Jet Airliner Crashes; No Survivors Spotted

NEW DIRECTORS of the Scurry County Livestock Association were elected at the membership barbecue Monday night at the Towle Park stock barn. Pictured are Jerry Springer of Knapp, Jimmy Beck from east of Snyder, and Burl Belew of Fluvanna. Holdover directors of the organization are Raymond Robinson and Ray Herring. Discussed at the meeting were plans for the Junior Livestock Show which will get underway Thursday evening with the hog show.

Ex-President H. Hoover Has Setback

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Herbert Hoover has suffered a "serious setback" in health, a spokesman said today.

A hospital room has been reserved for the 89-year-old former chief executive, who resides in the Waldorf-Astoria hotel.

The family of the 31st president said last June that his strength had been ebbing from anemia caused by intestinal bleeding.

He had undergone surgery the previous August at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center for removal of a cancerous tumor of the intestinal tract.

Hoover had been relatively inactive in recent months. One of his last public appearances was at a reception in May honoring Maj. Gordon Cooper Jr., the astronaut, for his 22-orbit flight.

Today doctors described his condition as "fairly satisfactory."

They said:

"The present illness is due to bleeding from the right kidney, probably secondary to a kidney stone.

"The clinical picture has been complicated by a respiratory infection."

58 Persons On Board

By ROBERT ROWAND

NEW ORLEANS (AP) —An Eastern Air Lines four-engine jetliner carrying 58 persons on a flight from Mexico City to New York disappeared minutes after takeoff from a New Orleans stop today and crashed in Lake Pontchartrain. There were no signs of survivors.

The Coast Guard said it recovered parts of a large aircraft, including seats, communication equipment and soundproofing.

Also recovered were clothing, luggage and what was described as parts of bodies.

The Coast Guard said one of its helicopter pilots over the wreckage area reported there were indications that the plane either exploded in the air or on impact. The debris was scattered over a wide area.

The spokesman said the site is about six miles south of the north shore of the lake, or some 20 miles north of New Orleans. It was about four miles east of the 27-mile long Lake Pontchartrain causeway connecting the north and south shores.

Eastern said the plane carried 51 passengers and a crew of 7. At least 32 of the passengers were making the through trip and at least 17 boarded in New Orleans. Fourteen were pass-riding Eastern employes.

Eastern said the DC8, Flight 304, left New Orleans International Airport for Atlanta at 2:01 a.m. (CST) and disappeared from air traffic control radar screens minutes later. That was the last contact with it.

A veteran Eastern pilot said the jet probably reached a height of some 16,000 feet shortly after it got over the lake.

Lake Pontchartrain is some 30 miles in diameter, with its southern shore along one side of New Orleans. Marshy land surrounds much of the lake, which has an average depth of about 15 feet.

At the time the plane took off from New Orleans, the visibility was good. There was a light rain over the area. Winds were calm.

The Eastern spokesman said the plane made routine checks after takeoff and vanished from radar with no alarm given and no hint of trouble.

It was the first major crash involving an airliner taking off on a scheduled flight from New Orleans International Airport.

ASKS STATE SUPREME COURT FOR RULING—Melvin Belli, chief attorney for Jack Ruby, talks with newsmen after a conference between prosecution attorneys, defense attorney and Judge Joe B. Brown in the judge's chambers in Dallas, Texas. Belli said he was asking the Texas Supreme Court for a ruling that persons who saw Ruby shoot Lee Harvey Oswald on television were witnesses and thus disqualified for jury duty. Document on table is the bill of exceptions. (AP Wirephoto)

Baker Refuses To List Former Duties

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bobby Baker refused to testify today what his duties were as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority and was immediately told this might result in his being cited for contempt of Congress.

The one-time page boy, who acquired wealth and power in some 20 years of working for the Senate, invoked his 5th Amendment protection against possible self-incrimination in refusing to answer most questions or to surrender subpoenaed documents.

The hearing in the packed Senate caucus room exploded into a row when Baker's lawyer Edward Bennett Williams, accused the Rules Committee of staging a television spectacular and asked that TV cameras be removed.

Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., demanded that Williams withdraw his statement about the committee or be expelled from the hearing room.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., said Williams' statement was "totally and thoroughly unwarranted."

Williams said that, since the committee knew that Baker would refuse to surrender subpoenaed documents, or to answer questions, the hearing could serve no legislative purpose, but was being held solely to hold Baker up to obloquy before television cameras.

He requested that Baker be excused from appearing.

Baker resigned last Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, after questions were raised about his outside business and financial dealings. His Senate job paid $19,600 a year.

At last Wednesday's hearing, Baker invoked his 5th Amendment protection against possible self-incrimination.

Williams said the committee has no notice that Baker would not turn over any of the documents subpoenaed by the committee.

Offer Trade In Farm Bill Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders offered President Johnson today a chance for congressional action on a farm bill in exchange for what they believe would be a brief delay in taking up civil rights legislation.

A presidential go-ahead would signal an effort in the Senate, probably Wednesday, to call up the House-passed civil rights measure and put it in temporary storage while a wheat-cotton bill is debated.

This would delay the start of an expected lengthy civil rights filibuster until about March 2.

Awaiting expected House approval, the Senate was ready today for its final action that would send the $11.5 billion tax reduction bill to Johnson.

Johnson has been pushing hard for early action on civil rights. But party leaders invited to confer with him on legislative matters indicated they believe he may find it important to try to get a farm bill before the planting season starts March 1.

Wrapped up in controversial bill, on which Republicans thus far have blocked Senate action, is aid for the cotton textile industry and assistance for wheat growers.

Southern Democrats who oppose Johnson on civil rights but have been advocating support of him on other issues, are pressing strongly for action on the wheat-cotton bill.

Democratic senators from the wheat belt — and Republicans from the same areas—are saying privately that their reelection may well turn on the approval or rejection of the bill.

Johnson, courting presidential election support in both geographical sections, had an undeniable political interest in the cotton - wheat bill's fate. Sponsors said it would be ineffective for this election year's crops if its passage was delayed beyond March 1.

Cold Spreads Over State

By The Associated Press

Light snow, rain and colder temperatures were spreading over Texas today as a new front pushed into the state.

Early morning minimum temperatures ranged from 26 degrees at Dalhart and Lubbock to 46 at Laredo. The forecasts called for mostly colder temperatures by Wednesday with a low of 17 in the upper Panhandle.

Soaking rains were reported by a number of points during the 24 hours ending early today. Addicks, near Houston, had 1.98 inches, Conroe 1.64, Livingston 1.37, Kountze 1.35, Liberty 1.25, Beaumont 1.22, Hempstead 1.10, Rockland 1.03 and lesser amounts at numerous other reporting points.

By this afternoon, snow-bearing clouds were expected to cover the northern half of the state and the western sector by tonight.

Belli Decides To 'Stay In Dallas'

By RELMAN MORIN

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Jack Ruby's attorneys said today that, pending new legal maneuvers on disputed questions in his murder trial, they intend to continue with the hearing in Dallas.

"We're going to stay here for awhile and see what happens," Melvin M. Belli, chief of defense, said.

He made the statement to newsmen when he came into the courtroom this morning. "There will be no writs today," Belli said.

He said Monday that he might go to the U.S. Supreme Court for a ruling on the question of the eligibility as jurors those who saw on television the shooting by Ruby of Lee Harvey Oswald Nov. 24.

The defense contends that anyone who saw the slaying should not be seated as a juror. Another question raised by Belli is whether someone who witnessed the televised scene is competent to testify as a witness.

Ruby is charged with murder with malice and faces a possible sentence of execution in the electric chair. Oswald, a self-styled Marxist, had been accused of assassinating President John F. Kennedy in Dallas Nov. 22.

At the outset of the session, Belli suggested that Dr. Karl Menninger of the Menninger Clinic in Topeka, Kan., be called in as an impartial member of a panel that is examining into the sanity of Ruby. The defense attorney said he understood that three doctors on the panel would be glad to have the assistance of Dr. Menninger, widely known in his field.

Judge Joe B. Brown directed that the matter be taken up at another time.

The defense then demanded that it be given the results of a brain wave test that has been made on Ruby. The court said that the records are now in the hands of Dist. Atty. Henry M. Wade who said he would be glad to produce them.

"We'll have to take that up in chambers," Judge Brown said.

"Let's take it up in open court," defense attorney Joe Tonahill insisted. "May we put the district attorney on the stand? We want to know where these vital records are and have them brought in to court where we can see them."

Judge Brown dismissed the matter.

Mrs. Simpson Dies At 65

Mrs. Jack Simpson, 65, the well-known operator of a boarding house in Snyder for a number of years, died at 6:15 p.m. Monday at Cogdell Hospital.

Ill for a number of weeks, Mrs. Simpson was believed to be somewhat improved shortly before her death. Her home was at 301 Twenty-third Street.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at the First Methodist Church of which Mrs. Simpson was a member. The Rev. W. W. Adcock of Abilene will officiate. He will be assisted by the Rev. Harry Vanderpool, pastor of the church, and by the Rev. O. B. Herring of Midland.

Burial will be in the Snyder Cemetery under the direction of Bolger Funeral Home. Pallbearers will be John Boren, Gene Thompson, Herman Elkins, Bill Jordan, Jimmy Gardner and Jake Phillips.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Simpson is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Annie Reynolds of Midland; one son W. P. of Ontario, Ore.; two sisters, Mrs. Bob Bybee of Paris, Tex. and Mrs. Grady Gentry of Fort Worth; two brothers, Arlie Thompson of Yakima, Wash. and Gordon Thompson of Paris, Tex.; and nine grandchildren.

Born Ruth Thompson, Sept. 29, 1898 in Lamar County, Mrs. Simpson was married in November, 1920 to Mr. Simpson in Paris. They moved to Scurry County in 1925.

One son, Cpl. Jack W. Simpson, was killed in Panama in 1951 while serving with the Air Force. Cpl. Simpson was killed when he attempted to move a jeep from the path of a landing aircraft, but was struck by the propeller of the craft.

UN Slates More Talks

Seeks Break In Cyprus Deadlock

By A. I. GOLDBERG

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council scheduled more Cyprus debate today as its six nonpermanent members sought to break the deadlock and Cypriot President Makarios threatened to seek a special session of the General Assembly.

