Sales Tax Controversy Stalls Billion Dollar Tax Bill

CONNALLY ATTACKS PRESIDENT AND CIRCULATION OF PETITION; MESSAGE EXPECTED ON MONDAY

WASHINGTON, May 28. (AP)—A raging controversy over the sales tax—focusing on President Hoover and the press—swept the senate today and temporarily stalled the billion dollar revenue bill.

The upshot of the furious debate was a demand from Senator Connally, Democrat, Texas, for a statement by the president on his position and the circulation of a round robin petition pledging members to vote against the disputed levy.

Intimations reached the capitol that Mr. Hoover was prepared to take a hand in the tax contest and a message from him next week was expected.

Senator Harrison, of Mississippi, Democratic tax leader, challenged the proponents of the sales tax for an immediate showdown and then drew up the round robin petition.

He claimed 34 Democratic signatures tonight and predicted more than 50 of the senate—a majority—would be pledged by Monday noon, when the president's message is expected.

Claim Majority

Advocates of the 1.75 per cent sales levy, sponsored by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, claimed they had a majority.

Opponents, however, pointed to refusal of the house to accept the proposition and placed the blame on proponents of the sales tax for any delay in enactment of the revenue bill.

The opponents also contended some large newspapers were "propagandizing" the country for the sales levy and denounced the president for calling in publishers last Wednesday night. They said it was a "covert" movement to get at public opinion.

Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader, told the senate that Secretary Mills estimated the pending revenue bill would fall short by $56,000,000 of the $1,025,000,000 budget balancing goal.

"How are we going to raise the $56,000,000?" asked Watson.

Endorse Connally Plan

Harrison and Couzens, Republican, Michigan, both promptly endorsed the proposal of Senator Connally, Democrat, Texas, for a high-

GARNER SAYS PRESIDENT IS INCONSISTENT

Refers to His Campaign Speeches Urging Huge Building Program

FINANCE CORPORATION AS WELL 'PORK BARREL'

Says Democrats Did Not Expect to Receive Cooperation

WASHINGTON, May 28. (AP)—Speaker Garner slapped back today with a stinging thrust at President Hoover and proceeded with plans for speeding his relief bill through the house.

To the president's charge that the public works phase of the speakers' two billion-dollar relief bill was "pork barrel" legislation, Garner replied that the same appellation might be applied to the Reconstruction corporation for which non-partisan support was elected by Mr. Hoover.

The Texan said the tax he proposed on gasoline would prevent the works from interfering with balancing the budget.

"President Hoover's opposition to the bill to relieve destitution, to broaden the lending powers of the Reconstruction Finance corporation and to create employment by authorizing and expediting a public works program was not unexpected," Garner said.

Cooperation Not Expected

"The Democrats did not expect to receive real cooperation from the president in any matter benefiting the masses and those who might be termed the middle class of American people."

Garner said the Reconstruction Finance corporation act, sponsored by the president, could logically be referred to as a "pork barrel," for the banks, insurance companies, railroads and financial institutions, if the application were applied to his public works program.

The speaker added that Mr. Hoo-

GREAT GRANDSON OF TENNESSEE GOVERNOR CONVICTED OF MURDER

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 28. (AP)—Isham G. Harris, great grandson of Tennessee's civil war governor, was convicted here last night of murdering J. D. Smith, his 64-year-old neighbor, and life imprisonment was recommended. James Callis, indicted jointly with him, was freed.

It was the second time Harris had heard a jury accuse him of killing a neighbor. In 1919, he was released from the penitentiary by pardon after serving a few years of a 20-year sentence in another slaying.

Smith was abducted from his home last November and shot beside a country road. A negro in whose death both Harris and Callis were indicted was killed in a similar manner that night. Harris testified he shot the white man because he believed he had criminally assaulted Mrs. Harris and that Callis shot the negro, apparently without cause. Callis denied the charge.

Man's Inventive Genius Conquers Fliers' Graveyard

PITTSBURGH, May 28. (AP)—"Hell's stretch," Pennsylvania's graveyard of aviators, has surrendered at last to the inventive genius of man.

For more than 10 years, every flight over the Alleghenys' ridges in central Pennsylvania was a personal encounter with the violence of nature, unleashed in driving fury that pulled pilots to their death in frail ships of the sky.

But the indomitable spirit of those who have flown the United States mail from Cleveland to New York has overcome the terror.

The battle to erase the terror of the short stretch between Aaronsburg and Bellefonte, which pilots swore was the playground of the devil, was not easily won.

Close to a score of pilots, pioneers in winged transportation, have died since flying began over the route June 16, 1919. But meanwhile, courageous comrades flew on and men labored in laboratories to develop planes and motors that would carry man and mail safely.

Two-way radio communication between ground stations and planes was developed. Now the pilot can be warned of sudden squalls or unfavorable conditions in time to premit him to run around them or return to his base.

Blind-flying instruments, more reliable than human senses, guide pilots through weather the eye can not penetrate.

International Search Begins For Son of Wealthy New York Business Man Lost From New Mexico Ranch

LAS CRUCES, N. M., May 28. (AP)—Eleven days after his disappearance, Las Cruces, El Paso and Juarez officers today said they were continuing their search for W. W. Farish, 29, New York City, who mysteriously disappeared from his ranch near Mesilla Park May 17.

Farish, the son of W. W. Farish Sr., wealthy retired business man of New York City, came here about a year ago and purchased a 60-acre tract of land near Mesilla Park. At the time of his disappearance he had under construction on the property a Spanish style residence and other improvements.

May 11, Farish went to El Paso to visit a dentist but returned to his home that evening. Two days later he returned to El Paso for additional dental treatment and stopped at an El Paso hotel, remaining there until May 16, when he returned to the ranch near Mesilla Park, leaving his grip at the El Paso hotel. He packed a suitcase into his car and without stopping to see the men who were working on his ranch returned to El Paso and registered at the Hotel Hussman. Tuesday, May 17, he checked out of the hotel after drawing $400 from the El Paso National bank. He last was seen in Juarez. His car was found at the Santa Fe bridge parking ground.

According to Col. J. W. Lowe, Las Cruces, who is assisting in the search, Farish's parents are of the opinion he has wandered away and do not feel he has met with foul play. He was a graduate of Princeton university.

At the time of his disappearance he had ample funds in both Las Cruces and El Paso banks. He is described as being about six feet tall, has blue eyes and brown hair and was wearing a brown suit.

SIX CONVICTS START TRIP TO STATE PRISON

County Jail Has Few Prisoners Left Within Bars At Present Time

FOUR FEDERAL COURT DEFENDANTS REMAIN

Only Two Men in Jail Here Awaiting Action of Appeals Court

The Wichita county jail contained fewer prisoners Saturday than at any time in many months.

Six prisoners were taken in charge Saturday morning by Bud Russell, veteran penitentiary agent, and started to Huntsville prison. They are Ralph Fults, 10 years for robbery and kidnaping of four Electra citizens, including the chief of police; N. H. Michaels, 8 years for robbery and kidnaping of a negro attendant at the March Storage garage last September; H. B. Kennedy and Philip Bain, two years each for theft of hams and other meat from a farm smokehouse near Electra; Jack Culloms, one year for manufacture of liquor; and J. B. Rogers, one year for driving while intoxicated.

Jailer Frank Watkins said only two convicted men remain in jail and both of them are awaiting action of the appeals court. One is Richard Brown, negro given the death penalty for the robbery of Ted Nodurft, slain here last September by two negroes who robbed and assaulted his fiancee. The other is R. W. (Buster) Canada, given five years for burglary and under a charge of robbery by assault and violence in connection with a recent futile jailbreak in which Night Jailer Sid Johnson was struck on the head and seriously injured. The charge is in connection with the theft of Johnson's pistol.

Watkins also said that only four federal prisoners remain in jail from the March term of court.

Flood at Dallas

DALLAS, May 28. (AP)—A woman was injured slightly, two persons had to be rescued from water over their heads and several fires were caused by lightning during a severe rainstorm here this afternoon. More than an inch of rain flooded the city's low sections.

Mrs. R. P. Copeland, 30, was cut on the head when lightning struck a chandelier at the Fundamentalist Baptist church. A light globe fell from the chandelier and hit her head.

The automobile of Charles E. Brown, 36, and Mrs. Edna Giles, 36, was submerged in overflow water from a creek in east Dallas. The couple were forced to abandon the machine in water over their heads. Brown held Mrs. Giles above the water until rescuers tossed them a rope.

The abandoned automobile was one of 11 cars stalled in the swirling water which covered several blocks. Residents of vicinity were instructed to leave as the water rose. Business establishments were flooded and floors of several houses were covered.

Lightning started a fire at the Highland park home of Sam and J. L. Lancaster Jr., sons of the president of the Texas & Pacific railway. Stored furniture in the attic was damaged.

AMERICA ATHLETIC NATION

Our Jonesless golfers didn't do so well in England but we are still making considerable use of that country.

Since Amelia started the oceanic hop again there are 50 Americans getting ready to use the United Kingdom for a landing field.

The channel swimmers are also ready to grease up and use proud old Britannia as a diving board.

Too bad about our golfers. But when Jones retired it was like a hangar without a Zeppelin. The neck is no good without the head.

But we expect to do pretty good at the Olympics this summer. We'll show 'em how to run and jump.

That run and jump business is our specialty. We've all been taking running jumps in the last three years.

PRESBYTERIANS ADMIT WOMEN TO MEMBERSHIP OF GENERAL COUNCIL

DENVER, Colo., May 28. (AP)—For the first time in history women will be admitted to full membership in the general council of the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A.

Announcement was made at the general assembly of the church today that an overture on the subject, submitted to the Presbyteries by the general assembly last year, had been approved by a vote of 146 to 91, with 22 presbyteries not voting.

There are 291 presbyteries and 146 was the exact number necessary for adoption.

By this action, which amounts to an amendment to the constitution of the church, a woman will be included in membership in the governing body with power to vote. Previously the general council included two women as corresponding members, without right to vote.

Two youthful hijackers, thought to be between 18 and 20 years old, held up and robbed two customers and two clerks of Harry Cohen's Kemp Kort drug store at 1000 Travis of approximately $20 at 10:17 o'clock Saturday night.

According to City Detectives G. G. Garreet, Tom Poe and Dick Chapman, who investigated, the two hold-up men, each flashing a gun, entered the drug store shortly before closing time, announced the hijacking, herded their victims into the rear of the store and took the loot after searching the four and emptying the cash register.

Orville Medford, 1307 North Tenth was the clerk in charge, while names of the second clerk and the customers are not known. Practically all of the money was taken from the cash drawer.

The bandits escaped on foot.

EDWARD SWIFT CHICAGO FALLS FROM BUILDING

Chairman of Board of Swift Packing Company

CORONER JURY DECIDES DEATH WAS ACCIDENTAL

Health Good and Business Reported in Excellent Condition

CHICAGO, May 28. (US)—Edward F. Swift, 69, chairman of the board of Swift and company, one of the two largest meat packing plants in the world, was killed instantly today when he fell from his eighth floor apartment on North State Parkway.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death at an inquest held late today.

Mr. Swift's falling body passed the startled eyes of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Mitchell and struck the concrete courtyard in view of Harry Dice, chauffeur who was waiting to take Mrs. Swift to a hairdresser.

Mrs. Mitchell is the former Lolita Armour of the rival packing family.

Just two hours before, Mr. Swift had arisen at 6:30, as was his custom, and had been served breakfast in his room by a maid.

Goes to Sun Room

He took a newspaper and went to the sun room on the west side of his apartment. The next time he was seen was when his body fell.

The chauffeur, Dice, shouted to a park policeman who rushed up inquiring who it was. Dice had just discovered, and gasped:

"Why, it's my boss!"

A strange coincidence is that F. Edson White, who was president of Armour and company, died in almost precisely the same manner the evening of Jan. 15, 1931.

Mr. Swift was clad only in pajamas and a lounging robe. Police Lieutenant Timothy Rohan said the window of his apartment had been opened almost as high as possible. Outside the window is a brass grating about eight inches high.

Police were told that Mr. Swift

ART GOEBEL INJURED AND HIS MECHANIC KILLED WHEN PLANE STRIKES TREE NEAR M'KINNEY

M'KINNEY, Texas, May 28. (AP)—Art Goebel, widely known aviator, was injured, and his mechanic, R. L. Riss, was killed when their plane struck a tree as they took off from an airport here today.

Riss was killed instantly, his head being crushed by wreckage of the plane, which was demolished. Goebel, winner of the Dole derby from San Francisco to Honolulu, suffered a broken leg above the knee and facial lacerations.

Goebel had come to McKinney, where he recently gave an air circus, to visit friends. During the day he performed some stunts over the courthouse square.

About 3 p. m., as a heavy rain was falling, he prepared to return to Dallas. The field was soggy as a result of rain, but he seemed to have no difficulty getting into the air.

Plane Strikes Tree

When about mid-field and at an altitude of about 35 feet, the plane struck the top of a tree and crashed strewing wreckage for many feet. It did not burn.

Riss was dead when spectators lifted him from the debris. Goebel was conscious and was rushed to the city hospital, where a quick examination indicated his injuries were not fatal.

It was believed a gust of wind whipped the plane into the tree. The plane was abiplane and was powered with a Diesel-type motor.

Riss' body was held at an undertaking establishment pending efforts to communicate with relatives.

CURTIS TRIAL WEEK JUNE 27

Remains in County Jail Pending Hearing

FLEMINGTON, N. J., May 28. (US)—John Hughes Curtis, Norfolk boat builder, was officially indicted today for his gigantic hoax in the Lindbergh case, when a true bill was handed up to Supreme Court Justice Thomas W. Trenchard.

Although it is known that Curtis is to be tried for obstruction of justice, the details and extent of the indictment were not made public, as Prosecutor Anthony M. Hauck asked that it be impounded immediately, in order that defense lawyers might not know its contents before the defendant's arraignment next Tuesday.

Prosecutor Hauck announced that Curtis would be tried not later than the week of June 27.

In the meantime the Norfolk "society man" remained in the county jail at Flemington.

SKELETONS OF 40 MEN AND ONE WOMAN FOUND IN RUMANIAN CELLAR

VIENNA, May 27. (US)—The skeletons of forty men and one woman were discovered in the cellar of a house at Canstantza, Rumanian Black sea port, today, dispatches from Bucharest stated.

Workmen wrecking the building made the gruesome find, the dispatches added.

Police are seeking former owners of the building, working on the theory that the male skeletons are the remains of men lured into the house by the woman and then killed and robbed by confederates. The woman, they believe, was killed for fear she would prove a damaging witness should the murder ring ever be discovered.

HAUSNER FAILS LONG DISTANCE NO STOP FLIGHT

NEW YORK, May 28. (AP)—Stanislaus Felix Hausner "mystery flier" of Newark, N. J., returned to Floyd Bennet field at 8:20 p. m. (central standard time) tonight, slightly more than six hours after he started on a projected non-stop flight to Europe.

Hausner said he had got about 300 miles out to sea and was flying in a blind fog when the artificial horizon, the "brains" of an aviator's blind flying instruments, stopped functioning.

He turned his heavily loaded flame-colored monoplane about and "felt" his way back to Floyd Bennett field as best he could with the aid of a compass only.

His return, despite such odds, made those who had murmured "flying fool" when he hopped off at 3:05 p. m. despite warnings against hazardous conditions, wonder if Hausner, the silent, non-committal amateur pilot, possibly knew more about aviation than they had given him credit for.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 28. (US)—The attempted flight of Nat C. Browne, New York airman, in the Lone Star from Seattle to Tokio, was again delayed today because of an absence of wind.

STUDENT RECOVERING FROM RATTLER BITE SELF-ADMINISTERED

HOUSTON, May 28. (US)—Karl Bleyl, young biology student who accidentally "bit" himself with a hypodermic needle full of rattlesnake poison here was recovering tonight.

Bleyl and Hans Nagle, Houston zoo keeper, were extracting venom yesterday from three big zoo rattlers, catching the poison in a tumbler and transferring it to vials with a hypodermic needle.

Bleyl's hand slipped and the needle was buried in his palm, releasing his poison.

He was seeking an antivenin for snake bites.

Washington Prepares to Care for Thousands of Jobless Veterans on Arrival at Capital After March

WASHINGTON, May 28. (US)—With thousands of jobless ex-service men marching on the nation's capital to demand relief, the district government today grappled with the problem of how to house and feed them.

All emergency relief funds have been exhausted.

The problem has been complicated by declaration by the former soldiers' leaders that they intend to stay in Washington all summer, or until they get jobs or full payment of their bonus certificates.

Huge camps were being planned for the invading hosts. Benefit performances, boxing and wrestling shows are among the plans to raise funds to shelter and feed the men.

Site for Barracks

Gen. Pelham D. Glassford, chief of police, announced today he has obtained a strip of federal land near Bolling field to be used as a temporary barracks for the bonus army. He has obtained cots from the army for them to sleep on. Lumber with which the unemployed veterans can build their own shacks, has been donated.

Glassford today telegraphed Governor Ritchie of Maryland, and Governor Pollard of Virginia, urging them to refuse transportation to the bonus marchers through thier states unless they agree to leave Washington within 48 hours.

Marchers Near Capital

One body of marchers from beyond the Mississippi was expected to cross the line into Maryland tonight.

The marchers are demanding the passage of a bill introduced by Representative Patman, Democrat, of Texas, which provides for the printing of money to pay the bonus. The bill is now buried in the house ways and means committee.

It will be voted on in the house at this session only if 145 members sign a petition to bring it out of the committee. So far 91 have signed the petition.

In commenting on the veterans march Patman said:

"Every one has the right to petition congress. I shall not say a word to encourage or discourage this pilgrimage."

Invocation was pronounced by Dr. S. S. McKenney, and Joe E. Ward was toastmaster. The welcome address was by Leroy Scheurer, while responses were made by Mrs. Fannie B. Vanderkool and Dr. Grice.

In the address of the evening by Judge Kay, entitled "The Twentieth Milestone," the class was termed "the heir of the past" and "the commanders of the future."

Judge Kay urged the class to ever advance, using the memories and experiences of the past as stepping stones.

Texas Insurance Commission Refuses To Allow Proposed Boost Automobile Insurance Rates for Wichita Falls

The state board of insurance commissioners at Austin Saturday issued an order disallowing all proposed rate changes requested in automobile fire, theft and liability schedules and set June 1 as the date for hearing revised schedules submitted by insurance companies.

The Wichita Falls Insurance exchange had fought the request, according to a statement issued by Henry Mason, president, Saturday afternoon. Mr. Mason declared that the disallowance was entirely in line with desires of the local exchange.

The recommendations would have increased the Wichita Falls automobile fire insurance rates 14.6 per cent on a loss ratio of 57.3 per cent.

"The exchange members did not believe that the commission would grant the requested increase," Mr. Mason declared. 'However, we expect that a smaller increase will be granted later on. The increase asked for Wichita Falls was too much because it does not properly rate Wichita Falls, as local companies do a large percentage of business away from here."

Hearing on the applications for rate increases was concluded Friday. The board stated it did not regard the proposed rates as fair, just or reasonable in the light of present conditions.

The question of uniform policies also was set for consideration June 1.

Increases of approximately 59 per cent on public liability rates on commercial automobiles and an increase of approximately 29 per cent in liability rates on private passenger automobiles were among requested increases.

An average statewide increase of slightly in excess of 40 per cent in the automobile fire insurance rates had been requested.

The recommendations would have reduced the automobile fire insurance rates in Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Houston and San Antonio approximately 45 per cent based on a loss ratio of 27.5 per cent. The remainder of the state showed a loss ratio of 100.4 per cent.

Recommendation had been made for an increase of 89.4 per cent in the fire insurance rates on commercial automobiles, based on a loss ratio of 94.7 per cent.

The companies also had applied for a statewide increase in automobile theft rates of approximately 44 per cent and a 17 per cent increase in Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Houston and Wichita Falls.

SIX PILOTS GET BALLOONS READY FOR OMAHA RACE

OMAHA, Neb., May 28. (AP)—Headed by E. J. Hill, Detroit, winner of the Gordon Bennett balloon race trophy in 1927, and Ronald Blair, Goodyear Zeppelin corporation pilot, who won the American national race in 1930, six of the country's best balloon pilots were busily engaged today in making preparations for the start at 4:45 p. m. central standard time, Monday, of the 1932 national race from the miunicipal airport here.

The balloon race start is the feature of the second annual Omaha air races, now in progress here. The races end Monday.

Hill will pilot the City of Omaha, and his aide will be Roscoe Conklin of Omaha, a former members of the Fort Omaha balloon school. The balloon is the property of the Detroit Balloon club and the entry is financed by Omaha men.

Blair and Frank Trotter, who is to serve as aide again this year, won the race, starting from Houston, and placed fourth in the international competition that year.

The United States army has two entries in the race.

GARNER REPLIES TO PRESIDENT HOOVER

ver's campaign speeches in 1928 urging a billion dollar building program, "illustrate the utter inconsistency of the president's attitude."

Garner issued his statement shortly after Majority Leader Rainey made public a summary of the revised bill which increased the total from $2,146,874,468 to $2,309,084,337 or by $162,209,869.

Public Works Program

As it goes to the ways and means committee, the bill provides a total of $1,209,084,337 for public works construction, including federal buildings, highway and waterway improvements; a $1,000,000,000 increase in the funds of the Reconstruction corporation for loans to states, political subdivisions and private industry, and $100,000,000 for direct relief.

A new section authorizes the Reconstruction corporation to finance the sales in foreign markets of surplus wheat, cotton, tobacco, wool, mohair and other agricultural products.

A tax of one-fourth of a cent a gallon on gasoline, estimated by the speaker to yield $42,500,000, would be sufficient, he said to meet the interest and sinking fund requirements of bonds to be issued by the treasury under existing law to finance the public building program.

Hearings before the ways and means committee will begin Tuesday with Garner first to testify.

The Garner bill made the following changes: In the distribution of $83,090,000 for $70,000 postoffices, the following changes were made:

Texas—Eliminations, Hallettsville, Livingston. Additions, Asherton, Electra, Maria, McCamey, Wink.

The new bill decreased from $46,310,000 to $22,440,000 the allotment for $55,000 postoffices. It failed to include the following postoffices in this class named in the first of the Garner bill:

Texas—Angleton, Canton, Clifton, Goliad, Hico, Iraan—Junction, Kerens, Lockney, Munday, Ralls, Richmond, San Augustine, Shiner, Sourlake, Weimar.

EDGAR WITT ANNOUNCES FOR RE-ELECTION AS LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

WACO, Texas, May 28. (INS)—Lieut. Gov. Edgar E. Witt, considered prior to the governor's announcement recently a possible candidate for governor, today announced his candidacy for re-election.

In a statement he expressed "great appreciation to many friends who have urged that I should be a candidate for governor," adding he decided the "wiser course" was to seek re-election.

POLICE INVESTIGATE CHARGE OF KIDNAPING AGAINST YOUNG BROKER

OAKLAND, Calif., May 28. (AP)—Police today took over one phase of the conflict between Alfred C. Read Jr., broker, and his attractive young wife, Mrs. Marian Y. Read—a kidnaping charge sworn to by the wife against the husband.

