Texas Christian University's football brochure came in over the weekend, just some three days after the Texas A&M book arrived, and it confirms that the new TCU coach, Jim Pittman is counting on a couple of Snyder boys to bolster his No. 1 defensive platoon this fall.

Frankie Grimmett, a junior who was the leading pass receiver on the team last year while playing at the tight end position is going to be the first-string rover on defense this year, and David McGinnis, also a junior, will be a defensive halfback when the Horned Frogs take the field against UT Arlington Sept. 18. McGinnis played safety last year, but according to the book, he was moved to halfback because he is such a strong defender against running plays.

Pittman is going with the popular Wishbone offensive line-up, and also has changed TCU's defense from a 5-2 alignment to a split four with a roving linebacker. Pittman made few predictions, but did guarantee that the Frogs this year "will be aggressive."

Dick Roberts, who formerly toiled for this newspaper before moving to Austin a few years ago to work for the State Highway Department, called in Monday about Bill Greif being called up to the Houston Astros and scheduled to pitch his first major league game Monday night.

The Austin papers made a big splash about it because young Greif was one of the top athletes ever produced by Austin Reagan High School. He set a record in strikeouts for a Little League pitcher when he lived in Snyder.

Apollo 15 Countdown Starts For Monday Blastoff

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — On the second anniversary of man's first landing on the moon, the countdown began today for a fourth American expedition to the lunar surface.

The Apollo 15 launch team started the countdown clock at 6:30 a.m. EDT, aiming for a blastoff of the Saturn 5 rocket next Monday at 9:34 a.m. Early activity involved feeding electrical power to the three stages of the giant rocket.

The clock started at 104 hours, 00 minutes. It will be halted at several pre-planned points to provide crew rest periods and catchup time on any itm that might fall behind schedule.

Two years ago, on July 20, 1969, Apollo 11 astronauts Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. took the historic first steps on the moon.

The Apollo 12 and 14 crews since have left their footprints in the dusty lunar soil. An oxygen tank exploded on the Apollo 13 astronauts' spaceship and they were forced to return to earth without attempting a moon landing.

Astronauts David R. Scott and James B. Irwin hope to become the seventh and eighth humans to visit that barren but scientifically fertile land. While they are on the surface a record 67 hours, exploring with a wheeled moon buggy, Alfred M. Worden will conduct a series of scientific and photographic experiments in lunar orbit.

The three spacemen planned to spend most of today rehearsing in lunar and command module simulators here. They were in the trainers Monday, and Scott and Irwin later drove a model of their moon cart over a mock moonscape, practicing the second and third of the three excursions they plan on the surface.

Scott and Irwin are to land July 30 at the base of the Apennine Mountains, whose 15,000-foot peaks are the tallest on the moon.

They are to drive 22 miles, searching for original lunar crust at the mountain front, exploring a mile-wide canyon called Hadley Rille and inspecting craters that might provide the first evidence of volcanic activity on the moon.

The launch team Monday successfully checked a new inverter placed in the Apollo 15 command ship because of a brief power dropout during a countdown test last week.

NASA also announced that one change is being made on Apollo 15 as a result of the deaths of three Soviet cosmonauts as their Soyuz 11craft reentered earth's atmosphere June 30. The tragedy was blamed on sudden depressurization of the cabin.

All three Apollo 155 astronauts will wear pressure suits instead of flight coveralls when the lunar module is jettisoned in lunar orbit after the moon exploration.

Vaccination Of Horses Begins

Vaccination of horses for Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis (VEE), which has swept up from south of the border to menace the Texas horse population, was underway throughout the area today.

County Agent Billy Roach said that horse owners should contact veterinarians to arrange for vaccinations. The local veterinarians receive 100 shots each of the vaccine per day, which they pick up at Abilene, a regional distribution center. The vaccine is mixed there and it must be administered within 12 hours after mixing.

Meanwhile, local health authorities said that a number of inquiries had been received about VEE in humans. The disease is considered relatively mild in humans, and according to State Health Dept. officials, most patients recover in 20 to 36 hours. Symptoms include a high fever, up to 105 degrees, intense headache, vomiting, diarrhea and sore muscles.

Prevention of the disease may best be achieved by eliminating mosquitoes, the major known carrier. Breeding places for mosquitoes should be eliminated or treated. These places include standing water holes, old tires, cans or other containers which can hold water.

County health authorities here said that spraying has been underway since April 1 to control mosquitoes. However, the health unit activity in this type of work must necessarily be limited mostly to creeks, etc. The smaller breeding places of mosquitoes on private property must be taken care of by the owners because there is simply not enough time and equipment available for the county to do it all.

This area has had relatively light infestations of mosquitoes, due to dry weather. However, recent showers may stimulate a new crop of mosquitoes, unless they are controlled.

Massive spraying in coastal areas from Cameron Parish, La., to Brownsville was started this morning by 17 Air Force Planes in an effort to control mosquitoes in an area which has been hit hard by VEE cases.

At the same time, veterinarians were extending vaccination programs over five states to stop the disease which has killed 875 horses and sickened 61 persons in Texas.

1972 Draft Lottery Set Aug. 5

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 1972 draft lottery was set today for Aug. 5 amid doubts that Congress will renew the nation's draft law before September.

Selective Service Director Curtis W. Tarr said the lottery, for determining the order in which men will be called up in 1972, will begin at 10 a.m. in the Commerce Department auditorium in Washington.

The actual authority to draft expired June 30 but Tarr said the lottery is conducted under Selective Service machinery which is not affected by the draft expiration.

"The young men who face possible induction next year," the Selective Service chief said, "deserve to know their relative chances for induction so that they are better able to plan ahead."

A conference committee from the House and Senate has been unable to agree on an extension of the draft law, having become hung up on an Indochina war-pullout amendment. Some of the conferees say they doubt an agreement can be reached to renew the draft law before September.

Tarr said the Aug. 5 drawing will involve two drums—one containing all 366 birthdates in the year and the other containing the number 1 through 366 which will determine the order of call-ups.

If June 4 is the first birthdate drawn from the drum A for example, Tarr said, and 41 is the first number drawn from drum B, then all men who became 19 years old last June 4 would be in the 41st group in line for the draft next year.

US B52s Shell DMZ

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers dropped 600 tons of explosives on suspected North Vietnamese positions along the demilitarized zone today after enemy gunners broke a lull of more than three weeks with new attacks on South Vietnamese bases just below the DMZ.

All the B52 strikes were within a mile of the buffer zone, and it was the heaviest concentration of raids in nearly two weeks. The North Vietnamese gunners had slammed 52 mortars and rockets including 240mm rockets—at three bases and one field position, but the South Vietnamese command said the shelling caused no casualties.

SIGNING UP AT WTC — Dean Grant, 18, son of Elza Grant, Rt. 2, Snyder, completes pre-registration procedures at WTC with Dr. Duane Hood, director of admissions-registrar. Grant signed up for the two year welding course and related classwork.

Pre-registration Begins At WTC

Pre-registration at Western Texas College is moving along at a good pace, Dr. Duane Hood, director of admissions-registrar has reported, with students arriving from as far away as Waco, Knippa, Tahoka, Lubbock, Vealmoor, Colorado City, Gail and Hermleigh.

Dr. Hood explained that pre-registration serves three purposes: to find out what courses people want to take; to find out how many people want to take course work; and to counsel with people to find out what courses they need to take in order to fulfill their educatioal goals.

A good number of the pre-registrants have been high school graduates, he explained, "but we are not getting enough adults to enroll."

Dr. Hood pointed out that "the adults are welcome to come out and pre-register along with other students at any time of the day and to talk with us. We are holding special registration tonight and Thursday night, July 22 from 7 to 9, for those who are unable to make the pre-registration during the day."

During this pre-registration, students will receive pre-counseling which will enable them to participate in the Aug. 26 final registration without further counseling. At the July 19 to 30 pre-registration, they receive their permit to get into final registration. No money or fees are required until final registration.

Coursework will be offered during the day and during the evening hours. Day or night, students can get basic college courses, vocational, technical and mid-management courses.

Harry Dietz, assistant professor of mid-management, encouraged local businessmen and office management people to come out to the college during pre-registration to find out about management courses. He expects a good number of pre-registrants to sign up for management courses.

He explained that among the courses offered will be the Principles of Management. This and other courses are designed to educate students in the field of distribution in wholesale, retail and service occupations and prepare them to participate in business at the mid-management level.

