Gulf, Pan American Follow Magnolia's Price Hike on Oil

DALLAS, Sept. 22. (AP) — Most major oil companies today were falling in line with Magnolia Petroleum Co. in boosting crude oil prices in some West Texas areas to $2.65 cents a barrel. The increase was seven cents.

Magnolia started the ball rolling yesterday when it boosted prices effective at 7 o'clock that morning.

By today, Gulf Oil, Pan American Production Co. and Onyx Refining Co. of Abilene had met the increase.

Oil firm sources indicated that the rest of the companies operating in the area will meet the price boost.

However, Stanolind officials at Tulsa said that so far they had not been authorized to match the figure.

The price increase closely followed action by the Texas Railroad Commission in cutting the allowable in six Scurry County fields by 61,000 barrels.

E. R. Turner, president, reported today that Pan American Production Co. posted the new price for crude in reef and Strawn pools of Scury, Borden and Howard Counties.

Gulf announced a price boost in Sweetie Peck Field (Midland County) and Scurry and Kent Counties.

Scurry County fields included in Magnolia's hike were Diamond M. Early Strawn lime, Kelly-Snyder, Sharon Ridge Canyon, North Snyder Strawn Zones B and C and Schattel.

GULF PAN AMERICAN

In a wire to the Snyder Daily News, E. R. Turner, president of Pan American Production Co. announced that effective at 7 o'clock yesterday morning the Pan American purchases of crude from the reef and Strawn pools of Scurry, Borden, and Howard Counties would be at the rate of $2.65 a barrel for 40-gravity oil with the usual two-cent differential downward on crude of less than 40 degrees.

Steel Workers Serve Notice For Increases

(By the Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 22. — The CIO United Steelworkers served formal notice on the steel industry today it wants an almost immediate wage boost for its million members.

Formal notification letters to 1,400 firms went into the mails shortly after Philip Murray, president of both the CIO and the steelworkers, came from a meeting of the steelworkers' executive board to announce the demands.

NO AMOUNT

Murray didn't spell out in dollars and cents just what will satisfy the union.

The veteran white-haired labor leader said he'd leave that up to the union's wage policy committee which has been summoned to meet here Oct. 4 and 5.

In his formal notification letter to employers, Murray declared:

"Obviously, the national interest requires that we conclude a mutually satisfactory agreement at the earliest possible date."

There was no immediate comment from leaders in the war vital steel industry which is roaring toward new production records.

OFFER RAISE

Announcement of the steelworkers' demands came only a few hours after the Aluminum Co. of America offered its 45,000 employes a 10 per cent wage boost.

The steelworkers represent about 20,000 of Alcoa's 30,000 production workers.

Murray said the union will seek a conference Monday with Alcoa officials. Tomorrow the offer will be reviewed by the USW at a meeting here with local union leaders in the Alcoa plants.

The Alcoa offer, coming on the heels of pay increases in the auto and other industries, obviously will strengthen Murray's hand in negotiations with the steel industry.

Girard-Well Will Start In Kent Oct. 15

C. W. Cherry of Dallas is to start drilling by Oct. 15 on his No. 1 Girard Trust Estate, which is to be a 7,500-foot wildcat to explore through the Pennsylvanian lime in North Central Kent County.

Location is to be at the center of the southwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 44, block 1, H&GN survey.

That puts it six miles north and slightly east of the Salt Creek Canyon field, and about 12 miles north and a little west of Clairemont.

The prospector is on acreage secured by Cherry in a farm-out deal with the Ohio Oil Co. out of a large block of leases that concern holds in that region.

Cherry secured a total of 640 acres of leases in sections 43 and 44, block 1, H&GN survey, in return for agreeing to drill the exploration.

The contract calls for it to be drilled to 7,500 feet or 100 feet into the Mississippian, whichever is the shallower.

The 7,500-foot objective is calculated to penetrate the full thickness of the Pennsylvanian lime.

INTO STRAWN LIME

Birdell Oil Co. No. 1 J. H. Hodnett, Northeast Howard County wild cat, two miles northwest of Vincent and 660 feet from the north and east lines of the southeast quarter of section 31, block 25, H&TC survey, is reported by unofficial sources to have topped the lower Strawn reef lime at 7,453 feet on an elevatio of 2,226 feet.

This is the first solid lime the prospector has encountered in the Pennsylvanian.

It logged some oil stain and some slight porosity in drilling to 7,468 feet. The project was slated to run a drillstem test.

MORE PAY

Kewanee Oil Co. has found more pay in the lower Pennsylvanian lime at its No. 2-B Wil (Connell), Southwest Kent County exploration, ¾ of a mile northwest of the discovery of production in the upper Pennsylvanian to open the East Polar field.

The latest oil came in a 3 hour and 52 minute drillstem test at 7,195-7,218 feet. Gas surfaced in 12 minutes, and oil started flowing in 52 minutes.

The section flowed 23.46 barrels of oil the first hour and if flowed 30.36 barrels of oil each of the second and third hours. The flow during the 3 hours averaged 28.6 barrels an hour.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was between 525 pounds and 1,900 pounds. Shut-in bottom hole pressure after 15 minutes was 3,230 pounds.

Operator is now running electric log survey. Casing probably will be

Slot Machine Bill Looks As If Dead Now

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22. — Sen. Malone (R-Nev) claimed a one-man filibuster victory today in his fight against a bill to ban interstate shipment of slot machines.

The pugnacious senator from Reno — he had invited Democratic Floor Leader Lucas (Ill) to "come over here" — claimed he had talked the bill to death in a speech of 11 hours and five minutes — or at least to a point where "it looks pretty dead."

Senate leaders acknowledged he may be right. They agreed to sidetrack the measure, and said there is little prospect it can get the right-of-way again, at least until November.

Malone's marathon oration had roadblocked important legislation, including a $17 billion defense appropriation bill, and endangered plans to recess Congress tomorrow.

Malone denounced the slot machine bill as an invasion of states' rights — particularly Nevada's. His state shipment of slot machines, other forms ok gambling, and derives considerable revenue from them.

Malone started his speech at 11:20 p.m. (EST) yesterday, and didn't wind it up until 10:25 p.m.

He covered a lot of subjects, denouncing the administration's tariff and foreign policies and discussing the war in Korea.

Formosa Talk Delayed By UN

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Sept. 22. — The steering committee sent today to the UN General Assembly, Russia's charges of United States aggression against China, but deferred action on an American proposal to place Formosa's future in the assembly's hands.

Nationalist China was the only nation opposing a hearing of Russia's charges against the United States. The American delegation voted to include the item on the assembly's agenda. U. S. Chief Delegate Warren R. Austin explained:

"We believe in fairness. Every complaint should have its hearing." The vote to place the item on the docket was 11 for, one against and two abstentions.

Cold War Battle Ends With East and West Releasing Men

By THOMAS A. REEDY

BERLIN, Sept. 22. (AP) — The latest round of Berlin's grim "tit-for-tat" cold war game ended today with the release of 53 East German policemen held by the West and 25 West Germans held by the East.

The western authorities released 47 East German police hostages this morning and later in the day freed six others after convicting them of trespassing in the U. S. sector of the city illegally armed. They were turned loose because their five-day sentences already have been served while waiting trial.

A short time after the East Germans released the 25 western policemen they had been holding.

The most spectacular East-West deadlock of this week still remained to be thawed out, however.

This was the British-Russian argument about 175 yards of territory on the western outskirts of Berlin. There the Russians, trying to gain the use of a major road for their tanks and motor vehicles, attempted to annex the area by moving forward their occupation zone borders into the British sector of the city.

FACE EACH OTHER

This morning a company of British infantrymen still faced a handful of Russian tommy-gunners and a squad of German "people's policemen" over the disputed barrier. Both sides waited for British and Russian officials to settle the dispute by negotiation.

In the eyes of western authorities this week's new flurry of East-West skirmishes have a definite pattern— systematic Communist agitation to pressure and frighten allied West Berlin.

French Troops Fighting Reds

(By the Associated Press)

SAIGON, Indochina, Sept. 22. — A French military spokesman said today the defenders of Pakha have come into contact with Vietminh troops. He added, however, that no major assault has yet taken place at that important perimeter post 20 miles east of Laokay.

TAKE POSITIONS

Vietminhn troops earlier were officially reported to have taken up positions in the mountain heights around Pakha. Large concentrations of these forces are menacing eastern and southern perimeter posts protecting Laokay.

The spokesman said otherwise there had been no significant change in the military situation in the frontier region of the north. He denied as "absolutely false." Press reports that French forces had reoccupied Dongkhe, the post northeast of Hanoi which Vietminh forces captured earlier in the week. He said the last official word received here was that French forces are nine miles south of Dongkhe.

FOUNDERING

Meanwhile, the French-sponsored and western - recognized Vietnamese government was foundering without leadership because of the continued absence in France of both Chief of State Bao Dai and Premier Tran Van Huu.

This key Indochinese country has been virtually without an effective central government for nearly three months. Ex-Emperor Bao Dai and his premier left for France in late June. They have been resisting French persuasion for a prompt return to Vietnam.

Construction At Schools Starts

Constrction began yesterday on two of the 15 new temporary classroom buildings to be erected for the Snyder schools to take care of the large enrollment, M. E. Stanfield, superintendent of schools, said this morning.

No completion date has been estimated for the project, and this will largely depend on the number of workers the contractor is able to hire, he said.

The project was approved by the school board Tuesday night, and J. D. Boyd, of Snyder, independent contractor, was hired to supervise the construction. Building costs and labor wages are to be paid by the school system.

The two classrooms now under construction are on the campus of the new 18-classroom elementary building just opened on the northwest edge of the city. Two more will also be constructed on this campus.

The classroom buildings will be constructed at each of the city's five schools.

No enrollment or attendance tallies have been made since Tuesday, Stanfield said, when the total attendance stood at 3,235.

1,200 Expected At Kids' Day Tomorrow

Snyder youths under the age of 12 will swarm into the Palace Theatre tomorrow morning to see the free western movie and cartoons as the Kids' Day guests of the Kiwanis Club.

Beginning at 9:30 o'clock, the kids will enjoy the movie and then eat free ice cream.

More than 1,200 kids are expected to attend the affair, Bruce Greer chairman of the Kids' Day committee, said.

Allied War Planes Hit Reds Hard Lick

TOKYO, Sept. 22. (AP) — Allied warplanes Thursday claimed to have killed 950 enemy troops and destroyed 17 Red Korean tanks in 663 sorties over the Korean war area.

