SIGHTS, FACES SEEN

With Christmas only three days away, most people had their plans well completed for the holiday period. Numerous families are planning trips to visit relatives and friends. Others will entertain visitors at their homes in Hereford. Possibly the happiest families of all, though, are the ones whose sons will be home from Japan, Korea and other distant points.

Sgt. and Mrs. Bobby G. Allmon called from San Francisco this week to tell their parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Allmon, 514 Blevins, that they will be home for Christmas, accompanied by their two children, David and Susan. Tech sergeant Allmon has been stationed in Japan. They plan to arrive Monday.

Lt. Carol Newsom also recently from Hawaii, where he and Mrs. Newsom have been stationed for 23 months. Mrs. Newsom, the former Ruth Pickens, and their daughter, Janis, arrived here a week and six weeks ago. During the holiday they will visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Newsom, and with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pickens. Carol was given a 10-day leave, but got a 30-day extension to attend a C-54 refresher course at Great Falls, Mont. He is a C-54 pilot and carries supplies from San Francisco to Hawaii, also evacuating wounded from Japan to Frisco. He has one more year in the service.

Four new entries in the lighting contest arrived this week, swelling the total to six. Dr. H. A. Cavness, Jaycee chairman, said Saturday. The deadline has been extended to Monday afternoon, Dec. 22, and entries may be left at the Brand office. Judging will be done Wednesday night.

Our New C of C Directors Named

Four new members of Commerce directors have been elected for 1953, according to announcements today. They are George McLean, T. W. Alderson, Dick Bardard and Lloyd Sharp.

The new directors will succeed R. Allison, Jimmie Allred, Ray Bowers and A. J. Schroeter, who will complete their terms Dec. 31.

Organization of the new board of directors of officers for 1953 will take place at the next regular Chamber of Commerce meeting Tuesday, Dec. 30, Cecil Massey, secretary-manager, said today.

A DREAM COME TRUE. The L. C. Thomases have at last realized a dream that started back in 1927. They purchased two pair of Chinchillas last September as a start on what they think will be a fascinating as well as profitable hobby. They now have one baby chinchilla. The animals weigh from 16 to 18 ounces when full grown. Mr. Thomas says they cannot catch the baby to weigh it. Staff Photo.

STORES OPEN NIGHTS NEXT WEEK

Most Firms To Close For Two Days -- Some Longer

Following plans outlined by the Retail Merchant's Committee, most Hereford firms will remain open until 8 o'clock next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Dec. 22-23-24, to assist Christmas shoppers. In addition, a majority of the firms also indicated that they will remain closed two days this year in observance of Christmas.

Practically every business in town will close Thursday, Dec. 25, for Christmas Day. Many of them also indicated in an unofficial Brand survey that they will remain closed Friday as well.

Drug stores said they would remain open Friday, also cafes. Postmaster Jim Lipscomb said that no directive has been received from that department, and that the post office would probably be open. Both banks also indicated that they will be open for business Friday.

Numerous food stores, mercantile stores, lumber yards, implement houses, and garages reported that they will be closed Friday.

The courthouse even went one better. County offices will be closed Thursday, Friday -- and Saturday. This schedule also applies to the cleaners. The County Library really took the holiday seriously and included New Years too; this office will be closed from Dec. 24 through Friday, Jan. 2.

"This gives the clerks and employees a little time to spend with their folks, or to make Christmas trips," was the reason listed by most of the firms for adopting the "long holiday."

Phillips Main Street Station, New Warehouse Now Under Construction

Workmen Saturday were clearing away the old service station site at the corner of Main Street and Highway 60, as the first step toward erection of a modern, super service station on the location. This building will be the first of a series of three major improvements planned in Hereford by Phillips Petroleum Company, Jimmie Allred, jobber, announced Saturday.

Erection of a new warehouse, just east of veteran's Park gates is also in preliminary stages, and Mr. Allred has secured a building permit for a service station location at the intersection of Harrison Highway and Highway 51, just across from St. Anthony's church. Finished in 45 days.

The new Main Street station will be company owned and contract has been let, Allred said. The station will face Highway 60, but will angle in order to handle Main Street traffic. It will be of concrete block construction and will have a glass showroom, conforming with modern station architecture. A wash and grease unit will be included. The contract calls for completion within 45 days, excepting extremely bad weather.

Grounds are being leveled for the warehouse building, which will be 40 by 60 feet, plus tanks and other equipment now found in the present plant. Mr. Allred said that Phillips has purchased the lot, 150 by 300 feet, from the Veterans, and that this building is scheduled for completion within 60 days. It will

Bus Strike To Continue Thru Holiday Period

Hereford still remained without east-west bus transportation as the Texas-New Mexico bus drivers stretched their strike into 14 days -- with probability of running it until after Christmas. The strike started Dec. 8, at midnight.

"The federal mediation board in Albuquerque met this week, but adjourned without taking action," said Frank Thomas, general manager of the bus lines. The federal board also made the statement that it will not convene "until after Christmas."

"We had hoped to get back in to operation before Christmas," Thomas said, "but it looks impossible. We will let the people know just as soon as we have any word."

Want More Money

Bus drivers are asking for six and one-half cents per mile on the run as compared with the present 5.875 cents per mile, paid before the strike. Mr. Thomas said the company had offered to settle with a compromise of six and one-eighths cents per mile, but the drivers had refused.

Meanwhile, trans-continental traffic out of Amarillo is being routed on Highway 66 buses through Albuquerque, Dallas traffic is going through El Paso. Hereford is one of the few towns which is completely stranded by the strike. Only one bus, operating between Hereford and Littlefield, is still running. In addition to passenger traffic into Hereford during the holiday period, merchants are also reporting considerable inconvenience and delay on bus freight, which handled many of the smaller items marked for rush delivery.

