United Fund Records Pep In Past—PEP This Year

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

United Funds are local organizations that raise money to support voluntary health and welfare agencies. They combine the fund-raising activities of several independent groups into a single campaign.

United Community Funds and Councils of America is the national organization for United Funds. It was established in 1918 with its headquarters at 345 E. 46th St., New York City.

Whereupon, United Fund originated in Hereford during 1957.

On Sept. 8, 1957, the local organization's first story appeared in the Hereford Brand:

Goal for Deaf Smith County's first United Fund Drive: $21,275.

That is the figure set by the Fund's admissions and budget committee for the first fund drive.

Ben Childers of Carl McCaslin Lumber Co., president of the United Fund at the time, commended the committee on its work and said he could see no reason why the recommendations for the nine agencies would not be approved by the board.

On Nov. 17, 1957 ,the Brand's story read:

Deaf Smith County's first United Fund Drive went over the top Saturday morning with a total of $21,795.

Campaign chairman Woodrow B. Wilson of the Federal Land Bank Association of Hereford said workers will continue to accept funds and the extra money will be used as a source for emergency monies.

The United Fund was organized in April of 1957 and the actual drive for contributions began on Oct. 28. It took twenty days to reach the goal.

Therefore, the first United Fund Drive in Hereford was a success. They have continued each year — others have been successful, some have dropped beneath the stipulated goal.

Goal for Deaf Smith County's thirteenth United Fund Drive is $38,000.

This year's president, Calvin Goodin of Hereford Butane, originally began his tenure as first vice president. In mid-July, president Johnny Clark Jr. offered his resignation due to leaving the city for a position as school superintendent at Baytown and Goodin automatically became president. His first official duty was the appointment of a committee to locate a drive chairman.

On Aug. 1, Clete Corlis, manager of the J. C. Penney Co. store in Sugarland Mall, was officially appointed drive chairman.

One week later, Corlis announced that Ray Moore had been named his co-chairman and that the official kickoff of the 1969 campaign had been moved up to mid-September ,which would be conducted "through a strong community involvement basis."

Campaign majors were also named: Ray Todd, schools; Lynton Allred, commercial A; Charlie Bell, commercial B; Lester Rape, county, federal and state employees; Jonny Cloud, utilities, banks and attorneys; Hilrey Aven, industrial; Melvin Jayroe, advance; and Moore as coordinator of local civic clubs.

Hereford United Fund now has eleven member agencies who are dependent upon it for fund donations. These member agencies have been detailed in full through stories which were begun in the Brand as a series on Aug. 3. The series indicated their importance to the county — as well as the country —

Burglary Try Is Halted By Police

Ignacio Inez Padilla, 21, was arraigned Friday morning by Justice of the Peace Ernest Wade and bond was set at $10,000 on charges of burglary.

Padilla, who has a local address, was apprehended by police officers Oscar Martinez and Gary Gillespie early Friday morning at Oglesby Implement when they received a report that the burglar alarm had sounded at the building located on South Highway 385.

When officers arrived at the building, they blocked all routes of escape and entered the building, where they discovered Padilla who was attempting to get out of the building. Officers quickly apprehended Padilla and he was taken to the city jail.

Entry to the building was gained by breaking out the glass portion of a door on the north side of the building. Padilla had attempted to gain entry through a door on the east side of the building, but was unable to do so.

This was the second burglar arrest made by Gillespie and Martinez within the past week In the early hours on Aug. 22, they arrested two men who had burglarized Pitman Grain-taking an estimated $2,700 worth of office equipment.

Commission Will Meet On Holiday

Other than the city commissioners and a small number of local businesses, all of Hereford's working people, as well as people throughout the nation, will close shop Monday in observance of Labor Day.

City commissioners, due to business that needs immediate attention, will meet at 7:30 Monday night at the City Hall. Several cafes, in addition to theaters and law enforcement agencies, will also remain open for the holiday.

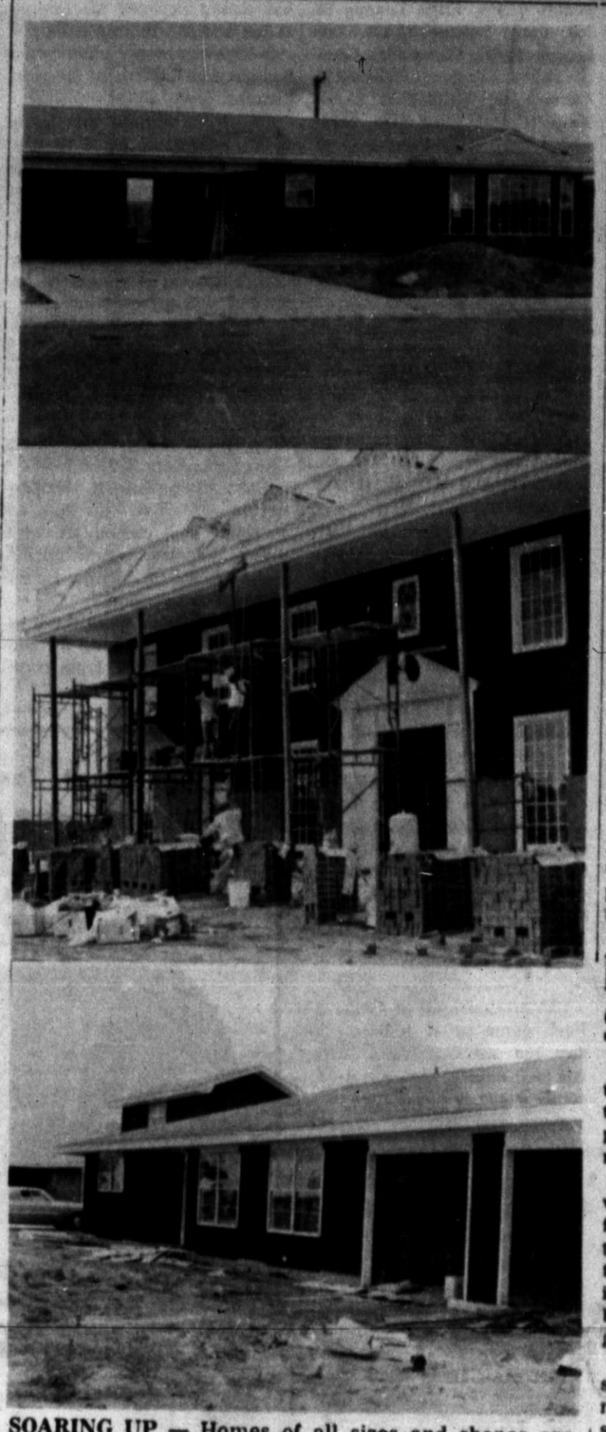

The Hereford Brand will also close its doors Monday in observance of the 75-year-old national holiday.

Ice Cream Fete Planned Tuesday

The Whiteface Booster Club's annual ice cream supper will be held Tuesday night, beginning at 7:30 at the high school football field.

Each year, an ice cream supper is held in honor of the high school football players with their parents attending the Booster Club-sponsored event.

Introductions of each player will begin the supper with coaches to be introduced also. Ice cream, to be furnished by Booster Club members, will then be served.

SOARING UP — Homes of all sizes and shapes are springing up throughout the city as Hereford continues to grow. Building permits for the month of August totaled somewhat below normal, but the eight month total for this year has already exceeded $2.5 million. —Staff Photo

Hartman Explains Tax Index Cut

The State Board of Education has approved lower economic index formulas for 72 Texas counties including Deaf Smith where cattle and other animal feed lots inflate the tax base, according to information received here this week. The new calculation authorized by the Legislature has cut $16,272 from the Hereford Independent School District's local fund assignment that will not have to be raised locally.

Superintendent Roy Hartman reported that this amount will not have any effect on what the schools here are doing at the present time. "I see no way of it lowering our tax rate, but it will certainly help in the operation costs."

Hartman said it would make the local fund assignment a lesser amount and would represent a total of $375,299, which will come out of the school foundation fund.

"I suppose this is set-up for the coming school year," he said. "This is good because we are going to have to buy many new materials in the high school and other areas this year. This will put us in better financial condition. We should have no budget deficit."

Hartman pointed out that such budget matters including this sort of thing had been discussed in August by the school board of trustees during the reading of the budget.

Budget reading at that time indicated that the 1969-70 semester would not show a deficit.

Hartman said the calculation of the economic index comes under House Bill 23, which points out "the net increase in value in a feedlot is arrived at by using the latest three years' average of the Federal Reserve Bank's interest rate as of Jan. 1 each year, to which is added one and one-half percentage points. This total interest rate percentage figure then multiplied by the average sale value of caftle and other animals from the feedlot, will result in the net increase in value while in the feedlot, and is the figure that shall be used in carrying out the purposes of this act."

There are reportedly 350,000 cattle at the present time in a 50-mile radius of Hereford.

HB 23 continues: "The fact that calculating the value of cattle or other animal sales from feedlots at the net increase in value while in the feedlot rather than gross value, will reflect more accurately an economic index of the financial ability of each county to support the Foundation School Program . . ."

Hill County in Central Texas received the greatest reduction in the amount of school taxes that must be raised locally, with a cut of $27,120. The El Paso County local fund assignment was trimmed in the amount of $19,666.

At Local NFO Meet

Kimball Discusses 1968 Milo Holdback

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

Texas NFO president Don Kimball substituted for national NFO vice president Erhard Pfingsten at the Deaf Smith County meeting in the Bull Barn Thursday night, and centered his discussion mainly on what is to become of the 60 per cent of 1968's milo crop which is still in storage.

The 124 people who registered at the door also heard an impromptu speech by Bedford Forrest, KFDA-TV's farm director who grew up in Hereford, and Hereford State Bank president Harlan Vander Zee offer remarks on the current "tight money" situation as a parallel to the possibility of a "soil bank" land retirement plan.

After a 35-minute delay, Deaf Smith County NFO president Gerald McCathern began the program with the explanation that Kimball and Pfingsten had missed connections in Lubbock, where Pfingsten had arrived for NFO chartering ceremonies in that county on Friday.

Pfingsten is to be invited here for a speaking engagement later, it was announced.

McCathern also reported that the price of milo was $1.55 per 100-weight when NFO was chartered here last year, but it is now $2.15 on the North Plains, although only $2.05 in the South Plains. "As predicted when the $3-million contract was ratified last month with West Friona Grain, " he said, "our price would be met and even surpassed."

McCathern reported they were currently "moving a little grain on contract." He said the grain committee is now working in this line with members who were not under the "big" contract. "We are getting calls from feeders every day, and have made tremendous strides and advances. It looks like we will sell our grain this year at our price."

Kimball reviewed the 1968 milo crop ."We called a meeting two months ago in Amarillo to survey the grain — mostly on resale — that is in the Texas Panhandle. Austin had miscalculated this area by 25-million bushels!"

But Kimball said, "We also had more grain in demand than ever. At this point, the Panhandle controlled 40 per cent. However, if we dumped it, it would drop the market 15 cents.

"We constantly talk about how much it will take to short the market. It will not take 100 per cent of the farmers. It takes only a few to short the market. But the last thing NFO wants to do is to cost the farmer money. Therefore, if it had been possible, we would have sold it all. But by holding what you have, it has shortened the market. The biggest grain company in the area has made that statement."

"We are going to try to move the 1968 crop at the beginning of the 1969 crop — as quickly as possible. That represents 13-billion pounds of milo. You have affected that at the tune of $30-million."

He stated he was amazed at a few of the farmers in the area who had asked that their contract be returned.

"The worst mistake NFO has made in the past: When you try to bargain before you are strong enough, you are wrong. It has been better in this area. But look how far we've got to go." Kimball spoke strongly for organization and said it represented the only strength.

"If you want to see things quiet around Hereford," he pointed out, "let the farmers leave here. That's one reason why we must keep our prices up,"

Kimball concluded by predicting the possibility that the price of milo will rise to $2.50 by next July — "if we fight."

McCathern reported that, along with Lubbock County, Bailey, Carson and Ochiltree counties have been chartered by the NFO since the last meeting here.

QUESTION SESSION

During a lengthy forum session, which extended the meeting over two hours, a number of questions were put before the speakers from the audience, which included NFO representatives from Swisher, Castro and Parmer counties.

