Priest Leaves $5,000 To Rockport Lions

The Rev. Edward Murski, a Catholic priest who died recently, left $5,175.53 to the Rockport Lions Club.

Father Murski left instructions as to how the money is to be used, stating, "Use it for visual care or dental care or both on trade school children in your school area."

The money, in the form of a check, was given to James Gillis, president of the Rockport Lions Club, by the priest's brother, Mike Murski, 5422 Saxon, Houston, who is administrator of the estate.

Gillis was informed that Father Murski retired about five years ago, that he had a small home in Lamar, and that he formerly served as the pastor at Catholic churches in Inez, Brenham and Vanderbilt, Texas.

He also left money for Lions Clubs at Nixon and Cuero. His interest in the work of Lions Clubs in aiding the blind and helping people with sight problems was a surprise, at least to Gillis and other members of the Rockport Lions Club. None of the members recall Father Murski ever attending a meeting of the local club.

BO-JAC GETS PADRE ISLAND JOB

A major program for home construction in Padre Island was announced today by David L. Chamorro, president of Padre Island Investment Corporation.

"In keeping with Padre Island Investment Corporation's desires to build a quality, water-oriented community, we are delighted to be able to become directly involved in the home construction as we consider the total planning of the subdivision's development," stated Chamorro.

The development firm, together with Bo-Jack Construction Company, Inc., of Rockport, Texas, will begin immediately to build a number of homes in the Galleon Bay section of Padre Island. Bob Smith, president of Bo-Jack Construction, stated that he personally would direct the Padre Island construction for his firm. Bo-Jack Construction has experienced remarkable growth since the formation of the corporation 18 months ago.

The firm has constructed 75 one-family units, 2 commercial buildings and a number of stores. Currently, Bo-Jack Construction is completing construction of a 48-unit apartment complex in Rockport. The firm has participated in construction activity in the Rockport, Aransas Pass area and in many of the Gulf Coast's recreation-oriented developments.

The Galleon Bay homes are expected to be completed in ninety days, according to Chamorro. Prices will range from $32,000 to $45,000 and each home will be built on a bulkheaded canal homesite to provide recreational water access.

Padre Island Investment Corporation, a subsidiary of Budget Industries, a New York Stock Exchange listed corporation, has corporate headquarters in the Million Dollar Inn on Padre Island and maintains sales offices in major metropolitan cities in the United States and Canada.

City Inspector Hired By Council

The City Council Tuesday voted to employ Gerard Lader, a retired colonel, as city inspector to serve as plumbing and building inspector and to perform other duties.

His $500 a month salary will be paid by a federal grant for one year and 10 months. Lader was in the Army from 1941 to 1971 and had four years experience in inspection work as an inspector general.

In other action, the Council: --Accepted the new fire station, subject to having a few minor adjustments made and voted to pay Port Little the contract price of $55,000.

--Canvassed the returns of the Oct. 29 sewer revenue bond election in which the vote was 89 to 8 in favor of authorizing the city to issue $120,000 in sewer revenue bonds to expand the sewage treatment plant.

--Agreed to pay up to $4,000 of the cost for over-sizing a 420-foot sewer line extension to the Bo-Jac apartment project on North Live Oak, with Bo-Jac paying the rest of the cost.

Sewer Bond Election Passes, 89 to 8

By a vote of 89 to 8, local residents on Oct. 29 approved the issuance of $120,000 in sewer revenue bonds to make it possible for the city to double the capacity of its sewage treatment plant.

The $120,000 represents 45 per cent of the total cost of the project which is estimated to be about $265,000. The remaining 55 per cent will be provided by a federal grant. Successful passage of the sewer revenue bond issue election will enable the city to increase the capacity of the sewage treatment plant from 500,000 to 1,000,000 gallons per day to serve more people.

