Pampa And Follett Students Lead As District Meet Is Held

RIVALRY KEEN AS FAVORITES OFTEN BEATEN

LOCAL GIRL DEBATERS WIN IN CLOSING CONTEST

Eager students, hungry for inter-school athletic L. J. Tautels, battled throughout a cold and dusty Saturday to bring to conclusion the district 2 meet, in which Pampa high school took Class A honors, Follett the 2 in Class B, and Panhandle's ward and Pampa's Horace Mann took a tie. The standing included all events, including track and field.

By classes the results were:

Pampa's feminine debating team composed of Betty Jo Townsend and Goldie Blodgett took first place by very consistent work. They were defeated by Doyle Osborne. They defeated Follett in the finals.

Clarendon boys won over Follett's boys in the other debate. The winners were Jimmie Bourland and Sam Barrow.

Competition in the various events was especially strong this year. Many favorites were defeated. Supr. R. B. Fisher was director general of the meet, with E. N. Dendard as his executive assistant. ### Pampa NEWS Starts 29th Year Today

This is Volume 29, Number 1. The NEWS today starts its 29th year of service in this community.

It was founded April 6, 1907. The original name was "The Crony," but this was soon changed to the more traditional one of NEWS.

After the discovery of oil, the newspaper was changed from a weekly to a semi-weekly in 1925. Then on March 10, 1927, it became an afternoon daily. Since then it has built and occupied its own building, purchased some of the best equipment obtainable, and grown steadily in circulation and services.

Today THE NEWS is at its peak in every particular and making progress with the big territory it covers.

Babs' Friend

James Blakely, above, Hollywood actor, caused speculation about Princess Barbara Hutton Midvants' matrimonial intentions by rushing to Reno, where she has established residence for a divorce. He is reported to be a lifelong friend and childhood sweetheart of the heiress.

WEATHER FIEND PROVIDES TEXAS DISH OF MISERY

Hail, Dust And Rain Attack Various Sections

By The Associated Press. One person was reported drowned and two others seriously injured as destructive high winds, scattered hail storms, dust and rain formed the mixed weather map in Texas Saturday.

The Rio Grande went on a four-foot rise at Laredo as result of flood water coming down from hard rainfall earlier in the week in the Eagle Pass district. Rafael Angel Gonzales, 15, disappeared in the current when he went into the water ahead of three companions for a swim. The companions gave alarm and a search was started. The body had not been recovered Saturday night.

At Corrigan two persons were injured seriously, a dozen others miraculously escaped with slight injuries and more than 25 farm homes were demolished when a twister swept through the farm community.

P. O. Grounds To Be Beautified; Bid Is Accepted

The bid of Mrs. C. B. Whitehead of Fort Worth, for beautification of the grounds around the Pampa postoffice was accepted by the public works branch of the treasury department. Postmaster D. E. Cecil was notified yesterday.

Work is to start immediately and be completed in 120 working days. The contract calls for Mrs. Whitehead to provide all labor, material, and work required in seeding and planting shrubs and trees around the building. Mrs. Whitehead's bid was $574. Other bids were submitted by Fred Schneider and Bruce Nurseries.

The specifications calls for the setting out of 18 junipers, three red cedars, two pines, two hollies, 11 winter honeysuckles, 15 tamarix, five cranberries, 11 spiraea, 3 Siberian pees, three mock oranges, six red honeysuckle shrubs and seven Chinese elms. Also the placing of a hedge around the front of the lawn facing Foster avenue and the planting of grass.

Postmaster Cecil had not received word yesterday when the work would be started. He expected Mrs. Whitehead to come to Pampa some time next week.

HAMILTON EXECUTION DUE IN MONTH

RAY REFUSES TO CONVERSE ABOUT CHAIR

MOTHER TO TAKE PLEA TO GOVERNOR ALLRED

HUNTSVILLE, April 6. (AP)—Raymond Hamilton, the southwest's most notorious surviving outlaw, returned today to his old cell. No seven, in the Texas penitentiary death house.

From that cell Hamilton broke out last July 22. Joe Palmer, awaiting electrocution on the same charge under which Hamilton faces death, that of killing a prison farm guard during a break in January, 1934, was transferred to Anderson in Grimes county, shortly after Ray arrived. Palmer was sentenced by Judge S. W. Dean to be electrocuted May 10.

Hamilton probably will be resented Monday or Tuesday.

Worn from his flights from the law, and chained hand and foot, the slight condemned desperado presented a sorry sight as he hobbled into prison.

There he changed his frayed blue shirt and baggy trousers for clean white prison garb which bore the grim reminder, "D. C.", for the death cell.

The return of Hamilton closed the books on the only successful break in history from the Texas death house.

Hamilton's cell was next to that of Palmer. On the other side was Virgil Stalcup, awaiting electrocution for the slaying of a West Texas sheriff.

Three automobiles filled with officers made up the caravan which happened again.

Raymond Hamilton will not have an opportunity to gain break from the state penitentiary.

Lee Simmons, superintendent of the state penitentiary, gave his word to that today before he left with the young hoodlum to whom, in the past, jail bars did not a prison make.

"Ray accomplished the impossible when he broke out of the death house," Simmons said. "But it can't happen again, and he knows it."

Guarded the young desperado en route from Dallas to Huntsville, captured last night without resistance in the Port Worth railroad yards by a party headed by Sheriff Smoot Schmidt of Dallas.

Hamilton was asked if he wanted to say anything more to newspapermen from his death cell. He replied that he did not, but added they might give him a dollar for some cigarettes.

Only about 50 persons gathered at the prison to witness Hamilton's "homecoming." They craned their necks in silence as he got out of the automobile and walked uncertainly up the steps and into the warden's office.

He appeared tired and depressed, but his guards on the 185-mile journey said he had not yet resigned himself to the prospect of electrocution.

"He wouldn't talk about the chair at all," Simmons said. "When we asked him about it, he constantly talked as though he thought there was a chance of escaping it."

Death Date To Be Set

When his electrocution date is set, Hamilton will be taken down the

World Hung On Their Words

With the whole world awed by Germany's blunt defiance of the Versailles Treaty, history was in the making as the Reich's rearmament demands were outlined at the momentous conference pictured here at the Chancellery in Berlin. Their tense faces revealing the gravity of the occasion, three of the leading Anglo-German conferees are seen in earnest conversation—Sir John Simon, left, British foreign minister; Konstantin von Neurath, German foreign minister, and Chancellor Adolf Hitler.

DIRECT ATTACK MADE BY IOWAN ON ROOSEVELT

Absolves Brain Trust Of Responsibility For Failures

ROANOKE, Va., April 6. (AP)—A direct attack upon President Roosevelt was made tonight by a republican leader, Senator L. J. Dickinson of Iowa, with a declaration that the "short-comings of the New Deal, recovery plans can no longer be charged to the brain trust."

His direct arraignment of the president, delivered in this southern state that deserted the democratic ranks to swing to Herbert Hoover in 1928, marked one of the few times that foes of the New Deal swung from attack upon that title to place responsibility for what they term its failure upon Mr. Roosevelt.

Dickinson has been mentioned as a prospective republican candidate for president in 1936 and his address tonight was regarded as particularly significant in view of known efforts by republican campaign strategists to have Mr. Roosevelt personally bear the brunt of party attack.

Senator Dickinson tonight opened with an assertion that "the sky is growing darker and no man knows what the weather will be tomorrow."

Repeatedly he cited Roosevelt's campaign statements to support the contention they are far different from present administration policies.

Verily," Dickinson said, "candidate Roosevelt is a total stranger to President Roosevelt."

The senator told a Virginia con-

CLEAN-UP TO BEGIN MONDAY IN COMMUNITY

City's Garbage Force To Make Project Effective

Fire Prevention Clean-up week will open tomorrow and continue through Saturday. It is an official period, having been proclaimed by Mayor W. A. Bratton.

This clean-up will mean more than previous ones because of the availability of the big fleet of trucks used by the City in its garbage removal system.

