Ask Us

Q—What constitutes the difference between a misdemeanor charge and a felony charge of unlawful carrying of a weapon?

A—The question is too complex to answer fully here, but the most basic definition is location. Carrying a handgun, illegal knife or club is a Class A misdemeanor. However, possession of a firearm, illegal knife or a prohibited weapon at certain locations — on school grounds, at a polling place on the day of an election or during early voting, in court offices, at a racetrack or at a business licensed to sell alcohol — is a third degree felony. Some prohibited weapons, such as explosives, can constitute felonies by themselves.

Clerks gear up for election day

Early voting is at an end and clerks are now gearing for the final 12 hours of balloting on Saturday, election day.

The county clerk's office was busy as 152 people lined up Tuesday afternoon to beat the early voting deadline and cast ballots for or against bingo. According to the county clerk, 666 ballots were cast during the early voting period, which began last month.

On Saturday, voting in the bingo election will be held in the basement of the courthouse. As with all six elections held Saturday, the polls will be open from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m.

All registered voters residing in Justice of the Peace Precinct 1 are eligible to cast a ballot in the bingo election. This includes virtually all of Scurry County except for Hermleigh.

The candidate race attracting the most attention so far has been Place 2 on the Snyder ISD board of trustees, where incumbent Geraldine Parker is being challenged by write-in candidate Phil Ragland. Some 274 ballots were cast during the early voting period.

There were 133 ballots cast in Place 3, where Pam Zeck and Richard Chambers are opposing each other.

To cast a ballot in the SISD elections, voters must reside within the school district and the single-member district, either Place 2 or Place 3. Saturday's voting will be conducted at City Hall.

In the Hermleigh ISD board election, seven people are running for three full-term seats and three others are vying for an unexpired term. Some 94 people took advantage of the early voting period. Saturday's election will take place in the Hermleigh School cafeteria.

On the ballot for the full terms are Brian Blair, Jay Roemisch, Andres Rodriquez Jr., John Williamson, Rex Glass, Chip Roemisch Jr. and incumbent Jimmy Hudgins. Blair is moving from the district and is not campaigning.

Running for the unexpired term are Carole Haynes, Jesse Rios and Larry F. Bridges.

In the Ira ISD board election, Place 5 incumbent Sid Wall is being challenged by Dirk Dunn. Place 4 incumbent Bo Robinson is uncontested. Nineteen people voted in the early balloting period. Saturday's election will be held at Ira Community Center.

There are four Snyder City Council seats up for election. Those districts, candidates and early vote totals are: District 1, incumbent Vernest Tippens and Lynn Gardenhire, 14 votes; District 2, Jerry Webb and Robert Sanders, 89 votes; District 3, Kenneth Gibson II and Kenny R. Gambrell, 32 votes; and District 4, in-

Palestinian autonomy...

Israel, PLO sign pact

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin of Israel and PLO leader Yasser Arafat signed a historic accord today that will give Palestinians autonomy in the Gaza Strip and Jericho, at a ceremony disrupted by a last-minute dispute over a map.

Arafat walked out of the hall, but returned a few minutes later and signed some papers, writing notes on disputed sections. Rabin then signed a document after an aide translated Arafat's Arabic writing.

The dispute produced an extraordinary scene as President Hosni Mubarak of Egypt, Secretary of State Warren Christopher and other dignitaries appeared to be negotiating with Arafat on stage as speeches continued.

The PLO chief negotiator, Nabil Shaath, said Arafat refused to sign maps of Jericho and Gaza because he wanted to make clear these were still disputed. He agreed to sign when Rabin offered a letter saying arguments over the areas were not yet settled, Shaath said.

After the quarrel, Israeli Foreign Minister Shimon Peres told the audience that some last-minute negotiation took place during the ceremony. "Nowadays you can watch how birth is being given on television," he joked.

In Israel, another hitch arose. The Israeli government began releasing prisoners under the accord, but then froze the process for more than an hour because of a dispute over the numbers to be freed.

Nevertheless, the agreement, originally signed Sept. 13 in Washington, was finally on track. Once signed, Israel has pledged to withdraw its army from the two areas in three weeks and to release hundreds of prisoners.

The first of 9,000 Palestinian police named by the Palestine Liberation Organization are also to move into Jericho and Gaza.

Arafat, dressed in military uniform and black-and-white checked headdress, called the accord a "true beginning to complete the march of peace and guarantee the legitimate rights of the Palestinian people," but he did not mention a Palestinian state.

Rabin also spoke of a beginning, setting off on a "daring road" that he envisioned could end in peace despite the obstacles.

"We have hope but much trepidation that the two peoples could live on the tiny patch of land, each under their own fig tree as the prophets said," Rabin declared.

Mubarak, Christopher and Russian Foreign Minister Andrei Kozyrev signed as witnesses, with the American and Kozyrev representing their nations as sponsors of the Middle East peace process.

Agreement on signing the accord came earlier this morning after a more than six-hour meeting between Arafat and Rabin.

Shaath announced an agreement was reached, but later in the morning made clear this was achieved by putting off three of the main issues until after the signing.

These were the number of Palestinian prisoners to be freed, the exact size of Jericho and whether a uniformed Palestinian guard would stand on the bridge crossing from Jordan to the West Bank.

He said those issues would be negotiated after the agreement was signed.

An earlier impasse was apparently broken when Israel raised to 25 square miles the amount of land it would withdraw from around Jericho, increasing its offer of 21.5 square miles.

The SDN Column — By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "A country performer is a guy with a million dollars worth of sound equipment singing about the simple life."

Speaking of simple pleasure, the government is slowing doing away with them.

Thanks to new proposed rules aimed at clean air, the smell of baked bread will soon become illegal.

Anybody who has passed by a commercial bakery is enamored by the delicious aroma of baking bread. In many industrial districts, the smell of fresh bread stands out like a sprarkling jewel.

But come the fall of next year, pleasant bakery odors may be a thing of the past as communities and bakeries scurry to comply with the 1990 Clear Air Act which require industrial plants to reduce their emissions.

According to the brain trust in Washington, the smell of baking bread is a form of air pollution. According to EPA bureaucrats, the combinations of flour, water, yeast and heat not only produce great taste and a pleasing aroma, it also results in ethanol, a non-toxic substance that contributes to ozone formation. Yeast police want commercial bakers to spend millions to install new emmission controls.

The result naturally, will be higher prices at the store for a loaf of bread.

Those bread machines used at home emit the same wonderful smells that can be experienced around commercial bakeries.

If the EPA ever decides to enforce rules against grandma's homemade bread or her bread machine, this may be one battle that Big Brother is destined to lose.

And speaking of simple things, it's not always easy to be politically correct.

A national group says that merely calling it the doctor's office doesn't sound just right in the 1990s.

It's no longer a doctor's office, they say, but rather a "wellness boutique."