VICTORY COULD DETERMINE DISTRICT 30-AA CHAMPIONSHIP

The Rockport-Fulton Pirates will take on the George West Longhorns in the Homecoming game for the Pirates this Friday night at Pirate Stadium. To increase the interest in the game, the Pirates will be shooting for the district title. The Longhorns, winner of District 30-AA in 1970, are 3-0 in district play and currently on top in the standings, after thrashing Woodsboro 39-18 last week.

The Pirates enter the game with a 2-0-1 record for district play, but a win would place the Pirates in sole possession of first place going into the last game of the season. The Pirates have had many "crucial" games this season, but none so crucial as this one.

The game should feature the Pirates' strong defense against George West's Close T formation running attack. The Pirates defense has now given up only 53 points in seven games, and only 19 of those points in the first half.

With Homecoming activities beginning a half-hour before game time, and considering the strong following which George West will bring, it would be a good idea to come early if you expect to have a seat.

United Fund Reaches $2,316

Bill Janeczek, general chairman of the United Fund Campaign, reported that, as of Tuesday morning, a total of $2,316 had been mailed in by residents of Aransas County.

The goal is $13,200, with the funds raised to be allocated among 12 worthwhile agencies.

The accompanying "thermometer" will be published by the Rockport Pilot regularly to show the progress of the United Fund collections.

UNITED FUND CAMPAIGN NEEDS YOUR SUPPORT

With the goal set at $13,200, the annual campaign of Aransas County United Fund is now in progress.

In seeking the support of the entire community, campaign chairman Bill Janeczek has sent the following message to residents throughout the county:

Involvement is a 'Key' word today. We will involve you in the lives of people in this community, if you will let us distribute your gift. "Money is your hands and feet going where you cannot go."

May I make three points? 1. Human needs and opportunities for aid are just as important in this area as in any in the world;

2. You can give more if you will give monthly. You will never miss $5.00 out of your monthly income, but the United Fund will most certainly benefit from your $60.00 contribution. (We will write your check for you if you will sign the "Bank Authorization" card enclosed).

3. If you wish to contribute to your favorite agency or agencies, make individual checks payable to specific agency or agencies and we will forward to them. Your contribution will not be divided among the 14 causes listed below if you so specify.

Your generous support will help many people in this area. And--they will appreciate your help.

The funds raised will be allocated to the following agencies: American Red Cross, Aransas County Emergency Corps, Aransas County Youth Council, Boy Scouts, Coastal Bend Association for Mental Health, Coastal Bend Council on Alcoholism, Family Counseling Service, Girl Scouts, Palsano Council, Local, Medical Research Foundation of Texas, Salvation Army, Texas Rehabilitation Hospital, Gonzales, Texas United Community Services and U. S. O.

Drainage Improvement Planned by County

Aransas County Judge John D. Wendell and County Commissioners W. B. Allen, Mrs. Wanda Sparks, Raymond Owens and Charlie Hale are probably more aware than any other five persons in the county that "something must be done to improve drainage here following unusually heavy rains which cause flooding."

These county officials have received complaints repeatedly this fall from residents in just about all areas in the county after every downpour which added to the already serious conditions in low areas where water was standing.

The commissioners and Judge Wendell have been busy trying to correct conditions and still stay within the county budget.

They instructed County Surveyor Tommy Griffith to make the necessary surveys and studies in the area west of Rockport, north and south of FM 881, to prepare a plan to improve drainage in this area.

The commissioners court also decided to buy a big ditch digging machine, at an estimated cost of about $40,000, to put into action whatever plan Griffith proposed.

