CPL Film Narrated By L. D. Nuckles

AUSTIN -- A new tourism movie, produced by Central Power and Light Company of Corpus Christi, "Wonderful World of Wildlife," has been presented to Governor Dolph Briscoe by CPL President Barney M. Davis.

In announcing the movie, Davis said, "CPL wanted to show the many varieties of native and imported wildlife in South Texas, and also we are very interested in the tourist industry for the growth of the state of Texas."

The 28-minute motion picture, produced by Joe Kelley Film Productions of Corpus Christi in cooperation with CPL's Advertising and Public Relations Department, features spectacular color footage of South Texas wildlife and scenic attractions. During the research and production of the movie, photographer Joe Kelley spent over two years traveling through 44 counties of South Texas.

Davis explained to Gov. Briscoe, "CPL has a long history of helping develop tourism in Texas. We have done this with movies such as this new one, by working with local and regional chambers of commerce and other community betterment groups."

"This movie, entitled 'Wonderful World of Wildlife,' shows visually some of the beautiful scenery and wildlife in the 44,000 square mile area served by the CPL," said the power company president.

The movie will be offered to television stations throughout the mid-west and will also be used in travel shows in out-of-state promotions.

"We are very aware of the work done by state agencies in promoting Texas' tourist attractions, and we are aware of your interest in developing this important part of the state's economy," said Davis. "This movie is representative of our interest in tourism development and of CPL's commitment to help."

The movie script was written by Lois Kelley, wife of the producer, and Clark Council, CPL's Public Information Manager, and narrated by L. D. Nuckles, Information Officer, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department in Rockport. Also appearing in the film are Roy Swann, Outdoor Editor, Corpus Christi Caller-Times; David Wintermann, Regional Vice-President of Ducks Unlimited; Sam Center, Game Warden, Texas Parks and Wildlife; and Jimmy Reel, Hunting Guide in Eagle Lake, Texas.

Several copies of the movie are available at no charge for showings to civic clubs and other organizations. Reservations for use of the movie will be made on a first-come, first-served basis.

Requests for the film should be made by contacting the nearest CPL business office, or by writing CPL's Advertising and Public Relations Department in Corpus Christi.

ROCKPORT FIREMEN'S AUXILIARY BAKE SALE

The Rockport Firemen's Auxiliary will hold a bake sale in conjunction with the Firemen's Barbecue on June 2 at the Lions Pit.

Hundreds of Visitors Here Memorial Day Weekend

Hundreds of persons of all ages from various parts of Texas and from other states came to the Rockport-Fulton-Lamar area to enjoy the Memorial Day Weekend.

Motels, restaurants and other places reported a brisk business, and a drive throughout the area convinced local people that the attractions offered here for short or long vacations were producing good tourism business.

The visitors found pleasure in fishing, swimming, picnicking, sailing, taking leisurely rides in motorboats, skiing, taking it easy along Rockport Beach, enjoying tasty seafood dinners, and just plain relaxing.

The four accompanying photos, depicting some of the sports occupying the time of the visitors, include:

Top: Mrs. Roger W. Nowell of London, England and two of her children, Adrienne, 7, and Roger, Jr., 4. Mr. Nowell and his family are living temporarily in Houston where he is on assignment for an oil well logging company. Mrs. Nowell and her children were photographed at Rockport Beach.

Church Court To Meet Here

Presbyters (100 laymen and 100 clergy) will be in Rockport June 1-2 for a meeting of the Presbytery of the First Presbyterian Church of the First Presbyterian Church located at Laurel and Live Oak Streets.

Presbytery del Salvador will convene at 2 p.m. Friday with the Rev. Lloyd Nixon, moderator-in-nomination, presiding until its adjournment Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Virginia von Pein, Clerk of the First Presbyterian Church Session, will welcome the presbytery in behalf of the local, host church.

Major issues before the presbytery will be mission priorities for 1974 and the financial support of those priorities. Friday night the presbytery will participate in "A Celebration" which includes supper, dialogue worship, and entertainment.

In the series of ascending courts in the government of the Presbyterian Church, the presbytery is comparable to the county in civil government. Each church in the presbytery is represented by one Ruling Elder and one Ordained Minister. Representing the Rockport Presbyterians will be Ruling Elder Herbert French with the pastor, John R. Bradshaw.

Local Presbyterians assuming organizational responsibilities and preparing to host this meeting are: Mrs. Bernita Kinsey, welcome; Mrs. Edith Cruser, N.F. Jackson, Henry von Pein, Bill Mercer, food; Tommy Griffith and Charles Vermillion, facility arrangements; Mrs. Kathy Rogero, entertainment; Jimmy Cruser, Pam Bateman, Mike Vermillion, Louanne Little, Janet Schnepf, Bob Smith, and Dolph Hiller have been invited to serve as pages during the business sessions.

Anyone wishing to be observers of this meeting will be welcome.

Little League Baseball News

The Little League season starts Friday, June 1st. Most of you know this. I wish to tell all of Aransas County something that many people do not know. We have many supporters that receive no credit for their participation in our program.

I wish to take this opportunity to thank all of our supporters and contributors. These include the City of Rockport, the Navigation Commission, many civic organizations, individual businesses, and persons too numerous to mention. Come out to the ball games, watch the boys play their best, and check the signs on our outfield fence. Thank' all of you again.

The Kinsay Report

It is pleasing to hear visitors rave about the beauty and charm of the Rockport area.

