Colquitt Davis, Captured, Names Brother In Keirsey Death

YOUTH HELD IN AMARILLO AFTER ARREST

Fugitive Surrenders to Officer in Field Near Hereford

ADMITS ROBBERIES

Suspect Denies Part In Death of Texas Grocer

AMARILLO, Texas, Dec. 15. (AP)—Placing the blame for the murder of Con Keirsey, Ardmore, Okla., deputy sheriff, on his dead brother, D. I. Davis, who was killed in Wichita, Kan., by officers last Friday night, Colquitt Davis is in jail in Amarillo.

Davis was captured in a field three miles east of Hereford Monday afternoon, Emmett Hale, a Hereford city officer, taking him prisoner after covering him with his gun and making him put up his hands.

Hale was alone when he ran onto Davis, who had quit the railroad, and was proceeding across country. Davis also was alone.

Amarillo officers, receiving word that Davis was "spotted" at Hereford, rushed there in two automobiles Monday afternoon.

Denies Slaying

On the way back from Hereford, Davis denied any connection with the slaying of Harold A. McCarrick, Amarillo grocer, near his home.

"I never fired a shot," was his statement to Sheriff W. N. Thompson and Chief of Police W. R. McDowell.

Later on the trip back, Davis expressed a wish to make a statement to District Attorney Edward Thomerson, and early Monday night the prosecutor began to take the prisoner's statement.

He implicated himself, it is understood, in several robberies.

'Tip' Ends Hunt

The tip that took the Hereford officer to the field three miles out of Hereford ends an intensive manhunt that has been waged by Oklahoma, Texas and Kansas officers since the fatal gun fight at Wirt, Okla., on last Wednesday night.

After the Davis boys left Wirt, they drove to Ringling where a doctor was forced at the point of a gun to dress the wounds of D. I. Davis, who was shot in both arms.

Freezing Temperatures Come To All Of Texas With Snow Predicted

(By The Associated Press)

Unless the weather forecaster miscalculated, few sections of Texas will be without freezing temperatures Tuesday, since a cold wave that came to Texas Sunday night was able to beat down the mercury in thermometers from the Panhandle and Plains country to the southernmost tip of the state at Brownsville.

The official forecast was for freezing weather "nearly to the coast." Ice, and in some places snow, already had penetrated deeply into Texas and the freezing and below-freezing line was steadily falling back last night.

Amarillo and Pampa and other points in the Panhandle and Plains sections reported snow flurries, augmenting a fall Sunday. Amarillo's minimum Sunday night was 16 degrees and the mercury hovered around the freezing mark most of Monday.

While Brownsville did not anticipate colder weather than 40 degrees, Laredo, also on the Rio Grande, was expecting freezing temperature.

The section around Dallas was told a minimum of 26 degrees was probable and the eastern part of West Texas was in for a "hard freeze."

Beaumont's minimum Monday was 43, but a drop of 33 to 36 was probable during the night. Houston reported a minimum of 42 yesterday with a "light freeze" forecast for today. Austin's minimum yesterday was 40. Corsicana's low was 41, but the mercury was falling steadily as night came on.

The cold wave struck Electra Sunday, and the temperature had dropped to 30 degrees at noon Monday. No rain, sleet or snow fell, but oil companies warned their lease foremen to drain water lines in expectation of the hardest freeze of the season.

FIRST HARD FREEZE PROMISED WICHITA

After skimming the edges of freezing weather Sunday night, the temperature in the Wichita Falls area started downward again Monday afternoon with indications that the night would bring the season's first hard freeze. The cold wave, already gripping the Panhandle and parts of Oklahoma, moved southward Monday on the wings of a piercing north wind, and at 10 o'clock Monday night the thermometer here registered 32 degrees and was still falling from a maximum of 48 during the day.

Heavy skies boded more snow, though only light flurries were reported in the section Monday. Mercury fell to 27 degrees at Altus, Okla., during the day and a few snow flakes were reported. A light fall of sleet accompanied the temperature drop in Wellington and a trace of snow fell at Paducah, with the temperature just above freezing in the late afternoon.

Along the Denver road, falling temperatures ranged from 33 degrees at Quanah to 37 at Fort Worth. Similar readings were given at Crowell and at Duncan, Okla. The Katy reported a minimum temperature of 24 at Forgan, Okla., 26 at Woodward, with clouds hanging low over the whole area.

Husband Punishes Wife For Bum Pie Made Six Years Ago

CHICAGO, Dec. 15. (UP)—Pie was the cause of it all, why Charles Zieba was sent to jail today, why Mrs. Zieba repaired to her bed to recover from a cold in her head. Mrs. Zieba explained the situation thus in municipal court:

"One day about six years ago when I was a bride, I made some pie for my husband. He ate it and looked at me queerly.

"'That,' he said, 'Is terrible pie.' Well, judge we had some words. Then finally I forgot all about it, except that during the last six years I've never made a pie.

"Then my husband came in last night. We were in the kitchen. I turned on the water faucet and he pounced on me and shoved my head under the tap. I screamed and neighbors called police.' 'Why,' I asked him, 'Did you do that?'

"'Just as if you didn't know,' he answered. 'That pie you made six years ago, well I've had indigestion ever since.'"

DEMOS DEFEAT RELIEF SLASH

Hoover's Program Backed By Senator Watson

By FRASER EDWARDS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15. (US)—President Hoover's emergency unemployment and farm relief program was vigorously defended in the senate today by Senator James E. Watson, of Indiana, Republican leader, in an effort to check the rising tide of criticism in congress.

Meanwhile, the house failed in an effort to jam through a $30,000,000 drouth relief measure in place of thee senate bill appropriating $60,000,000. The vote for the measure was 205 to 159, but under a suspension of rule, a two-thirds vote was necessary for passage. Thus it appeared the president would gain a victory when the $30,000,000 measure is brought up again under a rule requiring only a majority for passage.

Watson's speech, which was the first defense of the administration's program to come from the Republican leadership in the senate, constituted the opening of the attack on the La Follette resolution taking a slap at the president's relief attitude.

It was delivered after the senate had rebuked the conferees on the $116,000,000 construction relief bill for receding on the senate amendment curbing the president's powers to spend the fund as he saw fit, before the conference had been authorized by the senate.

During the running debate between Watson and Democratic and Progressive senators, Senator McNary of Oregon, assistant Repub-

Student Slays Parents And Burns Farm Home

NASHVILLE, Ind., Dec. 15. (UP)—A 26-year old engineering student ran amuck today on his farm home near here, shot and killed his father and mother, wounded a farm hand and burned down the home.

Paul Brown, the student, was believed to have escaped from the house and Sheriff Starr Wilkinson organized a posse to search the surrounding country for him.

Charred bodies of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Brown, were recovered from the house. Chester Buge, farm hand, was brought to a hospital here for treatment of shotgun wounds.

Moody Suggests Padlock to Halt Sale of Liquor to T. U. Students

AUSTIN, Dec. 15. (UP)—Gov. Dan Moody late today suggested to Attorney General R. L. Bobbitt that state injunction proceedings be filed to stop liquor sales in the vicinity of the University of Texas.

Moody referred specifically to Bob Golightly in making his suggestion to the attorney general. Three charges of liquor law violations have been filed against Golightly here since the fall term of the university opened.

The first case was filed when state rangers raided an underground still, claiming it was the source of liquor sold by Golightly. Other charges were filed against Golightly after the death of Mrs. Mildred Woodruff, San Antonio widow, who attended a party at Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity house after the football game here last Thanksgiving day.

Attorney General Bobbitt indicated that he might await possible action by District Attorney Henry Brooks, who would have the same power as the attorney general to institute proceedings. Bobbitt admitted that the governor had suggested the action but said he had not received a request from District Attorney Brooks. When Brooks was so informed he said, "if that is what is standing in the way, the attorney general can consider himself requested."

He then called Attorney General Bobbitt and told him proceeding by the state official would be satisfactory to him, pointing out that he was in the midst of a heavy criminal court docket which has occupied all his time.

Golightly operates a lunch room and small restaurant near the University of Texas. Injunction difficulty may be encountered in absence of showing of sales at the restaurant.

The injunction statute is directed against property rather than individuals, Attorney General Bobbitt said.

DOCTORS SAY MRS. SHEPARD WANTED DEATH

Defense Claims Alcoholism Killed Wife of Army Officer

ALIENIST TESTIFIES

Dentist Admits Prescribing Strong Mercuric Mouth Wash

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Dec. 15. (UP)—Testimony from army physicians that Mrs. Zenana M. Shepard died from alcoholic psychosis and "had no desire to live" was given in federal court here today as defense attorneys carried on their legal battle to save Major Charles A. Shepard, 50-year-old tuberculosis specialist, from the gallows.

Defense testimony, presented by doctors who attended Mrs. Shepard during her fatal illness at Fort Riley, Kan., in the spring of 1929, was direct refutation of that offered last week by the prosecution. The government charged Major Shepard murdered his wife with bichloride of mercury poisoning so he could marry a young stenographer, with whom he admitted falling in love.

Polyneuritic alcoholic psychosis, a condition akin to delirium tremens and due to excessive drinking, was given as the cause of Mrs. Shepard's death by Major E. J. Strickler, Fort Riley psychiatrist. Major Strickler's testimony contradicted that of other army officers who testified for the government that a post-mortem examination of Mrs. Shepard's viscera showed death was caused by bichloride of mercury poisoning.

Poison Wash

The most severe blow at the government's case was testimony of Major W. A. Rose of the Fort Riley dental corps. Major Rose told the court that Mrs. Shepard suffered from an aggravated case of trench mouth before her death and he had prescribed a mouth wash containing bichloride of mercury.

"The mouth wash I prescribed contained one-two thousandth of bichloride of mercury," Major Rose said in answering questions of C. L. Kagey, defense counsel. "That

SPAIN SUBDUES NEW OUTBREAK

Artillery Crushes Second Revolt in Four Days

MADRID, Dec. 15. (AP)—Loyal Spanish artillerymen turned their guns on aviator-insurgents today and crushed, in a half hour's bombardment, a new military revolt, the second in Spain in four days.

About 30 of the insurgents were captured. A leader, Major Ramon Franco, Spanish flying act, surrendered to Portuguese air forces at Lisbon.

In the meantime the government proclaimed Spain in a state of siege with martial law in force throughout the country.

Before they surrendered the mutineers had proclaimed Alcala Zamora "president of the republic," announced the setting up of a revolutionary committee and flooded Madrid with circulars threatening dire consequences to any who opposed them.

Alcala Zamora, a member of the 1923 cabinet which preceded the dictatorship of General Primo de Rivera, was already under arrest, having been taken in custody yesterday during a wide round-up of suspected persons following Friday's abortive revolt at Jaca.

Strikes and disorders broke out at Bilbao, Santander and San Sebastian. At San Sebastian two policemen and several rioters were killed. One man was reported killed at Bilbao, where policemen charged a mob of demonstrators who had proclaimed a republic.

Railroads opposed to the extension offered new resistance today. Attorneys for the Rock Island and the Fort Worth & Denver testified during the day's session and gave increased support to opposition already offered by the Santa Fe.

DUNCAN, Okla., Dec. 15.—"I'm going to shoot you," Charles Gray, 77, said as he walked up to his lifelong friend, C. A. Gibson, 67, at Marlow.

"You wouldn't do that," Gibson replied. "What would you want to shoot me for?"

"Just to see you jump," Gray was said by witnesses to have replied, shortly before he pulled a pistol from his pocket and shot Gibson in the stomach.

Attendants at the hospital in Marlow where Gibson was taken said he might not live.

Gray was held in the Stephens county jail at Duncan today pending recovery of his friend. He refused to discuss the shooting.

The shooting took place on the streets of Marlow Sunday afternoon. Both aged men have lived here many years and friends said Monday that the shooting followed a dispute about a horse race run 35 years ago. Gray has a wife and 10 children.

PROWLER SLAIN NEAR CLARENDON

Special to The Record News.

CLARENDON, Texas, Dec. 14.—A prowler caught trying to force an entrance to the garage at the Tom Naylor home nine miles east of Clarendon was shot to death and his companion was arrested after a gunfight in the Naylor home Sunday night.

The man held in the Donley county jail gave his name as Dick O'Neil and said his slain companion was Frank Parker. The pair are believed to have come from Oklahoma City. A third man, thought to have accompanied the two, is being sought.

The intruder was instantly killed by Tom Moss, Naylor's employe, after one of the two prowlers opened fire and Naylor called for help.

According to the story given police here, Naylor caught the two seeking entrance to his garage and demanded to know what they wanted. When they replied they were looking for a place to sleep, Naylor is said to have told them to come inside the house. Once indoors, Naylor moved to the telephone, whereupon one of the two opened fire. Moss rushed in and shot Parker in the head with a shotgun. No charges have been filed against him.

Bartenders Speed Up For Saturday's Race

JUAREZ, Mexico, Dec. 15. (UP)—Waiters and bartenders gave exceptionally fast service here today as they practiced in preparation for their race through the main streets next Saturday.

The race was scheduled for last Saturday, but when the bartenders protested that waiters had the advantage because the former are confined behind bars, Hugo Boniguidi, saloon owner and promoter of the contest, postponed the event a week to give bartenders an opportunity to practice.

Rules of the race call for contestants to carry a tray filled with a drink of whisky, a water chaser, a glass of beer and a bottle of beer over a course of 16 blocks long. Cash prizes will be awarded the three finishing first without spilling any of the beverages.

Bandit Pair Slain In Attempt to Rob Tearoom

CHICAGO, Dec. 15. (UP)—A patrolman shot and killed two bandits who attempted to hold up a tearoom late today, almost in the center of Chicago's teeming loop.

Pedestrians scurried for cover when the shooting started in front of the Cliff tearoom. Officer Ray Schlagel attempted to arrest the pair when they entered the restaurant. Instead of submitting, both whipped out pistols. Schlagel beat them to the draw, however, and shot them to death with one bullet each.

Poincare Gravely Ill From Strain Of Guiding France in Last Crisis

PARIS, Dec. 15. (US)—Raymond Poincare, France's former premier and war-time president and to whose guidance the republic has turned in many an emergency, tonight lay gravely ill at his Paris residence.

The 70-year-old statesman, weakened by a recent operation, was obliged to take to bed Saturday, shortly after Premier-Designate Theodore Steeg had announced his government. Friends of M. Poincare declare that his part in maneuvering behind the scenes to save France in its latest crisis had worn him out, inducing a breakdown in his already imperiled health.

That the ex-premier's condition had taken an evident turn for the worse tonight was indicated by the issuance of a bulletin describing the "weakness" as "continuing." Albert Sarraut, former cabinet minister, was permitted to see his leader for a few minutes. On leaving he said:

"I believe M. Poincare's illness is not serious, but he is suffering greatly from fatigue as a result of the recent cabinet crisis."

Poincare has long been the "anchor to windward" to French politics. His work in stabilizing the republic's currency won him the soubriquet of "savior of the franc."

Financing Of Project To Call For No Increase In Wichita Falls Tax Rate

Five Voting Places for Election Jan. 20 Named At City Council Meeting; $62,000 Annual Saving in Insurance Estimated

Wichita Falls will vote Jan. 20 on a bond issue of $1,000,000 to provide the city with an adequate water system.

There will be no increase in taxes if the bonds are voted.

Call for the election was made Monday night by the city council in an emergency ordinance, adopted after months of agitation and discussion on the part of civic organizations and business leaders.

An immediate vote on the project is sought, it was said, in order that Wichita Falls may take advantage of the lowest market on money and materials offered in the recent history of this city.

Devised after months of intensive study on the part of George D. Fairtrace, city manager, Mayor Walter Nelson Jr., Thelbert Martin, city attorney, and every member of the council, the scheme adopted by the aldermen in asking that the proposed bonds be voted next month provides for their retirement without any increase whatever in the present rate of taxation here. The purpose of the city government, as stated Monday night in discussion of the measure passed, is to transfer from the city's general fund annually to its interest and sinking fund a sufficient part to retire the proposed water bonds.

