

Senate Nearing Vote On North Atlantic Pact

Atomic Issue Not Expected To Halt Approval of Treaty

WASHINGTON, July 21. (AP)—The Senate came up to a vote on the North Atlantic Pact today amid a stormy wrangle over sharing atomic secrets with 11 other nations. Treaty foes demanded to know whether arms for Europe will mean giving the atomic bomb—or atomic secrets—to the Atlantic allies.

"We've got to have an answer before the treaty is ratified—not after," Senator Wherry (R-Neb) told reporters. The final treaty vote is scheduled for this afternoon.

Senator McMahon (D-Conn.), chairman of the Senate Atomic Energy Committee, told the Senate last night that treaty approval will not obligate the U. S. to give the atom bomb or atomic secrets to pact nations.

The precise nature of military aid to be given to Europe must be determined when Congress acts on a proposed arms-for-Europe program, McMahon said in answering a question by Wherry.

Senate leaders said they were confident that even the atomic issue will not halt overwhelming approval of the treaty. They estimated no more than 15 votes—and perhaps less—will go against the pact.

The first showdown ballot was due shortly after 3 p.m. CBT on a treaty reservation sponsored by Wherry, Senator Taft (R-O) and Senator Watkins (R-Utah).

This reservation says it would be the understanding of the United States that Article 3 of the treaty carries no obligation to supply military aid to pact nations.

Pact critics say Article 3 would obligate this nation to rear western Europe, if it is not made explicitly plain that it does not. Supporters of the treaty deny there is any such commitment.

Then the Senate is scheduled to vote in quick order on two other Watkins reservations. One would state in brief the United States is not obligated by the pact to defend the North Atlantic area or to use armed force to resist attack until Congress approves. The second would say Congress is not obligated by the treaty to declare war in event of an attack on a pact nation.

Once the amendments are out of the way, the road will be clear for a resolution of ratification—the act which will instantly pledge the United States to a historic new foreign policy.

26 Bids Ready To Be Submitted On School Construction

Twenty-six contractors had bids in the hopper in advance of opening on offers for classroom additions to Big Spring schools today.

Bids were to be opened at 2 p.m. at a special meeting of the board of trustees of the Big Spring Independent school district.

Puckett & French, architects-engineers for the schools, said that bids had been received from 10 general contractors, eight plumbing and heating and eight electrical.

More than 50 contractors, subcontractors and material salesmen were due to be on hand for the opening. This may necessitate moving the meeting to the school auditorium.

'Lonely Hearts' Affairs Related

NEW YORK, July 21. (AP)—Hawaiian-born Raymond Fernandez, who admits he wooed and wed lovers women as a business, returns to the witness stand today to continue his story of cross-country romances.

He and his 185-pound sweetheart, Mrs. Martha Beck, 29, are on trial for the "lonely hearts" murder of Mrs. Janet Fay, 66, an Albany, N. Y. widow. They face similar charges for a double killing in Michigan.

Before a courtroom jammed with women, the 34-year-old Fernandez yesterday recited details of his affairs in such intimate terms that at one point a woman spectator fied from the room.

Fernandez, telling of the strange union between him and Mrs. Beck, paused once to ask permission "from Martha to tell the story of their relationship. His bulky co-defendant said, "Go ahead. Tell it."

Fernandez then described various abnormal sex acts that marked their lives together. The bond that linked them, he related, was unbroken by his romances with other women.

But he spoke of Mrs. Beck's intense jealousy during periods when he was courting other women, and told of numerous attempts by her

$2,500,000 Dam Will Be Built By Sweetwater

AUSTIN, Tex., July 21. (AP)—Sweetwater was granted a permit yesterday to build a $2,500,000 dam on Oak Creek in Coke county.

Granting of the permit by the State Board of Water Engineers was challenged by ranchers and other citizens of Coke and Runnels counties who said they will appeal to district court.

Opposition to the 30,000-acre foot reservoir was based primarily on fear that ranchers and farmers below the proposed dam site will not get enough water to stay in business.

Senator Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo, attorney for the protesting party, questioned the legality of diverting water from the Colorado river watershed to the Brazos river watershed in which Sweetwater is located.

Action of the board was by a two-man vote. Chairman E. V. Spence was absent, having disqualifed himself voluntarily to sit at any hearings since his recent appointment as Interstate Compact Commissioner.

Sweetwater expects to complete a contract with a Gulf Oil refinery outside the city limits within a few days to deliver three million gallons of water daily after the reservoir is built, City Manager H. S. Thorgrimsen said.

Sweetwater will receive a daily average of six million gallons of water from the new source of supply. In addition to selling half the supply to Gulf Oil, it will sell 10 per cent to the Upper Colorado River Authority to care for needs by Bronte, Robert Lee and Blackwell.

Deathless Days In Big Spring Traffic

Most Big Spring residents can look for a steep increase in water charges this month, Juanita Edwards, bookkeeper in the city water department, said this morning.

A spot check through 10 individual meter readings for two months showed that July consumption had more than doubled that of June. The 10 consumers used 47,500 gallons of water in June and 101,300 gallons in July.

Individual water usage was doubled in most cases, but the largest increase came as one meter measured 18,000 gallons for July where only 5,000 gallons had been used in June.

Charge for water is increased at the rate of 25 cents per 1,000 gallons after a minimum of $1.50 for 2,000 gallons is passed. Large consumers can expect an increase of several dollars in water charges for July, water department officials said. Average increase will probably range between 75 cents and $1.50, it was indicated, however.

Typical of the increase in volume of water used during July, as contrasted to June consumption, are the following:

1,300 gallons to 3,600; 5,100 to 8,500; 4,300 to 9,200; 3,500 to 9,700, and 8,000 to 18,000 gallons.

Most of the additional water used in July was for irrigation purposes, Juanita Edwards opined. Grass and shrubbery was helped by frequent showers during early June.

AIRLINE FINANCED STUDY

UT Savant Backs Pioneer Request

AUSTIN, July 21. (AP)—A University of Texas professor's report supporting Pioneer Airlines route request was in the record of a Civil Aeronautics Board's hearing here today.

One issue is whether or not Pioneer's certificate to operate shall be extended.

The report, by Dr. H. K. Snell, is called, "Study of Certain Problems of Feeder Airlines in Texas and New Mexico."

The business administration professor's report not only supported the renewal of Pioneer Air Line's temporary certificate but also advocated the granting of a permanent certificate.

The professor, called into university administrative offices Tuesday to clarify possible implication of the University of Texas, testified Pioneer Air Lines had supplied $1,500 for the study he prepared.

He said the Pioneer grant was accepted by the board of regents, with the understanding Pioneer was not to influence the study.

"Our policy at the University of Texas is to aid any transportation industry that sees fit to use our service," he said. He testified that he had had experience in making similar studies for the government during the war.

Dr. Snell was questioned only by Pioneer officials yesterday. Cross-examination was delayed until two weeks after the close of the Austin hearing.

Attorneys for Braniff, American, and Continental Air Lines and the public counsel testified that they were not given the Snell report early enough to study it and have it examined by their staffs of analysts, thus could not cross-examine Dr. Snell Wednesday.

Pioneer Air Lines had not finished presenting its case yesterday. After Pioneer rests its testimony, American, Braniff, and Continental Air Lines have to present their cases. The public counsel, J. F. Bishop, will also call his witnesses before the Austin hearing closes.

Name Two Atom Scientists As Wartime Reds

House Spy Probers On Trail of Other Lab 'Cell' Members

WASHINGTON, July 21. (AP)—House spy probers named two atomic scientists today as members of a wartime Communist cell at a West Coast laboratory. They said they are tracking down others.

The House un-American Activities Committee put the finger on Giovanni Rossi Lomanitz and David Bohm as members of a cell at the radiation laboratory and the University of California at Berkeley.

It did so in an official document that reproduced, with a foreword, last month's hearings on Communist Steve Nelson, Communist Party organizer in the San Francisco bay area in the early 1940's and now operating in western Pennsylvania.

Lomanitz until recently was a professor at Fisk University at Nashville. Bohm is a physics professor at Princeton University.

The committee said Russia first tried to use Nelson's acquaintance with "one of the leading physicist engaged in the development of the atomic bomb" for infiltration of the Berkeley laboratory. This physicist was not named.

The committee indicated Nelson scraped up the acquaintance through the physicist's wife. It said he met her in Spain in 1937, where her first husband, like Nelson, was a volunteer in the International Brigade in the Spanish civil war.

The committee said an investigation cleared the scientist and his wife of any subversive activities and said their loyalty never has been questioned by the government.

But under Nelson's guidance, the committee said, a cell of five or six young physicists was developed in the laboratory.

