$1 million surpassed...

Prison fund is 'over top'

Snyder community leaders were celebrating Friday morning as the prison fund exceeded the $1 million goal.

The Economic Development Committee's finance committee met Friday morning to announce that the fund-raising effort was "over the top" with $1,019,700 in the form of either cash or firm pledges.

"We still have some funds that are expected from national firms," stated Rex Robinson, Snyder National Bank President and chairman of the finance committee.

"The response has been terrific, and from all segments of the community," said Bill Parker, president of West Texas State Bank.

"This has been a model community effort--one that folks can be proud to be a part of," added Eddie Johnson, president of American State Bank.

It was noted that the $1 million goal was achieved in less than three weeks. "This is truly remarkable," observed Roy Baze, prison project coordinator.

In all, it is estimated more than 700 individuals donated toward the goal.

On Nov. 9, Texas Department of Corrections selected Snyder as a site for a 1,000-bed prison to be located on a 608-acre tract northeast of Snyder.

As part of the incentives to attract the TDC to West Texas, the prison committee agreed to donate the land and an industrial building to the state. The $1 million will be used for these transac-

Fleeing suspect arrested

A 30-year-old Snyder man was chased and arrested early Friday after a city patrolman reportedly saw him trying to break into a north Snyder grocery store.

Jimmy Waylon Willett of 2106 Merrill Ave. was arrested after a foot chase west from G&G Grocery off the Clairemont Highway across College Ave. and north into a cotton field, police said.

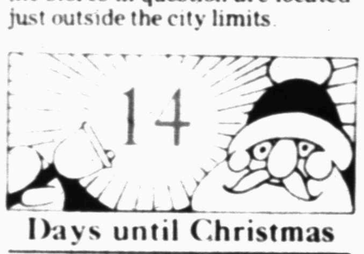

Officers were on routine patrol when they saw a man attempting to force open a back door of the building with a board. The man "froze" in the police lights and then started running when he heard the car door open, the officer said.

Police are also investigating a break-in at the nearby D&P Grocery that they currently believe is related.

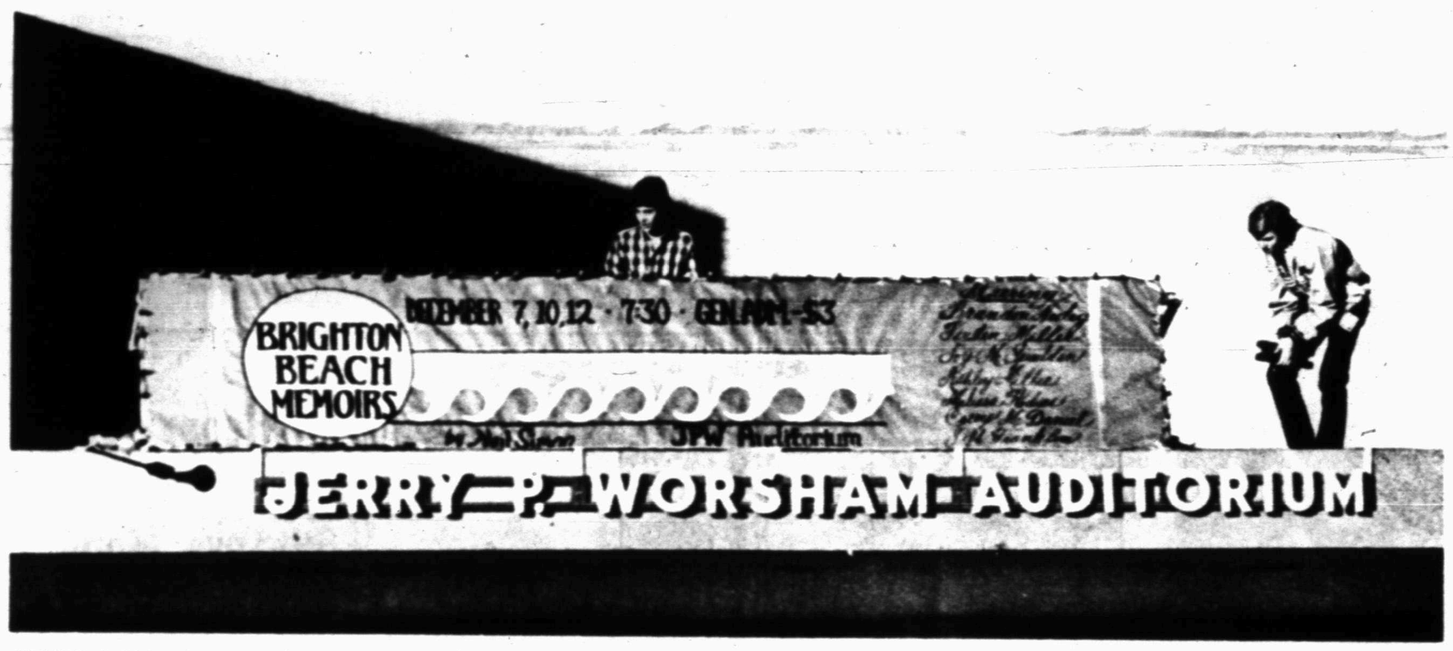

The incident at G&G Grocery occurred around 1:42 a.m.

