Miller, Kennedy Honored

Outstanding 1951
Gene Gridders
Awarded At Banquet

Miller and Max Kennedy, outstanding linemen of the 1951 football team at the annual Club football banquet, were presented certificates of appreciation by the Memphis Democrat. The boys were honored for their athletic achievement. They were voted by a group of fans and professional men.

Through Is Speaker
Frank Kimbrough of Texas State at Canyon was speaker for the occasion. He spoke on the "character-building" of athletics, pointing out that playing to win alone was not the ultimate goal in football or other sport.

Kim, in referring to the scandals in college athletics, said that the boards of regents, and the members were threatened with a loss of money.

Line Set For Membership Drive
M. Friday

Plans for purchasing membership in the Hall County Hall Concert Association will be set at 5 p. m. Friday, according to Miss Helen, secretary of the organization.

There will be no Fall drive since sufficient funds have been raised," Miss Kim said.

Added that anyone ill or injured during the membership drive can still obtain tickets. The deadline for others is the day of the board, and will be deferred to, she said.

Secretary has requested all drive workers turn in apportioned books by Saturday noon. They may be done by contacting Kim at the courthouse.

Classes Training Class To Start Odom Clinic-Hospital June 2

A class in Vocational Nursing will start at the Odom Hospital on Monday, June 2, Odom, Jr., hospital manager announced this week.

The course, which consists of hospital training, study, demonstrations, supervised practice, is designed to become licensed nurses under the laws of the state.

It is available to girls 18 years old or above who have the equivalent of two high school education, Mr. Odom said. He pointed out that the number of students in the school can accept for the class is limited, and persons interested in the training should make application as soon as possible.

you are shipping this as have not ordered, and am NOT IN BUSINESS of any kind. I shall not accept shipment, so please advise. Yours truly, C. C. Hodges.

Actually Miller, uncle of J. O. "Ish" Miller and Rudolph Miller of The Democrat staff, was not a complete stranger to Hodges, a fact the latter discovered when Miller came to Memphis this week. They had met years before.

And the letter was actually meant for C. C. Hodges, but not the former mayor of Memphis, Texas. It was intended for C. C. Hodges of the head office of the American Snuff Company in MEMPHIS, TENN.

The strange coincidence occurred when Miller's secretary wrote "Texas" instead of "Tenn." on (Continued on Page 12)

Cyclone Band Receives Top Marching Honors

By MARGARET MASSEY
The Memphis High School Cyclone Band, under the direction of Perry Keyser, received a "superior" rating in marching at the Regional Interscholastic Band Meet Thursday, April 24, at Canyon.

Other Honors Listed
Among other honors won by the band were a "good" rating in concert and a "fair" in sight reading. Band members who entered solos, duets and ensembles received ratings all the way from "good" to "superior."

The "superior" ratings denote first places, "excellent," second "good," third, and "fair," fourth. The Cyclone Band twirling ensemble members won a "superior" rating for their almost flawless performance. Twirlers in the ensemble and their ratings in solo performances are: Donna Webb, excellent; Barbara Myers, good; Gereta Graham, excellent; Jacky Gilbert, superior; Anne Shankle, excellent; Yvonne Sturdevant, good; and Johnnie McDaniel, excellent.

Jackie Gilbert and Johnnie McDaniel teamed up to capture an excellent rating in the duet twirling division.

Many Solo Firsts
Other ratings in solo competition were: Gene Davidson, cornet, superior; Sue Miller, saxophone, superior; Clinton Jones, saxophone, excellent; Sharon Harrison, saxophone, good; James Moss, clarinet, excellent; Buzzy Patrick, clarinet, good; and Billy Allen Combs, trombone, excellent.

MONDAY IS DOLLAR DAY

Monday, May 5, will be Dollar Day in Memphis again. This month, local merchants have made plans for even more unusual bargains than before. They hope to satisfy the needs of most shoppers next Monday.

A perusal of the merchants' advertisements in this issue of The Democrat will disclose many money-saving buys, bargains for thrifty shoppers of this area.

Last Rites Held Saturday In Ark. For Mrs. Studer

Funeral services were held Saturday in Siloam Springs, Ark., for Mrs. Zonelle Studer, 50, former Hall Countian and daughter of R. B. McMurry of Memphis.

Mrs. Studer, who died April 24 in Siloam Springs, lived at Watts, Okla.

Services were held in the Baptist Church in the Arkansas town. The Rev. B. H. Eustis, pastor, officiated, with the Rev. Allen D. Stewart, pastor of the Siloam Springs Methodist Church, assisting. Burial was at Siloam Springs.

Mrs. Studer was born Nov. 14, 1901, in Hill County. She was converted and joined the Baptist Church at Brandon when she was about ten.

She came to Hall County in 1912 with her parents, attended Lodge school, and graduated from Memphis High School in 1920. Afterwards she attended West Texas State at Canyon. She taught school at Lodge, Eli and Salisbury (Continued on page 12)

Precinct Conventions Slated For Saturday

Democratic precinct conventions in the 12 Hall County precincts will be held Saturday in the regular voting or meeting places.

Eleven of the precinct meetings will be held at 10 a. m., while the Turkey meeting of Precinct No. 8 is scheduled for 2 p. m. Saturday.

Wright, Republican Chairman

For the Republicans, the conventions are scheduled at 2 p. m. Saturday for Precincts 1, 5, and 13. Chairmen for the Republicans are E. O. Wright, No. 5, Estelline; L. G. Perkins, Memphis No. 1; and James A. Arnold, Memphis No. 13. Wright is county chairman.

The Democrats are expecting much interest in the precinct conventions. This year there has been much argument between the "Loyal Democrats" and the faction championed by Gov. Allen Shivers. Shivers has been advocating that delegates be sent un-instructed to the National Democratic Convention.

Leaders Urging Attendance

Democratic leaders in Hall County are urging all voters to attend the precinct meetings. It is on the precinct level that the ordinary citizen has his only chance to help choose his party's presidential candidate.

Delegates will be elected Saturday to represent the various precincts in the Democratic County Convention to be held Monday at 2 p. m. in the county courtroom.

In Memphis, the Precinct No. 1 convention will be held in the district courtroom, and the meeting place for Precinct No. 13 will be the county courtroom.

All qualified voters living within the precincts can participate in the conventions.

Each precinct is allowed one vote in the county convention for each 25 votes, or major fraction thereof, which were cast for the (Continued on page 12)

Five Memphians Plan To Attend Baptist Meeting

Five Memphians will leave Monday to attend the Southern Baptist Convention in Miami. The convention will draw Baptist leaders from 22 southern states.

Those making the trip from here are: Rev. and Mrs. Roy Shahan, and Misses Roselyn Williams, Daphne Hillhouse and Louella Eads, church secretary. The group will act as "messengers" from the First Baptist Church here to the convention.

Mrs. Shahan is a delegate from Texas to the Women's Missionary Union convention which will open May 11 prior to the convention proper which will be May 14. The Southern Baptist convention will close May 18.

Rev. Shahan announced that the president of the Southern Baptist Convention, Dr. J. D. Grey (Continued on page 12)

Ted Hudlow Elected Estelline Fire Chief

The Estelline Volunteer Fire Department was reorganized recently, at which time Ted Hudlow, grocer, was elected chief.

Billy Hayes, who is employed at the First State Bank in Memphis, was elected secretary, and Jewell Richerson was named truck driver.

The firemen decided to have bi-monthly practice meetings. More than 20 members were enrolled on the active list.

Joint Concert Set For Night Of May 8

A joint concert of the High School Mixed Chorus and the Seventh Grade Girls Chorus will be presented at 8 p. m. May 8, in the high school auditorium. Perry Keyser will direct the concert.

The Mixed Chorus was organized this semester. It received two excellent ratings in sight reading at the Regional Interscholastic meet last Thursday in Canyon.

There will be no admission charge, and everyone is urged to attend, Keyser stated.

TWO LAKEVIEW GIRLS ATTEND F. H. A. MEET

Two Lakeview F. H. A. Club girls, Sue Hall and Wanda Kennard, represented the Lakeview club at the state meeting of the Future Homemakers of America held April 23-26 in Dallas. They were accompanied by their sponsor, Mrs. E. J. McKnight.

The convention opened in the Adolphus and Baker Hotel ballrooms, and the other sessions were held in the municipal auditorium on the State Fair Grounds. There were 3,000 F. H. A. girls attending the meet.

The Lakeview F. H. A. club paid expenses for the girls chosen to make the trip.

Memphis To Have Direct Route To Silverton On 256

The long-delayed work on Highway 70 between Prairie Dog Town Fork of the Red River and Turkey will commence some time this year when surveyors have completed their work and necessary funds are appropriated, Judge M. O. Goodpasture has announced.

Judge Goodpasture received a copy of an order from the Texas Highway Commission to state engineers instructing them to begin re-surveying the abandoned stretch of road as soon as they are able. The county judge said that actual construction work probably won't get under way for several months.

Money Not Available Now

At present money is not available for building the road. The funds will probably have to come from appropriations for the next fiscal year which begins July 1.

Also, the county may have the (Continued on Page 12)

PMA OFFICIALS MEETING TODAY

County PMA officers representing 13 counties in this PMA district are meeting in Memphis today. This regular monthly meeting is being presided over by Ward Taylor, district PMA field man from Vernon, according to Lynn L. McKown, Hall County PMA officer.

Among other business, the officials will discuss the mesquite extermination program and other current activities and problems relating to this section. The monthly meetings are to help coordinate the work of PMA officers, McKown said.

LAST RITES FOR MRS. LUTTRELL HELD AT HEDLEY

Funeral services for Mrs. W. E. Luttrell were held at 3 p. m. today at the First Baptist Church in Hedley. Mrs. Luttrell, 88, died Wednesday at a local hospital.

