O. L. Slaton Junior High school's choir, a portion of which is shown in second photograph, has sung carols in every elementary school in Lubbock, under direction of Miss Imogene Webster. Pictured, left to right, are: Front row, Revis Jordan, Roylene Wheeler, Patsy Hufstedler and Sylvia Dietering; second row, Kay Lofley, Beth Gordon, Rexell Smallin and Shirley Marion.

In third photograph, four fifth grade students at Roscoe Wilson school who helped make the murals in colored chalk in background are pictured behind a nativity scene, left to right: Cathryn Conant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Conant, 2630 Twenty-third; Barbara Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Wright, 2624 Twenty-ninth; Linda Dennis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dennis, 2716 Twenty-ninth, and Jim Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Carter, 3003 Thirty-first.

A room of first graders at George M. Hunt school assembled the scene at right to show their ideas of Santa Claus land, where Santa Claus was ready to take off for rooftops of the world, pulled by reindeer led by Rudolph the Red-Nose. Pictured smiling are Stephen Magee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Magee, 1515 Fifteenth, and Anita Faye Kelley, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Robert Kelley, 1630 Fourteenth. (Staff Photos).

15-Degree Low Forecast Here

High Winds Batter San Angelo, Denton

A well-heralded cold wave pushed its way to a point just south of Lubbock early this morning, retreated to the northern South Plains, then advanced again, dropping temperatures about noontime from 37 to 29 degrees in Lubbock.

By 1:30 p. m. the mercury had climbed back to 31, but the weather bureau warned of an expected 15-degree minimum tonight.

The coldest portion of the cold front was pushing on southward from Lubbock early this afternoon.

Meanwhile snow, sleet and freezing rain pelted the Panhandle early today as the front accompanied the first day of winter.

Dalhart Has Snow

Dalhart had snow and sleet and a temperature of 20 degrees before dawn today. Snow was falling at Amarillo, and the thermometer read 23 degrees. Freezing rain and sleet peppered Childress in the midst of a thunderstorm. A low of 10 to 20 degrees was forecast for the Panhandle.

Clovis, Tucumcari and Clayton, N. M., had snowfall early today, and the temperature at Clovis was 21 degrees.

The west-to-east cool front dropped temperatures sharply this morning over a wide section of Central and North Texas. Denton reported a drop from 72 to 50

Dog Bites Officer But Ignores Thief

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 21 (AP)—Police Officer C. W. Kilgore is wondering today why a watchdog should want to bite him instead of a burglar.

Mrs. W. H. Spencer reached home late yesterday to discover a burglar had ransacked the place. Her watchdog Fritz was missing.

Kilgore checked the home and went outside to check the grounds. Suddenly the watchdog appeared and bit the officer three times.

Charge Filed In City Theft

Twenty-one-year-old David A. Gause of Raymondville, who thought he could "outrun anyone who might chase me—but hadn't eaten since Monday night and was too weak," was caught in a five-block chase about 5:30 p. m. Tuesday after he admittedly had grabbed approximately $2,000 in cash and checks from the manager of a Furr Food store at 1214 Thirteenth.

Scores of late shoppers saw the winding sprint of the suspect and the pursuit of store officials and others who joined in at a shouted, "Robbery! Stop that man!"

Had No Weapon

Tommy Irvin, 29, produce manager of the store, Jilton James Good, 15, store sacker, and Lloyd Shuffield, 18, of 613 Ave. C, who had joined the chase when it swept by him, caught Gause at Fourteenth and Texas Ave.

Gause had no weapon. He had dropped the store receipts. His pockets contained only cash register tickets and one penny which he said was his.

He was "broke," he said in explaining his motive to A. W. Salyars, assistant district attorney to whom he executed a signed statement.

A charge of theft from the person was filed by Salyars in the court of C. E. Lynn, justice of peace, for a Jan. 2 grand jury's

City detectives and the district attorney's office planned this afternoon to confer with a Lubbock woman who allegedly was robbed by assault early Tuesday morning in a taxicab before she was left in front of a toruist court where she lives with her husband.

Both agencies were advised of the case about 1:13 a. m., approximately 17 hours after the alleged assault.

Police reports said Howard F. Wilson, the woman's husband, telephoned them.

Clothing Bloody

This afternoon, they explained that the woman was not coherent enough earlier for the husband to "get enough of the story to call in details."

B. A. Dorman and Jeff Earthman answered the early-morning call by going to the court. Wilson told them his wife called him about 11:30 p. m. Monday from a place she did not identify and said she was returning home.

He said she had not arrived when he left for work at 7 a. m.

Strike Authorized By Phone Workers

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 21. (AP)—The 50,000 union employes of Southwestern Bell Telephone company have authorized a strike by a margin of about four to one, a union official announced today.

A final tabulation of ballots returned here after a vote conducted by mail has not been completed, but most of the ballots have been counted, he said.

The official, Vice President Frank P. Lonergan of Southwestern division 20, CIO Communications workers, said earlier there is "a definite probability of a walkout before Christmas."

Union officials hold that a strike may be legally called at any time after approval of such action by the membership.

Negotiations between the union and company were broken off last Monday.

The dispute over a new contract remained deadlocked, despite efforts by government conciliators who planned to confer with both sides today.

Farm Groups In Big Conflict

Brannan Plan Basic Problem

Who Is Spokesman For Farmer Argued

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 — The farmer—anxious over future prices and crop adjustment problems — today finds himself caught in the middle of a bitter struggle.

The conflict is between top-ranking government officials and powerful farm organizations, and involves two issues: (1) Future government farm program, and (2) the question of who speaks for the farmer.

On the one side is Secretary of Agriculture Brannan, with strong administration support, and on the other are such farm organizations as the American Farm Bureau federation and the National Grange. Only one major farm organization—the National Farmers' union—is backing the secretary. A fourth—the National Council of Farmer cooperatives—is expected to take sides against him at its January convention.

Farmer In Middle

The battle may have far-reaching consequences for agriculture, because of the possibility that it may interfere with future congressional farm legislation.

Caught in the middle along with farmers is Congress. Naturally anxious to pass legislation desired

Admiral Chosen For HST Security Aide

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. (U.P.)—President Truman today created the post of special consultant to the President on national security, and appointed retired Rear Adm. Sidney Souers to the job.

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said Souers will spend a large part of his time serving the President on national defense matters although his post will be only a part-time one.

Souers has been executive secretary of the National Security council. He has served in that capacity since September, 1947, when the council was created. He will take his new position Jan. 15.

Solon Urges Slash In Aid For Europe

Vandenberg Advocates Recognition Of Franco Government By United States

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) called today for continued economic and military aid to western Europe, but said it should be on a "sharply reduced" scale.

Vandenberg, who wields great influence on Republican foreign policy stands, also told a news conference that:

1. The Communist regime in China should be recognized by this country only when it demonstrated it has control of that country and will carry out the basic obligations of international law. He said Communist China does not now meet these requirements.

2. Full diplomatic recognition should be granted to the Franco government in Spain.

Returns To Washington

3. The bipartisan foreign policy involves no "mee-tooism" on the part of the Republicans since it is open to vigorous debate while decisions are in the process of being made.

4. The objective of the Republican party should be "to restore the American system to safe foundations before it is too late, and to gear dependable progress with national solvency and individual freedom."

Vandenberg returned to Washington yesterday. It was his first visit to the capital since he underwent a lung operation last October.

Congress, meeting in January, will be called on almost immediately to consider the question of future Marshall plan aid. It voted $5,055,000,000 for the first year of the plan, but cut the total to $3,778,000,000 for the current year.

Vandenberg believes his colleagues have ample grounds for criticising the administration's handling of the China problem and other issues.

All that some of the Republicans need is a small sign from

Big Oil Firms And Independents Clash

DALLAS, Dec. 21 (AP) — A leader of Texas independent oilmen says relations between independents and big oil importing companies are in a "dog-eat-dog" stage, and a no-quarter fight is developing.

Guy Warren, president of the Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners association, spoke yesterday to some 50 Dallas independent producers at a strategy meeting.

Warren said he doesn't believe the importers have a deliberate plan to harm the domestic petroleum industry. But in their eagerness to realize a dollar return on huge foreign investments, he said, they are doing just that.

Communists Blamed For Dynamite Plot

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, Dec. 21 — Unknown plotters laid a huge dynamite charge at the international headquarters of the CIO United Auto workers last night, but it failed to go off.

Union officers immediately clamped security measures on the three-story building today.

The dynamite plot was another in a series of attacks and threats directed against the union and its officials. Top police officials believe Communists are behind it.

Reward Announced

The union's four top officers announced a $25,000 reward for information leading to the arrest of the plotters.

"This is part of the same campaign of terrorism waged over the last two years by anti-labor, un-American elements," said a statement from the officers.

A stack of 39 sticks of dynamite, wrapped in tape and colored Christmas gift paper, was found at a side stairway of the union building.

Two fuses had burned to within an inch or less of the explosives before they sputtered out, harmlessly.

Building Was Empty

Except for two night workers, the union building was empty. However, lives were imperiled in a neighboring General Motors building.

As a result, authorities were confronted today with a new task

Assault Case Probed Here

A 24-year-old department store employe, Buddie Carrol Sims of 1600-block Ave. J, was held in county jail this afternoon in lieu of $5,000 bond binding him over to grand jury investigation on a charge of assault with intent to rape.

He and the prosecuting witness, a pretty young brunette married woman of 100-block Ave. U, told W. G. Pharr, assistant district attorney, that he, the woman and her husband were guests at a Christmas party in downtown Lubbock Tuesday night, and that the three went to the Ave. U address afterward.

About 6 a. m., Pharr was told by the woman and her husband that the husband and Sims went to town to sweep out a drugstore, owned by the husband's father. Sims said he had to "go home," but went from the store to the Ave. U apartment, investigators were told.

There he got into bed with the woman, who had not arisen, she said. He sought to make advances to her and she awakened and discovered he was not her husband, so jumped out of bed screaming.

She suffered bruises when Sims

Baby Fatally Burned In Fire At Spearman

SPEARMAN, Dec. 21. (U.P.)—One baby died and two other young children were critically burned last night when fire destroyed the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Easley.

Lynn, a 10-months-old boy, died at a hospital. Donna Fay, age 4 and Stephen, age 2, were in critical condition.

Their father, who dashed into the inferno to rescue the children, was seriously injured. Mrs. Easley helped her husband, but she escaped with only minor burns. Four older children got out of the flaming home without injury.

Mrs. Easley said the house caught fire when she poured gasoline which she thought was kerosene—into a coal stove where a spark of fire remained.

Dally says quite sadly.

I fear she'll fare quite badly.

MASSIVE CELEBRATION STAGED

Peace Stressed On Stalin's Birthday

(By The Associated Press)

MOSCOW, Dec. 21 — Russian leaders hailed Joseph Stalin on his 70th birthday today with a massive celebration, and the Soviet leadership took the occasion to renew Russian claims that Communism and capitalism can exist together in peace.

Georgi Malenkov, deputy prime-minister and considered close to Stalin, sounded the peace keynote in Pravda, the official newspaper of the Communist party, by laying heavy stress on previous statements by the prime minister that peace was possible between the two ways of life.

Peace Prize Established

At the same time the peace theme was underscored by the announcement of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet that it had established, in the prime minister's honor, an international Stalin peace prize to be awarded each year on his birthday, beginning next December.

The special 12-page edition of Pravda honoring Stalin today also carried an article by Vyacheslav M. Molotov, former foreign minister, who relinquished that post to devote himself to duties as deputy prime minister.

While Malenkov spoke of peace, Molotov lashed out against the United States and Britain charging them with preparing for a new war, and with planning world domination "with the help of any aggressive means, including the

Plane Missing In Southwest

DALLAS, Dec. 21. (U.P.)—A light airplane, carrying three men, has been missing since late Monday on a flight from Tulsa, Okla., to Dallas, the Civil Air patrol said today.

One of those aboard was H. J. Happel, owner of a Tulsa engineering construction firm. Others were Happel's engineer, C. W. Healey, and the plane's pilot, W. J. Crawley.

No Radio Contact

CAP said all lived at Tulsa.

There was no radio contact with the plane after it left Commercial airport at Tulsa about 4:30 p. m. Monday. A four-place, metal Cessna, the ship carried a full load of gasoline and a two-way radio.

Ground search was organized immediately in North Texas and southern Oklahoma when the CAP was notified that the plane was long overdue and unreported.

Weather conditions in the two states were too bad to permit air reconnaissance, a CAP spokesman said.

Crawley filed a flight plan at Tulsa calling for alternate stops

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 21 — "The King" has a new lady —a laughing, lovely blonde reminiscent in many ways of the girl whose death kept him lonely and distant for almost eight years.

Clark Gable is honeymooning somewhere today with Lady Sylvia Stanley, the 39-year-old widow of Douglas Fairbanks, sr. They were married in a surprise ceremony late yesterday at a luxurious guest ranch 40 miles north of Santa Barbara, Calif. After the wedding, they departed for points unknown.

Sometime today or tomorrow they are expected to return to Hollywood, in time to sail tomorrow on the Lurline for a two-to-four-week junket to Honolulu.

"The King", so-called because of his box-office drawing power, and Lady Sylvia long have been friends. She

59-YEAR-OLD MAN RESCUES BODY

Woman Animal Trainer Killed By Lion As Children Look On

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif., Dec. 21. (AP)—With a roar, a savage lion sprang at a widely known woman animal trainer and quickly killed her while her horrified children tried to save her.

Mrs. May Kovar Schafer, 42, was in the cage yesterday with the lion, Sultan, attempting to break him into training. The powerful animal lunged at her, bore her down and bit her in the neck, severing the spine.

Her children, Michael Kovar, 18, and May Kovar, 14, were watching their mother, who was working with a chair and whip when the sudden attack occurred.

Children Prod Beast

The children, armed with short poles, rushed through the cage door. But the beast, with Mrs. Schafer's neck in his jaws, ignored their pokings.

Michael and May and three-year-old Sandra Schafer, who was nearby, screamed for help.

Rudy Muller, 59, an elephant trainer, ran to their aid.

"I grabbed up a pitchfork and an eight-foot length of pipe," the frail man said. "The lion was very quiet. I stabbed at him with the pitchfork with one hand and then brought the pipe down on his head with the other.

"That made the lion drop her and back up. Must have stunned him for a second because he sagged back on his haunches.

Backed From Cage

"But I didn't have much time," Muller said. "Just enough to pick up Mrs. Schafer. Then the lion started for me and the children.

"I backed out, inch by inch, never taking my eyes off the lion. The children got out. Little May held the door open for me and I got out. It was a near thing for those youngsters. He probably would have got them too."

Muller said Mrs. Schafer, who had appeared with Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus for four years prior to the war, moved her arm as he stooped to pick up her inside the cage was apparently dead by the time he got her out.

Ended Film Sequence

Mrs. Schafer was known professionally as Madam Kovar. Two weeks ago she completed an animal training sequence in a motion picture. She came here last August after appearing with the Wirth circus in Australia.

Louis Goebel, animal dealer who owns the property where the tragedy occurred, said she obtained Sultan and another lion, Pasha, recently from Texas. Mrs. Schafer was the widow of Harry Kovar, a foremost animal trainer.

Her present husband, Fred Schafer, also an animal trainer, is en route here from Fort Worth, Texas.

Workers Join Palace Servants Of Gaekwar Of Baroda On Strike

BOMBAY, India, Dec. 21 (AP) — Over 3,000 industrial workers went on a one-day hunger strike today to urge 15 palace servants of the fabulously rich Gaekwar of Baroda to start eating again.

The 15 palace servants have been on a hunger strike for 10 days. Nearly 250 of their fellow workers have been on a more orthodox strike for almost a month, demanding recognition of their new union and higher wages. The 15 are in jail along with 85 others who were arrested when the strike began.

Sympathy strikes for the servants of the maharaah, or gaedwar, who once was accused of squandering $10,000,000 in a six-weeks spree, have broken out among other workers. Bombay was in darkness last Saturday when the municipal workers walked out.

Today's strike of industrial workers is in sympathy with the servants, too. Many have promised to back them up in their demands, but they want the servants to start eating first.

The Gaekwar, holder of one of the world's biggest fortune in jewels, has no power to stop the industrial or municipal workers' strikes since he is now only a private citizen. He was pensioned last May by the Indian government, which controls the state of Baroda he inherited from his ancestors.

AFTER LONG-DELAYED WEDDING — Mr. and Mrs. Nosh Paddack, both 71, pose with the Rev. Clayborn Landers (center) after their marriage in Kansas City. They had been engaged to be married Sept. 30, 1900, but the bride, then Miss Martha Marie Ballard, left for Denver the night before the ceremony and the couple did not meet again until in January of 1938. Paddack had been married and widowed in the intervening years. (AP Wirephoto).

Union President Is Married In Florida

LAKELAND, Fla., Dec. 21 (AP)—William J. (Big Bill) Hutcheson, 70-year-old president of the International Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, and Mrs. Madeline Wilson, 57, for 20 years superintendent of Carpenters' hall here, were married last night.

The ceremony took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Al Lodwick, close friends of the couple. Lodwick was best man and Mrs. R. R. Norlin of Miami was matron of honor. About 100 friends attended.

Hutcheson, who also is prominent in Republican circles, lost his first wife about a year ago through death. Mrs. Wilson's first husband died many years ago.

The couple will remain at Hutcheson's home here for several days before leaving on their honeymoon.

ATLANTIC PACT POLITICAL ALLIANCE IS URGED

Fewer Dollars, More Diplomacy Seen As U. S. Policy In Fight Against Communism In World

By DON WHITEHEAD
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 — A strong move is developing among lawmakers today for more diplomacy and fewer dollars in America's fight against Communism.

This looks like the big issue in the international field when Congress meets again Jan. 3.

Right now the signs point to less spending in the cold war with Russia—and greater effort to draw non-Communist nations into closer political alliance.

The new year in Congress is expected to bring:

1. A move to get Atlantic pact nations into a conference as the first step to forming a political union.

2. New demands for full diplomatic recognition for Franco Spain—and to draw Spain into the anti-Communist front of Western Europe.

3. An effort to make a drastic cut-back in European recovery spending.

4. A struggle to reduce military spending at home and abroad.

5. An administration call for a three-year extension of the peacetime military draft.

6. Demands for a firm government policy to block Communism in Asia.

Public Hearings Set

7. Opposition to any U. S. recognition of a Red regime in China—even though Britain may grant recognition.

Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn) will lead the Senate fight for an Atlantic union conference as a counon the European front.

The Senate Foreign Relations committee has promised public hearings as quickly as possible, he said. A resolution is pending — signed by 21 senators—authorizing the preident to call the conference.

Senator McCarran (D-Nev), chairman of the Senate Judiciary committee, is quarterbacking maneuvers for recognition and economic help for Spain. He is among the Senate Catholic group which — with considerable Protestant support—is opposed to the administration's stand on Spain.

Secretary of State Acheson has said Spain will not get U. S. recognition until Franco gives his people more basic freedoms.

On the money side, it appears Europe will have to get along next year on less help from America. Many congressional leaders have made it clear they favor a sizeable cut in the Economic Cooperation administration (ECA) funds.

ECA got $5,055,000,000 in the first year of the Marshall plan. This year the total was cut to $3,778,000,000.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee has estimated congress will trim another $1,000,000,000 from next year's funds. Some lawmakers are demanding even deeper cuts.

Truman Program Pushed

Since the administration always has planned for a year-by-year cut-back in ECA spending, the only question now is how big it will be.

Administration leaders will push for approval of President Truman's "point four" program of aid to backward areas of the world.

Most of this would be done by exporting American industrial and technical know-how—and by encouraging American investments overseas.

The administration's most vulnerable point at the moment appears to be the China policy. Republicans are primed for a series of fresh attacks on the "wait until the dust settles" China policy.

This issue has been pointed up in recent weeks by the collapse of the Nationalist armies and the government's flight to the island fortress of Formosa.

Jessup Making Study

The government's future policy in the far east is expected to develop rapidly in the next few weeks. Roving Ambassador Philip Jessup has gone to Asia to study the situation. His report is likely to form the basis of any new policy developed.

Whether this will satisfy Congress remains to be seen.

Any extension of the peacetime draft will have rough sailing in Congress. The draft never has been popular—and it won't be helped by the fact that an election is coming up next year for one-third of the senators and all representatives.

Liquor Agents Seize 15 Moonshine Stills

AUSTIN, Dec. 21 (AP)—Seizure of 15 illicit stills in 10 Texas counties last month was reported yesterday by the State Liquor Control board.

With the stills, inspectors took 15 gallons of moonshine liquor and 1,730 gallons of mash, and made four arrests.

Four of the stills were in Red River county, two each in Wood and Harrison counties, and one each in Titus, Fannin, Smith, Marion, Jack, Nacogdoches and Freestone counties.

