Better Livestock Day Planned in County May 20

Plans for a Better Livestock Day in Perryton were made Monday at a meeting of county stockmen and two outside visitors. The meeting, held in the Hotel Coffee Shop, was attended by Dr. Jack Miller head of the animal husbandry department of Texas A. & M. College and Knox Parr, district agent.

It is planned to hold the Better Livestock Day on Saturday, May 20, at the county fair grounds, and there will be all classes of livestock and poultry on display.

County agent Hood Willis is chairman of the show, assisted by Keith McLain and H. J. LeMaster of the Ochiltree County Chamber of Commerce.

There will be no prizes, although the animals will be judged and displayed by out-of-town judges.

More details of the show will be announced after plans are worked out, Willis said.

Present for Monday's meeting were stockmen representing the following livestock classes: Herman Hargrove and Ivan Day, sheep; C. J. Frantz, Jr., and Lawrence Elzey, Hereford cattle; Bus Freeman and R. H. Holland, horses; Harry Reimer, dairy cattle; Jake Boone, swine; Roger Pearson and Percy Powers, Angus cattle.

Others present were Martin McCarty, Farm Bureau; Dickie Hall, 4-H Club; Keith McLain and H. J. LeMaster, Chamber of Commerce; Dr. Jack Miller, Knox Parr and Hood Willis.

W. E. Pannell pleaded guilty in county court Thursday to a charge of illegal possession of liquor for sale and was fined $100 and costs by county judge Dave Shanks.

Pannell was fined $400 and sentenced to 30 days in jail last Wednesday upon being found guilty on another bootlegging charge.

H. L. "Buck" Chaney also pleaded guilty in county court Thursday to three counts of violation of the liquor laws. Judge Shanks fined him $100 and costs on each charge. He received a fine of $500 and was sentenced to 30 days in jail on the opening day of county court.

Remaining cases in the list of bootlegging charges filed on January 18 have been continued to the May term of county court.

Quota for the county is $2,128.

Highway Signal to Be Installed At Intersection

The State Highway Department has approved installation of a flashing highway signal at the intersection of state highway 117 and S. Eton street, Mayor C. C. Carter has announced.

This information was received Tuesday in a letter from James G. Lott of Amarillo, district engineer.

A traffic count made in April, 1948, justified the installation of this type signal at the intersection, and it is believed that traffic has increased since that time.

Both the city and school officials have asked for a flashing signal at this intersection because of the many school children that must cross the highway to and from school.

Dollar Day to be Held March 7

Twenty-two Perryton firms and their employees will join to bring another Dollar Day for this trade territory on Tuesday, March 7. Many examples of low pricing can be seen in the advertisements in this issue of the Herald, with special bargains in clothing for the pre-easter season.

Other bargains are scattered through Dollar Day advertising, too, and these special prices combine to make this Dollar Day event outstanding for the wise shopper.

Dollar Day will be held every month in Perryton on the first Tuesday. It is becoming rapidly established as the biggest bargain event in the territory.

LeRoy LaMaster In Race for Congress

Five to Run For Worley's Vacant Post

LeRoy LaMaster, young Perryton farmer, became last week one of five candidates for the post of U. S. Congressman from the 18th district following the surprise nomination of Rep. Gene Worley for a federal court job. There has still been no word as to when Worley will resign as Congressman to accept the lifetime job on the U. S. Court of Customs and Patents.

LaMaster's entry into the race was a surprise to most of his friends, but it was not a sudden idea for him. "I have been thinking about this for a long time," he said. "I was considering getting into the congressional race before Mr. Worley received his appointment."

The son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. LaMaster, LeRoy has been associated with his father in farming since his discharge from the Navy in March, 1946. He is 31 years old and unmarried.

Born in old Ochiltree on Dec. 30, 1918, he moved to Perryton with his parents the following year when the town was founded and has made Perryton his home since then, except for the time spent in college and in the Navy.

After graduating from Perryton high school in 1936, where he was active in Boy Scout, FFA and 4-H Club work, he attended John Tarleton college for two years. Following that, he went to Texas Tech for two years and graduated from Texas A. & I. in 1941, taking a B. S. degree in agriculture.

He worked for the Farm Security Administration for a year, then Gyger is a native of Perryton, and after graduating from Perryton high school, attended the University of Texas for two years. He served in the Air Force for over three years during World War II.

Sketches Presented of Five

The five candidates, to date, in the congressional race to fill the post to be vacated by Rep. Gene Worley are Walter Rogers of Pampa; LeRoy LaMaster of Perryton; Blake Timmons of Amarillo; Mrs. Altavene Clark of Amarillo; and E. T. Burk, Amarillo State senator Grady Hazlewood has been mentioned as a candidate, although he has thus far declined, as has former mayor Lawrence Hagy of Amarillo.

The 18th congressional district includes 28 counties, extending down as far as Dimmitt, Tulsa, Silverton and Turkey on the South Plains and including Motley and Cottle counties below that.

Candidates will run in a special election to fill Rep. Worley's unexpired term, and the July primary is to fill the regular two-year term which will begin in January, 1951. The date has not been set for the special election, depending upon Worley's resignation.

Walter Rogers, Pampa attorney, was born in Texarkana, Ark., and moved to Sherman. See No. 9, Page 8

Face Governs Hair Styles

Michel, trend setting hair stylist offers tips for styling your hair to enhance the contours of your face.

If your face is the ideal oval, you can adopt a fairly extreme hair-do successfully. Because you are so fortunate, you might like to try the charming and witty new "pinkish shears" cut. For this, the hair is smooth on top, and brushed downward. The ends are cut in an uneven jagged line reminiscent of a little gamin.

If your face is round, keep your hair close to your face creating the illusion of length. Wear your hair about mid neck length. Avoid bangs, because they cut the length of the face.

If your face is square, wear soft curls. Concentrate height at the top of the head, and add modified fullness below the ears. Avoid very short cuts and any suggestion of width at the cheek bones.

If your face is an inverted triangle, keep your forehead exposed with a hint of fullness at either side. Bring your hair for-

New Suits Strike A Slim Note

Greetings to the suit of Spring 1950 strong point and talking point of your wardrobe for any occasion and every occasion.

Shorter skirts and shorter jackets with special emphasis on pocket detailing and shoulderlines combine to make suit news this Spring of the mid-century starter year.

If you wear, as well as follow, the latest trends, there's truly dramatic styling for your suit this Spring season. The jacket (25 or 26-inches in length) is belted at the waist, elegantly bloused in back, sometimes with back pleats that extend into the sleeves to give the important sloped shoulder effect. The collar plunges low in front and rises high in back to serve as a perfect frame for your new shorter hair-do. The sleeves are fairly full, often tightly nipped at the wrist, in order to provide the new shirtwaist sleeve feeling. And in striking contrast, the skirt is slim, slim, slim, relieved in severity by possible kick-pleats, stitching or side rows of buttons. The skirt is also about 1-inch shorter than your last year's skirt or 14-inches from the ground.

Padded Hips
If you like your suits to have a svelte, slim appeal, you can choose them that way. The hips may be padded, the waist will very likely be nipped. And the straight sleeves will in all probability have trim turn-back cuffs. You'll select that reed-slim suit with a striking asymmetrical jacket closing, wonderfully combined with a side-swept skirt.

Diagonal closings or not, there are always pockets galore. They'll be placed nearer the waistline than on your Fall suit, and will possibly be located on the back of your jacket or at the hipline of your skirt. Slide in-button-down, curved, contrasting, hidden, with flaps, these are only some of the pockettypes so abundant this Spring.

Or choose a boxy jacket suit, saucy as a little boy. Pleated skirts are the feature this season topped with on the trend to the shorter in length. They hang to the waist or hip bone rather than wrist-length as they did last season. Many have demure little rounded collars to help complete the little boy manner. Also noteworthy, as well as appealing, in this year's crop of boxies are the many bright contrast linings to be seen.

Lighter Weights
Suits have that sleek look and feel about them this Spring, thanks to the sleekly treated fabrics of which they've been styled. New lightweight worsteds, sometimes sheer, but always durable, are highlighted in your suit selections. Also prominent are jissue weight tweeds, skillfully manipulated like silk. The perennial favorite, menswear grey flannel, makes a favorable entry into the Spring '50 suit line-up.

And predicted to be prized year-round values are the rayon suits, modestly priced and more smartly styled than ever before to be amazingly similar in appearance to fine worsteds.

Incidentally, you can stop worrying about wearing out that favorite suit too quickly. Just select a suit with two skirts.

Box-Faced Texan Boomed for Welterweight Crown

By JAMES F. FLOWER

MIAMI, Fla.—A young baby-faced Texan with a trip-hammer punch is being boomed by Florida fans as the coming champion of the welterweight division.

The 24-year-old Bobby Dykes, who is demanding a crack at Sugar Ray Robinson, is the favorite.

Instead of the familiar "Lemmy" at the champ, "I'll murder you" and "Dykes is quietly saying: 'I'm not ready yet. He's too good for me. In a year, maybe I'll be in his class. Give me a year.'"

Loyal Dykes supporters, however, contend it won't take a year of this rangy, good looking San Antonio, Tex., welterweight to beat Robinson.

They point to his record of 79 victories in 85 fights — 37 of which have been via kayos. They point to his National Boxing Association rating of 9th in his division, although he has met only one contender.

