Bank Deposits Reach All-Time Record

Deposits at Tahoka's First National Bank set an all-time record high at close of business on December 31, 1973, as shown as a result of a call made early this week.

A record of $24,296,001.95 in deposits was reported by First National Bank at the close of business on Dec. 31. This is nine and a quarter million more than was on deposit here Dec. 31, 1972, when $15,004,772.64 was reported, and nearly nine million more than was on deposit on the Sept. 28, 1973 call.

President F.B. Hegi, stated deposits have continued to increase since January 1, about two million having come in on one day last week. Many farmers had delayed sale of cotton and milo until after beginning of the new year for a possible income tax break.

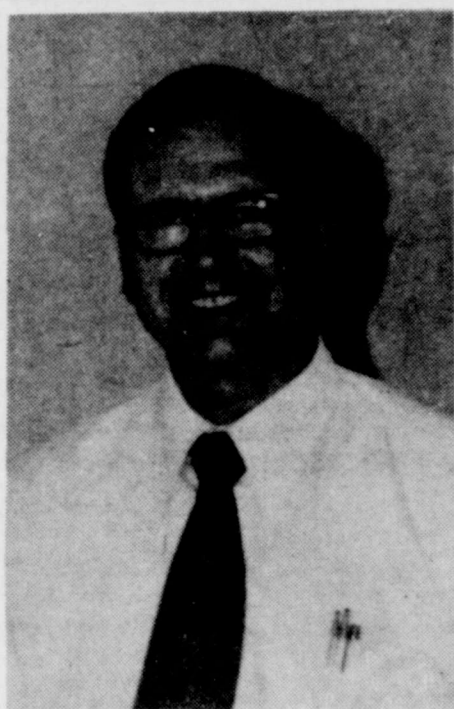

The News hopes to have reports from Wilson and O'Donnell beginning of the new year for a possible income tax break. Naturally, the record funds on deposit is a result of the fine crop this past year and the unprecedented high prices for cotton and maize.

The News hopes to have reports from Wilson and O'Donnell banks in next week's issue.

The bank reports loans outstanding a total of $6,256,986.08 this last Dec. 31, more than a million less than the previous Dec. 31, 1972, when outstanding loans were $7,303,578.16. Naturally, the current total is being reduced since January 1 this year.

The Dec. 31 call is the first since Harris R. Fender of Tyler bought controlling interest in the bank from Dr. C.M. Phillips and James Moore. Mr. Fender succeeds Dr. Phillips as chairman of the bank Board of Directors, and Chas. R. Wooldridge, an associate of Mr. Fender's is a new director. Other directors include President F.B. Hegi, Warren Embree, W.H. Eudy, W.T. Kidwell, Bryan Wright, Clint Walker, A.C. Verner, and Garland Thornton.

As noted elsewhere in this issue, Mr. Thornton is leaving in the next few days for Sweetwater, where he will become president of the First National Bank there.

Garland Thornton

Thornton To Head Sweetwater Bank

Garland Thornton, Executive Vice President of the First National Bank here since 1965, has been named President of the First National Bank of Sweetwater. He will assume his new responsibilities there next Monday.

Thornton came to Tahoka in January 1965, from the First National Bank of Richardson, Texas, where he had been vice president. He has been associated with banks in Shallowater and Lubbock also. He graduated from Littlefield High School and Texas Tech University before serving in the U.S. Marine Corps.

Thornton has been active in many civic endeavors during his stay in Tahoka. He served as President of the Tahoka Rotary Club in 1968-69 and the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce in 1972-73. He was active in the planning and development of the Hospital District and served as the first chairman of its governing board. In 1971 he was awarded the "Citizen of the Year" award by the Chamber of Commerce.

He and his family have also been active in the First United Methodist Church here. He has served as chairman of the Administrative Board, and he is presently Chairman of the Finance Committee of the church.

The Thorntons have two daughters, Susan and Nancy, and Mrs. Thornton has been a 5th grade teacher in the local schools.

I would like to thank you for the opportunity I have had of serving you from this office for the past 2½ years. I will appreciate your support, not only in the May election, but also in performing the duties of this office.

If elected, I will do the very best job possible.

Thank you for your support in the past.

Harvest Passes 2 Million Bales

The South Plains cotton harvest is now past the two million bale mark, according to Paul R. Dickson, in charge of the Lubbock Cotton Classing Office of the U.S.D.A.

