Bargain Rate Brings Many To 'Times Family'

As The Times comes to the close of its annual bargain rate, many are those who have been coming in and ordering The Times to their homes for another year. We are exceptionally well pleased with the number who have responded to the subscription rate during the past few weeks.

The past week has seen more than sixty subscribers paying their subscriptions. A large percentage of these are new subscribers, who are taking The Times for their first time.

The bargain rate will continue for a short time longer, in order to give those who have not yet taken advantage of this low rate a chance to order The Times to their home for another year. It is probable that this rate will never again be as low as it is now, and everyone in the trade territory is urged to subscribe at this saving.

Those who have subscribed during the past week are: Jack Williams, C. A. Steinriede, W. A. Floyd, Fannie P. Buntz, Mrs. Irene Meers, Anton Kuhler, Carl Schumacher, R. C. Partridge, H. J. Ed Jones Asks For Re-Election As Commissioner

Ed Jones, county commissioner of Precinct 4, was in the office Wednesday and authorized The Times to announce his candidacy for re-election, subject to the action of the Democratic primary in July.

As a member of the commissioners' court, Mr. Jones has cooperated in every movement which stands for a constructive, yet economical administration. Records of the court are open for public inspection, and Mr. Jones invites the people of this precinct to inspect his record there at any time.

Not only has Mr. Jones worked for his precinct, which includes Munday, Rhineland, Goree and Hefner communities, but for the county as a whole. He has been vitally interested in seeing that all portions of the county get more roads designated as state highways and in the improvement of lateral roads.

Through his 18 years of residence in the county, and through his experience in the office he now holds, Mr. Jones feels that he is able to continue an efficient job as commissioner. He respectfully asks the vote and influence of all citizens of his precinct and promises to continue and efficient and economical administration if returned to this office.

"I earnestly solicit your continued support and influence in the coming campaign," Mr. Sams said, "and, if elected, I will give you my most earnest efforts toward filling the office in a capable and efficient manner."

C. of C. Places 68 Baskets In Its Christmas Move

Sixty-eight families of Munday and surrounding territory shared in a Merry Christmas through the efforts of the Munday Chamber of Commerce. Christmas baskets were distributed to these families just before Christmas.

Distribution was made on December 23 and 24, Mrs. Louise Ingram, secretary, stated.

Names of families to receive the baskets were determined by a committee of nine women representing the various churches of Munday. Practically all baskets were received as they were given—as a goodwill Christmas act upon the part of the donor, rather than a gift of charity. It was a means adopted by the Chamber of Commerce of distributing Christmas presents, taking the place of the usual Christmas tree which proved so unsatisfactory a year ago.

In addition to the baskets, the Chamber of Commerce also furnished quite a quantity of fruits, toys and candy to the colored people for their Christmas tree.

Ky Hunter, who has been suffering an attack of pneumonia, was taken to the Haskell hospital for treatment recently.

Begins Work of Taking Census Last Tuesday

Businessmen Asked to Cooperate With Tabulator

Paul B. Pendleton of Munday has been appointed 1940 census enumerator for Knox County, according to an announcement made Monday by Clifford E. Deaton of Wichita Falls, who is district supervisor.

The first phase of the Sixteenth Decennial Federal Census, the Business and Manufacturing division, started on Tuesday, January 2. All office employees and enumerators for the area have been appointed, as follows:

Supervisor's clerks: John H. Cates, Iowa Park; Miss Margaret Littleton, Wichita Falls; Mrs. Helen Dixon, Wichita Falls. Clifford E. Deaton is district supervisor and Robert A. Smith, Deatur, is assistant district supervisor.

For the business and manufacturing census, one man was appointed from each county in the district with the exception of Wichita county, allowed three because of larger population.

Mr. Pendleton was among the enumerators required to attend a census school which was conducted by the district supervisor and his assistant on December 27-29, inclusive. The school was held at Wichita Falls in the Federal building. All enumerators completed the course and went into the field on January 2, taking the business and manufacturing census.

Pendleton stated that Munday would possibly be the last town in the county in which the census would be taken. He started Tuesday at Knox City, and will go from there to Benjamin and Truscott. The census will likely be taken in other towns of the county before at Munday, which is in the last of Pendleton's schedule. Paul will work alone on this phase of the census, but the district office will appoint additional help for the population, agriculture and housing census.