Water Revenues to Pay for Bonds

Increased revenues from the water department, estimated to accrue naturally from increased consumption under the improved and enlarged system, and from a probable small increase in the rate, will be diverted regularly to the general fund to offset the reduction made to retire the water improvement bonds.

Referring to the items which comprise the present total tax rate in Wichita Falls, members of the council pointed out that of the $1.40 now assessed on each $100 worth of property, 90 cents is applied to the general fund and 50 cents to the interest and sinking fund for the retirement of the city's bonded indebtedness. Under the plan evolved for providing water system improvement funds without increasing taxes, the 90 cents now being used for the city's general operating expenses will be reduced to 74 cents, while the present allotment of 50 cents to the interest and sinking fund will be increased to 66 cents, providing the additional means which will be demanded by the proposed issuance of bonds. The total tax rate, consequently, will remain at $1.40, as it is now.

With reference to the anticipated increase in water department revenues to provide the general fund again with the equivalent of its present allotment of 90 cents, members of the council stressed the fact that greatly increased consumption of water, provided that commodity be made available and its present softness maintained, is guaranteed by the history of the past few years here. Even at the present rate of 25 cents, according to estimates obtained from various engineers, it was said, the augmented income from consumption of water would go far toward replacing the proposed withdrawals from the general fund.

It was stated by the aldermen, however, that an increase in the local water rate probably will follow voting of the bonds, but with the assurance that the minimum monthly charge, in such an event, would not be more than $1.25. The present monthly minimum is $1.

According to facts assembled in the investigation of the situation here, if the Wichita Falls water rate should be increased as much as 33 1-3 per cent, it would stand at 35 cents in comparison with a rate of 38 cents in Fort Worth and Waco; 35 cents in Tulsa; 50 cents in Cleburne, and 50 cents in San Angelo. In the opinion of engineers who have studied the local situation in recent months, however, it was said that the increase in rate would be less than one-third.

"It is to be remembered on that point," said Mr. Fairtrace, "that any rate which might be fixed for water in this emergency would be reduced immediately that revenues from the department justified that action. It is highly probable that within a short time after the proposed enlargements and improvements were completed and placed in use, the water rate would graduate rapidly downward until the settled rate would represent an increase of not more than 15 per cent over the present one."

Funds Would Provide Work for Many

Aside from the response to demands voiced by many groups of business and professional men here during the current year in favor of immediate improvements in the water system, and to the economic situation which avails funds and materials at unusually low rates, the opportunity of supplying profitable employment to many local men while completing much-needed civic improvements was one of the principal factors in bringing about the council's decision to ask that the bonds be voted now, it was pointed out. Should the bond issue be passed at the election on Jan. 20, as members of the council predicted, contracts let for various units of the project will specify that resident labor be employed to the highest possible maximum. Funds from the proposed bonds would probably be available in less than 90 days, it was said, making possible an early inauguration of the work.

The ordinance passed Monday night will be published in The Record News on Wednesday morning, Dec. 17, in full, and for 30 days thereafter, the date for the election following on the third Tuesday in January, four days after the final appearance of the ordinance in the local papers.

As outlined by Mr. Fairtrace and members of the council Monday night, the proposed enlargement and improvement of the city's water system would be undertaken in four segments, and would have for its principal objects preservation of the present softness of the supply, and the provision of unquestionably adequate distribution to all parts of the city in sufficient amounts for every emergency.

Four Parts in Improvement Program

The first project would consist of a new filtering plant, settling basins, and a large storage reservoir. The second would be a drainage canal running on the north side of Lake Wichita for the purpose of by-passing dry-weather flow of Holliday creek, which consists principally of salt water and drainage water from the irrigated lands. The third element in the proposed improvement plan would be a conduit, or such other means of carrying water from the lake to the new city filtering plant as might be most desirable. The fourth project would be a network of large mains to all parts of the city for complete distribution.

Stressing the excellent quality of the present supply, from the standpoint of its freedom from solids, Mr. Fairtrace said:

"One of the most important results to be obtained by the proposed improvements will be the keeping of hard water out of the lake, thereby preserving the softness of the water we are using now. At present, the city's supply shows only 3¼ grains per gallon, the lowest percentage attained here in many years. The United States standard for drinking water, called the 'Great Lakes'" (Continued on Page Five)

Freezing Temperatures Come To All Of Texas With Snow Predicted

(By The Associated Press)

Unless the weather forecaster miscalculated, few sections of Texas will be without freezing temperatures Tuesday, since a cold wave that came to Texas Sunday night was able to beat down the mercury in thermometers from the Panhandle and Plains country to the southernmost tip of the state at Brownsville.

The official forecast was for freezing weather "nearly to the coast." Ice, and in some places snow, already had penetrated deeply into Texas and the freezing and below-freezing line was steadily falling back last night.

Amarillo and Pampa and other points in the Panhandle and Plains sections reported snow flurries, augmenting a fall Sunday. Amarillo's minimum Sunday night was 16 degrees and the mercury hovered around the freezing mark most of Monday.

While Brownsville did not anticipate colder weather than 40 degrees, Laredo, also on the Rio Grande, was expecting freezing temperature.

The section around Dallas was told a minimum of 26 degrees was probable and the eastern part of West Texas was in for a "hard freeze."

Beaumont's minimum Monday was 43, but a drop of 33 to 36 was probable during the night. Houston reported a minimum of 48 yesterday with a "light freeze" forecast for today. Austin's minimum yesterday was 40. Corsicana's low was 41, but the mercury was falling steadily as night came on.

The cold wave struck Electra Sunday, and the temperature had dropped to 30 degrees at noon Monday. No rain, sleet or snow fell, but oil companies warned their lease foremen to drain water lines in expectation of the hardest freeze of the season.

FIRST HARD FREEZE PROMISED WICHITA

After skimming the edges of freezing weather Sunday night, the temperature in the Wichita Falls area started downward again Monday afternoon with indications that the night would bring the season's first hard freeze. The cold wave, already gripping the Panhandle and parts of Oklahoma, moved southward Monday on the wings of a piercing north wind, and at 10 o'clock Monday night the thermometer here registered 32 degrees and was still falling from a maximum of 48 during the day.

Heavy skies boded more snow, though only light flurries were reported in the section Monday. Mercury fell to 27 degrees at Altus, Okla., during the day and a few snow flakes were reported. A light fall of sleet accompanied the temperature drop in Wellington and a trace of snow fell at Paducah, with the temperature just above freezing in the late afternoon.

Along the Denver road, falling temperatures ranged from 33 degrees at Quanah to 37 at Fort Worth. Similar readings were given at Crowell and at Duncan, Okla. The Katy reported a minimum temperature of 34 at Fergan, Okla., 36 at Woodward, with clouds hanging low over the whole area.

Husband Punishes Wife For Bum Pie Made Six Years Ago

CHICAGO, Dec. 15. (UP)—Pie was the cause of it all, why Charles Ziska was sent to jail today, why Mrs. Ziska remained in bed to recover from a cold in her head. Mrs. Ziska explained the situation thus in municipal court:

"One day about six years ago when I was a bride, I made some pie for my husband. He ate it and looked at me queerly.

"That," he said, "is terrible pie." Well, sugar we had some words. Then finally I forgot about it, except that during the last six years I've never made a pie.

"Then my husband came in last night. We were in the kitchen. I turned on the water faucet and he pounced on me and shoved my head under the tap. I screamed and neighbors called police. 'Why,' I asked him, 'do you do that?'

"'Just as if you didn't know,' he answered. 'That pie you made six years ago, well I've had indigestion ever since.'"

DEMOS DEFEAT RELIEF SLASH

Hoover's Program Backed By Senator Watson

BY FRANK EDWARDS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15. (UP)—President Hoover's emergency unemployment and farm relief program was vigorously defended on the senate today by Senator James E. Watson, of Indiana, Republican leader, in an effort to check the rising tide of criticism in congress.

Meanwhile, the house was making an effort to jam through a $60,000,000 drouth relief measure in place of thee senate bill appropriating $80,000,000. The vote for the measure was 208 to 136, but under a suspension of rules, a two-third vote was necessary for passage. Thus it appeared the president would gain a victory when the $60,000,000 measure is brought up again under a rule requiring only a majority for passage.

Watson's speech, which was the first defense of the administration program to come from the Republican leadership in the senate, constituted the opening of the attack on the La Follette resolution calling a slap at the president's relief attitude.

It was delivered after the senate had rebuked the conferees on the $116,000,000 construction relief bill for receding on the senate amendment curbing the president's power to spend the fund as he saw fit before the conferees had been authorized by the senate.

During the running debate between Watson and Democratic and Progressive senators, Senator McNary of Oregon, assistant Repub-

Charred bodies of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Brown, were found in the house. Chester Vogel, farm hand, was brought to a hospital here for treatment of shotgun wounds.

Moody Suggests Padlock to Halt Sale of Liquor to T. U. Students

AUSTIN, Dec. 15. (UP)—Gov. Dan Moody late today suggested to Attorney General R. L. Bobbitt that state injunction proceedings be filed to stop liquor sales in the vicinity of the University of Texas.

Moody referred specifically to Bob Golightly in making his suggestion to the attorney general. Three charges of liquor law violations have been filed against Golightly here since the fall term of the university opened.

The first case was filed when state rangers raided an underground still, claiming it was the source of liquor sold by Golightly. Other charges were filed against Golightly after the death of Mrs. Mildred Woodruff, San Antonio widow, who attended a party at Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity house after the football game here last Thanksgiving day.

Attorney General Bobbitt indicated that he might await possible action by District Attorney Henry Brooks, who would have the same power as the attorney general to institute proceedings. Moody admitted that the governor had discussed the action but said he had not received a request from District Attorney Brooks. When informed he said, "that what is standing in the way of attorney general and consider himself requested."

He then called Attorney General Bobbitt and told him proceedings by the state official would be satisfactory to him, pointing out that he was in the midst of heavy criminal court dockets which has occupied all his time.

Golightly operates a lunch room and small restaurant near the university of Texas campus. Students in violation may be encountered in evidence of showing of sales at the restaurant.

The injunction statute is directed against property rather than individuals, Attorney General Bobbitt said.

SPAIN SUBDUES NEW OUTBREAK

Artillery Crushes Second Revolt in Four Days

MADRID, Dec. 15. (AP)—Loyal Spanish artillerymen turned their guns on aviator-insurgents today and crushed, in a half hour's bombardment, a new military revolt, the second in Spain in four days.

About 30 of the insurgents were captured. A leader, Major Ramon Franco, Spanish flying ace, surrendered to Portuguese air forces at Lisbon.

In the meantime the government proclaimed Spain in a state of siege with martial law in force throughout the country.

Before they surrendered the mutineers had proclaimed Alcala Zamora "president of the republic," announced the setting up of a revolutionary committee and flooded Madrid with circulars threatening dire consequences to any who opposed them.

Alcala Zamora, a member of the 1923 cabinet which preceded the dictatorship of General Primo de Rivera, was already under arrest, having been taken in custody yesterday during a wide round-up of suspected persons following Friday's abortive revolt at Jaca.

Strikes and disorders broke out at Bilbao, Santander and San Sebastian. At San Sebastian two policemen and several rioters were killed. One man was reported killed at Bilbao, where policemen charged a mob of demonstrators who had proclaimed a republic.

Donley County Farm Scene Of Fatal Encounter Of Three Men

Special to The Record News.

DUNCAN, Okla., Dec. 15.—"I'm going to shoot you," Charles Gray, 77, said as he walked up to his lifelong friend, C. A. Gibson, 67, at Marlow.

"You wouldn't do that," Gibson replied. "What would you want to shoot me for?"

"Just to see you jump," Gray was said by witnesses to have replied, shortly before he pulled a pistol from his pocket and shot Gibson in the stomach.

Attendants at the hospital in Marlow where Gibson was taken said he might not live.

Gray was held in the Stephens county jail at Duncan today pending recovery of his friend. He refused to discuss the shooting.

The shooting took place on the streets of Marlow Sunday afternoon. Both aged men have lived here many years and friends said Monday that the shooting followed a dispute about a horse race run 35 years ago. Gray has a wife and 10 children.

PROWLER SLAIN NEAR CLARENDON

Special to The Record News.

CLARENDON, Texas, Dec. 14.—A prowler caught trying to force an entrance to the garage at the Tom Naylor home nine miles east of Clarendon was shot to death and his companion was arrested after a gunfight in the Naylor home Sunday night.

The man held in the Donley county jail gave his name as Dick O'Neil and said his slain companion was Frank Parker. The pair are believed to have come from Oklahoma City. A third man, thought to have accompanied the two, is being sought.

The intruder was instantly killed by Tom Moss, Naylor's employe, after one of the two prowlers opened fire and Naylor called for help.

According to the story given police here, Naylor caught the two seeking entrance to his garage and demanded to know what they wanted. When they replied they were looking for a place to sleep, Naylor is said to have told them to come inside the house. Once indoors, Naylor moved to the telephone, whereupon one of the two opened fire. Moss rushed in and shot Parker in the head with a shotgun. No charges have been filed against him.

Bartenders Speed Up For Saturday's Race

JUAREZ, Mexico, Dec. 15. (UP)—Walters and bartenders gave exceptionally fast service here today as they practiced in preparation for their race through the main streets next Saturday.

The race was scheduled for last Saturday, but when the bartenders protested that walters had the advantage because the former are confined behind bars, Hugo Boniguidi, saloon owner and promoter of the contest, postponed the event a week to give bartenders an opportunity to practice.

Rules of the race call for contestants to carry a tray filled with a drink of whisky, a water chaser, a glass of beer and a bottle of beer over a course of 16 blocks long. Cash prizes will be awarded the three finishing first without spilling any of the beverages.

Bandit Pair Slain In Attempt to Rob Tearoom

CHICAGO, Dec. 15. (UP)—A patrolman shot and killed two bandits who attempted to hold up a tearoom late today, almost in the center of Chicago's teeming loop.

Pedestrians scurried for cover when the shooting started in front of the Cliff tearoom. Officer Ray Schlagel attempted to arrest the pair when they entered the restaurant. Instead of submitting, both whipped out pistols. Schlagel beat them to the draw, however, and shot them to death with one bullet each.

Poincare Gravely Ill From Strain Of Guiding France in Last Crisis

PARIS, Dec. 15. (UP)—Raymond Poincare, France's former premier and war-time president and to whose guidance the republic has turned in many an emergency, today lay gravely ill at his Paris residence.

The 70-year-old statesman, weakened by a recent operation, was obliged to take to bed Saturday, shortly after Premier-Designate Theodore Steeg had announced his government. Friends of M. Poincare think that his part in maneuvering behind the scenes to save France in the latest crisis had worn him out, inducing a breakdown in his already imperiled health.

That the ex-premier's condition had taken an evident turn for the worse tonight was indicated by the issuance of a bulletin describing the "weakness" as "continuing." Albert Sarraut, former cabinet minister, was permitted to see his leader for a few minutes. On leaving he said:

"I believe M. Poincare's illness is not serious, but he is suffering greatly from fatigue as a result of the recent cabinet crisis."

Poincare has long been the "anchor to windward" to French politics. His work in stabilizing the republic's currency won him the soubriquet of "savior of the franc."

Financing Of Project To Call For No Increase In Wichita Falls Tax Rate

Five Voting Places for Election Jan. 20 Named At City Council Meeting; $62,000 Annual Saving in Insurance Estimated

Wichita Falls will vote Jan. 20 on a bond issue of $1,000,000 to provide the city with an adequate water system.

There will be no increase in taxes if the bonds are voted.

Call for the election was made Monday night by the city council in an emergency ordinance, adopted after months of agitation and discussion on the part of civic organizations and business leaders.

An immediate vote on the project is sought, it was said, in order that Wichita Falls may take advantage of the lowest market on money and materials offered in the recent history of this city.