Officiating were the Rev. M. E. Wells, White Deer; the Rev. Ed Lawson, Hedley; and the Rev. O. L. Jones, Hedley. Burial was in Rowe Cemetery, Hedley. Her grandsons acted as pall bearers.

Mrs. Luttrell was born on Christmas Day, 1863, in Lamar County, Texas. She had made her home in Hedley for many years. Her husband died June 16, 1936. After his death, she made her home most of the time with her son, Raymond, in Borger. She had been a member of the Baptist Church for more than 50 years.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Reed Sanders of Decatur; three sons, W. A. Luttrell of Memphis; O. C. Luttrell of Corpus Christi, and Raymond Luttrell of Borger; two half-brothers, L. H. Brewer and Pete Brewer, both of Oklahoma City; 20 grandchildren; 29 great-grandchildren; and four great-great-grandchildren.

Former Citizen Dies At Austin In Home Of Son

Funeral services for Mrs. J. H. Brumley have been tentatively set for 3 p. m. Friday at the First Methodist Church. Mrs. Brumley, pioneer Hall Countian, died last night in Austin at the home of her son, Raymond Brumley.

The Rev. Rollo Davidson will officiate. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Murphy-Spicer Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements. The body is being brought to Memphis late this afternoon or tonight.

A list of survivors and names of pall bearers had not been announced at press-time.

Committee Selects Bull For 4-H Boys

A bull purchasing committee went to Abilene Tuesday and found a Hereford bull that met their approval for the 4-H Club Bull Circle. The committee was composed of representatives of the chamber of commerce, 4-H Club boys and club fathers, and the county agent.

Idea Conceived Two Years Ago
The Bull Circle is a plan whereby 4-H boys can have access to a Hereford sire of the finest bloodlines for building their own herds.

The junior program, probably the first of its kind, was conceived two years ago by Cliff Farmer, chamber of commerce manager and W. B. Hooser, Hall County agricultural agent.

The purchasing committee Tuesday visited the well-known Hardy Grissom Hereford Ranch near Abilene to select their animal. They chose a yearling bull that is a double grandson of the famed WRH Proud Mixer 21st, sire of calves that have brought the owner over a half million dollars. The yearling also carries almost identical bloodlines with the female that won grand champion honors at the Ft. Worth and Denver livestock shows last winter.

Option Obtained on Bull

The committee obtained an option to purchase the bull, and plans are being made this week to complete the transaction. Under the plan agreed upon last month, one of the 4-H members will tend to the bull, with the others contributing toward expenses.

The 4-H members are contributing $100.00 each toward the cost of the animal. The rest of the price, as yet not disclosed, (Continued on Page 12)

MARSHALL NEWCOMB—Of Dallas, general counsel for Lone Star Gas Co., hands check in the amount of $5,692,325.31 to consummate purchase of gas distribution, production and transmission properties in Memphis and 13 other northwest Texas towns from Lee Aikin and Martin Wunderlich. Accepting the Lone Star check is Gene M. Woodfin of the Houston law firm of Vinson, Elkins & Weems, who represented Wunderlich and Aikin. The closing ceremonies on the purchase were held Thursday morning, April 24, at The City National Bank of Houston, and immediately thereafter Lone Star began official operation of the properties located at Memphis, Wichita Falls, Wellington, Quanah, Newcastle, Kirkland, Jean, Iowa Park, Dodson, Chillicothe, Childress, Burkburnett and Acme. Prior to the Wunderlich and Aikin acquisition the gas service facilities were operated by the United Gas Corp. Participants at the closing are shown in picture, left to right: Seated—Louis G. James, Lone Star assistant comptroller; Mr. Newcomb, Lee Aikin, Mr. Woodfin and Martin Wunderlich. Standing—Harold Goode and Roy Pitts, members of Lone Star's legal staff; James A. Elkins, Jr., President, and William C. Menasco, First Vice-President of The City National Bank of Houston.

Pituitary Gland Believed To Be Focal Point of the Human Body

From the top of your head to the tip of your toes you are a closely-woven cloth. Some part of you are bundled like stalks of sugar cane, some are packaged like bales of cotton, some are braided, some are coiled like spirals, some are hollow shells, some are frothy like cotton candy—all shapes and all forms are present in the human body.

A simpler way of saying it is the old saying, "Snakes and snails and puppy dog tails" or "sugar and spice and everything nice."

Body a Continuous Pattern

But the important health fact in what you are made of is that whatever goes into the making, you are continuous. There aren't any seams in you, you are woven and unwoven and overwoven and crosswoven in a continuous pattern. That means that what effects one part of your body necessarily affects all parts, since the body is all a continuous pattern.

The threads with which the pattern of you is woven are handed down from your ancestors. The $64 medical question is where the weaving starts—what part of the human body is the focal point where the "signals" are set to make you physically and mentally what you are?

Gland Just Below Brain

This "target" area has been speculated about for centuries and the present unofficial beginning point is placed, by many in the pituitary gland. This is a pouch-like gland that hangs down from the floor of the brain, just above the nasal cavity, almost in the exact center of the head.

During childhood, this pituitary gland is divided into two parts, a front and a back part. A third part creeps in between those two pockets and is usually a distinct part of the pituitary in the early teens. You can picture the parts better if you visualize them as signal lights, with the front part as the green light, the middle part as the yellow light and the back part as the red light.

The colors do fit in fairly well with the known functions of the pituitary gland. The front part is thought to be the regulator of growth, the go ahead signal for the weaving of the threads that go into your physical structure.

It has an effect upon the other glands of the body and releases cells, called alpha cells, into the bloodstream.

The back part of the pituitary gland, the red light of the signal, may be considered the brake, the stop of the pattern. It has an effect upon blood pressure, upon the contraction of muscles, and upon the function of the kidneys. Its cells, called beta cells, also are found in the bloodstream.

The part played by the yellow light, the middle portion of the pituitary is little understood, though some medical scholars believe it has some tie-in with the color changes in parts of the body.

Genes Important Factors

Though disease of this gland can cause changes from normal in the development of the human physical constitution, it is not the only factor involved in growth and development. The genes, the cells that are handed down from ancestors, are one of the important factors in the pattern of development. The nervous system, too, enters the picture, as well as

Mizpah Guild Honors Mrs. Snell Farewell Social

Monday, April 28, members of the Mizpah Guild gathered in the church for a dual purpose. The group said farewell to one of its members, Jessie Snell, who is moving from town. Also a program in Social Action was presented.

At the opening devotional, Mrs. Snell gave passages from the Bible in an inspirational manner. The program was efficiently handled by the president, Gladys Smith, who gave a report on the guild's work. Mrs. Snell presented a biographical sketch of the late missionary, Mrs. W. L. Smith of Columbia, S. A., who is the guest speaker at the Presbyterian at Hereford, May 1 and 2. Several delegates from the Guild plan to attend the conference.

Leslie, program chairman, introduced the members of the Social Action panel on "Everybody's Responsibility." Lois Foxhall told how organizing should become a social and political action with young people. Leslie told how a group

Baptist Church of Estelline Honors Seniors At Social

The Estelline Baptist Church entertained young people of the town with an informal reception, honoring the graduating class on the evening of April 12. Dr. A. J. Quinn or Amarillo was the featured speaker of the evening.

The group assembled in the church auditorium. Mrs. E. F. Kennedy was in charge of the program. The Rev. R. L. Self welcomed the group. Dr. A. J. Quinn, district missionary of the Baptist Church of Amarillo, spoke to the group on the subject: "Now is the Time for Youth to Accept Responsibility." Superintendent C. O. Gregory showed a film presenting Baptist Schools in Texas.

The ladies of the W.M.S. served delicious cookies and fruit punch in the church parlor. A. D. Britt favored the group with piano music during the refreshment hour. Attending were: Mr. C. O. Gregory, Mr. R. B. Tucker, Mrs. E. F. Kennedy, the Rev. R. L. Self, Elda Mae Baskin, Smokey Davis, Bobby Patterson, Alvis Bryant, Doris Chaudoin, Sherman Cosper, Ted Fowler, Cherry Groff, Bobby Adams, Gene Gardenhire, Johnny Hudlow, Jack Johnson, and Edward Cooper.

The W.M.S. Committee consisted of Mrs. Erbin Gilbert, Rosie Longbine, Bessie Coppedge, R. L. Self, Clifford Jester, R. B. Phillips, and Mrs. Buchanan.

Ophelia Junior Club Honors Estelline 1932 Club With Tea Sunday Afternoon

The Ophelia Junior Club honored members of the 1932 Culture Club of Estelline, sponsoring club, with a tea Sunday afternoon in the Methodist Church parlors.

Guests were greeted by a receiving line composed of Mrs. William Collier, Mrs. Gerald Fowler, Mrs. Ted Bruce, Mrs. Jim Hutchins and Mrs. M. L. Martin.

Mrs. Ted Bruce introduced the program. Mrs. William Collier, president of the Ophelia Club, on behalf of her club presented an engraved gavel to the 1932 Culture Club. Mrs. C. E. Wilkinson accepted the gift. The Ophelia Club then presented Mrs. C. E. Wilkinson, who has been their counselor this year, with a pair of beautiful milk glass vases. Mrs. Collier expressed appreciation for the help both the club and counselor had been to the young club. Mrs. Wilkinson responded.

The Ophelia quartet sang "Angels of Jesus" by Wildermere, accompanied by Mrs. C. L. Sloan, Jr. The quartet is composed of Mrs. Gerald Fowler, James Hutchins, Rayworth Pardue and William Collier.

The refreshment table was beautifully arranged to carry out the club colors of red and white. Centering the table was an arrangement of red and white carnations. Mrs. Tommie Abra served red fruit punch from a white milk glass bowl. Mrs. Edwin Wyatt served individually decorated cakes of white topped with red rosebuds. Salted nuts were on the table.

