Great Texas-Oklahoma Fair Opens Gates Today

FOOTBALL IN AFTERNOON IS ONE FEATURE

Altus and Wichita Falls To Settle Year-Old Grudge

CORONATION TONIGHT

Premier Social Event Of Season Set for 8 o'Clock

The gates for the 1925 Texas-Oklahoma fair will open at 8 o'clock this morning.

The fourth annual exhibition promises to surpass those of 1922, 1923, and 1924 when splendid records were made. The exhibits this year in practically every department are larger and more varied. The entertainment features are more costly and distinctive. There will be better races and larger purses with a larger list of entries. The midway attractions promise to be the cleanest ever shown at a fair here. In every department the exposition promises to be bigger and better, officials say.

Today is "Athletic Day." The principal attraction in front of the grandstand during the afternoon will be a football game between the Altus, Okla., and Wichita Falls high schools. Last year the two teams played a scoreless tie. The event is scheduled to start at 3 o'clock and will be played in the infield of the race track.

Coronation

The society event of the year in Northwest Texas and Southern Oklahoma will be the coronation of the third Texas-Oklahoma fair queen, and the pageant "Texas." The dual evening program will be staged in front of the grandstand, and will start at 8 o'clock.

The coronation will be presented to the public on a stage 24 by 40 feet, and 100 feet from the center tiers of the grandstand. The stage was built for the coronation and the pageant.

Three huge flood lights will be centered on the stage during the royal court function and the scenes of the pageant.

The Chicago Cadet band, with the youthful director Everett Johnson, will furnish the concert music for both events.

All day Friday and until a late hour last night traffic was speeding to and from the fair grounds. The many exhibitors were plying brush, wielding saw and hammer, carrying burdens, all in the eleventh hour rush before the scheduled opening hour.

Rush for Tickets

At the administration building crowds were lined up buying exhibitors tickets, reserved grandstand seat tickets, or season tickets. But harmony reigned and the work was being dispatched with promptness and precision.

The concessionaries were busy, too, soda pop, hamburgers, red lemonade, candy, and other goodies were to be seen. The roofs of their booths were in place, and each man who had a "spot" was busy getting ready for the crowds.

Unique and interesting exhibits are to be found in each of the exhibit buildings. Many of the ex-

FAIR OFFICIALS REST EASY; QUEEN'S GOWN NOW HERE

The coronation gown of the Texas-Oklahoma fair queen was delivered to her majesty Friday afternoon.

The beautiful garment which had caused much concern to the directors of the Saturday evening program was delayed in reaching Wichita Falls.

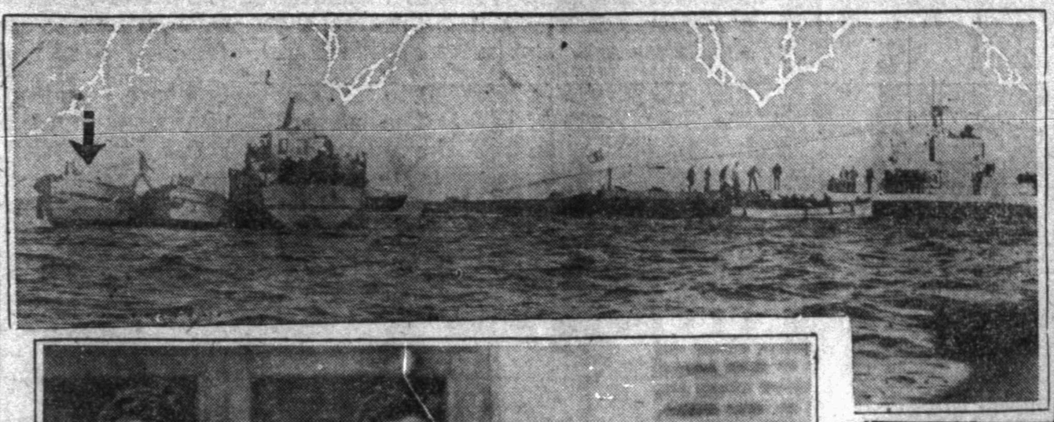

The queen was alarmed for fear the beautiful gown would not be delivered in time for the coronation ceremonies, but little concern was manifested by the manager of the local firm who had ordered that the garment be delivered here on Friday.

The coronation of the queen and the historical pageant, "Texas," are scheduled to start at 8 o'clock this evening in front of the grandstand.

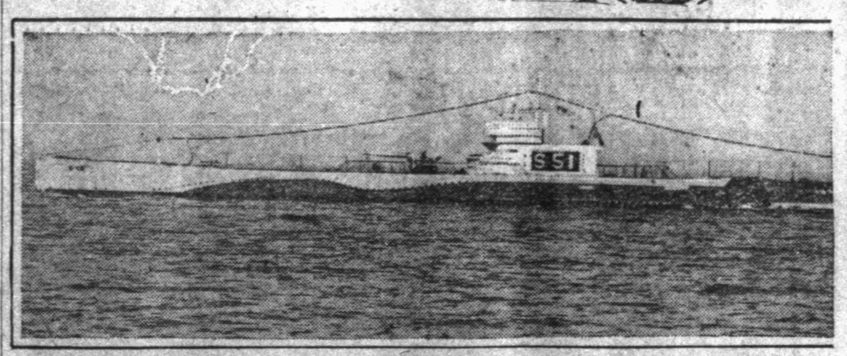

Weather Forecast For Opening Day

For Wichita Falls and the Texas-Oklahoma fair; probably cloudy, not much change in temperature.

All three were near the coning tower when the collision occurred and were floated alive into the water. Inset are, left Franklin P. James and A. A. 33 Lives Lost; Ship Is Found Water Filled

Lives Were Snuffed Out Soon After Submarine Rammed and Sunk, Divers' Investigation Shows

U. S. SUBMARINE BASE, NEW LONDON, Conn., Oct. 2.—(AP)—The lives of the men who went down on the submarine S-51 was snuffed out almost immediately after she was rammed and sunk by the steamer City of Rome off Block Island a week ago tonight. The death toll stands at 33.

This was established today when divers found that the last two compartments in which it had been hoped there might have been air in the motor and torpedo room—were filled with water. None of the crew who went down had a chance for his life. The submarine sank so quickly that they were unable to shut the water tight doors connecting the compartments and their ship. The story of their efforts to save themselves will never be told.

All that remains now for those who have toiled at the task of rescue work is to identify the bodies, after which the submarine will be turned over to wreckers to salvage.

Of the 36 men who were aboard the S-51 when she was rammed, three were picked up alive and the bodies of four men have been taken from the wreck. Two of these were recovered today. They were those of Walter E. Lawton, electrician's mate of New London, and Brady D. Lindsay, engineman, of Pensacola, Fla.

The divers who recovered the bodies today came upon them as they were forcing their way through the engine room.

Rear Admiral J. D. Beuret, chief of the naval bureau of construction and repair at Washington visited the scene of the wreck today, making the 90-mile trip out and back in the submarine S-1.

He was accompanied by Simon Lake, submarine expert and builder of the sunken vessel, and by officials of the wrecking company which is expected eventually to be given charge of salvaging operations.

LYRICS OF LIFE.
By Douglas Malloch.
Let Me Believe.

Let me believe in many things—
A God, since that is faith's beginning.
The faith to which one longest clings,
Through age and illness, grief and sinning.
Let me believe in something more
Than something seen, my soul explore
The life beyond, that I may borrow
Something today from some tomorrow.

Let me believe in other hearts—
Not all condemn when one deceives us.
Remember, when love departs,
That it is only one who grieves me.
Let me believe, although belief,
Like man, must have some hour of grief;
Let not one faithless friend undo me,
But draw the others closer to me.

Let me believe in morning skies,
In days to be, in years to follow.
Oh, give me hope that never dies
That spring will bring the sun and swallow.
Let me believe in hours of strife
In the eternal good of life.
Whatever sorrow seems to rend it.
Let me believe that time will mend it.

AUSTIN, Oct. 2.—Five conditional pardons and one parole were granted today by Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson. Solon Jeffery, convicted of murder in Houston county and sentenced to 45 years in prison in 1924, was paroled to Thomas Watson of Burton who agrees to pay him $2 a month.

Conditional pardons were granted: John C. Parker, Lee county; assault to murder, 2 to 5 years.

A. E. Ragsdale, Grayson county; conversion as administrator and conversion as guardian; four cases; 6 years.

Ben Williams, Wichita county, embezzlement, 2 years.

Jose Cisneros, Webb county, transporting liquor, one year.

Anthon Gifford, Concho county; possessing liquor still; one year.

AUSTIN, Oct. 2.—With Chairman Frank Lanham of the state highway commission and W. D. Haden, Houston road contractor, both refusing to alter their attitude on specifications, chances of Haden and Austin taking over the Sherman and Youmans contract for asphalt surfacing in Harris and Galveston counties seemed slight today.

Lanham declared if Haden and Austin "want to do business," they would have to sign the agreement as submitted in today's conference, while Haden said he was desirous of taking over the contract on the terms given to Sherman and Youmans, as shown by the commission minutes of the March 5 sessions. Haden declared he would not think of taking over the contract "with the supplemental contract spoken of this morning by Mr. Lanham hanging over my head."

In the proposed contract submitted by Mr. Lanham, Haden and Austin would bind itself to perform for 17 cents a square yard all the work that

BUSINESS MAN IS ACCUSED IN DRY LAW CASE

Was Arrested After Altercation With Local Officer

Charges of possession of intoxicating liquor were filed Friday afternoon in Federal court by Deputy Constable C. E. Griffin against a Wichita Falls business man who ten days ago was arrested after an altercation with the officer and who surrendered a small quantity of liquor said to have been brought here on the man's return from a tour of Europe. The complaint was made following the return to Wichita Falls of U. S. Commissioner J. A. Lauta who has been out of the city for the last two weeks.

No arrest in the case had been made Friday afternoon but warrants have been issued and it is expected the defendant will appear and perfect bond today.

HIGHWAY CASE

Sherman and Youmans agreed to perform for 32 cents and "upon the same conditions in every respect."

Mr. Lanham in the conference referred to the additional agreement with Sherman and Youmans as a "supplemental contract." Late today, he said, "a supplemental proposal, incorporated in the original agreement would be a better description of the agreement."

Argument over the supplemental proposal brought to a close the conference between Chairman Lanham and a Houston delegation.

"I told Chairman Lanham that I was willing, not only to take over the Sherman and Younmans contracts for 17 cents a square yard, would be glad to take over just as much work at that price as the commission could give me, provided the terms of the contracts should by the same as shown on the commission minutes for the Sherman and Youmans, Harris and Galveston counties contracts," Mr. aden said. He made this statement in commenting on Chairman Lanham's prediction that Haden and Austin would lose money if they took over the Sherman and Youmans contract for 17 cents a square yard—a contract that Sherman and Youmans took for 32 cents a square yard.

Before leaving for Houston today, Judge Bryan said Mr. Haden advised Mr. Lanham he was willing to enter into a contract on specifications as reflested in commission minutes. Thereupon Mr. Lanham stated there had been a supplemental contract entered into with Sherman and Youmans, which contract does not appear anywhere in the minutes books of the highway commission up to this time.

"Upon being asked for a copy of said contract, or its original the chairman said he did not have it, but insisted that Haden and Austin should enter into a contract taking over Sherman and Youmans' contract, together with a purported or alleged supplemental contract, unrecorded, which he said was not in his office, and of which he had no copy.

"Mr. Haden promptly refused to enter into any character of contract involving duties upon him of which he had no information."

Rich Man Is Held In Counterfeit Plot

CHICAGO, Oct. 2. — (AP) — Charged with directing a counterfeiting group which raised $1 bills to $20 gold certificates and passed more than $200,000 of them, Melchoir Armato, wealthy treasurer of a can company, has been arrested by federal agents.

A long investigation ending in the arrest began, the government operatives said, when Armato's picture was found in a raid on a studio where a quantity of counterfeit whiskey labels and stamps were seized.

But rheumatism will bring pain and misery to your joints and muscles just as long as you are without plenty of rich, red blood in your system.

It's the red-blood-cells that S. S. S. helps Nature build that drive out of your system the impurities that cause rheumatism. And until you do build up your blood to where it is pure and rich and red, you simply can't get rid of rheumatism.

And S. S. S. is the thing. Red blood conquers rheumatism. Everybody knows that.

Two train loads of exhibits arrived early last night. One from Amarillo, and the other from Oklahoma City. The shipments were composed of cattle, swine running and show horses. Approximately 60 horses coming from the army posts at Fort Sill and Fort Reno, Okla. The Oklahoma riding club's 20 thoroughbred show horses were included in the list of arrivals.

At midnight the Fort Worth and Denver railroad reported that the special train loaded with the midway attractions of 22 shows and a number of riding devices would arrive at 2 o'clock and would be switched to the Wichita Falls and Southern Railroad and be taken to the switch at the fairgrounds.

The midway will be complete with all attractions in place at 10 o'clock today, according to the engineers with the carnival company.

NEGRO FLEES HOSPITAL BUT IS CAPTURED

Convict, Shot in Attack On Officer, Takes French Leave

Arthur Gray, negro convict who was shot and wounded on the night of Sept. 20 as he advanced with an open knife on Deputy Constable C. E. Griffin was back in the county jail Friday afternoon folowing a break for freedom that released him from the general hospital at 5 o'clock Friday morning. Griffin and Deputy Constable Wade Taylor found Gray in a negro servant house in 2000 block of Ninth street, suffering severely from the wound in his hip which had been aggravated by his running from the hospital.

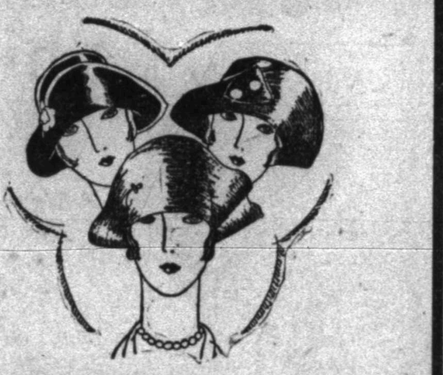

Gray, who escaped from the state prison farm at Sugarland last summer after being sent up on a burglary charge, was shot when officers sought to quell a disturbance in the negro district.