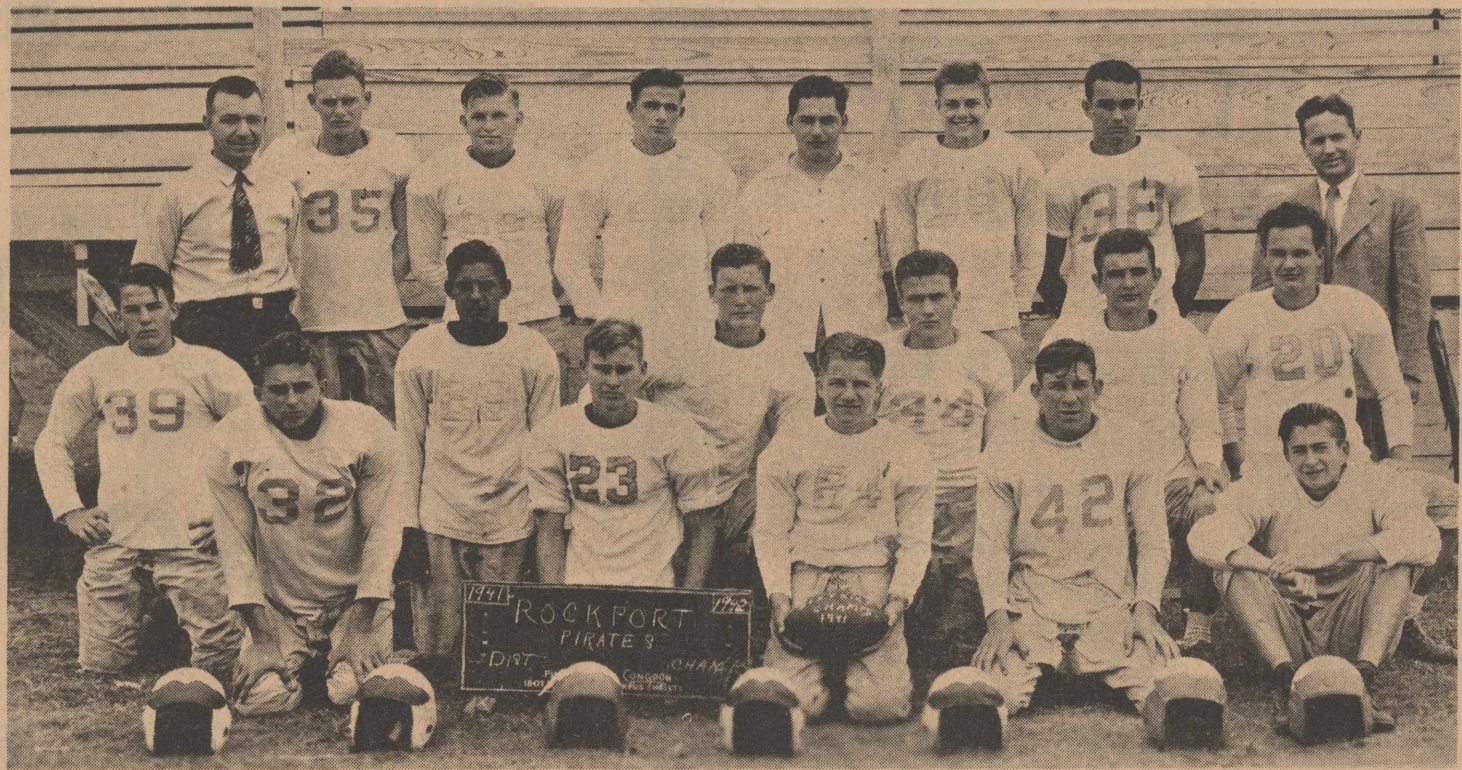

At the Oct. 29 meeting of commissioners court, attended by about 30 persons from Oak Terrace and West Terrace, the judge and commissioners listened to complaints and suggestions and then asked Griffith to present his plan.

Griffith displayed blueprints and aerial photos and outlined the highlights of a plan to alleviate flooding in the area. His proposal calls for digging two ditches.

One will be 2,100 feet long, extending from the end of an existing ditch on the east line of West Terrace to an existing 24-inch concrete culvert under FM 881 at the northeast corner of West Terrace Subdivision.

The second ditch will be 9,800 feet long and in some places will be 30 feet wide. It will extend from Market Street, south on Burton, east on Bay Street, south on Doughty Street to Traylor Street, then along Traylor to Highway 35, under the highway and the San Antonio-Aransas Pass railroad tracks and into the bay.

