Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

The New Year is supposed to bring a continuation of prosperity over the nation with the first six months holding to the present pace and the last six months showing considerable acceleration in business activity.

Here in this agricultural area we should continue to have good business in 1963. Most business firms report a very satisfactory business in 1962. We had over a third of a million dollars worth of new construction during the past year and there are a number of new developments slated for the coming months. This may be the year in which we will know something definite about our water development program.

Take time off next Tuesday to go vote in the election of directors for the Collingsworth County Water Control and Improvement District. Interest on the part of the people can be an important asset when our representatives go to Washington or Austin.

One of the new projects for the county may be cattle feeding on an extensive basis. It is sound business when a new enterprise is built on the solid foundation of an established industry. We will continue to be in the cattle raising business in this area so why not get the extra money that can be made from finishing our cattle here at home? It costs a lot of money to ship our grain clear to California to feed cattle and that is where a lot of it has been going. It is also expensive to ship our cattle to Iowa or Illinois and then have it brought back here as finished beef, and it should be remembered that there are over a million people within a 150 mile radius who eat beef every week.

That extravaganza California and Wisconsin staged at Pasadena put all of the other bowl games in the shade. West Texas and Ohio put on a good show the day before, as did Alabama against Oklahoma on New Years Day; but the dreariest game from a spectators' standpoint was the head-thumping between LSU and Texas. The teams of Darrel Royal and Bud Wilkinson simply did not play exciting football in the eyes of those who are not experts but who do put up the cash. The average fan likes wide open football and that is what California and Wisconsin gave them. They pulled out all the stops and turned the organ on full blast.

Went to Canyon last Friday as a member of a committee to study and evaluate the work of The Opportunity Plan. A remarkable and outstanding service is being rendered deserving students of WTS by this plan, and I intend to write about it in detail in the next week or two.

In my mind's eye I couldn't keep from contrasting the appearance of the campus of West Texas State with what it was in 1920. Now the college has 23 major buildings. In my day it had four buildings and two of these were not so major; but it did have a wonderful group of teachers and many men and women who were to become distinguished in later life passed through its halls.

Best wishes to all of you for 1963 with the hope that it will be as wet as 1960. That year we received 33.11 at the Highway building, but some parts of the area received over 40 inches of rainfall.

Social Security Schedule Given

The schedule of the Social Security representative in Wellington for the first three months of 1963 was announced from the Amarillo office.

He will be here Friday, Jan. 4, and Thursday, Jan. 17; also Thursday, Feb. 7 and 21; and Thursday, March 7 and 21.

He will be in the courthouse on those dates from 1:00 to 2:30 p.m.

1963 CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OFFICERS

Min. Patterson to Cheyenne, Wy., Church

Min. J. R. Patterson has resigned as minister of West Avenue Church of Christ to become minister of the Morrie Avenue Church of Christ in Cheyenne, Wyoming.

This is the only Church of Christ in Cheyenne, and the church auditorium has a seating capacity of about 400, he said.

The congregation has a new church and Sunday school building.

Min. and Mrs. Patterson came to the West Avenue Church of Christ here four and a half years ago from Dill City, Okla. While living here, he has also studied at Oklahoma Christian College, Oklahoma City.

The couple has three children, David 6, Becky 5, and Lynn 9 months.

A successor to Min. Patterson has not been named.

Early Vehicle Safety Check Urged by DPS

"Our weather is getting worse all the time and April 15 will come before you know it," Capt. Alan Johnson, Texas Department of Public Safety supervisor, commented this week.

He was talking about the time left for Texas motorists to get 1963 vehicle safety inspections. The seven and one-half month period for getting inspections is more than half finished. Inspections started on Sept. 1 and will continue thru April 15.

Since the period is so long Johnson stated, no allowances are made for bad weather. He pointed out that inspections may not be made when streets are wet. "From now until April 15, we usually have a siege of bad weather in this part of the state which eliminates many inspection days," Capt. Johnson said.

He also pointed out that inspection of vehicles now will insure that they are safer for the rest of the winter driving period, when good lights, brakes and other equipment are so vital.

Failure to have a 1963 inspection sticker displayed on the windshield of your vehicle after April 15 is a violation of the law and is punishable by a fine not to exceed $200.

Veteran Employee

Russell Yates Named New City Secretary

Russell Yates, veteran city employee, is the new city secretary, succeeding Mrs. Jennie Holcomb, who retired January 1 following more than 25 years service.

Yates' appointment was announced by Mayor Hiram Cudd.

Mrs. Joe Alex Coleman is the assistant in the city office.

Yates' tenure with the city also extends over a 25-year period, and he has worked up through various jobs. For several years he served as water works superintendent.

A number of years ago, however, Yates was an assistant to the city secretary, and returns to that office familiar with the work.

He served with the Wellington Fire Department for approximately 25 years and is active in the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Drive Down Alcan Brings Airman Home

"It was a challenge to drive down the Alcan Highway in the winter. I'd always heard about the Alcan, and I wanted to drive it," Jerry Buske summed up the motives that led him to join three other Air Force men stationed at Elmendorf Air Force Base, Anchorage, Alaska, and drive down that famous stretch of road during the Christmas season.

Buske reached Sweetwater Friday, December 28, after leaving his friends at Seattle and flying on to Dallas. During the week end he and his wife came here to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Buske.

"It took about 80 hours. We drove straight through in a '57 Ford, and to have seen it, you'd have said it wouldn't make the trip," he remarked.

The entire road is excellent, the Wellington man said.

"We went on the Alcan at Tok Junction, Alaska, where it officially starts. Dawson Creek British Columbia, is where it ends. That's around 1,200 miles That's the original stretch and all but 75 or 100 miles is graveled," he continued.

The curves are banked for easy driving.

"For a graveled road, it's the best I've ever seen," he remarked.

The four averaged around 30 miles per hour. "The speed limit is set up for summer driving, I guess, for it is 50," he added.

"You have to be careful because it is slick. Counting the whole trip, we drove approximately 2,000 miles on ice."

There are excellent road signs along the highway. Over a considerable stretch, there were warnings to watch for wild horses, but Buske and his friends saw non. Mile posts are at each mile, and filling stations are 25 to 50 miles apart.

Much of this land is unsettled. Some is mountainous country. Some looks like the country right in here. White Horse, in the Yukon Territory, is the only town of size, and the group went through there at night.

"We didn't even go up to the main part of town and look around," Buske said.

"People on the road are exceptionally nice. Truckers always stop and help. Everybody watches out for everybody else. If you are stalled out, chances are you won't be there over 15 or 20 minutes unless it's away in the night. Truckers go by all the time."

