Wallace Invades Long's Domain To Defend AAA; Indirectly Attacks Huey ROOSEVELT CREATES 'REA' TO DO UNLIMITED POWER BUSINESS IN 'AREAS'

SWEEPING ACT MAY PROVIDE FOR SEIZURE

USE OF TVA POWER IS ARRANGED IN MESSAGE

WASHINGTON, May 11 (AP)—Authority to do an electric power business—so broad as to appear unlimited at first study—today was vested by President Roosevelt in a "rural electrification administration" he created under the $4,000,000,000 work relief program.

The executive order over Mr. Roosevelt's signature generally was interpreted as opening a new field of direct federal activities in power. Observers saw only one immediate check on this development—the amount of cash available.

In so many words, Mr. Roosevelt directed the new electrification administration "to initiate, formulate, administer, and supervise a program of approved projects with respect to the generation, transmission, and distribution of electric energy in rural areas."

Under one interpretation, the new unit, "REA," was believed able to build or acquire to power plants of the Tennessee Valley Authority, thus short-circuiting a federal court injunction against sales of TVA power.

Supplementing and bolstering the sweeping grant for "generation, transmission, and distribution" was authority in the executive order for REA "to acquire, by purchase or by the power of eminent domain, any real property or any interest therein" in addition to selling or leasing property.

Whether this language foretold the actual purchase or condemnation of existing power plants, transmission lines and distribution systems could not be learned from officials. Morris L. Cooke, already acting as head of REA though not formally appointed, was out of the city today.

Details of how a farmer might be expected to benefit from the program were entirely lacking. One official said most of the projects under the plan probably would result from organization of mutual companies by farmers, but for further amplification they referred to a radio speech to be delivered by Cooke next Saturday, between 12:30 and 1:30 p. m. EST.

Memorial Day To Be Observed in Parade, Service

Howard Neath has been named general chairman of the Memorial day observance program to be held here on May 30. Other members of the committee are Paul Hill, W. C. De Cordova, A. D. Monteith, O. K. Gaylor, and D. E. Creel.

It is the plan of the committee to contact the local Ministerial association to arrange for a speaker for a morning service, probably in Central park if the weather permits. The service would follow a parade in which the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Spanish-American veterans, auxiliaries, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Campfire girls, civic clubs, and other organizations in the city, will be asked to participate.

It is the object of the committee to "sell" to the citizens of the community the idea that Memorial day is for everyone and not for veterans organizations only. Memorial day is a national holiday.

The grave of the last veteran, regardless of whether he was a member of some veterans organization or not, buried in Fairview cemetery will be decorated. A firing squad will fire a salute over the grave. The decoration ceremony will follow the service.

PURVEYORS OF CHAIN LETTERS IN CIVIL SUITS

Disappointed Signers Ask Damages of Seven

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 11 (AP)—A civil suit asking $35,840 damages from seven purveyors of chain letters was filed here late today as the "chainomania" reached its breaking point and disappointed investors sought to "get even with somebody."

The suit was filed against W. J. Lazarus, Jerome Bernstein, Irwin Bernstein, A. J. Brunswick, Roy Sale, C. A. Bradley and Mack L. Seeley.

Charging breach of contract, the suit was filed in the federal court.

THOUSANDS IN CROWD CHEER HIS REMARKS

'SNIPING' POLITICIANS HAVE STRENGTHENED ROOSEVELT

ALEXANDRIA, La., May 11 (AP)—Secretary Agriculture Henry A. Wallace today struck a blow for the new deal agricultural policies in Huey Long's home state of Louisiana and said the administration of his chief, President Franklin D. Roosevelt, had been "strengthened by sniping politicians."

Wallace came here today from Washington to urge the farmers at a statewide rally attended by thousands to stick by the president in his farm relief policies and to fight for continuance of the processing tax as the farmers' tariff against the corporation process of big business.

The cabinet member spoke from the public square to a cheering crowd and denounced in generalities Long and other politicians or "special interests" who have attacked the new deal which Wallace declared had "placed the farmer back on his feet and increased his income."

Wallace did not mention Long by name, either at noon-day luncheon preceding the speaking or in his afternoon address. But he aimed the people against appeals made by "some who profess to speak in the name of the common people and attempt to draw a red herring across the trail. It is extremely important that the farmer be not deluded. It's easy to say 'Don't you think you ought to get more money—that you ought to get 30 cents for your cotton' and so forth, but where are you going to get it?"

SCOUT CIRCUS WILL BE HELD AT PARK HERE

Two Big Nights Are To Show Boys' Work

Road Runner park will be the site of the annual Boy Scout circus on the new dates, May 27 and 28. Three rings of stunting boys will be used to demonstrate Scout work. Clyde Gold of Pampa is general chairman.

Tickets, priced at 40 cents each, will be placed on sale soon through-out the Adobe Walls council. The ample seating facilities and floodlights of the park are expected to prove ideal for the purpose. Proceeds will be divided among the troops to help send representatives to the National Jamboree in Washington, D. C., August 21-30.

To date nineteen boys have been certified to the council headquarters as eligible to make the trip to what has been called the "greatest gathering of youth in this country." The Follett troop, No. 59, has caused a sensation by certifying five boys and the scoutmaster, J. G. Schultz, for the long trip. Other troops have certified boys as follows: Troop 71, Canadian, one; 78, Whittsburg, one; 6, Berger, two; 15, Pampa, one; 51, Spearman, one; 14, Pampa, one; 53, Morse, one; 16, Pampa, one; 18, Hopkins, two.

Officials of the council emphasize that the eligibility is now open to any qualified Boy Scout whose parents may wish him to make the trip. Thirty thousand boys will meet the president and receive the thrill of their lives in this first national gathering of Scouts.

TWO BOYS DROWN STRAWN, May 11 (AP)—Twelve-year-old James Roach lost his life today in a fruitless attempt to save his cousin, Bub Roach, an 18-year-old crippled youth from drowning in the Berger high school creek in the north part of town. When the crippled youth became helpless in the water, James rushed to his aid but was dragged under the water and drowned.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Dickson are on a vacation trip to Longstreet, La.

In keeping their promise to present a clean, enjoyable musical show for the benefit of the crippled children's fund, Pampa Lions won much acclaim from big audiences on Friday and Saturday evenings.

"Thoroughly enjoyable" was the most frequently heard comment coupled with the statement that the flower-draped setting was the prettiest ever used by the club in its four annual shows.

CHAVEZ WILL GET SEAT IN U. S. SENATE

Will Succeed His Political Enemy, Bronson Cutting; Will Support President.

SANTA FE, N. M., May 11 (AP)—An ardent champion of Roosevelt policies, Dennis Chavez, who served in two democratic houses, was lifted today into the senate seat of his political enemy, the late Senator Bronson Cutting, independent republican and occasional critic of the administration.

Chavez, 47 years old, accepted an appointment tendered by Governor Clyde Hingley to fill the vacant senate chair until 1936 and announced he will drop his contest of the election of Cutting, against whom he ran last November. He had disputed the 1,200 vote majority for Cutting.

In 1936 Chavez said he will be a candidate to fill the remainder of Cutting's term, which expires in 1940.

The governor, running mate of Chavez on the democratic ticket in the last election, said Chavez was "a natural selection" to fill the vacancy caused by Senator Cutting's death in an airplane accident last week.

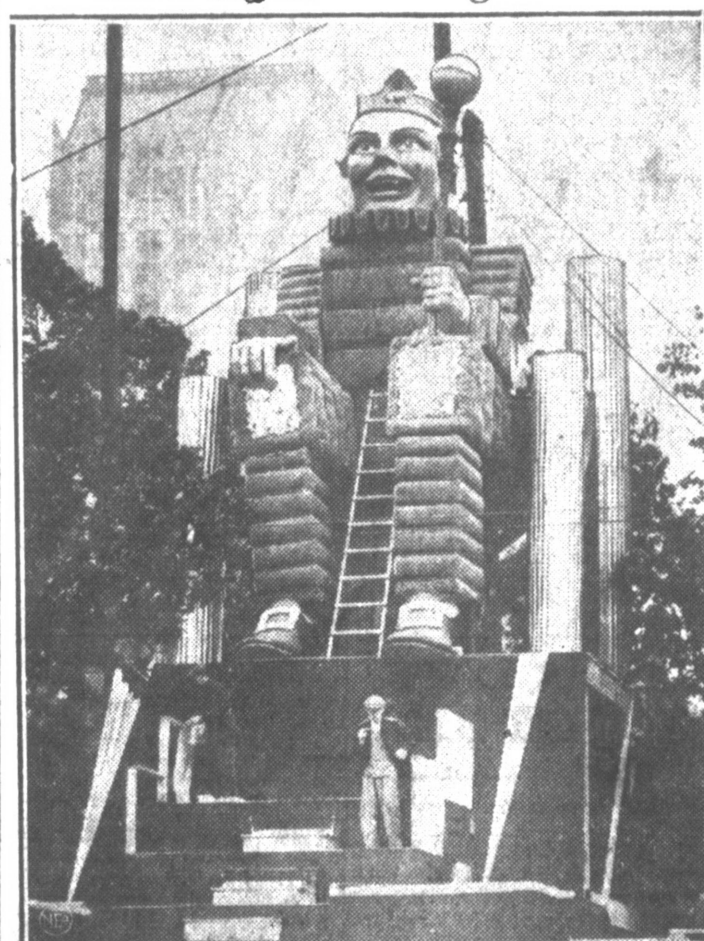

The new senator will give the democrats 69 seats in the senate, five more than two-thirds of the entire membership, and will reduce republican membership to 24, its lowest in more than 50 years.

Bonus advances changed the appointments added one more vote to their list of those who will vote to override the president's contemplated veto of the Panama bill even though the governor describes his appointee as "whollyheartedly a supporter of President Roosevelt's program."

Chavez is an ardent supporter of the new deal policies and says, with pride, that he has the viewpoint of the "average man."

PAMPA TO BE REPRESENTED BY BAND AND DELEGATION TUESDAY AT WEST TEXAS CHAMBER SESSION

Panhandle, Wichita Trippers Will Come Here

Pampans will turn toward Plainview tomorrow and Tuesday as the West Texas chamber of commerce opens its annual session.

George Briggs, B. C. D. manager, will go to Plainview tomorrow, accompanied by J. S. Wynne, director nominee. Mr. Briggs will make arrangements for the parade to be staged by Pampans Tuesday.

Trippers will leave here Tuesday morning from the campus of the Sam Houston (north ward) school at 7 a. m. The Sam Houston kid band of 40 members, uniformed, will make the trip and march in the parade. The kid band is expected to attract more attention than many adult bands. Many of the parents will make the trip.

The good will committees of the B. C. D. and Jaycees, headed by Fred Culum and Chas. Maisel, are appealing to the public to take cars and to telephone the B. C. D. that they will help transport the band. At Plainview, the group will assemble at the city auditorium.

Also leaving tomorrow will be Stokes Green, Pampa "My Home Town" speaker, and Archer Fulgim.

Wichitans Coming

Wichita Kans., Boosters will arrive here at 10:45 a. m. Wednesday. Business men here are requested to place their flags at the curbs on that morning and, if they use Wichita products, to feature them in their show windows. Four kid bands of the ward schools will greet the visitors, who will be here about 40 minutes.

To Advertise Race Meet

A Panhandle good will delegation will arrive in Pampa at 4:15 p. m. May 17 to advertise the Panhandle race meet of May 20-24 inclusive. M. B. Welsh, secretary of the Panhandle chamber of commerce, is arranging an itinerary. A welcome for them here will be arranged.

INVESTIGATION OF OFFICIAL TO CONTINUE

'DO NOTHING' GROUP FINALLY QUITS AND GOES HOME

AUSTIN, May 11 (AP)—J. E. McDonald, Texas commissioner of agriculture, defended himself to-night before the house of representatives against charges of official misconduct and incompetency in his administration.

In a firm voice he denied, one by one, nine allegations brought against him following an inquiry by a special house committee and the state auditor. He was given a round of applause on concluding his statement.

"If I have made mistakes they have been honest ones," McDonald said in a fervent tone. "I believe the methods I pursued were in the state's interest. Every dime has been accounted for and there has been no wrong doing."

AUSTIN, May 11 (AP)—Signatures by presiding officers of scores of bills and resolutions was all that stood in the way early tonight of sine die adjournment of the regular session of the 44th legislature.

The house, however, planned to hear a statement by J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture, on charges he had been guilty of misconduct in administering his office. McDonald requested permission to make a statement after the house authorized a committee to continue an inquiry into his department. Two assistant state auditors who made the report out of which the charges grew also were invited to attend.

The investigation would be conducted by a new committee which would hear evidence and the evidence warranted, reporting to a prospective special session of the legislature next fall.

250,000 Barrels Of Oil Roll Into East Texas River

GLADEWATER, May 11 (AP)—Armed guards warned against use of open fire in the oil field here today as more than 250,000 barrels of fuel oil rolled out of flood-damaged earthen pits, spread over a 50-acre area and swelled the backwaters of the Sabine river.

Operators said an expected rise in the river tonight or tomorrow would endanger nearly a million barrels of fuel gasoline and oil valued at more than half a million dollars.

Sounding a warning that the floods of oil presented one of the most serious fire threats known to the East Texas field, game wardens ordered the area around refineries patrolled with armed guards.

Crews of laborers in boats and skiffs worked overtime building floating board dams in an attempt to hold the oil from the river.

Oil in weakened pits in the flood territory was being transferred to safety through storage, although the facilities were taxed.

Game Wardens Ross and Dodson filed pollution charges against the owners of two broken pits today. They said the offense was fineable at from $100 to $1,000 daily. The wardens said owners had disregarded orders given earlier in the week for the oil to be moved.

THE GOOD SHEPHERD: Luke 15:4-7.

What man of you, having an hundred sheep, if he lose one of them, doth leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness, and go after that which is lost, until he find it? And when he hath found it, he layeth it on his shoulders, rejoicing. And when he cometh home, he called together his friends and neighbors, saying unto them, Rejoice with me: for I have found my sheep which was lost. I say unto you, that likewise joy shall be in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine just persons, which need no repentance.

A Mother's Day Poem

Mrs. Sam Isaacs, librarian at Canadian and book reviewer for The NEWS, has written this tribute:

Mother

Sparkling eyes of richest brown;
Faint blush of rose upon her cheek;
Soft, shapely hands; seldom a frown,
'Twas music just to hear her speak.

When to us she read aloud,
Myself and older brother,
We sat entranced and very proud;
Kindly, heart of gold, my mother.

