SEC REVEALS IN SUIT

State Political Figures Share $350,000 Profits

DALLAS (AP) — Complex financial backgrounds and stock purchases of top Texas officials have been revealed in new depositions filed in the Securities and Exchange suit against the National Bankers Life Insurance Co.

According to the SEC, personal profits totaling $350,000 were made by the officials whose financial statuses have been sketched in the past. The following financial backgrounds on the officials are in the SEC depositions:

—Gov. Preston Smith, who allegedly made $62,500 on the deal, has an annual income of $30,000 from the state and gives his net worth as $500,000. He originally bought 10,000 shares of NBL stock at a cost of $137,500.

—Dr. Elmer Baum, chairman of the state Democratic Committee, had a personal income of $100,000 in 1970 and his approximate net worth is $500,000. He purchased 12,000 shares of NBL stock for $178,500 and, according to the SEC, made a $68,500 profit.

—House Speaker Gus Mutscher Jr. said to have made $74,500 on stock dealings, puts his net worth as $200,000 and his annual income at $30,000, including $4,800 from the state. SEC documents show he bought 27,000 shares of NBL at $478,500.

—State Rep. William Healy, House Appropriations Committee chairman, has placed his net worth at $1 million, claiming an annual income of $100,000. A family firm, Healy and Sons, bought 8,813 shares of NBL for $125,585.25 and made a profit of $42,971.50.

Barnes Attacks Tactics To Link Him To SEC Stock Fraud Probe

AUSTIN (AP) — Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, in the opening stage of an extended campaign for governor, says McCarthy-like tactics are being used to try to link him to a federal probe of stock manipulations.

Although Barnes did not name them directly, he left little doubt he was blaming investigators of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission.

Barnes, flushed with anger, told an impromptu news conference Wednesday that "I'm sick and tired of the attempts being made to drag me into the SEC investigation..."

He said a story was "leaked" to the Dallas Times Herald which ran in Wednesday's edition under the headline: "Barnes-Healy stock link told."

"It out-McCarthyed Joe McCarthy," Barnes said.

Barnes said he got so mad after an aide called him in Waco to tell him about the story he "could not even make a good speech" to a Democratic women's organization there.

The story said Barnes introduced Rep. W. S. Healy of Paducah to Ling & Co., the financial firm "which handled the National Bankers Life Insurance Co. stock sales..."

An SEC suit against Houston millionaire Frank Sharp and 27 other persons and firms alleged that NBL stock was manipulated to influence passage of two banking bills in a special session of the 1969 legislature.

Barnes said what really happened was that he told several people, including Healy, in 1968, that Gary Boren of Ling & Co. had recommended Southern Gulf Utilities stock.

"It was completely unrelated to National Bankers Life," Barnes said. "Time and time again they have tried to bring my name into this..."

"It's politics of the lowest level," he added.

Moon's Back Side Will Be Explored By Apollo 15 Crew

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — A group of science instruments tucked into one bay of the Apollo 15 spacecraft will produce the first study ever of the composition of the moon's back side a vast unknown area never seen from earth.

The instruments will measure the composition of about 20 percent of the moon's surface during Apollo 15's six-day stay in lunar orbit. The 12-day mission is scheduled to be launched at Cape Kennedy on Monday.

Astronaut Alfred M. Worden will operate the complex instruments. For three of the six days Worden will be alone in the spacecraft while his crewmates, David R. Scott and James B. Irwin, land and explore the moon's surface.

The instruments are an X-ray spectrometer, an alpha particle measuring device, a gamma-ray spectrometer and a mass spectrometer.

By measuring the X-rays and gamma rays coming from the moon, scientists are able to determine the presence of elements such as iron, oxygen, magnesium, potassium, aluminum, uranium, thorium and silicon. From this data the composition of the moon's surface can be calculated.

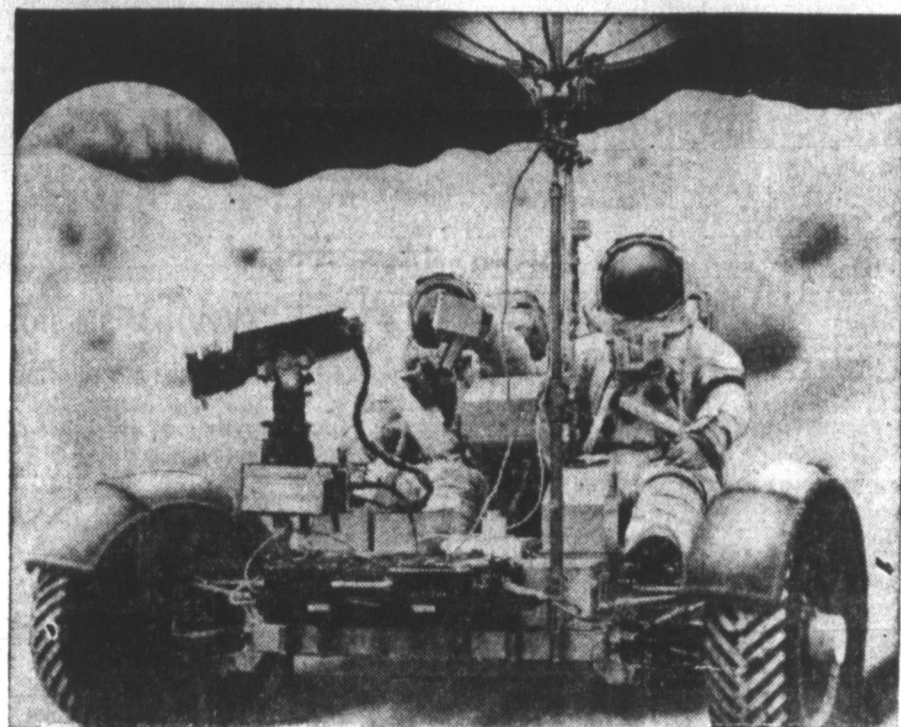

Orbital data gathered over the Apollo 15 landing site will be compared with the actual laboratory composition measurements of lunar material brought home by the astronauts. This will establish "ground truth," or a benchmark against which to calculate the accuracy of the orbital data.

The alpha particle and mass spectrometer devices will measure the diffusion of gases from the moon's surface and in its atmosphere. Some of these gases are expected to be from the decay of radioactive materials.

Dr. Isadore Adler, a space agency scientist, said the alpha particle device will measure the diffusion of radon and thoron, gases produced in the decay of radium and thorium.

The alpha particle device, he said, may also help locate lunar "hot spots," or areas where volcanic activity is present.

Data from these experiments may be vital, scientists say, if definitive answers are ever made to questions about the moon's origin.

LUNAR ROVING VEHICLE: The Apollo 15 astronauts will take with them to surface of the Moon a four-wheeled vehicle that will be used to transport themselves and equipment over the Lunar surface. The "Rover" has a capacity of 970 pounds with both astronauts comfortably seated with safety seat belts. Traveling at top speed of 10 miles per hour the spacemen will be equipped to cover much more area than in previous Apollo landings.

