Situation Like 1956

Cats Face Rival Mustangs Friday

By ALEX DUGGAN
Facing the situation that faced Littlefield's 1956 team, the Littlefield Wildcats will move into action against Olton at Wildcat Stadium tomorrow night.

Two years ago a Wildcat team upset favored Plainview at Plainview then returned to Littlefield to play a supposedly easy Olton team. The result of that game was a 12-12 tie. Littlefield scored the tying touchdown with less than four minutes in the game.

It is true that Olton has played the first two games this year. The Mustangs are lighter than last year and graduated 14 players from last year's middling team.

But it's also usually true, too, that Olton puts out the "big" effort against Littlefield. Early in the season, Olton has been passing a lot. At ends for the Mustangs are L. H. McAdams and Jimmy Robbins, both seniors from the B team.

Early in the season, Olton has been passing a lot. At ends for the Mustangs are L. H. McAdams and Jimmy Robbins, both seniors up from the B team.

After examining films of the Plainview game, Wildcat Coach Don Williams decided that the Littlefield offense needs improvements. He was pleased with the Cat's showing on defense, however.

All the Wildcats received flu shots Monday. Workouts in preparation for the Olton game started Tuesday.

Game captains for the encounter, elected Monday by the team, will be Landon Roberts, Billy Jeffries, and James Goldston.

Williams named Nathan Hulson as the likely replacement for the injured "Bo" Roberts. Roberts broke a cartilage in his right arm Friday against Plainview.

Also mentioned as a doubtful player was Max Ball, who twisted a back muscle.

County Holds Line On Taxes For 1958-59

County commissioners set the county's tax levies for 1958-59 at the same rates as this year in a special meeting Monday.

They also approved a tax roll County Tax Assessor-Collector Herbert Dunn.

The county's basic tax rate is 95 cents, with 34 cents going to the general fund, 25 cents to the courthouse and jail fund, two cents to the jury fund, 19 cents for general road and bridge and 15 cents for special road and bridge.

Road district levies include Road District 1-A (1941), 50 cents; Road District 1-A (1946), 30 cents; Road District 3, 60 cents; Road District 4, $1.00; Road District 5, 20 cents.

Johnnie Hulse, 1220 W. 9th, reported the theft of two eight-week-old Boxer pups to city police Tuesday.

Hulse told officers the pups were taken Sunday. One, a male, was taken from Hulse's home and the other, a female, was taken from a neighbor's.

THE WEATHER

Today's forecast: Clear to partly cloudy with rising temperatures. Temperatures: Sunday high 93, low 62; Monday high 85, low 66; Tuesday high 75, low 59; Wednesday at noon, 64, low 48.

Moisture this week, .72 inches; moisture for September, .77 inches; moisture for year, 13.82 inches; moisture at this time last year, 18.00 inches.

Heavy Shedding
"We've also had some heavy shedding because of angular leaf spot in some areas," he said. Rains which hit the Littlefield area this week didn't help either, as far as cotton is concerned, Kimbrough said.

Need Dry Weather
"If we get about 10 days of dry weather before farmers start harvesting again, these showers won't hurt a thing," he said. The showers this week were beneficial to late feed and small grain, he said.

County Cotton Forecast Cut To 160,000 Bales

TEC Ranks Lamb 4th In State

Lamb County's 1958 cotton crop forecast was revised downward to 160,000 bales this week from an earlier prediction of 175,000 bales.

County Agent Bill Kimbrough said the crop had suffered slightly from poor weather conditions and, in some areas, from angular leaf spot.

In another report issued this week, the Texas Employment Commission agreed with Kimbrough, setting Lamb County's estimated production at 160,000 bales.

Kimbrough said many farmers shut off their irrigation earlier than they normally do, then didn't get rain when they needed it.

The TEC predicted 240,000 bales for Lubbock County, 196,000 for Hale, and 170,000 for Hockley.

Carl Pillion of the local TEC office estimated that about 450 bales had been ginned so far in the county. The crop is about 20 per cent open, he said.

Main worry of the local TEC office right now is labor, Pillion said. The office has about 2,300 unfilled openings and is getting only a "trickle" of labor from downstate.

Pillion estimated that 6,000 cotton workers would be needed next week.

Request Deadline Sept. 26

Almost 200 Applications Taken In New Soil Bank

Lamb County farmers have expressed a desire to put almost 200 farms in the new soil bank program, County ASC Office Manager Lamar Aten announced this week.

That's in addition to the 283 farms already in the program, Aten said.

The local office has received 183 applications for contracts, he said, but about three months will be required for completion of the contracts.

Farmers will know whether their applications are acceptable about Nov. 1.

Sept. 26 is the final day for a farmer to apply for establishment of a maximum payment rate under the new soil bank program.

The county's average payment is $14, but that will vary from farm to farm, Aten said.

Rates have been established by the county ASC committee on about 50 farms so far, he said. The established rates have ranged from $13.30 per acre to $14.70.

The payment rate for acreage already in the conservation reserve in Lamb County is $12 per acre. Aten said these rental contracts will not be affected by the new soil bank program. He explained that ASC officials think the land previously placed in the soil bank probably is not as valuable for crop production as land that will be placed in the program in the future.

The increase in the average annual payment rate is part of an effort by the U.S. Department of Agriculture to get more land into the conservation reserve, he said.

The maximum payment rate under the new program established by the county ASC committee is not necessarily the rate that the farmer will be paid for taking cropland out of production.

After the farmer has been notified of his maximum rate, he has until Oct. 17 to apply for a soil bank contract. When he applies for the contract, he specifies the lowest payment rate he is willing to accept for land placed in the soil bank.

In specifying the lowest rate he will accept, the farmer in effect is bidding against other farmers (Continued on Page 7)

By School Board

Money Made Available For Two Paving Projects

Littlefield school trustees Monday authorized a change in the district's maintenance and sinking funds, making approximately $7,000 available for two proposed paving projects.

Supt. Ralph Schilling announced that the board is considering paving of the area around the school cafeteria and a parking lot north of the high school building.

The disclosure came after a special meeting of the board Monday. Trustees learned this week that the lot east of the high school, which has been used for student parking, has been sold by Sacred Heart Catholic Church and will not be available for future parking.

Mrs. Floyd Dyer purchased the land and said Wednesday that she plans to build rent houses on it. Trustees, who had discussed purchase of the land themselves in the past, then began study of a paved parking lot north of the high school.

The plan under consideration involves paving of the area between the school and an oil well north of the school. The area under consideration as a parking lot has been used as a playground.

The change in the maintenance and sinking funds amounted to this: Of the school district's $1.40 tax rate, $1.00 has gone for maintenance and 40 cents has gone to the sinking fund in the past. The tax rate remains the same, but in the future, $1.05 will go to maintenance and 35 cents will go to the sinking fund.

This change was possible, said Dr. Schilling, because a surplus has been built up over the years in the sinking fund, which is used to retire the school district's indebtedness.

earlier that it was considering paying the school cafeteria area. It was discussed at the board's regular meeting last week, along with the College Avenue paving project which gained final approval.

The parking lot project had not been studied at the earlier meeting, however, and was apparently brought into the discussion only Monday.

Trustees took no final action on the two projects, but authorized further investigation and consideration of them.

NO DECORATION FOR CHRISTMAS, C-C PANEL SAYS

Santa Claus may not recognize Littlefield when he comes this Christmas. There won't be any Christmas decorations up and down Phelps Avenue.

That announcement came Wednesday morning after a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce retail committee.

The committee said it has been unable to sell the Christmas decorations and that they can't be used again this year.

That rules out any sort of Christmas decorations for Littlefield, the committee said, unless about $1,900 can be raised to buy new ones.

The committee said it has little hope that much money can be raised for the decorations.

Assault Charge Filed After Men Argue Over Knife

A 17-year-old Littlefield Negro was jailed on charge of assault with intent to murder here Saturday night after an argument with another Negro over a 50-cent pocket knife.

In county jail with bond set at $1,000 was Henry Wormley, 17. The other Negro, R. L. Baker, 30, was recuperating this week from cuts on his neck, under his chin, on his back and hand.

Officers said the incident was an outgrowth of a trade which Wormley and Baker made. Baker told officers Wormley hocked the knife to him for 50 cents, agreeing to pay Baker 75 cents when he got the knife back.

Officers said Baker told them Wormley wanted the knife back Saturday night, but wanted to pay only 50 cents for it. When Baker refused to give up the knife, the argument followed, officers said.

3 Persons Wind Up In Tie In Leader's Grid Contest

Three contestants wound up in the top spot in the Leader's first football contest of the year this week.

They were Roy Howell and Buddy Duggan, both of Littlefield, and Larry Pollard of Eula.

SWINE SHOW WINNERS—Danny Cade, left, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Cade of Olton, and Victor Coker, right, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Coker of Springlake, were the first and second place winners in the Sears Swine Show conducted at the Ag Barns here Tuesday afternoon. Danny's gilt was rated best among a group of eight judged by B. F. Yeates, assistant county agent of Hale County. Other places were won by Jerry Don

Cogburn of Spade, third; Donald Birkelbach of Littlefield, fourth and Dennis Mote of Littlefield, fifth. Other boys taking part in the show were Michael D. Smith, Donny Ford and Gary Rudd, all of Sudan. Winners of the first five places will receive prizes later, according to Assistant County Agent Herb Holbig, who was in charge of the show. ### HD Club Meets With Mrs. Heard

The Oklahoma Avenue HD Club met in the home of Mrs. Dan Heard with the vice-president, Mrs. U. E. Kelly, presiding.