Although each day will be designated for special study and giving of attention to some phase of building a safe and clean city, the campaign will not end with this week. The Garden club and other organizations are urging that Pampa be made a more sightly home-owners' town.

Filling stations and such businesses are being urged to plant flowers and create miniature parkways. Managers of junkyards will be urged to keep their places as sightly as possible by providing some order in their placing of discarded.

Citizens can make clean-up week effective by thorough cleaning of their premises and piling the trash in alleys where the city trucks can remove it.

Carl Benefiel Orders Material For Dozen Floats

Carl Benefiel, chairman of the Pre-Centennial floats committee, has ordered material to be used in construction of a dozen floats that will be seen in the Pre-Centennial parade during the celebration here June 6 and 7. The floats, to be built on wagons and drawn by horses, will be on the theme, "Texas History Stories." They will be built by local labor under the direct supervision of Mr. Benefiel.

Jess Wynne, chairman of the horse and wagon committee, announced that he has "spotted" enough vehicles and horses for the floats.

A feature of the Pioneers Roundup programs this year will be dramatizations of memorable incidents in Panhandle history. Invaluable information for the skits was obtained from T. D. Hobart, Panhandle pioneer. These dramatized incidents will lend color and interest to the Pioneer Roundup programs at night when square dancing will be held, it was said.

L. J. Ward of LeFors transacted business here yesterday afternoon.

ATTORNEY FOR HAMLIN FINED FOR CONTEMPT

PROSECUTION TRIES TO SHATTER INSANITY DEFENSE

AMARILLO, April 6. (AP)—Efforts to batter down George S. Hamlin's insanity plea were launched by prosecutors today as the former California fireman's murder trial reached the end of its fourth week.

Hamlin is charged with beating his wife to death with a hammer in their "honeymoon home" here last January 4.

Sheriff Bill Adams and bailiff Claude Loney testified that they believed the defendant to be of sound mind.

Dr. A. T. Hanratta, of the state hospital for insane at Wichita Falls, was placed on the stand by the state, but his testimony was interrupted by defense objections to a lengthy hypothetical question. He will be returned to the stand Monday.

A near fight between E. T. Miller, defense counsel, and Cliff Hudspeth, state rebuttal witness, enlivened today's session. Each rose and advanced toward the other when Miller shouted:

"You're a liar, and the truth's not in you!"

Officers stepped in to prevent further difficulties.

Judge E. C. Nelson held Miller in contempt of court and fined him $100. For subsequent remarks, the attorney was fined another $50.

Hamlin's insanity plea was assessed against him since the trial started March 11.

Ownership of an automobile defense witnesses had testified was at the Hamlin home frequently prior to the slaying was established by the state. Dorothy and Lucille Hare, of Abilene, nieces of the slain woman, and Juanita Timmons, of Amarillo, testified that the car was owned by a young man who came to see Miss Timmons while she was visiting in the Hamlin home.

Oklahoma Lawyer And Wife Burn To Death In Accident

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 6. (AP)—Trapped in their burning car when it careened against a Washita river bridge, one mile west of Wynnewood and overturned, J. C. Helms, 50, wealthy Oklahoma City attorney and his wife were burned to death today.

Four highway department workers and motorists rushed to the scene but were unable to rescue the two. Helms was believed to have been killed almost instantly. Screams of Mrs. Helms died away as the highway employees fought frantically to reach her.

Helms, for years a republican leader, had been practicing law here for 25 years. No children survive.

TRUSTEES RE-ELECTED

LEFORS, April 6.—Ben Williams and Floyd Bull, incumbents, are re-elected trustees of the LeFors independent school district yesterday. Williams led the ticket with 175 votes. Bull was second with 118 votes.

Dr. J. L. York, the third candidate, received 86 votes. Only two vacancies occurred on the board this year.

Spy: Smiles

The fact that she and her husband, both American citizens, were being tried for espionage evidently failed to depress Mrs. Robert G. Switz, shown above smiling in a Paris courtroom. Although it was reported that the couple would be freed and deported as a reward for help they had given French police, their trial for allegedly taking part in extensive peacetime spying, has continued.

The 17 democrats members of that committee insisted the new bill was the complementary and essential second half of an attack on social insecurity, naming the $4,880,000,000 work relief bill as the other half. They definitely placed the social security bill on the president's "must" legislative lists.

But the seven committee republicans, in a minority report bristling with criticism, termed the measure not only "unconstitutional" and "inadequate" but argued "it might in fact retard economic recovery."

At the same time the intra-party disputes continued. The 103 house republicans were unable to agree on a unified attitude. The 319 democrats were definitely divided into two groups, one favoring and the other opposing a suggestion that the bill be brought up next week under procedure forbidding amendments from the floor.

Ways and means committee democrats wanted the gag rule to forestall liberalization of the bill. House leaders opposed it. There was a possibility that the question would be taken to a democratic caucus Monday and initial floor consideration of the bill delayed until Wednesday or later.

Amid all this contention, Townsends in both parties looked for an opportunity to offer their proposals as a substitute for the old-age pensions in the approved bill.

Rehabilitation Program Will Be Begun In County

A rural rehabilitation program will be started immediately in Gray county. Mrs. W. H. Davis, Gray county administrator, attended a meeting in Amarillo Friday when J. E. Stanford, state director, outlined the project.

The rehabilitation program is designed to remove farm families from direct relief rolls.

"We must give every man a chance, and we will, just as far as our money goes," Stanford stated.

Purpose of Friday's meetings was to conduct a survey to learn the status of rural families on relief in the Panhandle, the state director said. The morning session was spent in discussion of the survey. Individual problems of county administrators were discussed in the afternoon.

Only persons residing outside of incorporated or unincorporated towns or cities who rely on the soil for their major income will receive benefits of the program.

Mrs. Davis estimated yesterday that 50 Gray county families would be taken from relief rolls through the new move to reduce relief cases.

The program will be outlined in detail to those eligible for participation.

Marshall Man Killed In Fray

MARSHALL, April 6. (AP)—Preston Scott, 55, died at 3:40 p. m. today from a wound received in an affray in the office of Sheriff John Sanders.

Police Sergeant E. H. Travis, who was under $2,000 bond in connection with the wounding of Scott today, would be rearrested, authorities said under a charge of murder and a new bond would be set.

Travis surrendered to deputies after a fight with Scott, which ended, witnesses said, when the officer pulled out a pistol and fired three times.

One of the bullets struck Scott in the right hip.

Frailey Automobile Is Stolen In City

H. W. Frailey reported to city officers the loss of his 1931 Victoria coupe, left parked in front of LeVine's store on South Cuyler street Friday night. The car bore license number 413-433. Up to last night the police had not found the car.

The police had a very quiet week. Last night was also fairly peaceful, only three arrests being made up to a late hour.

ILLEGAL SAYS GOP MINORITY REPORT OF 7

SOCIAL SECURITY BILL ON PRESIDENT'S 'MUST' LIST

WASHINGTON, April 6. (AP)—The acrimonious struggle over the social security bill and its value as an anti-depression remedy turned into a battle royal.

No actual physical blows have been struck, but the situation was so tense and such strong words were used that fistfights were considered not improbable in some quarters. And the talk was stimulated by submission of a formal report on the bill today by the ways and means committee.

The 17 democrats members of that committee insisted the new bill was the complementary and essential second half of an attack on social insecurity, naming the $4,880,000,000 work relief bill as the other half. They definitely placed the social security bill on the president's "must" legislative lists.

But the seven committee republicans, in a minority report bristling with criticism, termed the measure not only "unconstitutional" and "inadequate" but argued "it might in fact retard economic recovery."

I Saw...

A generous, patriotic gift in long, lean Don MacCartie's eyes yesterday. Mr. MacCartie, 836 West Foster, volunteered to barbecue and cut for serving the beavers for the old timers barbecue in the Pre-Centennial celebration and Pioneers Roundup. The old timers will be assured of the best barbecue obtainable, since Mr. MacCartie has had 20 years experience and is noted for his barbecue.

