Ousted Soviet Leaders Blasted By Khrushchev

MOSCOW, July 6 (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev today accused three ousted Soviet leaders of being cunning plotters for power. He linked one of them — former Premier Georgi Malenkov—to the notorious "Leningrad case" for which six men were executed in 1954.

The charges were made in a speech before a mass rally of factory workers in Leningrad and broadcast throughout the Soviet Union.

Krushchev portrayed Malenkov, V. M. Molotov, and Lazar Kaganovich as "hatching cunning schemes" in order to lay their hands on key positions in the Communist party and government.

He called Dmitri Shepilov, the fourth man figuring in Wednesday's Kremlin shakeup, a "careerist" and shameless double dealer.

Khrushchev, Premier Bulganin and four other members of the new party Presidium, or directorship, paid a surprise visit to Leningrad in an obvious attempt to demonstrate a feeling of security and stability in the wake of the shakeup.

Khrushchev told factory workers Malenkov simply was afraid to come to you here in Leningrad" because the former premier was "one of the chief organizers of the so-called Leningrad case."

The "Leningrad case" concerns the purge of 1948-49. A number of highranking Communists were liquidated, including Nikolai Voznesensky, economist and Politburo member who was chief of the State Planning Commission. Accused of implication in this case, security chief Victor Abakumov and five subordinates were executed in December 1954. Abakumov was a onetime subordinate of Lavrenty Beria, the executed secret police chief, and also was a secretary to Malenkov.

Khrushchev made no elaboration on the linking of Malenkov with the Leningrad case, but to the Soviet audience it was more than enough. Some Russians were stunned. To others it seemed as though the death knell was being sounded for Malenkov.

Izvestia, the government newspaper, also singled out Malenkov for attack. It accused him of sabotaging one of Khrushchev's pet programs — the development of virgin farm lands to boost Soviet agricultural production.

Ex-Snyderite Fatally Hurt

TAHOKA, July 6, (Special)—Charlie Hale, former Snyder resident, was killed in a one-car highway accident about 2½ miles north of O'Donnell Saturday night.

Hale, about 36, was dead on arrival at a Tahoka hospital. The accident occurred at about 7:30 p. m.

One other person was in the car, Roy Hunnicutt of Lamesa who received only bruises.

A Tahoka ambulance driver said the accident occurred on a bad curve.

No further details were available at press deadline.

CAR-TRAIN CRASH—Judy Greene, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geral G. Greene, 201 Thirty-sixth Street, was seriously injured when the 1956 Oldsmobile above, which she was driving, collided with a Santa Fe freight train at the Twenty-sixth Street rail crossing about 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Judy Greene was driving west on Twenty-sixth Street facing the setting sun when the accident occurred. (Lee Watson photograph)

The coffee break is still with us, and growing rather than diminishing, in case you have been worried about it. In fact, we are told by the Pan-American Coffee Bureau, that no less than 71 per cent of all employes in offices, stores and factories not only are permitted to do so but encouraged to take coffee breaks.

Said bureau says it has completed a new survey on the situation, and no doubt the coffee growers and processors are elated over the results. A similar survey conducted in 1949 showed that only 49 per cent of the employes of various types of business concerns were allowed to take coffee breaks.

• • •

Needless to say, the employes acquire their coffee in a variety of ways. Most, of course, simply go to a cafe or coffee bar near their places of employment. Others have coffee carts to bring the beverage to the site of their work, some have equipment for making the coffee themselves, and still others have vending machines located in their places of work.

Fifty-six per cent of those taking coffee breaks do so in the morning, it says here, while 15 per cent take their coffee in the afternoon and 29 per cent double up and take a coffee break morning and afternoon.

Over all, 27 million workers consume 47 million cups of coffee during the coffee breaks, which means that many do not stop with one cup per sitting.

• • •

And while we are on the subject of surveys, did you know that canasta is the nation's number one card game? Well, it is, says the Association of American Playing Card manufacturers. Contract bridge is second, while poker is far down the line behind pinochle. Solitaire has moved up from ninth place to fifth since 1952 when the last previous survey was taken on this situation.

Moreover, the survey shows that 89.8 per cent of the card playing is done in the home, or a friend's home, and that considerably more card playing is done in TV homes than in non-TV homes.

If that's not enough statistics for the day, consider this and beware: The FBI reports that "bad" check traffic last year amounted to $535 million. Check fraud, say J. Edgar Hoover's boys, is the nation's fastest growing crime, and the figures for last year represent a 19 per cent increase over 1955.

Negligent Homicide Charge Faces Negro

FORT WORTH, July 6 (AP)—Charges of negligent homicide were filed this afternoon in Peace Jim Boorman's court against a 29-year-old negro in the auto collision death of an intended bridesmaid.

David Carr Giles was later freed on $2,000 bond.

The bridesmaid, Miss Carol Hudspeth, 19, of Dallas was killed last nigh in a collision as the bridal party headed for the wedding rehearsal.

The bride to be, Miss Kay Kerbow, 21, Fort Worth, and the intended maid of honor, Miss Ellen Kaufman, 21 of Austin were injured.

Dies In Hospital

HOUSTON, July 6 (AP) — Mrs. Edna Mae Anderson, 54, the founder of Sweet Adelines Inc., an international singing organization for women, died in a hospital today. She had been in ill health since last October.

IN DIMMIT

Truck, Train Crash

DIMMITT, Tex., July 6 (AP)—Flames erupting after a butane transport truck and a freight train collided at a crossing destroyed a grain elevator and did an estimated $250,000 damage today.

The collision occurred at a crossing on the east edge of Dimmitt, in the Texas Panhandle, about 10:52 a.m. No serious injuries were reported.

Although state patrolmen said there was grave danger of an explosion for a time, firemen from at least four towns controlled the blaze after a 2½-hour battle.

The collision occurred at a port truck of the Keystone-Fleming Butane Co. driven by Homer Shelby Womack, 35, of 2819 Auburn St., Lubbock and a Fort Worth & Denver Railroad freight with J. A. Furr of Childress, Tex., as engineer.

Womack was treated for cuts and dismissed.

Flames also destroyed an office building and scales at the neighboring Kearns elevator and four box cars freshly loaded with 2,000 bushels of wheat each. The train locomotive was damaged.

Another elevator owned by Castro County Grain and 100,000 bushels of wheat dumped on the ground did not catch fire and escaped damage.

The flames shot 60 feet high and 100 to 150 feet laterally, blocking two and one-half of the four lanes of Highway 86. State police halted all traffic for a time.

Officers said Dimmitt firemen were on the scene speedily and their quick action probably kept the truck from exploding. Joining in the battle were other firemen from Hereford, Tulia, and Plainview, 45 miles southeast.

Jack Gregory, of Dimmitt, owner of the destroyed elevator, estimated his loss at $200,000. O'Dell Arnold of Dimmitt, manager of the Kearns elevator for Interstate Elevators of Amarillo, said the office building loss amounted to $15,000.

State patrolmen said the burned truck was worth $20,000, and box car and other damage would boost the total to around $250,000.

Irish Infants Going To Texas Families

NEW YORK, July 6 (AP) — Two Irish infants arrived by plane today en route to new homes with Texas families who have adopted them.

The children, Greta Marie, 2, and Joseph, 2½, had been living in the Sacred Heart Convent at Castlepollard, Ireland.

Joseph was greeted by his new parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Ordner of Corpus Christi.

CAR DEMOLISHED—Impact of the 6,490-ton, 113-car Santa Fe freight train and the 1956 Oldsmobile driven by Judy Greene completely demolished the car, seriously injured the lone occupant of the car, and damaged the "pilot" of the train's diesel engine. Engineer J. H. Floyd of Slaton, said the impact bounced the train engine up and down. The engine's "pilot" is more familarilly called a "cow catcher," and the car and train met almost head-on with the car striking exactly in the center of the front of the locomotive. Twenty-sixth Street, where the accident occurred, crosses the railroad tracks at about 45 degree angle. (Lee Watson photograph)

Haircut Hassle

A "white sidewall" haircut leaves the head shaved bare from ears to crown. Wilson, 20, insisted on keeping his regulation-length sideburns.

So he was arraigned before a summary court-martial this week in the opening of a trial which an Air Force spokesman called "a routine matter of military discipline."

"Members of the honor guard should look alike," the spokesman said. "Wheeler is not being tried for failure to get a haircut. He is charged with disobedience of a lawful order of his superior officer."

Conviction could carry maximum penalties of a bad conduct discharge, six months at hard labor, a reduction in rank and forfeiture of two-thirds pay for six months.

Wheeler, in service three years said today he had received an Air Force regulation haircut only the day before he got — and challenged — the sergeant's order.

"The person I'm under in the honor guard has shown in a few ways that I get on his nerves," Wheeler said. "I don't mind the honor guard — it's the harassment that goes with it."

The guard participates in many official ceremonies.

Murray Sprung, a New York lawyer practicing in Tokyo, is defending Wheeler. Sprung said he had checked regulations and found no rules on the "white sidewall" model.

"The only order Wheeler had to comply with, which he did, was to have his hair neat and clean," the lawyer said.

On the other hand, Wheeler himself acknowledged that the platoon sergeant can specify a haircut other than that prescribed by regulations.

Snyder Girl Injured In Car-Train Crash

Judy Greene, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geral G. Greene, 201 Thirty-sixth Street, was seriously injured yesterday afternoon in a car-train crash in east Snyder.

She was driver and lone occupant of a 1956 Oldsmobile which collided with a Santa Fe Railway train at the Twenty-sixth Street crossing of the Santa Fe tracks at about 5:30 p.m. yesterday.

There is no signal light at the crossing.

The Greene girl suffered fractures in both arms and in one leg, as well as cuts and bruises about her body and other injuries. She was taken by Bell ambulance to Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

The train's engineer, J. H. Floyd of Slaton said the 113-car train was traveling at about 30 miles per hour. Members of the city police department were investigating the accident.

The train was headed southeast, the car west. Skid marks indicated that the front half of the car was apparently on the tracks at the time it was struck by the train.

The car landed on its left side about 50 feet from the crossing. Miss Greene was still in the car when it came to rest.

From the time of the accident through examinations at the hospital, Miss Greene had not lost consciousness. She told the ambulance driver her name and that of her parents.

The train stopped after the accident, with the 35th car from the engine on the crossing.

The car, owned by Geral Greene, was demolished.

The train's total weight, the engineer said, was 6,490 tons. Conductor on the train was Sam Wilson of Slaton.

This was the fifth car-train accident here within a year. Three have involved Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific crossings, two at crossings of Santa Fe. The other involving Santa Fe was at the crossing on the Clairemont Road.

For Vacation —Free Maps

Snyder residents making plans for vacation might be better able to plan trips if they have plenty of maps available of areas they are to visit.

For this reason, the Snyder Chamber of Commerce keeps available in its office free maps of all parts of the U. S., as well as some of Mexico, Canada, and other areas.

Practically any map needed by the vacationer is available at the chamber office. Each time the supply from a state or area runs out, the chamber orders more.

Chamber officials this week reminded residents of the service and invited residents to make use of it.

PARADE SLATED

Rodeo Planning Underway Here

Advance box seat sales, beard growing, and sales of rodeo decorations are activities already underway in connection with the annual Scurry County Rodeo, which will be held here July 17-20.

A total of 62 boxes are being sold by the rodeo association. Each box has six chairs and sells for $20 for the four nights of the annual event. Mrs. J. N. Eicke, box seat chairman, said those wanting box seats should call her at 3-4259 to reserve the boxes. Those not paid for by noon July 13 will be resold.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce, as a part of the stimulants to rodeo interest, has announced prizes for a beard contest to be judged here on the first day of the rodeo, as well as drawing prizes to be held during Western Week, which is set for July 15-20, and many local men already have thick growths of beards.

Prizes in the beard contest will be $30 boots for each of the top beards, one pair each for the longest, most artistic, and ugliest. Also, a pair of boots will be given away each of the first four days of Western Week in drawings. The drawings will be from tickets made for each person buying a $1 beard permit, now on sale by the Jaycees.

The Jaycees are also preparing the annual rodeo printed programs, which will be sold at the show.

The Optimist Club, which is in charge of rodeo decorations in Snyder, is selling decorative bunting to merchants here. Members of the club are to have the bunting sold by noon Tuesday, when the club meets.

The club is also in charge of staging the rodeo parade, with Carl Herod as marshal. The parade will be held on the afternoon of the first day of the rodeo.

No information is yet available on prizes for top floats in the parade. Trophies are to be given the top riding groups in the event.

The rodeo will have $3,600 in prizes for the nine events, and the prizes include four expensive saddles.

Schedule For Boys Club Is Released

The Scurry County Boys Club has planned a variety of activities for the remainder of the summer for members.

The schedule includes trips out of town and various contests to be conducted at the club, according to Michie Brous, executive director.

The schedule includes:

July 10—Trip to Abilene to visit Dyess Air Force Base.

July 11—Junior Olympics in Abilene for junior boys.

July 12 — Junior Olympics in Abilene for senior boys.

July 12-13—Trip to San Antonio to compete in the Texas Area Baseball Tournament.

July 15-20—Minor sports carnival at the club, including pool, ping pong, checkers, chess, horseshoes, washers, marbles, and croquet.

July 31—Diving and swim meet at Towle Park.

Aug. 3—Fish rodeo.

Aug. 12—Trip to Hot Springs, Ark., to compete in Southwest Region diving and swim meet.

Aug. 14—Trip to Carlsbad Caverns.

August 19-24—Model contest.

The club is open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. each day, closing from noon to 1:30 for lunch.

Baseball practice is held five days a week from 2 to 6 p.m. under direction of Coach Bill McLaughlin.

THE COUNTY'S hospital is not "bursting at the seams" yet, but it is running almost full of patients daily now. The 50-bed hospital, once considered too large by some before it was built, is rapidly becoming too small. Heading the hospital's staff of 75 employes is Bert Dickenson, right, administrator. Department heads inclue Raymond Duck, left, who heads the office staff, and Mrs. Maurine Pilcher, director of nursing. (Lee Watson photograph)

PATIENT LOAD ALMOST DOUBLE

Rapid Growth At Hospital

Several years ago, when plans were in the making for a 50-bed county hospital here, there were those who said there would never be need for a county hospital of that size.

But now, after about three and one-half years of operation of Cogdell Memorial Hospital, there is some discussion of the need of an additional wing at the hospital, and the consensus of opinion of those familiar with the hospital's operation appears to be that an extra wing is needed now and would be filled by the time it was finished.

There has not been any official action concerning a new wing, however.

Many residents of the county thought the hospital was going "great guns" when it had its 1,000th patient after almost eight months of operation.

