Law Bears Down On Kidnap Gangs

ABDUCTORS IN SEVEN STATES ARE HIT BY WAR ON "SNATCHES"

(By The Associated Press)

In seven states kidnapers within a few hours have found out what it means when the law "bears down."

A Chicago jury quickly found Basil Hugh (The Owl) Banghart guilty yesterday of participation in the John Factor kidnaping and fixed his punishment at 99 years imprisonment. Similar sentences for the same crime have been pronounced against three other members of the gang including the leader, Roger Touhy. Two members have met violent death, Charles "Ice Wagon" Connors, having been found slain yesterday.

Strewl Convicted

At Albany, N. Y., Manny Strewl was convicted of the kidnaping of John J. O'Connell, jr., scion of a politically powerful upstate family. Because of his criminal record, Strewl, who acted as go-between, will receive a mandatory sentence of 50 years.

St. Louis police sought Mrs. Nellie Tipton Muench, alleged "brains" of a gang that kidnaped Dr. I. D. Kelley, wealthy physician in 1931. She was indicted yesterday with five men for the crime.

At Racine, Wis., George Wolf, a theater employe, was seized and later confessed in Chicago, police said, to participation in the attempted kidnaping of E. P. Adler, Davenport, Ia., newspaper publisher. Two others are awaiting trial, a fourth committed suicide and a fifth is sought in conection with a plot to hold the publisher for $100,000 ransom.

Kidnap Bill Passed

Delaware saw passage by the state house of representatives of a kidnap law providing death or life imprisonment, at the discretion of a jury, for persons convicted of kidnaping. The senate now has the bill.

In Ohio, to frustrate any attempt by friends of John Dillinger escaped desperado, to kidnap Gov. George White and hold him as a hostage for release to three of Dillinger's pals, armed guards patrolled the executive mansion at Columbus. The governor had no fear for himself but said "there might be a possibility of kidnaping Mary, his daughter."

PROBLEMS ARE UP IN TALKS

DOLLFUSS SITS DOWN WITH MUSSOLINI FOR CONFERENCE

(By The Associated Press)

ROME, March 14—Two little men with big ideas—the square jawed dictator Mussolini, master of Italy, and the dapper "Napoleon of Austria," Engelbert Dollfuss—sat down at a polished desk in the Venezia palace today for the first of a series of conferences that may write history.

A third government leader, Premier Julius Goemboes, of Hungary, was not at the council table as the meetings planned to last through Thursday began. Previously, it had been understood the three would talk in three-cornered parleys a solution of Austria's and Hungary's economic and political ills. At the last minute, it became known Il Duce would receive the visitors separately.

Agreement Sought

Regardless of the manner of their meeting, the three hope before Thursday night to reach an agreement which, while proving mutually advantageous immediately, eventually may serve the ends of peace and better times in Europe as a whole.

The three men will be together only at the brilliant social functions planned—including a dinner tonight and the opera tomorrow night.

First Lady Ready To Return To U. S.

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, March (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, suffering doubtless from "handshaker's cramp," prepared today for her return to the United States.

Last night, after a 300-mile motor trip, she shook hands—smiling and apparently unwearied — with 2,000 persons at a reception given by Governor Blanton Winship.

On her list of "last things to do" were visits to points of interest about San Juan, a shopping tour—and the inevitable packing.

Muster Of Insull Expected Tomorrow

ATHENS, March 14. (AP)—Authorities stated officially today that Samuel Insull, sr., Chicago fugitive, will be escorted by police to the Greek frontier tomorrow.

The announcement came after the former utilities operator had defiantly refused to accept an American consular travel document issued in order that he might comply with the Greek government's order that he leave this country by midnight tomorrow.

DEMO LEADERS SEEK ACTION ON MEASURE

APPROVAL LOOMS FOR COMPULSORY COTTON CONTROL PLAN

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14.—Democratic leaders today acted to bring the Bankhead compulsory cotton production control bill to an early house vote.

Under a previous agreement only an hour of general debate remained before the measure was to be opened to amendments.

Passage Predicted

Representative Bankhead (D-Ala), co-author, expressed confidence the measure would win through by a substantial majority. Strong Republican opposition must be overcome, however. Some Democrats, contending it would open the gate to compulsory regulation of other farm commodities, also were expected to vote against it.

The legislation was designed to cut the huge cotton carryover and boost prices. It would limit this season's crop to 10,000,000 bales and tax cotton in excess of farmers' quotas 50 per cent of the market value.

Repetition of the Republican cry of "unconstitutional" rumbled around the bill yesterday, as Representative Hope of Kansas, ranking majority member of the agriculture committee, led the attack on it.

Representative Ruffin (D-Mo), although conceding he did not know whether the measure was constitutional, said he would vote for the bill in the belief that no one knows "where we are going to come out."

"Could Be Suspended"

Earlier in the day, Chairman Jones (D-Tex) of the agriculture committee said nobody knew whether the bill would work but that every safeguard had been taken and that it could be suspended "in a minute" by the president.

DRIVE IS BEGUN ON BAD BRAKES

AUSTIN, March 14. (AP)—Texas motorists were warned today by L. G. Phares, chief of the state highway patrol, that a testing crew had started an all year campaign against defective automobile brakes.

Fort Worth probably will be the next center of the campaign after work in Dallas is completed, Phares said, but warned patrolmen might be moved without notice to any city or town with a high accident rate.

Instructions have been issued to accept no excuses from owners of automobiles with faulty brakes. Charges are to be filed, he said, in every instance.

Tech Student Hurt In Accident Here

Head injuries and body bruises and abrasions were suffered by Joe Wood, 20, a Texas Technological college student, of 2202 Tenth street, Tuesday night when a motorcycle he was riding fell in the 2100-block of Fifteenth street.

Gafford Head and Miss Nadine Westerman, riding in an automobile behind the motorcycle, picked up Wood and took him to Lubbock sanitarium, where he was received about 8 o'clock. Head, Miss Westerman, and Wood had been at a house in the 2300-block Fifteenth street a few moments earlier, it was said.

Wood, extent of whose injuries was not determined immediately, said he was adjusting the carburetor of his machine when it skidded.

Small Boys Admit Station Burglary

Two small boys who previously had appeared in juvenile court for theft were brought before Judge E. L. Pitts in that court this morning after they were arrested by police for burglary of a Conoco filling station at Nineteenth street and Avenue M.

Police reported the boys, one 11 and the other 9 years old, said they broke a window, entered the station, and stole $2.25 in cash last night.

After appearing in juvenile court, the boys were detained, their parents to be informed of the case.

SON OF FORMER "BEST DRESSED WOMAN" IS HELD

NEW YORK, March 14 (AP)—A youth charged with murder on the high seas sat in a federal cell today awaiting the arrival from Paris of his mother, the former Jean Nash, once hailed as the "world's best dressed woman."

The former Miss Nash, whose five marriages gained her international attention and who is now the wife of Paul Dubonnet, millionaire French wine manufacturer, packed up to come immediately.

A noted lawyer has been engaged to defend the youth, Andrew D. Kirwan, 23, who is accused of stabbing a fellow passenger, Gilliam Sessoms of Seattle, aboard the liner President Garfield Feb. 10. An argument over religion led to the stabbing federal officials say.

Death by hanging or life imprisonment is the penalty for murder committed on the sea. The trial begins March 20.

In Paris, dressmakers, milliners, shoemakers, a hairdresser and a manicurist stood in line outside Mme. Dubonnet's apartment as she rushed preparations to sail with her husband.

TWO HUNDRED INFANTS TAKEN TO SAFETY IN HOSPITAL FIRE

(By The Associated Press)

ALBANY, N. Y., Mar. 14.—Nearly 200 infants and children were either carried or led to safety today as fire broke out in the infants home of the Brady Maternity hospital in the Pine Hills section of Albany.

The fire, which originated in the carpenters' shop in the basement, was extinguished without causing severe damage. Smoke filled the corridors.

Seventy-four infants, all a few weeks old, were removed by nurses to the maternity home, across the street, and to nearby residences.

One hundred and four children, between three and five years of age, were marched to safety by Nuns. They were fully clothed when the fire broke out, ready to go to a nearby playground.

Violence Flares In Cabbage Price War

McALLEN, March 14 (AP)—Violence flared in the Rio Grande valley cabbage price war last night when six carloads of men, purportedly farmers, kidnaped a night watchman and burned a packing shed.

A mercedes farmer was held in jail by Sheriff Tom Gill today while deputies searched for several others alleged to have participated in the shed burning and kidnaping.

The crowd of men, incensed at the reduction of the cabbage price from $6 to $4, kidnaped an Alamo night watchman, showered the Carl Bresett packing shed with kerosene and then ignited it.

CITES DANGER IN VETERANS' BONUS PLAN

PRESIDENT SAYS THAT PRACTICE MIGHT BE MADE A HABIT

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14.—Without mentioning directly the house action in voting for cash payment of the bonus, President Roosevelt said today here was danger in paying off government obligations in paper money in that it might lead to meeting running expenses of the government by such a method.

The president expressed this opinion at his press conference as the house sought to send to conference with the senate the independent offices appropriation bill increasing by $350,000,000 allowances for veterans and government employes.

President Roosevelt said he fears that once a legislative body gets in the habit of paying debts in paper money, there will be no limit to it.

Veto Made Certain

Once veterans are paid in such fashion, he believes it most probable that other workers—war time munitions workers, the government employes and others—will demand with some justice similar payments.