The Far East Air Forces said an additional 42 North Korean vehicles, four power stations, a tunnel, seven bridges, 23 gun positions, 59 buildings, two fuel dumps, four military supply areas, eight rail cars, three locomotives, a ferryboat and one Yak-9 Russian-built plane were destroyed or damaged.

President To Veto Red Bill After Passage

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22. — Definite word came from the White House today that President Truman will issue a veto message, within a matter of hours, on the subversives control bill passed by Congress.

Lawmakers eager to start a vacation were ready to pass the bill over his veto and go home until Nov. 27.

Eben Ayers, a White House press secretary, was asked by reporters: "When will the veto message be ready?" His reply was some time after noon.

The bill passed the House this week on a 312 to 20 vote and in the Senate by 51 to 7. In both cases the margins were well beyond the two-thirds vote needed to override presidential objections.

they include a requirement that Communist and front organizations register with the attorney general, and authority for the government to throw dangerous subversives into internment camps during war or other emergencies involving armed force.

Congressional sources close to the President said Mr. Truman will condemn the subversive control measure as a menace to freedom, as a step toward a police state, and as a means of driving subversives underground where it will be harder to keep an eye on them.

Tax Boost Bill Passes Senate

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22. (AP) — The House shouted overwhelming approval today of a "first installment" tax-boosting bill to help pay for the costs of arming against Communist aggression. Quick Senate passage was expected to put it on President Truman's desk by nightfall.

Mr. Truman already has expressed himself as well pleased with the measure, and is expected to sign it immediately, even though it's estimated annual revenue of $4,700,000,000 falls short of the $5 billion he asked two months ago.

Shortly before the vote was taken, it was announced in the House that Chairman Doughton (D-NC) has called the Ways and Means Committee to meet tomorrow. The plan is to map out procedure for bringing out a multi-billion dollar excess profits tax on which Congress can vote when it comes back in November.

Democrats and Republicans alike went on record, in closing debate, as favoring passage of such a tax then.

Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, the House Republican leader, issued a formal statement also. He said Republicans agreed to a recess of Congress this week end but "insist we come back and in the extra session add passage of excess profits tax."

This tax, Martin said, "should make provision for reasonable and proper reconversion allowances, but should rule out profiteering by

Korea War In Brief

(By the Associated Press)

Seoul Front: U. S. Marines battle with bayonets on the fringe of Seoul against bitter resistance by 10,000 isolated Red troops. U. S. Seventh Infantry Division enters Suwon, south of Seoul.

Taegu front: U. S. First Cavalry Division punches ahead 20 miles in spectacular drive against fleeing Communists. Commander calls it a rout as cavalrymen reach within 100 air miles of Suwon.

Naktong River Front: U. S. Second Division advances in two columns, seizes Chogye, six miles west of Naktong River, and Sinban, former Red divisional headquarters eight miles southeast of Chogye. U. S. 25th Division advances on second's left flank, toward Chinju.

Eastern front: South Korean troops capture Kigye, 10 miles northwest of Pohang, and push on. Other South Koreans drive 11 miles north of Pohang port.

Pact Nations Plan Defense

NEW YORK, Sept. 22. (AP) — The big three foreign and defense ministers convened today to discuss formation of an integrated North Atlantic defense force against possible Russian aggression.

A State Department source said prime questions before the officials were, first, whether such a force should be created, and, secondly, whether to include German units in it.

PRELIMINARY

The position taken by the conferees at today's meeting will be placed before a session of the 12-nation North Atlantic Council here next week for further action.

Participating in the meeting were Secretary of Defense Gen. George C. Marshall, British Defense Minister Emanuel Shinwell, French Defense Minister Jules Moch, U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman.

YANK INITIATIVE

The American officials, who reportedly favor inclusion of German units to fill a cap in western Europe's defenses, took the initiative in the closely guarded session on the 37th floor of the Waldorf tower.

A State Department spokesman said the conferees would "talk over the United States' analysis of certain defense problems which came up in duscussions among the three foreign ministers this past week."

Some observers interpreted this as meaning the United States will attempt to sell the idea of German units to the French and British representatives.

Gas Line Explodes

JACKSON, O., Sept. 22. (AP) — A 26-inch high pressure gas line exploded in southeastern Ohio early today with a roar heard 10 miles away. There was no fire and no one was injured. The line carries gas from Texas to the East Coast.

Hermleigh Mass Meeting Hears $70,000 Bond Issue Explained

Hermleigh held an open forum last night at the school gymnasium to clarify questions concerning a $70,000 municipal bond issue to be decided in a special election there Sept. 30.

About 200 persons attended the meeting in which questions were asked concerning consequent fire insurance rates, city taxes, water revenues, benefits of the city improvement program, interest rates on the retirement of the bonds, if the issue is approved.

TWO ISSUES

Presiding at the meeting was the Rev. Bob Creswell, mayor, who explained that the election will decide the fate of a proposed $40,000 revenue issue for additional water mains, a new 50,000-gallon surface storage water reservoir, additional water plugs, and other extensions and improvements of the water system; and a $30,000 tax bond issue covering the cost of $10,000 city hall, a fire truck, fire-fighting equipment, a city jail, and other miscellaneous appurtenances of a modern city.

A guest present to explain the various proposed features of the improvement program was J. H. Flood, president of the J. H. Flood & Co. engineering firm of Waco, Hermleigh's elected civil engineer.

"Fire insurance rates in the city will be reduced about 50 or 60 per cent by the establishment of a fire station, according to an estimate of the state fire insurance commission in Austin," Flood said.

"Furthermore," he added, "these proposed improvement plans have already been approved by the fire commission and the state health board."

At this Mr. Creswell added that he had figured the estimated insurance rates on his own property in the city, and that if the bond issue were approved, his savings on fire insurance rates would almost pay his city property taxes.

TAXES SAME

"Actually the property owners in Hermleigh will pay the same amount of taxes on their property whether the election carrier or not," Mr. Creswell said, "but fire insurance will remain, about twice as high if the issue is not approved.

"I want it understood that the city council and the mayor are not trying to cram anything down the throats of the citizens of our city," Mr. Creswell said, "I thank God we live in a country where we are

Right-of-Way On Clairemont Road Secured

Right-of-way deeds on six more pieces of property on the Clairemont road had been given yesterday, leaving only four deeds yet to be secured before paving can begin on the project, according to W. W. Park, attorney for the city, and Edgar Taylor, county judge.

Those with whom agreements were made this week were J. T. Beams of Andrews, Tex.; Wayne Farley of Midland; C. B. Whatley of Dermott; P. A. Warren of New Castle, Tex.; J. P. Lloyd; and T. J. Newman.

The property on which right-of-way was secured lies in the Andress Heights addition. These lots had been deeded to them by Harry Trentman, of Fort Worth, originator of the additions.

Others to whom Trentman has deeded property for which no right-of-way deeds have been secured are E. E. Jones of Jacksonville, Tex., and P. A. Whisman of Price, Tex., who are partners on one piece of property, H. L. Gage, Kamay, Tex., and L. B. Lane, Sr., Childress. Letters have been sent to these regarding the right-of-way, Park said. Another who has not been contacted is O. W. Hendrix, who owns land in the Andress Heights addition.

When all right-of-way arrangements are complete, the state is to pave the road for eight miles north of the city as a phase of a paving project including the paving of Avenue R from the square north to Thirteenth Street, Thirteenth Street west to Avenue S, and repaving Avenue S from the square north to the city limits.

All right-of-way deeds for Avenue R and Thirteenth Street have been secured, and the state highway department has been notified that these streets are now ready for the paving, which will be done jointly by the city and state.

The state is helping on the project of Avenue R and Thirteenth Street in order to use it as a bypass while widening Avenue S, which is also U. S. Highway 84. No right-of-way needed to be secured for the widening project.

EwingPlaysUp To AFL; Blasts Doctors Group

(By the Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Sept. 22. — Oscar Ewing, federal security administrator, told the American Federation of Labor today opponents of the government's public health program are "stupid and dangerous."

The chief opponent, he said in an address prepared for the 69th annual AFL convention, is the American Medical Assn. Ewing declared the AMA is hiring professional propagandists for large sums in hope of electing "reactionary" candidates in the November elections.

GREEN ELECTED

The AFL yesterday elected William Green to his 27th year as president. The 77-year-old former Ohio coal miner carried back into office with him the 13 AFL vice-presidents and Secretary-Treasurer George Menaey.

Green, smiling broadly as delegates in the hot, dimly-lighted auditorium, gave him a standing ovation, promised renewed efforts toward an AFL-CIO merger. He said he would step down from office if that would help bring about "organic labor unity."

Ewing said the AMA has raised $1,100,000 through a compulsory levy on its members "in a drive to defeat every liberal-minded candidate for office this year."

In addition, said Ewing, the AMA has the promise of $19 million more, "chipped in by business firms, manufacturers, patent medicine companies, insurance companies, railroads and power companies."

LOTS OF CASH

This "pretty big piece of cash," said Ewing, is to be thrown into a campaign against "the imaginary target of 'socialized medicine'—which nobody in this country wants.

"There is something significant about the fact that this campaign is concentrated on the week of Oct. 8 just before the crucial elections in November. . . . The plain fact is that the powerful men who run the American Medical Assn. are using their organization to promote the political ends of reaction. They have created the 1950 war chest of reaction."

Suwon Airfield Falls To U.S. 7th Division

Biggest Breakthrough Made By Allies On Southern Beachhead

(By the Associated Press)

TOKYO, Sept. 22. — Allied Marines with bayonets and flamethrowers battled 10,000 Korean Reds tonight on the near outskirts of Seoul.

Fleeing civilians said the Communists are hastily putting up stone barricades and digging trenches in the streets for their last-ditch defense of the Korean capital.

The Red defenders in the city are isolated by allied deployments from getting outside reinforcements and their positions are under constant allied air bombing.

HUGE ADVANCE

While bitter hand-to-hand fighting raged on two sides of the ancient city, allied forces smashed out 20-mile advances from both the old and new beachheads to cut off Red reinforcements for Seoul.

The airfield at Suwon, 20 miles south of the capital, fell to tank-led units of the U. S. Seventh Division rolling down from the Seoul front. Other elements entered Suwon city astride the major rail line and highway leading up from the rapidly expanding southeast beachhead.

Allied forces were punching ahead on all sectors of the southeast beachhead. In some sectors the Reds were retreating northward but in others they fought stubbornly. Hundreds surrendered or were taken prisoner.

AP Correspondent Don Whitehead, with American and South Korean Marines outside Seoul, reported that by mid-afternoon Friday the Marines had not entered Seoul proper but patrols were moving toward the city limits on the west side.

