Co. building. The dances will start promptly at 9:00 p. m. Admission is $1 per person. Headquarters for signing up contestants have been set up in the Thomas & McLain building. In charge of accepting entries are Harry Brummett, Ivan Lovett and Alton Witt. Office hours on entries are from

Events include ribbon roping, calf roping, bronc riding, wild cow milking, bull riding, cutting horse contests and other entertainment events. Approximately $800 in prize money will be awarded contestants in varied events.

The entry fee will not be added to the purse, it was said. "Much enthusiasm is being shown in the rodeo," said Mr. Munger. "Entries are coming in from throughout this area and riders and contestants from more than 20 towns will represent their particular localities." More than 200 head of some of the best rodeo stock in the country have been secured for the annual event, which in past years has provided rodeo fans in this area with thrills, spills and chills. Admission prices for the rodeo are $1 for adults and 50 cents for children. Tickets will be on sale at all Perryton drug stores prior to the rodeo to avoid congestion.

Citizens Urged to Honor Vets World Wars; Wear Poppies Sold in City-wide Campaign

The women of The American Legion Auxiliary of the Pierce Johnson Post No. 254 will offer poppies to every one in Perryton on Poppy Day, Saturday, May 25. Volunteer workers will be on the streets all day Saturday, announced Mrs. S. L. Brilhart, Unit President, and Mrs. R. B. Orrill, Poppy chairman. Poppy headquarters will be in the W. W. Virtue Dry Goods Co. and workers will report there for duty. Lunch will be served at the Legion Hall at noon for solicitors.

Mrs. Orrill states that the poppy is the memorial flower for every man who has died fighting in either of our two great world wars. They have all died in a common cause, whether death struck them in France in 1918 or on Guam in 1944. The poppy is worn as evidence that we still remember their great sacrifices and effort in our behalf.

The sale is carried on entirely by volunteers, so that every penny received goes directly to the relief of disabled veterans and the families of the dead and disabled. These people are the chief concern of the Legion and Auxiliary. All money contributed will go into the Legion and Auxiliary rehabilitation and welfare fund. Citizens are urged to buy a poppy and give as much as possible to help these veterans and their families.

Other members of the committee assisting Mrs. Orrill are Mrs. L. T. Tucker and Mrs. J. C. Case. The entire Auxiliary group is expected to turn out in a body to make sales in assigned districts.

JUST HERE and THERE

Last Friday evening we attended the graduating exercises of the 1946 class of the Perryton High School, and while the boys and girls filed across the stage to receive their diplomas from President Aldon Bell of the Board of Education, our thoughts went back to the graduation class of 1941.

We remembered then that war seemed inevitable, but little did we realize that so many of the young men from that class would be thrown into such an awful holocaust of lives, minds, bodies and property.

We recalled names that were called for diploma presentation on that evening in May of 1941... names of Allen, Years, Batin, Werneburg, Boston, Wagner, Brilhart, Tregellas, Burger, Thomas, Buschman, Stumpf, Selby, Chase, Schwab, Cook, Kahen-kamp, Crouch, Powers, Daniel, Patton, Dunlavy, Murray, Edge, Markham, Evans, Linville, Gidley, Lilly, Hardy, Lile, Hart, Leicht, Holmes, LaMaster, Holt, Mays, Lawrence, and on down the list... names of Perryton grads of '41 who later answered roll call in the army, navy and marine corps in every part of the world... names of some who paid the supreme sacrifice for their country.

And then the name of another fine young graduate of that class of five years ago came back to us. We could see him as he strode to the stage to accept the coveted medal given annually by Judge and Mrs. Jack Allen to the best speech student. He was a See No. 1, Page 8

Funds Urged In Emergency Food Drive

Contributions are beginning to come in on Ochiltree county's Emergency Food Collection campaign which started locally last Thursday and which will continue through June 15 states Rev. Ralph A. Durham, county chairman.

The major goal of the Emergency Food Collection is to collect cash to obtain food for overseas relief; the secondary goal is to collect food canned in tins to alleviate starvation in famine-stricken Europe and Asia which is being done on behalf of UNRRA of which F. H. LaGuardia is Director General. Secretary of Commerce Henry A. Wallace, National Chairman of the Emergency Food Collection, placed emphasis on cash contributions in opening the drive. He pointed out that more food can be obtained per dollar, if it is bought centrally and in large quantities. In addition, the expense of sorting individual cans, packing and shipping them can be avoided.

Rev. Durham points out to donors that all money raised in Ochiltree county during the drive will be sent to national headquarters of Emergency Food Collection in New York City where it will be turned over to UNRRA, which will see to it that the food and money collected are applied to the places of greatest need overseas. Cash contributions are preferable, however, for the reasons stated above.