On April 1, 1940, the second phase, the population, agriculture and housing census, will begin. It is certain that many more enumerators will be required for this work since it is necessary that the population census be completed in two weeks to prevent missing persons who move from place to place.

Women were not employed as enumerators during the business and manufacturing census, the supervisor said, but this will probably not be the case in the second phase. No one under 21 years of age could be considered for business census.

"Ample notice will be given in the newspapers throughout the district so that persons interested in applying for positions in the population, agriculture and housing census may get in touch with the district office," Mr. Deaton said. "This will probably be some time around the middle of March. Until that time no applications are being considered."

Loran's Good Neighbor Policy In Operation

The good neighbor policy, which was advocated some time ago by Peter Loran as a means of helping a neighbor toward having a crop, has been put into practice on the Loran farm.

Mr. Loran stated that Homer Ledbetter will have eight rows in his field under the good neighbor policy. Under this policy Mr. Ledbetter will have land which is in the government program, and on this land will be planted the soil building crops for which the landowner will receive payment. Ledbetter is to work the crops if he has teams, if not Loran will plow it along with his other crops. Everything made on the eight rows goes to Mr. Ledbetter, who will hoe and harvest the crop.

Mr. Loran urges others, who have expressed the belief that this is a good policy, to put it into operation now.

PARAMOUNT TIES UP WITH RAYON

Licked to a frazzle by cotton styles in the Paris and New York markets last season, the synthetics apparently are pointing toward a comeback via Hollywood.

Full page advertisements in national magazines of tremendous circulation are scheduled to carry the first blast in February. Paramount's actress Mary Martin takes the role of salelady for rayon, as attention-getter for the statement that all costumes used in her new picture "The Great Victor Herbert" are rayon fabrics.

Those familiar with advertising methods smell immediately a cooperative deal under which Paramount agrees to put in rayon costumes in return for page advertisements paid for by rayon manufacturers featuring "The Great Victor Herbert."

What Paramount appears to have overlooked, or at least to have considered more unimportant than the value of the space thus obtained, is the fact that 25 per cent of all the potential theatre-goers of the nation depend directly or indirectly upon cotton for their livelihood.

Paramount may not know of the new zeal with which cotton dependents of nineteen states have started out to market their product. Those dependents do not have the advertising budget with which

Eagles Defeat Benjamin Mustangs

On Tuesday night, December 19, the Sunset Eagles defeated the Benjamin Mustangs by a score of 27-22. This was very interesting game of basketball as the Eagles' smooth-running teamwork ran the score up in favor of Sunset early in the game. At the half the Eagles led by a score of 13-3.

The last half of the game was even more interesting as both of the teams participated in the scoring of goals. The game was rather close for a few minutes of the last period but field goals by the Eagles saved the game by the margin of 27-22. Scoring honors went to Shannon who rung up six field goals and one free pitch for a total of 13 points. Runner-up was Thomas with 8 points.

The game as a whole was well played by both teams and was enjoyed by all. The Eagles' next scheduled game is for Friday night January 5, with O'Brien in the Knox City Invitation Tournament.

New Walks Constructed at Sunset

Sunset has inaugurated a progressive campaign of building. Under construction at present is a walk to the front steps of the school building. Another walk will be built parallel to the building, and just outside the trees. The front walk will be seven feet wide, fifty-eight feet long, and four inches thick. The second walk will be about 100 feet, by four feet, by four inches. Both walks are being built by NYA labor, and will be made of concrete. The cost of the material will be about thirty dollars.

Volleyball

On the night of December 19, the volleyball girls played two games with Benjamin at Sunset. They won both of them, and we think the girls did wonderful work, although it was their first game to play. They showed good teamwork, and their one high aim is to work together and show just what they can do.

Everyone is looking forward to future games in this New Year of 1940, with high hopes of winning them.

The first grade is very sorry to lose Doris Jennings and Betty Lou Conway. They are starting an eskimo unit which they will work on during the next few weeks.

The third grade is very sorry to lose Joyce Conway, who has moved to Goree. But they are equally glad to have Maurice Paterson and Mary Frances Booe from Munday enter their class.

