ONE UNMASKED MAN ROBBS BANK AT BUDA PEACE PARADE OPENS LEGION MEETING IN PARIS

HISTORIC ARCH IS OPENED FOR U. S. VETERANS

CHEERS OF THOUSANDS GREET EX-SOLDIERS, ENVOYS OF PEACE (By Associated Press) PARIS, Sept. 19.—Four thousand men of the American Legion who fought in France, and many of their women folk, today marched in a great parade under the Arc de Triomphe in honor of the Unknown Soldier placed, red, white and blue flowers around his grave.

It was the third time in French history that the Arc de Triomphe has been opened to a foreign body.

The flowers were laid in reverence and formed a fragrant wall around and virtually covering the unknown's tomb.

Viewed by Dignitaries The procession of Americans, returning in peace to the streets where they had once marched in the grim days of war, started from the Place de la Concorde, through the Arc de Triomphe and then down the Champs Elysees to the Place de la Concorde where the Unknown Soldier was placed, red, white and blue flowers around his grave.

The veterans' marching order was splendid, bringing marked approval from the immense crowd of on-lookers who lined the beautiful avenues.

Weather Threatening The crowds were late in gathering to see the Legion parade because of rainy and threatening weather, but the fairer prospect of the day weather improved and roads, sidewalks, windows and every available point of vantage were occupied.

The youthful appearance of the American war veterans appealed strongly to the French population. They do not seem to have grown a whit older," was the comment heard several times.

The American Legion auxiliary units—the Legionettes' women, also came in for many cheers.

Leaders Accorded Great Applause PALAIS DU TROCADERO, Paris, Sept. 19.—With a tremendous roar of applause and cheers from the 4,000 delegates for President Doumergue, Marshal Foch, General Pershing and National Commander Howard P. Savage, the ninth convention of the American Legion was opened at 9:30 o'clock this morning in the famous Trocadero.

New Orleans Cotton Breaks 100 Points NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 19.—Cotton prices broke 100 points today following an early advance. The main depressing influence was the weakness in stocks, fear of foreign and the demoralized condition of this speculative element due to last week's sharp decline. The break occurred in the last half hour of trading when December sold off to 29.60, compared with 21.60 the morning's high. The market rallied a few points in the late trading but the undertone continued weak.

The market declined further in the final trading making new lows for the day, 104 points below the early high and 79 points under Saturday's close. The market closed at the lows.

Cats Play Double Header Tomorrow The Hubbers and ex-Cats will play a double header tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Joe Pat or "Lefty" Williams will pitch for the ex-Cats in the first game and the second game will be tossed by "Lefty" Goodbro, baseball columnist, and a fair tosser.

Patton recently signed with the Philadelphia American will hurl the first game for the Hubbers.

Tech Heads Retain Two Bids Out Of 14 On $240,000 Engineering Building

In The Legion Limelight—Welcome Given Yanks As Convention Opens Contract Will Be Awarded Today In Meeting Of Board

PRESIDENT DOUMERGUE

France and America again clasped hands when the annual convention of the American Legion got under way in Paris today. Gaston Doumergue, president of France, and Howard P. Savage, national commander of the American Legion, sat together on the platform and cheered for French and American alike.

HOWARD P. SAVAGE

With the awarding of the general construction contract lying between the Simpson Construction company of Lubbock and the J. E. Morgan company of El Paso, Texas Tech's new $240,000 engineering building will be erected in exact accordance with the plans of Architect Wyatt C. Hedrick without the necessity of change in the originally specified size, shape or materials. That was the announcement made this afternoon, following a meeting of the board of regents building committee, when bids on the new building were opened this morning.

Fourteen general contractors entered bids on the building and with but two exceptions their cost estimates were between $184,125 and $268,500. The Simpson company was low, with a bid of $184,125, closely followed by the Morgan company with $184,420. Representatives of the two concerns were called into conference with the regent committee at 2:30 this afternoon when the awarding of the contract was to have been made.

Two Bids Accepted Johnson and Davis with a bid of $7,145 was awarded the plumbing contract and Young and Pratt's bid of $10,214 secured for that firm the heating rights. Representative of the Broome Electric company and the American Automatic Appliance company, low bidders on the wiring contract, were requested to appear before the committee this afternoon when the contract will be formally let. The Broome company's bid was $12,673 and the American's was $12,688.

Members of the committee said at noon that they were highly pleased with the figures submitted. The closeness of the estimates and bidders alike as being nothing short of remarkable. The following are the bids as submitted:

GENERAL CONSTRUCTION D. N. Leaverton 205,182.70; R. E. Ball, $195,700; J. R. Horn and Sons, $205,960; H. H. Shell and Son, $196,140; Simpson $184,125; E. C. Palmer, $205,900; James T. Taylor, $199,840; W. G. Windsor, $202,750; H. W. Underhill, $204,000; Ramsey

JENSEN PLANE IS STILL LOST

DOLE FLIER WITH LION UNACCOUNTED FOR ON NEW YORK HOP

(By Associated Press) LOS ANGELES, Sept. 19.—The monoplane of Martin Jensen, of Dole flight fame, transporting the motion picture lion, Leo, on a non-stop flight from San Diego to New York, still was unaccounted for today by its sponsors the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Motion Picture company.

Jensen was reported by the company as having been seen last just before noon Friday, less than two hours after the hop off. He had expected to arrive in New York at noon Saturday. The company reported that he was seen passing Jaqueline, in the San Bernardino mountains, and over Disneyland, Calif., at the eastern foot of the same coastal range. His course from there was over the stretches of the Colorado desert and the Arizona semi-mountain ranges.

Search Unsuccessful The film company yesterday had seven planes searching the planned course of the lion-bearing plane, but they returned to their base last night after finding no trace of it. The company officials did not indicate if the planes would be sent out again today to continue the search. They said Jensen had food and water enough to last about three days if he had been forced down.

Sudden Attack Is Fatal To Publisher DUNKIRK, N. Y., Sept. 19.—Eudolph Kauffman, publisher and managing editor of the Washington, D. C., Star, died unexpectedly at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Lewis N. Murray, on a westlake road, near here today. Death was believed to have been caused by heart trouble.

Mr. Kauffman came to his daughter's home about three weeks ago. He was 74 years old.

Youth Injured By Auto Some Better San Antonio Banker Dies Sunday Night

(By Associated Press) HOUSTON, Sept. 19.—Further checks on loan sharks will be planned at a meeting of the committee appointed at the special session of the legislature, which will be held Tuesday to Saturday in the council chamber at the Houston city hall, Senator J. W. Hall, chairman of the committee will preside.

All those interested, whether employer, employee, banker, business man, even broker or loan broker, are invited to attend and suggest remedies. The findings and recommendations of the committee will be turned over to the legislature for its guidance in enacting new loan shark laws.

(By The Associated Press) BERLIN, Sept. 19.—Germany's challenge to her late enemies on the subject of war guilt, as broadcast by President Von Hindenburg at the dedication of the Tannenberg battle memorial was received generally today as a prelude to a more vigorous campaign for the moral rehabilitation of the Reich in the eyes of the world.