Forrest, who was present with Bob Huddleston of Channel 10, made a statement which was regarded as a surprise to a number of the members. He admitted that upon NFO's announced plans more than a year ago to seek organization in the Panhandle, he and other farm reporters in the area news media-which he did not name — were leery of the plan and felt that 'it might mean killings and other disruptions between the farmers and the elevators. Therefore, we silently agreed among ourselves not to back the plan."

But he returned to Deaf Smith County when the NFO was chartered and visited their offices.

"I grew up in Deaf Smith County — and stayed here until you ran me off —so I personally knew most of the local people who had become NFO members. I knew they were not the kind of people who would engage in that sort of thing. And I asked a few questions here. I found that these people were only trying to show a reasonable profit for their work and they

Permits Exceed $2 Million Mark

Building permits for the month of August lagged slightly as they reached only $195,750 for 17 permits issued, second lowest monthly total for the year.

Of the 17 permits issued, six were for erecting a residence, five for moving in residences, two for moving in mobile homes two for moving in storage buildings, one for erecting a storage building and one for erecting a garage.

The largest single permit issued for the month was for erecting a $35,000 residence, and several others were for erecting homes in the $25,000 bracket.

For the 137 permits issued this year, the total for the first eight months has exceeded the $2 million mark, totaling $2,697,150. A breakdown of this year shows January had a total of $281,000 for 16 permits; February, $215,700 for 20 permits; March, $144,100 for 11 permits; April, $1,006,000 for 21 permits; May $204,500 for 18 permits; June, $348,100 for 25 permits and July $32,000 for nine permits.

The total for permits issued for the 1968 calendar year was $3,336,970.

National Farm Bureau Prexy To Speak Here

Charles D. Shuman, president of the National Farm Bureau, has accepted an invitation to speak in Hereford on Sept. 18, according to a report issued Friday by the local Farm Bureau office.

Arrangements are still pending on a location for the speaker's appearance at this time.

Shuman, who farms in Illinois and has his headquarters in Chicago, has never spoken here previously, Farm Bureau officials reported.

The engagement will include all interested people in the area, along with Farm Bureau's membership.

Don Moore was musical director at Hereford High School for several years and Mrs. Moore was a teacher at Aikman Elementary. They now live at Clovis.

Ted's sophomore year in high school was spent at the Hotchkins School in Lakeville, Conn. and during the summer of his junior year he was an American Field Service student in France. He graduated as valedictorian from HHS in 1957 and Harvard University in 1961. He was on the staff at Harvard at the time of his death.

He married Miss Joan Thatcher Bamburger on June 5, 1969.

were doing it through organization."

Forrest reported he now supports the NFO.

Consequently, the question of the possibility of future crop loans being covered for farmers through reserve institutions was brought up and Vander Zee was asked to offer his opinion.

Vander Zee, who explained that he had farmed during "hard times" in Swisher County, said he "has an understanding of the farmer's problems" but could offer no answer to future crop loans.

He stated that the "tight money situation as it now exists" is not the fault of the banks. "The banks cannot make money unless the farmer makes money too."

Vander Zee added that it will be an unfortunate situation should the tight money situation and the soil bank problem arrive at the same time.

But he substantiated a statement made earlier by McCathern:

"I agree that you should continue concentration on your own business affairs and not enter into any kind of a fight with the other farm organizations. All of you are going to have to work hard to solve these problems without any inner battles. This county hasn't had such a problem — the three organizations chose one man to speak for them during the recent agriculture committee tour. I believe you will benefit if matters continue this way."

In answer to another question, Kimball stated that NFO does have lobbyists in both Washington D. C. and Austin.

WHISTLES 'ARCHAIC'

LONDON — Police in Devon and Cornwall counties are handing in their whistes — 2,000 of them. A spokesman said whistles are "an archaic means of calling for help" rarely used by men on the beat who now carry two-way radios.

The original cost of Central Park came to $7 million. Today the assessed value exceeds $500 million; the actual real estate value is astronomical.

Streu Counteracts IPHA Letter, Dues

Oliver Streu, president of the Deaf Smith County Highway Development Association, has reported a misunderstanding has arisen between his organization and the International Parks Highway Association and has issued a statement for clarification:

"We were advised that many of you who have joined the Deaf Smith County Highway Development Association this year received a letter from T. C. Tubb, president of the International Parks Highway Association, enclosing a statement for dues to that organization.

"The statements in Tubb's letter are essentially — but not quite — true.

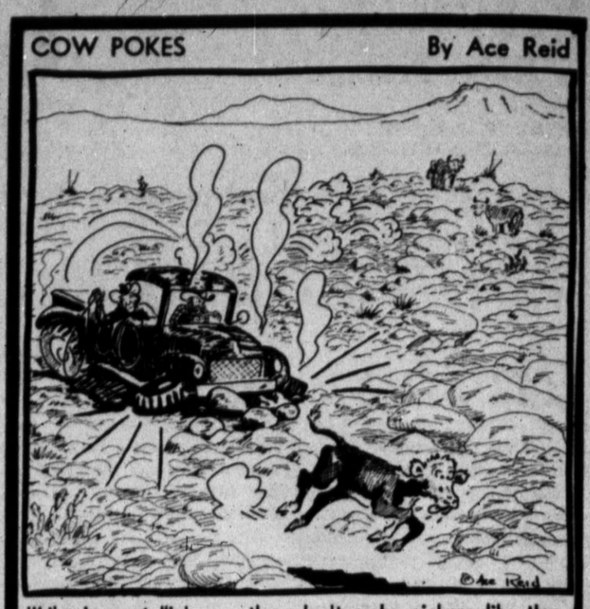

"First, the Chamber of Commerce (with whom the local organization is affiliated) has never paid dues to the International Parks Highway Association. Dues have beeen paid by the Highway Development Association to which its members subscribed. Dues have been paid in the amount of $300 to the National US Highway 6 Association.

"The board of the local highway association voted no confidence in the leadership or program of the International Parks Highway Association and instead invested the dues income of its members in the Land of Coronado area promotion and in a series of spot advertisements on Radio KPAN inviting tourists to visit our museum, take the farm and ranch tour, and to spend the night in Hereford.

"All of these programs have had a direct and tangible effect on the tourist business.

"Only $10 was sent to the International Parks Highway Association and that in the name of Guy Lawrence, personally — because he is a vice-president of the organization, and to retain that office he needed to be shown as a member."

Streu concluded, "We recommend that members disregard the letter and statement from Tubb."

"Like I wuz tellin' you, they don't make pickups like they used to."

HPRF Announces Field Day Plan

PLAINVIEW — Hundreds of West Texas area farmers are expected to be on hand Sept. 11 for the 13th Annual Field Day at the High Plains Research Foundation.

With the addition of agricultural chemicals and seed distributor exhibits to the regular features, the Field Day is expected to be one of the most successful since the Foundation began in 1956.

The chemicals and seed displays will be exhibited in a tent on the lawn south of the Moody Building near area where field tours will begin.

The chemical and seed displays will become a part of the farm machinery exhibits which has proven to be one of the most successful features of Field Day activities. It is estimated that the farm machinery exhibits will number some 50 to 60 different exhibitors. Noting its popularity, Longnecker Foundation director, said the farm machinery exhibit grows every year.

Field Day activities begin with research plot field tours at 1:30 p. m. These tours will continue until 4:30 p. m. Foundation facilities will be open for inspection during the afternoon.

The evening program will begin at 5 p.m. Guest speaker will be Congressman Bob Price, U. S. Representative, 18th Congressional District.

Door prizes will be given away during the program.

A highlight of the program will be drawing for a free Hawaiian Vacation for two and $500 in expense money. The vacation has been donated by Hale County State Bank, Plainview Coop Compress and City National Bank.

Area residents are invited to attend the activities and view the latest research underway at the Foundation. Special areas of research includes new programs in minimum tillage, castor volunteer control and the swine feeding economics study.

The Board of Trustees will conduct a regular business meeting the morning of Field Day.

Farm Bureau Tour Ireland

WACO — Texas Farm Bureau's 1969 Market-Builder Tour will depart Sept. 7 from Dallas by jet airliner for 15 days in Ireland, Scotland, and Scandinavia. The 65 tour members include farmers, ranchers, agribusinessmen and their wives.

The fifth annual tour sponsored by the TFB will include visits to farms and marketing facilities as well as regular sightseeing trips.

This year's tour is headed by up TFB President Sidney Dean of Victoria. Also representing the farm organization are State Directors J. M. Price of Corpus Christi and Ed L. Woodfin of Fresno.

First stop on the itinerary is Ireland where the group will inspect farms and visit places like the fabled Blarney Castle. In Scotland, a tour highlight includes a motor trip through the beautiful lake country immortalized by Sir Walter Scott.

The sojourn in Norway includes sightseeing in the ruggedly beautiful fjord region as well as the capital of Oslo. In Sweden, the Texans will visit farms and see the famous sights around Stockholm. The final stop on the tour is Denmark where a tour "extra" will be visiting in Danish homes.

Briefings by U. S. Embassy staffs are scheduled in all countries to be visited except Scotland. This will include a discussion of market potential for Texas-grown crops as well as trade barriers.

The first three Market-Builder tours sponsored by the Texas Farm Bureau visited England and Western Europe. The tour last fall circled the globe, calling on nine countries.

Hardin Set For Listening Confab

COLLEGE STATION — Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin will hold the fifth in a series of "listening conferences" on Sept. 18 at Texas A&M University. The conference will be held in G. Rollie White Coliseum on the A&M campus, beginning at 9:30 a. m.

Farmers and farm industry leaders from five Southwestern States, and including representatives from Deaf Smith County, will attend and through their spokesmen will tell the Secretary what's on their minds.

Cooperating in the arrangements for the conference are the vice presidents and deans of agriculture in the Land Grant Universities of the five states.

Dr. H. O. Kunkel, dean, College of Agriculture, Texas A&M will preside at the conference.

The conferences are designed to give every person who attends an opportunity, either through oral presentations or written briefs, to present his ideas on an expected wide range of topics.

These are expected to include opportunities for maintaining and increasing farm income; opportunities in rural America; rural-urban balance; proper nutrition and diets; development of natural resources and conservation and related subjects.

Secretary Hardin said several members of the Agriculture Committee of the House of Representatives, including Chairman W. R. Poage of Waco, will attend at least a part of the conference. Senior members of the Secretary's staff will accompany him on the visit to Texas.

Scheduled speakers, representing virtually every major farm organization and agricultural commodity in the Southwest, will have an opportunity to make oral statements. Speakers are requested to bring at least 75 copies of their remarks to the conference. The program also allows time during the morning and afternoon sessions for unscheduled speakers, provided they register. Any person who does not have an opportunity to speak due to the lack of time may file a written statement with the Secretary.

Dr. Kunkel said speakers should register in the Lettermen's Lounge in the Coliseum beginning at 8:30 a. m. The conference will adjourn at 4:30 p. m. Kunkel said.

Football Hopes Are Ignited As WT Two-a-days Begin

CANYON, Tex. — West Texas State University's Buffaloes, hoping to continue the tremendous success they have enjoyed for the past three seasons, report to the campus this weekend and start two-a-day football drills Monday.

The Buffs, under head coach Joe Kerbel, have won 23 games and lost eight during the past three years and that mark is 13th best nationally among NCAA major universities.

The players will parade in front of cameras Saturday afternoon at Buffalo Bowl during the annual press day. Coach Kerbel and his staff will replace the news media as the players' instructors Monday as the squad begins making ready for the season opener September 20 against Northern Arizona in Buffalo Bowl.

With 21 lettermen returning from last year's 8-2 team the Buffs have a fine nucleus. Joining that group are 11 squadmen, 4 freshman lettermen and nine junior college transfers.

Heading the list of returnees is fullback Duane Thomas, the school's 10th leading ball carrier of all time. The 6-2 Dallas senior has 1,306 yards in two seasons. He is a strong candidate for All-American honors.

Kerbel and his staff have a rebuilding job to do with the offensive and defensive lines, both hit hard by graduation.

Only guards Dag Azam and Earl Clardy return to the offensive line. Transfer Sid Goff and returning letterman Jerry Cryer will be at the center post, vacated by Kerbel's son, Joe Jr.