TO FIGHT VEE Serum Distribution Center To Be Set Up In Canadian

The United States Department of Agriculture yesterday took action to relieve problems created by VEE epidemic prevention measures by establishing a serum distribution center in Canadian.

Panhandle veterinarians have been required to travel to Amarillo for each 100 doses of serum dispensed.

Willard Copeland, Texas Animal Health Commission, is located at the Vic Mon Motel in Canadian with an adequate supply of serum, the department said.

The vaccine destined for Canadian is being transported by helicopter from Fort Worth to Paducah and then by car to Canadian.

The USDA reported 200,000 horses have already been vaccinated in Texas, noting 700,000 doses have been slated for use in the state.

Local veterinarians were continuing inoculations. Veterinarians here had hoped to complete vaccination of area horses by the end of this week, however reports from local offices indicated that several days will be required to reach all of the animals listed for the serum.

Such rumors and hearsay are checked more closely these days since Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, the President's adviser on national security affairs, journeyed to Peking and back to nail down an agreement on Nixon's China journey—without being discovered?

The White House gave assurances no envoys from mainland China met with Nixon Wednesday.

However, the President himself, perhaps unwittingly, has encouraged all variety of speculation by spending much of the past three days in his "hideaway" suite in the Old Executive Office Building. In the past, such solitude often has resulted in a news conference, a speech or major pronouncement.

Official Warns Vaccine May Help Spread Disease

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vaccine shipped by the case to Texas and surrounding states to fight a disease ravaging thousands of horses may contribute to its spread, says a former germ-warfare scientist who helped develop the drug.

Dr. Frank Hardy, now a virologist with the Food and Drug Administration, said in an interview the vaccine could—in theory—become a virulent agent itself.

He urged controlled vaccination studies in states not yet affected by the Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis that already has killed 1,132 horses in Texas. Nearly 1,500 horses are sick from the disease.

Hardy said blood tests, including one he developed, are available to determine if the VEE virus in the vaccine can revert to its "wild" state.

The vaccine was developed by Army scientists in the early 1960s in a project that turned out an anti-human biological warfare weapon consisting of live viruses that would produce VEE, a brain disease Hardy said would leave "an enemy sick without killing him."

The 46-year-old scientist speaks from experience. He said he and other workers at the Army's now-disbanded laboratories at Fort Detrick, Md., were sickened from exposure to live virus in the course of their work.

Thirty-five GOP leaders said they expect Agnew will be chosen to run again with Nixon; 15 others said simply the choice is up to Nixon and they will abide by his wishes.

Seventy of the GOP leaders responded; eight said they believe Agnew should be replaced; four others said it is possible he will be dropped from the ticket.

"The President is going to have to make up his mind first," said John Andrews, Republican chairman of Ohio. "Then so will the vice president. Past history favors his return."

But the Texas GOP chairman, Dr. George Willeford of Austin, said he doesn't think Agnew will be back. "I personally like Agnew... but I'm not sure he's good for the ticket," Willeford said. "I think a new face on the ticket would help."

Buckley Says Secret Viet War Story In National Review Is A Hoax

WILLIAM BUCKLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — William F. Buckley Jr., editor of the National Review, says his magazine perpetrated a hoax with fictional Vietnam papers to show that such forgeries "would be widely accepted as genuine provided their content was inherently plausible."

Buckley revealed the elaborate spoof Wednesday after a large segment of the American news media had carried stories on what the magazine called "highly classified government documents relating to the Vietnam war."

"We admit we proceeded in something of an ethical vacuum," Buckley told newsmen with a broad grin, but he suggested that somewhere in the government archives were real documents similar to the forgeries printed in the magazine.

"The point is that the papers, or something like them, must have been written," he said. "Therefore, one concludes that the difficulty was not that the Pentagon and the CIA gave LBJ bad advice, but that LBJ didn't take good advice."

Another aim of the hoax, he said, was to demonstrate "that the Pentagon and the CIA are not composed of incompetents—the unwarranted conclusion to which many were led by the fragmentary revelations of the New York Times and The Washington Post."

Appearing under the title,

"The Secret Papers They Didn't Publish," the National Review "documents" included dispatches attributed to former Secretary of State Dean Rusk, the CIA and others. Most were dated in the early 1960s.

Suspicion of a hoax grew when several of the persons listed as authors said they couldn't recall writing the "documents." Social historian Daniel Boorstin flatly denied writing a memo the magazine credited to him.

Buckley, who had been unavailable for comment when the magazine was released to the press, said at the Wednesday news conference that the "documents" were composed by editors of the magazine "ex nihilo"—out of nothing.

The New York Times, however, said today that at least some of the "documents" were composed ex New York Times and from the published statements of the persons credited with authorship by the magazine.

The Times said the first two memorandums quoted in the National Review were in fact excerpted from actual memorandums printed by the Times in its series in June and July about the secret Pentagon study of American involvement in the war.

Buckley, who has been championing the right wing and sticking pins in liberals since his days at Yale University, has been known to enjoy a put-on in the past.

He ran for mayor of New York City in 1965 "half in fun," telling newsmen that if elected his first act would be to "demand a recount." That wasn't necessary as he lost to John V. Lindsay.

One of 10 children of a millionaire Connecticut oilman, Buckley evinced an early interest in politics when at the age of 6 he wrote a letter to King George V. suggesting England pay its war debt.

He first came to national attention in 1951 when, fresh out of school, he wrote "God and Man at Yale," a scathing indictment of his alma mater which he claimed was drifting to leftism.

He founded the weekly National Review in 1954 to "keep the left from winning by default"—to such liberal rival publications as The Nation, the New Leader and the New Republic.

Talking of the hoax Wednesday, he said the idea "arose at an editorial meeting two weeks ago yesterday. We were discussing the Pentagon papers as released and the fact they were ideologically tendentious."

USDA Takes Measures To Help Cotton Farmers Offset Losses

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has authorized a formula under which cotton farmers will be able to collect larger government payments in 1972 to help offset losses this year from drought and other natural disasters.

The formula change was included in a package of drought-relief actions announced Wednesday by Agriculture Secretary Clifford M. Hardin.

Involved is a cotton farmer's average production used as a basis for computing his price support payments of 15 cents a pound. That payment is for cotton grown on "national allotment" acres which is used domestically.

The supplemental payments for domestic production are in addition to price support loans on all cotton grown. They are based partly on a so-called "payment yield" computed from previous crop production.

Under normal growing conditions, the payment yield is computed in part on the basis of actual per-acre output of preceding year. For 1972, however, cotton producers hit by drought will be allowed production credit of up to 90 per cent of their 1971 payment yield regardless of how little acreage actually produced.

The provision, a safety valve for making payments to drought-ridden producers, had set the maximum at 80 per cent.

