General Pleads For Unrelenting Pressure

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland told Congress today the only strategy that can defeat the Communist enemy in Vietnam "is one of unrelenting military, political and psychological pressure on his whole structure — at all levels."

This appeared a call for increased escalation, possibly including broadened bombing of North Vietnam and commitment of more U.S. troops to battle Communist forces in South Vietnam.

In an unprecedented personal report to Congress by a war commander, Westmoreland described U.S. forces as "unbeatable" and said they have been successful in destroying Communist main force units.

He said, "I can assure you here and now" that the Communist stratagem called "war of national liberation" will not succeed in Vietnam.

But while speaking confidently the U.S. commander in Vietnam sought to dispel any idea that the Communists are near collapse.

His remarks were in a prepared speech.

Several hours before delivering the speech, Westmoreland revised the last third of the text, mainly to streamline it. There were few substantive changes.

He inserted one paragraph which made the point that the Communist enemy "uses covertly border areas of neutral countries." This was an evident reference to the known Communist use of Cambodia and Laos as sanetuaries and rest areas. Neither country was mentioned by name in the paragraph.

His remarks were in a prepared speech.

Later he was to brief governors, congressional leaders and Cabinet members at a White House luncheon.

In considerable detail, Westmoreland pictured for a joint meeting of House and Senate an enemy who has doubled his strength despite heavy battle losses, whose commanders are skilled professionals, whose troops are well trained, whose primitive supply system is surprisingly effective.

"I foresee that he will continue his buildup across the demilitarized zone and through Laos, and he will attack us when he believes he has a chance for a dramatic blow," the general predicted.

"I expect the enemy to continue to increase his mortar, artillery, rocket and recoilless rifle attacks on our installations. At the same time he will step up his attacks on hamlet, village and district organizations to intimidate the people and to thwart the democratic processes now under way in South Vietnam."

Westmoreland did not repeat his charge — made at The Associated Press annual meeting in New York Monday — that antiwar protests in the United States are encouraging the Communists to fight on, and that this will cost the lives of American and allied soldiers.

The closest the four-star general came to this was to recall that "As I have said before, in evaluating the enemy strategy it is evident to me that he believes our Achilles' heel is our resolve."

US Troops Battered By Heavy Fire

SAIGON (AP) — Communist forces in South Vietnam's embattled northern sector poured artillery, mortar and rocket fire on U.S. and Vietnamese government troops overnight in some of the heaviest enemy shelling of the war.

The U.S. command said 12 American Marines were killed and 180 Marines and seven Army artillerymen were wounded in four attacks. South Vietnamese spokesmen termed their casualties light.

No enemy casualties were reported.

Heavy clouds moved back over much of North Vietnam limiting air attacks on the North Thursday to 48 missions. All of them were made against targets in the panhandle at the southern end of North Vietnam, sparing the Hanoi-Haiphong area after three days of heavy pounding.

While fighting flared in the northernmost 1st Corps area, the Viet Cong announced they would observe a 48-hour truce from 7 a.m. May 22 to 7 a.m. May 24 (Saigon time) to mark Buddha's birthday. The Saigon government had said earlier it would cease fire for 24 hours on May 23.

There was no immediate indication whether the South Vietnamese and their allies would agree to the longer cease-fire period.

Despite the lull in the air war, the assault on North Vietnam cost the United States another plane today. An Force F4C jet bomber caught fire and exploded as it was rolling down the runway for a bombing mission from Ubon airbase in northeast Thailand. The U.S. Embassy in Bangkok said the plane's two crewmen escaped unhurt but a ground crewman was seriously injured.

The blistering barrages just south of the demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam came after weeks of increasing U.S. concern over Communist moves in the five provinces that make up South Vietnam's 1st Corps area.

South Vietnamese military headquarters reported that one of the attacks on Gio Linh, an allied artillery base one mile south of the DMZ, consisted of 1,100 rounds of 105mm howitzer fire. U.S. spokesmen said an estimated 250 rounds of artillery fire were directed at U.S. positions there plus uncounted rounds of mortar fire.

In the past the Communists have used artillery sparingly, and the rain of shells laid down Thursday night aroused speculation that the enemy had strengthened its resources of heavy guns and ammunition.

Other attacks were made at Dong Ha, a U.S. Marine forward position 10 miles south of the buffer zone; at Con Thien, near Gio Linh, and at the U.S. Marine base at Phu Bai, to the south in Thua Thien Province.

Humphrey Pledges More Latin Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey pledged continuing U.S. support for Latin America's economic and social development today and said the Johnson administration will ask Congress soon for an additional contribution of $900 million for the Inter-American Development Bank.

The decision, he said, "reflects President Johnson's determination to see the United States be a responsive partner under the Alliance for Progress."

Humphrey picked the closing session of the annual meeting of the board of governors of the Inter-American Bank for his announcement.

It was in a prepared speech.

The vice president did not mention a specific figure for the request to Congress for money. But he said it follows out a resolution approved by the governors of the bank under which the United States would contribute $900 million and the Latin American members the remainder of a $1.2 billion increase in the bank's special operations or soft loan fund.

Bank Deposits Off Slightly; Loans Up

Bank deposits were down, but loans were up substantially, according to statements of condition issued by both Snyder banks today in response to calls from federal and state regulatory agencies. Reports as of April 25 were asked in the call.

Deposits amounted to $29,479,966.36, while loan figures totalled $16,461,952.52. This compared to deposits of $30,643,436.75 and loans of $15,305,455.56 for the April report of 1966. However, the April report this year came three weeks later than that of last year and the 1966 deposit figures established an all-time record.

In the reports today, Snyder National Bank listed deposits of $18,412,635.40 and loans of $11,094,466.71. West Texas State Bank listed total deposits of $11,067,330.96 and loans of $5,367,485.81.

AF Succeeds With Five-In-One Shot

AP Aer9space Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Flying with acrobatic precision, a powerful Titan 3 rocket today successfully orbited three scientific satellites and two robot sentries to police against violations of the nuclear test ban treaty.

"Everything looks - very good," an Air Force spokesman reported at 9:21 a.m. after all five satellites sprung free from the booster's last stage.

The five-in-one shot, grounded one week by pesky problems, blasted off at 5:01 a.m. after a perfect countdown. Two strap-on motors licked the early-morning darkness with twin tongues of flame as the Titan 3 shot skyward from Cape Kennedy.

The rocket's last stage, with payloads attached, first darted into a medium-altitude orbit as planned, then re-ignited more than four hours later to kick the payload into a cigar-shaped path ranging from 5,300 to 69,000 miles above the earth — nearly one-third the distance to the moon.

The mighty Air Force rocket — similar to the type that will someday launch astronauts aboard the Defense Department's Manned Orbiting Laboratory — licked the early morning darkness with brilliant plumes of flame from two strap-on booster motors.

