Municipal, school board elections set Saturday

Scurry County citizens have an opportunity to go to the polls Saturday to select their choices for mayor, city council members and school board trustee.

Selections are simple for those voting in the Snyder and Ira school board elections, where there are no contested candidates. But in the races for mayor, city council and Hermleigh school board, constituents who didn't vote in the early balloting period may still be trying to make their choices.

An issue in the Snyder municipal elections has been over water, or, more specifically, the Colorado River Municipal Water District. Stanley Noah, a former city councilman and retired businessman, is of the opinion that Snyder citizens are being made to pay more than their share for water through the CRMWD. He hopes, if elected, to have some impact on who the council appoints to serve on the water board.

Two incumbents, Dayton Robertson and Ron Shaw, feel that Snyder's present relationship with the CRMWD is not only a good one, but insures that the city will have a source for water for years to come. A fourth candidate, Ron Baker, has not spoken out on the issue.

Robertson is an engineer with Y-Z Industries; Shaw is a postal employee; and Baker is manager of L&L gasoline station. All four city council candidates advocate industrial development for the city.

The two candidates receiving the most votes will be elected.

Running for mayor are Lynn Gardenhire, former restaurant manager, and David Holt, a former councilman and president of Fluid Transports and Snyder Area Contractors.

Although noting that the mayor can vote when necessary to break a tie on matters before the city council, Gardenhire believes the role of mayor to be primarily ceremonial in nature. He feels Snyder should be operating on a city manger/council form of government and not a mayor/council form of government. Holt believes that it is the mayor and city council who should set city policy together. That policy should then be inacted by the city manager.

Barbecue, booths, auction to highlight May Day

May Day, the annual fund-raiser to benefit Scurry County Senior Citizens Center, gets underway Saturday afternoon in the coliseum.

Keeping in tradition with year's past, the 1995 edition will feature booths, barbecue and an auction. Admission to the coliseum is free. Barbecue tickets are available for $5 each.

Activities will begin at 2 p.m. when booths offering arts and crafts, antiques and home-baked foods will open. Bidding will also begin on donated items to be sold in a silent auction.

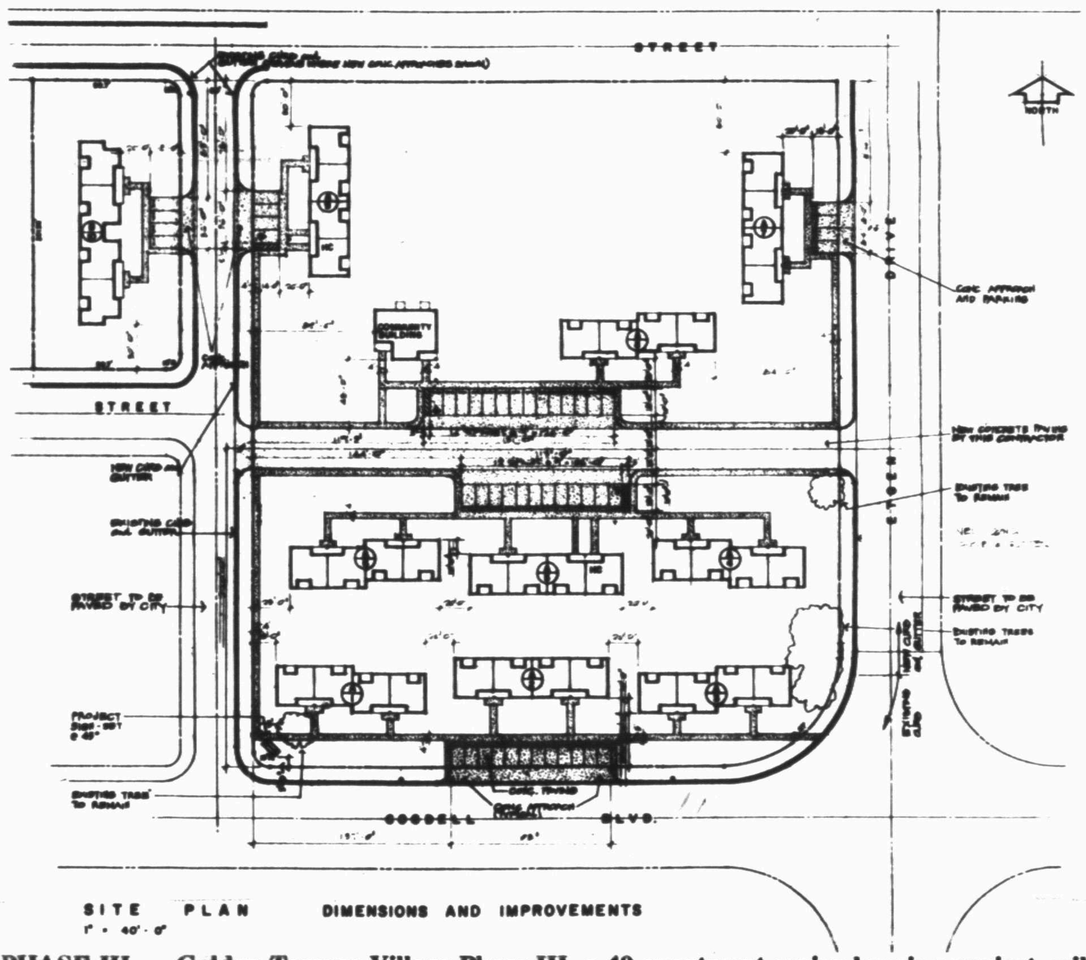

Musical entertainment will be provided by various groups throughout the afternoon.

The barbecue dinner, prepared under the supervision of former Senior Center director Jerry Baird, will be served from 4:30 until 6 p.m.

The auction will begin at 6:30 with Grady Morris of Colorado City as auctioneer.

