50 NOMINATED

Youth Award Banquet Set Here Tonight

Tonight is the big night for some outstanding junior and senior boys and girls of Howard County high schools.

Fifty of them, all nominated for the Zale-Herald Youth Achievement Award, will receive warm recognition as they gather, with dates and parents, at the 1968 Award banquet. The affair is to be held at the Cosden Country Club, beginning at 7:30, and a crowd of 200 is expected.

Highlight Of Banquet

Highlight of the evening will come when the announcement is made of the Award winner, a boy or girl selected by a panel of judges who spent many hours going over the qualifications of all the nominees. This young person will receive a handsome engraved trophy from Zale's, along with an engraved wrist watch.

There are to be special gifts and personally inscribed certificates for all the nominees.

The program will include a talk by Dr. John L. Shirley of Dallas, regarded as one of the country's foremost sales psychologists. He heads the Communications Institute of America, a nationally prominent firm doing consultant work in management, marketing and manpower. A winning orator while in TCU, he also has attended Northwestern and Branford in England. He has taught in colleges, lectured in a number of others, and is regarded as an expert in various human motivation areas.

Vocal Selections

Danny Johnson of Big Spring High is to give some vocal selections, accompanied by Debbie Dunlap, Debbie and Lynn Puckett will play incidental music during the dinner, and invocation and benediction are to be given by Lynn Cauley.

Judges to be introduced include Bill Easterling of Coahoma, Walter Black of Forsan, and John F. Smith, Bob Priddy, Curt Mullins, Carroll Davidson, Robert Knight, Mrs. Clyde E. Thomas Jr. and Mrs. Harrold Jones of Big Spring.

Executives Due

The Zale organization which, with The Herald, has sponsored the award program for three years, will have a number of executives here. They include William Zale, a co-founder and vice president of the company, and Ray Vess of San Antonio, a regional vice president who formerly managed the Big Spring store.

Scouts Stage Dinner

Boy Scout Troop 7 will stage its annual Mexican dinner Saturday from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. at Goliat cafeteria.

Plates are $1 each with children under eight free. Food for the occasion is prepared by mothers of the troop members, and the boys help with the waiting of tables, ushering, etc. A feature of the affair will be the Big Spring High School Dixieland band.

Tickets may be had from any member of the Downtown Lions Club, sponsor of the troop, or they may be purchased at the door Saturday evening. Net proceeds go to finance the annual summer camp for the boys.

Masonic Banquet

A past grand master of Texas Masons will be the featured speaker for a banquet Saturday sponsored by the Big Spring Commandery No. 31, Knights Templar.

He is William Green Proctor of McKinney, who holds various fraternal and civic honors. Proctor is a well known state speaker to fraternal organizations.

O. L. Nabors, dinner chairman, said that widows of Sir Knights of the Commandery will be honored guests. Past commanders are also to be recognized.

The dinner will begin at 7 p.m. at the Settles Hotel.

Aggie Muster Planned

The annual Aggie Muster, a traditional April 20 observance to honor those Texans who died at the Battle of San Jacinto and also to pay homage to departed Aggies, will be held at 7 p.m. Saturday at the Big Spring Country Club.

The speaker will be R. M. Logan, director of student financial aid for Texas A&M University. Winston Winkle is muster chairman.

Plane Down With 11

LONDON (AP) — A Royal Air Force Shackleton patrol plane slammed into a Scottish hillside in thick mist today with 11 men aboard. Four bodies were recovered and there was little hope of any survivors.

It was the fourth Shackleton crash in six months. The three earlier crashes claimed 30 men, 13 of them in a similar hillside crash in eastern Scotland in December.

FEDERAL RESERVE HIKE INTEREST RATE AGAIN

Loans To Cost More; Be Harder To Get

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans face the prospect of harder-to-get loans at higher interest rates following the second increase in little more than a month in the Federal Reserve System's discount rate.

In what it termed an attempt to beat back accelerating inflation, the Federal Reserve Board stepped harder on the economic brakes in approving effective today a discount rate of 5.5 per cent for three of its 12 banks—

New York, Philadelphia and Minneapolis. It had been five per cent.

The other nine banks are expected to follow in a move virtually sure to trigger higher interest rates on loans throughout the economy.

A nationwide AP survey showed meanwhile that interest rates on home mortgages are nearing eight per cent already in some sections and the cost of an average home has climbed about $2,500 since 1966. The new rate is the highest since just before the 1929 stock market crash when it went to 6 per cent.

One government source said the boost from five per cent was not unexpected in view of congressional inaction on President Johnson's request for the 10 per cent income tax surcharge, pushed by the administration as an anti-inflation weapon.

A boost in the discount rate from 4.5 to five per cent in mid-March was designed to stem inflation and cope with the gold crisis which reached its peak at that point.

The board cited spiraling inflation and a desire to strengthen the dollar abroad in announcing its action and at the same time approving higher interest rates — up to 6.25 per cent — which banks may pay to attract more savings through certi-rates of deposit of $100,000 or more.

The second move will enable commercial banks to compete more effectively for savings with high interest rates elsewhere in the economy—on corporate bonds, for example.

Other interest rates paid by banks remain unchanged including the five per cent maximum on passbook savings accounts and the five per cent maximum on certificates of deposit of less than $100,000.

The discount rate is the charge commercial banks must pay when they borrow money from the Federal Reserve. Other interest rates are pegged upward from it.

Earlier this week the Commerce Department reported the sharpest dollar increase ever in the economy during the first quarter of this year—$20 billion—and listed the inflation rate at an unacceptable four per cent.

SERVICE NEAR NORMAL

Cables Cut In Phone Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The A.F.L.-C.I.O. Communications Workers said their biggest telephone strike in 21 years was 90 per cent effective today in most areas of the nation, but telephone service remained near normal.

Many of the strikers marched in picket lines in sunny spring weather, singing songs and in some cases joking with management officials who trooped into telephone exchanges to take over their jobs.

The strike had a minimal effect on the Bell System's nationwide direct dialing network, but the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. said service was disrupted in several areas when cables were cut.

Ohio Bell Telephone Company said the FBI had been asked to investigate one cable cutting that affected the service to a Federal Aviation Agency control center in Oberlin, Ohio. Damage to cables was reported also in Indiana and Florida.

and trouble of undetermined origin developed in a cable in Seattle, Wash.

Operators, repairmen, line men, clerks and other employees of Bell System companies have gone on strike in 15 states and the District of Columbia.

Picket lines set up by the union's 23,000 telephone installers, members, who worked nationwide for the Western Electric Co., spread the strike into a total of some 40 states.

Joseph A. Beirne, the union's president, urged the 500,000 employees not yet on strike to observe the installers' picket lines in support of the union's wage demands.

The strike, which began in most areas Thursday afternoon, was the first nationwide telephone walkout since a 44-day strike in 1947.

The telephone strike in progress in sections of the country is apparently not affecting service in Big Spring.

At noon today, there were no pickets and business was functioning as usual. Harry Sawyer, manager of the company, reported from Midland that Western Electric Co., the manufacturing and installation arm of the Bell system, was on strike, but there were no Western Electric employees here, and the local telephone contract is in full effect.

BLAMES U.S. FOR DELAY IN TALKS

N. Viet Rejects 10 Sites

TOKYO (AP) — North Vietnam in effect rejected today the latest U.S. proposal on the site of preliminary peace talks on Vietnam. It described the proposal listing 10 countries as "tortuous maneuvers" to delay contacts.

Hanoi's official Vietnam News Agency said a spokesman of the North Vietnamese Foreign Ministry issued a statement on the U.S. proposal set forth by Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

VNA quoted the spokesman as saying: "Within three weeks only, the United States, which at first did not set any conditions with regard to the choice of a site for talks, have come to pile up extremely absurd and insolent conditions."

Moreover, the 10 places advanced by Mr. Dean Rusk fail to meet even the conditions posed by it.

The spokesman added: "The United States demands the choice of a site where the two parties have representations, but in the places advanced by Mr. Dean Rusk there are only U.S. embassies."

"The United States demands the choice of a neutral country, but many of the countries proposed by Mr. Dean Rusk are not neutral. Some are support bases for the U.S. war of aggression in Vietnam."

Although the new U.S. proposal raised to 15 the number of nations it lists as acceptable locations for such talks, diplomatic sources in Washington were betting that Paris—not included in the newly padded total—would eventually be agreed on by both countries.

These diplomats, including some from nations allied with the United States in the war, reasoned that since neither Washington nor Hanoi has mentioned Paris as a possible site its compromise selection would result in neither side losing face.

Rusk called Thursday on Hanoi to give a "serious and responsive answer" to the U.S. proposals for preliminary talks on peace negotiations.

Noting the United States had already proposed Laos, Burma, Indonesia and India, Rusk added six more Asian locations—Ceylon, Japan, Afghanistan, Pakistan, Nepal and Malaysia.

In Europe, he named the capitals of Italy, Belgium, Finland, and Austria in addition to the previously discussed Geneva, Switzerland.

Fifth Victim Of Massacre Dies, 'Cowboy' Is Sought

DEL RIO, Tex. (AP) — The fifth member of a Mexican family died Thursday night as Texas Rangers pressed a nationwide hunt for the mass slayer, said to be a sandy-haired man with a fondness for cowboy attire.

Leticia Arellano, 2½, died shortly after dark in a Sonora hospital. She had been shot between the eyes.

FOUND DEAD

Her parents, infant brother and aunt—all from Villa de Fuente, Mexico—were found dead along a West Texas highway Wednesday morning.

A sixth member of the family, Manuel Arellano Jr., about 4, remained in grave condition at a San Antonio hospital. Doctors have performed brain surgery on the boy twice in an attempt to save his life. He suffers beating and gunshot wounds.

Found along US 277 in brush country between Del Rio and Sonora were the bodies of the other four: Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Arellano Sr., Arellano's sister, Rosa Elia Santos Arellano, 21, and the child, Eduardo, 18 months.

Texas Ranger A. Y. Allee Jr., of Ozona, in charge of the investigation, said late Thursday afternoon: "We're kind of at a standstill."

Earlier in the day, Rangers issued a nationwide alert for a white man about 6 feet or 6 feet 2, weighing about 200 pounds, 30 to 35 years old, with light eyebrows, sandy hair and pockmarks on his neck.

Witnesses told officers they saw a man of this description with the Arellano family Tuesday night in his pickup truck not far from where the bodies were found.

WESTERN

They said the man was wearing a western style straw hat, cowboy boots with an eagle design, and blue jeans. He was said to be driving a white-over-green or white-over-blue Chevrolet pickup truck.

The Arellano family was en route from Mexico to visit a relative hospitalized in San Angelo. They had a flat tire between Del Rio and Sonora, and apparently got linked up with the killer as they sought assistance.

Raymond Garza, a candidate for sheriff in Zavala County and the brother-in-law of mass murderer victim Manuel Arellano, says he doubts robbery was the motive for the five slayings.

Garza said Arellano was drawing unemployment compensation of some $56 a week.

Garza said he hoped to go to San Antonio today to visit Manuel Arellano Jr., 5, lone survivor of the massacre. The boy is in grave condition there at Santa Rosa Medical Center.

Second Bus Crash Kills 1

SAN ANGELO (AP) — The second bus-grain truck collision in two nights in the San Angelo area killed one man and injured 19, none believed seriously.

The latest accident happened Thursday during a rainstorm 10 miles north of this West Central Texas city on US 87.

The Continental Trailways bus, bound for Los Angeles, carried about 25 persons.

Killed was Louis Pfeil, about 45, of Fredericksburg, driver of the truck.

Posters Going Out In Search For Galt

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The nation's police agencies intensified a nationwide search today for Eric Starvo Galt, the elusive fugitive sought in the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

POSTERS

They were aided by thousands of wanted posters, just gaining wide distribution two days after the FBI publicly identified Galt, 36, as the man it had sought secretly since a week after the April 4 slaying.

The FBI refused comment on queries about whether it believes Galt is the man's real name or was simply a cover built painstakingly over a number of months by the beer-drinking lover of hillbilly music.

Two aliases—John Willard and Harvey Lowmyer—were listed on the federal conspiracy warrant issued against Galt in Birmingham, Ala., Wednesday afternoon and the first degree murder warrant issued by the state against him here Wednesday night.

"John Willard" was the name used by the man who checked into a Main Street rooming house three hours before King was shot as he stood on the balcony of a motel here. There has been no reference to the second alias.

The federal agency denied a report that it had taken into custody the man it said Galt described as his brother and that the brother was aiding in the search. The federal warrant, issued Wednesday, claimed that Galt and the brother entered into a conspiracy March 29 to violate King's civil rights.