Therefore, it was made plain that if the bonus bill should pass the senate it will be vetoed.

FDR LEADERS FACE SEVERE VET TEST

WASHINGTON, March 14 —(AP)—Roosevelt leaders in the house, using parliamentary tactics, strove today to surmount a severe test on the question of veterans benefits.

Arrayed against a strong ex-soldier bloc, they sought to pave the way for a compromise on amendments to the independent offices bill. These amendments, tacked on by the senate, would spend $354,000,000 for veterans and for federal pay adjustments.

Administration supporters have asserted the president would veto the project as endangering the economy program.

The Democratic leaders planned to concentrate all their strength in an attempt to get a special rule adopted. This would bind the house to send the amendments to the senate for conferences without commitments.

Thus, they figured, there would be a chance of obtaining a compromise that would get by the president. But the test of the administration's control of the house was conceded to be a severe one.

WRIGHT DECLINES POST

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP)—Orville Wright today informed Secretary of War Dern by telegraph that he would be unable to accept appointment to the special committee named to investigate the army airmail service. Wright said he would be unable to travel for several weeks because of illness.

UNIFIED AVIATION POLICY WILL BE SOUGHT FOR AMERICA BY ROOSEVELT; COMPREHENSIVE AIR SURVEY ORDERED

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 14—President Roosevelt has ordered a detailed and comprehensive survey of every aspect of American aviation designed to give the United States a unified air policy.

Every governmental division in any way interested in aeronautical questions is to be called on to make a study and report so the entire question can be studied by an individual, or commission for creation of an up-to-date coordinated plan.

President Roosevelt is satisfied the present governmental aeronautical set-up does not work and has determined that a definite, efficient, workable plan of unified control be worked out and put into practice.

The special committee named by Secretary of War Dern, and headed by Major General H. A. Drum, assistant chief of staff, has already started a survey of the army air corps with particular reference, at the present time, to the carrying of air mail by the army.

Other surveys, to be worked in to the unified and coordinated plan are to be made by the navy, marine corps, department of commerce, customs, and bureau of internal revenue.

Orville Wright, inventor of the airplane, today informed Secretary Dern that, because of illness, he would be unable to serve on the special committee.

Colonel Clarence Chamberlin, trans-Atlantic flier, telegraphed his acceptance to the war department and let it be known he will come to Washington whenever the committee meets.

No answer has as yet been received from Colonel Charles A Lindbergh, the third civilian member of the special committee.

The president, it is understood,

Fairbanks Denies "Radio City" Plans

LONDON, March 14 (AP)—Douglas Fairbanks, sr., emphatically denied today reports published abroad that he is associated with S. L. "Roxy" Rothafel in plans to build a "radio city" in London.

He was joined in the categorical denial of the reports by young Doug, jr.

"The report is absolutely untrue," said the senior Fairbanks. "I have no connection whatsoever with Roxy."

Dillinger Linked With Bank Holdup

CHICAGO, March 14 (AP)—The sinister hand of "Whittling" John Dillinger, Indiana desperado, was seen today in a $52,000 robbery of the First National bank of Mason City, Iowa.

The loot of the raid, staged yesterday by seven machine gun bandits, marked a new high in a recent series of assaults on midwest banks.

Tactics employed by the gunmen were similar to those used by the bandits who stole between $10,000 and $20,000 March 6 from a bank at Sioux Falls. They were also like the methods of robbers who made away with $21,000 at Atchison, Kan., last Monday.

In each instance they took hostages with them as shields.

TOKYO, March 14 (AP)—The foreign office announced today that two Soviet aviators who made a forced landing in Manchukuo will be questioned regarding why their plane—a light bomber—was flying over territory of the Japanese protected empire.

(By The Associated Press)

HONGKONG, March 15—(Thursday)—Two rescue vessels reported early today they had saved 187 men from the United States gunboat Fulton which burned in Bias bay, 50 miles northeast of here. It was believed the 187 composed the complete ship's personnel.

The British destroyer, H. M. S. Wishart, reported she would arrive in port at 2 a. m., with 139 men from the Fulton including Captain McHenry and his officers. The Chinese S. S. Tsinan reported she had 48 members of the crew aboard.

They started for Hongkong from Bias bay with the Fulton still burning fiercely.

Another British warship, H. M. S. Whitshed stood by the burning ship after a two-hour journey from Hongkong under forced draft to the rescue of the Americans.

The U. S. S. Fulton and H. M. S. Wishart had both been on patrol duty against pirates in Bias bay.

The cause of the Fulton's destruction was not immediately reported.

VOTE IS FIRST SETBACK FOR ROOSEVELT

ADVOCATES FALL FAR SHORT OF NECESSARY TWO-THIRDS VOTE

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14.—The senate today rejected the St. Lawrence waterway treaty with Canada.

The vote was for ratification 46 to 42 against, which was far short of the required two-thirds.

FDR Urged Ratification

President Roosevelt had urged ratification in two communications to the senate as a step toward opening vast interior areas of the United States to ocean commerce and providing cheap electricity for his own state of New York, but the opposition of a large group of Democrats and Republicans proved too strong.

Only a while before the treaty vote he told reporters he would send the treaty back for reconsideration when there is time, as the giant waterway is going to be built anyway and he feared that failure of ratification would place the seaway entirely under Canadian control.

To reach the vote, treaty opponents withdrew all reservations to the resolution of ratification, paving the way for a clear cut vote on the pact without strings.

The roll call on the ratification resolution follows:

For ratification:

Democrats.

E. C. YOUNG OUT FOR COMMISSION

E. C. (Ed) Young, local real estate man has announced his candidacy for commissioner of the City of Lubbock, place No. 1. Mr. Young was an unsuccessful candidate for the commission in the 1932 election. He has been a resident of Lubbock for the past 16 years.

"After much consideration of the gravity of local conditions, I have fully determined to make the race," Mr. Young's statement said.

To Seek Lower Rates

"It is my opinion that much can be done toward the betterment of conditions in the way of substantial reductions in utility rates, among these are our water rates which can be greatly reduced, and still leave a profit to the city. I am persuaded that if the proper efforts are made and sufficient influence brought to bear, we can procure a substantial reduction in gas rates as well as telephone rentals, and I pledge my efforts and influence toward procuring these benefits.

"In event of failure to bring these reforms," Mr. Young said, "I will stand for a municipally-owned and operated gas concern which can and will furnish an incentive to local consumers, and those industries desiring to come here to locate. If elected to this responsible position, I pledge myself to exert every effort in giving an economical, conservative and business administration".

Lamesa Will Vote On Beer In April

LAMESA, March 14 (Special)—The city of Lamesa will hold an election April 3 to determine if the sale of 3.2 beer will be legalized here.

Livestock Buying Regulation Urged

WASHINGTON, March 14. (AP)—An amendment to the stock yards act, submitted to the agricultural committee today by Senator Capper (R-Kans), is designed to regulate direct buying of livestock by packers. This practice, Capper said, is destroying competition and depressing markets.

"All we are asking is that these yards and concentration points used by packers for country buying be placed under the same regulation and government control as the central markets," he said.

Bank Robbers Get Change At Barstow

BARSTOW, March 14. (AP)—Robbers were unsuccessful in an attempt to burn open the vault of the Citizens State bank here last night, but escaped with a small amount of loose change estimated by bank officers to be less than $50.

A side door of the bank building was forced open and the intruders apparently worked at length with a torch in an effort to get into the strong box. A large hole was burned into the vault.

YOU'D BETTER SEND IN YOUR INCOME TAX RETURNS TODAY JUST TO BE SAFE

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 14. — The treasury advised Mr. and Mrs. Citizen today to mail their income tax returns before nightfall to avoid any chance of a tangle with the government.

The law requires that returns be in the hands of internal revenue collectors by midnight, March 15. If a return is late a 25 per cent penalty may be assessed.

Officials pointed out that a March 15 postmark need not be accepted by the collector if the postman doesn't deliver the return until March 16. Actually, however, they usually are.

Collectors will keep their offices open until midnight tomorrow.

So far, March income tax collections have run considerably ahead of last year. Payments in the first ten days were $24,615,000, compared with $10,272,000 in the same period last year. Total March collections in 1933 were $180,000,000. This year, a larger sum is forecast.

Collector Here

J. H. Hooper, a deputy collector of internal revenue of Dallas, is here to assist J. F. Hankins, deputy collector in this district, through the peak period of income tax returns.

Mr. Hooper this morning said he would remain in the internal revenue department office in the federal building until 8 o'clock Thursday night to receive returns.

Dining Room In New Manner Shows Oriental Influence

By NEA Service

NEW YORK, March 14—Dining rooms in the modern manner are quite the rage this year. If you've decided to take advantage of the February sales and give certain rooms in your home a New Deal, don't overlook dining room suites with a distinctly modernistic flavor.

A dining room in red lacquer and aspen (shown above) is a far cry from the modernistic pieces which we used four or five years ago. Along with their modernism, these new pieces have warmth and grace firmly implanted in them.

A definite Chinese influence in the coloring is carried out in the simple, structural lines of each piece. The Oriental flower arrangements and tiny figurines complete the Chinese atmosphere.

The decorative table is sturdy as can be and comfortable dining chairs match it. The buffet has ample drawer space for linens, silver and the like. The serving table is a neat, little boxy affair and it, too, has one drawer. In keeping with the modern motif, the rug is of a new hemp and linen weave—light tan in color.

