2 RANGER OIL MEN DROWN IN LAKE

DESERTED GAS STATION MADE GUNMEN'S MARK

MUNICIPAL AIRPORT IS ALSO RAIDED DURING NIGHT OF TERROR

SAN ANTONIO, May 1. (By Associated Press.)—A deserted filling station was riddled with bullets and residents of several sections of town were terrorized last night by an automobile full of men who were apparently supplied with a machine gun or automatic firearms of some kind. No one was hurt and police believe the shooting was done by drunken men and had no significance. Some time later five men leaped from a car at Wilburn field, the municipal airport, and made their way toward a privately owned plane. One of the men, a man named Guerrero, night watchman at the airport, was greeted with a shower of pistol and rifle bullets when he challenged them, but returned the fire and succeeded in driving the men away. Twenty minutes later the men returned and again opened fire, retreating when their guns were empty. A third visit resulted in another gun battle in which Guerrero reported he thought one of the men was wounded.

Houston Club Is Raided By Rangers

HOUSTON, May 1. (By Associated Press.)—Armed search warrants, a group of Texas rangers under command of Captain Frank Hamer entered the club house of the Harris-Fort Bend county association early Tuesday and arrested 15 officials and employees of the club on gaming charges. The club house was formerly operated under the name of Loma Vista, until it was closed about a year ago in a suit filed by the attorney general's department. 100 Guests at Club. Approximately 100 guests were at the club when the rangers appeared suddenly. The guests were not alerted, but were told to remain at their tables until the officers had searched the place. Those arrested were taken to Rockport where they were being held in the county jail. Several rangers stayed on guard at the club house after permitting the guests to leave. Three dice tables, two roulette wheels, a klondike table and a blackjack table were taken. Captain Hamer reported: "We are destroying the paraphernalia on orders from the district judge," he added.

American Cruisers In Nicaragua Port

PUERTO CABEZAS, Nicaragua, May 1. (By Associated Press.)—Determination by American authorities to prevent any aid by rebels upon the east coast of Nicaragua was shown today in the arrival of the cruisers Cleveland and Galveston with detachments of the United States Marine Corps. The Cleveland and Portland last proceeded north while the Galveston and Denver remained. This assured those who have been fearful that General Augusto Sandino would suddenly descend upon Puerto Cabezas. There have been indications, however, that Sandino's fighting activities are over for the time being since there are persistent rumors that he has been ill for some time at a small plantation northeast of Matagalpa.

Wheat Prices Fall In Stormy Trading

CHICAGO, May 1. (By Associated Press.)—Wheat prices suffered a tremendous break on general selling in an attempt to realize paper profits on speculative holdings. Nearly a bushel fell in value as some cases, September delivery wheat dropping to $1.60 1-2 as last $1.66 1-8 33-8 at yesterday's close.

Alaskan Judge Dies

UNEAU, Alaska, May 1. (By Associated Press.)—George Melbourne Reed of the first federal court of Alaska, died last night of an acute heart attack. He was appointed to the bench in 1921 by President Harding and served until his death.

ACCIDENT FATAL TO FAIRCHILD

Brothers Victims Of Queer Wrecks

ROCHESTER, Pa., May 1. (By Associated Press.)—Two brothers, Albert and William Rieth, 29 and 19 years of age, respectively, suffered identical hurts in an identical manner yesterday, but at widely separated points. Both are now in the hospital. Albert was injured when a motorcycle he was riding crashed into an automobile in Monaca, Pa. He sustained a fractured left leg and bruises about his left side. His left eye also was cut. William also driving a motorcycle, collided with an automobile in Alliquippa, Pa., and suffered a fractured left leg, bruises to his left side and a bad cut over the left eye. Neither knew of the other's accident until hospital officials, struck by the coincidental happenings, informed them. Both will recover.

CRISIS PASSED AS EGYPTIANS DELAY SESSION

BRITISH DEMANDS IN ASSEMBLY BILL ARE PARTIALLY MET

LONDON, May 1. (By Associated Press.)—Tension between Great Britain and Egypt lessened today with the decision of the Egyptian parliament to postpone further discussion of the public assemblies bill. British warships were racing to ward Egyptian waters and an ultimatum had been sent demanding that the Egyptian government withdraw the bill before 7 p. m. tomorrow when the Egyptian parliament would meet. Postponement of discussion of the measure until November was believed to have been taken at the dictation of the Egyptian government. Secret Session. The Egyptian action was taken in secret session. The bill had already been passed by the chamber and was to come before the senate when the British acted. The British objection was based on a section of the bill.

Other Towns Will See Legion's Show

The Blackface Minstrel show of the local American Legion is to be shown in surrounding South Plains towns during the coming weeks. It was learned from officials of the organization today. Requests have come in from nearby towns asking for a production of the show in their town. The show was the first town to ask for the show and it is likely, officials said today, that it will be shown there in the near future. Ralls and Crosbyton are also to have a chance at the show, they said.

