A HANDHOLD ON HISTORY

In a front page feature story in last week's Knox County News, the running of the Olympic Torch through the Big Country was publicized and local residents were encouraged to turn out and show their support for this "once in a lifetime" event.

Many, many residents did show their support and the highways of the torch route were lined with those who wanted to witness something that may never happen again in this area. For the many who waited in the hot afternoon sun, the wait turned into an immense measure of pride when the torch runner finally came into view. After a long wait and seeing many vehicles drive by with the torch relay logo painted on the sides, the runner was observed as he or she was preceded, followed and flanked by many support vehicles and personnel. It was an impressive sight as the bronze torch carried by the runners was used to pass on the symbol of the Olympic Games, the flame that began its journey in Athens, Greece, before arriving here in the Big Country and continuing on to Los Angeles.

This same sight was repeated many times across the nation and across the State of Texas. My wife and I were not able to see the runners as they came through Knox County because of a trip taken to Lubbock to pick up office supplies. On Saturday morning we drove out east of Lubbock to watch the torch run as it came into the city of Idalou. On the trip out to watch the torch with us were my wife's sister, Gwen and her husband Mark Decker.

The four of us were both excited and curious as we waited in Idalou for the arrival of the runners. An hour's delay really sparked our curiosity so we decided to ride out east of Idalou and just watch the ceremony whenever we met the runners on the road. Just a few miles out of Idalou, we observed several of the AT&T motor homes parked alongside the road and we pulled in behind them to await the runners and the torch procession. It wasn't long before the flashing of lights down the highway indicated that the runner was almost upon us and a Lubbock County Sheriff's Deputy politely asked everyone to move off the shoulder of the road as he drove slowly by.

The runner approached at a fast pace as she followed a white convertible that carried the master flame in a glassed-in box that was mounted to the trunk of the car. The runner was a tall, thin female who appeared to

...carries torch through Vera

Olympic Torch Carried By Former KC Resident

One of the runners responsible for carrying the Olympic Torch through the immediate area last Friday is a former Knox City resident, living in Knox City for three months during the summer of 1970.

Rosalyn Bratcher, daughter-in-law of the Claudell Bratchers of Vera, carried the torch for a little more than a kilometer through Vera at approximately 2:10 p.m. She began her run at the Vera city limit sign and carried it until she was directly in front of her in-laws' home which is on the highway. A reception was held in the Bratchers' yard where friends, along with dignitaries visited. Also in the group were six cheerleaders from Gruver, Texas, who were en route home after a seminar at Hardin-Simmons in Abilene and had purposely detoured to see the torch.

Rosalyn, who is from Conroe, Texas, about 35 miles north of Houston, began running about eight or nine years ago as a hobby and also for the exercise, she said. During the summer months, she averages about 40 miles a week. In asking how she became aware of the opportunity to carry the torch, Rosalyn said she subscribed to several 'running' magazines and she was sure they probably had a computer printout of subscribers who might be interested in the relay. A letter explaining the procedure was received and the Youth Legacy groups were required to raise money, $3,000 for each kilometer, with 88% of the funds returning to the sponsoring group. She said the Conroe YMCA along with local friends raised her $3,000. The other runners are employees of AT&T, sponsors of the Olympic Torch Relay.

Rosalyn, who was born in Houston, met her husband Burt when they were students at Texas Tech. It was in 1970 when Burt was a Farmers Home Administration trainee that they lived here for three months in the former C.A. Hull residence which is now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Stephens.

Burt is now employed by Jordan & Associates in Houston and Rosalyn is assistant principal at Travis Junior High.

They are the parents of two children, 13 year old Tim and Tara, 9.

The Olympic Torch Relay began May 8 in New York City and will travel 82 days, over 9,000 miles and 34 states before arriving in Los Angeles to open the 1984 Olympic Games.

Almost 4,000 runners are involved in the relay, backed up by some 10,000 support personnel.

With a full day of events planned, the celebration will begin at 9:00 a.m. when the Jaycees will open the pool for games and contests involving the youth of Knox City. The games at the pool will continue until 12:00 noon when the pool will open for free swimming for everyone throughout the afternoon. The pool will close at 6:00 p.m.

SUMMER FUN IN THE SUN

Summer time is here and everyone enjoys the summer sports. The one summer sport which is the most fun is probably the most dangerous, the sport of boating, fishing, and swimming.

BOATING-Be sure when you are boating to observe all the boating safety rules. Never allow more passengers in the boat than what your boat is designed to carry. Overloading a boat is the easiest way to overturn one. Be sure that each person in the boat has on a life preserver. Give the right of way to other boaters when you are supposed to and observe the courtesy of boating in areas which are provided for boaters.

FISHING-This is one area people tend to look at as not being dangerous; however, when fishing especially from a bank or barge in deep water it is a good idea to have and wear life preservers-in the case of young children especially. There have been numerous times when young children have fallen in lakes and rivers while fishing. The excitement of hooking the big one has even caused many older fishermen to fall in the water.