Time has not softened the sting of paragraph 231 of the treaty of Versailles, which declares that the war was forced on the Allied powers by Germany and her allies, and which has been ever since denounced from public platform, press and pulpit here as an untruth to which the German signatories were forced to subscribe under duress.

KIMES GIVEN DEATH TODAY

YOUNG BANDIT MUST PAY WITH LIFE FOR BEGG'S EPISODE

(By Associated Press) OKMULGEE, Okla., Sept. 19.—Matthew Kimes, youthful Oklahoma outlaw, today was sentenced to death by an Okmulgee county district court jury that convicted him for murder for his alleged part in a double bank robbery at Beggs in which police Chief W. J. McAnally was killed.

The jury found Kimes guilty late yesterday but disagreed on the punishment that should be meted him. After ten hours of deliberation the jurors reported this morning that they were hopelessly disagreed, 11 to 1, on the degree of punishment.

Ordered To Continue District Judge James Hayes, however, instructed them to continue their deliberations and the verdict was returned a few minutes later. Judge Hayes had not yet decided when Kimes will be sentenced.

The state immediately began with the trial of Roy Brandon, a cripple, who is being tried for the same crime. Brandon has asked for a change of venue to Creek county and the argument of this petition started immediately.

Committee Opens Loan Sharks Probe HOUSTON, Sept. 19.—Further checks on loan sharks will be planned at a meeting of the committee appointed at the special session of the legislature, which will be held Tuesday to Saturday in the council chamber at the Houston city hall, Senator J. W. Hall, chairman of the committee will preside.

Home Brew Blast Rocks City Court ALEXANDER, La., Sept. 19.—Police headquarters and city court officials were frightened by an explosion today in the office of Chief of Police Don Legg shortly before the time for the court to open. Many at first feared the place had been bombed but investigation revealed the blast had been caused by the explosion of two dozen bottles of home brew seized in recent weeks. Glass was scattered far and wide, but no one was hurt.

PERMIT GRANTED A building permit was issued Saturday afternoon to the Neches Finance company for the erection of a 4-room residence in Highland Heights. The structure will cost $250.

Snow Is Falling In Fergus Falls FERGUS FALLS, Minn., Sept. 19.—Big snow flakes, accompanied by light rain, began falling here today.

Greater Part Of State Affected DALLAS, Sept. 19.—Hiding up on a high wind the first "norther" of autumn struck Texas late yesterday and sent the mercury tumbling thirty and more degrees over the greater part of the state.

In Dallas the temperature yesterday afternoon stood at 94 and early today it had topped to 56. The cool wave was accompanied by rain in many parts of the state.

WINTER SENDS FIRST WARNING IN COLD SPELL

MERCURY TUMBLES TO 54 TODAY; SHOWERS FALL AT INTERVALS

Winter has sent its mild warning. Accompanied by a slight rainfall of .06 of an inch, the temperature dropped from 82 yesterday morning to 54 this morning, according to official record of the government experiment station, 3 miles east of Lubbock.

Sweeping low from the north-west, a cool wind pushing considerable sand inconspicuously entered into the atmosphere of a pleasant day shortly before noon Sunday, and the morning replete with sunshine and warmth was transferred into semi-winter weather. The thermometer dropping steadily, clouds gathered throughout the afternoon and rain started about 9 o'clock last night, continuing till about midnight.

Remaining in its course this morning about 8 o'clock, the canopy of gray clouds, dropped a slight shower over Lubbock and the country which continued in heavy fashion for about three hours.

Colleagues were donning sweaters, slickers and top coats today, while straw hats were universally taboo. Furnishing laughable contrast, an occasional combination of straw hat and overcoat was seen.

Heavy Rains North Big drivers returning from Amarillo today report heavy rains on the highway to the north, and similar reports come from Sweetwater, Lamesa was under a heavy rain, while cars coming into the city from the east and west indicate that the rainfall was fairly general over the South Plains.

MEXICO TOWN UNDER WATER

RAILROAD CENTER IS ENTIRELY CUT OFF FROM OUTSIDE

(By Associated Press) MEXICO CITY, Sept. 19.—Submerged under eight feet of water, Acambaro, important railroad center in the state of Guanajuato, has been completely isolated from the rest of Mexico since yesterday morning.

Rushing waters from the flooded Lerma river carried down telephone and telegraph posts and destroyed numerous adobe houses, making hundreds of families homeless.

Rains Continuing News from the flooded area is lacking because of interrupted communications and the continuance of torrential rains increasing the raging river current.

Railway headquarters at Mexico City reported that the Acambaro railroad forces strove gallantly to save the railway equipment. Beginning Saturday afternoon when an avalanche of water rushed over the city until Sunday morning when their position became untenable, the railroad men struggled to keep the flood waters from sweeping over equipment and into the railroad buildings but without success.

Relief Impossible Relief for Acambaro is impossible until the waters subside. The estimate of damage were incomplete but it was believed that they would be heavy.

Reports from the west coast of Mexico indicate that it is still being swept by storms which are moving northward.

Four Women Hurt As Auto Turns Turtle DALLAS, Sept. 19.—Four women were injured Monday seven miles from Dallas on the Cleburne road, when their automobile overturned and rolled down an embankment. They were brought to the home of Dallas friends, whom they intended visiting.

The injured are: Mrs. Jack Nussbaum and Miss Dorothy Nussbaum, both bruised and lacerated about the face and body.

Mrs. H. Scharss, leg lacerated and body bruised.

Miss Ida Goldberg, bruised and lacerated.

Hearing Is Set In Slaying Near Troup TROUP, Texas, Sept. 19.—Examining trial is set Wednesday for Omar Eldson of Blackhawk, who was arrested in connection with the slaying Saturday night of Alton Mayfield, 35, farmer.

Mayfield was killed while on the front porch of Eldson's home. A load from a shot gun struck him in the face.

GERMANY'S CHALLENGE ON WAR GUILT IS VIEWED AS PRELUDE IN BIG CAMPAIGN

(By The Associated Press) BERLIN, Sept. 19.—Germany's challenge to her late enemies on the subject of war guilt, as broadcast by President Von Hindenburg at the dedication of the Tannenberg battle memorial was received generally today as a prelude to a more vigorous campaign for the moral rehabilitation of the Reich in the eyes of the world.

Time has not softened the sting of paragraph 231 of the treaty of Versailles, which declares that the war was forced on the Allied powers by Germany and her allies, and which has been ever since denounced from public platform, press and pulpit here as an untruth to which the German signatories were forced to subscribe under duress.

Claim Self Defense The claim in his speech yesterday declared that Germany had unsheathed the sword with a pure conscience and in self defense. The memory of those Germans who fell fighting for the freedom of their country, and the honor of those still living, he said, "unjoin me here and now to declare solemnly: The accusation that Germany was responsible for this greatest of all wars is hereby repudiated. Germany is ready at any moment to prove this fact before impartial judges."