The airmen started out well equipped, carrying two extra tires with chains mounted on them (they were using snow tires on the back wheels), an ax, shovel, 16 gallons of gas and a case of oil, "heat" to put in the gasoline to keep it from freezing—but they didn't need that.

The temperature was at around +7 most of the trip.

"Gasoline is 50¢ to 75¢ a gallon, but the Imperial gallon is a fifth bigger than our gallon."

Buske has completed three years and nine months in the Air Force and received his discharge. His last year was in Alaska, and although Elmendorf was his home base, he

Strong Vote Necessary in Water Board Election Tuesday

A large and representative vote is necessary in the election Tuesday, January 8, to name three directors to the board of the Collingsworth County Water Control and Improvement District.

The number of ballots cast in this election could well be the deciding factor in whether this county's water development program is approved in Austin and in Washington, Dan Henard, chairman of the board, declared.

There are three candidates for the three places to be filled: Cortez Barnett of Dozier, seeking the place of John Coleman, who is not a candidate; and Louis Patterson of Dodson and Temple Slay of Wellington, running for re-election.

Barnett is a former member of the board who did not run for re-election when his term expired.

There will be two voting places, at the county courtroom in Wellington for those living south of Salt Fork River, and at Samnorwood for voters north of the river.

Any qualified voter may take part in this election. He does not have to be a property owner.

"It is urgent that we have a big vote," John Coleman, the retiring director, declared.

"Everyone here knows we are interested—vitally interested — in developing our water resources, but a small vote may make officials on the state and national level feel that we are not interested."

Henard, in outlining the need for a strong vote, said:

"The state water commission has inquired more than once about the interest in our water development program and in the number of votes cast. This same thing holds true all the way up to Washington, no matter which government department we go to.

"Directors of the water control and improvement district do not draw one cent of money for their work. It is entirely voluntary. We must show our support of the water program and of these men by our vote."

Championship Games Saturday

Skyrocket Tournament to Get Under Way Thursday

The first ball will be tossed in the annual Wellington high school basketball tournament at 9:30 a.m. Thursday, January 3 in Skyrocket gymnasium.

This will be followed by two more action-packed sessions on Thursday; three on Friday, and two on Saturday, with the tournament closing Saturday night, January 5, according to Coach James Stavenhagen.

Fourteen teams are entered, from the southeast Panhandle, and two from Oklahoma, eight in each the boys and girls brackets. These are Arnett, Quail, Wellington, Dodson, Paducah, Wellington B, and Lefors girls, and Shamrock, Lefors, Memphis, Quail, Paducah, Dodson, Wellington and Arnett boys.

For the first time in a Wellington tournament a third place trophy will be given, with these handsome awards now going to first, second and third and consolation winners.

Playing starts at 9:30 a.m. Thursday and Friday, with the first session ending at noon.

Afternoon sessions all three days will be 1:00 to 4:45 p.m. and night sessions from 5:30 to 8:00 p.m.

Officials will be Borden Price, physical education instructor at West Texas State, Canyon; and Roy Young, physical education instructor in the Amarillo schools, and formerly at Clarendon Junior College.

"I think our teams are going to be evenly matched and there should be some real good games in the tournament," Coach Stavenhagen said.

Girls Bracket

Thursday, girls bracket: Shamrock vs. Wellington B, at 9:30 a.m.; Arnett vs Quail, 1 p.m.; Paducah vs. Lefors, 3:30 p.m.; and Wellington vs. Dodson, 5:30 p.m.

In second round championship play, the winner of the Shamrock-Wellington B game plays the winner of the Paducah-Lefors game at 3:30 p.m. Friday; and the winner of the Arnett-Quail game meets the winner of the Wellington-Dodson game at 5:30 p.m.

Losers of these games play for third place at 1 p.m. Saturday and the championship game is at 6:45 p.m.

In the consolation bracket, the losers of the Arnett-Quail game will play the loser of the Wellington-Dodson game at 9:30 a.m. Friday; and the loser of the Shamrock-Wellington B game will play the loser of the Paducah-Lefors game at 1 p.m. Consolation finals will be at 3:30 p.m. Saturday.

Boys Bracket

Memphis boys meet Quail to open the boys bracket at 10:45 a.m. Thursday, followed by Paducah vs. Dodson, 2:15 p.m.; Shamrock vs. Lefors at 6:45 p.m. and Wellington vs. Arnett at 8 p.m.

In the second round of championship play, the winners of the Shamrock-Lefors and the Memphis-Quail games meet at 6:45 p.m. Friday, and the winners of the Paducah-Dodson and Wellington-Arnett games play at 8 p.m. Friday.

Losers of these two games play for third place at 2:15 p.m. Saturday and the championship game will come at 8 p.m.

In the consolation play, the losers of the Shamrock-Lefors and Memphis-Quail games will play at 10:45 a.m. Friday and the losers of the Paducah-Dodson and Wellington-Arnett games at 2:15 p.m.

Consolation finals will be at 5:30 p.m. Saturday.

C-C Banquet Slated for February 7

Robert E. Lee, vice president of the First National Bank and Trust Company in Oklahoma City, will be the Chamber of Commerce banquet speaker on Thursday, February 7.

Plans for the event were announced by Manager N. M. Higdon.

Lee, still a young man, combines a distinguished career that has included the military—he is a graduate of West Point—law and banking.

Besides that, he has built the reputation as one of Oklahoma's entertaining after dinner speakers.

He delighted a Wellington audience two years ago, when he addressed the banquet of the Greenbelt Bankers Study Group. Few of that audience, however, were local residents, since it is an area organization. This will be the first opportunity for the general public here to listen to him.

New Social Security Rates Go in Effect

New social security tax rates went into effect on Jan. 1, 1963, according to Hal Geldon, district manager of the Amarillo Social Security office.

This is one of the regular tax increases, provided in the law, to cover the payment of retirement, survivors, and disability benefits, and all administrative costs of the program.

For people working for wages, the new 1963 rate will be 3⅝% on their first $4800 of yearly earnings. The employer will contribute a like amount, for a total of 7½% tax on wages. For the self-employed, the new rate is 5.4% of the first $4800 in yearly net earnings. Wages and self-employment earnings of more than $4800 a year are not taxable for social security purposes.

Geldon noted that the new

Boosters Sell Tourney Tickets

Members of the Wellington Booster Club are selling tournament tickets to the Wellington high school basketball tournament Thursday through Saturday, Jan. 3 to 5.

The tickets are good for nine sessions and the cost will be considerably less than for individual tickets to see this many games, Coach James Stavenhagen said.

This ticket sale drive is a method by which the Boosters Club hopes to increase attendance at the tournament.

