518 Soft Coal Mines Closed

WASHINGTON—AP—Secretary of Interior Krug today ordered the indefinite closing of 518 soft coal mines "believed dangerous" as John L. Lewis charged him with "lack of desire" to make coal mining safer.

Krug announced the 2,013 other mines in government possession will be permitted to operate providing operating managers certify "there is no imminent danger" to the workers.

The 518 "dangerous" mines employ about 40,000 workers.

All of the pits are now idle during a six-day "mourning" period ordered by Lewis, chief of the United Mine Workers, in memory of the 111 miners killed March 25 in an explosion at a Centralia, Ill., mine.

Krug's announcement came as Lewis appeared before a House labor subcommittee to renew his charge that the Centralia miners died "because of criminal negligence of J. A. Krug."

Recalling that he had made the statement originally before a Senate hearing last week, Lewis told the committee:

"I have not said that J. A. Krug by an affirmative action killed these men. I say that by his inaction he has permitted them to die.

"He withheld from them succor that is was in his power to give . . . he stands at the top with nothing to stop him from making the coal mines safe, except his lack of desire to do so."

But asked by Rep. Kearns (R-Pa) whether private owners carried out safety measures better than the government, Lewis replied. "No worse."

The UMW chief added quickly "that doesn't excuse the government for not enforcing its own contract terms."

This was reference to a mine safety code provision in the UMW contract with the government.

Frequently emphasizing his remarks by banging his fist on a table, Lewis called the mines "death traps" and declared that "every man who goes to work in a coal mine will be statistically killed or injured every six years."

He rattled off statistics on what he termed the "terrible record" of mine accidents in recent years and asked:

"Is it any wonder the men don't want to go to work in coal mines and are calling on every agency of goverrnment for protection? . . . Is it any wonder there is a spirit of rebellion shown in memorial services and prayers to high heavens going up in every mining community?"

The subcommittee gave him an invitation to say anything he pleased.

In the first 12 months of the recent war, Lewis said, "casualties in the mines exceeded those in the armed forces."

Yet, he said, states will not enforce safety precautions and it is impossible to induce the Federal Government "to carry out its own promises and contracts to enforce its own safety rules."

Suspect Answers Missouri Charges, Then Is Released

David M. Davies, 28, alias Donald M. Fisher, was reclased this morning shortly before 6 o'clock after he paid over $4,000 to two Missouri cities on charges of "obtaining money under false pretenses," Chief of Police Louie Allen disclosed.

Traveling by automobile, Attorney Lynn Bradford of Rolla, Mo., accompanied by other unidentified attorneys from Salem, Mo., arrived here at 3 a. m. today to arrest Davies.

According to Allen the Missouri authorities didn't give any details as to how Davies procured "money under false pretenses" but the whole deal cost him $4025 of his $6070 roll.

Davies had to peal of at least $2500 to the Rolla authorities to cover the "obtained" money and fine and costs. The Salem authorities collected approximately $1500 of the original $6,000. Kansas City, Mo., authorities who want him in connection with an alleged $20,000 swindle apparently were unaware that Davies was in custody here.

Shortly before 6 a. m. Davies loaded his baggage into his 1947 Cadillac sedan and pulled out for parts unknown, $4025 poorer.

When police, in company with a reporter, went through his personal effects, they found several sheets of scratch paper showing where he had been doing some figuring. Most of the figuring was done in five figures, working with percentages, gains or losses as the case might be.

At least six local persons were interested in buying the new Cadil-

Soviet Attacked For Use of Veto

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—(AP)—Sir Alexander Cadogan of Britain attacked Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko today for vetoing a British resolution in the Corfu Channel mineblast case against Albania.

The will of the United Nations Security Council had been "strangled by a single vote," the British delegate told the Council as it resumed debate on Albania.

Cadogan then asked the Council to send the Albanian case to the International Court of Justice.

It was the first British back-lash at the veto cast by Gromyko last week killing a British resolution which found that mines could not have been laid in Corfu Channel without the knowledge of Albania. The mines wrecked two British destroyers and killed 44 sailors last Oct. 22.

Cadogan pointed out that seven of the 11 Council delegates voted for the resolution but that it did not take effect "because it failed to obtain the support of one permanent member of the Council, the Soviet Union."

Architect Advised To Revise Plans For Hospital

Two members of the County Commissioners Court, meeting last night with a representative of W. R. Kaufman & Son, architects of Amarillo, and with local physicians, discussed at length plans for the proposed half-million dollar county hospital.

Initial plans submitted by the architect were rejected by the commissioners last month. Although a great deal of surplus property has been purchased for the institution at a reduced rate, it was reported that it may not be possible to build and equip the hospital with the prescribed facilities, for $550,000.

A member of the Commission said today it was agreed last night that the architect should submit plans in which were included suggestions made by the physicians.

The original plans, it was said, allotted too much space to administrative facilities, leaving less space for hospital beds.

The new drawings will be designed for a 100 bed hospital, as originally planned when the people voted the bond issue. It was announced by a commissioner a few days ago that it might be necessary to reduce the number of beds, in view of the fact that building costs are reportedly higher than they were this time last year.

Washington, D. C., Is Traffic Safety Winner

CHICAGO—(AP) — The State of Connecticut and the City of Washington, D. C., were named today as grand award winners in the 1946 National Traffic Safety contest conducted by the National Safety Council.

In addition to Connecticut and Washington, D. C., three states and seven cities won divisional first place awards in geographical and population groups.

The states were Texas in the Southern Division; Minnesota, Midwestern; Washington, Western; and Connecticut, Eastern.

Legislature to Probe Upheaval On Aggie Campus

COLLEGE STATION—(AP)—The Easter holiday intervened today to bring a lull in the troubled affairs of the Texas A. and M. College Cadet Corps.

The controversy between students and the college administration, which came to public attention last January after senior officers of the Corps resigned as the climax to a night march to the home of President Gibb Gilchrist, will be aired next week before a joint Leigslative Committee.

The committee voted to hold its first meeting in Austin Tuesday night and directed eight students to appear at that time. Summoned before the committee were William J. McCormick of Dallas, Senior Cadet class president, who was demoted from Captain to Private and ordered out of the Corps by a college military board, Cadet Colonel E. Brandt of Houston, in whom the seniors voted "no confidence," and six officers of the Veterans Students Association of the college.

Before the Easter recess began Col. Guy S. Meloy, Corps Commandant, ordered the first composite regiment broken up and its units assigned to three remaining regiments.

He issued the order after a military board ordered the regiment's commanding officer, Cadet J. D. Demopolos of Texarkana, out of the Corps.

The military boards which have been hearing charges of disobedience, insubordination and disregard for authority against 140 senior officers, will resume its hearings on Monday. In three days of hearings, five panels of college staff officers, working in relays, ordered 27 Cadets out of the Corps, found 15 innocent and handed out various punishment to 43 others. Fifty-eight more members of the class are to be heard.

Airfield Question Before Group Here

Culminating a surprise visit yesterday afternoon by officials of the Civil Aeronautics Authority and War Assets Administration, a joint meeting was held this morning by the County Commissioners Court, the City Commission and the Aviation Committee of the Chamber of Commerce to discuss the advisability of accepting the No. 2 auxiliary landing field located approximately four miles northwest of the city limits.

The CAA yesteday advised the city to retain its present municipal airport, but that acquisition of the No. 2 field, consisting of two well constructed runways, would be a very cheap insurance against any sale of the present field which is only under lease to the city.

It was brought out this morning that there are possibilities of obtaining at least one hangar from the Pampa Army Airfield to be moved at the expense of he city or county to the auxiliary field.

Who will actually take over the field the city or county, was the prime purpose in calling the meeting and determining whether or not it would be economically advisable for either body to accept., control, maintain and operate the field.

No immediate decision was taken at the morning meeting of the two governing bodies. Another meeting with the three groups and the CAA and WAA was being held this afternoon.

Limited German Reparations Viewed

MOSCOW—AP—Secretary of State Marshall told the Council of Foreign Ministers today the United States would be willing to consider limited German reparations from current production, but only if the Allied Powers agreed to leave in Germany a number of plants now earmarked for capital reparations.

At the same time Marshall proposed the compromise formula, he reaffirmed in a paper circulated among Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov of Russia, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault that "present demands to increase the reparations agreed upon at Potsdam cannot be considered by the United States."

This was a restatement of his qualified opposition to Molotov's demand for $10,000,000,000 over 20 years.

Marshall's new proposal, which previously was taken up briefly in a secret session last Tuesday, is based, he said, on the assumption that the German level of industry is to be raised and that plants now marked for reparations export can be used to boost the level.

The heart of the Marshall formula was that the nations which would have received the plants should agree instead to receive an equivalent value in German reparations.

"It must be recognized that the further increase in the level of industry will reduce the number of plants available for removal on reparations accounts," Marshall's paper said.

"If the proposals for reparations from current output are to be considered, these proposals must, in our view, be limited to compensation from the plants which were destined for removal but which are no longer available by reason of an increase in the level of industry to aid the European economy.

"If reparations from current output is conceived in this way, the United States delegation is willing, without commitment, to have its experts study this question."

Hoess Will Pay With His Life for Nazi Atrocities

WARSAW—(AP)—Rudolf Hoess must pay with his own life for more than 4,000,000 lives snuffed out at Oswiecim (Auschwitz) extermination camp in the two and a half years he was Nazi commandant there.

The 47-year-old ex-colonel, on trial for three weeks, was sentenced to death last night by the nine-judge Polish supreme national tribunal. The condemned man, stocky and clean shaven and wearing a green German officer's uniform, was calm and attentive as he listened through headphones to the hour-long reading of the judgment. The courtroom was crowded.

Hoess is permitted to ask President Boleslaw Bieurut for clemency, but even should he do so this seemed certain to be denied. No date was set for the execution.

In the trial, the prosecution accused Hoess of supervising the gassing and cremation of some 3,000,000 Jews and 1,000,000 other men, women and children from a dozen countries—including Poland, Russia, Hungary, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Czechoslovakia—at the camp in southwestern Poland 32 miles west of Krakow.

Hoess, commandant at Oswiecim from mid-1941 to the end of 1943, questioned this figure. He said he could count only 2,500,000 victims. He took responsibility for carrying out the exterminations, but blamed superiors for institution of the policy.

Hoess, who has a wife and five children in Germany, told the tribunal once that he would have thrown them all into the Oswiecim furnaces had he been ordered to do so. The British, who questioned Mrs. Hoess at Hamburg in December, 1945, said they found her house full of clothes and jewelry taken from executed Jews.

Hoess himself was arrested in Germany March 2, 1946, subsequently British officers reported that he had signed a statement admitting mass killings at Oswiecim on orders from Heinrich Himmler, Gestapo chief.

They said he told them victims

Here's Forecast on Future Food Prices

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Here's what the Agriculture Department expects food prices to do during the next several months:

Meat—Prices in general to continue high through spring and early summer, with moderate declines in lamb and better quality beef.

Dairy products — Declines through June.

Poultry and eggs—Chickens and turkeys to increase slightly during the next few months, but decline during the last quarter. Eggs to continue near present levels for several months.

Food Fats and oils—To decline by late summer from present exceptionally high level.

Fresh vegetables—Declines in prospect as marketing season develops.

