FDIC to pay depositors of Security National

By ALLEN E. HOWLAND
Business/Oil Writer

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. will reopen the doors of the defunct Security National Bank 9 a.m. today for the first time since Thursday afternoon and begin paying off depositors of the failed bank.

Almost all depositors will receive government checks for the full balance of their insured accounts. All but 12 of the approximate 2,400 accounts were below the $100,000 limit, according to Bill Olcheski, FDIC spokesman in Washington.

The bank's doors will be open until 7 p.m. today, from noon until 6 p.m. Sunday, and from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., Monday through Friday until the payoff is complete.

This closing marks the first time in four Midland bank insolvencies since 1983 that a buyer has not been found to assume control of a failed institution. However, last July's collapse of Permian Bank & Trust in Odessa resulted in a similar pay out.

FDIC on-site closing supervisor Roy Engram explained that the weekend hours were established to accommodate former Security customers in "distress situations." He estimated that the former bank's staff of 12 employees will be able to process the closing of about 300 accounts per six- to eight-hour shift.

Because virtually all of the funds are insured, there is no reason for customers to stand in line to get their funds unless there is a pressing need.

Engram urged merchants and businessmen to be lenient and understanding in their handling of checks in transit at the time of the closing. "Once customers have received their funds and reopened new accounts elsewhere, they will be able to make good on their commitments," Engram said.

Checks in transit will be returned to merchants (or others who have deposited them) marked "Bank Closed," and account holders will need to make arrangements with the individuals and businesses holding the checks.

A random survey of Midland banks late Friday afternoon found few were planning extended lobby hours over the weekend to accommodate former Security customers.

Smith to deal with supercollider

By JANE MARLER DEES
Staff Writer

Smith

That Rep. Lamar Smith, R-San Antonio, will deal directly with legislation affecting the much-sought after "supercollider" project is smashing news for West Texans, he said Friday morning on his first swing back through Midland since taking office.

Smith also was in town to open his district office in the Wall Towers East building on Wall Avenue.

Smith said his position on the House Science and Technology Committee garnered him an assignment on the Energy Subcommittee — the group which makes final decisions on the whereabouts of the supercollider project.

Currently, there are 45 states in addition to Texas hoping to nab the project. Nine spots in Texas are vying for the supercollider. West Texans are pinning their hopes on a location near Garden City.

"I'm in an excellent position to keep up with it," the freshman Republican whip said. His office has established a "daily watch" committee to monitor project progress.

Smith said members of his staff will call, write or visit someone connected with the project daily so "we'll know we've done everything we could have."

He said the proposal drafted by the West Texas proponents looks to be about $2 billion less than others, of which most have come in with bids of around $6 billion.

That Illinois and California (also hoping to land the project) contain similar projects already should not affect the federal government's decision, Smith said. "On the basis of merit, we should seize the opportunity."

As the roundtable discussion with Midland Chamber of Commerce members slid onto the subject of oil, Smith claimed the federal government hasn't placed Texas' primary industry at the top of its agenda.

"Right now they're concerned with catastrophic health care, trade...and the deficit." Smith suggested looking for alternative ways of getting the oil out of the ground more cheaply because congressional passage of an oil import fee — though he's oft said he's adamantly in favor of it — doesn't seem imminent.

Smith's paychecks for the coming year will also reflect an increase of about $12,000, thanks to a pay raise passed "questionably" earlier this month.

Official says farm bill to be enacted with 'common sense'

By ED TODD
Staff Writer

BIG SPRING — Though unpopular with West Texas farmers, the conservation provisions of the 1985 Farm Bill will be implemented with "good judgment and common sense," said the chief Texas conservationist for the U.S. Soil Conservation Service.

Coy Garrett added that the federal government in carrying out the bill's provisions will be mindful of the "economic consequences" on farmers.

"We will not force a (soil conservation) plan on them (farmers)," Garrett, said Friday in the nation's first U.S. Congressional agriculture subcommittee hearing on the controversial bill.

He said that less than 15 percent of farmers "will have to modify their operations drastically to comply" with the conservation provisions, which apply to the more erodible soils.

Farmers have until 1990 to decide if they want to participate in the conservation program and to submit those plans to the SCS, which acts in an advisory role to the farmers.

Plans are to be implemented by 1995 and spot-checked thereafter by the U.S. Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS).

Though the conservation plan is optional, farmers who decide not comply will be denied price supports. And without U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) price support, most farmers would be out of business.

"We can't survive without government assistance," said Darrell Merrick, president of the Lamesa Cotton Growers Association.

Approximately 210 farmers turned out for the hearing in the Howard College's Dorothy Garrett Coliseum. But by mid-morning, many had left. Some farmers viewed the hearing as routine and "political."

Wilson Scaling, chief of the SCS in Washington D.C., said that West Texas "is leading the nation" in applications for the compliance provisions, which will take "highly erodible land out of production."

"I sincerely believe that the intent of this program can be achieved without imposing unreasonable economic costs on the producers," he said.

Scaling noted compliance plans would be customized. Plans would include planting cover crops, letting the soil rest, strip-cropping, terracing, planting cross to the prevailing wind, and building waterways.

"What will work here won't work 50 miles down the road," Scaling observed. "We want to implement with good common sense."

Tower Commission to delay asking McFarlane to testify

By PEGGY ROBERSON
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The Tower Commission will wait to hear from former National Security Adviser Robert C. McFarlane, recovering from a drug overdose in Bethesda Naval Hospital, before inviting him back for more testimony on the Iran-contra affair, the commission spokesman said Thursday.

McFarlane, 49, the son of a deceased Texas congressman, was scheduled to appear for a second day of testimony before the Tower Commission on Monday, the day he was rushed to Bethesda Naval Hospital after taking 20-40 tablets of the tranquilizer Valium.

Before joining the State Department and then the White House staff, where he moved up rapidly to head the National Security Council, McFarlane was for two years former Texas Republican Sen. John Tower's top aide on the Senate Armed Services Committee. According to another former Tower staffer, McFarlane was hired on the recommendation of Tower's armed services counsel Rhett Dawson, who is now chief of staff of the Tower Commission.

President Reagan selected Tower to head the special White House commission to examine NSC operations in light of revelations that members of the advisory agency's staff had masterminded the arms-for-hostages deal with Iran.

McFarlane Thursday was reported to be lucid. A person familiar with his condition, quoted in The New York Times Thursday, said he is prepared to continue his cooperation with congressional and White House investigations.

By the time the story of the arms sale broke last November, McFarlane had been gone from the NSC for over a year. But, according to White House spokesman Marlin Fitzwater, he continued to serve as a consultant and kept a White House telephone and computer terminal in his Bethesda home until the FBI disconnected it the day Attorney Gen. Edwin Meese III announced the discovery that Iranian arms sales proceeds had been transferred to a Swiss bank for use by Nicaraguan resistance forces.

McFarlane is the only former NSC official who has testified under oath before congressional committees about his knowledge of the arms sale.

According to a Texan who knew McFarlane both at the Senate and the White House, he is a "sterling individual," who was distressed that his testimony contradicted that of the president and White House Chief of Staff Donald Regan on the president's knowledge and involvement in the affair.

Unidentified friends and associates, who are familiar with McFarlane's state of mind, were quoted as saying he has been worried about the effect the controversy will have on his career.

McFarlane was graduated from the Naval Academy, did graduate work in strategic studies in Switzerland, and advanced through the grades to the rank of lieutenant colonel in the Marine Corps. He served in Vietnam, Japan and Korea.

Selected for a special White House fellowship, he was noticed by officials and served in various capacities under presidents Nixon, Ford, Carter and Reagan. After working for Tower, he went to the State Department as an assistant to then-Secretary Alexander Haig and served as Reagan's special representative in the Middle East in 1983.

Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Beaumont, a member of the special House committee appointed to investigate the arms controversy, said, "McFarlane has nothing to fear from us if he just tells the truth."

Brooks was acquainted with McFarlane's father, former Democratic Rep. William D. McFarlane, from Graham, who represented Central Texas' 17th District from 1933 to 1939. Robert McFarlane was born in Washington in 1937.

"If the son is like his father, he's straight as a string," Brooks added.

The former congressman was a special assistant to the attorney general in Texarkana, Texas, and again ran unsuccessfully for Congress in 1951.

Board says search didn't violate law, policy

By JULIE HILLRICHS
Staff Writer

Farris

Whether a Midland Freshman High School student was "strip searched" remained in dispute Friday after the board of education ruled no violation of procedure, policy, or law by school personnel had occurred in the matter.

"We cannot and will not discuss any specifics of this case because we are compelled by law to protect the privacy of students and staff," school board President Bill Jackson told reporters after a two-hour, closed-door session.

"After a thorough investigation by the administration and examination by the board, we have determined that (Midland Independent School District) personnel did not violate any procedure, policy, or law in the recent search of a secondary student," he said.

The recent allegations against the MISD regarding the search of the freshman student has led to a closer inspection of a school district's authority to conduct searches to protect students and staff from crime and misconduct.

"I'm strongly opposed to strip searches," Midlander Vernon Williams told trustees in open session.

Williams, the father of three children, said he knows "for a fact that three students have been subjected to strip searches."

"If you're not aware of this, you're not doing a very good job as school board members," he said.

Judy Farris, the mother of a 14-year-old boy, said she "commends" the board's goals, but "questions" its methods.

"We all want a drug-free Midland," she said, "but no one asked you to wipe out all teen-age problems."

Coretta King encouraged by $7 million award against KKK

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Civil rights leaders Friday hailed an all-white jury's $7 million judgment against the United Klans of America for the beating death of a black teen-ager, with some calling it an "unequivocal message" to the KKK.

Coretta Scott King said she was "heartened and encouraged" that the jury "had the courage and decency to take a strong stand against racist violence. Let this decision serve notice that Klan terrorism will no longer be tolerated anywhere in America."

A federal jury returned the judgment Thursday against the nation's largest Klan group in a suit brought by Beulah Mae Donald, whose 19-year-old son, Michael, was slain by two United Klans members.

The money, Mrs. Donald said, "won't bring my child back. But I'm glad they caught the guilty and brought them to court, because I did everything I could to help."

Donald's corpse was hanged lynch-style in a tree on March 21, 1981. He had been abducted at random because he was black and killed to "show Klan strength in Alabama," a former Klansman testified.

The jury deliberated 4½ hours before returning the $7 million award against the corporate Klan and six of its present or former members, including two who were sent to prison for killing Donald.

The NAACP was originally a plaintiff with Mrs. Donald, but bowed out after winning an injunction against the Klan on Jan. 22. The injunction restricted United Klans activities that intimidate blacks, such as wearing robes or burning crosses in public.

The Rev. Joseph Lowery, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference in Atlanta, called it "probably the most significant verdict in history toward the Klan as an organization.

"This judgment, which holds the organization responsible for the criminal acts of its members, ought to send a clear, loud, unequivocal message that the judicial system and the American people condemn the violence and crime and terror of the Klan."

Irwin Suall, a Klan expert with the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai Brith in New York City, said the verdict could ruin United Klans, the most secretive of several rival Klan organizations with about 2,500 members in the Southeast.

Suall said United Klans already is so financially pressed that it can no longer pay the salary of Imperial Wizard Robert Shelton, who "had to go back to work as a car salesman."

Shelton was not named a defendant but represented the United Klans, which was a defendant, because of his post as its chief officer.

He shrugged off the suit as a "show trial," and United Klans called no witnesses. Shelton had no comment on the verdict. His attorney, John Mays of Decatur, said he had not decided whether to appeal.

Morris Dees, an attorney for Mrs. Donald, said he expects the verdict will bankrupt the Klan. According to the lawsuit, the Klan has no assets other than a $100,000 building in Tuscaloosa it shares with the Anglo Saxon Club and uses a bank account named Alabama Rescue Service.

Mrs. Donald claims the assets of the Anglo Saxon Club Inc. are the assets of United Klans and that the two corporations are the same.

U.S. District Judge Alex Howard will hold a hearing later to determine the value of United Klans' assets.

The suit was filed under the federal Civil Rights Act, alleging the defendants conspired to kill Donald.

Klansman Henry Francis Hays, 34, received a death sentence in 1984 for killing Donald. KKK member James "Tiger" Knowles, 24, was sentenced to life in prison that same year after pleading guilty to violating Donald's civil rights.

The other defendants were Klansman Bennie Jack Hays, 70, father of the man on death row; and former Klansmen Frank Cox, Hays' son-in-law; Thaddeus Betancourt and William O'Connor. Cox was charged with murder conspiracy in 1984, but the charge was dismissed because the state statute of limitations had expired.