"The sprawling city of more than 1 million normal population may become one of the bloodiest battlegrounds of the Korean war," Whitehead reported. "The Reds are preparing for house-to-house fighting.

BITTER FIGHT

"This could mean the destruction of a large part of the capital," whitehead said.

Red artillery roared into action against the Marines from public park positions on South Mountain inside Seoul. An estimated 3,000 Reds were reported to have honeycombed the mountain — on Seoul's south side — with deep defense works. Whitehead said Red defense forces were estimated to total 10,000.

Bayonets and flamethrowers were used by Marines to cut a mile-wide swath through Seoul's southwestern industrial suburb of Yongdungpo. It is across the Han River from the capital.

AP Correspondent Tom Lambert reported from the Seoul front Friday morning that the Marines suffered "relatively heavy" casualties in close-quarter combat through shell-shattered factory buildings.

Allied troops apparently were sparing Seoul from artillery fire to avoid destroying the capital by fire that would spread through its flimsier structures.

Marine Corsair fighter-bombers closely supported the American and South Korean Leathernecks on both sides of the city. Whitehead said the aerial fire-bomb assault on Red-held heights west of Seoul — Hill 105 — was an awesome sight. Flame and smoke obscured the hill.

WELL-FORTIFIED

Civilians said the Sungmyon University campus and other high ground in the city was strongly fortified by the Reds.

There was no further word in a 10th Corps intelligence report Thursday that a mystery Red armored column from Manchuria was rolling southward.

The U. S. First Cavalry Division's 20-mile northward thrust was the biggest breakthrough.

The Eighth Army Friday called it the greatest single day's advance thus far in the eight-day allied offensive.

The cavalry's tank-led motorized task force drove from a point near Tabu, 13 miles north of Taegu, almost to the Naktong River, seven

Tigers Hope to Start Winning Streak In Lakeview Tilt Today

Proud of the fight his Tigers put up last week in the Stamford game, Speedy Moffett will take them to the Tiger Stadium at 8 o'clock tonight to meet another powerful machine, the Lake View Chiefs.

With this and another non-conference tilt to go before meeting District 6A teams, the Tigers are determined to begin winning.

In the city limits of San Angelo, Lake View is a fair-sized school and has a team to match the school, Speedy said.

A T-formation offense will be used by Lake View coach G. C. Graves against the Tiger Split-T. Assisting Graves with the blue and white is E. K. Long.

Moffett has a pretty big line which is especially good right of the center to buck against the smaller Chief line.

Those to watch in the Chief backfield are backs Albert Meeks and Monte Webb, who have both put up a good fight against teams they've met so far.

The Chief record this season looks good, with wins over DeLeon 21-0 and Roby 26-7.

SMU-Georgia Tech Big Game Over Week End

By GAYLE TALBOT
(Associated Press Staff)

NEW YORK, Sept. 22. — Dormant since last New Year's day, the college footballers bestir themselves tomorrow in every part of the land.

Nothing very big. Most of the powers which will appear among the first 10 on the Associated Press poll a month from now still have another week of practice remaining.

The week's most important game, from a national viewpoint possibly is that between Southern Methodist and Georgia Tech at Dallas, also a night engagement. The football scholars want to see whether the Mustangs still have it since Doak Walker joined the pros. What makes the answer important is that Kyle Rote and his pals play Ohio State next week.

There are a number of better-than-fair attractions on the day's program, and at least one game down in the deep South could proye the payoff on a sectional title.

That is the clash between Louisiana State and Kentucky at Lexington under the lights. Both are esteemed contenders for the Southeastern Conference crown.

Texas, touted as the hottest thing in the Southwest Conference, displays its new muscles against Texas Tech at Lubbock. Texas Christian will open its annual pass-throwing crusade against Kansas at Lawrence, and Arkansas plays Oklahoma A&M at Little Rock. George Sauer makes his debut as Baylor's new coach against Wyoming, at Laramie.

Other openers around the country include:

Texas A&M at Nevada and West Texas State at Arizona.

Detroit Can Snatch Lead As Yanks, Red Sox Remain Idle

By RALPH RODEN
(Associated Press Staff)

The Detroit Tigers go after undisputed possession of first place in the see-saw American League pennant struggle tonight while the New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox are idle.

Detroit takes on the tough Indians in Cleveland in the first of a three game series while the Yanks and Red Sox mark time before opening a two game series at Yankee Stadium tomorrow.

The Tigers tied the Yanks for the lead yesterday by trouncing the Philadelphia Athletics, 8-2. The Red Sox and the Yanks were not scheduled.

Here's the picture at a glance:

TEAM	W	L	Pct.	GB	GL
New York	91	53	.632		10
Detroit	91	53	.632		10
Boston	89	55	.618	2	10

Hal Newhouser, 29-year-old lefthander, has been selected to pitch for the Tigers against the Indians' Bob Feller. Both boast identical 14-11 records.

TOUGH FOES

The Indians have proved one of the Tigers' toughest adversaries this year. They have clashed 17 times, with each side winning eight games. The other resulted in a 13-13 tie. The victories were evenly distributed, four for each in Cleveland and Detroit.

Newhouser has beaten the Indians four times and lost to them twice. Both of his defeats came at Cleveland. Feller holds a 2-1 card against the Tigers.

Meanwhile, Yank Manager Casey Stengel has a pitching problem to solve. His team will work out at the Stadium today and two of his aces, Righthander Vic Raschi and Lefthander Ed Lopat, will try out their ailing arms.

An injury-plagued pitching staff hindered the Athletics in their game with the Tigers yesterday.

The Tigers jumped on Joe Coleman, who has had arm trouble for six runs in the first six innings and were never headed. Coleman, who walked nine, lingered six innings. The A's have only nine pitchers, including three rookies.

BRAVES, BUMS TIED

In the National, the Boston Braves defeated the St. Louis Cardenals, 5-0, and the Brooklyn Dodgers thumped the Pittsburgh Pirates, 10-8, to remain tied for second place. They trail the league-leading Philadelphia Phillies by seven games. The Phils and Chicago Cubs were idle.

Warren Spahn blanked the Cards on two hits to rack up his 21st victory. The Braves sewed things up in the first inning when Sam Jethroe crashed his 17th home run with a man on base.

The Dodgers overcame a 4-1 deficit with four runs in the fourth inning and followed up with five more in the fifth to clinch the decision over the Pirates.

In the only other game, the Cincinnati Reds defeated the New York Giants, 8-5. The Reds piled up a 7-1 lead in four innings for Howie Fox. Fox blew up in the eighth and granted four runs before Frank Smith came on to save the game.

The victory ended an 11-game winning streak for giant righthander Sal Maglie. The loss was Maglie's fourth against 16 victories. Three of the setbacks were administered by the Reds.

Texas College Teams Travel Far This Week

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
AP Sports Editor

Six of the seven Southwest Conference football teams push the season open tomorrow and the boys will do plenty of traveling the first time out.

Five of the six games are intersectional affairs.

Texas A&M makes the longest jaunt, clashing with Nevada at Sacramento, Calif., in a night game. Baylor is going almost as far, meeting Wyoming at Laramie, Wyo.

Texas Christian journeys to Lawrence, Kan., to play Kansas.

Arkansas gets Oklahoma A&M at Little Rock in a night tussle.

Only two of the games are in Texas. The feature will be the battle of Southern Methodist and Georgia Tech in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas with more than 50,000 due to turn out for the Methodist night opener.

Texas travels out to Lubbock to play a Texas Tech team that isn't supposed to hold the score down very low.

The Rice Owls, always late starters, wait until next week for the lid-blaster. The Owls meet Santa Clara to open their new 70,000-seat stadium Sept. 30.

ALL FAVORED

All conference teams are favored to win but some profess to see trouble for Baylor against a veteran Wyoming outfit that would like to make up for a four-touchdown loss last year in Baylor's own bailiwick.

Southern Methodist better be prepared to score about five touchdowns if it expects to lick Georgia Tech, an all-out offensive outfit. The Methodists appear capable of doing it.

Texas A&M isn't meeting a very strong team in Nevada. If the Aggies don't win this one they can figure on winding up around the cellar once more in the Southwest Conference.

Arkansas and Texas Christian should be extended but not endangered by Oklahoma A&M and Kansas respectively.

This is a new season and we hope the start of a good record in predicting games. It wouldn't have to average much to beat last year's.

Here's how they look:

Baylor-Wyoming — a one-touchdown vote for Baylor.

Texas-Texas Tech — Texas by three touchdowns at least.

Southern Methodist-Georgia Tech —the last team with the ball will win; SMU will be the last team with the ball.

Texas Christian-Kansas — The Christians have their best backfield in years and the line is going to look a lot better than expected; we'll take TCU by two touchdowns.

Arkansas-Oklahoma A&M — Arkansas by a touchdown.

AA Teams Show Full Schedule

By The Associated Press

Wichita Falls meets Breckenridge and Austin clashes with Arlington Heights of Fort Worth tonight in the feature games of the week in Texas schoolboy football.

Wichita Falls, the Class AA defending champion, meets a strong test from Breckenridge, always a tough trial horse for the top teams.

The major clash between clubs of the rival conferences, however, is scheduled at Dallas where Paschal (Fort Worth) plays Highland Park, a double a title favorite.

Another feature game is an intersectional affair in which Port Arthur takes on Capitol Hill of Oklahoma City, the champion of Oklahoma, at Port Arthur.

A smattering of games was played last night in the state.

In Class AA Bowie (El Paso) beat Douglas, Ariz., 13-6; Weatherford lost to Adamson (Dallas) of the City Conference 7-6; Paris licked Amon Carter-Riverside (Fort Worth) of the City Conference 18-12, Kerrville edged Breckenridge (San Antonio) of the City Conference 20-19 and South Park (Beaumont) played French (Beaumont), a Class A team to a 12-12 tie.

Jeff Davis of Houston, a City Conference team, was licked 27-6 by independent St. Thomas of Houston.

Record Number High Schools To Compete In League This Year

AUSTIN, Sept. 22. (AP) — A record number of high schools, 862, will have teams in Interscholastic League competition this year, Athletic Director Rhea Williams announced today.

It is 17 above last year and six greater than 1941, until now the record year. About 24,750 Texas schoolboys will be playing football, and the 862 teams is the largest number in any state.

Conference B is the bulkiest, with 369 schools and 9,830 boys on the official rosters, it increased 29 teams over last year.