MEET THE MANAGER—Mrs. E. L. Avery, co-owner and manager of Lubbock Beauty college, 1806-1808 Ave. H, was the daughter of a San Saba county doctor. She married a ranchman and moved to Llano after graduating from San Saba High school at Whitis Girls school at Austin and attending the University of Texas. She earned spending money while at the university by hairdressing. "I'm equally apt at judging and buying cattle and the beauty business," she says. After her husband's death in an automobile wreck in 1937, she was appointed by Gov. Stephenson to the state board of hairdressers and cosmetologists, and moved to Austin. She served on the board six years, of which she was chairman for four years. She came to Lubbock as co-owner and manager of the beauty college Nov. 28. She is a member of the Texas Association of Accredited Beauty Culturists, the State Ladies club of Austin, the Methodist church, the Business and Professional Women's club of Austin and the Order of the Eastern Star. Her hobbies, when she has time, are riding and deer hunting. This is the first year in a long time that she has missed deer hunting. She is also a member of the Llano Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Avery has two sons, Jim, a graduae of Allen academy and a West Point appointee; and Earl Avery, jr., a February graduate of the University of Texas engineering school; and one daughter, Mrs. Alfred Gilliland of Pampa, who was named Miss West Texas in 1936. 42-Foot Santa Claus Built By Texas Town

He's a jolly old giant—42 feet tall and 26 feet around the part that's supposed to shake like a a bowlful of jelly.

It took citizens of this little central Texas town two weeks to build their St. Nick. They claim he's the biggest in the world.

Now thousands of visitors come from Corsicana and other nearby places to see Santa.

His frame is made of structural steel. A 200-pound, four-by-five foot head towers atop shoulders that span 14 feet. His arms are 13 and a half feet long, and his boots are size sevens—seven feet long from heel to toe.

One hundred feet of inch and a quarter rope went into his beard.

His suit was made of 171 yards of red, white and black oil cloth. His white plywood buttons are nine inches in diameter. His belt is 18 inches wide and has a buckle 18 by 24 inches.

Chamber of Commerce Manager Howell Brister had the idea. A couple of six-footers—O. S. Spurlock and Hardy Mayo—were the models.

Last Rites Pending For Texas Attorney

DALLAS, Dec. 21 (AP) — Funeral services were pending today for William Thompson, 87, noted Texas civil lawyer and authority on insurance laws. He died yesterday.

His most celebrated case was an anti-trust suit brought by the state of Mississippi against 140 insurance companies represented by Thompson. The case involved about three billion dollars, and the state asked penalties of eight million. After a trial jury decided the case for the state, Thompson appealed to the Mississippi supreme court. The court upheld the trial court. But it found total penalties should be no more than $2,500,000.

Thompson was attorney in the distribution of 18,000 bales of cotton scattered 50 to 70 miles along the Texas coast by the disastrous Galveston flood.

Pearls Star In Gift Parade

BY DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Fashion Editor

Top of almost every woman's hint list this year is a pearl necklace.

The pearls need not be real, just so there are plenty of them. For never before have pearls been used so lavishly as a costume accent. Some women like to wear as many as half a dozen strands choker-fashion about the throat. Others go for the long pearl ropes, which may dangle or he wound in multiple strands.

Doting beaux and husbands may make a big gesture this season with pearls at any price. Fake pearls in new arrangements are available from $1.98 up. Cultured pearls may be purchased at from $50 up, with a little shopping around. These are real pearls, from real oysters, but cost less than the "wild" variety which must be gathered one by one by pearl divers and then carefully matched.

To match the necklaces there are bracelets, clips and the new dangling chandelier earrings, all of which help to complete the picture.

Seriously In Love, Young Divorcee Swallows Pride, Asks Evasive Man His Intentions

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am a divorcee 26, have a good job and recently I have fallen deeply in love with a very prominent man 20 years my senior. He has been married twice, both times unhappily, and when we first started going together he said he was falling in love with me and wished I could also love him.

I married at 18 and the marriage lasted four years, but it didn't work out because I didn't know what love meant then—and when I first knew Wales I was not in love either.

He has always been kind, considerate and polite and has introduced me to some of his fine friends whom he greatly admires; and when we are alone he is very sweet and loving to me, but in the company of his friends I feel rather lost, because he pays little attention to me then. He tells me to try to understand that he isn't the type to be demonstrative in public .But it's not that I want him to be demonstrative, it's just that I don't want him to ignore me (or so it seems) at such times.

SHE LACKS COURAGE TO QUIT STALEMATE

WE'VE gone together 18 months and about three months ago I asked him desperately what his intentions are. He didn't seem surprised. He said he could hardly see himself married, although he'd thought of it many times, and that if he were 10 years younger he wouldn't hesitate. I swallowed my pride and asked if he were sure he loved me. He said he might not be too sure, and that he was sorry if he had hurt me. I told him I had taken for granted that if he cared, we could have a fine future together.

He seemed very evasive about the whole thing and after that terrible evening I let the matter drop and he has been exceptionally kind. Later I tried several times to give him up, but I must lack the necessary courage. I truly don't know what's happened to me but it seems I've lost all my pride—and I cling to a little hope that if I hang on, he will some day change his mind.

Recently he told me that perhaps I would be happier if I went out with others, and I tried it a few times (wretchedly), especially to see if he might become jealous, but he didn't show any emotion. When I asked him if it bothered him, he would say "Yes," but that's all. When we quarrel I am the one who calls first. He is kind when I do. I told him the other night that since I haven't the courage to get out, he should break off with me if I mean nothing to him. He is still around. I don't know what to do. Please advise me. Please.

(Signed) I. C.

MAN IS DEEPLY AFRAID TO LOVE

DEAR I. C.: You don't mention having an affair, but the unhappy pitch of your increasing attachment to Wales and his defensive reactions thereto — especially in the presence of his fine friends—suggests that you are involved in a liaison with a seasoned playboy whose past record causes him to deeply doubt his ability to love any woman much or for long.

But although Wales is unsure of his feelings for you, doubtless he is a lonely man, as philandering persons usually are at heart—due to chronic evasion of real relatedness or deep emotional commitments. Thus it's conceivable that he would adhere rather jealously to you for sentimental sanctuary, even without intent to marry, until adventurous interest in a new feminine personality offered escapist incentive to cast you aside and pursue another illusion-of-love.

From what you say, Wales isn't wilfully cruel or latently hostile towards the opposite sex. Rather he seems gently behaved, although in a completely self centered way, in relation to you; and very likely his instability as husband and lover is linked to a neurotic bias as regards his mother—some sense of injury involving frustration or humiliation that causes him to refrain, involuntarily, from full acceptance of a challenge to love with his whole heart and "for keeps."

So, quite aside from Wales' senior age and class snobbery, which give him pause about taking you seriously, there is that psychological barrier he always carries with him like heavy armor into every sex relationship, which disbars you from reaching his spirit and coming securely to rest in his affections. Thus I feel that he would have to effect revolutionary changes in himself before you could find common ground, and indeed before he could be loyal to any woman—and judging by the hints he gives, I rather think you'd be waiting in vain if you wait on him to make such changes for your sake. M. H.

Rites Slated Today For Blaze Victims

Funeral services were held at 10:30 a. m. today at the Parkdals Baptist church for Jennifer DeLois Carmen, 16 months, and her brother, William M. Carmen, jr., 4 months, who were burned fatally about 11 a. m. Tuesday when flames swept through a one-room home on Ave. H a mile north of the Ave. H underpass.

Rev. Wayne Randolph, pastor of the Parkdale Mission church, officiated. Burial was in Lubbock cemetery under direction of Sanders Funeral home.

The infant girl was removed from the charred ruins burned beyond recognition. Her baby brother died at 2:45 p. m. Tuesday in West Texas hospital of third degree burns on the face, lower abdomen, legs and feet.

A third child, Dwight Owen Carmen, 3, was dismissed from the hospital after treatment for burns on his arms and shoulders. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Carmen, escaped serious injuries and a fourth child, Edith Lucille, was not at home when a stove exploded in the residence, scattering kerosene on walls and bedclothing.

Mrs. Sherman Morgan of South Bend, Texas, also survives.

Lynn Walter Daughtrey, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Daughtrey of 2622 Twenty-sixth, died at 3:37 a. m. today in West Texas hospital after an illness of six years.

His father, an engineer with the Arabian-American Oil company in Saudi Arabia, was unaware of his son's death this morning. He could not be reached by phone but efforts were being made to contact him by radio facilities.

The youth was a second grade student at Roscoe Wilson school.

He is also survived by a brother, Norlan, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hodge and Mr. and Mrs. R. D. McAnelley, all of Del Rio.

Rix Funeral home is in charge of arrangements.

Pallbearers will be Carroll Dale, Bill Self, Bob Pugh, Alvin Sherrill, Clifford Hunter and Jack McQueen.

HST Stresses U. S. Defense

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP) — President Truman said today there would never be another war if the peoples of the world, "sick of blood-letting," could have their way.

But while captive peoples "are made to respond to our handclasp with a mailed fist, we have no choice but to stand ready in self defense" he declared.

The President spoke at Arlington National cemetery, accepting a carillon memorial to the war dead from the American Veterans of World War II. Allied diplomats from many nations, and high ranking military and civilian officials were in the audience.

It was only coincidence that Mr. Truman spoke on the birthday of Soviet Russia's Premier Stalin and he did not mention Russia by name.

But allusions to the Russian threat to peace were plain and repeated.

The President said that by generous sharing of material goods the United States has restored to many peoples faith in themselves, in freedom, and in certain triumph of confidence over fear.

The President also said that social progress must not be forgotten in the search for peace and security.

Carillon Is Installed

The console-type carillon has been installed in the cemetery's amphitheater out of sight of the visiting public.

The ceremony was part of a busy schedule for Mr. Truman's first full day at the White House since his return from Key West, Fla., shortly after noon yesterday.

From the airport the President went to his Blair house residence and spent an hour at lunch with Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt discussing United Nations affairs. Mrs. Roosevelt, a member of the American delegation to the UN, has been active in the crusade for world human rights.

Back at his White House office late in the day, Mr. Truman went over the new federal budget with Secretary of the Treasury Snyder and budget Director Pace. Then Secretary of State Acheson brought him up to date on international problems.

Mrs. J. A. Hall Of Lubbock Is Claimed

Mrs. J. A. Hall, 50, of 301 Ave. U, Lubbock resident for 23 years, died at 2:15 a. m. today at West Texas hospital after a long illness.

Survivors include her husband; two sons, J. A. Hall, jr., of Georgetown, and Joe Hall of Lubbock; a daughter, Mrs. Allen J. Cain of Lubbock; her mother, Mrs. J. F. Courtney of Lubbock; four brothers, C. H. and D. Courtney of Lubbock, L. J. of Wortham and J. R. Courtney of Oakland, Calif.; a half brother, Leonard Watson of California; a sister, Mrs. Vera Perry of Lubbock, and two grandchildren.

Services are scheduled at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon in First Methodist church, with Dr. H. I. Robinson, Rev. E. H. Crandall and Rev. W F. Gaede officiating. Burial will follow in Tech Memorial Park cemetery under direction of McDonald Funeral home.

Pallbearers for Mrs. Hall will be W. R. Teston, Olen Crump, Winston Jones, Lloyd Nelson, George Hall and C. A. McDonald. The 1934 Needle club will serve as honorary pallbearers.

Group Sings Carols At Rotary Luncheon

A Christmas theme dominated the regular weekly luncheon of the Lubbock Rotary club at the Hilton hotel today.

A quartet composed of Dr. A. Lee Hewitt, Miss Joyce Watson, Mrs. Sue Lovett, and Wilson Ward, accompanied by Mrs. Mamie Neal on the piano, sang a group of carols, with Dr. Hewitt explaining briefly their traditional backgrounds.

The Rev. David L. Zacharias, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church, delivered a Christmas message in which he drew an analogy between the "no vacancy" signs found during the last war, and those that confronted Joseph and Mary in Bethlehem, where there was no room for the Christ Child at the inn.

"I hope there will be room for Him in our hearts and lives this Christmas," he said.

State Sen. Kilmer C. Corbin was introduced as a special guest by George W. Gray.

Visiting Rotarians, introduced by Cecil H. Cale, were Roy Abel and Tim Lyle, both of Ralls; Alvin R. Allison, and Otis Burson, both of Levelland; W. P. Layne and Allen Payne, both of Slaton; Cullen Chapman of Big Spring; and Gary Schwartz of San Angelo.

Dr. H. I. Robinson offered the invocation. Rex Webster led a song, accompanied on the piano by Roy Bass. Club Pres. Guy C. Victory presided.

U. S. Sends Birthday Greetings To Stalin

MOSCOW, Dec. 21. (AP)—The United States sent birthday greetings to Prime Minister Joseph Stalin today.

Ambassador Alan G. Kirk sent the following message to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky:

"I have the honor on behalf of the government of the United States of America to request you to transmit to Generalissimo Stalin, chairman of the council of ministers of the U. S. S. R., best wishes on the occasion of his 70th birthday."

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 21. (AP)—Who's taller than a tall-talking Texan? I am, says the 54-foot Santa Claus in Union station here.

Traffic Deaths Are Below Level Of '48

AUSTIN, Dec. 21. (AP)—Texas traffic deaths for this year were running 9 per cent under last year's total at the end of November, the Texas department of public safety reported today.

During November there were 168 persons reported killed, to boost the year's total to 1,691. Last year the same period totalled 1,865.

Effect Of Steel Price Hike On New 1950 Autos Awaited

DETROIT, Dec. 21. (AP) — The nation's car buyers soon will know whether increased steel costs are to mean higher car prices.

Price tags are to go on many new models within the next few weeks. Undoubtedly they will reflect the auto industry's reaction to the recent $4 a ton hike in steel prices.

New Models Ready

Scheduled for public introduction—and new price tags—during the month ahead are all the new Chrysler models and most of General Motors new vehicles. Other producers may be waiting to see what these heavy volume campanies do about prices.

As far as steel itself is concerned the price hike should not mean a very sharp boost, if any, in car prices. Few cars now made require more than a ton and a half of steel. Many use less. Moreover, the automakers, facing increased competition, have been trying to cut rather than advance prices.

Showings Are Slated

But the car makers do not get all their steel directly from the steel mills. A substantial part of it comes in the form of various components and sub-assemblies through their suppliers. They know the steel increase means advances in the cost of these sub-assemblies.

Among the new models soon to be given public showings are Buick's Roadmaster and Super models, scheduled for next week. Chrysler, Dodge and Oldsmobile have set their public displays in dealer showrooms for Jan. 4; the new Chevrolet will be shown on Jan. 7; De Soto on Jan. 9; Plymouth Jan. 12; Lincoln and Cadillac shortly thereafter.

DENIED BEING "FIVE PERCENTER"

Decision On Maragon Perjury Indictment Not Yet Revealed

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—A federal grand jury's decision on whether to indict dapper John Maragon, who once had easy access to the White House, was locked in secrecy today until early next month.

The jury reached a verdict late yesterday after questioning 11 witnesses and examining charges that Maragon lied to Senate investigators. But what the panel decided won't be announced until it hands down all its decisions, probably Jan. 3.

Maragon is a one-time shoe shine boy who came to know many government officials well enough to call them by their first names. One of his friends is Maj. Harry Vaughan, President Truman's military aide.

Name Hit Headlines

Maragon's name popped into the headlines last summer when a Senate committee looked into the activities of so-called "five percenters"—men who for a fee, often five per cent, helped others get government contracts.

There is nothing illegal about that. But it developed that Maragon's behind-closed-doors testimony to the committee conflicted with the public testimony other witnesses gave later.

Maragon, for example, swore he never was paid anything by anyone for doing business with the government. Other witnesses testified under oath that he had been paid for such services.

Committee members then said there was a "clear cut case of perjury" against Maragon. They asked the justice department to look into it.

The matter reached the grand jury yesterday, and the panel questioned several witnesses who had appeared earlier at the Capitol. They told newsmen they had, for the most part, repeated testimony they gave the committee.

Charles B. Murray, assistant district attorney, said the jury decided to call no more witnesses.

Conviction on a perjury charge carries with it a possible penalty of two to 10 years in jail on each count of an indictment.

When Maragon went before the Senate committee at a public session he refused to answer most questions on the ground that he might tend to incriminate himself. He was not called before the grand jury.

Funds Are Needed To Complete Home Here

Out in the Arnett-Benson addition in Northwest Lubbock are a group of people who are seeking to play Santa Claus to a family in dire need.

The husband is in the State Tuberculosis sanitorium near San Angelo and will be discharged on Jan. 5. His condition is in such an advanced stage that further treatment in the hospital would be useless, his wife has been informed.

Seriously Ill Over Year

The man, 52, a pipe fitter before he became seriously ill a year ago, has been suffering from tuberculosis five years. In addition, he has asthma and a heart ailment and is unable to do any manual labor. The wife and ten-year-old son have been living with a 24-year-old married daughter while the husband and father has been in the state hospital.

Residents of the area have been taking up a collection and soliciting materials, labor, etc., for the construction of a four-room home for the couple where the man will have a room in which to secure needed rest and the recuperative powers of the sun.

Construction on the house has been moving along at a fairly good rate of progress and only about a week or ten days of work is needed to complete it.

Most of the work has been donated by various craftsmen. Materials have been donated by firms all over the city.

The Arnett-Benson Good Samaritans have nearly achieved their goal, but they're going to have to have a little help if they make it a Christmas present for the family.

About $500 in cash is needed to complete the job.

Anyone who would like to contribute to the fund may contact Mrs. F. H. Bashore, treasurer for the fund, at 2711 North Seventh or dial 7623 or Mrs. Wallace Gipson, 2700 North Seventh, House No. 20, or dial 2-4369.

Admiral Doubts Reds Have A-Bomb Secret

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 21. (AP)—Retired Adm. William H. Standley, former ambassador to Russia, doubts the Soviets have either the atom bomb or a large submarine fleet.

"President Truman's report concerned their possession of the secret of atomic energy," he said at a press conference yesterday. "From what I know of the industrial potential, I don't believe they have the bomb at all."

He also scoffed at the report by Janes Fighting ships that Russia has more than 300 submarines with hundreds under construction.

Engineers To Select New Officers Today

The South Plains sub-section of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical engineers will elect its first slate of officers at an organizational meeting in the Hilton hotel at 6:30 p.m. today.

First official meeting of the organization, tonight's gathering is expected to be attended by approximately 75 oil men in the South Plains area. A pre-organization meeting was held Nov. 26, at which time it was voted to become a sub-section of the Permian basin chapter rather than to petition for full-section membership in the AIME.

A nominating committee composed of E. B. Armstrong, Paul Johnston, and R. R. Shaffer will present their candidates for the offices of chairman, first vice-chairman, second vice-chairman, and secretary-treasurer tonight. Other nominations may be made from the floor.

Registration will begin at 6:30 p.m. followed by a dinner at 7 p.m. and a business meeting at 7:45 p.m. Subsequent meetings of the group will alternate between Lubbock, Brownfield and Levelland, charter members have indicated.

Polly Cook Selected Rodeo Group's Queen

Polly Cook, Texas Tech graduate student and part-time instructor in biology from Post, is the 1949 Queen of the Tech Rodeo association. She was crowned at the annual Cowboy Christmas ball Saturday night by Tommie Bell, president of the association.

Dressed in traditional cowgirl attire, the pretty brunette queen was crowned after members of the group had chosen her in a secret ballot election earlier in the week.

Boy, 5, Held For Shooting

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 21. (AP)—Five-year-old Joe Langston is being held at juvenile court today while authorities attempt to determine whether he shot and killed his mother.

Mrs. Helen Langston, 39, was found with a bullet through her brain yesterday in an upstairs bedroom of her home in Robinson township, a Pittsburgh suburb.

Allegheny county Detective Steve Pucker said Mrs. Langston's two older sons, William, 18, and John, 17, told him Joe fired the .22 caliber target pistol that killed their mother.

Pucker quoted William as saying:

Had Fist Fight

"John and I had a fist fight in mom's bedroom over John's picking on little Joe. Mom came in to break it up. Then I heard a shot and that was all. I saw the gun over by Joe. John ran for the doctor."

All three boys were given paraffin tests yesterday. Detectives said the tests showed traces of gunpowder on Joe's right hand, adding this "indicates he pulled the trigger."

Tests on the two older boys revealed no traces of powder, the detectives said. Such tests, according to authorities, usually are considered conclusive.

Joe, meanwhile, doesn't know that his mother is dead and keeps repeating "I want to see my mom."

Du Ponts Set Annual New Year's Reunion

WILMINGTON, Del., Dec. 21 (AP) The du Ponts are going to hold their usual family reunion on New Year's day—but this time with a guest list totaling 600.

Every New Year's day since Pierre Samuel du Pont landed at Newport, R. I., Jan. 1, 1800, members of the family have held a gathering of the clan in the French tradition.

The 1950 reunion is to be very private. The family is not even disclosing the guest list or the gathering place.