Train service and parcel post, however, did much to offset these two difficulties.

Head On Collision

On Labor Camp Road

Two cars were involved in a head-on collision one mile west on Labor Camp road at 6:30 p.m.

Bolias Baralla was driving a 1942 Chevrolet pickup and Roman S. Ganzaules was driving a 1951 Dodge pickup with a stake bed. Both are residents of the labor camp.

There were no injuries reported. Damage to the pickups was estimated at $275 to the Chevrolet and $700 to the Dodge pickup. Charges were filed against Ganzaules for driving while intoxicated.

Officers J. Kirkwood and Joe Culp investigated the accident.

Shopping Hits Peak Three Days Remain

By Billye Wright

The 1952 Christmas shopping spree shifted into high gear in Hereford Friday, and Saturday as people thronged various stores to fill out their Yuletide purchases.

"Business is good," merchants in most lines reported as the season went into the final stretch.

Meanwhile, time is growing short -- even for last-minute shoppers. Christmas is nearing folks are hustling and bustling through town tending to Uncle Joe's house shoes and Aunt Fannie's new sleeping bonnet.

Kiddies are running around with a dollar or two to spend on pappas or mamas. They shop for hours, and come up with just what they need, a razor for Dad and a hanky for Mom.

Yes, most of the oldsters and youngsters have the real Christmas spirit by now. If they don't, they likely won't! All one should need to feel that Santa is near is to have been in town this week end and to have seen the boys and girls talking to Santa, telling him their wants. One child, after being convinced that Santa was too poor for a bicycle, sneaked really close to him and said, "Please Santa, I wanna new bike." Bet he gets it, too!

Stores with stocks of Dolls say that Santa has had many a doll on lay-away since July, waiting for the Yuletide season.

Clerks with poor, aching feet, are beginning to feel they will be glad when this rush is over.

A peek into old Santa's bag revealed the other day that folks are apparently buying more practical gifts this year than per usual, selecting linens, bedding, luggage, dresses, suits and coats.

Children are doing their share of window shopping this year, too, as revealed by the smoked and smudged windows just a little lower than the grown-up places.

Ah yes, folks Christmas is near and you'd better wind up that last minute shopping . . . and Kiddies, you'd better be as good as good, for it's only three days 'til old Saint Nick should be here!

High School Athletics Gross $14,882 From February

Athletics turned out to be "big business" for Hereford High School this year, according to a financial statement released this week by Supt. George Graham.

Total income was listed at $14,882.99 for a period beginning Feb. 1 and ending Dec. 1, 1952. The ten and one-half month period included three summer vacation months and one-half operating months.

The statement showed the athletic association starting the year with a balance of $1,485.17, which added to the $14,882.99 receipts totaled $16,368.06. Disbursements were listed at $10,884.65, leaving a balance of $5,483.41.

The statement did not disclose detailed nature of the receipts, but most of the money can safely be presumed to come from football, which is the big attendance game in Hereford. Operation during the remainder of December and January will also probably be at a loss. Football awards are not included in the figure, either, and will reduce the total by several hundred dollars.

The complete statement follows:

Balance February 1, 1952	$1,485.17
Receipts: Athletic events, sale of equipment, miscellaneous	$14,882.99
Total	$16,368.06
Disbursements
Cash for change	$76.00

Jack France Suffers Broken Neck In Car-Truck Accident Near Vega

Jack France, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burl France received a broken neck in a car-truck collision on Highway 66 and Highway 51 at Vega. The accident occurred Wednesday, Dec. 17, between 8 and 9 o'clock in the morning.

France was driving a cattle truck loaded with cattle. The truck belonged to Robert Wagoner. He was hauling the cattle to the Amarillo sale ring.

Driver of the car was Mr. Brand of Logan, N. M. There were four other occupants in the car; all five were injured, one believed to be critically, Mrs. Brand, age 60. They are in an Amarillo hospital.

Mr. France is in the Deaf Smith County hospital in Hereford, where his condition is reported as "good," according to his wife. Movement from the cattle and the impact of the accident caused the truck to roll over, but none of the cattle were seriously injured.

Christmas Brand Scheduled Out Next Wednesday

The annual Christmas edition of The Hereford Brand will be put into circulation Wednesday morning, Dec. 24, instead of Thursday, it was announced today.

The early publication date was adopted so that the edition could be put into the mails and delivered Wednesday, since no rural routes will operate Thursday. Persons wishing to insert Christmas greetings or messages were invited to call "30" Monday. Tuesday noon will be the deadline on Classified ads in the edition.

The Brand office will remain closed Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 24-25, but will be open Friday, Dec. 26. The Sunday paper will come out on regular schedule.

Brand football contest. Covington, first place winner, received two tickets; Whitfield and Knox received one each for second and third places. Staff photo.

PACKAGES COME and PACKAGES GO, especially around the post office near Christmas time. The stack above was only a portion of Thursday morning's outgoing parcel post. Nolan Grady is seen above sacking for dispatch. After Saturday most of the packages will be coming into Hereford post office employees say. It makes little difference to postal clerks, though. Coming or going, the handling is about the same. Christmas Cards! Well, that's another story. Staff Photo.

at Seigler Motor Company attracted much interest Friday. Mr. Seigler said that the Packard line was being handled in addition to his regular Dodge and Plymouth lines.

Ralph Smith has been assisting in the County Clerk's office for the past three weeks to become acquainted with the duties by Jan. 1, when he takes over the office. Mr. Smith says that he will be assisted in the office by Juanita Owens, a present employee, and by Ruth Loerwald, who has been employed in the tax collector's office. Mrs. Lucille Posey, another of the present deputies, will take over the new office of District Clerk. Present clerk, Bob Thompson, says he is still "on the fence" as to what he will do come New Years.

