ECONOMY DRIVE IS LAUNCHED

Special Session Over Vacancy Racket Hinted

Member of Associated Press—Day and Night Leased Wire Service

LUBBOCK EVENING JOURNAL

VOL. 14, NO. 86 LUBBOCK, TEXAS, "The Hub Of The Plains", THURSDAY, JANUARY 6, 1938

Unusual "Charity Patients"

The two sisters shown below, Roberta, left, and Olivia Hale, were charity patients in a Washington hospital when relief workers, investigating their poor rooms, found $10,000 in hoarded bills. For years a relief society had been contributing $50 per month to their support. The women are over 90 years of age.

'Liberal' Seen For Vacancy In Court

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Senators commenting on the retirement from the Supreme court of Justice George Sutherland emphasized two points today:

1. That President Roosevelt's nominee to fill the vacancy will be subjected to careful senatorial scrutiny.

2. That prospect of a definite "liberal" majority on the court shoved into the background possibility of reviving the president's judiciary reorganization bill.

Bridges Proposes Hearings

Senator Bridges (R-NH) already has proposed that senate hearings be required on Supreme court nominations, and was expected to seek approval of such a rule before a nomination is submitted.

Senator Copeland (D-NY), who first asserted Justice Hugo L. Black had been a Ku Klux Klansman, said any nominee would be "closely scrutinized."

Speculation over a successor to the 75-year old Justice Sutherland, who asked to step down from the bench Jan. 18 because of his age, found most senators in agreement that a "liberal" would be proposed. Four present justices—Brandeis, Stone, Cardozo and Black—have been so classified by administration officials.

Majority Would Be Changed

Thus, senators argued, a majority of the court could be expected to favor Roosevelt legislation, nullifying any further demand of administration leaders for a change in the judicial set-up.

Many names were mentioned in speculation over candidates to succeed Justice Sutherland, but all were pure guesses.

Heading the list was Solicitor General Stanley Reed, prominently mentioned for the vacancy to which Justice Black was named last summer.

Others high in the speculative list were Senators Minton (D-Ind)

FDR FELICITATES JUSTICE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—President Roosevelt, in acknowledging today the letter of retirement of Associate Justice George Sutherland of the Supreme court, felicitated the justice on his "many years of public service."

The president also expressed the hope of Mrs. Roosevelt and himself that the justice and his wife would be present at the White House dinner to the Supreme court January 29, two days after Sutherdand's retirement takes effect.

Ford Case To Go To Courts

BEST TO ACCEPT RULINGS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6. (AP)—The National Relations board said today in its second annual report "an increasing number of employers" have come to realize it is best to accept board rulings without opposition.

"As resistance decreases and its work is speeded up," the report added, "the board expects that formal proceedings, now necessary in many cases, will be replaced by informal and rapid adjustment of complaints."

The board said it had disposed of 1,429 cases in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1937, in 446 of which strikes were in progress.

Washington the Ford petition for a rehearing.

Almost immediately the respondent filed with the Detroit office of the board notice that it did not intend to comply with numerous provisions of the board's decision, including an order to rehire 29 persons allegedly dismissed for union activity.

The Ford company in its latest pleadings stated its position as follows:

"It is the intention of the respondent to obey in the future, as it has in the past, the provisions of the National Labor Relations act upon which the decision and order

Fagg Is Appointed Cooperative Chief

Charles C. Fagg, Lubbock, graduate in 1929 of Texas Technological college and former assistant secretary-treasurer of the First Federal Savings & Loan association of Lubbock, is the new superintendent of South Plains Electric Cooperative, Inc. Anncuncement of his appointment was issued by Rural Electrification administration.

Fagg graduated from Eastland high school and entered Texas Technological college in 1925. He graduated in 1929 with a B. A. degree, majoring in economics. He was employed with the Texas Electric Service Co., at Abilene and other points for about six years, serving as operation-maintenance man and also chief clerk and accountant. He also conducted classes in safety and salesmanship for the company.

A year or two ago he was employed as accountant and assistant secretary-treasurer of the savings group, retiring last September.

South Plains Electric Cooperative, Inc., has been granted an allotment of $100,000 by REA. The project includes 201 miles of high line serving 568 customers in Lubbock county.

Formal approval of his appointment was made Monday by REA.

State Board Is Advocated For Leasing Work

Session Hint Is Given In Correspondence Between Allred, Houston Man

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 6—Governor James V. Allred made public today a letter from H. L. Mills of Houston stating investigations by the Texas State Teachers association indicated a racket in land vacancy matters and advocating a state board to supervise leasing of public lands.

Hint of a special session of the legislature to consider revision of land laws was contained in the correspondence between Mills, who is chairman of the permanent school land committee of the association, a member of the state teachers retirement board and business manager of the Houston independent school district, and the governor.

School Fund Is Loser

Expressing concern over some school land transactions, Mills said it was evident the public school fund was loser of $1,250,000 at the present time, that is money that could have been in the fund if leases had been made on the basis of the highest cash offer with a one-eighth loyalty retained.

He said many leases had been awarded to the low cash bidder with the one-eighth royalty and with provision for additional royalties after production of a certain amount of oil.

Sentiment Is Growing

"Our investigations have led us to believe there has been more or less of a racket sometimes in the question of vacancies," he wrote. "We are finding a sentiment growing in the country which we fear is going to react against all land laws."

He voiced the opinion vacancy suits were sometimes filed wilfully to create sentiment against all school land laws, adding if a land board were created, given a fund of $25,000 and allowed to employ its own engineers and surveyors, making "an honest effort to locate vacancies," the situation would be different.

"Indeed this is a serious situation, and many of us are disturb-

Man Is Held In Hijacking Case

(Special To The Journal)

LAMESA, Jan. 6.—Possibility of further and more tangible developments soon in solving the hijacking of a haberdasher here and the fatal shooting on the night of Dec. 11 of Maxie Woodroof, clerk, were seen by Sheriff Gus White of Dawson county.

John Kellar, Texas Highway patrolman and a Wichita Falls detective, according to the Associated Press, are working on investigations at Wichita Falls and several towns just across the Oklahoma-Texas state line.

Man Is Arrested

Wichita Falls authorities arrested a man Wednesday who said he lived at Lamesa. He was arrested on the strength of a circular from the Dawson county sheriff's office. White indicated the man would be transferred here for investigation of theft but said he was not associated with the hijacking and slaying.

A Lamesa man, about 32, was arrested here Saturday by Deputy Sheriff E. P. Anderson, City Marshal Jack Phinizy, and Barney Yarbrough, city officer, in connection with the hijacking. He is being held pending further investigations and no charges have been filed against him.

Hurt's haberdashery was hijacked here early on the night of Dec. 11 and several hundreds of dollars in cash was taken. The bandit was chased by Woodroof about a block and in an altercation Woodroof was shot. He died early the next day.

Lamar County Clerk Receives Unusual Request On License

PARIS, Jan. 6 (AP)—County Clerk Roy Weaver receives many a request from parent or guardian not to issue marriage licenses, but the plea of a deadly-serious caller gave him something to think about.

His caller explained earnestly:

"I came in to ask you not to issue a marriage license to a woman's who's trying to marry me. I mean it, too. She threatened me with a knife and said she was coming to get a license."

British Jobless Increase Is Registered; Total 1,655,407

Secret Plans Behind FDR's Trust Drive

Six-Part Program Slated To Curb Monopolies; Has Political Incentive

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6. — The secret New Deal program for dealing with the monopoly problem and curbing great concentrations of financial-economic power calls for action along these lines:

1. Rewriting the anti-trust laws in the light of Supreme court decisions which have made those laws unenforcable.

2. Revision of the Federal Trade commission statutes in such manner that the Supreme court will be compelled by law to respect the FTC's findings of fact in monopoly cases.

Disqualify Identical Bids

3. Disqualification of all identical bids by companies seeking government business.

4. A tax program which will ease or remove the corporation surplus profits tax as it applies to small corporations, but keep it operative for big corporations.

5. A general policy of heavy taxation of "over-sized" corporations, possibly with the aim of making it impossible for holding companies to operate in interstate commerce.

6. Requirement that individual corporations doing interstate business be required to have a certain number of competitors. A large industrial corporation, for instance, might by prohibitive taxation or some other method, be prevented from doing more than 25 per cent, or some other arbitrary percentage, of the business in its industry.

For All Or Part

So there it is. You will notice that the program gets more radical with each point.

Roosevelt is in sympathy with and may fight for part or all of this formula. It is espoused by Assistant Attorney General Robert H. Jackson, Secretary of the Interior Ickes, and other officials on the inside group—for which Jackson has been talking in his recent speeches.

Political Incentive Strong

The administration's past sins of omission and commission as to monopoly suggest the possibility that the president may not go through with the program, although there is a strong political incentive to do so, and the recent Jackson-Ickes speeches were made in full

HOUSTON MERCHANT DIES

HOUSTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—W. C. Munn 74, one-time sewing machine salesman who became owner of one of Houston's largest department stores, died unexpectedly today at his home. He established his store in the heart of Houston's business area in 1906 and the sore expanded with the years.

Albert B. Fall, In Improved Health, Believes Debt Paid; Harbors Bitter Resignation

(By The Associated Press)

EL PASO, Jan. 6. — Albert B. Fall, gaunt of face and hair bleached a snowy white, gazed upon the New Year today with a bitter resignation toward life.

"I'll never get out of bed—I haven't long to live," he said in one of his rare interviews at the William Beaumont general hospital.

A lot of water has gone under the bridge since the October day of 1924 when the United States Supreme court, setting aside his lease of the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve to Harry F. Sinclair, branded him "a faithless public servant."

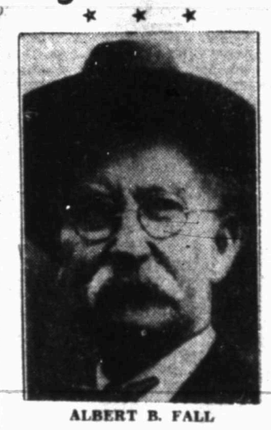

Since then there have been prison, illness and trouble.

In Better Health Now

The former secretary of the interior enters 1938 actually in better health than he has experienced in several years.

Yet the fire of the once lusty political leader has long since died out—only the black cigars, which distinguished him in the United States senate, remain as a reminder of other days.

He is 76, yet looks far older.

ALBERT B. FALL

Fall still clings bitterly to his assertion that the $100,000 paid him in the Teapot Dome case was a loan, not a bribe.

"I've paid my debt to society. I owe it nothing now."

Balancing The Budget? It's Cinch, Just Turn To Page 454 And Pound Few Times

BY EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Balancing the new budget is a cinch—you open it at page 454, pound it a couple of times to break down resistance and there you are.

It's a wonder somebody hasn't thought of it before.

The task is much easier this year, for the budget—or Uncle Sam's cold reckoning of how much it's going to cost to keep himself for the 12 months beginning July 1—has an even number of pages.

It hasn't been so lately. Last year's counted 895 pages the year before, 859, and the year before that, 871.

Physically, the budget of the United States is one of the oldest and biggest documents printed in the English language. But it's no best seller. A pamphlet on "Diseases of The Horse" is in greater demand.

For attention to detail, however, the budget is in a class by itself. Consider these items:

The estimated cost of shoeing five horses at the Washington zoo.

Eradication of barberries and and phoney-peach and peach mosaics.

Suppression of liquor traffic among the Indians.

The cost of laundry at the White House.

Preservation of the birthplace of Abraham Lincoln.

One of the strangest entries comes under the Supreme court bracket—"transportation of things." For the present year President Roosevelt estimated it would cost $50 to transport things up there He didn't allow any money for next year.

Vice President Will Lose Sleep Tonight

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—Whether he likes it or not—and he doesn't—Vice President Garner will have to stand still at 7:30 o'clock tonight while Mrs. Garner coaxes his white tie into place.

A half hour later they will be due at the White House for the annual dinner given the vice president by the president.

Last year Garner telephoned President Roosevelt and proposed they "swap" favors: the president would not give his dinner for Garner, and Garner would not give his dinner for the president. Both men were happy.

But this year social precedence won. The dinners will be given—and the vice president will lose about three hours sleep tonight.

Fine Payments In City Court Are $96 First Two Hours

Collections in city corporation court this morning amounted to $96 the first two hours, said Lewis Kittrell, city recorder. More was to be paid during the day.

Thirty-eight persons were in the city jail during the night. There were five held for investigation, eight for being drunk, one for reckless driving and two on vagrancy charges.

A youth, charged with reckless driving, ran into a police car. Officers said he was "doing 70 miles and hour."

Morgan Mentioned For Georgia Post

ATLANTA, Jan. 6. (AP)—Reports published here today said Dell Morgan, Auburn line coach, had the inside track for appointment as head coach at the University of Georgia.

Morgan, here for a conference with Harold Hirsch, Atlanta attorney and members of a five man sub-committee delegated to recommend a coaching set-up for Georgia, declined to comment. Hirsch remained silent also.

Other reports here said Mervin (Chick) Shiver, All America end at Georgia in 1927, would be brought in as end coach and Joel Hunt, Louisiana State backfield coach, as backfield coach for Georgia.

The five man sub-committee is scheduled to meet today. Its recommendations will be turned over to the 19-man University of Georgia athletic board which is expected to meet next week for a final decision.

Slip Of Lip Causes Trip To Hospital; Chest Hair Burns

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 6. (AP)—A slip of the lip cost Henry Blunk, 27 second-degree burns and a trip to the hospital.

Blunk forgot he had a lighted cigaret in his mouth and yawned. The cigaret fell inside his open shirt collar and set fire to the hair on his chest.

Your Pronunciation Bad? Maybe It's Because You're Conceited, New York Report Suggests

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 6—If your pronunciation is bad, maybe it's because you're conceited.

If you say, for instance, "govment" for "government," "probly" for "probably," and "ciddy" for "city."

Dr. Joseph Vandenburg, chairman of the board of examiners of school teachers, declared in a report today:

"The real difficulty in most cases of unsatisfactory speech lies in the stamp of approval the person himself has given to his own speech with no other authority than that of his own dulled hearing."

People make "the comforting but false assumption," he said, "that because one's speech is not criticized, it must necessarily be above criticism."

New Yorkers have distorted old Mother English into "New Yorkese" to the point of "menace," he said.

He listed as speech sin No. 1 the substitution of one consonant for another—"dese," "dem," "dose," etc.

Sin No. 2 is distorting vowels —"erl boiner" for oil burner, and "toime" for time.