About 30 descendants of Pierre Samuel du Pont will be there from France, England, Switzerland and Italy. Others will come from widely scattered points in the United States. But most of them will be from Wilmington.

Lubbock Drubs Pampa, 50-41

Westerners To Meet Abilene

Lubbock's Westerners, fresh from a 50-41 Tuesday night triumph over the Pampa Harvesters, go after their tenth victory of the season tonight at Chapman fieldhouse when they meet Abilene's Eagles of District 5-AA.

A "B" game between Abilene and Lubbock will open tonight's cage program at 6:30 o'clock, with the varsity game due to start at 8 o'clock.

Lubbock had to overcome an early Pampa lead to beat the Harvesters Tuesday night. The visitors started strong and led by 15-7 at the quarter, but Lubbock staged a second-quarter splurge that gave the Westerners a 25-21 halftime margin. They retained the lead throughout the last half.

Pampa Defense Tight

Lubbock had its troubles early in the game when inaccuracy from the floor and a tight Harvester zone defense kept their scoring punch subdued, but before the game ended Westerner cagers were hitting from all angles to finish with a 43 per cent average on field goal attempts.

The hustling Westerners had to scramble to keep up with the Harvesters, and the work of Forward Tom Cheatham under the backboards was one of the bright spots of the Lubbock defense.

High scorer for the Westerners was Forward Jimmy Sexton with 17 points, and Guard Carl Ince had 11. Walter Norton and Bill Williams were next with eight points each.

Pacing the Pampa point parade was Center James Gallemore with 20 points, and Guard James Howard hit for 13. Gallemore and Howard were the sparkplugs in the Pampa attack. Both are veterans off last year's team.

Pampa snared most of the rebounds during the first quarter, but in the second quarter the Westerners began to come alive and start taking a few balls off the backboards. Led by Jimmy Cheatham and aided greatly by Norton and Sexton, the defense started clicking and the tide of battle also changed.

Scores On First Jump

Pampa took the opening jump and went straight down the court to score, with Howard making a lay-up shot. A free shot by Gallemore put the visitors ahead 3-0, but Lubbock's Sexton hit a long one-hand push shot to bring the count to 3-2 midway of the first period.

Shots by Morris Turner, Jim Wilson and Ince of Lubbock were matched by Howard and Gallemore of Pampa to give the Harvesters a 15-7 first quarter advantage.

After four minutes of the second stanza Pampa was ahead, 21-10, and then the roof caved in on the Harvesters.

Williams hit a long set shot; Sexton sank a one-hand shot which was followed by another set shot by Williams to bring the count to 17-21.

Norton tipped in a rebound and then followed through seconds later with a sparkling whirl shot from near the free throw circle to even the score 21-21, and baskets by Sexton and Williams put Lubbock ahead, 25-21 at halftime.

Lubbock had scored 12 points in less than four minutes while holding Pampa scoreless by stealing the ball and cleaning the boards of shots.

Pampans Stage Rally

Throughout the last half Lubbock held on to its four point margin, stretching it to six points at the end of the third quarter and to nine early in the fourth period.

With three minutes left Pampa came within four points of the Westerners again, then two points, but stalling tactics by Lubbock left the goal unprotected to allow Sexton to score four points and Ince three to make the final read 50-41.

The Westerners were aided by long, last-second scoring shots by Williams as the half ran out and Ince at the end of the third and final quarters. Ince was fouled at the end of the game as he released the ball, and his final free throw with time run out completed the Lubbock scoring.

Boston Red Sox Seen As Major Threat

Connie Mack Rates Athletics As Top Contender For Title

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 21 (AP)—Connie Mack, who will be 87 tomorrow but will observe the day on Friday in keeping with the custom of the years, put his Philadelphia Athletics at the top of the list today as potential pennant winners in 1950, his 50th year as the A's manager.

Mack, in a pre-birthday preview of the American league strength, looked for an open race in a strengthened league. But he said that his golden anniversary Athletics had their "best, real chance in years" to win the flag.

Trades Boost Hopes

Midwinter trades which cost around $100,000 plus a couple of ball players of reasonable merit were the reason for Mack's optimism and the basis of his hope that the elusive "one more pennant" would hang from a Shibe park flagpole next year.

But he predicted a rough and tumble pennant fight all of the way, with each club making its bid and the top contenders getting a full share of bruises from lightly regarded teams.

Behind the A's, he hinted that the Boston Red sox pitching might beat a path to the World Series. He cautioned that the Chicago White Sox would be a surprise team next year. Most of all, he said that no team in the league would be too respectful of the others.

Yanks Are Threat

"The Yankees will be strong. So will Cleveland and Detroit. But don't forget the others—Washington, St. Louis and Chicago. There won't be any team in the league figuring it's licked when it takes the field," Mack said.

Connie said he didn't see how the Athletics could "miss having a great year."

"I'm more optimistic this year than in other years," he said. "I feel our team is so much better than last year, when we were good enough most of the season to have a chance to win the pennant."

Acquisition of Third Baseman Bob Dillinger, Catcher Joe Tipton and Outfielder Paul Lehner strengthened the A's "immensely," Mack said. He was high on Lehner, whom he named as a rookie of the year in 1947.

"He can play good ball for us," Connie said. "Dillinger rounds out a great infield with the double-play combination of Eddie Joost and Pete Suder, and Ferris Fain on first base. Our outfield is better now. Our catching should be 100 per cent perfect with Astroth and Tipton. And we have some great pitchers."

Schoolboy Teams To Play In Tournament

DALLAS, Dec. 21 (AP)—Thirty-two teams will play in the Cotton Bowl high school invitation basketball tourament here next week.

The roster of teams was completed today with the substitution of Waco for Carrollton. The latter was suspended by the Texas Inter-scholastic league for playing against a team that itself had been suspended. It would endanger the eligibility of other high school teams if they played against Carrollton.

The tournament opens Monday at noon with Adamson (Dallas) playing Sherman and Sunset (Dallas) meeting Waco. Play is being conducted on two courts — the Southern Methodist university gymnasium and Dal-Hi field. The tourney runs through Thursday.

First round pairings for Monday:

Noon — Adamson (Dallas) vs Sherman, Sunset (Dallas) vs Waco; 1:15 p. m. — Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) vs Grand Prairie. Hillcrest (Dallas) vs Frisco; 2:30 p. m.—Borger vs Greenville, Garland vs. Naples; 3:34 p. m.—Poly (Fort Worth) vs Corsicana, Highland Park (Dallas) vs Gober; 6 p. m. — North Dallas vs Henrietta, Forest (Dallas) vs Krum; 7:15 p. m. —Waxahachie vs Plano, Martins Mill vs Blossom; 8:30 p. m.—North Side (Fort Worth vs Canton, Bowie vs Bloomburg; 9:45 p. m.—Jesuit (Dallas) vs Pleasant Grove, Foreston vs Crozier Tech (Dallas).

Pacific Coast Quintets Lose

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (AP)—Tuesday night was a black one for Pacific coast basketball teams.

They engaged in nine intersectional games against foes from the East and Midwest—and lost eight.

Idaho, 41-39 victor over Iowa State, was the only winner.

Southern California and California took it on the chin from Long Island and New York university, respectively, in a doubleheader at Madison Square Garden. USC absorbed a 70-45 licking while California stumbled, 69-50.

Boston College Wins

Los Angeles Loyola made it ip-and-tuck against Boston college in Boston, but lost 55-53.

Washington and Oregon State lost to the undefeated Big Ten quintets, Minnesota and Indiana.

Hamline Beats St. Mary's

In the other three tilts Hamline socked St. Mary's of California, 75-41; Indiana State whipped Southern Oregon, 62-52; and Iowa Teachers dumped Fresno State, 64-42.

These were other intersectional games:

North Carolina State bounced back from Monday's defeat to trim Michigan, of the Big Ten, 63-52. Holy Cross stayed in the unbeaten class by taking Kansas, 57-53; Missouri hung on to nip Wisconsin, 50-48; St. Louis whipped Georgia Tech, 59-45; and once-beaten Tulane walloped Maylor, 86-53.

Brownfield Defeats Denver City, 42-39

BROWNFIELD, Dec. 21 (Special) Taking the lead early in the game, Brownfield's Cubs went on to defeat Denver City, 42-39, in a non-district basketball tilt here Tuesday.

Coach Farris Nowell's Cubs held an 11-9 margin at the end of the first period and stretched this to 22-16 at halftime. Denver City rallied in the final period but could not catch up.

For Brownfield Sam Ritchey and Dale Cary scored 11 points, and Center Juandell Glass had 13 for Denver City, nine on free shots.

In a "B" team game Jim Milner scored 11 points as Brownfield lost, 31-35.

Raider Quint Host To Austin Tonight

Texas Tech's cagers will ment the Kangaroos of Austin college at 8 o'clock tonight at Tech gym in search of their fifth victory.

The Raiders have won four and lost four games this season, taking their last three starts over Wayland Pioneers. Howard Payne and Checker Cab of San Angelo.

Probable starters for Tech are Verdell Turner and Jim Eddins, forwards: Gene Gibson, center; and Jiggs Jackson and Jack Alderson, guards.

Drills Pushed By Tech Squad

Serious workouts are underway at Jones stadium for members of the Texas Tech football squad, and the squadmen are putting forth lots of effort in preparation for their Raisin Bowl game with San Jose State.

Tackling and blocking exercises were hard but short, and backs and ends had more enthusiasm than accuracy and ability in undergoing pass drills. Quarterback Ernest Hawkins was the exception, and the number one Raider man-under was hitting well with short and long passes.

Emphasis On Aerials

Coach Dell Morgan is putting lots of emphasis on his air attack, in anticipation of stiff opposition from the big San Jose line when the two teams meet in the Raisin Bowl Dec. 31.

After the Santa Clara game, which the Spartans lost, 13-14, the Broncho linemen had lots of praise for the San Jose State forward wall.

But ground plays aren't being forgotten by the Tech mentor, and dummy plays were run through in early practice. Later the offensive and defensive linemen came in for some real work in trying to open up holes or stop the offensive rushing plays, depending on whether or not they were on offense or defense.

Rooters Turn Out

Red Raider rooters turned out some 200 strong yesterday, band included, to send the team through its drills, and band music and yells helped put life into the players. Tech adjourns for Christmas holidays today and will not return until after New Year's day.

The Tech team will continue practicing through Friday and then continue working Monday, Dec. 26.

Ohio State Players Injured In Workout

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 21 (AP) —California's Bears are due for a rough afternoon in the Rose Bowl Jan. 2—Those Ohio State Buckeyes are even nasty to each other.

Coach Wes Fesler put his club through a socko scrimmage yesterday.

Grid Club Wins Case

Gridder Must Pay Old Debt

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP) — Fullback Ralph Ruthstrom, who tried to get the Washington Redskins to pay him $4,100 for a season in which he didn't play, wound up by being tackled behind his own goal line.

Federal District Judge David A. Pine yesterday ordered him to pay the Redskins $241.80.

That's what the Redskins had asked for in a counter suit. They said they had advanced Ruthstrom some money, and that he was $241.80 shy in paying it back.

Argument Is Given

Ruthstrom's argument was this: He said he had been suspended by the Redskins in 1947, and that he couldn't get another fullbacking job because of the so-called reserve clause.

This clause—it's used in baseball as well as pro football contracts—says a player can't sign with another club until he is given a written release.

The Redskins, Ruthstrom argued, wouldn't give him this release.

But National Football league Commissioner Bert Bell, in a 54-page deposition, said many players had gone over to the All-America conference without bothering to get a formal release.

Testimony Is Contradicted

Furthermore, Bell contradicted earlier testimony by Ruthstrom in which he had said he had appealed to the commissioner.

Bell said he hadn't. If he had, Bell said, he would have made the Redskins take Ruthstrom back or make him a free agent.

George Preston Marshall, Redskin owner, told the jury that Ruthstrom was a "bitter disappointment" to the team. He repeatedly broke training, Marshall said, and never lived up to the standards the Redskins had set up.

Judge Pine, in handing down a directed verdict, said he thought the case boiled down to this:

1. Was it a legal contract?
2. Did the plaintiff, Ruthstrom, fulfill his part of the contract?
3. If he was dissatisfied, why didn't he file a proper appeal to the commissioner?

He then directed that Ruthstrom pay up the $241.80.

TULANE SWAMPS BAYLOR TEAM

Texas And Aggies Win Cage Tussles

(By The United Press)

Basketball teams from the University of Texas and Texas A&M upheld the honor of the Southwest conference last night.

They scored victories that enabled the conference to break even on its Tuesday slate of games. Two other league teams were overwhelmed by outsiders from Louisiana and Oklahoma.

The Longhorns skimmed by the University of Houston, 46-44, in a breath-taking finish at Gregory gym in Austin before 2,000 fans.

Aggies Coast In

At College Station, the Texas Aggies had an easier time, swamping North Texas State, 74, to 33.

Coach Cliff Wells' Indiana-styled Tulane Greenies scored their eighth victory in nine starts at the expense of Baylor, in San Antonio. The largest basketball crown in San Antonio history, 3,346, watched the Greenies from New Orleans methodically down Baylor, 86-53.

Wichita university, playing on its own hardwoods, scored its fifth straight victory by downing Texas Christian, 65-48, before 2,000 fans.

Texas made a Hollywood comeback in defeating Houston. With only 30 seconds remaining in the game, Texas trailed 44-42. But Guard Bill Huffman tied the score, and then as the clock was running out Tom Hamilton swished the basket to win the game for the Longhorns. Dick Berg was high scorer for Houston with 15 points, two more than Texas' Bill McGee marked up.

McDowell Is High

The Aggies overcame a 7-3 North Texas lead early in the game and coasted to victory. Jewell McDowelt, who hooped several long shots, took high-scoring honors with 17 points.

Tulane played its usual fire-truck game and rushed Baylor off its feet. Mel Peyton, Tulane forward, was high man for the night with 25 points. Odell Preston paced Baylor point-makers with 11.

Wichita once permitted TCU to pull within 10 points in the second half, but then poured it on to take a 15-point lead. John Friedersdorf was high for Wichita with 22 points, while Ted Reynolds, Allan Brookshire and Gene Schmidt shared honors for TCU with eight.

In the only game tonight involving a Southwest conference team, Rice meets Colorado at Boulder.

Except for a few scattered bowl games, football in Texas comes to a virtual standstill after games Friday and Monday, but what games these two battles promise to be!

Both high school tilts are for state titles; both have one undefeated team and one once-beaten eleven; and both have teams which have scored major upsets in their path to the finals.

In Class AA the smooth-working hard-charging Wichita Falls Coyotes meet Austin High's Maroons in Fort Worth on Friday in a game that could go either way.

Wichita Falls boosts the only perfect slate in AA ball, and Austin lost but one tilt, that by a 7-6 margin early in the year. Both teams have shown power, speed and versatility.

Austin has powered over two unbeaten, untied elevens in the playoffs, handing Corsicana and Port Arthur — the team figured to win state all season — their only setbacks of the year.

Wichita has been moving quietly along, taking all its games in stride and winning every one, most of them convincingly. In playoffs the Coyotes have disposed of Pampa, Austin of El Paso and Highland Park.

Because of their all-round play, this writer picks Wichita Falls by two touchdowns, but watch out for an upset.

Mexia has kept its undefeated, untied record intact through the playoffs, handing New Braunfels a big upset and then barely edging Uvalde, 7-6, in a mild upheaval.

The Littlefield team of Coach J. S. Fike lost its first game of the season in a muddy battle, but since then the path has seemed clear to the state title.

When Mexia and Littlefield meet Monday in Abilene, the chips will be on Littlefield, also by two touchdowns. No upset foreseen.

A basketball game rivaling the district playoffs last February was seen last night at Chapman fieldhouse when the Lubbock Westerners defeated Pampa, 50-41 in a very exciting and very close contest.

The Westerners displayed their best form on the home court all season in taking the Harvesters, coming from behind a 10 point disadvantage shortly before the half to take command and keep the Harvesters on the trail the rest of the way.

Another game with Abilene tonight will give the Westerners a serious test although the Eagles are reportedly suffering from inexperience due to a late football season.

A chance to see the Cowhand team in action is also offered at the game. The varsity plays at 8 p. m. and the Cowhands at 6:30 p. m.

For the Westerners it will be the sixth game in eight days, a fast, hard schedule but one that seems to be getting results. David Cook, the Westerner cage coach, believes in keeping the team hustling. After Saturday morning's victory over Sudan in the Plainview tourney, Cook sent the Westerners through a brisk workout to correct a few mistakes that showed up in the game. They won the title.

Interest in the 5th annual Raisin Bowl game seems to be high on the West Coast for the Texas Tech-San Jose State meeting on Dec. 31 in Fresno, Calif.

This year, for the first time, the Raisin Bowl classic is a charity event which will help raise money for the proposed San Joaquin Valley Children's hospital.

Appearing thus far in games have been Drake university vs. Fresno State; San Jose vs. Utah State; College of Pacific vs. Wichita university; and Colorado A. & M. vs. Occidental college of Los Angeles.

Best Stories Of '49 Listed

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Move over, bub, fearless Fraley has set a real scoop for you today—the 10 best sports stories of the year.

This is something that is a must if you want to retain your standing as an expert. It goes along with selecting all-America football teams, picking the ping pong pips and rating the African polo champs.

Naturally, old fearless doesn't expect everybody to agree. That's what happens when you get there first. Jealousy. You know how you feel about the guy who beat you to the only telephone booth.

Experts Are Scooped

Of course I'm scooping the cream off the whole works. The rest of the experts are going to have to play along with such casual picks as the World Series, pennant races, Kentucky Derby, bowl games and other second rate events. But mine are the creme de la creme (and I wish I was sure I knew what that meant and it was spelled right).

So here they are, in the order of their importance, and if you stick around after the 10 count I'll lift my head off the canvas and explain:

1. Yogi Berra crashes into a tree with his automobile.
2. Ch. Mazelain Zazarac Brandy wins Westminster best in show.
3. Georgeous George makes debut at Garden.
4. Mr. and Mrs. George Zaharias get boxing promotion license.
5. Models to have basketball team.
6. Chicago Cubs pull triple play on St. Louis Browns.
7. Blitzen wins Miami-Nassah yacht race.
8. English stud book thrown open.
9. Mexican league head charges "raiding" by organized baseball.
10. U. S. Golf association blasts gambling "in connection with playing the game."

Yogi Is Confused

All of you undoubtedly have bee nthrilled to the very core by one, two or maybe even three of these spectacles. I doubt whether anybody else would pick all 10 as the 1949 sporting standouts. But stick around, I've got my arguments ready.

Take Yogi's automobile accident. There he was, driving along, and a palm tree came up and hit him.

"I was reaching for my gloves," Yogi pondered later. "But yon know, that's funny when I think about it. I don't wear gloves."

Consider, too, Ch. Mazelain Zazarac Brandy. It is not a Chinese cocktail. You are confused with Ch. Sazerac of Bourbon street, a likely bit of firewater peddled in New Orleans. Nor does Ch. stand for chow, chew or churlish, althouh you'll think differently if you back into one accidentally. It means champion. That qualifies zazzy.

Number three was right in there pushing for top honors, the man who brought wrestling back to the Garden after 12 years, and almost killed it for that long again. But Georgeous definitely was swish, which gives the selections a little real class.

Number four has definite appeal. Mrs. Zaharias, the former Babe Didrikson, has won everything but the heavyweight championship. Hubby Jawge, the "weeping Greek from Criople Creek," would be a likely rival. If they promote a family squabble I'd walk to Denver to see it—and bet on the Babe.

As for number five—are you kidding? I cover all the dressing rooms!

Wrestler To Battle Bear

George Overhill will meet an opponent with brute strength tonight when he tangles with Georgous Gus, a bear, in a special wrestling event tonight at Sled Allen's arena.

Gus is expected to give Overhill a hard time in the ring, but Overhill has wrestled a bear before and thinks he can handle the bruin with little trouble.

The bear tips the scales at 350 pounds and is one of the best trained of all the wrestling animals, having been in the game for many years.

Pierre LaBell, from Portland, Ore., will tangle with rough Rod Fenton in the main event, scheduled to go an hour time limit or two falls.

Both of these men have been out of the area for some time and will be fighting hard to regain the favor of the fans.

LaBell has been a favorite with lady fans for some time because of his neat appearance and will be testing his ability tonight against a tough foe in Fenton.

In the first event Billy Fox, the bear's manager and trainer, will take on Bob Cummings in the first event, two of three falls with a 45-minute time limit.

Cummings is returning to the local arena after a short stay on the West Coast and is said to be in top condition for a Texas stay. In his last appearance here Cummings was under the weather and could not meet the fast pace.

Fox is a clever opponent and has been active in the ring for a long time, being wise to all the tricks of the trade and how to use them.

Matches start at 8 p. m.