Attending other than those mentioned above were: Mrs. S. T. Hutchins, R. V. Wood, E. F. Kennedy, Albert Bailey, J. A. Clifton, Leon Phillips, J. A. Ballard, W. M. Whaley, Joe Edkins, J. B. Rapp, D. C. Waldron, James Carroll and Leroy Scott.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Breland of Amarillo visited here over the week end with Mrs. Myrtle Howard and Mr. and Mrs. Gip McMurry.

Memphis Students Play At National Piano Audition

Four students of Perry Keyser went to Amarillo Saturday to enter the National Piano Playing audition. They were Sue Miller, Judy Miller, Harold Aspgren and Bettye Gidden.

All of the students received national honors, signifying that they had memorized ten or more pieces. They were awarded certificates and pins showing membership in the national Fraternity of Student Musicians for 1952.

One student, Barbara Kulp, was also to try for national honors but was unable to audition on account of an emergency operation.

Speech Students Give Program at Atalantean Meet

Seven members of Mrs. Roy Guthrie's speech class gave a most informative and interesting Texas Day program for the Atalantean Club which met in the home of Mrs. H. B. Estes Wednesday afternoon April 16th. Miss Gertrude Rasco was assisting hostess.

After the invocation, given by Mrs. John Fowler, a short business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. Edwin A. Smith, Jr. In her Federation Counselor's report, Mrs. T. M. Isham reminded members of the Federation Convention to be held in Borger.

Mrs. S. B. Palmeyer, program chairman, opened the program with a quotation from White—"Texas is one of God's greatest and most gratifying experiments." Johnnie McDaniel acted as chairman of the high school group and gave an introduction to the symposium entitled "Our Texas of Tomorrow." "A Person's Urges and Desires," was discussed by Margaret Ann Massey. Later in the program she discussed "Public Education and it's Problems," and

MHS GRIDDERS BEGIN SPRING WORK DRILLS

By FREDDIE VINSON

The promising sunshine and fair weather found MHS gridders in spring training Monday afternoon.

Geo. Childress, former Junior High coach, who holds one of the finest coaching records in the state of Texas, went to work with many promising prospects. Childress' assistant is a former Texas University student, Coach Joe Lane.

Many returning letterman will begin with great hopes of surpassing last year's record of 2 wins and 8 losses. This team is also boasting several boys up from the Junior High and "B" team who will push the starters for a position on the starting eleven.

Running from the modified "T" the boys are looking snappy with lots of spirit and fight.

Spring practice will end May 16 when they play the graduating seniors. The time and place is yet to be decided.

The students and Cyclone News Staff wish the '52 Cyclones and their new coaches "luck" in the coming season.

is a preventable disease. Early and effective treatment of acquired syphilis will block the end results of general paralysis in the insane.

The excessive use of alcohol is responsible for a number of mental disorders. Alcohol and syphilis combined are responsible for approximately one-fifth of the hospitalized insanities. Nevertheless, improper living habits continue to impair many brains. Insufficient sleep, neglect of bodily care and a consistent overflowing of nervous energy are the pitfalls to avoid in this connection.

Training Should Start Early

Nature demands that her fundamental laws at least reasonably observed. A constant outraging of the physiological economy takes its toll not only in bodies but in minds also. Insanities and lesser nervous disorders could be spectacularly reduced if this fact was more generally respected. Training for mental health must be started in childhood as that is the time when corrections can be made to the best advantage.

New Book Surveys Important Species Of Texas Grasses

AUSTIN—"Texas Range Grasses," new University of Texas Press publication, is a survey of the distribution and relative abundance of the 168 species of grasses which have the greatest commercial importance for Texas ranchers.

The book represents more than 30 years' study of the composition and distribution of the native vegetation of Texas by its author, Dr. Benjamin C. Sharp, professor of botany and director of the University's Herbarium.

Five maps and 25 drawings illustrate the volume. Drawings are by Clare Y. Whaley, wife of the University's Plant Research Institute director, Dr. W. Gordon Gordon Whaley, professor of botany.

"Texas Range Grasses" initiates a series of studies looking toward the conservation and improvement of range cover, projected by the Plant Research Institute under its Grass Research Project. The University's Herbarium, containing 150,000 sheets of plant specimens, reinforced Dr. Sharp's field investigations.

The book sells for $4 a copy.

Intercollegiate Rodeo Being Held At Texas Tech

LUBBOCK—The annual tradition of "Western Days" is again being observed on the Texas Tech campus today through Saturday as the Texas Tech Rodeo Association presents its third annual National Intercollegiate Rodeo.

Western Days are sponsored by the Rodeo Association and the Black and Bridle Club at Tech. The amateur rodeo series starts with a parade from downtown Lubbock to Tech campus this afternoon the first performance will be staged in Jones Stadium starting at 8 p. m. tonight.

Another rodeo performance will be staged Friday, night, the third performance Saturday afternoon, and the last show Saturday night. Several sheriff's posses, including riders from Lubbock, Seagraves, and Post will participate in the parade and in the grand entries.

Thirty colleges, all members of the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association, have been invited to participate in the rodeo events. Winners of the Tech rodeo will enter the National Intercollegiate Rodeo in Portland, Ore., in May.

Scientists Search For Soil Builder

AUSTIN—A radical method for improving farm and ranch soils is the goal of two University of Texas scientists.

Drs. Orville Wyss and Wilson B. Stone are seeking to develop a special strain of azotobacter organisms which gather nitrogen from the air to enrich soils. Azotobacter are found in all soils.

If the scientists are successful, farmers and ranchers can improve soils permanently by adding the "pedigreed" organisms.

Navy Seeks Young Men For Pilots

Single men between 18 and 27 who have completed at least two years of college are needed immediately to apply for Navy's Flight Training Program, it was announced today by Captain H. R. Nieman, Jr., USN, Commanding Officer of the U.S. Naval Air Station at Dallas.

Cadet Program Open Again
After having been closed for nearly a year, the Naval Aviation Cadet Program is again "wide open," Captain Nieman's command in Dallas is charged with the responsibility of enlisting Naval Aviation Cadets—or NavCads," as they are termed, from the State of Texas.

Captain Nieman said that a need exists to interest college students, particularly graduating seniors, in Naval Aviation. For those who expect to have Selective Service obligations to fulfill, Navy flight training offers an alternative to ordinary enlisted service.

Pre-flight and basic training is conducted at the "Annapolis of the Air," Pensacola, Florida. Advanced training is carried out at Corpus Christi, Texas. NavCads who successfully complete the 18-month period of training are designated Naval Aviators, and commissioned Ensigns, U.S. Naval Reserve, or 2nd Lieutenants, U.S. Marine Corps Reserve.

Good Pay In The Navy
NavCads are paid $105.00 per month, plus food, quarters and uniforms. Pay allowances upon commissioning amounts to $355.75 per month without dependents, or $430.75 with dependents.

Men desiring further information on the program should write: NAVCAD, U. S. Naval Air Station, Dallas, Texas. Transportation costs are paid for applicants who wish to take the qualifying physical and mental examinations.

Two Welch Brothers Together for First Time in 18 Months

Two sons of Mrs. Velma Welch arrived home on the same day—April 19—to be together for the first time since they joined different branches of the service 18 months ago.

Daymon R. Welch is home for 20 days after serving five months in Korean waters on the USS Estes, flagship of an amphibious group. He will leave May 10 for the West Coast to return to his ship.

Cpl. Carle E. Welch, a paratrooper, stationed at Fort Bragg, N. C., with the famed 82nd Airborne Division, was one of the "aggressor" troops in the maneuver, Operation Long Horn, staged recently in Central Texas.

More Inches Recorded in Memphis Monday

Two inches of moisture fell in Memphis and vicinity Monday, according to the Memphis total for the day.

Two fires started by lightning were quickly extinguished by the fire department. The bolt struck a small fire in the home of L. M. Armbrister, burning out his telephone and instrument. The bolt struck a small fire in the home of L. M. Armbrister, burning out his telephone and instrument.

Service Disrupted: Telephone service was disrupted in several parts of town by the rain. About 900 telephones out of order the first night. A four-man crew worked all day to restore service. The rain was caused by a short arm of the cables became loose.

Full service was not restored yesterday. The rainfall was general over the city, with more reported in Memphis than in other localities. Five of the six Texas cities in the rain-increase district reported more rain than other cities in this area, according to B. Teague, legal adviser for the weather improvement.

Additional moisture was added by the farmers who are ready to start planting later this month. The rainfall April was about three inches as much as was recorded in the same period last year. Light shower last night added only a trace, according to J. J. McMickin, official recorder.

MARCH OF DIMES POLIO PLEDGES RECEIVED HERE

The march into Texas homes of millions of polio "minute men," the Polio Pledge of 1952, got under way last week with initial distribution through the state's 1,603,000 school children.

R. C. Lemons, chairman of the Hall County March of Dimes chapter, has received a bundle of the pledges which were distributed last week by students in the Memphis Public Schools.

This widely read pledge replaces the Polio Pointers of 1951 and is prepared by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis to combat fear of polio and to acquaint the public with the services of the National Foundation and its county chapters.

Under the leadership of Mrs. R. O. Pearson of Abilene, state advisor on women's activities, and local county chairmen of the March of Dimes organization, all avenues of distribution will be used in reaching every Texas home.

The Polio Pledge reads: "If polio comes to my community,

I Will Remember To— "Let my children continue to play and be with their usual companions. They have already been exposed to whatever polio virus may be in that group, and they may have developed immunity (protection) against it.

"Teach my children to scrub their hands before putting food in their mouths. Polio virus may be carried into the body through the mouth.

"See that my children never use anybody else's towels, wash cloths or dirty drinking glasses, dishes and tableware. Polio virus could be carried from these things to other people.

"Follow my doctor's advice about nose and throat operations, inoculations, or teeth extractions during the polio season.

Fourteen members of the Hall County Rough Riders rode in the parade in Vernon Monday afternoon and again that night in the grand entry of the Santa Rosa Roundup.

