Local elections set for Saturday

Early voting for the Saturday, May 6, hospital board, city councils and school board elections continued Tuesday with interested voters wearing out the sidewalk in front of the 1543 Chestnut St. hospital.

The total at 5 p.m. Tuesday was 535 at the hospital, and at mid afternoon the counts were 10 at City Hall and 32, 14 and five respectively for the Colorado City, Westbrook and Loraine School Districts.

The county has 5,265 voters registered for this election, Tax Assessor Collector Faye Lee reported.

Early voting ended Tuesday in all the elections.

Five sharply divided candidates are seeking three seats on the seven member hospital panel.

Combining their candidacies into two groups of pro construction and anti tax advocates, two incumbents and three challengers were winding up weeks of pointed public statements and advertisements concerning the proposed construction of a new hospital, doctors' offices and nursing home.

The pro construction advocates are incumbent Larry De-Busk and past hospital board member Shirley Clifton.

Opposing the project, or at least issuing strong cautions about its possible effect on property taxes, are incumbent Dale Geiger and challengers

Chamber seeks new manager

Chamber of Commerce Manager Sendia Blake resigned last Thursday. Blake tenured her resignation effective immediately. She had been Executive Vice-President (Chamber Manager) since April 1999.

Monday evening, the Board interviewed nine applicants for the secretary's position, but no final choice was made at that time. A decision will be made very soon.

Applications for the Executive Vice-President's position will be taken until noon on Friday, May 5, 2000. Forms are available at the Chamber office.

The Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce has several events that will take place in the next few months. Saturday, June 17, will be the Fisherman's Appreciation Black Bass Open Tournament. Ronney Conner, Tournament Director and a member of the Colorado City Bass Club should be contacted at 728-8436 after 5:30 p.m. for additional information.

Merritt's candidacy questioned

Mitchell County Attorney Mark Piland met last week with a group of citizens who were concerned that the election of a local physician's wife to the county hospital board could create an illegal conflict of interest.

Piland said Monday that the potential situation "doesn't rise to the level of a criminal offense" because Dr. Sherman Merritt, husband of board candidate Lupe Merritt, only does contract work for the Texas Department of Criminal Justice and is directly supervised by the hospital's medical staff.

Piland said any possible

Candidates answer more questions

Mitchell County Hospital Board candidates' responses to five questions posed by the Record in last week's edition were read with a great deal of interest.

But more questions always arise in an issue as hotly debated as the proposed new construction of a hospital, doctors' offices and nursing home.

Overwhelmingly, the readers wanted us to ask the candidates two more questions:

-- If elected, will you honor the board's decision to allow the citizens of Mitchell County to vote on the proposed new hospital?

-- If the vote passes, will you carry through with the decision of the voters?

Dr. Charles Froneberger

If elected, will you honor the board's decision to allow the citizens of Mitchell County to vote on the proposed new hospital? My position on a new hospital is well known. If I am elected, it will be by those that believe as I do. I will be a strong representative of those people.

If the vote passes, will you carry through with the decision of the voters? I believe the voters of Mitchell County will defeat the new hospital issue.

As voters, we must be aware of heavy tax burdens. This proposed new hospital will increase our property taxes. This is fact and not assumption.

Voters will realize that if a new hospital is built, there will be a tremendous possibility of losing our hospital while keeping an increased

CHRISTMAS IN APRIL VOLUNTEERS, from left in front, Santos Ruiz Sr. and Calvin Hunter and, at right in back, Rusty Merket were hard at work Saturday at the Gene Martin house on East 11th Street. 150 volunteers finished extensive work on six Colorado City homes, bringing the program's eight year total to 174, and had only touch up work remaining on three of those houses this week. CIA projects completed Composition shingles and metal roofing donated by two companies gave six Christmas in April homes refurbishing projects a major boost on Saturday.

CIA Vice President Jan Lemons said her husband Bobby picked up 45 squares of shingles donated by the National Roofers and Contractors Association of Rosemont, Ill.,

in Irving.

Then local contractor Hobie Bolin donated the metal roofing.

150 volunteers finished all the projects except for minor work that they were completing this week at the Salazar home on Elm Street, the Stewart home on Morelos Street and the Contreras home on East 12th Street.

"Putting more people and groups on the houses worked really well," Ms. Lemons said.

"The only negative thing was that we didn't have near the workers we had had. I don't know why except that people may have thought we had less houses, so we didn't need so many people.

"But the ones that were there really did work."

Welfare spending strong here

The state spent a total of $2,657,592 last year for major welfare programs in Mitchell County, according to Barbara Evans, Regional Administrator for the Texas Department of Human Services.

Food stamps worth $642,007 were issued for the fiscal year which ended August 31, while Temporary Assistance to Needy Families (TANF) totaled $112,223. Food stamps are funded entirely by the federal government, while the department determines eligibility of potential clients and non-clients and issues the Lone Star Card.

The state and federal governments share in the cost of TANF to families where needy children are deprived of support because of the absence or disability of one or both parents.

Nursing home costs of approximately $1,638,324 were paid for aged and disabled residents. Community Care for Aged and Disabled spent $260,523 for Medicaid related services and $4,515 for non-Medicaid related services," Ms. Evans said.

Hospital collects state funds

Mitchell County Hospital District did well in State Comptroller Carole K. Rylander's allocations of $100 million in state tobacco settlement money to 238 cities, counties and hospital districts.

The district's $123,508 had not been received, but Comptroller Rylander said it will be sent promptly.

Hospital Administrator Rick Rickard said $15,000 of it will be used for the district's matching money for the Colorado City Community Network computer project and $7,000 to reimburse the county for indigent health care expenses

CMS band leader quits, policies reviewed

Colorado School Board members Monday night accepted the resignation of middle school band director Joe Wayne Harper, who said he is moving to Tyler in East Texas to build a home alongside a lake.

Harper indicated that he does not intend to retire, but he does not have a contract for the 2000-2001 school year.

Supt. Buddy Compton told board members that he did not yet have a recommendation for a successor to Harper.

Other business in the 6:30 p.m. called meeting, at which all members were present except Larry Mason and Tony Turner, included a training session and policy review with a representative of the Texas Association of School Boards in Austin.

Linda Preble, assistant director for local policy updates, said the TASB works with 1,016 school districts with student populations ranging from 25 to 250,000.

Policies are divided into "legal" and "local" categories with legal policies merely conforming to state and federal laws and local ones being those that local boards enact.

She said the TASB is awaiting the United States Supreme Court's expected June 21 decision on whether or not student led pre-game prayers should be allowed at sports events, and it will issue a legal policy pertaining to the practice.

"That's the one that everybody needs before the start of the next school year," she said.

After a one hour policy review seminar, which was required training for board members' state certification, Ms. Preble went over part of the district's 650 page plus policy manual.

She explained that a policy says what is supposed to happen and a regulation how it should happen.

She recommended deleting an old policy pertaining to district employees' compensation for mileage and trips, saying it should be handled administratively by the superintendent.

Board President Larry Blas-singame said that board members' training is required by the TASB and the Texas Education Agency, but there are no apparent consequences if a member does not complete his or her training.

He asked if a member could be removed from office for not completing it.

Ms. Preble said only a state district judge could take such action, but if a member's inactivity is publicized annually, as TASB rules call for it to be, the voters might defeat the mem-

PARK RANGERS Don Denson, left, and Randy Duncan stand at the west end of scenic Dorn Creek Cove in Lake Colorado City State Park, where fishermen's interest has picked up since the influx of a large amount of water into the lake six weeks ago.

New water is stirring up Lake Colorado City fishing

At twice the size it was before a humongous March 22-23 rainstorm refilled it to 92 percent capacity, Lake Colorado City is again a fisherman's paradise.

Actually, the fishing never was bad because the game fish had an easy time finding bait fish while the lake was down to 39 percent capacity.

But now that it's been replenished, the new water is stirring up the fish life and making the game fish hungrier -- and more likely to hit your hook -- because the bait fish are better able to evade them.