On Monday I took a drive along the bayfront to get some pictures of visitors enjoying themselves during the Memorial Day weekend. I met some interesting people and everyone had something nice to say about our community.

One young couple and their children were wading in the water at Rockport Beach. They all agreed to pose for a picture, except the youngest son who didn't want to take time off from his shell hunting.

The young mother was born in Buenos Aires, Argentina, but she and her husband and children now make London, England their home. The husband is an Englishman. The family temporarily is living in Houston where the father is doing analytical work for a well logging firm.

What did the parents think of Rockport? They thought it was great.

They explained that a friend in Houston had recommended our area for their Memorial weekend.

The visitors spoke repeatedly about the "peace and quiet, the absence of bumper-to-bumper traffic, the friendliness of the local residents, the beauty of the bays and the leaning trees."

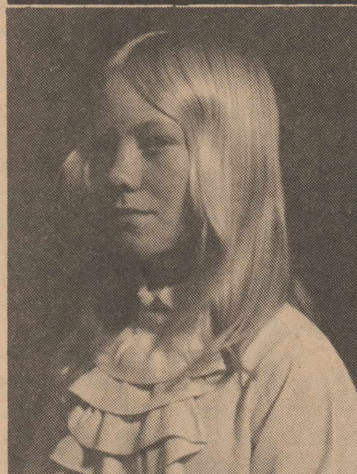

When you talk to visitors who sound like Chamber of Commerce promoters, you realize all over again what lucky people we are to live here.

LIBRARY STORY HOUR

The story hour will be held at the Aransas County Public Library on Thursday, June 7 from 10:30 until 11 a.m. Mrs. H. A. Naquin will be the reader. All pre-school children are cordially invited to attend.

WINNER OF THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF INGLESIDE LADIES CLASSIC held Sunday at Live Oak Country Club was Mrs. Norma Hagy who came in first with a 73 net. Presenting her with the trophy is Byron Cacote, president of the Ingleside bank. 15 ladies competed in the tournament.

JODY MANNING won top honors in the organ division of the recital presented by the students of Mrs. Blanche Shell in Corpus Christi, May 25. Jody has been a student of Mrs. Shell since 1968. She has won numerous trophies and ribbons for her performances. She is the daughter of Mrs. E. F. Falgout of this city, and the late William R. Manning, Jr.

Fire Department Barbecue Saturday

The annual benefit barbecue of the Rockport Volunteer Fire Department will be held Saturday, June 2 at the Rockport Lions Club pit, across the street from the Woman's Club Building, beginning at noon. Proceeds will be used to purchase fire fighting equipment.

Road Grant

★★★★ June, 1973 ★★★★★

A ship at sea—and a bride in June—
Ivy and bittersweet in Fall—
But the bride is the loveliest of all!

—Anne Mary Lawler
Although it seems hard to believe, the arrival of June brings us almost to the half-way point of 1973. By the end of the month, a fiscal year will have been completed, and 1973 will be in its second half.

June brings with it summer, commencements, weddings, school vacations and beautiful weather, and is thus, perhaps, the most welcome of all the months. In this month the days are longer than during any other month of the year; there is more daylight and less darkness.

The Allies landed in France on June 6th, 1944, in World War II, which proved to be the beginning of the end of the war.

Father's Day also falls in June (the 17th) as does the birthday of the first and only President of the Confederacy, Jefferson Davis, on the 3rd.

Estimating Your Social Security Retirement Check

Retirement just around the corner? You're probably wondering how much your social security checks will be. You'll find an approximate answer by the following table.

The information given here is limited to retirement checks. Social security also pays disability and survivors benefits, but they're not covered in this leaflet. For information about these benefits, call any social security office.

This data can give you a rough estimate, not an exact figure, of what your retirement check will be. In addition, if your retirement is some years away, it's likely that benefits will be higher than this information shows. This is because there is now a guarantee in the law that social security benefits will be inflation proof. Benefits will be increased automatically in future years to keep pace with changes in the cost of living. The first automatic increase can take place no earlier than January 1, 1975.

Your benefit check also could be different because your earnings in future years may not be exactly as you expect. When you apply for benefits at your social security office, we'll figure the exact amount of your monthly check.

You need work credits: Before you can get a social security retirement check, you need to have credit for a certain amount of work under social security. The chart below shows how much credit you need.

If you reach 62 in	You need this much credit for work
1971	5 3/4 years*
1973	6*
1975	6
1977	6 1/2
1979	7
1981	7 1/2

*Women who reach 62 in 1971 need 5 years' credit; women who reach 62 in 1973 need 5 1/2 years' credit.

No one ever needs more than 10 years of work.

If you stop working under social security before you have this much credit, you can't get retirement benefits. But the credit you've earned will stay on your record, and you can add to it if you return to work in a job covered by social security. (You can request a statement of your social security earnings at any time. You can get the request form at any social security office.)

Who can get checks: A retired worker can get full monthly checks at 65. So can his wife 65 or older and his dependent children. Reduced payments can start as early as 62 for a worker or his wife.

Here's how to estimate the amount: Follow the directions step by step and you'll find out the approximate amount of the monthly checks you'll get from social security after you retire.

STEP 1

Your retirement check is based on your average earnings over a period of years. Based on the year you were born, pick the number of years you need to count from the following chart:

Year you were born	Men	Women
1908	17 yrs.	14 yrs.
1909	18	15
1910	19	16
1911	19	17
1912	19	18
1913	19	19
1914	20	20
1915	21	21
1916	22	22
1917	23	23

Write the number of years here _____

STEP 2

Fill in the worksheet below. Column "A" shows maximum earnings covered by social security. In Column "B", list your earnings beginning with 1951. Write "0" for a year of no earnings. If you earned more than the maximum in any year, list only the maximum. Estimate your earnings for future years, including any years you plan to work past 65. Stop at the year before you retire.

