ECONOMY PLAN OF GOVERNOR IS DOWNED

AGGIE DUTIES WOULD BE TRANSFERRED TO A. & M. COLLEGE

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 25 — The house of representatives today killed a bill recommended by Governor Allred to abolish the office of state commissioner of agriculture and his department. The vote was 86 to 48.

Rep. G. C. Morris, author of the proposal, had sought to print it on a minority committee report. The state affairs committee voted against it last night, 11 to 6.

The bill would have transferred duties of the state department to A. and M. college. Morris contended it would "abolish a useless department and save the taxpayers between $150,000 and $200,000 a year."

Held Long Hearing

Rep. Virgil A. Fielden of Mount Pleasant asserted that the state affairs committee held a long hearing on the proposal and therefore was in a better position to pass on its merits than the other house members.

This was the second of Allred's consolidation proposals to meet defeat. A bill to abolish the barber, beauty parlor and embalmer's boards was killed unanimously by the house public health committee.

Conservation Bill Approved

The senate committee on agriculture has approved by a 6-to-3 vote a state-wide farmer - controlled soil conservation plan which a house committee previously had sent to sub-committee for further consideration.

The bill, a substitute for the original by Senator E. M. Davis of Brownwood would set up a board of seven with the presidents of Texas A. and M. and Texas Technological colleges as ex-officio members.

The plan would be administered through county commissioners courts with precinct advisory boards. The state would be divided into five districts—Panhandle, Big Bend, Coastal, Timberland and North-Central, each to elect one land-owning "practical" farmer to the main board.

Enter Into Agreements

The board could enter into agreements with the federal government for soil conservation aid and each county would be permitted to adopt its own plan for wind and water soil erosion prevention.

BURGLARS TOP PRISON LIST

YOUTHS BETWEEN AGES OF 17 AND 25 SHOW MOST VIOLATIONS

(By The Associated Press)

HUNTSVILLE, Feb. 25—Youths between the ages of 17 and 25 form almost forty per cent of the Texas prison system's population.

The 1936 report of W. M. Thompson, chief of the bureau of records and identification of the system, reveals that of the 5,948 prisoners incarcerated on Dec. 31, 2,323 were not yet 26 years old.

Burglary again was at the head of the list of crimes by Texas felons. Nine hundred ninety-four burglars were received; 723 thieves; 238 murderers and 268 forgers and passers of bad checks. Of 43 rapists received, five were to serve life terms.

Harris Has Most

Harris county had the largest representation with 228 new prisoners. Dallas was second with 178, Bexar had 113 and Tarrant, 90. Thirty-seven counties sent no criminals to the institution.

Of 801 convicts granted conditional paroles, but 38 came back as violators. Eighty-three convicts of 257 receiving furloughs returned voluntarily and only eight were returned as violators.

During the year 2,829 new prisoners were received, 1,762 of whom were first-termers.

Historian Blaming Ills Of Nation On The Fact America Is Going Soft

"WE HAVE DONE NOTHING BUT GIVE UNTO OUR CHILDREN," HE CLAIMS IN ADDRESS TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 25.—America is going "softie," and that's why the country has so many ills, in the opinion of Hendrik Willem Van Loon, noted historian.

He told teachers attending the National Education association convention today:

"During the last three generations we have done nothing but give unto our children. We gave them schools that were far too good for them. We deprived them of all trouble and made learning as easy and pleasant and painless as going fishing.

"We told them there were nice little jobs awaiting them just around the corner with a nice wife and a mink coat and a nice house and a nice mortgage, nicely handled by a nice bank.

"As long as America had stood for hardships, for pioneering, for fighting one's way through the wilderness—as long as there had been adventure and uncertainty in the American scheme of things—we had a definite and concrete American philosophy of life and nobody dreamed of importing from abroad what he could find so infinitely better right here at home."

He spoke at the concluding session of the department of superintendence of the American Education association, which has been meeting since Sunday.

Prison Terms Given In Vote Conspiracy

SEVEN MEN TO SERVE TERMS; WOMEN ARE ON PROBATION

(By The Associated Press)

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 25. — Sentences ranging from six-month jail terms to three years in prison were passed today by Federal Judge Merrill E. Otis on seven election workers convicted last week of vote fraud conspiracy in last November's general election. Four women defendants who pleaded no defense were placed on one-year probation.

Three-year sentences were pronounced for John A. Lutheran, Democratic precinct captain; Frank H. Adams, Republican judge, and Lorne E. Wells, Democratic judge, all from the seventeenth precinct, twelfth Kansas City ward.

Edson M. Walker, Democratic judge in the thirteenth precinct of the same ward, was given a two-year sentence. He will be sentenced Saturday on an attempted subornation of perjury conviction returned in a separate trial yesterday.

Other sentences were:

John H. Drummond, Democratic precinct captain, two years.

Joe Wells, jr., Democratic clerk, one year and one day.

Leo B. Roach, police patrolman, six months in jail.

Placed on probation for one year were Mrs. Chloe Albright, Mrs. Tessie Mears, Mrs. Callie Clark and Miss Pearl Sperry, all of whom pleaded no defense and testified for the government.

Ranchman Is Taken By Death In City

G. D. Jones, 63, of Tatum, N. M., and former resident of Crosby county, died in a local sanitarium about 11 o'clock this morning.

Brief funeral services will be held at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon at Sanders Funeral home with Rev. C. E. Hereford, pastor of the First Baptist church, in charge.

Another service will be held at 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon at the First Methodist church at Tatum with Rev. W. B. Walker, Methodist pastor there, in charge. Burial will be at Tatum.

Mr. Jones worked on the old 3-H ranch near where Crosbyton now is, moving to Tatum about 28 years ago. He was a widely known ranchman of that section.

He was survived by his wife; two sons, Rene and G. D., jr., of Tatum; and a daughter, Mrs. Henry Harris of Gladiola, N. M. Four brothers, Frank of Carona, N. M., Tom of Beaverhead, N. M., Eli of Carlshad, N. M., and Felix of Odessa; and five sisters, Mrs. Margaret Witt and Mrs. Sarah Witt of Lubbock, Mrs. R. W. Smith and Mrs. Nettie Harris of Odessa, and Mrs. Omega Waddell of Pecos also survived.

Settle Asks Cash For Local Museum

AUSTIN, Feb. 25. (AP)—Rep. Doyle Settle of Abernathy introduced a bill today appropriating $50,000 to match federal money that may be granted for completing a building of the West Texas Museum association on the campus of Texas Technological college.

COURT CHANGE PROPOSAL IS HIS WEAPON

DEVELOPMENTS ARE TO BE AWAITED BEFORE NEW MOVE MADE

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 — Usually well informed persons said today President Roosevelt was considering the use of his Supreme court reorganization proposal as a weapon to force action on a constitutional amendment.

The chief executive was reported reliably to have discussed with congressional leaders the possibility of enacting his court bill with a clause making its operation conditional on failure to amend the constitution within a given time.

Would Limit Jurisdiction

Senators who have talked with the president recently said he had no specific constitutional amendment in mind. He was described as preferring one to limit the court's jurisdiction rather than one to extend federal power over industry and agriculture.

It was said, however, he had reached no decision on combining the bill with an amendment and was unlikely to do so for some time. He is expected to await developments before making any new moves.

Senate leaders were understood to have advised Mr. Roosevelt it was doubtful whether they could get sufficient votes to approve any of the constitutional amendments so far proposed.

First Hint Of Change

Word that the chief executive had discussed the alternate proposal was the first intimation he might agree to make any change in his recommendation to increase the Supreme court unless older justices retire.

Under the alternate proposal he still would have assurance of a court reorganization unless a constitutional amendment was adopted. An amendment would be submitted to the people at the same time the reorganization bill was enacted, or earlier.

The court bill then would carry a provision delaying its effective

Weird Theory For Murder Is Evolved

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25. (AP)—Fear of a witch was the weird theory evolved today in a sheriff's investigation of the slaying of Mrs. Natalie Garcia Lopez, 38.

Captain W. J. Penprase said her husband, Simon Lopez, reported an elderly Mexican neighbor accused Mrs. Lopez of witchcraft and putting a "hex" on him. The Mexican asserted a friend told him he could never hope to recover from a current illness until he had broken the evil spell. Officers sought the neighbor.

Arline Judge Now Bound For Nevada

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Feb. 25 (AP) —Arline Judge was Reno-bound today determined to bounce out of the matrimonial frying pan into the divorce court fire.

The curvacious, dark-haired actress took a train last night for the Nevada capital because, her attorneys announced, she prefers to terminate her five-year marriage to Director Wesley Ruggles in six weeks.

CROP PROGRAM IS PRESSED

TWO FARM PROPOSALS START WAY THROUGH CONGRESS TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Two major segments of the administration farm program—crop insurance and soil conservation benefits—started through congress today.

A senate agriculture subcommittee invited Secretary Wallace to give his views on the vast crop insurance system recommended by President Roosevelt. It would start with the 1938 wheat crop.

Committee Is Called

Chairman Jones (D-Tex) called the house agriculture committee together to hear Wallace's assistants discuss a proposal to extend until 1940 complete federal administration of the soil conservation act.

The administration had hoped states would enact laws combining soil conservation and crop control. The Supreme court in invalidating the AAA denied to the fedeal government the latter function.

The bill would repeal a provision that the soil conservation program go on a state basis next year. The states were slow to act, and the agriculture department decided to continue on the present basis until stronger federal crop control measures can be enacted.

Continue Payments

Congress appropriated $470,000,000 for payments last year to farmers cooperating under the program. These will be continued if the bill is enacted.

The program fosters a shift from soil-depleting cash crops such as wheat, corn and cotton to soil-building crops such as grasses and legumes.

Snow Or Freezing Rain Is Forecast

DALLAS, Feb. 25 (AP) — The weather bureau today forecast snow or freezing rain for the north portion of West Texas tonight, with lower temperatures generally over the state except in the lower Rio Grande valley.

The rain was expected to blanket southeast areas tonight with occasional precipitation tomorrow.

Lowest temperature last night was 26 at Lubbock.

Nail Is Lodged In Stomach Of Child

JASPER, Feb. 25. (AP)—Three-year-old Geraldine Due remained in serious condition here today, a four-penny nail lodged in her stomach since yesterday.

Physicians said x-ray pictures revealed the nail had not changed position and indicated an operation was imminent.

The girl's father, G. G. Due, said Geraldine was playing with several nails when she swallowed one.

State Officials Are To Visit City When Museum Session Is Staged Here

WALTER WOODUL AND COKE STEVENSON ARE TO FORMALLY PRESENT MUSEUM TO ASSOCIATION

Announcements of the program for the eighth annual meeting of the West Texas Museum association, along with invitations to attend are being mailed to members of county centennial committees, newspaper editors, school superintendents, chamber of commerce and American Legion officials, and county and city officials of 67 West Texas counties who were instrumental in obtaining an allocation of $25,000 for the first unit of a three-story museum.

The meeting, to be held March 5, will be at the partially complete museum building.

The letter, bearing the signature of H. L. Allen, president of the museum association, in inviting "you and other fine citizens who helped in this movement," says, "This museum is one of the things that West Texas has worked together for and secured."

Divided into three parts, the program will consist of an afternoon session beginning at 4 o'clock, dinner at 6:15 and an evening meeting at 8 o'clock.

Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Tech, will deliver the welcome address. Wm. M. Craig, of the chemistry department, will use as the subject of his speech, "Some Historic and Economic Aspects of the Salt Lakes of the Plains."

Frank P. Hill of Tahoka will speak on "Folk Lore of the South Plains.

Formal Presentation

The formal presentation of the museum building to the West Texas Museum association will be by Lieutenant Governor Walter Woodul and Coke R. Stevenson, vice chairman of the centennial commission of control. Stevenson was speaker of the house of representatives when the appropriation for the first unit of the museum was made.

Inspection of museum and exhibits will follow appointment of exhibits.

Stevenson will deliver the main address at the dinner at Horn hall. His subject will be "The Future of West Texas."

The evening session, beginning at 8 o'clock, will be opened with Lieut. Governor Woodul's discussion of "Texas Centennial Celebrations." A

OLD QUESTION IS REVIVED

SHOULD THE MARRIED WOMAN REMAIN ON JOB AT HOME?

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. — A woman can "live alone and like it" in New York or be a wife who cooks her husband's breakfast bacon — and most employers don't give a whoop which she is, as long as she does her work and does it well.

That was the opinion of most men and women sounded out today on a statement of Miss Florence Birmingham, of Massachusetts, that this business of married women holding jobs should cease, and cease quickly.

Can They Sell Shirts?

The manager of a mid-town haberdashery said:

"Sure,—I employ several married women. So what? What difference does it make whether they're spinsters or matrons? The question is, can they sell shirts?"

A man who hires and fires at a 5-and-10 cent store said his girls could work out their personal happiness any way they chose, so long as they kept up their batting average on the job.

Miss Sadie Maglowski, 29, cashier in a drug store, voiced a dissenting

MUSIC LEADER IS JAILED

JOE VENUTI IS PUT BEHIND BARS AS RESULT OF ROW

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Feb. 25.—Joe Venuti, the fiddling man of orchestra fame, walked out of a night club with his wife early today and into a disturbance that sent him to jail for four hours, nursing a battered head and a wrenched ankle.

Besides injuries inflicted by two women with the heels of their slippers, Venuti claimed the arresting officers, Patrolmen J. F. Brawner and G. W. Newman, slugged him with a blackjack and severely twisted his right ankle.

Admit Slapping Him

The policemen admitted to Chief of Police Robert L. Jones only that they slapped the orchestra leader, who had finished an engagement at the Hotel Adolphus shortly before the clash.

Jones promised a complete investigation.

The women involved were not arrested. Police explained they could be picked up any time.

Versions of the affair varied. Venuti, who was co-starred with Paul Whiteman in Billy Rose's Casa Manana show at the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial celebration last year, said it occurred as he and his wife left a night club.

He said he was accosted by the women and made a remark to them which induced them to jump from the car in which they were sitting

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 25. (AP)—Eugenio Pereyra Irsola, two-year-old son of a wealthy and socially prominent Argentine family, who disappeared last night, was believed to have been kidnaped by gangsters, police disclosed today.

Officials ordered a wide search for the missing boy. The Buenos Aires provincial police were mobilized into emergency service as the hunt proceeded.

Skating In Pairs Allowed In Japan

TOKYO, Feb. 25. (AP) — Men and women were permitted to skate in pairs today for the first time in Japanese history — provided they were professionals.

The practice, strictly forbidden as immoral, was legalized by police in view of the Olympic games to be held in Japan in 1940.