Mrs. Read, who already had sued for divorce and started a $100,000 alienation action against Claire Windsor, actress, named three persons besides the husband in the kidnaping complaint. They were Stewart Trombauer of Hollywood, a business associate of Read, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Trower of Oakland.

She declared Read, assisted by Trombauer, forced her to accompany him into the mountains near Placerville, Calif., and attempted to "sales talk" her into dropping the divorce and alienation suits. The two men are being held in Placerville for Oakland authorities.

Mr. and Mrs. Trower, accused of later joining the asserted kidnap party, notified authorities here last night by telephone they were at Lake Tahoe. Trower said they would return to Oakland today to surrender.

WASHINGTON, May 28. (US)—No mail will be carried by the Akron on its return flight to Lakehurst from the coast, the postoffice department announced today.

The body of Mrs. Mattie Gibbs, 65, of Valley Mills, Texas, who died at a hospital here at 7:30 o'clock Saturday morning, is held at the Hines mortuary pending arrival of a brother, J. W. Humphrey, from Valley Mills.

MURRAY SEES NO HOPE FOR JOHN GARNER

AUSTIN, May 28. (AP)—Gov. William H. Murray of Oklahoma wired Texans seeking the Sooner state's support for Speaker John N. Garner in the national Democratic convention today that he (Murray) would remain before the convention and that he could not see "any hope in Garner."

Senator J. J. Loy of Sherman had wired the Oklahoman advising him that he had been told Murray had expressed himself as without hope and soliciting his help in obtaining his state's 22 votes for the Texan.

"Press reports of withdrawal were promoted by enemies," Murray wired Senator Loy. "My name will be presented to the national convention. I am against any New Yorker. Do not see any hope in Garner."

Favor Roosevelt

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 28. (UP) State Roosevelt leaders organizing here today declared Gov. W. H. Murray has released the Oklahoma delegation and the 22 votes now are free to go to the New York governor in the Democratic convention at Chicago next month.

A resolution introduced at the rally for Franklin D. Roosevelt asserted, "We feel that Governor Murray has already eliminated himself and released his delegation, in effect, by his repeated public statements that he is not a candidate.

"If this be not true, then we are in favor of the delegation giving a complimentary vote to Murray, and thereafter voting for the nomination of Roosevelt.

SALES TAX STALLS BIG REVENUE BILL

er income schedule as the means of meeting the margin.

Pittman, Democrat, Nevada, proposed a compromise between the advocates of the high income rates and the proponents of the sales tax whereby both the income and sales tax levies would be adopted.

Glass, of Virginia, a former Democratic secretary of the treasury, suggested that the needs of the government for revenue might require that the sales tax as well as the special excise rates be kept. The Walsh proposal would substitute the sales levy for these excise rates.

Glass, who is a publisher, took Connally sharply to task for a declaration that the newspaper publishers had modified their views in response to White House food.

"I may remind the senator," asserted the Virginian, "that scrambled eggs and bacon taste no different to newspaper men than to a senator."

Criticises Al Smith

The debate switched over to the Democratic political side also. Senator Cousens took Alfred E. Smith to task for assailing Governor Roosevelt of New York.

Senators Connally and Lewis, Democrat, Illinois, sharply criticised the president's conference with newspaper publishers a few days ago.

"The White House is secretly and covertly urging the sales tax," Connally said, "while it hasn't the courage to come out openly in favor of it."

Chairman Smoot of the finance committee protested Connally was doing the president "an injustice."

Lewis said it was the president's privilege to invite any one he chose to the White House. But, he added, when those invited are molders of public opinion, known to oppose the administration's views, "we can come to but one conclusion, that the president has brought these envoys of public opinion to the White House that he might use the power of his great office to influence their thought or to so intimidate them as to obstruct opposition."

Two Presidents Decline

"Two presidents, Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson, were solicited to use this form of respectable bribery over the opinion of the press," Lewis said, "and both refused."

"I will not assume these men are so weak they can be moved by this form of specious bribery," Lewis added.

Lewis stood in the middle of the senate aisle and demanded silence from his colleagues, as he delivered his attack on the president.

"I demand," said Lewis, "that the president treat us as he will treat any other man if he be a courageous man and a gentleman—as he is both—and that he will speak to us openly that which he says in private conversations."

Connally, saying he spoke not in criticism of the press but in defense of its right to freedom, asserted if the press is to "allow itself to be muzzled, become the agent of secret propaganda and participate in conferences about which it can't talk," it will become "the agent of influences that will stifle free government."

SUGGESTS ANNUITIES BE REDUCED HALF TO MEET BIG LOSS IN BUSINESS

PARIS, May 28. (AP)—Victory Henry Berenger, negotiator of the recent Franco-American debt arrangement, suggested in an article published here today that the Young plan annuities be reduced one-third to meet a 30 per cent fall in business.

If the payments then should still prove too heavy for Germany, M. Berenger recommended a moratorium on all payments except 440,000,000 reichsmarks (about $110,000,000).

He said the debt agreements linked the amount the United States will receive to the amount Germany pays France and that the success of the coming Lausanne conference is subordinate to a settlement between the United States and Europe.

AUSTIN, May 28.—Marking the conclusion of conference athletic activities for the year, the University of Texas Steers defeated the Texas Aggies on Saturday afternoon to win the conference pennant in baseball. This is the 19th conference pennant to be won by the Steers in the last 22 years, during the time of which W. J. "Uncle Billy" Disch has been the coach.

Mary Grace Milam of Seymour, who is president of the Pan-Hellenic council, on Friday issued the new rush rules which will go into effect during summer rushing. The new rules state that a rushee must bear part of the expense of her entertainment, that parties may be given for the rushees and that each girl who intends to pledge a sorority must attend a conference on the first day of school next year, and that only the girls who attend will be eligible for rushing.

Registration for the first term of the summer session will be held Tuesday, June 7, and classes for that term will begin the following day; the term will extend until July 18, and the second term will continue from July 18 until Aug. 29. Many professors are expected from all parts of Texas to teach in the university this summer and the university professors are planning to teach, and also work on degrees at other colleges.

EDWARD F. SWIFT FALLS TO DEATH

had been in nervous condition but had gone to his office daily. He was to have started for a vacation in Europe next Tuesday.

Swift and company executives assembled at the stockyards offices and the following statement was issued by Charles H. Swift, brother of the victim and vice chairman of the firm:

"Edward F. Swift had been in his usual good health and spirits. He had been attending business as usual. His affairs are in excellent condition."

Officials of banks with which he dealt corroborated this statement. Expressing belief that the fall was accidental, Mr. Mitchell said:

Fresh Air Fiend

"Mr. Swift was a fresh air fiend. It would have been easy for him to have fallen from the large window."

Mr. Swift's career was a colorful one. Though born of a well-to-do family, he literally started from the bottom. When he was a school boy of 12 in his native town of Barnsdale, Mass., he used to go to the stockyards after school and help his father, Gustavus Franklin Swift, with his work as a cattle buyer.

Mr. Swift was probably engaged in more diversified business activities than any other Chicagoan. He was an officer or director in 22 companies in addition to the one he headed.

Besides his widow, he is survived by three children, Mrs. Huntington B. Henry, Theodore P. Swift and Edward Foster Swift III.

Four brothers were associated with him in the packing business.

The first and third sections of the ceremonial will be held in Maskat temple at 2:30 p. m. At 4:30 p. m. there will be a street parade under the direction of the parade committee, full particulars of which are in this paper, and which has been planned for the amusement of everybody.

A hard times dinner will be served the nobility at Maskat temple auditorium at 6 p. m.

The second section of the ceremonial will begin in Maskat temple auditorium at 7:30 and the ceremonial day of May 31, 1932, will end with a ball for the nobility and their ladies at the Wichita club at 9 p. m.

The ladies' committee of Maskat temple has planned a full and pleasant day for the ladies of the nobility. Their headquarters will be at the Wichita club and members of the committee will be in attendance all day. How Modern Women Lose Pounds of Fat Swiftly — Safely

Gain Physical Vigor—Youthfulness With Clear Skin and Eyes That Sparkle With Glorious Health

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Everymorning take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast—cut down on pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar—in 4 weeks get on the scales and note how many pounds of fat have vanished.

Notice also that you have gained in energy—your skin is clearer—your eyes sparkle with glorious health—you feel younger in body—keener in mind. Kruschen will give any fat person a joyous surprise.

Get a bottle of Kruschen Salts—the cost is a trifling and it lasts 4 weeks. If even this first bottle doesn't convince you this is the easiest, safest and surest way to lose fat—if you don't feel a superb improvement in health—so gloriously energetic—vigorously alive—your money gladly returned.

But be sure for your health's sake that you ask for and get Kruschen Salts. Get them at Allison's Drug Store or any drug store in the world.—Adv.

Sermons Attract Large Crowds At Assembly of God

The services now in progress in the church of the Assembly of God, of which Rev. Chas. C. Robinson is pastor, continue to attract large crowds nightly. Rev. Wm. Burton McCafferty, the evangelist in charge, is delivering prophetic lectures from the Book of the Revelation, and many are interested in these timely themes.

Representatives of other cities are also in attendance on the meetings; among the out of town places are Electra, Olney, and Terral, Okla. Since the evangelist's initial sermon on "The Vision and its Appointed Time" the interest has continued to grow, and the past Sunday night the church auditorium was well filled.

Some of the themes handled by the Rev. Mr. McCafferty are: "The Vision of the Glorified Redeemer"; "The Historical and Prophetic Significance of the Seven Churches of the Revelation"; "The Open Door, or the Translation of the Church"; "The Judgment Throne of the Great Tribulation"; "The Opening of the Seven-Sealed Book of the Revelation"; "The Four and Twenty White Robed Elders"; "The Four Living Creatures and Who They Are."

Mr. McCafferty's experience as a Bible teacher and lecturer, both on the field and in connection with his work in the Southwestern Bible school of Enid, Okla., make these services unique in many ways.

Penney Store Maintains Its Unusual Record

The honor of being the first manager of a J. C. Penney company store ever to hold two national banners may fall on J. F. Luke, local store manager, if the Wichita Falls member of the great chain that includes more than 1,400 stores throughout the United States continues to hold its high sales increase average for the remainder of 1932.

Of the Penney stores for the first four months of 1932 in comparison with the like period in 1931, the local branch holds first place in percentage of increase of sales. Compared to 1931, the store managed by Mr. Luke increased its sales 68 per cent plus. For the January period the sales increase was more than 100 per cent.

Wichita Falls was not given the first place position because of having sold more goods than any other of the 1,400 some stores but for having the greatest percentage increase per town capita.

In 1930 when Mr. Luke managed the Penney store in Stillwater, Okla., his store was awarded the United States banner for highest percentage increases. This year, if sales continue as in the last four months, it is apparent that he will again win the coveted award, a thing that never before has occurred in the history of the stores. The banner had been awarded for 30 years.

"Wichita Falls has easily proven itself to be in good financial condition despite the many predictions concerning the seriousness of the present economic standing here. The fact that the greatest trade of any area is found here has been proven time and again by the unusual increases of our business." Mr. Luke declared.

"Yes, the City that Faith Built has proven itself to be in better condition than any city in which there is a Penney store."

CORBIN TO CONTINUE PROPHETIC MESSAGES

Rev. Bruce B. Corbin, pastor of Grace Methodist church, Seventh and Lamar, announces that there is a demand that he continue the special messages on "Prophesy" which were begun by Dr. H. P. Dunlop during the recent Bible conference held in his church. For 25 years Rev. Mr. Corbin has been a close student of prophesy. In 1907 he publicly predicted the world war and that it would result in a European league of nations. In 1915, he predicted the withdrawal of Russia from the allied forces that stated that Russia would become a great and terrible menace to the future of the world.

Mr. Corbin's theme Sunday evening will be "The Jew, God's Index Finger." In other cities, Rev. Mr. Corbin stated, many Jewish people have heard these messages and have expressed their appreciation of the spirit in which they were presented.

CROCKETT SCHOOL JUNIOR RED CROSS PRAISED FOR WORK

A summary of the activities of the Junior Red Cross in Crockett school has just come to the local Red Cross office. Crockett has had the honor of being a 100 per cent building for the past several years. Through the efforts of the principal, Miss Ida Moore, a unique and effective enrollment plan has been put in effect. Each room selects its chairman, secretary and a boy and a girl to represent the room in the council meetings which are held twice each month. Home room teachers act as advisors in the primary rooms. This year Mrs. Ethel Parker directed the work in the departmental division. Miss Moore serves as council advisor and Billy Maxson directed the council activities.

Sixteen subscriptions, one for each room, to the Junior Red Cross News were taken in September.

The year has been filled with many fine civic activities. A dozen Christmas boxes were sent to the American insular possessions last November. Four Thanksgiving baskets were given to needy families of this city. Christmas gifts and favors were sent to the Shrine hospital at Dallas, to the local day nursery and to the colored day nursery. A Christmas dinner was sent to the Mexican school and magazines were taken to the county farm at the same time. Many baskets were made this month for parents, children and the principal.

The children call on absent members each day and if the child is sick some one keeps the lesson assignments until he is well and helps him to get started back in his work again.

The children have cleaned the school yard twice this year. A group of boys helped dig the holes for the 15 trees planted on the grounds as a Washington memorial.

The children have had some interesting correspondence from the foreign recipients of the gifts.

In discussing the work Miss Moore commended the program very highly. "It is one of the best incentives for developing community spirit and citizenship appreciation. It fits into the school program and gives opportunity for development that cannot be surpassed," she declared.

Practically all the schools in the city include the junior work in their programs.

Claim Perfection For New Burglar Alarm Seen Here

A new electrical burglar alarm which has been approved by Sheriff Perry Browning and is apparently foolproof is being marketed here by George Hodgins, former police chief, and A. W. Kelly, local agents, who have offices at 200 Radio building.

The alarm consists of a siren and floodlight, both of which are set off when a screen is cut or lifted, a window raised or broken, a door opened or the electric circuit cut. A switch permit the alarm to be cut off during the day.

The City Jewelry company on Eighth street has installed the first set in Wichita Falls.

COLLEGE SENIORS HAVE FINAL BANQUET

Forty-one members of the 1932 college senior class and their guests and friends gathered at the Wichita club Friday night after commencement exercises for their final meeting in the form of a farewell banquet. An informal program of talks and wisecracks, conducted by President Harry Daugherty, as well as anotgraphing of place cards, kept the group in a jovial mood until after the midnight hour. Thus the class of 1932 joined eight other classes who now meet once a year at Christmas time for a grand reunion banquet.

A replica of the college building, with the lawn approaches holding actual photographic figures of familiar members of the school groups such as Dean Rider, Registrar Presson, faculty members, and many students cleverly arranged in life-like manner, formed the centerpiece. Miniature diplomas, handmade place cards and decorations were worked out by Frances Hyland, Bernice Trevathan, and Miss Madge Davis.

Twenty Years Ago Wichita Falls Tried To Make It Rain by Shooting Dynamite Got Plenty of Publicity, but No Rain

T. R. T. ORTH

J. B. MARLOW

Twenty years ago today Wichita Falls was preparing to write one of the most unusual chapters in the history of it or any other city.

Next Thursday, May 31, is the 20th anniversary of the occasion on which Wichita Falls citizens exploded 3,000 pounds of dynamite in an effort to produce a rainfall.

The effort failed. Subsequent efforts, conducted along more scientific lines, to cause rainfall have likewise failed.

Wichita Falls got widespread publicity for its effort, and a score or so Wichitans had lots of fun setting off the charges, but that was all.

C. W. Post, breakfast food manufacturer, who has long had interests in West Texas, inspired the novel experiment. He acted upon a theory which has been studied by meteorologists for many years, that detonations such as those of exploding dynamite will cause moisture to form and fall. The theory is based upon the fact—if it is a fact—that rain nearly always fell shortly after the big battles of the civil war.

Post tried it out on his place near Post City, and a rain followed. Skeptics said, of course, that it would have rained anyhow. But Wichita county, after a wet early spring, had been without rain during most of April and all of May, and crops were needing moisture. That is, the city folks who were interested in the dynamite theory, thought that moisture was needed. Farmers said later that a rain would have interfered with the oat harvest and that cotton wasn't suffering for rain.

Decide to Shoot

At any rate, it was decided to do some shooting. A committee headed by A. L. Huey was appointed to solicit the amount needed, about $800, to buy 3,000 pounds of dynamite. The money was raised with no great difficulty and the explosives were purchased.

The files of The Times state that T. R. T. Orth was appointed commander in chief. J. B. Marlow was chief of staff. Wichitans who assisted included J. W. Stone, D. M. Perkins, John T. Young, Henry McCauley, E. G. Hill, A. Culbertson, J. A. Culbertson, W. P. Wyatt, H. C. Schnaples, Mont Walkup, John Oechsner, J. A. D'Orsay, J. S. Bridwell, Will Ehlert, Sam Bell, Tom Ferlman, J. A. Richards, J. Wes Clasbey, G. E. Summers, Bill Saye, Sibert Davis, Bob McFall, John Street, W. W. Allen, L. Steelman, Nolen Howard, Jerome Stone, J. G. Lockard and Parks Boyd.

A ridge some distance west of the city was chosen as the scene of action. That is, it was some distance west of the Wichita Falls of 1912. It is now known as Lavinia terrace, and is built up with attractive homes, and the city has grown beyond it. But it was well out in the country in 1912.

About the middle of the forenoon folks downtown began hearing the steady boom-boom-boom of the explosions. The dynamite was exploded in small charges, and some of the holes which the blasts caused were still visible a few years ago.

That method of shooting wasn't exciting enough for some of the crew, and presently the folks downtown heard one sure-enough explosion. It developed later that some of the shooters had decided that it would be more fun to set off one whole case of dynamite at once. Just whose idea it has never been definitely established, but the finger of suspicion pointed, and still points, at one D. M. Perkins.

The bombardment continued for most of the day until the shooters were dirty and weary and the dynamite was all gone.

Cloudless Sky

Early in the afternoon a little wisp of a dark cloud appeared in the western sky, encouraging the hope of satisfactory results. But it soon vanished. The sun went down on a cloudless sky—and arose upon one the next morning.

It rained that night over in Collin county, about 150 miles from Wichita Falls, and Collin county folks wired the chamber of commerce here to thank it for the showers. But there was no rain nearer than that, so far as the record goes.

The affair was reported on the front pages of newspapers throughout the country and was the subject of countless editorials. Many of these jested at the thought of such an experiment; some praised the spirit of a community that would make such an experiment. A good many Wichitans felt that the publicity was undesirable in that it advertised Wichita Falls as being in a drouth-afflicted region.

That wasn't the end of bombarding for rain. A few weeks later the citizens of Stamford staged a similar bombardment and sure enough, there was a good rain in a short time. But the Stamford folks took one precaution that Wichita Falls had overlooked. They tested the humidity of the atmosphere before starting the fireworks.

The question of humidity is the key to the whole problem. Where there is humidity, or moisture, in the air, explosions are believed to be of some value. Where humidity is lacking, another battle of the Marne wouldn't have any effect. The catch in it is that when the humidity is present, rain is likely to fall without any cannonading.

Wichita Falls has always been ready to try anything once.

Shrine Parade Will Be Best in History Many Units Planned

As the depression does not seem to be lifting of its own accord, Potentate Sydney A. Gaines of Maskat temple has decided that if the Shriners of Wichita Falls can not banish the gloom permanently they can at least make people forget their troubles for awhile by putting on a little clean fun which, after all, is one of the main purposes of the Shrine, so the Shrine parade next Tuesday, May 31, at 4:30 p. m. is intended to chase Old Man Gloom out of town for the rest of the day at least.

First will come the motorcycle cops, fully armed and with roaring cutouts. It is expected that with their air of stern authority and noisy motorcycles they will at least impress the smaller children to the extent that they will not unduly harass the innocent novices who will follow later.

After the cops will come the Shrine band led by Gerald Pond and somewhere close will be the Legion drum and gugle corps with Milt Gaines and his bass drum in charge.

Then in solitary grandeur, occupying just one car, will be Wichita Falls' own imperial captain of the guard and past potentate of Maskat, Walter D. Cline. Spectators will be allowed to take photographs without charge.

Not so lucky will be the present potentate and his divan, as they will be on foot and in costume. As it will probably be a hot day, these gentlemen are expected to be considerably wilted shortly after starting as the costumes they will be wearing are not designed as summer suits. However, there are a number of stylish stouts in the bunch who need to reduce and the crowd will appreciate seeing the dignitaries sweat.

To Be Knockout

The parade is expected to be a knockout, so Dr. Ted Krohn, assisted by L. L. Taylor, will be on hand with the proper tools to operate on any one who has been overcome and in fact on any one they can overcome. Most doctors bury their mistakes but not in this parade they won't. It will be just over the side of the truck for their patients whether the operation is a success or not.

Of course it would not be sanitary to leave corpses along the line of march, so K. C. Spell will be on hand with genuine hearse to load in the dead ones.

Nobles are always kind to novices and other dumb animals so those who are not picked up by the hearse will be given a drink of genuine first run stuff fresh from Sheriff Perry Browning's own private still operated by Homer Huddleston. Homer knows his beverages so those who cannot stand the sudden feeling of prosperity that accompanies each drink will be kept from biting the spectators by being confined in the patrol wagon driven by Jack Martin.

Those who try to sleep it off on the pavement will be taken care of by the street cleaning gang headed by Chub Tschabold and W. T. Sadler.

Novices Muzzled

Somewhere along here will be Paul Seeds' band, which will continue to play "How Dry I Am" as long as Perry Browning's still is in sight.

It's going to be a real parade, dear folks, as there will be cops and clowns, cowboys and covered wagons and stunts by Vic Wisely and Jack O'Donohoe. Mothers are especially invited to bring their little children. There is no danger. All novices will be muzzled and handled with a leash.

Generally after a parade is over that ends it, but, not this time, not by any means. J. T. Yeargin expects to do his share toward lifting the depression by donating a few pigs and a bunch of chickens to the larders of the needy, and who ain't needy these days? Of course the pigs will be greased and the chickens will be started flying over the crowd from a nearby building but somebody will get them and if you don't connect with either a pig or a chicken you can at least have a free laugh at the other fellow's antics.

Noble W. E. Berdhard is chairman of the parade committee but modestly says that the credit, if any, should be given to Noble W. R. Creamer, who is going to be the parade marshal.

If you want to see the fun you must be along the line of march, which will be: Parade forms at Eighth and Travis at 4:30 p. m. Starts at Eighth and Travis; east on Eighth to Scott; south on Scott to Tenth; east on Tenth to Indiana; north on Indiana to Eighth; east on Eighth to Ohio; north on Ohio to Seventh; west on Seventh to Scott; south on Scott to Eighth; west on Eighth to Travis and disband.

BEST METHOD OF PRESERVING AND CANNING BERRIES

By ETHEL LUISE WEBB
County Home Demonstration Agent

Shall the berries be permitted to go to waste or will we save them? Berries are very acid and are therefore easily canned. They may be canned with or without sugar, and make an excellent preserve with either sugar or syrup.