PRORATION PROGRAMS GET RESULTS IN OIL PRODUCING STATES; TEXAS FIELDS SHOW SLUMP IN PAST WEEK

TULSA, OKLA., May 1. (By Associated Press.)—Shut-down programs adopted in Oklahoma, Texas and other producing areas are slowly gaining results. It is indicated by a decrease of 7,475 barrels of daily average production of crude oil in the United States for the week ending April 28, the Oil and Gas Journal will say today. For the first time in many days the West Texas area showed a decrease for the week, the total production for that section dropping from 373,241 barrels to 371,824 barrels daily average production. The Texas Panhandle, southwest Texas and Rocky Mountain areas had a slight increase but this was more than offset by decreases in the Hendricks and other fields. Seminole production continued to drop, the decrease for the week being 6,815 barrels. Production also decreased in all other Oklahoma areas except in the southern fields, which increased a few hundred barrels. The only big gains of the week were in the Gulf coast fields and in the Long Beach area of California. Slight gains in daily average production were also registered by north central Texas, the Texas Panhandle, southwest Texas and Rocky Mountain areas.

Gathering funds for the tour of the Western and Pacific coast states this summer, the Lubbock high school band will present its final concert of the year in the high school auditorium tomorrow night. It was announced today. Director J. W. Crowley has prepared a well-balanced band and the program is to contain a wide range of selections, both popular and classical. The band is planning a concert tour through the Western states to California during the summer, the trip to be made in the bus recently purchased.

WOMAN IS HELD IN SLAYING OF HER HUSBAND

TEACHER HELD AFTER FATAL SHOOTING AT SALTILLO HOME

SULPHUR SPRINGS, May 1. (By Associated Press.)—Mrs. Travis Orren, was held under $2,000 bond today, following the fatal shooting of her husband in their home at Saltillo. Both were school teachers. The shooting followed an argument. Deputy Sheriff W. C. Reneau said. A complaint charging murder immediately was filed against Mrs. Orren, and she was released on bond pending an examining trial set for Thursday. The county attorney took statements from several persons, including an eyewitness. Mr. Orren had been teaching in a county school.

One Man Held For Childless Slaying

CHILDRESS, May 1. (By Associated Press.)—Spurgeon Clark was held today in connection with the fatal shooting last night of Jess Williams, a filling station near Kirkland. Officers said charges would be filed. Clark surrendered to officers at the home of his father-in-law, Hardy Brown, and was brought to Childress. Clark, who was pro-prior of the filling station, has made no statement.

Slayer Believed Going To Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH, May 1. (By Associated Press.)—Port Worth police today were notified that the slayer of Jess Williams, 36, prominent ranchman of Quanah, escaped in a small roadster and was believed to be enroute to this city. The shooting occurred in a filling station two miles east of Kirkland last night. Williams' body was riddled with bullets from a rifle as he sat in his automobile. The slayer was recognized and his name and description has been given Ft. Worth police.

Quannah Professes Ignorance Of Case

QUANAH, May 1. (By Associated Press.)—With local officers professing ignorance of details, efforts to ascertain information about the slaying near Kirkland Monday evening of Jess Williams, prominent Hardeman county ranch owner, were hampered here Tuesday. The name of a man suspected of the shooting was being passed about but officers refused to discuss the suspect. Facts reported here in connection with the shooting were that Williams was accompanied in a car to a filling station which was the scene of the shooting by his brother, Walter Williams, a nephew, Howard Williams and a friend named John Hill. Jess Williams was shot several times with a rifle but the cause of the shooting was not revealed by his brother and nephew who brought the body to Quanah. Several shots were also fired at other members of the party who were parked in front of a filling station two miles east of Kirkland at the time.

Texas Collections On Gas Tax Heavy

AUSTIN, May 1. (By Associated Press.)—Texas was second only to California in its three cent gas collections during 1927, although Texas had only a one-cent levy for about two and one half months of that period, State Comptroller S. H. Terrell said. From the time the gasoline tax was raised to three cents in Texas, March 16, 1927, to last March 16, collections totalled $18,229,135.80, he said. From April 1 last year to April 1 this year the total was $18,457,746.16.

Guard At Harding Tomb Is Removed

MARION, O., May 1. (By Associated Press.)—Nearly five years of vigil at the tomb of President and Mrs. Warren G. Harding was at an end today for the guard detachment of the tenth United States infantry. For the first time since Mr. Harding's death, his tomb was left unwatched. Never for a moment had the temporary Harding tomb in the Marion cemetery and later the large memorial shrine been left unguarded until today, when members of the detachment were ordered to report to various army posts. Since the time the post was established August 9, 1923, it is estimated that more than 1,000,000 visitors have been shown the tomb by the guards.

Police Guard Against Reds Over May Day

NEW YORK, May 1. (By Associated Press.)—The entire New York police force, some 21,000 uniformed men and several hundred detectives, were on active and reserve duty today to guard against possible May Day disorders. Police headquarters said no disorders were expected but that inspections of the meetings places of communist printing plants indicated an unusual amount of revolutionary literature recently had been circulated. The Socialist action committee in a letter to police commissioner Warren Dewey demanded he rescind orders instructing the police to arrest all persons responsible for distribution of illegal literature. The letter called the order an "incitation to disorder."

LEAKY BOAT ON LEON LAKE AT EASTLAND SINKS ON FISHING TRIP; ONE OF PARTY ESCAPES

EASTLAND, May 1. (By The Associated Press.)—A leaking rowboat today cost the lives of J. L. Thompson and Luke Lawton, well-known oil operators of Ranger, Texas, who were drowned while fishing in Leon Lake, three miles southeast of Eastland. The two men, with Sam Thompson, a brother of one of the victims, had started across the lake when the boat started filling with water. They jumped from it and began to swim for shore. Looking back, Sam Thompson said he saw the others were in danger and turned toward them. His strength ebbing, Thompson saw he could not aid the others but did manage to grasp the boat, which floated slowly to shore. Shortly before noon the bodies had not been recovered. Thompson was an independent oil operator, while Lawton was superintendent of the Quakins Petroleum company.