Suitor Steals Girl From Church And Shoots Himself As Love Is Rejected

(By The Associated Press)

EMMETT, Idaho, Feb. 25—Sheriff Boise Riggs said today Kenneth Crowther, 22, shot himself to death on a lonely country road today a few minutes after the girl he kidnaped from a church last night escaped.

The girl, pretty Gynell Soom, 20-year-old member of a church choir, heard the shot as she ran for help, the sheriff said. She was returned to her home here in a hysterical condition and was too distraught to be questioned.

Discovery of the body in the youth's automobile ended an all-night search for the girl and her abductor in which nearly every adult in this southwestern Idaho small town took part.

Crowther carried the screaming young woman from the church, placed her in his automobile and drove out of town on a side road.

For several hours Miss Soom pleaded with the young man to "come to his senses," Riggs asserted.

"If you don't marry me, I'll either kill you or kill myself," Riggs quoted Crowther as telling the girl.

"Miss Soom, frightened at the threat, struggled out of the car and ran down the road toward the camp," the sheriff said. "She was but a short distance from the car when she heard a shot."

Objections Will Be Presented To The Legislature

MASS MEETING OF LUBBOCK CITIZENS STAGED HERE TODAY; COMMITTEE IS SELECTED TO CARRY FIGHT TO AUSTIN OPPOSING PLAN

Unanimous opposition to any proposal to redistrict Lubbock's courts and appointment of a committee of three members to present this section's case to the legislature resulted from a mass meeting in 99th district court this morning.

The committee, composed of Chas. A. Guy, newspaperman; George P. Kuykendall, automobile dealer, and George W. Dupree, attorney, met immediately to set in motion plans to retain intact 99th and 72nd judicial districts.

About 90 persons, including 31 attorneys, attended the meeting. W. W. Campbell, president of Lubbock County Bar association who called the meeting, presided.

Association Opposes Bill

The bar association recently unanimously opposed any bill abolishing either of the courts here.

The committee was instructed to bring to date information compiled four years ago when the courts here were threatened by legislative action and to carry that information to Austin to be presented to legislators.

Consensus was that by "taking it over" with legislators and presenting facts to them no further effort would be made at this time to abolish 99th district court and juggle the counties of 72nd district court.

Proposal Is Made

Redistricting has been proposed by Senator Olan R. Van Zandt of Tioga and Rep. W. H. Adkins of Brady. The men would eliminate 99th judicial district and would place Lubbock, Garza, and Crosby counties in the 72nd. That district now includes Lubbock, Crosby, Hockley, and Cochran counties.

Business men and attorneys discussed the situation.

"When we show them our courts are justified, I do not think we will have any trouble keeping them," said Campbell.

A. B. Davis, secretary-manager of Lubbock Board of City Development, said Durwood H. Bradley, former district attorney, had informed him from Austin that action would be necessary to maintain the courts.

Motion to appoint the three-member committee was made by Dupree and was seconded by Robert H. Bean.

Benson Urges Committee

W. D. Benson, sr., declared it would be "suicide to do away with one of our courts." He urged that the committee be sent to Austin.

Sam J. McFarland, a member of the Real Estate board, pledged the support of his organization.

"I have great faith in the legislature when you get the facts before them," said R. A. Baldwin, Slaton attorney and a former member of the legislature.

Mullican Is Heard

Clark M. Mullican, former district judge, spoke of repeated efforts by Senator Van Zandt and other legislators to redistrict the courts in this section.

Lubbock, the former judge said, had never made a backward step, even during the depression.

"We're moving forward so rapidly

Battle With Death Is Lost By Child

CLEVELAND, Feb. 25 (AP)—A golden haired girl whom physicians rescued from a rendezvous with death lost her valiant fight today and died at 2:15 a. m.

The baby did not breathe for 35 minutes after her birth Tuesday and was believed dead when doctors were unable to detect heart beats with stethoscopes.

A few minutes later, Dr. Ladd Mezera touched the body. He felt a slight pulse and doctors renewed their efforts, employing an oxygen tent, adrenalin injections and alternate warm and cold treatments.

Speed Flier Ready For Old Job Again

CHICAGO, Feb. 25. (AP) — Benny Howard, the speed flier, was ready today to give "his luck" another chance.

It was less than six months ago that Howard and his wife cracked up on a New Mexico Indian reservation when he was leading the field in the Bendix cross country air race. Doctors feared for his life.

"Our luck ran out," he said then. Today he said:

"I want my old job back. I ought to be flying again in 90 days."

Film Writer Found Dead At His Home

PALM SPRINGS, Calif., Feb. 25, (AP)—Humphrey Pearson, prominent film writer, was found shot to death in his bed at his desert cottage here at midnight.

Deputy Sheriff W. W. Walrath said Pearson's wife, weeping and hysterical, was in the same bed when the tragedy was discovered. She was unable to give a coherent story of what had occurred.

EFFORTS FAIL AS STRIKERS HOLD FORT

COMPANY CHIEF SAYS THAT PLANT MUST BE EVACUATED

(By The Associated Press)

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Feb. 25—Federal and county officials undertook today new efforts at arbitration today as sit-down strikers entered their third day in possession of the Douglas Aircraft company.

Donald Douglas, company president, said he would enter no negotiations while strikers remained in the plant. But they, receiving food and shouted encouragement from associates on the outside, showed no intention of evacuating, not even when the chief of police posted a notice warning them "to get off this property immediately."

STRIKE SPREADS

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Feb. 25. (AP) — The sit-down strike of aviation workers spread today from the Douglas plant to the factory of Northrup corporation a Douglas subsidiary employing 1000 men. Douglas officials, announcing the development, could give no estimate of the number of men who struck.

Seek New Converts

Sporadic picketing by men and a few women wearing Committee for Industrial Organization arm bands continued as organizers for the United Automobile Workers Union, aircraft division, tried to win new converts among Douglas employes association members.

The association, a company union, was conducting a vote of all Douglas employes on whether they wanted to return to work, but its officials said there was no assurance it would be possible for them to

DOCTOR PLANS FOR APPEAL

PENSION CHIEF SAYS HIS MOVEMENT WILL BE CARRIED ON

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. — Dr. Francis E. Townsend, predicting eventual exoneration, helped his attorney draft a plea today for a new trial in an effort to overturn his conviction of contempt of the house of representatives.

The elderly California physician, who heard the verdict yesterday without emotion, said an appeal would be taken to a higher court if the request was denied.

Justice Peyton delayed sentence for three days. He can impose a maximum of a $1,000 fine and a year in jail.

Local Business Woman's Club Banquet Has International Relations Theme

Society Joins In World-Wide Event

Joining with similar clubs throughout the world, the regular dinner and program meeting of the Lubbock Business and Professional Women's club utilized the theme of international cooperation and peace in an annual patriotic observance Wednesday night at the Hilton hotel.

Mrs. Olive Fluke, chairman of the club international relations committee, was program leader and presided. She introduced those participating on the program, who were: Miss Ruth Craig, who read Washington's views on world peace as revealed in his last address; Dr. W. A. Jackson of the Texas Technological college faculty, who spoke on "The Effect of the Spanish Civil War on the Former European Alliances," and A. V. Weaver and C. C. Crenshaw, attorneys, who discussed the President's plan to reorganize the Supreme Court.

Miss Crystelle Scudder sang, accompanied by Miss Marion Bullock.

A ship model centered the T-shaped table and two china models were placed at both ends. Programs were in a patriotic motif bearing small flags and the American eagle.

Yearbooks were distributed.

Mrs. Fluke read a paper listing memberships of business and professional women's clubs throughout the world. Each was to have met for an international program Wednesday.

Guests were Mesdames Randolph Houston, J. D. Hassell, jr., Jackson, Crenshaw, and a Mrs. Hemphill of Brownfield, Misses Margaret Baskin, Marie McKelvey and Margaret Turner.

Members attending were Mesdames Lottie B. Hilton, H. A. Welmaker, Ann Groth, W. O. Harbison, Bertha Stahler of Brownfield, A. C. Sanders, Floe Swenson, Gladys Land, Mina K. Graves, E. E. Nurse Famed In Post-War Europe Building Rural Mid-West Health

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Fame came to Mrs. Elsbeth H. Vaughan for her battle to rid post-war Europe of disease—but she feels she has been of greater service waging a peace-time campaign to rehabilitate rural health in her own country.

In war days Mrs. Vaughan, recipient of the Florence Nightingale award for distinguished nursing service, was instrumental in mobilizing a corps of 20,000 trained nurses—the largest number ever recruited by a single agency.

Presses Her Ideas Vigorously

Now, grayed but vigorous after more than 30 years of sacrifice and achievement in her profession, she would like to see a force of 60,000 nurses in the field—not to repair the wounds of war but to fight the ravages of disease.

Mrs. Vaughan, only American nurse this year to receive the international Florence Nightingale medal—she's too modest to wear it—is director of nursing service for the Red Cross in its mid-west area. Tall, grave, kindly, she directs her staff of nurses like a general in battle.

Alert check is kept on community health in her territory — 17 states roughly comprising the area between the Mississippi river and the Rocky Mountains—and trained nurses are dispatched to meet emergencies. She has 6,000 on reserve duty.

In recent years Mrs. Vaughan has had to cope with a trench mouth epidemic in Colorado, a minor scarlet fever epidemic in Missouri, a meningitis outbreak in Oklahoma, typhoid in South Dakota. A year ago 35 nurses fought billowing silt by distributing 100,000 dust masks in the "dustbowl."

Proud of her staff's record in emergencies, the veteran nurse is prouder of her organization's effort to conserve rural health. Last year 18,000 women in her zone received certificates after completing Red Cross courses in home health and hygiene.

"The public mind attaches greatest importance to the work of the Red Cross in time of public disaster," she said, "but in the longtime view I believe that the pioneering activities of the organization in bettering health in rural areas have been far-reaching."

Active in public health work almost continuously since her graduation from a Detroit nursing school in 1904, Mrs. Vaughan retired briefly after her marriage in 1915 but returned to assist in building an army and navy nursing corps.

Widowed in the war in which she won renown, she was sent overseas in 1919 to aid in post-war health construction. Her work in training native nursing forces and founding child health clinics in Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania established her as a world figure in her profession.

Mrs. Elsbeth H. Vaughan directs a battle against disease.

McKee Home Is Scene Of Club Party

Mesdames S. C. Wilson and A. W. McKee entertained for the Wednesday Needle club in the home of the latter at 1812 Fourteenth street Wednesday afternoon. Sweet peas and fern decked the house.

SEEK MEMORIAL STAMP

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—C. Frank Dunn, secretary of the Daniel Boone Bicentennial commission, says he has received the assurance of Senator Alben W. Barkley that he will urge the postoffice department to issue a postage stamp in honor of the famous old trailblazer.

Since 1912, seven nations besides the United States have attempted to enforce national prohibition, without success.

Birthday Party Is Attractive Affair

Mrs. John B. Slaughter entertained at Hotel Lubbock Wednesday afternoon honoring her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Jay Slaughter of Post.

Reciprocal birthday celebrations of Mesdames Slaughter, usually taking place in Lubbock, long have been outstanding social events.

Guests met at noon in the governor's suite at the hotel, where greetings were exchanged and the honoree received messages from out-of-town friends who were unable to attend the party. The rooms were decorated with red roses.

Table Is Square

A four course dinner, featuring fried spring chicken, was served in a private dining room. The table, which was 12 feet square, was laid with a white cloth and covered with an artistic arrangement of tulips, sweet peas, roses and fern.

The centerpiece was a large five-pronged cut glass and crystal candelabra urn with red candles. Smaller crystal candelabra decorated each corner of the table. There was a corsage of orchid sweet peas at the place of each person. Plate favors were nut and candy filled baskets of imported china.

At the honoree's place was a Czechoslovakian figurine vase in green and white and a book of birthday thoughts, gifts of the hostess. Strawberry parfait and angel food cake constituted the dessert course. On each plate burned a small red candle.

Proposes Toast

Mrs. Tillman L. Jones gave a toast to the honoree, reading an original poem composed for the occasion.

The group reassembled in the governor's suite after dinner to present a set of white china plates with broad gold border and crystal dessert plates to the honoree. The presentation was made by Mrs. W. O. Stevens on behalf of the guests and hostess.

Afterward, the entire party went to the Lubbock High school auditorium to hear the afternoon concert presented by the Texas Technological college Artist course, as guests of the elder Mrs. Slaughter. Artists were Harpist Salvi's instrumental quintette.

Guests were Mesdames Marshall Mason, Jones, A. C. Surman, K. Stoker, D. C. Williams, John T. Herd, Walter Duckworth, C. D. Morrel, Walter Roy, J. N. Power and the honoree, all of Post; Mrs. John Edgar Wallace of Fort Worth, and Mesdames Stevens, Arno Dalby and Sherrill Boyd and Miss Delia Wilkinson.

Mrs. Wallace Gives Birthday Party

Honoring her daughter Ernesteen, Mrs. Ernest Wallace, 2406-A Tenth street, entertained Wednesday afternoon. The occasion marked the tenth birthday of the honoree.

Games were played and cake and ice cream were served to Elizabeth Schmidt, Mary Lou Clifton, Barbara Bedford, Lottie Margaret Atkinson, Dorothy Madge McGinnis, Betty Jo Smith, Jean Bardwell, Erpal Pruitt, Jane Holden, Mary Lam McKay, and Nell Marie Womack.

Mrs. Jimmie Murphy and daughter, Betty Jim, are spending this week with Mrs. Murphy's mother in Hobbs, N. M.

Taxes in 1890 took 7.2 per cent of the national income; in 1930 they took 14.4.

Delphian Study Is On Norse Culture

"Norway and the Norse" was the subject of discussion by 22 members of the Llano Estacado Delphian chapter, in meeting Thursday morning at the Hilton hotel. Contribution of Norwegians to world culture was emphasized in the following talks:

ENGLISH FILM ACTOR DIES

SIR GUY STANDING IS CLAIMED BY DEATH ON WEDNESDAY

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Feb. 25. (AP)—Sir Guy Standing, 63, distinguished English motion picture actor, fell dead Wednesday while chatting with an attendant in the garage where he kept his automobile.

Oddly enough, an instant before he collapsed, Sir Guy had replied, in answer to a question about his health, "I never felt better in my life."

Dr. D. D. Young, who hurried to the actor from the Hollywood emergency hospital, said he believed Sir Guy succumbed to a heart attack.

Bitten By Spider

A black widow spider, his friends said last night, probably was the indirect cause of his death. He was bitten during the filming of "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer," several years ago, and had complained of recurrent pains in his legs ever since.