For example, if a farmer's payment yield for 1971 was 500 pounds of cotton per acre and actually harvested only 400 pounds because of drought, he would be eligible next year for 90 per cent or 450 pounds for 1972 payments.

At 80 per cent, the 1972 payment yield would have been only 400 pounds or the same as he harvested this year from drought-hit acres.

The change was made by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service as a result of a recent inspection tour of the Southwest by Undersecretary J. Phil Campbell, the announcement said.

Hardin's announcement also extended haying and grazing privileges on land taken from production and emergency livestock feed sales from government-owned stocks through next Dec. 31.

Those programs, for designated counties in drought areas, were due to expire on Aug. 31.

Procedures for getting the government-owned grain also were modified, including authorization to let farmers use their own vehicles to help haul grain into drought areas, and a speed-up in clearing grain purchase applications through government offices.

American Medical Team Well Received In Egypt

WASHINGTON (AP) — Egypt and the United States are still divorced diplomatically, but a small U.S. Naval medical research team is fighting quietly in Cairo against diseases plaguing the Arab world.

Navy officials say the Egyptian government has been extremely hospitable to the little known team of American Navy doctors and medical specialists through most of the ups and downs of U.S.-Egyptian relations.

Along with other Americans, the Navy team was kicked out of Egypt in June 1967 when the Arabs and Israelis went to war.

But immediately after that brief war, although Egypt broke diplomatic relations with the United States, the Cairo government invited the Navy research group to return.

The American medics came back—and found Egyptian employees had protected the laboratory from anti-American mobs.

"They were ready to walk in and go back to work," said Dr. Robert A. Froesch, the Navy's research and development chief.

Today the Navy medical researchers are the only U.S. military men in Egypt, which is host to thousands of uniformed Russian advisers.

Froesch told inquiring congressmen that Egyptian officials have been hospitable to the American Navy men "essentially because they are producing a product of medical knowledge on local medical problems."

But there is another reason, Froesch said. "They do, when requested by the Egyptian government, some direct medical practice work for the government."

The Navy unit, whose origins go back to World War II, conducts basic studies into such diseases as typhus, typhoid and tick-borne ailments. The research is concerned with causes, prevention, control and treatment.

The staff of the Navy research unit has been increasingly "Egyptianized." Fifteen years ago, Egyptians made up about half the 76 members of the staff. Today, the Navy said, there are nearly 200 Egyptians working for the unit. And an Egyptian doctor has been co-director since the 1967 war.

The 23-man U.S. group includes nine officers, 12 enlisted men, a civilian virologist and a civilian zoologist.

dent will be replaced, and suggested Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally for the No. 2 spot on the ticket.

"I think the 1972 vice presidential nominee will be Connally," he said. Connally is a Texan and a Democrat.

"I think Connally could help carry Texas, but I doubt if Agnew could take Maryland even if he is on the ticket," the Republican state official said.

A GOP chairman from the Northern Plains said he thinks Agnew should be dropped. "I don't think Agnew would draw enough votes to be an asset," he said.

He said he has no one in mind as a replacement—"but one thing for sure, I don't want it to be Connally."

But endorsement of Agnew outweighed the political criticism.

"He's doing an outstanding job," said Winthrop Rockefeller, former governor and now national committeeman from Arkansas. Rockefeller said he believes that if Agnew wants to be on the ticket he will be.

A party leader from a Western state said that while he thinks Agnew will be on the ticket, he believes California Gov. Ronald Reagan or New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller would make a stronger candidate.

UTU Reaches Tentative Accord With Chicago Railway Company

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
The United Transportation Union reached a tentative contract agreement today with the Chicago & North Western Railway Co., one of three railroads the union had threatened to strike on Friday.

The UTU continued its week-old strike against the Southern and Union Pacific railroads as federal mediators reported no progress in efforts to settle the work rules dispute.

The union had threatened to widen the rail walkout to the C&NW and two other companies Friday and to six more carriers July 30.

Today's settlement involved only the C&NW and covered wages and fringe benefits as well as work rules over a 42-month period.

Meanwhile, small groups of telephone workers in widely scattered areas of the nation continued on strike today, defying their international union's back-to-work order for a second day.

The holdouts said they were dissatisfied with pension, overtime and various other provisions of a tentative contract settlement designed to end the walkout begun July 14 against the Bell Telephone System.

Members of the AFL-CIO Communications Workers of America stayed off the job at most Bell System installations in New York State and Arizona, and to a lesser extent in New Mexico, Wisconsin, Florida, Ohio, Missouri, Colorado and Wyoming.

Many holdouts said they would return to work only if the proposed contract is approved in mail balloting, a process expected to take two weeks.

In other labor developments, the United Steelworkers Union prepared for a Saturday meeting to consider a new industry offer for 35,000 copper workers who went on strike in Western states July 1. The offer reportedly included a 92-cent hourly wage increase over three years. Pay now averages $3.81 to $4.38 an hour.

In a separate dispute, the Wheeling-Pittsburgh Steel Corp. said it would not be able to reach agreement with the steelworkers before the Aug. 1 contract expiration and would begin shutting down in anticipation of a strike. There was no indication from the company or the union on what specific issues led to the stalemate.

The nine steel producers which rank ahead of Wheeling bargained jointly in Washington with the union as steelworkers locals got authorization to take a strike vote.

The General Electric Co. said it would lay off more than 7,000 employees in its aircraft engine group this year, a 26 per cent cutback in employment in that department. The company blamed a decline in the growth rate of air travel and cancellation of the U.S. supersonic transport program.

City Manager Tossed Into Den Of Lions

City Manager Mack Wofford was back on the "fried chicken" circuit today.

He was scheduled to address the Pampa Noon Lions Club at a regular weekly luncheon in United Methodist Church.

Wofford, who is a member of the club, says he gets a last-minute notice every now and then to fill in for a regular speaker who has cancelled out.

With the speaking engagement about three hours away, the city manager said he didn't know what he would talk about.

"They just notified me this morning that I would be the speaker of the day," Wofford said, "and knowing those Lions like I do, it's going to be a rough assignment."

Club members, Wofford indicated, have a special way of greeting their own members when introduced as the main dish on a luncheon program.

TENNIS COURT SCRUB DOWN — With Hep Cat Club member, Anita Willingham, center supervising, these four Hep Cat pledges, from left, Sharon Townsley, Jan Seitz, Kelly Cogdell and Phyllis Gee, found a sure way to clean the Pampa High School tennis court with toothbrushes. The tennis court scrub down on "Slave Day" was part of the Hep Cat Club initiation being conducted this week to enlist new members in the junior high school social club. (Staff Photo)

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been badly shaken at times, but not quite so much as when I discovered birth control pills in the purses of both my daughters. (One is 21 and engaged and the other is 19 and going steady.)

I did not cause a scene, nor have I told their father. (He would probably throw them both out.) I feel as though I have been completely wrong out.