HUBBERS START NINE GAME HOME STAND TOMORROW

Bennie Brownlow and his Hubbers will return to Lubbock this evening after the last contest in the three game series at San Angelo and start in with a nine day stay at Merrill park.

The first league contention in the nine day term will be with Bob Couchman's Cubs who appear here tomorrow, Thursday and Friday.

Coleman to date has won five of the six games of the league schedule defeating Red Snapp's nine three in four games, and have taken both encounters with the Hamlin Pipers.

After the Coleman series the Cubs entry of the circuit will appear here for three games, May 5, 6 and 7, which is Saturday, Sunday and Monday. So far the Snappers and Hubbers have split the three card deals at San Angelo, and today's contest will be the determining game of the series.

Hamlin comes to Lubbock for the first three days of the nine game schedule appearing here against the Hubbers on May 8, 9 and 10.

BUFFS GAIN TOP OF TEXAS HEAP BY SPUDDER WIN

HIS PUPILS MAY GO WITH CROMWELL

LOS ANGELES, May 1.—Dean B. Cromwell, track and field coach at the University of South California who has been named one of the coaches for the American Olympic team, thinks seven of his present pupils stand a good chance to see action at Amsterdam this year.

He lists the following possibilities: 100 and 220 yard dash, Charley Borah; pole vault, Lee Barnes and Jack Williams; high jump, Henry Coggeshall; broad jump, Jesse Hill; 120 yard high hurdles, Cliff Reynolds; Jimmy Payne.

Barnes, who nears 14 feet in the vault and was a member of the 1924 Olympic team, and Borah, national 220 yard champion, are regarded as certain. Williams poles over 13 feet, 6 inches with ease while Hill broad jumps 24 feet, 7 inches. Payne clears the high hurdles in 14.8 while Reynolds is a 15 second man in the same event. Coggeshall is a 6 foot, 4 inch high jump possibility.

The Snappers and Hubbers played today in the final game of the series.

MATADOR TRACK SEASON CLOSING HERE SATURDAY

TEXAS TECH track and field recruits will conclude the 1928 season here Saturday afternoon in a dual meet with Bug Morris' Abilene Christian College Wildcats.

An unusually good season has been enjoyed by Coach Victor Payne and his Matador cinder path pacers as he has won in every dual meet scheduled for the season, and climaxed the year by taking away the high laurels in the Great Plains meet, recently held at Canyon, by scoring a total of 49 points in the tri-state competition.

The Christians have a well balanced team and is the strongest team the Matadors will have to contend with during the ensuing season.

The meet is scheduled to start at 2 o'clock.

Closure, Kott 2, Moore and Alfred. Base on balls off Poth 3; off Cross 5. Winning pitcher Poth, losing pitcher Livingston; balks Livingston and Cross. Left on bases, Coleman 8, Hamlin 4, Time 2:30. Umpires White and Case.

SHARKEY WINS OVER DELANEY IN VICIOUS GO

JACK IS FLOORED IN FIRST ROUND WITH NO DEFENSE BLOW

By EDWARD J. NEIL

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, May 1.—The storm of the old Jack Sharkey, furious youngster who once smashed his way to the very door of the heavyweight throne room, has swept again through Madison Square Garden.

Like a tornado in human form, the garrulous gob swept out of his corner last night and crushed Jack Delaney as if the Bridgeport warrior, himself a disappointed title contender, epitomized all the humiliation and heartbreak of defeat.

Only one minute and 13 seconds of the first round was the dulled rapier of the north able to last before Sharkey's crushing drive.

Almost before the echoes of the opening gong had died, a volley of short hooks to the head dropped Delaney, badly hurt, to one knee. Snarling, bitter, tigerish in his ferocity, Sharkey leaped into his wholly foe, felling him with a looping right to the head.

Then as Delaney writhed on the canvas pulled himself to his knees and swayed to his feet, Sharkey, waited, right hand poised.

Full on the chin, with power sufficient to fell an ox, the rampaging sailor ripped his right uppercut flush into Delaney's jaw, causing as the trembling French-Canadian, eyes closed, head buried in his chest, stumbled forward.

No fighter could have risen from that final blow.

Tears of Pure Ferocity

Above the fallen fighter, now still, the referee finished the bout of ten. Sharkey snarled, tears of pure ferocity and pent-up feeling rolling down his cheeks. As the crowd of 15,000 roared their acclaim of him after almost a year of bores and hisses, Sharkey turned his face defiantly to the west, the west was on his cheeks.

Delaney never struck a blow in his own defense. Vainly, after an initial, futile stab with a left as the round opened, the statuesque woodsman retreated blindly, arms about his head and body, vainly trying to ward off the shock of Sharkey's attack.

In the crowd about the arena were Baron Huenefeld, Hermann Koehl and Major Fitzmaurice, trans-Atlantic fliers, viewing a spectacle of this kind for the first time.

Delaney Hopes Crushed

The blast of the old Sharkey who crushed Harry Wills, George Godfrey, and Jimmy Maloney to win acclaim as a great youngster only to fade before Dempsey's mauling fists and the blows of every fighter since, came too late to boost him back to title challenge consideration this year.

