ITALY OFFERS MAILED FIST TO BRITAIN

FIVE-POINT PROGRAM TO KEEP STRONG IS FASHIONED

(By The Associated Press)

ROME, March 2 — Italy decreed 37 years of military fitness for every man in the kingdom today in a mailed fist answer to the challenge of Great Britain's vast defense rearmament.

Ordering virtually a lifetime of "integral militarization" for its citizens—throughout the ages of 18 to 55—the grand fascist council "definitely" scouted even the "remote possibility of armament limitation" and fashioned a five-point program to keep Italy strong.

Answer To Britain

At the same time, the official communique issued after the near all-night session of the government body of fascism stressed the "realistic" cooperation of Italy with the fascist bloc of nations, particularly nazi Germany.

In addition to what was generally considered the direct answer to British rearming, a veiled hint to Britain to consider Italian power in her foreign program was seen in the council's comment on the Anglo-Italian gentlemen's agreement.

While the grand council declared it considered the accord clarified the relations between the two nations in the Mediterranean, the limitation of the clarification to that specific area was deemed significant.

Financing Is Unknown

How the huge program, totally sacrificing the civil state to the military if necessary, was to be financed the communique did not announce.

Besides the "integral militarization of all active forces between the ages of 18 and 55 with periodical recalls of the mobilizable classes," the points embraced were:

Increase In Forces

1. An "adequate increase" in the armed forces.

2. Extension for five years of the general commission for war supplies.

3. "Total sacrifice if necessary of civil necessities to military necessities for attainment of maximum self sufficiency regarding military needs."

4. An invitation to Italian science to collaborate in reaching self-sufficiency.

FDR CLAIMS NRA IS KEY TO PROBLEMS

REPORT GIVEN ON ANALYSIS OF SET-UP

PRAISE AND BLAME OF ACTIVITIES OFFERED FOLLOWING STUDY

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 2—President Roosevelt told congress today it could find a key to many industrial problems in the successes and failures of the defunct National Recovery administration.

Sending to the national legislature a 240-page report of his committee on industrial analysis, appointed April 1, 1936, the president said that "in my opinion, it will point the way to the solution of many vexing problems of legislation and administration in one of the most vital subjects of national concern."

Analysis Was Made

The committee made an analysis of the aims, organization and accomplishments of the National Recovery administration which was invalidated by a Supreme court ruling in the spring of 1935.

Praise and blame of NRA activities were mixed in the review signed by Professor J. M. Cark of Columbia university; William H. Davis, New York attorney; George M. Harrison, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks and George H. Mead, Dayton, Ohio, manufacturer.

No recommendations as to specific legislation were made but in its conclusions, the group said:

More Definite Standards

"Both for legal and for economic reasons, any program similar to that of NRA needs more definite standards than NRA possessed."

Then the committee discussed possible standards for hours, wages, fair practices and anti-trust laws in industry.

"The long-run normal standard as to hours should be one representing the most effective balancing of the workers' time between producing more goods and enjoying more

Lubbock Woman Victim Of Illness

Mrs. Joe W. Perkins, 65, died at 11 o'clock this morning of a heart ailment at her home one and one-half miles northeast of Lubbock.

She had been a resident of Lubbock 29 years.

Funeral services will be held at the First Baptist church, of which she has been a member since moving here, at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon with Rev. C. E. Hereford, pastor, in charge.

Burial will be in a local cemetery with Sanders Funeral home officiating.

Perkins is a farmer.

Mrs. Perkins was survived by her husband, three daughters, Mrs. Lattie Rankin and Miss Myra Ann Perkins, both teachers in Lubbock public schools, and Mrs. M. D. Newton, also of Lubbock; and one son, A. W. Perkins of Globe, Ariz.

One Person Burned In Sanitarium Fire

VILLE PLATTE, La., March 2 (AP)—Fire early today destroyed the Ardoin sanitarium and caused painful burns to one patient who was temporarily trapped in the burning building.

Dr. Yves Ardoin, owner of the hospital, a one-story frame building covering about an acre of ground, said the building was valued at approximately $100,000 and that immediate plans would be made for rebuilding.

Killer's Life Is Claimed In Chair

CHICAGO, March 2. (AP)—Joseph Rappaport, 31, died in the electric chair early today soon after a lie detector test failed to support his denial that he killed Max Dent, a government informer.

As the hour for Rappaport to expiate his crime drew near, a lie detecting machine was used.

Each question drew a firm "no!" and simultaneously the indicator recorded blood pressure reaction.

United Front Will Oppose Court Plan

RECRUITS FROM ALL RANKS WILL BE SOUGHT IN HOUSE; SENATE LEADERS TAKE HAND

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 2—Congressmen opposed to the administration's court program, who have been loosely united, switched their tactics today and decided to set up formal campaign organizations.

A group of house Democrats arranged to appoint a steering committee to seek recruits among the many noncommittal members.

In the senate recognized leaders are to be chosen, it was learned, in the place of a half dozen members who have been outlining the attack informally.

Other developments in the court battle:

1. Harry L. Hopkins, WPA administrator, declared "two or three elderly judges" could block social legislation unless the Supreme court's complexion is changed.

2. Senator Clark (D-Mo) denied the 1936 election gave President Roosevelt a mandate for his court program.

3. The president signed into law the Sumners bill authorizing voluntary retirement of Supreme court justices at .70 on full pay.

4. Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, one of the Republican leaders who have been holding their fire, will deliver a radio address tonight.

The approach of senate committee hearings next week was ascribed by some opponents as one reason for a more closely knit organization.

Democratic representatives fighting the president's program met last night to discuss strategy. Some declared at least 90 Democrats were lined up but that only about half that number attended the meeting.

Senator Robinson's presentation to the senate yesterday of a letter enclosing colored slips worded "hands off the supreme court" brought a reply from the author, Gerald B. Winrod, in Brownsville, Tex.

Winrod, a Kansas evangelist, said the letter was mailed only to a select group of friends. Such communications, he declared, were a "spontaneous expression from patriotic lovers of Democratic government."

Miners Stick It Out In Diggings

SIT-DOWNERS REFUSE TO LEAVE MINE BUT THEY LIVE WELL

(By The Associated Press)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., March 2—From the deep subterranean chambers of a coal mine, 350 men sent word today they were "living well" and satisfied to continue a sit-down strike 400 feet beneath the earth's surface.

A score of other miners stolidly guarded the mine entrance after an all-night vigil while women folk and children milled about the scene awaiting word from husbands and fathers "on strike."

Drama Is Sensed

This populous bituminus coal district began to sense the drama of the self-imprisonment in the depths of the earth—America's first counterpart of the "sit down" strike which ended last week in Pecs, Hungary.

The mine is known as the Jamison property of the South Union Coal company.

Both the company and miners' representatives were vague on the exact cause of the strike, but both agreed that it involved the company's refusal to grant local No. 6287 of the United Mine Workers of America a checkoff of union fines and assessments.

Suffer No Hardships

The "sit downers" are suffering no hardships other than their self-imposed exile from sunlight. The mine is well lighted and they are warmly clothed and well fed.

A company official, who declined to be identified, said:

"Instead of going to the labor board as they should have, the

TEXAS OBSERVES 101ST BIRTHDAY OF INDEPENDENCE FROM MEXICO TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 2—The legislature paused today in its business of enacting laws to observe the 101st birthday of Texas' independence from Mexico.

Clarence Wharton, Houston attorney and historian, was the principal speaker at a joint session.

"In the heat of the revolution and the years that followed," Wharton said, "it was fashionable to heap odium on the Mexicans. The truth is that the early Texas colonists were in the main well treated by officials and residents of Mexico. The Texas settlers had no quarrel with the people of Mexico but only with General Santa Anna, who wanted to overthrow the Mexican constitution."

Wharton touched briefly on the current United States supreme court controversy.

"Constitutional amendment," he said "is just as sacred today as it was 101 years ago. Are we going to sacrifice constitutional government, are we going to sell our birthright for a mess of pottage—for federal bounty?"

Governor Allred was at Old Washington on the Brazos, where the declaration of independence was signed, for an observance there.

ALLOTMENT OF MILLIONS IS REQUESTED

APPROVAL IS OFFERED BY HOUSE GROUP TO BUILDING PLANS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 2—The house appropriations committee approved today a $526,555,428 allotment for the navy department for the next fiscal year.

The appropriation included funds for the navy's huge ship and airplane construction program for the year, beginning July 1.

Demands Are Ignored

The committee ignored budget demands that would have shot the supply measure to a new peacetime high of $562,425,709. It lopped $35,870,281 from the budget figures. That kept the amount $1,547,104 less than the record peacetime appropriation for the current year.

The committee cut $27,000,000 from the $157,000,000 requested for the ship construction program but this was described as merely a "deferment," warranted on grounds that $56,000,000 of current funds to be expended June 30 will be carried over into the next fiscal year.

Start New Ships

The money will be used to start eight new destroyers and four submarines and to continue work on two battleships, three aircraft carriers, eleven cruisers, forty-eight destroyers, sixteen submarines and a gunboat.

For naval aviation the committee approved $49,500,000—an increase of nearly $11,000,000 over the present appropriation. Purchases contemplated include 251 airplanes for replacement purposes, 104 additional ships, 42 for the naval reserve and two nonrigid airships.

Jones of Boerne and Johnnie Birdwell of Ralls will compete in the mixed team division for senior schools. Waggoner and Warlick Carr, freshmen of Lubbock, will debate in the junior college men's division.

The question is: "Resolved that congress should be empowered to fix minimum wages and maximum hours for industry."

The debaters are to return Sunday.