The afternoon council meeting was called to evaluate Secretary-General U Thant's private peacemaking efforts in the face of continuing bitter hostility between the island's Greek Cypriot majority and its Turkish Cypriot minority.

The council president, Carlos Alfredo Bernardes of Brazil, said there was no evidence Thant had been able to reach agreement with Cyprus, Britain, Turkey and Greece in a week of talks on his proposals, which include an international peace force for the troubled east Mediterranean island.

The six nonpermanent council members met Monday night and decided to seek a compromise. The six are Bolivia, Brazil, Czechoslovakia, the Ivory Coast, Morocco and Norway.

Moroccan delegate Ahmed Balafrej was expected to put forward a compromise proposal in an address to the council. There was no indication how it would deal with the main issue splitting the five permanent council members — the United States, Britain, the Soviet Union, France and Nationalist China.

That obstacle is the Greek Cypriot government's demand that any Security Council resolution on Cyprus guarantee the island's independence and territorial integrity. The United States and Britain have opposed this.

The Soviet Union has supported the Cypriot government, which wants such a guarantee to override the 1960 treaty giving Britain, Greece and Turkey, as coguarantors of its independence, the right to intervene militarily to prevent any change in the Cypriot constitution.

Archbishop Makarios, a Greek Cypriot, obviously was most concerned about Turkish intervention in demanding council guarantees. Turkey has threatened to move to protect the lives and minority rights of the Turkish Cypriots, outnumbered 4 to 1 by the islanders of Greek descent.

Informants in Nicosia said Makarios may ask for a special General Assembly session because he feels nonaligned African and Asian nations would back his plea for guaranteed independence and territorial integrity and push it through despite Western opposition.

Reds Reject British Idea

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union turned down a British proposal at the Geneva disarmament conference today to strengthen United Nations peace-keeping machinery.

British Foreign Minister R.A. Butler made the proposal. He said the Cyprus crisis shows such a force is needed urgently and that it will also be essential for the security of all nations in a future disarming world.

Stronger U.N. peace-keeping machinery was one of several points Butler raised durin an hour-long speech.

Soviet Delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin replied that a force as suggested by Butler "would only create difficulty and complications."

Tsarapkin insisted on Moscow's troika formula for leadership of the force. This provides that its commanders — from the Western, Communist and nonaligned power blocs — could act only unanimously.

Marine General Says Reds Encouraged By Viet War

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's top Marine said today the communists in South Viet Nam have stepped up the size and intensity of their attacks because they think the war is developing in their favor.

But Gen Wallace M. Greene, the new Marine commandant, told The Associated Press he is optimistic about the eventual outcome of the anti-Communist war being waged with heavy U.S. help.

"I am optimistic as long as any outfit wants to fight," Greene said in an exclusive interview.

Greene discussed the war in South Viet Nam in the first question - and - answer interview he has granted since becoming commandant of the 190,000-man Marine Corps last Jan. 1. He looked over the situation on the spot just before the last coup.

The commandant said he was unable to answer questions growing out of a spate of reports that the U.S. government is considering moves to carry the anti-Communist war behind North Vietnamese lines.

Q—General, you were out in South Viet Nam shortly after you became commandant and in between the coups. On the basis of what you saw and learned out there, how would you assess the military situation in Viet Nam today?

A—Anything I could say would be based on the impressions of a short stay in South Viet Nam. However, I had the opportunity during this brief period of going from one end of the country to the other.

I had the opportunity to look at the latest plans for the campaign in that country. In my opinion they are very sound from a military point of view.

I reached a very definite conclusion that there were plenty of supplies—ammunition, weapons and other means—on hand to accomplish the plan.

I had a chance to see the officers and men—both Vietnamese and their American advisers — in the battalions and companies and other units. I thought they were highly competent, that they wanted to fight.

I also came away with the feeling that this is a long-time business, and we aren't going to win the fight overnight.

Q—What was your impression of Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, the new Vietnamese premier?

A—The general is a highly competent soldier, well educated both in military and cultural matters—a man who knew the problems in his corps area, and had definite plans and positive intentions of carrying them out.

Q—Would you think that there might be a higher degree of aggressiveness in the Vietnamese forces now than before?

A—That would be pretty hard for me to say at this distance, but I would say that General Khanh has pretty well demonstrated his military capabilities. He's carried out highly successful operations against the Viet Cong.

Austin Couple Found Dead In Home

AUSTIN (AP)—The bodies of a man and his wife were found today in the kitchen of their West Austin home.

Jim Mueller, 49, and his wife, Kathryn, 44, were discovered at their home by their daughter, Debbie, 7.

Patrolman Lloyd Ilse said Mueller apparently had been fatally wounded in the upper chest. He said Mrs. Mueller apparently had been shot in the back.

A shotgun was found, lying under Mueller's legs.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I chuckled when I read the pros and cons of asking a stranger to move over a seat at a lunch counter. I had always offered to move over whenever two people came in together. Back in 1944 I was sitting alone at a lunch counter, when two very nice-looking young men came in and couldn't find two seats together, but there was a vacant seat on either side of me. I offered to move, but the taller one said, with a grin, "No, just sit where you are. I'd much rather talk to you than him anyway." He wasn't fresh, just refreshing. To make a long story short, that is how I met the man who later became my husband and the father of my six lovely children.

"GLAD I MOVED"

DEAR GLAD: Congratulations. I assume, now that you are settled down, that was your last move.

DEAR ABBY: My husband passed away ten years ago, and every Christmas since then I have been presented with a turkey by his employer. I was out of town when the turkey was delivered. I later learned from a neighbor that another neighbor consented to keep it for me until I returned. I have been home since December 21st, and I haven't seen hide nor hair of the turkey. What do you suggest I do?

TAKES ALL KINDS

DEAR TAKES: Have you seen hide or hair of your neighbor? If not, it's time you went over there and talked turkey. Perhaps she stored it in her freezer and forgot about it.

DEAR ABBY: Every time I give my wife a gift for St. Valentine's Day she takes it back and exchanges it. I suppose I shouldn't complain because at least this way she ends up with something she likes for the money, but it takes all the sentiment out of it.

DEAR BERNIE: Sentiment, shementiment! Give her something you made yourself. Like money.

Says Burning Was Accidental

HONOLULU (AP)—An elderly Buddhist priest severely burned on the lawn beside his temple Sunday was the victim of an unfortunate accident, say Honolulu police investigators.

Officers have been unable to question the Rev. Kakuo Okimura 78, who is in critical condition in a Honolulu hospital with severe burns covering his body from the waist down. But the priest reportedly told his doctor he had poured some gasoline over some religious paraphernalia and the flames blew back at him when he struck a match.

Relatives who found the priest six hours after the incident said it is the practice in their sect to dispose of worn robes and religious articles by fire.

Madam Nhu Is Declared Fugitive

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu, former powerful First Lady of South Viet Nam, has been declared an outlaw, a Justice Ministry spokesman said today.

The order has been issued for her arrest, he said. He refused to discuss details.

Mrs. Nhu has been living in exile in France with her four children since a Nov. 1 coup overthrew her brother-in-law, Ngo Dinh Diem.

In Paris, she called the action "the height of cynicism."

Spokesmen for the Foreign and Interior ministries said the order is a legal technicality which could not be executed unless Mrs. Nhu returned here, they said.

Whipping Sentence Is Commuted

DOVER, Del. (AP)—Gov. Elbert N. Carvel has commuted the 10-lash whipping sentence imposed upon Talmadge R. Balser.

Superior Judge Stewart Lynch had sentenced Balser, 41, to 10 lashes and 15 years in the New Castle Correctional Institution after his conviction for a September 1962 robbery. The prison term still stands.

Gov. Carvel said Monday a recommendation of the State Board of Pardons to commute the sentence of lashes "is in the best interests of justice and the State of Delaware and I accept it."

GETTING ACQUAINTED — Trenton Mayor Arthur J. Holland chats with neighborhood children in front of his new home in an old, racially mixed section of town. Holland, his wife and 10-month-old daughter are scheduled to move in soon. "People have got to be shown that a mixed neighborhood is not necessarily a rundown neighborhood," Holland said. He bought the house for about $7,000 and has spent another $10,000 fixing it up. (AP Wirephoto)

Says Hand Transplant Is Success

BOSTON (AP)—An Ecuadorian sailor who received a hand transplant from a dead man was able to wiggle the fingers and move the hand immediately after the operation, say two Boston doctors.

The limb transplant is believed to be the first ever performed from a dead person.

Drs. Richard E. Wilson and Robert M. Goldwyn of Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, who were post operative consultants, told a news conference Monday night of the Feb. 13 operation conducted at Guayaquil, Ecuador.

The surgeons said the sailor, Julio Luna, 28, may be brought to Boston for further treatment.

Wilson, a member of Brigham Hospital's kidney transplant team, and Goldwyn, a specialist in reconstructive hand surgery, were invited to Ecuador as consultants.

The surgeons said Luna lost his right hand just above the wrist in a hand grenade explosion. Doctors contacted the family of a dying man in another hospital and permission was given for the transplant. The man died several hours later and his right forearm was removed.

The operation was headed by Dr. Roberto Gilbert, chief of surgery at the Clinica Guayaquil.

State's Case To Be Ended Today

HOUSTON (AP)—The Prosecution indicated it would close the state's case today in the the second murder trial of admitted prostitute Carolyn Ann Lima, 21.

The second week of Miss Lima's trial began Monday before Criminal Dist. Judge Miron A. Love. She is on trial for the gun-torch slaying three years ago of Fred A. Tones, 44, Houston realtor.

While Dist. Atty. Frank Briscoe told newsmen he would close the state's case today, the defense attorney, Clyde Woody, indicated he would put the defendent on the witness stand later this week.

Miss Lima and her companion, Leslie Douglas Ashley, a some-time female impersonator, were given the death sentence in 1961, but were granted a new trial in 1963 by a federal court ruling.

Miss Lima is being tried separately from Ashley, who will be tried later.

Mrs. Dorothy Tones, widow of Tones, who was shot to death Feb. 6, 1961, took the witness stand Monday and identified her husband's blood - stained clothing.

She identified a shoe, a shirt, a pair of trousers, a watch and a pair of cuff links as those of her husband.

After Tones was shot to death, his body was taken to Houston's east end, saturated with gasoline and set afire, several police officers have testified.

Briscoe said Monday he would read the jury Miss Lima's testimony made during the 1961 trial.