Heavy Showers Fall Over Area

Summer thundershowers dotted the Snyder area late Monday, breaking a string of rainless days that had continued since early June.

The heaviest rainfall reported in the region occurred west of Fluvanna in northeastern Borden County, with measurements up to 3.50 inches. In and around the Fluvanna community itself, the rainfall ranged from 2.50 inches to 3.00.

Other heavy showers fell southeast of Snyder and in the Hermleigh area, with the totals ranging from 1.40 inches to 3.00 inches. Although they were spotted, showers up to an inch and a half were logged near Dunn, but the rainfall tapered off to the west, with only a light shower reported at Ira.

Light showers produced .30 inch at Lake J. B. Thomas, and Snyder had a total of .20 in the official gauge, although more fell at the east and southeast edges of town. The rainfall was lighter to the west toward Union.

The rainfall was touched off by a cool front that managed to penetrate the northern half of Texas and put a dent in a prolonged dry, hot spell. Overnight temperatures dropped to 68 in Snyder, and cooler weather prevailed over the area. The National Weather Service indicated that there still was a chance for some showers, but perhaps less than that of

Big Spring Told To Submit Plan

BIG SPRING, Tex. (AP) — The Department of Health, Education and Welfare instructed the Big Spring school board today to submit by July 29 a plan to correct what it calls racial imbalance in two local elementary schools. The two schools have Mexican-American and Negro pupils.

Big Spring was one of the first Texas cities to desegregate its schools after the 1954 Supreme Court ruling.

6 RAILROADS ADDED TO STRIKE

Phone, Postal Workers Reach Tentative Pacts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Telephone workers prepared today to return to work under terms of a proposed contract as leaders of seven postal unions gathered here to discuss a tentative agreement worked out with the U.S. Postal Service.

The two agreements, covering more than 1 million workers nationwide, were bright spots on a labor front still facing the dim prospect of further railroad tieups by the weekend.

The Postal Service, which replaced the Post Office Department July 1, worked out the final pact with a union subcommittee after 36 hours of 'round-the-clock bargaining.

A spokesman said it was "in the neighborhood" of $750 million but he disclosed no specifics.

Pay of a postal worker now runs from $7,100 per year to an average $9,700 after eight years.

The telephone workers had walked off their jobs in Bell System facilities a week ago, demanding higher pay and better benefits. Their agreement was said by a union official to represent a 33½-per-cent increase in the next three years, a pact worth $4 billion.

About 400,000 members of the Communications Workers of America walked out, with another 100,000 union members observing picket lines set up during the strike.

Joseph A. Beirne, CWA president, said the tentative agreement will not be ratified until secret balloting of union members is completed, a process expected to take about two weeks. But workers planned to begin returning to work after midnight tonight.

In New York, the state CWA bargaining union rejected the agreement as unsatisfactory in regard to vacation, pension and working-condition provisions. But the panel said the decision will have to come from the rank and file.

Should the members across the country turn down the settlement, Beirne said, a new strike will follow Aug. 19.

In the rails dispute, the United Transportation Union said Monday it will add six more railroads to the selective strike under way now against the Southern and Union Pacific lines.

Strike deadlines had been set for 12:01 a.m., Saturday against the Southern Pacific, the Norfolk & Western and the Chicago and North Western.

Child at home must live by the rules

By Abigail Van Buren

[© 1971 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.]

DEAR ABBY: What can a mother do when she has a 19-year-old daughter who comes in at 7:30 a. m. and expects to be greeted with open arms? If I raise my voice she tells me I'm crazy.

I can't throw her out as she has no job, no money and no husband. She has a 10-month-old baby I love very much. I take care of the baby while she sleeps all day.

My daughter is a beautiful girl with a nice figure and she doesn't hesitate to tell you so. I only wish her brain was the same.

Your column is the only thing she ever reads in the paper. Maybe if you printed this, it might wake her up.

MOM

DEAR MOM: She's up! Somebody should wake you up. As long as you continue to look after her child while she sleeps all day and stays out all night, nothing will change. Why should it? She's got it made. A child [of any age or marital status], while living in her parents' home, should be made to abide by the standard of that home—or vamoose!

DEAR ABBY: I am a very warm-blooded girl who craves affection, and I am married to a very cold touch-me-not type man. We have two children. Don't ask me how they got here. They were both accidents. But accidents like that don't happen to us very often.

The big blowup came last night when he took me to a drive-in movie. It was a romantic film so I snuggled up close to him and he kept moving away from me until he was practically on the fender. I asked him to kiss me, and he said, "No, not here." [We were all alone in a closed car, and it was pitch dark.] Well, it ruined my whole evening.

I know I am not all that bad, Abby. He keeps telling me he "loves" me, so why doesn't he show me?

HUNGRY FOR LOVE

DEAR HUNGRY: Your man doesn't know how to give love because he has never been taught, and he probably hadn't received much love in his early life. Teach him. But not in a drive-in.

DEAR ABBY: Where did you ever get the idea that it's a wife's "duty" to get her husband up in the morning? If a man is old enough to get married he should be old enough to get himself up.

I can remember my mother "getting my father up" every morning, and there was a fight in our house that lasted 20 years because of it. It used to start my mother's day off wrong and my father used to go to work irritated and resentful.

Before I was married my mother told me to never be a man's alarm clock, and I took her advice.

My husband has to get himself up. And he's been late only once and then he had only himself to blame.

NO ALARM CLOCK

DEAR NO ALARM: There are two lessons to be learned here. [1] Never be a man's alarm clock. [2] It's much easier to tell someone else what to do than to do it oneself.

DEAR ABBY: With summer here will you please say a word to housewives who have clothes dryers, but insist upon hanging clothes outdoors every weekend?

When we have guests for a cookout and are sitting on our patio having cocktails it is not the most appetizing sight to see a pair of 46 bloomers flapping in the breeze. Thank you!

SIZE 10 AND DRIES INDOORS

DEAR "SIZE 10": Aw, kwitcher bragging. An eyesore is an eyesore. What has size to do with it?

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Monday.

Shower activity during the night dotted a belt up to 300 miles wide along the frontal system, but tapered off this morning into widely scattered light rain in parts of the Texas Panhandle and near the Red River.

As the cooler air eased toward the southeast thunderstorms and threatening weather near the Upper Texas Coast late Monday. Several tornado funnels whirled over South Orange County but did not touch ground.

Moisture amounts included .68 inch at Dalhart in the cool Panhandle, .59 at Dallas and .58 at Houston.

Top temperatures Monday afternoon reached only to 70 degrees at Dalhart and 71 at Amarillo behind the cool front. It stayed hot in other sections with Lufkin registering 100 degrees, Waco 102, Fort Worth and Mineral Wells 103, and Dallas 104.

Readings near dawn today ranged from 60 at Dalhart and 61 at Amarillo up to 81 at Galveston and 82 at Palacios.

Clouds spreading with the slow advance of the cool front were expected to help keep North and West Texas a bit cooler at least until Wednesday. Little change was in prospect elsewhere.

Students Already Involved At WTC

MIKE SIMPSON

Since Oct. 20, 1969, most of the work accomplished at Western Texas College has been done through the college administrators and staff. The recognizable result is, of course, the progress made in campus construction. Recently, however, a shift has been made to student effort.

Students are getting involved in starting their college. Many are on work-study and scholarship programs working to do their part to make WTC a reality. These are the students whose presence and labor are becoming increasingly visible. Not so visible, but just as important is work being done by Mike Simpson and others like him.

Simpson, 19, who will be entering WTC as a first semester sophomore, is actively engaged in helping Dr. Ben Brock, dean of the college, to establish the college's first student government. Although classes have not started, and there are few students for Simpson to consult or to "rap" with, he is making progress.

He is writing to the colleges in the Western Junior Conference to obtain copies of their student constitutions and to get their views on Student government and its construction. Colleges in the Western Junior Conference are Odessa College, Howard County Junior College, South Plains Junior College, Amarillo College, Frank Phillips College, New Mexico Junior College, New Mexico Military Institute and Clarendon College.

Simpson has been asked by Dr. Brock to provide suggestions for the names of the sports teams, for the school colors and other matters that the student body will vote on when they arrive. Simpson said, "It'll be pretty difficult at first without the help of other students, but after they arrive, I'll try to get a concensus of opinion on everything."