Standing was born in London, the eldest son of a theatrical family. He ran away from home to join a touring troupe, and was in the theater when the World war began. He joined the English navy, rose to the rank of commander, and was knighted by the late King George V.

After the armistice, he returned to the stage and eventually came to Hollywood. His most recent picture was "Lloyds of London," his first. "The Story of Temple Drake."

COLD WAVE AIDS FRUIT OVER AREA

Stoppage of a threat to orchardists and others with trees was seen in Thursday's unexpected cold wave which gave evidence of slowing down bud swelling. For several days the buds had begun to show awakening from their winter rest period.

No serious danger to trees is expected unless the mercury drops excessively, said C. V. Russell, head of the department of horticulture at Texas Technological college. Early blooming trees generally may be considered to show awakening at this time, if warm weather has prevailed, he explained.

Peaches are the earliest fruit trees to bloom, with the apple preceding the cherry. Cold weather now will retard growth until later when there is less danger of a freeze.

Wednesday's maximum was 67, the state experiment sub-station reported. Minimum Thursday was 33 degrees. Maximum was 75 on Tuesday, with a mean of 69 degrees for four days.

Other weather observers gave a mean of 71 degrees, with highs for the four days as 63, 75, 77 and 69 degrees. Mean low was 29 degrees.

Old Adage All But Proves To Be True

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 25 (AP)—The old adage "curiosity killed a cat" all but came true here.

The cat apparently stuck its head into a small can while searching for food, and became trapped. A sympathetic man noticed the animal's plight and went to its rescue. In this instance, however, the tabby's curiosity came near to being rewarded. In the bottom of the can were three baby mice.

100 Years Apart

Mrs. Mary Garner, 101-year-old Idahoan who thinks "this world is going nowhere at too fast a pace," is shown holding her 465th descendant on her lap. The baby is Lois Jean Garner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Verne Garner. "Don't get married" was the centenarian's advice to young women. (Associated Press Photo).

"How did I do it?
"I just reasoned sensibly."

"FORTUNATELY, straight thinking told me that vitality and pep was produced by energy created from within...so was the skin beautified and made clear from within. I found the famous S.S.S. Tonic just the remedy to stimulate lagging gastric juices and to supply the mineral elements for restoring deficient red-blood-cells. Hence greater energy from within... and an added glow to my skin."

Be 'tops' again with more vitality... more pep...a clear skin by taking the S.S.S. Tonic treatment. Shortly you will be delighted with the way you will feel...your friends will compliment you on the way you will look.

S.S.S. Tonic is especially designed to build sturdy health...its remarkable value is time tried and scientifically proven...that's why it makes you feel like yourself again. Available at any drug store. © S.S.S. Co.

Emergency Appropriations For Institutions Of State Are Given Approval

SENATE PROBE IS PROMISED

TEXAS TECH TO GET $19,000; OTHERS ALSO AIDED

AUSTIN, Feb. 25 (AP)—The senate finance committee today approved emergency appropriations of $167,000 for institutions of higher learning and several common school districts.

The committee also voted to appoint a sub-committee to investigate financial conditions at Texas State College for Women and other schools which had used funds to match federal money in constructing buildings.

Senator Joe Hill of Henderson, asking the sub-committee, said "we ought to make a horrible example of some school authorities who apply public money."

Remained Within Bounds

Senator H. Grady Woodruff of Decatur said the authorities at the college had remained within bounds prescribed by the legislature and that civic-minded bankers had loaned more than $100,000 to carry the building program to completion.

Woodruff attempted to amend the bill to raise the women's college appropriation from $28,000 to $96,000 requested originally.

Summer school appropriations to the amount of $339,000 were approved.

Appropriations to institutions recommended included:

Southwest Teachers college, $33,500; John Tarleton, $7,500; West Texas Teachers $27,000; Sul Ross $14,050; Sam Houston $6,750; North Texas Agricultural $7,500; North Texas Teachers $18,500; Texas State College for Women $29,000; Stephen F. Austin $10,437 and Texas Tech $19,000.

For school districts in Burnet and Llano counties $7,087; Douglassville in Cass county, $1,000; Old Glory in Kent county, $10,000; Palba in Walker county, $800; Vienna in Lavaca county, $1,000 and Brownsboro in Henderson county, $8,500.

FLASHES OF LIFE

Unwelcome Visitor

WABASH, Ind.—David Springer found no welcoming signs from employes when he entered a barber shop. There were two reasons.

First: He did not want a haircut or a shave.

Second: He came to get his automobile which had crashed through the shop window when the brakes failed to hold.

Cat's Meow

SYRACUSE, Kas.—Mrs. Joseph Kucera's cat, a lover of music, sat on her lap to enjoy a radio dance orchestra. When an entertainer interjected an imitation of a cat, the Kucera pet went crazy, bit Mrs. Kucera, scratched Mr. Kucera and tore down the living room curtains.

Bottoms Up

PORTLAND, Ore.—Davy Jones' locker is well-stocked.

Aboard the motorship Feltre, which sank last week in the lower Columbia river were 1,000 cases of vermouth and 4,000 cases of wine. And for the morning after—9,000 bags of coffee.

Ample Recognition

CHICAGO—Counsel for Mrs. Laura M. Hart, 44, related in divorce court how her husband spanked her when she came home late.

Judge John C. Lew looked at Mrs. Hart who weighs more than 200 pounds, and asked, "he—he did what?"

"Turned her over his knee."

"That man shouldn't get divorced," the judge observed, "he should get a medal."

Pious Skunks

JUNEAU, Wis.—Skunks, a whole family of them, have found shelter in St. Matthews' Lutheran church, and the elders are in a dither.

William Fields, deputy conservation warden, looked in but did not tarry. He promised to try and rout them in time for Sunday services.

The world's largest book store is in London, while the second largest is said to be in Helsingfors, Finland.

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

A MORE PLEASANT SUMMER FORECAST

Unless all signs fail, Lubbock is to be a more comfortable place this summer than it has ever been before.

Numerous business houses are at the present time surveying plans for air-conditioning units and it is a certainty that the several air-conditioned business houses of last summer will be augmented by others this year. And "if it rains"—you know, that big, old "if"—business people who are not yet at the plan stage will fall in line for the march of progress.

That air-conditioning on a big scale is here to stay, there is no doubt.

In the north and east, the feature is the rule, rather than the exception, and in the larger communities of the midwest, south and west air-conditioned business houses and offices are so numerous that one thinks of them as being commonplace.

The fact that our summers here are usually broken nightly and that this is a new country, doubtless is the reason Lubbock has lagged behind many smaller places in the matter of air-conditioning.

But indications are now that although we have been lagging over the past several years we'll soon be catching up in a short length of time. From remarks picked up here and there recently, The Journal has no hesitancy in forecasting that at least a score and possibly more stores and offices will have air-conditioning plants in operation before the coming summer has slipped into fall.

Two Are Killed And Six Wounded As Strikers Stage Battle With Police

TWO HUNDRED HOLD MINE

MASS SUICIDE FEARED AS WATERS RISE IN MINE WORKINGS

PECS, Hungary, Feb. 25. (AP)—Two demonstrators were shot and killed and six, including two women, wounded last night in a clash with police near the mine where 267 coal miners were entrenched on strike.

Three hundred men and women engaged in the demonstration and stoned police as they tried to clear the way to the pithead.

The six persons injured in the clash were taken to a hospital.

Leader Is Returned

Mine Director Schick, who said he thought the demonstrators were communist sympathizers, said the demonstration occurred after the striking miners returned unopened a letter sent to them by the management.

"I believe the men will stay down in the mine through Thursday," Schick said. "Everything is so closed it is impossible to drop food to them."

The government launched an investigation of the troubles.

Worried watchers, meanwhile, said they feared that coal miners, entrenched below the surface in a flood mine, were bent on mass suicide.

Water Is Rising

Water rose, slowly but steadily, in the workings where the men, demanding a 20 cents a day pay raise from their present $1 wage, began a hunger strike yesterday morning. The gauge on an idle pump showed the water had risen from the 200 meter to the 70-meter level.

Most authorities presumed, however, that the miners—from whom nothing had been heard since morning—still were above the waterline, now almost at its maximum. But they pointed to an increased danger from explosives and poisonous gases, even if the miners should not want to kill themselves. The miners have shut off water and air pumps.

Steel-helmeted soldiers and police kept wives and relatives of the miners from the pit entrance and guarded openings through which it would have been possible to drop food into the workings.

The mine manager said the 267 included many of the most radically disposed elements in Pecs' long and bitterly fought labor war. This struggle has proceeded since the five-day strike of 1935 when 1,200 Hungarian miners, demanding wages greater than $2 a week, gave up their threats of mass suicide only when the government promised them better working conditions.

The mine operators—the workings are owned by the Danube steam Navigation company—firmly refused to make wage concessions. Major Emil Fey, former Austrian cabinet member who was imprisoned with the slain Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss in the Vienna chancellery during the nazi putsch of July, 1934, is head of the Danube steamship concern. He said in Vienna last night that "socialists and agitators" had caused the strike, and declared the miners, in addition to their pay, get free homes, coal and cheap food.

Pecs trade unionists, however, declared the strike was solely a question of wages.

SPECIALISTS ARE BEING SENT HERE

To assist in the showing and preview of 1937 Airtemp air conditioning equipment for homes and business houses Friday at Sherrod Bros. Hardware company five air conditioning specialists from Fort Worth and Dallas are being sent here.

R. C. Watson, Dallas executive, Marvin C. Nichols, executive of the Texas Air Conditioning corporation at Fort Worth, Gilbert Shaw, engineer of Fort Worth, and Homer A. Hunter and A. L. Gossett of the Fort Worth corporation will arrive early Friday to assist in demonstration of the equipment in operation. All are associated with Airtemp, manufactured by Chrysler.

The Sherrod firm handles the equipment exclusively in Lubbock and the South Plains and extends an invitation to all interested in air conditioning to attend the preview and obtain any information they might want from the executives, engineers and technicians.

Air conditioning has been installed in the appliance sales and display room and in offices in the balcony of Sherrod Brothers store.

Piano Tuner Is No Good As Physician

NANCY, France, Feb. 25 (AP) — Jean Mathieu, piano tuner, who turned doctor and tried to find "harmony between the individual and his ailing stomach," was fined for illegal practice of medicine.

The French Medical Association, which pressed charges against Mathieu, said his "healing" method consisted simply "of looking his patient straight in the eye with a magnifying glass. He would then say which organ was off pitch and prescribe a drug to attune it to the stomach, or vice-versa."

Mathieu's diagnosis was popular. Patients flocked to his home for "harmonious" treatment.

Mercy Death

Bringing into the open an issue which has been debated for years, Dr. Inez Celia Philbrick, 71, upper photo, is responsible for forcing into Nebraska's unicameral legislature a bill to legalize "euthanasia," or mercy deaths, for persons suffering from painful and insurable illness. Sponsor of the bill is Senator John B. Comstock, 32, below, attended at birth by Dr. Philbrick. Both are from Lincoln.

A manta, or blanket fish, recently caught off the Florida coast was more than 18 feet long and 19 feet wide.

This Stumped The Recorder Of City

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., Feb. 25 (AP) —"I want to record a birth," Florentino Mireles, 74, told the city recorder, whereupon the official perfunctorily inquired: "Whose child?"

"Mine," replied the elderly rancher.

"Boy or girl?" asked the recorder after pausing to swallow his surprise.

"Both." Mirles shot at the keeper of vital statistics, now speechless.

Mrs. Mireles, 35, had presented him with twins, a boy and a girl, a few hours previously.

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

A cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation today may lead to serious trouble tomorrow. You can relieve them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified Creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery that aids nature to soothe and heal the infected membranes and to relieve the irritation and inflammation as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled.

Medical authorities have for many years recognized the wonderful effects of Beechwood Creosote for treating coughs, chest colds and bronchial irritations. A chemist worked out a special process of blending Creosote with other ingredients so that now in Creomulsion you get a real dose of Beechwood Creosote which is palatable and can even be taken frequently and continuously by adults and children. Thousands of doctors now use Creomulsion in their own families and practice, and druggists rank Creomulsion top because in this genuine, original product you can get a real dose of Creosote so emulsified that it goes to the very seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles, especially those that start with a common cold and hang on and on. Get a bottle of Creomulsion right now from your druggist, use it all up as directed and if you fail to get satisfactory relief, he is authorized to refund every cent of your money. Get Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)

"a light smoke rates aces high with my throat"

"Luckies have been my cigarette for five years now. I rate them a 4 star cigarette. They're always good to the throat, and taste so much better than other cigarettes that it seems to me this 'Toasting' process is a swell idea. Yes, a light smoke like Luckies rates aces high with both my throat and taste."

Cary Grant

APPEARING IN THE NEW COLUMBIA PICTURE, "WHEN YOU'RE IN LOVE"

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

Mr. Grant verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on the throat.

PACED TO BE OUT IN FRONT but priced with the sixes!

You drive a big bargain when you pilot this stunning Buick SPECIAL down the road! It's a valve-in-head straight-eight—priced only slightly higher than the average six outside the lowest price field.

CARWISE you're out in front when you take your comfortable place behind this Buick SPECIAL'S wheel—under its bonnet is not merely an eight, but an oil-cushioned valve-in-head straight-eight, which means the ablest of them all!

It will show fleet heels to any highway challenger except another Buick—yet the unbelievable thing is not this gorgeous car's performance, but its price. Big, handsome, smartly styled as it is, it costs close to the sixes that it so easily out-performs.

This four-door sedan pictured here actually costs less delivered, than some cars with two fewer cylinders and less efficient engine design.

Even when you average all the sixes outside of the lowest price field, you find little more than a dollar-a-week difference the first year and after that it's velvet.

Count just the mechanical differences—torque-tube drive, valve-in-head engine design, double-end stabilization, Aerobat carburetion, a whole carful of such features—and that dollar-plus added each week to the easy payments begins to pale into no burden at all.

Just get in a Buick—give yourself over to a real thrill for ten or fifteen minutes—you'll forget about price entirely! You can afford it—because it's priced down with the sixes, so why be content with any lesser car?

"LOWEST PRICE EVER ON A BUICK 4-DOOR SEDAN!

Today's price for a Buick 4-door sedan is the lowest in all Buick history—and you get longer wheelbase—greater power—valve-in-head thrift—straight-eight smoothness—roomier body—safety glass all around—bigger luggage compartment—and immeasurably greater performance, comfort and style! See your dealer for low delivered prices, and see what a buy Buick really is, compared to the average six outside the lowest price field.