Tex Rickard, in whose heavyweight elimination tournament Sharkey lost this winter to John Hy Risko after a miserable draw with Tom Heeney, declared that Sharkey must fight more battles of this kind to regain his prestige.

There can be no two title fights this year, Rickard said, and Heeney, winner of the tournament, already has agreed to meet Tunney for the championship in July.

The disastrous defeat ended Delaney's short and disappointing career as a heavyweight.

Beer-Making Causes Trouble

Dave Luby, Green Acres football star, was suspended from school recently until next September when he was found guilty by the student council of violating the college liquor regulations.

Large Squad at Wisconsin

More than 200 candidates took part in the annual spring football practice at Wisconsin this year.

ATZCATS GAIN FULL GAME ON BIG SCRAMBLE

BEARS DEFEAT SPORTS AS STEERS TURN ON CUBS AT WACO

The Houston Buffs are living up to the hope which picked them for one of the pennant contenders in the Texas League this year.

After about a week's absence from the position, they were back in first place in the percentage column today by virtue of their 1 to 0 victory Monday over the Wichita Falls Spudders. The win was the second straight for the Buffs.

Spudders Get One Hit

Frank Barnes was the hero of the contest as he let the slugging Spudders down with one safety, a single by Catcher J. Cobb. In addition, he scored Houston's run in the ninth inning when he singled, went to second on Hock's sacrifice, and scored on Selby's hit.

Payne of Wichita Falls recorded a pitching performance that would win many games by holding the Buffs to three singles. Like Barnes, he was steady as a rock in the ninches and brilliant in spots. Pleading by both teams featured three double plays being recorded.

The Port Worth Panthers gained a full game on Wichita Falls by defeating the Beaumont Exporters, 4 to 2, for the second time in the series. While both teams hit freely, the Cats getting eight safeties, and the Exporters ten, Hanson of Beaumont and Griffin of Port Worth were airtight for the most part when good pitching was needed and kept the scoring down.

At Shreveport, the San Antonio Bears defeated the Sports, 5 to 4. Largely as a result of an early inning attack that netted three runs in the third and two in the fifth and a nightlight defense in the later frames.

Although slightly out of the Dallas Steers won from the Waco Cubs, 8 to 7, when they staged a rally in the ninth inning, following one by Waco in the first half of that frame that netted three runs.

CHICAGO FIGHT DISCOVERS TWO HEAVY SLUGGERS

CHICAGO, May 1.—Two heavyweights, who can whip across quick knockouts with either fist and who can "take it" have at last resuscitated promoter Jim Mullin's hopes of finding another Jack Dempsey.

Assuming 10-0-0 odds, these two punchers, Otto Von Porat of Norway and Les Marriner of the University of Illinois, knocked out their opponents in less than one round each last night. Von Porat's victim was a former Indian fighter, "Tiny" Roebuck, while Marriner battered Jackie Williams of Chicago, Gene Tunney's erstwhile challenger into submission.

Mullin was scurrying about today for contracts for bigger and better fights for the new sensations.

MATADORS MEET M'MURRY INDIANS IN GAME TODAY

Grady Higginbotham's Texas Technological college baseball machine will go back into action this afternoon against the McMurry Indians at Abilene.

The Indians have one of the strongest machines in the T. I. A. A. conference and come to the South Plains with an excellent record.

Higginbotham will possibly use Dolly Gray, right hander, and the Matador staff in the opening game this afternoon.

The probable starting lineup for today's contest will be Texas Tech: Rigney, 2b; Lassiter, ss; DeWitt, cf; Marshall, lf; Peterson, 3b; Hill, 1b; Brother, rf; Nicholas, c; and Gray, p.

-advertising

To thousands and thousands of women, newspaper advertising has lent a helping hand. It has enabled her to get the most for her money . . .

it has shown her which products are best to serve to family and friends . . . it has been the means of showing her how to remove considerable of the drudgery connected with housekeeping.

It has shown her the way to spend her leisure hours profitably and pleasurably. In fact it is the most important factor known in making her daily life and its duties and pleasures more enjoyable—it has shown her how to get more out of life.

The Retail Merchant

—who does not recognize these facts in the form of an adequate and consistent newspaper advertising appropriation, is overlooking an investment opportunity that will put dollars into his cash register, for newspaper advertising sways the opinion of the women to whom the family budget is entrusted, and unless they know who you are and what you have to sell, they cannot be reasonably expected to spend the portion that should rightfully be yours.

NEW YORK TRADING

NEW YORK, May 1 (AP)—The market showed continued strength with the price 17 to 18 points higher on or less general buying inspired by relatively firm cables and reports of rain or showers in Texas and North Carolina. The early advance was checked by reports of the new crop necessity for replanting and the scarcity of seed were factors on the advance, which prices up to 22.00 for May 1.66 for October, or into new for the movement and about 35 points above yesterday's quotations. Advance met heavy realizing, was absorbed by a broad demand. Prices held well up to 22.00 for May 1.66 for October, or into new for the movement and about 35 points above yesterday's quotations. NEW ORLEANS TRADING

NEW ORLEANS, May 1 (AP)—The market was firm in early today in response to good cables and rains in the central and eastern belts. Grades showed gains of 13 to 15 cents and prices continued to upgrade after the start under trading and shorts covering. Contracts sold up to 21.55, October and December to 21.25, to 34 points above yesterday's quotations. At the end of first half hour the market was steady and at the top. Speculative buying developed during the second hour and July 21.00, October 21.40 and later 21.35, 38 to 43 points the previous close. A fair weather map brought out buying and selling for a reaction. Prices eased off 34 to 37 points to 21.00 for July and 21.03 for October. When the offer were absorbed the market rallied sharply on the detailed report was not shown by the map and made new highs at 21.65 for July and 21.40 for October and later, or 43 to 44 points over yesterday's close.