Dykes' style is unusual, at least. He plods to the ring in a motion picture of unconcern. He clambers into the ring and leans down on the nearest stool as though he had just completed a million miles of roadwork and disdains about as much animation as a dozing basketball player.

When the bell rings he ambles toward the center of the ring as though the journey was sapping his last ounce of energy.

But when a blow has been struck he becomes as listless as a young wildcat.

Florida fans like his sportsmanship. They like his ability to put on a good show but at the same time substantially lick his opponent by out-boxing, out-smarting and out-smarting.

Once he whispered to his opponent during the fight that he was hurt badly. The referee took his advice and stopped the fight.

His knee for the referee's contention that he had been stopped by the referee.

His routine is simple. He has hours of roadwork and two in the gym daily of nourishing foods.

He eats a lot of fried foods. He has occasional cocktail and cigar a day, but does not drink.

He is all at rest. "In fact I'm resting," he says. "I'm not in any hurry to save strength."

Recently married to a stewardess here, Dykes has a pugilistic career when he was 15 years old in Texas.

He is crowned by one of the the spectators," he recalls. "One of the fans heaved a half-filled bottle of whiskey at me when they gave the decision. It missed."

Now I get about $2,500 per fight.

"What do I want out of life? Some money, a crack at the title — eventually, and then get out of the fight game."

"I want some kids," he grinned. "Several," he added a few minutes later. And to set him apart from the fight crowd, he blushed. Honest. He blushed.

Sept. 24 1949 was New Year, 5710 in Israel, which has adopted the Jewish calendar.

Three Fires are Reported in City This Week

Three fires were reported in Perryton last week, none of them doing major damage.

The first fire occurred at 11:20 a. m. Thursday, when approximately 15 posts on a vacant lot at S. Cedar street and 4th avenue caught fire. The posts were burned, and some lighting equipment was damaged.

A stack of baled hay at the J. W. Payne residence, 301 S. Birch caught fire at 1:30 p. m. Friday and destroyed about $50 worth of hay before the fire department put out the blaze. Fire chief Tom Waugh stated that the fire appeared to be started from a trash barrel nearby.

A small storage building at the Adrian Thomas home, 605 S. Amherst, was destroyed Sunday afternoon, along with a saddle and other personal belongings. Cause of the fire was undetermined.

Lipscomb Wheat Outlook Still Bright Despite Dry Weather

FOLLETT—"The best prospects mean the poorest crops and vice versa." This adage is affording comfort to a good many wheat farmers in Lipscomb county where rainfall for the past four months totals .75 inches.

"We're still optimistic, and we think the wheat is doing good," Louis M. Buchner, work unit conservationist at Follett, said Tuesday. He visited the farm of a cooper with the soil conservation program early this week and reports that the wheat is looking good and the cattle are still grazing it. Mr. Buchner has been in soil conservation work since 1935 and has observed wheat crops for many more years than that.

A check in January disclosed 28 inches of available moisture below the surface on some of the poorer land in Lipscomb county, he said. Mr. Buchner estimates that this moisture has been depleted by only about two inches since the check was made since there have been no hot winds and only the growing crop have absorbed the moisture. There was 48 inches of available moisture just after the wheat was sown last fall, Mr. Buchner said.

In discussing the outlook for this year's crop, the soil conservationist pointed out that WHEN moisture is received has a greater bearing on the wheat crop than how much is received. This season, heavy rains were received at the ideal time—between harvest and the sowing season. Last summer 3.07 inches were received in June, 1.84 in July, 1.03 in August, and 1.93 in Sept.

"We find moisture and crop conditions better where the residue is kept on or near the surface," he said.

face of the soil," he said.

Looking further into the prospects for this year's crop, Mr. Buchner said failure to receive additional moisture before the static winds of April and May would play havoc with the wheat.

The dry winter has made another contribution to wheat prospects. Mr. Buchner says that lack of moisture on the surface has forced the roots of the plants to go farther down which means more grain and less straw.

Symons Building To be Finished Within 30 Days

Another new business building on Main street is under construction and is scheduled to be completed in about 30 days. It is being built by Roy Symons, with C. D. Russell as the building contractor.

The new building, 25 by 140 feet, will be of solid masonry construction, the exterior to be of light buff brick. It will house the Perryton Recreation Club, and the front portion will be occupied by the Stone Barber Shop. The building is located at 313 S. Main, next door north of the F. B. Sumpter Insurance Agency. The frame building which formerly occupied this location has been torn down.

All new equipment will be installed in the recreation club, Symons said. There will be four new snooker tables and four new pool tables, in addition to domino tables.

It will have an asphalt tile floor and will be lighted by fluorescent lamps.

Darrouzett Lodge And Eastern Star Are Entertained

DARROUZETT—Members of the Masonic Lodge and Eastern Star were entertained at a banquet in the Darrouzett Legion hall Tuesday evening.

Following the banquet an interesting program was presented under the direction of Mrs. Glenn Phillips. Stephen Cross, age 3, read stories from a book, readings were given by Sharon Phillips, Mike Gilger, Sheri Beth Jackson, and Patsy Altmiller. A short play entitled "Everything's Off" concluded the program. Characters were Wade Phillips, Russell Altmiller, Carol Rush, Zell Burton, Jan Jackson, Lynn Jackson and Barbara Ragan. Lynn Jackson substituted in the cast for Bille Wheatley who was injured and could not take part.

ALEXANDRIA, Va.—(AP)—A 17-foot bronze statue of George Washington has been erected in the George Washington Masonic Memorial.

It cost $80,000, and it took the sculptor, Bryant Baker of New York, two years. It is the gift of the Order of DeMolay, a Masonic youth organization.

The statue depicts Washington with hat in hand preparing to open a meeting of his old Masonic lodge in Alexandria.

Two Escape Death Friday at New Booker Equity

Two men escaped death Friday in a freak accident inside the new Booker Equity grain elevator, one possibly owing his escape to the other.

Seriously injured were Ernest Hensley, 20, of Arnett, Okla., and Darrell Rutz, 18, of Booker.

The two men were descending a ladder inside the elevator annex and Hensley had descended within 5 or 6 feet of the floor when Rutz lost his footing 50 feet above.

While fellow workmen looked on helplessly, Rutz tumbled toward the elevator floor. As he fell, however, he struck Hensley and both men plunged to the floor.

Taken to the Sanford Hospital, Rutz was found to have suffered a compound fracture of the left leg above the ankle, a broken collar bone and severe bruises. Hensley suffered multiple bruises.

Oscar Whittaker, construction superintendent, said Rutz would have been killed had he not struck Hensley, breaking the fall. The construction firm of Chairmen and Barton of Hutchinson, Kansas, are constructing four concrete storage bins, a new addition to the elevator.

The two men were handling steel at the top of the bin about 50 feet above the ground.

Average Day

EAST LANSING, Mich.—(AP)—Michigan State Halfback Lynn Chandnois' feat of scoring two touchdowns in the 1949 East-West game in San Francisco and averaging seven yards per offensive thrust, was just about par for the lanky Flint, Mich., speedster. He averaged 6.5 yards on 321 carries and scored 180 points in his four-year college career.

Burglars Enter School Thursday; Nothing Missing

Superintendent Gilbert Mize's office at the Perryton schools was burglarized Thursday night, but a check revealed that nothing of value was taken from the office.

Entry to the building was made by breaking out a pane of glass at the rear door to the elementary school building and then opening the door from the inside.

Mize's desk was gone through, but all valuables, including miscellaneous school funds, was locked in the vault, which was not touched.

Sheriff Ray Phagan stated that the burglars may have broken into the office looking for receipts of the independent basketball tournament, since the semifinals were played Thursday night.

However, the Spearman high school was burglarized in the same manner Thursday night, as well as two service stations at Fritch, and Phagan said it might have been the work of the same gang.

Gas Without Water

DECATUR, Ill.—(AP)—Every time Smith Fitzwater has Dewey Bales drill for water a new gas well is discovered. Fitzwater tapped the first one to the furnace. He capped the second one for future use.

Oil drilling operations in the neighborhood last year are believed the cause of the new gas supply. The Fitzwaters still would like a good water well.

Hood Services To Be Held in Darrouzett

DARROUZZETT — Funeral services will be Thursday afternoon in the First Methodist Church of Darrouzett for Benjamin Earl Hood, age 70, who died suddenly Sunday at his home in the Hood Hotel in this city.

The Rev. C. T. Jackson, pastor of the church, will officiate at the final rites.

Mr. Hood was owner and manager of the Hood Hotel and is a pioneer resident of this area having come to this section forty-four years ago. He has lived in Darrouzett for the last twelve years. He was a member of the Methodist church where he was a member of the building committee during the construction of the new building.

Mr. Hood was finishing the noon day meal with his family in the living quarters of his hotel when he was stricken, apparently with a heart attack. He left the table to go into the next room and before the family realized that anything was wrong, he entered the parlor and fell to the floor. All efforts by the family to revive him were futile, and he died almost instantly.

Mr. Hood is survived by his widow, Edna, four sons, Carl and Leonard of Darrouzett; Duane of Andrews, Texas, and Kenneth of Amarillo; five daughters, Mrs. Roy Bell, Mrs. Genevieve Weser of Laverne, Okla., Mrs. Vincent Torano of West Field, Pa., Mrs. Warren Naslund of Torrance, California, and Miss Twyla Hood of Darrouzett.