Fruits—Slight advances in April and May. Strawberry prices to drop below a year ago.

12 Burn to Death In Powder-Fed Fire, Explosion

CLINTON, Mo.—(AP)—An explosion and gunpowder-fed fire destroyed a fireworks manufacturing plant yesterday, burning to death of the 12 employes working in the one story frame building and injuring three.

Ten of the victims died in the explosion and fire and two others died later in a hospital.

The workers were making toy buzz bombers in the Brown Manufacturing Company for Fourth of July sale. Shortly after the blast, the cause of which was not known, flames were so intense that firemen were unable to get closer than 100 yards from the building.

All those who died were between 50 and 70 years old.

The bodies, burned almost beyond recognition, were taken to the city hall where relatives came to make the identification. Some of the victims were so badly burned identification was only possible through rings and other personal effects or through teeth.

C. S. Knoles, a worker, said the flames swept through the building in a matter of minutes.

"By the time I got to a door, I could hardly find it because of the smoke," he said. "I could hear the girls behind me screaming. I closed my eyes and mouth and started for the road outside. When I reached it I turned around. There was fire everywhere."

Fred Baker, the plant foreman, told a coronore's jury that workers attempting to escape were prevented to by a pile up at a small door.

"I was outside at the time," he said, "and saw smoke coming from the room in which Joe Herst was cutting wings for toy buzz bombs. I rushed back into the room. I went to a big sliding door but couldn't get it open, so I went back outside and tried to get the door open from the outside.

"A small door in the larger sliding door was open, but the workers were so jammed in that small opening that they couldn't get out."

Clinton, about 100 miles southeast of Kansas City, has a population of 6,000.

'Warm-Up Rodeo' Planned May 31

Plans were completed last night for a "Warm-up Rodeo" to be presented by members of the Pampa Roping Club on May 31 and June 1, in preparation for the regular Top o' Texas Rodeo later in the season.

Buck Hines, Homer Taylor, and Guy Andis were appointed on the committee to make arrangements for the procurement and feeding of the stock to be used in the show.

Also, plans were completed for the "Oldtimers Dance" to be held in the American Legion-VFW Hall on April 12 Music for the dance will be furnished by Jeff Guthrie and his 5-piece all string band.

Dance committes were named as follows:

Tickets, P. B. Wright, chairman, and Frank Lard, Ernest Crane and George Dillman; Concessions, Guy Andis, chairman, Joe Looper and Ted Shallow; Decorations, Rip Barrett, Siler Hopkins, Buck Hines, and H. B. Taylor, Jr.

During the meeting H. B. Taylor, Jr., requested that all members of the club having tickets please return them to him or the president by Saturday.

The next regular meeting of the organization will be held at the County Court next Monday at 8 p. m. Anyone interested is invited.

Demo National Committee Pep Meetings Held

WASHINGTON—(AP)— Democratic leaders apparently carried the blessings of President Truman today in a new effort to patch up party differences represented on one hand by former Vice President Wallace and the other by Senator Byrd of Virginia.

Byrd, who is widely regarded as taking a more conservative line, was invited along with leaders from four other states to the first of a series of national committee pep meetings.

The Virginia senator has been openly critical of President Truman's proposal for this nation to go it alone in helping Greece and Turkey—as has Wallace although the two frequently are poles apart on other issues.

In announcing the series of meetings, Gael Sullivan, the committee's executive director, said that everything from foreign policy to the high cost of living would be discussed. But he made it fairly plain that the main idea is to get Democratic wheelhorses together for an early and harmonious start on the 1948 Presidential campaign.

Virginia, West Virginia, Delaware, Maryland and Pennsylvania leaders were on the list to meet with cabinet and other officials today. April 10, the Democratic chieftains from Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Vermont will come to town for similar conferences.

Wallace, who has classed himself with the self-described Democratic "Liberals," apparently will get as warm a welcome as any other par-

Turkey Shares As Beneficiary In Revised Bill

WASHINGTON — AP — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today approved by a vote 13-0 legislation to carry out President Truman's program of extending $400,000,000 financial and limited military aid to Greece and Turkey.

Brushing aside to eliminate Turkey as a beneficiary and to strip out the military aid provisions, the committee unanimously sent an amended bill to the Senate for expected action there next week.

Before acting, it revised an amendment by Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich) to give the United Nations authority to call a halt on American assistance only when the International Organization finds that assistance being provided by itself makes the continuance of American aid unnecessary.

Rep. Eaton (R-NJ) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee bluntly blamed Russia today for inability of the United Nations to act in the Greek-Turkish situation.

"I know something about the United Nations," declared Eaton, breaking into testimony by Rev. Alston J. Smith, who urged the committee to rely upon the U. N. rather than independent American action to aid the two countries in warding off Communist domination.

Smith represents the Methodist federation for social action.

Eaton has served as a consultant to American delegations at U. N. conferences.

"The U. N. has absolutely no funds to meet starvation," throughout the world, Eaton said, and added that it has no military organization.

"The reason for that," he said, "is that the Russian delegate has exercised a continued veto—holding back, confusing and delaying—which has made it impossible to be ready now."

Vast Chains of Pacific Islands Now Officially Under American Control

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—AP—The vast chains of Pacific islands where Japan mounted her attack against the United States officially went under American control today through Security Council approval of a United Nations strategic area trusteeship.

Four hours after the unanimous Council decision last night, American Delegate Warren R. Austin boarded a train for Washington with the major victory in his pocket.

Austin won the significant triumph in a bitter round of slosing debate, where Soviet Delegate Andrei Gromyko at one point abstained on a contested section rather than exercise the veto.

Commenting that "this demonstates that the United Nations does work," Austin took the report to Capitol Hill, where he was called before a House Committee to testify on expenditures of the American U. N. delegation. Austin likewise advised his old colleagues in the Senate, which must finally ratify the agreement, but this was expected to be a routine step.

The agreement gives the United States sweeping rights, amounting to virtual annexation, under which the government may fortify the vital islands, close them at will for security reasons, and ban foreign aircraft.

As sole administering authority, the United States also reserved the right to reject any modification or alteration of the terms. This was the point where Gromyko raised his stronges objections, contending that the Council itself should hold such powers.

In the end of the 16-article document rode through the Council virtually without change from the version first made public by President Truman.

Covered in the agreemtnt were all the former Japanese mandates, including the Marshals, Marianas and Carolines which housed such well-known war bases as Saipan, Tinian, Truw, Kwajalein, Eniwetok and Majuro. The 634 islands, sparsley settled, wrede described by Austin in debate as "vital to the security of the United States."

Turkey Premier Fears New War

ISTANBUL—(AP)— Istanbul newspapers quoted Premier Recep Peker today as telling a group of merchants at Izmir that "it is quite possible we might wake up some morning and find ourselves in a war."

The premier's warning, press dispatches said, came last night in reply to a request that the merchants be permitted to export wheat—an item which Turkey has kept chiefly for home consumption since the beginning of the last war.

Paker was quoted as saying that Turkey had plenty of wheat this year, but that she still must hold herself prepared for eventualities.

"Under prevailing conditions of today our big neighbors should not declare war. It is absolutely so, but logic is not enough. We cannot judge everything according to our own logic."

Senate Approved Teacher-Pay Bills Are Broken Down in Specific Provisions

By BO BYERS

AUSTIN—(AP)—Texas school teachers read newspaper headlines yesterday and today announcing Senate passage of bills setting up minimum pay schedules of $2,000 per year for teachers and increasing per capita school apportionments to $55.

Slightly amended by the Senate, the bills by Rep. Dallas Blankenship of Dallas now return to the House for concurrence before they can be sent ot the Governor.

When taken at face value the headlines are good for the teachers.

Legislator's who opposed Blankenship's plan to pay some teachers will not be so happy when—and if—the bills go into effect. They say the $55 per capita plan will not bring all salaries to the proposed $2,000 minimum.

What are the provisions of the two bills?

The per capita bill:

1. Calls for payment to all schools a maximum of $55 for each school child, as determined by the state approved school census each eyar. This is $14 more than the per capita apportionment this year, including a bonus from surplus school money.

2. Provides that the comptroller must transfer to the available school fund from the clearance fund whatever amount might be needed to insure the $55 per capita if sources of revenue for the available school fund are not sufficient.

The clearance fund is a special fund originally set up to take care of public welfare and teachers retirement payments.

3. Gives priority of payment from the clearance fund to public welfare and teachers retirement. (This was a Senate amendment to the Blankenship bill.)

The salary-schedule bill:

1. Establishes a minimum salary of $2,000 per year for teachers holding a bachelor's degree, with increases for additional college training, teaching experience and efficiency.

2. Provides that if enough money from all sources is not available, "then the highest salaries possible with the revenue available shall be paid."

Sen. G. C. Morris of Greenville secured a Senate amendment providing that additional pay based on college training and experience shall be paid on a schedule "not less than that provided in the State Equalization Aid Law."

He said the amendment merely seeks to insure more pay for addi-

England's Peace-Time Conscription Measure Is Termed 'Live Bomb'

By DeWitt Mackenzie
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

England has given no more impressive exhibition of determination to whip her economic crisis and defend her interests at home and abroad than we have just witnessed in the circumstances surrounding the passage of the peace-time conscription bill through its second (and decisive) reading in the House of Commons.

DEWITT MACKENZIE

That measure is a live bomb, providing as it does for the calling up of some 200,000 men between 18 and 26 annually for service in the armed forces. It comes in the midst of a grave economic crisis. Britain is living in frugal austerity on borrowed money, and its essential industries are lagging because of lack of manpower.

Moreover, owing to the shortage of miners the country for teek has been without adequate fuel and light because of scarcity of coal. And to make the cup of misery overflow, England has been wading through hell and high water, due to unprecedented storms and floods.

Could one imagine a tougher moment in which to present a bill for the conscription of manpower into the army, the navy and the airforce? Yet the Socialist government is determined to keep the country on an armed footing which will provide adequate defense and maintain Britain's prestige as one of the Big Three. And in this emergency the conservatives, who politically are the mortal foes of the Socialists, turned to and supported the government when it was faced with a split of its own party.

Conscription was opposed on several grounds. Those who fought it maintained that industry needs men more than do the armed forces and that conscription is inconsistent with labor party policy.

The conscription act would run for five years and Defense Minister Alexander says that by 1954 it would produce a trained reserve of 700,000. At present Britain has some 1,500,000 men on active service—a tremendous fighting machine. The government is trying to reduce this number to 1,000,000 by March 31, '48—still a great force.

The indications are that the British public in general is united on foreign policy. This view is strengthened by a bi-partisan vote on the conscription bill, because Socialists and Tories are strange bed-fellows under ordinary circumstances. There are vast differences of opinion on how to handle some imperial problems—India, for example—but not so much where British foreign interests are involved.

WALL STREET STOCKS

NEW YORK, April 2— (AP) —Stocks teetered indecisely through a slow stock market session today.

Occasional selective recoveries were barely sufficient to keep the list on a even keel. Some rails, ir lines and air transports were in demand at times. Plus and minus signs were well distributed at the close. Transactions totaled around 700,000 shares.

Retaining modest advances were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, American Smelting, Unted Aircraft, Eastern Air Lines, Air Reduction, Allied Chemical, J. C. Penney, New York Central, Southern Pacific, Western union 'A', and North American.