Assort and wash the berries carefully, being careful not to break them. Wash and sterilize jars by placing them in a vessel of water and allow to boil for at least 10 minutes. Fill the jars with fresh berries, shaking them down gently so as to get the greatest number possible into the jars. Place the jars in a pan of hot water on the back of the stove for eight or 10 minutes to allow the berries to shrink, then add more berries to fill jars. Place a vessel of crushed berries over a fire and heat to boiling. Strain off the juice into a sauce pan and for every four cups of juice add one cup of sugar; bring to a boil and pour into the jar of heated berries. Fit the rubber in place and fasten the lid loosely and process pint jars six minutes and quart jars 12 minutes, counting the time after boiling begins. Seal jars and cool.

Directions for Preserving

Practically the same methods are to be followed in preserving and making jams of all berries. Berries should be gathered in shallow trays or baskets and not in deep vessels which will allow them to be bruised and crushed. They should be uniform, ripe and sound. Select only large, firm berries for preserving; those for jams may contain the smaller and broken ones. All berries should be carefully sorted and lightly washed by placing in a colander and pouring water over them, rather than by putting them into a pan of water.

To retain the best possible color and flavor, syrup for preserved berries should be made of a berry juice obtained by crushing, heating and straining the softer broken berries. Add one pint of sugar to each pint of berry juice and allow to boil 10 minutes. Weigh the choice, perfect berries after removing the caps or stems and allow one pound of sugar extra for each pound of whole berries. Add the extra sugar to the syrup, bring to a boil and skim. Remove from the fire and cool syrup before dropping the berries into it to prevent shriveling and toughening the fruit. Place over the fire and bring slowly to a boil and simmer until the berries are heated through, being very careful not to overcook; the berries should remain whole. Lift berries from the syrup and place carefully into shallow pans. Pour syrup over them and allow to stand over night. Pack cold, filling the jar with berries before pouring the syrup over them. Cap, process and seal. The preserves may be packed hot after removing from the fire, capped and processes immediately. The syrup in which berry preserves are packed should have a density of 50 degrees and will often need to be boiled down to this density after removing berries.

Jams are made of fruit not whole or firm enough for preserves. No attempt is made to retain the original shape of the fruit. To make berry jam use three-fourths as much sugar by weight as berries. Put the berries and sugar into a preserving kettle, place over a slow fire until enough juice has been drawn out of the berries to prevent the mixture from scorching. In stirring the jam use a wooden spoon, moving it across the center of the vessel, first one way and then the opposite and next around the pan. Cook until the jam thickens, when a little is held a moment in a cold spoon. Pack while hot in sterilized jars and seal. A very satisfactory product may be made by using less sugar, but of course, it will not be quite so sweet, and white corn syrup may be used to take the place of part of the sugar.

Wichita Falls Youths To Govern City With Strong Hand Thursday

Members of Hope chapter, Order of De Molay, will take over the reins of the city government from the office of mayor to those of police officers June 2. This has been an annual custom for the past several years and for one day each year De Molays run the city as a part of their citizenship training.

Motorists who remember past years will come to a full halt at every stop sign and observe all other driving regulations. Each time in the past that De Molays have donned police badges the city court docket the next day has been packed with traffic violation cases.

As a wise tip to drivers it might be mentioned that a carload of youths in civilian clothing parked within a block of some stop sign is a very good reason for observing the law. For De Molays work stop signs in plain clothes and they catch many an unwary motorist who gives only a casual glance to a group of high school boys chatting in a parked car.

Incidentally the De Molays have designated 17 officers for traffic duty and five for motorcycle work so there will be 22 "coppers" looking out for traffic violators. Also the seven detectives and the police officials will probably have their eyes open for speeders, and stop-runners, when not chasing burglars and other criminals.

It has been rumored from underworld circles that all members of the various yegg unions plan to take a vacation and spend next Thursday fishing at Lake Kemp for fear of running afoul of the police officers.

New Administration

Officials and employes of the new one-day administration have been announced as follows: City manager, Claris Corder; mayor, Wilmont Hunt; city clerk, Daryl Daniel; police chief, Jack Allen; fire chief, C. O. Simmons Jr.; desk sergeant, Dan White; city attorney, William Donnell; city judge, W. A. Bachman; detectives, Kenneth Waggoner, J. W. Collins, William Huper, Warren Griffin, Millicent Smith, Tom Cox and Ira Phelps; traffic officers, Sergeant Mack Taylor, Harry Ayers, Allen Clark, Jack Murchison, Charles Pearce, Carl Bailey, Eugene Garrett, Billy Mitchell, C. E. Parker, Dan Lundien, Harry Strief, Allen Robinson, Bob Souther, George Thorburn, Bob Williamson, George Allison and LeRoy Hair; motorcycle officers, Captain Rocky Robinson, Leo Voss, Campbell Lindsay, Raymond Costilow and Odell Ballew; and purchasing agent, Ira Phelps.

Motorcycles for the use of the mounted squad have been furnished by the Wichita Cycle company and gasoline by the American Refining Properties, Inc.

The officers and other city officials will be formally sworn in before taking over their various positions. The boys assigned to police duty will have regular commissions and will be fully authorized to make arrests and carry out their other work as minions of the law.

THE INCREASING PREVALENCE OF KIDNAPING

The crime of kidnaping is receiving the attention of the underworld to a marked extent just now, according to a writer in the June issue of the Forum magazine. Nobody knows just how prevalent it is, because of the cases in which the ransom is paid and the victim released without any report to the police.

A survey conducted by the New York Daily News revealed 285 reported cases within a year. A similar survey conducted by the St. Louis police department disclosed 279 cases in 501 American cities. According to the Forum writer, a member of Chicago's "secret six" estimates that there are 2,000 kidnapings annually in the United States. If we ignore the probability that many cases of kidnaping have not been reported to police, the cases actually reported are numerous enough to make it apparent that the crime is becoming too prevalent.

One reason for it, the Forum writer thinks, is that gangsters and bootleggers are turning to it. There is too much competition in bootlegging, and there is the possibility that prohibition will be repealed and bootlegging thus virtually eliminated. Kidnaping offers immense returns—a Chicago gambler had to pay $220,000—and the risk of detection is relatively slight. The Forum writer takes a gloomy view:

> The technique of the newer felony is already well established, and it is in operation on a syndicate basis throughout many states, They plan to use it on a national scale. There is no secret about it. They admit it. When liquor becomes legal, kidnaping will sweep this country like an epidemic.

The New York Daily News' survey showed nine kidnaping cases in Texas within the last year, with convictions resulting in six of the cases. Illinois seems to be a favorite field of operations for the kidnaper, this probably being due to the fact that its chief city, Chicago, is the crime capital of North America. In the four states of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Ohio there were 131 cases; in only 31 of these were convictions obtained.

It is a new and alarming manifestation of a crime system that is developing to a point where the question is whether the nation will destroy it or be destroyed by it.

TO PASS A REVENUE BILL

Those who thought the house made a mess of the revenue measure are beginning to realize, after watching the senate's erratic efforts, that they didn't know what a mess was. The house members ran around in circles. The senators are turning backward flips.

It would be simpler, and probably the results would be happier, if the revenue measure were prepared by lot. Put all of the proposals in a hat and let a blind-folded boy draw them out; let every third proposal be discarded, and the others adopted. That wouldn't be a very statesmanlike way of preparing a revenue measure, but we believe it would result in a more sensible measure than now seems likely to emerge at this session. In any event, it would save time that is needed for other problems.

THE STATE'S RIGHT TO REGULATE

One excerpt from the United States supreme court's decision in the Texas truck law case makes interesting reading. It seems to us to establish a very broad principle for the guidance of states in traffic regulation. In dealing with the question of discrimination in connection with the "nearest common carrier receiving point" provision, the court said:

> It is said that the exception was designed to favor transportation by railroad as against transportation by motor trucks. If this was the motive of the legislature, it does not follow that the classification as made in this case would be invalid. The state has a vital interest in the appropriate utilization of the railroads which serve its people as well as in the proper maintenance of its highways as safe and convenient facilities. The state provides its highways and pays for their upkeep. Its people make railroad transportation possible by the payment of transportation charges.
> It cannot be said that the state is powerless to protect its highways from being subjected to excessive burdens when other means of transportation are available. The use of highways for truck transportation has its manifest convenience, but we perceive no constitutional ground for denying to the state the right to foster a fair distribution of traffic to the end that all necessary facilities should be maintained and that the public should not be inconvenienced by inordinate uses of its highways for purposes of gain.

If we understand that correctly, it means that the state's powers in regard to regulation of truck transportation are virtually unlimited. Throughout the opinion there are expressions of similar purport. The decision seems to say that the legislature can go as far as the public interest requires it to go, and that the state has the right to protect the railroads from truck competition if it desires.

It does not follow, of course, that the legislature should avail itself of all of the authority that the decision seems to give it. We think the legislature has in fact already gone too far and that the present law is not in the public interest. The right to regulate must not be abused in behalf of any special interest. But it is gratifying to know that the means are at hand for fully safeguarding the public investment and the public convenience.

STRAWBERRIES

There are some pretty pictures of strawberries in today's paper. The irrigated valley is favorable to the production of this crop, and the size and flavor of the berries are all that an epicure could desire. This season local growers found a home market for practically all they could raise. The reports of the per acre returns on the crop have been so glowing that a much larger acreage may be expected next year.

It runs right up against the old problem, that of marketing. The question in the valley is not what can be produced, but what can be produced and sold profitably.

The strawberries produced this year are of too high a quality to have their market limited to the local demand. Before next season the way must be found to dispose of them on a much bigger scale. This can be made one of the most profitable crops for the valley if its market problem can be solved.

The strawberry picture we'd like to publish is one showing carlot shipments.

BORAH'S ATTITUDE

Senator Borah appears in no new role in announcing that he will not attend the Republican convention. He usually becomes coy and flirtatious at this stage of the proceedings in election years. Four years ago there were several signs that he planned to break with his party, but October found him campaigning actively for Mr. Hoover.

If he breaks with his party this year it will not be because he differs with it any more than he did in 1928 or 1924. It will be because he believes it is going to lose. For all his vaunted independence, he is very much of a band-wagon politician.

Disciplining Ourselves

President of University of Wisconsin and Former Editor of the Century Magazine

(Copyright McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

By GLENN FRANK

Yesterday I suggested that, among other things, we need the stabilizing and strengthening support of a religion that will forever remind us that we cannot afford to waste our vital energies, because these are days that demand men of disciplined powers dedicated to the revitalization and reconstruction of our national life.

This leads me to restate here part of a series of observations I once made upon the old Puritan at a time when the circumstances of our national life did not make the observations as pertinent as they are now.

It may come as something of a shock to this broadminded generation to suggest that the thing that made the old Puritan such a powerful personal and social force was his narrowness.

I do not mean the narrowness of his mind but the narrowness of his living.

The Puritan faced a stern struggle for survival in the New England he was carving out of the wilderness He knew that he could not afford to waste vital energies on profitless adventures. And so by the way in which he lived he cut a channel through which his energies should flow and, with their power thus channeled, turn the wheels of the New England enterprise.

I do not suggest that we adopt the dogmas and prejudices of the old Puritan, but I do suggest that we can study with profit and technique of living he brought to a difficult time, for we are facing the challenge of a difficult time.

The old Puritan held himself aloof from the moral degenerations that seemed to him to be sapping the strength of life at the same time that he was defying the political and ecclesiastical authority that seemed to him to be smothering the scantity of life.

He was thus at once a man of social defiance and self-discipline.

His notions of life and of morals may have been extreme. The poison of fanaticism at times diluted his significance.

He started out as the apostle of public liberty and personal discipline, but later destroyed public liberty by turning his personal disciplines into public prohibitions.

We do not have to make his mistakes, but we cannot afford to ignore the necessity of self-discipline he practiced.

ROUGHLY SPEAKING
by John Gould

The Explanation

At meetings of the Democrats,
They fight just like Kilkenny cats,
Why must they have such rows and spats?
Because, dear friends, they're Democrats.
They growl and rant and fume and fuss,
They argue, disagree and cuss,
They never are harmonious,
But peevish and cantankerous,
Why is it that they quarrel thus?
Why must they act like brawling brats?
Because, dear friends, they're Democrats.

The way that Tammany believes in Mayor Walker would be more affecting if there were more folks who believed in Tammany.

Finding Out

There was a piece in the paper not long ago about a college professor who proposed that engaged couples set aside a week, prior to getting married, for finding out various things about each other. He would call it "know your own mate week" and would have the young people look up such matters as the other's health, ancestry, education, earning ability, sense of humor, taste and temperament.

This question of obtaining premarital information is one which has long beguiled us. We have written about it in this colyum several times, and probably will tackle it again. Some day we may write a book about it. We are accumulating material for it right along, by dint of observation and experience.

There is one big trouble with it. The basic idea is good enough. Couples planning matrimony should know as much as possible about each other, in advance, but the trouble is they cannot possibly find out enough. They will learn more about each other in 30 days of married life than they could find out in years and years of preliminary investigation. No one has yet worked out a system whereby either party can discover by preliminary observation and inquiry the things that loom so large and significant after the preacher has done his stuff.

Another difficulty has to do with the state of mind of the parties in doing their investigating. They may discover shortcomings and faults, but they either do not realize the nature of them, or they fondly think that they can do a little reforming after getting married. They overlook things that oughtn't to be overlooked and they think they can eradicate habits that, as they presently learn, are too deeply rooted.

The Mistake

We recall, in that connection, the experience of a young friend of ours. While he did not undertake, prior to getting married, any such detailed investigation as the professor suggests, he did discover some things that displeased him. He thought it did not matter, that he would get used to them. The particular thing that riled him was the young lady's way of handling her tools while eating. She had a way of manipulating a fork or a spoon so that her stroke, as you might call it, was an outward and forward one. Instead of starting her fork on the far side of her plate and moving the victuals toward her mouth, she would start on the near side and maneuver the instrument forward and then swing it toward her mouth with a sort of reverse overhand movement.

The young man noticed this, and, as we said before, it riled him. But he persuaded himself that it didn't really matter, that if she wanted to eat in that way, it was her business and that he would soon get used to it. So he made no effort to do anything about it. It was his idea that the relation between the fork and the mouth should be substantially the same as that between the shovel and a wheelbarrow. That is to say that the load should be picked up with no lost motion and no fancy gestures. But he didn't feel that the matter was important enough to make an issue of.

When he had been married about four months, he suddenly realized that the wife's way of forking was getting on his nerves, that he didn't like to watch her eat and that the more he had to watch her eat the harder it was to get used to her system. She was, he knew, a good wife in most respects. She fed his bird dog without complaining about it and when a wife does that she either loves her husband very much or she is just naturally a rare sweet soul. She had, he was fully aware, many noble and adorable traits. But that business of the fork weighed on him until, eventually . . . but we shall not go into unhappy details; suffice it to say that the matrimonial craft went on the rocks, with virtually no salvage.

After It's Too Late

Whether anything would be gained by such an investigation as the professor favors is doubtful. The important thing is to realize that married life involves, among other things, eating two or three meals a day together, face to face, and that after two or three years things that seemed inconsequential begin to put a strain on one's love and forbearance.

We knew a girl once who got married and seemed to live happily with her husband for quite a while. But one morning at breakfast she suddenly dropped her toast, burst into agonized screams and ran from the room, weeping bitterly. It took some time for her husband to find out what was wrong. It was his Adam's apple. It happened that he had one which was large, knobby and more than ordinarily protuberant. It happened also that when he swallowed it jiggled, with a sort of shimmying effect.

She had noticed all this before they married and while it had troubled her, she didn't think anything much about it. It didn't occur to her that having to look at it every day, month in and month out, could possibly mar her happiness. She confided to a friend that with each passing day that Adam's apple had seemed to get larger and more jiggly. She kept silent about it, sharing her sorrow with no one, and never mentioning the matter to her husband. But one day something snapped inside of her, like a violin string. The matrimonial craft was wrecked upon the rock of that Adam's apple that she had at first ignored as unimportant.

The professor may be right. Perhaps it is wise to find out in advance all the things he suggests. But our idea is that it is futile. You have to live with 'em to really find out about 'em, and then it's too late.

Democratic and Republican members of the house are to have a baseball game. Just as if they hadn't made enough errors already.

PROBE LAUNCHED INTO TAX FRAUDS IN SHAWNEE, OKLA.

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 28. (UP)—Investigation of alleged building and loan tax frauds in Shawnee, in which several prominent attorneys may be involved, is being made, Atty. Gen. J. Berry King said today.

King was asked by Gov. W. H. Murray to start the investigation when the chief executive received a complaint from a Shawnee attorney. Governor Murray two days later sent his messenger to King's office asking return of the letter, the attorney general said.

"He did not authorize us to discontinue the investigation, however, and we have assumed that until we are directed by him to stop it, it is proper for us to continue," King said.

"Yesterday, we received a complaint from another source in Shawnee very similar to the one received by the governor. Upon its face, it suggests a companion case to the one recognized by the governor, which was not included in his original directions to us.

"We are withholding at this time any further statement as to what action will be taken," said the attorney general.

"It would not be proper for us to discuss rumors in which certain attorneys may be involved, at least not at this time. Neither would it be proper for this office to speculate upon the reasons actuating the governor in withdrawing the original letter submitted by him."

It was understood the state senate race in Pottowatomie county had a bearing on the complaints sent to the state house.

REPUTED OVERLORD OF RACKETLAND CHARGED WITH EVADING TAXES

NEW YORK, May 28. (US)—Failure to pay the government its share of the profits in his swanky club rendezvous may cost Larry Fay, ex-convict and reputed overlord of racketland, a maximum of eleven years in prison and $30,000 fines.

Fay is suffering from tax trouble, according to a complaint filed against him today by Chief Assistant United States Attorney Thomas Dewey, before United States Commissioner Francis A. O'Neill. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

The charge goes into great detail about the profits of the club rendezvous. It enumerates the $3 cover charge on week days and $4 on Saturdays, the charge of $1.25 a bottle for ginger ale and the $1.75 price tag on a sandwich.

WILL ROGERS

ON DIRIGIBLES, MOVIES CONVENTIONS AND SOME OTHER THINGS

(Copyright 1931, McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

By WILL ROGERS

Well, all I know is just what I read in the papers. Wasent that terrible out here in Cal, about the Akron landing? They had had all this tough time crossing the Country, storms and bad weather, then when the sailors at San Diego tryed to help 'em land there was enacted about the greatest bit of drama that we have read of in our time.

That bit of the sailor being drawn up there for over an hour and a half, now if there is a man living that has had an hour and a half of any more suspense that that, that was actual suspense, he must have been a cool headed customer to have thought of tying himself on like that. They figured they would have to go out to sea and drop him in the ocean. There was a nice little thing to look forward too.

"We will drop you in the ocean." Being a sailor it would just be his luck he couldent swim. But thats what I call real drama. You know its hard to tell about those big old suckers, as to whether they are a success or not. Course they do go places. Look at that one that went around the world. And this one had come all the way across our continent without gas, food, water, hot dogs, or a morning paper. Course it had been two or three days doing it, but at that it beat a train. But I will trust all that to our Army or Navy men to figure out. They know whether its practical or not. Remember there is 84 men on that thing. Thats a lot of men to carry across the Continent in one load.

I tell you any experiment that is being made in the air is not a waste of time or money. Our defense, offense, and all have got to come from the air. So these big dachunds are going to find some place in our national defense. You know thats a terrible job being in charge of that floating bladder. This guy Rosendahl has done a fine job of it. Course when you want to land you cant always find two hundred sailors in all parts of the Country. Some parts of the Country you have to fly around for several hours before you can see two hundred sailors. Lots of people living in this Country for all their lives never saw two hundred sailors. I dont much care to cruise the air if its going to take two hundred men to pull me down.

In an aeroplane it don't take anybody to pull you down. In fact most of the time you wish you had two hundred men to hold you up. I have seen times in a plane when I have wished there had been men underneath with a net. But let's get on to pleasanter subjects.

Marlene Dietrick our movie heroine, has come to terms and won't go back to Germany. Never had any idea going but neither has Greta, but its a good racket if it works and it has. They are still on my neck for not producing Greta at that Grand Hotel Opening. As they say in the Far East, "I lost face." If I can dig Greta up some of these days it may get me back my lost prestige, but she is a tough baby to get ahold of. Doug Fairbanks got back a couple of weeks ago from the Figi Islands, or some outlandish place that he had been. He took pictures of it. He said that down there you could live on 90 cents a week. That is about 10 cents more than here, or what some have to live on here. However you keep reading about things getting better, but most of the articles are written by folks that are doing well themselves. With the elections coming on you are going to be fed up with a lot of hooey about a lot of things. Naturally the Republicans are going to put their best "Side" forward. They are just trying now to figure out which side is their best.

Roosevelt is pretty well sweeping the Country for the Democrats but perhaps wont have enough to nominate on the first ballot. Smith combined with a few of the native sons would be able to block him. Then it would be just a wild guess as to who would be nominated. Mr. Hoover just goes right on wanting to stay in there. I had kept thinking that he would finally give up and say, "Well boys here she is. Take it whoever wants it. I have had enough."

But once a man is President he is just as hard to pry out of there as a Senator, or a town Constable, or any political office. He has done some pretty courageous things lately in a political way. If he will get up and cuss the Senate and Congress out a couple of more times, he is liable to wake up a hero for never was "Cussing Congress" as popular as it is now. And the rascals I guess are not to blame for it either. Of course they are not doing the best they can, but they are doing the best they know how.

Conventions will be on us now. They are like the locusts. They come every few years. Will meet you all there, at one or the other of 'em. It will be good Conventions this year for both sides will be in doubt. And the people dont care.

Snuffles and Adenoids

Adenoids are a common affection of children between the ages of 5 and 10 years. At least 10 per cent of these children are estimated to have enlarged adenoids. Adenoids are really an overgrowth of the adenoid tissue in the pharnyx. This is really lymphatic tissue similar to the tonsils. It is only when this tissue becomes enlarged that it may be considered dangerous to the child's health.

There is usually also an enlargement of other lymph glands and the tonsils. Adenoids may seriously affect the body growth, the metabolism, and facial expressions of a child. Almost all children having snuffles are really troubled with enlarged adenoids.

The most noticeable thing about adenoids is mouth breathing which sometimes causes a deformed chest, stupid facial expression, stunting of growth, and even deafness. Sleep is greatly disturbed, usually accompanied by loud snorting breathing and nightmares.

Catarrh Present

When adenoids are present, the child will generally be troubled with other disorders of a catarrhal nature, more especially bronchitis. Often children are accused of being stupid or cross when they are simply troubled with adenoids.

The teeth are sometimes greatly misshapen because the bony framework does not form properly. Pigeon breast, barrel chest, or funnel breast are three types of deformity frequently affecting the chest of the mouth breather who has adenoids.

There are two ways in which the body may be injured when these growths occur. Either from poisonous toxins caused by their infection, or from mechanical interference of the air passage from the nose.

Children with adenoids are often unable to blow the nose. The voice becomes hoarse and muffled and there is often a loss of the sense of smell.

