

Contract Let on Greenbelt Sub-Station

Troy Cannon Construction Company of Dodge City, Kan., was awarded the contract for construction of a new sub-station of the Greenbelt Electric Co-operative, Inc., by the board of directors in a meeting Saturday, Jan. 16.

The company submitted the low bid of a little more than $107,000, including material and labor, George Henry, Greenbelt manager, said.

The new sub-station will be located on the county line near Shamrock and will provide improved service for the north part of Collingsworth and south part of Wheeler counties.

This will be a 25,000 kilowatt sub-station with four circuits feeding out of it. Big voltage regulators will hold voltage at a constant level for users.

Greenbelt Electric Co-operative, Inc., already has one sub-station in Wellington and another between Kellerville and Mobeetie.

Work will start as soon as approval is given by the REA in Washington and this should be in two to three weeks, Henry said.

This sub-station is financed out of a $288,000 loan approved for Greenbelt Electric Co-operative, Inc., about two years ago. A large part of the remainder has been spent for line extension and other improvements.

Dogs Bother Children, Stock

A number of complaints of dogs have been received recently. Police Chief Donald Nunneley reported.

There was one report of a large dog that has twice knocked down a child, he said, and there have been other complaints on 15th Street.

Livestock raisers have also reported that dogs in packs are attacking young calves, Chief Nunneley said.

Some of these dogs have been located and disposed of.

The police chief urged all dog owners to be sure their pets are tagged and wearing collars.

Terry Again Active

County Banks Re-Elect Officers, Directors

Joe Terry, dean of the county's bankers, is returning to active duty as cashier of the City State Bank, after being on temporary leave through much of last year.

This was the only change listed in the 1965 officers and directors of the county's three banks following the annual meetings earlier this month.

Mr. Terry took this leave due to ill health, although he returned frequently during the time to help when needed at the bank.

He began his banking career with the Wellington State Bank in 1923, then went to the City State Bank as cashier in 1953. With the exception of one year at a Grove bank, his entire career has been in Wellington.

Other City State officers are James Doneghy, president; Zook Thomas, vice president; Directors are Mr. Doneghy, chairman of the board; Mr.

The deadline for paying these is Saturday, Jan. 30.

Mrs. Owens also reminded property owners that all state and county taxes are now due and will become delinquent on Feb. 1.

In order to receive homestead exemption from taxes, the property must be rendered between January and April 30, Mrs. Owens said.

LANDMARK BRIDGE COLLAPSES

This 56-year-old bridge across Elm Creek 5 miles north of Samnorwood collapsed without warning as Richard Tate drove a county maintainer towing a pickup, across it Wednesday, Jan. 13. Tate was not injured. Two winch trucks worked until Friday to get the vehicles out of the creek bed, approximately 25 feet below the bridge. A related story is on the back page.

Core Drilling Contract Let

Dozier Creek Location Picked as Site for Dam

The Dozier Creek site has been tapped as the location of the proposed dam on Salt Fork if present indications hold, because of its elevation. The site is located southwest of Samnorwood.

This announcement came Thursday, Jan. 14, from Dan Henard, board chairman of the Collingsworth County Water Control and Improvement District. It followed two days detailed inspection of both the Dozier Creek and Lake Creek sites by A. H. Wolverton of Austin, project engineer.

"Things are more positive than they have ever been," Henard declared.

Woolvorton, who returned to Austin Thursday afternoon, was due to let the contract for core drilling, and work is expected to start this week. Other engineers to be selected by Woolvorton will be here within a short time to begin detailed studies.

Approximately 22,000 acres can be irrigated from the reservoir as it is now projected, Woolvorton told water board members. This will be distributed both north and south of Salt Fork.

He estimated 22,000 acre feet of water will be available for irrigation and this will allow 12 inches per acre per year.

The lake itself will cover approximately 3,400 surface acres and hold 120,000 acre feet of water. Evaporation will take approximately 5 feet per surface acre, or 17,000 acre feet per year.

The elevation of the Dozier Creek site is 2030 feet at the river bed, Woolvorton said, and the water line behind the dam should be about 2,100 feet, with the top of the dam 25 or 30 feet above that.

Milk Truck Overturns as Brakes Fail

A Gold Star Dairies delivery truck overturned Tuesday morning, Jan. 19 when the brakes failed and the driver swerved the vehicle to avoid a collision with another truck. The driver, Jim Morgan of Mangum, was uninjured.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Highways 203 and US 83.

Jack Halford of Mangum, route supervisor for Gold Star, said Morgan was coming from Mangum, intending to turn south on US 83 and stoop at Pete Scott's grocery. Seeing a truck approaching from that direction, Morgan applied his brakes and when they failed to hold, he swerved his vehicle to the north and lost control.

The delivery truck rolled and came to rest on its right side on the west side of the pavement.

Halford estimated that about 50 cases of milk were in the truck. Damage to the truck body was also considerable, he said.

School Census Under Way

Enumeration of the scholastics in the four county school districts will continue through January, Mrs. Harold Scott, deputy county superintendent, announced this week.

Any parents whose children were missed by the census taker should contact the superintendent of schools, the census taker or the office of county superintendent, she said.

Parents of children who will be 6 years old before September 1 should see that their children are enumerated, Mrs. Scott said.

Three Water Board Members Get Re-Election

Three members of the Collingsworth County Water Control and Improvement District board were returned to office in the election Tuesday, Jan. 12, Dan Henard, president, announced after the votes were canvassed Thursday.

The three, and the votes they received in each of the two voting boxes, were:

Louis Patterson of Dodson: Samnorwood box 30; Wellington box 95; total 125.

Cortez Barnett of Dozier: Samnorwood 31, Wellington 96; total 127.

Temple Slay of Wellington: Samnorwood 29, Wellington 94; total 123.

No other names were on the ballot and there were only token write-in votes: In the Wellington box, James Doneghy received 3 votes and Donald Nunneley, W. C. Harwell and Jim Ray of Dozier 1 each. At Samnorwood, W. R. Breeding, Wood Coleman and Donald

Ready Recovery Unit Closes

The 9410th Air Force Ready Recovery Squadron, based at Childress Air Field, will be phased out, as of Feb. 23. This is part of the reorganization program of the Defense Department.