His declaration was frantically applauded. The speech was preceded by a dramatic reunion with General Ludendorff, the nationalist whom the president had not received at any previous function since his elevation to the head of the republic.

Not Mere Coincidence The comment was heard today that it may be more than mere coincidence that Von Hindenburg's repudiation of Germany's war guilt coincides with the presence on Eduard Saubert of 20,000 or more American war veterans.

Even without this, the president's pronouncement would be important.

Moody Evasive Refuses To Talk On Subjects Of Political Nature

(By The Associated Press) AUSTIN, Sept. 19.—The Farmers National bank of Buda was robbed Monday morning by a lone bandit, a heavy set man ordering the cashier, F. A. Jamison and his assistant, W. M. Woods, into a rear room, while he leisurely scooped up approximately $1,100 in twenty, ten and five dollar bills.

The robbery occurred at 9:10 a. m., immediately after the bank had opened for the day's business. The robber came in, pulled out his gun and shouted: "Stick 'em up and be quick about it."

Cashier Jamison complied and marched into a back room with Woods at the bandit's order.

The bandit took all the money in sight and walked out of the bank. Jamison and Woods conferred in whispers, and just as they had decided it was safe to come out of the room, the bandit appeared at a rear window of the bank and ordered them to "sit down and shut up."

The bandit then got into a small coupe, in which an accomplice was waiting, and the pair drove away toward Austin.

The bank was robbed last December, Mrs. Rebecca Bradley, Rose of Austin, being charged in that connection.

Rangers Go to Scene Ranger Captains Hanner and Aldrich, Privates Owsen, McCoy, Hightower, and Sergeant Wheatley left here in automobiles for Buda. They were heavily armed.

This was the second similar robbery in Central Texas within a month, the University bank, Austin, having been robbed of $26,500 in cash and securities on August 22.

Loss Thought Heavier The bank was closed on order of President Carrington and a check-up begun to determine the loss. The first estimate of $1,100 was regarded as conservative.

Officers were dispatched from the Austin police department to guard the main road leading from Buda to Austin and as far west as San Marcos. Texas rangers also hurried to Buda.

Duval said he had not been charged with robbing the bank last December. She has not been tried yet.

Corrupt Practices Charge Is Denied (By Associated Press) INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 19.—John Duval of Indianapolis, testifying today in his trial on charges of violating the corrupt practices act, denied that he ever had promised William H. Armitage, local politician the privilege of naming persons for city offices in exchange for $10,000 and Armitage's support at the polls.

Duval said he had not discussed the matter of appointments with Armitage prior to the 1925 primary, the time the prosecution charged the mayor with having made an agreement with Armitage. Duval described Armitage as having sought him rather than he having asked Armitage for his support.

Duval said he had known Armitage only three years and that the first political conversation he had with him occurred just a few days before the 1925 primary. He said he met Armitage at the latter's request in a hotel and at that time they discussed the political situation.

Brother Of Local Man Reported Safe James Robnett of Brownwood, brother of E. Y. Robnett, professor at Texas Tech, was not drowned at Galveston, as originally feared, but instead is aboard the United Fruit company boat, Castilla, enroute to Guatemala, the Brownwood Bulletin has announced.

Young Robnett, according to the Bulletin, radiogramed his mother, Mrs. Vida Robnett of Brownwood, that he is safe and enroute to Guatemala, but did not explain his mysterious disappearance from the Galveston bath house, where his clothing was found on September 10. A wide search followed his disappearance. The young man is 23 years old and has been engaged in publicity work in Houston.

Flood Control Is Problem For Nation WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—President Coolidge was declared to be favorable towards the proposal to make the Mississippi river flood control problem a national responsibility by members of the tri-state flood control executive committee which called today at the White House.

In an hour's conference at the White House, the committee described the devastation caused by the flood and urged that the national government adopt a program to prevent another disaster.

Governor J. E. Martin of Arkansas, chairman of the committee, estimated that a total appropriation of $500,000,000 would be required to check the Mississippi flood.

Chinese Execute Many Criminals

SHANGHAI, Sept. 19 (AP)—Within a few weeks in July approximately 100 Chinese criminals were executed here by Nanking military authorities. Most of them, condemned by the now defunct international mixed court, were armed robbers or kidnapers. They had been held in the international settlement jail for some months, pending readiness of the Nanking military to take charge of their cases.

Executions here attract little attention as the militarists carry them out almost daily at their headquarters on the edge of the French and international settlement.

Moonshiners Are Hunted By Irish

GLENEGANNON, Ireland, Sept. 18 (AP)—The mountaineers of West Virginia and Kentucky have nothing on the mountaineers of Ireland when it comes to making moonshine, only here they call it poteen. Poteen is white whiskey, manufactured mostly from barley and sometimes from potatoes. The Irish civic guards, who are also revenue officers, look for columns of smoke in searching for poteen stills. The Irish mountaineer is also a postmaster in the art of camouflaging. His barrels are carefully concealed under mounds of sod.

Miss Beulah Dunn, who is ill with typhoid fever in Dubuque, Iowa, seemed to have been a little better last night, her mother, Mrs. R. F. Dunn, 1867 5th street, said today. Miss Mary Dunn, who is at the bedside of her sister, wired that although Miss Dunn's fever has been running from 104 to 105 degrees, it is in this regard that the contractors are being called before the committee this afternoon. The state appropriated a total of $240,000 for the engineering building and the bids as they now stand, including an $11,900 fee to the Wyatt C. Fordrick Architectural company of Fort Worth and Houston, call for a total expenditure of $251,750. The additions to be made will probably call for minor improvements and make the total expenditure nearer the $240,000 mark.

Members of the Board of Regents making up the building committee are chairman G. C. Conover, McKinney banker; Houston, Harris, San Angelo newspaper publisher, and Henry T. Kimbro of Lubbock. President P. W. Horn and Business Manager E. W. Provence sat with the committee in the meetings at the Architect Wyatt C. Fordrick.

Both are slender, sandy headed, smooth complexioned, receding, unafflicted and dashing. The Governor's smile is meaningful and much like Lindbergh's.

Chatting with friends and members of the "press" in the reception room of the Hotel Lubbock he turned what might have been an official reception into a smoker. In superiority complex vanished, the Governor would discuss anything but politics with anybody, and all felt comfortable and at home. No warden would want to call him "Dad."

Washday Blues Are Eliminated

BIRMINGHAM, Eng., Sept. 19 (AP)—Much of the dreariness and "blues" of the family washday will be eliminated for housewives by Birmingham's municipal laundry, largest of its kind in the world, in which a washing which ordinarily required a whole day will consume less than two hours.

Two Day Free Fair At Paducah Soon

PADUCAH, Sept. 17.—Cottle county will have a two day free fair at Paducah October 4 and 5. A series of good will trips, covering 22 community centers of the trade territory, are being made by the Chamber of Commerce accompanied by the Chamber of Commerce band. A band concert is given at each place and this is followed by short talks by members of the caravan and local men. A community fair committee is usually organized at the close of such affairs.