"According to a sworn statement by a witness," the committee said, "Giovanni Rossi Lomanitz was the principal Communist Party Organizer."

The records of this committee also reflect that David Bohm was also a member of this cell.

Both men on two occasions refused to answer questions about membership in the cell on grounds they might incriminate themselves, the committee noted.

"Other alleged members of this cell at the radiation laboratory," it said, "are under investigation by this committee and such evidence of membership will be forthcoming in future hearings of this committee."

100 MORE SHARES SOLD

Centennial certificate sales were beginning to revive Thursday after a lull following the initial surge. Spontaneous sales Wednesday added more than 100 additional certificates to the total sold, pushing the figure at the moment above 2,200.

Booths were being set up downtown to make the certificates more readily available to the public.

The sale of the Centennial certificates is the means by which the Centennial association leaders hope to underwrite the show. While providing working capital in advance of the time that show revenues will be coming in, they also hope to broaden the base of public interest and support.

Meanwhile, volunteers were asking for blocks of certificates to market to friends and acquaintances. A. McIlary took a group with which to work his neighborhood. Gene Crenshaw also asked for a block to offer in the rural sections.

The Centennial was due for further plugs on a national basis. Conna Clark, secretary to John Nelson, Bride and Groom, radio program master of ceremonies, notified H. P. Beck, publicity chairman, that Nelson would be happy to receive a certificate from Eve White, Big Spring.

Miss White is to be married to C. G. Sloval, San Angelo, Aug. 3 (1:30 p.m.) during the program over the ABC network. Efforts will be made to have the presentation during the broadcast, if time will permit. In addition to the certificate she will give a copy of Shins Phillips book, "Big Spring." Pictures will be taken.

Leaving Saturday with Texas delegates for the national star route mail carriers convention in Harrisburg, Pa., Earl C. Evans, Big Spring, Texas, association head, plans to publicize the centennial enroute.

Beck announced that line etchings of the official Centennial seal have been received. He urged that businessmen make use of them by having stationery over-printed by use before the celebration Oct. 24.

Preliminary plans for organization of a house to house canvass of the city were to be mapped at a meeting at 4 p.m. today at headquarters in the Centennial.

Truman Says Public Need Not Be Alarmed By Atom Policy Talks

Truman Gives Aide Permission To Take Stand

Gen. Vaughan May Testify in Probe of 'Five Percenters'

WASHINGTON, July 21. (AP)—President Truman said today that his Army aide, Major General Harry H. Vaughan, has permission to testify if he is called before the Senate committee inquiring into operations of "five percenters."

The President declined to comment, at a news conference, on a story that he had decorated Vaughan in a mock ceremony after the general's recent brush with newsmen in Washington on the five percenters question.

Asked if he had given Vaughan a medal on that occasion, he said a simple no comment.

At the same time, the President said he has always favored inquiries to see that outsiders are not used to obtain government continuing policy.

The President said he does not believe Gen. Vaughan was mixed up in the operations which brought about the congressional inquiry and the suspension of two generals.

He said he had read suggestions of that sort in the papers about Vaughan but did not believe them.

A reporter said Vaughan was reported to have said he believed 95 five percenters were operating in Washington.

Mr. Truman said he doesn't know anything about it if such operations are going on.

A newsmen said that reporters trying to get information had been checkmated in official circles.

Mr. Truman laughed and said he had not tried to checkmate them, that he gave them all the information he has.

And he quipped that there are no secrets around the Blair House.

Senator Hoyer (D-Md.) said today there is a possibility Vaughan may be asked to testify in the Senate inquiry.

Bevin Blasts U. S. Policy For Germany

LONDON, July 21. (AP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin told Parliament today America's unconditional surrender policy for Germany left "a shambles" upon which to rebuild the German nation.

Winston Churchill, leader of the opposition to the Labor government, replied that the unconditional surrender phrase first was mentioned by President Roosevelt "without consultation with me."

Bevin, speaking in a foreign policy debate in the House of Commons, said the first time he had heard the phrase was in the newspapers. The foreign secretary was a member of Churchill's wartime coalition government.

At the end of it, Senator McMahon (D-Conn.), chairman of the committee, said no conclusions had been reached and that the question would be explored further. The first meeting was held at Blair House with President Truman a week ago tonight.

President Hits Leak To Press Before Meeting

Name of Leaker Is Withheld by Chief Executive, However

WASHINGTON, July 21. (AP)—President Truman said today there is nothing for the American people to be alarmed about in current hush-hush talks about atomic foreign policy.

Mr. Truman was sharply critical at a news conference, however, of the man he said leaked information to the press in advance of an atomic policy meeting the President held at Blair House last Thursday.

Mr. Truman said he knows who the man is, but he did not identify him.

The Blair House conference, bringing together high government and congressional leaders, was the first of two major conferences which have been held on atomic matters.

The second was a meeting at the Capitol yesterday, called by the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee.

The second meeting appeared to have eased misgivings of some lawmakers that the President might act on his own to give Britain some A-bomb secrets.

They said that they would not now press for a move to keep the President from acting by executive order in this field.

There had been talk of putting at least the Senate on formal record as saying that the atomic energy law forbids the supplying of atomic secrets to any foreign power unless Congress approves. Apparently, they now are satisfied that Mr. Truman plans no bypassing of Congress at this time.

The Senate-House atomic committee held a two and three-quarter hour meeting with top state, military, and atomic officials on the British-Canadian matter at Capitol Hill yesterday. The participants included Secretary of State Acheson, Secretary of Defense Johnson, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower and the atomic energy commissioners.

At the end of it, Senator McMahon (D-Conn.), chairman of the committee, said no conclusions had been reached and that the question would be explored further. The first meeting was held at Blair House with President Truman a week ago tonight.

Bevin Tackles New Problems

LONDON, July 21. (AP) — Ailing Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin today is trying to clean up loose ends before going on vacation. He is facing a Mid-East problems today and explains his government's foreign policy to Parliament. The 66-year-old Bevin was to open a private conference of British diplomats from the Middle East to plot Britain's future line in that uneasy strategic area. Later, the secretary was to talk for the Labor regime in a debate on foreign policy in the House of Commons. The Conservative opposition is expected to attack the debate. It is the first such debate since the big four agreed at the foreign ministers' conference in Paris on a working arrangement for Germany.

SOLON LEARNS VALUE OF AP

WASHINGTON, July 21. (AP) — Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) is going to consult a newsmen whenever he feels bad in the future. Plagued with a heavy cold, the Wisconsin senator was talking with Jack Bell of the Associated Press. Bell remarked on McCarthy's hoarseness and said: "Senator, I think you've got virus pneumonia." Startled, McCarthy decided to visit Bethesda, Md., Naval Hospital for a checkup. Two hours later he telephoned Bell from his hospital bed. "You were right," he said. "It's virus pneumonia." Treated speedily with a new drug, McCarthy expects to be out long enough to vote on Senate ratification of the North Atlantic Security Treaty. After that, he will go back to bed.

CIO Union In About-Face On T-H Affidavits

CHICAGO, July 21. (AP) — The CIO Mine, Mill and Smelters Workers executive board, in a change of policy after two years, has voted to have the union's officers sign non-Communist affidavits.

Under the Taft-Hartley law such affidavits are required of any union using the facilities of the National Labor Relations Board.

The union, an executive board statement said, "has steadfastly maintained its boycott" of the NLRB for two years but that two recent developments forced a change in this policy.

The board listed them as: "The shameful betrayal of labor's fight for repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act, and as part of that betrayal, the adoption of raiding, gangsterism and strike-breaking as official policy by reactionaries in the leadership of the CIO."

Some 800 workers at the American Zinc Co.'s plant at Fairmont, Ill., have been on strike since last August after the company refused to negotiate with the union because officers would not sign the non-Communist affidavits.

Do You Really Want to Take Off That Ugly Fat?

Recently there has been a number of new reducing preparations on the market, some of them based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It is obvious that vitamins will not reduce the body weight, so one must depend on diet to reduce. But it is also obvious that one cannot go on a strenuous diet over a protracted period, and any weight lost will be restored if the former eating habits are gone back to.

So what to do? Well, here is a tip to you "overweight gals" who want to fight "the Battle of the Bulge" in a different way. Ask any well stocked Texas drugstore for four ounces of Barcinate. Mix with 15 ounces of grapefruit juice and take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. This preparation contains nothing harmful and the makers agree to refund your money on the very first bottle if it does not show you the way to lose ugly fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves. Barcinate is low in cost and is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Barcinate.

DRIVE FOR BETTER DIETS IS SUCCESS

Revolution In Eating Occurs On Texas Farms; Aids Health

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., July 20.—It used to be quite an event in Texas in the old days—that selling the first bale of cotton.