G. C. Isbell, 41 Dies Suddenly Here Thursday

G. C. Isbell, 41, died unexpectedly at his home at 1310 Dalhart Street at 3:10 p.m. on Thursday, Dec. 27. He had been in ill health four years, and failing eyesight had further limited his activities.

Prior to that time he was employed in the maintenance division of the State Highway Department here for a number of years.

He was a life-long resident of the county and was active in Trinity Methodist Church.

Funeral services were conducted at Trinity Church at 2:30 p.m. Saturday by the Rev. J. W. Read, pastor, and the Rev. James Futch of Estelline, a former pastor. Burial was in West Wellington Cemetery under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Pall bearers were Richard Peters, C. T. Hubbard, Thomas Jesse, Eugene Morrow, Melvin Kiker, and Johnny Parker.

George Carlon Isbell was born February 17, 1921, the son of R. H. Isbell and the late Mamie Wright Isbell. He grew up in the Salt Fork area, where he attended school and where he was active in community life.

He was married to Miss Louise Baber here on August 23, 1941.

Surviving are his wife and a son, Billy, of Wellington; his father and step-mother, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Isbell; a sister, Mrs. Irene Sanders of Whitesboro; and his grandmother, Mrs. G. C. Wright of Wellington.

Move Under Way

$11,000 Fire Loss Estimated to Home

Fire broke out in the home of Minister and Mrs. J. R. Patterson, 1509 Graham Street, as movers were packing their household goods for a move to Cheyenne, Wyoming.

The blaze occurred during the noon hour Friday, Dec. 28.

Damage to the house and the furnishings was estimated at around $11,000.

Min. Patterson told The Wellington Leader the movers, from National Van Lines, Inc., had brought boxes into the living room and that two were on the floor furnace and that others were in the room.

The van driver, Robert Gilmore, and a helper, were out to lunch when the fire broke out, he added.

Fire Chief Richard Bailey said it appeared that the boxes ignited from the floor furnace.

Min. Patterson said all clothing had been brought from the closets into the living room, to be placed in boxes, and it was completely destroyed.

"There is not a piece of furniture that is not damaged," he stated.

His books were in the garage and these were saved and only a few of the children's toys were lost, he added.

Min. Patterson estimated the loss as "about $7,500 and that's light."

There was heavy damage to the inside of the house, according to V. P. Robertson, an elder in the West Avenue Church of Christ. Among other things, sheet rock will have to be replaced in the living room, woodwork will have to be replaced, and the interior must be redone completely, he added.

Mr. Robertson said a rough estimate of damage to the house would be $3,500.

C-C Officers for 1963 Take Over Jan. 1

Jack Sanford took over the duties of president of the Collingsworth Chamber of Commerce Tuesday, January 1, succeeding Bobo Castleberry, who headed the organization in 1962.

Other new officials taking office January 1 were Sandy Parsons Jr., vice president; and Charles Allen, treasurer. N. M. Higdon is secretary and manager of the Chamber of Commerce. Sanford was a 1962 director.

Parsons is one of the veteran Chamber of Commerce men of Wellington, having worked with C-C under its present organization, as well as under former set-ups for a period of 25 years.

Allen is a former chamber of commerce vice president and has been identified with the organization in other capacities.

New directors to serve two-year terms are C. T. Hubbard, Zook Thomas and Jones Singley.

The first 1963 C-C meeting will be Monday, Jan. 5, at 7:30 p.m., Higdon announced.

A heavy agenda will come before the group.

A director will be named to fill Sanford's unexpired term.

The group will take a look at the 1963 work program, which will be worked out during January. Committee members will be discussed.

Higdon will present the C-C annual financial statement, and the recently published overall economic development plan of the Area Redevelopment group will be reviewed.

Dan Henard, board chairman of the Water Control and Improvement District, has been invited to attend, and John Coleman, local representative of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, will discuss the recent legislative meeting which he, Castleberry and George Shadid attended.

Upgraded Diet Can Mean Bigger Market for Beef

Interest in cattle feeding has grown here in Collingsworth during the last few years, and chances are that there may be a big step forward in this line in the coming years. Beef eating is certainly our concern.

Now comes the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association to say that an upgraded diet for the American public offers a primary means of expanding the market for beef and points the way to a possible annual 27 billion pound increase in meat consumption in the United States.

The present meat production in the nation is 29 billion pounds per year. It could be increased to 63.6 billion pounds if American diets were upgraded. In addition to increased use of meat by weight watchers, there is a potential increase of 800 million pounds among the nation's mothers, 100 million pounds for infants, and seven billion pounds for teenagers.

The Cattle Raisers Association does not propose with this announcement how the American diet is to be upgraded, but it traditionally has relied on an emphasis on quality of product and on advertising, plus a strong organization of livestock men.

Court House Personnel Honors Two Retiring Officials Monday

Two retiring county officials were honored Monday, December 31, at 5 p.m., at an appreciation party in the office of the home demonstration agent.

They were Mrs. Lora Lowrie, retiring district clerk, and Judge Raymond Horton, retiring justice of the peace.

Refreshments were served from a table centered with a holiday arrangement. Gifts were presented to the honor guests.

Hostesses were Mmes. Robert Barjenbruch, A. V. Lowrie, R. H. Isbell and Miss Louise Fulcher.

Courthouse personnel and others attending were Judge and Mrs. Horton, Mrs. Lowrie, John Coleman, Mrs. Tom Wilkins, Mrs. J. W. White, Mrs. Dick Richards, Mrs. Hubert Mauldin, Bob Crawford, Miss Patsy Falk, Mrs. Ray Thomas, Dwayne Scott, Judge C. C. Bishop, Bob Crawford, Mrs. Junior Owens, Mrs. Murray Dodson, Mrs. Virgil Patterson, Mrs. J. D. Aaron, John Rainey, Kenneth Hodge, Jim Hodge, Troy Marsh,

Mrs. Harold Scott, B. W. Beaird, Mrs. Keith Smith, Mrs. Elmer Feemster, Mrs. Harold Elbert, Mrs. H. L. Jenkins, and Mrs. Nancy McAlister.

Miss Browning, Harold Yeager Marry During Holiday Season

Miss Pauline Browning and Harold Yeager were married in a quiet ceremony at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, December 22, at the Church of Christ in Shamrock. Minister Henderson officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Paul Browning, while the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Yeager of Mangum.

Mrs. Yeager wore a brown brocade suit with beige and brown accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Browning, brother and sister-in-law of the bride, were the attendants. Mrs. Browning wore a beige brocade suit with brown accessories.

Also attending the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Ellis.