Lost Antarctic research station found floating on huge ice block

By THEODORE SHABAD

New York Times News Service

NEW YORK — Soviet scientists peering over satellite photographs have found an Antarctic research station that disappeared last fall when a piece of ice shelf with the outpost broke away from the Antarctic continent.

According to reports in the Soviet press, the missing station was spotted on a huge block of ice in the Weddell Sea that appeared on images transmitted to earth stations by Soviet photographic satellites.

The loss of the station, Druzhnaya 1, which served as a base for seasonal geological surveys and was unoccupied when it vanished, was discovered in early October just as another annual Soviet Antarctic expedition was about to set out from Leningrad.

The original space imagery showed that a piece of ice, 60 by 120 miles, had broken off from the Filchner Ice Shelf, on which the station had been established more than 10 years ago. At the time it was not clear whether the station, with its equipment and supplies, had been swallowed up by the sea or had been carried away on an iceberg.

A Soviet Antarctic research official said in an interview with the Moscow newspaper Pravda, published last month, that an effort would be made to salvage some of the equipment and supplies for use in a new seasonal station.

Construction of the new station is scheduled to start during the present Antarctic summer season — corresponding to winter in the Northern Hemisphere — and a tentative site has been proposed in the area of Cape Norvegia, 700 miles northeast of the original site.

The Soviet official, Artur N. Chilingarov, said scientists would try to determine whether the original station on the floating iceberg could be used temporarily pending construction of the new outpost.

Navy fleeing threat of earthquake

By STEPHEN R. WILSON

POZZUOLI, Italy (AP) — The incessant earthquakes and volcanic tremors that have driven tens of thousands of people out of this scenic port are forcing the largest and most prominant tenant — the U.S. Navy — to seek safer ground.

While experts differ on the risks of a devastating eruption or earthquake, the Navy wants to move its 6th Fleet support base and 10,000 personnel from an area called Agnano on the edge of Pozzuoli, a picturesque Bay of Naples fishing port where the actress Sophia Loren grew up.

The move would be a major economic blow to the community. A Navy spokesman says the Navy spent $3.8 million last year in rent for the facility and paid $5.8 million in salaries, including nearly $1 million to Italian employees.

Pozzuoli literally sits atop a volcano. It is the only inhabited place on earth afflicted by bradyseism, a rising or sinking of the Earth's crust caused by a mass of molten rock churning below.

The phenomenon has plagued the area off and on for millennia. The historic town center sits on a 400-foot hill, Monte Nuovo, formed by a volcanic eruption in 1538.

In recent years, the bradyseism has occurred at an alarming rate, causing Pozzuoli to rise 6 feet from 1982 to 1984.

The uplift was accompanied by thousands of tremors, including a quake of 4.2 on the Richter scale in October 1983 that caused heavy damage and forced the evacuation of more than half of the 70,000 residents.

Today, much of the town center is held up by scaffolding and braces. Cracked walls adorn the deserted schools, shops and apartment buildings that give Pozzuoli a ghost-town air.

No seismic activity has been recorded since early 1985, but 30,000 residents have chosen not to return. Many have been relocated at a new housing project at Monte Ruscello, a relatively non-seismic hilltop about a mile away.

Other residents, whose families have lived in Pozzuoli for generations because of its prime fishing and its mild climate, refuse to leave.

"When the quakes were strongest, we slept in the ticket booth for the ferry, but we are not moving from this house," said Raffaella Coppola, 59, mother of five children.

Although no one has been killed by the tremors in Pozzuoli, there is a permanent stark symbol visible across the bay: Mount Vesuvius, whose mammoth eruption buried Pompeii in ash in A.D. 79.

The latest to feel Pozzuoli's threat is the U.S. Navy, whose 55-acre complex in the town periphery has been the administrative nerve-center for 6th Fleet operations in the Mediterranean since 1963.

The Naval Support Activity base stands on the edge of Solfatara, a volcanic crater that spews jets of steam, sulfurous fumes and hot mud.

"I look out of my window and see steam rising out of vents and smell sulfur all the time," said Lt. Dave Morris, the Navy spokesman.

Under project "PRONTO" (Proposed Relocation of Naples Total Operation), the Navy is seeking $290 million in congressional funding to build a new base on sturdier land.

Capua, about 20 miles north of Naples, is a proposed site. The Italian government is negotiating with landowners to purchase the area, which would be leased to the Navy.

If funding is approved by Congress this spring, construction could begin in 1988 and be completed by 1994, Morris said.

Navy engineers have testified before Congress that the area is vulnerable to an earthquake as disastrous as the one in Mexico in 1985 that killed 7,000 people.

"Major seismic activity is expected and will result in serious damage...which will be followed by a brittle, sudden and catastrophic failure of the structures," Dr. Michael Yachnis, chief of the Navy's engineering command in Alexandria, Va., told the House Armed Services appropriations committee last year.

"Volcanic activity — uplift and tremors — will resume and in the long term eruption will occur," he said.

Giuseppe Luongo, a geologist at the University of Naples who is considered the foremost expert on the Pozzuoli problem, does not agree with the U.S. engineers' conclusions.

"I think it is possible to live without high risk at this moment in Agnano," he said in an interview. "We don't observe any upheaval or seismic activity now."

Luongo noted that the last earthquake felt in Pozzuoli came in December 1984. Since January 1985, the volcanic activity has stopped, and the ground has fallen 11 inches.

Legislators say economy most pressing problem

By RICK BROWN
Assistant City Editor

In a week that saw Midland greet two federal legislators — Republican Sen. Phil Gramm and Rep. Lamar Smith of San Antonio — state legislators also were active with constituent meetings in the city.

State Sen. Bill Sims, D-San Angelo, and Reps. Tom Craddick, R-Midland, and Gary Watkins, D-Odessa, gave legislative updates to a Friday luncheon meeting of the Leadership Midland Alumni Association.

All three legislators agreed the most pressing problem facing the Legislature was the state economic crisis. Comptroller Bob Bullock has predicted the state will face a $5.8 billion budgetary shortfall in the 1977-1988 fiscal year.

Craddick told luncheon guests of a meeting last week between Gov. Bill Clements and 15 legislators that the Midland representative attended. Clements during the meeting conveyed his views on budgetary proposals his office announced last week.

The Midland representative said Clements vowed to veto any budgetary measure that changes the bottom line of the state budget his office announced last week. However, the body of Clements' budget above the bottom line remains open to change, according to Craddick.

Sims said that many Texans believe statehouse Democrats will fight the governor on his budgetary proposals, but the state senator said it's "not so."

However, Sims expected Clements to call "a special session or two" because of the "complexity and size" of the budgetary problem.

Watkins took the opportunity to lobby support for legislation that he predicted "would be to higher education what the last regular session was to public education."

He said the legislation probably would propose a "tiered approach" to the state university and college system.

The highest tier of the system — to include Texas A&M, the University of Texas and possibly one or two other schools — would contain the major arms of academic research in Texas.

A second tier made up of the remaining four-year universities would primarily be concerned with bachelors and master degrees.

The third tier would be made up of the community college network that includes Midland, Odessa and Howard Colleges.

He added hopes that no state budgetary solutions would include "raiding" of the Permanent University Fund, a hope that Sims and Craddick echoed.

FARMERS

Farmers, whom he described as "true environmentalists," may have to "change your management style a little bit" because of the program.

The provisions were not popular in all quarters.

"It's ridiculous; it was a political move," J.D. Crawford, a Midland farmer with bank and ranching interests, said of the provisions. "Farmers don't need any more (governmental) personnel to put up with either," he said.

Crawford is chairman of the Midland Soil and Water Conservation District.

The chairman, who did not appear before the subcommittee, also was miffed that Texas farmers were not asked for their input by legislators who drafted the Farm Bill provisions.

"We definitely weren't (consulted)," he said. "We just went to sleep at the wheel is what happened."

The bill's conservation aspect is a form of land-use control by the government, he said.

"What has burned me up is they (congressmen) did not take a poll of local (Soil and Water Conservation) districts," Crawford said. "The Farm Bill is land-use legislation. They'll keep tightening it down until they control the land."

Many farmers admit that they are in a dilemma. They would prefer price supports without control. But without price supports, they could not afford to farm. And they dislike the governmental controls which qualify them for price supports.

U.S. Congressman Ed Jones, 74, a former Tennessee dairyman and chairman of the Subcommittee on Conservations, Credit and Rural Development, chaired the hearing. Seated with him were Congressmen Charles Stenholm, 48, a Stamford farmer; Larry Combest, 41, a Lubbock businessman, and Tom Coleman, 43, a Kansas City, Mo., lawyer.

They listened to pre-selected panels of farmers, lobbyists, representatives of farmers organizations, a banker, and USDA officials.

"I've been a conservationist all of my life," said Jones. "I believe there is no more important mission in agriculture."

"Farmers are the greatest conservationists in the world," Combest said.

Stamford's Ed Ekdahl, president of the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers Association, said farmers "all are for conservation." And to vote against soil conservation "would be like voting against Mom and apple pie. The land is what makes them (farmers) a living."

However, the farmer can best determine "what will conserve his land and make him a living," Ekdahl said. He suggested that the Farm Bill conservation provisions would be "extremely dangerous to the freedoms that this country stand for."

St. Lawrence cotton farmer Clifford Hoelscher said "conservation compliance doesn't sound bad, because farmers believe in conservation."

He is president of the Texas Association of Cotton Producers Organizations and is executive director of the St. Lawrence Cotton Growers Association.

But Hoelscher, who said he has "mixed emotions" about the Farm Bill, said "We realize the law is in place and not much can be done about that." But "how it is administered will determine what we can live with."

"I am publicly opposed to it. I'd vote to rescind it and would welcome legislation to reverse it. It's inappropriate when Texas and West Texas is hurting. I also objected to the way it was done...there were some back-door tricks.

"What's more...it's embarrassing to Congress as an institution."

BANK

However, spokesman Jerry King said that First City National Bank will open the walk-in portion of its motor bank lobby from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. today. Midland American Bank executive vice president Steve Holt said his bank wasn't planning extended hours today, but will stay open as long as customer demand dictates. Other city banks will reopen Tuesday morning following the Presidents' Day banking holiday.

After nearly 24 hours of searching and negotiation Friday, as a 1:30 deadline for closing a deal on the bank expired, the FDIC's board of directors voted to declare a full deposit pay out of the 2,400 Security accounts, Engram said.

He added that the local FDIC team made every effort to get the bank reopened to begin paying off depositors Friday afternoon, but was unable to do so. "We felt sure that the protracted negotiations in Dallas boded well that a buyer would assume the bank. When the board declared the pay out, it was just too difficult to change gears in midstream and get the bank open by the end of the day," Engram said.

The 12 uninsured accounts totaled only about $41,000 in excess funds, Olcheski said, and those account holders will be paid on a pro rata basis from excess proceeds — if any — from the liquidation of the bank's tangible assets.

Liquidation of the bank will not begin in earnest until the account claims procedure is more fully worked out, Engram said.

No decisions have yet been made by liquidators as to whether there will be bulk sales of Security's $5 million loan portfolio or other assets. The bank did not have a trust department or safe deposit boxes, which means the liquidation will be less complicated than the Permian liquidation in Odessa last summer.

SEARCH

The MISD policy states that the courts "at all levels have held that a cause for search of students possessions or persons by school officials at school need not be so strong as the cause for search of individuals by law officers."

At the same time, however, the policy states "individual students' possessions or persons will not be searched without a reasonable suspicion that illegal or dangerous items are be concealed."

Superintendent Joseph P. Baressi Jr. told the Reporter-Telegram earlier this week that MISD students are rarely asked to submit to a search and, under no circumstance, are required to do so.

"By and large, our kids are good kids. They are clean kids. It's a rare occasion when we ask to search somebody," he said.

Although Baressi said MISD officials have asked students to remove articles of clothing in a search, he added it has "never" conducted a "strip search (removal of all clothing for inspection)."

"I can't imagine there would be a strip search in this (school) community and us not know about it," he said.

Baressi said school surveillance also varies from random and unannounced inspections of lockers and desks to isolated searches of bookbags, purses and other property.

So far this year, the superintendent said school officials have uncovered 35 incidences of students possessing illegal drugs, alcohol, weapons and other paraphernalia as the result of district-wide searches of all types.