The roll call was answered with "what I enjoyed most this summer." After a short business meeting, Mrs. Fred Lichte gave the program for the HD Agent, Mrs. Lady Clark Phillips, on food preservation and frozen foods.

Several good hints were given for jellies.

The club voted to move the meeting time to 2 p.m. during the football season.

Refreshments were served to Misses U. E. Kelly, P. L. Helms, Zola Mae Blessing, Glen Jennings, C. H. Messer, Fred Cook, Jimmie Starnes, C. E. Jones, Fred Lichte, Ray Graves, C. C. Soltesbee, one new member, Mrs. Glenn Burk and the hostess, Mrs. Dan Heard.

OLTON—Wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Betty Sue Austin and Jimmie Ray Priest, Sept. 8 at 7 p.m. in a double ring ceremony before a setting of candles in the background of trees, greenery and baskets of white gladioli and mums.

The ceremony was performed by G. B. Stanely, in the Main Street Church of Christ in Olton. Wedding music was presented by the Littlefield Drive Church of Christ. "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," "Faithful and True," "The Lord's Prayer" and "Oh, Perfect Love was sung.

Miss Austin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Austin of Olton and Priest is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Weidon Priest of Olton.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ball-length gown of white embroidered silk organza over taffeta. The bodice ended in a point at nape of neck. The neckline was the waistline attached to a volantes. Her veil of French illusion was attached to a tiny hat scattered with seed pearls and sequins. Her bridal bouquet was red roses accented with tiny seed pearls.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Walter Eggleton of Bonham. She wore an ice blue dress fashioned after the brides gown. Her bouquet was of red roses.

The candlelighters were Miss Mary Austin of Olton, sister of the bride and Mrs. T. J. West of Medina, cousin of the bride. Ushers were Bill Austin and Robert Priest, both of Olton.

Serving the groom as best man was Don Mason of Lubbock.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Austin wore pink embroidered linen with white accessories and a carnation corsage. The groom's mother chose navy crepe trimmed with pink. She wore pink and navy accessories with a carnation corsage.

Following the ceremony the couple left for a honeymoon in New Mexico. For the wedding trip Mrs. Priest wore an ice blue sheath of cotton satin with a scalloped neckline coming to a point in the back.

The bride is a graduate of Littlefield High School and attended ACC two years. The groom is a graduate of Olton High School. N. M.

Texas Tech Tackles Tough Aggies Saturday In Dallas

LUBBOCK—Texas Tech launches its most rugged scheduled by meeting Texas A & M in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas at 8 p.m. Saturday.

Although the schedule is rough throughout, the first half confronts the Red Raiders with four Southwest Conference foes and West Texas State, a school that has beaten Tech two straight.

West Texas and Tech begin the Red Raiders' home slate with a night game Saturday, Sept. 27.

Tech's hopes depend largely upon how well players fit into new positions and how quickly several key performers regain their strength following a virus attack.

Digest changes have seen fullback Gene Bentley of Panhandle going to right guard, quarterback Floyd Dellinger of LaVega moving to right half, freshman quarter Glen Amerson of Munday switching to fullback, and tackle Jerry Don Stockton of Tuscola transferring to left guard.

Tech's leading groundgainer of 1957, halfback Ronnie Rice of Lefers, has been the sickest and may miss the first two contests. Centers E. J. Holub of Lubbock and Bill Turnbow of Burk Burnett both missed last week's final game-type scrimmage for the same reason.

Season football tickets to Texas Tech's home games are still available, according to Jimmie Wilson, business manager of athletics.

Good for the West Texas, Baylor, Arizona, and Arkansas contests, the tickets cost $14, Wilson said. He pointed out that he demands for tickets to the Baylor and Arkansas games is particularly strong and that the best way to get good seats is to take the season books.

Patrol Investigates Mishap On Highway 84

Highway patrolmen investigated a mishap a mile southwest of Littlefield on Highway 84 about 6:15 p.m. Sunday.

Officers said a car driven by Opal Williams Taylor of Rt. 2, Littlefield, was struck as she started to make a left turn onto a dirt road. The other car was driven by Phillip Lasswell of Farmington, N.M. Lasswell attempted to pass the Taylor car, officers said. Neither driver was hurt.

Buick's New Styling Is Sleek And Low

SLEEK AND LOW—The 1959 Buick will go on display here Friday at Ray Keeling Buick Co. The model shown is the luxurious two-door Electra hardtop which measures less than 55 inches in height yet retains approximately the same headroom as last year's Buick. The "delta-wing" styling of the rear fenders that flare out to a point, and the twin headlights that are set on an angle give the new Buick a look that is light and jaunty. The Electra is powered by a 401-cubic inch V-8 engine with 10.5 to 1 compression ratio.

Three Local Girls Selected Pledges

Three Littlefield girls were among 261 pledges selected during the fall rush of Texas Tech's 10 national social sororities, it was announced this week.

Those named are Roxene Bingham, Gamma Phi Beta; Sandra Kimbrough, Kappa Kappa Gamma and Pat Street, Pi Beta Phi.

Inmates To Have 'Own Show' In 27th Annual Prison Rodeo

HUNTSVILLE—While the spotlight of the 27th Annual Texas Prison Rodeo will be on five of the nation's top television and singing stars, 10,500 inmates of the Texas Department of Corrections want rodeo fans to know they will have some "stars of their own" in the limelight each Sunday in October.

Albert Moore, veteran prison rodeo director, announced that in addition to inmate cowboys who have proven their ability in the arena during the past few years, there will be a number of new faces whose performances may surprise the "experts."

"Because of the way we get up our rodeo," Moore commented, "it's hard to predict what will happen as has been proven in past shows. Just about the time things may seem bit dull, someone comes out of a chute to give fans the thrill of their lives."

Moore pointed out that the reason the Prison Rodeo is rough and tough is the fact that inmates get only two weeks before the rodeo stock brought to prison's several farms.

Since inmate performances that the success of the means more funds for the care program, they are the horses or bulls in every effort to please the

This year's top-grossing rodeo make personal appearances at the rodeo arena in Lubbock on October 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31.

Of course, inmates agree that no matter the show is, it will be they can see the stars in the common prison stadium. Reserved seat tickets and $4.40 each, may be in advance by writing Ticket Office, Huntsville 26.

Dying Twice As Fast Women In Accidents

Remember the popular song about a woman's life being a "woman's life in love...?" According to the National Safety Council, it's not only a woman's life in love that woman is in her favor.

A woman's world as far as accidents are concerned, too," the Council says. "We concentrate on men how to keep alive in the house. We virtually ignore the man of the family."

Working-age males are almost twice as fast in accidents as women, a 16-day survey shows, despite the fact men spend a lot less time around the house than women.

Why are men dying so fast? "If there's a hazardous job to be done," the Council explains, "the man does it. His exposure to danger is greater than his wife's and his work at home involves more hazardous tools than she uses in doing household chores."

"Women can keep their men alive. Encourage your husband or boy friend to play it safe when working around the house (for driving his car, for that matter) and to buy the right safety equipment."

"Let's not kill off the man in the house."

Discarded Refrigerators Can Be Child-Killers

If you have an old icebox sitting as storage space? Don't discard it. You've been planning to toss it—but just haven't got to it?

It's a good idea to get rid of cabinets as soon as they are moved as a food preserver. They can be killers of children.

Cabinets, lethal because they can't be opened from the outside, snuff out the lives of a dozen children.

According to the National Safety Council, 14 children died, and in 1955, 18,000 discarded refrigerators, freezers and other airtight cabinets are in use. At a rate of about a year they're being carted to the basement or left in the yard.

Suffocation of children in discarded cabinets," the Council says, "is an especially needless form of accidental death."

Most states have legislation prohibiting abandoning, discarding or storing the death-dealing devices where they can become coffins for children.

A new federal law requires that all household refrigerators shipped after Nov. 1, 1958 be equipped with an inside release latch.

"Even that," the Council says, "does not insure the safety of children today. It will be many years before the present refrigerators are no longer in use."

Meanwhile, the Council—which, in cooperation with the National Electrical Manufacturers Assn., is conducting a campaign against discarded cabinets—gives these tips on how the cabinets can be made harmless:

1. Remove the door. Even with the latch removed, many freezer cabinets of the chest type have lids too heavy for a trapped child to lift.
2. Remove latch stops so that

100 pounds of ammonia made 51-bushel wheat

Dan J. Heard, a successful Dimmitt, Tex., farmer, says: "I put down 100 pounds per acre of Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia pre-plant on my irrigated wheat and made 51 bushels per acre average on 108 acres. I'm sold on the dollars-and-cents value of applying Phillips 66 ammonia to my wheat land."

Other successful Southwestern farmers use Phillips 66 ammonia to give their higher grain yields... and more profitable grazing. The 82% nitrogen in Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia gives young wheat a fast start, supplies plenty of lush, protein-rich forage that puts on more beef at less cost per pound.

Many of these farmers plow down Phillips 66 ammonia in the fall on maize land. They know that the 82% nitrogen helps decompose crop residue, to provide extra plant food and make the soil more productive. Remember, Phillips 66 ammonia gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of fertilizer—a full 82%.