Mrs. Charles I. Hughes of the Chamber of Commerce mailing nearly 400 letters in one batch to old timers of the Panhandle, inviting them to attend the celebration here June 6 and 7. About 400 more invitations will be mailed by Mrs. Hughes who also wrote the letters last year for the Pre-Centennial committee.

HITLER AIDE HINTS GERMANY WILL SOON POSSESS DANZIG

FREE CITY OF DANZIG, April 6. (AP)—Germany's eloquent minister of propaganda, Paul Joseph Goebbels, tonight wound up an intensive campaign for tomorrow's Volstag elections, expected to result in an overwhelming Nazi victory, with the shout:

"Danzig will vote as did the Saar!"

With Danzig itself on fete on election eve and the Free City one great mass of Swastika flags, little Goebbels fired the final salvo in the oratorical barrage begun by those other Nazi big guns, Minister of Air Hermann Goering and Rudolf Hess, Adolf Hitler's own spokesman.

Where Hess, in his address last night, merely hinted at Nazi dictatorship in the Baltic seaport after tomorrow's vote, the propaganda minister went further with this defiant statement:

"We have broken the Versailles treaty! We have torn off our shackles on the principle that 'whoever has the power gets the rights'!"

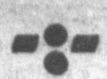

"As it was in the Saar so will it in all probability be in Danzig."

Thousands who heard the propaganda minister yelled themselves hoarse at this intimation that the Free City, now under the League of Nations' guardianship, might soon return to the fatherland like that other league protectorate, the Saar territory.

Later, however, Goebbels said:

Callouses On Feet
Save Tulsan From Razor, Hot Poker

TULSA, Okla., April 6 (AP)—Melbourne Shook, 40, never again will complain about callouses on his feet.

Wednesday night Shook and his wife were visited by two men who demanded to know where the Shooks were hidden. Unconvinced by Shooks' story that they had no money, the two men bound the couple. They put a hot poker to the bottom of Shooks' feet and slashed them with a razor to "make him talk."

The razor blade cut through the callouses but no further and the poker didn't even leave a blister. Deputy Sheriff Tony Benson, who revealed the story of the torture today after two days of searching for the would-be robbers, said no trace had been found of them.

Yankees Win

ATLANTA, Ga., April 6 (AP)—The New York Yankees ran their winning streak to ten straight games today when they outslugged the Atlanta Crackers of the Southern association to take a 9 to 8 decision.

The Yanks, scoring seven of their runs in two innings, banged out 13 hits, one of them a homer by Dixie Walker. The Crackers got to Johnny Allen and Vito Tamulis for only nine safe blows but four of them were home runs.

Wilmer Allison And Grant Will Play In Finals

HOUSTON, April 6 (AP)—Wilmer Allison of Austin, Davis cup star and number one tennis player of the United States, won his way into the finals of the River Oaks Country club invitation tournament this afternoon, defeating Gilbert Hall of New Jersey, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.

Allison will meet the diminutive star, "Betsy" Grant of Atlanta, in the finals Sunday afternoon.

The Texas netter got away to a ragged start in his match with the veteran Hall this afternoon. He broke a string in his favorite racket and it seemed to upset him.

Hall took advantage of every break, breaking Allison's service five times and serving three aces. He continued his attack by taking the first game of the second set, but Allison regained his control and fought his way through three straight games.

From here he went on to win the second set. Hall again led in the third set, 4 and 3, only to have his lead wiped away. He also led in the fourth, 4 and 2, but couldn't stand up under Allison's rally.

The final point in the match game was close to the back line, was called in by the referee, and the victory went to Allison. The Texan asked permission to play the point over, however, claiming his return outside. Hall insisted that it was inside, refused to play it over and the match was over.

Those present were: Floyd Lisle, Grover Seltz, Sam Sealing, Dallas Patton, Tank Horton, Al Summers, Mel Hardy, George Bulla, Ben McLary, Lefty Cox, Don Bailey, Lee Dancy, Carl Stewart, Joe Berry, Aaron Ward and Harold Miller.

Clyde Gold told of the first aid classes sponsored by the club and stated that the work with the school children should be highly beneficial in preventing accidents and of taking care of minor injuries when they are received.

Tom Smalling gave a report on the Kiwanis poultry club and announced that prizes for the best entries this year would be awarded with free trips.

Mrs. George Sharum sang several solos, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Aaron Ward.

KING OF KINGS MOVES TROOPS TOWARD BORDER

Lion Of Judah Sends Appeal To League Of Nations

ADDIS ABABA, April 6 (AP)—Ethiopian soldiers, with no rattling of sabers or rolling of tribal war drums, trudged along dusty roads to the border tonight as Emperor Haile Selassie's answer to Italy's concentration of troops in Africa.

The king of kings, the conquering of Judah and the descendant of the Queen of Sheba summed up the Italo-Ethiopian frontier dispute to an interviewer thus:

"We have tried to negotiate with Italy, or through an intermediary. Unfortunately Italy has declined arbitration and has not replied to our proposals. Therefore we have broken off negotiations and submitted the matter to Geneva."

(The League of Nations announced receipt of Ethiopia's demand for urgent treatment of the dispute, the Ethiopian note citing reports that thousands of Egyptian workmen are being employed to build roads to the Ethiopian frontier of Italy's colonies.)

While the African emperor returned an emphatic "yelleni" (no) to an inquiry as to whether war already existed with Italy, an army authoritatively said to number 100,000 men, well equipped, well armed and well supplied, was moving toward the frontiers.

Unlike the Ethiopian armies of 1896 which crushed defeated an Italian invading force, the present-day soldiers make use of modern equipment. Wireless and airplane speed communications formerly entrusted to barefoot runners, while rifles and machine guns have replaced sabers and swords. War materials are arriving by way of Djibouti.

Max Baer Gets To J. Dempsey For 60 Cents

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP)—Max Baer, wiped away the mayonnaise from the chin that can take it, smiled at the assembled admirers, and bade them adieu.

He had nearly reached the exit of the restaurant when Jack Dempsey, the proprietor, tapped him on the shoulder.

"That will be sixty cents," said the ex-panassa mauler who now specializes in special cuts instead of upper cuts.

"See my manager," Baer replied, with a wave of his kid gloves. "I haven't had sixty cents since I won the world's heavyweight championship. My lawyers got 66 2-3, my manager got 33 1-3, and on top of that I've sold 40 per cent of myself."

Dempsey sighed, and the cashier rang up "no sale."

Girl Beats Her Brother In Race

NORMAN, Okla., April 6 (AP)—Jean Dawson, 16-year-old flash from Edmond, proved that a girl can beat a boy in a track event by besting her 18-year-old brother, Bob, in an 80 meter low hurdle race during the annual Oklahoma amateur track meet here this afternoon.

Time for the event was 15.6 seconds. The brother, spectators said, was no set-up. He was just outclassed by the fleet Jean, now being groomed as Oklahoma's bid for future Olympia honors.

HARVESTERS WIN DISTRICT TWO TRACK AND FIELD MEET BY TEN POINTS

ATHLETES SET 8 NEW MARKS HERE FRIDAY

HAYS OF PAMPA RUNS THRILLING RACE IN RELAY

Records fell with monotonous regularity Friday when the Pampa Harvesters won the District 2 interscholastic track and field meet with a total of 28 1-3 points. Clarendon took second place with 18 1/2 points, Mobeetie with 13 1/2 points and 15 1/2 points.

Eight records, established last year when the district organized, were placed in discard. Four of the new marks were hung up by the winning Harvesters. Hedley's one-man team had the honor of breaking two records. Mobeetie and Panhandle athletes set the other marks.

Tarbox of Higgins took individual scoring honors with 10 1-3 points to best Jones of Hedley with 10 points. Hays, Pampa sprinter, was in third place with 8 1/2 points.

