FAIR TRADE ACT

Texas is going to be asked to adopt a Fair Trade act during the session of the present legislature -- the 50th on the score there is a considerable bit of division in sentiment among Texans.

The state is one of three, according to the information we have which has adopted some such law. Much pressure is due to be brought on the subject before the legislative year is over. This proposed legislation and another half dozen bills which seek to regulate business and professional practices are due to have so much attention they may preclude the proper consideration by the legislature of enactments which the general public looks upon as necessary and desirable. Despite the fact that some of our best customers believe in a Fair Trade act as desirable for business and for the public, we are much disposed to oppose the measure. Since such an act legalizes restraint of trade our background keeps us from being willing to see such become a part of the law of the land. We will not attempt to go into the wide ramifications of such an act, but will content ourselves by saying that the lot of the people in states where Fair Trade acts are in force is not any better, apparently, than in Texas where we have none yet. This act, of course, calls for another set-up for enforcement and all the involutions incident to the control of people's business affairs. Those who favor the measure do not consider as necessarily "prejudiced" to the general welfare. There is no reason to assume they are not honestly of the belief that such a law would be helpful to business and therefore helpful to all. Presumably, The Hesperian and those who believe like we do are somewhat behind the times, are drags on the body politics and economic left-overs from another age.

GOOD FIRE RECORD

The toll of loss in human life and property due to fires is more and more the concern of national agencies which are attempting to ameliorate a situation which is growing more serious as crowded families, hotels, rooming houses, business establishments are operated more and more under conditions which are conducive to fire hazards.

All of which reminds us that in Floydada and other Floyd county communities a good fire record of several years needs to be safeguarded. Be careful, be thoughtful, be thorough. The home you have, the business place you occupy are badly needed now. They can not be replaced with any degree of satisfaction. The bill would be too high, and the construction of a replacement would be of materials which would not satisfy as to permanence.

Also it should be noted that every fire, under present Texas law, call for re-consideration of the charges for insurance on risks which are left after our building or yours is destroyed by flames. A board down at Austin, which is beneficently, we hope, operated at the behest, we believe, of the fire insurance companies, determines what the cost of insuring against fire loss will be for your property and mine. Many good men think it is right and fair for it to be done this way.

WE HAVE ESCAPED MUCH

Although it cannot be foreseen what the future holds as a post-war threat to the lives and health of the people of the United States following World War II, it is to be noted with satisfaction that, so far, the loss of useful people due to plague or epidemic has been at a minimum. Preventive science has done a wonderful job and praise cannot be too lavish for the work which the army and navy have done to prevent bringing back to American shores the health problems which faced our boys in all quarters of the globe, who exposed themselves to the diseases which plague backward areas.

In 1918 the story was different to that of 1946. Americans brought back disease -- in particular a new and dreadful one, influenza, which took a toll for which many communities and families are still paying a dear price. We have escaped much following the world conflagration that marked the beginning of the present decade.

John E. Keasler, Former Resident, Recalls Youth Here

Writing from his home at Yountville, California, John E. Keasler sr., one-time resident of Floydada recalls days of his youth in Floyd county in a recent note to The Hesperian. In the letter he says: Many years ago my father and mother were subscribers of your little paper, in fact we were all great readers of the paper, and I spent most of my young manhood years as a farmer 8 miles southwest of Floydada, out by Blanco Canyon. My father and mother sold the farm in 1919 to Hall and Greer and they moved to California.

I was sworn in the 1st World War at the Court house in Floydada, on Saturday evening July 22, and left Monday morning for my first training at Camp Travis Texas.

I would be very glad to hear from any of my friends and neighbors who might still be living around there that remember me.

I am now living at Yountville California, 50 miles North of San Francisco, have an antique shop. Should any of you care for antiques and are out this way, will be glad to welcome you, as my partner Mr. Clarke and I have the store, also a private Museum, which have some very interesting pieces.

I am enclosing money order for a years subscription for my self also two months subscription for my sister, Mrs. Charity Hart.

THE THREE SCOURGES OF MAN

★ Devastating epidemics have ranked with war and famine as population levelers. Of these three scourges of man, pestilence was most dreaded. During the Black Plague epidemic of 1348, it was estimated that in some places over two-thirds of the population was wiped out.