Added to the City Conference roster was Thomas Edison of San Antonio. The only class AA team added to last year's list is Corpus Christi's new W. B. Ray High School. Changes in the AA total resulted from dropping back to Conference A of Bonham, Sulphur Springs, Cisco, Brownfield, Electra, Robstown and Jacksonville.

Conference A also added Port Lavaca and Edgewood of San Antonio.

There are a total of 220 Conference A schools, and 167 six-man conference teams. Conference AA has 79 teams, six teams less than in 1949.

Lamesa 1 Up In West Texas-New Mexico Tilt

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Sept. 22. (AP) — Lamesa held a one-up lead today in the battle for the West Texas-New Mexico League pennant.

Lamesa took the opening game of the final play-off series last night 5-4.

The Dukes rallied for two runs in the ninth but Eulis Rosson put out the fire.

They play here again tonight.

Big Spring Needs One To Win Longhorn Title

BIG SPRING, Sept. 22. (AP) — Big Spring was just one game away from the championship of the Longhorn League today.

The Bronco whammed Odessa 14-5 last night to take a three-to-one lead in the final play-off series.

The clubs rest tonight and resume the play-off here tomorrow night.

Big Spring pushed over 11 runs in the first three innings to win going away. Featuring the third-inning six-run splurge was a bases-loaded triple by Felix Gomez.

Odessa	000 004 001	5	1
Big Spring	506 003 00x	14	11 1

Big 6 Junior College Teams All Win Games

(By the Associated Press)

Members of the Big Six Junior College Conference did all the good last night—they all won their games.

Kilgore beat Panola of the Texas Junior College Conference 19-7, Paris outscored Henderson County of the TJCC, 40-34 and Northeast State of Monroe, La., licked Poteau (Oklahoma) Independent 43-7.

Tonight McNeese of Lake Charles, La., plays Tulane freshmen at Lake Charles while Cameron State of Oklahoma takes on North-Eastern (Okla.) at Miami, Okla.

Tomorrow night Tyler will be at Pasadena, Calif., battling Muir College.

Of 116 ship building and repair yards in the U. S., 68 are located on inland waterways, rivers or worm is prevalent.

Missions Beat Tulsa Oilers

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 22. (AP) — San Antonio's long-hitting Missions boast a two-games-to-one lead in the fight for the Texas League pennant.

The Missions clubbed Tulsa 10-7 last night to go one up on the defending league champions.

The clubs clash here tonight in the fourth game of the final play-off.

San Antonio got its victory via the home-run route. Charley Grant, Rocky Ippolito, Danny Baich and Frank Saucier put the ball over the fence in a 11-hit attack with Grant's circuiter coming with the bases full.

Lou Sleater, a pitcher, went in to pinch-hit in the seventh and singled in Grant with what proved to be the winning run. The blow broke a 7-7 tie.

Baseball Attendance Up In Valley League

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 21. (AP) — The Rio Grande Valley League drew 335,094 paid attendance this year — an increase of more than 60,000 over 1949, League President Kelley Nemeck announced today.

This year's attendance includes 9,645 for Donna and Robstown before those clubs dropped out of the league in early season. Without them the league drew 325,449 while last year six clubs brought in 271,139.

Harlingen led the league in attendance with 80,001 while Corpus Christi was second with 68,313, Laredo was third with 57,948, Brownsville fourth with 56,146, McAllen fifth with 32,473 and Del Rio last with 30,568.

Brownsville gained almost 5,000 over last year, Laredo more than 10,000 and McAllen almost 10,000.

Texas University Is Picked In Conference

DALLAS, Sept. 22. (AP) — The University of Texas Longhorns were chosen overwhelmingly by Texas and Arkansas broadcasters as the team to beat in the 1950 Southwest Conference football chase.

Out of 46 Associated Press radio members polled in the two-state area, 33 predicted Texas would win the crown.

Two Army Sergeants Keep Peace With Russians Better Than UN

By DANIEL DeLUCE
(Associated Press Staff)

BERLIN, Sept. 22. — A funeral calm hangs over Room 179—the last room in Berlin where Russians and westerners work at the same table.

The Soviet lieutentant on duty looks glum and bored. He taps idly with a pencil on his log book, in which he has written scarcely 20 lines.

A Texas master sergeant at the other end of the table—Raymond Bradford, of San Antonio—wonders aloud how he'll like being civilianized soon after 21 years in uniform.

LONDON MAN

A staff sergeant from London—Ken Lidell—tells of the job he might go back to in his family's pub in Fleet Street.

Room 179 is on the ground floor of the A.C.A. building on Potsdamerstrasse. Two hundred rooms were booked there for the allied control authority back in the Potsdam era.

Nearly all the rooms are unused and locked. The only one that Russians come to is 179. A sign on the door says: "Allied air safety center."

In Room 179 Russia and the West do two things: exchange flight plans for aircraft in the three 20-mile-wide Berlin corridors, and deliver protests against each other for violating four-power traffic rules.

Nobody gets much in the way of apology or regrets. The violations are relatively harmless. An American airliner cuts a corner of Soviet-occupied Thuringia. A formation of Russian jets skims the outskirts of West Berlin.

LONG-TIME JOB

Quiet-mannered, slow-spoken Sgt. Bradford and goodhumored Sgt. Lidell have been kept on this assignment for 4 1-2 years because they're reliable diplomats.

They never get tough with the Russians. They keep off arguments. They maintain a correct and unobtrusive attitude.

Bradford used to bring American periodicals to the center for anybody to read who wanted to, but a few months ago he abandoned the habit.

"Some articles were just too violent against the Russians, he explains. "They wouldn't have done our relations here any good."

CHART WAR

After the Korean war started, the sergeants clipped a map from Stars and Stripes, pinned it to the wall, and charted the shifting front line with a pencil.

The Russians looked at it, exclaiming when they discovered a town the North Korean Communists claimed to have captured the previous night had been marked as lost several days before, but the sergeants didn't belabor the point that American Communiques were truthful, even when it hurt.

Bradford, who expects to go back to the Southwest says:

"I guess all Ken and I can claim is that we, personally, didn't make international relations any worse.

"The Russians here know we're human beings, and we know they are. In Room 179, both sides act a lot better than in the United Nations."

Lawyers Close Meet With Two Resolutions

By STERLING F. GREEN
(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22. — The American Bar Assn. prepared to close out its 73rd annual meeting today after acting on two strong anti-Communist resolutions recommended by its general assembly.

They would:

1. Put A.B.A. on record as favoring state laws to require that every lawyer sign an affidavit that he is not a member o fthe Communist Party.

2. Put the association on record as favoring the broad anti-subversives bill which Congress sent to the White House Wednesday night President Truman is expected to veto, perhaps today, and congressional leaders anticipated that a veto would be overridden.

CHALLENGE

The Justice Department, meanwhile, challenged the A.B.A.'s retiring president, Harold J. Gallagher, on figures covering political party affiliation of men named to federal judgeships in recent years.

In a formal statement, the department said Gallagher was "in error" when he reported earlier this week that "since 1932, only eight out of nearly 200 appointments of federal judships have not been Democrats."

Actually, the department asserted, 17 Republicans have been given lifetime appointments to the federal bench since March 4, 1933, when President Franklin D. Roosevelt was sworn in for his first term.

ATTACK

Gallagher, a member of the late Wendell L. Willkie's New York law firm, charged the Democratic administration with "a reversion to a spoils system" through appointments of party workhorses to judicial posts. Gallagher said this has kept some of the nation's bert legal minds off the bench.

The bar association's resolution favoring the anti-subversives bill calls upon Mr. Truman to approve it. In a report to A.B.A.'s house of delegates, Charles S. Rhyne of Washington predicted yesterday:

"If Mr. Truman vetoes the internal security act it will be a bigger mistake than his attack on the Marine Corps. Both houses will speedily over-ride the veto."

Restless Bull Causes Automobile Accident

LONGVIEW, Sept. 22. (AP) — Two persons were injured yesterday when a restless bull they were hauling bounced their pickup truck out of control.

The bull started moving in the rear of the truck. Grimes lost control of the vehicle and it crashed into an embankment 10 miles east of here. Mrs. Grimes was taken to Gregg Memorial Hospital with critical injuries.

Grimes and the bull were only slightly hurt.

4-Reds Elected In Cuba To Be Seated

HAVANA, Cuba, Sept. 22 (AP) — Cuba's chamber of deputies is expected today to reject a motion to annul the election certificates of four Communist deputies elected last June. The motion was presented by Rep. Emilio Suri Castillo of the authentic party.

A house committee, named to examine the certificates of 66 new representatives, said all appeared to be "clean and correct."

The house will hear the committee's report today, then swear in the new congressmen.

Hoover Reported To Be Much Improved

NEW YORK, Sept. 22. (AP) — Former President Herbert Hoover, who had a mild gall bladder attack last week, is well on the road to recovery, his office said yesterday.

Mr. Hoover, 76, was not hospitalized and now is up and around his suite in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, a spokesman said.

Man Charged With Sending Bombs In Mail

TYLER, Sept. 22. (AP) — Gray-haired Frank B. Kucyn, who calls himself a metaphysicist, waited in federal jail today for a hearing on charges he mailed an infernal device.

Kucyn, 75, who has lived here about six months, was accused yesterday of being the man who mailed three gun-powder cigaret lighters at nearby Edom.

The lighters were individually packed inside a large package addressed to Angelo Saldana of Los Angeles. The large package also contained a note asking that the small ones be mailed.

The loaded lighters inside them were cheap table models, equipped with what appeared to be dynamite blasting caps.

THREE MAILINGS

The specific charge against Kucyn is that he mailed an infernal device with intent to harm Homer Carey of Marshall, to whom one of the lighters was addressed. The others were addressed to Beatrice C. Yiarklas, Los Angeles, and Harry O. Nelson, Shreveport.

Kucyn pleaded innocent at his arraignment before U. S. Commissioner Dave Price. He couldn't post his $5,000 bond and was sent to the federal jail at Paris, to be held for a hearing Oct. 2.

The lighters were discovered Wednesday by Mrs. G. H. Morris, postmistress at Edom. She said a black-gloved, gray-haired man entered the post office and said he wanted to send a package airmail.

He gave a fictitious Edom address and was in such a hurry to leave that Mrs. Morris became suspicious. She checked with Tyler postal officials, and they advised her to open the package.

RENTS OFFICE

In Los Angeles, Saldana said he had rented an office there to Kucyn. Mrs. Yiarkias told postal inspectors she is Kucyn's stepdaughter. Saldana said that a few years ago Kucyn married an elderly woman reputed to have property at Marshall.