Now, however, the hospital stays practically full at all times, with its patient load growing at tremendous proportions by the month. During the first six months of 1957, the hospital had 1,371 admissions and 169 newborns for a total of 1,640, only slightly less than the hospital had during its first 12 months of operation. There were 1,737 patients during the first year of the hospital.

With its increase in patients, the hospital has also had a big increase in patient days, or the average stay per patient. That has increased to the tune of 46.3 per cent in a year's time.

During the 12 months ending July 1 this year, the hospital had 2,566 admissions and 346 newborns for a total of 2,912 patients, compared to the figure for the previous 12 months of 1,961, an increase of almost 1,000. In the 12 months just ended the hospital had a total of 11,936 patient days, compared to 8,159 for the previous 12 months. The patient days for the 12 months just ended is broken down to 10,947 for the admissions and 999 for newborns.

The first six months of this year has already seen more patints in the hospital than during the entire year of 1955, when there were 1,156 admissions and 197 newborns for a total of 1,353 patients and 5,038 patient-days. This year's record indicate they will far surpass those of 1956, when there were 2,129 admissions and 355 newborns with a total of 10,562 patient days.

Another item of importance is that the hospital, which started out operating "in the red," like any other county hospital, has been breakin, even or more for more than a year. A county hospital, of course, is not in the business to make profit, but it is nice for taxpayers if it can pay for its own operation.

Charged with heading up operation of the hospital is Bert Dickenson, administrator, who has been here almost a year. Dickenson, as administrator of the hospital staff and works directly with members of the hospital board. The board is composed of Bill Davidson, chairman, Hugh Taylor, Weldon Key, Pat Falls, O. B. Brown, Lester Moore, and County Judge Edgar Taylor, who is an ex-officio member. He also works with the medical staff, which is organized and has as its chief of staff Dr. E. A. Rogers. Both groups meet monthly.

Department heads of the hospital include Mrs. Maurine Pilcher, director of nursing; Raymond Duck, office head; Tom Jackson, medical technologist; Coyt Wayne Johnson, X-ray technician; Miss Marjorie Hardin, surgical department; Mrs. Elizabet Short, dietician department; Virgil Walton, building engineer; and Mrs. Annie Bailey, obstetrical department.

Dickenson and the department chiefs head staff of 75 regular employes plus 12 or 13 extras who work part time or are on call.

The hospital's big increase in patients indicates several thing which the county could boast about. One is that it is apparent patients are getting good care, with the hospital making use of the latest in facilities.

An important thing to notice is that while once a large percentage of residents here went to nearby cities for hospitalization or medical treatment, there are few now. Instead, many from out of town are coming here, as is indicated by the hospital admission lists both at Cogdell and Battenfield-Jones hospitals and as would probably be indicated on the appointment lists of physicians.

Cogdell Hospital has almost everything in the way of hospital equipment, at least everything which can be found in a general hospital and many things more. The only thing which the hospital is not equipped to handle on a permanent basis is long-range physiotherapy and polio.

Special services which are comparatively new at the hospital and which will not be found in most hospitals of this size is that of a staff pathologist and staff radiologist. Both are heads of their re... ve staffs at Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene, where Dickenson is a former assistant administrator, and both come he weekly, or more often if necessary.

The parthologist is Dr. Jarrette E. Williams, who specializes in analysis of all tissue removed from patients in surgery at the hospital here and in frozen sections during operations if needed. The radiologist, Dr. V. H. Schoultz, interprets each X-ray film made at the hospital. Both consult with the local staff of physicians.

In Snyder's own physicians, the hospital has a local staff of 10 doctors, including one surgical specialist.

A big increase has been shown in the hospital's out-patient service, provided through the laboratory and X-ray departments and emergency room. That service has grown far out of proportion to what had been expected, and it is still growing. Since those planning the hospital could not have possibly known that would happen, they could not have provided the necessary space needed for that service. The laboratory and X-ray rooms can hold their own through proper staffing, but the emergency room many times is too small to handle the work load. The laboratory formerly had only one employe but now, in addition to the head of the department, there is an assistant, Margaret Gibson, a member of the American Society of Chemical Pathologists.

Out-patient service has increased to this tune: during 1956, the hospital had 3,043 patients who passed through the emergency room. This year, in six months' time, there has already been more than 2,000. These figures include only those who actually used the emergency room, and it does not include those who had other services.

The hospital's ability to care for its big workload of patients has shown the benefit of the foresight and planning which went into the plant several years ago. The hospital maintains two supply divisions, the drug room and central supply, which provide every medical need in the hospital, with those fully stocked as well as adequate stockroom and other housekeeping facilities.

The county has, in the hospital, an investment of $1,238,000, plus a nurses' home.

Several times the hospital has been completely full, and there have been times beds have been placed in the halls temporarily. While the hospital is designed for 50 beds, there can be several more used by doubling up in some of the rooms. Just last week there was one day when the hospital lacked only two patients being completely full.

Many times a hospital is full when that particular day's patients fill only 85 per cent of the beds. It is that way because many of the patients to be dismissed during the day have not yet checked out, while others are checking in, filling all the bed space. There must, of course, be a short time after a patient checks out for cleaning a room and prpearing it for the next patient.

The growth in averages is reflected in these figures: During December, the hospital had an average actual patient load of 61 per cent capacity. During May it was 77 per cent. The hospital is now running at about 30 per cent capacity, close to the fullest it can get at maximum efficiency.

One part of the hospital which has never been overtaxed is obstetrics. More than adequate provisions were made in that section of the hospital when it was built. There are two delivery rooms, one which doubles as a labor room, and a large nursery.

Both obstetrics and surgery have seen big increases at the hospital.

The nursing staff is such that the hospital can always maintain registered nurses on duty at all times, but Dickenson says, the hospital is always looking for RNs. There is usually a shortage of them here, just as there is everywhere, since it is a national problem.

Hospital expenses to the patient are not rising. If they are changing at all, they are going down, Dickenson said. The room rate at Cogdell Hospital has not been raised.

Highway Deaths Shoot Up Over State

By The Associated Press

Texas' toll of violent death for the July 4 weekend inched upward to 32 lives Saturday as hot, sunny weather sent motorists flocking to the countryside trying to get cool.

Of the victims, 19, had died in traffic, 6 had drowned and 7 were killed in assorted other accidents.

Prospects for heavy weekend travel and an even greater toll arose as Gov. Daniel vowed to highway slaughter.

"The 2,600 persons killed and 110,000 injured in 1956 traffic were a far greater toll than our tornado, flood and hurricane deaths combined," he said in a Dallas speech to the Southern Federation of Syrian-Lebanon American Clubs. "The problem is of major proportion."

The governor said there can be no solution without wide scale help from Texas residents and tourist visitors.

One of the latest victims died in a U.S. 90 collision between Dayton and Liberty early Saturday of a pickup truck and an empty gasoline transport. The driver of the pickup, William Torrance Morris, 71, of Nacogdoches, was killed.

Margarito Garcia, 66, of Dallas was struck and killed by a train Friday night in north Dallas. Witnesses said he apparently failed to see the train and walked onto the tracks depite theirs shouted warnings.

Richard Thompson 63, was shot to death Friday about four miles from Freeport. Peace Justice George Brock ruled the death accidental.

James Shirley, 12, drowned Friday in a Falfurrias pool.

Linda Fay Jackson, 2, was fatally injured when struck by a car at Houston Friday.

Diane Fearis, 22, was found shot to death at Austin Friday, minutes before her boy friend was to have been buried. He was John Vaughan, 23, of Leander, a University of Texas student who died in a car accident Wednesday night.

Another Texas University student, Joel Cornish, 26, died when his car overturned northwest of Oakhill Thursday.

Thomas Ellis Allison, 40, of Grand Prairie and his son were killed in a two-car accident in northwest Denton County Friday.

No Damage From Fires

Two fires in quick succession kept the Snyder fire department busy for about one hour last night, but did no damage.

D. A. Porter, fire chief, said that either of the fires could have been highly destructive if they had not been quickly put out.

First of the fires was about 7 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Premier Service Station in the 3800 bock of the Big Spring Highway. Trash and waste oil and empty oil cans caught fire behind the station.

"The fire was really set to do some damage, but was confined to the trash," Porter said. The trash cans were located only a few feet from the service station building and from a cafe building.

The second fire alarm was called in while fire trucks were preparing to leave the service station fire. It was a grass fire near the Bar-V Motel on the East Highway.

There was no actual damage at the second fire, but the grass which was burning surrounded a garage and the motel building and either could have caught fire quickly," Porter added.

Only grass and trash were destroyed by the two blazes.

Five Types Of Lightning Are Listed

STILLWATER, Okla., July 6 (AP)—An Oklahoma A&M College tornado expert disclosed today he had classified lightning into five types with one type a harbinger of tornadoes.

Dr. Herbert Jones, who pioneered a tornado tracking system by recording high intensity discharges from storms, disclosed his findings today.

Jones has worked more than 10 years on the lightning. He calls the five types in cloud discharges, flare burst, cloud-to-ground, inter-cloud and cloud-to-troposhpere.

Jones says what he has learned about lightning in his experiments for spotting and tracking twisters has brought him to a new evaluation of which kind of atmospheric electrical disturbance is associated with tornadic storms.

He said he is now convinced it is the inter-cloud discharge which foretells the possibility of a tornado. He has observed this phenomenon a number of times.

The inner - cloud discharge appears as a circular patch of luminescence, perhaps half a mile in diameter, on the side of the main thunderstorm nearest the observer, Jones said. It flashes on and off at 1½ to 2 second intervales.

"It builds up in an hour to 1½ hours before formation of a tornado, then appears to be the top or the twister funnel," he said.

Winnie Sees Peace Move

WOODFORD, England, July 6 (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill suggested tonight the shakeup in Soviet Russia was a move toward peace. Nevertheless, he cautioned the West against giving up testing nuclear weapons—including the hydrogen bomb.

The 82-year-old former premier made the implied reference to the Kremlin purge in an aside during a speech at a Conservative party garden party after stressing that nuclear weapons in Western hands are "deterrents" to war.

"I do not suggest that Soviet Russia desires war," Churchill said. Then, diverting from his speech, he added:

"On the contrary, I think she is moving toward a different state of affairs and will aim at taking her part in this broad and easy composition of the human race."

This appeared to refer to the Kremlin purge of three ranking Stalinists—V. M. Molotov, Georgi Malenkov and Lazar Kagahovich.

Safe 'n Sound

By JOHN BOREN

A remark I overhead the other day, set me to thinking. "Bad luck never hits me where I'm prepared for it." I'd never thought much about how many ways I could suffer a financial loss if I didn't have adequate insurance protection. How about you? Do you have adequate insurance protection? It's a wonderful feeling to know that if bad luck hit you you'd have someone to call on. So why not be ready when any misfortune strikes . . . with adequate insurance protection. Let us insure you, your home, and your business against all hazards. Just call BOREN & WEST INSURANCE AGENCY, 2607 Ave. S, Phone 3-6911.

For Buick Owners Only

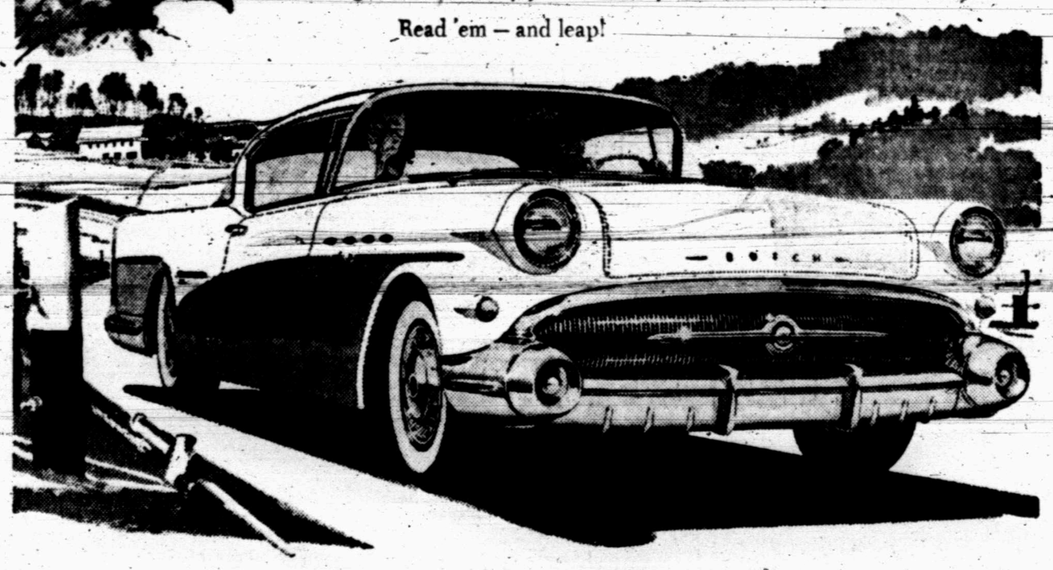

IF YOU own an earlier Buick than our 1957 product, you're probably reluctant to part with it—and who can blame you?

After all—regardless of year or model—there's nothing like a Buick to set you a cut above the ordinary run of mortals—make you feel master of all you survey.

But listen. As wonderful as your present Buick is—we can name at least six good reasons why you should look into a 1957 Buick now.

Six good reasons why you should try this dream car to drive—today.

Read 'em—and leap!

6 Reasons To See Your Buick Dealer Today

1. Today's INSTANT Dynaflow*—Response? Whew! Smoothness? Wow! Never in history such a sweet sense of control, security, safety for yourself, your family, everyone else on the road!

2. Brilliant V8 Power on Tap—This big engine—completely new in 1957—blends plenty of eager energy with silky silence. World's most advanced combination of displacement, compression, bore-stroke ratio, nodal-point balance!

3. Zestful New "Nested" Ride—Take Buick's traditional torque-tube, coil-cushioned ride—cradle it to the lowest center-of-gravity in Buick annals—and brother! You never had it so smooth.

4. Buick's One and Only Safety-Buzzer*—What's the safest pace you want to drive at? Whatever it is, turn a dial till that figure appears in a window. If you exceed that pace, the buzz-zz-z tells you. Simple. Thoughtful. A great safety advance.

5. Unique Ball-Joint Handling and New Braking—Your steering is amazingly easy. Your cornering is amazingly deft. Your braking stays on the level. (And Buick's powerful new brakes dig in for straighter, swifter, safer stops!)

6. Suave Low-Sweep Styling—Clean, crisp, classic lines in the finest Buick tradition—beautiful to look at and live with. Up to 3.4 inches lower, yet more room inside. Including legroom for the folks in the middle!