Lower were American Telephone, Sanpta Fe, Pennsylvania Railroad and Union Carbide.

Favorable earnings reports dropped individual favoritest commission houses said. Come professional bidders were inclined so ontimism over the market's ability to absorb recent discouraging news of strike threats, the coal "memorial" shut down and foreign affairs.

Bonds were narrow. Some grain deliveries declined the daily limit. What closed 92, 6½ to 10 cents a bushel, corn off 5½ to 7⅛ and oats 2 to 3¼. Cotton futures near the finish were 03.40 to $4.10 a bale lower.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, April 2— (AP) —Grains broke sharply today on advices that the production and marketing administration had withdrawn from the flour market and the Commodity Credit Corporation had ceased temporarily buying corn at Kansas City and Chicago.

Dispatches from Europe, giving a much better outlook for crop conditions there than heretofore received, added to the selling pressure.

Lard was down sharply.

Wheat closed 6½ to 10 cents lower, May $2.46¼, corn was 5½-7¾ lower, May $1.73-⅝, and oats 2 to 3⅜ lower, May 85⅜.

Statistics on Cancer Offered

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Here it is again: an attempt to start a huge drive against cancer.

Next to heart disease, cancer is the greatest cause of death in the United States. Every three minutes someone dies of cancer.

Rep. Dirksen, Illinois Republican, has asked Congress to vote $50,000,000 for a cancer fight.

It would be done in the same way this country developed the atomic bomb: by pooling the best medical and scientific brains and efforts.

Cancer research in this country is being done by specialists, private hospitals and laboratories, and by the government's own research center, The National Cancer Research Institute near Washington.

This is what Dirksen's proposal would do, if Congress approves it:

The money, $50,000,000, would go to President Truman. He could call in the best medical and scientific men in the country.

They could work out a plan for a general fight on cancer so that, in place of the present somewhat scattered efforts, a real drive could start.

This will give an idea of the terror of cancer:

In 1944 about 173,000 people died of cancer. In 1945 the number was 177,000. The 1946 figures are not in yet. They'll be higher.

About 273,000 Americans died in action in World War II. In the years 1942 through 1945 about 675,000 people died of cancer.

When he made his proposal to Congress, Dirksen said:

"While the death rate for many common diseases has been steadily declining the death rate for cancer has been increasing."

"Cancer is essentially a disease of adults. It is because human beings are living longer that cancer is now assuming an importance which it formerly did not have."

A GOOD PRECAUTION

It is estimated that the United States would be producing 16,000,000 fewer pounds of beef a year had it not been for a bovine tuberculosis campaign started 25 years ago.

The state flag of Mississippi somewhat similar in design to the Confederate flag and is sometimes mistaken for that flag.

Balsa trees grow as much as 12 feet the first year and reach best marketable size at 50 to 60 feet in seven years.

Kidneys Must Remove Excess Acids

Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Waste

If you have an excess of acids in your blood, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may be overworked. These tiny filters and tubes are working day and night to help Nature rid your system of excess acids and poisonous waste.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Kidneys may need help the same as bowels, so ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Bath Set

By MRS. ANNE CABOT

It couldn't be nicer—this engaging swan bathroom set! The white swan, pink water-lilies, green pads are appliqued on a backing of either ready-made quilted cotton material or on stout cotton or wool materials home-quilted on the sewing machine. Good bath mats are fairly expensive these days—and one does need a supply of them. So, why not try your hand at making a set—you'll be pleased as Punch at the result!

To obtain complete cutting instructions, actual size swan, flower appliques, finishing directions for the Water-Lily and Swan Bath Set (Pattern No. 5391) send 15 cents in COIN plus 1 cent postage, YOUR NAME, ADDRESS and the PATTERN NUMBER to Anne Cabot (Pampa News) 1150 Ave. Americas, New York 19, N. Y.

Eleanor Roosevelt Study Club Holds April Fool Party

An April Fool party was held by members of the Eleanor Roosevelt Study Club Tuesday afternoon, April 1, in the home of Mrs. E. J. Haslam, west of Pampa.

The meeting was opened by the group reading the Club Collect in unison, and after a short business session was conducted by Mrs. J. C. Jarvis, president, roll call was answered by members reading some humorous news items, instead of something on their regular subject for the year.

Names had been drawn at the previous meeting and jokes were played on the preson whose name was drawn. Some very clever jokes were pulled and a good time was enjoyed by all.

The club has been invited to hold its next meeting with Mrs. George Stanley in Shamrock. Mrs. Stanley is a former member of the club and one of its first presidents.

Delicious refreshments were served to a guest, Miss Anna Yarnell, Tulsa, Okla., aunt of Mrs. Haslam, and the following members: Mesdames E. A. Theos, J. B. Gaither, J. C. Jarvis, Gene Harlan, A. D. Parsons, H. C. Boyde, O. L. Statton, Charles Zugar, and J. W. Lee.

Educational Director At Central Baptist

REV. EDWIN SPEARS

Rev. Edwin Spears, Big Spring, has assumed his duties as educational director of the Central Baptist Church, following a unanimous call by the church at the Sunday evening service Sunday, March 23.

Rev. Spears attended Louisiana State University and Southwestern Seminary in Ft. Worth. He worked as educational director at the Emmanuel Baptist Church, Houston, under the ministry of Rev. Odell Jameson. He left there and pastored the Bonney Baptist Church near Houston, and was with the Airport Baptist Church, Big Spring, when the local church extended him a call.

Mrs. Spear and their three children, Bobbie, 16; Edwin, 13; and Edna Mae, 11, are still in Big Spring but will move to Pampa as soon as the children finish this term of school and a house is available.

The new educational director comes to Pampa highly recommended by Dr. G. S. Hopkins and Rev. Odell Jameson, Dallas; and Dr. Dick O'Brien and Rev. James Roy Clark, Big Spring.

HEAVY EATERS

Carisbad cavern bats are estimated to eat more than ten tons of insects nightly during the summer nights, when they swarm into the air three million strong.

Chitter Chat Club Installs Officers

An informal dinner was held recently in the home of Mrs. James M. Culpepper by members of the Chitter Chat Club at which they installed the newly-elected officers in a candlelight ceremony.

Incoming officers included Mrs. J. W. Harrison, president; Miss Dorothy Barritt, vice president; Mrs. Maggie Smith, secretary; Mrs. Edith Boyd, treasurer; and Mrs. L. E. West, reporter. Retiring officers were Mrs. Culpepper, president; Mrs. J. C. Payne, vice president; Mrs. J. L. Harrison, secretary; Mrs. J. A. Grundy, treasurer; and Mrs. C. W. Coffin, reporter.

The new officers were presented corsages by the club, and spring flowers, Easter baskets and candles were used to decorate the table, carrying out the Easter motif. The atractive menus were in the shapes of bunny faces and were handpainted in oils by Mrs. Howard Archer, a member.

Trays were sent to Mrs. J. L. Harrison and Mrs. Maggie Smith, who were ill.

After dinner "secret pal" gifts were exchanged and new "pal" names drawn.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. L. E. West at 7:30 Tuesday evening, April 8.

Present were Mesdames Edith Boyd, J. W. Harrison, B. A. Waggoner, Howard Archer, James M. Culpepper, J. C. Payne, C. L. Mason, L. E. West, L. E. Wills, J. A. Grundy, and C. W. Coffin, and a guest, Miss Doris Kramer.

WE, THE WOMEN

Don't Drive Romance Into a Parked Car

By Ruth Millett
NEA Staff Writer

Newspapers credit an Iowa mother who sat up for her daughter's return from a date with saving the lives of the daughter and her escort.

Ruth Millett

The mother, growing uneasy when the young folks didn't come in the house, investigated a car parked in front and discovered the pair had been overcome by carbon monoxide gas. The young folks were revived.

Well, maybe the mother did save their lives by sitting up. But maybe if she had discreetly gone to bed and left the living room for the young folks, they would have said their good-nights in the safety of the girl's home.

Over and over we hear of the tragedies that result when young folks do their romancing in parked cars. Usually the mishaps occur on lonely roads, where a parked car is an invitation for assault and robbery to any hoodlum who happens to come along.

There is only one way in which parents can keep their daughters out of parked cars. That is by making the girls understand that they can bring their escorts into the living room with complete assurance that the family will keep out of the way.

Matrons who had recently chaperoned sorority and farternity dances in a college town were disturbed over the way the college kids of today openly wander off to remote rooms to do their drinking and necking—instead of discreetly going off in cars for the same purpose, as they did a few years ago.

SAFER AT HOME

Such lack of guile in today's college students may shock the chaperons. But actually, aren't the kids better off sticking around a sorority or fraternity house than driving around the countryside while drinking, then parking on lonely roads for their romancing?

Parents or chaperons do no good by assuming the ostrich-like attitude that if the kids go off in cars they are behaving themselves, simply because they have taken themselves out of sight and censorship.

That attitude may be comforting to the grown-ups, but it is dangerous for the kids.

Take Off Ugly Fat With This Home Recipe

Here is an inexpensive home recipe for taking off ungainly weight and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Just get from your druggist, four ounces of liquid Barcentrate (formerly called Barcel Concentrate). Add enough grapefruit juice to make a pint. Then just take two tablespoonsful twice a day. Wonderful results may be obtained quickly. Now you may slim down your figure and lose pounds of ugly fat without back breaking exercise or starvation diet. It's easy to make and easy to take. Contains nothing harmful. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky weight and help regain slender, more graceful curves, return the empty bottle and get your money back.

Rotarians Nominate Officers for Year

PANHANDLE—(Special)— Rotarians nominated officers at their luncheon last week. Three candidates were nominated for president and six for the two places on the board of directors.

Secretary J. Sid O'Keefe and Treasurer D. M. Smith wede unanimously renominated.

O'Keefe spoke on the principles of election of members for Rotary. His address was regarded as most informative and educational.

Formal election of officers will be made at a later meeting and installation will be the last meeting in June as the Rotary year runs from July 1 to June 30.

PIN-WORM MYSTERY ENDED

Pin-Worms have been causing trouble for centuries, and millions of victims have desperately sought a way to deal with this pest that lives inside the human body.
Science has at last solved the problem!
It is now also known that Pin-Worm infection spreads rapidly and can cause real distress if neglected. So beware of that aggravating rectal itch, and act fast. Ask your druggist for JAYNE'S P-W at the first sign of Pin-Worms. P-W is a medically sound treatment based on an officially approved drug principle. The easy-to-take P-W tablets act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms easily and safely.
It's easy to remember: P-W for Pin-Worms!

New Process to Keep Potatoes More Firm

This fall and winter, the housewife will be able to buy large quantities of potatoes without having them sprout, shrivel and become soggy before use—thanks to a new development in the chemical industry.

The cost-of-living, so far as potatoes are concerned, can be reduced through quantity purchases; trips to the grocery and produce store can be held to a minimum; but most important of all.....the housewife will have firmer, practically farm-fresh potatoes that not only keep longer but cook better and taste better.

Availability of the new chemical aid to the potato grower, Barsprout sprout inhibitor, was announced at the 45th annual meeting of the United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association in session this week at Hotel New Yorker. It is a development of the Agricultural Chemicals Division of American Cyanamid Company.

Greek Aid

today shows a bi-partisan majority supporting President Truman's $400,000,000 measure to help Greece and Turkey fend off communism.