After the ceremony, the couple left on a short wedding trip to Dallas. They are now at home in Wellington, where Mrs. Yeager is employed at The Toggery, and he at Clark Chevrolet.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Killian Honored on Golden Wedding Sun. Afternoon

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Killian, residents of the Fresno community all of their married life, were honored on their golden wedding with an open house Sunday, December 30.

The event was held in the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Killian, also of Fresno community.

Approximately a hundred friends and relatives called during the afternoon to celebrate the occasion with them.

Gold pom-pom chrysanthemums formed the centerpiece for the lace-covered reception table, and candles in crystal holders were on each side. Other appointments were crystal.

Miss Vicki Killian, the couple's only granddaughter, served the wedding cake and Miss Nancy Crawley poured. Miss Vicki Glenn displayed the gifts and Cherry Lewis registered the guests.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Killian were born in Arkansas and came to Texas while young. With their families, they came to the Loco area during the first decade of this century.

Mrs. Killian is the former Ida Bell Crawley, and the couple was married December 29, 1912, in the Loco community.

Mr. Killian has been a farmer all his adult life, and both he and Mrs. Killian have been active in their community. They were especially active in the Fresno Methodist Church until it was moved and they are now members of First Methodist Church.

For many years Mr. Killian was superintendent of Sunday school at Fresno, and for many years he was a trustee of the Fresno school.

They have one child, J. B. Killian, who lives on an adjoining farm, and three grandchildren, Granvel, Vicki and Gary.

Dinner Honors Mr. and Mrs. Felix Handley on 40th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Handley were honored on their fortieth wedding anniversary Sunday, December 30, with a dinner given by their children, Douglas Handley of El Paso, and Mrs. James J. Henry Jr., of Rockford, Ill.

Only relatives attended.

Through the years, this couple has been actively identified with their church, the Primitive Baptist; the American Legion and Auxiliary; and the work of the Fire Department.

Mr. Handley is employed by the City of Wellington. He did this work many years ago, again from 1936 to 1940, when the couple moved from Wellington. After living at Altus and Paducah, they returned eight years ago.

Mrs. Handley is the former Osie O'Rear. Born at Bonham, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. L. O'Rear, she came to the Rolla community while still small.

Mr. Handley was born at Dozier, Ala., and came to Lockhart while still small. In 1919, he came to Wellington.

Attending the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Blades of Rush Springs, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Wallace O'Rear of Shamrock; Mrs. Vivian Fisher of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Handley of Vernon; Mrs. Ruby Baldridge, Mrs. D. H. Handley and Tom Conner of Arlington; Mr. and Mrs. Bura Handley; Mr. and Mrs. Henry, Michael, Kevin and Patti Ann, of Rockford, Ill.; Douglas Handley of El Paso; and the honor guests, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Handley.

Couple Honored On Anniversary

By Mrs. G. T. Stephens

Mrs. W. F. Howard and Mrs. Eugene Vernon were hostesses at a small reception honoring their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gollihugh, on their 38th wedding anniversary.

The event was held Friday, Dec. 21, in the Gollihugh home at Quail.

A tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and groom, was the centerpiece for the serving table. Crystal and silver appointments were used.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Larry Gollihugh, Eugene Vernon, W. F. Howard Jr., Bill Howard, Kelly Howard, Dub Gollihugh, Paul Gollihugh, the honor guests, and the hostesses.

Barton Home Reunion Scene

These included Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Jones and girls, of Stinnett; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Jones and family of Hollis; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Niles and daughter of Brownfield; Cloid Jones of Borger; Mrs. J. J. Landreth of Hollis; Mr. and Mrs. Don Jones and children, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Carter and family; Mrs. Emma Jones.

Holiday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Duke and Judy were their three sons and four daughters and their families: Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Strong and children, of Dalhart; Mrs. Carl Depue and children, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Depue and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Duke, of Clayton, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Duke and children, of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bell and children, of Wichita Falls; and Pvt. Johnny Duke of Fort Sill, Okla.

The Rev. and Mrs. Glenn Hickey spent four days of Christmas week visiting their parents in Mount Ida, Ark.

Charley Welch, a senior at North Texas State University, Denton, spent the holidays in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernice Welch.

Who's New — in the — Wellington Area

Dr. and Mrs. John D. Coleman of Auburn, Alabama, are the parents of a daughter, Susan Kay, born December 18 and weighing eight pounds and eleven ounces. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Dee Coleman of Wellington and Mrs. Bill Burden of Shamrock.

VFW-Auxiliary Aids Needy at Annual Christmas Get-Together

The Christmas social of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Auxiliary was a family event, with emphasis on giving as the spirit of the season.

Hosts were Messrs and Mmes. Sam McGill, Hezze Jones, Millard Brown and Don Jones.

Mrs. Jones, Auxiliary president, directed the meeting.

Each family brought something for a needy family, and when all gifts were in, there was enough for two families. In addition, two men present bought a suit of school clothes for a young boy.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Sam McGill, Janice, Sandra and Sidney; Paul Jones, Dennis Leeper; Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Berg;

Ricky, Kenny and Keith Brown; Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Rudy and family; Connie Bearden; Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Morrow and Geney; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bearden; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Fires, Allen and Dan; Mr. and Mrs. Jake Leach;

Mr. and Mrs. John Coleman; Mr. and Mrs. Horace Holliman; Mr. and Mrs. Tony Layton, LeAnn and Derel; Mr. and Mrs. John Rainey; Judge and Mrs. Raymond Horton and family; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. King and girls;

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Thompson and Jane; Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Bearden; Jan Blain, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Belew and Mike; Mr. and Mrs. Quinton Brewer and family;

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Curry and Joyce; Sammie Thompson; Gail Henard, Judy Crawford, Polly Browning; Louis Berg and Luanne; Mrs. Pat Bouchelle, Patsy and Jennifer; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sanford, and the hosts.

Christmas visitors in the home of W. H. Kutch were his children: Hugh T. Kutch, recently returned from Germany; Mr. and Mrs. Clay Kutch and family, of Orlando, Fla.; Mrs. M. E. Vinson and son, of El Paso; Thomas Kutch of Rule; and two daughters who live here: Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Shumate and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Truett Holland.

Mrs. Mildred Starr, Mr. and Mrs. Don Howington of Amarillo, and Miss Patricia Starr of Corpus Christi, spent the holidays in the home of Mrs. G. N. Scruggs. They also visited other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lockhart of Memphis visited recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Crawford.

Holiday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stall were their daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Joe King and children, of Guymon, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. Harry White of Houston.

Tanya Ann Shields of Clarendon, has been visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Sam Russell. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pigg of Plainview were also visitors in Mrs. Russell's home during the week end.

