White-Tailed Deer In Houston County Game Preserve

A model conservation program, centered in East Texas, is described in the December issue of Texas Game and Fish magazine.

Theron D. Carroll, the author, tells how a group of landowners, sportsmen, school people, and business and professional men are co-operating with county, state and federal agencies in a program of wildlife restoration and management.

Carroll, Supervisor of Conservation Education for the Game and Fish Commission, writes:

"In this particular area, referred to geographically as Houston County, biologists have found all of the natural essentials to provide food and cover for the most popular big game mammal of Texas—the white-tailed deer. The natural habitat is also suitable for squirrels, bob-white quail and possibly wild turkeys. Turkeys have long been driven from this area; bob-white has done well on a few protected sites; the squirrel crop comes and goes; and the few deer in the area have, according to natives, infiltrated from surrounding counties."

Carroll reports that, while conditions were suitable, there was no wildlife. "The people reasoned wisely that perhaps in the human element could be found the missing link," he continues. "Then they began to see that if the people in the area did not recognize the role of wildlife in the community and did not make provisions for the wise use, management or, if you prefer, the conservation of wildlife, they could never expect Houston County to produce the game in sufficient quantity for the full utilization of this natural habitat."

Carroll relates how enabling legislation permits the Game and Fish Commission to join with the United States government in protecting and managing wildlife resources in the Davy Crockett National Forest where the model undertaking is located.

"Conservation education," Carroll writes, "is being introduced in the classrooms in such a way that boys and girls are taught the interdependence of man and the natural resources such as soil, water, forests, minerals and wildlife." He cites the Crockett Chapter of the Future Farmers of America as typifying the interest shown in this vital demonstration of co-operative effort.

Things of Joy

The Night Before Christmas

'Twas the night before Christmas,
And all thru the house,
Not a creature was stirring,
Not even a mouse.
Clement C. Moore

But Mother was restless,
And stopped waxing the floor,
And slipped down stairs,
To peek out the door.

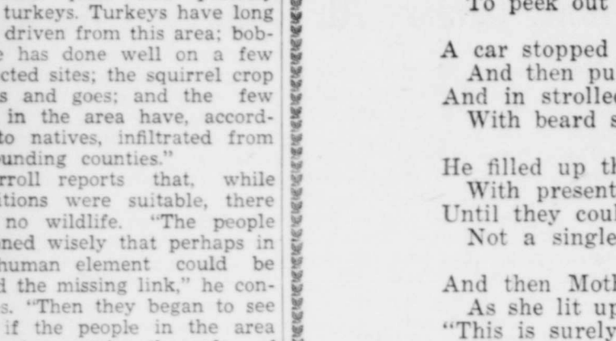

A car stopped in front,
And then pulled out of sight,
And in strolled Santa,
With beard so curly and white.

He filled up the stockings,
With presents galore,
Until they could hold
Not a single thing more.

And then Mother spoke,
As she lit up the tree,
"This is surely a wonderful Christmas for me."

Candles have lighted Christmas eve around the world for generations.

It has long been a custom in Ireland to place a lighted candle in the window to guide the Christchild on his way, and the use of candles appears in other lands in many ways.

In Czechoslovakia, for example, tiny candles are set upright in nutshells and floated in pans of water. Armenians use myriads of candles in preparing their Christmas decorations.

At unique church services in Labrador each child receives a little lighted candle standing in a turnip, and keeps it until after the services, at which time the turnip is eaten.

In Norway, families arrive at church on Christmas eve, each carrying a flaming torch. These are stuck in the snow while the goodfolk attend the services.

Redeemer's Birthplace In Ancient Bethlehem Still Scene of Worship

The scene of the Redeemer's birth at Bethlehem is the site of a full day's worship and prayer each Christmas Eve. The faithful come from all parts of the world to join their voices in adoration and to see the solemn reenactment of the birth of Jesus of Nazareth.

Discontinued for six years during World War II, the pontifical mass and ceremony was renewed in 1945. As the stars on the hillside and the pale moon wrapped the town of Bethlehem in an aura of holiness, the voices of the humble echoed in prayer from the little Church of St. Catherine, built on the hallowed rock of the most sacred spot of the Christian world.

The mass was celebrated at 10 p.m., the voices of the choir-boys ringing out over the surrounding hills. At the stroke of 12 the great bells of the tower of the nativity rang out, loud and clear.

The vicar, holding an image of the Christ Child, joined a procession of priests, acolytes and choirboys. By flickering candlelight the procession filed over the stone steps leading to the grotto of the nativity. The vicar placed the tiny representation of Christ on the sacred spot where, many years before, the Redeemer came.

Balsam Recommended As Best Yule Tree

In choosing a Christmas tree, many look for trees that will not shed needles quickly indoors. Highly recommended are balsam and Douglas firs, which usually will hold their needles as long as two or three weeks in a warm house.

Balsam is fragrant beyond all other Christmas trees, has long lower branches and thick spire-like top. Its needles do not stab the hand. Like the needles of all firs, they are usually flattened, not squarish.