Other survivors include three brothers, Stanley Hood of Austin, Texas, Howard Hood of Wichita, Kansas, and Morton Hood of Alene, Texas; three sisters, Mrs. Pearl M. Cready of Gigharbor, Washington; Mrs. Lula Mansfield of Bakersfield, Calif., and Mrs. Frank Crockett of Hereford. There are 14 grandchildren, two great grandchildren and seven step children.

Pall bearers will be Glen Weiser, Darrell Weiser, E. R. Bell, C. W. Redenius, Claude Hood and Bus Mounsey.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hoover and Dale visited Sunday with Mrs. Hoover's brother, Dwight Holland of Dodge City, Kansas. Mr. Holland is recovering from a recent operation.

Hold Chamber of Commerce Meeting in Darrouzett

DARROUZZETT—The Darrouzett Chamber of Commerce held its first meeting and dinner since the election of officers for the current year Thursday evening in the school gymnasium. M. S. Cross, newly elected chairman, presided. Other officers are C. T. Phillips, vice-president, and Harold Tennant, secretary.

Visitors from communities north of Darrouzett in Oklahoma attended the meeting and took part in a discussion of plans for extending telephone service in and around Darrouzett. T. M. Rogers of Guymon, Oklahoma, an official of the Southwestern Associated Telephone Company, was present and gave a thorough explanation of telephone conditions. He said that a dial telephone system for Darrouzett could not be expected until 1951, and that very little expansion will be possible before that time, but he pledged the best possible service in the meantime.

Martin Gossett, Lipscomb county agent, spoke regarding the Livestock show to be held in Lipscomb Friday. The Chamber of Commerce voted to raise $100 for expenses of the show.

A clean-up campaign was discussed and the chairman appointed John Ragan, food locker owner, and George Miller, implement dealer, to be in charge of the campaign. A date will be set for the campaign in the near future, and all residents will be urged to cooperate.

Russell Gilger opened a discussion concerning outdoor lights for the Darrouzett athletic field, but no definite action was taken by the Chamber of Commerce.

Dean Terrel spoke at the meeting to express his appreciation to the chamber of commerce for their cooperation in making possible a landing field for aircraft. Terrel stated that the land had already been secured, and was now being made ready. In behalf of the Darrouzett Flying Club, he pledged the Chamber of Commerce continued cooperation by advertising the organization when requested to do so.

Judge G. A. Jenkins made a report concerning the Lipscomb county cemetery fund.

C. T. Phillips welcomed the guests from the adjoining communities, and responses were made by Herschel Whittaker, Ada Smith, George Beck, Chester Mercer, Roy Custer, and Henry Elfers.

It was decided that the next meeting would be "Ladies Night," and a program committee of H. W. Sherrieb, G. A. Jenkins, and H. K. Andrick was appointed.

Melvin Beck reported on the progress of the proposed water and sewer system, and explained the requirements of prospective bond purchasers. No immediate progress was reported.

E. B. Burton, Melvin Beck, and Russell Gilger were appointed as a committee to meet with the Lipscomb county commissioners court March 13 concerning local affairs.

Parable Of Talent Works

EARLEY, England.—(AP)—When Vicar Stanley Robinson tested Saint Matthew's "Parable of the Talents" on 15 parishioners he found they had better business heads than the three servants in the Bible. To raise church funds, he gave each a shilling (14 cents) — just as the parable's hero gave one servant five talents, another two, and a third one.

In the parable, two servants doubled their capital and the third brought back only the original talent. But Vicar Robinson's "good and faithful servants" turned in 11 pounds eight shillings and a penny ($31.93) on the 15-shilling ($2.10) investment.

A bank manager spent his shilling on gasoline and charged his friends for lifts. A tailor bought a zip fastener and made a pouch that sold for two pounds five shillings.

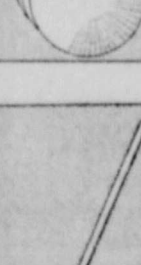

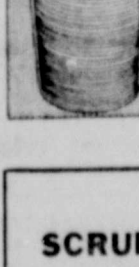

Others made and sold iron holders or built up brisk little sidelines in cigarettes, razor blades, papers and flowers.

Mrs. L. R. Conner returned last Sunday from Enid, Okla., where she had been visiting with her sisters, and other relatives.

Yes, Help Was Needed

LONDON.—(AP)—The British Air Ministry was intrigued. Midway in the war, an inventor wrote in to say he needed minor technical assistance on an invention that would keep airplanes from exploding when they crashed. John Edwards, parliamentary secretary to the Board of Trade, told a conference of scientists the ministry quickly offered help.

"He then wrote back to say his idea was that there should be in each petrol tank a capsule containing a substance which would render petrol non-inflammable, the capsule to be made so it would melt when the petrol reached a certain temperature, thus releasing the contents."

"The two details on which he needed official assistance: What the capsule should be made of and what it should contain."

Children's Dental Care Necessary For Good Health

AUSTIN, Texas — Solution of the nation's dental problems lies in making dental health education and dental care available to every child, said Dr. Geo. W. Smith, State Health Officer.

It is possible to prevent decay of teeth from decay if a child starts early in life to follow these simple rules:

1. Early and frequent examination of the mouth by a dentist
2. Early treatment of small cavities
3. Proper diet with refined sugar held at a minimum.

Proper brushing of teeth after meals should be taken to the child shortly after the last of his meals. Teeth appear at about the age of two, he declared. Frequent examinations and treatment of dental defects by dentists should follow, he added.

Examinations are under way in rural health laboratories to find the causes of dental decay and other dental diseases, he said.

"It has been learned that the very active element, fluorine, can be used to curb dental decay to a large degree. Dentists are now applying a solution of sodium fluoride to the teeth of their child patients as a routine treatment."

To improve the dental health of children of this country, community, through co-operation of group activity, should assume responsibility in putting adequate dental health information into operation to meet the needs of our children.

Clean-Up and Beautification Program Underway in Booker

BOOKER—During the last two months considerable work has been done in Booker toward beautification and improved sanitation within the city.

This clean-up program has been under the able direction of newly elected street commissioner, Walter John.

All alleys in Booker have been opened and graded, and all ditches have been cleaned, graded and back-sloped. Eleven new culverts have been installed and more are to be added later. The city has purchased a new $5,750 Allis Chalmers tractor-grader which has taken an active part in the beautification and clean-up campaign.

Recently several streets and alleys have been graveled by property owners and plans are being made for more to receive the same treatment. Many vacant lots have been burned off and rubbish has been removed. Also, all trees on Booker main street have been cut down and removed.

A new employee, George Riddle, has been added to the city force and he is doing an excellent job in improving the appearance of Booker streets. The city dump, west of Booker, is being cleaned and all residents are urged to dump trash and rubbish only on the existing piles.

All the foregoing work will help to make the sanitation spraying program more effective.

Members of the city council and the street commissioner are being highly praised by Booker residents for their vigorous civic improvement program.

Building Permits Total $50,100 During February

Building permits for February totaled $50,100, according to city hall records. This amount includes four new residences and one remodeling of a business building.

Residential building includes structures by W. A. Moon, W. C. Wilson, W. C. Sanders and Dr. G. L. Kengle. The remodeling was done by Dr. Reese Nowlin at his new office in the Stump building, where the post office was formerly located.

February permits did not include the new buildings on Main street being erected by Castles and Roy Symons.

YERROL, Anglo-Egyptian Sudan—The local version of a department of vital statistics does things differently. Reporting a death, the village clerk wrote in the official register: "He has left us for an everlasting holiday in heaven."

Wanted: One Monkey Catcher

NEW DELHI—Want an outdoor job with lots of live prospects? They need a monkey catcher here. The field hasn't been worked since 1947. A newly-hired monkey catcher, a Moslem, left India suddenly during the communal riots of the year before getting down to work. Hindus won't take the job because monkeys are sacred to them.

Besides peripatrating such annoyances are swiping golfballs right off the greens, the monkeys are occasionally vicious. Captured monkeys will be deported rather than killed. Municipal President Yudhvir Singh thinks they might bring some much needed dollars in U. S. trade.

BARCELONA—The Barcelona Soccer Club claims the organization of the biggest banquet ever given in any place in modern times. On the occasion of the 50th anniversary of the Club's founding in 1900 the directors plan a banquet for 12,000 persons in the National Palace at Montjuich Park.

The club won the First Latin Cup last season, and is one of the most powerful sport societies in Spain. It has more than 25,000 members. The Royal Madrid Club, however surpasses that number. It has 42,000 members.

Switch Pays Off

NEW HAVEN—Jean Paul Lamirande, who has held down a defense post with the New Haven Ramblers of the American Hockey League for the past few seasons, asked to be made a forward this campaign. Lamirande felt he could score enough goals to warrant the switch. He was right, and has become one of the Ramblers' leading goal getters.

BROOKLYN, N. Y.—Despite the friendly atmosphere of Ebbets Field, the pennant-winning Dodgers compiled better batting averages on the road than they did in their home park. As a team, the Dodgers hit .279 in enemy territory and only .267 before the home folks.