Samples from 2,052,000 bales had been classed at the Lubbock, Brownfield, Lamesa and Levelland offices through Friday, January 4th, and the four offices had 80,000 unclassified samples on hand at that time. Estimates indicate that there was enough cotton in trailers and in ricks to make 400,000 to 500,000 more bales.

Personnel at the four offices tested and classed samples from 93,000 bales during the week ending the 4th.

Quality of cotton continued excellent and this crop continues to be one of the highest quality crops ever produced on the South Plains.

Grades 32 and 41 continued the predominant grades at Lubbock, making up 68 percent of all classed. Grade 41 made up 55 percent, Grade 31, 13 percent, Grade 32, 13 percent and Grade 42, 11 percent.

Staples were predominantly 30 to 32. Sixty-seven percent had staple lengths of 31 and shorter and the remaining thirty-three percent stapled 32 and longer.

Micronaire readings continued excellent. Seventy-eight percent of all cotton tested at Lubbock had micronaire readings in the premium range of 3.5 to 4.9, 5 percent was in the high micronaire range of 5.0 to 5.2 and 2 percent was in the very high range of 5.3 and above.

The Agricultural Marketing Service of the U.S.D.A. reported slow trading on the Lubbock market the past week. Prices were $15.00 to $20.00 per bale lower.

Auda Norman Seeks Office

Mrs. Audra Norman this week announced that she is a candidate for the office of District Clerk of Lynn County, the position now held by Walter Mathis, who is retiring at the end of his present term next January.

Mrs. Norman has lived here most of her life, and is currently secretary to the county attorney and county judge, and also is acting as deputy district clerk. She has had several years experience as a legal secretary, and also has had experience in the county clerk's office.

"I feel my experience and familiarity with district court procedures and keeping of court records qualify me for this public office," Mrs. Norman states. "I will sincerely appreciate your support and vote, and, if elected, promise to give my very best efforts and time to duties of the office."

Mrs. Norman is the daughter of Mrs. A.C. Aycox and the late Mr. Aycox, a pioneer family having been engaged in farming and stock raising in the county since 1923.

Demand continued strongest for cotton with staple lengths of 31 and longer but was strong for cotton with staple lengths of 29 and 30. Prices ranged from 3300 points over the Government Loan for short staple cotton up 5000 points over the loan for long staple cotton. Typical lots were bringing an average of 40 cents per pound over the loan and were selling in the price range of 55 to 65 cents per pound.

Average prices paid for the most predominant qualities in the 3.5 to 4.9 premium micronaire range were: Grade 31, Staple 30-55.65 cents per pound, Grade 31, Staple 31-62.40, Grade 31, Staple 32-64.40, Grade 41, Staple 30-54.70, Grade 41, Staple 31-61.25 and Grade 41, Staple 32-62.95.

Cottonseed prices were steady and farmers received $95 to $110 per ton.

Short Speaker At Rotary Club

State Representative E.L. Short was speaker at the Rotary Club last Thursday.

Using the subject "Facts, Figures and Fun", E.L. made some serious and some not so serious predictions of things to come this year.

Since he is a member of the Constitutional Convention, which began Tuesday in Austin, he discussed some of the problems of the meeting. He is not very optimistic in predicting that the group will come up with a new Constitution that the voting public will approve.

Dr. K.R. Durham, who introduced the speaker, praised E.L. for his devotion to duty in serving this area as a state legislator.

Business Hours To Change

In an attempt to unify the operating hours of Tahoka businesses, the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce recommends that businesses adjust their opening and closing times one hour. This will mean that an 8:00-5:00 business will now operate from 9:00 a.m. until 6:00 p.m. This decision was based upon the majority of the businesses contacted. To make this change of schedule work effectively, a total participation will be necessary. With cooperation, a normal business flow may be established with minimal discord.

Vehicle Owners Must Buy License

Owners of some 8.4 million motor vehicles in Texas will have some important mail coming their way early in January.

Registration renewal application will be put in the mail shortly after the holiday season by the Motor Vehicle Division of the Texas Highway Department.

The same quick and easy method made possible by modern computer technology will be in effect this year as it has been in the last few years.

Vehicle owners can save time that used to be spent waiting in long lines at county tax offices throughout the state by ordering their 1974 license plates by mail.

All that must be done is to send the entire three-part application by mail to the county tax assessor collector in the owner's home county, enclosing the registration fee plus $1 for each vehicle to cover handling and mailing.

There are three things to remember:

1. Leave the three-part form intact. Don't separate the three parts.

2. Mail it to the county tax office in your home county. (Mailing it to the Highway Department will only delay getting your 1974 license plates).