For longer life, place the tree outdoors in a bucket of water for 24 hours before putting it up, or place in a waterproof container of wet sand and keep the sand moist.

I HOPE, I HOPE . . . There is an expression commonly used during the days just before Christmas—and this is it, on the face of the lad with the football. If things work out the way they usually do, he'll get his wish.

Long before history was recorded the Persians discovered sugar cane and made sweetmeats an important part of their New Year celebration. These pagan Persians also made human sacrifices on the eve of the New Year in the belief that their barren fields would be fertilized by the gods.

In ancient China it was a custom to make visits shortly after the New Year had begun. Hilarity reigned supreme in old India and Babylon, where celebration of the first day of a New Year was a very wild affair.

The superstitious people believed that during their frolicsome celebrations the pagan gods were asleep, else conveniently away from home.

The Japanese always used holly for decorations at New Year's. It is an old belief that "the prick of the thorns on the leaves would scare away devils." The emperor's first bath, Hatsumizy, taken early New Year morning, was called a "religious rite of cleansing and purification performed by the ruler to bring peace and prosperity to Japan and his people."

Smart children in Belgium gather keys to every room in the house on New Year's eve, and then lock the elders in their rooms on New Year's morning, refusing to release them until promised a portion of sweets.

YOU'RE ALL DONE, DAD . . . The old man, having served his time and done his duty during 1951, is ready for rest and retirement. Young 1952, however, eager and ready for the fray, is reaching out to take the cake— or is it pie? Happy New Year, anyway.

New Year Banquet Shows Variations All Around World

Feasting has always been an important part of the celebration of New Year's and menus differ around the world.

The New Year's Day banquet in England and Western Europe is similiar to our American feast, chief difference being in the choice of side dishes. Turkey, duck or goose makes the popular roast in England, with plum pudding topping off the meal.

Turkey is again found in France, although capon and pheasant are as popular. The holiday fowls of the Latin countries are bedecked with truffles, chestnuts and olives and one might find snails on a menu in France.

An important dish among the Spaniards is sopa, rice cooked with olive oil, tomatoes, vegetables and meat particles. Africans partake of cous-cous, which is composed of wheat grains, lamb and vegetables.

Pickled greens, raw fish, roast bird and shrimp fritters are headliners among the Japanese, with pickled chrysanthemum petals considered a delicacy. The Swedes temper their feast with a special drink called glogg, which is a claret wine sweetened with sugar and flavored with almonds, raisins, dried orange peel, cinnamon, cloves and cardamon. It is usually set afire before serving.

Old Romans Offered Gifts to God Janus

The word January comes from the Latin word "Janus". Janus was a god to whom the Romans offered sacrifices at the start of a new year to insure prosperity and good health for the days ahead. Strenia, goddess of strength, was also honored on the first day.

As early as 747 B.C., the Romans gathered gifts of bay and palm for New Year presents. As the years passed and Rome prospered, the gifts became more elaborate yearly, and, in time, it became the custom to bestow them upon the emperor, a habit that contributed greatly to the wealth of the Caesars. Claudius, recognizing the fact that the giving had graduated through the years from a voluntary tribute to a regarded duty, issued a decree limiting the amount which might be given.

Rome continued to celebrate the New Year under the Christian emperors. The idolatrous rites of the people, however, caused the church to ban Christians from participating in the celebrations, and it was not until December 25 was legally fixed as the date of the Nativity that the church made January 1 a religious festival, in commemoration of the circumcision of Jesus.

Texas Output Of Metals Increased

A spectacular increase in Texas' output of metals has been witnessed in the past 10 years, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

Wide diversity of metals produced in the State is cited by Stanley A. Arbingast, Bureau assistant director, in an article on "Metals Industries in Texas" in the monthly Texas Business Review.

Texas now smelts or refines aluminum, magnesium, tin, antimony, iron, copper, lead, zinc and cadmium (a by-product of zinc smelting). Small amounts of indium, gold, silver and other metals are recovered during certain smelting operations, but these recoveries are minor.

"A recent addition to the list of Texas metal products is manganese," Arbingast pointed out. "It was announced this year that two plants to process and concentrate this valuable ferro-alloy would be built in the State, one by the Tenn-Tex Alloy and Chemical Corporation, at a site on the Houston Ship Channel, and the other by Texas International Manganese Corporation in Brownsville."

Dow Chemical Company is now carrying on research in West Texas to discover whether sub-surface brines of that section are suitable for production of magnesium and certain other chemicals, Arbingast said.

Clinic for Crippled Children to be Held January 4th

Mr. R. M. Davis
Superintendent of Schools
Burkburnett, Texas
Dear Mr. Davis:

A Crippled Children's Clinic, sponsored by the Crippled Children's Division of the Texas State Health Department will be held at the Wichita Health Unit, 602 Broad Street, January 4, 1952, from 9:00 A. M. to 5:00 P. M.

This Clinic is for all children under twenty-one years of age with any crippling defect, no matter how small, which causes the child to deviate from normal.