When the adenoids become infected, the inflammation may spread to the inner ear and cause deafness. The skin usually is pale and anemic. The adenoids cause a disfiguration by broadening the root of the nose and causing the teeth of the upper jaw to stick out. And the roof of the mouth becomes narrow and highly arched. Often the teeth do not meet together properly.

Do Not Delay

The treatment for adenoids should not be delayed once the discovery is made, as they not only endanger the child's health but may lead to almost incurable malformations of the jaws, palate, nose and face. An examination for adenoids should be made whenever the child shows any symptoms, such as mouth breathing, deafness, stupid expression, disturbed sleep, muffled voice or frequent colds.

In most cases the large adenoids can be reduced to normal by short fruit fasts followed by a non-starchy diet, but, if the adenoid tissue has become greatly enlarged, it may be sometimes advisable to use surgical measures. However, before an anesthetic is considered, the thymus gland should also be examined, for, if it is too large, death may occur during an anesthetic. An enlarged thymus is frequently found with adenoids.

During the treatment with the fast and diet to bring about a cure, the child should be trained to breath through its nose rather than than its mouth and it is a good plan also to increase the breathing capacity by systematic exercise.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Orange Rind

Question—A. M. asks: "Please tell me if there is any food value to the white part of the rind of oranges."

Answer: The white part of the orange has no food value but it is of assistance in producing bulk for the bowles.

Goitre

Question—Mrs. J. H. writes: "I have been following a fasting and dieting regime to overcome my goitre. I have lost considerable weight, and during the fasting period the goitre became much smaller, but since I have started to eat it seems to be getting large again. I am worried about my loss in weight, and hesitate to fast again on account of that. What is your advice?"

Answer: You should not worry about losing weight as long as you are trying to overcome your trouble with goitre, and it will perhaps be necessary for you to take another short fast. Be sure to adhere strictly to the diet between the fasting periods. The goitre going down at first was due to the fasting regime. Its subsequent enlargement might have been caused by some dietetic indiscretion, uterine trouble or strain of the neck.

Lettuce

Question—K. J. writes: "When I eat a large amount of lettuce it makes me sleepy. Why is this so?"

Answer: Lettuce contains a certain hypnotic agent called "hyoscyamine," and when this vegetable is used in great quantities it does produce drowsiness to a certain degree which causes a slowing up of the digestive process. Those whose digestive powers are not strong should use lettuce in small quantities, as these ill effects are not at all pronounced if lettuce is used in only moderate amounts.

School Children Here Exceed U. S. Average in Gain

The average gain per child throughout the city in the elementary schools has exceeded the average gain as reported by the United States office of education, according to records compiled by Miss Pearl Rorabaugh, Red Cross nutritionist.

The office of education gives as a yearly average gain of children in grades one to six the following pounds: Grade one, three; grade two, three; grade three, four; grade four, four; grade five, six, and grade six, six pounds.

The records kept on the children in this city are for nine months and reveal the gains as follows: Grade one, three and a-half pounds per child; grade two, four pounds; grade three, four; grade four, four and four-fifths; grade five, six, and grade six, five and seven-tenths per child.

These figures are significant inasmuch as the health of the child is determined to a considerable extent by his yearly rate of gain, rather than so much by his actual weight in comparison with the average weight.

This does not mean that every child attending the public schools is "up to weight," nor does it mean that each individual child has made the best growth possible for him during the time that has passed. Periodic health examinations determine these most satisfactorily. But the fact that the average has been exceeded by the various grades, with the exception of one, in less than a year emphasis the point that the children of Wichita Falls have made a good record as far as growth is concerned.

Only a small portion of the Sherwood forest, scene of Robin Hood's ramblings, now stands. It is located near Rotterdam, England.

KNOX COUNTY TAX VALUATIONS CUT ALMOST MILLION

MUNDAY, Texas, May 28.—Tax valuations in Knox county were reduced almost a million dollars by the county commissioners in session at Benjamin this week, sitting as a board of equalization. The valuation of the taxable property of the county for the year 1931 was $7,294,486 and the valuations for the year 1932 following the meeting of the board is $6,379,180, a reduction in valuation of $915,305.

Bishop Manning Costs Cathedral $2,000,000 Estate

NEW YORK, May 28. (US)—Because Bishop William T. Manning is alive, the cathedral of St. John the Divine has lost nearly $2,000,000, according to a strange provision in the will of Miss Laura Shannon, wealthy spinster.

Miss Shannon had willed the bulk of her estate to the cathedral in 1924, when the Very Rev. Howard Chandler Robbins was its dean. A difference between Bishop Manning and Dean Robbins resulted in the resignation of the latter.

So Miss Shannon amended her will, directing that her estate go to St. Luke's hospital "if the Rt. Rev. William T. Manning, present bishop of the diocese of New York, shall survive me."

Dr. Robbins and his wife are made beneficiaries of a $350,000 trust fund under the terms of the will. They are to receive the interest as long as they live and on their death the principal is to go to St. Luke's.

PEGGY PIEDMONT Says

TUESDAY is the last day of May, and the last two weeks of the month have fairly bristled with parties, dances and numerous delightful affairs for the graduates. And the term "graduates" does not necessarily mean high school or Junior college graduates these days. No indeed, there are all kinds of graduates. Those from the ward schools, the junior high, and I don't know, maybe from some of the lower grades. Any way, graduates of various kinds have certainly been in the limelight these last days of May.

THE social activities have included all forms of entertainment, picture shows, bridge parties, fishing, swimming, breakfasts, banquets, dances, bridge parties and luncheons for teachers in the homes of the various students.

WITH the approach of June comes the closing recitals for the various kinds of fine art schools, the June brides, and the trek of vacationists to cooler climes and camps. Already directions for well known girls' camps are in the city, lining up the prospects for these outings, and those who are fortunate enough to go for these several weeks among the mountains, are already making enthusiastic preparations for the annual event.

THE coming week is filled with programs of various kinds. The Knickerbocker Fine Arts school is presenting a large number of children in musical, expression and dancing programs, featuring a carnival setting and round-up for one of the evenings, which will be sure to prove something novel and unique in an event of this kind; circle two of the First Methodist Woman's Missionary society is sponsoring a benefit program to be presented by pupils of Mrs. Harry Fuller at the Methodist educational building Thursday evening, under Mrs. Fuller's direction, which will certainly prove to be of more than ordinary interest; Miss Minnie Rae Sullivan is presenting her class of little children in a charming dance program at the Junior college auditorium Monday evening, and it is sure to draw a large crowd of parents and admiring friends; Miss Florence Sammons is closing her piano studio for the summer, with a recital at the Forum clubhouse Tuesday evening, when she will present some of Wichita Falls' younger artists in a well chosen program, and Tuesday afternoon Miss Marguerite Fisher will present her dramatic art pupils in a recital at her studio, when parents and friends will be entertained.

AS always, youth is served with the gayest of late springtime festivities. Brand new brides and brides-to-be have the center of the stage just now. Mr. and Mrs. James S. Maxwell Jr. have just returned from their wedding tour to South Texas and Mexico, and no sooner had they arrived that showers and luncheons began for the bride. Mrs. Maxwell was before her marriage Miss Elizabeth Love.

AND then, Harriet Bradley, first of the June brides-to-be, whose marriage to Henry Truly is announced to take place June 6, has been the honoree at numerous showers and delightfully informal parties now for two weeks, with many more scheduled on her social calendar.

MRS. D. A. BAKER, an attractive matron, who has lived in Wichita Falls for several years, and who has been unusually popular with a large circle of friends, has also shared honors now for more than two weeks, with others on the social stage. Mrs. Baker left Friday for Fort Worth to make her home, and parties given for her were included bridge luncheons, handkerchief showers and many other delightful forms of entertainment.

MRS. ALVIN HORWITZ, one of Wichita Falls' very best women book reviewers, and one whom every one loves to hear give an interpretation, because of her excellent understanding, ready flow of words and splendid delivery, recently gave Pearl Buck's "The Good Earth," before members and guests of the 1927 Study club. Like all preceding reviews given by Mrs. Horwitz, the one was declared to have been unusually instructive and entertaining. Anyway, what I started out to say was, that this same Pearl Buck, declared in a lecture given recently at Peiping, China, that China's women are ready for monogamy, but that men are not. This item was given in a column of "News of Interest to Women."

In this column it also says that: "The International Labor office of the League of Nations has voted to invite Mrs. Burnita Shelton Matthews, research chairman of the National Woman's party, to serve on its committee of women's work. The other American women already on this committee are Mary Anderson, head of the women's bureau; Mary Van Kleeck, Russell Sage foundation; Ethel Smith; Mary Dingman, industrial secretary of the world Y. W. C. A.; and Elizabeth Morissey, Catholic congress of industrial problems.

AND that: "The only known automobile mechanics school for women has opened in Queens, Long Island. Wealthy women come in smocks to learn how their cars work.

THAT: "Frances Williams, a musical comedy star, won a divorce from her pianist-husband because, among other things, she told the court: "He used to miss a beat on the piano just to throw me off my singing.'"

THAT: "When Mrs. Blanche Dacruz was taken into custody for drunkenness in Falmouth, Mass., last week, she was the first woman in 272 years ever to cross the threshold of the local police station as a prisoner."

AND that: "A Frenchwoman recently had her husband haled into court because he refused to utter a word of conversation at any meal time. The court decided a man had a right to eat in silent peace if he wanted to."

One who agrees with the court in the above decision and who is an advocate of peace at all times, is

A pretty week-end courtesy was a handkerchief shower honoring Mrs. Birdie Preslar at the home of Mrs. E. R. Lofton on Marshall, when Mesdames J. B. Nebb and T. W. Williams were joint hostesses. Mrs. Preslar is leaving Wichita Falls to make her home in Fort Worth.

Bridge and 42 were played during the evening and in the bridge games, Mrs. D. B. Sewell was winner of the high score trophy; low prize went to Mrs. W. P. Wiest. In the games of 42, Mrs. H. E. Bradley was winner of high score, and Mrs. J. A. Williams low score.

Dainty refreshments were served to the honoree, Mrs. Preslar, Mesdames R. F. Shields, Charles Mays, D. B. Sewell, T. G. Southworth, J. W. Roush, J. W. McCloud, L. E. MRS. LANE HOSTESS AT BRIDGE PARTY

Mrs. Fred Lane entertained with a delightful bridge party Thursday afternoon honoring Mrs. D. A. Baker who left Friday to make Fort Worth her home. A pink and green color scheme was effectively used in the beautiful decorations of cut flowers.

In the games Mrs. E. A. McCarty received the high score favor and Mrs. J. E. Duke, the cut. Mrs. Baker was also remembered with a pretty gift.

Alpha Story Telling Club Has Lovely Guest Day Program

Mesdames W. C. Duncan, Charles Crowell, J. N. Sherrill and Ted Harris were joint hostesses at Mrs. Duncan's home Friday afternoon to the Alpha Story Telling club in the annual guest day meeting, which is marked as the outstanding day of the season. An abundance of pastel shaded spring flowers made the home beautiful for the occasion.

Roll call was answered by members with favorite operas and Mrs. Charles Crowell, the leader, gave an interesting talk on drama and opera, telling of the origin of both and giving in vivid detail the story of "Faust."

Mrs. J. E. Montgomery talked charmingly of Chopin at home and on the stage and Mrs. Frank Creighton in her usual clever manner gave the story of Dr. Faust, using a group of beautiful musical selections to illustrate her talk. The numbers included, "Even the Bravest Heart," "Let Me Gaze on Thy Beauty," a waltz, "The Kermesse," and "Mephistopheles' Serenade."

DEMONSTRATION CLUB HAS SPLENDID TALK

Members of the Friberg Home Demonstration club met at the home of Mrs. Cleburn Crunk Thursday afternoon and heard an interesting address by Miss Lola Blair, extension nutritionist specialist from A. & M. college.

Miss Blair talked on suggestive farm or ranch food budgets for a family of five, and said that the foundation of meal-planning is milk, one leafy vegetable, one starchy vegetable, one other vegetable, two fruit dishes, two proteins, and as much sweets, fats and cereals as are needed.

Visitors present were Misses Ethel Luise Webb, Wichita county demonstration agent; Derryberry, Clay county agent, and Norfleet Grimes, Young county agent, Mrs. W. W. Cook of Wichita Falls and Mrs. J. W. Cauble of Archer City.

There were 20 members present.

Study Club Has Banquet Closing Work for Year

Thirty members and guests of the 1927 Study club enjoyed the elaborate banquet at the Forum clubhouse Friday with Mesdames Max Shain and Joe Max, hostesses. The long table was beautifully decorated for the occasion with spring flowers, with a large silver bowl filled with larkspur, poppies and verbena, forming the centerpiece. Sprays of honeysuckle were laid on the cloth.

The club colors of orchid and green were prettily emphasized in the place cards and decorations and in keeping with the club study of various nations of the world, globe pencil sharpeners were the favors.

Mrs. Joe Max was toastmistress, and welcomed the guests in a gracious manner, after which Mrs. Ben Newman of Olney, gave an interesting resume of the year's work. This was followed by a burlesque number entitled "Review of Reviews," which proved a clever take-off on Mrs. Alvin Horwitz's interpretation of Pearl Buck's "The Good Earth" given at the last meeting and guest day of the club.

Mrs. Louis Franklin gave some clever impersonations which proved extremely amusing, first, a circus clown, identifying each of the club member's name with that of a circus animal and afterwards impersonating a Chinese devil, dressed in a comical costume. Mrs. Franklin also gave piano numbers, "When It's Sleepy Time Down South," with improvisations.

Mesdames Sam Egger and Milton Katz gave a comical romance, in which Mrs. Egger took the part of the girl in love, and Mrs. Katz in the part of the doctor. They sang a parody on "Now Is the Time to Fall in Love," with Mrs. Franklin at the piano.

Mesdames Joe Emold, Max Shain and Joe Max pantomimed some scenes which proved especially interesting, depicting tennis playing and an engagement and wedding party, after which, with Mrs. Max Shain directing, Mesdames Joe Emold, Shain, Harry Leva, H. Sandler, Sam Egger and Milton Katz, dressed in absurd costumes, portrayed a mock comic wedding called "The Wedding of the Painted Doll," which climaxed one of the most entertaining programs ever to be enjoyed by the club.

The Story of Sue

by MARGERY HALE

Mrs. Webber Explains Her Bet

"The bet?" Natalie Webber smiled again, as she repeated the words. "Oh, Jimmy said that you would insist that he should stick by the boat and let the other woman go. That you wouldn't allow any one else in the general scheme and so forth. I said that you would hold out for fair play. Goodbye, my dear! I'm so glad that you side with me."

When she had gone Sue sat staring at the door. Then she stood up and opened it and banged it again. Hard.

"There! That's what I'd like to do to her. She isn't going to think that Jimmy is tied in Grace's back yard, and has come straying into hers. She is going to know that he is free to wander if he wants to. Grace's pride is at work. I'll have a party and Grace will show Jimmy a thing or two. Of course he's going to stick with her. He'll come through. No, maybe he won't. But if he doesn't then Grace may be hurt but she'll get better. Sometimes I don't think Jimmy ever really loved Grace. She was near . . . and he was lonesome. She sympathized. And you know the rest."

"Then you think that his heart is doing the real stuff for this Webber woman?" Ruth asked.

"No. It's infatuation. Jimmy didn't grow up soon enough. He doesn't know it. But maybe he will really fall in love with Grace now if she plays her cards right. Only I don't think Mrs. Webber is philandering. I wish she were!"

"I know," Ruth nodded. "I have a hunch that she means it, too. It will be hard on Grace."

The telephone rang softly. Just a whirr of a sound in the quiet room. Sue reached for it.

"Yes?" she asked. Then: "Oh, yes, Mr. Page. Tomorrow morning at the usual time?" There was a silence. "Oh, I see. Certainly. That will be fine."

Some more idle words. Then she hung up.

"Arnold Page is taking an office downtown for a few weeks. He says he can work better there. He won't be disturbed. He really means that his sister won't have a chance to snub me. But it won't be for long. Only . . . I shouldn't let him do that. I hate to be indebted to people. He said that the office was vacant any way, and that he owns the building. So I'm not really inconveniencing him much. He might have taken it any way."

"Of course." Ruth was watching the blend of firelight on the snow. "I couldn't find a job."

"But you will!"

"No, I won't. Not unless one falls out of the sky and manna stopped coming as regularly as the milk man long ago." She turned on the radio. Found a song that drifted on careless love across a mountain. Dialed on to another station. Found one that broke its heart with something that wasn't careless. Tried again. Then turned it off.

"Isn't there anything else in the world?" she asked. She was still wondering about it when she started across the street to meet Sally that night.

Sally was waiting in the shadow of a tree.

Next: Ruth receives the money.

HERE and THERE WITH DOROTHY

"Now where are you going on your vacation this summer?" was the question "Mrs. Jones" asked "Mrs. Smith." And my, what a conversation it started, for I just want you to read some of the things they said.

ARE YOU IN THE SAME BOAT?
I was wondering how I was going to make some of my last summer things do for this summer when some one told me to call 8177 for SHEPHERD'S and now I follow their slogan by letting SHEPHERD WATCH MY FROCKS. It is surprising what their cleaning service can save you at no sacrifice to your good appearance. Before you take your vacation, be sure and send your blankets to be cleaned and put in the moth-proof bags at SHEPHERD'S.

HERE IS ONE VACATION SEASON THAT I AM going to buy me a THERMOS JUG whether I travel to Kalamazoo or spend my time seeing what nature has given to this part of the country. They have them at TRULY'S PHARMACY for $1.49. And we're going to take more snap shots this summer because it is so convenient to get our films at TRULY'S. And while I'm shopping in there I'm going to look at their sun glasses priced from 25 cents to $2.50 and bathing caps priced from 10 cents to 49 cents. TRULY'S THE PLACE AT ELEVENTH AND GRACE.

I'M ALL FOR IT AND I KNOW YOU will be too when I tell you what goes a long way toward keeping up cheer in hot weather—that is a comfortable chair—and they have just what you want at FREEAR FURNITURE CO. Attractive STEAMER CHAIRS, with foot rests, enameled frame, green and orange striped duck, sturdily constructed, and at from $1.45 to $2.95—mighty unusual at these prices. And smiles come when one is lounged in a comfortable porch glider. They have those at FREEAR'S too. See FREEAR'S window display of porch furniture.

YOU WON'T CATCH ME COMPLAININ'
when I can go to WESTMORELAND SWIMMING POOL. Long expanse and shallow pools for the kiddies and inexpert swimmers; and fine deep, clear water and diving equipment for the experts will make your swim at WESTMORELAND thoroughly enjoyable.

IN ORDER TO MAKE A BIG SPLASH IN THE sea of fashion, get your bathing apparel out of P. B. M. CO.'s stock of Munsing Wear suits priced at $1.49 to $4.95. They have the one-piece standard suspender back that can't lose its shape because of the flat elastic in the skirt hem. They have one-piece bandeau styles and skirtless mesh styles in the popular colors. [illegible] has sizes for every one.

YES, WE ARE CAREFUL ABOUT THE WATER WE drink and that is the reason that NU-HEALTH is served at our house. It is the perfect water. With these warm days coming we will be drinking more than ever, and it is most important that we drink the water that protects our health, and the evidence is clear we have been like a new family since I have been calling THE NEW ICE CO. and asking them to deliver us a bottle of NU-HEALTH.

AND WHAT IS A BETTER WAY TO enjoy the vacation days than going to the cool STATE THEATER. This week, beginning today, EDMUND LOWE, CLAUDETTE COLBERT and STUART ERWIN are being featured in their latest picture, "THE MISLEADING LADY." If you are a modern amusement fan, likely you prefer screen fare of a high speed, concentrated and super-charged nature. "THE MISLEADING LADY" is it; all of it.

THE CHILDREN ALWAYS GUIDE US TO
WILSON'S FROZEN CUSTARD for they know we never argue about going there. It's a treat, for everybody—pure, delicious, and nourishing. It has a flavor we all like, so that is the reason FROZEN CUSTARD is our summer dessert. Call 2-5601 and order for your party desserts.

OH, OF COURSE WE WILL BE LEAVING town in our car for a trip, but before we leave I am going to see that the car is all set for a "trouble proof" holiday. That means a trip to J. W. "Dutch" Schmidt's Packard Service for a thorough once-over. When Schmidt's, at 1021 Lamar finishes the car I know it will be primed for one sweet vacation.

AIN'T NATURE GRAND? IT IS, BUT—there are times when "Sol" is careless where he throws his rays. But we can protect ourselves with awnings from THE WICHITA FALLS TENT AND AWNING CO. You should see their children's "WADING POOLS" of treated waterproof canvas in reds, greens, and yellows at $14.

"OUR FAMILY" WILL GO ON "LOTS" OF PICNICS which will be real outings for me because I am going to let JOLLY'S at 1403 TENTH fix our lunches. We all enjoy JOLLY'S delightful hamburgers and sandwiches. That container of their root beer will top the lunches.

NOW WHEREVER YOUR VACATION MAY be spent, I am hoping for the most enjoyable ever, and may I add here if you are rushed and want me to do a little shopping for you, just write me for I will be glad to do it for you. We will continue going on our vacation Thursday morning at 11 o'clock at KGKO. Turn the dial for a ticket.

Teachers Given Pretty Luncheon School Cafeteria

A beautifully appointed luncheon was given in the school cafeteria Thursday by the officers and sponsors of the Carrigan Parent-Teacher association complimenting the teachers of the school.

Bowls and vases filled with blue larkspur and black-eyed susans formed attractive centerpieces and gave the auditorium a festive appearance. The blue and gold, P.-T. A. colors, was further carried out in the nut cups and place cards of yellow with blue candlesticks holding blue candles tied with bows of yellow tulle.

J. T. Rundell gave the invocation and a charming reading, presented in a lovely manner, was given by Roberta Wolford.

Mrs. Paul Woodward, incoming first vice president, presented Mrs. G. Galmiche, retiring president, a P.-T. A. pin, expressing the appreciation and good will of the association to Mrs. Galmiche for her work of the past year. Mrs. Galmiche responded in a gracious manner, thanking her officers and sponsors, along with the teachers for their cooperation and help.

Miss Russell led the group in a singsong with Miss Wright at the piano.

J. T. Rundell, principal of Carrigan school, expressed his appreciation to the teachers of the school and members of the P.-T. A. for their loyal support and cooperation in a year of good work and fine accomplishment.

Mrs. Leon Cygon was in charge of arrangements for the luncheon with Mrs. J. B. Hathorn, of decorations. All officers and sponsors gave their help in making this gathering a happy one.

Not only friends and relatives of the young women are being invited to attend the recital, but the public generally. The organ is that which formerly was used in the old First Methodist church at Tenth and Lamar. Mrs. Akin has been organist for the First Methodist church for several years.

Bride-Elect Is Named Honoree At Lovely Event

Complimenting Miss Harriet Bradley, bride-elect of Henry Truly, whose marriage is announced to take place June 6, Miss Ruby Murrell and her mother, Mrs. E. P. Murrell were hostesses at a lovely shower given at their home Thursday evening.

Mrs. R. W. Haley presided at the bride's book where each guest registered and the house was beautifully decorated for the occasion, carrying out the bride-elect's chosen colors for her wedding, yellow and white.