Officers said that's where Kucyn came here from. He had a letter head describing himself as a metaphysician, psycnologist, student of infinite science, inventor and notary public.

Los Angeles records showed Kucyn had been convicted of practicing medicine without a license and received a two-month jail sentence.

Smith County Atty. Dick Buruss said F.B.I. records show Kucyn had a prison record.

Olivia De Havilland's Son Baptised In Texas

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 22. (AP) — Actress Olivia De Havilland (Mrs. Marcus Goodrich) and her husband had their year-old son baptized in St. Mark's Episcopal Church yesterday.

Miss De Havilland then announced young Benjamin Briggs Goodrich is going to be a supreme court justice.

The baptism ceremony was performed by the baby's uncle, the Rev. Louis Goodrich, assistant rector of Christ's Episcopal Church.

Methodist Circle Meets To Plan Rural Projects

Mrs. H. P. Brown, 2812 Avenue U, entertained the Mary Martha Circle of First Methodist Church with their meeting yesterday afternoon. Mrs. W. W. Adcock led a round table discussion of rural projects.

After the devotional and group songs, applie pie and hot tea were served to the following: Mrs. Adcock, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. W. W. Park, Mrs. H. D. Jones, Mrs. Frank Rose, Mrs. H. F. Clark, Mrs. H. W. Sanders, Mrs. Charles Duran, Mrs Clyde Godwin, Mrs. M. C. Newell, Mrs. L. M. Stephens, Mrs. Lyman Yoder, Mrs. Jim Rhodes, Mrs. Dick Sanders, Mrs. Barbara Abbot, Mrs. Sue Sullivan.

Refreshments are to be served at midnight.

Father Claims Self Defense In Shooting Of Daughter's Suitor

DETROIT, Sept. 22. (AP) — Cecil J. Allgier, 53, claimed self-defense today in the fatal shooting of his young daughter's married, 29-year-old suitor.

But police said they would seek a first degree murder warrant for the partially-paralyzed World War I veteran.

Allgier has admitted killing Robert A. Ripley, 29, who became acquainted with Allgier's 17-year-old daughter, Shirley, when she was a baby sitter for the three children of Ripley and his now estranged wife.

The shooting happened Wednesday night, when Ripley escorted Shirley home from a movie. Allgier told police he "knew Ripley was no good" and had tried to break up the romance. But he said Ripley insisted he would marry Shirley "over my dead body" and came at him as though "he was going to hit me." It was at that point, he added, that he drew a gun and fired at the younger man. Ripley died en route to a hospital as Shirley accompanied him.

General Electric And Electricians Agree

NEW YORK, Sept. 22. (AP) — The General Electric Co. yesterday signed a one-year contract with the C.I.O. International Union of Electrical Workers covering 65,000 employes.

Agreement on the contract was reached a week ago, and the signing was a formality.

The contract provides wage increases ranging from 10 to 15½ cents an hour, and other benefits.

Federal Planning Efficiency Shown By This Year's Cotton

By OVID A. MARTIN
(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22. (AP) — This year's cotton crop offers an example of how difficult it is to plan farm production from Washington.

A year ago the country had cotton running out of its ears. A new burdensome surplus was piling up, the bulk of it held by the government under a grower price support program. Uncle Sam had more than a billion dollars invested in the extra supplies.

PRICES UP

Today the nation faces a possible shortage in some grades and staple lengths. Prices are advancing. Last year's so-called surplus is melting away.

What brought about this quick change? The principal factor was an Agriculture Department production control program designed to prevent an increase in supplies.

Last year, farmers produced a bumper crop of 15,446,000 bales. This was added to a reserve of 5,283,000 bales from previous crops.

TOO MUCH

"That's too much cotton," said federal farm officials. They promptly invoked rigid production and marketing quotas designed to not plant their full allotments. cut this year's crop to 11,733,000 bales. The department allotted about 21,500,000 acres for cotton production this year, nearly 6 million fewer than planted last year.

But farmers planted only about 19 million acres. Some farmers did. Many had shifted to other types of farming.

On the other hand, many farmers in western areas, where cotton production has been expanding in recent years, did not get allotments as large as they desired.

On top of the underplantings came unfavorable weather in some areas and heavy boll weevil infestations and damage.

FIFTH SMALLER

As a result, present prospects point to a cotton crop of 9,882,000 bales—or about a fifth smaller than the government's production goal.

The supply situation wouldn't be so bad if use of cotton during the past 12 months had been in line with government expectations of a year ago. But considerably more cotton has been used in this country and exported than had been counted upon.

The government plans to permit farmers to grow considerably more cotton in 1951.

Mercy Mission Brings American To Hospital

EDMONTON, Alta., Sept. 22. (AP) — One of the longest mercy missions in the history of Canadian aviation today brought an ailing American from an isolated Arctic weather station to a hospital in Churchill, Manitoba.

A Royal Canadian Air Force Dakota covered 3,650 miles to aid Charles Leroy Havens, of Berkeley, Calif., stricken with blood poisoning in the weather outpost 680 miles from the North Pole.

Northwest Air Command headquarters here reported the ski-equipped plane, carrying the patient and a crew of 11, landed at Churchill early this morning. Churchill is 1,500 miles south of Havens' post — the Ureka Sound weather station. The plane was dispatched from Edmonton, 2,150 miles to the south.

Brother Of Capone Is Subpeonaed By Crime Investigating Group

MERCER, Wis., Sept. 22. (AP) — Ralph Capone, brother of the late "Scarface Al" Capone, has been ordered to appear immediately before a Senate Crime Investigating Committee.

A subpoena was served Wednesday night by Deputy U. S. Marshal Thomas Madden, who had been trying for a month to find Capone, operator of a local tavern. Service was made at Capone's summer cottage at a nearby lake.

Virgil Peterson, Chicago crime expert, has told the committee the old Al Capone syndicate is flourishing with underworld links in many parts of the nation and has formed alliances with powerful gang leaders.

He named Ralph Capone and 20 others among them.

Girl Hides Out From Whistler

PARADIS, La., Sept. 22. (AP) — AN 18-year-old bride-to-be was hiding out today from a phantom whistler who has threatened to kill her before she can marry her fiance Oct. 1.

Mrs. Clifford Cadow said last night she had sent her daughter away from the home where an unknown man has whistled a shrill and eerie funeral march almost nightly for months and more recently has threatened to kill the girl, pretty Jacquelyn Cadow.

Mrs. Cadow refused to say where her daughter was hiding but denied that Jacquelyn had attempted to foil the whistler by marrying State Trooper Herbert Belsom, 26, ahead of schedule.

"My daughter is going to get married Oct. 1. She is going to have a big wedding and nobody is going to stop her," the mother said.

DEPUTIES GONE

A half dozen of Sheriff Leon Vial's deputies who had been guarding the snug, white house, were nowhere to be seen after Jacquelyn had left the house last night. But the sheriff himself, a resident of Hahnville, was reported to be in Paradis.

Paradis is 25 miles west of New Orleans.

Mrs. Cadow said the whistling—wolf calls—was first heard around the Cadow home one night in February. When Jacquelyn's engagement was announced Aug. 1, she said, the whistling changed to a funeral dirge and was heard more frequently. Soon there began a series of telephone threats to kill Jacquelyn before her wedding day.

Several times before Jacquelyn has fled her home in an effort to get away from the funeral whistling. But each time a telephone call has been placed to the house to which she had fled, with the phantom whistler warning that he knew where she was and planned to kill her.

Summer-Still Over Southeastern States

CHICAGO, Sept. 22. (AP) — Today was the last full day of the summer season and it was bowing out with a mixture of weather for the country. Autumn starts at 8:44 o'clock tomorrow morning.

There were cool spots, warm and humid regions and some rain.

It was still summer weather over most of the southeastern states, the Southwest and along most of the Pacific Coast. It was more like autumn in a belt from the New England states westward across the Great Lakes and the Plains states.

Showers and thunderstorms continued from the Upper Ohio Valley and the lower lakes region eastward to the Middle Atlantic states. There were a few thundershowers to the south in the Appalachians and in the southern Rockies.

Temperatures were in the 90's in parts of Texas and California yesterday.

Crippled Veteran To Marry In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22. (AP) — Hugo E. Fredlund, 27, made an invalid by a German bullet three weeks before VE day, will be married Sunday to Patti Brill, 25-year-old stage and screen player.

The couple obtained a marriage license yesterday. Fredlund, confined to a wheel chair, said Miss Brill will continue her career and he will be her press agent.

SLIDIN' DOWN THE CHUTE

What fun these youngsters have on the numerous contrivances designed for their exercise and amusement! The children of past generations would have been delighted with such elaborate provisions for their enjoyment.

Physical training has become an important part of our modern educational system. Regular periods are assigned to it in most schools, and instructors are employed to supervise the children's play.

We are thus spending billions of dollars each year to develop the minds and bodies of our children. But what are we doing for their spiritual development? The body without the soul is dead, and education without spiritual growth is a hollow mockery.

The Church has the stupendous task of supplying this vital need in human life. Its function is to show people the way of God and teach them to think and feel and act in accordance with His will. Body, mind and spirit—but the most important of these is the spirit.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

NEWS FROM IRA

By MRS. MABEL WEBB

Our community received a rain Monday which slowed up the feed cramming.

Little Betty Jean Childress of Snyder spent part of last week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Childress.

Mrs. Meck Black and daughter returned to East Texas so the daughter could enter school there.

The Rev. Johnny Myer of Sweetwater filled the pulpit at the Church of God Sunday morning. He was accompanied by his wife and daughter.

Mrs. J. W. Taylor returned to her home in Abilene Thursday after a visit with friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Byars and daughters were visiting in Big Spring Sunday.

Mrs. J. H. Allen returned home Wednesday after visiting in the Edd Mann home of Big Spring.

Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Suiter returned Tuesday from a visit in the O. L. Free home of Stanton.

We extend our sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Halloday in the loss of their infant daughter. Funeral services were held at the Church of God Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Rev. R. E. Bowden officiated. Burial was in Ira cemetery.

Mrs. B. F. Eades and children Janice and Royce Lynn, of Fairview spent from Friday till Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Webb.

Mrs. R. A. Prince of Union, Mr. and Mrs. Hays Prince and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Halman of Snyder visited in the H. K. Johnson and W. O. Webb homes Sunday afternoon.

Hugh Birdwell and S. W. Trevey of Snyder were visiting in Ira Wednesday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Eades and children, Donald and Carolyn, were visiting in the H. G. Moore home of Snyder Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Eades attended the Mitchell-Scurry Baptist Association Monday night and Tuesday at Snyder.