The fourth grade is very sorry that Ronald Foshee has moved to Munday, and that Raymond Jennings has moved to Benjamin.

In the fifth grade, the best citizens for the last week are Margie Lowrey, Bonnie Lou Jordan, Willie Marie Cogburn, Betty Nell Walker, Barbara Jane Almanrode, Willie Mae Thompson, Weldon Walling, and John Voss.

The sixth grade is very anxious to welcome a new pupil, J. B. Roode. They report they have enjoyed the holidays very much; yet they are glad to be back in school. Following is a program which the Good Will Club presented:

Song, "Sleepy Time"—Wanda Sue Nelson and Katherine White.
Song, "Joy to the World"—Virginia Simpkins, Mildred Yost, and George Cogburn.

Song, "Scatterbrain"—Leita Jane Gentry and Eva Dean Henderson.
Song, "Good Morning"—Mark Hardin, Utah Groves, Donald Walker, Wendell Partridge.

Song, "South of the Border"—Leita-Jane Gentry, Elmo Cornett, George Cogburn.

The seventh grade reports that their New Years resolution is to improve their grades so that they may at least have a few on the honor roll.

Freshman Party
June Stockton gave a party Thursday night, December 21. Among the many comical things that we observed were:

Harold Watson sitting on the floor playing with his toes. (Don't get alarmed, it was just a game.)
Garland on his knees to Faye Marie.

Gaynelle and Juanita dancing a jig.
Leola Voss acting as judge.

Victor singing "South of the Border" in a very high key.
Someone singing "Oh, Johnny, Oh," very sweetly to Edna. (Edna, maybe he will sing it again.)

Everyone reported a nice time, and they hope to have another get-together soon.

The Freshman class gave Mr. McLeRoy a very nice Christmas present. It consisted of a shirt and a pair of socks. (He must have liked them, for he wore them to school the next day.)

The Sophomores and the Juniors of Sunset High School had a Christmas party on December 20, at the school house.

The several games that were played in the auditorium were enjoyed. After playing games, everyone was served sandwiches, cocoa and cookies in the study hall. Afterward presents were given in the living room of the Homemaking Department. The Sophomore class gave their sponsor, Mr. N. T. Underwood, a shirt and a box of handkerchiefs. The Junior class gave their sponsor, Miss Mary Phillips, a necklace and a very pretty handkerchief.

Senior Party
The Senior Class of Sunset had a Christmas social Thursday night, December 21, at the school house.

A number of games were played and enjoyed and refreshments of ice cream, cake and cocoa were served to all.

Santa Claus came and distributed the gifts that had been placed under the Christmas tree. Every member of the class received a gift and the class presented their sponsor, Miss Hutton, with an Evening in Paris set. Miss Hutton presented each member of the with an ice cream Santa Claus.

"It is! The seeds are inside."

Sophomore Report

The Sophomores hated to come back to school Tuesday. Is it because the hangover from Christmas and New Year, or did Santa Claus leave them too many things with which they hated to part? Sophs, isn't it a far call from toys, candy, and nuts to participles, gerunds, and infinitives? But let us remember:

"Life is made up of smiles and tears,
Joys and sorrows, mixed with fears;
And though to us it seems one-sided,
Trouble is pretty well divided."

The freshmen returned to school Tuesday cheerful because of their long vacation, but we soon began to realize that our holidays were over and that mid-term exams are near.

We wonder at the audacity of these joking, fun-loving people who go around slapping you on the back with the old holiday spirit after a hectic Christmas.

The staff went through a strip-tease Monday. The result: a mud-died mess of manuscript.

The holidays brought many out-of-town visitors to this fair city. Among these were: Dorothy Warren, Marjorie Propps, (editor-in-chief of The Kennel) and Doris Cients. (Too, Glenn Huntsman had interests here. We want you to come back... and we do mean YOU!

Two college students were in town during the Christmas week. Namely, Athlee Goffinett of W.T. S.T.C., Canyon, (just ask Buddy the result), and Floyd Nunley of Texas Tech, Lubbock. (For further information see Claudia Lee Snailum.)

Take Your Choice

Butch (Don Juan) prefers (red, auburn, black, blonde) hair. (Santa, Mother, Henry) wrapped a time-ticker around Mutt's arm.