A novel idea was noted in the various contests, which portrayed a voyage. The first was a tea at the home of Mrs. E. P. Murrell when Miss Daisy Slopansky received the gift which she presented to the honoree and the second was okeying the passport in which each guest was requested to draw her own picture. This was won by Mrs. Lucille B. Huff.

Miss Bradley was then told that the "love ship" had anchored and she was to lead the way to the harbor. The table represented the billowy ocean with blue satin waves, over which rode a tiny ship which was being boarded by a miniature bride and bridegroom and across the table was "The Sea of Matrimony," written in gold letters. Many lovely gifts were found beneath the waves after which each guest was requested to send telegrams using the letters in the word "Matrimony," this contest being won by the honoree.

Delightful musical numbers depicting an evening at the opera in Paris, included a violin solo by Miss Merrell Strong, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. A. H. Mahaffey; a vocal number, "At Dawning," sung by Mrs. R. W. Haley, with Mrs. Lucille B. Huff at the piano; a piano solo, "The Juba Dance," Mrs. A. H. Mahaffey; a vocal number, "I Love You Truly," Miss Katherine Sullivan, accompanied at the piano by Miss Ruby Murrell; piano selections by Miss Loraine Tucker.

After the program the guests were presented tickets to lead them to a French cafe where a dainty ice course was served and favors were lovely wax rosebuds. The honoree's favor was a miniature bride of wax rose petals and of the favors were made by Mrs. Murrell.

The guest list included Miss Harriet Bradley and her mother, Mrs. John W. Bradley, Mesdames Paul Woodward, O. Slopansky, Joe E. Butts, Lucille B. Huff, Dana Whorton, M. E. Anderson of Dallas, Eithel Allen Nelson, Robert Haley, A. H. Mahaffey and Misses Loraine Tucker, Katherine Sullivan, Merrell Strong, Daisy Slopansky.

ARCHER COUNTY POOL LEADS WITH NINE NEW LOCATIONS

Sites for 25 New Tests Staked Out During Week in Proven and Wildcat Sections of Wichita Falls District

By JIMMIE MAXWELL

Twenty-five locations staked out, several producers completed and an increase in the amount of drilling featured another week of extensive development of the various pools of the Wichita Falls district.

The most notable example of increased development consists of the many locations made in the Archer county pool. Nine of these sites were staked during the week, both wildcat and productive areas being favored by the operators.

Three miles north of deep production at Chalk Hill, the Bridwell Oil company No. 1 J. S. Bridwell in the Aldredge survey, abstract 2, is being watched with interest and is drilling at 2238 feet, feeling for the Chalk Hill pay horizon.

South of the pool proper one-half mile another test, the Falls Refining company No. 1 L. F. Wilson in block 119, A. T. N. C. L. survey, is also being watched closely. This test picked up the oil sand at 2200 feet but lost a joint of pipe and is engaged in a fishing job. Completion here will give the new 2200-foot pay a nice extension and the outcome is awaited with interest.

In the Holliday area Fain & McGaha corporation No. 2 E. R. Fain is completed and on the pump from the 1780-foot pay and rated at 250 barrels. The same interests are drilling two other tests on the acreage in this section. Three other locations have been made in the vicinity of this property and in the next few days this will be the most active spot in the county.

In the extreme southeast part of the county, bordering on the Jack county line White, Duncan, Tedford & Holt No. 1 L. Webb, in the northeast portion of I. & G. N. R. R. survey, block 1, abstract 239, is one of the best shallow completions made in the county for some time. The well topped the sand at 689 feet and drilled 13 feet. Friday a 24-hour test was made and the gauge showed 312 barrels.

Young County

Northeast of Graham seven miles the King Royalty company and Bob Windfohr No. 1 Lowe in block 15, section 3412, T. E. & L. survey, are trying to complete in the 3840-foot sand. The well's capacity as a producer is of an unknown quantity on account of the heavy gas flow which is causing delays in drilling out the cement plug. The flow, which is increasing daily, is estimated at 3,000,000 feet and the oil spray is showing about 25 barrels.

East of Graham two miles Dyer and others have completed their No. 1 J. Allen in the Lynch survey as a 275-barreler from the deep pay at 2336 feet.

The shallow pools of the county furnished a few small producers and the usual number of failures.

Development in Wichita county showed an increase of tests going down and three new locations were made. Jack, Cooke and Wilbarger pools, each showed one or more new sites staked out, and a gain in the drilling under way.

Pipe line runs for the week averaged 49,684 barrels per day, a gain of 222 barrels daily compared with the previous week's output which was 49,462 barrels.

DAILY ALLOWABLE IN OKLAHOMA CITY FIELD CUT 8,000

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 28. (UP)—The permitted daily flow of oil from the Oklahoma City field was cut 8,000 barrels today as Chairman Paul A. Walker of the corporation commission declared "the people stealing oil in this field should be sent to the penitentiary."

Walker's verbal explosion from the bench was followed by a written statement in which he flayed the commission as "a body clothed with power to act but impotent to function because of lack of diligence, courage or some other inexplainable reason or motive."

The statement was written into the commission's records as a severe castigation of the commission itself, in a concurring opinion by Walker to an order dismissing citations against Slick-Urschel, Inc.

The daily allowable flow for the Oklahoma City field for June, beginning at 7 a. m. Wednesday, was fixed at 97,336 barrels, compared with 105,000 barrels daily for May.

Oil men attributed the failure of purchasers to nominate a greater demand for Oklahoma City crude to two factors:

First, the influx of foreign crude and by-products on the eastern seaboard, which has resulted in a decision by all mid-continent refiners to decide on a cut in volume of refined products of 10 to 12 per cent, beginning June 1.

Second, the decrease in the use of gasoline in automobiles. Some of the oil men at the hearing made the statement that ordinary gasoline consumption per auto has dropped off more than 50 per cent.

At the close of the hearing, Walker said from the bench that "anybody lax in their duties in the matter of enforcing proration, whether officials or otherwise, should be prosecuted."

Concurring in the "not guilty" order on charges of overproduction and failure to report, against the Slick company, Walker said "there is a grave lack of enforcement of the conservation laws."

Mid-Continent Oil Activities

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 28. (UP)—A curtailment of 10 to 12 per cent in crude oil runs to stills is being inaugurated by refiners of this territory in an effort to stabilize the refinery situation through reduction of stocks and maintenance of a profitable price.

Auditor Refuses To Outfit Murray Cook and Butler

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 28. (UP)—The uniforms worn by Gov. William H. Murray's cook and butler held the attention of the statehouse today.

State Auditor Frank Carter turned down claims submitted his office by Governor Murray for money to outfit the servants.

The claims were for $45.16 and $44.90 spent to buy complete summer wardrobes for the governor's cook and butler. They were made out against the state prison fund and approved by Hugh Jones and Cash Cade of the board of affairs.

Carter said they were not a proper charge against the prison and should be made from the maintenance fund of the executive mansion.

Attached to the claims were letters signed William H. Murray, governor, "Reading as follows:

"Judge Hughes, let my butler, Cliff No. 15217 get these things and have it charged to the state prison: 3 shirts, 4 socks, 1 suit, 1 shoes, 2 underwear, 1 belt, 3 ties, 1 hat, 1 cap."

"Mr. Hughes, let my cook, Bob, No. 11913, get these things and charge to state prison."

Listed in this letter was a similar complete outfit.

The cook's outfit, purchased at an exclusive clothier here, cost: Suit, $23.50; shoes, $5.00; hat, $5.00; three ties, at $1 each, 2 socks at 35 cents each; 2 shirts at $1.50; one shirt, $1.95, and two suits underwear at $1.50.

TWO HILIGHTS REPLAY DRIVE OKLAHOMA OIL

One in Morgan Area While The Second Is in Lincoln Court

EXECUTIVES WANDER IN SEARCH FOR NEW OILS

Few Erect Tank Buildings Except in Cases Of Emergencies

TULSA, Okla., May 28.—Two outstanding spots in Oklahoma today in the replay drive are the Morris area of Okmulgee county, and the north Stroud sector of Lincoln county. In the first the new oil is found in the Turkey Mountain sand the last horizon in that area that is expected to entrap oil, and in the latter the oil is found in the Wilcox sand, the top of which contained only gas.

A survey shows large company executives wondering what they must do to find more oil for the future. The vexatious trouble over taxes, especially that accrue to the old practice of storing surplus production, is causing many oil firms to taboo tank building except for emergencies. The oil company prefers to find the oil, pinch or shut it in and leave the oil in nature's storehouse, rather than in the man made tanks on top of the ground and where tax collectors can gauge it and make yearly assessments on the oil and add to its cost before being used to supply man with his gasoline, lubricating oils and other products.

Third old gas well to be deepened in to the Wilcox sand for oil in the Lincoln and Creek county lines is Stanolind Oil and Gas company No. 1 Bowers, in the northeast corner of the southwest of 1-15-6e, and due south of the Pure Oil company's No. 1 Pinkston-Oglesby, in the southeast corner of the northwest of 1-15-6e, now being cleaned out to test at 3,648 to 3,703 feet.

The Stanolind well was originally drilled in the summer of 1924 by the old McMan Oil and Gas company and sold to the Stanolind two years ago, and it was completed for 25,000,000 feet of gas at 3612 to 3665 feet.

Gypsy Oil company is also busy killing a gasser to the southwest of the Pure's well, so it can go to the Wilcox.

Operators predict a lot of new drilling in the area.

Interest in Corporation

Oklahoma oil men are manifesting keen interest the way the Producers and Refiners corporation, Peters Petroleum corporation and Sinclair-Prairie Oil company No. 1, in the southeast of the northwest of the northeast of 24-24-7e, discovery well of a new Siliceous lime area, to the east of the Naval Reserve pool of Osage county, holds up.

Gaugers of Sinclair-Prairie Pipe Line company report it doing 27½ barrels an hour against 100 pounds back pressure into six storage tanks and thence away through a two-inch and a thre-inch pipe line. Although held to 660 barrels a day, the well is rated as good for better than 100 barrels an hour, actually making 190 an hour for several hours when first completed at 2730 to 2792 feet, the lime pay being in the last two feet of hole made.

The gusher is on a 160 acre tract purchased by Charles B. Peters at the Osage Indian lease sale held in the fall of 1929 for $5,200, and on which he assigned to the P. & R. a half interest to get it drilled.

Champlin Refining company of Enid, is to drill a test well in the northeast corner of the southeast of 24-24-7e, slightly more than half a mile from the new well, and it will force Indian Territory Illuminating Oil company to protect the northwest corner of the southwest of 19-24-8e, and Peters Petroleum corporation the southwest corner of the northwest of 19-24-8e.

Several quarter sections near the well are unsold and forecast increased wealth for the Osage Indians, through future oil lease sales.

Third Test Well

The third test well in the Sacred Heart extension of the St. Louis pool of the Pottawatomie county area, Greater Seminole field, to find oil and gas showings is the Pure Oil company and C. W. James No. 1 Tucker, in the southeast corner of 34-7-4e, and who had a small show of gas and oil when the cement plug was drilled at 3959 feet. This test, a direct west offset of the Carter Oil company and C. W. James No. 1 Monott, in the southwest corner of 35-7-4, and discovery well of the area, had the Hunton lime at 3950 feet, the Viola lime at 4135 feet and stopped drilling at 4155 feet.

Amerada Petroleum corporation No. 1 Mitchell, in the northeast corner of 3-6-4, and a south offset, has decided to pass up the Hunton lime which it had at 3950 to 4029 feet, after swabbing it for several days. The output from the lime pay steadily declined, being but 100 barrels the last nine hours. The operators are now running the six-inch pipe to bradenhead the Hunton lime, so it may also be produced with the oil that is expected from the Simpson sand, the main pay in the area.

The West Konawa pool some five miles to the south is waiting on the results of two test wells just getting near the first markers, but it will be early in June before the size of that area is made known by the drill. The discovery well of Gypsy Oil company and others No. 1 Community-Gray, in the northeast of the southwest of 25-6-4, continues shut in.

A test that might open a vast area near Stillwater, in Payne county, has just gotten started and field men are to watch it closely. It is Amerada Petroleum corporation and Stanolind Oil and Gas company No. 1-A Penny, in the southwest of the northwest of the southeast of 25-19-4e, and one-fourth of a mile due north of two Wilcox sand dry holes.

Wilcox Sand Produces

A small producer in the Wilcox sand for the Carr City extension area of Seminole county has been found by Amerada Petroleum corporation at No. 6 L. Tiger, in the center of the west half of the west half of the east half of 3-8-5, at 4183 to 4206 feet. On the swab it made 199 barrels the first 13 hours. Amerada has two other tests drilling further into the Wilcox in the area.

The fifth gas well in the Shaffer area, east of LaCrosse, in Rush county, western Kansas, has been completed by Deep Rock Oil corporation and Flynn & Morgan at No. 1 Buddle, in the center of the northeast of 16-18-16w in the Siliceous lime at 3468 to 3493 feet and shut in for connections.

The hot area in the Oklahoma City field today is 22-11-3w, in the southwest extension district. Phillips Petroleum company No. 1 Garver, in the southeast of the northeast of the northeast of 22-11-3w, a new well, flowed 210 barrels in four hours and 30 minutes from the Wilcox sand at 6482 to 6503 feet, and the hole bridged for a part of the time. The gas flow was estimated at 10,250,000 feet. Its No. 1 Carney, in the northwest of the northeast of 22-11-3w, made 410 barrels in five hours and 8,000,000 feet of gas from sand at 6508 to 6549 feet.

Indian Territory Illuminating Oil company No. 1 Goldie Lord, in the southeast of the northeast of the northeast of 35-11-3w, the most southerly Wilcox sand well, completed a week ago in sand at 6552 to 6620 feet, when opened up made 2683 barrels in eight hours and 8,000,000 feet of gas.

Anderson & Kerr No. 1 Peoples Pacing company, in the northwest corner of the southwest of 3-11-3w, at a total depth of 6435 feet, was ready to bail in Friday.

SOUTH DUNCAN GETS TWO NEW WELLS IN WEEK

Tests Nearly Ready to Determine Possible Extension South

TWO NEW LOCATIONS ARE STAKED OUT DURING WEEK

Pace Test East Comanche Finds Rich Sand at 1725-30 Foot Level

DUNCAN, Okla., May 28.—Oil development held its own in Stephens county last week. The south Duncan district got two new producers and two locations were staked out. Two tests just south of the active area were below 1450 feet, promising a showdown soon on efforts to extend the pay territory in that direction.

Interest also was centered on George Pace's No. 11 Watkins estate, in the SE SE NE SE of 21-2s-7w, a mile east of the town of Comanche, which has rich oil sand from 1725 to 1730 feet. Considering differences in elevation, the sand was found seven feet high and good production was promised. Casing was cemented for a test. Good production is expected to bring further activity northeast of present production, after a two-year effort to extend the area south and southeast met with meager success.

Pace was completing his No. 10-A Watkins, in the SE NE SE SE of 21-2s-7w, in sand from 1721 to 1734 feet, and the well was estimated good for 150 barrels. The same operator's No. 3 Dilley, in the NW SW NW SW of 22-2s-7w, is a derrick and shut down.

The Curtis Oil company completed its No. 3 Dare in the NE NE NW SE of 2-2s-8w, seven miles southwest of here, for an estimated 4,000,000 cubic feet of dry gas in sands from 1415 to 1440 feet.

Pace is rigging to pump his No. 4 Allen, in the SE SE NE of 3-2s-8w, estimated good for 15 barrels in sand topped at 1537 feet. Total depth is 1590 feet in shale. The same operator has moved in derrick and is rigging up for his No. 3 Pitts, in the NE NE SE of 3-2s-8w. He made location for his No. 9 J. P. Houston, in the NE SE SW of 2-2s-8w, south offset to a new producer.

Others Rigging Up

Parks and Palmer made location and are rigging up for the No. 1 Palmer, in the NW NE SE of 31-1s-8w, on the southwest edge of the old Empire district.

R. W. King and associates are rigging up for the No. 1 school land, in the NE NE NW of 36-1s-9w, in the same district.

Ed Chamberlain and associates had broken sand from 1474 to 1488 feet and solid sand from 1488 to 1490 feet in their No. 1 C. P. Parker, in the NE NE SE SE of 11-2s-8w, and were preparing to make a drill stem test. Production there would make a nice extension to the county's most active area.

T. W. Medlin and associates were coring at 1501 feet in the No. 1 C. Moore, in the NE NE NW of 11-2s-8w.

The English Drilling company's No. 1 Nigh, in the SE NE NE SW of 11-2s-8w, is a derrick and shut down.

P. L. Gilbert and associates cemented casing to test oil sand from 1433 to 1442 feet in the No. 2 Green, in the SE SW SE NE of 2-2s-8w.

The Meridian Oil company was drillin gbelow 600 feet in the No. 1 P. H. Peck, in the SW SW SW NW of 1-2s-8w.

The E. D. Gillett and associates' No. 1 Cooley, in the NW NW SE NW of 17-2s-8w, a wildcat three miles south of the Empire field, is still a location.

Pierce and Egger were drilling below 500 feet in the No. 1 J. P. Bartley, in the NE NE SE NE of 20-1s-8w, three miles south and five west of Duncan.

Shut Down for Water

J. C. Chambers and G. W. Haines are shut down for water at 960 feet in the No. 1 Dolen, in the SW NW NW or 15-1s-8w, four miles west and one and one-half south of Duncan.

Paul Robb and associates were drilling at 300 feet in the No. 1 Burton, in the NE SW NE of 31-1s-2w, in the sutheast extension of the Tatums field of Carter county.

Ratliff and Colvin were drilling at 323 feet in their No. 1 Ratliff, in the NW NE NW SW of 19-1s-2w, on the northeast edge of the Tatums field.

B. F. Lundy and associates have abandoned the No. 1 Morris-Luster, in the NE NW SW of 8-1s-2w, an old wildcat operation northeast of the Tatums field, as a failure at 3282 feet.

Wilson and Kinnett were drilling below 300 feet in the No. 1 Wilson, in the SW NW NW of 6-2s-9w, just east of production in the Walters field of Cotton county.

Trehan and Bradley were shut down at 1500 feet on the No. 1 Pruitt, in the NE SW SE of 8-1n-9w, a wildcat in eastern Comanche county and northwest of the Oil City field of Stephens county. Operators are clearing titles and expected to resume drilling soon.

The Carter Oil company was drilling at 3900 feet in its No. 1 Community-Carton, in the SE NE SE of 12-3n-8w, a wildcat seeking the Wilcox sand south of the old Chickasha gas field of Grady county.

The English Drilling company was drilling at 320 feet in the No. 1 Heenan and Cee, in the NE SE NE of 32-3n-7w, a scheduled 3500-foot wildcat in southern Grady county.

Joe Anderson was continuing bailing to test sand from 2503 to 2528 feet in his No. 2 Wild, in the NE SE SE of 28-3n-5w, in the Carter-Knox field of southern Grady county. No great amount of oil has been showing and whether or not the well would make a paying producer was in doubt.

George Schoonmaker has made a deal with Lesh and McCall, north Texas operators, to drill the No. 1 J. A. Slaton, in the NW NW NW 45-4n-7w, a wildcat east of Rush Springs, in Grady county. Surface casing has been cemented at 50 feet and the well shut down for several weeks.

U. S. EMPLOYMENT BUREAU HERE GIVES WORK TO OVER 275

More than 275 persons have been given temporary and permanent employment during the last two months through the services of the local federal emergency employment bureau, Harry Awker, manager, declared Saturday.

"Although a great deal of good has been done by the bureau in securing work, some of it for only a few hours and some of it permanent, the assistance of the general public is still greatly needed," Mr. Awker said. "We at the bureau want the help of every resident of Wichita Falls in advancing this work."

There is no charge by the bureau for securing employment, and any one may ask the bureau's assistance.

"An interesting bit of news has come to us in connection with one of the "block men," for whom the American Legion has been soliciting work in Wichita Falls the past six or eight weeks," Mr. Awker remarked.

"This man was not an ex-service man, but he was a worthy citizen of Wichita Falls, father of four children, and was badly in need of work. He was given a block in which there was several days a week of steady work. All went well for a couple or three weeks and he was happy not to have to go to the family relief for his week's supply of groceries.

"The man was subject to bad attacks of asthma and about the third week, he took sick and was so bad that he had to remain in bed for some two weeks. So anxious, however, were the family to hold the job that the wife took the oldest boy with her out to the block and did the yard work, weed cutting, etc., until the husband was better and able to do the work. The neighbors were kind enough to come in and look after the sick man while the wife and boy were out on the job. The citizens in the block were also kind and gave the wife some extra jobs in the homes, such as ironing, cleaning woodwork, etc."

'Charlie Chan's Chance' Coming To Gem Sunday

An intriguing romance between Alexander Kirkland and Marian Nixon is woven into the plot of "Charlie Chan's Chance," the Fox Films mystery drama, coming to the Gem Sunday and Monday.

Kirkland is the handsome six-foot blond who won the acclaim of critics for his performance in "Surrender," in which he enacted the role of the youngest son who gave up his sweetheart when he discovered she was in love with another man. Miss Nixon, petite, beautiful and charming, who has been playing star roles for some time, is well known on the screen as a leading woman, though it was not so long ago that she was playing ingenue roles.

In "Charlie Chan's Chance," Kirkland and Miss Nixon are among the suspects in a murder tangle but they are absolved from suspicion by Charlie Chan, the famed Oriental detective, who solves the mysterious crime and brings the real criminal to justice by following what Scotland Yard detectives regard as insignificant clues. But not until he has experienced a series of thrilling adventures and breathtaking escapes. Warner Oland, outstanding for his portrayal of Oriental characters, enacts the role of Charlie Chan, and other prominent personalities in the cast include H. B. Warner, Linda Watkins, James Kirkwood, Ralph Morgan and James Todd.

Complete Plans For Free Movies In City's Parks

Arrangements to resume free movie shows at Wichita Falls parks and playgrounds through the summer months have been complete, according to announcement Saturday of C. C. Bunnenberg, city park superintendent, and the first of the nightly performances is scheduled for Monday night on the Memorial auditorium lawn.

Shows will be given for the remainder of the week as follows: Tuesday night, Carrigan school; Wednesday night, Washington school; Thursday night, Sam Houston school; Friday night, Bowie school, and Saturday night, Scotland park.

Free motion picture entertainments have been a major activity of the recreation division of the park department for several years, but curtailment of the department's budget has made it necessary this year to lease the advertising concessions at the shows to provide funds, according to Mr. Bunnenberg, with Stanley Weidman as the lessee.

The park department hopes to be able to continue the shows nightly throughout the summer.

Majestic Offers 'State's Attorney' Gloria Swanson Coming on Tuesday State Plays 'The Misleading Lady'

The personal magnetism of John Barrymore is emphasized more than ever in "State's Attorney," now playing at the Majestic.

The actor plays the role of a court-room Don Juan who wins juries by his fiery eloquence and women by his debonair personality. Blond Helen Twelvetrees plays the feminine lead.

A story of clashing loves and ambitions, "State's Attorney" combines the conflicts of a romantic triangle with thrilling courtroom drama.

