twenty-five feet deep at the foot of Round Top Mountain, Wyoming, has destroyed crops for a radius of twenty miles and killed much stock.

Four feet of hail fell all over the storm area.

SELLS-FLOTO CIRCUS GREATLY ENLARGED

On the 10th day of October, it is announced that the great Sells-Floato circus will give two performances in this city, and adhering to their policy inaugurated last season, the price of general admission still remains 25 cents.

The growth of Sells-Floato circus and the position now attained by it is the world of great amusement, has been what one might term a modern marvel. Commencing some eleven years ago from small beginnings, the Sells-Floato people brought back each year an attraction of greater importance until now they rank with the very best at the same time exacting from their patrons just one-half what is charged by their rivals.

The critics of the press throughout the country both in Northwestern Canada, the great cities of the coast and the Middle West, have been of unanimous approval. Their special representative, who visited this city a few days ago, stated that this season they were traveling on two special trains and presenting many features which were practically unknown to the conventional old time circus.

When the circus arrives here, the time honored parade, without which no tended attraction could hope to exist, will be given at 10:30 o'clock in the morning. Prospective patrons will have an opportunity of judging for themselves regarding the size and claims to distinction of the show which can justly be called the Pioneer of Popular Prices.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Having returned from Chicago, where I took another special course in diseases of the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat, I desire to announce to the public that I am better prepared than ever before to practice this specialty, having the latest and most progressive ideas in this particular line. My office equipment for this work is second to none in Texas, everything being absolutely sanitary and up to now. A lady attendant always in charge.

Plays Golf in a Tree While Twelve Men Hold Ladder.

Twelve men held a ladder on the links of the Suburban Club at Elizabethtown, N. J., while R. C. Dunham played a golf ball out of the crotch of a tree thirty feet above the ground.

The ball landed in the tree when Dunham drove for the eighteenth hole.

The unusual circumstance prevented Dunham from getting a good swing and cost him a chance to tie for net score.

BEAUTIFUL HAIR

The ambition of every real woman, is more a matter of care than of luck. There are two things that go to make a woman's hair beautiful—quantity and quality.

No hair, however abundant, can ever be attractive unless it is properly cared for. The better it is taken care of the richer, softer and prettier it will be. On the other hand, no woman's hair can attain its full natural growth unless it is properly nourished and cared for.

We have every article of merit for the care of the hair.

Secret Conference Being Probed.

By Associated Press.
Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 13.—Commissioner Prouty went into the alleged secret conference of railroad men to fix rates at today's hearing on

According to the Cincinnati Enquirer seven ready-made clothing manufacturing firms will go out of business in that city by January 1, and nearly 2000 tailors, cutters, salesmen and other employees will be deprived of employment. Among the firms which have liquidated or now liquidating is Mayer, Scheur, O'Neil & Co., which dates to 1855 and has the distinction of having been the foundation of the international banking house of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. It appears that these industries have been killed by too much tariff, and the 2000 workers will be out of work for the same reason.

It is said that the liquidation of these seven houses is the most serious blow that industrial Cincinnati has suffered in many years; but their profits have been steadily decreasing, not because of the loss of business or sharp competition, as the losses have been in manufacture due to the poor quality of goods on the market. The manufacturers say this poor quality of clothes is due to the high protective tariff on wool and woolsens.

"The greatest drawback to the wholesale clothing business," said one manufacturer, "is the high tariff on wool. The industry was prosperous under the McKinley law, and also for the first few years under the Dingley law. That was because of the great competition in the woolen business; it produced good cloths. Then the American Woolen Company came along and absorbed thirty-two of the best mills in the country. Since then conditions have been unfavorable to the clothing manufacturers; prices advanced and the quality of cloths deteriorated."

in tins. This is just what its name implies—Just Cream—Double Thick Cream. Not a thing added and can be used for any recipe that calls for cream. Keep a few tins in the house and you can make any recipe calling for CREAM and can always have CREAM in your coffee and to serve with your fruits and breakfast foods. Now don't confound this with any condensed or evaporated milk or so called evaporated cream—this is PURE CREAM from which all milk is extracted by centrifugal force and reduced to a thick paste. Made in Norway and now being introduced for the first time in America. It will pay you to investigate.
