1928'S STRAWS BEGIN TO BLOW TOWARD TEXAS

Achievements of Moody Begin to Attract National Eyes

DEMOS LOOK AHEAD

Party Leaders Here May See a Promise for Later Days

Special to The Record News.

AUSTIN, April 6.—Dan Moody's career, even in the stage of his first candidacy for governor, is already taking on a national bearing and beginning to hold concern in national political affairs.

Moody's achievements up to now are causing the straws of 1928—the next presidential year—to begin blowing about to point toward the possibilities of the future.

It all comes about, according to a veteran newspaper man, who explained his views to this writer, in that Texas concerned in national politics are turning to Moody.

Looking Ahead.

Men who carry in Texas the burden of the party's responsibility for national success look far ahead, this newspaper man asserted, and are concerned, not so much with any particular campaign or man's chances, as the ultimate effect on national party success.

He says the democratic national leaders—in Texas National Committeeman Jed C. Adams of Dallas—have already decided the only hope of victory next time is with Al Smith, New York governor, as the party nominee. That Jed Adams has pledged his support to Moody and heads the Moody committee in Dallas.

That Jessee Jones, Houston millionaire, treasurer for the democratic national committee in this section, is also supporting Moody.

They are looking to 1928, this veteran observer says. They see that Texas did its part in 1924 to cause the democratic split, by reason of the strength of the klan movement. Texas can only get behind Smith if solidly behind a vigorous anti klan leader, the argument goes and so Texas' main hope of not standing in the way of the only democratic hope in the next presidential election is Dan Moody.

An Interesting Theory.

At least, the theory is sufficiently involved and intricate, to appeal to the mind of the lover of the political game.

But the fact of those having national connections in the party supporting Moody, at once lifts his candidacy for governor outside merely the local concern of Texas and hinges upon it a vast range of possibilities, giving to Texas developments an added significance this year.

Want To Be Rid Of Your Hubby? Just Read This

Chicago Beauty Expert Gives Some Effective Ways to Do It

CHICAGO, April 6.—(AP)—Seven rules for getting rid of husbands were given by Mrs. Ruth J. Maurer, head of a national chain of beauty schools in an address today at the Illinois Hair Dressers association convention. They are:

1—Use soap and hot water for cleansing the face, always scrubbing vigorously, thus leaving the skin dry and harsh.

2—Insist on being natural. Refuse to use powder, expose yourself to the hot sun. Get tanned and sun burned, thus dilating the peripal blood vessels and producing the coarse weather beaten effect known as a sailor's skin.

3—Shampoo your hair with strong alkaline soap.

4—Play golf, tennis, or take long motor rides without a hat.

5—Never use sun glasses. Squint and scowl instead.

6—Dhink high balls, cocktails and synthetic gin.

7—Smoke one or two packages of cigarettes a day being careful to inhale. This will stain the finger tips and discolor the teeth.

"These rules, if followed carefully will cause any woman to look a fright and end up in the divorce court," said Mrs. Maurer.

LOREE TRACES RAIL MERGER

He Outlines Reasons For Wanting to Unite Big Systems

HOUSTON, April 6—(AP)—A proposal combination of three southwestern railroads into a participating, cooperating organization, composed of 5,803 miles of rail, and touching the heart of the southwest, was outlined by L. F. Loree, prime figure in the proposed consolidation, at a luncheon tendered by the chamber of commerce to Mr. Loree and 22 other rail officials, who were here today.

The lines which figure in the proposed consolidation are the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad, the Kansas City Southern and the St. Louis and Southwestern.

Mr. Loree, principal speaker at the luncheon, prefaced his address by an expression of regret that C. E. Schaff, president of the M-K-T lines, will retire May 1, after 55 years of railroading.

The chief advantage of the consolidation, according to Mr. Loree, will be the possibility of giving more adequate service to southwestern shippers He pointed out that the Kansas City Southern was chiefly an assembling road, while the Katy and Cotton Belt lines were distributing roads, finding that the two lines could interchange empty cars with a large decrease in operating expenses.

Microscopic study of sand cores, etc., is coming to be a valuable aid to the oil producer, Sheldon said, and it had been found that the typical flapper is best suited for this work.

"A girl has more patience than a man," he said "and they show more aptitude for the work. Some of the most capable in the country are girls," he concluded.

Instead of being taken at once to Huntsville to begin serving his sentence, he will be retained here and brought to trial in Archer City for the Holliday hi-jacking in which he was a ringleader Monday night, District Attorney Ben Allred declared yesterday. A formal charge of robbery with firearms was filed in Archer City Tuesday morning against Jackson, Carroll Mumford, ex-deputy sheriff, and E. E. Savage, all of whom were arrested in Wichita Falls just before midnight after they had robbed J. M. Hawley and L. L. Wallace in Holliday earlier in the night.

The cases are not properly ones for this county, inasmuch as the robbery was committed in Archer county. District Attorney

$5 Too Much, So Negro Goes Free

AUSTIN, April 6.—(AP)—Because they thought a $5 fine was too heavy though a defendant was guilty of assault a jury in Justice of the Peace Frank Tannehill's court Tuesday released a negro as not guilty after he had been fined $1 and costs.

The jury first reported a verdict of guilty then when Justice Tannehill told the members that they must also levy a penalty, they filed out and returned later with a verdict of guilty and placed a fine of $1 and costs.

Justice Tannehill explained that the fine was not legal because it was too small. They were told that a $5 fine was the smallest which could be assessed.

The jury filed out again and returned with a note saying "we find the defendant not guilty."

State Is Requested To Give Machinery For Highway Work

SNYDER, Texas, April 6.—(AP) County judges, commissioners and road committees repersenting six counties meeting here today, adopted a resolution asking the state highway department to furnish additional road working machinery for maintenance of highway number 83 in this section.

Some of the maintenance superintendents, handicapped and delayed by lack of machinery, have been forced to borrow equipment from the counties, it was claimed.

Much good work on the highway already has been done, and many of the speakers so noted in commendatory talks. The highway is hard surfaced, or provisions have been made for such, west of Fort Worth to the Fisher county line. The road west from that point is well graded and is being carefully maintained by the highway department.

Story Trial Opens In Court at Vernon

DENTON, Texas, April 6.—(AP) Trial of the second of the numerous cases growing out of officers' raids on the Yancey Story ranch near Denton, to be tried here, was under way today with introduction of testimony against Cal Wilkinson for alleged complicity in the attempt to rob the Sanger bank in March, 1925.

Wilkinson is specifically charged with being an accomplice to burglary.

The morning witnesses included Ranger Captain Tom Hickman and two sides who testified regarding paraphernalia found on the Story ranch, and alleged to have been used in the robbery attempt. H. T. Bridges, cashier of the bank, told how the safe looked after the yeggs had tried unsuccessfully to wreck it.

"HER MAN"

--By Beatrice Burton--

READ THIS FIRST:

SYLVIA STARR has been engaged to RANDALL PHELPS for a year when he asks her to break their engagement. He explains with brutal frankness that he's fallen in love with her best friend, FAY SHIRLEY.

Heart-broken, Sylvia gives him up, greatly to the satisfaction of AUNT AGONY, the shrewd old maid who reared her. Aunt Agony calls Ranny a lazy good-for-nothing, and says he'll never be true to any woman. She encourages her beautiful niece to marry PETER WILK, a sober bachelor who adores her.

But Sylvia cares only for Ranny. And when he and Fay suddenly end their engagement, Sylvia marries him after all! But shortly after they have settled down in the tiny flat that Sylvia calls The Nest, Ranny seems to fall under Fay's spell a second time. Moreover he spends most of his earning playing poker with his cronies, and Sylvia learns how to keep house on almost nothing a week.

But when she tells him that she's going to have a baby in a few months, he turns over a new leaf, apparently. And Fay Shirley promptly announces her engagement to EDDIE CARTER, her old beau, and marries him!

During the period before the baby is born, Sylvia becames great friends with strong - minded MOTHER PHELPS and LOLLY, Ranny's sister, who marries the family chauffeur, THOMAS BOYLE, an ambitious young Irishman who is studying law.

Shortly after the birth of RANNY JUNIOR, Ranny has a love affair with "PUSS" MARCH, the younger sister of one of Sylvia's girl friends. Ranny insists that a married man is entitled to harmless friendships with women other than his wife, and says so. But when Sylvia finds "Puss" March's picture in his watch she decides that the affair is more than friendship——and that it's high time she and Ranny had an understanding. She starts out by asking him if he realizes that they are no longer sweethearts, or even friends.

(NOW GO ON WOTH THE STORY)

CHAPTER XXVIII

Ranny's handsome face was as sulky as a spoiled child's when he answered.

"Why, sure, I know that we aren't friends any more," he agreed. "You're so wrapped up in the baby these days that I'm lucky if I get two words out of you. I'm actually driven to go outside of my own home for any kind of human companionship—for my good times."

Sylvia could hardly believe her ears. Had Ranny realy forgotten the nights and nights before the baby came when she had sat alone in The Nest, hour after hour, waiting for him to come home from his "good times?"

She opened her lips to remind him of those nights, but decided to say nothing—no use crying over spilled milk!

"But Ranny," she said gently, "The baby's in bed every night at six o'clock. I have plenty of time to sit here with you, but you're always gone. You don't seem to want to say here with me."

He scowled. "Well, why should I want to say here yith you?" he asked bluntly. "You don't make things so darned pleasant for me when I do stay! What are you doing now toward giving me peace and comfort? Razzing the shirt off my back—that's about all."

Sylvia flushed. "I'm sorry," she faltered, "I didn't mean to scold you, Ranny. But, somehow, everything seems to be so upset lately. I thought that perhaps if we talked things over —" She stopped and bit her lip. She had the silliest desire to break down and cry.

But she knew that she didn't dare to! She knew that now or never she must get things straightened out between them. So she set her teeth, straightened herself in her chair, and went on bravely:

"I know I'm not very interesting —but you used to like to be with me before we married. You were in love with me then, and you aren's any more. Isn't that about the size of it?"

Ranny shrugged his shoulders. "Do we have to settle all this tonight? he asked. "I have a rotten headache and I'd like to be quiet, if you don't mind."

He picked up his newspaper and raised it, like a wall between them.

Sylvia went to the bathroom for the headache cologne.

As she stood robbing Ranny's fore-

As she stood rubbing Ranny's fore-her that there was no earthly use in trying to talk things over. He wanted to be left free to go his own way —and let her go her way. He had made that very plain.