Tax accountants report that they have been literally swamped. Amended returns by business men must be filed by January 15. Farmers and ranchers, however, may file on Jan. 15, or may wait until the end of January and file their completed return.

A total of $704.21 was presented by L'Allegre Club members to Father Raymond Gillis to help offset costs of a new heating unit installed in the Labor Camp hospital. The money resulted from giving away a television set by the club. The TV was won by Taft McGee.

No School Zone Traffic Tickets

No traffic tickets have been handed out in school zones during the entire week, according to reports of City Police Saturday.

"We had to call down one lady, and she was really sorry," said Chief Leo Box. "We want to thank everyone for their cooperation and add our hopes that this good record will continue."

Police announced last Sunday that a general "crack down" on school zone violations would go into effect Monday. They also said that speeding on city streets and blocking alleys had practically come to a halt.

First 10 Rural Phones Go Into Down Territory

Around 10 rural telephones have been installed, complete with wire strung to the houses, Robert Bell, REA Assistant Manager, said Saturday. All of the phones are in the Dawn area.

First installation was in the Keller Muse home on the old Muse Ranch. The second was at the Pete Carmichael place and the third at the Leonard Click place. Keller Muse gave special permission on the first wiring -- and we warned him that we might have holes all over the house on the first job," Bell said. "However, the boys got the hang of the thing and installations are coming along fine."

Other telephones installed include: Bob Lewis, Bill Gentry, Lyle Woodford, C. C. Billingslea, R. L. Thompson farm, Harvey Brock, and Frank Fortenberry.

Four Installations Daily
Bell said that installations are being made at the rate of around four each day. A second crew will be added after January 1, and the schedule will call for 10 installations daily. Approximately 100 days is estimated to handle the 1,000 applications now on file.

Present plans are to cut the Dawn telephones in for service around April 1, and to follow with other areas at the rate of one each week until the list is completed.

Home gardens are a good source of low priced food and the garden produce can be used to improve the nutritional value of the family's diet.

G-I Insurance Is Still Available To Some Veterans

Pointing out that quite a few veterans can still qualify on World War II Government insurance, Ralph Smith, county service officer, said today that any interested veterans should contact him in the clerk's office at the courthouse.

"Policies issued in 1945 and 1946 were set on an eight-year period," Smith said. "This leaves 1953 and 1954 in which holders of policies issued in these two years may qualify."

He also said that policies issued in 1947 and 1948 were on a five-year period, and that persons who took policies in 1948 can still qualify in 1953.

"The only requirement is to make application and to pay one month premium as a penalty," Smith said. "All of the back payments do not have to be made."

Beauty at Home

By Lynn Carter

Q. What makeup do you suggest for the girl who dislikes rouge?

A. Use the rosy shades of foundation, and powder heavily over the areas where you would not normally place your rouge, and slide just a thin film of powder or none over the area that would have been rouged. This gives you the bluish tone you need without rouge application.

Q. How can I remove persistent grime from under my fingernails?

A. Apply a little citral remover to the grime with an orange stick, and after a moment, scrub with a nail brush and soap and water.

Q. What can I do about dry and brittle hair?

A. Frequent massage is in order making sure to move the scalp with the fingers. A little warm olive oil rubbed into the scalp least twice weekly, also help brush hair vigorously twice a day.

The emerald is the softest of all precious stones.

TALKING IT OVER . . . Defensive strategy which Texas might use against Tennessee in the New Year's Day Cotton Bowl game at Dallas is discussed by three members of the Longhorn team -- (left to right), End Carlton Massey, Guard Harley Sewell and End Bill Georges. All three players were key figures in the Texas platoon which led the Southwest Conference selection in defense this season. Sewell was a unanimous all-Conference selection and named to numerous all-American selections. Massey and Georges gained all-Conference recognition. (AP Photo)

SNOOPY IN THE BULL PEN

Hi, there, well it's only a few days until Xmas. Isn't it nice about the Yuletide season.

Well, congratulations are in store for Band Sweetheart Martha Jean Brown and her attendant Barbara Rogers and Bobbie Drury. The presentation of a lyre of flowers was made by vice-president of the band, Richard Tucker. The escorts were Pat Newell for the sweetheart, Tunny Wilson for Barbara, and Pickens Moore for Bobbie. Martha was presented with a lyre of maroon carnations and wore a headdress of white carnations. We proudly salute the Band Sweetheart of 1952-53.

"Vote for —, Vote for —" That's what everyone has been hearing for the last week or so, but we are certainly proud each class had such a wonderful spirit about them. They certainly worked hard and we are proud to salute Miss Joyce Shirley, Annual Queen of 1952-53. Joyce was crowned by her escort, Dale Winget at the Stunt Night, Tuesday night. Her attendants and their escorts were: Sue Barnard, Lee Drake; Gwendolyn Jesko, Billy Paetzold; Bonnie Lewis, Wayne Smith. The Stunt Night proved to be a huge success in every phase of the word success.

Hereford started off this musical week with the presentation of the Messiah last Sunday night. Then on Monday, the High School Choir sponsored the W. T. Choir in a concert here. Then tonight the High School choir will present a Christmas concert and again Friday morning the concert will be given for the student body. So far this musical week has proved enjoyable.

Why were Patsy C. Patsy J. and Nan L. so dressed up at the W. T. choir last Monday night. Were they really interested in some certain boys that sang in the choir? Speaking of the choir, didn't you like the way Donna Erwin sang, Charles W. or was that little noise you made your way of showing you liked her?

Say have you heard the rumors going around about the girls and boys not holding hands? I don't know how true the statement is, but if it works, OK. Hey, who said anything about putting a line down the hall so the boys could walk on one side and the girls on the other. That sounds silly to me. I think the only reason for the line would be to separate the crowd so there would be less traffic jams. Whatever the results, we will be contented, I hope.