The lake has plentiful populations of largemouth black bass, sand bass, or white bass, red drumfish, or redfish, crappie, sunfish and three types of catfish -- bluecats, channel cats and the big yellowcats, or flat-heads.

It has no smallmouth bass.

An Odessa man caught a 54 pound yellowcat on a trotline there recently.

Black bass, crappie and redfish are the most pursued, says Game Warden Randy Bullard, but the catfish fishermen excel when the water is muddy.

The game fish feed on shad, minnows, African Nile perch, or tilapia, carp and other species.

"The new water will help the bait fish population," Bullard said. "It's tougher on the game fish to survive now because they have to work harder to get a meal."

"If they have to move around more to get a meal, they're more likely to come across your bait. Before, they didn't have to move much to get an easy meal."

"Now they have to work at it because the bait fish have more places to hide -- trees, salt cedars and lot of brush."

"There are a lot of places that were out of the water that are under the water now. The lake had a 14 foot vertical rise."

He said the most popular fishing holes these days are near the influxes of Morgan Creek and Cherry Creek on the north and northwest sides of the lake and Lakeside Lodge and Lake View Camp on the west side.

Lake Colorado City State Park borders about five percent of the lake on the south-west side.

Bullard said the hot and arduous work of Wallace Unit officers, field bosses and inmates last summer to clear salt cedar and other brush out of the Morgan Creek bed from the north side of the lake to well north of Interstate 20 played a crucial role in allowing rainwater to run into the lake from as far north as Vincent in Northeast Howard County.

Their main tools were grubbing hoes.

It took four days for all the water to move into the lake, which peaked on Saturday following the Wednesday night and early Thursday deluge.

Along with its bass fishing, Lake Colorado City is probably best known for its redfish, which are saltwater fish that do well here because it is a warm water lake with a little salinity, or saltiness.

The Texas Department of Parks and Wildlife first began stocking it with redfish in the late 1970's, and depending on the results of periodic surveys by fish biologists, the department restocks it with 250,000 fingerlings approximately every two years.

It's necessary because there is not enough salt in the lake for redfish, which are native to the Gulf of Mexico, to reproduce.

Only 20 to 25 percent reach maturity here, but many who survive reach 20 pounds and bigger.

A 24 pounder was caught in 18 inches of water before the March rain.

The game warden said he often sees fishermen and women who have caught their daily limit of three redfish and five black bass.

Catfish fishermen may keep a combination of 25 bluecats and channelcats a day, but only five yellowcats.

The limit for white bass and combinations of white, black and hybrid crappie is also 25 a day.

There is no limit on bluegill, red ear and green sunfish.

Black bass must be at least 14 inches long, white bass 10 inches, redfish 20 inches, channelcats and bluecats 12 inches, yellowcats 18 inches and all species of crappie 10 inches.

There is no specified length for sunfish.

The redfish fingerlings are hatched at the Parks and Wildlife Department's fish hatchery at Palacios on the Gulf Coast.

Bullard is hoping for a similar rainfall at Lake Champion because it caught little water last month and remains at only a little above 10 percent capacity.

If Champion got a respectable amount of water, he said, the department would restock it with bass, crappie, catfish and perch.

He said the department was going to stock the lake on Wednesday, May 3, with 40,450 Florida bass fingerlings from its A. E. Wood Hatchery in East Texas.

Florida bass are a type of black bass, only healthier and bigger than the standard Texas variety. They typically reach 16 to 18 pounds.

Bullard said they grow an inch a month and will reach catchable size in about a year.

"When the lake fills up, we start restocking," he said.

"Bass are the most popular game fish there is. We have always had a good bass population, but with this being a small lake, they get pressured pretty good."

Fees for fishing licenses are used in part for the restocking program.

National Prayer Day Thursday

Because of the faith of many of our founding fathers, public prayer and national days of prayer have a long standing and significant history in America.

The Supreme Court and both Houses of Congress begin each day with prayer. In 1988, President Ronald Reagan signed a law and amendment, permanently setting the first Thursday of May as a National Day of Prayer.

Each year, the President signs a proclamation, encouraging all Americans to pray for our nation on this day. Last year, all 50 state governors signed similar proclamations.

It is estimated that more than two million people will attend more than 30,000 observations this year. At state capitols, county courthouses, city halls, schools, businesses, churches and homes, people will be stopping their activities and gathering to pray.

There is a link between our prayers and the state of society in which we live. That is why in Timothy 2:1-4 it admonishes us to pray for ALL men, for Kings, and for ALL who are in authority, that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and reverence.

The National Day of Prayer will be observed in Mitchell County on Thursday, May 4 at the Civic Center. People will be praying throughout the day and a 6:30 p.m. they will meet at the Civic Center to lift their prayers with those across the nation.

Everyone is invited to be a part of the National Day of Prayer activities in Mitchell County. Join others at the Civic Center, 6:30 p.m., Thursday, May 4.

will be the third weekend of that month. After the tremendously successful March event, expectations are high for this annual summer sale.

Chamber members are eagerly anticipating another great Trade Days and hope the July Railhead will be bigger and better.

"We realize how popular the Railhead is and we want everyone to know the chamber is going to do everything we can to continue to provide a successful show for our customers and vendors alike," Chamber President Sharon Gilbreath said.

As with all community organizations, the Chamber benefits from all contributions from both volunteers as well as financial donations. City National Bank generously gave the Chamber $250 for their use of the Railhead building during their 100th birthday celebration. The Antique Merchants Association gave $500 to help with the advertising expenses for the March Railhead. The positive effect of this teamwork is apparent in a better community.

Harris named new bank trust officer

Dwayne Harris

Sondra Williams

Dwayne Harris of Colorado City, a certified public accountant who has been working for a Big Spring company, has been appointed vice president and trust officer at City National Bank.

CNB President Royce D. Clay and the Board of Directors also announced the appointment of Sondra Williams as an assistant vice president.

Ms. Williams, 41, is a former bookkeeper who worked in the trust department with Vice President and Trust Officer Bryan Limmer, who has joined a Lubbock bank.

Clay said Ms. Williams will continue to work in the administration of the department with Harris.

He said the board considered Harris ideal for the position because he is a C-City native with an education and experience in business and agriculture.

"We were real pleased to find someone with a background in both agriculture and business," Clay said.

"We wanted somebody who is committed to the city and the county, who loves the town and has roots here."

Harris is a 50 year old Mitchell County native who took a bachelor's degree in agronomy at Texas Tech University in Lubbock in 1971 and returned here to farm for 25 years.

After his son Justin graduated from Colorado High School and wanted to go into farming, he took business and accounting courses at Angelo State University in San Angelo for two years and passed the state examination to become a CPA.

He has been working for Big Spring accounting firm of Lee, Reynolds & Welch for the past 4 1/2 years.

Harris is married to the former Debbie Lee, who is the church secretary at Calvary Baptist Church. Their daughter is Courtney Groce of Richardson, who is assistant merchandiser for the J. C. Penney Corp. in North Plano.

They have two grandchildren.

He was a member of the Colorado School Board from 1982 to '94, the last six years as president.

"I have always felt like I was part of the City National Bank even before I got the job as trust officer," Harris said.

"My grandfather, father, myself and now my son have used the services of the bank for many years. So it will be with pride that I serve the people of Mitchell County in this capacity."

He started work Monday.

Ms. Williams is an Odessa native who has worked at CNB since 1991.

She and her husband Larry, an employee of Myers Auto Parts, are members of Calvary Baptist Church.

They have two children, Melissa, a radiological technologist at Abilene Regional Hospital, and Kendall, who works for Bolin Construction here.

Ms. Williams previously worked on Saturdays at Colorado City Livestock Market and for Drs. Nancy Bozeman and Jack Newkirk at Colorado Veterinary Hospital.

"CNB is a great place to work," she said. "I love the people of Mitchell County, and I enjoy helping them invest their money and plan for their future." She is on the board of directors of the Community Mission.