Educator Tells Of Goal For Colleges

ILLINOIS MAN PAYING VISIT TO LUBBOCK; PRAISES TECH

BY MAXINE FRY

"American colleges and universities of this modern era must develop every side of the individual student, else they fail to measure up to the highest educational standards and cannot accomplish the utmost in service to the student or the nation."

That is no hair-trigger guess.

It is an opinion backed by more than a third of a century spent in the field of higher education by Dr. T. H. McMichael, of Monmouth, Ill., who, with Mrs. McMichael, is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Charles J. Wagner, 1644 Broadway.

College President 33 Years

President of Monmouth college for 33 years and for the last two years president emeritus of that small but widely known and decidedly thorough institution located in the heart of the nation's great agricultural belt, Doctor McMichael entered the educational world when "cultural education" was all that mattered. But no stickler is he for the methods of "the good, old days." Not at all. While he believes the so-called "cultural studies" of Latin, Greek, the classics and even higher mathematics should still generally be taught, he never-the-less is a strong believer in vocational training—for curricula which fit a student for actual work in the big world "outside."

"There has been, of course, a decided change in our institutions of higher learning since I left the active ministry to become president of Monmouth," the handsome, kindly, white-haired educator said. "Most schools stress certain types of education but the colleges which does not develop every side is the loser, along with the students who attend it."

"Culture Is Learning"

"Our old school did nothing of a vocational nature; we learned the so-called cultural side of life, the

MAN HURT IN CAR CRASH

THREE AUTOS FIGURE IN ACCIDENT HERE THIS MORNING

The accident happened at the intersection of Seventh street and Avenue T shortly after 9 o'clock this morning.

Blain, driving the Martin panel delivery truck, was going west on Seventh street, and Mrs. Henrietta Davis of 610 Avenue M, in a light coach going south on Avenue T, were operating the vehicles in the collision. The coach struck the rear of the truck.

Overturns Three Times

The truck overturned three times and rolled into a third car, driven by E. R. Wooten of Levelland. Wooten, going east on Seventh street, had stopped his car before the truck rolled into it, it was reported. The truck rolled 75 or 80 feet before hitting the Levelland man's car.

Blain was taken to West Texas

MODELS TO BE CHOSEN HERE

FIFTY GIRLS ARE TO TRY FOR PLACES IN STYLE SHOW

Eighteen models for the Wes-Tex New-Mex semi-annual market week style show March 12, will be selected from a group of approximately 50 girls to meet in the east ballroom of the Lubbock hotel at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night.

The selection formerly was announced for Wednesday night, but was postponed because of conflicting meetings.

The eighteen mannequins will be trained in several rehearsals for the style event by Miss Marie Tyson, professional model, make-up artist and ballet dancer originally of Dallas, who is expected to arrive tomorrow.

Selections By Directors

Selection will be made by directors of the style event, the floor show and the dance.

Selection of the models is being made earlier this year to allow more time for training and rehearsals, said J. H. Brock, director of the event. Larrymore and his orchestra will furnish music for the stage show and the dance. Approximately 25 special entertainers will be presented in the stage show under the direction of Lewis Walker and Jack Fuller.

Novelties and features of the stage show will be presented between showings of the wholesale merchants' merchandise by models. One of the outstanding numbers already announced by directors is "Doin' the Suzi Q," a new dance step.

To Start Rehearsals

Rehearsals will begin immediately after selection of mannequins. Those selected will be given a short course in modeling and make-up by Miss Tyson.

Models for last year's show have been invited to participate in the try-outs Thursday night. Girls will be selected on a competitive basis.

The market event will be hjeld in the Lubbock hotel March 11 to 14 inclusive.

HUGE DEFENCE PLAN BEING WORKED ON

STRESS ON CHEMICAL WARFARE IS MAPPED IN THE ORIENT

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Mar. 2—Japan's army and navy ministers disclosed to the diet today a program of stress on chemical warfare and vigorous plans to meet the "menace" of increased United States air units in the Pacific.

When Japan's army and naval air force rearmament program is finished, said Navy Minister Mitsumasa Yonai, Japan need not "fear" the United States for three years.

The naval minister made his statement during a discussion of the tactics of a naval war in the Pacific that brought out such detailed points the budget subcommittee decided to go into secret session to continue the debate on the war appropriations.

Concentrate On Gas

Shortly before Admiral Yonai took the floor of the diet, the minister of war, General Gen Sugiyama, disclosed the Japanese army was concentrating on gas and other chemicals as war weapons to make up for numerical inferiority.

Japan, the naval minister said, was ready to accept an invitation from a third power to discuss arms limitaton with the United States, but would not propose such a parley unless there seemed to be a definite prospect for an amicable settlement.

Japan To Be Menaced

"In the event the United States increases its air force in Alaska, the Aleutian islands, Hawaii and other Pacific possessions," Admiral Yonai said, "Japan will be menaced."

"Some think the air force is more powerful than the warships but our navy regards the air force as an auxiliary to the fleet, both being indispensable."

"If Japan's third replenishment plan for the navy and the naval air force is completed, there need be no fear of the United States for the next three years."

Gen Sugiyama in disclosing the army's program for gas warfare told the house of representatives there is a limit to the spiritual and moral factors an army can recognize.

Emphasize Scientific Attack

Drawing on the lessons earned by Japanese armies in Manchuria, the minister said, the present war plans

Humorous Program Features Annual Banquet Of Classroom Teachers Council

After Dinner Talk Missing At Affair

The peculiar appeal of the ridiculous assured success for an annual banquet of the Lubbock Classroom Teachers council that was served Monday night at the Hilton hotel. Eighty teachers were present.

After dinner speeches were banned and in their place the pedagogues sang silly songs, staged skits and enjoyed other humorous antics. Dan W. Powers, dean of boys at Senior High school, was toast master.

After an invocation given by Miss Ruby Atwood, a trio composed of Mrs. Elois Elliott and Misses Ruth Mildred Rylander and Lois Mangum sang "The Rosary" (Nevin), giving "The Lost Chord" (Sullivan) as an encore. Mrs. M. E. Ware was their accompanist.

"Harmony Boys" Sing

Four young men, Floyd Honey, E. M. Barnett, W. C. Watts and Sam Leifeste, dubbed "The Harmony Boys," sang "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes," directed by "maestro" E. J. Lowery. They were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. E. Waldo Trotter.

Miss Ouida Burbee gave a whimsical review of "Gone With the Windsor," patterning her talk after the plan for drawing up a teacher's unit. Misses Dimple Watson, Maurine Cunningham and Roberta Myrick gave hilarious accounts of several front page stories.

Three junior high school teachers of physical education, Misses Catherine Jameson, Ouida Davis and Nancy Ruth Leaverton, danced a pirate's dance in costume. Their accompanist was Miss Frances Clark.

Reid Makes Report

A dignified talk on the program was chairman E. L. Reid's report that the council ranks third in Texas in membership, leaders being Houston and Dallas. He told of council plans.

This was the mid-winter entertainment for the council. A picnic will be given in the spring at which time an annual election of officers will be conducted.

Mr. Watts was program chairman last night. He was assisted by Mrs. Ware, Miss Cunningham and Miss Nell Montague.

RECIPES TO END CONSTIPATION

Every woman can protect her family from common constipation by careful menu planning. Often the cause of illness from constipation is lack of "bulk" in the diet.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies this "bulk" in generous quantity.

You can use ALL-BRAN in so many delightful ways. As a ready-to-eat cereal with milk or cream, fruits or honey added. Or make delicious bran muffins and breads—put it into griddle cakes, salads or soups, or over other cereals.

Just be sure each member of your family gets two tablespoonfuls every day — and forget the illness caused by constipation. Serve three times daily, in severe cases.

You can also forget pills and drugs that nobody likes to take—and that so often fail unless the dose is constantly increased.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B to help tone the intestines, and iron for the blood. Sold by all grocers. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

INDIAN PLANS UNDER FIRE

REPEAL OF ACT NOW IS BEING SOUGHT IN CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—Senators Burton K. Wheeler, Montana Democrat, and Lynn J. Frazier, North Dakota Republican, asked congress today to repeal the Wheeler-Howard Indian reorganization act, a subject of frequent dispute between the Indian bureau and several western congressmen.

Described by officials of the senate Indian affairs committee as an "outright repeal" bill, the Wheeler-Frazier measure woud kill the plan of Indian Commissioner John Collier to give Indians what he has contended is a form of "self government, protecting them from encroachments of the white man."

Establish Government

The primary purpose of the Wheeler-Howard act was to establish a form of charter and constitutional tribal government to be adopted by the Indians in tribal elections, with Indians given the privilege of rejecting the form in similar elections.

Many Indian tribes now are operating under the constitutional form, while others have rejected it.

Wheeler and Frazier were not available for comment on their bill. Wheeler introduced the original act in 1934 at the request of the Indian bureau.

The Indian affairs committee eliminated at that time several provisions members said were objectionable. In the last few months, some of the senators have complained privately that the tribal constitutions, voted by Indians and approved by the bureau, established some of the objectionable features the senate eliminated from the bureau's original proposal. They complained also that the bureau was attempting to force Indians to vote for the plan.

Bills Are Pending

Senators Dennis Chavez, New Mexico Democrat, and James E. Murray, Montana Democrat, both have bills pending to eliminate certain tribes in their states from provisions of the Wheeler-Howard act.

For more than a year, Chavez and Collier have engaged in sharp disputes over government of the New Mexico Navajos, Chavez seeking to exclude them from the act and Collier advocating Navajo adoption of the plan.

The New Mexico Navajos rejected the plan at a tribal election more than a year ago.

Chavez has contended the act made the Indians pawns of the government and prevented them from becoming individuals in the truly American, Democratic way. Collier has countered with the contention that the act and its accompanying form of government protected the Indians from white land grabbers and exploiters.