Briscoe said he was privileged to read it because Miss Lima had testified "freely and voluntarily."

Woody objected to the reading on several grounds. He claimed Miss Lima was mentally incompetent and could not have testified freely and voluntarily.

Mrs. Kennedy May Become Consultant

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is expected to name Mrs. John F. Kennedy as special consultant on the arts at the White House, the Washington Post reported today.

The Post said Mrs. Kennedy would be named to succeed August Heckscher as part of the President's plan to appoint 50 women to top government positions.

There had been reports that Roger L. Stevens, chairman of the board of trustees of the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts would be named to the position.

The Post said President Johnson, after considering Stevens, had switched to Mrs. Kennedy as a more appropriate choice.

Miss Eades, Mr. Fatout Wed In Andrews Church

Wedding vows were read for Miss Willie May Eades and Donald Clifford Fatout in the First Church of Andrews on Saturday evening, February 15. The bride is the daughter of Cecil Eades of 1108 Northwest Sixth, Andrews, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fatout of Odessa.

Double ring rites were said before a background of greenery and lighted white cathedral tapers, with the father of the bride giving her in marriage. Clark Sanner, minister, officiated.

Traditional nuptial music was presented by Mrs. D. R. Linn at the organ and Mrs. Charles A. Bilderback, soloist.

The bride wore a gown of white bridal satin styled with lace over satin bodice and full pleated skirt which ended in a chapel train. Her waist length veil of tulle fell from a lace over satin headpiece. The bridal bouquet was of feathered carnations centered with a gardenia, ribbon and feathered carnation streamers atop a white satin and lace covered Bible.

Miss Janice Eades of Hobbs, N.M., cousin of the bride, attended as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Jackie Ancell and Mary Jane Hohnson. They wore identical dresses of royal blue taffeta with white accessories and carried long stemmed white mums.

Kathy Eades, neice of the bride, served as flower girl, and Marcia Fatout, neice of the bridegroom was ring bearer. They wore identical costumes fashioned as the other bridal attendants. Candles were lighted by Misses Vickie Purtell and Marsha Eades.

Gene Fatout of Odessa attended his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Jerry Fatout of Odessa and Royce Maxey. Ushers included Jack Eades, U.S. Navy, San Diego, Calif., and J. C. Eades of Andrews, brothers of the bride.

A reception in the Green Room annex of the First National Bank followed with Vickie Purtell and Marsha Eades at the bride's book. A white linen cloth covered the bride's table which was centered with a heart shaped centerpiece of net and white carnations.

Mrs. J. C. Eades, Mrs. Jerry Fatout and Mrs. Gene Fatout presided at the table. The white three-tiered wedding cake, topped with the traditional miniature bride and groom, was served with punch and coffee.

Serving cake and coffee from the groom's table was Mrs. Frances McCormack of Snyder, sister of the bride.

For a wedding trip to San Antonio, the bride chose a black linen suit with white blouse and black accessories. She wore the gardenia corsage from her wedding bouquet.

The bride attended school in Snyder and graduated from Andrews High School. She attended Odessa Junior College. The bridegroom graduated from Port Arthur High School and served four years in the U.S. Navy. He is employed by Dolph Miller Instrument Sales and Service.

The couple are at home at 503 Northwest Fourth, Andrews.

Attending from Snyder were Mrs. Frances McCormack, Michel and Keith.

Gypsies Set To Invade Our City On Thursday

Snyder will be besieged by gypsies Thursday when Jose Molina and his company of Flamenco singers, dancers, and musicians arrive to present their highly - acclaimed production, "Bailes Espanoles", at the High School Auditorium at 8 p.m. for members of Scurry Concert Association.

But these gypsies will not arrive in gaily - painted, horse-drawn wagons, covered with colorful symbols and filled with mysterious 'treasures from the sacred sepulchres of Egypt".

Unlike their legendary counterparts, these gypsies will arrive in a sleek new scenicruiser bus completely air - conditioned, and equipped with all the comforts of home — and then some!

Dancers in American musical shows have long borne the nickname, "gypsies", because of the peripatetic lives most of them lead. Their households are carried in their suitcases, and wherever they hang up their dancing shoes is "home".

Molina and his company fit the description perfectly. Since they arrived in New York last April, they have traveled the length and breadth of this country and into the farthest reaches of Canada, with side excursions to Hawaii, Central America, Puerto Rico, and Trinidad. In fact, there's hardly been a day since the troupe's arrival in America that the performers haven't been roaring along some highway en route to or from a performance.

"At 55 cents per mile rental fee, our bus travel costs became so exorbitant, we found it more economical to buy our own vehicle." Jim Janek, the company's general manager, said recently. "Now performers and production travel in the same bus and for a fraction of the previous cost."

The bus has been completely re-designed inside to meet the company's touring needs. All the seats have been removed from the rear of the vehicle to create a storage area for costumes, draperies, and lighting equipment.

The seats themselves, in the front section, are oversized, airline reclining seats, which afford the dancers, particularly, maximum comfort during the long rides between performances.

"All we lack is a kitchen," says Senor Molina. Since the dancers do not eat heavily prior to a performance, they are famished by the time they leave the theatre at night. Often they can find no restaurant open which serves hot meals after midnight. More than once the performers have gone to bed hungry, but lately they've learned to anticipate such emergencies by laying in a supply of "goodies" on which to feast if a hot meal isn't available.

"But crackers and cheese are no substitutes for fried chicken, steak, pizza, cheeseburgers, and ice cream — the company's favorite foods," Janek admitted. "If business continues to be as good as it's been of late, we'll install a kitchen in our bus, and maybe hire a chef."

The artists work so hard during the course of each evening's performance, it is not at all unusual for them to lose a pound or two. Thus, they can—and do — eat a lot of chicken, steak, and cheeseburgers without adding an inch to their waistlines.

"Bailes Espanoles" has been hailed by critics from coast-to-coast as one of the most exciting and unusual Flamenco productions ever to visit the U.S.

Scholarship Month For Society

February is Scholarship Month for Delta Kappa Gamma Society, an honorary organization for women teachers. Each chapter of Alpha State contributes to the scholarship fund. February is the month when the contributions are sent to the state headquarters. Through the cooperation of the chapters of Alpha State eleven short term scholarships of $80.00 per summer are available. Two summer school grants of $100.00 annually are available for graduate work.

Three long-term scholarships of $1,000.00 annually are available for graduate study at the University of Texas.

Any member of the Society in good standing in her chapter is eligible to receive these scholarships.

LBJ Has Plan To Move Wheat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House says President Johnson has a plan of action if the International Longshoremen's Union continues to block wheat shipments to the Soviet Union.

Johnson conferred Tuesday with Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, who had just returned from an unsuccessful effort to persuade union leaders in Miami, Fla., to end the union boycott.

Thomas W. Gleason, president of the union, declared in Miami that not one bushel of wheat would be loaded until the government guaranteed that at least 50 per cent of all grain shipments to Soviet bloc countries will go in American vessels.

AFL - CIO President George Meany, who has supported the longshoremen, said they were "just fighting for bread and butter for their people."

Malcolm Kilduff, assistant White House press secretary, said that Johnson was confident Meany "will do everything he can to get the labor unions to look at this in a responsible manner."

The Baltimore Sun, in a story from Bal Harbour, Fla., said the waterfront unions have rejected a personal appeal from Johnson to lift the boycott.

The maritime unions contend that since the wheat is subsidized by federal funds, the government should guarantee that American ships will carry half of it. U.S. ship rates run higher than those of foreign vessels.

In the Senate, Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., recalled that in giving the go-ahead for grain sales to the Soviet Union the late President John F. Kennedy specified that at least half of the grain should be shipped on U.S. ships if they were available. So, said Dirksen, it is easy to see why the maritime unions are up in arms."

GOPs Seek Third Force

WASHINGTON AP — Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes was reported today to be backing efforts to organize a bloc of Northern tier states as a "third force" in the contest for the Republican presidential nomination.

Rhodes was said by influential Republicans to be urging that Ohio, Pennsylvania and New Jersey delegations to the July San Francisco convention line up behind Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania in a combined "favorite son" operation.

The ambitious undertaking would be designed to weld the Northern industrial states into a convention bloc that would command enough votes to prevent the nomination of either Sen. Barry Goldwater, R - Ariz., or New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in the early balloting.

Whether Scranton would be the ultimate beneficiary of any such bloc's votes or merely would serve as a rallying point for the early maneuvering, presumably would depend on convention developments.

Plans for the formation of the bloc are not confined to Ohio, Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Krush Says Soviet Could Be Bright Spot

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev says in a preface to a book that if arms spending could stop the planet would be a flourishing garden and the Soviet Union would have the brightest garden of them all.

The preface was written for a book being published in Italy by Giulio Einaudi, Turin publisher, containing the major foreign policy declarations of the Soviet leader.

Businessmen Say Outlook Now Becoming Brighter

By DARDEN CHAMBLISS

NEW YORK (AP)—As President Johnson ends his first 100 days on the job, many businessmen say the business mood has brightened.

The consensus of business leaders interviewed on a cross-country tour appeared to be that whatever the precise reason and however long it will last, the business climate has turned sunnier.

This isn't a matter of partisan politics. It's a question of whether businessmen feel Johnson is running the country in a way that generates confidence and encourages business to expand, build new plants and make new jobs.

Ben S. Gilmer, president of Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Co. in Atlanta, says his firm's capital spending plans for 1964 had been $403 million but have now been boosted to $413 million.

In Denver, Cris Dobbins, president of Ideal Cement Co., said: "We are laying out capital plans today that I'm quite sure we would not be considering if things hadn't changed."

The change could prove to be illusionary, however, some businessmen insist. It could involve a presumption that Johnson is more conservative than he will probably prove to be, said Neil Roberts, president of the Denver U.S. National Bank.

Edwin P. Neilan, president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, said recently that he is withdrawing support of Johnson because he feels Johnson juggled his budget to present a "false face of frugality".

But whatever businessmen finally conclude when they've had more time to study Johnson, most of the leaders interviewed said that the signs so far have been encouraging.

President Elmer Engstrom of Radio Corp. of America, a member of the Business Council that advises presidents, sought to describe what's happened.

"In business, we look for go signs and stop signs," he said in his office. "We watch for signs whether the administration is friendly or unfriendly to business. These are not things that can be supported by physical facts. But we get the feeling that President Johnson is friendly, and this assessment is being strengthened."