We naturally want to see new cases, but the Clinic is also being conducted for those children who have previously been served by the Crippled Children's Division, so that a visit to a town farther than Wichita Falls for a regular check-up will probably not be necessary.

Your cooperation in disseminating this information will be greatly appreciated.

Yours very truly,

Christmas Season Brings Increase In Accidents

Christmas, the season of joy and happiness, will soon be with us and Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, urges every one to do their utmost to prevent accidents in order that the season of merriment be not changed to one of sorrow or suffering.

This season of the year brings with it an increase in the motor vehicle traffic. Thousands of persons, enjoying a vacation, are on the highways at this time. Like public health, and a great many other things, traffic safety depends upon effective partnership. Whether you are at the wheel or on the highway or street, your safety and that of the other fellow, depend upon both of you.

The speed mania and reckless driving, and all that they imply, in the lack of self control, disregard for laws and for the rights and lives of others, are responsible for a large part of the tragic deaths and unnecessary suffering. In the face of the hazards involved, absentmindedness on the part of the driver or pedestrian, also becomes a vice,with notorious record for destructive consequences. Motor transportation has become an inherent part of our daily lives. To reduce the hazards for ourselves and for others the least we can do is to admit our obligation as partners in the Safety Traffic business, and to accept our responsibilities as drivers and as pedestrians.

One would not wish all persons to be in a state of constant dread to the extent that every act be considered a source of possible accident; but we can be sensible and intelligent and since we are creatures of habit we can teach ourselves and our young people to recognize certain situations which represent hazards and to act in such a way as to prevent them.

Did Washington Start Custom of Open House?

American historians credit George Washington with starting the custom of receiving friends, or holding "open house" on New Year's day.

In the year 1790 New York was the seat of the government and President Washington made a practice of opening the doors of the presidential mansion for a reception on each New Year's day. Home and foreign diplomats, and ordinary citizens as well, visited.

Washington was said to have expressed the hope that the observance might continue through the years. His wish was granted, for it is still a custom at the White House.

Postal Rate Changes Listed

The following is a quickie-glance at postal rate changes that will be in effect soon. We call your particular attention to the 10 per cent extra charge which will be made on and after January 1 when you purchase 50 or more of the new 2c postcards:

First Class:

The penny postcard goes to 2c on January 1, 1952, and purchases of 50 or more postcards must pay an extra 10 per cent for paper stock.

Second Class:

Newspapers and magazines must pay an extra 10 per cent April 1, 1952, another 10 per cent April 1, 1953, and a third 10 per cent April 1, 1954.

Third Class:

Bulk third class goes up to 1 1-2c minimum (a 50 per cent increase) on July 1, 1952.

Fourth Class:

Parcel post and catalog increases effective October 1, 1951 by order of the Interstate Commerce Commission were not changed by the postal rate bill passed by Congress. These increases were about 50 per cent. Check your post office for these.

Game Enforcement Cases Decrease

The Chief Clerk of the Texas Game and Fish Commission said a 25 per cent drop in law enforcement cases for November under the same month last year "probably shows better sportsmanship."

The total cases for November 1950, was 443 with fines and court costs aggregating $12,207.-58. The total for November, '51, was 332 cases with fines and court costs aggregating $10,-055.20.

The Chief Clerk observed that the decrease was shown despite an increased number of enforcement officials and normally improved law enforcement facilities over last fall.

"We hope the showing reflects a better attitude among hunters and fishermen," said the Chief Clerk. "Of course, there still is room for improvement."

Oil Recovery Methods Studied

Improvement of oil recovery by chemical methods is the goal of two University of Texas researchers.

William W. Holland is investigating petroleum engineering aspects of the methods, and Dr. L. O. Morgan is working on basic chemical techniques.

The scientists are searching for two groups of chemicals: one which will allow water to flow more freely through a petroleum - bearing formation, and another to hold water in a reservoir while oil is produced.

New Year's Day Passes on All Old Superstitions

Through centuries of celebrations, New Year's Day has managed to pass on to each succeeding generation the superstitions that people of olden times held about the first day of the year.

Residents of England once believed it to be an ill omen if one shared a lighted match with another on New Year's morning. English maidens, and Scotch ones, as well, made a custom of rushing to the well at the stroke of midnight. The first to taste of the water would have the best luck during the ensuing year.

Residents of the Isle of Man held that a dark complexioned person brought good fortune with him if he were the first to enter a house after the new year had begun. A light-haired visitor was believed a bearer of misfortune.

In early America, New Englanders considered it invitir.g bad luck to go outside the house on New Year's Day until someone had entered.

Southerners believe that it invites prosperity when black-eyed peas are included on the New Year's Day menu.

Babson's Outlook In Star Next Week

Roger W. Babson

Roger W. Babson's BUSINESS and FINANCIAL OUTLOOK for 1952 will appear in the Burkburnett Star next week, December 27th.

Mr. Babson, a pioneer in the field of business and financial statistics, enjoys an unusual record of accuracy in his Annual Forecasts. His score for 1951 was 86 per cent accurate.