Two Wellington men are members of the unit. Lt. Col. Jack Sanford, a World War II flyer, and M/Sgt. J. B. King, who has more than 17 years active service and reserve duty.

The last meeting of the unit will be Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 13 and 14.

Industry Development Leader to Work Here

Wellington business leaders will confer next week with a man nationally known for his work with small industry development, along with two others deeply concerned with the acceleration of industrial development in Collingsworth.

Gerald F. (Gerry) Albright, special assistant in the office of area operations, Area Redevelopment Administration, will be here four days, meeting with groups and committees related to industrial development in the Chamber of Commerce, Builders Club and Overall Economic Development Plan committee, who invited him here.

With him will be Raymond C. Morrison of Fort Worth, field coordinator for Texas of the Area Redevelopment Administration, and Neal Blanton, assistant field coordinator, also of Fort Worth.

A representative of the Texas Industrial Commission has been invited.

There will be one public meeting, a dinner Thursday night, Jan. 28 at the community building, said Henry Sullivan, Builders Club president. It will begin at 7:30 and tickets will be $1.50. They may be had at the Chamber of Commerce office.

"We ask everyone interested in the future of this community to attend," Sullivan declared.

Other meetings will be with smaller groups.

The three men will be in Wellington through Friday.

"The purpose of this is to try to find a workable solution to bring industry to Collingsworth county," Sullivan continued.

"Our big problem in the past has been who to see and how to contact people. These men will be here to tell us how to do it."

Albright will direct most of the meetings. His "do-it-yourself" method of industrial development has received nationwide recognition that brought him to the Department of Commerce as a consultant in 1958. He has traveled from coast to coast instructing communities such as Collingsworth in the techniques of local industry development.

In his present capacity he

Reweld Steel Bridges

Inspection of All County Bridges Set

All bridges in Collingsworth county more than 12 feet long will be inspected as to their condition and their safety for heavy vehicles, with work to begin immediately.

This action was taken by the Commissioners' Court in a special meeting Friday, Jan. 15 and is an outcome of the collapse of a bridge over Elm Creek five miles north of Samnorwood on Jan. 13.

The court voted to ask the help of Clyde Drake, resident engineer for the State Highway Department in checking the bridges. Each school board will be requested to have at least one member accompany the inspection team, which will also include the commissioners and Joe A. Coleman, county road administrator.

Meeting with the court Friday were Robert Dwight, superintendent of the Samnorwood school, and two trustees, J. H. Oldham and Billy Waters. The bridge which collapsed was on a Norwood school bus route. The three requested that all bridges in the Norwood school district, which includes most of Precincts 2 and 4, be inspected.

The commissioners then moved to include all bridges in the county. The motion was made by W. R. Breeding, commissioner of Precinct 4, and seconded by Woodrow Wood, commissioner of Precinct 1.

Mother's March Brings More Than $300

The Mothers March in Wellington Sunday, Jan. 17 brought the March of Dimes more than $300, Mrs. Luther Gribble, drive chairman, announced at the end of that event.

The drive itself will continue through January, she said. Only the residential section of Wellington was covered in the Mothers March, and the business area will be covered separately.

"The response of Wellington people Sunday was overwhelming, and we are most grateful," Mrs. Gribble declared.

This year's March of Dimes, nationwide, goes to study and research on birth defects.

"Just as the March of Dimes helped to all but eradicate polio, it is now believed that it can do the same for birth defects," Mrs. Gribble said. "Far more babies die each year from birth defects than ever died in one year with polio."

Not only do these include cerebral palsy, and heart defects, but many others that are less well known.

Part of the money from the county drive will remain here, for treatment of local persons.

County Officials Get $300 Salary Increases

The Commissioners' Court, in recent meetings, approved across-the-board salary increases of $300 in 1965 for all elected county officials and employees, along with road employees, minutes of the meetings show.

The court had announced in November the intention to increase salaries by this amount, but the raise was not voted upon until the January term of commissioners' court.

Under the new schedule, County Judge C. C. Bishop will receive a salary of $4,811.36 plus $50 per month mileage. There was no change in the mileage figure.

The salaries of Lorene Jankins, county clerk, Rita Owens, tax assessor-collector, and Sheriff John Rainey was set at $4,811.36 also. In addition, the sheriff receives $400 per month mileage, which he said is divided with his deputy, and $1.25 per day per prisoner for food and care.

Other officials' salaries are

County Attorney R. J. Templeton, $4,700; county Treasurer Ruth Aaron, $3,900; Justice of the Peace Claude McKinney, $2,700; and constable $1,356 per year.

The four commissioners' salaries remain unchanged, $2,376 per year, but mileage was increased from $50 to $75 per month.

Deputies' salaries were set at $3,900 for the sheriff's deputy; $3,200 for the chief deputy clerk and $3,000 for the other deputy.

The librarian will receive $200 per month.

The road administrator's salary is $6,300 per year; six employees will receive $325 per month and three $275.

The veterans service officer is paid $900 per year, no change but with an increase in mileage to $75.

The janitor will receive $3,000 per year.

Strong White Deer Bows to Wellington

A pair of victories, one by a single point, the other by two, were won by the Wellington Skyrockets and Rockettes over the strong White Deer Bucks and Does in the first-time conference meeting between these schools.

In their first year down from AA play, White Deer offers some of the strongest competition the two Wellington 2-A defending champions will meet this year.

The Rockettes had a hard struggle but emerged victorious 52 to 51.

The Skyrockets were winners 47 to 45.

Rockettes-Does

The outcome of this game was decided in the last 10 seconds. Beverly Singley went to the free throw line with Wellington trailing 50-51. She had a one-and-one free throw situation. She sank the two free throws to give Wellington the lead.

White Deer then attempted a desperation pass to the forward end and Susan Sullivan intercepted and held on to the ball until the time ran out.

During the early part of the game the Wellington girls were a little shaky and the Does built up a 10-2 lead. The Rockettes recovered their poise at this point and began to close the gap. At the end of the first quarter, White Deer led by 3 points.

The Wellington girls kept battling in the second quarter and were able to tie the score at halftime. During the third quarter, Joyce Holton hit several baskets from the outside. This put the Rockettes ahead in the ball game for the first time.