The Kinsey Report

Tourists generally do a better job of seeing and enjoying a city's attractions than the people who live there.

When I lived in a suburb of Chicago, I spent very little time visiting the Chicago Art Institute, the Field Museum or the Museum of Science and Industry. Now, I wish I had spent more time going through these places and viewing the treasures on display.

When we first moved to Rockport, we spent much more time enjoying the local attractions than we do now. However, last Saturday we decided to do something we always enjoy in late October—take a trip on the Whooping Crane motor vessel from the Sea Gun Sports Inn and look for whooping cranes that had arrived to spend the winter at Aransas National Wildlife Refuge.

With Captain Brownie Brown at the wheel, a boatload of people of all ages took the trip and thoroughly enjoyed it. With the help of Brownie who pointed out the whooping cranes that were visible, we spotted nine of the famous birds.

Even if you are not an avid birdwatcher, it is thrilling to see these rare birds. It is estimated by experts that there are only 60 whooping cranes in existence today, not counting the small number in captivity.

The boat ride itself was relaxing. And Captain Brown's commentary over the loudspeaker system adds spice to the trip.

New Resident Cars

The following cars of new residents were registered last month at the County Tax Collector's office:

Clarence Troy, 1960 Chevrolet; Gerald Willis, 1970 Plymouth; Felipe Poliva, Sr., 1970 Chevrolet; J. B. Zanes, 1967 GMC; Albert Purpura, 1968 International.

Tuesday Bridge

Mrs. Chester Johnson entertained the Tuesday Bridge Club at her home last week. Members attending were Mrs. Jimmy Hunt, Mrs. R. E. House, Mrs. Harry Mills, Mrs. Tom Rogers, Mrs. Roy Woods and two guests, Mrs. J. H. Mills and Mrs. J. D. Houston. Mrs. Mills won high score and the traveling prize.

ATTEND THE HOMECOMING.

Pirates Rap Ingleside 26-0

by Bob Crawford

The Rockport-Fulton Pirates used a strong defense and Ingleside mistakes to pin the Mustangs with a 26-0 loss in Ingleside last Friday night.

After getting another shot following a roughing-the-kicker penalty in the first period, the Pirates mounted a 50-yard drive climaxed by the 9-yard run to paydirt by quarterback Craig Thornton for the 6-0 score.

Two minutes later Travis Bailey blocked a Mustang attempt at a quick kick, and Clifford Mixon fell on the ball putting the Pirates in business on the Ingleside 30-yard line. Four plays later halfback Glyn Landrum crashed over from the two-yard line to put the Pirates out in front 12-0.

The second quarter was scoreless as the Pirates suddenly went sluggish and although they did mount an impressive drive, the play in the second quarter was marred by a 25-yard TD run by Thornton being called back on a procedure penalty.

At the half, hearing that George West was on their way to beating Woodsboro, the Pirates fired up to come back and score two more TD's before the game had ended.

After the first Pirate possession of the second half Freeman Lamar punted the ball to the Ingleside 1-yard line. The Pirates stiffened and popped the ball loose from the Mustang quarterback and defensive halfback Mark Wright recovered the ball in the end zone for a Pirate score. Landrum ran the ball over for the two points.

On the next possession for Ingleside, the other defensive halfback John Vick intercepted a pass which had been tipped by safetyman Steve Arispe and returned the ball 38 yards to the Ingleside 15-yard line. After five plays, reserve halfback Joe Pina darted into the end zone from three yards out to gain the last Pirate score of the evening.

The Pirates drove deep into Mustang territory late in the final period but could not score as the Pirates tried a field goal which missed.

Offensively for the Pirates, Sudden Sam Morgan gained 92 yards in 21 carries and Landrum, still recovering from injuries, gained 83 yards in 12 attempts. Altogether the Pirates used 11 different players to run the football in the game. Sophomore defensive tackle Bob Gillis joined Mixon, Bailey, Wright, Vick and Clay Gillis to corral the Mustangs. Jerry Picton was again a tough two-way performer.