Collection jars will be placed in prominent places in downtown stores on Friday of this week to receive contributions, or donations may be brought or mailed to Morris M. Payne at the Herald Office, Mr. See No. 7, Page 6

A change has also been made in the time of day the meeting is to be held. The first program of the conference will be held beginning at 5 p. m. This change was made in order that the young people of the association could attend the meeting.

Congress Has Taken The First Step In The Right Direction To STOP INFLATION!

The House of Representatives of the U. S. Congress recently passed a bill extending the life of the Office of Price Administration, but amended the law to the extent of eliminating some of the past unsound OPA policies and practices. These past policies of OPA were hamstringing production, creating Black Markets and retarding distribution. This is the first step in the right direction to eliminate inflation and indicate to the people that eventually the OPA War Measures will be terminated.

PRODUCTION

not some Government Regulation or Press Release is the only cure of Inflation. We know America has the agricultural, manufacturing and distribution facilities to satisfy not only our own needs but those of much of the world. However, since V. J. Day this producing capacity has been slowed down and forced out of production the type of goods we need, as the result of maladministration of OPA.

You Have Seen The Results of Past OPA Bungling

We can all see with our own eyes the Black Market increasing daily and the high prices which we are actually paying. Inflation is already here. Workmen have seen their factories forced to either reduce hours or actually close because OPA policies had either shut off raw material supplies, or had made their factory's product unprofitable to manufacture. Agriculture has seen its production, distribution system and markets distorted by OPA policies.

The home-seeking Veteran has found that he must pay Black Market prices because OPA has channeled building materials away from the legitimate Building Industry and seriously reduced the already inadequate supply of building materials. OPA policies funneled the majority of products into needlessly high-priced lines. These are but a few examples of the troubles that impractical and unsound OPA policies have gotten us into. You personally have observed these results.

OPA Has Had Its Day In Court

Congress acted only after free and open hearings at which evidence was presented by OPA, the Bureaucrats, Agriculture, Labor, Business and Consumer Groups. Thousands of pages of evidence, charts and statistics were presented. The House of Representatives, acting only after it had the full FACTS and, by a majority greater than 8 to 1, decided that the past mal-administration of the OPA must be corrected, if the INFLATION we already have was to be stopped.

What Did Congress Do?

BRIEFLY STATED:

1. The House extended the life of OPA beyond June 30, 1946. OPA asked for that extension.
2. The House did not remove the powers of OPA to prevent run-away prices.
3. The House said the vast hidden costs and inflation, existing in the present OPA program, must be brought out in the open. This inflation and the hidden costs amount to BILLIONS of dollars per year disguised as SUBSIDIES and are paid for by the taxpayer.
4. Finally, the House served notice on OPA that it could not expect to be a vast and costly, self-perpetuating Bureaucracy arbitrarily ruling the lives of Americans forever. The House stated it proposed to return America to the people at the earliest date practical.
5. The House Bill said that in order to get PRODUCTION, since this is the one important factor to prevent INFLATION and Black Market, future prices put into effect on any product must be based on current cost, plus a reasonable profit. This House action looks like "just plain common sense." Past OPA policy has been exactly the contrary and OPA is howling over this amendment because it does not want to be required to fix prices based on current costs plus a reasonable profit. Why?

The Black Home Demonstration club will adopt a constitution soon and Mrs. Bagely was voted chairman to write the constitution and by-laws, while Mrs. Fern Pope and Mrs. Marie Beck were named on the committee, also. This action was taken during the recent meeting of the Black club in the home of Mrs. Dan Pearson.

Roll call was answered by giving color combinations suitable for living rooms, and since Mrs. Wheeler, agent, and Mrs. Schubert, exhibit chairman were unable to be in attendance, there were no demonstrations.

The story of Maggie W. Barry which impressed each club member is to be filed with the club secretary for future reference; this action was affirmed upon motion of Mrs. Beck.

Food Crisis Faces Nation

"The world faces a food crisis far worse than anything experienced during the war, and it is important that farmers not only plant every acre possible, but also that they prevent waste and harvest every bushel." W. H. Lackey, the Massey-Harris dealer stated Monday at the launching of the "Famine Fighting" program in Ochiltree County.

"One of the greatest sources of waste is the tramping down of grain in the opening of fields," Mr. Lackey says. The loss to the nation's food supply from this single practice alone averages 25 bushels of wheat for every 40-acre farm. In the aggregate this is enough to feed 42,000,000 for 100 days. That grain can be saved.

Because the self-propelled combine prevents this waste, Mr. Lackey is urging the operators of self-propelled combines in this vicinity to give extra attention to the opening up of fields. He states that if the 8,000 self-propelled combines of all makes in the United States were to go into the 1946 harvest specializing in opening up fields and letting the conventional combines cut out the centers, a very large contribution of grain can be made to the stricken world. On the basis of just 50 extra hours of work, or five days during the entire harvest season, this plan would yield 28,000,000 bushels of grain worth $30,000,000.