After school starts, he hopes to play on the WTC basketball team. He and his family have moved to Snyder from Denison where he graduated from high school. While at Denison High School, he was elected Mr. Denison High, Student Body President, named to Who's Who at DHS, was Captain of the basketball team, lettered for two years in basketball and graduated from DHS as Salutatorian.

Simpson attended Austin College in Sherman, a Presbyterian school, before coming to WTC. He was a starter on the freshman team as a guard. He was active in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and before he left Sherman, he was elected to serve on the Austin College sophomore council.

He has taught swimming for several years and this past summer, he taught swimming at Camp Stewart for boys. He is teaching swimming this summer and hopes to make his spending money by giving lessons to children of local residents.

With a lot of work done and still much to do, Simpson is working hard and doing his part to make WTC a successful school. He has said that he will appreciate any help from future WTC students.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sid Simpson, 2508 Thirty-fifth. Sid Simpson is the WTC athletic director.

Homebuilding Is Picking Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although the economy is falling short of President Nixon's forecast the pace of U.S. homebuilding is picking up and proving the brightest spot in the recovery from last year's recession.

The Commerce Department reported Monday privately owned housing starts in June climbed to an annual rate of 1.982 million units on a seasonally adjusted basis, up slightly from the May rate of 1.959 million units.

Homebuilding has made a dramatic comeback from last year's slowdown, when tight money policies and high interest rates hampered the industry. Housing starts have remained at a level of 1.9 million units over the last six months, a 48-per-cent increase over the same six-month period in 1970.

Although private residential construction is only a small part of the economy, Nixon administration officials see the rise as evidence of a broad upswing in the economy.

Secretary of Commerce Maurice H. Stans said the administration's goal of reaching 2.6 million new housing units a year for the current decade "is now clearly achievable."

Stans did not mention a recent upward push of interest rates which has added to the cost of housing. But the increase in costs apparently has failed to dampen the pace of building new homes.

Nixon's own economic advisers already have abandoned part of that economic plan, a $.065-trillion economy this year. But they have said housing will be strong even though the economy will fall short of original expectations.

Last year, housing was in a depressed state. With the administration pursuing tight budgetary and monetary policies, interest rates climbed to historic highs and homebuilding tailed off.

In June a year ago, housing starts were at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 1.398 million.

But the real pickup in homebuilding came toward the end of last year as the administration made the budget more expansive and the Federal Reserve Board eased up considerably on the monetary supply.

As a result, the ceiling on government-backed housing loans dropped from a record high of 8½ per cent last year to 7 per cent at present.

SAYS MILLS

Tax Cut Move Up To Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., says the next move is up to President Nixon if there are to be economy-stimulating tax cuts.

But Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, senior Republican on the House Ways and Means Committee, says the Democratic-controlled Congress is not likely to uphold its part of the plan advanced by Mills, chairman of the committee.

Despite the partisan sparring over Mills' proposals for tax breaks for business and low-income individuals, there were reports of quiet efforts to set up discussions seeking common ground between the Republican administration—which contends no tax cut is necessary—and Congress' Democratic tax chief.

In a speech to Utah Democrats Friday, Mills charged the Nixon economic plan has failed either to cut unemployment significantly or to curb inflation.

He proposed reviving the investment tax credit, which allowed businesses to charge off against their taxes part of their investment in equipment, and increasing the minimum standard deduction, which helps low-income taxpayers reduce their tax bill.

To make tax cuts possible, Mills said, a spending ceiling should be imposed and the government should adopt an "effective incomes policy" to hold down price and wage increases.

Spelling out his ideas in more detail in an interview, Mills said the incomes policy should include government-set wage and price guidelines—a move the administration has avoided.

In case of threats to exceed the guidelines, Mills said, the President could publicize the situation and arouse public opinion.

Mills said Congress would enact a spending ceiling in connection with tax cuts and that it could be effective.

He said a much-criticized effort to put a lid on spending had worked during the Lyndon B. Johnson administration.

Memories Of An Irish Childhoood Bring Thoughts Of Good Food.

By TOM HOGE
Associated Press Writer

Rosaleen Fitz-Gibbon of New York's Irish Pavilion bubbles over with memories of her native Ireland, and one recollection is "fishless Fridays."

"Somehow Irish country people, even those living in coastal towns, ate fish only on Fridays," Mrs. Fitz-Gibbon recalled when I paid a recent visit to her colorful restaurant in midtown Manhattan.

"A fishless Friday meant that the day had been preceded by a heavy storm which prevented the fishermen from putting out to sea. How we children loved those days, because it meant a day of sweets," she laughed. "Our mother never really thought of eggs as a substantial substitute for fish and, to our delight, would add fritters to the menu.

Mrs. Fitz-Gibbon smiled dreamily at the image of all those fritters.

"To us a platter piled high with sugar-dusted, golden coated fritters was heaven," she said. "Until you broke open the crust, you never knew what was inside.

"Sometimes it was pineapple, or orange or some kind of jam. More often it was banana or apple, or perhaps both. Anyhow, we all ate as if it was our last fishless Friday."

Other foods, particularly products of the pig, emerged from Mrs. Fitz-Gibbon's memory. Ham, pork, bacon and sausages, she reminded me, all are historic Irish fare. In times of need—and Ireland has had its share of such times—the pig was known as "the gentleman who pays the rent."

"When I was young," said my hostess, "we used to kill our own pigs and cure our own bacon. For days afterward, mother occupied the entire kitchen table making black puddings, boiling crubeens, or pigs' feet, and salting sides in crocks."

The making of pork sausage has been a tradition in Ireland. In fact, it is said that no compatriot ever visited Irish author James Joyce in Paris without bringing the famous man a couple of pounds of Irish sausage and a bottle of Irish whiskey to wash it down.

Another anecdote tells of a reporter from an Irish newspaper who telephoned poet William Butler Yeats to inform him he had won the Nobel prize for poetry back in 1923. It meant winning about $28,000, the reporter added.

"Splendid, my good man," said Yeats. "You must come round to celebrate with us. We are having sausages for tea."

"One of my favorite sausage recipes is sausage pudding," said Mrs. Fitz-Gibbon. We serve it once in a while."

SAUSAGE PUDDING

1 pound sausage meat
2 tablespoons stock or beef gravy
1 teaspoon chopped parsley
4 ounces breadcrumbs
2 slices of bacon
1 tablespoon tomato ketchup
1 ounce cooking oil
salt and pepper

Dice bacon and mix with breadcrumbs, parsley, ketchup and gravy. Add sausage meat and sprinkling of salt and pepper and mix well. Put mixture in a baking tin well greased with the cooking oil and bake 30 minutes in a moderate oven. Turn into a large hot dish and surround with mashed potatoes sprinkled with parsley and chives. Platter can also be decorated with broiled halved tomatoes and small mounds of peas. Serves two persons. Good with chilled ale.

Good Novel About Art Forgery

TOUR DE FORCE. By Philip Cleife. Harper. $5.95.

Art forgery, on an international scale, is the central theme of this novel.

It opens like the scenario of a suspense movie. Martyn, a British painter taking a holiday in Spain with his girl friend Katey, is kidnapped. A very smooth operator named Emilio wants him to paint a picture that can be sold as an early work of Salvador Dali, and under pressure Martyn agrees.

But that is only the beginning. Emilio, who is quite wealthy, is the master of a racket. Faked works of art are given forged credentials, they are run through several auctions to give them a pedigree, and then are sold to American millionaires.

There is at least one American multi-millionaire who takes advantage of the system. Cynically knowing that he is buying carefully prepared fakes, he donates the pictures to museums and then takes whopping tax deductions—which is all he is interested in.

But that leaves him open to blackmail by Emilio. And while Emilio is selling fakes to American industrialists, he picks up defense secrets from his clients and peddles them on the espionage market.

Martyn, regretting his part in the Dali episode, naively tries to expose the fake. He gets nowhere with the art establishment, which thinks he is a nut, but he stirs up a hornet's nest among Emilio and his conspirators. There is some gunplay and Martyn has to rescue his friend Katey.

It's entertainment, and as summer fare it is better than average.

As old as history itself, cherries are known to date back as far as the Stone Age. But there are still new ways to enjoy them. Since they come with a natural handle, the stem, it's easy to work with them. For frosted cherries, dip them into slightly beaten egg white, sprinkle with sugar, and place them on waxed paper until the sugar dries. You can use frosted cherries to liven up fresh fruit dessert plates. Or try dunking cherries in custard sauce or in vanilla or lemon fondue, for your next summer get-together.