Of the 25 members, 13 registered themselves in favor of the program in general terms. Five asked to be listed at this time as either undecided or noncommital. The others were reported out of town.

The complexion of the committee on the measure—representing a potentially far-reaching shift in American diplomatic policy—became known as the Senate Foreign Relations Committee hustled to complete work on its own bill today.

That committee yesterday:

1. Was reported to have given general approval to a compromise proposal giving the United Nations authority to halt the proposed American aid to Greece and Turkey only if the U. N. were prepared to take over the assistance itself.

2. Decided to insist upon Senate confirmation of the program's directors.

3. Agreed to stipulate that none of the funds could be used to pay old Greek and Turkish loans from other countries.

4. Adopted a preamble offered by Senators Vandenberg (R-Mich), and Connally (D-Texas), saying that the United States action "will contribute to the freedom and independence of all members of the United Nations in conformity with the principles and purposes" of the U. N. charter.

5. Put over for action today proposals by Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo), to strike any aid for Turkey from the bill, require the King of Greece to give up his throne as a condition of any assistance an dto limit all aid to that of a non-military nature.

lac from him. Davies said he would sell it for $4,700. A check with the National Automobile Theft Bureau proved the Cadillac was not a "hot" car. However, the 1947 Chrysler Club Coupe he was supposed to be driving is still being checked.

As developments started to clear yesterday it was discovered that Davies had been in the automobile business in Kansas City and that he had sold the Chrysler in Fort Worth. Davies told Allen that he had later returned to Kansas City and purchased the Cadillac. A bill of sale from the Kansas City Cadillac dealer proved that he had purchased the car there.

How he ever acquired the Michigan State License plate was never explained.

Chief Allen said he told Davies that he hasn't received any warrant from Kansas City yet, but that if he did he'd be looking for Davies again.

After the excitement died down it was also brought out that Captain Ernest Winborne and Patrolman Max McKean had actually taken the man into custody in 15 minutes after the long distance telephone call came through even with its first misleading information.

Legislature

Committee met in Austin yesterday to organize, Sen. George Moffett of Chillicothe, author of the resolution which authorized the investigation and a member of the commitee, warned members that "you have a much bigger bear by the tail than you think."

He said the trouble at A. and M. was deep-seated, of three or four years duration, and that the recent student mass meeting was only a "surface pimple" of a "serious inner cancer."

Moffett declared he had reliable information which he said he would introduce at the proper time that "a leading citizen of Bryan who is highly prejudiced against certain A. and M. officails" is one contributing influence to unrest on the campus.

The ex-Aggie Senator said it was his information that the main trouble is stemming from 2,200 students in uniform on the campus and that no trouble exists among 4,900 students not in uniform.

Sen. Fred Harris of Dallas was elected chairman of the committee and Rep. Claud Gilmer of Rock Springs was elected vice chairman. The committee members declined to accept an offer of former Gov. Dan Moody, Austin attorney, to serve as counsel, declaring in favor of conducting their own questioning.

They adopted a policy that would allow them to go into secret session at any time they felt such action would better develop the facts.

Radio Comedy Shows Production Difficult

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Your favorite comedy show may sound smooth and simple as it comes over the radio, but actually it is produced by the tedious and ulcer-inducing process of Hollywood's laugh industry.

By participating in the Jimmy Durante-Gary Moore show, I was able to observe at close hand the unique and involved production methods.

After their show on Friday nights, the two comics join for dinner with their producer, Phil Cohan. They discuss the joys and sorrows of the night's broadcast and probably outline next week's effort.

Both Jimmy and Garry have two or three writers with whom they confer for a few hours at their respective homes on Saturday and Sunday. The writers adjourn to their joke files and typewriters and pound out their gems of humor. These are combined in a whole at a meeting of everybody on Tuesday night from eight o'clock until 2 or 3 in the morning, a time when nothing must seem funny to them.

The writers and Garry have a four-hour polish session on Wednesday and the script gets a long rehearsal Thursday morning. More rewriting that afternoon and rehearsal with the music Friday morning. At 12:30 comes a dress rehearsal at which time the CBS censor might erase the show's best joke. Rewriting continues until the show goes on the air.

The talent cost of this mirthful (It is hoped) half-hour is about $15,000, of which the approximate cut is Durante, $5,000; Moore, $2,500; Cohan, $1,000; five writers, $1,5000, divided about evenly. The rest is eaten up by other actors, orchestra, music arrangements, sound effects man, engineer and secretary including the network air time, the sponsor gets a bill of approximately $25,000, plus one sixth of the total, which goes to the advertising agency that handles the show. That's the price of laughter in these parts.

"The Egg and I" (U-I--108 minutes) is a messy jog of transferring Betty MacDonald's hilarious best-seller to the screen. Except for a few, occasionally funny slapstick bits, the book's earthy humor is overlooked and replaced with a dull, commonplace plot which is executed with little imagination. Claudette Colbert and Fred MacMurray struggle valiantly against overwhelming odds.

Teacher Pay

tional training and experience.

Senate adoption of both bills was by unanimous vote.

Sen. James Taylor of Kerens, author of a bill which would seek to raise teachers' salaries to a $2,000 minimum through payment of money to schools on a "need" basis, voted for the per capita bill after warning his colleagues:

"The people who want this legislation are going to be the most disappointed people in the state. It will help the rich districts and hurt the poor districts."

This is the argument which has been most used by opponents of the per capita plan.

They say that a $55 opportionment is more than many schools need to be set up a $2,000 minimum pay schedule, while $55 per student will not be enough to insure $2,000 in a number of the poorer school districts.

One other provision of the salary bill has been subject to frequent attack. It requires the presentation of evidence to the committee on affiliation and accreditation that the provisions of the act as to minimum salaries and increments are being "faithfully complied with, or that the salary schedule actually being paid is approved by the state superintendent and the board of education.

Such evidence must be presented before any school of any district is affiliated or accredited or continued on the list of affiliated or accredited schools.

Opponents contend that many schools may be unable to set up schedules which meet the approval of the state superintendent and board of education, and would therefore lose their affiliation or accredited standing.

Passage of the Blankenship bills was contrary to the Governor's stand. Gov. Beauford Jester has indicated he favors raising teachers' pay through an equalization bill such as Taylor's.

were taken to gas chambers and then to crematories, and any unburned bones afterward were crushed and thrown into the nearby Vistula river.

"It took three to 15 minutes to kill (at Oswiecim), depending upon climatic conditions,' he said. "We knew the people were dead because their screaming stopped. Children of tender years were invariably exterminated, since they were unable to work."

Big Four

in a move interpreted as indicating the United States delegation saw little prospect of settling any German issues at the current conference.

There was no indication that the Marshall formula would be at all satisfactory to Russia. It was a question whether it might provide a basis for further negotiations to break the reparations deadlock which was barring progress on all major issues.

Members of the American delegation, however, said the proposal represented about the extreme limit to which Marshall is willing to go in order to meet Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov on this vital issue.

The Russians have asked $10,000,000,000 in reparations from Germany over a 20-year period, some of it from current production, and the stand of the Western powers against the demand, coupled with Molotov's refusal to retreat from it, has blocked all efforts to reach a settlement of any basic German issues.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, Marshall's top advisor on German problems, left Moscow for Berlin by plane today and his departure was widely interpreted as meaning that the American delegation sees little prospect of effecting major settlements at this conference.

Marshall's reparations proposal, in essence, was described by authoritative sources to be about as follows:

Many non-armament factories which were supposed to have been destroyed in Germany for reparations have not been destroyed. These factories could profitably be used in Germany if the Big Four agreed to a higher level of industrial production, which they seem inclined to do.

Therefore, Marshall suggests, figure out the value of factories which would have gone as capital reparations, leave those factories in Germany and pay to the Allied Nations a similar value in reparations out of current production over the next several years.

Although Wallace isn't on the program, there are clear indications he isn't going to be snubbed despite what some of the Democrats are calling the "unfortunate" reference Sullivan made to him on a recent radio program.

Sullivan said in the course of a question and answer exchange last week that the national committee wouldn't call on either Wallace or Senator Clyde Pepper (D-Fla), for help in 1948 because both hold vies divergent from those of the President.

AUCTION SALE ON A HOUSE . . .

John Martin who lives out at 907 East Gordon, out in the Wilcox Addition is being transferred away, and he has to sell his house real quick, and I thought the best way to do it would be to have some bids on it . . . If you would want to buy a pretty good house that sets on about 4 lots, with some outbuildings, and a good orchard, where you would have plenty of room, go out and look it over and make him a bid . . . as we are fixing to sell it to somebody . . . You might get a bargain here . . .

I have a mighty good, small wheat farm that I can sell worth the money, lays close to town, about a mile off the pavement . . . would give one-third of the wheat, and reserve ½ the mineral . . . This won't last long I don't think . . .

Here's a good five-room modern house, with a good three-room, and one two-room house on the back that I can sell worth the money . . . This would make someone some good rent property, as it is in a good location . . . Want 7500 for it and it is on a corner lot . . .

This is the best house I've had to be moved—2 bedrooms, living room, dining room, kitchen with built-in cabinet, bath with tub, plenty of built ins. Well constructed with triple floors and walls. Wired for electricity, newly decorated, floors newly sanded, good roof, garage. This house is really a good buy at 2000.00. Located about 4 miles from town.

SPRINGTIME
With Asthma and Hay Fever cured, every one has Spring Fever now. They just can't help wanting to dig for those little worms that some people claim they catch so many fish with.
Sure gonna be lonesome in a few days with everyone gone fishing. They sure are laying in a good supply of that good old Purina Milk Chow and Laying Mash. Must be gonna' fish a week or two.
Well, I guess we sold all the milch cows, hogs, goats, dogs and wild animals around Pampa last week. The sale board is clean now. May have a good chick battery this week for sale. People know we can sell these items. List them and we'll sell it for you or bust. Don't cost a cent, but while you are here, some of the boys will be loading your car till you can't shut the doors or see the hood.

McLean Pay Station Is New Convenience

McLEAN, (Special)—Mayor Boyd Meador and School Superintendent Logan Cummings made arrangements with Orval Couch of Wellington, superintendent and manager of the Greenbelt Rural Electrification, for a pay station to be set up in the City Hall.

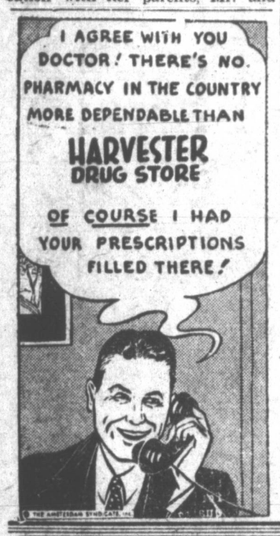

The pay station will serve residents of the Kellerville community and patrons between McLean and Lela who are being served by the Wellington REA. A pay station here will be much more convenient rather than to mail payments to Wellington or go there in person.

Couch recently returned from Washington, where he obtained an additional appropriation for his cooperative to install more lines in this area, and to take over the Kellerville unit near here.

Texas' Roughest Track Feud Will Be Continued in Kansas

WACO—(AP)—The hottest track feud ever cooked up in the Southwest—and one that has put more interest in the cinder path than anything to come along in Texas—will move out for folks in other areas to see.