P.S. You'll like today's Buick prices—and your Buick dealer's high trade-in allowances.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special. Safety-Buzzer standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Big Thrill's Buick—The most completely changed Buick in History!

'57 Rainfall Still Right Behind 1941

This year is still running behind 1941 in Snyder in rainfall totals, but after six months it still has every year beat since that time.

Records were set in 1941, with the record total of 44.02 inches, but 1957 is setting records for modern times.

In six months the official gauge of David Strayhorn, weather observer here, has shown a total of 16.62 inches of rainfall, the highest in 16 years, and more than six and one-half inches over the average of 10.09 for those months.

It rains seven times in Snyder during June, with the showers spreading from June 1 to June 23. The biggest of those was .73, the smallest .04.

Total for the month was 2.29, the most rain for the month since the 3.7 which fell in 1949.

The six-month total of 16.62 at least doubles any for the first six months during the drought years. There were totals of 6.22 last year, 8.85 in 1955, 8.11 in 1954, 4.29 in 1953, 4.89 in 1952, 5.16 in 1951, and 12.98 in 1950, before the drought began here.

By months, here is the rain picture so far this year:

January — .53, most for the month since 1949.

February — 2.80, most since 1938 for that month.

March — .16, a light month but topping last year's March with no rain, most since 1955.

April — 3.61, most for that month since 1941.

May — 7.13, most for that month since 1950 and third highest figure for the month in the 46 years rainfall records are available.

June — 2.29, most for the month since 1949.

The last rain which fell here was on June 23. So far there has been no July rainfall.

Although crops in most of the county are not yet hurting from lack of rainfall, most of them could use more rain soon.

As far as reports can determine, there is no grain sorghum yet burning in the county, and most of the cotton crops still appear in good shape.

July is not without promise for rainfall. In the past 46 years, there has been only once July went without rain. That was in 1918. The average for the month is 2.10.

Last year a total of 1.38 fell here in July, and the month has had as much as the 7.30 which fell in 1948.

The first six months of this year has so far yielded more rainfall than the entire years had in five out of the past six years.

Former Head Of State PMA Dies

BRYAN, July 6 (AP)—Mayor B. F. Vance, 57, who accused former Gov. Shivers and the Republican administration of forcing him to resign as state director of the Production and Marketing Administration (PMA) died last midnight.

Shivers said after Vance resigned July 11, 1953, the resignation was asked by Washington. Vance had said Shivers pressured him to resign and blocked his appointment to an overseas job under the Point 4 program of foreign aid.

Tom Miller, southwest area PMA director, said at the time Secretary of Agriculture Benson had asked for the resignation in order to name a director who was sympathetic with the Eisenhower administration.

Vance had been in the real estate business since leaving PMA in 1953. He took a year's leave from that post to serve as an agricultural adviser with the American mission for aid to Greece.

He attended Baylor University, North Texas State and Texas A&M.

Vance became a school teacher in Wise County in 1929. Later he was agricultural agent in Wise, Madison and Young counties.

He later became chairman of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and continued as director when it became the PMA.

Surviving are his widow, daughter, and two sons. The funeral will be at 3 p.m. tomorrow at the First Baptist Church.

State Coed's Death Ruled As Suicide

AUSTIN, July 6 (AP)—A suicide verdict was returned today in the death of Miss Diane Fearis, 22, University of Texas coed who was found shot yesterday a few minutes before the funeral of her fiance.

The girl's body was in a car parked in the driveway of her apartment here. Justice of Peace J. H. Watson ruled that she shot herself in the left breast with a rifle found in the car.

Police said Miss Fearis and her mother, Mrs. V. T. Fearis of San Antonio, were preparing to go to the funeral of Richard Vaughan Jr., 23, senior university student killed Wednesday in an automobile accident.

About half an hour before Vaughan's funeral, the funeral home received a call from a woman asking that an ambulance be sent to Miss Fearis' apartment. When ambulance attendants arrived, the girl's mother said she knew nothing of a telephone call. After a brief search the girl's body was found in the car.

Services were held today for Miss Fearis' at the same funeral home where Vaughn's rites were held yesterday.

Member Of Hungarian Mission Is Ousted

WASHINGTON, July 6 (AP) — The United States has ousted a member of the Communist Hungarian mission to the United Nations on limits of his diplomatic privileges in this country.

Officials said today the diplomat who left the country more than a week ago was Pal Racz, second secretary of the Hungarian mission at U.N. headquarters in New York.

Sheep, in the south of Chile, sometimes grow such heavy wool that when it rains they get water soaked and are unable to get onto their feet. Death from starvation or disease is usually the result.

Cows Finally Get Milked

STANDISH, Maine, July 6 (AP)—A 71-year-old arthritic neighbor went to the aid of 35 milk-dripping Holstein cows, and Humane Society officials were standing by today as the animals' owners disagreed on who was to milk them.

The cows' owners are tangled in a bitter bankruptcy action.

Grover Libby said he would milk all the cows, if his hands would allow him. He feared they were too arthritic, however, to relieve all the pitifully bleating animals which have not been milked since 6 a.m. yesterday.

The cows' caretaker quit yesterday because he said he hadn't been paid. The receiver in bankruptcy, William E. McKinley, said there had been no question about the man being paid his $70 a week as agreed.

Delicate Operation

MOSCOW, July 6 (AP) — The Soviet press recently reported a delicate heart operation — on a Ukranian cow. Press reports said the cow swallowed a length of wire that became lodged in a membrane near the heart. The cow's milk production dropped rapidly. But a veterinarian operated, removed the wire and the cow is back producing its normal five gallons daily.

FHA MAN WILL SPEAK HERE

Short Course On High Plains Irrigation Problems Planned

LUBBOCK, Jul.6—A short course "covering most of the High Plains irrigation problems" will be held July 24-25 at Texas Tech, according to Ira Williams, Tech agricultural engineering department head.

The extent and importance of irrigation on the High Plains will be discussed by Dave Sherrill, Lubbock irrigation expert, in the opening address at 9:45 a.m. Wednesday, July 24.

Twenty-two specialists will be on the program in the Aggie Memorial Auditorium.

In other Wednesday morning talks, Dr. Per Stensland, Tech Adult Education Program head, will speak on regional planning for water supply and uses. High Plains groundwater supply and depletion will be described by W. L. Broadhurst, Lubbock hydrologist. Dr. George Whetstone, Tech civil engineer, will report on groundwater recharge methods.

Construction of water wells for irrigation will be explained by Marvin T. Rowland, Midland groundwater consultatnt, in the first address of the session beginning at 1:15 p.m.

Lynn S. Ludlow, irrigation specialist with the Rural Electrification Administration, Washington, D. C., will speak on pumping plant efficiencies, and Bob Thurmond, Texas A&M agricultural engineer, on High Plains pumping problems.

The session will close with a panel discussion on ways to reduce conveyance losses. Panelists and their special topics will be Plainview Engineer Jerry B. King, "Seepage Losses in Open Ditches;" Lubbock Businessmen Harold Banks, "Concrete Pipe;" and Gene Quest, "Flexible Pipe;" Lubbock Engineer Lloyd Morton, "Plastic Pipe;" and Clark, "Metal Pipe."

In a Thursday session beginning at 8:45 a.m., Thurmond will describe methods of increasing water efficiencies. Bill Casey, Lubbock sales engineer, will speak on sprinkler irrigation design and efficiencies, and Y. E. McAdams, Lubbock engineer, on selecting proper stream size for furrow and border irrigation.

Sherrill will talk on importance of soil fertility in maintaining high yields under irrigation. Roy C. Garrett, Dallas agricultural engineer, will discuss aluminum foil and other mulches.

Planting methods for better crop stand will be explained by Elmer Hudspeth, Amarillo agricultural engineer. Economic factors in irrigation will be reported by Dr. Ray Billingsley, Tech agricultural economist.

In the final session starting at 1:15 p.m., Dr. A. W. Young, Tech agronomist, will talk about salinity problems, and a panel on irrigation crops will speak as follows: Joe Cole, Lubbock horticulturist, "Vegetables;" Ernest L. Thaxton, Lubbock irrigation engineers, "Cotton and Sorghum;" and Marvi Jensen, Amarillo agricultural engineer, "Wheat and Grain Sorghum."

Time To Ask For Gas Tax Refunds

COLLEGE STATION, July 6 — Farmers are reminded by C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist, that they may now apply for a refund on the 3-cent Federal tax on gasoline used for farming. The amount claimed must be based on the quantity of fuel used for farming purposes on individual farms and ranches during the period from July 1, 1956 to June 30, 1957.

Bates says that all claims must be submitted to the District Director, Internal Revenue Service, and claims for the past year must be in by September 30, 1957. Only one refund claim per farm operator will be permitted and each tax claimant is cautioned to make certain that his refund request includes all eligible fuel used.

Each farm or ranch operator who applied for tax refunds in 1956 will be mailed Form 2240 for filing the [illegible]. An instruction sheet for preparing the application will also be provided, says Bates. For new fuel users or those who failed to file last year, copies of the filing form may be obtained from the office of the local county agent.

Too, Bates suggests that a copy of Publication 308, Farmers Gas Tax Refund, prepared by the Internal Revenue Service, be obtained from the county agent's office or from the nearest District Internal Revenue Service Office.

The specialist advises agricultural producers who used an appreciable amount of gasoline last year in their farming or ranching operations to check into their elibibility for a refund. The legislation which makes possible the refund was passed by Congress in the spring of 1956 and farmers unfamiliar with the procedure should contact their local county agent or Internal Revenue Service for details.

WATERLOGGED WHEAT—Walter Lauer, a farmer living near Rhineland, Mo., kneels in his wheat field flattened by heavy rain. The stalks he's holding up give an idea of the height of the wheat. Much of his corn also was flooded. Heavy rains have damaged fields in midwest and southwest states. Kansas, the nation's leading wheat producer, may be down more than 50 million bushels from last year's harvest because of rain and windstorm.

Income Tax Break

NEW DELHI, July 6 (AP) — The Indian government will ask Parliament later this month to give an income tax break to foreign banks and other firms who give India good terms or loans or purchases of capital goods. Such banks and firms would no longer have to pay income tax on the interest India pays them, the Finance Ministry says. The idea is to encourage long-term loans and deferred payments for capital goods needed in India's second five-year plan.

Heat Wave Deaths

ROME (AP) — Italy counted at least 10 dead today from a week-long heat wave. Temperatures reached 105 degrees yesterday near Bologna. Milan's 98 was the hottest there since the war. Rome had a sweltering, humid 97.

Cardinals Rip Reds, 13-3, To Hike Lead

ST. LOUIS, July 6 (AP)—Willard Schmidt pitched 7 1-3 scoreless relief innings and Ken Boyer and Stan Musial homered as the first-place St. Louis Cardinals hammered Cincinnati, 13-3, today.

Boyer had four RBIs with a three-run home run in the first inning and a sacrifice fly. Musial and Joe Cunningham shared six RBIs for the winners.

Schmidt gave the rugged Rhinelanders only eight hits in his long stint and struck out seven.

Both starters saw early showers.

Johnny Klippstein pitched two-thirds of an inning and was trampled upon for four runs on four hits, the big blow being Boyer's three-run home run.

Murry Dickson saw his 4-0 lead sliced to 3-2 in the second inning on singles by George Crowe and Don Hoak and Ed Bailey's thunderous three-run homer into the dead center field stands, 422 feet away.

Roy McMillan walked and Dickson seemed out of the inning after he got Wally Post—demoted to eighth in the batting order after fanning four times last night—to smack into a line drive double play.

But after pitcher Art Fowler walked, Dickson was derricked for Schmidt who got the side out.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

CINCINNATI BASEBALL fans have, in one sense of the word, made a "bum" out of Redleg manager Birdie Tebbetts.

You perhaps have read some about the squabble over the voting for the All-Star game, which, incententally, is scheduled to come off next Tuesday in St. Louis.

The squabble was the fact that, through a heavy vote from Cincinnati fans, eight members of the Redleg team were picked as starters for the National League in the dream game.

If eight Redlegs are good enough League All-Star lineup, it would appear that the Reds should be making a runaway in the NL race.

At this writing, though, the Redlegs are in second place. This is being written before Saturday's game so the Reds could be back in first place before the day is over.

The point we're getting at, though is that the race shouldn't be close if the Reds are so "loaded" as the Redleg fans must think.

In another words, the Redleg fans are more or less admitting that Manager Tebbetts isn't doing a good job.

Frick Overrules

If baseball commissioner Ford Frick hadn't stepped in, Tuesday's game would be the American League All-Stars vs. Cincinnati. The NL lineup will still be loaded with Redlegs even after Frick stepped in.

A Cincinnati newspaper sent in a avalanche of votes from Redleg fans just before the voting deadline that boosted eight Reds into the starting lineup. Frick, however, ruled that the leaders before the late Cincinnati voting splurge would represent the NL starting lineup in the All-Star game.

That move put Stan Musial of the Cardinals, Willie Mays of the Giants and Hank Aaron of Milwaukee on the starting lineup.

Musial, as it turned out, polled the most votes anyway after all votes were counted.

Couldn't Have Been Sincere

Personally we think Frick was in the wrong for over-ruling the fans' choices. But we also think the Redleg fans were in the wrong, too, for being so obviously biased in voting.

The Redleg fans couldn't possibly have been sincere in their voting. Had the Reds been making a runaway in the NL race, Frick might have left well enough along.

Cincinnati fans were guilty of the same thing last year but nothing was done about it. So, naturally, the Red fans went to bat again for their team this year.

There probably will be a new system employed on the all-star voting next year as result of this squabble.

There's talk that each city would be limited to so many votes. We don't believe this will work, though, because this will encourage the fans of the other cities to be overly biased in their voting, too.

But, limiting each city to a like number of votes may be about as good a solution as any even though it probably will not solve the problem.

Prichard Leading City Loop Hitter

Snyder Furniture, co-leaders in the City League baseball chase, furnishes three of the top four hitters in league play up to last night's game.

Shortstop Tommy Prichard of the Furnituremen is leading the league with a hefty .538 mark, coming on seven hits in 13 official trips.

Prichard is followed by teammate Neil Boyd who has collected 10 hits in 21 trips for a .476 average.

Four others are hitting .400 or better. Bill Houston of Hermleigh is the third leading hitter with a .455 mark.

Lee Gatewood of Snyder Furniture is fourth with .444 on 12 hits in 27 trips with Carl Young and Dick Sparks, both of Sun, hitting .414 and .400 respectively rounding out the .400 plus hitters.

Six other City Leaguers are hitting .300 or better.