The Hall County riders left here Monday morning. They participated in the street parade at 3 p. m. after a giant barbecue at the Vernon ball park. The grand entry event was at 8 p. m.

Rough Riders making the trip were: Carol Ann Monzingo, Janice Ann Anthony, Betty Paschall, Clifton Burnett, Dick Shelton, Frank Monzingo, George Hattenbach, John Deaver, H. J. Howell, Don Paul Howell, Gary Tarver, Earl Hill, John Luther Byars and Jerry Byars.

C. C. Hodges Have Surprise Visitors From Far Northland

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hodges had as surprise guests this week, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Martin of Anchorage, Alaska. The visitors from the far away northland were on their way back home after a tour of the states and a jaunt down to Mexico. The Martins spent Monday and Tuesday here.

Mrs. Hodges' daughter, Billie Blackwell, first got acquainted with the Martins when she roomed with the daughter of the family, Bonnie, seven years ago when both of them were attending the Charity Hospital Nurses School in New Orleans. Billie is back in New Orleans now, taking a post-graduate course at the hospital.

Martin is an old timer in Alaska, and Hodges relates that the old "sourdough" has many interesting tales to spin. Martin was in on the Yukon gold rush at the turn of the century. He will return to mining interests when he gets back to Alaska.

Make Farm Labor Count

COLLEGE STATION—Can farmers meet the high production goals set for 1952? That's a question that is causing a lot of concern not only among government officials but farmers themselves. According to C. H. Bates, farm management specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, agricultural producers have demonstrated many times their ability to get and maintain continued high production from their operations.

40 Percent Above 1935-39
Last year, he says, the output of the nation's farms and ranches was almost 40 per cent above the average for the 1935-39 period. But despite the high production of recent years, U. S. reserves of cotton and feed grains are now at a five year low. The picture could even be darker after the 1952 harvest, adds Bates.

According to the specialist, at least two important production factors besides the weather are getting serious consideration from producers. These are the relation of farm prices to production costs and the supply of labor available

Farm Profits Declining
The price-cost ratio is less favorable to farmers now than it was a year ago and is resulting in declining farm profits. Defense industries are taking healthy chunks out of farm labor supply despite the fact that farm wages are about 11 per cent higher than for this same period last year.

The need for more efficient use of labor thus becomes obvious, says Bates, if profits are to be realized from the farm or ranch business. Effective methods of getting more returns from the available labor may involve such things as planning work well in advance in order to avoid delay and loss of time. Advance planning may indicate that additional or larger machines are needed or that by rearranging production operations full use of presently owned equipment can be made. Bates suggests training programs for laborers as an aid for improving efficiency and cutting down on repair bills and mechanical failures. The use of self-feeders and automatic waterers are labor savers for livestock producers. Locating the feed storage near the livestock feeding areas will also save time especially when hay or other roughages are involved, Bates said.

Adequate Housing Important
Adequate housing for the farm laborers is a mighty important item and will pay dividends. A good farm hand is worth holding and anything done to make the surroundings more pleasant for him and his family will increase his value to the farm.

Bates sees no reason for any slackening in the demands for agricultural products. Defense requirements continue to increase; exports are expected to remain near present levels and the growing population of the nation are all factors that point to continued strong demands. But Bates points out that good management will be required by farm operators,

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

How one holds a casting rod while retrieving a lure may not, at first glance, seem to matter much, but it's one of the most important things in fishing. It means the difference between utter confusion, lost fish, probably broken tackle—and having cool, complete control right from the strike.

The one absolute wrong way to hold a casting rod is by the forward grip. Actually, the thing is there for no known purpose. Yes, it does seem a nice place to hold, to keep the rod in easy balance. Then when a big fish hits, the angler raises the rod to set the hook, freezes the reel handle and pulls. There isn't much else he can do.

All this because, holding the forward grip, with a fish pulling, he can't possibly get his left hand down to control the spool. (Remember, we're speaking only of fishing with a regular casting reel. The forward grip is all right in heavier fishing with a drag-handle reel.)

In order to have control of things in retrieving, hold the rod any way you please, just so your left thumb is ready to drop instantly onto the spool when a fish strikes. That means keep your hand away from the forward grip.

There are several methods of holding. Most veterans "palm" the reel, holding the tailplate cupped in the left hand—or semi-palm, with the lower part of the palm against it but the upper part out a little way. For this hold with three fingers directly below the reel seat, thumb and forefinger on top, with incoming line passing between them.

Jason Lucas has a solution for this problem. When using a level-wind reel, he holds the rod just the same way, but with his thumb against the rear of the top pillar, brushing the revolving spool line. This method of holding gives instant control of a head-on strike. Held so, with butt cap against the midriff, rod-and-reel balance are right in your hand; it seems the least tiring, most pleasant method of retrieving, especially if you fish for long hours.

ers, especially as related to labor, if the business is to be kept on the black side of the ledger.

LAFF OF THE WEEK

"Well Mealliffe—this is a coincidence! . . . just coming over to your place for a little chat."

Memphis' Martin Johnson, Unlike Namesake, Likes His Animals Dead

The steely-eyed, ferocious-looking rattlesnake coiled in the glass case in Harrison Hardware Co. show-window isn't dangerous at all. It's dead.

If it appears to be alive and ready to strike, then Martin Johnson, who works for Murphy-Spicer Funeral Home, deserves credit for a taxidermy job well done. It's a creditable example of embalming skill.

The snake, four and one-half feet long, is a conical rattler with 12 rattles and a button. It was caught east of Memphis along with a mate, about three weeks ago by Mark Spencer. Johnson obtained the snakes, put them in a five-gallon can containing chloroform and sealed it. Next day the rattlers were dead.

Easy on the Draw?
Two days of soaking in diluted embalming fluid followed. (This was purely experimental, he explains.) Then Johnson injected pure embalming fluid in his snake with a hyperdermic needle until the reptile became round and firm and fully packed.

He then made a special glass case for his evil-looking specimen. Spencer took his reptile home with him after a similar embalming treatment.

No Kin to Osa's Husband
Johnson says he is no kin to the wild-animal hunter of the same name. Martin Johnson and his wife, Osa, trekked over the earth in search of live vicious beasts and vile reptiles—which they photographed.

Science Students See Demonstration Of Communications

The General Science Classes of MHS recently visited the telephone and telegraph offices for a practical demonstration of communication media. At the telegraph office, the class saw the teletype system in use. Most of the time was spent at the telephone office.

Memphis' Martin Johnson says he prefers his reptiles and wild beasts safely inert on the embalming table before he will have any truck with them.

Members of the class who attended were: Roddy Bess, Bishop, Jackie Boone, Rayson, Dan Davis, Jimmy Carrol Gardenhire, Robert James Freeman, Robert Colman, David McElreath, Jack Wrenn, David Duncan, Leon Paul Rowlett, and Miss Wrenn, the instructor.

The Rev. George E. Brinkworth will preach Sunday, May 4, at the Lesley Baptist Church at Lesley.

The Lesley Church is in the services of a pastor at the time but members expect to have a regular minister soon.

Meet The Seniors

This week, the four Seniors to be presented are Margaret Ann Massey, Coy Smith, Raymond Whitten, and Wayne Wiggins.

MARGARET ANN MASSEY Margaret, better known as "Mardan," is the 17-year-old blonde, hazel-eyed daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Massey of 821 South Seventh.

She has been busy during her high school career, participating in sports, speech, and music, as well as her studies. She won district in Tennis singles in 1950; district in Tennis doubles in 1952; Best Actress in district One-Act Play competition in 1952; second in Declamation in district, 1952; She has participated in basketball, volleyball, and band. She has been chief-drummer her Junior and Senior years.

Margaret is a four-star member and vice-president of the National Thespian Society, vice-president of the Cue and Curtain Club, society editor of the Annual Staff, and business manager of the Cyclone News Staff. She is a member of the 1952 District Student Council, and has been a member of the "M" Club from 1950 to 1952.

In 1952, Margaret was chosen High School Queen. She was Freshman Class Queen in '48, and has been selected as a member of "Who's Who" for the past three years. Baylor University is Margaret's future home. She will major in dramatics. Margaret's greatest thrill was getting to be high school queen.

COY SMITH

Coy, the 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Smith of Rt. 2, Lakeview, has blue eyes, brown hair, and is 5 ft. 8 1/2 inches tall. He holds the Lone Star Degree in the Future Farmers of America and enjoys working in agriculture.

In his leisure time, Coy likes to eat fried chicken, watch football games, or listen to "Be My Life's Companion" because he wants "to never grow old." Enev if he does enjoy watching Ava Gardner and Randolph Scott on the screen, from comments heard since the Senior Play, people enjoyed Coy's acting the part of Mr. VanDilling in his initial stage appearance in "His Name Was Aunt Nellie."

RAYMOND WHITTEN Raymond, "Whit" for short, is the blue-eyed, black-haired, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Whitten of 12 miles southwest of Memphis.

Raymond is a Lone Star Farmer in FFA and likes agriculture. He would take fried chicken and cherry pie a la mode any day for his favorite food. He likes to watch baseball because "it's exciting."

Texas Tech is Raymond's college preference with agriculture as his planned major.

Among his many honors, his biggest thrill was being elected "Most Popular Boy of '52." He has been class officer, member of "Who's Who," and a member of the Student Council last year.

Raymond's pet peeve is not getting to go with all the girls in high school, so naturally his favorite song is "The Wild Side of Life."

Henry Fonda and June Allison have Raymond as a fan, but Raymond collected many fans of his own in his role of "Freddie Baldwin" in the Senior Play.

WAYNE WIGGINS

Wayne, the blue-eyed, blonde-haired son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Wiggins, entered this world 18 years ago, and since then has grown to the height of 5 feet 11 inches.

Wayne is a member of the Future Farmer of America. He has

Tumbling Artists Entertain at MHS

By JO ANNE WEBSTER

The Aristocrats of Balance, presented by The Southern Assembly Association of Dallas performed Wednesday, April 23 in MHS assembly.