As if to make it still more plain, he said suddenly: "I should never have married you, Sylvia. I shouldn't have married any woman. I'm a born bachelor.

For answer she leaned over him and kissed him very quietly and tenderly.

"You're my man," she said, and her voice trembled.

That night she thought it all out. She would not only have to live her own life, until Ranny returned to her from this new love affair of his, but she would have to earn her own money, too.

She couldn't take money from a man who had fallen out of love with her. True enough, it was little that he gave her—barely enough for the upkeep of the tiny flat, and for the baby's food and clothing.

"But I won't let him buy me any clothes or do anything for me," she made up her mind, shutting her lovely lips firmly and staring straight ahead of her into the darkness of the bedroom.

In the bed beside her, Ranny breathed regularly and audibly.

"I wonder if he knows that he hasn't kissed me goodnight in weeks," Sylvia thought, listening to that low and regular sound, "I don't believe he does. I think he's just forgotten me, in a way."

The next morning she wheeled the baby over to Bleak street to ask Aunt Agony for her old Steinway piano.

"I hate to ask for it," she said, as they stood together in the dim parlor, looking at its shining bulk. The old piano seemed so much a part of the old house. It had belonged to Sylvia's mother and it had stood in that particular corner of the room for almost thirty years.

"Sometimes I wonder If I Have Been Very Lucky Or Very Unlucky."

Aunt Agoney pursed up her colorless lips. "I'm sure I don't mind your taking it. I never play the thing," she answered, "and I'm so glad that you're going to go on with your singing lessons. You have a lovely voice and it's a shame to bury your talents."

Sylvia said nothing about her plans for the piano. She knew that Aunt Agony would be furiously angry if she found out that she intended to give music lessons.

On her way home she stopped in to see Sarah Wilk.

Peter's sister was just the sort of person everybody went to with their troubles, as Sylvia was going to her now.

She was plump and short and there was a twinkle in her black eyes that gave her short face the friendliest sort of expression. Sylvia loved her.

"Well, if this isn't nice—to see you again! And that blessed baby!" she squeaked with pleasure when she saw Sylvia standing on her front porch. She stood on tiptoe and kissed her, and then picked up Ranny Junior.

"Come right in" she went on breathlessly, "I just finished baking a cake and six loaves of bread—and it's lunch time and we'll just have a bite right out here on the side porch! Where will we put the baby? Up in my room—he'll never roll off the bed, will he?"

Chattering like a busy little brook, she led the way upstairs to her bedroom—a big, cool room with half-lowered blinds and snowy white muslin curtains that billowed out like sails in the breeze.

They laid the baby in the center of Sarah's wide four-poster bed, where he went promptly to sleep.

Sarah laid lunch on a tiffin table on the side porch that overlooked a

WALSH OF MONTANA

Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana is serving his third term. He is one of the great lawyers of America, and is looked upon as a fanatical dry. In religion he is a Roman Catholic, and his economic policies are the policies of the west. Walsh calls himself a Jeffersonian democrat. He is for the people against consolidated wealth. He does not believe that private monopoly should be permitted. If there is to be monopoly in this republic, then it should be government control.

Walsh is leading the fight against those who favor modification of the Volstead Act. He is sincere in his undying hostility to the wets and the wet program. Walsh does not believe in the use of liquor as a beverage; he does not believe in the use of liquor as a medicine. He sees no reason why it should be tolerated. He sees no reason why any change should be made in the Volstead Act.

Walsh is the son of a western pioneer farmer. He is for farm relief legislation. He would afford the farmer the same protection that is accorded the manufacturer and the employe of the manufacturer. Walsh could have been nominated for president in 1924 in the closing hours of the Madison Square Garden convention. He had made the most magnificent chairman in the history of party conventions and the delegates from north and south and east and west, were willing to give him any honor.

Walsh was too wise for them. He adjourned the convention to prevent the delegates from giving him second place and after the recess had been ordered Walsh buried himself in a distant part of the city where no delegate or correspondent could find him. He knew that the wreckers had made a clean job of it and that the democratic donkey was in no condition to canter around the presidential track.

Borah of Idaho would dearly love to be the republican standard bearer in 1928, and there are wise correspondents who believe that Walsh is in a receptive mood and should a deadlock come, he will be more than willing to carry the democratic standard of law in the presidential campaign.

Borah is a bitter ender. He doesn't believe in entangling alliances with foreign nations; Walsh is a Woodrow Wilson league of nations democrat. He would go all the way and he would do it now.

BRACHFIELD OF EAST TEXAS

Charles Brachfield of east Texas is willing to be attorney general. That is, he is willing to take the democratic nomination if his admiring fellow citizens will give it to him. Brachfield has been a member of the lower house, he has been a state senator, he has served two or three terms as district judge, and he has as wide an acquaintance in the southwest as any one of the old guard leaders. Dallas has five residents who are in the running for the nomination and the appearance of Brachfield in the race promises a real warm time in the piny wood sections of the state.

LAND TAXES IS TEXAS

Taxes on agricultural land in Texas increased a hundred and twenty per cent from 1914 to 1923. Professor F. A. Buechel of the Texas A. & M. college returned the indictment. He says these figures are all the more significant in view of the fact that in most parts of Texas the burdening imposed by the increase in taxes on agriculture lands has in no wise been mitigated by a corresponding increase in the price of farm products. Tell it to the lawmakers. Sixteen senators and a hundred and fifty representatives will be elected by the people this year.

CHAPMAN IS DEAD

"Gerald Chapman is dead." This is the scare head announcement on page one of every American daily. Why shouldn't he be dead? He was a murderous crook, a notorious law breaker, a thug of the most depraved kind and yellow clean through. This is the verdict of the agents of the law who have studied the life of Gerald Chapman and know all the high points of his career. Red-handed hi-jackers of the Chapman type should be shown no mercy by the law or its agents.

JONATHAN DEMANDS VINDICATION

Jonathan M. Davis of Kansas, is a farmer. In the closing days of his second term, the governor and his son and a political adviser were indicted by a grand jury for selling pardons. Jonathan M. said it was a frameup. He had never sold a pardon in his life, and had never authorized any member of his family or any member of his administration to sell a pardon. There were three indictments returned against Jonathan M. His son admitted that he received $1,250 for procuring a pardon for a convicted banker, the aforesaid banker being in and crazy to get out. This was a matter of business. His father knew nothing about it. He was out on his own and felt that he had a right to represent a banker in stripes who was in and crazy to get out.

Old man Jonathan has had a tough time for two years. He has faced three jury trials. He has won every round. His political enemies, including the governor and attorney general of Kansas and all the little prosecutors, made life weary for Jonathan M. Jonathan M. never grunted; never grumbled; never whimpered; never ran up the white flag. He said that he was innocent and that he was going to fight it out on that line. His son was sent to trial with him the last time and after hearing all the evidence and receiving the instructions of the judge, twelve good and true men spent thirty-six hours in getting together and uniting upon a verdict. They gave Jonathan M. and his youthful son a clean bill of health, thus wiping the slate and giving Jonathan M. a clean bill.

Now Jonathan M. is going to ask the democrats of Kansas to give him the nomination of governor and then get in behind him and elect him to the highest office in the gift of the people in the Sunflower state. Among the so-called framers of Jonathan M. are newspaper writers connected with a Kansas City journal. They furnished the evidence that a pardon had been granted to the banker and that young Davis had been paid $1,250 as a fee. All this happened three days before Jonathan M. retired from office. Jonathan M. is a plain farmer. Russell M. is the plain son of a plain farmer man.

Just now they have the laugh on the newspaper men of Kansas City, the photographers of Kansas City and the prosecutors of Kansas who were certain when the thing was pulled off that Jonathan M. would step from the state house to a cell in the state penitentiary.

IMPROVEMENT

There is talk of conducting mental tests for motorists at the license bureaus. At present they are conducted at grade crossings.

ASTONISHING

It would appear that moral terpitude does not unfailingly fit a young woman to write a successful play.

THE MINDS THAT RULE THE WORLD

THE great affairs of the world, the wars, the revolutions, etc., are carried on and affected by political parties.

The view of these parties is their present general interest, or what they take to be such.

The different views of these parties occasion all confusion.

While a party is carrying on a general design, each man has his own particular private interest in views.

As soon as a party has gained its general point each member becomes intent upon his particular interest; which, thwarting others, breaks that party into divisions, and occasions more confusion.

Few in public affairs act from a mere view of the good of their country, whatever they may pretend; and, though their actings bring real good to their country, yet men primarily considered that their own and their country's interest was united, and did not act from a principle of benevolence.

Fewer still, in public affairs, act with a view to the good of mankind.

The remarks are not mine, but Benjamin Franklin's. You will find them in his Autobiography, a human document too little read in the land that inspired it.

Because of what they were superficially taught in school, persons who ever think of Benjamin Franklin at all, think of him in terms of lightning and thrift and Poor Richard, and not as politician, diplomat and critic of society.

Franklin was a good politician because he knew and appreciated the fact that the men best qualified by intellect and character to govern are not those who usually get into and stay longest in office. And he was a good diplomat for the same reason.

The Toonerville Trolley That Meets All The Trains

WHO'S WHO

ROBERTO FARINACCI.

The man whom it is said Benito Mussolini most fears, Roberto Farinacci, secretary-general of the Fascist party, has announced his intention of resigning from that office.

Although only 33, uneducated, he has been the right hand man of Mussolini and has been called the "Tyrant of Cremona" and the "Right Fist of the Fascist Party." His chief has had to keep a strict watch over his aide since Farinacci once had designs on the dictatorship.

He became a member of the Black Shirt forces at their inception. From the obscurity of a railroad employe before the war he rose to political prominence following the march on Rome in October, 1922.

Of all the Fascists he was perhaps the most radical. Being opposed to constitutional government, Farinacci wanted to resort to the most extreme measures to establish Fascist rule. He was the leader of the extremists of the party, the Selvaggi.

He evidently has powers of persuasion, for in 1924 with little education and inability to speak Italian correctly, he got Mussolini to make him a lawyer. The next year he was made secretary-general of the party.

He has been in the limelight recently in connection with the Matteotti murder trial at Chieti. As chief counsel for the defense he secured the acquittal of two men and light sentences for the other three who were implicated in the murder of the Socialist deputy, thereby succeeding in shedding a certain glamour over the deed.