The discovery of bacteria as the cause of infectious disease is still within the memory of the living. Pasteur developed the first vaccine for rabies in 1885. Since that time many immunizing procedures have become routine. As a consequence, deaths from infectious diseases have been drastically reduced.

Everyone should be protected against smallpox and diphtheria as an absolute minimum. Do not wait for an epidemic to break out. Then it is often too late.

Begin Returning Bodies in Fall, Army Announces

ANTONIO, Feb.—Next of kin of World War II dead need take action relative to the return of remains of their loved ones unless they wish to have them buried in the United States, the Army announced today.

The Graves Registration service will begin returning bodies in the fall of this year from 10 temporary cemeteries in both the European and Pacific theaters, namely seven in Italy, Henri Chappelle, Belgium, England, and St. Lawrence, France. Relatives of those buried in these cemeteries will receive inquiries this spring asking whether they wish the remains returned to the United States for burial. This process will be continued from cemetery to cemetery until the entire program is completed. As additional information is received names of other cemeteries will be published.

Col. Macatee said it is expected that next year will be required to finish the program and also emphasized the importance of keeping the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard advised of any change in address or change in the next of kin.

SHAVES SAVER

David Goldman is a one-man crusader against a fundamental cause of irritation and ill-humor in a world groping toward peace and brotherhood.

Goldman seeks to lighten the load of his fellow men by finding ways to lessen the ordeal of the daily shave. Adopting a realistic approach, he accepts as inevitable that shaving is not pleasant, and no amount of high pressure salesmanship can make it so. The morning shave, he knows, has caused more wifely tears than burnt toast and cold coffee. His aim is to make it tolerable.

Wire-Haired Terror. Last week after seven years of scholarly research, shave-expert Goldman summed up his findings: A beard's roughness and growth is affected by weather and water supply (it's harder to shave in the hard-water Rocky Mountain area, but beards grow faster in the warm South) the average American shaver lathers up every 1 1/2 days.

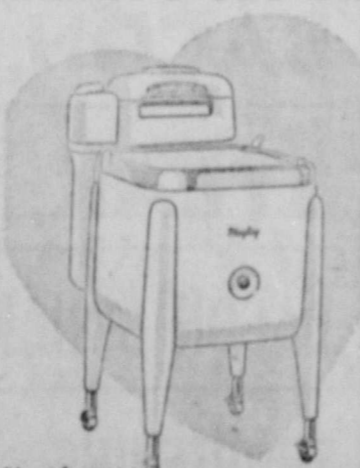

He recommends: Check the direction in which your whiskers grow (every man's beard is different) and push the razor in the opposite direction, and don't try to talk or read while shaving.—Pathfinder.

More Paving At Crosbyton

CROSBYTON, Feb. 7—Crosbyton was assured of an 80-foot paving through the city on highway 63 following the completion of the work by two committees this week. These committees signed up all property owners on the route, signifying that they would pay for the curb and gutter.

This pavement will extend from the school house corner on the west through the city and on past the Gulf station on that side. There is a possibility that another block will be included on the west, and another one on the east, but details will have to be worked out on these extensions.

Work On 10-Mile Road

Work begun Monday morning on Crosbyton's first stretch of farm-to-market road, a ten-mile strip running south of town toward Kalgary. H. E. Williams of Waco, contractor on the job, expects to push the construction which will be completed late this spring, weather permitting.

The contract, which was for $65,535.72 calls for grading and drainage structures, a flexible base of caliche and a base preservative of asphalt. A 100-foot right-of-way was secured on the road and a comparatively few changes will have to be made in the location of the roadbed.

This is Crosby county's second farm-to-market road, the first running south of Ralls. Several others have been designated. Action on these roads will apparently be postponed until after July 1st.

Texas, with its 254 counties stocked with a large number of cattle sheep and goats, swine, chickens, turkeys, horses and mules, has only about 300 veterinarians engaged in private practice.