Johnny Cross, who has won over 100 gymnastics titles in competitions held in many parts of the country, showed several types of tumbling and its relationship to safety in everyday activities. One of the highlights of the program was the trampoline demonstration assisted by several students who were given the opportunity to try out the device. Some of the stunts were cartwheels, handstands, head stands and routines of each.

The final feature of the program will long be remembered by all. In it Johnny Cross did a handstand on the back of two chairs, one of which rested on bottles on a table.

been on the production crew of the Senior Class Play, and helped build the stage setting. Wayne says his favorite pastimes are going to school and watching football.

Although Wayne attended his first school years in Memphis he moved to Lakeview and enrolled in school there before moving back to Memphis to complete his education.

Reporter Discovers Vinson Here Again

The snooping reporter of MHS found Freddy Vinson enrolled in MHS again. Freddy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Vinson of Bowie, Texas. He left Memphis Dec. 1 to attend Bowie High and later changed to Wichita Falls High. From Wichita Falls he returned here.

MHS Club Queen, Escort Mix With Other 'Royalty'

Sue Miller, Memphis Spanish Club Queen and her escort, Jimmie West, club president, participated in the Spanish Fiesta in Amarillo, Saturday.

They were members of the court for the crowning of the Queen of the Fiesta, Miss Casas, from Levelland. The 26 attendants and their escorts were in appropriate Spanish Costumes. Approximately 1000 students from over the Panhandle attended the Fiesta.

Those attending the Fiesta from Memphis were Sue Miller, Peggy Evans, Elizabeth Grundy, Norma Jean Townsend, Jimmy West, Cloyce Ray Orr, Harold Aspgren, Mrs. Bill Miller and Judy, and Mrs. Jeanette Irons.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Phillips and Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Phillips have moved to Ozark, Ark., to make their home.

Farmers are also urged to use the best known methods of production in order to save time and labor. The farm labor situation is expected to be tight especially during the harvest season. This is an item that farmers should consider before planting is completed. Crops that can be machine produced and harvested may prove to be more profitable than those requiring lots of hand labor. Local Agencies Will Help They urge farmers who live in areas where fertilizers can be used to use them liberally to increase yields. And finally, they point out that local agency representatives are ready to assist farmers in every manner possible to help get more acres of feed grain crops planted. Several conditions exist today that make more farm production necessary, Roan said. Domestic requirements are increasing. Each day an additional 7,000 people—the equivalent of a good sized town—are added to our American population. We have 7,000 more mouths to feed today than we had yesterday—to say nothing of more bodies to clothe. Tomorrow there'll be another 7,000. In addition our per capita food consumption is 13 per cent higher than the prewar average. Farm operators in Hall county who use supervised credit to develop efficient family-type farms are being asked to review their plans for the coming year and make every effort to plant all they had planned and to carry out recommended crop production practices. Roan said that the services of the local Farmers Home Administration office are available to any borrower who wants

Children's Health Day To Be Observed May 1

AUSTIN, Children's Health Day will be observed throughout the nation on May 1, in the hope of insuring that tomorrow's children will be sturdier than those of yesterday.

In Texas, state officials are shooting for a record of benefiting an even greater number of handicapped children than the 4,320 which were cared for under the state's crippled children program in 1951.

It will mean hope for the child with a club foot, a cleft palate or harelip, a crippling burn, bow legs, or a curved spine. Many Unaware Of Aid State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox, whose department has administered the program since 1945, said many people "don't realize they can get state financial assistance for the physical restoration of many crippling conditions."

Eligibility for help is set by legislative statute. The law says any person of normal mentality under 21 years old whose physical functions or movements are impaired by reason of joint, bone, or muscle defect . . . is eligible for care, providing the county judge where the child resides certifies that the parents cannot afford the needed care and treatment.

Physical restoration is the purpose of the program. Some of the conditions which are accepted for treatment are infantile paralysis, osteomyelitis, club feet, harelip, cleft palate, arthritis, rickets, tuberculosis of the bone, flat feet, congenitally dislocated hip, muscular dystrophy, supernumerary fingers and toes, webbed fingers, amputation, Potts disease, and many others. If the attending physician recommends prosthetics, the appliances are supplied.

Excludes Some Ailments The program does not include such handicapping ailments as rheumatic fever, hearing and visual deficiencies, or epilepsy.

Crippled children of indigent parents have been available for state aid since 1933. Formed first under the Department of Education, the program was transferred to the State Department of Health in May, 1945. Since the transfer a total of 12,589 handicapped children have been returned to normalcy or near-normalcy.

Ginger Rogers won a Charleston contest in Fort Worth and thereby entered upon the career that led to movie stardom.

Brewster County, Texas' largest county, is bigger than Delaware, Rhode Island, and the District of Columbia combined.

"Enchanted Rock" between Fredericksburg and Llano is a piece of granite covering about a square mile and is 500 feet high.

to do about the party pledge and an uninstrued delegation to the national convention . . . Rather they want to rule out at the start any and all who do not share their devotion to the boss-controlled, left-wing dominated machine they call the Democratic Party. Their real objective is to capture the party organization in Texas and hand it over to the national convention.

"The State Democratic Executive Committee has held that the Texas Election Code does not permit the requirement of a party loyalty pledge at the convention door, and has further held that the pledge may be required if a majority votes for it. "My ambition, and my only ambition, in connection with fight is to strengthen the Democratic Party of Texas. I want to preserve its integrity and make its voice heard in the National Convention. I want it to be a party loyal to Democratic principles, not to party bosses. I want to save the Democratic Party of Texas from the elements represented by the self-serving 'Loyal Democrats', and to see that real Texas Democrats are given a chance to express themselves, by a free majority vote, on the issues involved."

It seems to me that the governor has made the issue clear—and is there anything in the statements made by him about bolting the party? Certainly not. Attend your precinct conventions at 10 a. m. Saturday morning, May 3. There you have a chance to express your choice.

I want to express my sincere appreciation to T. M. Paulsel, once a lumber yard clerk in Memphis and now an extensive lumber dealer in Fort Worth and Houston. Recently, Tim made one of his many visits to the lumber regions of the Northwest and sent me a large thick slab of birds-eye redwood stump burl which he secured in northern California. In my estimation, it was the friendliest gesture I have received in my whole life. In my odd times (That's all I have) I expect to make some bowls, smoking stands, etc. from this wood, and add to my collection of wood work on display in Knot Hole.

Mr. and Mrs. Paulsel and son, Lee Allen, were here last weekend and Tim showed movies of his recent trip to the Northwest to some thirty friends in the home of Mrs. Paulsel's mother, Mrs. L. M. Thornton. To say all present enjoyed the pictures and the snow scenes, wild deer, timber scenes, hugh dams, lakes, rivers, saw mills, from Montana through Idaho, Washington, Oregon and California were included in the comprehensive pictures. Professional photographers couldn't have taken better pictures.

Our friend, Edward Ewen of Redondo, Calif., former Hall Countian, writes: Enclosed is renewal to the Democrat. The paper means so much to me. I always look forward to Monday when The Democrat arrives, and I assure you I read each and every line in it. In doing so it means an imaginary visit back home.

Some of my readers are beginning to complain about stray dogs playing havoc with yards where flowers have been planted in preparation for better looking home and town. What are you, Mr. Dog Owner, doing to do their will with flower beds?

My column was crowded out last week with important matter, and so I did not get to mention the weather, especially the damp part. Nearly three inches of rain last week and already at Wednesday noon two and more inches this week. And it all went to the soil. No hail damage, and rains just like all wanted.

Committee Selects—

will be met by business firms and others. There are ten of the young cattlemen in the "circle." They own a total of 26 heifers among the 4-H members. The original plan was for each of the members to have five registered females, and that number is the goal of the boys who are participating in the herd-improvement program.

A Chance to Build Herds

Farmer and Hooser believe that the junior program will result in building fine herds for the young men who are participating. Hereafter, the boys had raised their calves for show and sale. Each year they had to start all over again. Now they will have a chance to build fine herds for the future.

Members of the purchasing committee which made the trip to Abilene were: Tommie Potts, well-known Hereford authority and chairman of the committee; Charlie Williams, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce agricultural committee; D. C. Hall, Lakeview; Billy Hancock, 4-H member from Lakeview; and Farmer and Hooser.

ing to ruin wholesome American games and corrupt American youth. He called on the Lions and other community leaders present to help bring sports back to the campus, and return the reins of athletic control to the school officials.

Ace Gailey presided at the banquet. Songs were led by Buster Helm, and the invocation was given by the Rev. Roy Shahan.

Wendell Harrison acted as toastmaster and introduced the speaker for the evening. Special guests, including many Rotarians, were introduced. Supt. W. C. Davis introduced the Memphis High School coaches. George Childress, new head coach and athletic director, presented each of the football boys and spoke briefly about each. The players introduced their fathers to the assembly.

the envelope. "Snuffy" Miller had bought up a shipment of damaged snuff and was sending it back to the factory.

Miller brought the letter by The Democrat yesterday when he came in to see his nephews. He and Hodges had a few chuckles over the incident, and apparently everything is "up to snuff" now.

Highway Commission

task of straightening out titles along the right-of-way since many changes have occurred in ownership of lands through which the road must pass. The county originally secured titles when the road was first surveyed about ten years ago.

The surveyors will use the data recorded then in laying out the route. The right-of-way was never fenced, only staked off, and probably most of the stakes are gone now, the judge said.

From Del Rio to Perryton

The proposed 15-mile stretch of highway is in both Hall and Briscoe counties. When it is completed, Highway 70 will extend all the way from Del Rio in the south to Perryton in the north, except for a bridge over the South Canadian River between Perryton and Pampa. At Perryton the route connects with an interstate system reaching the northern boundary of the United States.