The list of items to be auctioned includes a comforter made from denim jeans, 25 handcrafted quilts, a football autographed by Slingin' Sammy Baugh, a porcelain doll, ceramics, paintings, antiques, a chocolate set given to Jerry and Mickey Baird by the late Virginia Whitson, an autographed 1994 Dallas Cowboys Bluebook, an autographed Texas Rangers pennant, an autographed picture of Powers Boothe, silk table cloths and crocheted doilies.

May Day is the major fund-raiser for the Senior Center and all monies raised go to the operating fund. Senior citizens donated items to be sold during the day and give volunteer time to provide entertainment and to set up and man the booths.

PHASE III — Golden Terrace Village Phase III, a 40-apartment senior housing project, will be constructed north of Cogdell Memorial Hospital. Ground breaking is expected late this month.

Phase III...

Go-ahead received on housing project

After months of waiting, Snyder Senior Citizens, Inc. has received official word to proceed with Golden Terrace Village Phase III, a 40-apartment senior housing complex to be constructed north of Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

"We've received the notice to proceed from Farmer's Home. We've got the go-ahead," said J.B. Tate Jr., Snyder Senior Citizens, Inc. president.

The project, which has been in the works for years, stalled months ago when bids exceeded the $1,280,000 loan. After a number of negotiations with contractors, the architect and Farmer's Home Administration (FmHA), a contract was negotiated with Grant Owen of Fenix Contractors, Inc., Ardmore, Okla. Fenix has contracted a number of Farmer's Home and HUD projects.

Construction on the complex — 36 single-bed and four two-bed apartments plus a community center — is expected to begin about May 25, Tate said. By contract, it must be completed within 270 days.

While FmHA is providing the loan, Snyder Savings & Loan, West Texas State Bank and Snyder National Bank are participating in the interim financing, said Tate.

The complex will be situated on 4.07 acres directly north of Cogdell Memorial Hospital emergency room.

With the addition of Phase III, Golden Terrace Village under Snyder Senior Citizens, Inc. will have 80 housing units. Phase I opened with 24 units in July of 1985. Phase II, another 16 units, opened in December of 1989.

Golden Terrace Village housing is available to anyone 62 years of age or older. However, even when Phase III is complete, there will not be enough units, said Tate. Snyder Senior Citizens, Inc. currently has a waiting list of almost 100 qualified citizens.

"Because we have such a waiting list, we're in the process of pursuing Phase IV, which will be a 50-unit complex. However, with cutbacks in HUD and FmHA, we realize it will be a tough row to hoe. We're still pursuing it, though."

Land for Phase IV is located west of the medical complex, between Round Top Road and Highway 350.

Other Snyder Senior Citizens, Inc. board members are Gay Hickman, Elizabeth Potts, Bill Seale and C.D. Gray Jr. John Gayle is ex officio. Alisa Cain is manager of the projects.

"Even though we are non-profit, we still pay taxes at the full rate," said Tate, who noted that ad valorem taxes for Snyder Senior Citizens, Inc. in 1994 were in excess of $23,000.

Snyder High students enter UIL academic competitions

AUSTIN — Snyder High School students began University Interscholastic League state competition here today, and for at least two students, the day promises to be a long one.

Katie Thornton and Kevin Alejandro began academic competition this morning. At 8:30 tonight, they'll take the stage at Bass Hall as part of the cast in Snyder High's one-act play production, "Midsummer Night's Dream."

Thornton was to enter the preliminaries of the prose contest at 8 o'clock this morning; Alejandro was entered in the poetry prelims at 10 o'clock.

One other SHS student was to compete in an academic contest today. Joyce May was entered in news writing at 12:30 p.m. On Saturday, Michelle Martin, Sterling Cave and Ellen Strayhorn compete in accounting, while Tiffany Jones competes in spelling and vocabulary. Both competitions are to start at 10:30 a.m.

Tonight's one-act play competition marks Snyder High School's 28th appearance at the state level — a number unequalled by any other school. Twenty-six of those appearances have been under current director Jerry Worsham.

Other schools entered in the Class 4A one-act play competition are Dallas Lincoln in "Raisin in the Sun" at 4 p.m., Kerrville Tivey in "And They Dance Real Slow in Jackson" at 5, Dallas Wilson in "The UBU Plays" at 5:40, Friendswood in "Hamlet" at 6:30, Granbury in "The Rimers of Eldritch" at 7:30, Hallsville in "Into the Woods" at 9:25 and Austin Anderson in "The Rainmaker" at 10:20 p.m.

O.G. Nieman may have been thinking about those whining major league baseball players when he wrote the following in the Hereford Brand.

"There are sources of happiness that are quite independent of money.

"A millionaire does not enjoy a good book more than a poor man. Plain food tastes as good to a worker who has earned his dinner as do delicacies prepared for the finest table.

"The outdoors is as beautiful to a factory worker as to the head of the business. The Little League player gets as much fun out of his sport as does the college player..."

Stephen Henry, in the Levelland News-Press, says no wonder gray-haired folks seem to be tightwads.

"They remember when the dollar had more buying power. In fact, you only have to look back 15 years to see what a big impact inflation has had on the dollar.

"In 1980, you needed only 58 cents to buy what costs a buck today. In 1975, you needed only 38 cents to buy what today is priced at $1. In 1970, just 25 years ago, it took just 27 cents.

"The Consumer Price Index indicates that the purchasing power of the dollar bill has fallen a ridiculous 90 percent since World War II."

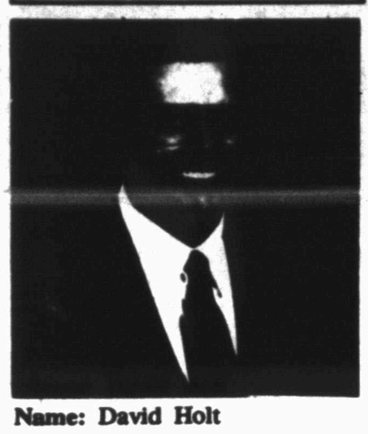

But few of us want to really go back to the so-called good ole days.