Sin No. 3 is too speedy pronunciation, causing slurring, like "govment," "probly" and "fifs" for "fifths."

Preparations On For Long Range Wars

Chiang Kia-Shek Directing Mobilization Of Men, Money And Munitions

(By The Associated Press)

China, Japan and Spain made long range preparations for their respective wars today.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek directed a mobilization of men, and munitions which by spring was expected to put 80 full divisions in the field aaginst Japan. Chinese officials insisted the government had enough money and arms for a long war.

Japs Plan New Measures

The Japanese government planned new measures to control magazine and newspaper writing and public speaking for the duration of the war with China.

Foreign news reports from Hankow, principal seat of the central Chinese government, said Japanese planes had bombed the airdrome and broadcasting station there, in the second raid of the week.

Spanish government and insurgent forces extended their lines to the north of Teruel for a "decisive" battle before the gates of the strategic provincial capital.

Madrid Shivers

Madrid shivered from a drastic war economy. Civil authorities in the former republican capital were ordered to arrest persons violating restrictions on use of electricity.

Civil Governor Trigo Mairal said heavy household use of electricity impeded work in war industries. Enforcement of the decree would leave Madrid virtually without heat. Coal was available only for hospitals.

The insurgents' chief radio spokesman, Gen. Gonzalo Queipo de Llano, admitted the insurgents were not in control of Teruel.

Military observers have said that as Teruel goes so may go the civil conflict, which is in its 18th month.

Expansion For Navy Is Seen

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6—Admiral William D. Leahy said today President Roosevelt's forthcoming message on naval policy was "apt to be" a call for basic expansion of the fleet—the fifth shipbuilding program undertaken since the World war.

This would be in addition to a call for funds to begin work immediately on one group of new warships, added Leahy, who was among naval officials discussing the message with Mr. Roosevelt yesterday.

PLANES TO GO TO HAWAII

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Jan. 6. (AP)—Forty-two navy patrol and bombing planes will be flown from San Diego to Hawaii this year to make the airforce at the crossroads of the Pacific the strongest in history, fleet patrol wing officials revealed here today.

The transfer of the new fighting planes will be started Jan. 19 with the greatest long-distance mass flight yet undertaken by the navy.

Eighteen of the aircraft, manned by more than 100 officers and men under Lieut. Commander S. B. Warner, will leave here on that date for Pearl Harbor, Honolulu, more than 2,500 miles away. Others will follow during the year.

This government's existing policy is embodied in the 1934 Vinson-Trammell act, authorizing orderly

Profitable Two Hours Spent In Drunkenness Sentence

HAPEVILLE, Ga., Jan. 6. (AP)—It was a profitable two hours which Lamar Couch spent seated upon Hapeville's public "worrying rock" as a sentence for New Year's drunkenness.

Couch said today sympathetic passerby and photographers had tossed $15.62 into his hat while he worried on the stone slab down by the railroad station with an ice-bag on his head.

RECOGNITION ANNOUNCED

ROME, Jan. 6. (AP)—The ministry of popular culture announced today that Rumania would recognize the Italian empire by accrediting a minister to Vittorio Emanuele as king, and emperor of Ethiopia. This would bring to seven the nations which have given recognition by so addressing an envoy's credentials.

FORT WORTH, Jan. 6. (AP)—Jack H. Hott, secretary-manager of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce, died at noon today.

Agencies Face Cut In Funds From House

Reduction Of $118,538,800 Is Recommended For 30 Government Units

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6—The house appropriations committee began an economy drive today by recommending appropriation of $1,414,818,515 to finance more than 30 independent governmental agencies for the coming fiscal year—a saving of $118,538,800 over the current year.

The measure, first of the regular annual supply bills, slashed $3,732,000 off the budget bureau's estimates, most of the cut being borne by the Tennessee Valley authority.

Request Is Rejected

Rejecting the authority's request for $2,898,000 to start construction of the $112,000,000 flood control dam at Gilbertsville, Ky., the committee allotted only $285,000, for "project investigations" on this undertaking. The bill carries a total of $37,087,000 for the TVA plus a $4,000,000 contract authorization.

The bulk of the saving over this year's expenditures resulted from a $123,669,000 cut in funds for the Civilian Conservation corps and reductions of $37,914,500 for the Veteran's administration, and $23,845,077 for the railroad retirement board.

Increases Offset Economies

Increases of $70,559,322 for the Social Security board; $1,036,500 for the Interstate Commerce commission; $1,852,000 for the Civil Service retirement fund, and $385,000 for the National Labor Relations board, offset the economies.

In reporting the bill to the house the committee included a sharply worded criticism of governmental publicity expenditures, the primary purpose of which, it said, "is to build up a public demand for the services of the agency issuing the publicity."

Conforms To Budget

The drastic cut in the C. C. C. funds conformed directly to the budget bureau's recommendations and would give the agency $226,331,000 for the next fiscal year in contrast to the $350,000,000 for the current year.

The committee said the slash would mean elimination of 412 C. C. C. camps and reduction of enrollees from 315,000 to 250,000. Final decision has not been made, the report said, as to what camps will be abandoned.

Staff Increase Denied

The committee denied a Labor Relations board request for $20,000 to add 12 employes to its Washington staff, but approved an increase of $142,293 for 31 additional field employes, described as necessary because of the impetus given the

Knudsen Cites Drop In Company Sales

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6. (AP)—William S. Knudsen, president of General Motors corporation, told a special senate unemployment committee today that his company experienced the severest sales drop in history during November and December, making a layoff of men essential.

General Motors laid off 30,000 men January 1.

Taking a quick look at the future, however, the automobile builder told the committee he hoped for an upturn in business by spring.

The lay-off of 30,000 men, he said, was considered "only temporary." He added that the automobile business ordinarily picks up in the spring.

A sharp drop in sales occurred during the latter part of November Knudsen said, but the company then hoped the low point had been reached and that its employes could be kept at work.

He said the corporation suffered a further severe decline in early December "and it became necessary to adjust the working force."

"The drop in sales in so short a period is the most severe experienced in the history of General Motors," he added. "It was wholly unexpected and beyond our control."

Week-End Programs Of Lubbock Music Club, A.A.U.W. Unit Announced

Ballet Is Subject For Discussions

Programs on the fine arts sponsored by the Lubbock Music club and the Lubbock branch, American Association of University Women, will be of interest to several hundred persons this week-end.

A lecture and demonstration on "The Ballet" will feature the meeting of the A.A.U.W. in room 107 of the home economics building on Texas Technological college campus at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Mrs. George Langford and Miss Zella Riegel, professors of physical education for women at Tech college, will present the program.

To Describe Ballet

Mrs. Langford will give the origin of the ballet and tell of contributions of various countries to this form of the dance. She will describe the Joose ballet which is to appear in Lubbock this spring as a number of the Tech artists course.

Miss Riegel will tell of the drastic training necessary for the ballet and describe the type of exercises necessary before one can fit herelf for ballet work.

Demontration of the technique and a ballet number will be given by Miss Ann Sproule of the Sproule School of the Dance which specializes in ballet.

Forty To Attend Tea

The Music club is sponsoring a "neighbor" tea Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Roscoe Wilson, 2201 Broadway. Forty women from music clubs at Brownfield, Levelland, Slaton and Littlefield are expected. Each club will furnish a musical number.

Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock the club is sponsoring a public musical at the First Methodist church. There will be no admission charge.

Mrs. Raymond Marshall, club president, will give a brief welcome address and the program will be announced by Mrs. A. W. Evans. The program includes numbers by the club chorus, "He Shall Feed His Flock" (Handel) with Mrs. Mamie I. Neal at the organ and Mrs. C. E. Hereford at the piano; "Where E'er You Walk" (Handel), Mrs. Hereford at the piano and "Lullabye" (Brahms) with organ and piano accompaniment and Miss Beulah Dunn, cello and Miss Ruth Graydon, violin obligatos. Mrs. P. H. Laverty will direct.

Other Selections

Mesdames Elois Elliott and Marlin R. Smith are to play a piano and organ duet; Mrs. Carl Scoggin will sing; Miss Christia Cowan is to sing "Voi, che sapete" (Mozart); Mrs. David S. Martin will play a piano solo; Prelude and Fugue (Bach); Mrs. Neal will play an organ number and Miss Dunn will direct a stringed ensemble in "Minuet in E Flat" (Mozart). In addition to the musical numbers, Mrs. E. L. Robertson is to talk on the life and works of Bach.

Personnel of the club chorus is Mesdames Marshall, Townsen Waddill, Josephine Ballenger, M. V. Gray, H. W. Moore, Smith, Elliott, G. N. Atkinson, Misses Ruth Mildred Rylander and Lois Mangum.

Headgear For Milady Is To Be Sensible This Spring

Headgear for milady has been rather startling during the past year. Hats closely resembling the combrero, cowboy "ten galloners," and hats with Spanish veils accompanied the Pan-American exposition to Texas. After this hats became more austere and queenly due to the influence of the British coronation. Egyptian styles also have been good this season.

Skyscraping dunce hats, off-the-face hats with gauzy veils, "buccaneer" felt hats, glorified bonnets, and a miscellaneous array of shapeless lumps has been fashion's credo this season. The spring hats, however, are to be sensible, easy-to-wear hats. They will resemble the hats of 1914-1915 complete with old-fashioned hatpin. The spring hats are to be really hats. But will the women long continue to wear plain "hats" as headgear? Well, at least they never have.

Monthly Tea Given For Faculty Club

A monthly tea given for the Faculty Women's club at Texas Technological college in the lounge of the women's dormitory on the campus was attended by 52 women. Mr. D. O. Wiley presided at the register.

Guests were received by Mrs. H. F. Godeke, chairman of hostesses, and Mesdames Albert Barnett, Alan L. Strout, C. C. Schmidt, Harry Hill, O. T. Ryan, M. F. Landwer, Clovis Green, K. M. Renner, T. C. Root, W. M. Craig and Miss Bonnie K. Dysart.

Special guests were Mrs. G. H. Nelson and several visitors in homes of faculty folk. They included Miss Virginia West of Dallas, Mrs. G. W. Pettit of near Chicago, Mrs. G. G. Berg of Dayton, Ia., and Mrs. D. E. McAllister of Boulder, Colo.

Set With Silver

The tea table was covered with a cream satin cloth and set with silver service. Small red flowers in silver compotes, at either end of the table, and lighted red candles in crystal candelabra completed the decorations. Molded salad, corn muffins and coffee were served. Mesdames Bradford Knapp and C. S. Mast presided at the table. The occasion was Mrs. Mast's birthday.

Entertainment included a get-acquainted game in which members and guests were divided into four groups, brunettes, blondes, red-heads and grey-haired women. After a brief period of conversation the women were asked to form four other groups, according to the months of their birthdays, for informal conversation.

POSTPONE PARTY

An Ace-Trey club party, scheduled for Friday afternoon, has been postponed because of the illness of the father of Mrs. T. H. St. Clair, who was to have been hostess.

Club Activity Gets Underway In City

Lubbock club women began their scheduled programs again this week after inactivity since the middle of December.

A program on speech defects and correction was presented at a meeting of the Madonna circle of the Child Conservation league in the home of Mrs. Harold Munn, 2210 Avenue U.

Mrs. Robert McCarty read a paper on proper treatment of speech defects and roundtable discussion was conducted. Miss Ruth Pirtle, head of the Texas Technological college speech department, was scheduled to speak but was unable to attend because of illness.

Mesdames Watson Wilson and Dick Perdue were guests. Others attending were Mesdames Elmo Adair, J. S. Hollingsworth, J. H. Pruitt, Ralph Bedford, H. E. Selby, Alex McDonald, C. W. Ratcliff, Eugene Hancock and Hubert L. Burgess.

The next meeting will be January 19 in the home of Mrs. R. A. Mills, 2627 Twenty-second street, who will show her glassware collection and speak on the subject of collecting antique glassware.

In Spite Of December Collection Record In Taxes, Payments For New Tax Year Smaller Than 1936; Conditions Cited

In spite of the fact that December tax collections broke all records, total payments since Oct. 1 for the new tax year have been smaller than for the same period in 1936, according to information given Wednesday by the county, city and Lubbock independent school district tax assessor-collectors.

The drop, however, was attributed to a number of conditions which, paradoxically, indicate a more satisfactory collection condition than was the case last year.

Conditions Are Cited

Among those conditions cited are that city tax collections did not begin until late November because of delay in setting the tax rate, that the state tax rate was reduced 13 cents on the $100 of valuation, and that few of the larger taxpayers took advantage of the opportunity this year to pay taxes in two installments. That means, said officials, that they will pay all their taxes before the Jan. 31 deadline.

Although final tabulations from the office of the county collector's office were not available immediately, indications were that county collections would be about the same as last year and that state collections in Lubbock county would be slightly less in view of a reduction in the rate of 13 cents from 62 cents to 49 cents.

December Gains Chalked

Collections at the three offices, for schools, city, and county and state, showed decreases in October and November of 1937 in comparisons with the same months of 1936, but December collections at the offices showed substantial gains.

Reason contributing to those facts, according to H. B. Bryan, county assessor-collector; A. C. Jackson, assessor-collector for Lubbock Independent School district; and E. C. Young, city assessor-collector, was the late harvest of cotton this year. Crops in 1936, they pointed out, were earlier thus putting money into circulation a "month or two" earlier than this season.

"New Records" Possible

All three collectors are expecting rushing business this month, "possibly with new records."

Total collections at the office of the county assessor-collector for the first three months of the current tax-paying season were $91,028.75 as compared with $104,815.81 for the preceding season. Most of the decrease, however, was in state tax collections and was attributed to reduction in rate of 13 cents per hundred dollars valuations.

With completion of cotton harvest close at hand, collections have begun to increase, the total at that office being $47,177.27 in December as compared with $38,036.76 for December 1936. The first two months of the season, however, showed decreases for two reasons, as pointed out by Bryan. In October and November only a small portion of cotton had been gathered, and landowners were busy with harvest postponing payment of taxes.

Figures Tabulated

Total collections at that office, including county and state taxes, were:

	1937	1936
October	$ 8,596.49	$20,061.05
November	35,254.99	46,718.00
December	47,177.27	38,036.76
Total	$91,028.75	$104,815.81

Total tax collections for the County of Lubbock, according to figures at the office of Bryan, in October, November, and December, amounted to $49,412.79 as compared with $52,058.52 for the same three months of 1936. It was estimated by Bryan, however, that enough taxes were received through the mail before Dec. 31 and which had not been opened to boost this season's total to equal that of the last quarter of 1936.