TEACHERS ARE TO GATHER

ANNUAL MEETING WILL BE STAGED HERE NEXT WEEK

LAMESA, Feb. 25. (Special)—Program for the annual meeting of the West Texas Teachers association to be conducted in Lubbock Friday and Saturday of next week will be completed and mailed to school officials in the next few days, said Supt. V. Z. Rogers of Lamesa, president of the association.

Accommodations for more than 2,000 teachers have been provided.

Speakers On Program

Speakers will include: Walter F. Woodul, Texas lieutenant-governor; N. S. Holland of Breckenridge, chairman of the Texas State Teachers association; Dr. L. A. Woods, finance; Tom Garrard, Tahoka lawyer and board of education member; B. B. Cobb of Fort Worth, executive manager of the Texas State Teachers association; Dr. L. A. Woods state superintendent of public instruction; Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological college.

The Tech orchestra, chorus, and band will appear on the program, as will groups from Guadalupe and Dunbar schools in Lubbock and Lamesa elementary school.

PLANS FOR SCOUT CAMPS ARE MADE

Earl M. McClure, Boy Scout executive of the South Plains council, returned this morning from Mineral Wells where he attended a meeting of region 9 executives, field executives, and laymen.

Practically a 100 per cent attendance was recorded at the annual session held at the Baker hotel.

Most of the four-day program was devoted to discussion of summer camps and the national jamboree to be held in Washington in the summer. Plans are for 2,500 Boy Scouts and leaders of this region, including Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and part of Arkansas, to attend.

McClure, with Earl Silver, scout executive of Oklahoma City, was appointed to be in charge of the regional display at the jamboree.

Jack Keith of Oklahoma City and Jerry Pulkerson of Fort Worth were named sectional directors.

Four leaders and 20 boys of the South Plains council already have been registered to attend the Washington affair. Goal for the council is 66 scouts and 9 leaders. A $5 preliminary registration fee is required. Tom H. Carter is chairman of the council's jamboree committee.

do so if the majority voted "yes."

Newt Collins, association president, said a new union was being formed from association members, one "free from company influence and also free from labor leaders outside the aviation industry, who knew nothing about our problems."

Towne J. Nylander, director of the federal regional labor board, sought again today to bring Douglas and union officials together.

District Attorney Buron Fitts sought a means of dislodging the sit-down strikers peaceably from the plant where a $24,000,000 production program is at a standstill. A large number of the planes under construction are for the United States government.

THEY'RE WITHOUT JOB OR STRIKE

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25. (AP)—A bleak future was cooked up today for 11 bakers, erstwhile sit-down strikers in the Brownie pie shop.

Now they have neither job nor strike.

Obeying a temporary injunction granted by the superior court, the pie-makers peacefully walked out of the oven room last night after a three-day residence.

The strike began Monday when the men were refused their demands for a 25 per cent wage increase and a 44 hour week.

Although not allowed to receive food from outside sympathizers, the strikers were advised by Manager William Piecity they could eat pies if they wanted to. The diet palled long before yesterday despite the fact there were 10 to 12 flavors to select from.

"I guess they ate 35 or 40 dozen pies," Piecity said.

Today Is Deadline For Tax Payments

To avoid penalty of one per cent, employers must pay 1936 unemployment insurance taxes today, reminded Ed Merriman, field supervisor here from the Texas unemployment compensation commission.

Devoting most of his 15-minute talk over radio station KFYO from 7:15 to 7:30 o'clock last night to answering questions from employers of this district and other questions asked the commission and on which official rulings already have been made, the representative completed his series of five speeches which began Thursday of last week.

Ethiopian Leader Execution Victim

ADDIS ABABA, Feb. 25 (AP)—Ras Desta Demtu, son-in-law of Haile Selassie and last of the Ethiopian chieftains to dispute Italian occupation, has been captured and executed, an official communique announced today.

He was killed yesterday immediately after an Italian scouting party seized him in nearby mountain regions.

The fascist soldiers surprised the Ras with a few followers. There was a quick exchange of shots, then capture.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, 1 to 7 higher on improved Liverpool cables and buying by trade and foreign interests. Mch 12.04; May 12.04; Jly 12.69; Oct 11.97; Dec 11.91; Jan 11.91.

The undertone was steady late in the morning on continued spot house and a little commission buying in old crop positions.

Liverpool took contracts here. Firmness in other commodities seemed to be having a sympathetic influence but rallies were checked by selling at limits on the scale up.

By mid-day the market was less active but prices were holding at net gains of 5 to 6 points in old crop positions while new crops were unchanged to 2 points lower. May was selling at 12.64.

Active covering in March continued when but 5 additional notices were issued. Trade price fixing reflected a firm spot situation and a better demand for actual. Commission house buying of May and July positions was attracted on an apparent belief that firmness in metals, regarded as "war" materials, would have its reflection in cotton.

New crop deliveries, however, tended to lag and after the call reacted under local and New Orleans selling. Brokers with Japanese connections also were sellers of later positions.

May sold off from 12.64 to 12.61 and shortly after the first hour was quoted at 12.62 when prices ranged from 4 points net higher to 4 lower.

Liverpool reported general speculative buying and trade calling which met hedging and profit taking.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 25. (AP)—Better foreign markets continued to impart a buoyant influence to domestic cotton prices today and options at New Orleans were from 3 to 6 points higher.

Some of the buying at New Orleans, particularly in the old crop options was said to come from abroad. The domestic trade also was a good buyer in the early dealings.

March opened at 12.68, May at 12.59, July at 12.41 and Oct. at 11.92.

There was no important overnight change in the weather and other trade news provided little for operators to work on. More reports were heard of an improved demand for loan cotton, but definite details were still missing.

Led by the March position the whole market advanced 25 to nearly 50 cents a bale during the morning. March was most in demand, being purchased freely by spot houses who want to obtain the cotton. Distant positions were comparatively neglected. October ruled relatively unchanged as the market passed the half-way mark in trading.

Another notice for 100 bales was tended against the March option but was quickly stopped. Some interpreted firmness in near positions to a better demand for loan cotton.

Temperatures were reported as normal in most of the belt. Official forecasts were for cloudy, but not much rain, with a possibility of colder weather in nearly all regions.

A dull trade was reported from domestic cotton cloth markets. One advice said trading in gray goods came to a practical standstill with prices trendless.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (AP)—Heavy industry and aircraft shares strode briskly ahead fractions to around 2 points in the stock market today.

Gainers included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, National Steel, Chrysler, Yellow Truck, Sears Roebuck, Marshall Field, Douglas Aircraft, Boeing, Anaconda, Callahan Zinc, American Zinc, St. Joseph Lead, Dome, Butte Copper, Park Utah, South American Gold, New York Central, Southern Pacific, Du Pont, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Delaware & Hudson and Schenley.

Issues which showed comparatively little energy were Texas Corp., Nash-Kelvinator, Santa Fe, Consolidated Edison and North American.

Grains were lower, cotton steady. U. S. government issues went higher in the bond market. The pound sterling and the French franc were lower.

Buying of Chrysler was attributed by brokers to the decision of the company to confer with union leaders on collective bargaining and other problems.

Merchandise issues, under the glow of recent estimates of increased farm purchasing power and of wage upturns in some industries, found friends.

and begin the attack with their slippers. A moment later, he said, the two patrolmen arrested him when he returned the blows.

The officers said Venuti approached the women and first struck the one sitting under the wheel, then the other. The women then jumped from the machine and retaliated with the shoes, they said.

Mrs. Venuti accompanied her husband to jail in an effort to obtain his release. He was held from 3:10 a. m. to 8 a. m. and released upon personal recognizance.

Venuti's incarceration brought him popularity with a dozen other men in his cell when he gave them a $10 bill with which to buy cigarettes.

He said he was going to Hollywood to join a radio program with Bing Crosby, screen and radio singer, but would return here for the Greater Texas and Pan American exposition this summer.

Girl With Nail In Her Head Is Dead

BERKELEY, Calif., Feb. 25. (AP)—Miss Dema Dunlap, 22, who drove a four-inch nail into her head in a suicide attempt, died at a hospital today.

The nail had been shoved through a hole in the bony structure of the skull left from a previous operation.

After Judge Whit Boyd of Houston, Tex., married a couple using the word "obey," Mrs. Boyd marked "obey" out of his printed ceremony.

ECONOMY PLAN

ad valorem taxes, to be returned to each county, would finance the plan and purchase needed terracing and ditch-digging machinery.

Objections were raised in both house and senate committee hearings on the point whether or not adoption of the plan would interfere or abolish already established federal soil conservation projects. Some questioned the likelihood of obtaining further federal aid if the program were not suitable to federal conservation authorities.

School Glee Club To Offer Program

Forty-two members of the Senior High school glee club left with their director, Mrs. E. Waldo Trotter, this morning for Amarillo to present an exchange assembly program this afternoon.

A group of Amarillo glee club members visited the Lubbock High school last week to present an assembly program.

The students went by chartered bus and automobiles. Both boys and girls made the trip.

MASS MEETING STAGED HERE; FIGHT TO BE TAKEN TO AUSTIN

now that these real estate people cannot find houses for people who want them," he said.

"The first backward step would be to let them abolish one of these courts," he declared.

Judge Mullican pointed out that business interests need the courts even more go than do the lawyers.

"The lawyer can wait, but the litigants cannot," he said.

County Court-At-Law Needed

Establishment of a county court-at-law, instead of elimination of one court, is needed, he added.

Robert A. Sowder pointed out that Tioga, home of Senator Van Zandt, is about the size of Hale Center "and has been for 50 years."

Guy pointed out that if Lubbock and South Plains men went to Austin more often the legislators would think of this section more as a part of Texas, and not "as a part of New Mexico and Tech as the University of New Mexico."

Chas. C. Crenshaw pointed out that the judiciary is one of the least expensive parts of the state government.

Among other speakers were Chas. H. Read, Nell H. Wright, Kuykendall, Mayor Ross Edwards, F. D. Brown, and E. L. Klett.

NEED OF COURTS HERE EMPHASIZED

The need of both the 99th and 72nd district courts is shown by the steady increase of population, in the opinion of Lubbock persons who have become acquainted with the state's judicial setup.

As a matter of fact, a thumbing of tabulations showing territory embraced by districts proposed to be continued, together with studies of federal census reports for those territories in 1920 and in 1930, has caused outspoken criticism of a house bill which would abolish Lubbock county's 99th court, which serves a county which has increased more rapidly than most since 1920.

Has 78,692 Persons

Territory now served by the 99th and 72nd judicial districts had only 17,384 persons listed in the 1920 census. In 1930 the estimate was 61,388. A conservative estimate now would be 78,692, say those who closely have studied conditions of the four counties, Hockley, Cochran, Crosby, and Lubbock.

At random, it is pointed out, the setup of other judicial districts here and there over the state shows:

There are two courts at Amarillo, 108th district for Potter county alone and the 47th for Potter, Randall and Armstrong counties combined. Population of the 47th district territory in 1920 was 23,198, in 1930 56,480.

Waco Has Three Courts

Waco has three courts, 19th, 54th and 74th. Population increased in the 10 years up to 1930 from 52,921 to 98,682.

Three courts are established at Wichita Falls. Two of them, 78th and 89th, exist for Wichita county alone, and the 30th includes Archer, Young and Wichita counties. Population over the same period of time increased from 81,544 to 104,028.

District 4 and a special court exist at Rusk, and the combined area of the special court had a population of 32,484 in 1930, as compared with 31,689 in 1920.

Other Courts Compared

District 9 handles court business for Polk, San Jacinto, Montgomery, and Waller counties, combining 51,858 persons in 1930 and 54,277 in 1920, a decrease, and there is a special court that is devoted to all those counties except for Waller.

Districts 10 and 56 are set up for Galveston, which had 53,150 persons in 1920 and 64,401 in 1930.

Milam county, which constitutes one district, No. 20, had 38,104 persons in 1920, only 37,915 in 1930.

Dallas and Harris counties each have five civil and one criminal district courts; Tarrant county has four civil and one criminal district courts, and Bexar county has four district courts.

Districts Are Compared

Incidentally, those who have studied the bill of Sen. Van Zandt of Tioga to abolish the 110th judicial district of four nearby counties and the house bill of Rep. Adkins of Brady to eliminate the 99th district, point to the comparative populations of the 9th senatorial district of Sen. Van Zandt and the 30th (or this) district of Sen. G. H. Nelson, and to the difference between the 93rd representative district of Adkins and the 119th (or this) district of Rep. J. Doyle Settle.

Tabulated, the difference in the 1920 and the 1930 census reports would be:

	1920	1930
Van Zandt's district	148,018	131,142
Nelson's district	90,942	226,534
Adkins' district	29,865	32,833
Settle's district	30,152	99,279

Which, as is pointed out, shows that the senatorial and the representative districts embracing the 99th, 72nd and 110th districts reflect a steady population increase and a resultant need of more, not less courts; whereas Adkins' district showed only a slight increase over the 10-year period and Van Zandt's district actually showed a population decrease of more than 16,500.

"Housecleaning should begin at home, in such cases," said one Lubbock attorney.

Free Picture Will Be Shown Tonight

A moving picture showing "General Motors' Parade of Progress" will be shown at the Hilton hotel ballroom at 8 o'clock tonight. There will be no admission charge and all persons are invited. The showing is sponsored by the General Motors dealers.

Arnold's Twin? No, His Stand-In!

The physical resemblance between movie star Edward Arnold and his stand-in, William Hoover, as revealed above, is startling. Both even are left-handed. When Arnold was tired, Hoover, one-time cowboy actor who has been in Hollywood for 10 years, has doubled for him in previews. If you find it hard to tell which is Arnold in the picture above, he's the one shown smiling, at right.

date until sometime next year, with a clause that it would not go into effect even then, if the constitutional amendment meanwhile had been ratified.

Hope For Agreement

Among some of Mr. Roosevelt's advisors there was hope that the national conference on constitutional amendment, called for March 18, might bring some agreement, at least among the liberal group, on the form an amendment should take.

Passage in the meanwhile of the voluntary retirement bill for Supreme court justices over 70, said Senator McCarran (D-Nev), "would vitally affect and clarify the whole situation."

McCarran said he would try to bring the bill before the senate tomorrow.

"Why don't all these married women go home and mind their babies and give we unmarried girls a chance?" she said.

The managers of Katherine Cornell, Helen Hayes and Lynne Fontanne, New York stage stars married respectively to Guthrie McClintic, producer, Charles MacArthur, author, and Alfred Lunt, actor, arose to say that these stars are quite happily married, and their husbands "aren't gigolos by any means."

Moisture Required Over This Section

Moisture is needed in the wheat growing section of the South Plains and the Panhandle, and if it comes within the next few weeks, a bumper crop can be expected, said J. W. Mode, Amarillo, superintendent of the Fort Worth and Denver, this morning. He was here to visit traffic and operating officials.