Bond was being set for Willett at mid-morning.

The case has been turned over to the county sheriff's office since the stores in question are located just outside the city limits.

Yule promotion 1st session Saturday

The first of three scheduled Christmas prize-giveaway sessions sponsored through the Snyder Chamber of Commerce is Saturday and chamber staffers say the response to date has been even greater than expected.

Individuals who have "shopped at home" in Snyder since Nov. 27 will now be able to exchange cash register tapes from 45 participating merchants for an estimated $20,000 worth of prizes.

Saturday's session will begin at 1 p.m. at the chamber office, 2302 Ave. R. For a total of three sessions, some 100 prize items are offered and chamber staffers say 23 of these will be available Saturday.

The complete list has been divided to be offered equally at each of the three sessions. Others are scheduled Saturday, Dec. 19, and Wednesday, Dec. 23.

"The prize someone wants may not be up Saturday," noted chamber staffer Jackie Hall. "Some have told us they'll wait for the item they want."

She estimated some 200 persons have already been to the chamber offices to validate their cash register tapes for points. This must be done before an exchange can take place, she noted.

On Saturday, individuals will be allowed to "shop" for prizes on a first-come, first-serve basis beginning at 1 p.m. Based upon the first in line outside the chamber office, persons will be admitted inside in small groups.

Individuals will be limited to one item per redemption date.

Regarding the prizes, she noted items range from a Wilson tennis racket, exchangable for six points, to the highest point item, a diamond and sapphire ring valued at 150 points.

For every $10 amount of purchase from the 45 participating merchants, the shopper has received one point.

Other point counts for popular items include a 25-inch console TV, 100 points; a VCR, 75 points; a BMX-style bicycle, 23 points; and a ladies 10-speed bicycle, 20 points.

Other prizes to be offered at one or all of the sessions include microwaves, jam boxes, recliners, luggage, AM-FM stereos, 35 mm cameras, watches and vacuum cleaners.

Rules of the promotion state that individuals must be at least 18 years old to participate; that

Construction permits return to snail's pace

Snyder building permits, which surged forward to a good start in October, slowed again to a snail's pace during the second month of the new fiscal year.

The total for November saw new construction here estimated at $42,150--a figure which includes eight projects to include two mobile home move-ins.

The first month of 1987-88 saw the permits rise to some $480,000. The second month now brings the total to $522,150, still ahead of last year's poor showing during October and November. Last year at this time, permits were at $235,750.

The permits issued last month include move-ins for mobile homes issued to Linda Sturdivant, 700 North Ave. T.; and A.E. McIntire, 2604 23rd St.

Carport additions were also applied for by Mark Holdren, 3615 Ave. E; Glenn Patterson, 2805 26th St.; and Doug Horsley, 2611 Ave. I.

An office move-in was applied for also by Daryl Drain, 1306 25th St.; and Shannon Warren of 2512 Ave. W applied for a residential addition.

The only other permit was for a storage building issued to Keith Matthies, 3002 41st St.

Larry Crabtree, in the Vernon Daily Record, said preachers ought to appreciate the following story.

A bag of old, worn-out bills were returned to the U.S. Department of Treasury. A $1 bill and a $20 bill in the same sack started a conversation.

"Gee, I went to nice stores, good restaurants, fine resorts and even around the world," said the $20 bill. "How about you?"

The $1 bill groaned.

"All I ever did was go to church, go to church, go to church."

Former SDN adman Brent Taylor is due to be married in Littlefield next week. He is publisher of the Lamb County Leader-News.

In making plans for the honeymoon, Taylor was asked if there was any way that the couple could appear that they had been married a long time.

George Dolan, in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, wrote about three companions with rural upbringings who were debating the relative merits of various farm animals.

"Without question," said one, "the horse is the most versatile. You can work cattle with it, hitch it to a wagon or ride it for pleasure."

"What about the cow?" argued another. "It provides milk, butter, meat and leather."

"No," said the third. "It's the chicken. It's the only one that you can eat before it's born or after it dies."

Ask Us

Q. — At one time there was a stipulation or requirement that all police officers were required to live in the city limits. Is this still true?

A. — The state law regarding this has changed. Cities may no longer specify that their employees live within the city limits unless such employees are "emergency status," a rule which applies to police. In Snyder, city officials say they only specify that police officers be with "close proximity" of work in case they must be called on emergency duty. This does not necessarily mean "inside" the city limits and each case is considered individually.