He had been in the hospital since that time and Friday morning, after slipping on a pair of trousers over his hospital garb, slipped unnoticed from the institution. Griffin and Taylor began an immediate search and located him about noon.

Watch Chain Turns Swing of Knife At Policeman.

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 2.—Attacked with a dirk by a 20-year-old youth, believed to have been crazed by marihuana, a Mexican dope weed, Patrolman Andre Zapata, Friday owes his life to his watch chain. The officer had alighted from his car Thursday night in front of an outlying cafe when the youth approached him. Without warning, a knife blade flashed in the dim light.

The blades' descent was arrested when it struck the officer's heavy watch chain. Zapata jumped to safety. The youth hurled the knife away before he was arrested.

Beg Your Pardon

Mrs. Clara Stephens White of Vernon, writing the Record News, calls attention to a section of an article in Wednesday's issue entitled "Romance of Search for Oil Is Little Known Feature."

In connection with recitation of events leading up to opening of the South Vernon field, Mrs. White asks the Record News to make denial of the Fact:

First—That a phonograph was ever taken from her home to any oil field by Miss Wells or any other person.

Second—That she never danced on any derrick or in any other public place, nor has she danced at all for more than two years, being, as she writes, in ill health the greater part of that time.

Third: That her daughter, Lorena Stephens White is not commonly called "Baby" and did not make the remark attributed to her, namely, that "the dirty, greasy boards of the oil derrick were as good to dance upon as at home."

Fourth—That she, Mrs. White, has never been in any oil field at midnight.

The Record News is glad to make these corrections for Mrs. White.

CONSERVATION OF FLOOD WATER.

Pat Morris Neff is a private citizen persuing the even tenor of his ways. He was governor of Texas four years. One of the glories of his administration was the conservation and reclamation achievement. As governor he urged a larger appropriation for conservation purposes and the lawmakers who served with him appropriated $600,000 for the work. This called for a survey of Texas' rivers and streams, an important matter which had been overlooked throughout all the history of Texas.

Another glory of his administration was his park plan which called for a chain of public parks from the Gulf of Mexico to the Rocky mountains and from the Red to the Rio Grande rivers. These were huge constructive measures and they were backed by the best minds of Texas. Now the 30th legislature will be asked to make another appropriation of $600,000, and if appropriated, the money will be well and wisely spent.

Texas should lift itself out of the bog and Texans should be willing to do the lifting. This is the irrigation age. It has returned after a death-like silence of many centuries. Builders of Wichita county, headed by Joseph A. Kemp, the father of conservation in Texas, have shown what can be done. The Wichita irrigation project speaks for itself. It was a community effort and all the citizens in the two irrigation districts shared the cost.

There are millions of acres of semi-arid land in Texas. All that is needed to make these acres as productive as the famed lands of ancient countries is now and then a sprinkling of water. There are many rivers and streams in Texas. All can be damed and the flood waters conserved for irrigation purposes. Go to the Pecos irrigated district and see what a little water produces every year.

Go to the upper Rio Grande valley, in the El Paso country, and see the benefits of stored water—the flood waters impounded for the needs of man. Go to the Wichita-Baylor section of Texas. Water is going to change semi-arid land in drouth years to fields of productivity and wealth. Go to the magic valley of Texas and see what irrigation has accomplished.

Wherever dams and reservoirs have been built in Texas for irrigation purposes, the result has been the same. Now in the upper Brazos river valley the land owners of five counties have organized. These counties are Knox, Foard, Baylor, Haskell and Young. There is a large rainfall every year.

When flood time comes the upper Brazos goes out of its bank. Its waters are carried into the lower country and in years gone by they have cost death and devestation to the people in the lower valley who till the soil. In a quarter of a century the losses have aggregated $250,000,000, and that vast sum would have harnessed the waters of the upper and lower Brazos and provided a never failing supply of water all the year round for irrigation purposes. These men of the five western counties mean business. They are going to dam the Brazos river near the junction of the Salt and Double mountain forks at an estimated cost of $6,000,000. This dam will be three quarters of a mile in length and 122 feet high.

It will be built 50 miles west of Seymour with Haskell on the west and Stonewall county on the east. It will draw a drainage area of from 12,000 to 15,000 square miles. Another huge lake on the Brazos river, to contain some 1,500,000-acre feet, is to be built across the Brazos river five miles west of Mineral Wells in Palo Pinto county. This dam will be 75 feet in height. It is said the dream of its projectors is to make one of the largest artificial lakes in North America.

These men of the west have vision. They keep their eyes open. They do not need to be shown. They have been shown by the pioneers of this mighty movement under the skies of Texas. From its source to the place where it empties its waters into the Gulf of Mexico the Brazos should be damed and huge reservoirs to contain impounded water should be constructed in the years to come. And this is what is going to happen in Texas.

Texas cities are growing by leaps and bounds. Dallas has two lakes or reservoirs. Now the men of that city are building a third reservoir. In the valley of the Trinity they are building a dam 90 feet high for a lake that is to be 11 miles long, a mile wide and 90 feet deep. At the beginning it was figured it would cost $5,000,000. Now another bond issue of $1,500,000 is to be voted by the people of Dallas.

Men say and the writer is speaking of engineers that this will be one of the largest artificial lakes between the two oceans. All the Texas rivers should be harnessed. All the streams of Texas should be harnessed. All the flood waters should be caught in the spring time and the fall time and conserved for irrigation purposes.

Drouths can be effaced. The ancients knew how to baffle them. Aren't the people who are now on earth as wise as the men who inhabited the earth ages and ages ago?

Uncommon Sense

By JOHN BLAKE.

Blame Fixing.

After every disaster on railroad or steamship an investigation is ordered for the purpose of fixing responsibility.

Sometimes these investigations bring out the truth.

Often they are defeated by the efforts of those responsible to clear themselves.

Blame fixing is difficult business. No one is willing to admit that he is to blame for anything.

And in this trait lies the reason for many failures.

The most natural thing for a man who has made a mistake is to blame somebody else for it.

Ask the drunkard who has lost his position why he is a drunkard and he will tell you he was driven to drink by misfortune—misfortune that was not his fault.

Adam's excuse for his dereliction was that the woman tempted him. That in his view was sufficient excuse.

As long as men insist that they are never to blame for anything they will continue to be to blame for a great many things.

Only the person who knows his own weaknesses, who analyzes his own failures and comes to understand just what part his own idleness or weakness played in them will ever be reasonably able to avoid the same kind of mistakes in the future.

Blame cannot be successfully passed along.

We have just read of a young woman who failed to swim the English channel, who on her return to her own country declared that her trainer ordered her to leave the ater while she was still able to swim.

But she was several miles from her destination when this order was given.

And it is likely that she was more exhausted than she was willing to admit, being a naturally plucky girl.

The order of the trainer may have saved her from a very serious injury.

In any event, she and not the trainer made the failure. And she would better have waited another year until she could make a second attempt, than to seek to fix the responsibility of her failure on some one else.

A great American general once told a secretary who, on arriving late said that his watch was slow:

"You must get another watch or I shall have to get another secretary."

The man who is never willing to own that he can make a mistake is always eager to find some one else to accept the consequences of his own errors.

This not only gets him continually involved with other people—some of whom are unwilling to be held accountable for things they did not do, but it makes it impossible for one really to know anything about himself.

The man who will frankly say "It is my fault; I am to blame" will be more careful not to make the same mistake next time, and more likely to get the mistake making habit out of his system.

WHAT TODAY MEANS TO YOU

By MARY BLAKE.

Virgo.

Today's planetary aspects hold out no allurind conditions or prospects. On the contrary, they indicate a period of gloom and depression, and every effort must be made to counteract such untoward influences. The best antidote for spells such as these is work or recreative amusements, combined with a fixed resolution not to despair. In the evening, there is a glimmering of a better atmosphere, and, while the clouds will not all have rolled away, there will be sensed a brighter outlook and, above all, the weakness of yielding, instead of fighting, will be fully demonstrated.

Children born today will enjoy practical immunity from sickness during their infancy, but the signs denote that they will not attain their majority without experiencing a serious illness. Care and prompt attention will obviate any deplorable results. In character and disposition, they will be very sensitive, and unless this tendency is curbed, they are liable to become "touchy." They will be fairly and reasonably obedient, quick to learn, prompt to imitate, and have very affectionate natures. They will, unfortunately, possess exaggerative imaginations, and while not guilty of lying in the strict acceptation of the term, they will be disposed to romance.

If today is your birthday, you can be read like an open book. There is nothing subtle, deceptive, or mysterious in either your words or actions. You are open and above board in all things, and no one, who knows you, ever wonders what there is in the back of your head. Your candor and frankness disarm criticism, and none ever envy any success that you may achieve.

You are not temperamentally equipped to handle any matter with important or far-reaching ramifications, and you accomplish more alone than when in association with another.

Your friends are many, and you are the confidant of all. No matter how frank you may be about your own affairs, you are always secretive about those of others. If you can not say anything nice about a person, you say nothing at all.

HOW IT STARTED

The Stage.

Thinking back for the origin of any theatrical performance, our minds naturally revert first to Shakespeare and his Globe Theater. Some of us would go back a little further, and many of us would choose Moliere—the plays he wrote and staged, often in the open, for the mad Louis and then in his own theater, where for a while he was the rage of France.

But these were only steps in the evolution of the theater and the play. For the origin of all dramatic representation we must go back to the days of idol worship when many gods were thought to rule the destines of man.

Two brothers, Danaus and Aegyptus, sons of Belus, shared the throne of Egypt. After a particularly heated quarrel Danaus, with his followers set sail in search of a new land where he could rule alone. They landed near the Greek city of Argus, of which he shortly became king.

Here, to celebrate his good fortune, he instituted festivities in honor of the god Pacchus who was supposed to have helped make his undertaking successful. These festivals consisted of nothing more than riotous revelry, interspersed with songs, which, after the manner of the day were primitive and often coarse.

But the festivals soon became very popular and were held periodically all over Greece. From this beginning in the form of a kind of public worship, which was the first entertainment or performance known evolved the theatrical projects of later ages which developed into the institution of the theater as we know it today.

POEMS THAT LIVE

The Night-Piece to Julia.

Her eyes the glow-worm lend thee,
The shooting stars attend thee;
And the elves also,
Whose little eyes glow,
Like the spark of fire, befriend thee.

No Will-o'-th'-Wisp mislight thee,
Nor snake or slow-worm bite thee;
But on, on thy way,
Not making a stay,
Since ghost there's none to affright thee.

Let not the dark thee cumber;
What tho the moon does slumber?
The stars of the night
Will lend thee their light,
Like tapers clear, without number.

Then, Julia, let me woo thee,
Thus, thus to come unto me,
And when I shall meet
Thy silv'ry feet,
My soul I'll pour into thee.

The Storm CenteR

By BURTON L. STEVENSON

They are mehari—racing camels of the best strain." O'Neill's brain was in a whirl. Why should Delage, in the guise of a pilgrim from the East, be riding among these hills?

An uncontrollable impulse compelled him to look back. The little caravan was far away; it had stopped and the two leading camels were standing side by side. He could see the man and woman bending toward each other in earnest conversation. Was she telling him that there ahead rode the man of seat fifteen?

When he looked back a second time, the caravan had passed from sight around a curve of the road. And with it, some of the brightness seemed to have dropped out of the sunshine, some of the warmth out of the air!

It was mid-afternoon when Landon at last drew rein, cast a rapid glance about him and then turned his horse's head from the road into a stony field.

"This is the place," he said, and urged his horse forward among the boulders.

Some hundred yards ahead, on a spur of the hills which here crowded down closely into the valley, O'Neill perceived some fragments of shattered wall above a heap of debris—all that was left of the fortress which had once stood guard above this pass.

Landon made a quick survey of the field.

"We will pitch the tent here," he said, and indicated a stretch of fairly level ground close to the hillside.

They hobbled the horses, unloaded the donkeys, and set to work. As they were spreading the tent upon the ground, straightening it out preparatory to raising it, the little caravan drifted past along the road, the camels, now going at a lively pace, looking like grotesque ghosts in the distance and gathering dusk. They all paused for a moment to watch it. The camels faded from sight like phantoms behind a spur of rising ground.

It was almost dark by the time this task was finished, and they were very tired and very dirty. But Belayed, who by this time knew their habits and presently, cleaned and refreshed, they were seated in the tent around the little folding table, with the spirit lamp shining bravely, and the steam from one of Belayed's savory stews mounting to their nostrils.

"We will go to Tijad tomorrow," said Landon, after the first edge had been taken off their hunger, "and pay a visit of ceremony to Ahmed Ammar. He will be expecting us, for I am sure that old Basha Bashir has already sent him word that we are here. It pays to be punctilious with a saint! Besides I shall have to have some laborers to help us with the excavation, and he can probably arrange it."

"What are these ruins, anyway?" O'Neill asked. "There doesn't seem to be much left of them."

"There isn't. They have been a quarry for the whole country-side. You understand, of course," he went on in another tone, "this excavation is merely a blind. It is not in the least what I have come here to do."

For the past six weeks, Landon had been to all appearances an entirely normal and sane individual, interested only in his work, in which he was undeniably an expert. His eyes had perhaps not been quite symmetrical, but the difference was not great and O'Neill had soon forgotten to notice it. Now, quite suddenly, it was all back again—that mad look he had seen once before in the hotel room at Algiers, the face thin and tense; and he knew that the mania if mania it was, had returned.

"The time has come to tell you," continued Landon, his voice hoarse with emotion. "Yes, the time has come. But first . . ."

And he sprang to his feet and strode to the door of the tent.

O'Neill glanced at Pat, and she gave him a little nod, as though to say that her father must be humored.

"We must be sure there is no one outside," she said, and together they stepped out into the cold, fresh air of the night.

"It seems all right," he said, led the way back into the tent, resumed his place at the table, and filled his pipe again. "You may remember," he went on, "that I told you at Algiers that my real purpose in coming to Africa was to take the first step toward saving western civilization—our civilization."