Devised after months of intensive study on the part of George D. Fairtrace, city manager, Mayor Walter Nelson Jr., Thelbert Martin, city attorney, and every member of the council, the scheme adopted by the aldermen in asking that the proposed bonds be voted next month provides for their retirement without any increase whatever in the present rate of taxation here. The purpose of the city government, as stated Monday night in discussion of the measure passed, is to transfer from the city's general fund annually to its interest and sinking fund a sufficient part to retire the proposed water bonds.

Water Revenues to Pay for Bonds

Increased revenues from the water department, estimated to accrue naturally from increased consumption under the improved and enlarged system, and from a probable small increase in the rate, will be diverted regularly to the general fund to offset the reduction made to retire the water improvement bonds.

Referring to the items which comprise the present total tax rate in Wichita Falls, members of the council pointed out that of the $1.40 now assessed on each $100 worth of property, 90 cents is applied to the general fund and 50 cents to the interest and sinking fund for the retirement of the city's bonded indebtedness. Under the plan evolved for providing water system improvement funds without increasing taxes, the 90 cents now being used for the city's general operating expenses will be reduced to 74 cents, while the present allotment of 50 cents to the interest and sinking fund will be increased to 66 cents, providing the additional means which will be demanded by the proposed issuance of bonds. The total tax rate, consequently, will remain at $1.40, as it is now.

With reference to the anticipated increase in water department revenues to provide the general fund again with the equivalent of its present allotment of 90 cents, members of the council stressed the fact that greatly increased consumption of water, provided that commodity be made available and its present softness maintained, is guaranteed by the history of the past few years here. Even at the present rate of 25 cents, according to estimates obtained from various engineers, it was said, the augmented income from consumption of water would go far toward replacing the proposed withdrawals from the general fund.

It was stated by the aldermen, however, that an increase in the local water rate probably will follow voting of the bonds, but with the assurance that the minimum monthly charge, in such an event, would not be more than $1.25. The present monthly minimum is $1.

According to facts assembled in the investigation of the situation here, if the Wichita Falls water rate should be increased as much as 33 1-3 per cent, it would stand at 35 cents in comparison with a rate of 38 cents in Fort Worth and Waco; 35 cents in Tulsa; 50 cents in Cleburne, and 50 cents in San Angelo. In the opinion of engineers who have studied the local situation in recent months, however, it was said that the increase in rate would be less than one-third.

"It is to be remembered on that point," said Mr. Fairtrace, "that any rate which might be fixed for water in this emergency would be reduced immediately that revenues from the department justified that action. It is highly probable that within a short time after the proposed enlargements and improvements were completed and placed in use, the water rate would graduate rapidly downward until the settled rate would represent an increase of not more than 15 per cent over the present one."

Funds Would Provide Work for Many

Aside from the response to demands voiced by many groups of business and professional men here during the current year in favor of immediate improvements in the water system, and to the economic situation which avails funds and materials at unusually low rates, the opportunity of supplying profitable employment to many local men while completing much-needed civic improvements was one of the principal factors in bringing about the council's decision to ask that the bonds be voted now, it was pointed out. Should the bond issue be passed at the election on Jan. 20, as members of the council predicted, contracts let for various units of the project will specify that resident labor be employed to the highest possible maximum. Funds from the proposed bonds would probably be available in less than 90 days, it was said, making possible an early inauguration of the work.

The ordinance passed Monday night will be published in The Record News on Wednesday morning, Dec. 17, in full, and for 30 days thereafter, the date for the election following on the third Tuesday in January, four days after the final appearance of the ordinance in the local papers.

As outlined by Mr. Fairtrace and members of the council Monday night, the proposed enlargement and improvement of the city's water system would be undertaken in four segments, and would have for its principal objects preservation of the present softness of the supply, and the provision of unquestionably adequate distribution to all parts of the city in sufficient amounts for every emergency.

Four Parts in Improvement Program

The first project would consist of a new filtering plant, settling basins, and a large storage reservoir. The second would be a drainage canal running on the north side of Lake Wichita for the purpose of by-passing dry-weather flow of Holliday creek, which consists principally of salt water and drainage water from the irrigated lands. The third element in the proposed improvement plan would be a conduit, or such other means of carrying water from the lake to the new city filtering plant as might be most desirable. The fourth project would be a network of large mains to all parts of the city for complete distribution.

Stressing the excellent quality of the present supply, from the standpoint of its freedom from solids, Mr. Fairtrace said:

"One of the most important results to be obtained by the proposed improvements will be the keeping of hard water out of the lake, thereby preserving the softness of the water we are using now. At present, the city's supply shows only 3¼ grains per gallon, the lowest percentage attained here in many years. The United States standard for drinking water, called the 'Great Lakes' solution would amount to about two grains of bichloride of mercury in every pint of the wash.

Mrs. Shepard used the solution from the time he first treated her until her death, he said. He estimated she used four or five pints of the wash, which contained approximately eight or 10 ounces of the poisoning. Major Rose said he had warned Miss Clara Brown, the woman's nurse, to see the patient did not swallow any of the solution, as it was poisonous.

Major Rose's testimony provided the only bit of drama which has featured the legal proceedings, since Miss Grace Brandon, 24, San Antonio, Texas, Major Shepard's erstwhile fiancee, spent two days on the witness stand identifying letters she had written the army officer, and his replies.

'Tired of Living'

S. M. Brewster, United States district attorney, interrupted Major Rose's testimony.

"Did you kill this woman with your mouth wash?" he asked.

Major Rose laughed. The question was ruled out upon shouted objections from defense attorneys.

Major J. C. Dye, also of Fort Riley, corroborated Major Rose's testimony. In addition, he testified Mrs. Shepard often had said she was "tired of living" and had "no desire to get well."

"She often told doctors to leave her alone to die," Major Dye said. "'I don't want to get well. I want to die. I have no desire to live,'" he quoted her as saying.

Major Strickler said he was called to Major Shepard's quarters on May 20, 1929, the first day she became ill.

Smelled Alcohol

"She was lying on the bed, fully dressed," he said. "She was hearing voices and trying to pick objects out of the air. The pupils of her eyes were dilated and she could not see objects placed before her eyes.

"The odor of alcohol was very strong on her breath.

"I diagnosed her case as polyneurotic alcoholic psychosis and prescribed a sedative. I attributed the statements she was making as result of alcholism."

Major Shepard, who sat with his head bowed while the government presented its case, closely followed testimony presented today by his fellow officers. He took notes of their statements and several times held whispered conferences with his attorneys.

Courtroom Crowded

The defense is expected to complete its case Wednesday. Closing arguments will be started immediately and the case probably will go to the jury of 12 Kansas farmers some time Thursday.

From the outset, the government has asked Major Shepard be assessed the death penalty for the alleged crime.

The courtroom was packed again today. Additional bailiffs were pressed into service when court opened to keep the long line of spectators in order.

High School Girls Beautiful—But Far From Dumb

Scholastic Records Show Beauties Above Average in Studies

"Beautiful but dumb?" Never!

In a recent grade average of the 30 chosen beauties who are to feature the annual senior class play, "A Romantic House Party," it was found that the group average was more than two points higher than the average for the school as a whole. Grades for the select group since the beginning of school average over 78, while the entire school average is approximately 76. Of the 120 grades recorded for the girls, less than 5 per cent are failing whereas in the entire school 17 per cent of the grades are failing.

Misses Mary Alma Mitchell and Estelle McPhail are listed on the first honor roll, making an average of 90 or above, and Maxine Aubrey, Anna Belle Farley, Emmaline Lewis and Billie Leslie Stimson are recorded on the second honor roll, with an average of 85 or above.

Miss Billie Leslie Stimson is one of the four high school students who made a perfect score on a recent intelligence test, and Miss Mary Alma Mitchell has never failed, in the four high schools which she has attended, to be listed on the first honor roll.

These girls, along with the remainder of the beautiful and intelligent group, will present the annual beauty show, "A Romantic House Party," Wednesday evening at the Junior college for the benefit of the senior class and the Coyote, the high school annual. The play is under the direction of Miss Juanita Kinsey, with J. W. Williams as manager.

lican leader, announced that Secretary of Agriculture Hyde had drafted the $80,000,000 farm relief bill, which the president is now opposing.

McNary declared that when Hyde sent the bill to him he assumed that the president "knew what his right hand was doing," and as a result he introduced and sponsored the bill.

Watson opened his speech by reaffirming his belief that the vaunted "cooperation" pledged by the Democratic "big seven" was "still in force" and praising the statement as a "highly patriotic statement."

In conclusion, the Republican leader declared that he had confidence in the reports made to the president by the Red Cross and other organizations that the unemployment and drouth situation could be cared for without the federal government resorting to the European dole system.

"If I could be convinced that there is suffering and people dying from starvation and that the local authorities cannot care for," declared Watson, "then I would be willing to vote money from the treasury for that purpose, but I do not believe the situation has reached that state."

"Yes," interrupted Senator Caraway of Arkansas, "the senator would vote for wreaths to hang on their tombs."

When Watson said he assumed the president was thoroughly informed on the situation Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, called attention to the president's statement of March 8 last in which he said that the unemployment situation would disappear as a problem in 60 days.

"Does the senator challenge the sincerity of the president in making that statement?" demanded Watson.

"No," snapped La Follette, "but the senator is quoting Mr. Hoover as an authority on unemployment and I just want to point out that he is not an infallible prophet, as the senator suggests."

"The president made his statements after a study of the situation and I stand by them," retorted Watson.

Woman's Report of Auto Crash Aids Police In Discovery

Twelve half gallons of whisky and two half gallons of alcohol reposed on the evidence shelf at the city police station Monday after Earle Brooks and C. S. Carlisle, motorcycle officers, investigated an automobile collision at the intersection of Avenue G and Polk street.

One of the cars in the collision was driven by Mrs. Horace Nichols of Seymour. When she insisted on reporting the accident to police the driver of the other automobile disappeared after suggesting that the matter could be settled without calling police. $2,580,000 Road Funds Involved In Stonewall Bond Election Dec. 20

Special to The Record News

OLD GLORY, Texas, Dec. 15.—The unprecedented offer by the state highway commission to match a $500,000 road bond issue in Stonewall county with a $2,000,000 or four to one, expenditure of state and federal funds for the purpose of closing important gaps on state highways Nos. 18, 4, 70 and 120—main arteries of travel—and for aiding the unemployment situation was discussed at a good roads rally held Saturday night at Peacock, located in the western part of the county.

Clifford B. Jones of Spur, principal speaker of the evening, admonished taxpayers to take advantage of the unequalled opportunity afforded Stonewall county to make a sound investment and to lay the predicate for a better civilization. He explained the definite terms of the petition, which calls for a $580,000 bond issue, $80,000 of which shall be used for lateral benefits. The remaining $500,000 shall supplement the state and federal funds appropriated to build 100 miles of designated hard surfaced roads across the county.

The election was set for Dec. 20.

Records show that non-residents own 44 3-5 per cent of all taxable properties of Stonewall county. Their assessment would be $258,680 of the amount of the issue, leaving resident taxpayers to pay $321,320.

Rural meetings explaining the bond issue will be held in different communities of the county this week, climaxing with a general rally at Aspermont, Friday night, Dec. 19.

MASSACRE BY REDS REPORTED

Hunan Province Cities Are Ransacked

SHANGHAI, Dec. 15. (AP)—Details of the reported massacre of the inhabitants of Lichow and Tsingshih, Hunan province cities, by Communists bands, and the alleged capture of 1,000 citizens of Ningtu, Kiangsi province, were sought by Chinese authorities today.

The Hunan massacres were reported yesterday by foreign ships plying the Yangtse river near the city of Shasi. The advices indicated the Reds plan to attack Shasi also.

Both Tsingshih and Lichow had been beseiged for several days. Citizens of Lichow were reported to have manned the walls of their city, resisting the Communists until the latter vowed they would annihilate the population once they entered town. The Reds also were said to have threatened dire punishment to the citizenry of Tsingshih for resisting their advance.

Troops Routed

Communists were declared to have routed government troops at Ningtu and then escaped to the mountains along the Kiangsi-Fukien border with 1,000 citizens as hostages.

Whether members of the Finland mission at Tsingshih suffered in the attack there was not determined. The provincial government was said to have ordered troops from Changsha to Lichow to oppose the Communists.

An American destroyer, a British sloop and three Chinese gunboats and a detachment of Chinese troops headed for Hoihow, Hainan island when Communistic disturbances were reported to have grown to serious proportions.

American missionaries on the Island, which comprises the southermost tip of the Chinese republic, advised Hong Kong authorities they were in danger. Troops and gunboats were dispatched, however, when Ainan authorities appealed to Canton, the provincial capital, for help.

Figures compiled by the Vernacular press here indicated Communists and bandits in Kiangsi province had slain 130,000 persons and destroyed property valued at approximately $100,000,000 thus far this year.

Residents

The Vernacular press said millions of residents in the stricken province, fearing the outlaws and despairing of the future, had migrated during the year into other provinces.

These figures, while considered in some quarters as excessive, present striking evidence of the amazing destruction of life and property by outlaws roaming the Yangtse valley, whose depredations continue daily.

The Nationalist government under President Chiang Kai-Shek is giving almost its entire time to the elimination of the bandit-Communist menace. The president is now near Kiukiang, conferring with his lieutenants preparatory to taking the field against the elements constituting the most serious danger to the Nationalist government.

Montague County Turkey Pool Prepares to Move Christmas Crop

By W. J. STEPHENS

SUNSET, Texas, Dec. 15.—Shortly after the first of November a cooperative market association, composed of about 100 farmers and poultrymen of the west side of Montague county, was organized for the purpose of pooling turkeys in order to obtain a better price than they could get by selling individual flocks on the ordinary market.

Since its beginning about 7,000 turkeys have been sold through this organization, bringing its members approximately $16,000. Three hundred of this number was sold to the newspaper publishers of Fort Worth to supply plenty of turkey for a Thanksgiving dinner given for the Fort Worth newsboys.

Success of this association has encouraged its members to undertake the expansion of its membership and marketing efforts. Farmers, poultrymen and all others interested in producing and marketing poultry of any kind have been invited to attend the meetings of the association. Efforts will be made to find the best markets for turkeys, chickens and eggs in large shipments.

Interest Stirred

The organization will be of great benefit besides becoming the means of obtaining more satisfactory prices for poultry. Interest in poultry growing will be increased as the members meet from time to time to discuss subjects relative to the poultry industry. The best available methods will be discussed. New ideas will be originated and exchanged. And the best breeds of birds will get a greater chance of acceptance by the many poultry producers in this county.

A few members of the association are experienced poultrymen who have been giving their attention to poultry raising for quite a while, but most of the members are farmers who have been growing turkeys and chickens in small flocks, as an agricultural sideline. But the sideline has proved more profitable for many individuals this year than the balance of the farm crop. Many of these sideline flocks consist of a mixture of breeds of poultry, but lessons learned through this organization probably will cause many of these mixed flocks to be sold and replaced by some of the better breeds of poultry.

Expansion Seen

M. F. Leonard of Bowie is president and J. W. Davis of Sunset is secretary of the cooperative association, and they are doing their best to make it worth as much as possible to the producers who cooperate with them.

As the membership of this new organization is composed mostly of farmers, probably an effort will be made to sell all sorts of farm products through the organization next year. This would include every variety of orchard, farm and garden products grown in Montague county.

Charges Batteries with Surprising Power Instantly

Marvelous New Battery Mixture puts surprising power in Batteries with Magic Speed instantly. Works by itself! No fuss or bother! Batteries recharge instantly. Hold their charge indefinitely. Doubles the life of batteries. Dead batteries charge themselves as if by magic, old batteries act like new. Can be used by anyone instantly. Read the discoverer's sensational FREE SAMPLE Offer below. Most generous opportunity ever extended to motorists. Don't miss it!

At last science has discovered a new way to charge batteries with surprising power instantly. A magic new mixture gives batteries more power and pep. No more fuss and bother of changing batteries or having them recharged. No more costly batteries to buy. No more wrestling with the crank, in the blazing sun, pouring rain or freezing snow. No more danger of breaking an arm with a back-firing motor. This startling discovery takes the last vestige of uncertainty out of motoring and ends 90% of all battery troubles.