BENNETT CHIROPRACTIC CLINIC OF COLORADO CITY
728-3411

To The Voters of Mitchell County...

Can we afford to vote for and build a new hospital?

The answer is simple. Yes, and here is how. If you take the architect's estimated cost of a hospital and doctor's clinic that was reported in the paper after the boards' last meeting, that dollar amount adds up to approximately $7.5 million.

The hospital currently has close to $3 million dollars in reserve or in a building fund. If you subtract $2 million of that reserve and apply it to the cost of a new hospital, that leaves approximately $5.5 million to pay for.

The Hospital District currently nets almost $720,000 in payments from the prison and we all know that the prison system is going to be here for a long time. The prison system is probably going to expand the unit here.

Ask your banker if $720,000 will pay for a $5 million note over a twenty year period. And when we get another prison unit it could pay off sooner than that. We don't need to raise taxes.

We taxpayers need to make an informed decision when we vote in the hospital board election. The future of our hospital and the future of healthcare in Mitchell County depends on it. Please don't let someone scare you when you vote with the threat of new taxes. There is another way to pay for a new hospital.

We encourage you to get informed. Ask someone whom you know and trust what the real story is. We haven't seen all the numbers yet and haven't had all the options explained to us. As soon as we do then we, the taxpayers, will decide.

Thank You!

The news was lively in 1900

By Bob Campbell

Raymond Fuller gave me a replica of the Jan. 1, 1900, Dallas Morning News during the recent 50th anniversary celebration at his supermarket.

It is 12 pages of small type with one colorful article after another and a variety of equally picturesque advertisements.

It has a lot of drawings but no photographs and is very entertaining.

Noting that the 20th Century would not actually begin until Jan. 1, 1901, a story headlined "Welcoming the New Year" begins, "At midnight last night the new year was ushered in with all the noisemaking contrivances in town working in one united bedlam, which lasted for about five minutes."

"It seemed that every one was ready with their fireworks and anxious to get them started all together. A few tried to hurry up Father Time by exploding a few firecrackers ten minutes ahead of time, but in the main the ammunition was reserved until a mill whistle down the river began to roar a horse rusty-throated salute."

"The cannon crackers and all other sorts of fireworks came in with their contribution to the general noise, and some strong-lunged enthusiasts tried to make their voices heard above them."

An ad on Page 5 says Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic makes pale, weak people healthy.

"When Nature put iron into your blood, She meant it," it says.

"She didn't do it for fun. It wasn't an accident."

"Our bodies need iron, or we would never find it in the blood, in the gastric juice, in the chyle, in the lymph, in the bile, in the pigment of the eye, in the milk, and in other natural secretions of the body."

"What is the iron for? It is for strength. It is a food. It is necessary for certain processes of living."

"How can we tell the want of it?"

"Paleness is a sign. Weakness, thinness, general debility, depression, nervousness, rheumatism, chills, ague and lack of ambition and vitality."

An item in the "Society Over the State" section on Page 11 notes that Miss Kaleta Darst of San Angelo was visiting in Colorado City.

Under "He Got the Best of Senator Mason" on Page 9, a story praises Sen. Mason's wit but describes a debate in the United States Senate in which he came in second best.

"This protectionist said that alcohol was a raw material and they regarded it strange that a Democrat should wish to tax it," it says.

"Lindsay retorted that wool also was a raw material, but that he saw no disposition on the Republican side to leave wool on the free list. And then Lindsay proceeded to make a sledge-hammer argument such as only he could make in all that Senate."

"Mason addressed the chair: 'Mr. President, will the Senator from Kentucky permit me to ask a question?'"

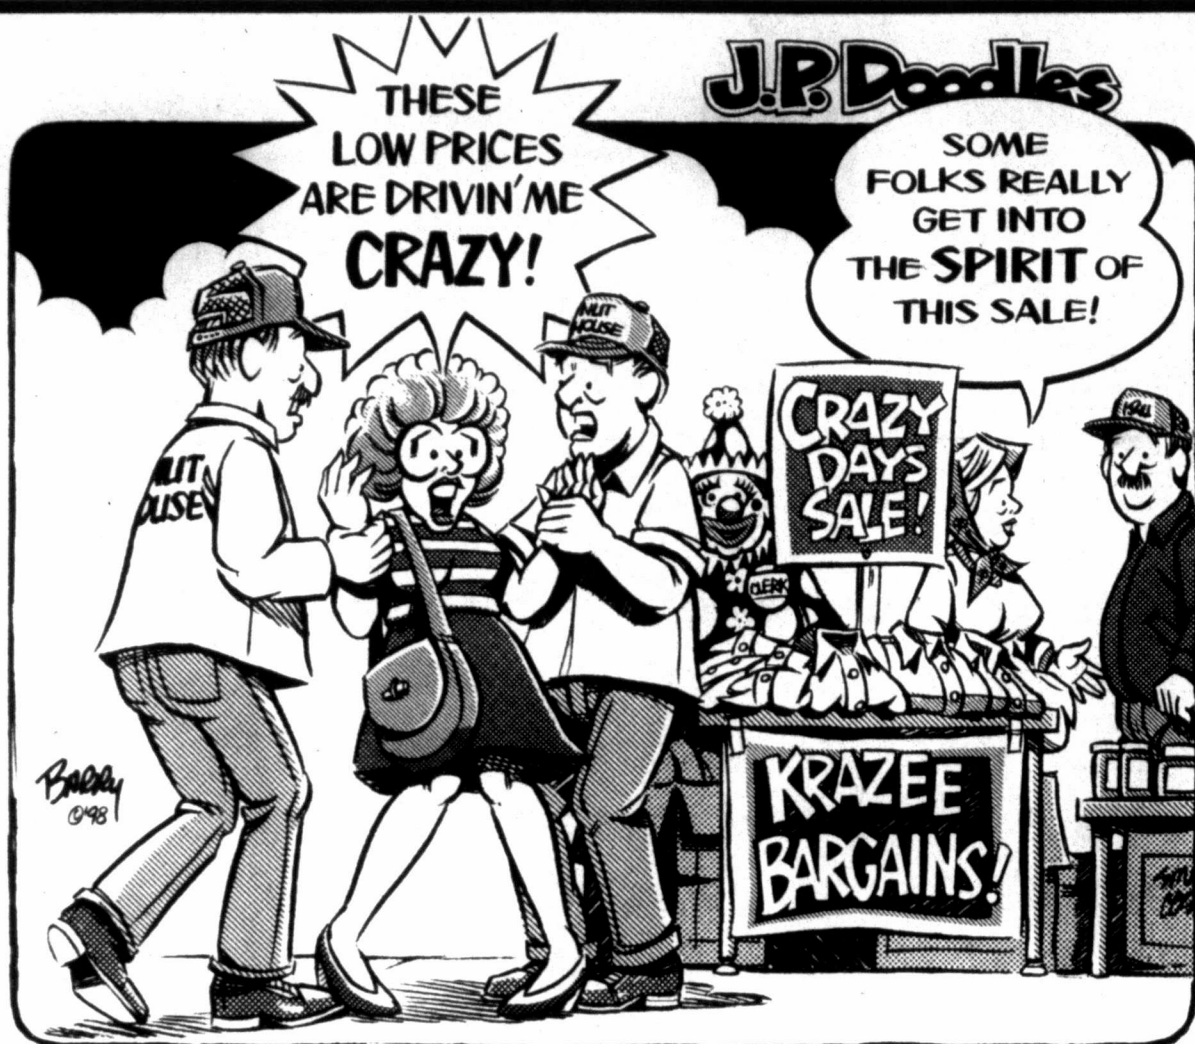

"Lindsay -- 'Certainly, I will hear the Senator's question.'"

"Mason -- Is not the tax on spirituous liquors based on the fact that they are luxuries?"

"Lindsay -- 'I think so.'"