Gatewood and Young have the most hits with 12 each while Jimmy Bryant of Snyder Furniture has scored the most runs with 11.

Following are the City League batting averages.

Cubs, Yanks Win LL Tilts

The Lions Club Cubs took over sole possession of first place in the National Little League race last night with a 5-4 decision over the Kiwanis Braves.

The Lions thus broke a two-way tie for the league leadership with the Braves. Adam Romero was the winning pitcher.

Jimmy Hunter of the Cubs and James Minor and Richard Smith of the Braves hit homeruns.

In the American League game, the Legion Yankees clinched the title with a 10-3 victory over the second place Trinity Methodist White Sox. Domingo Pena was credited with the win.

Jimmy Crossen of the White Sox hit a homer in the first inning with none on.

Hermleigh Ties For 1st In City Race

Hermleigh pulled into a three-way tie for first place in the City League last night with a 7-4 win over the Blue Sox.

Hermleigh's win gave her a 6-3 season record, the same record held by Snyder Furniture and Sun Oil, who were in a two-way deadlock before Saturday's game.

Hermleigh broke a 3-3 tie with a run in the fourth inning and then led the remaining distance.

Okie Wins Japan Amateur Golf Title

TOKYO, July 6 (AP)—Col. Arthur Small, commander of the Third Bombardment Wing based at Johnson Air Base, today coasted to the Japan Amateur Golf Championship with a 10 and 9 finals victory.

Japanese Deputy Prime Minister Mitsujiro Ishii was on hand to cheer Moritake Fukagawa, 55, a Tokyo business executive, in the 36-hold final. But Col. Small, 38, of Terral, Okla., literally wore down the 5 ft. 6 in., 160 - pound Fukagawa. Col. Small stands 6-2 and weighs 200 pounds.

Conrad 2nd After 3 In Montreal

MONTREAL, July 6 (AP) — Paul Harney of Bolton, Mass., shot a two-under-par 70 today to lead a $29,000 open tournament with 208 after three rounds. He had a one-stroke lead over Joe Conrad of San Antonio, George Bayer of Los Angeles and Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla.

Harney, Conrad and Bayer played in the final threesome over the Islesmere course and the leadership was in doubt until the final putt.

Conrad also shot a 70 in his final round, Bayer, 240-pounder, fired a 69 and Finsterwald 68.

Three strokes away from Harney at 211 were Doug Ford of Mahopac, N. Y., Gene Littler of Singing Hills, Calif., and Bill Trombley of Dallas, Tex.

At 212 were Bert Weaver of Beaumont, Tex., and Ken Venturi of San Francisco.

Harney started out his third round tied with Venturi at 138. Finsterwald was at 141, Bayer at 140 and Conrad at 139. Harney's leading 208 was eight strokes under par.

Carpenter To Attend OU

ABILENE, July 6 (AP) — Jimmy Carpenter, 18, all - state halfback and a talented outfielder for Abilene High School's football and baseball champions, today signed a scholarship agreement to attend the University of Oklahoma.

Oklahoma football coach Bud Wilkinson flew here to sign him.

The 5-8, 165-pounder said he probably would play both football and baseball at Oklahoma.

Carpenter and his running mate, Glenn Gregory, who guided Abilene to state titles in both football and baseball, were sought by a flock of colleges. Gregory plans to attend Southern Methodist University.

Carpenter hit .430 as a centerfielder for Abilene last fall and won all state honors three years in baseball. He was All-State last fall as a breakaway right halfback in football.

TO SIGN FOR $125,000

Kramer To Sign Wimbledon King

NEW YORK, July 6 (AP) — Wimbledon tennis champion Lew Hoad of Australia will sign a record $125,000 professional contract Monday and will make his pro debut in Jack Kramer's Tournament of Champions, starting at Forest Hills Saturday.

Although not officially confirmed, this was learned indisputably today from a source who has helped in the negotiations. Both promoter Kramer and the Aussie Davis Cup ace are known to have reached virtual agreement on terms.

Hoad will play in two professional tournaments, the one at Forest Hills and another at Los Angeles beginning July 29, and then will join Kramer's troupe on a tour of Europe, South Africa, and Australia.

He won't get a crack at Pancho Gonzales, the world pro champion, until next January—except possibly in tournament play. Gonzales, involved in a contract dispute with Kramer, won't make the European tour.

One of the stipulations of Hoad's unique contract is that he have a "conditioning period" with the lesser pro lights before taking on the powerful Gonzales in the customary co-match series.

Kramer, who arrived here Friday from Brazil, said he had not talked with Hoad.

"I made Lew a $100,000 offer, which still stands," he said. "Only I have raised it to $125,000 because of his impressive victory at Wimbledon. It's $50,000 more than has ever been offered in a pro contract before.

"I hope to talk to Lew when he arrives."

Hoad, who swept past fellow countryman Ashley Cooper in the Wimbledon finals 6-2, 6-1, 6-2, is scheduled to arrive by air Monday from England.

Hoad has denied immediate pro plans, saying he would fulfill his year's commitment with the Lawn Tennis Assn. of Australia.

However, it was learned he decided to make the pro jump now, while the offer was still dangling. Recurrence of a back injury, which forced him out of competition for two months at the beginning of the year, might jeopardize his career.

Kramer and Hoad will go into a huddle shortly after his arrival and the announcement of the newest addition to Kramer's growing pro troupe probably will be made Monday afternoon.

The contract is the best ever offered a player. It guarantees $125,000 over a two-year period. Hoad will get 20 per cent of all gate receipts and a five per cent "incentive bonus" for all matches he wins. The contract runs 25 months through August 1959.

Ken Rosewall, Hoad's former teammate who turned pro last January, gets 20 per cent. Gonzales receives 25 per cent under his present arrangement but will be cut to 20 per cent.

Ferris Quitting After 50 Years

By TED SMITS

NEW YORK, July 6 (AP) — Dan Ferris, the bright-eyed Irishman who has given 50 years of his life to the Amateur Athletic Union and good sportsmanship, is quitting at last, but not entirely.

He couldn't quit sports flat. He will go on fighting for amateurism, cheering on young athletes, and advising the AAU, but he will relinquish the post of secretary-treasurer he has held since 1927.

"I've always preached good sportsmanship," he said. "That's my life. If a man is taught good sportsmanship in active competition it stays with him as good character and fairness in business."

He can look back on his career without regrets. If any man has stood for ideals in American athletics it has been Ferris. Often he has been in the center of a storm, as he was in the Wes Santee case, but he has never raised his voice or lost his temper. A sturdy man with pink cheeks and white hair, he has become the elder statesman of the amateurs.

It was on July 27, 1907, that Ferris came to the AAU as secretary to the late James E. Sullivan. Tomorrow Ferris becomes 68 years old. It would not be an exaggeration to say that Ferris and the AAU are synonymous.

"I have made up my mind to retire," said Ferris. "I've been taken good care of over the years although probably I haven't made as much as I might have in business. But our people have arranged a retirement program for me that will be sufficient.

"I hav enjoyed the work. It has been wonderful."

Cubs Turn Back Braves Before 43,053

MILWAUKEE, July 6 (AP) — The seventh place Chicago Cubs whipped the Milwaukee Braves 3-1 tonight for the second straight time to knock the Braves into third place, two games behind league leading St. Louis. The largest crowd of the season at County Stadium, 43,053, watched the game.

The victory, his eighth against seven defeats, went to the Cubs' rookie righthander Dick Drott. Drott left in the seventh after Andy Pafko belted his first home run of the season pinchhitting for pitcher Warren Spahn.

Drott, who struck out 6 Braves in an earlier game, allowed six of the Braves' eight hits. Relievers Dick Littlefield and Turk Lown combined to save the victory for Drott who struck out four tonight.

Athletics Go 7 To Nip Indians

The West Texas State Bank Athletics edged the Holder Construction Indians in an extra-inning Little League game Friday night, 12-8.

The regulation game ended at 8-8 with the Athletics erupting for four runs in the seventh to capture the American League decision.

In the National League Friday, the Rotary Club Cardinals trimmed the Quarterback Club Giants, 6-2.

The Athletics had to score a run in top of the sixth inning to pull even with the Indians and send the game into overtime.

The Athletics then exploded for four runs in the seventh for the victory. Dalton Walton doubled in Kirby Corbell with the go-ahead run and then Martin Benitez followed up with a two-run double to virtually put the game on ice. For extra measure, catcher Luke Nigliazzo drove in Benitez for the fourth run.

Ronnie Chauncey, Keith Moreland, Benitez and Nigliazzo each got two hits apiece to pace the winners at the plate. One of Moreland's hits was a three-run homer in the fourth.

Mike Murphy and Gail Read each got two hits for the Indians.

The Giants jumped ahead, 2-0, in the first inning against the Cardinals but they were blanked the remaining distance by relief pitcher Kenneth Dieke.

The Cardinals tied the score with a run each in the second and third innings and then iced the decision away with three in the fifth.

Kenny Wellborn was the top hitter for the Cardinals with three hits with Robert Sterling getting two. Jerry Beard collected two of the four Giant safeties.

Phils Nip Dodgers In Pony Tilt, 3-2

The Lions Club Phillies stayed in the thick of the second half pennant race in the Pony League Friday night with a 3-2 decision over the first half champions, Scurry Butane Dodgers.

The win boosted the Phils to within one game of the league leading Von Roeder Red Sox. The Red Sox are 4-0 in the second half while the Phillies are now 3-1.

The Court House Tigers easily manhandled the Hermleigh Cardinals in the other half of Friday's doubleheader, 16-1.

Bob Pena pitched the Phillies to victory over the Dogers with a five-hitter. John Weaver of the Dodgers was touched for only three hits but the Phils bunched them for two of their three runs.

The Phillies scored the winning run in the sixth without the benefit of a hit. David Kee got on via an error to lead off the Philly sixth, stole second, took third on another error and scored on a groundout.

Reg Scarborough got two of the Dodgers' five hits to capture hitting honors for the game.

The loss evened the Dodger second half record at 2-2.

Ben Greenfield tossed a one-hitter to lead the Tigers past the Cardinals. A double by Douglas Foster in the third inning was the only hit Greenfield surrendered.

The Tigers broke a 1-1 tie in the second inning with a two-run rally and then hiked their lead with three in the third, one in the fourth and closed out with nine in the fifth.

Larry Smith with three hits led the Tiger attack. Harry Bradley, Steve Free and Jimmy Don Robinson each got two hits for the winning Tigers.

Close Battle For Bat Lead

By The Associated Press

Dick Simpson of Paris and Jim McNight of Ardmore are staging a battle for the batting lead in the Sooner State Leaue.

Simpson with a .355 average, holds a four-point lead over McKnight among regulars with 125 or more times at bat. He has slammed out 72 hits, the same as McKnight, but collected his on 203 times at bat to 205 trips to the plate for McKnight. Their hits leave them tied for first in that department.

Tommy Brown of Lawton and Pug Williamson of Muskogee are the slugging leaders, each with eight homers to their credit. Simpson has 122 total bases and 19 doubles, both firsts, while McKnight has the most at bats with 205 and the most RBIs with 49.

Swoon's Son Wins At Arlington Park

CHICAGO, July 6 (AP) — Swoon's Son today beat Fabius by about two and a half lengths in winning the $54,750 Warren Wright Memorial Handicap at Arlington Park in new track record time of 1:21 3-5 for the seven furlongs.

E. Gay Drake's 4-year-old colt, ridden by Dave Erb, cracked a track ark that first was established by Clang in 1935 at 1:22, and equalled in this same race by Van Crosby i 1953 and Impromptu in 1955.

Colin McLeod Jr.'s Besomer was third in the field of seven and Rothmore Farm's Munchausen was fourth.

Bold Ruler Takes Rigid Workout

NEW YORK, July 6 (AP)—The Wheatley Stable's Bold Ruler had his first hard workout today since he finished third behind Gallant Man in the Belmont Stakes June 15, and if all goes well the colt will go to Chicago for the $100,000-added Arlington Classic next Saturday.

Bold Ruler traveled very fast in the early part, and showed he still had his speed, but naturally was a bit tired after his layoff necessitated by treatment for a light splint in his right foreleg.

Fishing Tournament Is 'Definitely On'

LAKE WHITNEY, July 6 (AP)—Four days of competitive fishing start Thursday with 500 expert anglers from 60 cities in the State Bass Tournament.

Twice delayed because of floods the tournament was declared "definitely on" by Earl Golding, outdoors editor of the sponsoring Waco Tribune-Herald.

Golding said today 484 fishermen have signed for the freshwater tourney.

Archie Given Ultimatum

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., July 6 (AP)—President Floyd Stevens of the National Boxing Assn. (NBA) said today that unless Archie Moore has signed for a defense of his title by "one week from tonight we definitely will strip him of the light heavyweight championship."

And, Stevens said, the NBA "might at any hour" after midnight tonight declare the championship vacant and order the title "put up for grabs in a four-way elimination tournament."

The NBA suspended Moore last month and ordered him to sign by tonight or be stripped of the title.

Stevens said if Moore doesn't sign an elimination will be ordered between Anthony, Harold Jackson, Yolande Pompey and Yvon Durelle, who drew recently with Anthony. Anthony knocked Chuck Spieser out of the No. 1 challenger slot.

Moore last defended his title June 5, 1956, knocking out Pompey in the 10th round in a London fight.

Sanford, Phillies Rout Dodgers ,9-4

BROOKLYN, July 6 (AP)—Jack Sanford notched his 10th victory with the help of Philadelphia's 13-hit attack today as the Phillies defeated Brooklyn, 9-4.

The victory moved the Phillies within a half-game of the fourth place Dodgers and tightened the five-sided National League race. Home runs by Rip Repulski and Ed Bouchee gave Sanford a 5-3 lead after five innings, and the young righthander had all the runs he needed.

Sanford allowed the Dodgers only six hits, including Carl Furillo's seventh home run in the ninth inning. He struck out seven and walked two. He has lost four.

Pirates Nip Giants In 13

NEW YORK, July 6 (AP)—Frank Thomas whacked his ninth home run into the upper left field stands off New York Giants' pitcher Stu Miller today to boost Pittsburgh to a 13-inning 3-2 victory.

Minutes before, Thomas had been shaken up when he collided with shortstop Dick Groat going after a pop fly in the bottom of the 12th. It was the second homer in two games for Thomas, and it gave Pirate reliever Bob Purkey his eighth victory against seven losses.

Purkey started the 10th for the Bucs after Vern Law had held the Giants to seven hits in nine innings and gone out for a pinch-hitter. Two of the Giant hits off Law were home runs by Daryl Spencer in the second and seventh innings, his fifth and sixth.