Works Automatically

This amazing product is called NU-LIFE—and has been so successful that demonstrators and agents are simply coining money in easy, generous commissions—up to $10 and $15 an hour! Some of the tests they have made are almost unbelievable. J. A. Bartlett tried Nu-Life in a battery that had been dead one year and it took a charge readily, and now works like new. J. Daniel Knox with many witnesses subjected Nu-Life to the most critical tests and they could scarcely believe their eyes, it worked so marvelously. After severe tests, E. E. Kunkle is opening up a Nu-Life battery station on his own property. Raymond Fox treated his battery and it works like new.

But NU-LIFE does more than make batteries charge instantly. It makes weak, discharged batteries unnecessary. It eliminates adding water so often, increases power and pep, doubles the life of batteries, eliminates freezing and overcharging, makes old batteries work like new. NU-LIFE keeps your battery, old or new, working to the best of its efficiency.

Using NU-LIFE is as simple as ABC. Only a few minutes are required to treat a battery and one treatment lasts forever. It is absolutely harmless. As a matter of fact, it preserves and lengthens the life of batteries. Not affected by extreme heat or cold. Does its work equally well in winter or summer—whether the thermometer is 50 degrees below zero or 100 degrees in the shade! Absolutely sensational!

Wonderful Money-Maker

No wonder every battery owner is vitally interested whether he drives a car or owns a Radio battery set. No wonder demonstrators and spare-time workers report earnings as high as $9 in a few minutes. All you have to do is to show prospects how it charges batteries right up instantly, how you can save them the cost of new batteries, and how you can save them the trouble of run-downs, weak, discharged batteries. Nine out of ten want to buy right away—and the generous commissions we give will run your cash profits into the hundreds in no time!

FREE SAMPLE OFFER

And right now, Mr. H. S. Elliott offers to send you a FREE can of NU-LIFE at his own risk. You test it without cost. D. Dix Tells Why Many Girls 'Fall' For Married Men

Dear Miss Dix—Please tell us girls why we fall in love with married men? Why are they so much more attractive than boys? Why do they have so much more poise and charm than boys and seem to know just how to please a young girl?
—LOUISE.

Answer—I think that the great original attraction that married men have for girls is that they are forbidden fruit, and you know what that has done to the female sex from the days of Mother Eve down. Never a daughter of us that can resist it. It is always the thing that we can't have that we want most. It is always the glittering knife that will be sure to cut us that we are bound to play with.

So just the knowledge that a man is married and that he belongs to some other woman gives him a fictitious value in a girl's eyes, and makes her see a hero of romance in a bald, fat, paunchy gentleman that she wouldn't look at if he were an old bachelor. And another thing that enhances the married man in the girl's eyes is that he represents adventure and the bright face of danger to her.

She has to meet him clandestinely and that throws a halo of romance about him. His kisses are stolen and hence sweeter. And so she gets more of a kick out of the affair than she would out of having a boy come openly to see her at her home and taking her to a respectable restaurant for supper and bestowing upon her caresses that were leading up to an honorable proposal of marriage.

Likewise the girl gets a certain morbid thrill out of knowing that she throws her bonnet over the windmill when she indulges in a flirtation with a married man, and that everybody takes pleasure in believing the worst of her.

Also, sad to say, most girls have a cruel, ruthless streak in them that makes them take a sort of perverted joy in inflicting pain on their own sex.

It is only after they are older and have suffered themselves that women learn to be kind to other women, and so pretty young girls think it great sport to take a man away from his wife. They like to flaunt their youth and freshness and alimness before a fat, grizzly headed, middle-aged mother of a family and watch her helpless writhings of jealousy as she sees her husband making a fool of himself over a child young enough to be his daughter.

Of course, the man of 45 or 50 has more poise than a boy and knows how to do things better than a boy because he has had more experience. Often a boy is bashful, self-conscious and awkward, and he balls up things when he takes a girl out. Gets the wrong seats at the theater. Doesn't know what to order at a restaurant. Is tongue-tied in company, whereas the older man is delightful to go out with because he knows all the ropes and manages everything so there is never a hitch.

The boy is often bumptious, assertive, selfishly determined to make a girl do his way just because he is bound to show he is a man, whereas the older man is suave and polished in his manners, and knows how to make a girl feel his only object in life is pleasing her.

Girls are at least five years older in development and thought than boys of their own age, and hence the older man is often far more interesting to a girl, especially if she is of the intelligent type, than a boy who is her contemporary.

And the final reason that girls find married men more attractive than boys is because the married man understands women and the boy does not. He is a professional where the boy is a rank amateur, who has never played the game at all. The man, like Kipling's hero has had a wife and he has learned about women from her, and he knows all their weakness and foibles and how to play upon them like a harp with a thousand strings.

And let it not be forgotten that the married man has generally more money to spend than the boy and that enhances his value to a girl, even if she isn't a gold-digger. He can give her good times and pretty things that the boy cannot afford. And that unconsciously casts a glamour over the sugar papa.

For these and sundry other reasons girls find married men attractive, but any girl who indulges in an affair with a married man does so at her peril. She who plays with fire invariably gets burned.
—DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—What do you think of the person who is always bringing up the age problem in her conversations? She will say to me: "Well, you are getting along now. Let me see. You'll be such and such age your next birthday." And she always adds on a year and on your 31st birthday announces that you are in your 32nd year. Don't you think that this is rather personal?
—BOBBY.

Answer—Personal? I'd say she is catty, and I'd give her a wide berth if I were you because she is taking a mean little way of trying to hurt and embarrass you. Any one's age is one's own affair, strictly between oneself and the vital statistics bureau, and it is nobody else's business.

Anyway it is very provincial to have birthdays. Sophisticated people care nothing for age, and if a woman is pleasant and attractive and if her ideas and thoughts are young, it does not matter whether she is 16 or 60.—DOROTHY DIX.

Never Rub Baby's Skin

After bathing baby, dry carefully with a soft towel, patting the skin gently. Never rub baby's skin with anything but the palm of the hand—and be sure the palm is not coarsened or roughened by work. After a thorough drying by gentle patting, always dust a good baby powder in the creases and folds of the skin and around the buttocks. This absorbs any excessive moisture, prevents friction, chaffing, "urine-burn" and redness. Probably the best powder for the purpose is McKesson's Baby Powder. It contains a high-grade talc, consisting of very fine, soft flakes rather than sharp particles, with other ingredients soothing and caressing to baby's skin. In addition, it has a deodorizing effect that preserves that "fresh baby smell" without the use of an offensive perfume. It is a real medicinal powder—entirely different from any other. Daily bathing of baby with daily use of McKesson's Baby Powder will keep baby's little body smooth, white, fresh and comfortable, which, probably, will do more than anything else to keep him gurgling happy and contented. All McKesson service Druggists and other independent drug stores sell and guarantee McKesson's Baby Powder. Get a can today and see the grateful coolings you'll get from baby. OFFICERS TAKE DAVIS YOUTH

Bandit Suspect Blames Brother for Slaying

beries were committed here in which the Davis boys and a man appearing to be a half-breed Indian were identified as the principals.

Admits Holdups

Davis says he is unable to remember the name of his Indian companion other than that he was called "Packey." He says he left Packey in Kansas after the Wichita shooting.

Colquitt admits he and D. I. Davis committed six robberies with firearms in the city recently, including the two on Saturday night a week ago.

PRISONER TELLS OF FLIGHT

HEREFORD, Texas, Dec. 15. (AP)—Colquitt Davis, wanted in two states in connection with the slaying of two men and the wounding of another, surrendered to officers here today.

Davis was sought after the fatal shooting in Amarillo of Harold McCarrick, a grocer, and a deputy sheriff at Wirt, Okla. Another man was wounded in the Wirt shooting.

D. I. Davis, a brother of Colquitt, was fatally wounded at Wichita, Kan., in a gun fight with authorities seeking to arrest him. A third man, with Colquitt and D. I. at the time, escaped.

Colquitt Davis was walking near the edge of the town when officers came upon him and offered no resistence. Two pistols were taken from him.

He said he spent last night in a boxcar at Dawn, a switch between Canyon and Hereford, and had suffered from exposure. He added his capture was made possible because he missed a passenger train at Canyon last night.

Contrary to previous reports, he was not wounded. He denied he had traveled with an Indian, as had been said. Emmett Hales, a traffic officer and deputy sheriff, made the arrest.

Arrangements were made to return him to Amarillo.

CHARGES HERE TO AWAIT TRIAL

Filing of charges against Colquitt Davis in connection with the robbery of two Wichita Falls drug stores probably will await the disposition of other charges pending against him in Amarillo and in Oklahoma, Chief of Police Frank Burns said Monday night.

Colquitt Davis and his brother, D. I. Davis, who was fatally wounded in a gun fight at Wichita, Kan., have been identified from photographs as the two men who robbed Truly's Pharmacy and the Brook and Eighth drug store here two weeks ago, Chief Burns said. While charges may be filed here within the next few days by the district attorneys office, Chief Burns said he expected little effort to press the complaints unless the trial of Davis on murder charges at Amarillo and in Oklahoma is delayed.

PAYING OFF

County Receives Two Tax Checks Totaling $15,000

Additional large tax payments were reported Monday by Tax Collector Guy C. Raley with the receipt of a check from the Gulf Production company for $10,021.12, and one from the W. T. Waggoner estate for $5,295.46.

Early payment of the latter amount, according to a letter which accompanied the check, was made to meet the needs of both county and school treasuries for funds at this time.

COUNCIL CALLS BOND ELECTION

Water Works Issue to Be Voted Upon

standard, is a maximum of 8 grains per gallon—we are now almost 5 grains under that ratio."

"The city is in excellent condition also to undertake immediately repairs which must be made before long," said E. H. Eddleman, "because of the amount and quality of water now available for its use during the period of work. According to the best estimates available, we now have enough water to supply us our normal consumption for two years or more."

With reference to the city's advantage in making improvements in its water system now, Alderman J. M. Spoonts pointed out that all major bond issues voted by the city in the past have been undertaken in periods of high interest rates and generally high prices for materials and labor.

"We can do more now for local workmen, and get more value per $1 for the citizenship generally, than at any other time during the past 15 years," Mr. Spoonts declared.

Another element in the situation to which the aldermen gave much attention in their discussion was the assured reduction of fire insurance premiums to result from improved water facilities. Information supplied by the state fire insurance department, it was stated indicated that such improvements as those provided in the adopted plan would effect a reduction of $62,000 annually in the gross premiums paid by citizens of Wichita Falls for fire insurance protection. According to Mr. Fairtrace, the carrying charge for the proposed $1,000,000 bond issue will be only $72,000 annually—only $10,000 more than the estimated savings per year in premiums. The carrying charge on the bonds would reduce annually also, it was pointed out. Figures supplied also by the state fire insurance officials, it was stated, indicated that within 10 years savings on fire insurance premiums would take care of the entire bond issue asked by the city council.

Five Voting Places

Five voting places will be provided within the city on Jan. 20 for the bond election, according to W. E. McBroom, city clerk. They will be at the central police station, the courthouse, the Alamo school building, the Buchanan Street Fire station, and the Southside Baptist church annex.

The ordinance prescribing all duties of all police officers as provided by state laws was passed on its second reading Monday night.

Aldermen R. O. Harvey, J. H. Prothro, E. H. Eddleman, J. M. Spoonts and C. E. McCutchen; Mayor Walter Nelson Jr., Mr. Fairtrace, Mr. McBroom, and Thelbert Martin, city attorney, were present at Monday night's meeting.

Three C.-C. Committees Work on Program Today

Further plans for the 1931 program of work of the chamber of commerce will be discussed Tuesday when three subcommittees of the program group meet, it was announced Monday.

Daily meetings of committees and sub-committees are being held to assemble ideas for the program which will be drafted and submitted to the membership of the organization at its annual meeting to be held publicly at the Memorial auditorium on the night of Jan. 9.

The groups meeting Tuesday are the wholesale and jobbers, transportation and industrial committees. The wholesale and jobbers group will meet at 9:30 a. m., the transportation committee at 4 p. m., and the industrial committee at 10:15 a. m.

GROCERY ROBBED

Burglars who entered the Blue Bonnet grocery No. 2 at 706 Grand street Sunday night secured groceries valued at about $20, according to a report made to police Monday. Entrance was secured by prying open a window. The loot obtained included a sack of flour, a cured ham, and a large quantity of canned goods.

First Presbyterians Ask Approval Of Call for St. Louis Church Leader

The pulpit committee of the First Presbyterian church is preparing to formally submit to the moderator of the Amarillo presbytery a call to Dr. George Horst of St. Louis to fill the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church here, according to J. C. Hunt, chairman of the committee in charge.

The call is being made as a result of a unanimous vote of the congregation of the church Sunday to attempt to bring Dr. Horst here. The call must first be approved by the moderator of the Amarillo presbytery and the committee plans to submit the matter within the next few days, it was announced.

Dr. Horst is now field secretary of education for the general board of the Presbyterian church over a territory of 15 states. He is a former pastor of churches at Portsmouth, Ohio, and of Philadelphia. He filled the pulpit of the church here last summer and the favorable impression he left results in the present call.

Due to the resignation last July of Dr. Nat F. Grafton to assume the pastorate of the Floral Heights Presbyterian church, the pastorate of the First church has been vacant. If Dr. Horst accepts the pastorate tendered him here, his duties will be assumed after the first of January, it was said.

POLICE SEIZE YULE LIQUOR

Three Autos, Three Men, One Woman Nabbed

Liquor raids Monday netted city police 34 half gallons of whisky, two half gallons of alcohol, three automobiles, three men and one woman.

Eleven half gallons of whisky were seized and a negro man was arrested when officers surprised the negro as he was bottling his wares. Ten half gallons were obtained and an automobile confiscated after officers finally triumphed in a 25-block chase over the city with a man and a woman. Another half gallon of whisky and an automobile were obtained when officers arrested a negro as he was making a delivery. Twelve half gallons of whisky and two half gallons of alcohol and an automobile were confiscated when an unknown man abandoned his car after figuring in an automobile crash.

The arrested persons are being held in jail pending the filing of charges.

Improvements Made In Staley Field Airport

Aerial callers at Staley field Monday included Earl J. Williams of Santa Monica, Calif., flying with Selwyn H. Adkins, official representative of the Cantil Development company of Santa Anna, Calif., on their way to Kansas City to spend the Christmas holidays.

Another visitor at the field was A. E. Stewart, flying from Dallas and back in a Curtis Robin.

Officials of the Wichita Falls Air Transport company are installing gas connections in the hangars, the shops and the waiting room at the field to meet the oncoming of winter. The floors of the hangars are being filled into keep out cold and moisture during the bad weather and the field is being leveled off and filled in around the edges to maintain the perfect "turtle back."

'Discretion While Drunk' Wins Praise for Driver

EVANSTON, Ill., Dec. 15. (AP)—The Evanston courts give full credit to an intoxicated person who has presence of mind.

Joseph Steekrod walked into the police court today apologetic. "I was drunk last night," he said, and not in the proper condition to drive, so I parked my car somewhere. I've forgotten where I left it."

They found the car parked with a police ticket attached for invading a car stand. Steckrod went back to the courtroom.

"It's a pleasure," said Magistrate Harry H. Porter, "to meet a man intelligent enough to realize he is too drunk to drive. Discharged."

Fame and Obscurity
One Short Step
Lynching and Ignorance
Business of Singing

By EMILE GAUVREAU

Men who were once famous and affluent and die poor and obscure may be counted in the hundreds. The news of the day often lists in the death notices the name of a well-remembered actor, a war hero, merchant prince, diva, and then the world pauses to read for a moment the essential tragedy of his life.

Bart Kennedy, the "tramp novelist," is a case in point. He dies at 70 in London, in a public mental house. Recently a friend found him in want of food, without a friend, and indifferent to life.

Kennedy was once a great lover of life. He went to sea before the mast, was a laborer, a cotton weaver, a tramp, a gold miner in the Klondike, an opera singer, an actor. He fought Indians in the American Southwest. He wrote novels, and was a pioneer in the American short story. At one time he resided in and owned a 14-room house in the most exclusive section of Brighton and he was world-famous.