"Mason -- 'I will ask the Senator if wood alcohol is a beverage?'"

"Lindsay -- 'I understand it is -- in Chicago!'"

If elected, will you honor the board's decision to allow the citizens of Mitchell County to vote on the proposed new hospital? As the Colorado City Record reported, I made the motion for the proposed hospital project to be brought to the people of Mitchell County for a vote.

The taxpayers are the ones who will pay for the new construction, so they should be the ones to accept the responsibility for taking on new indebtedness when the future of rural hospitals in Texas is so unstable.

If the vote passes, will you carry through with the decision of the voters? Yes, the voters' decision should be FINAL. After June 3, the hospital issue should be settled.

The Mitchell County Hospital District will know the desires of the voters and should move forward accordingly.

Lupe Merritt

If elected, will you honor the board's decision to allow the citizens of Mitchell County to vote on the proposed new hospital? Yes, I will honor the board's decision to allow the citizens of Mitchell County to vote on the proposed new hospital.

If the vote passes, will you carry through with the decision of the voters. The voters know I am opposed to the new hospital proposal. Frankly, if elected, I don't anticipate any problem in carrying through with whatever decision they make on June 3.

Shirley Clifton

If elected, will you honor the board's decision to allow the citizens of Mitchell County to vote on the proposed new hospital? Yes, I will honor the board's decision to allow the citizens of Mitchell County to vote on the proposed new hospital.

If the vote passes, will you carry through with the decision of the voters. Yes, I will carry through with the voters wishes.

Larry DeBusk

If elected, will you honor the board's decision to allow the citizens of Mitchell County to vote on the proposed new hospital? Yes, I will honor the board's decision to allow the citizens of Mitchell County to vote on the proposed new hospital.

The Ghost of John Wesley Hardin

By Tumbleweed Smith

Leon Metz of El Paso has written sixteen books about the Southwest. Some of them are about notorious folks like Billy the Kid and John Wesley Hardin. He works extremely hard while writing his books and tries to get inside the minds of the people he writes about.

John Wesley Hardin gave him some trouble.

"I was pretty well into the life of John Wesley Hardin and gradually it began dawning on me that this guy was communicating with me," says Leon. "I felt as though he didn't like what I was writing about him."

Leon got to the point he was having trouble traveling. "I would be lying in my hotel bed at night and get the feeling that Hardin was in the room with me. He never spoke to me, but I could sense his presence. I began to have nightmares in which sometimes I would shake so violently that my wife would lay across me to keep me from falling out of bed."

He went to see his doctor who prescribed a tranquilizer. "That helped somewhat, but the feeling that Hardin was with me when I was working on the book stayed with me."

John Wesley Hardin's ghost would certainly be bothersome. He killed over 30 men, claiming he always shot in self defense and never killed anybody who didn't need killing.

Leon was in Austin one time doing some research on Hardin and after spending time in libraries he went back to his hotel. "It was about five in the afternoon and I'm surfing through the television channels and all of a sudden I had this cold feeling as if Hardin was in the room. It scared the daylight out of me. I didn't know what to do. I tried watching some television, reading, I tried looking out the window, I even prayed. Finally I just got out and walked streets until about midnight at which time I was feeling a little better. I went back to the hotel, went to bed, slept pretty good, got up the next morning, jumped in my car and drove 600 miles back to El Paso."

Hardin was killed in the Hacienda Cafe in El Paso by deputy John Selman on August 19, 1895. He was 42 years old. On the 100th anniversary of Hardin's death, a historical group went to the Hacienda Cafe and created a reenactment of Selman shooting Hardin in the back of the head. Leon narrated the story.

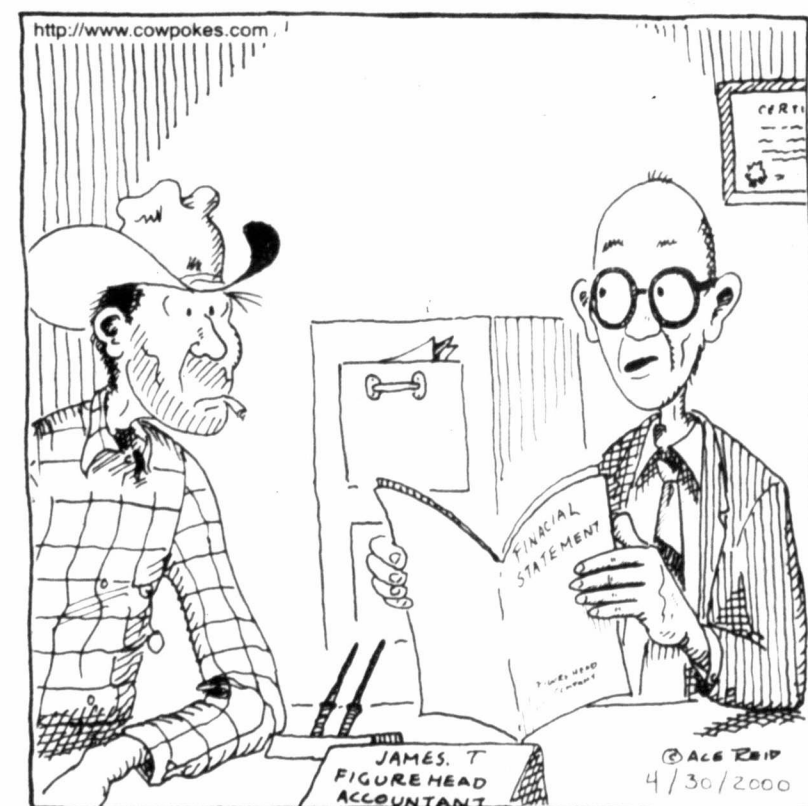

"We did it every hour on the hour for 8 hours, then at 9 o'clock at night we took everybody who was there to Hardin's grave in Concordia cemetery, had a drink of wine and wished him well on his way. On this particular day, I wasn't troubled at all by the ghost of John Wesley Hardin."

Leon's book, John Wesley Hardin, Dark Angel of Texas, was published about five years ago. Hardin's spirit, or whatever it was, bothered Leon for over a year. "Hardin did not begin to slack off until after the book was finished. Once the book was finished, he gradually began to recede into the background."

Leon is pretty well over the experience now, except he doesn't like to travel much.

RESIDENTS OF VALLEY FAIR LODGE hosted an Easter egg hunt for New Discoveries Daycare Center's preschool age children last week. Everyone had a good time, including the kids and residents. Daycare Assistant Leslie Gaona (l) and Daycare Director (r) Betty Casares gave Valley Fair Administrator Marsha Rickard (c) a present and thank you card for providing such a fun egg hunt for the kids.

Valley Fair residents enjoy Easter

Easter week at Valley Fair Lodge started with New Discoveries Daycare children having an egg hunt in the front yard, hosted by Valley Fair residents.

Betty Casares, director at the daycare, brought 13 preschool age children to search out and find Easter eggs, some hidden in the laps of residents.

When the hunt was over, the daycare presented a gift to Valley Fair Lodge for hosting the hunt. The following day, they brought drawings of Easter eggs colored by the students for the residents to enjoy and a lovely handmade thank you card.

Later in the week, two very husky bunnies came for a visit, starting in the lobby and ending with each resident receiving a visit in their rooms. These six-foot bunnies were

New Discovery Daycare and week lots of fun for Valley Fair residents.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letter to the Editor:
I have always been an optimist.
I heard a man say a few days ago, "No vision, no future."
My vision is for a new hospital and doctor's clinic.
Please join me and vote for Shirley Clifton and Larry DeBusk for the hospital board.
Sincerely,

Letter to the Editor:
Dr. Froneberger in his latest political advertisement says that our hospital has operated a deficit budget over the last several years. And so have all the school districts and other taxing entities in this state. The hospital isn't a private business.

It was created to serve the health care needs of this community and to take care of the indigent and poor people in our county who can't afford adequate health care.