SWIMMING-Probably the summer sport enjoyed by more people than any other is also the most dangerous. The most important rule to remember in swimming is never to swim alone. The most experienced swimmer can and have been known to get cramps at anytime. Another good idea when you are swimming is to have a life preserver close by in case someone gets in trouble it makes it much easier to help the person. Never dive in areas you are not familiar with especially in rivers, tanks and lakes. Learn life saving procedures and be able to use them. Swim only in areas which are marked off and provided for swimmers.

When you are enjoying these summer sports be sure to remember one thing and that is the sun is always watching you. When you are out boating, fishing or swimming remember the chance of being sun burned is always there. It is a good idea to always wear a protective sun screen when you participate in summer activities. You should only stay out in the sun for short periods of time and if you are out longer be sure to re-apply your sun screen lotion often.

This summer when you are enjoying the sun have a good time, but before you go be sure to follow a few safety rules. It could save yours or somenone elses life.

OLYMPIC TORCH PASSES THROUGH BENJAMIN!

It was a "once in a lifetime" thing and it is estimated that probably around 1000-1200 persons were on hand to see the Olympic Torch runner go through our small community on Friday. The hand off took place right in the middle of the intersection and another runner continued on toward Guthrie. (I'm sure a more detailed account appears elsewhere in the paper). But it was exciting and I'm sure it's the closest a lot of us will ever get to the actual events!

On June 28-29 July 1 St. Paul will have their pastor and wife 13th anniversary and is asking our friends to come and share with us.

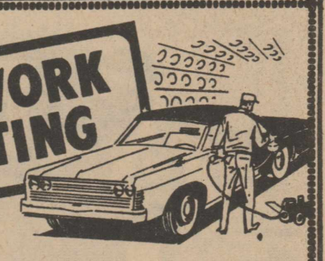

Tuesday night I went out to see the gals and guys play ball and the gals beat the guys, but it were fun.

The other night I dreamed a large crowd of us were going down a trail and we heard a big roar like a lion. One friend went up a tree, the little dog which was so little we just could see it and it said why did you all run it was only me. I call the friend up there to come down. She did but just as she got down this little dog roared again and back up the tree she went.

Anyone having dealings with the Abilene Reporter News paper, please give us a break!! When we have to help Elaine sometime. we try our best to do the best we can. We don't know the route as well as Elaine does. You may have to look a little harder some days. Why don't you just sit back and think just how hard this is to throw the paper. Elaine does a great job and she has a lot of you spoiled. When the truck is late at 8:00 a.m. and she's been waiting since 4:30 that morning, she has to go to work at 8:00 a.m. There is no one to throw the paper but us! We help out the best we can. If it wasn't for her family, you might be a paper short that day!

Munday Couple Wed In June 9 Ceremony

Melissa Ann Stewart and Gregg Arlan Norman were married Saturday, June 9, in the First Baptist Church in Munday. The Rev. Jim Way officiated at the ceremony, which was held at six o'clock in the evening.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Stewart and Mr. and Mrs. Clint Norman, all of Munday.

Vows were exchanged before an arched candelabra flanked by two heart-shaped candelabra. The candleabra and unity candle were decorated with carnations in shades of pink, gypsophilia and greenery. Pink and white carnation bouquets were pew markers.

Lori Jetton of Brownwood, cousin of the bride, and Lynette Norman of Munday, the bridegroom's sister were candlelighters.

Providing wedding music at the organ was Mrs. Sandy King. Soloists were Keith Davis of Breckenridge and Teresa New of Haskell, the bride's cousin. Davis sang "The Lord's Prayer", and Mrs. New sang "Two Will Be One". She then sang "You and I" as a duet with Kevin Walker of Haskell.

The bride was given in marriage by her parents and escorted down the aisle by her father. She wore a formal length original gown of silk organza and Chantilly lace over English net. The bodice was studded with seed pearls and featured a low scooped neckline and sheer puffed sleeves ending in lace ruffles at the elbows. The soft full skirt was designed with a sheer overskirt draped over tiers of Chantilly lace tapering to a chapel length train. A floral wreath of white silk apple blossoms sprinkled with pearls held her veil of silk illusion edged in ribbon. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, pink and white apple blossoms, gypsophilia and Boston fern with ribbon streamers around the white Bible carried by the bride's mother at her wedding.

Mendie Stewart of Munday was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Angela Meers of Munday and Jami Jetton of Brownwood, cousin of the bride.

Heather Stewart of Haskell, the bride's cousin, was flower girl. The ring bearer was Brad Jetton of Brownwood, also a cousin of the bride.

Layne Norman of Abilene served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Mark Cook and Jim Monkres, both of Wichita Falls. Ushers were Kent Josselet and Jeff Ramirez of Munday, Danny Stewart of Haskell, uncle of the bride, and Mark and Mike Stewart of Weinert, also uncles of the bride.

Jeannine Echols registered guests at the wedding and Donna Welch presided at the reception registry.

The bride's parents hosted the reception in the fellowship hall of the church. Serving at the bride's table were Paula Waggoner, Cherie Welch and Jeanette Kuehler. Assisting at the bridegroom's table were Lynette Norman and Lori Jetton.

The bridegroom's parents were hosts for the rehearsal dinner on Friday evening in the fellowship hall.