STEP 3

Cross off your list the years of your lowest earnings until the number of years left is the same as your answer to Step 1. (You may have to leave some years of "0" earnings on your list.)

Add up the earnings for the years left on your list. Write this figure in the space marked TOTAL at the bottom of the worksheet and here. $

STEP 5

Divide this total by the number you wrote for Step 1. The result is your average yearly earnings covered by social security. Write the figure here. $

Look at the benefit chart at the right. Under the heading, "For Workers," find the average yearly earnings figure closest to your own. Look over to the column listing your age at retirement to see about how much you expect to get. Write the figure here. $

STEP 7

If you have an eligible wife or child, or both, look under the heading "For Dependents" to find about how much they can get, based on the same average yearly earnings you used to figure your check. Write the amount of any dependents' benefits here. $

STEP 8

Finally, add the figures you wrote for Step 6 and 7 to see about how much your total family retirement benefit will be under social security. Write the figure here. $

A word about maximum benefits: Some people think that if they've always earned the maximum amount covered by social security they will get the highest benefits shown on the chart. This isn't so. The most a man reaching 65 in 1973 can get is $266.10. The reason is that the maximum amount of earnings covered by social security was lower in past years than it is now. Those years of lower limits must be counted in with the higher ones of recent years to figure your average earnings and thus the amount of your monthly retirement check.

'n things

by

Spring and early summer bring so many things that it seems a shame that it can also bring some things that are not so good. Snakes, for instance. Snakes are really out moving around in South Texas these days and people who are going to be outdoors would do well to be a little careful where they step. Just the other day one of the secretaries in the Rockport Parks and Wildlife office found a copperhead right in the flower bed where she had been working. A flower bed is a fine place to find a snake. It's cool and shaded and the ground is nice and soft, just the kind of place he'd be looking for. You know a snake can't control the temperature of his body, he just takes on the temperature of his surroundings, so when the sun is hot he'll be looking for a nice shady place. Incidentally, a patch of wild flowers is a pretty good place to loaf, if you're a snake.

If you're one of those people who are literally terrified of a snake, any snake, I think it's time you stopped and took stock of things. I guess all of us are afraid of poisonous snakes -- and I think we should be -- but I know people who almost have hysterics if you even talk about snakes around them. This is not good. These are the kind of people who may die of fright when bitten by a non-poisonous snake, and there are a good many cases recorded where this actually happened.

I think you'll agree with me that people are most afraid of things they don't understand. The solution, then, to this abnormal terror is to get to know and understand snakes. I don't mean that this knowledge will make you lose your respect for poisonous snakes, I just mean that when you know and understand them your fear will be a little more controlled and you are not so apt to do something foolish.

If you will learn to recognize the poisonous snakes, learn their habits including what they eat, and how to avoid contact with them, you've made a big stride forward. There is no use just putting your hands over your ears when someone mentions snakes -- they're not going to go away just because you ignore them. Get a first aid kit that includes a snake bite kit and learn to use it and use it properly. Learn what not to do as well as what to do in the event you or someone around you has the misfortune to be bitten by a poisonous snake.

Be well informed, be cautious, and give these fellows the respect they deserve, but for goodness sake, get over that abnormal blind terror. Confidence in your knowledge is the best defense against this type of fear.

Buy yourself a good book on poisonous snakes and study it. If I'm not mistaken the Little Golden Book series puts out a good paperback on the subject that is very inexpensive. One of the best books I know is The Poisonous Snakes of Texas and The First Aid Treatment of Their Bites. It is published by the Parks and Wildlife Department and is available at any of their offices for 63 cents.

Just remember this, a snake can't chew his food. He must swallow anything whole so, if he does bite you -- he can't eat you. The chances are good that if you can get to a doctor within about thirty minutes, you will suffer no permanent ill effects from the bite. Know what you are doing, keep cool, and get to a doctor right away and, if possible, have somebody kill the snake and take it along with you when you go to the doctor. He likes to know exactly what he's up against and knowing the size and exact species of the snake helps him a lot.

SHRIMP LANDINGS REMAIN SAME

Shrimp landings in Texas in April 1973 amounted to 1.7 million pounds valued at $2.9 million. This was practically unchanged in volume and value from April 1972. The Brownsville-Port Isabel area led all parts with 51 percent of the State's volume, followed by Aransas Pass-Rockport, 24 percent; and Galveston-Seabrook, 9 percent. The following table represents landings of headless shrimp for specified areas and periods:

Area	April 1973	Jan.-April 1972	Jan.-April 1973
	Pounds	Pounds	Pounds
Port Arthur-Sabine	56,700	365,400	337,500
Galveston-Seabrook	154,900	890,500	771,800
Freeport	137,600	917,900	913,100
Matagorda-Palacios	22,600	111,700	117,300
Port Lavaca-Port O'Connor-Seadrift	45,700	243,400	221,000
Aransas Pass-Rockport	413,900	1,782,000	1,842,000
Brownsville-Port Isabel-Port Mansfield	871,900	4,016,900	4,116,000
TOTAL	1,703,300	8,328,900	8,318,700

Trawlers working brown shrimp in waters beyond 30 fathoms made fair to poor catches of large shrimp from southeast of Port Isabel to south of Morgan City, Louisiana. Trip catches of 100-200 pounds per night were reported from all ports. Trawlers working white shrimp made poor catches of 50-100 pounds per day adjacent to major passes. Long-range vessels working Campeche, Contoy and the high seas off eastern Mexico made trip catches of 250-400 pounds per night.