On December 28, 1950, he predicted: (1) That World War III would not start during 1951; (2) that the Taft-Hartley Law would not be repealed during 1951; (3) that there would be an increase in corporation and personal taxes—including excess profit taxes; (4) that the National Income for 1951 would be the highest in history.

Watch for the Babson Business and Financial Outlook for 1952 in our issue of December 27th.

Donald Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Howard is home this week. Donald is serving aboard the USS Boxer and has just returned from Korea where he has been seeing plenty of action for the past year.

Sydney Gamblin President of Club At Midwestern U.

Sydney Gamblin, student from Burkburnett, is serving as President of the Phi Theta Kappa for the 1951-52 school year.

Clubs at Midwestern are honoraries, service organizations, or groups with a common interest in some major project. They elect officers at the beginning of the year to serve until May.

Mrs. Mamie Long had guests over the week end and Mrs. Sam May, Irvin May and family, Atkins, Arkansas. The Arkansas visitors also visited relatives while here.

Happy Time in Japan Is First Day of Year

One of the happiest days on the Japanese calendar is the first day of the year. No matter how poor a man may be, he always manages to have a set of new clothes to wear when he visits all his friends on New Year's Day.

Celebrations in the land of the rising sun sometimes last as long as two weeks. Even the poorest of the land refrain from work for at least three or four days in order to celebrate.

At midnight on New Year's Eve the bells ring out loud and clear and a carnival atmosphere dominates the country.

To the casual observer, it is just another typical night in Bethlehem, sleepy town of many generations. Excepting, of course, that the population is more than double, for all the descendants of David have come to register as ordered by Herod. For many, there is no room.

And yet, there is more about this night! And there are some whose faith and wisdom give them eyes to see. Near the hour of midnight, a darkened sky suddenly shimmers with a light of ethereal beauty, and angels appear to sing a great psalm:

"Glory in the highest,
And on earth, peace to men of good will."

A new star fires itself to brilliance near the edge of town, bathing in its light the stable where a Galilean carpenter named Joseph has taken refuge with his bride, a queenly young girl named Mary. For them, there had been no room.

The star rests above the humble shelter, sending down golden rays that illuminate the area in a strange, unearthly manner.

In the distance appear a group of Magi, wise men of Persia. They have followed the now resting star and are heavily laden with gifts of gold—presents for a new-born king. Along the roads hear the shouts of the citizens, led by angels, who come to adore.

There in the stable, wrapped in swaddling clothes and laid in a manger, the Christ-child awaits.

It's a wonderful family holiday--one we hope you all will enjoy to the utmost

Christmas Seal Idea Conceived In Denmark

A DANISH postal clerk thought of the idea of attaching stamps to Christmas packages and letters in 1903, and a few years later the scheme was tried in America.

This year millions of Americans will receive a letter from their local chapter of the National Tuberculosis association containing Christmas seals, the seasonal reminder of the never-ending fight to stamp out the disease.

Einar Holboell, at work in a Danish postoffice conceived the idea of attaching decorative stamps to Christmas packages, the sale of which could be conducted by some worthwhile organization.

He mentioned it to his fellow workers and they decided it would be a great help in defraying the cost of fighting tuberculosis. The idea reached King Christian, who approved, and the image of Queen Louise was placed on the first seals in 1904.

Jacob Riis, Danish-born American, heard about the idea and sold it to the American public in 1907 through a magazine article written for Outlook magazine. A Red Cross worker, Miss Emily Bissell, started the first American sales that year.

The practice of holding "open house" has been a Christmas tradition through the years.

The Saxon lords threw open the doors of their great halls to peasant and noble alike during the festive season and all enjoyed great feasting, songs and the exchange of gifts. A tremendous Yule log was dragged upon an open fire pit and festivities lasted until the embers alone remained.

The same custom was followed in the pre-Civil War South. The slaves often soaked a log in the cypress swamps long before Christmas so that it would burn slowly, and extend their Christmas freedom.

"Open House" during the Yuletide season is a true mark of democracy and a realization that he who was born on Christmas day came to save all men.

Cowboy's Party Is Real American Fete

One of the most typical of our American holiday celebrations is the Cowboy's Christmas Ball, which has been held almost every year since 1884 in the small town of Anson, Texas.

The celebration started as a wedding party in the old Star Hotel when ranchers poured in from the widely scattered ranges to honor one Cross P. Charley and his bride. It was such a success that it was repeated year after year.

Christmas Eve brought the spirit of the old West to Anson. Cowboys donned their colorful dress, their gay shirts and decorated boots. Cowgirls outfitted themselves in gingham dresses "like mother wore". A cowboy band swung out and the dancers perform the heel and toe polka, the Varsouvienne, and other old folk dances.

Origin of Symbolic Tree Shrouded in Old Legends

The origin of the Christmas tree symbol is shrouded in legends that reach back to the period of Druid tree worship long before the advent of Christianity. Credit for tree decoration and gift-giving, however, is generally given to Germany, where the customs were started in the 16th or 17th centuries. Over a period of years the practice spread into northern Europe and from there to America.