Kitchen Table Decisions Also Direct Economy

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — While moves made in Washington receive most of the credit or blame for directing the course of the economy, less publicized decisions made over the kitchen table have tremendous impact too.

The decision by millions of ordinary Americans to cool it, for example. Aware that the economy had overheated, as evidenced by higher prices in every type of store, consumers decided on direct action: they cut down on buying.

In 1970, more than $8.85 billion was owed on charge accounts. Latest figures for this year show the total reduced below $8 billion. In March it dropped all to $7.2 billion, although it has risen some since then.

Much of the energy that was diverted from buying was directed toward paying bills. In 1969, about $95 billion in instalment credit was repaid. Last year it topped $100 billion. This year's rate is higher than that.

Unfortunately, there is a less constructive aspect of the picture.

While many Americans are able to pay off their bills, an increasing number are not. Personal bankruptcies are rising.

Viewed over a number of years, there is nothing surprising about the bankruptcy picture. Because of ever-larger population, the number tends to grow over a long period of time.

In 1967, however, it appeared to have topped out. Bankruptcies in that year reached a high of more than 191,000. The figure fell in both 1968 and 1969, but now it is moving up again, and probably will top 180,000 this year.

One of the big reasons for personal bankruptcies, a falling stock market, may not be as much a factor this year as in the immediate past. The market is much higher than a year ago, even if it is well below its recent highs.

However, a persistently high rate for unemployment is expected. Although the jobless rate was measured at 5.6 per cent in June, compared with 6.2 per cent a month earlier it is expected to be back in the 6 per cent area this month.

Commission rates on stock purchases aren't likely to drive any small investor into bankruptcy, even though some brokers claim that they are headed that way if they don't get a better price for their services.

But, as in other parts of the economy, the buyer has decided that he isn't going to accept higher charges without a fight.

Sailboat Is Man's Home

DETROIT (AP) — The home of 78-year-old Leo Grayson has been a bobbing sailboat on the Detroit River for the past 31 years.

"I just take to the water like some people take to a nice car," he said about his home, a 30-foot-long sailboat called "Arlene."

Formerly a worker at an automobile plant, Grayson now works part-time splicing rope for a marine dealer.

Born on Long Island, Grayson sailed on commercial fishing boats before joining the Navy in 1911. He came here in 1915 to join his parents. Those were the days when he dreamed of owning his own boat.

"Finally in 1940, I borrowed $600 from one bank and $600 from another bank and bought Arlene for $,1200, he said.

Junior Editors Quiz on HOT DOGS

QUESTION: What was the origin of the term "hot dog"?

ANSWER: The tasty frankfurter is a variety of sausage. Early in the history of man, sausage was a popular food. It was made from pork or beef, ground with salt and herbs, enclosed in a casing made from the entrails of animals. The Greeks and Romans lavished praise on the tasty sausage of their time, the ancient forbear of the frankfurter or "hot dog." In the Middle Ages, sausage artists came into their own. They experimented with different spices and methods of smoking the meat. The progenitor of the American favorite emerged in Germany. The wienerwurst was popular in Vienna. Then the word frankfurter was used for a spicy variety of sausage. It is thought the term frankfurter came from the City of Frankfort in Germany.

It is about 100 years since the frankfurter came on the American scene. In the United States this form of sausage received the nickname of "hot dog." Since this sausage is highly spiced and smoked, the name seems to emerge naturally. We serve the "hot dog" with a roll and mustard at sporting events and amusement parks. People from other countries think "hot dogs" are one of the outstanding characteristics of American life.

Boyle Learns From Mail

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Whether Americans are becoming a fitter people may be questionable, but at least we now have 16 million cases of athlete's foot yearly.

Are you having trouble with your vision? Two out of every three adults do, and it's hard to see why. Perhaps nature didn't design the human eye to meet the demands of a civilized world.

Bathing beauties of the past often stepped into the sea wearing suits easier to drown in than swim in. The typical belle of the 1890's wore a suit containing 10 square yards of cloth, enough to make a modern lass almost a dozen bikinis.

Desert nomads in Morocco, notes the National Geographic Society, still buy instead of court their brides and pay their taxes with camels. Unfortunately, a hard-up sheik can't pay his taxes with his harem castoffs.

Is the tie you're wearing in style? There is a simple way to tell. Take a ruler and measure it. If it is less than four inches wide, according to fashion authorities, it is too skinny to appear in public.

Our quotable notables: "Freedom is not an ideal, it is not even a protection, if it means nothing more than the freedom to stagnate."—Adlai E. Stevenson.

Know your language: Few soldiers today ever use the bayonet in actual combat, and probably even fewer know how it got its name. It is named for the French city of Bayonne, where it was first produced in the 17th century.

Deadly profits: What drug has the largest price markup in going from producer to ultimate consumer? It is undoubtedly heroin. The crude heroin derived from poppies may bring a Turkish farmer no more than $1.25 an ounce. But after it has been refined, cut and recut, an ounce may cost the addicts who take as much as $10,000.

It was Epicurus who observed,

'It is vain to ask of the gods what a man is capable of supplying for himself."

Texas Well Received

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas emerged as an "international industrial power" at a recent conference in Munich, Germany, the Texas Industrial Commission says.

Sponsored by the German Institute of Economic Affairs, the conference was prompted by a growing demand for expanding German industry to the United States, the commission said.

Commission Executive Director Jim Harwell and Jim Harvey, director of international trade, expressed satisfaction at the German industrialists' response to Texas.

"They are shying away from the Eastern Seaboard because Texas has the ports, resources and growing room industry requires," Harwell said. "We are convinced that Texas is becoming a front-line international trade power."

At least 75 per cent of the companies attending the conference indicated that they would contact the commission for specific information, Harwell said.

More than 200 West German and English industrial leaders attended conference sessions exploring American investments, legal procedures, taxes and other corporate areas. In addition to state agencies, the U.S. Department of Commerce also cooperated with German experts in conducting the meet.

The Texas team assess the German market as "virtually wide open."

"The expanding German economy is ripe for importing Texas products," Harwell said. "Texas manufacturers are limited only by their vitality and ingenuity."

Harwell said a trade mission to cement West German industrial contacts has reached the drawing board. Similar commission efforts in Mexico and Australia netted new industry for the state while expanding its export markets," the agency said.

Martin Speaks To State Bar

DALLAS (AP) — State Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin said during the State Bar of Texas convention here that he will go to Washington in the fall to urge that capital punishment be continued.

"Texas will seek to uphold the death penalty and I will go to the hearings," Martin said. "I'm not sure if I will make the argument or if one of my assistants will, but I'll be there."

One of four appeal cases on the death penalty now before the Supreme Court is from Texas. It claims that capital punishment violates the Constitution which forbids "cruel and unusual" punishment.

If the appeals are upheld, Martin says, it could mean the end of the death penalty.

Barber Tops 11'000 Mark

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Barber Chester Gunn, who has been trimming hair at Boysville here for the past 12 years, has topped the 11,000 mark.

No. 11,000 was young Jesse Menchaca.

Gunn says he gives about 900 haircuts a year at the home for homeless boys.

American Stars Edge Nationals

The American All-Stars overcame an 11-1 lead to edge the National All-Stars, 12-11 in Little League playoff activity here Monday night. The American stars will travel to Colorado City tonight where they will take on the C-City All-Stars.

The Nationals jumped off to a big lead, scoring 8 runs off of 2 hits in the first inning. With one away, Billy Rollins knocked a home run. The rest of the runs came off of 9 walks and a single by Ricky Beard.

The Nationals added another in the 2nd with singles by Tim Falls and Glen Davis and walks to Lee Allen Jarrell and Billy Rollins. Two more runs were produced in the 3rd as Beard walked and came in on a homer by Tim Falls.

After that it was the American team's turn. They had scored one in the first off of 4 walks, with Don Vaughan getting the tally. Two more runs came in the 3rd with a single by Charles Cobb, 2 walks and a hit batsman. In the 4th, the American stars garnered 2 runs, with a single by Bobby Riggins, 2 walks and sacrifices by Cobb and Dale Hobbs.

The 5th inning was the big one for the Americans, as they tallied 7 runs off of 5 hits, 3 walks and a hit batter. Getting singles were Randy Lewis, Danny Chaidez, Dray Sikes, and Cobb with two.