Only $4,702.37 in county taxes was collected in October as compared with $10,067.55 for the same month of the preceding year and $18,926.03 this November as compared with $22,984.22 for November of 1936, but the December totals exceeded by more than $6,500 the total for the same month of the preceding year.

County Collections Fall Off

County tax collections for October, November, and December of 1936 and 1937 were:

	1937	1936
October	$ 4,702.37	$10,067.55
November	18,926.03	22,984.22
December	25,784.39	19,006.75
Total	$49,412.79	$52,058.52

State tax collections for the first three months of this season showed a decrease of $11,141.33, or approximately 27 per cent, which is accounted for by a reduction of approximately 27 per cent in the rate. However, after tabulation of payments in the mail, officials said, that decrease probably will be diminished by several thousands of dollars.

Monthly comparisons are approximately the same as in collection of county taxes, the figures for the three months of 1936 and 1937 being:

	1937	1936
October	$ 3,894.12	$ 9,993.50
November	16,328.96	23,733.78
December	21,392.88	19,030.01
Total	$41,615.96	$52,757.29

City Shows Increase

After one of the largest December collections of taxes at the city tax office, totals there for the three-month period were boosted to $5,-897.57 more than for the same period of 1936, according to figures released by Young. December's total was $39,885.97 as compared with $20,-372.06 for the same month of the preceding year. Totals for the three months were $48,917.87 and $43,020.30, respectively. The first two months at that office were quiet with collections of $2,122.48 and $6,909.42, respectively, as compared with 1936's figures of $9,004.96 and $13,643.28, respectively.

It was pointed out that only delinquent taxes were collected in October 1937 and much of November since the tax roll was not completed until later than usual.

Comparative figures show:

	1937	1936
October	$ 2,122.48	$ 9,004.96
November	6,909.42	13,643.28
December	39,885.97	20,372.06
Total	$48,917.87	$43,020.30

Schools 4 Per Cent Up

An increase in collections the last quarter of 1937 at the Lubbock Independent School district assessor-collector's office, amounting to $3,-430.18, or 4 per cent more than for the same period of 1936, was shown in spite of an extensive and successful campaign of collection of delinquent taxes in 1936, according to figures released by Jackson.

The increase of collection of current taxes this season amounted to several times the 4 per cent increase in the totals which included both delinquent and current tax collections. There has been a decrease in collection of delinquent taxes because there are not so many delinquent as in 1936, it was explained.

As in the case of the other two offices, the first two months of this tax-paying season showed smaller totals than the two months of the preceding year. December's aggregate, however, showed an extensive gain.

Both Current And Delinquent

After totals of $10,414.18 and $32,-501.05 for October and November as compared with $17,686.72 and $35,-833.79 for the same months of 1936, December 1937's $48,075.43 as compared with $34,039.91 for the same month of 1936, the aggregate climbed to $90,990.66 to exceed the 1936 corresponding period's total of $87,560.42.

Comparative figures:

	1937	1936
October	$10,414.18	$17,686.72
November	32,501.05	35,833.79
December	48,075.43	34,039.91
Total	$90,990.66	$87,560.42

All figures included collection of both current and delinquent taxes.

Body Of Artist Is Found In Hollywood; Head Bashed In

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 6. (AP)—The body of Harry A. Raynes, 57-year-old artist, was found in a blood-spattered bedroom in his bachelor apartment here last night.

His head was bashed in. Police surgeons expressed belief he had been dead for at least 24 hours. The bathroom of the apartment also was blood-spattered and the place gave evidence of a terrific struggle, police said.

The discovery was made by officers who were called by the apartment house manager when a negro houseboy found the door bolted on the inside. Police learned Raynes lived alone and had moved into the apartment five months ago. They said he deposited $4,600 in a Hollywood bank a month ago.

EXECUTIONS SIMPLIFIED

CHICAGO (AP)—Progress note: Sheriff John Toman and Sheriff Fran Sain report that important county jail improvements during 1937 included clamping the electric chair permanently to a rubber floor, with all wires in place.

This eliminates moving the chair from storage for each execution.

FLASHES OF LIFE

(By The Associated Press)

Thanks For The Vote

WENATCHIE, Wash.—Albert Johnson, a former Republican congressman, received this letter from a voter who apparently didn't know he was defeated in the 1932 Democratic landslide:

"I have . . . voted for you, but the way congress has acted in the last year is disgusting, to say the least.

"The special session, I would say, is a disgrace to the country when you only passed one bill, and that for your salary.

"Can't you fellows put out some worthwhile legislation? If you can't, you had better stay at home."

"Sometimes it's great to be out," said Johnson.

A Link With Fame

DENVER—Arthur V. Fant, a draftsman, returned home from the Cotton Bowl football game at Dallas to learn he was the father of the first baby born in Denver in 1938. He named the boy Byron Arthur Fant, after Colorado's All-America grid star, Byron (Whizzer) White.

Jobless

OSSINING, N. Y.—The unemployment problem has hit Sing Sing prison:

Warden Lewis Lawes has inaugurated a "share-the-work" program because the prison is equipped with industrial employment facilities for only 687 inmates and the present Sing Sing population is 2,513.

But the unemployed prisoners face their problem cheerfully—they get three meals a day anyway.

Fished Out

CHICAGO — Policemen John Solberg and Edward O'Hayer had quite a job rescuing two wiling cats from a six-inch slit between two garages.

First they tied a piece of turkey meat to a long pole and dangled the delicacy in front of the singing cats. But they held fast. Then the policemen substituted hamburger for the turkey, later cheese for the hamburger, and cake for the cheese—but to no avail.

Somebody thought of salmon. The cats came out.

Pensioned Service

DES MOINES—State of Iowa is allowing a blind pensioner $2 a month support money for his dog.

Mrs. Bessie Regel, director of the state aid to the blind division, said one of 386 pension checks included a $2 allowance for the "eyes' of a blind pensioner.

The identity of the elderly man was not disclosed.

Littrell Rites Are To Be Held Friday

Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock Friday morning for Mrs. H. H. Littrell, 18, of 1710 Avenue F, who died at a hospital here Wednesday afternoon a few hours after a daughter weighing four pounds, 15 ounces was born.

Services will be at Avenue G Church of Christ with Elder Albert Smith officiating. Arrangements are in charge of Sanders Funeral home.

Mrs. Littrell's death was attributed to pneumonia. She was admitted to the hospital late Tuesday.

Mrs. Littrell is survived by her husband; their infant daughter; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Pilbirton of Lubbock; four brothers, Homer, Randall, Clyde, and Odis Pilbirton, all of Lubbock; and three sisters, Mrs. H. P. Davis, Mrs. L. V. Littrell, and Miss Ruby Pilbirton, all of Lubbock.

Dempsey Introduces Bill To Provide Financing Method

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6. (AP)—Representative Dempsey (D-NM) introduced a bill today prescribing a method of financing the proposed reclamation project in the Arch Hurley conservancy district in New Mexico through district and federal participation. The bill amends the act which authorized construction of the project.

Dempsey's aides said if the amendment should be approved it would permit the beginning of work immediately.

A bloc is a group of legislators organized to influence legislation; a lobby is a group of persons not members of a legislative body who try to influence legislation.

You'll have more fun when the SKIN is clear from WITHIN

NO man or woman wants to have a finger poked at them or receive sympathy because of an unhealthy skin appearance.

Some skin troubles are tough to correct, but we do know this—skin tissues like the body itself must be fed from within.

To make the food we eat available for strength and energy, there must be an abundance of red-blood-cells.

S.S.S. Tonic builds these precious red cells. It is a simple, internal remedy, tested for generations and also proven by scientific research.

You, too, will want to take S.S.S. Tonic to regain and to maintain your red-blood-cells... to restore lost weight ... to regain energy ... to strengthen nerves ... and to give to your skin that natural health glow.

Take the S.S.S. Tonic treatment and shortly you should be delighted with the way you feel ... and have your friends compliment you on the way you look. Available at any drug store.

Will He Bid $10.00 or $40.00?

Fletcher Valentine knows tobacco values... like so many other independent experts he smokes Luckies!

"I'VE bought 4,000,000 pounds of tobacco at auctions in the past ten years," says Mr. Valentine, independent buyer of Westfield, N. C., "and my bread and butter depends on making the right bids. That's why I have to know tobacco values.

"Now I've smoked Luckies ever since 1918, and the reason is, they suit my taste to a 'T'. Nobody knows better than we tobacco men that Luckies are made of the finest center-leaf tobacco."

Yes—and that isn't all... Luckies' exclusive process, "It's Toasted" takes out certain irritants naturally present in all tobacco—even the finest! The result is that you will find Luckies not only taste good but are easy on your throat.

Surely, independent experts like Mr. Valentine make good judges of cigarettes ... Sworn records show that, among independent tobacco experts, Luckies have twice as many exclusive smokers as have all other cigarettes combined!

Nation's 'Dust Bowl' Getting Smaller Every Year, AAA Chief Says

Conservation's Results Seen

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6—George E. Farrell, chief of the western division of the Agricultural Adjustment administration, reviewed conservation work in the "dust bowl" and decided the area is "getting smaller every year—swinging back."

"Farmers in the dust bowl have learned more about listing and utilizing crops to prevent soil blowing," he said. "In some places they have bucket listed, dug wide ditches with check dams, and the moisture has penetrated the subsoil two to four feet. In other sections the moisture is only six to eight inches."

Should Have Moisture

Agricultural experts say two to three feet of moisture should be in the subsoil by Nov. 1 to give the farmer more than one chance in eight of making a crop.

Farrell estimated 25,000,000 acres are in the dust bowl area, and that between 3,000,000 and 5,000,000 acres are in "some stage of restoration." He said thousands of acres are being retired and cover crops now growing on them. The Soil Conservation forestry division has planted about 2,500,000 trees and will plant another 500,000 in selected spots next year as wind breaks.

"The government is offering to help restore 3,000,000 acres to grass by allowing 50 cents an acre for retirement," he added. "The farmers are aiding by dealing vigorously with the land exploiter through local control that is making for a better plains region."

Dalhart Forestry Project Is Declared Successful

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP) — The Soil Concervation service described its forestry project at Dalhart, Tex., as one of the most successful of all its tree planting programs inaugurated in the "dust bowl" to curb wind erosion.

John F. Preston, official of the forestry division of the conservation service, said about 80 per cent of the trees planted there are living and some have reached a height of 10 to 12 feet.

Still Experimental

Commenting on the work there and at similar projects in Channing, Vega and Hereford, Tex., Liberal, Kas.; Guymon, Okla.; Clayton, N. M., and Clovis, N. M., Preston said:

"Tree planting in the dust bowl is on an experimental basis. The number of places where the trees can be planted still is very limited.

Preston said 2,500,000 trees have been planted in the dust bowl and that another 500,000 would be set out next spring. He said many of the first trees planted died, but that more careful cultivation of later plantings was practiced and that about 60 to 70 per cent of the entire lot are thriving.

Results Not Determined

The program was started about two years ago and has not progressed far enough to determine results accurately, he said, and it is believed trees will affect the wind for a distance of 20 times the height of a windbreak.

Chinese elms, hackberry, a few cottonwoods, a limited amount of Osage orange, honey locust, desert willow, green ash, Russian mulberry and various shrubs are planted along gullies, ditches and roads where rainfall will drain.

Conservation officials estimated that about 12 per cent of the dust bowl project area has been retired to grass lands to provide a covering against blowing next spring.

East of the dust bowl the forest service is conducting its shelter-belt program, which one official said was expected to retard any eastward advance of the dust area.

The service plans to plant 300,000,000 trees next year in an area comprising parts of West Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, North Dakota, and South Dakota. Of the 44,000,000 trees planted by the service, survival was found to range from 94.8 per cent of honey locusts in Nebraska to 22.5 per cent of walnuts in Texas. The average survival of all trees planted was 70.1 per cent.

Forester Gerald Cook said the trees, properly set, would conserve soil moisture, prevent wind erosion and temper winds on crops and livestock.

SHIELD EXPERT HERE

H. M. SHEVNAN, widely known expert of Chicago, will personally be at the Hilton Hotel, Lubbock, Friday, only, January 7, from 9 A. M. to 6 P. M.

Mr. Shevnan says: The Zoetic Shield is a tremendous improvement over all former methods, effecting immediate results. It will not only hold the rupture perfectly but increase the circulation, strengthens the weakened parts, thereby closes the opening in ten days on the average case, regardless of heavy lifting, straining or any position the body may assume no matter the size or location. A nationally known scientific method. No under straps or cumbersome arrangements and absolutely no medicines or medical treatments.

Mr. Shevnan will be glad to demonstrate without charge.

Oil Industry's Outlook Tinged

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 6 — The start of the lowest gasoline-consuming period of the year found many oil men still confident they can "hold what they have" in crude prices despite the dark tinge of the general business picture and continued weakness of the gasoline market in the wake of oversupply.

For the first time in many months, oil production in December was less than market demand as estimated by the United States bureau of mines. The prospect for January in that regard is not so good but output should not be a great deal over the bureau's figures.

Keeping Close Watch

The oil industry, like other businesses, is keeping a close watch on proceedings in the regular session of congress which opened this week. Many leaders contend it is hampered by existing and threatened governmental restrictions.

In Texas, which produces more oil than any two other states, daily output is considerably greater than the 1,350,900 barrels recommended by the bureau but railroad commissioners do not appear alarmed. It probably will be cut back immediately after the next statewide proration hearing January 17.

Increase Is Granted

The commission yesterday granted the request of a purchaser from one area for a 4,000-barrel daily production increase and received petitions from two other purchasers for increases aggregating that much. Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson, who is chairman of the interstate oil compact body, interpreted these requests as another indication Texas is not producing more crude than it can sell.

Although Texas now supplies a larger percentage of the nation's oil than two years ago, many oil men in this state insist it is entitled to more because of its huge reserves. They claim it has more than half of the nation's known reserves yet is allowed only a little more than 40 per cent of the production.

Kansas Complains Also

Texas producers are not the only ones who have been complaining about their share of the national market. Kansas set its allowable for this month at 186,472 barrels daily, which was 9,772 barrels above the figure recommended by the bureau of mines.

The rich, new K. M. A. deep field near Wichita Falls is attracting widespread attention. It is considered one of the major strikes of the past year. Geologists say its proven area already is 40,000 acres and many persons believe it will be a major factor in Texas production before the end of the year.

A report later this month on how bottom hole pressure in the East Texas field is faring now that production is close to a half million barrels per day and the Sunday shutdowns are over is awaited with interest. Pressure declined alarmingly for several months, then regained some of its losses despite greater production. It went up slightly during the Sunday shutdown month.