"Everything looks good. It's on time and on the line," an Air Force spokesman said as the $20-million payload raced toward its target in space.

Two nuclear-detection satellites, called Velas, were packed aboard the Titan 3 to spot nuclear blasts in earths atmosphere and deep space, perhaps as far away as Mars.

The new Velas are improved versions of six similar satellites orbited previously to help police the limited test ban treaty signed in 1963 by the United States, the Soviet Union and more than 100 other nations.

The pact prohibits nuclear tests in the atmosphere, under water or in space but allows underground detonations such as one conducted Thursday at the Atomic Energy Commission's Nevada Test Site.

About 22 hours after separating from the Titan 3's last stage, the flight plan called for one Vela to trigger a spacecraft motor to change its elliptical path into a circular orbit 69,000 miles high, with the second Vela to perform the same maneuver in three days, stationing itself on the opposite side of earth.

Three other satellites aboard the $15-million Titan 3 are to remain in the elliptical orbit.

A small arm was installed in one of the payloads, nicknamed the "windshield-wiper satellite," to sweep across various materials such as stainless steel and gold so engneers can measure friction characteristics.

A second payload was designed to study death-dealing and satellite-damaging radiation emitted from the sun while the third satellite studies other types of radiation near earth.

Simons Resigns To Take Kansas Post

Snyder Police Chief Chester Simons announced this morning that he would submit his resignation as chief of the department here to accept the position of Chief of Police at Coffeyville, Kan.

Simons said he would turn over his letter of resignation to City Manager George Patterson later today. The resignation will become effective June 1.

Simons has been police chief here nearly six years, having taken over the post on Aug. 1, 1961. He came here from Bryan, where he was night chief of the police force.

"This is the hardest decision I've ever had to make as far as my job is concerned," Simons said. "With the cooperation of the city manager, the city council and the general citizenship, I believe that Snyder has one of the best police departments in the state. I know that with these conditions existing the city here will have excellent applicants for the job," Simons continued.

He said his experiences in Snyder, from the standpoint of a citizen of the community as well as a peace officer had been especially pleasant, because "people in Snyder expect conscientious law enforcement and they have a good community. This made it particularly hard for me to make a decision on the offer from Coffeyville."

Simons said he had been weighing the Coffeyville offer for several weeks and that they finally made it so attractive that he felt that he could not turn it down.

He said he planned to move to Coffeyville immediately following Snyder High School's Commencement exercises. Simons' son, Jerry, will receive his high school diploma at this year's commencement.

Red Ship Buzzed, Says Soviet Union

MOSCOW (AP) —The Soviet Union charged today that U.S. planes buzzed Soviet ships on one of the sea routes the Russians use to supply aid to North Vietnam.

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said Soviet captains aboard Soviet ships had radioed reports of the buzzing to the Soviet Black Sea port near the city of Izmail.

Tass said nothing directly about Vietnam. Izmail, however, is a key Soviet port on the Black Sea for shipping aid to Vietnam.

Coppolino Hears Guilty Verdict

NAPLES, Fla. (AP) — Dr. Carl Coppolino was convicted of second degree murder today in the drug-murder of his wife Carmela.

Coppolino sat expressionless with his head in his hands as the verdict was delivered at 9:25 a.m. after less than four hours of jury deliberation.

Mary Coppolino, the wealthy divorcee he married after Carmela's death, also sat expressionless in a front row seat just behind her husband at the defense table.

Conviction of second degree murder carries a penalty of 20 years to life in prison.

Defense attorney F. Lee Bailey moved immediately for a new trial and said if the motion was denied the case would be appealed to the Florida Supreme Court.

After the jury foreman, 48-year-old Harry Miller of Naples, delivered the verdict and it was read by the court clerk, Circuit Judge Lynn Silvertooth sent the spectators out of the small, hot courtroom. Then he delivered sentence of life imprisonment.

The 34-year-old doctor, nattily dressed in a black suit and white shirt, was marched under guard out a side door of the courtroom to a jail cell on the same floor. He was not handcuffed.

House Approves Criminal Code Bill

By LEE JONES

AUSTIN (AP)— The Texas House has passed to the Senate a criminal code revision that one of its sponsors called the "most prosecution-minded" bill the legislature has had.

After a morning work session, the House recessed Thursday until 9 a.m. today to consider a calendar of local and uncontested bills. Senators are in weekend adjournment.

The criminal code revision bill gives law enforcement officers virtually all they asked for and meets most of their criticisms of the controversial 1965 Code of Criminal Procedure.

But the House refused, 78-70, to go along with prosecutors and police officials who wanted freedom to use oral confessions in court on an equal basis with those taken in writing.

"This is the fairest, most prosecution-minded bill we have had in Texas to help our prosecutors and part-time district attorneys to do their job," said Rep. Jim Nugent, Kerrville, chairman of the House Criminal Jurisprudence Committee.

The bill restores pre-1965 law relating to confessions and brings in rules enunciated in recent U.S. Supreme Court decisions, including the defendant's right to have a lawyer with him throughout police questioning.

An oral confession could be used if it led to material evidence or "fruit of the crime." Oral statements also could be admitted into evidence if made immediately after a crime.

"If they catch the suspect standing over the body with a smoking gun and he says, 'I killed her,' this is admissible," explained Rep. Joe Shannon, Fort Worth, floor manager of the bill.

Shannon explained that the bill does not change existing case law that allows admission into evidence of statements made to persons other than police officers while a suspect is free on bond.

Several major changes were designed to meet criticism that the 1965 code barred police from acting if persons were noticed in suspicious circumstances. The changes also would give police a weapon to secure the testimony of witnesses to crimes.

Some of the changes were worked out in consultation with Judge K. K. Woodley of the state Court of Criminal Appeals and with the attorney general's office.

New Time Really Quite Simple

By ROBERT HEARD
Associated Press Writer

What is faster than a speeding bullet and able to stun the mind with a single tick? Superman? Nah! It's Daylight Saving Time.

At 2 a.m. Sunday it will simultaneously be 3 a.m. — and Einstein thought light was the fastest thing in the universe.

Want to talk about brute strength? DST has been known to reduce grown men to mewling babies.

But there are compensations. Even if you do not understand it, you get an extra hour of daylight for six months.

It is really quite simple. All you have to do is set your clock one hour ahead before you go to sleep Saturday night or when you get up Sunday morning.

And next Oct. 29, you set your clock back one hour.

The trouble comes when you try to figure out what happens when you start monkeying with the clock.

A day still has 24 hours of course, and there is no more total daylight regardless of what the clock says.

The sun comes up earlier and goes down later in the summer. A normal working day is right in the middle of the approximately 14 hours of daylight.

The idea is to shift the working hours closer to the beginning of the day.

If everybody goes to work an hour earlier by sun time, everybody will have an extra hour of daylight after getting off work.