The highway will also serve to link State Highway 256 with Highway 86 in Silvertown when a planned farm-to-market road is built in Briscoe County. Thus Memphis will have a direct route to Silvertown, Tulla and highways leading to the West Coast.

One of the most interesting aspects of the proposed road, Judge Goodpasture said, is that the two interstate highways will use the same bridges across Mulberry Creek and the Prairie Dog Town Fork of the Red River.

Second Instance in U. S.

"This is the second instance in the road-building history of the United States where two major highways could utilize the same bridges and the connection between the bridges, and not have to sacrifice distance," he said.

The other instance was in New York state, he added.

According to the original survey, highways 256 and 70 will cross Mulberry Creek and the Prairie Dog Town Fork of the Red River together. The road will fork in Briscoe County, with one highway leading to Silvertown and the other to Turkey. The Turkey route will be completed first.

Costly Bridge Being Built

The bridge across Red River, which is costing approximately a quarter-million dollars, is now under construction.

Judge Goodpasture said that the new system will relieve some

Scoreboard Clock To Be Installed Within Six Weeks

The giant electrical scoreboard clock for Cyclone Stadium will be erected within the next six weeks, according to Clent Strygley, president of the Booster Club which has been instrumental in obtaining the costly gadget.

A representative from the company selling the clock was in Memphis last week to sign the purchase contract with club officials and make plans for the installation. The Boosters bought the clock from the company at a cost of $1,632.00. The First National Bank is paying $1,280.00 on the scoreboard through its bid for the advertising space. The bank has a five-year lease on the ad space, with an option to renew it at the end of the period at a lower rate.

The First National is paying for the space in yearly installments of $256.00. Because of this, the Boosters have been forced to solicit contributions amounting to nearly $500.00.

They have around $1,000.00 left in the fund after helping to defray hospital expenses of two high school gridgers, Strygley said. The club expects to have enough donations coming in to meet the cost of the clock before it is delivered, he added.

of the congestion of the major east-west highways, and that Highway 256 through Memphis will have a much heavier volume of traffic when the link with Silvertown is completed.

Man Indicted Here Feb. 1 Apprehended By Plainview Police

Cecil Edwards, indicted on two counts of burglary Feb. 1, was apprehended Friday night in Plainview, and returned here where he was placed in the county jail, Sheriff E. S. Morrison said this week.

The Hall County sheriff said that the prisoner was picked up by Plainview policemen who notified authorities here of the arrest. Morrison brought Edwards here next day. His bond has been set at $2,000 on each of the two counts.

The burglaries for which Edwards will be tried, occurred Christmas Eve night when two business firms at Turkey were looted. Date of the trial has not been set.

to do about the party pledge and an uninstructed delegation to the national convention . . . Rather they want to rule out at the start any and all who do not share their devotion to the boss-controlled, left-wing dominated machine they call the Democratic Party. Their real objective is to capture the party organization in Texas and hand it over to the national convention.

"The State Democratic Executive Committee has held that the Texas Election Code does not permit the requirement of a party loyalty pledge at the convention door, and has further held that the pledge may be required if a majority votes for it.

"My ambition, and my only ambition, in connection with fight is to strengthen the Democratic Party of Texas. I want to preserve its integrity and make its voice heard in the National Convention. I want it to be a party loyal to Democratic principles, not to party bosses. I want to save the Democratic Party of Texas from the elements represented by the self-serving 'Loyal Democrats', and to see that real Texas Democrats are given a chance to express themselves, by a free majority vote, on the issues involved."

It seems to me that the governor has made the issue clear—and is there anything in the statements made by him about bolting the party? Certainly not. Attend your precinct conventions at 10 a. m. Saturday morning, May 3. There you have a chance to express your choice.

I want to express my sincere appreciation to T. M. Paulsel, once a lumber yard clerk in Memphis and now an extensive lumber dealer in Fort Worth and Houston. Recently, Tim made one of his many visits to the lumber regions of the Northwest and sent me a large thick slab of birds-eye redwood stump burl which he secured in northern California. In my estimation, it was the friendliest gesture I have received in my whole life. In my odd times (That's all I have) I expect to make some bowls, smoking stands, etc. from this wood, and add to my collection of wood work on display in Knot Hole.

Mr. and Mrs. Paulsel and son, Lee Allen, were here last weekend and Tim showed movies of his recent trip to the Northwest to some thirty friends in the home of Mrs. Paulsel's mother, Mrs. L. M. Thornton. To say all present enjoyed the pictures and the party is expressing it mildly. Snow scenes, wild deer, timber scenes.

hugh dams, lakes, rivers, saw mills, from Montana through Idaho, Washington, Oregon and California were included in the comprehensive pictures. Professional photographers couldn't have taken better pictures.

Our friend, Edward Ewen of Redondo, Calif., former Hall Countian, writes: Enclosed is renewal to the Democrat. The paper means so much to me. I always look forward to Monday when the Democrat arrives, and I assure you I read each and every line in it. In doing so it means an imaginary visit back home.

Some of my readers are beginning to complain about stray dogs playing havoc with yards where flowers have been planted in preparation for better looking home and town. What are you, Mr. Dog Owner, doing about letting your dog run loose to do their will with flower beds?

My column was crowded out last week with important matter, and so I did not get to mention the weather, especially the damp part. Nearly three inches of rain last week and already at Wednesday noon two and more inches this week. And it all went to the soil. No hail damage, and rains just like all wanted.

will be met by business firms and others. There are ten of the young cattlemen in the "circle." They own a total of 26 heifers among the 4-H members. The original plan was for each of the members to have five registered females, and that number is the goal of the boys who are participating in the herd-improvement program.

A Chance to Build Herds
Farmer and Hooser believe that the junior program will result in building fine herds for the young men who are participating. Hereafter, the boys had raised their calves for show and sale. Each year they had to start all over again. Now they will have a chance to build fine herds for the future.

Members of the purchasing committee which made the trip to Abilene were: Tommie Potts, well-known Hereford authority and chairman of the committee; Charlie Williams, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce agricultural committee; D. C. Hall, Lakeview; Billy Hancock, 4-H member from Lakeview; and Farmer and Hooser.

Ace Gailey presided at the banquet. Songs were led by Buster Helm, and the invocation was given by the Rev. Roy Shahan.

Wendell Harrison acted as toastmaster and introduced the speaker for the evening. Special guests, including many Rotarians, were introduced. Supt. W. C. Davis introduced the Memphis High School coaches. George Childress, new head coach and athletic director, presented each of the football boys and spoke briefly about each. The players introduced their fathers to the assembly.

1951 Cyclones Honored

Members of the 1951 football team honored at the annual banquet were:

Frank Norman, Charles Messer, Freddy Vinson, Dempsey Archer, Wayne Jenkins, Max Kennedy, Carl Lee, and Billy Vallance who will graduate this month.

Also Vance Adams, Mackie Allen, Jack Boone, Bobby Burnett, Ronald Crawford, Kenneth Cheek, Monte Clark, Roy Don Coleman, Davey Corley, Jimmy Davis, Duke Frisbie.

task of straightening out titles along the right-of-way since many changes have occurred in ownership of lands through which the road must pass. The county originally secured titles when the road was first surveyed about ten years ago.

The surveyors will use the data recorded then in laying out the route. The right-of-way was never fenced, only staked off, and probably most of the stakes are gone now, the judge said.

From Del Rio to Perryton

The proposed 15-mile stretch of highway is in both Hall and Briscoe counties. When it is completed, Highway 70 will extend all the way from Del Rio in the south to Perryton in the north, except for a bridge over the South Canadian River between Perryton and Pampa. At Perryton the route connects with an interstate system reaching the northern boundary of the United States.

The highway will also serve to link State Highway 256 with Highway 86 in Silvertown when a planned farm-to-market road is built in Briscoe County. Thus Memphis will have a direct route to Silvertown, Tulsa and highways leading to the West Coast.

One of the most interesting aspects of the proposed road, Judge Goodpasture said, is that the two interstate highways will use the same bridges across Mulberry Creek and the Prairie Dog Town Fork of the Red River.

Second Instance in U. S.

"This is the second instance to the road-building history of the United States where two major highways could utilize the same bridges and the connection between the bridges, and not have to sacrifice distance," he said.

The other instance was in New York state, he added.

According to the original survey, highways 256 and 70 will cross Mulberry Creek and the Prairie Dog Town Fork of the Red River together. The road will fork in Briscoe County, with one highway leading to Silvertown and the other to Turkey. The Turkey route will be completed first.

Costly Bridge Being Built
The bridge across Red River, which is costing approximately a quarter-million dollars, is now under construction.

Judge Goodpasture said that the new system will relieve some

Scoreboard Clock To Be Installed Within Six Weeks

The giant electrical scoreboard clock for Cyclone Stadium will be erected within the next six weeks, according to Clent Srygley, president of the Booster Club which has been instrumental in obtaining the costly gadget.

A representative from the company selling the clock was in Memphis last week to sign the purchase contract with club officials and make plans for the installation. The Boosters bought the clock from the company at a cost of $1,632.00. The First National Bank is paying $1,280.00 on the scoreboard through its bid for the advertising space. The bank has a five-year lease on the ad space with an option to renew it at the end of the period at a lower rate.

The First National is paying for the space in yearly installments of $256.00. Because of this, the Boosters have been forced to solicit contributions amounting to nearly $500.00.

They have around $1,000.00 left in the fund after helping to defray hospital expenses of two high school gridgers, Srygley said. The club expects to have enough donations coming in to meet the cost of the clock before it is delivered, he added.

Man Indicted Here Feb. 1 Apprehended By Plainview Police

Cecil Edwards, indicted on two counts of burglary Feb. 1, was apprehended Friday night in Plainview, and returned here where he was placed in the county jail. Sheriff E. S. Morrison said this week.

The Hall County sheriff said that the prisoner was picked up by Plainview policemen who notified authorities here of the arrest. Morrison brought Edwards here next day. His bond has been set at $2,000 on each of the two counts.