Curt Barclay weakened only in the third inning in holding the Pirates to 2 runs and 7 hits during the first 12 innings.

NY Girl, Althea Gibson, Is Wimbledon Singles Champ

By TOM OCHILTREE

WIMBLEDON, England, July 6 (AP)—Althea Gibson, a Negro from Harlem's teeming sidewalks, today won the Wimbledon Women's Singles Tennis Championship and fought back the tears as she received congratulations from England's smiling queen.

The tall, 29-year-old New York girl overwhelmed Darlene Hard, a chirpy blonde waitress ftmv Montebel Calif., 6-3, 6-2, on the famed center court steaming in 100-degree heat.

Later she teamed with Miss Hard to add the women's doubles crown with a 6-1, 6-2 triumph over Mary Hawton and Mrs. Thelma Long of Australia. But her bid for a rare tennis triple was thwarted when she and Neale Fraser of Australia were beaten by Miss Hard and Australia's Mervyn Rose in mixed doubles, final event on the long day's program, 6-4, 7-5.

Making it a surprising day of glory for Uncle Sam, a pair of grand old American veterans — Gardnar Mulloy, 42, of Denver and Budge Patty, 33, of Los Angeles and Paris — upset Australia's prized men's doubles

a rare tennis triple was thwarted when she and Neale Fraser of Australia were beaten by Miss Hard and Australia's Mervyn Rose in mixed doubles, final event on the long day's program, 6-4, 7-5.

Making it a surprising day of glory for Uncle Sam, a pair of grand old American veterans — Gardnar Mulloy, 42, of Denver and Budge Patty, 33, of Los Angeles and Paris — upset Australia's prized men's doubles team of Lew Hoad and Fraser, 8-10, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.

It was the tournament's only major championship rev al. The Australians, teamed as future Davis Cup defenders, were seeded No. 1. The two Yank warhorses were unseeded. Thus the United States, whose tennis has been on the decline, had a role in every title except the men's singles, won yesterday by Hoad.

But it was strictly Althea's day at historic Wimbledon which in all its 80 years has never had a Negro singles champion, man or woman.

Queen Elizabeth II, a horse racing rather than a tennis fan, came to Wimbledon for the first time in her life to see the match. The queen presented the trophy—a large golden plate—to Miss Gibson and shook hands with both the champion and Miss Hard, the runner-up.

"It was very hot in the stands so I'm sure it must have been terribly hot on the court," the queen said. The two players agreed.

So div 98,000 spectators, sweltering in shirt sleeves and sun-back dresses.

The victory of Mulloy and Patty in doubles salvaged something from the wreckage of American tennis. Hoad, 22, and the left-handed Fraser, 23, were the new Australian Davis Cup tandem and were favored to sweep to the men's title easily.

But the old American war-horses, veterans of years of international campaigning, proved too cagey for the youngsters, to the delight of the gallery, which always loves an underdog.

Yanks Rap Hapless Senators By 10-6

WASHINGTON, July 6 (AP)—The New York Yankees thrived on inept Washington pitching for a 10-6 victory over the last-place Senators today. Elston Howard pounded across four Yankee runs on a homer and three singles.

Johnny Kucks was credited with his sixth triumph of the season but not without some spectacular aid in relief by Art Ditmar.

Ditmar moved in after Faye Throneberry socked a two - run homer in the seventh—his first of the season. Ditmar squelched the threat, fanning Pete Runnels and Jim Lemon to end the inning. He allowed no runs and struck out four in his 2 1-3 innings of work.

Washington's Roy Sievers slammed his 19th homer into the left field seats with none on in the second.

Five Washington pitchers labored before a paid crowd of 10,511 but only Bud Byerly, last of the string, escaped the Yankee onslaught. He retired all six men to face him in the final two innings.

Pierce Hurls Chisox Past Tribe, 5-1

CHICAGO, July 6 (AP) — Billy Pierce, stylish Chicago White Sox southpaw, became the major leagues' first 12 - game winner when he hurled a 5-1 victory over Cleveland here today.

Billy allowed eight hits but managed to scatter most of them harmlessly as he vanquished Bob Lemon, who was pitching despite a sore elbow.

Lemon, who now has lost seven out of 12 decisions, allowed five hits in six innings and Bud Daley was nicked for one more. However, the Comiskey's tallied all five off Lemon on just three hits.

TL Attendance In Decline

DALLAS (AP)—The first half in the Texas League race ends in a couple of weeks with indicatons that thehe'll be a big decrease in attendance.

For the first 10 weeks of the race, attendance was down 87,697 compared to the same period last year. This season the total for 249 openings (single game or a double-header) is 388,665. For the same number of openings last year it was 476,362.

The season may reach the 1,000,000 mark.

Only Oklahoma City and San Antonio showed gains for the first 10 weeks, Oklahoma City being 5,237 ahead of San Antonio 2,843. Austin was off the most—27,236. Dallas was down 8,588, Fort Worth 27,196, Houston 15,636, Shreveport 11,956 and Tulsa 5,165.

The main reason for the decreas was the worst spring weather in the league's history.

Bosox Power Beats Orioles

BOSTON, July 6 (AP)—The Boston Red Sox went for the long ball to rout Baltimore 11-2 today as big Frank Sullivan turned in his fifth consecutive victory.

Jackie Jensen's 11th home run—a solo blast to the center field seats—Billy Klaus' ninth with a mate aboard and a two-run triple by rookie Frank Malzone were the biggest blows,

Seven of the 13 Sox hits went for extra bases while Sully, the 6-7 Californian, scattered 10 Oriole safeties.

Your Home Business Firms are

THE HIGHEST BIDDERS

for Your Shopping Dollar

Here are the facts to prove it...

Actually . . . no matter where you live . . . nobody . . and that means NOBODY . . . can give you more for your dollar than your own home business firms. Let's look at the reason for this advantageous . . . to you . . . situation:

ANY MERCHANT . . . anywhere . . . is ordinarily going to sell goods for some more than he pays for them.

ON AN AVERAGE . . . when you spend a dollar in any retail store . . . here or anywhere else . . . about 70 cents of it pays for GOODS, and about 30 cents goes for rent, taxes, donations, hired help, etc., and a few cents (the national average is about 5 cents) pays the proprietor for his work, and for his investment in goods and equipment, credit losses, etc.

NOW . . . when you spend your dollar at home, you get the same 70 cents worth of merchandise that you would get for it anywhere else.

AND THE OTHER 30 CENTS stays here too, to help you pay for schools, churches, roads and streets; to vitalize the community so your property . . . or your job . . . is worth more; to keep more people here to share civic work and expense, and to serve YOU when you sometimes direly need their knowledge and their skills.

ONLY when you buy in YOUR OWN HOME community do you get back most of this 30-cent retail handling charge . . . and often a great deal more, as your job or your business prospers and your social life broadens with the growth of the entire community.

It Pays to Buy where You Live

State Might Go In Hole On Finances

AUSTIN, July 6 (AP)—The state's near-broke status is fast becoming the main subject of the special legislative session Gov. Price Daniel has tentatively called for October.

A fast shuffle of figures this week lifted an extra six million dollars out of the state's coffers, throwing revenue estimates used by the recent Legislature out the window.

"If I had to make a new estimate of expected revenue right now, I'd have to say we'd end up almost six million dollars in the hole," Comptroller Robert Calvert said.

Calvert said he did not expect to be asked for a new revenue estimate until just before the special session.

"By that time there could be a change in our revenue and the picture could be brighter," he said.

The exact time the estimate is asked will depend on whether it reflects the big slash in oil production, the state's chief source of tax money, ordered for July. The expected 1½ million dollars decreased in tax money during July will be reflected in September.

"We don't pay too much attention to the high and low months for state income," Calvert said. "We try to figure two years in advance."

Calvert admitted that the revised totals given him this week by the State Teachers Retirement System were surprising. On the basis of their previous estimates Calvert had set aside 51 million dollars for the state's part in supporting retired school teachers. The new estimate means he will have to allow for the state contributing 57 million dollars to the retirement fund.

Daniel has said he would not present a tax bill to the special session which he wants devoted to lobbyist control, crime curbs, and possible solutions to water problems.

At the end of the regular Legislature the lawmakers figured they had spent all available state cash for the next two years except $80,000. That was before the six million dollar increase in teacher retirement costs.

Investigation Task Forces Are Planned

WASHINGTON, July 6 (AP)—Sen. Mundt (R-SD) said today the Senate Rackets Committee may divide its 55 investigators and lawyers into task forces to prevent its search for racketeering in the labor-management field from bogging down.

He said the idea will be discussed at a committee meeting he expects will be held next week. Mundt is a member of the eight-member bipartisan committee, assigned by the Senate under chairmanship of Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) to conduct a nationwide investigation of labor unions and industry.

Mundt said the plan originated with Republican members of the group. He said they felt there was "not the stream of information to committee members" needed to keep them abreast of what the staff was doing.

"Each task force would have a leader — a subcounsel or other leader—under direction of Robert F. Kennedy, the chief counsel," Mundt said. "They would report directly to him and to the committee members."

He said these reports, in the form of written memoranda and oral reports at committee meetings, would permit each member to appraise progress and avoid "bogging down for too long on any single set of hearings. We would have an agenda of potential hearings in front of us at all times."

Mundt emphasized he was not criticizing either McClellan or Kennedy in making the proposal. He said he thought the idea was a good one for a committee having "a big league job to do."

Kennedy and McClellan were out of the city, and there was no immediate comment from other members.

Fireworks Death

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — Jonnie Lee Keller, 8, died in a hospital here last night of injuries suffered in a fireworks explosion July 4.

Youth Proves He Killed 'Old Guy'

MIDLAND, July 6 (AP)—A curly-haired boy who shot a man and took another lad to see the body seven hours later to prove he "killed the old guy" remained in jail today.

Jailers said Earl Mayfield, 15, got a good night's sleep after telling how "I finally got mad and shot" Joe Raymond Hampton, 56, during an attempt to rob him.

Mayfield was arrested after Jimmy Savage, 15, told his father, J. T. Savage, of being shown the body. Savage called police Thursday night. They found the body of the unemployed Midland man under a warehouse where he had been sleeping. He was shot early Thursday.

The boy told Cope Routh of the Midland Reporter - Telegram and juvenile officer Bill Keel he found a pistol and a fifth of gin in an auto he prowled

He said he drank the gin and decided to rob one of several men sleeping under the warehouse.

"I told him to give me his money and he kept saying he didn't have any," Mayfield said.

Keel said he would recommend a psychiatric examination.

Perry Picket, juvenile court judge, will consider the case Monday.

Mayfield, whose father is dead, was released from the Gatesville School for Boys two months ago for ransacking cars. He previously had been on probation for burglary, police said.

The Savage boy said he didn't believe Mayfield when he told him he killed Hampton the night before.

Savage related this conversation.

Mayfield: "I wish I could hear some news and find out if that old guy I killed is dead or not. You don't believe me, do you?"

"Oh, you didn't kill anybody."

"Oh yeah, I did, too. Come go with me and I'll show you."

Savage said he was so frightened after being shown the body that he didn't tell his father until that night.

Rites Slated For Parker In Arkansas

Funeral services will be held sometime Monday in Malvern, Ark for Robert C. Parker, 31, of 1010 Thirty-second Street, who died Friday morning after being electrocuted while at work.

The accident occurred about 25 miles southwest of Colorado City at about 8 a.m. Friday.

Parker, an employe of Dutch's Drilling Co. of Snyder, was starting to spud in a well in the Iatan field and was raising a part of the drilling rig. The cable struck an electrical high line, and he was electrocuted

Born Sept. 2o, 1925, at Smackover Ark., he had been a resident of Snyder four years.

The body was taken Friday night to Malvern, where Parker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Parker, are residents. A Bell ambulance carried the body from Colorado City to Snyder, also Bell Funeral Home was in charge of local arrangements.

Funeral arrangements are now pending at Atkinson Funeral Home in Malvern.

Survivors include the widow, one son, Robert, one daughter, Sharon; his parents; one sister, Mrs. Geneva Sampson of Canada; and one brother, Addagay Parker, who is in the Navy.

REP. R. R. PATTERSON

Snyder Legislator Honored By Judges

Rep. Robert R. Patterson of Snyder was among attorneys honored Friday in part of the activities in connection with the State Bar of Texas convention in Fort Worth.

Patterson, House sponsor of the district judge's pay bill, was honored at a judicial luncheon held Friday.

Honored along with the Snyder legislator were Sen. Willis of Fort Worth, senate sponsor of the bill, and Rep. Myatt of Cleburne, sponsor of a compulsory assignment law for judges.

Patterson recently returned from this year's session of the Legislature.

At Fort Worth, he represented the Scurry County Bar Association on voting on resolutions and other business.

Ingrid Goes To Bedside Of Daughter

ROME, July 6 (AP)—Ingrid Bergman hurried home today from Paris to see her 5-year-old daughter, Isabella, who had to have her appendix removed last night.

"Thank God," the Swedish actress told reporters when she emerged from Isabella's room, "our apprehensions were exaggerated. She is quite well now."

Miss Bergman said there had been a threat of peritonitis, but that she had been assured that danger was past. She said she had wired her husband, Italian film director Roberto Rossellini, that he need not leave his job in India now to see Isabella.

She also said she would return at once to Paris, where she is appearing in a play. Her daughter by an earlier marriage, Jenny Lindstrom, now a student at the University of Colorado, is to see her mother soon during a European vacation.

Isabella, her twin sister and an older brother had been spending the summer at their parents' seaside home at Santa Marinella, 40 miles north of Rome. Isabella was rushed to Rome when she became ill.

Miss Bergman said today "there is no rift" between herself and her husband and that he would, as planned, finish his work in India in about a month and then return to Rome.

Miss Bergman said she had met Prime Minister Nehru of India at a London party Thursday night, but declined to say whether she had discussed with him her husband's troubles in India, where Rossellini had been involved with an Indian film star.

Truman Memorial Library Is Dedicated By Chief Justice

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., July 6 (AP) — Chief Justice Earl Warren dedicated the Harry S. Truman Memorial Library and its store of historic documents today as a means whereby "peoples of all the earth may . . . choose the right paths in the years to come."

The former President's nearly eight years in the White House "already is recognized as one of the most momentous periods in the history of our country and the world," the presiding jurist of the U.S. Supreme Court said in a prepared address that climaxed a two-day celebration of the opening of the $21,000,000 library and museum.

Thousands lined the grounds fronting the still unfinished limestone building here in Truman's home town as leaders past and present of both political parties joined with Warren in paying homage to Truman.

The chief justice said that some historians regarded the immediate past, historically speaking, as "the darkest age."