First part was when the coming back from the gin—piled up the bales in front of the town's meat market. He'd crawl down from the wagon, glance into the market with cash money in his pocket, and order up a big hunk of round steak for the whole family.

He'd get a few bones for the dogs, too.

That was about the only beef the family had all year. The rest of the time it ate salt pork. An occasional chicken got the axe to provide a little fresh protein.

What a change a few years make!

The Texas extension service about 1930 began teaching farm families new facts about the food they grew—about how a person with a well-fed feeling may be near starvation because of improper diet. In other words, he might be missing some food elements which his body badly needed.

It wasn't and isn't always a matter of low income. Diseases caused by improper diet are found in homes of the well-to-do as well as in share-cropper's shanties.

Add the drive for better farm diets has been a rousing success. For instance: In 1940, the state nutrition council found more than 1,300 pellagra cases in Texas. Pellagra is caused by diet deficiencies. And even by 1940, farm families' diets had improved remarkably over previous years.

Eight years later, in 1948 there were only 449 cases.

In a recent booklet, "The New Agriculture," published by the extension service, the agency says the diet improvement "was a matter of changing long-established food habits of education."

The extension service began this education but it was the housewife who had the final job. She had to educate her family.

The homemaker of the decade ago was required to learn the Texas Food Standard, a publication explaining about proper diet. Then she had to change her buying and menu habits. Most important, she schemed and cajoled her family into dropping old prejudices against some foods and into learning to like other items.

Today her daughter doesn't have that trouble. She will serve a balanced meal as a matter of course. An instance of changed food habits is meat. The average Texas family used to eat three times as much pork as beef. Now it's down about half and half, which is where nutritionists say it should be.

Head in hand with education have come new methods of food preserving, without which education would be useless.

The first food was canned in a semi-fresh state in 1799. It was only a partial success. Texas had a major part in the world food picture half a century later. It came through a famous Texas colonist, Gail Borden. A New Yorker, he came to the Lone Star State as a member of Stephen F. Austin's colony about 1833 and supervised the surveying of Galveston harbor.

Borden became concerned about the milk supply and developed a process of canning milk—a move that not only benefited the world but founded a great industrial firm.

Canning improvement continued but there were handicaps. Only 30 years ago, an extension service bulletin on canning warned of food sense of smell.

After World War I, commercial food canning increased, and so did home canning.

The extension service appointed a nutrition specialist in 1924—the first state to do so. In 1931, after diet surveys, one of the most intensive educational campaigns ever conducted in Texas got under way. That's when modern diet practices really began in the state.

To Plainview goes credit for the greatest step yet in food preservation for farm folk in Texas. In 1939 the first frozen food locker plant in the state was constructed there. Two other plants were opened that year. One was at Carrollton and the other at Corsicana.

The last war slowed locker plant construction somewhat, but it revived after peace came. As of last year, there were 524 such plants in the state.

As electric service spread to farms, the home storage unit became a fixture in many homes. In 1948, county home demonstration agents reported 18,000 home frozen food units were owned by Texas farm and ranch families, a 50 per cent increase over 1947.

Almost 11,500,000 (m) pounds of meat and fish were stored by farm families in commercial and home freezers in 1948, about twice as much as was stored by any other method. And home demonstration and 4-H club members froze more than 3,250,000 (m) pounds of fruits and vegetables.

Sale Of Aggie Ducats To End

COLLEGE STATION, July 21.—This is the final week for the sale of season tickets to Texas A&M's 1949 home games.

C. D. Ownby, business manager of athletics, reminded fans that all orders for the $18.85 books must be postmarked before July 23, 1949.

The season book includes one ticket each to the Aggies' varsity games with Vallenova Sept. 17; Baylor, Oct. 29; SMU, Nov. 5 and University of Texas, Nov. 24. The book also is good for admission to the Aggies' three home freshman football games and to varsity basketball, baseball and track contest next winter and spring. There is no limit on the number of season books one person may buy.

Orders should be addressed to Athletic Dept. Texas A&M, College Station, Texas.

ON WAY TO FINAL RESTING PLACE — While an American Legion honor guard (left) salutes, a Military Police honor guard places the coffin containing body of Pvt. Rodger Young aboard a train at Chicago, Illinois, after a brief train-side service. The body is being sent to Young's home town, Green Springs, O., for burial. Young who lost his life in the Solomons, was immortalized in Frank Loesser's composition, "The Ballad of Rodger Young." He was posthumously awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor. The body was brought from its battle ground grave to the Quartermaster depot here recently. (AP Wirephoto)

Big Spring Gas Dealers To Attend Training Clinic

Two local butane dealers are due to participate in a two-day training clinic in Midland Aug. 8-9.

S. M. Smith of Smith Butane and L. I. Stewart of Stewart Appliance and Western Transport, are scheduled to enroll in the special session for dealers.

Sterling S. Speake, credit training specialist, and Lester W. Grange, appliance sales training specialist, will conduct the class sessions. Courses are designed for butane dealers, their credit managers, salesmen, office and truck personnel. The state butane dealers association cooperates with the University of Texas in staging the training clinics.

SIGHT NOT ESSENTIAL

The man came in, asked for a camera he could aim by sound, found one he liked, and bought it.

"I was too flabbergasted to ask what he intended to do with the pictures," said Gillins.

New Aid To Polio Treatment Revealed

WASHINGTON, D. C. — One of man's tiniest but toughest foes—the polio bug—is kicking up his summertime antics once more. Whether these tiny viruses—so small that 25,000,000 of them could fit on a pinhead—will produce a major epidemic this year remains to be seen.

But statistics so far for the infantile paralysis "season" which began late in March indicate at least a troublesome trend.

So far, the number of cases for the nation since the start of that season is about 17 per cent greater than had been recorded during the comparable period last year. Last year eventually turned out to be statistically the second worst year on record—with 27,294 cases, topped only by the year 1916 when nearly 30,000 were listed. Officials point out, however, that in recent years, a larger proportion of non-paralytic cases have been included in the totals, whereas in the great epidemic of 1916, the cases listed were virtually all of the paralytic type.

Meanwhile, polio fighters have marshaled whatever resources are available to them to fight this disease.

There is no known drug that can cure polio, no known vaccine that can prevent it in man. Extensive research along both lines is going on, and there are some hopeful leads—but nothing definite.

There are some new aids to the treatment of the disease.

1. A lightweight plastic "lung" designed as a possible substitute for the big, so-called "iron lung" which is required by some patients whose breathing muscles are affected by the disease.

2. A new drug called "prisco" which is described as capable of bringing quick, safe relief from pain in polio—although it does not halt the advance of the virus along the nerve pathways.

3. A number of relatively new skills in orthopedic surgery designed to improve function of muscles and correct deformities of polio patients.

But polio doctors say that treatment—whether by heat, pain-relieving or muscle-relaxing drugs, controlled exercise and massage, or surgery—does not attack the virus itself.

Treatments, they say, are designed first to relieve the patient's pain and make him more comfortable. Subsequent treatment is aimed at re-educating affected muscles and improving their function, or making nearby muscles do the work of paralyzed ones.

Time was when doctors would employ restricting splints and casts on polio patients.

No more. Today, "physical therapy"—the use of the natural forces of heat, massage, water, electricity and exercise—is used by nearly all doctors in charge of such patients.

If polio strikes your community, here is what you might expect on the basis of statistics compiled over the years:

Between 40 and 60 per cent of cases will recover with no visible evidence of after-effects. They may lead a completely normal life.

Another 25 to 30 per cent will be left with moderate paralysis which generally does not prevent useful activities.

Between 15 and 25 per cent of cases suffer extensive paralysis, and about eight per cent of them will die.

Prolific Hamster Is Profitable To Raise

NEW ORLEANS, July 21. (U. S. A.) — A new gulf coast industry is being built around a tiny four-handed furry animal with a big name.

The weak-eyed little fellow commonly is known as the hamster, but to the scientific-minded the proper name is mesocricetus auratus.

It looks like a cross between a field mouse, a guinea pig, and a monkey but in powers of procreation outdoes the rabbit.

With two pair a breeder within a year may raise 100,000 and with the animals selling at $9 to $15 a dozen it can be a lucrative business.

The slow-eyed light golden brown rodent's four feet look like miniature human hands. On them he can scot backward almost as fast as forward as he darts around his little cage.

The hamster was first found in the early 1930's by an explorer excavating near Aleppo, Syria. He shipped a mother and eight baby hamsters to London where scientists immediately became interested.

Because the warm blooded animal reacts to serums in 10 to 14 days—a much shorter period than necessary for rats and guinea pigs—laboratory work can be speeded. They are subject to all the human ills that affect rats and guinea pigs and are highly favored by scientists.

