Germans Stage Mass Walkout Over Food

Workers In Western Germany Score Own Leaders For Ration Shortages

By GEORGE BRIA
Associated Press Staff Writer

STUTTGART, Germany, Feb. 3—The workers of western Germany registered their biggest mass protest against food shortages today by a paralyzing strike.

The protest was directed not at the occupation powers but against German officials whom the workers blamed for failure to solve the food problem.

Throughout most of western Germany business and industry were crippled and transportation interrupted by a 24-hour walkout of about 2,000,000 workers.

U. S., British Not Blamed

There was no violence except a few minor clashes in Hamburg picket lines. Few public demonstrations occurred.

The British and American military governments kept their hands off. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the American military governor, called them "demonstrations truly in the democratic sense," but made plain they would not bring Germany any more food from the United States.

Strike leaders emphasized the demonstration was not aimed at the British-American military government. The leaders assailed the German food administration as inefficient. They said the distribution of available food by the German officials was inequitable.

German Officials Flayed

Speakers flayed black marketing and food hoarding. They hit at official failure to collect full crop quotas from farmers.

Industrial workers walked out with office workers in some larger cities such as Hanover and Lueneburg.

Strike leaders said it was only accidental that the strike coincided with Gen. Clay's arrival. He was in Stuttgart to address the monthly meeting of the German council of states.

Pastor Is Rebuked

Gen. Clay reminded the Germans that whatever their strike aims, such stoppages "cannot get more food—they slow down the processes of production and retard your recovery."

In a news conference Gen. Clay turned to another aspect of the German situation. He rebuked the Rev. Martin Niemoller's Evangelical church in Hesse for advocating defiance of the de-Nazification program.

The church administration has urged its members to resist the de-Nazification program as one which sows a "new seed of hatred." Gen. Clay told newsmen:

"It is distressing to me that members of a religious faith ad-

House Passes Vet Benefits

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 — Two bills benefiting veterans broke out of a log-jam and passed the House today by thumping majorities.

One went to President Truman on a 370-6 vote. It would:

1. Raise the allowance for unmarried veterans in college from $65 a month to $75.

2. Pay a married student with one dependent $105 a month, and those with two or more dependents $120. The payment of all married students now is $90.

Bill Would Raise Pay

The other bill would raise the amount a veteran taking on-the-job training can receive from his employer while getting government subsistence allowances. It passed 371-5 but it differed with the version passed by the Senate and must await an agreement between the two chambers.

As approved by the House, it would allow single men to receive $250 a month in combined allowance and salary, those with one dependent $325, and those with two or more $350. The present ceilings are $175 for single men and $200 for married.

Committee Blocked Bills

The present ceilings on subsistence allowances would not be changed. These are $65 a month for single veterans, and $90 for married veterans.

Both bills passed the Senate last summer. The House Veterans Affairs committee approved them and Chairman Rogers (R-Mass) set out to get them before the House.

Mrs. Rogers repeatedly appealed to House Republican leaders for permission to bring the bills up. The rules committee did not give her committee a hearing.

Members Hasten To Vote

Then last week Rules Chairman Allen (R-Ill) announced that the bills would be considered. He said he was not speaking as chairman, but as a House leader urging other leaders to join him in backing the bills.

Mrs. Rogers put them before the House today in quick succession, and members hurried to the microphones in the chamber to express approval.

Mrs. Rogers estimated the increase in benefits to college veterans would cost the government approximately $217,000,000 a year.

Planes Are Held By Nicaraguans

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—Nicaragua's ambassador said today that his government has taken custody of two planes which recently arrived in Nicaragua "with Venezuelan crew members hostile to the Venezuelan government."

The announcement by Ambassador Guillermo Sevilla Sacasa came as FBI men looked into the disappearance from this country of two big planes which Venezuela said were probably in a plot to bomb her capital city of Caracas.

Planes Under Guard

Sacasa said the planes are being guarded at Puerto Cabezas, where they landed, and the crew is in custody in Managua, the Nicaraguan capital.

Earlier, the Venezuelan president, Romulo Betancourt, protested to Nicaragua that two planes had been flown from the United States last week to Puerto Cabezas, and loaded with bombs "with the presumed objective of bombarding" Caracas.

He said a "foreign plot" was on to prevent the inauguration of president-elect Romulo Gallegos on Feb. 15. The planes, he declared, carried 27 armed, hostile Venezuelans.

FBI Starts Probe

Ambassador Sacasa said Nicaragua's President Victor Roman y Reyes had assured the Venezuelan president that "these planes will not leave Nicaraguan territory."

In the United States, the FBI was investigating the departure of two big bombers from Augusta, Ga., Jan. 26, and the later discovery of two bombsights at Augusta. The Justice department operatives sought to learn whether the planes left the country illegally.

IRISH TO VOTE TODAY

DUBLIN, Feb. 3. (AP)—Thousands of Irish voters jammed downtown Dublin tonight for election eve rallies. Bands played and firecrackers popped as Prime Minister Eamon de Valera and his opponents made their final speeches. Their words climaxed Eire's most closely contested election in 20 years.

UN Group Will Push Palestine Partition

LAKE SUCCESS, Feb. 3. (AP)—The United Nations decided today to send an advance party into Palestine to start work on partitioning of the Holy Land.

The Palestine Partition commission made no announcement of the composition or date of entry of the group but a UN official said it was expected that the move from here would be made within 10 days.

The commission also notified the British government of dissatisfaction with London's policy in respect to the latter entry of the commission itself. In what was described by a UN press officer as a strong letter, the commission asked the british government to reconsider its stand that the UN body should stay out of Palestine until two weeks before the end of British rule.

Britain has decided to give up the Palestine mandate May 15 or earlier.

More Snow Forecast For Area Thursday

OCCASIONAL snow flurries are likely for the South Plains Thursday, following slightly warmer temperatures today, the Weather bureau station north of the city said at midnight.

An expected minimum of 34 degrees early this morning probably will rise to a maximum late this afternoon of approximately 52 degrees, or three degrees warmer than Tuesday's maximum of 49 degrees.

The weather observers north of the city quoted an extended forecast that promised more precipitation for the South Plains area later during the week. Temperatures, the forecast read, would average three to five degrees below normal in this section, with a rising trend Friday and Saturday, precipitation moderate to heavy, with rain Tuesday night and Wednesday in the northern portion of West Texas, with the exception of that area west of the Pecos valley.

Cold Wave Hits Midwest

Meanwhile, the Assbciated Press reported, forecasters were extremely cautious in their predictions because of a cold front currently in the northwest part of the nation which could bring Texans a repeat of last week's frigid days.

This much the weather experts would say:

Cloudy, colder, and intermittent snow in the Panhandle Thursday afternoon and night. Colder in the extreme north portion of East Texas Thursday night.

Rain Falls Over State

Still warmer weather was due throughout the state today. East Texas will get more rain. West Texas probably will be mostly clear. Late last night rain clouds had cleared over most of the Panhandle and South Plains, as far south as Abilene.

Most sections of the state felt light rains and drizzles Tuesday. Few weather stations reported more than a few hundredths of an inch of moisture. Corpus Christi had .06 inch, Fort Worth .05, Dallas .08, Victoria .12, Brownsville .18.

Stockmen in the Llano area said the cold drizzling rain was beneficial to ranges.

Rain was reported also in Wichita Falls, Austin, San Antonio, Bryan, and other points in East Texas.

Only Tire Explodes As Auto Hits Truck Carrying Dynamite

(By The Associated Press)

HASKELL, Feb. 3. Sammie White's car and a truck with a semi-trailer carrying 20,000 pounds of dynamite were in collision near here today.

There was an explosion.

A rear tire of the truck blew out.

The accident occurred while White and his wife, both of Rochester, Tex., were driving to College Station, where he attends Texas A. and M.

He suffered numerous bruises and his wife was hospitalized suffering from shock and bruises.

The driver of the truck was eating in a roadside cafe when the crash occurred.

Safe Taken In Burglary Found

Recovery of a safe taken in the Sunday night burglary of Ave. H Drug was the principal development last night of official investigation into a series of such offenses which occurred over the weekend and Monday night. The safe contained approximately $1,462.15 in checks.

T. A. Stolley reported to the sheriff's office that his son, T. A., jr., had found the safe 17 miles southeast of Lubbock. It had evidently been thrown into the pasture after the door was torn off, according to Deputy Sheriff Frank Mitchell.

Two More Safes Blown

Police reported yesterday the cracking of two safes in Western Wrecking company, 2722 Texas Ave., and theft of approximately $76 and March-of-Dimes funds from the Chicken village at 1318 Nineteenth. Theft of March-of-Dimes funds of about $5 from Warton drug, Fourth street shopping center was also reported to police last night.

Preliminary reports of J. D. Jones, proprietor of the wrecking yard, estimated $380 had been removed from the safes.

Police investigators Pete Hubbard and George Hall found that the wrecking company safes were moved from a front office to the rear of the building, by intruders who had pried open a back window to affect entrance.

There they knocked the knobs and, it was believed, placed a charge that blew the safes open.

Entrance to the Chicken village, a cafe, also was through a window, City Detective Lee Rice found. Burglars took $50 from a cigaret machine, $20 from a juke

Demo Revolt Brews In South Against Truman

New Party In South Hinted

(By The Associated Press)

SOUTHERNERS lashed at President Truman's civil rights program today as a move by national Democratic leaders that merits extreme measures by the Solid South.

"Distasteful, unthinkable and ridiculous," declared Governor Ben Laney of Arkansas, of Mr. Truman's recommendations given Congress Monday.

Governors, senators, congressmen and other official spokesmen for the section hit at the President's proposals for an anti-lynching law, a permanent Fair Employment Practice commission, an end to Jim Crow rules in transportation and elimination of state poll taxes.

Chairman Defends Party

Meanwhile, at Troy, N. Y., the Democratic national chairman said he would "let the tempest cool a little" before he discussed the threatened revolt of southern Democrats.

The chairman, Senator J. Howard McGrath, declined to discuss in detail the inter-party situation brewing over race issues. But he emphasized that "the Democratic party has been all through its history champions of human rights." He expects it to continue in this issue, he said.

Governor Laney said he did not know how the South could prevent imposition of such legislation but "I am ready to help even to extreme measures."

Proposals To Be Studied

In Austin, Tex., Governor Beauford Jester said the southern governor's conference will undoubtedly have something to say about President Truman's proposed "charter of human rights." Jester commented that he thought these issues bearing on states rights would be given particular attention. He plans to attend the conference, to open Friday at Tallahassee, Fla.

Former State Senator Roy Sanderford of Belton, Tex., said that President Truman's civil rights proposals "involve a risk of losing a substantial number of electoral votes from the South."

Sanderford was a leader in 1944 of the conservative wing of the state Democratic party when it had its big split over Franklin D.

New Move Seen In Soviet Blasts

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LAKE SUCCESS, Feb. 3—United Nations delegates said today Soviet Russia has suddenly accelerated her propaganda against the United States.

One highly-placed official said the aim is to beat the Marshall plan.

Others said they could not explain the newest wave of diplomatic notes, anti-U. S. speeches in the U. N., and newspaper comment in Moscow. But they said the Russians appeared to be trying to bolster their familiar charges that the U. S. is determined to dominate the world.

Gromyko Declines Comment

These comments all developed in private conversations with delegations chiefs.

Delegates noted with interest the guarded speculation from Moscow that Russia might be preparing a Security Council case against the U. S. on a charge of impairing peace. They pointed out, however, that the Russians usually present their U. N. cases without previous build-up.

Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet deputy foreign minister here, told newsmen he had no comment on the recent Moscow reports and

U.S. Rejects Second Protest From Reds

By EDWARD E. BOMAR
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 — The U. S. turned down today Russia's protest against our putting the American wartime air field at Mellaha, in North Africa, back into service.

This was the second rejection in two days of a Soviet protest against American actions in the Mediterranean, Middle East and the Orient.

The State department dismissed as "without foundation" yesterday Moscow's objection to the visits of American warships to Italian ports.

Charge Made On Planes

And today the department received the text of a new Soviet charge—that American planes circled and flew low over Russian ships near Japan on 10 occasions last fall.

A spokesman said officials will investigate and a reply will be made "eventually."

Moscow was told in a 117-word note that the arrangement made with Britain for reopening the strategically important Mellaha field for communications purposes is only temporary.

Confention Rejected

Mellaha is on the outskirts of Tripoli in the former Italian colony of Libya, whose future is up for decision by the Big Four this year. Russia charged Jan. 21 that its restoration would violate the new Italian peace treaty.

This contention was rejected outright in the American reply, signed by Undersecretary of State Robert A. Lovett. The reply noted that sanction for putting the field back into service was given by Great Britain, as the present occupying power.

Lovett referred to Mellaha as an air field rather than as a base. Built with three 7,000-foot runways to accommodate four-engine bombers, it is within 900 miles of

Civil Rights Proposal Hit

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3—Southern governors were urged today to force a party showdown on the racial issue as angry Dixie Democrats denounced President Truman's civil rights proposals.

While hot words of criticism were shouted in the House, talk spread of calling a convention to split away politically from the President.

A senator who asked not to be quoted by name said such a proposal would be laid before southern governors when they meet at Tallahassee, Fla., Friday.

"Showdown" Meeting Asked

At Annapolis, Maryland's Gov. William Preston Lane, jr., chairman, said he knows of no such proposal. He said the conference was called to discuss the report of an educational committee.

But Rep. Abernethy (D-Miss) proposed that southern governors ask for a "showdown" meeting in Washington with party leaders.

Abernethy telegraphed his proposal to Gov. Fielding Wright of Mississippi, who has roundly criticized President Truman's policies.

South Claimed Threatened

"The time has arrived," Abernethy said, "for concerted action and for all true southerners to stand up and be counted.

"If there is any doubt in the minds of southern people that the present leaders of the Democratic party are hell bent on bartering or destroying us, our southern institutions and traditions for the support of radical negro minorities, then they need only examine the message which the President sent to Congress yesterday recommending, among other things, the immediate enactment of FEPC, anti-poll tax and anti-lynching bill and breaking down of segregation of races."

Governor May Lead Revolt

Wright may be one of the leaders in any move to break away from President Truman that develops as a result of the present revolt. Some southerners are talking of seeking to withhold electoral votes from the President by picking a third candidate.

Standby Plan For Rationing Meat Is Shelved By Solons

By MORGAN REYNOLDS
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 — Plans to permit the government to get ready to ration meat were put on the shelf today.

A Senate Banking subcommittee voted 3 to 2 against a bill by its chairman, Senator Flanders (R-Vt), authorizing the Agriculture department to prepare rationing machinery for use if Congress gave the starting signal.

The full banking committee could override the action but chances appeared remote. Even if the bill cleared the Senate and House, it would be several months before rationing machinery could be set up.

Chairman Tobey (R-NH) told a reporter the Flanders bill will be considered by the full committee when it gets around to a vote on other anti-inflation legislation, probably next week.

Asked if he feels the subcommittee's recommendation against the bill kills it, Tobey replied:

Voluntary Program Talked

"I think that is true."

A possibility remained that a voluntary meat rationing program may be started. Flanders suggested that consumers be asked to hold down their consumption of meat, especially of the high-priced cuts.

But Charles F. Brannan, assistant Secretary of Agriculture, told the group today that "rationing by price is in effect today for far too many American families."

Talk of meat rationing gained momentum after the Agriculture department predicted a shortage may develop in the spring.

This was echoed today by A. Z. Baker, president of the American Stockyards association. Baker said in Cleveland that the second largest slump in meat production history looms in 1948.

But he declared we still will have enough to supply each person with about 146 pounds — ten

Texas Congressman Declares New Deal For U. S. Women

BY ED CREAGH
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3. — Come live with me and be my love— I think you're pretty nifty.

And all my worldy goods, my dove, We'll divvy—fifty-fifty.