I told the girls of my discovery and they were embarrassed. I didn't give them a sermon, I simply told them they were fools. Of course they said it was common practice these days. Is it, Abby?

I cannot punish them by disconnecting their telephones or grounding them from dating any more. What can I do?

DISAPPOINTED

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: You could throw them out, but what would that accomplish? Taking The Pill is not common practice among young, unmarried women, but since your daughters have apparently already made their decision to engage in premarital sex, isn't it better that they protect themselves against unwanted pregnancies than to gamble and lose?

I do not condone premarital sex, nor do I approve of mothers searching their daughters' purses.

DEAR ABBY: Yesterday a friend of mine came to visit and brought along her poodle that she treats like a mother would treat a child. Well, my four-year-old son was playing with her poodle, and the poodle licked the boy on his mouth.

I became very upset over this and told my friend to please hold her dog so he wouldn't do it again. She said that she was the one who should have been upset as her veterinarian told her a dog's mouth is cleaner than a human's, and she actually said she hoped her dog wouldn't catch anything from MY CHILD! Was she serious?

IRRITATED

DEAR IRRITATED: She was serious. And also correct.

DEAR ABBY: When people write to you about vasectomy, please give them some up-to-date information. The operation should not cost $250 or require overnight hospitalization. Here in Colorado (as in most other places) it can be done for $75 or $100 in a doctor's office in less than 20 minutes. Many health insurance policies cover the cost, too.

Anyone who doesn't know

MADRID (AP) Spain's future king, Prince Juan Carlos, will be able to rule the country in cases of absence or illness of the chief of state, Gen. Francisco Franco, according to a decree published today in the Official Gazette.

Franco, 79, designated Juan Carlos, 32, his successor with the title of king on July 22, 1969.

where to get a sterilization, either male or female, can contact his local Zero Population Growth chapter, or Planned Parenthood, or write to Association for Voluntary Sterilization Inc., 14 W 40th St., New York, for information and a list of doctors and clinics in their areas where it can be performed.

Planned Parenthood will do it for only a few dollars if that's all you can afford. Or for nothing, if you're really broke.

BEVERLEE IN BOULDER

DEAR ABBY: A woman wrote in saying that in order to teach careless overnight guests a lesson, she gives everything they leave behind to the Salvation Army, and you replied "What can the Salvation Army do with the top half of a pair of pajamas?"

I know what I do with mine? I keep it under my pillow in case of fire. And the bottom? Why, it's under hers, for the same reason.

PAMPA, TEXAS 38th YEAR PAMPA DAILY NEWS

Classic Accessory Returns To Fashion

With emphasis on a classic look in fashion for the Fall season ahead, the classic accessory will also star. One firm well-known for its immediate association with the newest trends, has come up with a total collection of "traditional" accessories, each one destined for an alliance with these new clothes.

In keeping with the boom in blazers, both scarfs and ascots are a natural for neckline fillers. So they tie-up the fashion look in a myriad of ways. The ascot appears in many fabrics from crisp twill and taffeta to lustrous satin, sometimes a solid block of color in the burnished shades of autumn, sometimes in tiny foulards reminiscent of a man's necktie and other times in an amusing pattern such as a spattering of tiny stars across a one-color ground.

Particularly effective and very much a "now" look is the mixture of the printed ascot with a plaid or tweed blazer jacket. The scarf that is meant to spice the tailored apparel of day ranges in size from a 24" square to tuck softly inside a shirt neckline to the 28" and 32" squares that lend themselves to many twists of tying and the oblong that this year enjoys a renaissance.

Again, their patterning follows a classic line as exemplified by tartan plaids, plaided stripes, herringbones, district checks, men's wear foulards and paisleys with a new flavor of the seventies. Here too, the marriage of patterned scarf with patterned apparel is an effective play, while the addition of a scarf at the neckline of a multi-layered clothes combo is an accessory reiteration of fashion's put-ons, circa Fall '71.

Starchy neckwear is another expression of the classicism that is so up-to-the-moment. So the firm harks back to the Kitty Foyles of the forties in its creation of crisp white collars, cuffs and neckline inserts to snap up a basic dress or add a fresh touch to the skinny crew-necked sweater. Tiny Peter Pan collars are matched to wide curved cuffs, straight-edged shirt collars have a haberdasher flavor and convertible inserts intended to wear inside a V-necked pull are all part of the look of accessories for today.

DIXIE HAM KABOBS FOR PATIO
... southern charm with sweet potatoes, oranges

Easy Kabob Recipe Gives Ham Extra Outdoor Dinner Appeal

When is a ham slice more than a ham slice?

The answer to this riddle is easy for the woman wise in the ways of kabob cookery. She knows that a ham slice retains its good eating quality yet basks a bit of glamour when cut into hearty cubes for kabobs, especially when the meat is adorned with a delicious brush-on sauce while broiling.

If you haven't prepared ham in this manner, sampling the recipe for Dixie Ham and Yam Kabobs will promptly convince you that it's the thing to do. As the name suggests, the recipe has a bit of built-in southern charm. In addition to the ham, there are canned yams, more correctly called sweet potatoes. Also alternated with the ham cubes on the skewers are triangular pieces of juicy fresh oranges. Finally to gild the kabobs, a spicy orange-honey saute flavors and glazes all.

Since most modern hams are fully cooked as purchased, broiling time is short. For this reason, both canned sweet potatoes and pieces of orange can be threaded on the same kabobs with the meat.

If you are not sure if the ham is fully cooked, ask your meat retailer at time of purchase. If it is not, simply thread the cubes alone on skewers and put them on a grill a bit earlier, adding the sweet potatoes and oranges on other skewers for a later warm-up. In any case, avoid over cooking which dries out any meat.

As for all grill-top cookery, keep the heat low. For charcoal, this means letting the briquettes burn until covered with gray ash. Gas grills can be adjusted easily to maintain the low to moderate temperature that gives the best results in meat cookery, either indoors or out.

The kabobs are as quick to prepare as they are to broil, making them an ideal dinner to plan for a cook's busy day either at home or away. Pre-dinner preparation time can be further shortened by cutting the meat in cubes, wrapping securely and refrigerating early in the day. The oranges, too, can be cut in pieces, wrapped and stored. And don't forget to shift that can of frozen orange juice concentrate from freezer to refrigerator shelf for speedy sauce preparation.

Round out the main course with buttered spinach or your family's vegetable favorite, cucumber slices and radish roses for the relish tray and hot buttered biscuits, from refrigerated package for ease.

Pecan pie will finish off the meal to perfection for all save calorie counters. Perhaps they'll settle for a fresh peach.