Vanderberg of Hopkins was declared rural pentathlon champion after a bitter contest with Anderson of Conway. Meadows of Higgins, defending champion, placed third. Vanderberg scored 21 points to 16 for Anderson and 12 for Meadows.

Jones of Hedley handed the 100-yard dash a setback when he stepped the distance in 10.1 seconds. He then came back to set a new record in the 220-yard dash. His time was 22.9 seconds. Compton of Mobeetie took the 120-yard high hurdles in the excellent time of 16.1 seconds. The mile mark was also lowered when Howe of Panhandle, one of two entrants from the Pampa high school, stepped the distance in 4:57.6 minutes.

The Pampa relay team of Elkins, Haner, Dunaway and Hays, had to break an excellent record to nose out Clarendon by less than a yard. The four Harvesters stepped the mile in 3 minutes and 35 seconds. Hays, Pampa's ace trackman, took the 440-yard dash in the excellent time of 51.6 seconds. Bill Dunaway broke his existing javelin mark when he hurled the warf 155 feet and 9 inches. J. R. Green tossed the shot 41 feet and 2 inches to set a new record.

The weather was ideal, especially during the afternoon when the finals were run off. It marked the first time in many years that the meet have not been held in a sandstorm.

Coltexo To Open Season At Lefors

Shamrock Refineries Will Have Group Of All-Stars

The baseball game between the Coltexo team of LeFors and a team of All-Stars playing under the colors of the Shamrock Refineries, located south of LeFors, will be at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at Shaw park in LeFors. The game was previously announced to be played at the Coltexo plant. Admission will be 25 cents.

All-Star players will come from the Shamrock team of Amarillo, the Shamrock gasoline plant of LeFors, the Coltexo carbon black team of LeFors, the Coltexo carbon black team of LeFors, and from Memphis.

Coltexo is anticipating plenty of trouble. The All-Stars will place a group of well known players on the diamond in an effort to give Coltexo a stiff workout. Manager Jack Bellah of Coltexo wants to give his pitchers a real test before the season gets under way. He has been worried about his hurlers.

The All-Star lineup was not available yesterday. It was not known how many players would be sent over from the newly organized Amarillo team. Ables and Leggett, formerly of Memphis but now of LeFors, will be in the lineup. Hees, Masters, McMahon, Jones and others will also be available.

Consumers Swamp Hopkins 12 to 2

The Pampa Consumers baseball team swamped Hopkins under a barrage of hits and runs to win 12 to 2 Friday afternoon. The game was played on the Hopkins diamond south of Pampa.

H. Green was on the mound for Consumers, with A. White behind the bat. Green allowed the Hopkins batters only two safe hits, one home run by Roscoe Pinnell.

Hopkins presented a brother battery, Lane Guthrie on the mound and Lane Guthrie behind the bat. The entire Consumers team pounded the ball hard.

The line-up: Consumers—A. White, c; H. Green, p; Barrett, 1b; Oliver, 2b; Higgins, 3b; Holder, 3b; B. White, cf; Darnell, cf; Mackie, rf.

Hopkins—Lane Guthrie, c; Lane Guthrie, p; Ginn, 1b; Gibson, 2b; Pinnell, ss; S. Husted, 3b; Mackie, lf; Cromer, cf; M. Husted, rf.

An experienced infield infield with power at bat, is assured. G. E. Huffman, formerly a first sacker with the Oklahoma City Indians, will be on the initial sack. "Muscles" Dingman, voted the most valuable player in the Denver Post tournament last year, will be at second base. Dingman saw service with Sioux City and also with the San Francisco Seals. At shortstop will be Chester Spencer, secured from the Evangeline league. The veteran Sammy Hale, former Philadelphia player, will be at the hot corner and bat the clean-up position.

Ahead of Hale is the batting order will be Gordon Nell, last year first baseman for the Road Runners. Nell will patrol the outfield this season. Johnnie Schinski, diminutive speedster from the San Francisco Seals, will be in center field. "Little Hack" Wilson, last year with Coltexo, will patrol the other outfield position.

The team will be in the capable hands of Jack Bellah, formerly with Holli. Bellah joined the Coltexo team last season and played third base. Bellah will manage from the bench but will be available for utility work when needed.

Coltexo To Open Season At Lefors

Shamrock Refineries Will Have Group Of All-Stars

The baseball game between the Coltexo team of LeFors and a team of All-Stars playing under the colors of the Shamrock Refineries, located south of LeFors, will be at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at Shaw park in LeFors. The game was previously announced to be played at the Coltexo plant. Admission will be 25 cents.

All-Star players will come from the Shamrock team of Amarillo, the Shamrock gasoline plant of LeFors, the Coltexo carbon black team of LeFors, the Coltexo carbon black team of LeFors, and from Memphis.

Coltexo is anticipating plenty of trouble. The All-Stars will place a group of well known players on the diamond in an effort to give Coltexo a stiff workout. Manager Jack Bellah of Coltexo wants to give his pitchers a real test before the season gets under way. He has been worried about his hurlers.

The All-Star lineup was not available yesterday. It was not known how many players would be sent over from the newly organized Amarillo team. Ables and Leggett, formerly of Memphis but now of LeFors, will be in the lineup. Hees, Masters, McMahon, Jones and others will also be available.

Consumers Swamp Hopkins 12 to 2

The Pampa Consumers baseball team swamped Hopkins under a barrage of hits and runs to win 12 to 2 Friday afternoon. The game was played on the Hopkins diamond south of Pampa.

H. Green was on the mound for Consumers, with A. White behind the bat. Green allowed the Hopkins batters only two safe hits, one home run by Roscoe Pinnell.

Hopkins presented a brother battery, Lane Guthrie on the mound and Lane Guthrie behind the bat. The entire Consumers team pounded the ball hard.

The line-up: Consumers—A. White, c; H. Green, p; Barrett, 1b; Oliver, 2b; Higgins, 3b; Holder, 3b; B. White, cf; Darnell, cf; Mackie, rf.

Hopkins—Lane Guthrie, c; Lane Guthrie, p; Ginn, 1b; Gibson, 2b; Pinnell, ss; S. Husted, 3b; Mackie, lf; Cromer, cf; M. Husted, rf.

An experienced infield infield with power at bat, is assured. G. E. Huffman, formerly a first sacker with the Oklahoma City Indians, will be on the initial sack. "Muscles" Dingman, voted the most valuable player in the Denver Post tournament last year, will be at second base. Dingman saw service with Sioux City and also with the San Francisco Seals. At shortstop will be Chester Spencer, secured from the Evangeline league. The veteran Sammy Hale, former Philadelphia player, will be at the hot corner and bat the clean-up position.

Ahead of Hale is the batting order will be Gordon Nell, last year first baseman for the Road Runners. Nell will patrol the outfield this season. Johnnie Schinski, diminutive speedster from the San Francisco Seals, will be in center field. "Little Hack" Wilson, last year with Coltexo, will patrol the other outfield position.

The team will be in the capable hands of Jack Bellah, formerly with Holli. Bellah joined the Coltexo team last season and played third base. Bellah will manage from the bench but will be available for utility work when needed.

WOOD WRESTS TOURNEY LEAD FROM PICARD

'HERSHEY HURRICANE' IS NOW IN 3RD PLACE

AGUSTA, Ga., April 6 (AP)—The "Hershey Hurricane" turned out to be just a zephyr today compared to the blustery rainstorm that swept the classic Augusta National links, with the result that blond Craig Wood, the "belting beauty" from Deal, N. J., rode the crest of a great third round to overtake the flustering Henry G. Picard of Hershey, Pa., and assume the pace-setting role in the $5,000 invitation golf tournament.

Wood played the most spectacular round of the tournament, as he overcame the hazards of weather and course for a 68, four under par. It gave him a 54 hole total of 209—seven under perfect figures for three rounds—and a one shot lead over the national open champion, Olin Dutra of California, who registered his third successive 70 for an aggregate of 210.