Oyster landings amounted to 4,000 barrels in April. The season was cut short by flood conditions and the subsequent closing of oyster reefs in Galveston Bay.

Blue crab landings amounted to 325,000 pounds in April. Heavy flooding conditions on the upper Texas coast enabled trawlers to catch substantial quantities of large blue crabs in shrimp trawls.

The northeast Texas coast had two severe floods in April accompanied by unusually low temperatures. Unusually high tides were prevalent throughout the month with exception of 3-4 days of strong north winds. Many bays and inshore nursery areas were fresh to slightly brackish as a result of heavy rains, consequently, small brown shrimp in upper Texas bays could not survive. Pink shrimp (hoppers) in the Upper Laguna Madre, Aransas Bay, and Corpus Christi Bay were very abundant in late April and will show quite heavy in the offshore fishing in that area by mid-May to early June. Small brown shrimp were in these systems also in late April.

Six new large vessels made maiden voyages in April. All are Texas owned and will work from Texas ports. One vessel was lost at sea.

Early Bird League

The Early Bird League ended their 1972-73 season May 25 with Armstrong Auto Parts taking first place; Ray's second and Sipe Real Estate third.

Joyce Lauer won highseries with a 714. Ida Armstrong won high game with 272. High team series was won by Ray's Texaco with a 3011. High team game was won by Little Bob's with a 1053. Most improved bowler was won by Dora Cortner.

This week's high game was bowled by Grethel Bedre a 208 with a 517 series. Dorothy Villalobos turned in a 186 game with a 521 series.

Splits that were "picked-off" were: 5-8-10 Linda Dixon; 2-7-10 Billie Allen; 5-3-10 Jeannette Mullinax; 5-9-7 Betty Latham; 8-5-10 and 2-5-7 Jerry Lou Nix; 2-7 Joyce Lauer; 3-10 Dorothy Villalobos; 3-10 and 5-10 Mable Hendricks; 5-7 Mary Dearsan; 5-7 Mary Ankele.

The season team standings are: Armstrong Auto Parts, 88 1/2 - 51 1/2; Ray's Texaco, 86-54; Sipe Real Estate 78-62; Kelly's Drive In 72-68; Little Bob's 69-71; Kinkades 64 1/2 - 75 1/2; Kim's Bar-B-Q, 61 1/2 - 78 1/2; Team #140 1/2 - 99 1/2.

Older Persons Need Fewer Calories

COLLEGE STATION - Often-puzzling weight gain for older persons, who eat less than in slimmer days, is usually due to tricky, "hidden" calories.

"Senior citizens need fewer calories each day than the middle-aged," Karen Kreipke, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A & M University, said.

"This is because of changes in body chemistry, as well as a decrease in activity.

"A woman over 55 years of age needs about the same number of calories as a child four to six years old - about 1700 calories.

"A man over 55 needs about the same number of calories as a boy 10 years old - about 2400 calories."

Miss Kreipke noted that calories "hidden" in everyday foods such as cream and sugar for coffee, gravy for bread or potatoes, and butter, margarine or jelly for toast add to the daily calorie total significantly. She tallied the "hidden" calories in those foods.

"One cup black coffee or tea has no calories, while adding a tablespoon of light cream and a teaspoon sugar gives it 47 calories.

"One cup of skim milk has 90 calories, while one cup whole milk has 160.

"A half cup mashed potatoes has 62 calories, but adding milk and butter gives it about 90.

"One slice of bread has 70 calories -- a teaspoon and a half of butter or margarine adds 50 more calories. Count 25 more calories for a teaspoon and a half of jelly."

To solve the dilemma of high-calorie desserts, Miss Kreipke suggested fruits.

AIRMAN LONGORIA AT FORT HOOD, TEXAS

ALAMOGORDO, N.M.-- Airman First Class Jose E. Longoria, son of Mr. and Mrs. Santiago Longoria of 115 Kelly Lane, Rockport, took part recently in a giant U.S. Readiness Command training exercise at Ft. Hood, Texas.

Airman Longoria, a U.S. Air Force munitions maintenance specialist with the F-4 Phantom - equipped 49th Tactical Fighter Wing at Holloman AFB, N.M., was among more than 30,000 Army, Air Force, Air National Guard and Air Force Reserve personnel participating in the operation.

The exercise -- dubbed "Gallant Hand" -- was the second series of large - scale maneuvers planned by the Readiness Command. An armored division, elements of a cavalry division and Air Force tactical airlift, fighter and reconnaissance units were employed in simulated combat operations.

The airman's unit is part of the Tactical Air Command which provides air support for U.S. ground forces.

He is a 1971 graduate of A. C. Jones High School, Beeville, Texas.

Children Learn About Community

On May 23 Mrs. Perkins' second grade class from Rockport Elementary School visited the county library, courthouse, jail, and police and fire stations. The field trip was in connection with a social studies unit on community helpers the class had studied earlier in the school year.

The children were most impressed with the number of people who work to make Aransas County and Rockport a safe and a good place to live.

G. I. Bill For Vietnam Veterans

College graduates have an average lifetime income that is $237,000 more than persons with only a high school diploma -- $608,000 compared to $371,000.