Try antacids for hiatal hernia

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have a hiatal hernia. Do you have any information on the biofeedback techniques mentioned as a possible source of treatment?

DEAR READER: Biofeedback is a technique by which patients can be taught to control certain symptoms by focusing their attention through mental concentration.

However, biofeedback will not help the symptoms of gas and indigestion that may accompany hiatal hernia, a weakness where the esophagus joins the stomach. Because of this weakness, irritating stomach juices may backwash up into the esophagus, causing pain and flatulence.

In my experience, antacids (to neutralize gastric acid) and medicine, such as Tagamet or Zantac (to curtail the production of acid), are usually effective. Ask your doctor about this.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Hiatal Hernia." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2433, New York, NY 10163. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My feeling is that medicine is only based on the almighty dollar. Before, when the dollars rolled in from prescribed tests, physicians ran every possible one to determine a problem before prescribing or operating. Now, with HMOs, tests reduce the bottom-line year-end bonuses and are to be avoided at all costs. Better to presume what's wrong and treat the problem, hoping it works. If it doesn't, the patient is probably a hypochondriac anyway and hopefully will just go away. I think HMOs are a giant step backward. Your comments?

DEAR READER: Backward step or not, Health Maintenance Organizations are not only here to stay but will probably become more important in whatever health plan is ultimately adopted by Congress. Although some of your comments about testing vs. profits are correct, you need to realize that "the bottom line" is a primary concern for health planners. Everybody seems intent on designing a system that will cost less.

I can't predict what effect this will ultimately have on the medical system as a whole. Probably not a very positive one, because patients are going to have to learn to live with rationing of one kind or another.

Welcome to health care in the 21st century.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm a high school junior doing a research paper on the use of anabolic steroids by athletes. What information can you provide?

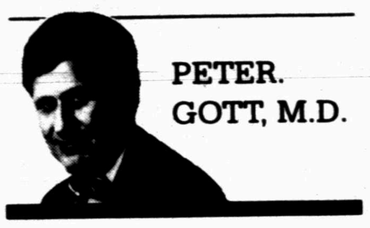

DEAR READER: Anabolic steroids are drugs that increase strength and muscle mass. They are dangerous because they cause violent impulses and premature heart disease in many users. They have also been implicated in other disorders, such as cancer.

All responsible authorities oppose the use of steroids, especially in young people, because the risks far outweigh the advantages.

There are many articles in the medical literature that address the effects — and, in some cases, the tragedy — of steroid use. Ask the librarian at your local hospital to obtain a few review articles for you. This is an easy task and should supply the information you seek.

Rivals Lennox, American Standard form firm

DALLAS (AP) — Lennox International Inc. and American Standard Inc. announced Tuesday that they are joining forces to build compressors.

Although different divisions of the parent companies are serious competitors, Heatcraft Inc., a unit of Dallas-based Lennox, and Trane Unitary Products Group, a subsidiary of New York-based American Standard, are forming a 50-50 joint venture.

The compressors for the $8.5 billion a year U.S. residential air-conditioning and heat pump market will be manufactured under three brand names — Climatuff, Duration and Heatcraft. Production will take place at a 230,000-square-foot plant in Tyler, where the newly formed Alliance Compressors will be headquartered, and a new 200,000-square-foot plant in Natchitoches, La., which will be completed in late 1995, said Trane spokeswoman Sharon Brogdon.

FFA farm management team garners state crown Saturday

For the second time in as many weeks, a Snyder High School FFA (Future Farmers of America) chapter team has won state. The latest to achieve top ranking is the farm management business team composed of Will Collier, Tasha Naegele and Shane Robinson.

They join the crops judging team who captured the state crown April 30 at Texas Tech.

According to David Frazier, agricultural instructor, the trio "soundly defeated" 45 other state qualifying teams Saturday at Texas A&M.

Collier was named 1st high individual; Robinson was second; and Naegele was 7th.

Frazier said the contest allowed students to demontsrate their business skills as they literally managed a farming enterprise for the duration of a year.

The contest is a written and problem-solving test which takes the contestants about 2½ hours to complete. Students have to demonstrate their abilities to set up budgets, compute taxes, depreciate assets, compute various ratios as well as every other aspect of the farm business.

As the state champions, Collier, Robinson and Naegele will now represent Texas in the National Farm Business Management contest in Kansas City this November.

Also competing in state weekend contests were the poultry, meats, horticulture and dairy products team. Though they were unable to break into the top ten, Frazier said they did "a wonderful job throughout the year."

The meats team of Clinton Garcia, Adam Scott, Shayla Jeter and Eric Romero end the school year with a 3rd place in area and 2nd in district.

The poultry team — Jeremy Clifton, Heath Irvine, Matthew Miller and Michael Davis, finish the school year with a 3rd in district and 4th in area.

The horticulture team finished 1st in district and 1st in area. Team members are Seth Knox, Jennifer Vantine, Brad Hinton and Banyan Winkler.

Sonya Pennington, Shane Rollag and Chris Clifton, competing as the dairy products team, placed 1st in district and 4th in area.

"This has been a wonderful year for the Snyder FFA judging teams as we would like to say thanks to each of the teachers, administrators, and parents who put up with the long hours of practice and missed school," Frazier said.

Concert set

ABILENE — The Classical Chorus of Abilene will present "Music of Tudor England" on Saturday, May 21, at 8 p.m. at the Episcopal Church of the Heavenly Rest at 602 Meander.

Guest artists will be The Texas Early Music Project, a group of five recorder players based in Austin. The group, managed by Jan Jackson, concentrates on music of the Tudor period, and will perform songs by composers Holborne, Morley and Dowland. They will also play a song arranged by King Henry VIII.

The group's instruments are replicas of a variety of Renaissance recorders, which preceded flutes and clarinets. The Texas Early Music Project encourages members of the audience to stay after the performance to view the instruments.

A Bright Spot In Our Hometown! Helen Hatter

A quiet, but effective worker.

That best describes a Scurry County native who returned to Snyder in 1984 to become one of her hometown's most active volunteers.

Helen Hatter, daughter of Flo Joyce and the late Sam Joyce, graduated from Snyder High School in 1963. She married Travis Hatter and the family resided in Mt. Pleasant before returning to Scurry County.

The main focus of her efforts has been the American Cancer Society, an organization she has worked in since 1968. Last year, Helen was honored with the Triple Crown Award from the Texas Division of the American Cancer Society.

The Triple Crown award is for achievement in three areas — Public Education, Quality of Life and Golden Achievement. The latter is for fund-raising.

Helen has worked with the local unit to get educational programs that promote cancer prevention into the public schools. Although not the campaign leader in 1994, Helen has been active in the ACS fund-raising efforts currently underway. Helen has also worked with the Big Country Cancer Coalition.

Even though Helen has worked with the Cancer Society for many years, here involvement increased when family members had to deal with the ordeal of cancer.