Picard, who started out at the height of the storm with a two-day count of 135 and a four shot lead over his nearest pursuer, quickly went into a slump, rallied and then went into reverse again on the home stretch. He wound up with a 76, a far cry from his previous rounds of 67 and 68, and finished the day in third place, with 211, two shots behind the new leader and one stroke in front of Gene Sarazen, whose 73 gave him an aggregate of 212.

Separated by only three strokes, these four—Wood, Dutra, Picard and Sarazen—figured to fight it out for the biggest slice of the prize money tomorrow. The only others with even a remote chance to figure in the struggle for first place were the veteran Walter Hagen and Denny Shute, each with a 214 in a tie for fifth position.

During a day that saw old man par flooded only four times, as compared to 24 knockdowns in the previous two rounds, the eminent Robert Tyre Jones, Jr., number 1 host and drawing card, had to be satisfied with a respectable but uninspired 73.

Erratic putting, coupled with some poorly directed approaches, again proved costly to Jones, who tossed away a chance to crack par by his mistakes on seemingly easy shots.

Assault Charge Is Filed Against Hurd's Daughter

KANSAS CITY, April 6 (AP)—The weird Herbert Hurd torture case, already embracing a woman's death, a double-edged dagger and a Ouija board, took another startling twist today.

A surprise charge of assault with intent to kill Hurd, 77-year-old railroad crossing flagman, was filed against his adopted daughter, Miss Bertha Hurd, 44.

Police announced they had evidence that she tortured Hurd with a dagger, the same accusation he flung at his wife, Mrs. Nellie A. Hurd, 68, who died Wednesday of shots fired by Hurd.

Hurd, recovering from numerous wounds at a hospital told officers that his wife had insisted her Ouija board revealed he had been indicted with a neighbor woman and also was keeping money hidden from her. He said the charges were false but that he admitted them when Mrs. Hurd burned him with a red hot poker and stabbed him with the dagger.

More surprises in the strange case are expected when two mysterious safety deposit boxes, found today, are opened Monday. Police said one was listed under the name Mrs. Hurd bore during one of three previous marriages. The other box, they said, was held jointly by Mrs. Hurd and the adopted daughter, the latter listed under a name she bore during a brief marriage.

H. J. Griffith and C. E. Akers of Oklahoma City were visitors in Pampa Friday afternoon.

GREAT RICHES

by Mabel Howe Farnham

SYNOPSIS: James Stinson, III, is the inheritor of all the numerous traditions of the Stinsons of New Concord, Kan. But he finds, when he goes East to school, that the Stinsons are not important there; except for the triumph his graduating address brought him, his school life was largely disillusion. Back at home, his Aunt Sarah drops the news to Judge Holcomb that James wants to be a doctor; the Judge is determined he shall be a lawyer.

Chapter 10
SARAH'S INVESTMENTS
"I want to be a doctor," persisted

James unhappily. It was hard for him to oppose anyone and especially the Judge. "I think my... my father would have liked me to be a doctor," he added gulping from sheer nervousness.

"I am sure there could be no career more pleasing both to your own father and our Heavenly Father than healing the sick and suffering," broke in Miss Sarah, "and while the law in my father's day was an honorable profession for honorable gentlemen it seems to me to be rapidly deteriorating—if one can believe what one hears. 'Nonsense!' roared the Judge. 'Even a nincompoop would know that it is not the profession which has deteriorated, but the caliber of the men going into it. Use your brain, woman, use your brain.'

"Can't you realize that James would be a thousand times more useful upholding the honorable traditions of the law, which is the foundation of our country and of all the freedom we boast, than in going about peering at people's tongues and deciding whether they had better take castor oil or ipecac?"

The Judge had long been famous in New Concord for "not being a polite talker," but Miss Sarah was bitterly offended not so much at his reference to a nincompoop as by the mention of castor oil.

She shuddered in a lady like way, and drew herself up and pointedly changed the subject and although the Judge stormed and protested he knew that his cause was lost and persisted only because his heart was in it but as a matter of principle.

He grumbled all the way home and avoided James for days afterwards, to his own distress as well as the boy's.

The Judge had never been a patient man or reasonable or he might have reflected that James had four years of college before he could begin his study of medicine and that in that time many things might occur to change his determination.

As it turned out something very important happened that very summer. James was destined never to go to college or to learn to "cut 'em up quickly" as Aunt Lou put it. Strange to say, it was Miss Sarah and not the Judge who brought this about.

Miss Sarah had been her father's secretary during the last years of his life and in his fondness the Governor had grown to believe that his daughter showed an unusual aptitude toward the management of his affairs.

Therefore, just before he died, he changed his will and not only made her James' sole guardian but left her in full control of their joint estates until James was twenty-five.

Miss Sarah, unfortunately, had few things to interest her after James went off to school and she quite fancied herself in the role of a business woman. Judge Holcomb, however, waved aside her judgments and comments on investments as of no value whatsoever, until after a little she ceased to consult him.

She was especially triumphant and sure of her own acuteness after she had, against the Judge's advice, invested ten thousand dollars in Oregon prune lands and sold this land six months later at a thirty per cent profit.

Having tasted blood, Miss Sarah was no longer satisfied with a meager five and six per cent on her money. In Kansas City she found a sympathetic broker who assured her that her judgment in business matters was phenomenally keen and that it was as easy as rolling off a log to double one's capital provided one had the natural aptitude and courage.

Miss Sarah, easily convinced that she possessed both, sold her good farm mortgages and gift-edged bonds and invested largely in Western fruit lands, in Rhode Island railroad stock and in Mexican oil. James, who she consulted after a promise of secrecy, was fired with his aunt's enthusiasm and thought it would be a fine thing to become a millionaire.

They spent many happy evenings that early summer planning their investments and spending the money which was to come to them in such unlimited quantities.

The story of Miss Sarah's investments is neither a long nor an unusual one. It was a golden dream while it lasted, but it did not last long. Something, or rather a number of things, went wrong.

The sympathetic broker disappeared and could not be traced. When it came time for James to go to Harvard he and Miss Sarah woke up to reality and found to their horrified amazement that they possessed between them an annual income of only a little more than eighteen hundred dollars.

Miss Sarah was bowed to the ground under the burden of her remorse, and was only buoyed up and enabled to live at all because of her secret belief—which persisted for years—that the setback was only temporary and her investments were certain at some later day to prove the bonanza they had promised. She urged James to agree to sell the Stinson place and take the money for his education.

This her nephew steadfastly declined to do. They would have to sell the carriage horses and let Black Tom and Sally the cook go, but before long he would be earning something and they would manage some way.

Aunt Lou was as good a cook as Sally. Sally could get a place overnight and it was more than time that Tom retired and enjoyed the pension the Governor had left him.

Judge Holcomb, against his better judgment and although he had a widowed sister and her family to support, sent for James to come to his office and offered, if James' heart was set on it, to put the boy through medical college. His relief was boundless when James thanked him gratefully and declined.

"Well, then, what are you going to do? Have you made any plans?" asked the Judge.

"I found when I thought it over that I'd rather be a lawyer than a doctor," James explained a little diffidently.

Merit System Is Tulsa Vote Issue

TULSA, Okla., April 6 (AP)—Definition of a police chief—"a man with the temper of an alligator, the training of a ward politician, and the morals of a guinea pig."

That is the kind of a chief the democratic clubs of Tulsa want, Oscar W. Hoop, college professor police commissioner, said today. Hoop, who ran for commissioner in a vain effort to prove to his University of Tulsa students that a man of his type couldn't be elected, now is campaigning for a merit system among Tulsa city employees. The election on the system will be next month.

Tulsa democratic organizations have branded his plan "demagoguery."

Three-fifths of the men and more than one-fourth of the women registered at the University of Michigan are working to support themselves entirely or in part.

Five Thousand At Ford Show

It was estimated that 5,000 persons visited the Ford show Friday and yesterday at the Tom Rose agency headquarters here. Describing yesterday's dust storm, more than 2,000 persons appeared.