The earning averages from Department of Labor studies were pointed out by A. A. Hunter, VA Regional Office Director, in urging the use of G.I. Bill training by Vietnam veterans.

Under the G. I. Bill, school-bound single veterans receive $220 a month for full time training, up to a maximum of 36 months of school attendance, or a total of $7,920. The monthly allowance is increased for veterans with dependents.

The G. I. Bill has other features. Veterans enrolled in high school studies also receive monthly allowance without a charge against basic eligibility, so that full G. I. Bill entitlement is retained for college attendance.

Those veterans in college on a half-time or more basis can now be tutored. Under the G.I. Bill, VA will pay veterans up to $50 a month for a maximum of $450 for tutorial assistance. Again, there is no charge against the veterans basic entitlement, Mr. Hunter pointed out.

Details are available at any VA office, or from the various veterans service organizations.

Questions and Answers

Q. I'm a college student, and I get monthly social security checks. I work at both a part-time and a summer job and, because I earned $2,500 last year, I had to refund an overpayment to social security at the end of the year. How can I prevent this same thing from happening again this year?

A. If you know your earnings for this year will exceed $2,100, notify your social security office right away. If you know how much you will earn this year, your checks will be stopped only for the number of months required to make certain you are not overpaid for the year.

Q. I'll be 62 this June when I retire. Since I was born in Germany, the only proof of age I have is a baptismal certificate, issued when I was a year old, but it is written in German. A friend told me I might have trouble when I try to use it because it's in German. Is my friend right?

A. No. Since your baptismal certificate was issued before you were 5 years of age, it is a preferred proof. Bring the certificate with you when you apply for retirement benefits. We'll translate it into English and return the original to you.

Q. I sent an old X-ray bill dated September 1970 along with some recent bills to Medicare. Although I received payment on the recent bills, I got nothing on the X-ray bill. A note in the letter said the deadline for submitting this bill had passed. Can you give me the deadline for sending in Medicare bills?

A. For doctor and other medical services you receive from January through September, you must file the bills by December 31 of the next year. For services you receive from October through December, the bills must be sent in by December 31 two years later.

Q. I started receiving reduced social security retirement checks last year when I turned 62. I am now 63 and have suffered a stroke. Can I apply for monthly disability payments?

A. Yes. If you are found eligible to receive disability benefits, your retirement benefits will be changed over to disability benefits. You cannot collect benefits under both the disability and the retirement programs at the same time. Your monthly disability payments would be higher than those you receive now under the retirement program.

Q. I'm 63 and I'm getting married in 2 months to a man who's getting monthly disability checks from social security. Does this mean I'll also receive a check as his wife after we get married?

A. Probably, but not immediately. A woman usually must wait 1 year after her marriage to become entitled to wife's checks.

Q. My 28-year-old son, who has been disabled since birth, gets social security checks on his father's earnings record. He has been getting checks for nearly 5 years. Can he get Medicare coverage starting this July?

A. Yes. Disabled people who've been getting monthly social security checks for 24 months or longer can get Medicare coverage starting July 1. They will get hospital and medical insurance automatically but will be given a chance to decline the medical insurance, for which a monthly premium must be paid.

Q. I'm now getting reduced retirement benefits, and I'll be 65 in August. When can I sign up for Medicare?

A. You won't have to sign up. Since you are already getting checks, you will be enrolled automatically for both hospital and medical insurance when you are eligible. There's a monthly premium payment for the medical insurance, but you can decline the coverage if you want to.

Q. When I become 62 this year, I want to retire and get social security benefits, but I can't find any document to prove my date of birth. Now what can I do?

A. Get in touch with any social security office, and the people there will be glad to help you. Although you may not have a copy of a birth or baptismal certificate, one of these may still be shown on official records. If not, there are other documents, such as a census record, a school record, or an insurance policy, that can be used to establish your age.

Q. My 20-year-old daughter attends college and gets monthly student payments from social security since her father died. She's getting married on February 4 and we have notified social security of this. I know her checks will stop when she gets married, but will she receive a check on February 3?

A. Yes. The check she will get on February 3 is a check for the month of January, when she was not married. Her February 3rd check will be her last one.

Tax Payers Ask IRS

Q -- My return was chosen for examination by the IRS. Does this mean that I'm going to owe more tax?

A -- The selection of your income tax return for examination does not necessarily mean that you owe more tax. Your return may be selected if there is a question about some item of income or deduction, if you have reported some income that is not taxable, or have deducted some unallowable expense. In such cases, the IRS may also want to insure that the other information on the return is correct. Or you may have filed a claim for refund, and your return may be examined to make sure that the proper amount of tax is refunded to you.

Q -- If, after an audit, the IRS says I owe more tax, does this mean that I automatically have to pay it?

A -- No. If you disagree with the results of an IRS examination, you may appeal that decision at a conference with a member of the IRS District Conference Staff and subsequently at a hearing with the Service's Appellate Division. And if you wish, you may have someone represent or accompany you at these stages. If the issue is not settled at these proceedings, you may petition the U. S. Tax Court or pay the tax and file suit in Federal district court.

For more details, see IRS Publication 556, "Audit of Returns, Appeal Rights and Claims for Refund." It's available free by contacting your local IRS office.

Q -- My son is taking a summer job between school semesters. If he makes more than $750, will I be able to claim him as a dependent?

A -- In general, if your son is a full-time student for some part of each of five months during 1973 or is less than 19 years old at the end of the year, you may claim him as a dependent, regardless of how much income he has, if you meet all the other dependency tests, including furnishing more than one-half of your son's total support.