But she also finds time for other volunteer efforts and for her family. She is a member of the Cogdell Memorial Hospital Advisory Committee, including fund-raising efforts for room renovations.

Although she is not currently a member of the Hospital Auxiliary, she has told several Pink Ladies of her desire to work in the surgery waiting room one day a week, "just as soon as I get my ducks in order."

Helen and her husband, Travis, are members of the Snyder First Presbyterian Church. She serves on the Trust Fund committee and is a past church session member.

Although not personally a golfer, Helen often helps with golfing events, especially those that raise funds for cancer research.

Her husband Travis is a golfer, and son, Wade Hatter, also enjoys golf. Wade and his wife, Terah, live in Stephenville. Daughter, Mary, and her husband, Roger Boone, live in Lampasas, and have two sons, Derek and Bradley.

Snyder National Bank is proud to salute Helen Hatter, recipient of the hometown spirit award for May.

Organ donors upset because of remarks by Islam leader

DALLAS (AP) — Black organ procurement officials criticized Nation of Islam leader Louis Farrakhan on Tuesday for his contention that black-on-black crime serves a white need for donated organs.

Farrakhan, speaking to a mostly black audience at a stop-the-violence rally Saturday in Toledo, Ohio, said that whites support blacks' killing other blacks because the victims become potential organ donors.

"When you're killing each other, they can't wait for us to die," he told the crowd. "You've become good for parts."

"It is mostly Caucasian organs that are transplanted into African-American patients, not vice versa as Mr. Farrakhan alleges," Ms. Gentry said.

"The only people who can make a statement like Mr. Farrakhan are people that just don't know the facts," she said.

Also, the director of Howard University Hospital's transplant center in Washington, D.C., said Farrakhan's is speaking without regard for the facts.

"We've just come from a decade where African-American organ donations went from 3 percent in 1982 to 11.6 percent in 1993," said Dr. Clive Callender in today's editions of The Dallas Morning News.

"Although we represent only 12 percent of the population, we represent more than 30 percent of those on waiting lists," Callender said.

National figures for 1993 show that 11 percent of organ donors were black and more than 78 percent were white.

Missouri became the 24th state in 1821.

From Baghdad to Nashville

By Phillip Alder

There are many bridge professionals in North America. Some are high-profile players, winning national titles and world championships. But most stay primarily in the background, competing with clients in regional tournaments. However, many of these are top players who also compete in North American Championships. One of the best is Chuck Said.

Born in Baghdad, Iraq, Said moved to the United States in 1957. He is noted for his unflappable nature; even when things go wrong, he remains calm. All bridge players lose more events than they win, but Said has won far more than most, in the process amassing over 16,000 masterpoints.

Said played today's deal brilliantly. North's raise to three spades is at best debatable. But if he hadn't raised, there wouldn't have been a story. West doubled because he knew his opponents were in a 4-3 fit and his heart holding looked ideal.

West started with two top clubs. How should South play to try to make the contract?

There was one chance: if West had 10-third of spades and two or three diamonds. Said ruffed the second club with the spade ace. He played a diamond to the dummy's nine and ruffed the club jack with the spade king. Said cashed the spade queen and diamond ace before leading the spade six and finessing dummy's nine. It held! Now came the spade jack, on which Said discarded his diamond king. When both opponents followed, Said claimed 10 tricks: three spades, five diamonds and two club ruffs in hand.

State to audit Texas A&M system

DALLAS (AP) — Texas A&M University will come under the scrutiny of state auditors this month when they begin their first audit of management controls at the school and its system.

The move comes on the heels of a request from State Sen. Carl Parker, D-Port Arthur, who in a March 31 letter asked state Auditor Lawrence Alwin to do the audit quickly. The management audit had been scheduled for 1995.

A&M officials said Tuesday they consider the examination routine.

Still, it comes nine months after the Texas Rangers began a criminal investigation into allegations that former Texas A&M Board of Regents' chairman Ross D. Margraves Jr. and other top administrators may have used their positions for personal gain or the benefit of their business and-or political associates.

Margraves resigned last week in what he called an attempt to deflect criticism from his alma mater and has denied wrongdoing.

In his letter, Parker urged Alwin to undertake the audit immediately "in light of recent revelations of alleged wrongdoing."

"To date, I have read various accounts of alleged fraud, misappropriation of state funds, falsification of records and purchase vouchers and cheating," Parker wrote, according to today's editions of The Dallas Morning News.

Prison inmates and parolees indicted in mail fraud scam

GATESVILLE (AP) — A Coryell County grand jury returned 41 indictments Tuesday in connection with a mail fraud scam run by Texas prison inmates or parolees that netted at least $500,000, officials said.

Thirty-six women inmates or parolees and three other citizens were charged with engaging in organized criminal activity; two prison guards were charged with bribery. Each offense is a second-degree felony, punishable by two to 20 years in prison plus a fine of up to $10,000, District Attorney Sandy Gately said.

The scheme involved inmates at the women's units in Gatesville. They gathered men's addresses from singles magazines, then mailed out requests for money, Assistant District Attorney Gina DeBottis said.

"The women would send out letters asking for money to pay old fines, court costs or attorney's fees, and restitution, none of which were true. Some women even solicited air fares and promised their victims love and marriage upon release," Ms. DeBottis said.

The inmates deposited money in banks throughout Central Texas, she said.

The victims are located throughout Texas, the United States and Canada, and from as far away as Japan, England, France, the Philippines and New Zealand, Ms. DeBottis said.

The Texas Department of Criminal Justice assembled a task force of 11 investigators, including Texas Rangers, U.S. Postal Service investigators and internal affairs officials, and worked on the case for six months.

David Nunnelee, spokesman for the Texas Department of Criminal Justice, said workers in the mail room noticed something was amiss when so many letters arrived containing money.

"That's how we undertook the investigation. To their credit, they're the ones who reported it," he said.

The two prison guards, whose names were not being released, had not been arrested Tuesday. "Their status is certainly subject to review," Nunnelee said.

A Russian proverb has it that: "To ask is no sin, and to be refused is no calamity."

Cave attends youth session

Sterling Cave, a sophomore at Snyder High School, was this year's SHS representative to the Seventh Texas Panhandle Leadership Seminar held in Amarillo last month.

Approximately, 100 sophomores, each representing a different high school throughout the Texas Panhandle, gathered in an educational environment that taught, through discussions and demonstrations, a variety of subjects relating to profit, economics, business, self-improvement, motivation, and leadership skills.

The Texas Panhandle Leadership Seminar, an affiliate with the Hugh O'Brien Youth Foundation (HOBY), is one of five seminars held in Texas. There are a total of 92 seminar sites in the U.S., Canada and Mexico. Each provides a setting of education and motivation for sophomores who have exhibited leadership qualities.