10 ways you can help yourself to good telephone service

Telephoning is easy. But more depends on the user than people realize. What you do when making or receiving a call often has a lot to do with how satisfactory that call is. Here are ten suggestions:

1.  Before you call, make sure of the number. If you're not sure of it, look in the telephone directory, and thus avoid wrong numbers.
2. Give the called party time to answer. He or she may be some distance from the telephone. A minute isn't too long.
3.  Speak directly into the mouthpiece. About an inch between it and your lips is right for best results.
4.  Move the switch hook slowly up and down to recall or signal the operator. "Jiggling" the hook rapidly often won't cause a signal to come in and is useless.
5. Replace the receiver carefully when you have finished talking. A receiver partly off the hook puts the whole line out of order.
6. Answer calls promptly. It's courteous to do so and often keeps the caller from hanging up—thinking you're not at home.
7. Identify yourself when you call or answer. Not everyone recognizes you by your voice. Telling who you are saves time and sometimes embarrassment.
8. Space calls on party lines. If you have a series of calls to make, allow a few minutes between each one so others can use the line to call or be called.
9. Keep calls brief on party lines. Other folks on the line will appreciate your thoughtfulness and—who knows—may follow your good example.
10.  Avoid calling in busy hours if possible. Switchboards are usually busiest during midmorning and late afternoon.

Frances Keim, Ham Smith, Take Marital Vows Sunday Afternoon in Ceremony at M. E. Church

A screen of palms and woodwardia fern outlined against cathedral tapers and sequins formed an impressive setting for the marriage of Frances Keim, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Keim to Ham Smith, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren H. Smith, Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the First Methodist church.

Rev. Lloyd H. Jones, pastor, read the double ring ceremony as the couple stood before an improvised altar. Preceding the ceremony, Miss Rowena Turner sang "Always," "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because." Organist Mrs. G. R. May, played the traditional wedding marches for the processional and recessional and soft nuptial music during the exchange of vows.

Tall trees of woodwardia fern decorated the walls of the church. Wrought iron baskets of gladioli, white stock and huckle berry adorned the pulpit and choir rails. The processional side was marked with single candelabra with satin ribbons, calla lilies and white satin rope.

Mrs. Lloyd Murry, sister of the groom, attended the bride as matron of honor. She was attired in a blue wool suit with brown accessories and carried a nosegay of pink roses, sweet peas of pastel colors and candy tufts.

Taper Lighters, Ushers
Lloyd Murry served the groom as best man. George Fry Linder and Keith Tye lighted the tapers and assisted Carl Lester Minor and Wayne Collins as ushers.

Occupying a reserved section at the ceremony and wearing gardenia corsages were several school-girl friends of the bride. Thus complimented were Ploy Jean Hale, Dorothy Tye, Dorothy Rushing, Mrs. LuJana Jackson, Doris Cornelius, Marjorie Sue Morehead, La Nell Harmon.

Entering on the arm of her father, the bride was lovely in a brown gabardine suit accented with brown accessories. She carried a white Bible topped with a white cattail orchid and white bouvardia tied with white satin streamers.

For the traditional "something old," the bride wore a gold wedding ring, which belongs to her grandmother, Mrs. J. E. Laughlin. The

IN MEMORY OF G. M. BULLARD

Father has gone out yonder To God's bright haven of rest, Where he shall await our coming When he have stood life's test.

As companion, father, friend so true He cherished our hearts each day His life has been ours for years— He gave us his best all the way. Though, now our lives with him must be Fond memories of days gone past His influence will live 'on As long as this life shall last. Then the anguish of his going Will all be taken away. Leaving "peace that passeth understanding" When once our sorrow held sway" —Viola Conner.

WOMEN KEEP WARTIME JOBS

HOLDING FAST to a beachhead established during the war, 24 women employees in the engineering department of the Timken Roller Bearing Co.'s Canton factory, daily bend over drawing boards and find use for their triangles, compasses, dividers and other drafting equipment.

Prior to World War II, Timken, like nearly every other manufacturing concern in the country, did not have a woman at work on engineering problems. But, when draft boards took two-thirds of the department's 60 men, six women were hired as an experiment. The experiment was a success and today the women are regulars.

Each newcomer is given on-the-job training and some are so enthusiastic they have continued studies, leading to a degree in mechanical engineering, under a five-year cooperative plan offered by the University of Cincinnati.

In the picture is Miss Evelyn Smith, 19-year old Canton girl, who went to work in the section 18 months ago. Neat, trim and pretty as can be, Miss Smith likes the work just fine. Asked if this was her career, she smiled prettily and replied, "Yes, that is until the right engineer comes along."