Of those, he reported that 19 were marijuana-related and 14 were alcohol-related. Also seized were one weapon and drug parapheralia.

Rod Schoen, an American Civil Liberties Union attorney in Lubbock, said most courts probably would apply the U.S. Supreme Court's criteria of reasonableness to searches of student lockers, desks, outer clothing and cars parked on school grounds.

But he warned of strip searches, predicting the courts would frown on them because of their "intrusive" nature, especially in light of the young age of students.

"Whenever an individual is required to take off his clothes, it's certainly a matter of degree," he told the Reporter-Telegram. "Inspection of body orifices is certainly more intrusive than a pat down (search)."

In other business, trustees authorized the district to seek outside funding to participate in the All-Star Program — a positive peer leadership exercise aimed at fighting substance abuse and other non-productive behavior among students.

The three-day program, temporarily slated for August, is expected to cost about $50,000, officials said.

Midland, Ector lawmen arrest four men, seize pot

From Staff Reports

Police Roundup

ODESSA — A joint effort between Midland and Ector County lawmen resulted in the arrests of four men and the seizure of marijuana valued at $128,000 late Friday, according to authorities.

Midland County Sheriff Gary Painter said Ruben Lopez Rayos, 36, 2811 Hammett, Odessa; Richard Munoz Rodriguez, 29, 1204 S. County Road, Odessa; and Juan Reyes, 33, County Road 1150, Midland, were being held Friday nightin lieu of $75,000 bond each. All were charged with delivery of marijuana.

Bond was set by Justice of the Peace R.G. Hungerford, Painter said.

A 16-year-old juvenile also was arrested and remains in custody, he said.

The arrests occurred about 6 p.m. at a residence in the 2800 block of Hammett, after a Midland County undercover officer scheduled a drug buy, the sheriff said.

"We have been working on it for two weeks," said Painter. "And today they made contact with the individuals."

The men offered no resistance, and none of them were armed, he said.

Eighty-five pounds of "good grade" marijuana in kilo-sized bricks were seized from a home in the 2800 block of Hammett, according to the sheriff. Two automobiles were also seized, he said.

"I do know that this came up from the Mexican border. It was smuggled across and brought up in this area."

Painter said the Ector County Sheriff's office, Odessa Police Department, and Department of Public Safety narcotics division also participated in the operation.

In other reports, Midland police are investigating a burglary that occurred at Advantage Storage, located at the intersection of Lamesa Road and Solomon Lane. According to reports, a computer disk drive valued at $13,500 and a computer printer valued at $6,380 were reported stolen sometime between Christmas Day and Friday.

Police also are investigating the burglary of an automobile in the 2400 block of Whitmire Boulevard. Reports said an AM-FM cassette stereo valued at $80 and two speakers valued at $73 were reported stolen.

According to sheriff's department reports, Midland County lawmen are investigating the burglary of the Sears warehouse on West Highway 80. Investigators said two videocassette camera recorders valued at $3,000 were reported stolen.

The sheriff's office also is investigating the burglary of a residence near County Road 1213 and CR 160 East. According to reports, a 21-inch color television valued at $600 was stolen from the residence after someone pried the front door open. The burglary occurred Thursday between 9:15 a.m. and 1 p.m., reports said.

A videocassette recorder valued at $320 was reported stolen from a mobile home park in south Midland County. According to reports, the burglary occurred Thursday just before 1 p.m.

Coors Beer Distributing launches aluminum can drive

From Staff Reports

"Recycling aluminum to recycle life" is the theme of Coors Beer Distributing Co.'s beverage can drive to benefit the Permian Basin Rehabilitation Center.

Coors officials said just 12 percent of the cans used in the Permian Basin are recycled, the rest being left in trash cans and on streets.

For each pound of aluminum cans collected (about 24 cans), Coors officials will donate 26 cents, they said in a Friday morning press conference. Their goal is to collect 100,000 pounds of cans — or $26,000 — by March 8, the date of the annual PBRC telethon.

Ten fire stations in the Midland-Odessa area will serve as drop off sites for can collection. In addition, the Midland Jaycees will pick up aluminum cans on March 8 from 8 a.m. until noon.

Other organizations involved in the project are Clean Midland, Litterbusters of Odessa, the Texas Deparment of Highways and Public Transportation's Adopt a Highway program, and the Midland and Odessa chambers of commerce.

American Moselm has messages for three hostages from families

WORLD

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — An American Moslem seeking to win the release of Americans held hostage in Lebanon said Friday he would travel to Beirut this weekend with messages for three of the captives from their families.

Mohammed Mehdi, secretary-general of the New York-based National Council for Islamic Affairs, said he also would try to find Anglican Church envoy Terry Waite. Waite disappeared in Lebanon Jan. 20 during a missing to negotiate the release of foreign hostages.

Mehdi visited Beirut and Damascus on a similar mission in December, but met only with politicians and clergymen, not with hostage-holders.

Twenty-six foreigners, including eight Americans, are missing in Lebanon and believed held by underground groups, most of them Shiite Moslem extremists.

Mehdi said he was carrying letters for American hostages Joseph Ciccipio and Frank Reed from their families.

Ciccipio and another American, Edward Austin Tracy, are held by the Revolutionary Justice Organization. Reed's abduction was claimed by the Arab Revolutionary Cells-Omar Mukhtar Forces.

Mehdi also said he had a verbal message for American hostage Terry Anderson from his sister, Peggy Say. Anderson, chief Middle East correspondent of The Associated Press, and Thomas Sutherland, acting dean of agriculture at the American University of Beirut, have been held since 1985 by Islamic Jihad.

Mehdi said he planned to travel to Beirut today.

He said he was carrying a "hostages for peace" proposal which he hoped to convey to the kidnappers of the eight Americans. It was not clear whether he had discussed his intentions with U.S. government officials.

Mehdi proposed that the United States ask Israel to withdraw from southern Lebanon and order Israel not to use U.S.-made weapons in "its attacks on Lebanon's sovereignty."

Israel withdrew from Lebanon in 1985, but has maintained what it calls a "security zone" several miles wide in southern Lebanon.

One group of hostage-holders has demanded the release of 400 Arab prisoners held by Israel in exchange for the release of foreign hostages.

1787 Constitution Daybook

Associated Press

Wednesday, Feb. 14, 1787
PHILADELPHIA TODAY

Today's Pennsylvania Gazette printed sundry accounts of the late Shays' Rebellion in Massachusetts.

Stuart and Barr, Philadelphia shippers, reported to John Gray Blount of North Carolina, that "Trade Here is Truly Discouraging at present and the Value of Vessells has fell amazeingly with us."

Charles Cist, printer in Race Street between Front and Second streets, offered a new book: "A Treatice on the Venereal Disease, By the celebrated and ingenious Mr. John Hunter of London, Abridged."

In a letter to Richard Price, Dr. Benjamin Rush wrote: "Our Legislature at their last session, have adopted part of the plan for the establishment of schools in Pennsylvania...They have granted a charter and 10,000 acres of land to a college in Lancaster (66 miles from Philadelphia) for the benefit of the Germans." This college was to become Franklin College to honor Benjamin Franklin's very handsome endowment.

CONFEDERATION TODAY

In Congress, "An Ordinance for regulating the Post Office of the United States" was read for the first time. The cost of carrying all letters, packets and dispatches was to be at the following rates: for any distance not exceeding 60 miles, one penny worth; upwards of 100 and not exceeding 200 miles two penny worth; and for all single letters to Europe, four penny worth. (A penny worth is calculated at five-ninetieths of a dollar.) To encourage "the circulation of useful intelligence," the printers of newspapers were allowed to send one copy to another printer without charge. Franking privileges were allowed for Congress and government departments.

Thomas Jefferson wrote from Paris to Minister of Foreign Affairs John Jay in New York that the Count de Vergennes had died. He was the minister of foreign affairs of France.

Secretary of War Henry Knox wrote from New York to his friend, Gen. Benjamin Lincoln:

"The Convention proposed by the commercial convention last September to meet in Philadelphia in May next engrosses a great portion of the attention of the men of reflection — Some are for and some are against it, but the preponderance of opinion is for it. None of the New England States have yet chosen, and it appears quite problematical whether any will choose, unless Massachusetts."

DELEGATES TODAY

Dr. Rush, in his letter to Richard Price, wrote: "A convention is to set in this city on the tenth of next May to devise a method of strengthening the federal Government...General Washington will probably preside in it."

Benjamin Hopkinson, writing to his friend, John Langdon of Portsmouth, N.H., from Demaray, Jamaica, was shipping a box of oranges and a barrel of shaddock to his friend. Shaddock was a citrus fruit grown in Jamaica. Hopkinson also discusses possibilities of continuing lumber shipments to the West Indies.

LOOKING BACK
Shay's Rebellion
— Another Perspective

Many delegates to the Convention were badly frightened with the spectre of revolution raised by Shays' Rebellion. Gen. Henry Knox, secretary of war under the Articles of Confederation, with the aid of his extensive intelligence network, spread accounts of the rebellion throughout the states. States as far south as Pennsylvania felt impelled to add to the rewards Massachusetts offered for capture of conspirators.

The noted advocate of democracy, Thomas Jefferson, was unmoved by the hysteria. On Dec. 24, 1786, Jefferson wrote from Paris to Ezra Stiles, president of Yale:

"The commotions which have taken place in America, as far as they are yet known to me, offer nothing threatening. They are a proof that the people have liberty enough, and I could not wish them less than they have. If the happiness of the mass of the people can be secured at the expence of a little tempest now and then, or even of a little blood, it will be a precious purchase.

"Malo libertatum periculosam quam quietam servitutem. Let common sense and common honesty have fair play, and they will soon set things to rights..."

This excerpt, printed in the New Haven Gazette, was widely circulated over the next months, appearing in at least 12 other newspapers.

Jefferson elaborated on the need for revolution as a guarantee of the peoples' rights in a letter to John Adams' son-in-law, William Stevens Smith:

"The tree of liberty must be refreshed from time to time with the blood of patriots and tyrants. It is the natural manure."

Both references to blood as the price of liberty had their roots in the classics of Rome and Greece. Jefferson took his thoughts from Tertullian's "Apologeticus," written in third century Rome. This was but one small example of the extensive education of the founders.

NATION IN BRIEF

Children's chairs recalled because paint has lead

WASHINGTON (AP) — Children's chairs sold in Texas, Missouri and Arizona are being recalled because the paint contains lead, the Consumer Product Safety Commission announced Friday.

Involved are about 9,000 wooden chairs imported from Mexico in 1985. The commisssion said the chairs are painted red with straw seats. Multicolored flowers are painted on the chairs.

The chairs were imported by De Llano's Mexican Products of Laredo, Texas, and sold for about $1.50 each, the commission said.

No injuries have been reported, but the recall was instituted because the paint on the chairs contains as much as 1.15 percent lead. Federal law limits lead to 0.06 percent because of the danger of poisoning if children eat the paint.

Consumers should return the chairs to the store where purchased for a refund, the commission said. Those needing further information can call De Llano's Mexican Products at 512-722-1775 or the Safety Commission at 800-638-CPSC.

More assault charges filed

DENVER (AP) — New charges have been filed against a teen-ager who was accused of being involved in a series of golf-club attacks last month.

Sixteen additional counts have been filed against Gerald Graham, Chief Deputy Denver District Attorney Mike Little said Thursday.

Graham, 18, who is in jail on $1 million bond, was charged on Wednesday with counts involving seven victims, including robbery, aggravated robbery, attempted aggravated robbery and second-degree assault, authorities said.

Graham and a juvenile were arrested in the series of assaults last week after they were spotted leaving a stolen car in which police later found golf clubs. Several other juveniles were arrested the next night.

Climber's dad against bill

SALEM, Ore. (AP) — The father of one of the students who died in the Mount Hood climbing accident last May said Friday he opposes a bill to require mountaineers to carry altimeters and locating devices.

"No piece of equipment is a substitute for good judgment," said Don McClave, whose daughter Susan died with six other students and two teachers in the school expedition.

McClave said the primary cause of the accident was that the party continued when bad weather and common sense should have persuaded them to turn back.

The bill would require guides and outfitters to comply with mandatory equipment lists drawn up by the state Emergency Management Division.

Customers lose their shirts

LAKEWOOD, Colo. (AP) — Angry customers said sheriff's officials took them to the cleaners when they dumped clothes on the street after evicting a laundry owner.

Passing motorists made off with whatever took their fancy.