This Famine Fighting plan is a nation-wide movement. Mr. Lackey's firm is cooperating with it in this vicinity. He has the names of all the self-propelled operators who have pledged themselves to cooperate with this humanitarian work and will be glad to give you all details. Farmers are urged to contact self-propelled combine owners at once and arrange to have their fields opened.

The saving of grain on the opening cut is only one way in which the farmer could save grain. There is also the matter of tight wagon boxes, proper handling of bundles, timely harvesting. The important thing is that not a single bushel of grain be wasted. And it won't be. Mr. Lackey says, "The farmers of this community did a fine job during the war."

Brilliant student, prominent in school and class activities, an outstanding editor of El Sombbrero.

In the fall of 1941, he entered college . . . then came December 7, 1941 . . . he enlisted . . . went overseas and on Nov. 29, 1944, was wounded in action in Germany. A bullet clipped the spine of this 1941 Perryton High grad, he was paralyzed from the waist down. After months of hospitalization in Europe, George William Hohmann was returned to the states . . . a patient in the Bushnell General Hospital at Brigham, Utah.

GEORGE HOHMANN

Then came the slow fight back . . . George wrote us on July 16, 1945, almost a year ago, that he was learning to walk again, with the use of crutches and leg braces. Now he's back in Ochiltree county at the home of his brother, Melvin Coleman, at Waka.

George is on furlough until May 30 and he would be highly pleased to have his old friends call at Waka to see him. The Bushnell General Hospital will be closed in a few weeks . . . then George will be discharged from the army and transferred to a Veterans Administration Hospital near Los Angeles, Calif.

George, we'll be seeing you and we hope that many of you will do likewise.

CARD OF THANKS

In a spirit of true thankfulness, we voice a simple thanks to those friends who were so close to us with sympathetic deeds and words during the loss of our husband and brother. True friends never fail you in such times.

SUNDAY LESSON

Friend of Jesus' Illustrates Right Sense of Values

The International Sunday School
Lesson for May 25
Scripture: Luke 12:19-20; 18:24-30; 19:1-10

THREE characters appear in the Scripture passages assigned for this lesson, and they illustrate the matter of values. The first of these men was the successful farmer, whose crops so overflowed his barns that he was planning to pull them down and build greater structures. He had no intention of being "rich toward God," or of serving his fellow men. That was his moral mistake. But he made a great economic blunder as well. Successful though he was, he left out of his calculation the most important thing of all—his own life, not realizing how little his possessions were worth in view of this uncertainty.

The second man was the rich young ruler, the young man whom Jesus loved, who had kept the Commandments from his youth. He was troubled about the question of eternal life, and Jesus invited him to leave all and follow Him. But the young man went away sorrowful, thinking more of his great possessions. He, too, was astray in his sense of values, for he, too, was subject to death. From these we turn to a third man, a publican, or tax-gatherer. He paid for the privilege of collecting the taxes in a country dominated by Rome, and he had the chance of grabbing a great deal for himself by extortion.

Had he taken what belonged to others? Or, finding himself in an office that offered many grafting opportunities and temptations, had he been scrupulously honest? We do not know. But we do know that Zacchaeus longed to see Jesus, when He came to Jericho, and that, being small of stature, he climbed a tree to make sure he'd get a good view. And we know that Jesus became this man's guest, and that Zacchaeus said that if he had wronged any man he would restore him fourfold. Zacchaeus had found salvation and a right sense of values. Death could not take away what he had discovered.

News in the World of Religion

By W. W. Reid

It can now be told: The Methodist Old People's Home in Vadsø, Norway—located near Hammerfest,
the most northerly city in the world —was destroyed when the Germans finally evacuated the region. Swedish Methodists, however, hearing of the disaster and the plight of the aged inmates, secured some prefabricated buildings, shipped them by boat to Tannemfjord, and had them placed on concrete foundations. Thirty-four old people were thus saved and are now housed in the new buildings.

Under the auspices of the International Missionary Council, Amer-

Cameroon, the Belgian Congo, Angola, and French Equatorial Africa will hold a conference, planning for future work, in Leopoldville, B. C., from July 13 to 24. This will be the first of several regional interdenominational conferences through which it is hoped to greatly intensify the work of Protestant missions throughout Africa.

One of many contributions to science and to human welfare made by religious objects to military service who are housed in Civilian Public Service camps is reported from Coleville, California. During spare time, a group of CO's built their own observatory and climatological station; a lensmaker furnished lenses at cost, funds being supplied by families and friends. Under the leadership of a trained astronomer who is also a CO, Albert Shtatzel, the Coleville Observatory is providing its observations on the courses of variable stars, sun spots, earth tremors, and weather conditions to the U. S. Weather Bureau, Mt. Wilson and Harvard Observatories, and to astronomical publications.