ELMORE, THE TOO TALL ELF by Kevin Fagan

Renowned violinist dead at 86

LOS ANGELES (AP) — World renowned violinist Jascha Heifetz, who was a prodigy in Russia by 1910 and whose greatness grew through the decades, died after a lengthy hospitalization. He was 86.

Heifetz died late Thursday at Cedars-Sinai Medical Center, where he had been admitted on Oct. 16 to be treated for complications arising from a fall, hospital spokesman Ron Wise said today. Heifetz had undergone neurosurgery.

Fame came quickly and Heifetz took a series of world tours.

Heifetz was married twice, with both unions ending in divorce.

He and actress Florence Vidor were married in 1928. The couple had two children, Josepha and Robert.

His second marriage, in 1947 to Frances Speigelberg, lasted 16 years and produced a son, Joseph, also known as Jay.

Dear Abby

Woman Searches for Theme In Her Episodic Job History

DEAR ABBY: I am the secretary in a "one-girl office," working with two gentlemen. After two years, I am getting ready to quit my job because one of the men has become impossible to get along with. I dread coming to work and can't wait to leave. Consequently it is affecting my work.

This is not the first time this has happened to me. Although I generally get along with people, there always seems to be that one individual at every job who gets on my nerves.

I am 33 years old and have had five jobs in the last 10 years. I always leave after two years. I am not good at faking my feelings, and after two years I find myself fed up with one person where I work. I envy people who have stayed in one job for years and say they "love" it. I'm competent, have never been fired and have no trouble getting a job, but I'm beginning to wonder if maybe something isn't the matter with me. Is there a support group for Job Quitters Anonymous?

I'M SERIOUS
IN WASHINGTON, D.C.

DEAR SERIOUS: You are very insightful to wonder if perhaps the problem isn't you. You need to find out why you've established this pattern of quitting after two years. Can it be that you don't really want to succeed, so you set yourself up to fail?

I've never heard of a "Job Quitters Anonymous," but I do know that with counseling you could probably find out why every job goes sour after two years. It's worth a try. Good luck.

DEAR ABBY: As the Christmas season approaches, school teachers everywhere brace themselves for the annual deluge of expensive plaques, ceramic apples, refrigerator magnets, pins and ornaments, all inscribed "No. 1 Teacher."

Abby, no teacher would display such self-proclaiming objects in his/her home or classroom. After simulated delight at receiving each "unique" gift, the useless gimcracks are stored with more of the same from years past.

A handmade card would be much more appreciated. I would prefer that the child spend the money on something for the family's holiday. If a gift is considered necessary, one that would be truly enjoyed would be a small gift certificate for a meal out. Sign me ...

GIFT COLLECTOR

DEAR RELUCTANT COLLECTOR: Your letter was a first. Teachers everywhere will bless you for your candor. Now, let's hope the would-be buyers of those "No. 1 Teacher" items will read Dear Abby and take your sensible suggestion.

DEAR ABBY: "Douglas" and I have recently divorced. Our daughter, "Diane," is 9. Douglas has two older children from a previous marriage. He did not tell Diane about them, and he asked me not to tell her, so she doesn't know they exist.

Abby, doesn't Diane have the right to know that she has two half-siblings somewhere? I don't think it's fair to keep it from her. Also, I'm afraid if I don't tell her, she may find out from someone else and end up resenting me one day for not telling her.

Is it my responsibility as the custodial parent to let her know that she has half siblings? I know where they are living.

ON MY MIND

DEAR ON: I think Diane should be made aware of her half-siblings. Tell Douglas that if he doesn't tell her, you will. If the half-siblings are adults, contact them and find out how they feel about meeting Diane. If they are minors, get in touch with their mother and find out if they want to be "found."

Bishops' position softened

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Roman Catholic bishops for the first time gave qualified support for educational programs that describe how condoms may be used to prevent the spread of AIDS.

In a statement issued Thursday, the church leaders acknowledged that some people "will not refrain from the type of sexual or drug abuse behavior which can transmit AIDS.

"In such situations, educational efforts ... could include accurate information about prophylactic devices or other practices proposed by some medical experts as potential means of preventing AIDS. We are not promoting the use of prophylactics, but merely providing information that is part of the factual picture."

Church doctrine considers condoms an unacceptable form of birth control.

Mary Hunt, a Catholic theologian who is co-director of the Women's Alliance for Theology, Ethics and Ritual in Silver Spring, Md., called the bishops' discussion of condoms "a bit of a softening of earlier positions."

"It seems like the church is beginning to open up to the reality that condoms are the best preventive means we have to prevent the spread of AIDS," said Ms. Hunt.

Carl Eifert, a spokesman for the U.S. Catholic Conference, said the bishops merely meant to say they would tolerate educational programs that discuss the use of condoms.

The bishops' statement was developed by a special task force set up last March by the 48-member administrative board of the U.S. Catholic Conference, which approved the statement in November and decided to make it public this month.