Members of the sheriff's and constable's department dug up seven half gallons of alcohol at the place last week. Churchill has been indicted by a United States district court grand jury for possession of whisky on which a federal tax had not been paid.

Members of yesterday's raiding party were Chief Deputy Sheriff Bedford Carpenter, Deputy Sheriffs Cap Moore and Baxter Honey, and Highway Patrolmen J. C. Keller and Jack Reaves.

Any Person Who Has Reached "Middle Age" Should Know This

Authorities now tell us that one of the frequent penalties of middle-age is acid stomach. A rebellion, of the stomach, after years of faulty diet.

If you have Acid Stomach, you can easily trace it. Headaches, stomach pains after eating, "gas," "upsets," nausea are the usual indications.

To get rid of it, all you need do is this:

TAKE—2 teaspoonfuls of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia in a glass of water every morning when you get up. Take another teaspoonful thirty minutes after eating. And another before you go to bed. Or—you can take Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets; substituting one tablet for each teaspoonful of the liquid and get the same result.

Try It—You Will Be Amazed

Try this and, chances are, it will make a great difference in your life. For this small dosage of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia acts to neutralize the stomach acids that cause your distress.

After-meal pains and discomfort go. You feel freedom from dull headaches. That "afternoon fag"—you think is depletion or "nerves" disappears. You feel like another person.

When you buy, be sure to get the REAL article — Genuine PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia, the kind doctors endorse. Always ask for it by the name PHILLIPS'—for all "milk of magnesia" is not alike.

AND LEARNS A SECRET ABOUT COFFEE

A SPECIAL COFFEE TREAT— FROM A "COFFEE PARADISE"

Have you tried this rare flavor from Central America?

FOR a real treat, try coffee that is really different. Not just another "blend" or "roast" or package. But a different kind. The extra richness and winy flavor of rare coffees that come from a tiny region known as the world's "coffee paradise."

This coffee district lies chiefly along the West Coast of Central America. Where isolated mountain-top plantations in remote districts produce coffees not duplicated anywhere else in the world.

Few people ever have a chance to enjoy the mellow, rich flavor and winy tang of these mountain coffees. For the crops are limited, and command a premium in the market. Folger first introduced them in this country years ago. And today, Folger brings them to you packed in key-opening vacuum tins that faithfully preserve all their original mountain-freshness.

For something truly different in coffee, why not try Folger's! Note also, that it is economical, as well as delicious. With its extra richness you use just ¼th less than of ordinary coffees—and still have a richer cup . . . Ask for Folger's. 186-R

Lon Smith Starts Reelection Drive

HENDERSON, Mar. 14. (AP)—Lon A. Smith, chairman of the Texas railroad commission, celebrated his 65th birthday last night by opening his campaign for reelection with an address in the district courtroom here.

He spoke in the same place where he started out in politics more than 30 years ago. Several boyhood friends of Smith spoke on the preliminary program, referring to the commissioner's school days and youth in Rusk county, now a part of the big East Texas oil field, in which the commission is the chief enforcement agency for production rules.

Many friends of Smith from Houston, Dallas, Austin and nearby cities in the oil field attended the rally and Victor Smith, who presided as chairman, read several telegrams from a sheaf of 400 or more received by Commission Smith from friends in various sections of the state. Speakers included Tom Pollard and A. E. Stewart of Dallas and Buck Johnson of Sweetwater.

The first motor vehicle to cross the United States was a motorcycle. The trip was made in 1903 and took 50 days.

SCORES OF CELEBRITIES, INCLUDING JIMMY WALKER, EXPELLED FROM TRIBE

GALLUP, N. M., March 14 (AP)—Scores of celebrities, including former Mayor James J. Walker, of New York, were expelled from the Navajo Indian tribe today by its executive council of 12.

The big chiefs indicated they were fed up on white men who get adopted into the tribe and then go around boasting that they are Indians.

A number of Hollywood actors and actresses suffered the same fate as Walker.

"Every time a movie star stops in Gallup and is adopted by the tribe, then he claims at Hollywood he is a Navajo," said Tom Dodge, member of the council.

"A former mayor of New York stopped at Albuquerque, went to New York and claimed to be a member of the tribe."

The council's resolution said no longer will there be any membership in the tribe "except by birth" and that "all those who claim to be members of the tribe by adoption are hereby declared to be in no possible way an adopted or honorary member of the Navajo people."

The colorful adoption ceremony has been staged in many parts of the country and frequently at Gallup.

CLINGMAN AND YAQUI JOE TO MEET

DETTON FACES WILSON IN SEMI-FINAL ON TONIGHT'S CARD

Featuring two of the outstanding middleweights of the Southwest on a card made up entirely of an all-star cast, Promoter Sled Allen presents at the Auditorium tonight in the main event of his regular Wednesday night wrestling show, Yaqui Joe of Sonora, in this corner, and over here, Otis "Squeeky" Clingman of Amarillo.

Clingman and Joe are matched in a finish, two falls out of three match, a match that every promoter in the Texas-New Mexico Arizona circuit has been trying to book since Christmas.

Real Show Promised

It's a tough, talented and cosmopolitan troupe of performers who will twist each other's bones and muscles in tonight's show, with plenty of torture holds promised in the first two fights and an exhibition of clean, hard wrestling in the main event.

A Greek grapples a German, fresh from Hitler's provinces; a Mormon football player fights a steer-busting cowboy; a former middleweight champion of the navy has it out with a marathon-running redman—and the names on the card read like a Notre Dame football line-up.

But the main event'rs won't hog the show this evening. Proceedings start with some exciting trouble in the form of two time limit matches that promise color, comedy, and action.

Cowboy Benny Wilson, erstwhile Fort Worth bulldogger and bronco buster, will bring his rough and ready tactics into play against the University of Utah's all-conference ball-bearing halfback, Dorry Detton, of Salt Lake City.

Popular Grappler Here

And The Terrible Teuton, Joe Bauer, of Coblenz, Germany, wrestles Billy Hallas, El Paso Greek, for twenty minutes or less in the first event.

Hallas, one of the highest ranking middleweights in the state has had a short but action-filled mat career. Once Billy wrestled Barefooted Joe Parelli, of Naples, Italy, at El Paso. Both the Greek and the Italian attempted a flying tackle at the same time, bumped heads and knocked each other out. But Billy recovered and a few weeks later whipped Parelli.

Ringside tickets for the match were about three-fourths gone and still going fast late yesterday. Ducats will remain on sale at the J. and J. Sporting goods store until 5 o'clock this evening.

ARIZMENI IS DECISIONED

TONY CANZONERI WINS DECISIVE VICTORY OVER MEXICAN

LOS ANGELES, Mar. 14 (AP)—The bid of Baby Arizmendi for honors in the junior lightweight division went down last night before the ring craftsmanship of a master boxer, Tony Canzoneri, who won a decisive ten round decision over the Mexican flash. Canzoneri came into the ring at 131 and his opponent three pounds less.

Fighting his own fight, outboxing the Mexican in the early rounds and outslugging him as the bout drew to a close, Canzoneri showed a capacity house of 12,000 fans who paid $18,000 to see the match that Arizmendi was in no class with the former lightweight champion.

The Associated Press score pad credited Canzoneri with seven of the ten rounds and gave the Mexico, D. F., fighter but three. George Blake, veteran referee, wasted no time in awarding the decision to Canzoneri at the end of the fight.

The little Italian, conserving his strength against his more youthful opponent, started out slowly and dropped the first two rounds to the more aggressive Arizmendi. The Mexican, wary of Canzoneri's fast right cross, fought cautiously but nailed him several times with lightning like flurries of rights and lefts.

Canzoneri, with the fight half way over, opened up in the sixth round and gave as pretty an exhibition of boxing as the ring in the Olympic auditorium has seen in many months. He tied Arizmendi up in the clinches, broke away and pasted with one-two punches, flicked jabs at will into the Mexican's face, stuck out his chin and dared Arizmendi to punch, and then nailed him with upper cuts and swift right crosses as the Mexican came in.

Panama Al Brown Given Suspension

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 14 (AP)—The indefinite suspension of Panama Al Brown, world's bantamweight champion, in all national boxing association states and territories was ordered Tuesday by Edward C. Foster of Providence, president of the N. B. A.

The action was taken at the request of the Mexican federal boxing commission, an affiliate of the N. B. A., which has barred Brown "for his absolute refusal to fulfill a contract to go through with a championship bout with Rudolfo Casanova at Mexico City on April 12."

From where we sit just now, it looks like the best card ever arranged for a Lubbock ring, a smash hit of a main event and a supporting setup that includes an all-star cast from prelim to finish.

Yaqui Joe and Otis Clingman need no further introduction here. They're about the best in this part of the country, and their meeting has been planned and anticipated for several months. Lubbock is lucky to get this, their first contest. They may meet again later to determine which shall challenge Gus Kallio for his world's middleweight belt.

One of the prelim boys and one of the semi-finalists will be making their first appearances here, which should answer the clamor of fans for some "new faces." Billy Hallas, the El Paso Greek, has a wide reputation as one of the cleverest matmen going. He meets Joe Bauer, the German funny man, in the prelim. Bauer is a main eventer on nearly anybody's wrestling card, and one of the toughest on the circuit.

We've never seen this Bennie Wilson of Fort Worth work, but they tell us he's a fire-eater, a rough and tough plug-ugly who will mix it with anybody. It looks like action when he runs into dynamic Dory Detton tonight in the 30-minute semi-windup.