Mother's Day Slogan

An old command but still a timely slogan is that of "Make Maternity Safe." On this Mother's day, the goal is still unreachd but progress is being made.

This day is distinguished from other similar ones by the fact that the Dionne quintuplets are living and that extraordinary care is being given them. Yet behind the miracle that they all lived is the fact that it is still hazardous for a woman to become a mother. Rather small progress has been made in obstetrics in the last two decades, as it applies to the masses of mothers.

Mother's day sentiment is empty if it does not include improvement of the position of mothers everywhere, if motherhood is not made safer. Annually in this country, 15,000 mothers die from childbirth causes. It is not strange, therefore, that such agencies as the American Legion are taking up the cause with a deep determination to pay a real and lasting tribute to mothers.

THE NEW DEAL IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Somebody cut the Blue Eagle's throat and the poor bird's recovery is uncertain. She was sickly even before it happened.

The story should be called "Little Lessons in Leadership" or "Dirty Work at the Crossroads." You can't quite be sure which should be the title and which the sub-title.

The Senate Finance Committee's resolution continuing the NRA is a fatal dose of chloroform if Congress persists in administering it. How a committee supposedly dominated by the administration came to report it out, 15 to 4, is one of the New Deal's strangest tales.

Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, who helps Joe Robinson try to run the senate for Roosevelt, is the committee's chairman. He worries a lot over the likelihood that Huey Long—an NRA foe—will enter his state next year and block his re-election.

There's great resentment against NRA and much non-compliance in Mississippi. Pat's heart just wasn't in it when it came to a fight for the Eagle.

The boys went to the White House and Mr. Roosevelt fumbled the ball all over the Oval Room. Accounts vary as to what he said, but all agree the president at no time put his foot down and demanded committee support for the administration bill.

After that the ball was Pat's and he acted as if someone had told him to rush it back through the administration's own goal posts.

He appointed a drafting committee to formulate the resolution. The committee consisted of himself and two of NRA's ablest, most implacable foes on the committee—Bennett Clark of Missouri and Dan Hastings of Delaware.

This sub-committee produced its resolution and several staunch administration members of the full committee got the idea it was just what Dr. Roosevelt wanted.

The resolution's intrastate commerce clause, as the NRA legal division sees it, would destroy all NRA codes. Its extension for less than a year would sentence NRA to a slow but certain death. Its 30-day period for code revision is another fatal dose.

And NRA will die in any event if Roosevelt isn't empowered to impose codes of wages and hours, as the committee resolution doesn't provide and the administration NRA bill did.

But there's still some chance that NRA can be revived and saved between the Senate floor and the House—if the supreme court doesn't slip in a coup de grace in the meantime.

The only fellow who showed up as a bright boy in the whole performance was Senator Clark—who had a violent hate on NRA from the beginning and came to the party with the sharpest knife.

Certain Old Guard Republicans on Capitol Hill are secretly spreading the idea that Al Smith might be a good presidential candidate on a 1936 "fusion" ticket. One is Congressman Walter Andrews of New York, who often reflects the views of Congressman Jimmy Wadsworth. Meanwhile, some of Al's closest friends here say they're willing to bet F. D. won't be renominated.

It seems a waste of money for the government to transplant the Ozark hill billies when all they need is a few stringed instruments and fare to the big city.

INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE ADOPTS 18-YEAR-OLD AGE-RULE FOR CONTESTS

GRAD COACHES WILL SEEK TO NULLIFY RULE

MITCHELL SEES RUIN OF HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL

BY HARRY E. HOARE.

The Texas interscholastic league has at last succeeded in "ruining" high school football, declare Pampa high school coaches and Pampa fans.

The league executive committee has adopted the 18-year-old age rule in all contests, to become effective on September 1, 1936. It will mean that a student 18 years old or younger on September 1, 1936, will be eligible for competition that year but a student who becomes 18 before that date will be ruled out.

In announcing the change, Roy Bedichek, chief of the league bureau for the University of Texas, said, "following the recommendation of the state meeting of delegates of the interscholastic league in Austin recently, the committee adopted the rule."

The meeting in question was a breakfast held during the state interscholastic league meet, track and field, and literary, and a few superintendents and a few track and field coaches, with probably a smattering of football coaches. The question is how a rule can be passed without the favorable vote of football coaches.

Supt. R. B. Fisher was not at the meeting, nor was Coach Odus Mitchell, who was in Austin but had no knowledge of what was to come up at the breakfast. The long and short of the situation was that the rule was adopted at a meeting of unaffected persons.

In discussing the rule yesterday, it was brought out that the new rule will help only the large schools. Such schools as Amarillo, Waco, Wichita Falls, and others with large enrollments will benefit.

The new rule will practically do away with inter-state football. It would be suicide to send a group of boys 15, 16, or 17 years of age against boys in their late teens or early twenties. Pampa has two teams with Oklahoma teams and one game with a Colorado team this year. Next year, Coach Mitchell declared, he would not think of sending a bunch of youngsters into a game against that type of team.

Years of work to make the game of football safer has been nullified by the new rule. There have been many deaths in football. Most of them have been among younger boys. The change will bring younger ones into the game. They cannot stand the pace like the older boys and will be more susceptible to injury, it is believed.

Junior colleges will "reap the glory" through the plan. Boys who cannot graduate at the deadline age will go to junior colleges, where they can compete. It will mean the sending of youngsters away from home influence long before they are ready to combat life for themselves.

Revolt Foreseen.

In looking over his list yesterday, Coach Mitchell found that only boys eligible for football this fall will return next year. Under the present setup, there would be at least a dozen boys, who have no possible chance of graduating, eligible to return and compete in athletics.

The passing of the age rule will be contested, Coach Mitchell declared yesterday. He has yet to talk with a coach who is favorable to the change, he said.

Rabid fans are for taking high school football out of the hands of the interscholastic league. Texas universities, and setting up a high school organization to run high school football.

Bedichek Approves.

AUSTIN, May 11.—Following the recommendation of the state meeting of delegates of the interscholastic league, the state executive committee has adopted the 18-year-old age rule to become effective September 1, 1936, in all contests, athletic, literary, artistic and commercial. This rule will render obsolete several rules which have cluttered up the rule-book for several years, it was pointed out by Roy Bedichek, chief of the Bureau of Public School Interests at the University of Texas.

"It, in itself, will do more than any other half dozen rules to guarantee to bona fide high school students the privilege of engaging in the league's program of educational competitions," Mr. Bedichek said.

The proposal was presented in detail at the state meeting by Roy Henderson, athletic director, and was adopted unanimously. This definitely places the Texas organization far in the lead of other states, Mr. Bedichek said. With the exception of New York, where a 19-year-old rule is in effect, all other states permit participation until 20 or 21, irrespective of the fact that the average age of graduation is around 17 years.

Considered For Years.

On recommendation of the recent state meeting of delegates, the executive committee directed the appointment of a committee to work out a statewide conference under the sponsorship of the league. This proposal, on motion of Chaplain T. R. Strygley of Port Arthur, was adopted by a vote of 10 to 2.

Another action of the state meeting, recommended the addition of one individual to girls' tennis doubles teams and one alternate to girls' singles entries, was adopted. This recommendation was

4 Girls Drown At Hutchinson

HUTCHINSON, Kas., May 11. (AP)—Four girls, three of them sisters, were drowned today when they waded into deep water in the Arkansas river.

The dead: Lorraine Metz, 6; Thelma Metz, 8; Esther Metz, 3; Ida May Blower, 7.

W. S. Straight, fishing on the river, told officers he saw the play-thing children disappear into deep water. He hurried to call help and firemen with grappling hooks recovered two of the bodies 20 minutes later. Respirators were used without avail.

Later in the afternoon the other two bodies were recovered.

GOLFERS ASSEMBLE

DALLAS, May 11. (AP)—Texas' professional golfers and a few of the state's amateur players were assembling here tonight in preparation for the national open sectional qualifying round to be played Monday, and the 72 holes Texas P. G. A. championship scheduled Tuesday and Wednesday.

HARVESTER BASEBALLERS WIN FROM ELK CITY NINE 16-13

Pampa high school's first official baseball team won its opening game Friday afternoon in Elk City, Okla., by outslugging the home team for a 16 to 13 victory. A return game will be played at Road Runner park Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Gregory's wildness kept the Harvester in trouble throughout the game. He tightened in the pinches, however, and went the route. Two walks, an error and a home run, put Elk City in the running in the fourth inning after Pampa had batted a comfortable lead. Glen made by the state meeting of delegates unanimously on motion of Supt. R. D. Green of Abilene. The recommendation made by the state meeting of delegates on motion of Miss McAlpine of Anderson, to include junior tennis in county meets, was adopted by the executive committee, effective for the 1935-36 school year. Junior declaimers were advanced to regional competition by action of the state committee, acting on recommendation of the state meeting of delegates. This change is also made effective for the next school year.

Local Club Defeats LeFors 13-12 in Slug-Fest

A four-play wallop over the first batter by Bill Jarratt, with Fred Cullum on base and no one out, gave the Pampa Kiwanis club a 13 to 12 victory over the LeFors Kiwanis club in a charity game at Road Runner park Friday afternoon. The Pampans won a game in LeFors in the previous week.

The battle was a free-slugging affair from the opening gun. Weathered was on the mound for Pampa with Berg dishing up the slants for LeFors. Both were knocked from the mound in the second inning. Flynn and Bronson did duty for the visitors.

The local sluggers sent five runs across the plate in the opening inning. Coltexo was held scoreless until the second inning, when they forced lead with four-run batters. The visitors went into the lead in the third with five more runs. They held it until the last inning when Gaston Foote, batting for Bill Lang, hit a double in front of the plate. Cullum ran for Foote. Jarratt then hit his homer inside the park to score the tying run ahead of him.

Fielding gems were turned in by Guy McTaggart, R. A. Selby, Bill Lang, and H. E. McCarley, who missed nearly everything that went their way. Goldston again led the scoring with three runs. De Johnson and Harris did some lively hitting.

"Pockets" Flynn homered inside the park, scoring Ogden and Duncan ahead of him, in the third inning. Carpenter and Bronson did some lively slugging for LeFors.

Pampa players seeing action included Fred Thompson, Dr. R. M. Johnson, Harris, W. B. Weathered, Jack Goldston, R. A. Selby, H. E. McCarley, Guy McTaggart, Bill Lang, Bill Jarratt, Fred Cullum, Gaston Foote.

LeFors players included Bill Bronson, R. H. Duncan, Brown McDonald, Ben Williams, Flynn, Barrett, Arlie Carpenter, Rev. Lloyd Jones, Combs, Hill, Ralph Ogden, Dr. York, Berg, Gray, F. L. Mize.

Umpires were Rayburn Thompson, Pete Post and Ben Williams. Post umpired bases from a chair along the first base line. He was the target for several wild throws.

Proceeds from the two games went to charity funds of the two clubs.

DAVIDS LOSE 2ND GAME OF ROAD RUNNERS

PLAYER CLASHES WITH UMPIRES ENLIVEN CLOSE TILT

Behind the steady pitching of Tiger Joe Berry, the Pampa Road Runners made it two in a row over the House of David bearded beauties Friday night when they did some heavy hitting for a 7 to 5 win. The hirsute men fell before the Pampa team Wednesday night.

A couple of umpiring squabbles enlivened the game. Big John Tucker, House of David first baseman, shoved the base umpire and a few minutes later Catcher Fleming tried unsuccessfully to push the diminutive ball and strike umpire around.

The first difference of opinion came in the sixth inning when Ward hit a hot grounder to short. Atwell threw to Tucker in time to get the runner, but Umpire Fred Lassiter claimed that the elongated first baseman juggled the ball. The crowd agreed with Tucker, but the crowd was wrong and the umpire right, "believe it or not." From the press box on top of the stand, the play was in clear sight. Tucker juggled the ball in the air that Ward crossed the bag.

The other difficulty arose in the same inning with Ward again being the Road Runner involved. It was a squeeze play, with Tucker taking the ball and throwing home. There was doubt whether Fleming had his foot on the base and also some doubt whether the ball beat Ward to the plate. Umpire Jimmie Baldwin called the player safe but after a conference with the other official, ruled the player out.

Berry Gives 10 Hits.

The play on first, which eventually allowed a run to cross the plate, made no difference to the outcome of the ball game, since the Road Runners had a two-run margin.

Berry pitched great ball against the David sluggers, allowing them only 10 scattered hits. He fanned five batters and fielded his position scintillatingly. Bass fanned seven but was picked for 16 bingles, including a triple by Summers, on the first pitched ball of the game, three doubles by Brickell, and doubles by Seitz and Ward.

The wind was tricky, affecting the bearded players somewhat.

Brickell, Seitz, and Horton led the Road Runner attack with three hits each. Summers continued to hit the ball hard, getting a triple and double. Several great fielding plays cut off runs in the pinches. Summers, Ward, Seitz, and Patton came in for their share of the applause. Brickell handled only one ball in left field, a grounder which got him an assist when he picked a man off second. Fleming made a great save at third when he took a one-hander stab at a hot grounder and got his man at first.

Anderson Stars.

Anderson was the big hitter for the bearded nine. He gathered three hits, including a triple, and crossed the plate. Atwell, Cliff, and Hulsom got to Berry for doubles. Probably the outstanding play of the game was Tucker's sensational bare-handed stab of a hot liner which he threw to second to get Seitz. Atwell at shortstop had six putouts. His teammate, Hansen, on the other side of the second sack, had six assists.

The Road Runners pulled two snappy double plays. The first, when Cox took a hot liner on the bag and threw to Summers, a second, when Seitz and Horton were retired the side and cut off a run.

The other two-plays killing was Ward to Summers to Cox. The bearded players scored three runs after the double killing, however.

OMAHA TAKES ANOTHER RACE AT PREAKNESS

WINNER OF KENTUCKY DERBY OUTRUNS 7 OTHERS

BALTIMORE, May 11. (AP)—William Woodward's Omaha, winner of the Kentucky derby, today defeated seven other 3-year-olds in the 45th running of the Preakness.

Walter M. Jefford's Firethorn was second and Mrs. Dodge Sloan's Psychic Bid third.

Taking the lead coming out of the back stretch Omaha rolled home six lengths clear of Firethorn with Psychic Bid another six lengths to the rear. Magnana was fourth while Nellie Flag was next to the last, far back of the flying Woodward.

Guided by Willie (Smoky) Saunders, Omaha ran much the same type of a race as he did in taking the derby a week ago.