DINNER STORIES

During an epidemic of cholera on board a sailing vessel years ago so many men died that the doctor just made a chalk mark on the bunk where the occupant was to be buried.

One supposed corpse protested loudly when he discovered that he was about to be buried at sea. "But I'm not dead, don't you see?" said he.

"Oh, shut up" was the reply. "Do you suppose that you know better than the doctor?"

An Irish hodcarrier was carrying mortar to the top of a skyscraper which was being built. One day he went up and couldn't find his way down. The boss missed him and called up to him:

"Pat," he said, "why don't you come down?"

"I don't know the way," replied Pat.

"Why, come down the way you went up."

"Faith and I'll not," said Pat; "sure I came up head first."

"Look-a-here, porter," said the irate man, sticking his head out of an upper berth on a Pullman, "you've brought me one tan shoe and one black one."

"Well! I'se getting mighty ca'less all right," remarked the porter with a puzzled air; "that's the second time that's happened this mornin'."

POEMS THAT LIVE

"TO LUCASTA, ON GOING TO THE WARS"

By Richard Lovelace.

Tell me not, Sweet, I am unkind
That from the nunnery
Of thy chaste breast and quiet mind
To war and arms I fly.

True, a new mistress now I chase,
The first foe in the field;
And with a stronger faith embrace
A sword, a horse, a shield.

Yet this inconstancy is such
As you too shall adore;
I could not love thee, Dear, so much,
Loved I not Honour more.

Tries to Kidnap Wife, Is Caught On Check Charge

DALLAS, April 6.—(AP)—A daring attempt to kidnap his estranged wife at a busy downtown street corner today resulted in the capture of a Shreveport man trailed several weeks "on hot check" charges. John Hudson, Shreveport detective shadowing the woman on the theory her husband would try to see her, proved to be right this morning when the man sought pulled up at the curb in a taxicab, jumped out and tried to haul his wife into the car. Hudson ran up with a drawn pistol and forced him to desist.

The would-be kidnaper himself then was pushed into the same taxi and transported to the police station. He is charged with having issued two bad checks in Shreveport, according to the detective, one to an automobile company for $1,200 and the other for a $300 diamond ring.

Questions From the World of Love Answered by a Noted Authority

Don't Repine Because You Can't Find a Young, Rich, Romantic, Famous Man for Your Daughter. Such a Paragon Doesn't Exist—The Best Match Is When a Girl Marries An Ambitious Young Man Whom She Loves and Pushes On to Future Greatness.

A mother writes me that she has a beautiful young daughter, and she wants to know how she can obtain for her a husband who is rich and good, and highly placed in society. She says she is determined to have her daughter make a brilliant match.

Alas, dear lady, I am no miracle worker. If I could tell mothers how to make brilliant matches for their daughters, I would not be doing newspaper work. I would be president of the United States, elected by the unanimous feminine vote, and lending money to Henry Ford.

Every mother's wish is for her her daughter to make what is called a fine match, for her to marry a man who can give her automobiles and diamonds and perfect devotion; a man who stands ace high in the church and Bradstreet's, who is as domestic as the house cat, yet a brilliant figure in society; who is young and romantic, yet who will never turn his eyes away from his wife.

How to secure such a paragon for her daughter is one of the mysteries that lies on the knees of the gods. She can only hope and pray that luck will come her way.

There's literally nothing that she can do to bring about the result she so much desires. She can't even count on the help of the girl herself, for girls have such a contrary way of falling in love with the men who suit them instead of the ones whom mamma approves.

Of course, from the mother's standpoint, they do these things better abroad. In those countries where marriage is a business proposition instead of a heart throb, custom and convention permit mother to go out and hustle up a husband for her daughter, just as she would go out for any other good thing.

In America, however, the most that a managing mamma can do toward obtaining a husband for her daughter is to put the girl in an attitude to receive the blessing, as old-fashioned Methodists used to say.

She can add to the girl's attractiveness by dressing her up. She can lure elgible young men into the house by means of feeding them up and making the home an attractive place for them to come. She can take daughter about to places where men congregate on the principle that the hunting is best where the game is full of pep, there will be experienced a sense of contentment and tranquility.

Children born today will, in their infancy, enjoy normal health and the few ailments to which they will be subjected will denote that they may be attacked by at least one rather serious ailment. This will, while there will be no occasion for alarm, tax resources to the utmost. Temperamentally, they will be frank, myrthful and affectionate. They will display much more aptitude for outdoor sports and recreations than for work involving study. They will have a spirit for adventure which, unless carefully guided, is liable to get them into trouble. They will prove to be quite companionable and able to count on the loyalty and support of a large circle of friends.

If today is your birthday, you possess an affectionate but a weak character. You always experience difficulty in saying "no." Even when the "still, small voice" tells you what should be done, you are easily dissuaded from doing it and this is the chief secret of your failure to achieve that position to which your inherent ability entitles you. Resourcefulness is one of your principal characteristics and you could travel far if you could make up your mind, once and for all, what you wanted to do and then, make yourself confident and indifferent to the suggestions and advise of others, went ahead and did it. Stubbornness is not a virtue, but pusillanimity is a curse.

Successful people born on this date are:

Charles F. Bornard, philanthropist.

Jacques Leob, physiologist.

Lewis Nixon, ship builder and politician.

William A. Pinkerton, detective.

William Wordsworth, poet.

WHAT TODAY MEANS TO YOU

AIRIES

Today's planetary aspects are favorable until noon. They then become rather, although not definitely, adverse. The undertaking that was initiated under yesterday's excellent auspices can be prosecuted with energy during the morning. In the afternoon, however, it would be desirable, if possible, to review what has been accomplished and the influences that prevail will, in all probability, tell you if any errors have been made and, if so, how they can best be rectified. The evening, owing to the presence of good vibrations, promises success for all social entertainments or family reunions. There will be an entire absence of all jarring elements. And while you may not be plentiful. If she's rich she can affer a dowry with the girl, as a chromo is given with a pound of tea.

But this is about all that a mother can do in this country toward marrying off her daughter, and it isn't much. For the American man is seldom mercenary, and he's so shy that when he sees a woman throwing her daughter at his head he ducks and dodges.

There is something not a little pathetic in a mother's desire that her daughter should make a brilliant match. For in reality it isn't as avaricious and grasping as it seems. It is only her yearning to save her little ewe lamb from the hardships that she has known. She wants to protect the soft girl hands from the hard labor that she has had to do, and to save the tender feet from the thorny path that she has trod.

It should console these mothers who have no way of marrying off their daughters to what they think are fine catches that virtually no such man exists as they see in their visions of the kind of a man they would like their daughter to marry.

That kind of a marriage is the brilliant marriage, and mother needn't worry about finding such a husband for the girl. She'll do that for herself if it is done at all.

—DOROTHY DIX.

Lyrics of Life

By Douglas Malloch

Taking Pictures

Now take my picture, picture man,
And make me look the best you can;
One eye, the left, has quite a squint
I'd hate to have to see in print;
There are some wrinkles here and there
I'd like to say that came from care,
That more than likely same, no doubt
From sitting up and staying out;
I understand you have a way
Of touching up a look of gray;
So take a picture—not of me,
But rather what I'd like to be.

For, in a picture frame or book,
Who wants to look the way you look?
Who wishes to immortaline
The wrinkled brow, the squinted eyes?
So, if these things you have to show,
Just pass them over lightly though.
Bring out the points you think are fine;
All faces have them, even mine.
Some say I have a noble nose;
Bring out—bring out such things as those.
So take my picture, picture man,
But make me look the best you can.

And all us fellows, in a way,
Are taking pictures every day
To show to men, to put in books,
And saying, "This is how he looks."
We call attention to the wart,
And every sin of every sort,
Though that's the very thing that you
Don't want the picture man to do.
Let's talk about the better part,
The open hand, the honest heart,
Yes, try to make our fellow man
Look just about the best we can.

What Do You Know About It?

DAILY SCIENCE SIX

1. Was Darwin the first evolutionist?
2. What theories of evolution have been advanced since Darwin's time?
3. Did Darwin say "Men are descended from monkeys?"
4. What plants are supposed by evolutionists to be highest in the scale of evolution?
5. Are animals supposed by evolutionists to have arisen from plants?
6. Who was a co-discoverer of Darwin's ideas, with Darwin?

(Answers to these questions in tomorrow's Record News.)

PLANTS OR ANIMALS?

It would seem at first that it should be easy to tell the difference between plants and animals. Are not animals things that think, and have blood, and move about, while plants are rooted in one spot, have sap and green coloring matter, but no sensations? But there are animals like corals that are always rooted in one spot; only the higher animals have blood, and as for thinking, the lowest animals have no brains to think with but merely respond feebly to stimuli, and there are plants that do as much. Many plants can swim actively around, not merely drifting but actually oscillating forward, and not all plants are green; the mushroom is such an example. In short, a difference is not discoverable except that animals never breathe off oxygen and plants do. There are even certain organisms known as slimemolds which by all definitions appear to be plants part of the time and animals part of the time.

Now what do you know about that?

Answers to yesterday's questions:

1. Diamond is the hardest gem.
2. Carbon is the hardest chemical element.
3. Tin is the softest of the common metals.
4. The "lead" of pencils is really graphite.
5. Sand will scratch glass but a pin will not.
6. Platinum is harder than silver.

No Warrant Needed When Liquor Visible Belton Judge Rules

BELTON, April 6.—(AP)—No search warrant is necessary for officers arresting a man transporting liquor plainly visible to every one, in an automobile, District Judge Lewis H. Jones, held today in overruling defense objection in the trial of R. G. Frazier, Falls county constable.

Frazier objected to testimony showing that he had 25 gallons of whiskey in his possession, claiming that the arresting officers had no search warrant. The prosecution maintained that the car was not searched but that the officers spied the liquor in plain view.

PENNY PER YEAR.

Boy Sentenced to 12 Months for Each Cent Stolen.

KANSAS CITY, Kan., April 5.—(AP)—A minimum sentence of ten years, one year for each cent he obtained in the holdup of a barber shop here, was given today to Vincent Flynn, 17. The youth already was under a sentence of ten to twenty-one years for conviction of another holdup the same day, in which he obtained 85 cents.

The Fun Shop

By Maxon Foxhall Judell

Don't Let's Be Copy-Cats, Folks!