"Yes, I remember," nodded O'Neill. "Perhaps you thought it rather an exalted statement?"

"It did seem so," O'Neill admitted. "And yet it was not in the least exalted—it was literally true. That first step as I see it now, will be to destroy this man, Ahmed Ammar, and the place in which he lives.

CHAPTER XL

Explanations.

"You have heard or read something," I suppose, "of the unrest which is shaking the world and threatening to destroy it—of the movement to wreck our civilization, to overturn it?"

"You mean Bolshevism?"

"That is one name for it. But the menace comes not alone from Moscow, as many people suppose, but from Berlin, from Vienna, from Cairo, Angora, Pekin, Calcutta. Everywhere there is a feeling that the decisive hour is at hand, that the word is soon to be spoken which will unleash all these forces. And this is true. Only, when it is spoken, it will not be in Moscow or Calcutta—neither Lenin nor Ghandi will have anything to do with it, except to pass it on. It will be spoken in the zawia of this man, Ahmed Ammar, here at Tijad. This is the storm center."

"But—but," O'Neill began, and stopped again.

"Yes, I know, it sounds like the dream of a madman," Landon went on, more quietly.

"Ahmed Ammar has had for years at Tijad a great zawia to which people come from all over the world in the guise of pilgrims," Landon went on.

"But what is it that is planned?" asked O'Neill.

"Civilization is to destroy itself," said Landon, "and the Moslem world will raise its banners over the ruins. Oh, the plot has been well-managed. The warfare is to be of Christian against Christian—or the underworld against civilization. It is that which he is laboring to bring about—which he has brought about. His influence is not confined to Moslems—it extends to revolutionists of every creed, or of no creed.

O'Neill demanded, "How can he have any power over them?"

"There is only one possible answer to that question," said Landon slowly. "I have thought about it for two years; I have explored every hypothesis. There is only one which is even tenable; but it is so astounding, so unbelievable . . ."

"Nevertheless we shall listen to it with pleasure," said a suave voice at the door, and a tall figure wrapped in a white burnoose, stepped into the tent and let the flap fall behind him. "I wish you good evening, messieurs," the stranger added, changing into French, and he stood close above them, looking down at them with a smile.

And O'Neill saw that it was Delage.

Landon was on his feet like a flash his automatic in his hand, his finger trembling on the trigger, but Delage's pleasant smile did not waver by a hair's breadth.

"Do not do anything rash, I beg of you," he said calmly. "I could have killed you from the doorway had I wished—indeed I came here with the idea that it might prove necessary for me to do so," he added, with a deprecatory gesture. "Happily it is not necessary, as I discovered after I had listened for a few moments to your most interesting conversation. In fact, I even think that we can be of service to each other."

"Who are you?" demanded Landon keeping him carefully covered.

"I beg Monsieur O'Neill to introduce me," said Delage, with a little bow to the American.

"Do you mean to say you know him?" Landon asked.

"Yes," said O'Neill, who had recovered somewhat from his astonishment and who began to perceive the humor of the situation. "I have met him twice. This is Monsieur Delage of whom I have told you."

"Delage?" Landon echoed blankly.

Pat, who had been looking from O'Neill to Delage, burst into a sudden peal of laughter.

"Yes, dad!" she cried. "Don't you remember. It was Monsieur Delage who gave Mr. O'Neill that seat on the Marseilles express."

There was no resisting the wizardry of his manner. Involuntarily Landon lowered his pistol, but he kept it in his hand.

"My name is Landon," said the archaeologist shortly, "and this is my daughter Patricia."

"I am most pleased," murmured Delage, and bowed to Pat with a look in his eyes which told how unusual he found her.

"First," said Delage, "in order that everything may be clear, may I inquire, monsieur, the purpose of your visit to this country—the ostensible purpose, I mean, since the real purpose I already know?"

"I am an archaeologist, sir," Landon answered. "For the past six weeks we have been excavating the ruins of a villa near the Batna-Tebessa road."

"Ah, yes," nodded Delage; "I have heard of you."

"Everybody in this part of Algeria has heard of me by this time, I trust," said Landon, smiling grimly.

Delage looked at him with his intelligent eyes. Then he, too, smiled.

"So," he said; "yes, I understand. Permit me to say, monsieur, that it was very clever—very clever indeed. But Monsieur O'Neill is not an archaeologist. He is if I mistake not, a diplomat."

"An ex-diplomat," O'Neill corrected. "I met Mr. Landon by accident on the boat, and he permitted me to join him."

"Ah, yes," said Delage again. "Now everything is entirely clear—and it is my turn to explain."

"I might suggest," pointed out Landon drily, "that this scarcely seems to be a safe place for confidences."

Delage laughed.

"We shall not be interrupted," he said. "My man, Souffi, is on guard outside."

"Now for my explanation," began Delage at last. "I came here tonight, as I have said, with the idea that perhaps it might be necessary for me to take extreme measures—very extreme measures—not knowing, of course, of mademoisselle's presence. I had no reason to believe that I had been recognized by Monsieur O'Neill when he passed me on the road this afternoon."

"How many companions have you?" inquired Landon.

"Two; my man Souffi and a lady with whom I believe Monsieur O'Neill once had the pleasure of dining. It was she who recognized him," Delage added.

"It appears there is still something that has not been told me," Landon observed, his eyes on O'Neill.

"But it was of such small importance!" O'Neill protested, his face flushing in spite of himself, and he related briefly the encounter with the beautiful unknown—only he was careful not to use the adjective and to keep his tone careless and impersonal.

Landon listened with the gloomy air of a man who was not treated fairly, while Pat's eyes searched O'Neill's face with a peculiar intentness. Neither of them made any comment.

But a great question was growing in O'Neill's heart—a question which burned and rankled. What was the relationship between this woman and Delage.

"Now everything is understood," began Delage, when O'Neill had finished. From what I heard of your conversation, Monsieur Landon, as I stood at the door of the tent yonder, I infer that the real purpose of your visit here is to suppress Ahmed Ammar.

He checked himself and looked at Landon curiously. "The last thing you said, monsieur, before I broke in upon you, was that you had been able to discover only one hypothesis which would explain the wide power that this marabout possesses, but that this hypothesis seemed too preposterous to believe."

Landon nodded.

May I inquire the nature of that hypothesis, monsieur? You may trust me," he added, as Landon hesitated.

"There is no reason why I should not tell you," answered Landon slowly. "The hypothesis is this: To bring about such a world revolution as I believe Ahmed Ammar contemplates will require a vast sum of money. There is no longer any money in Russia—any real money; it has all been squandered. There is none in India; there is none in Constantinople or Angora. War has eaten it all up. But it exists somewhere; we know it, because it is being used."

"You are quite right," Delage agreed. "Please continue, monsieur."

"It has therefore seemed to me," said Landon, "that the only possible explanation of Ahmed Ammar's power is that by some miracle which I cannot understand, he has come into possession of a treasure so vast that it compels obedience. But it seems too absurd."

Delage took a final puff of his cigarette and ground out the end beneath the heel of his slipper.

HAVE NO PLACE TO PUT FAMED BRICK HOUSE

City Now Lacks Site To Place Front Street Mansion

Lack of a site to place the building was said Friday to be delaying moving of the brick house which is the last fort to be conquered in the battle of Front street.

A house mover has made preparations to move the building on a contract with the city which in turn has received court orders to transfer it from public to private property. A dramatic hitch came when the owners of the building refused point blank to evacuate and threatened damage suits if the place fell down on them while being moved.

Until some place is found to where it will be transferred, the matter will remain in status quo.

Oil Gossip

J. A. Tuey, Prairie Pipe Line company, is leaving today for a vacation trip to Kansas City, Mo., with, as he says, emphasis on the "Missouri." Tuey will be relieved by George Huffman of Burkburnett while away.

Five trucks off the road just south of Chalk Hill Thursday afternoon and night managed to block the Archer City-Wichita Falls highway effectively and completely stop traffic between the two cities for a period of more than six hours.

W. B. Hamilton, Texhoma Oil company president, made the trip to Olney yesterday with Judge Bell of the Texas railroad commission.

Frank Guoin, division geologist at Tulsa of the Atlantic Oil Producing company for the past two years, and in charge of Oklahoma and Kansas activities, has resigned to become associated with Harry Hanbury of Duncan, in the oil business. Gouin was previously district geologist of the Atlantic in Southern Oklahoma for four years. Gouin and Hanbry plan to specialize in wildcat operations in choice areas of Oklahoma. Mr. Gouin has had experience extending over nine years in surface and subsurface geology in the Mid-Continent fields, including North Texas, and for the past six years he has specialized in formation work for the Atlantic.

PERMITS ISSUED

Only four building permits were issued Friday by the city clerk, these having a combined valuation of $8,800. All were for minor construction or repair jobs.

More Truth Than Poetry

TO A BEETLE

You fatten, early in the year
On weeds, nor grumble at their flavor,
But when the garden shoots appear
That have more succulence and savor—
You fall upon them tooth and nail;
Your shell encrusted form you nourish
On bean and pea, and sprout and kale,
And leave the weeds to thrive and flourish.

And when more tender plants upraise
Their heads, as sunnier grows the weather,
Upon their fragile shoots you graze,
For days and days and days together.
On things that I can only rear
By labor arduous and intensive—
You make your fare, it would appear,
Because you know they're more expensive.

And now the orchid growers say
That on their frail and lovely flowers
You have descended to display
Your deadly devastating powers.
You long have wanted the most rich
And rare and super-costly diet—
And now you've found the blossoms which
In fullest measure can supply it.

I hope you're satisfied at last—
On orchids all your time bestowing,
Perhaps your eye no more you'll cast
On such cheap truck as I am growing.
The humble bean, the lowly pea,
The shoot and blossom by my door, kid
Are let me say, worth more to me
Than any wealthy fellow's orchid!

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 2.—(AP)—The cotton market was fairly active today and the trend of prices was downward from start to finish, although there were several fair rallies around the middle of the day. The low points were reached towards the end of the morning with prices 33 to 36 points under yesterday's close and after a rally of about 11 to 13 points around noon eased off again in the afternoon duplicating the early lows on the nearer positions and making new lows on the late months. The main depressing influences were the heavy movement of the crop and some rather large private crop estimates. The close showed net losses for the day of 32 to 35 points.

The start was easier in sympathy with lower cables than due and a large private estimate fixing the crop at 14,702,000 bales. First trades showed losses of five to ten points. The first prices remained the highs of the day. The market eased off steadily during the greater part of the morning owing to several large crop estimates and lack of indications of bad weather by the map. During the hour before noon, December traded down to 22.35, January to 22.53 and March to 22.56, or 33 to 35 points below the previous close.

The market rallied during the noon hour on trade buying and prices recovered 11 to 13 points of the loss, but prices weakened again in the last half hour of trading and practically duplicated the earlier lows. The late decline was due mainly to hedge selling and liquidation for over the week-end. Six private estimates were issued during the day, ranging from 13,769,000 bales up to 14,702,000 bales. Hester made the in sight for the week 663,363 bales and the mill takings 263,000 bales. Exports for the day totalled 18,153 and for the week 427,488 bales.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—(AP)—The cotton market today not only lost yesterday's advances but reached new low ground for the movement in late trading. December contracts selling off to 23.02, or 93 points net lower. Closing prices were at the lowest of the day, although the tone was steady at a net decline of 35 to 40 points.

The market opened barely steady at a decline of six to 12 points in response to disappointing cables. Some over night buying orders, with a moderate demand from the trade, gave the market a fairly steady undertone in early trading, but offerings became heavier during midday owing to higher estimates of the crop and reiterated rumors that export engagements for October shipments were relatively lighter than the September business. Covering and further trade buying was in evidence on a scale down but there appeared to be few buyers on the bulges and the late afternoon market was unsettled.

October broke to 23.90 and January to 22.33, net declines of 33 to 40 points on the active months. Hedge selling was more active in late trading, local brokers said and there was probably some re-selling by recent buyers on the increased estimates of the crop, one of which, by a New Orleans authority estimated the indicated yield at 14,500,000 bales.

Six of these private reports were issued during the day, with crop figures ranging from 13,754,000 up to about 14,000,000 bales. The late selling also may have been influenced by the week-end figures showing an increase of 441,609 bales in the world's visible supply of American cotton for the week, compared with an increase of only 285,571 for the same week last year.

Exports for the day were 22,153 bales, making 1,256,736 so far this season. Port receipts 56,302, U. S. port stocks 815,250 bales.

Livestock

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK.

FORT WORTH, Oct. 2.—Although Friday's cattle and calf receipts at the Fort Worth yards were moderate, the supply was larger than last Friday's run, and also greater than the marketing on the corresponding day a year ago. Combined receipts amounted to 4,000 head, against 3,513 for a week ago and 3,144 for a year ago.

Salesmen disposed of their wares at values that were considered just about in line with Thursday's levels. The demand was relatively broad, practically everything being cashed in and headed scaleward early in the forenoon.

In the rest the beef steer trade centered in two cars of fed type at $7.75. The remainder of the steer supply lacked quality and sold mostly under six cents.

Several cars of fairly good cows were offered, but, as usual, mixed shipments were in the majority, and the run consisted mostly of canners, cutters and low priced butcher grades. All kinds were purchased readily. The best cows here sold around $5 to $5.50. Canners went at $3 to $3.25 mostly.

No very good yearlings were available, small lots excepted. Heifer receipts also were meager and offered nothing very attractive.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—(AP)—A wave of bullish enthusiasm engendered by the maintenance of the New York federal reserve rate at 3½ per cent swept over the stock market today bringing about a general recovery of prices. More than a score of issues were elevated to new 1925 high levels on total sales of 2,268,000 shares, a volume exceeded only twice before this year.

Buying orders began pouring into the marketearly in the day with speculative sentiment encouraged not only by the federal reserve director's action but also by intimations from high banking quarters that the soundness of the country's credit position would warrant no early re-adjustment ofthe re-discount rate. Money rates themselves furnished no direct stimulus to buying since call loans held firm at 5 per cent.