"Mr. Truman, the private citizen . . . continues to dedicate his life to the public good — to make certain that the years of his administration will not be such a dark age," Warren said.

"It is in compliance with his public-spirited generosity that I dedicate this building as a museum and a library to safeguard, exhibit, and facilitate the use of its valuable resources that the American people, and all the peoples of this earth may gain by their wide and wise use understanding of ourselves and our times, and wisdom to choose the right paths in the years that lie ahead."

The chief justice, relating the problems Truman faced, mentioned formation of the United Nations, the Berlin airlift, the Korean War, nuclear weapons, and assumption of world leadership.

"Today," Warren said, "he performs a characteristic service in giving both his time and his substance to do that which in this instance only he can do. He is providing the people of America and the people of the world with the means to form their own estimate of his public service."

Fly And Mosquito Control Discussed

J. E. Craven, senior sanitarian at the Snyder-Scurry County Health Unit, discussed fly and mosquito control in Snyder in a talk made the Junior Chamber of Commerce at its Friday meeting.

Craven, in his talk, discussed what the city and county, through the health unit, does in the way of fly and mosquito control and what individual citizens should do.

Flies, Craven said, are often vectors carrying diseases, and citizens should be conscious of the need to control them. Flies cannot be controlled, however, unless individual citizens take care of situations on their own property.

In any fly population, Craven said, elimination of 40 to 60 per cent would be considered good control, but this cannot be done by spraying or fogging, as many residents think it can.

The city and county can do its part by treating, with residual sprays, things which would be considered public health menaces, such as pit toilets, animal and poultry pens, and other areas. Naturally, the city or health unit cannot go onto every individual property to kill flies or eliminate breeding or harboring places, so that responsibility must lie with the persons owning the property, Craven said.

In a survey taken here a few years ago, it was shown that most of the fly breeding areas were those here without sewer and with pit toilets or animal pens. That is not necessarily true now, since there are flies in all parts of town. This means that residents have not been careful about keeping garbage cans covered and that many are leaving piles of grass and weeds. Both places make good spots for fly breeding.

Fogging machines have little effect on flies and are used primarily for mosquitos. Craven talked briefly on mosquito control and explained that the city and county have concentrated more on that because mosquitos are more dangerous as disease carriers than are flies and are also worse pests. There has been effective control of mosquitos this year through the oiling of water holes in this area where mosquitos breed after every rain.

He Picks Up Knives, Still Has Stabbing

KARNES CITY, Tex., July 6 (AP)—Sheriff Harper Morris confiscated all the knives he could find on a tour of Karnes County places.

But 30 minutes after the roundup he was called to a tavern where five men suffered minor knife wounds in a brawl.

"I think if I give them back the knives, they might end my troubles—permanently," Morris said.

Norway Sale Is Off

OSLO, July 6 (AP) — Norway's air force decided to give 34 obsolete jet fighter planes to technical schools rather than sell them. It put the planes up for sale and found the only customers were "strawmen or speculators ready to deliver the planes to countries which the Norwegian government does not want to sell war planes to." The countries weren't named.

Victims Of Tight Money Digging In

NEW YORK (AP)—Those conspicuous victims of tight money and fear of more inflation — federal, corporate and municipal bonds — seem today to be digging in for at least a holding action.

The prices of the older ones have taken quite a shellacking this year. The interest rates that must be offered to sell new ones have risen steadily.

Sometimes underwriters have had a sorry time moving them into investors' hands. Sometimes communities and corporations find the rates too stiff to pay, and have to forego the improvements or expansion they'd like to make. Even the U.S. Treasury finds the high interest it would have to pay on a long-term bond unacceptable and sticks to the short-and medium-term market.

But this week and last, bond dealers have seen some sign of a halt to the downward trend in prices and signs that the peak of interest charges may have been reached — at least for the moment.

One reason could be that yields on bonds have soared so high that now they top those on many blue chip stocks, thus attracting investors to the bond market.

Another is that fear of a big new surge of inflation which swept stock prices higher a few weeks back has abated a bit for the moment. Inflation fears make investors sell fixed-income bonds and buy speculative stocks.

If runaway inflation is to be avoided — and Washington money managers vow that they are set on stopping it — bonds at high yields will look more attractive to investors, and common stocks as a hedge against inflation will look attractive only if the prospect for higher earnings and dividends is bright.

Investment return on top-rated corporate bonds has risen in recent weeks as high as 4.85 per cent. Bonds with a rating somewhere under the top today yields as high as 6 per cent. This is a striking rise in the last year and a half. In January 1956 the highest rated corporate bonds averaged 3 per cent.

Quemoy Is Shelled

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Chinese Communist forces on Amoy fired 26 shells at little Quemoy today without causing damage or casualties, the Defense Ministry announced.

THE SNYDER DAILY NEWS

VOL. 8, NO. 58 SNYDER, TEXAS, SUNDAY, JULY 7, 1957 SECTION B

Water skiing is becoming an increasingly popular sport on the wide expanses of water at Lake Thomas. Every day dozens of novice and expert skiers can be seen dashing along behind speed boats on the lake. Paul Newman, Andrews, controls the boat to pull his son, Robert Newman, over the lake. (Lee Watson photographs)

SPLASH!

Wading in the kiddie pool at Towle Memorial Park's swimming pool while their parents enjoy the water of the pool is a favorite pastime of hundreds of Snyder and area youngsters. Pictured above are Janet and Jere Ann Wilson, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Wilson, 214 Thirty-sixth Street, Pamela Sue and Barrie Bowlin, children of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bowlin of 308 Thirty-first Street, Raymond and Wanda Murphy, children of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Murphy, 3703 Noble Drive, and Marie and Jimmy Allred, children of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Allred, Beckville, Tex.

Resting in the shade of their tent, the group of Lamesans above take time out from their playing in the waters of Lake J. B. Thomas. From left they are: Mrs. G. C. Clifft, Mrs. Burnie Williams, Mrs. Rex Dunn, Mrs. M. L. Standefer, Mrs. Clarence Culp, with Grover Clifft in the chair behind the women. The group spent the July 4 holiday at the lake boating, skiing and fishing.

MISS SANDRA COOPER
...Bride-elect of Sidney Wallace Johnson
(Craft Studio photograph)

Engagement Of Miss Cooper Announced

Miss Sandra Cooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Cooper, 3007 Avenue S, was honoree at a morning coffee Wednesday given by her mother.

The coffee, at Martha Anns Woman's Club, was to announce Miss Cooper's engagement and impending marriage to Sidney Wallace Johnson. Mr. Johnson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Johnson, who are ranchers northeast of Snyder.

The coffee table which was covered in a pink net tablecloth trimmed in cerise ribbon very attractively carried out the bride's colors. In the center of the table was an arrangement of American Beauty Roses.

Coffee, pasteries, and summertime fruits were served by members of the houseparty, Mrs H G Towle, Mrs. A. J. Towle, Mrs. T. L. Lollar, and Mrs. Hugh Boren. Seated at the bride's wedding book were Misses Mary Jo Harrell and Connie Connell. A pixie touch was carried out in favors which were gay little brides fashioned in the bride's colors.

Mrs. Cooper and the groom's mother, Mrs. Johnson, greeted the guests at door. The four grandmothers, Mrs. Ella Cooper, Mrs. W. H. Rogers, Mrs. Florence Wallace, and Mrs. Ray Keenan, also assisted in the houseparty.

A gift was presented to the bride by her future grandmother, Mrs. Keenan. The gift was a ring of garnet with a diamond in the center. It belonged to her mother.

Out-of-town guests for the coffee included Mrs. John L. Mogford and Lynn Mogford, of Carrizo Springs, Mrs. Kennie Reese of Ackerly, Mrs. E. B. Ellis of Sweetwater, Mrs. C. Doyle Jordan and Judy Jordan of Lubbock, and Mrs. Jack A. Gray Jr. of Farmersville.

Miss Cooper, a 1957 graduate of Texas Technological College in Lubbock, received her degree in elementary education. While a senior at Texas Tech she lived in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Doyle Jordan, 2202 Slide Road, and during her senior year she was a member and president of Delta Delta Delta social fraternity, on the Panhallenic Women's Council, and secretary of the Student Union Program Council and the Board of Student Organizations. Miss Cooper also attended the University of Texas and the University of Colorado.

Mr. Johnson attended San Angelo Junior College and Texas Tech and is now engaged in ranching in Scurry County.

Women Can Have Pick Of Best In World Fashions

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

THERE'S NO REASON why American women can't have their pick of the best in fashion from every country in the world, says Eleanora Garnett, Rome designer and international commuter.

The tall, blond, Estonian-born Mme. Garnett spends most of her time these days hopping between her Rome establishment and her New York salon, where women order clothes which are then made to order in Rome and delivered two weeks later in New York by air express. Before World War II she ran an internationally known fashion salon in Hong Kong.

"There's a great difference between the fashion philosophy of American and Italian women," say Eleanor. "The smart women in the United States is afraid of extremes. She prefers always to underdress rather than overdress. The Italian women, on the other hand, loves extremes and wants to look sensational, even if her gown is so tight that she can't life her arms. When she goes to a ball she may wear a dress so complicated that it would cost $100 to press it in New York. And when she's dressed for a gala occasion, the Italian women has to hire a carriage, because she probably couldn't get her gown into a car—especially our little Italian models."

Mme. Garnett believes firmly that Italian women today are the most elegant in the world—high-born Italians, that is. Says she:

"The Italian way of life is so different. The pace is more leisurely, and women's function is to look beautiful and exciting. Italian women spend their lives entertaining and being entertained, and there are still plenty of servants to make all this possible. But this elegance, of course, is only for the w who still maintain great estates d staffs. The average women in American lives and dresses better than the average Italian woman could ever hope for in her wildest dreams."

Mme. Garnett maintains a great house in Rome, a country estate and a staff of servants. But she speaks wistfully of life in New York, where servants are scarce but everybody has a refrigerator, a freezer and a electric dishwasher.

GOOD RAISIN BREAD

Ingredients: ½ cup milk, 1 tablespoon sugar, 2 teaspoons salt, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, ½ cup warm (near 105 degrees) water, 1 envelope dry granular yeast, 1 egg, ½ cup seedless raisins (rinsed in hot water and drained), 3 cups (about) sifted flour, ¼ cup sugar, teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg.

Method: Scald milk in a small saucepan; remove from heat. Stir in 1 tablespoon sugar, salt, and butter until butter is melted. Cool to lukewarm. Put warm water in large mixing bowl; sprinkle in yeast, stir until dissolved. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture. Beat in egg thoroughly and raisins with a spoon. Stir in 3 cups flour until blended. Dough will be soft; but if it seems too soft to roll, mix in a couple of tablespoons more flour. Turn dough out on well-floured pastry cloth; sprinkle top of dough with flour and roll into an 8 by 16-inch rectangle. Mix ¼ cup sugar, cinnamon and nutmeg together; sprinkle over dough. Roll up as you would a jelly roll, starting with 8-inch side; seal edges and place in buttered loaf pan (9¼ by 5¼ by 2¾ inches). Cover with towel and let rise in warm place (80 to 85 degrees) free from draft, until double in bulk — about 1 hour; loaf should be well browned and have a hollow sound when bottom is tapped. Turn out of pan and allow to stand on rack to cool before cutting.

Miss Billie Marie Stipe Is Honored At Tea Here

Miss Billie Marie Stipe, bride-elect of Robert Houk, was honored with a gift tea in the home of Mrs. P. W. Birdsall on the Lamesa Highway, last week.

Forming the receiving line for guests at the tea were Mrs. P. W. Birdsall, Miss Stipe, Mrs. Vernon Stipe, mother of the bride, and Mrs. J. W. Houk, mother of the groom-to-be.

The brides chosen colors of yellow and white were carried out in decorations of the serving table, which was laid with a yellow cloth and covered with white lace and net. Centering the table was a large bridal doll with vases of which daisies and bells of Ireland on either side. White daisies and bells of Ireland were used throughout the house.

Plate favors were minature white and gold Bibles tied with yellow ribbon, "What God has joined together," was the reading inside the favors.

Mrs. W. Dee Myers and Miss La Nell Woodson played selections throughout the evening. Miss Louise Crook sang two selections, and Miss Jane Rogers gave a reading.

Punch was served by Miss Peggy Spence and Miss Woodson. Cake was served by Miss Dixie Lee Kimmel, while Miss Twila Sturdivant registered guests.

Other house party members were Mrs. Leonard Spence, Mrs. Bob Kimmel, Mrs. Judson Kimmel, Mrs. J. W. Woodson, Mrs. Faye Hogue, Mrs. Don Robinson, Mrs. R. C. Isunsford, Mrs. Dee Myers, Mrs. Harry Clarkson, Mrs. Zula Miller, Mrs. W. R. Pate, Mrs. Tommy Pate, and Mrs. Kenneth Williamson.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. J. W. Houk, Mrs. Gay Kimmel, Mrs. Mary Ann Kingery.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Houk of Fort Worth. He was graduated from Quanah High School and is now employed in Fort Worth.

Miss Stipe is a 1956 graduate of Snyder High School and attended Draughon's Business School in Abilene.

Wedding plans have been made for Aug. 16 at the Union Baptist Church.

• • •

Board members of the League of Women Voters voted Tuesday morning to hold a series of informal membership orientation coffees during the month of July in lieu of the regular monthly general membership meeting. Purpose of the meetings is to better acquaint members with each other and with the aims and organization of the league.

Mrs. Frank LeFeuvre, membership chairman, was designated to make arrangements for the proposed meetings and to contact all members and prospective members.

The board approved the ordering of the league-sponsored Industrial Security film, "Kill Only the Ivy", which presents the problem of subversion in industry. Tentative plans were made to show the film at an open town meeting, and to offer it for showing to other civic organizations.

Mrs. Harold C. Brown, local items chairman, reported on progress in the compilation of material to be used in the league project pamphlet, "Know Your Town Government." The pamphlet, when completed, will cover every phase and department of local Snyder government and is expected to be ready for early fall distribution.

A meeting of the finance committee was held Friday, at Mrs. Hugh T. Lowry's home, 2208 42nd Street.

The board met in the home of Mrs. Irene Knight, with Mrs. Knight presiding. The next meeting will be on Aug. 6.

MRS. JACKIE DON L. RAMSEY
. . .Nee Frances Lou Hall

Frances Lou Hall Is Wed In Double Ring Ceremony

Frances Lou Hall became Mrs. Jackie Don L. Ramsey last night in a double-ring ceremony held in the First Baptist Church of Littlefield.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Austin Hall of Littlefield. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Ramsey, route 1.