Mrs. W. O. Webb spent Tuesday with her daughter, Mrs. B. F. Eades and family of Fairview.

Marvin Sorrells accompanied by Fred Sorrells of Murphy made a trip to Mena, Ark., last week and brought back their sister Mrs. George Parrott. She will make her home at present with her brother, Jim Sorrells and family of Knapp. She visited part of last week with Mrs. P. J. Moran and family.

Mr. and Mrs. James Pevehouse and daughters of Rotan were attending church here Sunday.

Mrs. E. J. Chaney and Mrs. W. R. Ashmore made a trip to Crane Thursday. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Westbrook and small daughter while there.

Work has begun on the new Masonic Hall in South Ira.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Suiter and son Ronnie spent Sunday in the O. L. Free home of Stanton.

Mrs. W. O. Webb was in the Root Memorial Hospital Friday night and Saturday where she received treatment.

Grady Suiter and son Ronnie made a trip to Sweetwater Monday.

Girls 4-H Club Is Organized In Fluvanna

A girls' 4-H club was organized at Fluvanna Monday, and officers were elected, according to Mrs. Mildred Sparks, acting county home demonstration agent.

Barbara Reeder was chosen as president, Syble Ann Bley was elected vice-president, and Eleanor Browning was named secretary-reporter.

Mrs. Sparks explained to the new club members that 4-H clubs throughout the nation have a common aim, which is expressed in their motto—"To make the best better."

Syble Bley and Barbara Reeder are in charge of food demonstrations for the club, and Dianne Kerley and Shirley Watson will be in charge of clothing demonstrations.

At the next meeting, the club will have a demonstration in cooking breakfast cereals in milk for topping with fruit.

Pep Rally For Lakeview Game

Ear-splitting yells of "fight team, fight" today filled the Snyder High School gym in a pep rally for tonight's game.

Seats were filled by 600 students as four yell leaders kept perfect time with the rhythm of the band in marches.

Captains Grant Teaff and Max Coffee fully agreed to the words of Teaff when he said, "Someone said last Friday night's game was our last loss—I think so too."

Several Tigers are more versatile than others and are members of the band. One of the coaches cast a look at the band and said, "See that big tackle of mine? He's over there blowing one of those horns."

"We need that little spark that you, the student body, can give us," Coach Speedy Moffett told a hushed audience. "We haven't had the inspiration and desire to win that comes from you.—We need it."

Moffett called all his Tigers onto the floor and introduced them by name and position among the loud yells of the students.

"It takes twelve men to win a game," Harold Bennett, Chamber of Commerce manager added to Moffett's words. "The twelfth man is the high school and the town, who's got to be there to support them. Now come on girls—let's give fifteen rahs for something!"

T. D. Wiman, High School Principal, introduced the yell leaders to the students.

Standing at attention, the gym full of highly-spirited students rang out with the high school's Alma Mater song, and left the gym ready to see the Tigers win over the Lakeview Chiefs.

Three Awards Made At Agriculture Picnic; Pat Bullock Speaks

"Farming is the backbone of our nation," Pat Bullock, state senator, told approximately 100 farming students at a weiner roast given by the Scurry County Farm Bureau last night at the Memorial Park.

Bullock explained that he had seen the time when farmers had no co-operation, but that now aid was available from farm bureaus and the Department of Agriculture. He said there is a need for preparedness in farming, and he urged the students to learn how to be good farmers later.

Three students merited trophy awards for outstanding club work last year. Bill Smith of the Snyder chapter received the cup from his chapter, which was presented by J. L. Browning, vocational agriculture instructor at Snyder High School. Smith, a senior, is a third year agriculture student and president of the Future Farmers of America, Area No. 2, covering the western part of Texas.

Award of the Hermleigh F.F.A. trophy by instructor Red White went to Kenneth Simmons. Kenneth is a sophomore and second year agriculture student.

Presented by Oscar Fowler, county agent, the third trophy for the outstanding county 4-H club member was given to Delbert Hess of the Hermleigh 4-H club.

Along with the Snyder and Hermleigh F.F.A. chapters were members of the new Ira chapter. Forming the chapter this year, J. C. Walls, Jr., is sponsor.

Snyder Man Returned To Navy After Being Arrested At Work Here

A telephone call from Tex Perryman, special agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Lubbock, took police to a local grocery yesterday morning to arrest a man reported to be absent without leave from the U. S. Navy.

Emory Lee Williams, 22, who was living at 926 Twenty-sixth Street, had been absent without leave from a naval base at Long Beach, Calif., since Feb. 27, Perryman told police.

After contacting the assistant manager of the store, police went there and found Williams working as a meat cutter. They told him he was wanted by the navy.

Williams at first claimed he had been discharged from the navy, but after police had checked and verified his fingerprints with the classification given them by Perryman, he admitted he was absent without leave.

Williams was taken by Chester Bairrington, chief of police, to the Lubbock naval recruiting station for further disposition.

Department Stores Show Sales Spurt

DALLAS, Sept. 22. (AP) — Department store sales in Texas' major cities took a sharp spurt in the week ending Sept. 16 as compared with a comparable week a year ago, the federal reserve bank of Dallas reported today.

The week was the one preceding the imposing of credit controls on many items. However, 1950 sales have consistently been ahead of last year's.

Houston showed a lusty 46 per cent increase in sales as compared with a year ago, San Antonio 42 per cent, Dallas 21 and Fort Worth 19.

The bank's sales index for the week reached 558.2. The base index of 100 is for the 1935-1939 period.

COTTON

NEW YORK, Sept. 22. (AP) — Noon cotton prices were 52.18 a bale higher to 5 cents lower than the previous close. Oct 41.00, Dec 40.86 and March 40.89.

Credit Buying Control Seems To Have Caused Heavy Rush

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22. — The federal reserve board's first shots at the inflation specter appeared today to be bouncing back. But the credit-control agency has a lot more ammunition left, and a will to use it.

When the board on Sept. 8 announced some fairly light curbs on installment sales terms as an early step, it provided a 10-day advance notice before putting the restrictions into effect last Monday.

Today it was studying first results of the advance notice: A big jump in department store sales—which usually give the first clue on the general retail sales picture—during the warning period.

BIG JUMP

Department store reports to the board yesterday from over the nation showed that last week's sales jumped 25 per cent over the previous week, which was nearly ended before the credit terms were announced.

Officials conceded that was strong evidence that consumers had hurried to make installment purchases of television sets, furniture and all the household appliances that department stores handle before the credit restrictions took hold.

Some suggested, however, that the increase in purchases supports the board's idea that a "modest" tightening up will be sufficient to put an effective damper on installment sales, particularly since higher income tax withholdings next month will cut down buying power.

REASONING

These officials reasoned that people would not have rushed out to beat the controls deadline if they considered it as easy to buy under the control terms as it had been before them.

Against this, reports from many cities say plenty of retail sellers insist the curbs haven't done much to their business yet and, unless tightened, aren't likely to do so.

It will be another month before overall retail sales figures, in which department stores sales are only one item, are available to show more clearly how the inflation fight is going on the consumer front.

ANOTHER PROBLEM

Meanwhile, the board has another immediate problem—expanding bank credit to business, something the board has recently sought to restrain by attempting to push up interest rates on short-term loans, thereby discouraging borrowing.

The board's first attempts on that front, launched a month ago, got it into a scrap with the Treasury Department. The treasury opposes higher rates because they boost the interest cost on the $257 billion federal debt.

Still worse, the board's latest word from banks in leading cities across the nation shows business loans took the biggest one-week hop in history during the period ended Sept. 13.

That $398 million jump shoved the total of business loans to within $302 million of the historic high point of $15,632,000,000 attained Dec. 22, 1948.

Man Held By Police Admits Giving Bad Checks in Louisiana

Police are holding for further investigation a man they arrested Tuesday on a charge of assault of his wife with intent to do bodily harm.

Patrolmen arrested the man on the Sweetwater highway near Ballard's Cafe after a call from his wife reporting the incident.

Talking to the woman at a service station where the incident occurred, police found that the man had pushed her out of their car and left with two men in another car.

A service station attendant gave police the license number of the car, and while they were questioning the woman the car passed on its way back into town.

Leaving the woman at the station, policemen pursued the car and stopped it in front of Ballard's Cafe. They carried all three men to the police station and booked the husband on the assault charge.

During questioning, the man admitted giving bad checks in Houston and in Shreveport, La., and disposing of mortgaged property in Louisiana which he had bought in Houston.

He is being held in the city jail until authorities in Houston and Shreveport are notified.

NEWS FROM DUNN

BY MRS. BAMA CLARK

This community received nearly two and one-half inches of rainfall over the week end. Everyone is hoping for fair weather, so they can start on the feed harvest and some cotton picking. Many field hands are coming in to the community.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Echols have as their guest Mrs. Echols' sister, Mrs. Jesse Bowers of Pasadena.

Mrs. Kate Cuthberson is visiting her brother, W. A. Johnston.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Brown of Midland visited Sunday with Mrs. Brown's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wade and Harold Wade.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Morrison and daughter visited in Abilene last week end.

We welcome to our community Mr. and Mrs. Herman Elkins and family.

Mrs. L. E. Russell has purchased a house and moved it to her lot here in Dunn.

Archie Crabtree has begun work on his new house. He recently sold his home to Mrs. Bettie Smith.

Mrs. Bama Clark received word her son, Otha Lee, has undergone an operation for a ruptured appendix. At last report his condition was satisfactory at the San Jacinto Memorial Hospital. He recieved his high school education in Snyder, where he was a member of the football team, and he worked at the printing office several years.

Home Demonstration Council Asks Clubs To Make UN Flags

Scurry County's home demonstration clubs agreed Saturday to participate in the United Nations program for October, each club making a UN flag for its community, Mrs. Mildred Sparks, acting home demonstration agent, said today.

Nine members of the county home demonstration council were present at the meeting, representing clubs at Plainview community, Union, Pyron, Tri-community, and Hermleigh.

The group discussed recreation for the clubs, and Mrs. Lowell Light, in a review of the 4-H club workshops, recommended that home demonstration clubs help the 4-H girls by acting as leaders and furnishing them transportation and financial assistance.

Mrs. Doyle Pogue, Mrs. M. L. Andress, and Mrs. Buford Light were elected by the council as a nominating committee for the October session in which officers will be elected for the following year.

War On Flies Conducted By Navy In Egypt

By FRED ZUSY

CAIRO, Sept. 19. (AP) — A United States Navy unit operating on the edge of the desert is waging war against two of Egypt's major enemies—snails and flies.