He was away in fifth place but quickly moved into a contending position. As he turned into the backstretch with Brannoh setting the pace, he still was some 10 lengths back. But then he began to run and collared the leaders turning out of the backstretch. From there on it was merely a gallop for the son of Gallant Fox, which won both the derby and Preakness in 1930.

Omaha was clocked in 1:58 2-5 for the one and three-sixteenths miles. His time was only one-fifth of a second slower than the record set by his quest in winning the event last year.

The record crowd of 40,000 made Omaha the odds-on choice, a $2 win mutual returning $3.90. Firethorn, running coupled with Commonwealth, paid $4.40 to place while a $2 ticket on Psychic Bid was worth $4.60.

Back of the four leaders in order finished: Commonwealth, Brannoh, Nellie Flag, and Boxhorn, which again disappointed his owner, E. R. Bradley.

IRATE RACING FANS RIOT AT TEXAS DOWNS

INCORRECT POSTING OF HORSE LEADS TO RAMPAGE

SAN ANTONIO, May 11. (AP)—More than 1,000 irate racing fans at Alamogosa Downs Saturday evening swept across the track, tore down the mutuels odds-board, threw stones through the press box in the stands and stopped racing for several hours.

The posting of Statecraft, winner of the sixth race at odds of 40 to 1 on the board, caused a pay-off of $10,800 brought about the riot. C. Parke, state racing inspector, looked over the sheets in the mutuels department and declared that the posting was an error. He said that Starkist, which ran second, should have been posted at 40 to 1 and Statecraft at 4 to 1. The fact that Starkist paid $15 to place, he said, supported his findings.

Fights broke out at several places through the stands which contained more than 8,000 persons, coincident with the rush for the mutuels board. A general riot was feared and emergency calls sent to the sheriff's office and the city police headquarters. Chief of Police Owen W. Kilday headed a police riot squad of 20 policemen armed with guns and tear gas to the scene while another score of deputy sheriffs arrived as soon as they could.

The crowd was placed under control in a few minutes, after the start of the seventh race had been halted by the crowd blocking the entrance to the track. The track was cleared and the throng gathered in the enclosure in front of the stands where the three ringleaders harangued large groups. Officers gathered around the crowds in a menacing attitude and no new outbreaks were feared.

Due to the inspection revealing that the mistake was a clerical one, the bets were paid off at the rate of $10.80.

A newspaper man in the press box, who suffered cuts from flying glass when a rock came through the window, was the only casualty reported.

LONGHORNS TAKE SOUTHWEST MEET; FIVE RECORDS BROKEN

COLLEGE STATION, May 11. (AP)—The University of Texas Longhorns today galloped and jumped to their fourth straight championship in the twentieth annual Southwest conference track meet in which five records were broken and one tied.

The Longhorns piled up 73½ points, 25 more than Rice's 48½ for second place. The Texas Aggies were third with 37½. Baylor made 7, Arkansas 4½, Southern Methodist 3 and Texas Christian 1.

Charley (Tiny) Grunelson of the Longhorns reaped individual scoring honors with 13 points. He won first in the broad jump, took second in the 220, tied for second in the century and ran laps on the winning relay teams.

One half point behind him was his teammate "Chink" Walender. The meet had barely started when Walter Skripka of A. & M. broke the javelin record with a toss of 206 feet, 3½ inches on his second throw.

Walender tied the record of 9.6 in the century and lopped four-tenths of a second off the 220 with time of 20.5 seconds. Ed Wicker, Aggies, and Charley Grunelson, Longhorns, ran a dead heat for second.

Other new records were: Dave Weichert, Rice, pole vault, 13 feet, 5 and 5/8 inches; Jess Petty, Rice, Discus, 154 feet, 8½ inches, breaking his own record; Longhorns, 440-yard relay—Moody, Pickett, Jeff Austin, Grunelson and Walender.

Stanford university campus claimed to be the largest of any educational institution, comprises 8,000 acres.

COLBERT ACTS AS PHYSICIAN IN NEW PLAY

OLD ILLUSIONS ABOUT LOVE DESTROYED IN "PRIVATE WORLDS"

In her first motion picture appearance since she won the Motion Picture Academy award for 1934, Claudette Colbert proves her right to that prize and again demonstrates her startling versatility in a role entirely different from her past ones. The picture is Walter Wanger's psychological love drama, "Private Worlds," which will open at the La Nora theater today.

Cast in the leading role of a daring and intelligent picture that sweeps aside all the old illusions about love to show the inhibitions, complexes and repressions that are true villains of romance, Miss Colbert appears as a truly efficient, cool, and capable woman doctor, a woman seemingly without personal affections but with a great love for the suffering.

Miss Colbert and Joel McCrea are carrying on important scientific work in their posts at a hospital for the insane when the appointment of a new doctor, Charles Boyer, as head of the hospital, disrupts their little world.

McCrea is attached to his quiet and dependent little wife, Joan Bennett, but he is lured from her by Boyer's vampire sister. The antagonism between Miss Colbert and Boyer flares up. Changes in hospital routine cause riots in the danger ward and a serious situation. Finally Joan Bennett, who has learned of her husband's infidelity, collapses and is faced with a possible loss of her mind. In her desperate and successful efforts to untangle the tangle of all their lives, Miss Colbert reveals herself in her true colors. She learns that she has taken refuge from love in the memory of a dead sweetheart and that her apparent hatred for Boyer actually conceals a growing love for him.

Phyllis Bottome's successful novel of the same name furnished the original for "Private Worlds," which was skillfully directed by Gregory La Cava.

Joel McCrea and Joan Bennett render particularly praiseworthy performances in roles that give them ample opportunity for real display of their talents. Sam Hinds, Jean Rouverol, and Big Boy Williams stand out in minor roles.

TEXAS INDEPENDENCE HALL IS BUILT IN REPLICAT AT BRENHAM

MARLIN, May 11. (Special)—Visitors to Marlin during the observance of Texas' Centennial in 1936 will be afforded a pleasant day's outing by a motor trip southward to two of the most interesting sites identified with early days of Texas history. Both old Washington-on-the-Brazos, where was signed Texas' declaration of freedom, and Independence are off the highways but are easily accessible by automobiles. Washington being on a paved state highway and Independence being located on a good dry-weather road now slated for improvement.

The route from Marlin leads southward on State Highway No. 6 to Navasota, thence westward on No. 90 to Washington. Leaving Marlin as late as 8 a. m., motorists may spend upwards of an hour browsing about Washington and then reach Independence about the noon hour. There they will find ideal locations for an outdoor lunch. Continuing westward from Washington on Highway No. 90 to a right-hand turnoff, marked by a sign, Independence can be reached. To return to Marlin by a different route, the motorists from Independence may take the road to Brenham and proceed northward on Highway No. 36 via Caldwell and Cameron to where Highway No. 40 leads into Falls county and arrive back in Marlin by 3 p. m.

"Here a Nation was born" reads a monument in what is now Washington State park, erected by school children of Washington county, of which Brenham is the county seat, in 1899. Near the monument stands a replica of the building where the convention which proclaimed Texas as an independent republic, was held. Small in size, still evidently it was adequate to house over half a hundred delegates who assembled there to give birth to a nation. On its walls hang copies of the historic Declaration of Independence and of the Great Seal of Texas. Adorning the park also is a large brick pavilion, housing a commodious assembly hall and stage, and erected by the state in 1930.

Following a winding driveway from the park into the Brazos Valley, the motorist glimpses the junction of the "Navasot" river with that stream.

Independence will impress the visitor as one of the most beautiful spots in all of Texas. Here lies in a humble burial plot, marked by a tiny tombstone, the remains of "Margaret Lea, wife of Sam Houston, Born in Marion, Ala., April 11, 1819, died Dec. 3, 1867." There also is the grave of her mother, "Nancy, wife of Temple Lea, born May 1, 1780, died Feb. 7, 1864." Another tombstone marks the grave of the "Infant son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Williams." Also graves of two of the Houston family servants, "Aunt Eliza" and "Aunt Lettie" are indicated by inscriptions on the tombstones. Adjoining the lot are the walls of a tomb prepared for the Houston family, but its state of decay ultimately led to removal of the bodies to the plot adjoining.

On every hand one finds evidence of early settlement—ruins of buildings constructed of native stone. Stately mansions, sentinels of another era, dot the landscape. Visitors are shown the site of the old Houston home, some logs from which today are said to form a part of a barn nearby.

Across the road from the Houston burial grounds stands the Independence Baptist church, organized in September of 1839. The original building, remodeled in 1872, still is the place of worship for a congregation, there being an attendance of 42 in Sunday school on a recent Sabbath. The church boasts a tower of rock from old Baylor, in which hangs a bell bearing an inscription recalling its donation to the church from "Billey Leas Houston. Inside, suspended from the lofty ceiling is a brass chandelier, bearing a dozen kerosene lamps, used for lighting for many years. One of the stately windows contains all of its original tinted panes.

From the church may be viewed the hill where stood the original Baylor, while on another eminence rise graceful columns denoting the spot where once stood the first Baylor College for Women. Parts of the walls still stand and nearby are its dormitories, now in a state of ruin.

Here for five years students of Baylor were taught co-educationally in one small building, but became divided into two parts in 1881, taught by different faculties in separate buildings a mile apart. Today these are represented by Baylor university at Waco and Mary Hardin-Baylor college, located at Belton.

At the age of 70, William Moore of Kernville, Cal., has cut a tunnel through rock, more than 80 feet in length to intercept an expected gold ledge.

Demands Judge Be Impeached

Alleging "favoritism and breach of duty," Representative Everett Dirksen, Peoria, Ill., Republican, has brought impeachment action against Federal Judge Samuel Aleschiner of Chicago in the House. Dirksen was the target of a bitter Democratic attack after his speech, being accused of a political move to add his governor's boom.

JEAN PARKER'S LATEST FILM BROUGHT HERE

SHE HAS ANIMALS OF WILDS AS HER PLAYMATES

Taking its place among the most unusual films ever attempted in the history of motion pictures is the nature story, "Sequoia," pronounced "See-on-yah," recently completed by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios and opening today at the Rex theater.

Started nearly two years ago in the wildest section of the High Sierras, included in the confines of Sequoia National park, the picture presented a most insurmountable production difficulties.

Hordes of deer stalked by cameramen for hundreds of miles through underbrush, over wind-breaks, across mountain streams to "back country" never entered by hunters. Pack trains of mules carried equipment to the world's highest lakes on an elevation of 11,000 feet where scenic beauties never seen except by forest ranger patrols were photographed for the first time.

A friendship between a mountain lion and a deer, never believed possible by most naturalists, provides a basis for the "animal drama" that required months of tireless effort and literally thousands of feet of film. Every natural move they made from two weeks of age until full grown had to be taken from ambush, with perhaps one minute of usable footage a day.

When the two animals reached full growth they were turned into the forest with a "convoy" of a dozen cameramen stationed in a large circle on runway tracks, and in high trees, to continue their record of amazing animal life.

In addition to the mountain lion and deer, many other specimens of wild life were followed to their natural haunts, including coyotes, bears, raccoons, eagles, rattlesnakes, baby fawns, and small lion cubs.

Jean Parker is featured.

All members of the committee on forming playground ball leagues, and persons and stores and organizations planning to sponsor teams, have been notified to meet in the chamber of commerce rooms in the city hall at 8 o'clock Tuesday night. Odus Mitchell is general chairman. He urges sponsors to be ready to go Tuesday night.

To Guard Pound

The city pound in the northeast part of the city will be guarded by the future, Chief of Police Art Hurst announced yesterday after the pound had been entered for the third time recently. On each occasion dogs had been released and the locks stolen. An attempt was made to enter the store room Friday night.

Troop 22 Meets

Signaling and marching were featured at the troop meeting Friday night. B. C. Rogers was named treasurer of a fund to purchase a troop flag. The troop also drilled yesterday afternoon and then defeated Miami in a baseball game. Sixteen registered Scouts and four scouts attended the Friday night meeting.

Textile Official Slugged on Sand Springs Street

SAND SPRINGS, Okla., May 11. (AP)—T. E. Pafford, secretary-manager of the Commander textile mill here, was slugged late this afternoon as he walked along a main street here.

Pafford was taken to a hospital in Tulsa, where it was said his condition was serious. He was unconscious.

Identity of the person who struck Pafford as he walked by a group of men had not been learned, county and city officers said. No arrests had been made.

Deputy sheriffs were patrolling the streets at the time of the attack. They had been called to Sand Springs by the mill operator following fights between United Textile workers and employees of Commander mills.

Earlier in the day Dean Williams, mill clerk, was struck from behind as was Pafford. Williams was not injured seriously. One man was arrested for hitting Williams and was released after being questioned.

Congressmen Hit At FDR's Aides

WASHINGTON, May 11. (AP)—Harsh, sarcastic remarks by two democratic house leaders today stirred new life into the months-old argument over whether administration officials treat congressmen with the proper respect and consideration.

One leader, Rep. Sabath of Illinois, chairman of the unofficial house democratic steering committee, said he would discuss the situation with President Roosevelt next week.

The other, Rep. O'Connor of New York, chairman of the rules committee, declared that it was every man for himself on the question of patronage—getting jobs for constituents.

Sabath's criticism centered on "these upstarts downtown who take themselves so damn seriously."

"What we're trying to do is bring about fair treatment of congressmen so they won't have to spend half their time downtown waiting to see the fourth assistant to the assistant secretary."

"If they would give us the same attention they give to a lot of lobbyists and fellows who hang around all the time, it would be all right."

O'Connor told newspapermen that patronage troubles were caused by self-perpetuating groups that continue in office as administrations come and go.

Henderson Dies Of Long Illness

E. F. Henderson, 47, local painting contractor, died at his home, 608 North Banks street, Friday night following a long illness. He had been a resident of Pampa for seven years.

Mr. Henderson was a member of the Knights of Pythias lodge and also a member of the First Methodist church here.

Surviving are his wife and one daughter, Mrs. Judith Horn of Fort Worth, one son, George Henderson of Pampa, and a granddaughter, Gale Henderson. Other survivors are a sister, Mrs. Edith Grant of Knobloster, Mo., and two brothers, Nathaniel Henderson of Kansas City and Ralph T. Henderson of Knobloster.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the First Methodist church with the Rev. Gaston Foote officiating. Burial will follow in Fairview cemetery in charge of Pampa Mortuary.