Defensive transfer Don Tate, converted end Dale Donoho and squadman Wayne Adams are the chief candidates for the tackle berths. Willie Walker, a converted fullback, will be at tight end, backed by Don Moon.

Dick Flynn returns at the split end spot, where he led the club in pass receptions last fall with 23. Transfer Robert Jackson or letterman Charles Henderson will be at the flanker post. Henderson is recovering from a knee injury.

The Thompsons, Olan and Rocky (no relation), are expected to battle for the running back slot, vacated by NCAA career rushing holder Eugene Morris.

Olan, a squadman, has 9.7 speed, while Thompson, a junior college All-American, is a 9.5 blazer.

At quarterback, Kerbel has a pair of talented sophomores and a returning squadman from last fall. Clarence "Pookie" Redic, who placed fourth nationally in kick scoring last fall with 67 points, will probably draw the first nod.

Jesse Powell and Willie Brown have departed from the front defensive four, leaving only guard John Notaro as the only returning full-time starter. Tackle Randy Robson started the final half of the season. Letterman Rick Fangman will be at a guard post with Notaro. The other tackle spot saw converted end Jim Patterson end spring drills in the first position.

The linebackers are strong, but lack depth. Regulars Harld Stuart and Stan Hansen return to reclaim their berths. Transfer Jeff Mailliard will probably start at the other position.

The secondary returns intact. Billy Lantow, a two-year regular, and Gary Conner will be at the corner berths, while Ralph Anderson and Raymond Brown, a pair of juniors, are at the safety spots. Those four players combined to intercept 15 opponent passes last fall.

Redic will again handle the placement kicking. In addition to his scoring, he consistantly kicks the ball off over the goal line. Roland Reichardt, who averaged 39.1 yards on 61 punts last fall, returns to handle those chores.

Lose 10 Lbs. in 10 Days On New Grapefruit Diet

This is the revolutionary new grapefruit diet that everyone is suddenly talking about. Literally thousands upon thousands of copies have been passed from hand to hand in factories, plants and offices throughout the U.S. and Canada. Word of its success has spread like wildfire, because this is the one diet that really seems to work for most overweight people: A well known Toronto columnist recently praised it to the skies. He reported losing 20 pounds quickly and easily long after he despaired of ever getting down to his wartime weight of 165 pounds. All this without cutting out the occasional beer or rye. If followed exactly the average overweight person should lose 10 pounds in 10 days. There will be no weight loss in the first four days. But you will suddenly drop 5 pounds on the 5th day. Thereafter you will lose one pound a day until the 10th day. Then you will lose 1½ pounds every two days until you get down to your proper weight. Best of all there should be no hunger pangs. Now revised and enlarged this new diet plan lets you stuff yourself with foods that were formerly 'forbidden.' Such as big steaks trimmed with fat, Southern fried chicken, rich gravies, mayonnaise, lobsters swimming in butter, bacon, fats, sausages and scrambled eggs. You can eat until you are full, until you cannot possibly eat any more. And still you should lose 10 pounds in the first ten days, plus 1½ pounds every two days, thereafter until your weight is down to normal. The secret behind this new "Quick weight loss" is not generally known. Fat, it has been theorized, does not form fat. Perhaps fat fights fat. And the grapefruit juice in this new diet might act as a catalyst (the "trigger") to start the fat burning process. You stuff yourself on the permitted foods listed in the diet plan, and still lose unsightly fat and excess body fluids. When the fat and bloat are gone, you will cease to lose weight, and your weight will remain controlled. A copy of this new and startingly successful diet plan can be obtained by sending $2 to The Unconditional money - back guarantee. If after trying the diet plan you have not lost 7 pounds in the first 7 days, another 6 pounds in the next 7 days, and 1½ pounds every two days thereafter, simply return the diet plan and your $2 will be refunded promptly, and without argument. Tear out this message as a remainder. Decide now to regain the trim attractive figure of your youth, while still enjoying hearty breakfast, lunches and dinners. FIRST DAY CONFUSION — A group of Hereford High School students are shown as they take a break during their hectic first day back from an all too short summer. Enrollment in Hereford schools toped the 5,000 mark as of late last week.

School Enrollment Remains Uncertain

Enrollment in the first week in the ten Deaf Smith County schools ended Friday with a total of 5,445 students in the classrooms.

However, the schools opened one week earlier this year than has been the practice in past years.

Hereford Independent School District Superintendent Roy Hartman stated he didn't believe an accurate comparison could be made at this time with last year's enrollment because "there may be quite an upsurge in our enrolment after the Labor Day holiday and through the end of this week. We can only wait and see."

Last year's total at the end of the first week was 5,406 students in all county schools.

Hartman and secondary coordinator William R. Phillips reported that there is some uncertainity regarding enrollment trends during 1969-70, in view of the future opening here of the Wilson & Co. plant, in prospect around midterm.

They offered the prediction that enrollment may be similar to the 1964-65 semester — during the period when the Holly Sugar Corp. plant began operations here. At that time, enrollment reached its peak in October (as it does traditionally each year in local schools), but declined only slightly afterward.

Usually there is a steady decline following the peak enrollment, due to the harvest season ending and the harvest workers moving their families to other parts of the country.

"I hope there is little decline this year," Hartman said. "This is much better for both the student and the teacher."

With a present Hereford Schools enrollment total of 5,152 Hartman estimated that the peak could possibly be as high as 5,400 this year.

At the end of the first week of school last year, Hereford schools enrollment was 5,093.

Friday, principal L. B. Russell reported that the Walcott School in western Deaf Smith County had a total of 90 students — two more enrolled than during their first week there last year.

However, Sister Protasia, principal at St. Anthony's Catholic School, said they have only 203 students thus far this year, compared with the 225 at the beginning of their 1968 term. St. Joseph's Mission School did not open this year.

Hereford High School has an enrollment of 904 students against 841 last year. Stanton and La Plata Junior highs together total 1,178 current enrollment with 1,164 in 1968.

But the five elementary schools in Hereford show a comparative decline — 2,822 now as opposed to 2,862 at the beginning of the previous term. First grader enrollment indicated the sharpest drop in total-from 646 to 554.

Special education students now total 143 and there are 105 five-year-olds in the kindergarten classes in the seven units on the elementary school campuses.

Majors Meet Friday

United Fund majors and "others interested in the coming campaign" will meet at 10 a.m. Friday in the Scout Room of the Hereford Community Center, according to drive chairman Clete Corlis.

Outline of the campaign will be discussed at this time, Corlis said.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Medical Fact Or Fiction

FACT or fiction in medicine is as intriguing to physicians as it is to the layman. Almost all of us have been brought up on catch phrases about health, many of which are astonishingly sound and have validity without complete medical explanation.

Dr. Coleman

It has been said that an apple a day keeps the doctor away. It has also been said that this can only happen if the aim is good. Nevertheless, apples are healthy, nourishing fruit which in themselves have no special antidote against infectious and other diseases.

The significance of "feed a cold and starve a fever" depends on how avid a believer you are in myths. Actually, patients find their own comfortable level for food and liquid intake. Most people eat a light, nutritious diet, taking smaller quantities at more regular intervals.

The concept that "the lean horse wins a long race" has medical and scientific truth. There is undoubtedly a distinct relationship between overweight and decreased longevity. It is true, too, that heart disease, diabetes, and high blood pressure occur more frequently in those who are overweight and who through many years of their lives eat fattening, high cholesterol foods.

The fictional idea that stuttering can be cured by fright must be dispelled. On the contrary, stuttering may be caused by fright. Stutterers need psychological understanding rather than more terror.

A favorite one of those who cannot start a regime of dieting or those who cannot keep weight off is "Everything I eat turns to fat." This fictional belief only serves to soothe the conscience of the obese. The fact is a simple one. When we consume more calories than our body uses as fuel, we must gain weight. Only rarely are there conditions such as hyperactive thyroid that keeps people slender even with a heavy caloric intake. Another related myth is that exercise really is the only way to reduce. There may be a temporary loss of fluid with exercise but almost always the fluid is returned more quickly than it was lost. Exercise in moderation is an excellent addition to diet but is no substitute for it.

Beefsteak for a black eye has medical value but it is far more expensive than a warm, wet towel which does the same thing. The beefsteak came into vogue because it can be warmed and can retain the heat and the moisture so good for the black eye by absorbing the unsightly blood beneath the skin.

The belief that birthmarks on a newborn child are caused by a fright that happened to a mother during pregnancy has no basis in truth. Sometimes mothers even believe that there is a distinct shape to the birthmark which is related to the fright. This, of course, has no validity and should be eradicated from the mother's consciousness, along with any sense of guilt for the birthmarks. Myths can be charming if they are taken lightly. They never can be a substitute for the sound opinions of your doctor.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH: Driving an automobile during periods of severe emotional tensions is as hazardous as driving while drunk.

Dr. Coleman welcomes letters from readers, and, while he cannot undertake to answer each one, he will use questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Coleman in care of this newspaper.

Sears Elected Chairman Of Midwestern U.

WICHITA FALLS — Henry Sears of Hereford was elected chairman Friday for a two-year period by Midwestern University's Board of Regents.

Other officers elected were Louis Pitcock Jr. of Graham, vice chairman; Marvin L. McCullough of Wichita Falls, secretary; and Hugh Marshall of Quanah, as member of the executive committee.

The nominating committee included Hugh Marshall, Edgar B. Hart of Electra and Marvin L. McCullough.

Other actions by the board included acceptance of Hardin Administration Building as substantially complete, ratification of the awarding of contract for construction of parking lots, streets and related items and contracts between Midwestern on behalf of the MU Nursing Department with Wichita General Hospital, Bethania Hospital and Wichita Falls State Hospital.

Peach Time

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

It isn't the blush that tells how ripe the peach is. Gwendolyne Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist, says to look instead to the background color of a peach.

Select peaches that have a creamy or yellowish groung color. Peaches picked before they are mature usually have a green color — and will not ripen satisfactorily.

Peaches now are packed in a variety of different containers. Some of the newer types are wire bound containers holding ¾ bushel, wooden lugs holding 2 layers of peaches in individual paper cups or plastic trays; cellpack corrugated boxes and small, consumer-size containers holding 4 to 6 pounds of peaches.

All the containers are designed to get bruise-free peaches from the orchard to the consumer, reports the specialist.

Nowadays there is no need to peel peaches because most peaches are defuzzed by soft brushes soon after picking. Tender skins allow peaches to be sliced without peeling.

One pound of fresh peaches equals three medium size peaches or 2 cups sliced peaches. Two pounds fresh peaches equals one 8 or 9-inch pie.

* * *

Remember the peach cobblers of your childhood? The golden brown crust, crisp on top, but soft enough underneath to absorb the rich peach juice.

Dig out the tattered family recipe or call up Mom and get it because this is the peach season. Fresh-from-the-tree peaches are reaching the markets now.

FIRST STOP: SECOND-HAND STORE

CHICAGO—Second hand store shopping for furniture when decorating a new home or redesigning an old one can be fun, says a California interior decorator.

Carole Eichen of Fullerton, Calif., advised here it' sa good place to look for old wooden iceboxes, weathered wicker chairs, wind-up victrolas, even old church pews.

All can be brought back to life with a coat or two of paint or polish, she says. Mixed with modern furniture, such items as seasoned charm add interesting accents to a home.

The office will be closed September 1 for a holiday.

Mrs. Howard Birdwell
. . . with daughters, Judy and Leslie

Newcomers In Profile

Is Rewarding Experience

By BARBARA SWIMMER
Women's Editor

Her association with children, as a teacher and mother, is one of the most heartwarming and rewarding experiences of Mrs. Howard Birdwell who moved to Hereford from Canyon in August.

Billie Birdwell is a first grade teacher at Northwest Elementary School and her husband is assistant principal at Aikman. They have both taught school for several years in Canyon and Amarillo and their love for their work is readily apparent to anyone who talks to them.

The Birdwells are a close knit family, with their two lovely daughters, Judy, a nine year old fourth grader and 18 month old Leslie who is the center of the household.

They love doing everything together and have the same interests and hobbies of traveling, camping, working in the yard of their new home at 116 Fir, and are avid sports fans.

Mrs. Birdwell says it took them most of the summer to find a home, but finally were able to move about two weeks before school started and says she is still straightening up and is still looking for items lost in the move.