It's a task force equipped with chemicals, test tubes and spray guns instead of battleships and carriers.

The enemy—tiny though he is—is a dangerous one. He has spread death and disease throughout the Nile kingdom.

A clearcut Navy victory, by raising the health and vitality of Egypt's millions, could greatly affect the country's destiny.

The land sailors, operating five miles from the pyramids of the Pharoahs, are known here as NAMRU-3. That stands for Navy Medical Research Unit No. 3. It is the only such unit that the Navy maintains overseas.

STUDY PREVENTION

NAMRU-3 is studying new approaches to the prevention, control and treatment of the wide variety of tropical and other diseases found in Egypt.

That involves a wide sale onslaught against the snail and house fly.

Snails infest the canals leading off the Nile to the rich delta-lands. They carry a tiny parasite which causes bilharzia. This disease for centuries has sapped the vigor of millions of Egyptian fallaheen, or peasants.

Bilharzia is also present through many other parts of Africa and the Mediterranean basin.

TEST CHEMICALS

NAMRU3 has already tested more than 750 chemical compounds in a search for cheap, practical and swift snail killer. Thus far some "promising leads" have resulted. Plans are to test up to 20,000 chemicals, if necessary.

The bilharzia problem has been attacked before. Some improvements in treatment have been found. But no way has yet been discovered to stamp out the snail which harbors the parasite.

NAMRU-3 is also waging war against the housefly, a serious pest which spreads dysenteries and typhoid throughout Egypt. The housefly, scientists say, is also responsible for many cases of blindness.

The Navy unit is looking for more efficient ways to kill flies. Experts on insecticides from the U. S. Department of Agriculture are assisting. Similar research is centered at Orlando, Fla.

RESEARCH IN FLIES

The fly research program is typical of the entire NAMRU-3 operation. It has studied the use of air craft in spraying operations. It is so thorough that a special diet kitchen is maintained to feed the flies kept captive for study and observation.

The director of NAMRU-3 is Capt. James J. Sapero, of Long Beach, Calif. He headed the Navy medical corps fight against malaria in the Pacific during the last war.

He heads a navy unit of about 25 officers and enlisted men, chiefly technicians. This small group operates the $1,500,000 NAMRU-3 setup, assisted by nearly 100 Egyptian technicians and other workers. The whole program costs the U. S. taxpayer some $300,000 annually. Much of the scientific equipment, however, was obtained from war surplus.

Industrialist, Wife Face Child Charges

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22 (AP) — Bror Dahlberg, multimillionaire industrialist, and his wife faced further court action today by the parents of a 13-year-old boy, Craig Johnsen.

Marvin and Mildred Johnsen, who filed a $40,000 damage suit against the wealthy couple three days ago, asked the court yesterday to remove the Dahlbergs as the boy's guardian.

The parents charged violation of an agreement reached last December whereby they were to be permitted regular visits to their son.

The Dahlbergs took the boy into their home six years ago. They met him at a summer camp they operated in northern Wisconsin.

Guardians Sought For 34-Year-Old Heirs

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22. (AP) — Mrs. Mabel C. Reat, who describes herself as a friend of the family, wants the court to appoint a guardian for Richard and Robert Sprague, 34-year-old heirs to a dime store fortune.

In her petition filed yesterday, Mrs. Reat asserted that the twins have become mentally incompetent and unable to manage inheritances of $300,000 each left them by their late father, Frank Daniel Sprague. He once was an officer of the F. W. Woolworth Co.

Shaw's Condition Is Said Satisfactory

LUTON, Eng., Sept. 22. (AP) — A hospital bulletin this morning said the condition of George Bernard Shaw, who is suffering from a thigh fracture and kidney ailment, is "satisfactory."

Hospital officials said that even if all goes well, it will be at least two weeks before the famed Irish wit can hope to go home to his cottage in Ayot St. Lawrence.

Soil Conservation Tour Shows Revolutionary Work in Scurry

"Alfalfa won't grow in Scurry County without irrigation."

That was the general belief of farmers here a couple of years ago, until Edgar Shuler and Raymond Smith decided to see for themselves.

The impressive results of Smith's experiment in dry land alfalfa raising were shown yesterday to about 25 men on the Chamber of Commerce soil conservation tour.

PLANT IN DROUGHT

Smith, who farms 454 acres of rich land five miles east of town, showed the group several fields of alfalfa which had gone through last winter without rain, had been grazed by Smith's prize-winning hogs, and mowed, and was still thriving.

Ed Seay, director of the soil conservation here, uprotted one of the alfalfa plants to show the group nodules of nitrogen-fixing bacteria which enable alfalfa to replenish the supply of nitrogen in the soil.

Other advantages are that its roots make the soil looser and more pliable, making possible greater moisture penetration and protecting the soil from wind erosion.

The popular opinion that alfalfa can't be grown here without irrigation is true to this extent due to the low rainfall in average years, it will not grow as well when drilled as it does in most moist climates, but it will make an excellent showing when planted in rows.

This type of planting gives each plant the advantage of more moisture and aids in controlling weeds.

COTTON AND CLOVER

Another experiment shown at the Smith farm was a field planted two rows in cotton and two rows in clover. Smith plans to take a seed crop from the clover when it matures. After allowing sufficient time for the clover to make a good growth, he plans to turn it under as a green manure crop next spring. The clover then will enrich the soil as well as put it in a better condition to receive and hold moisture, thus making possible a better yield of cotton in 1952.

The Chamber of Commerce group also saw the soil conservation district's latest seed planter, which has been on the Smith farm for experiment and adjustment.

Available to any farmer in this conservation district for a fee of 50 cents an hour, the planter is especially adoptable to planting grass seeds, which are very small and must be planted not more than three-quarters of an inch beneath the surface, and to planting such things as small grains, peas, and vetch.

Seay told the group that the district has on order some grass drills and more seed planters.

GRASS EXPERIMENT

In another pasture of the Smith farm, conservationists have conducted an experiment with various grasses, all of which were unusually successful this year.

Those which were trial-planted there included side oats grama, a native Texas grass; Western wheat grass; Indian grass, another native tall grass, very palatable; love grass; and blue panic, which stood in Smith's pasture as high as a man's head.

After refreshments at the Smith farm, the group went to the A. B. Eicke pasture on the west outskirts of Snyder, where they saw six acres of weeping lovegrass. It was planted in the spring of 1949 in 36-inch rows by a specially adapted two-row sod planter.

It is the opinion of soil conservationists that the weeping lovegrass has an advantage in being one of the earliest of the summer grasses, but that it is not as good for grazing as the blue panic.

The Eicke field which was shown to the tour was the only on in the county planted in weeping lovegrass.

KING RANCH GRASS

The tour's last stop, before being overtaken by rain, was northwest of Snyder where they inspected King Ranch blue stem on a retired cultivated field on Joel Hamlett's farm.

Seay told the group the King Ranch blue stem was especially useful in returning to grass land any fields which should not have been plowed in the first place. He added that the South Texas grass also grows well in shallow soil.

The roots, he said, had been known to penetrate to a depth of 10 feet when soil and moisture conditions were suitable.

Another characteristic which makes the King Ranch grass useful as a covering for waterways is its extensive system of fine fibrous roots which hold the soil.

In the Hamlett field a large number of undesirable weeds and sunflowers were noted. Nolan von Roeder, secretary of the board of supervisors of this soil conservation district, remarked that the district should order two more mowers.

The tour was the first to be conducted by the Chamber of Commerce here. Harold Bennett, manager of the chamber, expressed satisfaction with the first tour and stated his intention to arrange another next spring.

allowed to decide by majority vote what kind of government we shall have and what we will do, and I assure you that whether the issue is approved or defeated, I will bow to the will of the majority and be satisfied with your decision."

The city property tax rate is set at 90 cents per $100 valuation, approximately 60 cents of which will be directed to a sinking fund for the retirement of the tax bonds if the issue is approved.

Choosing the lowest bidder, the city council recently contracted with H. L. Sheafer & Co., bond investment firm of Amarillo, to handle the election proceedings and to buy the bonds necessary for the improvment program at rates of 3 per cent on those maturing in the first 10 yeaers, 3½ per cent on thosematuring in more than 10 but less than 15 years, and 4 per cent on those maturing after 15 years.

OTHER BIDDERS

The only other bidder submitted rates of 4½, 5, and 5½ per cent, Mr. Creswell stated. The H. L. Sheafer & Co. will also pay all the election costs if the issue is not approved by the voters, it was explained.

Hiram Childress, Sweetwater attorney and also a state representative, arose from the audience and asked to speak concerning the interest rates and the debt to be incurred if the issue carried. Representing the opponents of the proposed issue, Childress mentioned several possibilities of incurring a large debt and later finding it impossible to pay it, mentioning also the "high interest to be paid at 5 per cent." Mr. Creswell then arose to correct Childress on the interest rates he had quoted, and Childress added that he had been informed by opponents of the proposal that the rates were to be 5 per cent on all bonds regardless of the maturity date.

Near the close of the meeting, W. T. Stevenson, an announced opponent of the issue, asked if the people could have two election judges rather than only one.

"There are always three judges appointed by the mayor," Mr. Creswell answered. Stevenson then asked if one would be appointed who was an opponent of the issue.

"Certainly," the mayor answered. "I hereby appoint you as one of the election judges to serve in this election." Stevenson then commented that he could not serve.

Workers Strike Plant Making Jet Parts

BURBANK, Calif., Sept. 22. (AP) — Picketing continued at the Menasco Manufacturing Co. today as a strike by 600 members of the International Assn. of Machnists entered its second day.

The walkout was called yesterday over wage issues. C. C. Bogardus, union business agent, said the company makes, among other things, parts for jet planes of a type now operating in the war zone, but that "all parts anywhere near ready were completed and sent out before the walkout."

The I.A.M., an independent union, wants $2.15 an hour for journeymen machinists who now receive $1.85. Bogardus said the company offer is about 15 cents below the union demand.

Magnolia To Rebuild Desdemona Plant

DESDEMONA, Sept. 22. (AP) — Magnolia Petroleum Co. plans to rebuild its Desdemona butane-gasoline plant, partly destroyed yesterday by an explosion and fire which injured a truck driver.

The blast occurred as a butane truck driven by J. E. McDonald of Waco was being loaded. McDonald suffered arm burns.

Marshall Administration Will Spread Responsibilities Around

By ELTON C. FAY
(Associated Press Staff)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22. — The secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force may find they have greater stature and more responsibility under the administration of Secretary of Defense George C. Marshall.