Local Student Is Claimed By Death

Kenneth Yaggy, 24, of Lubbock, a student in the Bible school of Angelus Temple at Los Angeles died early Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Yaggy, parents, of 2300 Ninth street, had been informed a few minutes prior to his death that their son was not ill of a heart attack.

Rev. Floyd Dawson, pastor of Four-Square Gospel church here, said young Yaggy had been at Los Angeles since September and that he was a former student of Kansas university. The minister and Yaggy, who was studying for a ministerial career, had roomed together at Los Angeles in January, when Mr. Dawson attended a national church convention there.

The minister said funeral probably would be held at his church Sunday. The body is expected to be brought here Saturday afternoon.

Don't Irritate Gas Bloating

If you want to really GET RID OF GAS and terrible bloating, don't expect to do it by just doctoring your stomach with harsh, irritating alkalies and "gas tablets." Most GAS is lodged in the stomach and upper intestine and is due to old poisonous matter in the constipated bowels that are loaded with ill-causing bacteria.

If your constipation is of long standing, enormous quantities of dangerous bacteria accumulate. Then your digestion is upset, GAS often presses heart and lungs, making life miserable.

You can't eat or sleep. Your head aches. Your back aches. Your complexion is sallow and pimply. Your breath is foul. You are a sick, grouchy, wretched, unhappy person. YOUR SYSTEM IS POISONED.

Thousands of sufferers have found in Adlerika the quick, scientific way to rid their systems of harmful bacteria. Adlerika rids you of gas and cleans foul poisons out of BOTH upper and lower bowels. Give your bowels a REAL cleansing with Adlerika. Get rid of GAS. Adlerika does not gripe—is not habit forming.

Movie Fathers Are Cameramen, Too

Pictures for pay and pictures for pleasure are made in Hollywood. Actors and actresses who face the camera on the job wield the camera when they play—and they play in earnest. The best of equipment and, often thousands of dollars worth of it is the rule for Hollywood's hobbyists. As for subject matter, anything in sight is lens fodder, but children, especially their own, are the best subjects for film dads as well as most other dads.

Wallace Beery, for instance, snapped more than 2,000 "candid" studies of his daughter, Carol Ann, in one month and other proud fathers have been almost as busy, off the lots.

THOUGHTS AND BIRDS

CAUGHT IN CONFERENCE

Stuart Erwin came along with his camera just when Stuart Erwin, jr., and his playmate, Patricia Hawks, were talking over some of life's pleasantries. Father Stuart is one of the most active of Hollywood's professionally-skilled amateur photographers.

Colonel Keyes is civilian components officer of the Eighth Corps area, with headquarters at Fort Sam Houston. He will send his report of Monday's inspection to the war department in Washington.

H. S. Pearson presided at the luncheon, given in Colonel Keyes' honor. Doctor Knapp and Guy were special guests.

The officer inspected equipment and theoretical instruction and saw the students review Monday morning.

In Good Health After Gly-Cas Use

Mrs. Howard Had Suffered Forty-Five Years With Stomach, Bowel Troubles; Entire System Underwent A Great Change Since She Began Gly-Cas

"Too much praise cannot be given a medicine with the merit of Gly-Cas," said Mrs. S. M. Howard, 33, Hobson Ave., Hot Springs, Ark. "For forty-five years I had suffered with constipation and bilious attacks. My stomach was disordered too and I could hardly eat anything I wanted and then only with the most dreadful distress afterwards. I lived on a strict diet but gas would form in abundance and I would bloat until I would become short of breath. I was terribly nervous, hardly able to do my work but kept going somehow. I tried all kinds of medicines and did my best to get relief but met only with repeated failure until I began Gly-Cas.

MRS. S. M. HOWARD

Within thirty days this new Gly-Cas has made a remarkable change in my condition," she continued. "My bowels were regulated almost at once, bilious attacks have been entirely eliminated, nerves quieted and I am enjoying the best health I have had in years. My stomach has been greatly improved too, relieved of that awful suffering and can even enjoy my meals now. It is a pleasure to tell others about this new Gly-Cas for it is the first medicine I have ever found to do exactly as it claimed."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway, and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.—Adv.

U. S. Senator Reynolds says: "Luckies are considerate of my throat"

"Two Southern traditions are oratory—and good tobacco. Lucky Strike shows me how to indulge in both. For this light smoke not only pleases my taste but leaves my throat in condition. Last fall in North Carolina—when I made over 100 speeches—I visited the Lucky Strike factory. I believe I discovered, in the Lucky Strike 'Toasting' process, the secret of what makes this cigarette so considerate of my throat. I have been more than ever an advocate of a light smoke since seeing the extra care and expense devoted to making Luckies easy on the throat."

Robt. R. Reynolds

HON. ROB'T R. REYNOLDS
U. S. SENATOR FROM NORTH CAROLINA

In a recent independent survey, an overwhelming majority of lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc., who said they smoked cigarettes, expressed their personal preference for a light smoke.

Senator Reynolds' statement verifies the wisdom of this preference and so do leading artists of radio, stage, screen and opera, whose voices are their fortunes, and who choose Luckies, a light smoke. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on your throat.

OKLAHOMA FIGHTERS ARE VICTORIOUS OVER TEXANS

TWO LUBBOCK MEN BEATEN IN MEET

BABE RITCHIE KAYOED IN SECOND ROUND OF OKLAHOMA MATCH

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 2 (AP)—Oklahoma's 1937 Golden Gloves boxing champions made a clean sweep of their first annual dual meet with the Texas titleholders here last night, scoring five decisions, two knockouts and a default for an 8 to 0 victory.

Despite the lopsided score, the bouts were evenly matched through the first five weights that only one knockdown was scored in 15 rounds.

Terrell Is Defeated

Little Tommy Hand, Oklahoma flyweight titleholder from Chilocco started the fireworks by blasting out a hard-earned decision over Lewis Terrell, the Texas champ.

Harold McColum, Oklahoma featherweight champ, went in against Everett Baker of Texas despite an injury which had threatened to keep him out of the ring and won, a close decision.

Two of the feature bouts came in the lightweight and welterweight divisions with Oklahoma's touted Liddell brothers, Indian sluggers from Oklahoma A and M college gaining decisions.

Forced To Limit

D. V. Liddell caught a stocky southpaw counter-puncher in Joe Augustat, Texas lightweight king, and was forced to the limit to win. Marvin Liddell, Oklahoma's veteran welterweight, came back strong in the third round to outpoint Joe Elder, rugged Texas puncher.

Glenn "Red" Gibson, runner-up in the Oklahoma tournament, who was substituted for Otis Dedmon of Shawnee, injured Sooner middleweight champ, took a close decision from Joe Reppanic of Texas. Gibson scored the first knockdown of the evening when he caught Reppand with a jolting left to the jaw which flattened the Texan in the first round. The bell apparently robbed Gibson of a knockout.

Gordon Casey, Oklahoma light heavyweight, fell out Earle Crowe of Texas through the first round, then rocked him with a terrific right to the jaw in the second frame which put the Texan away. Casey worried his opponent with a vicious left jab and flattened him once with a right to the jaw for a nine-count and six before the knockout.

Willie Babe Ritchie, Dicky Texas heavyweight, was outpointing Austin O'Jibway, Oklahoma's titleholder from Bartlesville, until O'Jibway slipped over a right in the second which put him away.

Hayes Junior O'Neal of Oklahoma City, the Oklahoma bantamweight champ who returns to Chicago this week-end for the semi-finals in the tournament of champions won by default from Ray Bumpers of Texas. The Lone Star champion was injured in Chicago and a suitable substitute could not be found. O'Neal had come back from Chicago to appear in the intersectional bouts.

FENTON TO MEET TREMAINE ON MAT

Roc Fenton, the Canadian choke artist and Andrew Tremain, Arizona drop-kicking specialist, may steal the wrestling show tomorrow night at Sled Allen's Auditorium. They made definite impressions upon the ticket-buying public last week and are due to keep up the interesting work tomorrow.

Tremaine and Fenton clash in the semi-final a billing that is due to steal the show if Tremaine keeps going from where he left off last week. Fenton turned up last Wednesday night fighting Sailor Watkins in the preliminary in better physical condition than he has been in years, by his own admission. He has lost much of the paunch that made him seem heavy and awkward, but he has lost none of his treachery or his ungentlemanly tricks. He fought Watkins to a fast draw.

A newcomer makes his debut this week on the supporting card. Ivan Rasputin, from all descriptions a bewhiskered Russian from Moscow, tackles Joe Bauer, the veteran trial horse, in the preliminary. They say Rasputin is a fairly tough hombre.

Parker Making Bid For National Title

SECOND-RANKING PLAYER BEING HELPED OUT BY THE LESSER LIGHTS OF TOURNAMENT

NEW YORK, March 2 (AP)—Frankie Parker, the nation's second-ranking tennis payer who is making his first bid for the national indoor title, is getting plenty of cooperation from the lesser lights of the tournament.

Two payers who usually go out in the early rounds helped Parker yesterday by eliminating a pair of his most dangerous rivals. Gregory Mangin, defending champion, and Arthur Hendrix, third-seeded player from Lakeland, Fla.

Mangin fell before Ray Palmer, jr., in one of the biggest upsets the tournament ever has seen, 6-3, 9-7. Hendrix found the task of playing two matches in quick succession a bit too much and lost 8-6, 7-5, to Morris Adelsberg, New York public parks player.

In the other half of the draw, Parker's strongest rival appears to be Dave Jones, former Columbia and Cambridge captain. Today's match sends Parker against Gilbert Hunt, jr., of Washington, former intercollegiate champion.