They had been familiar with Hereford, having several friends here before they decided to make the move, but are still amazed at the way Herefordites go out of their way to be friendly.

Billie has taught small children for several years, in both the first and second grades but her great love is for the tiny first graders.

When asked why she became a teacher, she said, "I just love children and wanted to be one, although none of my family were teachers.

The Birdwells met and were married while they were attending West Texas State University and have made Canyon their home for the past 15 years. They are Methodists and are looking forward to getting started in attendance here.

Rainbow Girls Entertain Grand Officers

The Hereford Rainbow Assembly No. 157 was host to ten grand officers Wednesday for a reception here and a trip to Palo Duro Canyon for dinner and to see "Texas."

Twenty-nine members of the Hereford Assembly and Mrs. R. B. Hutson, Mother Advisor, made the trip with the ten visitors which included Mrs. Cortez Dowlen of Canyon, grand visitor; Miss Carol Smart of Dallas, grand worthy advisor; Miss Linda Jacobsen of Hereford, past grand representtive from Nevada to Texas; Miss Gay Hincy, of Houston, past grand representative from Kansas to Texas; Miss Lucy Dunford of Houston, grand representative from Arizona to Texas: Miss Susie Merriott ofHouston, grand recorder; Miss Susan Lane of Amarillo, grand representative from Oklahoma to Texas; Miss Sharon Pool of Houston, junior member grand music committee; and Miss Jenisa Fallwell of Friona, grand representative from California.

Concerning Veterans

More than 25,700 veterans are currently taking flight training for a commercial pilot's license under provisions of the GI Bill, Jack Coker, manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Waco, disclosed.

Since flight training was approved by Congress in October 1967, a total of 38,588 veterans have taken advantage of the course.

Provisions under the GI Bill require that a veteran must first possess a private pilot's license, or its equivalent, and must meet the medical requirements for a commercial license, Coker said.

An eligible veteran entered into an approved flight course will be paid an educational assistance allowance computed at the rate of 90 percent of the established charges for tuition and fees which non-veterans enrolled in the same flight course are required to pay.

According to Coker, these allowances may be paid monthly by the VA upon receipt of a certification from the veteran and the school as to the flight training received and the cost to the veteran during each month.

The eligible veteran will be charged one month's educational entitlement under the GI Bill for each $130 which is paid to him as educational assistance allowance for a flight course.

Coker said that flight training as a part of an approved college degree program is also available to veterans.

Citation Issued In Wreck Here

A citation for failure to pass on left safely was issued by city police in an accident which occurred Thursday afternoon at the intersection of Park Ave. and Blevins.

Involved in the accident was a 1958 Ford driven by Alica Minez Albiar, which received no damage, and a 1968 Buick driven by Thomas Luther Lesly, which sustained $150.

According to reports, the accident occurred when, as both vehicles were traveling east on Park Ave., one attempted to pass the other at the intersection and did not observe that the other car was attempting a left turn onto Blevins. In an attempt to avoid an accident, the driver swerved around the car which was turning and went on to the H&W Implenent parking lot, striking a pole.

MOOSE DROPPED BY

MOOREHEAD, Minn. — A young bull moose, out of the wilds with his mate, stopped by to call as Mrs. Kenneth Swenson went to move the hose.

She said she was moving the hose for watering the freshly seeded lawn when the moose appeared. "I dropped the hose," she said. "I took off so fast. . . Oh, I couldn't believe it."

"Oh, I'm just sick about it," she said about deep hoof tracks and the muddied spot where the moose lay for a brief rest. "Can you imagine! A moose in our backyard!"

Others couldn't believe it either and came to see. The moose escaped into the countryside but its cow mate died in tall grass near the Moorhead industrial park.

Triticale Tests Begin This Week

PLAINVIEW — A first attempt in this High Plains area to determine the marketing potential of the new feed grain — Triticale — will begin this week at the High Plains Research Foundation.

The Foundation will implement the second phase of a swine production economics study comparing Triticale with grain sorghum as a feed base.

Dr. Tom Longnecker, foundation director, said the study was being conducted to determine the value of Triticale as a base in rations for finishing hogs.

"According to chemical analysis, Triticale contains about 12.5 per cent protein as compared with 9 to 10 percent in grain sorghum, especially the lycine content which usually is supplemented," Dr. Longnecker said.

The study will consist of three rations each of grain sorghum and Triticale with varying amounts of each grain depending on the size of pigs. Fifty SPF hogs will be used in each test.

Due to Triticale's higher protein content, Dr. Longnecker said the finishing ration for pigs in the study will contain 1,635 pounds of sorghum per ton of feed compared to 1,760 pounds of Triticale per ton of feed.

"In swine production, supplements are the most expensive part of the feed, usually about 45 per cent of the total cost in finishing pigs," Dr. Longnecker said.

"It could be that Triticale in a finishing ration would mean less supplementation than either corn or sorghum thereby cutting swine production costs," Longnecker said.

"For the study, 26,000 pounds of Triticale will be used," Longnecker added.

"In order for Triticale to become an economic crop in this area, a market must be developed. Since Triticale is classified as a feed grain, its main market will be through livestock," Dr. Longnecker said.

He pointed out that Triticale can be grown the same as wheat and could be used for double cropping procedures, if the feeding study on swine is successful.

Naman Stresses Grain Agreement

WACO — A state farm leader told area farmers and ranchers at the annual meeting of the Swisher County Farmers Union that the International Grains Agreement is a vital instrument for our government to use in preserving order in international grain markets.

Texas Farmers Union president Jay Naman of Waco stated, "Farmers Union has urged President Nixon to take the initiative in seeing that the exporting member nations of the Agreement meet at an early date to resolve price differences, avoid dumping of wheat in world trade, and inaugurate neccessary programs to join the United States in cutting back on production.

"World grain markets are in a chaoetic state in spite of the International Grains Agreement, not because of it," Naman said. "Those who would have us withdraw or take other action destroying the treaty would be treating a headache by cutting off the patient's head."

Naman charged that several member nations including the U. S. are responsible for price cutting tactics that have demoralized world wheat prices.

"Fortunately for the farmers in some of the other nations, variable tariff mechanisms have protected them from bearing the brunt of the price war," according to the farm leader.

Turning to state legislative issues, the farm organization president stated that the proposal in the tax bill to eliminate exemptions on farm equipment would cost Texas farm and ranch operators an estimated 7½ million dollars in additional taxes.

"Broadening of the sales tax to include food, additional gasoline taxes, and the tax on farm machinery would impose a particularly heavy burden on the agricultural producer. Our legislators should be focusing their attention on a corporate income tax rather than continuing to place an unbalanced tax burden on the farmer and other consumers," Naman said.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

The Dallas District Office of Internal Revenue analyzed the effect of Internal Revenue information offered to taxpayers in North Texas through news stories, radio spot announcements and various TV spots and programs.

There were 426,000 taxpayers who called Internal Revenue offices or who walked in to ask a question. When they looked over the statistical sample of all the calls, they found that taxpayers in a very large percentage of the cases do exactly what Internal Revenue asks them to do.

When Internal Revenue suggested that they might need more information, the taxpayers called or walked in and asked for the information. When Internal Revenue gave them the answer to a simple question to save them the trouble of asking, the calls dropped to almost nothing.

The tax folks have been saying for a long time that taxpayers believed in voluntary compliance and wanted to do what was right. However, the tax folks learned what most of us already know, that some folks will isten rea well, IF you can just get their attention — but getting their attention is almost impossible.

The newspaper publishers have been telling businessmen for many, many years that it pays to advertise. Of course, in recent years the radio and TV boys and the advertising firms have joined in.

But now the good tax folks come along and prove that it pays to tell your story, whether it's good news or bad news. You still get results.

MISTER BREGER

"Remember—haggle with the natives so they won't know we're tourists . . ."

OBJECT OF SOCIAL WORK

SANTA FE, N. M. — John Jasper, director of New Mexico's Health and Social Services Department, which handles state welfare, sums up his job this way:

"My office deals with everything from pollution to poverty, all unpleasant subjects."

He says, "The prime object of social work is to change a person's attitude from a negative to a positive one. Giving people money without teaching them to have pride in themselves is no answer to our welfare problems."

One of the rarest of English coins is the 1937 threepence bearing the portrait of Edward VIII. Only a few specimens were struck before he abdicated.

Water Inc. Adds Five New Units

County units of Water, Inc., will be organized in at least five West Texas counties during September. The units will augment the work of the non-profit organization working to avoid a future area water shortage.

Organizational meetings of county units are slated in Levelland, Sept. 16; Brownfield, Sept. 18; Spearman, Sept. 23; Lamesa, Sept. 25; and in Stratford, Sept. 30.

Directors of Water, Inc., gave the go-ahead for formation of county units several months ago with an eye toward broadening the membership base, and toward increased membership participation. In counties where water associations already exist, invitations are going out to affiliate as county units of Water, Inc.

There are about a dozen such county organizations in the area served by the organization. At least two, the Cochran County Water Association and the Moore County Water Association, have already become working units of Water, Inc.

Coordinating the organizational work with county leaders is Tom Williams, associate director, membership and organization for Water, Inc.

Rep. Bill Clayton, executive director, said the county units are designed as one of the most important cogs in carrying out the aims of Water, Inc. County unit meetings will provide a forum for determining local needs and desires, as well as providing local leadership in all phases of activities leading toward fulfillment of Water, Inc. goals.

Water, Inc., was organized in mid-1967, and stemmed from a conviction that water resources of West Texas, Eastern New Mexico and Western Oklahoma must be conserved and augmented if economic growth is to continue.

Let's Go Fishin'
BY BOB BREWSTER
Outdoor Editor, Mercury Outboards

WHAT'S IN A LINE . . . ?

A fishing line is a fishing line . . . so what's the big deal about line weight, line test and whether it's braided or monofilament?

Despite efforts by fishing line manufacturers, many anglers don't understand the importance of choosing the correct line to match their equipment.

Having the right line can make a lot of difference when it comes to catching fish, say the angling authorities at Mercury outboards. Not only does the correct line help your casting, but it plays a big part in how the lure is presented to the fish.

Fly fishermen probably have the most critical decisions to make. Rod length, its action and whether they are fishing dry or wet flies are all important considerations.

Generally, a floating, tapered line is used with dry flies, and a level, sinking line with wet flies. Popping bugs for bass call for weight forward lines. Follow the rod maker's recommendations as to line weight. They are usually printed on the butt section of any good rod.

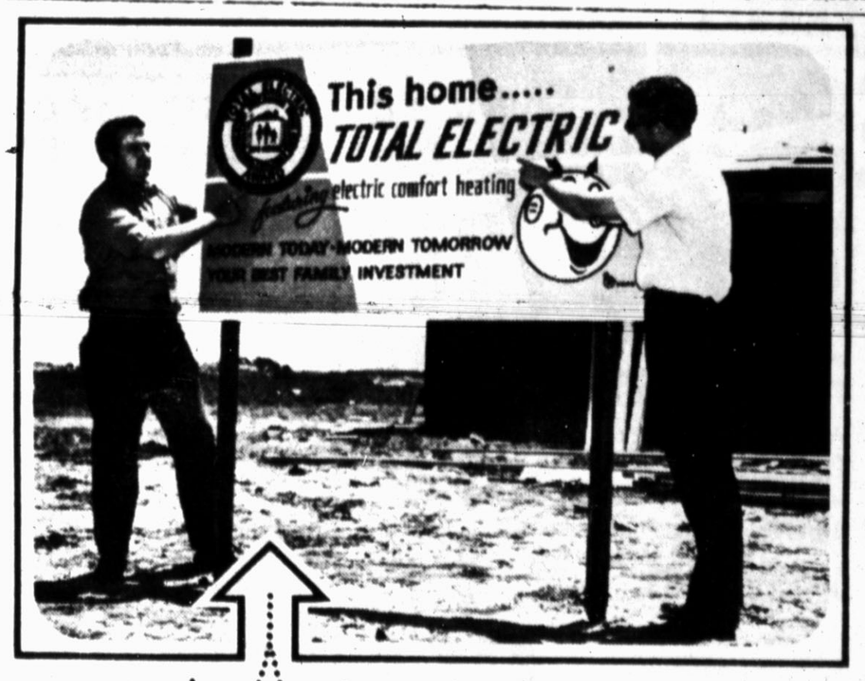

Casting, spinning or spincasting lines are not as critical in one respect when cast, they depend less upon rod action than do fly lines. Otherwise, the importance of having the right line is as great.