Sterling became eligible by being nominated by Larry Scott, high school principal.

All discussions and presentations centered on the theme: "America's Incentive System," our free enterprise economic system which motivates productive activity in our society. The emphasis was on motivating the young people to make a positive contribution to their school and community and to be aware, active and responsible citizens of the world.

PUBLIC NOTICE

On December 1, 1992, TU Electric filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas (Commission) to make a refund of the estimated reduction in TU Electric's 1993 state franchise tax liability resulting from tax legislation passed during the 72nd Texas Legislature. This refund was made using an interim refund factor that was applied monthly beginning January 1993 and which continued until the effect of the tax legislation was permanently included in TU Electric's base rates on August 3, 1993.

As required by Commission Substantive Rule 23.21 (d), the interim refund factor is subject to additional refund or surcharge to the extent it differs from the factor finally set by the Commission based upon TU Electric's actual reduction in 1993 state franchise taxes. Through the interim refund factors, TU Electric refunded a total of $8,102,278. However, for the period January 1, 1993 through August 3, 1993, TU Electric's reduction in state franchise tax was only $7,636,852. Thus, there was an overrefund of $465,548. Under the Commission's Rules, this overrefund, including interest at the rate set by the Commission, is subject to surcharge by TU Electric.

TU Electric has proposed that the overrefund, including interest, either be included in the next fuel refund/surcharge proceeding to be filed pursuant to the Commission's Rules, or be included in Commission Project No. 12497, involving the refund of bonded rates in Docket No. 11735.

This matter has been assigned Docket No. 11632. The deadline for intervention in this proceeding is June 20, 1994. Persons who wish to intervene in or comment upon these proceedings should notify the Commission by June 20, 1994. A request to intervene or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Austin, Texas, 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission's Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256, or (512) 458-0221 for text telephone.

Second reservation system to dump Southwest Airlines

HOUSTON (AP) — System One, the computer reservation system owned by Continental Airlines, will dump Southwest Airlines and other carriers that refuse to pay for its services beginning next week.

"We just feel very strongly that it's time to deal with the freeloaders," System One President Bill Diffenderffer said in a telephone conference call with reporters.

"They were receiving services that were valuable and facilitated the transaction of their business and they weren't paying for it. As near as I can tell, that's not what capitalism is all about."

The new policy, which takes effect next Monday, prohibits issuing tickets for the affected airlines and removes certain reservation information, such as arrival and departure times.

Later this year, the carriers will be removed from a System One display that offers travel agents an instant glance on fares between two cities.

Bonnie Reitz, System One's vice president of sales and marketing, said "about a dozen" other airlines are affected, but Dallas-based Southwest is the only major carrier. More than 300 airlines participate in the system as paying members.

System One was the second reservation system in three days to ditch Southwest. Apollo, owned primarily by United Airlines and USAir, stopped allowing travel agents to print Southwest tickets on Sunday.

The airline also has refused to participate in Worldspan, a reservation system owned primarily by competitors Delta, Northwest and Trans World Airlines. Worldspan plans to dump non-participants later this year.

Protest planned

AUSTIN (AP) — Atheists criticized President Clinton's proclamation of National Day of Prayer, saying that religion and government need to be kept separate.

"Urging citizens to pray is the chore of Protestant, Jewish, Roman Catholic, and Muslim leaders, not a function of our government," Jon Murray, president of American Atheists, said Tuesday.

"The office of president of the United States is a secular honor — not a priestly office," he said.

The group plans to hold a protest Thursday, the National Day of Prayer, at the Houston City Hall

Astro-graph

By Bernice Bede Osol

Your Birthday

Thursday, May 5, 1994

Your tested and true ways for generating earnings will still be the best route to follow in the year ahead. However, you'd be wise to also keep a weather eye peeled for solid investments.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Today you may be more receptive to new concepts than usual. This is a valuable asset that could help you recognize whether the constructive ideas of others fit into your plans. Trying to patch up a broken romance? The Astro-Graph Matchmaker can help you to understand what to do to make the relationship work. Mail $2 and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Matchmaker, P.O. Box 4465, New York, N.Y. 10163.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Don't be afraid to make changes today you feel can improve upon something in which you're presently involved. Things might be a bit uncertain at first, but you'll quickly find your comfort zone.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Today you may have an opportunity to spend time with an acquaintance you've never taken the trouble to know. This person could turn into a friend, because you have a great deal in common.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) This is a good time to distance yourself from an endeavor that thus far has proven to be extremely unproductive. If you get out, it will encourage associates to do the same.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) If you're wondering why someone new you've met is warming up to you, it could be due to the fact you no longer judge this individual as harshly as you initially did.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) A new way to add to your resources might begin to develop for you today through a very unusual set of circumstances. However, you'll have to be sharp to spot it.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You are now in a cycle where your athletic skills could begin peaking to new highs. This is a good time to take lessons in sports where you'd like to improve.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) There's a possibility you might amaze yourself as well as others regarding some ingenious concepts you'll have for making or saving money today. Put them to the test.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Associates might require various types of back-up and assistance today, but not you. You'll function best being able to operate independent of others.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You are closer to achieving your objectives at this time than you may realize. With a few minor adjustments you should be right on target. Don't be afraid to experiment a bit.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Do not delegate critical assignments to surrogates today, unless it is absolutely necessary. If you must, find a way to check on this person's work from time to time.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) When pressed for answers today you are likely to be extremely resourceful in matters pertaining to your career or finances. Put this gift to work for you in achieving your objectives.

Dear Abby

Medicine Cabinet Trap Is Rude and Childish Trick

by Abigail Van Buren

© 1994 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Why on earth would anybody want to embarrass a guest for daring to open the medicine cabinet? Did it ever occur to hosts that a guest may have a legitimate reason to open the cabinet?

Sure, there are snoops who may be curious about your private life, and drug abusers who are looking for prescription drugs. But what about guests who are looking for mouthwash because there was too much garlic in the dip? Or someone needing hand lotion, aspirin or dental floss?

If there are personal items such as medications, cosmetics or contraceptives, they shouldn't be in medicine cabinets when guests are expected.

To booby-trap a medicine cabinet with marbles that will come tumbling out and make a racket to deliberately embarrass someone is unbelievably childish and rude.

If somebody did that to me, I would also walk out of the house — never to return.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please help me inform people that they should never talk to, pet or try to feed a Seeing Eye dog?

These dogs are working, and when they are distracted, they can't help the person they were trained to assist. This is a constant problem for people who have Seeing Eye dogs.

Some people say if you ask the owner if it is OK to pet their dog, it puts them in an awkward position because they hate to say no. Is it OK to talk directly to the sightless person about his or her dog?

KAREN FLYNN, 13, AZLE, TEXAS

DEAR KAREN: You are right. When people see a person with a Seeing Eye dog, they should understand it is not just another person with his or her pet; the dog is working. They should not try to pet the dog.