Promoter Allen hopes that the feminine following will not be too greatly disturbed by the announcement of a slight advance in admission price for tonight's show. He has been very generous in the matter of making price concessions to the women and children, and the fact thta general admission for these has been raised from a dime to a quarter for tonight's show should not fill them with anger. Allen had to post a sizeable guarantee in order to bring Yaqui Joe here for the match, and the other wrestlers on tonight's card cost good money, too.

SOMEBODY LEAVES A NOTE on the desk announcing that there is to be a meeting Monday night at 8 o'clock in the Aztec room of Hotel Hilton for persons interested in organizing a city softball league.

A couple of softball leagues were operated here last year, and successfully, too. Before the season was over, 19 teams, representing business firms or organizations had competed in one of the leagues. It was fine sport and a good form of recreation for the players, and more or less interesting for the fans. It is not surprising that the fellows want to do it all over again. So if you're among those interested in seeing the league or leagues reorganized, your attention is called to the announcement in the preceding paragiraffe.

THE LUBBOCK CLUB, at its new location in the basement of the Myrick building, continues to be a favorite spot of recreation and pastime for those fortunate persons able to crash the gates of membership. By keeping the place clean, quiet and exclusive, the management has won the respect of a big membership, this list including some of the upper crust of society as well as the "tired business man."

Bowling is the chief pastime at the club. The Lubbock Bowling league continues to operate, and of late a team made up of the best bowlers of the league has been organized for the purpose of taking on out-of-town opposition. During the last two weeks, the team had met Plainview's bowlers twice, losing both times. But they're getting better, as are bowlers everywhere. The new NRA and New Deal hours, you know, allow more time for bowling and such.

BROWNS LOOM AS STRONGER THIS YEAR

HORNSBY TO ATTEMPT TO LEAD CLUB OUT OF WILDERNESS

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Mar. 14. (AP)—Other methods having failed for five years to lift them out of the second division, the St. Louis Browns have drawn their manager and much of their inspiration from the National league in preparation for an upward thrust this season in the American league.

With absolutely nothing to lose and everything to gain with a club that finished a bad last in 1933, Rogers Hornsby, in what may be his last big league roundup, has tackled the job of reconstruction and resuscitation with characteristic vigor.

No Push Over This Year

Stranger things have happened than that the Browns suddenly should manifest primeval tendencies and become a factor in the American league race. They have already responded to Hornsby's aggressive leadership sufficiently to convince such natives as Col. Dan Howley, one-time manager of the club, that they will not be a push-over for anybody this year.

"No shirkers can last under Hornsby," comments Colonel Dan.

The trio of factors upon which depend chiefly the Browns' hopes of hoisting themselves out of the depths are: First, the development of at least two or three minor league pitching stars into effective regulars; second, the ability of Alan Cochrane Strange, the good looking Hollywood recruit, to make the grade at shortstop; and, finally, the attempt of Hornsby himself to hold down third base, at least on a part-time basis, and contribute his batting power to the team's much-needed attack.

Hornsby Most Interesting

Hornsby is the most interesting individual in camp. Fans who haven't been giving the Browns a tumble in recent years now go out to the park to see and shake hands with the former king of National league hitters. The Rajah plays first and third base in practice, coaches the pitchers with the aid of Grover Hartley, personally instructs all the batters and rattles the fences himself to show how it can be done.

The Browns have a nucleus of seasoned performers in outfielders Sam West, a great ball-hawk, and Bruce Campbell, who drove in 106 runs last year; Second Baseman Oscar Melillo, the defensive class of the league; and First Baseman Jack Burns, a splendid workman although by no means a Gehrig or Foxx.

Looks To Strange

Half of Hornsby's infield problem will be solved if Strange, who hit .324 in the Coast league last year, measures up to expectations. The Rajah, if he doesn't last at third himself, will have to make a choice between Harland Clift, a youngster from San Antonio, and Art Scharein, a weak batsman who finished with the Browns last year. Frank Bejma, up from San Antonio, is due for infield utility work.

The outfield reserves are the best the Browns have had in a long time. Debs Garms, a holdover, may alternate in left with Earl Clark, who hit .348 with the Braves last year. Ray Pepper and George Puccinelli, both obtained from the Rochester (NY) farm of the St. Louis Cardinals, are good right-handed hitters.

Pitchers Look Powerful

The pitching staff, which Hornsby is rebuilding around the veteran George Blaeholder and Bump Hadley, each of whom won 15 games last year, looks big and powerful enough to frighten the opposition. Ten of the 13 hurlers in camp stand 6:01 or better. Of the newcomers, the biggest is Jim Weaver, who stands 6:06, weighs 230 and won 25 games with Newark last year. The fastest and best prospect is Buck Newsome, formerly with the Cubs, who won 30 games for Los Angeles last year.

Ivy Paul Andrews and Dick Coffman probably will round out a thoroughly right-handed pitching staff, for which the rescue work will be handled by the veteran Sammy Gray and left-handed Ed Wells. Jack Knott, Jim Walkup, Hand McDonald and Ed Baecht are other prospects. Rollie Hemsley and Frank Grube are the backstops.

ARMORY BOOKS FIGHT CARD ON FRIDAY

WOODY WINDHAM WILL MEET KID MURDOCK IN 10-ROUND BOUT

They're still trying to find somebody who can whip Woody Windham, powerful little puncher from Abilene, and it is the opinion of a number of ringside critics that Kid Murdock can do it if anybody can.

Windham meets Murdock Friday night at the Armory in the National Guard's fight night program. They are scheduled over the 10-round route in the main event.

Announcement of the card was made last night by national guard officials after Murdock had returned a signed contract. Windham already was under contract by Ben Condray, promoter.

Four preliminaries, each of four rounds, are on the tentative card, which includes at least two amateur events in the National Guard's proposed regiment tournament.

Windham, who has never been defeated here, will meet a tough customer in Murdock, younger brother of Eddie Murdock, popular welterweight. He comes from the "fightin' family of Murdocks," of which young Thurman Murdock, a bantam who has fought here, is a member.

Fruits canned in glass jars will keep indefinitely if properly sealed; after two or three years, however, the contents are apt to become soft or mushy and there is a loss of flavor.

BRIEF NEWS OF MAJOR LEAGUE TRAINING CAMPS

PIRATES

PASO ROBLES, Calif., March 14 (AP)—The yannigans are still looking for that box of cigars—and a victory over the regulars in the Pittsburgh Pirates' training camp.

In the first "intra-mural" game of the training season, the regulars downed the rookies, 4 to 1, in five innings. The club management has a standing offer of a box of cigars for the yannigans ever time they beat the "big boys."

DODGERS

ORLANDO, Fla.—The Brooklyn Dodgers have reached the ultimatum stage in their dealings with Ray Benge, veteran right handed pitcher, who is holding out at his home in Huntsville, Texas. A telegram has been sent to Benge warning him if he doesn't report by Saturday he'll have to condition himself at his own expense.

YANKEES

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — Don Heffner, rookie second baseman of the New York Yankees, had better make good or else—

"I always told my mother I'd either be a baseball player or a bum," Don explains. "Maybe I'll be a bum but I hope not."

ATHLETICS

FORT MYERS, Fla.—Pinky Higgins, last-remaining holdout among the Philadelphia Athletics, came to terms with Manager Connie Mack over a soda fountain, agreeing to a $6,000 contract. This is one-third more than the Texan got last season.

The last of the Mackmen to report, Bob Kline, leaves Columbus, Ohio, today for the training camp. The newly acquired pitcher hurt his arm in a fall, but is now ready for practice.

SENATORS

BILOXI, Miss—Young Joe Kuhel, the Washington Senators' one and only first baseman, is generally conceded here to have owner Clark Griffith on the spot with his demand for a $3,000 raise.

Griff first offered a $1,500 raise. Then he raised the ante another $500. Word came to the training camp from Washington today that Kuhel was leaving this afternoon and that he felt sure an agreement could be reached "in short order."

FATHER TIME CATCHES UP WITH FRENCHMAN; LOSES TO BOWDEN

BY ROBERT CAVAGNARO
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 14 (AP)—Father time is catching up with 36-year-old Jean Borotra.

The bounding, whirling, French tennis master's pace is slowing up; his powerful volleying is waning, and his eyesight is losing its keenness. He still bounds and volleys, but not with the same devastating results that stamped his game in the select Tilden-Richards-Cochet-Acoste era.

Defeat Stuns Crowd

His summary removal from the national indoor championships by Frank Bowden, of New York, ranked no higher than No. 24 in the American lists, left the crowd stunned yesterday. The 25-year-old New Yorker won 2-6, 10-8, 6-3.

Borotra readily conceded he had met his master, for that day at any rate. He spoke highly of Bowden's slithering service and then added: "I did not see so well today. Of course you can not expect me to play as well now as I once did."

Andre Merlin, lone survivor among the four French invaders, found trouble staring him in the face as the field prepared for quarter-final round play today. The French indoor champion was matched against Gregory S. Mangin of Newark, American indoor title-holder for the past two years.

The other pairings sent Frank Shields against Dr. Eugene McCauliff; Lester R. Stoefen against George M. Lott, jr., and Sidney B. Wood, jr., agains Bowden.