Betty Courtney received her fifth foul in the opening minutes of the fourth quarter and the remaining 7 minutes was a struggle for the team, for the Rockettes had lost their rebounding strength on the forward end.

The whole team that was playing at this time seemed to give renewed effort because they knew they would have to play their best.

Joyce Holton and Beverly Singley tied for top scoring position with 21 each; Cindy Hubbard was high for White Deer with 30 points.

Wellington guards played a tremendous game. Susan Sullivan played her best game of the year: Jan Glenn, Regina Ferguson and Karen Childress all turned in fine performances when the pressure was on.

The score by quarters:

Wellington	10	27	44	52
White Deer	13	27	40	51

Rockets-Bucks

Wellington boys played the White Deer team in their second conference game. It seemed in the early stages of the game that all the excitement of the girls' game caused the boys to be a little nervous.

The Wellington boys made many costly mistakes during the early part of the game, but true to their past experiences, they never gave up. They were behind during the first three quarters of the game, but put on a strong surge in the fourth quarter to win 47 to 45.

White Deer scored first, and held on to the lead through the first quarter. At the end of the quarter the score was 10 to 13.

The press which White Deer employed against the Wellington boys was effective to the point it caused the Rockets to make several mistakes. They were not able to do the job they wanted to during the first half, White Deer continued to build up lead and at the half the score was 25 to 18.

During halftime the Rockets were able to analyze the press White Deer was using against them, and immediately after the half, Wellington scored 8 quick points to give them a lead for the first time in the game.

It was nip and tuck during the rest of the third quarter, but White Deer came out with a lead.

During the early stages of the fourth, Wellington was able to tie up the game but never got ahead. Finally, they took a lead of one point with four minutes to go. The Rockets increased this lead to 3 points with two and a half minutes to go.

Feeling the Bucks were playing a tight zone on them, the Rockets went into a stall, attempted a lay-up and missed it; and White Deer got the rebound and scored.

Wellington lost the ball thru a violation and White Deer brought the ball down; Wellington fouled and they were able to tie the game with 50 seconds left.

The Rockets got the ball across the center line and decided to stall for one last shot. With 10 seconds left, Wellington boys began to work for their shot; Bill Spillman drove the base line and White Deer fouled him. He went to the free throw line with 7 seconds and a one-and-one shot. He sank both free throws to give a 2-

WHS Teams Win Over McLean in 2-A Opener

Wellington Rockets and Rockettes took their conference opener from the McLean Tigers and Tigerettes here Tuesday night, Jan. 12. The boys won 83 to 64 and the girls took their victory 53 to 32.

This was an important game to both teams, who wanted to start conference play by winning. The Wellington girls had a tough time in the early part of the game but finally emerged victorious with a score of 53 to 32.

The McLean club was a scrappy bunch, they never gave up, and it wasn't until the final stages of the game that the Rockettes were able to tell they would win.

The Wellington team held a small lead during most of the game, but it was never a comfortable lead.

Betty Courtney had 27 points to lead scoring for Wellington and for the game; Joyce Holton and Beverly Singley tied with 13 each. High pointer for McLean was Jan Bailey with 18 points.

The score by quarters:

Wellington	11	29	36	53
McLean	9	17	25	32

Rockets-Tigers

The Wellington boys met the McLean boys in what turned out to be a high scoring duel. The Skyrockets were able to win 83 to 64.

The Tigers hustled good and full court pressed the Wellington boys during the entire game. The score was never too close in this game, however and all the members of the Wellington team played some during the game.

The Rockets had their best offensive night of the season in scoring the 83 points. Freddy Peters scored 33 points and this was the most he has had in any game. Bill Spillman had 21.

High pointer for McLean was Eddie Windom with 26.

Score by quarters:

Wellington	21	46	61	83
McLean	15	30	46	64

point margin.

White Deer attempted one final shot and Wellington recovered the rebound to preserve the victory.

"We feel like our kids wanted to win real bad," Coach James Stavenhagen said. "They played a tremendous come-from-behind game; the pressure was on them all the way because they didn't have enough lead to relax and play good ball. So I feel this is the mark of a good ball club—because good ball clubs win the close games."

High scorer for Wellington was Bill Spillman with 15 points; Wayne Barton got 10. High pointer for White Deer was Reynolds with 21 points.

Score by quarters:

Wellington	10	18	32	47
White Deer	13	35	36	45

Draft to Call 4,590 in Feb.

AUSTIN—State draft boards will forward around 4,590 males for Army medical-physical examinations in February, 2,644 of whom will be 18-year-olds, Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said last week.

These tests for 18-year-olds are the result of President Johnson's action in 1964 which ordered the Director of Selective Service and the Secretary of Defense to examine all newly registered men who are out of school and available for service. Males married at age 18 and those known to be in school at that age will not be examined.

Col. Schwartz stressed that these youths will not be considered for the armed forces at this time. Normally, draft for service is about age 22.

Only 119 men are scheduled for induction in the month of February, compared to 229 for January. This is the lowest induction call since July 1964, when the quota was 119.

The state quota of 119 for February is the Texas share

Second in Tourney

Norwood Eaglettes in Winning Streak

Since the Christmas vacation the Samnorwood teams have participated in the North Plains Tournament at Claude, where the girls won the second place trophy, and the boys won consolation honors.

The girls won their first two games over Adrian and Happy by scores of 62-51 and 51-37. In the finals against a strong Vega team, the Eaglettes lost by a score of 52-51 as a last-second shot bounded away.

The game was unusually close and the lead changed hands often as both teams exhibited good ball handling and fine shooting. The Eaglettes were led in scoring by Kay Purkey with 23 points. Kay had also led the scoring in the first game against Adrian with 28 points and Suzy Bentley led the scoring against a small but scrappy Happy team with 24. Jo Nell Breeding played her usual steady game throughout the tournament and contributed 41 points for the three games.

The guards played perhaps their best ball of the season in this tournament, as Eunice Stice, Judy Martindale, Marilyn Colson and Billie Purkey contributed heavily to the successes. They were especially noticeable in getting the ball up the court against the stronger forwards in the tournament.

The boys lost their first game of the Claude tournament to Adrian, one of the top-ranked Class B teams in the Panhandle, by a score of 67 to 60, then came back strong to beat Vega 46-31 and Happy by 55-48, to take the consolation honors.