Representatives here with the show said that Pampa's interest in the 1935 Ford surpassed other cities of the same size. One of the features of the show was the work of an assembling team from the factory. The two men assembled a V-8 motor in seven minutes and disassembled it in four minutes.

A "talking Ford" created the greatest interest among the visitors. A picture show was also popular. Tom Cavinar of the Oklahoma City service department talked at each show, explaining improvements. Ford-way models were on the floor for inspection.

The Ford show was presented by Ford dealers of this territory.

automobile tops, windows and skylight in business houses. No estimate of crop damages was made, but it was thought to be heavy.

Nacogdoches reported that a heavy hail storm hit in the Oak and Travis communities, doing heavy damages in an area five miles square. The report said that in some places hail drifts were six inches deep. The tomato crop was believed ruined, young trees were stripped and corn was heavily damaged.

Henderson reported that the Rusk county area at the East Texas oil field counted heavy damage from a storm Friday night. C. R. Wheat was killed and several derricks were blown down by a wind storm which was accompanied by heavy rain.

Out in West Texas gusty winds were carrying heavy clouds of dust. Abilene reported that the sky was clouded with dust all day.

Tons of dust sifted through Lubbock before a blinding sand storm, carried on a high gale the biggest part of the day, abated at night.

At Borger, dust was becoming thicker at night. The storm had been blowing from the north since 11 a. m., cutting visibility to two blocks.

Visibility at Plainville, where a dust storm raged all day, was requested to three blocks.

"The dust varied at Amarillo during the day, sometimes cutting visibility to three blocks. The storm continued to rage.

ference of republicans that there was only one place to put the blame for administration errors "and that on the doorstep of the White House."

"It can not be denied," he continued, "that every detail of our social and business position in this country is worse now than it was in the beginning of 1933."

In bitter language, the speaker assailed the proposal of Secretary Wallace of agriculture for a national economic council with power to suggest economic laws for a direct vote of the people.

J. C. Miller of Borger was a business visitor in the city Saturday.

Lewis O. Cox transacted business in Perryton yesterday.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, April 6. (AP)—Although buyers of stocks were fairly chipper today, they lacked the whole-hearted energy shown on Friday.

The principal hitching post for cheerful sentiment was the report by Cram on automobile production. The week's output was estimated at 107,895 compared with 103,286 last week and 89,722 in the like week a year ago.

At 37.7 the Associated Press average of sixty stocks showed a gain of 0.2 of a point.

While industrial and rail stocks edged ahead for fair gains. The utilities seemed content to reflect their lessened fear of regulation stubbornly to their good advance of the previous day.

street, three blocks to the courthouse to hear District Judge S. W. Dean pass the formal pronouncement. Electrocution probably will be set for around May 10.

Hamilton said he had nothing to do with the death house break except that after Frazier "got the drop" on the guard and opened Thompson's cell, "I asked them to take me along with them, so they did."

The ex-partner of Clyde Barrow told Warden W. W. Wald that Palmer and Thompson dropped him at Waco, "Blackie" giving him $25.

"During the whole of the trip from Dallas," Simmons said, "Hamilton talked most freely, except when he was asked questions regarding his latest depredations."

Hamilton asked Simmons to send him back to the Eastham prison farm, from which he escaped last year, in the event he was not "sent down" by Dallas. Simmons told him he would not do that.

Regarding his disarming of a posse in Mississippi, Wald said Hamilton claimed they "just drove up" on him. He covered them with a machine gun, he said, and told them to lay down their weapons. They did according to Hamilton's story.

The slight, 22-year-old former lieutenant of Clyde Barrow-Bonnie Parker team, now exterminated, probably will die in the electric chair within the next 30 days.

Max Rogers, Walker county district attorney who gained the death sentence against Hamilton for the slaying of Ma'or Crowson, a Texas prison farm guard, during a break in January, 1934, said he would seek execution of Hamilton and Joe Palmer on the same date.

Palmer, one of Hamilton's companions in the death row escape, was recaptured in Kentucky. He once roved in crime with Barrow and the Parker woman.

To Appeal to Allied — Immediate sentencing of the pair by Judge S. W. Dean in the Walker county district court will be sought, Rogers said. The Texas law states date of the execution must be at least thirty days after sentence is passed.

At least one more appeal will be made for Hamilton's life. His mother, Mrs. Steve Davis of Dallas, told her son in his Dallas jail cell at dawn today she would go to Governor James V. Allred with a plea for his life.

Hamilton, visibly shaken when he first saw his mother, ran and embraced her. He kissed tears from her cheek and for a half hour held her closely in his arms.

"She is going to Austin and talk to the governor," Hamilton said. "I have told her some things to tell him that I do not care to reveal now. Maybe she can prevail on the governor to spare my life."

His mother departed—thankful that "I didn't see him all shot up."

Hamilton previously had said he returned to the Dallas area to see his mother.

"I had no idea they would meet me at the railroad tracks," he said.

The Outstanding NEW VALUE in the Half-Ton Truck Field!

TODAY, everywhere, International Trucks for light and fast duty are giving an exceptional account of themselves in low-cost performance and lasting reliability.

NOW we announce the New Half-Ton Six-Cylinder Model C-1, a finer product of International truck engineering, styled for the popular demand. The striking beauty of line in this new truck is only its most obvious feature. On the job, and as time goes on, its unseen qualities of rugged sturdiness will come to the fore. We promise you the extra factors of durability that we know a truck must have. International has learned this vital lesson in many years of building trucks for service.

Let us demonstrate this new Model C-1. Other International, 1/2-ton to 7 1/2-ton. Come in, or phone us.

"No man can doubt that Danzig is German and national socialist. This has nothing to do with the forcible change of frontiers. That we will not and cannot do. But we will show the whole world what this city thinks and means."

These statements are taken to mean that the nazis, instead of preparing to effect the Free City's reunion with the Reich by force, intend to whip sentiment here to such an intensity that the initiative will come ostensibly from Danzig rather than from Berlin.

Lions To Practice Again Tuesday

Pampa Lions and assisting young ladies of the 1935 minstrel show cast cleared their throats of dust last evening and rehearsed the opening overture.

The next practice will be held Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the red building on the central school campus.

Triple-Sealed Hydraulics

the finest brakes money can buy

WHEN YOU SIT at the wheel of a silver streak Pontiac you command one of the finest performing cars ever built. You start in less than 10 seconds even in zero weather. You get away from the curb like a shot from a gun and you glide along the highway with only a faint whisper to let you know the engine is running.

That might be enough for some manufacturers, but not for Pontiac. Pontiac knows that stopping is just as important as starting, so the new Pontiacs have a special kind of brakes—big 12-inch hydraulics, smooth, sure and even—powerful enough to bring any sized car to a quick stop. And Pontiac safeguards this fine action by triple-sealing the rear brakes, and double sealing those in front, to bar out every grain of dust and every drop of water. You can trust Pontiac brakes in any weather. They are the finest that money can buy.

HONOR SOCIETY INITIATION TO BE EVENT OF SCHOOL YEAR

Guest From St. Louis Speaks At Tea Given By Her Hostess

GUESTS ARE HONORED
BY MRS. LEECH
YESTERDAY

Mrs. Leah House Stoker of St. Louis, who has mingled with both royalty and peasant classes who finds persons of all social strata extremely interesting, lectured to about 50 women yesterday afternoon in the F. E. Leech home. The occasion was a tea given by Mrs. Leech to honor her sister, Mrs. Ida Kelly of Abilene, and Mrs. Stoker.

Mrs. W. A. Bratton greeted the guests as they arrived, and Mrs. Leech introduced them to the guests of honor. Others assisting were Mrs. Carl Boston, Mrs. H. E. McCarty, Mrs. C. H. Schukley, and Mrs. Wiley Pearce. The home, softly lighted, was decorated with pink roses and Easter lilies. An Easter theme was emphasized in refreshment plates passed at the close of the address.

"Teddy" Also Introduced
Just as Mrs. Leech had completed an introduction of the speaker, "Teddy," a bulldog, half English and half French, walked in a dignified manner to the front—so he also was introduced. Mrs. Stoker is keeping Teddy for her son, who is in China.