Municipal Government Candidates

Mayor

Name: David Holt

Age: 47

Occupation: president, Fluid Transports, Inc., Snyder Area Contractors

Civic, fraternal, church or other affiliations: First United Methodist Church

Council/board experience: Snyder City Council, 1979-1983; CRMWD board of directors, 1984-1995; DCOS, 4 months.

1. Define the role of a city council member (or mayor, if you are running for mayor).

The mayor and city council are responsible for setting policy for the city.

2. What is the most pressing problem facing Snyder city residents today? What do you feel needs to be done to address this problem?

A declining tax base. Industry that will supply jobs for our citizens. Keeping the industry and jobs that we have now.

3. Should city government be active in industrial development, and, if so, to what degree?

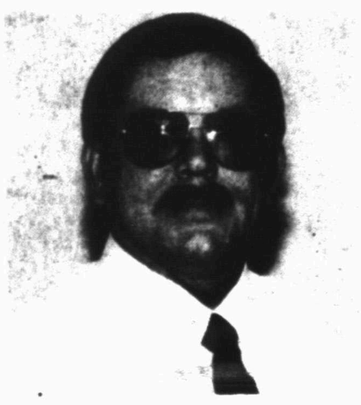

Yes, by providing those industries with adequate utilities at a fair price.

4. Are there any specific goals you would like to see accomplished over the next few years? If so, what are they?

My main goal is for every citizen to feel that they are getting their money's worth for their tax dollars.

5. What are Snyder's primary assets, and how can they best be utilized?

Snyder's primary assets are its people and its central location.

Name: Lynn Gardenhire

Age: 44

Occupation:

Civic, fraternal, church or other affiliations: member, Victory Baptist Church; Chamber Tourism Committee; Mesquite Country Emmaus Community

Council/board experience: None

1. Define the role of a city council member (or mayor, if you are running for mayor).

As defined by the city charter, the mayor is recognized by the city as head of the city government for all ceremonial purposes. The mayor is recognized by the governor of the State of Texas as the absolute head of the city government for the purposes of military law. In actuality, we operate under a city manager/council form of government; therefore, the mayor has no real power. The primary role of the mayor is to represent the City of Snyder in the most favorable light possible, and to be as accommodating as possible when meeting with and dealing with outside dignitaries and businessmen. The mayor is also charged with presiding over the meetings of the city council and is allowed to participate in discussions before the council but may not vote except when necessary to break a tie vote of the councilmen.

2. What is the most pressing problem facing Snyder city residents today? What do you feel needs to be done to address this problem?

Lack of an adequate tax base is the most urgent problem facing Snyder today. Not having an adequate tax base has placed undue hardships on the taxpayers of our city. Only by actively pursuing new businesses can we recover our tax base while at the same time providing much needed jobs to our citizens. It is also the only way we can maintain the facilities and assets we now have. By being open minded and willing to remove barriers, we can encourage new businesses to come to Snyder. At the same time, we must be careful not to "give away the store."

3. Should city government be active in industrial development, and, if so, to what degree?

City government must be active in industrial development and we must do so to the utmost degree. Only when all areas and departments come together in a joined effort, with a common goal, can we be truly successful at anything. Industrial development, as with any development, is at the heart of Snyder development.

4. Are there any specific goals you would like to see accomplished over the next few years? If so, what are they?

I would very much like to see — in fact it is imperative — the people, the citizens, join together in a common effort of survival. The spirit of America, indeed the spirit of West Texas, needs to come alive in our citizens. We need to come together to revitalize what we have and make sure Snyder grows.

5. What are Snyder's primary assets, and how can they best be utilized?

It has been said before. Our primary assets are ourselves. It is not our buildings, parks and utilities that one normally thinks of, but us. Who builds these things, who maintains them? We do. We will make the difference or not. It is up to us. We will survive or we will die. Which will it be? Come together, be encouraging, be willing, and I promise you we will make it.

City Council

Name: Ron Baker

Age: 22

Occupation: manager, L&L, Inc.

Civic, fraternal, church or other affiliations: Member Calvary Baptist Church

Council/board experience: None

1. Define the role of a city council member (or mayor, if you are running for mayor).

The role of a councilman is to represent the wants and needs of his/her voters, and to listen with an open mind to anyone who asks of your time.

2. What is the most pressing problem facing Snyder city residents today? What do you feel needs to be done to address this problem?

I feel we need to see new business in Snyder. I think the DCOS is a good start, but could be managed better.

3. Should city government be active in industrial development, and, if so, to what degree?

Yes, the city should be involved up to the point of spending an abundance of the money to attract business; however, tax abatements are a good incentive to industry because that money is something we didn't have in the first place, so we've lost nothing and maybe gained a few jobs in the process.

4. Are there any specific goals you would like to see accomplished over the next few years? If so, what are they?

I would like to see the DCOS be successful, and I would also like to do some study into the long range benefits or downfalls of the CRMWD.

5. What are Snyder's primary assets, and how can they best be utilized?

Snyder's largest asset is the people that live here, but they've got to get out and take action if Snyder is going to achieve its full potential.

Name: Dayton Robertson

Age: 33

Occupation: plant engineer, Y-Z Industries

Civic, fraternal, church or other affiliations: Member of First Baptist Church; veteran, United States Army Corps of Engineers; registered professional engineer, State of Texas; bachelor of science, civil engineering, Texas A&M University; master of science, engineering management, University of Missouri at Rolla; coach, Snyder Soccer Association and Snyder T-Ball League.

Council/board experience: Snyder City Council, 1992 to present; board of directors, Snyder Neighbors Sharing, 1995; board of directors, Scurry County United Way, 1995.

1. Define the role of a city council member (or mayor, if you are running for mayor).

A city council member is one part of a seven-person team which approves the annual budget, makes the laws of the city, and provides guidance to the city manager on the operation of the city.

2. What is the most pressing problem facing Snyder city residents today? What do you feel needs to be done to address this problem?