The boys played steadier during this tournament than through any three games all year. They rebounded well, shot good and put forth a maximum effort.

Norwood-Groom

Friday, Jan. 15 the Samnorwood teams opened conference action against Groom at Groom. The girls, playing without Suzy Bentley, who suffered a knee injury in the Vega game, managed to hold off a determined group of Groom girls 46-32. The girls did not play at their best but did manage to win this conference opener. Jo Nell Breeding led the scoring with 26 points.

The Eagles played even with Groom during the first half but saw the host team pull away from them in the final half to a 70-50 victory. This leaves Norwood with an 0-1 record in conference action. The scoring in the boys game was led by David Kindrick with 21 points.

County Has No Rural Traffic Deaths in '64

Of the 31 counties in the Amarillo district, Collingsworth county was one of the two counties which was very fortunate in not having any deaths resulting from traffic accidents during the year 1964.

In December it was the only county without a traffic accident on its rural highways.

However, the Department of Public Safety recorded 15 mishaps on rural highways in the county during 1964. Those accidents injured 11 persons with some spending countless days in the hospital. Property damage from these accidents amounted to $14,485.

During December, there were no accidents on rural highways in the county, according to Sgt. J. W. Wilson, Highway Patrol supervisor in this area.

During the month of December there were no deaths, no injuries and no property damage loss.

Texas drivers have killed more people during 1964 than in any other year in the state's history. Unofficial figures indicate the Texas death toll may have reached 3,000 during 1964, but the final tabulation will not be completed until March 15.

Great Plains Program

Cost Share Set for Some Fence Building

By Max Manley
Soil Conservation Service

Fences can be cost-shared under the Great Plains program to obtain protection for newly-seeded grass, to improve grazing distribution on rangeland, or to set up rotational grazing systems on pasture or rangeland.

When grass is seeded it must be protected from grazing until it is well established, thus the county Great Plains Conservation program committee has approved this practice for cost share, when these fences meet SCS specifications.

In certain cases when range surveys indicate that range is being unevenly utilized by livestock, fences can be cost-shared if they will correct the situation.

Under a system of rotational grazing land owners are able to achieve range improvement while at the same time utilizing range or pasture more efficiently, thus resulting in higher forage production per acre. Most rotational grazing systems will require some fencing. These fences can be cost-shared when built to SCS specifications.

One must realize, of course, that the above practices are only a part of an entire system which is called a conservation plan.

Under a conservation plan, each acre is put to the use to which it is best suited and problems are solved systematically. Also a continuing program of conservation is set up to protect the soil in the future.

Landowners are encouraged to take advantage of the services made possible by the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District assisted by the Soil Conservation Service. If additional information is needed please come by our office in the courthouse.

Donley Group Oppose Rights on Greenbelt

The Donley County Farm Bureau has passed a resolution opposing any legislation giving the Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority any rights to underground water.

Maurice Risley, president of that organization, has announced: "The Bureau is not opposing the surface rights of the Authority in any way," Risley stated, but he pointed out that there could be future damage to irrigation farming in Donley county if a number of large wells were drilled to withdraw large amounts of water by lowering the water table and causing failure of the irrigation wells, he added.

The opposition came following publication of a legal notice in the newspapers in all towns that are members of the Greenbelt Authority, including the Wellington Leader.

In this Greenbelt seeks authorization to acquire and develop underground water and water rights.

Dr. S. H. Townsend, president of Greenbelt, said he felt there is a misunderstanding. "Directors of the Authority felt that the request was needed should the Authority have to use the later wells of Childress or Quanah or the other towns to supplement the water needs of the cities before the entire Greenbelt project is completed."

On Jan. 26, representatives of Greenbelt will appear before the Texas Water Development Board in Austin to request money to complete the $11 million project.

As the money is needed by the Authority, portions of the final $5 to $6 million will be placed on deposit at the Mercantile National Bank in Dallas. The final figure will be used for construction of the dams on Lelia Lake Creek and Salt Fork north of Clarendon, a reservoir on Salt Fork and the filtration plant somewhere below the dam. It will also cover laying the pipe line to the member cities using the water.

Only Nine Days Are Left to Secure Your Rite to Vote

With January two-thirds gone, only 400 poll taxes have been paid by county voters.

This is an off election year, and after the high pitch of the 1964 election, the let-down is natural. But the off-year can provide elections just as important in their field as the election of officials.

These elections are seldom foreseen at poll-tax paying time, and if the number of those paying poll taxes has been low, an important decision can well be made by a minority of voters.

There is no knowing what we may vote on before 1965 is out. With the fast maturing of our water development plans, this may well call forth one or more elections. Irrigation is a major goal, and formation of any irrigation districts have to be voted on.

Then there are the city election and the school trustee elections. This is where representative government begins and where our individual voices in government are most clearly heard.

The price of a poll tax, less than you spend on coffee breaks during one week, gives you the right to vote for the entire year.

Nov. Bonds Total $14,396

Savings Bonds sales for the first 11 months of 1964 totaled $91,593 in Collingsworth county. Of this amount, $14,396 were purchased during the month of November, according to John Forbis, chairman of the Collingsworth County Savings Bond committee.

During November Texans

purchased $11,577,054 in Series E and H Savings Bonds. This represented a 9.6% increase over the same period last year. Cumulative sales for 11 months of 1964 amounted to $135,945,497 which is 90.6% of the state's goal of $150 million.

POWERS DEFINED

Sole power of impeachment rests in the House of Representatives while the power to try an impeachment is vested in the Senate.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where President Johnson is up against the same old problem of pleasing the people when some want more government spending and others want less.

But it's not as big a problem as it once was, because folks are getting scarcer all the time who want to carry their own weight, instead of lawing their neighbors to carry it for them.

My gimmesome neighbor says he's afraid there would be a mighty big gravy famine, though, if we got some tightwad in Washington who started spending people-squeezings like money instead of like water.

Also it's notable that the Great Society is going to be built on the principle of taking substance away from people who work for it and giving it to people who don't.

My crabbed cousin says he reads where a fellow by the name of Robin Hood tried out this system years ago, but the took-from majority soon got tired of it, probably because Mr. Hood took out such a fat commission on every deal.