For example, if you normally go to work at 8:30 a.m., that still is what your clock will say when you go to work, but the sun will be an hour lower in the sky at that time. The reason is: You set your clock up one hour.

Who decided when the changeover be made? Congress did.

The Uniform Time Act of 1966 says DST starts at 2 a.m. The last Sunday in April and stops at 2 a.m. the last Sunday in October.

The changeover obviously will be less disruptive in the wee hours of Sunday morning than at any other time. Few people are working then. Few timetables or schedules include items during those hours. And nearly everyone will have a full day to get used to it before time to go to work again.

There are penalties for forgetful people. If you're a beer drinker, for example, and you run down to the local tavern at 1 p.m. Sunday, you'll find you have missed out on a whole hour of drinking time if you didn't move your clock up.

If you continue to forget, you may wind up an hour late for work Monday morning. On the other hand you may not like your job anyhow.

DEAR ABBY: I am 50 years old and have had my eye on this married man of 45 for more than 5 years. I have been married 24 years and my children are grown and married.

My husband works nights and I get tired looking at the four walls practically all the time. About 3 years ago I called up this man to come and see me when I'm all alone. He's real nice looking and dresses up so nice and talks sweet, too. Well, at first he seemed to like me, and he'd come over about three times a week. Then all of a sudden he always had an excuse why he couldn't make it. He works at a garage and he would tell the guys to tell me he wasn't there when I called. I finally got so mad at him I called up his wife and told her all about us. She said, "You aren't the first one and you won't be the last" and hung up on me.

I just can't forget this man, Abby. How can I get him back?

CRAZY FOR HIM

DEAR CRAZY: You can't, so you had better try to forget him. And quit calling him! You have too much free time, lady. If you don't like night TV, find a job to keep yourself busy, or you're apt to find yourself out on the street with no husband.

DEAR ABBY: My sister-in-law was brought up in Boston and she says it is "bad taste" or at best, "small-townish and provincial" to publish death notices reading "cherished daughter, beloved wife, or devoted husband etc."

She claims if the person was "cherished, beloved, or devoted" there is no reason to advertise it as strangers don't care what the family relationship was, and friends who know find such descriptions hilariously funny. What do you think?

A READER IN CINCY

DEAR READER: Your sister-in-law must have a peculiar sense of humor. There is nothing "hilariously funny" about a death notice in any language.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: In answer to "Only Her Fiance" — who was annoyed because his girl friend suddenly came up with contact lenses: He thought as long as he didn't object to her wearing glasses she shouldn't have bothered with contacts. Her "sudden vanity" made him suspicious. Well, may I say that contact lenses are not worn only as a cosmetic aid: They act as a "girdle" to the eye and keep the vision from worsening as quickly as it would have without lenses. Before I got my contacts I had my glasses prescription changed 3 times in 18 months.

I've been wearing contacts for nearly 5 years and I haven't had the prescription changed once! And my vision is far better now than it ever was with glasses.

Gigi.

GOPs Get Equal Time

AUSTIN (AP)—Two Republicans in the Texas Legislature say about 25 television stations will carry their "Hank and Frank" program in reply to a recent address by Gov. John Connally.

Sen. Henry Grover, Houston, and Rep. Frank Cahoon, Midland, asked stations that carried Connally's April 19 address, in which he asked for a one-year appropriation, to give them equal time to answer the Democrat.

"Several stations agreed to give a full 30 minutes to equal the time given the governor," Cahoon said Thursday. "Others offered five to 10-minute programs and still others agreed to give time on regular news programs."

In the pre-recorded programs the legislators criticize Connally's "pay later" plan, saying it "will increase rapidly the tempo of spending and inevitably increase the tempo of taxation. And we're concerned that the 'pay later' plan will lead to backdoor financing, similar to that practiced by the federal government."

American Motors Sells Subsidiary

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors reportedly has taken a giant step toward solving its financial problems by selling its financing subsidiary, Redisco, Inc. to Chrysler Corp.

The sale was confirmed today by unimpeachable sources. They told The Associated Press that formal announcement of the deal is scheduled for next Tuesday.

American Motors' board of directors meets Monday and is expected to announce a $30-million loss for the first six months of its current fiscal year.

There was no official confirmation from either American Motors or Chrysler regarding the sale.

Chrysler Board Chairman Lynn A. Townsend told newsmen April 18, "We are continuing to look at Redisco but no decision has been made yet."

Redisco, whose annual profit ... appraised at between $3 million and $4 million, reportedly carried a price tag of over $30 million.

The decision to sell profitable Redisco was made by American's Board Chairman Roy D. Chapin Jr. and President William V. Luneburg, who took over the firm's top two places Jan. 9.

The decision apparently is based on two big factors:

American Motors has $95 million in short-term bank loans coming due May 31 and needs cash to make payments on time and pave the way to renegotiation of further loans.

The Chapin-Luneburg strategy appears to be to get rid of Redisco and the Kelvinator appliance divisions, and devote all time, money and energy toward gaining a substantial foothold in the auto market. Both Redisco and Kelvinator are money makers while the auto division is in the red, observers said.

Nobody at American Motors would discuss the myriad reports about the company's internal reassessment.

Redisco and Kelvinator had been reported on the sales block for several months.

The future of Kelvinator remained uncertain.

Only a small amount of Redisco's financing is in the automotive field. The bulk of its $313-million business last year was in making time-payment loans to purchasers of appliances, home furnishings and musical instruments.

Clay Awaits Fed Decision

By WILL GRIMSLEY

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay arrived at Houston's federal building at 8:41 a.m. (EST) for his showdown with the government over military service.

The heavyweight champion, who insists he will not enter the service because of his Black Muslim religion, carried a large manila envelope when he stepped out of a white station wagon with his lawyers and two close friends.

"No comment, no comment," the man who calls himself Muhammad Ali told questioning newsmen.

"It's all in here. Everything's in here. I will release it after this," he said, holding up the envelope.

He dropped it once as he walked toward the elevator.

The champion's induction program was scheduled to begin at 9 a.m. with a long series of medical and mental tests and filling out forms.

Army induction officers said it might be as late as 2 p.m. before Clay is asked to take the traditional one step forward which places him in the armed services.

"I will die for my religion," Clay said earlier in announcing that he would positively refuse to enter the Army.

A crowd of about 150 curious gathered on San Jacinto Street under overcast skies to watch Clay's arrival.

Comments from bystanders were mixed as Clay entered the four-story concrete building that used to be the old Post office.

"They should send him to Russia or to Red China," said Joe A. Real, a Houston mailman who said he was a second lieutenant in World War II.

"Religion is the most important thing — every man should feel free to do what he pleases when his conscience dictates," said Monroe Durden, a cigar-smoking shipping clerk.