The "sic transit gloria mundi" could very well be converted into "sic transit gloria humanorum."

Lynching is prevalent wherever education is meager and where people are poor. This belief is verified in the group study of a national commission for the investigation of the causes of mob violence. The findings reveal among other things that of 21 lynchings, only one was that of a white man. The others were of negroes.

The chairman of the commission, George Fort Milton of Chattanooga, says: "Where many men are living on the fringe of hunger and heartbreak, they accumulate a formidable mass of internal emotional tensions demanding satisfaction. Furthermore, in the majority of studies thus far completed, the communities in which the lynchings occurred had less than six months' school term."

The twin breeders of crime have always been poverty and ignorance. Which is not to maintain, however, that crime has no other sources. Men of the most superior training, and as secure from poverty as a holder of first mortgages, come to blows often with less provocation than has the primitive man. But that is the trouble with man, not with education or economic welfare.

Is singing a business or a profession? The decision of this question by the New York court of appeals will cause a whole tribe of vocal teachers either to move out of the residence zone in which they now carry on their labors or remain undisturbed.

The test case is that of Wagner Swayne Harris, found guilty of violating the zoning law by giving singing lessons in his home on West 78th street in a district full of nightingales and larks. In this district men like Harold Bauer, Louis Persinger, Frank La Forge, Alexander Siloti discipline the arpeggios of budding Paderewskis in their own homes. The contention is, if piano instruction is listed as a profession, then the training of potential Jeritzas and Giglis should be also.

Music is not a nuisance, but when music is not music it can be maddening. Trombonists, saxophonists, trumpeters, gargling sopranos should, in perfecting themselves, rehearse in sound-proof chambers, so the city may enjoy some quiet. The abatement of noise is a just crusade. And no end of students striving to reach high C produce nothing but noise.

A Bit of Propaganda

THE MORE one thinks about the wind-up of that great Russian trial, the more plainly does one detect a fishy odor. The thing seemed too good to be true, right from the start; but the conclusion, with a kind-hearted government saving the necks of a group of confessed traitors, caps the climax.

On the surface, the whole business looks like an elaborate bit of propaganda work, for home consumption. And it must be admitted that it was very well staged, from start to finish.

There was the courtroom for a stage, with the radio carrying the drama to all parts of Russia. One after another, these five accused engineers got up and told how European statesmen, in league with an oil magnate or two, were conspiring to overthrow the Russian government, restore the old regime and plunder the land of its natural resources.

Then, in conclusion, the verdict; guilty. And the sentence; death. And, as an afterthought, a government that has rarely shown mercy suddenly got lenient and commuted the death sentences to 10 years' imprisonment.

One is almost irresistibly impelled to the conclusion that this was nothing but a great bit of propaganda.

However, there is no sense in getting too top-lofty about it. We might remember, while we laugh at the Russians for swallowing such a tale, that it is only a decade since the leading powers of Europe did engage in precisely such a conspiracy. The various "white Russian" adventurers who led armies into Russia to overthrow the Bolsheviks were backed by such nations as England and France, whose statesmen now find the 1930 conspiracy story too laughable to need rebuttal. A good many Russians died in battle, and otherwise, less than 10 years ago, because an exact replica of the present story turned out to be true in every detail.

So the Russians are hardly to be blamed for being willing to believe such tales. We can set this last story down as a bit of propaganda, and we shall probably be right in doing so; but we ought not to forget that Russia had good reason for believing in it.

Millions for the Farmers

CONGRESSIONAL leaders are determined that farmers in drouth sections shall receive aid in the very near future. They are determined to ignore the recommendations of the Hoover administration. Led by Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, Democrat, and Senator Charles McNary of Oregon, Republican, they have endorsed the McNary-Aswell resolution to authorize $60,000,000 for loans to farmers not only for feed, seed and fertilizer but also for food.

Republicans on the senate agricultural committee joined in revolt against the administration's limitation of $25,000,000 after Senator Robinson, who is the Democratic leader, denounced the lower figure and warned the fight would be carried to the senate. Senator Tom Connally urged the larger amount. He characterized the $25,000,000 administration figure as "two-bit economy."

Senator Robinson declared that the loan should be made available to all needy farmers regardless of their credit standing. He added that if they were to be limited to those farmers with adequate collateral "the legislation might as well be dropped now." He ridiculed the idea of loaning money to farmers for livestock and not lending it to them for food. He said there were thousands of farmers in need of food "to live through the winter."

Mechanized Agriculture

THE agricultural department of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States points out that one of the big factors in the scrambling of the farm situation is the steadily increasing mechanization of agriculture.

More and more, such crops as cotton, wheat and corn are being produced with mechanical assistance. This calls for more room. Mass-production tactics come into play—and the corn, cotton and wheat belts, in consequence, are slowly moving away from their old habitats to new ones.

Thus cotton is perceptibly moving to the west from the deep south. Wheat is heading for the wide open spaces. Even corn is shifting its base.

Where this all will lead to is not quite clear. In the end, probably, it will make agriculture as a whole much stronger. But the period of transition is not very pleasant. If in doubt, just ask any farmer.

The Christmas Clubs

THE "Christmas savings clubs" organized by the banks are each year becoming more and more important in the national scheme of things. Figures compiled by the Alexander Hamilton institute show that more than $632,000,000 will be distributed this year to approximately 11,000,000 members of such clubs.

The average amount received by each member this year is $54.60—five dollars below last year's average. However, the total amount of money involved, and the total number of depositors, are greater than ever before.

Those who are among the thrifty 11,000,000 do not need to be told that the Christmas club is an excellent thing for the individuals involved; and a moment's thought makes it obvious that the plan is a good thing for the nation as a whole. The banks estimate that all but about 30 per cent of the money will be spent immediately—a stimulus for business of no mean size!

For Confederate Veterans

THE Veterans of Foreign Wars, drafting a legislative program to be submitted to congress this winter, includes a resolution urging that hospitalization privileges in government hospitals in the South be made free to Confederate veterans. It is to be hoped that congress will adopt it.

Disabled veterans of all wars can get free hospitalization in these institutions, with the single exception that Civil war veterans must be men who wore the blue and not the gray. But there are many aging Confederate soldiers who need such attention very badly; and, as the V. F. W. points out:

"They fought for a cause they believed to be right and today they are honored and respected citizens of this country."

Adopting this resolution would be a fair and gracious act.

Reproof (to Don Wahn)

I saw you at a club the other night,
It strikes me that you're going very gay;
Of course I wouldn't say that you were tight,
But when I left—well, you were on the way.

I realize that it is rather rude
Of me to censor any of your ways,
But throwing rolls is very, very crude—
You never did such things in other days.

Where did you ever find that girl you had?
To say the very least she was unique.
You used to be a rather squeamish lad
Concerning femmes. Of course I shouldn't speak—
But wretched taste like yours seems very queer,
Especially since you once had me, my dear!

—DONNA WANDA.

Hays Makes Waste

The cinema censors, as everyone probably knows, go to great extremes making all concerned miserable with their verdicts on what must not be shown on the screen. The censors, too, have the power to change titles—titles that have become famous on Broadway, and which are often purchased for goodly sums.

Imagine, then, the joy in the offices of the movie moguls who are screening "The Queen's Husband," when the censors held that the title was objectionable and replaced it with this box office drawing name—"The Royal Bed!"

Sssssscotch!

Then there's the Scotsman, says Dan L. Cotie, who heard the "Buy Now!" slogan, and went out and bought another dime bank.

Fast-Thinking

Frederick Chapin, a Rolls-Royce monarch, dabbled in show business last season, when he financed "Sons o' Guns," which added to his millions. He did it for a lark, it appears, and wasn't keen about contributing any more money to the fickle profession. They urged him, however, to back "Princess Charming," by the same producers. After seeing the show in its tryout stage, a duo of show impresarios begged to become his partners. Chapin, who is supposed to know more about the motor car business than the stage, bargained with them.

"Give me back my original investment," he said, "and you can have the show."

They leaped at the offer, and also bought the rights to the touring "Sons o' Guns" outfit. Chapin got out with more money than he anticipated.

The "Sons o' Guns" show, which looked like a gold mine on the road, lost its star, the late Jack Donahue, and "Princess Charming" folded up like an accordion in seven weeks.

Softer Job Than This

And Dave Murray, our Bridgeport deputy, reports that he has a brother in Hollywood who has a soft job. When a yes-man says "yes," Dave's brother agrees with him.

Reportorial Accuracy

So that future historians will not be misled, Jack Lawrence defends the late "Diamond Jim" Brady with this letter: "Dear Walter: Mixed chocolates, not taffy, were Mr. Brady's weakness. He had a brief yen for peanut brittle, but it did not last. As his office boy during 1902-03, I was his candy kid. One of my delectable duties was to see that there was always a two-pound box of mixed chocolates on his desk.

"Most of these candies came from a tiny confectionery on Nassau St., near Liberty. The name was Hope. Hope's sweets were washed down with pitchers of draught sarsaparilla which I rushed in from Wilson's old-fashioned druggery, then sitch-ee-ated near Maiden Lane. In warm weather Mr. Brady would knock off three or four qts. of this brew in a day. I do not believe he studded any gal's heel with diamonds. He was no yap and he hated heels, anyhow.

"The popular notion that he wore his own diamonds conspicuously is as daffy as the taffy legend and a lot of others concerning him. He never wore diamonds on his fingers or cravats. They were embedded in his garters, his suspender or belt buckles, and in other places obscured from public view. The widespread impression that he was 'loud' is all wet. The only thing loud about him was his vocabulary, which he used now and then to broadcast a mess of profanity unparalleled in the history of man. He never smoked or drank hard likker in his life, but candy and sass finally killed him at a comparatively early age. However, while he lived he lived!"

Add Sense of Humors

An actor long idle in Hollywood, returned to Broadway and called on Charles Dillingham, the producer.

"Have you got a job for me?" pleaded the actor.

"Gee," said Mr. Dillingham as he snapped his fingers, "if you had only been here in September I could have put you in three flops."

Haw!

The Nyorker's best gag in ever so many issues is this which is christened "Near Mexico." We were almost put off the Pennsy's crack train The Florida Special the other night for laughing so loud and long at it.

It concerns our old pal Rudy Vallee, whose quick thinking, reports the mag, saved himself on the radio the other evening from misinforming his public on a vital geographical fact.

"Our next number," Rudy cooed, "comes from the great Middle West of our own United States. Or rather (he corrected himself and just in time, too) the great Southwest. It is called 'Somewhere in Old Wyoming!'"

Hehehah

A playwright, according to A. Friedman, who blamed his consistent failures on the dramatic critics, finally tried peddling apples on corners. He had a spot in the Times Square district.

A dramatic critic approached, dropped a nickel on the box, and took an apple. After one bite the critic frowned.

"These apples are bad," the critic barked. "You won't last on this corner more than two days!"

LITTLE MISS NOBODY

By VIDA HURST

Dolores Graham, 36 years old and unusually attractive to men, and Dr. Fenton are found in each other's arms, shot to death, in the latter's office. Celeste, 19, and equally beautiful, is the daughter of Dolores. Because of the scandal attached to her mother's death, Celeste is ostracized from her "crowd," and becomes a Miss Nobody instead of a respected girl. Celeste is forced to take a new job at the Elite Department store and she meets and falls in love with Dale Hamilton Jr., son of the owner of the store. At the store Celeste meets Blondie McManus, a sophisticated girl of Celeste's age with a heart of gold. Russell Graham, Celeste's father, deserts her and goes to northern California in search of work because of the scandal. Blondie moves into Celeste's apartment and they share expenses on a 50-50 basis. Through Dale Hamilton, Celeste gets a job in Randolph Clayton's offices as private secretary. Dale and Celeste are admittedly in love with each other, even though Dale knows all about the scandal which made her a "Little Miss Nobody."

Annette Grower, Celeste's former closest friend, calls to tell of her engagement to Norman Jackson. Celeste wonders how she could ever have thought herself in love with Norman. The next day Celeste goes to Clayton's office to work. She finds Clayton a man who looks much older than his 32 years and rather bored with the whole idea of working at all. Jennie Wilson, Clayton's private secretary, proves to be a rather difficult person with whom to get along. Dale also works for Clayton and often stops at Celeste's desk.

Dale takes Celeste to The Plantation to dance. They leave there and go to the Montmarte and stay until closing time. Celeste steps on the hem of her dress and tears it beyond repair. As they leave the Montmarte Jenine Wilson passes in another car and Celeste knows that they were recognized.

Clayton tells Celeste that he is thinking of making her his private secretary. Jenine Wilson is going to leave his employ. Despite herself, Celeste can't help but think that Jenine would be the type to carry a handkerchief like the one found beside her mother's body on the fatal night. Then she learns from one of the girls in the office that Jenine used to be a patient of Dr. Fenton, the murdered man.

"Hating herself for her own suspicions, Celeste placed the handkerchief in the most conspicuous place on her desk."

CHAPTER XVIII

On the way home that night Mr. Smith told Celeste Jenine had resigned her position as Mr. Clayton's secretary.

"I don't see," he added, "why R. R. C. didn't fire her long ago. But he has always insisted she was a good secretary."

"What's she going to do?"

"She says she's going to San Francisco. She claims she has a better position with the Elite department store there. I expect Dale Hamilton has gotten it for her. They belong to his father, you know."

Celeste wished she dared confide her suspicious about Jenine, but she knew the fact that the girl wore green and had once been a patient of Dr. James Fenton's was not conclusive evidence. Every patient who had been in Dr. Fenton's office for a month had been questioned. Jenine was not one of them. Celeste resolved to put the tormenting thought from her mind. She disliked the girl, but that was no reason for suspecting her of being guilty of murder.

She forced herself to listen to Mr. Smith's recital of the virtues of R. R. C.

"There's a man if God ever made one," his office manager said, admiringly. "Few millionaires in Los Angeles give as much to charity as R. R. C. But he does it quietly. One of his stipulations is that no one shall know."

"He looks awfully disillusioned."

"He was married when he was just a kid and his wife ran away with another man."

This was an "angle" Celeste had not suspected.

"What was she like? The wife, I mean."

He smiled at her eagerness.

"I don't know. It was before I knew him. Two years later she was killed in an automobile accident."

Celeste shuddered.

"Poor thing!"

"Poor R. R. C., you should say. He hasn't had any use for women since. That is to say"——

"Yes?" Celeste prompted, innocently.

"Once a friend of his always a friend," Mr. Smith asserted, skirting the edge of danger and obviously deciding the subject was to be avoided.

Celeste smiled. Was Jenine Wilson one of her employer's "friends?" If so, why was she leaving for San Francisco?

At home that evening she found herself drawn again and again to the green chiffon handkerchief. Was there any connection between the handkerchief and Jenine Wilson? Or was it merely her own overly stimulated imagination? How could she prove anything and how dared she make an accusation without proof? She shrank from further publicity. If only she could satisfy her own mind and cease thinking about it! But the idea that the other girl feared and resented her had been shown from Celeste's first day in the office. Jenine made no pretense of speaking to her unless it was necessary, and then in a tone that was in itself an insult.

Dale telephoned about 9 o'clock from San Diego.

"I'll be here all day tomorrow," he said, "but don't forget about our date for Sunday."

"I won't."

"We'll drive to Mission Inn for dinner. Can you be ready by 11 o'clock?"

"Of course! Blondie won't mind."

His voice fell.

"Oh, I'd forgotten about the girl friend. Well, you certainly don't have to stay at home on her account, do you?"

Celeste laughed.

"Of course not! Don't worry about her."

Unable to sleep, she found herself returning to the subject of Jenine. Why did Jenine wish to get away from Los Angeles? If only her doubts could be settled once and for all before Jenine went away. It was cruel and unfair to suspect a girl who, whatever her peculiarities, was probably as innocent of the crime as she was herself.

After hours of indecision, Celeste decided to show the handkerchief to Jenine the following day. She felt sure she could tell by the other girl's reaction what significance, if any, the handkerchief would have.