WALL STREET TRADING

NEW YORK, May 1 (AP)—Stock prices moved within narrow and irregular limits at the opening of today's market but the main tendency was again upward. Ralls assumed leadership of the advance. St. Louis Southwestern advancing 2 points, Delaware and Hudson 1-1/4 and Western Maryland common and Southern Railway common moved into new high ground. Curtis Aeroplane, opened 2-1/4 higher at 89 1/4, a new high record, but Wright Aero fell back 1-1/2 points on the first sale. Speculators for the advance quickly regained control of the price movement and started to bid up stocks in all sections of the list. Wall street apparently regarded the 6 per cent call money rate as temporary and, for the time being at least, showed little concern over the possibility of an increase in the New York federal reserve discount rate on Thursday. Electric Auto Lite soared 7-1/4 points to a new high record at 190 and Curtis Aeroplane extended its early gain to 4 points by touching another new peak at 101-1/2. Thatcher, Pullman, American Water Works and Spicer Manufacturing advanced 1-1/2 to 3-1/2 points to new 1928 high prices. Missouri Pacific common and Reading stock preferred also broke through to new top prices. Trading was again in heavy volume although individual transactions seldom ran above 3000 shares. Foreign exchanges opened easier, with sterling cables quoted around $4.87-7-8. The closing was strong. Some of the oils, as well as U. S. Steel were heavy in the late afternoon, but buying orders were swelled by an outburst of speculation in unexpected quarters. People's Gas jumped 6-1/2 and Coty 7-1/2 points, while gains of three or more were scored by a long list of industrials, public and Northwestern entered new high ground above 94. Total sales approximated 4,000,000 shares.

ST. LOUIS TRADING

CHICAGO, May 1 (AP)—Unofficial crop reports today as to wheat proved fully as bullish as expected, but immense profit-taking sales carried prices downward in the early dealings. The average of the private estimates of the winter wheat crop was 474,000,000 bushels. Opening at 1c decline to 1-1/8 advance, wheat underwent severe general setbacks. Corn, oats and provisions displayed relative strength, corn opening unchanged to 1-4c off and then undergoing a sag all around, but later scoring sharp gains at times. Wheat closed greatly unsettled 31-4 to 41-2 cents net lower. Corn 15-8c to 21-4 cents off, oats 11-8c to 25-8c down and provisions varying from 15c decline to a rise of 2c.

Lindsey Host To College Students

Cliff Lindsey, manager of the Palace and Lindsey Theatres, was host to some fifty Texas Technological college football players last evening at the Palace Theatre where the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture "West Point", featuring William Haines and Joan Crawford was presented. The picture shows actual scenes of the greatest gridiron exhibition in the United States, the annual Army-Navy classic, which was played on the Soldiers Field at Chicago. The story features the school life of Cadets in the United States Military Academy and presents numerous scenes of the dress parades of the Academy.

"Ole Swimmin' Hole" Is Being Enlarged

Lubbock will soon have another "swimmin' hole." Finishing touches are being applied to the city's new swimming pool in the Tumble N park northeast of the city and the park will soon be opened for patronage within a short time, it was learned today. Workmen are pouring the cement for the bottom and side walls of the pool this week. City Engineer Martin R. Smith, who is superintending the work, said today. The bath houses are nearing completion and other work such as the building of the diving towers and constructing benches and other paraphernalia will be started this week.

SPPRIT OF ST. LOUIS IS UNDER GUARD AT BOLLING FIELD

WASHINGTON, May 1.—Barely a year old but rested little between flights equal in distance to almost twice around the earth, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh's famous "Spirit of St. Louis" remained under strict guard at Bolling Field today awaiting placement alongside other pioneer scientific works in the Smithsonian Institution.

The great aerial plane that blazed the first aerial passage connecting the North American and European continents May 21, 1927, and since then has raised its mileage to more than 40,000, made it last long hop yesterday when Lindbergh, its lone pilot on all its great voyages, flew here from St. Louis. The 725 miles was covered in four hours and 58 minutes.

Minor Preparations

While awaiting completion of housing facilities sufficient to protect it from souvenir hunters, at the Smithsonian, the plane will undergo some minor preparations, which Lindbergh might look upon as an embalming, for her final resting place. Preservatives will be applied to her silvery body and the ship otherwise dressed for the gaze of future generations.

Just when the plane will be installed has not been decided. Dr. Charles G. Abbott, secretary of the institution, said it might be a week or two before the building which houses the Langley model is made ready for it. May 21, the anniversary of Lindbergh's New York to Paris flight, has been reported as a date for the formal presentation, but the flier said he would not be in Washington then.

Coming down gracefully at its last airport shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, "we" found 39 army planes "on the line" at Bolling Field, as if ready to receive an honored guest. Two other planes stopping here enroute to Langley Field for maneuvers flanked her as she approached the landing and swept aside as she planned to earth.