Security State Bank Offers 'Football Bank' For Savings

The Security State Bank of Littlefield is making its contribution to the already growing "football-in-the-air" feeling here in town.

It is introducing a new coin bank which is a perfectly detailed half-scale reproduction of a regulated football on a kicking tee. It stands about 5 1/2 inches high and perfectly matches the elements found in a regulation football, such as the lacing, stitching, seams and coloring.

The bank is using the Football Coin Bank to get its message across that any goal in life can be better achieved with a savings account.

And, since the Football Bank is poised on a kicking tee, it sparks off an appropriate slogan used with it, "Kick off today for your goal tomorrow."

The Security State Bank believes that the Football Bank sitting on a desk or shelf is the best reminder that we all have a goal, said President Jack Wicker.

The bank is offering the Football Bank to new savings depositors. A savings account can be opened with only five dollars and the Football Bank becomes a gift.

"The slogan appears quite an appropriate one," said Wicker, "but we can add another from our own experience—"If you don't kick off today with a savings account, you'll kick yourself tomorrow."

Anton WSCS Holds Meeting

ANTON—The W.S.C.S. met Sept. 8, in the Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church with eight members and one guest present.

The chairman of Christian Social Relation, Mrs. Roy Carden had charge of the program and acted as reader. Mrs. W. M. Alexander brought the devotional which tied in with the guest speaker's topic on education. Mrs. Alexander also arranged a worship center that depicted education of the church and family life.

The guest speaker, Mrs. Roy McQuatters Sr., of Spade, gave a most enlightening talk on "Education of Today."

Mrs. Carden presented the speaker with a gift at the close of the program and she and Mrs. W. M. Alexander served freezer ice-cream to the group.

Mrs. Ralph Campbell closed the meeting with prayer.

the door can't lock. Thus you can do, usually, by removing four screws.

3. Drill holes in the cabinet and remove the rubber gaskets around the door.

"Best of all," the Council says, "destroy the box."

"Parents should insure the safety of their children by knowing where the children are playing, by providing safe places for them to play, and by telling them of the dangers of iceboxes and refrigerators."

Home Deaths From Falls Take 14,000 Lives A Year

The pattern is usually pretty much the same:

The time — July or December. The place — the home. Or, more specifically, the bedroom. The victim — someone 65 years of age or older.

Yes, that's usually the story of home deaths from falls, which take about 14,000 lives annually and rank second only to traffic as an accidental killer.

National Safety Council statistics show that about 3 out of 4 persons killed in falls are 65 or older, and that more than 3 out of 4 falls occur in the home. More falls occur in July and December than any other time of the year.

Of the fatal falls occurring in the home, more than half happen in the bedroom. Next most dangerous spots, the living-dining room, kitchen, stairs and bathroom, in that order.

Why is the bedroom such a boobytrap?

For many reasons, the Council says. One of the most important, of course, is the time spent there by young children and older people, some of them infirm or ill. Also, bedrooms are most often used during dark hours, and lighting isn't always what it should be.

Another reason people fall so often in bedrooms is because of the throw rug—a lethal weapon if unanchored.

"The ideal spot for a throw rug is right beside the bed — if you want an accident," the Council says.

How to remove the hazard? "Sew fruit jar rings on the underside of the rug, or use tape you can buy for the purpose."

A handy bed lamp will help cut down on the night-time toll from falls, too, the Council advises.

Other tips:

1. Light stairs and steps. Keep them uncluttered.
2. Fasten window screens securely. Use guards on windows with low ledges.
3. Use a nonslip rubber mat on the bottom of your bathtub or shower. Tubs or showers are slippery—and hard! Also, provide a medical grab bar on the wall.

Home Mishaps Can Provide Children Are No. 1 Hazard 'Shocking' Experiences In Kitchen, Council Says

In the mood for a shocking experience? Well, you can accomplish this several ways. For example: Stick your fork inside the toaster or next time that piece of bread won't pop up. Don't forget, of course, to leave the toaster plugged in. Oh, yes, and to make the experience more memorable, try resting your free hand against a metal sink or faucet—preferably one that's moist.

Fiddling with radios while you're taking a bath can be pretty shocking, too. And it's always darn risky.

The National Safety Council says that electricity is nothing to fool around with. You can't be too careful with it.

A Texas man learned that while watching TV in his bathtub. The antenna fell into the tub, shock ing him senseless. The cause? Probably a defective set that energized the antenna.

Maybe you don't watch TV while taking baths, but it's a good bet you do take unnecessary chances with electricity. You may not even be aware of all the risks you take.

According to the Council, more than 1,000 persons a year die from electric current, many of them in the home. Undoubtedly, thousands more are painfully shocked.

The Council has received reports of people being shocked by everything from oven elements to "live" refrigerator doors.

How can you keep from being accidentally electrocuted?

You can avoid a lot of risk by observing these rules, the Coun-

1. Don't touch appliances or radios while you're in the bathtub if your hands are wet. Always stand on a dry surface when you use appliances.
2. Unplug appliances if you just poke into them. Even then be careful of heavy condensers, such as in a TV set.
3. Ground appliances in damp locations, such as washers or dryers. Always ground portable electric tools, especially when used outside.
4. Replace worn appliance cords.

"Confine your shocking experiences to the things you see on TV horror movies and the like," the Council suggests. "Don't get electrocuted by a home appliance."

Club Votes Banks As Best Speaker

Henry Banks was selected as best speaker of the evening and Wendell Tooley the best participant of the evening at the regular Toastmaster's dinner Monday night.

Tooley served as toastmaster of the evening. Cecil Hall was the topic master. Viggo Peterson served as the general evaluator.

Other speakers besides Banks were Joe Wilson and J. D. Hagler. Calvin Price was the time-keeper.

Individual speech evaluators were Bill Street, Calvin Price and Cecil Hall.

The No. 1 hazard in the kitchen isn't a sharp knife or a hot burner.

"It's children," the National Safety Council says. "Children underfoot in a kitchen can cause all sorts of trouble."

"They have a habit of leaving marbles, crayons and toy trucks here and there on floors. Such objects on the kitchen floor are booby traps when Mom tries to carry a pan of hot liquid, for example, across the room. She may fall, spilling the liquid on herself or someone else."

The kitchen, the Council says, is the third most dangerous room in the house.

How can you make your kitchen safer?

1. If possible, keep children out of the kitchen. If not, teach them to stay away from cords, appliances and stoves.
2. Turn in handles of utensils on stoves.
3. Keep knives in racks — and away from children.
4. Wipe up spilled liquids immediately from the floor.

Mexican Given Fine, Jail On DWI Charge

A Littlefield Mexican was charged with driving while intoxicated this week after his arrest Tuesday night.

The man, Frank Hernandez, entered a plea of guilty to the charge in county court and was fined $150 and costs and given three days in jail.

Anton Juniors Elect Officers

ANTON—The junior class of Anton High School met last week and elected the following officers: president, Gene GBennett; vice-president, Martha Braker; secretary, Janell Goheen; treasurer, Patsy Oldham; parliamentarian, Lee Ann Bell; reporter, Roy Carden; class sponsors, Supt. Taylor and Miss Letna Scott. Sponsor mothers are Mmes. Purdy Braker, Zollie Clark, Bud Bishop, Baccus, and Bob Biffle.

The class voted to have charge of a concession stand at the football game Friday night.

B-Team, Frosh Tilts Set Tonight

Both the B-team and the Freshman are set to clash with opponents tonight at Wildcat Stadium.

The B-team under coach Kenneth Ringo will fire out against Monterrey's B-team at 7:30.

The freshmen under Devereille Lewis will host Plainview in the opener at 6 p.m.

Last week, both teams journeyed to Levelland to meet the Lobo teams and both lost. The B-team bowed 44-0 and the freshmen lost 20-14 to the ninth grade Lobos in a thriller.

Justice for ALL

Lesson for September 21, 1958

THE LAST man on the totem pole is still a man. The man at the bottom of the ladder, the man underneath the heap, the last man, the least man: if there is no justice for him then there is no justice for the ideal of justice, as the Bible upholds it, is that ALL men shall be treated with fairness, and more with consideration, pity and helpfulness in the name of God. If everybody gets fair treatment except the bottom layer, then when you who have been fortunate all these years slip into that bottom layer you will discover there was not so much justice as you thought. In Mark Twain's story "The Prince and the Pauper" the prince thought everything was smooth and fine; but when he changed places with the pauper and looked at things from the seamy side, he could not find justice anywhere.

Dr. Foreman

So-called justice which only "divides the spoil with the strong" and leaves no share for the weak, is only so-called. It is precisely the persons who cannot fight for themselves, the little people without votes, the unimportant people, the forgotten and obscure, those who live and die in the shadows, it is precisely these whom a true and Christian justice will not forget. The strong will get their share and more besides if they can get by with it. It is the weak who need protection and defense.

The Bible lines them up for us, and a sorry rag-tag lot they are to look at. Here is the poor man who needs a loan and (as everybody knows) will never be able to pay it back. Here are the people so poor that they cannot buy food, but have to live on the wheat they pick up from somebody else's harvest field, the grapes they pick off some land-owner's vines. Here is the family uprooted, wanderers on the face of the earth, without home or job. Here are the nameless, faceless people totally obscure, for whom history has no name except in the lump—"the multitudes."