Wildcat Loops Get Blame For Defeats

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 21—A bunch of basketball coaches were arguing, which is hardly unusual, and Honey Russell was maintaining that it is impossible to teach New York boys a definite style of play . . . "You don't have them together on the campus and you can't stop them from sneaking away and playing with other teams—in clubs and church leagues. You teach them one thing and right away they go off and play some other style . . . If you have a dozen players, you'd need a dozen detectives to watch them." . . . That helps to explain such things as Oklahoma's victory over CCNY the other night. It was a real team beating a brilliant collection of individuals . . . Southern California's Sam Barry, who admits that having charmin' Bill Sharman is just as good as getting 15 points handicap, came to town raving over Paul Senesky's performance for St. Joseph in Philadelphia . . . "I told my guard 'get down his throat' and that's just what he did. So Senesky twisted around and shot them off his left ear," Sam moaned.

Gridder Is Deflated

Casimir (Slug) Witucki, Indiana's big football guard, was showing off his physique for a groupe of admiring freshmen, reports Bob Cook, the eavesdropping publicist . . . "See these shoulders?" asked Slug. "Push-ups built them up this stomach and chest—lots of situps Look at these legs—running did it." . . . At that juncture line Coach Steve Sinko, approaching from the rear, observed the part of the Witucki anatomy that was bulging over the bench . . . "Looks to me, Slug, like you did a lot of horseback riding, too," Steve observed.

Sandlot Tourneys Set

The National Baseball congress is planning to sponsor 52 (that's right) state sandlot tournaments next year. California will have northern and southern divisions and Texas four groups . . . Ray Hicock, the belt manufacturer who presented a $5,000 belt to middleweight Champ Jake Lamotta, is offering a $10,000 diamond-studded model next year to the "professional athlete of the year." Sounds like a waist of jewelry . . . When Rex Barney, the Dodger pitcher, took his examination in the department management course at a Brooklyn store, he received a grade of 97 . . . Apparently there were no questions about locating the home plate . . . Jim Whatley's first assignment as Georgia basketball coach will be to beat the team he was coaching when practice started this season, Mississippi.

White Shoes Expensive

Billy Sheridan, veteran Lehigh wrestling coach and a stickler for perfection, insists that his matmen wear white shoes with their brown tights to match the university's colors . . . When he found he had to buy wrestling shoes by the thousand to get the right color, Billy put the chemistry department to work finding a way to bleach black shoes . . . Eddie Shore's son, Teddy, is playing wing on the Springfield, Mass., club of the Atlantic Hockey league. As long as Eddie can keep him an amateur, the kid can't hold out on the old man.

AMARILLO FIVE DEFEATED

GARDEN CITY, Kas., Dec. 21 (AP) — Garden City swept into the finals of the Garden City invitation junior college basketball tournament with a 47-42 win over Amarillo, Tex., here last night. The other finalist is Hutchinson, Kas., which defeated Pratt, Kas., 65-47.

OWLS SIGN BRONCS

Lamesa Quint Gets Victory

LAMESA, Dec. 21 (Special) — Lamesa High's basketball squad today looked forward to a Christmas holiday vacation, after sweeping a two-game non-conference series with Mineral Wells.

The Tornadoes staged a great fourth-quarter rally Tuesday night to take their second in a row from the visiting Mineral Wells crew, 37-26.

Forward T. J. Womack paced the late drive by tossing in 11 of the 18 points scored by Lamesa in the last eight minutes. The Tornadoes had trailed, 23-19, after three quarters.

Until Lamesa's strong closing burst, Mineral Wells had been in command. The visitors led 7-5 at the quarter, and 16-13 at the half.

Womack's 11 points were good for high point honors. Wally McNeill hit nine for Lamesa, while Bill Harrell and Brown had seven each for the losers.

It was the Tornadoes' second straight win over Mineral Wells, and their seventh triumph in nine starts this year. Their next home game will be Jan. 6 against Brownfield's Cubs.

Russians Walk Out Of Allied Council

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Dec. 21.—Russia angrily stalked out of the Allied Four-Power Council for Japan today rather than discuss Soviet failure to complete repairiation of Japanese war prisoners.

By the walkout, the eight-man Russian delegation avoided hearing General MacArthur's conclusion that 374,041 Japanese have died in Soviet prison camps from brutal treatment in "disregard for humanity."

The dramatic Russian exit climaxed a bitter argument over council procedure.

Russia's Lt. Gen. Kuzma Derevyanko argued the four-power group—the United States, Britain, Russia and China—had no business discussing repatriation. American Chairman William J. Sebald overruled him.

White with anger, the stocky, bull-necked Russian general stalked out. His delegation followed him.

"I don't deem it possible to discuss the question," Derevyanko said.

Reparation has long been a sore point of the occupation. Russia has returned some 1,300,000 Japanese prisoners in four years. American and Japanese authorities have been pressing for the return of more than 300,000 others. As supreme commander, MacArthur himself has roundly scored the Soviet attitude .

The Russians sent 94,000 home last summer and announced that was all except 10,000 "war criminals" who would not be returned. The U. S. placed the matter on the council agenda at the request of the Japanese government, which has been beseiged by relatives of still-missing soldiers.

The Soviet stand on repatriation has been damaging in Japan to the prestige of Russia and the Japanese Communist party. Today's walkout will knock it down farther.

Sebald, head of MacArthur's diplomatic section, didn't raise his head as the Russians left the council chamber. Instead, he launched straightaway into a prepared statement detailing American views on repatriation.

Many Believed Dead

It cited repatriates' reports of "disease, exposure and malnutrition" while in Russian hands "together with a callous disregard for the welfare of war prisoners and civilian internes in attempts to maximize their labor."

Then Sebald read:

"If all these unbelievable accounts of disregard for humanity are indeed true, we can arrive at the heart-rending conclusion that 374,041 Japanese formerly in Soviet hands are now dead and will never return to Japan."

He continued:

"We must resort to pure speculation and conjecture to find any explanation for the Soviet desire to hold the Japanese prisoners of war in their own hands all these years, for dealing with them so brutally and for coldly ignoring all representations by the supreme commander and all the piteous pleas of the Japanese people.

"But even surmise and conjecture fail us in seeking to discover any possible justification for the Soviet failure—or refusal or inability—to provide even the most meager information regarding the names and location of the prisoners held, or any form of vital statistics to show losses by death."

Assault Case

caught her, but managed to elude him and run outside, she said.

She said she saw a man driving a car and tried to get him to take her to the police.

She said he told her he didn't want to get mixed in the case, and drove on.

Sims, she said, discontinued his pursuit of her when the car appeared, and she ran on to 2000-block First and called police.

Then Sims, Pharr and arresting police said, went into a residence in 300-block Ave. S and forced a woman there to call a cab for him.

She, Mrs. C. S. Williams, dug her fingers in the man's wrist so that he winced, she said, after he had made her telephone.

Mrs. Williams said the man stalked in without knocking and announced that he worked with her husband.

She told him she knew he did not, that she knew the men who work with her painter husband, who had just left for work.

Neighbor Calls Police

Mrs. Williams said the man then announced that he was a plainclothes detective investigating an "$80(overdraft at the bank."

"My husband does not have a bank account," Mrs. Williams said she told him.

"Well, I knew him in New York," the man allegedly answered.

All that time, Mrs. Williams said, he was chasing her.

He caught her arm and made her phone. Then, Mrs. Williams grabbed the intruder's arm and "dug in".

She ran out next door, when he released her, and a neighbor telephoned police.

Arrest Made

V. P. Stephens and Doyle Clark, police patrolmen who answered the call from the Ave. U address, heard a radio announcement of the second case and answered it too.

City Detectives Lee Rice, jr., and L. W. Forrester entered the case and, about 8 o'clock, arrested Sims in bed at his residence. He denied returning to the apartment or making any assault on the woman.

Both women identified him as the man who had burst into their houses.

He told Pharr he is married and the father of two small children.

His wife is in Dallas, he said.

$1,000 Bond Set For Negro Theft Suspect

A 24-year-old negro, Tommie Carruthers, was held in county jail late this morning in lieu of $1,000 bail set by C. E. Lynn, justice of peace, in a car theft charge.

He admitted in a statement given to A. W. Salyers, assistant district attorney, that he had taken a Pontiac automobile belonging to S. D. (White Child) Lennox and had wrecked it enroute to Slaton.

He said he passed a place in the negro quarters and saw the car, it engine running.

L. W. Wilhite, a state highway patrolman, came by on patrol and arrested him. Carruthers denied having been the driver, but the ignition keys were found in his pocket, officials said.

Red Celebration

Organization of the most tremendous celebration ever tendered one man spread from Moscow over nearly half the world.

Workers under Communist rule sent glowing pledges to "the genius Stalin," promising greater production, greater loyalty, greater struggle for peace and greater purges of Communism's enemies.

Birthday gifts poured into Moscow in an unending stream of freight cars, trucks, carts, airplanes and sleighs.

Cities and streets and mountains in every corner of the vast area which now pays obeisance to the Soviet Union had their historic names changed—there were Mount Stalins, Stalin boulevards and Stalin cities.

Over almost half the globe the traditional preparations for Christmas were dimmed almost into oblivion by the new joy over the birthday of Russia's premier—called "inspirer of creation" in one Moscow newspaper headline.

Stalin Is Snubbed

Mao-Tze Tung, Chinese Communist leader of 450,000,000 new subjects, brought with him to the Soviet capital an almost total victory in China as a birthday present, along with silk scrolls, sculture and rare books.

Romania's tough-talking woman foreign minister, Anna Pauker, came too to greet the mighty leader.

The only sour note in the Communist world came from the man who was once one of Stalin's fair-haired boys, but who now is an arch-enemy pictured by Stalin's caricaturists as a Fascist beast with jaws dripping blood. It was sounded by Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia. Instead of birthday greetings he uttered defiance against Stalin's attempts to wipe him out.

Stalin was snubbed. The Yugoslavs were preparing to celebrate the founding of Tito's partisan army, which fought off Nazis. That's tomorrow—the day after Stalin's birthday.

In an order of the day Marshal Tito said "the counter-revolutionary and hostile policy of the leaders of the Soviet Union and those of the Cominform countries could not slow down or halt the victorious advance of our country."

Clark Gable

arrived here about 10 days ago, but there were no rumors of an engagement.

The new Mrs. Gable divorced Lord Stanley of Alderley 18 months ago. Gable, 48, is her fourth husband. She was divorced in 1935 by Lord Ashley, who named Fairbanks as co-respondent. Gable's first wife was Josephine Dillon. They were divorced six years later and in 1931 he married Ria Langham. Their divorce came in 1939.

Shortly afterward Gable took his third bride, Actress Carole Lombard. Both had a great capacity for fun. Once she gave him a ham as a tribute to his acting. On another occasion, it was a jalopy, painted white and decorated with red hearts, as a Valentine present.

Gable, an addict of fine cars, put a high-powered engine in the ancient crate and drove it for a year.

They clashed the first time they met but the next day a cage full of doves arrived at Gable's apartment. This was standard procedure thereafter when they quarreled.

Miss Lombard was killed in 1942. The plane carrying her home from a war bond selling tour crashed near Las Vegas, Nev., carrying Carole, her mother, Mrs. Eliabeth Peters, and 19 others to their deaths.

Gable mourned openly for months.

His last word from her had been a message from Amarillo, Tex., which said, "hey, pappy, you'd better get into this man's army."

Gable enlisted, demanding combat action. He was awarded the air medal and rose from private to major in the air force. He made several missions over Germany as a gunner.

Yesterday's ceremony was witnessed by a few close friends and some ranch hands. The rites were performed by the Rev. Aage Moller, pastor of the Danish Lutheran church in Solvang, a community near the ranch. Vows were said in the ranch living room, which was decorated with palms, white chrysanthemums and evergreen boughs.

Attending were Lady Sylvia's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Basil Bleck of Santa Monica, and the owners of the ranch, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Gilham, long time friends of Gable.

The bride and groom both wore blue. Champagne flowed at a reception afterward and Mrs. Gable cut a four-tiered wedding cake with a sword.

Gable was nervous, Lady Sylvia calm when they obtained a marriage license earlier in the day at San Luis Obispo, Calif.

Radio manufacturers report that television receivers constitute 65 percent of the dollar volume of their output.

At the high school assembly program this afternoon, Roberta Hollingsworth was to sing "Away in the Manger." Betty Jane Foster was to give a solo of "Silent Night" and Phyllis Hesser was to sing "Cantique de Noel." Rossi Ann Stiles was to provide organ accompaniment.

The Sunday school departments of Central Baptist church, 1309-11 Eighteenth street, will hold a Christmas program at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the church, it was announced by Rev. Jack A. Welch, pastor.

A jury reported early this afternoon to 99th District Judge G. V. Pardue to hear arguments in the civil action of Sam Hallmark against R. E. Graves and wife, testimony in which was heard last week. The jury was recessed over to today from Saturday, because of criminal matters that had been scheduled by Judge Pardue. The suit seeks judgment of approximately $11,000 through foreclosure of a mechanic's lien, court officials said.

Lubbock Police Told Of Tuesday Robbery

Police said a man identifying himself as Bob Hooker and listing his address as a cot house on Ave. F, told them this morning that he was robbed late Tuesday by a man and a woman who took his money, shoes and hat and "disappeared."

Hooker said he met the man at an East Lubbock cafe and was invited to "take a drink" with him. The two had worked together, but he did not know the man's name, Hooker said.

The two went to a tourist court in 100-block College Ave. The woman was there, and was introduced as the other man's wife. The complainant said.

Hooker said he took several drinks and remembered nothing else until he awakened this morning, half-frozen in the cabin.

Blast Attempt

in solving mysterious acts of violence against the big auto union and its leadership.

Within less than two years would-be assassins have tried to kill two of the UAW's prominent Reuther brothers.

Walter Reuther, president of the UAW, was shot by an unknown assailant in April of 1948. He almost lost the use of an arm.

Victor Reuther, the union's educational director, lost an eye in a similar shotgun attack last May.

Shootings Are Unsolved

Both of the shootings still are unsolved.

Police immediately linked last night's incident with the attempts on the Reuthers' lives.

There is "no doubt" of it, according to Inspector Joseph A. Krug of the police special investigation squad.

Krug said he was convinced it was a deliberate attempt to blow up the building.

One long-held theory has been that a vengeful conspiracy is afoot against the Reuthers and the union.

An anonymous call to a Detroit newspaperman led to what was at first a vain police search at the union headquarters.

Later two union employes came upon the wrapped sticks of explosive, tied up in gay red and white Christmas paper.

Two 90-inch fuses had been lighted but had gone out. One burned to within an eighth of an inch of its end. One inch remained of the other, Krug said.

Call Is Reported

Reporter Jack Pickering of the Detroit Times said he had received a telephone call about 8 p. m. that dynamite had been placed at the "back door" of the UAW building.

The caller did not identify himself.

Police made a search but found nothing.

Toward 11:30 p. m. Jack Krajnik, 35, a maintenance man, and George Thomas, 58, night janiter, came upon the explosive.

One detonator was defective, Krug said. An overly tight taping also may have prevented a firing of the charge, he said.

A half hour before finding the dynamite, Thomas said he saw an unidentified car leaving the parking lot at the rear of the union building.

Woman Robbed

Tuesday.

When he returned Tuesday afternoon his wife was in bed, her clothing bloody.

She had been cut three times on the forehead and beaten and bruised.

She said the offense happened in a faxicab. She listed the first names of two men in connection with the case, one for the driver of the cab and the other for the man she said had attacked her.

Her attacker, she said, is a bootlegger. She described him sketchily.

Mrs. Wilson said a set of wedding rings, $23 in money, including a $20 bill, a set of ear rings, her shoes, slip and other articles of clothing were taken from her.

Stains In Taxi

Police said their investigation revealed there were stains on the rear cushion of a taxicab owned by the company she named, and that two pieces of glass found on the rear floor board also were stained.

The pieces of glass were taken by city detectives early this afternoon.

Detectives said they learned that Mrs. Wilson would be able to talk with them at 2 p. m.

E. G. Pharr, assistant district attorney, also received an early morning call in the case. He too planned to enter the investigation.

Foreign Policy

Vandenberg to pitch in with heavy attacks.

Senator Knowland (R-Calif) is coming back loaded for bear on China. Senator Smith (R-NJ) already has suggested that Gen. Douglas MacArthur be put in charge of all American interests in the Far East and has called for the occupation of Formosa.

Senators Taft (R-Ohio) and Wherry (R-Neb) have been calling for a broadening of commercial relations with Spain, a move some lawmakers seem to think would involve resumption of full diplomatic relations with Generalissimo Franco.

Vandenberg has made it clear in the past that the Republicans haven't been consulted in advance on some of these problems. He has pointed out that the bipartisan foreign policy doesn't cover a very wide field, from that standpoint.

Thirty pounds lighter than when he left Washington in October, the Michigan senator says he feels fit. But he has been weeks recovering from an operation for removal of a part of a lung and has been ordered to take things easy.

Doctors have warned him against working more than a couple of hours at a time without taking at least a 30-minute rest period.

Under the circumstances, Vandenberg is expected to lean heavily on Lodge and others, who share his major foreign views.

Farm Prices

by farmers, the lawmakers will be at a loss as to which side to listen to—Brannan or the farm organizations which oppose him.

A basic difference between the secretary and his foes is the so-called Brannan farm program. In general, the Brannan plan would support farm prices at higher levels than would be farm groups that oppose him. But, the plan would permit lower consumer prices for perishables than would the farm groups.

The secretary would use government payments to achieve the dual and apparent conflicting goals of high farm returns and low food prices. Opposing farm groups argue that the farmer is entitled to his full return at the market price.

Both the Farm Bureau federation and the National Grange adopted strong resolutions against the Brannan plan at recent conventions.

Farm bureau officials have charged that the administration is attempting to set up the agriculture department's farmer-committeemen system as a competitor organization to the private farm organizations. This system was established in the early New Deal days to help administer farm programs.

Is Election Issue

Brannan and his predecessors have encouraged the farmer-committeemen to pass on to them ideas and desires of farmers.

At the moment, the Brannan foes appear to have the better of the situation. In power is a Congress which at its last session turned thumbs down on the Brannan plan and passed legislation more in line with views of his opponents.

The struggle is most likely to bob up at the coming session of Congress. But it may not come to a final head until next year's congressional elections, or perhaps not until after the presidential election of 1952.

investigation. Bond of $2,000 had not been reported posted today.

Alfred Rushing, store manager, said he was unlocking the safe to store the day's receipts when someone grabbed the six packages in which the money and checks were.

He spread the alarm and ran out after the youth.

Patrolmen C. D. Barnes and Hubert Outhouse of the police were a block from the store, and joined the pursuit. It was they who made the formal arrest.

Man Is Held

The fugitive ran to an alley, made his way to Broadway, east on Broadway through crowds of shoppers, across Ave. J, and to Texas and Thirteenth, then a block south to where he was arrested.

Pursuers held the kicking, struggling man down until the officers arrived.

Gause said he had been looking for work. He was in a state reform institution in 1943 and 1944, he said, but denied ever having been in serious trouble before. He said he rode a freight train here three days before, spent two nights in the railway yards, and ate his last meal Monday night at the Salvation Army.

Prison Sentence For Hearne Man Upheld

AUSTIN, Dec. 21. (AP)—Conviction and five year sentence given S. B. Jones, Hearne insurance man, on a charge of defrauding the First State Bank of Franklin was affirmed by the court of criminal appeals today.

Jones was charged with intending to unlawfully acquire credit upon the books of the Franklin bank though deposit of a check for $10,850 made out on a McAllen bank where funds were not on deposit to cover it. Charges against Jones in connection with other checks are still pending.

The bank closed shortly after the incident, claiming total losses amounting to $81,000.

Three Are Sentenced In Attack Case Here

A term of 25 years in the state penitentiary was recommended by a 99th district court jury Tuesday for each of three Latin-Americans who pleaded guilty to the Aug. 28 rape of a young Lubbock woman.

Convicted were Luciano Gonzales and Fred Navarette, each 20, and Nasario Flores, 24, all of Lubbock. Sentence was pronounced by Judge G. V. Pardue.

The complaining witness was not positive in her identification of the three, court officials said. Her escort, Eugene Ham, 33, a postoffice employe of 414 Fourth, could not positively identify Navarette, it was explained further.

It was dark the night of the assault, when three youths forced Ham to walk away from his car and the woman was taken away and assaulted by each of her three abductors north of Lubbock.

Foreman of the jury was J. O. Wells, other members being A. B. Parks, L. D. Wienke, V. W. Gatlin, J. A. Peel, Earl Carver, H. E. Miller, Monroe A. Williford, Grady Haliburton, O M. Hudnall, Carl P. Hawkins, and Walter Edwards.

degrees in 15 minutes about 8 a. m. Sherman reported a 19-degree decline and Dallas 14.

The Weather bureau near noon stayed by its prediction that the main cold front, the one from the northwest, would turn eastward after dropping temperatures in North Texas. Because of the cool front which moved through the state this morning, the northwestern cold front will cause a slow but steady decline to freezing and below in north Texas by Wednesday morning.