In the upper half Walter Senior of San Francisco, seeded fourth, faces Merrit Cutler of New York. J. Gilbert Hall, Orange, N. J., veteran, tackles George Seewagen.

SANTONE RACE ERA DOOMED

BAD WEATHER, LITTLE MUTUEL PLAY MAKE A BAD SEASON

BY FELIX R. McKNIGHT

DALLAS, March 2 (AP)—Big time racing a San Antonio's Alamo Downs track seems doomed. Sports Editor Harold Scherwitz of the San Antonio Light writes. Sentiment gathered from owners, track officials and others after close of a disastrous season made it apparent the track probably would not reopen for class racing. Bad weather and poor mutuel play plagued the track during its recent two months' meet.

Veteran tennis enthusiast Dr. D. A. Penick of the University of Texas, maker of champions, has named Lindsay Franklin, another of his proteges, as Texas No. 1 netter.

Rankings of his first ten, submitted to the U. S. L. T. A., include Franklin, Gordon Pease, Edgar Weiler, Bobby Kamrath, all of the University of Texas; Doc Barr, Dallas; Carl Smalley, Paschal; Wallace Billy Byrd, University of Texas; Tommie Glenn, Harold Pickett.

The Doubles Stars

Topping the doubles ranking are Franklin and Weiler, followed by Barr and J. B. Adoue, Jimmie Quick and Launey and Smalley and Pease. Harold Pickett, of Galveston gets the call as No. 1 junior player.

Back to Texas as a permanent resident comes Jack Tuttle, former University of Texas student and current Arkansas state golf champion. . . . He'll fight pat on Dallas courses. . . . Charlie Haas, the former Corpus Christi high school athlete, is eligible for varsity baseball and track at the University of Texas now and may make his varsity bow ere long.

LUMBERJACKS UPSET

HUNTSVILLE, March 2 (AP)—The Sam Houston Bearkats upset the Stephen F. Austin Lumberjacks 42 to 34 in a basketball game here last night. The win climbed a tie for first place in the Lone Star conference for Sam Houston. Bill Hendricks, Lumberjack center, was high scorer with 16 points.

ITALY'S STAR IS GAINING

LUIGI BECCALI FAST ROUNDING TO FORM IN MILE RUNS

NEWARK, N. J., March 2 (AP)—Italy's Luigi Beccali, improving fast, seems about ready to challenge the crowned heads of mile racing in the United States in the final drive for indoor supremacy.

The trim little invader gave one warning when he finished second to Archie San Romani of Kansas in the national A. A. U. 1500-meter championship Saturday. He sounded another last night in a brilliant mile and a half race which topped the annual Seton Hall college games.

He lost again, this time to Hoosier Don Lash, but gave further proof he rapidly is becoming acclimated to this country and indoor competition.

He gave Lash a terrific fight losing by only a few feet.

Lash's time was 6 minutes 47.9 seconds.

Schmeling Arrives To Defend Contract

NEW YORK, March 2 (AP)—Max Schmeling, the former heavyweight champion who is scheduled to fight Jimmy Braddock for the title in June if Madison Square Garden can convince everyone concerned that his contract is good, arrives today on the Berengaria to put in his words on the heavyweight situation.

When the same ship sails tomorrow, Max Baer, whose recent difficulties have shoved Braddock and Schmeling temporarily into the background, is expected to be aboard en route to London for a couple of lucrative fights.

A threat of legal action from the Garden which has Baer signed to fight Bob Pastor here March 19 apparently didn't bother Max.

Alaskan Dog Teams Ready For Classic

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, March 2 (AP)—Alaskan dog drivers cracked whips today, training their fleet sled teams for the 10th annual Fairbanks ice carnival derby March 11-14.

Wilson A. Hurley, attorney and dog breeding enthusiast, said present conditions are good for breaking the college 1000 course record—1 hour 11 minutes 11 seconds—established in 1931 when Walter Nollner, Galena native, drove his team the 16 miles in 1 hour 11 minutes.

The Alaska record for 16 miles is credited to Bob Buzby, three-time Fairbanks derby winner at varying distances, who drove the 16-mile Tanana course in 1 hour 5 minutes 7 seconds to win the H. Wendell Endicott race of 1933.

EPSOM DOWNS WILL OPEN TOMORROW

ALAMO HANDICAP WILL BE FEATURE RACE ON FIRST DAY

HOUSTON, March 2 (AP)—South Texas racing fandom today turned its attention to opening of Epsom Downs tomorrow with the $1,200 Alamo handicap as the feature race.

Every stall was filled or reserved and 300 more applications were on General Manager Monroe's desk.

Twenty-five classy sprinters were named for the handicap and 15 good routers for the San Jacinto claiming. If all the sprinters accept, Monroe said he would split the Alamo, with each division carrying a purse of $1,200.

To Announce Weights

Monroe, who also serves as racing secretary, said weights for the handicaps would be announced today.

The Creech entry of Sound Advice and Reaping the Shandon farm's Lemont Marion Allen's Lolita, Ed Haughton's Miss Greenback and the Valbina-Mrs. Martin combination of Palan and Tedal, were attracting most attention of handicappers in the six-furlong Alamo.

Unless he is forced to give too much weight, Billy Jones' distance champion here a year ago probably will be favored in the mile and one-sixteenth San Jacinto Salaam, winner of last year's inaugural distance feature, also is entered.

Heralds the jockey arrivals was Billy Neal, who had 66 winners to top the season rider.

Outfielder Works With Texas Aggies

COLLEGE STATION, March 2 (AP)—Beau Bell, St. Louis Browns holdout outfielder, today returned to his first baseball love, the Texas Aggies, for a week of training. Bell replaces the Aggies to their first Southwest conference baseball championship in 1931. He will assist Coach Sam Sikes for a few days, the Aggie team starting its training today.

Bell will return to his home in Greenville at the end of the week and will decide then whether to join the Browns at San Antonio, where they begin training Sunday.

Hold-Out Round-Up To Open Next Week

COLONEL JAKE READY WITH MONEY BAGS AND HIS PEN

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 2 (AP)—The big hold-out round-up is next week's headline attraction here . . . Col. Jake Ruppert is due with his money bags and his fountain pen, ostensibly for a couple of days of sunshine, but confidentially, to see what he can do about herding the rebels back into the fold.

Col. Ruppert doesn't propose to see the boys personally, but will conduct negotiations with trusty Joe McCarthy as go-between. . . . Her Lou Gehrig, Joe Di Maggio and Charlie Ruffing are on the tough lists. . . . Bill Dickey and the temperamental Lefty Gomez are likely to be signed this week.

You should see old Eddie Roush, former Giant and Red outfielder, cutting up like a colt as he works out with the Boston Bees just for the "L" of it. . . . Bill McKechnie said: "It is the first time in his life the guy ever showed up on time and he ain't getting anything for it" . . . Roush was tops as a holdout in his prime . . . Once he stayed on the farm an entire season.

Reports from the east coast say Daytona Beach has fixed up a swell arena for the Cards to do their stuff in. . . . Champion Jim Braddock and his family and Manager Joe Gould are due in Miami this week. . . . Later the champ will go into the Wisconsin woods to get ready for Louis at Chicago. . . . Funny thing about that scrap; two weeks ago everybody was trying to chisel in. . . . Now they're breaking their backs trying to get out. . . . Floridans were given a good jolt yesterday when the morning practice of the Boston Bees was "postponed because of cold." . . . Ouch!

LAST GAME IS SET TONIGHT

MUSTANGS WIN AGAIN IN BATTLE AGAINST TEXAS AGGIES

DALLAS, March 2 (AP)—The champion Southern Methodist basketeers, winners of 10 out of 11 games, invaded Houston today to close their most successful season against the Rice Owls tonight.

The Mustangs, exhibiting the deadliest shooting seen at College Station in years, defeated the Texas Aggies, 28 to 22, in a thrilling game last night.

Brilliant basketball was turned in by both teams. The Methodists scored their 11 baskets in only 20 shots.

Dewell Heads Scoring

Billy Dewell of the Mustangs made five of his seven shots and led the scoring with 12 points. He also played a great game under the backboard and held Louis Freiberger, lanky Aggie pivot, scoreless.

Virgil Harris, sub-forward, paced the Aggie scorers with nine points.

In another Southwest conference battle at Houston, the Rice Owls showed their stride in the last two minutes of play to defeat the Texas Christians, 43 to 34.

Willis Orr, Owl center, was high scorer with 15 points.

Another Di Maggio Breaks Into Game

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2 (AP)—Dominic Di Maggio, third and youngest of the baseball Di Maggios, signed a contract with the San Francisco Seals today in a ceremony which saw the be-spectacled youth carted into the stadium in a wheelbarrow pushed by his famous brother, Joe of the New York Yankees.

Joe admitted he had not yet signed his 1937 contract with the world's champions but explained "everything is going to be all right."

Frisch Is Fittest Man In His Camp

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 2 (AP)—Manager Frankie Frisch, although he is 39 years old, was perhaps the "fittest" man in the St. Louis Cardinal baseball training camp which opened today.

Frisch has been here a month taking daily exercise under the Florida sun. He worked off 11 pounds during four weeks.

Nine players still were missing but only two—Jerome Herman (Dizzy) Dean, eccentric player, and Johnny Mize, young first baseman, were classed as holdouts.

SPORTOGRAPH

by COLLIER PARRIS

Copyright, 1937

NOW THAT LUBBOCK has had its annual fling at professional baseball, with the usual success, how's about settling down to the appropriate size and taking steps toward a hot semi-pro or independent season?