17 SCHOOL CHAMPS TO COMPETE

Spelling Bee Slated Saturday

By SAM BLACKBURN

The Daily Herald's Sixth Annual Howard County Spelling Bee will be staged at 10 a.m. Saturday in the Big Spring High School Cafeteria. The public is invited.

Seventeen youngsters, who have won the championships of as many elementary and junior high schools, will compete. The winner Saturday gets a chance to compete in the Regional Spelling Bee at Lubbock May 4 —with the possibility of an all-expense trip to Washington, D.C. and a chance at the National Spelling Bee title as his top reward.

SPELLERS

The young spellers, who will try for the county title tomorrow, are the survivors of 1,000 boys and girls in the 17 schools who entered the competition in late February.

Last year's county champion is in the lists trying for his second championship. He is David Robertson, who won the right to seek return as county champion, by winning for the second year the championship of his own school — Goliat Junior High School.

Pronouncer for Saturday's bee is Mrs. O. T. Brewster, who is an instructor on the Big Spring High School staff. She has served in the same capacity at the county bees of 1966 and 1967.

Judges are John Burgess, attorney; Jack Worsham, savings association executive; and Mrs. Thomas A. McMichen, leader in the Mothers Club of the Immaculate Heart of Mary School.

Lee Porter, county judge and ex-officio county school superintendent, has been asked to serve as moderator.

The champions and alternates of 17 Howard County schools are to be presented with special Paper Mate pens at the outset of the county bee. The school champions will also receive blue ribbons as mementos of their achievement.

A special plaque, which will be engraved with the name of the winner of the county bee, goes to the champion. He retains permanent possession of this plaque. He and his family will be provided with an all-expense paid trip to Lubbock May 4 and a chance at the Regional Spelling Bee title.

The champions, and their schools, taking part in Saturday's spelling bee, are:

Airport—Stanley Cook, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wright, 1506 Robin.

Bauer — Debra Warren, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Warren, 206 NE 10th.

Boydston — Beth Phillips, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Phillips, 501 Donley.

Cedar Crest — Brenda Tynes, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Tynes, 900 Lancaster.

College Heights—Julia Evans, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Robert Evans, 1605 Lexington.

Kentwood—Ronnie Maines, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Billie Maines, 2501 Central.

Lakeview — Denis Way, 10, daughter of Mrs. Jessye Way Myles, 804 Pine.

Marcy — Mark Robertson, 12, son of Capt. and Mrs. John H. Robertson, 4006 Dixon.

Moss — Carrie Wheeler, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Wheeler, 3307 Drexel.

Park Hill — Paul Talbot, 11, son of Dr. and Mrs. M. W. Talbot Jr., 1508 Dayton.

Washington Place — Joy Linn Murphy, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Murphy, 2304 Marcy.

Gay Hill — Roxie Ann McDaniel, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. McDaniel, Gail Rt.

Forsan Junior High School — Kay Walraven, 14, daughter of Mrs. Norma Liles, 4012 Vicky.

Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic School — Cathy Sneed, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Sneed, 3914 Parkway.

St. Mary's Episcopal School — Hugh Florence, 10, son of Mrs. Jean Florence, Sterling City Rt.

Goliat Junior High School — David Robertson, 13, son of Capt. and Mrs. J. H. Robertson, 4006 Dixon.

Runnels Junior High School — Greg Parnell, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Parnell, 3203 Cornell.

DESPITE HIGHER INTEREST RATES Home Building Spurt Looms

NEW YORK (AP) — Most bankers and home builders expect 1968 to be a good year despite rising interest rates and higher building costs, a nationwide survey shows.

Industry spokesmen gave their views in an Associated Press survey concerning the industry's prospects.

Most of them expect 1968 to be better than 1967 but not without its problems. Some were less than enthusiastic.

TIGHT MONEY
It's the availability of mortgage money and its costs that overhangs the housing industry — and the would-be home buyer.

In Tallahassee, Fla., builder Al Albert, said the situation "in one word is rotten." Prices and money conditions have forced him out of the mass-produced home market he said.

"It seems money is getting tighter each week," said Sam Teague of the Leon Federal Savings and Loan Association in Tallahassee.

"The worst year in our history was 1966," Teague said, "and 1967 was good but it looks like 1968 is going to be about like 1966."

In Detroit, builders are apprehensive about labor costs after current contracts expire May 1. "Undoubtedly home prices will go up," said William E. Stewart, secretary of the Detroit Association of General Contractors. "It's a very grim picture."

LOOKS GOOD
But to most of the industry the year looks good.

The Federal Reserve boosted its discount rate one-half percent in a money-tightening move at the height of the nation's gold loss crisis March 14. This increase in the lending rate the Federal Reserve charges member banks usually shows up in the individual banks' lending rates. The discount rate was raised again Thursday after the survey was completed.

PEACE BOOM
Some industry spokesmen say peace in Vietnam would spark a building boom and loosen up mortgage money. "If peace is effected in Vietnam, look for a fantastic land boom in Southern California," says Sanford R. Goodkin, a Los Angeles real estate consultant.

John M. Wetmore, research director of the Mortgage Bankers Association of America in Washington, said peace would ease government military spending, lifting some heavy money-raising chores from the nation's capital markets and make more mortgage money available.

'Mutual Assistance Pact' To Battle Riots 'Bombed'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Inertia apparently has killed any chance for a proposed "mutual assistance pact" which would allow states to send their National Guard units to help other states cope with any riots this summer.

Some key officials say they believe the idea, advanced at a governor's conference last fall, will never get off the ground.

NO ACTION STATES
"The thing seems to have bombed," said one Pentagon official, who spoke of legal questions along with lack of action in state legislatures and Congress.

As things stand now, states have no legal basis for sending their National Guard troops outside their own borders. In the backwash of the Newark and Detroit riots, the National Governors Conference last October endorsed the draft of a model National Guard mutual assistance pact.

A Washington staff member of the National Governors Conference said the proposed pact envisioned that the governor of a state with a civil disturbance problem bigger than it could handle alone could request the governor of another state to send aiding forces to help out.

Assuming forces were sent, the proposed compact provided such features as insurance protection of National Guardsmen assigned to riot duty in a state other than the one in which he was enrolled.

The National Governors Conference took the position this kind of a compact would require congressional consent.

LEGAL BLOCKS
The draft was introduced in several state legislatures but conference staff members said that so far as they know only Virginia has enacted the necessary bill.

Meanwhile, the sources said that no consent legislation has yet been introduced in Congress.

Some federal lawyers say there are legal complications over the question of command of guard forces sent across state lines unless they are in federal service. The proposed mutual aid pact would not apply to federalized National Guardsmen, considered U.S. troops.

Wallace Faces Ballot Battle

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A hearing was scheduled today that could have a bearing on whether former Alabama Gov. George Wallace can run for president on a third party ticket in Oklahoma this year.

Secretary of State John Rogers heard protests over placing Wallace and his American Party on the ballot.

Wallace was invited to attend the hearing but there was no indication from his Montgomery, Ala., campaign headquarters that he would do so.

Rep. Archibald Hill and Harley Venters, a lawyer, have protested putting Wallace on the ballot.

Hill suggested that Wallace be subpoenaed, but Rogers said he did not have the authority.

Rogers said Thursday he wants to give Wallace a "fair and open trial." He added that Wallace could best defend himself by appearing at the 9 a.m. hearing.

Parents Of Barnard College Coed Quizzed

NEW YORK (AP) — The president of Barnard College has asked the parents of Linda LeClair, who broke college rules to live off campus with her boyfriend, whether they consider their daughter "an emancipated minor legally or in fact."

In a letter to the 20-year-old sophomore, Martha Peterson, the president, also asked that Linda's parents state "their position in the position in the responsibilities they carry for you and what they expect of the college."

MILDLY HOSTILE
Linda, who received the letter Thursday, said, "I didn't expect her to come up with all these questions. I didn't think that she would have such petty questions. I interpreted the tone of the letter as mildly hostile."

She said she has not attended classes for three weeks because of the controversy since the discovery that she and Peter Behr, 20, were living together in a $100-a-month apartment.

A student-faculty committee recommended Wednesday that Linda lose several campus privileges but not be expelled for her admitted violation of housing rules. The final disposition rests with Miss Peterson.

Linda, who comes from Hudson, N.H., said that despite dropping classes she has not formally left school.

Behr has said he was dropping out of Columbia where he is a junior. He told newsmen he faces a possible prison term for turning in his draft card last year.

Settle Up With Uncle

DEAR ABBY: I haven't been able to sleep very well lately. You see, I cheated a little on my income tax. (Deductions.)

DEAR ABBY: Send the internal revenue department a check for $100. And if you still can't sleep, send the balance.

DEAR ABBY: I just finished crying my eyes out over something that is not my fault. A very nice boy from school started dating me and I was on cloud nine. I was never popular, and he was like an answer to my prayers.

Well, he just called me up and told me he couldn't date me anymore because his parents have forbidden him to. The reason was they heard that my older sister had a baby out of wedlock. (She did, but Abby, I have never done one thing out of the way, so why should I have to suffer for something my sister did?) I have even had girl friends tell me they couldn't go around with me anymore because of my sister's reputation.

I am not like my sister, and don't see why people should hold this against me. How can I prove that I am a "nice" girl when I have this against me?

"MARKED" IN SCRANTON
DEAR MARKED: Don't try to "prove" anything. People who are not willing to judge you on your own record are not worth having as friends.

DEAR ABBY: Some new neighbors moved into our area, and we share a two-party line. Abby, this woman speaks as English as I, because I have heard her, but when she talks on the phone she always speaks a foreign language. I consider this an insult to me. What do you think of a neighbor like this?

BURNED UP
DEAR BURNED: She's smart. She speaks a foreign language because she suspects that someone may be listening. And she is obviously right.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to say something to "A FATHER," who thinks children ought to be fed first so he and his wife can have a nice quiet dinner after he had put in a hard day's work.

Who, may I ask, is going to prepare two meals — one for the children and another one, later, for the Lord and Master? The cook? Sorry, we don't have one.

And who is going to look after the children while father and mother are enjoying their peaceful meal without children fighting and screaming? The nursemaid? Sorry, we don't have one of those either. Besides, if the kids are by themselves, Mother will probably have to get up and referee.

Separate meals may work in somebody else's house, but not in ours. We all eat together. It's not always quiet and peaceful, but somehow we'll manage to live through it.

Says Texas Needs Execs To Cash In On Industry

Texas is the next large area of the nation for major industrial development, and it must immediately set about preparing executive leadership to cash in on the potential.

This was the message brought to a group of Big Spring leaders Thursday by Dr. George Kozmetsky, dean of the College of Business Administration, University of Texas.

Dr. Kozmetsky said he has a goal of making the graduate school of business at the University one of the top five in the nation, and a part of this development is to bring new concepts of instruction to various areas of the state.

TRAINING LAB
Under a grant by the Abell-Hanger Foundation of Midland, he is surveying the possibility of establishing a kind of graduate training laboratory in the Odessa - Midland - Big Spring area, a section which he regards as having great potential in business and industrial leadership.

A part of the training program, he said, would be to develop the entrepreneur who finds a product, manages a way to manufacture it and goes for his market. Dr. Kozmetsky, who pointed to numerous successes in the "home-grown" type of enterprise, said the West Texas cities can do the same.

The educator, who has been at many top universities over the nation and associated with large industrial firms, said he chose to come to Texas because of its future possibilities and also because "the young people of Texas have a stability not to be found elsewhere."

Smokey The Bear Gains Go Signal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Smokey the Bear, given a resounding vote of confidence by the public and his sponsors, starts his 24th year today of telling the people: "Only YOU can prevent forest fires."

Sponsors gave him the go-ahead Thursday after disclosing his efforts to stop man-made fires.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Friday, April 19, 1968 3-A showed 90 per cent of all adults and nearly all school age children are fully acquainted with his efforts to stop man-made fires.

The fire-fighting bear and his campaign are sponsored by the U.S. Forest Service, the National Association of State Foresters and the Advertising Council.

Few Democratic Candidates Already Ring Victory Bell

By The Associated Press
The victory bell already is being rung by some Democratic candidates for governor of Texas.

In Thursday's round of campaigning, Waggoner Carr said it appeared that he and Don Yarborough were headed for a runoff.

Eugene Locke said all indications point to Locke being in the runoff.

PRIMARY WIN?

And Yarborough declared, "everyone has been talking about a runoff election, but every day I find new signs that indicate I can win in the first primary."

That first primary is two weeks and one day away—May 4.

Speaking in Stephenville, Yarborough said, "The momentum of my campaign is growing at such a rapid rate that I will decide within the next few days whether or not to shoot for all out victory in the first primary."