DIXIE HAM AND YAM KABOBS
2 pounds fully-cooked smoked ham, cut in 1 1/4-inch cubes
2 cans (17 ounces each) sweet potatoes

2 oranges
1 can (6 ounces) frozen orange juice concentrate, defrosted
2 tablespoons honey
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
Drain sweet potatoes, and if whole cut each in half. Cut each orange in half; placing cut side down, cut each half in quarters. Combine orange juice concentrate, honey, nutmeg and cinnamon. Thread 6 12-inch skewers alternately with ham cubes and sweet potato halves and pieces of oranges. Brush Kabobs with orange sauce and place on grill 3 to 4 inches from coals. Broil kabobs until lightly browned and heated through, brushing and turning occasionally. Allow 15 to 20 minutes total broiling time. 6 servings.

LOS ANGELES AP1 — Deputy Dist. Atty. Vincent Bugliosi, chief prosecutor in the Sharon Tate murder trial, has been cited by the county Board of Supervisors for "outstanding and meritorious performance."

Supervisor Ernest Debs presented a plaque Friday to Bugliosi, 36, and said that prosecution of Charles Manson and three female codefendants was "one of the most difficult cases in the history of our country and perhaps our nation."

Manson and the women were convicted and sentenced to death in the August 1969 slayings of actress Tate and six others.

Beef Sirloin Tip Stars On Patio Scene

In the good old summertime entertaining can be easy, and especially enjoyable too. Space becomes elastic when a party can overflow into patio, porch, or back yard. Nature loves the decorating with foliage and flowers and casual table appointments are appropriate.

Food preparation need not worry the hostess for formality and fuss are not for summer. Simple and satisfying are the menu standards.

A roast, always both an impressive and easy choice for a special meal, can be slipped in the oven or secured on rotisserie rod, necessitating but a minimum of attention. A cook can count on the appeal of fresh summer vegetables without frills.

Much of the preparation can be done ahead of time. Salads and relishes, cool and refreshing, wait well in the refrigerator. Then, too, the home freezer or local bakery can be counted on to provide rolls and a seasonal dessert. The high quality beef widely available has given latitude to the choices available for the rotisserie. Although a cut such as the beef rib eye is especially tender, other cuts, too, are appropriate for roasting on spit or in oven.

A rolled and tied sirloin tip roast is a favorite of many outdoor chefs, and is pronounced both delicious and most satisfactory from the tenderness standpoint by most diners. For optimum tenderness, roast it only to rare or medium and carve in thin slices. It can be brushed with bottled or homemade barbecue sauce during the roasting period.

For a complimentary and compliment-catching salad, prepare Garden Salad Ring, a tasty molded beauty that's cool and refreshing. Cucumbers and radishes not only garnish the salad but are included in the lemon-flavored gelatin that's spiked with horseradish.

BEF SIRLOIN TIP I ST ROTISSERIE-STYLE
4 to 6-pound beef sirloin tip roast (boned and tied)

Insert rotisserie rod through the center of roast, balance it on rod and tighten spit forks so the roast will turn with rod. Insert a meat thermometer at a slight angle so bulb is centered in roast, but not touching rod nor resting in fat. Make certain, too, that the meat thermometer clears the cooking unit and the drip pan when the roast turns. Roast at moderate heat to 140 F. For rare; 160 F for medium. Allow 35 to 40 minutes per pound, depending upon the degree of doneness desired and size of roast.

Let the roast "set" for approximately 20 minutes before carving. Since the internal temperature may rise 5 or more, allow for this when determining when to remove the roast.

Note: For roasting in the oven, place sirloin tip on rack in roasting pan. Do not add water and do not cover. Roast at 325 degrees F.

GARDEN SALAD RING
3 packages (3 ounces each) lemon-flavored gelatin
2 cups boiling water
1 cup cold water
3 tablespoons vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup dairy sour cream
1 tablespoon prepared horseradish
2 to 3 drops green food coloring
1 medium-sized cucumber (skin on), coarsely grate
1/4 cup coarsely

grated radishes
6 cup coarsely grated green pepper
1 small onion, grated

Combine gelatin and boiling water, stirring until dissolved. Add cold water, vinegar and salt. Stir in sour cream, horseradish and food coloring. Chill until slightly congealed. Fold in cucumber, radishes, green pepper and onion until thoroughly distributed. Pour into oiled 112-ounce ring mold. Chill until firm. Unmold on serving plate (on lettuce leaves, if desired). Garnish with cucumber slices and radish tulips or roses. 8 to 10 servings.

AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — If you are now on the road, or just back from a travel vacation, you have directly observed in action the product of one of America's most vigorous industries and most popular pastimes.

There are now 3.5 million recreational vehicles on the highways, back roads, trails and trailer parks of America. By 1980, industry officials expect sales of $2 billion and 7.5 million vehicles in use.

In a survey a year or so ago, the Recreational Vehicle Institute found that half the respondents were first-time owners and that 30 per cent of them had owned their vehicles for less than one year.

As recently as 1956, only 15,000 or so travel trailers and motor homes were produced. But in those incredible 1960s, when millions of Americans were buying different life styles, production leaped 500 per cent.

The industry is still developing. Major car rental companies are doing an increasing business in recreational vehicles, charging as little as $50 a week for basic compact to $350 plus mileage for a full-facility motor home.

Motel chains, recognizing that if they can't sell beds to families using recreational vehicles they can sell them space, are opening trailer parks.

Selling prices last year ranged from as little as $900 for the smallest units to $2,500 for more sophisticated products capable of sleeping six or eight people.

Many camp trailer owners step up to truck campers, which are designed to be temporarily carried or permanently affixed on one-half ton or larger trucks.

Efforts To Revamp Property Tax Underway With Outlook As Dark As Usual

Efforts to revamp Texas' most important tax, the property tax, are underway again—with the outlook dark as usual. Optimists hope they will at least get the 1973 legislature to streamline collection of the much maligned levy and maybe even collect some back taxes. The new legislative property tax committee, which originated in the Senate, holds its first meeting July 28 in Houston in the office of a member, Harris County Tax Assessor-Collector Carl S. Smith. Other members are Sen. Jim Bates, Edinburg; Rep. Richard Slack, Pecos; Jack L. Hart, Midland, and Charles D. Kirkham Jr., Dallas investor. Aim of the group is to prepare a property tax code that would replace the numerous bewildering statutes on ad valorem taxes. Another important aim is to put tax collections on a modern business level through the use of computers and data processing systems. The new committee is given a good chance to survive because of its financing. It is supported by a $1 fee on each delinquent tax receipt issued at county tax offices.