The solid foundation which existed for the day's advance was emphasized by the fact that United States Steel regained its leadership of the industrials with a broad public buying movement developing for the other representative issues. The recent violent fluctuations in purely speculative stocks were lacking, although gains of 8 to 11 points were registered by some of the prominent banking issues in response to merger developments. Advances in most ofthe standard industrials ranged from one to four points. Indications of steady expansion in incoming business andthe growing belief that unfilled orders for September will show the first increase in many months furnished the back ground for U. S. Steel's impressive exhibition of strength. The stock reached a new high onthe current movement at 123⅜, five points above the week's low level, and closed 1⅝ points net higher at 122½. American Can, General Electric, American Telephone, Mack Trucks, Baldwin, Sloss-Sheffield Steel and other leaders followed with advances of one to four points.

Outlining the terms for thenew baking merger which, Wall Street has been expecting was the signal for another upward swing in these shares. General Baking moved up four points to around 225, the price offered for the shares under the consolidation plan and Ward Baking "B" was rushed up more than eight points to a new top at 84⅝. Fleischmann indulged in an even more spectacular performance, soaring 13 points to a record high at 141½ and closing only about a point under this level. Buying was promoted b ythe company's acquisition of valuable yeast plans.

Oil and motor shares have good demonstrations of group strength with active accumulation also preceding its announcement of new public utility ad mercantile issues. Pierce Arrow, White Motors, Studebaker, Mack Trucks, Dodge and Chrysler "A" shared their upward movements but General Motors and Hudson lost their early gains in last minute outbreak of profit taking.

Stewart Warner led the accessories with a 3½ point advance.

Oil stocks were benefited by indications that the industry's position was being steadily improved by curtailment of crude production. Marland, Mid-Continent, Pan-American "B" and the General Asphalt issues were in brisk demand through out the day. Other issues which were prominent in the day's advance were Texas Gulf Sulphur, Woolworth, American Linseed, American Agricultural Chemical Havana Electric, Loose Wiles Biscuit and U. S. Realty.

Trading in the railroad shares continued listless but was enlivened in spots by active bidding for Atlantic Coast Line and Seaboard Air Line.

Call money rates remained firm, the renewal rate of five per cent being maintained throughout the day. Time loans remained unchanged at 4½ to 4⅝ per cent and prime commercial paper continued to hold at 4¼. Although the outcome of the French debt funding negotiations was ignored as a stock market factor, it caused a break of about ten points in French francs to below 4.65 cents and a sympathetic reaction in Belgian francs and Italian lire. Demand sterling hovered around $4.83 11-16, the lowest level since Great Britain's return to the gold standard.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Discrediting reports that Russia has been a big purchaser of Canadian wheat, led to a decline in wheat values today after an early advance. Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to one cent lower, new style. December $1.35 to $1.35¼ and May $1.36½ to $1.36⅝, with corn quarter to ⅝ up, oats unchanged and provisions unchanged to 15c down.

Corn and oats were firmer than wheat, helped by the fact that corn receipts are light and that the country is offering no corn to speak of.

Provisions were weakened by a further break in hog values, making the total fall of the hog market $1 for the last three days.

DUN'S REVIEW

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Dun's tomorrow will say:

Expected gains in business are developing more fully, and further expansion in the last quarter of the year is foreshadowed. All sections of the country are participating in the increased activity that has come with the fall season while comparatively few trades fail to disclose progress. Even during the most prosperous period there invariably are some dull spots, but those that appear now do not detract materially from the favorable conditions that prevail elsewhere. Current dispatches from the west and the south bring out more clearly the fact that good financial returns from crops are stimulating consumption of merchandise which is of notably large volume in many instances, and reports of improvement in collections are more general. The insolvency returns reflected the stronger commercial situation with a smaller number of failures in September than in any month for a year and the smallest list for two years and various other statistics make gratifying comparisons.

San Antonio: Cotton seed carlots delivered mills nomally $36 to $37 ton. Little movement.

Texarkana: Wagon load market for prime cotton seed mostly $33 ton and mill market carlots $36. Demand steady.

Market Gossip

Cotton.

Cotton was easy and lower today, in face of many rain reports, covering practically all parts ofthe belt.

Private reports issued today ranged from slightly under 14 million to almost 15,000,000.

Closing prices were at net decelines of 25 to 35 points.

The trade was a fair buyer, but there seems to be a growing belief that the crop will exceed 14,000,000 bales.

It is now, and will remain for the next few days, principally a weather affair.

Cotton Seed Oil.

There seems to be little cotton seed oil for sale, while there is good orders to buy just under market. Spots unchanged, 9.40, seed unchanged, $36.

Dallas seed $38; oil 8¾; hull $10; meal $36; linters 4 ½ to 6 cents.

Grains.

Wheat opened sharply higher, and continued to advance for a time, but after the urgent buying of the morning was satisfied, it dropped about four cents from the higher, and closed about unchanged.

Reports from the northwestand Canada said returns from the thresher are better than expected.

Winnipeg was extremely weak, and refused to follow fully our advance at the opening.

We continue to believe what a sale on all good rallies.

Stocks.

It was a day of activities and advances in stocks. Nearly every share traded in showed more or less of an advance.

Oils were especially strong, on reports of a decrease in gasoline stocks and crude production in August figures just issued.

Marland led the oil group and went to new highs for the year.

Fleischmann was almost buoyant, and advanced to new highs on the announcement of the acquisition of Liberty Yeast company.

Motors also were active, but were more or less of a two-sided affair.

BOSTON WOOL.

BOSTON, Oct. 2.—(AP)—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow:

The tendency of the wool market here has been decidedly upward and increasingly so as the week has progressed. Medium wools are especially strong, but fine wools are advancing also, the net advance being 3 to 5 per cent.

The foreign markets are strong. London is tending lower.

Wichita Company Gets State Contract

The Wichita Wire and Iron company of which H. L. Ayres is owner has contracted for $9,000 worth of wire grills to be placed on the doors and windows of the buildings of the state asylum located here, it was announced yesterday.

The work of placing the new grills will be begun the first of the year, and it is expected to be complete at the end of four months. Ten men will be required to do the work.

The Wichita Wire and Iron company has some new machinery including a "crimper." This machine crimps the wire, cuts it and counts it automatically. Mr. Ayres states that he is buying his supplies from the Petrolia Supply company.

Water Threatens Oklahoma Pools

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 2.—Water is threatening, more and more, the Garber, Braman and Tonkawa oil fields, three of Northern Oklahoma's greatest oil areas. The increase of the saline fluid has cut down Garber's hopes of attaining not only 100,000 barrels a day, but it is also questionable whether it will attain 60,000 a day.

ESCAPES FROM ASYLUM.

Laredo Man Was Charged With Slashing Wife With Knife.

LAREDO, Oct. 2.—Escape of Emilio Madrigal from the Southwestern insane asylum at San Antonio last night was announced here today in a telegram received from the superintendent of the institution by County Judge A. Winslow.

Madrigal was convicted here and senteced to ten years for an attack on his divorced wife, in which she was slashed several times with a knife. Later he was tried in district court on an insanity charge and sent to the asylum.

C. I. A. IS OVERFLOWED.

AUSTIN, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Because the enrollment at the College of Industrial Arts at Denton at the opening of the school was unprecedented, Dr. Lindsay Blayney, president, was here today seeking provision for more instructors. He reported conditions at C. I. A. as good. He declined to say anything about the recent controversy over his administration at the institution.

MISTLETOE CREAMERY BUTTER

High School Big Four Over Top Saturday District One

TOP O' MORN STUFF
By BLONDY CROSS.

QUANAH, Oct. 2.—Southwest grid attention focuses on six games Saturday, five of which will be played in Texas. The Longhorns meet Mississippi U. at Austin, T. C. U. plays Daniel Baker at Fort Worth, Rice takes on Sam Houston normal at Houston, S. M. U. tangles with Abilene Christian college at Dallas, Centennary hooks with Howard Payne at Shreveport, while the Razorbacks of Arkansas university play Iowa in Iowa City.

A concerted pigskin offensive all over the nation swings underway. The so-called "Big Three" engages in warm-up contests with Princeton meeting Amherst, Yale facing Middlebury, and Harvard clashing with Rensselaer Polytechnic.

Army's veterans take on an intersectional rival in Detroit as an opener. Navy may find the opposition stiff with William and Mary.

Red Grange and the Illini may experience a bitter test in their opener with Nebraska. Considerable interest is manifested in this game because of the intersectional tiffs billed later in which the middle westerners go east.

Columbia meets Niagara. Syracuse plays Vermont. Dartmouth and Brown should have no trouble with Hobart and Colby. Pennsylvania, according to Associated Press report, has shifted its backfield for the test against Swarthmore. Penn State takes on Franklin and Marshall Washington and Jefferson meets Marietta college, and West Virginia plays Davis-Elkins.

• • •

STEERS GET TEST

Statistical calculation would lead one to the belief that Doleful Doc Stewart's Longhorns are in for a hilariously huge milling Saturday afternoon when the Orange and White machine, Leo Baldwin and Gerald Coffey of Wichita Falls included, throws out its first line defense and rallies to defend the varsity fortress from the intersectional invasion by "Ole Miss," in off moments alluded to as University of Mississippi.

• • •

FAST MUDDERS, ANYHOW

New here's the dope: The Arkansas Aggies this year, comparative analysis indicates, is just about as good an offensive and defensive team as Southwestern university's Pirate crew, Georgetown, Tex. The figures may be incorrect. Let Texas alumni and varsity studes hope so, anyway.

All right, Ole Miss didn't miss in the least the past week-end when encountering the Aggies on a very muddy field and in a driving rain storm. Spark plugs staid dry, the coils didn't get wet, and Ole Miss hit on all eleven cylinders for a 53 to 0 victory, gathering in 23 first downs to one for the Arkansans.

• • •

Any team that can cover that much territory in an almost blinding rain on a boggy grid, regardless of the ability or lack of ability of the opposing club, is a serious menance to any eleven the Southwest conference can muster.

• • •

Doleful Doc is in his rights when he draws his habitual sigh tonight on the eve of the game and salubriously avers the Longhorns stand a sweet chance of being toppled over. That is, the figures back Doc in his dolefulness this time anyway.

• • •

Personally, it is opinion Texas University gridders have the stuff to turn back Mississippi in what may prove a hard game, and garner the victor's laurels by a fairly neat margin.

• • •

FULTON

They're talking about bringing Fred Fulton back for another match in Wichita Falls. The big fellow's reputation is none too good, and he's been involved in several shady deals of the pugilistic world. But every man makes his mistakes, some more glaring than others. The Minnesota giant proved himself a likeable sort of chap on his recent visit to Wichita Falls, and he declares he's flipped a new leaflet, and is trying to come clean again.

• • •

Fulton, regardless of what a few knockers may hazard, staged the most scientific exhibition seen in a Wichita Falls ring in many months in his bout with Soldier Johnny Lee. The Chicagoan was no match, but you can't blame Fulton for that. The calmness and cool efficiency the Minneapolis miller displayed in disposing of Lee was highly interesting from the ringsiders' viewpoint, and these are the lads who make it pecuniarily possible for the staging of bouts, you know.

• • •

If Fulton is brought back and a formidable opponent obtained for him, the scrap should draw the heaviest house of the year. Incidently the legion, promoting the weekly cards, has realized a rather lean summer.

Sens May Lose Stan for Series

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(AP)—The possibility that Stanley Coveleskie may be unable to participate in the world's series developed today, when after days of treatment, sore muscles in the veteran hurler's back failed to respond favorably to treatment.

Coveleskie, who has been looked upon by Manager Harris to share the bulk of the hurling with Walter Johnson, first felt the soreness in his back during a fielding drill last week. Trainer Martin diagnosed the case as a cold in the back, but customary treatments failed to obtain results. The opinion prevails that the spit baller is suffering from a muscle strain.

RIGLER AND McCORMICK NATIONAL SERIES UMPS

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Charles E. Rigler and Barry McCormick were today appointed as the National league umpires for the world series by President John Heydler. They will have charge of the series together with two umpires to be appointed by President B. B. Johnson of the American league.

NON-CONFERENCE GAMES WILL FOCUS ATTENTION OF SECTION FROM QUANAH TO LOCAL FIELD

Fairpark Will Be Scene of Coyote-Altus Struggle, First of Importance on the Wichita Falls Gridiron

By BLONDY CROSS
Record News Sports Editor.

QUANAH, Oct. 2.—The four major elevens of the southern half of district 1, Texas interscholastic league class A, swing into action Saturday afternoon in non-conference games.

Coach Tom Barnette's Quanah Indians clash with Walter Knox's Childress machine, class B eleven, at Childress. Although the outcome of the contest has no bearing on this year's drive for the Texas high school grid championship there is great interest and much keen rivalry manifested in this particular section.

Vernon high school plays host to Crowell. The Lions this week are proving themselves gluttons for work. Coming out of a tough embroglio Friday With Decatur Baptist college, Coach Baggett sends his club Saturday afternoon against Crowell. Few of the regulars, however, who participated in the Friday contest will be in the vernon line-up. Baggett will throw his second string into action. Vernon, by the way ,this season appears to be short on reserve strength and it is possible the coach will be forced to call on several of the athletes he used in the Decatur affair.

Electra Tigers Ready to Repulse Advance of the Nocona Eleven

Jim Reese's Electra Tigers are all set to repulse the advance of Nocona on the jungle lair. Reese is expected to use practically every man on his squad in this game, the season opener for Electra. The Tigers have the edge and should win, but not by any top heavy yscore. Reese's first stringers will be used only a short period unless the Nocona offense proves exceedingly stronger than the Electra mentor has estimated.

The fourth game of the day is billed for Fair park as one of the features of the Texas-Oklahoma fair opening in Wichita Falls. Bud McCallum's Coyotes are slated to receive a severe test in the non-conference tilt with Altus, Okla. high mole skinners. Coyote reserves played at Archer City Friday afternoon, but more than a sufficient number of regulars and reserve athletes for the Altus scrap was held from the contest by the Wichita Falls coach.