Jefferson County sheriff's spokesman Bob Deutsch said deputies were following the law when they piled the clothing outside Scotch Professional Dry Cleaning.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Opposition group says guerrillas wounded brother of Iran president

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — An Iranian opposition group said Friday its guerrillas wounded the brother of Iran's president in an attack with hand grenades and machine guns in a northeastern Iranian city.

The Mujahedeen Khalq announced in statement sent by telex from its Paris headquarters that Hadi Khamenei, brother of President Ali Khamenei, was among about 50 people wounded in the attack.

It said the guerrillas struck Wednesday in Mashad, firing their weapons and throwing hand grenades in Khosravi Street, just off the central Abb Square.

In addition to Khamenei, the wounded included a Col. Mozaffari, a mullah named Samadi and 50 Islamic Revolutionary Guards, the statement claimed.

Hadi Khamenei, chairman of the economic affairs committee in the Iranian parliament, is being treated at Mashad's Ghaem hospital while Mozaffari was taken to Khorasan's 77th division base hospital, the statement added.

Ex-governor of Guam convicted

AGANA, GUAM (AP) — A former governor of the U.S. territory of Guam was convicted Friday of accepting $70,000 in bribes to help finance a failed 1986 bid for re-election.

Ricardo J. Bordallo also was convicted of trying to cover up the bribe and influence the testimony of a major witness in the case.

A federal court jury deliberated five days before convicting Bordallo of 10 counts of a 17-count indictment.

Bordallo, 59, went on trial Jan. 12, charged with extortion, bribery, witness tampering and conspiracy to obstruct justice.

Japanese businessmen who wanted to use government land for a scrap metal business paid Bordallo $60,000 between December 1984 and January 1986.

President: Signs of recovery good

TAPACHULA, Mexico (AP) — Signs are good for an economic recovery this year, dependiong on the response of the private sector, President Miguel de la Madrid said during a two-day visit to this southern city.

The president spoke to governors from seven southern states on Thursday. He said he hoped the private sector would react to government programs positively and increase investment by 15 percent in real terms.

The president called on the governors to help encourage all sectors of society to work toward an economic reactivation that is expected mostly in the second half of the year.

"This increase cannot come by itself," de la Madrid said. "It only will come if we establish the macroeconomic conditions on the one hand, and this is the responsibility of the federal government, but also the very concrete and detailed conditions, above all the psychological climate needed, so that there might be a reanimation."

The government has targeted a growth rate of 2 percent to 3 percent this year after a fall of about 3 percent to 4 percent in 1986, largely the result of a further fall in international oil prices. Economic crisis has marked de la Madrid's entire term in office, which started in December 1982.

Sikh wanted in connection with massace of Hindus killed by police

AMRITSAR, India (AP) — A Sikh extremist wanted in connection with the massacre of 22 Hindus was killed Friday in a shootout with police, authorities said.

Manjit Singh Khajala, was the main suspect in the Nov. 30 slayings of passengers on a bus in the Hoshiarpur district. The massacre, the bloodiest single attack in the five-year Sikh separatist campaign, touched off anti-Sikh riots.

A senior police official who spoke on condition of anonymity said police were tipped that Khajala was hiding in a village near the Sikh holy city of Amritsar. The village was encircled. When Khajala was stopped by police he opened fire, the official said. Police returned fire and killed him.

Khajala was the chief of the Khalistan Armed Police, one of a number of separatist groups fighting for a Sikh homeland in Punjab state. Khalistan, the name Sikh militants give their envisioned nation, is Punjabi for "land of the pure."

In other developments in the troubled Punjab state, Sikhs expressed support for a state official who was excommunicated by five Sikh priests after he refused to resign from the government.

One critic of the decision said the priests had acted out of "political vengeance."

Scores of Sikh organizations have issued statements in support of Surjit Singh Barnala, the chief minister of Punjab who was excommunicated on Wednesday in a move that appeared aimed at toppling his government.

The priests had demanded that he resign from his elected post to clear the way for a reorganization of the Akali Dal Party under the priests' control. Barnala heads the ruling, moderate faction of the party.

The priests, backed by militants, have ordered all Akali Dal legislators to pledge loyalty to the new party by Saturday or face religious penalties.

But the legislators on Friday authorized Barnala to take "appropriate steps to deal with any situation in the state," the United News of India reported.

Kushwant Singh, a leading Sikh intellectual and historian, wrote Friday in the Hindustan Times daily that the high priests had reduced their religious authority "to an instrument of political vengeance."

WEATHER SUMMARY

Chance of rain in forecast

From Staff and Wire Reports

Clouds are expected to roll in and a chance of rain will linger throughout the weekend, according to the National Weather Service at Midland Regional Air Terminal.

Today will be partly cloudy with a slight chance of showers. The high will be in the upper 70s. The winds will be from the south-southwest at 10-15 mph, increasing to 15-25 mph and gusting after noon. The chance of rain is less than 20 percent.

Tonight will be cloudy with a 20 percent chance of showers. The low will be in the mid 40s.

Sunday, forecasters say skies will be cloudy, and the chance of rain will remain 20 percent. The high will be in the lower 60s.

Friday's high of 75 was just eight degrees cooler than the record high of 83 set in 1962. The record low of 15 set in 1951 was more than 30 degrees cooler than the low Friday of 47.

STATE

Widely scattered showers extended from northern sections of the Hill Country into southwest regions of North Texas on Friday.

Meanwhile, the eastern two-thirds of the state had cloudy skies, the National Weather Service said.

Sunny skies prevailed across the High Plains, western sections of the Edwards Plateau and the Trans-Pecos.

A low pressure system was over the Oklahoma Panhandle and has an associated trough that extends southwest into the Texas High Plains and the western Trans-Pecos.

Partly to mostly cloudy skies are forecast for the eastern half of Texas Saturday. Patchy fog is expected to develop in the Permian Basin and lower valleys of southwest Texas on Saturday.

The weather service forecast a chance of thunderstorms over most of North, Southeast and Central Texas Saturday. West Texas should be generally fair but windy on Saturday.

NATION

Rain spread through northern and central California on Friday, while rain with snow in the mountains was scattered from the northern Pacific Coast to the northern Rockies.

Light snow extended from extreme northern Minnesota into upper Michigan. Showers and thundershowers were scattered over northern Oklahoma, southeastern Kansas and southwestern Missouri.

Skies were mostly sunny over the Atlantic Coast states.

The rains triggered slides south of Big Sur and closed both lanes of state Highway 1 about 15 miles south of the famed scenic area 140 miles south of San Francisco.

A rough night for Midland Lee basketball

Mojo's deadly shooting eye stops Rebels

By ERIC SCHURER
Sports Writer

ODESSA — When a team shoots 70 percent from the field, it's no easy task to overcome. Especially if you've spotted them a 14-point lead.

That's what Midland Lee found itself up against Friday night at the Odessa Permian Gym as the Panthers simply couldn't miss on their way to a 77-67 win. Permian has now clinched at least a tie for the District 4-5A title with a week still to play.

Lee took nearly twice as many shots from the floor as the Panthers did, but the Rebels were misfiring badly while Permian was burying everything they put up.

"Anytime you shoot that well, you have to be satisfied," said Permian coach Carl Pattillo. "And we rebounded well and played some good defense at times, too."

Lee found the combination just too much to overcome.

The Rebels, 3-7, 11-16, dug themselves a hole they just could not escape in the first half as they countered Permian's 65 percent first half clip with a dismal 28 percent performance of their own.

"We didn't shoot too well in the first half," Rebel coach Paul Stueckler understated.

BUT IN the second half, Lee scrapped back from a 14-point halftime deficit to make it closer than the Panthers would have ever imagined. Still trailing by two touchdowns going into the final period, the Rebs cut that margin in half, 63-56, with 3:20 still to play.

And with Permian's point guard and scoring leader Lance Watkins fouled out of the game, the Rebels were poised for a pressure-packed finish.

But without their leader, the Panthers didn't panic, even with the Rebels putting extra pressure on the ball. Instead they shot 6-of-7 from the floor and 8-11 from the free throw line in the final quarter.

"We can talk all we want about this thing or that thing, but what it comes down to is two things: They dominated the boards on us and hit their free throws down the stretch," said Stueckler. "And we sure didn't hit ours."

Lee was 5-of-9 from the stripe in the final quarter, including the missed front end of a pair of one-and-ones. And though the Rebs rebounded with Permian on the night 34-34, the Panthers cleared the glass when they needed to.

WATKINS, WHO led all scorers with 20 points, fouled out with 5:18 to play, just when Pattillo was thinking about taking the air out of the ball for a while.

Instead, he was forced to face up to the defensive pressure Lee applied, and the Panthers walked away the better for it.

"I hope we're not peaked yet," Pattillo said. "We need to get primed for San Angelo Friday, get the district title and get ready for the playoffs.

"We need to improve on our man-to-man offense for the playoffs. We've had good luck with it, but we're not getting the kind of shots we want out of it. We're not getting the high-percentage shots out of it."

After a glittering 28-of-40 performance against the Rebels, no one would have guessed it.

Lady Rebs win to no avail; 'Cats take last playoff spot

By TERRY WILLIAMSON
Assistant Sports Editor

Midland Lee's Lady Rebels saw their 1986-87 basketball season come to an end at Chaparral Center Friday night with a 63-36 District 4-5A victory over Odessa Permian, but it was still a Friday the 13th horror story.

Up the road in Abilene, San Angelo was thumping Abilene Cooper by a 63-50 margin to win 4-5A's second and last state playoff berth. MHS won the district championship last Tuesday in their season finale.

So Friday the 13th saw San Angelo's Bobcats with a district ending 10-2 mark and Lee owning a 9-3 record and one step away from the playoffs. Lee not being in the state girls basketball playoffs is almost as rare as the Concho River snake.

To add to the horror story, Lee ends the season with a 23-5 record, probably one of the best marks in the state not to gain playoff entry. Want more? Lee's season record is better than any District 4-5A team. MHS won 22 games and the league title.

"To tell you the truth, I think we're great, but it doesn't do us much good," said Lee coach Shirley Stephenson, who was celebrating her birthday while trying not to think of what was happening in Abilene.

"You won't find too many teams in the state playoffs with the record we have; but those injuries we had early in district play was really tough on us. We lost two of our three district losses during that stretch. I'm still very proud of these girls. I wish they had a chance to play some more."

Lee put Permian away so fast in this one that a blinked eye could have cost you your gate fee. The Lady Rebs romped to a 17-0 lead in the first 3:10 of play before losing interest. They ended up toying with the Panthers until the fourth period when the seniors realized this was probably their last game at Lee High.

Senior Roz Eaden ended her brilliant career with 18 points, 10 coming in the fourth quarter. She also showed some unique dribbling showmanship and pouted a little when she was called on to take a breather. She wanted to milk every last minute of playing time. Eaden ended the game hitting on nine of 13 shots from the field.

Eaden scored Lee's first four points on nifty steals as the Rebels busted from the gate in a 17-point run. LaVette Wallace, Regina Calicutt, and Piette Mayfield followed with quick baskets as Permian couldn't get the ball up court. It Lee's most awesome streak of the season.

Mayfield, another senior, ended up with a 14-point night, hitting five of eight from the field and four of four from the charity stripe.

Lee was murder in the first and fourth quarters, but ended the game with a 26 of 65 shooting eye. But Permian was worse — much worse.

The Panthers tossed a lot of shots at the basket, but only 12 of the 47 tries went in, a miserable 26 percent. Mojo only got 12 of 24 free throws. Quite simply, they were never in the game.

Chris Griffin and LaT Christian each had 10 points for the Panthers, but finish the year with an 8-19 season mark and a 4-8 district record. Permian ends the district slate in fifth place.

Abilene High, with a 5-7 district mark, ended up in fourth place with a 57-55 win over Odessa High, who finished at 0-12 in league play and 5-21 for the year. Cooper's loss to San Angelo left the Cougars in sixth place at 3-9.

In junior varsity action, Lee defeated Permian by a 46-42 margin to finish 10-15 on the year. Lee's JV played seven varsity teams this year, winning one of those encounters.

San Angelo puts an end to Cooper's playoff hopes

From Staff Reports

San Angelo erased all doubt about which teams from District 4-5A will attend the post-season playoff party with a resounding 98-64 win over Abilene Cooper Friday.

The Bobcats, 8-2, 18-10, jumped all over the Cougars in the first quarter, 28-18, erasing any hope of a Cooper upset and clinching a playoff berth for San Angelo. Chris Lowry led the rout with 25 points while Scott Marschall also added 17 for the Bobcats.