Mosleys Hosts at Dinner

Following the wedding of their daughter, Betty, to Dick Elbert on Saturday afternoon, December 22, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Moseley of Quail were hosts at a buffet dinner in their home for a group of out of town relatives.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Guy Moseley and Brenda, of Tell; the Rev. and Mrs. James Patterson and Mr. and Mrs. Garland Newsom of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie George of Canyon; and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Moseley and Cristy, of Wellington.

WMU Circles Meet for Programs

The Mildred Crabtree Circle of the Women's Missionary Union of First Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. Charles Slay for circle program Dec. 31. Mrs. M. L. Lynn read the Calendar of Prayer and led in prayer for the missionaries.

Those taking part on the program were Mmes. Charles Cason Jr., Silas Crawford, W. A. Morrow and Coy Vaughan.

The Virginia McKay Circle met in the home of Mrs. R. L. Porter for circle program Dec. 31. Mrs. J. C. Whisenant presided. Mrs. Henry Davidson read the Praver Calendar and Mrs. Porter led in prayer for the missionaries.

Those taking part on the program were Mmes. Bill Harbin, the leader, J. L. Burt, J. A. Lowe and Davidson.

The Betty Tennison Circle met in the home of Mrs. Morris Sullivan for circle program. Mrs. Sullivan read the Calendar of Prayer. Mrs. Jack Aaron voiced the prayer.

Mrs. Billy Jo Thogmartin was in charge of the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bagwell of Seattle, Wash., and Mr. and Mrs. George Fromme and son, of San Antonio, spent the holidays with Mrs. Nannie Masten and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Curry. On Sunday before Christmas this group attended the Golden Wedding anniversary of Mrs. Masten's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gary in Floydada.

NORTHWEST CORNER SQUARE

Fin-Feather-Fur
In Collingsworth

Richard Gilbreth, Quail teacher who formerly was with the Forest Service, called to say he enjoys Fin-Fur-Feathers.

While he was at Chama, N. M., last summer, Richard visited with O. A. Washburn, author of the book "General Red."

General Red was a red-bone hound—and a bear and cougar dog. The adventures recounted in the book took place in northern New Mexico—in the area where a number of Collingsworth people vacation, and it tells of the thrill of bear hunting in the mountain country.

The book, in an easy informal style, would be enjoyed by any hunter.

It is published by Exposition Press,
386 Park Avenue South,
New York, N.Y.
The price is $3.00.

This account of the development of Lake Whitney is of interest because the same thing can be done here in Collingsworth.

Ted O'Neil, the Austin O'Neils son, is manager of the Steiner Valley Ranch, in the vicinity of Lake Whitney.

Many elements are involved in making a good lake. By good we mean one that will stand up under heavy fishing pressure.

Lake Whitney, on the Brazos in North Central Texas, seems to have all the attributes.

This lake, now a dozen years old, has withstood such heavy pressure. It is located almost midway between Waco and the Fort Worth-Dallas area. This means that it is worked every fishable day of the year.

And it still produces fish.

Lake Whitney Dam backs water up the Brazos to cover almost 50,000 surface acres when it is filled.

Construction started in 1947 and was completed by the U.S. Corps of Engineers in 1953 at a cost of just over $40,000,000.

The dam itself is 17,695 feet long and 159 feet high. It is wide enough to carry highway traffic across it between Whitney and Clifton and points east and west.

Although rainfall fluctuates its depth, perhaps the secret of good fishing in Whitney is the fact that it is filled from an effective watershed of more than 17,000 square miles.

Because of the rich food qualities washed into the lake with each slight flood, fish grow big and sassy.

Principal sport enjoyed by Lake Whitney fishermen is catching largemouth black bass, whites (sandies), crappie and catfish. The lake is loaded with bream, but unfortunately Whitney is underfished for this wonderful little creature.

Whitney is easy to reach. Good roads lead to the lake from every direction, with many access points.

There is a spacious state park which permits public camping. The park is heavily trafficked by weekend campers from many parts of Texas.

The Corps of Engineers has developed recreational areas. They bear such names as Lofer's Bend, Towash, Cedar Creek, Kimball and Powderdale.

People of Whitney have had a large part in making this an all-purpose lake. They have developed various types of water sports, including speed boat races, water skiing, boating and swimming. One of the annual features of Whitney is its bathing beauty contest, which has sent a bevy of gorgeous girls into top contests over the nation.

Villages on both the east and west side afford cabin facilities, food and drinks. There are several small airstrips around the lake and numerous family-owned cabins.

Although Whitney is a long narrow lake, it can get rough in bad weather. When it is dangerous to go onto the water, warning flags fly. But with so many sloughs there always are places that can be fished, even in the foulest weather.

Many 8-pound bass have come from this lake, and many more will be taken, because the water is good. It is the only impoundment on the main body of the Brazos below Possum Kingdom, some 100 miles northwest. Between the two dams are plenty of places for bass to propagate and grow big.

There also are a number of fishing barges on Lake Whitney. They provide 24-hour fishing in any kind of weather. Some of them are air-conditioned in the summer and heated in the winter . . . for year-'round comfort.

Waterfowl shooting is permitted in season and quail are quite plentiful in certain areas. Deer can be found around Whitney too.

Lake Whitney was constructed as a flood control project, with generators in the dam to produce an annual power capacity of some 85 kw-hr.

Whitney is a beautiful body of water throughout its entire length. When you cross the dam you are impressed with the rockbound shores on the west and the rolling hills on the east. A ride up Whitney in a fast boat reveals many beautiful sights where artists could spend a lifetime recording its beauties and moods.

Lake Whitney is good for a Sunday drive, a weekend visit, a camping trip or real honest-to-goodness fishing.

Recommend Poll Tax Abolition

The Texas Election Study Committee heard many divergent opinions on the requirements for a voter registration law during its public hearings in the senate chamber.

Main point of discussion was whether or not a literacy test should be required if the poll tax system is abolished.

League of Women Voters, represented by Mrs. Maurice H. Brown of Waco, did not approve of a literacy test. Mrs. Brown said her group recommended a uniform registration plan for all voters, and offered the committee a draft of a bill which calls for permanent registration.

Several witnesses, including Isaac Satterfield of Marshall, a member of the State Democratic Executive Committee, advocated a literacy test.

Senator Kazen spoke out against it. He said since no literacy test now is required, he saw no reason why it should be necessary. "The only reason for a literacy test is to keep someone from voting," Kazen retorted.

Roy R. Evans, secretary-treasurer of the state AFL-CIO said his organization opposed any discrimination against a person's national origin, financial status or educational background. The AFL-CIO also advocated a permanent registration plan, under which a voter would have to re-register only if he failed to vote in a two-year period.