The Rev. Edwin Lynn Hall, cousin of the bride, officiated at the ceremony.

The organist, Mrs. Hol Ed Toles, played traditional wedding music. Vocalist was Johnita Gallini, who sang "Through the Years," "God Made Thee Mine" and "Wedding Prayer."

The altar was a sunburst of daisies with greenery and with six candle tiers. Candles were on every row down the aisle of the sanctuary.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her costume was a floor-length gown of alencon-type lace with sabrina neckline, sequin-encrusted lace and satin bodice. Her long sleeves tapered to a point and joined to a skirt of pleated tulle and alencon lace with ruffles of finely-pleated tulle. She wore a chaple train.

The maid of honor, Hazel Ruth Lancaster of Post, wore a pale blue waltz-length dress of chiffon over taffeta with darker blue cumberbund. She carried a folded white umbrella with white daisies floating from the top, streaming down the side.

Bridesmaids were Suzanne Houston of Snyder and Jo Ann Parrack of Littlefield. Their costumes and flowers were the same as those of the maid of honor. Flower girls were Thomasine West and Tanya Toles, the ring bearer was Eddie Tole[illegible]d candlelighters were Sid Ross and Patsy Ramsey.

Best ma was Scott Brookshire of Mineral Wells. Groomsmen were Jere Lawrence of Sweetwater and Hub Straughan of Midland. Ushers were Jimmy Arnold of Odessa and Bob Price of Midland.

Both the bride's mother and groom's mother wore white orchids.

A reception followed in the church parlor. The organdy table cloth was accented with blue flowers and centered with a three-tiered heart-shaped cake. Reception assistants were Ann Bright, Cammie Hulse, Yvonne Smith, Beva Jean Ray, Shirley Moore, and Monya Hank.

For their wedding trip to Grand Lake, Colo., the bride's costume was a banana pure silk pestante with new chanel look in the semi-fitted jacket, and a very slim skirt, the costume having matching accessories.

The couple will reside at 2603 Thirty-fifth Street in Snyder.

The bride is a graduate of Littlefield High School and attending Hardin-Simmons University two years. The groom, a graduate of Snyder High School, attending McMurry College and Hardin-Simmons University.

Thought Of Picnic Stirs Gypsy In Us

From time immemorial picnics have had a special heart-warming significance for all of us . . . the very thought of a picnic stirs the gypsy in us all. Because picnics are fun.

Whether it be a bou and girl in love, wanting nothing but to be alone with each other and commune with the great out-doors; old-timers seeking the informality of a get-together in congenial surroundings; or a group of pre-school tots — the appeal of a picnic is universal.

Time was when great plans and preparations had to be made far in advance for such a gala event. In recent years, however, modern innovations in transportation, refrigeration and accessories have contributed greatly to the ease and convenience of that "spur of the moment" impulse to get out into the country, or the beach, for that rollicking, joyful release from the work-a-day world.

But a picnic consists of more than just a hamper of food and a place to eat it. No matter how enchanting the location, it cannot help but be enhanced by an attractive setting. And what could enhance the surroundings better than gay, useful, practical paper napkins. Today, paper napkins are endorsed by experts on etiquette for even the most formal dinners. How much more useful — yes, necessary, these paper napkins are for informal entertaining and especially picnics.

Rainbow Girls Go To Grand Assembly

Eight Rainbow Girls attended the State Grand Assembly of Texas in Dallas July 1-3. They went to Dallas on Saturday and returned the following Friday.

They were accompanied by Mrs. Worth Hatten and Mrs. Clara Terry.

The girls who attended were Lee Edleman, Patsy Martin, Judy Green, Peggy Moore, Toni Taylor, Mary Ann Carey, Janet Free, and Margie Glaughlin.

Remove Charred Area In Refinishing Work

Before attempting to refinish the part of a table damaged by a cigarette burn, all the charred residue must be removed from the area. This is best done with a single-edged razor blade. The damaged section then must be cleaned with a cloth dipped in denatured alcohol.

Mock Nuclear Attacks Scheduled For State

AUSTIN, July 6 (AP) — Surprise nuclear attacks will be made on seven unnamed Texas cities next week.

State Defense and Disaster Relief Headquarters said today that the make-believe operation will go into effect at 10 a.m. Friday and last through 5 p.m. Sunday.

Various civil defense organizations will take part in the exercise.

Charcoal, which is almost pure carbon, produces greater heat than ordinary wood and is practically smokeless.

Not Engine Trouble

BULAWAYO, Southern Rhodesia, July 6 (AP) — Truck driver Michael Schoeman figured it was engine trouble. But it was a 10-foot python that caused the truck to stop. The snake had curled itself around Schoeman's engine and tangled with the fan blades.

JUST TRY IT

Selling A House Is An Arduous Task

By SAUL PETT

RIVER EDGE, N.J. (AP) — About two weeks ago we decided to sell our house. Now, I ask you, is there anything criminal or un-American about that?

You wouldn't think so. But just try it. Just try selling your house and you'll soon feel like a combination of Willie Sutton, Samuel Insull, "Yellow Kid" Weil, a used car salesman and a spy caught red-handed with the H-bomb blueprints.

We advertised and fisted our house with real estate agents. At first nothing happened—and our pride took an awful beating—until we dropped the price from entrancing $22,800 to an enticing $22,300.

Then the big parade started—suspicious strangers with chips on their shoulders wandering through the living room, tapping the walls, peeking behind furniture and pictures, asking and reasking interminable questions.

So far we haven't found a buyer but we have auditioned any number of potential district attorneys. They all have a sharp cross-examination technique. Their endless questions, I suppose, are designed to catch you off guard, to make you stumble to reveal some terrible secret you're hiding about your house.

The most crucial question—the one that is supposed to crumble your whole case to bits and make you confess, in tears, that the place isn't worth a buck more than $9,000—is this: "Why are you moving?".

This is always asked deliberately, with intensely searching eyes, and you can almost feel the electrodes of a lie detector slipping around your wrists. This is when they hope to trap you into hysterial admission that you're trying to unload a fraud.

Our honest answer happened to be simply that we're getting another child, we need more room, we saw this place in Long Island we're crazy about.,,

The cold, dead look of disbelief in the buyer's eyes says, yeah, but what's the real reason, is the roof caving in, are they building a glue factory next door, are all the neighbors saxophone players?

Whatever your reason is for moving, you'd better stand mute or plead the Fifth. Any answer you give will be held against you.

Real estate agents react somewhat differently to the fact that we're moving from New Jersey to Long Island. They immediately start framing an ad: "Owner forced to move, leaving state, must sell..." Until you feel like you're being extradited for grand larceny.

And then there are the knowing wall-tappers. They crook the index finger of the right hand and knock on the wall, concentrating with the intense look of a cardiac specialist searching for a coronary.

Every house buyer, these days, expects "extras"—wall ovens, air conditioners, deep freezes, among others—and when they find you're not throwing in a grand piano, recently tuned, they look at you as though you're stealing a family heirloom—from their family.

People come to look at your house with a variety of intentions, all of them mystifying. There is the woman who will spend an hour in your place, studying every detail, cross-examining you mercilessly, suggesting that the stainless sink is an inch too short, the dining room would be better facing east than west, her drapes are an inch too long for the picture window.

But one of this really matters since, it turns out, she has nine kids, she really needs five bedrooms and the fact that you have only three, which she knew all along, simply won't do.

There is also the insomniac-type buyer who calls at 8 a.m. says he'll be out in an hour. Immediately the house is galvanized into frenetic action. The bed is made while I'm still in it. The piano is dusted for the 18th time, the children are confined to quarters, to hold their breath and look small so their rooms will look bigger.

A hot breakfast, of course, is out of the question while you wait because the buyer may not like your choice of cooking odors. So you wait, you glare at your wife, you sip last night's coffee with ice, you smoke too much. You can't go back to bed. You can't relax. You can't eat.

An hour later the phone rings. The man who said he was coming isn't. He found the nicest little place on the way out, exactly $3800 cheaper than yours. You hang up. You're empty but you can't eat. You've just been betrayed, or, at the very least, scorned in this house you've lived in for seven years, raised your children, been proud of.

There is only one thing worse than the people who show up to look at our house—that's people who don't show up at 220 Adams Ave., River Edge, N. J., seven bright, airy rooms, deep wooded plot, big lovely screened porch, sacrificed at $22,300. Owner moving to institution.

THREAT TO WHISTLER

Picasso Show Draws Monster Crowd

By W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Arts Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—"Now look at that!" exclaimed the young man, his eyes practically popping out of his head.

It was at the Museum of Modern Art's monster Picasso show, which daily draws monster crowds.

The fellow was talking to his girl, and to a small laughing crowd gathered around him. He waved a hand to trace the lines, cocked his head like any knowing connoisseur, and cried:

"Whew, what symbolism!"

He was looking at a hole in the wall. Covered by a small barre, door and containing a red fire extinguisher, it was a foot square and stood at the height of a picture.

He really didn't mean it—though Picasso with his master's touch could have made it a Picasso. But a few of the spectators really scoffed at the show proper:

"If a kid did it, who'd come, but he has only to sign his name!" exclaimed a woman whipping away in disgust.

"I can't believe it!" a man complained, wondering what the world was coming to.

But the museum people heard the jingle of cash in the registers as the double line of men, women and children poured in to view one of the most thrilling shows in years.

If Picasso isn't the greatest artistic genius of the century, he is certainly the most spectacular. Maybe he is also the most valuable.

Supplementing the usual force of attendants, there were the blue-uniformed operatives of a private detective agency, pistol in holster, patrolling the jammed halls.

First armed guards that this gallery-goer ever saw threatening to turn an art gallery into a shooting gallery were in the same museum in 1932 for "American Painting and Sculpture." Lead item in that collection was "The Artist's Mother," Whistler's masterpiece, now in the Metropolitan but borrowed then from Paris. That picture alone traveled coast to coast to be seen by 2,000,000 people. Ropes kept the crowds away, and two guards were on constant duty.

That was a seated women. There is a "Seated Women" painted in 1946 in the Picasso show, and a "Woman in Rocking Chair," painted only last year.

Picasso is not quite as popular as Whistler, and neither is he as popular as Van Gogh, in complete attendance figures suggest. Highest attendance for a single day at the Van Gogh show in 1935 was 5,968; highest for the 1939 Picasso show, 4,694; highest for the current show, 5,017. With attendance running at twice the normal rate, perhaps 250,000 people will have seen Picasso by September closing time. The show will go later to Chicago and Philadelphia.

Assembled by Alfred H. Barr, Jr., the exhibition tells admirably the whole Picasso story. It attracts a polyglot crowd, Spaniards from Picasso's native land, and French from his adopted country, the well-to-do, the impecunious, the camera fans.

One youngster was busy with a sketch. Another gawking at the "Guernica" said, "There's a bull" and added: "Somethings happening to the horse." But it was a bronze that stymied him, and that was hardly Picasso's fault. After reading the title, he asked his father:

"What does 'Pregnant Woman' mean?"

Musical Palace

TOKYO, July 6 (AP) — The Imperial Palace is a musical place. Crown Prince Akihito is taking cello lessons. He already plays the guitar and piano. Empress Nagako and the crown prince's brother Yoshihito both play piano. A palace spokesman said they are interested in Western classical music.

Summer Footnote

If you like to go stockingless in summer, cut waxed paper the size of the inner soles of your shoes and insert in shoes. The paper keeps feet from sticking to inner sole lining and protects shoes as well as feet.

St. Vitus' Dance Cure Takes Care

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE
AP Newsfeatures

CHOREA is a definite disease related to rheumatic fever. The disease comes on slowly. The first symptoms observed are a general clumsiness. The child begins to drop things, he spills his food at the table, his handwriting may become almost illegible, he bumps into furniture, he is tired and irritable and cries easily.

These symptoms are vague. Most healthy children are apt to spill and drop things to a certain extent. But a noticeable increase in kind of behavior may be the beginning of chorea. From just an increase in awkwardness the child may go on to having twitches. Twitches of the muscles of the face cause grimaces, a shoulder may jerk, first in one direction and then in another, the arms or hands make sudden undirected movements. Sometimes there are general body writhings.

The jerks of chorea are very irregular and they appear first in one part of the body and then in another. They are quite different from the jerk of a tic which is one movement repeated in exactly the same way over and over again. A child with a tic may grimace but it will be the same little squeezed-up movement every time he does it.

A child with chorea may grimace one way one time, quite a different way another time and later he may shrug his shoulder or kick out his leg. But like a tic the movements of chorea cannot be controlled by the child. Telling him to stop is completely useless — you might as well tell a hot child not to perspire.

Chorea occurs most frequently between the ages of seven and adolescence, though it can occur at any age. Unlike measles and chickenpox it leaves no immunity. Second attacks are not uncommon.

There is often a little fever — not much; you probably wouldn't know the child had any fever unless you actually took his temperature. The temperature is most likely to go up in the late afternoon. A child with a tic will not have a fever.

Serious Disease

Chorea is a serious disease and any child with it should be under the care of a physician.

The serious part of chorea is not the twitchings but the fact that this disease may attack the heart — just the way rheumatic fever does. Because of the possible danger to the heart a child with chorea needs to be put to bed and kept there until the disease has completely disappeared. This is apt to mean several months. Even in cases where the twitchings are not too severe there is still the danger to the heart and the child should be in bed.

AMUSEMENT

'Search For Paradise' Is Scheduled By Cinerama

DALLAS, Tex.—Five years after Cinerama first appeared in New York in September, 1952, Lowell Thomas will present the fourth production, "Search for Paradise," which will have its premiere at the Melba Theatre, Dallas, sometime early in September of this year.

The idea for the new Cinerama adventure came about early last year when Lowell Thomas was appointed official United States Ambassador to the Coronation of the King of Nepal by President Dwight D. Eisenhower. The noted commentator decided that Cinerama should be given the opportunity to record what would probably be the last Oriental durbar. With changing economic and social conditions in the Eastern nations, it might not be possible to see again such a celebration of pomp and splendor.

The new picture, "Search for Paradise," was filmed in the "Roof of the World" area of the Himalayan and Karakoram mountains of Asia. It is a place Thomas described as the "last frontier"—in what could be identified in men's minds as the home of the real Shangri-La.

The plot basically deals with a Cinerama crew in this exotic Oriental region, headed for the Coronation of the King of Napel and two adventurers travelling there to escape the complications of everyday American life. The pair, seeking paradise, eventually cross the path of the film expedition. Their separate and combined travel and experiences take its audiences through a breathtaking galaxy of Asian wonders, cultural and scenic as can only be seen by the magic adventure of Cinerama. The enchantment of such places as Hunza, Ceylon, Pakistan, the Vale of Kashmir and the first shooting of the rapids of the upper Indus River.