The champion was accompained by his two attorney, Hayden Covington of New York and Quinnan Hodges of Houston; Drew Brown, his assistant trainer and a photographer, Howard Bingham.

As Clay entered the building, he recognized a New York friend, broadcaster Howard Cossell of the American Broadcasting Co., and he jested:

"I think you, Howard Cossell, ought to take the step forward instead of me."

In the hubbub at the elevator one draftee, Gary Lance, 20, Pasadena, Tex., was refused entrance by a federal marshal.

The draftee told the marshal that he was due upstairs also at 9 a.m., but the marshal still pushed him back and said, "You will have to wait, son."

One unidentified man in the crowd yelled, "You are getting more publicity than the President!"

"The champ will never go to jail," Hodges said. "We plan to refile our suit immediately after Clay refuses induction," he added.

"It may be a long, drawn-out procedure, but it's one we're confident we'll win," Hodges continued. "We're sure of a final victory," Covington said. "Muhammad will never be put behind bars," he added.

B&PW Club Hears Parkey And Elects New Officers

The Business and Professional Women's Club met at Martha Ann Woman's Club Tuesday evening for a combined dinner and business meeting. Florence Leftwich and Lida Rhoades served as hostesses.

The dining area was decorated in the values of green and gold, the club's traditional colors. Lovely arrangements of spring flowers adorned the tables. The pleasant atmosphere added much not only to the fellowship hour, but also to the spiritual overtone for the evening's program. It was the concensus of the 23 members and guests present that the assemblage had been interesting, informative and challenging. Special guests beside the speaker were Mr. and Mrs. Dillard Pope, Mel Andress and Mrs. Euphria Shields of Cloudcroft, N. M.

Mrs. Leftwich introduced Rev. William N. Parkey, pastor of the First Christian Church, who gave the invocation and addressed the group. He chose for his subject, "Don't Postpone Living."

Rev. Parkey said in part: "Live each day as if it were your last on earth. This may be extreme, but it makes the point. The fact is it may be true, or, it may be a week, a year more or less. The time is short.

"Most of us who are human commit the sin of postponement, and promise ourselves that tomorrow we will begin really living. In our youth there is an open future. Time seems endless and we can afford to be profligate in the way we spend it. In fact, young people are often impatient in their hurry to grow up and play at being adults. But, when the day of our years are fixed, and they are so few, every minute counts.

"Each of us is different in temperament, and in mood. Given the same short period to live we would not do the same things. There is no formula to fit all men who possess a great variety of tastes and interests. There will be some who will immediately say, 'let us eat, drink and be merry, for tomorrow we will die.' The dream of one wild fling will appear to some. Yet, this is not the activity most men postpone. There seems to be enought eating and drinking and merrymaking in our day to satisfy this craving. The experiences which men put off for tomorrow are of a different order. The resolution is that when we are free of our terribly busy lives we will spend more time with our children. Soon they are grown up and gone their own way. With Tennyson we can then say, 'Too late, too late, ye cannot enter now!'

"In fact, postponement is, itself a decision. If we neglect our family now, we have decided that we really do not care that much for its members, to say, 'I will live with my loved ones tomorrow' is a camouflage. It disguises the hard fact that something else is more important now. The wise old man of the Bible said it in a memorable language, 'To everyone there is a season, and a time to every purpose under heaven. A time to be born, and a time to die. The time to live is now!'"

Mrs. Rhoades, president, presided for a short business meeting. Officers for the ensuing year were elected. They are: Ethel Mae Sturdivant, president; Mrs. Jay Massingill, first vice president; Mrs. Frances Brown, second vice president; Vera Periman, third vice president; Mrs. Ray Summers, recording secretary; Mrs. Travis Rhoades, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Mel Andress, treasurer.

The last meeting of the fiscal year will be the installation services on May 23.

Golden Smoked Butt

Smoked boneless pork shoulder butt (3 pounds or more)
1 cup orange juice
Whole cloves
½ cup apricot preserves, heated and strained

Remove wrapping and stockinet cover from butt; place in a 13 by 9 by 2 inch or similar pan. Pour orange juice over butt; cover pan tightly (with foil if necessary). Bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven, turning butt midway, for 1-¾ hours. Remove butt and pour off and save liquid. Insert cloves at 1-inch intervals in butt. Replace butt (on foil, if you like) in pan. Spoon strained apricot preserves over butt. Replace in 325-degree oven for 20 to 30 minutes. (Chill saved pan liquid, remove fat and use in sauce for slices of leftover butt).

Former Governor Wallace Very Hard To Pin Down

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Trying to pin down Alabama's former governor, George C. Wallace, at this point in his political career is like trying to squeeze ice cream.

Earlier this week he indicated he might run for president in 1968, but he wouldn't say so. Thursday at Pittsburgh he told newsmen "since I am running for president" and then backtracked, saying the newsmen had him mixed up.

If he did run, he certainly couldn't win. But if he took enough votes away from Democratic and Republican candidates so that neither got a majority, the election would have to be thrown into the House of Representatives.

Last Sunday on NBC's "Meet the Press" he was asked if this threat to run for president was just "to blackmail one of the parties into accepting your view?" Wallace harps on the need for conservative candidates and party platforms.

Wallace denied any thought of blackmail but earlier this year announced that if the two national parties "don't swing around and fly right in 1968" he would be preaching the conservative cause from coast to coast.

When he ran in 1964 — that is, before he dropped out of the race — he said his purpose was to "conservatize" the two big parties and, if he could keep either from winning, he would gain a pro-Southern bargaining position.

Wallace withdrew from that race after the Republicans nominated Sen. Barry Goldwater. This might have been interpreted as meaning Goldwater was conservative enough to suit Wallace. But he didn't endorse Goldwater.

And something else might have influenced him to pull out. A number of his supporters began to desert him for Goldwater, thus facing him with the possibility of a Wallace-Goldwater split that might leave the Democrats with a majority.

But, anyway, he quit after saying he wouldn't quit.

The former governor, 47 and a segregationist, says "I am not against the policy of nondiscrimination," explaining he would not advocate segregation in any state. But he thinks Alabama's public schools should be segregated.

When asked if he became president whether he would advocate repeal of the civil rights laws now on the books, Wallace said he would advocate modifications and in the next breath said he would advocate some repeals.

He complains repeatedly of federal interference with what the states want to do with their domestic institutions.

So, since practically all of Alabama's school superintendents were trying to meet federal requirement to desegregate, he was asked why his wife, Lurleen Wallace, Alabama's present governor, is telling them not to.

He was asked a further question: Didn't this mean he was using the very kind of force he doesn't want the federal government to use? Wallace went into a long, spiraling answer which seemed to say the local subdivisions of a state should not be compared with the states and the federal government.