Appealing to the churches of the United States for generous gifts of food and clothing for the direct and indirect victims of war the world over, the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America said:
"It is human greed and human ignorance which keep the larger bare for hundreds of millions. The fellowship of starvation can but prepare the way for anarchy and deca-dation more terrible than war itself.
When countless homes are blasted and destroyed, then bitterness enters corrosively at the protective walls of brotherhood. In the spiritual vacuum left by war fresh waves of hate boil up to engulf new victims. Thus hope becomes as deep a need as bread. The rebuilding of life and hope in Europe and Asia and Africa calls not alone for material gifts of food and clothes and for the physical reconstruction of church institutions. It awaits as well such resurgence of the life of the spirit as will cause the churches to bring to bear upon the problems and issues of our time the penetrating insights of the Christian gospel."

During the first three months of 1946 the Methodist Church, through its Committee on Overseas Relief, gave cash gifts and supplies of a total value of $311,909. It is reported by the chairman, Bishop Herbert Welch. The use of these gifts included: the feeding of 15,000 children in Finland; sending 145 tons of flour to Greece; printing of 95,000 Bibles and 250,000 New Testaments in eight European languages; shipping of 3,765 bales of clothing to China, 1,000 pairs of shoes to children in Holland, 12 tons of powdered milk to China, and three tons of shoes and blankets to Poland.

Six prominent Koreans, leaders in cultural and social affairs in their native land, are now in the United States, guests of the American government, chosen by the U. S. Military Government in Korea, to study American schools and related institutions so as to outline a program for Korea's schools. It is of note that all six have been students at one time or another in Christian schools in their own land or in America. Lee Wook Chang is a graduate of a Northern Presbyterian Mission school in Pyongyang, and of the University of Duquesne and Columbia University; Moon Lincoln Kim studied at Asbury College, De-Paul University, and Northwestern University; Miss Wiang Kyung
Koh has degrees from Doehisha Women's College (Japan) and from the University of Michigan, and has taught at Ewha (Christian) College;

Byron R. S. Koo was educated at Pyongyang Christian School, and Emory University (M. D. degree), and was dean of Severance Union
Christian Medical College, Seoul; Ki Ho Lah studied at Mount Herman, (Mass.) School and Columbia University; and Chang Wook Moon was graduated from Chosen College (Iowa), and Columbia University.

and taught in the Methodist Theological Seminary in Seoul.

Forty-three per cent of all injuries in school buildings were to children in the seventh to the ninth grades, although these children make up only 24 per cent of the total enrollment, says the National Safety Council.

A message to VETERANS

OF WORLD WAR II

FACTS ON YOUR RIGHTS IN BUYING SURPLUS PROPERTY

To improve veterans' priorities in the purchase of war surpluses, Congress has amended the Surplus Property Act. So that you as a veteran may have the facts direct, the War Assets Administration is taking this means to address you.

WAR ASSETS ADMINISTRATION WASHINGTON 25, D. C.

TO ALL VETERANS OF WORLD WAR II:

As a veteran you are anxious to get all the benefits you can from war surplus. It is our desire to give you every possible preference, under the law, in purchasing the items you want.

By amendment to the Surplus Property Act of 1944, the War Assets Administrator has been authorized to reserve certain items for exclusive sale to you. They are listed below, but in fairness, we must tell you that quantities are not large, the demand is tremendous and you may not always be able to buy exactly what you want. Every veteran, however, will have the satisfaction of knowing that all items placed on the reserve or "set-aside" list are going to veterans like himself.

Subject to availability, you may purchase these items for your personal use, as well as for your business, professional, or agricultural enterprise. You may be sure that only World War II veterans will be entitled to purchase these.

The amended Act contains a second provision that further improves your buying position for your business, professional or agricultural enterprise. For items not included in this list, only Federal agencies buying for their own use may purchase ahead of you. This gives you, for business use, an advantage over State and local governments, tax-supported institutions, certified non-veteran small business enterprises and all other potential buyers except Federal agencies. For a specified period after the Federal agencies have had an opportunity to purchase surplus, all available items which do not appear on the reserve list will be available to you to purchase for your own business.

Under the amended Act you still must be certified to purchase war surplus, as thousands have done since the original Act was passed. The certification procedure has now been simplified, as explained at the right.

The War Assets Administration will make every effort to see to it that you receive the benefits Congress intends you to have. Your patience and cooperation will aid in the difficult task we face in trying to satisfy the needs of every veteran who wants to buy surplus property.