Here are the sick people too poor to have a doctor; here is a woman some doctor has made poor. Here are the people in prison, here is a beggar shivering at the back door.

What they need Of course, such helpless people need not have been so helpless if perhaps society had been differently organized, or if there had been better laws. Such desperate situations ought to be prevented in the first place, to be sure. For example: it has not been a lifetime since there were beggars on all roads. The tramp and the hobo were common sights. Now how long is it since you have seen a tramp? How many beggars do you know by sight? The reason why we have fewer beggars now even in a depression than we used to have even in times of prosperity is partly due to the fact that the man who lost his job in hard times used to have nothing; now he draws unemployment insurance. Prevention of poverty is much easier than curing it. Nevertheless, with all the prevention we have the wit and the courage to provide, we still have the problem cases, the hopeless and helpless ones.

Forgotten Folk It is not only individuals who have run into personal hard times who need help, but whole groups and classes of people in trouble, need more help, more fair treatment, than they usually receive. There are, for example, the people in the mental hospitals of America, a half million of them at a recent count. Unless your state is a most unusual one, such patients in your state do not have nearly enough doctors, nurses, attendants, or attention. Then consider that for every patient who can get into a mental hospital, even the understaffed, overcrowded ones we have, there are numbers of others who cannot be admitted. What is being done for these people by your church, your community, your state? Or consider juvenile delinquents, or adult lawbreakers on parole. Does your community ignore these bottom-rung derelicts, or does it do anything to help them, or to prevent their being derelicts?

NOW QUALANTITY SAVINGS

on life insurance -

Qualantity Savings is a philosophy of fairness, developed by The Family Fraternity . . . a new rate structure that means real, not imaginary, dollar savings on life insurance protection. With Qualantity Savings, when the quantity of protection goes up, the rate per thousand goes down, and the quality of the life insurance protection is better than ever before . . . with new, liberal accidental death benefits and other new features.

Here's how Qualantity Savings puts money in your pocket:

At age 30, for $2,000 whole life insurance, under the new rate structure, you save $3.89 per thousand over the annual rate for $1,000, a total savings of $7.78 per year. For $3,000 of exactly the same insurance, you save $5.19 per thousand . . . $15.67 a year. With Qualantity Savings, by purchasing a $10,000 certificate you save $7.00 per thousand . . . an annual saving of $70. For any and all kinds of term, whole life, limited payment, and endowment coverages, similar savings apply. Your local Woodmen Representative will be happy to explain this new concept in life insurance to you.

Housewife --- Poison Be Killer In Home

Housewife—there's a killer in your home! You don't need weapons to kill yourself, says the National Council. Just common sense and a lot of caution.

1. Poisons. They lurk in the medicine cabinet, the kitchen sink, on tables. You'll even find food shelves, in the refrigerator and in your clean refrigerator.

2. Camouflaged killers. The Council points out more than 1,000 lives are lost each year—about 120 a month.

3. Frequent victims are children of age or younger. They take a steady toll of the year—about 120 a month.

4. Types of accidental poisonings varied as the containers—bleach, permanent solution, shampoo, nail remover, furniture polish, pills, bug killers, paint removers.

5. Careless of the killer, in just one instance there's a carelessness to the crime—carelessness or ignorance.

6. Example, some potential poisons are properly labeled and aren't. Doctors aren't sure if a product is poisonous and some ingredients, to most persons, can be especially children.

7. In instances, the killer is a wise harmless object—like a bottle of aspirin.

8. For example, about 1 out of 10 children treated for accidental poisoning in a recent year allowed aspirin, the Council says. Kerosene is a household commonplace, especially in rural areas and in homes.

9. Houses, too, can be booby-trapped. Tots can be killed by peeling paint on windows and frames, or by plaster. Each can lead to poisoning.

10. How to prevent poisoning? Education, the Council says. Parents should be made aware of the dangers lurking in homes.

11. After state and federal regulations should be listed, bottles or cans containing poisonous substances—even probables to our everyday life, though, is to prevent poisoning, the Council says.

12. Following these rules: (1) Medicines out of the reach of children, (2) Don't put poisons in food containers, (3) Don't take medicine in the dark, (4) Keep poisons out of soft drink bottles, used jelly jars, or cans, for example, and (5) Have locked poison compartment in your home.

Anton WSG Has Meeting

The Wesleyan Service Guild held its August meeting in the home of Mrs. Marvin Keever Jr. with Mrs. Wayne McLarty as co-hostess.

Mrs. Thomas James was in charge of a brief business session. Mrs. Harry Campbell explained the meaning of the worship center and gave the devotional.

Mrs. Edith Whitfield, the program leader, presented the program theme "My Life in the March of Missions" and gave a talk on "The Work of the Deaconsess." Mrs. James spoke on "The Work of the Missionaries."

Mrs. R. Campbell had a discussion on literature and all the members participated in this. Mrs. Harry Campbell then gave a report on the School of Missions at Lubbock, which she attended.

Pic, tea and coffee were served to seven members and who guests Mrs. Cecil Motl and Mrs. John Waters.

Flu Subsiding After Striking Hard Last Week

A surge of "plain old flu" in Littlefield was beginning to subside this week after reaching almost epidemic proportions late last week, doctors reported Wednesday.

They said the flu first began taking its toll week before last, then moved into full force last week. Cases were down early this week.

Flu shots are being recommended for all persons, even if they received them last year, doctors said. The shots are effective for about 12 months.

COMMITTEE TO MEET

The business development committee of the Chamber of Commerce will meet today, at 3 p.m. in the C-C office, Chairman Glenn Batson announced this week.

Mexican Charged With Violation Of Liquor Law

A Littlefield Mexican was charged with violation of the liquor law Sunday night after he was stopped on a dirt road south of town.

The man, Amador Padilla, went free on $1,000 bond this week after a plea of not guilty in county court.

Officers said they found 10 half pints of wine when they stopped Padilla.

In other activity this week, officers jailed an Amherst man, Claude Edwards Jr., Monday on a charge of child desertion. His bond was set at $1,500.

Almost 200

The state ASC office will establish priority groups from the applications for contracts. Contract applications in which farmers have specified smaller percentages of their maximum rates will have maximum priority.

For example, a farmer with a maximum rate of $14 per acre who is willing to accept $12 will have higher priority than a farmer with the same maximum rate who is willing to accept no less than $13.

Land placed in the program will be taken out of production for three, five or 10-year periods.

The acreage reserve of the soil bank, under which acreages allotted for cotton, wheat and other crops were taken out of production for one-year periods, will not be in effect after 1958.

In addition to the annual rental payments for land placed in the conservation reserve, the federal government provides financial assistance for establishing a cover on the reserve land.

In the past the government has paid up to 80 per cent of the cost of establishing the cover. Under the new program, the assistance probably will vary from 50 to 70 per cent of the costs.

After the farmer who receives notification that his "bid" is acceptable, a representative of the county ASC committee will visit the farm, check the land to determine whether it meets all the soil bank requirements and measure the acreage. Then the contract may be signed.

Total annual payments under the new program are limited to $5,000 per person, regardless of the number of farms he may own.

Don't let anyone hear you bragging about how many farms you have worn out.

Anton Study Club Meets For Party, Fashion Show

ANTON—For the first meeting of the year the Anton Study Club met at Dunlap's Tea Room at 3 p.m. Saturday afternoon for a desert party and fashion show. The theme of the program for the year of the club is "Keys to New Evaluations."

Mrs. Ed Hart and Mrs. E. E. Fisher were the hostess and each lady brought one or more guests and introduced their guests to the group.

Mrs. Claude Couch gave the invocation and six local ladies modeled 18 costumes while the club members and guests enjoyed the "dessert plates" Those modeling were Mrs. Jimmie Jones, Walter Hobgood, Neil Herrin, Weldon Wells, Joan Mayes and Donald Love Jr. Cocktail dresses, suits, chemises, coats, furs, and accessories from Dunlap's store were modeled by the girls.

The refreshment tables were laid with pink place mats and centered with arrangements of pink mums in crystal. The appointments were in china, crystal and silver.

At the close of the fashion show the past year's president, Mrs. Sid Landers, presented the new president, Mrs. Earl Glass, with a president's pin. Mrs. Glass made a brief response and conducted a short business session.

The guests present were Mrs. Paul Tullis, W. D. Wetlaufer, Roy Gorden, Don Love, N. A. Cox, Ann Alford, Rex Easter, W. M. Alexander, Edith Whitfield, Lora Lee, George Brooms, Joe Garner, Madison Newton, Tom Landers, Sam Rendleman, J. R. Eagan, Del Wells, and Clarence Herrin.

Civil Trials Get Under Way In County Court

Trial was scheduled to get underway Wednesday in county court in the civil case of C. E. Anderson of Lubbock vs. Jessie E. Webb of Littlefield.

In the case, Anderson charges Webb negligently left a vehicle on the highway, resulting in an accident.

The trial originally was set for Tuesday, but was postponed a day because of a conflict.

Three other civil cases are scheduled to be taken up this week, County Judge Pat Boone Jr. said.

The court also may try one criminal case late this week, Judge Boone said. He said trial in the case of Alfred "Jaybird" Johnson, Littlefield Negro, would be conducted if possible. Johnson is charged with violation of the liquor law.

Back-Seat Drivers May Help Despite Their Bad Reputation

Want to live longer? Here's one method: Become buddies with that person fidgeting in the back seat of your car—or right there beside you, for that matter.