Q -- I pay a maid to come in once a week to clean up. Do I have to pay Social Security tax on what I pay her?

A -- If you pay an employee a total of $50 or more in cash wages in calendar quarter for household services, you must pay Social Security tax for the employee.

Household services include those performed by cooks, cleaning women, babysitters, and handymen.

The taxes apply to all cash wages paid during the quarter, regardless of when they were earned and whether they were paid by the day, the week, or the month. Food, lodging, and car-fare are not considered wages unless cash is given for these items.

Use Form 942, "Employer's Quarterly Tax Return for Household Employees," to report this tax. The form and instructions are available at your local Internal Revenue Service office.

Home & Garden Club Installs Officers

Mrs. T. N. McArdle was installed May 24 as the incoming president for 1973-74 by the Rockport Home and Garden Club.

The salad luncheon and installation ceremony was held in the home of Mrs. E. N. Adams.

Thanks were given to each officer and member for the enthusiasm, dedication and labor it took to make the past year a year of accomplishments and growth for the club. Mrs. Stubbs was presented with a gold charm by members.

Mrs. T. N. McArdle stated that although this is the final meeting until September the Yard-of-the-Month program will be continued through the summer months.

Adverse Spring Weather Affects Shrimp Prospects

AUSTIN -- Late spring cold snaps and coastal floods spell bad news for this season's shrimp production, according to Parks and Wildlife Department coastal fisheries biologists.

Prospects for the coming brown shrimp season in the bays and Gulf of Mexico are rated from poor to only fair.

Alan Moffett, department shrimp research project leader, points to the weather as the main cause for such a gloomy outlook.

"In early April," said Moffett, "we found an abundance of young brown shrimp in Galveston Bay nursery areas. Since the north of early April, we have found few small brown shrimp."

Moffett reports that the water temperatures in some of the nursery areas at that time were as low as 52 degrees and, coupled with low salinities, the conditions were probably too adverse for the young shrimp to survive.

No brown shrimp were found in sampling Sabine Lake on the Louisiana border.

Further down the coast in the Aransas Bay area, temperatures were low but salinity remained more favorable and moderate numbers of shrimp were found.

Production from the Lower Laguna Madre is expected to be fair.

Unfortunately, most of the shrimp harvested from the adjoining Gulf waters are produced in nursery areas on the upper coast.

Few larval shrimp migrated to the bay areas after the cold spells. Thus, there is little hope for the movement of a later wave of browns to the Gulf shrimp grounds.

Young browns which enter the bays in March make up the bulk of the July and August landings.

Last year, the Texas shrimp harvest was valued at a record-breaking $80 million. The shrimp industry is the nation's most valuable fishery.

Based on their samplings, department biologists have recommended the standard closing of the Gulf shrimp season from June 1 to July 15.

The Texas Shrimp Conservation Act provides for a mandatory 45-day closed season but the Parks and Wildlife Commission has the authority to move the season forward or backward as far as 15 days to protect undersized brown shrimp migrating from the bays.

It is too early to predict prospects for the fall white shrimp season.

Young whites are just beginning to enter the bays. This species of shrimp prefers a lower salinity but the near freshwater conditions of the upper bays may be too extreme for them as well as the brown shrimp.

Rockport Firemen's Auxiliary Meets

The Rockport Firemen's Auxiliary met May 22 for their social meeting. President Ivala Hinz called the meeting to order. Fourteen members answered roll call.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

There was a discussion on the bake sale to be held on June 2 in conjunction with the Firemen's Barbecue.

It was decided for all members riding on the fire truck in the Aransas County Riding Association Parade on June 2, to be at the Fire Station at 9:30 a.m.

There being no other business, the president turned the meeting over to the program chairman, Kathy Ratliff.

Kathy had planned a surprise stork shower for Mrs. Mike Swearingen (Cricket). Three interesting games were played. The winners were Evalon Redden, Lois Gurley and Ivala Hinz. Their prizes were, "Things for Baby," which they gave to Cricket. Joan Truelove assisted Cricket in opening the gifts.

A social hour followed. The pink and blue theme was carried out. Refreshments of assorted cookies, mints, nuts and punch were served to Cricket Swearingen, Joan Truelove, Gwynne Howland, Katherine McLester, Evalon Redden, Ivala Hinz, Kathy Ratliff, Sadie Smith, Betty Boddie, Sarah Belle Smith, Mary Lee Frizzell, Lois Gurley, Frances Redden and Teet Mullinax.

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

Bertram S. Brown, M.D.
Director
National Institute of Mental Health

A new careers training program, designed to increase the scope and effectiveness of community mental health services, is being launched.

The program will aid state and local efforts to recruit and train the new types of personnel needed to serve geographic areas and population groups that have been neglected by traditional mental health services.

The term of these workers, "New Careerists", will be broadly defined. It will include individuals who will be trained to do new mental health jobs such as outreach, or going out into the community and neighborhoods to work with people, and patient advocacy, or workers who will serve to help mental patients by representing their interests and aiding them in various ways to get help during their illness and the recovery and rehabilitation period.

The program will also involve the training of persons for some of the kinds of work and jobs that have been previously considered to be the exclusive domain of more highly trained professionals, such as psychologists, social workers, psychiatric nurses, and psychiatrists.

In other words, "New Careerists" will become important members of the treatment team in a variety of community and hospital settings, particularly in areas where mental health services are now in short supply.

About one and a half million dollars has been earmarked for the next year to support this kind of training, which will be administered by the Division of Manpower and Training Programs of the National Institute of Mental Health.