Mrs. Wallace, whose husband is her No. 1 adviser, on March 30 asked the Alabama Legislature for power to take over the schools as one step in a defiant plan to resist a three-judge federal court order to integrate them.

The only reason Mrs. Wallace ran for governor was because the law didn't allow her husband to run again. But on the day she announced she would run, her husband said, "I will dictate the policies" and "both of us will be governor."

This sounded all right to the voters of Alabama who gave them a big victory.

No. 3 catcher for the Atlanta Braves this spring is Felipe Alou, the team's regular first baseman.

Remarks That Husbands Tire Of

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that husbands get tired of hearing:

"Remember Gerald, the fellow who wanted me to elope with him in college? I just heard he's been elected board chairman of the biggest bank in my home town.

"How is it that you can remember the score of every golf game you ever played, but can never remember my birthday?"

"You haven't been listing to a thing I said, have you? You have? All right, tell me — what did I say?"

"Daddy, can I have $5. The girls in our class are making up a party Saturday to go to an amusement park."

"All I can say is that if we can't afford a cleaning woman every once in a while, you're the one who is going to have to start waxing the kitchen floor and mopping the bathroom."

"Maybe if you'd just let me tint the gray in your hair it might help you get ahead at the office faster. I hear that most bosses now want their employes to look as young as possible."

"Don't bother to take off your shoes. Have you forgotten we're going to the PTA meeting? They have a real interesting speaker I'm dying to hear. He's going to talk on, "Child Education among the early Aztecs, and It's Implications in a Permissive Society."

"If I can get by on a tuna fish salad sandwich for lunch, why do you have to have two martinis, beef stew and an expensive dessert?"

"Don't tell me it's your wife you've been listening to on the phone for the last half hour, Kim? You must be really henpecked."

"Remember Ronald, the boy I told you about who used to carry my books home from high school? Well, I just heard he's been made the executive vice president of a big advertising firm."

"Agnes and Jack Jones are celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary next week. He's surprising her with a trip to Bermuda. Where are you planning to take me on our 25th anniversary — to the movies?"

"Hi Pop. Can you give me $10? We're having a school dance, and I have to take a girl, and — well, you know how it is. The gang always goes somewhere to eat afterward."

"Don't you have any backbone at all? Tell him that if he won't pay you any more, you'll simply have to take another job. That big bully may scare you, but he doesn't frighten me one whit."

"All we have for dinner tonight is leftovers. If you don't want them, you can take me out to a restaurant. It shouldn't kill you to do that should it?"

"I was dusting off the bookshelf this afternoon, and came across our wedding album. You know, Jim, you really weren't half-bad looking — then."

"Before you start telling me your troubles, let me tell you mine — the cat's had kittens again."

"Remember Charlie, the little boy who was so wild about me in kindergarten? I just heard he's running for governor next year. I wonder what it would feel like to be the first lady in a state mansion?"

Junior Editors Quiz on SEEDS

QUESTION: How do seeds begin to grow?

* * *

ANSWER: Soak some dried lima beans in water for a few days. The outer skin will then easily come off. There will be two flat halves, called cotyledons (3). Look closely and you will find a tiny plant. At its top (1) you can see a suggestion of leaves and there is a pointed end which will become a root (2). When a seed such as this bean is planted in warm moist earth, the moisture swells it so that it bursts its coat. The minute plant begins to grow, using the material in the cotyledons as food. The roots grow down first and anchor the plant; the stem part can then grow up. There must be some arrangement to scatter seeds around so they won't crowd each other out. Some seeds, like those in our main picture, develop light attachments like parachutes which enable them to sail away on the wind. Others pop out away from the mother plant. A great many are encased in attractive fruit or nuts that birds and squirrels carry around. Others, like the burdocks, are waiting for you to rush by so they can grab on and hitch a ride.

ATTACK FATAL TO JIM MACKENZIE

By BILL LITTLE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Jim Mackenzie, the man who came to the University of Oklahoma to rebuild it into a national football powerhouse, died of an apparent heart attack early today. He was 37.

Mackenzie had returned Thursday night from a recruiting trip to Amarillo, Tex.

Mackenzie collapsed at his home about 12:20 a.m. His daughter, Kathy, 12, summoned Galen Hall, an assistant coach, who lives a cross the street.

Hall gave him artificial respiration and ambulance attendants tried external heart massage, but he was pronounced dead on arrival at Norman Municipal Hospital by Dr. G.G. Willard, the family physician, at 12:50 a.m.

The death stunned the state. Mackenzie had coached his Sooners through spring drills on Wednesday, and apparently hadn't been in ill health.

MacKenzie, who helped build Arkansas into a national football power, came to Oklahoma in the spring of 1966.

He piloted his Sooners through four games unbeaten and had them ranked 10th in the nation before losing 38-0 to Notre Dame.

The team finished with a 6-4 record.

Oklahoma is in the midst of spring practice, with the annual varsity-alumni game scheduled for May 6.

MacKenzie was born Jan. 15, 1930 in Gary Ind. He was graduated from Kentucky University in 1953, and coached in high school and junior college ranks before moving into college circles as an assistant to Frank Broyles at Missouri in 1957.

MacKenzie went with Broyles to Arkansas in 1958, and he was in charge of the Razorback defense, which became known as MacKenzie's Raiders.

He took over the Sooners at their lowest ebb in years. In 1965, the once-powerful Oklahoma team was 3-7. He brought a faster, more wide-open game stressing quickness.

His greatest triumph came in early October, when Oklahoma whipped Texas for the first time since 1958, 18-9. With a fourth victory a week later, the Sooners headed unbeaten into the Notre Dame clash.

Mackenzie is survived by his widow, Sue, daughter Kathy, and a son, James Alexander Jr.

Tigers Host Lobos In Saturday Tilt

The third place and second place teams in the District 3-AAA baseball chase collide here at 2 p.m. Saturday on the Towle Park diamond.

Snyder's Tigers are one game behind Lamesa in the title race with a 5-2 record while the Lobos, in third place, have three wins in seven outings.

Phil Phariess probably will take the mound for the visitors, and he will be opposed by either Roy Hunter or Rob Golden.

"We may divide the pitching chores," said Tiger Coach Speedy Moffett.

The Tigers thumped Levelland, 5-2, in the last contest between these two teams and Phariess was the victim. So you can bet he'll be out to even the score Saturday.

The Lobos have a dangerous club as they proved with an early victory over league-leading Lamesa. Only last week they had the Tornadoes down three runs before blowing it in the final stanza. Two errors contributed to their downfall.

Mac Warren, Lobo left fielder, is one of the better hitters in the district. Mike Dukes, first baseman, also is a threat at the plate.

Snyder has perhaps the best defensive club in the district with one of the fastest teams ever to don the Tiger uniforms. Yet the hitting has been sporadic and there still is room for improvement in this department.