It was a game that could go either way, and all of the boys on both teams can look back to a good season. Managing the American All-Stars are Royce Corbell and L. J. Mueller, while the National All-Stars were headed by Jeral Beard and Ted Crenwlege.

Tonight's contest is scheduled to begin at 7. The winner will play the winner of tonight's game between Ballinger and Winters. If the Snyder stars win, the next contest will be here Friday night.

Unitas, Star Make News

By ALEX SACHARE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Bart Starr and John Unitas, two of the National Football League's all-time great quarterbacks, made the news out of pro football's training camps Monday. For Unitas the news was good, but for Starr, not so good.

Unitas, who underwent surgery after rupturing his right Achilles tendon playing paddle ball April 7, threw hard passes for 15 minutes at the Baltimore Colts training camp in Westminster, Md.

It was the first time Unitas, 38, had set up and thrown to receivers since camp opened July 11. Unitas is under doctor's orders not to do any running until August.

But while Unitas was able to throw without pain, Starr was not. The Green Bay Packer veteran, who came up with a sore arm late last season, felt pain in his throwing arm and will have to stop passing for the foreseeable future, according to Coach Dan Devine.

Devine said he was not ready to push the panic button and start a trade for a quarterback. The Packers have veteran Zeke Bratkowski, attempting a comeback at 39 after two years as an assistant coach; rookie Scott Hunter, a number six draft pick from Alabama; and second year man Frank Latrick, a converted tight end. "They probably are a lot better than anyone who is available," Devine said.

The other major news revolved around Larry Csonka, Jim Kiick, Ron Johnson and Larry Brown, four of the leading young running backs in pro football seeking more money, and have yet to sign 1971 contracts.

Csonka and Kiick combined to gain 1,532 yards rushing last season, and now they have combined to hold out for more money. Each reportedly earned less than $35,000 last year and each is said to be seeking upwards of $55,000.

Johnson, who became the first New York Giant runner to gain over 1,000 yards in one season when he totalled 1,027 last year, is said to be asking for $100,000, a $50,000 raise. Brown, the NFL's leading ground gainer in 1970, is reportedly asking upwards of $100,000 from the Washington Redskins.

Pittsburgh quarterback Terry Hanratty suffered a minor ankle sprain in a Steeler workout. St. Louis Cardinal reserve quarterback Dave Olivo will have to undergo surgery to repair knee ligaments torn in a car accident last week.

In player transactions, Atlanta signed veteran placekicker Booth Lusteg, Green Bay released seven players including quarterback Rick Norton, the Houston Oilers cut veteran defensive tackle Willie Parker, former NFL rookie of the year Paul Flatley announced his retirement, and the New England Patriots released 13, including former Notre Dame linebacker Bob Olsen and Solomon Gomez, an All-American soccer player from Harvard who was trying out as a place-kicker.

McDowell Vents Anger On Angels

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Suddenly, Sam's wallet was a lot thinner. And just as suddenly, so were some of California's hopes of a sustained drive towards the top of the American League West.

Sudden Sam McDowell, slapped with a $1,000 fine Sunday by Cleveland Manager Alvin Dark for "rowdyism" on the team bus, vented some of his frustrations on California's reviving Angels, slapping them down with a seven-hit 3-1 triumph Monday night.

The big left-hander fanned seven Angels and blanked them until second baseman Eddie Leon dropped what would have been the game-ending popup, allowing Syd O'Brien to scoot all the way home from first.

Rick Clark silenced the Tribe on just six hits through eight innings before McDowell and Ted Uhlaender opened the ninth with bunt singles. A bases-loaded walk to Chris Chambliss, an error and an infield out sent in Cleveland's runs.

In other American League games Monday, the Chicago White Sox swept a twinight doubleheader from the New York Yankees, 8-3 in 10 innings and 3-1, Baltimore topped Oakland 4-2 in an afternoon game and, under the lights, Detroit whipped Kansas City 5-2 and Washington clipped Minnesota by the same score. Milwaukee's game at Boston was rained out.

In the National League, Los Angeles snapped Pittsburgh's 11-game winning string with a 10-4 triumph, the New York Mets beat St. Louis 5-2, San Francisco outlasted Atlanta 11-8, San Diego edged Cincinnati 4-3, Montreal tripped the Chicago Cubs 5-3 and Philadelphia nosed out Houston 3-2 in 11 innings.

The Angels, ripped apart earlier this season by dissension, had been putting their game together since the suspension of moody Alex Johnson and the retirement of disappointing Tony Conigliaro.

McDowell, who went through a spring training salary dispute and early-season pitching problems, boosted his record to 9-3, as he shrugged off the whopping fine.

The team bus incident reportedly involved McDowell's use of abrasive language on a ride from Los Angeles International Airport to Anaheim and a Cleveland official said the pitcher also committed "other indiscreet acts," including swearing loudly at Dark.

The hurler and manager clashed recently when McDowell, selected as a pitcher for the All-Star Game, was scratched by Dark due to a sore shoulder.

The White Sox pounced on Mel Stottlemyre for five runs in the 10th inning of their first game with Bill Melton's bases-loaded single and Ed Herrmann's three-run homer the big hits while three relievers blanked the Yanks on four hits through the final 9 2-3 innings.

In the second game, Tommy John weaved a four-hitter of his own and Carlos May drove in all of Chicago's runs with a homer and a tie-breaking, two-run single.

Greif Does Well In First Start

Bill Greif of Austin, and formerly of Snyder, made a capable showing in his first start as a major league pitcher Monday night. His team, the Houston Astros, were victorious over Philadelphia, although he did not get credit for the win.

Greif was active in the kid baseball programs and in public school athletics here before his family moved from Snyder several years ago. Later, he won honors as an athlete at Reagan High School in Austin.

In his first start Greif went six and a third innings, giving up 2 runs on 6 hits, before being lifted for a relief pitcher. The Astros went on to win, 3-2 in eleven innings.

Boston Bruin Phil Esposito led National Hockey League scorers last season with 152 points on 76 goals and 76 assists.

Trophy Given To Buck Logan

L. D. (Buck) Logan was awarded a trophy at the Little League All-Star playoff game here Monday night in honor of his twenty consecutive years as a Little League manager. Presenting the award were members of his team, the Cardinals, who played in the all-star game. They were Marcus Anderson, Ricky Beard and Tres Falls.

Also receiving an award was Jerdi Beard, who completed the season as head of the Cardinals after Logan became ill and was no longer able to be active as a manager. Beard went ahead and guided the Cardinals to a championship, and then was manager of the National League All-Stars.

Buck Logan, or "Mr. Snyder Baseball," to the 350 boys he had coached here and to many other friends, helped organize the Little League here in 1952. That year there were six teams. He managed the Cardinals, the first of 20 years as head of that team. The other managers that year were Skipper Joyce, Rex Miller, Hardy Scarborough, Mutt Herod and Ernest Kenny.

During his tenure as a Little League manager, Buck's teams have won 13 championships, 4 second-places and 3 third-places. He has managed or helped with 17 all-star teams and has gone as far as the sectional tournament. During this time two of his players have gone on to professional baseball.

Throughout the years Buck has spent countless hours working with the boys of this area, yet to him, working with these boys has been enough of a reward for the time spent. It is this attitude that has caused so many baseball fans here to have a real appreciation for "Mr. Snyder Baseball."

Choice Is Basic In Lockheed Case

By DANIEL J. HAUGHTON
Written for
The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — There is a very basic choice involved in all the discussion about a government guarantee of private bank loans for Lockheed.

Which is more in the public interest? To preserve 60,000 jobs at no cost to the taxpayer? Or to subject the nation to a major company bankruptcy that could cost the taxpayer as much as $1 billion, throw 60,000 people out of work, create a monopoly in a $20 billion market and cause the loss of virtually all of the $1.4 billion invested in the L1011 TriStar transport to date by Lockheed, its suppliers, airlines and banks?

When you sweep away all the confusion, misinformation, and ill-founded critics, that is the heart of the matter.

The jobs at stake include those of 34,000 who were employed on the L1011 TriStar jet transport at the end of January by Lockheed and its suppliers. They also include those who would be indirectly affected if Lockheed is forced to abandon the L1011 because of inability to obtain the financing it needs.

If Lockheed has to abandon the L1011, there is no doubt that the corporation will be forced into bankruptcy.