William (Stage) Boyd portrays the underworld chief and Jill Esmond plays the society girl. Mary Duncan has the part of the murderess. Others in the featured cast are Raoul Roulien, Oscar Apfel, Ralph Ince, C. Henry Gordon, Nat Pendleton, Frederick Burton and Leon Waycoff.

In addition you will see, "On the Loose," a comedy featuring Todd and Pitts; "Canine Champions," a Grantland Rice sportlight, and Majestic news events.

"Tonight or Never"

"Tonight or Never," the romantic comedy starring Gloria Swanson, which comes to the Majestic next Tuesday. "Tonight or Never" was the last production David Belasco made, the last hit of that long list of theatrical successes which had made him a proverb in the theater for 40 years.

The picture version of this play by Lili Hatvany which closed David Belasco's career was carefully handled throughout to rank in excellence with the Belasco production. The Belasco tradition of painstaking care down to the slightest production detail was maintained.

You will also see "Tobasco Kid," a Charlie Chase comedy; "Horse Cops," a Fables cartoon, and Paramount news in sound.

"Night Court"

The intensely dramatic story of an innocent girl who is "framed" and sent to prison on a morals charge because she has unwittingly come into possession of incriminating evidence against an unscrupulous judge is told in "Night Court," which starts next Friday at the Majestic.

The vivid background turns the spotlight on the maelstrom of graft and political corruption common to many so-called courts of justice and presents an illuminating insight into secrets of the "third degree," the ruthless activities of "stool pigeons," the double lives of highly respected judges and various inside aspects of court procedure.

The strong cast includes Phillips Holmes, Walter Huston, Anita Page, Lewis Stone, Mary Carlisle, John Miljan, Jean Hersholt, Tully Marshall and Noel Francis.

To add to your enjoyment you will see a comedy, cartoon and Majestic news events.

"THE MISLEADING LADY" AT STATE STARTING SUNDAY

A he-man duped into a proposal and scorn; an abducted beauty given retributive "taming" treatment by the jilted swain; a lunatic, mad and amusing by turns, and loose in a hunter's arsenal chosen by the lovers for a hide-away, should give State theater fans all the excitement, romance and laughs that could be desired. Such is the attraction opening at the State Sunday for a three-day engagement. "The Misleading Lady" is the name of the attraction which co-stars Edmund Lowe and Claudet Colbert. Stuart Erwin, George Meeker and Selena Royle make up the balance of the cast.

Miss Colbert plays Lowe for a dupe to make him propose in order to win a wager. He retaliates by kidnaping her and breaking her spirit with the aid of chains and an escaped lunatic. Before the final scene is allowed to disclose an alls-well-and-happy solution, a reporter, two drunks with a mystery they never quite spill, an avenging lover, and two other visitors from the asylum are involved in complications that transpire in a mountain rendezvous far from law and order, telegraph or the railway.

"The Greeks Had a Word for Them" featuring Ina Claire, Joan Blondell and Madge Evans comes to the State Wednesday. So misleading is the title of this attraction that it's author, Zoe Akins, who set New York to laughing last year with his antics of it's chorus girls on the loose, explains that the Greek word is "hetaera" meaning "foreign courtesan," and that the Greek "hetaera" and the modern "goldigger" are sisters under the skin. And the character portrayed by Ina Claire in the picture certainly proves it.

Joan Blondell and Madge Evans are the other two blonde sirens who assist Miss Claire in pursuing millionaires.

The one day attraction on Saturday will be "Whistling Dan," featuring Ken Maynard.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

Summer time is play time for the Camp Fire Girls. Now that school is over, at least for those who are not attending summer school, girls may complete projects toward rank, or do that bit of nature work they have been watning to "get at" all year.

To start the summer off, the Garden club of the Woman's Forum comes along with their interesting project of seed collecting, suggested to them by one of our own council members, Dr. F. R. Collard, who has had visions of Camp Fire Girls collecting seeds from the larkspur and poppies for over a year.

What fun the girls will have collecting the seed in accordance with the rules outlined in the special article to appear in the Record News on Monday. Get your cans or jars ready and begin to locate all the larkspur and poppy beds and get permission from the owner of these beds to collect the seeds as they ripen. Each group will be given an equal number of names of the Garden club members as prospects for sources of seed collecting. The project will begin on June 1 and close at 5 p. m. on June 15. Prizes will be awarded to groups only, so the success of the project depends on thorough organization of the group in order to cover every section of Wichita Falls.

Swimming Time

The date is set for the official opening of the Camp Fire swimming classes. On June 10 all Camp Fire Girls will meet at Havener park. The exact time will be announced next week. Mrs. Clifford Deaton will be in charge of the swimming classes. Girls will be tested and classified according to the standard swimming tests—beginners, pollywogs, frogs, fish, flying fish and dolphians. These tests may be passed as soon as the girls are ready for them.

Mankilo Group

Members of the Mankilo group are making a special effort to have every member ready to pass the wood gatherers rank at the next meeting of the committee of awards meeting to be held on Saturday, June 11. Five of the members completed their leather headbands last week, painting their pretty symbols in a border design. Next week the girls will work out their names by syllables, and plan for the seed collecting.

Tanokiwin Group

Members of the Tanokiwin group met at the Austin school and earned citizenship honor No. 605: "Recite the pledge of allegiance to the flag, and describe the rules for the proper display of the flag and the date of Flay day." The 16 points regarding the proper display of the flag were discussed and memorized by the members, as well as the "cautions" or "don'ts." Each girl was then tested and given credit for the honor.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday afternoon at the home of the guardian, Mrs. S. L. Conn, 1707 Tenth street, at 3 o'clock. Plans for an outdoor meal to be cooked over the campfire and for seed collecting will be made. Every member is urged to attend and get in on the plans for the summer. Mrs. C. F. Gregory, who will work with the group as assistant guardian, will attend the meeting.

Sam Houston District

Announcements were made at the Sam Houston school on Wednesday concerning the organization of a Camp Fire group for that district. After school Miss McIlheran, Mrs. H. D. Kuykendall and Mrs. J. A. McDonald met with the girls interested at the school. Plans were made for the first meeting of the group on Monday morning at 9:30 in the Grant Street Methodist church. The members will not be restricted to members of any church or school, but will be open to girls in the Sam Houston district. Mrs. McDonald will probably be the guardian of this group, with Mrs. Kuykendall as assistant.

Acancan Group

The Acacan group met at Reagan Junior High on Wednesday morning and made plans for the summer months, during the absence of their guardian, Miss Leska Howard, whose home is at Spanish Fort, Texas. The members plan to complete requirements for their first rank and to begin work toward the second rank during the summer.

The next meeting will be at the local headquarters at 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon. The group will probably go on a seed collecting trip in connection with the Camp Fire seed collecting contest sponsored by the Garden club of the Woman's Forum.

Miss Howard treated the girls to drug store refreshments" after the meeting and wished them a happy and profitable summer in Camp Fire. Mrs. A. F. Appleby, assistant guardian, will be in charge of the group during the absence of Miss Howard.

Adi-Iwah Group

Members of the Adi-Iwah group finished their poster showing the photograph of their room set up at Freear's in connection with the home beautification projects, to be submitted for the national contest sponsored by the Grand Rapids furniture exposition, which closes June 1. The poster was complete with samples of draperies, bedspread, upholstering, exact duplication of color scheme of walls and a reproduction of the rug on the floor, furnished by the Freear Furniture company. Whether or not the group gets any national recognition for their efforts, they have the satisfaction of fun in the project and a store of knowledge gained through the project. Mrs. Frank W. Michaux, guardian, remarked: "We could never have completed our project had it not been for the enthusiasm of Mr. Murchison and his eagerness to leave no stone unturned to help us."

Congratulations

Camp Fire is proud of its members who have earned special recognition in scholastic records this year. Margaret Davis has graduated from the Mary Immaculate academy as salutatorian. Florence Frazer graduated from junior college with the honor of being one of the nine on the honor roll. Florence has gone to Baylor at Belton to continue her studies this summer. Both Florence and Margaret are members of the Adi-Iwah group. Ruth Thomas was awarded her second scholarship letter at Reagan Junior High. There are others whose names have not been reported as yet to the local headquarters. We are proud of the achieveents of our girls and wish them all success.

Committee of Award

A meeting of the committee of awards will be held at local headquarters on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, June 11, with Mrs. Jack Ralston, new chairman of the committee, in charge.

Dr. Nail Honored By American Board Of Otolaryngology

Dr. J. B. Nail recently received notice of his certification by the American board of Otolaryngology. Such certificates are awarded only to those passing a most rigid examination by the American board of otolaryngology at the annual meetings of the American Medical association.

A certificate from the American board of otolaryngology admits one to several state and national honor societies, among them the Texas Ophthalmological and Otolaryngological society, and a fellowship in the American College of Surgeons. However, Dr. Nail received his fellowship in the American College of Surgoens several years ago.

While in New Orleans, Dr. Nail addressed the ear, nose and throat section of the American Medical association on "Exposures and Operative Procedures of the Lower Part of the Throat With a Lynch Laryngeal Spatula Attached to the Davis Mouth Speculum." This attachment is one of his own invention, which he has spent several years in perfecting.

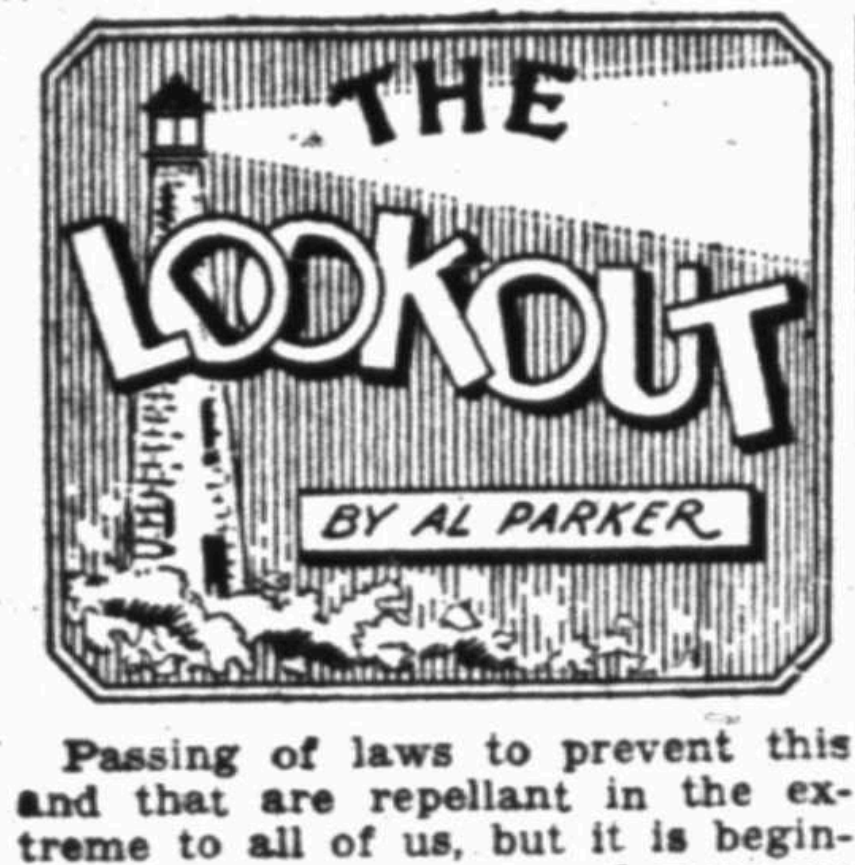
MORELAND FLASHES WONDERFUL GOLF TO KEEP TEXAS TITLE



Passing of laws to prevent this and that are repellant in the extreme to all of us, but it is beginning to appear more and more as though further legislation is going to be necessary to assure good fishing, or even passable fishing, in the three lakes of the Wichita valley. We have heard many suggestions, and among the more important are the changing of the open season, curtailment or elimination of the trotline in all three lakes, reducing the limits and prevention or limiting of motorboat trolling.

Probably the most important of these ideas is the change in the open season. Or at least, that is the opinion of D. C. Harper, superintendent of the state hatchery at Diversion lake. Raising fish happens to be Harper's profession, and he is in position to know more about the subject than anybody in these parts. He believes the closed season on the three laks should extend through May 20, even if necessary to close it a couple of weeks later in February. His experience with the bass and crappie in the hatchery ponds and with those of the big lakes leads him to believe that many fish are not through spawning until the middle of May, and that far more fish will be saved by closing the first half of May than the first half of February.

The trouble with trying to regulate the closed season to coincide with the bass spawning season is that the fish are temperamental enough to change their minds with the seasons, and the best spawning period this year may be the worst next. Bass spawn to some extent practically the entire year, though heretofore February, March and April have been considered the chief spawning months. After his experiences of the last few years at the hatchery Harper is ready to add May to the list.

The trotline question is becoming more important every season, and it is a good guess there are more hooks baited and set on trotlines right this minute than at any time since the lakes came into being. The ideal fishing situation is one in which sufficient fish would be available for all, and every man could do his fishing just as he saw fit, so long as explosives, poisons, nets and traps were not included. That would be far better than the adoption of more laws to dictate to the fisherman how he is to ply his sport. But if the fish of the big lakes continue to near depletion, it may become necessary to further regulate fishing methods.

Ordinarily trotline fishing has little effect on the game fish of any lake or stream, but when live bait is used many bass and crappie, as well as catcish and rougher fish, are taken. It doesn't seem entirely right to tell a fellow he can't catch a bass on a trotline, but he can on an artificial bait or a minnow dangled on the end of a cane pole. As a sporting proposition, there is no comparison in catching a bass on an artificial bait, or for that matter on live bait on a cane pole, and removing the same fish from a trotline. The trotline, nevertheless, is becoming more popular as the boys find it more difficult to catch bass by other means.

There are several ways in which legislation may eventually be passed to the detriment of the trotliner. He may be barred entirely from the lakes. He might be prevented from baiting with live bait. The number of hooks he can place in the water at one time might be limited. Each of the restrictions would seem fairer than banning this fisherman entirely, but on the other hand each would be extremely difficult to enforce. We'd like to see the trotline fisherman left alone, unless the fishing situation really is serious, but it's a safe bet his fishing is going to be among the first to suffer if the time for further restrictions arrives.

Motorboat trolling undoubtedly is the least sportive of all methods of artificial bait fishing. The toll it takes in bass early in the season is heavy. It amounts to little after the first week or 10 days, but the plugs that trail behind the popping outboards during those early days account for many a bass at Lake Kemp and Diversion lake. Lake Wichita has never suffered from this type of fishing. It is a kind of bass fishing in which the entire family may participate. It is a favorite of the angler who doesn't get a chance to visit the big lakes more than once or twice a season. For that reason, it is not to be desired that motorboat trolling is outlawed, but like trotlining, it will be one of the first to catch the brunt of any further legislation that might be found necessary.

It is to the active angler and the hunter who hunts that we must look for protection of fish and game. The fellow who doesn't fish is not to be counted upon for much activity in helping the cause of the bass. Neither is the non-hunter going to interest himself to any great extent in the preservation of quail, ducks or deer. The hunters and the fishermen are the ones who must and will do all the work that is done in the interests of game and fish. Every law that is passed that stills a sportsman's shotgun or flyrod removes part of the very life of game and fish conservation. That is the reason that closed seasons for a year or longer are splendid in theory, but actually are a detriment to the purpose for which they are intended.

A change in the fishing laws that is sure to come in time is the inclusion in the license payers of those who fish with natural bait. At present only the user of artificial bait is called upon to pay the annual license of $1.10. There is no good reason why a minnow fishermen should not have to pay just as the fellow who casts a fly or a plug or a spinner. And getting back to the trotliner, he stretches 200 baited hooks into the lake and pays no license while the fly addict might work like thunder from daylight to dark and can hope for only two or three bass, but he must pay the license.

Dallas Champion Beats Final Foe By 10-9 Figures

W. R. Long of Austin Subdued by Record Golf Of Defending Champ

By BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

TEXARKANA, Ark., May 28. (AP)—Playing with uncanny accuracy throughout his short-lived final match, Gus Moreland of Dallas Saturday defeated W. R. Long, 10 and 9, to win the Texas Golf association's state title for the second consecutive year.

Moreland's game was brilliant in all respects, but his putting was sensational. Time after time he dropped long putts to increase his lead over Long, whose game attempt to maintain the pace set by his opponent was in vain.

In all his competitive golf career Moreland probably never has been in better form than Saturday. His 35-34—69 for the morning round tied the course record set by Louis Nowlin of Dallas in a qualifying match.

Moreland reached the 18th tee needing an eagle three to tie the course record. Deliberate and confident, he cracked a beautiful tee shot, then followed with a spoon to the green. The ball stopped ten feet from the cup. Moreland sank it for his eagle.

It was this kind of competition Long met all the way. Unlike Moreland, his putts were inaccurate. Due more to poor shots on the green than anything else, Long was able to win but four holes out of the 27 played. He turned in an erratic 41-38—78 for his first 18 holes.

Moreland Leads Early

On the afternoon round he scored a 40. Moreland continued his sparkling play, mingling birdies frequently with his pars to wind up the match with a score three under par.

From the outset Long trailed. Moreland took the lead on the second hole with a birdie four. He won the next two holes to increase his lead three up. Long rallied to halve the next four holes, but Moreland increased his margin in the eighth with a four. Long shot a five. Moreland took a four to win the ninth, Long scoring a five. Spectators at this point realized that the champion was on the road to victory and that he was out to tie the course record.

Moreland lost the 10th hole by shooting into a bunker with his tee shot. His second found another bunker. He wound up with a five. Long bagged a four.

At the 12th Long took a birdie four to further reduce Moreland's lead. Moreland then settled down to win the next four holes. He halved the 17th and took the next with his eagle.

Morning round scores:

Par out	453 443 544—36
Moreland out ..	443 443 544—35
Long out	455 543 555—41
Par in	435 344 545—37—73
Moreland in ...	535 343 533—34—69
Long in	434 454 635—38—79

Refuses to Slacken

Starting his afternoon round eight up, Moreland did not slacken his pace. He halved the 19th with a five, then tightened up to win the next two holes. This made him 10 up.

He lost the 23rd when his tee shot landed in the rough and his second went over the green into a trap, giving him a five against Long's par four.

Moreland then lost the 25th to Long's par five. His third shot was bladed and almost rolled off the green. He required three putts for a six. This left him eight up.

He birdied the next two holes with threes to end the match, 10 and 9.

Afternoon cards:

Moreland out	543 454 633—37
Long out	555 444 544—40

Miss Orcutt Medalist In British Tourney

SAUNTON, Eng., May 28. (AP)—Moureen Orcutt, the blond American girl, added a fine 78 to a brilliant 73 of the first round to win the qualifying medal Saturday for the British women's golf championship.

Her total of 151 led the final 64 into the match play rounds which start Monday. In the field, tucked neatly away under the qualifying limit of 180 strokes, were all the members of the American team that defeated a British girls' team recently at Wentworth, with the sole exception of the non-playing captain, Marion Hollis, Santa Barbara, Calif.

Miss Hollins just missed the match play by a single stroke, with her score of 89-92—181. Mrs. Harley Higbie, Detroit, shaved the line, taking a 96 Saturday to bring her total to an even 180. She was tied with seven others for the last four qualifying places, which were awarded on the basis of the best last nine holes.

The remainder of the American team finished well within the limit. Virginia Van Wie, Chicago, had rounds of 77-81 for 158 and Mrs. Leona Cheney, Los Angeles, 78-81 for 159. Glenna Collet Vare, former national champion, finished with 80-88 for 168 and the present American titleholder, Helen Hicks, needed 88-86 for her total of 174. Mrs. O. S. Hill, Kansas City, matched Miss Hicks stroke for stroke with 88-86—174.

Miss Orcutt needed perfect conditions Saturday to stave off the bid of Enid Wilson, defending champion, for the medal. The English girl added a fine 75 Saturday to a 79 Friday for a 36-hole total of 154.

TULSA WOMAN SCORES DECISIVE VICTORY IN CHAMPIONSHIP FINAL

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., May 28. (AP)—Reeling off par after par with deadly consistency, Mrs. Walter Beyer, Tulsa, scored an eight and seven victory Saturday over another Oklahoma woman, Mrs. Tom Wallace, Sapulpa, in the 36-hole finals of the women's Trans-Mississippi golf tournament.

The victory added another title to that of Oklahoma champion held by Mrs. Beyer. She succeeds as Trans-Mississippi champion Mrs. Opal S. Hill, Kansas City, who is in England with the United States Women's golf team.

Although faced with consistent par golf by her opponent, Mrs. Wallace, who has held the Oklahoma championship three times, never gave up and fought gamely to the 29th hole where another par by Mrs. Beyer ended the match.

Five up at the beginning of the second 18 holes, Mrs. Beyer banged away at the middle of the fairways and many times was on the green under regulation figures.

Mrs. Beyer was only three over par for the entire distance, carding 130 for the 29 holes, or 11 strokes less than Mrs. Wallace.

HELEN WILLS MOODY AND MISS RYAN REGAIN TITLE

AUTEUIL, France, May 28. (AP)—After a lapse of a year, Helen Wills Moody and Elizabeth Ryan reestablished themselves Saturday on French courts as the best women's doubles team in the world.

In straight sets the American women defeated Mrs. Eileen Bennett Whittingstall and Betty Nuthall, defending champions, 6-1, 6-3, outclassing one of the best of all the women's doubles combinations.

Rene Lacoste, brilliant Frenchman, after three years of retirement, returned to the tournament play with an easy victory over Georges Krasny, young Czecho Slovakian player, in the first round of men's singles. The scores were 6-3, 6-1, 0-6, 6-0.

Sidney Wood, America's Wimbledon singles champion and seeded second in the French play, easily defeated Marcel Combemale in the first round of the singles, 6-4, 3-6, 6-2, 6-2.

Gregory Mangin, only other American in the men's singles, did not play. Unless the unexpected happens, he will meet Henri Cochet, successor to Lacoste as French ace, in the quarterfinals.

Mrs. Wills will play her first singles match Sunday against Marcelle Beauge.

NEGRO BETTERS RECORD TIME FOR 220 YARDS

CHICAGO, May 28. (AP)—Ralph Metcalfe, powerful negro sprinter from Marquette university, Saturday raced 220 yards in better than world record time as the hilltoppers overwhelmed Chicago, Illinois normal and Loyola of Chicago, in a quadrangle track and field meet.

The negro flyer sped over the conders at Stagg field in 20.4 seconds in the 220-yard dash, to better by two-tenths of a second the world record established in 1926 by Roland Locke of Nebraska.

TEXAS GOLF CHAMPION, NEPHEW OF WICHITAN, TO BE VISITOR HERE

Gus Moreland, who successfully defended his Texas amateur golf championship at Texarkana Saturday by defeating W. R. Long of Austin, 10 and 9, planned to visit Wichita Falls early this week. Moreland is a nephew of Mrs. M. Pois, 1109 Harrison street.

Mr. and Mrs. Pois Saturday were planning a fishing trip to Lake Kemp for the visitor.

Athletics Win, 8 to 2, for Eight Out of Nine From Ruddy Hose

BOSTON, May 28. (AP)—The Athletics combined seven hits with three Boston errors to defeat the Red Sox, 8-2 Saturday. It was the Mackmen's eighth win in nine starts against the Sox.

Simmons hit his seventh home run of the season off MacFayden while Foxx, for the first time in 11 games, went hitless. Score:

In a 36-hole match in which he led all the way, de Forest defeated Eric Fiddian, veteran English champion, 3 and 1.

General Higgins, head of the Salvation Army, is touring New Zealand.

Brace Homers by Ruth Not Enough To Stop Senators

Brown and Weaver Mow Down McCarthy's Big Guns in Pinches

WASHINGTON, May 28. (AP)—The Washington Senators chopped the first place lead of the New York Yankees to two games Saturday by smashing through Joe McCarthy's wallopers, 5-1 and 13-5.

Two home runs by Babe Ruth, one in each game, and four hits in the same number of tries for Lou Gehrig in the second game were not enough.

The rough spot Washington has been for Yankee hurling all season was no smoother Saturday. Neither Johnny Allen nor George Pipgras saw the ninth inning, while Lefty Lloyd Brown and Monte Weaver were mowing McCarthy's sluggers down when hits meant runs. Scores, first game:

'Better Fishing' Meeting Scheduled Tuesday

Anglers of Northwest Texas Urged to Attend

Consideration of ways and means to improve fishing in the three big lakes of the Wichita valley, Lake Wichita, Diversion lake and Lake Kemp, is the magnet expected to attract several hundred sportsmen in general, anglers in particular, to an emergency meeting set for 8 o'clock Tuesday night at the courthouse.

From the many thousand fishermen who enjoy their sport on the three lakes, it is expected that at least several hundred will turn out Tuesday night to assist in a plan of a campaign which it is hoped will bring eventual improvement in the fishing offered on each of the three lakes.

Sportsmen of this section have learned from actual experience that the population of game fish in the lakes has been on a steady decline for several years, and the consensus is that immediate action is necessary to keep the angling sport at its present high standard.

Rearing ponds, with an aggregate capacity of 75,000 bass and crappie have been in operation for several years at Lake Kemp and Lake Wichita, and the state's ponds at Diversion lake have contributed to the stocking of this lake, but this activity has been proven insufficient to keep pace with the thousands of fish taken from the lake by anglers and lost through other causes.

Means of providing additional stocking facilities is one of the angles of the situation that will be considered Tuesday night. The feasibility of further legislative restrictions is likely to be discussed. At any rate, those sponsoring the move hope to have the situation thoroughly aired from all angles in order that an aggressive campaign of improvement may be launched as early as possible.

The meeting is sponsored by Wichita Falls chapter No. 100, Izaak Walton League of America, according to President Ben G. Oneal, but it is not restricted to Walton leaguers or any other sportsmen's group. Every person interested in fishing in Northwest Texas is urged to attend.

Leaders in City League Play Pair Of Worthy Rivals

Second Division Nines Show Improvement as Half Nears Finish

Standing

Teams—	G.	W.	L.	Pct.
Star Transfer Co.	7	5	2	.714
Red & White Stores	7	5	2	.714
Thomason's Service	7	3	4	.429
Meyers Grocery	7	1	6	.143

Facing three more games in the first half race, Star Transfer company and Red & White Stores, pace setters in the City league pennant chase, tangle with the second division rivals in Sunday afternoon's double-header at Katy park. Red & White Stores and Thomason's Super-Service, the latter having replaced Sullivan grocery, are scheduled in the opener, starting at 2 o'clock.

In effecting the transfer of the sponsorship of the former Sullivan team, Red & White loses the services of one of its best men. By special league ruling Outfielder Mike Smith, a member of the Thomason firm, has been permitted to sign with the Thomason team and to become an active player this week.

Franklin vs. McDuffy

Manager Tom Courtney is expected to send his ace right-hander, Steve Franklin, to the mound Sunday in an effort to start out the team on the right foot under its new name. Franklin has been slow in getting under way this season, but his well pitched victory of last Sunday indicates the Thomason nine is going to get more effective pitching from him for the rest of the way.

Skipper Johnny O'Neal of the Red & Whites has O'Dell McDuffy and Cecil Allison to pick from, and it is uncertain which of the pair will get the call.

Star Transfer company and Meyers grocery are scheduled in the second game, with the former attempting to keep pace with Red & Whites at the top of the standings. Star's one-man pitching staff, Lefty Robertson, is a sure starter for Manager Storbeck's entry, with Red Nichols or Henry Hatton due for the grocerymen.

Meyers Strengthens

The Meyers team, having taken on such well known performers as Heinie Buss, Wesley Thompson and Nichols, probably is the most improved in the league since the start, and the transfer outfit is not likely to find this team an easy foe.

Meyers grocery scored its first victory of the season last Sunday in toppling Red & Whites, and at the same time Star Transfer was being humbled by Sullivan Grocery company. The sudden improvement in the second division teams has brought new interest to the City league race, and fans are promised a brace of interesting battles Sunday afternoon.

Paul Waner Leaps Into First Place National Circuit

Foxx Refuses to Slow Down From Sensational Swatting Pace

NEW YORK, May 28. (AP)—The National league developed a new batting leader last week, while Jimmie Foxx of the Philadelphia Athletics continued to set a killing pace for the American league sluggers.

Paul Waner of Pittsburgh lifted his mark to .406 Friday after steady improvement through the week and held first place in the National by a wide margin of 16 points over Chick Hafey of Cincinnati, former leader.

Foxx Saturday had the highest average of any regular in the majors, .446. Tony Lazzeri of New York, with .409 held second place in the American.

Foxx also led the majors in home runs, hits and runs batted in and was first in soring in his own league. He was credited with 15 homers in his 58 hits, had scored 38 times and had driven home 58 tallies.

Klein Boosts Average

Chuck Klein of the Phillies was the only slugger whose record could compare with Foxx's. He had 46 runs and seven triples to lead both leagues in those two departments, had stolen seven bases, finishing second by one to Frank Frisch of the Cardinals, but tying the American league leaders, Chapman of New York and Blue of Chicago, and was tied for second his league with 38 runs batted in and 10 home runs.

Other leading performers were: Hits—Hurst and Whitney, Phillies, 57. Doubles—Paul Waner, Pirates, 24; Red Worthington, Braves, and Blue, White Sox, and Campbell, Browns, 12. Triples—Herman, Reds, and Myer, Senators, 6. Home runs—Ruth, Yankees, and Collins, Cardinals, 11. Runs batted in—Hurst, Phillies, 41.

Few .350 Hitters

Outside of the two leaders in each league, few batters had averages far above .350. To complete first 10 regulars in the American league there were Dickey, Yankees, .358; Levey, Browns, and Cochrane, Athletics, .339; Reynolds, Senators, .331; Burns, Browns, .325; Combs, Yankees, .323; Jolley, Red Sox, .320; and Goslin, Browns, .310.

The National leaguers were Hurst, Phillies, .361; Whitney, Phillies, .352; Critz, Giants, .349; Collins, Cardinals, .347; Stephenson, Cubs, .346; Ott, Giants, .341; Klein, Phillies, .337; and Terry, Giants, .333.

Of the regular pitchers, only Huck Betts of the Boston Braves had a record clear of defeats. He was credited with five straight victories. Two New York hurlers, Vernon Gomez and George Pipgras, had the best American league records. Gomez had won seven games and Pipgras five, each taking one defeat.

BAYLOR COUNTY RABBIT DRIVE SLATED SUNDAY

SEYMOUR, Texas, May 28.—A rabbit and coyote drive is planned for the Olsen community Monday of this week. That day being a holiday it is expected that 1,000 gunners will enjoy the sport a coyote drive offers. These drives are being held over the county in an effort to destroy the destructive pests.

Medwick Leads Loop Many Departments

The busy bat of Joe Medwick, the brilliant young outfielder of the Houston Buffs, kept up a steady fire on Texas league pitchers through the first one-fourth of the pennant race. Official averages through games of May 20 show Medwick the leader in many offensive phases, and few leaderships remain for the other players of the league.

Medwick's average of .409 topped the playing through regulars by a wide margin. He led in runs, 41; hits, 56; total bases, 117; two-base hits, 18; home runs, 11, and runs batted in, 36.

Zaepfel of San Antonio topped the list in triples, with 8; Fox of Beaumont in stolen bases, 9; Harper of Tyler, bases on balls, 28; Green, Longview, strikeouts, 31, and Garms, Longview, caught stealing, 9.

The following averages includes all pitchers participating in all or parts of five games, and others players in 10 in first quarter of season, April 13-May 20, inclusive:

Possession of Less Than Quart of Whisky Not Grounds for Conviction In Oklahoma Higher Court Decides

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 28. (UP)—Possession of less than a quart of whiskey, unsupported by other competent evidence does not warrant a conviction for possession of liquor, the criminal court of appeals ruled today in reversing the conviction of Tom Wright, in Caddo county court.

Wright had been sentenced to 30 days in jail and fined $500 when officers found less than a quart of whiskey in his possession.

The court said this amount of liquor was not prima facie evidence under the statutes and unless supported by other competent evidence a conviction was not warranted.

Other decisions of the court:

Harry Price, Delaware county, larceny of livestock, five years sentence, affirmed.

J. W. Cook, Custer county, assault, sentenced to 30 days in jail and fined $100; fine affirmed and sentence remitted.

Wale Anderson, Alfalfa county, larceny of cattle, two year sentence affirmed.

Wilson Chambers, McIntosh county, sentenced to 15 years for the rape of his 13-year-old step sister, affirmed.

Willie Roberts, McIntosh county, possession of liquor, reversed.

Leroy Roberts, McIntosh county, possession of liquor, 30 day jail sentence and $50 fine, affirmed.

Ed Owens, and Tom Pope, Jackson county, convicted of presenting and dissuading subpoenaed witnesses from attending court, affirmed. Owens was fined $200 and Pope sentenced to a year in the penitentiary.

The court refused habeas corpus application of M. W. Newman, and Roy Stapp, held in Johnston county jail, charged with murder, but allowed them bail in the sum of $20,000 each.

TWO BAYLOR COUNTY FARMERS EXPERIMENT WITH ALFALFA CROP

SEYMOUR, Texas, May 28.—Two Baylor county farms are experimenting on a new crop for this part of the state—in the form of alfalfa. R. F. Sumbera and J. J. Sumbera had faith enough in March, 1931, to sow two experimental acres, which yielded only 15 pounds per acre from what was formally cotton land.

This week the Sumbera brothers cut 118 bales, averaging 65 pounds to the bale, for a total of 7,670 pounds in the two acres. Alfalfa is quoted at $15 per ton in Wichita Falls. At this rate the Baylor county farmers have $57.45, their expense was a total of only $8.10, leaving a net of $49.35 on the two acres.

U. S. DAVIS CUP TEAM CRUSHES AUSTRALIAN RIVALS THREE IN ROW

PHILADELPHIA, May 28. (AP)—America's young tennis gentlemen Saturday completed a crushing triumph over Australia's Davis cup team and virtually assured this country's participation in the interzone finals next month at Paris, probably against England.

When Wilmer Allison and Johnny Van Ryn, stellar doubles team, overwhelmed the Australian's top pair, Jack Crawford and Harry Hopman, by scores of 6-0, 6-4, 5-7, 7-5, they rounded out a clean sweep over the vaunted players from "down under" in the three matches played Friday and Saturday.

The two remaining singles matches Monday will be little more than exhibitions, merely affording the invcaders an opportunity to avert a complete blanking. On the strength of their play the last two days, it was exceedingly doubtful the "Aussies" would do even that.

Ellsworth Vines, this country's youthful champion, prepared the Australian's for the finishing wallop in doubles by completing a singles conquest of Crawford. The final score was 6-2, 6-4, 2-6, 6-4.

As usual, Van Ryn and Allison looked like the world's greatest doubles pair as they scored their triumph. Their stroking and all around workmanship approached perfection, and it was only in the third set that Crawford and Hopman were able to prevail in the pinches.

Pairings for the concluding singles matches Monday will send Shields against Crawford and Vines against Hopman.

MEMPHIS ATHLETE WINS HORNED FROG LETTER

MEMPHIS, Texas, May 28.—Hubert Dennis, former Memphis High school athlete, was one of the 11 men to receive letters in baseball at Texas Christian university by recent action of the athletic council. Dennis is a junior and has one more year of collegiate competition.

Dennis will better be remembered as the "Memphis Menace" of Coach Francis Schmidt's grid machine the last two years. He played halfback his first year and is being groomed for fullback next year.

HUNGARY FOURTH NATION TO MAKE PROVISION FOR PAYING U. S. WAR DEBT

WASHINGTON, May 28. (US)—Hungary today became the fourth nation to make definite provision toward paying that portion of its war debt which was suspended under the moratorium.

Calling on Secretary of the Treasury Mills, Minister Czechenyi signed an agreement whereby $69,000, the amount involved will be amortized over a 10-year period as provided in the moratorium act.

Germany, Finland, and Greece have already signed similar agreements, and Great Britain has instructed her ambassador to sign. Germany's agreement covers obligations in connection with the army of occupation.

Romance of Massachusetts Society Girl and Texas Cowboy Ends in Jail After Long Ride on Freight Train

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 28. (INS)—The run-away romance of a Massachusetts society girl and of a penniless Texas cowpuncher, begun at Fort Stockton, Texas, May 23, ended in jail here today.

Covered with soot and grime and still wearing a swanky riding habit, Miss Florida Bourbeau, 20, and Harry Elliott, 23, a Texas "waddy" with a ten-gallon hat, were taken from a freight train here today by C. L. Moran and L. G. Gibson, Pennsylvania railroad detectives.

The girl, reported to be a graduate of an exclusive girls' school at Montreal, was said to be the daughter of A. P. Bourbeau, wealthy paint manufacturer of Turner Falls, Mass. Police also found the name of Mrs. Harry Brazeau, Brandford, Conn., on papers in the girl's possession.

When questioned by police the young woman, who is unusually pretty, said she had been sent to Baker's ranch at Fort Stockton, Texas, by her family for her health. She claimed she had recovered fully and that she had "fallen" for the cowboy's "line."

"It was great fun, anyway," she said. "Even if I am covered with the grime of every state in the union. I suppose now I'll have to put up with my family's unroar when they learn about this."

Judge William Sheaffer fined Elliot $1 and costs, suspended the sentence and ordered him to leave town. The court ordered the girl held until her family sent for her.

Family Amazed

TURNER FALLS, Mass., May 28. (INS)—Relatives of Miss Florida Bourbeau were amazed this afternoon when they learned of her runaway romance with a Texas cowboy.

A. P. Bourbeau, 65, a well-to-do retired house paint manufacturer, said that his daughter went to Texas for her health two months ago. She was expected home on Sunday.

Florida is a graduate of the French school here and studied for a few months in Montreal.

"My goodness, isn't that news," said Mrs. Edward W. Bourbeau, the girl's sister-in-law. "My husband, Florida's brother, has been looking after her since the death of her mother. We will take steps at once to see what can be done."

Edward is the owner and proprietor of a cigar shop and pool room here. Florida is 23 years old, her relatives said.

Mrs. Harry Brazeau of Brandford, Conn., is a cousin.

'Cities Grow Where Air Lines Go' by Robert McMinn Winning Slogan to Be Featured During Aviation Week Here

"Cities grow where airlines go." That will be the official slogan of "Aviation Week" in Wichita Falls, May 29 to June 5.

The search for a suitable slogan to boost "Aviation Week" was begun one week ago Saturday when a slogan contest was announced by the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce aviation committee, sponsor of the week that is to make residents of the Wichita Falls territory more "air-minded." Retail merchants of the city cooperated in furthering the contest, for which there were more than 1,000 entries.

The prize winning slogan, written by Robert McMinn, 2107 Princeton, will be used throughout the week in local advertisements and by merchants who will decorate show windows in keeping with "Aviation Week."

Second place was won by Mrs. Bentley Nelson of 3002 Tenth with "For mail or travel anywhere; quickly, safely use the air."

"Let's use that air service" won third prize for C. L. Hammond of the Lone Star Tool company. First prize is a round-trip to Oklahoma City as guest of the Reed Air Lines with all expenses paid in an overnight stay at the Huckins hotel. Second prize is a round-trip to Dallas by the American Airways, and third prize is a mile-high trip over Wichita Falls by Fulcher Armstrong, manager of the Municipal airport.

Members of the committee that selected Mr. McMinn's slogan were C. E. McCutchen, chairman of the chamber's aviation committee; Gus Hecht, chairman of the junior chamber's aviation committee; Joe Reed, donor of first prize; C. R. Smith, donor of second prize; Mr. Armstrong, donor of third prize; and Postmaster O. P. Maricle.

First Plane in 1910

The first plane to ever land in Wichita Falls came here in 1910, landing in the Huff pasture on what is now Keeler street. From then on until the war, when Call field was a United States training camp, the only airplanes to come here were in air circuses.

Wichita Falls' first airport was Staley field, operated by J. I. Staley and Fulcher Armstrong. It was formally opened in November, 1927. In 1928 they operated an air line between Wichita Falls, Dallas and San Angelo. During that year L. P. Hammond started an air school and service, similar to the school and transportation service offered at Staley field. The Universal air line came here late in 1928 and operated between Kansas City and San Angelo. When the Southwest Air Fast Express lines, operating between Tulsa and Sweetwater, came to Wichita Falls in 1929, the Universal line was absorbed. When the Safeway lines were operating here, Wichita Falls stood second among cities of the nation in percentage of passengers served per capita and it was necessary to give 24-hour notice of the need of a plane.

In April, 1929, Kell field was opened, and in 1930 Mr. Armstrong moved his school there.

Late in 1929 when the Safeway line was sold to the American Airways, Wichita Falls was without a proper air service, but the Tarbutton line, later to become the Reed Airlines, came in to offer service between Wichita Falls and Oklahoma City. Later the Mid-Continent Air Express, a division of Western Air Express, passed through here with service between Dallas and Amarillo and joining the parent organization at Amarillo.

Now the American Airways are the operators of the Air Express system.

"Aviation Week" is to be concluded Sunday, June 5, with a gigantic air show at Kell field.

ARCHER COUNTY CROPS WELL ABOVE AVERAGE FARM EXPERT CLAIMS

ARCHER CITY, Texas, May 28.—Crop conditions in Archer county are above the average in this district of 26 counties, S. C. Evans, district agent for the extension department of Texas A. & M. college, said on a visit here this week. Mr. Evans spent three days in Archer county visiting demonstrations in different sections of the county conducted by County Agent G. R. McNeil.

Archer county's grain crop is being harvested and many binders are in operation in the oat fields. Wheat is ripening rapidly and will soon be ready for harvest. The grain yield will be less than last year but prospects are good for a better price.

Grass hoppers are reported in many crops and it is feared that these pests will be as injurious as they were in 1923. Hundreds of pounds of arsenic are being issued by the commissioners court for use in poisoning the insects.

Textile mills of Hungary are operating at 80 to 90 per cent capacity.

Falls Planing Mill Gets Big Jobs in Texas

RUSSELL T. MORGAN

Secretary-Treasurer of the Falls Planing Mill

The Falls Planing mill is the successor to Falls Sash and Door company, whose plant burned last summer.

It has practically the same mill organization and was recently awarded the contract for the mill work on the Gregg county courthouse, Longview, for which Voelcker & Dixon of this city are the architects and C. S. Lambie Construction company of Amarillo the general contractor.

The Falls Planing mill also was recently awarded contracts for mill work on the clinic building for Dr. W. O. Padgett at Graham, and the superintendent's residence at the Wichita Falls State hospital of this city.

Until his recent connection with the Falls Planing mill, Mr. Morgan was for five years local representative for the Trinity Portland Cement company and is well known throughout this trade territory.

Seek to Prevent Merger Sinclair With Prairie Oil

FORT SCOTT, Kan., May 28. (AP)—Opposition similar to that which threatened to block creation of the Consolidated Oil corporation last March has been revived to confront the new half billion dollar giant of the oil industry.

Suit filed in federal court here late yesterday asked that the merger, involving the Sinclair Consolidated Oil corporation and the Prairie Pipe Line and the Prairie Oil and Gas company, be declared void on grounds that the two Prairie concerns were in better condition than the Sinclair unit.

The petition, filed by William Roy Carney and his wife, Mrs. Ema M. Carney of Chicago, asked a receivership for the Prairie companies and an injunction preventing the defendants from disposing of Prairie assets, including money in Independence, Kan., banks. It also set forth that transfer of the assets of the companies was in violation of Kansas laws and entailed a loss to stockholders.

The merger was voted March 1, after a group of stockholders led by Lionel F. Straus, New York, failed to obtain an injunction. Straus' federal court action embodied contentions similar to those brought out by Mr. and Mrs. Carney.

DIRECTORS OF DEFUNCT BANK FOUND GUILTY OF CONCEALING CONDITION

COOPERSTOWN, N. Y., May 28. (INS)—Thomas J. Mangan, ex-regent of the University of the State of New York and former director of the defunct State Bank of Binghamton, today was sentenced to serve one to three years in Auburn prison for concealing the condition of the bank while Andrew J. Horvatt, president, was looting it of more than $2,000,000.

Sigmund A. Freidlander was sentenced to a year in the Broome county jail and fined $1,000, and Elmer J. Churchill, the third director who was convicted, escaped with a fine of $1,000.

PYTHIANS TO HEAR GRAND CHANCELLOR TUESDAY EVENING

John Lee Smith, grand chancellor of the Knights of Pythias of the grand domain of Texas, will be in Wichita Falls Tuesday evening, May 31, to attend the open meeting of the local lodge.

The committee on entertainment has announced that in addition to the grand chancellor, students of the Pythian home at Weatherford will be on the program. Electra and Iowa Park Pythian Sisters will put on floor work drills. R. E. Shepherd is also to render selections.

This meeting is for all who at one time have been members of the order, as well as for those now members, and all Pythians are invited to attend, as the talk by the grand chancellor will be well worth an extra effort to attend, it is announced.

Pythians from Vernon, Electra, Iowa Park and Henrietta have promised to be present. The local lodge is putting forth every effort to make this an outstanding meeting, as it probably will be the only occasion of a visit from the grand chancellor. Eight o'clock is the time and the hall is at 812 Eleventh street.

YOUTH KILLS UNCLE WHOM HE ACCUSED OF ATTACKING HIS FATHER

ADVANCE, Mo., May 28. (INS)—A 13-year-old boy shot and killed his uncle here today during an altercation between the latter and the boy's father, according to officers.

The youngster, Leonard Jackson, first warned his uncle, Sam Jackson, 35, to stop molesting John Jackson, 40, before he fired, officers said. John Jackson and Sam Jackson were brothers.

The boy fired at his uncle with a shotgun after the latter refused to regard the warning, drew a knife, and charged at the youngster's father, according to authorities.

Officers investigating the case said that it was not likely that the boy would be arrested.

Cases Against 10 Held for Illegal Voting Dismissed

LAREDO, Texas, May 28. (AP)—Cases of 10 men charged with illegal voting in the Laredo city election April 5 were acted on today in the district court of Judge J. F. Mullaly.