At the same time in Victoria, Carr said he thinks it is time that he and Yarborough started drawing the line between us. The voters would like to see us on the same program so they can hear us and judge which will make the best governor."

Meanwhile, the other Democratic candidates for governor pounded away at one theme or another.

In a speech at the University of Houston, John Hill said that junior colleges are a vital supplement to four-year colleges.

Edward Whittenburg questioned the constitutionality of a state law calling for members of the State Board of Education to be selected from the 21 congressional districts that existed in 1949.

POVERTY CORPS

Since that bill was passed, he said, there has been congressional redistricting and the number of districts increased to 22.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith said in Dallas he would do "everything I can to block the nomination of Sen. Robert Kennedy as the Democratic nominee for president."

Smith then urged statewide support for Gov. John Connally as a favorite son candidate for president.

Yarborough also said in a speech at St. Mary's University in San Antonio that if elected governor he will set up a state poverty corps, improve bilingual education, establish a crime prevention academy for police, lower auto insurance rates, raise teachers' salaries, insure academic freedom and lower the voting age to 18.

Dr. Kozmetsky thought that top educators could be brought to the West Texas area at convenient schedules, to offer graduate courses to the interested business leaders in their own towns.

He had spent some time inspecting industrial and educational organizations in Midland and Odessa, and also toured the industrial, business and educational facilities in Big Spring.

Rep. Gonzalez Rips Funds Ax

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez, D-Tex., says he wants to call a meeting of some 150 congressmen from impacted areas in an effort to get restored the $91 million slashed by the House from the appropriation for impacted area school districts.

Gonzalez said he hopes to overcome the 10-vote deficit by which the House turned down restoration of the funds.

An impacted area is one like Gonzalez' home town of San Antonio, which has a large proportion of military personnel and government employees in its population.

Gonzalez said Thursday he had outlined his plans for a meeting in letters sent to some 150 other congressmen from impacted areas. He said he hoped to hold the meeting next week "in order to have, for the first time a collective effort to combat the House conference leaders' biased and prejudiced attitude" toward the program.

The $91 million was in the bill as passed by the Senate.

'Mystery Box' Like, Man, Wow

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — U.S. Navy frogmen solved the case of the "mystery box" to the tune of Mexican bands. Bathers below the border at Tijuana reported discovery of a big box covered with sand and Mexican newspapers voiced concern over possible radio activity from what they called the "mystery box." But authorities couldn't find any such object.

After two days of searching, the frogmen found a five-foot gasoline storage tank and as they searched "at least 1,000 Mexicans gathered on the bluff above the beach. They even brought bands," a Navy spokesman said.

Attend Convention

Rev. Robert Knutson, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, and a member of his congregation, Thomas Campbell, are to attend the seventh convention of the Texas - Louisiana Synod of the Lutheran Church in America beginning Sunday at Victoria's Trinity Lutheran Church.

Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, president of the LCA, will address the convention Tuesday and Wednesday. Two congregations, at Greenville and Humble, will be received into the synod at the convention.

An oft quoted text book dictum states that when the declarer requires a specific distribution of the outstanding cards in order to fulfill his contract, he should proceed on the assumption that such a distribution actually exists.

East had an opportunity to adapt this strategem to the opposite side of the table in defending against South's three no trump contract. Had he taken time to analyze the situation, his proper course of action would have become obvious.

West opened the seven of hearts and the queen was played from dummy which held the trick. A small diamond was led, covered by East's ten and declarer's queen. The four was returned and ducked around to East. The latter was obliged to win the trick with the ace of diamonds.

A heart was returned to dummy's ace, the king of diamonds was cashed picking up the jack, and South promptly ran for cover with 11 tricks—Five diamonds and two in each of the other suits.

East missed an opportunity to score an upset when he permitted his opponent to sneak an early diamond trick thru and then clear the suit on the next lead. If East puts up the ace of diamonds on the first round, and then returns a heart to remove North's side entry while South still has the queen of diamonds, the latter will be unable to run the diamonds because the suit is blocked.

East should have realized that declarer was not apt to lead a small diamond from dummy unless he held the queen, and inasmuch as East's ace must fall on the second round in any case—there was little to gain by withholding that card. In fact, unless South holds specifically the queen-small of diamonds, the defense might just as well abandon hope.

A Devotional For The Day

The men said to them (the women): "Why are you looking among the dead for one who is alive? He is not here; he has risen." (Luke 24:5-6, TEV)

PRAYER: Our Father, our hearts rejoice in Thee. Each day may we remember that we serve a risen Lord. May this impel us to tell the good news of the loving, living Savior to others. In Christ's name we pray. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Boredom

The House Commerce Committee, studying drug control legislation, probably did not take witness Dr. Donald B. Louria too seriously when he said the rising student interest in 1968 presidential politics may ease the marijuana-LSD problem among American youth. But he has a point.

Youth seeks involvement and commitment to constructive and worthwhile causes. Until recently, youth saw little hope for a hearing, much less an impact, within regular political processes. They were not just frustrated by, but bored with, party politics.

That boredom was stacked on other boredoms — easy affluence, regimented education, structured corporate careers, unenriching leisure time. The excitement of presidential politics, if youths involvement and commitment are attracted, just might lessen boredom and resulting harmful escapisms such as drug use, dropouts and hippies.

If the collegiate community has thought, as once did Byron, that "Society is now one polished horde, formed by two mighty tribes, the Bored and Bored," a collective change of mind could have noticeable effect. It should be recalled that the internationally famed sociologist, Dr. Robert A. Nisbet of the University of California (Riverside), has argued that plain boredom is one of the most underrated social forces in the history of man.

When an end to the Vietnam war allows renewed effort toward building a great society, combatting boredom is an aim that should have far more enlightened attention. Meanwhile, a truly exciting election year could help both to cool the coming summer and turn youth away from self-damaging and anti-social escapism.

The Basic Issue

One of the referenda on the May 4 primary ballots has to do with a proposal to legalize pari-mutuel betting on horse racing in Texas.

Reduced to its basics, the proposal is simply whether to sanction gambling.

Whether it encourages horse breeding, promotes tourism, increases tax revenues is not at the heart of the matter. The weight of testimony on each of these points is debatable, and sometimes it is against these supporting theses.

Horse racing is legal in Texas now, but betting on horse races is not. So the recreational and sport angle can be discounted, for races for the sheer enjoyment would hardly draw enough to support the interest on the investment.

Gambling on the races is necessary to sustain such ventures. Then it stands to reason that a fair percentage comes out of the take for this purpose, plus a profit on the investment. So the simple mathematics of the situation show that in the main there is no such thing as winning—the odds have to be such as to support the facility.

Now the plain truth is that gambling is a non-productive enterprise, if not a parasitical one. It consumes far more than it contributes, and experience elsewhere is that its side effects on the general economy and on social problems is eroding. Thus, even leaving out a very strong moral argument, we feel that the overwhelming logic of the situation warrants a "no" vote on this issue May 4.

Monetary Issues Must Be Faced

WASHINGTON — The cherry blossoms and the other splendid flowering in streets and parks have come and largely gone as the days tick off with summer not too distant. Members of Congress are back home campaigning or taking a brief vacation from the trial and indecision of the past three months.

THE TIME machine ticking away measures the days, weeks, months left in which to reach fundamental decisions in dispute between the executive branch and the legislative branch of this government of divided powers. The outsiders most immediately and directly concerned — America's allies in Europe, the central bankers who hold large amounts of American dollars — see it as not less than a test of the system itself.

THE DRAMA that accompanied the grave disorders following the assassination of Martin Luther King Jr. puts the American dilemma in an unrelieved light. As seen from the White House the uprising in city after city meant just one thing to the President — he must go to Congress to ask for the billions of dollars needed to rebuild the ghettos and begin the long process of bringing simple justice to the Negro minority. That meant more taxes. On the Friday night that smoke and flames billowed over Washington, Chicago and other cities the President got Chairman Wilbur Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee on the phone.

"WILBUR," he is reported to have said, "thirty cities are burning. I've got to come up there and ask Congress to rescind every cut we've made and then get some more money."

"I wouldn't do that if I were you, Mr. President," Mills replied. "You won't get it and your position will be worse if you fail, as you will."

THAT BLUNT exchange along with similar advice from other members of Congress convinced the President it would be useless to go up to the Capitol as had been announced, for a broad appeal for funds. Yet what to do, the overwhelming question, still looms large.

If as a minimum Congress has not approved by mid-September or earlier the 10 per cent surtax the administration is asking, a new dollar crisis will erupt.

Mills is holding out for substantial budgetary cuts to reduce the deficit. To all who beseech him for action he points to the $22.3 billion unspent in the hands of the government departments. Until that huge carry-over is reduced by economies not yet in sight, he foresees no action on a tax bill.

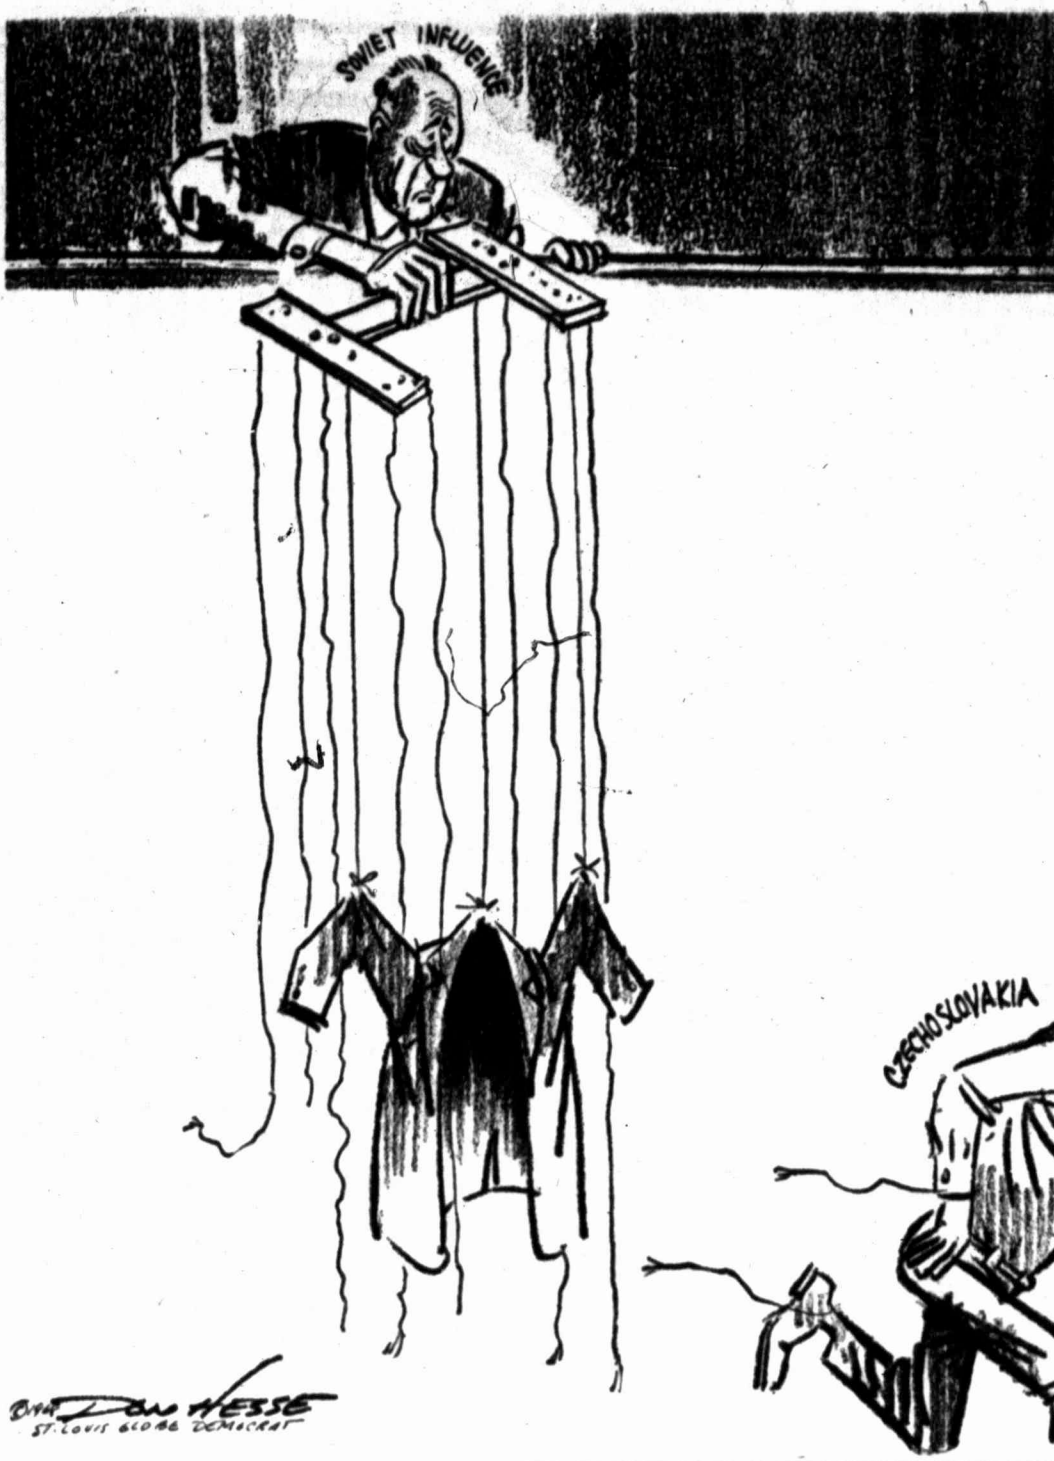

A CLOSE partner is Chairman George Mahon of the House Appropriations Committee. They hope to put together a package of economy plus a tax increase that will get the support of the conservatives, Southern Democrats and Republicans, with enough administration loyalists to insure its passage.