Management of the county fair is strongly favoring organized community exhibits rather than individual exhibitions. Nine hundred dollars have been contributed by merchants of Paducah to make up the necessary awards so that no charges for gate fees or entries will have to be made.

The Cottle county division of the Green Belt Poultry association will hold their poultry show in connection with the fair. A fee will be required for this, as rules of the Belt association is composed of Cottle, Childress, Hardeman, Wilbarger and Ford counties.

Despite Cramped Feet Milady Yet Buys Small Shoe

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (AP)—The desire for small feet is by no means confined to the women of China, judging from the report just issued by the American Home Economics association on effects of various types of shoes on the feet of high school students.

A survey made by Professor Katherine Cranor of Iowa State college and by Madie Eastwood Little, covering 311 high school girls showed that shoes both too short and too narrow were worn by 252. Only 28 wore correct length and 14 correct width shoes.

The shoes were examined as to type, length and width. Next the feet were measured and examined for defects. Only one student was found to have normal feet.

Despite the fact that high school girls are supposed to be of flapper age and fashion, the investigators did not find the high heel much in evidence. Oxford's were most commonly worn, though the older girls wore pumps frequently. Only about 75 per cent of the shoes had been fitted at the retailers when purchased.

"BATTLE OF OPEN LETTERS" IMPENDS IN HEAVYWEIGHT SCRAP

"FIXED" FIGHT OF LAST YEAR CALLED UP

DEMPSY OPENS WEDGE WITH RELEASE OF LETTER TODAY

By ALAN J. GOULD, Associated Press Sports Editor

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—With both fighters pronounced "in the pink" their training camps completed except for a few light and artistic finishing touches, the three-day interval before the Dempsey-Tunney heavyweight championship battle Thursday promised today to develop into a "battle of open letters."

The opening salvo of literary broadsides, leading a brotherly touch to the "batty-hoo" (in the greatest ring spectacle of all time, came from Jack Dempsey in the form of an "open letter" to Gene Tunney, copyrighted and published in this morning's issue of the Chicago Herald and Examiner.

Gossip of "Fixed" Fight

Revealing gossip that the fight fixed September 19 in Philadelphia was "fixed," but at the same time admitting he was "beaten fairly and squarely" by Dempsey's "letter" was the subject of the so-called "batty-hoo" news-agreement made just prior to the fight, in which Billy Gibson, Tunney's manager, agreed to pay Max (Doc) Hoff, Philadelphia fight fixer, 20 per cent of Tunney's earnings, according to the former marine was the life. In consideration of a promised loan of $20,000 by Hoff to Gibson, Gibson, however, did not get the loan and Hoff did not collect the 20 per cent.

Dempsey's letter, as published by the Herald and Examiner, covered most of its approximately 1,400 words to questions relating to the Hoff-Gibson contract, talk of alleged "heavy financing" on Tunney's part at Philadelphia by William, and gossip of the fight being "fixed" for Gene to win.

Tunney's Reply Short

In a 14 word reply, also published as an "open letter," Tunney, labeled Dempsey's literary production as "trash," questioned the former champion's spontaneity and concluded with this postscript: "P. S.—I might add that I wrote this letter myself."

The Herald and Examiner announced that it would publish an answer to "remarkable" open letter under Dempsey's signature, but Tunney's "reply" suggested to his correspondents that "more words than blows" may be exchanged before the debate is settled in the ten round title bout at Soldier Field.

Tunney, however, is not likely to reply to any further communications from the challenger. The champion, obviously amused by a Tunney sum of events not in harmony with his own tastes in such matters, indicated rather strongly to his friends that he would let his fists finish the argument in the ring.

"Grudges" Aspect Seen

The effect of the "open letter" episode today was viewed by the commentators largely as a transparent attempt to surround the forthcoming title battle with a "grudge" aspect. This is in contrast with the rather friendly manner, out of the ring, in which Jack and Gene previously have treated each other.

Dempsey Seeks Speed In Punches

One thing Jack Dempsey needs to beat Gene Tunney, when they meet in Chicago for the world's heavyweight championship this month, is speed. Jack knows it only too well and he's bending every effort at his Lincoln Field training camp to acquire speed to his punches. Here is the ex-champion working on the bounding dummy and the punching bag, and another view of him as he starts off his workouts each day. He looks fit, doesn't he? Well, he expects to be more than that when he steps in the ring at Soldier's Field to make the supreme effort to regain the title he lost to Tunney last year at Philadelphia.

Tunney Is Likely To Swap Punches With Dempsey, Says Williams After Watching The Champion In Training

By JOE WILLIAMS

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Your friend Mr. Gene Tunney, I learn, plans to fight a somewhat different style of fight against the celebrated hollow shell in the battle of the Big Dough here the night of September 22.

This is in spite of the fact that the style he employed a year ago against the same man was effective enough to win ten rounds out of ten.

Why change? You ask, and well you may.

Your friend Mr. Tunney is a keen observing dude. To the extent that he relies largely on a flick hammer left hand, and a strong right jab, he is pretty much set in his style. But he can change around a bit and when he changes he usually knows what he is doing and why.

Attitudes of mutual admiration and respect had been shown by both fighters before as well as after their championship conflict last year.

While the "battle of the open letters" was calling forth use of 30 point headline type, Dempsey and Tunney went through their "hard" workouts yesterday. Both declared themselves fit and ready for the battle.

HUGMEN DRIVE TO DOUBLE WIN OVER CHICAGO

PIRATES IDLE; GIANTS DIVIDE WITH REDS; CARDS WIN TWO

(By The Associated Press)

George Herman Ruth and the New York Yankees were a little nearer to more baseball records today. Ruth yesterday eluded his 5th home run of the season while the Yanks came within two games of a new American league record by taking both ends of a double-header from the Chicago White Sox, 2 to 1 and 5 to 1. Miller Huggins' clutching errors now has won 194 games and needs two more victories to surpass the record for a season, set by the Boston Red Sox in 1917, when they gained 104.

Eight Games Remain

With only eight games left on the Yankee schedule the team does not have a chance to better down the major league record for a season victories—116, set in 1906 by the Chicago Cubs. Ruth's chances of equaling or bettering his record of 55 home runs are none too good but he believes he will achieve his goal if pitchers will only pitch to him in the remaining eight games.

Cleveland went 10 innings to beat out Washington 4 to 4. Burns' double sent across the winning runs. Both teams hit the ball hard.

Pirates Idle; Giants Split

While the Pittsburgh Pirates were idle the Giants failed to gain ground in their fading bid in the National league race. Cincinnati's Reds obtained an even break against the New Yorkers in a double header. Red Lucas shut out the McGraw nabobs in the opener while his team mates got to Caltevel, Johnson and Walker, all regulars, for seven runs and 11 hits. The Giants took the second encounter, 4 to 2, by tossing Jake May for a early lead.

Cards Win Double

St. Louis Cardinals pulled up to within a half game of the Giants, who occupy second place, by trimming Philadelphia in a double header, 7 to 3 and 8 to 1. Grover Cleveland Alexander turned in his excellent victory in the opener and Littlejohn pitched the world champions through in the windup.