That's how it is in the great State of Texas, says a long-married congressman from the Lone Star state.

And he—Rep. J. M. Combs, Democrat—offered in today's congressional record what amounted to a declaration of independence for wives in more "backward" states:

Woman Earns Half

"We conceive this truth to be self-evident, that a woman who performs her function as the wife in the home justly earns her one-half and we give it to her without question.

Pull your chairs closer, girls. this is going to get even better.

Combs took that dull old subject of community property—husband and wife each owns half of the furniture and things—and embroidered it with hearts and flowers.

Law "Stabilizing Influence"

Why, said the 58-year-old congressman, Texas has run things that way ever since the covered wagon days when "wives joined their husbands in reclaiming the land from the forests and building the cabins."

"We think it is one of the greatest stabilizing influences on our homes that a state can have," he declared.

As for those "benighted" common-law states where the wife owns nothing unless she

Fourteen Killed As Arabs Attack Prison

JERUSALEM, Feb. 3 (AP)—Arabs tried to crack open Jerusalem's central prison tonight with bombs and gunfire, capping a day of Holy Land violence that killed six Arabs, five Jews and three British constables.

The unofficial death toll since the Nov. 29 decision by the United Nations to partition Palestine climbed to 1,043. The wounded today included four Arabs, nine Jews and another British constable.

The 20-minute assault upon the central prison was the second big attack in Jerusalem in two days. Sunday night the building occupied by the Palestine Post, a Jewish English language daily, was destroyed by bombs and fire.

An Arab group said it was responsible for the newspaper plant bombing. Hagana, the Jewish militia, said its investigation showed not only Arabs were involved. It did not name any group, but said a band exists "which is planning crimes of that sort."

Pilots Walk Out After Dispute

CHICAGO, Feb. 3 (AP)—The AFL Air Line Pilots association announced tonight that 145 pilots of National airlines had begun a walkout as "the inevitable climax to two years of notoriously poor pilot-management relations."

A spokesman for the union said, "the strike has begun."

The pilots said "concern over air safety" was one of two motivating reasons for the strike, the other being "poor pilot-management relations on the airline."

The reference to air safety concerned a strike of the line's mechanics, who are members of the International Association of Machainists (ind.). The mechanics walked out in sympathy after clerical workers, members of the same union, struck Jan. 24 for higher wages.

David L. Behncke, president of the union, said the pilots' walkout was the result of two "almost unanimous strike votes" and stemmed from two causes.

A spokesman said the causes were:

"Increasing apprehension on the part of the pilots about flying planes whose safety aspects, from a standpoint of maintenance, was open to serious and alarming doubt, due to the present strike of ground employes," and

"Failure of the company to abide by its employment agreement in settlement of a dispute involving what the pilots believe to be the oldest unsettled grievance case in air line transportation, arising from the 'unjust and unwarranted' discharge of a pilot more than two years ago."

OVER $6 MILLION FOR WAR CHEST IS SOUGHT

Former Senator Wheeler To Direct AFL Campaign To Purge Congress Of Taft-Hartley Supporters

By HAROLD W. WARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 3—Former Senator Burton K. Wheeler, 66, a veteran Democratic political campaigner, was the choice of the AFL executive council today to direct its efforts to purge Congress of Taft-Hartley act supporters.

Wheeler's name will be placed before the 30-man administrative committee of "Labor's League for Political Education" here tomorrow. He is expected personally to confer with the group. Half of the committee members are on the executive council which unanimously recommended him for the $20,000 job.

The league will be financed by voluntary contributions. President William Green said each of the AFL's 7,200,000 members would be asked for at least $1—except the 600,000 members of the Brotherhood of Carpenters who will have a separate campaign.

Wheeler was an arch-critic of the late President Roosevelt and U. S. foreign policy prior to World War II, but Green told a news conference the council was "thoroughly satisfied that will not interfere with the execution of our political policy."

Green has emphasized that the major objective of the AFL league will be to bring about repeal of the Taft-Hartley Labor-Management Relations act. The federation also is working for the Marshall European recovery plan, but Wheeler's atitude toward that will not alter AFL policy, he said.

Wheeler, who has been living in Washington, was defeated for re-election in 1946 after serving as a U. S. senator from Montana from 1923 to Jan. 3, 1947. In 1924 he swung away from the Democratic party with the late Robert M. LaFollette.

His defeat in 1946 came despite the personal endorsement of United Mine workers' chief John L. Lewis.

Former War Prisoners Seek Tax Exemptions On Military Pay

DALLAS, Feb. 3 (AP)—Former war prisoners in Texas were asked today to urge their congressmen to support a bill exempting prisoners of war from income tax on military pay while they were prisoners.

A "write to your congressman" appeal was addressed to more than 800 former war prisoners in the state by the Texas Prisoner of War club, an official of the club said.

"We want to make certain that the bill will not be pigeon-holed," asserted Henry L. Pritchett, jr., of Dallas, club secretary-treasurer.

The exemption bill, House resolution 4985, was introduced by Rep. Lindley Beckworth of Texas. It has been referred to the Ways and Means committee headed by Rep. Harold Knutson of Minnesota, Pritchett said.

Seek Other Vets' Aid

He said he had sent copies of his correspondence with various Texas members of Congress to Maj. Charles Cates of Decatur, secretary of the Lost Battalion association, inviting the support of that organization in pressing for favorable action on the bill.

Pritchett added that he already had assurances of support from Congressmen Paul J. Kilday of San Antonio, Lyndon Johnson of Johnson City and George Mahon of Colorado City.

Men stationed in U. S. island possessions in the Pacific were exempt from income tax before the war and an amendment adopted last year broadened the law to exempt military income due those men after their capture and removal to enemy territory Pritchett explained.

This amendment took in men of General Jonathan Wainwright's command captured in the Philippines, but omitted the Lost Battalion (131st Field artillery) men captured on Java, a Dutch territory.

Knutson's Stand Given

Wainwright, whose home is at San Antonio, is honorary life time president of the Texas Prisoners of War club.

Pritchett's statement said that Knutson, in correspondence with Congressman Lyndon Johnson, explained that the tax emption benefits for men of the armed forces in the Philippines or other U. S. Pacific possessions originally were granted in 1921, to promote commercial developments of those territories, especially the Philippines. Knutson said he regarded the proposal to extend this exemption to men taken prisoner in foreign countries as a situation "not quite parallel" and lacking "the historically sound basis" of the exemption extended to General Wainwright's men captured in the Philippines.

Pritchett made public a letter from Wainwright, who wrote: "I see every justice in those who were prisoners of war taken at places other than the 'Pacific island possessions of the United States,' as contemplated by the war income law, being also exempt from income tax on military pay. He added that he would be happy to see the law amended to include all prisoners of war.

Texas Adjutant General K. L. Berry, fellow-prisoner of General Wainwright, concurred saying "God knows they all suffered plenty and in addition their service careers were ruined because of capture and this through no fault of their own."

Gasoline Overflowing Into Plane Is Blamed For Crash

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics board gave its explanation today for that fire aboard a United Airlines plane which crashed and killed 52 near Bryce Canyon, Utah, last Oct. 24:

It probably was caused by overflow gasoline entering the cabin heater's air intake scoop.

The plane, a 52-passenger Douglas DC-6, was enroute from Los Angeles to Chicago, flying at 19,000 feet, when it reported by radio that a fire had started in the baggage compartment. The plane crashed eight minutes later.

The CAB said that study of the burned wreckage "indicates conclusively" that all those in the cabin burned to death while the plane was still in the air. It noted that the cockpit, the rear lounge and the toilets were not afire during the flight.

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Feb. 3 (U.P.)—The Institute of Local Government at Pennsylvania State College set out to discover what happens to the coins motorists drop into parking meters.

Forty-six cities reported that meter receipts were spent for traffic regulation; 25 for police activities, and eight others for municipal parking lots.

Norman Rockwell: "It takes many qualities—every one important."

Soviet Charges Seen As Latest Step In New Political Campaign

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

Under the totalitarian technique with which Adolf Hitler made us familiar, Russia's current barrage of charges against the United States would be taken as a smokescreen for an impending act of aggression somewhere.

Except for the belief that Russia is unprepared for war, that might be the present reaction. But the best bet is that she presently intends to confine the conflict to cold war.

UN Showdown Possible

What, then, does she expect to gain from her general diplomatic attack at this time?

There is speculation that she may try to pin the "threat to peace" tag on the United States in the U.N. Security Council. The possibility cannot be entirely discounted, although observers were quick to point out that Russia would face a decisive defeat if such a charge came to a vote.

The Russian complaints may be just propaganda for new political moves. She is trying to remobilize her forces in Western Europe, which have come off second best in recent skirmishes. There's not much she can do about Iran, which she is accusing of becoming a U. S. military base, because any move there might lead to a real explosion. But the tug of war in the Middle East is taking on a new intensity.

New Moves Hinted

Russia might be preparing to have her satellites recognize the "floating government" proclaimed by the Greek guerrillas.

A new Communist campaign in France is expected within the next few weeks. A bitter election fight is beginning in Italy. The Russo-American split over Korea shows signs of becoming as definite and formal as the one over Germany. The Russian ambassador in Washington has given notice that his government intends to raise more of a howl about American domination of the Pacific scene.

The complaints, then, fit perfectly into Russia's effort to depict America as an imperialist power which intends to take over all of these countries.

Whatever its purpose, the Russian barrage will be met. It will be met by such counter-fire as the Anglo-American accusation that Romania's Communists have violated her peace treaty. More importantly, it will help defeat its own purpose by steeling Anglo-American determination to win the cold war.

DALLAS, Tex., Feb. 3. (U.P.)— An Oklahoma Methodist minister just back from a three-month tour of China today urged a grant of $1,000,000,000 to that country "for the same reason the Marshall plan would bulwark Europe."

PONTIAC

A FINE CAR MADE EVEN FINER!

A Product of General Motors

GM Hydra-Matic Drive optional on all models!

Today, Pontiac announces a series of notable advancements in the car that has already won the wholehearted endorsement of more than a million enthusiastic owners and friends.

Foremost among these advancements is the great General Motors Hydra-Matic Drive—now offered as optional equipment on all Pontiac cars. Pontiac is the lowest-priced car in the world to provide this great mechanical masterpiece—which shifts gears automatically, and completely eliminates the clutch pedal.

Coupled with this great engineering triumph is a striking improvement in beauty and luxury. New exterior smartness extends from the new radiator grille to the streamlined rear bumper.

Interiors, too, are remarkably improved. Upholsteries are more beautiful and are expertly blended to achieve new attractiveness and charm. Instrument panels are finished in a smart design adapted from quarter-sawed mahogany—and an adroit use of chrome moulding adds a deft touch of modernity.

Engine and chassis have been refined wherever possible—but they remain, basically, the same engineering masterpieces which have become synonymous in the automotive industry with goodness and dependability.

There are many more things we could tell you about the new Pontiac, for there are countless improvements which add to its traditional quality and value. But we feel that, for those who know Pontiac, we need only say—

—here is, by far, the most beautiful Pontiac ever built

—here is the most luxurious Pontiac ever built

—here is the most dependable Pontiac ever built

—and it is now available with General Motors Hydra-Matic Drive—optional at additional cost.*

We wish only to add that it is here—on display in our showroom—and that you are most cordially invited to see and inspect it.

THERE'LL always be people gifted with the art of making short stories long.

SEARCH FOR IDEAS

THE question most often asked anyone who writes regularly is where he gets his ideas. The answer is unknown to us. At this moment we are clean out of ideas and despair of ever again finding something to write about. We know we will because we must.

In our case the solution of the problem is to sit in front of the typewriter three or four hours an afternoon, reading, thinking and sometimes daydreaming. On good days we have notes about something observed the evening before. It's simple to get such things on paper, but when it's done the barrel again is empty and the search for an idea must be renewed.

We also get topics from telephone calls, from friends and strangers who drop by the desk, from our co-workers and from our brothers who threaten dire things if we ever quote them.

Although we went through public school and college without learning the art of concentration, we have gained it to a fine degree since working near a switchboard and in being seated in the direct path of every one who comes and goes through the editorial room. On days our column sounds dull it's not because we didn't know how to think; it's because we couldn't find anything to think about.

Maddening above all else at such a time is to pick up a newspaper or magazine and find something which had gone through your mind a hundred times but which for some queer reason never jelled.

OBSERVATION

WE have come to the conclusion that the ingredient that dooms utopia is the inability of a man to stand prosperity. Give him a steady job and permanent security in his job and he becomes bored and starts loafing. Soon he welcomes a change of any kind, even war.

The formula for progress and prosperity is known to the whole world because it has been so well demonstrated in the United States. Americans know how to get ahead, individually and as a nation. Why, then, do they insist on wrecking the machinery? It's plain stupidity and we wonder if anything can be done about it.

Theoretically we need have neither war nor depression. Actually, by our behavior, we insist on both and we'll continue to get them until the end of time.

So saith Turner the prophet.

LOOK OUT FOR PIN-WORMS
Recent medical reports reveal that an amazing number of children (and grown-ups too) may be victims of Pin-Worms—often without suspecting what is wrong! And these pests, living inside the human body, can cause real distress.
So watch out for the warning signs that may mean Pin-Worms—especially the aggravating rectal itch. Get JAYNE'S P-W and follow the directions.
P-W is the Pin-Worm treatment developed in the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son, after years of patient research. The small, easy-to-take P-W tablets act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms.
Ask your druggist: P-W for Pin-Worms!

Indian Leaders Under Attack

NEW DELHI, Feb. 3 (AP) — A member of Mohandas Gandhi's staff said today the stars had been consulted and Feb. 12 selected as the most favorable date for scattering his ashes.

The remains will be strewn onto the waters at the junction of the three holy rivers, Jumma, Ganges and Saraswati at Allahabad, the most sacred spot in India.

Leaders of the small Socialist party today demanded a purge of the Jawaharlal Nehru cabinet as a result of the Gandhi assassination.

Jaya Prakash Narayan, general secretary of the all-India Socialist party, demanded particularly a change in the home ministry headed by "iron man" Saradar Vallabhai Patel.

Violent demonstrations continued to spread against the Hindu Maha Sabha party and Rashtriya Swayam Sewak Sangh, militant anti-Moslem organizations which advocate all-out Hindu rule in India. Narayan Vinayak Godse, held as Gandhi's assassin, has been identified by police as a member of Maha Sabha. Indian press reports from Bombay have said he was also a member of Rashtriya Swayam Sewak Sangh (national volunteer corps,) known as the RSS.

Two other Socialist leaders, Mrs. Kamala Devi and Manohar Lohi demanded the "immediate resignation and subsequent reconstitution" of the Nehru cabinet as a "symbolic atonement for Mahatma Gandhi's assassination and the ridding of the present cabinet of all communal-minded ministers."

Narayan said he was "shocked to see Patel recently call Rashtriya Swayam Sewak Snagh a selfless organization." He declared a new home minister must be one who "will be able and willing to curb organizations of communal hate."

The 74-year-old Patel has been known as an outspoken critic of Moslems.

A KAISER or a FRAZER gives you more miles per gallon!

The best way we know to offset higher gasoline prices is to drive a Kaiser or a Frazer. Their 100% postwar engineering provides economy beyond your fondest expectations! This boon to the thrift-minded is especially astonishing to people who previously owned prewar cars. They report that Kaisers and Frazers are giving them many more miles per gallon than they ever got before! And today that means a saving of not just cents, but dollars!

The reasons for such exceptional mileage are clear-cut. K-F chassis design is new. It takes every advantage of the accelerated technical advances made during the war years. For example, the horsepower-to-weight ratio is notably higher than in prewar design. The same is true of the compression ratio — the highest in any car on the road! And this means the most efficient use of costly fuel!