"Two heads are better than one when they're behind the wheel of a car," the National Safety Council says. It believes that the so-called back-seat driver may hold the solution to the traffic accident problem.

"We're in favor of motorists combining their driving knowledge and skill with the help other passengers in the car can give," the Council says.

It agrees that the term "back-seat driver" has a bad connotation. The motorist who's been subjected to nagging "advice" from the rear understandably takes a dim view of interference with his driving.

"But with the proper spirit on both sides, back-seat drivers can be a real help," the Council says.

1. Let your wife, for example, who used to sit with nothing to do on a trip, be your copilot. Her observations—a car sneaking out from a side street, a quick turn in the road ahead—can take a big load off your mind.
2. Studies show that the irritated driver is more accident prone.

The wife can help hubby cool off when he's upset over slow-moving cars or heavy traffic.

3. Giving other persons in your car something to keep them from getting bored makes the trip go faster for both of you—and keeps friction at a minimum.

"In addition to her lookout duties, the back-seat driver can handle many other details to make motoring more relaxing," the Council says.

"Let her light your cigarette, keep down the roar of your kids in the back seat, and chart your course. There are a thousand and one things she can do for you while you're driving."

"Successful businessmen well know the value of delegating authority. Yet, behind the wheel of a car an executive will try to handle the whole job of driving—often with disastrous results."

"Why do all the work, when minor parts of the job can be handled just as well by your wife?" the Council asks.

"Bringing the back-seat driver up front with you—in other words, gives her responsibilities on a trip—eases your job of driving."

"It may save a life—yours, or the life of the back-seat driver who used to get on your nerves."

Neat Homes Usually Go Mishap-Free

Are you a good housekeeper? One way to answer the question—objectively, that is—is to count up the number of accidents you've had in your home in the last year.

If you went accident-free, then you probably keep a pretty neat place. If you had a couple of serious accidents then there's probably room for improvement.

According to the National Safety Council, good housekeeping and safety go hand-in-hand.

Other Council suggestions: "Don't leave medicine and potential poisons around where children can get at them."

"Keep your home neat and clean—but don't overdo things. A floor too highly polished is an invitation to a fall."

Local School Men To Join State Curriculum Study

Littlefield school administrators will join other area school men next Wednesday at Lamesa, one of 27 regional workshops set up to plan a state-wide study of curriculum problems facing Texas public schools. Each workshop will consider procedures for the establishment of local curriculum study groups said Littlefield Supt. Ralph Schilling in every Texas school district.

Scheduled to participate in the regional conference, slated at Lamesa at 9:30 a.m. next Wednesday, are Dr. Schilling, Principals Glenn Reeves, Paul I. Jones, Forrest Martin and James Hine, along with Secondary School Coordinator Bill Brune.

The Texas Association of School Administrators and the Texas Education Agency are co-sponsors of the project, known as "Texas Curriculum Studies."

The TASA is organizing groups of teachers and lay citizens to consider the curriculum questions and proposals which will be introduced during the 1958-59 school year by the 11 state curriculum commissions.

These commissions were established by the State Board of Education earlier this year and were asked to make a detailed study of the elementary and secondary school curriculum.

The regional study groups will view a series of 26 "Curriculum" telecasts which will be presented as a public service by 20 television stations beginning in October. After viewing the television programs and studying the curriculum guides which will be provided for each participant, the local groups will make specific suggestions and recommendations to the state commission.

The first program of the television series will be viewed on Channel 11, Station KCBQ-TV at 5:15 p.m., Oct. 8.

In school districts needing teachers, the "Curriculum" television series will serve as the basis for a telecourse aimed at recruiting college graduates into the teaching profession.

Northwest Texas Methodist Schools Set Sept. 22-Oct. 5

Bishop William C. Martin of the Dallas-Fort Worth Episcopal Area, The Methodist Church, has announced a series of interboard district schools to be held in the Northwest Texas Conference Monday, Sept. 22, to Thursday, Oct. 2.

Schools will involve seven persons from each local church in the conference, including the pastor, official board chairman and the chairman of five church commissions; membership and evangelism, missions, education, stewardship and finance and Christian social concerns.

Purposes of the sessions, according to Bishop Martin, "is to increase the effectiveness of local churches by giving fuller information and training" to the several leaders. Members of the five general boards, which direct the program of The Methodist Church in the five areas, have been assisting in the planning of the schools which are being held under the sponsorship of episcopal areas through national general board representatives.

The Texas Education Agency may also be contacted by any college graduate desiring complete information on the teacher recruitment course offered by television.

Schools are scheduled for one day in each district with sessions to be held from 1:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. They include: Sept. 22, Abilene district, St. Paul Methodist Church, Abilene; Sept. 23, Stamford district, St. John's Methodist Church, Stamford; Sept. 24, Childress district, First Methodist Church, Childress; Sept. 25, Pampa district, First Methodist Church, Pampa; Sept. 26, Amarillo district, Polk Street Methodist Church, Amarillo; Sept. 27, Plainview district, First Methodist Church, Plainview; Oct. 1, Lubbock and Brownfield districts, First Methodist Church, Lubbock; and Oct. 2, Big Spring district, First Methodist Church, Big City; Earle MacLeod, Board of Lay Activities, Chicago, Ill.; and Dr. Caradine Hooton, Board of Temperance, Washington, D. C.

Putting 'Big Tex' Ready For Big Welcome

TEX—The towering 52-foot cowboy statue who symbolizes the great State Fair of Texas, is being put together in readiness to welcome some two and one-half million visitors to the '58 edition, Oct. 4-19, in Dallas. It takes a crew of workmen with a foot derrick to put the big boy's head on his shoulders.

Sea Gridders Looking For Better Things This Week

Football teams will hit the gridiron for victory this week. Most of them ran into trouble last weekend. Anton, Lala and Spade will be favored to win without defeat. The team who dropped Whitharral will be favored to win this time from Whiteface. B. The team that romped from a 36-16 romp last week, will host a district game at the Bulldogs, under coach Howard, will be favored.

Other six-man encounters will be the home team as Center invades. This game rated a toss-up. Spade scored on the last play of the game to tie the Nazareth at Spade last Friday. In a battle of winless teams, Amherst will host Sudan. Sudan will be a slight favorite to win its first game of the young season at Whitharral Friday when Eovina will come to play. Springlake, loser of 12 straight football games, will be the favorite in its battle with New Home at Springlake Friday. In an encounter involving the two bigger schools in the area, Olton will journey to Littlefield. Littlefield will be after its second in a row. The Mustangs are going after their second victory of the season.

News-Leader Joins Area Ad Association

The Littlefield Press has joined an advertising-marketing association of nine major weekly newspapers covering the South Plains area.

Formation of the South Plains Newspaper Association took place last month with the election of Jim Cornish, Post Dispatch as president; Curtis Sterling, News-Herald of Brownfield, vice president; and Francis Perry, Slaton Slatonite, secretary.

Central office of the association will be maintained in Lubbock to facilitate servicing area-wide advertising accounts.

In organizing the South Plains Newspaper Association, the member papers compiled information that showed their counties contain about 400,000 people who make about $500 million annually.

Members papers of the association are the Littlefield Press, Lynn County News, Slaton Slatonite, Ralls Banner, Post Dispatch, Floyd County Hesperian, Crosbyton Review, Brownfield News-Herald and the Hale Center American.

THIS WEEK

In Washington

With CLINTON DAVIDSON

In Washington last week the U.S. Department of Agriculture reported that American farmers this year will establish a new all-time record high production of feeds and fibers.

In most nations this would have been good news and an occasion for feasting and rejoicing that the harvest had been bountiful. It would have meant genuine relief from the ever-present fear of hunger.

To farmers in those countries the bumper crops would have meant increased profits and prestige. The government would honor them and the people would be pleased and appreciative.

In Washington this week the reaction to the news that farmers are producing more than we can eat, wear and export during the next 12 months was anything but joyous.

What A Difference!

Washington is neither pleased nor appreciative of the record harvest. It has spent billions of dollars in an effort to reduce production, and it will have to spend more billions to dispose of the surplus.

Already there are more than $5 billion worth of farm commodities stacked up in government-leased warehouses, cold storage plants and under loan on farms. More billions will be added to that stockpile during the next few weeks.

Our total supply of wheat will be almost two and a half billion bushels, enough to meet our food needs for the next four years. We will have more than seven billion bushels of corn and other feed grains, enough to last us about two years.

The remarkable part of it is that this record has been established by the fewest number of farmers in more than 75 years on the smallest number of planted acres since the Civil War. We have, in fact, learned to produce not two but three blades of grass where one grew before.

Cost of Plenty

Most Americans, unfortunately, emphasize the "cost" of this super-abundance without stopping to think about the benefits. We are spending about $5 billion a year on all types of so-called "farm programs."

But farm prices of foods and fibers have not, because of the large supplies, gone up comparably to other living costs. Had food costs gone up as much as automobiles, for example, the past 10 years our annual food bill would have been $25 billion a year more than it is.

The $5 billion a year is money well spent to assure the American people the best and cheapest — in hours worked — food and clothing in the world. Moreover, about one-third of that is the cost of sending food and fibers to the less fortunate people in other parts of the world.

We should be thankful for the bountiful harvest which God and Mother Nature has bestowed upon us, rather than being resentful. We should be grateful that no American ever need to go to bed hungry, thanks to the best farmers in the world.