Cooper was paced by Jay Estes' 17 points while Scott Pugh and Doug Starr each tossed in 12 for Cooper, 5-5, 12-14.

In Abilene, the Eagles kept their second half momentum going with a 74-72 decision over Odessa High. Greg Denman paced AHS with 15 points while Vince Johnson and Andre Davis each had 12 for the Eagles, 4-6, 8-19.

OHS, now 3-8, 9-22, was led by 17 points from Lorenzo Allen and 14 from Victor Dancer.

Tors defeat Steers, secure playoff berth

By LANCE STEWART
MRT Sports Correspondent

BIG SPRING — With only two games left in district play and the Lamesa Tornadoes secure in a 13-1 undisputed playoff seat, one might think the Big Spring Steers had cause to lie down and die peacefully Friday. Someone forgot to inform the Steers of this plight, however, as they fought this contest down to the wire.

This did not look like the same team that had established a less than sterling 4-24 record just one short year ago, and although the game was lost by an 84-78 margin, coach Boyce Paxton thinks they have come a long way.

"This is the same group of boys, primarily, who a lot of people last year said didn't know how to win. I think they proved a lot of people wrong and showed them what they're really made of this season."

If nothing else, this was a very emotional game, for the fans as well as the players. Any Big Eight fan would have felt proud to have jumped and screamed as vehemntly as the Lamesa and Big Spring fans did in this one.

All seemed to be running as planned for the Tornadoes at the match's outset. Carl Pennington's six unanswered first quarter points seemed to herald the doom that all had forseen for the night's action, and the Tors led by five going into the second period.

Andrews coach resigns

Visentine going to San Antonio Marshall

From Staff Reports

ANDREWS — David Visentine, Andrews' head football coach for the past four seasons, turned in his resignation this week to accept the head coaching job at San Antonio Marshall.

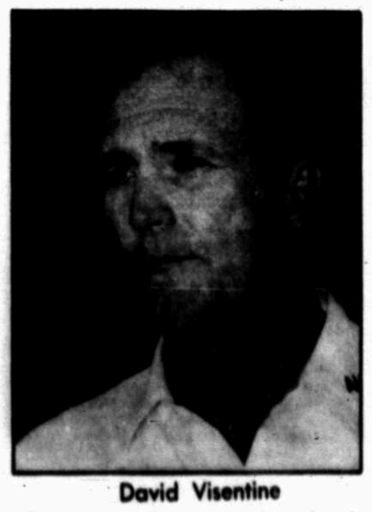

The new position is a step up in classification as Visentine leaves the 4A Mustangs for the 5A Rams.

Visentine has been part of Andrews football for the past nine years as assistant before becoming head coach and, "I might add, that those nine were real good years. I've really enjoyed all my years in Andrews."

During his four years, Visentine coached the Mustangs to a 19-19-2 record to improve his carrer marks to 150-87-7.

"It's been a very tough district," said Visentine. "I feel like, with the exception of this year, we were very competitive. We lost some close ball games and I feel like our kids performed real well.

"We weren't as successful as we'd like to have been. Our highest finish in the district was third and that was last year (1985 season)."

David Visentine

And, like most people who spend a good deal of time in one place, leaving isn't easy.

"It was a real tough decision to make because I feel so strongly about Andrews," said Visentine. "Andrews gave me a lot of opportunites. I really enjoyed the time I was able to spend in that group. On the other hand, I'm looking forward to moving to San Antonio and accepting that job and hopefully being successful."

If the school's past has anything to say about success, Visentine has an advantage.

"Marshall has been pretty competitive," said Visentine. "They won the district in 1983 and since then they've been competitive. I think it will be a good opportunity."

Visentine is replacing Jim Weaver, who resigned in December to go into administration. Along with coaching, Visentine's duties will include athletic coordinator for the school. He'll begin work on March 2.

Joining Visentine at Marshall will be Andrews assistant coaches Ronnie Whitehead and Monte Land.

Friday's Question: 657-364-2014. Phone number, maybe, but first three digits are rebounds, the next three assists and the final four points. What NBA player compiled these figures during a MVP season?

Thursday's Answer: The only NHL player to score 50 goals as a rookie...Mike Bossy.

SMU hopes points are considered by NCAA

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — Southern Methodist University officials spent 4½ hours meeting Friday with the NCAA infractions committee, which will decide whether to impose the so-called "death penalty" on SMU's football program.

"The point of this is to try and identify the problems and discuss our penalties and propose what can be done for the future," said Lonnie Kliever, SMU's faculty representative to the NCAA.

William Stallcup, interim president of SMU, said the private meeting with the six-member panel was cordial.

"We hope that from the beginning we got our point across, and we had every indication of that," he said. "In this hearing, we were able to get all the facts brought out."

Neither Stallcup nor Kliever would comment on specifics discussed during the meeting at the Hotel del Coronado, located across the bay from San Diego. NCAA officials also declined comment.

Earlier this week, Stallcup said he would ask the panel to let the school levy its own sanctions on SMU's football program. He said, however, that he would neither appeal nor contest any rulings or findings by the committee, which is expected to decide the school's punishment within 10 days.

SMU was called before the six-member committee after news reports surfaced in November that the football program again violated NCAA regulations.

Dallas television station WFAA reported Nov. 13 that former SMU player David Stanley was given $25,000 to sign with the Mustangs. Two days later, the Dallas Morning News reported that SMU player Albert Reese was living rent-free in an apartment provided by a school booster.

The school's then-president, L. Donald Shields, resigned soon after the scandal, citing health reasons. Athletic director Bob Hitch and football coach Bobby Collins later quit for unspecified reasons.

Woodson's 37 leads Clippers past Spurs

Associated Press

SAN ANTONIO — Mike Woodson scored a season-high 37 points to lead the Los Angeles Clippers to a 110-96 NBA victory Friday night over the San Antonio Spurs.

The Clippers led from wire to wire as they won for just the eighth time of the year against 40 losses. San Antonio, after winning seven straight prior to the All-Star break, dropped their third in a row and are now 18-32.

NBA

San Antonio came within a basket 52-50 early in the third period before Clipper center Benoit Benjamen slammmed in a shot followed by a 3-pointer by Woodson to put Los Angeles back on top 57-50. The Clippers led 83-71 by the end of the period.

Los Angeles prevented the Spurs from getting any closer than six in the final period as the Clippers own just their third road game of the season.

Chicago 106, Seattle 98

CHICAGO — Michael Jordan scored 45 points and teamed with Mike Brown for 16 consecutive fourth-quarter points to rally the Chicago Bulls to a triumph over the Seattle SuperSonics.

Jordan put the Bulls ahead to stay at 89-88 with 5:36 when he made one of two free throws. Jordan had 11 of the next 15 points and Brown added four before the Supersonics scored again.

Celtics 131, Blazers 116

PORTLAND, Ore. — Kevin McHale scored 37 points and Danny Ainge added 26 as the Boston Celtics rolled to a victory over the Portland Trail Blazers.

The Celtics, who won their third road game in four nights, took control of the contest by scoring eight straight points to build a 91-79 lead with 3:10 left in the hird quarter.

Boston pulled away after that and stretched the advantage to 21 in the final minutes.

Suns 105, Jazz 98

PHOENIX, Ariz. — Larry Nance scored 26 points and blocked six shots while Walter Davis added 17 points as the Phoenix Suns held on to beat the Utah Jazz.

Phoenix saw its 49-43 halftime lead erased as Utah used a 10-0 run to forge a 53-53 tie with 8:36 left in the third quarter.

The lead then see-sawed until Ed Pinckney's free throws with 54 seconds remaining and Nance's stuff with 28 seconds to go put the Suns up 80-77 entering the final period.

NHL All-Star Dave Poulin takes out Soviet National Team's Mikhail Tatarinov with a check along the boards Friday in Quebec City.

Soviets beat NHL All-Stars

QUEBEC (AP) — Valeri Kamensky, a rising young star from the powerful Red Army team, scored twice in a three-goal second period and added an assist in the third to lead the Soviet national team to a 5-3 victory over the NHL All-Stars Friday night.

Vladimir Krutov also scored two goals as the Soviets' won this summit meeting of hockey superpowers at Rendez-Vous 87 to gain a co-championship of the two-game series. The NHL won Wednesday night 4-3.

Featuring many of the world's best players, the high tension, low scoring game belonged to the NHL before the Soviets broke it open with three straight goals in the high spirited second period.

The back breaker was the second goal of the period by Kamensky with just 19 seconds left that gave the Soviets a 3-1 lead.

That didn't entirely take the steam out of the emotion-charged NHL players, who didn't let down in the final period against the swift Soviets.

Down by two goals, the NHL made things close on a score by Chicago's Doug Wilson. Ray Bourque scored with 37 seconds left in the game for the NHL's third goal.

The savvy Soviets nailed things down with a clinching goal by Vladimir Krutov, a key member of the so called "KLM Line" featuring Krutov, Igor Larionov and Serge Makarov.

It was Larionov who stole a blind pass from Pittsburgh's Mario Lemieux to set up Krutov's goal.

Andrei Khomutov sewed things up for the Soviets with a goal late in the third period for a 5-2 lead.

Edmonton's Mark Messier had scored a first period goal to give the NHL a 1-0 lead before the Soviets roared back with three goals in the second period. Kamensky scored the first and third goals, sandwiched around a goal by Krutov.

The NHL All Stars, who had only one power-play opportunity in the opening game Wednesday night, scored with a man advantage early in Friday night's game to take a 1-0 lead.

The same line that scored the NHL's first goal in Game 1 was also responible this time when Edmonton's Mark Messier dribbled the puck into the net past Soviet goaltender Evegny Belosheikin at 3:32.

The NHL had a little help from the Soviets on this one when defenseman Mikhail Tatarinov tripped while trying to clear the puck behind the net.

Edmonton's Wayne Gretzky pounced on the puck and delivered it to Oiler teammate Jari Kurri, who set up Messier in front of the net.

The NHL, meanwhile, continued to play the fine defense that helped them win Wednesday night.

The Soviets, who were only able to get off one shot in four power-play opportunities Wednesday night, failed to put a shot on goal in their first opportunity with a man advantage in Game 2.

The second battle of these two hockey superpowers this week was a good deal more physical than on opening night.

The Soviets showed their first real emotion of the series when defenseman Viacheslav Festiov roughed up Hartford's Kevin Dineen in the slot at his own end. Festiov and Dineen almost came to blows before officials stepped in to calm the situation.

It was a contrast to the fast paced first game, which was cleanly played with no hint of anger.

Montreal's left wing Claude Lemieux established the tempo when he threw some thunderous body checks at Soviet defenseman Vasily Pervuhkin early in the period.

Except for the lapse on the NHL's power-play goal, the Soviet defense was equal to the NHL's in the first period. The NHL had a second-power play opportunity, but was unable to get off a shot. The other goals by the NHL were also on the power play.

The Soviets tied it on a goal by the 20-year-old Kamensky at 3:13 of the second period, just seconds after a shot by Khomutov hit the post to the left of goaltender Grant Fuhr.

The puck caromed to Kamensky, who beat Fuhr from the lower edge of the right circle. The puck grazed the right post as it went by Fuhr.

Holman grabs Miller Lite pole

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Marshall Holman of Medford, Ore., finished the sixth round 170 pins ahead of David Ozio Friday night and earned the No. 1 position for the finals of the $150,000 Miller Lite Classic.

Holman, who has finished second three times in events here, finished with a 42-game pinfall total of 10,364 and a 234 average.

He will have to win one game in the televised finals Saturday to earn $27,000 and the first leg of the $1 million Miller Lite Slam.

Miners hand Aztecs 15th straight defeat

EL PASO (AP) — Chris Blocker scored 17 points to lead Texas-El Paso to a 79-73 victory over San Diego State in a Western Athletic Conference basketball game Friday night.

Quintan Gates and Hernell Jackson scored 14 points each to help raise UTEP's season record to 19-5 overall and 9-3 in WAC play. Tim Hardaway added 10 points for the other Miner in double figures.

WAC

San Diego St., now on a 15-game losing streak, dropped to 2-21 overall and 0-11 in the WAC. Tony Ross contributed 19 points to the Aztecs' effort, while William Campbell added 14 and Juan Espinoza 13.

The Miners never trailed and led at the half 41-34.