Alonso (is falling, has fallen) for a girl South of the Bridge.

As a result of escapades, Buddy has (aches, pains, memories). In lieu of the holiday memories, Miss Diersing reminds one of (over-flowing honey, the same instructress as ever).

Sophomore Report

The Sophomores are studying "The Idylls of the King," in literature. They have just begun it, but most of the class think they are going to enjoy reading the "Idylls."

In algebra we have just finished a chapter on factoring.

On Friday a six-weeks exam will be given over the previous material.

In world history we are studying the "Rise of Christianity," while the second year home economics class made several different kinds of candy before Christmas, and gave these as gifts. Today we are taking up the study of pastry.

The Sophomores had a party Thursday, December 22, at the home of Mrs. Omar Parker. We drew names and exchanged gifts. It was quite an enjoyable affair.

Freshman Report

The Freshmen are honored to welcome into their presence, Bertha Paye Jennings, from Sunset, who enrolled Monday as a new pupil.

Paye was born January 2, 1924 at Knox City. Her personality is accented with dark brown, curly hair, gray eyes, and a light olive complexion. Her favorite sport is volleyball. She is five feet and two inches tall, and weighs one hundred and eighteen pounds. We hope Paye will become one of us and break down the barrier that always surrounds the new student.

Senior Report

You won't wonder at the frozen expressions on the faces of the Seniors when they staggered back to the school Monday when you hear of the snow sports they entered into during the Christmas holidays. Mutt has been chewing gum all day trying to limber up her frozen features from the snow facials received while tracking up the snow in her new snow boots. Nevertheless, the Seniors came back with grinning faces; evidently Santa was rather nice to them.

Getting into the swing of lessons again was rather difficult for those absent-minded Seniors, but after a review of biology, and a study on Municipalities, the day was climaxed with a broadcast of the A. and M. Tulane football game.

Junior Report

After a rip-snotin' Christmas which everybody celebrated according to his individual taste (and some people's taste!) we "Jolly Juniors" dragged back to that magnificent structure on Main Street (study hall, mind you) to begin the New Year right.

A merry, happy time was had at Miss Bettye Crenshaw's Thursday night, December 22, when she entertained us with a party. Margaret Dutton, Marjorie Propps, and Dorothy Warren honored us with their presence. Amid much laughter, the party started by playing such games as "Buzz," "Barnyard" and "My Grandmother Doesn't Like 'T'." Evidently the boys, (I said boys) soon grew tired of these, and before we knew it, such games as "Knocking for Love," and "Post-office" were being played. A certain blond boy (hide your face, Buddy) seemingly likes the taste, smell, or (oh skip it) of lipstick. He had enough on after a prolonged walk around the house (with whom?) Refreshments were served—to the joy of all—and everybody went away "happy as a lark."

NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS METHODIST CHURCH

Most people include church going in their New Year Resolutions and we are hoping that you, with the rest of us, have remembered your religious nature in the plans for the year. Since the first Sunday comes at the close of the first week, it gives us a lot of time to make our arrangements to keep our attending record clear by attending church on the first Sunday.

SOUTHWESTERN LIFE INSURANCE CO.

Every effort is being made to make the services of such nature as to meet your needs spiritually and in forming pleasant relationship with Christian people. If you have not attended church regularly in the past use this occasion to make churchgoing a regular part of your life's routine for the year 1940.

Communion will be served at the close of the morning service. The general theme "The Reality of Christ." In a day of resolutions, and in a war-threatened world, and uncertain Christ is too indefinite to bring much comfort. Our souls are in need of the manifest presence of one who knows life and can lead humanity out in to certainties and security. Come and make real the presence of Christ in life's experiences. Bring a friend along with you and you will find that Christ also came with you. "I was a stranger, and ye took me in," Ever notice how eager the world is to get a fellow to going their way? Let's make it a good year because of bringing joy to the lives of others.

Sunday School convenes at 10:00 a.m. The morning service is at 11:00, and the Epworth Leagues at 6:15, and the evening service at 7:00. We are always delighted to have visitors and new people to make this their church home. Come with us and we will make a special effort to aid you in Christian living.