Vital and important as it is, greater economy is only one of the many advantages of fully postwar design you will find in the Kaiser and the Frazer. Come in and let us give you a demonstration. Discover all the exclusive new features you should not be without in your next car! You'll be glad!

READ WHAT TYPICAL K-F OWNERS SAY ABOUT ECONOMY

"Our new Kaiser has the more-expensive-car performance and styling and the less-expensive-car economy."—From a Hamilton, Ohio, Engineer.

"I just finished a 3,000-mile trip in my Frazer averaging above 20 miles per gallon at between 60 and 70 miles per hour."—From a Laurel, Md., Businessman.

"My Kaiser has performed beautifully in the mountains. On exact test it delivers over 18 miles per gallon on mountain driving."—From a Greensburg, Pa., Manufacturer.

"I now have 13,024 miles on my Frazer. I have the nicest riding car I ever owned and as for economy — well, I get as high as 25 miles to the gallon with the over-drive!"—From an Ida Grove, Ia., Real Estate Man.

"Just returned from a 3,000-mile trip in my Kaiser and believe that for ease of operation, brilliant performance and riding comfort, it has no equal. I get 19 miles per gallon."—From a Hammond, Ind., Businessman.

"On a 4-day, 1212-mile trip around Lake Michigan, we averaged 18¼ miles to the gallon . . . our new Kaiser is economical to operate and performs beautifully."—From a Chicago Office Worker.

"My Frazer is the finest car I could have bought at any price. The easy, comfortable ride — at any speed — is in my opinion the outstanding feature. Economy and performance are unbelievable. I get 19 miles per gallon with speeds up to 70 m.p.h." —From a Brookville, Pa., Insurance Executive.

"Everybody knows the Kaiser is economical. No matter what speed you travel it still does 24 miles per gallon on the highways."—From a Winnipeg, Man., Funeral Director.

"On a recent 2,780-mile trip through Canada I averaged 26.6 miles to the gallon. I have owned and operated many different makes of cars but never until I bought my Frazer have I owned a car that was so economical."—From a Cranston, R. I., Physician.

Additional Champions Will Be Named At Fat Stock Show Today

FORT WORTH, Feb. 3 (AP)—The list of champions of the 52nd annual Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show will be lengthened again tomorrow as the livestock judges work their way toward completion of their tasks.

One of the principal crowd attractions in the morning will be halter classes of American quarter horse stallions in the arena of Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum. The cattle, swine and sheep arenas also will be busy with various breeds. And at 10 a. m. the Shorthorn club will sponsor an auction sale by its members in the cattle arena.

Auction To Continue

The chant of the auctioneer will continue from the cattle arena during the afternoon as the Texas polled Hereford sale will start at 2 p. m. An hour earlier the Texas Swine Breeders association will start its auction sale of boars and bred gilts of all breeds in the swine arena.

Champions crowned at the stock show Tuesday, as Waco and Seymour delegations celebrated their day at the show, included the best shorthorn bull, Prince Peter Albert, exhibited by C. M. Caraway and Sons of DeLeon, the best shorthorn cow, Augusta 115th shown by Clausen Brothers of Spencer, Iowa, the top Aberdeen-Angus bull, Double Blackcapmere, owned by Meier Angus farm of Jackson, Mo., the top Hereford female, Mhr Vestrellita owned by Moseley Hereford ranch of Wilson, Wyo., and the best polled Hereford female, G. H. Bonita owned by Gatesford Place, Walls, Miss.

Special day delegations will be at the stock show Wednesday from Brownwood and Midland. Two visitors at the grounds Tuesday were making arrangements for Stamford's special day at the show Friday. They were John Selman, arena director of the Stamford Cowboy Reunion, and T. Bacot of the Swenson ranch.

TOP PRIZE MONEY TO BE PAID IN RODEO EVENTS

FORT WORTH, Feb. 3 (AP)—The richest prize list in the history of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show—a grand total of $49,980 to be split in five contest events, was announced this afternoon as the rodeo roared past the eighth of 19 performances.

The total prize money in Fort Worth was thought by some experts to be the largest ever offered anywhere in the country on the basis of the number of performances played.

Largest prize money will go to the calf ropers, $17,100 in day money for two go-rounds and the final championship award. Cowboys who win first places in the two go-rounds will each receive more than $2,000 in day money alone.

Early Results Given

The rest of the prize money:

Steer wrestlers $9,000 and four go rounds; bareback bronc riders $8,580 and two go rounds; saddle bronc riders $7,170 and four go rounds, bull riding $8,130 and two go rounds.

Clinton Hill of Canadian and Hump Williams of New Boston placed first in the matinee saddle bronc and bareback bronc riding respectively. Frank Mariam of Ranger took first honors in the brahma bull riding and best bulldogging time was that of Vern Castro of Richmond, Cal., at 10.9 seconds. The afternoon's fastest calf roping was the time of 19.6 seconds of Buddy Derrick of Hagerman, N. M.

Keen competition in the cutting horse contest continued as the second go round got underway.

Nigger, owned by Bennie Binion of Las Vegas, N. M., and ridden by George Blassock of Cresson and Flying H, owned and ridden by Volney Hildreth of Aledo, each received 224 judging points to tie for first place. Nigger was in a tie for first place at the end of the first go round, too.

Red Blood Cells Must Be Kept Up If You Want To Feel Alive

Thousands Now Regaining Old Time Pep, Vigor and Drive By Releasing Vibrant Energy To Every Muscle, Fibre, Cell

Overwork, undue worry, and lack of certain foods often reduces the red-blood strength—and starved, weak, puny blood just hasn't the power to keep up your energy and drive.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health. Adv

No Trace Of Missing British Plane Found, Searchers Say

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Feb. 3 (AP)—Searchers reported finding no trace today of a British plane missing since Friday with 29 aboard.

A faint hope that there were survivors was raised earlier in the day when a search plane spotted a liferaft in the Atlantic 275 miles northwest of Bermuda.

A. U. S. Coast Guard cutter later picked up the empty raft, however, and radioed that it had not come from a plane. The raft was a shipboard type and appeared to have been in the water a long time, the message said.

Air Marshal Sir Arthur Coningham, Royal Air Force hero of World War II, was one of the passengers on the missing plane.

Waco Visitor Loses Part Of Nose In Accident In Rodeo

FORT WORTH, Feb. 3 (AP)—An unusual mishap marred the visit of a Waco visitor, M. K. Ghrist, to the rodeo this afternoon when he fell against a chair in Will Rogers Memorial coliseum and lost the tip of one side of his nose.

Friends took him to the rodeo physician and surgeon in the emergency first aid room and the doctor asked them to locate the missing member. They did and the doctor sewed it back on, using about 12 to 15 stitches.

Ghrist, who is owner and president of the Rainbow Baking company in Waco, and a friend, Lester Levy, president of the Blue Bird Ice cream company in Waco, hired a taxicab and returned to Waco before the matinee performance started.

Amendment Hits Rubber Plant Sales

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—An amendment intended by its author to virtually bar sale or lease of the government's synthetic rubber plants to private operators was approved today by a House armed services subcommittee.

Chairman Shafer R-Mich) said the group added to its proposed long-range rubber legislation a policy declaration written by Rep. Lyndon S. Johnson (D-Tex).

This statement declares that national security "is by far the most important consideration" in forming government policy on synthetic rubber production, and "there are no compelling security reasons" why the plants should be leased or sold. It adds that the government will retain plants to assure enough production for security.

Shafer said the subcommittee will complete the bill Thursday, and turn it over to the full committee.

The bill, introduced last month by Shafer, would require the government to keep plants with a total annual capacity of 675,000 tons operating or in standby condition. They would produce at least 225,000 tons, and manufacturers would have to use it.

Approximately four-fifths of all buildings in the United States are constructed entirely of wood.

Background For Dispute In Palestine Talked At Meeting

Joseph Goldberg of Worcester, Mass., spoke last night at Congregation Shaareth Israel for the second meeting of the Lubbock Zionist district, giving the political background of Palestine and the events in history that brought about the present conflict there.

The plight of the Jews today in Palestine is largely the fault of Great Britain, Goldberg stated. He pointed out that Britain in 1939 restricted Jewish immigration to Palestine to 75,000 immigrants in five years, the restriction coming at a time when Hitler was destroying 6,000,000 Jews in Europe.

The British blockade of Palestine is keeping the Jews out, the speaker said, but Arabs are infiltrating across the borders at an astonishing rate. A further hardship to the Jewish people in Palestine, Goldberg said, is the U. S. embargo on shipping arms to the Holy Land. The Jews do not want outside help, he stated. They want to be left alone to fight their own battles in their own way.

Rabbi Julius Kerman of Congregation Shaareth Israel, who returned Tuesday afternoon from the state Zionist convention in San Antonio, gave a report on the convention at last night's meeting.

Oversize Tank Makes River Crossing On Barge Carrier

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 3 (U.P.)—The story about a man who built a boat too big to get out of his basement is no longer funny to officials of a St. Louis boiler factory.

The company completed a steel tank 50 feet long and 15 feet in diameter. Then they found it was too large to pass over any of the bridges crossing the Mississippi River to the Illinois plant where it was to be installed.

After a conference of engineers, two solutions were proposed. They moved the tank by truck to the rivers' edge and loaded it aboard a barge, which carried it across.

If that had failed, the engineers had planned to seal the tank and float it over.

Mutual Defense Pact Between U. S., Britain, France Favored

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Feb. 3—Proposals for a union or alliance between the United States and the Marshall Plan countries of Western Europe have been made by several diplomatic leaders both here and abroad.

A majority of the American people are ready to see a military alliance formed between the United States, England and France. Whether they would approve extending such an alliance to include other democracies of Europe remains to be seen.

GALLUP

National opinion was tested by the Institute on the following question:

"Do you think the United States, England and France should join together in a permanent military alliance, that is, agree to come to each other's defense immediately if the other is attacked?"

The vote: with no opinion included and with it excluded follows:

| | Incl'd | Excl'd |
|---|---|---|
| Yes | 51% | 59% |
| No | 36 | 41 |
| No opinion | 13 | |

John Foster Dulles, Republican authority on foreign affairs, proposed on Jan. 20 that the European nations participating in the Marshall Plan set up a regional mutual defense pact. Two days later, on Jan. 22, Ernest Bevin, British foreign secretary, proposed a similar idea for a "Western European Union." Last November General de Gaulle of France advocated a mutual defense pact between the United States, France and England.

One important revelation in today's poll is that the American people would not be too keen about having a military alliance with England alone, or with France alone. Their feeling apparently is that an alliance with both those countries together would have value to us, but that an alliance with one, and not with the other, would be much less valuable.

The geographical importance of England and France in any European war undoubtedly plays a part in this attitude, the public being reluctant to see the United States commit itself to military aid to France without knowing whether it could count on British aid, and vice versa.

The polls on an alliance with England alone or France alone were conducted as follows:

"Do you think the United States and England should join together in a permanent military alliance — that is, agree to come to each other's defense immediately if the other is attacked?"

| Alliance with Britain only | |
|---|---|
| Yes | 45% |
| No | 45 |
| No opinion | 10 |

The same question was asked about France, with the following result:

| Alliance with France only | |
|---|---|
| Yes | 32% |
| No | 53 |
| No opinion | 15 |

The somewhat different vote on France and England may reflect the fact that France was successfully invaded by the Germans in World War II whereas England escaped invasion.

Committees Working On Play Are Named

A complete list of committees at work for the American Association of University Women's presentation of "The Importance of Being Earnest" by Oscar Wilde on February 10 were announced Tuesday by Mrs. Walter Wilson, general chairman.

According to Mrs. Wilson and Miss Marie Miles, chairman of ticket sales, all members of AAUW who have tickets to sell are requested to phone Miss Miles Wednesday or Thursday to report on the number of tickets already sold. Miss Miles requested that members who had sold all their tickets turn the money into the person from whom they received the tickets. Arrangements will be made later for a final check of tickets on Monday, Miss Miles said.

Women who are on the ticket sales committee with Miss Miles are: Mrs. W. T. Camp, Miss Katie Bell Crump, Miss Gertrude Herm, Mrs. Luck Bibb, Mrs. J. L. Teal, Miss Neville Wrenn, Mrs. Wm. Dingus, and Mrs. Joe B. Cobb.

Other committees are as follows: poster, Mrs. Ethel Terrell, chairman, Miss Ouida Buzbee, Mrs. Lila Lenning, Mrs. J. W. Day, Miss Mable Smith, and Mrs. Lawrence Glenn; publicity, Mrs. Ross Ayers, Mrs. Eldon Fuller, Miss Virginia McLean, and Miss Marian McGuire; contacting other clubs, Mrs. Paul Yancey and Mrs. A. W. Young. Miss Helen Fuller is chairman of the committee arranging for ushers for the play.

A report from Ralls Monday was that a group of students are planning to charter a bus to come to the play on Tuesday, February 10. The play is being brought to Lubbock by the Barter Players of Virginia, and proceeds will go to the AAUW's educational fund.

Gideon Organization Will Give Bibles To Students In Area

A 1948 project of the Gideon organization is to place a New Testament with Psalms and Proverbs added in the hands of every child in the fifth and sixth grades over the South Plains, Henry Boswell, president of the Lubbock Gideon camp, revealed in a talk Tuesday at the Optimist club luncheon in Hotel Lubbock.

Boswell also revealed plans for a gigantic Gideon rally in Lubbock this summer which will feature street meetings and other similar gatherings.

Boswell, in reviewing briefly the history and work of the organization, said Gideons placed 9,500,000 Testaments in the hands of men and women in the armed forces during the war and had distributed more than 2,500,000 Bibles in hotels, hospitals, jails, aboard ships and other public places during the past.

Boswell was introduced by C. B. Boydston. H. G. Howard was introduced as a new member.

Prior to the program, a male chorus line of "Rockettes" from the Jaycees' "Fun For You" show to be staged at Senior High school auditorium Thursday and Friday nights, entertained briefly with Harold Chapman announcing the show to the Optimists.

$100,000 Blaze Hits Poteet Business Area

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 3 (AP) — The small town of Poteet lost about one fourth of its business buildings in a fire early today.

Poteet Fire Chief D. W. Tuttle said damage was $100,000. The town is 25 miles southeast of here.

An unidentified fireman suffered a cut on the hand. Earl Royal, Pleasanton fire marshal, drove through heat and smoke to rescue what looked like a body. It was a clothing dummy from a store window.

Destroyed were the Page general store and warehouse, the Ruiz cafe, and the Iga grocery store. The cafe also served as a bus station.

VETERAN OFFICER DIES

BROWNWOOD, Feb. 3 (U.P.)—A. C. (Bert) Hise, 71, of Blanket, veteran Brown county peace officer, died today at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Lewis A. Griffin, in Brownwood. Hise had served as Brown county commissioner, deputy sheriff, and chief of police of Brownwood. As a young man he played baseball with Galveston in the Texas league.

President Truman Invited To Speak At New Mexico City

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3. (U.P.)—President Truman today was invited to speak in New Mexico next month.

George Godfrey, president of the New Mexico Cattle Growers' association and Sen. Carl Hatch, D., N. M., invited the President to Albuquerque for the convention of the association March 8 and 9.

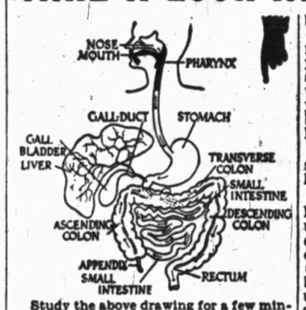

Godfrey said the President was "interested." He said that "if" Mr. Truman could make the trip, he would fly and take Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson and Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug with him.

California leads all states in developed water power.

TAKE A LOOK AT YOUR INSIDES

Study the above drawing for a few minutes. Notice particularly how the bile flows from the liver into and out of the gall-bladder and thence into the small intestine where it mixes with the partly digested food just below the stomach. Bile is a necessary adjunct to proper digestion. Its absence from the intestines inevitably causes putrefaction and fermentation.