Proper Living Habits Impair Many Brains

IN, Texas, Feb.—Mental disorders represent a real problem. It is estimated that more than ten per cent of all hospitals are filled by persons suffering from mental or nervous diseases. Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Officer, says that modern civilization is exacting a terrific toll upon nature, with its cruel demands upon the individual. A large part of the trouble proper personal conduct must shoulder much of the blame. It is that nearly fifty per cent of patients entering hospitals for mental disorders are there because of organic or toxic causes. For example, general paralysis is the cause of one-fifth of the troubles in males entering hospitals and one-tenth of the disorder in all groups. This condition is an organic disease of the brain caused by the germ responsible for syphilis. It is a preventable disease, and effective treatment of syphilis will block the end of general paralysis in the individual. Excessive use of alcohol is responsible for a number of mental disorders, at least in males. Alcohol and syphilis combined are responsible for approximately one-fifth of the hospitalized insanities. Nevertheless, proper living habits continue to impair many brains. Insufficient sleep, neglect of bodily care and an over forcing of nervous energy are the pitfalls to avoid in this connection. The doctor demands that her fundamental laws be at least reasonably observed. A constant outraging of the physiological economy takes its toll not only in bodies but in minds also. Insanities and lesser nervous disorders could be spectacularly reduced if this fact was more generally respected. Training for mental health must be started in childhood as that is the time when corrections can be made to the best advantage.

CABBAGE SEED SAVED

Nearly all the cabbage seed grown in the United States before World War II came from a single county, Skagit, in Washington, where the climate is favorable and farmers have picked up the "know-how." Doubtless, much of it will continue to come from there—but it seemed doubtful for a time, because of the increase in cabbage plant diseases. These were so severe as to reduce yields seriously and even threaten the crop in the years just before the war. War needs called for continued production, so the Bureau of Plant Industry joined forces with the Washington Agricultural Experiment Station and other State county, and local agencies to work out corrective measures.

The cooperative research showed that mosaic was one of the most destructive diseases. The workers were able to discover a vicious circle in the system of cabbage seed production—and to show how to break it. There was an overlapping of the old and new crops that favored just the kind of multiplication or spread of mosaic that had happened. The cabbage mosaic is carried from disease to healthy plants by plant lice. Cabbage seed crops are managed in this way: The large seed companies contract with farmers to grow the crop. The companies furnish the plants for transplanting. To supply these plants, the companies sow their seed in beds in June and July. Transplanting begins in August. Cabbage plants must have time to develop well but not to form a head before winter. If cabbage is started too late, it may not "bolt"—send up a seed stalk—the following season. Plants overwinter in the field and seed is ready for harvest in July and August. Thus there is an overlap of from one to three months in the old and new crops. This gave the aphids opportunity to move from the diseased old plants to the seedlings in beds nearby—carrying the mosaic with them.

Growers were shown that producing the new plants in beds at a safe distance of several miles from the cabbage fields felled the aphids or plant lice, broke the vicious circle and greatly reduced losses from mosaic.

Texas Boys Win

TOP HONORS for Texas in the 1946 model car design competition of the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild went to Jean Carson of Borger, who won the state junior award, and Charles D. McLendon, of Longview, who took senior division honors. Young Carson's model also received a regional award as the best junior in the states of Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana and Oklahoma. Because he is the son of a GMC truck dealer, Craftsman's Guild rules require a duplicate award to the next highest ranking boy for state junior honors. This was received by Dan K. Barton of McAllen, while Robert Eskridge of Little Rock, Ark., was named a junior co-regional winner. Carson and Eskridge will attend the national convention at Detroit, Mich., to compete for university scholarships. The Craftsman's Guild is an educational foundation sponsored by General Motors to encourage development of handiwork and craftsmanship among teen-age boys.

South Plains News

(Crowded out last week)

SOUTH PLAINS, Feb. 3—The old Ground Hog really crawled back in his hole Sunday morning. I think most of us will be satisfied with the weather as long as we do not have any more days like last Wednesday. It made us think of the old days that we would like to forget.

Mr. and Mrs. George West spent the week-end in Amarillo with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Evans and Sharon.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Smith and Sandra visited Friday night and Saturday in Lubbock with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stanford.

Miss Patay Jo Childress was honored with a birthday party at the home of Miss Maggie Jones Sunday January 19. Guests were served chocolate cake and hot tea before enjoying a skating party at Floydada.

Rev. and Mrs. R. C. Guest took Dick to Lubbock Saturday, where he boarded a train for camp in California.