Coach Moffett listed probable starters, according to batting order, as follows:

Steve Moffett 2b, Larry Wadzeck rf, Mickey Almond 3b, David Cadena lf, Buddy Powell cf, Terry Holt ss, Kenny Ragland 1b, Max Moreland c, and either Roy Hunter or Rob Golden p.

The return of Hunter and Cadena to the lineup this week should bolster the Tigers. Only Dink Foree, regular catcher and part-time pitcher, remains on the ailing list. He suffered a shoulder dislocation while running down the first base line at Levelland.

Snyder blanked Brownfield, 5-0, in its last outing. Elsewhere in the loop Saturday, the Cubs and Tornadoes tangle with Lamesa hoping to protect its lead.

The Tors are due for an appearance in Towle Park next Tuesday at 4 p.m. Only five tilts remain on the schedule, including the one Saturday.

Expand Kyle Field

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Expansion of Kyle Field to 54,000 seats for the anticipated football opener Sept. 16 between Texas A&M and Southern Methodist is progressing on schedule, Howard W. Badgett, manager of physical plans, said Friday.

Indians Scalp Minnesota, 5-4

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sam McDowell has his second victory of the season, but even with 12 strikeouts it took a big assist from Willie Smith for the fireballing southpaw to accomplish it.

Smith batted for McDowell in the eighth and his double drove in the run that broke a 4-4 tie to give the Cleveland Indians a 5-4 decision over the Minnesota Twins in the only action in the American League Thursday.

McDowell blanked the Twins on three hits and struck out 10 in the first five innings, while the Indians built up a 4-0 lead.

Then in pitching coach Clay Bryant's opinion, "Sam tried to reach back for something extra and it almost cost him the game.

"The worst part of it," continued Bryant, "is that McDowell doesn't need anything extra. Sam has more than enough for anybody just throwing with his natural motion."

Bryant said it was the best he had seen McDowell, "at least it was until the sixth when he tried to reach for something extra."

McDowell retired the first two men in the sixth and then walked Andy Kosco and Harmon Killebrew. Then Bob Allison hit a home run over the left-field fence.

The Twins tied the score in the seventh on Cesar Tovar's single and a double by Rich Rollins.

Cleveland had jumped in front with a run in the second and three more in the fifth.

Smith's winning double scored Gus Gil, who also had doubled.

George Culver pitched the ninth inning for Cleveland.

McDowell said Allison hit his third homer of the season off a low fast ball.

"It was a good one and it was where I wanted it," said the 24-year-old lefty. "That's one I wouldn't take back if I could. You have to give him credit. It was my best pitch."

McDowell wasted no time on the mound and made a total of 128 pitches; but only 72 through the first five innings.

"I'm finding that as I pitch faster I concentrate more," he said. "I guess that was my best game so far this year, but I have to get better.

"I saw some of their hitters changing on me but I wasn't smart enough to go along with them. I should have known better and I will next time."

The other scheduled American League game, California at Baltimore, was rained out.

In the National League, Chicago beat New York 3-0, Cincinnati edged San Francisco 3-2, Pittsburgh nipped Philadelphia 5-4, Houston topped St. Louis 6-4 and Los Angeles blanked Atlanta 6-0.

ACC Favored In Medley

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —There's a new rubberized track ready for the annual Penn Relays and four runners from Abilene Christian College in Texas are favored to give it a possible record-setting introduction as the 73rd track an field meet opens today at Franklin Field.

Abilene Christian emerged as the favorite in today's distance medley relay when Ian Hamilton, of defending champion Villanova, became ill. Villanova had been the favorite until Hamilton's illness.

The Villanova quartet has done 9:44 indoors and the Penn Relay record for the event is 9:46.4. Abilene Christian, returning here for the first time since 1962, clocked 9:45 in the Texas Relays.

The runners will be speeding around the $200,000 all-weather track which could enable them to stretch performances to or beyond the record point.

More than 6,000 athletes are slated to participate in the relays. Besides college events, there will be competition for high schools, elementary and junior high schools, and an Olympic development event. A record 141 colleges are participating.

Raiders In Tennis Tie

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Texas A&M already is team champion of Southwest Conference golf but it will take a couple of more matches to decide the tennis.

Texas and Texas Tech, tied for the tennis lead with 22-8 records, clash at Austin Saturday in their final match. A sweep would give one of the teams the title but without it Bayor, which has a 21-9 record, might ease in should it roll over Southern Methodist at Dallas.

There are four matches on the schedule today and Saturday but only the Texas-Tech and Baylor-SMU clash mean anything.

In golf Texas A&M beat Rice 5½-½ Tuesday and that wrapped it up for the Aggies. They still have Baylor to play but it can't change the standings.

Individual championships in both golf and tennis will be determined at the conference meet in Dallas next week.

Shots Fell Lion Gridder

COMMERCE (AP) — Arthur James, 19, an East Texas State University football player, was in Commerce hospital today with three gunshot wounds suffered during an argument with another student.

Police charged Thomas Ray Henderson, 18, with assault to murder in the Thucsday night shooting. Henderson was held without bond in the Hunt County jail at Greenville.

Attendants said James' condition was good.

Both students are from Texarkana, Tex.

Police quoted witnesses as saying Henderson pulled a pistol during an argument and James started to run. Officers said Henderson fired four times and struck James twice in the hips and once in a knee.

The shooting happened in front of Craddock Hall, a men's dormitory on the ETSU campus.

Reds Stop Giants, 3-2; Take Lead

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Mel Queen was such a poor hitter as an outfielder he turned to pitching, and now he is passing on his meager batting average to others.

The right-handed Cincinnati hurler has taken particular interest in San Francisco with his gift-giving treatment that has turned the slugging Giants into hitless pigmies.

Queen stumped the Giants on three hits and one run for seven innings Thursday as the Reds won 3-2 and retook first place in the National League from the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Cardinals fell back when Houston scored five runs in the seventh inning and held on for a 6-4 triumph, breaking a 10-game losing streak.

Elsewhere in the National League Claude Osteen pitched Los Angeles past Atlanta 6-0; Ferguson Jenkics of the Chicago Cubs halted the New York Mets 3-0 and Pittsburgh nudged Philadelphia 5-4.

Cleveland dropped Minneapolis 5-4 in the Umerican League as pinch-hitter Willie Smith doubled home the winning run in the eighth inning. The Twins had rallied from a 4-4 deficit against Sam McDowell on Bob Allison's three-run homer and an RBI double by Rich Rollins.

California was rained out at Baltimore.

The 25-year-old Queen, who first passed on his bad hitting habits to the Giants by blanking them on six-hits 6-0 in his only other major league start April 16, got his message across to everyone but Willie McCovey. McCovey homered in the seventh.

Queen, now 30, left after walking the first man in the eighth, leading 3-1 on Deron Johnson's sixth homer with a man on off loser Gaylord Perry and Vada Pinson's run-scoring hit. Reliever Ted Abernathy finished the lesson.