There is plenty of time for moisture for grain sorghum crops and cotton, he explained. Wheat has been pastured, probably a little too heavy by sheep, he said, and rain is needed to restore the top soil. Underground moisture is sufficient, although the South Plains has more underground moisture than the northern part.

The Denver is looking for a good year's business, he said. Towns along its line are growing and there is a general attitude of growth and increased business.

Monthly Training Conference Staged

Teachers of Hall county who are associated with the Emergency Education program, a part of the Works Progress administration, met in monthly training conference at 10:30 o'clock this morning at Turkey.

E. E. Kerr, district supervisor, and R. C. Householder, chairman of the county organization of Emergency Education teachers, will direct the session.

Approximately 21 teachers were expected to attend. Kerr left Lubbock late Thursday to attend the session and was expected to return late today. The meeting probably will last most of the day, the supervisor said.

RESPONSES ARE RECEIVED TO CALL FOR AID

Several responses to an appeal for aid for three indigent families, including 13 children and three adults, came in this morning, said Captain John G. Churchill of the Salvation Army.

One woman gave $5, another some flour, a business man a stove and some groceries and a man some groceries.

Fuel for the stove is needed, as well as more groceries. The cold weather this morning heightened the need for fuel to keep the families warm.

One family consists of a father, recently bereaved of his wife, and six children. The other two groups are composed of widowed mothers with three children each, Churchill said.

He asks local persons interested in helping these families to bring food to the Salvation army headquarters, 1510 Avenue H, today, or give him authority to purchase groceries to be charged to the donor.

Churchill said children in one of the families yesterday afternoon were touring alleys seeking to retrieve food from refuse cans.

Plaintiff Favored In Civil Hearing

Plaintiff was allowed $40 damages in the civil action of W. E. Smart against Sam C. Arnett in county court which rendered its verdict at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Damage was caused when livestock allegedly entered Smart's field.

Judge J. J. Dillard dismissed the jury until 9 o'clock Friday morning.

Two civil suits are scheduled for trial Friday. They are: Slaton Motor company, inc., represented by M. S. Rayburn, against C. L. and Betty Adams, represented by Geo. S. Berry, and First National bank, garnishee, represented by Wilson, Randal and Kilpatrick, suit for debt and garnishment; and Clyde F. Elkins, representing himself, against J. O. Pope, represented by Robert J. Allen, suit for debt.

Scout Honor Court Is Slated Friday

Court of Honor for Lubbock district Boy Scouts will be held in the courthouse at 7:30 o'clock Friday night with George W. Dupree, court of honor chairman, in charge, according to information from district scout headquarters this morning.

Gene Marquart of troop 5 is to be recognized for the Eagle award. Troop 3 will receive a banner for winning the Lions' club kite tournament held February 13.

There will be an investiture service for troop 9 of the First Baptist church. This troop was organized last week.

VOTING ON AT TECH TODAY

OFFICIALS ARE BEING CHOSEN BY STUDES FOR NEXT YEAR

Balloting at Texas Technological college today is determining publications officials for the 1937-38 session.

Three students are seeking election as Toreador, newspaper, editor, and three as business manager of La Ventana, yearbook. Preferential ballots are being cast at boxes in the administration, engineering, agriculture, and home economics buildings.

The following names appear on the ballot:

La Ventana business manager—Jerome George, Lubbock; Lawson (Buddy) Stiff, Beaumont; Bobby Watson, Brownwood.

Toreador editor—Burgess Dixon, Big Spring; Raymond Lee Johns, Slaton; Paul White, Hamlin.

Toreador business manager—Morris Laine, Spur.

La Ventana editor—Maria George, Lubbock.

Ballots will be counted immediately after close of polls at 5 o'clock, said Claude Thompson, president of the student council, which will supervise the election.

Overstreet Rites Being Read Today

Last rites for R. E. Overstreet, 54, of 2106 Fifteenth street, were to be read at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the First Presbyterian church by Rev. Peyton Waddill who will become pastor of the Wortham Presbyterian church March 1. He was assisted by Rev. Hubert Hopper of Houston. The Rev. Hopper was a stepson of Mr. Overstreet.

Heart attack caused Mr. Overstreet's death in a hotel at Morton at 10:15 o'clock Tuesday night. He had been in ill health several years.

He was survived by his wife, a son, two daughters, two stepsons, and a stepdaughter.

Burial was to be in Lubbock cemetery with Sanders Funeral home in charge.

Probe Of American Bar Being Sought

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—Representative Ray Cannon, Milwaukee, Wis., Democrat, who has demanded the house investigate the American Bar association, said today he had information bolstering his contention that Frederick H. Stinchfield, president of the association, "influenced" the Texas legislature to oppose President Roosevelt's court program.

Stinchfield has denied Cannon's accusation, terming it "unfounded."

"I have information," said Cannon today, "that Stinchfield was at Austin, Texas, just before that legislature went on record against the president's recommendation."

POST AND ANTON PLAN FOR BIG CAGE TOURNAMENTS

BEST OUTFITS OF SECTION TO ENTER

PRIZES TO BE GIVEN TO ALL WINNERS IN TWO CONTESTS

POST, Feb. 25 (Special)—One of the most attractive collections of prizes ever offered in a South Plains basketball tournament is ready for outstanding teams and individuals in the Post Gold Medal invitation tournament scheduled for Saturday Feb. 27 and Monday and Tuesday, March 1 and 2. Three large team trophies and 57 individual awards will be distributed.

At least sixteen teams, representing the basketball hot spots of West Texas, are to compete in the tournament, and Bill Edwards, tournament manager, announces that trophies and awards offered are equal to those of any national tournament.

High school teams may compete in the tournament without jeopardizing scholastic eligibility, Edwards said, and several outstanding clubs are planning to play.

Games start each night at 7 o'clock.

As an added incentive for teams to enter, the committee has announced that ten merit awards will go to the best players eliminated in the first round. A gold "sportsmanship" medal will be presented the player selected by the managers as being the best sportsman of the tournament.

Among teams expected to enter are the Tip-Top Cafe "Mystery Men," the Peel Packing company club, Draughon's Business college team, and the Kerr Bros. Service station team, all of Lubbock.

Clubs desiring to enter should call Bill Edwards at Post immediately. The number is 253 or 144R.

THIRD ANNUAL AFFAIR IS SET

ANTON, Feb 25 (Special)—The third annual Anton independent invitation basketball tournament will be conducted at the high school gymnasium here on the nights of March 4, 5 and 6, Coach Fred Rich has announced.

First prize will be $40 in cash, to be handed to the manager of the winning team who will dispose of it as he sees fit to buy trophies that suit him best.

The tournament will be conducted strictly according to amateur rules, and special invitations have been extended to outstanding high school teams of the section. Whereas a high school team and an independent team register from the same town, the tournament committee reserves the right to place them in different brackets.

The Slaton Oilers, winners of the 1936 tournament here, will not be back to defend their title, since they will be playing in the state AAU tournament at Dallas, thereby leaving the Anton tournament a wide-open affair.

Teams who have not yet entered are urged to forward their applications immediately to Coach Rich at Anton High school.

Todd Leads Brilliant Field In Houston Play

Honest Andy Beats Dale Haddock Here

TREMAINE ABANDONS CLEAN STYLE AND GETS ROUGH TO SURPRISE AND THRILL CROWD

The Dutch Mantell-Sled Allen wrestling circuit is no place for sissies, or even for quiet-tempered gentlemen who try to win main event honors and recognition by remaining cool, calm and strictly scientific.

Andrew Tremaine of Tucson has finally discovered this fact, and he surprised and thrilled an eager crowd last night at the Auditorium by taking after Dale Haddock, one of the toughest and most unscrupulous of them all, fighting Haddock's style and winning the top match of the weekly bill.

Honest Andy frittered away his time and that of the cash customers for most of two falls by trying to beat Haddock with clean wrestling. When finally he did realize that it wasn't just a gentlemen's workout, when he started swinging fists and feet, it became a good show.

"Science" Won't Get It

Haddock had his way in the slow, 24-minute first fall, although Tremaine worried him with a tight headlock, a single Japanese crab and various other technical and legitimate mannerisms. But all it accomplished was the passing of time. Dale began working furiously on Tremaine's left arm, with a stretch, a "buster," and a hammerlock. Then he hoisted Andy with a body and crotch hold, slammed him hard four times, and fell on him for the fall.

Andy was still going about the business of legal wrestling in the second fall, taking unnecessary punishment from the furious Haddock, refusing to defend himself and leaving it up to Referee Isaac Clements to do the breaking. He was a sucker for Haddock's headlock, and his eyes and facial features suffered torture from Dale's finger stubs. Haddock got a peculiar combination hold—a head scissors and semi-cradle that twisted Tremaine's body all out of shape—that threatened to win in short order, but Andy came up swinging from the floor. A flurry of uppercuts sent Haddock reeling against the ropes, and he was open for the Tremaine dropkick. Three of these did the job, but Tremaine included a cradle in the pin. It lasted hardly 10 minutes.

Haddock came back for the third with adhesive tape about his right wrist, and the folks and the referee had a lot of fun watching and trying to catch him using the tape in saw-like fashion across Tremaine's face. Finally the combined strength of Tremaine and Clements served to rip the tape off, and Tremaine went after him. They knocked each other groggy. Twice Haddock appeared to be winning with the crotch and body slam, but Tremaine wriggled away. On the third attack, Haddock added an airplane spin, but it went wrong when Tremaine swung a fist, knocking Haddock down. Tremaine fell with him and on top, and it was over in 23 minutes.

The supporting card produced their share of thrills, although Sailor Watkins was unable to get anything better than a draw in the prelim with Rod Fenton, the Canadian cyclone. Fenton, admitting he was in the best physical shape of his career, and looking the picture of health, gave Watkins a tough 20-minutes.

Yaqui "Legs" Joe, the heap nifty Injun, stood for a lot of silly stuff from Jerry Markus, finally went to work and pinned the jabbering one in 21 minutes of the semi-final. Jerry went out of his way to make the fight seem fast and furious, falling gracefully, and protesting loudly. Joe took punishment in a headlock, but finally started butting Jerry with well-aimed flying tackles. The Hebrew went down, and out.

JIM BRADDOCK READY TO GO

CHAMPION WANTS TWO FIGHTS THIS YEAR TO PROVE METTLE

BY ALAN GOULD

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (AP)—It will be quite all right with James J. Braddock when the lawyers retire from the heavyweight ring, pull the zippers on their brief cases and permit him to concentrate on the job of putting his heavyweight title back in circulation.

James J. says he is not only bored by nearly two years of inactivity and all the legal palaver, but as a husband and a father is more than anxious to feather the nest that was worn a trifle bare before he shocked the fistic experts by whipping the Magnolia man, Max Baer.

Braddock wants to fight not once, but twice this year. That's how confident he is of his chances of beating Joe Louis, the first negro to get a shot at the heavyweight crown since Jack Johnson.

"Louis can be hit and any fighter who can be hit can be beaten," says Braddock. "I'm not underestimating him. He can punch—punch hard, with either hand. But he's got to get set for those punches. I don't expect to let him get set—too often.

"Besides I'm old enough now to know how to duck."

If and when he beats Louis, and collects, he hopes, the better part of $500,000 for his share of the Chicago fight profits, Braddock wants to take on Max Schmeling, to remove any question about who's who in the heavyweight industry.

Barlund Hopes In Ring Being Upset

NEW YORK, Feb. 25 (AP)—Nathan Mann, slugging New Haven heavyweight, put an abrupt check on the ambitious rise of Finland's Gunnar Barlund last night in a fistic upset at the Hippodrome.

Mann, on the short end in an unusually heavy spurt of wagering, was hard-pressed to gain a split decision after having Barlund on the verge of a knockout in the early stages of their 10-round match.

BRIGHT STARS ARE ENTERED IN CONTEST

REYNOLDS SMITH SETS CLOSE SECOND PACE IN FAST FIELD

HOUSTON, Feb. 25. (AP) — Big Harry Todd, the sub-par shooting medalist in the 23rd annual Houston country club invitation tourney, which had brilliant stars in nearly all flights of first-round match play today, proved to be a dangerous golfer when he coupled fine putting with his long drives.

The combination gave the 20-year-old Dallas lad a sizzling 34-34—68 on the 36-25—71 par layout in yesterday's qualifying round and made him a favorite in his first-round match with Bobby Riegel, Beaumont ace, who qualified with a 38-37—75.

TODAY'S PAIRINGS

HOUSTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—Pairings for today's first round in the championship flight of the 23rd annual Houston country club tournament:

Harry Todd, Dallas, vs. Bobby Riegel, Beaumont.
Edwin McClure, Shreveport, vs. J. D. Slaughter, Lubbock.
Gus Novotny, Chicago, vs. John Cummings, Memphis.
Reuben Albaugh, Dallas, vs. Willie Maguire, jr., Houston.
John Dawson, Chicago, vs. Milton Ward, Corpus Christi.
W. R. Long, Austin, vs. Ed Anderson, Houston.
Bob Davis, Fort Worth, vs. Paul Leslie, L. S. U.
Jack Malloy, Tulsa, vs. T. J. Ahern, Houston.
David Davis, Tyler, vs. Dick Nauts, Houston.
Jimmy Walkup, Fort Worth, vs. O'Hara Watts, Dallas.
Rufus King, Wichita Falls, vs. Hack Williford, San Antonio.
Jack Cameron, Houston, vs. Don Schumacher, Dallas.
Ed Herven, jr., Houston vs. Lawrence Lorenzo, L. S. U.
F. J. Clifford, Mexico City, vs. Bill Sangenderph, Houston.
Preston Moore, Houston, vs. Reynolds Smith, Dallas.

Crowding the medalist was another Dallas ace, Reynolds Smith, who drew Preston Moore of Houston as a first-round opponent. Smith toured the 6,256-yard layout in 35-35—70 and Moore shot 39-36—75.

The entry list of 227 from nine states and Mexico set a record for the tourney, in which it took a 77 to qualify.

Gus Moreland, of Peoria, Ill., champion four times, and George Rotan, of Houston, six times winner, failed to qualify. Bill Welch, the Southwest conference champion was among other first rank golfers failing to make the grade.

Others Are Strong

In there strong were Johnny Dawson of Chicago, twice the tourney titlist, who drew Milton Ward of Corpus Christi for an interesting first round match; Paul Leslie, Louisiana State university sensation; Jack Malloy, Tulsa sharpshooter, and Willie Maguire, jr., a promising youngster from Houston.

The second round will be played tomorrow, the quarter and semi-finals Saturday and the finals in all flights Sunday.