Later on, the long time Texas committee on state and local tax policy will make its recommendations for the 1973 legislature, as it has done for the past decade. The chairman of the Texas House committee on revenue and taxation, Rep. Ben Atwell, Dallas, serves as head of the tax group along with two other House members, three senators and three laymen appointed by the governor. Its financing comes from House and Senate expense funds. Still another committee trying for changes in property taxes is the "Keep Texas Productive and Green Committee," headed by Sen. Wayne Connally, Floresville. This group wants lower taxes on rural land by levying taxes on the basis of agricultural production not real estate market value. They say Gov. Preston Smith has promised them a chance to run with the subject at the next special session. Although property taxes furnish only a small part of state tax receipts, the aggregate of local government property taxes makes it by far the largest and most important tax in Texas, even surpassing the sales tax. Total property tax collections in Texas were estimated at $1.3 billion in 1969 and about $1.5 billion for 1970. There also is a small matter of $1 billion in taxes that are delinquent, es makes it by far the largest

Highlights And Sidelights From The State Capitol

By BILL BOYKIN
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex. —Back-to-school time isn't too far off for more than two million young Texans, and State Board of Education has approved a record $302.4 million statewide available school fund allotment.

Board set $121.90 as the state allocation for each pupil in public schools this year. Figure is based on the average daily attendance during 1970-71, or 2,479,400, although actual enrollment was over 2.7 million.

Local school districts may use their allocation to help pay annual operating expenses, including teacher salaries. Available school fund draws investment earnings from the $835 million permanent school fund.

In other preparations for the upcoming school year, Board of Education also:

Approved an $887,500 contract with Southwest Educational Development Laboratory for a bilingual teaching program tailored for four-year-old children of Mexican-American farm workers. Ten bilingual specialists will work with 100 youngsters in McAllen and Hereford to develop an experimental project next school year and field test it in 1972-73.

Approved a new accreditation plan to provide computer data to warn of developing weak points in school systems. Data will provide scientific analysis of information needed to decide which schools should be visited by accreditation teams. Such teams visit about 200 of more than 1,100 Texas school districts each year.

Entered an agreement to link Texas Education Agency and U.S. Office of Education in a $1.8 million program to evaluate new special education pilot projects expected to have national impact on the teaching of handicapped children.

Allocated $23.2 million to buy new textbooks (see below).

DISEASE SPREADS—A sleeping sickness-like disease spread among horses (and in a few humans) in the South Texas-Rio Grande Valley area.

U.S. Agriculture Department which originally had scheduled an experimental vaccine against Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis in 13 counties, later released it statewide and slapped an embargo on Texas horses.

Later, a state Animal Health Commission order halted movement within state or out of state of horses not vaccinated at least 14 days earlier.

Several persons were hospitalized in Brownsville with VEE symptoms. Cases in horses increased sharply, though laboratory confirmation lagged behind discovery of symptoms.

Disease, described as "flu-like" among humans, is deadly to horses, and concern was expressed for the equine population. Emergency situation stopped all rodeos, horse shows, race meets and other activities involving horses.

TEXTBOOKS AVAILABLE FOR REVIEW—Textbooks considered for 1972-73 school adoption can be looked over by interested citizens at 20 regional education service centers over the state.

Texas Education Agency, the largest single buyer of textbooks in the world, has $23.2 million available for the next school year. New books cost an average $8.10 for each of 2.7 million pupils. Proposed new textbooks can be reviewed at Edinburg, Corpus Christi, Victoria, Houston, Beaumont, Huntsville, Kilgore, Mount Pleasant, Wichita Falls, Richardson, Fort Worth, Waco, Austin, Abilene, San Angelo, Amarillo, Lubbock Midland El Paso and San Antonio education service centers.

15 MILLION NEW VOTERS?—Texas may have million new voters in 1972 largely as a result of 18-21-year-olds becoming eligible for all elections, according to a state senator's forecast.

New law goes into effect September 1 which permits registration of a Texas voter for a three-year period instead of annually as at present. Registration will also be open year-around except for a 30-day cutoff before any election.

Dallas Sen. Mike McKool, author of the new registration law, sees youngsters as accounting for a large part of the 1.5 million increase in eligibility rolls and predicts they will vote as well as any age group.

AG OPINIONS—All Texas counties must adopt the jury wheel system and terminate selection of jury panels through use of commissions, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has held.

New state law providing for waiver of indictment in non-death-penalty cases is constitutional, Martin said in another opinion.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded:

Commissioner of Bureau of Labor Statistics has no authority to promulgate rules and regulations limiting the number of boxing and wrestling promoters in cities within certain population brackets.

Bridge between Corpus Christi Bay and Gulf of Mexico adjacent to Mustang Island when accepted by Texas Highway Department becomes part of the state highway system.

Comptroller of Public Accounts may issue a warrant to a contractor or seller of supplies and — or services purchased through State Board of Control without seller's certification of correctness of invoice (correcting an earlier opinion).

Governor is authorized to make six appointments to Texas Board of Licensure for Nursing Home Administrators — two initial appointees to serve until Jan. 31, 1973, two until 1975 and two until 1977.

APPOINTMENTS — Gov. Preston Smith named E. Byron Crozier of Cleburne as district judge of 18th judicial district, to succeed Judge John A. James Jr., whom he named Tenth Court of Civil Appeals chief justice.

Smith selected Rex Sullivan Jr. of Quanah district judge of the 46th judicial district, replacing Judge Tom Davis who resigned.

Charles D. Kirkham Jr. of Dallas, a native of Cleburne, was placed by the Governor on the Legislative Property Tax Committee, along with Sen. James Bates of Edinburg, Rep. Richard Slack of Pecos, Jack I. Hart of Midland and Carl S. Smith, Harris County tax assessor-collector.

Charles R. Barden, acting chief of the air control section of the Texas State Department of Health, was named to the advisory committee to Federal Environmental Protection Agency.

COURTS SPEAK—District judge in Midland ordered the lawsuit attacking constitutionality of the new Texas

House of Representatives redistricting transferred to Austin where it may be tried this month.

Texas libraries were refunded nearly $500,000 as a result of the Attorney General's price-fixing suit against children's book publishers.

Court of Criminal Appeals upheld a Texas 1969 statute on possession of LSD, but a new challenge was filed here on changes in the law this year. Court again upheld sodomy statute.

JEANE DEXON Your Horoscope

FRIDAY, JULY 23

Your birthday Friday: The Sun enters Leo at 8:15 a.m. Eastern daylight time. Idealism enters more strongly into your life, including a call to contribute time and resources to help lead your community toward deeper spiritual experiences. Friday's natives know much of the world's inner workings by intuition, may present a brusque surface to avoid casual questioning.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): It's improbable that you will get what you want if you never ask for it. Friday is the time to put in your bid for whatever you really want.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Be active but stay away from hard decisions for a couple of days longer. Saturday's incidents offer a new frame of reference for Friday's ideas.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Bring friends and loved ones along as your life leaps with passing moments of adventure, transition, change. The celebration of past and present cooperation opens the way for a different and higher order of sharing.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Early signs of faulty planning, unrealistic expectations begin to show up. Be sure those who have all the current information needed.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Seek general support for your career and favorite activities. You have come to a time you can't quite put it over alone and must broaden your scope to make room for others and their needs.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Everybody has a different story and, somehow, you have to have at least a general idea of what each one is like. Your own story gets lost for the time being; no matter it will come back, enriched.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Career effort and its probable returns should be so timely evident that you can enjoy the most difficult, grubbier features of the work while you're doing it.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Waste no energy on anything you do not want immediately. Initiative and willingness to revise offer strong promise of early results.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Discipline yourself to do every available minute to root out and settle all unfinished business, leftover routine chores.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): However well grounded your specialty, your opinion is no more accepted than any other for the moment. Seek to improve communication first, then present your credentials and claims.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): The wheels turn only when you push, but they do grind out what you want at the appropriate time. Be extremely selective in all your contacts.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): An ebullient mood of cheer and expansion tempts you to promise too much too soon in too many different directions. Think before talking.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Board of Parole has announced it will hear parole applications July 28 by imprisoned antiwar priests Philip and Daniel Berrigan.