A comment such as, "My, what a beautiful (or well-trained) dog" is permissible, but beyond that, no questions, please.

DEAR ABBY: I have read that you are something of an expert on the American presidents, so perhaps you can come up with the anti-war remarks made in a speech delivered by President Dwight D. Eisenhower. He was severely criticized for it because he was a West Point graduate.

CURIOUS IN ABILENE, TEXAS

DEAR CURIOUS: I am far from an expert, but I have enjoyed learning about the American presidents, and the quotation to which you refer was made by President Eisenhower when he spoke before the American Society of Newspaper Editors in 1953:

"Every gun that is made, every warship launched, every rocket fired signifies, in the final sense, a theft from those who hunger and are not fed, those who are cold and are not clothed. This world in arms is not spending money alone. It is spending the sweat of its laborers, the genius of its scientists, the hopes of its children. ... This is not a way of life at all in any true sense. Under the cloud of war, it is humanity hanging on a cross of iron."

Both teams are now 4-3.

FARM LEAGUE

Indians 15, Astros 4

Winning pitcher Scott Reston drilled a homerun as the 4-3 Indians topped the Astros.

Billy Pena chipped in a triple, and Reston, Tim Green, Scott Simons, Cody Kellner and Justin Green each added a single for the Tribe.

The Astros, now 2-5, got two singles each from Adam Lucero and Lance Garza.

Larry DeLa Paz was the losing pitcher.

Braves 10, White Sox 9

The Braves used a double and a single from Matt Wiggins and Kyle McClendon's two-bagger to lead the Braves past the White Sox Tuesday.

The Sox were led by Zack Burns, who lifted a double and a single, Lyndell Lee, who belted a pair of hits, and Moses Williams and Bradley Bynum, who nailed a single apiece.

The Braves are 3-4. The Sox carry a 1-6 slate.

Down Estacado 5-4...

Tigers stay in playoff chase

LUBBOCK — "Our destiny is in our own hands," said Snyder baseball coach Albert Lewis following the Tigers' exciting 5-4 win over Estacado Tuesday. "You can't ask for more than that."

Snyder moves to 6-3 and a second-place tie with Plainview and Estacado with [illegible]

Frenship earned the loop title Tuesday with a tougher-than-expected 2-1 win over Levelland coupled with the SHS victory.

The Tigers can make the playoffs as the loop runner-up with a regular-season ending win at Plainview on Thursday.

Snyder jumped out to a 5-0 lead in the third inning against the Matadors, who are in danger of being ousted from postseason play after starting play Tuesday in a first-place tie with Frenship.

The Mats rallied however, before Snyder reliever Reagan Key got Billy Barron to fly out with the tying run at second base to end the game.

The Matadors trailed 5-2 heading into the final frame when James Cortez singled and came home on a Mike Johnson double, followed by an error that allowed Ernie Gomez aboard and scored Johnson.

Gomez was standing on second when Barron flied out to right.

Snyder touched starting pitcher Johnson for five runs, including four in the third.

John Clinkinbeard singled to [illegible] followed by a base hit from Key and an error allowing Gene Pollard on base, a single by Brad Hart, a walk to Chris Mitchell and an RBI single by Craig Lang.

After Lang's hit, his second of the game, Estacado put ace Ernie Gomez on the mound to replace starter Johnson.

Gomez limited the Tigers to just one hit and no runs in the last 4 1/3 innings, striking out six and wallking three.

Lewis commended the play of his outfielders in the win.

"That's a big ballpark at Estacado," the coach said, "and you have to have some good outfielders to keep the ball from bouncing all over the place and letting a lot of runs score.

"Chris Mitchell (LF) had two outstanding catches for outs and John Clinkinbeard (CF) had one.

"We didn't get a lot of strikeouts today, so our defense was really important."

Snyder starter Lee Idom went 3 2/3 innings to get his third straight win, giving up four walks and two runs, but no hits.

Key finished, fanning three, issuing one walk and allowing four hits and a pair of runs.

Plainview's 5-1 win over Lamesa on Tuesday sets up Thursday's battle for the remaining playoff slot.

If the Tigers, 15-11 overall and owning a tie-breaker advantage over EHS by virtue of two regular-season wins, beat the Bulldogs, they'll face Borger in the bi-district round of the Class 4A postseason.

A win by Plainview would leave the 'Dogs tied with Estacado for second place, forcing a one-game playoff.

Thursday's game, rescheduled from last Friday due to weather, is set for 6 p.m. at PHS.

Rangers top Belcher, Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — A crushed Diet Dr Pepper can rested in Tim Belcher's lap.

He sat facing his locker, his long legs resting inside. It had been at least two hours since he left the game, yet Belcher had donned only jeans and sneakers. His shirt would be in there, someplace.

This is how it is when a free-agent pitcher signs a guaranteed contract worth $3.4 million, then loses his first five decisions.

"I don't know the answers," Belcher said after the Texas Rangers defeated the Detroit Tigers 7-2 Tuesday. "I'm not even sure I know the questions. I'm just not pitching very well.

"You know, they say when it rains, it pours. But this is drowning."

In six starts this season, Belcher (0-5) has given up seven home runs and 22 walks. His ERA climbed to 9.91 with this latest setback. The Rangers tagged him for six runs on nine hits and three walks in 4 2/3 innings.

Texas starter Kevin Brown (2-4) can sympathize with Belcher. He got off to an awful start this season, too. The difference is that Brown has turned things around in his last two starts.

He blanked the Toronto Blue Jays 1-0 last Thursday. Then he scattered eight hits in giving the Rangers their first complete game of the season against the Tigers.

Two of the hits off Brown were solo homers by Tony Phillips and Mickey Tettleton. He struck out eight and walked one.

"I think I'm back on the right track," Brown said.

Juan Gonzalez had four hits and three RBIs, and Jose Canseco hit his sixth homer for the Rangers.

The Tigers, seeking their fourth straight victory, took a 1-0 lead against Brown in the second inning on the homer by Tettleton. But Canseco homered with two outs in the third before Will Clark doubled and Gonzalez gave Texas the lead with an RBI single.

Dave Hulse singled home Bill Ripken for a 3-1 lead in the fourth, and the Rangers broke it open with three runs in the fifth. Canseco and Clark scored on a double by Gonzalez, and Manuel Lee singled in Ivan Rodriguez to chase Belcher and make it 6-1.

Phillips homered in the Detroit eighth. Rodriguez added a run-scoring grounder in the Texas ninth.

Jazz rips San Antonio 105-72

by The Associated Press

The San Antonio Spurs, who had a miserable shooting day in losing Game 2, got worse in Game 3.

The Spurs shot 35 percent from the field and scored just 25 points in the middle two periods, including an NBA record-low nine in the second quarter, against Utah on Saturday. They figured to rebound Tuesday night at Salt Lake City, even without three-time rebounding champion Dennis Rodman.