BABE DIDRIKSON GOOD PROSPECT, GRIMES THINKS

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 14 (AP)—Babe Didrikson would be one of the best prospects in baseball if she were a boy, said Burleigh Grimes of the Cardinal hurling staff after watching the noted woman athlete work out here with pupils of the Ray Doan baseball school.

But since Babe is a girl, Grimes still thinks she is the wonder of the athletic world. The Texan who flashed across the olympic horizon also convinced newspaper correspondents here that she can play ball, and that she is fully competent to take her place in the box.

The Babe has mastered somewhat of a curve, too, that surprised those who gathered to watch her in action. She also showed a flash of the speed that enabled her to hand up a record in the 80-meter olympic event when, during batting practice, she hit one to short and easily beat out the throw to first.

Babe will go into the box in New Orleans Sunday for the Cleveland Indians against the Crescent City Pelicans. On March 20, she will pitch for Connie Mack's Athletics in Fort Meyers, Fla., against Brooklyn, and on March 22 will start for the Cards in their game against the Boston Red Sox at Bradenton, Fla. It is likely, it was said, that she will remain with the Cards on their trip north.

BASEBALL LEADER TAKEN BY DEATH

PORTLAND, Ore., Mar. 14. (AP)—Baseball has lost another great leader—Fielder Jones, who gave the game the immortal "hitless wonders," the Chicago White Sox of 1906.

The man who led a team of feeble hitters to an American league championship and followed with a world series triumph over the Chicago Cubs died last night from heart disease.

Jones was in the lumber business at his death. He never was completely dissociated from baseball, acting as a scout for the Detroit Tigers in recent years.

RANCH PLANT IS OPENED

LUBBOCK AUTO NO. 2 IS AT BROADWAY AND AVENUE M

Lubbock Auto company, inc., No. 2 has been opened at Broadway and Avenue M, Harry Morris, general manager, announced Tuesday. Complete Ford service, including sales and service, will be offered at the new quarters.

Ralph Bedford will be manager of No. 2 branch, Mr. Morris said. Herman Seeds will be in charge of the service station, Jack Blakley of the accessories department, and N. G. Hughes, head of the service department.

Announce Appointment

Appointment of Lubbock Auto company, the oldest automobile agency on the South Plains, as Ford parts distributor for 15 South Plains counties, was announced yesterday. Mancil Hall of Lubbock will be in charge of a Ford truck which will work the territory. First carload of parts has been received.

Lubbock Auto company, main unit of which will continue to be situated at 820 Texas avenue, was organized in 1921. Sam G. Arnett is president, George E. Benson vice president, and Mr. Morris secretary-treasurer and manager.

Jobs Are Opened

Opening of the branch quarters required employment of five additional persons. Mr. Morris said that opening of the plant at Avenue M and Broadway, formerly the location of Scoggin-Dickey Motor company, was planned to give "better Ford service."

The new plant also will be equipped to give quick service on all makes of automobiles. New and used cars will be sold there, as well as parts, accessories, batteries, tires, tubes, gasoline, and oil. Appreciation for the business received in the past was expressed by Mr. Morris.

CAR INDUSTRY NEEDS PLEA

HIGHER WAGE LEVELS AND SLASHED HOURS ARE RECOMMENDED

DETROIT, March 14 (AP)—The motor car industry, a leader in the parade toward prosperity, has moved to heed President Roosevelt's plea for slashed hours and higher wage rates.

It became the first of the vast industrial groups to do so when the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce announced last night that it had recommended to its member firms that average weekly hours be cut from 40 to 36 with "compensating wage increase."

Minimum Wage Restored

A few hours earlier Henry Ford, remarking that he was "mighty glad" to do it, announced that he had restored the $5-a-day minimum wage. This is the famous wage which surprised the nation when it was established back in 1914. Forty-seven thousand workers are affected.

The N. A. C. C. recommendations, if carried out by all its member firms, it will affect more than 183,000 workers. Ford is not a member. His announcement did not mention working hours.

The announcements came on the eve of a national labor board conference in Washington called to settle labor disputes in the industry in Michigan.

Warning Issued

The chamber coupled its announcement with a warning that its members "do not intend to submit to being coerced extra-legally."

"It is the position of the labor union organizers," the statement said, "that if a majority of the employes of a plant choose to bargain through union labor officials or committees, all employes in that plant must do so.

"It is the position of the employers that each employe has the right to bargain with his employer individually or through a representative of his own choosing.

"It is the opinion of the employers that the law, section a7a of the National Recovery act, clearly sustains that contention."

In Nebraska, it is against the law to allow tumbleweeds, which blow around spreading seeds, to grow on a farm.

HARD TIMES OVERTAKE ONCE WEALTHY FORMER KAISER WILHELM OF GERMANY

DOORN, Holland, March 14 (AP)—Hard times have overtaken the once immensely wealthy former Kaiser Wilhelm II of Germany.

Just how hard the Hohenzollerns have been hit is not known. A year ago, representatives in Berlin admitted their finances had suffered.

But the man in the street might not consider their losses consequential—even today. For, in telling of the reverses, the Berlin representatives were combatting published reports that the former German ruler had a fortune of about $175,000,000.

May Return To Germany

"He hasn't one-tenth of that," the representatives indignantly declared.

So serious have financial difficulties become, it is said, that the return of Wilhelm to Germany is not altogether impossible. There was, however, no official comment on the heavy loses reputedly sustained through the fall of the dollar and British pound and the ban on the exportation of Germany money.

The former kaiser remained in his estate, safely inside an eight-foot barbed wire fence, hidden from the stares of the curious by a huge, thick hedge.

As a result of a plebescite in 1926, a compromise financial agreement was reached between the reich and the Hohenzollerns. The ex-kaiser was given 15,000,000 marks in cash and retained title to 165,000 acres—some of it valuable forest land.

The Hohenzollerns likewise retained a number of palaces.

It has been reported though not confirmed, that officials of the royal household have been making trips to Germany and returning with the maximum amount of money a traveler is allowed to take out of the country now.

Dandelions need only the female parent in developing new individuals, the male cells are unnecessary.

Broadcasting Bill Favorably Reported

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP)—The Dill bill to prohibit broadcasting in foreign countries through remote control from studios in the United States was reported favorably Tuesday by the house committee on merchant marine, radio and fisheries.

The bill, introduced by Senator Dill (D-Wash) already has passed the senate.

Proponents of the measure have charged that Dr. J. R. Brinkley, ruled off the air in this country, had broadcast through a telephonic connection with a station in Mexico from a studio in Texas.

The radio commission heard, meanwhile, that Dr. Brinkley might establish a floating broadcasting station on a yacht he was reported to have purchased at Miami. Commission officials said Brinkley, though on the high seas, still would be under jurisdiction of the commission.

A Cleansing Laxative

For the relief of constipation troubles, Mr. L. R. Myers, of Justin, Texas, writes that he has obtained good results from the use of Thedford's Black-Draught, obtainable at any store where medicines are sold. "At times I feel tired, sore and out of sorts and my head will begin aching," writes Mr. Myers. "I know if I don't get this trouble fixed, it will get me down. I take a dose of Black-Draught for two or three nights. It cleanses my system, and I feel fine."

STRIKE PLANS FACE PROBE

LABOR BOARD TAKING STEPS TO PREVENT AUTO STRIKES

BY JAMES COPE

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14. (AP)—A drive to avert strikes in the automobile industry, now in its high production season, occupied the national labor board today.

Sixty union spokesmen for automobile workers of Detroit, St. Louis, Cleveland, Flint and Wisconsin cities assembled before the board to tell of grievances which had led them to call strikes. Most of the walkouts have been postponed at the board's request.

New Attitude Looms

Representatives of General Motors and other automobile corporations promised appearances. A rumor preceded them that a significant statement of policy, possibly disclosing a new attitude towards unions and the men's demands, would be made.

The Wagner labor bill, designed to outlaw all company influence over worker organizations and to expedite adjustment of labor difficulties was started on its way with the opening of senate committee hearings.

The strike threats before the board today were regarded by its members as grave. They affect Buick, Chevrolet, Fisher Body and Hudson plants, mostly in the Michigan automobile making area but also involving assembly points. Strikes already are in progress at Nash Motor plants in Wisconsin.

Earle Will Resign As Foreign Envoy

VIENNA, March 14 (AP)—Confirming reports from Washington, United States Minister George H. Earle said he had submitted his resignation, asking that it be made effective March 26.

"Only the unique opportunity to participate in the campaign for swinging my home state, Pennsylvania, Democratic for the first time in 50 years, could tempt me to leave a post so congenial in a country so intensely interesting, of which the people are so charming," he said.

HELP IS SOUGHT FOR TEXAS ROADS

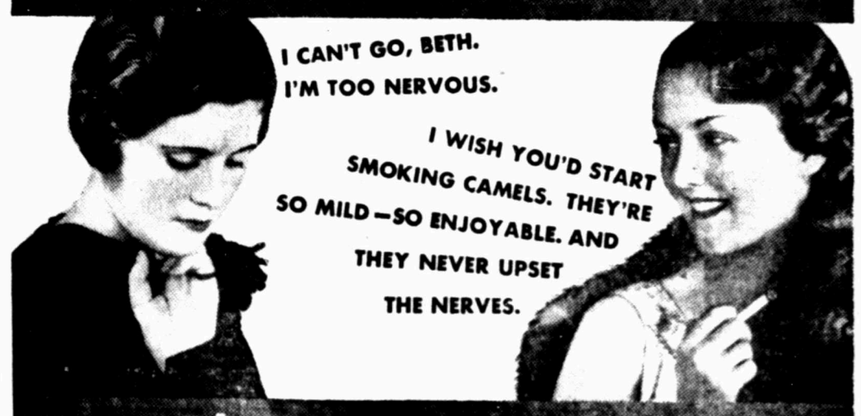

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP)—Col. Ike Ashburn of Houston, manager of the Texas Good Roads association, conferred yesterday with various officials in an effort to obtain assurance that federal appropriations for highways would be provided before the adjournment of congress.