Bullet Bill Martineson, Baylor's racing atom, will meet Flyin' Charley Parker of Texas at the Kansas relays, marking the fourth clash between these top speedsters.

Bullet Bill has the edge right now—he's won two out of three—and Parker will be pouring it on when the ace dashmen of the Southwest battle it out in Kansas April 19 but says J. D. Stovall, Martineson's coach, if everything is even he'll still take Bullet Bill.

"Martineson is too little (134 pounds) to beat Parker against a stiff wind or on a slow track," says Stovall. "But give him a good day and he'll take Charley. But I consider Parker one of the greatest runners of all time; don't get me wrong."

Stovall is probably the first track coach to feel the wrath of the alumni. And it's considered a good sign. Nobody remembers anyone wanting to fire a track coach before; so, interest must be really picking up. Anyway, the other day (just after Martineson had lost to Parker in the 100-yard dash at the Southwestern Recreation meet in Fort Worth), a Baylor backer called the athletic department. "Say, if you can't beat Charley Parker why don't you get a new coach," he fumed.

Stovall must have been relieved when Martineson beat Parker Saturday at the Texas relays. Anyway, his job should be safe until April 19.

Bullet Bill ended Parker's great winning streak of 56 straight dash victories when he defeated Flyin' Charley at the Border Olympics. The next time they met, however, the track was heavy and the wind strong, and Parker won going away. There wasn't any wind and the track was fast last week and Martineson defeated Parker by a foot.

"Bill will run the 100 in 9.6 or 9.7 any time the track is good," says Stovall. "But Parker is very strong and unless things are just right he'll beat Martineson."

The Kansas relays probably will be the last clash of Parker and Martineson before the Southwest Conference meet in May. Right now Bill is planning to go to the Penn relays while Parker will run in the Drake relays.

Girls Volleyball Club Wins Two, Loses Three Games at Panhandle

The Pampa High Shcool Girls Volleyball team were clawed three times in five starts by a strong squad of Panhandle High School Panthers, at Panhandle, yesterday afternoon. Scores were 15 to 9, 15 to 10, 15 to 4, favoring the Panthers and 15 to 11, and 15 to 12, in favor of the locals.

Of the five games played the Pampa "A" squad last two straight, the "B" squad lost one and won one and the "C" squad won their single game.

"A" squad — Martha McGuire, Dorothy Jones, Avis Kelley, June Metheny, Edlyne Proy and Alice Robinson.

"B" squad—Lajoy Duff, Sue Parker, Mary Kretzbier, Ann McNamara, Betty Blalock and Mary Jo White.

"C" squad—Helen Chamberlain, Pat Traywick, Sue Young, Clara Darling, Betty Hawthorne, Ollie Jean Otts and Wilma Fruendenrick.

The locals next game is set for April 10, when they meet the Amarillo High School club here.

Game Commission Membership Increase Is Being Discussed

AUSTIN—(AP)—The House Game and Fish Committee yesterday postponed hearing on a bill which would increase membership of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission from six to 31, until the next meeting of the committee.

The bill introduced by Rep. Miller Walker of Beaumont, provides that no two of the members should be from the same senatorial district.

The proposal had previously been referred to a subcommittee which was not prepared to make a report at yesterday's meeting.

Exporters Are Optimistic About Prospects for '47

By BILL SCURLOCK

BEAUMONT— (AP) —It's an old fashioned pre-season custom for most managers and typewriter pounders to talk "first division."

This is not exactly the case in the Beaumont Exporter baliwick although Manager Goldie Holt, new shipper skipper, is finding it difficult not to enthuse about his 1947 prospects.

Exporter baseball fortunes are decidedly on the upgrade this year and if spring training showings can be taken as a yardstick don't lift an eyebrow if the shippers nudge their way up into the select quartet.

Last year, with a late assembled club, the shippers didn't finish a bad fifth, and with a vastly improved array of talent this season the Exporters should at least step up a notch, if not higher. That's straight from the hopper.

Skipper Holt has a small looking infield with Red Jessen at first, Clarence Difani at second, Al Stringer at shortstop and Clifton Perez at third.

Jessen, late of Binghampton, fields right and bats left. He's got power. Difani hit .289 with Birmingham in 1946 and Stringer, brother of the ex-Cub shortstop, is from Norfolk where he hit .277. He is quite a fielder. Perez batted .314 at Augusta.

They're fast and good fielders.

The outfield is the smile-bringer with Russell Burns in left; Frank Shone, who hit .268 with Portland last year, in center, and Veteran Milton Byrnes, ex-big leaguer who played with Newark and Kansas City last year, in right.

Then there is Burton Boyer, a boy who hit .314 at Binghampton, and Jerry Crosby, back from last year's shipper squad, battling for spots.

Crosby is a fine utility player who can hold down first and second.

The outfielders have been slugging this spring and for the first time since the Dick Wakefield days there's power in the pasture. They roam plenty of territory, too.

Catching is extremely weak and help will have to come from the New York Yankees, parent club. But it is coming.

Bill Anske and Eddie Morris look the best of the lot but they are not ready. Anske played only 14 games last year with Augusta after a spring start with the shippers. Morris is a semi-pro product.

Pitching looks better-than-average with Raymond Stelmack, who won 10 and lost eight with the ships last year; Burton Barkelew, former Western Association star; John Mackinson, with a 14-10 record from Sonbury, Pa., where he led the Interstate League in strikeouts; Edward Mizereck, who won 12 and lost seven at Augusta; Gale Pringle, with the ships last year, and Bill Trotter, veteran major and minor league chunker, heading the list.

They are all right handers.

COLLEGE BASEBALL

ABILENE—(AP)—McMurry College defeated Hardin College of Wichita Falls yesterday 5-3 in a Texas Conference baseball game. Frank Akers, McMurry's leading pitcher, gave up four hits.

SPORTS LINEUP

By Bob Bray

We were more than a little interested in the subject chosen by Coach Gus Miller, athletic director of West Texas State College, for his address to the members of the recently selected All-District Basketball team at their banquet last Sunday. Appropriately, Miller talked about he past, present and future of basketball.

After relating the history of the game, Miller dwelt on the present. He said, "Thousands of dollars are turned away from school funds each year, particularly in this Panhandle area, simply because we have not seen fit to build gymnasiums with a seating capacity adequate to allow admittance to those fans already interested in the sport."

Miller pointed out that this was just a reference to the many who were already interested in basketball as an entertaining sport, and did not include the many additional fans that the game would doubtless gain if they had half a chance to witness the games.

The building of these gyms would cost quite a lot of money, Miller readily admitted, but he was also of the opinion that it would all be returned, with considerable interest, in a few short years. He regarded the building of these gyms as, "a good business proposition."

Looking into the future of basketball from a standpoint of changes, Miller believes that the game would definitely improve in technique and fan interest in the next few years. He asserted, "If basketball was given half the financial support needed for its advancement that are given to football and other major sports, it would lead most of them in attendance and prestige in a few short years.

"One of the changes that will of necessity be brought about in high school basketball in the very near future will be an individual coaching setup," Miller stated. Football and basketball are two distinctly different sports, according to Miller's way of thinking. One coach cannot handle both jobs and do both of them justice, in most instances.

For this reason we need a coach for each of the sports. Football at the present time is the more entertaining of the two, to most people, but with larger gyms, better coached teams and a chance to enjoy a good athletic event and still get inside out of cold Panhandle weather, it may not always be true, Miller believes.

Another thing to consider when you get a coach for each, basketball and football, is the fact that you are going to get more kids participating in the games. The day of the two-or-three-letter athlete are almost over, in the large majority of the cases. The exception Miller says, of course will be the really outstanding athlete with an exceedingly unusual amount of ability.

The other future change that Miller advocated was to pay officials more money with the idea that it could help improving the game. Miller pointed out that he knew schools were short of funds, but that when they got those bigger gyms they would demand the best games possible in order to draw better crowds.

He commented that almost all basketball games were only as good as the officiating and that an increased salary for officials could only mean a little competition among them for chances to call more games. This too, Miller labeled a sensible and necessary investment.

Soggy Fairways Greet Entries in All Masters Meet

By CHICK HOSCH

AUGUSTA, Ga.—(AP)—Soggy fairways greeted a field of 57 of golf's most talented today as the 11th annual Masters Tournament began with a half dozen players sharing the role of favorite.

Heavy rains of the past few days prevented cutting of the fertile, rolling 6,800-yard national course and left causual water in many spots. A bridge on the 12th hole was still under water yesterday.

Established in the favorite's niche were Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., the runnerup last year and in 1942; Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif., the year's leading money winner; Bobby Locke, the South African champion; Lew Worsham of Washington, D. C., a youngster listed eighth in total money won; Herman Barron of White Plains, N. Y., and Carey Middlecoff of Memphis, a gangling youth dentist who turned prolast month.

Locke, runnerup to Sammy Snead of Hot Springs, Va., in the British open last year, arrived with Snead yesterday just in time to get in a quick practice round.

Snead, who won only three and tied one match in 16 with Locke on a South African tour, was five under par in his round yesterday while Locke was even par on their hurried jaunt over the layout.

Barron landed among the favorites on the strength of his play in recent tournaments and his showing in practice here earlier in the week. Hogan and Demaret earned the rating as the game's most consistent players of the winter tour.

Herman Keiser of Akron, O., the defending champion, was paired with the famous Bobby Jones, co-designer of the course, in today's competition, which called for the first contestants to tee off at noon (EST).

Oilers Smoothing Out 'Kinks;' Pitchers Warned About Bunts

By BOB BRAY

A lesson that may well save a lot of ball games this, or any other, season headed yesterday's Oiler pitcher training rooster as the locals began limbering up in their third practice meeting.

The mighty bunt—how it works and how it doesn't work—was the theme of Manager Grover Seitz' little instruction period with his pitchers. He also gave a short but concise demonstration on the times that he will expect to see one of his hurlers covering that keystone sack like he'd used it for a pillow for twenty years.

Following the workout today Seitz announced that he had lined up eight exhibition games for the Oilers, all but one of them on the road, between next Sunday and the beginning of the league season April 23.

During the workout yesterday, Seitz had his charges tentatively lined up in the following fashion although nobody was stationary at any position. Behind the plate Seitz had Jack Elliott, rookie from Enid, who has shown some good form but still needs a lot of experience. On the right hand corner Al Johnston gave a good account of himself. R. C. Otey, popular little second sacker returning from last year, is already working nearly as smooth as he did last season.

Tony Range, handy ball handler at the hot spot in '46, was performing his antics at short yesterday. Seitz, the big man himself, was covering the left corner and as everyone knows, he probably wouldn't have any trouble staying there. In the outfield the Oilers have a top "C" league fielder in Joe Forten. He is perhaps a little slow but his heavy batting, particularly at the times when the pressure's on, make him an essential on the Oiler roster.

New addition to the outfield is Francis Rice, a rookie from Fairbury, Neb. To date Seitz has made no comment to us in regard to Rice, but for lots of the fans money, who have been watching the workouts, he looks plenty good. Besides knowing his way around the field he's doing some good hitting.

The outlined setup to date leaves a vacancy in the outfield, but this will be remedied with the return of Earl Harriman, dependable shortstop, who will be in the lineup as soon as he recovers from a finger injury. With Harriman back, Range would doubtless move to his third sack and Seitz would go to the outfield.