High wind gusts up to 30 miles and hour were reported at San Angelo. One end of an airplane hangar was blown down at Denton and two planes damaged.

At Tulia in the Panhandle, snow and sleet fell during the night but melted as it fell and road conditions were called good.

Forecast for West Texas was for partly cloudy weather and a few snow flurries in the Panhandle this afternoon. Temperatures were expected by Dallas to drop to 12-22 degrees in the South Plains and Panhandle areas and 20 to 32 elsewhere tonight.

The East Texas outlook was for much colder with a few snow flurries in extreme northwest portion this afternoon. Tonight's minimum temperatures were expected to be 20 to 28 in the Red River valley and 28 to 32 in the remainder of the northwest and extreme north portions tonight.

In the Lubbock area, fog moved in at 4 a. m. and became dense between 4:30 and 5 a. m. before the arrival of a second front from the west dispersed it.

Earlier, thunderstorms before the advancing mass of cold air resulted in a brief midnight shower at Municipal airport, with a measured precipitation of .02 inch.

David R. Wheeler, observer at the weather station, forecast a maximum temperature in the low 40's today, to be followed by a probable minimum of 15 degrees tonight.

Snow Flurries Possible

Wheeler saw little posibility of further rain or snow unless the front to the north again started a southward advance, considered extremely unlikely. The front was expected to veer off to the east.

Light snow flurries on the northern edge of the South Plains area were possible, Wheeler said.

Plainview at 9:30 a. m. today was cloudy with fog restricting visibility to three miles, ceiling to 1,000 feet.

Winter officially arrives at 11:24 Eastern Standard time tonight, bringing with it the shortest day in the year, the Associated Press reported.

But which day — today or tomorrow? Time experts weren't sure.

The fellow who checks on time for the U. S. Naval Observatory says he's willing to bet today is the shortest of the year in the Eastern time belt.

Few Seconds Difference

But for the records, he's playing it close. He'll just say today and tomorrow will be the shortest days.

There will be only a few seconds difference and it would take hours of tedious calculating to determine which day actually will be the shortest.

The difficulty is this:

Winter arrives at the moment the earth has its northern axis tilted at its maximum away from the sun. This moment occurs each year around Dec. 21. The exact moment this year is 11:24 o'clock tonight, (EST).

That is so close to midnight about half the effect of the factors that create the shortest day of the year falls on the 21st and half on the 22nd in the eastern time belt.

The jury received the case at 6:22 p. m. yesterday. At 8 a. m. today, it had not returned a verdict.

District Attorney Lloyd King asked the death penalty.

Chinese Reds Ready Attack

HONG KONG, Dec. 21 (U.P.) — Chinese Communists are mobilizing troops and supplies for an amphibious assault on Hainan island, Nationalist refuge off the southern coast, reports reaching here said today.

Another dispatch from Formosa said the Nationalists have started to evacuate an estimated 40,000 troops from Hainan.

Canton reports said the Communists were seeking to obtain ships for the assault from private shipping companies. Large amounts of rice and other foods are arriving from Hunan province.

Canton Believed Base

These reports indicated that Canton will be the main supply base while the Luichow peninsula will be the springboard for the attack. Hainan island is separated from the peninsula by a 15-mile stretch of water.

Reports from Kunming meanwhile said the Nationalists have consolidated their hold on the city after defeating turncoat troops in a battle 13 miles west.

Heavy fighting also was reported from Chengtu, where the Communists are attacking Nationalist lines around Hsintsin airport some 25 miles south of the city.

Lovers Shoot Sweethearts And Then Turn Gun On Themselves

CLEBURNE, Dec. 21 (U.P.) — Young George Clements died early today of a self-inflicted wound without revealing why he shot a beautiful blonde coed to death while she was buying Christmas cards.

Clements, 21, walked into a hardware store at nearby Covington yesterday and fired three shots into the chest of Marilyn Forston, 18, after they had exchanged greetings.

Then he fired a bullet into his own temple.

The .38 caliber pistol was the same blood-stained gun that George's brother, Robert Clements, had used to kill a farmer and then commit suicide last summer.

Marilyn, who was George's high school sweetheart at Covington, died on the floor of the hardware store.

Clements was taken to Johnson County Memorial hospital here, but never regained consciousness. He died shortly after 1 a. m.

Motive Unknown

Hill County Sheriff Charlie Garrison said he could not establish a motive for the murder and suicide.

"It could have been jealousy," Garrison said.

The girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Forston, denied that George and Marilyn were "sweethearts," however.

Marilyn had returned to Covington to spend the Christmas holidays with her parents on their farm. She was a sophomore at Texas Wesleyan college in Fort Worth.. She was "freshman favorite" last year and had been nominated for sophomore beauty queen.

Clements reportedly had been attending Texas Christian university, also at Fort Worth. He returned to the home of an aunt at Covington two days ago.

Store owner D. O. Donham, only witness to the shooting, told Garrison that Marilyn had finished buying Christmas cards and was preparing to leave when Clements entered the store, greeted her, and began firing.

Garrison said the pistol was the 'same gun that Robert Clements used to shoot Charles Avery."

Avery was shot to death in a hayfield on his farm near Itasca, Tex. Clements committed suicide a few hours later.

Garrison said he gave the gun to George after he had asked for it twice recently.

JILTED LOVER SHOOTS TEACHER AND HIMSELF

ABERDEEN, S. D., Dec. 21 (U.P.) —A jilted lover shot and killed a pretty 19-year-old teacher outside her holly-wreathed one-room country schoolhouse and then fatally wounded himself, authorities said today.

Liscomb Boardman, 35, fired three .22 caliber bullets into the breast of Jo Ann Rurup after apparently breaking through the locked school door and forcing her to accompany him to his automobile, Sheriff George Keller reported.

Then, the sheriff said, the rejected suitor fired a single shot into his own forehead.

Found By Stepfather

Miss Rurup apparently died instantly. Boardman died early today in a hospital at nearby Britton, S. D.

Miss Rurup's body was found slumped over the steering wheel of Boardman's car by her stepfather, Fred Balding of Amherst, S. D., when he arrived at the Perkins school about 5 p. m. yesterday to take her home.

In the seat beside her was Boardman. His pistol lay beneath his dangling right arm. The car motor was running.

Inside the schoolhouse, a gaily-decorated Christmas tree stood on the platform where Miss Rurup's eight pupils had been practicing for their annual Christmas program.

The classroom floor was only half swept, and the door swung open. The teacher's coat and hat were on their customary hooks in the hallway, and she was clad only in light clothes. There were no signs of a struggle in the car, Keller said.

The sheriff said a broken latch suggested that Boardman, an auto salesman, had broken into the building. Probably at gunpoint, the sheriff theoried, the desperate lover forced Miss Rurup out of the schoolhouse and into his car, shootin gher when she refused to "make up" with him.

A Christmas party for underprivileged children was to be held from 1:30 to 4 p.m. today in the gymnasium of the Dunbar High school. Candy and refreshments donated by local business firms will be distributed by Santa Claus. Chas. A. Guy, editor of The Avalanche-Journal, will be the principal speaker. Local businessmen will be honored guests.

Robert Mitchell, 42-year-old San Antonio negro, was injured slightly about midnight when the cab in which he was riding collided with a 1939 Chevrolet driven by Jessie Shaw of 514 Forty-fourth at the intersection of Ave. J and Seventeenth. Mitchell, who suffered a sprained left shoulder and a skinned knee, was given first aid treatment at Lubbock Memorial hospital and discharged. The Bryant cab was driven by T. J. Rased of 702 Ave. R.

Firemen were called to a point about seven miles east of Lubbock on the Idalou highway about 6:15 p.m. Tuesday to extinguish a blaze in a load of cotton which had been dumped from a truck there. One bale of nine shoved from a truck belonging to the Winkler-Lambert gin of Idalou, owners of the cotton, was destroyed. Cause of the fire was not known. Records showed that fire equipment had made a run to 404 North College Ave. where weeds were burning about 3:35 p.m.

Legion Packs Candy For Christmas Party

Approximately 1,000 sacks were packed with candy, fruit and nuts Tuesday night by members of the American Legion executive committee and American Legion Auxiliary for a children's Christmas party Thursday 3 to 5 p. m. at the Legion hall, 910 Texas avenue.

All children in the city under eight years of age are invited to attend, Wayne D. Groce, post commander, said.

"The program is not especially for underprivileged children, but for all," he said. "The more, the merrier."

Santa Claus, who arrived here by plane last Friday will be on hand to distribute the sacks to all children present, and members of the cast of "Stars of Showtime," sponsored here Wednesday and Thursday by the Legion, will appear on the program.

Approximately 59 Auxiliary members and Legionnaires attended the meeting last night. Dr. H. H. Bidwell is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the Christmas party.

Former Rulers Face Problems

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

The new and mighty nation of India, which a month hence assumes the status of a sovereign republic, is displaying some astonishing growing pains.

Take the strange case of the Gaekwar of Baroda who until the advent of the new India was one of the richest and most powerful of old India's some 600 ruling princes. His highness is the potentate whose state legislature charged that he blew $10,000,000 in a six-week spree.

Charge Is Dropped

The case was compromised when the charge was dropped and the Gaekwar withdrew to life as a commoner in his palace, behind a mighty barricade of jewels and gold. His principality was absorbed by the Bombay government.

His latest adventure is involvment in a dispute with his 250 palace servants. They have organized a union under India's new freedom and are striking for higher wages.

There's a fine kettle of fish for a ruler who virtually held the power of life and death over his 3,500,000 subjects. Worse and more of it, 3,000 municipal workers in the city of Baroda have struck in sympathy with the palace servants. The Bombay government can't intervene in the palace dispute because, for sooth, his highness is a "private citizen."

Examples Are Cited

If the current Gaekwar did spend $10,000,000 in six weeks he was merely keeping up the record set by some of his elders. Unhappily that also was the record in many of the ruling houses of India.

During my time in India there was one princely rake who used to get soused on champagne and chase wild dogs across country in a Rolls Royce. Fox hunting he called it.

Perhaps in some previous column I may also have mentioned the prince who was driving his own car when he found his road blocked by a peasant's bullock cart. The prince, who had too much alcohol aboard, got out of his car, pulled a pistol and shot the peasant dead. Later this ruler remarked to a friend of mine:

"You know, I shouldn't have shot that fellow. It really wasn't a nice thing to do. Hereafter I'm not going to drink champagne when I'm driving.

However, it would be unfair to stop our column on this note. Some of the maharajahs were beneficient rulers and did much for their people. Among these most assuredly must be included the great house of Baroda, at least in some periods of its reign.

A Chilean firm has sold Spain 150,000 tons of nitrate of soda to aid 1949-50 crops.

Party Is Held For Children

Laughing children, most of whom stayed near their mothers, received Christmas gifts from Santa Claus at a party Tuesday afternoon in the Party house in Mackenzie State park.

The children were cerebral palsied boys and girls and their brothers and sisters.

Approximately 125 children and adults attended the party, which was given by West Texas Cerebral Palsy club.

Five of the children were in wheel chairs. Some were in their mother's arms or on chairs beside their mothers.

Some of the children who have milder form of cerebral palsy, ran to meet Santa Claus or gathered near the tree, or walked back and forth from the tree to where their mothers sat.

Prior to the visit of Santa Claus, which was arranged by the City Recreation department, movies were shown by Fred Adkins, representing the Sound Photo Equipment company.

Parents of cerebral palsied children made a surprise presentation of gifts of two lamps and a set of kitchenware to Mrs. A. E. Jones, president of the West Texas Cerebral Palsy club.

Mrs. James Postlewaite, making the presentation speech, praised Mrs. Jones' efforts to "make this a better world for our children to live in" and said Mrs. Jones was largely responsible for establishment of a treatment center for children who have cerebral palsy.

Dr. Esther Snell, director of the Lubbock Cerebral Palsy Treatment center, and Miss Alice M. Billings, occupational therapist of the center, were guests at the tree.

Tech, Lubbock Schools Close

All but one of Lubbock's public schools will close their doors at the end of the school day today for the Christmas holidays, according to Supt. R. W. Matthews.

Texas Tech students also start their annual Yule holidays today at the close of classes. As a result, bus, train and air travel is expected to be extremely heavy tonight and tomorrow with outgoing students and those returning from other colleges.

Carroll Thompson Junior High school is the only school that will hold classes an extra day. This is because students are making up the last of the ten days lost at the beginning of the semester.

All Lubbock's public schools will reopen on Jan. 3.

Parties and special programs will highlight the final hours at most of the schools today. The school's cafeterias have been decorated by special art committees for the holidays.

All of the city's school rooms have Christmas trees and special decorations made by the students. Gifts will be exchanged at room parties this afternoon. Santa Claus will arrive at George M. Hunt and Special school today for visits sponsored by the City Recreation department.

Students at Senior High will have their guidance group parties from 8:45 to 9:20 a. m. today instead of in the afternoon, Floyd Honey, principal announced. A special Christmas assembly held at 3:15 p. m. in the school auditorium will feature a combined program of music and drama entitled "A Modern Christmas Carol." The assembly, under the direction of J. H. Penn, director of vocal music, and D. M. Howell, dramatic director, will have Barbara Sanders, Melton Beach, Kenneth Owen, Al Alschuler, Nancy McKissack and Jimmy Gott, high school students, on the program.

Lubbock's public schools will climax today a week of co-operation with community welfare groups in placing gifts of food, clothing and toys collected by students for less fortunate families in Lubbock.

Christmas trees which have decorated the rooms in the city's secondary schools will be given to families who do not have trees this Christmas, Miss Dorothy Lomax, director of secondary edu-

THE QUESTION
Do you believe in caroling by groups for pay?

THE ANSWERS

MRS. RUTH WILLIS, 3308 Ave. J, owner of Willis Drug: "No, I don't. They should be able to give their voices just for sake of singing Christmas carols and should not be paid. If they are commercial groups, however, then that is different and it is all right."

SANG KEUN CHUN, 3308 Ave. J, student at University of New Mexico: "I think that it is not good to ask for money after singing Christmas carols. Their purpose is to remind us of the birth of Christ and not to make money."

JACK SENNING, 618 Ave. O, salesman for Hibbetts Sale Co.: "No, I'm against it, unless it's for a commercial reason. It would be all right to give the carolers refreshments when they come to your house, but not money."

BILLY CRUMP, 508 Ave. D, employe of Willis Drug: "Christmas caroling from door to door is a very nice thing, but it is quite unnecessary to ask for money in return for singing. They should be sung in the spirit of love, because this is the time of Christ's birthday."

LOYD WILLIS, 3308 Ave. J, student at the University of New Mexico: "I do not think that it is right for carolers to ask for money after singing Christmas carols. They should be trying to remind us of the birth of Christ rather than trying to make money."

B. I. WILLIAMS, 502 Ave. B, watchmaker: "I definitely do not. I think that all of the caroling around Christmas, as well as Christmas itself, is sacred, and should be observed that way."

Boy Is Slowly Dying Of Hodgkins Disease

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Dec. 21. (AP) —Although little Jimmy Beiswenger hasn't been told he may not live long after Christmas, the nine-year-old boy doesn't smile all the time the way he used to.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Beiswenger of nearby Ashville, say Jimmy was always smiling—even after he contracted Hodgkins disease two years ago. Hodgkins disease is a malady that enlarges the lymph glands of the neck.

"Now, he doesn't smile any more," said his mother yesterday.

The Beiswengers said they fear Jimmy may suspect what his doctors said—he may not live long after Christmas.

Last week, Guy Monick and Ralph Albarano, teachers at near by Gallitzin high school, loaded an automobile with gifts and took them to Jimmy's home for an early Christmas.

When Jimmy saw the presents, including an electric train and a popgun, all he could say was "oh, oh, oh."

Jimmy's father is a soft coal miner at Dysart, Pa.

"PAPA KNOWS BEST" IN RUSSIA

Stalin's Anniversary Is Used To Exploit Leader Principle

BY JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 — Joseph Stalin, a pretty calm and unsentimental citizen, must be amused by the fuss over his 70th birthday.

It's probably the biggest birthday spread in history, with tremendous loads of gifts pouring into Moscow from Communists and Communist-run people all over.

Stalin's making out better than if he had won grand prize on a radio give-away show, although some of the presents, like some of the prizes, are things he can't use: dolls, and socks that don't fit.

But if Stalin had planned it himself, and he's noted for his planning, it couldn't have fitted in neater with the line that Stalin and his party comrades in Moscow have been following for years.

It's the myth of papa-knows-best, the leader principle.

Leader Idea Followed

Increasingly through the years the Russian Communist party has been deliberately building up the idea — in Communist countries at least — that Stalin is a kind of miracle man.

It's done with pictures of him, plastered all over Russia and the satellite countries, and in speeches and in print.

The pictures of Stalin, seen everywhere and always present, burn into the consciousness of the Communist-dominated people this one idea: Stalin, the leader.

Which is another way of saying the people confronted with that picture everywhere, every day, are being conditioned into accepting the idea of being led.

The Russian speeches and publications further picture him as the peerless leader, the greatest scientist, the greatest this, the greatest that, the kindly father of his people, the one man who's always right, the wisest of men, the best of men.

Myth Exploited

Reduced to its simplest terms, that means: pappa, and pappa knows best.

So the presents pouring into Moscow now are offerings to papa and each gift helps perpetuate the myth of the all-wise Stalin, the guardian and daddy of his people.

This is fine for Stalin and his inner-circle party comrades since what they want is unquestioning obedience from lesser party members and the mass of Communist-run people.

The Stalin group has gone further. It knows from history the influence that can be worked on people's minds if what they are handed as truth has some appearance of antiquity and continuity.

So in huge posters, for instance, the Stalinites put Karl Marx, Lenin and Stalin side by side. The lesson the pictures intend to teach is clear.

Stalin In Line

Marx, the theorist, charted the road to Communism. Lenin, heir of Marx and man of action, put into practice the Marxian teachings (although plenty of people think he perverted them). And Stalin, heir of Lenin and spiritual grandson of Marx, is third in the line of descent, carrying on the grand tradition.

(That Stalin is really Lenin's heir, or that Lenin wanted him to be, is much disputed outside Russia but not inside.)

But at least the Stalinites now, through glorification of the three as supermen, have given a color of legitimacy to themselves and authority to what they do, since what they do is what they claim is in keeping with what the supermen intended.

To be sure the line of descent is kept vivid in the minds of the Russian people, the body of Lenin was embalmed to last a hundred years. When Stalin dies, undoubtedly he'll be embalmed, too, and be placed beside Lenin.

Panhandler "Hits" Washington Solons

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP) —House members are on the lookout for a panhandler who claims to be a bulldozer operator.

The man called at the office of Rep. Holmes (R-Wash) and said he needed three dollars to buy a bulldozer license so he could get a job on a Washington construction project.

He said he was from Holmes' congressional district. He got the three dollars.

Then he went to the office of a House member from Nebraska. The same story but a different congressional district. Another three dollars.

That was when the grapevine in the House office building began passing the word.

Opening Of Candy Shop Slated Today

Opening of B. B. Dobson Candy Shop at 2205 Nineteenth today promises to give something new in the confectionery field in Lubbock.

All candies will be made in the shop, with hand dipped and hand rolled chocolates made fresh daily, Dobson said. Two thousand pounds of candy—a ton of it will be made up for display and sale at the opening today.

Dobson has been in the candy business 25 years in Iowa, Kansas and Oklahoma. Mrs. Dobson has taken an active part in the business for 20 years. For the past 10 years they have operated their business at Mason City, Ia.

The Dobsons came to Lubbock in September to begin work toward establishing their business here. They have purchased a home at 3516 Twenty-ninth. They have one son, Dale, 6.

Dobson still ships candy to a list of customers in Mason City as well as many large mid-western cities.

His shop will be open from 9 a.m to 9 p.m. Christmas and from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. after Christmas, Dobson said.

Most Parents Believe Christmas Is Spoiled When Children Discover Santa Claus Myth

By BARBARA BUNSCHU
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 21—"No baby now, but six years old,

"They thought it proper he be told

"The truth regarding Santa Claus.

"Informed, he didn't grieve, because

"Though old enough to comprehend,

"He still was able to pretend."

But a cold blooded survey indicated today that most American parents don't believe their children have that much imagination.

Accuracy Is Challenged

Accurracy of the verse by Burge Buzzelle which appeared last week in the Saturday Evening Post was contested by the magazine's own market research subsidiary.

National Analysts, inc., asked 3,200 parents across the country when and if they thought they should tell the children there isn't any real, flesh-and-blood Santa Claus.

"The general feeling," said Cyril Coggins, research executive, "was that when the children found out, Christmas was spoiled. They don't want to tell them—ever."

Even more pessimistically, the survey discovered that a family's feeling about Santa Claus is tied very close to its purse strings.