Well, we'll see all you guys and gals, next week. So Long.

Two Shotguns Are Reported Stolen

Two shotguns were reported stolen in Hereford this week. A 12-ga. Western Field pump was taken from Joe Lowrie's car when left at Hartman service station. Mr. Lowrie, City Drug pharmacist, had borrowed the gun from Kenneth Coker who had, in turn, borrowed it from his father-in-law, H. L. Reynolds of Hinton, Okla.

Theft of a shotgun and a felt hat was also reported by James E. Circle, 132 Ave. I when prowlers entered his home and took the two items.

Harman's Annual Christmas Party

Harman's Store celebrated their annual Christmas party at the Hotel Jim Hill Friday night with a buffet supper. Mrs. Dale Sherman acted as Santa Claus and distributed gifts at the party. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. John Dawson, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Casals, Mrs. Grace Little, Mrs. Louise Ferguson, Lejean Latham, A. W. Self, Jean Jones, Barbara Gabbert, Tommy Culpepper, Jim Casals, S. L. Harman Sr., Pick and Mary Harman.

BUNCH OF FRESHMEN . . . The ten pups of the official mascot of Texas A&M, Reveille II, pile up in front of mother after their births Dec. 5 at College Station. Among them are five males, five females and the vets say they are mongrel. Dr. Charles Zahn says the majority are black and white, others have more colors -- but "none of them are maroon and white." Those are the school's official colors. (AP Photo)

Visit Massey Home

Turkey talk will be the order of the day when the National Turkey Federation meets in Dallas on January 6-8, 1953. Those attending will be given the latest information on every phase of the industry and interested Texans are urged to be present.

Week-end guests in the Cecil Massey home are his mother, Mrs. H. T. Massey of Stamford; his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Massey of Bay City; and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Fields of Morton.

H. D. CHATTER

This month we would just like to get in a personal word and say "Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to you ALL." In spite of the drought we hope 1952 has been a good year for you.

The Christmas tree is one of the most cherished traditions the world over and its presence is a symbol of celebrating the holy event of Christ's birth. Let us use the evergreen trees but also use safety precautions.

Few people realize that the Christmas tree can be one of the most inflammable objects known. It is filled with pitch and resin. Once ignited it is difficult to extinguish. Not only do they burn but they burn fast.

To avoid a Christmas catastrophe here are a few suggestions: Keep the tree outside until a few days before Christmas. When you bring it in, keep it moist by cutting the trunk on a diagonal and placing the base in water. Commercial trees should be cut off 2 inches from bottom to remove paraffin seal just before placing it in water. Dust off nearby radiators. Never use lighted candles on the tree. Check the electric wiring for worn spots and loose connections. Don't overload the circuit. Be sure that none of the electric bulbs touch a branch. Turn off the tree lights when you leave the house or go to bed. Remove accumulations of gift wrapping from around tree. Use only fireproof decorations. And finally, get rid of the tree by New Year's Day. Remember 52 U. S. citizens lost their lives because of Christmas tree fires last year.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING

Candied Sweet Potatoes Are Most Essential To The Holiday Dinner

Close seconds on the holiday menu in point of essentiality are cranberries and sweet potatoes. Both native American foods, the appropriate addition to any feast. Sweet potatoes rank among the gastronomical riches of autumn and besides lending deliciousness to many dishes, they pack healthful food value inside their smooth skins. One potato gives twice the daily need for vitamin A.

Candied sweet potatoes with brown sugar and butter has grown to be a traditional method of preparation in many households, and Mrs. C. B. Williams worked out a recipe that men like when she lived on the ranch and had a lot of cooking to do. Mrs. Williams found that besides being one of the most popular ways of preparing the vegetable, candied sweet potatoes is among the most convenient ways when there are several culinary chores. Here is how she does it:

Orange-Glazed Sweet Potatoes
6 medium sized sweet potatoes or one large can 1 cup brown sugar lightly packed salt to taste
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
juice of three oranges
3 tablespoons melted butter
2 teaspoons grated orange rind

Cook washed potatoes in skins until tender, about 30 minutes, drain and peel and cut lengthwise. Place in shallow baking dish with orange rind and nutmeg and add butter/Pour orange juice over all and bake in 300-F oven for 1 1/2 or 2 hours. By the slow cooking process the potatoes take on a tender transference and richer flavor and the time element also insures mellowness underneath that golden glaze.

Party games were enjoyed and gifts were exchanged. Christmas cookies, strawberry sundaes and cakes were served at the conclusion of the party.

That routine Southwest Conference meeting last week had one reported visitor from Oklahoma University and the pros and cons that have resulted make one wonder, whether or not the officials know the tally or if the garbled press reports are purposeful. You probably recall that last May when the report on the voting in the SWC meeting leaked out, incidentally the alleged reporter is no longer a member of the board, that the conference announced very sternly that it would expand its membership by invitation only. Last May was when the energetic bids of both Texas Technological College and the University of Houston were rejected. But in spite of the invitational angle, Prof. Walter Kraft, Oklahoma University's faculty representative, put in his appearance at the SWC conference meeting and was heard. As far as is known officially about all that was accomplished was to put Oklahoma on record as wanting into the SWC. No action was taken and in fact none can be taken until the next regular session of the Southwest Conference, which will be held in Fort Worth next May, unless a special meeting is called, which is deemed unlikely. Actually there is no assurance that the matter will even arise at the May meeting. And if the big wigs are going to stick to their "invite" attitude, who knows they might invite Tech, Houston, Oklahoma or Snohomish Normal. Actually the big boulder in front of the Okies joining the SWC is the fact that they are bound by its affiliation to the North Central Accrediting Association, which is "agin" Bowl participation and has a flat ruling against athletic scholarships. Arkansas is the only SWC member who belongs to this association, all others in the conference following the Southern Association, which is much more lenient on both subjects. In fact, a lot of Razorback adherents attribute their lowly plight to this hookup. Actually the NCAA has eased off in its somewhat foolhardy clampdown on athletics which was running rife about a year ago and there is some thinking in Okie circles that the Big Seven will soften their attitude. It just might be that the Okie overture to the SWC is so designed to hasten that alleviation of pressure. It is pure conjecture to speculate on the chances of Tech entering into the SWC. Personally I think it would be a great privilege to the residents of the Panhandle and environs, to be able to view a few games of that calibre consistently with a minimum of travel and loss of time. By the benevolence of the Tech Sports News Division I was able to see several good ball games and I know a lot of other Panhandlers did likewise but it takes continuation of attractive teams, particularly SWC teams, to draw John Q. in hordes. Houston is achieving unswayable size, attendance-wise, and they're pulling in a quantity of the better ball players, although Rice and its cohorts might effectively mount a road block there. A further example of the farcical one for one foul rule turned up in the Stinnett-Price College game this week. Stinnett made 28 out of 51 foul attempts and Price canned 16 out of 48 tries. That's a total of 99 fouls in a 32 minute go, averaging better than three a minute. . . . Doesn't leave much time in one evening for basketball playing, do it???