Gable and Greer Garson Team Spells 'Adventure' at Ellis

Clark Gable and Greer Garson together for the first time spell "Adventure!" That's the title of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's Academy Award filled drama which unites two of the greatest box-office names of all time on the Ellis screen Sunday and Monday, May 26-27.

Not only does the picture bring these two great champions together, but it has Victor Fleming, the man responsible for such history-making films as "Gone With the Wind," "Test Pilot" and "A Guy Named Joe" as director.

For the first time in three and a half years, Clark Gable trades his Major's uniform for screen garb as husband of the Merchant Marine freighter, "Minnie Tolbert," he is seen as a rough, tough sailor. It is the twofold, virile type of role which has made Gable a box-office champion for ten years, a record unequalled by any other actor in Hollywood.

Miss Garson, too, changes characterizations completely. She tosses aside her bustle of "Madame Curie" and "Mrs. Parkington" for Irene-designed clothes of today. As Emily, pretty but strait-laced librarian who discovers she has a temper to match her red hair when she meets Gable, the actress has a chance to display her talents not only for the emotional roles which have brought her an Academy Award, but the sophisticated comedy which made her a favorite of the London stage.

Stellar support for the spectacular film is provided by Joan Blondell as the flip and fast-talking room-maid of Miss Garson. Another Academy Award winner in the cast is Thomas Mitchell as Mudgin, "the man who loses his soul." Also in the cast are Tom Tully, John Qualen, Richard Haydn and the vivacious Lana Romay who not only makes her screen debut as a full-fledged actress but receives her first screen kiss from Gable.

With five Academy Award winners—Gable, Garson, Fleming, Mitchell and Cinematographer Joseph Ratzenberg together in "Adventure," the picture combines stars, romance, adventure, humor, tragedy and laughter, culminating in the most exciting drama of the year.

Frank Wilcox, left, and Ray Shaver, right, as members of the law, are extremely interested in what Frank Wilcox has to tell them concerning a murder in Columbia Pictures' "Night Editor," showing Tuesday and Wednesday, May 28-29, at the Ellis Theatre.

Hilarity Hits Ceiling at Ellis

America's favorite fun family hits a new peak in daffiness! This and more, takes place in the newest of Columbia Pictures' hilarious "Blondie" series. "Blondie's Lucky Day," playing at the Ellis Theatre at the Preview, Saturday, May 25. It shouldn't happen to a Bundles but it does... when Dagwood tries to solve the housing problem... and lands in the doghouse (as usual). Blondie's mad... Dagwood's broke... and you'll be hysterical, watching the screwy antics of this fabulous family.

Penny Singleton, Arthur Lake, Larry Simms, Marjorie Kent, Jonathan Hale and Daisy play their familiar roles; while Robert Stanton, Angelyn Orr and Paul Harvey assist them expertly. Connie Lee wrote the original screen play, based on the comic strip "Blondie" created by Chic Young. Abby Berlin directed.

In 1944, 4,300 farm workers were killed on the job and 4,300 farm residents were killed in motor vehicle accidents, reports the National Safety Council.

Death Chair Failed

Willie Francis, 17, convicted murderer whose electrocution failed after he was strapped into Louisiana's portable death chair and the current was turned on, reads a prayer book in New Iberia jail while awaiting disposition of his case. Faulty electrodes let the current only "tickle" him. Question is, can execution legally be carried out after it once failed? Francis was convicted of killing a New Iberia druggist.

Frank James is Coming to Ellis

Gene Tierney and Henry Fonda are seen in the unusual film program coming Thursday and Friday, May 30-31 to the Ellis Theatre, with the showing of 20th Century-Fox's encore triumph, "The Return of Frank James."

The hit, acclaimed as one of the greatest Westerns ever filmed—set the screen ablaze with the thrills and romance of America's most colorful period when the James boys, with their daring deeds, became the symbols of Western lawlessness.

Raticides Are Being Developed

Scientists have developed some excellent raticides recently, but they're still too deadly and too potent to be released generally to the public.

Until these can be made available safely, folks should make the best use of the controls they have at hand, advises J. E. Poore, assistant district agent for the Rodent Control Service, College Station. When mixed with attractive feed materials, red squill gives good results with both Alexandrian and Norway rats, those most commonly found in Texas, Poore says.

He also recommends that use of poison be supplemented with rat-proofing where this is practical. Removal of food for rats and of harboring places also is an aid in control.

More persons were killed in rural traffic accidents in 1945 than were killed in traffic accidents in the cities and towns, reports the National Safety Council. The number of rural accident victims was 17,100 and traffic fatalities in cities and towns numbered 11,400.

Three out of four accidental deaths to children under 5 years of age occur in the home.

Evidence on Body!