Boston's Braves finally ended their losing streak after 15 straight beatings. They overcame the Chicago Cubs in a hitting orgy, 11 to 7.

Other teams were not scheduled.

SEE TOWN BY MOVIE

LONDON (AP)—A score or more of men sit daily in a darkened room off Edgware road looking at lantern slides projected on a screen. They are learning London, so they can pass police examinations for chauffeur and taxicab licenses.

He is so convinced that you can't hurt Dempsey by hitting him in the head. Hence the decision to go after the body, which passing time and luxurious living supposedly have weakened no end.

Your friend Mr. Tunney will not admit that he plans to fight a different fight or that he has any fixed scheme in mind. All he will say is:

"I will win again and I will win decisively. I have never been afraid of any man and I am less afraid of a man I have once whipped."

Teams Certified To For Play In Classic Of South

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 19 (AP)—The following 16 players were announced Monday from Spudder headquarters as eligible for the Dixie series starting here Wednesday.

Catchers—J. Cobb and Tablin, Pichlers—Estell, Pappas, Kiefer, Fussell and Steingrabe.

Infielders—LaFayette, Turgeon, Benton, Swenson and Mann.

Outfielders—Lamb, Jordan, Fitzgerald and Griffin.

New Orleans List

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 19 (AP)—The sixteen Pelicans who are eligible to play in the six-game Dixie series with the Wichita Falls team of the Texas league were announced today.

They are: Danforth, Martina, Karr, Collyard and Scott, pitchers.

Bob Dove and Don Anderson, catchers.

Davis, Ewoldt, Murray, Gardiner and Whitney, infielders.

Wynn, Blakeley, Vlek and Morgan, outfielders.

Canadian Woman In Golf Tourney Lead

GARDEN CITY, N. Y., Sept. 19 (AP)—Miss Ada McKennie of Toronto, women's champion of Canada, took the lead in the qualifying championship at the Cherry Valley club today with a score of 77.

When the Canadian star turned 16 her 77, Miss Maureen O'neil of New York and Mrs. Myran Burns of Kansas City were tied for the low score at 78.

Only Women Win Polish Election

GWOSDZIEC, Poland, Sept. 17 (AP)—Not a single man has been elected to the town council in this year's voting. The women swept into every office by overwhelming majorities.

During the recent elections in Galicia women penetrated every town council. In Minutewice there were two lists, one headed by a local school teacher and a Ukrainian pastor, the other by their wives. When the smoke of the election cleared up the women were all found to be victorious.

HUBBERS MEET EX-CATS HERE IN TWO GAMES

PANTHERS TAKE LAST OF TWO GAME SERIES SUNDAY EVENING

This afternoon Sled Allen's cats of Hubbers will meet the ex-Cats of Fort Worth in the initial game of a two game series at the Merrill Park, beginning at 8:30 o'clock.

Lefty Potter, who recently signed with Connie Mack's Athletics of the Philadelphia American League, will take over the mound duty. Joe Pat or Paul Wachtel will lead the opening contest for the Panthers. The ex-Cats have with them such stars as Clarence Kraft, Ed Korteley, Ziggy Sears, Art Pheelin, Stormy Davis, and other baseball characters of Panther fame.

Cats Win Sunday

Sunday afternoon's contest, which was the closing number with the Panthers, was won by the Cats with a count of 3 to 5 before a splendid attendance. The Panthers stepped into the fray early to count. They put three runs across the platter in the first and second frames, two in the fourth and one in the eighth inning. Joe Bonowitz, left fielder, cracked out another fair basis hit in the fourth inning with Holland on base and Jim Dick Moran allowed the Panthers a total of fifteen hits during the contest. The Hubbers connected for eight hits from the offerings of Jimmy Walkup, veteran southpaw of the Fort Worth machine.

Westerners Play Slaton In First Game Wednesday

Westerners will meet in Slaton, Texas Wednesday afternoon at the Merrill Park in the initial game of the season.

Morgan and Henry Erick, coach of the Western outfit, will be the recruits of the Lubbock school camp through two five-outings this afternoon and Tuesday afternoon and then the curtain raiser on Wednesday.

Five Lettermen Back

Although only five lettermen are back for grid work in the local high school game and Morgan are the only much satisfaction out of the valuable material that has been under training now for the past days. Gordon Ten-Park, Dickson, Curtis Allen, and Raymond Barton are the only three line-backs but Cap Patterson and Gordon James are filling in with pleasant action and fight. On the wide positions Kerr and Whiteside are likable bets. In the backfield, Les Smith will have his best year. Fullback S. T. Abney and Lefty DeLahite are at heels with Luther Williams and Moeq Smith at quarters. The Tigers will be here with scrapping eleven and Coach O. Mitchell, formerly three year letter man of the W. T. S. T. C. will be the best bet in every position. The game is being played in early season and both the coach of Slaton and coach of Lubbock will be able to tell just what they may expect out of the season's outset with the boys under five.

Big Spring Grid Squad Improving

Big Spring football team is getting into shape according to Athletic Director G. A. Harris.

Only a few of the old letter men have been this year. They are Phyllis Yarbrough, Icky Maston, Phyllis Burns, Buzzard, F. J. Maston, Patterson, Perry Johnson, Forrest Coburn, Director Harris reports that the boys are anxious training. Games matched are v. Midland, Stanton, Roby, v. Colorado, Athens and Lam. Other games will be arranged shortly.

Football To Rule Over All Alpine

ALPINE, Sept. 19.—Alpine truly a football town. Both Alpine high school and the Ross sub-college will have a football game this year. In addition to the Lebo and Coyote football the Alpine J.V.'s will be coached by J. C. Darband of Georgetown, holds an A. B. degree from Southern. Mr. Darband is an coach it is said, and already his boys out learning the trick of the game.

The schedule for the Junior regulations will begin on September 24, with a game at Maria, betw. Alpine III and Maria.

Thought For Today
Physician, heal thyself.—Luke 4:23.

The fate of a nation has often depended upon the good or bad digestion of a prime minister.—Voltaire.

The Hinterland
It is one of the quaint customs of New Yorkers, especially those born somewhere in the lower cornfield, to refer to all the country west of Albany as "the hinterland."

The Bulletin adds that "the meeting place has been deliberately chosen with a view to affording business interests a final region the widest possible opportunity to present their views on current economic and legislative problems."

The people of "that region" should appreciate this noble opportunity. It is to be hoped that will let those people from the eastern edge of this rather broad country know that the dome of the West Baden hotel is an hour's motor drive from the nation's center of population and three hours from the nation's center of industrial production.

When the rest of the country wants to find out really what is going on, "the hinterland" is the place to learn it. As Thomas H. Price, editor of the Commerce and Finance, says in a business review: "Business in the United States has reached a condition in which its general tendency rather than its details must be studied by those who would arrive at reasonable conclusions. But because the impulses by which business is directed originate elsewhere and are tardily reflected in New York, the general tendency is not so easily or so promptly discernible here as in what New Yorkers mistakenly call the hinterland, where nine-tenths of our consumers and still a larger proportion of our producers live."