Biscuits
The secret to light biscuits is to add just enough liquid to make a soft dough. Then mix it lightly, and just enough to combine the flour and liquid. Any hand-ling after that has a tendency to toughen the dough.

Hiccoughs
Hiccoughs can often be stopped by taking a small sip of water, holding it in the mouth until it is felt that the hiccough is approaching, then swallowing quickly.

Damp Shoes
If a little sweet oil is rubbed on shoes while they are damp, it will keep them from cracking.

The Diamond Ring
To clean the diamond ring, put a little ammonia into boiling water and add fine soap flakes. Scrub the ring with a soft hand brush, using the soap mixture. Dry in a linen handkerchief that has no lint to catch in the settings of the rings.

FILING OF DAMAGE SUITS MIGHT

End Stray Dog Troubles

Keeping dogs in town has long been a source of worry and trouble. Furthermore, there are definitely two sides to this question. You might even say they are both right.

In the first place, the City ordinances and regulations DO NOT prohibit the keeping of dogs as pets. They do include regulations, however. Licenses are required, among other things. This fact, within itself, probably answers the question. Furthermore failure of the City to properly enforce this particular ordinance now and in the past has generally been the source of most of the trouble. Failure of enforcement has resulted in bands of stray, unowned dogs -- and has definitely worked a hardship on tax payers who meet city requirements and make an honest effort to keep their dogs from molesting neighbors.

Enforcing such an ordinance is a job which every city officer shuns -- for seldom do you encounter such wrath as that of the man, woman, or child whose dog has been killed. In addition, it is a task few people care to perform. It does seem consistent, however, that it should be either enforced or revoked.

People who do keep dogs in town can do much toward eliminating some of the trouble. In addition to meeting requirements of the City ordinances, they can take precautions to see that their dogs do not consistently "live with" and generally pester neighbors. Also, when a neighbor complains they can, instead of getting mad, try to do something toward eliminating the nuisances. If dogs are worth keeping, they are certainly worth looking after and a reasonable amount of training. Few people whose dogs bother neighbors would think of letting their children be the same amount of trouble.

People who poison dogs, on the other hand, can certainly mend their ways. In the first place, some innocent child might be poisoned. It would be much easier to merely pick up a telephone, call the City Hall, and ask that steps be taken to handle the situation. If the City failed to do anything and the person "just had to go outside the bounds of the law," a gun would certainly be more humane; the dog might even be enticed into a car and slipped away on some dark night. Easier still, however, would be the filing of a damage suit against the owner. A few suits of this type might even go a long way toward straightening out a bad situation all over town.

Dog poisoning, it seems to us, is uncalled for under any circumstances. It is either the work of a coward who is afraid to face the animal's owner with facts, or it is the work of a fiend who literally enjoys seeing an animal writhe and suffer.

It's Just Part Of Cattle Business

A lot of people in the cattle business have been "taking a licking" during recent months. With some, it is serious; many are faced with considerable "set-back" along business and personal lines.

Cecil Guseman visited this week among feed-lot operators and reports much the same situation -- except that it is much more emphasized. People who contract cattle and "finish" them in mid-Western feed lots will naturally be hardest hit of all. This is more especially true in cases where cattle were contracted early, at peak prices, then delivered at rock-bottom levels on the contract.

"The bigger the operator, the harder he is hit," Mr. Guseman reported. Needless to say, many of these handlers cannot expect to break even on their operation -- including the gain which the cattle will make. The small operator, like the small operator in Deaf Smith County, will take much less loss, however. Most of these fellows feed out one or two cars of cattle on their own places, and it is doubtful if the contracted cattle will damage them too extensively. Generally speaking, not to the point of sending them into bankruptcy.

On the other hand, some of these big operators literally amassed fortunes when cattle prices rose following World War II. The situation at that time was exactly reversed, since many of the stock feeders had contracted cattle at low prices and took actual delivery on an increased market. The little operators went along on this gain on a smaller scale. Scores of Hereford cattle men at that time gritted their teeth, gulped twice -- and delivered their cattle as contracted.

When you sum it up, everything boils down to the fact that the cattle business, on a large scale, is sometimes hazardous. Occasionally, cattlemen clean up; again, they lose everything.

It's just part of the cattle business.

Another interesting sidelight is the fact that while many of these advance sales to stock feeders are actually written contracts, quite a few are in the form of oral agreements. Strangely enough, one large operator said, "I'd rather have that oral agreement on one of those fellows than a written contract. Those boys just never go back on their word."

This, too, seems to be "just part of the cattle business."