NATURE'S DANGER SIGNALS

When your stomach, liver, and gall bladder have been upset by improper eating or drinking, or when they are not working well because retained and putrefying food matter in your intestines is poisoning your entire body, you, sooner or later, begin to feel some of the following symptoms:

Your breath may become unpleasant (halitosis), your tongue coated, a bad taste in your mouth, your coffee (and tobacco) lose their natural flavor, your food does not agree with you; you may have heartburn, gas and dizzy spells, you may be troubled with belching; at night the gas in your bowels may press upon your bladder making you get up frequently, thus breaking into your sleep.

In the morning you are tired instead of refreshed. Gradually your health is impaired.

Your complexion may become sallow or bilious; dark rings may appear under your eyes, you may feel lazy, dull and irritable or blue and melancholic. You may have frequent colds (catarrh) or dull head-ache; your bowels stop their free, full and natural action; you have constipation, gas, putrefaction and self-poisoning ("intestinal toxaemia" or "acute gastritis" as many doctors call it).

HOW TO GET RELIEF

You can relieve this condition usually overnight, by taking Calotabs at bedtime and drinking water freely next day.

The beneficial effects of Calotabs lie in the fact that they are (1) laxative, (2) antiseptic to the intestines, (3) diuretic to the kidneys, (4) effective in relieving symptoms of biliousness and acute gastritis due to constipation or faulty digestion.

Calotabs are pleasant to take (sugar coated), prompt and effective. Try them and see. Follow label directions. At your druggists'.

Brackeen Pounds Out A Decision Over Black; Four Novice Champs Crowned

Telles TKO's Byrd; Final Bouts Are Slated Tonight

By BOB CONE
Avalanche Sports Writer

Billy Brackeen, the Slaton slugger, proved to another capacity-plus crowd in Texas Tech gym Tuesday night during the second night of the 12th annual regional Golden Gloves tournament that, if he is too heavy to fight and win in one division, he can hammer out his decisions in another.

Brackeen's victory over Hollis Black of Petersburg in the lightweight open division was just one feature of the 11 fights during which three fighters went down for the count on knockouts and three others lost by technical knockouts.

Brackeen Too Heavy

When Brackeen weighed in Monday he was seven and a half pounds too heavy to defend the bantamweight title which he won in the 1947 regional Gloves tournament here. Rather than miss the opportunity to fight he entered the lightweight division.

One of the "punchingest," and briefest, encounters of the evening saw Frank Telles, the Texas Tech battler, continue his welterweight open division championship drive with a TKO over Clarence Byrd of Petersburg.

Telles, who Monday night knocked out Bill Mills of Brownfield, the defending welter titlist, after little more than a minute of the third round, felled Byrd four times in the first round Tuesday night, and was knocked down himself before Referee "Bo" Sexton gave him the decision on a TKO.

Pollard Gains Decision

Two other classy welterweight fighters tangled in the evening's fifth fight with Earl Pollard of Lubbock decisioning Jack Wilborn, also of Lubbock, in a battle which brought down the house. Pollard was the welterweight champ here in 1943, and due to a mixup in information to the announcer, Wilborn at first was announced as the winner.

The crowd immediately began a prolonged booing session, and it was difficult to get a sufficient calm down for a correction.

Pollard, a rangy youth, and an uncanny and scientific boxer, obviously had outboxed Wilborn, and the crowd knew it.

Glenn Ammonett of Petersburg, fighting in the novice welterweight division, came through for the first knockout of the evening in one minute and twenty seconds of the third round in his bout with Isaac Quirino of Lubbock. Both had done some nifty punching, and blooded each others noses with several direct smashes.

Ken Kirkpatrick Wins

Kenneth Kirkpatrick, the Petersburg boy, continued his winning ways, leveling Charles Brookshire of Tahoka in 52 seconds of the first round to win by a knockout.

Four championships were determined, one of those by TKO with John Pritchard winning as his opponent, M. D. Stevens, stood groggily in front of him, obviously unaware of what was going on about him.

In the novice lightweight division Edward Elliott of Lorenzo decisioned David Fawcett of Lubbock for the title; John Seid of Muleshoe beat Richard Watson of Cooper by decision in the novice heavyweight class, and Roy Dean Seaney beat a fellow student, Gyndolin Petty, of Wayland college, Plainview, by decision for the novice featherweight championship.

Brackeen and Black wasted no time feeling each other out in the opening bout of the evening. Both landed some solid punches, then Brackeen began hurting Black with sharp left and right uppercuts. Black was throwing his punches mostly overhand.

Telles Stops Byrd

With the opening of the second round Black drove Brackeen against the ropes with several sharp shots, but the Slaton boy came out of it well and appeared to hurt the Petersburg puncher with a barrage of blows to the body and into the face.

Brackeen showed even better boxing form in the third round, and bounced some hard ones off Black's face and head and planted some jolters to the middle sections.

Telles, in stopping Byrd in the second open welterweight division fight of the evening, ran into some hard punches himself before coming through with a TKO. In the very first flurry of punches Byrd went down. Then they went down together in another exchange, close in. Telles dropped Byrd again, but the Petersburg boy was able to talk to Referee Sexton as he started the count. Telles leveled him again on the opposite side of the ring and Sexton then stopped the fight.

Pritchard Stages Comeback

John Pritchard, the Lubbock boy, pulled the greatest comeback of the evening to beat M. D. Stevens, for the middleweight championship of the high school division. Stevens had pummeled Pritchard sharply throughout the first two rounds, and hemming his opponent in corners and on the ropes, worked him over rather thoroughly. In the third Pritchard began connecting with a long right and after one minute and forty-five seconds of the third round the referee stopped it with Stevens standing, apparently out on his feet, near his corner.

Richard Wheat of Brownfield, beaten badly by Paul Hill of Tahoka, brought a great outburst of cheers from the crowd because of his plucky battle against a boy whose gloves were making the blood literally fly from his nose and mouth. Wheat stuck it out through 43 seconds of the third round when the referee stepped in and stopped it.

Results of the opening night's fights showed Duane Driver of Tahoka decisioning James Forbes of Brownfield in a high school division fight. The report was in error as Forbes was the winner, by decision, rather than Driver.

Results of Golden Gloves matches last night:

OPEN DIVISION

135-pounds, Billy Brockeen, Slaton, decisioned Hollis Black, Petersburg.

147-pounds, Earl Pollard, Lubbock, decisioned Jack Wilburn, Lubbock; Frank Telles, Lubbock, won by TKO over Clarence Byrd, Petersburg, 1:12 of the first round.

NOVICE DIVISION

127-pounds, Roy Dean Seaney, Plainview, decisioned Gyndolin Petty, Plainview. Seaney wins featherweight title.

135-pounds, Edward Elliott, Lorenzo, decisioned David Fawcett, Lubbock. Elliott wins lightweight title.

147-pounds, Gene Amonett, Petersburg, knocked out Isaac Quirino, Lubbock, 1:29 of the third round.

160-pounds, John Pritchard, Lubbock, won by TKO over M. D. Stevens, Lubbock, 1:45 of the third round. Pritchard wins middleweight title.

175-pounds, John Seid Muleshoe, decisioned Richard Watson, Cooper. Seid wins light heavyweight title.

HIGH SCHOOL DIVISION

127-pounds, Ken Kirkpatrick, Petersburg, knocked out Charles Brookshire, Tahoka, 0:52 of the first round.

147-pounds, Bob Austin, Lubbock, knocked out Clayton Jobe, Petersburg, 1:00 of the second round.

160-pounds, Paul Hill, Tahoka, won by TKO over Richard Wheat, Brownfield, 0:43 of the third round.

Special Gloves Meet Is Sought

Possibility of an inter-city Golden Gloves exhibition match in the Texas Tech gym on Thursday night, with the championship team from Amarillo visiting Lubbock, seemed likely, although local tournament officials could not announce the engagement as definite last night.

Morley Jennings, Tech athletic director and director of the 12th Annual Regional Golden Gloves tournament here, said that the bouts were a distinct possibility.

Fighters To Vote

During the day Tuesday, Jennings talked with Golden Gloves promoters in Amarillo and they went on record as favoring the proposed bouts. Final decision was to rest on whether fighters in both Amarillo and Lubbock would vote in favor of the exhibition.

Jennings called together Heavyweight Gene James, Light Heavyweight J. D. Kirkpatrick, Middleweights Lonnie Balch and Frank White, Welterweights Frank Telles and Earl Pollard, Lightweights Dwayne Vaughan and Billy Brackeen, and Featherweights Bill Henderson and Charles Neff, all in the final round here.

They were asked how they felt toward the proposed inter-city bouts and they voted in favor of holding them.

This morning Jennings will continue to keep in touch with Amarillo to learn their decision and, when it is known, the announcement will be made in The Evening Journal and over local radio stations.

The fights were proposed to offset the loss of one fight-night through failure of more than 46 fighters to enter the local Golden Gloves contest.

Crosbyton Cagers Defeat Paducah Quintet, 49-28

Temple Ban In '39 Recounted

Head Of TIL Defends Organization Setup

WACO, Feb. 3 (AP)—Roy Bedichek, head of the Interscholastic League, is clarifying penalties inflicted on Ranger this year and Temple in 1939, for recruiting, today termed the Temple violation "the most flagrant" he has seen in 38 years of league history.

He said the Temple affair made the Ranger case look "aateurish." Bedichek answered seven questions propounded by the Waco News-Tribune when he spoke at the Kiwanis club luncheon here.

Temple was suspended from the league in 1939 on a charge it let control of athletics pass from the constituted school authorities to a downtown council. It was alleged that the school board favored and upheld the council in a dispute with the superintendent.

Bedichek said Temple certified a player as eligible who was plainly ineligible. All of this, in addition to a recruiting program that makes the Ranger affair look amateurish, he said.

Ranger was recently disqualified for trying to recruit players from a nearby town. Disqualification permits playing of league teams, but makes the violating team ineligible to win any championship.

Temple was not permitted to play any team in the league.

Bedichek said double A schools were not permitted to vote on the controversial triple A conference because the University of Texas Interscholastic league constitution charges the state executive committee with the responsibility of "inaugurating new contests, creating new divisions, and setting up plans of competition and promoting the game."

Since the league is sponsored by the University of Texas, members of its staff are university employes. This explains why there is not more representation among members schools on the state executive committee, Bedichek stated.

The arrangement of letting the university administer the league has met with the apparent satisfaction of member schools since it was begun 38 years ago. Several attempts to perfect a different setup have been tried but met with failure when schools expressed by unanimous vote their confidence in the way the league is handled.

Bulldogs Crush Cubs, 61 To 28

BROWNFIELD, Feb. 3 (Special)—Plainview's speedy Bulldog cagers, paced by the net-swishing antics of rangy Forward Bill Howton, handed the Brownfield Cubs a humiliating 61-28 District 1-AA drubbing here tonight.

The Plainview quint jumped into the lead in the opening seconds of the tilt and at the end of the first period held an 11-2 margin. Howton and Bob Bogle increased the count to 23-11 at halftime, then in the last two periods the Hale county crew pulled far out in front.

Howton copped individual scoring honors for the clash, tallying 22 points, but Bogle chalked up 12 points from his guard slot. Glen Gorby led the Brownfield five with 11 points.

The defeat was Brownfield's sixth consecutive loss in conference play and gave the Cubs "undisputed" possession of the loop cellar.

In a battle of "B" fives preceding the feature tilt the Plainview quint gained a 35-25 triumph over the Cub subs.

Sweden Takes Olympic Lead

ST. MORITZ, Switzerland, Feb. 3 (AP)—Sweden again took over the winter Olympic leadership from Norway with smashing victories in skiing and skating today as United States athletes failed once more to hit the winner's circle.

A blazing sun brought pools of water to alpine ice rinks and caused cancellation of part of the program.

The heat may make matters tough when Dick Button, the 18-year-old Englewood, N. J., boy, makes his supreme bid for an Olympic championship tomorrow in figure skating.

The United States has never won an Olympic figure skating title, and has yet to take a first place in the present games, now five days old.

Champions crowned today were: Ake Seyffarth, Sweden, 10,000 meter speed skating, in 17 minutes, 26.3 seconds.

The Swedish 40-kilometer ski race relay team (Nils Oestensson, Nils Taepp, Gunnar Eriksson and Martin Lundstrom), in two hours, 32 minutes, eight seconds. America's entry was cancelled because of skier's fatigue.

The Associated Press point total, with half the Olympic program completed, stands tonight:

Sweden 59, Norway 48½, Switzerland 39, Finland 38, Austria 19, U. S. A. 15¼, France 11, Italy six, Holland six, Hungary three, Belgium three, Britain two, Canada one-quarter point.

The Abernathy girls drubbed the Slaton sextet, 31-15, with McMasters tallying 18 points. Carol Sokoll made seven points for Slaton.

New Mexico Cagers Beat Wayland, 62-48

PLAINVIEW, Feb. 3 (Special)—The Wayland College Pioneers couldn't stay with the visiting Eastern New Mexico college quintet tonight and dropped a 62-48 decision to the invaders.

Wayland stayed in the running throughout the entire first half, never more than six points separating the two teams. The New Mexicans grabbed an early lead and clung to it, shaking off the Pioneers' efforts to get back in the running.

After the intermission, which found Wayland leaving the court on the short end of a 30-26 count, the visitors opened up a devastating net game that kept the mesh swishing. The Pioneers tried to stay with them, but wilted under the fast pace.

FACES DEPORTATION FROM U.S.

Eisler Seeks To Gain Release On Bail; Court Hearing Is Set

NEW YORK, Feb. 3 (AP)—Gerhard Eisler, reputed number one Communist in the United States, today was directed to appear in court tomorrow to determine whether he is eligible for release on bail from Ellis island.

Eisler, 50, a native of Germany, was arrested yesterday on a deportation warrant and held without bail.

Charges Are Made

Federal Judge Edward A. Conger directed the Immigration and Naturalization service to bring Eisler into court in a habeas corpus writ which his counsel had sought.

His counsel, Mrs. Carol King, maintained he had been arrested "to embarrass him in the conduct of his defense" in appealing two convictions in Federal court in Washington, D. C.

Until his arrest yesterday Eisler had been free in $20,000 bail since conviction last summer on charges of passport fraud and contempt of Congress. He faces possible penalties in the two convictions totaling up to six years imprisonment and $6,000 in fines.

Convicted Of Contempt

Normally, deportation proceedings against persons who have been sentenced to prison are held in abeyance until they have served minimum times of sentence. Then they are paroled to immigration officials for immediate deportation.

Eisler was convicted of contempt of Congress last June after he refused to answer questions by the House committee on unAmerican activities. The committee termed him the nation's "number one Communist." The government charged during his two trials he came to the United States to "disrupt" its economy "in accordance with the wishes of Moscow."

Describing himself as "a political exile fighting for the right to go home in peace," Eisler acknowledged affiliation with the German Communist party.

representatives and senators let it be known that they don't like Mr. Truman's proposals.

Rep. Williams (D-Miss) told the House:

"I would rather see my party go down in honorable defeat . . . than win an empty victory by stabbing its best friends in the back."

Platform Scored

Rep. Rivers (D-SC) summed up his views this way:

"One of these days the so-called leaders are going to find out the so-called Solid South is not as solid as some of the heads of our so-called leaders."

Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) asked why this country should spend billions fighting Communism in Europe only to have "the President of the U. S., under some pressure we do not understand, try to ram the platform of the Communist party down the people of the U. S."

Wallace Not So Bad

Rep. Whitten (D-Miss) declared the "tragic part" of the Truman message is that it presupposes conditions in the South are bad. Whitten said protection given negroes is the best in the land, that southerners are "extra lenient" with them and have done their best to care for them.