Celeste did not get to lunch. It was Saturday and the office closed at 1, but she would not go without seeing Jenine. Hating herself for her own suspicions, she placed the handkerchief in the most conspicuous place she could find on top of her desk and waited.

But Jenine did not leave the private office until a thin, nervous-looking woman asked to speak with "Mr. Clayton's secretary."

Celeste saw this woman's darting eyes take in every detail of the room, including herself, as she waited. She was expensively gowned with a well-tailored smartness which was not lost upon Celeste, who in her turn took in the brown tweed suit, felt hat, reptile-trimmed oxfords and crinkled suede gloves upon long, slender hands which tapped upon Celeste's desk impatiently.

Jenine approached.

"Miss Wilson?"

Jenine was nervous, too.

"Yes. Won't you come into Mr. Clayton's private office? Mr. Clayton is not here."

Had she seen the handkerchief? Her voice was insolent as she said to Celeste, "What are you waiting for? Don't you know the office is supposed to be closed?"

Celeste, waiting alone in the empty office, felt her courage ebbing. What had she hoped to accomplish? Jenine had unquestionably been upset, but who could say whether it was by the handkerchief or the nervous-appearing woman? Everything seemed tinged with the shadow of her suspicion. She thought, "There will be no peace of mind for me so long as I live."

Leaving the handkerchief on her desk, she went to the dressing room for her coat and hat. Evidently

Answers to Questions

This bureau does not give advice, but it gives free information on any subject. Often, to be accurately informed is to be beyond the need of advice, and information is always valuable, whereas advice may not be. In using this service be sure to write clearly, state your inquiry briefly, and enclose two-cent stamp for reply postage. Address The Record News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.

Q.—What is the extent of the forest lands in Brazil?—L. K. J.

A.—Brazil has a forest area of approximately one billion acres.

Q.—When was the harp first used?—D. S. A.

A.—The exact date has not been determined, but there are records of the harp prior to 3000 B. C.

Q.—What is put in silk materials to make them seem heavier?—E. R.

A.—Silks are weighted by the addition of solutions of tin or iron salts. They make the silk seem heavier, with more body. However, they decrease the wearing quality of the silk.

Q.—Some years ago I heard a humorous story about Theodore Roosevelt's falling down in an attempt at a recitation in school. Can you refresh my memory?—R. E. W.

A.—Perhaps you refer to the New York Sun's story about Roosevelt's attempt to recite "Marco Bozzaris." Roosevelt got as far as "Greece, her knees—" when his memory failed him. He repeated in a louder voice, "Greece, her knees—" and again stopped. The teacher, after a second or two, came to his rescue with the suggestion, "Grease her her knees once more Theodore; perhaps she'll go then."

Q.—What actress was it who was famous for reciting "Slide, Kelly, Slide?"—G. T.

A.—Maggie Cline.

Q.—Please tell me why there is no lift on the wings of an airplane when it is in a 90 degree banked turn.—H. T. T.

A.—When an airplane is on a 90 degree banked turn in a vertical bank, there is no lift upward on the wing. There is a lift inward towards the center of the circle, however, and this in part helps to counteract the force of gravity and prevents the plane from sliding sideways towards the ground. In other words, the plane travels about in a circle and is jammed against the air as if it were an automobile traveling about the inside of a racing bowl.

Q.—How much of an estate did Payne Whitney leave?—W. A. S.

A.—When Payne Whitney died on May 27, 1927, he left the largest estate on record in the United States or in any foreign country. The net estate after all debts, taxes, etc., were paid was $178,893,655.

Q.—How many copies of McGuffey's readers were used in this country?—T. F.

A.—Estimates range from 70 to 80 millions, and upward. The American Book company officials have estimated the combined sales of McGuffey's readers, primers and spelling book between 1836 and 1920 at 122,000,000.

Q.—Where was Sarah Bernhardt buried?—F. A. B.

A.—She died in Paris, March 27, 1923, at the age of 78. Her funeral service was held at St. Francois de Sales church, Paris. She is buried at Pere La Chaise cemetery, where her remains were placed in the family vault.

Q.—How does Germany rank in potential military power?—G. S.

A.—The total military man-power of Germany is estimated at 8,700,000. Four nations rank ahead of her in actual number of soldiers available. The percentage of military man-power of Germany as compared with the population is 13.73 per cent. Sixteen nations rank ahead of Germany in percentage of military man-power.

Q.—How many homes in the United States are wired for electricity?—H. McD.

A.—The total number of homes wired for electricity in the United States in 1929 was 19,012,664. There are 24,351,676 homes in the United States.

Q.—What six flags has Texas existed under?—R. T.

A.—That of France, planted by La Salle, the Spanish flag, the Mexican, the Lone Star banner of the republic of Texas, the Stars and Stripes, and the flag of the southern Confederacy.

Q.—Please tell me how much ice cream, cake, and coffee and how many sandwiches to prepare in serving 100 people?—C. G.

A.—Five gallons of ice cream will serve 100 persons. Brick ice cream will cut seven pieces, three-fourths to seven-eighths inches thick per brick. Two pounds of coffee, medium ground, will serve 100 persons. Six pints of cream is sufficient for this amount of coffee and two pounds of loaf sugar, one pound equaling 100 cubes. Twelve cupfuls of any sandwich filling will spread 100 sandwiches. A loaf of bread 23 inches long cuts 56 slices three-eighths of an inch thick or 30 ordinary slices. Two pounds of butter will spread 100 sandwiches. Five medium-sized cakes cut 100 pieces.

BAYLOR ROAD WORK RESUMED

Base Laid for Highway 24 Out of Seymour

Special to The Record News.

SEYMOUR, Texas, Dec. 15.—Work has been resumed on the hard surfacing of highway No. —, after an interruption on account of the weather. The H. K. McCollum company, of Fort Worth, J. B. Hardlicka, local manager, has the contract for putting down the rock base, and asphalt topping on 12½ miles of the highway beginning at Seymour and going toward Westover. No. 1 base has been put down for five and three-fifths miles, and No. 2 base for four miles. This work will continue through the winter, to be completed April or May. As soon as most of the cold weather is over the topping will begin and all the surfacing will be completed within 30 days after the base is down.

All the ponding and jetting for the fills has been completed. More than five million gallons of water has been used for that purpose.

The Westark Construction company, which has the contract for putting down the concrete surfacing from the end of McCollum contract, to Olney, has practically completed its work. There is a little pouring still to be done in Baylor county. But everything has been completed in Archer and Young county. There are still a few places where the concrete is covered with earth and will have to season a while before traffic can be routed over it.

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 15. (UP)—The muzzle of a shotgun was poked across the counter of a drug store here today and two youthful robbers instructed C. N. Gardner, store manager, to "open the safe pronto."

The two boys took $500 from the safe and walked from the store. Ten persons who were present in the room did not know a robbery was taking place.

Little Miss Nobody

there was nothing to be gained by remaining. But she returned to find the mysterious stranger gone and Jenine standing by her desk like the cat who had just swallowed the canary. The handkerchief had disappeared.

The two girls faced each other with no further attempt to conceal their mutual distrust and aversion.

"Where's that handkerchief?" Celeste demanded.

"What handkerchief?"

"You know what I mean. The green chiffon handkerchief I left on my desk."

"Sez you?" Jenine retorted, insolently. "What you trying to do—accuse me of stealing your confounded handkerchief?"

"You've taken it!" Celeste cried, hysterically. "Give it back to me or I'll have you arrested."

"Say, what's the matter with you? Haven't you caused enough trouble around here? You can't put anything over on me. I know what you mean. Look at these if you don't believe me."

With a sickening sensation of sinking Celeste saw a little bundle of clippings about her mother. In some way she could not understand they immediately put her upon the defensive.

"Where did you get them?" she gasped.

Jenine laughed.

"From a newspaper office. Now, my dear Sherlock, let me congratulate you on your cleverness. But why am I favored by your suspicions?"

Celeste's eyes were dark with pain.

"You were once a patient of Dr. Fenton's."

"And supposing I was? Do you dare accuse me of murdering your mother because of that? Be careful, my dear, or you'll be getting yourself into trouble."

"What do you mean?"

"I mean I can prove where I was that night, and if you don't believe it ask"——

The door opened to admit the rotund Mr. Smith, who entered noisily, pretending not to notice that the two girls were quarreling.

"Want to ride home, Celeste?"

"No, thanks!"

Jenine cried recklessly, "R. R. C.'s new secretary has just accused me of being a murderess."

Mr. Smith's mild face reddened.

"Why, Celeste"——

Celeste, bewildered and confused, stammered, "But why did you take the handkerchief?"

"How do you know that I did? Would you like to have me searched? It would make a dandy story to add to this collection."

"This has gone far enough," Mr. Smith said, severely. "Run along, Jenine."

Jenine departed, her black eyes flashing venomously.

"Poor child," Mr. Smith said, kindly, "you've allowed your imagination to run away with you."

But Celeste did not hear him. She had dropped unconscious upon the floor.

LAWTON RAISES RELIEF FUND

$5,100 Made Available For Unemployed

Special to The Record News.

LAWTON, Okla., Dec. 15.—Over $5,000 is already assured the community fund which will be utilized for relief of the unemployed and destitute of Lawton during the winter months, it was announced today by the secretary of the community relief committee.

One hundred eighty-six firms, groups and individuals have pledged to contribute the amount for December, January, February and March. The committee is not nearly through with the solicitation and expects to raise a total of $10,000 which amount has been estimated as sufficient.

Employes of several large industries and retail firms have signed up one hundred per cent to donate one per cent of their salaries for the four-month period. The committee is highly gratified at the cooperation being shown.

Citizens are being urged to refrain from doing personal charity work as it has been found that in several instances where the committee has given assistance the itinerants have gone upon the streets soliciting cash. None who are in need are being turned away and all the hungry are being fed upon application, and given a place to sleep.

Two more grade school rooms will be opened Jan. 29 to accommodate the unprivileged children who have been kept out of school to work, and for other reasons, until the winter term.

This grouping is done and the bonuses awarded with no additional taxes of financial obligations of any sort. Caddo is the only group that is complete. The other groups are Breckenridge, Parks, Frankell and Ivan.

Toys Sell About As Fast as Usual

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15. (UP)—Santa Claus will distribute almost as many Christmas toys this holiday season as in any past year, despite the business depression, the commerce department estimated today.

Rather than deprive their children of any yuletide joys, the department said parents will sacrifice other things to buy toys. Gifts for grownups this year are expected by the department to be mostly of a utilitarian nature.

"If the 1929 census of manufacturers is to be taken as an indication," the department said, "the lines which will be most popular are dolls, wheel goods and metal toys."

More than $88,000,000 worth of toys was produced in 1929 of which dolls, doll parts and doll clothes represented more than $16,200,000, he added. About the same amount were believed to have been produced this year. Tricycles, sidewalk bikes, automobiles, wagons, etc., ranked next to dolls and accounted for $16,000,000 of all toys manufactured.

Food That Is Food

Experience has shown that no civilized country is able to keep its food wholesome without developing laws controlling the purity of food. The trick of making foods seem better than they are is as old as marketing itself. In Athens and Rome, for example, special investigators were used to watch the selling of wine to prevent wine from being adulterated with coloring and flavoring agents. As early as 1203 a proclamation was issued in England called the "pillory and tumbrel" to compel bakers, butchers and brewers to be honest with the public. This was the first law in England to take note of food adulteration.

The man who stands at the head of the modern movement for pure food is Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, who said "I have always stood for food that is food." In speaking of the fight for pure foods he stated "This is a struggle for human rights as much as the revolutionary or civil war; a battle for the privilege of going free of robbery and with a guarantee of health."

On the 9th of April 1883 Dr. Wiley started his work as chief of the division of chemistry in the United States department of agriculture. He turned his attention at once to the subject of food without adulteration. Although he had no popular following at the time he believed it of the greatest importance to protect the health of a human being buying food. Dr. Wiley organized a study of food adulteration and aroused public opinion through magazines and newspapers to this grave problem.

Senator Paddock of Nebraska succeeded in getting a bill past the senate but it was thrown out of the house of representatives. The interests which were behind the movement to keep foods as they were concentrated on preventing the passage of any pure food laws. Some of the representatives sent to Washington insisted that if the pure food laws were passed it would mean the downfall of the entire American industry.

At that time foods could be adulterated and their purity lessened by having cheaper substances added and the public had no protection against poisonous substances being used in foods to preserve or color them. A third evil was that brands were not required to state accurately what the food or drug really was, neither was the weight nor quantity required to be given. Many of the food manufacturers who were willing to provide pure food and honest weight were forced to the wall by those dealers who could under-sell them by adulterating.

Finally, under the leadership of Dr. Wiley, the federal foods and drug act was signed by the president on the 30th of June, 1906. According to this food and drug act, a food is adulterated when: "First, if any substance has been mixed or packed with it, so as to reduce, or lower, or injuriously affect its quality, or strength; second, if any substance has been substituted wholly or in part for the article; third, if any valuable constituent of the article has been wholly or in part abstracted; fourth, if it be mixed, colored, powdered, coated or strained in a manner whereby damage or inferiority is concealed; fifth, if it contains any added deleterious ingredient which may render it injurious to health . . . When such products are ready for consumption; sixth, if it consists in whole or in part of a filthy, decomposed or putrid animal or vegetable substance, or if it is the product of a diseased animal or one that has died otherwise than by slaughter."

ANSWERS AND QUESTIONS

Muscular Weakness

Question—Mrs. U. H. writes: "My husband is a middle-aged man and is losing the use of the muscles of his arms and hands. The right hand started first and is now quite stiff. It is about one and a half years since it started. What is causing this, and what would you advise?"

Answer—There are several disorders that could cause the symptoms that are troubling your husband. I do not diagnose diseases by mail, but if you will send me a doctor's report of his condition I will be glad to send you my advice.

Piercing the Ears

Question—Mrs. J. writes: "Please give me your advice as to the best way of piercing my ears for ear rings."

Answer—A method for piercing the lobes of the ears frequently used in Europe is to use ear rings which are fastened on with a screw device and increase the pressure of the screw two or three times each day. In the course of time the circulation will be entirely stopped in the area of the pressure and a hole may be made in the lobe without any sensation of pain.

Double Chins

Question—Mrs. Wm. E. asks: "Will you please publish again the exercises for getting rid of double chins? Several of us will be interested in seeing your answer."

Answer—Any of the neck exercises will help in reducing a double chin. This one is especially effective: Tense the neck muscles and quickly throw the head back, keeping the muscles tense. Repeat this several times and gradually increase the number of times each day. Another exercise is taken by placing a pillof against the wall and leaning with the forehead against the pillow so that the muscles on the front of the neck are tensed. Roll the head from side to side in this position.

CORSICANA GRID GAME RANKS AS PREP SCHOOL MASTERPIECE

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED THOMPSON

W. Carl Williams—old Big Chief Carl, the boy who lost a pennant only because he didn't have one more pitcher—will be the manager of the Wichita Falls Spudders in 1931.

Such is the frank opinion of the Rambler, reached after many sleepless nights and hours of meditation and prayer.

For if old Carl hadn't been lined up to return, Prexy Biff Huff and others would certainly have been scooting around the hotel lobbies at Montreal, Canada, looking for a pilot. As it was, they didn't do a thing but sell the only man in the world who could be regarded as Williams' logical successor. I refer, of course, to Howard C. Fitzgerald.

Prexy Huff was due back home today from points East. After attending the Montreal meeting he remained in the football belt to see the Army-Navy game. We can expect an announcement from him on this question, and it will be, in all likelihood, that Williams is the man.

Prexy Huff should have several other announcements to make, in addition. Certainly he didn't make any staggering efforts to rebuild the Spudders while he was in Montreal. All he did there was put over Fitzgerald's sale and rid himself of a little excess baggage by farming Earl Caldwell out to Milwaukee. Something—in fact, a whole lot, must be up the prexy's sleeve. Indeed, he must have a whole ball team up his sleeve, for that's exactly what it will take for Wichita Falls to stay in the Texas league—a ball team. And so far we have exactly nothing but a bunch of recruits.