Princeton Seniors Would Marry for Money, They Vote

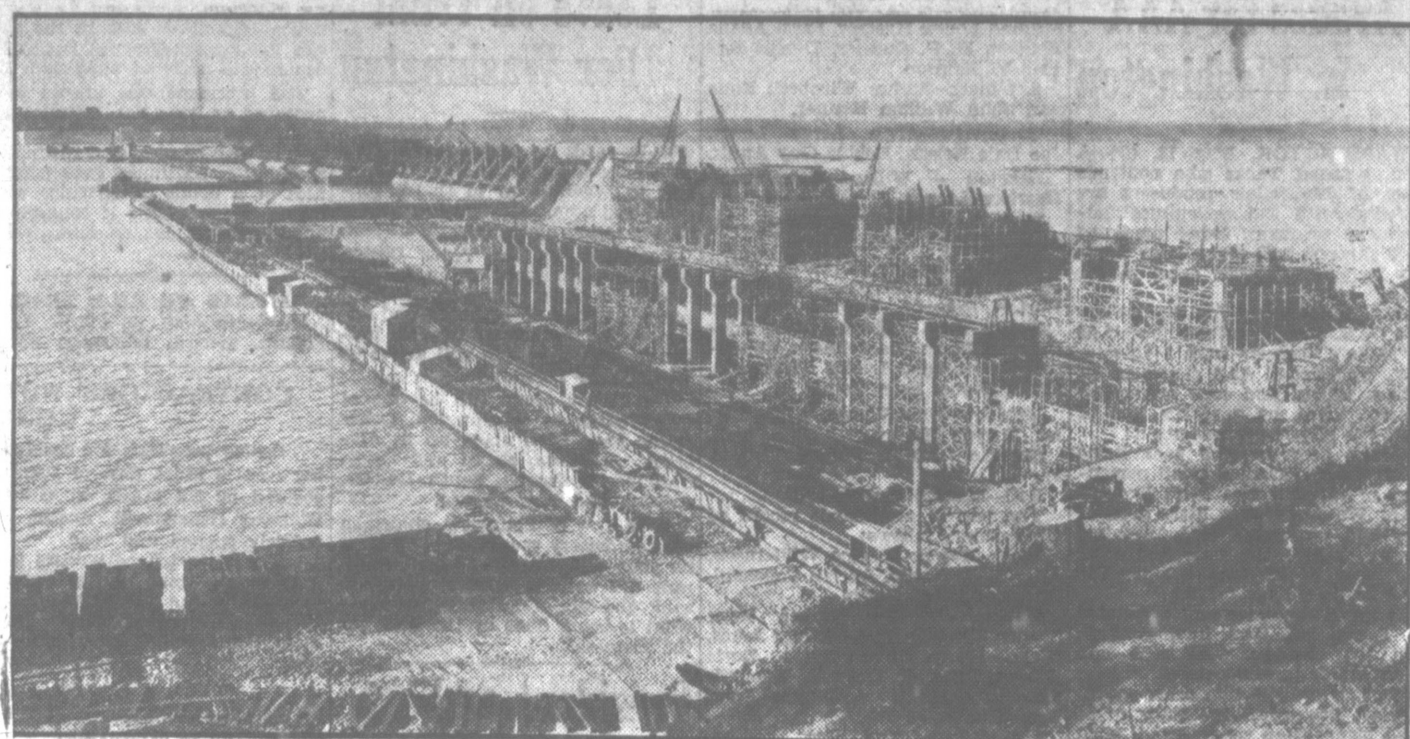

PRINCETON, N. J., May 11. (AP)—Would you marry for money? One hundred and forty-eight Princeton seniors would, and another 74 are undecided but let it go with a "maybe."

Voting on a number of things this week, such as "what is your favorite poem?" the senior class also let it be known that 117 of their number do not smoke, but that only 60 do not drink.

One question was: How many times have you been turned down? The answers were: Never, 416; once, 26; twice, 6; innumerable times, 4.

WHEELER DAM PASSES FIRST HALF OF BUILDING STAGE

A giant barrier 6000 feet long and 65 feet high, the $38,000,000 Wheeler Dam, more than half completed, here stretches across the Tennessee river, one of the most important links in the TVA power program. Reared at the head of the lake formed by Wilson Dam, it is being built to relieve that structure at the time of peak loads. In the foreground are the foundation sections for the powerhouse. On the opposite side—the slab of white in the picture—is the navigation lock which army engineers built before TVA took over construction. Wheeler Dam, midway between Florence and Decatur, Ala., will create a reservoir of about 100 square miles.

New Game Law Finally Passed

AUSTIN, May 11. (AP)—A modified universal hunting and fishing license law was finally approved today by the legislature.

It would authorize 110 of Texas' 254 counties to levy a $1 hunting license on persons hunting protected game in the county of their residence. No license would be required in the other counties. The bill continued a license of $2 on persons hunting outside the county of residence.

Unprotected game, including squirrels and rabbits, could be hunted by persons in counties of their residence without a license.

A license of $1.10 would be levied on persons fishing with natural bait outside the county of their residence. These with artificial lure would be exempt.

The conference report was adopted by the senate, 14 to 13, but by a larger majority in the house.

Republicans Ask A Reduction of FDR'S Program

WASHINGTON, May 11. (AP)—A sharp republican demand that the Roosevelt five-point legislative program be two-thirds, in order to allow congress to adjourn by July 1, today met an uncompromising negative by administration leaders.

Senator McNary of Oregon, the minority chief, predicting abundant controversy over the quintet of measures laid down by President Roosevelt for action before adjournment, said the legislature should act on NRA extension, social security and appropriations bills and go home.

This would mean the scrapping of the public utility holding company abolition bill, the omnibus banking measure and expansion of transportation regulation. The republican leader contends all three might well go over until next winter's session.

Democrats at yesterday's party conference took no action to shelve the program. McNary expressed keen disappointment at this today. Meanwhile, President Roosevelt is letting congress fuss and fume.

'Mother' Dionne Bewails Loss of Her Quintuplets

CALENDER, Ont., May 11. (AP)—A deluge of mother's day cards and greetings has descended upon the Dionne farmhouse in honor of the world's only mother of quintuplets.

To Mrs. Olivia Dionne the messages have come from all parts of Canada, the U. S. and even other countries.

But to her tomorrow will not be just as she would like it. Resentful of the legislation that made the quintuplets special wards of the king, the 26-year-old mother said today, "On mother's day I should be happy, but how can I when my babies have been taken from me?"

Though she crosses the road more frequently now to visit her babies in her hospital home, she said, "They don't know me, their mother."

But tomorrow may bring some compensation. Yvonne, Annette, Cecile, Emilie and Marie will present their mother with a huge bouquet of flowers.

Dallas Beaten For 25th Time

DALLAS, May 11. (AP)—The Dallas Steers lost their twenty-fifth Texas league contest of the season tonight when the Houston Buffaloes blanked them, 2 to 0, in the first of a three-game series.

Facing the hang-up hurling of William McGhee, the Steers failed to make a serious scoring threat. McGhee let the herd down with 4 one-base raps, no two of them in the same inning.

Only one Steer got as far as second base and that was after two were out in the eighth and an outfield bobbie by Johnny Rizzo let Bert Connatter take an extra station on a single.

district court action declared the defendants sold chain letters to the plaintiffs at $5 each and promised to sell other letters until the names of the plaintiffs reached the top of the list. It was alleged the sellers promised a profit of $5,120 to each of the plaintiffs.

"The defendants refused, neglected and failed to sell sufficient letters for the names of the plaintiffs to reach the top," the petition set forth.

"I'm in the same fix as the fellows who sued," said one of the defendants, Jerome Bernstein, "I'm holding the sack too. The suit is ridiculous."

Tonight a distinct slump in the chain letter business was apparent in Oklahoma as church people clamored for a shutting up of the establishments tomorrow, operators sought to revive lagging interest and business men said moodily that their usual Saturday business had been below normal because folks neglected their usual Saturday buying to get in on the chains.

HOUNDS TRAIL FUGITIVES IN RIVER BOTTOM

ONE ARMED CONVICT IS FOUND SHOT AND HE SURRENDERS

HUNTSVILLE, May 11. (AP)—One of three armed fugitives from the Eastham state prison farm was captured today and the others were closely pursued by a pack of bloodhounds in the Trinity river bottoms.

Prison officials expressed the opinion the other two would be captured shortly.

"I've got a good bunch of men on their trail and some fine dogs," said Captain B. B. Monzingo, farm manager. "I think we'll catch up with them pretty soon."

"They've got to eat pretty soon and there's not much food in that section."

Harry Lutlow, the man captured, was found badly wounded about three miles from the prison farm. He was lying on the ground with a bullet wound in his right lung, and offered no resistance, though armed with a 12-gauge shotgun.

Lutlow was under 35-year sentence for robbery from Galveston. The two remaining at liberty were Sam Grant and R. G. Tipton, both serving life terms for murder.

The trio escaped last night after a guard and a fellow fugitive had been slain.

Lee Simmons, general manager of the Texas prison system, investigated the break today. He said prison officials expected early capture of the fleeing trio.

Virgil Welch, a guard, was killed and Guard Tom Stephens and Homer Parker, convict trusty, injured by Jack Paddy, leader of the break who himself was slain a few hours later.

Simmons described the shooting of Paddy:

"George Osborne, a guard, was one of a number of guards and posemen stationed between the fleeing convicts and the road after the break. Suddenly Osborne, armed with an automatic rifle, saw Paddy step from behind a tree, a six-shooter in each hand.

"Paddy was about 20 yards away. He kept coming, so Osborne cut down on him," said Simmons. "He swept him with fire from his head to his knees. Paddy had six to eight bullet holes in him when he was brought to the hospital."

Simmons said he expected quick capture of the fugitive group.

"It is possible they are waiting for darkness to attempt to slip through, meantime remaining hidden in some negro shacks. The dogs kept trailing them holly until early today."

The break followed 18 hours after the execution of Raymond Hamilton and Joe Palmer, convicted for slaying a guard from the same farm. Quiet prevailed at the Central prison farm here after a general riot of 100 prisoners in the yard yesterday, when Erney Young, fiendish player, was knifed to death.

Father Stoutly Denies He Slew 5 With Poison

NEW YORK, May 11. (AP)—A crippled, 49-year-old bookkeeper, held without bail for allegedly slaying his wife and four of their five children by mixing poison with their cocoa, sat slumped in the Raymond street jail tonight protesting he was innocent.

Through more than 24 hours vigorous police questioning, Frederick Gross admitted only that he had access in his employer's chemical plant to the lethal substance that brought death to five members of his family in four weeks.

Arraigned on a short affidavit charging him with the multiple deaths, he was ordered held for examination Monday.

Gross was calm as he answered questions of Acting Police Captain Frederick Swire in the police lineup.

"When your wife and children became ill that night did you send for a doctor?" Captain Swire asked.

"Yes, immediately."

"At dinner that night did you eat the same food they did?"

"Yes."

"Did you drink cocoa?"

"No. They drank cocoa and I drank coffee."

Swire then asked him if he put poison in the cocoa.

"I did not," he replied firmly.

McDONALD

mental bill appropriated $13,134,423 for the next biennium, an increase of 13 per cent, and the educational bill, $10,786,865, an increase of 15 per cent. Previously approved were the elementary and judiciary bills appropriating, respectively, $10,405,280 and $3,898,256.

In a statement, Senator John S. Redditt of Lufkin, chairman of the senate finance committee, estimated that the legislative bill appropriated approximately $13,000,000 more than the previous legislature, but that the figure included $3,000,000 for the centennial celebration and $5,500,000 for retirement of a portion of the $20,000,000 relief bonds.

In the closing hours the senate killed a proposed constitutional amendment to exempt $3,000 of the assessed valuation of homesteads from local taxation, but the house submitted a constitutional amendment to restrict the pardoning power of the governor and to change the method of appointing the board of pardons and paroles.

The legislature wound up its program by reviving the closing hours to provide a universal hunting license in certain counties, to impose a tax on coin operated marble machines, estimated to raise between $500,000 and $1,000,000 annually, and to pay miscellaneous claims totaling $27,901.

Bills Signed.

Previously it discarded a conference committee report on a bill to enact a universal drivers' license law.

Owing to the mass legislation that poured through in the closing hours, the senate turned back to permit clerks to prepare the bills for signature and it was expected the session would extend to midnight or longer.

Governor Allred signed a bill, HB 101, passed overwhelmingly by both houses, defining and regulating the practice of dentistry.

Small Appointed. Presiding officers named as members of a joint committee to confer with an Oklahoma legislative group on a boundary dispute: Senators Clint Small of Amarillo and Frank Rawlings of Fort Worth, and Reps. B. L. Rogers of Farnsworth, Hammond K. Stanford of Amarillo, and A. B. Tarwater of Plainview. About 4,800 acres along the northern end of the Panhandle was involved.

Kenedy county land owners were thanked in a resolution by Senator Jim Neal of Mirador, City for providing a right-of-way for highway 96, long a Rio Grande valley issue.

AUSTIN, May 11. (AP)—The books of the forty-fourth legislature were balanced today, figuratively, and the following acts stood out:

1. It submitted the question of repealing state prohibition and ten other proposed constitutional amendments.

2. It enacted approximately 300 laws affecting the social and economic life of the state, and killed outright or allowed to die slow deaths approximately 1,200 proposed laws.

3. It passed laws to tighten existing statutes and add an estimated $6,500,000 to the state's revenue, but otherwise took no direct steps to reduce the deficit of approximately $15,000,000, at the same time appropriating an estimated $7,000,000 to $8,900,000 more than the budget for the past biennium.

4. It approved part, but rejected most, of Governor Allred's program, including repeal of the law permitting pari-mutual wagering on horse racing, which also had been advocated in the state democratic platform.

5. It investigated the administration of several departments and the treatment of convicts at the Re-serve prison farm, created a committee to investigate illegal production of oil and monopolistic practices among milk companies, continued the senate general investigating committee, but refused to conduct a broad investigation into official acts of virtually all state officials and its own members.

Estimates of the value of its work differed. While some critics said it was a "do nothing" legislature, which floundered against worthy bills, others maintained it had stopped much harmful legislation.

Relations between Governor Allred, who succeeded Governor Miriam A. Ferguson in January, and the legislature, for the most part, were harmonious. The house refused to elect the speaker he favored, choosing Coke Stevenson of Junction.

Send a flower to Mother Sunday, May 12.—Clayton Floral Co. adv.

over Bob Calvert of Hillsboro, but the contest left few open wounds. Governor Allred himself said the legislature had "done very well" and had enacted many constructive laws.