A fair line has been obtained on the strength of Wichita Falls, Electra and Vernon by north Texas football followers, considering the season is still in its infancy and conference openers will not be staged until October 17. Little has been uncovered in connection with prowess of the Quanah eleven. Fact is, there isn't much talk about at present.

Indian Reorganization Watched As Coach Barnette Lays Plans

Coach Barnette is devoting a majority of his practice session to reorganization of his Indians. The club failed to get away very good last week against Ludgate's Burkburnett team, losing 12 to 6. This is Barnette's first season here and he's not hampered by any wealthy supply of material. The club right now looks to be the weakest of the four class A teams. It plays Vernon in the opener of the title race. If the Lions tackled the Indians now there would be a massacre with the Vernon club coming away unscathed. That's our opinion, but Coach Barnette's ideas on the situation differ widely and most overwhelmingly.

We remarked to him, "Those light backs of yours can't hold that Vernon backfield. Why, Baggett's huskies would murder those little fellows, if Vernon ball packers ever sifted through that line, and they'll do that all right, why, then they'll be long gone."

The Indian mentor chuckled, and then with a more or less grim expression on his map, "Say, don't let that worry you. Maybe they could get away on us today, but the game's two weeks off. They'll stop 'em. They'll cut those big fellows back or else."

Barnette has proven himself a very capable football coach and he may do wonders with the Quanah club this year. He took a lighter team (the Quanah eleven is the lightest of this section's class A) at Commerce last year and carried through an undefeated season. They're optimistic here, but the outlook is not any too bright.

Quanah presents the rather unusual situation of an eleven with a fairly hefty line and very light backfield. It is unusual in that the heaviest secondary defense man barely tips the scales at 140 pounds. The rest range between 130 and 135.

"It's an old adage that no matter how good your backfield is, if your line's not up to snuff you just naturally can't make the riffle. But, brother, we're here to tell you, also ,that if your line's strong and your backfield mediocre you're out of luck just the same.

Barnette has two veterans in the backfield, Jack Cox, 132-pound quarter back and Clyde Tapley, 135-pound half. They're fighters and regular leeches when they tackle. But, as you know, the breaks are mighty tough for the good little man who bucks the good big man, and that's what these youngsters will be up against when they hit Vernon, Electra and Wichita Falls. There's a youngster named J. C. Frazier.

Only Weighs Only 125 Pounds, But Is Faster Than Lightning

He's with the club his first season. Weighs only 125 pounds, but he's faster than a streak and fights 'em hard. Jess Allen, first year man, 130 pounds, will see service behind the line, probably. B. B. Welborne, 140-pounder, out the first time with the Indians this season, gets a shot at backfield duty, also. Vernon Clay, 135-pounder who is a letter man at end, is being run some in the backfield.

There you have Quanah's pigskin packers. Full of fight, peppery and fast, but they can't show better than a 133-pound average. Barnette is expecting a great deal from his youngsters, but if these midgets can stand up to the drive and wear which will be forced on them by the much heavier elevens in this section both the coach and his players will have performed the near miraculous.

Quanah is fairly well fortified at the tackle and center positions. Price Beauchamp, 205-pound veteran, flanks one guard; Edward Brewster, 183-pound letter man the other. They are husky and they're scrappers. Oran Edwards, 170-pound veteran, is holding down the midway position. Barnette has a pair of letter men at the wing positions in Byron Hook and Leslie McGough, both 160-pounders. His guards are new, Marvin Klepper, 176-pounder, probably will work on one side of the center and Aulton Edwards, 150-pounder, on the other.

Quanah Will Boast Defensive Club on This Year's Gridirons

The reserve material is light. So it appears that if Barnette never gets a lineman hurt, and this almost veteran forward wall functions so efficiently that end runs are stopped behind the line of scrimmage and line plungers are halted midway, Quanah will boast a great defensive club, provided, of course, the opposition doesn't get away with a good aerial attack. All of which can be relegated to the pigeon hole section where are docketed the well known pipe dreams, air castles and wish I could or couldn't stuff.

Barnette's task seems almost hopeless and the competition too powerful for his sturdy little band of battlers, but you cant' tell them that here in Quanah and get away with it. The battling spirit's here, and what they lack in weight and experience they expect to offset with fight and speed.

BILL M'KECHNIE CONFIDENT PIRATES WILL GRAB SERIES

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 2.—(AP)—Manager William McKechnie of the Pittsburgh Pirates, pennant winners in the National league, declares his team will win the world's series in the games with the Washington Senators.

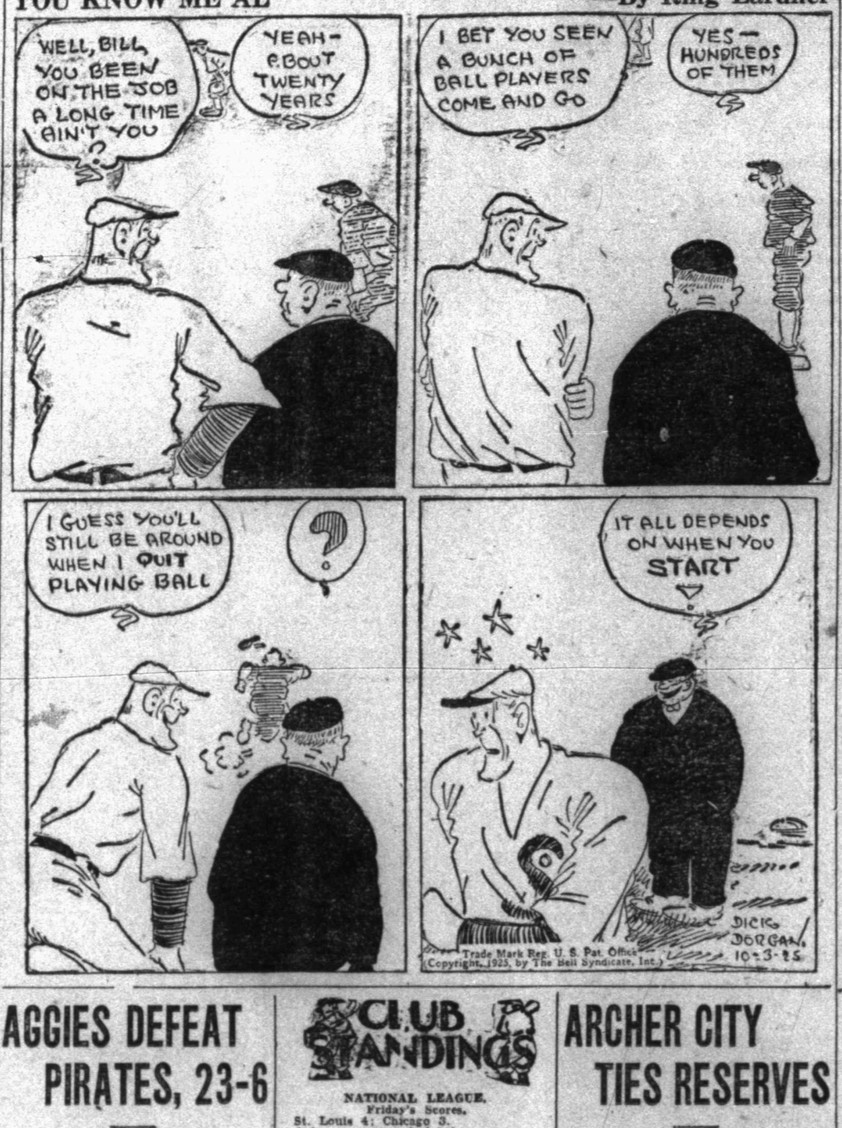

Skipper McKechnie's prediction makes the opinion unanimous among Pirate followers in the tri-state district hereabouts, which is backing the Buccaneers in a manner other than words.

Not sufficient that store windows are displaying hundreds of pictures of the team, the larger the store the larger the picture, that automobiles are carrying Pirate emblems by the thousands, but business men of greater Pittsburgh must arrange a banquet.

It was tendered before the team left for Cincinnati where the last regular games will be played starting today, and tribute after tribute, all filled with a spirit of optimism, was paid the champions after the repast. It came time for Manager McKechnie to say a word and for the first time he made the prediction that his team would defeat the American league entrants.

"It's the old story," said McKechnie. "You can not sing or talk your way through to a pennant. It is certainly gratifying to have the distinction of standing at the head of the National league champions and the world's champions to come. Never before have I made any predictions, but after hearing everybody on all sides confidently expressing the belief that our team is going to capture the bacon, I have decided to start saying it myself, and accordingly I am going to predict to you that we'll bring it home."

AGGIES DEFEAT PIRATES, 23-6

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 2.—The Texas Aggie took the decision from the Southwestern Pirates, 23 to 6, on the football field here today.

Except for a single fumble, which accounted for the only score made by their opponents, the game of the Aggies was unmarred. The second period, Turner, playing quarter for the Farmers, attempted to pass to Willis, the ball was slippery and Willis failed to receive it. Terry, for the Pirates grabbed it from Willis and with Blackburn assisting him, ran 40 yards to goal.

In the second period, Coach D. X. Bible sent in a substitute team for which Hunt scored a field goal from the 32-yard line in the first five minutes. This was their only score, however, in the period. It was against this substitute squad that the Pirates made their touchdown just as the pistol was fired for the end of the half, putting them in the lead, 6 to 3.

The first team which was sent in again at the start of the third period, began with an aggressive spurt, scoring a touchdown in the first five minutes of play. Straight line plunging by Berry, Hunt, McGuire and Woodman accomplished it. The other two touchdowns of the Aggies came in quick succession in the latter part of the last period. Gay, Berry and Edgar worked the first, and Gay, Arnold, Bethe and Turner gained the yardage for the other.

Mustangs All Set For A. C. C. Contest

DALLAS, Oct. 2.—Having closed their scrimmage yesterday in this week's practice, the Mustang squad went through light drill today and summarized the tactics to be used in their second game of the season tomorrow with Abilene Christian college at Dallas.

It is hardly probable that Mann will get into the game Saturday, but Wilkerson, who is expected to be the star punter of the squad, may be in part of the time. Most of the players are in good condition.

The probable starting line-up for the S. M. U. team tomorrow is:

Bell Experiments In Hill Billy Embroglio

FORT WORTH, Oct. 2.—Relying on his younger players, Coach Matty Bell of Texas Christian university tonight awaited tomorrow's football game here with Daniel Baker college of Brownwood.

Bell will experiment after a fashion in tomorrow's contest, since he must prime his machine for the first battle of the season, the clash with Baylor's Bears at the Dallas fair October 12.

CARDS SHADE CUBS, 4-3.

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—(AP)—St. Louis bunched hits off Alexander and Cooper today and defeated Chicago, 4 to 3, in the first game of the final series of the year. Two of the blows off Alexander were home runs by Blades and Torporcer, the latter coming with a man on base. Stewart let the locals down with four hits, three of which were bunched in the fourth inning behind two walks and a hit batsman which gave the Cubs their runs.

ARCHER CITY TIES RESERVES

Coach W. S. Wilson's Archer City eleven battled Coyote reserves to a scoreless tie Friday afternoon on the Archer City gridiron.

The two clubs were very evenly matched with neither team realizing much of an advantage over the other. However, late in the final quarter Wilson's athletes started a march up the field which may have resulted in a score had not the timer's whistle blown, ending the contest. Quarterback Black and Ed Robinson advanced the ball well into Wichita Falls territory on plunges and end runs. Hudson, Archer City right end played a great game. He also worked in the backfield. Morrison, fullback, plunged nicely.

Adams, Wichita Falls quarter, made a number of nice returns on punts.

DISCH WILL SEE SERIES.

AUSTIN, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Billy Disch will leave Saturday for Pittsburgh where he will witness the first game of the world series. The veteran Texas university baseball coach will see all games of the series, his trip being made possible by contributions of university students. It was feared he would not be able to make the trip because of class room duties, but he has been given two weeks leave.

VERNON LIONS STEP ON FAST DECATUR BAPTIST COLLEGE IN HARD-FOUGHT AFFAIR, 9 TO 0

VERNON, Oct. 2.—Vernon students are parading here yelling wildly tonight following the Lions 9-0 victory over Decatur Baptist college's eleven at Fair park this afternoon. Playing a smashing game the Lions kept the play out of their territory throughout the greater part of the contest. Baggett's proteges used off-tackle plays for the most part, attempting the aerial route only three times. After battling almost on even footing in the first quarter, the Lions made the first counter at the beginning of the second period when Ryan placekicked from the 38-yard line after the Vernon club had bucked the line down the field on off tackle plays. The only touchdown of the game was made shortly afterward when Decatur, after being held for three downs deep in the visitor's territory, punted and Crouch of Vernon returned the ball 35 yards for a touchdown.

The Lions had the ball on the collegians' one-yard line on two later occasions, but could not drive it over. The Baptists line was almost impregnable when against the goal line. The visitors had the ball in Vernon's territory only twice when Ford of Decatur returned a punt 25 yards to Vernon's 47-yard line, and later when two passes carried the visitors to Vernon's 32-yard line, they lost the ball when Robinson of Vernon intercepted Waller's pass.

The visitors employed passes frequently. Vernon made seven first downs to the visitor's two.

Crouch stood out in Vernon's backfield while Captain Robinson played a stellar game at center.

RED SOX WALLOW NATS, 11-2.

BOSTON, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Boston made it three in a row over the irregular world's champion Washington club today. The score favored the Red Sox, 11 to 2, with Ehmke coasting along under a big lead from the start. The work of Stewart was the single redeeming feature produced by the Senators. Al Schacht, club comedian, had temporary charge of visitors on the field.

MACKS BEAT YANKS, 10-0.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Philadelphia defeated New York here today, 10 to 0. Jimmy Dykes created what is believed to be a major league record when he made five hits off five pitched balls in five times at bat. Dykes also got a triple and a home run, the latter with two men on. Four of his hits were made off Braxton and one off Pennock. Baumgardner held the Yankees to six scattered hits.