WHEAT IS EXPORTED

LAREDO, Jan. 6 (AP) — An estimated 600 carloads of American and Argentine wheat were exported to Mexico through this port between Oct. 15 and the end of December. The Argentine cereal reached here through Galveston. Exporters say an estimated 600 carloads more will cross the line here early in 1398, due to a shortage in the Mexican wheat crop last year.

RAISES OWN MATERIALS

CLARENDON, Jan. 6 (AP)—W. G. Cottingham, Leila Lake farmer, showed here recently a new line of farm products — seven pairs of woolen blankets, 72x84, grown in his sheep corral. Fleeces from 14 sheep were required to make the blankets. Cottingham said, adding that 11 pounds of unwashed wool would make one pair of blankets.

Senators From Western States Line Up Behind Bratton For Justice

Appointment Is Advocated

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6. — Senators from western states lined up today behind Sam G. Bratton of Albuquerque, N. M., a federal district judge and former senate colleague, for appointment as successor to Justice Sutherland of the Supreme court.

Senators Hatch and Chavez of New Mexico; Adams and Johnson of Colorado; Capper of Kansas, and King of Utah praised Judge Bratton's record in the senate and on the federal bench and said they would "be in favor of his appointment" when Sutherland retired.

Senator Chavez said he would urge the president to nominate Bratton. His colleague, Senator Hatch, said he "would be most happy if Judge Bratton were nominated, but I know he feels that the president should be allowed to decide the selection of a successor to Justice Sutherland without any outside pressure. Therefore, I am not going to ask the president to name Judge Bratton."

LIKE that of a tree, the growth of an individual, or business or a city must be healthy. Deep rooting, careful pruning, proper nourishment . . . all are necessary.

NATURE, in the case of a tree, can be counted on to care for adequate growth . . . but nature alone cannot provide for groups of individuals. Individual effort is needed; cooperation and careful planning play a part.

FOR over 33 years Lubbock has turned to the First National Bank for the solution of financial questions, and we are proud to have played a part in successful development of the business of Lubbock and the South Plains territory.

More Money s In Banks

(By The Associated Press)

Texans had far more money in e bank at the year end than they id Dec. 31, 1936.

Responses to state and national ank calls, issued yesterday, show- d that banks in the larger Texas ities had aggregate deposits gen- rally in excess of those 12 months go.

Corpus Christi's $17,617,438 in eposits, heaviest in the city's his- ory, represented a gain of more han three million dollars in 1937. Wichita Falls' deposits, the high- st since 1929, showed a gain of wo millions.

San Antonio's total jumped al- nost $40,000,000. Houston and Dal- as deposits, however, showed slight eclines which were not consider- ed alarming. Fort Worth showed a slight increase.

Galveston, Austin, Lubbock, San Angelo and Abilene were among cities reporting increases.

Singers Will Meet Friday

Singers of Lubbock ounty and the South Plains are invited to meet at the Central Baptist church here at 7:30 o'clock Friday night to organize and make plans for the "Plains Singing Convention of the Air," according to announcement by M. L. Kelly, superintendent of Roosevelt Rural high school and president of the Lubbock county singing association.

He also announced that the regular second Sunday singing meeting will be held at the Central Baptist church.

Radio Program Scheduled

The Plains Singing Convention of the Air will give its first program from 8:30 to 9 o'clock on the night of Jan. 13 over radio station KFYO of Lubbock by remote control from the church. Kelly explained.

If the convention meets with approval, it will be heard over that station each Thursday night. Kelly asked support and cooperation of all singers of this area in the "air convention."

No Information Received Here On Status Of Local CCC Unit

No information had been received by officers of Lubbock CCC subdistrict today as to how the proposed reduction in camps and enrollment may affect the Plains area.

According to plans announced in Washington, CCC enrollment will be reduced from 300,000 to a maximum of 225,000. Lubbock sub-district now consists of six camps. This proposed reduction of membership may effect the enrollment here to the extent of the dismissal of one entire camp, it was indicated.

Details Of Proposed Increase In Patrol Are Unknown Here

Lubbock officials were without information today as to how the proposed increase of personnel of the state highway patrol will affect the South Plains, although all were agreed that more men are urgently needed here.

He also said he had not received any official notice relative to the number, if any, of the new officers who would be placed in this district.

The Austin dispatch, quoting Col. H. H. Carmichael, director of the public safety department, said the patrol suffered a loss in personnel when a detail of officers was transferred to the recently organized drivers license bureau.

Col. Carmichael said the department's campaign for safety needed more men. He also said a training school could be put into operation in about 15 days after selection of best applicants who would submit to oral and written examination.

Dell'll Get The Job Done

By Collier Parris

NICE "COPY" on our sports pages today, if we do say so.

It started moving in late yesterday when the local boys came through with the goods necessary to land the big state coaching school and all-star game, continued with the Atlanta release about Dell Morgan landing the University of Georgia job.

Good old Delicate Dell! We're sure glad to see him get up there. He deserves it, because he deserves the best. A sweller guy, a fairer fighter never lived.

And he can coach, too. They realize that in the Southland probably better than we do around here, because he has done more of it.

The University of Georgia coaching job is one of the best in the country, and you can look for old John O'Dell to put out one of the fightin'est and most colorful teams, if not one of the top-notchers in the win and lose columns. The latter depends, of course, on how the material comes along—and it'll come along great in another year or so.

Dell did more at Auburn than merely coach the line. His lines, for the past four seasons, have brought considerable comment from the experts and from rival coaches, and you can thank Dell for a lot of the all-round teamwork that has made Auburn a better than average club.

Something else: You can look for University of Georgia and Texas Tech to be hooking up in a football duel some of the seasons, any time now. Dell, we believe, will look with favor upon an opportunity to play against the Red Raiders, and it would be fine business for Tech to play a big league team like Georgia.

SORT OF A coincidence, the bull session on the train going out to El Paso the other day. Coach Pete Cawthon, Dutchy Smith, Prof Stangel, Ed McKeever, Jerry (Four-Bits) Malin and your reporter were huddled at the end of the car, making news for an uncensored gossip column, and the conversation got around to Dell Morgan.

There was cogitation over Dell's future. Tis time, we all believed, he was "moving up," but there was some argument anent Dell's ambition for a head coaching job. The big, careless, dontgiveadam shuffler, some of us thought, would be content with a good assistant's job, where there wasn't too much responsibility nor too much work. Most of us were agreed that he wasn't exactly satisfied with his present setup, but the consensus was that he wouldn't like to be tied down to a major league head coaching job, with all of its busy ramifications.

Cawthon, who coached Morgan at Austin college and nurtured him through some tempestuous football and basketball seasons there, recalled numerous incidents, most of them highly humorous, relating to John O'Dell, who always was and always will be a big, overgrown youngster who will never grow old.

Even after Cawthon brought him out to Tech as assistant coach, Dell was still one of the boys, boxing and wrestling with them, scrimmaging with them in football workouts. With a little encouragement, he would have donned a suit and lined up with the Matadors in a spring game at El Paso a few seasons ago.

A forgetful person, Dell never forgot a friend nor an incident that raised or diminished his respect for a person. He would forget to meet trains and busses, forget to pick up his change, turn off the shower, or wear his hat, but of people and their attitudes he can recall plenty.

One of the busiest men on the athletic force at Tech before he left four years ago—he was freshman football coach, varsity basketball coach, supervisor of intramural athletics and physical training and father confessor to all the boys—Dell sometimes couldn't remember all he was supposed to do. Cawthon would write out "assignments" on paper—and Dell would lose the paper.

But he knows football, he knows boys and human nature. And that counts like everything when you are trying to coach football.

We had a hint, passed on by Prof. Earl Heard of Tech, that Dell was in line for the Georgia job. Someone had mailed Prof. Heard a clipping from the Atlanta paper in which Morgan was described as having the inside rail. Prof. Heard called us just a few hours before the wire story came in yesterday, and this column would have carried a reference to the Morgan-Georgia situation anyway.

COACHING SCHOOL WILL BE A GREAT HELP

Your reporter's enthusiasm knew few bounds upon learning that the local boys had got their heads together and succeeded in bringing the coaching school here next August.

Since the demise, or the lapse, of the Texas Tech coaching school, the state affair has been the largest in the section.

Lubbock became intensely popular as a summer coaching school resort, thanks to the balmy weather, the hospitality, etc. It is only natural that the members of the Texas High School Football Coaches association, many of whom attended one or more of the Tech coaching schools, should want to come back here.

At that, it was a pretty close battle. The board of directors of the association, or at least a quorum, met in Dallas last Saturday to name the site and date for the 1938 school. Weldon Chapman happens to be on the board—in fact, he's vice president of the association—and he carried Lubbock's bid to Dallas. It was his vote, incidentally, that swayed the sentiment in Lubbock's favor, and we all owe that young man a big vote of thanks.

A. B. Davis and his Chamber of Commerce cohorts also deserve a lot of credit. It was up to them to put up the cash, and they came through nicely. That's real chamber of commerce work.

Texas Tech's part was just as necessary as the efforts of the C of C and Coach Chapman. Without Tech's cooperation, the thing couldn't have been put over. The association demanded the use of a dormitory, to house the 44 athletes who'll be here to serve in demonstrations and to play the all-star game, and there'll be a lot of coaches who prefer staying in the dormitory, for financial reasons.

Coaches Cawthon and Smith and Chairman W. L. Stangel offered their cooperation and services, the athletic plant, stadium and gymnasium, and Business Manager W. T. Gaston strung along with the dormitory.

So everything is lovely. The school and the all-star game will mean a lot to Lubbock and Texas Tech, just as the Tech schools did.

Now, how about a ticket to the Golden Gloves tournament?

Meyer To Remain As T. C. U. Head Coach

FORT WORTH, Jan. 6. (AP)—Leo (Dutch) Meyer will remain as head football coach at Texas Christian university, it has been announced by Dan D. Rogers, chairman of the T. C. U. athletic committee of the board of trustees.

It was understood that a five-year contract was being prepared with a substantial raise in salary over the amount in the three-year contract Meyer signed last year.

Meyer, whose teams have placed second in the Southwest conference race for three straight years, recently was approached by representatives of the University of Mississippi as a prospect for the "Ole Miss" coaching job.

Pastime To Be On Up Trend During Year

BY FORD FRICK
President Of The National League

NEW YORK, Jan. 6. (AP)—There's a wider range of vision than usual for a baseball man standing at the annual crossroads. Looking forward, beyond 1938, is baseball's centennial year and when you turn around there's a century of baseball history stretching all the way back to the summer of 1839 and a village green in upstate New York.

In baseball, there's a new pennant every year. Normally that makes your baseball outlook that way too—a one-year look—and it's always the year just ahead of you.

To Grow More Conscious

But because 1939 is centennial year, the whole baseball world will grow more and more 1939 conscious as 1938 moves along. The appropriation of $100,000 by the major leagues started the ball rolling for a memorable centennial celebration.

But in looking beyond 1938 don't think I'm overlooking it. I'm expecting and predicting a great year for baseball as a whole, as well as the national league.

We are going to use a new official baseball, one that is changed only slightly, but, we think, very wisely. A squarely-hit ball will travel just as far in 1938 as in 1937. The purpose of the slightly thickened cover and heavier seam is to give the pitchers a "break," restore some of the balance between offense and defense and eliminate the "cheap" extra base hit.

I can sum up what we're trying to do this way: in 1938 it will be just as possible as in 1937 for the winning hit of a National league game to be a home run with the baes filled; but we hope it also will be possible for the pitcher to depend on something more than a prayer.

The game will really look just as fast, just as snappy, just as exciting, as in 1937.

Dempsey Gives Out His Views

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—One of the few men who has walked with beggars and kings without losing that common touch gave a talk on bums and tramps yesterday and it was worth coming miles to hear.

The speaker was Jack Dempsey, who rose from the status of a hungry vagabond to become one of the most popular figures in the world, in or out of sport. His speech was given at the monthly luncheon of New York boxing writers.

More He Should Be Helped

"All of us who love boxing talk and write too much about the bums there are in the business," said the old killer of the ring. "Well, let's give these bums a chance. Sure I try to boost a bum fighter. I boost everything. The less a guy knows and the less he has, the more he should be helped, boosted. When fellows come into this big town from the sticks and look bad, why knock 'em? Why call them bums. Maybe they are but let's give them a chance.

"Knocking. That's what's wrong with the fight business today. What do the wrestlers say after a match: this: 'It was a nice match, a nice crowd and the promoter was simply swell.' What do most of the fighters say This: 'It was a lousy fight. The crowd was terrible. So was the officiating. And that promoter was a no good tramp. He didn't even pay me!' That's the difference between wrestling and fighting.

"Another thing," Dempsey half shouted, "let's forget all these foreigners. Let's have championships of the United States and to hell with the rest of the world. The only championship that means a thing is the championship of the United States. Why should we worry our heads about the rest of the world? Particularly, stay away from France. Why bother about these other countries and their strangle rules and systems?"

Lubbock Wins Coaches School

All-Star High School Game Is Feature

The coaching school atmosphere will return to Lubbock and Texas Tech this year. The town and the college, formerly synonymous with coaching schools, get back in the business after two off years.

Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and the Texas Tech athletic department yesterday agreed to requirements and guarantee necessary to bring here next August the fourth annual coaching school and all-star football game of the Texas High School Football Coaches association.

The school and the game last summer were conducted at Baylor university, Waco. Baylor made a strong bid for the 1938 event, but the board of directors of the coaches association, convening last Saturday in Dallas, heard Lubbock's bid and voted to accept it if Lubbock would equal that offered by Baylor and Waco.

Acceptance Is Wired

The Waco bid was equalled at a meeting here yesterday attended by A. B. Davis of the Chamber of Commerce, Head Coach Pete Cawthon, Athletic Council Chairman W. L. Stangel and Business Manager W. T. Gaston, of Texas Tech, and Head Coach Weldon Chapman of Lubbock High school.

L. C. Wood of Cameron, president of the state coaches association, verified the selection of Lubbock in a telegram of acceptance to Davis last night. "You can say definitely," Wood asserted, "that the coaching school will be staged in Lubbock, and that we are grateful to Lubbock and to the chamber of commerce and Texas Tech for the invitation and their attitudes."

Chapman is vice-president of the association and member of the board of directors.

The school will start on Monday, August 1, at the Texas Tech athletic campus, and be climaxed the following Saturday night by the fourth annual all-star football game between picked teams representing the Northern and Southern districts of the Texas Interscholastic league.