As one invariably will in baseball it seems that we have got down to the question of pitchers—and it's one we couldn't even remotely answer. In the first place the only two that we have any previous record on have not arrived yet. The two rookie pitchers who are here have, of course, had no opportunity to prove themselves. The two hopeful pitchers who have been working—and hard—are Murral "Nels" Nelson, college hurler for the University of Oklahoma, and Leonard Davis, young prospect from Amarillo.

Oiler workouts are being held daily from 12:30 until the men are dragging, according to Seitz.

POSTMASTER MOVES

WHITE DEER—Wendell Pipes has resigned as assistant postmaster at the White Deer office and has moved to Lubbock, where he will operate a drug store. Bill Barnard, who worked in the postoffice until a few months ago, has succeeded Mr. Pipes.

Harvesters Entered In White Deer Meet

An injury weakened Harvester track team left here shortly after noon today to participate with seven class "A" teams from this area. The local thinclads are expected to be handicapped without the services of two of their top flight men, Carl Mayes and Kelley Anderson.

Teams entered in the meet other than the Harvesters are Panhandle, Lefors and Phillips in one bracket and Perryton, Canadian, McLean and White Deer in the second bracket.

The meet was scheduled to start at 2:30.

DRESS UP CUSTARDS

An elegant custard dessert that is easy to make starts with a spoonful of currant jelly in the bottom of a dessert dish. Then the dish is filled one-third full with cooked custard. Next comes a layer of sliced bananas and a few dabs of jelly. The dish is then filled to the top with custard and finished off with whipped cream and toasted cocoanut. Elderberry jelly, plum jelly or any of the other dark, rich-flavored jellies that are on the market may be substituted for the currant.

Training Camp Notes

By The Associated Press

PHOENIX—(AP)—Manager Mel Ott was going around with a big smile today and no one was begrudging the little Giant manager one of the few happy moments he has had in a long time.

Pitching is the Giants' big "if" but you wouldn't guess it by the way the New Yorkers' mound corps has been behaving in the last few days.

Yesterday Big Bill Voiselle came through with his second nifty hurling chore in a row when he went the full distance against the Chicago Cubs, the husky, South Carolina righthander allowed eight hits and was his hard only in the seventh when the lone Chicago run crossed the plate. That tally broke a 19 inning scoreless streak put together by the pepped up flinging force.

Voiselle's full router followed on the heels of the corking 2-0 shut out turend in by Rookie Bill Ayers, the Southern Asscciation prize from Atlanta. Ayers, a 6-3 rrighthander, showed plenty of savvy and heart in handcuffing Chicago's White Sox.

CARDS HIT THE TRAIL

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals wind up spring training today and hit the trail for home via Houston, Dallas and Kansas City. The Redbirds' final exhibition here, against the Yankees, was rained out yesterady. The Card squad now is down to 34 from the top total of 44 on the list when training started.

TIGERS AND BRAVES

MOBILE, Ala.—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers, beaten 3-1 by the Boston Braves at Valdosta, Ga., yesterday, meet the Boston National Leaguers here today in the rubber affair of their five-game exhibition series. It was Detroit's last meeting with a major league club before the Bengals open the American League season April 15 at St. Louis.

BROOKLYN DODGERS

HAVANA—(AP)—Brooklyn Dodger Boss Branch Rickey suggested to Clay Hopper, manager of the Montreal farm, that he return Jackie Robinson to first base, and the Negrostar went back to that station for last night's Dodger-Royal game, which the Dodgers won 12-1.

Rickey decided that Robinson's best chance to make the Brooklyn club would be at first base although he is withholding a definite decision until after the games in Brooklyn next week.

Texas Today

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff

The saying is that if you work in a newspaper plant you get printers' ink in your blood and you can't quit. You wouldn't get printers' ink in your blood if you worked for the Gainesville Register.

In fact, you wouldn't even get it on your hands. It's the cleanest newspaper plant in Texas. Take our word for it.

Up front, in the business and editorial office, it's spick and span and shiny. Big vases of flowers adorn the front windows, flowers changed every day or so. Publisher C. H. Leonard loves flowers.

On the front counter is a big fish bowl. Leonard says it serves a triple purpose: It's decorative, it entertains customers who have to wait, and it's a weather barometer. When the fish hug the top of the bowl, it means a weather change.

But, you say, lots of newspapers are clean up front. Granted. But The Register is also clean in the back shop, where there's usually a lot of grease and ink and wads of discarded paper.

The back shop employes are proud of their shop, and many of them don't even change into the traditional printers clothes to work in—they just work as they are, because they won't get dirty.

The shop has fluorescent lights, and a national magazine back in 1940 said The Register was the first of the smaller papers in the country to install them.

Editor of this paper (it prints both a daily and a weekly) is A. Morton Smith, the originator of the famous Gainesville Community Circus.

Two brothers, Joe M. Leonard and C. H. Leonard are publishers. J. M. is on the editorial side, C. H. is the president of the company. They took the paper over from their father, who founded it 57 years ago. The paper has been in one family ever since.

Even storms failed to keep it from publishing. On Feb. 27, 1945, when all North Texas was bogged down under ice and power failed, phones went out, and big areas were choked into inactivity, The Register came out on time—mimeographed. The issue is now a collector's item. Another collector's item is the 104 page special edition celebrating the paper's 50th birthday. In addition to a wealth of historical data and profitable advertising, it carried the names of 10,000 Gainesville citizens (the town has a population of 12,000) and over 600 photographs.

Put the impressive thing to a working newspaperman is the shop's cleanliness. Even Smith's office doesn't have a speck of sawdust on the floor, and you'd expect it of him, circus fan that he is.

In World War 1, 80,000 floats of balsa wood were used to support an Allied mine barrage in the North Sea.

Rural Mail Carrier Position Is Open

WHITE DEER—(Special) — The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination to fill the position of rural mail carrier at White Deer.

The examination will be held at Panhandle on a date to be stated on admission cards which will be mailed to applicants after the closing date for the receipt of applications.

Form 1977 and application blanks can be obtained from the White Deer postoffice or from the United States Civil Service Commission at Washington 25, D.C.

The salary of a rural carrier on a standard daily route of 30 miles is $2020 a year, with an additional $20 a mile a year for each mile or major fraction thereof in excess of 30 miles. Salaries on routes of shorter length or of less frequent service are proportionately lower.

PLANNED STATE LEADS TO DESPOTISM

In a recent issue of "The Atlantic Monthly," Francis and Kathrine Drake wrote one of the most thoughtful and revealing analyses of Britain's economic plight that has yet appeared in print. They go sympathetically and frankly into the enormous problems faced by the English people and the Labor government. And near the end they say this: "The Planned State is being put together in by men of honest purpose and ideals. But planned States have been put together before by well-intentioned men, only to be hijacked, prostituted, concluded in chaos and in a nation's shame . . . Already in Britain it is becoming a condition of employment to belong only to unions affiliated with the T.U.C. (Trade Union Congress). No approved union, no job. Already there have been attempts to limit the jurisdiction of the courts, to deny the individual full rights over his house and land, to deprive him of the rewards of initiative. Doing what one is told to do is not so many steps away from thinking what one is told to think."

One of the harsh lessons of history is that the superstate, regardless of what name it is given, tends always to despotism. It attains either ownership of or complete control over a nation's basic resources—coal, electric power, finance, the land. It dominates labor, denying the right to work to men who do not join its labor organizations. It thus achieves power over every facet of a nation's life. And so the stage is set for dictatorship, and the death of all freedoms.

Well-intentioned men may mean that the Planned State shall respect the liberties of the people. But hell is paved with good intentions—and the pages of history are strewn with the accounts of once-free peoples who found to their sorrow that when they surrendered economic liberty to government, all other liberties eventually followed. The people of the United States should remember that.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
(Johnson on KPDN Monday thru Friday, 3 P. M.)

HOLLYWOOD — Maria Montez, was Hollywood's most excited bride in 12 years.

A ton of fruit was once used for outdoor decorations at a big Hollywood party.

Shirley Temple's wedding bouquet had a stand-in so it would look fresh at the reception two hours later.

Sonja Henie once gave a party for 200 guests and hired only one bartender. (150 people nearly died of thirst).

We've been getting this and other lowdown on Hollywood weddings and parties from a man whose business is staging them—John Beistel.

When they get divorced, Hollywoodites go to Las Vegas or Mexico. When they get married, or throw a party, they call up John.

HAPPY CUSTOMERS

Beistel has scores of happy Hollywood customers, however. He has directed the weddings of Shirley Temple, Maria Montez, Irene Manning, Loretta Young, Claire Trevor, and Conrad Nagel's daughter, Ruth.

His slogan is "The Perfect Marriage," and he takes care of everything—the church, flowers, clothes, reception, something old, something new, and something blue.

He has staged parties for Sonja Henie, Jack Warner, Jeanette MacDonald, and just about everyone else of importance. He takes care of everything at the parties, too, from the invitations to the lingering drunks.

"I have a successful business," he said, "because I have a sense of humor. If I took all those arguments with brides, mothers, and party hostesses seriously, I'd go crazy in a week."

TIME OUT FOR LAUGHS

Beistel has been arranging expensive weddings and parties in Hollywood for 12 years.

"Maria Montez," he said, "was the most excited bride I'd ever seen. It was an emotional strain for Maria and I." Irene Manning, he said, was the calmest, and Shirley Temple the most worried about her father.

"Shirley," he said, "was deathly afraid that her father was going to trip while walking down the aisle."

A Hollywood glamor doll and a Los Angeles socialite gave Beistel his biggest laughs. She wanted a red, white and blue polka-dot wedding with the organist playing "Little Gypsy, Are There Any More Like You at Home" while the bridesmaids walked down the aisle. Beistel and the organist talked the gal out of both ideas.

Why Sonja Henie hired only one bartender to serve 200 party guests still puzzles Beistel. "She spent a small fortune on food and decorations. The next time she gave a party there were almost as many bartenders as guests."

Gracie Reports

By GRACIE ALLEN

Well, I'm glad to see that France is getting back to normal. She's had her first duel in nine years.

It seems that two members of the Chamber of Deputies had a tussle and then shot it out with revolvers. The story said that neither hit anything and they're still unreconciled, so the whole thing doesn't make much sense.

Gracie

In fact, it doesn't make any more sense than modern war, except that dueling is cheaper and less dangerous. But dueling by individuals is against the law in a lot of countries where dueling by nations is still all right.

I hope that some day a couple of nations shooting at each other will be as ridiculous as the two French deputies.

Common Ground

By R. C. HOILES

Where Are Republican Leaders Leading Us?

It seems rather absurd for people who believe in the Declaration of Independence to have much hopes that the Republican party will lead us back to these principles when they read statements made by Senator Taft.

The Associated Press reports Senator Robert Taft testifying before the Senate Banking Committee that "The justification for public housing is that we have to eliminate the disgraceful type of housing in which the lowest income families live."

Taft would leave the impression that the state had some miraculous way of furnishing good homes to people who did not give the equivalent in services to society. That is nothing but the communistic, socialistic idea. It is as far from the principles on which this government was formed as lying is from truth.