New treatments improve outlook

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT — At age 35 I suffered a severe heart attack. Five months later I developed double pneumonia with respiratory failure. Four-and-a-half months later, I had another severe heart attack; six weeks after that, pneumonia and respiratory failure again, as well as high blood sugar, low potassium and several other problems. I've been told I'm lucky to be alive. With my history, what are the survival rates?

DEAR READER — You are describing diabetes, premature (and serious) heart disease and a susceptibility to infection. Without treatment, the outlook for your survival is not promising. However, with modern therapy, you could do relatively well.

As a start, you will want to keep your blood sugar under control. This means weight reduction (if you are overweight) and close attention to diet. Medicine, in pill form or by insulin injections, will help stabilize your diabetic tendency.

Second, diabetes and premature heart disease are usually associated with excess blood fats, such as cholesterol and triglycerides. If your fats are high, you will have to bring them down — with a low-fat diet and, perhaps, by cholesterol-lowering drugs. To help you in one aspect of this regimen, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report, Eating Right for a Healthy Heart. Others who want this should send $1 and their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

Third, your tendency to develop pneumonia must be addressed. If you smoke, stop. Obtain medical help for any infection — particularly an upper respiratory infection — no matter how trivial it may seem. Get the flu shot. Avoid close contact with people who have colds and coughs.

Finally, you may be a candidate for coronary-artery bypass surgery or balloon angioplasty to re-establish bloodflow around (or through) damaged arteries to your heart. This option would require that you have further extensive testing, such as coronary angiography (a type of X-ray examination to assess the state of your heart's circulation) to determine whether surgery would help you.

Although you have many medical problems to contend with, modern treatment would undoubtedly prolong your life and make it more enjoyable.

Videotape caused mistrial

AUSTIN (AP) — A videotape used as evidence in the civil rights case of a former Austin police officer that ended in a mistrial may have been more confusing than helpful, jurors say.

State District Judge Jon Wisser declared a mistrial Wednesday in the civil rights trial of former officer Gaylon Dunkin, who was accused of wrongly striking a suspect, after jurors deliberated for 6½ hours. The case might be retried.

Dunkin, 33, was fired in October after an internal police investigation determined he used unnecessary force.

A videotape, upon which prosecutors relied heavily, apparently confused jurors more than it helped them decide whether Dunkin wrongly struck Christopher Hosek, who was under arrest in a DWI case Aug. 6.

"If we didn't have that video, we might have reached a decision instead of being a hung jury," said James Klepac, 24, one of eight jurors who had voted for acquittal. "A lot of us thought the videotape was bad evidence."

Jury foreman Neil Gilligan told the Austin American-Statesman that the videotape was of poor quality and that the television on which they viewed it did not help.

"I am a former broadcaster of more than 25 years, and I regretted that we were using a consumer-grade video player," said Gilligan, who works in the radio-television-film department at the University of Texas.

"The quality of the picture might have led some of the people who voted for acquittal to take that position," said Gilligan, who said he steadfastly voted to convict Dunkin.

"The picture was jittery at best, and you didn't have what I felt was as clear a picture as you could have had. You could have seen more clearly that Hosek did not make an aggressive move" toward the officer, Gilligan said.

Dunkin was charged with violating a prisoner's civil rights, a third-degree felony. If convicted, he faced a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

The videotape of the scuffle, which was made inadvertently, shows Dunkin hitting Hosek three times in a scuffle at a police station. Hosek was taken there to take a breath test or to be videotaped after his arrest on suspicion of DWI.

In testimony, Dunkin told jurors that he hit Hosek because Hosek resisted being videotaped. Dunkin said he thought Hosek was going to hit him.

Sampson can't score; Rockets triumph still

HOUSTON (AP) - The Utah Jazz held Houston's Ralph Sampson scoreless for the second time in his 4-year NBA career but it didn't insure a victory.

Jim Petersen stepped in for Sampson with 14 points and 11 rebounds and hobbled guard Allen Leavell scored 20 points, had five steals and 8 assists, leading the Rockets to a 98-93 victory Thursday night.

Sampson, who had traded verbal barbs with Utah's Karl Malone the day before the game, was 0-for-6 from the field, had four turnovers in the first quarter and 3 rebounds to show for his 20 minutes.

Sampson was silent following the game, dressing quickly and leaving the Rockets' locker room.

Rockets Coach Bill Fitch had little more to say about Sampson's sub-par performance.

"It doesn't do me any good to say anything about tonight's game," Fitch said. "The only game for him I'm concerned about is our next game with the Bulls."

The verbal feud started Wednesday when Sampson was asked if Malone, who scored 32 and 35 points in two previous games against the Rockets, was an intimidator.

Sampson replied: "He ain't 7-4, so he can't intimidate too much."