Dr. Engstrom continued in careful, measured language, "Mr. Johnson has shown himself to be determined. With the tax cut bill, there has been movement. He seems to get things done, you see."

In addition to the tax bill, Engstrom cites favorably Johnson's talk of economizing in government and reducing the federal deficit.

Lady Bird To Get Honorary Degree

DENTON (AP)—Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson will receive an honorary doctor of laws degree from Texas Woman's University March 31, the school's fourth honorary degree awarded.

University officials said Mrs. Johnson will be cited at a special academic convocation for "magnificent achievements symbolic of the lofty goals for which the university strives in its education programs for women leaders of the future."

Announcement of the award came Monday night from Mrs. John T. Jones of Houston, chairman of the board of regents, and President John A. Guinn.

Lacking actual evidence, scientists have so far relied on rock outdroppings, earthquake waves and artificial explosions to speculate on the earth's composition deep below the surface.

Autopsy Ordered In Shooting Death

RACHAL, Tex (AP)—A peace justice ordered an autopsy Monday in the shooting death of Roy Burris, 33, of Albuquerque.

However, Brooks County Sheriff Ed Wilkinson said the shooting was apparently accidental. Wilkinson said he was questioning Tom Higgins, 25, also of Albuquerque, about the shooting. The sheriff said the men were "good buddies."

The incident occurred as the men drove on U.S. 281 in deep South Texas.

should you pamper a Princess?

Depends on which princess—the teenager or the telephone. All teenage princesses—so we're told—glory in a little pampering.

But the Princess® telephone is so well made and trouble free that no pampering is required. Just dust it occasionally or wipe it with a damp cloth.

That, plus a little care in handling, is all the attention any phone needs. And phones almost never need repair—but if something does go on the blink, we'll fix it promptly at no extra charge.

We think it's our job to keep right on improving your telephone service and making it of greater personal value to you.

21 Ousted In Playoffs

By The Associated Press

Twenty - one teams were knocked out of the Texas schoolboy basketball race Monday night and 147 more will get the boot tonight.

Bi-district play flamed all over the state with a massive schedule coming up. The bi-district games all will be out of the way after tonight.

Regional tournaments and playoffs will be held Friday and Saturday to trim the field to 20 teams for the state tournament next week. There will be four in Classes AAAA, AAA, AA and A and six in Class B.

Only one defending champion was in action Monday night—Clear Creek, kingpin of Class AAA. Clear Creek raced by Wharton 62-44 and will play tonight's Orange-Brenham winner in the regional final.

Class AAAA has no defending champion but Houston Austin probably will be the favorite. Austin, however, must beat Houston Memorial tonight in the bi-district round, then meet the Beaumont French - Pasadena winner for a spot in the state tournament.

Houston Austin has a gaudy 31 record.

Only two bi-district games have been played in AAAA. Fort Worth Haltom beat Plainview 88-82 in a double over-time Monday night while Highland Park was strapping Tyler Lee 75-59.

That meant only 14 teams were left to contest for the four spots in the state tournament. The remaining six bi-district games come tonight.

Three bi-district games were played in Class AAA with Greenville beating Hurst Bell 65-62, Kilgore edging Waxahachie 75-72 and Clear Creek eliminating Wharton.

Three more are scheduled tonight. Four teams—Perryton, Seminole, Lamesa and Graham—meet at Lubbock Friday and Saturday in a regional tournament that will decide one spot in the state tournament.

Class AA played seven bi-district games Monday night and will wind up with nine tonight. There is no defending champion of AA.

Just two games were playyed in Class A which will have 14 more tonight while Class B had a half dozen and will run off 29. There are nine byes in this division and one of them helped defending state champion McAdoo escape the bi-district round and go directly to the regional tournament.

West Sabine, champion of Class A, wasn't quite so fortunate. It must play White Oak tonight.

Roby Decisions Loraine, 76-66

Roby's District 85-B champs fought off a stubborn Loraine quintet and finally pulled away in the fourth period to win a 76-66 decision in a bi-district basketball game Monday night in Tiger Gym.

The Lions from Fisher County used the deadly shooting of Bob Waddell and Donnie Daniel, plus the sparkling floor work of Barry Hughey to sideline the Loraine crew.

Loraine ended the first quarter with a 14-12 lead and play continued nip and tuck for the next two quarters, although Roby held a 33-28 advantage at half-time. The lead see-sawed until the waning minutes of the third period when Roby went ahead to stay. The Lions owned a 56-52 lead going into the final stanza.

The Bulldogs suffered a blow when starter Larry Beights fouled out late in the third period. However, lefthander, Stanley Moore poured 24 points through the hoop to capture scoring honors for the game and James Wallingsford chipped in with 22 to keep Loraine in the ball game.

Waddell roped 23 points for Roby, while Daniel had 21 and Hughey 16. Abel Beauchamp also was in double figures for the Lions with 10.

The victory sends the Lions into the regional tournament Friday and Saturday at Odessa.

Top Gate Seen For Texas Bout

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — One of the best money gates in Corpus Christi boxing history is expected March 3 when Eloy Sanchez, the Mexico City veteran, takes on Steve Freeman of Lake Jackson, Tex., a former National AAU champion.

Promoter Jack Irwin said he figured the gate may run close to $5,000.

Sanchez, who has met some of the top men in the featherweight class, and Freeman, who has lost only one pro fight in 20 attempts, clash over the 10-round route.

Texas Squad To Get Trophy Today

AUSTIN (AP) — The 1963 Texas football squad, the nation's top college football team, was scheduled to receive the Grantland Rice Trophy today.

Presentation of the trophy, sponsored by Look Magazine, was to be made by Tim Cohane, Look's sports editor, and Blackie Sherrod, executive sports editor of the Dallas Times Herald.

A&M, Tech In Big One

By The Associated Press

Texas A&M and Texas Tech play the big one at College Station tonight—it could decide the Southwest Conference basketball championship.

If the Aggies, leading with a 9-1 record, should beat Tech, in second place with 8-2, it all would be over except the shouting for all practical purposes.

Each team still would have three games to play but the Aggie lead would be two games, a virtually insurmountable handicap for Tech.

Should Tech win as it did at home, the Aggies and Texas Tech would be tied for first.

Then the remaining three games would become quite important.

Southern Methodist, in a third place tie with Rice at 6-4, plays Arkansas at Dallas tonight. Rice takes on Texas at Austin.

SMU and Rice have no hope of figuring in the championship.

Baylor and Texas Christian clash at Fort Worth in another cellar fight. Baylor is seventh with 1-9, Texas Christian is last with 0-10.

Bruins Keep Firm Grip On Top Spot

By The Associated Press

Rolling merrily to its first undefeated season in history, UCLA maintained its grip on first place for the eighth straight week today in The Associated Press major college basketball poll.

The Bruins grabbed a near-monopoly on first-place votes in the latest poll, being named at the top on 38 of the 42 ballots cast. Their total points—416—placed them well ahead of second-ranked Kentucky, which switched places with Michigan, No. 3 this week.

The voting was based on games through last Saturday.

UCLA's vote-getting power was based on 22 games won. The Bruins were named second on the other four ballots marking the first time they have been given all first and second-place votes.

Kentucky leap-frogged over Michigan, which lost its third game in 21 last week. The Wildcats had 358 points, the Wolverines 332.

Kentucky received two first first place votes and Michigan one. Oregon State, ranked sixth, was given the other one.

Duke held fourth place despite its loss last week to Wake Forest. Wichita moved up a spot to fifth, displacing Villanova, whose defeat by St. Joseph's sent the Wildcats reeling to eighth. Davidson also rose one notch to seventh.

DePaul maintained its ninth position, but Drake, beaten by Cincinnati, fell from the Top Ten altogether. Loyola of Chicago, No. 1 early in the season, returned to the select list as Drake's replacement in 10th.

The Top Ten, with first place votes in parentheses and points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

1.	UCLA (38)	416
2.	Kentucky (2)	370
3.	Michigan (1)	332
4.	Duke	238
5.	Wichita	225
6.	Oregon State (1)	196
7.	Davidson	136
8.	Villanova	124
9.	DePaul	95
10.	Chicago Loyola	40

Balfanz Is After Record

ISHPEMING, Mich. (AP) — John Balfanz of Minneapolis, newly crowned national ski jumping champion, sets out this weekend to capture the U.S. distance record at the huge Pine Mountain Hill in nearby Iron Mountain, Mich.

This is one of his goals and he faces rugged competition in trying to top the American mark of 322 feet, hoisted last year at Steamboat Springs, Colo., by Gene Kotlarek of Duluth.

Kotlarek was dethroned as national champion Monday at Suicide Hill by Balfanz. The 23-year-old rider, who finished a disappointing 41st in the recent Winter Olympics at Innsbruck, Austria, had leaps of 235 and 231 feet and 220.6 form points in winning the national title.

Kotlarek was a close second with 230 and 235 feet leaps for 219.0 points.

Liston Solid 7-1 Favorite

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Heavyweight champion Sonny Liston, the brooding destroyer, is an overwhelming 7-1 favorite—with virtually no betting — to burst the fabulous bubble of the brash bard from Louisville, Cassius Clay, tonight.

Most observers predict the lights will go out for the boastful, poem-spouting challenger within minutes, perhaps seconds, after the scheduled 10 p.m. EST opening gong in Miami Beach's pink-and-blue Convention Hall.

The fastest knockout on record in a heavyweight championship is one minute, 28 seconds, scored by Tommy Burns over Jem Roach March 17, 1908, and many are convinced this old mark will be broken.

"I won't be trying for a record, but I am for a quick knockout," Liston said. "It will be over as soon as I catch him." Sudden demolition has become the theme of Liston's awesome fists.

He has knocked out his last three opponents — Albert Westphal of Germany and former titleholder Floyd Patterson, twice—in the first round, using a total of 6 minutes, 14 seconds.

The 23-year-old Clay, who says he "floats like a butterfly and stings like a bee," refused right up to the zero hour to assume the role of a man waiting for the modern guillotine.

"I'll outbox him in seven rounds and knock him out in the eighth," he insisted, adding his favorite poetic twist: "I'm predicting eight to prove I'm great."