This locket found on body of a woman dug out of shallow grave near White Cloud, Mich., was the undoing of Charles Gilbert, 35, Muskegon Heights, Mich., trailer camp resident. It pictures him and his wife, Gladys, 26, beside whose body her daughter by a previous marriage, Karen, 4, also lay buried. Gilbert was identified through the picture and readily admitted bludgeoning both to death.

Alfalfa Silage Versus Hay Cited

To the dairyman, alfalfa has greater value as silage than when it is field cured, according to recent studies of the USDA's Bureau of Dairy Industry.

Recent studies showed that cows cent more milk than those on hay.

In the trials, the silage contained nine times as much protein as the hay, but at the end of the trial the silage was 14 times as rich in protein, because the hay lost protein at a higher rate. In addition, cows fed silage gave milk much higher in Vitamin A potency. The protein content of dry matter was found to be 21 per cent in the silage and 15 per cent in the hay.

J. W. Davis, assistant director for the A. and M. Extension Service, says he believes this study and one similar will stimulate more interest in trench silage in Texas.

In January and February, a total of 5,400 persons were killed in traffic accidents, according to the National Safety Council. This is more than 45 per cent above the rate killed in the same months of 1945.

No Time for Name Calling

Name calling is out of place in the present emergency. The disgraceful antics of some labor, business and government officials at a time when practically every institution of American life is in danger, is inexcusable. The recent exchange of epithets between the head of the National Association of Manufacturers and a United States Senator, is typical. Each condemned the motives of the other in regard to price control. The public gained nothing from the exchange and the press wasted tons of valuable news print.

There are sincere, intelligent patriotic people on both sides of the price-control controversy who are struggling with a staggering economic problem—the sudden appearance of a back-breaking public debt. That a large part of the debt was unavoidable due to war, is water over the dam, and so is the profligate spending of the Federal government for the past decade, and its failure to collect taxes to meet ordinary expenses.

The problem now, other than attainment of a balanced Federal budget, is how to prevent our representative form of government, together with the economic and political liberties of the people, from being crushed in the struggle of various groups to escape the hardships of postwar turmoil. No matter what happens, the laws of the land and the safeguards against oppression, born of the wisdom of the ages and written into the United States Constitution, must be preserved. They cannot be preserved if they are ignored in attempts to control inflation, strikes, or any other economic disturbances. Nor can they be preserved if the government bows to the unreasonable demands of any group.

BABSON DISCUSSES PRICES

ROGER W. BABSON, Editor-in-Chief

New York, City, May 17.—I am still optimistic as to stock market prices and believe that the Dow-Jones Industrial Average will go at least to 225 and perhaps 250. It is now about 207. The Combined Averages may lag in their upward movement due to investors switching wisely from rails to industrials. So much for stock prices.

Commodity Prices

My chief interest at the moment is in connection with commodity prices—that is, what readers must pay for food, clothing and shelter. I, hence, came over to New York, which is the central market on these basic commodities, to get the facts. There seems to be two schools of economic thought on the part of able-thinking men. This is wholly independent of the row over the OPA which is a question of politics and not of economics.

The first school group—although they are in the minority—believe that we will have continuing high prices through 1946 and 1947 but that this rise will bring about a buyers' strike. This will be due partly to the fact that the great mass of people will then have cashed in such of their "E" bonds as they intend to sell and partly to their determination to wait for lower prices. This may especially be true in the field of building. There is a limit to what people will pay for a new house.

Truth About Building

The National Housing Agency has just released a careful study on home building. They find that a house which would have cost $5,000 to build six years ago would cost $8,200 to build today. Houses under $5,000 have gone up 65% and houses over $5,000 have gone up 57 per cent. In certain sections of the Pacific Coast it is claimed that building has gone up 100%. These increases are certainly out of line with the advances in other living costs which amount to only about 30%.

Effect of Labor Unions

Over a long period, prices are determined by supply and demand. Even labor unions cannot do much to affect the long trend of prices. Improvements in the standard of living are due to increased production and new inventions rather than to labor unions. Over a short term, however, labor unions can greatly affect prices by raising wages, shortening hours and especially by slowing down "the number of bricks laid per hour." This is true today and will be in 1947 when labor unions may be in even a stronger bargaining position.

Most of those whom I interview belong to the second school of thought; they do not expect the buyers' strike but rather slowly rising prices for some years to come. Most businessmen are not short of labor; over 2,000,000 more persons are employed today than a year ago.

Fish Supply To Continue

COLLEGE STATION—With plentiful supplies of fresh and frozen fish assured in markets generally for the next few months, Edith Lawrence, specialist in food preparation for the A. and M. College Extension Service, urges Texas housewives to include fish often in their meal planning. "Use of the more abundant foods will save other foods for shipment to famine areas," she says.