The first hamster shipped to the United States were sent to the U. S. Marine Hospital at Carville, La., the nation's only institution for the treatment of leprosy. Today they are to be found in practically every important medical laboratory and medical school.

Because the hamster thrives in temperatures between 65 and 75 degrees the Gulf states have been found an excellent habitat. One large hamstery is located at Mobile, Ala., and there are two here. They find a ready market for the animals in pharmaceutical laboratories and sell many others as pets.

They make captivating pets. With their heavy black eyes, their soft fur and their baby-like hands they seem to appreciate affection and become quite tame when handled. They are free of odor, have neither lice nor fleas and are subject to no ills of their own.

The hamster stands about five inches high on his hind hands and likes to stand and brush at his nose with both front hands prior to eating.

They are fond of hiding and usually build a small den of straw or hay in a corner of a cage. There they store part of their food and hide their young at the approach of danger.

They eat sparingly of dog food, poultry pellets and green vegetables and frequently store little bits of food in the pouch located beneath each rat-like ear. On occasion when moving her young, a mother hamster will store one of her inch-long babies in the pouch.

There is little work in raising the animals and many breeders in this area do it as a hobby. Little room is required as the average cage is but 12x18x8 inches and can house a mother and her litter.

The hamster is very prolific. Breeding begins when the female is eight weeks old and a litter of anywhere from six to 12 is born 16 days later. A female hamster can be bred six to eight times. After that she becomes sterile but is still valuable as a potential laboratory specimen.

700 Seeking To Leave Shanghai

SHANGHAI, July 21. (U. S. A.) — The American President Lines today said 700 foreigners have asked for reservations if and when a repatriation ship is ordered to Shanghai. These include International Repatriation Organization refugees.

There are about 5,000 foreigners, exclusive of Russians, still in Shanghai.

Many obstacles are still in the path of a repatriation vessel. First safe conduct must be pledged by the blockading Chinese Nationalists. Prospective passengers must obtain exit permits from the Communists. These permits are almost impossible to obtain in many cases.

Many business men who now say they see no future here want to leave but their departure is sure to be preceded by labor troubles and no exit permit will be given until labor problems are settled.

APL spokesmen say it would be difficult to get a repatriation ship to Shanghai quickly. Evacuations from South China Nationalist ports are at their peak now and regular ships are booked solid.

The General Gordon, for example, has 1,800 passengers booked out of Hong Kong and she will not leave there until Aug. 2.

The 700 reservations here include 250 Americans. The number of Americans undoubtedly would increase if it became known definitely an evacuation ship was coming in.

NOTICE TO LATE TAXPAYERS

To those who desire to borrow money with which to pay taxes that have become delinquent, either to the School or the City, a lien, prior to all others, can be transferred by the School or City, on written request of the taxpayer to such as advances the money for the payment of taxes. This is provided for in Article No. 734a Subdivision 2 Revised Civil Statutes.

The Constitution, Art. 16, Subdivision 00, especially provides that a lien attaches on a homestead for the security of the payment of taxes, and the lien is superior to any and all other liens, mortgages, or mechanic liens, and may be foreclosed for the payment of the taxes and the homestead sold.

We have been trying hard to collect the taxes for the School and City without suit, and have sent out thousands of letters, and about half of the delinquent taxes have been paid.

We are now entering suit on every piece of property, treating everyone alike. We can't separate one from the other, and wait on any particular one without waiting all alike.

The School and the City expect to collect all the delinquent taxes and have a clean slate to begin anew.

If in doubt about your taxes, see the tax collector at the School and City; we don't have the tax rolls. We do not want to bring suit, naturally, and much rather the taxes be paid without this trouble.

Please call on us, no trouble to answer questions, and let us be of some help in correcting any error that may occur.

7-Foot Alligator Untaxed House Pet

BUDAPEST, Hungary. (U. S. A.) — Dogs and other common domestic animals in Hungary take a tax—but not the alligator owned by Laszlo Lipthay of Pecs.

The alligator was just a few inches long when he arrived from South America a little over 10 years ago. Now he measures around seven feet. He eats three whittings a week, but slept nine months last winter. All the alligator likes a comfortable armchair in the Lipthay home, and his master says: "Deep and sincere friendship binds us together."

Checkup On VA Hospital Slated

WASHINGTON, July 21. (U. S. A.) — An investigation has been scheduled by the Veterans Administration to answer complaints of engineering and construction faults at the 200-bed VA hospital being built at Martin, Tex.

The announcement was made yesterday by a VA official who asked that his name be withheld. He said the checkup had been asked by Rep. Poage (D-Tex.). Poage said last night he had no comment.

Feature Veal Cutlets For Summertime Fare

By MARTHA LOGAN

Delicately flavored veal cutlets more than merit their share of eating pleasure when combined with garden-fresh vegetables for a savory summer fare.

Choose quality veal that is stamped with a well-known brand. There's no surer test for extra tender and juicy meat. Available at some frozen food sections are the packaged 12 oz. frozen veal cutlets which fit right in with handy summer service.

Cutlets are boneless, no waste pieces of meat, so count on a 3 to 4 ounce cutlet per person or 4 to 5 servings per pound.

You'll be more than satisfied with your culinary score if you follow a few "before cooking" suggestions. Sometimes cutlets are "frenched" to help make the meat more tender. At your meat counter this is done by pounding the meat with a mallet to produce a waffle-like effect on the surface. At home you get the same results by pounding the cutlets with the edge of a saucer or plate.

Then too, a protective coating of flour or sifted cracker or bread crumbs is called for. This added coating helps to prevent the meat juices from escaping during the cooking process. Season the cutlets before the flour or crumb dip for maximum flavor.

Remember that veal needs long, slow, moist cooking to bring out its delicate flavor and make the meat more tender.

In cooking veal cutlets, chops or steak, brown the floured or crumbed pieces in hot fat and add a small amount of liquid as water, milk, or tomato juice to the meat. Cover with a tight-fitting lid and cook slowly on top of the range or in a moderate oven (350°F.) until the meat is fork-tender. This usually takes from 20 to 30 minutes depending upon the thickness of the meat. Or, if you own a pressure cooker, use that instead. For best results, follow the directions that accompany your cooker.

You'll like the added flavor thick tomato slices and say green pepper strips add to breaded cutlets. Serve piping hot with butter-browned mushrooms for an appetizing dinner treat. For a nourishing luncheon suggestion, combine veal with macaroni and cheese. It makes for "good eating!"

SAVORY VEAL CUTLETS

Yield: 4 servings

4 veal cutlets
1 egg, slightly beaten
¼ cup flour
2 tablespoons fat
¼ cup water, tomato juice or milk
4 tomato slices
¼ green pepper, cut in small pieces

Dip cutlets in egg then flour. Brown in hot fat in heavy skillet. Add liquid. Cover and cook slowly about 20 minutes or until fork-tender. Just before finished, place tomato slices and green pepper strips over the meat, and let steam slightly. Serve hot.

VEAL-MACARONI SURPRISES

Yield: 5-6 servings

1 pound veal cutlets, ½ veal shoulder or leg steak, cut thin
Salt, pepper
¼ cup catsup
4 oz. macaroni
¼ cup flour
2 tablespoons fat
1 cup tomato juice
¼ cup shredded cheese

Cut steak into serving pieces about 2 inches by 4 inches. Season with salt and pepper and brush with catsup. Cook macaroni unbroken in boiling salted water until tender. Drain and straighten out in bundles of 8 or 9. Cut bundles in 5-inch lengths and place a group on each piece of meat. Wrap veal loosely around macaroni and fasten edges of meat together with pick. Roll in flour. Brown in hot fat in heavy skillet. Add tomato juice, cover, and simmer slowly one hour. Just before finished, sprinkle shredded cheese over top of meat and let melt slightly.

A reader in Dayton, Ohio, asks me for a recipe for Tomato Soup Dressing. Here is one I have used and like very much:

TOMATO SOUP DRESSING
Ingredients: 1 ten-and-one-half-ounce can condensed tomato soup, 1 cup salad oil, ¼ cup cider vinegar, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 clove garlic, 1 small white onion.

Method: Put the tomato soup, salad oil, cider vinegar, sugar, salt, dry mustard, and Worcestershire sauce in a quart jar with a tightly fitting cover. Peel the garlic clove and cut in two. Peel onion, cut away ends, and slice into thin rounds. Add garlic and onion to dressing; cover jar and shake hard. Allow to stand in refrigerator to blend flavors. Garlic should be discarded but onion rings may be used on a salad. Shake thoroughly each time before using. Makes about 2½ cups.