Clarendon College Eleven Defeats Wichita Falls Indians, 25 to 6

BEATTY BUCKS FIERCELY FOR LOSING TEAM

Plunging Attack by Powell And Crow too Much For Tribe

Displaying a real fighting spirit and a smoother running machine than was the case the past week-end when Vernon's Lions toppled them, 39 to 0, Wichita Falls Junior college's Indians battled the powerful Clarendon college eleven hard through every minute of play and held the Bulldogs to a 25 to 6 score Friday on the Spudder park gridiron.

The game was even closer than the score indicates, and it was not until in the final quarter that Clarendon got away to a commanding lead.

Curtis Beatty, Wichita Falls fullback, was a consistent ground gainer. This athlete ploughed the Clarendon line for a good yardage and led the Indian attack. It was greatly due to the plunging ability of Beatty that Wichita Falls was enabled to score its touchdown, Rawls carrying the ball over.

Evan Harris, Tribe left end, waged a hard and progressive defensive game. He enacted spectacular tackles on two occasions, breaking through Bulldog interference and throwing the ball carrier behind the line of scrimmage.

Parker Power on Defense.

Parker, Clarendon right guard, proved a thorn in the Indian side, smearing a number of line plays, and serving as one of the outstanding reasons Wichita Falls failed to score more than one touchdown.

Corbin, quarterback, and Crow, full, accounted for the majority of the Clarendon advances. This pair gained almost at-will on plunges and off tackle plays. Crow picked up a Wichita Falls fumble in the third quarter and ran 34 yards for a touchdown. Corbin intercepted an Indian pass in the fourth quarter and scampered 35 yards for a touchdown.

Clarendon pushed over a touchdown midway in the opening period, advancing almost 50 yards up the field on plunges and forward passes. Powell and Crow bucked the line for 11 yards. A pass, Crow to Corbin, netted eight yards. The Bulldogs were penalized 15 yards for using their hands. Crow then uncorked a pass to Stocking, left end, for a 20-yard gain. Crow and Powell alternated on three line plunges, carrying through to Wichita Falls' three-yard line. The Bulldogs were penalized five yards for offside. Powell hit Wichita Falls' left tackle for four yards. Crow and Powell plugged the line, gaining three more. Then Crow bucked again, squeezing over center for the touchdown. Goal for point after touchdown was missed.

Tied Momentarily.

Wichita Falls tied the count in the third quarter on bucks almost solely by Beatty that carried the ball from the 34-yard line to the goal. Rawls plunged the line twice on the march down the field, and when two yards from the goal ploughed through center for the score. Point after touchdown was again missed.

Following an exchange of punts Wichita Falls had the ball on its own 34-yard line when Rawls in bucking the line, fumbled. It was here that Crow recovered and ran for touchdown.

Plunges by Rawls and Beatty followed by a long forward pass, Thurman to Crites put the ball on Clarendon's 20-yard line in the third quarter. Wichita Falls attempted another pass on the next play and Corbin intercepted, running to the goal for Clarendon's third touchdown. Crow kicked goal.

Plunges by Corbin and Powell started Clarendon from its 40-yard line on another march to the goal late in the period. A forward pass, Crow to Corbin, then netted 45 yards. Datson overtook Corbin from behind making a nice tackle or the Bulldog quarter would have scored on the play. Powell made two yards through the line, and then Corbin carried it over.

Ole Miss Will Give Steers Hard Go, Avers Hazel

Invading Coach Declares Varsity Will Long Remember

AUSTIN, Oct. 2.—After his squad of 22 gridsters had taken a snappy workout on the Texas stadium gridiron, Homer Hazel, former All-American fullback, predicted late today his Mississippi university eleven Saturday would give the Longhorns a battle long to be remembered. "My men will be in there fighting hard and should make a creditable showing," he said.

Attired in track suits, the Longhorns went through a short signal practice, vacating the gridiron before 4 o'clock in favor of the visitors.

Indications are Coach Hazel's team will outweigh the Texans, though the weight advantage will not be considerable. Backfields of each team are speedy, with the Mississippians having a powerful line plunger in Allen, and the Longhorns a line-smasher of like ability in Rufus King.

Probable line-up of the visitors:

Ends, Copen and Salloum; tackles, Applewhite and Smith; guards, Princes and Thompson; center, Burke; quarterback, Mustin; halfbacks, Martin and Cook; fullback, Allen.

Line-up of the Longhorns will be:

Ends, Baldwin and Newell; tackles "Swampy" Thompson and Higgins; guards, Sewell and Penney; center, Pfannkuche; quarterback, Captain Wright; halfbacks, Saxon and Shaffer; fullback, Rufus King.

Louisville has won two games and Baltimore none.

HAWKS OF IOWA PARK HARD DRIVEN BY COACH BREWSTER IN GRUELLING DAILY GRINDS

Return of Bruce Fields, Charging Lineman, Bolsters Squad—Red Smith Shows Fight

By BLONDY CROSS.

QUANAH, Oct. 2.—Iowa Park's gridsters have no game scheduled for this week-end, but that didn't keep Coach R. E. Brewster from driving the Hawks at a fast clip the past several days. Brewster, by the way, will officiate at the Altus-Wichita Falls game Saturday afternoon on the Fairpark field.

The Hawks were pushed through the hardest workout of the year Wednesday. Punting, passing, blocking, running signals, tackling and working on defense and offense took up a gruelling afternoon session.

With the return of Bruce Fields, fast charging lineman of last year's squad, the Hawks were bolstered considerably.

Brewster evidently thinks he needs an end or backfield man as Fields has been doing his stuff at these positions.

The terminals came in for a stiff workout Wednesday. Brewster sent them down time after time on punts, and worked them at killing the interference on end runs.

Two Get Their Share.

Enloe, quarterback, and Burney, half, came in for their share of work because the coach was not satisfied with the punting he got in the Monday game with Archer City.

The Hawks went through another strenuous drill Thursday. Several new men reported for practice. Brewster drove the Birds through a stiff offensive drill. A hard scrimmage was held with much attention being given to team play and line play especially. However, the Iowa Park forward defense was practically impenetrable Monday.

Alvin Smith at end gave a good account of himself in the Thursday workout. Probably no first year man is showing to better advantage than this speedy little red headed wingman who is spilling them behind the line and snaring many passes.

Understudy Is Choice.

Penn, midget quarter who is understudy for Enloe, appears to be Brewster's choice as utility man, because he is being worked at end and half, also. He is a brilliant performer, but lacks seasoning.

With Denny at guard and Douglass at tackle the left side of the line seems to be fixed, and well, at that.

Burney, it was discovered this morning, will be out a few days due to a slight illness. He will be missed, for this weaving, shifty back would look good on anybody's club.

Swanson is handicapped with a sprained ankle. The injury is not serious, but he will be unable to don the moleskins for several days.

The flock were all more or less bruised and battered up following the Thursday scrimmage, for the fight was hard and of an exceedingly high temperature nature throughout. Coach Brewster himself was in uniform, taking a cut at the laggards now and then which, of course, kept the players on the jump and moving faster than ever.

Try Kicking, Too.

Place kicking was given a great deal of attention, also.

On the whole, this little club stacks up as the best we've seen so far this season of the class B elevens. As we remarked in these columns recently, Iowa Park appears to be the class of the lot with Burkburnett serving as a possible exception. Coach Montgomery's Wichita Falls Junior high squad has not rounded into form sufficiently for us to get a line on the potential strength of that team.

Childress Eleven Confident on Eve Of Quanah Game

CHILDRESS, Oct. 2.—The Childress high Bobcats tapered off their first epochal game of the season Saturday when they meet the Quanah Indians here at Fair park at 3 o'clock. The Bobcats are thoroughly fit for the stifest encounter and are going into the game with plenty of confidence. Training since August 20th has put them in excellent condition and much is expected of them Saturday when they are under real fire.

The team will average 165 pounds. The lineup: Rodgers, quarter; Davis, half; Nichols, fullback; Smith, half; Hill and Bybee, ends; Short and huff, tackles; Stribling and Dempsey, guards; and McWhorter center.

TIGERS READY FOR OPENER

Rain prevented Tiger practice on the Electra gridiron Thursday, but Coaches Reese and Coke put their charges through 45 minutes snappy drill on a roadway adjoining the gridiron. The Tigers took a fast workout Friday and are all set for the opening encounter of the season this afternoon at Electra with Nocona.

Captain Pug Sanderlin, injured the past week-end, will be replaced by Joel Melton or Lewis Kent at end with Mike Brown a probable starter at the other wing. The rest of the squad is in pretty good condition.

Alexa Plays Glenna In Title Golf Round

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 2.—(AP)—An international match between Mrs. Alexa Stirling Fraxr of Ottawa, Canada, and Glenna Collett of Providence, will decide the 29th women's national golf championship at the St. Louis Country club tomorrow as both women won today in matches so closely contested that one of them ended on the home green and the other went 19 holes.

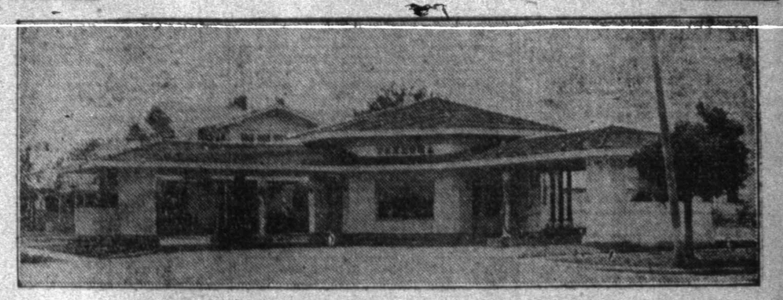

Mrs. Frazr, who held the title for five successive years while a resident of Atlanta, closed her semi-final match with Louise Fordyce of Youngstown by sinking a 40 foot putt on the 19th green for an eagle 3, while Miss Collett, champion in 1922, had to score one better than par for 18 holes to win by 1 up from Edith Cummings of Chicago, who won the title in 1923 by defeating Alexa Stirling in the finals.

Long Stretch Behind Steel Bars Of Texas Penitentiary Confronts Alvin Ireland, Bold Bank Robber

Prison Agent Comes to Take Man Who Looted Dundee And Loving Banks and Who Later Broke Out of Archer Jail

A long, hard stretch behind steel bars will start today for Alvin Ireland, bank robber and jail breaker in whose short and turbulent career has been crowded with sufficient action to furnish material for a whole series of Diamond Dick novels.

Manacled in substantial looking cuffs and chains, Ireland left Wichita Falls Friday afternoon in charge of Bud Russell, agent from the state prison at Huntsville. He will be signed in Saturday to start a 20-year stretch imposed last summer for his part in the robbery of the First State bank at Dundee last November.

Ireland with four other youths was arrested last fall a few days after the Dundee and Loving bank robberies. He was subsequently indicted, tried, convicted and sentenced, but was kept in jail at Archer City pending higher court action on his appeal. Finding confinement irksome, he and two companions sawed their way to freedom about three weeks ago and enjoyed ten days of freedom. Then he was captured by a posse which raided the Holliday creek bottom south of Wichita Falls.

By breaking jail and failing to return voluntarily in 10 days, Ireland forfeited his right to appeal and necessary court papers asking for his committment to prison to begin serving his sentence were prepared here. These were approved and Friday the penitentiary agent appeared to take Ireland to Huntsville.

Scientist Tells What Keeps The Worlds in Place

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—(AP)—In a statement issued today Captain T. J. J. See, professor of mathematics, United States navy, and government astronomer at Mare Island, said that he had completed confirmation of the ether wave theory as an explanation of the physical cause of universal gravitation.

Despite the highly attenuated form of ether, making it entirely imperceptible to the senses of man, there is so much of it that its weight and its waves serve to hold in place the countless suns and planets throughout the universe, he said.

Professor See referred to the ether as "the world gas" and further said: "Its particles travel 57 per cent faster than light or 294,000 miles per second; it is 689,321,600,000 times more elastic than air in proportion to its density; the rapid flight of the etheron, the most minute particle in existence, accounts for the velocity of light and the bending of radio waves about the earth."

WORK ON MUNY LINKS

Start Sodding Grass Greens In New South Side Park.

Work has started on sodding grass greens on the Municipal Golf club course in the city's new south side park and it is hoped that the first nine holes will be in shape for play by spring. It is a long and difficult task to obtain a proper blanket of the special grass needed on putting greens. The park department, however, has equipped itself for the work and this will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

The full 18 holes will eventually be converted into grass greens.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—(AP)—A theoretical enemy attacked Fort Leavenworth, Kan., this morning. Twenty-six minutes later army officers in New York were inspecting a photograph of the "attack" taken from an airplane flying over the scene.

The pictures were sent during tests of a new army air service invention by which photographs were taken and developed in the air by a special process. Simultaneously the photographs were flashed to New York, San Francisco and Chicago.

HEREFORD, TEX., AREA IN GREAT BUILDING BOOM

Thousands of Acres Of Ranches Being Cut Into Farms

The greatest colonization and development program ever attempted in the Texas Panhandle is now under way in Deaf Smith, Parmer, Castro and nearby counties, T. D. Moss of Hereford, declared here today. Moss is here with the Deaf Smith county agricultural exhibit which he has entered in the Texas-Oklahoma fair, which started Saturday October 3.

Crops are the best in the history of that section, and more than 250,000 acres of land are under colonization in the immeditae vicinity of Hereford, Moss avers.

"We have raised bountiful grain sorghum, wheat, livestock and poultry crops in Deaf Smith county this year—and the same applies to all that country around Hereford," Moss says. "Deaf Smith county has about 15,000 acres in cotton alone, from which we expect a crop of around 5,000 bales.

"Shipments of poultry and eggs out of Hereford from September 1924 to September 1925 amounted to $100,000, shipments of milk and cream reached a like total, and grain, livestock and general farm crops have been wonderful.

Selling Land.

"The Capitol Syndicate which took over a giant strip of Northwest Texas land in payment for building the Texas Capitol, is selling 203,000 acres of land in Deaf Smith and Parmer counties in small tracts. The purchases are limited to a section of land to the farmer, and there is a stipulation that improvement must begin in 60 days after date of purchase. The tracts have been cut up into 100-acre plots, although many new arrivals are buying 80-acre tracts and setting up homes, plowing the fields and beginning actual farming operations. Many of the land owners are improving the land as they sell it in order to promote development of that section of the state.