Ashburn said it was hoped at least $400,000,000 would be provided for the next fiscal year—the same amount appropriated by the last congress. He added he favored inclusion of the appropriation in the general public works administration money bill now being drawn.

The Texan said his association would welcome a rider to the bill shutting off aid to any state which permits a further diversion of its gasoline tax funds to other uses.

Dutcher's News And Views OF WASHINGTON

Dutcher

(Copyright, 1934, NEA Service, Inc.)

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14.—The New Deal's gummiest inside story is that of the National Labor Board.

But shenanigans involving NLB have developed a knockdown capital-labor fight which labor is likely to win.

Part of industry, defying NIRA, kept on intimidating and imposing company unions on employes. Ernest Weir of Weirton Steel conspicuously defied NLB as it sought an employe election in his plants.

NLB asked the Justice Department to prosecute. Boss Joe Guffey of Pennsylvania, Weir's friend, intervened for the steel man.

Roosevelt, fearing New Deal court tests, personally took over the case and vainly tried to persuade Weir. Then he officially empowered NLB to hold elections, but put NLB under NRA jurisdiction by ordering its complaints referred to General Johnson's compliance section for review.

* * *

NLB floundered, with Chairman Wagner busy in the Senate, no vice chairman, and few members appearing for hearings. Two conservative labor members, Dr. Leo Wolman and George Berry, favored enforcement by persuasion, not action.

Wolman, accused of delaying further Weirton action, resigned. Wagner, demanding that he not quit at a critical time, got him to cancel that.

Secretary Perkins led a group demanding that Wagner be free from Johnson. Roosevelt consented and she drafted a modification order for him. It was lost from F. D.'s desk while both sides stood for days with bated breath.

* * *

Roosevelt signed a newly prepared order Feb. 23, but not until March 3, after Johnson's field day for critics had produced hot fire at the Weirton and other cases of NIRA breakdown, did he issue it.

He simultaneously strengthened the board by giving it two vice chairmen and some new members. After discussion at the White House, NLB, with Wolman absent and not voting, again referred the Weirton case to the Department of Justice for prosecution.

Dagner, disgusted with delays and NLB's internal situation on top of industrial defiance, had decided to pin his faith on his bill to abolish company unions and give NLB unquestioned legal power.

The great capital-labor fight impends in Congress, since Weir's lawyers easily can drag out his case in the courts until NIRA expires, summer after next.

That gives employes fired for union activity plenty of time to starve.

Chiseler Gets Last Word

PWA met a new type of chiseling in a southern state where its advisory board chairman was holding daily meetings, with the seeming idea of collecting regularly the $10 a day salary provided for such officials—when they work. Other state boards meet every week or two.

Deputy Administrator Henry M. Waite, touring the country, fired this unusual official when he arrived on the spot. That night, as honor guest at a banquet, he found the man billed as a speaker. And he had to listen to a strong diatribe at PWA policies in Washington.

Dead in Name Only

Is civil works a dead duck, as the administration promised, or not? What's the difference between civil works and the work relief phase of the new relief program?

Harry Hopkins sidesteps the latter question, after answering the first affirmatively. Yet he promises that all needy, able-bodied persons will be employed and that he will "maintain the integrity of CWA projects" while eliminating "some types" of CWA work.

The answer is that Roosevelt wants to bury that name "civil works" deep under the sod—and get rid of CWA's various objectionable features.

Tugwell Still in Good

Some people who don't know any better are construing Assistant Secretary Rex Tugwell's trip to Puerto Rico as a sort of banishment, indicating his gradual disappearance as a chief Roosevelt adviser. The fact is, experimental Mr. Tugwell is intensely interested in economic rehabilitation of such places as Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

They're miniature laboratories for him as he envisions rehabilitation and land retirement on a huge scale in continental America.

It also can be revealed that, what with all the recent ice and snow here, Tugwell thought it would be a swell trip.

CHAPTER THE SEVENTH
Part Two

NOW the Pharisees received these lessons from our Saviour scornfully; for they were rich, and covetous, and thought themselves superior to all mankind. As a warning to them, Christ related this Parable:—Of Dives and Lazarus.

"There was a certain rich man who was clothed in purple and fine linen, and fared sumptuously every day. And there was a certain beggar, named Lazarus, who was laid at his gate, full of sores, and desiring to be fed with the crumbs which fell from the rich man's table. Moreover, the dogs came and licked his sores.

'And it came to pass that the beggar died, and was carried by the angels into Abraham's bosom—Abraham had been a very good man who lived many years before that time, and was then in Heaven. The rich man also died, and was buried. And in Hell, he lifted up his eyes, being in torments, and saw Abraham afar off and Lazarus. And he cried and said, 'Father Abraham have mercy on me, and send Lazarus that he may dip the tip of his finger in water and cool my tongue, for I am tormented in this flame. But Abraham said, Son, remember that in thy life time thou receiveds't good things, and likewise Lazarus evil things. But now, he is comforted, and thou art tormented.'

AND among other parables, Christ said to these same Pharisees, because of their pride. That two men once went up into the temple, to pray; of whom, one was a pharisee, and one a publican. The Pharisee said, 'God I thank Thee, that I am not unjust as other men are, or bad as this publican is!' The publican, standing afar off, would not lift up his eyes to Heaven, but struck his breast, and only said, 'God be merciful to me, a sinner!" And God, — our Saviour told them— would be merciful to that man rather than the other, and would be better pleased with his prayer, because he made it with a humble and a lowly heart.

The Pharisees were so angry at being taught these things, that they employed some spies to ask Our Saviour questions, and try to entrap Him into saying something which was against the Law. The Emperor of that country, who was called Caesar, having commanded tribute-money to be regularly paid to him by the people, and being cruel against any one who disputed his right to it, these spies thought they might, perhaps, induce our Saviour to say it was an unjust payment, and so to bring himself under the Emperor's displeasure. Therefore, pretending to be very humble, they came to Him and said, "Master you teach the word of God rightly, and do not respect persons on account of their wealth or high station. Tell us, is it lawful that we should pay tribute to Caesar?"

Christ, who knew their thoughts, replied, "Why do you ask? Shew me a penny." They did so. "Whose image, and whose name, is this upon it?" he asked them. They said "Caesar's." "Then," said He, "Render unto Caesar, the things that are Caesar's."

* * *

SO they left Him; very much enraged and disappointed that they could not entrap Him. But our Saviour knew their hearts and thoughts, as well as He knew that other men were conspiring against Him, and that He would soon be put to death.

As He was teaching them thus, He sat near the public treasury, where people as they passed along the street, were accustomed to drop money into a box for the poor; and many rich persons, passing while Jesus sat there, had put in a great deal of money. At last there came a poor widow, who dropped in two mites, each half a farthing in value, and then went quietly away. Jesus, seeing her do this as He rose to leave the place, called His disciples about Him, and said to them that that poor widow had been more truly charitable than all the rest who had given money that day; for the others were rich and would never miss what they had given, but she was very poor, and had given those two mites which might have bought her bread to eat.

Let us never forget what the poor widow did, when we think we are charitable.

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

ANOTHER LEADER PASSES

Death removed another of that fast-thinning band of West Texas pioneers this week when Dr. J. W. Hunt, founder and president of McMurry college at Abilene, passed on to his great reward.

Cowboy, printer, editor, preacher and educator, Dr. Hunt saw the transition of this vast empire from a "cow country" to its present advanced stage of cultural, social and moral development. He saw the time when one had to travel for miles and miles to attend church and then services were held only when the circuit rider was able to make his way by horseback over this vast region. He saw the area change from its frontier life until today when many towns dot the map once covered only by the range and in these towns may be found churches and schools, marking advancement in that phase of civilization he worked for above all others.

Wherever there was a battle to be fought for religion or education, you could almost always find James Winford Hunt in the thick of the fight.

His rich and varied experience gained in the frontier days of West Texas brought him characteristics rarely found in a college man. A great teller of stories, Dr. Hunt will be remembered for his dry humor and peculiar method of relating 'a yarn', ofttimes from the pulpit when his listeners were forced to break into murmurs of laughter. Sympathetic, kind and tolerant, his guidance was sought by thousands of students who attended the Abilene school which he founded.

His death marks another "gap" in the ranks of leaders of Christian education, not only of West Texas but throughout the entire scope of Southern Methodism.

With Whiz' BARRY Under The Capitol Dome

BY R. W. BARRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, March 14. (AP)—Jack F. Reed, formerly of Galveston, sprang a surprise on members of the Texas Relief commission when he appeared to take the oath of office as a member of that group.

At the last meeting he had fallen short by one vote from consideration as successor to Director Lawrence Westbrook, who had been called to Washington to assume more extended duties.

"Knew The Ropes"

Reed had been assistant to Westbrook during the latter's incumbency and had a thorough knowledge, apparently, of the workings of the organization. Westbrook had been in charge ever since Mrs. Ferguson came to the governor's chair. He had been administering federal funds long before the state's money was added to the relief pool.