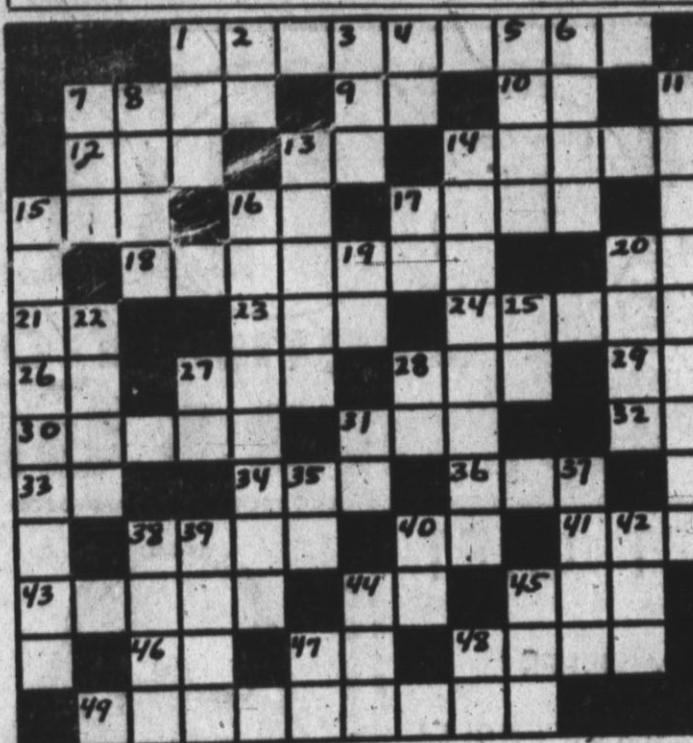

The Old Days

In the more-or-less good old days, the farm surplus was disposed of by uninvited kinsfolk from the city who swarmed around the farmer's table for Sunday dinner. -- Olin Miller in Atlanta Journal.

Palpably

"There are about 10,000 tax collectors in the United States." --Statistic. This estimate is palpably in error. There are more filling station operators than that in almost any state. --St. Louis Star-Times.

I'll Never Forget

BY CLARA SHORE

My family moved to this country in early pioneer days, and I was born in Amarillo and was raised on the Brady Ranch six miles east of town and there are many interesting memories of this childhood place.

I have a vivid memory of how we used to get our supplies before there was a "Hereford."

We had to go to Amarillo about twice a year, and this was a big event in my life.

The family always made the trip in a buggy and the covered wagon went along to bring back the supplies. Flour was brought in by the 100 pounds in barrels and everything in large quantities.

I'll never forget the big round up we had in the spring of 1897, here in this Hereford area. My father had 21 sections fenced all in one pasture right around here where Hereford now is.

In those days, everyone had cattle and when it was round up time, everyone helped one another and I always looked forward to a big round up and branding because there was always lots of good food.

I remember my father always had greyhound and stag hound dogs around. At that time, there were lots of antelope in this country and one day my brother, Wes Brady, and I were playing around out in our yard. Our house was along the creek and between some hills. We saw several antelopes standing at the top of one of these hills, so Wes and I told the dogs to get 'em, so they took out after them, and were soon out of sight. In about an hour our father came down the hill with a worried look and said these dogs had attacked an antelope up there on the hill and he had had to kill it. It was against the game preserve law to kill antelopes.

Well, Wes and I kept mum, scared to tell why the dogs had attacked the antelope. We just knew our father would have to go to jail. However, we finally told and he wasn't out of humor with us.

Another incident that happened with us and the dogs was something else I shall never forget. These dogs meant a lot to us, they were what we played with most. We took some gunny sacks and made a harness for them and trained them to pull our little wagon for us. My father said to let Wes ride in the wagon and I could walk, for I was too heavy for the dogs to pull. So, one day we had our dogs pulling our little wagons and a rabbit jumped up -- well, that was too much, we had a runaway and a tear up and a bump up. Poor Wes, he bounced and banged along in the little wagon until it overturned and the harness and wagon were torn to pieces.

Maybe the main event was when we got our railroad through this country in 1898. The railroad was so rough they couldn't run passenger trains over it for a while. My father shipped some cattle to Amarillo and we rode in the caboose. This was a big thing to me. We had bought candy at D. R. Gass' store, which was the nin a tent, until their building was finished. My candy sack burst and all my candy rolled out the window near where I was sitting, but I was too excited to care.

Our first school in Hereford was a one room building which had been moved here from Dawn and located near what is now known as W. E. Dameron Memorial Park. I stayed with the late Troy Womble and his wife and attended this school. Mr. Martin, brother of the late Mrs. Askins, was my teacher.

We were really happy when our new high school building was completed. It was what is now known as the Central School. Mr. Overstreet was our first superintendent. When I had finished the tenth grade in that building, I attended Hereford Christian College and that was the year we organized our first basketball team. I played center and our uniforms were white middy blouses with a large black bow and really full black satin bloomers, which came to below the knees.

Our first conference game was at Goodnight, which we lost. Our Glee Club entered this conference and we came out second.

Another of my life I remember was Prince, who was my little roan horse. He was dear to me. Every place I went I rode my roan horse. We didn't have cars, so Prince was my means of going and again Wes was a big part. We always went together on Prince and his horse was Pinto.

Lan H. Shore and I were married May 8, 1910 and then in 1911, Lan bought some cows from my mother, Mrs. Brady and this started our cattle business.

Panhandle Paragraphs

Jimmie Nichols, owner of the Valley View water system and Chevrolet dealership, has just completed a water system that is modern in every respect and one that is capable of serving a city of 5,000 inhabitants.

Until the donation of this water system, the water works consisted of an old wooden storage tank, which served the city from 1915 until the new plant was completed.

C. M. Woodbury, City Manager of Roswell, had the city police warn citizens not to leave their keys in their car ignitions during the Christmas holidays because of the danger of theft.