Falls To Make Bobbie

Todd, 1935 Texas champion, didn't make a bobbie in the competition that was too stiff for some former tourney champions and several brilliant shot-makers.

EAST TEXANS WIN

COMMERCE, Feb. 25. (AP)—The East Texas Teachers last night defeated East Central Oklahoma college cagers, 70 to 22.

Rockdale Star Has Fine Scoring Mark

JOHN TARLETON SEEKS FOUR SEASONS WITH NO CAGE DEFEATS

BY FELIX R. McKNIGHT

DALLAS, Feb. 25 (AP)—Girl goaler Louise Barnes of Rockdale high school set up a mark they can shoot at for years—Against Manor she parted the mesh with 43 field goals for 86 points—Her team scraped through to a 104-4 triumph—Coach Mable Lene Graves' Rockdalers have won 45 of their 48 games played in last three years.

Two more games stand between John Tarleton Junior college's amazing basketeers and four straight seasons without defeat—Toughest games of the year are those last two—Texas Wesleyan college's Rams stand in their way tonight at Stephenville while North Texas Agricultural college, which almost defeated them earlier in the season, bob up again Friday night—The North Texas Aggies lost to the Plowboys in an overtime battle after a scoring error made it appear they had won over the regular distance—Seventy eight consecutive triumphs would be a world's record—until somebody comes along to contest it, Tarleton fans believe.

Don't ask the Texas Christians where they picked up their "Horned Frog" nickname—They don't know—Publicist Willard Ridines has discovered that in 1896 the old Ad-Ran college (now T. C. U.) called it's yearbook the Horned Frog—Then, in 1905, the Skiff, student newspaper, broke out one day and called the athletic teams the "Horned Frogs." No one seems to know why.

Of all the many photos snapped of Slingin' Sam Baugh, the T. C. U. publicity department says the most popular shows him strumming a guitar—Sammy couldn't carry a guitar tune in a bucket—Nomination for uncanniest shooter in the Southwest conference basketball chase: J. D. Norton, the Southern Methodist soph—He makes most of his points by starting with his back to the basket—He whirls, shoves the ball one-handed and rarely hits the rim of the hoop—They swish cleanly through the net—And, strangely half the time his eyes are closed.

Until yesterday, when he ripped the Houston county club course to shreds with a fine 68 for medalist honors in the invitation joust, big Harry Todd of Dallas was in one of his worst slumps.

Two Texas Boxers Beaten In Chicago

CHICAGO, Feb 25. (AP)—Two Texas amateur fisticuffers, both from Fort Worth, lost out in the quarter final rounds of the Golden Gloves boxing tournament here last night.

In the 175-round division Earl Crowe dropped a decision in three rounds to Nathan Logans, St. Louis. Carl Hilger lost to John Gordon, Kansas City, in a three round scrap.

Slaton Juniors To Enter Tournament

SLATON, Feb. 25 (Special)—Coach Webb's undefeated Slaton Junior High school Kittens have accepted an invitation to compete in the Klondike tournament Saturday. The Slaton team recently won the Lubbock county junior basketball championship.

The Tiger Kittens played 23 games during the regular season just ended, winning all of them for one of the outstanding junior records of the section.

Regulars on the team are Brown, Kirkpatrick, Stotts, Glover and De Busk. Bates, Glover, Batey and Stamford are reserves.

Fight Night Will Be Staged Friday

LITTLEFIELD, Feb. 25 (Special) Amateur boxers and wrestlers of Littlefield and Slaton will clash here Friday night in a 12-event card at Littlefield High school auditorium.

The fun begins at 7:45 o'clock. Ten boxing bouts and four wrestling matches are scheduled.

Proceeds go toward purchasing award and letter sweaters for the Litflefield basketball team.

The admission price will be low, and fight fans are urged to attend.

Golfing Activities Picking Up In City

Ladies golfing activities at Lubbock Country club picked up yesterday when ten players reported for and competed in the regular bi-weekly Ladies Day tournament.

Mrs. Guy McAfee fired a 48 for low medal in the nine-hole tourney. Mrs. Glenn Smith won the putting prize, having the fewest putts for the nine holes, and Mrs. A. E. Henry, hostess, won the blind bogey prize.

Short Stories and Such—

BOXING: When is a contract not a contract, Elmer? . . . . When it has to do with professional boxing, of course. . . . The game, particularly where heavyweights are concerned, can ill afford to take such risks as the proposed—and contracted—Chicago Braddock-Louis fight means, because the division is 73 times lower than the basement of Madison Square Garden in actual and honest prestige already. . . .

One can hardly blame Champion Jas. Braddock for "running out" on the Garden's Schmeling deal when five hundred thousand one-dollar bills are waved at him from Chicago. . . . But there is such a thing as obligation, and Champ Braddock loses numerous friends and well wishers, not to mention the friendliness with Garden officials, when he signs to box Louis in Chicago. . . . The Garden practically "made" Braddock, has advanced him several grand in necessary cash, and has him under contract to defend his title early in June against the German. . . . But what is a mere contract? . . . Chicago offers him five hundred grand to fight Louis, and it is doubtful if that much would be taken in for a Schmeling-Braddock fight in N. Y. . . . But the way is open for Schmeling to claim the title, while Braddock is defending it in Chicago. . . . Funny business, this boxing. . . . And they say wrestling is screwy. . . .

Babe Ritchie, the local heavy who has popularized a diet of burned out light globes and used razor blades for ambitious box fighters, and who disproved the theory, tells Fort Worth sports writers that his next big goal in life is to make good as a college gridder under Dutch Meyer at T. C. U. . . . The boys in Cowtown must have been laying it on pretty thick. . . . Babe should not be sucked in by all the high-blown publicity he has been receiving, no more than he should be disappointed for life after losing his Golden Gloves bout the other night . . . If he plans to be a boxer, that defeat was a good lesson. . . .

BASKETBALL: Looks like the New Mexico Aggies have the Border conference title in the bag. . . They need to win only three of the five remaining games. . . . and they wind up with Texas School of Mines, which has won maybe one game this season. . . . If they beat the Tempet Teachers tonight, or if they split a series with University of New Mexico, they're in. . . . and Texas Tech's hustling Red Raiders, who reached the crest of their season just as it ended, must be satisfied with second place. . . . But the Raiders don't need the title to be remembered here as a great club. . . . The way they "came back" to win the last four games and make it a perfect home season put them over hugely with the local citizenry.

While cage tournaments at Post and Anton occupy various independent and high school teams next week, the Meadow High school quintet goes to Canyon to make a bid for state supremacy in the regional tournament Saturday. . . . Post teams are to compete, the winner to play in the state tournament at Austin. . . . The Meadow team, one of the few to beat the Lubbock Westerners during the regular season, stands a good chance to win. . . . The boys are serious, they hustle, and they can shoot baskets. . . .

BASEBALL: Still waiting definite announcement concerning the meeting place of West Texas baseball folks Sunday. . . . Letter from J. Walter Morris, head man in the organizing game for this section, says it'll be at Carlsbad Caverns and that Judge William Bramham, czar of minor league baseball, will come from his Durham, N. C., home to attend. . . . Joe Pate hasn't been heard from since Saturday night. . . . He was of the opinion Lubbock would be the scene of the "organization" meeting of the proposed West Texas league. . . . There have been no takers on the local franchise offer. . . . Sunday is the deadline . . . If anyone is interested, watch the papers for definite announcement. . . .

WRESTLING: Andrew Tremaine proved last night that he is wasting his time and talents trying to wrestle legitimately. . . . He has the body, the build, the strength and the "art" to win more than half the matches he loses. . . . All he needs is a little more fire in his makeup. . . . Guess who's a headliner over in the San Angelo district. . . . None other than Gorilla Fogi, the South American who worked on Sled Allen's very first professional show here nearly 10 years ago and who has reappeared time or two, but who never became very popular. . . . He fights Panther Joe Kopecky in San Angelo's main go this week. . . Walter Stratton, Nick Bozinis and Sailor Moran also are on the card. . . . They're finding out over there where the better grapplers come from. . . .

One Farmer Killed In Auto Accident

HOUSTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—George Smith, Avalon farmer, was killed and D. A. Bone of Midway was injured critically in a head-on automobile collision near here Wednesday.

Doctors said Bone might die. His skull was fractured and his jaw broken. It was feared that Mrs. Bone's skull was fractured, also. She was unconscious at a hospital. She was expected to recover, however.

George D. Harris, 24, of Dallas, riding with Smith, was injured less seriously.

The Philippine islands were named in honor of King Philip II of Spain.

NRA BLUE EAGLE WILL DRAW BREATH FOR LAST TIME EARLY NEXT MONTH

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—The NRA blue eagle will draw its last breath early next month when Miss Diana Rogovin cashes her final pay check.

She's the sole survivor of the huge staff which mushroomed to include 5,300 employes at the height of National Recovery administration activities in Washington and dwindled just as rapidly when NRA was invalidated by the Supreme court.

Miss Rogovin sees nothing exciting about her distinction as the last person on the NRA payroll.

"If you want to be driven crazy, try putting the final touches on an extensive report like this," she exclaimed.

"Why, I haven't even had time to look for another job."

Miss Rogovin is helping write the whole story of NRA and its effects on American life and business.

FAMOUS HARPIST APPEARS IN CITY

The Texas Technological college artist course presented Alberto Salvi, world's greatest harpist, and his instrumental quintette at Senior High school auditorium last night. The classics of Mozart, Chopin, Bach, Haydn and other masters were among the numbers on the program.

The musicians, Salvi, harpist, Caroline Solfronk, flutist, Herman Clebanoss, violinist, Robert Alexa, viola artist, and Alfred Mazzeri, cellist, in various ensembles presented six major selections and several encores.

An instrumental quartet, composed of violin, alto, cello, and harp, opened the program with a four movements arrangement of "Sonata a Quatre" by J. B. Loeillet.

"Mighty Lak a Rose," played by Salvi as an encore, brought more applause than any other number.

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart's "Quartet in D Major, No. 26" featured Miss Solfronk, flutist. The flute was the key instrument in both the allegro and adagio movements.

After several harp solos the entire quintette played "Variations Libres et Finale, Opus 51" by Gabriel Pierne. They were called back by applause.

Opening the second part of the program, Salvi played three harp solos, "Bourree, B Minor" by Bach, arranged by himself, "Minuetto" by Haydn, and one of his own compositions, "Waltz de Concart."

A composition of Jean Cras in four movements played by the five artists completed the near two-hour program.

Salvi presented his artists in a matinee concert at the high school auditorium at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

FOOTBALL: Texas Tech will climax its spring training season with a regulation game here against Texas College of Mines. . . . Will the game count as one of the 36 spring training "sessions" allowed Border conference teams? . . . About as much as the sessions now going on. . . . Allen Plummer, husky fullback candidate expected to replace George Winters as George moves to quarterback or halfback, has dropped out of school this semester in favor of a job "down east." . . . but he is expected back, and will be eligible, since he passed sufficient scholastic requirements the last term he was in school. . . .

The gridiron game has been kept on the sports pages of late by coaching changes, most recent of which is Hunk "Huh?" Anderson's addition to the University of Michigan staff as line coach. . . . Anderson undoubtedly is a good line mentor, although he has set no woods afire as a head coach since leaving the Rockne plantation. . . . He'll take orders at Michigan, and he won't be teaching the Notre Dame system, a system that is rapidly being overhauled and altered, if not altogether replaced, by former ardents. . . . The Pittsburgh football plant has been making news lately, but the Sutherland-Harrison scrap will be settled with no blows struck. . . .

That Girl on Broadway says the new street markers we're soon going to have will have to be big ones, or they'll never be seen by that 90 per cent of our motorists who never think of driving less than 50 m. p. h.

A tramp knocked at the kitchen door of a Lubbock residence evidently not occupied by members of our self-appointed intelligentsia.

"Clear out of here!" shouted the housewife as soon as she saw who was at the door. "I ain't got no wood to chop. I ain't got nuthin' for you to do around here!"

"Ah, madam, I beg to differ," returned the bum. "I could give you a few lessons in grammar!"

SINCE it became apparent that better times were on the way the nation has literally been deluged with new magazines.

Esquire, Coronet, Today, Women's Digest, two or three picture periodicals and heaven alone knows what others, have made their bow—and are still making it—to a more or less breathless reading public.

Most of them are pretty good magazines and most of them have a purpose, real or imaginary.

But few, if any, have made any serious inroads on the old favorites.

The Plainsman probably reads twice or three times as many magazines as the average person because to do so is a matter of business. A writing guy has got to have ideas and the best way to stimulate them is by reading.

But if he had to do without all but one of the eight or nine he skims through regularly, this writer could decide in less than a minute the one he would keep.

It's the Reader's Digest.

There's more good stuff packed into that little pocket-size periodical than in anything we've ever run across.

In fact two copies per month come to The Plainsman—one to the house for leisure time pleasure-reading, and one to the office for handy refrence.

We are not the agent for Reader's Digest, own no stock in the concern and have not one whit of personal interest in its welfare. But if you're not reading the Reader's Digest, you're missing something.

That's the truth.

THE fine spring weather we've been having for the past several days (at this writing Wednesday night) is wonderful and all that, but knowing this country as he does, The Plainsman confidently expects a few rousing sandstorms followed by sleet, snow and roaring winds from Amarillo as a result.

The recent weather has been too good to be true for long.

Anyhow, we need our annual early spring snowfall for moisture!

Henry Welmaker called up yesterday to say that the only thing ever produced by a sit-down strike is a chicken.

W. T. Gaston cracked this one at the Rotary club:

Marriage is like taking a bath. After you get used to it it ain't so hot!

That Man on Avenue Q says money may not insure happiness but he's never seen very many happy without some of it.

Wife, reading from evening paper:

"Here's a story about an old hen they found with two hearts."

Husband, behind the sports page:

"Yeah. I played bridge with her the other night!"

THE Plainsman has received a good many amusing letters since the hullabaloo over the Supreme court started but tops of the list was this one, received unsigned yesterday from Hale Center:

"Dear Plainsman: I see by a poll on the court business printed in the Amarillo News where Texas people are in favor of the President's plans by almost 2 to 1. I am sending this information to you so you can soft-pedal the Republican-lawyer side and after a few days wind up on the popular side yourself. I know you wouldn't want to be on the unpopular side—not you."

This writer doesn't know anything about the Amarillo News poll, or about how Texans stand on the Supreme court issue, but he does know that being on the unpopular side—if being against the court remodeling plan IS the unpopular side—is nothing new to him.

For the benefit of our anonymous writer from Hale Center, The Plainsman can say without fear of contradiction that it would be a surprise to him to find himself on the popular side of anything—even the street!