3. Be sure to include the registration fee, plus $1 for each vehicle for postage and handling.

You may apply for license plates by mail after January 1. However, county tax offices won't mail plates until after February 1. Owners should allow at least 30 days from the time they apply for the license plates to be returned.

In-person registrations will begin at county tax offices and, in some counties, at substations on February 1. Even though the automated registration application procedures have speeded up the process, waiting lines will grow progressively longer as the April 1 deadline approaches.

Jessie Stevens Asks Re-Election

I wish to announce that I am a candidate for re-election to the office of County Treasurer of Lynn County.

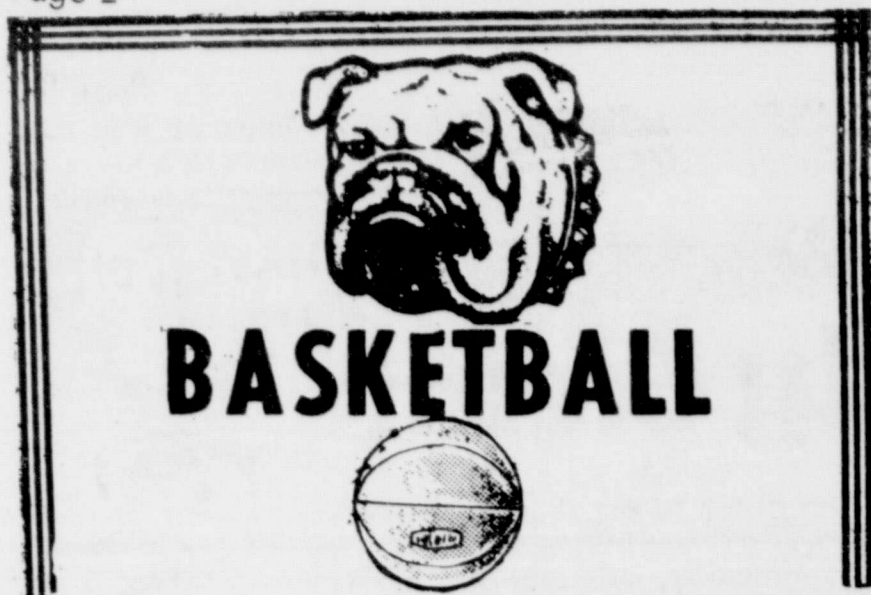

I want to say thanks for the privilege of serving in this office and if re-elected I shall continue to do my very best.

Your vote will be sincerely appreciated.
Thanks,
Jessie J. Stevens

D. L. Gandy Seeks Re-Election

I want to announce that I am seeking re-election as commissioner of Lynn County Precinct No. 2.

Thank you for your support in the past and I would appreciate your consideration in the future.
If elected I will do my very best.

Too bad! Our 13-day Christmas vacation is over! No more sleeping and staying up late; no more games or fun; (for a while, anyway!) and no more gifts! Just five more months of school!!

I hope everyone had a nice Christmas and started the New Year off right. Most people I've talked to made resolutions;

Josephine Thompson Buried Monday

Reception Honors Pennington

A cake and coffee reception honoring the retirement of Garland Pennington from Lyntegar Electric Cooperative was held December 31st.

Pennington's retirement ended a 35 year career in Rural Electrification started when the late John Heck of Wilson hired him to handle Co-op management chores in 1938.

Under his leadership the cooperative has grown into a highly efficient, state ranking utility serving some 16000 meters with 5000 miles of line in parts of 9 counties.

Pennington's successor, Wilton J. Payne, is a 27 year veteran of the cooperative and has held the assistant manager position for a number of years. Payne was named manager last April 1 when Pennington was named Executive Vice President of the Board.

A large part of the cooperatives 80 plus employees were on hand for the reception.

Payne presented a gift certificate to Pennington on behalf of the employees. Mrs. Pennington joined her husband at the event.

A friend of ours has two teen-age daughters. One, after a rather late party the night before, had been ordered to bed early. Sure enough the phone rang and her sister answered. It was the sleeping beauty's heavy date.

Next morning at breakfast there was quite a little scene. "You surely didn't tell him I had gone to bed!" wailed the sleeper.

"Of course I did."

"That's the meanest thing I ever heard of in my life! Everybody will think I have to go to bed at 9 o'clock just like a child!"

"That's all right," was the comforting reply. "I told him you had an awful hangover."

and some even resolved to do better at school! Sounds strange doesn't it?! Oh, well... we might as well try to do our best- we've got nothing to lose!