There may be clouds in April's sky,
But is that any reason why
There should be clouds in ours? We say
Let's make the fun shine every day!

That Rich Flavor.

Roger: "Cliff read somewheres that the cigarette brand he uses is 'toasted.'"
Herbert: "Yes!"
Roger: "So now he butts them before smoking."

THE EDITOR SPEAKS—

To the many Fun Shoppers who have so generously and so excellently contributed to THE FUN SHOP, we wish to offer our hearty thanks and say: Keep it up.

In general, contributions are always in order for the sensationally popular KRAZY KOLLEGE and KRAZY KINDERGARTEN series. In order to be a member of these classes in good standing, get hold of your dictionary and evolve original and refreshing twists to ordinary words.

Poems of 4 to 24 lines, on every general topic, are decidedly welcome. If you have what you think is an excellent humorous idea in verse, send it in. If your poem needs re-touching, we'll do it.

Cartoon ideas and cartoons will be warmly received, and Carl Anderson will lend his best artistic efforts to make acceptable any cartoon that has a real, genuinely funny idea.

Start in today with a new determination—to contribute to Krazay Kollege, Krazy Kindergarten, also verse, cartoons, jokes, epigrams, short prose burlesques children's sayings, in short—anything that's smart, crisp, clever, and humorous. —M. F. J.

The Right Type.

"Your credentials are satisfactory," said a manufacturer to a youth who was applying for the job as a clerk. "Have you a grandmother?"

"No, sir."

"Any dear old Aunt?"

"No, sir."

"Or any other relatives who might die during the 1926 baseball season?"

"No, sir."

"You'll do. Come in tomorrow for work." —Richard I. Lewine.

When a man showers attentions it is a pretty good sign that a girl is going to attend showers soon!

WHAT KING SOLOMON HAD TO LISTEN TO.

(According to Leon Dahnemann.)

"I don't care if she is your six hundred and seventy-eighth wife! I'm your eighth hundred and seventh and I guess I have a right to dress just as well as she does! You bought 700 hats, didn't you? Well, where's mine? I'm not going to make this hideous rag do another year just because your fifty-ninth wife does!"

"If you don't get rid of those three women you married last month I'm going home to mother! I can't bear them!"

"See here! You told Wife Number 446 that you spent the evening with a sick friend, and you told Number 752 you had trouble with your carjet. Then you have the nerve to tell me you were detained at the office!"

"It isn't that I'm jealous, Sol, but I think you are paying too much attention to Wife 651. The other wives are beginning to talk, and if you're not careful there'll be a scandal. Look at this nice cake I baked for you today!"

"O-o-oh! Did Sol's hateful wife number 230 give my ducky boy a black eye Let wife number 809 kiss it and make it well. Sweetums boy loves me more than all the rest of his wives put together, doesn't he? Kiss number 809!"

A Nuisance.

HAMBONE'S MEDITATIONS

Over 300 Delighted By Readings Given By Olive M'Clintock Johnson

More than three hundred club women of Wichita Falls enjoyed the feature at the Country club Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. Olive McClintic Johnson nof Dallas, dramatic reader and guest of the Woman's Forum of Wichita Falls and writer of note, gave a pleasing interpretation of "Enter Madame," which was made popular in New York City by Gilda Varesi.

Mrs. Johnson who has been successful as a writer of fiction and popular negro stories is leader of the current events department of the Woman's Forum of Dallas and lectures weekly there. Her reading of the dramatic comedy was much appreciated by the women who voiced the expression that Mrs. Johnson is one of the best speakers brought to the city by the Forum. She was introduced by Mrs. Ben G. Oneal, chairman of the program committee.

Club House Discussed.

Mrs. G. D. Anderson called attention to the campaign which is being made for $50,000 for the new club house to be erected on the $15,000 lot recently donated to the Forum by W. B. Hamilton of this city. She spoke of the work of the women of the city who have been behind the many good movements for the city, and showed how these women are those who are working diligently for the woman's club house. She pointed out in her talk that many persons have been found in the city since the campaign began who believe the club house is to be built for a social purpose only, and not for the serious study of problems which the Forum considers in its study during the year.

The Receiving Line.

The receiving line was composed of members of the general Forum program committee including Mrs. Oneal, Mesdames W. W. Silk, H. B. Patterson, A. R. Bleakley, assisted by Mesdames C. P. Burton, P. P. Langford, G. D. Anderson, E. A. Skalinder, W. P. Killingsworth and Fred Barron.

JACKSON

Allred, however, went before the grand jury Tuesday morning and later it was indicated some inquiry was under way by that body.

The district attorney was emphatic Tuesday in declaring every effort would be made to secure indictments of and convictions for all three men on the robbery charges. The Archer county grand jury, which convenes the first Monday in May, will receive a full report of the affair, Allred declared. He said he would seek a conviction and maximum sentence for Jackson, Mumford and Savage and that if these were obtained, the penalty against Jackson would be cumulative with his 25-year murder sentence. Jackson was found guilty over a year ago of the murder of an Iowa Park man and his appeal to the higher courts failed to bring a rehearing. A furlough of 60 days was obtained for him, however, mainly at the instigation of the sheriff's department and several business men here. The reprieve was given by Governor Ferguson on grounds that Jackson should have opportunity to arrange his personal business affairs.

Sheriff Smith and County Attorney Wayne Somerville sent a wire Tuesday morning to Governor Ferguson asking that the furlough be cancelled immediately.

Deputy Involved

Carroll Mumford, arrested with Jackson, has been carrying a special deputy sheriff's commission from the local sheriff's department in order that he might do special police work for the Waggoner estate. The commission was granted January 6 by Sheriff Smith on application of the Waggoner estate. It was cancelled Tuesday morning by order of the sheriff.

The three prisoners will be taken to Graham at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Chief of Police George Hodgins said last night. It was indicated that the grand jury here would finish its investigations today, if it has not already. A member of the city police force, a deputy sheriff and a representative of the constable's department will take the three to the Young county jail where they will be held pending action of the Archer county grand jury.

The Gulf Production companybailed salt water from sand 1,386-89 feet in its No. 1-A Abercrombie, located in the southwest corner of the company's lease in S. P. survey, abstract 1282, central Archer county. This was the second sand tested in the well, the top at 1,342 bailing but a show of oil.

Bridwell, Waggoner

Bridwell and Heydrick have abandoned their No. 2 J. & J. Waggoner test in the north part of block 20 of the Waggoner Bros. subdivision, Wichita county and in the Hezekiah George survey, as a dry hole at approximately 560 feet. The test had a show which was tested showing about 2 barrels of oil with not water in sand at 780 feet. Location for No. 3 has been made and derrick is being skidded to the new location. This test will be in the center of the west side of block 20.

Throckmorton County

With oil coming in over 300 feet in 12 hours from sand topped at 775 and drilled 3 feet the wildcat test of the Humble Oil and Refining company on the Ledbetter land in south Throckmorton county looks to be the Wichita district's newest of shallow pools. The well which is located 476 feet due east of the south quarter of the A. J. Kemp survey, abstract 1369, and located in the W. P. Bennett survey abstract 1356 is over 7 miles from the closest production and lies approximately 8 miles south and west of Woodson. The well is being drilled deeper before completing on the pump and at present gives every indication of making an altogether new shallow district for the Throckmorton area.

Thornton Talks To Ad Salesmen

The importance of handing in correct ad copy for an advertisement was discussed by Claude Thornton, local printer, in a talk before the Ad Men's club at the luncheon at the Kemp hotel Tuesday at noon. Handing in the copy for an advertisement on a paper bag is to the printer like saying "give me a suit of clothes," is to a clerk.

Two vocal numbers were given by "Soldier Caruso" who is appearing in this city under the auspices of the American Legion post. He was accompanied by Mrs. J. H. Allison.

DELIVERY EXTENDED.

Extension of the delivery in the postal service will begin April 16, according to the postmaster, O. P. Maricle when two additional mail carriers and two clerks will be added to the force.

The new route included in the delivery includes:

Smarsh street, from numbers 1507 to 1511; McGregor street from 1643 to 1808 and from 1909 to 2015; Britain street, 1800 block; Giddings street, from 1801 to 1807; Avenue L, from 2121 to 2135; Buchanan street, 2100 block; Avenue N, 2803 to 2914; Tilden, 2100 and 2102; Hays street, 1800 to 2108; Garfield street, 1811 to 2102; Arthur street, 1900 to 2013; Santa Fe street, from 1715 to 2100; Seymour road, 3100 to 3207; Avenue E, 3100 to 3011 and the 1500 block on Westlake Drive.

REALTORS HEAR COX

"The Laws of Brokerage with Reference to Real Estate," was the subject discussed Tuesday at noon before the Wichita Falls Real Estate Board by P. B. Cox, local attorney, when he encouraged community building, the following of high ideals and a man true to his profession as applied to the real estate dealer.

A report on the "On to Tulsa" campaign was made by P. S. Richardson. In the absence of the president, W. S. Curlee, J. M. Baber presided. A. M. McPherson was in charge of the program.

PLAN AUTO SHOW

garden filled with blue flowers—bachelor buttons, snap dragons, forget-me-nots, and even some clumps of blue hydrangeas.

There were lettuce sandwiches made with fresh bread, and peaches sliced in a big glass bowl, and iced tea, and cake with chocolate frosting as black as night.

Toward the end of the meal Sylvia screwed up her courage and asked Sarah the question she had come there to ask her that day.

"I'm going to give music lessons," she said, with her long black lashes hiding her eyes, "and I wondered if you'd see if you could get me some pupils. Will you?"

Sarah taught a Sunday school class and she did charitable work. There was no end of the people that Sarah knew. And Sylvia was sure that if anyone could find pupils for her that person would be Sarah Wilk.

Sure enough, within a week Sylvia had two sisters—twins of eight—to teach. Their mother brought them in a big car and waited for them.

By fall she had four more pupils, and by Thanksgiving she had twelve. And her earnings were a hundred dollars a month.

It was the week before Thanksgiving that the thing she had been fearing right along, happened. Aunt Agony came in one afternoon when the Lister twins were busy practising their first duet—a simple thing called "Dew-drops."

Sylvia thought she was going to faint when she opened the door of The Nest and saw her aunt standing there.

"Come in, darling, and sit down," she said calmly, "I'll be through in about ten minutes."

With knees that shook, she walked across the room and pulled out Ranny's cretonne-covered armchair for her aunt. Then she picked up Ranny Junior, from the floor and dumped him in her lap.