Never actually hot for a professional team here, especially since the 1933 flopperoo, this department is nevertheless willing, yea anxious, to help carry the torch for independent baseball. When properly conducted, it has never failed to go over rather well here.

It is the opinion of the writer that those in Lubbock who have been next to the trials and tribulations of organized baseball should feel so relieved by the knowledge that we're not going to have pro ball that they will step forward and cooperate in the matter of putting a good semi-pro team on the field.

There is no reason, other than lastness and indifference, why Lubbock should not be represented by a salaried ball club, composed of the local and sectional talent. A local team, capable of winning most of its games, playing once or twice during the week and double headers on Sundays, would provide needed entertainment and at the same time give the town the advantages of publicity and advertising that it needs. Nor would two or three games per week cause the fans to get "fed up" with baseball, or grow sour on the game as a result of daily attendance.

Naturally, the salaries drawn by members of a semi-pro club would be considerably less than those paid professional players, but there's nothing like a weekly "split" or payoff to keep a ball club together, and that's the trouble when a definite stipulation is not made.

It was suggested last week by a hot baseball man in Lubbock that a local association be formed, each member to purchase stock, priced at a low figure, so that enough cash could be raised to guarantee the financial success of a club here, the stockholders to share in the profits, if any. But that was last week, when Lubbock was still in the proposed West Texas League, the purpose of the suggestion being to keep the Lubbock club at home.

That idea is not at all original. It has been tried here so often that only the newcomers and the uninitiated would dare call on a local business man trying to sell stock in a baseball club. Of course, it's still a logical idea, but it never has proven successful here.

The principles of the idea, however, might apply to a local semi-pro club. Other towns, notably Roswell, N. M., have succeeded in putting independent baseball over in a big way through the cooperation of business men there. Roswell, it developed at the Sunday meeting at Carlsbad, is not at all interested in going professional. They have too much fun with their own independent club. An association of business men contribute a definite amount each week, or month, and this goes toward paying salaries of the players. If gate receipts are sufficient to pay salaries, the "donations" are suspended or whittled down.

Another suggestion, and one worthy of consideration, concerns outside employment of baseball players. A business firm hires a man who can not only serve the business but who can play baseball. He is paid for working in the store, or the office or where ever he works. He plays baseball on scheduled dates. His job depends on his baseball qualities, and vice versa. He takes the job with the understanding that if he "poops out" as a baseball player, or refuses to work out and to play, his job turns up missing. That plan has proven successful in several instances.

A dozen or fifteen business firms, each giving a ball player a job, letting him off to practice and to play, would put baseball over in great style here. The salary offered a man for such a job naturally would not be "tops" in the firm, since the player would continue to share in the club's part of the gate receipts.

Another idea going the rounds concerns the organizing this summer of a South Plains, or West Texas semi-pro circuit.

DAD PRAISES THE REALISM IN BOOKS OF SON; THEY HAVE OPINIONS ALIKE

CALDWELL FAN

Favorite author of the Rev. I. S. Caldwell of Wrens, Ga. (above), is Erskine Caldwell. They're father and son.

WRENS, Ga., March 2 (AP)—Erskine Caldwell's books are interesting because they're real, declares his father, the Rev. I. S. Caldwell.

For instance, he says the real-life characters of "Tobacco Road," the Broadway play from one of Erskine's books, live not far from Wrens.

The Rev. Mr. Caldwell says he knows them well—has given them money, fuel, clothing and counsel.

He and his son hold like views, he says, on social and economic problems raised in the play which is still running after three years.

He has a four-point plan for meeting social degeneration:

1. Enact and enforce nation-wide sterilization laws.
2. Put the children of submerged families in school.
3. Abolish slums in urban and rural sections.
4. Make it possible for families in hinterland slums to live on land which will give them a living and self-respect.

Tarleton Selected As Baseball Prexy

VICKSBURG, Miss., March 2 (AP)—Bob Tarleton, of the Dallas Baseball club, today was named president of the Vicksburg baseball club of the Cotton States league.

Other officers named were: Keith Williams, vice president. John L. Cottingham, secretary, Alfred Libby, business manager. Directors of the club are: Keith Williams, Sol Dreyfus, Bob Tarleton, John Cottingham and Alfred Libby.

The Dallas baseball organization of the Texas League is sponsoring Vicksburg in the Cotton States during the 1937 playing season as a training ground for young ball players.

Williams was given authority to handle all local situations.

Such business as might originate in the Dallas office can be handled by the officers and directors there. This will include the signing of players and transfers.

Our previous South Plains leagues have done right well, although there are some clubs that prefer to make their own schedules and not be under league obligations.

In either case, we ought to have baseball here.

If sufficient interest is created among business men, if they will "make an offer," and assure the club of support, financially or otherwise, the persons who control the ball park will meet them halfway, or maybe more. In other words, the ball park association, we are authorized to announce, will improve the grounds, increase the seating capacity and help arrange a schedule for the season with the best available opponents. It is also the hope of the park association to install lights for nocturnal play.

The German musical instrument industry is reported to be enjoying a relatively prosperous period, with heaviest demand both at home and abroad for accordions and harmonicas.

OLD-TIME "HASHER" IS NO MORE

EVOLUTION OF WAITRESS HAS BEEN TEDIOUS JOB BUT IT HAS BEEN A SUCCESSFUL ONE

BY FRED GRIFFIN

Cosmetic-laden, sexy waitresses have gone the way of the horse and buggy, and their artificial, ever-ready-for-a-date smiles have been replaced by courteous, impartial greetings for men and women alike.

Evolution of the waitress from a mere "hasher" into a professional woman has been the work of many years for restaurateurs and maitres d'hotal. Latest step toward perfection of the evolution is a "charm school" for waitresses, like one Hilton hotel employes are attending this week. John B. O'Meara, service specialist who "has been everything in a hotel except a maid and a waitress", is conducting a three-day employes' training session for local workers.

Red Polish Taboo

Red fingernail polish is taboo in modern coffee shops and restaurants, and any well-educated waitress knows sweetbreads are "glands from the throat of calf, preferably about a year old" and not a "cows' tonsils," as a waitress once explained to O'Meara.

Most waitresses are home town girls who live with their parents, and many metropolitan hotels do not employ girls who live alone in the city. A gathering of women who follow the profession of food service resembles a sorority meeting in any first-class university. They are chosen with an eye to sensible beauty and cleanliness rather than for their ability to elicit generous tips from ogling males.

Sanitation and salesmanship are the main points in the modern restaurant's code of ethics. No sensible waitress wears noisy leather heels on her trim black shoes. High school graduation is a pre-requisite to employment, and a college degree commands respect when the management goes on a hiring spree.

A new profession has taken its place among others! Your waitress is educated, both culturally and vocationally, and she isn't working just for today's tips and tonight's date. She has been chosen to serve your food just as your own cook at home. Eventually, O'Meara believes, high schools will offer vocational courses in food serving.

O'Meara, whose wife accompanies him and his traveling school, will leave Wednesday night for Abilene, where he is to conduct similar classes. His appearances are sponsored by Central Southwest Hotels association.

Japanese always were vaccinated on the nose in the old days.

STENO ENDS SIT-DOWN STRIKE BUT EVIDENTLY DOESN'T WIN A RAISE

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 2 (AP)—A 20-year-old stenographer ended her one-blond sitdown strike for a $10 a week raise late Monday but her employer apparently had not agreed to the wage hike.

Fern Rodolph, pretty graduate of a few months ago from a business college, spent the day sitting on the floor of her employer's office. She declared she should be given the wage boost because she has "more responsibilities than other girls."

"I am touched," said A. E. Perry, president of the Concho Sand and Gravel company, her employer, "but not $40 a month worth."

Whether Miss Rodoph will retain her position in Perry's employ was not clear.

As her strike came to an end she declared:

"Sitting on the floor all day is very wearying."

She dashed for the building elevator and was gone.

"No, I can't say at this time what I'm going to do about the situation," said Perry. "I think I will advise Miss Rodolph to go home and spend a few days with her mother in Chickasha and think things over."

Youth Is Twirling Way For Education

LINCOLN, Neb., March 2 (AP)—Melvin Beerman is twirling his way through college.

A student at the University of Nebraska college of agriculture, Beerman has pursued his hobby of trick roping. He's in demand at rodeos, festivals, picnics and the like as a lariat artist.

One of the first shots in the Civil war was fired at a force led by an Ohioan, C. R. Woods of Newark, commander of troops on a boat hastening to the aid of Fort Sumpter.

Indigent families dependent upon counties of Ohio and the state for help decreased 75,683 in 1936. Persons on the Ohio WPA payroll dropped 28,564.

Tax-exempt investments constituted nearly one-sixth of the total investments in America in 1933.

In the quiet glory of her orchard lovely Eve Mannersfield found the roots of those old and true values that had shrivelled and withered during her business career in the city. Above all, they helped her to discover that love must be understanding to be abiding.

THERE used to be a lot of criticism directed at beauty parlors and the fact that women more and more were spending money in them. The Plainsman can remember the day when romping on 'painting and powdering Jezebels' was one of the biggest and best acts of the itinerant hell-fire-and-damnation evangelists, who were moved to oppose improvement in women's looks either because it attracted attention or the cost of beauty treatments hurt collections.

In fact we can remember when only wealthy women felt like they could spend either the time or the money "getting prettied up" and when the rank and file of the ladies looked upon a woman who had regular beauty parlor appointments with awe and in some cases disapproval.

Now, however, the beauty industry has grown to one of the biggest in the land and the deft operations of trained beauticians are now available to a large part of our feminine population. The result is that our rank and file of American girls and women are looking better than ever before, which, of course, is good for them and also for those with whom they come into contact.