Says this more modern Rob-Peter-to-Bribe-Paul Society may work out real Great, but it will be pretty rough on old Peter.

It comes out that the number of families living in poverty in the U.S. has been cut from 9 million, down to around 2 or 3 million.

And this massive victory in the Poverty War was real cheap. Instead of trying to raise people's income above the $3,000-a-year poverty mark, the mark was just lowered down below most of the people, to $2,000 a year.

My $2,001 neighbor says it was nice, being felt sorry for by such important people while he was in the Poverty class, but his taxes went on just the same, so he found it was sort of an empty honor.

Word is out that some shrewd Texas officials figure the way to encourage youth to get itself more highly educated is to double the tuition in state schools.

My barber college graduate neighbor says this idea that more people can afford higher schooling if the price is also higher, goes right along with some other precepts of Modern Economics.

Says this raised-price method may revolutionize the people-helping business. Like, for instance, there will be lots more

Late Ginnings Reflect Low Cotton Quality

The quality of cotton classed for growers during the week ending Friday, Jan. 15 continued to reflect lower grades, shorter staple lengths, and lower micronaire readings, according to the USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service in Memphis.

K. E. Voelkel, in charge of the Memphis classing office, said that about 17,000 samples were classed during the week, bringing the seasonal total to 164,000. Last season as of the same date 208,000 samples had been classed. Because of the small amount of cotton remaining to be harvested, ginned and folks egering to help their money-shy fellowman, if they can do it by charging him more.

And it looks like the great Indonesian leader, Mr. Sukarno, is going to jilt the United Nations.

My America-first neighbor says if several other juvenile delinquent and financially delinquent nations made this same move, it would sure improve the great world organization.

He says UN-dropout Sukarno had ought to get a vote of thanks, same as some high school dropouts ought to be commended for rendering a public service in the field of classified, the Memphis office will close next week. The last samples will be received on Thursday, Jan. 21, and after that date samples should be shipped to Altus, Okla.

Based on 17,000 samples classed last week, White grades decreased to 12% from 21% the week earlier; Light Spotted grades amounted to 43% compared with 48%; Spotted grades represented 38% compared with 29% the previous week; and 6% graded Tinged and Yellow Stained. One percent of samples classed were Below Grade. The predominant grade was Strict Low Middling Spotted, with 23%. The amount of cotton reduced in grade because of Bark increased to 7%. This indicated that the method of harvesting played a large part in the lower quality of the cotton classed.

The staple length of cotton school improvement.

President Johnson seems bent on getting a Medicare law that won't pay any doctors, and that limits the elderly to ailments they can get well of in 60 days.

And my super-senior citizen neighbor is looking forward to 60-day hospital vacations a couple of times a year, where he can lie around and be waited on by beautiful nurses.

Says he will enjoy hospitalment a lot more without a doctor to be popping in every little while to punch him and listen to him and decide he's not sick enough and make him take more medicine.

D. E. SCOTT

classing during the week ranged from 13/16 inch to 1 1/32 inches. The predominant length continued to be 15/16 inch, with 61%. Other lengths were: 7/8 inch and shorter, 2%; 29/32 inch, 36%; 31/32 and longer, 1%. Wasty staple showed an increase from 6% the previous week to 11% last week. This was the largest amount of Wasty cotton classed this season.

Mike readings, which reflect fineness and maturity of the cotton fiber, were again lower with 50% reading 3.5 to 4.9, compared with 57% the week earlier. Other readings were: 3.0 to 3.4, 30% compared with 28%; 2.7 to 2.9, 13% compared with 10%; and 2.6 and below, 7%, compared with 4% the previous week.

As has been the case all season, the Eastern Panhandle cotton as tested by the Pressley instrument, reflected a stronger fiber than any active harvesting section in the state. The most recently released figures by the Cotton Division in cooperation with the Cotton Research Committee of Texas, showed that 37% tested 85,000 pounds per square inch and above (strong and very strong); 55% was 75,000-80,000 (average) and only 8% was 70,000-74,000 (fair).

The moving of cotton into trade channels continued at an active pace. Cotton having a micronaire reading in the 3.5 to 4.9 range brought the farmers the following average prices: Middling Light Spotted, 15/16, 27.35; Strict Low Middling Light Spotted, 15/16, 26.45; Low Middling Light Spotted, 15/16, 25.20; and Middling Spotted, 15/16, 26.00. These prices were based on uncompressed, mixed lots in warehouses. Cottonseed prices were $48 and $49 a ton at gin points.

THE DEBT CLUB

About half the home mortgages in the U.S. in 1964 were held by persons between 35 and 49. Almost 40 per cent of the borrowers were in the $5,000 to $7,000 income bracket.

Soup in Seconds Due for Housewife

Soup in seconds is one of the many maid-services that U.S. Department of Agriculture research scientists are developing for busy homemakers. They're currently perfecting the process that turns pureed beans, peas and lentils into "instant" powders. Just add water, stir, heat and serve. Beats soaking, cooking for an hour of two, then making the puree yourself.

Washington School to Hold First Homecoming

Booker T. Washington School will observe its first Homecoming during the week of Monday, Jan. 25 to Saturday, Jan. 30.

On Tuesday night, Jan. 26,

Senator Andy Rogers Named to 11 Committees

State Senator Andy Rogers was appointed chairman of one committee, vice chairman of another, and a member of nine other committees in the Texas State Senate, it was learned last week.

"It is the finest recognition this district has ever had," Sen. Rogers said.

The Senator from the 31st Senatorial District was appointed to all of the committees considered the "top" committees in the senate, including the powerful State Affairs and Finance.

Sen. Rogers replaced Sen. George Moffett as chairman of the Agriculture and Livestock committee in the Senate. Moffett did not seek re-election and has held the post for many years.

He was also named vice chairman of the Constitutional Amendments Committee.

Committees to which he was appointed a member are Education, Finance, State Affairs, Game and Fish, Military and Veterans Affairs, Governor's Nominations, Public Health, Transportation and Water and Conservation.