Driver's License Check Results in 12 Tickets

City officers and state highway patrolmen combined Saturday night in a driver's license check on Highway 51, and issued tickets to 12 persons caught without operator's cards.

The officers checked cars passing near the Coca Cola plant on Highway 51.

In other activity over the week end, city officers arrested four drunks, issued two tickets for speeding and one for excessive noise with a motor vehicle and jailed a Negro woman on a charge of assaulting another woman.

Need For Socialism

An increasing amount of attention is being given to the needs of the aged. In the light of the fact that the population is steadily rising, many proposed solutions fall into two categories—to let the government take over the responsibility for the job. But the American Hospital Association has a different view. In an official statement of policy with respect to the hospital needs of elderly people, it makes several basic points. It has, for instance, serious misgivings about the use of compulsory health insurance for hospital care even for the retired aged. It believes that a very realistic effort should be made to meet the needs of the aged principally through mechanisms utilizing existing systems of voluntary prepayment. And it believes that any government participation in meeting these needs should be so devised as to strengthen the voluntary systems.

Actually, notable progress is being made in dealing with the care for senior citizens. An article in Changing the Kiplinger Magazine, describes a number of developments. To take one example, an insurance company now has a policy available only to people between 51 and 75. It provides hospital and surgical coverage at moderate cost and renewable for life.

It can solve this medical care problem without succumbing to socialism.

Roots Opinion

LONDON, KY., Sentinel-Echo: "There is no disgrace in becoming mentally ill. The only difference in this sickness and other forms is that science has only begun its studies into cures for mental illness, and here, it is widely misunderstood. But about half the mental illness can be cured, and the people afflicted return to completely normal life again, if proper treatment is used. And no stigma should be attached to the treatment."

WEST ROCHESTER, N. P., Herald: "It seems barely a century that in the United States in 1958, the largest trade with a membership of more than a million, has been sheltered preserve for criminals to work their will on rank-and-file membership, and on the public at large. We wonder what's become of the average citizen's year for righteous indignation. A century ago the public platforms would have thundered forth that this evil be obliterated."

REDLEIGH, CALIF., Exponent: "To meet the needs that lie ahead, experts agree that the financial must be expanded. One facet of this is individual funds invested by banks and other institutions from individuals and organizations. In the final analysis, communities are built not with stones but with money."

MERORY, O., Daily Sentinel: "Schools overshadow all community activity. Schools are determining the level of all our young people. Pupils either will be prepared or well for further training beyond high school. They will either be equipped to take a useful part in community life, or they won't."

PRE HAUTE, IND., Tribune: "Polio will not actually be defeated until virtually all the population has taken advantage of the protection afforded by the Salk vaccine."

TUSVILLE, FLA., Star-Advocate: "A recent book contained the assertion that the book was not beyond the grasp of the average citizen and that it could be read in less than an hour. While one cannot be sure the reviewer had in mind, mere ease of reading is in itself not much of a recommendation for serious literature. It should be noted that the really worthwhile objectives are difficult to obtain. In tennis, for example, a player can improve his game if he avoids playing with opponents more skilled than himself. So it is with reading. A reading literature which cannot readily be understood in itself will seldom stretch his imagination or increase his understanding of the world about him."

HERE'S HOW...

MAKE A FOOTBALL GEAR RACK

A rack for a youngster's football gear is a good father-and-son project on which to teach a few basic woodworking principles.

The rack is made of 1 by 6-inch lumber and 3/4-inch dowel. Make the sides, as shown in the detail drawing, from two 24-inch lengths of the 1 by 6-inch lumber. Draw the pattern for the curves, using 1-inch squares as guides; saw out the curved edge, using a coping saw or jig saw. The cutout for insertion of the backboard should be made to the exact thickness and width

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex.—Texas Democrats now look toward 1960, the year some think they might nominate the next U. S. President.

And added to the party's tumultuous history in the 1958 Democratic convention. It was billed as a "harmony" meet, but more resembled a family reunion to fight over grandpa's will.

Gov. Price Daniel's liberal foes are hotter under their collars than ever, but despite their noisy opposition, the governor "ruled the roost" in San Antonio. And, with an executive committee acceptable to him and a platform reflecting his views, he holds the reins of party leadership for two years.

U. S. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn also were honored by the convention to come a presidential candidate.

Test in the struggle between Daniel's supporters and the liberal DOT faction champion by U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough came over the selection of presiding officer. Wichita Falls, with the support of Senator Johnson, Speaker Rayburn and a comfortable majority of delegates, snowed under Corsicana Judge Jim Sewell.

But the real grudge being nursed by the Yarborough faction was over the bouncing of two executive committee nominees selected by the delegates from their districts. They were replaced, on the recommendation of the nominations committee and vote of the convention, by people regarded as more friendly to the governor.

Liberals, who haven't been "in" with a Texas governor for years, have fought bitterly against this tradition veto over the make-up of the executive committee. They feel the committee members should be like a legislature, reflecting the varying views of the sections which elect them.

Having lost out on this, as in 1956, they howled protests and finally stomped out, as before, promising revenge.

LEADERS—Jim Lindsey of Texarkana will serve a second term as chairman of the Democratic executive committee. So will Mrs. R. Max Brooks of Austin as vice-chairman.

J. Ed Connally of Abilene succeeds Jake Jacobsen, the governor's administrative assistant, as secretary.

DOWN MEMORY LANE

From the Files of the Lamb County Leader, Sept. 18, 1941

The Lamb County Unit of the Plateau Singing Convention will be held in the High School Auditorium in Littlefield Sunday. With an all day singing and a big basket dinner.

R. E. Willis, son of Mrs. Jess Mitchell, of Muleshoe and formerly of Littlefield, has accepted a teachers position in the Olton Schools.

Approximately 75 business and professional men met at the Ritz Theatre Thursday night and discussed the possibilities of another election for the purpose of voting of revenue bonds for the construction of a municipal electric light and power generating plant in Littlefield.

One of the most modern gin plants in the area is the Lamb County Farmers Co-Operative Association, Inc. since the installation of five new 80 Murray gin stands that are of the very latest model.

Forty of the 62-member committee are newly elected.

PRINCIPALS—State rights and cooperation within the official party framework were stressed in the Democratic convention resolutions.

Delegates resolved against: (1) Unauthorized use of the name, Democrats of Texas, by the DOT, (2) "overstepping of power" by the U. S. Supreme Court, (3) use of military troops to enforce school desegregation, (4) state income or sales taxes, (5) excessive foreign imports and (6) federal aid to schools.

They favored (1) enactment of laws to prevent members of one political party from voting in the primary of another and (2) Governor Daniel's platform for the next two years.

REPUBLICANS AGREE—Delegates to the GOP convention had little difficulty uniting on a "Down with the Democrats!" platform.

Conservative Democrats, they declared, must join with the Republicans to keep the country from going completely socialist.

With apparent nervousness, the Republicans adopted a "kid gloves" resolution on school segregation. They recommended the "solution in Texas be left to the people, the school boards and courts within this state."

Another resolution swatted at Democratic office holders who failed to support states rights legislation in the last session of Congress.

Republicans also affirmed their approval of Sec'y of Agriculture Ezra Benson and their disapproval of federally financed hydroelectric dams.

SAME PAY DIFFERENT WAY—Beginning this month members of the State Board of Insurance are to be paid $50 per working day rather than a straight $15,000 a year.

This was Attorney Will Wilson's ruling on a subject that was—and still is—a cause of strong feeling among legislators.

When the Insurance Department reorganization bill was being considered last session, House members strongly favored a full-time Board. Senate was just as set on a part-time Board.

Final compromise was a measure which said the Board should be full time for the first year with each member receiving $15,000. Beginning in September, 1958, it was to become part-time with each member receiving $50 per day. Up to 300 working days a year (worth $15,000) was authorized.

Actually, to work 300 days out of 365 the Board would have to work Saturdays and holidays—or else give up vacations.

An influential senator has openly implied there may be trouble if the Board doesn't comply with "legislative intent" that it serve part-time. Board members object strongly, say the work involved is at least a full-time job.

"SPEAKERS" STILL SPAT—So tense and tight is the race for Speaker of the House that the possibility of winning with Republican backing has become an issue.

Twenty-nine Republicans are opposing Democratic nominees for House posts. Conceivably, if a

Sandhills Philosopher

He Wants To Be Handled Same As Mysterious East

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm won't get anywhere with his idea this week, especially with us.

Dear editor:

People are always talking about the ignorant toiling masses in other countries, but I have about come to the conclusion they may be smarter than we think.

For instance, I was reading in a newspaper last night about the Mysterious East, how over there what's known as saving face is very important, and other countries, especially us, have to consider it very carefully. It's a delicate matter.

Say Red China has taken a few islands away from Formosa and it's up to us to see that she gives them back, although it's not quite clear in my mind why the job always has to fall to us. You never hear anybody saying it's Mexico's turn to solve the Middle East problem, or Spain's, or few, or maybe even one, of the Republics won, his could be the deciding vote.

SERUM SHIPMENTS DEFENDED—A ban on airmail shipment of serums, vaccines and diagnostic specimens could be "disastrous," says State Health Commissioner Henry A. Holle.