The next day Woodbury left his own ignition key in his car and, sure enough, it was stolen, giving Roswell citizens proof that what he said was good advice.

The Stateline Tribune found that people really read the ads when they made a mistake in a recent issue. They advised people to shop at a local store "where you pay more for less!" The word pay should have been "buy." After considerable ribbing, the owner of the store said "Well, at least somebody is reading the ad." The Tribune was beginning to feel soothed as someone said "Aw, everybody makes a little mistake once in a while."

The Lockney area reports that cotton harvest is 95% complete in the area, but should be completed soon.

Bob (Frank Buck) Roach, Sr., of Shamrock, had in mind bagging a few quail when he went hunting on Thursday afternoon of last week, but instead, he returned home with a 22 pound bobcat. Roach killed the bobcat with a 12-gauge shotgun on the O. B. Harvey Sr., ranch, 10 miles west and mile south of Shamrock.

The Christmas spirit has apparently invaded the world of petty thieves at Littlefield. Unidentified persons about a week ago, made off with $150 worth of Christmas trees from Renfro Grocery and distributed them at random to the homes in Duggan addition, according to their Police Chief.

Members of the Kiwanis of Uvalde have started their solicitation for food, clothing and toys for the club's third annual Christmas party for needy families of Uvalde.

Mitchell County's second irrigation well, pumping more than 1,100 gallons per minute, was reported on John Mahon's acreage 10 miles southeast of Colorado City.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his farm won't get anywhere with the odd idea he has this week, but he never does anyway.

I know that the people have voted for a change, but before we cut loose from Washington entirely and start shifting for ourselves again, without of course giving up social security and pensions and price supports and RFC loans and Federal highways and flood control program and government school lunches, there is one point I'd like to get into the general permanent program.

It didn't come up in the campaign and I don't know how anybody in Washington stands on it, but what I would like to see is a government program to finance Christmas gifts.

Like it is now, Christmas, financially speaking, is about as hazardous as farmin or ranchin. A man don't anymore know wheather he's gonna break even on it than he knows when he puts a crop in the ground in the spring whether he's gonna come out ahead or behind next fall.

I ain't talking about the original Christmas spirit, I'm talkin about the practical one confrontin most people right now, the one of swappin gifts among your acquaintance and kinfolks. Understand, I think the practical one is a fine idea, it's pleasant and upliftin to exchange gifts, a fine human custom that's wholesome, but you got to consider the practical side of the matter. This idea of taking care of everybody on your list in a manner you figure they're gonna take care of you, or as nearly as you can estimate can sweep a man off his feet and before he knows it he's in the hole and way overdrawn and all he's got to show for it is some knickknacks he ain't got much use for.

What the government ought to do is allit some money for every citizen at Christmas time, after all, the spirit of giving ought to be as wholesome for the government as it is for individual. We send money to Washington all the time without any questions asked, it looks like once a year Washington could break down and return the favor.

I don't know how this ought to be arranged, but I imagine we got plenty of experts in Washington who could figure out a satisfactory program and I wouldn't haggle over the method just si my check git here on time. What ever the amount was, that's the amount a man would spend for Christmas gifts.

Under this system, when your wife complained over what she got, all you'd have to do is say, don't blame me, it's them shortsighted bureaucrats in Washington.

If you think this system has any merit, let's get busy on it. Christmas is almost here.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Will You Be One Of These

Holiday Accidents To Claim 105 Lives

Statistics seldom ever lie. However, in the case of the following release, we hope the statistician's face turns red and that he has to apologize. However, we doubt if it will happen.

The release is date-lined "Austin, Texas, Dec. 15," and reads:

"Two hundred and two persons are slated to meet violent deaths in Texas during the Christmas-New Year's Holidays if the estimate of the Texas Department of Public Safety is correct.

"N. K. Warner, statistician, says that for the 10 day period from 12:01 a. m. on Dec. 23 to midnight of Jan. 1, 105 persons will die in traffic accidents in the state; 55 will meet violent deaths due to miscellaneous causes such as fires, drownings and explosions; another 42 will be victim of suicides and homicides."

Since "driving too fast" causes a majority of traffic accidents and, with more than half of the fatalities expected to happen on Texas highways, it behooves every person who plans a holiday trip to stop and think twice before he exceeds the legal speed limits. Also, to ask himself the question, "Do I want some member of my family to be in the fatal 105."

Kiwanians Net $750 On Radio Auction Sunday

Reporting a net of around $750 from their first annual Radio Auction, members of the Kiwanis Club said that total sales on the venture were $952.21. The auction started at 1:45 and continued until 5:45 Sunday afternoon with club members serving as auctioneers and telephone bid-takers.

In addition to confirming sales over the radio, letters have also been mailed to each successful bidder, Pat Sullivan, president, said. "When you get your letter, take it with a check for the amount, to the merchant listed and get your merchandise," he continued.

Actual retail value of the merchandise sold was listed at approximately $1,170 thus giving the buyers an average saving of around 20 percent under retail price. One item, an electric coffee maker, listed at $13.95 retail price, brought $15 -- a bonus of $1.05.

Items were donated to the auction by merchants as a means of advertising.

Streu's Diary

December 19, 1952

DEAR DIARY:

This will probably be the last entry for the year 1952, since we plan to close Christmas Eve and re-open after inventory on January 2nd -- or thereabouts. Of course, we will be broadcasting over KPAN daily at 2:30 until Christmas. In fact we will have a special Christmas program Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. Tune in, you'll enjoy it. Things have come to a pretty pass when a firm has to advertise its advertising!

Have had lots of folks in to see the RCA Victor Television sets -- but no buyers -- most folks prefer to wait until the Amarillo stations go on the air -- so that they will have something to see -- and -- much as I would like to sell some sets, they are pretty smart at that. We are selling lots of radios, record players and combinations -- and worlds of records -- which make ideal gifts -- for months and years to come.