Side Lights From Washington

(By George Mahon)

A number of cattlemen from the Southwest have recently come to Washington to ask the government to protect their herds from the foot and mouth disease that has broken out in Mexico. This disease is the most dreaded affecting livestock Mexico, over our protest, imported some Brahma bulls from Brazil last fall, and from these imported cattle the disease got its start in Mexico. The foot and mouth disease spreads easily and attacks cattle, hogs, sheep and goats.

A wide-spread infection in the Southwest would cost livestock producers millions of dollars and upset the economy of the whole area. Officials in the Department of Agriculture have convinced me that the threat is a real one, and I have joined with others here in the campaign to get appropriate action as soon as possible.

The threat of the spread of this disease into Texas and other Border States is so serious that the problem was considered last week at the President's Cabinet meeting. Cooperation between Mexico and the United States is urgently required and it is hoped that the good-will flight of President Truman to Mexico early in March will expedite plans for combating the disease.

Already experts of the Bureau of Animal Industry are cooperating with Mexico in an eradication campaign, and it now appears that considerable U. S. money may have to be spent to arrest the spread of the disease and protect Texas livestock.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Beedy were host and hostess to a "42" party of the Home Demonstration club Friday night, January 31. Present for the occasion were Messrs and Mesdames Gilbert Bean, Mose Damron Arthur Brown, E. P. Smitherman Dock Jones, Johnnie Wilson, Wade Deavenport, George West and the host and hostess.

We were glad to have Mrs. Sanders, Buddy and Hansel at church Sunday night.

Rev. and Mrs. R. C. Guest attended the "Pastors and Laymen's" conference at Plainview Monday and Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Cobb and daughters of Littlefield visited Sunday with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Arby Muller.

Already experts of the Bureau of Animal Industry are cooperating with Mexico in an eradication campaign, and it now appears that considerable U. S. money may have to be spent to arrest the spread of the disease and protect Texas livestock.

I have promised cattlemen to support an emergency appropriation when the request comes before the House Committee on Appropriations. Money will be spent to stop the disease south of the Border would be wisely spent, despite the present urgent necessity for economy in Government.

I asked the Bureau of the Budget last week to approve a request made by the Geological Survey for additional funds for a more intensive study of underground water in West Texas. The program also embraces water studies in other areas and states. The chances are good that the Budget Bureau will approve the request and send it to the House Appropriations Committee for consideration. I hope the Congress will act favorably.

Legislative action in the House last week included passage of a bill sponsored by the Republicans and endorsed by President Truman which provides continuation for an indefinite period of the $9 per gallon excise tax on whiskey and the 20% tax on railroad tickets, theatre admissions, cosmetics, long distance telephone calls, jewelry and furs.

On every hand are reminders of the hazards of modern traffic. The Chief of the Traffic Bureau for the District of Columbia reported a few days ago that in 1946 there were 10,437 traffic accidents in Washinten, D. C. In these accidents 4,698 people were injured and 72 killed.

Mrs. Billie Crumpton left last Friday for an extended visit to Denver Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Steen daughter, Becky, of Fort were in Floydada last week guests of the Homer Steen friends here.

Here's Proof of Extra Mileage in the Tire That OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES

Testimonials like the above letters about the new B. F. Goodrich Silvertown are not uncommon. Nor are we surprised at this evidence of long mileage. This extra mileage was scientifically engineered into the tires. First, a wider, flatter tread was developed for longer wear and greater protection against skidding. Second, to hold that huskier tread a new 3596 stronger cord body was developed.

That's why we say, see us today... equip your car with the new B. F. Goodrich Silvertown... the tire that outwears prewar tires.

HOSPITAL CONSTRUCTION WORK SHOWS MORE SPEED

CROSBYTON, Feb. 7.—Work on Crosbyton's Co-operative hospital building is progressing rapidly, a visit to that institution revealed this week. At the rate the building is being constructed, work should be well along toward completion within another 30 days.

All the partitions in the building have now been erected, and Forest Edler, who has the job of plastering, is well along on this work in the basement.

The hospital will have its own PBX switchboard, using a battery type system, for inter-hospital communication. Every room will have a plug-in type telephone and this wiring has been completed.

May we take this means of expressing our sincere thanks for the many words of comfort shown us in the loss of our dear son and brother. WINTERS WARMER NOW

SCHENECTADY, Jan.—Winters really are warmer now than in grandfather's day.