"Play with your aunt's watch chain, darling sweetness," she said to him, but the baby only howled in answer.

He loved to be picked up by his mother and to be cuddled against her warm sweetness. But to be dropped down upon Aunt Agony's uncomfortable lap was quite another thing. And he did not like it.

"Rock him," said Sylvia, "and pat him on the back. Remember how you used to do it when he was tiny."

She turned her back on them and went on with "Dew-drops." She never knew how she managed to teach the twins anything that day. All the time she worked with them she could feel her aunt's puzzled, angry eyes on her back, like steel gimlets.

The instant the twins were gone she burst in to a speech.

"Well, what are you doing, supporting yourself?" she asked.

And without waiting for Sylvia to answer, she went on:

"Didn't I tell you you'd regret it if you married that scallywag of a Ranny? Here you are, taking care of a house and a baby, and earning your own living, besides! I won't have it! I'm going straight to his father about it! If Randall Phelps won't take care of you, they'll have to do it—his family!"

Sylvia could only stand and look at her with her deep eyes. She knew that there were times when it was no good talking to Aunt Agony—and this was one of the times.

She tried not to listen to the sharp, unkind things said about Ranny, but she couldn't help hearing some of them, and most of them were only too true.

"I used to be sorry for myself because I was an old maid," Aunt Agony wound up, "but I begin to wonder if I haven't been very lucky after all! You look as if you'd been crying for a week! Well—"

She paused a moment and then went on: "Well, I'm going to Randall's father about all this—and I'm going now, before I have a chance to change my mind."

(TO BE CONTINUED)

Aunt Agony threatens to take steps which will plunge Sylvia into a greater muddle than ever. Another disclosure with regard to Ranny is made. Sylvia consents to entertain Ranny's latest flame.

TIPICA LIVES UP TO ITS FAME

Orchestra Gives Amazing Concert Here Tuesday Night

Advance predictions that the Tipica orchestra of Mexico would give Wichita Falls a musical treat of rare charm and beauty were amply sustained Tuesday night when the swarthy experts from below the Rio Grande amazed and delighted a large crowd at the Junior college. It was a concert the like of which has never been heard here before.

Without the toot of a horn but with the mellow tones exclusively possible from strings, the orchestra played its way through number after number of typical Mexican music and then swung with equal facility into the tunes of popular American jazz. In ensemble effect and in solo, duet or quartet work the effect was the same—that of a matchless wave of melody and harmony.

To pick the favorites from among the soloists would be too difficult to attempt. They were all good and all were called back repeatedly for more of their music. Especially popular, however, was the work of the six Marin brothers whose marimba sextette is one of the famed musical organizations of the world. The music these six coaxed from their funny looking instruments left the crowd gasping with astonishment.

The concert was given here under the auspices of the Musicians club of Wichita Falls.

Interest Big In Evangelical Service

There continues to be a great interest manifested in the revival services in progress at the Yale Avenue Evangelical church.

Owing to the fact that Rev. Joe W. Bickley was called home very suddenly Monday of this week, the preaching will be done by the different pastors of the city. Monday evening Rev. C. S. Holly of the Scotland Evangelical church brought a splendid message and a good feeling prevailed in the audience and was manifested by the consecration service held at the close.

Rev. F. Dodge of the First Evangelical church gave an excellent sermon Tuesday on the subject of "What Shall I Do With Jesus?" taken from Matthew 27:22.

The services will continue throughout the week and over Sunday, beginning promptly at 10:00 a. m. for the morning service, and 7:45 p. m. for the evening.

Knox Finley Test In With Big Flow

Flowing by heads through 1,500 feet of mud, the Knox Finley No. 1 Johnson in block 48, Parker county school lands south of Petrolia, came in Tuesday with indications of an excellent producer.

The sand was picked up at 1,712 feet.

It was reported that at times the flow went to the crown block.

Artists, Models A Story Held By Golden Thread

This story must, of necessity, be about a bit of golden thread.

And, the reviewer wonders how many sat there with bated breath, hoping that the thread held fast, fearful of taking a full breath lest that exhalation might be wafted stagward, and cause a slight shudder—which would have been disastrous.

Artists and Models furnished the setting for one of the most pretentious undressed productions ever showing in Wichita Falls, yet with all its semi-nudity, the extravaganza was a gem in a marvelous setting.

Is Well Staged.

Well staged it was and beautifully sung. The scenic effects were beautiful in their simplicity, the producers depending on ability of artists rather than designers of stage settings.

Artists and Models is a revue—just a musical melange of no continuity nor with plot but in the Southwest it is a rare thing when one is offered the opportunity of sitting through two hours and a half of such splendid entertainment. Each bit was alone in itself and undoubtedly some stepped over the border of the risque, others were clean and wholesome.

Probably the greatest attraction in the revue was the Gertrude Hoffman girls, trained by the imitable Gertrude herself, and right well do they represent her, both in undress and dancing—or should one say, hula-ing.

And among the Gertrude Hoffman girls there sprang a favorite with the audience. She was billed just as Dolly, but Dolly carried the heaviest burden and lent a subtle charm to many of the scenes.

Corinne a Favorite.

Corinne Muer with her clear, well toned soprano voice won applause again and again. There were excellent male voices, but because the program is confusing it is almost impossible to tell who they were.

Although billed Artists and Models, the only bit of art work as the average person knows it was furnished by Arthur Hadley, a clever cartoonist, who with dabs of color here and there on ten or more cards, held by dainty chorus girls, finished as many cartoons of famous comic characters in as many minutes.

All in all, Artists and Models delighted the audience and is worthy of the extravagant claims made for it by its press agents.

Flying Squadron Prayer Services At F. H. Church

Six flying squadron prayer meetings were held Tuesday afternoon in connection with the Hogg revival in Floral Heights Methodist church. A revival spirit prevailed in every meeting. So interested were the ladies that a meeting was called for Wednesday afternoon at the church at 3 o'clock. There will be no ten o'clock service on account of the Wichita Falls district conference of the Methodist churches at Henrietta, where Dr. Hogg is to preach at 11 o'clock, but there will be service as usual Wednesday evening at the church. The Nazarene church, of which Rev. J. P. Ingle is the pastor, will be special guests Wednesday evening and Rev. Ingle will lead the prayer.

Dr. Hogg read from memory the first thirteen verses of the second chapter of the gospel of Mark and delivered an interesting sermon on the healing of the paralyzed man, Tuesday night.

At the close of his sermon, Dr. Hogg called for a division of the congregation into three parts; the men with the pastor and Dr. Hogg held a ten minute after-meeting in the basement of the church; the women, with Rev. Williams leading them in prayer, held a short service in the B. O. P. class rooms, and the young people of the church were led in a brief consecration service by Jeff Wall the evangelistic singer.

B. N. HILL DEAD

B. N. Hill, aged 89, died early Tuesday morning at the home of his son, Lincoln Hill, 813 Buchanan, after an illness of about seven months.

The body was removed to the Merkle funeral parlors and is being held there pending arrival of word from a brother in New York.

Spudders Speedily Shaping Up Like Sure Championship Aggregation

FAIR WEATHER SHOWS UP IN NICK OF TIME

Mr. Brainard Apparently Has Very Versatile Outfit

Wichita Falls' Spudders took another two-day practice Tuesday. Greeted by good weather which has held true for the astonishingly long span of three days, the club slowly is rounding into apparent championship condition.

Infield work and batting sessions received the call. Pitchers and ball players alike (yes, that's right in most instances) took their turn at swatting the agate. Many a sturdily heaved sphere was slammed still more sturdily so to the unprotected regions.

Pete Lapan, the mighty maskman who broke into baseball on the coast as an infielder, alternated at third with Brainard part of the infield session during the afternoon.

Mr. Brainard evidently has a very versatile outfit. Bodie, the outfielder can play first; so can Brainard himself. Washburn, the first baseman, can work at second. DeFate, Distel and Turgeon are good most anywhere. Incidently, George served tenure at first quite often last summer. There are outfielders among the pitchers.

Fandom has been guessing at the probable lineup opening day. It is generally believed the same batting order will be used at Shreveport April 14 that will perform Friday against Des Moines here. That lineup, minus catcher and pitcher, will be Distel ss, Fitzgerald cf, Turgeon 2b, Washburn 1b, Bodie rf, Brainard 3b, Lamb lf.

The new infield combination continues to work smoothly and with exhilirating speed that appears to be increasing practice by practice in the present warm weather. Tear drops from the skies, however, cut short yesterday afternoon's session.

White-Ewing Tiff Thursday

Sobbing skylets who opened up the tear ducts momentarily Tuesday afternoon dampened the situation sufficiently to force postponement of the Ewing-White ten-rounder and supporting fistic cast billed last night at the American legion's open air arena.

Boxers trained to a fine point needs must take limbering up exercises again today for the battles are to be pulled Thursday night unless Jupe Pluve so ordains otherwise, announces Matchmaker Don Wofford.

The long-awaited for fight program just naturally is going to have to be waited for a little longer.

BEAUMONT LINEUP SETTLED.

BEAUMONT, April 6.—(AP)—Followers of the Exporters believe that Skipper Jim Galloway has settled his lineup for the season, basing the belief on the makeup of the regular team which has been unchanged in games of the past week and is continued in practice games this week. Apparently Andy Woehr has landed his old job at third after a hard battle with Ed. Handley, once with Houston. Devivcros, of course, will play short and Tom Connolly will play second. The outfield with Red Ormand, Guy Dunning and Yank Davis. Robertson and Dodale are the catchers and the mound staff will be selected from Hal Divinity, Bert Lewis, Dana Fillingim, Dell, Ross, Drake, Eberhart and Hansen, the last named being a very impressive semi-pro from California. Paddy Reagan looks like the utility man for the year.

CATS DEFEAT LEGION TEAM.

GAINESVILLE, April 6.—(AP) The Cats can led 'em their star spitter and then beat 'em, they demonstrated here today when the Fort Worth team defeated the Gainesville Legion team 4-2, in a seven inning game stopped by rain. Paul Wachtel, with whom manager Atz accommodated the legionnaires, did good work too, holding his fellows to two runs in the five innings he worked.

Farrell, rookie right hander from Virginia, allowed only three hits in the full seven innings he worked. The locals put up a good exhibition but could not do him any damage.