This week, just as each week in the last three, the Pirates are facing a showdown for the district championship. George West comes into the contest with a high-flying 6-2 record, and could be state-ranked after beating Woodsboro by a 39-18 score. The Pirate defense will have their hands full trying to stop the Close T offense which netted all three of their running backs over 100 yards in the game with Woodsboro.

Christian Women To Meet Nov. 9

An organizational committee meeting of the Christian Women of Aransas County was held October 28 at the Presbyterian Church with Mrs. Van Morgan and Mrs. Mildred Hatley as hostesses. Nine ladies representing six area churches attended.

An election of officers was held and it was decided to hold three meetings per year. The first meeting for all church women will be Tuesday, November 9 beginning at 2 p.m. with a social hour. The ladies of the Presbyterian Church will be hostesses and it will be held in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

A second meeting has been tentatively set for January 11 and a third for April 2, with the location for each to be announced at a later date.

All ladies are urged to attend so an interchange of ideas for community needs may be discussed and a fellowship of area church women can be enjoyed.

JV Defeats Ingleside 21-0

Sparked by a fine defensive performance, the Pirate JV stopped district foe Ingleside in their tracks for a minus 1 yard rushing. The Pirates, led by newcomer David Farnham, continually pinned the Ponies in their own backfield for losses. Farnham had the team lead in tackles and recovered a Pony fumble in the end zone for a Pirate TD after tackle Scott McCaskey had hit the Ingleside quarterback behind the goal line and shook the ball loose. Danny Cox paced the remainder of the defense.

The win puts the JV at 3-0 in district play going into the game with George West in Longhorn country this week. The Pirate scoring came in the second half after a scoreless first half. The Pirates' defense sacked the quarterback for a minus 24 yards on a fourth down play, and six plays later Pirate quarterback Bill Beasley slipped across the goal for six points.

In the fourth quarter Farnham and McCaskey made their play and the Pirates added the two point conversion by Beasley to make the score 14-0.

Later in the final period, Fidel Herrera scored for three yards and the third TD for the Pirates. Ruben Estrada kicked the PAT to make it 21-0.

In the game the leading ball carrier was again Rickey McLester who gained 150 yards in 24 carries, keeping McLester's string of going over 100 yards in all games this year intact.

Banquette Beats Freshmen 14-0

The Pirate Freshmen ended up on the short end of a 14-0 score in their game against the B-Team from Banquette. After a scoreless first half, the Pirates yielded two touchdowns to the Bulldogs after having given up the ball inside their own 45 on both occasions.

The Pirate offense bogged down in the game, totaling only 72 yards. The leading ball carrier was Arturo Garcia who got 33 yards in 11 tries.

Defensively, Jeff Landrum was the leading tackler, with Sammy Martinez leading all secondary players in tackles.

Rockport Elementary P.T.L. Meets

The executive board of the Rockport Elementary School met Monday to discuss progress of the P. T. L. to date and tentatively schedule the next public meeting.

The P. T. L. board decided to sponsor an open house of the school at a public meeting to be held late this month. The teachers will be in their classrooms the night of the meeting and will talk with the parents of their students.

The open house is being held to give the teachers a chance to explain their teaching methods and educational goals. The P. T. L. board hopes that this kind of meeting between the parents and teachers will help promote more parent interest in the school and their children's education.

Board members who are working on school building and grounds improvement reported that the superintendent's office has assured the P. T. L. that the building will be repainted this coming summer.

The P. T. L. board is doing its own study to determine the feasibility of air conditioning some part of the school building. The board is working with Central Power and Light on this study and will have a report ready at the next public meeting of the P. T. L.

It was also reported that progress is being made in the teachers aid program. More aids are still needed and interested adults should call 729-5580 or 729-5006 to volunteer their services.