About four and one-half per cent of all the people interviewed replied like Scrooge:

"They should never have been told about Santa Claus in the first place."

As the income went down, the liklihood of that answer went up. It came from only 1.8 per cent of persons with incomes over $5,000 but from 5.9 per cent of the lowest income group surveyed, those under $2,000.

Parents Are "Sissies"

"It seemed to be because of their inability to keep Santa's promises," Coggins said. "Sadly, they seemed bitter about the myth. They didn't disapprove of Christmas."

More parents than not turned out to be sissies when it got right down to exploding the legend. More than 36 per cent said they wouldn't spoil the fun until the children found out someplace else. Only 32 per cent picked an age at which they believed they ought to spill the beans.

Of those, a slim majority said the seven-year-old was the one to tell. Tied for second place as the age of disillusion were six and "over 10."

"The parents," said Coggins, "wish they still believed in Santa Claus themselves."

New Oil Discovery Indicated In Central-South Kent County

A new oil discovery from the Canyon reef lime appears to be in the making in central-south Kent county, at Chapman and McFarland No. 1 Cogdell.

That venture is bottomed at 6,839 feet in the reef, which was entered at 6,796 feet, on an elevation of 2,431 feet.

The latest show for production came in a three hour drillstem test at 6,799-6,839 feet. Gas showed at the surface in 10 minutes. Maximum gas volume was estimated at 400,000 cubic feet per day.

Recovery was 4,296 feet of clean oil in the drill pipe. Most of that oil unloaded from the pipe while it was being pulled. No formation water has been developed.

Operators were preparing to run casing and make tests on the wildcat, and try to complete it as a producer and as the opener of a new field.

This prospect is eight miles north of the nearest completed oil wells from the Canyon lime on the north side of the North-Snyder field in Scurry county.

It is located 467 feet from south and west lines of section 16, block 97, H&TC survey.

The Chapman and McFarland development is separated from the North Snyder field by two dry holes which went to the Ellenburger before being plugged and abandoned.

DRILLSTEM TEST RUN ON KENT COUNTY WELL

Drilling & Exploration Company, Inc., No. 1 Connell, southwest Kent county prospector, two miles southeast of Polar, and 660 feet from north and east lines of section 19, block 5, H&GN survey, has not developed any appreciable signs of petroleum since it entered the Canyon reef lime at 7,004 feet, on an elevation of 2,371 feet.

A drillstem test was run for one and one half hours at 6,999-7,021 feet. Recovery was 450 feet of drilling mud, with no shows of oil, gas or water.

It drilled ahead and found a soft streak above the current bottom of 7,054 feet. Two drillstem tests have been tried on the zone below 7,021 feet—but both were unsatisfactory, on account of mechanical failures.

At the time this report was prepared operator was circulating and conditioning the hole, preparatory to attempting another drillstem test.

This exploration is four miles north and west of the Chapman and McFarland No. 1 Cogdell, which has shown for a possible Canyon discovery in Central-South Kent county.

UPTON COUNTY TEST ENCOUNTERS OIL SHOW

Samedan Oil corporation No. 1 Neal, southwest Upton county wildcat, about two miles northeast of Rankin, and 10 miles southeast of the Benedum field, has encountered interesting shows of oil in a Pennsylvanian lime—but it had water immediately below the thin section which carried the oil.

The project is drilling deeper and will continue to around 12,000 feet to explore into the Ellenburger.

It is 330 feet from south and east lines of the northwest quarter of section 26, block B.

A drillstem test was taken at 9,340-90 feet. The tool was open one hour. There was a very slight blow of air during the investigation.

Recovery was 180 feet of oil and gas cut drilling mud. Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 23 pounds. Shutin bottom hole pressure, after 10 minutes was 45 pounds.

The wildcat was deepened to 9,433 feet and a one hour and 20 minute drillstem test was taken with the packer at 9,400 feet.

Gas came to the surface in three minutes. The gas volume was estimated at between 250,000 and 500,000 cubic feet per day.

Drilling mud flowed out at the surface in 35 minutes and oil started unloading from the top of the drill pipe in 40 minutes.

The well was flowed to pits for 40 minutes at the estimated rate of between five and ten barrels of fluid per hour. Operator representatives estimated that the fluid flowed out during that 40 minutes was approximately half oil and half salt water.

Gravity of the oil was between 46 and 48 degrees.

Recovery, when the drill pipe was pulled, in addition to the fluid flowed out, was 4,860 feet of oil and 4,470 feet of salt water.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure during the test was 1,660 pounds. Shutin bottom hole pressure, after 10 minutes was 2,820 pounds.

HST's Daughter Gets GOP Request To Sing

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 21. (AP)—Margaret Truman, the President's daughter, has been invited here by the—Republicans.

Joseph Holt, president of the California Young Republicans said yesterday he has telegraphed Miss Truman an invitation to sing at a gathering of the group here Jan. 15.

Holt, 25-year-old bachelor insurance salesman, was asked if he were angling for a date with Miss Truman.

"My only romance at the moment," he replied, "is to get rid of her father's taxes." Holt's invitation came after Miss Truman remarked to newsmen that Republicans "are not barred" as romantic possibilities for her.

Crosbyton Service Slated For Infant

CROSBYTON, Dec. 21 (Special) — Funeral services were to be held at 2 p. m. today in the First Baptist church here for 17-month-old Belinda Ann Pierce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Pierce of the Broadway community, who died here Tuesday.

The Rev. T. H. Harminson, pastor of the Pansy Baptist church, assisted by Rev. Carl Grissom, pastor of the Crosbyton First Baptist church, was to officiate at the services. Burial was to be in Crosbyton cemetery under direction of the King funeral home.

The infant, who had been in ill health for some time, is survived by its parents and also by its grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Pierce and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Campbell, all of Crosbyton.

Invalid Woman Sees Christmas Lights First Time In 12 Years

Mrs. Nancy Ann Cooper, 83, saw the Christmas lights of Lubbock for the first time in more than 12 years Tuesday night.

An invalid for the past six years, and still confined to her bed, Mrs. Cooper was able to make the excursion in an ambulance of the Rix Funeral home.

Having been unable to get out for about 12 years, Mrs. Cooper had not seen the city at Christmas time in an even longer period. It was the first time she had left her bed at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. S. Denton, 311 Ave. W, in six years.

Part of the trip included a drive through Tech campus, which Mr. Cooper had not seen for 12 years, and which she had never seen lighted up.

She was amazed with the growth of Tech, as well as with the growth of the city. "I don't know what to think about the growth," she said adding that "it seems impossible that this is the same place."

The trip was conceived by Mrs. W. M. Boldin, a friend, of Cain Terrace, who decided that it would be nice for Mrs. Cooper to be able to see the Christmas lights of the city, since she had not been out of bed in the past six years. Knowing that it would not be possible for Mrs. Cooper to ride in an automobile, Mrs. Boldin secured an ambulance for the trip.

After the trip Mrs. Cooper was tired, but said that she had never enjoyed anything so much in her life.

"Her eyes were as bright as those of a little child on the trip," reported Mrs. Denton.

Mrs. Cooper used a single word, "beautiful," many times as she toured Lubbock, seeing the downtown decorations and those of all homes entered in The Avalanche-Journal Christmas Lighting contest.

Mrs. Cooper particularly liked the scene of the Nativity at Lubbock High school.

She never leaves her bed for anything says Mrs. Denton, and had never expected to get outside again. In bad health for many years before being confined to bed, Mrs. Cooper has been in the home of Mrs. Denton most of the time, spending a part of the past 12 years with another daughter in Abilene.

Before coming to live with Mrs. Denton, Mrs. Cooper had lived near Abernathy, where she came with her husband in 1907 to live on what is today the Walter Harp farm.

Another daughter, Mrs. A. H. Reed, lives at Abernathy now.

The mother of eight children, five of which are still living, Mrs. Cooper was a charter member of the Abernathy Baptist church.

"I wanted to take her to the fortieth anniversary of the church last year, but could not because of her condition," Mrs. Denton said.

Mrs. Cooper who has a heart condition says that she is thankful that she is no worse, and was able to make the trip through the city last night.

"It is wonderful to be able to see more than just what others bring into my room," she says.

After the trip she said that she would have something to remember and think about the rest of her life.

OPPOSES VOTE WASTING

NEWBURYPORT, Mass. (AP) — When Leonard B. Murphy received only 50 votes in the city's primary election for mayor, he published a notice thanking his friends "for knowingly wasting their votes." He also advised them to be more careful with their ballots in the election.

American Citizens Are Barred From Red-Dominated Hungary

By JAMES E. ROPER
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Hungary lost a major source of dollar income today as the United States ordered all Americans to stay out of the Communist-run state.

U. S. citizens were barred from Hungary partly to keep them out of trouble but also as a slap at the Budapest government for mistreating Americans.

Ban Is Announced

The action came after this country failed to win freedom for two Americans there. They are Robert Voegler of New York, a vice president of the International Telephone and Telegraph company, who was arrested more than a month ago, and Israel Jacobson of Rochester, N. Y., who disappeared last week.

The United States announced the ban to American travel at the end of an indignant, 1,500-word note to Budapest. It reserved the right to claim damage for any injuries and said it is giving "urgent consideration to such further measures as may be appropriate."

There was hint of a move against Hungarian consulates in this country. The note said U. S. consulates in Hungary are not allowed to function properly, leaving the inference that the United States might reciprocate.

The ban came as Budapest agencies were starting a campaign to attract dollar-laden tourists from the United States. Expensively-printed brochures now being distributed here describe or picture Hungary's health-giving spas, its music, its art and its pretty girls.

The American blast ended the department's efforts to settle Vogeler's case quietly. Nathaniel P. Davis, U. S. minister to Budapest called repeatedly at the Hungarian foreign office and telephoned twice a day, but he failed even to get permission to visit the jailed American.

The U. S. note charged that such behavior on the part of the Hungarians violated human rights provisions of the Hungarian peace treaty, the United Nations declaration on human rights, and the American - Hungarian treaty of friendship authorizing reciprocal consular rights.

Hungary's conduct, it said, has confirmed that its charges against Vogeler "are wholly false and that the Hungarian government is motivated by ulterior purposes."

TWO PEOPLE, 28 FINGERS—This man and his wife have seven fingers on each hand, but that's not unusual where they live. In their village of Cervera de Buitrago, Spain, a five-fingered person is a freak. Almost every one of the 300 inhabitants has at least six fingers on one or both hands. Some have as many as nine. Close intermarriage and village restrictions that keep out settlers with the normal number of fingers produced this odd situation.

Chicagoan Seeks Building To Show 50,000-Piece Collection

BY BERT GOLDRATH
NEA Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Dec. 21 — Camuel Bornstein's museum—50,000 items, ranging from a dozen shrunken human heads to the tusk of a long-dead mastodon — is looking for a home.

The 57-year-old tailor has been collecting odds and ends like that for years. Whenever he gets together a big enough kitty, he takes off for some place like Egypt or the South Seas, picking up whatever strikes his fancy as he goes.

But now the collection has no place to live. From 1933 to 1944 it was housed in Chicago's Jewish People's Institute, but, during the war, he had to remove his treasures because the Institute needed the space.

Most of Bornstein's prizes are now gathering dust in a storage warehouse, although he keeps some of his best-loved items in his apartment.

What he would like most would be a small museum in his neighborhood, available to the neighborhood youngsters.

"Many children don't visit museums often enough," he says. "Branch libraries are an example of the need of an outlying museum. If children had to go downtown to the library many of them would never read a book."

Bornstein's collection includes such varied items as birds and eggs, nests, plant fossils, insects, fish, coral, petrified wood, meteorites, sea horses, octopi, scarabs, beads, lamps, pottery dating from 3500 B. C., butterflies, Indian walking sticks, giant snails, 2500-year-old coins, and a calabash bottle decorated with ten human jawbones.

Bornstein has traveled to every continent and through the South Sea Islands to assemble his vast array of global oddities, and he hopes to accumulate more before long. But first he wants to take his "children"—as he calls each of the 50,000 items—out of storage and put them where people can enjoy them.

CHILD CRUSHED

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 21 (U.P.)—Funeral services were planned today for four-year-old Shirley Ann Tomlin, who was crushed to death under a huge refrigerator. Officers said the big icebox fell off a trailer onto the child when the girl's 10-year-old brother, Jimmy, playfully jumped onto the trailer.

Firm Suing Railroad For Rate Overcharge

HOUSTON, Dec. 21. (AP)—The W. A. Kelso Building Material company of Galveston is suing the Texas & New Orleans Railroad company for $428,836.95.

The company filed the suit yesterday, alleging the railroad, a Southern Pacific subsidiary, charged a rate higher than that set by the State Railroad commission on 821 cars of sand shipped from Eagle Lake to Galveston.

They're Going Where Tuna Fishing Is Good

New York's Mayor And Bride On Their Honeymoon Cruise

STUART, Fla., Dec. 21. (AP)—New York's Mayor William O'Dwyer and his bride, the former Elizabeth Sloan Simpson, honeymooned today at a tiny speck of land in the Bahamas.

The 59-year-old mayor of the nation's largest city and the 33-year-olr Texas-born beauty were married in a simple single-ring ceremony at St. Joseph's Catholic church here yesterday.

Immediately after the ceremony they boarded the luxury yacht, Almar II, for an eight-day honeymoon cruise.

A reliable source said they would go to Cat Cay, about 60 miles east of Miami in the Bahamas group. It is a palm fringed islet, noted for its tuna fishing grounds.

Two Others Aboard

The Almar II, owned by H. G. Matthews of New York, had only two other persons aboard besides the honeymooners. They are Capt. Raymond Moore of Greenwich, Conn., and Mate John E. Harms of Portsmouth, Va.

The yacht has two staterooms with maple furniture, built-in vanity, shower and ship-to-shore radio. It was brought to Florida from Detroit three weeks ago.

The wedding ceremony in the little wooden war surplus church lasted only eight minutes. A rainbow arched in the sky as the couple entered the church.

The Rev. Timothy J. Geary, who like O'Dwyer was born in Ireland, performed the simple single-ring ceremony. Both O'Dwyer and his bride wore blue.

After the ceremony, the newlyweds rode behind a motorcycle escort through the center of this fishing and resort town of 2,500 and boarded the yacht at municipal pier.

The bride, a native of Dallas, Texas, was divorced from Carroll Dewey Hipp of Teaneck, N. J., in 1943. Her first marriage did not take place in a Catholic church and was not recognized by the church.

O'Dwyer was born in Bohola, county Mayo, Ireland, and was a widower. He arose from a penniless immigrant boy to become mayor of the world's richest city and recently was reelected to his second term.

O'Dwyer disclosed that he and Miss Simpson planned to be married Jan. 2 at St. Patrick's cathedral in New York but when he found he was recovering so weel from a recent illness they decided to marry immediately.

The wedding was the biggest event in this little town since the hurricane of last August 26 when winds up to 150 miles an hour lashed the area. The town's commissioners proclaimed it "William O'Dwyer day" and named him as permanent honorary mayor.

MURDER INDICTMENT

EDINBURG, Dec. 21 (U.P.)—Daniel Dennett, 33, faced a murder indictment today in the death of Guadalupe Mata during a three-man fight Dec. 4. The son of the mayor of Valles Reyes, Mexico, also was hurt in the fight which began when Mata reportedly made a remark about Dennett's wife. A third man was critically wounded in the incident.

KREMLIN SUCCESSORS CONSIDERED

Stalin Is Believed Taking Life Easier

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP) — Western authorities hear that Joseph V. Stalin, 70 years old today, is taking life a little easier. He is also said to be in good health and presumably able to carry on as the big boss of the Communist world for several years more.

But his anniversary inevitably brings up the question of a successor, and also what effect a change might have on the cold war policies of the Soviet Union.

Since no one outside the Kremlin has any facts on these points, the answers to these and other questions have about the weight of informed guesses — but guesses made by officials who are longtime students of Soviet politics.

Successors Mentioned

The current belief among these officials is that when Stalin passes out of the picture his official position of leadership may be occupied by V. M. Molotov, the former premier and foreign minister. They think that his real power may be shared by Molotov with at least two other members of the politburo.

When that time comes, the belief here is that Russian policy, both internal and external, will remain unchanged while a struggle for absolute personal power goes on among the men who initially divide Stalin's authority.

The two men mentioned most frequently as likely to share it with Molotov are Georgi M. Malenkov, 47, who now controls the Communist party machinery under Stalin, and Lavrenti Beria, 50, another full member of the politburo, who is believed to be a kind of super-chief of the Russian police.

Information Scanty

The 12-man politburo is the powerful policy making committee of the Communist party, of which Stalin is chief. Its members may include other personalities who actually have a tighter secret hold on the ladder to eventual succession that any of the three most talked about. But American government officials do not consider that likely.

If Stalin has made provisions for his successor or if he has already begun delegating final authority to some of the men around him, U. S. officials don't know it, but don't think it probable. What is known about Stalin and how he lives today is relatively scanty. It is said that he no longer puts in the exhausting long nights of work which were typical during the war. In the war years he would go to work at the Kremlin in late afternoon and not leave his office for his country home until about breakfast time the next morning.

Haiti expects 20 American and European nations to exhibit at its six-month International Exposition, to open in December at Port-au-Prince.

TURNING THE TABLES—"Mother, I want to take a gift to Santa Claus", 4-year-old Nita Rae Harper said prior to a party at which she knew Santa Claus would be present. She is pictured bove after handing the gift to Santa Claus. She explained to Santa that her gift was popcorn. The little girl is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harper of Lubbock route 5. After the little girl expressed her wish to take a gift to Santa Claus, her mother made suggestions of several gifts and then granted Nita Rae's request to take what she thought he would like, popcorn. At Mochudi, Bechuanaland, it took District Commissioner A. MacRae three days to present 2,000 medals to native ex-servicemen, each presentation being accompanied by a smile and a handshake.

Lifer Held In Girl's Attack

WRENS, Ga., Dec. 21 (AP) — A negro school girl was attacked and brutally beaten near here and Sheriff James Hubbard announced he had charged a life-term white convict with attempted rape.

"And if she dies," Sheriff Hubbard added, "then it will be murder."

The sheriff named the convict as Pete Colman, 30, and said he received his life term for the slaying in 1947 of Bertha Mehrtens, called the "Good Samaritan" because of her community benefactions in Savannah.

On Way To School

Hubbard said the girl, 14-year-old Dorothy Carswell, was attacked Monday morning on the way to school. Her head was battered and she was tossed into a brier patch to die.

Another negro, Ed Carroll, found her at 10 p. m.—after she had lain unconscious for 14 hours. He took her to a Louisville, Ga., hospital where Dr. J. W. Pilcher said she was so critically injured he could hardly touch her for examination.

He commented that in 18 years as a law officer he had "never seen a more horrible crime."

Leaped From Scraper

The officer said his investigation indicated that Coleman leaped from a road scraper he was moving from the Louisville corrections camp to Matthews, Ga., and attacked the girl.

Just ahead of him on another road machine, Hubbard said, was Capt. B. L. Tingle of the Louisville camp. Tingle was quoted as saying that he found at Matthews Coleman had fallen behind and he had to wait for him to catch up.

Texan Declares Illegal Aliens Have Invaded New York City

By SAM FOGG
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21—Rep. Gossett (D-Tex.), declared today that there has been a "foreign invasion" of New York City by "illegal aliens" and estimated their number at 200,000.

Gossett, a member of the House Judiciary subcommittee on immigration, also charged:

1. That there are hundreds of lawyers in New York who make their living by helping aliens to enter the country and to remain in the United States illegally.

Fake Certificates Claimed

2. That there are "numerous underground channels" by which aliens ship ashore and that a "fake birth certificate" racket is practiced.

3. That New York courts have refused to enforce present immigration laws. Gossett said:

"In the New York courts the alien seems to have more rights than the citizen."

The Texan made his charges as the result of a study he conducted with Rep. Boggs (R-Del.), in the New York area. He said that similar surveys may be made subsequently in Detroit and other immigration centers.

Periodic Roundups Urged

Gossett recommended that military intelligence agents be assigned to the immigration service to conduct periodic roundups of illegal aliens in the U. S. on grounds that many of them are in the country for "subversive purposes."

He said that he and Boggs discovered evidence of "numerous underground channels" for immigrants to secretly enter the country. Gossett added:

"One such channel is faked birth certificates. We were reliably informed that one can purchase in New York itself, a Puerto Rican birth certificate. Since the Puerto Ricans are American citizens, a person holding such a birth certificate can of course come into any of our states."

Because dark red looks just like the blackest black to the camera tube, that color often is used as a substitute in television.

Advertising Signs Termed Too Large

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. (AP)—Two advertising signs of a Philadelphia builder were too big and noticeable for the White House lawn—and the public administration commissioner.

It's all right, and part of the $5,300,000 renovation contract, for John McShain to hang signs around that he is fixing up the ailing executive mansion, agreed Commissioner W. E. Reynolds.