Reluctant to Leave

Lindbergh, wearing a gray suit and flying helmet, then taxied the ship to a hangar, sat still a moment as if reluctant to part with his friend of the heights, and then gathered walls of the pool this week. City Engineer Martin R. Smith, who is superintending the work, said today. The bath houses are nearing completion and other work such as the building of the diving towers and constructing benches and other paraphernalia will be started this week.

Lindbergh left the field with Major Thomas G. Lanphier, first pursuit group, Selfridge Field, Michigan, who greeted him upon his arrival and who has been one of the flier's constant companions on trips about the country since his epoch making hop abroad.

Two enlisted men took up guard duty beside the "Spirit of St. Louis." They were Private Philip H. MacKenzie and Sergeant Roy W. Hooch, chief mechanic at the field.

Some baggage, including a blue sweater, before climbing out.

After posing for photographs, Lindbergh walked slowly around the plane and all he could be heard to say was, "Yes, I am sorry." He told those standing by that while the ship had flown more than 40,000 miles, it easily could "carry on" for another 40,000.

"PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN PORTRAITS"

FRANK O. LOWDEN

LOWDEN, "BUSINESS CANDIDATE" IN 1924, IS FARM CANDIDATE NOW

EDITOR'S NOTE: This, the eighteenth in the series of Presidential Campaign Portraits written for The Journal and NEA Service by Robert Talley, is the last of three articles dealing with the career of ex-Governor Frank O. Lowden. The next article will discuss Senator William E. Borah of Idaho.

By ROBERT TALLEY
NEA Service Writer
WASHINGTON, May 1. — The eight years that have rolled by since 1920 have done more than merely add to the age of Frank O. Lowden. They have changed him from a business man's candidate for the presidency to a farmer's candidate — at least, such is the change of his campaign.

Eight years ago Lowden was placed before the American public as the only successful governor of Illinois, the man who would keep the heels of industry turning and between the prices the American farmer receives for the things he sells and the prices he has to pay for the things he buys.

"What the American farmer asks is the same right which other American industries now enjoy, through their superior organization. This is to name a price and acquire an organization that will enable him to sell at that price."

Unity of effort through co-operation and organization among farmers will be necessary to achieve this, he says.

It is reported on apparently good authority that in the pre-Volstead days Lowden did not object to a glass of wine with his meals, but the same authority says he has not touched alcoholic stimulants for years. He did not support the 18th amendment, feeling that this was a question that the states should decide for themselves, but now that the prohibition law is on the federal statute books he feels that it is an obligation to see that it is enforced.

Lowden favors a protective tariff, though not at the expense of the farmer.

"The proper policy," he says in explaining this somewhat paradoxical stance, "is not to abuse industry by lowering the tariff, but to raise the economy to the national government.

Today Lowden is being placed before the public as the champion of the distressed farmer, the leader of the agrarian revolt, the man whose election would mean the economic salvation of the horn-handled tiller of the soil.

Lowden is a farmer and a successful one. His famous Sinissippi farm on which he makes his home near Oregon, Ill., is a model of agricultural efficiency. In addition, he owns a big cotton plantation in Kansas and has rather recently acquired a farm in Texas and another in the irrigation district of a west.

agriculture to the level of industry. That policy cannot be maintained without a protective tariff."

On the question of a third term for the presidency—which is of interest in view of the still-repeated rumors of an attempt to "draft" President Coolidge—Lowden has made his position clear by his actions, although he has kept silent in the present controversy.

When Lowden was a member of congress he introduced a proposed constitutional amendment which would lengthen the presidential term from four to six years and limit a president to one term.

He has been quoted recently as saying he sees no reason to change his view of limitation, though he is not quite so sure now about lengthening the term to six years.

Lowden's long and close friendship with Vice President Dawes is said by politicians to be no small factor in his present campaign. Mr. Dawes has recently said that he is a candidate for the presidency, insisting that he is supporting Lowden. That is Dawes' emphatic answer to all who approach him publicly on the subject.

But in the undercurrent of political rumor, which ebbs and flows ceaselessly in Washington, there is a tale that these old friends have entered into a "partnership" campaign. In other words, Dawes will continue to support Lowden and then if it develops at the Kansas City convention that Lowden's nomination is impossible, Lowden will, in return, throw his support to Dawes.

How true these rumors are only time will tell.

TOMORROW: Senator William E. Borah of Idaho.

Naturally, any man who can make a success of farming these appeals to the voters in the rural districts, and on them Lowden relies. The fact that he is a "kid glove farmer" doesn't detract from his financial success.

The Illinoisian is a strong advocate of co-operative marketing at farm relief legislation which would tend to a more economical method of distributing the farmer's surplus crops. He is said to favor the McNary-Haugen bill with the limitation fee included, the latter the ground that the machinery which it proposes to set up cannot successfully function without a method of apportioning the cost of marketing crops on a national scale.