Told about Sampson's comment, Malone replied "Akeem Olajuwon isn't 7-4, but he's three times more intimidating than Ralph."

Malone led the Jazz with 21 points and 8 rebounds but he wasn't adding fuel to the feud after the game.

"I wasn't intimidated, was he?" Malone asked. "I'm not showing a guy up. You don't kick a dog while he's down. I'm leaving it be. I'm a professional and he's a professional. It's not my place to assess someone."

Leavell, playing despite a hip injury, was favorably assessed

Westerners relinquish 13-point lead; fall to Hawks in conference opener

Western Texas College's Westerners played a fine basketball game for 32 minutes here Thursday night. Then something happened.

"We didn't finish the game," moaned Coach Tony Mauldin, whose Westerners dropped a 13-point lead and fell to Howard College 81-77 in their first conference game of the season. "Offensively, we quit attacking the bucket. We wanted to run some time off the clock, but we didn't want to stop playing offense. I think we were afraid of losing."

It was Western's final ballgame before the holidays and left the team with a 3-13 record overall. Howard, which opened conference play over a week ago and is 2-2 in league play, is 7-9 for the season.

Western forged a 40-37 halftime lead and went to the three-point line to stretch the margin in the final half. Chris Jackson, Darrell Nelson and Derrick Greene all bagged points from long distance as the hosts appeared to take command of the ballgame. Twelve of WTC's first 16 points of the second half were tallied from three-point range. The result was a 56-45 lead with 14:36 to play in the game.

Western moved from the three-point line to the foul line to keep a strong lead on the Hawks. Jackson, Bobby Spear and Gerald Wells all bagged free throws. When Greene notched his second three-pointer of the half with 7:55 left, Western led 70-57.

The hosts lost their grip shortly after, however. Howard reeled off six straight points to make it a 72-67 game with 4:36 remaining. The Hawks continued to chip away at the lead. It didn't help Western that both Greene and Nelson were protecting four fouls each.

Larry Pettigrew scored to put Howard within two points, 77-75, with just over two minutes left. WTC's Walter Martin missed a layup at the other end, and Tyrone Greer answered for the Hawks with a slam dunk that tied the game.

Western had two chances to score in the next few seconds, but turned the ball over both times. On the second time, Pettigrew came up with it and went to the basket uncontested to put the Hawks ahead 79-77 with 45 ticks left. Western had another chance to tie the game when Martin went to the stripe with 22 seconds to play. The 6-8 freshman missed, however, and Howard rebounded. Pettigrew then bagged two free throws with two seconds to play, sealing the victory.

Martin led all scorers in the game. He posted 22. Nelson notched 17, Jackson 13, Spear 12 and Greene 11.

Lady Tigers play tonight

Snyder Lady Tigers go for their second straight 2-4A victory when they take on Monahans at 7:30 tonight in the high school gym.

A junior varsity game is set for 6 p.m.

Snyder is 6-3 for the season and 1-0 in conference play.

In other girl's action, Snyder freshmen play in Hermleigh at 6:30 p.m.

Dusters edge Queens, 63-59

Western Texas' Lady Dusters fought off a determined Howard Queens' attack here Thursday to post a 63-59 victory in their first conference game of the season.

Nicky Allen's heart-stopping free throws with 1:13 to play put Western in front by four, 61-57, and the Dusters were able hold on for the victory.

The win leaves the Dusters at 11-3 overall as they break for the holidays.

Howard, which got a 37-point effort from sophomore standout Stefanie Massie, falls to 1-3 in conferenee play and 4-12 overall.

"Howard played real good Stefanie Massie can't be guarded, I don't think," said WTC Coach Kelly Chadwick. "We had people all over her and and still couldn't stop her. Fortunately, we slowed her down a little in the second half."

Massie got 23 first-half points but managed just 14 in the second. Her first-half effort was good enough to stake the Queens to a 36-34 lead at intermission.

Western went into the game as a heavy favorite, but had to struggle the whole way.

"I tell you, our kids are so tired, so emotionally tired, and they haven't played in a week and four or five days. That's why our shooting was off. We've been concentrating on grades, and trying to overcome some other problems," noted Chadwick.

Western went in front to stay with an Allen field goal at the 3:40 mark, 55-54. Julie Roewe made it 57-54 moments later.

Still, Howard stayed close. When Allen went to the line with 1:13 left, the Queens trailed just 59-57. Allen's first shot bounded straight up from the rim and fell back through. Her second shot did the same as a small but vocal crowd sighed a breath of relief.

The game wasn't over yet, however. Karen Mitchell hit a long jumper to put the visitors back within two points, and when Roewe missed a shot for Western moments later, Massie rebounded. Mitchell tried to hit the long shot again but missed this time and Staci Smith rebounded for Western. The Dusters iced the contest when Kayla Thompson corked a pair of free throws with four seconds to play.