The P. T. L. board is also sponsoring a traffic safety study of the area around the school and will be suggesting changes in the traffic regulations and flow patterns to the proper city and county officials. The board hopes to present a total traffic safety plan at a future public meeting.

Other subjects discussed were an outside resources program and a public relations program. Through its outside resources program the P. T. L. will make available to the school outside lecturers and sponsor field trips for the students. Anyone interested in helping with this activity of the P. T. L. is urged to call 729-7259.

All For One ---

The most impressive example of what can be done for a community by volunteer workers was the successful Aransas County-Rockport Centennial celebration last year.

Never before in the history of Aransas County have so many people devoted so many hours of volunteer service to their community. Except for overall professional planning and direction of the celebration's outdoor pageant, the entire project was accomplished through the efforts of hundreds of volunteers.

Starting the previous October, these workers spent weeks and months planning and executing the scores of separate projects which were necessary to make the June celebration the tremendous success it was.

Although the Centennial attracted much favorable public attention in this area and throughout the state, probably its greatest accomplishment was improved personal relations among local residents. Lasting friendship and a solid respect for the abilities of fellow workers were among the unanticipated but valuable dividends resulting from the Centennial.

Those who worked on Centennial committees and those who observed from the sidelines were impressed with what can be accomplished through the inspired efforts of volunteers.

This is the seventh in a series of messages paying tribute to the hundreds of volunteer workers in this community who make possible so many worthwhile civic projects.

C of C Happenings

The Chamber of Commerce directors held their monthly luncheon meeting Tuesday noon in the Colony Room at the Sandollar Motor Hotel. Present were Mrs. Denver "Corky" Agler, John P. Mitchell, Jr., John R. Kinsey, Bill Janacek, Sam Wilcox, Gordon Stanley, Mrs. Juanita Wagley, Mrs. J. W. "Tony" Harden, Raymond Owens, Bill Kelsay, Vernon Kleyas, the Rev. Lester Hill, Mrs. Loyce Landrum, R. L. Eckman and Mrs. Louise Brislin.

Gordon Stanley, chairman of the tourist promotion committee, reported that he had been in contact with the Rockport-Fulton Tourist Association and had the following recommendation:

That the Chamber of Commerce cooperate with the Tourist Association in holding a number of parties for winter tourists. He said the Paws and Taws Square Dance clubhouse could be used for this purpose for a modest rental charge.

The C of C directors voted to pay the rent for these parties on the basis of not more than $20 per party and not more than once a week. The Tourist Association is to plan the affairs, make arrangements for entertainment, do the inviting, etc.

In other actions, the directors: --Appointed Billy B. Dunlop chairman of the fishing tournament for winter visitors.

--Set Dec. 20 for the annual Caravan of Cars, at which time winter visitors will be escorted on a trip of the area to see the Christmas decorations and enjoy a part at the Paws and Taws Building.

--Endorsed a project of the Aransas County Ministers Association involving the printing of cards listing every church, its location, pastor and time of services for posting in motels, trailer courts, restaurants and other business establishments.

--Voted to hold the next directors meeting the second Thursday of December (Dec. 9) instead of the first Tuesday.

Exhibits and literature displays.

Literature: general, professional and scientific.

The Coastal Bend Council on Alcoholism is neither "wet" nor "dry." Alcoholism, not social drinking, is our concern. Close cooperation is maintained with doctors, clinics, hospitals, clergy, Alcoholics Anonymous, Al-Anon, Family Groups, Alateens, and all other facilities and social agencies of the community and State.

Hours 8:30 - 4:30 Monday - Friday, no charge for these services.

A United Fund Agency, Relationship - AA, The Commission, and local councils.

There is no connection of any kind between AA as an organization and the local council on Alcoholism. AA members take part in various civic activities, but always as individuals, and not as AA representatives.