Since 1850, earth temperatures everywhere have been rising -- more emphatically since about 1920. Dr. Clarence A. Mills of the University of Cincinnati's laboratory for experimental medicine declared in a General Electric science forum address here.

Earth temperatures rise regularly by 2000-year cycles, Dr. Mills pointed out.

New City Hall Nearly Ready At Petersburg

PETERSBURG, Feb. 7.—The City Hall building that will house the city offices and the fire truck and other fire fighting equipment as well as water works supplies and equipment, is just about completed and ready for occupancy.

This building is located on the east side of Main street directly across the street from Petersburg Implement company and adjacent to the East Side Garage to the north. It is of the construction and is 25 X 60 feet.

Post at Petersburg Buys M E Church

PETERSBURG, Feb. 7.—The Petersburg American Legion recently purchased the Methodist church basement building that will be used as their home. The Legion had already acquired an all steel building, and had it on the ground ready for construction, but the opportunity presented itself to buy the Methodist church property already constructed and ready to move in, so they deemed it wise to make the purchase.

ALL EDITORS ENVY HIM

The Fountain Inn Tribune of South Carolina may not be publishing these days, but a while back it carried these remarks in a wedding story on the society page.

"The groom is a popular young bum who hasn't done a lick of work since he got shipped in the middle of his junior year at college. He manages to dress well and keep a supply of spending money because his dad is a softhearted old fool who takes up his bad checks instead of letting him go to jail where he belongs."

"The bride is a skinny, fast little idiot who has been kissed and handled by every boy in town since she was 12 years old. She paints like a Sioux Indian, sucks cigarettes in secret, and drinks mean corn-liquor when she is out joy-riding in her dad's car at night. She doesn't know how to cook, sew or keep house."

"The groom wore a rented dinner suit over athletic underwear of imitation silk. His pants were held up by pale green suspenders. His number-eight patent-leather shoes matched his state in tightness and harmonized nicely with the axle-grease polish of his hair. In addition to his jag he carried a pocket knife, a bunch of keys, a dun for the ring and his usual look of imbecility."

"The bride wore some kind of white thing that left most of her legs sticking out one end and her bony upper end sticking out at the other. The young people will make their home with the bride's parents which means they will sponge on the old man until he dies and then she will take in washing."

To which item was added this final enlightening paragraph:

"Postscript—This may be the last issue of the Tribune, but my life ambition has been to write up one wedding and tell the unvarnished truth. Now that it is done death can have no sting."
—Carlsbad Argus

FLAMING DEATH

Three high school youth in a speedy car, in cozy comfort riding; Down the road not very far, They find a tragedy hiding.

There's Glenn and Kenneth and Nita Merle, Happy, carefree and gay, With never a care in the whole wide world, As they glide along the way.

A sleepy driver is on the road, He doesn't keep to the right, With a great big truck and a heavy load He's roaring through the night.

He knows he's sleepy and loaded with care, But the cargo must go through, Like an eagle swooping to catch a hare, His course is swift and true, He swoops upon the helpless three They never have a chance.

The car is pinned, The people within Are held in the avalanche, Into the night An erie light Sends up an awful glare, For gas and steel And tire and wheel Have become a funeral pyre.

The heart of the town is broken, Because of a terrible loss; The eyes of the people are dimmed with tears, And hearts of the people are filled with fears, As they bear the heavy cross; But the spirits of the three young citizens Shall live forever In the hearts of fellow citizens Enshrined forever.

CARMACK'S NEXT GAME

I have seen many stars of the Grid Iron, both in high school and college, but I do not remember seeing a better backfield man than Glenn Carmack.

I remember well his last game here, the all important contest with the Wellington Rockets. I wanted to say something about that. Then I thought of the next big game he was called to play, with new team mates on a different field.

Then I wrote these words in his memory.

The chips were down, The stakes were high, Now 't the time to do or die; Wellington must be beat.

The rockets soared, The Whirl Winds roared, And Carmack turned on the heat.

In spite of all his wind and grit In spite of all his power to hit The Rockets scored the most, The game was lost, but glory won, And Carmack's still the favorite son Of all the shouting host.

And the teams that rise hereafter Shall fight in Carmack's name For he lives among the heroes The great of gridiron fame.

The boss of all the coaches Selects the best of men To play on the team he bosses, And he wants that team to win; So he calls the name of Carmack, Long and strong and clear, And the hero answers the summons To play in a distant sphere.