The primary problem Snyder city residents face is the rising cost of services in the face of a shrinking tax base. The response to this situation is to ensure that the maximum value is received for each dollar spent in city government. This begins with budget development and continues through the bidding and acquisition process that occurs throughout the year. Receiving maximum value sometimes means paying a higher initial cost in order to achieve the maximim savings over the life cycle of the equipment, project or service. City council members should have the ability to analyze all available information in order to make correct, informed decisions.

3. Should city government be active in industrial development, and, if so, to what degree?

City government should do its part in being active in industrial development. With the intense competition that exists in attracting manufacturing jobs, every portion of our community must contribute to maximize Snyder's chances of economic growth. The city's primary responsibilities are as follows: Support the Development Corporation of Snyder in its attempts to bring industrial development to Snyder; Provide water, sewer and landfill utilities necessary to attract and support industry; Offer tax abatements only for proven industrial development in Snyder, not as handouts for promises of jobs; Establish an enterprise zone within the city to encourage economic development.

4. Are there any specific goals you would like to see accomplished over the next few years? If so, what are they?

1. Continue to provide the necessary resources to maintain the level of police and fire protection that we currently enjoy.
2. Work with the DCOS to bring industrial jobs to Snyder.
3. Continue to support the efforts being made to reduce juvenile crime.
4. Complete the water treatment plant expansion project.
5. Complete the 30th Street improvement project.

5. What are Snyder's primary assets, and how can they best be utilized?

Snyder enjoys two primary assets, the first of which are its citizens and the efforts they contribute to make our community a better place. Western Texas College, the Price Daniel Unit, Snyder Neighbors Sharing, the Senior Center and our community-wide church services are just a few of the positive efforts that are made within our community. The best utilization of these assets occurs when citizens are accurately informed of the situation and then asked to be a part of the successful completion of the project.

The second asset that Snyder enjoys is a reliable, long term supply source for safe water. The Colorado River Municipal Water District (CRMWD) has provided water to Snyder for over 40 years and has the assets to continue providing water well into the next century. By using Lake Ivie water to serve Odessa and Midland, the CRMWD has reduced the demand on Lake Thomas. Should Lake Thomas ever fail to provide enough water to meet Snyder's demands, other assets of the CRMWD can provide the water we require. Adequate treatment facilities are needed to properly provide a consistent supply of water. Our current treatment facility is rated for 4 million gallons per day (MGD), however it treats up to 6 MGD during the summer months. The proposed 5 MGD treatment facility will bring our total treatment capacity to 9 MGD, which will allow for water distribution system expansion and excess treatment capacity required by state regulatory agencies.

Name: Ron Shaw

Age: 52

Occupation: distribution clerk, U.S. Postal Service.

Civic, fraternal, church or other affiliations: Snyder Beautification Committee, Northside Baptist Church.

Council/board experience: Snyder City Council (1993-present), WCTCOG Excutive Board (1994 to present).

1. Define the role of a city council member (or mayor, if you are running for mayor).

A council member is the caretaker of a legacy. Pete Snyder and J. Wright Mooar established this legacy. What began as a frontier trading post where people could find the goods and services needed for daily life has grown to a city that seeks to provide goods and services for daily life. To protect this legacy a council member helps determine policy and procedure for the daily operation of city government.

2. What is the most pressing problem facing Snyder city residents today? What do you feel needs to be done to address this problem?

I prefer to think of them as challenges or opportunities, rather than problems. Revenue to support the city budget comes from two sources. They are taxes and user fees. By law, tax money can be used to support only certain services the city provides. The last two years the city has operated on the same amount of tax dollars. The challenge is how to expand the tax base to increase the amount of tax dollars, so that we can continue the current levels of service. For those services funded by user fees, we need more people using these services, so that user fees do not need to be increased. In conjunction with this, we need to continue prudent spending.

3. Should city government be active in industrial development, and, if so, to what degree?

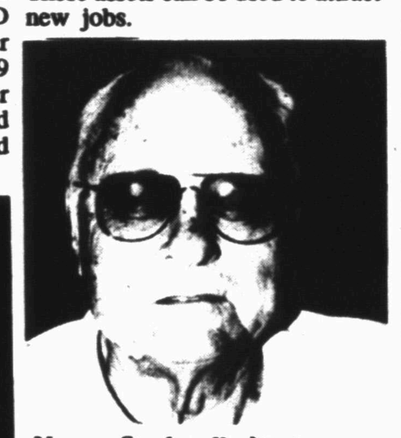

Yes. We must be cognizant of what the short term and long term effects could be. A recent Wall Street Journal story related how a Phoenix suburb had been successful. Their success was so great it was creating problems, such as overcrowded schools. We need to create jobs, but we need to know the cost of creating them.

4. Are there any specific goals you would like to see accomplished over the next few years? If so, what are they?

Yes. There is a channel on the cable TV system reserved for city use. In my last campaign and again in this one, my goal is for the city to put this to use. I would like to see the city implement the STAR program as a tool to reduce juvenile crime. I think the city and county need to begin looking for opportunities to enhance our agreement on cooperation.

5. What are Snyder's primary assets, and how can they best be utilized?

Regardless of our opinion of NAFTA, our location gives Snyder an edge in industrial development. If I-27 goes through Snyder, it gets better. Our infrastructure is a great asset. Many cities in Texas chose to close their landfill and now they regret that decision. If you don't believe me, ask the folks in Sweetwater. CRMWD is committed to providing Snyder our water needs, regardless of the water level in Lake Thomas. These assets can be used to attract new jobs.

Name: Stanley B. Noan

Age: 83

Occupation: retired

Civic, fraternal, church or other affiliations: Charter member of Colonial Hill Baptist Church, chamber of commerce director (3 times), 35 years, member of Lions Club, member of Mason Scurry Lodge 706, Scottish Rite, Shrine Suez Temple

1. Define the role of a city council member (or mayor, if you are running for mayor).

The role of a city council member is very clearly defined in our city charter. In Article I, Sec. 2, it states that "All powers of the city shall be vested in an elective city council who shall execute the laws and administer the government of the city."

2. What is the most pressing problem facing Snyder city residents today? What do you feel needs to be done to address this problem?