ONE REASON is the deep division in Congress over taxes versus full employment in a free economy. Ranking Democrats on the Joint Economic Committee, including the chairman, Sen. William Proxmire, oppose a tax increase. They believe it would slow economic growth. They see it as a device by the fishy-eyed central bankers to make the United States pay the penalty for failure of a monetary system long since outgrown. Unhappily for this reasoning, the fishy-eyed central bankers make the rules that govern the money exchange system. And if fragile confidence in the dollar goes up in smoke America's economy would not be immune from the consequences.

Lottery Might Cure Absenteeism

NEW YORK (AP) — American business firms spend millions of dollars each year hiring efficiency experts to make their offices run more smoothly and productively.

These so-called experts make complicated time and motion studies and diagrams on how the office can be laid out, ideally, to get the work done better and more quickly.

IN MANY cases it's all a big laugh to the white collar peons involved, and a waste of the management's own time and motion. For the efficiency experts overlook the key factor—the people involved.

"You can't make people work harder just by moving them around like they were pieces in a jigsaw puzzle," remarked a friend of mine, Jim Dodder. "For half what an efficiency expert charges, I could tell my boss exactly how to double our office output."

As Jim has soldiered successfully for 30 years on the same job, his opinion seemed worth listening to.

"By trickery and paying attention to the human factor," he said.

"WELL, TO start with, I'd forget all about those time and motion studies. In any office, the staff is divided into two groups—those who talk about their work, and those who actually do the work."

The first step to take is to move the desks of the talkers into one corner of the room, and the real workers into another corner. That would keep the drones from annoying them. "Anything else, Jim?"

"Sure. Lots more. Most of the time wasted in an office is wasted at the beginning and end of the day and during coffee breaks. The ordinary office is supposed to operate between 9 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. That's a joke. Most employees don't limp in until 9:15 and after 5:15 they don't do anything but go to the powder room or watch the clock."

"THE WAY to beat that is to have the morning coffee break start promptly at 9 a.m. with a free cup of java on every employee's desk. You start the afternoon break at 5:15 on the dot by distributing to each desk another free cup of coffee or martini—as the employee desires."

"What about employee morale, how to improve that?"

"Certainly," said Jim. "Most bosses think the hired hands spend most of the day griping about the low pay. That's not really true. Most employees know they are never going to get rich working in an office—or they are out of their pea-shell minds if they don't."

"WHAT REALLY drives them off their rockers is the fact that the washroom is always running out of towels, the pencil sharpeners are too dull, the water coolers are usually out of order and there are too few meatballs in the spaghetti served in the company lunchroom."

"Any personnel director could keep a happy shop if he himself did nothing but carry towels to the washroom, sharpen the pencil sharpeners once a month, check the water coolers twice a day and see there are enough meatballs in the spaghetti."

"THE CURSE of industry seems to be one-day absenteeism, particularly on Mondays and Fridays. How would you cure that, Jim?"

"That's simple—by appealing to human greed," replied Jim. "By holding a lottery each Monday and Friday morning among all the workers who were present, and giving a $100 prize to the winner. No guy would stay home with a hangover or try to add another day to his weekend if he had a chance to win $100."

Foreigners Eye U.S. Election

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foreigners appear more interested in this year's U.S. presidential election than in any in many years.

Their interest is registered on a reliable barometer: the increasing number of applications from foreign newspapers, other publications and radio and television stations for credentials to cover the Republican and Democratic conventions in August.

WORLDWIDE concern over the Vietnam war undoubtedly explains much of the eagerness to know not only who the contenders for the presidency will be, but where they stand on U.S. policy in Southeast Asia and what—if anything—new the party platforms will have to say on the subject.

In several other respects, however, U.S. foreign policy, which continued with little basic change through all the early cold war years even though the national administration switched from Democratic to Republican and back again, now has moved into a period of reappraisal and decision. America's traditional trading partners and diplomatic associates in Europe, and the developing countries as well, have great stakes in any departures from past ways that may develop.

IF THERE is to be—somehow—a disengagement from Vietnam, they may well be asking themselves: Does this mean the United States will devote less energy and resources to world problems? Does it mean more U.S. attention will be directed to the internal needs dramatized most recently by the violence in urban slums after Dr. Martin Luther King's assassination?

Past and present recipients of foreign aid obviously wonder whether that program, already substantially tapered off, is to dwindle away.

(By Edmund LeBlanc, for James Marlow, who is ill.)

Around The Rim

Now About That Dish

There's a rumor (which I'm starting right here) that Republican officials are preparing cards to hand convention delegates saying:

"Smoke filled rooms may be hazardous to your candidate."

Sen. Dodd is least likely ever to have a dam named after him.

ANATOMY OF a murder: I turned past a western movie on television the other night just in time to hear a cowpoke say:

"He was shot in the get-away and died a few days later."

Dear Paste-Pot-Man: I have pains in my lumbar region. Could you tell me what it is? BOBBY Termites, probably.

GO AHEAD—laugh. They laughed at Eli Whitney, but he went right ahead and invented gin.

Three married couples were ordering dinner at an Italian restaurant. One husband turned to his wife and asked:

"Honey, how do you pronounce that Italian dish I'm so crazy about?"

"You pronounce it just like it's spelled," she replied, "Gina Lolobrigida."

THE BRIDE asked the marriage counselor, "Isn't there some way I can keep my husband in line?"

"Young lady," he replied, "your husband shouldn't have to stand in line."

SINCE I HAVE admitted I talk to dogs as I walk through our neighborhood or to town, I suppose I might as well admit I talk to birds and cats too. At least this makes me a consistent nut.

But only dog-talk has been very successful so far. It could mean we are more alike, that birds and cats are harder to reach, or that they are smarter than I am. It makes no difference to me. I'm content with the dogs.

THE DOGS seem to be satisfied with my attempts at friendliness and soon knock off their complaints (i.e., barking).

If you want to try it yourself, each time a dog barks, I say gently, "You're right."

A dog which says roughly, "Roof-roof-roof-roof" in quick cadence is hard to talk to and it takes a little patience.

But eventually he (or she)—I'm impartial since my motives are platonic—will pause, listen and then subside.

YOU MAY HAVE to go through the same procedure two or three times before the dog is convinced you are a valued friend.

Incidentally, the same method is very successful with people, too.

Friction In The Campaign

WASHINGTON — It looks more like a messy campaign year, with plenty of friction and bitterness inside each political party. Superficiality and expediency are the two characteristics noted thus far in the public utterances of candidates and would-be candidates. The tendency seems to be to say what's thought to be popular rather than to spell out the truth about our international situation and, indeed, of many of the critical problems on the home front.

ON THE Democratic side, Sens. Robert Kennedy and Eugene McCarthy are spending their time downgrading the Johnson administration. As for the Republicans, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller has not yet expressed himself on Vietnam, and former Vice President Richard Nixon declares that international issues should not be dealt with in a partisan way. So the public at the moment doesn't know what would happen to American foreign policy if any of the persons prominent in the contests for the Democratic and Republican nominations for the presidency should be elected to take over the duties of the chief executive.

EVEN ON other issues facing the country, there are no carefully defined statements from the Democratic aspirants which would give the voter an idea of what might be expected on the domestic side for business, for labor, for economic expansion and, most important of all, to assure a balanced budget and the soundness of the dollar.

The Democrats are, of course, confronted with an unusual situation created by President Johnson's announcement that he will not accept nomination for another term. This has produced a state of political chaos inside the party. Sen. Kennedy moved promptly to put his candidacy into high gear. While the latest Gallup Poll shows he is leading Vice President Hubert Humphrey by a few points and Sen. McCarthy by a decisive margin, the fact is that there is no administration candidate as yet.

MR. HUMPHREY has been taking his time about making an announcement but obviously wants to run. He is expected to assume the role of defender of the administration's policies against Republican attack. As of now, however, President Johnson hasn't come out in support of Mr. Humphrey as the party candidate. This is explained as a hesitancy on the part of the President to become involved in the pre-convention campaign. But it surely would prove disconcerting to Mr. Johnson if the convention should nominate someone who has campaigned on a platform which deviates substantially from the administration's position on vital issues during the last five years.

CUSTOMARILY it is the opposition party which carries on the attack against an incumbent administration. This time, however, there is only one potential candidate on the Democratic side — Vice President Humphrey — who seems willing to go down the line in defense of the Johnson administration.

Undoubtedly Mr. Johnson would like to see a Democrat elected next fall, but he isn't going to be happy if the party candidate wins the nomination by running to a large extent on an anti-administration appeal.

THERE is one thing Mr. Johnson could do to prevent this — come out in favor of Vice President Humphrey and actually make a few speeches in his behalf between now and the convention. This would certainly mess things up for Sen. Kennedy, as he would have to take an opposite stand, and the party delegates at the convention would then have to make a definite choice. The Republicans would rejoice at such a turn of events, but at least the Humphrey candidacy would acquire additional strength.

Opportunities In Gold

WASHINGTON—All that glitters in the eye of Sen. Alan Bible (D., Nev.) is not gold—but some of it is.

The energetic, dark-visaged acting chairman of Interior Appropriations subcommittee was all sparked up last month over the prospect that a new chemical process could triple the nation's minable gold reserves.

BY RECOVERING low-grade deposits of the precious metal from carbonaceous ores, Nevada alone could jump its wealth in gold from a value of $175 million to a cool billion dollars. Idaho and California would also benefit by the new process which has been developed over the last six years by the U.S. Geological Survey.

I had started to write an account of this 20th century bonanza in March, but politicians named Johnson, Kennedy, McCarthy and Rockefeller, as well as place-names like Khe Sahn and Memphis, to say nothing of our riotous capital, kept getting in the way. The enrichment of the nation in a new gold strike, however, is not a minor event. It ranks with national politics, with war and with civil disorder, and is happier news than any of these.

THE U.S.A. can afford to splurge on campaigning, and can shoot off $3 million of ammunition a month in Vietnam, and can suffer its inner cities to be put to the torch, only so long as we are blessed with natural abundance and with brain power, black or white, that shows us how to exploit the heritage of our earth. The only cure for poverty is our national wealth.

DESPITE MUCH mournful talk about our plundered minerals, the U.S.A. finds itself richer almost year by year as aerial instruments points to hitherto-hidden deposits, and as government or commercial scientists work out new methods of extraction. The chemical recovery of gold from other materials, as worked out by the Geological Survey, is done in a watery solution of acids that are cheap and plentiful. The only remaining difficulty is to overcome federal policies and to negotiate labor contracts so that the mining companies will make substantial investments in the hope of legitimate profits. At the controlled price of $35 an ounce, Nevada ore is worth about $10.50 a ton, and a big company can net a satisfactory $5 a ton after taxes.

BUT THE DEMAND for industrial gold far exceeds the supply that is coming out of the ground. The metal is needed in the new generation of computers and especially in the Space programs. We are importing four tons to every ton we mine at home, and thus are paying out money to foreign nations for a substance that exists in large quantities at home. William Percora, director of the Geological Survey, tells me that we must greatly increase the rate of development over the next two decades or run into grave risks of industrial dilapidation.

SEN. BIBLE, for several years, has been trying to get the U.S.A. to establish a realistic price for gold and to permit the price to rise as other products have risen over the past 30 years. He believes that artificial pricing has had much to do with the drain on the American dollar and on the thriving black market.