Outdoor tree decorating is essentially an American trademark and a special feature of community spirit. The best known outside displays in America are on the White House lawn and at the Rockefeller Plaza in New York City.

Burk Wins From Temple, Okla. Opening Game

Burkburnett's new gymnasium was dedicated Friday night, with two basketball games following the dedication. Burkburnett High School met and defeated Temple, Oklahoma, and Sheppard Jets winning over the B Squad from East Texas State Teachers College, Denton.

Approximately 800 to 1,000 people were on hand for the opening games. Although it was the largest crowd ever to witness a basketball game in Burkburnett, there were plenty of vacant seats in the 1500 capacity seating sections.

Those attending the game last Friday night were well pleased with the new gym. Seats on the playing floor level fold away when not in use. Balcony seats offer a perfect view of the floor from every angle.

Truly speaking, the first day of the year has no more significance as a holiday than that which is given to it by the imagination of mankind. It is important only because it marks a turning point—a spot on the calendar where civilization may say, "That period is done for, tomorrow we start anew."

If the passing year has been an unpleasant one, a time of war, plagues or poverty, the New Year becomes all the more important because it lies in a future that may offer blessed relief.

New Year's Day is a day of tomorrow and, for mankind, there are no unpleasant tomorrows.

To the poor, tomorrow offers security; for the sick there is a promise of health; the imprisoned may scale the walls of freedom; the smallest eaglet may learn to fly.

Thus, in essence, New Year's Day becomes one of the most important days in the year—the day of a new start. It is once more the moment that optimism becomes the asset of every human heart.

Days that have been passed with hours at once depart the world for the sketchy pages of history, and all men know that the world was—and shall be—according to the inhabitants. Mankind starts afresh, brimming with new hopes, ambitions and dreams, holding but one reservation:

If the new year fails to live up to expectation, there will be no regrets or contempt. It leads eternally to another year and another chance.

Smaller Towns Began Lighting Outdoor Trees

Although the White House and Rockefeller Center outdoor tree decorations have become famous in recent years, the practice of lighting outdoor trees began in smaller towns and cities long before these two displays became an annual affair.

Four widely separated communities lighted up as early as 1913. Two of them, McDonald and Germantown, were in Pennsylvania.

Salem, Ore., decorated a large Sitka spruce. Riverside, Calif., illuminated a large evergreen, an Aracuria.

The first National Christmas tree was in 1924 and was sponsored by the American Forestry association. For the past two years the lighting of the White House has been televised.

SANTA'S Little Helper

Santa's little helper came down to us from Scandanavia.

Many years before Leif Eriksen touched American shores, the children of the North believed that a little elf with long white whiskers—Jul Tomten—saw that the earth was abundant with good food and that the animals and birds were taken care of.

After the pagan Vikings were Christianized, little Jul became the giver of presents—just as Santa today. It became a custom for children to leave a bowl of porridge on the kitchen table for the little elf, who would leave presents in exchange.

Travelers picked up the legend of Jul Tomten and carried it around the world. To us, he is the busy, jolly, good little elf who works happily in Santa's workshop.

'Silent Night' Is Most Beloved Carol

Of all the songs that return to bring warmth to the Yuletide season, no carol is so universally known as "Silent Night." Certainly no other is as loved and sung as this simple German song.

For years its origin was unknown, except that it supposedly dated back for many centuries. Recent investigations, however, disclosed that it was produced in 1818. The poem was originally written by Joseph Mohr, an assistant priest in Oberndorf in South Germany. The melody was composed by a schoolmaster, Franz Gruber.

Both the poet and the composer were part of the choir that sang the now famous carol that Christmas Eve in the Oberndorf church. The beloved song was sung first to the accompaniment of a guitar, for the church organ was out of order that Eve in 1818.

It has since been sung to the tune of almost every musical instrument in the world, in the languages of many men.

Plum Pudding Came Far Since Ancient Origin

Plum pudding—the ancient English delicacy traditionally served with Christmas feasts—has come a long way since it entered the culinary lists hundreds of years ago as Yule-dough.

Yule-dough was composed of chopped meat paste, spices, to symbolize the gifts of the Magi, and flour, regarded as embodying the spirit immanent in the wheat.

Mrs. Bill Reasoner Complimented With Party December 15

The Mary Martha classroom of the First Baptist Church on December 15th was a scene of a lovely shower complimenting Mrs. Bill Reasoner, the former Miss Hellen Palmer.

The refreshment table was covered with a white cutwork cloth centered with a green and white flower arrangement, carrying out the chosen colors of the bride. A Nautical theme was carried out in the other room decorations.

Mrs. Tommy Warren was seated at the bride's book. Misses Sue Douglas and Judy Willingham served at the refreshment table. Guests, as they arrived, were greeted by Misses Beverly Wyant and Audre Hubbard. Miss Pat Morgan was at the piano.

A quartet composed of Misses Audre Hubbard, Nathalie Foster, Sue Douglas and Judy Willingham presented a clever skit in which they dedicated "That Old Gang of Mine," "Bell Bottom Trousers", and "Because of You" to Mrs. Reasoner. Sue Douglas then gave an original reading and presented the honoree with an array of lovely gifts.