Mrs. Goldstein called on Mrs. McGee. "I've just heard your husband is in the hospital. What happened?" she asked. "It's his knee," explained Mrs. McGee. "I found a blonde on it."

Two women were discussing their husbands in that indulgent tone appropriate to the subject. "Henry is perfectly helpless without me," said one. "I don't know what would become of him if I went away for a week."

"John, too," sighed the other. "The way I have to look after that man! Why, whenever he sews on buttons or darns his socks, I always have to thread the needle for him."

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

Total cotton received at USDA's Lubbock, Brownfield, Levelland and Lamesa classing offices stood at 2,076,621 bales as of the close of the day January 2, which on first glance makes it appear that the High Plains may have difficulty reaching the 2,725,000 bale production estimate. "But there are two factors which throw that first look out of focus," says Donald A. Johnson, Executive Vice President of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

First, the estimate is made in 480 pound net or 500 pound gross weight bales while the total cotton classed at a given time is reported in "running" bales by area classing offices.

Second the estimate, compiled jointly by Plains Cotton Growers and the Lubbock Cotton Exchange, applies to cotton produced from the twenty-five counties represented by PCG, five of which send their cotton to classing offices outside the area, at Memphis and Abilene.

Two PCG counties, Briscoe and Motley, send cotton to the Memphis classing office and their combined total production is expected to reach 50,000 bales. Martin, Midland and Howard counties, also in PCG's "family", send cotton to Abilene for classing, and those three should turn out about 198,000 bales. Thus the total bales included in the estimate but excluded from area classing office totals, if the estimate is correct, will come to 248,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight.

Offsetting perhaps as much as 10,000 bales of this total is cotton coming to area classing offices from Eastern New Mexico and extreme Northern Texas counties not represented by PCG, leaving a net of 238,000 bales.

A check with a major area compress reveals that the average gross weight of bales received there so far this season has been a big 529 pounds, 5.8 percent above the 500 pound gross used in the estimate calculations. Assuming that this average weight applies to cotton received at all compresses to date, the 2,076,621 bales received at area classing offices would convert to 2,197,065 bales of 500 pounds gross weight.

Add that figure to the projected 238,000 net bales from Briscoe, Howard, Martin, Midland and Motley counties and the total rises to 2,435,065 bales, only 289,935 bales short of the PCG-LCE estimate.

Reports indicate that at least 95 percent of the area crop is off the stalk, either classed, in the gin-to-compress-to-classing office "pipeline," waiting in trailers on gin yards, or stored in field ricks. If, in fact, 5 percent of the crop is still on the stalk, that would be 136,250 bales, leaving less than 155,000 bales to materialize from the pipeline, gin yards and ricks.

"Area observers have guessed the amount of cotton in ricks alone as high as 400,000 bales," Johnson notes, "which would indicate we aren't going to have any trouble at all in reaching the estimate, and we may well go beyond it."

Official bale totals on a net weight basis, by county, are compiled annually by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, but do not become available until June or July following each year's harvest.

Animal Regulations Are Adopted

The new brucellosis regulations (Proclamation of the Texas Animal Health Commission No. AHC-1) were adopted unanimously by the Texas Animal Health Commission at an official Commission meeting in Laredo, Texas, on October 15, 1973. These new regulations will bring the Texas Brucellosis Program into compliance with the new into compliance with the National Uniform Methods and Rules which are considered minimum standards.

In brief this regulation requires that all breeding cattle two (2) years of age and over that change ownership are required to be brucellosis tested. Breeding cattle may be tested on the farm or ranch or at an auction market. Slaughter type breeding cattle may be sold through livestock markets without test until sampled on the kill floor. The brucellosis test will be good for movement purposes for a thirty (30) day period provided animal is ear tagged and accompanied by test certificate.

Effective January 15, 1974, these regulations will be in full force and effect. For more information contact Wallace Teaff.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

Total cotton received at USDA's Lubbock, Brownfield, Levelland and Lamesa classing offices stood at 2,076,621 bales as of the close of the day January 2, which on first glance makes it appear that the High Plains may have difficulty reaching the 2,725,000 bale production estimate. "But there are two factors which throw that first look out of focus," says Donald A. Johnson, Executive Vice President of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

First, the estimate is made in 480 pound net or 500 pound gross weight bales while the total cotton classed at a given time is reported in "running" bales by area classing offices.

Second the estimate, compiled jointly by Plains Cotton Growers and the Lubbock Cotton Exchange, applies to cotton produced from the twenty-five counties represented by PCG, five of which send their cotton to classing offices outside the area, at Memphis and Abilene.