Allen pitched in 18 points for Western. Colbert scored 11, Roewe 10, Stephanie McKnight 9 and Thompson 8.

All nine of McKnight's points were from the three-point line as she hit three-of-three.

"Stephanie came in and played great," said Chadwick. "I would have played her more but I can't play both her and Kayla (at point guard). We've got to find a way to get them both in the ballgame, though. Stephanie is playing too well to keep her out."

Tigers can't hold Hereford; Denver City next opponent

DENVER CITY -- Hereford blitzed the hoop with 60 per cent shooting in the second half to slip past Snyder in the first round of the Denver City Tournament here Thursday, 60-53.

Snyder, now 6-4 for the season, will play Denver City at 5:30 p.m. today as the tournament continues.

"In the first half we shot 37 percent and they shot 35. In the second, we shot 39 and they shot 60. That turned out to be the big thing," said Snyder Coach Larry Scott.

It helped, too that the Herd outrebounded the Tigers, and that Snyder's key height - 6-5 Trey Tippens and 6-4 Terry Garza - were in foul trouble.

"They outrebounded us most of the time. Their starters were 6-6, 6-5, 6-3 and 6-3 and we had trouble shooting from the outside. When they saw we weren't hitting, they went to a zone and just packed it in inside," noted Coach Scott.

Tippens fouled out with over four minutes to play; Garza with over three minutes left.

Garza led the Tigers with 18 points. Tracy Braziel scored 12 and Tippens added 9. Garza had 9 rebounds; Braziel 8.

Marcus Brown led Hereford with 12 points.

Wellman, Lohn clash for state 6-man crown

Wellman and Lohn bring a pair of high-octane offenses to Tiger Stadium tonight for the state six-man football championship game.

Kickoff is set for 8 p.m. Tickets are $4 for adults and $1 for students at the gate.

Wellman comes into the title match with an 11-3 record, including a shocking 62-28 victory over Jayton in last weekend's semifinal.

The Wildcats are affluent at running and passing the ball. Jay Rowden led Wellman in a 352-yard rushing effort over the Jaybirds. He piled up 219 yards and four touchdowns on just 19 carries. Teammate Robert Mercado directs Wellman's solid passing game. Mercado connected on eight of 14 attempts for 161 yards and three touchdowns last weekend.

Wellman's game will be well tested by Lohn, however, a 38-32 victor over Christoval in the semifinal round.

William Covington rocked, rolled and scampered for 227 yards and five touchdowns on 34 carries to direct Lohn's attack. Lohn, located near Brady, is 12-1 for the season.

Temporary changes have been effected at Tiger Stadium to accomodate the six-man game, which uses a field 80 yards by 40 yards instead of the traditional, 11-man surface of 100 by 50 yards.

Variations in rules include:

- First down yardage is 15 yards in six-man ball instead of 10.
- An extra point kick is worth two points while a run or a pass is worth one point - just the opposite of 11-man ball.
- Field goals are worth four points.
- All linemen are eligible to catch passes.

Baseball meetings wind up with only eight deals made

DALLAS (AP) - The name of the game at baseball's winter meetings has always been trades, and some of the game's biggest names were traded - Dave Parker, Lee Smith, Floyd Bannister, Phil Bradley.

But some of the biggest newsmakers at the five-day, swap-and-shop meeting were the big names that almost moved on, players such as Pedro Guerrero, Dave Winfield, Kirk Gibson, Brook Jacoby and Bob Welch.

The winter meetings are regarded by some as a no-longer-necessary holdover from the days when baseball general managers sat around hotel lobbies from breakfast 'til bedtime, talking trade with anyone who would listen. The interleague trading deadline coincided with the end of the meetings and as many as 50 to 60 players switched uniforms in a single week.

This year, at the 86th winter meetings at a sprawling Texas resort hotel only eight trades were made, involving 22 players. But as Pittsburgh General Manager Syd Thrift said, "Sometimes you lay the foundation in December for the trades you make in April."

The last deal, and the only one swung Thursday, saw Kansas City obtain 16-game winner Bannister and minor-league infielder Dave Cochrane from the Chicago White Sox for young pitchers John Davis, Melido Perez, Chuck Mount and Greg Hibbard.

"The Royals have wanted another starter since trading Danny Jackson to Cincinnati for pitcher Ted Power and infielder Kurt Stillwell. The Yankees and Milwaukee Brewers also made bids for Bannister, a left-hander with a 117-128 career record.