Rep. Cox (D-Ga) said that after having read the message he wonders "if, after all, Henry Wallace is such a bad man." Wallace, a third party candidate for President, has favored almost all of the measures proposed by Mr. Truman.

Similarly, Rep. Dorn (D-SC) thundered that he thinks the Democratic party should "put first things first in this country and not try to out-Wallace Henry Wallace."

Rep. Gossett (D-Tex) said he didn't blame the President as much as the "archaic" election system which he asserted places control of the two major political parties in New York and Chicago.

"Both parties get down on their bellies, crawl in the dirt and kiss the feet of minorities," he said.

TEXAN CALLS PROPOSAL POLITICAL DEMOGOGUERY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—The President's civil rights message was described today by Rep. Burleson (D-Tex) as the "grossest kind of political demagoguery."

The Texan said in a statement to the press that he has not been a critic of President Truman nor of the Democratic party, but that he now takes issue with their views.

"It uses what we hold dearest in this country, civil rights, as a dog pallet. I don't think the President or the Democratic party is any more guilty of this sort of thing, however, than the Republicans.

"Both political parties are sponsoring the same type of legislation, such as the anti-lynch bill, anti-poll tax bill, and the Fair Employment Practices commission bill."

He said he believed these bills are "an appeal to the minority of voters whom they hope to swing for the November election."

box, and a $6 roll of pennies from a cash register.

It was not known how much money was in the March of Dimes container.

"It was known, however, that greenbacks were stuffed in it, along with much silver. Some of the coins were half-dollars and quarters," Rice said.

Cane Is Stolen

Mac Reynolds of Seminole late yesterday reported theft of 7,000 to 10,000 pounds of threshed cane. The truck in which the cane was loaded was known to have gone east from Lamesa, according to police records, but description of suspects and the truck was not available. Monday, Paul Mathews of Shallowater reported that driver of a truck had loaded bundles of hegari from his field.

Other thefts, according to police last night, included a radiator, water pump, fan, starter, and two batteries taken from a 1937 Ford at Crow Motor company, 1211 Ave G. A bicycle owned by Mike Brady of 2513 Ave. L, and valued at $48, was reported stolen from the Boys club. Phillip Brookes also reported to police that bath fixtures had been taken from his home which is under construction six miles out on Slide road.

A burglar took a fleece-lined coat, a German-make, single-shot .22 calibre rifle, and a billfold with personal papers from residence of E. E. Wilborn, 615 Fourteenth st., according to police last night.

Police held two Mexicans after a man complained that they molested his wife in a theater. Two negroes were also arrested on a charge of disturbance by abusive language, police said.

Police also were investigating the serious cutting of a negro woman, Lavita Johnson, whose condition was being observed by officials and physicians. Jimmie B. Bagley, 56, a negro man was being held in connection with the assault on her.

Arrested At Residence

Police said he was arrested at his residence, after he had gone to bed, about 3:45 a. m. Tuesday.

Emma Jones, with whom the Johnson woman lived, told police there was a knock at her door about 3:15 a. m. It was Bagley, wanting to come in and see the Johnson woman, she said.

The Jones woman said she declined to open the door, whereupon Bagley burst it open, advanced on the Johnson woman and slashed her across the cheek, jaw and above the right breast with a knife.

Bagley was in possession of a knife when arrested, police said.

An autopsy report by Dr. W. L. Baugh, county health officer, after examination of vital organs of Tony B. Harrison, 18, a negro girl, indicated to peace officers her late Sunday death "may have resulted from heart trouble induced by drinking." Dr. Baugh found the woman's heart "acutely dilated." Her relatives had told officers their suspicions that she had been poisoned by whisky given to her by other negroes, but witnesses said "we all were drinking from the same bottle, pouring drinks from it into a paper cup."

Dr. Baugh reserved final entry of his opinion pending analysis of the viscera, which was sent to the Department of Public Safety, laboratory in Austin.

U.S. Citizens Are Evacuated From City Threatened By Reds

PEIPING, Feb. 3 (AP)—U. S. citizens were being evacuated by plane today from Changchun, Manchuria's capital long isolated by the Communists.

The decision to bring out the Americans coincided with a strong Communist resurgence to the south. In that region they were hammering once more at the outer defenses of Mukden, Manchuria's largest city.

(The Nanking newspaper Hisn Min Pao asserted a "large scale battle" was developing at Mukden's outskirts. The Communist radio in North China said its army had arrived "outside Mukden." There was no official confirmation of either report.)

Planes from Tsingtao, where U. S. Marines are based, were sent to Changchun to take Americans to Peiping. All missionaries in the area also will be flown out.

Borger Youth Admits Series Of Thefts In Panhandle City

BORGER, Feb. 3 (AP)—Constable Fred Compton said today that the confession of a frail 13-year-old boy has cleared up eight burglaries here since last summer.

The boy admitted entering three homes over the week-end and taking jewelry valued at $250, all of which, except two rings, was recovered.

The constable said the boy asserted he stole to get money to attend picture shows.

Compton said he would turn the boy over to the custody of County Judge Norman Coffee.

gets out and earns it:

"This law originated in England hundreds of years, ago, when wives were denied the right to own property and the husband had the legal right to whip his wife."

Combs was against letting man and wife split the family kitty for tax purposes only.

That would set up "a standing reward for the glamour gal's sugar-daddy bracket," he protested.

Cheating Claimed Possible

How so? Because a rich man could "arrange a marriage of convenience and cheat the American treasury out of many thousands of dollars."

"No, said Combs, if there's to be any divvying up, do it the whole way and give the wife her half outright.

"Even if our wives did not work at all," he said, "they would still be entitled to 50 per cent for putting up with us.

"On second thought, I had better amend that. I am sorry I said it.

"On that basis, some of our wives would be entitled to 90 per cent."

Editor To Report On Europe At Idalou Meeting Tonight

Chas. A. Guy, editor of the Avalanche-Journal publications, will speak at the Idalou club house at 7:30 o'clock tonight, under auspices of the Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service.

Mr. Guy will report on his findings in a recent tour of the Occupied Zones of Germany and visits to Trieste, Vienna, and Paris. Surrounding communities are invited to attend the talk, sponsors of the program announced.

Tuesday night, Mr. Guy spoke to a gathering of approximately 250 persons in the First Methodist church at Spur. The talk there was sponsored by the Twentieth Century club, Spur women's study club. He was introduced by Mrs. A. M. Walker, program chairman. Following the discussion, a reception was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. P. C. Nichols.

land and the Middle West tonight.

The Chicago weather bureau posted a warning of a new sub-zero wave, preceded by snow, to overspread the upper Mississippi valley as far south as southern Wisconsin and Iowa tomorrow.

Meanwhile, temperatures as low as 16 below were predicted by tomorrow morning for northern New England.

Temperatures Plummet

The new Midwest cold wave, with -25 predicted for northern Minnesota, just meant more of the same to the iron range country where Big Falls reported -38 this morning and Bemidja and Park Rapids had readings of 37 below. But New England had a respite yesterday. Temperatures there were above freezing the first time in 12 days.

Colder weather was predicted for the middle Atlantic states tonight. The Gulf region, however, was expected to escape severe weather for the next three days at least.

Thursday, the Weather bureau said, will bring zero temperatures as far south as northern Illinois.

New Ruling By Army Department Gives Newsmen More Freedom

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—The Army department tonight overruled an order by Gen. Douglas MacArthur which had been criticized as limiting freedom of the press.

Under the new ruling, news correspondents who leave U. S. occupation zones to cover special assignments may get back in without being re-accredited.

But this holds good, the Army said, only if the newsmen are out of the zones for periods "aggregating not more than 30 days in any six months period."

"The use of ocupation zones by correspondents primarily as bases to cover geographical areas not under American military jurisdiction is not authorized," the directive said.

It went not only to MacArthur but to military government heads in Germany and Austria as well.

And it followed a statement by MacArthur that he doubts whether the Allied press "enjoys anywhere in the world greater freedom in gathering and dissemination of news" than it does in Tokyo.

Demonstration Is Given For Girls

Idalou Junior and Senior 4-H Girls' clubs met at the school Tuesday morning for a demonstration on making pot holders.

Eighteen were present at the junior session with Mrs. D. O. Johnson, leader, in charge. Sequin pins and scarfs made at the last meeting were exhibited.

Sandra Johnson gave the pot holder demonstration, illustrating how to follow directions, to sew straight seams and put on bias tape. The articles will be completed at the next lesson.

Twenty-five senior girls met later in the morning for a similar demonstration.

Joyce Gossett and Frankie Moffit taught several new games which they had learned at a camp training session they attended Jan. 16-17.

Auxiliary Makes Plans For Party

Plans were made for a Valentine party Saturday night, Feb. 14, at the regular monthly business meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary Monday night at the Legion Hall.

Tickets are to be sold by auxiliary members and will be on sale at the Legion Hall.

It was reported that five local members of the auxiliary served cookies and punch to 212 patients of the Amarillo VA hospital January 23. Those going to Amarillo included Mesdames Sid Lowrey, W. E. Klein, Floyd Lebow, Riley Duff and H. J. Kendrick.

Auxiliary members also were invited to attend a Legion meeting next Monday night at Veterans village.

New Party For South Talked

Roosevelt.

Merritt H. Gibson of Longview, Tex., one of the leaders of the Texas Regulars when that conservative group split from the Texas Democratic party, asserted: "Southern Democrats ought to call a southern Democratic convention."

Truman's civil rights proposal came while the South was struggling with a Supreme court mandate that negroes must be given higher education opportunities equal to whites.

One of the latest developments on this front was the enrollment of a young negro ex-GI as a law student at the University of Arkansas. He and others of his race who may enroll will receive instruction from regular faculty members but in a special classroom.

School Being Set Up

It was an appeal from refusal of the University of Oklahoma to admit negro graduate students that brought the Supreme court ruling. Oklahoma stood firm on state laws requiring racial segregation in schools and set up a separate law school for negroes. So far, negro students have boycotted the separate school.

Texas, meanwhile, is spending $3,000,000 for a state university for negroes. Other southern states are making a two-front attack on the problem—using existing facilities to the best advantage and developing out-of-state scholarship plans to supplement these.

Klan Stages Burning

A lurid, back-stage development was a Ku Klux Klan parade and cross burning tonight at Swainsboro, Ga. The purpose of the demonstration by 189 sheet-shrouded men, said a leader, was to "rededicate" the hooded order to "the protection of white womanhood" and to racial segregation as a southern tradition.

Only a few southerners came to the defense of the President. One of these, Governor Millard Caldwell of Florida, said he disagreed with the President's civil rights proposals but would support his nomination as President.

Laney said he might agree to establishment of a southern party if one is proposed.

Convention Urged

"There is no question but that the people of the South are fed up," he said. "The South has its back to the wall but I don't think the South will take it lying down and I'm with that group."

An all-southern Democratic convention was called for by Walter Sillers, Mississippi house speaker. He advocated an independent convention for naming the South's candidate for president. Sillers said he favored this "even if it means throwing the election into the House of Representatives and then we can let events take their course."

The Alabama Democratic executive committee recently passed a resolution warning party leaders that further moves toward anti-southern legislation might force the section to choose between party loyalty and southern tradition.

Hodding Carter, Pulitzer prize winning editor of the Greenville (Miss.) Democrat-Times, said most liberal southerners question the sincerity of proposals such as President Truman's "when they come on the eve of an election."

Rationing Shelved

pounds less than last year but 20 pounds more than the 1935-39 average.

Prices To Be High

"Prices of all meats and livestock will be as high or higher in 1948 than the all-time records established in 1947—unless there is a widespread business recession," Baker predicted.

He said three factors will "probably determine the livestock and meat price outlook in 1948: Wheat, labor relations and foreign relations." But he added that if the weather is right for the farmer "food costs could lead the way to more stable prices."

Meanwhile congressional action shaped up on two other cost-of-living subjects:

1. The House Banking committee opened hearings on rent controls which expire Feb. 29. Tighe E. Woods, housing expediter, urged that controls be continued two more years and that they be strengthened. He revealed there are now approximately 14,000,000 dwelling units under rent control in areas with a total population of over 100,000,000.

A Senate Banking subcommittee is scheduled to vote on an extension bill later this week.

2. A special Senate-House group will open hearings Thursday on President Truman's request for extension of his power to allocate grain supplies to whisky makers. This authority expired Jan. 31 and legislation to extend it until Feb. 29 was killed by the House Banking committee.

nothing to say about Russian intentions. He appeared in the U. N. lounge in a jovial mood.

Russian-American bickering was at the normal level in the meeting halls here.

The Soviet delegation in the economic and social council opened with an attack against the U. S. for opposing Dr. Oscar Lange, of Poland, for the first vice-presidency. Some delegates said this economic body had taken on a decided political tinge.

In the U. N. sub-commission on freedom of information and of the press, Y. M. Lomakin, Soviet consul general in New York, has directly attacked the U. S. press and has renewed Russian blasts against "warmongering."

the major Communist-dominated Balkan capitals.

Secretary of Defense Forrestal has said it will be used only as a "way station on the air route to Athens," chiefly to serve the American aid mission in Greece.

In Iran, Deputy Premier Hussein Faroodi said in Tehran today a formal denial will be made to Soviet charges of improper activity by the U. S. military mission in that country.

Charges Claimed False

The Iran note will be in reply to a Soviet communication charging that the American military mission was engaging in activities imperilling the southern frontier of Russia.

An Iranian army spokesman was quoted as saying the American military mission has never taken part in directing affairs of the Iranian army, but has only served in an advisory capacity.

The U. S. State department has described Soviet charges as without foundation.

Attack On Aid Plan Seen

In London authoritative government sources viewed the stepped up Soviet campaign against American foreign policy as intensification of the attack on the Marshall plan.

The British foreign office declared the American military mission in Iran was engaged in normal practice. A spokesman said he was puzzled over the protest, since Russia conducted similar missions in other countries.

The Soviet propaganda mill didn't let the subject alone. A Tass dispatch from Iran said American military pilots in commercial uniforms were flying internal Iranian air routes, particularly north from Tehran to Tabriz. The Tabriz-Tehran line was operated by the Soviets until last July. They withdrew in accord with an Iranian decree prohibiting "unlicensed" airline operations.

Meanwhile, Britain joined the United States in a formal protest to Romania over treatment of political minorities.

U. S. Is Urged To Seek Payment For Aid To European Nations

By JIM G. LUCAS
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3—Europeans who protest loudest against partial payment for the Marshall plan in strategic stockpile materials will be more surprised than pleased if we fail to ask for them.

That's what some American businessmen say. They believe Western Europe's reluctance to make that kind of deal shouldn't be taken too seriously. They say it's the natural inclination of a borrower to pledge as little collateral as possible. But they say the borrower seldom expects the banker to accept his first offer. That's what two businessmen have told the Senate Foreign Relations committee.

Reciprocations Needed

Lewis H. Brown, board chairman of the Johns-Manville Corp., insisted our failure to drive a businessman's bargain would weaken our position. Mr. Brown said Western Europe would have more confidence in success of the Marshall plan if we prove ourselves hardheaded.

If we sell France a million bushels of wheat for francs, Mr. Brown said, "our representative in France should try to find some raw materials in France or her colonies that could be purchased with francs and shipped to America to be stockpiled."

He pointed out that France is making such deals with other countries.

William L. Batt, president of SKF Industries, Inc., Philadelphia, maintained that "the people of Europe are looking for an opportunity to repay."

"They are much the same kind of people we are," he said. "They are down but they are not out. They are not seeking charitable handouts.

"There is one form of repayment on which we can insist from the beginning of this program. That is the field of strategic and critical materials."

New 1948 Hydra-Matic Pontiacs Will Go On Display At McWilliams Showroom Today

With Hydra-Matic Drive as optional equipment on all models, the new 1948 Pontiac automobiles will go in display today at the McWilliams Pontiac company's showrooms, 902 Ave. J.