EAST LANSING, Mich.—The best college football prospect in the state is what grid observers call rangy Jack Edwards, star end of the East Lansing high school team. He comes by his ability naturally, for his father, Earle Edwards, is end coach for Michigan State. Chances are he'll be showing his wares with the Spartans soon.

Survey Fights Refraction

DENVER — Measuring mountains from New Mexico to the Canadian border, plus Alaska, is part of the job of the people who work under the U. S. Geological survey's Rocky Mountain Regional Engineer Robert O. Davis. Davis admits that some of the present figures may be off a few feet.

The principal reason for errors is the refraction of sight, caused by the varying densities of the atmosphere. The Denver office of the geological survey is planning an experiment to try to correct for this curvature.

One field party will work from the top of a mountain and another from the base. Using portable radios, both parties will take readings at exactly the same minute, and thus corrections can be made for refraction. It has been done this way because changes in atmosphere can change the degree of refraction in as little as an hour.

New Building for Castle's Being Built On Main

Construction has started on a new brick and tile building for the Castle Dry Goods company, and while no definite date has been set for its completion, the new building is expected to be ready within a few months, Virgil Castle said Tuesday.

The new building is located at 406 S. Main, next door south of the White Auto Store.

It will be of light buff brick on the exterior, solid masonry on the interior, 25 by 140 feet. The new building will offer as much floor space as the present location, Castle said.

B. B. Lee is constructing the building.

Greek Town Ends
Year Of Mourning

SALONIKA—A—The people of battered Naoussa, a small textile town bordering on the Macedonian plain west of here, have marked the end of a year of mourning. It was last January that Naoussa was sacked by three Communist brigades. During the three days the guerrillas remained in the town, they set out on a systematic plan of murdering, burning and looting.
Eighty citizens were killed and more than 600 men, women and children dragged off in freezing cold into the mountains.

Naoussa depended mostly on its textile industry. Now the first pieces of new textile machinery have begun to arrive, part of ECA's program to provide a half-million dollar cotton spinning plant to replace the one destroyed by the Communists.

Berlin's African Bar Draws Biggest Crowd

AFRICAN OASIS IN BERLIN—Colored GIs love to chat with the pretty mulatto barkeep from Africa.

By HERMANN M. TIMM

AP Newsfeatures
BERLIN—A German businessman has opened the first all-African bar in west Berlin. His place in the American sector is crowded every night in the week. This contrasts to "normal" restaurants and bars in the city. Their owners complain the employees often outnumber the guests.

"I knew my idea would attract people despite their chronic lack of money," the manager explained.
Jean, the head waiter, claims to be the son of the king of the Bantu-tribe in north Africa.

"I left my tribe to make a career as a tapdancer," Jean said. "Before I wound up here as a waiter I was a

Spearman and Follett Win In Independent Cage Tournament

The Spearman men and Follett women won championships in the first Legion Independent basketball tournament at the high school auditorium Saturday night. Spearman nosed out Perryton's Legion team, 25-24, while Follett trimmed Higgins 34-22.

Large crowds attended the four-day tournament, with many out-of-town visitors present for the finals Saturday night.

Attractive trophies were presented to the champions and the second place winners in the two divisions and special sportsman-ship trophies were awarded to Miss Mildred Griffith of Higgins and Tom Palmer of Balco. Gold basketballs were presented to the men and women's all-star teams.

Fourteen teams were entered in the tournament.

Men's Finals

Perryton took an early lead, being out front 10-5 at the end of the first period, but failed to score a point in the second quarter and Spearman led, 15-10 at the half.

The third period was a close one, and Perryton narrowed the lead to 23-20. With six minutes to go, David Hummer hit a set shot from the side to put Perryton out front 24-23.

Two minutes later, Al Tucker tipped in the winning basket and Spearman held the ball the remainder of the game. Perryton had two last second chances at the basket, but failed both.

Tucker was the big gun for Spearman, canning 8 field goals and a free shot for a 17-point total. Melvin Williams and Tommy Pletcher each made 6 points for Perryton.

Women's Finals

A scrapping Higgins team found Follett's height under the basket too much to overcome, and wound up on the short end of a 34-22 score.

Padgett and Lackey of Follett sparked the victory, while Griffith and Turner stood out for the losers.

Higgins was ahead, 5-4, at the end of the first quarter, but Follett took a 13-9 lead at the half and were never behind after that.

Padgett was high point scorer, making 17 points, while J. Hill canned 10 points for the losers.

No Flat Chest for Miss 1950

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Fashion Editor

Don't worry too much about the return of the flat-chested flapper.

She's practically a dead duck already, says Edith Lances designer of brassieres that sweater girls fight for. Says she:

"American women will fight to the last ditch to retain their feminine curves."

Miss Lances ought to know, for feminine curves are her business. She has been designing brassieres since the late 20's, when she rebelled against the concave silhouette and stitched up an "uplift" bra for herself.
When her friends inquired as to the reason for her new glamor, they clamored for her to make bras for them also—just like hers. The upshot was that the small, dark, vivacious Miss Lances today is one of the most successful bra designers and manufacturers in the business. She turns out custom-made brassieres for the upper income brackets at a swank Fifth Avenue shop, and also produces a wholesale line distributed in shops throughout the country.

It was during the depression that Miss Lances set up her own business, after having worked in a women's apparel shop, where she had opportunity for a thorcorrective, and may even have a real influence on health. She insists that every brassiere be fitted properly before the customer buys it, and she has made her point that a good bra is fundamental necessity for feminine beauty.

As to current trends, Miss Lances believes that the natural look is here to stay. Never again in her opinion, will women submit to being bound down to achieve the "boyish form" of the 20's.
Their schooling has been too thorough in the last generation.

There is less exaggeration in this year's silhouette, she points out. The day of the "pointer" bustline also, has passed, and in its place is a natural, rounded line. But proof of the resistance toward any return to the flat-chested look, she says, is the fact that there is no appreciable drop in the sale of "falsies."

This season the boned strapless bra again will be in high demand, for wear with strapless dresses, and there will be provision for the plunging neckline, also. For the fuller figure, the long-line bra is recommended; for the slender, youthful figure,
the bandeau is the most popular.
Says Miss Lances:

"The bustline is an integral part of the 1950 silhouette, and it must be natural and rounded, without undue exaggeration."

No Health Found In Cleaning Price

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A court has ruled that establishing a minimum charge for cleaning suits and topcoats will not improve the public health.

The State Board of Dry Cleaners sought to restrain one business from doing the work for less than the minimum charging that public health and safety would be threatened. Superior Judge Clarence Hanson denied an injunction, holding that a price increase would not raise health standards.

"Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 5.

The Golden Text is: "Know ye that the Lord he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture" (Psalms 100:3).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright: for the end of that man is peace" (Psalm 37:37).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God is the creator of man, and the divine Principle of man remaining perfect, the divine idea or reflection, man, remains perfect" (page 470).

Dams Save The Fish

SANTA ANA, Calif. — 64% —
Members of the Isaak Walton League have worked out a check dam project which permits year-around living conditions for stream fish in their water-scarce area.

Using funds from Santa Ana county's share of fish and game law fines, the group built 27 small dams, in series of three and four, to back water into pools.

Siam derives much revenue from licensing fish-fights. Small but pugnacious 'climbing perch' are kept in glass globes for fighting, accompanied by heavy popular gambling.

Every day Americans who want to help and Americans who need help are brought together through their Red Cross. The Red Cross work of mercy will never end so long as there are those who want to help. Do your share—give through your Red Cross.

NO lights, power, water . . . hospitals destroyed . . . communication lines down . . . transportation disrupted . . . badly injured need immediate medical care . . . medical supplies destroyed . . . some of city leaders injured . . . many of the citizens dazed by the disaster . . .

In such areas of panic and confusion the Red Cross immediately goes into action and provides food, clothing, shelter, and medical care. The resources of Red Cross chapters are supplemented when necessary by the national organization. And during the heartbreaking period of rebuilding from wreckage, your Red Cross continues to aid families unable to meet their own needs.

THE TEXAS POLL:

Two Party System Favored by Many Texans. Late Poll Shows

By JOE BELDEN
Director, The Texas Poll

AUSTIN, Texas—While the Democrats have a virtual monopoly on political power in Texas, the weight of public opinion in this state tends to favor the idea of two-party government.

Nearly four out of every ten voters believe our state government would be better if we had some Republicans in the Texas Legislature. Less than half as many think our state government would be worse.

This is a finding of The Texas Poll in a recent statewide survey in which 1,000 men and women were asked:

"Do you think our state government in Austin would be better, worse, or about the same if we had both Republicans and Democrats in the Legislature?"

	All Adults	Qualified Voters
Better	39%	35%
Worse	18	18
About same	30	31
No opinion	13	16

One of the top aims of Texas Republican leaders this year is to elect a member of the Legislature to provide the party a sounding board for its policies. This, they think, may be the first big step toward making Texas a two-party state.

The Republicans are making their strongest effort to recapture the 85th district comprised of Gillespie, Llano, Blanco, and Kendall counties. This district was normally Republican before New Deal days. The last Republican in the State Legislature represented the 85th district until 1935.

A deep-seated prejudice against the GOP is apparent among the many voters throughout the state. Twenty-five per cent of the voters interviewed in the latest Texas Poll indicated they would shun anyone labeled "Republican," no matter how well qualified. Seventy per cent said they would favor a Republican if they were convinced he was better qualified than the Democratic candidate.