I feel that the most pressing problem facing Snyder today is water. The scarcity of it is a concern now, as well as the increases in price that will be passed on to us in the future to help pay for the pipeline and pump stations from the new Lake Ivie to the Midland-Odessa area. All of this will be a big threat in attracting industry to Snyder. Our only relief has to come from consideration by the rate-setting committee of the CRMWD board.

3. Should city government be active in industrial development, and, if so, to what degree?

I think our city government should be very active in our industrial development. I supported the city wide election that formed the Development Corporation of Snyder.

4. Are there any specific goals you would like to see accomplished over the next few years? If so, what are they?

We, as a city, have many more assets than liabilities. My specific goals are to eliminate the liabilities and create assets, as any good business person would want to do. Another main goal is to get back to the "council-manager" form of government that our city charter clearly outlines.

5. What are Snyder's primary assets, and how can they best be utilized?

Snyder's primary assets are many, and well utilized. We have good, loyal people working in our city and county government. We have a strong police force and fire department, an outstanding educational system and a valuable health facility with a dedicated staff.

Busey treated for overdose

Deputies found cocaine in his pocket and other illegal drugs in his home after being summoned there late Thursday, Los Angeles County Sheriff's Deputy Britta Tubbs said.

The veteran actor has appeared in many movies, including the title role in the 1978 film "The Buddy Holly Story," which earned him an Oscar nomination.

The actor's fiancee called the sheriff's department around 9:30 p.m. Thursday and reported that she found Busey unconscious, Tubbs said.

Satellite detects sea-rise level; researchers unsure of cause

WASHINGTON (AP) — Scientists are keeping an eye on an unusual rise in sea level that, if it persists, could have a dramatic impact on the world's coastlines.

Satellite data show sea level has risen more than a tenth of an inch in each of the past two years. Researchers said Thursday the rise was about twice that detected by land-based gauges over the past century. If the trend continues, they said, it could signal an accelerated increase in ocean depth, evidence that the Earth is warming up.

A report on the study is published today in the journal Science.

R. Steven Nerem, a National Aeronautics and Space Administration scientist, said measurements in 1993 and 1994 detected an average annual sea-level rise of 3.9 millimeters.

Nerem said this is about double the increase detected worldwide in a century of tidal gauge readings, but he cautioned that the rate of increase may be temporary.

"We're pretty sure that part of the rise we see is due to El Nino (a periodic weather pattern) and part of it is due to climate change," said Nerem. "We really can't separate the two right now."

El Nino is a Pacific Ocean phenomenon in which a warm water current changes its usual pattern. This, in turn, has a global weather impact.

Nerem said El Nino's warming of cold water could have caused a thermal expansion of water molecules that, over the vast expanse of the ocean, is enough to show up as a slight rise in sea level.

Bob Cheney, a National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration scientist, said the measurements from the satellite, called Topex-Poseidon, could give an important warning of a global expansion of the sea, but that more data was needed.

"Whether or not the sea-level rise is accelerating remains to be seen," Cheney said. "Nobody really knows at this point. If this trend persists for three to five years, it could be very, very significant."

Many countries already are feeling the effects of a rising sea level. Some coastal areas that once were above high tide are now covered with water, said Cheney, and countries such as Holland are experiencing more flooding from the sea. An acceleration in sea-level rise would only make this worse, he said.

Some experts believe Earth's temperature is rising because of an increase in the amount of carbon dioxide and other gases released into the atmosphere.

Dynamic No-trump opening, which shows either a balanced 19-20 points or an unbalanced 18-21. It was used in today's deal by Eddie Wold of Houston. Rosenkranz's two-diamond response promised at least six high-card points, but usually denied three top honor-cards. After the heart fit came to light, four clubs was an asking bid in clubs. North's reply showed the ace.

West, not wishing to risk conceding a trick with a side-suit lead, attacked with his trump. Wold won in hand and drew the trumps. As West had led an unusual and dangerous singleton trump, Wold felt sure he had honors in the other suits. So, instead of playing the aee and another club, which would have led to defeat here, Wold finessed the club queen successfully, West not covering with the king.

Now care was needed. Accurately, Wold continued with the club nine, running it when West played low again. This assured the contract against all distributions. After East discarded, Wold played a club to dummy's ace, led a diamond back to his ace, ruffed out the club king and conceded just one diamond trick.

Science in the sunshine

Natural systems work most of the time. But occasionally, especially at the slam level, a little science can go a long way. A good mixture of natural and scientific is the Romex system. It was devised by Dr. George Rosenkranz, Mexico's best player for many years and, inter alia, part of the group that developed the contraceptive pill.

A key feature of Romex is the

Cogdell has ADN reception

Cogdell Memorial Hospital hosted a reception recently in the board room honoring ADN students who have completed the accelerated RN course sponsored by Cogdell Hospital through Howard College.

Two students completing the course were recipients of scholarships offered by CMH Auxiliary. Tricia Rosas of Colorado City was accepted in the Texas Outstanding Rural Scholarship program, in which the auxiliary provides matching funds in a forgiveness loan program, and Patsy Ramon of Snyder was a sole recipient.

Other ADN students include Kathy Hammond, Denise Crawford and Janis Inman, all of Colorado City, Celina Morales of Sweetwater, and LaSonda Hammack, Sarah Inman and Ann Thames, all of Snyder.

The students presented a Super Nintendo, with six extra game cartridges to the hospital for the use of both children and adult patients. Accepting was CEO Jeff Reecer.

Man indicted for murder

EL PASO (AP) — A man accused of shooting his wife and scattering her severed body parts across the city was indicted Thursday on a single count of murder.

An El Paso County grand jury received the case Thursday and quickly handed up an indictment against James Patrick Bradley, who was arrested Feb. 21 in the mutilation slaying of Suzy Gae Hahn Bradley.

"It didn't take very long," said Lynn Salas, a spokeswoman for El Paso County District Attorney Jaime Esparza.

Bradley has been held in the El Paso County jail under a $1 million bond since being apprehended by police who followed a grisly trail of body parts left strewn around the city over a four-day period in February.