Governor Breaks Even

Measures advocated by the governor and approved included: Creation of a planning board to correlate state and federal recovery programs; ratification of an interstate compact to prevent waste of oil and gas; a new law intended to stop wastage of gas in the Panhandle; a law stringently regulating dealings in securities; creation of a public safety department including the highway patrol, the Rangers and bureaus of criminal identification, intelligence and education; various bills strengthening the hands of the railroad commission in enforcing conservation of natural resources.

Recommendations of the governor not followed included: Strict regulation of public utilities; a start toward balancing the budget; taxing chain stores and increasing the tax on sulphur; creating a state agency to build with federal funds a pipeline to transport natural gas from the Panhandle to St. Louis and Detroit; strict regulation of lobbying.

In the closing days, Governor Allred placed responsibility for failure to raise more revenue squarely with the legislature, unsuccessfully attempting to persuade it to extend the regular session until important business had been finished.

Noteworthy were two bills passed to aid in enforcing the oil conservation laws. One authorized confiscation of illegal oil products; the other increased from one-eighth to three-sixteenths of a cent a barrel the tax on oil production to support the oil and gas division of the railroad commission.

Acts On Relief

The legislature dealt with the relief problem in two days. It re-budgeted the remaining $3,500,000 of the $20,000,000 in relief bonds authorized by the people to cover months until next December.

The amendment proposing submission of constitutional amendments at special sessions was suggested primarily to permit action on relief, if necessary, before another regular session. At present constitutional amendments can be submitted only at regular sessions, and relief appropriations require constitutional authority.

The legislature created three new conservation and reclamation districts, the Sabine-Neches, Upper Colorado and San Jacinto, all having for their purpose utilization of the rivers waters. It also authorized the Lower Colorado river authority, previously created, to issue $20,000,000, instead of $10,000,000 bonds.

Pneumonia Fatal To Mrs. J. Saye

Pneumonia claimed another victim yesterday when Mrs. John Saye, 73, died at her country home 10 miles southeast of Pampa yesterday morning. Mrs. Saye had resided in this section for seven years but had been a resident of the West most of her life.

Plainview Man Argues for AAA In Washington

WASHINGTON, May 11. (AP)—A plain, bronzed Texas who contends most of his fellow producers are satisfied with the agricultural adjustment program, today predicted 3,000 farmers will arrive here Tuesday to give a visible boost to the AAA.

As advance agent for the gathering, O. H. Day, described himself as a "32-acre" farmer from Plainview, Tex., who signed AAA contracts for cotton, wheat, and corn production control. Then he gave his idea of what the pilgrimage was about:

"We've been hearing back home a lot of noise from a small percentage of farmers who don't like the AAA. We just got a little tired of this and we hadn't said anything. So we decided the time had come for those of us who approve the AAA to do a little talking."

Day said the movement originated in Texas, but that invitations to join the caravan were sent into every major farming state. "This is a little like other movements," Day said. "It's going to be a lot bigger than we expected. We'll have around 3,000 farmers in here from almost every state west of the Mississippi and from all states in the cotton belt."

"Our only purpose is to express our appreciation to the administration and to congress for what they have done for the farmers and to secure our support for any sound AAA program they want to adopt."

500 Farmers To Leave on Train For Washington

LONGVIEW, May 12 (Sunday). (AP)—Upwards of 500 farmers converged here today to start a train trip to Washington to thank congress and administration leaders for efforts to aid agriculture on its feet.

Sponsored by the Texas Cotton Advisory committee, cotton farmers elected by their fellow producers to represent them in planning and administering cotton adjustment programs, the delegation will arrive in Washington Tuesday.

The Texas group will be one of many going to Washington. Other trains have been made up in Alabama, Arkansas, North and South Carolina, Louisiana, South Dakota, Arizona and New Mexico.

C. H. Day of Plainview, chairman of the advisory council, said "This is no shirt-tail caravan or gimme parade. We want to let them know the rank and file of farmers appreciate what is being done by the AAA for the farmers."

President and Advisers Go to Mountain Camp

HANCOCK, Md., May 11. (AP)—Miles removed from turbulent Washington agitation over the cash bonus and administration legislative program, President Roosevelt and congressional chiefs talked tonight around a blazing wood fire high in the Blue Ridge mountains.

After an afternoon of fishing, they assembled in the Woodmont Rod and Gun club for a chat which had not fixed subject matter but was considered sure to canvass current issues foremost in capitol minds.

Grouped about Mr. Roosevelt were his ace advisors on legislative affairs — Vice President Garner, Speaker Byrnes, Senator Robinson, the democratic leader, and Senator Harrison, chairman of the finance committee. Also in the circle was Postmaster General Farley, the democratic national chairman.

The president was known to be prepared to veto the Patman currency-expansion bonus bill, and despite lack of official confirmation, speculation continued over possibilities of a bonus compromise which might be acceptable if congress—as administration leader forecast—upholds the veto.

ALLIED TO RIDE TRAIN DALLAS, May 11. (AP)—Lowry Martin, general chairman of the Texas Press association's special train committee, said today that Governor James V. Allred and Mrs. Allred will accompany the train on its tour of the south. The train is to leave Houston Sunday, May 10, at midnight, and will return to Dallas May 29 after a day intended to arouse interest in the Texas Centennial.

Engagement of Jackie Jones and Johnny Corrigan Announced at Luncheon

MRS. BIERY IS HOSTESS FOR LOVELY PARTY

ROSEBUDS DECK ROOM IN HONOREE'S COLORS

An announcement of widespread interest was made at a lovely 5 o'clock luncheon Thursday, revealing the engagement of Miss Jackie Jones and Johnny Corrigan. Mrs. Walter E. Bierly was hostess at her home, 415 N. Gray.

Assisting her in entertaining were her mother, Mrs. A. H. Doucette, and mother-in-law, Mrs. P. F. Bierly of Paola, Kansas, who has been her house guest the past two weeks.

Rooms were decorated in an artistic arrangement of pink rosebuds, which set the motif for all party appointments in the bride-to-be's chosen colors, pink and white.

Each luncheon table was laid with grass linen and a service of crystal and silver, and centered with a crystal rose bowl filled with pink rosebuds.

Place cards were in the form of scrolls tied with pink ribbon and attached to a rosebud. Inside, the announcement was written in gold ink: "Jackie and Johnny, Holy Souls church, May 30, 1935, 8 a. m."

After the luncheon hour the guests played bridge. Mrs. E. L. Turner won high score and received a white bud-bowl. Miss Lorene Nicholson, who scored low, was given a china cigarette chest and matching ash trays.

Cut prizes, the centerpiece, went to Mrs. Frank Carter, Miss Melba Graham, and Mrs. Turner.

Miss Jones' mother, Mrs. Jack Jones of Stamford, was a luncheon guest. Players who were served lunch were Misses Jones, Esther Stark, Lonna Willis, Jean Daly, Graham, and Nicholson; Misses Roy Bourland, Tom Herod, W. P. Carter, John Sturgeon, Turner, and Carter.

The bride-elect is one of the city's most popular young business women, and is known also as a talented pianist. She has lived here the past five years.

The last meeting of High School Parent-Teacher association for this year will be at chapel program for students on the morning of May 20, when awards for the year will be given.

Executive board members, meeting Friday, planned this program, an annual event for the association. Students who have won honors in music and literary activities through the year will receive awards.

Mothers of high school seniors planned their work for commencement week. A committee was named to decorate First Baptist church for the vespers service next Sunday, and plans were made to entertain the class with a supper at the school cafeteria immediately afterward.

Play Wedding Is Part of Recital

Pupils from the expression and singing classes of the Vincent studio will present their recital in the basement of First Methodist church Friday at 8 p. m. It is open to the public.

A Mickey Mouse wedding will be the feature. ELECTION AND BREAKFAST ON BPW PROGRAM

Tourney Wednesday To Aid Girl Scouts

A week of unusual activity is in store for the Business and Professional Women's club, which will have its Mother's day breakfast this morning, annual election of officers Tuesday, and first of a bridge tourney series Wednesday.

Mothers of members will be guests for the breakfast, at 9 a. m. today at Schneider hotel. Afterward the group will attend church.

The election will be at a business meeting in the club room at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday.

The tourney, planned to raise funds for assisting the Girls Scouts here, will launch a series of four. It will be in charge of Louise Whitfield and her committee, but reservations may be made with any member of the club.

Both auction and contract will be played. Separate prizes are offered in the games Wednesday evening, and for the series. About 25 tables will be arranged in city hall club rooms. They may be reserved by individuals, couples, or parties at the rate of a dollar a table.

Last Meeting of Baker P-TA Will Be Next Tuesday

All parents of B. M. Baker pupils, and of children who will start to that school next year, are invited to attend the final Parent-Teacher association program of this term Tuesday at 3 p. m.

Mrs. Cecil Lunsford, new president, will take charge and will name her committee chairman for next year. Discussions of membership and of the summer health roundup are scheduled.

The program will open with an invocation by Principal J. A. Meek. The school band directed by Walter J. Hurst will play. Pupils of Mrs. B. G. Gordon's room will present a health pageant, and Miss Drew's room a playlet. Mrs. Roy Holt, retiring president, will summarize the work of the year.

An executive board meeting, including both old and new officers, is called for 2:30.

OFFICES FILLED
Dorcas class of Central Baptist church met at the church Wednesday afternoon in a business session. Mrs. Cude was elected third vice president and Mrs. McKinley fourth vice president to fill office vacancies. The meeting closed with prayer by the president, Mrs. Pierce.

Party at Hotel Adds To Commencement Gayety

Commencement social events took a more formal turn Thursday evening with a programme dance at Schneider hotel given by a group of seniors' parents. A floor show entertainment was presented, and tables were arranged for games for those who did not prefer dancing.

Japanese lanterns and cherry blossoms made a gala scene of the hotel ballroom, where the Powell orchestra played. Everyone took part in the opening grand march, singing school songs. School songs were played again to end the dance, mingled with the familiar strains of "Memories."

The floor show was by Jane and Gloria Robinson, Jo Shields, Betty Sue Price, Shirley Noel, Dorothy Nellie Trimble, Dorothy Jo Moore, and Joyce Smith, from the Vincent studio of dancing, who were accompanied by Mrs. Noel; Wanda and Virginia Bess Giles, pupils of Mrs. Helen Turner Coffey.

ALL CITY WILL PAY HONOR TO MOTHER'S DAY

PROGRAMS TODAY TO CONTINUE THOSE OF WEEK

Mothers are receiving more attention than usual on this, their day, from Pampa organizations. Churches, schools, and clubs have vied recently to honor the day.

Songs and sermons in the city's churches today will pay tribute to mothers, and attendance is expected to equal the Easter crowds. Flowers, white or red, will be worn by the worshippers.

Earlier this morning, Business and Professional Women's club had its annual Mother's day breakfast at Schneider hotel. Many of the members plan to have their mothers here from other cities for the occasion. After an informal program, the entire group will attend church.

Junior Treble Clef club had mothers of members as guests for its Music week program Thursday afternoon, presented at a seated tea in city club rooms. Mrs. Philip Wolfe, sponsor, and Miss Marie Tinsley, president, were in charge.

Through the past week, Girl Scouts of the various troops have been entertaining their mothers at regular troop meetings with programs and refreshments.

Mothers of high school students were guests at an assembly program Wednesday, and at a tea in home economics dining room afterward. The first year home economics class was host for the tea, directed by Mrs. J. B. Massa and Miss Angela Strnad.

At the Junior Treble Clef club's tea Thursday, Miss Tinsley welcomed the guests. The program included a vocal solo by Hester Lester, a violin solo by Mattie Lee Clay, vocal by Miss Lester, Edith Benton, and Marjorie Pierce, songs by the club chorus.

Special guests present were Mmes. C. O. Seeds, M. J. Parker, E. Bass Clay, Roy Tinsley, Pierce, Reed, J. L. Lester, W. D. Benton, A. L. Burge, and Miss Pauline Noel.

Members attending were Misses Thelma Seeds, Julia Baker, Mary Parker, Odessa Winkler, Honey Burge, Tinsley, Pierce, Benton, Lester, Mattie Lee and Ruth Clay, Mary Elizabeth Nees.

Our Mothers Is Sermon Topic of Harrah Revival

A Mother's day service this morning will be a part of the revival in progress at Harrah Methodist chapel.

Bob Watkins, evangelist song leader, will sing several songs honoring mothers, including the old hymn, "Tell Mother I'll Be There."

The sermon subject announced by the Rev. Lance Webb is, "Our Mothers." This evening he will speak on the topic. After the Banquet, he will address the adult class at McCullough Sunday school at 9:45 this morning.

Revival services will continue through next week, ending next Sunday when Bishop Boaz will be present to preach and conduct dedication services for the McCullough and Harrah churches.

FHA Is Topic of Priscilla Club

Mrs. N. B. Ellis directed an educational program on the federal housing administration, when Priscilla club met in the home of Mrs. Joe Lewis Friday.

Mrs. Guy Farrington gave the council report in a business session, when Mrs. Ira Spearman presided.

New food preservation labels were introduced, different from the standard labels and more economical.

Refreshments were served to the following guests and members: Mmes. Ellis, John Lawler, C. A. Tignor, Mae Steggs, Spearman, E. A. Shackleton, Farrington, Clyde Carruth, Otto Patton, R. A. Kelly, Roy Tinsley, Lewis, and Miss Donnie Lee Strope.

Chatterbox Club Organized Friday

The Chatterbox club, organized Friday last week at the home of Mrs. Porter Pollard, had its first regular meeting with Mrs. B. F. Hoover and planned an interesting program for the future.

An enjoyable afternoon was spent in games. Refreshments were served to Mmes. Tony Balch, Clyde Lockhart, Eli Hancock, Pollard, George Hancock, and Hoover.

"Miss West Texas", Fiesta Queen

Miss Jeanne Shelley Jennings, who has been named "Miss West Texas" for the seventeenth annual convention of the West Texas chamber of commerce, meeting in Plainview May 13-14-15. Miss Jennings will reign as queen of La Fiesta, colorful celebration which is being planned as the main entertainment feature of the convention.

Miss Jennings is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. W. P. Jennings, Plainview. She took her degree at Texas Technological college, Lubbock, where she majored in English. She was a member of La Chaparritas and Forum, societies of that school.

ANOTHER CITY PARK IS GOAL OF BEAUTIFICATION MOVEMENT BY MEMBERS OF GARDEN CLUB

A park for South Pampa, to be available as Central park is for residents of the north part of the city, was discussed at a meeting of the Garden club Friday morning.

Definite action has not been taken on the movement, but it is a part of the club's plan for city beautification.