While Prexy Huff was in Montreal the Rambler eagerly awaited an announcement that Garland Orr had been sold to the New York Giants, or some other class D club. We figured, indeed, that after getting about five hits down here in this fast Texas league club that he deserved promotion. But life is cruel, and those most deserving of reward often are forced to be content with little things.

Levey Finally Caged

Reports that Spider Levey will play basket ball with the First Methodist church team this season should attract many more followers of the sport to the games the churches are staging each week. I saw Jim the other day for the first time since he started selling men's unspeakables and collars and such things down at Saul's. He said he liked his job but hankered for exercise on the side. Something to keep in trim. Ross Edgemon, athletic director of the First Methodist church, saw to it that Levey got an opportunity to loosen up. He put him in a cage with the rest of the cagers.

Jim got tired of being bottled up in Pittsburgh, and even went so far as to play a little professional football on the side. He had played only four games, however, when the St. Louis Browns wrote him a letter. The letter didn't command him to stop the rough and tumble sport, he said, but it hinted that he should—and he did. If Jim is as fast on a court as he is on the diamond some of the church basketeers had better watch out.

More About Olney

A few things about the Olney-Slaton game last week remain to be cleared up. That's the beauty about having a column to ramble in. If you get excited covering a good game and forget to mention a few details, why you have a whole column each day thereafter at your disposal.

It sounded kinda bad, no doubt, when you read in the paper that B. Gilmore, the Olney captain, was ousted because of slugging. Well, it wasn't as bad as it sounded. I asked Gilmore about it after the game. "What did you try to do, young man," I asked, "make a tenderloin outa somebody?"

I've forgotten Gilmore's exact words, but this isn't a court room so why should I worry. Anyway he said he biffed a guy in the face as he was charging through the line. He knew better, he said, and did not intentionally slug the fellow. Well, two officials saw it and called it unnecessary roughing. One of them ordered a 25-yard penalty. The other said the player should be thrown out of the game. Well, the officials apparently couldn't agree so they did both, ousting Gilmore and taking a long walk with the ball, setting Olney back 25 yards.

I'm not criticising the officials. They knew their business. What I wanted to bring out was that Gilmore was not a savage, and did not slug intentionally. Olney had a reputation as a clean football team, and this reputation was endangered by the account of Gilmore's punch. But he didn't mean to do it at all.

O'Brien's Bad Pass

Another thing. O'Brien, Olney center, passed the ball over the heads of everybody in the backfield one time during the game. It looked terrible. It was the first serious boneheader O'Brien had pulled in months, and everybody wondered if the boy was trying to make a reversed field goal by flinging the oval 45 yards between his own goal posts. Well, I found out later that O'Brien had misunderstood the play. So that accounts for that.

If you didn't attend that game, and doubt the reports about how tense everybody was in the last half, hark ye to this tale. When Olney made its first touchdown to tie the score 6-all, and needed an extra point to get ahead, many hearts were doing the Rudy Vallee. Olney lined up to try for the extra point. While Quarterback Goode was standing with outstretched arms waiting for the ball to be snapped, the 4,000 spectators were so tense and quiet that one fan, who told me about it later, said he could hear the keys of my typewriter clicking from where he stood all the way across the field, and down near the 30-yard line. I was sitting at a table on the 50-yard line.

But when Goode passed successfully to West and made the extra point the sound of clicking typewriter keys resumed its lowly station in life.

BATTLE DEFIES DUPLICATION

Scribe Talbot Waxes Warm In Praise of Teams

By GAYLE TALBOT JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Dec. 15.—Some time, somewhere, there might be another football game like that played between the Corsicana Tigers and the Amarillo Golden Sandstorm Saturday aat Corsicana. It is possible, but not probable.

The score (Amarillo 33, Corsicana 25) gives a fair idea of the sort of struggle waged between the eleven from the far Panhandle and the Central Texas champs. It doesn't tell, however, how that great scoring machine from Amarillo swept the Tigers off their feet at the start and rolled up four touchdowns before the Navarro boys came out of their trance. Nor how that Corsicana team came back fighting to push across three scores and trail by only seven points early in the fourth period. Nor how Odell "Muggins" Fowler, the Sandie quarterback, broke the Tigers' hearts a moment later with a 90-yard return of the ensuing kick-off.

Can't Be Duplicated

The two powerful schoolboy elevens might play every Saturday from now until then, but it is doubtful they would repeat their performance. There is no doubt Amarillo had the greatest team on the field Saturday. Its running attack, with Bufkin, Fowler and Scanlan, three fast, powerful boys, was about the prettiest thing you would want to see. Still, it is highly doubtful the Sandies ever again could run up four touchdowns against that great Corsicana line in two periods of play. It is just as doubtful that Bob Wilson, Tiger halfback, ever again would catch four touchdown passes over Amarillo's defense.

It was a game in which everything went right from the offensive point of view. Amarillo's ball carriers, invariably starting from some sleight-of-hand behind their steady line and given perfect blocking and interference, tore off repeated gains in those early assaults on the Corsicana goal line. The Tiger forward wall, boasting such stars as Billy Stamps, all-state guard for the last two years, was inadequate to stop the rampaging Sandies. This Burl Bufkin, Amarillo fullback, probably is the most powerful runner in state high school circles today, and Fowler and Scanlan are almost as good. Bufkin runs with a high knee action that throws off tacklers like an electric fan repelling flies.

Tigers Good Passers

For Corsicana, once the Tigers started clicking, it was the same. Their passes were accurate, whether long or short, and the receivers didn't know what it was to drop one. They took them from every angle, using one hand or both, and at times wrested them away from two and three Sandies bent on knocking them down. They completed 22. It was that kind of a game; the kind the clients hope for but very, very seldom see.

Referee Bennie Boynton, who saw considerable football while an all-American quarterback at Williams and still more in a decade of officiating, told the writer it was the greatest thriller in his experience. And so said Harold Hough, the "hired hand," veteran radio announcer for WBAP at Fort Worth, who doubtless has described more games over the air than any man in the Southwest. So said everybody else who saw the game.

TYLER-SANDIE TICKETS ON SALE TOMORROW

FORT WORTH, Dec. 15. (AP)—Tickets for the Tyler-Amarillo state championship high school football game at the Texas Christian university stadium Saturday afternoon will be placed on sale Wednesday morning. L. C. "Pete" Wright, athletic director, and a representative from Tyler and one from Amarillo have been appointed as a committee to handle the sales.

With the exception of the east stands every seat in the stadium will be reserved. The student tickets will be 50 cents and will be sold to all accredited state high school students. The reserve seats will be $1.50 and the boxes $2.

Reservations began to pour in this morning. Milt Daniel of Breckenridge was the first to make reservation, wiring for 100 of each the adult and student tickets. Dan Rogers of Dallas wired for 1,000 student tickets. The east stands will be divided into sections for the students. One section will be turned over to the Tyler followers and the other to Amarillo students. Others attending the game may fill in the vacant places.

Several thousand tickets are expected to be purchased by Amarillo and Tyler. Both cities are operating special trains to the contest which will carry more than 500 persons each.

Muddy Ruel Sold To Boston Red Sox

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15. (AP)—Muddy Ruel, once an iron man among American league catchers, has been sold to the Boston Red Sox by the Washington Nationals.

Clark Griffith, president of the Washington team, announced the transaction today. The transfer was outright on a cash basis, he said, but he declined to disclose the amount involved.

LOOPER LEVEY

Spider Joins Basket Ball Team of Methodist Church

Jimmy Spider Levey, beater-out of bunts and star Spudder shortstopper of the late baseball season, will be seen in a new role tonight when he appears in the scant attire of a basketeer with the First Methodist church basket ball team at the Floral Heights Presbyterian church gymnasium. The Methodists will play the First Southern Presbyterians in one of the regular league games on tonight's program.

Levey "signed" with the team Sunday and expects to keep in trim by playing the rest of the season. He is to report to the St. Louis Browns next spring, and will spend the winter here.

Waurika Eagles Clash With Coyote Five Tonight in Practice Game

Waurika High school's Eagles are to be the foes of the High school Coyotes here tonight at 7 o'clock sharp, according to Coach Barry Holton. The game will be played on the Junior college court and will be a continuation of the practice games the Coyote mentor has mapped out for the fighting Pack. An admission price of 25 cents will be charged.

The Red and Black tossers have already hung up two victories in a row and a third scalp will be the aim of the local basketeers tonight. The first win was scored over the Clara aggregation by the smallest of margins while the Southern Presbyterians proved easier, succumbing to the Coyote five by a 36-26 count. The Waurika dribblers are bringing a veteran five to Coyoteville, and the local lads will have their hands full to score another victory.

Going through their final preparations before the scrap, the Pack charged the Seymour Roadsters, independent organization, on the College floor last night. They proved themselves ready to meet the powerful Sooner team. The squad is in excellent condition for the approaching melee, and the spectators are promised a thrilling battle. Coach Holton is expected to use his entire "A" squad against the invaders, but the opening lineup will probably find Allen at center, Reeves and Howell at forwards, and Brandon and Janeway at guards.

Bankers Defeat Leading Bowlers

The City National bank bowlers threw a scare into the camp of the Commercial Bowling league pace setters, the Building and Loan beavers, Monday night when they won three straight from the leaders at the Spudder alleys. Staley's won three from Montgomery company, Wolff Brothers took two out of three from First National bank, and Texas Electric Service company took a like number from the Parfet and Martlew aggregation. Lundien of the builders was high three games with 617, and Johnson of Wolff Brothers was high single game with 226 knockdowns. Scores:

North-South Grid Game Suggested

NEW YORK, Dec. 15. (AP)—Hard on the heels of the latest football festivals on behalf of charity, came a suggestion today for a final game in the series, of which four already have been staged here for the benefit of the unemployed. The idea seemed to be that a combination of northern college stars would meet a similar team from the South in one of the big New York ball parks Dec. 27, but several complications set in.

Difficulty in rounding up players and lining up a field for the game hampered the initial discussions, instituted by the New York chapter of the Knights of Columbus in conjunction with the American Legion and the mayor's committee for relief of the unemployed.

Tickets for All-Star Game on Sale Today

Tickets for the football game here Friday afternoon between the Wichita Falls and Vernon all-star teams, will go on sale today, was announced. They may be purchased at Haley's Drug store, Tenth and Broad, or through any parent-teacher association in the city.

The game will be a return affair, the Wichita Falls stars having journeyed to Vernon last week for a game in which they were defeated, 13 to 7.

Arrangements are being made to secure Athletic park for the game. The definite site will be announced later.

An old Spanish superstition is that a person who has been bitten by the poisonous tarantula can avert death by dancing for three hours.

Mangum Cagers Win Both Opening Games

Special to The Record News.

MANGUM, Okla., Dec. 15.—Making their hardwood debut last Friday night, Mangum's High school boys and girls basket ball teams routed Brinkman in both ends of a double tilt. The girls triumphed in a 27 to 16 score, while the boys eked out a 31 to 29 decision. A return engagement will be played at Brinkman Tuesday. The next home contest will be staged here next Thursday with Willow.

CORSICANA TO PLAY BUCKS

Losers in Race Play At Breckenridge Friday

Special to The Record News.

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, Dec. 15.—The Corsicana Tigers and the Breckenridge Buckaroos, both defeated by Amarillo in the state high school grid race will meet here Friday afternoon in a post-season game, Supt. N. S. Holland of Breckenridge announced late today.

Corsicana will come to Breckenridge on a fixed guarantee and a portion of the gate redeipts. A part of the funds received by Breckenridge from the game will be applied to local charity.

The game is due to attract considerable attention in West Texas since fans in this part of the state are still of the opinion that Coach P. E. Shotwell's 1930 Buckaroos are the cream of the state and Corsicana is without a doubt one of the most powerful clubs in the state this year.

Clarendon and Memphis Exes to Play Again

Special to The Record News.

CLARENDON, Texas, Dec. 15.—The second game between Memphis and Clarendon ex-high school stars will be played in this city next Friday afternoon starting at 2:30. The first game played at Memphis last Friday resulted in an 8 to 0 victory for the local team. The games are being played under the auspices of the American Legion of Memphis and the Clarendon band at Clarendon, the proceeds being split evenly for these causes. The Memphis team was rather more outclassed last Friday than the score indicated but they promised to bring a strengthened and recruited lineup for next Friday's game of old stars.

Gould Basket Ball Team Beats Altus

Special to The Record News.

GOULD, Okla., Dec. 15.—The Gould Coyotes defeated Altus 35 to 15 on the Gould court Friday night. This was the second game Coach Newberry's charges have won in two starts. Wellington was beaten 31 to 6.

The Gould girls defeated the W. A. A. club from Weatherford, 45 to 23.

Gould meets Vinson in a double-header on the local court next Friday night.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Dec. 15. (AP)—A further decline at the opening of cotton here today under a continuation of last week's selling movement brought in active covering and trade buying. Rallies followed, with March selling up from 9.56 to 9.94, but offerings increased at the advance and prices lost a good part of the gain under renewed liquidation with March closing at 9.65. The final tone of the market was easy at net declines of 15 to 20 points.

Weakness in Liverpool and the lower opening in the stock market were contributing factors on the early decline. This checked the break at 9.23 for December and 9.83 for May contracts, new low records for the movement, and steadied prices up during the middle of the day.

Buying of late months by brokers who are sometimes credited with trading for the cooperative interests led to rumors that stabilizing operations such as those recently reported in wheat were being extended to cotton. These rumors were not confirmed, and the advance from the low levels of the morning were attributed largely to a strengthened technical position following recent drastic declines, and increased trade buying.

Liverpool cables reported hedging and general liquidation in that market and said business in cotton cloths and yarns were disorganized with producers losing ground. Exports today 29,894 making 3,-605,831 so far this season. Port receipts 36,248. U. S. port stocks 4,160,584.

Futures closed easy 16 to 20 points lower. Spot quiet, middling 9.45.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 15. (AP)—After making new low levels for the season 22 to 25 points from Saturday's close due to poor Liverpool cables and further long liquidation, the cotton market today experienced a good rally. The technical position had been strengthened by the heavy liquidation and the stock market showed improvement which sent shorts scurrying to cover. By the middle of the afternoon session January had recovered 37 points to 9.68 and March had reached 9.93 up 38 points from the lows. Trading was quite active all through the session. The market turned easy again however in late trading dropping 28 to 23 points from the highs, and closing barely steady at net losses of 13 to 20 points.

Liverpool came in 2 to 5 penny points worse than due and private cables reported general liquidation uncovering stop loss orders. First trades here showed losses of 17 to 18 points and the market continued to decline after the start until January reached 9.31 and May 9.82 down 22 to 25 points from Saturday's close.

Later in the morning the market rallied sharply on an improved technical position and shorts covering helped by firmer stocks. By the middle of the afternoon session January had recovered to 9.58, March to 9.93 and May to 10.19 a rally of 37 to 38 points from the lows of the early morning. During the early decline May and July broke below the 10-cent line.

The market turned easy again in the late trading on profit taking and liquidation in advance of January notice day and a great part of the mid-session recovery was lost, January closing at 9.40 and March at 9.64 or 28 to 29 points down from the highs and 13 to 16 points net lower for the day on those active months. May closed 20 points net down.

Port receipts 36,248, for week 57,801, for season 6,547,703, last season 6,396,598; exports 29,894; for week 50,380; for season 3,509,959, last season 3,551,784; port stocks 4,247,783, last year 2,737,236, last year 2,737,236. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 138,797, last year 185,950, spot sales at southern markets 21,062, last year 23,181.

Futures closed barely steady, 13 to 20 points down.

Stock Market Struggles Toward Stabilization in Erratic Day

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Dec. 15. (US)—With volume approaching three and a half million shares, the stock market today approached stabilization, although weak situations were again uncovered in sufficient number to cause a decidedly irregular closing.

The copper, oil and railroad groups were unable to absorb the offerings. Nevertheless, the leading, or pivotal industrial stocks, those which normally receive the initial support from the most powerful interests, finished the day virtually unchanged, on the average.