Following a wedding trip to Dallas and other points of interest, the couple will live in Wichita Falls. They are graduates of Munday High School. The bridegroom is attending Midwestern State University and is employed by Kadane Oil Company. Mrs. Norman will be studying secretarial courses offered in Wichita Falls by Vernon Regional Junior College.

MISS BEALE, CLAYTON ENGAGED -- Mrs. Margie Beale of Abilene announces the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Denise Beale to Cyle P. Clayton, the son of Mrs. Sue Clayton of Knox City. They plan an August 11 wedding in Abilene. Denise is a junior student in Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene and Cyle is a senior student in Hardin-Simmons. They are both employed by the University.

Baking Contest Set

With many Knox City and area cooks constantly being called upon to make and donate cakes for the many different bake sales held locally, a contest for these very same cake makers is being scheduled to determine who makes the best cakes!

Being held in conjunction with the Knox City 80th Birthday Celebration, the cake baking contest is being put together by Doug Stenberg, pastor of the First United Methodist Church here in Knox City.

Different categories for the contest are for pound cakes, layered cakes, sheet cakes, angel food cakes, most original and most beautiful. All entries must be taken to the Kennel building in the City Park no later than 9:00 a.m. on Saturday, June 30. Cakes will be judged on looks, texture and flavor. Cakes entered in the competition must be on non-returnable foundations and will not be returned as they will be sold by the slice later on during the day long celebration with the funds going toward the ambulance fund. Cakes will be on display at least until 2:00 p.m. in the Kennel building. Ribbons will be awarded to the winners of the cake baking competition.

STREAMS IN DESERT PLACES
By OZELLE STEPHENS

"Dear brothers, (meaning all people). I am not writing out a new rule for you to obey, for it is an old one you have always had, right from the start...it is always new, and works for you just as it did for Jesus Christ; and as we obey his commandment, to love one another, the darkness in our lives disappears and the new light of life in Christ shines in." (1 John 2:7-8).

In the three little books of John's writings, we find some of the greatest and most wonderful truthes of the life of Jesus. John was an eye witness of Christ and he listened to him speak. He said, "I have touched him with my own hands. He is God's message of life. This is one who is life from God that has been shown to us and we guarantee that we have seen him; I am speaking of Christ, who is eternal Life. He was with the Father and then was shown to us. I am telling you about what we (other disciples) ourselves have actually seen and heard, so that you may share the fellowship and the joys we have with the Father and with Jesus Christ his Son. If you do as I say in this letter, then you, too will be full of Joy. This is the message God has given us, to pass on to you: that God is Light and in Him is, no darkness at all." (1 John 1:1-5).

Shootin' Straight

be in agony as she ran the final steps in her portion of the nation-wide cross country run. She was breathing hard and had visible tears streaming down her face as she held the torch with one hand and her side with the other. She stopped and allowed the new runner to light his torch from hers, then her torch was put out and she was quickly examined by a doctor riding in one of the vehicles. An older gentlemen wearing the unofficial uniform of the AT&T support group was given her extinguished torch as she was helped back to a medical van that bore the sign "used runners" on the front windshield.

The gentleman with the torch turned to us and asked the four of us if we would like to hold a "piece of history." After a brief moment of hestitation brought upon by nervousness, all four of us were allowed the privilege of holding the torch and passing it among ourselves while the gentleman talked with us. He was an AT&T official from Connecticut and was traveling with the support group as it made its way across the United States. Being both very friendly and informative, he told us that they were having a lot of problems keeping the runners torches lit in the west Texas wind. He went on to explain that the master flame kept in the glassed-in box on the rear of the convertible was used to relight the torch if it went out on the road. That way the continous flow of the master flame from Athens, Greece to Los Angeles was assured. He went on to explain that many of the runners were experiencing problems with the west Texas heat and many were having cramping problems. The main cadre of runners were employees of AT&T from all over the country. They kept the torch going in the areas where there were no locally sponsored runners. AT&T was shuttling employees nationwide to keep the support crew fully staffed. The gentleman that was talking with us had been with the torch run for a week, then would fly back to Connecticut for a week's work before returning to the torch run in Texas. He was to fly back home for more work and would return to the run when it was in its final week in California.

As he talked and explained the many proceedings that were happening, I had a chance to both hold and take a very close look at the torch, one of the man-made objects being used to carry the flame to the Olympic Games. It was made of brass with an antiqued brushed satin finish and proudly displayed three Greek words and an artist's rendering of the front of the Los Angeles Coliseum, the site of the 1984 Summer Olympic Games. The handle, or staff, was covered with a very soft light brown leather and was obviously designed to make it easier for the runners to carry the torches. The official explained that each torch remained lit for approximately fifty minutes and a van within the convoy was actually a rolling workshop with AT&T employees who worked on the torches and kept them ready to go.

With the new, fresh runner already off into the distance, we gave the torch a final look over and regretfully handed it back. The procession was moving off to provide the same thrill to countless others while we were left behind to remember for just a moment on the brief "piece of history" that was in our hands for so short a period of time. Our immense feeling of pride did not leave with the runners and the continuing Westward bound Olympic flame, that pride is staying with us forever.