"They should be," he said carefully, "small dignified signs . . . say 18 inches long, maybe two feet."

The signs McShain put on the front lawn were three feet wide, supported on a plank 15 feet high. He said, in large bold letters, "John McShain, Inc., builders."

"They were not in exact keeping with the surroundings," ruled Reynolds, and ordered them removed.

Pittsburgh School's Holiday Party Taken

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 21 (AP) — Police are looking a little harder than usual today for the thief who stole the Christmas party of Elizabeth township's Wylie school.

Included in the loot taken Monday night was $50 worth of Christmas candy purchased by teachers for the 350 children, as well as 30 presents for the seventh graders' grab bag and a slide projector with slides.

Harry Faulk, supervising principal, said:

"Everything prepared for the party was taken. The children are all upset and there was a lot of weeping. We're hoping for a Santa Claus to replace some of the things so the children won't be entirely disappointed.

Witness Missing In Alice Slaying Case

SAN DIEGO, Tex., Dec. 21 (AP)—Chief Deputy Sheriff Pete Saenz of Duval county says officers have been unable to locate a missing key witness in the Sam Smithwick murder case.

The witness is Juan Faustino Saenz.

Smithwick, a former deputy sheriff of Jim Wells county, is charged with the murder of W. H. (Bill) Mason, a radio broadcaster, on an Alice street last July 29.

On Dec. 12 his attorneys obtained postponement of the trial until Jan. 16 because of the absence of "several witnesses, Juan F. Saenz in partiular."

Henry Taylor ,sr., of Temple, a defense attorney, said Juan F. Saenz was near the scene of the shooting and would testify he saw a scuffle between Smithwick and Mason.

Judge Wesley Dice issued a writ of attachment for Juan F. Saenz to find him and put him in custody so he would appear Jan. 16.

"We haven't been able to locate him," Deputy Sheriff Pete Saenz said yesterday.

Teak, a valuable timber tree, is a member of the verbena family.

SUBVERSIVE ALIENS PROBLEM

Reds Used Girls To Lure U. S. Servicemen, Ex-Agent Claims

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. (AP)—Testimony that the Communist party used liquor and young women without morals to lure American servicemen to Communism was made public last night by the Senate judiciary committee.

The detailed testimony came from John J. Huber, who said he was an undercover FBI agent in the Communist party from 1938 to 1947. The FBI declined comment.

Huber's testimony was heard behind closed doors weeks ago by a subcommittee studying the problem of subversive aliens. It has just now been released.

Girls Part Of Plot

Huber said girls who had "no morals whatever" and "went to any extremes" were used to lure soldiers, sailors, merchant marine school graduates and others to the Communist party doctrines.

He pictured the Communist party in this country as part of "a world wide conspiracy" which takes orders from leaders in Moscow. Huber said the eventual goal is overthrow of the present U. S. government by "force and violence."

Huber's testimony about party sessions, Communist-front rallies and benefits, and Communist training schools and camps was filled with scores of names.

During the recent war, Huber said "one of the most ambitious plans of the Communist party to carry on its subsersive work among members of the armed services was the establishment of an organization called SOS, Sweethearts of Servicemen."

Prepared To Do Anything

"This group consisted of young women," he continued, "who were instructed to pick up servicemen off the streets and bring them to the SOS club rooms, where they were given liquor, entertainment, and dacing."

Huber said the young women "were prepared to do—and they did—anything that the party assigned or demanded. As I have already pointed out there was no such things as morals in carrying out party work or in organiaztion activities."

The girls would pick up the servicemen, "ply them with liquor, and keep them under their wings until they became completely intoxicated," he said.

It was the duty of a girl to indoctrinate the servicemen with whom she had been "paired off," he added.

"This was a very successful move and (party) recruiting picked up considerably," Huber said.

Training Described

"Even in the distribution of leaflets, we found women more successful," the witness said. "Men distributors were often driven away from shops or threatened or even beaten up by plant guards and foremen. But we found that women would not be subject to this kind ow treatment and could stand at gates and hand out Communist party literature without being molested."

Huber said the Communist educational programs included a special summer camp for children from 8 to 15 years; training courses for union leaders! special schools for organizers and party leaders; and constant group meetings to learn the party line from Moscow.

"On the labor front, I wish to point out that eight years ago I sat in a Communist meeting where plans were lead to capture transportation, communications, teamsters, warehousemen, radio and motion picture," Huber said.

Infiltration Planned

"I can now see that unions in these industries have been taken over or infiltrated by the Communist party.

"Thus the party has within its power the means to call and hold extensive strikes should the occasion demand it; strikes which could well be the training ground of a revolution for the overthrow of our government and the establishment of Communism."

Legitimate labor demands were used as a screen to gain leadership, Huber said, and "once the Communist leaders gain control of the union, they will swiftly oust the present clean management of the union, being left to carry out their Communist political propaganda. Thus another link in the chain will be added for the day when all the links will join in the revolution and socialism."

Huber testified Communists had been most successful in infiltrating "the entertainment industry-show business."

He explained that "people in it are well known and liked and listened to by the people, so that if their names are used by the Communists and Communist fronts they make a great impression on the masses."

In the radio broadcasting trade any daytime dramatic story in serial form is labeled a "soap opera" largely because the original sponsors were soap companies and some still are.

All In A Lifetime — What To Do?

As They Say In Siberia, "Watch Your Steppe"

Astrologers Take Reading Of Stalin's Stars On Birthday

By ED CREAGH
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Some of America's top astrologers took a 70th birthday look at Joe Stalin's stars today, and told the western world:

Watch your step.

Or, as they say in Siberia, watch your steppe.

It seems that the sun and the planet mercury are in the sign of Sagittarius, among other heavenly goings-on, and Uncle Joe's Red star was never brighter—for the first part of 1950, at least.

More Success Sighted

Hellene Paul, "Confidential adviser to executives," says Stalin's stars show him to be "humble when it suits his purpose, very proud and very dictatorial by nature."

"Stalin," she says, "is shrewd, keen, suspicious, sarcastic, skeptical, ambitious and extremely lucky."

"He will be more successful in 1950 than in 1949. He is going to get more territory. He will get more cooperation, especially from the older countries. And isn't China about the oldest country that there is?"

Lynn Wells, another New York astrologer, says the stars incline the head Red to be "ambitious, stubborn and cold-minded in carrying out his plans and policies."

She's convinced, however, that he is in for trouble:

"Since 1944 there has been a chain of transitory disturbances from Uranus. Stalin undoubtedly made mistakes of judgment from 1944 to 1946 and mistakes of action in 1948 and 1949.

"The full effects have not yet revealed themselves, but Stalin has overreached himself somewhere.

"The start of a major Saturn repression is indicated from the late fall of 1950 on. This can have extensive effects on his health and position. He will be too old to recover entirely from either."

Then the rest of the world can stop fretting?

"By no means," said Lynn Wells. "This setback applies to Stalin personally—but not to Russia."

THE BURGLARS' CHORUS

HAMBURG, Germany (AP)—In a northern German town a shopkeeper caught three burglars. He kept them covered with a toy pistol and made them call in chorus: "P o l i c e". They were heard by some policemen on patrol and were arrested, reported the "Schwaebische Illustrierte."

FRENCH CLAIMED IMPLICATED

Six Persons Being Tried In Poland On Espionage Charge

WARSAW, Poland, Dec. 21 (AP)—A German mining engineer on trial for espionage testified yesterday that he gave two tiny pieces of Polish uranium to a French diplomat. Uranium is a metal used in producing atomic energy.

The engineer, Wilhelm Hild, is one of six persons accused of spying and sabotage at the direction of French diplomats who have recently been expelled from the country.

Six Plead Guilty

The last of the six to testify, Albert Hoffman, said a French consular official gave him instructions to destroy an electric power plant and sabotage a cotton mill. All six defendants, four of them of French nationality, have pleaded guilty or partially guilty to spying and sabotage in the trial which started last Friday.

(In Vienna, a Polish refugee who said he escaped after three months in the Wroclaw jail, told a reporter the six defendants were tortured before confessing to the spy charges. The refugee, Bernard Motel, 28, said he shared a cell for a time with two of the defendants).

German Denies Charge

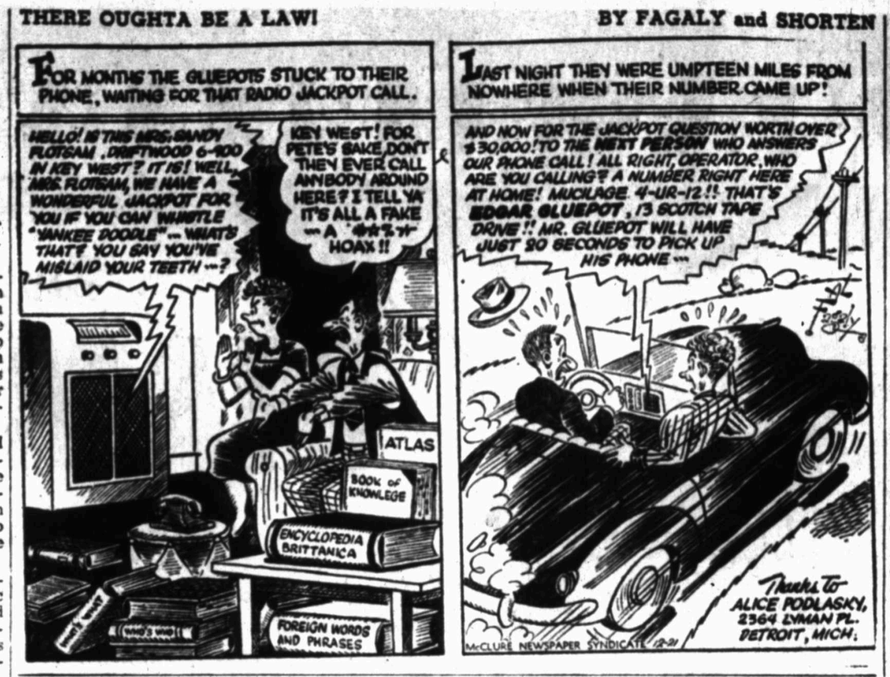

Hild admitted providing information detrimental to the Polish state, along with the uranium samples, to Aymar De Brossin De Mere, French embassy official who was expelled last month as both France and Poland began a vicious circle of arrests and expulsions for alleged espionage in both countries.

The German, however, denied charges he had attempted to sabotage polish mines. He also said he had given the information unwittingly when he asked the French consulate for permission to go to Saarbruecken in the French zone of occupation last October.

The court prohibited the mention of the name of the specific location in Silesia from which Hild said he obtained the uranium sample and the state secrets. It was believed he referred to the uranium mines near Karpacz.

The uranium samples, Hild said, were about the size of a fingernail.

Water Waste Fines Imposed

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (AP)—Jail terms were threatened today for persons who waste water as the city struggled to make its skimpy water supply last longer.

Magistrate Morris Rothenberg fined nine men from $25 to $100 each yesterday for permitting leakage or other waste and commented:

"Our water supply is so critically low that drastic punishment of wasters is demanded and second offenders will probably get straight prison sentences."

62 Days Supply

The city's reservoirs are now 34.7 per cent full, which compares with 49.9 per cent a year ago. With normal consumption 1,192,000,000 gallons daily, the city has about 62 days supply left before pressure fails if present results from conservation measures continue.

The city has directed that shipping lines make arrangements for their vessels to obtain their water elsewhere when possible and refrain from taking water in New York if their supply will last to their next port.

As a further conservation measure standpipes were ordered closed on some 250 main docks along the city's huge waterfront except for emergency use.

Annual Party Held At London Palace

LONDON, Dec. 21 (AP)—The queen danced with the footman and the princess danced with the clock-winder last night in Buckingham palace's annual household Christmas party.

The palace staff gave the traditional party.

Queen Elizabeth, in diamond tiara and flowing green gown, waltzed with the liveried footman. Princess Margaret, sleek in rose and pink, swirled over the glassy floor with the man in charge of the palace's famous collection of French gilt clocks.

Until the wee hours of the morning they danced with other members of the household staff.

Five Firms Announce Price Hike On Steel

Increases were announced yesterday by Jones & Laughlin, Allegheny Ludlum, Bethlehem, Pittsburgh and Wheeling Steel corporations.

U. S. Steel announced a boost of about $4 a ton last week and since then other firms have followed suit. Announcement by the five corporations yesterday made the hike almost general for the industry.

Bethlehem said its increases ranged from two to six per cent. Jones & Laughlin, Pittsburgh and Wheeling said their boosts averaged about four per cent—the estimate given by U. S. Steel for its $4-a-ton figure.

Allegheny Ludlum raised prices on silicon electrical sheets 15 to 16 per cent but left its stainless and other alloy prices untouched.

Newspaperman Recalls Three Wartime Christmases Abroad

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK—The heart turns back at Christmastide.

The Christmas that most grown-ups remember best is some Christmas as a child at home, when our faith was as bright as Santa's beard and a bright new sled under a popcorn-decked tree filled life with a joy almost too tremendous to bear. For Christmas wasn't just fun when you were young and got what you asked for—it was ecstasy. Remember?

But many a land-locked heart this season isn't merely voyaging back to childhood Christmases at home. It's ranging in memory overseas to wartime Christmases abroad.

Loyalties Divided

There are three I like to remember—in Algiers, in Belgium, in Manila.

It was in Algiers in 1942 that I learned how the war had divided the loyalties of countrymen as well as countries. A fellow correspondent and I were invited to have Christmas dinner with a young Frenchman, Paul Million, his wife and their two children.

Looking down at us from the wall was a portrait of Marshal Petain. This seemed odd as the old hero of Verdun was even then widely regarded as a German puppet. But Paul wouldn't take the picture down.

"We simply cannot believe all they say about the old marshal," he said. And you couldn't help but admire him for his faith, however misplaced.

Belgian Holiday

The spookiest Christmas I ever spent was in Spa, Belgium, in 1944. The little town had been evacuated by the American First Army headquarters in the first days of the battle of the bulge. It looked like a drab Christmas for a few correspondents who had elected to remain in the Hotel Portugal.

Then a strange Santa Claus indeed—a begrimed, stubble-bearded supply sergeant for an anti-tank company dug up three turkeys, cranberries, potatoes—and the hotel provided wine, cognac and the other trimmings. While German guns boomed across the hills we sat down to a merry banquet presided over by Madame Beaucoup, the hotel proprietor. We called her "Madame Beaucoup" because her bills for cognac were always "beaucoup big."

Christmas In Manila

I remember a 1945 Christmas eve dinner in Manila because it was the first Christmas season of peace. We were guests of Mrs. Siaron, a Filipino woman, and her family.

Outside firecrackers popped and the Gecko lizards sang a serenade. A famous lithograph of Jesus hung in the living room, and a flickering light beneath it lit these words:

"I will bless the homes in which the image of my sacred heart shall be honored and exposed."

Somehow it seemed like a message of a peace that would be lasting.

Dear Mrs. Siaron, dear Madame Beaucoup, good Paul Million—to you and the millions like you in many lands who took American strangers into your homes and made them happy—a merry, merry Christmas, in remembrance of things past!

Scripts Studied For Tech's Varsity Show

Five scripts were received for consideration as material for the 1950 Texas Tech Varsity show, it was announced Tuesday.

A committee of three, composed of Bill Parsley, Ray Brigham and Margaret Clark are studying the scripts and will make the selection of which is to be used in the spring show.

Those submitting scripts include Richard Gibson, (no title); Jeanne Dudley, Jane Armstrong, Jerry Walthall, and Bobby Stone collaborating on "Spit Curls and Bow Ties"; Gene Alford, "Brains for Brawn"; Billy E. Bentley, "Varsity Varieties", and Bill Huntley, "The Toy Shop."

Date for the annual Varsity show has not been set as yet, but it will probably be in the early spring. Director Jack Witte has announced.

Bill Whittington and W. H. Tinney will assist in the selection of the script as sponsors of the show, while Dr. Doyle D. Jackson of the education department will also be consulted.

Best Quotes Of '49 In Hollywood Are Listed By Writer

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 21—What are the deathless quotes of the year in Hollywood?

Maybe some of these won't live into the second half-century, but they seemed out of the ordinary to me. Here are some of the bright, pointed or inane sayings that I have collected from the 1949 news:

Robert Mitchum, commenting on his sentence at the county detention farm: 'It's an experience every taxpayer should go through."

Shakespeare Is Praised

Laurence Oliver, after winning the academy awards: "I always did say Shakespeare was a good script writer."

Fred Allen, on the FCC ban on giveaway air shows: "They have taken radio back from the scavengers and given it back to the entertainers."

Milton Berle, answering an attack on him by Allen: 'Allen still has the first penny ever thrown at him."

James Mason: "Hollywood is filled with frustrations, but not uninhabitable."

Claudette Colbert, disapproving French bathing suits: "Of the many features of a woman's anatomy, one of the least attractive is the navel."

Bob Thomas, to his readers: "Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."

Christmas Concert Set At Levelland

LEVELLAND, Dec. 21 (Special) - The fourth annual Christmas concert of the Levelland Senior High school band will be presented in the school auditorium at 8 p. m. Thursday, announced W. R. Wheeler, band director, Tuesday.

The featured number of the concert will be a musical reading of "The Night Before Christmas." Beryl Harris, assistant band director, will narrate.

The 88-piece band will also play "Christmas Rhapsody," "White Christmas" and "Winter Wonderland."

The Junior High chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Tom Sappington, will sing four selections. [illegible] high chorus will also participate in the program.

Stalin will be 70 years old on December 21st. He is one exception to the rule that age brings on mellowness.

IN an informal speech at Reese Air Force Base the other night Col. Alexander MacMillan, inspector general of the Air Training command, touched upon a brand new, but very important side of peacetime operations within the Air Force.

Primarily, said Colonel MacMillan, whose headquarters are at Scott Field, in Illinois near St. Louis, the Air Force exists to answer swiftly any attack which may be made upon the U. S. by an aggressor nation. But as the Air Force seeks to train young men for defense of their country—in the actual business of warfare when necessary to undertake it—it also seeks today to develop well-rounded citizens who will be useful to their country in ways other than military.

Pointing out that the average age of airmen joining the service today is 17 years and six months, Colonel MacMillan said:

"We wish, of course, to develop the technical abilities and talents of these young men in keeping with their jobs in the Air Force. But as these young men are developed on the technical side, we also aim to develop them spiritually and culturally."

He then went into some detail regarding the program aimed at the spiritual and cultural development of the young airmen.

Colonel MacMillan was speaking informally, without notes. In fact, he was called upon without notice, to talk on any subject he chose. He did no arm-waving, resorted to no tricks of oratory and very plainly thought out his remarks as he went along. But his sound ideas and complete sincerity literally captured his audience of approximately 15 officers and wives of RAFB and a like number of civilian couples of Lubbock who were present.

Noting that the Air Force program necessarily is an expensive one to the taxpayers, the colonel, a former executive of General Motors, said that the men in charge of our military air program hope that the nation will get its money's worth not only in defense, but also through the training of good citizens, in and through the Air Force program.

Further, he said, those in charge of the Air Force program believe that their citizenship goal can be reached, along with the goal of giving this nation the ultimate in air power.

MOST of us think of the military as just a collection of men trained to fight if necessary; to kill, to maim and to destroy the enemy and his possessions. This sort of activity is, of course, basic and, upon emergency, essential.

Yet the fact that individuals within the nation's military organizations have vast possibilities for citizenship—spiritually and culturally—is important. That the Air Force recognizes this great reservoir within itself, and intends to tap it for the nation's good, is not only a new line of thought, but a most important one.

Colonel MacMillan will be in Lubbock from time to time in connection with his duties as inspector general.

Sometime when he is here, arrangements should be made for several of our civic organizations to hold a joint meeting to hear him outline the Air Force program for spiritual and cultural development of its young men, along with their technical development.

The subject is one of tremendous importance; the program's possibilities are equally tremendous. As Colonel MacMillan said in his talk, "We know our enemies are trying, and will continue to try, to weaken us by undermining the spiritual and cultural life of the nation. We believe we can defeat them in this ideological type of warfare by building up and developing the very attributes which, in the beginning, made this nation great."

He—or, rather, the Air Force—"has something there."

BY DREW PEARSON: RECLAMATION ONLY SOLUTION FOR WATER SHORTAGE IN THE EAST

American Legion Sending Christmas Toys To Europe

WASHINGTON — Last year, American G.I.'s, spending Christmas in Germany, raised $247,000 to bring a brighter Christmas to the German children of the U. S. zone.

PEARSON

A G.I.'s pay is not munificent, and most of them were spending rather lonesome Christmases themselves compared with that at home. However, they contributed generously to the children of men who once had been their enemies.

This Christmas, the American Legion, led by far-sighted Comdr. George Craig, has launched an appeal to all Americans to collect toys one day after Christmas for the children of Europe. Coming as it does from the veterans who fought the war, this represents one of the most significant moves in America.