Pontiac again offers the Torpedo series on a 119-inch wheelbase and the streamliner series on the 122-inch wheelbase. Each series is available with six or eight-cylinder engine.

Both series are offered in deluxe and standard models. The new deluxe group offers exterior and interior refinements, including chrome-plated spear-headed molding on the front fenders, stainless steel rear fender gravel guards and polished chrome plated wheel discs.

Grille Broadened

Interiors of the deluxe models feature special upholstery, deluxe type steering wheel, electric clock as standard equipment, and chromed hardware and instrument controls.

Pontiac's radiator grille has been redesigned for 1948 to lower and broaden the approach pattern. The silver streak is a new three-bar moulding extending from the Indian head medallion to the rear of the hood and is emphasized by body color between the chrome bars.

Six-clyinder cars carry "Silver Streak" name plates in script letters on either side of the hood near the cowl. Eight-clyinder hood identification reads "Silver 8 Streak."

Highlighting the front is a newly-designed Indian-head hood ornament in chrome and translucent red plastic.

Front and rear fenders have smooth, uninterrupted surfaces. A one-inch wide chrome crease moulding has been incorporated in all models except the station wagon and convertible.

There are new dual semaphore-type tail lamps with chrome circular rims and new three-bead silver streak moulding on the rear deck.

Front and rear compartments on standard models are furnished with the instrument panel in quarter-sawed mahogany finish, as is the windshield and window mouldings. Instrument cluster on the left is balanced by a clock panel on the right and midway between them is the radio speaker grille. Face of the instrument cluster is brushed copper and satin-finished aluminum. Rims are chrome.

Soft gray fabric shot with blue is used for headlining and door panels while seat cushions and backs are trimmed in two-tone pattern cloth of green-gray mixture. Gray, hard-finish panels are used to trim the kick pads and this material is also used as front and rear cushion piping.

The two-toned steering wheel blends with the interior color scheme and has grip dimples along the underside of the rim and along the upper edge of the twin spokes. Steering column, steering column bracket, gear-shirt lever and hand brake are in harmonizing brown. Control knobs are ivory colored plastic.

Improvement Is Noted

Two tones of gray as a basic interior color scheme are used in the deluxe type Pontiacs. Seat cushions are done in dark gray fabrics while headlining sun visors, side walls, lower door panels and front-seat back carry the lighter shade.

In addition to Hydra-Matic Drive, Pontiac has reported other mechanical improvements on its new line.

"Rubber raincoats" have been designed for Pontiac sparkplugs. Moulded rubber elbows fit snugly over the ends of the plug wires, thoroughly sealing the connections against dirt and moisture. Ignition coils are oil filled and hermetically sealed, extending coil life by excluding all air from the center of the coil to later condense and cause disintegration of wire insulation.

Two major changes have been made in Pontiac's manufacture of special control cars for handicapped persons. In 1946 and 1947 these controls were available only on the Streamliner models. They now may be installed on either the Torpedo or Streamliner. All cars with these controls may be equipped with Hydra-Matic drive.

Colors available on the 1948 Pontiacs include black, mariner blue, Parma wine, Belgian gray, frances ivory, Rio red, Genessee green, oyster gray, volunteer green only on the convertible and blue-lake blue available only in combination besides other two-tone combinations at extra cost.

Judgment Is Given On Drunk Driving Charge In City

Judgment was given in County court yesterday on a drunk driving charge and on one accusing a defendant of misdemeanor theft. Five check law violation charges were also filed, but defendants were not reported arrested.

Charged with drunk driving were Alfred Jacob Barnes, jr., 22, of route 3 Lamesa, who posted bond of $500 after pleading innocent; and Floyd Webb, 67, of Lubbock route 2, who pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and court costs by Judge Walter Davies.

Both figured in automobile mishaps Monday night, investigators said.

Driver's license of Webb was ordered revoked six months.

Hugh Carroll, 35, a negro, was charged with theft of a $26.95 radio from C. D. Helm. Helm ran the negro down Monday afternoon and held him, after the radio had been stolen from Edwards Distributing company here, he told police.

Carroll plead guilty to the charge, was fined $25 and costs and given five days in the county jail.

NEED LUBRICATION

Before automobile brakes are tested as to adjustment, the linkage from brake pedal to drums should be thoroughly lubricated. It is also well to remember that lack of lubrication often accounts for inefficient brake performance by restricting the free action of the linkage and causing poor adjustment or undue wear.

No Action Announced On Request For Use Of Building At SPAAF

Graham Smith, commander of the Brownfield National Guard company, said last night that no word had been received by the company relative to a request to the War Assets Administration for one hangar from the South Plains Army Air Field, recently declared surplus to military needs.

J. O. Gillham, president of the Brownfield State bank, and other business men in Brownfield had made the request to WAA through letters to Sen. Tom Connally and Rep. George Mahon.

The Brownfield National Guard, consisting of Cannon company of the 142nd Infantry Regiment, desired to move the hangar to a 20-acre plot in Brownfield to be used as garage and shop space for the nine tanks which the company possesses.

Reports that the Brownfield unit of the National Guard was requesting use of the South Plains Army Air field were not confirmed last night by either Smith or Gillham.

Stassen Boom Is Planned In State

Man Who Started Eisenhower Drive To Push GOP Campaign In Texas

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Feb. 3—A man who helped start the move to nominate Ike Eisenhower arrived in Texas today to launch a statewide Stassen-for-president campaign.

William H. Burnham of New York, general membership chairman of the national draft Eisenhower league, said in an interview that a network of Stassen clubs would be organized in Texas.

Burnham threw his support to Stassen when Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower declined to consider the presidential nomination.

To Name State Chairman

"Eighty per cent of the Eisenhower leaders have thrown their support to Stassen," he said.

"Four hundred of the 600 volunteer workers in the New York draft Eisenhower league came over to Stassen immediately."

Burnham said a state chairman would be named for Texas. Then a general campaign will be launched to form Citizen for Stassen clubs in each large town.

The operation calls for 25 persons in the parent club of each city. These would represent such groups as management, labor, the various professions, and housewives. Each member would be asked to form another club of 25.

Clubs At Amarillo, Borger

Two Texas clubs already are functioning in West Texas. Harold E. Brady heads one at Amarillo, and Kenneth Dalley has formed another at Borger.

Burnham, a former Air Forces major, served after the war as field director of the Connecticut Veterans commission. He is now assistant to the senior partner of F. S. Smithers & Company, New York investment bankers.

Eisenhower's statement that he would not be available for any draft movement was a final decision, Burnham said.

"There is no way to draft him now," Burnham added.

"There is no loophole in the general's statement.

"He wouldn't even run for sheriff."

Burnham will see Republican leaders in Houston after his Dallas conferences.

CRASHED PLANE FOUND

TOKYO, Wednesday, Feb. 4 (AP)—Ground searchers have found the wreckage of an AT-6 trainer plane on northern Kyushu. Far East Air Force officials believed the plane was one missing since Jan. 14—piloted by Lt. Frank Corser, Binghampton, N. Y., with Capt. Odie Minitra of Corsicana, Tex., as a passenger.

Nashville Man Will Speak Here Tonight

An inspirational meeting at which Rev. H. Kerr Taylor, educational secretary of the executive committee of foreign missions, with headquarters in Nashville, Tenn., will speak will be conducted at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the First Presbyterian church.

Delegations from surrounding towns are to be present.

The meeting will be sponsored by Men of the Church and auxiliary organizations of the First Presbyterian church. The Chapel Presbyterian church and Westminster organization located in the southwestern section of the city will cooperate in the meeting, said Dr. Jack M. Lewis, pastor of First Presbyterian church.

Dr. Taylor was a missionary of the Presbyterian church in China 17 years, returning to this country in 1933. At that time he became pastor of the Second Presbyterian church in Charleston, S. C. In 1935, he was called to the educational secretaryship of the committee of foreign missions.

He was described as "an exceedingly strong and inspirational speaker." The meeting will be open to the public. "All should take advantage of the opportunity to hear him Wednesday evening," said Dr. Lewis.

An informal reception will be conducted in Fellowship hall of the church immediately following the meeting, giving all who desire an opportunity to meet Dr. Taylor and talk to him about his work.

CIO Opposes Ship Transfer

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3—The CIO's right and left wings joined today in a campaign to prevent the transfer of 500 U. S. ships to European countries under the Marshall program.

But on the merits of the European recovery program itself, they split wide apart.

On Capitol Hill, CIO President Phil Murray and Joseph Curran, head of the CIO National Maritime union, came out strongly for the Marshall Plan—except that they want supplies carried to Europe in American ships manned by American seamen.

In front of the State department building, N.M.U. members and other seamen opposed to Curran and Murphy paraded with signs denouncing the ship transfer and the Marshall Plan as a whole.

Pat Tobin, an N.M.U. member from New York, and other demonstrators told a news conference they endorsed Henry A. Wallace's stand that the Marshall Plan points toward war with Russia.

Republican opposition to Marshall's program was voiced on the Senate floor, meanwhile, for the first time this session. Senator Jenner (R-Ind) declared:

"We are simple-minded and stupid if we embark on a program that amounts to nothing more than paying for French and Italian strikes."

Jenner is one of about 20 GOP senators who have banded together in an effort to rewrite the aid program.

Curran told the Senate Foreign relations committee that the Truman administration had "written off the American Merchant Marine" in urging the transfer of the 500 ships.

Guidance Center On Campus At Tech Helps Many Persons To Find Best Path To Follow In Work

By BILL SAYERS
Avalanche Staff Writer

Just as every one of the hundreds of odd shaped pieces of a jig-saw puzzle must be fitted into its correct position in order to obtain a completed picture, so it is with a human personality. Every factor that affects the personality and makes it what it is must be put in its proper place and thoroughly analyzed if one is to get a clear picture of its weaknesses and strong points.

The job of the staff at the recently reorganized guidance center at Texas Technological college is to find the weak points in the dozens of applicants for counseling that they receive each week and advise them on methods of correction and to show them their strong points and how to utilize them to the fullest advantage.

The program had its beginning, in a small way, many years ago in the counseling and testing program offered entering freshmen to help them choose their major subject in college. Last March the Veterans' Administration selected Texas Tech as a site for its vocational guidance center to give counsel to veterans from a wide area of West Texas. Since that time the services of the staff have been made available to all persons, regardless of their educational background or whether or not they are veterans. A nominal fee is charged to all non-veterans.

The guidance center is located in a clearly marked separate building on the south part of the campus, a few steps south of the agriculture building.

Psychologists at the center are daily applying a series of scientific tests to help puzzled people from all walks of life to realize their best capabilities and to find the answer to personal problems regarding vocations suited for them. In the course of a normal day, they answer such questions as:

What work can a man, used to manual labor, turn to if he is suddenly crippled at 45 years of age and if he has never learned to read?

Six-year-old Sally has never seemed as alert as her playmates. Should she enter public school or be sent to a special school?

How about Mrs. Smith who suddenly finds herself a widow with children to support and has never done anything but house work?

All these and many more are questions received every day at the center from people who really need help—and they are getting it.

Being a bit skeptical by nature, when I first heard all this I thought that it sounded good, but does it work? I was torn between the thought that it was probably just a good theory and the fact that they might be able to give me a hint as to whether or not my future really lies in my present field. Still another factor that held me back was the horrible vision I have always had of psychologists, one of long pointed goatees and piercing eyes.

Walked Boldly In

Finally, swallowing my heart for the third time and deciding that if I were to follow curiosity's cat I would at least know what type of nurosis motivated us, I pushed open the door and walked boldly in.

I was immediately reassured by a pleasant faced receptionist who arranged an interview for me. For the next several days in my spare time I took the tests prescribed for my particular problem and found them surprisingly simple and easy and yet very comprehensive. As they progressed and the man with the goatee and white jacket failed to appear, I grew more and more at ease and finally learned to enjoy the whole pro-

County Joins Crop Program

Among the few counties in the nation which will participate this year in the government's experimental cotton crop insurance program will be Lubbock county, Walter Y. Wells, county administrator, announced Tuesday.

Two hundred farmers in the county signed contracts covering 256 farms prior to the application deadline last Saturday.

The plan, as announced through the Federal Crop Insurance corporation, called for participation by 56 cotton producing counties in the nation, of which four were in western Texas. Lubbock was the only South Plains county in which the program was offered.

Showed Profit In '47

The program is an effort by Congress to arrive at a plan that will insure producers against unavoidable loss and still be self sustaining. In previous years the corporation has lost heavily, except for 1947, when it showed a profit for the first time, in both all-around operation and in the cotton program, Wells said.

Other West Texas counties in which the program was offered this year were Donley, in the Panhandle, which Wells said did not qualify because less than 100 farms were contracted; and Jones and Knox counties, reports from which had not been received here. The law requires participation by a minimum of 250 farms in a county before the program can become operative, and Jan. 31 was set as final date for applications.

Red Cross District Meeting Ends Here

A two-day district Disaster Preparedness conference closed Tuesday afternoon at Hilton hotel, after Red Cross personnel of eastern New Mexico and West Texas had heard discussion of Red Cross action in event of disaster.

Maurice Reddy of Washington, D. C., assistant national administrator of disaster service, led discussion, outlining history of disaster relief, policies, specific cases in which the Red Cross has given relief and giving other information designed to help workers be prepared for any disaster which might develop.

Approximately 50 chapter, area and national Red Cross workers registered for the meeting. Sixteen law enforcement officials and representatives of fire, engineering and health work attended a luncheon Tuesday, at which Reddy explained functions of the Red Cross in a disaster and what part the local government fills.

PACKERS CAN HELP

To Avoid Rationing

SPOKESMEN for the packers, who voiced opposition to a return of meat rationing in a Senate committee hearing the other day, can aid their own cause best if they can help to remove the conditions responsible for the agitation for a renewal of controls.

Obviously it would be unjust to blame the packers for all the conditions —chiefly high prices — which cause many people to regard meat rationing as an eventual necessity. At the same time, it would be equally illogical to argue the packers are entirely without blame. In great or less degree, some of the fault is theirs. In proportion to the extent of their responsibility, they are in position to ease the danger of rationing by correcting objectionable conditions.

Few people actually favor rationing. Whatever popular support the proposal may have will be predicated on the theory that it is the lesser of two, exceedingly bad evils. Practically everyone agrees with the packers that a restoration of rationing would result in scarce supplies, black markets and offensive government regimentation.

But unless the price situation improves, sentiment for rationing is sure to gain strength. Eventually it may gain the popular support which will lead congress to restore controls. Protests by the meat packers won't stop it. Far more effective would be for them to set the example of doing something to bring prices down to figures which the consumer will consider within some approximation of reasonableness.

Just A Red Herring

FURTHER proof that Russia never is restrained by truth in its efforts to discredit the United States was the recent publication in the controlled Moscow press of a report that Spain is about to be added to the list of nations benefitting from an American aid program for Europe.

Fortunately, the report can do little harm among people who never are allowed to hear anything good about Uncle Sam. Unfortunately, there is practically no way to supply them with the truth. The Russian iron curtain forbids that.

Available facts and ordinary logic brand the recent Moscow report as being a fabrication. The most important fact has been the several denials by the State department. Spain is not being considered as a recipient of relief, according to the State department. The logic is that Secretary Marshall, already beset by difficulties, surely would not prejudice further the possibility of favorable action on his relief plan by proposing aid to Franco Spain. A store of criticism undoubtedly would result. It would strengthen the probability of the adoption of some substitute plan, with Spain almost certainly excluded.

The report is just about as reliable as most of the information put out by Moscow. It isn't worthy of much credence.