And "for these reasons" he stated that he would spend the next few weeks in the Central States, where, he concluded, "I hope to learn of basic conditions at first hand."

The hinterland has potentialities for education!

The Stingy Things!
We hang our heads in shame. We blush to the stars. We despair of our countrymen. We feel like putting the Stars and Stripes at half mast. For our fellow Americans, who are traveling in England this year, are not up to the standard.

Do they spend money lavishly? Do they do? Do they will champagne by the bucket? They do not! Do they eat their heads off? They do not! Do they make jackasses of themselves by over-tipping? They do not! Are they careful with their money? Yes. Do they want to find out what a thing is going to cost before they order it? You betcha!

All wrong, men and brethren, all wrong. You are giving an evil reputation to America. You are selling the fair name of Americans.

List to the plaint of one of the London hotel managers: "I have found that many of our American visitors are careful with their money this year. They want to go out and have a good time, but they don't want to spend a whole lot of money on it."

"Only the other evening a party of four came in for dinner and I had to give a detailed list of what it would cost them before they would order. Then again, American order a comparatively cheap white or even lemonade for dinner. We do not call that spending money."

Sir Arthur Keith estimates a million years ago between ape and man. Sir Arthur, of course, gave the outside figure.

THE PLAINSMAN

Says:
That Girl on Broadway says nowadays it's sweet sixteen and never been kissed.

Boxing fans will no doubt remember descriptive stories on the Dempsey-Tunney fight at Philadelphia last year mentioned that Governor Dan Moody was at the ringside, arrayed in a 10-gallon hat and the most prominent figure in the Texas delegation. The report, however, was erroneous. The Governor told The Plainsman here Sunday, because he wasn't at the fight at all. Among the Fort Worth delegation, Mr. Moody said, was a man who resembled him very much so, with the aid of his companions he posed as the chief executive while at the big bout. The Texas Governor is not a boxing fan, he said, all publicity to the contrary notwithstanding.

A ride over the paved sections of Lubbock will impress upon you that the Texas law, which permits 'leave outs' in the hard-surfacing, is a most distressing statute. The recent paving program here has resulted in many more leave-outs than those preceding it, which fact detracts greatly from the appearance and usefulness of the streets. The Plainsman is not criticizing the man who finds himself unable to bear his share of paving the street in front of his house—money, as we all know, is sometimes very hard to get. Yet there should be some way to improve the situation as it now stands.

Homer Grant, an official of the Panhandle Construction company, reports that northern and eastern financial institutions refuse to carry Texas paving paper, due entirely to our system of permitting leave-outs, and that tends to make notes covering the improvements come at a high rate of interest. Since Texas is the only state in the Union operating its paving laws in this manner, it would seem that we are wrong in our system.

President Paul W. Horn, of Texas Tech, reports that he has in his files the enrollment applications of 750 students who have never before attended Texas Tech and that he expects many others to bring their credentials when they arrive. With most of the old students returning it appears that the President's estimate of 2,500 students for the 1927-28 term is ultra-conservative.

Some of the people who have been pessimistic concerning Lubbock's growth and future during the past year have only to glance at the enrollment figures of the city and county schools to take heart. Every school within the confines of Lubbock county is showing a substantial gain in students, which is a true indication that more people are moving to this section all the time. The same holds good in every county on the South Plains and the territory is continuing its forward march despite efforts of knucklers to make conditions appear other-wise.

Politics are warming up downstate and the race for the senatorial post made by Earle B. Mayfield promises to be a hot one. Mr. Mayfield will run again and Dame Rumor has it that he will be opposed by several strong men, chief among whom promise to be Tom Blanton, congressman from Abilene, and Oscar Colquitt, Jim Ferguson may run but if he does not he will at least have a benchman in the field and may be expected to be the real factor in the campaign either as an entrant or a supporter of some particular candidate. Governor Moody, mentioned as a possible candidate has not signified his intentions one way or another. He refused to comment on the subject while in Lubbock Sunday but it seems to be a safe bet that he will not enter but instead will make the race to succeed himself as the state's chief executive. Former Governor Pat Neff was mentioned as a likely candidate until several months ago, when he was appointed to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

"Don't think Jim Ferguson is dead politically," a man well posted in politics told The Plainsman Sunday. "I know 15 men with political aspirations who would give all they possess to get Ferguson's support in the coming state campaigns." The statement, coming from such a reliable source, is worthy of consideration but on the surface at least, it appears that the Ferguson stamp of approval is a liability rather than an asset to any candidate.

The kid climbed in the fruit tree, but he didn't eat a peach. Two reasons 'Twas a cherry tree and they were out of reach.

Does Age Bar A Man From The Presidency, Asks Dutcher From Washington? His Emphatic Answer Is In Negative

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Certain statistics have been cited tending to prove that most of the current crop of presidential possibilities is likely to be disqualified because of age, but such a contention is not very convincing. A presidential candidate is as old as he functions and the country has had five of them in their sixties.

It is like sobering in the morning from a "hard night" and wondering what strange quirk of your nature ever conceived the glittering illusion. It is like a plain woman who becomes fascinating once she has donned make-up and snappy attire.

In the late night hours, when the last gay lights of Luna and Steeplechase have winked out, there comes a sense of ocean chill and loneliness. Here and there a splotch can be seen coming from a jazz police and, if you pass, you may catch a little music or a husky soprano warbling. "Just like a butterfly caught in the rain." The words remind you to put up your coat collar and hurry in search of a taxi.

So this is "the world's playground," you say to yourself rather wishing that your curiosity had not led you there at such unseasonable hours. Somehow all the allure has come from the show fronts that once seemed so gay.

The realization comes suddenly that Coney Island needs people. It is the crowd and its spirit that has been most of the picture. The rides become just skeletons of wood, the coasters are really ugly—what made them vivid were the shouts of the riders and discord of the crowds.

They tell me this has been a bad year at Coney—in fact at all resorts. Even summer isn't what it used to be. And the oldsters recall the days when one could parade from one beer hall to another, getting drinks and free lunch for a nickel. Today the veriest orange drink sets you back at least a dime and, if you wish to gamble with digestion, a dime or fifteen cents adds a hot dog that isn't as good as free lunch used to be.

In those days one could get a bathing suit and take a swim for two bits. Today a dollar is a minimum rate for a three by seven stall for changing clothes. Several one exits a two-spot has been kissed good-by and, with one's girl along, a $5 bill is about ruined before one enters the water.

Everything is in proportion. If one gets dimes and takes in a couple of attractions a ten-spot has gone never to return. And since Coney is the playground of the masses—people whose salaries are small—one wonders how the tens of thousands manage to afford it.

In fact, I often wonder how people of medium-income manage to do anything or go anywhere in these parts, since $5 is little more than pin money when taking a Sunday outing.

A VALUABLE CHECK

To most of us a check for $25,000 would look beautiful no matter how plain the paper it was written on, if the signature was authentic and the figures after the dollar sign were backed by funds in the bank.