AS for the anti-court reform side being the "Republican-lawyer" side, there are quite a few lawyers who are with the President and there is no such thing as the Republican party any more—even as there is no such thing as the Democratic party.

If our Hale Center friend thinks the present administration is Democratic and in line with the Democratic party most of us have been brought up in, he's Public Sap No. 1.

The Roosevelt administration, which The Plainsman has supported and still supports in the main, is neither Democratic, Republican or Socialist—but is a mixture of all three.

Anyone who has any knowledge of American political parties understands that fully.

Incidentally, the closest thing to the Democratic party of the pre-1933 era is the present liberal wing of the Republican party.

And if you don't believe that, compare the principles of the two!

The worst thing about the court argument is that too many people are prone to believe that everyone should follow President Roosevelt, even if he should jump into a lake of molten metal.

To be to the point, too many people have Mr. Roosevelt, who, after all, is a man, all mixed up with the Deity.

As a matter of fact, the President pulls on his pants one leg at a time, just like every other man. He has to shave, is subject to ingrown hairs and toenails, just like all the rest of us mortals. His hair is thinning and his teeth have been filled, here and there, just like the teeth of most men his age.

In other words, he's human, not divine and (in a whisper) we wouldn't be a bit surprised to learn that he has committed a few errors in judgment.

Get the point?

A COUPLE of permanently unemployed gents were resting in the park after a long, hard day of solving public problems on the courthouse steps.

"Where you been the last few days?" asked the first fellow.

"I been laid up with influenzy," was the reply.

"Influenzy? What's that?"

"Oh, it's a sickness that leaves you weak as a cat. It takes all the fight outen you and leaves you so you're so tired like, you don't want to do anything."

"Wal, I swan," said the other fellow. "I've had that there disease for 20 years and that's the first time I ever heard a name fer it!"

READY MADE WIFE

BY CORALIE STANTON

SYNOPSIS: Rex and Laurie love each other, but small things have separated them. This is their situation. Both work for Mark Albery, the airplane manufacturer. Laurie has promised to marry Albery, to help Rex with his career. Rex is having lunch with a Wanda Steele, whom he owes much, but whom he cannot love. And Wanda just has told Rex that she knows of his and Laurie's estrangement.

REX'S PROMISE

"I believe in you," Wanda said. "I know that you'd never let a woman down. I'm a fool about you, Rex. It's no good disguising it. For me you can do nothing wrong. As I've told you before, I always think a little tiny bit of you must belong to me. Perhaps a bit no bigger than a drop of water in the Pacific—but just that!"

It was touching. She showed her adoration of him with a simple pathos that put him to a kind of fiery shame, and left his heart cold. It was as if he must do something to please her, to show that he was not so crassly ungrateful as he seemed.

He owed her everything; his life, his eyesight. For the millionth time he repeated it to himself. He knew that she would not change, even if he were to go blind again.

He looked at her, sitting there in her soft ivory crepe dress, with the priceless old lace frills for sleeves, and the rosy cream pearls on her white neck; with her long, pale face, powdered with faint golden freckles; with her smiling lips, and dark eyes glowing with love.

She was attractive enough in her sophisticated elegance. She knew all about life and men, and how to treat them and make them comfortable. She had the charm of experience. She had seen the whole of the world.

She was intelligent, and artistic, and spent her money without ostentation or extravagance. She had no glaring faults. She was older than he, but not much. She was, in fact, supremely a woman of the world.

But she was just not the woman for him. And that said everything.

It was to his pity that she appealed. Against him she was defenseless. Her lonely heart was reaching out to him as the only thing she asked of life.

Well, did it matter what became of him now?

He had done with the emotional side of life. Romance did not exist. Love and human passion were delusions. Laurie had trembled in his arms, had clung to him, had denied with her lips that she loved him, while the whole of the rest of her being told him that she did.

What mattered that? She had chosen. She was going to marry Mark Albery at once. She wanted money and position. She was false and hard and mercenary. She had not only made a fool of him, but lowered him in his own sight.

This woman gave him back his self-respect with her flattering eyes, her caressing words. Wanda Steele was asking nothing of him. Only wanting to give him everything.

He got up and walked to the window, with a curious instinct, putting a greater distance between them.

"Wanda," he said abruptly, "you have been so incredibly good to me. I am not worth it. But, if you would care, when all this is settled, to be my wife, I should be deeply honored."

A lame proposal. But the woman's face became transfigured, as she rose from her chair and came towards him, swaying slightly.

"Oh, Rex, my darling, you shall never regret it!" she murmured, as she fell into his arms.

"You have apparently been very foolish, Laurie," said Albery, in his London office the next morning, as she came in as usual to do his work. "You have been seen with Rex Moore since you left him. The porter at the Chelsea flat told me you had been there alone with Moore the other day. Surely you're not such a fool as to think you can sue for a divorce from him and be seen with him at the same time?"

"I didn't know he was there," Laurie answered. "I went to the flat to fetch some books I had left behind."

"Well, be more careful in future." Albery spoke angrily. His raging jealousy never gave him any peace. "It might spoil everything. I am just finishing up this particular business with Brazil, and then you and I will get away and get married and leave England, and you certainly won't come back until Moore has started for South America. The only thing for you to do is to disappear for a time. You're quite clever enough to understand how difficult this job is going to be and how carefully it has to be done."

"I do understand. I don't know how you're going to do it!" blurted out Laurie in a miserable voice.

"You can leave that to me. Do your own bit, my dear girl. And that is never to see or speak to Moore again."

Later on, when he came back from lunch, he told her a piece of news that caused her a fresh pang of anxiety.

"I lunched with Dagenbury. He's in a terrible stew over that boy of his. D'you remember Jimmy Dallas, you met him at Fen Gretton? I asked him over to amuse your sister. There's evidently been a dust up in the family. Jimmy is a bad lad, and it's got to his father's ears that he's been carrying on with some chorus girl up here. Of course, to his father that means going straight to hell. He's so out-of-date in his ideas about young people."

Some chorus girl! Laurie was terrified. Could it be Glad? Glad, who had been with him in a taxi that Sunday night, and had brazenly lied about it?

"What did you think of Jimmy?" asked Albery curiously.

"I didn't much like him," she said. "But, of course, I only saw him once."

"Personally, I believe he's a real bad lot."

Laurie was more perturbed than ever. What could she do? Whatever she said, Glad would go on lying. She was sure of that. Lying to her. It hurt her so much that it was a physical pain.

Such pain that she felt nothing, not even disgust, when Albery took her in his arms and covered her face with kisses.

Laurie makes a terrible discovery tomorrow.

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

"FARMER JIM" AND MODERN DAY POLITICS

Interesting to the entire state will be the short, whirlwind campaign in the 10th Congressional district of Texas if James E. Ferguson runs for the House of Representatives vacancy brought about by the death of the late, great J. P. "Buck" Buchanan.

While The Journal has no particular interest in the action of 10th district voters in connection with the Congressional vacancy, we would enjoy seeing the political strength of Jim Ferguson tested again. That he would be a formidable contender, there is no doubt.

The complexion of Texas voters has changed considerably since Jim Ferguson entered the political lists more than two decades ago and while he may have lost much of his "oldtimers support" he has, by the same token, been relieved by the loss of many of his old-time bitter enemies. Just how the new crop of voters—those who have been eligible for the last five years—would view a Ferguson candidacy in Jim's own "neck of the woods" is a question most politically minded Texans would like to see answered.

That "Farmer Jim's" advanced years and perilous health would handicap him, there is no doubt. But despite the infirmities of age, he's still a whale of a campaigner and, to say the least, would be, as he always has been, hard to beat in any contest.

The Journal, which has consistently opposed Old Jim, has always felt a mighty respect for his abilities and an undercurrent of fondness for him personally.

We hope he runs for that 10th district vacancy, just to see the fur fly and—from this vantage point—to enjoy the fun!

From Hollywood MOVIE SIDELIGHTS

Behind The Scenes With The Stars Of Talkietown

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 25.—Hair-raising chapter films, which leave the hero and heroine in very precarious situations on the screens of neighborhood theaters every Saturday afternoon, are making a comeback.

Earliest form of celluloid art, they suffered during the depression, which brought two full-length features to nearly every flicker palace. But now the two-reel serials are in demand again.

Almost any day you can prowl the back lots of Universal, Republic, or Columbia and find a tight-lipped actress chained in a tiger's den, or a mad inventor preparing to destroy the world with some new mechanistic horror.

Each of those three studios will make four serials this year, of from 12 to 15 installments each.

The costs vary from $50,000 at Republic to $100,000 at Universal, with Columbia planning at least one Frank Buck thriller which may cost a quarter of a million. The latter will be what Hollywood would call a colossal little picture.

Big Shakedown

Serials have changed since the days of Helen Holmes, Ruth Roland, and Pearl White. Heroines don't get top billing any more. Heroes are the stars.

And plots are inclined to revolve around pseudo-science. Thus, a recent episode filmed at Republic featured a futuristic airship which tries to shake down the San Francisco bridge.

The hero arrives in the nick of time and, with similarly fantastic equipment, shakes down the enemy.

In another thriller, the villain boards a trans-Pacific super-plane and sets it afire. It falls into the sea with all hands apparently doomed. But the hero buzzes along in his super-submarine and saves the situation. Also the heroine.

However, three time-tested formulae still are in favor. These are adventure (usually exploration), cops-and-robbers, and cowboys-and-Indians.

They never fail to excite kids, and will keep 'em coming week after week on pennies saved by heroic thrift and parsimony.

Moral Support

There is no sex in serials. That is because kids will boo heavy love scenes. They want plenty of action, and they get it. Also, for the benefit of juvenile morals, the hero never smokes or drinks.

The feminine menace, if there is one, is almost as pure, and wears just as many clothes as the innocent heroine.

Ray Corrigan, former vaudeville strong-man, and Kay Hughes, one-time professional model, are the stars of Republic's serials. Monte Blue, who used to be a romantic star of topnotch pictures, is their favorite villain.

Johnny Mack Brown is head man in the next serial to go before Universal's cameras. It will be titled "Wild West Days," and in the feminine lead is Jean Rogers, queen of modern-day cliff-hangers.

Miss Rogers has had some tempting offers for legitimate features, but she always declines with thanks.

Her job is steady, and she's absolutely tops in her line. The perennial heavy at Universal is Harry Brandon, who is an old hand at spine-chilling.

Wages Down

Republic serials are made in five weeks and make about 100 per cent profit. Universal thrillers are made in six weeks. They're shot so rapidly that two directors are necessary—Ford Beebe and Cliff Smith. Beebe directs drama, Smith action, and they work on alternate days. The players work all the time.

Serial salaries aren't what they used to be. Three hundred a week is tops. Helen Holmes earned $3000 a week in "The Hazards of Helen," "The Lost Express," and "Lass of the Lumberlands."

Made it, and saved a lot of it. Her stunt man and rodeo rider husband, Lloyd Saunders, saved his money, too. They invested everything in a cattle ranch near Sonora, Cal., and were wiped out by the depression.

Saunders is trying to pick up a little prize money at rodeos again. Miss Holmes, when she can find work, is a $10-a-day extra. She figures everything will turn out all right, though. Her hero never failed to gallop up in the nick of time.

GOLD PRODUCTION FALLS

CHEYENNE, Wyo., (AP) — Wyoming's gold production declined 41 per cent in 1936 compared with 1935, figures of the United States Bureau of Mines disclosed. Wyoming mines produced 2,180 ounces of gold during 1936, worth $76,300.

According to preliminary calculations, the total income received from cotton growing by Russian collective farms for 1936 will reach 3,600,000,000 rubles — one billion more than last year.

Reduces Varicose or Swollen Veins

Simple Home Treatment Prove It At Small Cost

The world progresses. Today many minor ailments that took weeks to overcome can now be helped much more quickly. If you have varicose veins or bunches start today to bring them back to normal size and if you are wise you will do so.

Just get an original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil at Mark Halsey Drug, or any dispensing pharmacist and apply it night and morning to the enlarged veins. It is very powerful and penetrating, and only a little is required.

In a short time the veins should begin to grow smaller and by regular use soon approach normal.

People who want to reduce varicose veins or simple swellings, should not hesitate to try a bottle at once. It is so penetrating and powerful that a small bottle lasts a long time. Adv.

Much Discussed Retirement Age, Jack Garner's Hate For Cigarets, Lewis' Poetry Mark News Trend In Washington

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25—In March 1935, Assistant Attorney General Harold M. Stephens was arguing the constitutionality of the railroad retirement act, which provided pensions for railroad employes after age 65.

"It is a commonplace," he said, "that physical ability, mental alertness and co-operativeness tend to fail after a man is 65."

Not one of the more aged justices batted an eye. But Stephens lost the case. Later he himself, at the age of 50, was appointed a judge on the District of Columbia Court of Appeals.

They Smell—And Worse

Anyone who knows Vice President John N. Garner knows that his aversion to cigarets — he smokes cigars — is only exceeded by his contempt for officials who take what he calls "graft," in the form of payment for articles, endorsements or other uses of name and title for commercial purposes.

But an advertising executive called on Garner the other day in complete ignorance of those sentiments.

He said he knew the vice president didn't smoke cigarets himself but if Mr. Garner wouldn't mind endorsing the fragrance of a particular brand, he would be glad to give him a check.

"In the first place," snorted Garner as his face grew red, "I never have and never will use my position to endorse any product."

"And furthermore, dammit," said the vice president as he scowled at his visitor's smoke, "I think cigarets stink like hell."

No Moans For Lewis

When Labor Leader John L. Lewis went to Michigan to supervise the General Motors strike and enter subsequent negotiations, he warded off newspaper correspondents by saying:

"Let there be no moaning at the bar, when I put out to sea."

A couple of his subordinates who spotted the origin of the poetical paraphrase, shivered lest some of their chief's enemies should pounce upon this and ridicule him.

The line came from Tennyson's "Crossing the Bar," which has to do with death. At the time no one here was sure whether Lewis was setting off toward a tragic disaster to his career or to victory. That verse goes:

"Sunset and Evening Star
"And one clear for me.
"And may there be no moaning at the bar
"When I put out to sea."

Bankhead Tells A Story

Speaker William B. Bankhead, who has served in Congress 20 years, was telling stories at a party he gave for his beautiful actress-daughter, Tallulah, here recently. He started to describe how the boys down home at Jasper, Ala., had fixed it up to give him a big welcome reception to celebrate his elevation to the speakership.

"You mean them hill-billies, Daddy?" piped Tallulah.

"Sure," said the speaker. "I'm a hill-billy."