A proposed amendment to postal regulations would allow airlines to refuse to carry such items, Dr. Holle said he felt danger to handling personnel was small compared to the crippling effect such a regulation would have on the machinery for combating disease outbreaks. "Numerous cases could be cited," he said, "where rapid transit was essential for diagnosis and identification."

I will appreciate you referring hereafter to my farm as the Mysterious Johnson Grass Farm, and I hope every store in Littlefield will fall in line. Just to lead the way, how about handling my subscription to The Leader in this fashion? It comes due soon and you ought to be working on the proper diplomatic approach.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Switzerland's. It's always us. At any rate, before we can do it, we've got to figure out some way for Red China to give them back without losing face, because if you solve a problem and cause a country to lose face, the solution is worse than the problem.

This is something we don't understand over here, and it's a shame.

Say I owe the bank some money and the note comes due. Is the bank interested in me saving face? Do the directors go into a summit meeting and say, How can we handle this most delicately?

Say your taxes come due and they're bigger than you expected and you don't have the ready cash on hand. Is the government interested in your face? What happens if you miss the third installment on your television set?

I'll tell you, them Mysterious East people have out-thought us on problems like these. Holding something that belongs to somebody else is a serious matter, all right, but not enough people in this country appreciate this face-saving business. The Mysterious around to where, if an installment payment comes due on a set of harness for a pair of oxen, it's the store owner that has to do the bowing and scraping and apologizing, not the fellow that's behind with his payment. That's the kind of system we need around here.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Casey of Lubbock and their daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Bolt of Washington D.C. were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Payne and other friends Thursday. They are former Amherst residents.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Duffy left Monday for a vacation trip to Tucson, Ariz., where she will spend the time with Mrs. Violet Duffy while he attends a fish rodeo at Guaymas, Mexico. He will join a group of friends from Lubbock.

Gina Marie Tadlock of Roswell, N.M. accompanied her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Payne home Sunday. They were there that day with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tadlock and family.

Mrs. T. H. Pennington spent last week with her granddaughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Roy and baby girl, in Lamesa.

Mrs. Pennington had attended the wedding in Hereford, Sept. 7 of her granddaughter, Miss Carolyn Knox and Dean Hacker. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Debbs Knox. After a honeymoon in Florida, they will reside in Hereford.

Mr. and Mrs. Manry Brantley returned during the weekend from a visit with their son, Dick, who is stationed in the service at Fort Tilden, New York City. While there they visited Mr. and Mrs. Ted Cummings at Huntington, Long Island.

Mrs. B. G. Stafford of Seymour visited her sister, Mrs. C. D. Stafford and family this week. Other guests Monday were Mrs. David Stafford and girls of Spade.

Guests in the Jim Pugh home Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. John Foster of Morenci, Calif. They were visiting in Levelland. Other guests of Mr. and Mrs. Pugh last week were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rice of El Monte, Calif.

Smith Recovering After Surgery

Littlefield Accountant Charles Smith Jr. is reported recovering rapidly following major surgery in Dallas last week.

Smith underwent surgery at Baylor Hospital last Thursday. Mrs. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Webb were in Dallas during the operation. Smith is employed in Webb's accounting firm here.

YOUR EYES and VISION

By A. L. SPERRY, O.D.
Director Public Education
Texas Optometric Association

Probably no research authority on child development is better known throughout the world than Arnold Gesell, M. D., Director of the Clinic of Child Development Yale University School of Medicine, and author of many books on all phases of child development. In his latest book Dr. Gesell states "No one of the major fields of behavior—motor, adaptive, language, and personal-social—is normally devoid of visual controls. So interlarded are vision and the action system (of the child) that the two must be regarded as inseparable. To understand vision we must know the child, to understand the child we must know the nature of his vision." In other words, his vision is the key to the child's personality and individuality.

Many parents reading this will not connect anything I am saying with their own children because "Unlike other physical infirmities, visual difficulties frequently are not apparent to either the child or his parents. The child has little, if any, yardstick upon which to measure the adequacy of his vision; he may feel that it is his own stupidity which prevents him from seeing things which other children around him see. In addition, parents generally tend to feel that the vision of their children is normal until proven otherwise, hence few of them consider a visual examination necessary or worth while until a definite need is shown." So says Dr. Neal J. Bailey of Indiana University, Division of Optometry.

We are quoting these outstanding research and educational authorities to you parents of school age children in the hope that many of you will not wait until your child has trouble with school or social life before you get him started on regular professional eye examinations as a course of PREVENTION (an ounce of which "is worth a pound of cure").

We find that many parents rely on school eye test results to a large degree. This may be all right providing it is done no less often than once every two years and providing the child's school work and comfort are normal. However, if the child has frequent headaches or if his achievement falls below what it should be then it is poor practice to assume his vision is normal on the basis of the school eye test.

We say this because many schools still use only the old "horse and buggy" letter chart at 20 feet distance (and some do no visual screening at all). The 20 ft. chart fails to consider the fact that most school work is not done at 20 ft. but at less than 20 inches—reading and desk distance—and there is all the difference in the world between the requirements of far vision and near vision. The 20 ft. chart will MISS at least 42 per cent of the children who need visual care. Also many schools do not test all the pupils, but rely on teachers and nurses to single out likely visual problem cases and test only these. This method in addition to the ineffective 20 ft. letter chart, probably misses somewhere around 65 to 70 per cent of the pupils needing help.

Now someone will pop up with "Well, why do we waste taxpayer's money paying teachers to waste a good portion of their time trying to teach these kids who can't see?" That's a good question. Our large industries and economically to show a which must operate efficiently profit have already found that visual screening pays big dividends in increased production, reduced spoilage, reduced accident insurance premiums, increased comfort and satisfaction among workers. It still remains for most of our school systems to recognize the fact that this increase in efficiency found by industry could for them be a similar increase in the amount of learning presented and absorbed by their pupils. "Most schools are aware that some of their pupils need professional visual examinations, but only those schools where surveys have been made recognize the magnitude of the problem" states Helen M. Robinson, PhD, University of Chicago reading expert.

The "magnitude" Dr. Robinson refers to can be understood when one realizes that school surveys in "typical" public schools have consistently shown that 40 per cent of the total group of pupils were likely candidates for professional visual help. Of this 40 per cent about 10 per cent were already receiving visual care but—get this—30 per cent were discovered for the first time.

In other words, approximately one third of the school population in the average school needs visual help if they are to gain the greatest reward for their social and educational contacts. . . . to understand the child we must know the nature of his vision." ### Last Rites Held For Brother Of Three Residents

Funeral services for Ray A. Timian of Lubbock, brother of three Littlefield residents, were conducted Tuesday at Redeemer Lutheran Church in Lubbock.

Timian, 45, died Sunday following a heart attack. He lived in Littlefield prior to moving to Lubbock in 1945. He owned a radio and TV repair service in Lubbock.

Burial was in City of Lubbock Cemetery under direction of Rix Funeral Home.

Survivors include his wife; four brothers, W. H. and H. M., both of Littlefield, E. H. and J. A. Timian, both of Lubbock; and a sister, Mrs. Gus Friday of Littlefield.

A 46 miles per hour, one gallon of motor fuel today will move one ton of the average car on the road nearly 44 miles. This compares with 25 miles in 1930.

About Your HEALTH

Do you have a teenager in the house? If you do, in addition to clothes strewn around the house, a continuously occupied telephone, and voracious appetites, you probably listen to complaints about acne—the scourge of teenagers since early times.

There has been much study of acne as a skin disease, but the exact cause is still undetermined. The body's hormonal balance, nutrition, the climate, and certain organisms all play a part. However, there is little doubt that the changes of activity in a youth's physical makeup as he attains adolescence is a major contributor to the problem.

Excess oil is emitted, combining with an overgrowth of skin about the pores, thus obstructing the openings so that oil gland canals become plugged with dried, fatty material causing a local skin obstruction ranging from a tiny blackhead to tender inflamed cysts containing pus.

The two main goals of skin care are improving appearance for psychological reasons and preventing permanent scarring. A good cleansing with hot soapy water and a gentle massage with the finger tips for five to ten minutes each night should be a rule. Never scrub the skin vigorously or roughly as this injures the tender infected dermis. After the skin is rinsed thoroughly with cool water and patted dry, a physician recommended lotion or ointment may be applied. Also pay attention to your scalp, since proper care of the scalp seems to improve the facial acne.

If you have acne, avoid adding more oils in the form of cosmetic creams, lotions or pomades. Also, avoid makeup bases and powders as they may further obstruct the pores.

Some success with ultraviolet light has been obtained, especially in winter months, but such devices should be used only under the care and supervision of your physician. They can be dangerous in the hands of the uninformed.

In order to improve the appearance of the skin, some attention must be paid to the acne blemishes themselves. You are urged to refrain from squeezing blackheads; pustules, and cysts to avoid self-inflicted scar formation and the spread of infection. Hot compresses, frequent cleaning and the medications prescribed by a physician will usually control the blemishes.

There is some indication that let is a contributing factor in some instances. A reduction in our intake of nuts, strong cheeses and chocolate should be observed. The proved rules of undertaken in many cases.

Good health. Get plenty of exercise and enough sleep. Eat regular, well-balanced meals and drink six to eight glasses of water each day. Frequent baths and hampous will keep the excess oils from accumulating.