Frocked in black lace, Mrs. Stoker was a charming speaker. Her voice and diction were very pleasing and unaffected; her style, conversational. She described her last trip to Europe, which was made upon invitation of Ramsay MacDonald. She made this trip primarily to claim an estate, including three English palaces, inherited by her son. Two of these palaces are at Yorkshire and one is at Cornwall. One of the Yorkshire palaces is in ruins. Its construction was begun in the year 980 and was completed in 1140. The other, begun in 1230 and completed in 1400, is in beautiful condition. The Cornwall palace was built first in 1350 and rebuilt in 1700.

Was Guest of England
"The barriers of London," said Mrs. Stoker, "are very cordial. They did everything in their power to make me feel welcome, and when I offered to pay them for their services they were horrified. 'You are the guest of England,' they explained, 'and the Crown has paid your expenses.'"

One of the most impressive experiences in London was the case she attended in the House of Lords. Lady Astor was more beautiful than ever, she said, and was very keen mentally.

At Edinburgh Mrs. Stoker was delighted to learn that the king and queen were stopping at the same hotel at which she was staying. The city was festive with flowers of pale pink and pale blue on this occasion. Mrs. Stoker was among guests at the queen's garden party.

The speech told of numerous other experiences in the European countries. One interesting incident was her recognition, on the street, of Oberammergau of the Passion play character, John. John is her favorite Bible hero, but never before had she seen the man she recognized.

Barred from Russia
Mrs. Stoker briefly discussed Russia, where she was not allowed to visit because of her lectures against the Reds. She said the spread of communism in America and other parts of the world was alarming.

"I never travel as a tourist," said Mrs. Stoker. "I like to forget for a time that I am an American and to live as the natives of the various countries live. I find them all so interesting."

Mrs. Stoker and Miss Kelly will remain in Pampa as the guests of Mrs. Leech for several days.

JESUS ANSWERS A LAWYER'S QUESTION:

Matt. 22:36-40.

Master, which is the great commandment in the law? Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets.

GOOD AND BAD "HOLDING COMPANIES"

Holding companies in many instances were badly and even fraudulently mismanaged during the boom days when everyone seemed to think that a new economic era had dawned. President Roosevelt and the public generally felt that the holding companies should be investigated, the crooked promoters punished, and corporation financing subjected to closer official scrutiny.

At the same time, those who studied the problem found that the holding company plan in itself is not iniquitous, but that it can be made so. In short, there are good holding companies and bad ones. The holding company principal is used by small concerns—some right here in the Panhandle—as well as large ones.

The holding company regulation bill being given most serious consideration is the Wheeler-Rayburn measure, which seems to be designed to wipe out holding companies and destroy capital structures in which millions of stockholders are directly and vitally interested. The bill probably does not go too far with some holding companies, but its scatter-gun effect would undoubtedly result in effects not desired by any student of the problem. Regulation should not be annihilation.

If the holding company idea were so bad, the government would not be employing it in many federal financing plans. The holding companies are not owned by a few men who control them, but by the millions of investors who cannot afford to lose their savings. It would seem the part of wisdom to regulate the men who form holding company policies rather than to cut down the whole structure.

The Wheeler-Rayburn bill would concentrate in Washington smashing powers over much of the business of the country. It would go far beyond the utility holding companies and adversely affect the financial set-ups of many of the oil companies, large and small, operating in Texas. It would usurp the powers now held by state corporation commissions and make it necessary to deal with Washington instead of Austin. It would inevitably be a long step nearer state socialism through public ownership or control of corporate business. It would simulate fascism in this particular.

The function of government control is to prevent issuance of fraudulent stocks, to provide reasonable rates through regulation of public services, and to protect stockholders in corporations. The investors in corporation stocks must be considered in any measure, since there are millions of them. The consumers must be considered because annihilation of corporations which serve them inevitably result in poor service and likely higher rates during the reconstruction period.

Some corporations may be soulless, but they make automobiles, light our homes, build out automatic operators, carry our freight, and carry on our world. We may regulate them, but we can't do without them. We can hate them, but we can't safely destroy them. The hymns of hate which have been heard in the two years have destroyed billions in values of corporation stocks. This would be justified if effective regulation should result in preventing a recurrence of such losses. We have had much to say concerning the need for some regulation. But utter destruction, such as many advocates of the Wheeler-Rayburn bill are promising, could be foolish and suicidal.

America has swept forward to greatness under the momentum of coordination and adequate financing. That houses arose does not condemn the system.

The opportunity to plan a new business, to set up the machinery to obtain capital, to attune it to the economic operation, and to earn a fair profit to pay fair wages, pay taxes, replace obsolete machinery, and to pay dividends must not be abridged. This government cannot exist unless business makes profits. It cannot exist unless business expands so that it is able to pay taxes to the height of folly to increase the taxes on business then to deny them the opportunity to earn with which to pay taxes. Such a policy would be the uninformed, but it would be sheer demoralization.

Big and little, must rally in the defense of business. It must present its case so clearly, cleanly, and so honestly that it will square with the public welfare. It must be aboveboard in its operations. It must protect the millions of persons whose livelihoods are made up of its capital. It must seek a fair balance between the rights of the public and the rights of business. It must plead for the right to remain free to live. It must plead for the right to remain free to support the government under which it lives. It must, in the case of the utilities, plead for the right to what appears to be a death sentence which, if imposed, would carry with it the death of millions of investors. It must kill the rats, but we must not burn down the house.

Our school has added a course on what to do with your spare time. But how are those with the most time going to afford that course?

Former Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes wills U. S. $100,000. One way of beating the government to the punch.

The motto used to be "Get Rich Quick!" Now, with share-the-wealth clubs, etc., it seems to be "Get the Rich, Quick!"

Dusting The Covers Of Texas History

For THE TEXAS CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION OF 1936

The man that got on the stage at six o'clock in the morning at Houston was apparently angry. It would take thirty hours to get to Washington-on-the-Brazos, the trip would cost him $5, and he had to be there immediately! J. D. Waters of Fort Bend county was searching for his runaway slave. Besides offering a $50 reward for the return of his mulatto man, Isaac, Waters was tracing down to a tip he had been given. From Washington he would go to Huntsville, for that was the former home of the negro.

The negro was one of the chief subjects of discussion when the problems of annexation to the Union was discussed. That is, the citizens of the United States made a problem out of the negro. The north thought that the entrance of Texas into the Union would mean the extension of slave territory, and they wanted to do away with the institution entirely. In Brazoria alone, in 1844, there were 1,300 slaves over ten years of age; and 675 under ten years. At Matagorda there were 719 slaves over ten years, and 361 under that age limit.

The Houston Telegraph and Texas Register carried an editorial Nov. 8, 1843, directed to John Quincy Adams and those who voted against annexation.

"A storm is now in embryo, growing out of this Texas question, which, unless arrested by the united power of your country, must result in the dissolution of the Union—for the question involved affects the slave-holding states. In a much greater degree than Texas herself, and slave-holding states of your country are compelled to act whether you want them to or not."

At Galveston a great number of abolition papers had been received. They had been sent to all the prominent slave-holding men in town, and had come from the United States. It was hoped that the people of Galveston would "take proper steps to prevent such incendiary papers from circulating beyond the limits of the island."

Those who had once thought nothing of Texas' entrance into the Union now questioned its real value to their Union, since it was a slave state. The fight for annexation was just beginning to take real shape. Written arguments and letters were sent to be everywhere. The Lone Star must take its place in the United States.

Such problems as this, as well as others, were to be threshed out as Texas progressed toward the pinnacle from which it will celebrate its Centennial in 1936.

MORE THAN 900 STUDENTS AT TECH MAKING PART EXPENSES

LUBBOCK, April 6.—Nine hundred and eleven students at Texas Technological college are working and are making an average of approximately $24,838.37 monthly. These students comprise 42 per cent of the enrollment this semester, and are composed of 670 men and 241 women. Of this group 216 are afforded employment by the federal emergency relief administration, and 238 are regularly employed by the college.