The burglaries for which Edwards will be tried, occurred Christmas Eve night when two business firms at Turkey were looted. Date of the trial has not been set.

Air Force Weeks Lost Reservists

Air Force is trying to locate reservists in 10 Texas counties in this area, according to announcement from 3rd Air District headquarters at search is in no way connected with recall to active duty, part of 3rd Air Reserve's current mail-type reservist survey in the area, according to Colonel W. B. Maguire, Executive Officer for the 3rd Air District, headquartered in Austin.

Counties In Survey
Questionnaires were mailed to reservists in the 10 counties this month, and the 117 men who have not yet returned their completed forms to their headquarters.

entire survey program is designed to give the Air Force correct facts and figures on its reservists in case of national emergency. However, the program is also designed to determine reservists to determine if they stand in today's Air Reserve program.

Counties included in the area are: Hall, Wheeler, Donley, Garza, Briscoe, Hardeman, King, Knox and Childress.

An attempt to locate the reservists who may have been in the area since their discharge from the Air Force, has been forwarded lists of reservists to newspapers and radio stations in the region.

Reservists are requested to advise their friends listed in the survey that the Air Force is endeavoring to contact them in order to determine their obsolete military status.

Additional information on the survey, reservists should write to the Air Reserve District Headquarters, 1414 Lavaca, Austin.

All Counties Listed
Early this week, reservists had been unable to return the following reservists to the survey:

County: Lonnie Edmonson, Evans, Edward N. Fox, L. Foxhall, Wenzel A. Grisham, Y. Z. Grisham, James C. Lane, John F. Lane, and James R. Irby.

OUT FOR THESE MOTHS

It's spring and soon it's time to store winter clothes. Warmer weather means clothes moths will be out for food.

Dirty Clothes
Like dirty clothes best, clothes should be cleaned before being stored. Dry cleaning removes most of the dirt, but does not remove moth resistance. However, items placed in moth bags at the cleaners' will not be infested.

Wardrobes have moths, regardless of location. For further information before storing clothes, spray closet walls.

Mr. Smith and children are on their way for San Antonio today. They will visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Smith. Mr. Smith plans to stay in May and they will attend the convention being held at home.

Mrs. Jack L. Rose visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Amarillo Sunday.

around baseboards of the room and in drawers with a five percent DDT solution. Garments may be lightly dusted or sprayed on both sides with DDT.

Parents Don't Eat Clothes

The small moths seen flying lazily in dark corners are the parent moths and do not eat fabric. The female moth deposits eggs on the clothes. The eggs hatch over a period of three or four days to about three or four weeks depending on the temperature. The newly hatched larva immediately starts feeding and spinning a shelter of silken threads in which it conceals itself. Most of the life of the moth is spent in the destructive stage.

The clothes moth feeds on animal substances such as wool, hair, feathers, fur and a wide range of commodities made from these materials. For more information, Miss Routh suggests a copy of L-156, CLOTHES MOTHS, which can be secured from your local county Extension agent.

Natural gas FROM LONE STAR GAS COMPANY arrives

Shaded area is section of Texas where cities formerly served by United Gas Company are now being served by Lone Star Gas Company.

Lone Star Gas Company people are friendly, courteous and above all—people you can depend on.

What Lone Star Gas System means to you

THE MAP ABOVE shows Lone Star Gas Company transmission pipeline system and the location of our gas reserves.

This transmission pipeline system was begun in 1909, with the construction of a 126-mile pipeline from Petrolia, Texas, to Fort Worth and Dallas. It was the Southwest's first long-distance natural gas pipeline. Ten gas wells in one field supplied natural gas for about 15,000 homes. Today this system has been expanded to over 6,000 miles of pipeline connected to over 1,000 gas-producing wells in over 100 fields. Nearly 600,000 homes, businesses and industries in 375 cities are served by this transmission system.

Lone Star's natural gas reserves are located in east, west and south Texas and in west and southern Oklahoma. This provides an advantage. Your natural gas supply will not depend on a few wells in one field. Instead, you have natural gas reserves from many fields, sufficient for many years.

Soon Lone Star will build approximately 70 miles of 20-inch transmission line from Clay County, Texas, to gas-producing fields in Garvin County, Oklahoma, which will increase the supply of natural gas substantially for homes and industry here.

In addition Lone Star's exploratory, production and lease departments will continue to find, develop and secure new natural gas reserves.

In the 42 years of service, Lone Star Gas Company people have developed special skills, technical "know-how" and teamwork necessary for efficient operation of our natural gas service facilities.

So, with natural gas reserves for many years... an adequate transmission pipeline system... and a veteran organization, we believe we shall provide dependable natural gas service. So use natural gas to your heart's content... you have plenty.

QUICK FACTS ABOUT LONE STAR GAS COMPANY

A Texas Corporation with its home office in Dallas. Not a part of any public utility holding company system. Lone Star Producing Company, a subsidiary, owned 100 percent by Lone Star Gas Company, operates field gasoline and cycling plants and drills and operates wells to produce natural gas and crude oil.

Owned by 15,423 Stockholders who live in practically every state. Schools, churches and insurance companies are stockholders, too.

Operated by 5,700 Men and Women; the outgrowth of a group who built the Southwest's first long distance natural gas pipeline in 1909. All United Gas Company employees, who chose, are continuing to serve you.

Serving Nearly 600,000 Customers in 375 Texas and Oklahoma cities. Transmission Division operates over 6,000 miles of pipeline connected to more than 1,000 gas-producing wells in over 100 gas-producing fields.

REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

Congressman, 18th District

By Walter Rogers

DEBATE ON THE NEW IMMIGRATION LAW: The house is now engaged in debate on H. R. 5678, a bill to revise the laws relating to immigration, naturalization and nationality. This bill is designed to bring the immigration laws up to date, to weed out obsolete provisions, to close loopholes and to provide strict enforcement. A number of attempts have been made during the debate to amend the bill for the purpose of relaxing the present and proposed requirements for entry into this country. All of these amendments have been stricken and it does not presently appear that any kind of them will be adopted. The debate has been prolonged and in many instances very heated.

The present immigration policy is based on "national origins" of U. S. population as shown in the 1920 census. Under this policy Great Britain alone has a quota of 65,721 out of the total immigration quota of 154,277 annually. Britain uses only a small percentage of this quota. It was argued by one of the House that this policy resulted in more than two million unused quota members between 1930 and 1948. This same member offered an amendment to pool the unused quotas of such countries as England and Ireland and to give these unused quotas to countries like Italy, Greece, or any other country having an annual quota of less than 7,000. The House overwhelmingly voted down this amendment. It likewise soundly defeated an amendment offered by another New York member that would change the census figures being used from 1920 census to the 1940 census. The result of the amendment would have been to give substantial increases in quota to a number of the Continental and Near East countries.

Another amendment offered by another New York member proposed to grant Italy 46,000 quota numbers which went unused during World War II. It was argued by the member that although Italy was our enemy during World War II, her alliance with Hitler was the doing of Mussolini and not of the Italian people. This argument didn't have much effect on the House. In fact, it caused quite a bit of laughter. The amendment lost by the overwhelming vote of 77 to 21. Another amendment was offered by another New York member to allot unused quotas to benefit separated families, skilled workers, religious refugees, and hardship cases. Although the amendment might have some emotional appeal in the language used, I am glad to report that the House did not permit sympathy to override reason and defeated the amendment 73 to 23.

Almost every argument that was made to relax the immigration laws was based on the premise that unless the laws were relaxed, this country would be charged with discriminating against minorities and denying many potential immigrants their right to enter this country. It was quickly and clearly pointed out that entry into this country by an immigrant is not based upon any right of the immigrant, but on the contrary is a most precious privilege made possible by the graciousness of the citizens of this country.

The theory of discrimination was also knocked in the head by the remarks of some good Southern Democrats. They pointed out that every time some member of some so-called minority group wants some concession, they immediately cry out that "If you Americans don't grant us what we ask, you are guilty of discrimination." Actually the Americans have succumbed to these entreaties so many times that the so-called minority groups have actually become the preferred groups, and the ones being discriminated against are the solid basic Americans. It has actually reached the point that when some of these minority groups want something that they can't possibly justify, they base their arguments on three premises.

No, one, they claim that such legislation is needed because it will help in the fight against communism. Number two, they claim that they are being discriminated against; and, Number three, they appeal to the Christian charitable characteristics of the American

It is high time for the people to wake up and stop these campaigns designed to blind our reasoning by an emotional smoke. The best way in the world to separate the sheep from the goats and keep these reds and fellow travelers out of this country, and at the same time devote our waking hours to cull out and deport the ones who have gotten into this country in the past through loopholes in the law. The great majority of the communist sympathizers that have been uncovered in this country are people who have accepted the hospitality of this country and sought protection under our laws and our way of life. They are nothing less than the vilest scoundrels and traitors that can be conceived, and the quicker we put a stop to it the better for our children and mine.

THE CUTS IN THE BUDGET:
A great clamor has gone up about the many cuts that the House made in the several appropriations bills, and it has been said that Congress will be forced to stay in session until many of these cuts are restored. I can tell you that this Congress is not going to be stamped into restoring these cuts by any such threats, and keeping Congress in session is not going to change its temper. The money that we have provided is adequate and in many instances should be more than adequate to meet the needs, and I for one am not going to subscribe to any policy to add any more to the public debt or to put any more burden on the taxpayer's back.

Cpl. Darrell Childress and Sgt. Jackie Davis, who are stationed at F. E. Warren Air Base, Cheyenne, Wyo., were Memphis visitors from Sunday until Tuesday. Cpl. Childress visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Childress, while Sgt. Davis visited his mother, Mrs. Rhodie Davis.

TEXAS DEMOCRATS OPEN WAY TO VOTER

For a long time now, the Democratic party of Texas has been an issue. What is it? Who is it? People who call themselves Democrats in Texas simply do not answer the two questions the same way. So the real answer is that the Democratic party in Texas is the people with the numerical strength to control it and the will to exercise it.