Braided line is excellent for plug casting reels but should not be used for spinning or spincasting. A hard braid lasts longer but is more trouble some on the reel than a soft braid. Also, braided line floats.

Monofilament line is used almost exclusively with spinning and spincasting equipment. It's nearly invisible in the water and will sink.

Match the line's test weight to the size fish you're after, and the size lures you're using. Remember, the lighter the line the easier it is to cast, particularly with light-weight lures. However, the lads at Mercury advise that you keep in mind the reel manufacturer's recommendations.

By MELVIN YOUNG

Monday is the last big holiday of the summer season and Tuesday morning students will get down to serious study after having gone through the preliminaries of the school season last week; registering and getting oriented to their schedules.

School enrollment, which has increased considerably in junior high and high school, is apparently not going to be much higher in the elementary grades at this stage of the game but school officials believe that the influx of students after the Labor Day holiday will bring the elementary totals up sharply. Having started school before Labor Day this year, they feel that they have no way to make an accurate comparison. There are usually a number of students enrolling after the Labor Day weekend.

The peak enrollment usually comes in October and November but that too may change this year. With the opening of the Wilson & Company plant in January, we would imagine the organization will be moving some of their key employees into the area in late November and December. Although most of these people will try to keep thir children in their present schools until mid-term, they surely will be coming in droves by January 15th. Also, Wilson will be hiring a number of other people to work at the plant in December, January and February which will bring many more youngsters into the area and it is entirely possible that we may experience some difficulties in housing all the students before the new elementary school is completed.

There appears to be a trend all over the nation however towards smaller families and many school districts are experiencing only slight increases in their elementary school enrollment while the population of their districts are increasing. More people, probably due to more prosperity, are more concerned with birth control these days. Today one seldom sees a family with 8 or 10 children as was the norm when many of us were youngsters.

And after all, in this Urban society of ours, who could support and feed 10 children?

Nevertheless, we'll try to keep you informed about the school enrollment situation. It's always interesting to know how fast we're growing.

—HB—

By the way, due to the Labor Day holiday Monday, Dollar Day will be held in Hereford Tuesday, September 2. This has been a practice for a number of years and apparently is suitable with both merchants and customers. The September Dollar Day is usually a big one.

—HB—

It won't be long until the first football game and we're sure that the sports fans are looking forward to it. We're hoping that the Whitefaces emerge this year with an excellent record — to go along with the new stadium — and we're sure they will. Understand they have a record number of boys out this year for workouts.

That new stadium is going to be appreciated by the fans. It was long past due, probably due to the fact that we were having to build classrooms so fast there was no money left for the sports program. As we've said before, classrooms should come first, but the sports program is important to a school and should not be ignored.

According to statistic, suicide by jumping from buildings has fallen off.

Morgans Convert Old House Into Home And Hobby Shop

By CORINNE J NEELY

"We have had fun as we worked on the conversion of an old, old house" said Sam Morgan speaking for his wife and himself. They have about completed their combined home and hobby shop.

Located at 223 North 25 Mile Avenue the new business will be called Morgan Rock & Hobby House. Mrs. Morgan will operate it until he retires.

His retirement is some years away yet and some of their friends are surprised that he has begun his plans so early. But retirees know how wise he really is. Morgan is an employee of the R. E. A.

The Morgans own the lot north of the present home and shop, and upon his retirement he expects to enlarge his business using this lot.

The present shop carries ceramics, decoupage items, small antiques, bottles, and rocks in several forms. There are polished rock slabs, cut and polished stones, rock specimen and rock jewelry.

This attractive shop-room with its wares will be open Sept. 5 and 6. Mrs. Morgan creates the ceramics and decoupage articles. Morgan does the rock polishing and they both do the bottle collecting and the small antiques searching.

Morgan gave up a 25 year hobby of photography because of lack of time it needed. In its place he became a rock hound and bottle hobbist. (A few years ago the Hereford Brand carried an article on their large bottle collection).

The room, housing the shop, was formerly a bed room but they have chosen the one-time living room for the master bedroom. The shop will open on the front but their new private entrance will be on the north, away from the shop and the highway.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan have been at work remodeling, as his spare time allowed, since January this year. They moved into the house in late June. His idea was to make the inside livable first, leaving the outside remodeling and painting until last.

Now that the shop and living quarters are in shape for the opening, only a few little jobs remain before he begins the outside paint job. First he will remove the old front porch and enlarge the floor space and add a new roof. This will include the popular iron grill work.

Only new windows were installed with inside remodeling. So the old house looks the same as when Mrs. G. H. Whitaker sold it to them in December 1968.

The Whitakers had owned the house since 1948 when they had bought it at auction. The deed gives an idea of the age of the house. The Western Union Land Company sold a large lot August 18, 1900 to J. L. Underwood. Just who built the house can not be determined.

Mrs. Alice Lee, who lived there a number of years, is listed next on the record. Old timers will remember her as a comely woman, a sister of a town beauty and social leader, Mrs. Charlie Furgerson. She in turn sold it to W. L. McIntosh. Other names, some will remember, included J. F. Easley, R. H. Caler, Elizabeth Patterson, and Ida Estes.

After the Morgans bought it the first thing he and his son did was to raise the house and place a new foundation under it. Few walls have been changed; inside additions were mostly closet and storage space. Old houses are notorious for lack of these. They also added an upstairs bathroom. The back porch, except the roof, was torn away, and the floor space was included inside to become the long narrow dining area off the kitchen and a den combination. Part of the kitchen wall was removed to allow this to become one unit.

Kitchen cabinets were torn out and all metal white ones were installed, along with the other white kitchen equipment it became an all white room. So is the small utility room opening off the kitchen on another side. This also includes her kiln for ceramic baking.

With the exception of the plumbing and electrical work the pair have done all the work, including carpentering, paperhanging, and textoning. Morgan also put in the light fixtures.

Two most interesting fixtures deserve mention. In the hobby shop is a once discarded rusty wrought iron curlecued ceiling fixture. It is now painted gold and has small flame-shaped globes. Morgan found it in the yard ten years ago near an old house being torn down. The owner said he had it on authority that the house had been moved here from Old La Plata. This was the county seat before the railroad came, and when Hereford was born to become our county seat in 1898.

The other fixture is a gorgeous cut crystal ceiling light in the living room. Morgan bought this one from the Glenn Witherspoons, who had had it for 30 years, still unused. They had plans for using it themselves, someday.

This is just a sample to prove that the Morgans are true hobbists. With many interests, just as he claims. Their many interests show up all through the house in rare and unusual articles. Even their contemporary furniture is unique in that it looks antique. It is most likely to become collector items some day.

Mrs. Mogan has chosen a color scheme of avacado green and a bright blue for downstairs. Her husband now likes the combination but had his doubts at first.

The wall to wall carpeting of tone on tone avacado covers the living room and the master bedroom floors. The same color is used in the adjoining bath room. The bed spread is a figured combination of the green and blue. She had dyed lacy-like drapes of blue. Other accessories of the rooms pick up the same color.

Mrs. Morgan's colorful oil paintings brighten up all rooms in the house with their yellows, oranges and gold. A young grandson has contributed an excellent oil or two.

An entry from both living room and shop to a tiny hall way within the closed stairway area is a handy arrangement. The narrow steep almost ladder-like stairway with its 15 steps leads into a little den upstairs where enough soft chairs and a stero make a dream-place for the grandchildren when they visit.

This room, two roomy bedrooms and bath room make a private domain for children and other guests. The color scheme here is American Beauty red and light pink.

The large bath was once a small bed room. At one end panel doors cover a large storage space for luggage, a roll-away bed, and off season clothing.

Unexpectedly the rooms are large in spite of the gabled ceilings. But Mrs. Morgan says the furniture must be carefully fitted in. Three unusual pieces of furniture are found upstairs.

In the den there is a large chest-like quilt box, beautifully finished. This was bought from a builder-contractor, Lindy Daniels, which he had made for himself. Another smaller one of old fashioned ceiling-wood was in a bedroom and had been attractively antiqued in dark red. It had been found in a basement where it had sat for 50 years. In another bed room was larger than average spice cabinet which sat on top of a chest of drawers. Mrs. Morgan uses it for spools of thread. This was obtained from a 70 year old woman, whose mother had given it to her.

The Morgans must have both highly developed ferreting out and persausive powers to have obtained so many unusual objects. One attractive piece was given him by his mother. It was a corner china cabinet antiqued dark avacado. Along with a redone walnut gateleg table it adds charm to the all white kitchen.

In the process of remodeling, a few interesting things showed up. A few old coins, mostly Indian head pennies, were found under door stops. An old frayed bamboo fan advertising a still popular drink for 5 cents. But the most intriguing was a penned notation, "Nester (Gass) and Ralph (Barnett) Last Stage Out 6-19-04." It is believed by an early day resident that this refers to a play put on by students of the old Christian College, located where our present school stands.

This relic was found behind two layers of wall paper which the Morgans tore off. Sometimes there were three or more layers.

Damage Light In 3-Vehicle Wreck

A three-car accident last week at the intersection of Moreman and Sunset Streets, resulted in an estimated $600 damage to the cars involved.

A 1967 Dodge, driven by Manson Waits received $200 damage and a 1968 Oldsmobile driven by Thelma Arbuckle sustained $400 damage. The third vehicle, a 1962 Ford pickup driven by David Ralph Waits, received no damage.

The accident occurred when one of the cars going east on Moreman, attempted a left turn and in doing so, pulled into the path of the other car, which was traveling west on Moreman. The westbound car attempted to avoid a collision by turning onto Sunset St., but lost control of the vehicle and struck the other vehicle which was stopped at the intersection stop sign.

Investigating officers issued citations for driving in violation of Code 2 (accompanied by licensed driver, age 21 or over, in front seat), failure to yield right of way, failure to control motor vehicle and allowing violation of Code 2.

ABC

What is the A.B.C.?

Chatting with a merchant the other day, we mentioned our "ABC figure."

"What," he asked, "is an ABC figure?"

Perhaps what we told him will also interest you.

This newspaper is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations, an independent, nonprofit organization of nearly 4,000 advertisers, advertising agencies, and publishers.

Its purpose is to provide accurate and factual reports on the circulations of member publishers. In the advertising and publishing industry, the ABC insigne is often referred to as the "hallmark of circulation values."

At regular intervals, an ABC traveling auditor visits our office to check our records. The findings of this physical audit are embodied in an Audit Report published by ABC — the report literally tells us what our circulation is.

Virtually everything an advertiser should know about our circulation is found in this report, facts and figures without opinions.

Few retailers bother to ask to see a copy of our report, yet we want you to know one is available anytime you are interested in the quality and quantity of our circulation audience — the audience for your advertising messages.

What is an ABC figure?

It is our way of assuring you that you get full measure for your advertising dollar in this newspaper.

HARD WATER and SOFT WATER may look alike . . .

but they are DIFFERENT!

Here's how to know if you have hard water

- Do you have a ring around your bathtub?
- Use harsh detergents? Fabric softeners?
- Use packaged water conditioners? Bleaches?
- Do you wear rubber gloves to do dishes?
- Is your hair "dull" after you shampoo it?
- Is you skin dry and scaly after you bathe?

Janet Winter Marries Ronnie Buse of Friona

The Immanuel Lutheran Church was the scene of a pretty and impressive wedding when Miss Janet Marie Winter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Winter, 212 Northwest Drive, became the bride of Ronnie Joe Buse, son of Mr. and Mrs. H.D. Buse of Friona. The double ring ceremony, with the Rev. Herman Schelter, pastor, officiating, took place on Sunday afternoon, August 24, at 4 p. m.

The traditional bridal motif of white and green decorated the church. Large baskets of white gladiolas with English ivy formed the background for the nuptial setting.

Richard A. Winter, brother of the bride, was acolyte.

Miss Mary Winter served her sister as maid of honor and Kelly Tyler was best man.

Miss Denise Winter, the bride's sister, was bridesmaid and groomsman was Billy Henderson. Ushers were Richard Winter and David Buse, brothers of the bride and groom.

Little Miss Cynthia Lady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lady, was flower girl and the bride's brother, Master Timothy Carter Winter, was ring bearer.