The macabre killing sent a tremor through El Paso, which was captivated by news reports of the police's search for a suspect.

Four Snyder players named to District 9-5A first team

By Todd Stanley
SDN Sports Editor

In just its first year of competition, the Snyder Lady Tiger softball team posted an 8-2 district mark and reached the second round of the state playoffs.

Not bad for a team loaded with underclassmen.

Under the guidance of Head Coach Billy Hicks, the Lady Tigers proved that they are now a team to be reckoned with in West Texas.

Snyder will return all but two of its players, which would lead one to believe that Coach Hicks has planted a seed which is bound to blossom into something even bigger next year.

This year's team placed eight of its nine regular starters on the 1995 All-District 9-5A squad, including four first team honorees.

"This is the best defensive team I've ever coached," Hicks said. "This group of girls is one of the best girls softball teams I've ever seen."

Huff, who converted from the slingshot style of pitching to the windmill during the course of the season, was named the first team pitcher.

She went 4-0 in district play with three complete games and two saves, compiling a 2.72 earned run average in the process. In seven appearances, Huff struck out 19, and allowed only 11 earned runs.

She was also the only freshman to be named to the first team.

"Amanda did a great job for us," Hicks said. "As a freshman, she was able to handle the pressure of several close district games. She did what we asked her to do, throw strikes."

White led the team in district batting average (.516) and runs batted in (14) and blasted two home runs. In the field, she committed just two errors in 32 attempts.

"Jodi hit the ball well all year long," Hicks said. "She also did a great job at second, very few balls got by her."

Two of the five first-team spots reserved for outfielders went to Snyder's Adrienne Bailey and Joanie Wemken.

Joanie, who also doubled as a pitcher, put together impressive numbers at the plate. She hit .463 with 10 RBIs, including six doubles. She led the team in stolen bases (9) and was perfect in the outfield on 28 attempts.

Bailey was forced into duel action, as well. She filled in at first base, when starter Connie Payne went down with an injury. Bailey hit at a .367 pace with 10 RBIs. In right field, she made just one error in 19 attempts.

"They (Joanie and Adrienne) were very dependable in the outfield," Hicks said. "If there was a ball in the air, they were going to get there and make the play. Joanie could get to anything hit in her direction. Adrienne is deceiving. She got to a lot of balls I didn't expect her to catch."

Payne was nagged by a knee injury, but managed to put together a stellar season, despite undergoing surgery midway through the campaign.

She finished the year with a .364 batting average with 10 RBIs and committed just two errors in 63 attempts.

"Connie is one of the toughest competitors I've ever seen," Hicks said. "She came through with some big hits for us at the cruicial times. At first, she got a few balls that no one else would have even tried for."

Raechele Wemken, along with White, was the Lady Tigers' long ball threat. She crushed opposing pitchers, going .429 at the plate in district with 13 RBIs. Behind the plate, Raechele, who Coach Hicks describes as "catlike," made only one error in 38 attempts.

"Raechele did a superb job handling our pitchers," Hicks said. "She and the pitchers worked together all year. With a bat in her hand, she could come through with an extra base hit at anytime."

Also earning all-district awards were the two players which solidified the left side of the Snyder infield, third baseman Shawn Purcell and shortstop Mendy Winter.

"Not to be greedy, but I think they (Shawn and Mendy) deserved better than that (honorable mention)," Hicks said. "Mindy made some outstanding plays for us. She made the hard ones look almost routine. Even though Shawn played way in at third, she was able to handle the hot shots hit her way. She did some things this year that a lot of people couldn't even think about doing."

Winter hit .333 in district play, while Purcell compiled a .290 batting average.

Estes, Standly in the hunt at Bell South

MARIETTA, Ga. (AP) — Bill Porter, a 35-year-old PGA Tour rookie, made a birdie and par following a 2-hour, 40-minute rain delay to complete a 7-under-par 65 Thursday for a share of the unfinished first-round lead of the BellSouth Classic.

Abilene's Bob Estes shot 33-34 for a 67 and was in a tie for fourth, two shots back. Former Western Texas College golfer Mike Standly is also in the hunt after opening with a 70.

VOTE NOAH!!

City Election Saturday, May 6th

Again, to the hundreds of Snyder water users who responded last July to the ever increasing water rates, I say THANK YOU, again.

Now you can really help by going to the Snyder City Hall and casting your vote for a man that has worked hard for over 2 years to get some people at City Hall to listen. They could never hear us!

Probation is revoked

A 32-year old woman was sentenced to two state prison terms Thursday as a result of breaking the rules of her probation.

Terri Lynn Jackson Ollison was sentenced to 10 years in a Texas Department of Criminal Justice prison for tampering with a government record and to eight years in a TDCJ facility for forgery by passing.

Court documents indicate that Terri Lynn Jackson committed forgery on Aug. 21, 1991. She was originally sentenced to eight years, probated. That probation has been revoked and she has also ordered to pay a $500 fine and restitution of $350 to Lawrence IGA and $100 to Furr's.

In 1993, a 132nd District Court grand jury had indicted Terri Jackson Ollison for tampering with a government record. She received a 10-year probated sentence. That probation has been revoked and she has also been fined $500 and ordered to pay $2,775 in restitution to the Texas Department of Human Services.

The probation revocations came after Ollison absconded from Taylor County Restitution Center on Jan. 7, 1995 and failed to report to her probation officer.

The terms will be served concurrently.

Minority lawmakers vow fight

AUSTIN (AP) — House supporters of a proposal to allow school districts to escape most state regulations through home-rule charters have turned back a minority-led effort to kill the idea.

"Don't throw me back to the 1950s," Rep. Sylvester Turner, D-Houston, who is black, said in offering the amendment to delete the home-rule section from the bill late Thursday night.

With a crowd of mostly black and Hispanic lawmakers flanking him in a dramatic show of support, Turner said, "If we can get run over, let me tell you, back home the people that we represent will get run over just as well."