Queen, a relief pitcher who only got into the starting rotation because Jim Maloney suffered shoulder trouble, came into the major leagues as an outfielder with a strong throwing arm three years ago.

His below .200 batting average did not set the Reds afire. So, he returned to the mound for the first time since high school.

"Almost any outfielder at times would like to be a pitcher, especially when he's not hitting," said Queen, whose father, Mel Queen, pitched for the New York Yankees and Pirates in the 1940s and 1950s. Queen relieved in seven games in 1966, but had only a 6.43 earned run average.

But he pitched last winter in Venezuela and learned "to throw like a pitcher and not an outfielder" and now he is pitching like a pitcher and the hitters are hitting like him.

Bob Gibson was lowering Houston averages for six innings before Joe Morgan, who earlier broke an 0 for 24 slump, cracked a three-run triple off reliever Hal Woodeshick after Gibson loaded the bases with none out in the seventh.

The Astros added two more runs in the inning for a 5-2 lead and then stopped a two-run Cardinal rally in the eighth.

Osteen, 3-1, allowed only two Braves past first base as he shortened some bats with a four-hitter supported by Ron Hunt's run-scoring single and three-run double. But the Dodgers lost Lou Johnson for 10 to 12 weeks when he fractured an ankle sliding home in the first inning.

Ferguson Jenkins leveled the New York Mets with a three-hitter and 10 strikeouts for his third victory without a defeat. Ron Santo ended an 0 for 17 streak by doubling home the first run.

Jesse Gonder broke a 4-4 tie with a run-scoring single in the eighth inning for Pittsburgh. The Pirates tied the game in the seventh by scoring two runs on a wild pitch and a wild throw. Donn Clendenon homered for the Pirates.

Leaders Established In Jr. Golf

The Junior Golf Tournament at Snyder Country Club entered the third round today with leaders clearly established in each division.

Art Kidd fired an opening round 51 Wednesday and a 50 Thursday for a two-day total of 101. It gave him a three stroke lead over Mitch Butler in the 7th grade division.

Glen Rambin's 43-43-86 put him 32 strokes ahead of Bobby Weaver in the 8th grade division, and Phil Ator held a 13 stroke lead in the 9th grade with 43-44-87.

Scores of the first two rounds:

7th grade — Art Kidd 51-50-101; Mitch Butler 53-51-104; Jackson Brewster 57-54-111; and, Danny Andrews (in fourth place).

8th grade — Glenn Rambin 43-43-86; Bobby Weaver 61-57-118; Mike Fisher 60-61-121.

9th grade — Phil Ator 43-44-87; Ronald Ward 53-47-100; Randy Levens 50-52-102; John Lacik 55-49-104; Steve Boydstun 50-55-105; Gary Terrell 108; Terry Rannefeld 113; Jerry McKinney 114; and, Ted Donaldson 127.

El Paso Edges Amarillo, 7-6

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Clutch home runs won both games in the Texas League Thursday night and even the clubs that didn't play showed mild gains.

El Paso edged Amarillo 7-6 on Leo Rodriguez' homer in the ninth and that moved the Sun Kings within half a game of the League leaders. Amarillo has won eight and lost four. El Paso has won the same number but dropped five.

Joe Hague clouted a two-run homer in the 10th to gain Arkansas a 6-4 victory over Albuquerque. It moved Arkansas past Albuquerque into fourth place, back of Austin.

Austin and Dallas - Fort Worth had an off night. Austin nevertheless gained half a game on leading Amarillo and so did Dallas-Fort Worth, although the latter still is five games away languishing in the cellar.

El Paso pushed two runs across in the eighth to tie the score with Amarillo. Rodriguez' blow, his third homer in as many games, broke the tie.

Arkansas went ahead 4-3 on an unearned run in the ninth only to see Albuquerque tie it up. But in the 10th the Travelers followed Billy Wolff's triple with Hague's homer.

They change stand tonight with Austin at El Paso, Dawlas-Fort Worth at Arkansas and Amarillo at Albuquerque.

Sen. Dodd Vows To Fight Senate Censure Resolution

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders indicated today the resolution to censure Sen. Thomas J. Dodd will be taken up in about 10 days. Dodd vowed to fight it and, whatever the outcome, to run for a third term in 1970.

The Senate's bipartisan Ethics Committee unanimously recommended Thursday after a 14-month investigation that the white-haired Connecticut Democrat be censured for financial misconduct.

None of Dodd's colleagues spoke out immediately in his defense, but he was quick to reassert he had done nothing wrong and said he would make a detailed reply to the committee's findings.

In its report to the Senate the panel said Dodd diverted to "his personal purposes" at least $116,083 in politically raised campaign and testimonial funds in the years 1961-65.

It also said that in this same period he collected travel expenses both from the Senate and private organizations for seven trips. It did not list the total amount involved in the double billing.

The proposed resolution of censure declared that in both respects Dodd's conduct was "contrary to accepted morals, derogates from the public trust expected of a senator, and tends to bring the Senate into dishonor and disrepute."

The committee also requested the Justice Department and Internal Revenue Service to look into various aspects of Dodd's activities to determine whether any possible violations of law were involved.

The report and the censure resolution were presented to the Senate by Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of th six-member ethics panel, as Dodd looked on among only a handful of senators on the floor.

Dodd showed no emotion or loss of composure as Stennis spoke.

Shortly before Stennis rose in the Senate he went by Dodd's office and gave him a copy of the report. Stennis later told a reporter he felt he owed this gesture of courtesy to Dodd.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said his guess was that the censure resolution would not be taken up in the Senate until the week of May 7 — partly to give Dodd time to prepare his defense and also in hopes of first clearing away a Senate snarl over a tax bill.

However, Mansfield told a reporter that if necessary the tax measure temporarily would be put aside. He expressed no opinion about the committee's report and declined to speculate on how much debate it might generate.

"Behold, this dreamer cometh." Genesis 37:19.

In each age old dreams shall pass away, and new ones will arrive,
And only God decides which dream shall yet survive —
But man shall go on dreaming and acting on his dreams
Until the earth, like aging cloth, breaks along the seams.
And if the dreams hold beauty and strength and love and peace,
Then perhaps the hounds of war their bayings still shall cease!

May Fellowship Day Observance Is Set

May Fellowship Day will be observed Friday, May 5, by the United Council of Churches.

A meeting is set for 10 a.m. on that date at the Fluvanna Methodist Church. A covered dish luncheon will be served.

Theme of the meeting will be "People, Poverty, Plenty."

This year attention will be focused on "Plenty." Two years ago the attention was mostly on poverty and last year it was on action.

Bikini Unfit For Water

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — A shapely blonde plunged into a heated swimming pool to demonstrate a new paper bikini for the press and the worst happened — or the best, according to one's point of view.