The Jazz, however, held San Antonio to 31.8 percent shooting and routed the Spurs 105-72 to take a 2-1 lead in the best-of-5 first-round series.

"We just got a good old-fashioned whipping for the second night in a row," San Antonio coach John Lucas said. "What you're seeing is a frustrated team. They expected to play well."

The Spurs lost for the 20th time in 21 games in Salt Lake City, including four straight this season. Rodman was absent after he was suspended for one game and fined $10,000 for flagrant and technical fouls in Utah's 96-84 win in Game 2 on Saturday at San Antonio.

The Jazz shot 53 percent from the field, with Karl Malone finishing with 24 points and 13 rebounds. Jeff Hornacek scored 15 points and John Stockton had 12 assists for Utah, the host for Game 4 on Thursday.

"I can say that these were our best back-to-back games of the season, but they are behind us now," Malone said. "The biggest game of the season is Thursday night."

In other playoff games Tuesday night, Chicago completed a sweep of Cleveland with a 95-92 overtime victory, Miami opened a 2-1 lead on favored Atlanta with a 90-86 decision and Portland stayed alive against Houston with a 118-115 win.

In tonight's games, New York is at New Jersey and Phoenix at Golden State in series in which the visitors have 2-0 leads.

David Robinson and Antoine Carr scored 16 points each for the Spurs. Terry Cummings, who started in place of Rodman, finished with six points and 11 rebounds.

Trail Blazers 118, Rockets 115

Rod Strickland scored 25 points, 10 in the fourth quarter, and tied a team playoff record with 15 assists as Portland avoided playoff elimination at home against Houston.

Vernon Maxwell sank two 3-pointers in the final 27 seconds, one from 40 feet, pulling the Rockets within one point.

But Clyde Drexler deflected Maxwell's forced 3-pointer with three seconds left and Houston trailing 117-115. Maxwell admitted after the game that he thought the Rockets were behind by three.

The Blazers withstood a 36-point performance by Hakeem Olajuwon to prevent a first-round sweep.

Buck Williams had 22 points and 10 rebounds on 9-for-10 shooting for Portland. Drexler also scored 22 for the Blazers, who beat Houston for the first time in seven tries this season.

Bulls 95, Cavaliers 92, OT

Chicago did again what it has done on the way to three straight NBA championships — sweep a first-round playoff series.

Scottie Pippen sank the go-ahead basket on a driving left-handed layup with 1:25 left in overtime as the Bulls eliminated the Cavs for the fifth time in seven years.

Pippen committed eight turnovers against the smothering defense of Cleveland rookie Chris Mills, but still led the Bulls with 23 points and 11 rebounds. Toni Kukoc scored 18 points for the Bulls, who meet the winner of the New Jersey-New York series in the next round.

Mills had a career-high 25 points and 10 rebounds, Mark Price scored 22 points and Tyrone Hill had 15 points and 13 rebounds before fouling out with two minutes left in overtime.

Heat 90, Hawks 86

Steve Smith, averaging 23.7 in the playoffs, led Miami in scoring for the third straight game with 25 points, pulling the Heat within one victory of winning their first-ever series.

The first game between the teams since a brawl during Atlanta's 104-86 victory Saturday was cleanly played. Three players, including Heat starting forward Grant Long, missed the game while serving suspensions resulting from the fight.

In the final 76 seconds, Mookie Blaylock hit three 3-pointers.

'Pokes ink Peete to one-year deal

IRVING (AP) — Detroit free agent Rodney Peete has signed a one-year contract with the Dallas Cowboys, filling a vacancy created when backup quarterback Bernie Kosar went to the Miami Dolphins.

Peete accepted a one-year, $575,000 contract Tuesday that includes a $125,000 signing bonus. Last year, he was paid $1.2 million.

Peete, 28, was drafted in the sixth round in 1989 out of Southern California. He was a rival of UCLA's Troy Aikman in the Pac-10 Conference but said last week, "I know my place with the Cowboys. It would be as insurance for Troy."

Dallas has a third quarterback, Jason Garrett, who started one game last year when Aikman was injured.

Peete started 47 games for the Lions. He was 489 for 873 attempts and 6,494 yards.

His best performance was four touchdown passes against the Chicago Bears.

Johnson joins HBO as analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Jimmy Johnson will coach in the NFL again. Until then, his football duties will be confined to television.

On Tuesday, the former Dallas Cowboys coach added HBO to his growing TV resume. Two weeks ago, Johnson joined Fox Sports as an NFL analyst.

"We wanted to make sure we did HBO," Johnson said in telling how his newest job figured in his decision to sign with Fox Sports. "That had a lot of bearing on where we went."

Johnson joins Len Dawson, Nick Buoniconti and Cris Collinsworth on the long-running series "Inside The NFL."

Country Music Awards honors Garth Brooks

UNIVERSAL CITY, Calif. (AP) — It was a big night for Garth Brooks at the Academy of Country Music Awards. But it was an even bigger night for him at a Nashville hospital.

Moments before he was named entertainer of the year for the fourth straight time and his "We Shall Be Free" video was picked as best of the year Tuesday night, Brooks' wife, Sandy, gave birth to a 9-pound, 3-ounce girl, August Anna.

"If Garth Brooks thinks being with his wife when she's having a baby is more important than a piece of plastic and metal, I don't know where his values are," Jay Leno joked as he held the trophy for the absent winner.

Leno, in a blue rhinestone suit and cowboy hat, strode on stage near the end of the 29th annual ceremony to announce the top entertainer just after producer Dick Clark told the audience about the couple's second child.

Alan Jackson did double duty as one of the show's hosts and as a winner of two trophies, for best single and best album.

"Well, it sure takes the edge off that hosting job, I'll tell you that," he told a cheering audience after collecting the award for best single, for his foot-stomping, summer-fun tune "Chattahoochee." He got the top album award for "A Lot About Livin' (And a Little 'Bout Love)."

Jackson and co-host Reba McEntire were the night's most-nominated performers, with seven nods each from the 4,400-member academy. McEntire went home empty-handed.

Naomi Judd accepted the female vocalist trophy for her daughter Wynonna, who was bedridden with back trouble.

"I'm so proud of you, baby," the beaming mother said. "Right now I'm just like any other mom. I'm so proud of the woman that you've become."

Kentucky newcomer John Michael Montgomery pulled in two trophies, for new male vocalist and top song for "I Love the Way You Love Me." "It feels heavy and nice. I like it," Montgomery said, clutching a trophy backstage.

Vince Gill won his second consecutive male vocalist award. Merle Haggard, who has won 15 ACM awards — more than anyone else — presented it.

"To be presented this award by Merle Haggard is one of the greatest thrills of my life," Gill said.