Y'Can't Please All Th' People

Murder At My House

By Irene Kyerson Mart
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: It all started after I had been in Hollywood three months, writing the movie script for one of my own mystery books—and letting Jeff Haverson help me get over Oscar Craig. Jeff was director on my picture and a very attractive man. When Liz Layden, my unpleasant collaborator, informed me vindictively that Jeff had been married for some time to Avis Vaughn, our glamor star, I was stunned. Jeff had been searching for an actress who looked enough like Avis to play her sister in the film, but not finding one had cast Avis in both roles. That day's rushes showed bit-player Madge Narney to be the perfect double for Avis.)

VIII

"DON'T ask me why I never noticed it before . . ." Jeff babbled. "Maybe because the two never played in the same picture before . . . Maybe because it's just a trick of lighting that's brought it out now, I don't know."

I turned to get a good look at Madge, who was sitting almost directly behind me. The funny thing was that she and Avis didn't look at all alike in the flesh. Madge's hair was brown instead of blond, a pale brown with lots of golden highlights in it and she had the very white skin that usually only redheads have.

Jeff came back down to earth and began to make plans. "Well, this means we make some changes. Bleach Narney's hair and give her the part of the sister—we'll only take distance shots of her until the final scene where she and Avis will both be in close-ups. Then the audience will find that they've really been seeing two different women instead of the same one. That should build up to a whale of a kick. We'll cast someone else as the secretary."

Avis Vaughn's blond head snapped up from where it had been resting on Art Cleves' well-padded shoulder. "Wait a minute, Jeff," she said loudly. The honeyed accents her public knew were strained from her voice.

Jeff spread his hands in a placating gesture, "Now, don't get excited, Avis . . ."

She bounced to her feet at that. "Don't get excited, he says. No, don't get excited. When you're cutting my part in half."

"We're not cutting your part in half. The sister only appears in a few scenes. Just let me explain . . ."

HIS words were lost in pandemonium. Avis began to screech that it was a conspiracy to ruin her—that the audience would dislike her as the suspect wife and give all their sympathy to Madge as the innocent sister. Art Cleves sounded like a bad recording as he repeated everything Avis said. Jeff kept arguing his point that fooling the audience would give the play the punch it needed. Ben Morgan agreed with him. It was a merry little free-for-all.

At last Avis gave up trying to get her way by outscreaming everybody else. Her voice dropped two octaves.

"All right," she said hoarsely. "Give the sister part to Narney. Give both parts to Narney and see how far you get. I'm walking out. I play both parts or none."

She thought she had Jeff there. Giving the lead in an expensive production to an unknown young actress might happen in a romantic fiction story, but it just isn't done by the hard-headed business men who make pictures to make money. And Avis knew it.

Jeff knew it, too. But he didn't seem disturbed by Avis' threat.

He looked at her coolly. "You're forgetting that little contract of ours, aren't you? It's two-edged, you know. So far it's always worked for you . . . but this time it might work for me."

The anger left Avis' face. Cunning took its place. "So that's it," she said softly, and her smile wasn't pleasant. "So that's it. You think if you make me break our contract, you'll be free. You'd like that, wouldn't you?"

She laughed suddenly and turned and looked at me. Her heavenly blue eyes swept me up and down with a look that held more mockery than malice, as if she wondered what I had to offer a man in comparison with her own luscious beauty. She laughed again and still laughing turned and walked out of the projection room.

MORGAN began to look unhappy. "See here, Jeff," he said. "We can't waste time and money while Avis puts on an act. I don't want production held up now. Better forget the change and go ahead."

Jeff ran a hand wearily through his hair. "Suppose you leave this to me, Morgan. We won't lose any time. I can handle Avis."

His eyes met mine then and what I knew must have shown unhappily on my face. His own changed. He said, "Come on, let's get out of here."

Jeff went around to my office with me, not saying anything until we were inside and the door closed. Then he walked over to the window and stood with his back to me so that I couldn't see his face. He said: "I'm married to Avie—you know that, don't you?"

"I heard about it—today."

He didn't ask who had told me.

"It happened six years ago, when I first came out here from Broadway—"

"You don't have to tell me about it," I said stiffly.

He turned and looked at me then. His eyes were pleading. "Maybe I want to tell you about it."

A hard lump crowded up into my throat and tears smarted my eyelids. The last thing I wanted was to let him see how I felt about him. I sat down in a chair and lit a cigarette and said coldly:

"You don't live together, do you? Why don't you get a divorce?"

"She won't divorce me . . ." He sat down on the end of the cushy davenport placed along one wall between the bookcases. He looked at me and then he looked away.

I gave him no help. Just waited.

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

PERHAPS I was a little too personal in yesterday's column, when I told you about the reason we are in San Francisco this week.

"What do people care about you and your affairs?" someone may ask. "Why do you use capital I so much?"

BRANDEIS

I use the capital I, because I feel that the things that interest men and concern me also interest you.

Don't think I am conceited. Don't think I talk about myself because I think I am so important that my doings and my life and my thoughts have to be chronicled and recorded.

No, it's just the other way around.

The capital I in what I write is just short for "Everybody."

You were born and so was I.

You grew up and had your growing pains and your adolescent pleasures, and so did I.

You got married—or are going to be married—and so did I.

If you are a woman you either hope to have a husband or have one. My wife has a husband, too, and she has plenty of troubles with that husband of hers, just like you.

If you are a man you have a wife—or expect to have one some day—and you may just as well read that another married guy—meaning myself—has exactly the same little spats and the same little experiences (and big ones as well) that you have in your own life.

So you see, when I talk about myself and my wife, I am simply talking to you exactly the way we would talk if we were sitting in your or my home together, chatting over a cup of tea, or, as far as I'm concerned over something a little more stimulating than tea.

As I told you they had the service last evening. Paul, my wife's brother, was a war veteran and so the service was held under the auspices of the American Legion.

It was a solemn service, a lovely service.

And this morning they are going to bury Paul out at the Presidio, in the same grave with his wife who died many years ago—and over whose death Paul never stopped grieving.

PAUL was an artist, with all the dreams and the ideals of an artist.

Lots of people criticized him for not being practical enough.

Perhaps, from a practical angle, he might have been happier had he been more practical.

Idealists have many heart pains.

But sometimes I wonder whether even in those pains of creation and dreaming there isn't a certain amount of happiness.

Practical people travel on level roads and level roads are apt to become monotonous.

To idealists life is a road of high mountains and deep valleys.

It is a much more perilous and much rougher road.

But oh, those beautiful views from the heights and the mystery of what may lie ahead in the climb back to the top when you are way down in one of those valleys!

Just one more word about Paul.

He was only fifty-three when he died. He dropped dead in the midst of a dinner his friends were giving him on his birthday.

Aid Plan Faces Cut

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Congressmen who have completed a conscientious and detailed study of the Marshall Plan's original allocation of funds and commodities regard it as so full of political and economic weaknesses that they do not believe they can defend a vote in favor on the hustings next November. They concede the need for a general European recovery program, but they have convinced themselves that it must be trimmed and hedged with restrictions.

TUCKER

A more pressing difficulty, in their opinion, is the fact that the Administration has not formulated a basic foreign policy in connection with the proposed, four-year expenditure of $17,000,000,000, or as justification for such an investment.

Neither President Truman nor Secretary Marshall has sold Congress on the far-reaching and fundamental reason for such a costly and hazardous adventure.

ARGUMENT: A nation-by-nation analysis of the proposed distribution of cash and goods seems to weaken the argument that the assistance is designed to prevent the spread of Communism into Western Europe.

Although President Truman soft-pedalled this angle in his recent report on the State of the Union, possibly to "appease" Henry A. Wallace, Secretary Marshall continues to highlight it in his public addresses.

In fact, the State Department's release of the Moscow-Berlin "conspiracy negotiations" in 1939 was deliberately timed for its effect upon Congressional deliberations.

Even President Truman had a smile when he explained that the data had been made public for its value and interest to "historians." Nobody thought to ask him why equally important material bearing on top-level decisions is still locked in State Department safes.

SUSCEPTIBLE: The fact is that slightly more than fifty-five per cent of the proposed $17,000,000,000, according to these Congressional breakdowns, is destined for seven countries which are no more susceptibl to anything remotely resembling Stalinism than are the Republican conservatives of Indiana and Iowa.

England, for instance, is ticketed for $5,348,000,000. With the 1945 loan of $3,750,000,000, that makes a total of $9,098,000,000. Despite the election of a Labor Government, which already seems to be losing popularity, nobody contends that Britain is headed for Moscow, especially in view of Bevin's recent attacks on Soviet strategy.

REVISION: Holland, which has fewer people than New York City, will be given $2,436,000,000. Here again, there seems no danger that the Dutch burghers will stage a Communist revolution. The same consideration applies to Denmark, which will get $582,000,000.

Although the Communist vote in Norway totals only seven per cent and no country has greater fear or hatred of the Soviet, Oslo is down for $243,000,000. Portugal, which stayed out of the conflict and which has been governed for years by a dictator, will be handed $150,000,000. Communism is virtually nonexistent there.

The three enemy countries—Germany, Italy and Austria—will benefit to the extent of six billions.

In persuing this pattern of foreign aid, Congressional critics begin to believe that Uncle Sam is embarking on an international W.P.A. Even allowing for the need of European restoration to prop up world trade and to relieve human misery, friends of the Marshall Plan think that there must be a sharp revision downward; a possible time limit and the application of more businesslike methods than State, the Army, UNRRA and similar agencies have shown in the past.

STRAIN: Congressmen also question what they regard as the too glib asurances of Secretaries Harriman and Krug that the exports of goods will not impose an undue strain on our resources and economy. They are thinking of the long-range and national defense aspects of our dwindling supplies of certain essential materials such as the following:

Steel: The Mesabi iron ore range in Minnesota cannot fight another war. We may have to rely for the principal ingredient of steel on Labrador, Venezuela and Cuba. U. S. Steel is already expanding its Sparrows Point plant in Maryland in expectation of waterhauling the ore.

Coal: The supply seems unlimited, but a great deal of our reserves are deficient in necessary metallurgical properties. Constantly deepening mines, higher wages and refusal of young men to remain in or enter the industry point toward shortages and soaring prices.

INROADS: Petroleum: Federal officials, Army-Navy planners and industrial spokesmen are more worried than they admit. Domestic supply falls short of increasing postwar consumption by approximately 700,000 barrels a day. We may soon have to import from the Middle East and the Caribbean area, and in the event of war they could become "trouble spots." No great domestic field has been discovered in years.

Timber: More than seventy per cent of the nation's homes are still built of timber, and plastics are no substitute. Depletion of our forests has not been matched by conservation methods, and lumber costs account for the impossible prices of homes and rents.

Finally, the shipment of consumer and capital goods on the vast scale originally planned, from wheat to machinery, will make inroads on existing supplies and postpone the era of the key remedy for inflation—volume production.

PUBLICATION: "The Hartley-Taft Act," notes S.R.A. of Columbus, O., as well as several other readers, "requires the publication of the unions' receipts and payments. Are employers permitted to see these figures and thereby learn whether the unions in their plants or industries are in a weak or strong financial state? If so, that sees unfair to me."

Answer: The law is not clear on this point, although it was apparently the intent of Congress that these reports be open to public perusal. Otherwise, they would have no purpose except to satisfy the curiosity of federal officials. There has been talk of clarifying this provision, although with proper safeguards for labor organizations.

Secretary Schwellenbach, however, interprets the statute to mean that the financial statements shall not be open to employers. He bases his ruling on certain statements made during Senate debate.

OPEN: Under this ruling, the documents are open only to bona fide members of a union with respect to their own organization's filing and to members of Congress. A C.I.O. member, for instance, could not check up on an A.F. of L. outfit, or vice versa.

I am informed that no employer has yet asked for such data. The fact is that most of the international and large local unions make regular financial statements in the same way that corporations do.

CLASH SEEN IN MINNESOTA

Stassen May Oppose Sen. Ball

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—A development in the Harold Stassen presidential campaign may be an attempt to unseat Senator Joseph H. Ball (R., Minn.), Mr. Stassen's one-time protege who is up for renomination this year.

The senator, who came to Washington first by appointment of Mr. Stassen, then governor of Minnesota, and who was elected in his own right in 1942, has become entangled in the hair of his former sponsor and the Stassen organization in Minnesota.

STOKES

The counts against Senator Ball are his bolt from the party in 1944 to support Franklin D. Roosevelt against Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, and his attitude on labor legislation and the Marshall Plan which does not agree with the Stassen views.

Other Possibilities Studied

A decision will be reached in April whether Mr. Stassen will renounce the man whom he started on a political career and try to defeat him for renomination with another candidate in the September primary—after a canvass of organization leaders and a survey of the situation in Minnesota.

Three men are being mentioned as possible opponents of Senator Ball if the decision should be against him—Gov. Luther Youngdahl, Rep. Walter Judd, and Stafford King, state auditor for 16 years and a veteran of both world wars.

The Minnesota situation assumes national significance since Senator Ball has become mixed into it through the labor and Marshall Plan issues that so closely involve the Stassen candidacy. Then there is the more practical political matter of party regularity.

Mr. Stassen is seeking to woo the labor vote, as was evident in his recently concluded tour of three New England states. Senator Ball has become an outstanding target of labor, somewhat as a symbol, not only because of his staunch advocacy of, and his participation in, the Taft-Hartley law. Labor also remembers his sponsorship of even more drastic proposals that finally were eliminated from the bill providing bans on industry-wide bargaining, the closed shop, and restrictive injunctive procedures.

Harold Stassen not only opposed these provisions publicly in congressional hearings, but sought to dissuade Senator Ball from pressing them. Mr. Stassen takes some credit to himself for moderating the bill. He tells voters now in his meetings that he considers the law, over-all, a good law, and expresses the belief that sensible rank-and-file labor also is coming to his conclusion—but he advocates three amendments.

Would Amend Law

Their purpose is to simplify union shop provisions which he considers too complicated; to modify the ban on campaign expenditures by labor unions insofar as they prohibit discussion of candidates in union newspapers, which he regards as an infringement of freedom of the press. Also, he would revise the provisions requiring every union officer to swear he is not a Communist. So as to have only those accused of being Communists singled out and their cases made subject to investigation and proof.

Mr. Stassen, who is campaigning vigorously for the Marshall Plan, frowns on Senator Ball's course on that proposal, including his criticism of Secretary of State Marshall and Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.) and on Mr. Ball's association with 19 other western and midwestern Republican senators who are seeking to alter the Marshall Plan in important ways.

When Senator Ball bolted Governor Dewey in the 1944 campaign and came out for Mr. Roosevelt on the issue of foreign policy, it may be recalled that Mrs. Stassen made a radio speech supporting Mr. Dewey. At that time Mr. Stassen was a naval officer in the Pacific and took no part in the campaign.

The Republican organization in Minnesota greatly resented the senator's bolt from his party, as apparently did Harold Stassen. It is explained that the Stassen organization was built about younger men who were attacked, at the outset, as an outside group. After they won their way to power, they felt that the organization must maintain a united front.

U.S. Has More Oil Wells, But Production Low, Survey Shows

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (U.P.)—A government survey of all oil-producing areas in the world except Russia showed today that the United States has the most wells but the lowest average production per well.

The study also revealed a sharp falling off in the discovery of major oil fields. In 1938, about 18 per cent of new discoveries were classified as major fields. In the last few years the annual figure has been about two per cent.

Would Curb Exports

This report of dwindling oil prospects was released amid rising demands in Congress for a sharp slash in petroleum exports to help relieve the domestic fuel shortage. The House foreign commerce committee led the way by calling for a 50 per cent cut in exports in the next two months.

The committee approved a resolution "insisting" that the Commerce department consult immediately with importing countries and slash the 4,800,000 barrels of fuel oil earmarked for export in the first three months of this year.

The committee said previous export cuts as well as conservation campaigns have not resulted "in the saving of heating and industrial oils necessary to alleviate the serious shortages" in this country.

The committee acted yesterday shortly after the Navy agreed to turn 115,000 barrels of fuel oil over to Pennsylvania and 15,000 barrels to Maryland for emergency use in households and institutions.