When the commission ousted Reed by a five to four vote, it hurt him personally. He was in line for assistant director but he quit at once.

When he walked into the meeting to take the place of Robert Real of Kerrville, resigned, other members gasped. They did not know Real had resigned.

Real had been the appointee of Coke Stevenson of Junction, speaker of the house of representatives. Reed was Stevenson's choice to succeed Real. Reed and Stevenson are close friends, having lived on neighboring ranches long before Reed came to the capitol.

Reed went into his job with vigor. He no doubt, has a better knowledge of the workings of the relief set-up than any man in Texas. Adam R. Johnson, chosen to be director, hardly has had time to gather up the many strings of the relief situation.

The ROMANTIC RUNAWAY

BEGIN HERE TODAY

PABLITO, a handsome 17-year-old youth, works at the palatial home of millionaire JIM FIELD. When Field's daughter, ESTELLE, arrives he falls in love with her almost at sight.

Pablito knows nothing of his parents—a titled Englishman and a servant girl. As a child he ran away from ANGELA, the heartless old crone in whose care he was left. Since then he has lived with NORRIS NOYES, wanted by police for a murder years before.

TED JEFFERIES, a guest at the Field home, sees Noyes and recognizes him. Noyes flees to the swamp where he overhears a man and girl planning to rob the Field home during a masquerade party the following evening. Pablito gives Noyes mney to go to Havana and promises to meet him there later.

Pablito, disguised as a toreador, goes to the masquerade in order to talk to Estelle.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

* * *

CHAPTER X

Pablito found Estelle a little withdrawn from the crowd. No one seemed to notice the slender child swathed in green tulle. She was royalty exiled by a mask and she wavered, a fledgling, while sure-footed seduction moved easily and surely; jewels twinkled on low-bared breasts, invitations in languid-lidded eyes.

There was a pathetically uncertain smile about her still plastic lips and there was a little ache in her stiffening cheeks which had grown of forcing the smile.

"May I sit with you?" Pablito asked. It was what he had planned to say but he had not planned that his voice should shake as it did.

"If you care to," she answered and he dropped to the rug beside her. She smiled naturally now and suddenly she flushed. She had recognized Pablito because of the blueness of his eyes. She thought, her heart warming, that in all her dreams of the party she had not dared hope this dream could come true!

She wanted to say, "I'm so glad you came!" but stifled the impulse. Perhaps he might not want her to appear to recognize him, knowing that he must have come unbidden and by a circuitous route.

"It's a lovely night for the party, isn't it?" she asked.

"I suppose so, but if it were pouring I wouldn't know it—now."

"Oh." She did like him so much and he said such pleasant things!

"I've thought of this and thought of it," he confessed, his voice intense.

"Have you really?"

"Last night I couldn't sleep for thinking about it," she heard next. It was a curious feeling that she was experiencing. She was happy and yet she wanted to weep a little in April fashion and to lay her hand on his. She wondered whether that was a dreadful wish and knew she could not help it even if it were. She did want to lay her hand on his.

"You don't need those pipes," he said next. "Anywhere you are there is music."

"You say—very kind things."

* * *

He shook his head quickly, vehemently, without answer. Then, drawing a deep breath, he looked down at the small pipes which she held. Something that grew of her new emotions made her speak quickly. "I—I like your dagger," she said.

He drew it from the wide red sash as he answered, "It's real so don't touch the blade—"

She took it from him and turned it over.

"It's quiet at the lower end of the beach," Pablito went on, "and we could see the stars there. I like them better than torches."

"Oh—so do I!"

She rose and he was by her in an instant, towering above her and looking down at her. She gave him the dagger. He slipped it under the broad sash which revealed the hard slenderness that had been made by muscle-testing work out of doors. Then, almost in silence, they made their way to the deserted beach where torches did not mute the stars.

Now and again he touched her arm to help her over a bit of driftwood or a ridge of wind-blown sand. He felt himself trembling as he touched her and knew how he loved her. And he knew too that he loved her so much that he would always think of her needs before he thought of his own, no matter how urgent his own, and that this was the way of true loving.

They settled on a bench sheltered by the twisting, tree-like sea grape vine and, looking at the stars, Pablito found himself telling her of the Malayan legend which says that the moon, when she comes out with her many star children, drives the childless sun, in her great shame, into hiding far to the other side of the world. He thought she would like the legend and she did like it. Presently, speaking a little less shyly, he was telling her the Greeks' idea that the stars in their moving made music that the gods alone could hear. "I like to think of that," he said, "and somehow I don't believe it's so far off. Almost every man, I guess, has a song that is his alone and that some one he cares for puts into his heart."

* * *

Estelle turned to face him, looking up at him. "Pablito," she said, "I know you and I knew I'd like you and do!"

He could not answer that.

"Can't we be friends?" she asked.

He caught his breath. "How, Miss Estelle?" he asked in turn when he could speak.

"But—why couldn't we be?"

"We belong to different worlds," he said slowly. "You see you are a princess and I am a servant."

"I don't think that should make any difference," she said with a bit of youthful severity. "You don't really think it matters, do you?"

"I'm afraid I do."

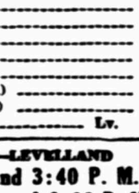

"Why?" she asked with a shade of disappointment.

"Well, because nowadays a prince who comes calling on a princess must be mounted on a fine automobile. You can't rescue a princess from a tower if you're astride a flivver. People would hear you coming and bar the gates!"

She smiled, liking his manner of

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, March 14 (AP)—Cotton opened about steady today, Liverpool was a shade worse than due and sterling was unchanged. First trades here were 2 to 4 points down but the market moved up 2 to 3 points after the start in sympathy with firmer stocks and a moderately bullish domestic mill consumption report for February. July traded at 12.36 and October at 12.50, or net unchanged to one point up from yesterday's close.

Trading continued light pending action on the Bankhead bill.

The consumption report showed just a little less cotton consumed in February than in January due to the shorter month.

The market was very dull all morning, waiting on the action of congress on the Bankhead bill. Prices fluctuated narrowly, but improved slightly with stocks. May advanced to 12.27, July to 12.38 and October to 12.54, or 4 to 6 points above the early lows and 2 to 4 points above yesterday's close.

Near noon the market eased one to three points, leaving the price level up one to two points net.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 14 (AP)—Cotton opened steady, 1 higher to 2 lower with a small business as traders awaited action on the Bankhead bill regarding crop control. March unquoted; May 12.23; July 12.33; Oct. 12.51; Dec. 12.62; Jan. 12.67.

Small offerings came from the south, Liverpool and wire houses but they were absorbed by trade and commission house buying. Prices rallied a few points during the early trading as contracts remained scarce and further trade buying brought in scattered covering. However, volume remained limited. May sold up from 12.23 to 12.27 and the general market at the end of the first half hour was ruling unchanged to about 3 points higher. The census bureau report on domestic consumption of 477,890 bales during February as against 508,034 in January and 441,203 in February last year was about in line with expectations and without apparent market influence.

The market remained quiet but with a steady undertone during the morning. Fluctuations were narrow, while the demand was limited it was more than sufficient to absorb the small offerings and prices worked a few points higher with May selling up to 12.30 and the general market holding unchanged to 6 points net higher at around midday.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, March 14 (AP)—Upturns in wheat prices early today accompanied renewed attention to dust storms and to widespread need of moisture for domestic crops. One Kansas point said the dust storm there yesterday and last night was the worst in history.

Opening unchanged to 1-4 higher, May 88 1-2 to 5-8, wheat afterward showed general gains. Corn started unchanged to 1-2 lower, and subsequently altered little.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Mar. 14. (AP)—Stocks and staples displayed no runaway tendencies today, but neither did they show any inclination to yield their steady to firm positions.

Predominant bullish sentiment appeared to be tempered by caution. Washington developments, including efforts to settle various strike problems, apparently were the principal market influences.

Bonds again advanced, a number of issues recording new highs for the past two years or more. Wheat did a little better and cotton, silver and rubber futures were about even. Foreign exchanges were again featureless.

Most of the rail shares got up around a point. Among these were Santa Fe, Union Pacific and N. Y. Central. Liggett & Myers B gained 2 and the other tobaccos improved. The aircrafts were relatively active with Douglas, Sperry, Curtis Wright and Wright Aeronautical firming fractionally to around a point. Consolidated Gas and some of the other power stocks were up about as much. Case, Chrysler, Western Union, General Motors and Johns-Manville were moderately higher. American Telephone, ex-dividend, was virtually unchanged, as was U. S. Steel. The metals and alcohols were about the same.

College And Lake Named For Murray

OKLAHOMA CITY, Mar. 14 (AP)—Gov. William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray's name probably will endure in Oklahoma long after he has left the chief executive's office.

One county of the state was named Murray at statehood in honor of the man who headed the constitutional convention and served as speaker of the first legislature. Another was named Alfalfa.

Recently the legislature provided for construction of a huge lake in Carter and Love counties near Ardmore, and members decided it should be called "Murray lake."

Board of agriculture members have voted to name a $450,000 girls' dormitory to be constructed soon at Oklahoma A. & M. college "Murray hall."

HEIMWEHR HEADS HOLD CONCLAVE

VIENNA, March 14. (AP)—Austria's Fascist Heimwehr leaders met in an extraordinary conclave today, called within 24 hours after Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss departed for a two-day series of conferences at Rome.