The top part of the suit — guaranteed not to shrink, burn or disintegrate — floated away Thursday from 23-year-old Noel Steever of Bel Air, Md.

While she sought to reaffix it, a public relations man explained to gaping reporters, "It's not really a piece of athletic wear. It's not a thing to go swimming in, really."

Most of the reporters hardly heard him. They were watching "Miss Body Chemistry of 1967."

The unveiling was in conjunction with Chemical Progress Week.

Miss Steever later said the $4 swimsuit "could use some design changes. Perhaps if they put some holes in it the water would run through and it wouldn't come off."

Texas Casualties Include Anson Man

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department identified Thursday four Texans died in Vietnam.

Killed in action were Army First Lt. Thomas B. Sharp, husband of Mrs. Martha N. Sharp, 1410 Liveoak Drive, Temple; Sgt. James L Russell, son of Mr. Raymond Russell, Rural Route 1, Box 171, Anson; and Sgt. Joseph E. Royster, husband of Mrs. Bonnie E. Royster, 5129 Benning Avenue, El Paso.

Army Staff Sgt. Kenneth E. Kasa, husband of Mrs. Edith Kasa, Globe Trailer Court, Dimple Street, Killeen, died of nonhostile cause.

Weatherman May Sport New Part

BOSTON (AP) — Late in the spring, an elderly woman telephoned the weatherman and asked how he parted his hair. "Down the right side," he said. She replied, "I have a hickory cane and if it snows one more time this spring I'll use it to make another part, a permanent one, right down the middle of your head."

Saturn 5 Moon Launch Delayed

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Development problems will delay the first unmanned test flights of the Saturn 5 moon-rocket and a lunar-landing vehicle until the last half of this year, the space agency says.

Both launches previously were scheduled to occur before the end of June.

The 360-foot-tall Saturn 5 is the type of rocket America plans to use to send three Apollo astronauts into orbit around the moon. The moon landing craft, called a Lunar Module, is to carry two of the Apollo crew from there to the moon's surface.

Sources said the Saturn 5 is now scheduled for its initial test flight in mid-August. The spider-legged luna-landing craft is not expected to rocket into orbit on its first unmanned test until late September or early October.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said only that both launches had slipped from the "second quarter" (April- June) to the "third quarter" July-September) of this year.

Numerous problems have been encountered in developing the moon-landing vehicle, the second stage of the Saturn 5 and an unmanned apollo spacecraft which is to ride atop the first Saturn 5.

The Apollo 1 spacecraft fire that killed Air Force Lt. Cols. Virgil I. Grissom and Edward H. White II and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Roger B. Chaffee has made the space agency more sensitive to problem areas, sources said.

Jubilant Dutch Cheer Birth Of Male Heir To Throne

UTRECHT, Netherlands (AP) — The jubilant Dutch cheered, drank toasts and declared a school holiday today to celebrate the birth of the first male heir to the throne to be born in 116 years.

The prince, still unnamed, was born to Crown Princess Beatrix Thursday night. Doctors called him a "robust and healthy boy."

Several hundred persons had gathered around the Academic Hospital in Utrecht to await the birth. When it was announced, others poured into the streets, chanting "Orange boven" (Orange up, for the royal house of Orange).

Other crowds tied up traffic in the Hague, seat of the Dutch government.

Church bells rang and cannons boomed 101 times. A girl would have been given only 51 guns.

Queens have reigned in Holland since 1890 and it may be the 21st century before the new prince ascends to the throne. His mother, Beatrix, is expected to take the throne in seven years when her mother Queen Juliana, reaches age 65. Beatrix is only 29.

Sources at the hospital indicated the delivery was by Caesarean section and took about 30 minutes. A medical bulletin said the condition of the crown princess was satisfactory.

Prof. Willem Paul Plate, who supervised the delivery, said the baby weighed 8 pounds, 7 ounces. A nurse said he had black hair.

Beatrix was married March 10, 1966, to a German, Claus von Amsberg, who was made a prince of the Netherlands. The marriage was unpopular with some Dutchmen because he had served in the German army in the latter part of World War II, when Holland was occupied by the Nazis.

By coincidence, a sister of Prince Claus gave birth to a son Thursday in Germany.

Claus and Queen Juliana were at the hospital when the baby was born. Juliana and her husband, Prince Bernhard, another former German, appeared later on the balcony of the royal palace in Amsterdam and were cheered by hundreds.

Juliana is the only child of the late Queen Wilhelmina, who abdicated in her favor in 1948.

Wilhelmina, who died in 1962, ascended to the throne after he father, King Willem III, died in 1890. Willem also had two sons, but Prince Maurits Alexander died in 1850 and Prince Alexander died in 1884.

The new prince is Juliana's first grandchild. His name will be announced at the official registration of the birth before representatives of the government and the mayor of Utrecht, Dr. J. De Ranitz.

Cuban Tells Of Concentration Camp

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A Cuban refugee says he was kept in a concentration camp in Florida — the Florida in east-central Cuba.

Enrique Marinez Mendoza, 26, said he was put in the camp with 120 "other young men who had applied to leave."

Mendoza said after his arrival recently that his treatment in Florida, U.S.A. has been quite different. Refugees say many Cubans must go to concentration camps to await their turn on an airlift to the United States.

Senator Most Adept At Filibuster

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — State Sen. Hugh Morrow of Birmingham knows how to hurt a guy.

The Alabama Senate stayed in session into the night Thursday, for the fifth night in a row, because of a filibuster over a proposed new road program. Morrow was one of those doing the filibustering.

The Senate refused to recess for dinner. Then when Morrow arose to speak, he spent his allotted hour reading from a book about food, describing in mouth-watering detail the many goodies it contained.

HINSHAW'S

SOME PEOPLE THINK IT PAYS

TO GO SHOP OUT OF TOWN . . .

but have they stopped to think about what happens to that dollar they spend away from home? Part of it will go to support schools, churches and public projects of the community in which that dollar was spent. All well and good. But what about the schools, churches, etc. in our own community? These must also be supported. Don't short-change our hometown and yourself by scattering dollars elsewhere . . . keep them working right here for you and yours!

It pays to shop locally

Remember . . . the money you spend in Snyder stays at home!

HOLD ON

How we love to watch these trapeze artists perform! We watch them in amazement, though feeling some peril in their doings. We can almost hear the crowd say "Hold On!" It is a parable of you and me. God is the strong member of the team. We live every day in peril and difficulty... we hang from His hand.

We must hold to the hand of God if we win. Prayer is our aid to keep his hand in ours. We read The Book and attend His church for courage and strength. But a closer look will give us hope. We are "holding on" to God but better still God is "holding on" to us.

God does not faint or grow weary. Then "hold on" to Him, for "He shall renew thy strength."