Top 'O Morn Stuff

By "Blondy" Cross

Motto: "RAZZ THE RAZZERS"

Various newspapers over the Texas league have carried a story sent out of Wichita Falls, presumably, to effect the Spudders looked mighty weak from an infield defense point.

Wrong, Mabel.

Somebody is all wet again. On the contrary, the Wichita Falls inner works stacks up as an exceptionally dulcet fielding lot. Doubtless the probably inexperienced scribe who penned that story didn't take into consideration that Brainard's noble athletes hampered by lack of good training weather all along until the last few days this spring couldn't be expected to field like a million-dollar major league infield.

* * *

Time and again this spring, cold hands and stiffened muscles, to say nothing of a rough terrain, have caused the Spud front line defense to boot one or uncork a jungle heave that would never occur in the good old summer time with a hot summer sun shining down and every man in the right condish.

* * *

Lack of consistent practice has made fielding and throwing erratic. Cold weather kept muscles stiff and hands bruised. Then, last Sunday tight muscles became suddenly limber with the first day of real springtime warmth and the natural result was boots and poor throws were all the more flagrant.

* * *

Now, with fair weather having set in (may be snowing again today), the gang is stepping about mighty spryly and there's all the world of difference. The new infield combination of Brainard at third, Distel and DeFate at short, Turgeon on second and Washburn at first compares more than favorably with any inner guard over the circuit.

Laugh That Off.

You don't want to forget that Distel beyond all realms of reasonable argument is the BEST shortstop in the Texas league. And one of the smartest ball players both at bat and on the base paths in any man's loop.

* * *

Brainard of the bullet whip has proved his mettle as a hot corner guardian and as time wears along and the boss swings into shape will handle the position just as good if not better than your Ezzells and the rest of the lot.

* * *

Choco DeFate is no man's infant on the infield, either. The Irishman has the fight, the speed and the arm.

A FEW FIGURES.

Turgeon led the league at second base in 1924. He went 27 games without an error. That season he handled 193 chances in all with only one miscue bobbling up. He can range all over the position, is sure on the popups and can look the sun right in his teeth while taking in a high boist.

Pete's arm was sore during the 1926 season and the little fellow, hampered by the aching whip fielded to anxiously, worrying about the ensuing throw to first, with result that he made 19 errors. He played 100 games, handled 279 putouts and 279 assists. He worked in 64 double plays. That's ten less than the vaunted Eddie Palmer handled in 174 games, 74 contests more than Pete played in.

This year, the little fellow isn't bothered with anything like an agitated wing, is fielding better and throwing wonderfully well. It ought to be a great season for Turgeon!

NOW, YAP, YAP A LITTLE.

Taking it all in all, the outlook is wonderful, poor training weather to date notwithstanding. You can't ask for a better outfield than that of Lamb, Fitzgerald, Bodie and Metzler. You know the ability of Fitz, Ping and Alex. Lyman is a newcomer. Just a tip (you'll agree with us later this summer), Fireplug is one of the greatest fielders, not only in Texas, but in all minor league baseballdom!

The hitting power of the Spudders is unquestioned. It 'pears as how the pitching is going to be the best in the history of the franchise. What more can you ask for at this stage of the game?

Bet He's Wonderful Barber.

Johnny Parker tells one that tickles. John rambled into a strange barber shop (not that all barber shops aren't strange) the other day and proceeded to splurge himself to a shave.

The tonsorial expert working on John remarked:

"You're connected with the ball club aren't you?" so Parker tells it.

Johnny answered in the affirmative.

Then friend barber followed with "Well, you fellows have got a pretty good team, all right. But that Blondy Cross is the blankety-blanketest, sorry sport writer I ever read after. And this guy on the afternoon paper is dam' little better!"

With razor poised, the hair chopper asked:

"Your name is Parker isn't it?"

Jawn muttered a husky yes.

"Well, any kin to Al Parker," and the razor descended down around the Adam's apple regions after a few stray beard stubbles presumable.

Our Johnny hesitated a minute and then turned traitor on Brother Al by muttering a limpingly accented "No-o-o-o!"

AW, SHUT UP.

If Matsuda had been wrestling Mantell the other night instead of Maddock the Jap would have made the Dutchman look far more lik a monkey than he does. That's how good a condish the Jap is in these days. He was off form and not in the best of shape in that scramble with the Columbus caveman here several weeks back.

Jack All Excited.

The present Wichita wrestling colony agrees with this declaration. Jack Gorman, for one, offered to wager the writer 50 dollars the Dutchman will not show up for that proposed match with Matsuda Monday night. "Matsuda can beat Mantell any day in the week," declares Gorman, "and if it's the rough stuff Mantell wants I'll bet you $500 that you can lock Matty and Dutch up in a room together with no referee and let them go to it and the Jap will be the only one who'll come out after it's all over."

Matty has declared willingness to let Mantell bring his own referee down from Amarillo and let Dutch make his own rules just in order to get him back onto the canvas again.

* * *

Yaqui Joe, although displaying quite a bit of cleverness, didn't look as good the other night in that match with Gorman. Jack wasn't his old-time self, recuperating from heavy attack of the flu. And the Indian was somewhat of a sick man following pummeling given him a few nights before in Amarillo when Mantell tricked him, kicked him, and socked him to sleep. Just a little suggestion, match Yaqui Joe in a finish affair with Ernie Maddock and you'll see a battle. Give the Indian a few days' rest; that's all that's needed.

VARSITY GAME RAINED OUT.

DALLAS, April 6.—(AP)—The Texas S. M. U. conference baseball game scheduled for Tuesday afternoon here was called on account of rain. Neither coaches agreed on an exact date for the game to be played off. However, Texas will meet the Mustangs in Dallas, April 14, the day after the Longhorns meet T. C. U. in Fort Worth or the day before or after the Texas-S. M. U. clash in Austin, April 28.

SAND LOT SLANTS

TEXHOMA STRONG.

Texhoma, champions of the 1925 Twilight league scramble, stacks up as a surefire contender again this year, declares Manager Gerard Boone. The strength of the American and Panhandle nines isn't worrying Boone's Oilers any, he says. Texhoma has 19 athletes working away in daily preparation for the opener during the week of April 18.

* * *

Texhoma is banking strongly on Shadie Hale this year at shortstop, says Boone. Shadie, former collegiate star, then a Texas leaguer, can still slug the apple at a lusty clip. He's one of the smartest players to ever don a uniform.

* * *

Along with the walloping Hale are Paul Enloe and Doc Allen, wonderful hitters who punch the agate for timely clotheline safeties. These boys have the knack of delivering in a pinch.

GORDON BACK.

Rabbit Gordon will be back, according to Boone. Gordon was one of the fastest men in the league last summer and is considered one of the best ball hawks in the loop. He, too, can be counted on to come through in a pinch at bat.

* * *

The city began hauling dirt to the Twilight diamond yesterday. Plans are under way with cooperation of the park department to make the field one of the best amateur ball lots in Texas.

Sunday School Loop Next.

Yes, there will be a Sunday school league this year, after all, announces Frank Creighton, league secretary, which is contradictory to recent published reports the league probably would be defunct.

Creighton's plan is to wait until the Twilight loopers have swung under way before organizing the Sunday school gang. There will be many players who failed to make the grade in the Twilight who then can drop back to the Creighton league. The Sunday school circuit is strictly an organization for younger players, many of whom who have not as yet reached the baseball playing proficiency necessary to stick with a Twilight club.

TWILIGHT HELPS.

Twilight officials gave the Sunday school boys a boost when this year they voted not to allow Twilight team members to participate in Sunday school league games. By making this move, the Twilight has left the road clear for many youngsters of the city to play in organized amateur ball where heretofore they had been crowded out of the lineup by Twilighters who played in both leagues.

* * *

It was Creighton's idea, this ban on Twilight players in the Sunday school league, Hugh Cotner sponsored the new rule in the Twilight and was largely instrumental in putting the edict through.

Matsuda Wants To Mix It With Mantell Again, But So Far Dutch Has Ignored All Talk Of Match

Boastful Welterweight "Wildman" to Date Has Displayed Courage of Meek Bunny Rabbit

By BLONDY CROSS

It begins to appear the rip-roaring, vociferously boastful Dutch Mantell, sometimes erroneously alluded to as the Luxembourg wildman, is not so wild, after all.

Wichita Falls wrestling fans well know this iron-headed welterweight's ability as a grappler lumberjack style, a la bite 'em, gouge 'em, strangle 'em and kick 'em in the midriff.

Mat fans of this city, also have heard Mantell boast lustily, "I'll take 'em all and beat 'em. Doesn't matter who they are nor how tough!"

Realers of these columns have seen reproductions of letters sent The Record News sport editor by Mantell in which Matty Matsuda, world's welterweight champion, was alluded to as a "cheese champ," a "chink," and a man whom Wichita Falls and El Paso promoters have been "keeping in a glass cage," for fear Mantell or some other rough and ready customer would muss him up.

Dutch Always Broadcasting.

Wichita Falls mat fans saw Mantell when on the verge of defeat strangle Matsuda and avert a clean cut victory for the champion by causing the referee to disqualify him (Mantell) here several weeks ago. They saw Mantell leave the ring, chest swelled out, boastful and telling the world at large, "I'll fix that Chink every time I can get him into the ring with me!" Yeah, every time "I" get him into the ring with me. That's the point we're driving at. Mantell has the chance for "I" to get him in the ring with "me" again, but Mantell so far has come up missing.

Matsuda went back to his El Paso home after his spectacle with Mantell, recuperated little by little from injuries received during the melee of that match, and buckled down to a careful training system with object of coming back at Mantell again soon, the sooner the better.

Matty breezed into Wichita Falls the other day looking better than he has in many months and calling for a match with the Dutchman. Instead of the contender challenging the champion the unique situation of the champion challenging the contender was developed.

Mantell was notified immediately that Matsuda was back and ready for him. But no answer came from the Dutchman. He was notified again and still remained silent.

Monday night, Matsuda beat Ernie Maddock quickly, decisively and cleanly. Dutch was notified about this and once more asked if he cared to entertain a proposition for a return engagement with the Jap here next Monday night.

Not Talking Behind His Back.

So far, the boastful Dutchman, the "wild," the "primeval," the "exceedingly game," the "courageous," and tough Mantell has ignored all overtures.

Matsuda wants to wrestle Mantell under Police Gazette rules, but as a last resort declared "I wrestle that crazy fool rough and tumble or any way just to get heem in there!"