Two things happened early this year that combined to produce a major dilemma for Lockheed—increasing the corporation's need for financing but reducing its ability to borrow.

First was the settlement on Feb. 1 of major financial and legal disputes with the Department of Defense—settlements that resulted in losses totaling nearly $500 million before taxes and reduced the net worth of the corporation to $235 million—37 per cent below the year-end 1968 net worth.

Second was the insolvency of Rolls-Royce Ltd., maker of the engines for the TriStar, which went into receivership on Feb. 4. The Rolls-Royce collapse created delays in the L1011 program that further increased the cash requirements.

The total financing now required is $750 million, planned to consist of $400 million in existing bank loans, $100 million in increased advance payments from major domestic L1011 customers (Delta Air Lines, Eastern Airlines, and Trans World Airlines) and $250 million of additional bank loans. The banks have said that it is not prudent for them to lend more than the existing $400 million without a government guarantee, and that they will not do so.

Lockheed bankruptcy is no easy solution for 34,000 people who would lose their jobs overnight at a time when the aerospace industry already has an unemployment level of 24 per cent. The airlines would lose their L1011 investment of $263 million. Suppliers in 35 states have a total TriStar investment of $354 million.

Virtually all the total TriStar investment of $1.4 billion would have to be taken as a tax loss, costing the federal government lost income tax revenue of at least $500 million. There would be lost income tax of up to $68 million from unemployed TriStar workers and additional lost tax revenues from Lockheed stock and bond holders.

State governments also would lose income tax revenues, and local governments would lose property tax income from the devaluation of inventories and facilities ... They would suffer the increased cost of unemployment and welfare benefits.

A bankruptcy trustee could well go to court to set aside the settlements under which Lockheed accepted a $200 million loss on the C5A program and a $124 million loss on the Cheyenne helicopter program. Under bankruptcy the cost of products Lockheed is building for the government could well increase substantially. Deputy Defense Secretary Packard has estimated that C5A costs alone might possibly increase by $100 million to $300 million.

Overall, costs to the federal, state, and local taxpayer of a Lockheed bankruptcy could ultimately total at least $1 billion.

Another consequence would be a monopoly in a $20-billion market for the new, wide-bodied trijets. This market is now shared by the TriStar and the McDonnell Dougas DC-10. Both manufacturers forecast the market at more than 1300 aircraft by 1980. Even if these forecasts are trimmed to 1,000, at an average during the 1970s of $20 million per aircraft, that makes a $20 billion plum that would be handed to a single aircraft company.

Understandably, people ask whether there is not some risk to the government — in turn, to the taxpayer — in the proposed loan guarantee. The risk, if any, is minimal.

First, the 103 TriStars we have on firm order will generate sufficient cash flow to repay the planned government guaranteed loans by the end of 1974. The guarantee loans will be repaid before any payments are made on the current $400 million in bank loans. Second, as added security, the government is protected against loss in the unlikely event of Lockheed default by having first claim on a collateral pool more than adequate to secure $250 million in loans.

We believe a careful study of the facts — minus the emotion that has been generated in some quarters — makes the choice clear from the standpoint of the public interest: A guarantee, at minimal risk and no use of taxpayers' money, to assure continuation of jobs and prevention of monopoly — rather than no guarantee, with the consequences of lost jobs, a potentially costly monopoly, and a bankruptcy that could cost federal, state and local taxpayers $1 billion.

Army Easing Approach To ROTC Cadet Training

By WILLIAM J. WAUGH
AP Education Editor

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Faced with a dramatic drop in Reserve Officer Training Corps enrollment, the Army is easing its approach to ROTC cadet training in an effort to attract more prospective officers.

At the same time, the Army is spending $2.4 million a year on publicity to interest college men in enrolling in ROTC.

Advanced training for 3,600 cadets at the 18,000-acre Indiantown Gap Military Reservation near Harrisburg still is strenuous but the military atmosphere is relatively relaxed. The reservation draws cadets from 94 of the 279 schools with Army ROTC programs.

Drill sergeants don't ride herd on cadets. GI haircuts are seldom seen. Cadets may have their own cars, leave the base and wear civilian clothes in free periods.

"We're not hazing them," Brig. Gen. Robert Hardane, the base ROTC commander, told a group of visiting educators.

Although the Army is in the midst of the fastest troop reduction since World War II, Lt. Gen C.E. Hutchin, commander of the 1st Army, told the educators ROTC still "is an absolute and fundamental essential" because 65 per cent of all new officers must come from its ranks.

While fear of being drafted is diminishing, a number of cadets at Indiantown Gap gave it as their reason for being in ROTC.

Explaining his presence, Bill McDaniel, a graduate student at Columbia University, said, "It's very simple. My draft number is 43." The figure makes McDaniel vulnerable to induction through the draft lottery.

Richard Elswich, a University of Kentucky law student, said he's in ROTC because of a low draft number. Because he lacked the first two years of ROTC, Elswich took basic training last summer at Ft. Knox, Ky.

Comparing Ft. Knox with Indiantown Gap, Elswich said, "You don't have a drill sergeant breathing down your back. You're given a job and have the opportunity to carry it out in your own way."

In five years, ROTC enrollments have dropped 56 per cent, from 177,000 to 78,000. Sitting in his staff car at a range where cadets are taught rifle shooting, Brig. Gen. Melvin A. Goers, director of the ROTC program, conceded, "We are concerned about the drop in enrollment and it hasn't yet stabilized."

Goers, an ROTC graduate, said it costs $58,000 to produce an officer at the U.S. Military Academy, compared with $6,000 through the ROTC program. West Point graduates about 600 officers a year while the ROTC program at its peak in 1969-70 commissioned 16,581 officers.

Contaminated Seed Costs Insurance Co.

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — The St. Paul Fire and Marine Insurance Co. has been ordered to pay an additional $50,000 in damages for importing contaminated canary seed into the United States.

St. Paul is the insurer of Maurice Pincoffs Co., which in 1968 imported 110,000 poonds of canary seed from Argentina, unloaded it in Houston and sold it to eight feed and grain dealers in Texas and Oklahoma.

After canaries began dying and the bird owners filed suit, St. Paul paid out $50,000 in damages for Pincoffs, saying the policy was limited to that amount for a single occurrance. But the ruling Monday by the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ordered St. Paul to make the additionalpayments.

Pincoffs also was insured by American Home Assurance Co., which provided coverage for excess liability after exhaustion of the limits of the St. Paul contract. American Home said, however, that the seed was sold to eight dealers, making eight occurrences of liability and therefore St. Paul should pay another $50,000.

A lower court agreed with St. Paul, but the 5th Circuit agreed with American Home, thus reversing the lower court opinion.

Rev. Kelly III Has Resigned

MOORSTOWN, N.J. (AP) — The Rev. Colin P. Kelly III, son of America's first hero pilot of World War II, has resigned his parish post as an Episcopal priest after eight months because of slowness in becoming an Army chaplain.

The Rev. Bruce Weatherly, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, disclosed the resignation Monday. "One of his biggest problems is the fact that the Army doesn't need as many chaplains today as it did," the rector said of the Rev. Mr. Kelly's resignation.

The Rev. Mr. Kelly, 30, and the father of three, was reported vacationing in the Pocono Mountains of Pennsylvania and unavailable for comment.

Vallee Resigns

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rudy Vallee, the veteran entertainer who wanted the street where he lives renamed Rue de Vallee, has resigned from the city Traffic Commission because "I don't want to be humiliated and lambasted by city councilmen."

Vallee, 69, said he resigned Monday two days before the council was to consider his five-year reappointment by Mayor Sam Yorty to the policymaking body.

Several councilmen have criticized Vallée for the proposed street name change, saying it would appear to taxpayers that a member of a city commission was exerting improper influence.

"At my age and status I don't have to take a lot of baloney from some councilmen," said Vallee. He said the street name change affected only nine persons in a small residential area—six of whom favor Vallee's proposal.

New Study On Apes Launched

By WILLIAM L. CHAZE
Associated Press Writer

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Scientists using electronic gadgetry and a female ape named Inaki are seeking to establish whether man descended from apes as we know them—or from a unique ape that always walked upright.

Dr. Russell H. Tuttle, a University of Chicago anthropologist who heads the project, subscribes to the theory that man's forebears were a special species of ape which began walking upright soon after leaving the trees.