Another beautification move is the eradication of dandelions on lawns. Residents are being urged to rid their own yards of the pests. All drug stores here have preparations for killing dandelions, with equipment for application.

Two meetings have been conducted by a Junior Garden club recently organized, it was reported by Mrs. R. F. Dickson, sponsor.

Pest-Killers Given.
Mrs. Sherman White was leader of the program, and discussed Garden Club's plan for city beautification.

Parents and invited guests of Junior Van Katwijk club members will hear the music week program of that group this afternoon at 3:30, at the Mel Davis home.

Featuring the program is a play, "Scenes From the Life of Chopin," which has the following cast: Nicholas Chopin, father of Frederic Chopin, Peggy Brown; Justine Chopin, mother of Frederic Chopin, Martha Price; Louisa Chopin, Chopin's sister, Martha Ann McDonald; belia Chopin, Chopin's sister, Doris Ann Davis; Emilia Chopin, Chopin's sister, Martha Ann McDonald; Frederic Chopin, (nine years old), Maxine Holt; An Outrider, Martha

Other numbers on this final music week program are piano solos by members of the club, who are junior pupils of Miss Lorene McGinnis.

"Wedding Day" Roll Call for Merten H. D. Club Is Amusing

"Finish seams on little girls' or gandy dresses with strips of net, or make French seams," said Miss Ruby Adams, county home demonstration agent, at a meeting of Merten H. D. Club last week. She stressed that all children's clothing should be made in self-help style.

Mrs. E. H. Heard was hostess, and a feature of the meeting was roll call, when each member told when she married and what sort of wedding clothes she wore.

Mrs. Alva Phillips' marriage was an eloquent with an angry father who tried to stop the ceremony and refused reconciliation for months.

breakfast, she drove 35 miles in a buggy to take a train for the honeymoon.

Mrs. J. G. Stoupe, a club guest, married in 1913 in the courthouse at Vincennes, Ind., went to Niagara Falls, then to British West Indies for two years. Her dress, of broad-corded charmeuse, had a hobble skirt with bright green petticoat showing at the slit. She wore heavy furs and a large hat with two plumes.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET WILL BE TOMORROW

DATES ARE ANNOUNCED FOR ALL FORMAL ACTIVITIES

BY SUE VINSON, Woman's Page Editor.

Busiest of all groups from now to May 24 will be the seniors, who are trying to crowd into these last high school days enough pleasant memories to last a lifetime. They should succeed, with the program of parties and formal class activities scheduled for the next two weeks.

The premier social event of a high school career, the junior-senior banquet, will start the week. It is to be given at the gymnasium tomorrow evening. The atmosphere of a gypsy camp will be brought to the banquet room in the theme chosen for decorations and program.

Juniors and their sponsors, Harry Kelley, B. G. Gordon, Miss Gracie Fern Latimer, and Ruth Siddons, are making final arrangements for the banquet, at which their class play hosts to the graduates.

A SENIOR CALENDAR.
Monday, May 13 — Junior-Senior banquet at high school gymnasium, 8:30 p. m.

Wednesday, May 15 — Senior day assembly at city hall auditorium, 10 a. m.

Sunday, May 19 — Baccalaureate sermon at vesper service, First Baptist church, 5 p. m. Dinner with senior mothers as hostesses, at high school cafeteria.

Tuesday, May 21 — Tea for girl graduates with A. A. U. W. club as hostess, city hall club rooms.

Friday, May 24 — Commencement program at Harvester park, 8:30 p. m.

With the seniors, juniors enjoyed a dance at the gymnasium Friday evening. This replaced the prom that followed the banquet last year. Only members of the two classes were guests.

On Wednesday morning, the annual senior day chapel program will be presented at city hall auditorium, starting at 10 o'clock. The remainder of the week then, the graduates will be busy with their final examinations, which will continue through Friday. After that, they are free for the last week of the term.

The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered in a vesper service at First Baptist church next Sunday at 5 p. m. by the Rev. L. Burney Shell, First Presbyterian minister.

It will be followed by a supper at the high school cafeteria, given by mothers of seniors.

For girls only will be the annual senior tea of the A. A. U. W. club, set for the evening of May 21. Girl graduates and their mothers will be guests, and the climax of the evening will be presentation of the A. A. U. W. scholarship to a girl chosen for her qualities of scholarship and character.

Commencement exercises are to be outdoors this year if the weather permits. The program is planned for Harvester park at 8:30 on the evening of May 24. The Rev. Gladson Foote, pastor of First Methodist church, is to make the address, and diplomas will be presented to conclude the high school career of the seniors.

C. C. L. Meets at Home Mrs. Dixon

Mrs. W. S. Dixon was hostess to Child Conservation League at her home Friday, when the lesson topic was Youth.

Mrs. J. D. Cobb's topic was What Is Wrong With the Youth of Today?—The Parents of Tomorrow? Mrs. Dixon discussed the next question, What Is Wrong With the Parents of Today? and Mrs. Rose Correll's subject was, Conflict Between Parents and Modern Youth.

Other members present for the study were Mmes. O. L. Basham, G. C. Durham, R. D. Morris, G. A. Cotton, and H. F. Mossman.

Eastern Star Group To Go To Miami and Canadian This Week

Eastern Star members will have a week of varied activity, beginning today when they will meet at the Masonic hall at 12 noon and go to the home of Mrs. C. F. Burnett in Miami for a covered dish luncheon.

Tomorrow many will attend an all-day school of instruction at Canadian, that begins at 9 a. m. On Tuesday evening, a called meeting here will welcome the worthy grand matron, who will pay an official visit. Officers will be elected for next year at the regular meeting Friday evening.

SKELLY BRINGS IN LARGEST WELL IN WHEELER DURING WEEK

NO. 2 JOHNSON HAS FLOW OF 6282 BARRELS

12 COMPLETIONS ADD 14,792 BARRELS TO POTENTIAL

BY GEORGE L. GUTHRIE
Consulting Geologist, Combs-Worley Bldg.

The Skelly Oil company brought in the largest well in the Wheeler county field yet seen when it completed No. 2 Johnson with a daily average of 6,282 barrels. This was more than was expected as the Smith brothers offset only averaged 1,566 barrels when it was tested a week ago.

Additional tanks had to be set to take care of the oil and was run to both tank cars and pipe lines simultaneously in order to complete the test. The Helena Oil company's No. 5 Keller, a 2,192-barrel well which ordinarily would have been an outstanding well was shadowed by the Skelly well.

It is reported that the Triangle Oil company's No. 1 Stewart in section 17, block 13 of Wheeler county was deepened and was increased from about a 125-barrel well to a 750-barrel well. No test figures were available. There are strong indications that the area between Magic City and Shamrock is going to see considerable drilling this summer.

Twelve completions added 14,792 barrels to the potential of the field, one of these was a dry hole and another a gasser which added 19,700,000 cubic feet to the gas potential.

COMPLETIONS

Gray County

The Dixon Creek Oil and Refining company completed two wells in the dolomite area west of Pampa. No. 8 Horner, in section 129, block 3 of the H&G survey was shot with 250 quarts in the pay from 3,200 to 2,262 feet where the hole was bottomed to average 420 barrels on a five day commission test. Its No. 4 Benedict in section 114, block 3 of the H&G survey averaged 441 barrels daily on a five-day test after a shot of 330 quarts from 3,210 to 3,287 feet, the bottom of the hole.

The Empire Gas and Fuel company No. 2 Jackson in section 127, block 3 of the H&G survey averaged 154 barrels daily on test after it was shot with 400 quarts with the pay from 3,194 to 3,287 feet. It was bottomed at 3,268 feet.

The Stannell Oil and Gas company No. 2 Culler in section 173, block 3, averaged 572 barrels daily on a five day commission test.

The Sun Oil company No. 8 Combs-Worley in section 83, block 3 of the H&G survey averaged 617 barrels daily on its five day commission test.

Wheeler County

The Helena Oil and Gas company No. 5 Keller in section 48, block 24, averaged 2,192 barrels daily on a five day test flowing from the granite wash pay.

The Bell Oil and Gas company No. 2 Evans in section 51, block 24, was plugged and abandoned at 2,503 feet after it failed to pick up more than a strong oil show.

The Skelly Oil company No. 2 Johnson in section 47, block 24, was the best well completed in the field. It averaged 6,282 barrels daily on a five day test.

The Smith brothers No. 1 Sitter in section 33, block 24 averaged 3,950 barrels daily on its five day test with the pay in the granite wash from 2,436 to 2,440 feet and the bottom of the hole at 2,532 feet.

The Triplex Oil company No. 1 Plummer in section 45, block 24 averaged 39 barrels daily on a five day test flowing.

The Magnolia Petroleum company No. 1 Markins in section 54, block 3 of the H&G survey was bottomed at 2,230 feet with the pay from 2,205 to the bottom of the hole. Although it was not tested it was estimated as a 125-barrel well.

Moore County

The Texoma Oil and Gas company No. 4-D Speed in section 54, block 3, the G&M survey was bottomed at 2,982 feet, and tested 19,700,000 cubic feet of gas with the gas pay from 2,370 to 2,675.

Fastest Rail Giant Keeps Romance

Heralded as the fastest in the world, its puffing smoke imparting some of the romance of the old iron horse, this giant of the rails is shown as it reached Chicago to be placed in service on the Milwaukee road. The first-built streamlined steam locomotive, designed to travel 120 miles an hour, the Hiawatha is resplendent in its coat of battleship gray, with orange and chromium trim.

Suicide Calls FDR 'Murderer'

ST. LOUIS, May 11. (AP)—Leaving a note in which he described President Roosevelt as "my murderer," Albert B. White Jr., 45, son of former Governor A. B. White of West Virginia, leaped to his death from a hotel (Statler) window here today.

In a note White identified himself as a disabled emergency officer of the United States army and said he had been dropped from compensation because of legislation affecting veterans for which he blamed President Roosevelt. "Roosevelt, the arch-enemy of the veterans, by order of Bernard Baruch, is my murderer," he wrote in a note left in his room, "as well as hundreds of other veterans not able to struggle on. May God forgive him, for I can not—not for my own case, but for hundreds of my buddies."

"This dying protest," he wrote in another part of the letter, "may be considered the ravings of a deranged mind, but I have been adjudged competent by the several government hospitals I entered."

He was registered at the hotel as C. R. Watson of Columbus, O., but said in the note he had so registered "because afraid the hospital would take me" if the correct name appeared.

Neighbors for blocks around the store reported a sleepless night because of scores of telephone calls in the late hours from friends urging them to buy.

It was estimated 3,000 persons visited the shop during the night. The ante was $5.00 on a $5 chain, with ten names on it. The purchase price was $10.00.

ROY FEARLESS NO. 1 BALL IS NOW DRILLING

SOUTHERN GRAY TESTS CAUSING MUCH INTEREST

Roy Fearless No. 1 Ball started up again last Thursday, north of Amarillo, about two miles, after a temporary shutdown in which the drilling contract was stopped and Fearless moved in his own tools.

The well is now underdraming to set the 10-inch pipe with the hole around 800 feet deep. The underdrainer is working at 425 feet. The well is reported to be a depth below sea level.

The Bell Oil and Gas company No. 1 Furneaux in section 110, block B-2 of the H&G survey is standardizing at 2,375 feet. Foster et al No. 1 Johnson in section 21 of the Edwin survey has spudded and shut down. The above three wells are those drilling on the south side of the second granite ridge. They are causing considerable interest in Gray county tests, as they are considered as being on about the same part of the structure as the Carson county wells on the south side of the ridge near White Deer where there are two more wells drilling at present.

Wells on the north side of the second ridge have proved more or less disappointing as yet although there are two still drilling. Warner No. 1 Taylor in section 4, block H of the Wallace survey is drilling in the granite wash. The Champlin Refining company No. 1 Taylor in section 6, block 2 of the H&G survey is drilling at 2,930 feet with about two million feet of gas, and nothing showing in the wash.

The Texas company abandoned its No. C-2 Taylor in section 53, block B-2 of the H&G survey after encountering water from 3,270 to 3,280 feet, the bottom of the hole, with the water coming in at the rate of one-half barrel per hour.

LATE LOCATIONS
Carson county—The Gulf Production company staked the location for its No. 9 E. Cooper 330 feet from the north line and 330 feet from the east line of the southwest quarter of section 4, block 9 of the H&G survey.

Fritch county—The Skelly Oil company No. 1 E. E. Watkins is 946 feet from the south line and 411 feet from the east line of the southwest quarter of section 13, block M-21 of the TCR survey.

SHORT COURSE AT CANYON BE NEXT WEEK

WOMEN HERE WILL GO TO H. D. CLUB MEETING

Six hundred women from home demonstration clubs of districts one and two are expected in Canyon May 16 for the sixth annual short course. This last one day and is put on through the cooperation of the West Texas State Teachers college with the extension service of Texas A. & M. college. Gray county will send a large delegation.

Looking to the Texas Centennial, the program this year will have for its general theme, Texas Pioneers, and Miss Mildred Horton of College Station will give the main address having "Women as Pioneers" as her subject.

Beginning with a reception at 9:30 a. m. the sessions will continue through the day.

Miss Ruby Mashburn, home demonstration agent of district No. 1 will preside, and Mrs. Hoge of Potter county will conduct the singing. Miss Laura V. Hamner of Amarillo will be the forenoon speaker, her topic being "Episodes of the Plains." Music by the T-Anchor Troupe band under the direction of Ed Todd, an illustrated talk on brands by Wendell Cain and Miss Betty Hicks of Canyon, and the welcome address of Dean Geraldine Green will be other forenoon features.

Visiting the Panhandle-Plains Historical society museum, luncheon at the college cafeteria, and inspection of Buffalo courts will occupy the noon intermission.

Miss Lida Cooper, home demonstration agent of district No. 2 will preside at the afternoon meeting at which Miss Horton speaks.

Other features will be music by the West Texas State Teachers college band under the direction of C. E. Strain, and a presentation of typical pioneer dances under the direction of Mrs. Wallace O'Keefe of the physical education department of the Canyon college.

The day's programs have been planned by Miss Marion Northington, Miss Elizabeth Cox and Miss Orpa Dennis of the home economics department of the local college.

Church of Christ Will Continue a Revival Series

The revival at Francis Avenue Church of Christ which began on Wednesday evening will continue throughout the coming week with two services daily, 10 a. m. and 8:15 p. m.

The preaching is being done by Evangelist W. D. Bills of Waco. Interest and attendance during the revival have increased since its beginning with several out-of-town visitors present at every evening service. Evangelist Bills is reported to be a very pleasant, convincing speaker and a very profound student of the Bible.