But the finding of new lodes through new scientific methods is a continuing argument for a freer economy which is the solution for much that ails us at home and abroad.

Registration Begins For D And D Seminar

Registration for the annual Region Five meeting of Desk and Derrick Clubs will begin this afternoon at 4 p.m. in Hotel Settles, headquarters for the seminar. A Pioneer Potluck hospitality will be the kickoff event of the meeting. Region Five is comprised of clubs in 13 cities in Texas as well as five cities in New Mexico. Mrs. Leon Kinney of Big Spring is general chairman for the seminar which will continue until adjournment at noon Sunday.

The President's Breakfast will begin at 7:15 Saturday in Room Three, and the general breakfast will be held at 7 a.m. in the hotel coffee shop. Business sessions will begin at 9 a.m., followed by a luncheon at noon and style show presented by Thelma's Dress Shop. At 2 p.m., the speaker will be Jerry Jenkins, vice president, licensing, Cosden Oil and Chemical Company. His topic will be "Licensing — Passports, Patience and Profit."

At 2:30 p.m., Granville Hahn, manager, Polymer Technical Service, will conduct a field trip through the color lab and polystyrene complex of Cosden. The main emphasis will be on coloring of thermoplastics and the place Cosden is making for itself in today's market. Displays in three areas will reveal interesting applications of these materials in furniture, packaging and appliances. There will be a demonstration on color matching of plastics in the color lab and the process explained. Transportation will be furnished from the hotel to the complex. Saturday's activities will end with a hospitality hour and banquet at the Cosden Country Club and appliances. There will be a

Army Coup Staged In Sierra Leone

FREETOWN, Sierra Leone (AP) — First details of a coup by a group of army noncommissioned officers in this small West African state came this morning in a broadcast by someone who identified himself only as "Sergeant Major Rogers."

Sierra Leone had been cut off from the outside world since Thursday as reports from neighboring countries said the military regime of the National Reformation Council, headed by Brig. Andrew T. Juxon-Smith, had been ousted.

'HAVE NO FEAR'

This morning's broadcast said Juxon-Smith had been arrested and a new 14-man council set up under the chairmanship of War-rant Officer Patrick Conteh. Sgt. Maj. Rogers said all diplomatic missions should carry on as normal and "have no fear."

Deputy Chairman William Leigh of the Council and other senior army and police officers had also been arrested, Rogers said, accusing council members of having practiced "nepotism and corruption" since taking over 14 months ago.

"Our immediate aim is to return to civilian rule," he declared, adding that the Council has been dissolved.

The new regime, styled the "Anti-corruption Revolutionary Movement," announced Thursday night formation of a seven-man national interim council of four army and three police officers whose primary task would be to work out a peaceful return to civilian rule within the "shortest possible time."

CURFEW CALLED

The movement also announced the recall of Col. John Bangura, currently counselor in the Sierra Leone Embassy in Washington, and Lt. Col. Am-brose Genda, ambassador to Liberia, to serve as force and deputy force commanders.

About 40 senior army and police officers have been arrested and a dusk-to-dawn curfew is in force, although conditions were reported almost back to normal today.

Despite official announcements that the coup was bloodless, at least two persons were reported killed and about six wounded. A sergeant and a 16-year-old girl were reported to have died of bullet wounds.

Sierra Leone, which became independent from Great Britain in 1961, is a diamond exporting country of two million persons and is about the size of South Carolina.

GOP Hopefuls To Talk Here

Three Republican hopefuls campaigning for the governorship of Texas will be in Big Spring Monday and Tuesday.

John R. Trice, Dallas, and Wallace Sisk, Houston, will be guests at a reception Monday, at 7 p.m. at the Flame Room of the Pioneer Natural Gas Building.

Paul Eggers, Wichita Falls, will be hosted at a coffee at 10:30-11:30 a.m. Tuesday at Cosden Country Club, given by Mrs. George Grimes.

Dr. Akin Simpson, Republican county chairman, will introduce the candidates. Any interested persons are invited to attend.

'Down Under' Ag Talk Delivered

Agriculture as it is practiced in Australia and New Zealand was the theme of a special talk on Thursday for the Big Spring Kiwanis Club.

The speaker was Hugh McQueen, Lubbock farm and livestock editor for a Lubbock television station. He recently returned from Australia and while there made a close study of all phases of farming and ranching "down under."

He illustrated his remarks with slides which he had taken on his trip.

Billy Smith was program chairman for the day. The program was arranged by the Kiwanis agricultural committee. Elmer Boatler is chairman of the committee.

Chemical Society Selects Speaker

Modern aspects of electro-organic chemistry will be presented by Dr. Allen J. Baird, University of Texas, at a meeting of the Permian Basin Section of the American Chemical Society Tuesday at a 7:15 p.m. dinner at Sutphen's Bar-B-Que, Odessa.

Registration is $3 for adults, $1.50 for students, and reservations may be obtained locally from Jesse Looney, Cosden Oil and Chemical Co., 263-7661 by 10 a.m. Tuesday.

White Youths Attack Carload Of Negroes

BOSTON (AP) — A gang of white youths attacked a carload of Negroes on a South Boston street today, stabbing one to death and beating and stabbing the others, police said.

Four of the victims were women.

The incident occurred before dawn in a largely white section made up of tenements and businesses.

STAB WOUNDS

The driver of the car, James Cooper, 28, was stabbed two times. He died in City Hospital.

A passenger, George Rogers, 26, and a white youth, Thomas Nee, 21, were hospitalized with stab wounds. They were on the danger list.

Patrick Linsky, 22, a white youth, was arrested and charged with Cooper's slaying after the victim's wife, Lena May, 26, identified him, police said. Mrs. Cooper was treated for facial slashes.

The incident occurred on D Street in front of a police station. A police spokesman said the two officers inside were unaware of what was taking place outside.

THREE ESCAPE

Police said the car stopped for a red light, and whites on the sidewalk began taunting the Negroes who did not respond.

Meanwhile, a second group of 15 to 20 white youths came up and blocked the car.

Police said the gang grabbed a plank and smashed the windshield. The whites pulled the occupants from the car and began

Girls Attack Dancing Rule

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Some pretty girls have gone to war with the USO club in Jacksonville battling for permission to close the gap between themselves and their military dancing partners.

The club has a rule that couples must dance six inches apart.

As of today, the rule remained and the girls were suspended from duty.

"They have told us we could not dance close," said Dorothy White, 22, president of the junior volunteers.

Miss White, daughter of a retired pastor of the Disciples of Christ and sponsor of a church youth group, said she organized the walkout.

With her when it organized a picket line outside the USO club where 23 other girls, including the current Miss Jacksonville USO, Sara Thigpen, 24.

"I cannot honestly say what they think they are preventing when they enforce this rule," said Miss Thigpen. "At other clubs the girls and guys can dance close as long as they don't wrap themselves around each other."

The director of the club, Emil Miller, a brigadier of the Salvation Army, was silent on the issue of the rule.

Excelsior, Minn. (AP) — The congregation of the Minnesota United Church of Christ voted 70-5 to hold their worship service Thursday nights instead of Sunday mornings during the summer.

"If Christian freedom means anything, surely it means we can worship the risen Christ on any day of the week," the Rev. Paul Flucke, pastor, said.

MIGHT BE IN GULF Flashing Phenomena Part Of Red Rocket?

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Coast Guard said an object believed to be part of a Soviet rocket body flashed through the skies over Louisiana Thursday night. It might have gone down in the Gulf, the Coast Guard added.

After widespread reports of a flashing phenomena through the skies, the Coast Guard said it received word from National Aeronautics and Space Administration headquarters in Washington about the Soviet rocket.

"Believed part of a Soviet rocket body from Cosmos 213," was the terse message from NASA relayed by the Coast Guard.

Two unmanned Russian satellites were launched earlier this week.

The Coast Guard said in addition to numerous reports of sighting the flashing object by people on the ground that airline pilots at 30,000 feet also saw it.

Explorers Reach The North Pole

WASHINGTON (AP) — The six-man American-Canadian expedition became early this morning the first party to reach the North Pole by surface travel since the 1909 Peary expedition.

A bureau spokesman said the news came from the agency's Arctic weather station at Ellesmere Island in Canada's north-west territories which has been keeping radio tabs on the adventurers.

The expedition, headed by Ralph Plaisted, a St. Paul, Minn., insurance man, made an unsuccessful attempt to reach the pole last year, turning back 530 miles short of the goal because of rapidly melting ice and other factors.

The explorer team has been traveling in gasoline-powered vehicles that haul sleds.

The bureau said it had received this message from the

Connally, Mayors Meet In Secrecy

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. John Connally met in secret today with about 20 mayors to exchange ideas about state and city problems.

El Paso Mayor Judson Williams, president of the Texas Municipal League, assembled the group at Connally's suggestion.

Notice of the meeting was distributed in the Capitol press room four minutes before the session was scheduled to begin. Newsmen were excluded, and the governor's office said it was uncertain whether a handout would be issued.

Ownership Records Of Rail Stockholders Due ICC Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Interstate Commerce Commission examiner subpoenaed top officials of five banks and brokerage houses today to supply voting and ownership records of hidden stockholders in a group of western railroads.

It was the first time that a commission official had gone so far to clear up the question of who actually owns some of the nation's largest railroads.

Examiner Nathan Klitenic issued the subpoenas in the case of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad which several midwestern lines are seeking to control or—in some cases, dismember.

SHOCK
Klitenic shocked some of those present at ICC hearings on the case when he ordered supplied to the commission the names and addresses of the real owner of 1,000 or more shares of stock in the Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Santa Fe, Chicago & North Western and the Denver & Rio Grande Western railroads.

He issued subpoenas to Francis J. Lyons, partner in Hold & Co., Washington; Arnold McCullough, partner in Cudd & Co., New York City; T. C. Lewis, partner in Sigler & Co., New York City; J. Eugene Banks, partner, Brown Brothers Harman & Co., New York City, and James E. Thompson, president, Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith, New York.

PHANTOM FIRMS
Hold, Sigler and Cudd are nominee names—or actually phantom companies—used by banks for convenience in administering securities held in trust or other capacities for other individuals or organizations.

Banks traditionally have refused to make public the names of the actual owners of these securities, although in many cases the holdings listed to these companies are vast.

Hold is a name used by Riggs National Bank. Cudd is used by Chase Manhattan Bank and Sigler is a name used by Manufacturers' Trust Co.

one power has "to expect once in awhile to pay ransom."

"This is as old as the history of the world, you know," he said.

"The Roman empire paid ransom, the British did. If we're going to be a world power, I think we have to anticipate that we may have to follow some of the ancient practices."

McCarthy made the statement in response to a news conference question as he campaigned for the Pennsylvania presidential primary.

"I think that once you get to be the number one power, you have to expect once in awhile to pay ransom," McCarthy said. "Especially if you have your ships adjacent to countries that don't respect international law."

The Pueblo was seized last Jan. 23 with a crew of 53 men aboard. North Korea charged the intelligence ship had violated her territorial waters.

A reporter asked McCarthy why there was so little discussion of the Pueblo in the presidential campaign.

"There's not much to say about it," McCarthy said. "I don't see it as an issue that is helped much by discussion."

McCarthy said "the only way to get it back" is to do what the administration is doing now. The United States has been trying to negotiate the release of the ship.

The reporter asked McCarthy about the possibility of paying ransom to regain the vessel.

"We used that with reference to Cuba," McCarthy said. "We have a precedent for it."

McCarthy did not elaborate but he apparently referred to the methods used to gain release of prisoners captured during the abortive Bay of Pigs invasion attempt of Cuba.

"Do you agree with it?" the reporter asked McCarthy.

It was then the Minnesota senator said the world's number

Cotton Ginning Funds Granted

LUBBOCK — The allocation of $65,791 for a two-year study for saving jobs in the cotton ginning industry was announced Wednesday by the office of Cong. George Mahon.

Application for the funds was made jointly by the Texas Independent Ginner's Association and the Department of Agricultural Economics at Texas Tech. It is the project contractor.

In the application, the ginner's association said that a reduction in cotton acreage and other economic problems are causing a number of gins to close down, eliminating jobs for many seasonal workers.

Mrs. Tom Good, Rites Saturday

Pallbearers were announced today for the funeral of Mrs. Tom (Clara Eloise) Good, 83, prominent member of an area ranch family who died early Thursday.

They will be E. P. Driver, Rich Anderson, Buster Cauble, Paul Wasson, Roy Bruce, and Jack Gully. Honorary pallbearers will be Charlie Creighton, Jess Slaughter, Kent Morgan, Carl McKee, Merle Stewart, Jack Phinizy, R. V. Middleton, Ab Hendley, Red Kyle and W. O. Cox.