His never-ending spiel of "I'm the king—I'm the greatest" has failed to make a dent however, on boxing fans, who must shell out on a scale of $20 to $250 for one of the 16,000 seats. Indications were that they would stay away in droves.

Needing $800,000 to break even on the venture, promoter Bill MacDonald, the self-made Miami millionaire, said sales had reached only $330,000 and that only a last minute rush for the ticket windows could save him from a financial bath.

Meanwhile a vast closed circuit television network, covering 269 theaters and arenas in the United States and Canada, is expected to gross between $4 and $5 million, assuring both fighters a handsome pay day.

If the over-all figure reaches $5 million, Liston, who also has a half-share in the parent promotional setup, stands to earn $1,360,000. Clay could draw $600,000, not bad for a young man who was an amateur four years ago on Uncle Sam's Olympic boxing team and who has literally gabbed himself to the threshold of the sports greatest prize.

Rupp Won't Compare His Cage Teams

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

When Kentucky was—apparently—on the eve of winning its way into the NCAA basketball tourney, Adolph Rupp was asked to compare the team with some of his other squads, notably national champions.

"I won't. I can't," said the Man in the Brown Suit with a wisdom born of more than three decades coaching college basketball. "They haven't won any titles yet."

He was prophetic. Monday, with a chance to secure the Southeastern Conference title and the accompanying NCAA berth, the Wildcats, the nation's second-ranked college team, blew one to upstart Alabama 65-59. Now it will go down to the last day of the SEC regular season.

But mighty UCLA, all alone at the top of the heap, rolled right along as the only major unbeaten team. The Bruins hurtled over Washington 78-64 at Seattle, clinched the Big Six title, became the 12th entrant in the 25-team NCAA field and extended its record to 23-0.

Of the other tourney teams in action Monday, all NCAA at-large choices, only Seattle stumbled, 98-85 before Montana State. Defending champion Chicago Loyola, ranked No. 10, whipped St. Louis 79-66. Texas Western blasted New Mexico State 90-54 and Utah State romped over Montana 103-81.

In another major game, Colorado stayed alive in the Big Eight title chase with a 56-54 edge over Oklahoma State.

Duffers Get Chance Today

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The duffers get a chance to play today with the elite professionals of golf and get, what one pro calls "lessons they couldn't begin to pay for with cash."

It's the pro-am preliminary to the $50,000 Greater New Orleans Open which gets under way Thursday on the difficult, 7,000-yard Lakewood Country Club course.

The pros will be shooting for small cash awards as each one teams up with three local amateurs.

Only Arnold Palmer and Al Geiberger are skipping the proam. The remainder of the top touring pros here will participate, including Gary Player, Jack Nicklaus, Tony Lema and Julius Boros.

All Golfers Invited To Attend Session

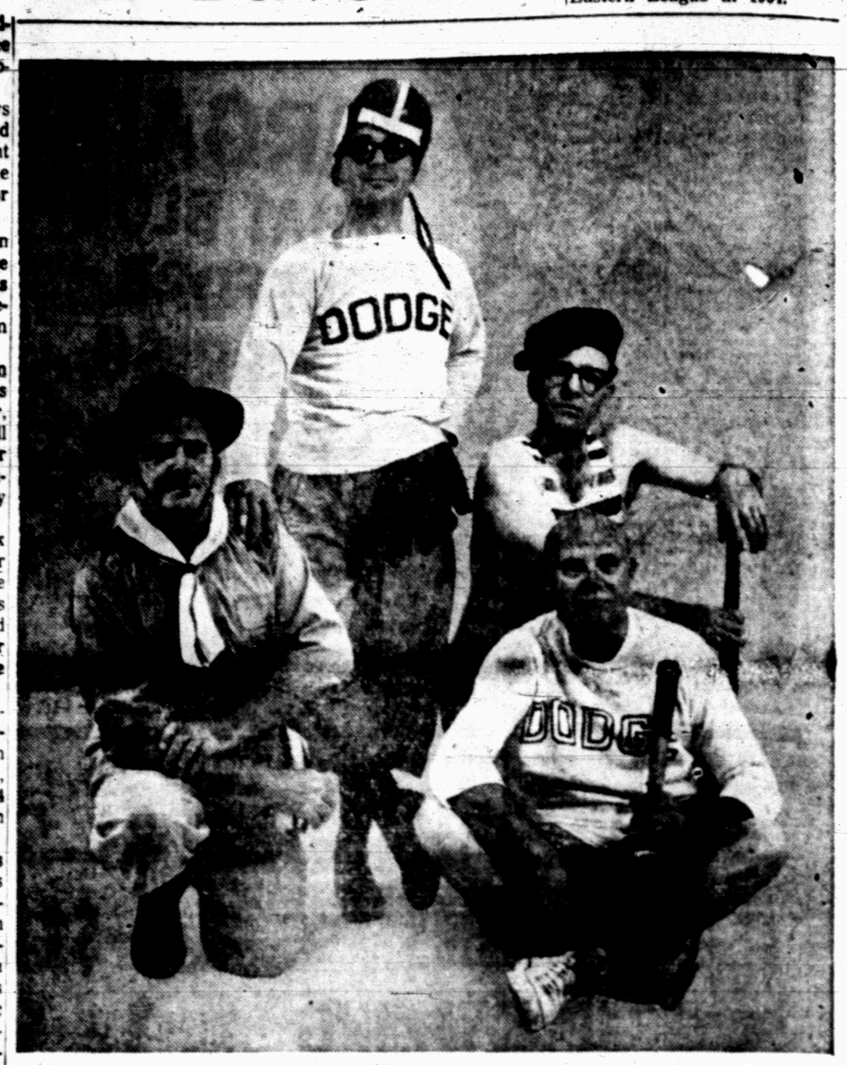

All golfers in Snyder have been invited to attend a meeting Thursday night at the Snyder Country Club, Charles Bruce, golf professional, has announced.

The session has been set for 7:30 p.m.

Bruce said the meeting has been called to discuss future improvements for the golf course at the Country Club. Refreshments will be served at the session.

THE "Write" WAY

By RUTH FOWLER BROWN

Dear Ruth:

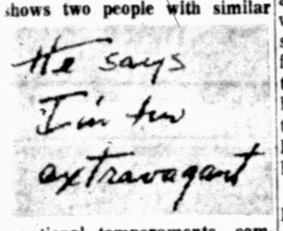

We never have enough money to meet all our bills. Glenn says I need a budget-stretcher and goes into gales of laughter. He says I'm extravagant, but I'm not as extravagant as he is, with his $150 imported suit. He claims that's economy because the quality is so good the suit will last for years. But with those tight pants and the way he eats, he won't be able to get into it in another year. Ruth, please tell me who should handle the money in our house.

JILL

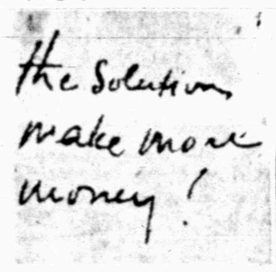

Dear Jill:

Evidently money doesn't stay in your house long enough to be handled!

One glance at your scripts shows two people with similar emotional temperaments completely averse to economy. Both of you write big, think big, act big, enjoy life in a big way. You're generous, extravagant, impulsive, warmly affectionate, highly versatile. Traits like caution prudence, economy, detail ability, observation, practicality and logic are terribly underdeveloped.

If you think the only way to balance the budget is to make more money, you're wrong. The more you have, the more you'll spend. Better start cultivating those underdeveloped traits. Take a night school course in budgeting. You'll find you can have just as much fun with well handled money.

Dear Ruth:

My neighbor has a fish pond in his patio. My cat likes to visit the pond. Yesterday I got this note from the neighbor. Does he really mean it when he says he'll shoot my Peachy if he catches her in his yard again?

Gretchen

Dear Gretchen:

Yes, and judging from the temper shown in his handwriting, he's capable of shooting more than Peachy! Better keep Peachy out of his reachy.

Dear Ruth:

I have a wonderful opportunity to take a once-in-a-lifetime trip to Europe for three months with my Aunt and Uncle. They are paying for it. My boy friend who is also a senior in high school says that if I leave him for the summer he'll just have to find somebody else. I love him, Ruth, and I'd give up the trip if I thought I'd lose him. Does his handwriting say what his mouth does?

Senior

Dear Senior:

Your boy friend's handwriting shows a lot of good traits —but theyre overbalanced by possessiveness and selfishness. If he really loves you, what's three months out of a lifetime? Don't miss the boat.

Rock-Roller Had Knowledge Of Sinatra Kidnap Plot

By GENE HANDSAKER

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A rock'n' roll singer has electrified a federal courtroom by testifying he knew about the Frank Sinatra Jr. kidnap scheme about two months before it was carried out.

Earlier Monday Dean Torrence, 23, denied advance knowledge of the plot — and thereby, the judge said, committed perjury.

In his later version Torrence said defendant Barry Keenan told him of the plan in October and three days after the alleged abduction, gave him about $25,000. But, he said, he gave it back.

In his first appearance Torrence, known for his hit record "Surf City," said he had considered Keenan his best friend for six years.

He said he had lent him money "so he could eat," adding that Keenan owed him $1,200.

He denied the money was to finance a kidnaping and that he knew of any such plan. He was excused as a witness.

In the afternoon Asst. U.S. Atty. Thomas R. Sheridan recalled him and Torrence said: "I'm afraid I made up some stories. I did know about the so-called kidnaping and I did get some money and I gave it back."

U.S. Dist. Judge William G. East said Torrence had committed perjury and that "the matter, of course, will have to be dealt with."

Keenan, 23; Joseph Clyde Amsler, 23; and John Irwin, 42, are charged with kidnaping Sinatra Jr. Dec. 8 from Lake Tahoe and releasing the 20-year-old singer here three days later after receiving $240,000 ransom from the elder Sinatra. The defense has claimed it was a publicity hoax.

South African Party Has No Opposition

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Foreign Minister Hilgard Muller won a seat in Parliament Monday in the constituency long held by his predecessor, Eric Louw, who retired last year.

Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd's National party is so strong in the district that no opposition party presented a candidate.

Thief Says Thanks!

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — A burglar who took thousands of dollars in cash and merchandise from the Hurley-Tobin department store left this note: "Thank you (Smile)."

Store officials discovered the burglary Monday when they came to work.

Trial Site Uncertain

ELGIN (AP) — The trial of Randolph Grady Coffee Jr., charged in the death of Elgin's police chief, will not be held here, but its location is still to be determined.