BATTLE SURE OVER NEW BOUNDARIES

The issue of drawing new boundaries for Texas' legislative and congressional districts appears headed for star billing when the lawmakers convene in January.

In an Associated Press poll of Texas lawmakers, 71 per cent who replied said they thought redistricting would be in the top ten issues of the session.

Thirty-seven per cent said it would be one of the top five controversies.

Friends Honor Mr. and Mrs. Pierce on Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Pierce celebrated their golden wedding anniversary with an open house at the home five and one-half miles north of Quail Sunday, December 23. Their daughter, Mrs. W. L. DePauw of Amarillo, was hostess.

Elaine and Denece DePauw of Amarillo met the guests and presented them to the honored couple.

Gold flowers were used in profusion throughout the entertaining rooms, and an arrangement of gold chrysanthemums formed the centerpiece for the lace-covered serving table.

Mrs. C. M. Weaver of Big Spring poured and Mrs. Bert Weaver served the wedding cake. Mrs. G. C. Pettitt and Mrs. Raymond Ross assisted.

Guests were registered by Mrs. Byron DePauw of Amarillo.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Pierce have lived in Collingsworth county since the early years of this century.

Mr. Pierce was born in Benton county, Tennessee, April 12, 1892, and came with his parents to Wellington in October 1902. The family farmed three miles south of Wellington in 1903, and at Lillie in 1904 and 1905. They then moved to Marella, and Mr. Pierce has farmed in this community since then.

Mrs. Pierce is the former Miss Luna Melton. She was born in Big Sandy, Tennessee, in the same county as her husband, and she came with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. H. Melton, to Quail in 1906.

The couple was married December 23, 1912.

They had two children. Their daughter is Mrs. W. L. DePauw of Amarillo. Their son, the late Noel Pierce, was married to Miss Lavonia Grigsby, and his death occurred in 1950.

There are three grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Floyd-Davis Rites Announced

Miss Telowa Davis and James Brandon Floyd were married December 14, in the Southwest Church of Christ in Oklahoma City.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Davis of Oklahoma City.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Floyd of Oklahoma City are the parents of the bridegroom, and the family formerly lived here.

The bridegroom is a student in Oklahoma State University, Stillwater, and his bride is attending Central State College, Edmond.

Group Here for Festive Occasion

A large group of people who formerly lived in the county returned December 23 to attend the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Pierce of the Marella community, and to visit with relatives and friends.

Among these were Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Cherry of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Weaver and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lusk of Big Spring; Eddie Pierce of Austin; Mrs. Loy Murry of Amarillo; Mrs. Louise Taylor and daughters, Karen and Pam, of Brownfield; Mr. and Mrs. Buford Adcock, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. Byron DePauw, Elane and Denise, all of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Arvil Scott of Collinsville, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Melton of Borger; and Mrs. Frank Bourland of Clarendon.

Mr. and Mrs. James J. Henry, Nickey, Kevin and Patricia, of Rockford, Ill.; and Douglas Handley of El Paso visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Handley during Christmas holidays.

Holiday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Redford were their daughter and granddaughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Loftis of Cordell, Okla., and Miss Claudie Loftis of Houston.

Cozetta McNabb, Robert Davidson Exchange Vows in Mid-December

Miss Cozetta McNabb and Robert Davidson exchanged wedding vows at eleven o'clock Saturday, December 15. The ceremony took place in the home of Mrs. Clara Harvey, justice of the peace at Clayton, New Mexico.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McNabb of Wellington, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Brewer.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davidson Sr., of Kansas City, Kan., are the parents of the bridegroom.

For her wedding the bride chose a white wool suit with gold accessories.

Mrs. Ernest McNabb of Amarillo, the bride's sister-in-law, was matron of honor.

George Royar, stationed with the Air Force at Albuquerque, N.M., was best man.

After graduating from Wellington high school, the bride attended Draughon's Business College in Amarillo. She is employed by Southwestern Investment Company in that city.

The bridegroom attended school in Kansas City and is stationed at Amarillo Air Force Base.

Personal

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Lindsey during Christmas were their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Lindsey, Oliver and Paul, of Lubbock; Mrs. Lindsey's three sisters and brothers-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Campbell of Temple; and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Holleman of Hollis; and her nephew and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bilbrey, Mark and Jody, of Lubbock.

Christmas visitors with Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Starr were her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Morton of Oklahoma City.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Young and family of Tyler, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dennis and family of Stamford, and Henry A. Richards of Norman, Okla., spent Christmas in Floydada with Mrs. Iva Nixon. The Youngs and Mr. Richards later visited Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Stuckey. Mrs. Young was the former Pat Richards.

Mr. and Mrs. Delmo Risley of Richardson spent the Christmas holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tarter.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McNabb for Christmas were their children: Mr. and Mrs. Ernest McNabb and Angela, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Davidson, of Amarillo; Clifton McNabb of Houston, and a friend of Cilfton's, Robert Johnson, of Borger.

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Nored of Seguine were here on business during the week end. They also visited her sister, Mrs. J. I. Thomas and Mrs. Bob Bowen.

In Corpus Christi for the holidays were Mr. and Mrs. A. A. McQueary and Miss Sylvia McQueary. They visited their son and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Roger McQueary. He is now head basketball coach of Carroll high school in Corpus. Returning to Perrin, the Wellington family visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Brown and the Rev. and Mrs. W. H. McQueary.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bailey had as their guests during Christmas their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Dunnihoo of Arlington; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dunnihoo of Shattuck, Okla. and Mrs. Bailey's sister and family Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Floyd and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Floyd of Oklahoma City.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Little and Mike during the holiday period were the other children: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Little and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Doug Little and family, of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Dick Little and children of Clarendon; and Mr. and Mrs. Preston Paschal of Dallas.

Mrs. Bert Weaver returned home with her daughter, Mrs. Travis Somerville of Fort Worth, to spend the winter.

Judge and Mrs. C. C. Bishop were in Fort Worth for Christmas with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Christian and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Mario Coleman and Terri Ann, of Amarillo, were here during part of the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dee Coleman.

Entrance Exams

Testing Deadline Near for College Students

By LOUIS GRAHAM
Wellington High School Counselor

High school seniors interested in entering college for the summer or fall terms of 1963 should make application now to take their college entrance examination. You should consult individual college catalogs to determine what tests are required by the colleges you are considering. Some colleges require no test or only recommend that test scores be submitted before permission for registration is given.

Most colleges in the southwest require either the College Entrance Examination Board (CEEB) or the American College Test (ACT). The next testing date for the CEEB will be on Saturday, Jan. 12 while the ACT will be administered Saturday, Feb. 22. A copy of the CEEB or ACT bulletin explaining more about these test and testing dates and deadlines may be obtained from the counselor in the guidance office. These bulletins contain a registration form, a complete explanation of the program, location of testing centers, and sample test problems.