"Well, there were flags and bunting all over town. The bands were out and there was an old fellow down from the hills and he wanted to know what was going on. They told him: 'Billy Bankhead's coming back to town.'

"'Is that so?' he said. 'Where's Billy been?'"

"CHATTERING BEINGS"

Mr. James Francis O'Connor, a new congressman from Montana, tells the House of Representatives what he thinks of it —after complaining that the Supreme court, not Congress, does the law making:

"If by increasing the membership of that court you can make the House a law-making body, as in theory it is, instead of a bunch of chattering beings that occupy trees and hang by their tails, then I say let us increase the membership of the court."

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP)—Mrs. Rachel Macarthur, said to be Scotland's oldest woman, recently celebrated her 109th birthday. At 96 she underwent an operation for appendicitis and has been hale and hearty since.

ADVICE TO WOMEN

MOST women at some period of their lives need a tonic like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. The young woman who suffers from monthly pains, from nervousness, irritability and discomforts associated with functional disturbances, the expectant mother who has loss of appetite, also the middle-aged woman should try this tonic. Mrs. Maggie S. Hommel, Box 101, Clarendon, Texas, said: "Early in life when about 22, I was troubled with painful periods and headaches associated with them. I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as a tonic and I was greatly relieved. I also took the Prescription during expectancy and it increased my appetite and thru this I had more strength." Buy of your druggist. New elm tablets 50c. Bould $1.00 & $1.35. Adv.

"Morning After" Headache Eased In A Hurry

Over-indulgence often results in a dull, "morning after" headache; upset nerves and an "all in" feeling. When you wake up like this, let "BC" lend a helping hand.

The quick-acting ingredients in the "BC" formula will relieve headaches and neuralgia pains of an inorganic character, and greatly aid you in snapping back into your stride. Remember this: Keep a package of "BC" handy. Convenient 10c and 25c sizes, or by the dose at fountains. (adv.)

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

To bear interest from Jan. 1, 1937 at the rate of seven per cent per annum, the interest to become due and payable annually on the first day of January of each year, beginning January 1, 1938, and defaulting principal and interest to bear interest from maturity at the rate of ten per cent per annum; to provide that failure to pay any annual installment of principal and interest on said note when due shall at the option of the holder mature said note to stipulate for ten per cent additional as attorney's fees, and said note to be secured by a vendor's lien and deed of trust lien on the land and premises above described.

Said applications will be heard by the Honorable Charles A. Boynton, Judge of said court, after this notice shall have been published for a period of ten days, and any person interested in said Receivership Estate may contest this application.

WITNESS my hand at Temple, Texas, this the 15th day of February, A. D. 1937.

H. C. GLENN, as Receiver for Temple Trust Company, Temple, Texas.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL MASTER'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

WHEREAS, in the cause of California-Western States Life Insurance Company vs. M. F. Park, et al, No. 167-In Equity, in the District Court of the United States for the Northern District of Texas, Lubbock Division, the Court did on the 11th day of December, 1936, render its decree establishing complainant's debt in the aggregate of $4100.00, with interest from that date at 6% per annum, and establishing the debt of intervener Keystone Mortgage Investment Company in the amount of $322.05, with interest at the rate of 10% per annum from that date, and a personal judgment against the defendant, C. H. Park for said sums, respectively, with all court costs, and establishing and decreeing that the respective debts and judgments so awarded are secured by a valid binding deed of trust and mortgage lien, as the same existed on the 31st day of January, 1929, and at all subsequent dates, on the following described land and premises situated in Lubbock County, State of Texas to-wit:

All of the Southeast Quarter (SE¼) of Section 10, Block D-7, Certificate No. 1043, E. L. & R. R. Ry. Co. Survey, and being a part of the same property described in that certain deed of trust from Rilla Jay to Jo Rash Miller, III, Trustee, dated April 10, 1928, recorded in Volume 35, page 467, of the Deed of Trust Records of Lubbock County, Texas; and decreeing a foreclosure of said deed of trust and mortgage lien, and further decreeing that if said respective sums of money were not paid within seventy days from the date of the rendition of said decree that I, W. D. Girand, Jr., as Special Master, so appointed as Special Master in the decree, make sale of said land, at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, between the hours of 10 o'clock, A. M., and 4 o'clock, P. M., at the Court House door of Lubbock County, Texas, in the town of Lubbock; except that should the complainant be the successful bidder, its bid, less court costs, including costs of sale, may be credited on its debt as fixed by the decree, and that should intervener Keystone Mortgage Investment Company be the successful bidder, its bid, less the amount required to pay complainant's debt and all court costs, including costs of sale, may be credited on its debt as fixed by the decree; and that before offering the land for sale I should cause the time and place of sale to be advertised by publication of notice thereof once a week for at least four weeks prior to such sale in Lubbock Avalanche, a newspaper printed and published in Lubbock, Lubbock County, Texas, in said notice properly describing the property and reciting the authority by which I am making the sale, and the purpose for which it is being made:

ACCORDINGLY, NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that I will offer for sale and sell on the first Tuesday in April, 1937, the same being the 6th day of said month, between the hours of 10 o'clock, A. M., and 4 o'clock, P. M., at the Court House door of Lubbock County, Texas, in the town of Lubbock, Texas, the above described land and premises, and will sell the same to the highest bidder for cash; except that should the complainant be the highest bidder, its bid up to the amount of its judgment, less court costs and costs of sale, will be credited on said judgment, and should the intervener be the highest bidder, its bid, less the amount required to pay complainant's debt, court costs and costs of sale, will be credited on its judgment. Said sale will be made subject to confirmation by the Court.

WITNESS my hand, this the 22 day of February, A. D. 1937.

W. D. GIRAND, JR.
Special Master.

LAID UP FOR TWO MONTHS

Able to Resume Work After Three Days Treatment With Williams S. L. K. Formula

Was Surprised at the Quick results From WILLIAMS S. L. K.

IT WAS a red letter day for Jim "Doc" Woodard, known throughout the state of Texas as a maker of cowboy boots, when he ordered his first bottle of WILLIAMS S. L. K. FORMULA. He had a real surprise at the quick results from using it. He says:

"I was bothered with my sluggish stomach, kidney and liver trouble for years, finally getting so bad that I was unable to work. After being laid up for two months I heard of WILLIAMS S. L. K. and sent for a bottle. In only three days time it helped me so much that I was able to go back to work. My rest is no longer broken into at night because of my kidneys and I eat almost anything I want without causing bloating and pains. I was certainly surprised at the quick results I got from S. L. K. JIM WOODARD, 914 Main St., Lubbock, Texas.

Fully Guaranteed

If you are troubled as Mr. Woodard was, get WILLIAMS S. L. K. FORMULA at once at the John Halsey Drug Co. If you are not entirely satisfied with your first bottle of WILLIAMS S. L. K. FORMULA, your money will be refunded. It must help you or it will cost you nothing. Adv.

"Gly-Cas The One Real Medicine"

Declares Mrs. Strange; Now Able To Enjoy A Good Night's Sleep, Relieved Of Awful Pain And Swelling Of Rheumatism; Now Like A New Person

"Sufferers should realize how fortunate they are in being able to get a medicine like this new Gly-Cas," said Mrs. O. A. Strange, 1119 7th St., Lubbock, Tex. "For years I had suffered with irritation of the bladder and severe rheumatism. Each day the misery seemed to be growing worse and the suffering was almost unbearable. Both my legs were swollen, could not walk without dragging my left limb and it was so affected I could not bend it at all. The pain was terrific at times and of course in this miserable condition a good night's sleep or rest was impossible. I tried many different kinds of medicine without results and I was so discouraged over my outlook until I was persuaded to give this new Gly-Cas a trial—it is the one REAL medicine of them all."

"Gly-Cas relieved me of that awful suffering, the pain and swelling has practically left me," she continued. "My limbs are not crippled like they were and I can walk many blocks at a time. I sleep good, enjoy a fine night's rest. Even my friends and neighbors notice what a remarkable change has been brought about in my condition by this new Gly-Cas. Sufferers will find Gly-Cas a great blessing for them all."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.

Sorry, Mr. Krock, but We Beg to Differ ing more concrete, will contribute heavily to the uproar.

You may expect some loud threats to "pack" the court by adding new liberal members. Although sentiment for that is far from preponderant, there's more of it in the inner White House circle than you might think. There is a better-than-even chance of it, according to present indications, if the court invalidates the Social Security act or legislation of similar importance.

Liberal insiders, after deducing from the 4-to-4 New York unemployment insurance decision and the court's refusal to decide the Duke Power case that Hughes is highly worried, add that Justice ability that he will more cautious.

You can mark it down as a strong possibility that some time within the next year there will be more than nine justices. By a simple act of Congress the president would be enabled to appoint three or four additional members of the court and to choose men who would be more likely to line up with Justices Stone, Brandeis, and Cardozo than with Hughes, Roberts, McReynolds, Sutherland, Van Devanter, and Butler.

Such a move, according to strategists who whisper that it is more than a tentative proposal, would be accompanied by official assurance that the court

you may be sure that the administration will wait for a decision on the Social Security Act or perhaps even the wage-hour legislation this Congress is expected to pass.

Some of the president's closest advisers are betting that if the court (meaning either Hughes, Roberts, or both) continues to "stand in the path of progress," Roosevelt will decide to pack the court by adding justices who might be depended on to support liberal decisions.

Youth Creeping Up On This Aged Man

ENID, Okla., Feb. 25 (AP)—Youth is creeping up on 60-year-old R. L. Downing who has discarded his glasses and now is cutting his third set of teeth.

Downing formerly could not read the streamer line on a newspaper without his glasses. One day he found he could read a little better, and within a year he laid aside his glasses entirely.

The improvement in his eyesight, Downing admitted, was not nearly so much a surprise as the discovery his third set of teeth was coming through.

Secretary Woodring says the Inland Waterways corporation had a net income of $899,769.96 for the last fiscal year.

POWER POLICY IS PLANNED

INITIAL STEPS TAKEN FOR UNIFORM PLAN BY GOVERNMENT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP) — President Roosevelt took initial steps leading to a uniform national power policy by asking congress today to authorize the appointment of an administrator to sell surplus power at the Bonneville dam near Portland, Ore.

Public agencies and cooperatives seeking to purchase Bonneville power would be given preference over private concerns. Purchase contracts would contain clauses designed to assure "reasonable" rates to the ultimate consumer.

Should Be Provisional

Transmitting a report from his power policy committee, the president said the legislation recommended should be "provisional in character pending the establishment of permanent administration of Bonneville and other federal projects in the Columbia basin, but should not be inconsistent with national power policies which may be hereafter adopted."

He said a provisional bill should be passed this session because Bonneville is almost finished and power will be ready for distribution late this year. The Grand Coulee dam in the state of Washington will tie in with the permanent program.

Some officials saw in today's recommendations the nucleus of the national policy to come later.

Would Build Lines

The administrator would build transmission lines and sell power not needed for operation of the dam and locks at reasonable rates to be fixed by himself, subject to approval of the power commission.

"The rate schedules," the report said, "should provide for uniform rates, or rates uniform throughout prescribed transmission areas, with a view to distributing the benefits of an integrated transmission system and encouraging the equitable distribution of the electric energy developed."

Rates, the report added, should be fixed with a view to encouraging the widest possible use of the power, having regard to recovery of the cost of production and transmission and amortization of the capital investment over a reasonable period.

The administrator would be authorized to contract for the sale of power at wholesale, whether for resale or direct consumption. Until Jan. 1, 1939 at least 50 per cent of the energy would be reserved for public and cooperative agencies.

Contracts would not exceed 20 years. Rates would be readjusted at least once every five years.

NEURITIC PAIN IS RELIEVED BY THE VAN-TAGE

"Those Horrible Pains Of Mine Would Have Tried The Patience Of A Saint!" Says Texas Lady, "But Now Van-Tage Has Relieved Me — It Is Wonderful!"

Mrs. Dellie Cannon, of 803 Brooks St., Houston, Tex., is now adding her name to the Long List of Widely-Known people of This Vicinity who are publicly praising and endorsing this Amazing New Medicine, Known as VAN-TAGE, which is now being introduced to the local public at The Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway. Just a few days ago, Mrs. Cannon said:

MRS. DELLIE CANNON

Years Of Constipation And Neuritic Pain

"For years I had been a suffering, miserable person," said Mrs. Cannon. "I had been a victim of sluggish bowel constipation for years, which developed into all kinds of horrible misery for me. I developed a gassy, bloated condition and my food didn't digest right and my kidneys got weak and sluggish, and finally my whole system got so loaded with poison that it turned into neuritis misery with pains that would have tried the patience of a Saint! I think I tried every medicine under the sun, but never got any relief, and then one day I happened to be in the Walgreen Drug Store and saw some Van-Tage and heard them telling about this great, new medicine, so I got it and started taking it. Now my constipation and gas and bloat are relieved and my system has been cleansed so well that I don't have those neuritic pains any more. I think this medicine is one of the finest things ever offered to humanity."

Over 20,000,000 Bottles Great Formula Sold

This Amazing Formula has been tested by the sale of over 20,000,000 bottles. It has helped thousands of sufferers, in THIS VICINITY ALONE, from irregular bowels, inactive liver, gaseous stomach and sluggish kidneys. And—due to the immense volume in which it sells, the price of Van-Tage is reasonable, so get it—TODAY—at The Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway. —Adv.

DALLAS, Feb. 25 (AP)—Weathermen agreed today that warm weather which has brought out blossoms of plum, peach and pear trees may bring disaster to fruit crops in this area.

The weather forecasters said February and March still hold threats of cold waves that may wipe out the fruit buds. Lately temperatures have reached into the eighties and nights have been comparatively warm.

Abernathy Man Is Hurt In Accident

W. H. Duke, about 43, of near Abernathy, injured in an automobile mishap early Wednesday night about 15 miles north of Lubbock, "rested well" said authorities this morning at West Texas hospital where he was taken for treatment.

He was pinned beneath the car when it overturned.

The accident happened on the Plainview road. Duke was taken to the hospital by S. E. Cone of Lubbock and S. L. Burke.

He suffered abrasions of the face, lip lacerations, and chest injuries.

BILL PIERCE IS FREE OF CHARGE

Bill (Theodore) Pierce last night was acquitted of slaying David Feasel, 19. Pierce had pleaded both the "unwritten law" and self-defense.

The 22-year-old defendant shook hands with and thanked the 72nd district court jury which reported shortly before 9 o'clock.

Pierce was represented by W. W. Campbell and J. E. Vickers. The state's case was presented by District Attorney Burton S. Burks and Victor H. Lindsey, assistant.

Ohio had its first million-dollar legislature in 1936. The 91st general assembly of the state cost taxpayers $1,313,928.