Dist. Judge Leslie Williams did not set the trial site when he agreed to a change of venue Monday.

Coffee, 20, of Coca, Fla., is charged in the shooting death of Chief T. M. Mumford last Nov. 15.

He and a 16-year-old girl companion were nabbed by two truck drivers after Mumford and a state highway patrolman stopped the couple for questioning and were shot.

The patrolman, Tommy Mosley, recovered from critical wounds.

Carnegie Tech's basketball record holder is Bill Soffa. Between 1957-61 he scored 1,571 points.

Race Rift Leads To Bombings

PRINCESS ANNE, Md. (AP) —A midnight explosion and a burning cross lent fresh urgency today to informal attempts to mediate a festering dispute over restaurant segregation.

Members of the town's biracial committee planned to speak privately to restaurant owners who refuse to serve Negroes.

Committee members were hopeful racial bars would be lowered voluntarily.

Student integration leaders had called a one-day halt on demonstrations to give the committee an air of quiet in which to work.

Monday night a bomb exploded outside the Princess Anne home where a student leader lives.

The bomb dug a shallow hole in the yard of Leon Gates, an accountant at Maryland State College.

Gates, his wife, and their two daughters were in the house when the bomb went off. No one was injured.

Gates is the uncle of John Wilson, 20, a Maryland State junior who has been leading Negro student demonstrations against the restaurants since last Thursday.

An hour before the explosion a cross was burned on the practice football field of the college, whose enrollment is 90 per cent Negro.

Stolen Shrimp Boat Back In Dock

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — A shrimp boat stolen from Key West by an American who defected to Fidel Castro was back today.

Its owner, Charles Griffin of Savannah, Ga., brought it from Havana Monday night.

The 25-foot Johnny Reb was anchored off Key West pending immigration and customs routine.

The American who sought Cuban asylum, Dennis Kirby, 22, a California sailor, had said he was dissatisfied with American life and wanted to compensate Cuba for the seizure of four Cuban trawlers near Key West. The trawlers returned to Havana last Thursday.

A HAUNTING REFRAIN!

LBJ Seems Lacking Finesse In Foreign Affairs Fields

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — For President Johnson the ideal situation would leave him free to concentrate on dealing with Congress, where he was one of the experts of the century. Foreign affairs were not his field.

But, ironically, once the Senate tackles the civil rights bill, perhaps this week, a Southern filibuster against it will tie up all other Senate business for weeks and perhaps months.

Johnson will need all his magic to save the bill but for those many weeks of filibustering there isn't much he can do except, perhaps, devote himself more completely to the unfinished foreign problems needing his attention.

For example: Cuba, Panama and Viet Nam.

But Johnson simply does not have John F. Kennedy's deftness in foreign affairs, at least in discussing them publicly. He has had some setbacks in negotiations although Kennedy might have had the same luck.

He couldn't, for example, get Britain or other friends and allies to cut off trade with Fidel Castro's Cuba.

Over the weekend there came a strange finish to his two-day conference in California with Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos when the two men wrote a communique on their meeting.

It glowed with agreement and agreeableness. Then Lopez Mateos held a news conference and rubbed off some of the glow. This involved Venezuela's charge that Cuba is trying to undermine and destroy Venezuela's government.

The Organization of American States — Cuba is no longer a member — is investigating the charges.

Although the Johnson - Lopez Mateos communique told of their desire to strengthen the OAS, Lopez Mateos told reporters the United Nations, not the OAS, should be investigating Venezuela's charges. This was not mentioned in the communique.

Mexico's Foreign Minister Manuel Tello reportedly said Mexico would not necessarily feel itself bound to support sanctions against Cuba if the OAS voted them.

What this might mean to the future of OAS — if Mexico ignored the OAS decision on Cuba —is anybody's guess. At the same time Lopez Mateos said the OAS should try to solve this country's difficulties with Panama.

Panama wants to renegotiate the 1903 treaty which permits this country to control the Panama Canal Zone indefinitely. The United States has offered to discuss the matter but has refused any pledges in advance.

If this may have caused some confusion, a speech Johnson made while in California was not entirely clear, either, although it was interpreted as a tough speech.

At one point, as a consolation for the troubles of the West, he spoke of the "spreading civil war" among the Communist nations.

One newsman there considered that important enough to make it the lead on his story for Saturday morning.

But this writer has been informed that before the story got into print Johnson's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, phoned the newsman that he was overemphasizing the importance of that part of the speech.

Others used a different lead, based on another part of the Johnson speech. In this he said, without naming them, that "those" engaged in the "external direction and supply" of the Communist guerrillas fighting the American-backed government of South Viet Nam were playing a "deeply dangerous game."

This was interpreted by one reporter as part of a new campaign of psychological warfare against the Communists in North Viet Nam. But Monday there were indications from inside the Johnson administration that no policy decision has been made on the way the Vietnamese war is to be fought.

Typical Members Of 25 Year Club

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—In most large offices today there is an organization called the "25 Year Club."

It probably was created — or such was the fond hope — to boost morale among aging employes of the firm—and to offer living example to the younger workers that, by one device or another, it is possible for almost anybody to stay on the same payroll for a quarter century or longer.

Members of the club take themselves with high seriousness. They like to think of themselves as veterans, scarred by long and dedicated service to the company.

Their veneration for themselves is hardly shared by the youthful employes. These call the club the "Desperation Society," or "Wheel Chair Brigade."

If there is such a club in your office or factory, you might find among its members such familiar characters as:

Mossback Myron — After 47 years in the firm, he has the idea he owns it. If the superintendent even changes the brand of paper towels in the men's washroom, Myron wants to know why he wasn't consulted first.

Opportunistic Otto—As soon as Otto becomes eligible for the club, he wants to use it as a real club against everybody who isn't a member. "Why don't we demand that management make it a rule not to give a merit raise to anyone under 45?

Good Thing Gilbert — the night they pinned a 25-year button in his lapel, Gilbert took off on a three-week binge—figuring he was at last safe from firing. Now Gilbert's back in the stockroom, right where he started 25 years ago.

Cynical Sid—"This thing and 15 cents will get you a ride on the subway anytime," he says of his new "endurance button." But actually he is secretly proud of it, and shines it every morning.

Grateful Gerald — A lifelong sad sack, Gerald is so glad to have any recognition at last that he would like to wear his 25-year pin in the middle of his forehead. If strangers don't ask him what it is, he tells them anyway.

Disgruntled Dave — He wears his 25-year pin upside down as a sign of silent disapproval of the fact that the firm didn't give him a gold watch and an extra week's vacation, too.

Ambitious Albert—Albert politics all year in hopes that the 25-year men will elect him head of the club at their annual dinner—so that the big boss finally will start calling him "Al."

Editor's note: We're not sure just where Boyle fits in this list —but he's a 28-year man himself.

Minuteman Launched

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Two Minuteman intercontinental ballistic missiles were launched Monday from this West Coast base in what Air Force spokesmen described as routine firings.

The shots bring to 32 the total number fired from this missile center.

QUESTION: Why is the Boston Tea Party so famous?

ANSWER: The British decision, in 1763, to maintain a standing army in the American colonies and support it by taxing the American people, was the first great cause of American resentment which later led to the Revolutionary War. Others were an attempt to prevent Americans from settling west of the Appalachian Mountains, laws to restrict American trade and the fiercely resented Stamp Act to raise taxes. In 1767, Parliament tried to force Americans to pay taxes or "duties" on tea and other commodities imported from England. This made the colonists so furious that Parliament repealed the duties, except for the one on tea.

In 1773, the Tea Act was passed. While this did not raise the existing tea tax, it drew attention to it and gave the English East India Company a monopoly on the tea trade, bringing great hardship to the colonial merchants. So, when three ships loaded with tea entered Boston Harbour December 16, 1773, a group of patriots disguised as Indians (including Paul Revere) went aboard, broke the tea cases open and tossed them over the side. This incident helped to bring on the war.

FOR YOU TO DO: As the picture shows, Paul Revere was a fine silversmith as well as a patriot. But he is famous in American history for something else. Find out what it was.

Ottawa Bachelors Better Beware Leap-Year Day

OTTAWA, Ill. (AP)—For residents of Ottawa, the next and wackiest holiday this year is Leap Year day when a man may be jailed for being unmarried.

It's Saturday, Feb. 29, and even the victims — the bachelors—are excited.

The single ladies will take over this northern Illinois city of nearly 20,000 persons for the once-in-a-quadrennium event.

Miss Joyce Hayne, a secretary in the accounting department of Ottawa Silica Co., will be inaugurated mayor for a day. The role falls to her as president of the Ottawa Junior Women's Club.

Then, other girls will take the other city jobs — police chief, judge, fire chief, city prosecutor, and the City Council posts. After that, the mere male population must watch its step — and, incidentally, its pocketbook.

This year, the girls are raising funds for a new mobile rescue unit which will go either to the fire department or the river rescue unit that paroles the Illinois River.

Dorothy Bender, who was mayor four years ago, said the money will come from the men —or else.

Contributions are collected in open court from men who are summoned by the dainty arrest notices of the day — and the City Council chamber specially decorated for the occasion will be the courtroom.

"Oh my!" says Miss Hayne. "We couldn't hold court in a stuffy ordinary courtroom. I think we'll do it over in red and white—at least as much as we can with lots of gay plastic ornaments and ribbons."

Nancy Hilton is police magistrate for the day. She said all's fair, as far as the girls are concerned. But, she said, already, there is bribery afoot.

"Some men have sent flowers to some of our prospective city officials," she said. "We'll deal with those fellows."

If there is one man who's apt to get off lightly, it is Phil Bailey, two-time mayor now out of office. It was Bailey who thought up the leap year doings 12 years ago.

There has been some talk of a move to organize bachelor resistance. Bailey's advice to men with such outlandish ideas:

"Don't do it, fellows. You just can't win."

Second One-Day Boycott Set For Chicago Schools

CHICAGO (AP)—A one - day boycott of Chicago's public schools, the second in four months, was set for today, with leaders of civil rights groups sharply divided on support of the so-called "Freedom Day."

Police Supt. O. W. Wilson and State's Atty. Daniel P. Ward announced that persons attempting to stop pupils from attending classes would be arrested and prosecuted. Ward said the boycott violates the Illinois school code.