Funeral will be at 10 a.m. Saturday in the Nalley - Pickle Rosewood Chapel, with Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiating. Burial will be in the City Cemetery.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Modesta Simpson, Big Spring; two sons, Jeff Good, Fort Sumner, N.M., and Clarence Porter, Vealmoor; three sisters, one brother, seven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

McCarthy Cites Ransom Precedent

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy said today there is precedent for the payment of ransom to recover the U. S. intelligence ship Pueblo and its crew, still in the hands of the North Koreans who seized them.

McCarthy made the statement in response to a news conference question as he campaigned for the Pennsylvania presidential primary.

"I think that once you get to be the number one power, you have to expect once in awhile to pay ransom," McCarthy said. "Especially if you have your ships adjacent to countries that don't respect international law."

The Pueblo was seized last Jan. 23 with a crew of 53 men aboard. North Korea charged the intelligence ship had violated her territorial waters.

Toll Increases In War's Biggest Allied Raid

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. warplanes made their heaviest raids of the year on North Vietnam Thursday, flying the largest number of missions in nearly four months, military spokesmen announced today.

TARGETS HIT
Hitting targets in the southern panhandle in accordance with President Johnson's curtailment

10-A Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Friday, April 19, 1968

Lease Allowable Change Approved

AUSTIN (AP) — A new system approved by the Railroad Commission will allow oil and gas producers to take allowable production from an entire lease and not be tied down to an allowable for each well.

The East Texas Field is excluded from the order.

The commission order issued Thursday followed a public hearing last December where several big oil companies and the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association supported the permanent lease arrangement.

The new system is effective May 1. A temporary lease allowable system started June 23, 1967, during the Middle East crisis, was extended to July 1 so operators may secure permanent lease production bases for those leases given temporary lease allowances.

Under a single-well allowable system, the commission's order replaces a producer's lease difference between the allowable and whatever the well can produce. For example, if a well has a 200-barrel allowable and can produce only 150 barrels, the owner loses 50 barrels of his allowable even though he may have another well on the same lease that can produce more than its allowable and make up the loss difference.

The commission said that under the lease allowable system, "physical waste was prevented through production on the lease production basis through reduced casinghead gas-oil ratios, gas-life requirements, and total produced water while producing at higher oil rates in many fields."

PROVISIONS
The commission said operators had shown that under such a system reservoir energy can be conserved.

Its new order included these order, U.S. pilots took advantage of clearing weather to fly 145 missions, one more than a year's previous record on Jan. 6. It was the largest number since Dec. 26, when 150 were flown.

The total was nearly triple the average number of missions the Americans flew against enemy supply routes, convoys and gun positions in the southern part of North Vietnam before Johnson on April 1 ordered them to stay south of the 20th parallel of latitude.

Ten days later the President, in a move never publicly announced, put the northern limit for bombings raids at the 19th parallel, 170 miles north of the demilitarized zone. The curtailment was aimed at inducing the North Vietnamese to open peace negotiations.

PENETRATION
The deepest reported penetration Thursday was a raid by Navy A4 Skyhawks from the carrier Enterprise on a railroad bridge one mile below the 19th parallel and 169 miles north of the demilitarized zone.

Some U.S. sources say that despite Johnson's curtailment order allowing the North Vietnamese to move war supplies with impunity down to the 19th parallel, a distance of 140 miles from Hanoi, there has been very little change in enemy truck traffic in the southern panhandle.

The U.S. Command said a limited damage assessment showed the raiders Thursday destroyed or damaged 14 bridges, 13 trucks and 16 boats, barges or sampans; cut bridges and roads in many places, and touched off several secondary explosions and fires, indicating the planes hit fuel or ammunition dumps.

COPTER CRASH

The pilots reported anti-aircraft fire was light to moderate. One of the worst helicopter crashes of the war occurred in South Vietnam. Two U.S. Army UH1 choppers collided in flight 59 miles southwest of the coastal city of Qui Nhon while on a combat operation.

Over South Vietnam, Air Force B52 bombers made six more raids late Thursday and Friday on the North Vietnamese buildup in the A Shau Valley west of Hue. The eight-engine Stratofortresses dropped an estimated 1,000 tons of bombs on troop concentrations, bunkers, truck parks and gun positions in the stronghold where U.S. officers think the North Vietnamese may be readying another big push against Hue.

UNLUCKY ELEVEN
In the last three days, the big bombers have flown 24 missions against the valley.

In the ground war, the death toll rose higher in the biggest allied offensive of the war as U.S. forces reported killing 116 Viet-Cong in two sharp clashes northeast of Saigon. Eleven Americans were killed and 21 wounded.

The fighting northeast of Saigon Thursday raised total enemy casualties to 937 killed and 233 captured since Operation Complete Victory was launched April 8, the U.S. Command said.

Allied casualties include 84 Americans and 65 South Vietnamese killed and 427 Americans wounded.

Fines Totaling $764 Assessed

Fines totaling $764 were assessed in Corporation Court this week.

Of this amount, the largest total was $445 for intoxication. A breakdown of other fines levied included: minor in possession of liquor (1), $25; no driver's license (3), $50; disregarding stop sign (2), $10; spinning tires (1), $5; speeding (10), $139; following too closely (2), $20; improper turns (3), $30; improper starts (3), $30; and negligent collision (1), $10.

Fatally Slashed

HOUSTON (AP) — The slashed body of Edwin A. Golden, 42, Texas City insurance agent, was found in a Houston hotel room Thursday.

Police said Golden registered at the hotel last Saturday under a different name.

Rap Brown Free Again After Posting $10,000

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP)—Rap Brown is free today on $10,000 bond.

Brown was taken to Salisbury, Md., after the hearing where he boarded a plane for Newark, N.J.

Elaborate security precautions were taken by Maryland authorities to insure the Negro's safety after Virginia authorities released him at the border in southern Maryland.

The leader of the so-called Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee is charged with arson, rioting and inciting to riot by Maryland in connection with the disturbance in Cambridge last July. He waived arraignment on the charges.

Judge Burnham Mace set bond as Brown sat silently between his lawyers.

William Yates II, state's attorney, said he hoped the trial would be conducted in two or three months.

Terms of the bond restrict Brown's travel to the Southern District of New York and eastern Louisiana. He will be allowed to come to Maryland to discuss his defense with lawyers.

Tiger Tale

Tammy, the tame tiger, plays at pajama party in home of Silvestro Capozzi. Tammy's owner, William Seefeldt, brought Tammy around for a bedtime romp with, from left, Kenneth, 6, Alan, 4, Richard, 6, Robert, 8, all Capozzi's children. Sheriff's officers said Thursday Seefeldt would have to cage Tammy to obtain the required permit to keep her.

Pet Tiger Ordered Caged, Owner Will Fight Ruling

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Tammy is a 110-pound Bengal tiger and a gentle host at children's pajama parties. But the Dade County sheriff's office says William Seefeldt, the owner, will have to cage his 10-month-old pet. The cage is necessary to qualify for the permit to keep her.

Tasha The Tiger Refuses To Leave Dried-Up Moat

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — For almost two weeks Tasha, a Siberian tiger, has refused to leave the dried-up moat around the Philadelphia zoo's lion house, and come back to her cage. On Thursday, zoo officials took firm action to get the big cat back home. Tasha took equally firm action—she wouldn't go. On April 6 the tiger wandered into the moat and stayed there, refusing to eat or enter a baited cage dropped down to her. She began appearing languid. Curator of Mammals Frederick A. Ulmer and two assistants came armed with tranquilizers, ropes, sticks and a high-powered rifle Thursday.

They fired two tranquilizers into the big cat then went down to prod her into the cage. Tasha wouldn't budge.

They finally got her into the loop of a lasso and five other assistants lent a hand. Tasha only growled and pawed ferociously.

Finally Ulmer saw Tasha was breathing heavily and feared she may have suffered a heart attack and called the exercise off for the time being.

five tiny tigers at the county's Crandon Park Zoo. The zoo traded the excess cubs to an animal dealer and Seefeldt bought Tammy from the dealer. He didn't reveal the price but Dr. Gordon Hubbell, superintendent of the zoo, said tiger prices range from about $600 to $1,200. Seefeldt said he bought Tammy as followup to other unusual pets—a bear, falcon, fox and skunk.

TIGER TESTIMONY

Seefeldt has had Tammy six months and she's a plaything for the neighborhood children. This week 25 of them held a pajama party with Tammy as guest of honor. She even visited Hialeah High School.

"The adult neighbors are afraid," said Hubbell.

Thursday, the sheriff's deputies pointed to the statute requiring permits for carnivorous animals including tigers. They said Seefeldt would get the permit when Tammy got a cage.

Seefeldt said he would take his case to court. Dr. Hubbell, who recommended that Tammy be caged, said he had never testified against a tiger but felt the ruling would support the sheriff.

LBJ Calls Off Speech On Big-City Problems

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has called off a planned speech to Congress that many had felt would include sweeping new attacks on big-city problems.

He told newsmen Thursday while flying home from California that since he had originally scheduled the address, Congress has passed a civil rights bill with a strong open-housing section. He said he therefore no longer sees any need for a special address to a joint congressional session.

MONEY WOES

Johnson announced April 5 he would appear before Congress. This word came a day after the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. However, the President postponed his April 8 speech when he learned later that the slain civil rights leader's funeral was not to be held until April 9.

Johnson had said he would make recommendations and suggestions for action—"constructive action instead of destructive action—in this hour of national need."

There had been speculation

Backers Urge Humphrey, Rocky To Join Big Race

By The Associated Press

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey among the Democrats and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York among the Republicans are being prodded to join the run for the White House.

HE'S READY

Humphrey has made clear he's ready to run—apparently it's just a matter of timing the announcement—while Rockefeller has been less clear on whether he will actually campaign against former Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the nomination. Rockefeller has left himself open to a draft.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, fighting Sen. Robert F. Kennedy for the Democratic nomination, said in Bloomington, Ind., Humphrey should announce now if he plans to campaign in support of U.S. policy in Vietnam—a policy McCarthy opposes.

Humphrey addressed a group at the State Department Thursday, on a nonpolitical matter, saying with a smile he had wanted "an audience this large" to make a certain announcement.

"I'd do it right here," Humphrey said—but he didn't.

Across town, formation of United Democrats for Humphrey was announced, with former President Harry S. Truman as honorary chairman and Sens. Walter F. Mondale of Minnesota and Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma as national chairmen.

Michigan Gov. George Romney met with top Rockefeller strategists in Washington and said that while he is not committed to supporting Rockefeller, "I would not have been here if I had not been interested in what they had to say."

One source said after the meeting that the consensus was Rockefeller "has got to come out fairly soon and make a fairly simple statement of candidacy to the end."

FLAYS LBJ

Rockefeller did not attend the meeting. But he was in town, addressing the American Society of Newspaper Editors on urban problems—the first of several major speeches he plans to make around the country.

Kennedy criticized the Johnson administration for wrangling with Hanoi over where peace contacts should be made. He said President Johnson had

Roby Captures Play Contest

Young dramatists from Roby won first place in the Region VI-B one-act play competition here Thursday with their presentation of "The Informer." The cast will participate in the state meet in Austin.

The runner-up spot went to the cast from Roby with its presentation of "Four Hundred Nights," and third place to the Ira players with "Moon Calf Mugford."

The best actor award went to Phillip Konz, Eden, and best actress award to Helen Lovett, Roby.

In the all-star cast were Judy Macek, Edan, Pam Salee, and Jim Hall, both of Ira, Fenton Brown, Roby, Teresa Hernandez and John Robert Prude, both of Fort Davis, Charles Kirkpatrick and Cindy Edwards, both of Water Valley.

Members of the winning cast were Dinah Williams, Judy Macek, Bill Agnew, John Watkins, Phillip Konz, Bobby Anderson, Natalie Locklear, and Richard Carter. Mrs. Christine Peek was the director. Directing the Roby players was Lena Hughey, and the Ira director was Myron Crawford. The critic for the plays was Dr. Rex Kyker, Abilene Christian College.

Looting Raid Raps Returned

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas County grand jury returned in indictments Thursday against six Negroes accused of spearheading a looting raid last week on a South Dallas jewelry store.

The six were indicted on charges of theft over $50 and destruction of private property in special indictments returned without comment by the grand jury.

Police said a group of about 20 Negroes raided Zale's Jewelry Store a week ago Tuesday and took $75,000 in rings, watches and other jewelry before fleeing in two cars.