The numerical strength and the will were both present at New Braunfels Friday. The actions taken were on the whole wise. Certainly far more than in any year of the past two decades, the state Democratic executive committee acted to put the party in the hands of the Democrats who vote in the precinct conventions.

The so-called Loyal Democrats wanted the committee to prescribe a pledge for the participants in precinct conventions. They refer to the pledge as traditional. Political would be more descriptive. The committee turned that down. But with far more righteous Democratic action than the Loyal Democrats have ever shown, they ruled that the separate conventions can, when legally organized, require the pledge. What that means simply is that the majority wish will decide the question.

The Loyal Democrats contend that a Democrat must pledge himself to support the national candidates, no matter how nauseous these may be. They want it that way because the more thoughtful voter would stay out of the primary and thereby the Loyal Democrats could control the state elections. That is good politics. It is not good citizenship.

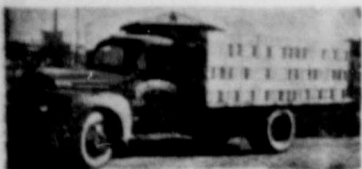

What the state executive committee did Friday over the Loyal Democrat protest was to make it possible for the Democratic voter to register his will. He can express a preference for the presidency. He can instruct his delegates to vote for a particular candidate or exercise discretion. He can vote the party in Texas for an acceptable Democratic nominee for President or against a bad one. That, it seems to The News, is the way to restore the badly damaged prestige of the Democratic party.

This will be a good time to start thinking about your precinct convention on May 3. Your presence is needed there. That is where you start the machinery rolling to name your candidate. Remember that if you do not go to your precinct convention, you have lost forever your chance to select the nominee.

Press Paragraphs— QUOTING OUR NEIGHBORS

Trail Dust

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

Despite the long hours and drudgery associated with the baker's frequently nocturnal duties life must flow through his fingers. Bread is a vital span in the bridge which supports life's traffic from infancy to toothless senility. Brown, fragrant loaves pass through his hands in endless array, like particles of life enroute to divine assemblage. In order of demand he may create cakes that denote mileposts on the tempestuous journey between the gates of eternity. He may work on two examples of his skill in creating a wedding cake, and another to celebrate a golden anniversary. Symbols of happiness on his work bench side by side, half a century separates their significance. Long days and troubled nights, crowded corridors of fears, bitter hours of doubt, spasms of pain, the debris of crushed dreams, the sparkling, sweet wine of secret victories and the novena of complaisant faith; the hurt of hot tears. —The Matador Tribune

Message from Moon

Although it made no headlines, a recent event made history, according to an editorial in the Frederick Leader which was reprinted in the Altus Times Democrat. It concerned an Army experiment during which a message was electronically sent to the moon and received back in the earth after travelling 250,000 miles.

"The event didn't make headlines, though it made history—the receipt of a message from the moon. It happened on a night more than three months ago when a group of natural scientists heard, through a radio receiver trained on the moon, four words which had been sent through near 250,000 miles of space. The four words flashing from the cold, lifeless surface of the moon were, appropriately enough, "What Hath God Wrought?"

"The message was not sent by mysterious life on the moon. It was not an echo of the four words tapped out in the first telegraphic communication, almost 90 years ago by Samuel F. B. Morse. Rather, it was a message which had originated at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, only a prosaic 775 miles from where it was received by the scientists at Sterling, Va. It had been sent by way of the moon with pulses of energy from a powerful radio transmitter at Cedar Rapids. The entire 480,000-mile trip to the moon and back was completed in only two and one-half seconds.

"While radio signals had been bounced off the moon before this was the first intelligible radio message ever transmitted by 'lunar reflections.'

"The success of the experiment, a military secret until recently, represents a galaxy of military possibilities such as unjammable radio guidance of long-range, remotely controlled weapons and radio control of satellite space ships zooming thousands of miles above the earth.

"But it also opens new vistas. If scientists can beam messages to the moon, the artist's mind, never confined to earth, can now soar through space. If man has received a message from the moon he may succeed in communicating with other planets. Science has shown the way the trust will guide with his imagination."

Lakeview Hen Now Has Achievement To Cackle About

Hall county hens are getting to be publicity hounds it seems.

Only two weeks after The Democrat carried a short story about a Booth White Leghorn hen, owned by H. G. Nelson, Route 1, laying a "monstrosity of an egg," another hen tries to do even better. The first hen died after dropping a dozen of the big ones.

The second hen, a Harmonson White Leghorn owned by E. L. Brewer of Lakeview, is still alive and scratching after her mammoth achievement. Her egg weighed slightly under 4½ ounces and measured six by eight inches in circumference. This one is infinitesimally smaller than the odd-shaped egg produced by the Booth White Leghorn.

However, Brewer's hen can take consolation in the fact that hers looks more like an egg. Also she's still around to cackle about it.

JEFF MAHAN ANNOUNCES FOR DISTRICT ATTY.

Democrat has been authorized to announce the candidacy of Jeff Mahan for the office of District Attorney of the 100th District.

Mahan took this opportunity to announce to the voters of the 100th Judicial District that I am a candidate for the office of District Attorney.

Mahan was born in Wellington, Texas, attended the public schools of Wellington, Memphis, Clarendon, Childress, Collingsworth and Donley counties being called upon to provide additional money for unusual and unnecessary expenses in the operation of the District Attorney's office.

If the voters will elect Jeff Mahan your next District Attorney, there will be no unnecessary and unusual expenses incurred in discharging the duties of District Attorney. Violation of the law will be prosecuted with the utmost diligence, without favoritism to any group or to any individual, but with fairness and impartiality and consideration to all. I will make every effort to carry out the duties and responsibilities of the District Attorney's office to the very best of my ability.

to expect and entitled to receive a competent and efficient operation of the District Attorney's office without and undue burden upon the taxpayers. The District Attorney is a state officer, and the salary for the office, plus certain expenses, is paid out of the state treasury. It is my opinion that such salary and expenses paid from the state treasury, are adequate to insure an efficient and satisfactory operation of the District Attorney's office, without the taxpayers of Hall, Carson, Childress, Collingsworth and Donley counties being called upon to provide additional money for unusual and unnecessary expenses in the operation of the District Attorney's office.

If the voters will elect Jeff Mahan your next District Attorney, there will be no unnecessary and unusual expenses incurred in discharging the duties of District Attorney. Violation of the law will be prosecuted with the utmost diligence, without favoritism to any group or to any individual, but with fairness and impartiality and consideration to all. I will make every effort to carry out the duties and responsibilities of the District Attorney's office to the very best of my ability.

Chrysler V-8 Saratoga Sedan, gasoline economy winner in Class "F". Entered and driven in the 1952 Mobil Gas Economy Run by Chrysler Dealer Mel Alsbury, Hollywood. It was one of three Chrysler FirePower V-8's to win in their respective classes.

180 HP CHRYSLER V-8 FIRST IN 3 CLASSES IN ECONOMY RUN!

Here is truly dramatic proof that Chrysler's great new FirePower 180 HP V-8 engine design sets an entirely new standard of efficiency among American passenger car engines!

In this annual economy test, rigidly supervised, and limited strictly to stock car entrants, cars competing are divided, by price and size, into 11 standard classes. The route, from Los Angeles to Sun Valley, covered 1,415 miles of every possible kind of driving. Average speed for all cars was just under 41 miles per hour.

And in 3 of the 11 classes, the Chrysler V-8 engine was best for gasoline mileage.

In Class "F", this magnificent new engine won first place for a Saratoga 6-passenger sedan (125½-inch wheelbase, 4010 pounds). In Class "H", it won first honors for a Saratoga model 8-passenger sedan (139½-inch wheelbase, 4510 pounds). And in the top price and size, Class "I", it was again first, in a Chrysler Crown Imperial Sedan (145½-inch wheelbase, 5360 pounds).

To travel these substantial cars at this speed under these conditions gives additional proof, we believe, that here in the FirePower V-8 engine is the finest and most efficient engine ever put into an American passenger car!

WE INVITE YOU TO DRIVE
THIS ENGINE, YOURSELF . . .

The same engine which has just scored these remarkable accomplishments is no farther from you than your own Chrysler Dealer. He will welcome the chance to let you take the wheel and feel for yourself what Chrysler has done . . . not only in engine performance, but in power steering, power brakes, new shock absorbers, passenger comfort . . . to deserve the title: "Finest Car America Has Yet Produced!"

McDANIEL PLANS ANNUAL FAMILY PARTY MAY 6-7

The fifth annual International Harvester free "Family Party" will be held two nights, Tuesday, May 6, and Wednesday, May 7, at the High School Auditorium, according to Ira and J. J. McDaniel, owners of the McDaniel Implement Company.

Certain time 8:30 P.M. Curtain time is promptly at 8:30 p. m. each night for the big free show sponsored by the International Harvester — Chrysler Plymouth dealers in Memphis. "Every one in this area is cordially invited to be our guests on either of these dates," they said. "Everything is free, and the whole family is urged to come and enjoy this full program of entertainment."

The family party Tuesday and Wednesday nights is presented under the title, "Big Stage Show." Rated as one of America's most popular variety programs, the show has stars of stage and radio fame appearing in person, the implement dealers stated.

Five Feature Attractions
Among the feature attractions will be Happy Hall, novelty tap dancer; Paddy Beach, the emcee billed as the "Miss who Mystifies"; Susan Wallace, guitarist, "playing the songs you like to hear"; the Gareys, presenting a variety of entertaining acts; and Elaine Drew, performing "unbelievable tricks" of contortion.

In addition to the stage show, the program has other entertainment including new color movies on travel, comedy and educational features.

In previous years the shows have played to packed houses, and plans are being made this year to handle the largest crowds ever, the sponsors said.

The sponsors added that the same program is scheduled for both nights.