By Mrs. Junior Muller

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Shackelford of Cotton Center were supper guests in the home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bobbie Sageser, Robert, Danny and Timothy, Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Neinst left Saturday for Oklahoma and possibly South Dakota to visit friends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Muller left Wednesday on their vacation to New Mexico and Colorado. They plan to fish some. They visited the Ed Roddys at Albuquerque Thursday and fished at Cowles and Pagosa Springs.

The WMU met Wednesday and Friday at the church for the week of prayer observance. The theme featured state missions and closed with the Mary Hill Davis offering.

Mrs. Bobbie Sageser directed the programs. Focus point was a map of Texas under six flags and then the seventh flag, "The Banner of the Cross." Attending and taking part were Mrs. Edwin Oliver, Mrs. Dewey Parkey, C. E. Timmins, Delbert Timmins, Blanton Martin, Harvey Jones, Leonard Sullivan, Junior Muller and Mrs. Sageser.

Gordon Hukill celebrated his fifth birthday Saturday.

Houseguests last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hukill were her sister and family of five girls from California.

The recommendation of the nominating committee for officers and teachers for the Hart Camp Baptist Church were presented in the church bulletin Sunday. These will take office the first Sunday in October which is the beginning of a new church year. The recommendations were accepted by the church by a unanimous vote. The general officers are as follows:

Sunday School supt., Dewey Parkey, assistant, Larry Timmins; Training Union director, Ivy Thompson, assistant, Bobbie Sageser; treasurer, D. R. Leonard, assistant, Edwin Oliver; Sunday School secretary, Mrs. C. E. Timmins, assistant, Frances Pressley; Training Union sec., Mrs. E. P. J. K. Osthus is visiting his daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Pierce at Guadalupe and vacationing in El Paso this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Muller and Donna were guests in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Porcher near Littlefield Sunday. Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Louis Porchers of Dallas and Mr. and Mrs. George Porcher and son of Andrews.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Walters of Plainview visited Thursday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hollums. They are cousins of Mrs. Hollums.

Mrs. Mary A. Oliver of Carlsbad is spending a few weeks in the home of her son, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Oliver, Debbie and Kerwin.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobbie Sageser, Robert, Danny and Timothy, had as their guests Sunday, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Shackelford of Cotton Center, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Kolter and children of Kress, and Mr. and Mrs. Willys McCormick of Lubbock. The occasion was Mrs. Shackelford's birthday.

Little Miss Debbie Timmins had the 3-day measles last week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Timmins went to Muleshoe Thursday. She attended the associational W.M.U. meeting at the First Baptist Church and he visited friends.

Elma Burleson and Roy Hendrick had entries in the Bantam Show at the county fair at Levelland last week. Both men brought home winning and placing ribbons on their entries. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hendrick, Jerry and Sharon were in Levelland Thursday at the fair.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Oliver Kerwin and Oliver, of Carlsbad, Mr. and Mrs. Debbie Sunday were Mrs. Mary A. E. Oliver and children of Thalia, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Oliver and daughter of Hale Center.

The regular weekly meeting of the W.M.U. was held Monday afternoon at the church. Mrs. Bobbie Sageser presided. After the watchword and prayer calendar, Mrs. Dewey Parkey opened the meeting with prayer. The group decided to attend the District Workshop at Plainview Wednesday, Oct. 8 at the First Baptist church. Mrs. Roy Osthus had gram. There will be no meeting Sept. 22.

Cottage prayer meetings were held this week nightly at the homes of members of the Hart Camp Baptist Church. Revival services begin Sunday Sept. 21 at the church. Rev. Porter Bales of Tyler will be the evangelist and Durwood Price will lead the singing.

Entries Mounting in State Fair Livestock Shows

Entries are mounting toward near record totals for the 1953 Pan-American Livestock Exposition Junior Livestock Shows, Poultry and Horse Shows at the 1953 State Fair of Texas in Dallas, Oct. 4-19. Ray W. Wilson, livestock manager, has announced.

Opening with the nine-day Pan-American Livestock Exposition, the State Fair's shows will offer a total of $91,597 in premiums and will feature 26 breeds of beef and dairy cattle, swine, sheep, goats, horses, ponies and all leading commercial strains of chickens, turkeys and pigeons.

Entries expected to total more than 8,000 will compete in 42 individual shows and sales. Shows alone will entail 86 different ring events requiring more than 1,000 separate judgments.

The State Fair's show schedule calls for 24 breeds to be judged during the Pan-American, with Quarter horse roping and cutting competition and Angora goats highlighting the opening weekend.

In 1955, close to 23 million motor trucks were registered in the world—more than 46 per cent of them in the United States.

Credit Association To Open Offices Here Saturday

The Production Credit Association will hold its open house showing this Saturday, Sept. 19, from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. at the new office building located at Highway 51 and east 6th street. The new building is all brick, built by Raymond James and Son, Littlefield. The building features 45-foot offices, all-weather floorings, all-weather cooling, along with furniture. The reception area is decorated with paneling and Roman numerals. Separate areas include a bookkeeping department and a private credit office. The firm has a fireproof vault. Coffee will be served from the new office's coffee bar. A paved parking area is located south of the building.

Jane Newman Elected To Head Pep Squad

SUDAN—Officers for the Sudan High School pep squad have been selected. Jane Newman, a member of the senior class was elected president. To serve with her are Glynna Masten, vice president and Joyce Wingo, secretary. Cheerleaders for the pep squad are Jane Newman, Janet Reed, Rosetta Williams and Waynette Howell.

Tech Cadets' Enthusiasm 'Sells' ROTC To Freshmen

LUBBOCK—Enthusiasm that Army ROTC cadets have for the reserve officer training they receive at Texas Tech is helping "sell" the program to incoming freshmen. Col. James B. Carvey, commander of Tech's Army ROTC unit, reports that this program, which helps college students earn an Army commission while earning a degree, has already won the approval of several Lubbock students entering Tech this fall. Sam Lytal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Lytal, Plainview Highway, was sold on the Army ROTC program by his cousins, Don and Jerry Bell, ROTC students from Hale Center. Don was commissioned in the Medical Service Corps in May and Jerry will be a sophomore in the program this year. "Don and Jerry spoke very highly of the Army training at Tech and I feel it is an excellent way to get started fulfilling my military obligations," said Lytal who was graduated from Tom S. Lubbock High School in May. Bob Pittman, an incoming Tech freshman and Monterey High School graduate, agrees with Lytal on the value of the ROTC program. His older brother, Bill, is a senior in ROTC. "We had several talks at Mon-

Cats' Pressley Wins Area 'Back Of The Week' Honors

Littlefield Wildcat Halfback James Pressley came in for a big share of area honors this week as he was named "South Plains Back of the Week" by the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal. Pressley scored both of Littlefield's touchdowns in the Wildcats' 14-8 win over Plainview. A 145-pound senior playing his first year at a halfback post, Pressley returned a kick-off 80 yards to score and tallied another on a four-yard plunge. He passed to End Hilton Hemphill for the Wildcats' only extra points. This is his first year at halfback after playing three years as a quarterback.

tery on how to fulfill our military obligation, I'm sure that everyone will have to serve six months or two years and I want to become an officer. I believe the responsibilities connected with being an Army officer will be of great help in any future work," Pittman said. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Pittman, 3302-22nd. Darwin Holder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion D. Holder, 302 Ave. S., is a senior Army ROTC cadet at Tech who has convinced his brother, James, and his brother-in-law, Tommy Onimus of Littlefield, of the merits of Army training. Both are enrolling in the Tech program. "No doubt about it," said Dar-

Sudan Homecoming Saturday; 300 Invitations Mailed Out

SUDAN—Plans for the annual Homecoming of Sudan School, to be held Saturday night, are being completed and over 300 invitations to out-of-town exes have been mailed. Invitations are not being mailed this year to local residents and those residing in nearby towns. Registration for the evening will begin at 6 p.m. and a supper, to be served by the Band Parents organization, will get under way at 6:30. A program is being planned under the direction of Mrs. Mary Bowman, Mrs. Jo Broyles and Mrs. Lynn Perry. Other activities will include a business meeting. The class of 1929 is to be the honor class and Arnold Purcell of Lubbock, member of the class, will give the response to the welcome by Tommy Walker, president of the student council of Sudan High School. An honor table will be reserved for the members of the honor class and their families. In charge of table preparations will be Hoyt Robertson. Appointed to the flower committee are Mrs. Mary Jo Lambert and Mrs. Sue Chester. Officers of the Ex-Student organization include Nolan Parrish, president; Virginia Rone, vice president; Sara Wood, secretary. All local students are urged to attend. If you can play a musical to visit with out-of-town guests. Plates for the supper are to be

USDA Man To Talk At Farm Event

MULESHOE—Dr. J. O. Culbertson, head of the industrial crops section of the Oilseed and Industrial Crops Research Branch of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, will be the speaker here Sept. 22 when Texas Sesame Growers, Inc., plays host to the farmers of the area with a field day and barbecue. The field day will begin at 11 a.m. with an inspection of USDA's regional sesame yield tests which are being conducted here in cooperation with the Sesame production and marketing organization. The event will also mark the opening of a new milo storage warehouse and elevator, which will more than double the capacity of Texas Sesame Growers, Inc. High Plains plant. Dr. Culbertson has spent a lifetime in agriculture, both in research and teaching. His last teaching assignment was as professor of agronomy and plant breeding at the University of Minnesota. He has served as president of the Flax Institute of the United States since 1952. He was named to his present position with the USDA in 1957.