This afternoon at 3:30 Rev. Bills will preach at the White Deer Church of Christ. Several Pampans plan to attend this service. The public is most cordially invited to attend the revival during the coming week.

Toastmaster for Banquet Chosen

Dr. H. H. Hicks has been selected as toastmaster for the annual father and son banquet at First Methodist church next Tuesday evening at 7:30, when Dr. Joe Haymes of Amarillo will speak.

Other features of the program which have been added are piano numbers to be given by Mrs. Louis Stewart, a fun feature by Mrs. Gaston Foote and quartet numbers by the First Methodist quartet composed of R. B. Fisher, W. V. Jarratt, Howard Zimmerman, and Enmitt Smith. Mrs. E. D. Caskey will give readings and the church orchestra led by B. C. Wallace will play. Joe Gordon, Bob McCoy, and F. B. Chesser are in charge of ticket sales. Howard Neath will preside at the banquet.

All men and their sons are invited.

Special Mother's Day Services at Methodist Church

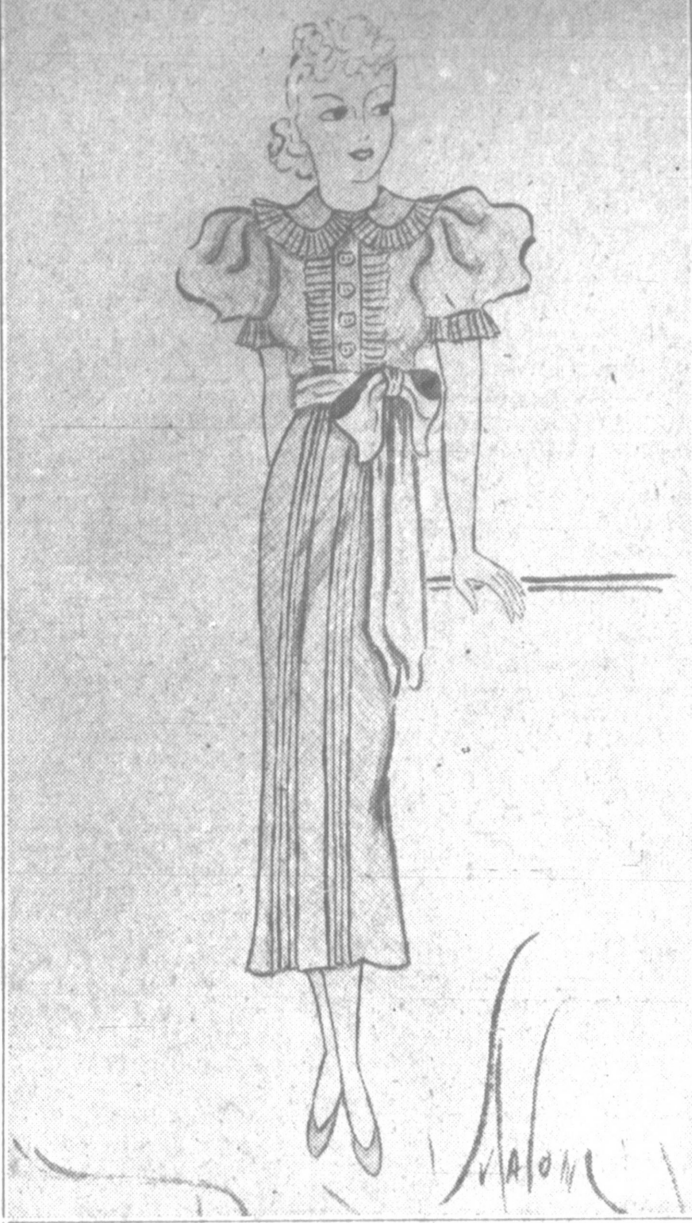

Mother's day services will be held at the First Methodist church this morning at 10:50 o'clock and the pastor, Rev. Gaston Foote will speak from the subject, "What My Mother Means to Me." W. V. Jarratt will sing "Mother Machree." Babies will be baptized at the beginning of the service.

Tonight at 7:57, six young men will speak, two minutes each from the subject, "What My Mother Means to Me." The Woodrow Wilson choral club will sing and Edwin McConnell will give a reading, "The Old Wash Place."

The First Methodist trio composed of Harry Kelley, Enmitt Smith and Howard Zimmerman will sing.

PRINCESS LIKES PRINTS
PARIS (P)—Princess George of Greece likes printed frocks for the cocktail hour. She has one of red and black printed crepe designed with an ankle-length skirt and three-quarter length sleeves and another of gray crepe splashed in a multi-colored design.

Dark Sheer Frock Is Practical

A most attractive brown and white plaid net dress is this found at Murree's. It is trimmed with emerald green buttons and a matching ribbon sash. The unusual feature is the pleating around the collar, front of the blouse, and used as cuffs on the youthful puffed sleeves. There is a wide box pleat down the front of the skirt with three pleats on either side, and this treatment is repeated in the back. A brown satin slip completes this dark, cool frock.

GREAT RICHES

Chapter 39
GREAT NEWS

"You know as well as I do, Miss Julia," Jane almost shouted at her guest, "that the Judge and old Grandpa Stinson were always stuffing him with drivel about his being the original boy wonder, certain to set the world on fire."

"Naturally, he objected when I treated him like a human being instead of a pampered poodle who just had won a ribbon at a bench show. It's been nothing but object, complain, object, complain, ever since we were married."

"But I did think he was man enough to confine his complaints to me. I did think he was gentleman enough not to go out in the highways and byways and spatter his own wife with mud. It seems, however, that I was mistaken."

Miss Julia said simply, "Jane, I am horrified." She got to her feet and marched to the door. There she said, over her shoulder, "As far as I know, James has never complained of you to anybody. But if he did, God knows I should never blame him."

And that was the end of Miss Julia's attempt to set matters right between her two favorites. James that evening stayed downtown to dinner at the new Rotary Club, and Jane had time, with her mother's help, to indulge herself in an orgy of self-pity, which culminated, when James got home, in near hysteria.

Jane sobbed that she was sick of New Concord, sick to death of being laughed at and jeered at because of James' continued failure. He had promised her when he married her to take her away from New Concord. He had asked her to be patient, to give him a little time. Hadn't she been patient? Hadn't she? For eight years she had smiled and endured and worked her fingers to the bone putting up a front, making a penny do the work of a dollar, entertaining his friends, pretending, pretending, until she was worn to a shadow, that he was successful.

And all the time James was content to stand still, to do nothing, he nothing but a small-town lawyer... just a country lawyer, making a miserable three thousand a year. He was supposed to be an orator. And the only ones he could corral to listen to him were a lot of bumpkins at the Rotary Club. If he were a man...

James listened patiently, with bent head. At last, when Jane was sobbing quietly, he said, "How would you like Topeka for a change?"

"Topeka? I'd prefer Topeka to this ghastly little town."

James explained that the Judge had decided that afternoon to let him run for the state legislature. His candidacy had been announced at the Rotary Club dinner.

Jane stared at him blankly. "You might have told me... but of course, I'm only your wife. Naturally, I should be the last to know."

"McCullough only told the Judge today he wasn't well enough to make the race. I could have telephoned you, but I wanted to tell you myself."

Jane went to bed that night crushed and injured soul, but by morning she was cheered and elated. What might have happened between the Stinsons if James had won his first political goal will never be known. Certainly Jane was both charming and stimulating and very

RECITAL ENDS RECENT SERIES OF PROGRAMS

Studio Pupils Given Party at Close Of Term

A series of studio recitals given by the Turner-Ferguson school of expression and dancing was climaxed Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ivy Duncan with a party featuring a fine arts program.

Kirk Duncan acted as master of ceremonies. In honor of music week, two piano solos were played by Ewert Duncan, pupil of Madeline Tarpley Rowntree.

After the program, guests were called to the dining room for refreshments served from a beautifully decorated table. Later two of the pupils went to the Schneider hotel to assist on the program of a party for high school seniors.

This program ends of the school term, and summer classes will begin June 1. Numbers presented were:

Good Evening, Mary Maud Ruthford.

In a Far-Away Country, Wanda Giles.

Oh Doctor, skit by Horace Saunders and Marjorie Faye Taylor.

The Italian King, Pat Rutherford.

Sing-Song Gal, musical reading, Ann Martin.

The Sissy, J. D. Williams.

Danny, one-act play read by Virginia Bess Giles.

'Washin' Time, Robert Sawyer.

My Grandma, by Joan Sawyer, guest reader, pupil of Mrs. T. F. Morton.

The Little Imp, Ramon Lewis Wilson.

She Powders Her Nose, Donna Joy Stine.

Different Billy Rue DeWitt.

Da Leetle Boy, Clara Mae Lemm.

The Fellow Who Will Take My Place, Wayne Coffee.

Contest number, Joyce Turner.

Others assisting were Lucille Carlock and Arlene Saunders.

the wife of the candidate. It would have been poisonous, naturally, but we women were made to suffer. And even old frumps and old frump's friends have votes.

"I would die first, yes, I assure you, my dear, I would die first. I said to Jennie Dodson (Jennie was the greatest gossip in town), 'I said, 'Jennie, Andy Plumber will never be anything socially until he locks his old frump of a wife in a dog kennel.' Jennie was so amused I thought it was rather good myself."

"He He! Very good. Very good indeed. I have no doubt Jennie repeated it everywhere. I have no doubt that eventually it got to Andy and Mrs. Andy herself. She must have been crushed, yes, my dear, crushed. That witicism of yours must have assuaged James of his nomination. Naturally, the Plumbers and the Plumber's friends would never have dared lift their heads afoot you had put them in their place!"

James loses his best friend, to Morrow.

POLITICS at random

BY BYRON PRICE, Chief of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington.

Washington is learning that the privilege of spending four billion dollars will not be, politically, an unmitigated blessing after all.

The very bitter disputes which have broken out between federal relief officials and a half dozen state administrations tell only a part of the story.

From the political viewpoint, Mr. Roosevelt and his helpers in spending must reckon with such other factors as the disappointment of local officials and private citizens who ask for money and receive none; the opposition charges of graft and political manipulation, whether it exists or not; the dangers which lurk in personal rivalries in the works relief setup; and the complications which appear unavoidable in the handling of relief funds down in the local communities.

Appointments Confusing.

Most of the key figures in the spending organization—particularly the "feds" and Mr. Hopkins—have made numerous enemies on Capitol Hill. To get the relief bill through at all, the administration leaders had to give certain assurances that the authority of these men would be limited.

In announcing his selections for the important relief posts, the President adopted, manifestly for the same reason, a strangely confusing method of publicity.

He announced on one day that Mr. Walker would head the "apple loan division." Almost everyone jumped to the conclusion that Mr. Walker would be the really big figure in work relief.

But the next day, the White House announced that another tremendously important place would go to Mr. Tugwell. The next day after that, Mr. Ickes was disclosed as the king pin of the set-up, and on the fourth day about the same thing happened to Mr. Hopkins.

It was all very confusing, as many people supposed it was intended to be; but it saved some worried spirits, and for the time being seems to have left everyone concerned feeling pretty good.

"Enemies Being Made."

The new organization needed a halo of friendly cooperation and good fellowship about its head to help withstand the shock which depended upon it almost immediately.

State and municipal officials congregated in Washington in almost unbelievable numbers. They found the work relief situation so involved, and so hedged about with technicality that many of them went away very much discouraged. Eventually many must be disappointed and probably alienated, for even four billions will go only so far.

These local officials also brought to Washington stories of disappointments down at the other end of the line—among the recipients of relief themselves.

One mid-western mayor told the relief dispensers plainly they were making enemies in every direction. Even those on relief, he said, were growing embittered because Mr. Hopkins' social workers were prescribing diets nobody liked, and insisting on regulations for which nobody could figure out the reason.

The remedy proposed by this particular city official was to place the whole problem of local administration in the hands of the local democratic party organization—which was pictured as also about to join the ranks of the disgruntled because it had been ignored.

Reasons For Caution.

All in all, there are those versed in politics who think the expenditure of the work relief money may, in the end, hurt Mr. Roosevelt more than it benefits him politically. Perhaps that helps explain the caution with which he is proceeding.

CAPITOL CHATTER

BY CHARLES E. SIMONS

AUSTIN, May 10. (AP)—Sponsors of public utilities regulation had little chance to obtain final passage of a state commission bill in the regular session but are confident of favorable action at a prospective special session of the legislature.

The house gave vociferous approval to a bill to establish a three-member commission to be appointed by the governor. It was regarded as the most far-reaching measure ever presented to a Texas legislature and house passage marked the first time in recent years a general regulation measure has gotten through one branch.

House delay in sending the proposed bill to the senate probably ended its progress in this session. It is certain to be submitted at a special session and house supporters believe it will again go through the lower chamber speedily. Its authors were astonished at the ease with which the bill hurdled the opposition of home rule cities to being deprived of a voice in setting rates to be charged by corporations serving their citizens. Heretofore this had been regarded an insurmountable obstacle to utility regulation.

Rep. Ed Lange of Laredo, chief exponent of strict state regulation, predicted increasing support for the house bill. Lange asserted attempts of home rule cities to regulate have proved futile except in rare instances, and that city officials were tired of wrestling unsuccessfully with the vexatious problem.

Some house members opposed the bill because it excluded municipally operated utilities from regulation. Drafters of the legislation purposefully omitted municipal utilities, fearing that to include them would invite active opposition. They believed that control of municipally operated plants presented a problem that such communities best could handle.

MOTHER'S DAY AND GRADUATION DAYS INSPIRE MANY PARTIES IN NEARBY TOWNS OF NORTH PLAINS

McLEAN, May 11.—Mother's day was honored by the Pioneer club when it entertained a number of guests at a meeting with Mrs. W. L. Campbell and S. A. Cousins. Mrs. S. D. Sheldene was in charge of the program.

Sigma Gamma club elected officers for next year at its final meeting of the season Monday. Clara Anderson is to be president.

TO HONOR SENIORS
CANADIAN, May 11.—Mmes. W. D. Fisher, and P. N. Sawyer will be hostesses at a reception honoring the 43 senior class members here who are candidates for graduation this year. The reception will be Thursday at the Fisher home. Commencement exercises will be Friday.

MOTHERS GIVEN TEA
CLARENDON, May 11.—All mothers of the city were honored at a seated tea given by T. E. L. class of First Baptist church Tuesday. Flowers were given all mothers who attended. During the afternoon about 70 guests called.

Miss Ruth Nichols, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Nichols of this city, and Dr. W. R. Newton Jr., of Cameron were married in Houston recently and will live in Cameron.