His amendment failed on a vote of 81 to 64. Turner had support from 63 Democrats and just one Republican, while 21 Democrats and 60 Republicans voted to table his proposal.

The House resumed debate today on the education overhaul bill by Rep. Paul Sadler, D-Henderson, that includes the home-rule proposal.

Black and Hispanic caucus leaders have said they expect most if not all of their members to vote against the entire bill if the home-rule provision stays in it.

That's not enough by itself to kill the bill, but the 48 caucus members are a significant percentage of the 150-member House.

Minorities and others have expressed concern that home-rule districts are untested, would lead to school segregation and would allow freedom from such important regulations as class-size limits in the lower grades.

Supporters — including Republican Gov. George W. Bush — say the home-rule proposal is meant to promote innovative ideas and community involvement to improve education, while continuing to hold school districts accountable for student performance.

"We are in the process of creating a segregated system again. We've already fought those battles," said Rep. Hugo Berlanga, D-Corpus Christi, head of the 34-member Mexican American Legislative Caucus.

A 14-year-old girl was transported to Cogdell Hospital from Towle Park at 9:54 p.m. Thursday for treatment of a possible overdose. She was treated in the emergency room and released.

Officers investigated a minor accident Thursday at 2:53 p.m. that occurred in the 3500 block of College Avenue. Involved were a 1989 Chevrolet driven by Carolyn Warren of 2105 29th Street and a 1991 Ford driven by Kristy Martin of 208 S. Lawrence St., Roby.

Dear Abby

Single Man Is Doubly Hurt By Apartment Gossip Mill

by Abigail Van Buren

© 1995 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I am a bachelor in my early 30s. I don't share an apartment with a female because of my high moral standards, and I am not yet ready for marriage.

When I used to share an apartment with another bachelor, people assumed that we were gay.

I now have a very nice place of my own. However, if I have bachelor friends over, I am still perceived as being gay. And if I entertain a female friend, people say I am bisexual. (I just can't seem to win!)

Why is it that a single man cannot have friends over for a simple card game or to watch TV without people thinking there's something sexual going on?

I am straight, and I am sick of all this ugly talk. What can I do to stop this vicious gossip?

JOE FROM LITTLE ROCK

DEAR JOE: Unless you can be certain who is behind these allegations, and prove that their ugly accusations have "damaged" you — there is nothing you can do other than to ignore it. Those who know you already know the truth. And anyone who would base an opinion on unfounded rumors is not someone you would want as a friend.

Your letter brings to mind a poem that I published several years ago. It first appeared as a full-page ad in The Wall Street Journal. (Personally, I think it's worth framing.) Read on:

NOBODY'S FRIEND

My name is Gossip. I have no respect for justice.

I maim without killing. I break hearts and ruin lives.

I am cunning and malicious and gather strength with age.

The more I am quoted, the more I am believed.

My victims are helpless. They cannot protect themselves against me because I have no name and no face.

To track me down is impossible. The harder you try, the more elusive I become.

I am nobody's friend.

Once I tarnish a reputation, it is never the same.

I topple governments and wreck marriages.

I ruin careers and cause sleepless nights, heartaches and indigestion.

Even my name hisses. I am called Gossip. I make headlines and headaches.

Before you repeat a story, ask yourself:

Is it true? Is it harmless? Is it necessary?

If it isn't, don't repeat it.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I heard about a great idea that I would like to pass on to your readers. I hope you think it's worth publishing.

When planning a baby shower, the hostess should consider inviting someone trained in first aid and CPR to come and teach the expectant mother and the guests how to perform infant CPR, first aid and lifesaving procedures for choking emergencies.

The American Red Cross has several small posters concerning CPR and choking emergencies that can be framed as gift items and presented to the mother-to-be as helpful reminders. They might turn out to be the most valuable gifts she receives.

HELPFUL IN AUBURN, N.Y.

DEAR HELPFUL: Thank you for an excellent idea, which could easily be the most valuable gift of all.

Dr. Gott by Peter Gott, M.D.

How much medicine can a person take?

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm a male in my early 40s with many illnesses that require medicine out of 23 containers a day, which is about 90 doses. How does my body distribute so much medicine? Obviously, some of my problems have been caused from side effects of drugs, such as steroids. My case is a very complicated one, but I'm at a loss to understand how everything works on the right ailment.

DEAR READER: Your problem is not unique. Termed "poly-pharmacy" by the medical profession, it provides a major challenge for both patients and doctors.

First of all, most medicines are not like a "smart bomb"; they do not target individual diseases and organs. Rather, there is a wide overlap.

For example, you mention steroids. These drugs are very beneficial for many diseases; however, they affect virtually every organ in the body.

Cortisone, prednisone and the like cause a tremendous number of side effects, including diabetes, cataracts, brittleness of bones, immune deficiency, changes in appearance, and many other complications.

Cardiovascular drugs, such as beta-blockers and calcium-channel blockers, cause constipation, fatigue and urinary problems, among others. Diuretics, such as Lasix, lead to potassium depletion and kidney malfunction. The list goes on.

One of my primary responsibilities, when I see a new patient, is to review his or her treatment plan, eliminate unnecessary drugs, change others, and generally try to simplify dosing schedules in order to avoid the very problem you have: too many medicines in too complex a dosing pattern.

In short, I doubt that you really need all the drugs you have been prescribed. What's more, some of your prescriptions may actually be required to treat the complications of your other medications.

I recommend that you ask your family doctor for an in-depth interview to review each medicine, its purpose and side effects, with a goal toward reducing your problem of poly-pharmacy.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Consumer Tips on Medicine." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2433, New York, NY 10163. Be sure to mention the title.

"Want a tip on the Kentucky Derby?"