It was a day of varied trends, with opening transactions affected by a heavy selling wave, the result of forced liquidation of margin accounts and renewed professional pressure. The setback, however, failed to extend very far and with the first demonstration of a slightly firmer position for the market a rally set in.

This lasted through a good part of the session, but in the late afternoon the weakness of the Oils and the Coppers caused a general setback.

The market continued nervous on repetition of the many stories of additional difficulties still to be disclosed publicly, although it was impossible to check any of these rumors. The sizeable volume of transactions the last few market days undoubtedly represented a good deal of distress selling, but today for the first time in months highest type buying developed for a few leading stocks.

Specifically, a substantial amount of United States Steel Common and American Can was purchased for trust funds managed by one of the most powerful banking interests. Likewise, it was reported that one of the leading "market" banks had become decidedly less bearish, and this brought in considerable demand for American Can. The latter company was reported to be planning early establishment of its stock on a regular $5 annual dividend basis, in substitution for the current $4 regular and $1 extra. Steel Common closed up a full point, though its recovery brought in considerable offerings.

Although more than 300 issues entered new low ground during the day, the selling of the Coppers, the Oils, and the Rails was outstanding. The Coppers suffered, Anaconda particularly, from reports that second hand Copper was being sold under 10 cents a pound. Although reports were also spread that the Copper stabilization program had failed, competent observers remarked it is too early yet to judge the outcome.

The Oil stocks were under the most persistent pressure, and while attempt was made to attribute the selling to bear quarters the fact remains as true as it did many months ago that the principal selling in the Oils is outright liquidation.

The most disconcerting feature of the Oil group is the steady decline in some of the largest Standard Oil units' shares. Standard of New York slumped to the lowest price for many years, with its yield approaching close to 8 per cent.

Texas Corporation, which has always been rated one of the finest of the independents, also established a new low at 31½, at which its $3 dividend yields over 9 per cent. Phillips Petroleum, in which there has been hurried liquidation, was another notable weak spot. The question is being raised as to the true earnings of this company.

The "banking situation" has materially improved through elimination of the outstanding sore spot, the New York suspended bank, and others underneath the surface of which the public is unfamiliar. These developments are well known to the banking community and naturally are cause for relative encouragement. They might conceivably furnish the foundation for a substantial rally without necessarily marking the absolute turn.

The bear party is very powerful, and rich. A good deal of the more recent concentrated selling—of the most vicious type—has been coming from a group of speculators who were the most rabid bulls at the top of last year's market and again were wrong in the 1930 upturn which proved a fizzle.

This particular group is composed entirely of professionals and their heaviest selling has been concentrated in the very stocks which they were instrumental in putting to unwarranted heights. They have been heavy sellers of Radio and Worthington Pump, among others. Worthington was forced sharply lower and at its closing price represented a reasonable ratio to estimated earnings for the current year.

Sudden revival in the local Traction group furnished a near-sensation, with Interborough up over four points, Brooklyn-Manhattan three points at its high of the day, and the Manhattan Elevated issues up six points each. The buying was predicated on rumors of an adjustment of the unification schedules, but the reports were promptly denied by city officials.

This group has been subjected to innumerable speculative operations. The Railroad group was under steady pressure throughout the day, with the entire list at new lows. Delaware, Lackawanna dropped 6½ points on estimates of little over $4 per-share earnings this year. Yields in this group are the highest among the leaders, of any of the three major sections of the market.

Sharp recovery of Trans-America provided one of the most cheering developments of the day. The stock advanced more than two points on announcement that a $20,000,000 pool has been organized by the largest holders of the stock in a stabilization effort. Simultaneously the borrowing premium on the stock was advanced to one-quarter of 1 per cent.

The bond market was again weak. Competent authorities anticipate the bond market will lead the way for stocks in any nearby recovery. Sugar stocks were in supply on failure of the stabilization scheme, with disappointment reflecting itself in weakness in the market for the commodity also.

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Dec. 15. (AP)—Corn prices on the cash grain market today followed in part the late price advance in contract values but trade continued slow in all grains. Estimated receipts were heavier: Wheat, 10 cars; corn, 16; oats, 3, and sorghums, 10.

No. 1 hard wheat of any protein was probably worth 80@81c, delivered Texas common points.

Bids and offers on coarse grains ranged nominally as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas common points, freight paid:

Corn—No. 2 mixed 83@84c; No. 2 white or yellow 85@86c.

Oats—No. 2 red 47@48c.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo per 100 pounds $1.30@1.32; No. 2 kaffir $1.28@1.30.

Dealers also quoted as follows, basis delivery group 1 points: No. 2 mixed corn 83@84c; No. 2 white corn 85@86c; No. 2 yellow 84@85c, to which add 3c for delivery group 3. No. 3 white oats 44¼@44¾c, to which add 1 cent for delivery group three.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Dec. 15. (AP)—Australian and Argentine reports of adverse crop conditions, together with 1,621,000 bushels United States wheat visible supply decrease, tended to lift wheat today. Corn acted oversold, and rose sharply at the last, responsive to brisk demand from previous speculative sellers spurred on by wintry weather and prospective curtailment of receipts.

Wheat closed irregular, from a shade net decline to 1¼ cents gain; corn 1⅜@1⅞ cents up, oats at ¾@1⅛ cents advance, and provisions from a 2-cent setback to a rise of 10.

Late dispatches which strengthened wheat told of fears that damage by excessive rains was serious in a large part of New South Wales, Australia. There were reports also of unfavorable crop conditions in Argentina. The Chicago July delivery of wheat underwent a transient fractional sag to a new low-price record since 1903. The setback, of brief duration only, was associated with downturns of security prices, an influence that later was offset by other considerations, notably evidence of optimism at Winnipeg relative to possible wheat market plans of the Canadian premier on his return from Europe.

Corn rose despite 2,887,000 bushels increase in the visible supply this week, a much larger increase than either a week or a year ago.

Provisions, responsive to upturns of hogs and grain, were higher.

Closing indemnities: Wheat, March, offers, 79½@¾; May 81, 81⅛; July 70⅜, 72@72½. Corn, Dec., offers, 72¼; March 73½, 75⅝; May 75, 77⅛@77¼; July 75⅝, 73½.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, Dec. 15. (US)—Open interest in wheat futures, with the exception of the July has been steadily declining. This is presumed to be due to the evening up of speculative commitments, owing to the stabilization operation.

Italy's import requirements were officially placed at 94,000,000 bushels of which 20,000,000 bushels have already been purchased.

Broomhall reported an estimate that 4,-000,000 bushels of grain were damaged by recent rains in Australia.

According to the same authority, little Canadian grain has been shipped down the Great Lakes since the end of November, as large quantities were shipped that month. Navigation is now closed. Quantity afloat in winter storage vessels is placed at 25,000,000 bushels compared with 22,-000,000 bushels a year ago.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 15. (AP)—(U.S.D.A.)—Moderate activity developed in the hog trade around the 11-market circuit with prices unevenly 10@25c higher. The top of $8.35 was paid at St. Louis. Offerings were around 108,200.

Fat lambs were on a steady to 35c higher basis while matured killing classes of sheep were scarce and mostly steady. All interests in Chicago paid up to $8.35 for choice fat lambs and at Omaha fed westerns made $7.75 on shipper accounts. The supply approximated 85,200.

Receipts of cattle were estimated at 73,000. Better grades of fed steers and yearlings found a fair demand at firm to slightly higher prices but at most markets medium quality shortfed steers moved slowly at steady to 25c lower rates. Chicago scored $13.60 on choice yearlings and realized $12.75 on choice 1,349-pound steers. There was a fairly broad demand for most stocker and feeder classes at steady prices. Choice yearling stockers in Omaha made $9.70.

State to Invoke Purchaser Law

AUSTIN, Dec. 15. (AP)—The state railroad commission served notice on pipe line companies today that it intended to enforce the common purchaser act.

An order was prepared and probably will be issued later today instructing common carrier pipe line companies to refuse to accept tenders of crude oil for transportation in excess of the allowable production fixed by the umpire in each field.

By this order, the commission hopes to stop discrimination by pipe line companies which take oil from one well in a field and none from the well's offset, solely because the carrier has no connection to the offset well.

It was interpreted as meaning that infractions of the umpire's findings would be penalized.

Validity of the pipe line law has been openly questioned by oil company attorneys although there has been no court ruling on the law. It was considered possible today's order might be the forerunner of a test case. Many pipe line companies deny they are common carriers and hence a public utility.

BAYLOR FIELD WORK STEADY

Throckmorton County Land Being Leased

Special to The Record News

SEYMOUR, Texas, Dec. 15.—The oil situation is quiet in Baylor county. However, drillers are able to report a recent new competition on the Portwood ranch which is pumping about 100 barrels per day. Another test in this field is nearly to sand.

A test of considerable interest in this section is that of the Shappel Oil company, engineered by A. R. Smith of Seymour, and located on the Upshur county school land, block 50, U. C. S. L., about 18 miles south of Seymour. The first hole put down by the company was abandoned between 500 and 600 feet, on account of the tools being lost. The derrick was skidded over and the fresh hole is now about 1,000 feet down.

The 100 barrel well, on the W. H. Portwood ranch, is Consolidated Oil company No. 20, located in section 1281, T. E. and L. survey, in southeast Baylor county. The sand was topped at 1370 and 1413 feet.

The Douglas Oil company No. 1 Robinson, section 264, H. & T. C. survey, abstract 1562, is shut down at 1910 feet. Otto Sample, driller, believes operations may be resumed after the first of the year. The Texas company and L. T. Burns No. 1 W. B. Mills, southeast Baylor, was abandoned at 1550 feet.

Morrison and Ehorn's No. 1 C. T. Porter, in the A. Baker survey, abstract 23, is stationary at 1465 feet.

C. G. Hart is drilling on the J. W. Stevens estate, William Tyndale survey, abstract No. 302, at a depth of 1323 feet.

Hudson and others have spudded in a rank wildcat, a short distance south of Elbert townsite in Throckmorton county.

Drillers in this section have been notified by the oil proration advisory committee to cut down their production 28 per cent unless their production is four barrels per day or less. Not many wells are effected in this immediate section.

THRIFT TO RULE SCHOOL FUND

Money to Be Administered Economically

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 15. (UP)—The state board of education voted today to apportion Oklahoma's weak school aid money for the next year in an unusually economical manner.

Resolutions outlining the ways in which the apportionment of the $1,750,000 available for weak schools will be made were passed by the board.

"Only under the most unusual conditions shall any district be apportioned state aid in excess of the apportionment made last year," the resolution said.

The following provisions were included in the resolutions:

1.—No district operating under approximately the same conditions of last year shall be aided in any amount which will make the aggregate expenditure of the district greater than that of last year if a full term of school was maintained.

2.—In the initial apportionment of funds, all districts shall receive a fund somewhat less than the total received during the year 1929 if the district is operating under similar conditions.

3.—Transfer fees shall not in any case be paid in an amount exceeding the actual per capita cost for the preceding year in the district where the transferred children are attending.

4.—One and two teacher schools shall not be apportioned funds for teachers' salary in excess of $100 a month per teacher under maximum conditions and in addition, a reasonable allowance for other maintenance purposes shall be allowed. These amounts, however, shall be in sums less than the maximum apportionments of $225 for one-teacher schools and $450 for two-teacher schools as has been the policy of the board in previous years.

BOOSTERS SEEK AID IN DRIVE

75 Rabbit Hunters Sought For Big Expedition

Members of the I. O. Boosters' club in their weekly meeting Monday noon at the Y. W. C. A. continued as their major objective for the ensuing week the provision of additional fresh meat for the Salvation Army's distribution to the needy families in this city, and laid plans for an intensive rabbit drive to be staged next Friday, Dec. 19, with approximately 75 men participating.

According to Frank Schram, chairman of the committee named two weeks ago to arrange a hunt for rabbits, a group of men hunted last Thursday "from Scotland to Frieberg" and succeeded in bagging rabbits enough to avail the Salvation Army's charity larder about 300 pounds of meat. At the suggestion of J. A. Patton, Mr. Schram's committee decided upon a four-sided drive for Friday, and asked Ensign A. Shultz of the Salvation Army to appear before other local luncheon clubs during the ensuing three days to solicit the participation of at least 60 men from their memberships in the hunt.

Rabbit Hunt Planned

Those planning to aid in the drive will be asked to meet Friday morning at 8 o'clock at the Panhandle No. 12 filling station, located at Fourth and Indiana, opposite the C. D. Shamburger Lumber company. Each hunter will be asked to furnish his own gun and shells. The party will be taken by truck to the site of the hunt, and will surround a complete section, moving forward at a given "zero hour." Mr. Schram's committee includes Mr. Patton, Louis Breeden and Al Flack.

W. L. Culbertson announced Monday as a new member of the organization, stated that he will deliver two goats to the Salvation Army during this week for distribution to local poor. It was also reported that employes of the Continental Oil company's transportation department are purchasing a calf, to be dressed and added to the Christmas meat supply of the Salvation Army.

Search for the district's "biggest hog" is still under way, Mr. Schram said, the largest thus far located boasting only a mild 400 pounds. Selection of the animal, and its preparation for Christmas consumption by local families, will be made this week, it was announced.

Other new members announced Monday were H. R. Hannon, associated with Mr. Culbertson in the Panhandle No. 12 filling station, J. L. Bradley of the Langford Motor company, and Ensign Shultz, elected to honorary membership.

Shultz Speaks

Ensign Shultz spoke briefly of the work now being done by the organization which he heads here, and declared that the materials being supplied under the stimulus of the I. O. Boosters' club represents one of the most unique and valuable aids the Salvation Army ever has received.

Piano numbers by Alvin Breeden, with vocal additions subsequently supplied by David Erickson and W. L. Underwood, constituted a brief impromptu musical program given at the luncheon. Those present included Sam R. Hord, president; Dr. Fred Gross, secretary; Mr. Patton, Col. W. S. Langford, E. F. Riley, W. J. Edwards, Mr. Flack, W. R. Gay, Mr. Bradley and F. Hughes.

MEDICO URGES SALE OF SEALS

Kiwanis Club Hears Talk On Tuberculosis

Unusual emphasis was placed by Dr. C. W. Stevenson in a short talk before members of the Kiwanis club at the Kemp hotel Monday noon upon the importance of funding adequately those agencies which are devoted to the control and extermination of tuberculosis.

Urging liberal patronage of the campaign now being waged by the Wichita County Tuberculosis association for the sale of Christmas seals, Dr. Stevenson stressed the thought that the proposition is one to be regarded as business rather than charity.

"During the last 10 days, I have seen four cases of tuberculosis in this city," he said. "One of them is a young man who was working daily with a high fever, dangerously exposing all with whom he came in contact. He is being sent to the state sanatorium by this county association, as are a number of other cases."

Activities Reviewed

Associations such as the local one, the speaker continued, are a potent insurance against the spread of tuberculosis. One person out of every 150, he said, has an active case of the disease, and there are 300 such cases in Wichita Falls.

"If every person in America bought seals every Christmas for 10 years," Dr. Stevenson said, "there would be no more tuberculosis in this country. Buy as many now as you possibly can."

Activities of the Kiwanis club during the past year were reviewed by Dr. V. E. Wratten. Subsequent to the club's presentation of a park on Holliday creek to the city last spring, he pointed out, many benefit performances of various kinds have been sponsored largely as a means of financing that gift. Among those events were mentioned the S. M. U. Glee club concert here, putt-putt tournaments, the Beckmann and Gerety shows, bridge tournaments, and others. Dr. Wratten also mentioned a number of intercity meetings which have been held.

Activities of the sunshine committee in inaugurating a city-wide movement for providing lunches for school children without means of providing for themselves was discussed by John Oeschner, chairman, with brief reference to other charitable activities.

Dr. Austin F. Leach spoke on the work of the vocational guidance and placement committee, Dr. O. W. Wilson on the negro high school football game recently sponsored here, and Dr. R. H. Peterson, president, on the work of wives of members.