MUSIC WEEK CELEBRATED
BORGER, May 11.—Music week has been widely observed here. A high school concert Wednesday evening was an outstanding event. Miss Mary McNeill and Rex F. Johnston were directors. Varied instruments were featured on a music week program of Weatherly P-TA, the last of this year. W. J. Finley was the guest musician.

GUEST DAY HELD
PANHANDLE, May 11.—Fine Arts club honored Mothers' day in its annual guest day program last week, when members of Junior Fine Arts club were guests at the home of Mrs. A. A. Callaghan.

CLUB ENDS SEASON
SHAMROCK, May 11.—Thursday Literary club ended its season with a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Edwin Griffin. A prize for the club group accomplishing the most during the year went to Mrs. L. E. has and other plants. A white oil spray made with soap is a good treatment. Bottoms of leaves should be sprayed to wash off webs. Grasshoppers are killed by sprinkling poison bran around flowers.

Culture of Mums

Mrs. J. M. McDonald spoke of growing hardy chrysanthemums. She said their culture is very simple, but more work makes better blooms. They bloom from August to October. Heat and insects interfere with their growth, but they need sun two-thirds of the day.

These flowers will grow in almost any soil, but respond to water and food. They should be on well-drained soil, with deep feed so roots will grow deeply. Manure and bone meal are excellent foods.

Mums are better if divided and reset each season. Some can be left two years if set 15 to 18 inches apart. When they are six or eight inches tall they should be cut back an inch. Continue this for every six inches of growth until August, to develop a beautiful bush. Plants should be watered until the ground is wet nine inches deep.

Gives Planting Rules.
Mrs. Ewing Leech discussed Summer-Flowering Bulbs. She named dahlias first for planting at this time. Monbreton, a miniature gladiolus, should be planted three inches deep and grows from 15 to 30 inches high.

Tiger flowers are akin to the iris. Blooms last only one day. Lilies in the spring, in the spring, the madonna lily, which must be planted in the fall. Devil's tongue and Occals are plants that bloom in summer.

For fall blooming, crocus may be planted until the first of September, and will bloom in three weeks, Mrs. Leech added.

In addition to those on program, members present were Mmes. Chas. Duenkel, Ray Hagin, Jim White, J. P. Wehrung, Joe Gordon, Fred Cary, Ed Damsen, Arthur Teed, W. Purviance, N. C. Maddux, C. G. Williston, E. C. Schofield, Arthur Swanson, A. B. Zahn, Lee Waggoner, Clyde Fatheree, Glen Paul, and Lynn Boyd.

Student Writes Of Carbon Plant

Study of local industries has played a big part in the semester's work of sixth grade students at Horace Mann school. The carbon black industry was one of these and the class visited a plant and heard talks by executives and chemists.

Summarizing what they learned, each student wrote a paper on carbon black. The following extracts are from Ellen Keough's theme:

We went to a guager house where we saw a high pressure guage on one side and a low pressure guage on the other. We then went to a hot house. The temperature of the flames is 1,400 degrees and the temperature of the shaft is 1,000 degrees. The purpose of the shaft is to condense the carbon.

Carbon produced from this plant is shipped to every country of the world. One bag contains 25 pounds of carbon.

After our visit to the plant, a chemist came and talked to the class, telling several interesting things.

After natural gas leaves the oil well it goes to the gasoline plant where some is wasted or used for heat; the remainder goes to a carbon-black plant.

Seventy per cent of all carbon black is used in the rubber industry. In automobile tires, one-third of the weight is carbon.

The carbon industry is increasing very rapidly. In 1915, 300,000 pounds were produced, and last year 327,000,000 pounds were produced here. Each day five or ten carloads of carbon black are shipped from Pampa.

Texas Has Large Part in National P-TA Convention

By MRS. J. M. CRAIN, Claude State Publicity Director, Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Mrs. A. F. Wood, Athens, president of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, was the guest of honor for the Texas delegation at dinner one evening during the thirty-ninth annual convention of the national congress recently held at Miami, Florida. The entire Texas group were in attendance at this occasion. Another honor accorded Mrs. Wood, prior to this convention, was to be featured as the guest speaker on publicity at the state convention of the Alabama Congress of Parents and Teachers, which convened in Montgomery.

Texas delegates in attendance at the national convention were: Mrs. Noyes Darling Smith, Austin, third vice-president of the national congress; Mrs. A. F. Wood, Athens, president; Mrs. Stephen Chamness, Austin, executive secretary; Mrs. E. H. Marek, Yoakum, first vice-president; Mrs. W. H. Schaefer, Fredericksburg, past president of seventh district; Mrs. F. T. Erick, Corpus Christi, president of tenth district; Mrs. A. Y. Troutman, San Antonio, past president of fifth district; Mrs. John M. Fouts, Dallas, chairman of standards; Mr. J. F. Weatherly, Mrs. J. F. Weatherly, Mrs. M. L. Furlines, Mrs. J. B. Howe, Panhandle; Mrs. E. R. Roberts, Mrs. Gena Weatherford, Dallas; Mrs. O. W. Moroski, Mrs. W. C. Lewis, Waco; Mrs. Jack Hill, Silsbee; Mrs. C. R. Larimer, Houston; Mrs. H. B. Bracker, Ft. Worth; Mrs. B. F. Hastings, San Antonio.

In the Texas division of the exhibits 20 publicity record books were on display. Mrs. Stephen Chamness, Austin, collaborating with Mrs. Wood, chose the various materials for the Texas booth. The delegate body passed many complimentary resolutions on the history of the arrangement and the material of the Texas exhibit.

Presentation of the extension department consumed two hours on the program with Mrs. Noyes Darling Smith presiding and having as her able assistant and secretary, Mrs. Wood.

With a membership of 96,337, Texas showed an increase for this fiscal year of 15,129 new members and took fifth place in augmenting its recruits. Texas was surpassed in new members by Illinois, Ohio, West Virginia, and Virginia while California still has the largest enrollment with a total of 196,959 members.

The national congress has a total membership of 1,727,603 persons at the close of its fiscal year, April 15, 1935. This is the largest enrollment in the history of the congress and is an increase of 261,693 members over last year's membership. In this significant gain 43 states, the District of Columbia, Alaska, and the Hawaiian Islands boosted their ranks.

Texas has made a place for its state in the parent-teacher movement. New York, as well as many other states, has admitted that Texas has the best financial plan of any state and this empire state desires information along many lines. Alabama has taken a copy of the treasurer's packet and South Dakota wants the Texas plan for districts.

The state office for the Texas branch is one outstanding one of all the states and the Lone Star membership points with just pride to both the management and the efficiency of this office.

Of the 12 new national life memberships given this last year, Texas contributed its share by presenting one to Mrs. Irby Dyer, Barstow, Texas.

Student Police Thank Kiwanians For Movie Party

Appreciation for the theater party given to junior safety police yesterday by the Kiwanis club is expressed in letters written by pupils at Woodrow Wilson school. The following letters expressed the view of the grade:

Dear members of the Kiwanis club: I cannot express how appreciative I am that you were so kind to pay our admission to the show. I am also glad that you picked "Laddie" for the show. I am happy that I had been a Junior Police and am sorry that some were not and could not go. I am glad that Pampa has such a kind Kiwanis club.

JANE HATTFIELD.

Dear Kiwanis club members: I am so appreciative of your invitation to the La Nora theater to see Gene Stratton Porter's show, "Laddie." I think you picked a good show for an entertainment for the Junior Police of the Kiwanis club. It was a very nice show.

SUNDAY-MONDAY-TUESDAY

CAN YOU IMAGINE!

In Shakespeare's time a popular cure for epileptic fits was to have the patient drink water from a fountain at midnight, using the skull of murdered man for a cup.

Arrack is the most widely used intoxicating liquor in the world. It is distilled in Eastern countries from rice, coconuts, and other palms.

During the Civil War it was so difficult to procure drugs in Tennessee that doctors in giving a pill would attach it to a thread and have the patient swallow it. When enough medicine had been absorbed the pill would be pulled out and what was left would be given the next patient in the same manner.

A spoonful of toxin produced by a germ which causes botulism—a kind of food poisoning—is enough to kill all the people on earth.

Merten School To Give Playlet Next Saturday

Written especially for youngsters, the three-act musical extravaganza to be presented by Merten school at the city hall auditorium here Saturday evening has an appeal for both adults and children.

It is "The Geewhiskies," by Billbro. The composer is widely known for her piano series for beginners, and the operetta was designed for pupils the age of those who will produce it, third and fourth graders.

Thirty boys and girls are in the cast, directed by Miss Marjory Erickson. Between acts, pupils from first and second grades will entertain.

Adequate Clothes Closets Stressed By Miss Burleson

SKELLYTOWN, May 11.—Fittings for the clothes closet should be as adequate as possible. Miss Dalton Burleson, Carson county home demonstration agent, told the Sunshine club Tuesday in a meeting with Mrs. J. R. Stansell at Nolette. Hangers are essential, and may be covered with velvet to prevent dresses from slipping off, she added. A new member, Mrs. W. W. Hughes, was welcomed into the club. Refreshments were served to Misses Floyd Humphries and Leonard Clanton, guests, and Misses Hughes, E. Hatchell, E. E. Crawford, L. Feigenspan, E. R. Hawkins, J. C. Kennedy, W. S. Boyd, and Miss Burleson.

Mrs. Prigmore Is Bridge Hostess

Spring colors, with red and white predominating, appointed the tables when Mrs. O. M. Prigmore entertained Eight Hearts contract club at her home Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. George Sharum received the award for high score, Mrs. Fred Bozeman second high, and Mrs. R. Burn Burke low. The traveling prize for 100 honors went to Mrs. Frank Roach, and a special traveling package for taking tricks with the lack of hearts to Mrs. Dallas Culwell. Other players were Miss Verna Fox and Mrs. Ruey Morgan.

Two Speakers on Liquor Issue to Appear Monday

Arrangements have been made for two meetings to be held in First Christian church Monday at 8 and 8 o'clock, when addresses will be given on "The Oncoming War With the Liquor Traffic."

Rev. L. Burney Shell, pastor of First Presbyterian church, will preside at the afternoon session, which will be addressed by Miss Norma C. Brown, of Bloomington, Ill. Her contact with all sections of the country has put her in touch with the mind of the people. Her wide acquaintance with political and religious leaders has made her familiar with their thought on liquor issues. In addition to her duties as vice president of the Flying Squadron foundation she is editor-in-chief of the National Enquirer.

The evening meeting will be presided over by Rev. Gaston Foote of the First M. E. church.

Hon. Oliver W. Stewart of Chicago, president of the Flying Squadron foundation, will be the speaker. He is no newcomer to the state of Texas, to which he has been a somewhat frequent visitor through more than 30 years, always coming as an advocate of prohibition. He was early recognized as a man of pre-eminent rank on the platform, which recognition he holds after more than a third of a century. For more than 20 years his official connection has been with the Flying Squadron foundation which he aided former Gov. J. Frank Hanly in founding and which he has led since the latter's death in 1920.

Victim in French 'Lindbergh Case'

Because of similarity in a number of details, France compares the kidnapping of 4-year-old Nicole Du Thilleul, above, from the home of her army colonel father at Chaumont to America's famous Lindbergh case. In spite of a nation-wide hunt, no trace of the girl or her body has been found.

Since January 1, 1934, both speakers have been heard from coast to coast. Five weeks of their time were given to Kansas where they had a part in the campaign that held the 54-year dry amendment. Immediately after election they began an extensive itinerary of the Pacific coast states to acquaint the friends of prohibition with the national situation. The meetings here are open to the public. There is no admission charge.

She tore up a dress to make a rope to let her bag down to the waiting groom, then left on pretext of going to school and slipped away for the ceremony.

The stories proceeded, through the era of two petticoats, corset and corset-cover, voluminous chemise, and high shoes, to more recent days.

Mrs. Bert Marquis, another visitor, married in 1923 in a blue suit over black bloomers with elastic above and below the knees. Mrs. C. O. Bridges, a bride of 1924, wore a buff crepe accordion plaited dress, shorter in front.

Mrs. J. C. Browning, married in 1922, wore a navy suit, blue hat with long veil, gray georgette blouse over flowered camisole, and white shoes. Mrs. C. B. Haney married in 1924 in a navy suit, but her best dress was of rose georgette trimmed in 36 yards of ecru lace. Mrs. Fred C. Fisher sat in a buggy in front of the minister's house for her wedding in 1907. Her suit was gray, shoes and hose black. Ten years later, Mrs. Heard sat in a Ford car in Wichita Falls to be married, dressed in blue satin dress, blue hat, and high gray shoes. The top of Mrs. W. R. Taylor's tan shoes were scalloped when she married in 1920, and her tan dress of georgette and taffeta was beaded. Mrs. T. L. Sirman married in 1916, in gray suit with georgette blouse. Mrs. W. A. Pickering's wedding was in 1921, and she wore a blue taffeta dress.

The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. E. M. Hope.

Christian Church To Honor Mother

Mother's day will be observed at the First Christian church by special programs in some of the Sunday school classes and in the special music in the church services.

At the morning service Charles Madeira will sing. Sunday night a mixed quartet composed of Mrs. C. C. Spencer, Mrs. Ed Fritchell, R. L. Allison and George Porter will sing. The minister's subject for the day will be "Jehoshaphat's Son" and "Mother's Religion."

It's Now Roundup Time in Country West of Pecos

ALPINE, May 10. (AP)—Cowhands are in the saddle and chuck wagons are on the range again. It's spring roundup—branding time—in the country west of the Pecos.

As the cowboys gather the herds, they see bones — marks of the drought, which hasn't been entirely broken in all parts of the cow country. Scurry grassland, lack of feed and water, and government markets and guns thinned the herds on the vast ranches of Texas.

But the ranchers have managed to "pull through" by feeding, and some of them drove their cattle to the range of Mexico. Several thousand head of Texas cows still remain across the Rio Grande, and ranchers are urging congress to extend the time the herds can stay duty-free in the southern republic.

Under the present agreement, the cattle could remain eight months. The period for most herds will expire next month, and a 14-month extension is being sought, since many

Texas ranches still are in "hard" condition. Despite the adverse conditions, hundreds of thousands of cattle are on the range in the broad strip of Western Texas from the Rio Grande to the Panhandle, and stockmen report a fair crop of calves—considering.

In the last 12 years, 65,000 new acres have gone into strawberry production, the consumers' guide of AAA reports. Americans consumed 318,336,000 quarts of strawberries in 1934.