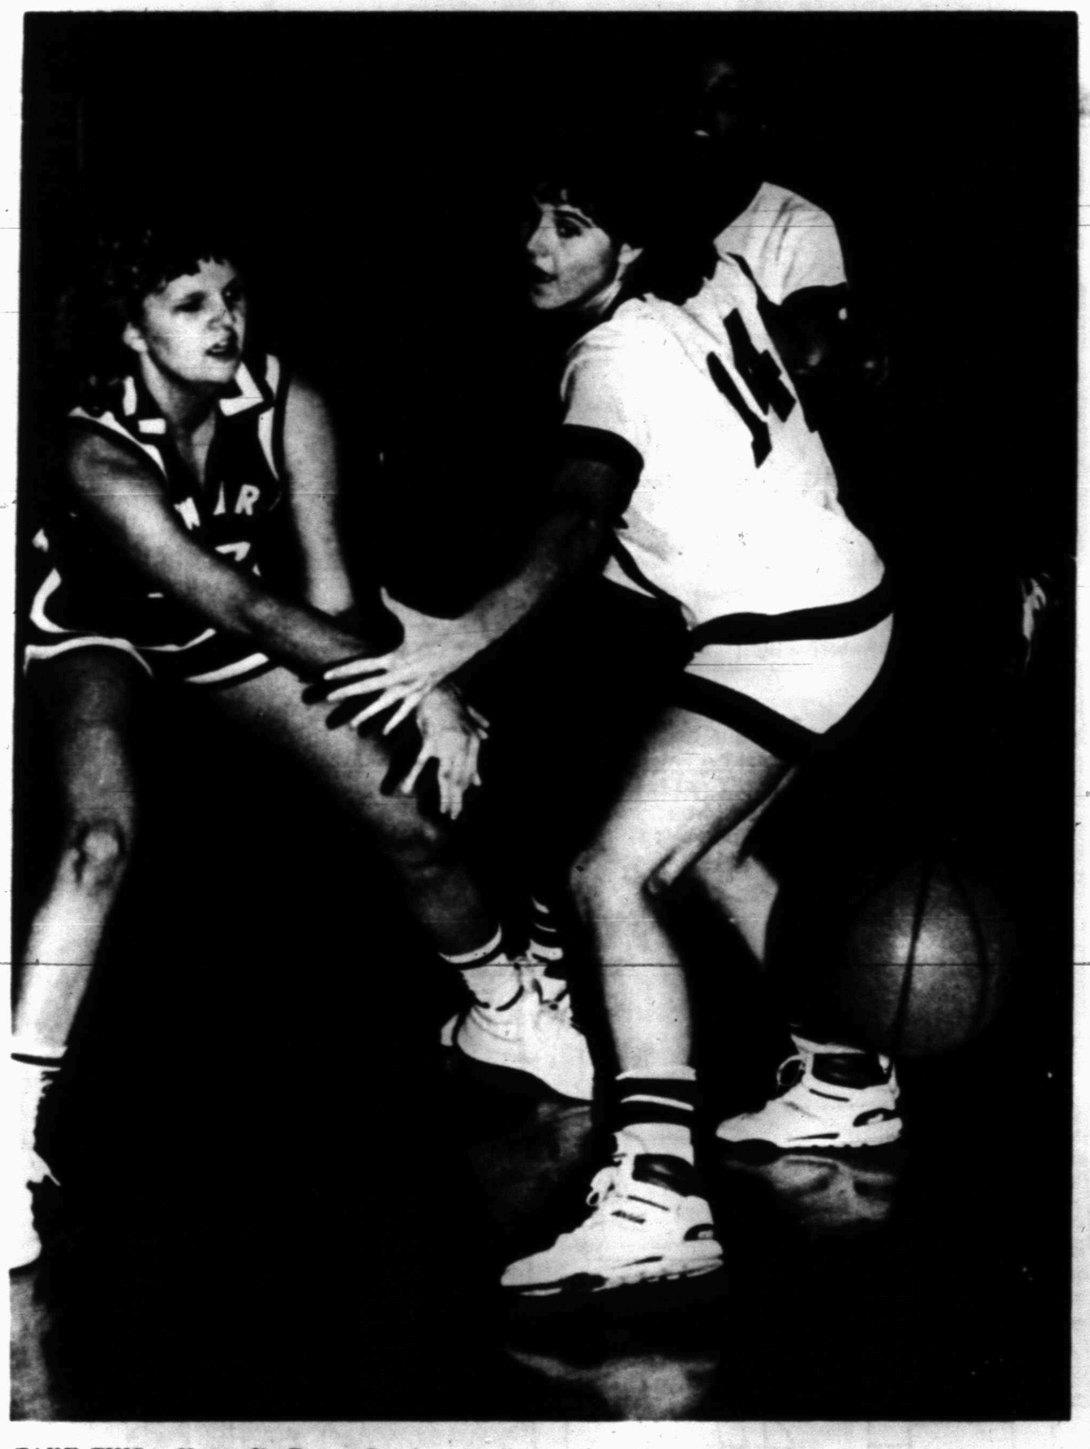

"Combined with our recent trade, we think this puts us in a strong position to contend for the AL West title again in 1988," John Schuerholz, the Royals general manager, said.