Hostesses for the affair were: Mesdames L. V. Richards, Ray Hatcher, Tommy Warren, Bill Crosley, Jo Brookman, D. F. Douglas, Jude Willingham Louis Cashwheeler, Ava Buck, Carl Morrison, Virgil Klinkerman, Fred Fewin, I. C. Evans, Sid Gamblin, Smith, Joe Bob Tyler, B. D. Boyd, Misses Virginia Allen, Sue Douglas, Beverly Wyant, Audre Hubbard, Kay Morrison, Pat Lundberg, Katherine Beckham, Peggy Rinefeldt, Betty Lou Poole, and Judy Willingham.

Nations' Customs Widely Varied On Christmas Day

In nearly all of the civilized world December 25 is a red letter day. Peoples of all nationalities and religions celebrate the birth of Christ. The customs of the many nations are as varied as the peoples and their faiths are different.

In the Scandinavian countries, a Christmas tree made of a sheaf of wheat bound to a pole, is raised for the winter birds. In Norway, rice pudding is always an important item on the menu for the Christmas dinner. One almond is baked in the pudding and the person who finds the almond in his portion is always the first to get married.

Chinese children make odd stockings by sewing three pieces of muslin together, and hang them up on Christmas Eve to hold the gifts brought by Lan Khoong-Khoong, which means "Nice Old Father" to them, Santa Claus to us.

The "old-fashioned" American Christmas, while reflecting the traditions of many countries, most closely resembles the traditional English Christmas, complete with plum pudding, mistletoe, carolers.

Santa Claus, Indiana, Received Famous Name Christmas Eve, 1882

Although many towns have names directly or indirectly associated with Christmas, there is but one town named Santa Claus, in Indiana.

Except for a lucky break, the town would have had another name and hence would not have enjoyed the annual fame that it gathers around the Yuletide season.

The original intention to name the town Santa Fe fell through when the officials at Washington suggested that the town be named something else, since there was already a Santa Fe in New Mexico.

On Christmas Eve, in 1882, the citizens held a mass meeting to select another name, but every one proposed was discarded for one reason or another. The meeting was about to break up when Santa Claus, making his yearly visits in the neighborhood, strode in to get warm. He was in costume and his arrival put one name in every mind.

And so the town was named Santa Claus.

Christmas Carols Herald Yuletide Immemorially

For centuries Christmas Carols have heralded the Yuletide season around the Christian world. Many of them, slightly altered by changing times and customs, have been handed down from one generation to another.

A great number probably were lost because they were popular in generations not adequately covered by a written history.

Christmas Carols are of two main types—religious and convivial. The religious offer praise to the newborn and celebrate the birth of Christ. The convivial exalt mirth and the traditional feasting.

The latter is almost an invention of our modern civilization, and few "popular" Yuletide songs manage to return year after year. "Jingle Bells" is one notable exception.

"Silent Night," "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear", and "O Come All Ye Faithful" seem destined to last forever.

ADORATION OF THE SHEPHERDS . . . This striking sculptural work was done by Andrea del Verrocchio (1435-1488) of Florence, Italy, and is in the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D. C.

55,000 Draftees for February

The Defense Department has called upon the Selective Service system to provide 55,000 draftees for the month of February. Of these, 41,000 will go to the army and 14,000 to the Marine Corps. This will bring the total of draftees since July 10, 1950 to 849,330.

Meantime, the Pentagon planners are up to their armpits in memoranda, rulings, interpretations, calculations, notes written on cuffs, tablecloths and old press releases, slide-rules and adding (and subtracting) machines in their highly involved efforts to observe Congressional legislation; to try, rather belatedly, to be fair to the thousands of men involved; and to retain the needed fighting forces. Congrecs has ruled that veterans, recalled without their consent from the Volunteer or Inactive reserves, shall be required to serve only for limited periods; officers not more than 17 months, enlisted men 16. Under still another act, the remaining involuntary reservists are limited to 24 months service. Those who volunteered come under still another set of rules.

All this would appear to us as a perfect example of what-it-takes to try to un-do a mistake. And while we appreciate that the brass is trying to do even better by the men than the regulations require, and that few of those who must struggle with the unraveling process had anything to do with original causes, we hope the mistakes will be noted well . . . for avoidance in the future.

May we never pull the veterans of one war away from their newly-founded firesides to fight another . . . until after we have called upon those who have not yet traversed the "valley-of-the-shadow."

GETTING THERE "FUSTEST"

British and American ordnance experts have been arguing for some time over whether to standardize on the new British .28 calibre rifle, or an improved model of the U. S. Garand semi-automatic. The problem is finally settled in favor of the Garand M-1, for which the International Harvester Company has secured a "multi-million dollar order."

The decision was made right after it was revealed that only 20 of the British rifles had yet been produced and that there could be no mass production before 1954, and only 100,000 that year. No doubt "There Will Always Be An England" . . . if we provide the arms.