In this area, tests may be taken at Clarendon Junior College, Amarillo Junior College, West Texas State or Texas Tech.

The scores on these tests may be used in many ways. They help the college to decide whether you should be encouraged to attend. They help to decide whether you should be granted a scholarship, student loan, or any special award or help. To communicate with you to help make arrangements for admission and registration. To help determine in which sections of freshman English and mathematics you should be enrolled. To help advise you about your educational goals, the courses you should take, and how heavy a load to carry. Not all colleges use this information for all of these purposes, but all colleges requesting the scores use them in at least one or more of these ways. These colleges are therefore anxious for you to take the tests if you are considering the possibility of attending.

No college looks only at the test scores, but they are an important part of the school record that registrars, Deans of Admission and Admission Committees evaluate before admission to the college is granted.

What you have studied in high school and how well you did in the courses will make up a large part of the record that is studied by the college admission officers along with the results of the college entrance examination. Most colleges also ask your high school counselor and teachers to evaluate you on the basis of ability to work, dependability and motivation. Many colleges also ask for recommendations from people outside of the school system that can give positive indications of good character and personal worth. Many students look alike on their test scores and high school record. What often shifts the balance for permission in a college may be letters of recommendation and a record of participation in school and community activities.

A student who makes a low grade or who feels that he could do better, can take the tests a second time.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Young Christmas day were their sons, Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Young and Tommy, and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Young and three children, of Amarillo.

Type Two Sabin Vaccine Sunday at Shamrock

The Shamrock Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a clinic for Type II Sabin Oral Vaccine in the Shamrock high school cafeteria from 1:30 to 5:30 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 6. All persons in Collingsworth county who missed their Type II vaccine when it was given here are invited to take it at Shamrock.

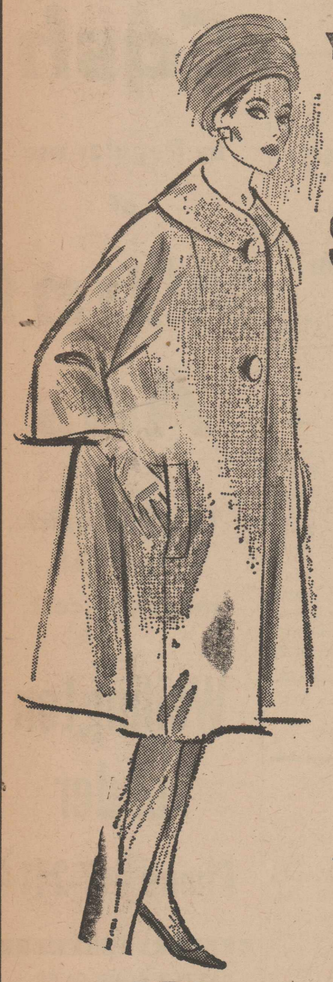

"This is Type II, remember. There has been no controversy about Type II. Type III will be given at a later date," M. H. Clay Jr., who is helping with the program, said.

Visiting Mrs. J. L. Hays and Miss Larlu Hays during the New Year holidays were: Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Thornton and children, of Pueblo, Colo.; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pollard and children, of Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Biter and children, and Miss Merle Hays of Wichita Falls, and Miss Myra Hays of Plainview.

Three Accidents During Period After Christmas

Christmas eve and Christmas day passed in Wellington without a car accident.

But an 18-hour period Thursday night and Friday brought three, Sheriff John Rainey reported.

Thursday night, Dec. 20, about 9 p.m. the car driven by Kenneth Patterson ran into the back of a car belonging to Claude McKinney, parked in front of his house, the sheriff said.

He added that the accident occurred as Patterson drove away from the West Avenue Church of Christ. Not much damage was reported to either vehicle.

Thursday around midnight, Kirby Campbell lost control of the 1961 Chevrolet he was driving, the car slid sideways for a considerable distance, then turned over on its top, Sheriff Rainey reported. The accident occurred on FM 1035 near the northwest corner of Wellington. Campbell was hospitalized overnight for cuts and bruises, the Sheriff said. Campbell was alone.

Last of the three accidents was an intersection collision between a pickup driven by John Coffee and the delivery truck belonging to Homer and Howard Holton, driven by Rodney Porter, according to the sheriff.

The accident occurred at the corner of El Paso and Fourth Streets, Rainey said. He reported considerable damage to the pickup.

YOUR VOTE IS IMPORTANT

In The Water Board Election Tuesday, January 8

It is highly important that a heavy vote be cast in the Water Board Election that will be held January 8. If the vote shows that the people of Collingsworth County are really interested in the construction of Dams in the county, it will be of tremendous assistance to the members of the Board when they go to Austin and Washington to ask for assistance in Water Development in this county.

The State Board of Engineers has asked more than once about the public interest and the number who vote, and this is of equal significance to people in Washington.

Voting Will Be Held At:

Samnorwood Wellington

We are not urging the election of any particular individual, but we do urge a strong representative vote in order that all officials may know that we have an intense interest in and desire for the water development program in this county.

BE SURE TO GO TO THE POLLS ON JANUARY 8

1963 Feed Grain Program Is Explained

COLLEGE STATION. — The voluntary feed grain program for 1963 will generally follow provisions for the 1961 and 1962 crops by giving feed grain producers an opportunity to reduce acreages and receive payments, the Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee has announced. The program again will apply to corn, grain sorghum and barley.

Participating farmers will receive diversion payments for shifting acreage from production to a conservation use and price-support payments on the normal production of the 1963 feed grain acreage. They will also be eligible for price-support loans and purchase agreemenes for the 1963 actual feed grain production. Rates for diversion are somewhat smaller than in previous years, but the decrease will be more than offset for most farmers by the price-support payments, the Committee said.

A major change was listed. To be eligible for payments or price support on any of the three grains included, the farmer must divert the total acreage for which he signs up, the Committee explained.

Farmers may take part in the program by reducing the total of their 1963 feed grain acreage (corn, grain sorghum and barley) by at least 20%. The maximum diversion is the higher of 40% of the base acreage or 25 acres, provided this is not more than the base acreage. The acreage of the three crops (1959-60 acreage, as adjusted) will be combined into a single feed grain base for the farm, and the farmer may choose to divert one or more of the feed grains, with the diversion payment being made at the per-acre rate applicable to the grain or grains diverted.

Farmers who have planted their 1963 barley crop will be able to take part in the 1963 program by reducing their total feed grain acreage by at least 20%.