Instructors Selected

Instructors at the school will be Lynn Waldorf, head coach at Northwestern university; Harry Stuhldreher, University of Wisconsin head coach, and "Ox" DeGrosa, line coach of the Philadelphia team of the National Professional football league.

Previous schools have been conducted at Dallas, Fort Worth and Waco, where some of the nation's outstanding coaches served as instructors.

Waldorf and Stuhldreher will coach the 44 senior high school football players who will be selected by special committees to represent their sections in the ball game.

"Students" at the school will absorb the teachings of the instructors, to a certain degree, by watching Waldorf and Stuhldreher apply their technique in actual coaching of the athletes.

The 1937 school at Waco attracted a few over 250 Texas high school coaches.

Expect Big Attendance

Weldon Chapman, former secretary of the association, predicted last night that the Lubbock school would attract more than 300 coaches. These, with the 44 athletes, the instructors and the college coaches who pay special "tuition" to attend the schools, are expected to swell the attendance to around 400, which would compare with the great Texas Tech coaching schools conducted from 1931 through 1935.

Texas Tech officials already had decided not to resume the Tech coaching school this summer although there had been considerable agitation for it.

Because of Lubbock's summer climate, its cooler weather in August and the advantages offered at Texas Tech, the majority of coaches prefer this city for the coaching school, it was decided by members

Phil Cavarretta To Start 1938 Training At First Base, Grimm Announces; Collins Must Beat Him Out For The Position

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—Phil Cavarretta, 21-year-old youngster of the Chicago Cubs, will start the 1938 training campaign as regular first baseman, forcing "Rip" Collins to beat him out of the job if he can.

Charlie Grimm, manager of the Cubs, made this announcement as he arrived to go over spring training activities with Philip K. Wrigley, owner of the team, at Catalina island next month. Cavarretta's selection as a regular comes as a reward for his services after Collins suffered a broken ankle in the heat of the pennant race last August.

Cavarretta To Start

"Cavarretta will be on first base from the start," Grimm said. "If Collins can take the job away from him, that will be okay by me. Collins has written that his broken ankle is not giving him any trouble, so he ought to be ready for a good year."

Cavarretta batted .285 last season, while playing in the outfield and at first base; and fielded .982 at first in the 43 games he played at that spot. Collins batted .274, his poorest major league mark, and fielded .991 in 111 games.

To Split Up Squad

Grimm plans to talk with Owner Wrigley today about spring training. He has definitely decided to take the team to the Pacific island in two squads, the first to leave about the middle of February and the second about 10 days later. The first group will be made up of young players and probably Pitchers Roy Parmlee and Clay Bryant, and Outfielder Tuck Stainback, all of whom, Grimm believes, will benefit from the week of extra work. Grimm, Captain Gabby Hartnett and Coaches Tony Lazzeri, Johnny "Red" Corriden and Roy Johnson will also go along with the first group.

The Cub manager plans to have 33 players on the island when the two groups are merged, which is an increase of five over last season when only 28 made the trip.

The Cub boss said he had about given up hope of making any deals that might bring Van Lingle Mungo to the Cubs from Brooklyn.

Add Dutch McIntosh To List Of Coaches Approached By Ole Miss; Baylor Head Coach Also Contacted; Others In Race

BY FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Jan. 6.—Grapevine gossip: add Russell (Dutch) McIntosh, Vandy line coach and former S.M.U. mentor, to the list of gents approached by Ole Miss. . . . eliminate Leo (Dutch) Meyer of T.C.U. and keep Morley Jennings of Baylor in mind. . . . He's the man they're after.

Don't forget Frank Kimbrough of Hardin-Simmons in connection with the Mississippi State vacancy. . . . Mississippi State not Ole Miss, is the plum Henry Frnka, one-time Texas schoolboy coach and currently at Vandy, is reaching for. . . . Ever notice Jimmy Kitts, the man who brought Rice two conference titles in four years, hasn't been linked with any outside offer?

After Dallas Golf Job

On the golf side, outstanding candidates for the vacated Dallas Country club professional position are Jimmy McGonagill, Dallas amateur; Tod Menefee, popular Brackenridge park pro of San Antonio; Graham Ross and Bill McKenzie of Dallas. . . . Bombarder John Rodgers, the Denver professional who dropped into Dallas to see the Cotton Bowl game and not to apply for the position, ripped Brook Hollow's par 70 to shreds with a record-breaking round of 64.

Unheralded hero of the Cotton Bowl game: Sutak, the goober peddler, an amazing personality who could spin a bag of his peanuts into the outstretched hand of his customer from 30 paces. . . . Slingin' Sam Baugh sat in the vast bowl Saturday and watched Sutak contact receivers from all distances, without an interception or incompletion. . . . Furthermore, Sutak could catch the returning dime with the same skill.

Expect Tickets To Go Fast

Sight unseen ticket sales will start two months before next year's Cotton Bowl game. . . . J. Curtis Sanford, father of the classic, thinks Southwest conference sanction of the game, and the body's expected action in producing the champion as the home town, will allow ticket sales to start long before the season's end. . . . Folks will just be buying tickets to a game between the league titlists and some good outsider.

Tardy in their plans for renewal of the $3,000 Houston open golf tourney in February, Bayou City sportsmen, nevertheless, promise it will be held. . . . For the ultimate in sports thrills, meet Pete Morrell, veteran Houston sportsman, who shot a hole-in-one and bowled a perfect 300 game all within two months!

Gangling Geron Nowell, center of the Amherst (Lamar county) school cage team, pumped 46 points through the net the other night to lead his mates to a rather convincing 91-25 triumph over Hazeldell. . . . Lloyd Russell, Baylor's famed "singing quarterback" and freshman grid coach, is also a Waco Sunday school Bible class teacher. . . . Answer to queries: Dean Bagley, the San Saba schoolboy grid phantom, finally wound up the season with 269 points, which, until somebody comes along with a better claim, rates as the nation's lustiest touchdown effort.

Big Names Of Golf Listed As Competitors In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6 (AP)—Many of the big names of golf are listed as competitors against defending champion Harry Cooper for the 13th annual Los Angeles Open tournament, opening tomorrow over the Griffith Park municipal course.

Cooper, although playing fine golf and favored to repeat, on the basis of recent form, will have to beat out such top ranking stars as Sam Snead, Horton Smith, Ky Laffoon, Craig Wood, Henry Picard, Paul Runyan, Jimmy Hines, Leo Diegel and Jimmy Thomson.

Amateurs Going Through Fast Training Sessions For Ring Tourney Early Next Week

There should be no lack of fast action, slam-bang battling and colorful boxing at the Golden Gloves tournament, beginning Monday night, if the ambitious manner in which the amateurs are going about their training and practice is a criterion.

They are really going after each other, hammer and tongs, in workouts under the direction of Milton "Killer" Coffey, former state and AAU champ in two weight divisions and now boxing instructor at Tech. Coffey, who has charge of boxers at the Golden Gloves tournaments, forecasts the best series of fight nights, from both numerical and artistic standpoints, in the history of West Texas boxing.

Middle Divisions Full

Tough competition is assured in practically every weight division, especially in the light heavyweight, middleweight, welterweight and lightweight groups.

And for a change, there should be some tough going in the heavyweight division. Five heavyweights are entered, or about four more than ever entered before. Babe Ritchie, giant Lubbock High school heavyweight, romped off with the district Golden Gloves title last year but without much competition within the district. He sailed on through the state tournament, and represented Texas in Chicago's big event before being eliminated.

Expected to give Ritchie some trouble this time is Bob Bryant, a 220-pound giant from Olton, former all-around high school performer there and a potential power in Texas Tech athletics. George Collins of O'Donnell and Herbert Lamb of Wilson are others listed in the heavyweight division who have been looking good in workouts.

Entries have been slow in the bantam and featherweight classes. Only Lewis Terrell, who won the division in both district and state tournaments last year and went up to the national event from Lubbock with Ritchie, is entered in the bantamweight division. There is a possibility, however, that Tommy Coats, Texas Tech featherweight who looked so good in the recent Wichita, Kansas amateur tournament, will train down to the bantam class. He lacks about two pounds. With him now in the feather division are Elton Terrell and two others.

Four are entered in the 112-pound or flyweight class, with Rudy Russell, formerly of Lubbock High, now of Tech, showing the way to Darrell Carpenter and Clifford Duke in workouts. The latter two are improving steadily, however.

An even dozen are listed in the lightweight class, and here's where there'll be some real scrapping. Pete Nachlinger, Jack Lovin, Sigle Tomlin, Jack Cole and others are looking good in workouts.

The welterweight division lists eleven boxers at present, with more expected. Half a dozen middleweights and a like number of light heavyweights promise exciting times in those divisions. Bob Ritchie, brother of Babe, and James Hawthorne of Post have made impressionable showings in the light heavy class.

Boxers Report Monday

All entries are expected to report at the Auditorium before 5 o'clock Monday afternoon for weighing in and final physical examinations before starting at 7:30 o'clock in the first of a four-night Golden Gloves program.

Monday night's show will be the first of two nights of city Golden Gloves fighting, although all boxers who plan to compete in the district tournament, scheduled for the nights of Feb. 7 and 8, are invited to compete in the city tournaments. Finals in the city tournament will be held on Monday night, Jan. 17.

I. B. Hale Elected Captain Of Frogs

FORT WORTH, Jan. 6. (AP)—I. B. Hale, tackle from Dallas, will lead the T. C. U. Horned Frogs in the 1938 football campaign. The 240-pounder, recognized as one of the greatest linemen in the country last fall, was elected captain by his lettermen teammates at the annual Purple banquet last night.

Ki Aldrich, center from Temple, was elected co-captain. They succeed two other senior linemen, Mason Mayne and Bull Rogers as leaders of the Purple.

The Dan D. Rogers trophy, presented for the past 15 years to the senior voted the "most valuable" of the past season, was awarded to Capt. Mayne.

Twenty-five lettermen for the past season were announced. Nineteen of them will return next year.

Frenship Scores Three Wins Over New Deal Last Night

Frenship High school scored three victories over teams from New Deal High Wednesday night on the Tiger court.

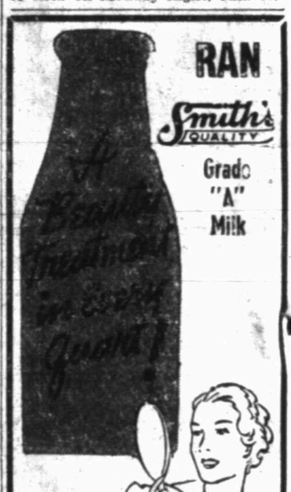

In the opener, the faculty five beat the New Dealers, 25 to 19. Frenship's girls overpowered the visitors, 41 to 18, and the boys prevailed, 25-12.

Chesley Hobgood, forward, paced the Tigers in scoring and Edwards was outstanding for New Deal.

About 211 of the 8044 taxicabs licensed by the London metropolitan police are more than 20 years old.

Dykes To Give His Legs Another Try At Third Position

NEW YORK, Jan. 6. (AP)—James Joseph Dykes (the fellow hiding behind that big black cigar) is going to give those 41-year-old legs of his one more chance to hang onto third base.

For 20 years, those legs of James Joseph have been doing a lot of third-basing in the American league. For season after season, he was generally regarded as the best at the job in the junior circuit.

In the last few years, however, old Pop Time and an injured leg ligament have been cutting down on Jimmy's workable days for the Chicago White Sox, whom he manages. But Jimmy couldn't quit, simply because the sox didn't have another third sacker worth the price of a worn out batbag.

Over this winter, however, all that was changed. Although Jimmy won't admit it, he just about took the eye-teeth from his old pal, Mickey Cochrane, in a deal in which the Sox acquired Marv Owen who's a pretty good third-baseman, himself, even though he usually can't hit his way out of a tissue paper wrapping.

But now that he has someone to take over the job, Jimmy said today he isn't at all sure that he's ready to hang up his glove.

"I'm going to give these legs of mine a chance to see what they can do in spring training," he admitted. "I won't make any decision about my playing next season until I find out what they can do. That leg injury feels okay now, although it may come back. If I feel, after the spring workout, that these legs can keep going, I'll be back in there."

the board of directors in Dallas t Saturday. The directors voted accept Lubbock's bid provided ormitory space and accommoda- ons could be obtained at Texas ech and provided a cash guarantee e underwritten.

Chamber Makes Guarantee

Lubbock Chamber of Commerce nderwrote expenses of the game to e tune of $1,300, then sought co- peration of Texas Tech's athletic epartment.

Coach Pete Cawthon, a great be- ever in coaching schools and suc- essful promoter, along with Line oach Dutchy Smith, of five great ational schools here, voiced his ratitude and offered the use of the ech athletic plant for the school.

Business Manager W. T. Gaston nd W. L. Stangel, athletic council hairman, obligingly cooperated to the extent of offering use of a dor- itory for visiting coaches and play- rs.

Presence of the 44 senior high school players, cream of the 1937 in- terscholastic crop, and the game they are to play are expected to give Lubbock more than state-wide publicity and importance.

Coach Chapman recalled last night that Lubbock High school had had representatives in each of the previous three all-star games, each of whom played sufficiently to receive the regular team trophy, a handsome wrist watch.

Morris White, scintillating back- field star of 1934, played a fine game in the first all-star contest at Dallas in 1935. White now is a star with Tulsa university. Dixie White and Othie Upton, Lubbock stars in 1935, played in the all-star game the following summer at Fort Worth. At Waco last year, C. L. Storrs, Lubbock captain of 1936, was one of the game's heroes. Dixie White and Storrs are Texas Tech gridders now.

Officials of the Texas High School Football Coaches association, sponsor of the school and the game, are L. C. Wood of Cameron, president; Weldon Chapman of Lubbock, vice-president; Bryan Schley of Teague, secretary-treasurer, and Bobo Nelson of Athens, assistant secretary-treasurer.

Coaches Select Players

The board of directors includes Dewey Mayhew of Abilene, Swede McMurry of Gainesville, Herman Clark of Fort Worth North Side, Jack Riley of Garland, Ted Jeffries of Wichita Falls, Shirley DaCamera of Laredo, Robert Berry of Corpus Christi and O. M. (Red) Moore of Sinton.

A committee of six coaches, three of the North and three of the Southern parts of the Interscholastic league, has been appointed to select the senior players for the all-star game.

Coaches who will do the selecting for the northern division, which includes Lubbock in the first eight districts, are Howard "Bull" Lynch of Amarillo, Harry Taylor of San Angelo and Bill Meyer of Fort Worth Paschall.