Feed Grain Exports Up

A 10,000-ton shipload of U.S. feed grains every six hours was the average rate that corn, grain sorghums, oats, and barley left our shores, bound for foreign ports last year. This set an all-time record of 16.1 metric tons of grain, or $850 million worth. Dollar market sales now account for 88% of total feed grain exports. Aggressive foreign market promotion, carried out jointly by the USDA and the U.S. Feed Grain Council, is credited with the overseas market expansion.

NAMED FOR HIM

The Plains of Abraham, site of a notable battle between the British and the French, near Quebec City, Canada, were named for Abraham Martin, a pilot of boats operating on the St. Lawrence River, who once owned part of the area.

State Parks Have No Off Season

ROCKPORT.—Few people realize how busy Texas state parks personnel are during the dead of winter, according to Don Oliver, regional state park ranger.

During the "outdoor" season from Easter to Labor Day, the job of routine maintenance such as cleaning park grounds, cleaning rest rooms and mowing grass occupy parks personnel full time, and actual repairs must be put off.

When the icy blasts of winter turn the thoughts of the public away from state parks, the real work begins, said Oliver. Using the limited funds available, the repair crews go into action. Rest rooms must be repaired and painted, shelters re-screened, broken windows replaced, leaky roofs fixed and signs must be re-painted or replaced. Equipment such as mowing machines need repair while ancient pickup trucks are coaxed into condition to operate for another season.

Quail Takes Double Header from Dodson

The Quail Quails and Bobwhites won a double header from the Dodson Mustangs, boys and girls, in the first District 11-B game played by both. The teams met on the Quail court Tuesday night, Jan. 12.

The Quails were victors 93 to 53, while the Bobwhites, defending district champions, won 67 to 39.

Bobwhites-Dodson

Quail jumped to a 19-point lead in the first quarter and the hard-fighting Dodson girls were never able to overcome this. Judy Campbell of Quail led the scoring with 24 points, Sue Breedlove had 18, Shirley Horton 11, Lonetta Neeley 8 and Linda Peters 6.

Carolyn Sexton with 17 points was high scorer for Dodson; Linda Sexton had 15 and Nancy Gulley 7.

The game by quarters:

Dodson	4	18	25	39
Bobwhites	23	36	55	67

Quails-Mustangs

Because of illness and injury, Dodson had only five boys on its traveling squad Tuesday night, every one of them playing the full game.

Quail, on the other hand, had 12 boys suited up, all played, and 10 of the 12 scored.

Game scoring was led by the Mustang's Foster Riley, with 32, while John Hightower of Dodson had 9, Dale Derrick 8, and James Riley 5. The other player was Bobby Tabor.

For Quail, Dale Morris had 26, and Bruce Ward 17, Paul Gollighugh 10, Joe Harris and Don Morris 9 each, Tommy Baker 8, Coy Stephens 4, Gerald Fielding 4 and Smokey Mitchell and Royce Mitchell 2 each. Other players were Reed Souder and Luther Needham.

By quarters:

Dodson	13	25	31	53
Quail	25	45	71	93

Quality Seed Good Insurance

Money invested in quality planting seed is good crop insurance. The use of the best seed of adapted varieties is basic to successful farming, according to R. J. Mears, Texas Agricultural Extension Service Agronomist. Now is the time, he adds, to make arrangements for needed seed for planting the 1965 crop.

Comstock in Quanah Hospital

Buford Comstock, vocational agriculture instructor at Quail, entered the hospital at Quanah Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 13.

He was kept for observation through the remainder of the week and returned home during the week end.

Mrs. Comstock, who was with her husband, is a former nursing supervisor at the Quanah hospital.

The total includes 13,210 on-campus students, 1,850 at Oklahoma State Tech, Okmulgee, and 463 at the Oklahoma City branch of the OSU Technical Institute.

By classes on campus, there are 3,727 freshmen, 2,579 sophomores, 2,458 juniors, 2,477 seniors, 147 special and unclassified students, and 1,822 graduate students.

Enrolled from Wellington are Richard Maudin, who is in his first year in the school of veterinary medicine, and Glenn Thomas, freshman in the college of agriculture.

Applications for assistance under the Great Plains program were received from Henry Rogers, Wilbur DePauw, L. W. Shawhart, J. M. Morgan, and Claude I. Thomas. Priority was set on each application based on the erosion hazards which exist on the farm or operating unit.

Work which has been completed on Great Plains contracts was reviewed by the chairman, Douglas Lowe. He reported to the committee that 19 contracts were terminated by expiration Dec. 31, 1964. All planned conservation work had been completed on these operating units.

Proposed contracts were received on Claude Thomas, Henry Rogers and Wilbur DePauw.

Present for the meeting were Don Jennings, FHA county supervisor; W. O. Vaughan, member of the Salt Fork SCD board of supervisors; Millard Brown, county office manager of the ASCS, and Lowe, chairman of the Soil Conservation Service.

expired Dec. 31, 1964. These contracts had been in effect from three to six years and the work was accomplished according to a time schedule set up by the producer. Cost-share assistance for permanent conservation practices, ranging from 50 to 80 percent, was provided to aid in the application of this conservation work. The Great Plains Conservation program is administered by the Soil Conservation District.

Landowners whose contracts expired on Dec. 31, 1964, and some of their conservation accomplishments are as follows:

Harry Franks improved his rangeland by controlling competitive brush and re-seeding his range.

A. S. Whitson seeded cropland to grass and constructed cross fencing to improve grazing distribution.

Melvin Bailey seeded cropland back to grass to better protect his soil and increase his livestock potential.

Judge R. L. Templeton improved rangeland by controlling brush, with deferred grazing and properly using rangeland. He also converted some marginal cropland by seeding it to permanent vegetation. Runoff water was controlled by the construction of a diversion terrace.

Alice Baxter O'Rear seeded some cropland back to grass and improved grazing distribution by installing two wells and water storage facilities.

Mrs. R. E. Lowe and J. B. Lowe improved their rangeland by properly using and by constructing a pond to improve grazing distribution.

The A. J. Peters ranch was improved by brush control and range seeding. Grazing distribution was improved by the installation of a cross fence and livestock well.

C. E. Pitts improved his rangeland by seeding, deferring grazing and proper use.

Travis McGuire made improvements on his operating unit by controlling brush and seeding his rangeland. A diversion terrace and waterway were installed to protect the cropland from erosion.