Two PCG counties, Briscoe and Motley, send cotton to the Memphis classing office and their combined total production is expected to reach 50,000 bales. Martin, Midland and Howard counties, also in PCG's "family", send cotton to Abilene for classing, and those three should turn out about 198,000 bales. Thus the total bales included in the estimate but excluded from area classing office totals, if the estimate is correct, will come to 248,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight.

Offsetting perhaps as much as 10,000 bales of this total is cotton coming to area classing offices from Eastern New Mexico and extreme Northern Texas counties not represented by PCG, leaving a net of 238,000 bales.

A check with a major area compress reveals that the average gross weight of bales received there so far this season has been a big 529 pounds, 5.8 percent above the 500 pound gross used in the estimate calculations. Assuming that this average weight applies to cotton received at all compresses to date, the 2,076,621 bales received at area classing offices would convert to 2,197,065 bales of 500 pounds gross weight.

Add that figure to the projected 238,000 net bales from Briscoe, Howard, Martin, Midland and Motley counties and the total rises to 2,435,065 bales, only 289,935 bales short of the PCG-LCE estimate.

Reports indicate that at least 95 percent of the area crop is off the stalk, either classed, in the gin-to-compress-to-classing office "pipeline," waiting in trailers on gin yards, or stored in field ricks. If, in fact, 5 percent of the crop is still on the stalk, that would be 136,250 bales, leaving less than 155,000 bales to materialize from the pipeline, gin yards and ricks.

"Area observers have guessed the amount of cotton in ricks alone as high as 400,000 bales," Johnson notes, "which would indicate we aren't going to have any trouble at all in reaching the estimate, and we may well go beyond it."

Official bale totals on a net weight basis, by county, are compiled annually by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, but do not become available until June or July following each year's harvest.

Animal Regulations Are Adopted

The new brucellosis regulations (Proclamation of the Texas Animal Health Commission No. AHC-1) were adopted unanimously by the Texas Animal Health Commission at an official Commission meeting in Laredo, Texas, on October 15, 1973. These new regulations will bring the Texas Brucellosis Program into compliance with the new into compliance with the National Uniform Methods and Rules which are considered minimum standards.

In brief this regulation requires that all breeding cattle two (2) years of age and over that change ownership are required to be brucellosis tested. Breeding cattle may be tested on the farm or ranch or at an auction market. Slaughter type breeding cattle may be sold through livestock markets without test until sampled on the kill floor. The brucellosis test will be good for movement purposes for a thirty (30) day period provided animal is ear tagged and accompanied by test certificate.

Effective January 15, 1974, these regulations will be in full force and effect. For more information contact Wallace Teaff.

Carolyn Haley Says. . .

Who hasn't heard about the energy situation! Conserving energy is something we probably will be doing for quite some time. And since food preparation may require a bit of fuel, wise homemakers are learning methods to make the most of what's used.

For instance, when cooking on top of the range, use moderate to low heat. Avoiding high heat not only conserves fuel, it also keeps pot and pans in better condition. Many of today's cooking utensil manufacturers recom-

ment low to medium heat only. Also, fully utilize all heat energy -- including what's stored during the cooking process. To do this, simply turn off the heat a few minutes early. Stored-up heat in the oven or on the range top continues the cooking process for a few minutes.

In addition, make maximum use of the oven. Instead of just baking one thing prepare several foods at once. For example, baked potatoes, meat loaf and a vegetable casserole can be prepared in the oven at the same temperature. Thus, only one heat source is used to prepare a meal.

Due to a phenomenal catch recently nutritiously and economical ocean perch will be in plentiful supply in January and February. Ocean perch is marketed mainly as frozen fillets, but the fresh product is available.

Ocean perch is a firm fleshed fish whose meat is white and flaky when cooked. It is good fried, baked, broiled, poached or steamed.

But what does ocean perch contain that makes them so nutritious? Protein-high quality protein. And lots of it. But ocean perch have another big plus. Besides being an excellent source of protein, the fat content is low and is polyunsaturated (which helps keep down blood cholesterol.) The ocean perch contains only 88 calories per average serving.

Adding up the high-quality protein, the polyunsaturated fat, and the many essential vitamins and minerals and the small number of calories, you can see that ocean perch is something to try if you haven't already.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK Chili Baked Ocean Perch

Put one pound partially thawed frozen ocean perch fillets in shallow baking dish. Mix ¾ cup dry red wine and 2 tablespoons instant minced onion. Spread on fish and sprinkle with grated cheese. Bake at 450 degrees for 15-20 minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Makes 4 servings.