With 43 seconds left in the first half, an aborted attempted at a slam dunk by Aztec Gerald Murray nearly turned into a fist fight as coaches and team members rushed to prevent a fracas. The incident netted UTEP a technical on the bench and a foul on Hardaway, which allowed San Diego St. to knock four points off the Miners' 10-point lead.

Murray also got a technical foul, but Jackson was only able to convert one of two free throws, bringing the score to 41-32 before Espinoza scored on two free throws for the halftime margin.

New Mexico 110, Hawaii 92

ALBUQUERQUE ,N.M. — Forward Hunter Greene scored 31 points and guard Kelvin Scarborough gave out a school-record 21 assists in New Mexico's WAC victory over Hawaii.

The victory snapped a three-game losing streak for the Lobos, now 18-8 overall and 7-5 in the WAC. Hawaii is 7-15 overall and 2-9 in league play.

New Mexico scored the final 10 points of the game, five by Greene, to break open what was a close game through the first 35 minutes.

Reserve forward George Adams had 19 points and 10 rebounds as New Mexico wiped out a 12-point Hawaii lead in the first half.

The Rainbows got a 25-point effort from freshman guard Chris Gaines and 19 from forward Alan Andrus. The Rainbows got double-figure scoring from all five starters, with senior guard Jerald Wrightsil adding 16, center Rick Domonkos 13 and forward John Gabriel 12.

Scarborough had 11 assists in the first half when New Mexico rallied for a 54-54 deadlock. His 21 assists broke the school record of 16 held by Mark Felix.

TORS

At that time someone or something sparked a flame under the Steers' hooves, shocking them into action with 25 points to go into the locker room with a 42-35 lead.

"The second quarter was definitely our best, but unfortunately we couldn't maintain the pace and our attack on their press slacked off considerably."

The Tors rallied in the third to regain their lead by a narrow one point margin which was gained on Cedric Mason three-point play.

A fast paced fourth quarter was too much for the Steers, who fell to Lamesa's out and out hustle to end the match 84-78.

The score might have been closer had Lamesa's Mason not scored three points without the clock moving during the last 3 seconds of the game. The two teams came from a timeout owing Mason two shots, one of which he made, and was summarily fouled trying to get the ball back in play.

Mason led all scorers with 25, but was far from the only one in double digits. Lamesa's Carl Pennington (18) and Jimmy Scott (18) also did well from the field, while Big Spring's Brian Mayfield (23), Shawn Shellman (16), Cedric Banks (13), Charles Young (12), and Sid Parker (10) made excellent marks.

"We just made too many mistakes in the second half to pull out a victory. The kids worked hard, but in the face of that many errors, anyone can lose."

Three Rebels top Odessa Invitational golf tournament

From Staff Reports

ODESSA — The Midland Lee Rebels fired a team total 304 at Odessa Country Club Friday to take the first round lead in the Odessa Invitational high school golf tournament, featuring a field of 18 teams.

The Rebels own a 14-stroke lead over second place Borger (318) as action heads for Mission Country Club at 8:30 a.m. today and the final round.

Following the two pace setters are Pampa, 320; Odessa Permian, 321; Abilene Cooper, 327; Monahans, 328; El Paso Burgess, 331; Permian's JV, 335; Abilene High, 336 and Midland High, 337.

The MHS JV is in 12th place at 348 while the Lee JV is in 16th with 364.

It's little wonder Lee owned a big first day lead as three Rebels were also in the medalist race.

Senior Bobby Gee wiped away the field in the medalist race during the first 18-hole round with a two-under-par 70. Lee sophomore Beau Brown stands in second with a two-over-par 74 while Lee's Larry Bryan and Abilene High's Stan Smith are tied for third at 76.

Mike Abbott and Randy Milby rounded out the Lee team with 84s.

Midland High was paced by three 84s from David Wilson, Mike Pettis and Mark Smith. Ted Newman had an 85 while Mike Johnson produced an 87.

MC golf begins spring in Florida

From Staff Reports

The Midland College golf team begins its spring campaign Sunday with the three-day Suntree Intercollegiate Invitational in Melbourne, Florida. It's the first of three tournaments as the Chaparrals prepare for the second half of conference action.

"We've had so much great practice weather the last couple of weeks we might not know how to act," joked MC golf coach Delnor Poss. "This time of year we're usually trying to get in a round or two between cold fronts and wind."

Poss is sending five players to the Florida event, which includes both community college and university teams in the field. Play begins Sunday and winds up Tuesday.

Competing for the Chaps are Steve Alexander, sophomore letter winner from San Angelo Central; Rob Anderson, freshman from Kelowna, British Columbia; Arnie Burttschell, freshman from Abilene Cooper; Glenn Collins, sophomore letterman fromWinnepeg, Manitoba, Canada; and Gordon Wessels, sophomore letterman from Krugersdorp, South Africa.

Burttschell leads the team with an average 74.84 strokes per round and a low round of 71, but Alexander has the best finish with a second in the Midland College Conference Tournament and a low round of 69. He averages 76.1 strokes. Collins and Wessels have identical 76.52 stroke averages, and Anderson is averaging 77.36. Collins, Wessels, and Anderson all have low rounds of 72.

Feb. 27-28 the Chaps will be in Roswell for the NMMI Bronco Invitational, then shoot for the Texas-Junior College Championship title at Del Lago, March 23-24.

Conference action includes three 27-hole events in the fall and three more in the spring. Midland College currently is in fourth place with 11 points.

New Mexico Junior College leads the conference with 16 points. New Mexico Military has 12.5. Odessa 12. Western Texas 8 and South Plains 3.5. Teams received six points for first, five for second, down to one point for sixth.

NMJC hosts the first spring tourney April 3. Odessa has the April 17 tourney, and NMMI hosts the conference finale, plus the Region V tournament April 27-28.

Coach ties Rupp's record of 875 wins

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP) — Dick Baldwin tied the record held by legendary Adolph Rupp for most victories in a college coaching career Friday by guiding Broome Community College to a 67-63 win over Hilbert College.

"It's good to get that one over with," said Baldwin, who has coached Broome County for 40 years. "Now I think the pressure is off a little bit because I think we can scratch out one more win."

Baldwin will try to break the record of 875 wins Saturday night against Fulton-Montgomery Community College, and, if he's not successful then, will have three more chances to surpass the mark this season.

The Hornets, 19-6, didn't make it easy for Baldwin.

They let a 19-point lead midway through the second half dwindle down to a 65-63 margin with two minutes to play as Hilbert of Buffalo went on a 22-6 run.

But two free throws by Wayne Hicks, the team's leading scorer, with just under a minute left sealed the victory.

Connors beats Curren; faces Pernfors

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Jimmy Connors neutralized the power of Kevin Curren with a scrambling net game Friday to post a 6-4, 3-6, 6-3 victory and advance to the semifinal round of the U.S. Indoor tennis championship.

Connors, seeking his eighth U.S. Indoor title, meets Mikael Pernfors of Sweden in Saturday's semifinal round.

Pernfors rallied in the third set to defeat Greg Holmes 6-4, 3-6, 6-3 in Friday's opening match.

Defending tournament champion Brad Gilbert, the No. 4 seed, defeated Johan Kriek in straight sets 6-2, 7-6 (7-5) and will meet top-seeded Stefan Edberg, who eliminated the seventh seed, Tim Mayotte, 6-3, 6-4.

Both Connors and Curren started slowly, losing their opening service before Connors was handed his second service break when Curren forced a volley past the base line in game nine.

Connors, seeded second here and ranked eighth in the world, then held serve to win the first set.

New owners sure track will prosper

By PETE HERRERA

SUNLAND PARK, N.M. (AP) — Lloyd Shelhamer, rancher, corporate man and now New Mexico race track owner, has grown accustomed to innovating his way through a tight situation.

Thirty years ago, when the Shelhamer family first ventured into the horse racing business, necessity spurred expansion.

"We built a little race track in Montana and then found out there wasn't anybody around to provide us with tote equipment," said Shelhamer. "So we went into the tote business."

Shelhamer's United Tote company grew to the point that it now provides pari-mutuel equipment to 90 race tracks in 25 states and to tracks in every province of Canada.

So when financially hurting Sunland Park went up for sale last fall, Shelhamer figured it was just another bridge to build.

The Shelhamers — Lloyd's wife, son and daughter also are on the board of directors — paid $3.5 million for Sunland Park, a track that had been losing money faster than the bettors had in recent years.

Undaunted, Shelhamer considered the transaction more of a bargain than a gamble.

"You couldn't replace this track for less than $15 (million) or $20 million," said Shelhamer. "We have a good structure here, and every dollar we spend (on renovation) shows up."

Once the sale was finalized with Sunland Ruidoso Inc., the track's former owner, Shelhamer's group launched a $500,000 remodeling project for the 28-year-old track.

Once the sale was finalized with Sunland Ruidoso Inc., the track's former owner, Shelhamer said he intended to run a first-class racing facility with an eye to making Sunland Park the racing capital of the Southwest. And his group quickly launched a $500,000 remodeling project for the 28-year-old track.

Operating the track under a wholly owned subsidiary called Nuevo Sol Turf Club Inc., the new owners discount the persistent theory that Sunland will never be more than marginally successful.

Situated within 5 minutes of El Paso, Texas, and 10 minutes from the Mexican border town of Ciudad Juarez, the track does not lack for a population pool.

"This area should be able to support even more racing than there is now," said Shelhamer. "It just simply hasn't been developed very well."

The past three years the track's handle had declined steadily. It went from $31 million in 1983-84, to $28.1 million in 1984-85 to $25.4 million last year. The last two years, the track has had to compete for horses and gamblers with the spring meet at The Downs at Albuquerque, which held its inaugural meet in 1985.

Shelhamer said the figures reflect a form of complacency from Sunland Park's previous management.

"They assumed they had the winter racing market cornered," he said.

Whether Sunland has been its own worst enemy or a victim of horse racing overkill in New Mexico remains a question without a ready answer.

With seven tracks operating there is year-round racing in the state. But the increased number of racing dates has spread the gambling dollar precariously thin for some tracks.

The industry also faces the possibility of having to compete with a state lottery, the reality of having to compete with Indian-run bingo parlors and what many in the business say is the inevitability of having to compete with pari-mutuel horse racing in neighboring Texas.

Like other track owners, Shelhamer supports a "sweepstakes" program that would generate revenues for the state in the same manner as a lottery, but would be tied to the horse racing industry.

Associated Press

ARLINGTON — Texas Rangers pitchers Mike Mason and Greg Harris have reached terms with the club and will be on the roster at the start of the 1987 season.

Mason's agent Steve Comte, avoiding an arbitration hearing scheduled for Friday, reached an agreement about midnight Thursday with Assistant General Manager Wayne Krivsky. The terms of the agreement were not disclosed.

Meanwhile, the club announced that arbitrator Stephen Goldberg ruled in favor of Harris in his case. The arbitration case was heard Thursday in Chicago.

As a result of the ruling, Harris will receive $620,000 in 1987 as compared to the Rangers' offer of $575,000...

Jack Morris of the Detroit Tigers won the biggest arbitration award in baseball history Friday when when arbitrator Richard Bloch granted him his request for a $1.85 million salary next season.

So far this year, six players have won arbitrations and seven lost. Under baseball's system, which began in 1974, an arbitrator has only two choices — awarding what the team offers or what the player asks.

Another arbitration was avoided when shortstop Spike Owen of the Boston Red Sox agreed to terms two hours before his hearing...

Other players seeking more than $1 million from an arbitrator include pitchers Ron Darling and Dwight Gooden of the world champion New York Mets and outfielders George Bell and Jesse Barfield of Toronto...

College

STILLWATER, Okla. — Cameron University was given permission Friday to move up to NCAA Division II and join the Lone Star Conference.

The conference had invited Cameron to join and the Regents for A&M Colleges approved the offer. Cameron currently is a member of the National Intercollegiate Athletic Association...

Auto Racing

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. — Geoff Bodine says he was experiencing handling problems Friday until debris from an accident changed the aerodynamics of his car and helped him win the opening event of this year's International Race of Champions series.

Larry Caudill gets a victory splash Friday after winning the Komfort Koach 200 at Daytona International Speedway.

"I had my hands full before the accident," said Bodine, who took the lead three laps later and held off fellow stock car drivers Dale Earnhardt halfway through the 40-lap race. "I felt some debris hit the car, and after the race found out that the nose was two inches lower."

Bodine, taking advantage of superior handling, set an IROC record of 183.673 mph in leading a sweep by NASCAR stock car drivers of the first four positions.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. — One driver was killed and another seriously injured Friday in the Komfort Koach 200 subcompact race at Daytona International Speedway.