C. A. Wright installed terraces to protect his cropland from erosion and seeded some marginal land back to grass.

T. C. Fike's rangeland was improved by brush control and seeding.

Rufus Sweat did some range seeding and brush control to improve his rangeland. The important management practices of deferred grazing and proper range use were also carried out.

P. E. Starr improved rangeland through brush control, deferred grazing and proper use. Terraces were installed on cropland and contour farming practiced to protect the land from erosion.

Zook Thomas carried out brush control and deferred grazing on two operating units to improve the rangeland. Some of the rangeland was re-seeded for improvement and it was used properly so that the improvement would be maintained.

Olan Farris seeded his marginal cropland back to permanent grass and installed a livestock water well.

W. O. Vaughan seeded perennial grasses on cropland that was too sandy to farm; rangeland was improved by brush control and deferred grazing. A cross fence and livestock water well were installed to give better grazing distribution.

Palo Cummings improved his rangeland by controlling the brush and deferred grazing during the growing season. Proper range use has been practiced since the brush was controlled to further improve the rangeland.

John R. Henard Jr. improved his rangeland by controlling the brush and deferring. Proper use of the rangeland was also carried out.

The completion of these contracts represents a step forward in stabilizing the agricultural economy in the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District. Money is still available to any farmer or rancher interested in carrying out a complete conservation plan on his land. This money is available as cost-share under the Great Plains Conservation program. Information and assistance may be had by checking with the Soil Conservation Service employees assisting the Salt Fork SCD.

Accident Victims

Three of Injured Family Goes Home

Three members of a Comanche, Okla., family injured in a two-car collision 13 miles south of Wellington Saturday, Jan. 9, were able to be released from St. Joseph's Hospital Friday, Jan. 15, and returned to their home. Two other members of the family were transferred last week to Oklahoma City.

Released here Friday were Mrs. John Douthitt and her two younger children. She received lacerations on one leg, a slight concussion and a badly sprained left arm and right ankle, her brother-in-law, Alvie Chasteen of the Duncan, Okla., police department, told The Wellington Leader.

Tommy, age 10, had cuts and bruises and a bad laceration on his left knee, while three-year-old Johnetta had a broken right ankle, bruises, and abrasions from sliding on the highway when she was thrown from the truck in which the family was riding.

Mr. Douthitt and the older daughter, LaNeal, 13, were more seriously injured and transferred to McBride Bone and Joint Hospital in Oklahoma City. Monday, Jan. 11. He had both collar bones, his right shoulder and left leg broken. LaNeal received a concussion, broken collar bone, broken right wrist and burns of her legs that will require skin grafts, Patrolman Chasteen said.

The family was riding in a truck on which was mounted a portable feed grinder and mixing machine, when it collided with a car driven at a high rate of speed on the wrong side of the road, according to the Highway Patrol investigators.

Three Hall county Negroes riding in the car were killed instantly.

The accident occurred 1.2 miles east of the Hollis Y on US 62.

Mr. Douthitt owned and operated the feed grinding and mixing business and went once a month to Hereford to do custom work. This was the first time his family had accompanied him, Chasteen said.

Both vehicles were demolished and the cab of the truck was torn away from the body.

Screwworm Work Ends Another Successful Year

MISSION.—Screwworm eradication officials are looking forward to another successful year for the program although many stockmen feel last year's results leave little room for improvement.

Only 65 Texas counties were reported to be infested by the livestock pest in 1964, and only 23 cases were discovered. In contrast, during 1963, a total of 4,916 infestations were detected in 182 counties, while 49,484 cases occurred in 242 counties in 1962.

New Mexico had only 14 outbreaks last year compared to nearly 1,500 the previous year. Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana had no infestations during 1964.

Eradication program pilots flew nearly 2.7 million miles in dispersing approximately 4.7 billion sterile screwworm flies in Texas, New Mexico, southeastern Arizona and along the border in Mexico. Sterile flies, reared in a huge plant near Mission, mate with native flies and prevent production of offspring.

Eradication activities have reduced annual losses to Southwestern livestockmen from $100 million to less than $1 million since the program began in February 1962.

Officials think they can reduce losses even more in 1965 by strengthening the barrier zone between the United States and Mexico where screwworms can exist year-round. In this barrier, which is several hundred miles wide and run from the Gulf of Mexico to the Gulf of California, sterile flies are dispersed routinely to prevent fertile screwworms from migrating into "clean" areas and causing new outbreaks.

Stockmen can also help by frequently examining their animals and promptly reporting all infestations. No screwworms have been reported in the Southwest since early in December, so outbreaks can be brought under control quickly if they are detected during the early stages of development.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

We took a pleasant and interesting trip to Houston last week, traveling a longer route than usual since we had plenty of time. Instead of going the shorter route of Coleman, Brownwood, Austin, etc., we turned south at Coleman and went to Brady, Mason and turned to Llano and on into Austin. The next morning we took an even more circuitous route into Houston mainly for sightseeing purposes.

It was the first time I had been through Llano since my days in The University of Texas when Dr. Penick sent a group of us over there to play tennis. At Mason we were deep in the sheep and goat country where the deer are so plentiful that they have an open season on does as well as bucks to prevent starvation due to overpopulation. Before that we had been through a region where there was enough mistletoe on the trees to get every woman in the state kissed a hundred times. In spite of its romantic association mistletoe, unlike Spanish moss, is a parasite and it is killing trees by the thousands in that section of the state.

It was the next morning after we left Austin that the landscape, vegetation, farms, animals, fowls and county seat towns became highly interesting and exciting to me for I had never been through Elgin, Giddings, La Grange, Altair, and other towns like that in a car before. After you get out of the scrub oak, cedar hill country with goats and sheep, it is startling to see how the country changes as you approach the coastal plains of Texas.

It is also fascinating to observe the distinctive court-houses built of great stone blocks. Some of these are 75 and 100 years old and the architecture is beautiful in sharp contrast to the uniformity of our more modern court houses in Paducah, Childress and Wellington.