The following question, put to each of the 1,000 persons interviewed, was designed to measure voters' prejudice:

"Would you vote for a Republican candidate for the Legislature if you were convinced he was better qualified than the Democratic candidate?"

	All Adults	Qualified Voters
Yes	70%	69%
No	25	23
Don't know	5	8

Cross analysis of the results indicates voters who favor two-party government are naturally the most likely to cast their ballots for qualified Republican candidates.

Worker Shoots The Works

SYDNEY (AP)—A ship's plater from Barrow-on-Furness is in Sydney on the first leg of a "soft" trip around the world. He is Robert Crone, 54, who says he is spending his life's savings on the trip.

He told newsmen: "I want to live soft for a year and go broke in the process." He said he is going to spend about $2,240 seeing Australia, New Zealand, Tahiti, Panama, and America. Already he has spent about $1,387 on shipping and airline tickets.

Crone said he has been working as a plater for $21 a week. He added with a smile: "I will be broke but happy when I return to my job."

Executions Called Humane

LOS ANGELES—The City Animal Regulation Department has devised what it believes is the most humane method of destroying animals.

Richard L. Bonner, manager, said the system works on the principle that a reduction of air pressure causes a decrease in the amount of oxygen carried in the blood. Without oxygen, he said there is a loss of sensation and consciousness and finally the heart stops. The department already has a pressure unit operating.

Bonner said the method stems from altitude test given pilots. Aviators who underwent pressure chamber tests, he said, described the loss of consciousness when oxygen is reduced is painless.

Electric Tube Has Memory

NEW YORK—A new type of oscilloscope, which is similar to a television tube, has been developed. It has a visual "memory" lasting a full minute. Used in laboratory and testing work, it holds on the screen traces of electric current occurring in a billionths of a second.

The oscilloscope is a device which turns electrical current into a visual pattern so that its functioning can be observed.

County Red Cross Gives Answers to Ex-GI Gripes

The Ochiltree county Red Cross chapter, now in the annual fund drive, has selected recent statements of Gen. George C. Marshall, now national Red Cross president, to explain away many of the ex-GI gripes launched against the Red Cross.

Marshall explains, in recent nationwide newspaper article, that after becoming head of the national Red Cross he launched into a personal investigation to learn to what extent the complaints directed at the American Red Cross services seemed to be justified.

"It appeared that the complaints against the Red Cross in general followed these three lines," Marshall said:

1. The Red Cross had charged for its goods and services at home and abroad.

2. The Red Cross did not give adequate service in such matters as communications home, family problems, requests for emergency leave and financial assistance.

3. Red Cross men and women received excessive salaries.

"Here are the facts as I ascertained them," the former Chief of Staff of the Army said:

ROWE 66 Service

PROMPT WASHING
and LUBRICATION
We Call for and Deliver

101 N. Main Phone 7291

The Red Cross did make low-cost charges for meals and lodging in off-post clubs. The Red Cross wanted to make these services free. But on May 20, 1942, Henry L. Stimson, then Secretary of War, requested the Red Cross to impose these minimum charges. Since such charges were imposed on allied soldiers in their clubs and canteens, free service to our troops would have created a morale problem among our allies.

The Red Cross did not charge for such items as cigarettes, chapter-produced or comfort articles. On a number of occasions Red Cross supplies were mixed up with army supplies in the hastily organized warehouses or open field dumps and subsequently offered for sale, but not by the Red Cross. Occasional stories that the Red Cross sold blood or blood plasma are manifestly untrue, the general said. The Red Cross did not administer blood; it acted only as the blood collection agency for the army and navy.

Communications

Some 12 million communications, many of them emergency in nature, were handled for sailors and soldiers with their home folks. Army and navy radio and cable facilities had to be utilized, and these lines of communication were subject to service priorities.

For example, there were periods when they were completely "blackout" for security reasons. Thus delays were inevitable and unavoidable on the part of the Red Cross.

"It seemed to be a surprise to some ex-servicemen to learn that the Red Cross had no authority to grant leaves. This function is reserved exclusively for the military authorities. The American Red Cross does, however, verify home conditions by request whenever it appears that a soldier or sailor is urgently needed at his fireside," the general explains.

"On the matter of loans, I found that the Red Cross disbursed almost 74 million dollars in loans and free grants to servicemen and veterans between 1941 and 1946. These loans, non-interest bearing, and these grants were for emergencies with which the servicemen could not cope.

The Red Cross could not take care of every applicant. It had to limit its lending activities and its financial grants to the individuals who could demonstrate both emergency and urgency, and it did so.

ARC Pay

To charges that the Red Cross people received big pay checks, I can only say that the overwhelming majority of all Red Cross workers were volunteers who received no pay. Obviously, however, in so huge an organization, many full-time, paid workers were necessary.

The pay for most of the men and women serving the armed forces on a fulltime basis, was about the same as that of junior army and navy officers. Furthermore Red Cross workers were not

Television Uses Skip-Week Plan

NEW YORK (AP)—Because of the complications of television production, the type of program that can be presented on alternate weeks is beginning to appear. Thus two weeks of preparation are available instead of one.

Not His Dish

CHICAGO (AP)—John Ramone, who likes to juggle in his spare time, tossed three dinner plates into the air.

He deftly caught No. 1 in one hand and No. 2 in the other. The No. 3 dish landed on his forehead. After the wound was closed with three stitches, he commented:

"Well, it always worked with rubber balls."

Footwear Highlights

Shoes are in the eye of fashion this Spring as the silhouette narrows and skirts become shorter.

Feet and legs are in focus. It is the season of the pretty foot and ankle, the dainty, delicate shoe.

Dress, walking and beach shoes feel the influence of this open trend and the National Shoe Institute tells us that you can find foot, airy shoes in each of these classifications which are designed to help you look prettier, to make your Spring 1950 ensemble well coordinated and smart.

Light Touch

Many suit shoes feature the comfortable mid-height walking heel, neat wall toe and the extended sole which are classical favorites and are features of a tailored shoe. However, the 1950 light touch is shown on these shoes with cutouts on the vamp broad bands of leather played over each other to form a network of straps on the vamp or deep shell cut vamps which create an illusion of lightness and airiness.

Dress sandals appear in all fabrics with the uppers composed of thin winding straps worked intricately for a high riding effect which often stem from the low cut shell vamp. High tapering heels and single soles are most popular although low platform soles are also prevalent.

Beach and playtime shoes reflect a new trend which has not yet developed this Spring. There are definite signs but as yet it is in the growing stage. It is the trend back to flat heeled shoes. This is due to the shorter, slimmer skirt revival. Flat shoes in gay young styles often consist merely of a twist of fabric or leather, a sole and flat heel.

Straps and Straps

Multiple straps, single instep straps, winding straps, aspen-strap straps are all found on comfortable, flat playshoes as well as the new very high heeled playtime shoe for women who can never be comfortable except when in a high heel which tends to make legs slimmer and prettier.

Softest kidskin, polished calf, buttery suedes, gleaming patents and rich reptiles are all used this Spring as shoe designers look for the latest styles and greatest comfort for you in your Spring 1950 shoes. A newcomer to the shoe field is nylon which is available now in satins for gala evenings, in shantagn for leisure and playtime. Washable, incredibly long lived, nylon is an adventure in shoe styling. Not only will Admiral blue (a classic Navy blue shade) be popular, but other colors to accent Navy blue costumes will be featured in shoes.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stephenson, Jr., were in Oklahoma City over the week-end.

Brighter, Gayer Colors For Miss Teen in 1950

Colors, Miss Junior, are your key to fashion his Spring of 1950! Colors are bright. Colors are right. Colors hint of rows of tulips, of the gayety of Paris in the Spring, of lush lands along the Nile. And colors check on colors in the great predominance of checks.

Navy blue and bright blue shades offer superb flavor to the color scene. Clear reds, pure white, tangerine, grey and yellow come in for applause too!

Prints take their cues from the French, the Egyptians, the Dutch and the Chinese. Colors check and re-check themselves in blooming glory.

Navy will appear as a check team with white on the woollens that make up your exhilarating Spring skirts and jackets. Bright navy, together with gold, black, red, royal blue, rose brown and black, will be a "must" on your newest silk prints. Navy will predominate as a sheet, sometimes in a striking combination with taffeta.

Greys, most popular in butcher rayons and crepes, also peep out in the new 100 per cent Nylon prints.

Wools and jerseys will take on a bright Spring hue in lovely light tones, such as a refreshing grapefruit yellow for a light-

One-Armed Bandits Get Slugs

GREAT FALLS, Mont., (AP)—County Attorney R. J. Nelson recently ordered the release of two men held for using slugs in slot machines at a nearby town. He ruled no law covered their case. Nelson said the statute against obtaining money by trickery came closest, but he decided it was intended to prevent obtaining money by trickery from an other person. He said: "I don't believe it would cover a case in which a person obtained money from a machine by trickery."