Tuttle seeks to prove through his work at the Yerkes Regional Primate Research Center at Emory University that man never passed through a "knuckle walking" phase. Many anthropologists contend that man did evolve through such a stage and, in many respects, resembled apes as they exist today.

"I can't tell you what man's ancestors may have looked like," says Tuttle, whose work on the topic has appeared in numerous scientific journals. "But he was a unique creature."

Tuttle's dissection of arms and hands of apes shows considerable unique anatomy that allows an ape to place his weight on the knuckles of his hands and propelling his body forward. Man, he says, has no vestige of this anatomy.

He is using electronic equipment and Inaki "to look at the forearm and hand of the primate to see if it works even remotely like man's."

"At the moment, we don't think so," he said.

Tuttle is collaborating on the project with Dr. John V. Basmajian, an Emory physiologist who specializes in electronic research on muscle function.

The project, funded by the National Science Foundationn began with a familiarization period during which Tuttle struck up a friendship with Inaki. The ape then was moved into a trailer rigged with Basmajian's electronic gear.

Fine-wire electrodes were implanted in the gorilla's forearm and the wires were connected to small preamplifiers. On experiment days, Inaki is rigged for sound, her muscles emitting impulses which are recorded on tape.

The object is to get a reading on how similar is the muscle action and reaction between Inaki and man.

Abrams Named To AC Board

AUSTIN (AP) — The president of an El Paso civil engineering and contracting firm has been named to replace H. B. Zachry Jr. of San Antonio on the Air Control Board. Zachry was rejected by the Senate during the recent legislature.

His replacement, named Monday by Gov. Preston Smith, will be James D. Abrams, president of J. D. Abrams, Inc. Abrams' term expires Sept. 1, 1975.

Zachry was turned down in a closed-door session March 25. Sen. Joe Bernal, San Antonio, later told reporters he had asked the Senate to reject Zachry because he was "personally objectionable" to Bernal.

Bernal alleged that Zachry had failed to obey strict air control standards in his own personnel industrial operations. Zachry is the son of a millionaire San Antonio contractor.

The governor also appointed Francis Flynn of Austin, Land Wall of Lubbock, Wilfred Millington of Nixon, Carroll Curry of Hillsboro, Virgil Maxwell of Houston, and James Baker of Lufkin to the board to license nursing home administrators.

Jesse Gilmer, chairman of the board of Tri-State Equipment Co. of El Paso, was reappointed as Rio Grande compact commissioner until June 9, 1977.

Special Week Is Proclaimed

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is Captive Nations Week by proclamation of President Nixon.

He has asked that the American people observe it by giving "renewed devotion to the just aspirations of all peoples for national independence and human liberty."

Congress adopted a resolution 12 years ago requesting that the President proclaim the third week of July each year as Captive Nations Week.

Nixon invited appropriate ceremonies and activities.

"From its beginnings as a nation," his proclamation said, "the United States has maintained a commitment to the principles of national independence and human liberty.

"In keeping with this tradition, it remains an essential purpose of our people to encourage the constructive changes which lead to the growth of human freedom. We understand and sympathize with the efforts of oppressed peoples everywhere to realize this inalienable right."

Hotdogs Pass Fat Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has reported hotdogs and other cooked sausages are being made within legal limits of fat content.

The Consumer and Marketing Service said laboratory checks on a federal limit of 30 per cent fat showed 98.2 per cent of the samples were in compliance tolerances.

The tests were made during the second quarter of this year. In all, 2,582 samples were checked for fat. They averaged 27.7 per cent fat, compared with 27.9 per cent in January-March.

PROFESSIONAL MOVERS — McAlister Transfer & Storage, 1604 Twenty-fourth Street, are real professionals in moving. Take the work and worry out of moving and call the professionals to move you. The number is 573-6337 or Colorado City at 728-3441. From left, are Rob Golden, Jerry Schulze and Jeral Beard.

McAlister Transfer Can Solve Moving Problems

Moving in the summer months can be a hot, back-breaking job if you attempt to do it yourself. So why not call the professional movers at McAlister Transfer & Storage, 1604 Twenty-fourth Street, and let them take care of the move for you.

A simple phone call will have them on the way to move your household possessions across the street or across the nation. And, it's really very inexpensive to have the professional movers do it.

Jeral Beard, owner of McAlister Transfer and Storage, and all of his employes, have had years of experience in moving all types of equipment. They do it promptly and efficiently and you can be sure that your possessions will arrive at their destination in safe condition. That's one reason McAlister was chosen to move the county's possessions from the Courthouse to Better Living and the Scurry County Coliseum. County officials knew that McAlister would do a professional job.

The firm uses large packing containers with padding for each individual item to pack and move the highly breakable items, and the complete safety of each item is guaranteed when the transfermen do the packing or crating.

"Each glass or dish is individually wrapped in paper and placed in a padded position in the packing barrels or boxes," Beard said.

After the barrels are filled a heavy lid is placed on the barrels and they are then moved to the vans and placed so that they can not bounce or move around during the move.

Just as much care is taken with each piece of furniture as it is placed in the van. Each van is equipped with enough heavy furniture pads to place padding between all pieces of furniture, and equipment is tied in place so that articles cannot shake or scrape against each other during the move.

Just as much care is given to careful loading and unloading of all items during the move. Dollies are used to load all heavy items such as refrigerators or stoves.

The dollies attach to the pieces of furniture with web straps, and the heavy items can be rolled to the van without any tipping or any danger of being dropped.

Rubber coated walkboards are used for form ramps from the door of the van to the porch or door of the house from which the furniture is being moved. The rubber coating on the walk boards insures that the movers will not slip while loading a heavy piece of furniture.

McAlister Transfer & Storage has large, clean trucks that can hold the personal property of most any family. It just takes one trip to get you moved into that new home.

McAlister Transfer & Storage has offices in Snyder and in Colorado City. The Snyder telephone number is 573-6337. The Colorado City telephone number is 728-3441. McAlister also will be glad to give you a free estimate on any move you are contemplating.

For prompt, efficient and professional moving service, call McAlister Transfer & Storage.

TAX ANSWERS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

* * *

Q — Are all the provisions of the Tax Reform Act of 1969 now completely in effect?

A — No. Among some of the important changes still to come are increases in the personal exemption to: $650 for 1971; $700 for 1972; and $750 for 1973. Also there will be further increases in the standard deduction and the amount of income needed before you have to file a return.

Q — I don't think the agent who examined my return was right in t... ...wing some of my deductions. Is there anyone else at the IRS I can see about this?

A — You may request a district conference to discuss the disputed deductions. The way to do this is described on the notice you received explaining the proposed changes in your tax.

The conference provides you with an independent review of the questioned items, since the person representing the IRS at the conference is not part of the office that examined your return.

Q — I received a cash award from my employer because a suggestion of mine was adopted. Is the award taxable?

A — Yes. An award or bonus given employes for work achievements or for suggestions is taxable.

Q — I just sold my house for a profit. Do I have to pay the tax on the gain next year when I file my tax return?

A — The gain is not taxed at the time of sale if within one year before or after the sale you buy and occupy another residence, and the cost equals or exceeds the "adjusted sales price" of the old residence.

The tax is not postponed. Any gain not taxed in the year of sale is subtracted from the cost of the new residence, giving you a lower basis to be used in the event of a later disposition of the new house. Special provisions apply if you build the home. Additional details are contained in Publication 523, Tax Information on Selling Your Home, available free at IRS offices.

Q — Does the IRS automatically impose a penalty on a t... ...who underpays his estimated tax installment?

A — A penalty of 6 percent per year is imposed by law for underpayment of installments of estimated tax except in certain situations. The penalty does not apply if each installment is paid on time and (1) is at least 80 percent (66 2-3 per cent for farmers or fishermen) of the amount due on the basis of the tax shown on the return for the taxable year, (2) is at least as much as would have been paid if based on the tax shown on your 1970 return, or (3) is based on a tax computed by using your income for last year and this year's tax rates and exemptions. For additional exceptions in unusual cases see Form 2210, Underpayment of Estimated Income Tax By Individuals, available at your local IRS office. Farmers and fishermen should use Form 2210F.

Motorist Killed In Accident

DALLAS (AP)—One motorist died and four others suffered injuries Monday night when a car skidded on rain-slicked North Central Expressway, leaped a median strip and slide sideways in front of another auto.

Ellen E. Jeter, 28, of suburban Richardson was killed. Police said her vehicle catapulted into the opposite lane.