Where would all our senior citizens, including me, be without this hospital to take care of us? Even those of us on a fixed income can't afford to be without a hospital.

Losing our hospital would be like losing the school in Loraine or Westbrook. Without it, the community would die.

I'm sure that Dr. Froneberger and the ticket he is running with can go to a hospital somewhere else, and probably do. But for those of us who need and use our hospital, we deserve to have something better than what we have. We deserve to have something better than a remodeled hospital that will still have asbestos and sewer lines running through the surgery department.

We need to elect hospital board members that will let us, the voters decide whether we think a new hospital can be built without any new taxes. We don't need them to decide that for us.

Thank you.
Agnes Haney

Dear Editor,
I was impressed by the article in last week's Record (April 27) about what makes a town stagnate or succeed. If you didn't read that article, you really ought to go back and read it.

I wish we could all forget politics and whether or not our taxes may or may not go up a penny or two and look at the big picture. Do we want to live in a stagnate, dying town, or do we want a prosperous, growing community?

I hope we want a progressive, successful town and a new hospital.

Thanks,
Jeanne Ellis

Congress extends emergency grazing of certain CRP acreage

Congressman Charlie Stenholm announced that the U.S. Department of Agriculture has extended the emergency grazing of certain Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) acreage in Callahan, Coke, Concho, Fisher, Haskell, Howard, Jones, Knox, Mitchell, Nolan, Runnels, Sterling, Stonewall, Taylor, and Young counties.

Emergency grazing was authorized on February 4 and has now been extended through June 30, 2000. The required payment reduction is 10 percent of the per acre annual rental payment times the number of acres totally grazed in FY 2000.

"Given the drought, low price and all the other problems facing producers these days, I am pleased the Department has taken this additional action and I am hopeful this will bring some relief to the folks who are struggling to hang on until conditions improve," said Stenholm.

Emergency grazing shall be confined to the acreage physically located within an approved county regardless of where the headquarters for the farm is located. An entire CRP field, which is partially located in an approved county and partially located in another county, may be grazed.

CRP participants must either leave at least 25 percent of each field or contiguous fields ungrazed for wildlife, or graze all of the acreage at no more than 75 percent of the stocking rate, as determined by the Natural Resources and Conservation Service (NRCS).

ber at the next election.

But she said if an entire board failed to take the training, the situation would be serious enough that the TEA might send in a monitor to take control of the district.

"I was just curious," Blas-singame said.

CISD principals met with Ms. Preble Tuesday in a review of policies that were of specific interest to them.

Monday night, she said she approved of the district's policy to require an attempt to settle disputes at lower levels of administration before they are brought to the board.

BIRTHS

Adrian and Genece Garcia of Denton would like to announce the birth of their son, Ethan Scott Garcia. He was born April 13, 2000 at Denton Regional Hospital in Denton. He weighed 7 lbs. 11 oz. and was 19 inches long.

Proud grandparents are Danny and Janie Martinez and Scott and Penny Gassiot of Colorado City and Lupe Garcia of Slocumb, AL.

She said it is also good to have groups be represented by a spokesman at meetings and to limit presentations to five minutes.

Blassingame noted that when former President Dwayne Harris resigned in 1994 and he was vice president, he presided as vice president until the annual board reorganization after the next election, when he was elected president.

Board members Rosanne Jameson, Lisa Hernandez, Sally Neff and Jesse Munoz Jr. said they would prefer for the vice president automatically to become president in such an event, and it was agreed to consider that new policy, too, when possible changes are reviewed at the regular 6 p.m. Monday, May 8, meeting.

Munoz is vice president. Ms. Preble said a policy detailing the business manager's contract also does not appear to be necessary and should be handled administratively.

Board members speculated that the matter might have been written into the policy manual when the late district tax assessor collector Jay Craddock had to be replaced in 1983 and his duties were combined with those of Business Manager Geneva Ratliff.

The meeting ended at 8:19.

Wardens help stop riot

Colorado City's three state prison wardens led a group of officers from the Wallace and Ware Units last week to help quell a riot at the Smith Unit at Lamesa in which a South Texas inmate was murdered.

Fernando Trejo, 20, was hit in the head with a grubbing hoe or a pick ax after inmates got over an interior fence and took gardening tools from a shed.

Trejo was incarcerated on a five year sentence for burglary from Cameron County, where the county seat is Brownsville.

He was one of more than 30 inmates who were hurt in the riot about 6:45 p.m. Tuesday, April 25.

The others were taken to hospitals in Lamesa, Brownfield and Lubbock, but Trejo was declared dead by a Dawson County justice of the peace.

Nine remained hospitalized last weekend, and the prison was still locked down.

Wallace Unit Warden Neal Webb said Monday that he and Senior Warden Rodney Cooper and Ware Unit Warden Eddie Wheeler were accompanied by Maj. Charles McDuffie and 30 correctional officers.

The Texas Rangers, more than 50 Department of Public Safety troopers and local officers were summoned after a dining hall dispute spilled into the recreation yard.

"We just assisted the Lamesa Unit staff in quelling the riot and going through to secure the inmates, getting them separated, identified and, later on, housed in their cells," Warden Webb said.

"None of our staff was injured in any way. We returned about 6 a.m. Wednesday.

"It was a pretty bad riot. There were just a lot of racial tensions between the black and Hispanic inmates.

"I don't know what the situation was before then. Generally, in a disturbance like that, a lot of tensions have built up, and it only takes one spark to ignite it."

The riot started after a Hispanic inmate took offense at a black inmate's behavior toward a female CO and hit him in the head with a water pitcher.

That fight was stopped, and the inmates moved from the dining hall to the recreation yard, where about 300 inmates fought.

Trejo was not the inmate who had hit the other inmate.

TDCJ spokesman Larry Fitzgerald arrived from Huntsville and told the Lamesa Press Reporter that a group of white inmates stood on the handball court and did not join in the fighting while others barricaded themselves in a dormitory.

Fitzgerald said some inmates escorted CO's out of the kitchen, which was heavily damaged, and others shielded employees in an education building.

He said those inmates will be commended, but some of several who were seen assaulting Trejo might face the death penalty.

He said improvements in interior fencing are being discussed because inmates put a barrel against a guard shed, climbed over a fence and got into a shed for grubbing hoes, pick axes, hammers and shovels.

Families' feud provokes gunfire here last week

An ongoing dispute between two families in Colorado City and Sweetwater that Chief of Police Pat Taylor described as a potential "Hatfields and McCoy's" feud situation almost resulted in a tragedy.

Chief Taylor said 20 year old Adam Molina was driving across town from his home in the 1000 block of Pine Street toward Ruddick Park when juveniles in two cars accosted him.

The dispute ended in Molina's front yard with a juvenile boy pointing a pistol at him and a male relative coming out of the house and discharging a firearm into the air to disperse the crowd.

"It could have got real bad real quick," Chief Taylor said.

He said two Sweetwater juveniles are being investigated in connection with the incident.

It happened about 9:30 p.m. on Tuesday, April 25.

A 16 year old boy was arrested and incarcerated at the Temple Dickson Regional Juvenile Detention Center in Sweetwater after the conclusion of an investigation into a series of motor vehicle burglaries.

Chief Taylor said the boy was taken into custody at his home by Police Investigator Charles Rice following an investigation by Rice and Sgt. Richard DeLaCruz.

He said Sgt. DeLaCruz had recovered property that was missing in two of the burglaries.

The boy was apprehended after his father reported that he had run away and taken the father's car.

The breakins on April 21, 22 and 23 were in cars belonging to Rebecca Ramirez of 938 E. 13th St., Kent Anderson of 955 E. 13th, Luke Large of 805 Vine, Pete Klein of 1002 E. 12th and Kaylee Stubblefield of 859 Marshall.

CD players and CD's from Ms. Ramirez' and Large's cars had been recovered while a cell phone from Anderson's car, a Motorola phone from Klein's car, and a purse, cell phone, cash, class ring and silver necklace from Ms. Stubblefield's car had not been found.