The Berrigans are in the Federal Correctional Institute at Danbury, Conn., for destroying draft records.

Philip, who began serving his sentence July 5, 1968, becomes eligible for parole Sept. 14. He is serving concurrent six- and three-year sentences.

Daniel, who began serving his three-year sentence Aug. 11, 1970 is eligible for parole Aug. 2.

Philip was named in a federal indictment as the mastermind of a alleged plot to kidnap presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger and blow up heating tunnels in Washington buildings in an effort to force an end to the Vietnam war. He refused to plead to the charges and a plea of innocent was entered for him in proceedings in Harrisburg, Pa.

Daniel was named a coconspirator but not a defendant in the original indictment but his name was dropped when the grand jury drew up a new indictment.

Pampa Babe Ruth All-Stars Will Play In Finals Friday

CATCHING UP OR OUT! — Pampa's catcher chases a foul ball in last night's 9 to nothing defeat of Canyon. The home team has scored 55 runs in the tournament while holding their opponents scoreless. (Staff Photo)

The Pampa All Stars advanced to the finals of the District I Babe Ruth Baseball tournament last night by dropping Canyon 9 to 0. In three games the local Stars have scored 55 runs and have yet to allow an opponent to cross the plate.

Right-hander Jody Johnson fashioned a three-hitter as his teammates, reacting to the first real test of their defense, provided excellent support. Johnson fanned nine and did not walk a man while allowing singles in the second, fifth, and sixth innings.

Ed Townsley and Bobby Hendricks each went 2 for 3 at the plate to lead the Pampa attack, followed by Toddy Black and Phil Schaub, both with two hits in four times up.

Pampa exploded early for the third time in three games as Townsley walked, took second on a passed ball, moved to third on Johnson's infield out, and scored on Hendricks' line single to center. After Schaub reached first on an error, Gary Davis blasted a triple to the wall in right center to plate Schaub and Hendricks. Gary Harper followed with a sharp single to left, scoring Davis with run number four.

Terry Moore opened the second inning with a walk. Canyon went to second with Townsley's ground ball but Moore was safe as the second baseman dropped the throw. After Johnson laid down a bunt single, Hendricks lifted a sacrifice fly to center to score Moore.

In the bottom of the frame, two Pampa miscues and a single put men on second and third with one out, but Johnson rose to the occasion and whiffed the next two hitters.

Harper reached first on an error in the third inning but died on third base. In the Pampa fourth, Townsley led off with a solid single to center but was doubled off first when Johnson popped up attempting to bunt. Toddy Black followed with another single, and pitcher Mark Parsons promptly picked him off first. Schaub blasted a triple to right center with one out in the fifth, but he was tagged out on an attempted squeeze play.

Harper opened the sixth with a base on balls, and Mike Coulter was safe when the Canyon left fielder misplayed his fly ball. After Jack King executed a perfect sacrifice bunt, Townsley slapped a two-run double, Black then rapped a single to score Townsley with run number eight.

Hendricks cracked a single up the middle to lead off the seventh and scored on Schaub's second extra-base blow of the game, a double to right. After Davis walked, Harper skied out to center. Coulter rapped a grounder to the Canyon second baseman, who fired to third to force Schaub and took a return throw at second to force Davis in completing Canyon's second double play of the evening. In the nightcap North Plains eliminated the Top-O-Texans by downing them 15 to 2. Left-hander Dennis Cobb gave up only three hits and collected two singles and a triple to aid his own cause.

In tonight's lone contest Canyon and North Plains collide at 8:00. The winner of that game will play Pampa in the finals on Friday night.

Crampton, One Of Golf's Most Skilled Performers

HARRISON, N.Y. (AP) — Bruce Crampton, a soft-spoken, articulate Australian, is one of pro golf's most skilled, successful performers and, as usual, was the forgotten man going into today's first round in the $250,000 Westchester Classic.

While the crowds flocked around Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and new hero Lee Trevino, Crampton went about his business in near anonymity.

He's a friendly, smiling man once the day's work is done, but often presents a sour, scowling appearance in his intense concentration on the course, a reflection of his serious approach to the game.

He's the defending champion in this tournament, the richest on the tour this season, won the Western Open in Chicago last week, is a serious challenger for this title and is one of the most successful foreigners ever to play the American tour.

SEALS SIGN TWO
OAKLAND (AP) — The California Golden Seals of the National Hockey League signed defenseman Dick Redmond and Ken Baird Wednesday to one-year contracts, bringing the number of signed players to five, General Manager Garry Young, said.

Terms of the contracts were not disclosed.

BRAVE OPTIONED
ATLANTA (AP) — The Atlanta Braves announced Wednesday night that reliever Tom House will be optioned to Richmond and shortstop Leo Foster to Savannah, effective Friday.

Outfielder Oscar Brown, who has been serving a two-week tour of military duty, will be reactivated Saturday, the club said.

Ali Thinks Experience Will Be Big Factor Against Ellis

HOUSTON (AP) — Muhammad Ali says he's not taking Jimmy Ellis lightly, but thoughts of Joe Frazier are never far away.

"I'll have an advantage the next time I fight Frazier," Ali said Wednesday after training for his Monday fight in the Astrodome against Ellis. "I know how he hits now. I know how he gets tired."

Ali figures he'll use this match against Ellis as a springboard to another shot at Frazier's title. Ellis thinks he can move up same way.

And the more Ali talks, the more he becomes convinced he wasn't the real loser in the Frazier fight.

"When a man loses a fight to the public, they don't turn out to see him train like this," said Ali, referring to the overflow crowds that have watched him train daily.

"I don't know why they even question you about Joe Frazier," said Bundini Brown, one of Ali's handlers. "Why he (Ali) played with him for three rounds. Everybody knows that."

The mouse just got away," Bundini said. "He just just got away, that's all. You think I'm jiving? Forget about the press. Forget about the referees and the judges—go ask the people. They'll tell you who the champ is."

Despite his talk about having trouble getting in condition, Ali is expected to be ready for Ellis, who already is in top shape.

Ali weighed 224 Wednesday when the two fighters underwent physical exams for their 12-round battle.

Ellis scaled 192.