The heavy fishing season, which began about the first of April, promises to be unusually heavy this year according to USDA reports. In fact, the catch may set a new record because of favorable prices, plenty of good boats, more workers for on-shore plants, and abundant fish in banks along the coast. Frozen fish supplies in storage already are very large. On March 1, almost 100 million pounds of frozen fish were in cold storage—about twice as much as the year before. Supplies of canned fish in the stores will continue to be very short until the new stock is marketed because of heavy export demands on last year's pack, the food specialist says. But even so, there will be more canned fish for civilians this year than last—or than in previous war years when military takings were large.

There should be no lack of protein in American meals this spring in spite of smaller meat allocations, Miss Lawrence concludes.

Flying Farmers Have Organized

COLLEGE STATION—A Texas chapter of the Flying Farmers was organized at Texas A. and M. College Station with 61 of the estimated 300 members in the state. Affiliation will be sought with the National Flying Farmers' Association.

The purpose of the organization, as set forth in the by-laws adopted at the meeting, is to "promote the educational and scientific development and advancement of the use of the airplane in Texas, and to express the ideas, hopes and wishes of those engaged in rural aviation."

A Flying Farmer, as defined in the by-laws, must hold some type of flying license and have 51 per cent of his or her capital invested in some type of farming operation. Associate membership, without voting or office holding privileges, may be granted by the executive committee on the basis of interest in aviation and agriculture.

Officers elected were Clayton Beard, Tahoka, president; R. L. Fields, Warton, vice-president; and Miss Ama Lee Jamison, secretary-treasurer. The Board of Directors is made up of Ralph Brown, Plainview, H. B. Horn, Del Rio; W. N. Parr, Robstown; E. W. Gill, Jr., Wharton; and C. J. Gerlach, Livingston.

The first action of the newly elected officers was to issue a call for organization of Flying Farmers on a county or regional basis. Inquiries as to organization procedure should be addressed to the secretary-treasurer.

R. L. Gibson, 75, who started flying at 72 and flew to the meeting from Tahoka, is the nation's oldest Flying Farmer, according to H. A. Graham, secretary of the National Flying Farmers' Association.

In the class are students studying electrical engineering, chemistry, bacteriology and physics, and employees of the State Department of Health.

Jobs for TB 'Cures' Cited

Not so many years ago tuberculosis was commonly called consumption, the "wasting" disease. Novels, plays and even operas were written about lovely heroines whose lives were slowly ebbing away as a result of this disease.

Today we know a great deal more about tuberculosis than we did at the beginning of the century. We know that it can be cured, particularly if it is discovered early, and we know it can be discovered before outward symptoms appear by means of chest X-rays.

Knowing more of the nature of the disease, we know that its victim is not necessarily doomed. The person who has had tuberculosis can return to useful, satisfying occupations when treatment has been completed. The only safe treatment is rest, complete bed rest, which is best obtained in a hospital for the tuberculous.

When the patient receives his medical discharge from the hospital as "cured"—or, as the doctors prefer to say, "an arrested case"—there is no reason why he should not seek employment in an occupation which appeals to him so long as it does not require strenuous manual labor.

Many employers are eager to hire former TB patients because experience has shown they are, as a rule, good employees. But some employers still believe such persons are poor health risks.

Actually, the former TB patient is usually a good health risk. While in the hospital he has learned how to protect his health and is able to avoid many of the common illnesses to which other people fall victim from time to time.

And the fact that he once had tuberculosis does not mean that he may be endangering the health of his associates. While tuberculosis is a communicable disease and people catch it from people who have an active case, an arrested case cannot transmit the disease to others.

While physicians advise former tuberculous patients against accepting employment which requires great physical exertion, it is not dangerous for them to take other types of work.

The late Dr. Leonidas W. Payne, for 32 years a member of the English faculty at the University of Texas, has been honored by the Texas Folklore Society with a publication which tells of the beginnings of the society. It is titled "When the Woods Were Burnt," and contains an unpublished article by Dr. Payne (who died in June, 1945), and by John A. Loman of Dallas, and Dr. Mody C. Boatright, associate professor of English.

The Church with the "Back to the Bible" Plea

CHURCH OF CHRIST

421 S. E. Second St.

DID YOU KNOW?

That the aim of the Church of Christ is to further a movement comprising churches and individuals for a complete return to Christianity as it was in the beginning. Hence we stand for no name but Christ's. We are saved in his name. Acts 4:11-12. We glorify God in this name, John 14:13-14. "The disciples were called CHRISTIANS." Acts 11:26. As CHRISTIANS, we "do all in the name of the Lord Jesus." Col. 3:17. Thus we honor Christ in wearing his name. Human names are divisive, being given to designate particular parties; they separate some professed believers from others by peculiar designations. Therefore they are antagonistic to the spirit of Christ. John 17:20-21. Such names are sinful says the apostle Paul. 1 Cor. 1:10-14. Let us "Go Back to the Bible" and investigate the plea for New Testament Christianity in the 20th Century.