The six-member band Little Texas, named after a road south of Nashville that was known decades ago as an outlaws' hideaway, was picked best vocal group. The group is best known for its hit single "My Love."

Kix Brooks and Ronnie Dunn, riding the popularity of their album "Hard Workin' Man," won their second consecutive duet award.

Mississippi's Faith Hill was picked best new female vocalist. She has the hit single "Piece of My Heart."

The five-member Gibson Miller Band picked up the trophy for best new vocal group or duet.

Singer Charley Pride won the non-competitive Pioneer Award and singer John Anderson was given the non-competitive Career Acheivement Award.

Minor injuries noted from wreck

Snyder police investigated three traffic accidents Tuesday, including one which sent three people to Cogdell Memorial Hospital emergency room for treatment.

Officers worked an accident at 8:06 p.m. in the 3700 block of Avenue G. Involved were a 1975 Honda motorcycle driven by Miguel Jaramillo of Rt. 2 Box 165 B and a 1985 Mercury driven by Debra Elaine McGlouthin of 3105 Ave. K.

Jaramillo, 17, was taken to Cogdell by private vehicle. Transported to the emergency room by Snyder EMS were a passenger on the motorcycle, 17-year-old Lionel Aviles of 2804 Ave. H, and a passenger in the Mercury, 2-year-old Tosha McGlouthin of 3105 Ave. K.

All three were treated for minor injuries and released.

Police investigated an accident in the 4300 block of College Avenue at 1:23 p.m. Involved were a 1986 Buick driven by Laverne Staton of 2519 CR 146, and a 1992 Chevrolet Suburban driven by Marilyn Fay Graves of P.O. Box 128 Ira.

At 3:45 p.m., police investigated an accident in the 3600 block of Avenue C. Involved were a 1994 Ford pickup driven by Leslie Riggins of 417 32nd St. and a 1978 Chevrolet driven by Lana McMillan of 207 33rd.

Defendants reach plea agreements

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The three men accused of plotting with Tonya Harding's ex-husband to hobble Nancy Kerrigan struck plea bargains that will get them 18 months in jail, sources say.

Shawn Eckardt, Shane Stant and Derrick Smith agreed to plead guilty to conspiracy to commit assault, legal sources close to the case said Tuesday. Any fines will be set by the judge at sentencing May 16.

Smith confirmed his own agreement. "I'm happy that it's finally happened," he said.

Prosecutor Norm Frink refused to give details of the agreement. Harding and her former husband, Jeff Gillooly, struck plea bargains earlier.

Eckardt, Stant, and Smith were charged March 21 with racketeering, assault and conspiracy. They admitted involvement in the Jan. 6 attack on Kerrigan but pleaded innocent while they contested the racketeering charge, which carries up to 20 years in prison and $300,000 fine.

According to their confessions, Eckardt, 26, Harding's former bodyguard, helped set up the assault, and Stant, 22, was the hit man who clubbed Kerrigan in the knee as she worked out in Detroit before the U.S. skating championships.

Some base closings may be deferred

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Clinton administration may defer some base closing decisions until after the 1996 election and will consolidate Pentagon accounting offices, favoring four politically powerful states.

Deputy Defense Secretary John Deutch told reporters Tuesday that the military would consolidate its far-flung system of 300 finance and accounting offices into five existing centers and 20 new satellite offices. California, Ohio, Missouri and Illinois were the big winners.

Deutch also said the administration is considering adding a base closure round in 1997 to soften the impact of the scheduled round next year. The current plan is "to proceed in one fell swoop to do everything that needs to be done in 1995." But another round could be added if the administration encounters difficulties helping communities hurt by earlier base closings, Deutch said.

A key factor driving the administration is the expectation that next year's closure list would deliver a major blow to the nation's bases and the communities that depend on them. President Clinton would need congressional approval to seek an additional base closing round in 1997.

Based on Pentagon estimates, the 1995 base closings, coming a year before Clinton is up for reelection, could equal the combined impact of base closure rounds in 1988, 1991 and 1993. The earlier rounds will result in the loss of an estimated 150,000 civilian and military jobs.

Rep. James Hansen, R-Utah, said Clinton is clearly worried about how a severe base closure round next year could affect his reelection chances in 1996. Hansen wants to delay the 1995 base closure round entirely until 1997.

And Rep. Dave McCurdy, D-Okla., chairman of a House Armed Services subcommittee overseeing base closings, said, "On the political level, it probably would be very popular to delay. Any time we can delay pain, whether it's going to the dentist or cutting the budget, we will do that."

The uniformed military, hoping to free funds for new weapons programs, opposes any delay in base closings and is arguing within the administration against the proposal.

"We have a fixed income and we can't afford to pay for things we don't need," said Adm. Jeremy Boorda, the chief of naval operations.

Several of the sites chosen to host defense accounting offices had been hit by Defense Department base closures or reductions, including Fort Ord, Charleston and Loring Air Force Base. But Deutch denied that the selection process was based on politics, saying it was "analytically based ... done fairly and openly."

Each of the 20 new offices will employ about 750 workers and the process of realigning the system will take two to three years.

The existing sites are in Cleveland and Columbus, Ohio; Denver; Indianapolis, and Kansas City, Mo.

Deutch said it costs about $1.3 billion a year to run the Pentagon's accounting systems, and that the consolidation could bring the cost down to $900 million a year.

Deutch also announced that a financial management and trainnngpprggrmm or the system's 23,000 employees will be established in Southbridge, Mass.

Officers note burglary, unrelated arrests made

Snyder area peace officers made four arrests and investigated a burglary and four cases of theft Tuesday and early this morning.

Police are investigating a burglary at McDonald's which apparently took place early this morning and was reported at 5:13 a.m. An undetermined amount of currency was taken by a subject or subjects who gained entry through the roof.

Officers are also investigating a break-in at the St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church hall. A report for criminal mischief has been filed in that case.

Police responded to a complaint at 11:46 p.m. Tuesday from a caller advising that two children were locked in a vehicle at the 250 Club. Officers arrested an 18-year-old woman in the parking lot for leaving a child under the age of seven unattended in a motor vehicle.

At 2:21 a.m. today, police arrested a 20-year-old man along Highway 180 near Willow Park Inn for misdemeanor driving while intoxicated.

At 2:27 this morning, police responded to a disturbance in the 2000 block of 26th Street where a 48-year-old man was arrested for Class C assault/family violence.

A 34-year-old woman was arrested at West Texas State Bank at 3:07 p.m. Tuesday for issuance of bad checks warrants out of Mitchell and Howard County. She was transported to the county jail and later released to Mitchell County officers.

At 8:49 a.m. Tuesday, Nila Harrell contacted officers in reference to the theft of some clothing from Comet Cleaners. A report for felony theft was filed.

Bob Kimmell contacted sheriff's deputies from Midwestern at 10:26 a.m. Tuesday to report a misdemeanor theft.