Whatever the odds against him Whatever the chance to win, You'll find him fighting a battle With the best and bravest of men; And the coach of all the great ones In a far and distant land, Will place the name of Carmack Among that gallant band.

A STITCH IN TIME—

Adequate wiring is like that proverbial "stitch in time."

Today, many businessmen are finding, as they improve their lighting, that present wiring is inadequate. Luckily it costs little to replace present wiring with adequate wiring, but it is frequently troublesome.

The lesson is obvious. If you are building a place of business or a home, check carefully and make sure that you have adequate wiring for today... and tomorrow.

assembly. Mr. Hart was organizer of the first Flying Farmer group in Lynn county last year. M. W. Alford, of Irick, who is a member of the N. A. A. District board of directors and who has made considerable use of planes in carrying on defoliating, dusting and baiting said that the use of the airplane is due to have an increasing part in the farming activities of the future.

Favor Landing Strips

For the purpose of the flying farmer several landing strips over the area will serve better than an elaborate airport or airports, it was practically agreed by all present. Strips adjacent to marketing points in particular will greatly facilitate the use of the air and speed up the plane operator's farming operations.

W. H. Tanner asked those present to use what influence they could to head off additional restrictive legislation in Texas. Laws already on the statute books are ample protection for the public if properly enforced, he declared. The organization will make an effort to interest authorities in Floyd county in the establishment of landing strips.

Next meeting of the Flying Farmers will be on the second Saturday in March, when they will formally adopt a working set of by-laws to govern the group. After that date it was indicated by sentiment expression, their meetings will be held quarterly.

Registered at the meeting were the following:

Raymond Rucker, Pleasant Valley; Ivan Thompson, H. N. Smith, Lockney; M. W. Alford, W. E. Terrell, Robin Byars, Irick; L. M. Reed, O. B. Johnson, Jr., Kendall; K. Cummings, C. H. Parrish, Alvin O. Daniel, Fred Martin, M. H. Martin, Conner Oden, Floydada; F. A. Hardage, Dougherty; Ralph Brown, M. C. Scheele, Providence; Clyde Whittle, Briscoe county.

Jack Creel, Station KFYO, Lubbock, and Manuel W. Ayres, Plainview, were present at the organization meeting as active representatives of flying organizations in these adjacent areas.

Future Profession

A soldier amputee, at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, learns camera skills from a professional photographer serving as a Red Cross volunteer Arts and Skills instructor. It may mean a future job for the soldier.

The truck going south and the automobile going north, appeared to have met practically head-on and to have caught fire almost immediately.

Equipment from the fire department at Tulla had to be used to extinguish the flames enough to remove the bodies and there was still some fire in the wreckage when the officers left there at 10:45 p. m. Front wheels of the truck were on top of the car, officers said, and the automobile's motor had been torn loose by the impact and was under the truck.

The collision, judging from positions of the vehicles after the impact, occurred on the east side of the highway. The truck was partly on the highway on the east side and an extra set of wheels used in hauling pipe, was in the narrow ditch, apparently having been thrown from the vehicle.

the pavement friction set sparks which ignited the gasoline. It was a mass of flame within seconds.

Carmack Probably Driving Carmack's body was in such position that he could have been driving. One body was partially in the back of the car and partially in the front seat and one was found on the pavement, Clower said.

The bodies were removed between 10:30 and 11 under supervision of O. R. Wallace of the Wallace Funeral Home of Tulla. A Tulla fire truck went to the scene and with water from the booster tank and by use of chemicals finally brought the blaze under control. The tire on the trailer burned furiously long after the gasoline was consumed and generated terrific heat, Clower said. The deputy sheriff said the driver of the truck is Robert C. Miller, 31 of Odessa. Practically all the hair was burned off his head and he received a cut upper lip and contusions about the head and face.

Officers said Miller stopped at a cafe when he came through Tulla. Miller was driving south on Highway 87 when the accident occurred and the car in which the three high school students were riding was traveling north.

Clower said the accident apparently occurred east of the center highway stripe. The wreckage rolled clear of the pavement and traffic by the scene of the wreck was not impeded.

As Seen by Marshal Details of the accident, as related by City Marshal D. C. Adams who accompanied Deputy Sheriff O. R. Cosby and J. L. Clower, to the scene, were:
