Portala Theatre Aids in Clean-Up Campaign—See Big Pile of Rubbish

Children Scouting All Over City for Cans and Trash

Youngsters Receive Free Tickets for Each Tow Back of Rubbish Gathered

One of the most spectacular clean-up campaigns ever conducted in Portales is now under way. The Portales theatre has offered the children a free ticket for the first sack full of trash delivered to the theatre by Saturday night of this week. An additional prize of $3 and five theater tickets is offered the child bringing the most sacks; second prize, three tickets. In addition to this there will be a surprise for all children under 12 years of age Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

Results—Back yards are being canvassed for tin cans and other rubbish. If you have anything laying around in your back yard that you value, you had better nail it down for the kiddies are zealous in filling their sacks with rubbish. In front of the Portales theatre is a big pile of rubbish, amounting to hundreds of sacks. The kiddies have entered into the spirit of making Portales a cleaner town, and are calling from house to house for accumulated rubbish.

Dress Contest Won by Dora Club Girl

Last week the United Dry Goods store conducted a dress contest in which there were about twenty entries, and Miss Frances Hodges was awarded the first place honors. The second went to Miss Laveda Elledge of Portales.

The dresses were in the major part, made from prints, and had been designed and fashioned by young girls of the county. These garments were placed on display in the store and the patrons were the judges.

When the votes were counted the contest between Miss Hodges and Miss Elledge was very close, but these two girls were much in advance of the other contestants. Miss Hodges, first place winner, is leader of the 4-H Girls' club at Dora, and is doing splendid work in her community in the way of encouraging and teaching other girls to sew.

Albert B. Fall Released Monday

Albert B. Fall was released from the New Mexico penitentiary on Monday of this week, after serving a sentence of one year and one day for bribery in connection with the Tea Pot Dome oil lease. Fall is the first member of the President's cabinet to be convicted of a felony in the history of the United States.

Others implicated in this oil scandal went scot free, and Fall was made the goat.

Skinner's Shoe Shop Burglarized

On Monday night burglars entered the Skinner shoe shop by prying up a back window. Two revolvers, two .22 caliber rifles, a number of belts, gloves and twelve pocket knives were missing.

The entry evidently was made between the rains of Monday night, as the tracks had been washed out. The sheriff's office was notified and soon had a fingerprint expert on the ground taking fingerprints of the burglars.

Delegates to Nat'l Meet to Be Chosen

To Be or Not to Be as Presidential Candidates—Many Visitors Attend

Everything is in readiness for the big political convention at Clovis on Monday, where the Democrats of New Mexico will select their delegates to the national convention at Chicago when the Democratic nominee for President will be chosen.

While much interest is manifest in the choice of delegates, the principal interest in New Mexico is the selection of national committee men.

Candidates for this place are Governor Arthur Seligman, Richard Hanna, George Hunter and Carl Hatch.

This election will be hotly contested on the floor of the convention.

Roosevelt county has 14 votes and is sending 42 delegates with one-third vote each.

Many delegates will flock to Clovis Monday and watch the convention proceedings from the side lines.

The convention is to be held in the new National Guard armory.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Powers left during the past week for Mount Airy, N. C., where they will be located in the future.

Roosevelt Co. Soaked With Good Rains First Of Week

Portales Boy Makes Good

Word has just been received that Everett Deupuy will finish his first year in the law department of the Harvard university, and has two more years in this university.

Everett was reared on a home-stead in the New Hope community and worked his way through the Portales high school, graduating with honors.

He taught in the Portales high school one year and then worked his way through the University of Texas.

After taking his degree at the University of Texas he again taught a year at Portales high school, when he entered the law department of the University of Texas for the second time, taking another degree.

His friends in Roosevelt county are glad to learn of his success, which goes to show that a young man with stamina can obtain a higher education by his own efforts.

Gentle Rains Give Moisture

Farmers Are Jubilant and Are Rushing Their Planting—Prospects Bright

On Monday night of this week a gentle shower lasting several hours covered a greater part of Roosevelt county.

The territory from Portales to Lingo reported good showers.

Again Tuesday night the rain fell for several hours over a greater district, increasing the moisture which was needed for planting and bringing up crops already planted.

The rain was gentle and did not wash the fields, making the condition ideal for crops.

The county had plenty of early moisture, but the hard storms of the past month had dried out the land to some extent, and farmers were beginning to get uneasy for fear of a dry year.

This rain, coming as it did, will enable the farmers to finish their planting and get the crops up.

Indications now are that there will be sufficient moisture to insure good crops.

The wheat crops of the county were damaged by the hard storms and dry weather, but this rain will be of great benefit to these fields.

Wednesday was still cloudy, and indications are good for more rain-fall during this week.

Broom Corn Demonstrations

In an effort to raise the standard of quality of New Mexico broom corn, a series of quality demonstrations will be held in the broom corn producing districts of the state during this month. In Roosevelt county, these demonstrations have been scheduled as follows:

Floyd, Tuesday night, May 11; Midway, Wednesday night, May 12; Richland, Thursday night, May 13.

Portales, court house, Saturday, May 21, 8 p. m.

These demonstrations will be given by O. B. Aigler of Kansas City, Mo. who is one of the foremost authorities on broomcorn in the country, having for the past several years been in charge of the broomcorn section of the county.

Fruit Crop Is Cut Short

The fruit crop in the Portales Valley will be short this year, practically all of the early fruit having been killed by the late freeze.

Grapes are showing up good and there will be the usual crop this season.

Some cherries and plums escaped the freeze and will make a fair yield.

Good Will Trip Is Big Success

The Good Will trip of last Thursday and Friday was a big success. The trip started on time Tuesday morning at 7:30 o'clock, with twenty or more cars in the line.

The initial stop of the first day was at Elkins, where a small delegation met them.

The next stop was at Elkins, where a good delegation of town people and ranchmen met them.

At Union Valley the next stop, very few were waiting, but the band gave the usual concert.

At Pleasant Valley there was a good delegation of school children and farmers.

From Pleasant Valley the delegation proceeded to Minersburg and thence to Bluff, where there was a splendid delegation of school children and farmers.

Warning!

City Marshal Bond warns against the use of nigger shooters in the city limits.

There is an ordinance against this, and unless parents stop their children from shooting them in the city, complaints will be filed against the parents.

Many windows have been broken and other damage done by the children of the city.

C. J. Whitcomb, Tom McCauley and E. L. Wright left the last of the week for a fishing trip, which they enjoyed for several days.

Delegates Elected State Convention

All Preparations Made for Democratic Convention at Clovis Monday, May 16

The Roosevelt County Democratic convention was held at the court house on last Saturday afternoon for the purpose of electing delegates to the state convention which will be held at Clovis on Monday, May 16.

Forty-two delegates were chosen with one-third vote each.

The list of delegates: C. T. Littlefield, B. W. Kinloch, Dr. A. J. Evans, Mrs. G. T. Littlefield, Mrs. C. H. Letton, A. B. Gares, Will Pogue, Paul Eminger, J. H. Kidd, Fred Hodges, Walter Thompson, Joe Cooper, George McCauley, J. W. Sloan, Frank Thompson, Shannon Clark, J. W. Thompson, W. O. McCormack, A. F. Jones, T. E. Meers, R. H. Grissom, C. M. Compton, G. W. Carr, J. C. Compton, J. C. Greaves, Floyd Kennedy, A. D. Ribble, M. Korne, A. E. Hunt, J. B. Fridly, Carl Turner, Jack Turner, K. Robinson, R. A. Young, Homer Barnett, Cox, Howard, Mrs. J. C. Compton, Mrs. C. M. Compton, Mrs. Joe Howard, Mrs. Carl Turner, Mrs. J. G. Cox, Mrs. E. T. Moody.

The delegation was instructed to vote as a unit, and also instructed for Arthur Seligman for national committeeman.

At the Clovis convention delegates will be elected to the national convention in Chicago, where the Democratic nominee for President will be chosen.

The convention will be held in the armory, and a large delegation is expected to be present.

Four years ago this convention was held in Portales, and the same received much favorable comment from the visiting delegates.

Roosevelt County Stockmen to Meet

A meeting of Roosevelt county stockmen has been called by the New Mexico Cattle Growers' association to consider the formation of a credit corporation to secure federal funds to finance the livestock industry. This meeting will be held at the Portales court house on Wednesday, May 18, at 3 p. m.

Arrangements were made by a telegram from Joe Evans, special agent of the New Mexico Cattle Growers' association, to Arthur Jones of the local bank.

Similar meetings have been held in other sections of the state, and excellent progress is being reported, so it seems that this agency will soon be in position to make livestock loans.

All livestock men are invited to be at the Portales meeting, which will be addressed by George W. Barnes of the National Livestock Marketing association.

Farmers of County Busy With Crop Planting—Good Moisture

Big Feed Crops Are Being Planted

Diversification of Crops in Progress—Farmers Are Busy

Farmers of Roosevelt county are busy planting their crops.

The greater part of the farm lands were prepared early and moisture stored.

In some sections the hard storms damaged fields greatly, but many fields were prepared to prevent blowing.

The planting of crops is largely in feed, while there will be a good acreage of broom corn and cotton.

The greater part of the county has had sufficient moisture for planting and, with the rains of this week, crops will soon be up.

Many of the farms depend largely upon dairying and poultry, and all will have sufficient feed to take care of this industry.

On nearly every farm in the county there is a large stock of feed from last year's crop, and this, with the coming crop, will provide sufficient for considerable feeding of cattle and hogs the coming fall.

The county as a whole is looking good, and with a good crop this year the farmers of the county will be able to pull out in fair shape.

Young Democrats to Hold Luncheon

Members of the Young Democratic Clubs of New Mexico, who are to be delegates at the State Democratic convention to be held Monday, May 16, 1932, at Clovis, will have a get-together luncheon that noon.

Judge Hamblin of Farwell, Tex., at that time will deliver an address to enlist a wider participation of the young members in Democratic organization. Following the address plans will be discussed to further the success of the party in the approaching campaign and election.

Late Tomatoes Being Planted

There is a heavy planting of late tomatoes this week.

In some instances the early planting was damaged by the sand storms, making it necessary to re-plant.

Plant farms where the tomatoes were protected have many plants ready for setting.

The tomato crop, while estimated short in acreage, will produce a good crop for the cannery and fresh shippers.

Office Is Moved to New Location

The office of Harry Cissell, local agent for the Continental Oil company, has moved his office from the building next door to the Electric shop to the Continental Oil warehouse, near the new gas service station. The change has made it more convenient for Mr. Cissell, as well as the patrons of his company.

The Price Dairy company of El Paso have placed about 1,500 sheep upon the Greathouse ranch, which they leased some weeks ago. Jack Morrison is in charge of the lambing camp.

Injured in Tractor Accident on Farm

Mrs. Cal Parker was painfully injured one day last week when her clothes caught in a moving tractor and she was dragged for several feet. When the machine came near where Mrs. Parker was standing a sudden wind blew her clothing into the machinery and she was painfully injured before the tractor could be stopped.

Fifteen stitches were taken to close the wound, and the patient is getting better.

Floyd High School Students Graduate Tomorrow Evening

A class of thirteen boys and girls will graduate from the Floyd high school tomorrow evening on Friday, May 13. There are seven boys and six girls in the class, and the honors have been equally divided.

Mr. Carl Enginger has the honor of valedictorian and Miss Kathryn Hale is salutatorian.

Seven of the graduates have done their high school work at Floyd, and Miss Kathryn Hale is the only member of the class who has done all her high school work at Floyd.

The students who will receive diplomas tomorrow evening are: Carl Enginger, valedictorian; Kathryn Hale, salutatorian; Ruth Jones, Beatrice Wharton, Ruby Bacon, Kathryn Hale, Carl Enginger, Ralph Lorton, Woodrow White, Herbert Little, John Russell Jr., Paul Wilkins and Lynn Chumley.

Wheat Crop Is Cut Short

W. O. McCormack of Rogers reports that the wheat crop of the county will be cut to around ten bushels to the acre.

The wheat was damaged by dry weather and sand storms, and will make a low yield.

The main profit from this crop is that of the winter pasturage which it supplied.

Pioneer Citizen Passes Away at Rural Residence

Last Sunday the class enjoyed the commencement exercises which were delivered by Rev. J. F. Smith of Clovis.

The special music for the occasion was rendered by Charles Owen, one of the instructors in the high school at Floyd.

The members of the junior class, Carl Enginger, valedictorian, and Kathryn Hale, salutatorian, stood at attention while the graduates were being seated.

Carl Enginger is president of the senior class and headed his classmates as they entered the auditorium.

PREACHING THE GOSPEL OF HOME TRADE

The Good Will trip over the county last week was a big success from every point of view.

At each stop the speaker preached the gospel of home trade, urging the citizens to patronize their community store first, and then the stores of the larger towns of the county, but in every case to do their buying in Roosevelt county, keeping their money working for the development of the county.

Elida was invited to join with Portales on this Good Will tour, and missed a wonderful opportunity to boost their city. Elida is the second largest town in the county, and has many fine business houses loaded with seasonal merchandise. She has been constantly losing trade which has been diverted to foreign fields outside of Roosevelt county, and there is no better time than the present to co-operate with her sister communities to spread the gospel of buying in Roosevelt county.

Portales does not wish to deprive any community in the county of any of its trade, but is facing a condition where outside cities are fighting for this trade, and must fight for self-preservation.

This fight by the combined business interests of the county will bring good results.

The people of the county are fair-minded citizens, and when they see that the merchants of the county are doing their best to serve them and aid in the development of the county, will respond.

No community can live unto itself, but is dependent upon its neighbors for prosperity.

Let every business man in the county join in this fight.

KEEP ROOSEVELT COUNTY MONEY AT HOME

The gospel of trading at home was spread by the Good Will trip over the county last week.

The speakers, Portales business men, urged each community to patronize their community stores first, and then go to the larger communities for their needs—but in all cases to buy in Roosevelt county.

If this gospel is accepted it will mean an increase in business in this county of at least 40 per cent.

Just think, 40 per cent of the business going out of the county to firms that do not contribute one thin dime for the support of the schools and other institutions of the county.

Is it any wonder that your taxes are high?

Money spent at home helps every one in the county; it enables the merchants to pay their taxes, and enables them to pay more for your farm products.

Spend at home and use home products, and you will soon have a prosperous county.

KEEP UP YOUR COURAGE

We are now facing the most trying times in the history of the nation.

A world depression is on and prices of farm commodities have reached the lowest level in history.

But we must all keep up our courage and trust to an early readjustment of conditions.

Roosevelt county is hard hit, but is in much better shape than many sections of the United States.

Our farmers have an abundance of feed, and have put up food stuff for the table till they are in no danger of starving.

Prices are low, and employees all over the nation have suffered cuts in wages, reducing their buying power.

This hurts business, but when you consider that there are over 9,000,000 men in the United States who have been out of employment for the past year or more, you can readily see that we are not suffering from over-production but from under-consumption.

The business man and the farmer alike must keep up their courage and fight to hold up the business of the farm as well as the cities.

This can be largely accomplished by buying at home.

Support your community stores and help them pull through this depression with a minimum loss.

Spend your money in your county, and help those who are helping you. Do not be misled by mail order advertising of merchandise at cut-throat prices. Money sent out of your county weakens every business institution in the county, and delays the return of prosperity.

Roosevelt county merchants are putting up a good fight to bring a return of prosperity, and with your co-operation this condition can be hastened.

Produce everything possible that can be consumed on the farm. Do not let your dairy herd degenerate, or your poultry flock go to the bad.

With cheap feed, cream and eggs are the best paying product of the farm, even at the present low prices.

The world has not gone to the bad, and there is a silver lining to the cloud of depression of today.

Get out of debt as fast as possible, and when prosperity returns get on a cash basis, and you will have profited by the conditions of the past two years.

SELECTING A CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT

In the state convention at Clovis on the coming Monday New Mexico will select delegates to the national convention, where the Democratic nominee for President will be chosen.

Before the convention the News wishes to caution the convention to take great care in expressing their choice for President.

The experience of four years ago show that it would mean defeat for the party to choose Al Smith as the nominee.

While Smith would probably make a good President, his nomination caused the entire south to go Republican.

The entire nation is sick of the Hoover administration and, with a candidate whom all can support, there will be a Democratic landslide. But Al Smith cannot win over Hoover, in spite of the sentiment against Hoover.

There are a number of strong candidates in the field, and the News trusts that a suitable leader will be chosen in the national convention at Chicago, and it also trusts that New Mexico will not instruct its delegation for Al Smith.

CROP PROSPECTS BRIGHT

With the rains of the past week, the farmers of Roosevelt county have splendid prospects for a good crop this year.

While prices are low, yet the farmer with plenty of feed can take care of his stock and produce cream and eggs at a minimum cost.

The Roosevelt county farmers are not suffering for foodstuffs, and will be able to come out of the present depression in much better shape than farmers of many of the older states.

Speaks From Own Experience

Speaking before the International Chamber of Commerce at Washington, Melvin A. Traylor, President of the First National Bank of Chicago, said in part:

Like all of us, in every line of activity, the farmer was deceived by high values in the time of his prosperity.

In a well-intentioned, but what now seems at least an unfortunate venture, the Government provided abundant credit facilities for the farmer's use.

These facilities were supplemented by other large and liberal lending agencies which, likewise, were misled by land values. The result was that millions of farmers assumed obligations out of all proportion to any possible normal farm income.

All of us interested in farm activity and farm finance must assume our share of responsibility for this situation. We are learning our lesson and will have to take our medicine with the farmer himself. For this mistake, time and hard work seem to be the only remedy. Certainly, more credit will not solve the problem.

I wish I possessed some prophetic vision that I might suggest an easy way by which the agricultural industry could be relieved of its distress and started on a course of well-being and profit. God has not given me that power, but I think there is at least a partial remedy which the farmer himself can apply. That remedy will start him on the only course which, experience and observation convince me, any of us can hope to anticipate: the making of a comfortable livelihood.

When we find that on approximately 20 per cent of the farms in the United States there is not a single cow or a chicken, and that on more than 20 per cent there is not a hog, and on approximately 50 per cent not a sheep; when we know, further, that on many farms in our large agricultural states, no gardens are kept and almost every article of food is purchased at the store, we are forced to the conclusion that the farmer, by and large, is not farming as he should. I know that there are certain sections where some, or all, of these means of increasing farm income cannot be applied, but so far as possible, every farmer should produce his own milk and dairy products, his own meat, and his own poultry, raise his own garden truck, and can the fruit and vegetables he requires for winter use.

Pigs and Chickens Help
Until he obtains from his farm every item for personal consumption which it is humanly possible for him to produce, he has not done his job properly. Pigs and chickens and cows are worth more to the individual farmer than all the government relief programs that may possibly be conceived.

Once the farmer lives at home, then I believe that whatever kind of money crop he may produce, whether it be large or small, the price high or low, his major difficulty will be solved and his margin of income for the necessities and luxuries he so much deserves will be greatly increased.

There is no romance about farming. If it is successfully done, I know it means hard work day in and day out. But so does any other business successfully performed. I know the privations of farm life. They are much less now than they were thirty years ago. I should like to see every farm home equipped with the modern conveniences of urban life. I should like to see every farmer with an automobile, a radio, and all other modern inventions which have contributed so much to social welfare.

Entitled to Modern Comforts
No one is more entitled to these advantages than the farmer; but the farmer, like everyone else, should have them only when he can pay for them. The income for such purposes will be largely determined by the extent to which the farmer exhausts every possible means of supplying his necessities from the farm itself.

The way out for the farmer is not an easy one. Neither is the course smooth for industry, finance or government, and the problem is one sphere is little less difficult than in any other.

SOCIAL ANNEX
By THE BOSS

Folks, we have a kick to register against Arthur Jones and Floyd Golden.

On the second day of the Good Will trip these birds razed the editor all day.

They took every occasion to discredit him and bring him into disrepute.

Then Wallace King joined in the slander.

We are considering bringing a libel suit of $100,000 each against them.

It was a dirty deal, and if either of them ever run for the office of justice of the peace, this paper will certainly give the public the low-down on them.

So far as Arthur Jones is concerned, we are going to take all of our overdrafts away from his bank.

We hired Golden to get back at Jones at Dora, and he double-crossed us.

He continued the libelous attack at the precinct convention at the court house Friday night.

Our friends are up in arms, and action on our part only prevented their being tarred and feathered.

The public is warned to not believe anything these birds say.

The sympathy of the public is with us as being the under dog.

We hereby take back all of the good things that we have said about them in the past years.

C. M. Compton pulled a fast one on the precinct convention Friday night by pulling off a pie supper and raising forty-odd dollars for the Woman's Club building.

After selling the pies, he announced that they were to be mud pies.

G. W. Carr has our thanks for defending us last Friday. Carr is a gentleman and a scholar.

Beans is again in the hospital with an infected eye caused by boys hitting him in the eye with a rock about a year ago.

FARMERS WEEK TO BE HELD JULY 25 TO 29

Plans are under way for the second annual Farmers' week to be held at State college the week of July 23-29. Due to the great interest shown in this event last year, the many inquiries that have been received concerning it and the requests that it be continued each year, it has been decided to make Farmers' week an annual event.

Farmers and their wives in all parts of the state should plan to visit State college during Farmers' week and take advantage of the programs which will be offered on crops, livestock, horticulture, gardening and home economics. A rest from farm labors and a change of scene can thus be combined with an opportunity to obtain worth while information on farming and home making. Farm women will be especially interested in the work in foods and nutrition and other home economics subjects which will be offered. An opportunity will be given all those attending to visit the college laboratories, experimental plots and research work of the Experiment station.

Arrangements for rooms and meals will follow practically the same plan as that of last year. Charges, to be announced later, will probably be only a nominal sum.

Efforts are being made to have several speakers of note on the program and periods of recreation and amusement are also being planned. This part of the program is not definitely worked out, but will be announced later.

Mrs. T. J. Kinchel of Carlsbad was in Portales for a week-end visit in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Sam Batton. Nettie Belle Batton returned to Portales with her grandmother, after a week's visit in Carlsbad.

Rev. and Mrs. Rolfe Barnard left Thursday for Abilene, Tex., where they remained until after Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Golden left yesterday for Miami, Tex., where Mr. Golden has been invited to deliver the graduating address. He was superintendent of the school at Miami before coming to Portales.

Glenn Herbert spent Thursday and Friday night in Portales visiting with Earl Stratton Jr. He returned Saturday to his home at Elida.

AUDREY KELLOGG GORDON
Last Saturday the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Toombs was entered by death and their sister, Mrs. Audrey Esther Kellogg Gordon was taken from her bed of pain and suffering where she had lain since the 10th of last October.

Mrs. Gordon was born in Dallas county, Missouri, Sept. 18, 1902, and when only 5 years of age moved with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Kellogg, to New Mexico.

In 1930 she was married to A. L. Gordon in Los Angeles, Cal., and made her home in that state until last fall, when she came to be with her sister during the remaining weeks of her life.

Mrs. Gordon was a member of the Mesquite Baptist church of Montcalm, Tex.

Rev. Alamo Starkey conducted the funeral services at the Mt. Zion Baptist church Sunday afternoon, where a large crowd of friends gathered to pay honor to the departed young woman and the sorrowing members of her family.

Interment was made in the Mt. Zion cemetery, with Wheeler & Johnson in charge. The friends bearing the casket to its final resting place were C. H. Hightower, Frank Thomas, Audie Thomas, Walter Rowland, Fred Harp and John Plummer.

Mrs. Gordon leaves to mourn her going her husband, her father, five sisters and seven brothers. Her mother passed away fourteen years ago. Four of the sisters, Miss Pauline Kellogg of Montcalm, Tex.; Mrs. H. E. Toombs of Elida; Mrs. H. A. Sellenright of Clovis, and Mrs. Alice Glenn of Los Angeles, were present at the funeral. Mrs. B. M. Manning of Portales, Ore., was unable to come. The brothers were Edgar, at Springfield, Mo.; Earl, at Dill, Okla.; Virgil, at Montcalm, Tex.; Prentice, at Waco, Tex.; Harry, at Columbia, Neb.; Ernest, at Austin, and Reese at Montcalm. The two brothers from Montcalm and the one from Waco were the only ones present at the funeral.

The health of the father would not permit of him making the trip to Portales from his home in Montcalm.

BEGIN TO PLAN FOR THE CANNING BUDGET

To keep a family happy and contented they must be provided with the proper kinds of food, consisting of vegetables, fruits, meats and cereals, says Miss Veda Strong of the New Mexico State college.

Much time and expense can be saved if the homemaker estimates the amount of each product which the family might reasonably expect to use during the year and cans accordingly.

The amount of food canned is influenced by the amount of fresh fruit, vegetables and meat eaten in season, also the length of time when such products are not available.

In localities where fresh vegetables, fruits and meats can not be obtained at all times, enough should be conserved in the season when they are plentiful to allow for a supply to last through the season when they may not be secured fresh.

Since the food budget calls for meat daily, two vegetables other than potatoes or dried beans daily, tomatoes at least twice a week, and also greens twice a week, the canning budget should include all of these items.

Every housewife knows the amount of each food her family needs for one meal, so she can figure out how many jars of fruits, vegetables, and meats will be needed for the months when canned foods are used.

Exceptions may be made in regard to such products as such as fruit, is abundant, it is often desirable to can enough for two seasons.

A good canning slogan is: "Can, not because you have an abundance but in order that you may have vegetables and fruits throughout the entire year."

ROGERS HOMEMAKERS' CLUB

Mrs. J. J. Carter invited the members of the Rogers Homemakers' club to her home last Thursday, May 8, for an all-day meeting.

Each lady brought one covered dish of food and, needless to say, a bountiful and delicious dinner was served at noon.

During the morning the ladies spent the time quilting on the quilt belonging to the hostess. It was a flower garden design.

In the afternoon business and demonstrations occupied the entire time.

During the business session Mrs. A. J. Biggs, Mrs. Millie Ross and Mrs. J. W. Thompson joined the club. The membership now numbers 23, and 21 were present at the meeting last Thursday.

Mrs. Anita Miller, a very splendid cake baker, demonstrated the making of angel food cakes. The cake was declared a perfect product.

Miss Verda Oakley discussed with the ladies the leather work. Several of the members are interested in making full leather purses and belts.

The next meeting of the club will be held in the home of Mrs. Vivian McCormick on May 19. This also will be an all-day meeting and the ladies will spend the time learning to make rugs, both hooked and braided.

Mrs. John Howl, president of the club, and Mrs. J. J. Carter, the secretary, are making a special effort to have another record crowd at the next meeting.

NEW HOPE CLUB

The Homemakers' club which has in the past been known as the Portales Springs club, has changed its name to the New Hope club, complimentary to the church which now bears the name of New Hope.

Mrs. C. M. Robinson is president of the organization and Miss Emma Lee Dunsworth is secretary.

The club met last week with Mrs. Burdine, and Miss Oakley acted as leader. The members were instructed in the construction of patterns and the possibilities of changing one pattern to make several different styles.

The women are invited to hold their next meeting with Mrs. J. J. Carter.

During the meeting Miss Verda Oakley discussed the organization of a 4-H club and this will be completed later.

The organization will be open to all girls between the ages of 10 and 20 years.

NECK SCARFS

The slogan of the summer would seem to be, "A scarf for every neck." The short neck, the long neck and the thin neck must all be decorated with a scarf of some nature, some in plaided taffeta, others in dotted cravat silk (these in plain colors)—and thus it goes, but always a scarf.

The very smartest are the small ones, but in any color or fabric which combines well with the costume.

All should be worn tied tight around the throat and the very up-to-date dresser would have the tie turned a bit to one side.

On the Pacific coast, where wool is worn the year round, hand knitted scarfs are very popular. These are made in wide rows of four or five colors, very bright, and the girls as well as the older women find much pleasure in knitting the scarfs.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cissell have moved to their home on Union street, which has been rented for the past several months to Mr. and Mrs. Dan Smith and family. Mr. Smith has moved to the Warnica residence, next door to the Pat White home.

HONEY IN TUBES

People will now be able to squeeze honey out on bread just as they squeeze toothpaste on a brush, and avoid the usual sticking, mess and waste when honey is served from a jar or can. Honey in tube packages is now on the market, reports the United States Department of Agriculture.

The tubes vary in size from the small one-ounce size to those holding a half pound of honey. Just the quantity wanted can be squeezed out at a time. This method of packing honey has been used to some extent in Germany, the bureau says. Another new development in the distribution of honey is its use in candy bars, combined with chocolate, nuts, and other ingredients.

FRUITFUL ARBORES

The possibilities of combining ornamental values with fruit production in selecting plants for the home grounds are being recognized more widely by Americans than formerly. They have long been realized in British and northern European gardens.

For a trellis, an arbor, a pergola, or to clothe a naked fence, grapes are unrivaled. Their blossoms are fragrant and their fruits have great decorative value.

The care of fruits is not difficult, if one learns a few simple rules about spraying and pruning.

While neglect is often hard on them, the few easily controlled diseases enemies are easily controlled by methods which long experience has perfected. And how well they repay a little care!

There is no enterprise in which the gardener will take more pride than in successful growing.

HOW TO WEAR THE HAT

This is the question that should bother no one this season unless it is the individual who tries to wear one of the small berets well over one ear on a windy day.

Until the hot sunny days of real summer arrive, the small hats will hold the center of the stage, and they are worn in the manner that would suggest "catch as catch can."

Some find lodging on the right ear, some on the left, while others are able to get located at the back seemingly just before the head has gotten out of reach. Later in the season the larger hat will come into its own, and here will be found the hat turned up in the back.

Some of these will be attractive, others will appear as if a bunch of flowers was being used to cover up a mis-slip of the scissors when planning to cut the back brim a little.

These larger hats will oft cling to the soft crowns and fashion decrees that nothing be done half-way this season in the size of the hat, for the sentiment seems to be, "wear 'em little, little or big big."

But the location upon the head means nothing. Sometimes only one eye peeks shyly out from under a low-tipped hat, then comes the equally smart dressed woman with her entire forehead exposed to view.

Sometimes it is the right ear that is safely hidden and other times it is the left that is kept in seclusion. Therefore, make the most of the present season, for women may never again have the stylish privilege of wearing her hat as she chooses.

But while milady may do as she pleases with her hat, she MUST always have her hair coiffured in full line with her head covering, and every hair in place, so to speak.

One artist has said that any form of hair dressing will be accepted this year, only a large figure-eight with nineteen visible hair pins.

ICE CUBE SHELLS

Ice cube shells give the fish or fruit cocktail a festive touch. They are easily made if you have an electric refrigerator; and they do not cost a cent.

The ice trays are filled with water in the usual fashion, but the water is not allowed to freeze solidly in cubes. When the water has frozen until just a shell of ice has formed in each cube division, the remaining water is poured out.

These tiny ice shells are returned to the freezing compartment to await luncheon or dinner.

If the cocktail is composed of crab, shrimp or some other fish, an ice cup is placed in the center of each serving of the chilled appetizer. Into these tiny containers the favorite cold cocktail sauce is poured from a small pitcher.

With fruit cocktails, ice cups in the pastel shades, pink, green or yellow, depending upon the complexities of the fruits used, are charming. The water employed in their making is tinted with vegetable coloring. These colorful cups are set on top of the cold fruit mixture in place of the customary cherry. They are quickly filled with powdered sugar, which can be poured through a funnel. Or clear multi-colored candies may be used effectively.—Neil B. Nichols.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bonner have taken the apartment in the Do-honey duplex in which Miss Schupp has had her home. This is the south side of the building, while Mr. and Mrs. Bonner have been living in the north side of the building.

Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Bailey left this week for Chetenne, Okla., where they will visit with Mrs. Bailey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vinson, before Mr. Bailey enters summer school.

FOOD PREPARATIONS

Food which is not pleasing to the eye will nourish but, as Dr. Walter B. Cannon, professor of physiology at Harvard university, points out, just as the mouth "waters" when we see or smell appetizing food, so also does the stomach secrete what is called appetite juice, which facilitates digestion. Consequently, the highest nutritive value is obtained from food which is attractively prepared and served.

Other things being equal, the more appetizing a food is the more easily it is digested; and one of the homemaker's greatest responsibilities is to serve meals that are inviting—meals the very sight of which stimulates and refreshes.

A New York hospital clinic made a study of a large group of its patients who complained of stomach trouble and found that few of them had any actual disease of the stomach. Most of their symptoms were caused by worry, fear, economic and domestic trouble, love affairs or business worries.

Fear is one of the most frequent causes of gastro-intestinal disturbances: the stomach reacts to it by producing the symptoms of indigestion. Just why the stomach should be, as one physician has called it, the "alarm bell for the rest of the body" is not known—but in truth that is what it is. Fear and anxiety, so common in men and women in the business, professional and social worlds, often results in, among other things, chronic stomach trouble, frequently spoken of as "emotional" or "nervous" dyspepsia, which can be cured only by removing the cause of the emotional disturbance.

Doctor Cannon reminds us in his book, "Bodily Changes in Pain, Hunger, Fear and Rage," of the long-established fact that, among other things, severe pain, fear, anger and excessive fatigue will interfere with the movements of the digestive tract—in other words, many cases of indigestion can be traced to frayed nerves and temper spells.

It is always unwise to eat a hearty meal when we are very tired; a short rest should be taken first. Undoubtedly many digestive upsets attributed to spoiled food have been due to eating a full dinner when the digestive tract was too tired to take care of it.

And, just as unpleasant emotions inhibit the movements of the digestive tract, so the observance of the shield is that appetizing food, pleasant company, a cheerful atmosphere and an attractively set table are conducive to good digestion.

FROZEN DESSERTS

The recipes given below are for desserts to be frozen in an electric refrigerator but the ingredients may be used in a combination to be prepared and frozen with ice.

With the present low cost of milk and eggs the desserts will come under the list of low cost foods, but freezing seems to have a magic influence with most desserts and the most commonplace combination passes unquestioned into the class with rich ice creams and mousses.

While the frozen foods are quite popular during the entire year, they are high in favor during the warm days of summer.

The lemon cream puffs have no cream at all and can be made without much trouble. Should they be frozen in a hand-turned freezer, the mixture should be frozen to a mush before the beaten egg whites are added.

Lemon Cream Puff
Serves five; costs 17½¢.
4 eggs.
1 lemon.
6 tablespoons sugar.
3 tablespoons boiling water.

Beat yolks until smooth. Add sugar, stir in lemon juice. Add boiling water and cook until creamy. Remove from fire and fold in beaten whites. Beat well, put into sherbet glasses and chill in electric refrigerator.

Mixed Fruit Freeze
Serves 6; cost, 28¢.
1 can fruit salad.
2 tablespoons sugar.
Cut into fine pieces, fruit from can of fruit salad. Dissolve sugar in a little of the hot fruit juice. Put into freezing pan and freeze from 1½ to 2 hours. Turn out on platter and slice. It has the consistency of a sherbet.

Frozen Maple Pudding
Serves 10; cost, 25¢.
4 cups milk.
1½ cup brown sugar.
¼ cup white sugar.
6 tablespoons corn starch.
¼ cup water.
2 egg yolks.
1 teaspoon mapleine.
¼ cup pecan meats.

Scald mixture, mix corn starch with cold water and add to hot milk. Add brown and white sugar and cook for about 15 minutes over hot water. Remove from fire and add to egg yolks. Add mapleine. Place in pan and dot with pecan meats, then put in freezing compartment of electric refrigerator until frozen.

COOKIES

"Cat's-tongue" cookies are something new to go with the ice cream or stewed fruit. Children love them. To make them you must use a little care—and a forcing bag. Sift a scant half cup of pastry flour and mix with one-fourth cup granulated sugar. With a little thin cream mix the dough to the consistency of thick cream. Flavor with one-half teaspoon vanilla extract. Pass through the forcing bag, pouring the dough out in eight-inch strips on a greased baking dish. The strips should be one-half inch wide and should spread a little toward the end. Allow enough space at the sides for spreading. Bake seven to ten minutes in a hot oven. When the "tongues" are deep cream color with browned edges, take them out.—Liberty.

FLOYD HOMEMAKERS' CLUB

The members of the Floyd Homemakers' club are invited to meet tomorrow (Friday) in the home of Mrs. Thompson for the regular meeting of the organization.

This meeting was changed from the home of Mrs. Percy Jones, as there will be a rabbit drive tomorrow starting from the Thompson home and the ladies will assist in preparing the noonday dinner.

Steps to Heaven

One of the prettiest legends concerning trees is that held by a tribe inhabiting the Gulf coast of Australia who think that once a great pine tree reached from heaven to earth and by its means their ancestors used to climb up and down between the two regions. To complete the story, it is related that a hawk which had discovered the secret of fire-making, while disputing with another hawk, set fire to the earth, thus destroying the tree. The people who had climbed up to the sky had of necessity to remain there. Crystals were implanted in their bodies, and the flashing of these by night causes the light of the stars.

Salaries of Presidents

The French President receives about $152,000 a year. The President of the United States receives a salary of $75,000 a year with an allowance of $25,000 for traveling and entertainment expenses. The French President, however, is chargeable for practically all the expenses of the upkeep of his houses, as well as all services and personal charges. He is at the expense of entertaining and of traveling. The winter home of the French President is the palace of the Elysee and he has the choice for summer occupancy of several chateaux owned by the government.

Worried

L. Edmunds of Glendale writes: "I knew a little fellow whose mother made him go to church overmuch. He didn't know what it was all about but the solemnity of the service awed him."

How a Missouri woman was benefited by taking Cardui is described below by Mrs. Joe Schumacher, of Cape Girardeau: "I suffered with irregularity. For weeks at a time I was so weak I could not work. I had aches in my back and head and legs—I ached all over. I would get dizzy and feel faint. I had read about Cardui, so I got some and took it. I improved a great deal. After had taken four bottles, I felt like a different person." 22-16

World Wants to Know

One's Best Attainment

If anyone, man or woman, knows how to bake perfect buckwheat cakes, that might be his or her life work. It is a talent as rare as painting good portraits. To quote the philosopher, "It is what life demands of us." Ah, to find that out! Psychology and Psychiatry claim much, but their harvest is small.

Carlyle says: "The folly of that precept, 'Know thyself,' until it can be translated into this partially possible one: 'Know what thou canst work at.'" And again: "Hast thou a certain faculty, a certain Worth, such even as the most have not?" Therein lies the meaning of the aphorism: The world owes every man a living—if he will convince it what job he is especially suited for. It is a great, a paramount responsibility.

We are going to quote some more: Emerson—"The only gift is a portion of thyself; thou must bleed for me. Therefore, the poet brings his poem; the shepherd his lamb; the farmer, corn; the miner, a gem." But it must be something, though it be but the best buckwheat cakes in the world.—F. H. Collier, in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Fox's Regard for Crow

Not Too Deeply Seated

A recent issue of a magazine pertaining to wild life went into detail in explaining the seeming regard that Reynard the fox has for the crow, claiming as a fact that a fox will never injure a crow. But this is the story told by Peter J. Tyler, called by Lee residents, "The Saga of Frogs Landing."

"When I lived at the Landing, I had several foxes as well as a pair of tame crows. The fox run was enclosed, side and top with poultry wire. It was interesting to watch these crafty animals and their method of planning in their efforts to get a hold of some of the many chickens, ducks and pigeons outside. They would carry bones and other scraps that were inside their enclosure and place them close to the wire to induce the live stock to reach for the tempting bait. Then they would lie flat on the ground apparently fast asleep, but when a head came through the mesh, make a jump for it. One day—one crow—no head.—Springfield (Mass.) Union.

Mrs. G. B. Stevenson and her little son are expected to arrive in Portales this week from their home in Texas to visit for the next month with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Sullens. Mr. Sullens, who has been ill for the past several months, is in about the same state of health.

Gordon King Greaves, a student at the University of New Mexico, came to Portales yesterday from Albuquerque to be present at the marriage of his sister, Miss Elsie Greaves.

PEP & HIWAY

There was a large crowd gathered at Pep Thursday, May 5, as the Good Will tour stopped at Pep for the noon hour. The ladies certainly prepared a fine dinner for their visitors, the proceeds from which will go to the Richland and Hiway Sunday school. The total amount made was $43. The Portales School band made some real splendid music, which each and everyone enjoyed very much. Coe Howard delivered a fine speech which will help the people of our community. The children also enjoyed themselves, as they received candy and balloons as gifts. The elders, as well, enjoyed the dinner. We enjoyed having the Good Will tour with us, and we wish them all the best of luck and we sincerely invite them back with us next year.

Hiway school closes Friday, May 13. The primary room will have its program Monday night. The high school students will present their play Thursday night. A big basket dinner will be spread Friday and baseball games will entertain both the school children and elders in the afternoon.

A group of young people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Radcliff Thursday night, where they were entertained by party. Games were played in the house, while good music followed afterward. Everybody reported a splendid time.

We are certainly glad to see Mr. and Mrs. Ben D. Brown and Miss Ola Beaman back in Elida after being in California for five months. Willie Beaman will remain in Brawley, Cal., for the rest of the summer, after also being there for five months.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Beaman of Beulah, Tex., visited with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beaman Friday night. Early Sunday morning they motored back to their new home near Beulah.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Chidester will entertain the neighbors Saturday night, May 14. Mrs. Gertrude Chidester will invite a host of her friends, as her birthday will be celebrated at this time. Everybody is invited.

Interesting News From Elida

By EMMA LEE O'NEAL

Miss O'Neal is authorized to gather news, receive subscriptions and classified ads for the Portales Valley News.

Spurgeon Watson arrived in Elida last Friday to be with his wife, formerly Vivian Evans.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cooper of Kenna were in Elida Saturday.

The grade school baseball team played a game with the town team Saturday. The school boys were defeated by a margin of 3 points.

Mr. W. Todd, Mr. and Mrs. Madison Shaffer and children and Wiley Todd were visiting in Portales Saturday.

Miss Viola Abbott of Kenna spent Friday night with Miss Lillian Nicholson.

The grade school at Elida will close May 16. The eighth grade commencement exercises will be given that day at 2 o'clock in the auditorium of the school building.

The high school term will continue two weeks longer than the term of the grade school.

The seniors have received their graduation announcements and are mailing them out. The commencement exercises will be held Thursday evening, May 26, at 8 o'clock, at the auditorium in the high school building.

Four members of the dramatic class were in charge of the assembly Friday afternoon, May 6. The comedy entitled, "Yes and No," was given by Miss Lella Cooper and Cecil Gower.

"A Prairie Rose"

The young people of the Pleasant Valley community are going to give a play entitled, "A Prairie Rose," a four-act comedy, Friday night, May 20, at the Pleasant Valley school house.

The play takes place upon the Kansas prairies and also in the suburbs of Chicago. The young Chicago physician falls in love with Rose, a wild cowgirl of the prairies, and thereby hangs a tale, as the saying goes. Many complications beset their path of love, but in the end he, of course, wins her.

This is a play full of funny situations, with enough heart breaks and heart throbs to keep the audience on the edge of their seats throughout the play.

Cast of characters—Silas Wilder, a deaf old rancher; Judson Demott, Dr. Robert Raymond, a young Chicago physician; Guy Gower; Philip Bryant, wealthy Chicago lawyer; Ernest Kilgore; Archibald Feather, a young Chicago duke; Clyde Gower; Bill Briggs, Kansas cowboy; Dean Hammit; Moss, Philip Bryant's servant; Bill Gower; Ralph Wilder, younger brother of Silas; J. R. Butler; Lizzy Jane Slocum, Silas' housekeeper; Mary Jo Robinson; Dorothy Deane, Philip's sweetheart; Talmadge Corbitt; Agnes Raymond, Robert's divorced wife; Leah Lott; Rose Wilder, a prairie rose; Mary Butler.

Friday night, May 20, is the date. Don't miss it—the play, I mean.

Henry Richardson was transacting business in Portales last Saturday.

Wiley Todd was a delegate to the Democratic convention which met in Portales Saturday.

Mrs. Woody Southard and Mrs. M. B. Naylor of Kenna were shopping in Elida Saturday.

Miss LaVerne Borough of Dora was in Elida Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Spurgeon Watson spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wall, north of Elida.

Miss Hope Preston of Portales visited with her sister, Mrs. Barney McCabe, last week.

Miss Mildred Lyons of Portales visited with friends in Elida last week. She visited Miss Charlotte Herbert and Miss Mildred Moore.

Miss Florence Lee, a member of the Portales high school guard-die Loughridge of Portales spent the night with Mrs. Harold Radcliff Friday night.

Wheat Brings $1.25 in Community Plan

PRATT, Kan.—Wheat, $1.25 a bushel.

With this farm commodity at its lowest level in years all over the country, that unheard-of price sounds impossible, but farmers of Pratt county, staging a winning battle to bring back prosperity, are receiving that price for their wheat, says the NEA service.

Wheat guides this territory from the standpoint of prosperity. Last year farmers in the district were getting from 18 to 23 cents a bushel for their wheat.

The outlook was gloomy until the Prosperity Wheat association was founded last November. Since then the price of wheat has climbed.

Last year, when wheat prices dropped to their lowest level in years, local farmers sought out one man they knew could do something if anyone could.

He was F. W. "Woody" Hockaday. "Woody" has been one of the most civic-conscious men in the territory. He engineered the construction of a highway and the wheat lands of the state. He boosted state wheat to the whole country, and was sought out to remedy the alarming situation.

He decided to form the Prosperity Wheat association with the sole aim of bringing wheat up to $1.25 a bushel. He announced his plan, which consisted of co-operation between farmers, bakers and consumers in the county, and got the support of 800 members.

Here's the way the plan works: Mills agree to pay $1.25 a bushel for wheat, bakers agree to buy flour made from such wheat, and citizens agree to buy bread made by these bakers.

The plan at present is a community one. Members' names are placed in a hat. Some disappointed person pulls out two names in each township and the lucky farmers sell 50 bushels of wheat to bakers at $1.25 a bushel.

Not only do the farmer and consumer profit by the procedure now used to market the wheat, but the baker and the merchant also come out the right side of the ledger. One hundred bushels of wheat will make 5,000 loaves of bread. This, selling for 10 cents a loaf, brings in $500.

Thus the farmer selling the 100 bushels of wheat realizes $125 from the sale. The baker gets a profit in selling to merchants, and the merchants make a profit from the 20-ounce loaves sold for 10 cents. The entire community in this way is relieved of stored wheat that a few months ago loomed as a white elephant.

Corporation papers have been applied for by the association. What started merely as a plan to assist farmers of Kansas has now assumed proportion far beyond the thought of the originators. Besides Pratt, there are other Kansas counties falling in line. Among these are Stafford, Edwards, and practically every county in the great wheat belt.

Idaho has written in for particulars of the plan. Gainesville, Tex., has asked for full information. An organization has been started in Cherokee, Okla., and the entire wheat raised in that community will be sold under the Prosperity Wheat association plan.

The association now functions under the direction of Hockaday and Fred Reschke, president; Mirt Newhouse, secretary, and Ray Cooper, treasurer. Thus far more than twenty farmers have taken fifty bushels of wheat to flour mills and sold it for $1.25 a bushel.

Miss Ethel Henderson came down from Clovis for a week end visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Freeman. The two ladies have been close friends for a number of years.

Mrs. Glenn Hunt came in recently from her home in Austin, Tex., and is visiting her sister, Mrs. Roberta. Mrs. Hunt was Miss Edmondson before her marriage, and taught at Rogers.

were in Elida Tuesday of this week.

Elida is rejoicing at the good rains which fell the first of the week.

Petition Seeks Better Roads to Church Grounds

What is believed to be the bulk-iest petition, says an Associated Press dispatch from Santa Fe, ever presented to a governor in New Mexico, has been received by Governor Arthur Seligman.

The petition, from members of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, bears 2,408 names of members of that church and asks the governor to use his influence with the State Highway commission and the forest service to make the roads more traversable to the church's summer assembly grounds three miles west of Weed, N. M.

The petition was delivered Tuesday by the Rev. H. G. Scoogins, director of the assembly and pastor of the Methodist church at Artesia.

Most of the signers are residents of New Mexico, but there are many whose addresses are in Colorado, Texas, and other states included within the church conference territory.

Misses Peggy June and Juanita, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Taylor, are at Dora spending this week with their paternal grandparents.

HAIL STORM DAMAGES CROPS NEAR ARTESIA

A hail storm, extending over an area approximately fifteen miles, says a press dispatch, did considerable damage to crops in the vicinity of Artesia, N. M., Sunday afternoon.

The hail stones were small, but managed to damage crops enough to make replanting necessary in some instances.

The hail broke several window panes in the Artesia school building.

SOCIETY

DINNER PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Jones entertained at dinner last Thursday evening, complimenting Miss Odette Schlapp before she left Portales for her home in Fort Madison, Ia.

Miss Schlapp has been the county nurse in Roosevelt county, and is going to Iowa to spend the vacation.

After the delicious dinner the friends spent the remainder of the evening visiting in a most informal manner.

The guests, other than Miss Schlapp, were Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Watson and Marion Stinnett.

BUNTING PARTY

Davis Jones invited three of his friends to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Jones, last Saturday night for a bunting party. The ladies enjoyed all the sports which are most appealing to boys and did not retire for the night until thoroughly tired out.

Mrs. Jones prepared a splendid breakfast for her son and his guests Sunday morning. The boys enjoyed the occasion with David being Warren Copeland, Warren Wright and Oscar Galloway.

MOTHER'S DINNER

Lennis Kenyon, a 13-year-old daughter, surprised her mother with a three-course dinner last Sunday in recognition of Mother's day.

The dinner was served at the home of Lennis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Kenyon, soon after the family returned home from church.

All the preparations of the dinner were kept a secret from Mrs. Kenyon, and she and the younger children were rushed off to Sunday school and church. The next three hours were busy ones for the capable daughter of the family, for she had the delicious dinner prepared and the table arranged when the family returned home about 1 o'clock.

The young hostess' grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Kenyon, were invited guests, and the entire party were happy in the family gathering.

BRIDGE PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Compton were at home Tuesday evening to three tables of bridge. The players enjoyed several progressions but no prizes were given for scores. After the game Mrs. Compton served a plate lunch.

Those playing were Judge and Mrs. T. E. Messer, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. King, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bayton, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Rawlins, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Compton.

PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN MEET

Mrs. C. R. Nelson entertained the members of the Presbyterian Missionary society in her home on Tuesday of this week and the program was a tribute to mothers.

The Bible lesson was taken from Hebrews and was read by the ladies in unison.

A very appropriate program had been arranged by Mrs. Cal Parker and was pertaining to Mothers of Bible and Modern Times. The Bible mothers discussed were Mary, the mother of Jesus; Naomi; Hannah, and Elizabeth. The members assisting with these discussions were Mrs. Nelson, Mrs. Ernest Pogue, Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. Frank Carson and Mrs. J. K. Duncombe.

Mrs. C. J. Sparks had for her assignment, "Mothers and Daughters of the Mountains."

Mrs. Nelson gave a very appropriate reading complimenting the true mother.

Light refreshments were served after the conclusion of the program.

Mrs. C. J. Sparks and Mrs. Cal Parker will be hostesses at the next meeting of the society, which

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Whereas, The Almighty in His divine wisdom has seen fit to take a sister from our midst, and has summoned our beloved sister, Beryl Gordon, to take her station in the Grand Lodge above, where death cannot enter; therefore, be it

Resolved, That our lodge has been deprived of the further services of a true and faithful sister; that this lodge will greatly miss her assistance but they can look with pride upon the service she rendered while permitted to remain with us, and the bright example of faithfulness exemplified in her life will ever be of lasting benefit to all of us; that we humbly bow to the will of Him who is divine; and who does all things well; that the Janet Spear lodge No. 33 of Portales extends hereby to the bereaved family and loved ones our sympathies, and express the hope that we may all so live that when our summons shall come we may be prepared to assume our station in that heavenly lodge in which Sister Beryl Gordon is now enrolled. And be it further

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread on the minutes of our lodge; that a copy be furnished the Portales Valley News for publication; that a copy be mailed to the family of our deceased sister, MAGGIE KENNEDY, MABEL MORRISON.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Esther Nelson complimented her friends, Marie and Carolyn France last Monday with a party in celebration of their birthday anniversary. These two sisters are not the same age, but they have the same date as the anniversary of their births.

The hours of the party were from 2:30 until 5 o'clock, and fifteen friends were present to make the party a very happy affair.

Games of various kinds were played out in the yard, and later refreshments were served when the young people were invited into the house.

The majority of the guests were school friends of the two girls.

HONORS MOTHER

Berwyn Slaten, honored her mother, Mrs. Willis Slaten, with a surprise dinner on Mother's day.

Berwyn had arranged with her sister, Mrs. Elmer Harp, that the meal be served in the Harp home, and therefore Mrs. Slaten was unaware of any of the preparations. When the family returned from church the mother was asked to stop at her daughter's, and there found a lovely dinner all ready and her place at the table piled high with gifts.

Only members of the immediate family comprised the party, as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Willis Slaten, Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Slaten, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Harp and children, Woodrow and Berwyn Slaten.

WORKERS' COUNCIL

A number of the Baptists from Portales drove to Clovis on Tuesday to meet with the representatives from the other Baptist churches of the association in a Workers' Council.

Several matters of importance came up for discussion during the business session and some splendid numbers were given on both the morning and afternoon programs.

Mrs. L. M. Evans was the only person from Portales appearing on the program.

The members of the local church driving to Clovis for the meeting were Rev. W. C. Grant, H. A. Hunter, Rev. and Mrs. L. M. Evans, Rev. Alamo Starkey, Mrs. N. F. Wollard, Mrs. W. B. Oldham, Mrs. D. A. Lee, Mrs. J. D. Barnard, Mrs. J. E. Green and Mrs. J. S. Green.

will be held May 24. This will be a birthday celebration of the Auxiliary and each member is asked to bring one guest to the meeting.

Mrs. M. B. Jones

Once More Heads the Woman's Club

At the annual election of officers of the Portales Woman's club held yesterday in the home of Mrs. Ode Howard, Mrs. M. B. Jones was re-elected president, to thus give her ample time to continue with the erection of the new club building, as the change would place a great responsibility upon new officers.

Mrs. J. G. Greaves and Mrs. E. L. Wright were re-elected to the offices of first and second vice-presidents.

The other officers selected to preside during the club year of 1933 were: Recording secretary, Mrs. R. A. Young; assistant secretary, Mrs. M. B. Jones; treasurer, Mrs. A. D. Ribble; parliamentarian, Mrs. C. M. Compton; auditor, Mrs. C. F. Brown; librarian, Mrs. C. J. Whitcomb; press reporter, Mrs. James Christ; custodian, Mrs. C. V. Harris; chairman of cemetery committee, Mrs. W. F. Shaw.

Mrs. W. B. Oldham was elected to fill the place of the secretary committee made vacant by the resignation of Mrs. J. F. Wollard. The first part of the afternoon was devoted to a business meeting in which the chairman of the several committees made their annual reports.

Mrs. E. N. Neer, chairman of the membership committee, reported

NEW FORD COMING

W. W. King left this morning for Denver, Colo., and is expected to return Saturday afternoon with a new V-8 Ford Victoria coupe, which will be used for demonstration purposes by the Universal Motor company.

Mr. King invites you to call and enjoy a demonstration.

Miss Delia Hicks had her tonsils removed last Monday morning and is reported getting along satisfactorily.

During their terms of office, Mrs. W. F. Shaw has been secretary of the club for two years, and during that time has been absent only once. That was the first meeting after her election. Mrs. Wollard has served faithfully upon the secretary committee as chairman, and Mrs. Jones has been present at every meeting while president the past year.

Mrs. Bert Rawlins was joint hostess with Mrs. Howard, and the two ladies served a plate lunch at the close of the meeting.

Rising words of thanks were tendered by Mrs. Wollard, Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Howard for their faithful service during their terms of office.

Hot Springs

Bank Robbed;

$4,500 Taken

The Hot Springs National bank was held up shortly before noon Tuesday and robbed of approximately $4,500, a dispatch from that city to the State Tribune says.

As Grady Jones, cashier, and an assistant were preparing to go to lunch, a stranger stepped behind the counter and pushed a gun in Jones' stomach.

"Get your hands up," the stranger commanded.

Jones grabbed the gun, he said, but could not keep it from the robber, and was ordered with his hands to go into the vault.

The vault door was not opened until about 1:30 and the assistant cashier then was taken to the bank and left.

Hot Springs resident said he passed three men in a Chevrolet sedan driving through a residential section of Hot Springs a mile or so from the bank.

Bratton Selected

for Bi-Partisan

Senate Committee

The senate appropriations committee on Tuesday selected a bi-partisan economy committee to consider the economy program, according to a United Press dispatch from Washington.

Chairman Jones of the committee appointed himself and Senators Buchanan (Rep., Conn.), Dickinson (Rep., Ia.) and McNair (Dem., Tenn.), Bratton (Dem., N.M.), and Byrnes (Dem., S.C.) as members of the new committee.

Earlier in the day the President had been authoritatively described as highly pleased with the prospect of a bipartisan effort for economy.

Creation of the committee followed agreement on the senate floor yesterday between Majority Leader Watson and Minority Leader Buchanan that the parties should share equally in responsibility for devising an economy program.

WHAT IS SPECIALIZED LUBRICATION

After a complete set of grease guns have been procured it is then necessary to have a complete line of greases and oils, each one built to properly lubricate some certain part of the car, according to the conditions under which it must work.

For instance, wheel bearing grease must lubricate the ball or roller bearings in the wheels at all times, yet it must not melt down under the heat generated by the brakes and run out into the wheels. Each kind of grease and oil is designed to work under conditions peculiar to a certain part of the car.

We carry at all times seven separate and distinct greases and oils for the proper lubrication of any make of car or truck and give specialized greasing service.

Form the habit of bringing your car to us for that superior lubrication service.

Treasures in Library

Buffalo's public library has thousands of dollars' worth of rare books hidden away in its shelves, according to the head librarian. Many of them are under lock and key. Irreplaceable histories of Buffalo and the Niagara frontier are included in the list. Scrapbooks of anecdotes of Grover Cleveland, Millard Fillmore and Elbert Hubbard are found alongside guide books on Niagara falls dated as far back as 1835, newspapers with 1911 date lines, and Buffalo city directories since 1828. The books are available for reference to those making a study of frontier history.

Abundance Defended

On September 18, 1793, when the corner stone of the Washington Capitol was laid, the historians devoted much of their attention to the barbecue which followed. The ox weighed 500 pounds.

Dolly Madison set such a lavish table that one elegant foreigner scoffed—"Her table is more like a harvest home supper than the entertainment of a high official."

To which she made this sprightly rejoinder—"Abundance is preferable to elegance."

Odd Claims Insurance

The strangeness of some accidents for which insurance companies have been indicted in the past almost disrupts human belief, says an article in Pearson's Weekly (London). Take lovers, for instance. One man recently received insurance for broken ribs caused by being hugged too tenderly by his fiancée. Another young "shell" held his sweetheart on his lap until his foot went to sleep. When he rose to say good-by, his leg crumpled up under him, and he bumped himself severely. His insurance company paid for the damage. Take a quiet stroll through your neighborhood, and the same puckish spirit of disaster may be conspiring to work you grievous ill. At least, that is what an Exeter policeman must have thought recently, when some rough drops exploded in his pocket, and set fire to his clothes so effectively that the local fire brigade had to be called out in order to extinguish them. It was explained later that the tablets contained chlorate of potash, which had ignited through being rubbed against the lining of his pocket as he walked along on his beat.

Do You Know?

Furnishing electric service is our business, just as selling food, clothing, shoes, etc., is the business of merchants.

Those who attack the rates of electric utilities might perform a more valuable public service if they turned their attention to the tax structure of the government.

From 1902 to 1930 electric light and power company taxes increased 200 per cent. More than 10 cents out of every dollar now received from consumers is paid out again in the form of taxes. In other words, ONE-TENTH OF YOUR BILL REPRESENTS TAXES. In spite of this increase in taxes, in this same period—1902 to 1930—the cost of domestic electric service DECREASED 55 per cent.

SOCIAL HIGHLIGHTS

GREAVES-STINNETT

Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, at a beautiful home wedding, Miss Elizabeth Greaves, became the bride of Marion M. Stinnett.

The bride, who was dressed in a gown of white tulle, was escorted to the altar by her father, Mr. J. C. Greaves. The groom, who was in a tuxedo, was escorted by his best man, Mr. J. C. Greaves.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. F. Davis, in which he gave the influence of the maternal parent in the Christian home and the non-Christian home.

The special music for the day was a solo by C. F. Brown, "My Mother's Song."

At Sunday school the class of young people from Mrs. Allen's department gave a chorus number which was a tribute to mothers.

The bride, preceded by her maid, Miss Rose Littlefield and Miss Jean Littlefield, came down the winding stairs on the arm of her father. The flower girls were Little Betty Jean Caperton and Patsy Ruth Batton, each dressed in pink tulle, and scattering rose petals from pink baskets.

The bride was dressed in white satin, with veil caught with a ribbon of the valley, and carried a colonial bride's bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Greenwaldt wore pink tulle, and Miss Littlefield wore white tulle. Each carried a colonial bouquet of pink.

The ring ceremony was read before an altar banked with fern and white roses. During the ceremony Jack Carr played "Meditation" on the violin, accompanied by Mrs. Ernest Pogue at the piano. Before the bride and groom were pronounced man and wife, the bride and groom were pronounced man and wife.

After congratulations the dining room doors were thrown open and Mrs. Lacy Armstrong, a sorority sister of the bride, presided over the table, which was beautiful, with white roses, bride's cake and punch bowl.

Mr. and Mrs. Stinnett left Wednesday evening for Roswell and Thursday morning they began their auto trip to California and other western points. They will return after a month's vacation and make their home in Portales.

Mr. and Mrs. Stinnett are both Portales High graduates, both have their degrees from the State university and have taught the past two years in Portales High school, Mr. Stinnett being math teacher and Mrs. Stinnett home economics. They have both been re-elected to these positions for the coming year.

The wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lacy Armstrong and was witnessed by close friends and relatives of the couple.

Mr. Stinnett is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Greaves and has been reared in Roosevelt county.

MUSICAL IN CLOVIS

Three Portales ladies, Mrs. A. W. Freeman, Misses Ruth and Edith Wheeler, appeared in the musicale which was given last Saturday afternoon in the music room of the Hotel Clovis by the students of Miss Ethel Henderson.

The Portales ladies are receiving voice culture from Miss Henderson, who is a musical artist with several years' training abroad.

Many Portales people drove to Clovis Saturday afternoon to enjoy the very high class and splendid numbers of the program.

BEGINS CLUB PLAY

Miss Hattie Belle Trivette, representative of the Wayne P. Sewell Producing company, arrived in Portales Monday afternoon to begin the selection of a cast for the musical comedy, "Rosetime," which will be given Thursday and Friday, May 19 and 20, for the benefit of the Portales Woman's club.

Miss Trivette began work immediately selecting her cast of characters, and this will be ready for publication in next week's paper. She met with the club members yesterday and explained some of the responsibilities of the members in order to insure a successful production.

METHODIST MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The ladies of the Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. E. C. Murrell last Thursday afternoon and the entire time was devoted to a business meeting, with Mrs. L. L. Brown, president, presiding.

The ladies voted to have a small ornamental fence placed around the lawn surrounding the church, thus protecting the young grass from the abuse of trespassers.

The society also made some plans for the program, which will be given at a future meeting.

Several matters of business were discussed and after the adjournment Mrs. Murrell served refreshments to her guests. She was assisted in serving by her sister, Miss Bess Dohoney.

Dr. A. J. Evers, mayor of Elida, was in Portales Saturday attending the Roosevelt County Democratic convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Bracken have moved from their former home on Arizona street to the residence at 615 Liberty street.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Rawlins drove to Lovington Sunday and spent the day visiting with Mrs. Rawlins' mother, Mrs. Josie Hamilton.

ACE HI BRIDGE

Twelve friends gathered at the home of Mrs. Louis Kirby last Friday afternoon when she entertained members of the Ace Hi bridge club and additional friends.

Three tables were arranged in the pleasant Kirby living room, and here a five progression contest was waged during the afternoon hours.

After the game Mrs. Kirby served a plate lunch, which was delicious and also attractively arranged.

Mrs. J. D. Marlow held high score.

CHRISTIAN AID

The Mother's day program given last Thursday under the direction of Mrs. R. W. Means has been declared an outstanding program of the Christian Ladies Aid for the past several months.

Mrs. J. T. Keller, Mrs. E. C. Luna and Mrs. R. W. Means were hostesses when the Aid met in the Christian church. There were 56 ladies present and the afternoon program began with all singing, "Sweetest as the Years Go By."

Mrs. J. T. Keller led the devotional services.

Mrs. J. J. Brown gave the origin of Mother's day and every lady present gave a Bible verse dedicated to the best mother.

Mrs. Willis Breashears made a short talk on "Eve, the First Mother."

Mrs. W. H. Catt's character sketch of Mary, the mother of Jesus, was a beautiful tribute to mothers.

Lena Keller appeared in a reading, "Mother's Work," after which Mrs. J. W. McMinn told of the pioneer mothers in America these were the Pilgrim women.

Mrs. Luna had for her subject, "The Me to Your Mother's Again," and Mrs. Carl Brems discussed the modern mother. Dolly Jean Luna read, "Mother's Duty."

The next numbers on the program dealt with "What Women May Do to Be Bible Mothers," Mrs. A. B. Foreman told of the prenatal dedication of the child to Christ.

Mrs. Walter Scott discussed, "Helping the Children to Make Christian Marriages."

Mrs. Luna had for her subject, "Teaching Children God's Word." Mrs. Durwood Wright discussed, "Comfort the Child in Hours of Sadness."

Mrs. W. W. King told of the mother's comfort to her child in trouble and death.

A solo and pantomime, "Wonderful Mother of Mine," in which Miss Naomi McCarty, Mrs. Bush and Mrs. Means appeared was impressive and touching.

The program closed with the congregation singing, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

The ladies were then invited to the dining room of the church, where dainty refreshments were served.

PICNIC PARTY

A party of friends had planned a picnic to the H-ranch last Friday evening, but when a chilly wind began blowing the crowd decided to have an indoor party at the home of Mrs. Christie.

Each lady contributed one dish of food and a very bountiful meal was served about 7 o'clock.

Quartet tables were arranged for the convenience of the diners. The meal was served buffet style.