The average monthly salary for men students is $28.63 at 30 cents an hour, while the average monthly salary for women is $23.47 at 25 cents an hour. Both men and women average working 3.7 hours per day, based on 25 working days per month.

Applications for work were made by 695 men and 204 women enrolled in the college. Students desiring work but unemployed totaling 204, composed of 151 men and 53 women.

There are 71 men employed as clerks, while 53 are working as waiters, the next highest classification of employment. The 670 men are employed in 135 different fields. From working as dishwashers, salesmen, and waiters men students are financing their way thru Tech by working in dairies, acting as undertaker's assistants, and manufacturing yarn. To operating a freight line, and caring for children. Two men enrolled are pastors of churches.

Housework employs 67 women and 28 are working as waitresses. Many others are caring for children, doing stenographic work, and operating telephone switchboards.

While a large percentage of students are working in Tech it is by no means easy for a student to get a job. The competition is very keen for part-time places and no one would be justified at this time in depending upon securing work to pay his expenses through college. The employment bureau of the college renders every possible aid in helping worthy students secure work, but there are now more students than there are jobs.

TEXAS FIELD USED TO MAKE NEW AIR FILM

BIG CAST IS SENT TO SAN ANTONIO TO MAKE PICTURE

Wallace Beery, who in the past three years has been established at the pinnacle of box-office popularity, is to be seen in the most stirring dramatic role of his career in "West Point of the Air," story of the United States army air corps to be shown today at La Nora theater.

Beery's sensational success in "The Champ" was followed by "Dinner at Eight," "Tugboat Annie," "Viva Villa!" for which he won the international award for acting from Italy; and recently "Treasure Island." Robert Louis Stevenson's immortal classic. Each picture established him more firmly as one of the world's favorite characters stars.

In "West Point of the Air" his notable supporting cast includes Maureen O'Sullivan, as the youthful romantic lead; Robert Young, as Beery's son; Lewis Stone, James Gleason, Rosalind Russell, Russell Hardie, Robert Wadsworth, Robert Taylor, Robert Livingston, and Frank Conroy.

At famous Randolph Field, Texas, the $10,000,000 army aviation school, Beery's son, played by Robert Young, finds romance with Miss O'Sullivan the General's daughter. She offers encouragement to the cadet while he goes through the rigors of tests, flying instruction, solo flights, and finally, spectacular aerial maneuvers and training reviews with hundreds of planes.

Thrills never before photographed for an air picture to be seen in the film include "power dives" from an elevation of ten thousand feet to the ground; a "group parachute jump" from one peace time bombing maneuvers of training planes over 2,000 ground troops and other breathtaking aerial scenes.

Nearly two years were required for technical research and story preparation by Lieut. Commander Frank Wead, and Arthur J. Beck, who adapted the photoplay from an original story by James K. McGuinness and John Monk Saunders. Richard Rosson directed.

GEORGE O'BRIEN STAR IN FILM OF OLD WEST

HAROLD BELL WRIGHT STORY DIFFERENT THEME

An engrossing story that in book form thrilled sixteen million American readers, from the magical pen of Harold Bell Wright, has been transposed to the screen. It is "When a Man's a Man," and starts a three-day today at the Rex theater.

Reports from other cities where this romance of the Far West has already played, reveal it as an out-of-the-way attraction, packed to the hills with tense situations.

Harold Bell Wright's talent for depicting the vital drama of the West, and his gift for creating unforgettable types, is second to none. In "When a Man's a Man" he pits the east and west in a dramatic duel. A polished, spoiled darling of fortune, all but penniless, comes West to unlearn his past, and fit himself for sterner realities.

The producers have outdone themselves, it is said, in making a picture to do justice to the book masterpiece. Starring in this Fox film release is George O'Brien; around him is a fine supporting cast made up of Dorothy Wilson, Paul Kelly, Harry Woods, Jimmy Butler, Richard Carlisle, Clarence Wilson, and Edgar Norton.

Heretofore Western pictures symbolized conflicts of law and lawless. For the first time, as described by Harold Bell Wright in "When a Man's a Man," is a more complex and interesting person, equally at home in the drawing room or saddle.

STUDENTS IN PAMPA SCHOOLS COME FROM WIDE TERRITORY

Drawn by the magic influence of oil, families with school children have come to Pampa from all parts of the United States.

A Centennial petition bearing names of 214 teachers and students is illustrative. The signers gave their native states as Texas, 163; Oklahoma, 30; Kansas, 20; Arkansas, 4; Iowa, 2; North Dakota, 1; Mississippi, 1; Kentucky, 1; Missouri, 9; Michigan, 1; New Mexico, 4; Ohio, 3; Indiana, 1; Nebraska, 1; Colorado, 2; Tennessee, 1; Washington, D. C., 1; Virginia, 4; Louisiana, 1; and California, 1.

The desirability of stressing Centennial celebrations and other projects calling attention to Texas history is seen in the fact that many of the children know little or nothing of the state in which they now live.

National P-TA's Meeting Will Be In Florida Soon

By MRS. J. M. CHAIN, Claude, Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers State Publicity Director

Glamorous Florida, hostess state for the thirty-ninth annual convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, which will convene April 29 to May 3 inclusive at Miami, offers a wide variety of attractions, which should be quite an inducement for a record attendance of delegates to the meeting.

The central theme, "The Home—The Index to National Life," will be developed through exhibits, formal conferences, panel discussions, forums, and informal conferences or "free time" even at meals as well as the time stipulated on the formal program. Homemaking activities are to be especially emphasized throughout the convention. This should be of unusual interest to the membership of the congress, as it is made up largely of the homemakers of the nation.

Texans Head To Serve
Mrs. A. F. Wood, Athens, president of the Texas congress, will serve on both the national bylaws committee and the convention rules committee as well as perform many other multitudinous duties that are part of the routine business of a state president at such a meeting.

Mrs. Stephen Chamness, Austin, executive secretary of the Texas branch, will have charge of the Texas section of the exhibits, showing the highpoints of the actual accomplishments of the last year from this Lone Star state. The best publicity recordbook from each of the 15 districts will be one interesting phase of the Texas display.

Every state, all national departments and committees, the national office, and cooperating educational and welfare agencies of the congress will participate in the exhibits.

The extension conference on Thursday morning, May 2, will be presided over by Mrs. Noyse Darline Smith, Austin, third vice-president of the national congress. The main topic for this conference will be, "Extending Our Work," stressing membership and rural service.

Convention Speakers
The principal addresses of the convention will be by Representative Josh Lee, Oklahoma, and Dr. Bernard Clausen, writer and pastor of the First Baptist church of Pittsburgh, whose respective subjects will be "Home—The Wellspring of Security" and "The Home—The Wellspring of Spiritual Growth."

The subject of the forum is "Raising the Index with Education," and the topic of the panel discussion is "The Home—The Wellspring of the Cultural Arts."

Conference discussions cover such diversified subjects as art, music, recreation, safety, radio, motion pictures, legislation, publications, rural service, membership, suggestions for parent-teacher associations, humane education, student aid, modern trends in publicity, leadership in parent education, leisure and home life, home education, the council program of service, international relations, and suggestive solutions of the rapid social and economic changes occurring in the home.

Many delightful social events for the delegates have been planned such as a dinner honoring the national board of managers; annual banquet with the theme of "Congress Through the Looking Glass," based on Lewis Carroll's book with the portrayal of such characters as Alice and Mad Hatter; the mother-singers chorus; a musical tea; "Hansel and Gretel," operetta to be presented by the national music league; a motor trip to points in and near Miami with Florida women as hostesses; sojourns to both the unique west and the interesting east coast of Florida; annual luncheon of the state presidents club; tree planting as a courtesy to Mrs. Frederick Schott, honorary president; an informal tea out-of-doors at the Miami Biltmore every day from 4 to 6 p. m.