Grants will be awarded for carrying on the training to educational institutions, community agencies, community mental health centers, and hospitals.

This new program is part of our continuing effort to attack mental illness through the help of trained workers employed in a wide variety of mental health activities. Manpower is in critically short supply, yet there are rewarding and satisfying job opportunities for young and old in many fields of mental health today.

Questions And Answers to Veterans Benefits

Q -- What is this work-study program for veterans I keep hearing about?

A -- A program authorized under a recent law which allows the Veterans Administration to advance up to $250 in extra allowances to veterans enrolled in the agency's education programs. In return, the veteran agrees to work up to 100 hours for the agency.

Q -- Is VA hiring its share of Vietnam Era veterans to help reduce unemployment among this group?

A -- Yes. VA is a leader in this area. The more than 18,000 Vietnam Era veterans working as paid employees make up about 9 1/2 percent of the agency's total work force.

Q -- Is there any truth to a statement I heard that the Veterans Administration touches the lives of nearly half of the U. S. population?

A -- That's a fairly accurate statement. In fact, benefits and services the agency provides are potentially available to 47.1 percent of our nation's population, either directly to veterans and surviving dependents, or indirectly to members of veterans' families.

Q -- If a veteran's widow who draws death pension benefits is a patient in a nursing home and is in need of regular aid and attendance, is she eligible for additional pension?

A -- Yes, she is entitled to an additional special monthly pension of $55 under the current law. Widows requiring regular aid and attendance are entitled to an additional $50 monthly under the "old" law.

Q -- A relative, a veteran of World War I, needs domiciliary care. Is this care available at VA facilities?

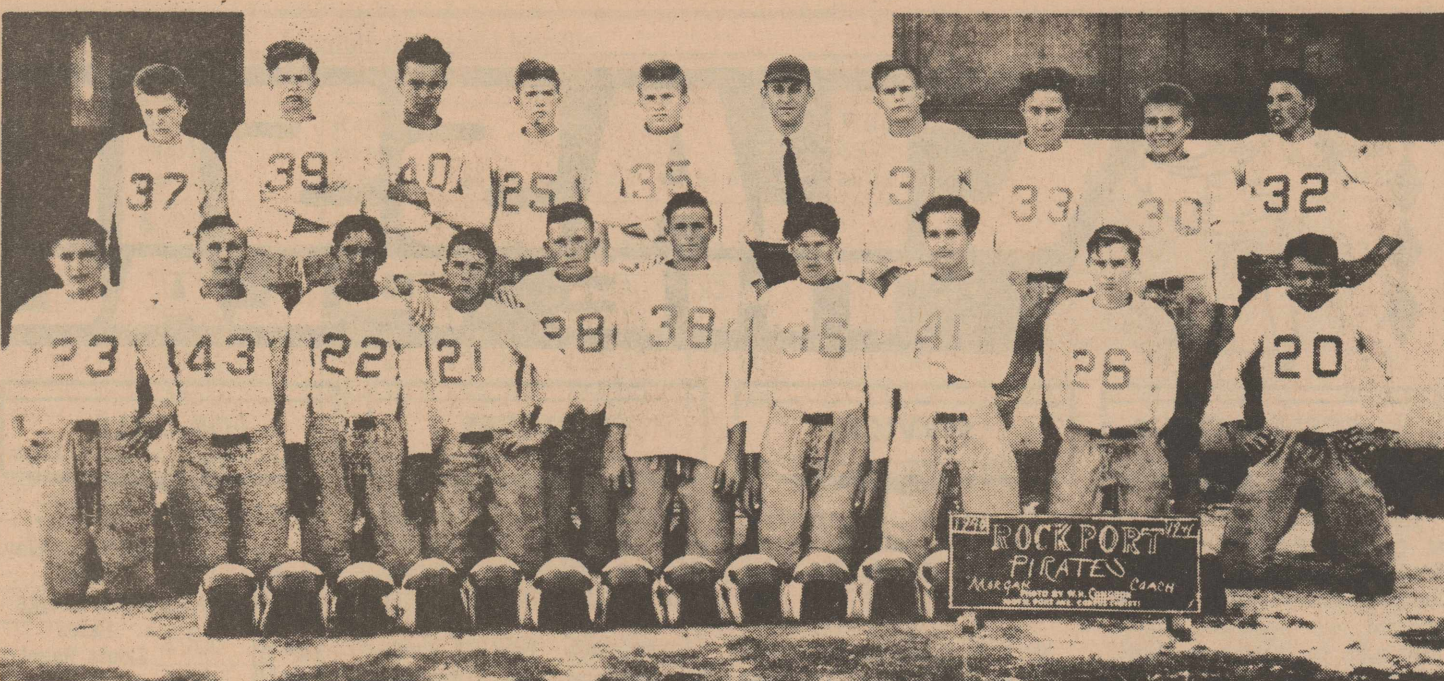

A -- Yes, VA has 16 of these facilities. Suggest you advise your relative of this. Any VA office will help him file an application for this benefit.

Q -- I received a VA pension check made out to my husband who died last month. Shall I return it, and if I do, will VA re-issue the check to me?

A -- Yes, you must return the check. If you are eligible for a widow's pension, your first check from VA will be issued at your husband's rate of payment, if his rate was greater than yours. Thereafter, you will receive checks at widow's pension rates.

Q -- With diminishing space in national cemeteries, I have been wondering whether I might be buried in a VA cemetery. Can the money VA pays for burial be used this way?