The injured, in the second car, were Joe H. Seagraves, 38, of Dallas; his wife June, 32; and their son and daughter, Mitch, 12, and Stacey, 2.

Anne Baxter Changes Roles

NEW YORK (AP) — In the 1950 film "All About Eve," Anne Baxter played the unscrupulous ingenue Eve Harrington who schemed to use her friendship with a fictional star actress, Margo Channing, to become a star herself.

Tonight, Miss Baxter takes over the role of Margo Channing in "Applause," the hit broadway musical based on "All About Eve."

Miss Baxter is replacing Lauren Bacall, who will soon go on tour in the role she originated for the musical.

Texas Has Most Cattle In Feedlots

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas had more cattle being fattened for slaughter on July 1 than any other state and for the first time surpassed the traditional leader Iowa in this category, the Agriculture Department has disclosed.

Texas feedlots contained 1,700,000 cattle at mid-year, compared with 1,634,000 head in Iowa. The figures were included in a quarterly report on cattle feeding in major producing states.

The Texas cattle on feed as of July 1 was 26 per cent more than the state reported a year earlier. Iowa, on the other hand, had 13 per cent fewer head in feedlots.

In all, 23 states covered by the report showed 10,881,000 head on feed on July 1, up two per cent from a year earlier.

A USDA marketing specialist said Texas has been emphasizing feedlot expansion while Iowa feeding has remained stable.

Recently, he said, expansion in Texas and in some of the other non-Corn Belt states has drained off some feed supplies that normally go into Iowa and other north central states.

Also, he said, the southwest drought has forced quite a few cattle into Texas feedlots at weights lighter than usual. Ample supplies of sorghum grain and feed wheat are available, he said.

Pollution Suit Filed In Houston

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Justice Department filed a suit against Rohm and Haas Co. Monday seeking to enjoin them from discharging toxic heavy metals into the Houston Ship Chanel.

The civil federal suit asked U.S. Dist. Judge John V. Singleton to halt the discharge of refuse matter into the navigable waters.

The department alleged the chemical plant is discharging molybdenum, tin, mangenese, copper, nickel, lead, chromium, silver, cynaide and other toxic wastes.

The Justice Department also alleged the firm has not obtained a permit under the 1899 Refuse Act to discharge wastes into navigable waters.

It asks the firm be enjoined from further discharges of harmful effluents which "constitute an immediate health hazard .... and cause irreparable injury to the ecology to said ship channel and the larger body of water into which it flows."

However, Jack Shepherd, first assistant U.S. attorney here, said, "as in any of these cases we are looking for a treatment of the pollutants."

The suit is similar to one filed against Armco Steel Corp. and recently tried in the court of U.S. Dist. Judge Allan B. Hannay. He is expected to rule in August.

Rohm and Haas reported that the firm has been working with both the Environmental Protection Agency and the Texas Water Quality Board to meet standards for discharge into water.

Welfare To Pay Druggist Directly

AUSTIN (AP)— The State Welfare Department will pay pharmacists directly for drugs used by persons on welfare beginning Sept. 1, the department announced Monday.

The program was authorized by the legislature this spring. A state appropriation of $11.9 million will be tripled by a 2-for-1 federal grant during the first year.

No longer will chronically ill welfare recipients receive a drug allowance in their monthly checks. The new program is designed to reach more recipients by providing medication as the need for it is determined by treating physicians.

Morse Watching The Line Up

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — Former Sen. Wayne Morse, 70, says he wants to see how the candidates line up before deciding whether to run for the Senate in 1972.

Morse, a Democrat, was defeated in 1968 by Republican Bob Packwood. The seat he would seek is now held by Sen. Mark Hatfield, a Republican and opponent of the Vietnam war.

Hatfield has not said whether he will run for re-election. Oregon Gov. Tom McCall, a Republican, has indicated he will run.

Inspection Law Cuts Rural Road Fatalities

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of a series of articles prepared by the Texas Department of Public Safety, titled "Traffic Laws You Should Know." The series deals with facts which all drivers and owners of motor vehicles should know.

* * *

A little known but interesting fact about the Texas Motor Vehicle Inspection Law is the impact it has had on Traffic Safety since its enactment in September, 1951. In previous years vehicle defects were causative factors in 19 per cent of rural fatal accidents. In 1970 after 20 years of the Inspection program, this factor had been reduced to 3 per cent of rural fatal accidents, a good example of how proper corrective legislation can be applied to alleviate a problem. All vehicles currently registered in Texas must display on the windshield a valid Motor Vehicle Inspection certificate. This certificate, or sticker, is coded by color and shape for the year and by use of black numerals for the month. Stickers being used at this time are an orange one for 1970 and a rectangular yellow one for 1971. The numbers one through twelve are used and correspond to the months, January through December. For instance an orange sticker bearing the number 7 expires the last day of July 1971, and must be inspected again by that date; this same sticker bearing an eight expires on the last day of August, and so on.

Items currently on the list for inspection include brakes, lighting equipment, horns and warning devices, mirrors, windshield wipers, front seat belts in some models, steering, wheels and rims, the exhaust system and exhaust emission or anti pollution systems.

Inspection stations are usually found at garages or service stations and are identified by an "Official State Inspection Station" sign.

The inspection fee is $2 plus any charge for repair or adjustment necessary for compliance with the inspection law.

Julie Busy Moving In

ATLANTIC BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Julie Nixon Eisenhower—President's daughter, Navy wife and soon to be school teacher-is busily preparing a garage apartment just off the Atlantic Ocean for the arrival of her husband from duty in the Mediterranean.

Secret Service men confirmed the arrival of President Nixon's daughter Monday, but newsmen were barred from interviewing or photographing her.

A neighbor said she saw the 23-year-old Mrs. Eisenhower moving boxes on a balcony of the deluxe apartment which she and her husband David rented several weeks ago.

Young Eisenhower's ship, the guided missile cruiser USSAlbany, is scheduled to return to its home port, Mayport Naval Station, on Saturday. Mrs. Eisenhower will teach at an elementary school this fall.

Charges Dropped On Jane Fonda

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Actress Jane Fonda slipped into Central Police Station virtually unnoticed Monday where charges of assault and battery and disorderly conduct lodged against her were dropped.

Chief Police Prosecutor Everett Chandler presented a motion for dismissal, telling Municipal Court Judge Lloyd Brown there was "insufficient evidence to sustain a conviction."

Miss Fonda had been accused of kicking a policeman when he went to the aid of a U. S. Customs agent who detained the actress at Cleveland International Airport last Nov. 3.

Reorganization Plans Filed

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Three Louisiana firms owned by oilman John W. Mecom Sr. owe a total of $120 million in debts, reorganization plans submitted under bankruptcy laws show, and Mecom and his wife owe $3.7 million in personal debts.

U.S. District Court records list Mecom's chief creditors as the Prudential Insurance Company of America, which court-appointed trustee Albert G. Reynolds said holds $60.9 million in notes, and the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York, which holds notes worth $28.8 million.

Mecom, in conjunction with Signal Oil Co. of Los Angeles, filed his own reorganization plan several days ago when six other companies also filed proposals for reorganization. Reynolds has until Dec. 15 to make a recommendation to the court.

The three firms involved in the reorganization are U.S. Oil of Louisiana, Inc., U.S. Oil of Louisiana, Ltd., and Lake Washington Inc.

Shredded Checks Are Pieced

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Two dozen young bank employes have been holed up in a well guarded room for a week, painstakingly piecing together some $800,000 worth of checks that were inadvertently shredded for trash.

Some of the checks have been photographed and all of them have been recoded, a bank spokesman said Monday. This has aided in the reconstruction of nearly $300,000 worth of checks.

Earlier this month a janitor at the home office of the First Security Bank picked up what he thought was a bundle of trash and routinely ran it through the wastepaper shredder.

The "trash" actually was $847,000 worth of clearing checks. Each check was neatly cut into approximately 10 lengthwise strips that were then well blended.

The end product: one super challenging jigsaw puzzle.

Bank officials obtained the stark, unairconditioned room above a local mortgage and loan firm and went to work.

Cashier George Bossert said he expects the work to be completed by about mid-August.

The bank emphasizes that no matter what portion of the mutilated checks remain lost, there will be no loss to First Security.

A bonding company, which the bank refuses to identify, will assume the loss resulting from the checks that cannot be recovered. A bank source said some checks probably would end up in that category.