Mantell evidently knows his master. Regardless, so far, Dutch Mantell has displayed the largest yellow streak ever undressed by a so-called athlete in this neck of the sporting woods.

No, we're not talking about Mantell behind his back. He will see this article, in fact, reads these columns out of self defense, more or less.

We repeat, Dutch Mantell, so far, has shown the courage of a rabbit. If he doesn't meet Matsuda after all these boasts he has yelped so loudly he should not be allowed to wrestle any man anywhere in Texas any more.

Fohl Isn't After Pennant This Season, He's Rebuilding Team Around Five 1925 Members And Looking Ahead

By NORMAN E. BROWN,
Central Press Sports Editor.

"You need a score card to tell the players."

This familiar cry of the venders will be the truth and not mere selling chatter when the Red Sox perform for the fans of the American League this season.

And you'll need a crystal ball to help you dope out what that team will do when it gets started.

Lee Fohl and his army of coaches dragged just 35 men into the fair city of New Orleans a few weeks ago. One or two have fallen by the wayside by now and the casualty list will grow later.

Of those 35 just 11 have seen service a full year with the Red Sox. Six of these are pitchers.

These six were Howard Ehmke, Harold Neubauer, Chester Ross, Charley Ruffing, Fred Wingfield and Paul Zahnizer. Most fans are familiar with Ehmke, Zahnizer, a former Senator, Charley Ruffing and Wingfield, the sensations of the team last season. But few will recognize Neubauer and Ross. They warmed the bench most of last season.

Of the rest of the 35 just five trotted out onto the field at regular intervals last season: Phil Todt at first, Dudley Lee at short, Ira Flagstead and Roy Carlyle in the outfield and Al Stokes, behind the plate.

Now, around these five men of the 1925 team Fohl is building an entire new structure.

Grabs Useful Haney.

In the hope of filling the gap at third Fohl grabbed Fred Haney, utility infielder, from the Tigers. In the hope of developing another infielder or two for some position he signed Jim Geygan of the Mobile club, Jimmy Rothrock of the Arkansas City team, Ramon Herrera of Havana, Emmett McCann of Portland and Chet Fowler, drafted from Minneapolis.

He is laboring with all of these kids in the hope of finding a winning combination. Of the bunch Fowler looks as though he might force Haney to play a bang-up game at third. Emmett McCann, purchased at a fat price, is showing the stuff that made him a star on the coast and right now looms as the probable second baseman. Todt and Lee have their positions cinched, of course.

Carlyle and Flagstead seem to have two of the outfield jobs cinched but "Skinny" Shaner, once a member of the Cleveland club; Thomas Jenkins, farmed out to Danville last season; Elton Langford, a Texas lad obtained from Des Moines and Simon Rosenthal, farmed out to San Antonio, all have been struggling with might and main and ball bats to grab off some place in the scheme of things.

Stokes, although a promising catcher, seems doomed to warm the bench in favor of Alex Gaston, obtained from Toledo, and Bischoff, obtained from the White Sox. Chet Horan and Bill Moore complete the catching roster.

As for the rest of the pitching staff there are Joe Kiefer, farmed to Jersey City last season; Delmar Lundgren, obtained from Birmingham; Jack Russell from the Paris, Texas club; Fred Smith, an independent and college star; Harold Wiltse from Mobile.

Of this crew Lundgren comes the best recommended and shows the most stuff. Playing with a weak team last year—a team that finished at the bottom—Lundgren won 14 games and lost 13, a winning average at the worst.

But regardless of the relative merits of these newcomers Fohl faces the task of sorting out eight men who can carry on at big league pace day after day—and building a pitching staff that can hold their own against big league batters. He will have an interesting time and give the fans much to talk about. But it seems an impossible task to mold together in one year a ball club that can be considered even a long shot for one-two-three strength in the coming race.

Fohl seems doomed to give fans a study in baseball and a tail-end team.

Waltons Select Picnic Committee

Isaac Waltons in session at the court house last night appointed an arrangement committee relative to the staging of a mammoth picnic and barbecue at Lake Kemp Friday, May 31.

This committee, composed of E. G. Hill, Will Daniel, H. H. Roberts, Luther Hoffman and Jack Loggie, will attend the final details of handling the picnic, transportation to and from the lake and the program of the day.

MRS. LAPHAM WINS MEDALIST HONORS IN STATE TITLE GOLF TOURNAMENT WITH 87 SCORE

Margery Dorrance, 1925 Champ, Badly Off Form, Failing to Qualify In Championship Flight

GALVESTON, April 6.—(AP)—Swatting long accurate drives that most men golfers would envy, Mrs. John H. Lapham, San Antonio, here today shot an 87 to annex medalist laurels of the state championship tournament.

Miss Margery Dorrance, Houston, 1925 champion, was badly off her game and failed to qualify for the championship flight, furnishing one of the major upsets of Texas ling annals. Due principally to lack of practice, she was in trouble all the way and turned in a card of 111.

The 15 others who kept in the running for the title are: Mrs. Pauline Hedrick, Fort Worth, 95; Mrs. Rufus Fenner Scott, Jr., Paris, 95; Mrs. I. W. MaGruder, Waco, 95; Mrs. W. E. Pharr, Texarkana, 97; Mrs. George Thompson, Fort Worth, 100; Miss Berta Maxcy, Houston, 101; Mrs. S. G. Hopkins, Texarkana, 101; Mrs. A. M. Rhodes, Dallas, 102; Mrs. I. J. Morris, Dallas, 102; Mrs. John Hodges, San Antonio, 103; Mrs. A. O. Anderson, Dallas, 104; Mrs. Robert G. Sniddrath, Dallas, 104; Mrs. Clyde Maddox, Fort Worth, 104; Mrs. E. R. Lederer, Fort Worth, 104; and Mrs. H. Gartner, Fort Worth, 105.

Mrs. Maddox was elected president of the Women's Texas Golfers Association and authorized to select the secretary and treasurer, and fill vacancies in the executive board. The new president's home course, Glen Garden of Fort Worth, will stage the 1927 title meet.

First round matches of the championship flight follow:

Mrs. Lapham and Mrs. Rhodes, Mrs. Pharr and Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Hopkins and Mrs. Lederer, Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Hodges, Mrs. Hedrick and Mrs. Morris, Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Maddox, Miss Maxcy and Mrs. Gartner, Mrs. MaGruder and Mrs. Sniddrath.

Mrs. Pharr, a last minute entrant, played sound golf to establish herself as a real championship threat.

Mrs. Lapham and Mrs. Hodges, of the San Antonio Country club, won the team trophy for the lowest total turned in by two members of any club—195.

The stroke summary of Mrs. Lapham on a 78 par course follows:

Out—545 564 545—43.

In —563 565 635—44——87

Had Mrs. Lapham been putting at her best, she would have shaved at least three strokes from the 87. Her tee and approach shots left little to be desired.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, April 6.—(AP)—The cotton market developed a little more activity today but price fluctuations were comparatively narrow although the trend in the first half of the session was rather downward than otherwise. Following an irregular opening the market gradually eased off during the morning owing to much lower Liverpool cables than due and in spite of an official forecast for unsettled weather until prices were nine to 15 points under the previous close. The market then rallied and practically recovered all of the early loss on Secretary Hester's statement showing a falling off of 949,700 tons in the sale of fertilizers during March compared wit hthe corresponding month last year. This shrinkage in March sales cut the excess for the season so far to 194,419 tons. After easing off some in the early afternoon the market rallied again.

The close showed net losses of only one point on near months and of eight points in October.

Liverpool came in much lower than due and first trades here showed losses of two to six points on near months but no change on later positions. After rallying a few points prices eased off mainly on reports of liquidation of a big long line by a prominent Wall Street operator. May finally traded down to 17.87, July to 17.47 and October to 16.75 or nine to 15 points below the previous close.

The market rallied practically to the previous close around noon on the showing of Secretary Hester's fertilizer statement but eased off again moderately in the early afternoon on lack of support. Near months rallied in the late trading May making a new high at 19.97 or one point above the previous close but new crop months sold off at the end closing eight points below the highs. Exports for the day totaled 15,493 bales.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, April 6.—(AP)—Heavy liquidation by Wall Street interests weakened cotton prices sharply today with net losses of eight to 16 points, but was followed in late trading by rallies on covering which left the market finally steady in tone and unchanged to ten points net lower, near months showing the best improvement.

The market opened steady at a decline of one to seven points. Instead of the rain in the southwest predicted the previous day traders found a very favorable weather map including warm temperatures over the entire belt and only a few traces of moistur in Texas. In addition, bears were favored by weaker cables after the holidays and by pessimistic reports from the goods markets together with predictions of curtailment in southern mills.

This combination of bearish news evidently caused Wall Street long interests to unload their holdings. Upwards of 30,000 bales it was estimated came on the market during the first hour for this account, in addition to considerable selling by local bears, mostly new crops based on the weather situation. May contracts dropped to 18.60 and October 17.35 on this dip. Where fresh buying was encountered from the trade, fixing prices. Steadiness, with a slower speculative business featured the middle of the session the technical position having evidently been improved by the liquidation of the first hour. No further nervous covering partly influenced by fears of possible rains in the southwest over night gave the market a fair uplift from the lowest, May closing at 18.67 and October at 17.43.

Port receipts 27,637, exports 15,493, making 6,638,222 thus far this season. U. S. port stocks 1,149,121 bales.

NEW YORK, April 6.—(AP)—Stock prices made further recovery in today's market. The rally, while provided with a background of favorable financial and trade developments was generally regarded as o further correction of an oversold condition resulting from the drastic liquidation of stocks last month. Closing quotations disclosed a long list of net gains ranging from fractions to ten points. Trading was again in relatively light volume, the day's sales aggregating 1,246,000 shares.

The announcement that stock exchange brokers' loans had been reduced over $500,000,000 last month helped to revive confidence. Other bullish factors included continuance of easy money rates, more favorable reports from the automobile industry and the prompt over-subscription of the $65,000,000 Associated Electric bond issue, the largest this year.

Equipment shares gave one of the best demonstrations of group strength with buying influenced by predictions of substantially higher railroad orders this year. Pullman jumped five points to 157½ and American Locomotive, Baldwin, General Railway Signal, New York Airbrake and Westinghouse Airbrake closed two to three points higher.