President Wood will determine which of the two instructors, Stuhldreher or Waldorf, will coach the Northern team.

Jap Is Too Much For Cazzell Last Night

Bill Cazzell couldn't quite figure things to the fine point Wednesday night at the Auditorium and as a result he came out second best in straight falls.

Tetsura Higami, head professor of advanced wrestling at the local grunt and groan emporium, dug in his thumbs—hard like—into the upper part of Cazzell's anatomy to which the Amarillo toughie succumbed after 25 minutes of the first fall. Will Bill had time to dream a peaceful vision of bursting bombs during the interim between conscious moments.

Injun Has Pain

It required but 11 minutes for the Nippon to conclude the match in the second fall. A toe hold turned the trick and Cazzell's legs into contortions at the same time. The Injun was in intense pain as his shoulders were being pinioned to the resin.

Jack Mandell, the wiry Bostonian, was not as vulnerable to Sailor Moran's rough tactics as the ex-tar expected. He countered with some good punching of his own in their thirty-minute semi-final draw. Mandell got his dander up towards the end and was challenging the Sailor with his dukes when the bell rang.

In the curtain raiser, Cyclone Mackey's airplane spin got the best of Andy Tremaine. The Arizonan held his own most of the way, but got his legs in the wrong place—under Cy's arms. Mackey pinned him after 18 minutes.

Opinions Varied On Eliminating Jump

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 6 (AP)—Profound opinions about the new basketball rules have come from scores of coaches from grandstand and press box experts, but how about the boys in the trenches?

Take tiny Jerry Steiner, for instance (his opponents haven't been able to catch up with him, let alone take him).

Steiner, five feet, seven inches of basketball dynamite, has been leading scorer and spark plug for a Butler university team that has won seven of its first eight games.

"I like it," was Steiner's verdict on the center-jumpless game. Then he grinned and added, "it gives me an edge."

"The new rules have put little guys like me back in the ball game," he said.

And now about the physical effect.

"Oh, I guess I'm a little more tired after a game now than before the rules change, but I come out of it just as fast as before," he said.

Now the other extreme. There's Bill Merrill, six foot, one inch, 190-pound center for Butler, who has had his jumping duties taken away by the new rules.

"Suits me fine," said Merrill. "In fact, it makes it easier for me.

"It takes more energy to make one center jump, particularly against a real tall opponent, than it does for a couple of dashes up and down the floor. Don't let anyone kid you, the joy of jumping center after every field goal took plenty out of a player."

That Girl on Broadway says it takes less time and effort to do a thing right than to explain why you did it wrong.

The reason so many bosses are cranks is because so many employes are not self-starters.

* * *

MANY a man who is indignant over New Deal laws which hamper business has never stopped to consider that the national administration is not by itself in attempting to regiment other people's affairs.

Neither is it by itself in attempting to force court rulings which may hamper the public in its efforts to get what it wants.

A case in point right here in Texas will come up in 73rd District court in San Antonio on Jan. 13, when Judge John F. Onion will hear pleas for a permanent injunction against enforcement of the state's new dental law.

The entire problem revolves about the question of whether or not a highly organized clique of Texas dentists—with a powerful legislative lobby—can lawfully tell every dentist in the state how he shall run his individual business.

THE new dental law, passed by the legislature some months ago, went into effect on January 1.

It has to do with so-called "ethics" of the dental business, but there is a decided difference of opinion between the organized clique and individual dentists about the "ethics," all of which were set forth by the clique and which hamper competition on the part of dentists who are not members of the tightly drawn organization.

One of the chief points of argument has to do with dentists advertising services and prices.

The highly organized clique is made up of dentists who are opposed to paid advertising, although their societies scattered over the state are frequently active efforts to secure free advertising for the profession as a whole.

Individual dentists outside the clique claim that only by advertising can sufficient volume of business be secured to keep dental prices down to where the average man can afford to keep his teeth and those of his family in good repair.

WHILE The Plainsman admittedly has an axe to grind in any matter having to do with the curtailment of advertising, it seems to him that the free, American way of handling such a situation is to accord every man the privilege of using his own judgment—and acting accordingly.

We do not think it would be right, just,—or constitutional—to force to advertise those dentists who do not want to advertise.

And by the same token, we think it neither right, just,—nor constitutional—for the clique to say to the dentists who do not subscribe to regimentation: "We don't want to pay for advertising; therefore, you can't."

Results of the San Antonio hearing will be important, in more ways than one.

Not only will there be reached a decision on whether a man has a right to run his own business as he sees fit.

In addition, it will be decided whether an organized group in any business or profession can dominate the policies of the whole field.

You can mark this down on your cuff:

If the organized dentists finally win their point, the way will be opened for similar movements in other businesses and professions and for setting up price structures to which John Public will adhere—or go without service.

Not only will the newspapers and the dentists be affected by results of this legal battle.

They will affect every man, woman and child in the state, one way or another.

IT MAY be true that the willing horse gets the heaviest load, but he also develops the strongest muscles and gets the most of the oats!

* * *

Accept no substitute for work. There is nothing "just as good."

* * *

That Man on Avenue Q says the fellow who knows HOW will always have a place in life, but the fellow who knows WHY will always be his boss.

* * *

Nat Campbell:
I've heard a lot of singin'
Done by folks of every race.
But I've never seen an Irishman
Who was good at singin' bass!

AS everyone knows, European rulers in general — and dictators in particular — are greatly in favor of high birthrates.

The reason, of course, is that the more children there are born in their countries, the more fighting men they eventually will have.

And European rulers — particularly dictators — owe their positions to a continuance of big armies, navies and air corps.

The papers reported the other day that Meester Mussolini had called before him a number of Italian women who, according to the dictator, were worthy of public commendation for their ability to have offspring in a manner fast and furious.

The event drew from the Chicago American what The Plainsman considers a very interesting comment and we pass it along to you:

"From Rome comes a story of festival; Mussolini graciously distributes rewards for mothers.

"Ninety-five Italian mothers, winners of Mussolini's big family contest, have just received their prizes from Il Duce, in Rome. . . .

"In ten years the 95 women have given birth to 738 children, an average of eight to each mother. The prize awarded to each mother by grateful Mr. Mussolini amounts to $260—$32.50 a child, on the average.

"Without wishing to impugn Mr. Mussolini's generosity unjustly, it does seem that $32.50 is an extremely moderate reward to offer a woman for creating a soldier. It costs $14,300, according to figures on the World war, to kill one."

That's not bad logic.

HERE AND THERE: The will of H. P. Hood, Massachusetts milk company president, leaves most of a million dollar estate for the purchase of milk for needy babies . . . For the past six years he has given employes a $50 bonus for each baby born to them and the total thus given is over the $50,000 mark. . . . Lord Nuffield, known as England's Santa Claus because of gifts to charity totaling $40,000,000 in the last 11 years, says he has given away his last dime. . . . He is disgusted, he says because of many thousands of begging letters, nearly all wholly lacking in merit . . . The letters average more than 200 a day, requiring the attention of six full-time employes. . . . A house-cleaning of New York City's official family is promised as the first result of Tammany's recent election rout. . . The elimination of several thousand jobs described as wholly political in nature is provided in measures already prepared for submission to the big city's board of aldermen. . . . Miss Jean Scott Berg, who was voted one of the five best dressed girls among the 6,000 coeds at the University of California, says she spends only $240 a year for clothing. . . . A Bluffdale, Texas, sow has given birth to 47 pigs in her last three litters, which undoubtedly is something of a record. . . . Hollywood gossips say Marlene Dietrich is at the end of her career as a star. . . . She never was among the top flight drawing cards in the United States, but she was a box office smash in most foreign countries, which kept her near the top in salaries. . . . She no longer is an outstanding attraction in foreign lands, say the gossips, and Paramount has refused for that reason to renew her contract which called for $250,000 a picture. . . . Also believed at the sunset of her career is Constance Bennett, who once was reputed to receive $30,000 per week. . . . Several occasions have been reported recently when she walked through huge crowds without being asked once for her autograph. . . . "Tobacco Road," much discussed play dealing with conditions which the north imagines prevail in the south, is nearing its 1,800 Broadway performance. . . . It is a record surpassed only by "Abie's Irish Rose," which ran nearly 2,500 performances. . . . New York rates any show a hit when it has been presented as many as 100 times on Broadway.

CHAPTER XIV

Zachary "Hades" Jones was a bit weary when he returned to camp that night. The 24-mile round trip had taken him two full days.

"These danged mules is contrarier'n a thunderstorm," he grumbled. "They ain't pack broke good yit. Here, Holliman, would you help me with these here kags, please sir?"

They unloaded the fresh cool water, ample for drinking, cooking, and scanty toilet until another week should pass. Then Hades released the animals for a bit of grazing nearby. There was a hole of stagnant water just a mile away, all right for the stock but too alkaline or "salty" for human use.

"Where at's th' boss?" Hades asked.

"Ain't seen him all day. And by grabs I'd like to know, too!"

"Eh?" Hades paused to look questionably at Holliman.

"Well, fact is, Hades, he's out with 'Lissa. Just them two."

Hades spat rather copiously and glared at Holliman.

"S'posen he is? Ain't no lion, is she? Ain't gonna hurt him none?"

"Hell, no! But what business has he got taking a young gal out by herself."

Hades Jones, aged 70-odd, stepped forward menacingly.

"What do you mean, Holliman? Why you lyin'—!"

"Shut up, old man. Want me to slap you down?"

* * *

No one had dared to speak thus to Hades Jones in more than half a century. Uncle Hades had friends, and enemies who respected him, in practically every county and corral from El Paso to Yuma. He had punched cows until he joined a gold rush and made more money. Then he had been a prospector since. He had gone without water and food for four days straight, helping defend a settlement from an Apache Indian attack in his youth. When he was nearing 60 years of age he had shot it out with two Mexicans who essayed to hold up a bank at Bisbee. He had been in the bank at the time, and Hades of all the dozen people there didn't throw up his hands as commanded. People said he still owned the scalp of the redskin who killed his father, and he never denied it.

However, it was the utter surprise of his "sass" which saved Holliman some serious embarrassment, there in camp.

Hades' jaw just dropped. Five seconds later, unquestionably, he would have had two massive pistols aimed with terrible accuracy at Holliman's stomach. He had been known to do just that with other men, and daring them ever to resent it. But—at that instant Honey Bee Girl appeared.

"Supper iss ready," she announced, "and Bawb say to tell you not to wait for them, as they might not be back at all."

Before Hades' astonishment had fully cleared, Holliman was sitting down at the crude camp table, dishing up a pint or so of rich red chili. The old man discharged enough tobacco juice to drown a good-sized mammal, tabled his plans for discipline, and went glaring into supper himself.

His spirit calmed some as he ate—as what man's doesn't?

Honey Bee might be surly, stupid, or whatever, but she shore could cook! Many another woman has been forgiven her short-comings because of her culinary art. Hades forgave no redskin anything; but he ate.

* * *

He got up before Holliman did, and walked to the foot of the castle cliff.

BANG! BANG!

Holliman and Honey Bee peered out in alarm. But Hades was only signalling. His old neck was craned upward, studying the castle.

He fired again, twice rapidly. It was a time-honored call of the outdoors—for anyone within hearing to answer or come. Hades never thought but what Bob Barry would know it, and answer if he heard.

"They ain't up there," the old man muttered presently, and came back to the dining tent.

"Holliman," he began, his eyes flashing, "I come dang nigh killin' you a while ago. You ain't old enough to know better yet in some ways, and it may cost you. We ain't known to each other plumb good yit. Now I don't want no trouble, but you don't be so free and careless with yore tongue, young feller. This Barry is our boss. You can quit any time; we c'n git more help, if I have to ride in after it. But by god, Holliman, I'll kill you git too fresh! You savvy?"

He leaned forward just a little, hands ready to draw. He was a trifle comical, because of his wrinkles and his stoop. But there was no mistaking his earnestness. He meant precisely what he said.

Holliman tightened. He had started to grin at an old man, but he didn't. The keen old eyes spoke a silent warning more potent than the words. Holliman moved very slowly—hands away from his hips.

"All right, Jones. Forget it. You're old. I ain't goin' to fight no oldtimer."

It was a wise decision. But the situation was still shaky.

"You been eyein' Miss 'Lissa yoreself, Holliman. I seen you. I know th' signs. Waal, that ain't no insult, as such. Any young man'd be a fool not to set up to her. Ef she wants you it's her business; but you be dang shore she does. Now I wanta know—do you know where they're at now? Why ain't they here? It's well after dark."

* * *

Holliman had been surprised indeed to hear that old Hades knew of his "settin' up" to Mary Melissa. The old fool must have eyes everywhere! But this was no time to argue. Besides, his own curiosity about the missing pair was mounting.

"I swear I don't know, Hades. And quit bein' warlike. I told you I ain't fightin'."

Hades grunted.

"Woman," he called to Honey Bee, "come out here. What about the two bosses? Where they at?"

"They are not here," said Honey Bee, stupidly.

Hades bridled again. Contempt almost suffused him. But Holliman spoke first.

"Well where are they?" The younger man was equally interested.

"They have gone, for maybe a long time," Honey Bee declared.

The Indian had expected thus to be questioned. She was not at all happy in her own mind. She didn't want Bob Barry to be alone anywhere with the whiite girl, much less in a dark cave. But—Bob was her employer, as well as the man she wanted; she virtually worshiped him. He had emphatically told her to keep the secret of the new cliff cave. She meant to do so.

"Hell, didn't they say where?" Hades was losing patience.

"They just say tell you both make thee better camp, thee better corral for thee mules and horses." Honey Bee spok slowly, stalling. Then she had an idea. "Meester Bawb, he say must go. Maybe all day, maybe longer. They take food, canteen, go that way."

She pointed—not toward the cliff dwelling, but in the opposite direction. The men grumbled about it at length, but after all the note Bob had left also told them to go ahead with their own work, and forget about him and 'Lissa. Suspicions thus were not aroused, at the time.