[illegible] good sense for a woman to look her best [illegible] and all occasions.

JUST the other day The Plainsman happened to notice a young lady of probably 20 to 22 years of age, a total stranger.

She was striking—but in the wrong way.

While she had facial contour and construction capable of attaining great beauty, this young woman apparently was oblivious to the fact that a touch here and there at the hands of a person trained in such matters would transform her from mask-like plainness to extreme attractiveness. We wondered why she hadn't discovered the fact, or why, perhaps, even her best friend hadn't told her she was hiding her light, if not under a bushel at least under failure to use thoughtful judgment regarding her looks and personality.

Of course the best beautician in the world can't take an ugly duckling and magically turn her into a Cinderella.

All the beauty treatment available can't make an ordinary woman look like Mrs. John D. Mitchell, for instance, who is among Lubbock's loveliest young matrons, or like Miss Maxine Fry who is undoubtedly one of Tech's prettiest co-eds. Nature has given them a running start over their less fortunate sisters.

But any woman, basically ugly or basically beautiful, can be improved by the right kind of attention and, for The Plainsman's part, here for it.

Instead of criticising women for attempting to bring out the best in their appearance, we ought to commend them for it. And instead of poking fun at the beauty industry we should be proud of its attainments.

READY MADE WIFE

BY CORALIE STANTON

SYNOPSIS: Laurie is worried out of mind. She loves Rex Moore and he loves her, yet she is engaged to Mark Albery and he is engaged to Wanda Steele. Albery is insanely jealous, and wishes Moore were out of the way enough to try to cause him to have a plane accident. And Laurie's sister Gladys is running around with the lightminded Jimmie Dallas, and is lying about it. Albery is explaining to Rex how "glad" he is that the young flyer escaped.

Chapter 43
ALIBI

"My dear fellow, how dreadful!" said Albery. "You appal me! I'm all in a tremble. Forgive me if I don't sound quite reasonable. What an escape! We must go into this at once. Why, you might have been killed. You would have been but for your parachute.

"And think that Laurie was going up with you! It's like a bad dream. I can't take it in. You must go thoroughly into it at once. I'm bound to go to Berlin tonight. Shan't be able to see you, though I'd give anything to stay.

"Please go into the whole matter. I give you full powers. I'll tell them they're to give you every facility. You must cross-examine every single man on the staff. What a mercy you are safe."

"I guess it would take a lot to kill me," said Rex Moore.

And again that ghastly grin distorted Albery's face. He went on talking for several minutes, but afterwards he could not remember a word that he had said.

Only one sentence of Rex Moore's remained in his mind.

"Please don't tell Laurie, Mr. Albery. I've kept it absolutely dark here. We mustn't let anything come out—on account of the new fuel, you know. Of course it must have been a mistake."

But to Albery's distracted ears it had seemed that the airman's voice was full of deadly meaning.

Laurie spent four days of almost complete solitude.

Albery was detained in Berlin. She did her routine work at the office. Albery had deputed her to look after his correspondence and she communicated with him by telephone twice every day.

But on the Monday after Albery's departure Mr. Mortimer, his colleague from Australia, called on Laurie in her office. This was the good Samaritan who had come to her rescue in Sydney.

She gave him tea in her office. Albery had obviously told him that she and Rex Moore were separated but he was very tactful. Possibly Albery had hinted that he was going to marry her himself after the divorce. At any rate Mr. Mortimer was very friendly indeed. He asked most kindly after her sister and seemed deeply interested in her career and invited them both to dine with him the next evening and go to a show.

Laurie accepted with pleasure. Mr. Mortimer was so kind. Gladys would love that. She was so fond of restaurants and theaters.

When Mr. Mortimer had gone she rang up Nelly Parks' home in Streatham.

"This is Laurie Moore speaking," she said, and a Nelly answered. "How are you? I want to speak to Glad. Will you get her?"

There was a quite perceptible pause and then Nelly said:

"Glad isn't in just now, Mrs. Moore."

"Oh, what a nuisance! I'm just going home and I have no phone there. When do you expect her?"

"I don't quite know. She went out with Beau—to the pictures, I think."

"Well, give her a message from me. I want her to come to my place tomorrow for the day and to spend the night. Tell her Mr. Mortimer from Sydney is over here and has asked us to dine and do a show."

"Yes, Mrs. Moore."

Nelly's voice sounded rather queer to Laurie.

"Tell her it's very important. She'll remember Mr. Mortimer. He was very kind to us in Australia."

"Yes, Mrs. Moore. I'll tell her when she comes back."

Decidedly Nelly's voice was queer. All Laurie's fears about Glad rushed in on her like a wave sweeping her mentally off her feet. For a moment her voice failed her. Her heart seemed to rise into her throat and stifle her. When she went on speaking, Nelly had evidently left the telephone.

* * *

Instinct told Laurie that something was wrong. On one of her irresistible impulses she rang up the number of Jimmy Dallas's chambers in St. James. A man's voice, not his, answered her.

"Can I speak to Mr. James Dallas, please?" she asked.

"I am sorry, Madam. Mr. Dallas is not in London at present."

"Where is he?"

"I am afraid I cannot tell you, Madam. Mr. Dallas left no address."

In a few moments Laurie was out of the office.

She hailed a taxi and told the man to drive to Nelly's home in Streatham. Hours seemed to pass although the man made very good going.

It was Nelly who opened the door of the little suburban house. Nelly, pale-faced and blackhaired, the very opposite of the radiant Gladys, started back with a little squeal like a scared rabbit.

Laurie gave her no time to collect herself.

"Where is Glad? I don't believe what you told me over the phone."

"She is out, Mrs. Moore—really!"

"I'll wait till she comes back then. Are your people at home?"

"Only dad. He's got a class." Nelly looked as if she wanted to shut the front door in Laurie's face.

"Take me somewhere where we can talk," Laurie commanded. "You've got to tell me the truth. I know Glad isn't staying with you."

"Oh, Mrs. Moore, how can you say such a thing?" The girl was a bad actress. She led Laurie into the front sitting-room, and there were tears in her eyes.

"It's no good lying to me, Nelly," Laurie said quietly. "I know there's something wrong. You've been helping Glad to keep things from me. Where's Glad?"

"I don't know," whimpered Nelly in a last frantic effort of loyalty.

"You do know and you're going to tell me. You're a very wicked girl."

"Oh, no, Mrs. Moore!" Nelly's voice was now choked with sobs. "I'm scared to death and frightfully worried. But Glad made me swear I wouldn't tell. And you know how she is, how mad she gets if you cross her and how she always has her own way."

Laurie learns the truth about Gladys, tomorrow.

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

NOW LET THE UNIVERSITY BE FAIR

Saturday afternoon under balmy Austin skies, the University of Texas' newest structure—the 22-story combination office and library building—was officially dedicated with impressive ceremonies.

Although The Journal has long been militantly opposed to the setup which enables the University of Texas to spend millions of public monies on buildings and operation while the other state institutions go begging, we cannot but take pride in the fact that the university's newest building is one of the finest educational structures in all United States and easily the finest in the South. At a cost of $3,000,000 it will fill a long-felt need on the campus of the Austin institution.

Dedication of the library-office building completed the university's 12-year, $13,000,000 building program.

It would appear that for a time, at least, the university should be satisfied to stand aside and permit other state institutions to receive needed state funds from the great fortune piled up from income from oil lands and protected for the university, alone, through a grossly unfair amendment to the constitution of the state. One would think that if for no other reason than to improve its public relations, the university would move to share the money which, while it's by law, is not alone it's by right.

There is much more to Texas than Austin. There is much more to Texas' far-flung educational system than the university which is, and should be, the bellwether of all the state's colleges. If the politically powerful university organization will only stop long enough to be fair in the matter, it will bow aside, for a time—now that all its needs are cared for for the future as well as the present—and let some of the other colleges get a start.

While we have little hope that the university will be fair in the matter, there is no doubt in our mind that it should.

From Hollywood MOVIE SIDELIGHTS

Behind The Scenes With The Stars Of Talkietown

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Mar. 2.—All over the lot: "You Can't Run Away From Love Tonight" is a song that Dick Powell sings to Doris Weston as they picnic in a cove by the sea. The scene is for "The Singing Marine," and studio workmen spent four days building the cove by the sea so Powell could warble the song.

Only thing lacking is the sea itself. Stock shots of rolling breakers and moonlight on the waves will be inserted later to complete the illusion. Huge rocks which decorate the set are made of papier mache and are sprayed with glycerin, which doubles for briny mist.

The camp fire isn't real, either. The flames are from a gas burner and the logs are covered with asbestos. Much better than a real fire because it can be turned off and on at will.

Only real thing about the set is the sand. The studio had to import a [illegible] of truckloads from a beach 30 miles away. They say that one of the executives got pretty annoyed about this, so he now has some research scientists busy trying to find a substitute for sand.

Liftless Lift

"Going up?"

"Yes," [illegible] Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers as they step into an elevator, or what looks like an elevator, for a sequence in their new filmusical, "Stepping Toes."

Of course it's not only [illegible] but people [illegible] make movies in a real elevator [illegible] case Director Mark Sandrich simply ordered one built on a conventional sound stage.

Just three walls [illegible] the floor is the make-believe [illegible] which will appear [illegible] the dancing pair skyward. Numbered floor [illegible] will be seen flashing past. The numbers were painted on a strip of canvas and then mounted on two rollers. One of the rollers has a crank [illegible] by a husky workman.

I have been watching [illegible]

[illegible]

Nocturnal Uproar

[illegible] that at the shooting [illegible] Director James Whale [illegible] shivering company of principals and 200 extras never get going until about midnight. Then they shoot until dawn and presumably sleep all day.