"There are 30 wells pumping anywhere from 1,500 to 2,000 gallons of water a minute, which were used for irrigation in Deaf Smith county this year. Hundreds of acres of the land now being colonized are in the famous Hereford shallow water belt, which is good for fine irrigation water, free from alkali and minerals which injure crops and soil.

New Town.

"A new town, Flagg, has sprung up in the center of the 35,000 acre Flagg ranch in Castro county which is being opened to colonization. The town already has a lumber yard, three or four business houses and a filling station, although it is situated many miles from a railroad. The Flagg ranch is owned by C. T. Herring of Amarillo, who some years ago established the Herring National bank at Vernon.

"The J. E. Hill ranch of about 7,000 acres, the Mormon ranch of 6,100 acres, the Borden ranch of 6,000 acres, are among the big ranches being cut up and sold in farm plots.

"That section of Texas has begun to realize the dream of scientific farming men for diversification. Giant ranches that once were devoted exclusively to the raising of cattle, are being made to produce a variety of farm crops, poultry, highbred livestock and grain. Ranchmen are beginning to realize that to stake all their money in a herd of cattle is not a safe and sane business proposition when livestock prices are fluctuating widely.

Deaf Smith county will make a strong bid for prizes at the Texas-Oklahoma fair here. At the recent Abilene fair Deaf Smith won 17 first prizes and seven second places, out of 32 entries of individual stuff. This was the best record of any county competing at the West Texas fair. Deaf Smith tied with Randall for second place in the county exhibits at the Tri-State exposition just closed at Amarillo, in which 19 counties were entered in the agricultural contests. The entire Panhandle section is watching with interest the outcome of the Randall and Deaf Smith exhibits here.

STILL FALL FOR IT.

Church Man Says Many Believe in So-Called Faith Healing.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—(AP)—In a report prepared for the joint commission of Christian healing of the Protestant Episcopal church, Dr. Edgar S. Cowles, director of the Park Avenue hospital, asserted that the ignorance and superstition of the middle ages exists in the church today in the guise of "miraculous" cures and faith healing.

Marihauna Crazed Men Attack Girl

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 2.—After escaping from an angry mob following an unmerciful beating administered Lena Rodriguez, two marihuana-crazed men Thursday night attacked Motorcycle Officer Edwards when he sought to arrest them for speeding.

The men drug the girl from her parked automobile and beat her into unconsciousness, fleeing as angry spectators attempted to capture them. Unaware of the attack on the girl, Officer Edwards started in pursuit of the fleeing car, halting it only after firing several shots in the air.

The two men attacked the officer when given a bond to sign and he was forced to draw his gun to subdue them. They were booked on charges of aggravated assault.

DEATH ENDS VIGIL

Ben Turpin Had Stayed at Bedside Of Wife For Months.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Oct. 2.—(AP) Ben Turpin's long vigil at the bedside of his invalid wife was at an end today. The motion picture comedian abandoned his motion picture work when Carrie Lemieux Turpin became seriously ill last December and the call of the camera was unheeded month after month as he cared for the woman who would accept no other ministrations but his. Death has ended her suffering.

The Turpins were married in Chicago about 18 years ago and Mrs. Turpin worked with her husband on the legitimate stage and later in pictures. They were brought to Hollywood 10 years ago by Charlie Chaplin. Mrs. Turpin will be buried tomorrow.

Long Stretch Behind Steel Bars Of Texas Penitentiary Confronts Alvin Ireland, Bold Bank Robber

Prison Agent Comes to Take Man Who Looted Dundee And Loving Banks and Who Later Broke Out of Archer Jail

A long, hard stretch behind steel bars will start today for Alvin Ireland, bank robber and jail breaker in whose short and turbulent career has been crowded with sufficient action to furnish material for a whole series of Diamond Dick novels.

Manacled in substantial looking cuffs and chains, Ireland left Wichita Falls Friday afternoon in charge of Bud Russell, agent from the state prison at Huntsville. He will be signed in Saturday to start a 20-year stretch imposed last summer for his part in the robbery of the First State bank at Dundee last November.

Ireland with four other youths was arrested last fall a few days after the Dundo and Loving bank robberies. He was subsequently indicted, tried, convicted and sentenced, but was kept in jail at Archer City pending higher court action on his appeal. Finding confinement irksome, he and two companions sawed their way to freedom about three weeks ago and enjoyed ten days of freedom. Then he was captured by a posse which raided the Holliday creek bottom south of Wichita Falls.

By breaking jail and failing to return voluntarily in 10 days, Ireland forfeited his right to appeal and necessary court papers asking for his committment to prison to begin serving his sentence were prepared here. These were approved and Friday the penitentiary agent appeared to take Ireland to Huntsville.

Scientist Tells What Keeps The Worlds in Place

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—(AP)—In a statement issued today Captain T. J. J. See, professor of mathematics, United States navy, and government astronomer at Mare Island, said that he had completed confirmation of the ether wave theory as an explanation of the physical cause of universal gravitation.

Despite the highly attenuated form of ether, making it entirely imperceptible to the senses of man, there is so much of it that its weight and its waves serve to hold in place the countless suns and planets throughout the universe, he said.

Professor See referred to the ether as "the world gas" and further said:

"Its particles travel 57 per cent faster than light or 294,000 miles per second; it is 689,321,600,000 times more elastic than air in proportion to its density; the rapid flight of the etheron, the most minute particle in existence, accounts for the velocity of light and the bending of radio waves about the earth."

WORK ON MUNY LINKS

Start Sodding Grass Greens In New South Side Park.

Work has started on sodding grass greens on the Municipal Golf club course in the city's new south side park and it is hoped that the first nine holes will be in shape for play by spring. It is a long and difficult task to obtain a proper blanket of the special grass needed on putting greens. The park department, however, has equipped itself for the work and this will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

The full 18 holes will eventually be converted into grass greens.

HEREFORD, TEX., AREA IN GREAT BUILDING BOOM

Thousands of Acres Of Ranches Being Cut Into Farms

The greatest colonization and development program ever attempted in the Texas Panhandle is now under way in Deaf Smith, Parmer, Castro and nearby counties, T. D. Moss of Hereford, declared here today. Moss is here with the Deaf Smith county agricultural exhibit which he has entered in the Texas-Oklahoma fair, which started Saturday October 3.

Crops are the best in the history of that section, and more than 250,000 acres of land are under colonization in the immeditae vicinity of Hereford, Moss avers.

"We have raised bountiful grain sorghum, wheat, livestock and poultry crops in Deaf Smith county this year—and the same applies to all that country around Hereford," Moss says. "Deaf Smith county has about 15,000 acres in cotton alone, from which we expect a crop of around 5,000 bales.

"Shipments of poultry and eggs out of Hereford from September 1924 to September 1925 amounted to $100,000, shipments of milk and cream reached a like total, and grain, livestock and general farm crops have been wonderful.

Selling Land.

"The Capitol Syndicate which took over a giant strip of Northwest Texas land in payment for building the Texas Capitol, is selling 203,000 acres of land in Deaf Smith and Parmer counties in small tracts. The purchases are limited to a section of land to the farmer, and there is a stipulation that improvement must begin in 60 days after date of purchase. The tracts have been cut up into 160-acre plots, although many new arrivals are buying 80-acre tracts and setting up homes, plowing the fields and beginning actual farming operations. Many of the land owners are improving the land as they sell it in order to promote development of that section of the state.

"There are 50 wells, pumping anywhere from 1,500 to 2,000 gallons of water a minute, which were used for irrigation in Deaf Smith county this year. Hundreds of acres of the land now being colonized are in the famous Hereford shallow water belt, which is good for fine irrigation water, free from alkali and minerals which injure crops and soil.

New Town.

"A new town, Flagg, has sprung up in the center of the 35,000 acre Flagg ranch in Castro county which is being opened to colonization. The town already has a lumber yard, three or four business houses and a filling station, although it is situated many miles from a railroad. The Flagg ranch is owned by C. T. Herring of Amarillo, who some years ago established the Herring National bank at Vernon.

"The J. E. Hill ranch of about 7,000 acres, the Mormon ranch of 6,100 acres, the Borden ranch of 6,000 acres, are among the big ranches being cut up and sold in farm plots.

"That section of Texas has begun to realize the dream of scientific farming men for diversification. Giant ranches that once were devoted exclusively to the raising of cattle, are being made to produce a variety of farm crops, poultry, highbred livestock and grain. Ranchmen are beginning to realize that to stake all their money in a herd of cattle is not a safe and sane business proposition when livestock prices are fluctuating widely.

Deaf Smith county will make a strong bid for prizes at the Texas-Oklahoma fair here. At the recent Abilene fair Deaf Smith won 17 first prizes and seven second places, out of 32 entries of individual stuff. This was the best record of any county competing at the West Texas fair. Deaf Smith tied with Randall for second place in the county exhibits at the Tri-State exposition just closed at Amarillo, in which 19 counties were entered in the agricultural contests. The entire Panhandle section is watching with interest the outcome of the Randall and Deaf Smith exhibits here.

Marihauna Crazed Men Attack Girl

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 2.—After escaping from an angry mob following an unmerciful beating administered Lena Rodriguez, two marihuana-crazed men Thursday night attacked Motorcycle Officer Edwards when he sought to arrest them for speeding.

The men drug the girl from her parked automobile and beat her into unconsciousness, fleeing as angry spectators attempted to capture them. Unaware of the attack on the girl, Officer Edwards started in pursuit of the fleeing car, halting it only after firing several shots in the air.

The two men attacked the officer when given a bond to sign and he was forced to draw his gun to subdue them. They were booked on charges of aggravated assault.

ROMANCE AND THE FAIR

All A-Flutter For Tonight's Brilliant Coronation

By PEGGY

AS THE date for the coronation of the queen of the Texas-Oklahoma fair approaches, with its attendant social functions, Wichita feminity all are a flutter about suitable gowns for the various occasions. On every corner the whisper is heard, "what are you going to wear to the coronation and pageant?" Or, have you selected your dress and hat yet for the Queen's tea?" Local dressmakers and designers are swamped with last minute orders and the women's shops are busy places these days. Everywhere a group of women are found talking, the ever interesting subject of clothes is discussed.

* * * *

SPEAKING of the coronation ceremonies, reminds us that on two other occasions Wichita Falls society was in a like stir, only those in the stellar roles have since scattered, some of the former debutants married and live in other cities and climes, where they have established a home of their own.

One in particular we have in mind is Mrs. Nathan B. Reynolds of the "9R" ranch eighteen miles from Snyder, Texas, who, with her lovely cousin, Francis Harris, were members of the royal court at the first Texas-Oklahoma fair when Louise, of the House of Montgomery was crowned Queen Louis I of the Texas-Oklahoma fair. Mrs. Reynolds before her marriage was Josephine Mayfield, one of Wichita Falls fairest and most popular debutants. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mayfield, is a frequent visitor here with her parents and old friends.

* * * *

QUEEN LOUISE I is now Mrs. Stayon Bonner, prominent in the younger married set, while her maid of honor, Lulu Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clint Wood, second lady in the realm of the first T-O fair court, and described as charming in a gown of platinum lace over a salmon chiffon with court train of salmon colored silver cloth bound with gray panne velvet and caught at the shoulders with cut steel buckles. Her staff was of coral, harmonizing with the gown. The attractive maid of honor of this first elaborate pageant, is now Mrs. Raymond Myers, another one of Wichita Falls most popular matrons.

She Visits Us

Mrs. Nathan B. Reynolds, nee Josephine Mayfield of the "9R" ranch near Snyder, who is the guest of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mayfield on Filmore street.

IT HAS been said many times that truth is stranger than fiction, and that romance lurks in every crack and corner. Reading over the story of the first coronation ceremonies we find that another lovely debutant of that year was Sara Dale of Henrietta, who was one of the duchesses representing neighboring cities. Fred B. Humphries is given as her escort. Their wedding at the Dale home in Henrietta being a social event the following June. Mrs. Humphries and her small daughter, Sara Ann, are now guests at the home of her parents (who have moved here), Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Dale, on Huff avenue and will remain until after the fair.

All About Junior College

A large number of applications have been received since the Blue Curtain club announced Wednesday that petitions would be considered for membership. These applications will be passed upon at the next meeting Monday morning at 9:30. Applicants will be given try-outs during next week.

Rev. and Mrs. Fred T. Datson were hosts to the Good Fellowship league at a weiner roast on the lawn of the First Episcopal church Thursday evening.

Those enjoying the delightful affair were: Mrs. C. H. Rugeley, Marie Harris, Isabel Marsh, Florence Datson, Eleanor Spaulding, Rev. and Mrs. Datson, J. H. Allison, John Stiles, Frank Rugeley, Jake Calvert, Isador Cohen, Emmett Bauknight, Gordon Brown, Jerry Vinson, Leland Miller.

Evan Harris, president of the senior class of the Junior college, will appoint his committee to select and order the class rings for 1926 this week.

The Junior College Boys Glee club held their first meeting of the year Friday morning and decided to hold their election of officers at the next regular session a week later. Plans for the year were discussed, and Miss Winifred Alvis, sponsor, expects to have a successful club of singers.

The College Men's Speaking club met Thursday evening under chairman Jerry Vinson. "The Art of Public Speaking" was the excellent address by Emmett Bauknight.

Isador Cohen gave the report of the name selection committee. The decision was deferred until the next meeting when the new chairman, Emmett Bauknight will preside. The new members were admitted Vernon McGee, Price McCully and Gordon Brown.

Four hundred and fifty girls attended the meeting Friday of the High school and Junior college Girl Reserve club. This is the largest attendance on record and indicates an enthusiastic year's work, Miss Juanita Kinsey, sponsor of the club, said.

Miss Louise Kelley received a creditable report on the 1925 High school annual, "The Coyote," which she entered in the Central Interscholastic Press Association competition. Out of a possible 1,000 points, the annual made a grade of 968.