WHAT IT MEANS:

Strategy of Alaskan Defense

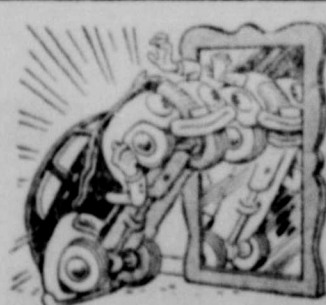

By CLARKE BEACH

WASHINGTON—Military planners intend to have 24,000 Army and Air Force troops in Alaska by June 30, 1952. They believe that will be ample defense for the territory. They agree with Gov. Ernest Gruening of Alaska that the present force of 7,500 men there is "next to nothing." But they differ with some officials who have urged that very heavy forces be placed in the territory. Large masses of fighting men could not be used there, they say. Either by attackers or defenders. They could not be provided in the field with the vast amount of supplies and equipment needed for modern warfare.

There is only one railroad of any length, the narrow gauge one from Anchorage to Fairbanks, single-track most of the way. Highways are few and inadequate. None of them, including the new 2,000-mile Alaska formerly Alcan) Highway, that stretches from central Canada into the heart of Alaska, has a hard surface. The long, deep winter freeze in the Arctic would wreck any surface but 18-inch reinforced concrete. The roads are best in winter, when they are frozen and the bridges are intact. Bridges often are washed away in the spring floods—and 177 bridges cross major rivers on the Alaska Highway alone.

A limited amount of extra-wide-track tractor equipment can be moved across country, but it would confront snow as deep as 50 feet in some of the passes in winter—and the tundra becomes muck in the summer, when the ice melts above the permafrost. Tank trucks and other wheeled vehicles could run only on highways.

The program by mid-1952—as soon as housing and support facilities can be provided—is to garrison each of the two large interior airfields near Fairbanks with 2,000 Air Force and Army troops. They are Ladd and Ellsworth fields, about 40 miles apart. Heavy stockpiles of oil, ammunition and other military needs will be laid in. Then the remaining 20,000 men will be stationed near Anchorage, at the Army's Fort Richardson base and the Air Force's Elmendorf Field.

brought up by air. It would, theoretically, take 6,000 men to defeat 2,000 holding strongly fortified positions. To land 6,000 men in the tundra around the fields and keep them supplied with equipment by air, while under aerial attack from the fields, would be a colossal feat.

The Alaska strategy centers on the three big air fields. As long as they are held firmly Alaska will be safe, the military thinkers believe. A successful amphibious landing on the Alaskan coast will be impossible as long as the U. S. Navy maintains its present world supremacy, in the opinion of the Army men.

The strategists acknowledge that the territory could be seized now with comparative ease. To them, however, it doesn't seem so attractive an objective as some officials have claimed. It could not be used as the starting point for a large-scale attack on the interior of the continent by mass armies, because of the supply difficulty.

The Russians, for example, couldn't load their ships at any Miss Janice Miller sang "You Were Meant for Me," "You'll Always be the One I Love," and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Veale. The traditional wedding marches were used.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was beautifully attired in a gown of white mouseline de soie, designed with a fitted bodice, cap sleeves and a sweetheart neckline. The skirt was full and worn over hoops. Matching mitts completed the ensemble.

The bridal veil, finger tip length, was of nylon net and fell from a halo of pearls and fresh orange blossoms sent by the bride's aunt in Pharr, Texas.

Streams of white satin ribbons cascaded from the bride's bouquet of orchids and stephanotis. Observing tradition, the bride wore as "something old," her mother's ring, "something new," was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, "something borrowed" pearl earrings belonging to her step-mother, and a blue garter was "something blue."

Miss Velma Lee Boxwell was maid-of-honor. She wore a dress of ice blue satin with a net overskirt banded in matching satin. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and satin ribbons. Her shoulder length veil was held in place by pink roses.

Susan Keith, cousin of the bride, and Jimmy George lighted the candles. Miss Keith's floor length dress was of pink taffeta and she wore a corsage of white carnations.

Keith Flowers attended the groom as best man.

The bride's mother wore a black and white suit with a gardenia corsage. Mrs. George chose a black dress and her corsage was of gardenias.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held honoring the wedding party. The bride's table was covered with a linen cut-work cloth and centered with a white three-tiered wedding cake decorated with pink roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom.

The bride chose a navy suit with navy and pink accessories and an orchid corsage for her going away ensemble.

Mrs. George is a graduate of the Perryton public schools and attended Texas Christian University. In high school she was a cheer leader for four years. Her senior year, she was editor of the high school year book and also football sweetheart.

Mr. George graduated from Perryton high school where he was an outstanding football player. He is associated with his father in business.

Following a wedding trip, the couple is at home at 810 S. Drake street.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Miss Betsy Strange, Wortham, Texas, Miss Betty Jean Daniel, Mission, Texas, and Miss Joy Bell, Artesia, N. M.

Draperies Problems?

Windows, due to the whims and fancies of architects are not always as well-placed as one could wish. All too often, two windows of dissimilar sizes will be found in the same room to the bewilderment of the woman who wants to create a balanced and pleasing effect.

Beatrice Greiff Price of Greiff Fabrics, believes wonders can be done to deceive the eye by the skillful hanging of draperies.

For example, as so often happens in old houses, windows are of varying widths. One might be of good proportion and others in the same room might be narrow and high. By hanging the draperies at the well-proportioned window in the usual manner, that is, overlapping the sash by about 4 inches to 6 inches at each side, and by hanging the draperies at the narrow window at the edge of the sash and overlapping the wall, it is possible to have the two valences of the same width and to create the impression that the windows are mates.

A long narrow room with a single off-center window will appear to better advantage if the draperies cover all the wall space on either side and overlap the window in such a manner as to make it seem centered.

In a room where the ceiling is low, coming right down to the top of the window frame, another decorating problem is presented. Again valences come to the rescue. Introduction of a scalloped effect appears to lower the height of the windows and make them seem more pleasing. Here too, the larger part of the draperies may be hung over the wall in order to maintain a pleasant proportion and to make the windows more important than they really are.

Where a window is set in such a shallow frame that there is no room for a widow shade, an effective solution can be obtained by using a pair of inside shutters, padded and covered with the same fabric which is used in other parts of the room. These can swing shut at night to provide privacy and add a distinctively decorative note when they are folded back against the wall during the day.

Handle Girl In Europe

By KATHERINE SHARP

General Election is a British combination of democracy and monarchy. The present government was elected in 1945 and dissolved by royal warrant on February 3. The new government, with Prime Minister Clement Attlee, officially opened the State Opening on Feb. 20.

BUT the Labor party majority government of His Majesty the King, which nationalized the coal mines, the Bank of England, civil aviation, transportation, electricity, and the iron and steel industry. Still no one denies that the 50 million inhabitants of England, Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland enjoy and practice representative government.

BUT it isn't a government blueprint in one basic law, like our Constitution. British government stems from hundreds of years of practice, court decisions and acts of Parliament.

The Parliament of the United Kingdom is made up of two houses, meeting in the thousand-roomed, bomb-damaged Palace of Westminster on the banks of the Thames River.

BUT only one of these houses is elected—the House of Commons. The House of Lords, now neither powerful nor powerless in British government is made up of over 800 peers—Royal Dukes, Archbishops and Bishops of the Church of England, Dukes, Earls, Viscounts and more than 450 Barons.

The Parliament makes laws, like our Congress; the courts and judges must enforce laws; a Cabinet actually runs the government.

BUT this Cabinet isn't serving under an elected President who,

DEATH BY SNIPER'S BULLETS—This picture by E. W. Odem, Dallas Morning News, is a winner in the Associated Press photo contest this year. in the United States, may not get along too well with the lawmakers. The head of the British government, the Prime Minister, is one of the lawmakers. He hasn't won a national election, but he has won a local election which made him a Right Honourable M. P.—Member of Parliament.

The Prime Minister also won an election at some party convention, when he was elected head of the party. And the party must have won the majority of the seats in the House of Commons, before the party leader is the Prime Minister.

Elections must be held at regular intervals in Britain—at least every five years, except in wartime.

BUT an election may be held earlier. When the Prime Minister and his Cabinet can't get a majority of the House of Commons to vote for their program "the Government is dissolved" and new elections held. The 1950 election is the regular five-year campaign.

The British government is based on political parties, as is ours. BUT the primary election doesn't exist in England; the party chooses candidates for some or all of the 625 seats in the House of Commons. Each seat represents more than 55,000 voters out of the electorate of 34 and a half million citizens over 21.

Women may run for Parliament, and have since Lady Astor was elected in 1919. There are great family names in British politics; an Astor son and a Churchill son were candidates this time.

BUT it is neither necessary nor customary for the candidate to live in the district where he runs. Party leaders are usually given "safe" districts where their party is strong.

The ballot is secret, the polls are guarded, the counting of votes safeguarded, and expenditures for the campaign strictly regulated by law to insure a fair election.

BUT the British voter must mark a piece of paper on which he finds only two or more names—the candidates for Parliament from his district. Churchill and Attlee do not run against each other, for they represent different districts.

The election primarily represents a struggle between two strong parties: the Conservatives or Tories whose leader is 76-year-old Churchill and the Labor party or socialists led by 67-year-old Clement Attlee.

BUT there were eleven other parties represented in the last House of Commons, including the Ulster Unionists and the Communists. The real "third" party now is the Liberal Party, powerful before 1924, with Lloyd George's daughter a leader still.

This British election, like recent American campaigns has left foreign policy almost out, concentrating bitter charges and glorious promises on domestic issues—especially jobs, food and housing.