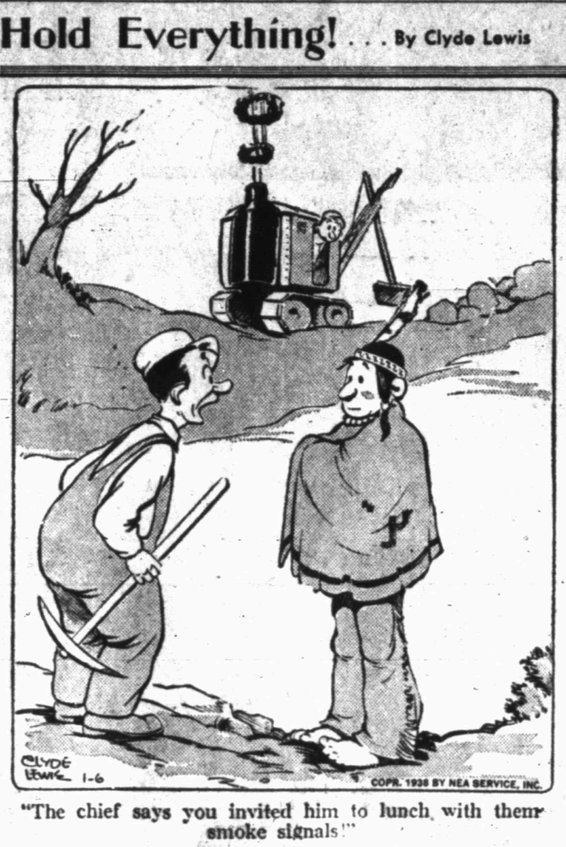

An hour later, though, Hades went for a last night check-up on the horses and mules—his regular job.

"Shucks!" he suddenly exclaimed. "Their horses is both here!"

Bob and Mary Melissa wouldn't have started to go far on foot. The old man turned to stare back at the camp, suspicious, confused. He didn't trust that Indian girl. Nor Holliman.

ANYHOW, WE'RE NOT AS BAD AS THE FRENCH!

We used to hear a lot about the way our incarcerated criminals were mollycoddled.

For a time it appeared in this country that we were tempering mercy with a wee dash of justice, instead of tempering justice with a portion of mercy.

We got pretty bad about carrying thugs around on sofa pillows, all right, but apparently we were never as bad as France.

There was a popular doughboy song during the World war which had a verse beginning like this:

"Then French, they are a funny race, parley-voo."

They are, indeed. Here is the minister of justice in Paris who went on a short inspection tour of a "short-term penitentiary." After an affectionate holiday speech to the prisoners, the minister picked out one and kissed him soundly on both cheeks as the cameras clicked.

Considerable progress has been made of late years in penology in America. But we are inclined to doubt that the practice will ever be adopted here of having an American attorney general or even a G-man go out at Christmas-time to kiss a few prisoners. Babies, perhaps, but not prisoners.

Besides, the constitution forbids. It says that "cruel and unusual punishments" shall not be inflicted.

A Thought . .

An inheritance may be gotten hastily at the beginning; but the end thereof shall not be blessed.—Proverbs 20:21.

Hollywood Chit-Chat

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 6 — Hollywood New Year resolutions have been made, and by this time they will have been broken. Movie people are impulsive and thoughtless in such matters, as was the heavy-gambling comedian who went around offering a $1,000 wager that he wouldn't make a bet of any kind during 1938.

Many players, though, still can look back with pride on 1937. Indeed, they can even regard the past year with hope and anticipation, for the prizes and honorable mentions of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences are yet to be awarded.

Four players who can feel particularly happy about past accomplishments are those who for the first time have been voted into the list of the 10 biggest money-making stars of 1937.

This poll regularly is conducted by the Motion Picture Herald among the nation's exhibitors, and it is an accepted principle that the account books of American theaters are the one infallible jury of public opinion.

The fortunate four are William Powell, Jane Withers, Sonja Henie and Myrna Loy. Miss Withers almost made the top 10 in 1936, and her place in the bracket was assured for this year.

Although Powell and Miss Loy came up largely as a result of co-starring pictures, most exhibitors listed them separately (unlike Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers).

DOES IT IN ONE YEAR

Miss Henie is the only person, since the poll was inaugurated in 1932, to rank in the top 10 during her first year in the movies. Her first picture, "One in a Million," was released Jan. 1, 1937. That film and "Thin Ice" brought her unprecedented honors. "Happy Landing," her third feature, is completed but not yet released.

The biggest money-making stars, in order, are Shirley Temple, Clark Gable, Robert Taylor, Bing Crosby, William Powell, Jane Withers, Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers, Sonjo Henie, Gary Cooper, Myrna Loy. Shirley Temple has been on the list since 1934, when she ranked eighth. In 1935, 1936 and 1937 she was box-office champion.

GOT OUT OF SCANTIES

It was the modest Eleanor Powell who started me collecting other accomplishments of the year. She said, "I believe I've proved that a dancer can look all right with clothes on. Before this, you know, life for me has been all legs and scanties. In 'Rosalie,' they gave me nice modern clothes."

Robert Montgomery still is pleased about his role as a killer in "Night Must Fall." "I didn't get a single laugh," he said, "and was I tickled!" He hopes it's the turning point toward a real dramatic career.

Gladys George, on the other hand, is happy about a return to comedy, the medium in which she was best known on the stage. Hollywood perversely had put her into middle-aged, tear-jerking roles.

"It was getting so bad," she recalled, "that I'd start bawling every time I saw myself in a mirror. But I got over that in the farce called 'Love Is a Headache.' Why, I even got to kick Franchot Tone—and not on the shins, either!"

GREAT ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Frank Morgan could think of only one great personal triumph during 1937: "I remember perfectly that it was on the 14th of July when I removed every pin from a new shirt and got it on without stabbing myself."

Freddie Bartholomew succeeded in convincing his Aunt Myllicent that he was old enough for a pair of long pants. Mickey Rooney topped that, though. He actually had a scene in a picture where he had to shave himself. Time marches on!

Said Spencer Tracy: "Best thing I did was show Gable and Taylor and Powell that I'm as good a clothes-horse as any of 'em. Did you see my fancy striped pants in 'Mannequin'? Boy, they were really something! Also, I got to do a little love-making during 1937. How'm I doin'?"

Life In The Day Of A Dictator

Renewed Efforts On Wage-Hour Bill Are Part Of New Deal Drive To Hobble Supreme Court

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Renewed efforts to pass wage-hour-child labor legislation go hand in hand with New Deal hopes of curbing some of the powers of the Supreme court.

Defeat of such legislation by a small House majority in the special session was a bad blow to the New Deal tacticians, who see federal regulation of wages, hours and child labor not only as a social-economic measure for protection of exploited workers and a bulwark for purchasing power, but also as a challenge to the Supreme court. The court's conservative majority is fighting with its back to the wall.

Rodney Dutcher

It has been an administration theory that the Supreme court "wouldn't dare" kill a wage-hour-child labor law in these days of enlightment. The reasoning is somewhat involved.

But it was assurance that the court as consituted a year ago would certainly invalidate such legislation was a prime factor behind Roosevelt's decision to pop his court plan. The court's subsequently liberalized decisions, as in the Wagner act and Social Security cases, have made it appear the court would hardly fly in the face of public opinion and a law as popular as the New Dealers expect the wage-hour-child labor act would be.

Would End Problems

Validation of such a law would mean that the court would have to reverse itself in its decision in the Hammer vs. Dagenhart case.

"And then," say New Deal lawyers, "all our problems will be over and the federal government can bar anything from interstate commerce that Congress wants to bar."

It was in the Hammer-Dagenhart case that the court, in 1918, by a 5 to 4 vote, killed a law prohibiting products of child labor from being sent from the state of origin into any other state. The court held that production was not subject to federal control, that the manufacture of goods and the mining of coal were not commerce and that the law was in invasion by federal power of control of local matters.

Named Four Liberals

Meanwhile, it's worth remembering that Roosevelt has now appointed four of the five members of the second most important court in the United States—the U. S. court of appeals for the District of Columbia. When anyone sues a cabinet member or other high executive in a test case involving powers of the various departments and federal agencies, the suit must be brought through this court.

Roosevelt has appointed four liberals to four vacancies—the latest being Congressman Fred Vinson of Kentucky.

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE
Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

How to obtain Love, Happiness, Success, being loved and admired for yourself alone, capturing the hearts and friendship of all about you, can bring you more happiness than all the jewels and fine clothes you could wear . . . than all the wealth you could spend in a lifetime. Without friendship and love, life would not be worth living, for admiration and affection are the breath and heart beat of all human happiness. Within you is a power that controls your destiny. It is in every woman and man, but few discover it. Those who do are blessed with the key to Life's Happiness. With all my heart I urge you to bring forth this innate charm that is yours. Develop it, and you will attract to yourself those things that make life worth while. You are helpless in the hands of women who have learned how to use their hidden powers of attraction. You have these powers. You can discover and develop them and swiftly make yourself irresistible to men . . . even in competition with women far more attractive-looking. You can win and hold the love of the one you want. So if in doubt, ask the man who knows.

Safety Council May Circulate Ordinance

Some means of putting copies of Lubbock's recently revised traffic ordinance into general circulation will be sought at an early meeting of the Lubbock Safety council, according to information given this morning by O. B. Conley, president.

While exact time of the council meeting has not been set, it probably will be held next Tuesday night, Conley said.

Several suggestions already have been received, he added, as to methods of circularizing the ordinance, one of them being that it be printed in booklet form and copies issued to those obtaining new automobile license plates.

Mills also said nothing could be done "unless there was a special session of the legislature.

In his reply, Governor Allred said he was deeply disturbed and was giving the matter careful study.

Crosbyton Man Slightly Hurt In Collision On Wednesday

In an automobile collision in south Ralls shortly before noon Wednesday George Crump of Crosbyton suffered bruises and shock, but his condition was not considered serious.

The two machines involved in the mishap at a road intersection were pickups. W. M. Wooley, about 60, of Caprock was driving north on a crossroad and C. L. Russell, 24, of Tarzan was driving west on highway 24.

Slippery roads figured in the mishap, according to a Texas highway patrolman's report.

Investigating officers were Thomas C. Laws and B. L. Wooddell, both of the highway patrol.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 6. (AP)—The buying side proved the most attractive in today's stock market and a wide assortment of rails and industrials stepped up fractions to 3 or more points at the best.

There were frequent profit selling interludes, however, and top marks were chipped down in many cases near the fourth hour. Dealings were slow from the start.

Business and political news was still spotty, from a market standpoint, but brokerage quarters seemed to feel the small volume of offerings lately indicated the list was due for at least an intermediate rally.

Bonds and commodities, on the whole, exhibited rising tendencies.

Aside from the carriers, steels, aircrafts, motors, farm implements, oils, coppers and specialty stocks gave a good account of themselves.

Prominent on the forward tilt most of the day were Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Southern Pacific, Preat Northern, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Douglas Aircraft, Boeing, J. I. Case, International Harvester, Standard Oil of N. J., Anaconda, Kennecott, American Smelting, Westinghouse, duPont, Allied Chemical, U. S. Rubber, Allis Chalmers, Philip Morris and Climax Molybdenum.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Jan. 6. (AP)—Despite sharp downturns of Liverpool quotations, the Chicago wheat market displayed notable firmness early today. Traders here contended that export takings of north American wheat would increase on any further price declines.

Opening unchanged to ⅛ cent lower, May 83-83⅛, July 87⅛-⅜, Chicago wheat futures then held steady. Corn started unchanged to ⅜ off, May 62-62⅛, July 61⅝.

purport to be based."

The company contended it had not violated the act, that most of the charges made against it were "unjustified by the facts and unsupported by the evidence," and that the board exceeded both its constitutional and statutory authority in ordering the company to desist from certain activities connected with labor policy.

The NLRB announced in Washington it would go before the court of appeals for an order to enforce its decision.

Police Hold 32 Union Men For Attacks, Vandalism

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 6 (AP)—Police held 32 members of the CIO United Automobile Workers of America for questioning today regarding acid attacks on two employes of the Ford Motor cmpany and vandalism to new Ford and Lincoln automobiles.

Atlantic City lies on an island 10 miles long by 3-4 mile wide.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 6. (AP)—Cotton futures opened 2 higher to 2 lower with trade buying of near months and liquidation of distant. Jan. 8.34; March 8.40; May 8.45; July 8.53; Oct. 8.59; Dec. 8.63.

Price movements were narrow. Trade buying absorbed January liquidation. Locals bought. There was some commission house demand. Moderate liquidation in late positions, hedging and Liverpool selling supplied contracts.

March was 8.41 with the list 2 points net lower to 3 higher shortly after the first half hour.

Prices advanced to within a few points of yesterday's high levels for the movement on trade, foreign and scattered buying. A little more hedge selling and liquidation appeared toward midday, however, and as the buying tapered off prices reacted.

March sold off from 8.44 to 8.40, leaving quotations 3 points net higher to 2 lower.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 6. (AP)—Cotton futures opened 1 to 2 points higher today under trade price fixing and some covering by shorts.

Foreign markets were lower but offerings were in small volume.

Jan. opened at 8.40 bid, March 8.50, May 8.58, July 8.63 and 8.68.

Trading was confined to May and July positions and towards the end of the first half hour those options were selling 4 to 6 points above the previous close.

Appointment Of Sumners Is Suggested By Committee

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6. (AP)—The house judiciary committee suggested to President Roosevelt today that he choose Representative Sumners (D-Tex) chairman of the committee, to succeed Associate Justice George Sutherland who decided yesterday to retire January 18.

The members, in the absence of Sumners, prepared a letter to be sent to the White House, it said in part:

"With unbounded confidence in Judge Sumners, we wholeheartedly commend him to your favorable consideration, and certify your conviction that your appointment of him would rebound to the lasting honor of your administration, and of the supreme bench."

agency's work, by the Supreme court's validation of the Wagner act.

An outlay of $93,000,000 for the veterans' administration won committee approval.

It inculdes $4,500,000 for construction of additional hospital facilities but no specific projects were listed.

Insurance Fund Reduced

The committee said the item for military and naval insurance amounting to $40,055,000 represented a reduction of $48,697,000 under this year's appropriation, adding "the peak loan under this legislation has now been passed."

Other items in the bill include $449,910 for maintenance of the White House and grounds, a cut of about $61,000; Civil Service commission $77,504,000; Communications commission $1,745,000; Federal Power commission $1,500,000; Federal Trade commission $2,180,700; Securities and Exchange commission, $3,907,000; Social Security board, $329,300,000 and Rural Electrification administration $31,652,000.

In addition, the measure carries a direct appropriation of $200,000 and a contract authorization of $340,000 for construction of a new wind tunnel for the government's aviation laboratory at Langley Field, Va. The committee said this device was essential to solutions of problems in design and construction of the larger airplanes now projected, particularly those for use in trans-oceanic service.

Naval Expansion

construction to provide by 1942 a fleet of full strength permitted by treaties that now have lapsed.