Leaders of the old Legion, in the days following World War I, were among those who helped take this country back into its shell of isolation, helped inevitably to head us back on the path of war again. But the new Legion is fully aware of the fact that wars usually come in 20-year cycles, that the children of today can be either our friends or the enemy soldiers of tomorrow, and that the time to prevent war is by building good will long in advance of crisis.

To this end, the Legion is asking the nation to cooperate in collecting toys immediately after Christmas for shipment to the kids of Europe, where toys are scarce this year. A message from an American child is to be attached to each toy—which may start a train of friendships lasting for years.

NOTE—The toys will be distributed by CARE, the nonprofit organization which has machinery already set up in all Atlantic pact countries and some iron curtain countries.

"Operation 23"

Here is the inside story of how Capt. Arleigh A. Burke, head of the Navy's "operation 23," was passed up for promotion.

Actually the Navy promotion board approved Burke for promotion to the rank of rear admiral, and Secretary of the Navy Matthews sent it to the White House.

However, Matthews talked to the President by phone later, at which time Truman said, in effect:

"I see you have that so-and-so Burke's name on the list. Take it off."

So Secretary Matthews had the board reconvene and pass over Burke. Then the list was sent back to the White House. The promotions are on Truman's desk right now.

NOTE—Burke's "operation 23," the special Navy propaganda task force, deliberately flouted all regulations regarding unification and armed services cooperation.

NEW YORK'S water shortage has caused government engineers to survey the water resources of the entire nation to see whether we are gradually drying up. The results are reassuring regarding the country in general, but not reassuring regarding the big cities.

The fact is that the big cities are draining their reservoirs faster than the water flows in, chiefly because people are running their spigots and factories are operating their pumps more. Meanwhile 95 per cent of our water runs into the sea unused.

Only long-term solution is reclamation for the big cities of the east. New York City, for instance, must take a lesson from Los Angeles, which has stretched an aqueduct 200 miles to tap the water of the Colorado. Manhattan can do the same by piping water 80 miles from the Hudson above Poughkeepsie, at which point the Hudson is free from salt water. Pumps are already being installed for that purpose on the Delaware river, but they won't be able to keep up with New York's increasing water needs.

Changing Map Of U.S.A.

Elsewhere, engineers are altering the map of the United States in their quest for water. They are now exploring ways of changing the course of the mighty Columbia river so that a tributary will flow into parched Nevada and make the desert bloom. They are also building a water network to catch the melting snows from the high Sierras and run it 500 miles down California's water - starved San Joaquin valley. Here farmers have sunk their wells so deep they have reached "geological waters"—the melted ice of the glacial age.

In the water-wary west, engineers are even blasting a tunnel 13 miles through the Continental divide to catch water flowing to the Pacific and reverse its course to the Atlantic, irrigating the dry farm lands of Ft. Collins and Loveland, Colorado, on the way.

Such Paul Bunyan planning is old stuff to the west. But the same reclamation projects must now be put into practice on a smaller scale in the east.

Because of increased consumption, many eastern cities will find it necessary to seek new, maybe faraway water sources. Engineers even expect the east to begin large-scale irrigation.

THE cities with the worst water problem are those that would be expected to have the least—cities built along the rivers. This is because of contamination. Man is probably the only animal that drinks his own sewage, but this is literally the case where cities dump their sewage and pump their drinking water out of the same river.

Worse than sewage, however, is the chemical wastes from industrial plants. Running water tends to purify sewage, but nothing can be done to make some chemicals safe to drink. Yet industrial plants line the banks of the Mississippi, Ohio, Delaware, Potomac and other rivers, dumping chemicals into the water for the people of Pittsburgh, Wheeling, Louisville, St. Louis, Philadelphia and Washington to drink.

Probably the filthiest river is the Delaware, from which Philadelphia pumps its water, Philadelphia dumps its sewage into the Delaware, through one system, draws its drinking water out through another. This has to be treated with so many chemicals that Philadelphians drink almost as much chemical as water.

Another problem along the sea coast is seawater which seeps into the underground supply. This has happened at both Los Angeles and Miami, and is also threatening Brooklyn where the water supply is now below sea level.

New York state strictly regulates Brooklyn's pumping and requires plants to pour used water back into the ground. But because of New York's growing water famine, these pumping restrictions may be lifted, which will put Brooklyn's water supply in more serious danger of salt-water seepage.

NOTE—One solution suggested for the water shortage is a series of plants converting seawater into drinking water. Some reclamation officials are privately boosting this plan on Capitol Hill.

The one-track mind usually doesn't permit a streamlined thought to have the right-of-way.

MAYBE you're the staunchest "vote-'er-straight" Democrat in the country. Maybe you're the rip-roaringest New Dealer between the borders and the oceans. Maybe you belong to one of the unions, or other organizations, pledged by its bosses to "all out opposition." But whoever you are, or whatever you are, if you like the two-party system of government, and if you believe that healthy opposition is the only safeguard against extremists, you'd better hope and pray for the re-election next year of Sen. Robert A. Taft, of Ohio.

The fact that Senator Taft is considered one of the ablest and most honest men in government—even by many Democrats in private—is beside the point.

What is of major importance is that a defeat for Taft may eliminate the last vestige of Republican opposition in politics and it certainly will make other men in high public places fearful of taking up the cudgels against excesses of the labor czars.

The cause of Senator Taft in Ohio next year will not be the cause of a Republican against a Democrat.

It will not be the cause of a politician attempting merely to keep himself in office.

It will be a cause of principle—the principle that the best interests of the majority always are better served and protected by a strong opposition party, whether that party happens to be called either "Republican," or "Democratic."

Furthermore, the Taft campaign will decide for some time to come whether a manipulated vote or the actual will of the majority of individual voters involved, shall be permitted to be the deciding factor in American politics.

IN most instances, the election, or the defeat, of a U. S. senator largely affects only the people of his own state.

But in the Taft case, election, or defeat, will affect us in Texas—and people in every other state—as much as it will affect the people of Ohio.

Senator Taft stands alone in the Upper House as the one remaining rock of conservatism against the running tide of the welfare state. He stands almost alone as the one senator sufficiently courageous to tell a highly organized minority that it shall not be permitted to push the majority all over the map.

Taft, in '50, will not be an INDIVIDUAL. He will be a symbol—and one behind whom the believers in free enterprise will rally, regardless of political labels.

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

DOES the job of homemaking have to be as lonely and monotonous a job as many women make it?

That question comes naturally from the numerous complaints I get from women who think their husbands lead interesting lives but that their own are unbearably dull.

MILLETT

I can't help but think women could do a lot to liven up the job of homemaking—if they used more imagination and less self-pity.

In the first place, women don't make the most of friendship with other women. Too often they regard their friends and neighbors as rivals, instead of looking on them as other passengers in the same boat, tied down by the same demands and worrying over the same problems.

If women were quicker to lend each other a helping hand and a little encouragement and praise there would be far less loneliness in the job of homemaking than there is .

MAKE THE JOB EASIER

IN the second place, housewives tend to make a lot of unnecessary work for themselves. If they are slaves to their job, it is often because they strive to live beyond the manner in which they could manage easily. Too often they think in terms of making a good impression, instead of basing their wants on comfort and convenience.

And last of all, many women won't slow down enough to enjoy the little opportunities for pleasure that each day could offer.

They wish they had time to do things, instead of taking time to do them. Even the busiest housewife can snatch time from her day to ask a neighbor over for a cup of coffee, to get out in the sunshine and go for a walk with the children, to read a few minutes, to ask a friend to bring her sewing or mending over so that there is some companionship in an otherwise dull job.

Housekeeping needn't be as dull a job as many women make it. And one day doesn't have to be just like another for the homemaker, if she makes up her mind to vary them a little.

"Try And Stop Me"

MARY MARGARET McBRIDE, late for a broadcast, squeezed into a crowded Fifth Avenue bus. Three times a gallant gentleman with a Van Dyke beard attempted to rise, but Miss McBride pushed him back into his seat each time. "None of this outmoded false gallantry," she chided. "I'm a working woman and I can stand just as well as the next one."

On his fourth attempt, the gentleman thrust out his jaw (and beard) and said firmly, "This time you simply must let me get out, madam. I'm seven blocks past my stop now."

MIGUEL COVARRUBIAS, the author of Mexico South, was describing the rugged, impassable terrain of eighty per cent of that country. "I was driving on a dirt road on the hills about fifty miles from Mexico City one day," he said, "when I lost my way. Eventually, I passed a farmer and asked him. 'How can I get from here to the city?' He looked at me quite calmly and said, 'You can't'."

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

Snow-Hating Writer Planning Visit To Hawaii, Australia

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21 — I will not pretend that I am not excited, for daddy's off to the seven seas again and may very likely have candied kangaroo for his New Year's dinner. Last year it was sheep's eyes and couscous with the Arabs in Tangier, and any man who can cope with a limpid, boiled sheep's eye certainly can handle a hunk of Australian marsupial. It can't be harder to swallow.

RUARK

I always get excited when I leave San Francisco—probably a throwback to the war, when you never knew where you'd wind up.

This time I've got a better idea, since Pan-American, not NATS, is handling my trade and no naval orders inhabit my coat pocket.

It looks very much like the Hawaiian islands need a short inspection from your correspondent, who has heard of snow in New York and who never, never encountered that heavenly fluff in Honolulu.

Strife Is Reported

I am also a little bit curious to see whether Harry Bridges left anything in his wake, in the way of fun. The final report I had from the islands told of starvation and strife as a result of Harry's longshore strike. The islands were full of starvation and strife last time I was out that way, too, but for a different reason.

This reason was called war, and was embodied by the GI. The heavenly isles were as crowded as a subway, and twice as jampacked with frustration. You could look but you couldn't touch. Everybody was mad at everybody else. You couldn't buy a drink or rent a hotel room or find a seat or get your clothes back from the laundry within a normal life expectancy. Gals were as scarce as courtesy, and almost every military man I knew hated the joint.

AFTER I have given Hawaii another chance, it seems foolish to come home to more snow, so I figure to rustle over to Australia and New Zealand, to see what gives since they bounced the Socialists out of the government. At least that is what I am telling the office. Actually I am going back to see if the horses still run counter-clockwise at Randwick racetrack in Sydney, and to determine whether Melbourne beer has lost its flavor.

My strong right arm, otherwise referred to as mama, is in tow for this safari because I am not allowed to return to the scene of past crimes without firm supervision. Mama, like a few hundred thousand other mamas, has heard violently colored anecdotes about Australia, and for some years would not permit me to mention the word in the parlor.

I intend to perform a service for a great many ex-GI's who are still having trouble as the result of a short stay at Sydney or Brisbane or Melbourne or Perth. I am going to turn mama loose on that terrain, and convince her that all military men were nothing but bored and saintly during their sojourn down under.

Public Service Planned

This would seem to me to be a public service, for I know of no American spouse who does not compress her lips into a thin, stern line when the subject of Australia slides into a conversation. By some horrid miscarriage of public relations ,all wives are convinced that life in Australia was an interminable orgy, with dancing girls, wine and carousal running a 24-hour shift. I intend to convince mama that our love of the place was founded entirely on a fondness for styke and aigs, the benevolent climate and the kookaburra, or laughing-jackass bird.

After inspecting the Maori culture—I thought it might be a nice idea to tarry for a moment in Noumea, New Caledonia. The GI left a mighty mess of cultural footprints in those parts, including red-headed ones, and I think it my bounden duty to give the old town at least a routine check.

There is only one possible hitch in my plans. In case mama is not convinced that our interest in Australia was purely academic, you may send the mail to Tahiti. The guy in sarong and full beard who meets the boat will be me.

Today's Journal Editorial

OF BENEFIT TO ALL

The announcement of plans for standardization of the arms and military training of the United States, Canada and Great Britain is a common sense and practical arrangement dictated by experiences in World War II.

The capacity of these nations to help each other was impaired in the last war because, as one illustration, the ammunition for the guns of one nation oftimes could not be used in those of the others.

The virtual certainty now appears to be that the nations will be allies in any war which might occur in the foreseeable future. Security demands that they make such precautionary preparations as they can, not as individuals, but as a group.

This, they say, they intend to do—indeed, actually have been doing. If they actually proceed according to this sort of coordinated planning, they will apply to the benefit of all the axiom that in union they will find greater strength

Charges Filed Against Negro After Shooting Near Lorenzo

Fatal shooting Tuesday of Richard McDonald, 29, a negro cotton picker, on a farm six miles east of Lorenzo brought to seven the number of deaths in this are in the last 17 days.

Another 29-year-old negro cotton picker, Herman Johnson, has been lodged in the county jail at Crosbyton under a charge of murder with malice in connection with McDonald's death.

Lubbock police and sheriff's officers, meanwhile were seeking Wesley Daniels, brother of Finney Daniels, killed here Tuesday, on a similar charge.

McDonald died about 6:30 p.m. in a hail of bullets from a .22 caliber pistol allegedly held by Johnson following an argument between the two men in a building housing negro laborers on the farm of Roy Kruger.

Assisant District attorney A. W. Salyars, who investigated the incident, said Kruger and five negroes witnessed the fatal shooting.

All, Salyars said, told officers that Johnson had fired the shots which killed McDonald.

Kruger, who had gone to the building to pay the negro laborers, said McDonald was leaning on the door of the structure, his left hand in his pocket, when Johnson, inside the room, opened fire.

McDonald ran from the building after the first shot was fired and fell a few feet from the building, Salyars said witnesses told him.

Fires Steadily

Then, it was related, Johnson advanced on the fallen man, firing steadily. Officers said all nine bullets in the gun were believed to have been discharged. A few Johnson was charged in the Justice court of J. E. Richardson on complaint of Crosby County Sheriff Foy Addison. Salyars prepared the complaint. Johnson was denied bond.

Officers aiding in the investigation besides Salyars and Addison were Texas Rangers Raymond Waters and W. E. "Razz" Renfro; Deputy Sheriffs M. O. Pounds and W. T. Harrington; and Highway Patrolman Jim Riddles.

Witnesses to the Lubbock shooting said the fatal shot climaxed an argument over approximately $2 lost by the suspect in a dice game.

Several thefts, mainly from parked cars, were reported to police Tuesday.

Tires were stolen from vehicles belonging to Jack Clayburn of 1811 Texas and J. J. Mayfield of 211 Paris, records showed. Clayburn's car was parked in the 1800-block Texas Ave., Mayfield's in front of his home.

Hub Caps Taken

Harold Garrison told officers a set of hub caps valued at $18.95 had been taken from his pickup truck while it was parked in front of his residence at 1637 Eighth.

A 1947 Chevrolet sedan owned by James G. Samson of 3014 Twenty-sixth was reported stolen Tuesday from an alley in the 1200-block near Thirteenth. License plates issued to the vehicle were listed as AT 5588.

Charles Penyhouse of 1513 Ave. E complained of theft of a red and silver bicycle valued at $25 from the O. L. Slaton school.

A northwest Lubbock woman informed police shortly after noon Tuesday that two men had attempted to lure her seven-year-old daughter and a companion into a car as the pair returned to Cottage school at the end of the lunch hour.

The men, one described as young, the other middle-aged, told the girls "come here little girls, we'll take you to school," the woman said.

The girls, she said, ran home. The men were reportedly driving a late model maroon-colored car.

Police, in view of the number of such cases reported recently, have urged that officers be notified immediately when children are molested.

Guilty Pleas Heard

In county court three pleas of guilty were entered before Judge Walter Davies.

Lee Roy Condley, 29, a soldier of RAFB, was fined $75 and costs for drunk driving. J. H. Lindsey was fined $200 and costs for liquor law violation.

Cader Kinney, 38, was fined $150 and costs in a liquor law violation charge filed Dec. 15. He earlier had pleaded innocent.

Slaying Suspects Released On Bond

Two persons charged with murder — John Dayton Ritter, 43, of 2800-block Twenty-seventh, and Walter T. Rogers, 65, of 2105 Main — posted bond and were released from county jail Tuesday, it was announced.

Ritter, charged in the Saturday night gunshot slaying of Robert S. Spence, 24, of Morton, posted $10,000 bond.

Rogers, charged in the Dec. 10 shotgun slaying of his 56-year-old wife Margaret, whom he had married only three months previously, posted $15,000 bond.

Both cases will be investigated when a 99th district grand jury reports Jan. 2 to Judge G. V. Pardue.

Tech ROTC To Accept Added Student Quota

Texas Tech freshmen students or veterans with two years of college remaining will be accepted in the Reserve Officers Training corps for the spring semester, it was announced Tuesday by Lt. Col. R. P. Riordan, commanding officer.

Openings have been made for additional personnel because of a broadening interest in the ROTC, Col. Riordan said. Usual practice is to accept cadets at the beginning of the fall semester only.

"Any freshman or prospective freshman or veteran with two years of college work remaining will be accepted by the Tech unit until the end of the present semester," the commanding officer said. Special drill periods will be arranged to allow those entering late to catch up with the fall enlistees, he added.

Margaret Truman Lacks Talent, Top U. S. Critics Decide After New York Program

By FREDERICK M. WINSHIP
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—The nation's top music critics took their hatchets today to Margaret Truman, the first President's daughter ever to sing in Carnegie hall.

It was a brilliant social occasion for the audience of 2,500 distinguished guests admitted by invitation only last night to hear the 25-year-old sophano sing on a half-hour radio program.

But to Manhattan's debut-weary critics Miss Truman was just another beginner finishing up her first concert tour of the stage that has been the goal of all young stars for four decades.

They said she had a lot of "personal distinction" but little musical talent.

Truman Hears Program

Several million other music lovers had a chance to make up their own minds about Miss Truman by tuning her in on the American Broadcasting company's national hookup. They included President Truman, who listened from Washington, and Mrs. Truman, who tuned in at Independence, Mo.

The cavernous auditorium and the glitteringly dressed audience did not shake Miss Truman's poise and assurance. She stood behind a hedge of poinsettas in a clinging gold lame gown that accerituated her shapely figure and sang like a seasoned trouper.

Her selections were "O Mio Babbino Caro" from Puccini's opera "Gianni Schicchi" and two simple carols which she selected as the nation's favorites—"O Little Town of Bethlehem" and "Silent Night." She had a symphony orchestra and a male chorus to back her up.

At the end of the program she received four curtain calls and an armful of yellow roses and white gardenias, then went backstage to receive congratulations from a bevy of celebrities including Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. The critics said it was a great show, but . . .

"Only at the end when she stopped singing and smiled and became the lovely Miss Truman again did she seem to make any real contact with the audience," said the New York Herald Tribune's composer - critic, Virgil Thomson.

"Her voice is small in size and range and not at all beautiful," Thomson said. "She seemed to have none of the temperament and quality that enables a musician to bring music to life."

Howard Taubman of the New York Times noted that Miss Truman's voice was "thin but agreeable in quality," but said the program was too short and the selections too unimportant musically to make a real evaluation.

Baytown Adds Area To City

BAYTOWN, Dec. 21 (U.P.) — Four square miles of additional territory was under city jurisdiction today, following annexation by the city council last night.

An ordinance added all the territory west of the old city limits to the eastern boundary of water district 8 and north to Decker drive. The original plan was to annex seven square miles, but that was amended before the second and final reading.

Oil Property Included

A portion of the acquisition included part of the Humble Oil and Refining company property and the Busch ranch, which adjoined the city limits of the old town of Goose Creek.

Baytown's main industrial area was surrounded by city property as a result of the action. In the center are the huge Humble refinery and three rubber plants, all government-owned. Humble operates two of the plants, and General Tire and Rubber company the other.

New Annexation Slated

It was predicted that the annexation would bring $150,000 more in taxes into city tills annually.

Meantime, an ambitious council took another step that would add eight more square miles to the city.

Another ordinance, passed on its first reading last night, would extend the city limits beyond the old David G. Burnet plantation, some six miles distant from the Baytown city hall.

HOUSTON SCHOOLS OUT

HOUSTON, Dec. 21 (U.P.)—A two-week holiday vacation began today for Houston's 89,000 children attending public schools. Final pre-Christmas programs and plays were the order of the day at Tuesday's closing sessions. Bookwork will resume on Tuesday, Jan. 3.

Injunction Sought By Lubbock Nursery

Baker Bros. company, a corporation with head offices in Fort Worth and a nursery plant outside Lubbock on the Slaton highway, filed a petition Tuesday afternoon in Judge Dan Blair's 72nd district court seeking to enjoin a cotton oil company here from allowing cotton and lint from allegedly blowing onto its nursery stock and premises.

Named defendant was Brazos Valley Cotton Oil company, a corporation with headquarters offices in Waco.

The petition claimed that the cotton oil company had erected a building just north of the plaintiff's three tracts of land and started treating cottonseed, with the result that blowing cotton and cottonseed was threatening to damage the nursery company's investment.

The suit was filed by Simon and Simon, Fort Worth attorneys, and Nelson and McCleskey, Lubbock law firm.

No hearing date had been set late Tuesday afternoon.