If Senator Taft actually believes in the Russian system as being more productive and more useful to humanity than the system set down under the Declaration of Independence, he is a most ignorant, uneducated man. He is a man that would not dare stand up before any man that believed in freedom in public debate.

If Senator Taft believes in this he cannot write an impersonal definition of stealing under moral law that would not convict him of believeing in stealing.

Senator Taft is quoted as saying that the emergency program set up by Congress last year to encourage production of scarce building materials has been a complete failure. Of course it has been a complete failure. Every business undertaking directed by the government is always a complete failure. Men never get as much production where things are controlled by bureaucrats as they do when things are controlled by men who are rewarded for their good judgment and punished for their failures. They are not so rewarded or punished by the state. Senator Taft should know this.

One is inclined to believe that Senator Taft is too intelligent to believe in this state socialism. One is almost forced to conclude that Taft is so anxious to become President of the United States that he is willing to advocate any move that is popular and will get him votes no matter how harmful it will be to our way of life in the long run.

If the Republican party cannot get leadership better than Senator Taft, it makes little if any difference whether we have Republicans in control in Washington or New Dealers. Senator Taft could not tell the difference between his ideas and Stalin's other than 1° degrees.

THE LOW DOWN from HICKORY GROVE

I just been reading some news about Shasta dam. It is not doing so skookum. It is one of Uncle Sameuil's ventures there in California. The boys there, doing the job for the Govt., they say that only a half of the planned kilowatts can be furnished until they get more rain. They forgot to figure a drought could happen.

And while there is a shortage at Shasta, the folks running the private outfit nearby, they say for their customers to be calm—there is no shortage on their side of the street.

In time the truth comes out. Some of the wind is being removed from the sails of the boys who argufy that the Govt. should get into the electric and dam business, bigger and better.

This Shasta business is accenting that we just about voted okay last November— when we got skeptical about Govt. getting too big. Now it is up to us voters to keep our new congressman there in Potomac-land, on the beam—and on his own platform, the one he got in on.

Yours with the low down,
Joe Serra

WASHINGTON
By RAY TUCKER

KAISER — The difficulties and embarrassments which Jesse H. Jones forecast when the Roosevelt Administration loaned vast sums to Henry J. Kaiser's wartime enterprises have arisen to plague Washington, the railroads and competing interests in the Far West.

Despite the admitted contributions he made to construction of a "bridge of ships" to transport soldiers and supplies to Europe and the Orient, the Californian has become a virtual ward of Uncle Sam because of his tremendous indebtedness to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Two federal agencies—the RFC and the Department of Justice—have had to rush to his aid in a conflict with the United States Steel Corporation over a proposed reduction of freight rates which, according to the Kaiser contention, would jeopardize his interests and the government's investment.

When he headed RFC, Mr. Jones frequently complained that the huge advances to the shipbuilder would make him a junior partner of Uncle Sam.

EMPIRE—The controversy has aroused tremendous interest and concern beyond the Rockies, for it involves the West's vision of building a great industrial empire based on the steel, power, airplane and maritime facilities which were erected from the Canadian to the Mexican boundaries during the conflict.

It has also precipitated charges that the old-line corporations, with the cooperation of railroads, banks and affiliated institutions, aim to "put the squeeze" on the group of industrialists—Kaiser, Higgins, Reynolds, etc.— whose performances were publicized so gradiosely by the New Deal family and friends.

OUTLET—The present controversy arose when U. S. Steel arranged to buy the Consolidated Steel Corporation of Los Angeles for fabrication of structural and plate steel manufactuered at its plant at Geneva, Utah. Without facilities for transforming its raw products into materials fit for the coastal market, the Geneva property would be a plant "all dressed up but with no place to go."

U. S. Steel, in its March 26 report to stockholders, explains that it paid hard cash to the government for the Geneva mill "because of the growing importance of the Far West and its own faith in the continued industrial development of that area." The Los Angeles firm, it adds, was necessary to "secure a direct and essential outlet over the years" for Geneva steel.

Although U. S. Steel maintains that "there is no competition of substance between the two corporations, Attorney General Tom Clark has filed a suit against the transaction on the ground that it would violate the Sherman Anti-Trust Act. That was the government's first rescue move on behalf of competitors, including Mr. Kaiser.

RATES—The second act in this postwar industrial drama was staged when four western railroads granted U. S. Steel reduced rates to the coast for the products of its Geneva plant. Mr. Kaiser immediately protested that his rival would pocket $1,200,000 annually in profits because of this alleged favoritism.

He demanded a proportionate lowering of transportation charges for steel manufactuered at his factory at Fontana, California, in which the government has a heavy investment. The RFC loaned him a total of $123,305,000 to build this plant and to convert it to peacetime use. Although terms have once been revised in his favor, and he now seeks another alternation, he has paid only $18,000,000 on the principal and $9,300,000 in interest.

Mr. Kaiser maintains that he built the Fontana property at the request of the government when the cost of labor and materials was excessively high. So, he believes that he should be given better arrangements for repayment by the RFC and fairer treatment by the railroads, who have not extended to him the privileges they have given U. S. Steel.

MORTAGE—The scene of the battle shifted when Benjamin F. Fairless, head of "Big Steel," replied that the $1,200,000 in railroad savings would be passed along to West Coast customers, and not pocketed by his corporation. Then Mr. Kaiser challenged the proposed reduction in transportation costs before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The ICC ordered a postponement of the effective date of the new schedules, which were to have been imposed on March 1. After several days of oral hearings a few weeks ago, the federal agency lifted the suspension, and U. S. Steel began to enjoy the new rates on March 31. The grant is only temporary, for the ICC will hold formal hearings within t few weeks.

The RFC mobilized a battery of lawyers, accountants and railroad experts for the ICC's preliminary inquiry. In this second rescue act, spokemen for this agency pointed out that the taxpayers migmt lose millions of dollars unless Mr. Kaiser were unable to pay off Uncle Sam's mortgage.

COMPANY — TheRFC'ers, of course, did not overemphasize their peculiar interest in the Kaiser problem. They conteded that U. S. Steel's preferential treatment would damage other competing steel firms in the West. Incidentally, the protestants had powerful company for their attitude, including Bethlehem, Republic, Jones & Laughlin, Colorado Fuel & Iron, etc.

Nevertheless, the principal protagonists—and the same situation may arise in other cases because of federal investments in vast properties—were the United States Government and United States Steel.

The cedars of Lebanon which have appeared in history for 2,000 years were reduced to a few dozen at last report.

NATURAL GAS ..... By Peter Edson

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—An organized drive by the oil and gas industries to prevent the Federal Power Commission from assuming complete control over production and gathering of natural gas has opened in Washington. If the drive succeeds a virtual monopoly will be given existing pipelines and holders of FPC certificates of convenience and necessity, who would be left free to expand operations without fear of competition.

Under the industry's new proposals, rate-making powers of the FPC over production and sale of natural gas going into interstate commerce would be limited in such a way that the commission would have to allow gas companies to pay higher field prices at the well. This would mean higher prices for gas consumers. Under present procedure FPC will allow gas companies to pay the going field price only if the gas is purchased from other companies "at arm's length."

Another possible outcome of the industry's drive against the commission would be that any national plan for conservation of America's estimated 200 trillion cubic feet of gas reserve—a 50-year supply at current rates of consumption—would be made virtually impossible since all production and minal distribution controls would be left to state public utilities authorities.

Vehicle by which the oil and gas industries hope to put these curbs on FPC authority is a series of amendments of the Natural Gas Act of 1938. In the Senate these amendments are sponsored by E. H. Moore of Oklahoma and Homer Ferguson of Michigan. House sponsors are Ross Rizley of Oklahoma, Henderson Carson, of Ohio, and Clifford Davis of Tennessee, the later being the only Democrat.

WHY INDUSTRY WANTS AMENDMENTS

Real backers of the legistlation, however, are the Independent Natural Gas Assn., and the American Petroleum Assn., and the American Petroleum Institute, trade associations which represent practically all U. S. oil and gas interests lobbying actively for its passage. Hearings on these amendments are scheduled to open before the House Interstate Commerce Commission April 14.

Points at issue are pretty technical for the average consumer who cooks or heats with gas, but a little background will show why the industry wants its amendments rushed through now.

In September, 1944, the commission ordered a national investigation of natural gas reserves, their expected life for industrial, commercial and domestic use, and their competition with other fuels.

Hearings got under way a year later and ended last August. First section of the report was issued in January, and four more sections were issued early in March. This is about half the report, which won't be completed for another two or three months. It is the Federal Power Commission's belief that any recommendations for changes in the Natural Gas Act should await completion of the report.

No sooner had the first section of the preliminary draft of the report been issued for comment than William R. Boyd, president of the Petroleum Institute, and spokesman for the independent gas and petroleum groups, served notice on FPC Chairman Nelson Lee Smith that they thought the Natural Gas Act should be amended immediately.

MUST KEEP BOOKS UNDER FPC

What the industry really fears is that FPC will take over control of the end use of natural gas, as well as its production and gathering. There are about 425,000 U. S. oil wells. Nearly all produce some gas, and about 40 percent of the natural gas now consumed is produced in such wells.

Under FPC regulations, whenever the gas from an oil well gets into interstate commerce, the oil producer may be declared a natural gas producer. All natural gas producers in interstate commerce must keep books under FPC accounting methods. And sale price of their gas may be limited to a 6½ percent return on the depreciated original cost of the producing wells.

Here is the real heart of what the oil and gas companies don't like. They don't want to be forced to keep books as the FPC directs, and they don't want their profits limited.

The industry claims this price-fixing by the FPC has held back production, stopped exploration for new wells, and caused many well owners to flare and waste their gas, rather than sell it subject to FPC regulation.

Annual 'Farm Cleanup Week' Is Announced for April 6-12

AUSTIN—Livestock health authorities today announced April 6-12 as the dates for the nation's annual "farm cleanup week," designed to help control livestock diseases and parasites and step up 1947 farm production.

With an immediate program of "common-sense measures for sanitation and disease control on the farm," the American Foundation for Animal Health declared that farmers can increase their livestock profits substantially by joining in these spring cleanup measures:

"Clean and disinfect livestock quarters, particularly where young animals or poultry are to be born or housed.

"Clean up barnyards and livestock lots and haul out all manure. Old yards and manure piles are often heavily infecested with parasites.

"Drain or fence off low spots in barn lots; germs and parasites thrive in stagnant water.

"Remove old straw stacks; they harbor parasites and germs. Scatter the straw on fields.

"Pick up nails, glass and other sharp objects which can cause cuts and bruises, or might be swallowed by livestock with fatal results.

"Move your animals to fresh, clean ground as early as possible. As further protection against disease, have pigs vaccinated against cholera, and against erysipelas in erysipelas areas."

Livestock organizations and farm groups throughout the nation are being invited to cooperate in observing cleanup week this year, authorities said today.

Facts About Texas Farms

By WILBUR MARTIN
AP Staff Writer

More than two of every five farms in Texas are under tenant operation.

The majority of leases are for one year.

The average size farm has increased from 252 to 369 acres.

Between 1930 and 1940 the number of tractors in Texas rose from 37,000 to 99,000.

Cotton acreage has declined from 17,000,000 acres in 1930 to 6,000,000 acres in 1946.

Cattle have increased by nearly one and one-half million during this same period.

From the inception of the tenant purchase program in 1938 through November, 1946, a total of 4,424 farm-ownership loans have been made in Texas.