Price support to participating farmers will be available partly through loans and purchase agreements and partly through price-support payments. Loans and agreements will reflect a national average price of $1.02 per bushel on corn; $1.62 per cwt. on grain sorghum, and 79¢ per bushel on barley. In addition, price-support payments will be made on the normal production of the 1963 feed grain acreage at the rate of 18¢ per bushel on corn; 29¢ per cwt. on grain sorghum and 14¢ per bushel on barley.

Participating farmers can put all of their 1963-crop corn, grain sorghum and barley under price support loans and purchase agreements. This is a change, noted the Committee, from earlier programs, which limited support to the normal production of the 1962 crop.

Acres taken out of feed grains may be planted to guar, sesame, safflower, sunflower and castorbeans, but at a lower diversion rate—with no payment on acres planted to safflower. Malting barley in 1963 will be treated like all other barley, the Committee said.

Farmers may receive part of their acreage diversion payments at the time they sign up to participate in the program. The signup period will be early this year, and will be announced later, the Committee said.

Since oats and rye are not included in the program, no payment is provided and no reduction in acreage is required for price support eligibility. As in 1962, the national average supports for these two crops will be 62¢ per bushel for oats and $1.02 for rye.

County ASCS office personnel can supply detailed information on the 1963 feed grain program, the Committee said.

Archeologists Study 18th Century Life in South Texas

AUSTIN—University of Texas archeologists have begun excavations at the site of a little known South Texas mission to learn more about its 18th century Spanish and Indian inhabitants.

A $2,000 University Research Institute grant is supporting work at the site of Mission San Lorenzo de la Santa Cruz at Camp Wood in Real county, about 40 miles north of Uvalde.

Workers have already uncovered a deep room of three-foot thick adobe brick walls, a partially burned roof made of timbers and clay showing grass impressions and the burial site of a young Indian woman.

Mission San Lorenzo is important because it was occupied only briefly and artifacts recovered at the site can be precisely dated, Dr. W. W. Newcomb, University anthropologist explained.

"Identical or similar material from other historic sites can at last be related to a known series," Dr. Newcomb said. "That fact may be of aid in unscrambling the dates and affiliations of some historic Texas sites."

Broken crockery, kettles, gun flints and other articles found at Mission San Lorenzo belonged to the Spaniards who established the mission in 1762 and operated it for 7 years.

The mission was established for the Lipan Apaches, and they are believed to be the only Indians ever "in residence" there. But Indians from the north, Comanches and Wichitas, attacked San Lorenzo and the missionaries were forced to abandon it, retreating to Mexico.

University archeologists learned of impending damage to the historic site when the local chamber of commerce began bulldozing it with plans for reconstructing the mission as a tourist attraction. These plans are proceeding, but fortunately, Dr. Newcomb said, archeologists were able to begin excavation before any major damage had been done.

The University project is directed by Dr. Newcomb, professor of anthropology and Texas Memorial Museum director. Curtis Tunnell, the Museum's anthropology curator, is currently working at Camp Wood.

New Telephone Directories Due

It won't be too long before all telephone useres, residential and business customers alike in Wellington and Dodson will receive new telephone directories for 1963-64, according to R. L. Brewer, district manager for General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

"Correct initials, names, and addresses are necessary to assure complete and adequate representation in the alphabetical section and the Yellow Pages as well," he said.

The final closing date for making changes or adding new listings to the new telephone directory will be Jan. 12, 1963.

Brewer urged that all subscribers wishing to make any changes should call the business office as soon as possible to enable the telephone company to make the corrections or additions before the directory is printed.

SS Tax Up

social security tax rate applies only to wages paid and self-employment income earned after Dec. 31, 1962. The present rate of 3⅛% on wages is applicable for wages paid in 1962 even though they are not reported by employers until early in 1963. The current rate of 4.5% for the self-employed is likewise applicable to self-employment income earned in 1962 but not reported until 1963.

Alcan Trip

had a "remote" assignment. Serving in the Air Police, he was an airman first class at the time of his discharge.

Nothing unusual happened to the four during their drive down the Alcan, Buske says, and he would like to make the drive again, in summer.

But to anyone who wants to make the drive in winter, as he did, he has only this advice: Be sure your car is in good condition and dress for any kind of weather.

NEW PROGRAMMING

A London, England, man was reported on the Westminster bridge holding a divining twig over the Thames. He got a positive reaction, reported a local paper.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bailey during the holidays were their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Dunnihoo of Arlington, and Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Dunnihoo of Shattuck, Okla., parents of Clayton. Mrs. Bailey's sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Floyd and son and daughter-in-law were also guests of the Baileys.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where the people in charge of thinking about missiles in Cuba got classed by some writers as "hawks," who favored doing something, and "doves," who didn't.

But after some integration of thought, and some rank-pulling, most of them turned into dawks and hoves, as each considered the opposing viewpoint, and how to keep his job.

My Republicrat neighbor says he don't know about the dawks and hoves, but thinks we ought to try crossing some professional intellectuals with horse-sense bearing blood, to maybe get us some steadier, mule-type people-skinners.

I see where the Attorney General went off down to Brazil the other day to give the President of that country the Word on how to run a government.

Seems the Brazilians are not taking to Progress like they ought to, as their national budget this year is only $2 billion in the red.

Don't see how there can still be so much backwarditis in the world, after we have exampled everybody for years on how to live the fat cat life on credit.

I see where a sort of high level jury has been picked out to take a hard look at the Case of Foreign Aid, and bring in a verdict in favor of same.

Which is just another instance to show that the best fact-finding jobs these days go to fact-finders who are well-known as to what kind of facts they will most likely find.

Like you might appoint a committee of preachers if you wanted somebody to take a good hard look in favor of fried chicken.

I see where it's said that FBI agents are infiltrating the Communist organization here in the U.S., and pretty soon will be numerous enough to vote the Communists out of the party.

And other folks say the Communists are infiltrating the government, and before long will be able to subvert the Americans out of same.

But some rut-thinking people may look for these developments to lead to confusion, with the FBI paying off the Communists' $120,000 fine, and people having to send food and drugs to get their friends out of Washington.

My news-confused neighbor is down-hearted. He reads that our State Department officially considers it treason to disagree with the government's foreign policy.

Says it's scareful to know you could just be standing there with your opinion-changer out of gear, when some official shifts foreign policy, and suddenly you are a traitor.

But, on the other hand, there is the danger that pitty-patting along behind the foreign policeers with your yesser going might suddenly make you a Soviet citizen.

Mrs. Ella George, Mrs. Ethel Brickey and Mr. and Mrs. Jay Raboe of Shamrock spent Sunday with Mrs. Stella West.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Warrick of Eureka, Kan., have been visiting relatives and friends during the holidays.