The valley's acoustics are excellent. [illegible] can hear all the shouted orders, also the bombs.

But the men who are working in the picture don't like war, either. The nights have been cold and before the players climb into their trenches they must wallow [illegible] a mud hole.

Sometimes they have to make their way through the wire, but that isn't so bad because the barbs are merely rubber bands tied in neat little knots.

Made In U. S.

Two dozen Hawaiian men are working with Bing Crosby in some of the scenes for "Waikiki Wedding." While a chorus of hula dancers twist and posture in a manner acceptable to the censors, these gents play native instruments called [illegible] and [illegible].

[illegible] they donned costumes and [illegible] few of them knew anything about this kind of [illegible]. They're mostly bus boys, truck drivers and WPA workers who have spent most of their lives on the mainland.

The picture gains its authenticity from a Mrs. Louise Beamer, the technical adviser. Half Hawaiian and half Scotch, she conducts a studio in the islands where the ancient dances, music, and even the language are taught.

All Cleaned Up For The Peace Celebration

Alternative Proposals To President's Court Remodeling Plan Cover Many Angles Of Question, Dutcher Points Out

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

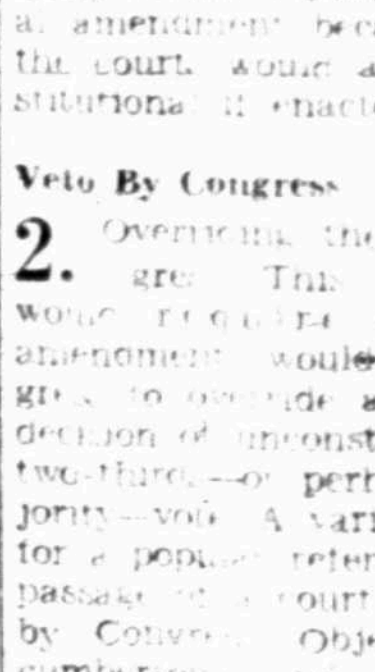

WASHINGTON, Mar. 2—Discussion of the Roosevelt plan for [illegible] the [illegible] of the variation of alternative [illegible]

[illegible]

Court Majority Increase

1. [illegible] the court majority required to invalidate legislation. Some propose that a 6 to 3 adverse vote be required. Senator Norris of Nebraska and others say 7 to 2. This idea [illegible] of [illegible] 4 decisions of vital measures. The decision against the AAA was 6 to 3. The objection to this is that lower federal courts and state courts have power to declare laws invalid, so the Supreme court must have power to reverse such decisions by any majority or the power would merely be delegated. Also some critics don't relish the prospect of a majority of justices insisting a law is unconstitutional while only two or three justices are able to uphold it. The plan doesn't hit at the question of judicial power. It probably would require a constitutional amendment because few believe the court would accept it as constitutional if enacted by Congress.

Dutcher

Veto By Congress

2. Overriding the court by Congress. This proposal, which would require a constitutional amendment, would empower Congress to override a Supreme court decision of unconstitutionality by a two-thirds—or perhaps even a majority—vote. A variation would call for a popular referendum after repassage of a court invalidated law by Congress. Objections: This is cumbersome and takes too much time. Two or three years may elapse before a law is ruled upon by the court. The process of overriding would take additional time. The court might again hold a re-enacted law unconstitutional on other points in other cases and knock off similar laws in the meantime. And Congress [illegible] pass [illegible] over which the court has jurisdiction.

More Power For Congress

3. Broadening the constitutional [illegible]. Various amendments are proposed to effect this. One would empower Congress to promote its general welfare by laws which it deems best calculated to effect that purpose. Another proposed amendment would say: "Congress shall have power to regulate industry, labor and agriculture within the several states." The great difficulty of getting any large body of opinion to agree on the wording of an amendment already has been demonstrated. The objection is advanced that any strong amendment of this type would have great difficulty in ratification—witness the child labor amendment. The court would still have the power of judicial review.

Abolish Judicial Review

4. Abolition of judicial review. This proposal is based on belief that Congress has the power to define and regulate the jurisdiction of the courts and may, either in the body of a specific law or otherwise, prohibit the court from holding measures unconstitutional. The supreme court would almost certainly reject any such reform attempt as that on the ground it infringed on the powers of the courts and that some branch of the government should determine whether new laws run counter to the Constitution. The only feasible method of abolishing judicial review probably would be a constitutional amendment preventing any court from invalidating legislation on constitutional grounds. Few are willing to support such a radical proposal.

Those are the main alternative suggestions now under discussion.

MUSICIAN TO FACE COUNT

CHARGES OF ASSAULT UPON TWO WOMEN FILED MONDAY

DALLAS, March 2 (AP)—Joe Venuti, nationally-known orchestra leader, was charged in two complaints filed here today with aggravated assault by a male on a female.

Elsie Morris and Pauline Newman were named as victims of the alleged assault.

Venuti was arrested early last Thursday after a disturbance at the entrance to a downtown night club. He was released several hours later on his own recognizance.

In his version of the affair, the 32-year-old musician said two women in a car whistled at him as he left the club with his wife. He said he told them to drive on and warned them not to speak to him again.

Whistled Again

He said that as he started to cross a street the women whistled at him again, and that he ran to their car and slapped at one of them. He said they immediately jumped from the car and attacked him using the heels of their slippers as weapons.

G. W. Newman, one of the arresting officers, signed the complaint.

Venuti was reported in Houston last night. Officers said a warrant for his arrest would be sent the sheriff of Harris county.

The district attorney's office said Venuti could make bond in Houston, but would have to return to Dallas to stand trial.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 2 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, 4 higher to 2 lower. Active trade and foreign buying in near months was partly offset by realizing and some foreign selling of distant positions. March 13.28; May 12.89; July 12.67; Oct. 12.15; Dec. 12.05; Jan. 12.04.

While trading continued active the orders were more evenly divided and prices moved over a narrow range. Profit-taking was heavier following the advance of 32 to 54 points in all active positions except spot March which rallied 75 points from the low of last week.

There was also some hedging and New Orleans selling but the offerings were readily absorbed by trade buying.

Liverpool and the continent were good buyrs in nearby positions although some foreign selling was noted in new crop deliveries. During the first half hour May fluctuated between 12.87 and 12.92 and shortly after that time was selling at 12.90 with prices generally 3 points higher to 4 points net lower.

At Liverpool general speculative buying was influenced by large world consumption estimates issued yesterday but the advance met London and continental profit-taking.

Cotton prices reacted about 6 to 11 points from the early high under profit taking. March was under additional pressure as some on the whole were not aggressive and trade demand continued on the decline but fresh buying was limited and the undertone was barely steady.

At mid-day May which had reacted to 12.84 was selling at 12.85 and prices generally were 2 to 6 points net lower.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS March 2. (AP)—The cotton market absorbed a good volume of selling that had accumulated overnight at the opening today and prices held steady.

In the old crop option 13.10 was bid for March. May sold at 12.85 and July at 12.63. New crops were 2 points higher with Oct. at 12.11, Dec. at 12.12 and Jan. at 12.12.

The healthy manner in which selling was taken around the ring yesterday evidently discouraged any potential short selling and most of the offerings this morning were for profit taking and realizing purposes.

There was no change in the underlying factors behind prices. An active spot demand with an extremely high basis was reported from interior towns. Spot firms were buying in old crop positions, taking practically all of the cotton offered.

The ease with which all positions punctured previous resistance levels on the upwise was considered significant around the ring, potentially indicating a sustained advance.

Increased profit taking during the morning brought the market down from its highs and early advances where substituted for losses of 4 to 7 points. The volume of business fell off on the decline, however, and the activity that characterized Monday's brisk upturn was missing.

Liverpool reported that realizing sales had unsettled the market there and cables reported London and continental operators had shifted to the selling side.

Dry and cold weather with heavy frosts in the central and eastern belts were the main weather developments of the day.

Cloth markets were not active, according to reports from Worth St., a nominal decline in the price of second-hand gray cloths was reported.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, March 2. (AP)—With a steel strike apparently avoided through new wage and hour concessions granted by leading producers, renewed buying fervor swept stocks up fractions to 4 points in today's market.

Profit selling made its appearance after a fast opening that put the ticker tape behind and extreme gains were substantially reduced in many instances. The list again turned upward near the fourth period and established top levels of the day.

U. S. Steel led the forward rush, crossing 117 to a new recovery peak. In its wake were Bethlehem, Crucible, Otis, American Steel Foundries, Republic and Youngstown Sheet & Tube.

Hopes for a peaceful settlement with the unions at tomorrow's conferenee brought strong support for Chrysler which, at the best was up round 4. General Motors trailed with an advance of more than 1.

Tilting forward most of the session were Goodyear, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Gimbel, J. I. Case, Deere, Johns-Manville, Western Union, Douglas Airport, Boeing, United Aircraft, Loew's Anaconda, Kennecott, International Nickel, American Zinc, Standard Oil of N. J., Flintkote, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Delaware & Hudson, Baltimore & Ohio and Northern Pacific.

Homestake Mining dropped several points and the going was not so good for Consolidated Edison, Public Service of N. J., General Electric, Westinghouse, Texas Corp., and American Smelting.

Sit-down troubles in the company's Detroit stores inspired further selling in Woolworth.

development of the mind only, and thought we had a college education." He smiled and continued, "Real culture lies in learning, and that is what our modern schools are offering, in a practical way."

Asked about social changes among college students, Dr. McMichael laughed and his blue eyes twinkled as he said, "Some of our schools today have the appearance of huge country clubs to outsiders, but the work done by students is forming one of the greatest institutions of our country."