Anthony Alvarado contacted sheriff's deputies at 3:18 p.m. Tuesday to report the theft of a traffic meter at U.S. Highway 84 and FM 644.

At 3:22 p.m., Lawrence IGA employees contacted police in reference to an 80-year-old man shoplifting. The subject was advised of the complaint. No charges were filed.

David Gutierrez contacted police at 4:06 p.m. Tuesday to report the theft of some money. A report for Class B theft was filed.

At 8:54 p.m. Tuesday, officers were dispatched to the 800 block of 27th Street where a woman complained that a man had taken her dog and refused to return it. She was advised of the proper steps to take in recovering the animal. Officers also submitted a report for assault/family violence that had taken place earlier.

Waste reduction is a critical part of the solution to our solid waste problems.

Reduction waste at the source is one of the most effective ways to decrease household garbage. It's easier to manage garbage by preventing it from entering the home in the first place than to deal with it once it's there. Reducing waste this way is called waste reduction, or precycling. Precycling involves a three-step, decision—making process about products and packaging. First, decide what is truly needed and affordable, then identify and compare the alternatives to buying new products and third, select the best product for the need and affordability.

There are three basic types of products we produce as a nation and purchase as consumers — consumable products include products such as food and fuel. Durable products include clothing, furniture and tools. These products are designed to be used over and over again. Eventually, however, we will discard them. Disposable products are designed and produced for one-time use and include paper, plastic dishware and batteries. Another subtle form of disposable products is the durable product designed for obsolescence. Planned obsolescence is the work of marketing. Examples can include clothes, cars, appliances and high-tech equipment. Planned product obsolescence contributes to our garbage problem and increases consumption of energy and natural resources.

Packaging is the single largest contributor to the household waste stream, and is steadily increasing in volume. In addition, packaging accounts for 30 percent by weight and 50 percent by volume of what we discard, according to the EPA. This indicates that most packaging is not being recycled. When possible, choose the packaging with the least environmental impact in terms of energy use, materials use and recyclability.

There are five different materials used in packaging today — glass, paper, plastic, aluminum and steel. Approximately 75 percent of all glass, 40 percent of the paper, 29 percent of the plastic, 14 percent of the aluminum and 8 percent of the steel produced is used for packages. Each material can be used in single-material and in mixed-material packaging. Because single-material packages generally are easier to recycle and normally use less packaging than mixed-material packaging unless it is the most efficient and effective way to package a particular product, it is the best choice.

When you consider the environmental impact of your consumer choice — or shop with the environment in mind — you are Enviroshopping. An enviroshopper makes choices that have an impact on waste reduction, saves energy and helps reduce the pollution and depletion of natural resources. The best approach to waste management is to avoid waste production. To be an effective Enviroshopper you should follow the five R's — Reduce, Reuse, Recycle, Reject and Respond.

Conferences set on critical issues

Consumers, environmentalists, government officials and educators will join agribusiness leaders and crop and livestock producers in five regional conferences across Texas in May to discuss critical concerns facing food and fiber production and protection of natural resources.

All of these groups are stakeholders in the need for a prospering agricultural industry which meets the nation's needs while optimizing care of its natural resources, said Dr. John R. Abernathy, resident director of research at Lubbock for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. He chairs the Texas Agricultural and Natural Resource Summit Leadership Council, which is coordinating the five meetings.

The meeting dates and locations are:

*May 16, University Center, Texas Tech University, Lubbock;

*May 18, Frank Mayborn Center, Temple;

*May 24, Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center, Dallas;

*May 25, Hoblitzelle Auditorium, Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center, Weslaco, and

*May 26, Holiday Inn, Odessa.

The regional "mini-summits" are a followup to the Texas Agricultural Summit held last October at the Texas A&M campus in College Station.

COTTON

Cotton is the single most valuable crop grown in Texas, which has led all states in cotton production since 1880. The High Plains region around Lubbock, which typically grows half the upland cotton in the state, bounced back from a poor year in 1992 to harvest its largest crop ever in 1993. The state's cotton harvest last year totaled 5.1 million bales.

Wormy Apples and Pears? Here's the Solution

A model for predicting codling moth emergence has been established for the West Texas area. The codling moth in its immature stage is the worm that infests your apples every year. The codling moth overwinters and begins to emerge about this time of year and lay eggs on small apples.

According to the model and moth traps, the time to control this apple pest is April 28 through May 5. If you have trees sprayed by this Saturday, you should get pretty good codling moth control. You may not get 100% control but you should see a reduction in infested apples compared to previous years.

Products labelled for codling moth control include malathion. Other products may be labelled for codling moth control in apples and pears that I am not aware of.

Always read and follow the label of any pesticide you use. The second generation of codling moths will emerge this summer and we will keep you informed of when to control this next generation.

After 35 years of battling the dreaded cattle disease brucellosis, Texas joins 17 other states that have nearly wiped out the disease.

At the end of March, the Texas cattle industry officially earned a class "A" ranking in the National Brucellosis Eradication Program. Extension Veterinary Specialist Dr. Buddy Faries says the class "A" ranking means that the state has kept the number of cattle infected with brucellosis below one quarter of one percent during the last 12 months. This ranking should make Texas cattle more popular in national markets.

It took Texas nearly 30 years to move from class "C" to class "B" ranking, which is an infection rate below one-and-one-half percent. The new class "A" ranking was achieved in just a few years.

Faries attributes the success of the class "A" ranking to cooperation between producers, veterinarians and regulatory agencies, as well as improved herd management practices such as vaccination, testing and quarantines.

He adds that an intensive education program conducted by the Texas Animal Health Commission, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and other agencies also contributed to the success.

While officals with the Texas Animal Health Commission say they would like to shake the hands of every producer and veterinarian who worked so hard to help Texas earn the class "A" ranking, they note that there are 32 other states with a class "Free" ranking, which is now within reach for Texas cattle.

In 1992, EPA revised the Worker Protection Standard (WPS) for Agricultural Pesticides. The WPS governs pesticides used in the production of agricultural plants on farms and in forests, nurseries, and greenhouses.

Most WPS provisions were due to take effect on April 15, 1994. However, in April, legislation was enacted which delays implementation of some but not all of the WPS until Jan. 1, 1995. The new law provides more time for the agricultural community to learn about the WPS and to prepare for implementation.

Most of the WPS requirements appear on the labels of pesticides used. During 1994, you must comply with the WPS requirements that are spelled out on the label. These include requirements for personal protective equipment (PPE), the restricted-entry interval and the requirement for "double notification," if this requirement is on the label.

Other requirements to be followed after Jan. 1, 1995 include pesticide safety training for workers and handlers, decontamination sites, notification of workers about pesticide applications, display of information about pesticide applications, emergency assistance, and display of a safety poster.

The National Military Establishment was renamed the Department of Defense in 1949.