Other major trades saw Cincinnati deal Parker, the two-time NL batting champion, to Oakland for promising pitchers Jose Rijo and Tim Birtsas; Philadelphia get the fleet Bradley from Seattle for run-producing outfielder Glenn Wilson and two other players, and Boston get its long-sought bullpen closer, Smith, from the Chicago Cubs for pitchers Al Nipper and Calvin Schiraldi.

The meetings officially ended Wednesday, but many club executives stayed around Thursday.

"You don't like to leave because you lose the momentum you had here," Toronto GM Pat Gillick said. "There were times when we were talking to four or five teams."

The Yankees, Mets and Dodgers pressed unsuccessfully to make deals. The Yankees, who also wanted Parker, offered Winfield to Detroit for Gibson, but the Tigers said no when they saw all the zeros on the end of Winfield's $1.9 million-a-year paycheck.

White may not start; Noonan could get call

IRVING, Texas (AP) - Dallas Cowboy Randy White may not start in Sunday's game against Washington because of a pinched nerve and his role with the team could be reduced next year if injuries continue to plague the defensive tackle, a coach says.

"My projection for Randy the year after (this) probably would be to be a situational type of player," defensive coordinator Ernie Stautner said Thursday.

He said the team would use Danny Noonan in the run area and White more in passing.

Should White not start Sunday, Noonan, the Cowboys first-round draft pick from Nebraska, could get the call, his first start with the team.

White, 34, last season was troubled by a hamstring injury and shoulder problems that required off-season surgery, and he failed to make the Pro Bowl team after nine appearances since his professional career began in 1975.

White suffered the pinched nerve earlier this season and aggravated it on the first play in Sunday's 21-10 loss to Atlanta. He didn't tell coaches about the problem until this week.

"I knew he wasn't playing the way he normally plays, but we didn't know why" said Coach Tom Landry.

If the nerve doesn't heal adequately by Sunday, Landry said he would feel comfortable starting Noonan in White's right defensive tackle position.

Stautner said Noonan could become a regular starter, if he performs adequately and injuries hurt White.

White enters the final year of his five-year contract in 1988. Noonan was signed to a four-year, $1.68 million contract this summer and primarily has been playing on running downs. He and White have been alternating at right tackle for the past five weeks.

"Allen's defensive effort was as much a key as Akeem's blocked shots," Petersen said. "Allen's playing with an incredible heart rate right now. He's give up his body."

The Rockets trailed most of the game until they outscored the Jazz 10-2 during a fourth quarter surge to take the lead for good with 5:13 to play on a pair of free throws by Purvis Short.

Reagan fills Congress in on three-day summit

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan is filling in congressional leaders today on his summit with Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev and his plans to go to Moscow for Round IV next year to pursue an arms-destruction agreement going far beyond the treaty signed here.

A U.S. official, who spoke on condition of anonymity, said the three days of talks produced an understanding that a treaty for the destruction of strategic weapons would be verified with on-site and short-notice inspection, overcoming a potential barrier to agreement.

No great successes on other issues were claimed by Reagan or by Gorbachev. Reagan could report only "some very limited movement" on human rights and no deal for ending the Soviet occupation of Afghanistan.

Gorbachev, before flying off to meet with Soviet bloc leaders in East Berlin, promised to "work hard" to have a treaty ready for signing in Moscow next year to reduce sharply strategic weapons delivered by bombers, submarines or intercontinental bombers.

Such a meeting would be the fourth Reagan-Gorbachev summit and would come just before America went through the process of picking the candidates who will compete to become Reagan's successor.

Reagan sent Secretary of State George P. Shultz on a NATO swing to sell to allies the treaty calling for the destruction of all mediumand shorter-range missiles held by both sides.

Meantime, the president wasted no time going to work to make sure no tide of conservative opposition to the accord arises to kill it if two-thirds of the Senate vote against ratification.

"I believe this treaty represents a landmark in post-war history," Reagan said in a nationally broadcast address Thursday night a few hours after winding up his talks with Gorbachev.

Both its abolition of an entire category of nuclear weapons — those with a range of 315 miles to 3,125 miles — and intrusive inspection arrangements are unprecedented.

"That is why I believe this treaty will not only lessen the threat of war but can also speed along a process that may someday remove that threat entirely," Reagan said in his speech from the Oval Office.

Some Senate conservatives, however, are skeptical that the verification procedures are air-tight or that defense of Western Europe would be just as secure without the protection of the 429 U.S. missiles to be scrapped.

Since the decision last month, Snyder has been visited twice by TDC officials making preliminary plans for construction of the $13 million facility on which construction is due to begin in March of next year.

When operational, the facility will employ 250 persons with an annual payroll of $6.7 million. In addition, community leaders are optimistic about future expansion.

The 1,000-bed compound will comprise about 76 acres, leaving adequate space for future expansion. Since utilities will already be at the site, future expansion can be accomplished without additional cost to the community.