Officers George Oliver and Melissa Butts arrested two runaways from Bloomington, Ind., at 7:34 a.m. Sunday in Ruddick Park.

Matthew Kerr and Courtney Lynn Finney, both 17, were held at the Harmony House in Abilene while their parents journeyed from Indiana to get them Monday.

Their 1987 Honda Acura was impounded after they were arrested.

Hardee hosts women at First Baptist Church

Jean Hardee was hostess to the Global Focus Women on Mission Group of the First Baptist Church on Tues., Apr. 18 in the parlor of the church.

Virginia Dearen, Prayer Support Chairman, led the Calendar of Prayer for missionaries with birthdays on this day. Each person was given a little porky ball with a missionary's name on it to keep as a prayer reminder.

Amy Thompson was program leader presenting the topic, To Pray or Not To Pray: Choosing To Do Missions Through Prayer. Two missionary families with two very different ministries that could not exist without the prayer support they receive were presented.

Todd and Anne Deel, who work in the barrios of Southern Mexico City say that they could do nothing without the prayer support, but even then the work is very slow.

Carol and Brian Zimmerman serve at the Mallory Center in South Baltimore, where after two hours of intensive prayer, they go out in groups late at night to minister to many people of all ages who are out on the streets until the early hours of the morning.

Margaret Bodine, Chairman of the Church Missions Committee, reported that plans for the Block Party to be held in June, were nearly complete. She also reported that work on the prison chapel can start as soon as the blueprints are ready.

After concentrated prayer for families, neighbors, friends and community needs, the meeting adjourned.

The next meeting will be May 16 in the home of Earline Sellier.

Bluegrass Festival plans underway

Great music, people sharing and caring, just like one big happy family reunion -- these were just a few of the phrases Edith Womack and Walter Mitchell used to describe bluegrass festivals.

"Bluegrass is a wonderful thing for our community--for the old and the young," Mrs. Womack said. "It's not just the music, but the entire atmosphere."

Several members of the Bluegrass Festival Committee met last week to discuss plans for this September 22, 23, and 24 event to be held at Ruddick Park. Sponsored by the Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce, this festival will feature eight bands from Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico.

Mrs. Womack, lead singer for Rocky Creek, a San Angelo bluegrass band, is handing out flyers as she attends festivals in other communities and interest is building as both participants and fans discuss coming to Mitchell County. So, mark your calendars now and plan to come enjoy wholesome entertainment.

Kid's College combines fun, learning

This year the Kids' College program at Western Texas College will be from June 12 through 22. Registration will be held on Mon., May 15 in the Lobby of the Scurry County Museum from 2 p.m. through 7:30 p.m.

Each summer in the years past, the college has offered a summer enrichment and learning program for children ages 3 years old through completed sixth grade.

This year the program is expanding to the surrounding communities within approximately a 30-mile radius to the city of Snyder. Also, the program has increased its course offerings to a wider scope to total over 60 classes!

"We are very excited with the response that we have received from the contacts made to the school districts surrounding Snyder," stated Liffin Molter, Kids' College Program Director.

"We have received applications from many teachers such as Sweetwater, Ira, Hermleigh, Roscoe and Rotan, to name a few. These teachers are so geared up to take part in such a worthwhile program for children. It is rewarding to be able to make it possible to as many students as we can," explained Molter.

"This is also a time when many parents and grandparents invite children to visit them during the program so that they may participate. Last summer we had children from Lubbock, Lamesa, Austin and even Houston. A great time and experience is had by all!"

The program is available for enrollment of children aged 3 years to 5 years for the pre-school program, and completed Kindergarten through the 6th grade for the assorted curriculum classes. Classes are held in the afternoons on the Western Texas College campus on Monday through Thursday. An Open House and Exhibit at the Scurry County Museum is set for the last day of classes on June 22, 2000. The museum exhibit will run for the two weeks that follow. There is a small tuition fee and some classes have an added supplies fee. Some of the classes to be offered this year include Cheerleading, Surfing the Internet, A Lil Bit O' Magic, Flower Power, The Wild, Wild West and a wide assortment of sports and recreation classes.

Western Texas College feels it has an obligation to help educate people of all ages. It is a part of their mission statement for operation of the college as a whole. The Kids' College Program fills the area with exceptional education programming for children. Perhaps one day they will return as adults to attend regular semesters and go on to reach their highest potential.

The local school districts will all receive copies of the Kids' College Catalog to be made available to anyone interested in sending children to participate in this year's session 2000. Interested students, parents and family members may also contact the office for the Kids' College Program at (915) 573-8511, ext. 223 to receive a catalog by mail.

Fiesta Open House slated at Loraine School May 6

On Saturday, May 6, from 3 to 5 p.m. the band Elias Y Los Chuyos will play for the first annual Fiesta Open House at Loraine School.

The band will provide the entertainment while the school provides the entree and refreshments. The celebration is open to the entire Loraine community.

Principal Tanya Sorrells said that the open house would give the parents and the community the opportunity to witness first hand the instructional tools and classroom materials used in educating the children of Loraine.

"The school has received over $100,000 in grants this year, and we are proud of our purchases. The students are receiving an education second to none," said Ms. Sorrells.

Parents of students in grades

K-3 are requested to bring salads; parents in grades 4-8 are requested to bring vegetables and side dishes; and parents in grades 9-12 are requested to bring desserts while community members can bring any of the above.

"Loraine is a closely-knit community of families and we consider our open house as a family get-together," Superintendent David Lewin stated.

NEWLY ELECTED WJHS CHEERLEADERS for the 2000-2001 school year are (l-r) Candice Hale, Keagan Lendermon, Krista Kelly, Keshia Thurman, and Codi Waldrip.

Burleson named new superintendent of WISD

Todd Burleson

son said he and his wife Terri also want to raise their three boys in a small town.

"I grew up in a small school, and I would like to raise my children in this atmosphere," he said.

"I want to work on the efficiency of all programs. We hope to keep up with technology by adding distance learning labs -- anything I can do to enhance the curriculum and keep a good thing going."

A distance learning lab allows instructors in other locations, like other schools, to teach on closed circuit television.

Burleson has been the high school principal at Van Horn, in deep West Texas near El Paso, for the past five years.

Supt. Hancock resigned earlier this year, and he said recently that he did not know where he might work this fall.

Burleson said he is pleased that the district's extracurricular programs are thriving with numerous students in UIL academic contests, fall and spring sports, vocational agriculture and other things.

Westbrook High School's National Honor Society and Student Council have been revived this year for the first time in more than 25 years, he noted.

The school board will now seek a replacement for athletic director and head football coach Jim Hill, who has asked to be reassigned to teach elementary physical education and health this fall, Burleson said.

The district has 154 students.

Burleson took a bachelor's degree in physical education and minored in English at Angelo State University in San Angelo.

His wife, the former Terri Turbeville of Arlington, is a registered nurse who plans to continue working in this area.

She is currently the school nurse at Van Horn.

The Burlesons' children are Sterling, 15, Tate, 10, and Seth, 2.

Burleson's first job in education was at Comanche High School, where he was a varsity assistant coach in all sports and English teacher for three years from 1989 to '92.

He was the head basketball coach and varsity football assistant at Rotan for a year and then special education coordinator and English teacher for two years at Marathon, near Big Bend National Park.

He attended Sul Ross State University in Alpine while at Marathon and earned a master's degree in education and school administration.

"They have a lot of good things going here, and I just want to continue that," he said.

Local students honored at achievement academy

The United States Achievement Academy announced recently that Nicol Mazarova of Colorado City has been named an All-American Scholar. Nicol is from the country of Kosice, Slovakia.

The USAA has established the All-American Scholar Award Program to offer deserved recognition to superior students who excel in the academic disciplines.

The All-American Scholars must earn a 3.3 or higher, grade point average. Only scholars selected by a school instructor, counselor or other qualified sponsor are accepted. These scholars are also eligible for other awards given by the USAA.