Mrs. James Hill, organist, payed the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Mrs. Toby Sears of Bakersfield, Calif. as she sang "O Perfect Love" and "Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in her formal empire gown of peau de soie fashioned with a Sabrina neckline accented with seed pearls, petal point sleeves, and a column skirt. A detachable watteau train was enhanced by lace motifs. Her tiered veil of imported silk illusion fell from a pea traced petal caplet. She carried a nosegay bridal bouquet of white carnations with shades of pink accents and white satin streamers. She wore an ivory carved rose, a gift from her maternal grandparents, and carried out the tradition of "old, new, borrowed and blue" and wore a sixpence in her slipper.

The feminine attendants wore identical gowns of petal pink silk brocade fashioned with empire bodice distinguished by hot pink velvet ribbon. Their headpieces were caplets of petals and pearls with illusion veils and each carried a single long stemmed pink carnation with pink ribbon streamers and bows. The flower girl wore an identical dress as the honor attendants with a hot pink velvet bow in her hair.

A reception followed in the home of the bride's parents where Mrs. Rob Beard registered wedding guests.

Pink and white roses with a three-candle epergne centered the serving table laid with a white crochet cloth over pink linen. The three tiered wedding cake was surmounted by a silver cross over the traditional bride and groom.

Presiding at the table were the bride's cousin, Mrs. Susan Ricker, Andrews; Mrs. Paul hubbard and Miss Kathy Jagels.

Other members of the houseparty were Mrs. Hubert Stoerner, Mrs. Veradell Brunf, Mrs. Richard Jagels and Mrs. Herb Bruns.

For a wedding trip to New Mexico, the bride wore a brown and cream dress and coat with an orchid corsage.

They will be home after Sept. 1 at 406 Ave. B in Hereford where Buse is empoyed by Willus Bradley Cattle Company.

Out-of-town wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. Toby Sears, Bakersfield, Calif.; Mrs. Suzy Ricker, Andrews; Mr. and Mrs. John DePauw, Mrs. Anna belle Rawlinson, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde DePauw, Mary DePauw, the Wilson DePauws, the Jack Pellys, the W. H. Jones, all of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Z. D. Jackson, Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Buse and sons, Sunray; and Mrs. Clayton Nash, McPherson, Kan.

Miss Gudger of Houston Weds Roy James Grubbs

Roy James Grubbs III and his bride, the former Miss Gayle Gudger of Houston, are now at home at Houston after a honeymoon to New Orleans and Southern Texas points.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. Jack Harold Gudger, Houston. Dr. and Mrs. Roy James Grubbs Jr. of Hereford, are parents of the bridegroom.

The couple exchanged vows at an impressive double ring candlelight ceremony at St. Luke's Presbyterian Church, Houston.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of magnolia white imported English net and Alencon lace. The empire styled gown had a high-rise neckline and fingertip sleeves. A full cathedral train of sheer organza was enhanced by appliques of Alencon lace. Her silk illusion mantilla, trimmed with lace, flowed to chapel length and she carried a cascade bouquet of white miniature carnations centered with a white orchid.

Miss Jan Butler of Dallas was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Angela Grubbs of Hereford and Miss Laurie Agnew of Dickinson, Tex.

David Grubbs served as best man and groomsmen were Richard Grubbs and Keith Gudger.

Ushers were Raymond Curtis and Jim Griffin. Candlelighter was Paul Grubbs.

The feminine attendants wore formal gowns of yellow chiffon, fashioned with empire bodice, accented by a band of embroidered daisies and high-lighted by full flowing skirts. They carried cresent cascade bouquets of purple asters.

The bride was graduated from Texas Tech in 1969 with a B. S. degree in zoology where she was affiliated with Phi Mu Sorority, Beta Beta Beta and Sigma Delta Pi.

Grubbs is a 1967 graduate of Texas Tech and holds a B. S. degree in Chemical Engineering He was a member of Kappa Kappa Psi, Tau Beta Pi, Pi Kappa Phi and the American Institute of Chemical Engineers. He is employed by Shell Oil Company Refinery, Deer Park, Tex.

High Protein Diet Help Dairy Calves

COLLEGE STATION — Feedlot dairy calves will do a better weight gaining job on high level protein rations than those receiving less protein, recent studies at Texas A&M University show.

The research also revealed that dairy calves can compare favorably with beeftype calves in overall feedlot performance. Rate of gain was comparable, feed efficiency was greater, and there was no major difference in physical and chemical properties of the meat.

Dr. G. T. King of the A&M Animal Science Department said the research is significant because there is now a surplus of dairy or dairy-type calves from the dairy industry. More of these animals are going into commercial feedlots.

Overall objective of the experiment was to determine if protein level and quality affects rate of gain and efficiency of gain, and to learn how dairy beef measures up to that from beef animals.

King said 16 Holstein bulls and 16 Holstein steers were fed two rations of different protein levels (18 percent and 15 percent digestible protein) and slaughtered at 600 pounds.

Calves getting the high level protein gained significantly more than those on the low protein level. But the protein level had no big effect on yield of bonein or boneless steak and roast cuts. Animals on the low protein showed significantly larger fiber diameter and higher percent of moisture.

The rations had no major effect on tenderness, juiciness, flavor and overall eating satisfaction, King pointed out.

Compared to beef loins, the dairy loins had a higher moisture percentage and were lower in fat. King said tenderness, juiciness, flavor and overall eating satisfaction were not significantly different between the two loin groups.

Roy And Dale Star At Tri-State Fair

AMARILLO — Roy Rogers and Dale Evans, the perennially popular and greatest husband and wife team in show business history, headline a large troupe of nationally famous entertainers for nine performances at the 1969 Tri State Fair, Sept. 15-20, in Amarillo.

Included in the star-studded aggregation are the sensational Steiner Brothers acrobatic team The Sons of the Pioneers; Pat Brady of motion picture and TV fame; Chase & Park, acrobats; Ben Smathers and the Stoney Mountain Cloggers, a peerless square dancing sextet, formerly featured at New York's Carneige Hall.

Rogers, who at one time performed without billing as one of the Sons of the Pioneers, began his show business career in radio. For a time, he performed in Roswell, N. Mex., where he met and married his first wife. Afterward, they traveled to California where he was signed by Republic Pictures to appear in movies.

At that time (1937), Republic's big star was the first singing cowboy performer, Gene Autry. Rogers' first appearance at the studio was in an Autry western, "The Old Barn Dance." His first starring appearance during that year was in "Under Western Stars."

He remained as Number 2 Cowboy Star until Autry's departure for the US Army Air Force, 1942-45. Whereupon, Rogers became number one at the box office and was billed as "King of the Cowboys." He remained at Republic until the early 1950s.

His real name is Leonard Slye and he was born in Ohio.

On the other hand, Miss Evans, who was born in Uvalde, Tex., also began her career in radio as a singer — including Little Rock, Dallas, and Chicago. She was signed by Republic in 1943 and appeared in several of their "hillbilly" specials before she was cast as Rogers' leading lady the following year.

Together, they became the leading stars of Western movies. It marked the first time in Hollywood history that a feminine star had received such attention.

Rogers' wife died in childbirth during 1945. The following year, he and Miss Evans were married.

Their private lives together was marked with tragedy when their own child died (Miss Evans wrote a book about it titled "Angels Unaware") and they became noted as the screen couple who later adopted several children of all races and creeds — and used many precautions toward dodging the limelight while in the process of these adoptions.

These children became important parts of their lives. Miss Evans has been known to cancel personal appearances when it conflicted affairs at a school that concerned one or more of their children. Moreover, Rogers bought a trailer for his family, so that they could travel together during the summer months during professional appearances and stop at lakes between dates "just to go fishing."

Since they ended their screen careers, they have appeared many times together on television. Highly revered by all who know them, they are called simply Roy and Dale. They also have a Western Museum in the San Fernando Valley.

Among free acts on an open-air stage is Gentel Ben, the 640 pound trained bear and star of the "Gentle Ben" TV series, who will perform the final three days of the six-day exposition.

Livestock and horse exhibitors, along with competitors in farm and home, art, culinary, textile, china painting, photography and other events, will vie for a record $46,000 in cash awards at this year's sparkling Fair, the largest annual event on the Golden Spread.

Horses this year will show and perform in the new $330,000 horse barn, sporting a 225 X 80 foot indoor arena, 297 stalls, elaborate offices and display rooms. Additional stalls are available in the old horse barn.

Professional and non-professional cutting contests, approved by the American Quarter Horse Association and the National Cutting Horse Association ,are expected to attract a record number of entries and spectators.

An all-youth horse show will draw hundreds of young competitors on Saturday, Sept. 20, which also is Rural Youth Day.

Thirty-three bands from high schools in Amarillo and across the region will provide music for the Fair's opening day parade at 10 Monday morning, Sept. 15.

This year marks the Fair's 46th anniversary. It now is larger in exhibits and attendance than some state fairs.

Patricha McCutchen Is Wed To Randall Hasley

In one of late August's loveliest weddings, Miss Patricha Anne McCutchen and Randall Mike Hasley pledged their nuptial vows Friday evening at Assembly of God Church. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon McCutchen, 836 Brevard and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Daryl Hasley of Dimmitt. The Rev. John Sewell, pastor of the Assembly of God church, Eunice, N. M., officiated for the 5 p. m. double ring ceremony amid a flower decked setting.

The altar was centered with a wedding arch of greenery and white flowers topped with wedding bells. Large baskets of white chrysanthemums and gladiolas flanked the white satin kneeling bench in the forefront.

Miss Deborah Kay Hasley of Dimmitt, sister of the bridegroom, presented a program of organ music and accompanied Gary London and Mrs. Betty Turner of Sweetwater, Okla. as they sang "Lord's Prayer," "Wedding Prayer" and "The Twelfth of Never."

Escorted to the altar by her father, Patricha wore a formal gown of white satin, fashioned with lace covered empire bodice and petal point lace sleeves. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a crown and she carried a nosegay bridal bouquet of white carnations centered with a cymbidium orchid. Her jewelry was a gold heart locket, belonging to the bridegroom's mother and an heirloom wedding band which was the bridegroom's grandmother's.

Miss Jan Anderson was maid of honor and Tommy Saul served as best man.

Miss Gayle McCutchen served her sister as bridesmaid and groomsman was Garland Jarvis of Dimmitt.

Ushers were Ronald Bridges and Wayne Turner of Sweetwater, Okla.

Flower girl was Miss Darlene Stovall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Stovall and Master Keith Hudson, carried the rings to the altar on a satin pillow.

The bride's attendants wore blue dacron street-length dresses with corsages of white carnations and each carried a long stemmed carnation with blue streamers.

A reception followed in the church Fellowship Hall where the serving table was laid with white lace over blue and centered with a blue and white floral centerpiece. Misses Pam McCutchen and Jan Hasley, sisters of the bride and groom, served refreshments, assisted by Mrs. Orval Galley.

Wedding guests were registered by Mike McCutchen, brother of the bride.

For a wedding trip to New Mexico, the bride's traveling ensemble was a sleeveless A-line white frock with black accessories. Her shoulder corsage was a cymbidium orchid lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The bride was numbered among spring graduates of Hereford High School. Hasley is a graduate of Dimmitt High School and attended Wayland Baptist College and Draughon's Business College at Lubbock.

Following the honeymoon, the couple will be a home in Hereford where he is employed by Hereford Grain Corp.

Bold Step, But Shaky

The daughter of India's independence Mrs. Indira Gandhi, is asserting the kind of leadership which has been lacking since the first generation of Indian leaders left the scene. Much was expected of Mrs. Gandhi, but little was allowed by old men ossified from the exercise of power without progress.

When India sought its independence from Great Britain the Congress Party was the vehicle chosen to unify the political factions whose only community was opposition to colonial rule. When separation came in 1947, the loose coalition lost its cohesion and direction. Jawaharlal Nehru kept it together with the charisma that came from association with India's inspirational origins.

But with his death five years ago the Congress Party began coming apart again. The placement of Nehru's daughter, Indira Gandhi, at the head of state in 1966 was supposed to restore the sense of purpose, regain appeal at the polls and keep the waters calm for the old-line conservatives.