David Operates At Old Strand

EAST CHICAGO, Ind.—AP—David Olah, a skinny kid of 13, looked like easy pickings. As he crossed a dark alley a deep voice commanded: "Come here or I'll cut you into little pieces."

SARRBRUECKEN—AP—The city of Sarrbruecken, which found itself almost in the front line at the outbreak of war in 1939 and was later heavily bombed in Allied raids, starts 1950 with about 30,000 of its 36,500 houses reconstructed and in use again. About 100 offices and stores have also been rebuilt. Sarrbruecken had less than 20,000 houses still habitable when the war ended, according to the "Sarrbruecker Zeitung."

1950 MERCURY TOPS ALL WINNERS IN MOBILGAS GRAND CANYON RUN!

• OFFICIAL WINNER!
Four-door Mercury Sport
Sedan, entered by the Los Angeles Dealers Lincoln-
Mercury Association.

1950 MERCURY WITH OVERDRIVE AMERICA'S "NO. 1 ECONOMY CAR"!

Sets amazing new gasoline mileage record for gruelling 751 mile Grand Canyon run as it outperforms 30 other entries from America's leading car makers!

YES, now it's officially-proven! Pound for pound, the big new 1950 Mercury IS America's most economical car!

For, in the 751 Mile Mobilgas Grand Canyon Run conducted by the American Automobile Association last week, Mercury delivered grand-prize winning gasoline economy—over a rugged course which ranged from Death Valley to 7000 foot icy mountain passes!

This remarkable economy—made possible by the combination of Mercury's thrifty, V-type, 8-cylinder engine and its gas-saving "Touch-O-Matic" Overdrive—came as no surprise to Mercury owners. For many Mercury owners had repeatedly reported gasoline economy far above average expectations.

Yet this unusual economy is only one of the many reasons why thousands of owners are now choosing Mercury. Many say it's the smartest-looking car on the road. Others claim it's the smoothest-riding, most comfortable, too! And all agree it's the biggest value for the money!

Drive Mercury yourself—and see!

You bet it's "better than ever"—

A Wise Investment

The 1950 Red Cross fund drive opened in Ochiltree county Wednesday, with a quota of $2,128 to be met by the end of the month.

Breaking this figure down according to population, this means that each person in the county will have to pay just 35 cents to meet the quota. Some will pay more, of course, and there are always those who pay little or nothing.

In last week's Herald was a list of things the Ochiltree Red Cross has accomplished during the past year—in addition to the things the national Red Cross has done in disaster areas.

This service should be worth 35 cents per person.

The Red Cross money last year went locally to help families who had "hard luck" of one kind or another and needed fuel, food and clothing. It went to help servicemen and veterans in the Veterans Hospital in Amarillo. It maintained a hospital equipment loan service. It helped sponsor two first aid classes, set up a disaster plan, and performed many other services.

Surely that's worth 35 cents to us.

These politicians and statesmen who are now riding high, should take a look at the Christmas tree in January on the ash heap. Only a few short weeks before it enjoyed nation-wide popularity and was all lit up and glowing.

We know a guy who is a human dynamo at the bowling alley but when he goes home and his wife asks him to move a bit of furniture he develops a short circuit.

Latest activities of the State Department indicate that it is trying to out-do the government in giving things away.

No longer does the prodigal son's father prepare the fatted calf for his home coming. The average prodigal now demands lobster thermidor and champagne.

ACCIDENTAL DEATHS DECLINE IN U.S.

The Federal government ought to guarantee a man would catch at least four pounds of fish on any two days out of any week he fishes. Don't know how this could be worked out, but I believe maybe it could be done, with maybe a system of coupons in lieu of fish, as naturally it wouldn't be practical for the government to keep men on every creek bank and fishin resort standin by to hand out fish. Fish won't keep that long, and this program has got to be practical if it's gonna succeed. A coupon good for 4 pounds of fish at the nearest market would be all right, although there ought to be some additional pay to offset the lack of a thrill in pullin in the fish.

Wolf Creek Philosopher

Wants 'Fish Support' Program In Effect

(Ed note: The Wolf Creek Philosopher having lots of time on his hands, comes up just about every week with a screwy idea. Here's a new one on us.)

Dear editor:

From time to time, as I read about it, I been writin down on my kitchen wall the various enterprises which have a guaranteed price, and up to now I got the followin list, each one of which is guaranteed by the government to get a minimum price:

Cotton, corn, tooth paste, talcum powder, maize, wheat, tobacco, throat gargle, eggs, chickens, face powder, sewing machines, all kinds of clothes which the government allows the manufacturer to price-fix, and a lot of other items down near the floor where it was hard to write and wall paper was torn anyway, and on top of that labor is guaranteed a minimum wage, manufacturers are protected by tariffs, etc.

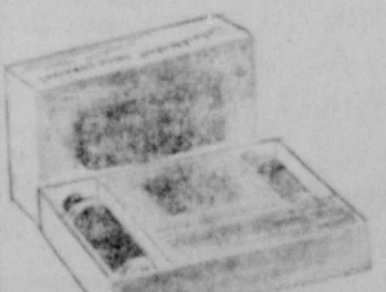

In fact, it looks to me like about everything is guaranteed except fishing.

You take the ordinary fisherman, he can spend a whole afternoon usin every kind of bait and lure he can lay his hands on, and what guarantee has he got he'll catch anything? Might spend a whole week and have nothin to show for it.

This seems to be a field of endeavor which the government is overlookin, and I'm calling on you now to use your influence to get Washington interested in it. It's not right for a man to risk spendin a whole day sittin in a boat or leaning against a tree on a bank fightin insects and watchin his cork or tangling up his reel which I never use myself and comin home with nothin.

Lingerie Follows Silhouette Trend

Advent of the slim silhouette, the well-dressed woman has shifted her figure from her waist to her thighs.

Important foundation you purchase for this season will attempt to show silhouette. Although look of lingerie with ruffles, will dispel the figure of a trend away from the bustline.

Because the season's dresses and blouses have more color, more lace and embroidery and ruffles. There will also be emphasis on strapless neckline style.

Fabrics for bras, with emphasis on nylon, cotton, rayon and more. The predicted for Spring, nude tones.

Corsets will be fine but not cinch the hips as much. In order to achieve an effect as possible, the foundation is suggested for both the matron and the young girl.

Among the corsets being shown for Spring, one offers a particularly light-weight as well as attractive design with panels of embroidered nylon marquisette. Others provide eye-appeal with embroidery, lace appliques, ribbon insets and two-color effects.

Chemise Returns
Newest return of the lingerie wardrobe are chemises. These shorter than slips undergarments go particularly well with the new slim fashions. They come in cotton, flat nylon, pure silk and multifilament crepe. Many have camisole tops or adjustable straps and all are approximately 35-inches long or reach just to the top of the stockings.

Wide single borders to several rows of narrow inserts of Val lace usually add feminine trim to the chemise which are featured in all of the pastel colors as well as navy, black, grey and light blue.

Separate camisoles are also making a come back to the lingerie picture for Spring 1950. Thanks to elasticized waistlines, this year's camisoles promise more comfort and security when tucked into your petticoat than ever before.

In both floor-length and shorter styles, the "little girl" look is predominant on the gowns you will see in the stores this Spring.

Tax Bills

The penny a pack tax on cigarettes and a 10 per cent increase in the omnibus tax passed both houses of the legislature in final form Thursday (February 23).

The two tax bills received such strong support that they will go into effect immediately upon Governor Allen Shivers' signature.

Both bills are expected to bring in $76 million. The cigarette tax will bring in $60 million and the omnibus tax will furnish the rest of the money.

If the bills go into effect March 1 as planned, the omnibus tax will expire on August 31, 1951. The State Comptroller has estimated a $26 million deficit will exist in state finances on that date.

State mental hospitals which had been branded "the worst in the nation" by a U. S. Public Health Survey were allowed $20,612,000 to help change that brand. The $20,612,000 appropriation bill was first passed at the beginning of the legislature with a slight difference in amount by both Houses. A conference committee ironed out the differences.

The omnibus bill really brings in $4 million more than the $16 million estimate shows but by Texas law it must go to the Available School Fund.

The cigarette tax is to last seven and one half years while the omnibus tax will be for eighteen months. It has been estimated that oil, natural gas, sulphur, and carbon black will pay for two thirds of the tax.

A fund has also been set aside for a permanent long-range building program for the mental hospitals. The cigarette tax will bring in $8 million a year. Of that $5 million goes into the building fund and the rest goes for operational costs.

Follett Band to Play at Annual Shamrock Fete

FOLLETT—The Follett high school band has accepted an invitation to participate in Shamrock's annual St. Patrick's Day celebration on March 17, Charles Tunstall, director, has announced.

Band work was resumed in the Follett schools at the opening of the current term, and already the organization is receiving recognition both for its playing proficiency and showmanship. Already smartly outfitted in black and gold uniforms, members of the band are looking forward to new Sam Brown belts and shoulder patches. A cake walk was held Saturday night to help raise funds for this purpose. Another addition planned for the future is cape throwers which Mr. Tunstall believes will add a great deal of color to the organization's parade performances.

A summer band program is under consideration by the Follett Chamber of Commerce.