After we left the sheep and goat country we ran into the cattle country again. There were herds of registered Herefords and a few Brahma herds; but in the main the commercial beef cattle were crossbreeds with strains of Brahma to provide resistance to heat and insects and strains of Hereford, Aberdeen Angus and Shorthorn to provide the beef. We saw great Brahma bulls running with black cows, which is an expensive practice at the time of calving. We saw purebred Angus and Hereford bulls in the pastures with Brahma cows as well as crossbreeds and the breeders tell me that this cuts down on the loss at the time of birth considerably. Whatever their practice they are raising cattle in great numbers and the cattle population continues to be larger than the demand.

Many of the towns around Austin are inhabited by people who are mainly of German descent and you can tell it by the looks of the farms and the towns. They still live on the farms. They have cattle in small or large numbers, beef cattle and dairy cattle; but they also have hogs, chickens, geese, and sheep. In the country around Altair we noted a pond or small lake near the neat house and big barn and around each of these waddled great white or gray geese. We found out the reason as we passed through Altair, which advertises itself as The Goose Capital of the World.

These people are close enough to the big industrial centers that they can sell their milk, poultry, eggs and pork as raw produce if they think it is advisable; but they are not dependent entirely on the middleman or the wholesaler for an adequate price. They produce their own smoked hams and bacon, canned goose liver and many other things on which they set the price themselves. It gives me a feeling of nostalgia to remember that the farms in Collingsworth county once had milk cows, hogs, turkeys, chickens and geese. Farther down in the coastal area you run into rice farming, which is more mechanical and industrialized than our wheat or cotton farming.

In Houston we spent our first two nights at the Shamrock-Hilton because it was the only place we knew that was near the M. D. Anderson Hospital. Marshall and Emily Wells came over to visit the first evening and we had a marvelous time catching up on the activities of relatives — mainly our children. They have three children and the youngest is named for Marshall's beloved Aunt Lucy. Marshall is executive secretary of the Houston Foundation.

At the Shamrock-Hilton we were quartered with the pro all-stars from the East and when we moved to the Tower Motel & Hotel we were stationed with the players from the West. You can read about these 6.6 players who weigh 250 or 275 pounds and it does not register on your conscious thought even when you see them on TV; but when you sit next to them and watch four of these behemoths trying to arrange themselves in a booth in a coffee shop you are astonished at their size. It is hard to realize that such mammoth men can move as quickly and as fast as they do on the football field.

We did not visit the Dome, which is that huge covered amphitheatre in which football games, baseball games and other sporting events will be held in 72 degree comfort rain or shine. Our schedule was too tight to allow such an excursion; but we could not have seen the inside if we could have afforded the time. The throngs of visitors were slowing down the work. Now they are kept out in an effort to finish the huge project by the opening of the baseball season. The Roman Empire had nothing on us in its gaudiest day.

By the time you read this I will be on my way back to Houston and will be there for two weeks and out of the office for a longer time than that. In my absence the paper will be in competent hands—the same ones that run the paper every week. Namely: Virginia Robley, J. K. Porter, D. E. Scott, Virginia Fourminter, Dela B. Ford, Billy Wilkerson, Henry Wells, Lanny Ford, and George Porter.

This is one time I can truly say: I will be glad to get back to Wellington.

Maintainer Crashes Through Elm Bridge

A 140-foot bridge across Elm Creek five miles north of Samnorwood collapsed with a county-owned maintainer and the pickup it was towing, and dropped them approximately 25 feet to the creek bed.

The accident occurred shortly before noon Wednesday, Jan. 13.

Richard Tate, driver of the maintainer, was uninjured. He rode it to the bottom of the creek, then climbed out through a cab window.

The scene was only a short distance north of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baxter, who heard the crash. Baxter arrived within only a few minutes.

Joe Coleman, county road administrator, said it is believed the bottom of the bridge pulled loose from the east side, allowing approximately 60 feet of the bridge to collapse. Both the 24,000-pound maintainer and the pickup came to rest on their sides. Coleman estimated the damage to both would not exceed $500.

Tate said he had no warning the bridge was going to collapse. He heard a crack only as the fall began.

It was not until Friday that two winch trucks, one belonging to the county and the other to Cudd Brothers, got the maintainer and pickup out of the creek bed.

The Commissioners' Court is already making plans to replace the bridge—with one stout enough to carry a 120,000 pound weight, Coleman said.

This steel and wooden bridge was one of the oldest in the county, built in 1908 by the Missouri Valley Iron and Steel Works of Leavenworth, Kan., according to the plaque on one

Friends Seek Mrs. Clarence Knight

College friends are attempting to locate a former Wellington woman, Mrs. Clarence Knight, whose husband was a printer for The Wellington Leader some time between 1910 and 1920.

W. F. Gregory of Quana is attempting to find those students who lived at the Brownlow House in Denton in 1910. They want to have a reunion.

Mrs. Knight, who was Miss Pearl Williams at that time, is the only one living in the Brownlow House attending North Texas State College that has not been located, Gregory said.

Triple-Headers

WHS Teams to Meet Memphis, Clarendon

Wellington's basketball teams will play three games on their home court Friday, Jan. 22, then travel to Clarendon Tuesday, Jan. 26 for another triple-header.

The Memphis Cyclone meets the Rockets in conference play Friday night. As Memphis does not have a girls team, the Rockets will meet the Reed, Okla., girls at 6:30 p.m.

But the first game will be a 5 p.m. match in which the Rocket B team boys meet an opponent yet to be determined—either Memphis or Reed.

The Wellington and Reed girls have identical records to this point. Each has lost four games, and each is the defending district champion. The Reed girls are a large team, Coach James Stavenhagen said, and one of the better girls teams of Western Oklahoma.

The Rockets won over the Cyclone by 15 points in the Wellington tournament two weeks ago. But Memphis had a bad night and is capable of playing much better ball than was seen then.

"We know when they start playing for keeps they will go harder," Coach Stavenhagen declared.

Memphis has lost one game in district play to the fine Clarendon club and will have to win this one if they want to keep alive in district play.

Wellington B team girls will play the Clarendon B girls at 5 p.m. Tuesday on the Clarendon court. The Rockettes and Clarendon A team meet at 6:30 and the boys game follows.

Clarendon girls have defeated Wellington twice this season, once in the championship finals of the Wellington tournament.

The boys teams have not met but from their meeting with the same opponents, they appear to be evenly matched. The Bronchos have not lost a district game, and this may well be a show-down game for both teams, Coach Stavenhagen pointed out.