In 1930, 61 percent of Texas farms were tenant-occupied.

Sheep and lamb have increased by nearly 3,000,000 between 1930-1946.

Joe R. Motheral, economist in rural life at Texas A. and M., is the authority for all the foregoing information.

Take advantage of one old army game and reap the results. That's the advice of Hugh T. Magers, acting unit soil conservationist at Abilene.

Magers cites 60,000 acres of range land taken over by the army in Taylor County during 1941. All grazing was excluded in 1943. Before the army took over, Magers said the land was in fair to poor condition. Erosion was evident on most of the area.

Now, says Magers, the range looks like different land. Grass is knee-high over the most part and there is an abundance of better grasses, especially little bluestem and sideoats grama.

Any rancher can accomplish the much needed rest for the land.

Any rancher ca naccomplish the same results, Magers says. Just follow a good conservation plan, including deferred and rotation grazing. And the range needn't be given three years of complete rest, if sound policy is used. Magers declared.

Knowledge beforehand: It is reported from San Angelo that a mine detector was used to locate two pounds of scrap metal in the stomach of W. T. Rawleigh's prize bull, Inka. Dr. T. H. Ferguson, veterinarian, operated and removed the cause of consternation.

Roundup: Cotton appears to be taking over in the Rio Grande Reclamation project. L. R. Flock, project supervisor, notes. The crop value amounted to $31,353,471 last year. Livestock is falling off considerably in this area.

The Bureau of Reclamation made an inventory of beef cattle in the project and found out 5,698 head compared with 13,321 in 1945.

Bedroom Decoration Discussed by Bell Demonstration Club

Suitable colors for bedroom decorating was the theme of a recent meeing of the Bell Home Demonstration Club. It was held in the home of Mrs. J. B. Jones.

Mrs. Emmett Osborne, who was in charge of the program in the abence of Mrs. David Callis, discussed various color schemes for bedrooms. She stated that the size and location of the badroom had a direct bearing on the suitabilitty of the colors used.

Light color walls and blond furniture tend to make a small room appear more spacious. Any color combination may be used as long as the colors are of harmonizing shades, according to Mrs. Osborne.

Mrs. Charles Warminiski discussed the use of bedspreads and draperies in the bedroom to aid the homemaker in expressing individuality in decorative treatment.

Mrs. Roland Dauer presided over the business meeting during which plans were made to hold an all day meeting soon. At the planned meeting Mrs. T. S. Skibinski will conduct a class on bread making.

Alfalfa was introduced into the United States at San Francisco from Chile in 1854.

20th Annual Panhandle-Plains Dairy Show Set at Plainview April 12-18

PLAINVIEW—The twentieth annual Panhandle-Plains Dairy Show here April 12-18, a tri-state exposition covering Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma, will attract probably the largest number of fine blooded dairy cattle in the history of the exposition, Raymond Lee Johns, manager, said.

Exhibitors will complete delivery of their entries to the dairy barns on Saturday, April 12. The next afternoon the Production Contest will begin. From then until Friday afternoon when the annual Milking Shorthorn auction will ring down the curtain on the show, there will be entertainment, luncheons, banquets and daily judging of dairy cattle to keep the exposition moving at a fast clip.

The pageant at 7:30 Monday night, April 14, with crowning of the Dairy Show Queen as one of the highlights, will inaugurate a round of dances, banquets, bathing beauty revues and other attractions. More than 50 young ladies have been designated by firms and organizations to vie for the honor of Dairy Show Queen. The exposition royalty will be selected at a dance for princesses and their escorts Monday afternoon at Hilton Hotel.

The 441 head of cattle shown last year more than filled the barns. With increased facilities and improved transportation since the 1946 show, officials of the association are looking for a record breaking entry list.

There will be departments for exhibit and contests for 4-H club and FFA members. The FFA cattle judging contests will launch Monday's show program.

Cattle will be shown in four divisions, Jersey, Milking Shorthorn, Holstein-Friesian and Guernsey. Wednesday is officials Jersey Day. That date calls for the annual Plains A. & M. exes and student roundup in addition to judging Jerseys and other events. Prize money totals $3,057.00.

I. Walker Rupel, head of the dairy husbandry department of Texas A. & M., will judge Holstein-Friesian entries. A. W. Kohley, Naperville, Ill., will judge Milking shorthorns. N. C. Fine, associate professor in the dairy department at Texas Technological College, Lubbock, Texas, will judge Jersey cattle.

Wayne Thomas, Peryton, will judge the Production Contest for the twentieth consecutive year.

Agricultural Training Is Being Planned for McLean-Alanreed Vets

McLEAN—A meeting aimed at promoting a Veterans Vocational School for agriculture classes was held here last week. Sixteen veterans from the McLean-Alanreed area signed up to begin classes as soon as necessary arrangements can be made.

Meeting with the potential students to help them in getting their project started was Huelyn Laycock, superintendent of county schools, Logan Cummings, superintendent of McLean Schools, Clyde McGee, McLean High School vocational agriculture instructor, and Raymond Glass, local business man.

It was explained at the meeting that the Veterans Administration required an enrollment of 20 students in classes of this type, before a school can be set up and classes started. At the present time interested parties are making every effort to secure additional students.

Simultaneously those interested in the project are trying to secure an instructor for the project and to locate a place where the classes may be held. Under the present veterans admisnistration plans for agricultural training a three year course is required.

The required course covers a wide program of class room training, demonstrations, field trips and actual work practice.

Those who signed up for training under the proposed plan are Audie M. Giesler, Herbert Guill, Sidney Stewart, Bernard McClellan, Arthur Greer, Harry Franks, Goden Billingslea, James Foster, Spencer Sitter, Wilbur Wilson, Herman Smith, and Gene Lowe, of McLean, and George Biole, Warren Carter, Robert Bruce and B. C. Crisp, of Alanreed.

Pampa Farm Loan Group Plans Meet

April 19th has been set as the date for the annual meeting of members of the Pampa National Farm Loan Association, president J. B. Talley announced following a meeting of the association board of directors in the farm loan office at Pampa.

The annual get-together this year is expected to be a large and important conference of land owners of Hemphill, Roberts, and Gray Counties, Talley said. The meeting will be held at the City Hall, starting at 11 a. m. Details will be announced later.

Farm Becoming 'Place to Live' Not 'Food Plant'

The postwar conception of the Nation's agricultural life is taking a new turn. The emphasis placed on production during the war is being shifted to the end product of farming—better living for the farmers themselves.

The new approach stresses the farm as a "place to live" instead of a "food production plant." The agencies serving agriculture that are taking this new tack feel that the home life of the farmers was neglected in our rush to revolutionize production itself by the use of factory assembly line methods.

Progressive farmers who are welcoming the development have noted a series of articles highlighting the conception beginning in the April issue of Country Gentleman. The series, entitled "Good Farming—Good Living", points up by actual example the rewards in good living that can be reaped on the modern farm.

Profiles of farm families in all sections of the country will be carried, detailing how each family has achieved satisfactory, comfortable living on their farms. The first deals with a family in Northwestern Missouri.

Country Gentleman Editor Robert H Reed, in an editorial accompanying the series, points out that emphasis on production was needed to win the war. He adds:

"But while this was going on, another and equally important side of farming has had far less recognition. The American farm is more than a production plant — it is a place to live. We miss the point of all this progress in agriculture if we do not see that the end product of good farming is good living. Not good living in any narrow sense but including a wide range of satisfactions that are distinctive of the American family type of farm."

Farmer's Share In Fire Loss Hits High Mark

TOPEKA, Kan. — The farmer's share in the nation's fire loss last year was well in excess of $85,000,000, according to Ray Yarnell, editor of Capper's Farmer.

Fire kills a person on one out of each 3,500 farms in the United States every year, Yarnell writes in the April issue of the farm magazine. Fire every year maims tens of thousands of farm folk.

"The greatest loss caused by fire," he adds, " is this destruction of human life and the suffering that comes from injury. But even if there were no loss of life, if everyone escaped unhurt, what would such a fire loss mean to your family. What would it do to your farm business?"

Large as is the dollar loss, it by no means indicates the actual loss a farmer would suffer under existing conditions, Yarnell points out.

"Because of the scarcity of materials and workers and the high cost of labor it might be impossible quickly to replace the building damaged or destroyed," he declares. "Eevn if building materials were obtainable, costs are vastly higher. Various estimates indicate that the cost of new construction or repair of old buildings run from 80 to 100 percent more than before the war.

Destruction of a home by fire would throw the whole operation of a farm out of gear and might, under extreme circumstances, compel the family to give up operation of the farm for a season. Burning of a productive building might interfere with farm operations to such an extent as to cause heavy losses in addition to those resulting from the fire itself.

To protect itself, says Yarnell, every farm family should:

1. Do everything possible to prevent the occurance of a fire. Principal causes of farm fires involve careless use of matches and smoking; defective electric wiring or misuse of electricity; lack of care in keeping cooking and heating equipment and chimneys and flues in good condition; failure to be careful with all open fires; and lastly, carelessness with highly inflammable liquids such as keresene, gasoline and various cleaners.

2. Figure whether your fire insurance is sufficient to reimburse you for possible loss or to prevent a serious loss from causing financial disaster. Because building costs have increased so much many farmers and others are carrying inadequate amounts of insurance. It wiuld be good business to check your policies.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book

By HAL BOYLE

TAMPA, Fla.—(AP)—A vice president of the United States once said:

"What the country needs is a good five-cent cigar."

Well, there isn't much hope of getting it.

"You'll never see a good five-cent the clear Havana cigar industry which centers here. "Not with wages and the cost of materials what they are today."

The war brought a 30 percent increase in the output of cigars, but there is a current slump in the market for hand-made high-priced cheroots.

Last October tobacco manufacturers throughout America turned out 594,000,000 cigars, expecting a Christmas boom. Grades retailing up to two-for-a-quarter did well. A lot of the three-for-a-dollar brand are still unbought, drying out on the shelves. That means unemployment and less chicken and rice for hand-cigar rollers in Ybor City, a bit of old Spain set down in Tampa.

Put veterans who learned to like cigars when they could buy them at cost at Army exchanges around the world aren't coming back to cigarets.

"A cigar smoker never goes back to cigarets or pipes," said the spokesman. "If times get tough, he just smokes a cheaper cigar."

Hand cigar makers earn from $40 to $80 a week, depending on their output which varies anywhere from 250 to 1,000 cigars a day. But a machine manned by two women can turn out between 5,000 and 6,000 in eight hours. And the women, brought in during wartime, are staying on. Many are middle-aged and of Anglo-Saxon descent.

An executive who showed me through the largest factory here said it was all bosh that workers ever sealed cigars with a tongue flick.

"That's nonsense," he said. "We've always used gum tragacanth, brought from Arabia. We tried all sorts of substance during the war, but nothing worked as well."

Price of the gum rose from $4 a pound to $18, but the supply is better again.

One thing you don't see in a cigar factory—a sign saying: "No Smoking."

Only a three-handed worker could smoke anyway. He needs two hands to roll the cigars.

TWO WOMEN FINED

Two women yesterday afternoon were fined $10 each on charges of affray after they had been involved in a fight in front of the Comb-Worley building. Both were arrested by Chief of Police Louie Allen.