This association is sponsored by the "Scholastic Editor," a publication of the University of Wisconsin which holds a yearly contest on high school and college publications in the United States. The Coyote was rated as a "The First Class High School Publication."

The Speakers club held its initial meeting of the season with the president, Fred Couper presiding and giving the welcome address. Eleanor Fleming read some original poems; Evelyn Hardeman talked on "Ideals of the Club," James Williams, treasurer, gave a financial statement, and Harriett Peterson read "All These Shall Pass Away."

WHY CHILDREN FAIL, IS TOPIC OF CANTWELL

Says Lack of Attention, Diet and Physical Defects to Blame

"Why Children Fail" was the subject of the address given by Dr. J. W. Cantwell, superintendent of public schools before the Alamo Parent Teacher Association Friday afternoon when more than 200 mothers were present for the initial meeting.

Dr. Cantwell named the causes as lack of attention, physical defects, refusal to work, wrong habits of study, lack of a proper place to study, where parents do not provide a place for the child and wrong food.

The speaker presented a chart to the mothers and teachers showing the children of Junior high, the seventh grade of 1924, and of 1925, and of Alamo school for 1925. The charts were of the ranking of children, normal, above normal and below normal.

Mrs. Grace Ashbaugh of St. Louis talked on "Diet."

Reports were made by several chairmen. Mrs. T. H. Lawson persided at the meeting.

The teachers of Alamo school and Mrs. H. J. Streif, chairman of the membership committee were in the receiving line, and each mother became acquainted with the teachers of her child.

The devotional was led by Mrs. Milton Johnson. Miss Dorothy Burks and with Mrs. E. H. Gipson of Vernon playing her accompaniment.

Pick Nominating Board for C. of C.

A committee composed of Horrace Robbins, Herbert Voelcker, Jack Barnard, A. M. Miller, Ed Howard, J. M. Garber and Gene Leopold was elected Friday at a membership meeting of the chamber of commerce and charged with the responsibility of nominating a slate of 20 Wichita Falls business men from which five will be elected next January as directors of the chamber.

A report on the activities of the chamber's publicity department the past year was given by Hubert Harrison, general manager of the chamber, who revealed that $17,076.04 had been expended for publicity matters since Jan. 1, 1925.

"Hail The Queen"

Her Royal Majesty, Catherine, of the House of Moore of Wichita

WITH a fanfare of trumpets and on a light-flecked stage of shifting color they crowned the queen last night.

Court held sway in royal splendor—a court of medevial beauty rising high through a path of dancing light to the purple-topped throne where Miss Catherine Moore as queen of the Texas-Oklahoma fair, ruled at It was a union, so the prime minister said, symbolic of the commerce, trade and friendship of the two great commonwealths of the southwest; and it was a union, so the crowd said, fitting and commensurate in beauty and brilliance with the high place these sister states hold in the ranks of the states of the nation.

It was a picture, or rather a study, in light, color, beauty and harmony. It was one vast ensemble of crimsons, purples, golds and whites a kaledioscopic pattern of tints that were banked against a moonlit sky and glowed with a soft-hued sheen under the searching glare of spotlights. The stage was of the orthodox type, but the wings stretched out into the night on either side; the central grouping of gorgeously clad figures was canioped only with a few fleecy clouds high overhead. The orchestra pit was a white-fenced track; and the audience, rising row after row in the big gandstand of the grounds, furnished the final mass effect needed to complete the sketch.

In this setting, then, the queen was crowned.

At her side as the coronet of Rhinestones and pearls was settled on her head, was King Rex, in full dress suit—A. H. Britain. He sat on her right in regal style as the coronation was completed, while grouped at the feet of the couple was the court, princesses and duchesses come from the southwest's far flung borders to do honor to the queen and grace Texas' pageant with the beauty of Texas' own maids.

Those who conceived and staged the coronation and pageant Saturday night wrought better than they knew. As a climax to the first day of the fourth annual exposition the colorful ceremonies of night were more than adequate. They stamped it all with a hallmark of quality which, while patterned on a social frame, had a practical angle as well. It provided an outlet for society's splurge and in so doing typified in a pleasing way the thing the Texas-Oklahoma fair social amity between the two states giving it its name.

It was 8:30 o'clock and after before the program really got under way. A crowd of 3,000 or more filled all but the outer edges of the grandstand. Almost that many more persons, incidentally, were along the midway and in the various exhibit buildings at the same time. It was a satisfactory throng for the opening night.

The king got lost, it seems, and his queen and court waited somewhat anxiously until he put in an appearance. In the meantime the Chicago Cadet band in front of the grandstand supplied diversion with music, instrumental and vocal. Then a cornet blared a military bar, spotlights in front and on either side of the stage flared and Miss Audrey Sadie Kemp and Miss Reva Ray Brown, armed with slender trumpets, stalked to the stage and announced that the ceremony was starting. While the band roared and the crowd applauded, the king walked out, flanked on either side by a herald, and mounted to his seat on the lofty throne. Then—

"The prime minister of the Texas-Oklahoma fair, the Honorable R. E. Shephed, mayor of Wichita Falls and secretary of the fair association, J. Wilkie Talbert in stentorian tones thus introduced the genial Shep, who, attired like the king, in full dress, joined his peer.

Then the real show began.

Wichita Falls perhaps never saw so much royalty in one evening before. "The Princesse of Wichita Falls," seven of them, were next presented.

"Lady Elizabeth of the House of Brown," the announcer called, and Lady Elizabeth in glittering court attire stolled down a path of light laid by the electric arcs, turned, faced the audience, bowed low, mounted to the foot of the throne, saluted the king above and then took her station on the side of the purple incline leading to the place of honor.

"Lady Mary of the House of Tancred," came the next call, and Lady Mary, appearing in another direction, paraded to the stage while another light spread a sparkling carpet at her feet.

Lady Margaret of the House of Smith, Lardy Mary of the House of Allison, Lady Elvia of the House of Killingsworth, Lady Fay of the House of Boyd and Lady Alma of the House of Willis followed in the order named. They ranged down on either side from the king and prime minister on the throne, forming a many hued outline on the steps of the queen's abode. Their dresses were of all shades. All were gorgeous, Most of them carried staffs and the ensemble as it was finally arranged gave the first touch of color to the larger canvass that was completed later.

There were seven of these princesses, and then came seven more, duchesses this tim, sent from the city's neighbors and from points still further away.

"Lady Inez of the House of Francis, duchess of Seymour, Texas," the announcer cried while Lady Inez followed the beaten pathway to the stage.

Lady Charles Etta of the House of Vestal, duchess of Quanah, Texas, appeared; then Lady Nellie of the House of Parromore, duchess of Abilene; Lady Thelma of the House of Spurgeon, duchess of Frederick, Okla.; Lady Frances of the House of Frey, duchess of Chickasha, Okla.; Lady Hermith of the House of Johnson, duchess of Bowie; and Lady Adelaide of the House of Wienrich, duchess of San Antonio.

With these on the stage, all was set for the entrance of the queen—or rather everything was almost set. The special maid of honor to the queen was yet to be presented and it was her turn next. Her identity had been kept secret but it was Miss Marguerite Duncan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Duncan, who appeared.

She was clad in a gown of gold crepe trimmed with crystal beads that carried out the color scheme of the peacock. Her court train was of purple satin, lined with gold and dropping from a Medici collar of silver lace. She wore purple slippers with rhinestone buckles and her headdress was of rhinestones and gold and purple jewels. She carried a slender silvered staff.

At the foot of the thone she bowed, then hurried to the top while the trailing train formed a purple band reaching almost to the bottom of the steps.

The stage was really set then.

Until this time no one knew who the queen was to be. That is, no one except those in charge, of course. The rest found out right here.

"Her Royal Highness, Miss Catherine Moore, queen of the Texas-Oklahoma fair," the master of ceremonies called, and her royal highness forthwith appeared. She is the daughter of Judge and Mrs. W. M. Moore, the former being president of the fair association this year.

Preceding her was little Miss Olive Daugherty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Daugherty, who carried the bejeweled crown.

The queen was dressed in a gown of white lace embroidered with silver threads over satin with trimmings of rhinestones. Her long court train was edged with ermine and appliqued in hand-made flowers formed of silver ribbon and spangles and beaded with rhinestones. It hung from her shoulders where it was caught with a Medici collar of silver lace trimmed with jewels. She wore white satin slippers and carried a jeweled staff.

As she mounted the steps the king arose to receive her. She was led to the throne and there, with all the ceremoney he could command, the prime minister set the jeweled crown on her head.

"As signifying the union of Texas with her sister state of Oklahoma in commerce, in trade and in friendship, I, R. E. Shepherd, mayor of Wichita Falls, crown you as queen of the realm,' he said.

Thus it was concluded and thus the picture was complete.

But the most pretentious part was yet to come.

"Texas," a pageant rich in historical lore, was the big climax. It was a visualization of the early history of the territory now comprising the Lone Sta State and it depicited those periods when the land was under Spanish, French and Mexican rule; during the colonial period; the Confederate and reconstruction period and finally the present day.

It was a little too elaborate to permit of detailed description here, but it started with a rendition of Verdi's celebrated "Anvil Chorus," sung by the men's chorus of 100 under the direction of Alva Wilgus. The chorus, after its rendition, became a part of the queen's court.

Then followed a garland dance by 40 tiny youngsters and then the historical angle was presented.

W. B. Hamilton was the standard bearer for the period and rode astride a spirited steed, holding a huge banner of the period from 1492 to 1821 during which time Spain claimed this section.

For the feature dance of the period, Miss Anita Moore was a lithe and flashing figure of white that pirouted over the stage while the court looked on approvingly.

Later there was another standard bearer, Mrs. George Keith depicting the French period from 1685 to 1803, and with her was another solo dancer, Miss Zona Marie Ehlert, who skipped on tip toe over the padded planks at the foot of the throne.

A violin rendition of La Paloma, played by Clyde Brewer with guitar accompainment by Misses Jean and Josephine Fisk, was the Mexican period's offering after Horace Robbins had ridden in as standard bearer.

The republic colonial period, 1836 to 1845, had as its standard bearer Mrs. Horace Robbins and as its

—Now glowed the firmament
With living sapphires; Hesperus, that led
The starry host, rode brightest, till the moon,
Rising in clouded majesty, at length
Apparent queen, unveiled her peerless light,
And o'er the dark her silver mantle threw.

Wealthy Beer Runner Again Behind Bars After DeLuxe Term

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—(AP) Terry Druggan and Frank C. Lake, wealthy beer runners and "out again, in again" servers of jail sentences at so much an "out," today were "in," this time for good, but two United States deputy marshals lost their jobs in the process.

Walter G. Zippman and A. C. Pollock, federal deputies assigned to take Druggan to the jail at Sycamore, Ill., were discharged by United States Marshall Palmer G. Anderson after Sheriff Edwin Crawford of Sycamore reported one of them had been drinking during the trip which took more than seven hours.

The guards and Druggan said an automobile accident had delayed them. But William Beary, Sycamore deputy, said he smelled liquor when the party arrived at the jail. Marshal Anderson said stronger punishment would follow the discharge if the law permitted.

Eleven Lost Jobs.

Elevn fdral and county officials have lost their jobs since the jail scandal of Druggan and Lake's liberties while serving sentences came to light, resulting from their freedom while serving a year's contempt sentence.

Even in his journey to his new quarters Terry was a jonah for newspaper men and the deputies who accompanied him. The scribes saw him leave the federal building at 4 o'clock for Sycamore, 57 miles away. Hours passed and anxious reporters at the jail had no sight of Terry or his guards.

Midnight neared before they arrived in a different automobile and with a man and woman, who left at once. Terry wanted a physician.

"We turned over," he asserted and the guards, Zippman and Pollack, echoed the story.

"My left ankle is sprained, my arm is hurt and my head feels funny," said Terry.

They Get Angry.

A newspaperman who had kept patient vigil made a remark about "a last fling and possible drinking to which Zippman retorted angrily. Sheriff Edwin Crawford ejected the deputy, examined Terry and found a bruised leg and thrust him into a cell.

"In the morning" said the sheriff, "the jail physician will look at you in your cell."

But Terry got the "break" over his buddy, Lake, in the jail assignment. His cell is lace curtained and said to be the cleanest in Illinois. The Wheaton jail is old, without the facilities for recreation and privacy Terry could boast of in his quarters. The keeper of the keys at Wheaton is the father of "Red" Grange, Illinois football star.

Terry today faced the beginning of serving in jail as it is popularly conceived. There will be no hundred trips to the dentist, no visits to banks, cafes or country estates as evidence said or hinted he enjoyed in the Cook county jail. The lace curtains and comfortable beds are the only frills of the jail at Sycamore.

Up At 6 A. M.

"Just like every other prisoner," said Sheriff Crawford, "he'll get up at 6 a. m. and eat just the ordinary jail breakfast. At 6:30 a. m. he'll get out with the other prisoners and mop the floors. He'll eat oat meal and mush and whatever else is on the menu at dinner and soup and rice and nourishing stuff like that we have for supper.

"If he wants medical attention the jail doctor will care for him and the jail dentist can fix his teeth. He'll get the same as the others. He can have a prayer book and a Bible, that's all."

Besides, Terry faced trial by the jail's kangaroo court for getting in late at night. Federal prisoners there said they contemplated fining him $5 and using the money for tobacco and candy. Tommy Cross, a drug addict, was his mate in cell No. 5.

Rich 'Leggers Bribe Jailers

Ability of the millionaire beer-runners, Frank Lake, (left) and Terry Druggan (right) to get in and out of Cook county jail, Chicago, at will while serving a one-year sentence, has caused a federal investigation that promises to end in a city political upheaval. Druggan confesses bribing jailers and higher-ups. They deny it.

Judge Wilkerson's order for the transfers of Druggan and Lake came at the end of the contempt hearing against them, Sheriff Peter Hoffman, Former warden Wesley Westbrook and other jail officials.

At its conclusion, United States Attorney Edwin Olson in a statement said he was convinced the accused had been proved guilty of contempt and called upon state enforcement authorities to co-ordinate with the Federal prosecutors in cleaning up conditions at the jail.