Ali said he realized the possibility was there that he might get tagged, but he felt experience would carry him through.

"When you get tagged, you should dance away," Ali said. "Tie him up, play the ropes, give yourself a chance to come out of it. It takes 20 seconds."

"You notice Ellis (when he fought Frazier) got hit, and he got up and goes right back in the hitting range. Bob Foster fell, and he got up and went back in the hitting range. They go right back when they're still numb."

Duane Thomas-A Big Headache For Dallas Cowboys

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Dallas Coach Tom Landry said Wednesday he really has no comment on holdout running back Duane Thomas calling him "plastic, just not a man at all."

Thomas is a holdout with the Cowboys and lashed club officials in a press conference in Dallas Wednesday.

Landry told Bob St. John of the Dallas Morning News "That's his (Thomas') opinion and the way he feels. I've always gotten along fine with Duane and always thought a lot of him. I know he came up the tough way and in a tough environment and doesn't seem to accept anybody helping him."

Profile Of Apollo 15 Astronaut

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—Apollo 15 is the 25th American manned vehicle ticketed for a ride into space and the fifth aimed for a moon landing.

On the earlier Mercury, Gemini and Apollo missions, 28 different American astronauts logged flight time, with several making repeat trips for a total of 57 men in space.

Six of those flights were to the vicinity of the moon. Apollos 8 and 10 orbited the moon, while Apollos 11, 12 and 14 achieved manned landings. Apollo 13 also was a landing mission but was aborted when a spaceship oxygen tank exploded as the astronauts neared the moon. They returned safely to earth.

On the previous 24 launches, the astronauts recorded 7,970 hours, 21 minutes in space.

The Soviet Union has sent 16 manned ships into earth orbit for a total flight time of 4,401 hours 55 minutes. Twenty-five different cosmonauts have gone aloft, with seven making repeat trips for a total of 32 men in space.

U.S. spacemen have conducted 11 rendezvous missions, 14 linkups with other satellites and registered 16 space or moon walks. Comparative Soviet figures are six, three and three. The Russian Cosmonauts have not been near the moon.

The Soviet Soyuz 11 crew in June recorded the longest flight, 23 days, 17 hours, 40 minutes, before all three cosmonauts died during re-entry through earth's atmosphere. The longest American trip was 13 days, 18 hours, 35 minutes, by Gemini 7.

A total of four cosmonauts have died in space flight. No Americans have died in flight.

but three Apollo 1 astronauts died in a launch pad fire that swept their spacecraft cabin. (AP)—After Apollo 15, two more flights will conclude man's first moon landing program.

Apollo 16 is scheduled for launching next March, with astronauts John W. Young, Thomas K. Mattingly II and Charles M. Duke Jr. aboard. Young and Duke are to land at Descartes, an upland valley surrounded by craters.

Apollo 17, set for launching in December 1972, is expected to be commanded by astronaut Eugene A. Cernan, but the crew has not been announced. The landing target will be the crater Alphonsus or the Marius Hills.

The Apollo 15 astronauts plan to bring back to earth about 250 pounds of moon rocks and surface material, more than the total amount returned by three earlier moon landing crews and Russia's unmanned Luna 16.

The Apollo 11, 12 and 14 crews collected 214 pounds. Luna 16 scooped up about three ounces of loose material.

People In The News

NEW YORK (AP) — A spokesman for Mrs. John V. Lindsay would neither confirm nor deny Thursday a report that the mayor's wife has resigned from the prestigious Women's National Republican Club.

The Daily News reported the resignation in today's editions. There has been speculation that Lindsay, a Republican, would change his party affiliation to seek the Democratic party's presidential nomination. Lindsay has said he has no plans to do so.

ALONG TEXAS HIGHWAYS

Local Action Projects May Create New Form Of Accident Problems

AUSTIN—"The new boom in local ecology action projects may be creating a new form of accident problem along Texas highways according to a state safety expert.

J.U. Parker, a Houston safety consultant who is president of the Texas Safety Association, said that at least two persons have been killed in auto-pedestrian accidents recently while taking part in such projects.

"In each case, volunteer groups were engaged in projects of removing litter and refuse from the highway right-of-way. While these projects are no doubt beneficial, they can also lead to tragedy unless proper precautions are taken," said Parker.

"There have also been several reports of minor collisions occurring as vehicles try to avoid hitting members of groups participating in such projects," he commented.

Proper precautions according to the TSA president includes clearing such projects with the District Engineer of the Texas Highway Department.

"When you mix vehicles travelling at 70 m.p.h. and pedestrians on a highway, the potential for disaster is greatly increased," Parker warned.

"The Texas Highway Department's District Engineers are eager to cooperate with groups on such projects. To prevent accidents, ecology protection projects along highway right-of-way should not be undertaken without the approval of the local District Engineer. He can advise groups of the types of warning signs they should post on the back of their pick-up vehicle, help them select a location where such projects are needed, and give them tips to make the projects safer ventures," Parker said.

"Such cooperation and coordination can also prevent needless duplication of efforts. But most importantly it can prevent the death of a youngster or an adult," he stated.

The Texas Safety Association official also said that adult leaders should closely supervise the activity of groups involved in the ecological improvement projects. He called on leaders to insist that group members follow basic pedestrian safety while carrying out the projects.

Smith Sets Date For Meet On Industrial Expansion

AUSTIN—Gov. Preston Smith has announced dates for an expanded version of the annual Governor's Conference on Industrial Expansion to be held in Austin Oct. 13-14.

In making the announcement, Gov. Smith urged all chambers of commerce to make nominations for the coveted industrial expansion awards presented to Texas' most significant growth industries each year as a highlight of the meeting.

The awards, judged on the basis of corporate expansion and contribution to community economy during 1970, will go to the top five of Texas' sizeable flock of expanding industries.

"The State of Texas appreciates industry's role in giving our towns life for the future," Gov. Smith said. "These awards are a way of recognizing a job well done."

Co-sponsored by the Texas Industrial Commission and the new Community Affairs Department of the Governor's Office, the awards program and industrial conference each year draw wide participation from corporations across the state. For the first time, city councils and other community bodies are also receiving invitations.

This year's expanding conference will bring an unprecedented array of industrial expertise to Austin's Municipal Auditorium, with panel discussions ranging from federal industrial programs to housing problems. Several nationally prominent speakers will also highlight the affair, said Jim Harwell, executive director of the TIC.

"The speakers and informative sessions offer a tremendous asset to Texas industries and communities," Harwell said. "We expect the conference to be both successful and rewarding."

Chambers of commerce may nominate industries until August 1. Information and forms may be obtained from Jerry Hears, community director of the Texas Industrial Commission in Austin.

Last year's winners include Celanese Chemical Company of Clear Lake, Friedrich Refrigerators of San Antonio, Johnson manufacturing of Lubbock, Kilgore Ceramics of Kilgore, Larado Packing Company of Laredo and Missouri Beef Packers of Friona.