Dimitri Tiomkin, three time Academy Award winner, is the composer and conductor of the musical score in which he has written four new songs. Robert Merrill, Metropolitan Opera baritone, has been assigned to sing the musical narration.

Janssen Is Now Picture Of Success

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—After chasing after acting success for half of his 28 years, David Janssen had it come to him — threefold.

The young actor is the star of the "Richard Diamond — Private Detective" show on CBS-TV Tuesday nights. On the same day he learned he had won the role, he also found out he had been chosen for two other TV series — both Westerns!

He had to choose one of the three. With Westerns flooding the TV market, the private eye opus appeared the best choice.

He takes over the role that Dick Powell did on radio for several years. He was Powell's personal choice for the series, which is being made by the company in which he is a partner, Four Star Productions.

David is no carbon-copy of Dick. The lad is broad-shouldered, broad faced with dark hair. Some say he rewembles Clark Gable, and that's possible. His voice is ideal for the private eye type. It is low and off-key.

Success has been a long time Naponee, Neb., he toured with his mother, an actress and Ziegfeld showgirl.

Hollywood King Not Ready To Direct Yet

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD, July 6 (AP)—"Direct? Hell, I haven't even learned how to act yet."

This was Clark Gable's answer to a reporter who asked him the other day if he planned to make the switch from star to director, as some of his colleagues have done.

It was a typical retort from the movie star who is still the undisputed king of Hollywood—as unsuming now as he was 27 years ago.

Gable, now 56, probably has done more for the ego of middle-aged men everywhere than the invention of the toupee.

At a premiere, he still makes the bobby-soxers squeal louder than they do for the Tab Hunters and the Rock Hudsons. And, of course, everyone knows how Gable affects the mothers and the grandmothers.

As one studio executive, in explanation, put it:

"He'll all man and even a husband is happy when his wife senses it."

Clark expects 1957 to be his best year moviewise in 10 years. Upcoming is "teacher's pet," in which he plays what most newspaper reporters believe is the most distardly character in all history—a city editor.

It's a comedy by academy winner writer - director George Seaton and concerns a cynical city editor who hates all journalism school graduates.

Under pressure from his publisher, he reluctantly agrees to deliver a lecture on newspapering to a journalism class taught by Doris Day. He gets mistaken for an older student and the fun begins from there.

Gable is the first to tell you that since the war, he has made lousy movies — artistic flops but always boxoffice successes.

He spent 23 years with MGM at an annual salary of better than $300,000, most of which went for taxes. It was one of the longest single star contracts in Hollywood history.

Other stars who left the studio, such as Jimmy Stewart, became millionaires in percentage deals with other studios. Many formed corporations and became producer-stars, subject to the enticing capital gains setup.

He once said: "I'm not rich by any means. But I'm comfortable. That's all I ask of life—to be warm, well-fed and comfortable."

In 1955 he took his fifth wife, the former Kay Williams Spreckels. She had two children by a former marriage whom Gable fondly calls "my kids."

What's the secret of Gable's long reign as the king of Hollywood?

Joan Crawford, longtime contemporary of Gable's, says "when you think of the top movie actor, there's only one—Clark Gable. No star today has that excitement, not even Marlon Brando."

The rank-and-file movie worker gives another reason — his professionalism. Gable comes on the set, knowing his lines and ready to work. He is not an egomaniac, like most stars.

On Aug. 13, 1942, he left his $357,000 a year income and enlisted in the Army as a buck private. He was 41 then, three years over the ceiling the services had put on draftees.

Bidding Is Lively On 'Auntie Mame' Rights

NEW YORK (AP)—Broadway producers who come up with smash hits usually put a touring company on the road themselves—but it's different with "Auntie Mame."

Robert Fryer and Lawrence Carr have put up the travelling rights for some other management—and the bidding is lively.

One possibility is Greer Garson will star in the role created by Rosalind Russell, with an eye to replacing Roz in the Gotham company when she bows out next January.

Team Of Feuer And Martin Gains Fame

NEW YORK (AP)—The musical producing team of Cy Feuer and Ernie Martin is getting as important as Rodgers & Hammerstein in the field of summertime show business.

Feuer and Martin haven't had a show on Broadway all year, but now the stock rights to three of their five-in-a-row hits are being released for bucolic runs — "Silk Stockings", "Can-can" and "Boy Friend". Previously released were "Where's Charley?", and "Guys and Dolls".

Hillbilly Hits Becoming Frequent

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—The definition of a hillbilly vocalist used to be somebody who sings through his nose by ear for money. But today things are different.

There are so many country music compositions regularly entrenched in the national "Top Ten" lists of radio, jukeboxes and home recordings. From country music beginnings so many people have soared to great heights — Elvis Presley, Pat Boone, Tommy Sands, Rusty Draper, Tennessee Ernie, Eddy Arnold, Jimmy Dean.

The phenomenon of country music is of special interest to the CBS Radio network because tonight it begins playing host to the "Country Music Show."

It sent a sleuth down to the Blue Ridge country of Virginia to try to learn just what country music is. He found that:

Country music is commercially as durable as steel because it draws its vitality directly from the farmer, factory hand and small merchant.

The hillbilly performer doesn't depend on a professional songwriter for his material. He composes his own, even though he can't read or write a note of music. Of the 14 artists traveling hither and yon with the show, only one has not composed any songs and only one other has composed as few as 10. The rest have created anywhere from fiddler Dale Potter's 25 to singing star Carl Smith's 300. Here's how a country artist composes:

He thinks through the words first, then picks out the music on his guitar or fiddle, and finally performs it for his tape recorder or on a disk. He jots down the words on paper to help him remember the tune.

The creators of country songs will go on composing them in their present style simply because their audiences demand them.

Triple Threat

NEW YORK (AP)—Actor Arnold Moss has a three-way assignment on the summer strawhat circuit tour of Shaw's "Back to Methuselah."

He is co-producing with the Theatre Guild, editing the lengthy opus down to conventional length, and impersonating the author. Celeste Holm is to star in the production.

GOING PLACES—Donna Reed, a comparatively new film star, had been born on an Iowa farm and had never traveled much until she was cast opposite Cornel Wilde in "Beyond Mombasa," filmed in Africa.

IN SUPREME COURT

Girard Case To Be Argued Monday

AFTER CHURCH WEDDING—The Japanese bride of Army Specialist 3/C William S. Girard clutches his arm as they stand before microphones in front of the chapel at Camp Whittington, Japan, after they were wed in a religious ceremony. Haru "Candy" Girard is wearing the gay flowered kimono with gold embroidered sash she rented for the occasion. The couple were married by Japanese law recently by the signing of formal documents.

WASHINGTON, July 6 (AP)—Both sides squared away today in preparation for Monday's crucial arguments before the Supreme Court in the case of GI William S. Girard.

Beginning shortly after noon, the court will hear four hours of argument, evenly divided between Justice Department lawyers and attorneys for the Illinois soldier facing trial on charges of shooting a Japanese woman.

The question, which has stirred deep concern in Washington and Tokyo, is whether he shall be tried in a Japanese court or in a U.S. Army court-martial.

Girard's case reached the court on an appeal by the government against a ruling in the district court here that he may not be turned over to the Japanese, and on a cross appeal by Girard's lawyers contending the district court should have ordered Girard brought back to this country.

Girard is now restricted to Camp Whittington, Japan.

The main briefs, preliminary to argument, were filed July 1.

The Justice Department maintained that Girard "has no personal immunity from prosecution by Japan for the killing of a Japanese national in Japanese territory."

Girard's lawyers argued that the district court should have ordered his outright release on a habeas corpus motion.

Today, the government replied in another brief to the Girard argument that he should be freed while the Supreme Court considers the case. This government brief said that the district court ruling had knocked out that argument. It said:

"The only illegality alleged by petitioner as to his restraint was that he was ... delivered for the purpose of being delivered over to the government of Japan.

"By enjoining petitioner's delivery, the court removed the sole aspect of the custody of which he complained."

Course Will Be Offered

A demonstration meeting has been set for 7 p.m. Tuesday for persons interested in the second Dale Carnegie course to be offered in Snyder.

The meeting will be held in the banquet room at the Hilander Drive-In.

The course, to be presented by the Southwestern Institute of Leadership Training, is designed to help develop confidence, public speaking, leadership ability, and memory.

Last year, about 32 Snyder and area residents took the course when it was offered here.

The course lasts 15 weeks. During the first few sessions of the course, members of the class will give two-minute talks on such topics as their business, profession, intersting things which have happened in their lives, hobbies, home, children, etc. Later, they will learn how to plan talks and deliver them better, instructors say.

Bedding Damaged In Cafe-Hotel Blaze

Fire damaged bedding in a combination cafe-hotel in the colored section of Snyder about 5 o'clock yesterday morning.

D. A. Porter, fire chief, said that apparently the fire caught from smoking in bed.

Waxahachie Starts Water Restrictions

WAXAHACHIE, July 6 (AP) — The City Council restricted lawn watering to ... ween 5 a.m. and 7 a.m. and prohibited car washing today except by commercial firms.

Water has been reduced to a trickle from faucets in some areas. Three wells supply the city.

MILLIONTH DOLLAR—Calvin O. Lange, right, Snyder area representative of the Standard of Texas Employees Credit Union, is shown above handing a check to Cecil T. Jordan, another Standard Oil Co. of Texas employe. The check included the millionth dollar loaned during the credit union's four and one-half years of operations. About 800 employes and members of their families are now enjoying the benefits of membership in the credit union. (Lee Watson photograph)

Cost Given For Training By Division

AUSTIN (AP) — The 36th Infantry Division says it will spend $150 per man during its annual 2-week summer encampment which begins July 7 at North Ft. Hood.

Division headquarters here said today the estimated cost of the entire field training would be $1,500,000.

The historically rich 36th begins its annual maneuvers Sunday with the biggest post war membership in history. Almost 10,000 men will take part.

Lt. Col. Thomas D. Blackwell of Austin, division quartermaster, said arrangements had been made to provide 404 tons of foods. These included such items as five tons of potatoes and 3,700 gallons of milk a day, or three pints per man.

Blackwell, who in civilian life is Travis County attorney, said the cost of feeding division personnel will amount to $155,925.

Special emphasis has been put on medical supplies in an effort to care for every injury, no matter how slight.

The medical supply assistant, Warrant Officer Charles Frazier of Austin, said division medical units will have available 7,680 yards—bandage.

The 36th also has stocked up on 6,000 yards of tape, 50 one-pound boxes of cotton, 1,000 two-ounce bottles of calamine lotion for skin rashes and 1,165 cans of foot powder.

Steps have been taken to combat an unusual number of pesky chiggers due to infest the encampment this year due to the damp weather, Frazier said. The 36th added a new item to combat the insects, sulphur. Two ounces for each man have been provided, or a total of 1,300 pounds.

Former Resident Of Snyder Dies Friday

Jimmie Sanders of Houston, former resident of Snyder, died Friday in Houston.

The 17-year-old boy was the son of Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Sanders.

Funeral services are to be held at 4 p.m. today in Houston.

Survivors include the parents and two sisters, Dickey and Jayne.

BRAKES FAIL

Car Is Hit By Truck

A new 1957 Ford car was badly damaged when a truck's parking brake failed and the truck rolled into the moving car about midnight Friday on the East Highway here.

Police officers who investigated said the truck started rolling from its parking place in front of the Phillips 66 Super Station and jack-knifed into the passing car.

Owner of the truck is James Greshon, 117 Jeanette Street, Abilene.

Police said the side of the car was caved in when the trailer-truck rammed into it.

Flying Marriage Takes Nose-Dive

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Mrs. Marion G. Williams, 29, former New York mode, filed suit for separate maintenance yesterday against the millionaire she married in an airplane flying over Iowa.

The petition, filed in nearby Olathe, Kan., alleged Edward L. (Doc) Williams inflicted violence on his wife, displayed temper and threatened to block her efforts to obtain a property settlement.

Williams, 54, is the developer of a cemetery chain. The couple was married in a 44-passenger chartered airliner on July 30, 1955, while a sky-writing plane sketched hearts and arrows close by. They have a year-old son.

Former Fluvanna Man Going Back To Pen

Albert Browning, former Fluvanna man, was in the Scurry County jail this weekend to be picked up by authorities from the State Penitentiary.

Browning had been out on parole since last September, but his parole was revoked in connection with an assault charge here.

Before he was paroled, he had served about 12 years of the 35-year sentence given him when he was convicted of murder.

Taken To Hospital

Mrs. I. H. Suiter, Ira, was taken by Bolger ambulance Friday to Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Drag Race Trophy Won By Snyderite

The trophy was awarded Chili Childress for an average time of 92 miles per hour in a 1957 Chevrolet station wagon with a modified 270-horse Corvette engine.

There were seven entries from Snyder in the races.

Plans were being made by members of the Night Hawks, local drag racing club, to have three cars going to Abilene and possibly two to Hobbs, N.M., for races today.

The bid form shall contain a statement that the prices bid are based on such wage rates.

Copies of the plans, specifications, schedule of minimum wage rates, and other contract documents are on file at the Office of the County Judge, in the Scurry County Courthouse, at Snyder, Texas, and are open for public inspection. Plans, specifications and contract documents may be examined without charge in the office of W. W. Greif & Associates at 1713 25th Street (Mailing Address: P. O. Box 784, Snyder Texas), or will be forwarded to the prospective contractors upon deposit of $35.00 per set, as a guarantee of the safe return of the plans, specifications, and contract documents. The full amount of this deposit, less the Engineer's actual reproduction cost per set, will be returned to each bidder submitting a bonafide bid immediately upon return of the plans, specifications, and contract documents. No refund will be made upon plans and specifications which are not returned within ten (10) days after the award of contract.

Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check or cashier's check for an amount equal to five per cent (5 per cent) of the total base bid.

A Performance Bond will be required of the successful bidder for an amount of not less than 100 per cent of the contract price.

Bids must be submitted on standard form of bid and the successful bidder will be required to execute the standard form of contract for construction within ten days after formal award of contract.

Right is reserved as the interest of the County of Scurry may require, to reject any and all bids, to waive any informality in bids received, and to accept or reject any items of any bid unless subject bid is qualified by specific limitation.

Envelopes containing bids must be sealed, marked and addressed as follows: Bid for clearing, grubbing, fencing, grading, drainage, paving and lighting for East-West Runway and all necessary Taxiways for the Scurry County Airport-Winston Field, to be opened the 15th day of July, 1957.

By order of the Scurry County Commissioner's Court,
Judge Edgar Taylor
June 28, 1957