CHOCOLATE RAISIN SQUARES
Ingredients: ¼ cup sifted cake flour, ¼ teaspoon double-acting baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup butter or margarine (¼ pound), 1 cup granulated sugar, 2 eggs, 2 squares (2 ounces) unsweetened chocolate (melted), ¼ cup seedless raisins, (chopped).

Method: Mix and sift flour, baking powder, and salt together. Cream butter or margarine with a spoon or with electric mixer. Add the sugar a little at a time, continuing to cream. If rotary beater is used beat eggs well and add, mixing well. If electric mixer is used add whole eggs, one at a time, and beat in thoroughly. Add melted chocolate and mix well. Add dry ingredients and stir until an even color. Add chopped raisins and stir well to distribute. Turn into an 8 x 8 x 2-inch greased pan and bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven for 35 minutes. Place pan on cake rack and when partly cool cut into 16 squares. Remove from pan with a spatula.

Note: To chop raisins use a sharp knife and a cutting board.

(Recipe for Starred Dish Follows)

CHICKEN LIVER ENTREE
Ingredients: ¼ pound chicken livers, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, ¼ cup thick strips onion (2 small onions), 1-3 cup thin strips green pepper, ¼ cup thinly sliced celery crescents (1 medium-size stalk), ¼ cup commercially prepared sour cream, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon finely crushed dried rosemary.

Method: Wash the chicken livers in cold water and pat dry. Halve, cutting away stringy membrane, then cut each half in two again. Melt the butter or margarine in an 8-inch skillet, add the onion, green pepper, and celery and cook over low heat about 10 minutes, until partly softened. Add the chicken livers and stirring frequently, cook until done and no red shows when cut through—about 5 minutes or longer. Add the sour cream, salt, and rosemary; stir thoroughly. Cover skillet and heat over low heat—about 5 minutes. 2 servings.

Note: To cut onions in thin strips peel, slice off ends and quarter; now cut each quarter down lengthwise in thin strips and separate in pan with a wooden spoon as they are cooking.

Graham Torte Adds Delight To Bridge

For "bridge fare" or just ordinary every day delectable dessert, there's nothing more satisfyingly tasty than graham cracker torte. Its chewy richness delights the gourmet from age 5 on. And it is so easy to prepare too.

GRAHAM TORTE

Mix: 1½ cups crushed and sifted graham crackers, 1 teaspoon baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt. Beat 5 egg yolks until thick. Add to egg yolks: 2 cups pure cane sugar, 1 cup chopped nuts, 1 teaspoon vanilla. Add dry mixture to egg mixture.

Beat 5 egg whites until stiff; fold into batter. Bake in two wax-paper lined, greased, 8-inch layer pans at 350°F. for 30 minutes. Remove from pan while hot. Put layers together with your favorite jam and top with whipped cream.

FOR HANDICAPPED PERSONS

Ackerly Resident Seeks To Organize Local Chapter Of Indoor Sports Club

Thanks to Mary Wallace of Ackerly, handicapped citizens of this area now have an opportunity to open a new channel of recreation and interest.

Mary, who is a handicapped person, has enlisted the aid of the Big Spring Business and Professional Women's Club, through some assistance from Shine Phillips, to organize a local chapter of the Indoor Sports Club.

Discovers New Fragrance

"I never thought I'd find," says Mrs. L. Lang, Sr., 3818 Baudin, New Orleans, "a washday soap that does a grand job and smells good, too. But I did—it's New Jewel Soap! Now all my clothes come out shining bright and clean, and I have all my friends using Jewel Soap. Yes, it's so fresh, cleaner—and that's a fact you'll happily discover. Only Jewel contains Armol, new miracle ingredient for the cleanest wash ever. Get Jewel today and see!

Big Springers a probably not too familiar with the organization, which is a national movement designed to bring new opportunities for a more well-rounded life to the handicapped.

Indoor Sports club chapters usually meet once a month for a regular business meeting at which time there is a lunch or dinner served by their good-sports able bodied persons who serve as an auxiliary to the chapter. The local R and PW Club has voted to serve as the sponsor group for the local chapter. The dinner or lunch followed by a business meeting and some kind of entertainment such as card parties, artistry parties or sewing meetings for the women to make money for the chapter.

Members of the Indoor Sports Clubs square dance in wheel chairs, bowl, play shuffle board and are starting an extensive sports program which will include volleyball and a number of games which can be played from a wheelchair or in some instances from a bed or stretcher. Members swim, go for boat rides, picnics and do most anything which able bodied people do.

Membership in the Indoor Sports chapters is confined to physically disabled persons, either in beds or wheel chairs, and who require the assistance of one person or mechanical aid to get about, or with a severe visible physical disability and have been handicapped for at least six months. Deaf persons are not included and only 25 per cent of the chapter's membership can be blind.

Only 10 persons are required to form a chapter. Application for membership must be made by blanks now available through members of the local Business and Professional Women's Club. Chapters may charge whatever dues they deem wise so long as the chapter reports to the national headquarters if the dues are over $1.25. A lot of chapters do not charge anything. Dues are two cents per capita a month to the national organization.

Indoor Sports publishes an official newspaper entitled "National Hookup." Twelve issues are printed each year.

Mary Wallace is very interested in the founding of a Big Spring Chapter. At the present time Mamie Mayfield, local B and PW president, and other members of the club, are circulating application blanks to interested persons who contact them.

Aulton A. Auger, national vice president, said in writing Miss Wallace: "I am wishing you all the luck in the world in the formation of a new chapter. As yet, we do not have a chapter in Texas."

Oldster Resents Enforced Idleness

DENTON, Tex., July 21.—"I'd rather be hoeing than doing nothing," 82-year-old J. R. Terry says. "You can't just sit."

Terry, campus workman at Texas State College for Women, Denton, will be out of a job after August 31. On that day the new state employees law, retiring workers 70 or older, goes into effect.

"But Terry's not ready to loaf. 'After they retire I'll have to do some other work.'"

Terry was born in Smith County, Texas. He came to the College around 1916 and now works part time from 7 a.m. to 11 a.m. daily.

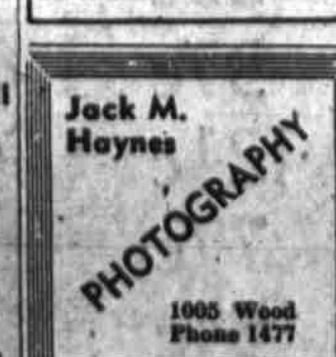

Dalhart High School Burned

DALHART, July 21.—Dalhart's 345 high school students may have to study in makeshift classrooms next fall because their $750,000 school burned.

The fire began yesterday on the top floor of the three-story building. Fire Chief B. W. McMeen said the building was a total loss.

An explosion, perhaps a chemical in the science laboratory, signaled the start of the fire. Three and a half hours later, the three local fire trucks, helped by volunteers, brought the blaze under control.

Mayor E. G. Shugart ordered the area roped off and had special police assigned to keep people away because walls were standing, were dangerously wobbly.

LEADERS NOT TOO OPTIMISTIC

Sept. 1 Is Set As Target Date For Adjournment Of Congress

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Congressional leaders have set Sept. 1 as the target date for adjourning this session of Congress.

They aren't too optimistic about it and figure that it may be Labor Day or later before all the odds and ends of legislation are cleaned up.

House Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts told newsmen he is scheduling the House business docket to clear up all "must" bills by the end of August.

In this category are bills to increase the minimum wage payable in interstate industry, to extend social security coverage, and possibly to provide federal aid to education.

No action is planned this session on other major bills still pending, including revision or repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor relations law. They will lay over until the second session of the 81st Congress, meeting in the congressional election year 1950.

Any minimum wage legislation brought to the House floor may be stripped of controversial features.

It simply would raise from 40 cents to 65 or 75 cents the minimum hourly wage, without extending the protection of the minimum to workers not now covered.

A bill to broaden social security coverage is pending in the House Ways and Means Committee and probably will be sent to the House floor in a week or so.

Aid-to-education legislation has been passed by the Senate and is being up in the House Labor and Education Committee. It is being opposed by a formidable group which says that it discriminates against children of Catholics and other religious sects.

A top House leader said it won't be brought out if a Fessie vote unless there is a good chance to pass it. A vote of 200-100, minus 10 Senate-passed bill to aid states in providing health assistance to all school children.

A high House Republican predicted that there will be no House action this year on the education bill. "That's going over to next year," he said. "If we leave over the Catholics, we will catch the demons from the Catholics, and if we put them in, we'll catch it from the Baptists. You can't win that kind of a fight."

The House may finish its work around Aug. 19 and go into a series of three-day recesses while waiting for the Senate to wind up its docket.