Mrs. Gandhi has done none of those things, largely because India needed a more positive approach. At last she has been pushed into taking the plunge toward a more progressive policy, even though it meant a showdown with old-line Congress Party men and possible crisis for her country. She fired Morarji Desai as finance minister, nationalized the banks, and shifted the government leftward.

If the showdown succeeds, there will be newer, younger ideas at the top. Economic incest will be outlawed. If the test fails, Mrs. Gandhi may fall. In either event, India will have moved off dead center. The political pussy-footing is over and some decisions must now be made.

The game is dangerous because India's democratic balance is shaky. Its economic and social problems are enormous, and cry for authoritarian solutions which the Indians so far have resisted. Nevertheless, stagnation never saved any country from disaster nor stayed off the need for decisive action. Indira Gandhi has unsettled that stagnation. — St. Petersburg Times

Pendulum Must Return To Normal

There is widespread fear that constitutional provisions, laws, and court decisions aimed at protecting the innocent are in fact protecting known criminals and jeopardizing their innocent victims. Apparently the pendulum of justice has swung too far from a position of defending the unjustly accused to a position of giving excessive advantage to recognized criminals.

Constitutions, laws, and court decisions are, or should be, written in the context of the era and the conditions that it presents. The Constitution of the United States was written after centuries of oppressive rule, of star chamber proceedings, of debtor prisons, of condemning those who could not prove their innocence rather than only those whose guilt could be demonstrated "beyond a reasonable doubt" by the state. In an effort to correct these abuses the authors of the Constitution placed heavy restraints upon the state and its law enforcement agencies and conferred upon the individual unprecedented rights and freedoms. Even decades later in revulsion against centuries of slavery the fourteenth amendment was ratified to give all citizens "the equal protection of the laws" and the protection of "due process of law."

The noble intent of these constitutional provisions was to protect the individual against ruthless and oppressive government but in recent years they have been interpreted so as to subject million of citizens to a ruthless and oppressive criminal element. As the courts have read into the Constitution "rights" that protect criminals and handicap the police they have abridged the right of the citizenry to safety of person and security of property. In the eighteenth century the citizenry was threatened by despotic government. Today it is threatened by a criminal element whose "rights" have been magnified until government seems unable to check it.

Obviously, the interests of good citizens mus tbe protected by revising constitutional concepts in the contest of the era so as to remove legalistic shields that defend the criminal and handicap law enforcement authorities in effectively dealing with him. For by extending the "rights" of criminals we have deprived the citizenry of its most precious right — the right to safety against criminal attack. —Asbury Park (N.J.) Press

Smoke 'em. Don't Smoke 'em

The first scene on the tube is a cigarette commercial full of sex appeal. It shows a beautiful girl romping through a field of daises, or rising from the sea with tresses dripping and curves showing, accepting a smoke and making faces suggesting it tastes like ice cream. It suggests that one who puffs Bountiful Butts already has one foot inside the boudoir door. For this showing the television people get paid.

Almost immediately afterwards, on the same screen, watchers get a message from, say the American Cancer Society. There's no sex in this. It's just a warning that cigarettes are bad. "It's a matter of life and breath," says the slogan. This anti-commercial the television people put out free. It's called a public service program. Here's an odd business arrangement, but in capitalism nothing should surprise us.

Next thing we know, we'll see a happy pup slurping dog food in a paid plug, closely followed by a public service announcement that dog food may cause acid indigestion. which will keep the unfortunate animal awake and barking all night. — Boston Globe

Bureaucrats Still On Job

By BERT MILLS

Washington, D. C. — President Nixon is vacationing in California, Congress is vacationing at various points around the globe, but enough bureaucrats are still on the job to produce these fascinating facts.

Divorces in the U. S. rose 10 percent last year. The divorce and annulment rate was 2.9 per 1,000 population, second only to the record of 3.5 set in 1945. About 582,000 marriages were ended in 1968 by court action, an increase of 59,000 from the previous year.

National Park Service estimates that it spent $1¾ million in 1968 to collect litter from roadsides, trails, campgrounds, picnic areas, beaches, lakes and rivers. The Park Service now distributes litter bags to visitors entering a park by car. Hikers get heavy duty plastic bags and are urged to burn combustibles and bring out cans and other waste.

In a normal year, about 175 Americans die of the heat. Heaviest toll in recent years was 246 deaths in St. Louis, Mo., in July, 1966. Men are more susceptible to extreme heat than women, and old people are often the victims. There are more heat deaths in cities than elsewhere.

There was not a single execution last year, for the first time since the Bureau of Prisons began keeping records in 1930. However, on New Year's Day there were 479 prisoners with a death sentence hanging over their heads.

S. E. C. Earned Profit

For the first time in its 35-year history, the Securities and Exchange Commission earned a profit in fiscal 1968. A 62 per cent increase in registration statements explained the $2.6 million gain. However, all the money went into the U. S. Treasury and budgetary restrictions forced the agency to get along with fewer people despite more work.

There are over 100 million cars trucks and buses on the roads this year. If they were all parked bumper-to-bumper, they would reach from the earth to the moon and back again. A person sitting on the curb and watching a parade of every vehicle moving past this spot at a rate of one every ten seconds would have to sit 24 hours a day for 32 years to see them all.

There is only one living five-star General in the U. S. He is Omar Bradley, a World War II hero who later served as Administrator of Veterans Affairs under President Truman.

Rep. Leanor K. Sullivan (D. Mo.), a 17-year veteran in Congress who is now paid $42,500 a year plus allowances, once worked as a telephone company clerk. Her salary was $420 a year, or less than 1 percent of her present income.

Another rags-to-riches story in Congress is that of Sen. William Saxbe (R., Ohio). Back in 1937 in was a 25-cents-an-hour bus boy in the Department of Agriculture cafeteria. He saved the money in hopes of being able to finance a weekend boat trip on the Potomac that cost only $6.50, but he never raised that much.

Rep. Kleppe, Worth Millions

Rep. Thomas S. Kleppe, an obscure second-term Republican from Bismarck, N. D., surprised House members when he reported he owns stocks and bonds worth over $3.5 million. His holdings in IBM alone are worth more than $1 million. Rep. Kleppe told an interviewer: "I did not inherit and I didn't steal it. I earned it."

A regular at the Department of the Interior gymnasium is the boss himself, Secretary Walter J. Hickel. He is a physical fitness buff. At 49, he still works out on the punching bag. Long before he became Governor of Alaska, he was the Golden Gloves welterweight boxing champion of Kansas.

More than half the members of Congress took foreign trips in 1968, a Congressional Quarterly survey revealed. More than half of the travelers made two or more trips. The vast majority were financed by the taxpayers to the tune of $1 million, not counting additional expense for staff members.

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Dear editar:

I didn't object, since I was about through with my nap anyway, when a newspaper carried by a light breeze landed on my face and woke me up the other afternoon — it was a good thing too because the shade I started out in had moved off and left me in the sun — and after I came to I looked the paper over.

A headline immediately caught my eye: "Doctor Says Man's Sleep Will Be Reduced To 3 Hours."

According to it, a British doctor claims people sleep too much, says the idea you should get 8 hours of sleep every night is nonsense, that five or six is enough and 3 is better.

This is a matter I'm going to have to sleep on before I come to a decision.

In the first place, I have noticed that some of the happiest hours of young parents take place when the youngster is asleep, and while 3 hours is some relief, 8 is better and if he wants to go for 10 or 12 that's better still. In this connection, it should be pointed out that the doctor who is proposing only 3 hours is now 70.

You show me a kid that sleeps only 3 hours and I'll show you a set of parents ready to collapse.

Furthermore, if people stay awake 21 hours out of every 24, you can multiply by a third the total traffic congestion, air pollution, noise, street rioting, etc. we're now getting.

In fact, probably what we need is somebody to put the world down for an 8-hour nap every other day and 8 hours of sleep every night.

One of the main troubles with the world is that the people who are running it don't get enough sleep. You can't make me believe they'd get us in the fixes they do if they'd waked up clear-headed and refreshed any day you want to mention.

My theory developed over years of experimenting is that everybody should go to sleep when he's sleepy and wake up when he's not, and if 3 hours will hold you, all right, but keep quiet at least till dawn.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Talk of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE

WHEN HISTORY REPEATS — Thousands will be on hand at Sabine Pass today (August 31) to watch a modern-day Dick Dowling demonstrate how he and 41 Irish-born Confederates defended Texas against an invasion by the Yankees 106 years ago.

It actually was on September 8, 1863, that Dowling, a Houston saloon-keeper, insured his place in history by stopping an armada of 27 Federal warships in the Battle of Sabine Pass. The Union Navy was attempting to bring in thousands of soldiers and sailors for what was planned as a major invasion of Texas.

Dowling and his little force of fighting Irish successfully defended the narrow strait. This Labor Day weekend, the city of Sabine Pass will reenact the battle with professional actors.

WHAT'S IN A NAME? — Round Rock, the Williamson County town famous as the nemesis of outlaw Sam Bass, actually was named for a round rock.

The huge oval boulder is still visible in Brushy Creek, on whose banks the community sprang up more than a century ago.

• • • •

THE SIGNS OF TEXAS — At St. Patrick's Co-Cathederal in Fort Worth, a sign above a storeroom stairway admonishes priests: "Watch thy step!"

• • • •

SPORTS NOTE — Baseball's Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, New York, where the all-time great stars of America's favorite pastime are honored, has a competitor now in Texas.

At Huntsville State Prison, a beautiful plaque listing the names of certain prisoners now hangs in the administration building of the headquarters unit. They are the felons who have won the championship of the prison's annual rodeo!

• • • •

PISTOL PACKING PREACHER — When the Rev. J. C. Powers was sermonizing at the Ash Creek Baptist Church at Azle, Tarrant County, a century ago, he always began by laying two long-barreled guns on the pulpit.

The pistols weren't there to help him induce sinners to hit the sawdust trail. They were a necessary protection in those days to discourage Indians from attacking.

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH — When Beaumont was an oil boom town at the turn of the century, its water supply was so bad that doctors urged the influx of new residents to drink whiskey instead.

This concerned some of the young ladies of the community who had organized an active Temperance Society years before. Hoping to save the oil field workers from the evils of alcohol, the girls boiled the local water to insure its purity. Then they dispensed it (without ice) at a dime a glass.

I have put in a first-class restaurant in the room adjoining the saddle and harness shop and am prepared to serve good, short-order meals, cold drinks, and ice cream-in fact, everything found in an up-to-date cafe and confectionary. The ranchmen's and cowboy's trade is especially solicited. Erastus Gamble.

50 YEARS AGO — 1919

The opening of schools on Monday marks the beginning of free text books. Most of the books are already on hand and prospects are that all books will be ready for distribution. ... The dates for the Deaf Smith County Fair, originally set for September 25, 26 and 27, have been changed to October 9, 10 and 11. The action was taken at the regular weekly luncheon of the directors and fair committee chairmen, when objection was made to the original dates on the ground that the farmers would be too busy in the harvest to attend at that time.

35 YEARS AGO — 1934

Sheriff John B. Miller was swept into office for the fourth consecutive term. He polled 922 votes to 856 for his opponent. Mrs. Bessie L. Smith, county treasurer, scored the most imposing victory in a county race. She triumphed over her opponent 936 to 830. . . 20 YEARS AGO — 1949

Parochial students will ride school buses to school this year and will operate on plans similar to past years. The decision was made Wednesday by the Deaf Smith County School Board which had previously ruled against transporting parochial students, due to changes presented under the Gilmer-Aikin revision of school laws. . . Spanish will be offered in Hereford High School this year, according to superintendent George Graham — provided enough students sign up for the course. He adds that this has been the case for several years, but the class has not secured sufficient enrollment to operate.

5 YEARS AGO — 1964

Hereford schools are off to a roaring start with an all-time enrollment high. Enrollment at the end of the first two days stood at 3599, which is 343 more pupils than were enrolled at the same time a year ago, and the peak is yet to be reached . . . King's Manor is "making ready fast" for its "Open Campus" next Thursday, and early this week will start moving into its newest units, the Rev. Don. Davidson, executive director of the home for oldsters, said Saturday.

IS ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. Buel Monroe, Rt. 4, Hereford, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Kathryn Marie, to Dusty Earl Duncan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Duncan, 205 Beach. Vows will be exchanged at 5:30 p.m. October 17 in the First Christian Church with the Rev. Eugene Brink, pastor, officiating. Both are graduates of Hereford High School and plan to make Hereford their home where he is employed by Three-R Feed Yards.