Leaders of the boycott, being held in protest of alleged de facto segregation in the schools, held to their contention that the protest demonstration is not illegal. They said warnings by Wilson and Ward had not altered their plans.

Lawrence Landry, 28, leader of the boycott, estimated about 100,000 pupils would be absent from classes, about half the number who joined the first public school boycott Oct. 22. Normal absenteeism at this time of year varies upward to 10 per cent of the 470,000 public school students.

In the Oct. 22 boycott, absentees totaled about 225,000, mostly Negro students. Enrollment of Negro students is approximately 235,000.

The sponsoring Coordinating Council of Community Organizations planned to picket 12 schools where the CCCO has special racial grievances. Leaders said that 1,500 pickets may appear at City Hall late in the day "if it is a nice day."

Wilson said that policemen would be assigned to almost all of the schools that are to be affected by the boycott, mostly on the city's South and West sides in predominately Negro neighborhoods. He said that task force squads would be on continuous patrol.

Many civil rights leaders and organizations have criticized the second boycott and have withdrawn support. These included the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People the National Baptist Convention and the Presbyterian and Catholic Interracial Councils. A Negro alderman, Kenneth E. Campbell, organized the antiboycott group. Singled out Mayor Richard J. Daley, U.S. Rep. William L. Dawson and Campbell as responsible for "generating tremendous opposition" to the boycott.

Connally To Speak In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. John B. Connally was in New York to address the salesmen's association of the paper industry today, still sporting a cast on his right arm.

Wounded at the time of President Kennedy's assassination in Dallas, Connally said on his arrival at Kennedy Airport, "I don't have much strength, but other than that I feel good."

The governor told reporters Friday that reports of his political differences with President Lyndon B. Johnson are "grossly exaggerated."

"We're going to get into a long discussion. I would rather just leave it like it is," Connally said in response to queries.

There have been reports Connally was unhappy that Johnson dissuaded Rep. Joe Kilgore, D-Tex., from opposing sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., in this May's primary.

Connally is to dedicate the Texas Pavilion at the World's Fair Wednesday.

Duck Came Unstuck!

NEW YORK (AP)—The duck was stuck.

Park department employes tried to free it from the ice of Central Park Lake Sunday.

They threw a ladder onto the ice, hoping to break it and dislodge the quacker. The ice stayed firm. So did the duck.

Then someone shoveled a boat out of ice and snow and rowed out, breaking the ice around the duck with an oar.

Unstuck came the duck.

Dr. Gambrell In Seminar At Austin

AUSTIN — Dr. N. E. Gambrell of Snyder attended the x-ray seminar of the Texas State Chiropractic Association in Austin on Feb. 22-23. Some 200 doctors were in attendance at the seminar which was instructed by Dr. Joseph Janse, certified chiropractic roentgenologist and president of the National Chiropractic College at Chicago.

Instruction presented included pre-x-ray physical examination, patient positioning and x-ray interpretation. The time used in interpretation instruction will be counted by the national board of certfiied chiropractic roentgenologists, which requires over 250 hours of interpretation of x-rays instruction and an examination in 22 phases of x-ray examination and interpretation for certification as a chiropractic roentgenologist

The national board of certified chiropratic roentgenologists is affiliated with the American Chriopractic Association, and Dr. Gambrell is a charter member of the ACA.

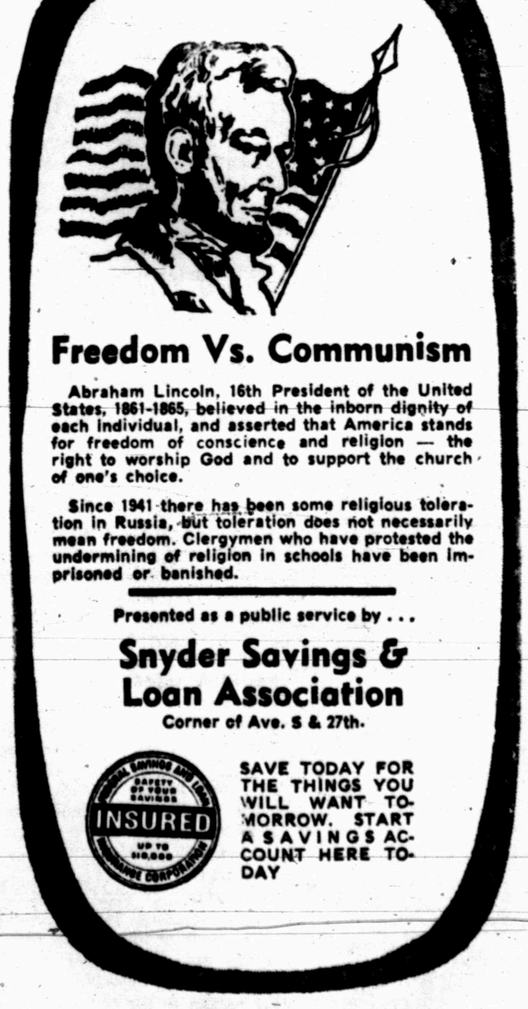

Dr. Janse showed a short documentary film of the new 16-acre, $2½ million campus of the National Chiropractic College and its modern design buildings for administration, education, library, out - patient clinic and student dormitories.

Freedom Vs. Communism

Abraham Lincoln, 16th President of the United States, 1861-1865, believed in the inborn dignity of each individual, and asserted that America stands for freedom of conscience and religion — the right to worship God and to support the church of one's choice.

Since 1941 there has been some religious toleration in Russia, but toleration does not necessarily mean freedom. Clergymen who have protested the undermining of religion in schools have been imprisoned or banished.

Federal Tax Cut Lauded As Right Boost For Sixties

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The federal tax cut is billed by its sponsors as just the thing to get the sixties to soaring at last.

They count on its stimulation of spending by consumers and corporations and rely also on the basic soundness of business. In many respects the economy is healthier today than at the start of the 1960s when false hopes of a soaring decade were widely accepted.

First, the population growth that was supposed to furnish the bang is showing up where it counts. For the next several years the big increase will be in the 20-30 age group. In other words, today's young people will reach an age to earn their own money, marry, and have babies. Today there are 23.6 million in the 20-30 group; by 1970 there will be 30.8 million.

This additional 7.2 million, if properly trained in industrial techniques and skills their parents may not know, can give a real boost to the economy, both in production and consumption. But no one minimizes the task of training them.

The big push from family formations should be just ahead — good news for home builders and furnishers, makers of appliances and children's clothes — and the medical profession.

A second reason for optimism is that demand for goods has been catching up with industrial capacity to produce. Surplus facilities built in the late 1950s are mostly in operation today. At the same time, the oldest plants have been made obsolete by the fast pace of technical improvements and are being displaced.

Many industries are near optimum production — enough surplus for flexibility and emergencies, but no longer a drag. This shows in the increase in industrial output, rise in the factory work week, increase in new orders—above all, in the spurt in corporate profits, especially in recent months.

A third plus point is business caution. It made the last four years sedate. It also sidestepped the excesses that have upset other economic upswings. Inventories are mostly in trim order, rising only moderately since 1960, and scarcely at all in ratio to increased sales. Business spending has been more for updating plants than for over enthusiastic expansion.

In the last four years the deceptive glow of prosperity from a wage-price spiral has been avoided. Wage increases have stayed close to the rise in output per man hour of labor. (Union leaders are claiming this productivity actually has outpaced the pay gains.) Competition has kept price boosts modest.

And businessmen are feeling better about "the climate in Washington" — the government attitude towards management and labor. The feeling isn't unanimous but most seem more in the mood now to step up activities. Polls taken last month show a marked increase in the money that business plans to spend this year on expansion over the intentions expressed only last fall.

Their customers are in a confident mood, too. For the majority the sixties so far have seen a slow advance in standards of living. Most consumers expect this to continue.

If they aren't spending wildly, they aren't scrimping either. Retail sales have hit new highs. Auto and appliance sales are strong. The consumer base for economic growth is sound, too.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

IXTAPAN, Mexico — Probably a good many readers have wondered what effect the decisions of the United Nations or the Teamsters Union might have on people living in Ixtapan.

Maybe a lot of you couldn't sleep nights wondering about this so today, with the temperature in the mid-70s and the roses in bloom, seems like the right time to clear up this bothersome matter.

First of all we must divide Ixtapan into two sections: The country club set which lives up on the hill and the villagers who inhabit the opposite side of the big boulevard. Otherwise you might end up with mixed opinions and confusion just like the African (or any other) situation.

The people on the hill have college degrees, built-in kitchens and things like up home so undoubtedly they follow the international events and are upset, which more or less takes care of that.

On the other side of the boulevard you have the pleasant village with cobblestone streets, adobe buildings, one of the oldest churches in Mexico and no outstanding problems.

In fact, serious doubts have been expressed that the villagers know (or even care) what is going on in Hong Kong today.

However, you will find circumstances arising from a gentleman, who has just replaced the plate glass windows in his home by the golf course, listening to the 6 p.m. newscast.

Following this he rushes to his neighbor's house and asks, "Basil, did you hear about the latest development in the crisis?

The neighbor turns pale and asks, "Heavens, don't tell me fighting has broken out in Indochina?"

So the first man says, "No, no. I mean the Berlin crisis."

Basil stares at the floor and says, "I thought that was all over."

And the first man says, "That's where they outfoxed us. Now they are putting pressure on in Ethiopia."

The neighbor scratches his head and says, "I think I got lost somewhere. Didn't you say the Berlin crisis?"

And the first man replies (a little exasperated), "Look, I just heard a news analyst describe new pressure in Ethiopia which is a positive indication of an upsurge in the Berlin crisis. And the United Nations is afraid Castro might make a speech."

This is convincing enough for anyone. So the neighbor nods and says, "I see it all now. It could very well affect the sales of nuts and bolts for the next ninety days. What is Wall Street's reaction?"

The first man doesn't know but he suggests a stiff Scotch with almost no soda and breaking the news gently to the other hill people.

Half an hour later someone in the village notices considerable activity upstairs and asks a friend, "Hey, what's with the swells? Everybody is rushing over to one of the houses and they're all taking bottles along."

The friend comes to life and shouts, "They're havin' a ball. Lets' round up some tequila and get one goin' here."

By midnight the gatherings on both sides of the boulevard are considerably higher than the surrounding terrain; the hillsiders because of the impending crisis(?) and the villagers because any decent excuse for a party is not to be questioned.