Named in Thursday's indictments were Thomas Odell Burnley, 22; Tony Dowell, 20; Billy Wayne Green, 18; Jimmy Lee Session, 19; Kenneth Ross McNeil, 18; and William Green.

Four of the six—Burnley, Dowell, Session and Green—were still at large, police said. Dist. Atty. Henry Wade said it was primarily through the assistance of members of the city's Negro community that the names of the six became known.

Wrecks Reported

Two minor accidents were reported Thursday.

At 1209 E. 18th, Oneta Melton, 1209 E. 18th, and Lila Estes, 1609 Osage, collided; and Edwin Hall and David Hicks, both of Stanton, ran together at Eighteenth and Goliad.

Tires Stolen

Thieves burglarized a vehicle at the North 66 Truck Stop again last night.

W. M. Johns, Archer City, told officers a tire and wheel valued at $150 was taken from his truck parked at the cafe-motel. Gary Jeter, 1814 Benton, reported two tires valued at $60 missing from a closet in his home.

To Attend Crusade

The California Encounter Crusade, now in progress, is being attended by several local persons, in addition to those laymen who are attending from Baptist Temple Church.

Others in attendance include the Rev. and Mrs. Dan Sanford, Phillips Memorial Baptist; the Rev. Byron Orand, College Baptist; the Rev. Jack Boyett and Rayford Dunagan, East Fourth Street Baptist; Rev. Eliseo Gomez, Mexican Baptist. Also, Rev. and Mrs. William Odell, Berea Baptist, and Rev. Guy White, Coahoma Baptist.

The Sanfords were expected to be at Anderson, Calif., not far from the Oregon line. Others will be scattered throughout the state during the week of the crusade.

Freedoms Awards Are Announced

The Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, Pa., has announced that the Keister "Support the Church" series is again the recipient of the George Washington Honor Medal. This is the 11th such annual award bestowed upon this feature since its origin in 1944.

The object of the Foundation's annual awards program is to honor citizens regardless of race, creed or economic status, for outstanding efforts to improve public understanding and appreciation of the basic constitutional rights, freedoms and corresponding responsibilities inherent in the American way of life through the things they write, do or say.

The "Support the Church" series is now appearing in over 1,000 newspapers throughout the United States and Canada.

ATTITUDES HAVE CHANGED Religion Not Political Issue?

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Occurrences on the presidential campaign scene, projecting two Roman Catholics into the forefront of contention for the Democratic nomination, point up a marked change in the American religious temper.

Through much of the nation's past and up until eight years ago, it was assumed that a Catholic candidate faced extra obstacles because of his faith, but today, the matter has scarcely come up.

"I haven't heard anybody mention it with reference to Bobby Kennedy or Eugene McCarthy," said the Rev. Dr. C. Emmanuel Carlson of Washington, D.C., executive director of the Baptist Joint Committee on Public Affairs.

"We're much better off on that sort of thing. We're much further along. There's been a general maturing of confidence among people of different religious groups."

1960 CAMPAIGN

It was different back in the 1960 campaign of John F. Kennedy, whose church affiliation brought him under sharp questioning, and who became the first Catholic to occupy the White House.

But the public experience of his style and policies, and the growing amity among the religious bodies themselves, are seen as factors creating the new mood.

"It is a bit early to judge, but it does seem safe to say that religious affiliation will not be an issue in this already hotly joined presidential campaign," writes the Rev. Msgr. George W. Casey of Lexington, Mass.

"In 1960 it came close to being 'the issue.'"

But now, it's not even discussed, he says. He sees these reasons for the change:

—First, that the nation's situation is "too grave to permit the luxuries of sectarian and tribal bigotries."

—And second, the influence of the two "Johns"—JFK, and the late Pope John XXIII, who sparked the reforms of the Second Vatican Council.

"Together, they dissuaded the American people, including many Catholics, from the notion that the Catholic Church was an alien institution, with designs on American freedoms," Msgr. Casey writes in the St. Louis Review.

Dr. Carlson, noting some of the same factors, said that Protestants today "know much more about the workings" of the Catholic Church, which itself is undergoing modifications in structure and outlook.

In the American setting of religious pluralism, he said in a telephone interview, the candidate of a religious minority always "takes on the burden of proving he is not a captive" of his group.

For instance, he said, Republican candidate Richard M. Nixon, a Quaker, has clearly shown he is not bound to the general Quaker teaching of pacifism—both by his expressed views and the fact he was a Navy officer in World War II.

He said other potential candidates this year faced similar circumstances, including:

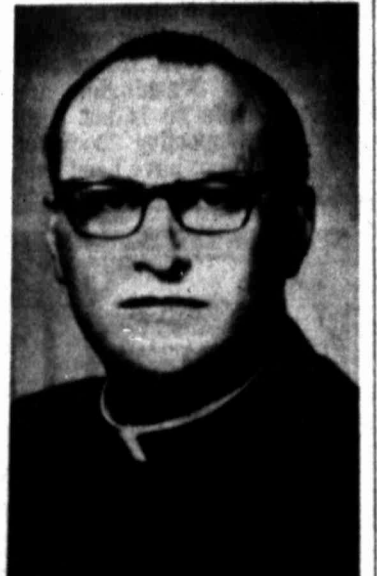

—Republican Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois, a Christian Scientist, who has firmly supported medical programs despite his church's opposition to medical treatment.

—Michigan's Republican Gov. George Romney, a Mormon, who has strongly backed racial equity despite his church's ban against Negro priests. Romney has pulled out of the active campaign lists.

CONTENDERS

After President Johnson's decision not to run again left Kennedy and McCarthy, both Catholics, as the two main Democratic contenders, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey also came into consideration.

His regular church membership is in a United Church (Congregationalist) congregation in Minneapolis, Minn., but he's also an affiliate member of the Chevy Chase, Md., Methodist Church near Washington.

REV. W. H. ROTH

The Rev. William H. Roth will be installed as pastor of St. Paul Lutheran Church, Sunday at 3:30 p.m.

Pastor Roth was born in Kansas and lived there where he attended parochial school until the fifth grade, when he moved to Nebraska and finished the eighth grade. He then attended St. Paul's Academy, Concordia Mo., and took his seminary training at Concordia Theological Seminary, Springfield, Ill., graduating in 1952.

His year of vicarage was spent at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Amherst, Colo., where he taught parochial school, grades four to eight and preached numerous times at St. Paul's and in various congregations in eastern Colorado and western Nebraska. His first assignment after graduation from the seminary was to St. Paul's Lutheran at Venus, Neb., 1952 to 1955.

He then accepted a call to St. John's Lutheran Church, Hinton, Okla., 1955 to 1959. Next he accepted a call to St. John's Lutheran Church in Wharton, Texas, and served as circuit counselor of the Mid-Gulf Coast Circuit 23 for a number of years. In March, 1968, he accepted a call to St. Paul Lutheran Church here.

Pulpit of the St. Paul Lutheran Church has been vacant since March 5, 1967, when the Rev. C. A. Wiederholt left to become pastor of Redeemer Church in New Orleans, La. The Rev. D. V. Hafemann, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, Midland, has been serving St. Paul's as interim pastor during the past year.

Following the installation service Sunday afternoon, there will be a reception at the Parish Hall honoring Pastor Roth. All members and friends of St. Paul's Lutheran Church are urged to participate.

Keynote Speaker Chosen For Association Meeting

Mrs. Tom W. McMillan, missionary on furlough from Tanzania, will be the keynote speaker for the quarterly Big Spring Association of Women's Missionary Union meeting Friday, April 26, at Berea Baptist Church, 4208 Wasson.

According to Mrs. Shirley Fryar, local president, theme for the conference will be "Growing As A Christian."

Mrs. McMillan is a native of Jeffersonville, Ky., attended Columbia Bible College, Columbia, South Carolina, and received the bachelor of arts degree from Wayland Baptist College, Plainview. She was awarded the master of religious education degree from Southwest Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth.

Mrs. McMillan was appointed for overseas missionary service by the Southern Baptist Convention in December, 1959, and she and her husband are engaged in general evangelistic work at the Arusha Seminary in Tanzania. They have three children.

Also featured on the program will be Mrs. C. L. Kirkland, Mrs. R. C. Thomas, Mrs. Dan

MRS. TOM W. McMILLAN

Sanford, Mrs. H. L. Bowden, Mrs. Julian Vigil, Mrs. Roy Collins, Mrs. T. R. Louder and Mrs. Clyde Parnell.

Glenn Faison, minister of music at First Baptist Church, will conduct a special music conference.

WISDOM OF GOD OVER MAN IS FOUND IN SUNDAY LESSON

There is much wisdom in the non-Christian religions of the world. Otherwise they would not have survived. One does not have to read far into Confucianism, Taoism, Buddhism or any of the other great Eastern religions to find this true. Much of what they teach is profound human experience.

But what have these religions done for their adherents? That is the real test. And here is where Christianity wins over all other religions. It has stimulated progress and brought blessing wherever it has gone. A comparison of Asia with North America and Europe tells the story.

God's perfect wisdom surpasses that of the greatest religious leaders. Because He created man, God knows him better than man knows himself.

Background Scripture for the International Uniform Lesson series comes from Job 28:12-13, 23, 28, and Proverbs 3:13-18.

enrich your spiritual life

ATTEND CHURCH

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

A Bird in Hand

Copyright 1968 Keister Advertising Service, Inc., Strasburg, Va.

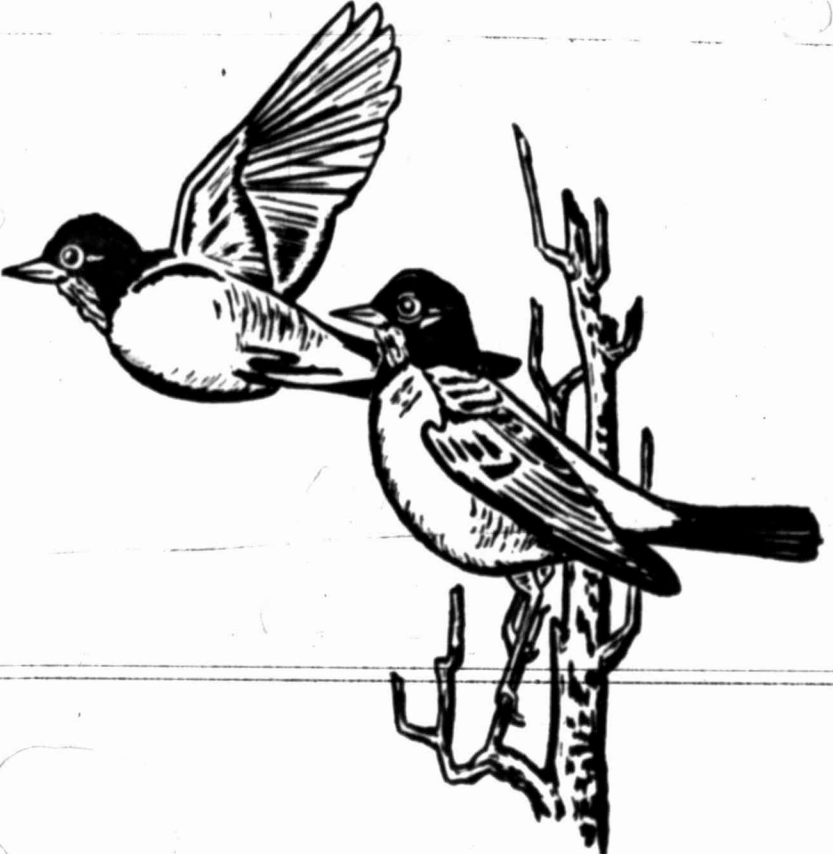

The hands are gentle and deft . . . the bird-banding process painless and quick. Soon the bird will fly off, safe and unharmed, unaware that it has become another link in the chain of research concerning the migratory habits of birds.

Our feathered friend has no interest in the fact that his experience ultimately will help chart the flight lines of all migrant birds. With heart beating wildly in its soft, downy throat, it longs only to be free.

Sometimes people are like that bird. Caught in circumstances beyond our control, we flail and thrash about. Fear and doubt overwhelm us and we fail to realize and acknowledge the loving arm of God that is present and sustaining in every situation.

Place your faith and trust in God and His Church. In times of need, strength and help are yours for the asking.

Face Up To Big One Saturday

Pictured here are outfielders with the Big Spring Steers, who meet their biggest test of the season at 2 p.m. Saturday, at which time they oppose the District 2-AAAA leader, Midland Lee in Midland. From the left, they are Charley Lewis, Ronnie Wright, R. J. Englert and Dean Gilstrap. Englert is among the leading hitters in the conference.