WHEN WILLIE COMES MARCHING HOME—A familiar moment in the life of nearly every military man, enacted by Dan Dailey in the new comedy about a patriotic GI who enlists for battle duty and gets stationed close to home, is seen in the new picture which comes to the Ellis on Tues.-Thurs., March 7-9.

'Willie Comes Marching Home' Is Zany New Military Comedy

Willie of "When Willie Comes Marching Home" is the popular young star Dan Dailey, and he is the subject of a fresh and ingenious comedy which comes to the Ellis on Tues.-Thurs., March 7-9.

In it he plays a strictly home town boy who patriotically is the first to enlist in the army upon the declaration of war, but just can't get to go overseas.

Much as Bill Klugg tries, he is rated too good a gunnery instructor to be spared, for combat. Worst of all, while all the other boys in Bill's home town of Punxatowney are going off to war Bill suffers the ignominy of being stationed as an instructor or right in his own home town. To his great chagrin, the town's first hero becomes, in the town's mind, its first-class slacker and goldbrick, through no fault of Bill's own.

Finally, though, Bill's big break comes, and he goes on a whirlwind expedition to Europe; within a few days he files the Atlantic, is dropped over France, joins the Underground, escapes to London with Nazi secrets, is returned to Washington for secret conferences, and, before he knows it, is back home on furlough. Nobody believes he was even away, it all happens so quickly. And it looks as though Bill is still to be in the town's disgrace. But Washington sends for him to be decorated, and this time, when Willie comes marching home, he is a great hero.

Lupino Is In Suspense Film

A study in the psychology of fear, "Woman in Hiding" stars Ida Lupino and Howard Duff in a picture which depicts a Macabre thriller on the part of a man to achieve success at the cost even of human life. The picture comes to the Ellis on Sun.-Mon., March 5-6.

Ida Lupino is at her best in the role of a woman fleeing from certain death at the hands of an unscrupulous, power-hungry husband who holds her almost in a hypnotic clutch and tries again and again to kill her.

Stephen McNally is the ruthless husband who, after killing his bride's father to gain possession of an important manufacturing establishment, coldbloodedly plots against the life of his wife so that he may retain the factory and escape exposure. McNally handles the incredibly villainous role with consummate skill.

Howard Duff provides counterbalance for the villainy, in the role of a man who meets and falls in love with Miss Lupino in time to aid in preventing the consummation of McNally's final brutal attempt to do away with her.

Booker to Get Equipment For Fire Dept.

By GLEN LEMON

BOOKER — The city of Booker has been doing much in recent months to improve the municipality. One of the most recent improvements is the purchase of a new 500 GPM Triple combination two-stage fire department pumper which is mounted on the chassis of an F-5 Ford truck.

The unit is being secured at an approximate cost of $6,000. The equipment is being purchased from the Boardman Co. of Oklahoma City. The truck was purchased locally from Lehman Motor Co. This new fire fighting equipment will replace a relic which has been serving the city since 1929.

Many times in recent years, the old fire engine has arrived at the scene of a fire to find the blaze already extinguished by a bucket brigade.

'Captain China' Is Story About Merchant Marine

The peacetime merchant marine, like its wartime counterpart, offers an exciting setting for the new picture "Captain China," which opens Fri.-Sat., March 3-4, at the Ellis Theatre, starring John Payne, Jeffrey Lynn and Gail Russell.

In the title role, Payne portrays a rough-and-ready skipper who loses his command when his ship goes aground. The thrilling story concerns his efforts to vindicate himself and regain his stripes. Gail Russell plays the romantic interest, while Jeffrey Lynn is seen as an incompetent ship captain. Edgar Bergen makes one of his rare appearances without Charlie McCarthy.

Spicy accents are loaned to fashions for Spring '50 by buttons in all shapes, sizes and fabrics. There are also profusions of pockets, placed high and low, front and back, and shaped to add pleasant contrast to the lines of your apparel. Crisp touches of ice white linen or pique and sleek streaks of patent leather also add to the over-all look of 1950 modernity.

Clear Colors

Nylon, the magic fabric of the Century, captures fashion completely this momentous mid-century Spring. Easy to find and lovely to wear is nylon as nylon, nylon as rustling taffeta, soft crepe, worsted and many of your other favorite fabrics. Nylon too, will appear in opaque as well as translucent interpretations, in solids and gay prints. Blouses, dresses, even wedding gowns will be created out of this wonder fabric.

And because this is an exciting year and an exciting season, colors follow suit. They're clear, true, honest as the season, abundant with checks of all sizes and small prints many of which are reminiscent of the Orient. Although Navy Blue is still the Number One color for Spring, the entire range of golden, sun-kissed colors from demure apricot to

Texas sportswriters selected Frank Kimbrough, football coach at West Texas State College, as the Border Conference "Coach of the Year," thus proving you don't always have to produce a winner to gain public recognition.

Kimbrough was kidded about the poor start his Buffs made last year at the Sports Achievement banquet in Dallas recently. He said that reminded him of a dream.

"I dreamed I went to bed one night and woke up the next morning one of Satan's new assistants. After I'd been around a while I found out it was just like coaching football.

"I guess I worked the boys too hard, because Satan came around one day.

"'Look here, boy,' he said 'who do you think you are. You act like you own this place.'

"'Gosh, Satan,' I told him, 'I thought I did. The alumni gave it to me after those first four

Going Along

NEW YORK—(AP) — Only 13 rookies are performing in the National Hockey League this season, as compared with 20 last season. The Boston Bruins lead the circuit in newcomers with four; the New York Rangers and Chicago Blackhawks have three; Detroit Red Wings two and the Montreal Canadiens one. The Stanley Cup holders, the Toronto Maple Leafs boast all veterans.

games." * * * Charley Grimm, new manager of the Dallas Eagles of the Texas league and former manager of the Chicago of the National league, was talking about Casey Stengel, the New York Yankee manager.

"Old Casey was watching this rookie down in Florida," recalled Grimm. "The kid was knocking every pitch into the stands—but foul."

"Casey couldn't stand it, so he went out there and told him to 'pull that ball.'"

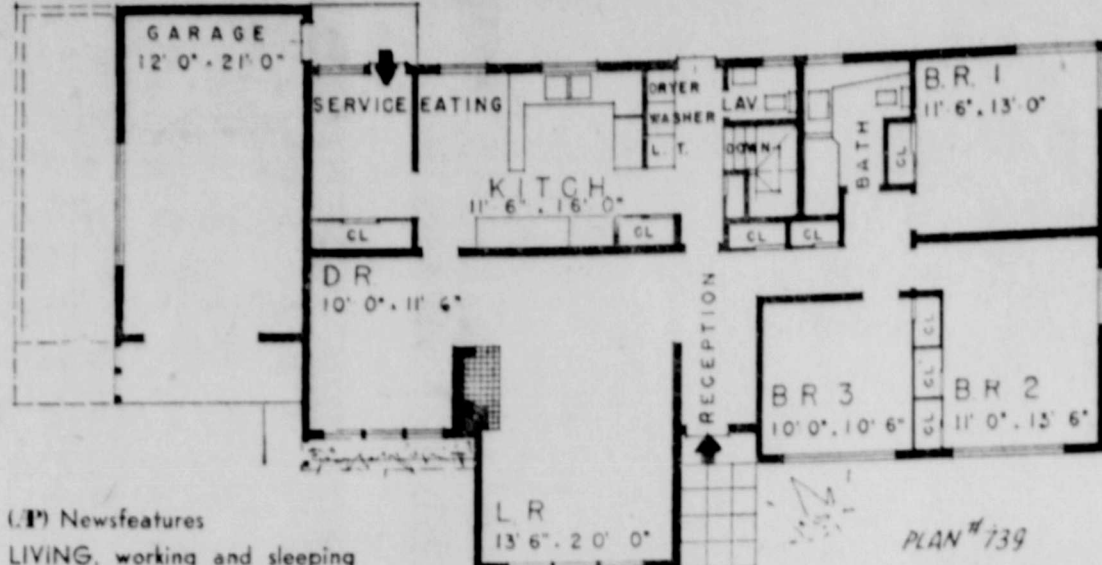

"I'll show you what I mean," says Casey.

"He gets up to the plate in that funny crouch of his and says to the pitcher, 'let'er fly. The guy did and knocked Casey down with the ball."

"He got up kinda wobbly and told this rookie he'd continue the batting lesson tomorrow."

"That guy just gave me a base on balls and I ain't got time now."

Calhoun Packing Plant Destroyed At Palestine

A disastrous fire at the Vernon Calhoun Packing Plant at Palestine, Texas last week did an estimated $100,000 damage to the plant which served a 20-county section of East Texas.

Calhoun, the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Balzer of Perryton, constructed the plant in 1947 and it employed 42 people.

Calhoun said the packing plant was insured for $20,000. The blaze originated in the smoke house and was discovered at about 9:30 o'clock Monday night. The flames spread rather slowly but were out of control by the time the first fire fighters arrived 30 minutes later. More than a score of workers battled the fire most of the night, and succeeded in saving a huge cold storage unit and refrigeration equipment from complete destruction.

It is believed the fire was caused by flaming grease from hams which were being cured.

Marvin Walton, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holland, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Watson, Alvin Koehn, Frank Shaffer, Huie Throckmorton attended the 9th district encampment of the VFW, held Sunday in Dumas.