"All Men Equal" . . . Except Indians

The skeleton in our national closet is rattling his bones. Recently Secretary of the Interior Chapman held a pow-pow with the tribal council of more than 60,000 Navajo Indians at Window Rock, N. M. in an effort to find out why our largest (and poorest) reservation has become what is described as an "out-door slum."

As the nation that has been loudest in it's demands for racial equality and the brotherhood of man, this should be somewhat embarrassing. Just why we should consider the descendants of the only true Americans as inferior to us interlopers has never been quite clear to this writer. Why we teach, feed house and medicate them out of tax money; set them apart so they can't be assimilated; deprive them of the liberties the rest of us talk so much about must be quite mysterious to some of the people we criticize . . . . such as Joe Stalin.

Finger Nail Biters Are Nervous

The doctors consider nail gnawing as a nervous habit due to fear or anxiety. The child who chews nails while listening to the radio or watching a movie is probably getting too much blood and thunder in his entertainment diet and a little milder form of amusement, preferably one that brings the hands into use, may do away with the chewing.

Anxiety about school often leads to nailchewing in the first grade, which may last up until about the sixth grade if the child doesn't feel at home at school before then. If a child doesn't bit his nails before he's 12 years old, he's not likely to ever pick it up; but those who start the habit as youngsters may return to it in later life even though they have broken the habit once.

Sometimes the nails are evidence of other ailments besides nervousness. When your doctor looks at your fingernails he may find a signal of a number of different diseases or potential diseases elsewhere in your body. A short time ago the medical profession was stumped over an "epidemic" of fingernails that turned dark in spots and hurt pretty bad before separating from the quick. They investigated to see if it were caused by a fungus like ringworm which often has similar symptoms or a number of other diseases that cause the separation of nails from the bed. Finally they traced the "epidemic" to a kind of undercoat to nail polish; it seems many ladies were allergic to the undercoat and that caused the reaction.

Psoriasis and eczemt any place on the body may show up in a yellowish, pitted nail that sticks out from the quick. Any kind of pitted or ridged nails or brittleness of the ends of the nails may be just a local fingernail problem or a sign to your doctor that something is wrong someplace else in your system.

Hands and fingernails tell a medical story to your doctor and perform vital functions for you. Of all the wonders about the hands, however, the one which has entertained scholars the most from ancient to modern times is the fingerprint. From cradle to the grave you may change in many ways but the one thing about you that never changes is the swirl on each of your fingers. The pattern may get dimmer or more pronounced, it may be cut off or burned off with acids, but the pattern can still be seen and does not change.

Winter Hand Care Very Important

Making fruit cakes and Christmas goodies, wrapping packages, opening a wedge through shopping crowds, and shaking hands with friends and relatives in holiday goodwill all bring those hands of yours into constant motion at this busiest time of the year. So much activity of the hands, in fact, might make you wish you had a couple of extra ones.

Those hands you have are mighty wonderful things, however. The hands, the erect posture and the reasoning brain are the three things that make the difference between man and beast. And the brain devotes the largest part of its area concerned with motion to the function of the hands, the most exposed part of the body and the most highly developed for motion. Hands are the eyes of the blind and the ear and voice of the deaf mute.

Since the hands must be so flexible to perform all the many functions demanded of them, they have very little fat to offer them protection. This makes them so susceptible to infections, wounds and deformities that even the most trivial injuries to the hands should receive immediate medical attention. Thorough cleansing and bandaging of slight cuts or scrapes will go far toward preventing infections and any more serious injury to the hands may require professional medical advice in order to keep the healing from interfering with the efficient mechanism of those organs.

One of the first winter cares of the hands is to keep the natural oils that serve as lubricants from drying out; outdoor cold and indoor heat have a tendency to rob the hands of those natural oils, making them rough and red which not only robs them of their beauty but also of their peak of efficiency. A bland hand cream or softener will usually overcome these difficulties.

Fingernail biting is not confined to winter or to small children. It is not a pretty habit, however, either from the looks of the biter or the looks of the hands. And if the hands are busy enough, the nails can not be chewed upon.

Chinese Thought Debts Had to Be Paid Up By End of Old Year

The Chinese long held a New Year's tradition worthy of note. No doubt made popular by early moneylenders, there was an old belief that if one did not pay all debts before midnight on New Year's Day, he lost "face."

For centuries China celebrated New Year's during the time of the first moon, usually about the first of the February—but this was before adoption of the Gregorian calendar in 1912.

In earlier times, celebration began a week prior to the Eve, when homage was paid to the Kitchen God and climaxed on the "fifteenth day of the First Moon" by the Feast of Lanterns, or "Teng Chieh." It was a custom to exchange greeting cards and presents through the entire season.

Most any business man can handle a big deal, but it takes an executive to dispose of the little deals.