Still have a complete assortment of Model toys -- scale models of famous contractor's equipment for the boy contractor -- and Lionel electric trains and accessories -- and air rifles -- and dozens of other good substantial toys that will last.

I wouldn't try to list all the hundreds of gift items for the ladies -- new things are still coming in most every day -- and I suppose they will continue to arrive after the holiday season, too. I have never seen as much or as many things in all my life -- and I must admit that many of them are rather pretty and some plumb useful -- for junk, that is.

Don't know just why I should spend time listing items this late in the season -- those of you who haven't completed your shopping by the time you read this, only have three days left -- and you will probably grab the first thing that comes handy, anyway -- but come in, and we will do our best to help you -- and we still gift wrap (if we have any gift-wrap material left).

Enough of the mundane things, now -- and away with foolishness.

We searched thru all the stores in town.

We turned the city upside-down.

To find a card that would express

Our gratitude and thankfulness.

For having had the whole year through.

Friends as wonderful as you.

--and that is our feeling toward each of you this Christmas season -- and all of us at Streu's wish each of you -- whoever and wherever you may be --

A VERY MERRY CHRISTMAS

AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR.

In February, 1912, we lived 11 miles east of town and our coal supply

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Phillip Celebrate 25th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Phillip were surprised Sunday when a group of relatives arranged a get together honoring their 25th wedding anniversary. Mrs. Phillip was also celebrating her birthday Sunday.

Those present were Mrs. Rosa Matthews, Fred Hiltburner, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Peters and children, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Beckman, Mrs. Stanley Phillip.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip were married in St. Anthony's Catholic church here on December 10, 1907. They have made their home in Hereford except for a few months spent in Gainesville.

They have two children; Stanley Phillip and Mrs. Louis Beckman, and one granddaughter, Renee Beckman.

Daughter is Born

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Bainum of Friona have announced the birth of a daughter born Friday December 12 at Friona. The baby has been named Connie Dale.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kendall of Hereford and the paternal grandfather is Mrs. Mary Bainum of Friona.

In the afternoon the snow was still blowing so hard and drifting more and more, but Lan felt that we had to see about the stock. He found the yard fence post and used it to guide him around to the barn where he found the horses practically covered up with the snow. He shoveled the snow off them and saved one wagon team. We finally resorted to some prairie wood which we had in storage on the back porch. This kept us from suffering with the extreme cold.

The next day was warm enough for us to go to town and get some coal, but in a few days we had another blizzard. We had to use the cook stove to keep us warm, we didn't have a heater, but we got along all right this time.

We later moved to a place on the creek known as the Tom Ivory place, and we really enjoyed this place, fishing, hunting and picnicking with our friends.

We had two children, Florene, now Mrs. Aaren Rise and living in Kermit and Zelma Ruth, who is Mrs. D. C. Laird Jr., now living in Vanderbilt, Texas.

It wasn't all bad, we always had some good along with the bad and there were better years ahead along with the bad ones.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD R. SMITH

Miss Ruth Ann Terry Weds Richard R. Smith At Church

Miss Ruth Ann Terry became the bride of Richard Ronald Smith in a simple ceremony witnessed by close friends and relatives in the sanctuary of the Methodist church Tuesday evening at 5 o'clock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Terry of this city. Mr. Smith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Smith of San Antonio.

Rev. T. Edgar Neal, pastor, read the ceremony as the couple stood before the altar banked with greenery, accented with baskets of pink and yellow chrysanthemums and seven branched candelabra holding white wedding tapers. Mrs. Bill Stanford at the organ, provided the traditional wedding music. Ushers were the bride's brother, Bruce Terry and David Wertenberger.

The bride chose a white net frock over pastel blue satin, made with tight fitting bodice and full ballerina length skirt. Her veil of matching net was held in place by a coronet of satin and net. The bridal bouquet was a single white orchid surrounded by rosebuds.

Reception in Ward Hall. Following the wedding a small reception was held in Ward Hall. Miss Jackie Wright and Mrs. O. Wertenberger assisted in serving refreshments.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to San Antonio, the bride was wearing a charcoal knit suit with black accessories. The orchid was lifted from the wedding bouquet for her corsage.

Following the honeymoon trip Mr. Smith will return to Toccoa, Washington, where he is stationed with the Air Force. He is a graduate of San Antonio High School and has served in the Air Force one year.

Mrs. Smith is a graduate of

THE MAGICIAN

BY LEE FALK & PHIL DAVIS

WHEN THE JEWEL THIEVES WHO KIDNAPPED NARDA ARE PURSUED BY POLICE, THEY DRIVE OVER A CLIFF INTO THE SEA. A DIVER FINDS THE MACHINE--

THE MOTORCYCLE IS PULLED OUT OF THE SEA.

THEY STEAL A MILLION IN JEWELS--THEN THIS! IT DOESN'T MAKE SENSE.

WELL--NO SIGN OF THE BODIES. THEY'RE GONE--GUESS THE--FISH GOT THEM. WE MIGHT AS WELL GIVE UP.

NO SIGN OF THE JEWEL SACK, EITHER--

I WON'T BELIEVE THAT NARDA'S DEAD--THERE'S SOMETHING STRANGE ABOUT THIS--SAY! THIS IS THE SPOT WHERE NARDA CLAIMED SHE SAW A FACE UNDER WATER--WHILE SHE WAS SPEAR-FISHING--

--THE SAME FACE, SHE SAID, AS ONE OF THE GUARDS WHO LATER KIDNAPPED HER! AND I WOULDN'T BELIEVE HER.

I BELIEVE HER NOW! I'M GOING DOWN--TO HAVE A LOOK--