Technically, under the 1946 Congressional Reorganization Act, Congress must adjourn not later than July 31 of each year except in time of war or national emergency.

House experts have held that since peace treaties have not been signed, the nation still is at war and the adjournment deadline in the 1946 law does not apply.

Verdict For U. S. Sought In TC Suit

HOUSTON, July 21.—Federal attorneys plan to ask for a judgment favoring the government Monday in the $200 million Texas City disaster damage suits mass trial.

Attorneys for the 2,000 plaintiffs rested their case yesterday. Government attorneys said they will present a motion for judgment on grounds the plaintiffs did not offer enough evidence to prove the government is liable for damages suffered in the 1947 waterfront disaster.

Burned Child Is 'Over The Worst'

PHILADELPHIA, July 21. (U. P.) — Little Melvin Hill "is over the worst" of a series of skin grafting operations to repair the damage caused by a blast of kerosene last Dec. 8.

That was the good word today from the five-year-old boy's doctor, Hans May, who says of his patient: "He's one of the nicest little boys I've ever seen."

Melvin, one of 10 children of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hill of Flemington, Pa., suffered third degree burns from his waist down as he peered, a kerosene-covered above into a furnace.

He spent four months in Lock Haven Hospital before he was brought to Lankenau Hospital in Philadelphia last April for a long series of skin grafting operations.

"He was just a ghost of a little boy when he came," Dr. May recalled.

Dr. May said he used skin from the child's own back for the first operations to cover both ankles, legs, and part of his chest.

"Then I ran out of skin," the doctor explained.

To add to the dilemma, part of the area from which the good skin

Merger Of Two Texas Firms Is Announced

DALLAS, July 21. (U. P.) — C. H. Zachry of Dallas said a merger of Texas Public Service Co. into Southern Union Gas Co. became effective today with a Chicago meeting of Southern Union's board of directors.

Zachry is president of Southern Union. He said directors acted after the required two-thirds majority of stockholders of both companies approved the merger at separate meetings in Dallas July 14.

Zachry said also that directors had named William Lawlor, Jr., of Austin, Tex., a vice president of Southern Union. Lawlor had served as vice president of Texas Public Service.

He said that the natural gas distribution systems in Austin, Galveston, Port Arthur, Griffling Park, Groves, Lakeview, Nederland, Pear Ridge, Port Neches, and Port Acres, Tex., formerly owned by Texas Public Service, would be operated as the South Texas district of Southern Union.

Lawlor will supervise operations of the 10 cities out of Austin. Zachry said Paul E. Nicholls would remain in charge of operations in Galveston and John H. Pritchard would continue to operate the Port Arthur, Griffling Park, Groves, Lakeview, Nederland, Pear Ridge, Port Neches and Port Acres properties.

With new customers added by the merger, Southern Union now serves approximately 160,000 consumers in 42 towns and cities in Texas, New Mexico, and Colorado. Zachry said combined assets of the company since the merger are more than $40 million and employes total more than a thousand.

The 32 other cities and towns served by Southern Union are in West Texas, New Mexico, and Colorado. They include El Paso and Pecos.

Hiss Trial Linked With Move To Tighten Security Statutes

WASHINGTON, July 21. (U. P.) — Developments in the recent Alger Hiss perjury trial now have been linked with a congressional move to tighten the nation's security laws.

One of the developments—the calling of U. S. Supreme Court justices to the witness stand—has been under scrutiny by the lawmakers for several days.

Atty. Gen. Tom Clark cited another yesterday in a letter to the Senate in which he urged passage of a pending bill which would provide jail sentences up to 10 years and fines up to $10,000 for unauthorized procurement, delivery or possession of documents or information bearing upon the national defense.

Clark called attention to the testimony of Henry Julian Wadleigh, a former State Department employee.

He said that although Wadleigh testified under oath that "he had illegally abstracted State Department documents for eventual delivery to a foreign government, existing laws appear to make his prosecution impossible."

Wadleigh could not be prosecuted under the existing wartime espionage act; his admitted actions occurred before the war.

The legislation to which Clark addressed himself was approved by the judiciary committee May 28 and is awaiting Senate action.

Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) proposed an amendment to it yesterday to make sure it would not infringe on press freedom.

The amendment, suggested by Elisha Hanson, general counsel of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, reads:

"Nothing in this act shall be construed to authorize, require or establish military or civilian censorship or in any way to limit or infringe upon freedom of the press or of speech as guaranteed by the constitution of the United States and no regulation shall be promulgated hereunder having that effect."

Hanson told a reporter that he wrote the letter in his capacity as a private lawyer and not as counsel for the publishers' association.

In a letter to McCarran, he said the amendment would not defeat the purpose of the legislation, but would "serve to limit overzealous administration."

Justice Frankfurter, who testified in the perjury trial as a character witness for Hiss, said he "deemed it an unnecessary formalty to be formally served with a subpoena" to appear at the trial.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Thurs., July 21, 1949 11

Hiss, a former State Department official, was charged with perjury in denying before a federal grand jury that he gave secret government documents to Whittaker Chambers, self-styled wartime courier for a Communist spy ring.

Chambers said Hiss was one of his chief sources.

The jury failed to reach a verdict. The government has said it will try Hiss again in the fall.

The New York Yankees have won the American League pennant 15 times under three managers—Miller Huggins (6), Joe McCarthy (8) and Ruckey Harris (1).

SWATTERS FALL

Pancho Perez Wins Sixth Decision Behind Cayuses

SWEETWATER, July 21.—Francisco (Pancho) Perez achieved his sixth pitching success of the Longhorn league season when he hurled the Big Spring Braves to a 6-2 win over the Sweetwater Swatters here Wednesday night.

Perez scattered eight hits over the route to outshine Harry Christensen in a mound duel. Christensen surrendered only nine safeties but was betrayed by erratic fielding on the part of his mates. The Braves picked up four unearned tallies as Sweetwater committed six bloopers.

The Cayuses went out in front to stay in the third with a three-run outburst after getting one in the fifth. They added two more in the fifth.

Pat Stacey and Ray Vasquez hit triples for the Braves. Each had two blows along with Hector Bonet, new first sacker.

The loss was Sweetwater's ninth in a row and dropped them into a tie for the cellar position.

Big Spring and Sweetwater wind up their three game set tonight. Manny Rodriguez may twirl for the Big Springers while Sweetwater's choice could be Lou Lockhart.

Negroes Returning To Homes In Florida Town After Race Riot

GROVELAND, Fla., July 21. (U-P) — Negroes began filtering back to their homes here today, their fears calmed by national guard troops. Some looted on the long business street of this tiny lumber and truck farming town. They seemed at ease for the first time since racial violence broke out last Saturday after the rape of a white housewife. Three Negroes were indicted for the crime late last night. Troops, 300 strong, loitered beside 50-caliber machine guns and weapons carriers. Some townsfolk hoped the guard would remain over the week end, fearing another outbreak if they left.

Brig. Gen. Mark Lance, state adjutant general, was due here at noon to talk the situation over with Sheriff W. V. McCall. Gen. Lance said yesterday the troops would remain here indefinitely.

The guardsmen kept a weather eye out for trouble after noting a sudden influx of cars from Alabama and Georgia.

One man was nabbed by guardsmen late last night and a pistol confiscated after he had been observing cruising near a Negro settlement at nearby Clermont. He was released.

The indictment of the three Negroes for the rape of Mrs. Willie Padgett was returned almost on the stroke of midnight by a special grand jury convened at the Lake County seat of Tavares, 25 miles from here.

Accused of the crime, a capital offense in Florida, were Charlie Green, Samuel Shepherd, and Walter Irvin, all about 20.

The indictment made no mention of a fourth Negro whom Mrs. Padgett charges also participated in the assault on her and the robbery-beating of her husband last Friday. This Negro is still at large.

In its finding, the jury ignored Sheriff McCall's charges against the Negroes of kidnapping and robbery, but asked to be called back later to continue its investigation.

School Election Results Canvassed

Members of the county commissioners court Tuesday spent their time canvassing results of the recent Coahoma-Midway school consolidation election.

In the balloting, Midway voters defeated the proposal to consolidate the two common school districts. Of the 70 ballots cast in that district, only 20 favored consolidation. Coahoma voters favored the proposal, 30-2.

No changes resulted in the canvassing.

Corporation Court Traffic Light Today

Traffic was light in corporation court this morning. Only two cases were on the docket for Judge William E. Greenless. Fines of $6 each were assessed after two persons pleaded guilty to charges of intoxication.

City Mail Carriers To Attend Meeting In Pennsylvania

Texas delegates to the national convention of star route mail carriers will leave Saturday for Harrisburg, Pa.