T - B Contest Winners Listed

At the conclusion of the contest sponsored by the Tuberculosis Association in the grade school held recently, Mrs. Gene McCabe, Mrs. Owen Kelly and Mrs. Dan Sheriff judged the entries at the school Tuesday afternoon and selected the following winners: Mrs. Evans' room, 1-4, placed first; Miss Jewell Reed's room, 3-4, won 2nd; Mrs. C. W. Vann's room, 3-1, placed third; and Miss Ruth Maney's room, 3-2, won 4th.

At the beginning of the contest, a gallon can was placed in each room. In the cans were placed a small limb, stick, etc., to be used as the base for a tree. As the children purchased a T-B seal, they were privileged to place one decorative item on the tree, these being entirely original.

Judges found the trees extremely difficult to judge as they were all very attractive, showing much originality and participation.

'Jour de L'An' Is A Great Occasion

The exchanging of gifts and general family reunions are important to the French-Canadian celebration of "Jour de L'An"—New Year's Day.

The conclusion of Christmas day is the signal for a frenzied period of cooking and baking and making ready for an overflow of relatives and visitors that marks the celebration of the first day of the year. In most Canadian cities, midnight Mass is celebrated just as it is at Christmas time.

The "Patriarch," or father, is an important man on New Year's Day. As each member of a French-Canadian family arises on the first day of each new year, he speaks not a word to anyone until he has been to the father of the house to ask for his blessing. Indivdually, all members of the house come on bended knee to ask, "Father, give me your blessing," and the father extends a hand and says, "May God bless you, my child; I bless you with all my heart."

Just as at Christmas, everyone in the family goes to church, after which the family reunion gets underway. Married sons and daughters begin to arrive, and they, too, go first to the head of the house for his blessing.

The dinner for the day is almost a feast. The menu usually consists of soup, turkey, meat balls, tarts, rolls. creams, nuts and fruits.

After-dinner hours are spent in conversation among the older family members, while the children play.

Sometime during the first month of the year, all the married members of the family take a turn at inviting the family over for a "fricot," or get-together, the idea being that it will start a custom which will continue the course of the year.

January 1 Date Fairly Modern

The custom of welcoming in the New Year on January 1 is a relatively modern one. Down through history the holiday was a movable one, many people and nations celebrating at different times of the year.

The vernal equinox, March 22, was celebrated as the start of the new year by the Jews. The Greeks celebrated on December 21, the time of the winter solstice. The autumnal equinox, September 22, marked the beginning of a new year for ancient Egypt.

It was not until the coming of the Gregorian calendar, instituted by Pope Gregory in 1582, that the groundwork was laid for a universal celebration. The continent of Europe, having celebrated New Year's on March 25 since medieval times, was the first to adopt the calendar popularly.

Yet it was not a complete adoption. Great Britain provided the weight that finally tipped the scales in favor of Gregory's calendar in 1752, when the British parliament officially established New Year's day as January 1.

Bible Foretold Future On New Year for Scots

The early Scots believed that it was possible to foretell the events of a coming year by turning to the Bible on New Year's Day.

It was long a custom to place the sacred book upon a table and open it at random, placing one finger on the printed page. The entire chapter then was read carefully, with the belief that the message it carried described in some way the happiness or misery in store for the person adhering to the practice.

YOUTH WILL BE SERVED . . . And this one apparently is calling for service right away, which, after all, is in keeping with the spirit of the season. In other words, do right by the New Year and it will do right by you.

Kay Charboneau Honored On Her Seventh Birthday

On Friday the 14th, 315 East Fourt Street was a scene of birthday, Christmas and hilarity when Little Miss Marilyn Kay Charboneau was honored with a surprise birthday party at her home.

Red and green were the colors used in decorations of crepe paper, poinsettias, Christmas bells, center pieces and refreshments. On the largest was Santa and his reindeer with a large snow ball which held seven red candles which were duly blown out by Miss Kay with the moral support of Chuck Duke.

A lovely assortment of gifts was opened and a jolly time had by all, which included:

Chuck Duke, Allen Neal, Linda Lilley, Janelle Hinkle, Jeanne Saunders, Joyce Frields, Pam Duke, Martha McIlheran, Mary Helen Durham, Jan Northcott, Rheba Frields, Sandy Woods, Ray Allen Charboneau, Miss Lillie Roark, and the honoree, Marilyn Kay.

Those sending gifts but unable to attend were: Mrs. Butelr and Blanche, Mrs. Esta Fae Saunders, Miss Sadie is and Sonny Bentley

We hope the season fulfills all your wishes

I would like to report that in the last three months the Light Plant has shown a total profit of $12,599.43. During this time enough copper wire has been bought and paid for to completely rebuild the downtown electrical system when labor is available to start work. Also all necessary parts for overhaul of the Cooper-Bessemer engine at the plant have been bought and paid for.

In order to set up the Federal Social Security System for the City Employees it was necessary to transfer the following amounts from each fund to the new Social Security Fund:

Water Works Fund	$525.00
Light and Power Fund	575.00
General Fund	474.00
Sewer and Sanitary Fund	124.00

These amounts are not listed as expense in the financial report as this will be a trust fund only to guarantee our quarterly payments to the State Welfare Fund. Starting January 1, 1952 all City Employees will be covered by Social Security.