After supper some of the members of the party went to the court house to attend the Democratic meeting, while others remained in the Christie home to play bridge and visit.

The friends having the supper together were Judge and Mrs. T. E. Mears, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Steiner and Little daughter, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Golden, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Coe Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Cline Caperton and daughter, Miss Kate McKenney, Mrs. Lucille Cumble and Mrs. James Christie.

CLUB TEA SUCCESS

The tea which was given last week by members of the Portales Woman's club was a decided success and the money which was realized has been set aside for the expense of building the fireplace in the new club building, which is being erected upon the property at the corner of Liberty and Nevada streets.

COFFEE CLUB

Miss Mabel Morrison was hostess to the Coffee club members and other friends last Thursday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Thomas.

Three tables were arranged and the players had a most happy card contest together.

Five progressions were played, with Mrs. E. R. Black holding the high score for members, Mrs. Buford Fisher high score for the guests, and Mrs. J. H. Lee the low.

Miss Morrison served lovely refreshments in two courses at the following friends: Mesdames J. D. Turner, Luther Thomas, Ted Forbes, Otto Blanton, Cline Caperton, E. R. Black, J. H. Lee, T. E. Mears, for the members. Mrs. Carl Bremer high for the non-members and Mrs. Ward Gregg the low score.

The special guests of the afternoon were Miss Naomi McCarty, Mrs. J. C. Fish, Mrs. Ward Gregg and Mrs. Carl Bremer.

The members included Mesdames E. H. Hudson, J. D. Marlow, J. J. Brown, Ray Snelson, Cleo Pike, Buford Fisher, A. M. Gragg and T. W. Johnston.

Ray Snelson, Buford Fisher, W. H. Davidson and Frank Gibson.

RAINBOW GIRLS

The Rainbow Girls met in the Masonic hall last Thursday evening and during the business meeting the elective officers were selected to preside for the next quarter.

Miss Marie Kimmoms was chosen worthy advisor; Josephine Goodloe, associate worthy advisor; Annie Sue Parrish, Charity; Jeffie Hunter, Hope, and Gwendolyn Allen, Faith.

The other officers will be selected by the board of advisors, in council with the mother advisor, and all will be installed into office on Thursday evening, May 19, which is the next regular meeting of the society.

Mrs. J. L. Simon is mother advisor for the girls.

PIANO RECITAL

Mrs. A. W. Freeman presented several of her piano pupils in a recital last Friday evening at the Methodist church.

Of the eight younger girls appearing on the program Mary Jane Taylor was awarded the contest medal by Mrs. Henry Carr, Mrs. C. B. Wilson and Miss Jamie Greenwaldt, who served as judges.

Jane Mauk received the scholarship medal given by Mrs. Freeman as recognition of a splendid year's work.

The eight girls forming the contest circle were Mary Jane and Polly Ann Taylor, Jane Mauk, Maxine Rice, Anita George, Allene Hammonds, Lenore Shaw and Marjorie Drake.

Miss Edith Wheeler, Miss Ruth Wheeler and Miss Oral D. Walker were the advanced musicians contributing numbers on the program which was most pleasant and fully enjoyed by the friends who gathered at the church to enjoy the music.

Mrs. Freeman plans to present her advanced musicians in a full evening program at some future time.

OVERNIGHT PARTY

Misses Jewel, Ruby and Lois Webb invited several of their friends to the Webb country home last Friday evening for an all-night party.

Games and music filled the first hour of the evening, then the girls prepared the supper which was served at midnight.

At a very late hour they retired for a few minutes' sleep and then arose at 4:30 o'clock to go into the sandhills for a sunrise breakfast prepared over the campfire. This early meal gave the business girls of the party ample time to reach their offices and stores by the opening hour.

The young ladies enjoying the occasion with the Webb sisters included Miss Barbara Green, Mildred Stinnett, Ora Dendy, Annie Sue Parrish, Jeffie Hunter, Evelyn Barnard and Pauline Baker.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Setzer have moved into the Setzer building at 210 Main street.

FIE SUPPER

A pie supper without a single pie was the experience of the Democratic men who gathered in the court house last Friday evening for the precinct meeting.

Precinct Chairman C. M. Compton suggested the sale of pies during the time the crowd was waiting for the report of a committee. He suggested the pies would be furnished by Mrs. C. V. Harris and Mrs. J. C. Cox.

Mrs. Harris took this opportunity to make some money for the new club building which is being erected by the Portales Woman's club and immediately stated the women would make as many pies as could be sold during the evening and a matter which had been started in jest resulted in a sum of $41 being realized for the club.

John W. Ballow, secretary, kept a list of the men buying the suggested pies and Saturday morning Mrs. Harris notified all the members of the club that the pastries would be called for Sunday morning at 9 o'clock.

Some of the men who had favored the pie line asked friends to give their specialties consideration and thus the novel pie supper proved a pleasant affair.

MOTHER'S DAY PROGRAM

The morning preaching hour at the Baptist church was given over last Sunday morning to the members of the Woman's Missionary Union, when the ladies gave a Mother's day program.

Mrs. J. S. Green was in charge of the arrangement of the several numbers and gave to the well filled house an instructive, interesting and impressive service.

The choir led the congregation in singing the first opening numbers. This was followed by the devotional services, in which Mrs. W. I. Maxwell read the scripture lesson and Charles Starkey gave the morning prayer.

Mrs. James Christie told of the origin of Mother's day. Seven members of the Bruce family gave a vocal selection. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce, four of their sons, and a daughter-in-law composed the chorus.

Mrs. M. B. Jones gave a reading, "The Empire of Mother." Misses Jewel and Ruby Webb followed this with a duet, "My Mother's Songs Have Followed Me."

F. D. Golden gave a talk on the subject, "Mothers' Contributions to the World." Mrs. Taylor McCasland, Mrs. M. B. Jones, H. A. Hunter and J. E. Wise appeared in a quartet number, after which Mrs. H. A. Hunter discussed "Problems Facing United Womanhood the Greatest in History."

The closing of the program was an impressive number in which "Mother's Green" was crowned queen of Mother's day.

This ceremony was given by some members from the junior department, of which Mrs. J. C. Compton is superintendent. About twelve little girls in white costumes and carrying stars gave the coronation ceremonies and placed the crown of flowers upon the head of the queen.

Mrs. Compton gave a musical reading, with Mrs. McCasland giving the solo portion of the number. Mrs. Jay Stone was the pianist.

The program closed with prayer by the queen mother.

In the evening the young people under the direction of Charles Starkey rendered a program commencing mothers. Evelyn Barnard was leader in the presentation and was assisted by Miss Mildred Stinnett, Miss Annie Sue Parrish, Miss Lorena Cutler, Mrs. Miller, Clarence and John Bruce. Miss Lois Webb was the pianist for this program.

BUSINESS WOMEN'S CLUB

Mrs. C. J. Whitcomb was elected president of the Business and Professional Women's club of Portales last Monday evening, when the ladies met in the Whitcomb home for supper and the regular business session.

Mrs. Whitcomb is one of the charter members of this club and has always been a capable and interested worker in other women's organizations of the city.

Miss Verda Oakley was selected as vice president, and will also serve as parliamentarian. Miss Norene Yeachum was chosen as recording secretary, Miss Eulah South, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Paul Jones, treasurer. Mrs. Paul Morrison and Mrs. James Christie are the newly elected directors.

The members gathered at 7:30 o'clock and the first hour was spent enjoying the delicious dinner which had been prepared by a committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Whitcomb.

This was the closing meeting of the year and reports were heard from the various chairmen. In addition to the very splendid programs that have been given each month, the club has done some civic and educational work which has been quite worth while.

After the election of officers they were placed into their positions with a simple little installation honor by Mrs. James Christie, the retiring president.

The next meeting of the club will be held with Mrs. Maud Smith on June 13, with Mrs. Ed J. Neer in charge of the program.

Mrs. J. B. King came in last Wednesday night from Slaton, Tex., and will visit for a while with her daughter, Mrs. J. C. Greaves.

MOTHER'S DAY SERMON

Mother's day was observed at the Methodist church last Sunday with a special sermon by the pastor, Rev. R. F. Davis, in which he gave the influence of the maternal parent in the Christian home and the non-Christian home.

The special music for the day was a solo by C. F. Brown, "My Mother's Song."

At Sunday school the class of young people from Mrs. Allen's department gave a chorus number which was a tribute to mothers.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our thanks and appreciation to our friends for their many deeds of kindness and words of sympathy during the illness and death of our dear sister, Mrs. H. E. Toombs, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Seltowright, Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Kellogg, Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Kellogg, Mrs. Alice Glenn, Miss Pauline Kellogg, Reese Kellogg.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. Elmer Harp gave a party at her home on Montana street last Monday afternoon celebrating the fourth birthday anniversary of her little daughter, Adele Bertram.

The games planned for the occasion consisted of stunts and plays which were most appropriate for children under the age of 10 years. The birthday cake held candles denoting the age of the little honoree and later this was served with the delicious ice cream.

Each of the little folks brought a gift to Adele and these were admired and appreciated greatly.

The children attending the party were Mabeth Ridings, Mary Elizabeth Hunt, Sonny Boy Youngblood, Dolly Jean Luna, Berwyn Slaton, Stella Fay, Junior and Elwanda Jones, Pauline and Robert Skinner, Lois Jo Brooks, Betty Lu Sherman, Kelgin and Adele Harp.

Mrs. Sydney Stone went to Elida Sunday and spent the day with Rev. and Mrs. M. M. Robinson. Special Mother's day services were held at the Baptist church at Elida, which Mrs. Stone attended.

Mrs. Evelyn Barnard entertained her friends, Misses Lois, Jewel and Ruby Webb, at dinner in the Barnard home last Sunday.