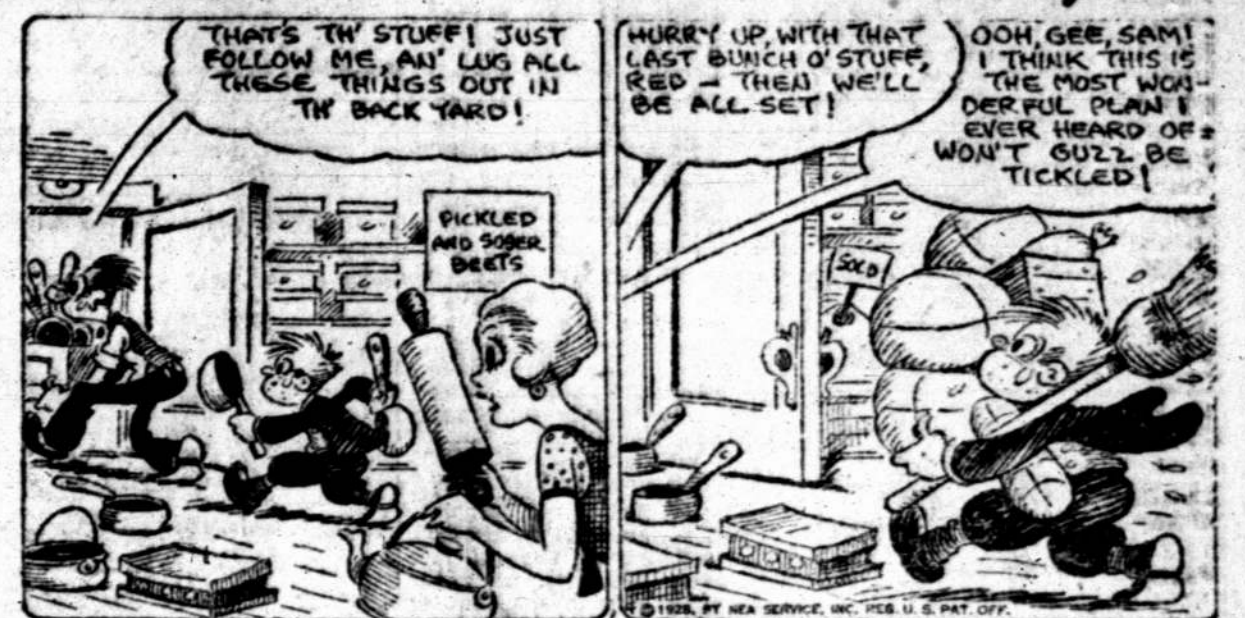

Lowden once said, "I will not but they will not bring prosperity to the American farmer. It is clear that the great agricultural interest of our country has been run down at a dangerous pace. The farm population was reduced by over a half million in 1925. This gives the very life of the nation is too much of a discrepancy

ALL PORTIONS OF STATE SEND BOYS TO SHOW

WEST TEXAS WINS BIG HONOR IN CONTESTS AT TEXAS A. & M.

COLLEGE STATION, May 1.—Teams from virtually every general section of the state carried home prize awards from the eleventh annual Texas Smith-Hughes vocational judging contests held at the A. and M. College of Texas April 23. West Texas contestants figured heavily in the awards, especially in the livestock judging events, though teams from other areas carried off numerous awards, the complete list of prize winners shows. The whole state was represented in the competition, boy farmers being here from the Plaine country to the Rio Grande Valley, from as far west as El Paso, county to the extreme northeastern section of the state.

Attendance Over 800
Total attendance at the contests was in excess of 800 and more than 600 Texas high school boys, students in vocational agriculture, were actual participants in the events. Eighty-nine schools were represented by more than 200 teams. The attendance this year was larger than ever before and officials declared interest was keenest. The contests were held here under the supervision of the school of vocational teaching and the school of agriculture. Complete list of first place winners in all of the five general contests has been announced at follows:

Livestock Judging: First place in all classes, ublin team composed of E. J. Hughes, J. T. Pulford and Troy Tatum; instructor and coach, R. B. Cleveland. This team also took first place in dairy cattle and judging events. By reason of their record, the ublin team will represent Texas at the American Royal Livestock Show at Kansas City next fall. First in horse judging event, Athens team composed of D. J. Speed, R. Brownlow and T. Howell; coach S. R. LeMay. First in beef cattle, Merizon team composed of Blanks Oglesby, Fred. Ball and

THEY'LL STEAL THE COURT HOUSE NEXT

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Pillaging the Atlantic ocean or the Woolworth building should be about as easy as stealing 800 live alligators, and yet the "gators are gone and police have failed to find them.
When A. H. Baker made a check of his farm recently he found $1,200 worth of alligators missing. He told police that the missing leather manufacturers were all present or accounted for the day before, and could offer no clue as to how 800 alligators were kidnapped in less than 12 hours.

MODERN GROCER IS A PSYCHOANALYST

CHICAGO—At last, mother is coming into her own! First the iceman in convention assembled decided that the 1928 model purveyor of frozen water should be a first class specimen of male pulchritude, and now the grocers have come to the conclusion that the modern housewife should have psychoanalysis with her purchases.

The 1928 model grocer will offer innumerable temptations to his customer. He will eliminate counters which separate the customer from tempting foods; he will heap attractive viands in the center of the store and along the walls; and he will hide his cashier in a corner to the rear of the store so as not to detract from the display and encourage the shopper to make a complete selection of his wares for herarder.

Swain Daddley, coach, F. N. Newsum. First in sheep, Del Rio team composed of Jack Sellers, Melvin Rowland and Tommy Hayes, coach H. M. McElroy. First in goats, San Angelo team composed of Escar Pace, Keith Crouch and Jack Latt; coach John A. Gorman. The Cuyo team composed of Cobygo Yeager, Bert Ezzell and Floyd Thurman and N. L. Taylor, alternate, coached by E. H. Varnell, won the right to represent Texas at the National Dairy Show at Memphis, Tenn., next fall, defeating Hiltobara, Stephenville and Tulsa in this event.