Lindbergh's check for $25,000 is more gorgeous than a college diploma. It is the work of a New York man whose great grandfather engraved the buttons on one of George Washington's coats.

The check itself is a penman's masterpiece. It is a piece of sheepskin, 51.2 by 81.2 inches, illuminated in gold, green, red and blue. A faithful drawing of the Spirit of St. Louis adorns the upper left-hand corner, an American flag draped over the staff, the lower left-hand corner. There is an American eagle near the middle, just above the signature. A border of leaves, broken at one place by a scroll bearing the donor's name, surrounds the main design. The lettering is elaborately decorated, the letters branching off into a conventional design of leaves.

Altogether, it is quite a check. Eventually it will bear the much sought signature of Charles A. Lindbergh. After it has been cashed, cancelled and returned to Raymond Orvig, who first offered the design, that started this summer's trans-oceanic flying, it will still be a valuable document. Whether it will end its days in a museum or in a private collection, or hanging on the walls of one of Mr. Orvig's hotels, along with menu cards used by the Prince of Wales and other celebrities, remains to be seen.

Colonel Lindbergh is entitled to all of the glory and honor that he is getting out of the achievements of the past in the flying business. Charlie was just a mighty lucky boy to get over as well as he did. He, of course, is one of the best fliers in the world, and was able to steer his ship through space, clouds and ice to a safe landing within a few feet of where he intended to land. Since then many have lost their lives in an attempt to eclipse the stunt with one more difficult. Lindy is a great airman, and we wish him the continued success that he is enjoying. The check for the $25,000, of course, is not much consideration for him now. He has all of the money that he will ever need at his command. Many institutions would be glad to pay him fabulous sums for the use of his name in their business. We will repeat that Lindbergh was simply a mighty luck fellow, and we only hope that the many heroes bestowed upon him will not cause him to lose his head and go into a life of revelry and dissipation, as it does in the case of some people. It depends upon how well he can control himself from now on as to how great a man he is.

PROTECTION
We are lacking in many ways in fire protection. Our reserve water supply is inadequate, our single standpipe is below the standard height, and our fire-fighting equipment is inadequate in several respects. Too many of us forget about this vital matter of fire protection. We insist on more street paving, suggest a new and beautiful City Hall and a dozen other objects for the expenditure of more money. These things are desirable, but they are not so essential as fire protection. We are neglecting heavily every year for our neglect of this important matter. Some day, when a fire, swept by one of our West Texas gales, destroys an entire section of our city we may make up. But that is the juvenile way of doing things. Why can't we use ordinary foresight? One of our difficulties is that we are trying to make a water system for a town of 4,000 serve a city of 12,000 or 14,000. Naturally such an improvement will cost money. But fires cost money, and extra insurance charges cost money. Isn't it better to divert this money into protection?—Verizon Record.

While Lubbock has a splendid fire department and the equipment we have is right up to now, there is said to be a need for additional fire stations and water reservoirs in other sections of the city. This has been recommended by the State Fire Marshal, bonds voted for the erection of another reservoir, but it seems very slow in materializing. We are sure the City Commissioners will put this program through but many people are wondering just why they do not go ahead with the work, especially those who are fearful of having to pay higher fire insurance rates as a result of the delay.

This is the time of year that there are possibly more dangers of fires because of the large number of heating stoves, oil stoves, etc., being used as the cool mornings come upon us, and we think it would be a very wise thing if we can get these additional facilities in operation at an early date.

Many Americans, in France awaiting divorces, spend their time at the gambling tables of the Riviera. The gambling habit is hard to break.

One thing about flying across the ocean these days—there's lots of company.

With leap year only a few months away, lads, watch your leaps.

Former Cowboy Astronomy Professor W. D. McMillan Likes The South Plains Comes Back To Lubbock For A Visit

"I like the sky here. It is clear and beautiful," says Prof. W. D. McMillan, head of the department of mathematical astronomy of Chicago University, who is in Lubbock attending to business interests. Professor McMillan studied the canopy of blue sky over the South Plains while riding the range of a sparsely settled West when Lubbock was a mere cow town. He moved to Lubbock in 1899 after purchasing the Sunshine ranch, which then constituted 5,000 acres. The ranch, located 8 miles northwest of Lubbock, has been greatly diminished by agricultural growth.

Recognized as one of the greatest mathematician astronomers in America, Professor McMillan has written numerous books based on his studies, his most universally accepted text book being "Theoretical Mathematics."

He is Unaffected
Unaffected by his success in the intellectual field, he maintains a delightful philosophy of life. His happiness is not based on material gain, but in the pleasure of scientific research.

"Business career holds no interest for me," he said. "There are apparently successful business men who are not living; they are starving their souls and making sport of a spiritual development. Of course, I would enjoy the emoluments which accompany commercial gain, such as comforts and conveniences of living, but one often pays too big a price for the realization thereof."

Happy In Research
I have found genuine happiness in scientific fields and I will remain in my present profession until, like retired men, I am forced to leave it. Professor McMillan praised the phenomenal growth of Texas Technological college, saying that the faculty is entitled to a tremendous lot of credit. He predicted that Tech would in a short time be one of the outstanding schools of the South.

Professor McMillan was born in La Crosse, Wisconsin in 1871. He was graduated from high school in the same town and attended college in Lak Forest, Ill. Coming to Texas in 1891, he lived in Fort Worth till 1899, when he moved to Lubbock. After living in Lubbock five years, Professor McMillan entered Chicago University and continued his studies till he received a doctor's degree.

He taught in Chicago University 20 years before being appointed head of the department of mathematical astronomy.

Professor McMillan visits in Lubbock each summer. He will return to Chicago University next week, preparatory to the opening of the fall session October 1.

Indians Turn To Autos In Harvest
MINNEAPOLIS, (AP)—Minnesota Indians, hard put by rule face monopoly to earn a living, have taken a tip from the white man in harvesting their share of the fruits of the land.
Some colligate flivvers instead of the usual scrawny horse, and outboard motors instead of slow-moving birch bark canoes, they are penetrating parts of the north country to gather the rich blue-berry harvest that is unknown or inaccessible to the whites.
The red men and their squaws are earning as high as $10 a day from the unusually large crop of berries this year. In the lake country, they attach a motor to a canoe, back squaws, children and pails in the bottom and start at daybreak each day for the berry fields.

Jack Lockwill, the Lion Tamer (Creator of Frank Merriwell) By Gilbert Patten

Jack was elated and thrilled, though outwardly calm. This, he felt, was a great adventure. At 10 o'clock that forenoon, the circus parade, forming a long procession that was headed by a blaring band, passed through the town. Wearing a scarlet, brass-buttoned suit, shining patent-leather boots, and a white tall hat, Jack rode high on the cage-wagon containing Snarleyow.

Enjoying the jolly bunk of it all, Jack posed with folded arms, as he'd been told to do. "Look at the lion tamer!" cried a boy. "He ain't as old as I am!"

In his hotel room, Raoul Delano heard the band and was moved to rise from his bed and look out at the parade. "That boy—in my place!" he muttered, seeing Jack.