Earl C. Evans, Big Spring, Texas association president and former national association vice-president, said the delegates would drive through together. Others making the trip will be Clyde Palm, Big Springs, Arnold Schubert, Comal county, Carl Hogan, Lamesa.

They were chosen at the June 12 state meeting in Brownwood, which set not only a record for Texas but also exceeded national conventions in attendance, said Evans. A feature of that meeting was a barbecue. J. H. Beale, Sr. and W. L. Wilson, Sr., ranchers on Evans' Gail route, donated 800 pounds of beef for that occasion.

Texas has 650 star routes stretching 28,831 miles. Annually more than 17 million miles are traveled by carriers in performance of duties. They draw a payroll of more than $1,000,000.

Evans said the delegates hoped to visit Washington, D. C. and New York. Convention dates are July 25-28.

Clowns' Diving To Be Featured At Local Swim Meet

Diving exhibitions by clowns B. B. Lees and Bobby Dillon will be featured at the annual YMCA Swim Meet and Water Carnival at the Municipal pool Saturday night.

High dives through a flaming hoop and other trick and fancy dives will be executed by the two. Bobo Hardy, YMCA athletic director, said, in addition, a comic relay will be staged by Billy Van Pelt, Eddie Houser, Jackie Little, and W. C. Blankenship.

Performances by the clowns and a water ballet by six Big Spring bathing beauties will be unveiled between competitive events of the yearly meet. A walking race across the shallow end of the pool will be held for non-swimmers.

Contestants in the meet will be entered in one of three divisions. The junior and senior boys' divisions will each include four events—diving, back stroke, breast stroke, and free style. Two events back stroke and free style, are on the card for the girls' division.

Performing in the Water Ballet will be Beverly Stulting, Pat McCormick, June Cook, Ann Crocker, Susan Houser, and Kitty Roberts. Glen Puckett is to be starter for all the race events, while Hugh Cochran, Barbara Moore, John Dhillrell are to be judges. Ricki Cooper is recorder.

Water Production Here Near Record

Water production Wednesday was 5,219,000 gallons, closest the city has come to the record consumption of 5,252,000 gallons on July 7.

Daily usage exceeded the five million mark on one other occasion this year. On June 22, 5,004,000 gallons were pumped.

Consumption has been increasing steadily this week since hitting a low Sunday of 2,725,000 gallons. City Engineer E. L. Killingsworth had predicted Monday that daily production was likely to hit the five million gallon marker this week if hot weather continued.

FPC Okays Sale Of Gas From Pipelines

WASHINGTON, July 21. (U-P) — The power commission yesterday gave the Texas Eastern Transmission Corp., Shreveport, La., the authority to sell a surplus of natural gas from the Big and Little Inch pipelines.

However, the commission ordered that the surplus be sold to regular customers and not to utility companies or other concerns not authorized as customers of the system.

Texas Eastern said the surplus, resulting from a reduced demand in some sections, would range from 60,280,000 cubic feet a day in July to 24,250,000 cubic feet daily in October.

Senators Assured Alaska Deferred

WASHINGTON, July 21. (U-P) — Secretary of Defense Johnson assured senators today that adequate plans for defending Alaska are in operation but he asked to tell about them at a secret session.

Johnson appeared before the Senate Armed Services Committee to urge quick approval of $643 million worth of construction projects for the Army, Navy, and Air Forces.

Elks Meeting

A meeting of Elks has been called for 8 p. m. today at the Settles hotel. Carl Gross, who called the meeting, said that numbers of Elks in Big Spring had expressed an interest in reactivating a lodge here. He urged Elks to attend the parley.

Let's Keep Them

LONDON, July 21. (U-P) — Home Secretary Cauter Ede told Parliament today it would be unwise to abandon Britain's air raid shelters "in the present position of the world."

KINGSVILLE, July 21. (U-P) — Red McLaughlin, of Kingsville has proved that "the fish that got away" was a big one. He hooked it in the Nueces River but before he could land it the fish jerked free and swam away.

An interested onlooker with a camera snapped McLaughlin struggling with the fish and gave him the negative.

After a look at the snapshot, McLaughlin guessed the fish weighed 50 pounds.

Highway Body Plans Spending Of $30 Million

AUSTIN, July 21. (U-P) — Details of how the $30 million voted for rural roads will be spent were being worked out today by the State Highway Commission.

Chairman Fred Wemple announced that designation of roads to be improved would be announced later today. He made the statement at the opening of a two-day public hearing on a long list of road projects.

The money, to be spent at the rate of $1 million a year, was voted by the 51st Legislature.

Plans are virtually complete for all but about 15 of the state's 254 counties, Wemple said. The commission has been working with county commissioners' courts and civic groups on the huge road improvement program.

In the last two days, low bids totaling $6,054,222 on a variety of construction jobs already approved have been tabulated by the highway commission in preparation for letting of contracts and actual start of work.

That included $3,221,081 yesterday.

The commission's public hearing on suggested new projects will continue through tomorrow.

Troops May Mine Coal In Walkout

SYDNEY, Australia, July 21. (U-P) — The Australian government plans to send 3,000 troops to mine coal from open cuts in New South Wales Aug. 1, unless the crippling coal strike is over by that time.

The troops are expected to supply 55,000 tons of coal per week, enough to keep up the present ration of electricity and gas in New South Wales.

Six Syrians Executed

BEIRUT, Lebanon, July 21. (U-P) — Six alleged members of the National Syrian Party, an outlawed political group, were shot to death this morning in a mass execution. They had been convicted of armed revolt against the government.

TIMES-HERALD SOLD

Chicago Tribune Buys Capital Paper

CHICAGO, July 21. (U-P) — The Washington Times-Herald, the capital's biggest daily newspaper, has been purchased by the Chicago Tribune, which has the largest circulation of any standard size newspaper in the country.

Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of the Tribune, last night announced the purchase of the newspaper once owned by his cousin, the late Mrs. Eleanor M. (Cissie) Patterson.

His brief announcement said the present management of the Times-Herald will be continued.

Purchase price and other details were not disclosed. The Tribune bought the Times-Herald from seven of its executives who were will of the newspaper by Mrs. Patterson's death of a heart attack on July 24, 1948.

The sale returned ownership of the Times-Herald to a grandchild of Joseph Medill, Chicago's famed civil war editor. A third Medill grandchild, the late Capt. Joseph Medill Patterson, Mrs. Patterson's brother, founded the New York Daily News, and was its publisher until his death May 26, 1946.

Mrs. Patterson, who was a leading society figure in Washington for many years, was the daughter of Robert Wilson Patterson, a former editor of the Chicago Tribune. In 1909 she became editor of the Washington Herald, then owned by William Randolph Hearst. Later she leased the Herald and the Times, also owned by Hearst, with an option to buy both papers.

On Jan. 1, 1938, she exercised the option and consolidated the two papers into the Washington Times-Herald.

Police Baffled As VA Hospital Nurse Vanishes

NEW ORLEANS, July 21. (U-P) — What happened to a bespectacled, 25-year-old nurse who disappeared Sunday? That she met with violence or is she a victim of amnesia? Police admitted today they were baffled.

The nurse, Marybelle Joseph, has been missing from the veterans hospital on the shore of Lake Pontchartrain since Sunday.

Detective Chief Harry J. Daniels said teams of detectives and police have been unable to find a trace of her.

Daniels discounted a terse phone call from a man who told the hospital, "I've got Marybelle Joseph," then hung up. The detective chief said he believed the call came from a crank.

Police searched shore waters of the lake for her body. "There's no love angle or deception that we can find," Daniels added. "We're puzzled about what could have happened."

Miss Marion Fox, hospital chief nurse, expressed the belief Miss Joseph was an amnesia victim.

The chief nurse described the missing woman as "the quiet, sober type," and said "She's the last person to disappear without telling anyone."

Klan Officer Quits In Row

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 21. (U-P) — The presiding officer of the Ku Klux Klan in Alabama quit today after a row with another high Klan official.

"I differ with some of the elements that have wormed their way into the Klan—men who use Klan robes to go out and whip people," said Dr. E. P. Pruitt, Birmingham physician.

A grand jury is investigating the white-robed order in connection with a wave of floggings and cross burnings by masked mobs. It has been called into session tomorrow after a week's recess.

Dr. Pruitt, 72, said he is resigning as chairman of the Klan's board of governors and leaving the city. William Hugh Morris, Klan Director, had announced yesterday the announcement from a jail cell where he is in the 14th day of an indefinite sentence for contempt of court.

The Klan director was ordered held until he produced membership records of the order for the previous grand jury. This jury returned 44 indictments against 17 men for flogging, burglary, and boycotting in connection with the alleged mob violence.