The Illinois man is so enthusiastic about Texas that he could scarcely talk education. He had never been in this part of the United States until his arrival two weeks ago and he was bubbling over concerning a 1,600 mile trip, which included visits in San Antonio, Austin, the Big Bend country, Carlsbad caverns and Roswell, from which, with Mrs. McMichael and Doctor and Mrs. Wagner, he had just returned.

"I am especially interested in Tech with its many vocational divisions. It is a wonderful example of progress for only 11 years behind it.

Has Praise For Tech

"I am glad to see the state support the new industrial and vocational schools. The apprenticeship and home training which was the substitute for the modern education did not serve the purpose that the practical workshops in our colleges today do. Tech is a good example of this new era in education."

Both Doctor and Mrs. Wagner are graduates of Monmouth college and were students there during Doctor McMichael's presidency. Their daughters, Misses Helen and Ruth, are students there now.

Monmouth is a Presbyterian school and prior to his going there as president, Doctor McMichael filled a Presbyterian pulpit in Cleveland, Ohio. He and Mrs. McMichael expect to start for home tomorrow.

U. S. Won't Let Him Pay Alimony

Resettlement Loans Are To Be Sought

As many applications for resettlement administration loans will be made this year, as last, in the opinion of Marvin C. Wilson, field supervisor in charge of Lubbock county.

"The amount of loans sought will not be as large this year as last," he explained this morning. "The number will be as great, I believe.

"The reason for this, is that our clients are in better shape this year, financially, than last year. They had good crops and do not need to borrow as much. As a result, at the end of the year, they will not have to pay as much out and will have more money to spend for other things."

Repayment of loans in Lubbock county last year was excellent, Mr. Wilson said. The Lubbock and Lynn county repayments, through the local office, were right at the top of the list in percentage of payment.

Week-End Siestas Good For Ailments

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 2. (AP)—H. L. McCracken, chairman of the state tax commission, recommends a 36-hour week-end siesta "for any ailment" and says he practices it himself.

"I go to bed about 7 o'clock Saturday night," said McCracken today, "and I stay in bed until Monday morning.

"Of course, I don't sleep all that time. I read awhile, go to sleep, wake up and read some more and then sleep again. Thirty-six hours of intermittent slumber is good for any ailment."

EVENS ACCOUNT

Former Employe Sends Back Cash Taken Years Ago

A former employe, who has accepted Christianity, has squared an account with J. E. Garrison—an account of which the grocer was unaware.

Garrison this week received a $5 bill and a letter from a young man who worked for him in his store at 816 Main street several years ago. The money came from California.

"A few years ago I worked for you in your grocery store," the letter said. "I wasn't a Christian at that time and since then I have been saved and become a Christian.

"During the time I worked for you I stole some money from you. I am sending this $5 to you to even this debt that I owe you. This may seem funny to you, but I feel that I should send you this money."

Garrison said the man, then about 17, was employed in his store about four years ago.

The grocer said the man had been "a fine worker."

ALL THE BUNK

Lamesa Woman Is Opposed To Child Marriages

"I think they're the bunk," said blonde, 38-year-old Mrs. Jeanette Conyers of Lamesa.

Mrs. Conyers was talking about child marriages, and she should know what she's talking about.

She was a bride at 11, a widow eight years later. A second marriage, she said, ended with a divorce.

Mrs. Conyers has one son, 25-year-old Jack Bell of Lamesa, and two grandchildren. She has been nurse, newspaper reporter, and songwriter.

Young girls who get married "don't know what they're doing," Mrs. Conyers said. "I didn't", she added.

Twice married, she said she "knew nothing of love until three years ago."

She ran away from home in Stamford to marry a naval officer, she said.

Nine Convicted In Plot To Slay Man

DETROIT, March 2. (AP)—Recorder's Judge John V. Brennan today convicted nine of 16 men, alleged to be Black Legion members, on charges of conspiring to kill Arthur L. Kingsley, newspaper publisher of suburban Highland Park.

Convicted were N. Ray Markland, former mayor of Highland Park; Arthur F. Lupp, sr., named by investigators as commander of the secret society in Michigan; Alvis Clark, Willard Foster, Matthias Gunn, Roy Hepner, Frank Howard, Hubert James and Rudyard K. Wellman.

Funeral Services Being Held Today

POST, Mar. 2 (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Jay Slaughter were to attend funeral services of her brother, John Cowan, former editor of Wood County Record and once football coach and instructor at Mineola High school, to be held at Mineola at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Cowan died early Monday morning after a brief illness.

Cowan was the son of the late J. W. Cowan, Methodist minister who several years ago died at Fort Worth.

Several persons from here are attending services for Cowan.

COUNTY HEADS TO GATHER

HUNDREDS TO ATTEND SEMI-ANNUAL MEET SLATED HERE

Between five and six hundred county judges and commissioners are expected to attend the semi-annual convention of the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners' association to be held here March 18, 19, and 20, said Judge Alvin R. Allison of Levelland, president, who was a business visitor in Lubbock Tuesday.

Many ex-judges and ex-commissioners are expected to attend.

Speakers Are Coming

Among the speakers who will be here are Judge Robert Lee Bobbitt, recently appointed chairman of the State Highway commission, Attorney-General William McCraw, and Ike Ashburn, chairman of the Good Roads association of Texas, Judge Allison said.

Others members of state departments have been invited and will attend, he said.

"An unusually instructive and interesting program has been arranged for the last two days, the first being devoted to registration," the president announced.

Go To Washington

Fifteen county judges of Texas left Saturday for Washington for the purpose of impressing upon congress and other agencies the need of adequate Works Progress administration funds for Texas. The association is working to obtain benefits for the workers as well as the work they are doing, Allison pointed out.

Allison said he believed this would be accomplished after conferring with Administrator Harry L. Hopkins in Washington not long ago. Allison was selected to go with the county judges Saturday, but was unable to make the trip because of "pressing business" here, he said. However, he is keeping in touch with the delegation in Washington by wire and furnishing information needed for presentation to congressmen and committees there.

NRA REPORT

leisure," the report said.

"This means that, whenever more goods would be worth more to the worker than more leisure hours should not be shortened," it added. "The necessity of shortening them below this standard, in order to spread work, is a confession of failure in the economic system.

Socially Beneficial

"As to wages," said the committee, "we accept the tentative finding of the national industrial recovery board that a minimum wage can be socially beneficial not only as a safeguard to the worker but also as a wage-floor for the operation of the competitive system. But in this field code experience developed or implied the need of well-considered standards, which would be even more necessary to a long-run policy."

The committee said that "if controls of the NRA type are to be tried again, the experience indicates that the attempt should be limited to a few important industries in order that proper standards of investigation and adequate supervision may be maintained, and should be guided from the start by more definite principles and policies such as NRA experience indicates as being likely to stand the test of application."

Traffic Club Will Gather On Friday

Postponed meeting of the Santa Fe traffic club for the Slaton division will be held Friday night in the reading room at Slaton, R. F. Bayless president, said this morning.

C. W. Lane, Amarillo, special representative of the company, is to show films. Traffic matters will be discussed. The club is composed of traffic and operating employes of the company between Canyon and Sweetwater, Farwell and Lubbock and the branch lines out of Plainview, Slaton and Lubbock.

Man Looking Upon Strange Old World

WICHITA, Kas., March 4. (AP)—Blind for 60 of his 62 years, Joseph Backlund—his sight restored by an operation — looked today on a strange world in which he must learn to associate objects with names.

An expert mechanic, he has known a gasoline engine by touch for so long that sight of it leaves him a bit puzzled.

"I can't tell what it is until I touch it," he explained.

Attachment Issued For State Witness

Attachment for L. U. Belt was issued in county court this morning when the night watchman failed to appear as a state's witness in the case of W. K. Harden, charged with theft.

County Attorney Robert J. Allen, who asked for the attachment, said Belt was under process to appear as a witness in the case, scheduled for trial today. Severance in the case of W. K. and W. C. Harden, who had been charged jointly with theft, was granted. Max Coleman is defense attorney.

Exercises Good In Promoting Plants

URBANA, Ill., March 2 (AP)—Scientists at the University of Illinois who have been giving plants "setting-up" exercises claim that has increased the plants' work capacity 41 per cent.

W. E. Burge and G. C. Wickshire, physiology instructor, chose the common mimosa, a plant which responds to stimuli by folding its leaves. They attached tiny weights to the leaves.

Repeated stimulation produced weight lifting exercise claimed to have improved the plants' general condition noticeably over that of "ordinary" plants of the same species.

Real Turtle Soup Furnished Everyone

YOUNGSTOWN, O., March 2 (AP)—Works Progress administration workers cleaning a lily pond here dredged out a 50-pound turtle.

When one of the workers suggested converting it into soup, onlookers nearby applauded the idea and volunteered to supply the necessary vegetables. So Louis Cutchino, who was an army cook during the World war, busied himself for a couple of hours and everybody for blocks around had real turtle soup—at no cost.

FUTURE SHIPS TO BE MIGHTY ONES

ANN ARBOR, Mich., March 2 (AP)—Milton J. Thompson, University of Michigan aeronautical engineer, says the airplane of the near future will be a dreadnaught capable of 300 miles an hour, rather than the flivver type which can be set down on a dime.

The trend, which Prof. Thompson attributed to rapid development of the modern air transport, will open a new vocational field, he says, since each of the big planes will require a crew and, like an ocean liner, must be in charge of a competent officer, especially trained for his duties.

Prof. Thompson says the 300-mile speed would be faster than any pursuit plane can now travel, and because it is becoming increasingly difficult to develop faster pursuit ships because of their relatively small size, he predicts bombing raids in future wars will be combatted by anti-aircraft batteries on the ground.