Veterans' News

The Veterans Administration has made it possible for veterans with service-connected disorders to get free treatment for those disorders from doctors in their own home towns, if there is no VA clinic in the immediate vicinity. However, certain conditions must be met.

First, the veteran must need treatment for a specific service-connected disability, for a condition which aggravates that disability. In other words, a veteran who received a foot injury in service cannot get free dental treatment, unless he also has a service-connected dental disability.

Second, he must obtain authorization for private treatment from the regional office of the Veterans Administration serving the area in which he lives. To do this, he should make informal application by letter, or by means of a form obtainable at VA contact offices in small towns. The VA contact office also can tell the veteran which regional office serves his own community.

The VA regional office will determine whether the veteran's claim for private treatment is in order, and then will notify a doctor in the veteran's home town to provide the necessary treatment. At the same time the veteran is told the name of the doctor who will treat him. The doctor reports to VA on the treatment given the veteran, and VA pays the bill.

In case the veteran needs emergency treatment for his service-connected disability, he can go to any doctor. After treatment the veteran, the doctor must immediately send to the VA regional office a report on the case. The VA office will check the veteran's eligibility for treatment, and will pay the bill if it is found the veteran's claim is justified. This procedure is followed only in actual emergencies, when there is not sufficient time for the veteran to obtain prior authorization from the VA office.

The same conditions hold true for free treatment of service-connected dental disabilities.

Disabled veterans engaged in vocational training programs under the provisions of Public Law 16 are always eligible for any type of treatment needed to prevent interruption of their training.

NAVY DRONE PLANE REHEARSES FOR BIKINI

Trailing two "mother" planes, a pilotless Navy Hellcat (Grumman F4F) soars over the San Diego area in a dress rehearsal for similar day's operations planned as part of the atomic bomb tests at Bikini atoll this summer. The drone (foreground) is controlled by the "mother" Hellcat immediately in the rear while a second plane serves as standby should the first one fail. During the tests four drones, each with two control planes, will be launched from the USS Shangri-la and will be controlled first from the carrier's deck, then from a mother plane in the air and finally from the ground control operator on Roi island where they will land. Council Launches Campaign to Raise Funds to Curb Accidents

The National Safety Council and local safety organizations throughout the nation will launch a fund-raising campaign during the month of May to enlist public support of the nationwide accident prevention program. Campaign emblem will be the Green Cross.

The Green Cross for Safety Campaign marks the first time in the 33-year history of the Council that the organization has gone directly to the public for funds. The step was taken, according to Council officials, because of the alarming increase in accidents which are killing nearly 100,000 Americans annually, including 20,000 children.

The National Safety Council will conduct the campaign in Chicago, its headquarters city, while local and state safety groups will carry the program into other sections of the country.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the Council, pointed out that during the war, deaths and injuries from accidents on the home front exceeded battle casualties among the American forces.

"The time has come for all Americans to lend their support to the accident prevention movement. Up to this time, private industry and organizations have borne the financial brunt of the movement. But accidental deaths and injuries are increasing at such an alarming rate that it will take national public support to stop this rising tide."

"The popular campaign for funds is designed to promote two important goals. By having the men, women and children of the country contribute funds, it will make them active participants in a program which they have accepted passively before. And by making the Green Cross an ever-visible reminder of possible carelessness, the campaign will cut down the number and severity of accidents."

"Funds from this campaign will be used on a local, state and national program to eliminate accident hazards on the farm, in the home, in the factory or office, in the school and on the teeming streets and highways of the nation, and to make the public aware of the hazards."

"Leaders in the national accident prevention movement know from experience in certain fields the accidents don't just happen—they are caused. Only through better and more widespread knowledge can we, as a nation, hope to cut this national accident toll."

Mr. Dearborn pointed out that thousands of dollars are given each year to lessen disease among children, yet accidents are the No. 1 cause of death to children between 1 and 14 years of age.

XIT Prizes are Set at $1,250

Prizes totaling $1,250.00, plus entry fees, have been posted for the Tenth Annual XIT Reunion professional rodeo which will give two performances — Sunday afternoon, June 23, and Monday evening, June 24.

The Reunion, in order to avoid sweltering late summer heat, has been changed from a Monday and Tuesday during the first ten days of August, to Saturday, Sunday and Monday, June 22-24. The big show starts rolling Saturday night with the colorful XIT costume dances. The reverent XIT memorial service, a special tribute to all pioneers, will be held Sunday night.

Preventable accidents take a life every five and one-half minutes of the day, reports the National Safety Council.