Optimistic reports on the motor industry came from several sources. Mack Trucks, which did a record breaking business in March, was bid up over three points to 113¼ and then eased to 112⅝. Hudson, General Motors and Packard advanced a point or two. Short covering operations played a prominent part in the advance in these issues, which are reported to harbor a large short interest than any other group.

The approach of the spring planting season probably accounted for the heavy demand for the chemical and fertilizer issues. Special strength of the commercial solvents issues, each of which moved up over three points, was associated with a report that the company had won important patent litigation in England. Allied Chemical, the new Virginia Carolina Chemical preferred issues, Mathieson Alkali and American Agricultural Chemical all showed net gains of one to nearly 3½ points.

Oils were slow in recovering from the disappointment occasioned by the abandonment of the plan for the merger of the Texas company and California Petroleum company. Steels displayed a firm undertone. U. S. Steel common touched a new high on the current recovery at 113⅝ and Gulf States, Sloss-Sheffield and Republic each advanced about two points.

Rails were quiet, but the undertone was strong. Atlantic Coast Line, Atchison, New York Central and Lackawanna scored moderate gains.

Call money renewed at 4¼ per cent as against 4½ yesterday and then eased to four, closing at the bottom. Many brokers reported the large sums were available at the lower figure. Time money held steady at 4½ per cent and commercial paper was quoted at 4¼ to 4½.

Although all of the European banks reopened for business after a prolonged Easter holiday, trading in the foreign exchanges was quiet. Demand sterling held firm around $4.85⅞ and French francs were quoted slightly higher at 3.47 cents. Renewed heaviness developed, however, in Belgian francs which dropped over five points to 3.72 cents.

CHICAGO GRAIN REVIEW.

CHICAGO, April 6.—(AP)—Late recessions in the wheat market today wiped out early gains. Easing of wheat values at the last result more or less from the fact that offerings of shipments from Minneapolis to Chicago were almost on a profitable delivery basis here as compared with May, Chicago closing quotations on wheat were nervous, at the same as yesterday's finish to ⅛c lower, May (new) $1.57⅞@1.57⅛ and July $1.55⅝ to $1.55⅝, with corn ⅛c off to ¼c up, oats at ⅛@⅛c to ⅜c advance and provisions unchanged to 17@20c down.

Unsettled weather and smallness of arrivals of corn here, 82 cars today, kept the corn market steady. Some corn export business both at the Atlantic seaboard and by way of the Gulf of Mexico was announced.

Persistent delay to seeding of oats gave an upward swing to the value of oats. Active export call for oats continued.

Provisions tended downward in line with hog values. Foreign selling of lard was a feature.

Russian, Slayer Of 100, Now Must Die

MOSCOW, April 6.—(AP)—Nicholas Trapishkin, convicted of murdering one hundred persons and committing numerous robberies during the last six years, was sentenced to death today in the Moscow supreme court.

A peasant named Dibenko was given five years for harboring Trapishkin, who terrorized large sections of the Ukraine.

Another notable criminal case heard today was that of Arthemy Zagrobyan, who, according to the state prosecutor, was responsible for the deaths of 155 revolutionists during the czarist regime, when he was an imperial secret police spy.

The prosecutor demanded a quick trial and quick death for Zagrobyan, who, he said, was one of the worst enemies of the soviet state.

THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Wichita County: Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon D. O. Smith and the heirs and legal representatives of D. O. Smith, deceased, by making publication of this citation once each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the 89th district court of Wichita County, to be holden at the court house thereof in Wichita Falls on the first Monday in July A. D. 1926 the same being the 5th day of July A. D. 1926. Then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 6th day of April A. County Common School Districts Show 393 Gain For Year

ANNUAL CENSUS REPORTS MADE

Biggest Increase Made In Valley View and Pleasant Valley

A year's gain of 393 pupils in the common school districts of Wichita county was reported Tuesday by County Superintendent of Schools Burl Bryant following completion of the scholastic census that has been under way for the past few weeks. Bob McFall In Sheriff's Race

R. L. (Bob) McFall, for 37 years a resident of Wichita county, announced Tuesday that he would be a candidate for sheriff in the democratic primaries in July. Mr. McFall, well known in this city and throughout the county at large, served as sheriff for two years, from 1918 to 1920.

In a statement given out announcing his candidacy Mr. McFall declared that he was making the race upon the earnest solicitation of many friends here, and also because he believed he could be of service to the community. He cited the fact that his two years in the sheriff's office, and four years service as a deputy sheriff had fully acquainted him with the duties of the post.

He stated he believed the sheriff's force should co-operate fully with the police and constables department and that full co-operation also should be given all other law enforcement agencies.

NEW BUSINESS HOUSE STARTS

Kemp And Whitehill In Project on Ohio Avenue

A new two story business building 50 by 150 feet and two stories high, of brick construction and modern throughout, is being erected at 504-06 Ohio avenue, it was learned Tuesday when building permits for the structure were issued to J. A. Kemp and D. H. Whitehill. The structure will cost $24,000.

Tuesday was a fairly good day for new construction, permits in the amount of $47,000 being issued at the city clerk's office. A $17,000 building is also to be put up on Avondale avenue by R. H. Brown. This is to be 53 by 35 and two stories in height.

Several smaller permits were also issued during the day.

$62,000 Sold In Fair Stock Drive

With a number of new subscriptions reported at the Tuesday noon meeting of workers of the Texas-Oklahoma fair association, total subscriptions for the proposed $100,000 stock issue had reached approximately $62,000. Only a few of the committeemen were able to attend. It was decided by the workers to meet again at 6:30 Wednesday evening, April 14, at the Wichita club, when plans will be perfected to complete the campaign. By that time, however, it is expected most of the stock will have been sold.

"Considering the fact this has been an unusually busy time for practically all of the business men of the city, I think great work has been done," said Attorney Fred Weeks at the luncheon Tuesday. "I see no reason why, if we will all give our spare moments to to this work between now and Wednesday of next week, we can not then outline plans whereby we will be able in a short time to complete the sale of the stock. I am convinced the great majority of people here are interested in the building of a bigger fair. The only thing for us to do is sacrifice a few minutes of our time and put this thing over in true Wichita Falls style. A bigger fair means as much or more to Wichita Falls than anything we have on foot just at this time."

WIRES INTO MEXICO.

Day and night letter service to and from all important points in Mexico has been established by the Postal Telegraph company, it was announced here Thursday by H. F. Goodyear, local manager for the Postal.

The Mackey system of wire and cable has been extended across the Mexican frontier as a result of the successful conclusion of a long period of negotiating with the Mexican government.

City Tax Rendition Work Nears Close

With the entire city thoroughly covered once and a re-check now nearing completion, taking of rendition for city taxes will probably be discontinued April 15, Tax Assessor and Collector W. R. Hyer stated Tuesday. Appraisers are now making a final check-up in some of the outlying districts and it is hoped that the work can be concluded within the next 10 days.

A number of property owners have not been found, of course, and the tax department is asking that these get in touch with the central office at as early a date as possible. By doing this, names may be kept off the unrendered roll, which means trouble and expense later on.

Showers Follow A Day of Heat

A day of sultry heat was climaxed in Wichita Falls late Tuesday afternoon when a brisk but brief shower broke over the city. A maximum temperature of 84 degrees was recorded in the middle of the afternoon, this contrasting with a minimum of 48 degrees.

Only .03 of an inch of rain fell here, according to reports from the Wichita Falls Electric company observation station, but this appeared in a comparatively few minutes.

A light southeasterly wind prevailed during the day with an average velocity of eight miles per hour.

ALL READY FOR MASKAT SONGS

Chanters to Sing Before Big Crowd at College Tonight

With a program complete in all its details and with a heavy advance sale of tickets, indications are that the concert to be given Wednesday evening by the Chanters from Maskat Temple will be one of the greatest successes of the season. Hundreds of tickets have been sold at the downtown points where the sale was announced several days ago.

The records recently made by the Chanters on their visit to New York arrived here yesterday and after the concert Wednesday evening may be purchased at the Phonograph Shop. These records, as well as the one of the address by Mayor Shepherd, will be sold throughout the world. They were made in the New York studios of the Brunswick-Balke-Collender company. Stamped on the back of each is the title, the name of the producers and the name, Wichita Falls, Texas. In this way this city will get nationwide publicity and from the many inquiries which have been made concerning these records the sale will be heavy.

Not to Profit.

The Chanters themselves, however, will not profit financially by the sale. The records will be sold at all Shrine Temples throughout the nation and the proceeds will be sent to Maskat Temple here and in turn will be given to the great charity institutions fostered by Masons of the state.

The program planned for Wednesday evening is high class in every respect.

There are numerous features, one of which will be the solo by Miss Adelle Ray. She will be assisted in the chorus by the Chanters.

Dist. Manager Here.

District Manager Binger of the Brunswick-Balke-Collender company, with headquarters in Dallas, accompanied by Mrs. Binger will be here for the concert. Mr. Binger has been greatly interested in the Chanters and it was largely through his efforts that they were finally induced to go to New York City to make the records. Among others from Dallas who will be here for the concert are Mr. and Mrs. Humphries, also from the general offices of the Brunswick company.

The program this evening will start promptly at 8:15.

Richardson Is Bar Ass'n. Speaker

Dr. Frank M. Richardson, presiding elder of the Wichita Falls district of Methodist churches, was the principal speaker at a meeting of the Wichita County Bar association at the Wichita club Tuesday at noon when he called upon the lawyers to help restore the respect for the majesty of the law. He told how lawyers might have influence in bringing about a greater respect for the law. "The ministry, the bar and the press must place their shoulder to a great big wheel and help in this important work," he said.

A committee of arrangement composed of W. E. George, John Humphrey and Sam Holloday was appointed by Judge A. H. Carrigan, president, to prepare for the May meeting.

The Tri-State Bar association to be held in Texarkana, April 23, 23 and 24 was announced by E. E. Fisher.

"Electric Light Bill"

ELECTRIC Light Bill means something more than the invoice you get every month. Electric Light Bill or Tom or Jerry is the man behind that invoice, the man who gives in return reliable service—and in good measure.

You can always count on Bill and his fellow-workers. Hard at it night and day, they are the men who put up poles and in stormy weather repair the wires, and at all times keep the equipment in order.

This human side is the most important part of the Wichita Falls Electric Company's story. Our machines may be ever so efficient, but that isn't enough. Back of it all we have human watchfulness and human dependability—a trusty old Bill to man the guns.