Nicol, who attends Angelo State University, was nominated for this award by her professors.

Nicol will appear in the All-American Scholar Yearbook, which is published nationally.

Nicol is the exchange student of her host-family here in the U.S., Tommy and D'Dee Morris.

The United States Achievement Academy announced recently that Shanti Ross of Colorado City has been named an All-American Scholar.

Shanti, who attends Colorado High School, was nominated for this award by Cliff Vlasin.

The United States Achievement Academy announced recently that Matt Truelove from Westbrook, Texas, has been named an All-American Scholar.

Matt Truelove, who attends Westbrook High School, was also named a USAA National Award Winner in Mathematics and History & Government. He was nominated for these awards by two of his teachers, Coach Shelby Page and Coach Traci Slaughter.

The academy selects USAA winners upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors and other qualified sponsors and upon the Standards of Selection set forth by the academy.

These awards are a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the academy recognizes fewer than 10% of all American high school students.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly, winners of the All-American Scholar Awards should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the United States Achievement Academy.

Matt Truelove is the son of Tom and Georgeann Whitesides of Westbrook and Daniel and Tina Truelove. The grandparents are D.M. and Alma Smith of Colorado City and Dan and Sharon Truelove, also of Colorado City.

Q & A

Substance Abuse Trends

(In response to a growing concern among parents, educators and other members of the community, Colorado City Record, in cooperation with Al-Anon support groups and the Snyder Area Council on Alcohol and Drug Abuse, is devoting this column to your questions about the increasing threat of substance abuse.)

Q: Friend or Foe?

Steroids The very word brings to mind a number of athletes being scrutinized by the media for "dirty" UA's (urine analysis). Some athletes have used these drugs to try to add muscle mass and a mental edge on their opponent. But do they provide an edge? Are there legitimate uses for this drug? Are all steroids the same?

The steroids most people are aware of are anabolic steroids. Anabolic refers to the "building-up" effects. Originally anabolic steroids were developed in the 1930's to treat rare diseases in males whose testosterone levels were very low or non-existent. In the 1970's the drug's strength enhancing properties were ignored and it was hailed as a way to tap into the placebo effect. Eventually people figured out the real medicinal purposes for anabolic steroids and it was recognized as a legitimate drug with many uses. In 1990, congressional legislation made all steroids Schedule III drugs, meaning it is illegal for anyone to sell, purchase, or use anabolic steroids for non-medical uses. Today more than 100 different anabolic steroids have been developed. So now we step into the world of black market steroids. About 80% of steroids come from illegal sources.

It's true that steroids have gotten a bum rap from the abuse by many athletes. However there are many people who have benefited from the correct, physician supervised use of steroids. For example, according to news from healthcentral.com low doses of anabolic steroids are being given to patients suffering from HIV-related weight loss or chronic kidney failure to help in maintaining their lean body mass. A report in the April 14th issue of The Journal of the American Medical Association found that these patients with low doses of steroids along with supervised weight-lifting exercise, showed significant benefits. According to an article in Reuters Health, results of two studies suggest that flare-ups of COPD (chronic obstructive pulmonary disease) respond to treatment with steroids drugs. The New England Journal of Medicine reported that asthma patients "are also benefiting greatly from the use of steroids. According to the British Medical Journal, researchers in the Netherlands have found that a single injection of steroids to those suffering from carpal tunnel syndrome results in long-term improvement. Researchers injected steroids close to - but not into - the carpal tunnel with stunning results. But in all these cases it is a relatively small amount of steroids being given. One study being reported by healthcentral.com shows that people with asthma who use steroid drugs via inhaler can lower the likelihood of being hospitalized by 50%.

How can something appear to be so good for so many people and yet give football great, Lyle Alzado brain cancer? The key is abuse. Many who are abusing these drugs are taking dangerous amounts and are either unaware or unconcerned about the side effects, sometimes irreversible. Next week we will continue to see how and when steroids can become dangerous and unsafe.

Please send your questions on drugs or addiction to P.O. Box 695, Snyder, Texas 79550. All questions and personal inquiries may be submitted anonymously. Twenty-four-hour confidential information is available by calling (915) 573-1141 or 1-800-658-6722. Wolves season ends in defeat lose to Lamesa Tornados 8-1

SNYDER — Monday night's emotional win over Brownfield took its toll on the Colorado Wolves.

After keeping its season alive with Monday's victory, Colorado had its playoff hopes dashed Tuesday night with an 8-1 setback to the Lamesa Golden Tors at Moffett Field.

The Wolves end their season with a mark of 12-13, while the Tors earn the District 3-3A third seed for this weekend's playoffs.

"It was hard for us after Monday's emotional win to come out with the same intensity tonight," said Colorado coach Brandon Collins. "We used a lot of energy in the Brownfield game, and tonight we were spent."

The Wolves held a 1-0 lead through the first two innings.

Chase Phariss drew a walk to lead off the bottom of the first, before Jed Anderson drove him home with a double to left field.

Anderson's blast, which came with two outs, was one of only three hits Colorado mustered off Lamesa pitcher Joseph Dimas.

Colorado right-hander Tino Silva cruised through the first two frames, striking out five of the eight Tors he faced.

Lamesa grabbed the advantage in the third with three runs on an error, a single and a home run, before Silva and his defensive mates buckled down to record the final two outs of the inning.

The Tors extended the lead to 6-1 in the top of the fourth, followed by a Colorado threat in the bottom of the frame.

Silva led off with a single to right field, then used his speed to steal second base. One out later, Derek Garcia moved Silva to third with a fly ball, but the CHS base runner could get no further.

Despite tallying only three hits, the Wolves made solid contact at the plate, but were repeatedly victimized by stellar defensive plays from the Tors.

"I was getting a little frustrated, because Lamesa was making plays that they haven't made all year," Collins remarked. "But they made them tonight, and it earned them the win. They played well in the field, and their pitcher kept us off balance."

Colorado seemed to be back on the track in the fifth when Lamesa went down in order, thanks to two strikeouts by Silva, and a strong play from third baseman Jonathan Spear. Silva finished the night with nine strikeouts.

However, the Tors answered in the sixth with a pair of runs to cap the scoring.

The Wolves' final hit came in the bottom of the sixth when Andrew Spear lined a single into right field. One out later, Lamesa turned a double play to end the inning.

Wolves end regular season tied for 3rd place

The Wolves lost a 9-4 decision to district leading Seminole last Saturday in Seminole.

The loss by the Wolves threw the final district standing into a 3-way tie for third place.

Jed Anderson's base hit in the top of the first inning scored Danny Torrez for the Wolves first run of the game.

The Indians tied it in the bottom of the first but scored four runs in the next inning to take a commanding 5-1 lead.

Torrez scored again in the top of the third on a passed ball by the catcher.

The Indians added two more in the bottom half of the third one in the fifth and one in the sixth inning.

Anderson led off the sixth inning with a single and scored later on Tino Silva's double. Silva would later steal home for the Wolves final run.

Torrez started on the mound but gave way to Silva in the bottom of the third inning.

Offensively the Wolves were aided by singles from Kevin Wright and Aaron Waldrup and a double from Chase Phariss.

Iowa Park handed the Wolves a 5-1 loss in the first play-off game this year.

"I thought our girls did a real good job this year," Coach Jerold Epperson said following the game. "I'm disappointed we lost but I'm proud of the way the girls played this year. They kept getting better and better this season," he said.

The Wolves offensive efforts were led by Kristin Ornelas. She doubled in the sixth inning and later scored when Kassie Redwine singled.

Also, Alison Lopez, Teri Phariss and Jaki Davila singled in the game.

Both teams could muster only five hits apiece.

Freshman Teri Phariss started on the mound going 4 and 2/3 innings, giving up four runs on three hits while walking eight and striking out five.

She was relieved by freshman Stephanie Boyd who did a good job in relief giving up one run on two hits.