Under this act one aircraft carrier, two battleships, 49 destroyers and 22 submarines have been built or are under construction.

As soon as the 1930 London treaty expired a year ago, Great Britain and Japan—which rank with the United States as the greatest sea powers—started to build warships beyond the treaty limits. This country, however, voluntarily remained bound by the old limits.

Time For U. S. To Act

While decrying talk of a "naval race," naval officials now contend it is time for America to follow suit lest this country be hopelessly outstripped by Great Britain and overtaken by Japan. They have stressed the maxim that a "navy can not be improvised" in time of need.

From Admiral Leahy came a hint the navy wants two more aircraft carriers and several light cruisers, and they can not be built unless congress alters the present statute.

Any new construction proposed by President Roosevelt would be in addition to the two battleships and 20 smaller vessels provided for in the 1939 budget.

Jap Newspapers Give Keen Attention To U. S. Plans

TOKYO, Jan. 6 (AP)—Japan's newspapers gave keen attention today to American national defense plans as outlined in President Roosevelt's budget message.

Western coastal defense measures included in the projected American defense budget, were noted particularly.

The "provocative large scale program won't bring world peace," the newspaper Hochi Shimbun cautioned. It termed any explanation that the building program was due to discord among other powers and weakened treaties as "self deception."

Canada Is Warned Against Lack Of Preparedness

OTTAWA, Jan. 6—(Canadian Press)—Canada may some day regret her unfortified coastline and lack of a navy, says China's new consul-general for Canada, Dr. C. L. Chen.

"You will rue the day you neglected your western defenses," Dr. Chen predicted in an address before the Gyro club last night.

"If you think you remain secure by folding your arms and depending on the English and the Monroe doctrine you will be in the position of China which relied on the Kellogg pact."

County Court Jury To Hear Theft Case This Afternoon

A county court jury was scheduled to return at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon to hear the theft case against Charles O. von den Berg, according to Robert J. Allen, county attorney.

Theft cases against Bill Pierce and Ira Pierce were passed until Tuesday of next week. Cases of procuring against Luther Burns, Lubbock negro, and swindling with worthless check against S. C. Parnell were dismissed.

A charge of liquor law violation against Harold Jones, scheduled for today, was continued because of illness of the defendant.

A jury in that court Wednesday afternoon fined Surlester Hereford, negro, charged with violation of state liquor laws, $150 and court costs and sentenced him to six months in jail, according to Judge J. J. Dillard. The court sustained a motion to dismiss a similar charge against Rufus Cravens, a negro charged jointly with Hereford.

COURT RULING AWAITED

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 6. (AP)—A supreme court ruling is expected next month on the appeal by 16 British and American oil companies against a labor board award of wage increases to the industry's 18,000 workers.

When Browning was asked what his "Sordello" meant, he is said to have replied: "When I wrote it, God and Browning knew; now only God knows."

Without Hope For The Future

Without home, parents or hope for the future—his senses numbed by the horrors of war—this Chinese youngster is typical of the thousands being cared for at Siccawei Cathedral in Shanghai's French concession. Chopsticks poised over his simple meal of rice, the boy gazes into the camera, his stolid face reflecting the limitless resignation which has gripped the once-proud city of Shanghai in the wake of Japan's merciless onslaught.

Brief Bits Of News . .

4-H Club Reorganized — George Kveton was elected president of the New Deal 4-H club for boys which was reorganized Wednesday by Homer E. Thompson, assistant county farm agent. Other officers elected were Cleo Paden, vice president, and La Rue Edwards, secretary. Fred Kveton was named sponsor. Twenty-three boys joined.

Realty Meeting Tonight—Monthly meeting of the Lubbock Real Estate board will be at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the Chimayo room at Hilton hotel. A program will be presented after dinner, according to C. C. Jones, secretary.

Asking Work Order—Work order for starting construction of the new Cooper rural high school at Woodrow has been asked by the board, said S. B. Haynes, architect. Contracts have been forwarded to state PWA headquarters at Fort Worth.

Permit Is Issued—A small building permit to Wesley B. Smith, owner and contractor, to construct a one-story garage apartment at 1307 Twenty-fourth street, estimated to cost $800, sent the new year's total to $15,051, according to figures released this morning by Jim Reid, City building inspector.

No One To Attend—Reports today indicated that Lubbock will not be represented at the Jackson Day democratic dinner or at the meeting of state Democratic executive committee to be held in Dallas Saturday. Sam Richardson, Lamesa, is chairman of the 19th district which includes Lubbock.

To Discuss Beauty Selection—Plans for electing the yearbook beauties at Texas Technological college will be presented at the student council meeting at 7:30 o'clock tonight by Marie George, editor of the 1938 "La Ventana", college yearbook. The election method has ciffered each year, according to Miss George. Last year two elections were held. Twenty-five beauties were chosen at the first election, and 16 from the 25 were selected the second time.

McDonald At Kiwanis—R. E. McDonald, wholesale grocery branch manager, spoke today on Lubbock and its possibilities as a jobbing and business center before the Kiwanis club. Amos Howard was chairman of the program. Dr. O. W. English, new president, presided over his first session.

Revival Services Tonight—"Religion Has Damned Its Millions" will be the subject of the sermon to be delivered at Tabernacle Baptist church by Rev. Rolfe Barnard, evangelist of Rochester, N. Y., at 7:30 o'clock. His subject last night was "The Seven Plagues and an Outraged God." Named by him among the "plagues" were motion pictures, automobiles, radio and modern conveniences. The church, of which Rev. Ben D. Johnson is pastor, is at Fifteenth street and Avenue N.

Supervisor Inspects Projects — W. E. Burke, district supervisor of the Works Progress administration, spent today in Spur, Dickens and vicinity inspecting WPA projects.

Parking Meters Said To Be Favored By Group In Post

If several prominent citizens of Post have their way, Lubbock will vote to retain its parking meters at the election next Tuesday, according to information given this morning by Mayor Ross Edwards following a visit to the Garza county capital.

Of the numerous opinions he heard expressed there, the mayor added, all except one expressed that the parking meters in Lubbock will be retained.

"The one exception," said Edwards, "was a prominent business man of Post. He said the meters were hurting his business because more Post people were coming to Lubbock to trade because they could be assured a parking space."

Anti-Noise Campaign For San Antonio Announced

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 6 (AP)—San Antonians are going to have to soft-peddle on noise or face arrests under the city's new anti-noise ordinance.

Police Chief Owen Kilday made that plain when he issued instructions to all police captains and sergeants that all officers are to be ordered to enforce the new law, which includes loud radios and phonographs, barking dogs, needless and prolonged sounding of automobile horns, and other similar disturbing sounds.

Constant Protection Is Being Given Singer After Threat

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6 (AP)—District attorney's investigators are providing constant protection for Ruth Etting, stage and screen singer, who reported a man telephoned her from New York that he planned to fly here, kill her, and then commit suicide.

Miss Etting gave authorities the man's name, which they withheld, and the district attorney in New York was asked to ascertain the man's whereabouts and question him.

Young Bob Wagner Follows In Footsteps Of Renowned Dad

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 6. (AP)—Young Bog Wagner stepped carefully into the first political footprint of his father today and hoped that the foot he put forward was his right one.

Assemblyman Wagner, son of the junior United States senator from New York, wasted no time at his first legislative session, introducing a bill that would insure against wage losses due to illness and extend preventative medicines to those in the lower income classes.

FUNDS ARE EARMARKED

AUSTIN, Jan. 6. (AP)—The Highway commission today earmarked $32,500 for constructing five miles of highway 16 in the southern portion of Foard county. It ordered the highway engineer to prepare plans for the improvement.

Sharp Vigil Is Kept For Three Bandits Who Pulled Bold Job

GUTHRIE, Ky., Jan. 6. (AP)—Police kept a sharp vigil along the Kentucky-Tennessee border today for three masked bandits who fatally machine-gunned a negro postoffice messenger, wounded Police Chief C. M. Sherrod, and sped away with a mail bag containing $25,000.

Sherrod, shot in both legs, was recovering today.

The bandits completed their coup at the depot here shortly before the mail bag was to have been placed aboard a train for the Louisville Federal Reserve bank.

The robbers swiftly selected the mail bag containing money, tossed it into their car, and dashed off, taking assistant Postmaster Guy Askew with them.

They forced Askew from the car after speeding a half mile.

Recreation School Draws To Close

Approximately 50 women reviewed games and dances they had learned as the three-day session of the district recreation training school which met at the Lubbock hotel ballroom drew to a close today.

The program this morning consisted of a discussion of story telling by Miss Madeline Stevens of the National Recreation association. Miss Stevens recommended "Best Stories to Tell Children' by Sarah C. Bryant and "Just-So Stories" by Rudyard Kipling. The women then presented charades using two and three syllable words.

Each member directed a game or dance she had learned during the school on this afternoon's program. When the women return to their counties, they will teach them to their clubs.

Several counties plan to organize recreation associations to train people to teach games and dances to their clubs, said Miss Clara Pratt, Lubbock county agent.

Plans for next year's recreational school are indefinite, according to Miss Pratt.

Six-Part Program

awareness of their political value.

Furthermore, Congress has lately shown a disposition to ditch anything Roosevelt wants badly. And, finally, there's no assurance that the program, even if passed in full, would be any more effective than previous anti-trust statutes.

Three-Ply Motive

Summing up motive behind the current official outcry against "big business," you have:

First—Obvious 1938 and 1940 political potentialities of a trust-busting crusade, coupled with efforts to show that business—not government—caused the depression;

Second—Roosevelt's belief that government must regulate business and not let business control government, plus his belief that business cannot run itself—into anything except disaster;

Third—Hope that public ballyhoo against high prices will drive high prices down. Inventories move faster if prices go down, this theory holds. Lower prices for building materials are essential to any building boom. And a building boom, in turn, is considered by many as the only alternative to more federal spending.

Repudiates Old Theory

Although critics hark back to NRA and its encouragement of monopolistic practices, current administration attitude completely repudiates the old NRA theory that industry could regulate itself from within. NRA broke down. Anti-trust laws broke down long before the Supreme court took to itself the function of deciding in individual cases whether combinations in restraint of trade were "reasonable."

The FTC's function was to find the facts on which the court must base its decisions, but the court refused to respect its findings.

It now takes four or five years to prosecute an anti-trust case through the Supreme court, and the government usually starts out without much hope of winning. That's why it sometimes has been willing to accept "consent decrees," under which defendants agree to abandon certain monopolistic practices.

Chautemps Calls For Accords For French 'Social Peace'

PARIS, Jan. 6 (AP)—Premier Camille Chautemps, declaring the government can not permit labor conflicts to continue, today called on workers and employers to meet with him to draft new accords "for social peace."

The call was issued after the General Confederation of Labor had accused employers of bad faith and announced it would demand that the government and leaders of the people's front—the bloc of left wing parties supporting the cabinet—whip the employers into line.

ICE FISHING TIME

WHITEHALL, N. Y. (AP)—Ice fishing—a sport that calls for small wooden shacks as well as hook-line and bait—is now underway on Lake Champlain. With four to six inches of ice on South Bay here, more than 100 fishermen have erected their shacks to angle for the ice fish, which resemble smelts.

RFC To Lend B. & O., Jones Announces

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6. (AP)—Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance corporation has announced the RFC would lend $6,000,000 to the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and also provide for $2,223,000 of maturing equipment trust certificates, subject to interstate Commerce commission approval.

The announcement was made after B. & O. securities displayed weakness on the New York Stock exchange Wednesday. The railroad sought RFC aid, saying a loan would enable it to maintain its property at the present standard of efficiency and avoid reduction in maintenance forces which might otherwise be required.

Previously, the B. & O. had obtained RFC loans aggregating $79,842,823, posting collateral which, it said, had a market value of $89,276,610.

There are 11,021 miles of railways in the state of Pennsylvania.

Oklahoma Loses One Of Its Pioneer Editors Wednesday

CLAREMORE, Okla., Jan. 6 (AP)—Oklahoma lost one of its best known pioneer editors Wednesday—Albert Linwood Kates, 76, publisher of the Claremore Progress for 45 years.

Although he had retired from actual work on the paper he rolled up his sleeves during the Christmas season and helped personally with the publication of holiday editions.

The son of a tenant farmer, Kates set forth to satisfy his newspaper ambitions by beginning as a printer's devil on the Woodstown, N. J., Register in 1882. Two years later he and an associate purchased the paper. He sold it in 1890.

In 1893 he purchased the Claremore Progress.

His name was placed in the state hall of fame last November.

SAN ANGELO, Jan. 6. (AP)—Lieut. W. R. Bourtz of Duncan field, San Antonio, and Lieut. W. A. Cocke of March Field, California, are grounded at the airport here because of a muddy field. Lieut. Cocke landed his all-metal attack bomber here Wednesday afternoon on a muddy field but the ship bogged in the mud when it lost speed. Lieut. Bourtz landed Tuesday.

Lack Of Supervision Reason For Failures, Evans Says

DALLAS, Jan. 6. (AP) — Failure of farm ownership movements in the past were largely the result of lack of supervision, members of Farm Security advisory committees from five North Texas counties were told here Wednesday.

C. M. Evans, regional F. S. A. director, speaking at the first of a series of instruction schools on the Texas-Oklahoma land purchase program said under the FSA program, which will invest $917,000 in Texas farms for tenants, and $427,000 in Oklahoma, the federal government retains right of supervision until the last dollar is repaid.

County committees and FDA supervisors from Dallas, Hunt, Van Zandt, Navarro, and Johnson counties were in attendance.

State's Deficit Reduced Since December; Call For Warrants

AUSTIN, Jan. 6 (AP)—State Treasurer Charley Lockhart has announced a $1,156,295 drop to $16,672,258 since Dec. 18 in the general revenue fund deficit today.

The mid-December figure established an all-time high for the deficit. Officials said this had been due in part to early payment of state employes prior to the Christmas holidays.

Lockhart issued a general revenue call for $1,623,648, paying warrants up to and including No. 173,856 or all issued before June 15, 1937, and some up to Sept. 1, start of the fiscal year.

TWO SHOT TO DEATH

WILMINGTON, Calif., Jan. 6. (AP)—Lloyd W. Lansing, 38, ship painter, and Lawrence Wirtes, 28, longshoremen, both residents of San Pedro, were shot to death last night in the home of Wesley C. Martin, 65, after the trio had engaged in a card game, Sheriff's Captain William J. Penprase reported.

The officer said Martin admitted the shooting, accusing the two others of presenting a deck of marked cards with which to play.