The surprised lion tamer wasn't the only one to recognize the boy who rode on the wagon in which the restless younger lion now and then uttered an irritated, blood-chilling roar. Buke Saunders and Lizard Wattles had come together again. From the crowd, they gazed, wide-eyed, at Jack. "What d'ya know about that, Buke?" chattered Lizard. "He's gone crazy!" said Buke. Scientists Find Brand New Fruit... WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (AP)—Comes now the "Citranquaat," a new fruit developed by crossing the kumquat and the citrange. "Kumquat" is an Americanized spelling for the name of a Chinese fruit, and "Citrange" is the result of a cross between the ordinary sweet orange and a Japanese trifoliate orange of no commercial value. The kumquat and the citrange are hardy substitutes for the lime and lemon, capable for growing in regions too cold for ordinary citrus plants.

Scientists Find Brand New Fruit... WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (AP)—Comes now the "Citranquaat," a new fruit developed by crossing the kumquat and the citrange. "Kumquat" is an Americanized spelling for the name of a Chinese fruit, and "Citrange" is the result of a cross between the ordinary sweet orange and a Japanese trifoliate orange of no commercial value. The kumquat and the citrange are hardy substitutes for the lime and lemon, capable for growing in regions too cold for ordinary citrus plants.

PLANS WHEAT CROP... W. E. Dozier, of Austin, Lubbock real contractor, is in Lubbock today planning for planting 1,300 acres of his land in wheat. Mr. Dozier's farms are near Level, Tex.

How To Stop A Headache

Use the improved method—two capsules of Capudine in a little water. Being liquid, it acts almost instantly—much quicker than tablets or powders—saves a half hour of suffering. CAPUDINE relieves pain by soothing the nerves—no by deadening them. Contains no opiates. At your druggists, 60c and 30c sizes. Also trial size (adv).

PLANES OFF ON MANY MATTERS FIRST LEG OF ARE HANDLED AERIAL DERBY BY BCD HEADS

25 COMMERCIAL SHIPS LEAVE ROOSEVELT FIELD TODAY

(The Associated Press) ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., Sept. 19.—Twenty-five light commercial planes took off on the first leg of a cross country flight to Spokane, Washington, this morning. The start was made at 8:01 eastern standard time, and by 8:32 a. m. the last starter had left. All the take offs, made at one minute intervals, were accomplished with clock like precision and smoothness. Weather conditions which had threatened postponement shortly before the race cleared up quickly at the last minute.

MEADGEN TO ATTEND RAILROAD MEETING AT VERNON

Recommendation that C. E. Meadgen represent the city of Lubbock at a meeting of directors of the proposed Lubbock-Vernon-Ardmore railroad to be held in Vernon tomorrow, plans for entertainment of the West Texas Geological Society, approval of amounts of premiums to be offered by the chamber of commerce for first and second bales of cotton to be ginned in Lubbock and other minor matters, were agreed upon by the Board of City Development in session this morning.

Oklahoman Forced Down Near Field

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., Sept. 19 (AP)—R. W. Cantwell of Oklahoma City, Okla., who started from Roosevelt field in the cross country race to Spokane, Washington, today landed at Curtis field a half mile over a mile and a quarter from his starting point, and a few minutes after his take off, because of a "low ceiling."

Banks First To Reach Bellefonte

BELLEFONTE, Pa., Sept. 19 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Flying Wing, piloted by A. M. Banks, Philadelphia, was the first of 25 light commercial planes in the cross country aerial derby to complete the first leg of its journey today. It arrived here at 9:27, one minute and a half later the Wars 16, piloted by C. W. Wevers alighted at the field here.

Meyers Lands At Cleveland Airport

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 19 (AP)—C. W. Meyers of Detroit, first to get away from the airport at Bellefonte, Pa., in the national aerial derby landed at the Cleveland airport at 12:19.

GERMAN DRIVE

(Continued From Page 1) ant, but the fact that it was made in the name of the American American comradeship in arms is being revived by the American Legion visit to Paris adds significance to an act which, German war is likely to provoke a spirited controversy among the Reich's erstwhile enemies as well as the neutral countries.

Traffic Cops Here Follow Up Warning

In efforts to enforce closer observance of traffic laws, city cops are following up warnings issued to autoists last week. Three speeders and three traffic ordinance violators were brought before police court Saturday afternoon and fined. In the traffic ordinance violations two were fined for double parking.

NATURE IS OVEN FOR FIELD OF POP CORN

DE LEON, Sept. 19.—Nature's own big West Texas oven converted a field of popcorn into a field of popped corn here this month. Samples of the field of popped grain have been brought to the local newspaper office by a De Leon citizen whose veracity is such that he is a local Sunday school superintendent.

Women Thanked For Their Part

PARIS, Sept. 19 (AP)—France thanked the women of America at first hand today for their sacrifices and devotion to the Allied war cause. At the opening session of the American Legion auxiliary, General Gouraud, representing the French army, and Andre Harlieu, representing the government, both expressed the gratitude and appreciation of their country for the war record of American womanhood.

Old Friends Reunited

Many old friends coming to Lubbock from all over Texas and surrounding states, milled about the campus, shaking hands with old-time buddies and making the acquaintance of others, evidently pleased to return to pleasant surroundings. Trunk haulers drove their cars over the city, doing their part to make the students get "at home" and the collegiate atmosphere.

BERG HATS

Timed for the turn of the season, the new Berg hats for fall were never more desirable. Tailored with faultless skill and styled to that last tiny fraction of an inch that makes a hat—or dates it. A generous selection of new shapes and colors for your consideration.

Musty Swedish Bonds Uncovered

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 19 (AP)—Curious war relics in the form of mutilated Swedish government bonds from the invaded districts of France, as well as the former Baltic provinces of Russia, continue to be presented in Stockholm for payment, the head of the public debt commission, Dr. Karl Hildebrand, has announced.

Warsaw Cabbies Haul Everything

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Anything goes on a Warsaw horse cab. In their competition with the taxicabs, which appeared in Poland for the first time two or three years ago, the horse cabbies will take anything on board their "seating" backs.

Teaches To Help To Avoid Divorce

BATON ROUGE La., Sept. 19 (AP)—Louisiana has a new form of "divorce insurance." Approximately 18,000 "Jill" potential life mates of as many "Jacks," are learning the vocation of permanent home making under the direction of Miss Clyde Mobley, supervisor of home economics.

State Asks Death For Alleged Slayer

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 19 (AP)—The state today demanded that John A. McKenzie, alleged slayer of Sam Street, chief of San Antonio detectives, be sent to the electric chair for the slaying. Final arguments in the trial opened this morning, both the state and the defense having completed testimony Saturday night.

Butterfat Varies From Many Causes

Percentage of butterfat in cow's milk often may vary from one milking to the next without any apparent reason. It is seldom that two successive milkings from the same cow contain exactly the same percentage. As a rule milk produced in winter is slightly higher in butterfat than milk from the same cow in summer. Cows far advanced in their period of lactation usually give richer milk than that produced during the early stages.