Steers, Rebs Vie Again Saturday

Big Spring is almost certain to look at Midland Lee's ace pitcher, John Howell, when the two teams clash in an important district 2-AAAA baseball game at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Howell is the reason Lee is running at the head of the conference pack. He shut out Big Spring in the last meeting of the teams, 4-0, despite the fact that the Steers outthrew the Rebels.

A defeat at the hands of Lee would put a serious crimp in the championship hopes of coach Onkey Hagood and his boys. A win by Big Spring would deadlock the two teams in the standings.

Big Spring is now tied with Odessa for second at first base, Felix Martinez at second, Tony Martinez at third, with a 5-2 record. Lee is 6-1. Lefty James Newman or Thomas Ham could charge the hill for Big Spring. Newman is 8-1 on the year while Ham is 2-0. Both boys are juniors.

The Steers have won twice this week, beating San Angelo, 7-3, and Abilene High, 2-0. In the latter contest, Junior Mendoza set the Eagles down with three hits.

Over-all, Big Spring is 16-4. To date, the Longhorns have compiled far and away the best record in the history of the school.

Probable starters for Big Spring include Gary Don Newman behind the plate, Mendoza at first base, Felix Martinez at second, Tony Martinez at third,

Over-all, Lee is 14-5. The Rebels have outscored conference foes, 89-70.

Jayhawks Entered In Hobbs Meet

HJC's Jayhawks are entered in an invitational track and field meet at Hobbs, N.M., today along with four other Western Conference contingents and Cisco College.

Other schools competing include Odessa, Lubbock Christian, New Mexico Military Institute and New Mexico JC, the host school.

The meet, called the Thunderbird Invitational, will be staged on the high school racing oval in Hobbs.

Finals in the meet start at 8 o'clock. Big Spring time. Coach Red Lewis will take a squad of about nine boys to Hobbs. Favored in the meet is NMJC, with Odessa figured to wind up high in the running.

Rosewall, Gimeno Tangle In Finals

PARIS (AP) — Ken Rosewall of Australia and Andres Gimeno of Spain met tonight in the final of the pro tennis tourney at the Pierre de Coubertin Stadium.

Rosewall beat Pancho Gonzalez of Los Angeles 6-4, 8-6 and Gimeno defeated Rod Laver of Australia 9-7, 6-1 in Thursday's semifinals.

Zarley Shares Lead In Vegas With 2 Others

LA VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Paced by two old pros and a member of the younger set in golf, no fewer than 10 players were within three strokes of each other today as play went into the second round of the $150,000 Tournament of Champions.

The veterans were Gardner Dickinson, 40, and Dan Sikes, 37, and the friendly upstart was Kermit Zarley, 26, each of whom shot three-under-par 68s in the first round of action Thursday.

The weatherman promised warmer skies and abated winds following the first round chill which prevailed over the 6,708-yard par 36-35-71 Stardust County Club layout.

Deadlocked at 70, two shots behind the leaders, were five challengers, including Billy Casper and newly crowned Masters champion Bob Goulby.

Bracketed with them in quest of the $30,000 top money in this 16th annual spring event were 48-year-old Julius Boros, Don January and another 26-year-old contestant, Randy Glover.

Even with par 71 were George Archer and Dudley Wysong.

Well back at 76 was Frank Beard, who won the T of C a year ago. The personable pro from Louisville, Ky., hit into the water hazard for a bogey 6 on the first hole.

Beard wound up with three double bogeys. The last one came on the final hole when his tee shot literally disappeared from sight.

No one has yet determined where it went, but it cost Frank two penalty strokes to bring his total for the round to six.

STATION WAGONS

If you're counting on a new VW, you can stop at $1797

In fact, when it comes to money, a VW will save you a lot of counting after you buy it, too. On gas bills. (It gets about 27 mpg.) On tires. (They average 40,000 miles.) It hardly ever needs oil between changes. And, since the engine is air-cooled you never have to dish out for anti-freeze. So if you don't like to count, buy a Volkswagen. It figures.

U. S. Says Report Linking Ky To Opium Deal Untrue

SAIGON (AP) — Both the U.S. Embassy and Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky today denied a report being investigated by a Senate subcommittee that the CIA fired Ky for smuggling opium in 1963.

The report, made to the Senate Foreign Expenditures subcommittee, said Ky commanded air crews in a secret CIA operation flying saboteurs to North Vietnam and took advantage of the setup to fly opium from Laos to Saigon.

'NO TRUTH'

The U.S. Embassy said there was "no truth in the story that Ky was removed from any position by any element of the U.S. government for opium smuggling or for any other reason." Asked if the embassy had any information connecting Ky with opium smuggling, an embassy spokesman said only: "There is no truth to the allegation."

"The vice president just laughed when he saw the story," said a spokesman for Ky. "He said it was groundless news, and there is no truth to it at all."

MYSTERY INFO

The spokesman added that Ky took part in the flights over North Vietnam, "but he would not get involved in smuggling. You know he pays no attention to matters about money."

The Senate subcommittee's

staff director, Joseph Lippman, made the report available to The Associated Press in Washington with the stipulation that the source could not be identified.

Lippman said the report was considered highly reliable. The subcommittee is headed by Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, a critic of U.S. involvement in Vietnam.

The author of the report said he was sent to Vietnam in March, 1962, by an American company to serve as an inspector and adviser to ground crews that maintained the aircraft used in sabotage missions.

The company, the report said, "was a fictitious company set up by the CIA and (an airline) operating from Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Air Base as a blind for a program called Operation Haylift."

SABOTAGE

"Operation Haylift was flying

Vietnam agents into North Vietnam for the purpose of sabotage such as blowing up railroads, bridges and etc. When the program first began the CIA engaged air crews and their commanding officer was Col. Nguyen Ky who is now vice president of South Vietnam.

"To make a long story short, Col. Ky took advantage of this situation to fly opium from Laos to Saigon. Of course the CIA removed Col. Ky and his flight crew and they were replaced by Chinese Air Force pilots from Formosa."

"Also the Vietnam ground crews were replaced by Chinese mechanics."

Lippman refused to permit publication of the names of the American company which sent the informant to Vietnam or the airline operating out of Tan Son Nhut.

HOW COME A HEN LAID A DINOSAUR EGG?

Fantasy Is Delicate Business

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Fantasy is a delicate business, and sometimes it comes off better in book form than in visual form.

Thursday night's NBC broadcast of "The Enormous Egg" was an example of the difficulty.

The hour-long "Children's Theatre" special was adapted from a book about a little boy and his pet dinosaur. It started with Nate Twitcheil's hen, Henrietta, producing a very large egg which ultimately hatched into a pound-and-a-half dinosaur, the first in millions of years.

WEAK EXCUSE

This in itself must have presented parents throughout the nation with a difficult question to answer. How come a hen laid a dinosaur egg? Well, the author of the book had to get into his story somehow.

At any rate, the dino, named Uncle Beazley grew to enormous size, was moved to the Smithsonian Institute for care, got into trouble with the authorities when it tipped over a milk truck and narrowly escaped extermination at the hands of an overzealous and ignorant senator. Then Nate appealed for help on television, and, of course, TV saved the day and the dino.

The idea of a huge, gentle dinosaur pet with a taste for moldy oldies had charm, but conversion into TV had problems. Uncle Beazley, for instance, was played by a series of dinosaur models ranging in size from tiny to enormous, but were patently unmovable.

'TONY AWARDS'

The narration of excerpts from the book frequently had Ed

McMahon's deep, adult voice incongruously matching the lip movements of the young boy.

The action did give young viewers an incidental tour of the nation's capital from the Washington monument to the Senate.

Until last year, Broadway's "Tony Awards" were given out with little public fanfare. Then Alexander H. Cohen, one of the top producers, volunteered to put a "Tony Awards" show on network television. He persuaded colleagues to permit numbers from their hit shows to be shown on television. He played down the envelope-opening and the thank-you speeches. He

Big Thunderstorms Boil Across Texas

By The Associated Press

Mammoth thunderstorms boiled up across vast areas of Texas late Thursday and prompted severe storm watches for most of west central and northern sections of the state.

For the most part only good soaking rains resulted from the turbulence.

STRONG WINDS

Winds of almost 50 miles an hour tore into a Wichita Falls lakeside. Utility poles were toppled and one house lost its roof.

No injuries were reported. The heaviest rainfall amounts reported to 1.4 in. today were 1.98 inches at Del Rio, 1.80 at Mineral Wells and 1.65 at Wichita Falls.

Not all the storms settled for being threatening in nature. One vicious cell produced hail 1 1/4 inches in diameter at Robert Lee, 30 miles north of San Angelo.

Hail varying in size from walnut to pea size struck from San Angelo northward to the Red River.

STORM ACTIVITY

Moist gulf air and a cold front, now nearly stationary on a line from Ardmore, Okla., to San Angelo to near Wink, triggered the storm activity.

Early today some heavy thunderstorms developed over a wide area west of San Antonio. Rain fell in Edwards, Read, Kerr, Bander, Uvalde, Kinney, Maverick, Zavala, Kendall and Medina counties.

Other thundershowers activity was reported in the central and northern sections of the state and in the Panhandle.

The warm air from the Gulf of Mexico pushed temperatures up to 90—warmest in the nation—at Laredo and McAllen Thursday. In contrast, Amarillo had a high reading of only 49 degrees.

Cloudy skies and scattered thunderstorms were likely across much of the state today with temperatures remaining mild.

Horoscope Forecast

FOR TOMORROW

—CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A wonderful Saturday for you to get out in the world of activity to do almost anything that you wish but especially where gaining a new start towards a more modern and up-to-date environment through which you can gain the attention and the interest of progressive-minded persons in business or pleasure who can aid you.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Collapsing upon those who do not act quite as others do is your best bet now for advancement. You can reach personal aims very easily now. Show a very charming and courteous attitude toward everyone.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Get in contact with the business world and gain their good influences. If you do your work well, you can increase your popularity tremendously, have a better income. Be of good cheer.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Think out how you can become better acquainted with persons you meet some time ago and who have real influence. Show that you have ability to make real progress. Use your finest talents wisely.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Ideal day to handle all these responsibilities in a very efficient way. Once these are finished, be romantically happy with mate. Avoid going off on some tangent that you would later regret.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Conferring with dynamic associates is best way to advance right now. Exchange views intelligently. Forget the playhouse and dwell on whatever is of broad scope. This can be a very important day for you.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Plan your activities early, since there is so much you want to get done and entertainments you want to enjoy. Be enthusiastic about what you must do. Then you get the approval of blazes.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Give your finest ambitions full expression without further procrastination. This could also be in the realm of pleasure. Be more affectionate with one you love if you want to establish a lifetime relationship.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Take time to look around your house and see where you can make the proper improvements and repairs. Listen to what kin have to suggest. Some of their ideas could be very fine and should be followed.

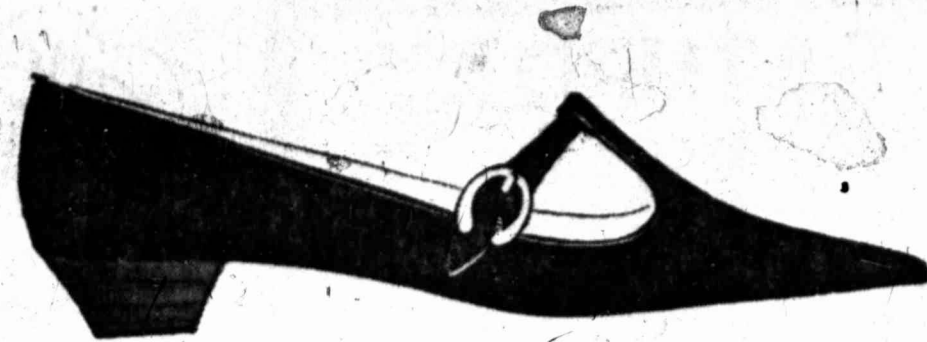

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Doing whatever associates will certainly appreciate would be wise now. They then cooperate more with you in the future. Get out and visit with those persons who can be helpful to you in your daily routine, etc.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Giving more attention to your assets and seeing where to make the right additions and improvements is wise. Strive to please yourself more. Your financial position needs a little boost—get busy, get wise.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You are able to do almost anything you set your mind to now, so get more attuned to the New Era motivations that bring fine success. You are interested in the new, so get busy. Get the benefits you deserve.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) You are able to intuitively give assistance to others now and clear up problems of your own, so do so without fail. Show your generosity. Your mind is very clear now and you can just sit right through everything.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow he or she will be one of those tremendously charming young people who is very modern in his or her thinking, so listen to ideas propounded early which could be very inspiring. Teach early to get along well with others for best results throughout the life. Send to the right, modern school of higher learning.