A -- VA does not have a cemetery system of its own. It has a few small plots near VA hospitals and domiciliary where veterans who have died in these facilities have been buried, but most of this space is now full. Chances are you could not be buried anywhere near your home if you chose one of the few available plots. The VA burial expense payment can be made regardless of the burial place.

Q: What cutoff date has been set for veterans' benefits for the Vietnam War?

A: No such date has been set. The Vietnam Era is still continuing for purposes of eligibility for veterans benefits.

Q: I hear rumors about a device that will give sight to the totally blind. Is this VA prosthetics? Is there such a device?

A: You have heard of a concept still in the early research stage and nowhere near ready for prosthetics development. In March 1973, medical newspapers reported that a neurologist from Albert Einstein College of Medicine believes such a device eventually may be possible if the concept of electrocortical stimulation proves feasible.

Q: How much time do I have to get my schooling under the G. I. Bill?

A: Education or training under the current G. I. Bill must be completed within eight years of separation from military service or by May 31, 1974, whichever is later.

Q: How many amputees are there from the Vietnam War?

A: There are somewhat more than 5,000 among the 6.3 million Vietnam Era veterans. Of the 5,000 about 1,000 have more than one amputation. Of the total, about 4,500 are leg amputees.

ART TOPICS

PREPARED BY THE PHILADELPHIA COLLEGE OF ART

THOMAS EAKINS
A PAINTER AHEAD OF HIS TIME

Thomas Eakins, who lived most of his life in Philadelphia and died in 1916, was a painter considered to be one of the foremost realists in American art.

Eakins was interested in anatomy, mathematics and science, as well as painting, but he decided upon a career as a painter and, in 1866, went to Paris where he spent three years in rigorous study at the Ecole des Beaux-Arts (School of Fine Arts). He later studied for a time in Spain where he was much influenced by the works of the 17th century Spanish painters, especially Velasquez whom he always acknowledged his ideal.

In 1870, at the age of 26, he returned to Philadelphia; there, he set up his own studio in his father's house and continued his studies of anatomy at Jefferson Medical College.

In these early years, he painted the life he saw around him, simple domestic scenes, his family and friends, Philadelphia views. He liked sporting subjects, boxing matches, sailing and sculling races, lone rowers in the Schuylkill. All his work was powerfully realistic, but even the calmest most matter-of-fact scenes exposed intense feelings just below the surface. In later years, when he turned almost exclusively to portraiture, it was this gift of psychological penetration which gave his works their special vitality.

Eakins began instructing at the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts in 1876. In 1882 he became its director. During his tenure there, he succeeded in changing radically the basic course of study. He included in the curriculum a thorough study of the nude body, incorporating anatomy and dissection, and a study of scientific perspective. These innovations, which seem innocuous today, were revolutionary in his time.

Although his methods exerted a very healthy influence, they were in constant conflict with the prudish tastes of his day. In his fervor to teach the kind of candid anatomy he had himself been taught in Paris, he one day undraped a male model before a mixed class and so scandalized the authorities that he was forced to resign.

A group of his students left the Academy with him and subsequently started the Art Students League of Philadelphia, an institution which lasted for about six years with Eakins as its principal.

Portrait of Eakins by his Wife

He was also an expert photographer and in the late 1880's he made many valuable photographic studies of human and animal locomotion. Although he is best known as a painter, Eakins was also a sculptor. His interest in both sculpture and photography affected his mode of painting. He often photographed his subjects before painting them, and, in many cases, he also made studies in clay of the people or scenes he was planning to paint. It is not surprising, therefore, to hear art critics discuss the "sculptural" qualities of his works.

Eakins' portraits are always arresting to see. He was a master at portraying the human body and features, but he was also uncompromising in exposing complexities and elements of character, which did not always please his sitters. His famous painting "The Gross Clinic" depicts a surgical operation in progress; its powerful realism shocked a large portion of the public, but established his reputation as undisputed leader in a new field of naturalism.

As is generally true with pioneers, Eakins was not appreciated by his contemporaries. He lived and painted in an age which glorified the exotic and ornate, while he succeeded in finding the classic and heroic in the commonplace. Shortly before his death, he was honored and recognized, but it was left to later generations to accord him the stature he deserved.

Sheryl Wells, nine year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David W. Wells of Holiday Beach, is for the second year National winner, elementary class in the National Piano Auditions, and has twice received the certificate from the National Guild of Piano Teachers and the National Fraternity of Student Musicians.

Her teacher is Mrs. Helen McCullough of Aransas Pass.

Sheryl completed her third year at Fulton Elementary School this year.

MRS. ARNETT M. LANE DIES

Funeral services for Mrs. Arnett M. Lane, 51, of Rockport, were held Saturday in the Westbrook Funeral Home in Beebe, Ark., with burial in the Butterfield Cemetery in Butterfield, Ark.

A native of August, Ark., she had lived in Rockport about four years. She retired in 1971 after working for Sears Roebuck and J. C. Penney. Her given name was Louise.

Survivors include her husband; one son, Merrill Lynn Lane; one daughter, Mrs. Stephen Hadley, all of Rockport; her mother, Mrs. Lula Norman of Beebe; five brothers, Jack Norman of Pasadena, Texas, Joe Norman of Little Rock, Ark., Fred Norman of Beebe, Jesse Norman of Wichita, Kan., and Talley Norman of Floyd, Ark.; and two sisters, Mrs. E. B. Rndg of Pensacola, Fla., and Mrs. Roger Hinsen of Alamo.