The young and talented Wolves have a bright future as the starting line-up this season consisted of three freshmen, three sophomores and three juniors.

loraine news

By Bessie Ann Vaughn Greetings.

I read where the month of May is sweeps month on all the television channels.

I sure hope they can sweep out something better than what we saw this past season.

Since all stations are vying for top ratings maybe we will be offered something other than re-runs of "The Mummy" or "Scooby-Doo".

C-Span also need new material. I have helped all presidents who ever lived take the road to the Whitehouse.

Letterman needs to take a long vacation so he can watch more pictures of his by-pass surgery. His personality has changed from bad to worse.

I will leave my TV off, save my money and go back to Roscoe for a vacation. Someone told me they saw Elvis over at the Dairy Fluff.

Just in fun, I love Roscoe!

Nola Taylor has just returned from Lubbock where she spent eight days with Kitty at Dalton Gage.

We are still accepting donations for our air conditioning system. Meanwhile, workers are installing the units as I write.

We are anxious to try it out. Our appreciation goes to each one who has helped us with our goal. Come enjoy the cool air with us!

Louise Hart Crenshaw visited Juanice Butler and family this past week. Louise lives in Fort Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Childs of Big Spring have bought the former home of Howard House on Campbell.

Paula and Dwight Aston of Abilene visited with Christine Britton Sunday. They went to church then had Sunday dinner at Christine's.

The latest report on Margaret Brame's condition is that she is some better. There is no talk of her going home yet.

Her room number at Rolling Plains in Sweetwater is #124.

Gene and Pat White have purchased the former home of Verlie Liles in Loraine.

We are glad they plan to stay in town. Congratulations to them.

Daylon and Anne Bruce have just returned from New York City to hear their granddaughter, Emily Taylor Bruce, play at Carnegie Hall. Also along, of course, were her parents Roger and Carla Bruce.

Emily will graduate from J.J. Pierce High School in Richardson, Tx. continuing her education at Texas Tech, majoring in Physical Therapy.

She is the great-granddaughter of the late E.M. and Beatrice Bruce and L.J. and Emma Taylor of Colorado City.

Dan and Denise Marshall, Freston and Peyton visited in the home of Allie Ruth Wiggins last week.

The Marshalls came to attend the funeral service of Chrystene Hall.

Dan and Pam Butler, Juanice Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Hughes of Carlsbad visited in the home of Paul and Dawn Kropp of Conroe, Tx.

Kudos to Dianne Sanders. She has planted flowers in the big ceramic pots down at the mini park and has been watering them.

It gives a lot of beauty and color.

Krystal Butler of Abilene recently returned from Alcopolco, Mexico where she did missionary work at a nearby village.

This week she visited her parents Dan and Pam Butler and Juanice Butler. She leaves Monday for six weeks Physical Therapy Clinicals in Fort Worth.

The decision was announced on Tuesday by Loraine Volunteer Fire Department Chief Donnie Phillips to go ahead with the purchase of an Automatic External Defibrillator from Medtronic Physio-Control of Redmond, Washington.

The machine which will be carried by Loraine First Responders will be used to treat victims of suspected Sudden Cardiac Arrest. Since First Responders are generally first on the scene, the availability of the defibrillator can shorten by five to ten minutes the time between onset of SCA and the return of normal heart rhythm. Since the first fifteen minutes are critical survival rate can be increased dramatically.

The fire department will purchase the machine with the proceeds of their recent farm implement sale and with a generous donation of the Colorado City Kiwanis Club.

Fire Chief Donnie Phillips says

thank you to all the firemen and their wives who worked hard to make the farm sale a great success.

The residents of Loraine and surrounding areas are very fortunate in having such a superb volunteer fire department and EMT system.

Thanks to Tommie Wright for his interest and work concerning the defibrillator.

He reports that without the use of one when he needed it, he would not be with us today.

While Juanice Butler was out and about with her kids last week they visited Kennie Sue Irwin in Katy, Tx. and later stopped by Sugarland to see Truitt and Betty Butler.

Los Chuys to play benefit dance for heart patient

LORAIN -- One of West Central Texas' most popular conjunto bands, Elias y Los Chuys of Loraine, has agreed to play a Saturday, May 13, benefit dance for a Loraine man who is suffering from a serious heart ailment.

Bandleader Jesse Barrera said the band will perform from 8 p.m. to midnight at the Civic Center at 157 W. Second St. in Colorado City.

Admission is $10, and tickets may be purchased from Melody Morris at 737-2729.

Mrs. Morris is the wife of heart patient Mike Morris of 206 E. School St. in Loraine.

Morris is a former oilfield pulling unit foreman who was forced to quit work early this year because of his severely enlarged heart.

Elias y Los Chuys features teenage accordion prodigy and singer Elias Barrera, who also gained recognition as a running back with the Loraine High School Bulldogs six man football team last fall.

The band played a four hour Saturday night dance last weekend at the Abilene Civic Center, and Jesse Barrera said it has become increasingly busy in the past year.

Mrs. Morris said her 36 year old husband went to see an Abilene cardiologist, Dr. David McCain, last week and was told his condition is worsening.

"His heart has got worse, but they left him on the same medication," she said.

"We're going to try to get cardiac rehab through Medicaid."

Morris, who had chronic high blood pressure for years before having to stop working because of dizziness and difficulty breathing, is one of three people in his family to have heart trouble, although his is the most severe.

His brother Tony of Clyde also has trouble breathing occasionally, and his mother Susie, of Winters, has abnormal vessels around her heart that cause it to beat irregularly.

His father, Chester, lives in Clyde. He has two other brothers, Steve of San Antonio and Roger of Valera, in Coleman County, and a sister, Sandra Coffin of Beaumont.

Mrs. Morris's parents are Roy and Betty Bailey of Loraine.

Sleep Denistry: Why not be relaxed?

Dr. Richard Lepard, of Sweetwater, has been in the practice of General Dentistry for 23 years. He is the incoming president of the Seventeenth district dental society, and has served as program chairman for the district. A proponent of preventive wellness, he hopes these articles will educate people to the recent advances in dentistry.

What's one of the first things thought by the patient and heard by the dentist during an appointment? "Doctor, will this procedure hurt?" This is a major concern and frankly, a deterrent to many people receiving the quality dental care they want and need. Today, a variety of techniques are available to help someone have that great dental experience. No longer is the problem concerning fear and anxiety without a solution. To the trained dentist and their team, this is as routine in safety and predictability as doing a restoration.

After a thorough medical history and discussion of a patient's wants and desires, an individualized plan is arrived at to help the patient. A routine of nitrous oxide-oxygen sedation plus headphones is a very popular method for many. A common description of the benefits is described as a "warm, comfortable feeling." Many times a patient will claim they will no longer have their dentistry done any other way. A good number even use this technique during their routine "cleaning" (hygiene) appointment. The convenience of this technique is that the patient can relax at the office, yet still be totally clear of the relaxation and drive home themselves.

Another popular technique again with proper medical history, discussion and support-systems is a pre-operative medication to allow even greater relaxation. A point to emphasize here: This technique is one in which the patient is totally relaxed yet responsive to all verbal commands. They do walk in and out of the office. At all times the patient is awake. The term sleep dentistry come from the fact that the patient will usually remember very little of the dental procedure. Therefore it is as though they've "slept through it." Many times only initially walking in and leaving the office are

"I had no idea that dentistry could be made this comfortable. If I had only known before I would not have got in this situation."

50% of the population doesn't seek regular dental care due to anxiety. The result is dental emergencies and tooth loss.

tist trained and willing to take the extra time to help his patient can make the appointment much different. Dread can become comfort. Dis-ease can become health. Today, modern techniques can remove the negativity of dental procedures.

In summary, relaxation during your dental visit can be a routine that allows anyone to have their health restored. A dentist trained and willing to take the extra time to help his patient can make the appointment much different. Dread can become comfort. Dis-ease can become health. Today, modern techniques can remove the negativity of dental procedures.