Six of the defendants, A. C. Brooks, King Worley, Fabricio Villarreal, Pablo Valle, Ildefonso Quintanilla and Jesus Carranza, were found to have no right to vote in the election.

They had lost their voting privilege when convicted on charge of operating automobiles while under the influence of liquor.

Judge Mullaly dismissed their cases after warning them not to attempt to vote again until their full citizenship rights were restored. They claimed they voted in the city election without knowing they were violating the law.

The cases against Jose Mesta and Jose Dufresne, both Mexican citizens, were passed until a future date on motion of District Attorney John A. Valls.

Bonds for Leo Dalrymple and Jesus Villarreal, amounting to $300 each, were forfeited when they failed to appear for trial.

The case of Lazaro Sanchez G., charged with paying the poll tax of another person, was continued until the next term of court, along with the cases of Maximo Cruz, charged with loaning money to pay a poll tax for another, and Ramon Cuellar, charged with instigating illegal voting.

No Session of Committee Held Saturday—Resume Tuesday

NEW YORK, May 28. (US)—Samuel Seabury today planned a renewal of his bombardment on Mayor James J. Walker after revealing that since May 18 his aides have been looking in vain for the mayor's brother, Dr. William H. Walker.

Manwhile, it was learned authoritatively that Mayor Walker may demand that Seabury permit him to take the stand again in the legislative inquiry to deny all evidence disputing his original testimony.

On the morning of May 19, the physician agreed to appear for questioning the next day as one of six doctors who have a virtual monopoly, Seabury says, on treatment of city employees requiring medical service for workmen's compensation.

The afternoon of May 19, before the Hofstadter legislative committee, William J. Scanlan testified to paying Dr. Walker $2,820 for "medical attention."

Half of Commission

Seabury pointed out the $2,820 was just half of a commission Scanlan received for sale of vacuum cleaners to New York City.

The next day Dr. Walker, according to the silvery haired chief counsel, failed to keep his appointment with the committee and has been absent both from his home and his office ever since.

Subpoena servers also sought in vain Dr. Walker's medical partner, Dr. Alfred B. Casasa, another of the six physicians alleged to have a virtual monopoly in compensation cases.

Inquiry at the board of education where the mayor's brother is employed as a medical examiner, brought word that he had failed to appear there to conduct medical examinations last Tuesday and Wednesday as he was scheduled to do.

Asked on the witness stand Thursday about the whereabouts of his brother, Mayor Walker told Seabury he had not seen him for six months.

No Session Saturday

There was no session of the Hofstadter committee today but Seabury was busy preparing a new onslaught on Mayor Walker when the committee reconvenes on Tuesday.

At that time, several more witnesses are expected to testify in connection with the mayor's finances; the $700,225 banked by his missing fiscal agent, Russel T. Sherwood, during the mayor's term; and other angles in the investigation.

J. Allan Smith, one of the promoters of the Equitable Bus franchise, is scheduled to be questioned about the $10,000 letter of credit he furnished Mayor Walker before his trip to Europe in 1927.

The intricate deal by which $39,000 worth of Interstate Trust company stock was brought with money "from the city hall" and later went into the hands of the backers of the bus franchise will also be considered.

Contradicts Mayor

Park Commissioner Walter R. Herrick flatly contradicted Mayor walker's own denial on the witness stand and testified yesterday that on instructions from the mayor he bought the stock for Walker with money "from the city hall."

Edward L. Stanton, who was the mayors' secretary at the time, and State Senator John A. Hastings, "political contact man" for the "Equitable Bus franchise group, both have demanded an opportunity to refute Herrick's testimony.

They will be permitted to testify Tuesday and Hastings in an open letter to the committee today declared he can prove he himself bought the stock not for the mayor but for the Equitable Bus group.

Before the curtain descends on the final act in New York City's civic drama, Seabury is expected to call upon Governor Roosevelt to remove Walker.

And because the governor is a Democratic presidential aspirant, while the mayor is one of Tammany's most popular leaders, the situation is expected to have an important bearing on national preconvention politics.

MEXICAN GOVERNMENT URGED TO HALT SPREAD COMMUNISM IN STATES

MEXICO CITY, May 28. (AP)—The newspaper La Prensa called on the Mexican federal government today to take a hand in what it described as a drift toward communism in the states.

The newspaper referred to the recent passage of confiscatory laws in the states of Vera Cruz and Hidalgo, empowering the state government to confiscate, for public use, any private property, including farm land, industries, stores, factories, or transportation lines.

"If we are drifting toward communism," the newspaper said, "let us do it directly and outspokenly. Let us modify the constitution and go the whole route. But if that is not the aim, what is the wisdom of permitting states to flirt with communism? Our program is the more disconcerting because we do not seem to know whither we are drifting."

The government of the state of Hidalgo this week made use of the new confiscatory law to take over a cement plant.

YOUTH TOLD OF WIFE'S DEATH AT TRIAL ON AUTO THEFT CHARGE

HOUSTON, May 28. (AP)—C. J. Boyd, 22, appeared in Judge Langston King's court today, pleaded guilty to automobile theft, and learned his wife had died last night.

As he took the stand, Judge King remarked to him:

"I guess you know your wife died last night."

Boyd wept, and said he had not heard.

"I'm sorry; I thought you knew," said Judge King. "I'm not going to send you to the penitentiary."

He assessed two year suspended sentences for Boyd and his brother, B. M. Boyd.

They went back home to the family farm near Marlin with their father, Charlie Boyd.

LIEUTENANT OF CAPONE HAS WEEK-END HOLIDAY WHEN ARREST POSTPONED

CHICAGO, May 28. (INS)—Although unsuccessful in his attempt to get a warrant for the arrest of Detective Chief William Schoemaker, "Dago Lawrence" Mangano, reputed Capone lieutenant, today was assured his week-end holiday would be free from police interruption.

Mangano's attorney was denied the warrant after pleading that his client didn't care to be disturbed within the next three days by one of a long series of arrests.

The lawyer then obtained Chief Schoemaker's promise that Mangano would not be arrested until Tuesday.

SPAIN CONSIDERS PLAN FOR FEDERATED STATES

MADRID, May 28. (AP)—A plan which eventually would convert Spain into a union of federated states similar to the United States was before the national assembly today.

It was presented last night by Premier Manuel Azana as his government's solution of the problem of Catalonia's demand for autonomous rule, as well as similar demands from others of the Spanish provinces.

The plan would give Catalonia the right to its own tongue, to direct its educational, economic and social system and to police its own territory. Questions of foreign relations and naval and military protection, however, would be left to the national government.

HEAVY FLOW OF GOLD FROM U. S. DURING TEN DAYS

NEW YORK, May 28. (AP)—The United States has lost roughly $100,000,000 in monetary gold in the past 10 days—the largest outflow since last autumn, when the British lapse from the gold standard sent other European central banks scampering for metal.

Bankers express the view we should reconcile ourselves to a considerable further outflow the next few weeks. Foreign central bank balances here are estimated at around $400,000,000 and these banks appear determined to take their funds home.

While there has been bearish rumor-mongering against the dollar among some foreign exchange speculators abroad, international bankers say there has been no important movement by the public to transfer funds abroad.

It is felt in several quarters that the legislative snarl over balancing the budget, together with agitation in some quarters for currency inflation, may have been a factor in the pressure against the dollar in the foreign exchange markets, which has made the outflow of gold profitable.

But since the passage of the Glass Steagall act, the supply of "free gold" in this country, or gold in excess of the amount required as currency backing, has been greatly increased, and is currently estimated at around $1,200,000,000, so some hundreds of millions can be readily spared.

STANDARD WILL SEEK RESTRAINING ORDER TO HALT CLOSING STATIONS

DETROIT, May 28. (INS)—Scene of the state of Michigan's million dollar gasoline tax battle against the Standard Oil company of Indiana shifted to the world's motor car capital today.

Attorneys for the Standard Oil company announced that they will seek a court restraining order to prevent Frank D. Fitzgerald, secretary of state, from closing all of the firm's 1,947 filling stations in Michigan on May 31.

Fitzgerald formally revoked Standard Oil's license to operate in Michigan upon receipt of the company's refusal to pay $1,599,815 in gasoline taxes, which the state claims is delinquent.

Under the state law, however, the revocation order cannot result in closing of the company's 1,947 gas stations until five days after it is issued, which will be next Tuesday.

"Our courtship was one of whirlwind nature," Miss Bruce, 21, very blond and very pretty, declared today.

Gilbert wooed and won her heart in three weeks.

They plan to be married as soon as the divorce decree of his third wife, Ina Clair, the actress, becomes final August 15.

The estate of the sportsman and capitalist was left in trust for his widow, Mrs. Juliette Leiter, and her two children, Thomas, 20, and Nancy, 15. Mrs. Leiter, appointed executrix, furnished a $1,000,000 bond before Assistant Probate Judge Oscar S. Caplan.

Asked if he desired to testify, Yagan took the stand at his preliminary hearing and admitted he had sent letters to Mrs. Rothschild and Mrs. Paxton demanding money. He admitted all the contentions of the state but did not change his plea.

TIMES' MARKET REPORT

AVERAGE NET GAIN FOR STOCK MARKET AFTER EARLY DROP

NEW YORK, May 28. (AP)—Stocks squeezed an average net gain out of today's fairly active short session after an early decline had deposited many leaders into new low ground.

It seemed fair to assume that short covering, based partly on pre-holiday curtailment of commitments and partly on hopes that the revenue bill would be much further along by next Tuesday, contributed to the buying that eventually absorbed offerings. In any event the rebound by some issues was substantial, although trading was much brisker on the early setback than when prices began to firm.

Foreign exchanges made another advance against dollars, some rates rising sharply. Bonds were weak, especially in rail and utility sections, and their action lent strength to the assumption that the late gain in stocks was of a technical nature.

Offerings brought numerous losses of 1 to 2 points during the first half hour. There was, however, fairly good support for U. S. Steel, American Can, General Motors and a few other stalwarts, which may have had something to do with the gradual lessening of pressure. Both steel and can closed with fractional gains; so did Allied Chemical, Du Pont, National Biscuit, Case, North American, Santa Fe and Westinghouse. American Telephone, after touching 90⅜, regained all but ⅛ of its 1¾ point drop, while American Tobacco, Liggett & Myers, Woolworth, Consolidated Gas and Penney recovered appreciably. Transactions totaled 672,363 shares.

Financial attention centered almost exclusively on the nation's financial affairs. In addition to controversies over federal relief and the sales tax there was evidence that the Young credit extension committee believed delays at Washington were retarding execution of plans for fighting deflation. This group let it be known only that "questions of fiscal legislation" had been discussed at its most recent meeting; but Wall street inferred that measures for helping the bond market were being held in abeyance until clouds over the capital had lifted.

Brokerage and banking circles are trusting that enactment of a budget-balancing revenue bill will change sentiment for the better, both here and abroad. Gold withdrawals, which doubtless have an unfavorable psychological effect, will soon cease, it is believed, when our national credit is strengthened in Europe's eyes by settlement of the drawn-out battle.

Little or nothing of interest developed in week-end trade news. Steel mill activity may be due for further curtailment, although Youngstown mills begin next week on a 25 per cent operating schedule, unchanged. Ford's activity for June promises to be on a larger scale than in May; otherwise there is likely to be some shading of demand for automobile materials.

CURB MARKET HAS HEAVY VOLUME OF SALES WITH LOSS

NEW YORK, May 28. (AP)—Unexpected developments in the form of Cities Service dividend omissions and the death of Edward F. Swift, head of the Swift packing enterprises, imparted greater volume to trading on the curb today. Transactions reached 170,000 shares, nearly three times the 60,000 total of last Saturday.

Prices in the main body of stocks held steady despite heavy selling of Cities Service and Swift securities.

Starting with a 20,000 share sale of Cities Service common which carried the price of that stock off 1¼ points to 1⅛, sales came in from many sides.

Net losses of Cities Service stocks and those of Empire Gas and Fuel preferred issues ranged up to as high as 16¼ points. The two Empire Gas preferred stocks and Cities Service preferred suffered the sharpest breaks.

Announcement of death of Swift was greeted with a sudden flurry of selling in Swift & Co. and Swift International, the latter stock, after selling down to 10 rallied to a closing price of 11⅛, off 2⅛. Swift & Co. closed at 7⅛, off 1⅛. Selling in both issues lifted in late trading.

Fractional changes featured industrials like Deere & Co., Draper Corp., the Ford issues, Great Atlantic and Pacific and Parker Rustproof. New York steam broke 3½ points to a new low at 35. Murphy Co. was up 2 points to 20.

Electric Bond and Share issues were steady. Associated Gas and Electric was up 1⅛ points.

Midwestern Livestock Review

KANSAS CITY, May 28. (AP) (U.S.D.A.)—Livestock trade during the week under review had to combat the depressing influence of a very sluggish demand for most all classes of dressed meats, killing classes of cattle opened the week unevenly lower, but with the aid of meager supplies after Monday early losses were partly or fully recovered. Fed steers at most centers are steady to strong with a week ago, while light yearlings and fat she stock are on a steady to slightly lower basis. Bulk of fed steers this week cashed from $5@6.50 with a scattering of choice to prime offerings at $6.75@7.85. Majority of heifer and mixed yearlings ranged downward from $5.50. Stocker and feeder classes were in seasonally light supply and demand relatively narrow. Aggregate receipts at 11 markets this week totaled 149,500 against 134,663 last week and 157,675 the corresponding period two years ago.

Fat lambs are steady to unevenly higher for the week, most markets showing gains of 25 to 50c. Values on sheep were little changed. The week's supply approximating 294,700, was 19,500 short of last week and 51,000 under a year ago.

Hog prices sagged 5 to 25c to new low levels for the season, but closing quotations at some centers are slightly higher than the week's low spirit. Chicago today had a nominal top of $3.40. Total offerings were around 459,000 are compared with 408,104 last week and 420,858 a year ago.

WHEAT RALLIES ON EXPORT PURCHASES AFTER DOWNTURNS

CHICAGO, May 28. (AP)—Helped by a better export demand, wheat prices rallied late today from early downturns that were associated with unsettlement of securities.

Export purchases of North American wheat totaled 1,000,000 bushels, including some United States hard winter. On the other hand weather indications for next week were construed as bearish, pointing to more moisture and seasonable temperatures auspicious for crops.

Wheat closed irregular, ⅛c down to ⅜c up, compared with yesterday's finish, corn unchanged to ⅜c lower, oats at a shade to ¼c advance, and provisions unchanged to a decline of 2 cents.

Bulls in wheat put considerable stress on official announcement that the world's exportable surplus of wheat May 1 was 36,000,000 bushels less than the total a year ago, with most of the surplus now in this country and Canada. United States crop news continued bullish, with little to indicate that recent rains had materially changed the outlook for only a short yield of winter wheat.

Corn and oats were listless.

Boston Wool Market

BOSTON, May 28. (AP)—The wool market showed a little more cheerful tone during the past week, as some manufacturers made small purchases, interest in offerings. Occasional small transactions tended to give more definite idea of values at least on some grades.

Members of the wool trade, however, were cautious about accepting the prices realized as established market values, since the volume of sales was very limited and actual demand narrow.

Dry Goods Market

NEW YORK, May 28. (AP)—Many of the largest houses in primary textile markets were closed until after the holiday. Cotton goods in the gray were quiet and some prices weak. Silks were slow. Burlaps were dull. Competition between rayon producers has already resulted in irregular and lower prices. Wool goods were quiet.

SELLING WIPES OUT SLIGHT EARLY GAIN IN COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, May 28. (AP)—Trading in cotton was quiet today, with a slight opening advance on relatively steady Liverpool cables followed by declines under some liquidation and scattered selling.

July contracts worked off from 5.55 to 5.48 and closed at 5.51, with the general market closing steady at a net decline of 1 point on all positions.

The opening was steady at an advance of 2 to 3 points in response to the showing of Liverpool, and a few overnight buying orders which were attributed partly to the trade and partly to covering. Some selling developed after the call which appeared to be partly for foreign account and which may have included some further selling through brokers with Southern mill connections.

Reports of a steadier tone following an opening decline in the stock market brought in a little buying and trade interests were buyers of near months, but the market worked off to net losses of 4 or 5 points on the more active positions during the middle of the morning. December declined from 5.94 to 5.87. Closing quotations were 2 or 3 points up from the lowest on most positions.

Except for a very moderate volume of business for trade interests on both sides of the market, the trading was attributed chiefly to local or New Orleans operators and may have been largely in the nature of evening up for over the week-end. The week-end weather forecast was regarded as fairly favorable. The first of the private end-May crop reports placed the condition of the crop at 70 per cent and the reduction in acreage planted at 8.2 per cent with an indicated crop of from 12,225,000 to 12,500,000 bales.

Liverpool cables said that trade calling had absorbed hedging and liquidation in that market. The amount of cotton on shipboard awaiting clearance at the end of the week was estimated at 110,000 bales against 75,000 last year.

New Orleans Cotton

NEW ORLEANS, May 28. (AP)—Cotton was only moderately active today, trading in a measure affected by the impending holiday in New York on Monday. Prices fluctuated narrowly and without definite trend, closing steady at net gains for the day of 1 to 2 points.

In the late trading the market rallied 4 points on week-end covering and July closed at 5.54 and October at 5.74 or 1 to 2 points net higher for the day on those active months.

Port receipts 4,093, for season 9,667,931. Exports 3,021, for season 7,776,125, last season 6,132,634. Port stock 3,573,980, last year 3,358,315. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 101,960, last year 57,747. Spot sales at southern markets 3,687, last year 1,443.

NEW YORK, May 28. (AP)—The cottonseed oil market was neglected today with no sales reported. The undertone was steady, owing to the steadiness of other commodities with closing prices unchanged. STRAWBERRIES BID FOR A PLACE ON THE VALLEY'S PROGRAM

Attention is being directed to the possibilities of the strawberry as an important crop in the irrigated valley, by the success which some growers are experiencing.

The upper picture shows the strawberry patch at the J. F. Tarter place north of City View school, in the Tarter and Clark subdivision. The middle picture gives an idea of the exceptional size of the berries, half a dozen of them being a handfull. In the lower picture appears C. W. Curtis standing in his half-acre patch.

Mr. Curtis had sold $619.50 worth of berries from this half acre patch at the time the picture was taken early this month, and has since added quite a bit to that figure. Deducting the cost of picking and of boxes and crates, his net returns will be sufficient to make his half acre one of the most profitable patches of ground in the valley.

The Curtis crop was irrigated twice and the Tarter crop three times, which should serve as a further answer to those who have an idea that the water isn't suitable.

Both Mr. Curtis and Mr. Tarter will have plants for sale this fall.

Another good looking strawberry patch, not shown in the pictures is that of C. C. Burrows, south of Iowa Park.

Registration for Summer Schools to Begin Monday Morning, Instruction Ranging From Elemetary to College

Registration for summer schools is scheduled to open Monday in all divisions of the Wichita Falls school system, the elementary grades to be convened in the Alamo school building and the college, high school, and junior high school classes in the college building. Classes are to start Tuesday on regular schedule. School officials urge all students to enter as early as possible in order not to lose class time.

Courses in both physical and biological sciences are available this summer, a class in general college chemistry as universally used for degree requirements already being assured and a course in zoology being in process or organization. These two courses make it possible for a student to remove an important degree requirement as well as making available for cultural or practical study these courses not usually given as full courses in a summer term.

Regular college courses are also offered in English, history, mathematics, education, psychology, economics and government. Teachers certificate needs are given especial attention, according to Registrar A. K. Presson, director of the summer school in the three upper divisions.

High school subjects are offered in English, history, mathematics, biology, chemistry, Spanish, Latin, civics and bookkeeping as demanded. Junior high school work includes regular classes in English, history, and mathematics.

Elementary subjects will be given in both primary and intermediate grades, according to J. T. Rundell, principal, who will be assisted by Miss Helen Dubois and other teachers as needed.

Tuition rates have been set, according to officials, at figures low enough to make it profitable for students to come to school this summer, either to make up work or to advance in grade standing. A vacation of six weeks is still available after the close of the summer classes.

E. VAN DEVENTER ENTERS RACE FOR LEGISLATIVE POST

Early Van Deventer, Wichita Falls drilling contractor, Saturday announced his candidacy for representative in the Texas legislature from Wichita county, district 111, place No. 2, subject to the Democratic primary.

Mr. Van Deventer was born in Missouri. He was educated for the journalistic profession. As a young man he was active in Missouri politics, being a supporter of Joseph W. Folk. He moved to Texas 23 years ago, and conducted a newspaper at Plainview, later coming to Wichita Falls to become an oil operator. He sent his children through local schools, West Texas Teachers college, and the state university.

Mr. Van Deventer is a student of politics, and is a writer of vigor, always taking a decided stand on all issues of public interest.

His statement follows:

"To the public, and especially my friends who have circulated a petition throughout the county asking that I enter the race for representative, I wish to say that I am deeply grateful for this expression of confidence. I shall try to be worthy of your high esteem.

Lower Expenditures

"I note particularly that you are interested in a reduction of expenditures and a lowering of taxes. Since there is a nation-wide movement in this direction which is likely to result in the election of a majority in the next Texas legislature, each with a mandate direct from his constituancy on this question, I the more cheerfully accede to your wishes, and enter the race.

"Since the beginning of our brief history as a nation there have been two forces at work, one party whose slogan has been, "The least governed people is the best governed." This element represented by the Democratic party, has sought to keep the government out of private business. As a party, it has opposed the making of too many laws. Above all it has sought to keep governmental expense and operations down to the minimum. Another element has from the beginning sought to have a rich and powerful government, one that undertakes great projects, employs armies of men, and collects enormous sums in taxes. Time and tides have operated to keep the latter in office the greater part of the time during the past 75 years; and now we have a paternalistic government operating through bureaus and commissions, collecting each year a sum almost equal to the total amount of cash in circulation.

"State and municipal governments have caught the fever of extravagance, have entered the domain of private business, and now we have one citizen out of 11 working for the government, and the people over-burdened with taxes.

"When a government undertakes so much, and taxes industry to pay the expense, it has the effect of cutting down the field of private endeavor, thwarting incentive and making the people dependent upon the government.

Feeding People

"If the government undertakes so much work, it follows that the government must protect the people whom it makes dependent by such policy; and now we have the spectacle of the federal government feeding some of the people of Texas.

"This same efficiency, known as modern business methods, has been operating in our state government, just as it has in Washington. There is no better place to begin a policy of retrenchment than at Austin. The cost of our state government has increased 500 per cent in 15 years. I believe this expense can be cut 50 per cent, and the state be better off as a result. Not only is such a cut possible, it must be done, for the people can not longer bear the burden.

"The fight begun by Jefferson is on again with renewed vigor. The fight is between the champions of simple Democratic government, and those who believe in a highly involved and complicated system of laws, who would extend and multiply the functions of government and tax the people to pay for it all.

"We need a general overhauling of our system of laws, cutting out more than half fo them, leaving more discretionary power to local juries and the operation of common law. Above all we need an abatement of the power of state commissions and more power to county commissioners. We want less supervision by the state, and more freedom in competition, and the exercise of freedom in the ordinary affairs of life."