Living in no-man's land between the hill and the village, however, presents certain problems. I am eternally confused about which crisis takes precedence over the others or which gathering to attend.

A hangover from Scotch is as paralyzing as one from tequila so either way, you can see a man is lucky to break even these days.

Controversy Stirred By 'The Deputy

NEW YORK (AP)—A Broadway play which accuses the late Pope Pius XII of failing to speak out against Hitler's mass murder of Jews has stirred controversy here even before its opening. During its European presentation, spectators leaped onto the stage to attack the actors.

The play's German author, Rolf Hochhuth, 33, who was a teen-age member of Hitler's Youth Corps, arrived Monday for the play's opening Wednesday night.

He said he hopes his drama, "The Deputy," is received "more factually and less emotionally" than it was overseas.

Pope Paul VI has labeled the play an unjust attack on Pope Pius, who died in 1958. Pope Paul said his predecessor was well known for "his compassion for human suffering, his courage and his gentleness of heart."

In the play, a young Jesuit priest confronts the pontiff with evidence of Nazi atrocities and pleads with him to issue a papal denunciation.

Pope Pius is depicted as replying: "A diplomat must see a great deal—and say nothing." He then reasons, in the script, that Hitler is a necessary barrier between Soviet communism and the Christian West, and adds: "We must let him have a pardon so long as he is useful in the East."

Padre Will Lure Tourist

ARANSAS PASS (AP — Improvements to the "hug-the-coast highway" and wider spread information about the Padre Island National Seashore area should attract an influx of tourists, according to Frank Hildebrand, director of the Texas Tourist Development Agency.

Hildebrand told the Aransas Pass-Port Aransas Chamber of Commerce Monday night, "It seems obvious that expanding industry will seek out locations in areas with the same advantages that attract tourists."

The speaker cited industrial growth in Florida and Southern California where "tourists came first."

"It seems obvious," he said, "that expanding industry will favor areas in which living conditions and recreational facilities are of the best. You, here, are setting in the midst of one of these areas."

Seeks Reason For Starting Smoke Habit

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) —West Virginia's official joint committee on smoking education says it will seek a federal grant to pay for its own private study of what causes people to start smoking.

State Health Director N. H. Dyer, cochairman of the committee, said antismoking campaigns need additional basic information if they are to bring results.

"You can't treat a patient without a good diagnosis," he said.

Dallas Aircraft Co. Chairman Denies Misconduct In Stock Transactions

DALLAS (AP) — James J. Ling, vice chairman of Ling-Temco-Vought Aircraft Co., has denied any wrongdoing in a series of involved stock deals.

The Federal Securities and Exchange Commission accused Ling of "gross misconduct" in charges filed in a Fort Worth federal court.

One charge says Ling made profits of $485,000 which rightfully belonged to Electro-Science Investors, Inc., a closed-end investment company. Ling was a director of Electro-Science, based in the Dallas suburb of Richardson.

The SEC complaint also named two former officials of Electro-Science, Joseph McKinney and Royce McKinley, and the company treasurer, Paul E. Broderick.

Ling-Temco-Vought is not involved.

A closed-end investment company such as Electro-Science issues a limited amount of stock and with the proceeds buys shares of other companies. The investment company act sets down certain rules for such companies.

The SEC action is not a criminal one and does not carry a penalty. However, the commission asked the court to direct the defendants to return any profits which rightfully belonged to Electro-Science.

Ling said, "I'm flabbergasted and pretty damn indignant about the whole thing."

He explained: "According to the information I have, the chief allegations concern my purchase of Tamar Electronics Industries, Inc., stock. In that transaction I acted in reliance on the advise of counsel to the effect that no violation was involved, and with full disclosure to the knowledge of counsel for ESI.

"Further, I was advised by counsel of ESI that ESI could not purchase the Tamar stock in question as it would have been a violation of regulations covering small business investment companies which ESI was at the time.

"This is the reason I made the investment as an individual."

The SEC said Ling bought shares of Tamar Electronic Industries, Inc., at $7.60 a share at the same time Electro-Science was buying shares in the company at $10 each.

The SEC said Ling acquired 62,175 shares of Tamar stock for $473,000 and that after the purchase this stock had a market value of about $1,384,000. Ling's actual profits, the SEC said, were about $485,000.

Also named as a defendant was Troy V. Post, a director of Electro-Science, but the charge appeared to be a technical one.

Intentionally Hits Bus After Losing Brakes

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP)—A Wheeling school bus driver says he intentionally swerved his loaded vehicle into another bus Monday to avoid plunging over a steep embankment.

The 75 children in Charles Bebout's bus and 47 children in the other escaped injury but both buses were badly damaged.

Bebout said his bus lost its brakes as he was coming down a hill. He said the other bus at the bottom of the hill was blocking most of the road.

Arizona Third-Grade Lad Found Unhurt But Tired

PRESCOTT, Ariz. (AP) — Dennis Hargus, 9, went to an Indian guide winter pow-wow and passed a test that would have been tough on guides of old.

Dennis was found Monday after spending 30 hours lost in mountain country where the temperatures dipped to 12 degrees.

The third grader from Mesa, Ariz., was at YMCA camp 13 miles south of Prescott on a father-son outing Sunday when he decided "to find some deep snow."

He left camp at 9:30 a.m. and at nightfall still had not returned. Some 300 persons set out to find him.

Late Sunday afternoon Dennis built a shelter of logs and brush and "went to bed early." He was dressed in a sweatshirt, trousers and low-cut shoes and carried no food.

Two men on horseback found him Monday afternoon. Apparently suffering only from a few scrapes and bruises.

"I sure am tired," was Dennis' only reaction.

But his father was more emphatic about the incident.

"It was a miracle," said William Hargus.

YEARS OF DROUGHT, overgrazing and invading brush have reduced thousands of acres to grassless ranges. Many have surrendered completely to the pesky brush.

Management Of Ranges Important

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the first in a series of articles on conservation of range and farmland in this area by G. W. Johnson, work unit conservationist with the U. S. Soil Conservation Service.)

A dramatic decline of once-prime grassland has occurred right here under our own eyes. But what has happened is no respecter of fence lines. It happens on ranch after ranch, gradually creeping over this and other areas. You find it a threat wherever grasslands are an important part of the economy, as it is here.

How does good range turn into a dry, brush-infested area? It usually starts with overgrazing and other mis - management factors. Animals strip desirable grasses from the rangeland leaving worthless brush to multiply and take over. With the ground bare, it bakes to a hard, water-repellent crust. Unable to take in and store water, the range falls victim to drouth, and when rains come, water rushes off.

But something has been done about this on many of the ranches in the Upper Colorado Soil Conservation District. Even during dry seasons, the land continues to return a profit. The reason? A water management program is tailored to each individual ranch.

One inch of rain on one acre of our land can produce 500 pounds of grass. A hard, crusted brush - infested site may absorb only 10 per cent of the water. The rest is lost through runoff and evaporation. Instead of 500 pounds, the yield is only 50 pounds. As many of our ranchers know, a water management program will help the soil capture and hold the water. This gives them the full benefit of rain.

You can apply this water management program to your brush infested ranges like this:

First, get rid of worthless brush. Decide on the method by considering the kind of desirable grasses you have. If few or none are present, the root plow will kill the brush and reseed the range in one operation. The roots are cut below the bud zone. Also, as the sturdy plow moves through the soil killing brush, it thoroughly shatters the thickest soil crust and loosens the ground so that it readily absorbs rain.

If many of the desirable grasses are there, a tree stinger or grubber will remove the roots and top. This leaves pits or holes to trap rainwater and provides an excellent condition for growing grass. Also, other desirable grasses can be seeded in these holes.

Remember, it will take some rain to make a stand, but good seed planted properly will give the results you want.

Once you have achieved your goal of a luscious pasture through brush removal and reseeding, how can you keep it that way? The answer is range management. A main point to remember in managing a pasture is that grass requires a good root system to survive and produce forage. Therefore, grazing should be deferred on newly seeded range until the stand has made a seed crop.

Thereafter, graze with this thought in mind: It takes grass to grow grass. Always leave enough of each season's grass growth to protect the soil and insure water intake. This will maintain and improve the grass stand in seasons to follow. Also, this good grass cover will help control brush invasion.

Third Ruby Juror Mother Of Six

DALLAS (AP) — State and defense attorneys accepted Mrs. Mildred McCollum as the third juror in the Jack Ruby murder trial.

The attractive brunette's husband promptly remarked: "It might do her good to get away for awhile. It will be different."

Mrs. McCollum, mother of six school-age children and a bookkeeper-secretary at suburban Garland, is the first woman picked to judge the case of the 52-year-old nightclub operator.

Ruby, his life at stake for the Nov. 24 slaying of accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald, apparently approved of the latest selection.

Defense attorneys say they consult with the balding client before accepting a candidate.

Mrs. McCollum, who became 40 last Saturday, would have been excused because of her children if she had asked.

They range in age from 10 to 20 and all attend school in Garland except the eldest, James, a student at Texas A&M.

"I wasn't expecting her to get on the jury," her husband, Drexil F. McCollum, told a reporter.

The 52-year-old machinist said he did not feel his wife was afraid to serve on the jury, "but she knew it would be some time before she got home again."

Defense attorney Joe Tonahill asked Mrs. McCollum if she witnessed the nationally televised shooting of Oswald by Ruby.

She said she saw a portion of a rerun.

Asked if she could forget it, she replied: "probably not. I never saw anything like that before."

She said she could vote the death penalty, but also could approve a suspended sentence should evidence warrant such a decision.

McCollum said he and his wife discussed the shooting of Oswald on several occasions but he could not recall the gist of the conversations.

"We just more or less tried to forget it," he added.

Previous selections to the jury were Max E. Causey, 35, and Allen W. McCoy, 39. Sixty-one candidates have been examined. Mrs. McCollum was the 49th.

British Poet Says Beatles Rate Tops

WASHINGTON (AP)—British poet-lecturer Stephen Spender likes the Beatles, is fascinated by Greenwich Village's "obscene, shocking" poets but is embarrassed by President Johnson and Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home.

"Johnson reminds me of something husky that I would not eat," he told a news conference Monday, "and I can't bear the prime minister's perpetual smile."

World War I Veterans To Meet Thursday