Joe Young of Richmond, Va., 38, died in the six-car crash between turns three and four, and Duell Sturgill of Staffordsville, Ky., reportedly suffered fractures to both legs...

Young, an auto mechanic, is survived by his widow, Dolores, and two children. He had been racing for 10 years, mostly in the Daytona-Darlington Dash series for subcompacts.

In the race, Larry Caudill, who started from the pole after Mike Swaim's record qualifying lap was disqualified because of a technical violation, beat runner-up Danny McClain by 8.58 seconds...

George Burns lets out a yell as he hits a driver on the fourth hole of the South course at Torrey Pines Friday during the second round of the Andy Williams Open.

Stadler shoots 62 to gain tie for lead

Andy Williams

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP) — Craig Stadler, beaten in a playoff last week, turned in a course-record 10-under-par 62 Friday that gave him a share of the lead after two rounds of the $500,000 Andy Williams Open golf tournament.

Stadler reached the tournament halfway point at 131, 13 strokes under par, after scoring a 62 for the second straight week.

Stadler was tied with George Burns, who had a 68. His effort, which included nine birdies and an eagle, broke the course record on the North, set a day earlier by Burns with a 63. Burns played the second round on the South, where the rest of the tournament will be held.

"It's something I wouldn't mind getting used to," said Stadler, a former Masters champion who is trying to fight his way out of a 2½-year non-winning string.

"It's fun to play again," Stalder said. "It feels like it used to feel a few years ago."

Stadler played the North course, at 6,659 yards the shorter and easier of the two oceanside layouts at Torrey Pines that are used for the first two rounds of this event.

"That 68 isn't a bad number on the South," said Burns, who hasn't make a bogey in the tournament. "The way they're lighting up the scoreboard, I had to make some just to keep up," he said.

Andy Bean also had a 62 on the North course and was tied with Lon Hinkle at 132, 12 under par and a single stroke off the pace. Hinkle shot 68 on the South.

U.S. Open champion Ray Floyd managed a 68 on the South and led the group at 133, 11 under par that also included J.C. Snead, Dave Eichelberger, Tim Simpson, Canadian Dan Halldorson and Chip Beck.

Beck closed up with an 8-under-par 64 on the North course, where Simpson shot a 66.

Halldorson holed out a 5-iron shot for an eagle-2 in his 65 at the South course. Eichelberger had a 68 and Snead a 69, both at the South.

Tom Watson shot 69 in the cool, cloudy, breezy weather at the north and completed two rounds at 137, seven under par.

De Wit's progress can be measured against Cooper

REGINA, Saskatchewan (AP) — Saturday's 10-round heavyweight fight between Canadian champion Willie de Wit and Bert Cooper should give a good indication on how far de Wit can progress in the professional ranks.

De Wit, a world amateur champion and Olympic silver medalist, has beaten a group of unspectacular club fighters in compiling a pro record of 15-0-1.

In Cooper, he will be meeting a hard-punching protege of former world champion Joe Frazier.

The fight, expected to attract a sellout crowd of 6,800 pro-de Wit fans, is to be shown live on CBS-TV.

"This is really going to show where de Wit is," veteran trainer Angelo Dundee said from Miami. "Where de Wit is heading.

"De Wit's a fine talent, but if he gets past this guy and does a number on him, then you know he's for real. He's fighting a tough opponent."

Cooper, 21, of Philadelphia, has a 15-1 record, mostly in the lighter cruiserweight class. Last June, he outpointed Henry Tillman, who beat de Wit in the gold medal fight at the 1984 Olympics, to win the North American Boxing Federation title in the 195-pound division.

Cooper is ranked No. 5 among cruiserweight contenders by the International Boxing Federation, No. 4 by the World Boxing Council and No. 1 among junior heavyweights by the World Boxing Association.

De Wit, 25, is ranked No. 10 among heavyweight contenders by the WBA and No. 26 among WBC contenders.

Cooper is small but has quick, powerful hands. The major knock against him is that he lacks stamina.

"Very strong but still very amateurish," Emanuel Steward, who runs the Kronk boxing gym in Detroit, said of Cooper. "He doesn't have the finish. He's very strong, but he lacks stamina."

The fight is important for de Wit, whose handlers decided last year to have him campaign before friendly Canadian crowds after a series of fights early in his pro career resulted in shoddy wins over dubious opponents in the United States.

She's just a little girl, about four or five. Recently, she knelt by her bed to say her nightly prayer. "God, do you have any new stories? We've heard all the old ones at Sunday School many times."

People in charge of teaching and preaching would do well to hear the little one's frustration and try to tell the old, old stories with new enthusiasm and creativity.

New Stories

But there's something more surfacing here. It's this: God tells NEW STORIES every day for those with eyes to see.

God tells new and current stories through people who "give a cup of cold water in His name," who touch the life of a young person on the skids, who nurse the aging in rest homes, who sit by offering damp towels for fevered brows in hospitals. God's NEW STORIES are all around us.

I have to believe that some of God's newest and greatest stories are still in the mind of God, just waiting for us to open our lives so he can tell the stories through us.

Yes, little one, God does have new stories. And through the likes of you, he will tell them. If God is permitted by our commitments.

Baptists to restructure school board

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — In a move to stem losses in Sunday school enrollment, Baptist Sunday School Board officials have decided to restructure the board to make trustees more responsive to churches.

Statistics show Sunday school enrollment in the 14.6 million-member Southern Baptist Convention broke a five-year trend and slipped 2 percent in 1986, down 16,800 to nearly 8 million members. Sunday school enrollment has increased since 1979 by about 600,000 people.

Church officials believe Sunday school enrollment to be a cornerstone of Baptist participation, and therefore the 80 trustees agreed to trim the bureaucratic chain of command of the board, in response to last year's losses.

"This Sunday School Board has to touch lives and build churches," said trustee Daniel Collins, of Taylors, S.C. "Let's don't just pay it lip service. Let's really do it."

Board President Lloyd Elder said recommendations to reorganize the board were being considered before the statistics were released.

"With this reorganization, we'll get the momentum for our Sunday school programs and keep it," Elder said. "One year's statistics is only one picture. These recommendations were well on the way before those statistics came out."

The reorganization plan eliminates several divisions and consolidates some departments to create six offices reporting directly to Elder. The plan will not require layoffs, officials said.

Under the plan, Sunday school programming joins the Office of Church Program Organizations, along with departments for church training, church administration, music and special ministries.

Town's minister trying to break 'famine of the word of God'

By TONY BATT

SHERWOOD SHORES (AP) — Clarence "Farmer" Jones shakes his head about the "famine" in Sherwood Shores.

"I'm not talking about food, brother," Jones said. "I'm talking about the famine of the word of God."

The 57-year-old Jones, a former farmer and car salesman who didn't become a full-time minister until the age of 54, is trying to change that.

Since he arrived as the pastor of the First Baptist Church in November, Jones has begun visiting house to house to spread the gospel in his evangelical style. He also has told the local justice of the peace to call him any time a minister is needed.

"My friend, some of the people here have never had a preacher come to their home," Jones said. "Now, that's wrong."

Jones' attempts to reap a spiritual harvest hasn't been easy. Many of the residents in Sherwood Shores are retirees who have retired from everything — including church, he says.

Clarence 'Farmer' Jones

"There's an atmosphere of idleness here," Jones said. "A lot of the retired people say, 'Well, I watch Jimmy Swaggart on Sunday morning.' But Hebrews teaches us that we should assemble together."

Jones said the younger people of the community have learned from the example of their grandparents, and there is "no feeling of obligation" to attend church. He said this has resulted in tragic consequences.

"I can hardly find a family that isn't in its second marriage," he said. Despite all that, Jones is optimistic about the future. Attendance at his church has almost tripled since he arrived.

It's a .ar cry from the farm in Reading, Kan., where he grew up. He got his nickname after he moved to San Antonio in 1967.

"I had moved off the farm, and the only thing I knew how to do was sell cars," Jones said. "A friend told me I ought to use that nickname, so it would be easy for the customers to remember me."

He said he was first called to be a fundamentalist Southern Baptist when he was 17 years old, but his parents brought him up as a strict Methodist.

Lutheran mergers mean more outreach

Hearst News Service

SAN ANTONIO — The merger of two of the nation's three major Lutheran groups will mean greater outreach to the unchurched, especially Hispanics, but otherwise little will change for people in the congregations.

That was the view of Bishop Philip Wahlberg of the Texas-Louisiana Synod of the Lutheran Church in America and Bishop August Wenzel of the Southern District of the American Lutheran Church, who spoke here recently at a meeting of the city's Lutheran clergy.

"Each of the previous mergers our church has been involved with have been a catalyst for mission outreach," Wahlberg said in an interview after the discussion. "The mergers forced the church to ask what is essential to our calling as Christians, and mission comes out on top all the time."

Wenzel said plans for the new church call for greater emphasis on including all ethnic groups, not just the Germans and Scandinavians who historically have dominated the Lutheran denomination. In Texas, that means trying to reach Hispanics, he said.

Wenzel said an effective program to bring in unchurched Hispanics would require learning Spanish and Hispanic culture and "getting people with Hispanic surnames into the clergy."

The American Lutheran Church was formed in 1960 through the combination of four groups. The denomination now has 2.4 million members.

With 3 million members, the Lutheran Church in America is the largest Lutheran group. Another group involved in the merger is the Association of Evangelical Lutheran Churches, consisting of about 100,000 people in churches that broke away from the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod in the 1970s in a dispute over biblical interpretation.

On Jan. 1, 1988, the two groups will join to form the Evangelical Lutheran Church in the U.S.A. The Missouri Synod and its 2.7 million adherents nationwide are not participating in the merger.

The Rev. Glenn O'Shoney, president of the Texas District of the Missouri Synod, said he expected his church to maintain good working relationships with the new denomination.

LIFESCOPE

What Is The World Coming To? Lifescope Says, "A Bonfire!"

And God has commanded that the earth and the heavens be stored away for a great bonfire at the judgment day when all ungodly men will perish.

Yes, the day of the Lord will come like a thief. Then with a tremendous roar, the heavens will pass away, the elements will be dissolved with fire and the earth with the works in it will be burned. And so since everything around us is going to melt away, what holy, godly lives we should be living.

Stay always within the boundaries where God's love can reach and bless you.

And now - all glory to Him who alone is God, who saves us through Jesus Christ our Lord; yes, splendor and majesty, all power and authority are His from the beginning; His they are and His they evermore shall be. And He is able to keep you from slipping and falling away, and to bring you, sinless and perfect, into His glorious presence with mighty shouts of everlasting joy.

But we are looking forward to God's promise of new heavens and a new earth afterwards, where there will be only goodness.

Dear friends, while you are waiting for these things to happen, try hard to live without sinning; and be at peace with everyone so that He will be pleased with you when He returns.

And remember why He is waiting. He is giving us time to get His message of salvation out to others.

Jesus said, "I have told you all this so you will have peace of heart and mind. Here on earth, you will have many trials and sorrows; but cheer up, for I have overcome the world."

Yes, this world is fading away, and all evil, forbidden things will go with it, but whoever keeps doing the will of God will live forever.

Texas woman who claimed to be 124 years old dies of heart attack

ATHENS, Texas (AP) — A woman who was honored by President Lyndon B. Johnson for going to school at the age of 104 has died of a heart attack at a nursing home, officials said Friday. She claimed to be 124.

If Lillie Burton Gayton's claim is true, she would have been the oldest person on record, Texas Department on Aging spokesman Russell Smith said. The current record-holder is Shigechiyo Izumi of Japan, who died Feb. 21, 1986, at the documented age of 120.

Friends and family members said Mrs. Gayton, who died Monday, claimed all her life that she was born April 4, 1862, in Terrell, Texas. All records that could substantiate the date, however, burned in a house fire several years ago, said Willie Mae Baker, a longtime friend of Mrs. Gayton's.

"She was a wonderful person, and she wanted to learn to read and write," Mrs. Baker told the Athens Daily Review. "She could recall hearing first-hand stories of the Civil War. Unfortunately, all our records of her birth and family Bibles were destroyed when her house burned."

In 1966, Johnson signed a plaque honoring her for going to school at the age of 104 to learn to read and write.

Mrs. Gayton walked the entire three-mile trip from her home to Trinity Valley Community College each school day, The Associated Press reported in 1966. College officials later honored her determination at a public reception.