Astro-graph By Bernice Bede Osol

Your Birthday

Saturday, May 6, 1995

In the year ahead, your hopes and expectations will probably be more realistic than they've been in the past. This new outlook could significantly enhance your chances for success.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Something might develop today that puts you in an awkward position of having to choose between supporting an old friend or a more prestigious new one. Stick with proven pals. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2.75 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 4465, New York, NY 10163.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Conditions will be interesting today due to surprise twists. A situation that appears to be going nowhere might suddenly take off like gang busters.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Show patience today with a friend who is very fond of you, but who is also quite possessive. He/she can be managed with tact and understanding.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Do not back down today in a development where boldness is required. In actuality, your opposition is far more timid about things than you are.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You may question the value of someone's company today, but once you adjust to this person's personality, you will feel much more comfortable.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Desirable objectives can be achieved today, but probably not on your first try. If you fail, regroup and try again. If you fail then, regroup and keep trying.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You might have to make a choice today between taking a short cut or following a slower, but proven route. Your best bet would be the latter.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Be logical in your financial dealings, but also give credence to your intuition. Today they will make a powerful combination for your good.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Where important decisions are concerned today, don't abdicate your right to render judgments. Your assessments will be at least as good as your associates'.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Usually it's not wise to let your emotions govern your thought processes, but today might be an exception. Think with both your head and your heart.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) A close friend who always seems to teach you something interesting will be a good companion today. Be sure to let him/her do most of the talking.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) An important objective can be achieved today, but you might have to use an indirect route. Adapt to any changes and feel free to change your path.

1st Baptist sets 'Power Play'

First Baptist Church will present "Power Play," a new dramatic film from World Wide Pictures, at 6 p.m. Sunday at the Family Life Center, located across the street from the church.

A nursery will be provided.

"Power Play" tells the story of Robbie Steele, an ambitious, agressive attorney with a win-at-all costs mentality. Her hard outer shell begins to crack when she encounters a retired hockey star, a former brawler who has become a Christian.

Length of hospital stays for childbirth drops 37 percent

ATLANTA (AP) — Cost-conscious insurance companies are urging doctors to send women home sooner after giving birth, health officials say, and some worry that women are unaware of possible complications.

The average length of stay for hospital deliveries dropped from 4.1 days in 1970 to 2.6 days in 1992, and the decline hasn't stopped, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention reported Thursday.

There are only a few studies on the risk of shorter stays, and they are limited either by the small number of women involved or because the women had little risk of complications, said the CDC's Dr. Isabella Danel.

"There's no evidence so far that it's not safe," she said, "but the concern is to make sure that we're not harming mothers and infants with early discharges."

About 14 percent of women and 11 percent of newborns experience complications after they leave the hospital, according to the CDC. The main risk for mothers is infection and for infants is jaundice.

Women spent 46 percent less time in the hospital for vaginal births, with the average stay dropping from 3.9 to 2.1 days. The stay for Caesarean sections was cut nearly in half, from 7.8 to 4 days.

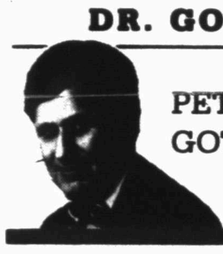

An increase in C-sections, from 5.5 percent of births in 1970 to 23.5 percent in 1992, slowed the overall decrease in length of hospitalization, Danel said.

The rise of managed care and the increase in hospital costs are pushing the decline in hospital stays for childbirth, the CDC said.

"The primary force is the financial one," Danel said, adding that a small number of women may want to return home sooner.

Daughter's Day firing bad timing

MILFORD, Ohio (AP) — Marisa Means expected to see how her father made his living on Take Our Daughters to Work Day. Instead, he got fired and the two of them were escorted from the building.

Bill Means, a systems engineering manager for two years at Structural Dynamics Research Corp., was called in to talk with his supervisor the morning of April 27 and unexpectedly fired, said his wife, Daileen Means.

After the meeting, he and Marisa, 8, were escorted from the building, Mrs. Means said.

"I just thought that was so unbelievable, that they would do that with our daughter there," Mrs. Means said Thursday from her home in West Chester.

Means was out on a job interview and unavailable for comment, she said.

Company employees had been sent an electronic mail reminder that they were free to bring in their children for the day, company spokesman Donald Newman said.

"The timing of the dismissal of Mr. Means was regrettable," Newman said.

Structural Dynamics, which makes and sells computer software used in manufacturing, has been laying off employees since disclosing losses last fall.

Melanoma death rate increases

ATLANTA (AP) — The deadliest of skin cancers has gotten deadlier.

The number of people diagnosed with melanoma rose about 4 percent a year from 1973 to 1991, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. That was faster than any other kind of cancer.

And the rate of melanoma deaths rose by 34 percent, from 1.6 per 100,000 people in 1973 to nearly 2.2 in 1992, the CDC reported. Melanoma causes about three-quarters of all deaths from skin cancer.

Researchers blame the increase on the popularity of outdoor recreation and tanning, despite the recent proliferation of sunscreens and more people knowing about the sun's dangers, said Barbara Bewerse, a public health educator for the CDC. As few as three severe sunburns during childhood appears to raise the risk of melanoma, she said.

GLEANING---THE POOR MAN'S HARVEST!

GATHERING THE GRAIN THAT THE REAPERS HAVE OVERLOOKED OR THE GRAPES THAT THE PICKERS HAVE FAILED TO REMOVE AFTER THE VINTAGE SEASON (JUDGES 8:2, ISA. 17:6) WAS THE POOR MAN'S HARVEST BY LAW. ALSO BENEFITTING WERE THE FATHERLESS, THE WIDOW, AND THE STRANGER IN THE LAND! THE OWNERS OF ALL FARMLAND WERE INSTRUCTED BY THE LAW NOT TO GLEAN THEIR HARVEST FIELDS OR VINEYARDS, NOR RETURN FOR A FORGOTTEN SHEATH, NOR GATHER ANY FALLEN FRUIT (LEV. 19:9,10, DEUT. 24:19). IN THIS MANNER THE ISRAELITES TOOK CARE OF ALL THEIR LESS FORTUNATE BRETHREN. A FINE EXAMPLE OF THIS IS THE STORY OF RUTH IN THE BIBLICAL BOOK OF RUTH.