According to the survey of oil wells made by Interior department officials, this country has 424,286 of the 447,293 known wells. But the average production per U. S. well is 11.1 barrels per day.

The Middle East, on the other hand, has 193 wells, producing an average of 3,971 barrels a day each—by far the highest of any area surveyed.

On the basis of these figures, the officials said, an additional 50 wells and refining equipment in the Middle East would meet the gasoline and fuel oil requirements of the European recovery program.

Awards Made On Mineral Lease Bids On Submerged Gulf Land

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 3. (AP)—Award of mineral lease bids on 93,533 acres in the protected Laguna Madre area was announced today. The state school land board received bonuses on the leases totaling $2,511,890.

Sun, Superion-Pure, Humble, W. F. Weeks, James A. Patton and W. M. Averill were included among the oil interests who offered the bids.

This brought the total of bonuses from the Nov. 4 lease sale to $12,295,000 on 599,000 acres.

Bascom Giles, commissioner of the general land office and chairman of the board, said today's delayed awards were made after extensive surveys and studies of the disputed area had been made. The board decided the area between the mainland and the island was submerged and therefore a part of the public school lands.

Roberts, church leaders, and others, the announcement said. The UWF has a membership of more than 150,000 in the United States, it was said.

The Feb. 12 meeting of the league is to be held in room 302 of the administration building at the college. Foster Henderson of Newkirk, N. M., is president of the league. Other officers are Kenneth A. Wood of Olney, vice president; and Bill Solley of Odessa, treasurer. Richard M. Ehrlich of Miami, Fla., is UWF advisor. Faculty sponsors were announced as Prof. R. D. Mack of the government department; Prof. Ivan Little of the philosophy department; and K. Nall of the English department.

Crude Oil Production Drops, Texas, New Mexico Unchanged

TULSA, Okla., Feb. 3 (AP) — A three-week period of continuous increases in American crude oil production was halted during the week ended Jan. 31 during which output fell off an average of 7,305 barrels a day, the Oil & Gas journal reported today.

Average daily production for the week was 5,343,200 barrels.

Lower Oklahoma output accounted for most of the decline, dropping 5,700 barrels daily to 403,750.

Other large decreases included Mississippi, down 2,950 barrels to 114,250, and the Eastern area, off 1,460 barrels to 60,520.

Declines of 700 barrels or less were reported in Kentucky, Michigan, Florida, Alabama, Louisiana, Colorado and California.

Major increases were in Indiana, up 1,900 barrels to 18,800; Illinois, 1,100 barrels to 168,900, and Arkansas, 750 to 87,750. Smaller gains were recorded in Kansas, Montana and Wyoming.

Production in Nebraska, New Mexico and Texas was unchanged.

Typographical Union Challenges Injunction Part Of Labor Law

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 3 (AP) — The International Typographical union has challenged the constitutionality of the Taft-Hartley law in an action filed in federal district court here.

The brief charges that the section (10-J) of the law which gives the National Labor Relations board the right to ask federal court for injunctions is "repugnant to the due process clause of the federal constitution."

It was filed yesterday in answer to a suit filed Jan. 16 in which the NLRB asked an injunction to prevent the ITU from violating the Taft-Hartley law.

The brief also asked dismissal of the NLRB suit on the grounds it was brought by the board's regional director for the NLRB instead of by the NLRB itself.

The ITU asked for a preliminary hearing on its brief. Judge Luther M. Swygert of northern Indiana District Federal court had set Feb. 9 for a hearing on the NLRB injunction suit.

Philadelphia Traffic Safety Campaign Is Given New Twist

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 3 (U.P.)—There's a new twist to a safety campaign here.

White-smocked members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce are patrolling congested mid-city areas giving personal safety reminders to careless pedestrians and thoughtless motorists.

They are wearing white clocks with the numerals "174"—the number of pedestrians killed on Philadelphia streets during the first 11 months of 1947. On spotting a pedestrian who endangers his own life or a motorist whose driving jeopardizes others, the members hand the traffic violator a printed card telling him he has "an appointment with death."

Juke Box Labeled As Public Menace In Pennsylvania Suit

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Feb. 3 (U.P.)—The pharmacist in Tuck's drug store told his employer that he no longer could prepare prescriptions with a juke box blaring in the background.

The employer agreed the music was a menace and filed suit against Francis C. Schmitt, who holds a food and fountain concession in the Tuck store, for removal of the record player.

Not only did the juke box "mentally and physically" disturb the pharmacist, the suit contended, but it "cheapened the atmosphere, general environment and standard of the store."

OILS LEAD SLUMP

NEW YORK, Feb. 3 (AP)—Stocks, led by oils, generally negotiated a retreat today but pressure was slack throughout with market dealings among the slowest of the past six months.

Declines of fractions to a point or more held a wide majority at the close. Transfers of 700,000 shares compared with 770,000 Monday.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was off .4 of a point at 63.4, widest dip since Jan. 21. Of 940 issues registering, 555 fell and 178 rose.

Minor advances were retained by United Fruit, Rock Island Railroad, International Harvester, Kennecott, Columbia Gas and American Telephone.

Off a point or better were Standard Oil (NJ) at 72, Pacific Western Oil 47¼, Mission Corp. 48, Standard Oil of Calif., 59⅝, Union Pacific 161, Allied Chemical 178½, Du Pont 179 and Owens-Illinois 63½.

Backward in the curb were American Potash, Cities Service, McCord Corp., Pantepec and St. Lawrence Corp. Improved were Brown-Forman Distillers, Brown Rubber and Creole Petroleum. Kaiser-Frazer experienced the heaviest transactions and was unchanged as a big offering by underwriters was expected. Of the entire curb turnover of 320,000 shares, this stock accounted for 159,300.

Between 1941 and 1943, U. S. auto traffic decreased 40 per cent

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 3 (AP) — Cotton futures were irregular in slow trading today. Uncertainty over the Marshall plan, dullness in the spot cotton markets, and the lack of aggressive demand for cotton goods accounted for scattered liquidation. There was further evenings-up in nearby March and switching into later months on the expectation of substantial deliveries of cotton against March contracts, with first notice day coming up February 24.

Mills bought futures mostly on the scale down.

Cotton closed barely steady.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Feb. 3 (AP) — Grain futures followed an uncertain course at the board of trade today. After a nervous start wheat steadied under the influence of commercial buying. Feed grains, however, were inclined to be heavy, due to an easier tone of the cash corn market.

At the finish wheat was ¼ to ⅝ lower than yesterday's close, May $2.46¼-½, corn was 3⅝ to 4¾ lower, May $2.47⅝-½, oats were 1 cent to 1½ lower, May $1.18⅝-⅞. Soybeans were unchanged to 7 cents lower, March $3.86.

cess.

To make a long story short I went in as a writer and came out as a salesman. At least that is what they informed me that my tests showed that I was the best fitted for. When I told my counselor that I had no desire to sell, he said that is often the case, when a person does not care for the field for which he is best fitted he often does just as well in his second best or even third best field, but he always knows where to turn if he becomes confused or frustrated in his present occupation.

"We are not clinical psychologists and we attempt no cures," he said, "But we do give advice and counsel which has proved to be of great value in a great many cases."

Thorough Study Made

Advice is given on the basis of a series of psychological tests, past work experience, preference for subjects studied in school, family background and preference as to the field in which the applicant would like to work.

First of all, the counselee is given an interview to decide which tests should be run in his particular case. Standard tests are available for intelligence, interests, personality, aptitude, achievement and color blindness. Following completion of his tests, the councilee is given a final interview in which the test results and all of the information surrounding them is carefully considered and practical vocational advice is given. He may return later for further talk if he wishes.

Dr. Albert Barnett, professor of education and psychology at Texas Tech, is coordinator of the service and R. L. Hooten, representing the Veterans' Administration is chief. Other counselors, on the staff include Dr. Agnes True, assoc. prof. of education and psychology, who specializes in child psychology; Dr. L. B. Cooper, associate professor of education and psychology; Sam Leifeste, associate professor of marketing and secretarial administration; and J. H. Millikin, director of the extension division.

Psychometrists who do the actual testing and prepare a profile of each person as reference for the counselors are: O. L. Casky, M. E. Thompson and June Carthel. All personnel must meet standards of training and efficiency laid down by the federal government through the Veteran's Administration.

The Texas Tech wool judging team was reported to have placed second in competition at the exposition, the meat judging team third and the livestock judging team in fourteenth spot.

Definite information was unavailable, however, either here or in Fort Worth late last night on how individual members of the various teams above placed.

You Can Clean a Gas Range Like a Dish

Good Housekeepers Keep Gas Ranges Spotless For Efficient Use and Sparkling Appearance

ACCIDENTAL spillovers on today's automatic gas ranges are nothing to get excited about, for their modern finish is as easy to clean as a dish or glass. Aside from spillovers, some grease is bound to splatter over on to the working surface and burners from open pots or frying pans. Don't worry about it because you can keep that gleaming, clean look for years with just a little simple care.

Since the greater part of the range top is porcelain enamel—a glass-like material fused on metal, it merely requires washing with a cloth slightly dampened with warm, soapy water. Rinse and dry. The most important point to remember, however, is that this should never be done when the range is hot. Wait until it cools off. The easiest cleaning habit is to wipe off the top and around the burners after every dish-washing — by which time the range has cooled off.

Milk, fruit juices, vinegar and other acid foods will eventually dull porcelain-finished tops even though they are acid resistant. A dry cloth or fold of paper towel will take care of these emergency wipe-ups.

Cleaning Top Burners

Automatic gas ranges are equipped with burner grids of cast iron with a baked-on coat of enamel which can be washed in warm, soapy water. You can lift out the burner heads and wash them the same way, rinsing and turning upside down for quick drying so that burner ports (where gas flame comes through) will not be clogged with dampness. Aluminum burner heads can be cleansed with steel wool or mild cleanser but on chrome heads use a soft abrasive, not steel wool. If chrome or aluminum burner heads lose their gleam, clean them with a metal polish as you would an aluminum kitchen utensil.

The holes or "ports" where flame comes through can be cleaned with a stiff brush and warm water. Old-type burners may sometimes clog with spillovers. If this happens push a wire into the hole or port, twist and remove the dirt.

Removable drip trays underneath burners found on some models can be cleaned with warm, soapy water, always remembering to wipe dry the bottom of the tray, as well as the top, before replacing.

Cleaning the Oven and Broiler

Since broiler and oven linings are made of porcelain enamel they are as easy to clean as a porcelain pot. As soon as food is cooked, take out the broiler pan and grill and, if very badly spattered, soak in hot water while you are doing the dishes. Then wash with warm water and soap using very fine steel wool or a stiff brush for the dirtier spots.

Occasionally, the inside of the broiler compartment itself, including top, sides and bottom, can be washed with warm, soapy water.

The same method of cleaning applies to the oven. Oven racks can be lifted out and washed. Don't forget the top of the oven while you're at it. Grime collected here comes from food vapors which rise from the baking dishes.

If, as occasionally happens, your baking dish has overflowed because it was filled too full, allow the oven to cool, then remove the oven bottom and clean as usual. The bottom of the oven can be completely immersed in soapy water if it's not insulated. Otherwise, just clean the top section.

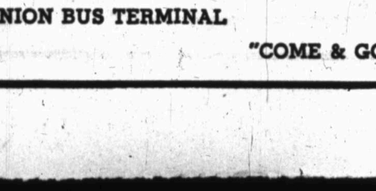

These simple, time-saving habits will guarantee that your gas range will look spanking new as long as it stands in your kitchen.

Truman's Civil Rights Proposal Major Problem For GOP, Demos

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—President Truman has asked action from Congress to make sure all people get equal rights in this country.

He did this in a message to Congress late yesterday. He asked for laws to:

Stop lynching; see that people are not kept out of jobs because of race, color or religion; kill the polltax in seven Southern states; protect everyone's right to vote.

Negroes would benefit most because the most discrimination against the most people is against negroes.

Southerners Oppose Rights

Jews would benefit, too. The President's commission on civil rights—made up of 15 prominent citizens—recently pointed out:

There's a great deal of discrimination against Jews seeking jobs. But there's discrimination against Indians and Mexican-Americans also in looking for work.

In Arizona Indians can't vote. But in Washington, D. C., the nation's capital, where there are 900,000 people, no one can vote.

Will Congress do what the President asked? Probably not much of it, if any at all.

It may let Hawaii and Alaska become states.

Members of Mr. Truman's own party, Southern Democrats, are sure to try to block an anti-lynch law by a filibuster. The same with an anti-polltax law. The same with any law to see a man isn't barred from a job because of isn't barred from a job because of color.

The Southerners argue that all these things should be left to the states themselves to handle.

Politics Charged

Some Congressmen, right after Mr. Truman's message reached them yesterday, accused him of playing politics for votes by issuing the message.

To win this year, the Democrats need the vote of the white Democrats in the South, where only a handful of negroes vote.

And they'll hope for the vote of Northern negroes who can vote but want to see Southern negroes voting and treated equally with whites.

To please the white Southern Democrats and the Northern negroes will be quite a task for Mr. Truman's Democratic party.

But the Republicans want the Northern negroes' vote, too. How can they attract the Northern negroes if they fail to put through the laws suggested by Mr. Truman to help negroes generally, but particularly Southern negroes?

The Republicans probably can say the Southern Democratic Congressmen would have blocked anything they tried to do.

So both parties will meet in convention in Philadelphia this June and draw up platforms.

In those platforms both parties probably will promise to try to do in the next four years the things Mr. Truman suggested yesterday that Congress do this year.

What Mr. Truman did yesterday is not a brand new story.

In 1944 the Republicans and Democrats met in Chicago and drew up platforms. In one way or another they talked of doing, between 1944 and 1948, the things Mr. Truman talked of yesterday.

Both Democrats and Republicans have had a chance since 1944 to do what they talked of doing on these points if they won. But neither has.

The Democrats controlled Congress the first two years since 1944. The Republicans have controlled it since 1946.

Maury Maverick Will Urge Roosevelt Highway In Talk

LAREDO, Tex., Feb. 3 (U.P.) — Former congressman Maury Maverick stopped off here today en route to Monterrey where he will address the Rotary club long enough to urge a "Roosevelt highway" extending from Ottawa, Canada through Washington to the tip of South America.

Maverick urged the border cities of Laredo and Nuevo Laredo to re-name their streets leading to the international bridge. He said that then San Antonio, Monterrey and Mexico City should follow.

Eventually, he explained, the state of Texas and Mexican states would designate the inter-American road the "Roosevelt highway" and that finally it would have that name from Canada to South America.

"No political party could object to this," reasoned the former legislator from San Antonio. "Every American is proud of the Lincoln highway. The Roosevelt highway would stand as a symbol of the four freedoms and peace of the Western Hemisphere and the world."

Scientists have reduced silica (or sand) to the extreme where one cubic inch contains a half-trillion particles. The material is used to give a dull finish to paints and lacquers.

Solon Asks Study Of Weed Killer Affects

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—A new weed killer invented by the government worked fine on Texas rice fields last summer, but did $250,000 in damage to nearby cotton fields.

Rep. Thompson (D-Tex), from the Gulf coast area where 2, 4-D dusted from airplanes brought unexpected results, today took steps he hopes will prevent further trouble.

He introduced a House resolution for a study by federal agencies and farm groups to see how and when the new chemical should be used.

In a statement Thompson said Texas experiments showed the power would drift as much as 20 miles in the slightest breeze.

It does not harm grasses and such grains as rice, but kills broadleaf plants like cotton.

Specifically, Thompson's resolution proposes to determine the extent to which 2, 4-D is marketed in dust form, whether warning or caution statements on labels are adequate, and to learn what other steps might be taken to develop safer methods of applying the chemical.

The Texan said Chairman Hope (R-Kas) of the House Agriculture committee has assured him hearings will be called immediately to consider the matter.