In another move, State Attorney General Albert A. Carmichael singled out the Federated Ku Klux Klan, Inc., for a legal attack seeking revocation of the Klan charter.

Market Lower In Livestock Sale Here

The market was generally lower in the regular weekly sale at the Big Spring Livestock Auction company Wednesday, when some 500 cattle and an estimated 60 hogs went through the ring.

Fat bulls brought up to 18.50, a few fat calves up to 23.50 and "in between" ranged from 16.00 to 20.00. Fat cows lured bids up to 15.00 while canner and cutter cows sold for 11.00 to 13.50. The best stocker steers sold for 20.00 to 22.00, stocker heifer calves for 18.00 to 21.00 and hogs to 21.50.

WILDCAT GOING AHEAD

Find Gas-Cut Mud On Drillstem Test

Slightly gas-cut mud was recovered on a drillstem test of the Sprayberry sand in the C. L. Norworthy, Jr. No. 1, Mary T. Christian, north-central Howard wildcat, Wednesday.

Tool on the test was opened for 30 minutes. There was a slight blow of gas and recovery was 540 feet of slightly gas-cut mud with no oil. Thursday morning the venture was preparing to drill ahead.

The zone tested was from 5,699-6,000 feet. Location is 918 feet from the south and 1,900 feet from the west lines of section 48-32-24, T&P a deepening operation from the Santa Fe test abandoned at 4,165 in 1946.

Mitchell county's first Ellenburger well was completed officially Wednesday with a daily potential of 172 barrels.

The exploration, Superior No. 1, J. R. Dockery, 3 1/2 miles south of Westbrook and in the general area where the first commercial producer of the Permian Basin was recorded in October of 1930, showed 60 barrels of salty sulphur water along with its flow of 45.3 gravity oil through 11-64th-inch choke. Gas-oil ratio was listed as 234-1. Ellenburger pay was topped at 7,564 feet and the test bottomed at 6,004 feet. Casing was cemented at 7,900 feet and the zone treated with 1,000 gallons of acid. Information filed with the railroad commission was the first official report since the well was drilled "tight." Previously, it had been

Mexican Money May Be Used In Oil Development

MEXICO CITY, July 21. (U)—Mexican financiers may lead Mexico to the money she needs for oil development and failed to get from the United States.

Excelsior reported today that an important group of Mexican businessmen is studying the needs of Pemex, the government petroleum monopoly. The newspaper said the group may put up the capital for building new refineries and pipelines, but that it probably would not lend risk capital for wildcatting.

It said the group, as a guarantee, might take Pemex's surplus oil and gasoline for marketing abroad.

Mexico last March asked the United States for a $200 million loan to develop her oil industry. Negotiations went along for five months, and then Mexico suddenly called them off.

It was reported unofficially that the end to the talks came because there was a demand that Mexico let the foreign oil companies come back. Their properties were expropriated in 1938, and the oil business has been a government monopoly since.

Mexican newspapers blamed Mexico's failure to get a U. S. loan on interference from the expropriated oil companies.

Excelsior said today that Washington "bowed before the demands of the oil companies" and added the warning: "This was an error which may easily be exploited by Communist agitators to endanger continental unity."

Excelsior pointed out that Communists are trying to mobilize the world's underdogs against "imperialism" and "international monopolies" and said: "The easy retreat of the U. S. government before the offensive of the powerful oil companies can lead to much misunderstanding in Latin America. It surely will be used for propaganda by the Communists."

Rayburn Backing Skelton For Post

WASHINGTON, July 21. (U)—Speaker Sam Rayburn told newsmen yesterday that he feels Byron Skelton, Tex., attorney, has the best claim to the job of national democratic committeeman from Texas if Wright Morrow is given a diplomatic appointment.

Morrow has been mentioned as a possible ambassador to Belgium. National Democratic Chairman McGrath (D-R) has said the committee will recommend him if he wants the post.

GUATEMALA BATTLE DESCRIBED Bombings Terrify U. S. War Veteran

NEW ORLEANS, July 21. (U)—A battle-hardened American war veteran said he was terrified by wild bombings which marked the recent Guatemala revolt.

Ben A. Hardaway, a Columbus, Ga., contractor, and about 30 other American tourists and businessmen landed in New Orleans last night on the first planes from the now-quiet country.

A Pan American and Taca Airways plane brought them in.

Hardaway told newsmen he was in the Victoria Hotel when the shooting began. He described its location about midway between the government-controlled airport and Fort Guardia De Honor, revolt headquarters. The airport and fort are about 700 yards apart.

Hardaway, a tank battalion major in the European conflict, said he thought the bombing planes were Guatemala government craft trying to hit the fort.

"Those pilots had me terrified," he declared. "They were opening their bomb bays and dropping bombs indiscriminately. We never knew at what moment a bomb might hit our hotel."

He said hotel guests crowded into the lobby for safety with a feeling of "complete helplessness."

Small arms fire peppered the hotel and heavier shells whizzed overhead. Hardaway said, adding: "Being under fire was never more frightening than that was in Guatemala."

Miss Mourine Stein said she and her roommate, Miss Annabelle Obergau, both of St. Louis, got movies of some of the fighting.

She watched from the third floor of the Pan American Hotel, just across the square from the National Palace. A boy with a group of youngsters was hit, she said, and crumpled to the street. Companions pulled him away.

Miss Stein reported frightened guests slept on the floors to escape bullets which ripped into the hotel.

Dudley E. Dawson, Jr., Waterman Steamship Co. executive, Mobile, Ala., said he saw many young men, some not over 14 years old, "walking the streets and carrying rifles and looking grim."

Miss Victoria Rosenfeld, Chicago, Ill., said American visitors had plenty of meat to eat during the fighting but no vegetables.

The plane passengers said the all-clear came about 11 p. m. Tuesday night.

Despite its tiny size, a chigger can travel a foot and a half per minute on a warm day.

Guatemalans Asked To Turn In Their Arms

GUATEMALA, July 21. (U)—President Juan Jose Arevalo's regime today urged civilians who fought for the government in this week's brief revolt to turn in their arms lest violence flare again.

Officials had voiced fear that some 1,500 troops and civilians, brought into the capital when fighting broke out Monday, might stir trouble. Latest reports, however, said police had everything in hand.

A defense ministry source estimated that at least 60 persons were killed in the military revolt which erupted after the assassination Monday of Col. Francisco Javier Arana, chief of the armed services. Other estimates place the toll as high as 300.

Among the reported casualties is Paul Pretexat-Lecomte, French commercial attaché to Central America. Observers said he was wounded by machine gun slugs Tuesday morning while driving in the southern part of the city. He is reported recovering in the hospital.

Another member of the foreign colony, Miguel Angel Sandoval, a concert pianist of New York City, was reported captured by rebel forces during the revolt, but released Tuesday night.

A bomb fell within two blocks of the residence of U. S. Ambassador Richard C. Patterson, Jr., on Tuesday.

The abortive revolt flickered out early yesterday after loyal troops and civilian volunteers gained control of Fort Guardia De Honor, center of the uprising.

It was the first full-fledged rebellion to develop from 20 plots reported directed against Arevalo's regime since he was elected in 1944 to a six-year term. Arevalo is forbidden by law to succeed himself.

Arana, a congressional appointee, was shot to death while on a tour southwest of the capital. A sub-director of police, Lt. Col. Enrique Blanco, who was with him, also was slain.

MAY QUIT CHANGSHA Chinese Comeback Hopes Are Dimmed

CANTON, July 21. (U)—Nationalist China's comeback hopes, aroused by the visit of Chiang Kai-shek to Canton, were dimmed today by news from the Central China front.

Private reports placed the Communists only 20 miles north and east of Changsha, capital of Hunan Province.

The reports suggested the city would be abandoned without a fight.

Nationalist troops in Hunan, like those in Hunan and Kiangsi Provinces, are commanded by Moslem Gen. Pai Chung-hai, former minister of defense. He is estimated to have 200,000 men.

The question is whether Pai will fight a decisive battle against the Reds in Hunan or retire. If he pulls out another question is where will he go—Kwangtung Province or his native Kwangsi?

Some analysts believe the Communists, instead of trying to drive into Kwangtung Province, where this provisional capital is located, will turn their attention to rich Szechwan, China's most fertile province.

The Communists are believed to be desperately in need of food and therefore might strike at the wartime capital Chungking in Szechwan in a vast pincer movement.

One Red arm, analysts say, may strike southward from the newly won Shensi city of Paochi, which is the western terminus of the Lung-hai railroad.

Another arm of the Red forces might head for Szechwan from the Yangtze River port of Ichang at the foot of the Yangtze gorges.