Mrs. Gayton was found dead in her room Monday at the Park Highlands Nursing Home, and a funeral service was scheduled for Saturday, funeral home officials said.

"You hear stories about Russian and Turkish citizens living into their 130s, but that's a bunch of bull," Smith said. "We really don't think anyone has lived past 110 or 115. But of course, these kinds of things are very difficult to verify."

Simon

HARARE, Zimbabwe (AP) — One thing you can say about pop stars on tour is that they don't travel light.

When Paul Simon flew into Zimbabwe on Friday he was accompanied by several black South African musicians, but most of the tour's baggage was already here.

It weighs 16 tons and is worth $2.2 million.

Simon is here for concerts today and Sunday based on his best-selling album, "Graceland," and the equipment is needed to record a video of the tour.

Simon was accompanied by South African singer Miriam Makeba, trumpeter Hugh Masekela and the choral group Ladysmith Black Mambazo, featured on "Graceland." The album has been nominated for four Grammy awards, including album of the year.

Simon's manager, Andrew Zweck, said he expected Harare's 45,000-seat soccer stadium to sell out. The musicians have waived fees for the local concerts, part of a three-continent tour, and proceeds will go to charities that benefit lepers, cripples and orphans.

Simon was briefly blacklisted by the United Nations after being accused of violating a cultural boycott of South Africa when he made part of "Graceland" at a Johannesburg studio.

BEACON, N.Y. (AP) — Yo, Beacon. Sly Stallone may be coming to town.

The rumor is that the star of the "Rambo" and "Rocky" movies is looking for a getaway home here, but some residents are not impressed.

"We've already got our national celebrities," said Dave Burke, owner of Bob's Corner Store. "We've got Melio Bettina and Digger Phelps."

Bettina is a former boxing champion, Phelps is Notre Dame basketball coach, and both are Beacon natives.

"Sylvester Stallone who?" asked Alice DeGroat after handing her state lottery ticket to Georgia Joseph, a clerk behind the counter at Bob's. "Oh, Rocky. Sure, let him come here. The more the better."

Daniel C. Nelson, a New York City developer, said Stallone has visited Dutchess County to look at property Nelson wants to develop.

The Mid-Hudson Vietnam Veterans Outreach Center in Beacon got a $500 check from Stallone earlier this week. The check was delivered by Jonathan Slocum, former owner of Nelson's property, who got the check from Nelson.

Nelson said the check was Stallone's attempt to "right a situation." Several weeks ago the veterans had received only an autographed photo in response to their request for a donation.

Townsend

TOWSON, Md. (AP) — As politician-in-residence at Goucher College, Kathleen Kennedy Townsend will be doing a lot of what politicians usually do. But it may sound a bit academic.

The daughter of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy won't be making speeches, taking meetings or pressing the flesh, but she will be delivering lectures, holding seminars and introducing herself to students and faculty, Goucher announced Thursday.

Her first lecture, due Feb. 25, is titled, "Can You Call it Courage? Political Commitment in a Passive Era."

Goucher's first politician-in-residence was recently appointed to the Baltimore County Economic Development Commission after losing a tight congressional race to Republican Rep. Helen Delich Bentley in November.

Boy George

LONDON (AP) — Boy George, the Culture Club singer known for his androgynous dress and pancake makeup, admitted at a drug trial that he lies to the media.

In testimony at London's Knightsbridge Crown Court, Boy George also said he bought heroin at the apartment of Steven Luben, 35, and Diane Fiener, 34, who have pleaded innocent to charges of supplying heroin to unidentified people.

"Why should I tell about my life to the press and be truthful?" the singer asked when an attorney queried him Thursday about contradictory reports on the extent of his drug addiction last year.

Boy George, whose real name is George O'Dowd, was convicted and fined about $370 last summer for possessing heroin. He was arrested again Dec. 20 on suspected drug offenses, but has not been charged.

"Boy George was a likely target because his wealth was such that he could afford to pay. Feiner and Luben fastened on to him like leeches," prosecutor David Bate said at the opening of the trial.

Wright believes North should give all facts

FORT WORTH (AP) — U.S. House Speaker Jim Wright said Friday he believes Marine Lt. Col. Oliver North should divulge any information he has about the Iran-Contra arms affair.

"I think Oliver North will ultimately have to come forward and give the facts," Wright told reporters after a Rotary Club luncheon in his home congressional district.

"I don't believe somebody who serves the country in uniform (should) hide behind the 5th Amendment and refuses to give information."

North, who served on the National Security Council staff, is reported to be linked to the selling of U.S. arms to Iran and diversion of profits to rebels trying to overthrow the Nicaraguan government.

North and former National Security Adviser Adm. John Poindexter have declined to answer questions regarding the arms deal. Appearing before congressional investigating commitees, North and Poindexter cited their 5th Amendment rights against self-incrimination.

Poindexter resigned from his post and North was fired in November after the arms deal was revealed.

"The president some time back was encouraging (Congress to give) immunity for Oliver North," Wright said. "Well, I don't know what he did. The president knows what he did. And if the president believes he deserves immunity, the the president has it within his power to grant it if he wants that information made public."

President Reagan has said he did not know profits from the arms deal were going to the rebels at a time when Congress had banned U.S. aid to the group.

Reagan has said he authorized the arms shipments hoping to develop ties with moderate elements in the Iranian government.

"I think that was a big mistake," Wright said.

The Fort Worth Democrat also said military intervention in Lebanon, where several U.S. citizens are held hostage, "would be a tragic mistake.

"With three or four factions at war with one another, that is not the kind of atmosphere in which to introduce U.S. troops. The last time we did it was tragic. I don't think we ought to make the same mistake again."

American naval forces were reported within striking distance of Lebanon last week amid threats by kidnappers to execute American hostages. The forces reportedly have withdrawn after the deadline for the executions passed without incident.

Wright said he does not fault the president in his attempts to fight terrorism, but "I don't think we can always control terrorism in other countries."

In his address to the Rotary Club, Wright defended a congressman's prerogative to vote for projects that benefit his home district.

More prisoners freed to meet TDC's limit

By JIM WARREN
Reporter-Telegram Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — To avoid granting many inmates additional "good time" credit, the state Friday accelerated paroles to bring the Texas Department of Corrections within its legal capacity.

The prison system's doors remained closed to new inmates, a situation officials expect to last over the weekend and at least through early next week.

TDC has not accepted new prisoners since Tuesday because it has been at its maximum legal limit of 95-percent capacity. To avoid triggering the Prison Management Act — which automatically gives qualified inmates extra good-time credit to create a larger pool of prisoners eligible for parole — the Board of Pardons and Paroles sent TDC about 210 parole certificates Thursday to bring Friday's population within its limit.

The prisons have been closed to new prisoners for half of February.

The Prison Management Act takes effect when TDC reaches 95-percent capacity for five consecutive days. Although Friday's releases will temporarily bring the prison population below its limit and will avoid triggering the PMA, prison officials expect the system to shut down again next week as counties bring in a week's worth of prisoners.

Friday's population, based on a headcount at midnight Thursday, stood at 95.36 capacity, or 144 inmates more than the limit, said prison spokesman David Nunnelee.

Also, Nunnelee said, TDC will not accept new prisoners Monday because of Presidents' Day. TDC will accept as many inmates as it can Tuesday, he said.

"If the same thing happens next week as happened this week," he said, "I don't expect we'll be open for long."

The longer TDC remains closed, the more inmates are kept in county and city jails awaiting transfer and the larger the loads that sheriffs bring to TDC.

The Board of Pardons and Paroles has "been expediting paperwork" on paroles to help ease the prison overcrowding, said parole board spokesman Mike Roach. But the parole board cannot process enough parole certificates to help with TDC's expected overcrowding early next week, he said.

"We'll be lucky if we can send down 50 (parole certificates)," Roach said.

DPS' Adams for building new prisons

By HECTOR D. CANTU
Hearst News Service

SAN ANTONIO — Constructing more prisons would be cheaper in the long run than granting early releases to violent inmates, Texas' chief law enforcer said Thursday.

Col. James B. Adams, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety (DPS) and at one time the FBI's No. 2 administrator, said freed convicts are more costly to society, through crime and law enforcement, than are more prisons.

But at the same time, Adams said, there should be early release programs for non-violent criminals.

"I don't think we can afford to imprison everybody who's been convicted of a crime," he said.

Adams advocated prison construction to relieve overcrowdedness in the state's prisons.

Speaking of the state's criminal justice system, Adams said he "gets incensed when I see someone released from prison solely because there's no room for them."

"The average time spent in prison by a convicted murderer is seven years," he said. "That's atrocious."

The DPS director was agent-in-charge of the San Antonio FBI office in the 1970s and retired from the agency in 1979 as associate director.

Adams said lack of state funds for an adequate prison system is a major problem, but added he was happy to see lawmakers addressing the issue.

Adams backed a program to parole non-violent criminals, but said even under such a program, prison space would be limited.

"Even if you divert everyone who should be diverted, you still have more people that need to be incarcerated than we have beds," he said.

Adams, who has headed the DPS since 1980, said building new prisons and keeping violent criminals locked up is one solution.

Midland's sales tax rebate down

From Staff and Wire Reports

AUSTIN — State Comptroller Bob Bullock has paid Midland and other cities that levy a local sales tax, and the amount the city received in 1987 is almost 16 percent less than the comparable period in 1986.

The amount reflects taxes collected on sales during December.

According to Bullock, the net payment to the city for the period was $1,057,062.63, compared to $1,257,507.78 last year. Payments so far this year total $1,441,906.35, compared to $1,713,030.36 last year, a decrease of 15.83 percent.

Payments by Bullock to Ector County, which also levies the one percent tax, also were down so far this year more than 27 percent from that reported in 1986.

Bullock also reported that the Texas Plains will lose another 13,000 jobs this year, but the region has "the fundamental strengths to rebound."

The region, which stretches from the Panhandle through the Permian Basin, "felt the full force of last year's drastic fall in oil prices" and lost 19,800 non-farm jobs — 2.9 percent of its work force in 1986 — Bullock wrote in the February issue of Fiscal Notes. The Plains lost 17,000 oil and gas jobs last year, with exploration and drilling employment 30,000 jobs below its 1982 peak.

"Oil-related job losses have hit the Midland-Odessa area hardest," the comptroller said. "These two cities lost a bigger share of total jobs — about 9 percent — than any other Texas cities."

Meanwhile, weak farm prices and the farm-credit crisis reduced agricultural income in the northern half of the region, consequently hurting retailing and other area businesses. The downturn in the energy and farming sectors also depressed land values.

"Some farmland is worth only 60 percent of its 1981 value, and the average price of West Texas land fell more than 10 percent during the first three quarters of 1986," Bullock said, quoting the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas. But the Dallas Fed also reported that a large majority of the Plains banks surveyed expect the price slide to stop this year.

"The Plains has overcome adversity in the past, and has the fundamental strengths to rebound again," the comptroller said. "The region remains among the most productive agriculture areas in the U.S. and will retain its competitive advantage in farming and farm-related manufacturing far beyond 1987."

Overall, Bullock expects the region to lose 2.1 percent of its non-farm jobs this year, bringing total employment to 639,000 — 5 percent below the 1985 peak of 672,000.

The comptroller forecast that "low oil prices and overbuilt real-estate markets" will cost the state 34,000 jobs, about 0.5 percent of its work force, this year. The only regions of the state forecast for an upswing in employment are the Dallas-Fort Worth area, the "central corridor" between Dallas and San Antonio and the border.

TWC says pressure causing water levels to rise

From Staff Reports

ANDREWS — Pressure from the city of Andrews seven wastewater holding lagoons is causing the water table and private well water levels to rise, according to a study released by the Texas Water Commission.

However, the wastewater is not entering the water table, said commission Field Operations Director Carol Batterton.

A commission water study also found no correlation between the sewage plant and any area water well contamination, Ms. Batterton said.

However, commission investigators found numerous instances of improper water well construction, inadequate spacing between water wells and septic tanks and improper disposal of household sewage, she said.

"These practices may contribute to isolated instances of groundwater contamination," Ms. Batterton said.

Bill Lockey, commission district manager in Odessa, said his office may recommend the Andrews County Commissioners pass a septic tank ordinance.

The commission also requested Monday records from the city concerning the operation of its sewage treatment plant southeast of the city.

The commission will analyze the records and see if any additional restrictions need to be applied to the sewage plant's dumping permit, Ms. Batterton said.

The seven lagoons attached to the city sewage plant are used to hold water for evaporation and to hold water before it's irrigated as effluent.