POINTS

While no one expects any deviation by Marshall from the spirit or letter of the law which unified the armed services, those who have worked with him before make these points:

1. Marshall is an experienced administrator, former military chief of a huge wartime army and former head of the State Department. He prefers to delegate responsibility and authority.

2. As secretary of state, he had key assistant secretaries who handled matters in their own provinces and brought only the larger, policy matters to him for decision.

3. If he follows that pattern as chief of the Defense Department, greatest single agency of government, it would mean more decentralization, greater freedom of activity than the service secretaries had under former Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson.

So firm was Johnson's control of affairs in the Army, Navy and Air Force that one man, John L. Sullivan, resigned as Navy secretary in protest. Former Air Force Secretary W. Stuart Symington had some behind the scenes bouts with Johnson, but when he left it was to become chairman of the National Security Resources Board, a cabinet level position.

NEWCOMERS

All three servicee secretaries — Frank Pace of the Army, Francis Matthews of the Navy and Thomas Finletter of the Air Force — are comparative newcomers to their posts. Pace and Finletter were appointed by President Truman early this year. Matthews has been Navy Secretary since May, 1949.

Pace's name has been mentioned during the last few days among those speculated upon as possible successors to the deputy defense secretary's job which Stephen Early is leaving at the end of this month.

Reasons advanced for this speculation include the fact that he is a fiscal and business expert and was personally picked by President Truman for his former job, director of the federal budget.

County Court Charge Filed After Accident

A charge of driving while intoxicated was filed in county court this morning against Ted James Lawrence, 29, of 1109 Avenue R, who suffered minor lacerations and bruises in a car-truck collision on the Big Spring highway early yesterday morning.

Lawrence pleaded not guilty to the charge, and bond was set a $250.

The accident occurred about 16 miles south of town when a 1946 Ford driven by Lawrence and a truck driven by an Odessa man collided. Damage to the truck was estimated at $250, and the Lawrence car was considered a total loss, E. W. Green and Bill Zimmerman, way patrolmen, said.

The driver of the truck was not injured, Green said. Lawrence was brought to the Snyder Hospital Clinic in a Bolger-Barnes Ambulance.

In another county court case, a balance of $40 was paid this morning on a fine of $123.50 assessed 28 days ago against Douglas L. McLean, 34, of Odessa. McLean was given credit for the 28 days spent in the county jail.

In justice court, a fine of $14, including court cost, was assessed O. J. Measeles, 48, Scurry Lodge, charged with drunkenness.

Stock Market Soars Today

NEW YORK, Sept. 22. (AP) — An inflation-minded stock market soared to a 19-year peak today.

Not since 1931, according to the Associated Press average of 60 stocks, has the general price level climbed so high.

As measured by the AP average, the market broke through the 1946 high of $82.40 a share and hit $282.80 at noon. The 1931 peak was $88.50.

Railroad issues, much in demand recently, powered today's rise. Other key groups, such as steels, motors, rubbers, chemicals, metals, and oils, joined the parade.

HUGE ADVANCE

Nickel Plate Railway zoomed ahead of the rest of the market with a gain of $7 at $152 a share at one time. The stock jumped that same amount yesterday. Other advances ranged to more than $1 a share.

The current bull market got rolling in June, 1949, after plunging to low. was made the Korean a 4½-year low. Steady upward progress was made until the Korean war when prices nose dived in sensational fashion.

A recovery from the Korean selling smash started in mid-July and has been under way ever since.

Inflationary factors have played a key part in the rise.

In addition the economy has been producing at record high levels, corporation profits have ballooned, and dividends have been pumped out to stockholders in a lavish stream.

GOODS DEMAND

Demand for goods and services is expected to continue indefinitely. Order books are already crammed with civilian orders. They'll bulge still more when the nation's mobilization program swings into high gear.

Common stocks are a traditional refuge for money in times of rising prices. When the price of things increases, the value of the dollar goes down. Canny traders believe they can protect their dollars by buying common stocks, which represent ownership in things.

run and the well will be completed.

The first oil in this development came in a test of the section at 7,192-7,208 feet. It flowed for 15 minutes at the estimated rate of 40 barrels an hour. The section covered by the last test at 7,195-7,218 feet did not take in the top three feet which was covered by the first test, but it did include 10 feet of new hole made after the first flow.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 3, block 4, H&GN survey.

TAYLOR COUNTY

In Southeast Taylor County, one mile east of the town of Ovalo, a 5,000-foot wildcat is to be drilled by Kerr-McGee Oil Industries, Inc., as its No. 1 Ovalo-Smith. Operations are to begin immediately.

The exploration will be in the southwest corner of the L. Smith 170-acre tract in the northwest part of section 403, R. Williams survey.

The 5,000-foot depth of this development is scheduled to allow an exploration of the Ellenburger.

FLOWS 13 BARRELS

Skelly Oil Co. No. 1 Cleve Hamilton, south offset to the Bend Conglomerate discovery well in Central-East Stonewall County, flowed 13 barrels of oil in one hour, after kicking off at the end of 14 hours of swabbing.

During the 14 hours, the well made 128 barrels of oil and 14 barrels of wash water, swabbing into tanks.

Production was from three sets of perforations at 5,861-67, 5,876-90 and from 5,900-05 feet.

Location of the No. 1 Cleve Hamilton is 467 feet from the north and east lines of A. M. Reed survey.

Operator will probably take a potential test within a few days.

CORED DEEPER

Honolulu Oil Corp. and Signal Oil & Gas Co. No. 1-13 Underwood, discovery well of the Ropes-Pennsylvanian field of Central-East Hockley County, has been cored deeper to 9,410 feet.

Operators are now preparing to put the well back on production. A new potential will be taken and reported in a few days.

The production of the well when it was completed has been holding up satisfactorily, and the owners decided to deepen it to see if there were more pay in the producing section.

Some of the new section did not show for production, however, a considerable amount of it did have good indications of oil and gas.

Exact location of the No. 1-13 Underwood is 510 feet from north and east lines of labor 13, league 5, Wilbarger County school land.

HUNT IN TERRY

Nelson Bunker Hunt Trust Estate, Dallas, staked its No. 1 A. M. Brownfield in East-Central Terry County to be drilled as a wildcat to 10,500 feet.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and west lines of the north half of section 74, block T, D&W survey and three miles southeast of Brownfield.

It is also two miles north and one-half mile east of Union Oil Co. No. 1 Cotten, discovery from the Pennsylvanian lime in that area.

AMERADA WILDCAT

Amerada Petroleum Corp. No. 1 N. W. Willard, wildcat in South Terry County, will be drilled on down to 13,000 feet instead of stopping at original contract depth of 12,000 feet.

The wildcat is now progressing below 12,115 feet in Mississippian lime.

The new depth will probably take the No. 1 Willard into the Ellenburger.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of northwest quarter of section 6, block C-37, psl survey.

Drillsite is one mile west of the Adair-San Andres field and six miles west of the Corrigan-Fusselman field.

MIDLAND VENTURE

Tex-Harvey Oil Co. will drill its No. 1-15 Jay H. Floyd as an inside project in the Tex-Harvey field of Central-East Midland County.

Location of the 8,000-foot rotary project will be 660 feet from east and 1,980 feet from south lines of section 15, block 37, T&P survey, T-3-S and 18 miles southeast of the city of Midland.

Work will start immediately.

SCURRY LOCATION

Magnolia Petroleum Co. has spotted a new location outside of production from the Canyon reef on the northwest side of the Kelley-Snyder field of Scurry County.

No. 1-E McDonnell estate is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 335, block 97, H&TC survey.

Rotary tools will be used to drill to 7,000 feet beginning at once.

Drillsite is about six miles north west of Snyder.

On the northeast side of the Kelley-Snyder field and about 11 miles north of Snyder, Standard Oil Co. of Texas has made location for its No. 13 G. E. Parks.

Projected depth is 7,000 feet. Rotary tools will be moved in and drilling will begin at once.

It is located 2,725 feet from west and 1,035 feet from north lines of section 448, block 97, H&TC survey.

PECOS COUNTY

Childress Royalty Co. of Monahans has filed application with the Railroad Commission of Texas for permission to drill its No. 1-G J. C. Masterson, 2,500-foot wildcat, in Central-North Pecos County.

RAPID GAIT

The task force covered six miles in six hours at the outset. It bypassed an estimated 5,000 Reds trapped Thursday in a triangle between the highway and the river.

More than 400 of the trapped force surrendered. Major Gen. Hobart R. Gay, First Cavalry commander, personally brought in two prisoners, a division spokesman said. The Reds were getting hungrier. More were expected to quit.

Gen. Gay was elated.

Morris Trussell Snyder's First Polio Fatality

Funeral services were to be held at 3 o'clock today for Snyder's first polio fatality of the season, Morris Wood Trussell, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Trussell, 808 Twenty-eighth Street.

The child died yesterday afternoon at the Hendrick Memorial Hospital, Abilene, where his illness was diagnosed as polio.

ILL YESTERDAY

The illness was noted early yesterday morning, and he was taken by Bolger-Barnes ambulance to the Abilene Hospital yesterday afternoon, where he died 45 minutes later.

Also taken to the Hendrick Hospital was Travis Trussell, 13, a brother of Morris Trussell. The older brother was admitted to the hospital for observation but was released last night when physicians found no symptoms of polio.

Funeral services this afternoon were to be held at the Church of Christ on Twenty-fifth Street, with Boyd Fanning, minister, officiating, assisted by the Rev. E. K. Shepherd pastor of the First Baptist Church.

SURVIVORS LISTED

The child leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Trussell, and the brother, Travis Trussell, all of the home here. He also leaves his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Trussell, Snyder, and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wood of Anson, Tex.

Pallbearers were to be Leighton Griffin, Howard Crenshaw, M. O. Burrow, Doc Morton, Jess King, D. T. Pierce, and C. L. Banks.

Funeral Tomorrow For Pfc. Daniel O. Arnold

Graveside military rites will be held at 3 o'clock tomorrow for Pfc. Daniel O. Arnold, former Snyder resident who was killed on Okinawa, in 1945.

The soldier's body will arrive on the train by military escort at 8:50 tonight and will be taken to Bolger-Barnes Funeral Home for burial arrangements.

The Rev. E. K. Shepherd of the First Baptist Church will officiate.

Arnold is survived by his mother, Mrs. Addie Mathews, Odessa; a daughter, Wanda Dell Arnold, Odessa; two sisters, Mrs. Garland Dorman and Mrs. Gertie Marie Owens, Snyder; and two brothers, B. H. Arnold of Fort Worth and W. F. Arnold of Snyder.