The conclave was announced suddenly and lent the flavor of authenticity to some of the many rumors of a possible Heimwehr (home guard) coup in the little chancellor's absence.

Stubborn Styria—which alone of all Austria's nine provinces has not yet completely capitulated to the wave of "Fascist renewal" started in the Tyron shortly before the civil war—was at the forefront of opening discussions.

There is not yet any Fascist commission controlling Styria and the provincial diet, already an anachronism in other provinces, is scheduled to meet tomorrow. That is why a decision in regard to Heimwehr policy toward Styria was made one of the first items of business.

will make no definite move to reorganize any of the present governmental air units, including the army air service, until he has the comprehensive report on every phase of aeronautics he has requested.

It was definitely stated the White House has no immediate plans for the organization of a separate air corps.

Secretary Swanson of the navy expressed "doubt whether efficiency or economy could be served" by taking the marine corps air force from under the charge of the navy and placing it elsewhere.

Meanwhile, Major General Benjamin Foulois, chief of the air corps, started a survey of the army air-mail routes with a view to determining when the army could safely resume flying the mail, and the senate postoffice committee continued its hearings on the permanent air-mail bill designed to turn the air-mail back to private aviation.

The committee decided to ask Lindbergh, Chamberlin, Mitchell and Eddie Rickenbacker to give their views on the bill.

SUDAN BABY WHO SWALLOWED LYE IMPROVES TODAY

Marked improvement in the condition of Celestia Joy Henderson, an 18-month-old child, who swallowed some lye she found in a can her three-year-old brother had given her as a plaything, was reported this morning at Lubbock sanitarium.

When his mother washed, the little boy, Billy, helped pacify his little sisters, Celestia Joy and Bobbie Roy, twins. He gave them what he considered pretty playthings.

Tuesday afternoon, he gave them a can of lye. Celestia Joy swallowed some of the caustic powder. Her throat and mouth were burned severely. Her condition was considered critical last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Henderson, who live in Sudan, are parents of the children. Mrs. Henderson, who was outside her home washing, discovered the accident about 1 o'clock when she heard her daughter crying.

Celestia Joy was brought to the sanitarium about 8 o'clock, after emergency treatment in Sudan.

JAPAN BUILDS NEW CRUISER

CRAFT WILL BE MOST POWERFUL B-CLASS BOAT AFLOAT

KURE, Japan, March 14 (AP)—Japan launched today what will be, when completed within the next two years, the most powerful and formidable "b-class" cruiser afloat—the Mogami.

The Mogami, laid down in October, 1931, is an 8500-ton "light" cruiser, first of six which either are being built or projected for early construction.

To Have 15 Guns

The armament will consist of fifteen 6.1 inch guns, placed in five triple turrets of most modern design.

Foreign experts doubt that such great gunpower can be accommodated on a craft of such light displacement, but the Japanese are not disturbed by these opinions.

They say that in speed, power and the range and weight of her broadsides she will be a formidable adversary for any of the a-class cruisers built by the naval big three—America, Britain and Japan—since the Washington conference in 1922 set the 10,000-ton limit for cruisers.

The Mogami will develop 33 knots from the 90,000-horsepower engines. She is 625 feet long and her cost will be about $12,500,000.

A GAS WATER HEATER
MUST PASS RIGID TESTS
To Merit The Testing Laboratory Blue Star Seal!

In the photograph above a testing expert in A. G. A. testing laboratory is testing a new automatic water heater to see if it meets the Thermal Efficiency requirement.

The automatic gas water heater does its work so quietly and well that its very existence is forgotten days at a time by the entire family. Its principle is, of course, a regular cycle of water temperatures. When the maximum temperature of the water is reached, the thermostat turns off the gas, and automatically turns it on again when the temperature drops to the correct minimum. The very fact that it is automatic, silent, and hidden makes it particularly important when you purchase a new one, that it meets the exacting requirements of the American Gas Association testing laboratories for construction, performance and safety.

These requirements, though, do not necessarily add to the manufacturing and selling cost of the water heater you buy; and hence you can find a wide selection of models possessing the BLUE SEAL, at popular prices. This is likewise true of all other gas appliances . . . so that you do not need to feel that because you are buying a low priced appliance, you cannot expect to have a model with the BLUE SEAL affixed to the side or back of it.

speech, but frowned an instant later because she did not like the meaning of it.

"That is foolish," she said.

"I wish it were. Things would be so much simpler. You see, as it is, I have to acquire the proper armor — dinner clothes — somehow and a lance—I mean a check book. And I have to learn the password which is knowing the 'right people'. There's so much I haven't that I need!"

"You are very clever," Estelle said. "Who taught you about all those things?"

"I can't tell you," he answered, a little worry creeping into his voice. For a moment she was chilled, failing to see loyalty in the wall between them. "But I'm not clever," he added.

"I wish I could see your face," she said.

"I see yours in the dark or light and I see it most of the time."

She was vaguely depressed by the sweetness that made so thick and overwhelming an aura around her and by the transiency of such sweetness, which she knew because on the morrow the maids would begin to pack for the flight north.

"Are you going north?" she asked.

"No." He sat looking down at her steadily and worshipingly. In a few short hours miles would lie between them. Suddenly she leaned toward him and he felt her hand on his. He turned quickly to grip her fingers and remembered the fact that her hand was small and soft and that he must not hurt her.

"We must be friends," she said not quite steadily. "I do so want us to be friends."

For a moment he pressed her hand against his breast where the hard pounding of his heart would speak for him. Then abruptly he released it to sit away from her, his strong teeth set on his lower lip, frowning from his effort to recapture a little steadiness.

"The fine automobile part doesn't matter," she whispered.

"Oh, but it does!" he contradicted, his voice almost harsh. "I have lived one life and looked on at another and it has taught me a lot I would have missed if I had been walled inside the one or the other. But I'm going to work for the right to come back and pound on the front gate. I'm going to work for nothing else but that. Will you remember that?" He had to stop to get his breath. "Will you remember," he went on, "that I am coming back and that I shall never forget it and that I'll live on my dreams about it?"

"Yes—" he heard her whisper.

He drew a deep breath, then lifted her clasped hands from her knees to kiss first one and then the other. She shrank a little because she loved it so. He whispered, brows drawn close by feeling, "You needn't be afraid of me—ever—in any way. Will you remember that, too?"

"Yes," she whispered again and thought. "I wish he would kiss me." She did not care whether the thought were wicked or not; she wished he would kiss her!

DISPOSITION OF ESTATE VALUED AT MORE THAN MILLION IS UP IN SUIT

FORT WORTH, March 14 (AP)—A law suit unique in the annals of Texas jurisprudence, involving disposition of a trust estate valued at more than $1,000,000 by the late E. D. Farmer, wealthy Parker county philanthropist, was on file in forty-third district court in Weatherford today.

Filed in the name of Attorney General Allred, the petition asks for an accounting and to enforce terms of the Farmer will by which the bulk of the estate was left to charity. It names as defendants George Beggs, jr., Fort Worth, executor of the Farmer estate; Edward W. Taylor, associated with Beggs; Gertrude Farmer, a sister of the deceased, who lives in England, and Bishop Harry T. Moore, Dallas, of the Episcopal church.

Violation Claimed

The petition sets forth that the will provided that the bulk of the estate be sold within five years after Farmer's death, May 29, 1924, and that the proceeds be applied to worthy charities chosen by the executor and the sister. It is alleged that terms of the will have not been carried out and that the time limit for disposing of the estate was May 29, 1929.

Farmer, a bachelor, 72 at the time of his death, was the heaviest tax payer in Tarrant county at one time. Most of his holdings were real estate in Parker and Tarrant counties. He came to Texas from England as a boy and amassed a fortune rapidly after he began humbly on wages of $1.50 a day in Fort Worth 40 years ago. He also owned property in New Zealand and British Columbia. During his lifetime he gave liberally to church and charities.

Beneficiaries Not Named

The suit was filed by F. O. McKinsey, assistant attorney general. It was explained that the suit was brought in the name of the attorney general because none except the general public is interested in the disposition of the estate. The will did not specify beneficiaries but left the matter to the choice of Beggs, with the advice of the sister of the deceased.

In a statement here last night Beggs said he had disbursed for charitable purposes approximately $1,000,000, including a gift of $115,000 to the University of Texas. He said in 1930 he made a gift of a Fort Worth business property, then valued at $600,000, to Bishop Harry T. Moore, Dallas, for the use and benefit of the Episcopal church of Weatherford, the three Episcopal churches of Fort Worth and the University of the South, Sewanee, Tenn. Beggs explained the administration of such an estate, even in ordinary times must necessarily require a reasonable period of time.

According to recent figures, there are 2,014,000 motor vehicles in England at the present time.

Long Stretch

WASHINGTON—(AP)—With a large green handkerchief hanging far out of his pocket, Senator Lewis, Illinois Democrat, was having difficulty voicing opposition to the St. Lawrence seaway treaty. He had a cold.

During one of the husky moments, Senator Long of Louisiana, stepped in yesterday to take up the cause, allowing Lewis time to spray his throat with an atomizer. Long doesn't like the treaty, either.

Senator Vandenberg, Michigan Republican, told Senator Lewis that "by no stretch of the imagination could opposition to the treaty be more strongly presented."

"I say stretch of the imagination," he added, "for the senior senator from Illinois has stretched his until there's no resistence left."