Water Rights Filing Dispute Cleared Here

The High Plains Undergroud Water Conservation District No. 1 has received numerous inquiries about notices sent to landowners from insurance companies, urging them to file for their water rights, and as a result of the legal notices that were run in the newspapers regarding the Water Rights Adjudication Act or 1967.

Otha Dent, Texas Water Rights Commissioner, has noted that the adjudication procedures do not pertain to groundwater, or water from playas (the intermittent lakes that are found throughout the High Plains area). These adjudication procedures also do not apply to water used from streams for stock watering or domestic purposes.

Bounty Hunter's Life Purpose

Available at the Deaf Smith County Library this week are two intensely mystifying mysteries concerning an uncanny murderer and the strange things that happen in the life of a bounty hunter.

MAYBERLY'S KILL
By William O. Turner

Zack Mayberly was not an ordinary bounty hunter. He was a man with a single purpose in life and through four long, dogged years he had tracked the Ambrose Brothers.

But Scipio and Tucker Ambrose were not ordinary criminals; they were cleve, cunning, and vicious and they had a special talent for eluding lawmen and bounty hunters.

Mayberly was one short jump behind them when they kidnapped Scipio's young son and suddenly dropped out of sight. When he picked up their trail again it puzzled him. . .it led to a religious colony called New Sanity.

And by the time Mayberly reached New Sanity strange things were happening. . .with even stranger things to follow.

THE SHADOWBOXER
By Noel Behn

The setting of The Shadowboxer is Europe in 1944.

Moving at will across the most closely guarded frontiers and into the most secret places of the Third Reich is a single, mysterious, lone-wolf agent — The Shadowboxer.

Who is he?

To the outraged Nazi Security Organization, he is a faceless murderer, an arch-enemy of the Reich, whose freeing of German prisoners must be stopped at any cost.

To Soviet intelligence, his is the key to the disappearance of high-ranking German political exiles all over the world — and the only clue to the purpose of the secret reconstruction of Auschwitz - Birkenau concentration Camp in the isolated wastes of Scotland.

To the American officers of GPG, he is an essential element in an internecine power struggle that may cost the lives of 5,000 GI's and give the winner postwar Germany as a private fiefdom.

To the German girl he has rescued, he is an unwanted intermission in the brutal pornographic film that has become her life.

To Erik Spangler, he is a hallucinating alter ego.

The tens of thousands of readers who enjoyed "The Kremlin Letter" will find Noe Behn in his most brilliantly mystifying vein, as the Shadowboxer unfolds the most Grandiose conspiracy ever to darken American History.

Butler Acquires Oswalt Industries

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Butler Manufacturing Company announced that it has acquired for cash, all of the outstanding stock of Oswalt Industries, Inc., of Garden City, Kan.

Oswalt, a closely held firm, is a manufacturer of products for the cattle feed lot industry and also makes continuous flow crop drying equipment. For the fiscal year ended January 31, 1969, Oswalt had sales of nearly $5 million, while Butler, for the calendar year 1968 reported sales of $135 million.

Oswalt Industries has a branch operation in Hereford.

Butler, through its Agri-Products and Jamesway Divisions, is currently a leading producer of farmstead structures and equipment. Butler also manufacturers pre-engineered building systems and transportation and storage equipment for liquids and dry bulk materials. George C. Dillon, president of Butler, stated that the purchase of Oswalt was in line with Butler's previously announced objective of making acquisitions in areas related to the company's present management and marketing strengths.

In commenting on the acquisition, Dillon said: "The purchase of Oswalt will broaden Butler's current agricultural product lines. The continuous flow crop dryer complements our existing grain storage structures and conditioning equipment, and the feed lot equipment gives Butler a stronger penetration into a market that is expanding rapidly.

Dillon aso reported that based on the latest corporate projections, Butler now expects third quarter earnings to fall below a year ago. Higher money costs are beginning to have an effect on orders, and it appears that earnings for all of 1969 will not equa those of 1968.

Weed Control To Be Emphasised

LUBBOCK — Chemical weed control has become a widespread practice on the High Plains and much research is presently underway at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center north of Lubbock to evaluate numerous herbicides and the control of several different weed species.

This research will be aired on one of the four special tours which will be conducted during the 60th annual field day and open house at the Center on Tuesday, Sept. 9 beginning at 1 p. m.

According to Dr. Dudley Smith, who heads up weed control research at the Center, this special tour will feature discussions of preemergence and postemergence herbicides commonly used in grain sorghum and cotton with an economic evaluation of each.

"Part of our research work in weed control is designed to evaluate the cost and return from various herbicides and to make this information available to producers," points out Smith. "We want to get this information down in dollars and cents because that's what the farmer is interested in. And we want to evaluate the different methods of weed control so that we can advise farmers on the economics of various weed control programs so that they can use the approach that is best suited for their production program."

Smith will also talk about various types of herbicide application equipment and will demonstrate a simple method of sprayer calibration.

Other discussions on herbicides will center around weed control in broadcast cotton, herbicide residue research and the response of various coton varities to herbicides.

Other special tours at the field day will be on broadcast cotton, cotton varieties and grain sorghum varieties. These tours as well as general tours of research plots will be conducted throughout the afternoon. The public is invited to participate in the annual event.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by he local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — Is a graduate school fellowship taxable?

A — Income from a fellowship is usually tax exempt. If you are a candidate for a degree there is no limit on the amount of tax-free income you may receive from a fellowship or scholarship grant.

However, if you teach or perform other services in connection with the award, the portion of the award that represents payment for this work is generally taxabe. This rule does not apply if all candidates for the degree, whether they have a fellowship or not, are also required to perform these services.

For additional information send a post card to your District Director for a free copy of Publication 507, "Tax Information On Scholarships and Fellowships."

Q — What are the benefits foks over 65 get when they sell their homes?

A — All or part profit made on such sales may be tax free when certain conditions are met. For example, the taxpayer must be 65 or over before the date of the sale and owned and used the home as his principa residence for five of the preceding eight years.

For more details on this provision of the law and to learn more about the tax benefits for those 65 or over, send a post card to your district office and ask for a free copy of Publication 554, "Tax Benefits For Older Americans."

Q — I read where I'll have to fill out an extra form next year to itemize my deductions instead of doing it on the back of the 1040. Is that right?

A — Yes, the place for itemized deductions has been moved from the back of Form 1040 to a separate schedule. The separate form is basically another way to organize the information required in a manner that benefits taxpayers by providing more space to list deductions.

Q — Can you still be audited even though a refund has come through O.K.?

A —Yes. IRS generaly has three years from the time a return is filed to make an audit and assess additional taxes. For this reason it is advisable to keep tax records for ordinary income and expense items at least three years. Some records, however, should be retained longer. For example, those supporting costs of investments, etc.

It usually takes about 5-6 weeks to process a return calling for a refund. In that time it is only possible to make sure the return is compete, the arithmetic is accurate and that the taxpayer is not filing a duplicate refund claim or has an outstanding tax liability.

About 5,000 markings on the battered face of the moon have been given names by the International Astronomical Union, which approves all lunar nomenclature, National Geographic says. Lunar craters bear such names as Jules Verne, Copernicus, Darwin, Einstein, Peary, and Byrd.

Brashear Now On R & R In Australia

Gene Brashear, who was recenily promoted to corporal in the US Marines while in combat near the DMZ north of Da-Nang in Vietnam, is currently on R & R in Sydney, Australia.

Cpl. Brashear contacted his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Brashear of 311 N. 25 Mile Ave., and told him that he would remain there until Tuesday.

Mrs. Brashear reported that letters received from her son have revealed that there is a dope problem among some of the military personnel stationed in Vietnam. "Gene has been interested in this problem from the standpoint of Hereford, through the newspaper stories," she said.

Quoting his recent letters home, Cpl. Brashear wrote that he believes the overseas drug problem is due in great respect to the lack of mail from home. He said, "They need mail from home to boost their morals."

Brashear pointed out that his mail from home is "almost a daily occurence."

He want on to say that the marijuana problem is a result of a communications barrier between the parents and their children. "But a lot of the time it's the child's fault. The child does not want to communicate with his parents."

Cpl. Brashear also reported that there has been "a lot of combat" where he has been stationed in Vietnam. "It's been rough."

Biologists estimate that there are 25,000 species of fish.

Sen. Tower Says Much Work Lies Ahead In Legislation

The Senate will reconvene in the next few days and again get back to its baily work of legislation.

The pending business is still the military procurement bill but I am hopeful that passage will come with comparative speed. You will recall that this is the bill which contains funds for research and initial deployment of the Safeguard Anti-Ballistic Missile system which proved to be such a controversial issue shortly before the Congressional recess. We were able to withstand a concerted attack, although by a narrow margin, and the Safeguard system was approved. I expect the House to give its approval by a much larger vote. The bill contains authorizations for all the many defense department programs. Some of these are also somewhat controversial and that is why the bill is still under Senate consideration.

The Senate will be spending much of its time during the remainder of this year in consideration and passage of the fiscal 1970 appropriation bills which will provide the actual funds to carry on the work authorized in earlier legislation. There are at least a dozen of these bills each year and thus far the Senate has acted on only two of them.

Of vital interest to us all will be the Congressional action on recommendations for changes in our federal income tax system.

Before Congress recessed, the House passed a tax reform bill which called for reduction of the oil depletion allowance, which is so vital to the interests of all Texans, to 20 per cent. I am opposed to that reduction and when the bill comes before the Senate, I will support restoration of the full 27.5 per cent depletion allowance for oil. The bill is now before the Senate's Finance Committee and is expected to be reported to the full Senate by October 31.

Other provisions of the House passed legislation include a reduction in individual taxes for most of us, a reduction in the number of tax-free foundations, a tax increase for most upper income taxpayers, and extension of the surtax from January 1 to June 30 but at a rate of only five per cent. Congress has already extended the surtax at the current 10 per cent rate through the end of this year. President Nixon had asked Congress for extension through this year at the 20 per cent rate and then another six months at five per cent. I believe it is vital that Congress provide the administration with this necessary tool in our efforts to combat inflation and keep this nation's economy healthy.

The tax bill, as passed by the House, woud also affect the current tax advantage offered to purchasers of state and municipal bonds as an incentive which benefits local taxpayers. The current law provides tax free interest on state and municipal bonds. This allows state and local governments to sell their revenue bonds at interest rates which are lower than the rates offered by other competing investment possibilities.

In turn, these lower interest rates help guard against increases in state and local taxes. This is why I favor continuation of the current tax-free status for interest on state and municipal bonds. The bill approved by the House would retain this tax-free interest provision but it includes language which will encourage state and local governments to issue bonds with taxable interest through provision of a federal subsidy. The language also discourages the purchase of bonds producing a total interest of more than $5,000 annually by any single individual.

Another piece of important legislation which I hope will gain passage as soon as possible includes significant reforms in our Selective Service System, commonly known as the draft.

Earlier this year, I was pleased that the President recommended draft revision legislation which closely paralleled a bill which I introduced last year and re-introduced in January.

My bill, and the President's requested legislation alike, would reverse Selective Service policy and take 19-year-olds first. Both would also limit the time of draft vulnerability for each young man to one year, barring national emegency. Under the existing system a man is vulnerable to the draft anytime from age 19 through age 26.

I believe such a length of time is unfair to our young men. It prevents him from being able to plan their lives with a high degree of certainty.

Both the President's proposal and my bill would allow continued educational deferments. An individual would be placed in his one year of prime vulnerability at the end of his period of deferment.

The President's proposal also includes a fair system of random selection to choose between the young men in their prime vulnerability year when our nation's military needs are less than the number of men available.

Commission OK $38,000 For County In 1970

The Texas Highway Commission has approved the expenditure of $38,000 for State Highway Safety and Betterment in Deaf Smith County during 1970.

District Engineer Charles W. Smith of Amarillo said that this money woud be expended for placing concrete riprap slope protection on the fills at the Santa Fe Underpass on U. S. Highway 385 in Hereford.

"This work should not only protect the slopes from erosion, but in addition should improve the appearance of this structure," Smith said.

This work will be under the supervision of W. V. York, Supervising Resident Engineer at Canyon.