LEGION GIVES MINSTREL SHOW AGAIN TONIGHT

PACKED HOUSE GREET'S FIRST RENDITION; CHANGE OFFERED

After drawing uproarious approval from more than 700 persons last night, members of the Allen Brothers Post of the American Legion will again take the stage tonight in the high school auditorium and present the second performance of their blackface minstrel with a complete change in several features of the show, and a little shorter program.
The 20-odd members of the Post who faced the audience in burnt cork make-up performed above the average home-talent ability and presented a varied program, lagging only at a few spots but rising to greater interest during the next moments. Directed by W. P. Knox, with Harry Meyers as stage leader, the show went over in fine form and displayed much unrecognized talent.

Ends With Burlesque

Open with the usual minstrel stock performance of the inter-actor and the end men exchanging jokes with choruses sandwiched in, the show ended with a burlesque meeting, a cross between the city commission the Board of City Development and the American Legion in which Major Majen, Corporal Von and Private Pickers made their report on their trip to Washington and their efforts to secure a stamp emporium for the city. "The postoffice is assured as soon as construction starts," their report said.

Capturing much of the applause during the evening, Harry Gaden, Tech faculty member, feasted with his dances, a mixture of the jig and buck and wing. The chorus work under Harry Blocker and H. D. Carlock, interloater, was exceptionally well handled only to be carried over by Bob Stevenson at the piano.

Strange Is Big Feature

Tanlae Strange continued with his usual chatter in his negro preacher bill in which he bemoaned the dress of the modern women, selecting as his text, "As Ye Show, So Shall I Preach." Witicism after witicism filled his remarks.
With "wise-cracks" flying back and forth from end-men to interloater various songs featured. Interloater Carlock opened the show with his interpretation of "Girl of My Dreams," joined in the chorus by the group. Other songs, "Magnolia" by Bob Peck, "Just a Memory" by

EX-BODY GUARD OF SUN YAT SEN LEAVES CANTON

(By Associated Press)
CANTON, May 1.—Morris Cohen, two-gun man from Canada who served the late Dr. Sun Yat Sen as bodyguard for the last three years of the revolutionary leader's life, has left Canton for an unnamed destination. Of the polyglot coterie of foreigners who assembled about Dr. Sun's person in Canton—Red Russians, Americans, Germans—this burly, free-handed Jewish adventurer is believed to have been the last of any prominence remaining in China.

He turned up here six years ago with a letter of recommendation from a revolutionary Chinese in Edmonton, Canada, whence he hailed. After he had given one display of his prized feat of marksmanship—throwing two coins in the air simultaneously, drawing two pistols and hitting both coins in mid-air—the job of bodyguard and chauffeur to Dr. Sun was his.

When the Kuomintang leader died in 1925 his will stipulated that Cohen should have a life job in the Canton government's central bank. This he held, acting also as messenger and purchasing agent for Canton officials, until he became involved in the Red uprising of last December. The upshot was his purchase of a one-way ticket from the scene of this six-year phase of his adventurer's career.

While Mr. Ford is in England we do hope he gives the Prince one of his nice, shiny cars.

H. S. Brown, "I Ain't Got Nobody," by Clyde Backenstoss, "O'er the Billy Sea," by L. M. Brooks, "Rhythm" by J. A. Raley, Jr., "In the Garden of Tomorrow" by Harry Blocker, and "It All Belongs to Me" by Harry Gaden.

Opening the second part of the program, J. W. Wiggins presented several clever slight-of-hand tricks which were followed by a burlesque of Will Rogers by W. P. Knox, who seemed adept in handling the ropes also, keeping the loops spinning all around him as he talked of "what he reads in the Avalanche-Journal."

"Harmonica Four"

"The Harmonica Four" armed with old fashioned French harps drew an ovation from the audience. Members of the cast included: Rouleston, Hunt, Henry, Coby, Bowerman, Parnell, Hill, Summer, Lincoln, Smith, Hardwick, Young, Carlock, Watkins, Stanley, Hardin, King, Mundough, Carter, McKnight, Peck, Gaden, Brown, Lackey, Al-jen, Blocker, Woods, Strange, Raley, Brooks, Backenstoss and Kucera.

POULTRY ASS'N GETS IMPETUS IN MEET HERE

MANY PLAINS TOWNS ARE REPRESENTED IN DISCUSSION

With representatives from Sharon, Levelland, Ropesville, O'Donnell, Meadow, Brownfield, Tahoka, Post, Seagraves and Lubbock in attendance, added impetus was given the organization of the South Plains Poultry association in a meeting held Monday afternoon in the chamber of commerce rooms.
The attendees at the meeting, representing poultry raisers and chambers of commerce, were unanimous in their support of the association, which has already taken the form of a temporary organization.

A morning dish of ALL-BRAN prevents constipation

Clear eyes. Fresh complexions. Buoyant spirits. They all come when the right kind of food is eaten. One of the main things that our modern diet lacks is the roughage necessary to prevent constipation, which is the cause of so much ill health.
Kellogg's ALL-BRAN will furnish the bulk you need to keep well and fit.
ALL-BRAN is 100 per cent bran. It supplies roughage in effective quantities. Far better than part-bran products. At best, they can be but partially effective. ALL-BRAN is guaranteed.