AA's primary interest is in helping the alcoholic who wants help. The local council's primary purpose is educational, trying to inform everyone about the complex nature of alcoholism, and what can be done about it. Education will enable families, employers and communities to better cope with the problem, and encourage alcoholics to accept help earlier in the progress of the illness.

Question And Answers to Veterans Benefits

Editor's Note: Veterans and their dependents are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q: Is a veteran's widow who draws VA pension entitled to an extra $55 monthly if she becomes a patient in a nursing home?

A: Yes.

Q: I was recently released from a VA hospital after 35 days for injuries suffered in an auto accident. Am I eligible for the special payment veterans receive when they stay more than 21 days in a VA hospital?

A: Not unless the accident was in line of active duty and the injury was recognized as service connected.

Q: I am a veteran who did not complete high school. Will VA pay me an educational allowance?

A: Yes. Not only are you eligible for this assistance, but any veteran who must complete high school to qualify for higher education can do so without this assistance being charged against his basic entitlement.

Medical Insurance Deductible "Carry-Over"

People with social security medical insurance are reminded that doctor bills for October, November, and December may apply against their $50 annual deductible for both 1970 and 1971, says H.M. Cleveland, District Manager.

He explained that the annual deductible is the first $50 of covered medical expense incurred in a year.

There is a "carry-over" rule which works like this. Any covered medical expenses incurred in the last three months of the year, which are used to meet all or part of that year's deductible, may also be used toward the following year's $50 deductible.

Medical insurance - the voluntary part of Medicare that helps pay doctor bills and other health services - pays 80 percent of covered expenses after the first $50.

No Medicare payment can be made until the deductible has been met. For this reason, when your bills come to $50, it is a good practice to make a Medicare claim, Cleveland said.

Medicare claim forms and assistance in filling them out can be secured from your doctor or the social security office, 1802 South Staples Street in Corpus Christi.

Disability Income Protection Insurance For GI's

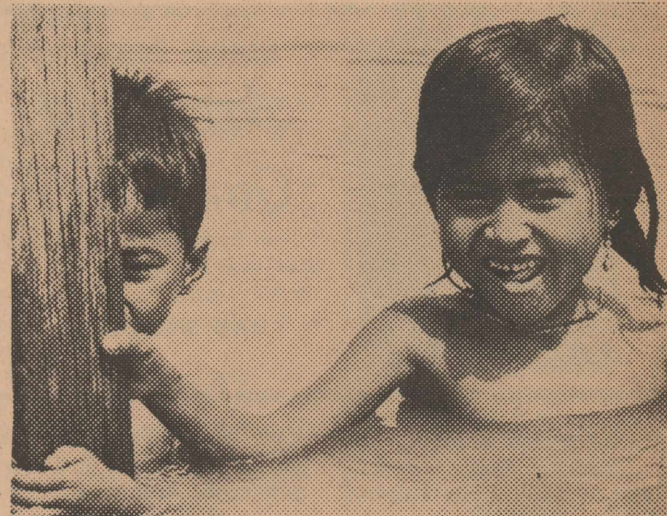

Only about 20 percent of the WW II and Korean Conflict veterans, holding G. I. insurance, are taking advantage of an option for adding an income protection rider to their policies, according to P. J. Mims, Houston VA Regional Director.

Those who have policies numbered with prefixes of "V", "R" or "W" can have the rider added to their policy, provided they are in good health and under age 55. The so-called Total Disability Income Provision (TDIP) entitles the insured to monthly payments in the event he becomes totally disabled before he reaches age 65. More than 750,000 veterans have the rider. Nearly 3.5 million are eligible.

Policyholders receive $10 monthly for each $1000 of insurance held and the payments continue as long as the disability exists. The disability must exist for at least six months, with payments starting the seventh month.

Cost of the added protection varies with age and type of policy, P. J. Mims said.

Details and application forms are available at the VA office to which the insured sends his premiums, or from any VA office.

THE OLD SWIMMING HOLE draws pretty much the same reaction from the younger set in California or Cambodia, where a young brother and sister enjoy the water oblivious for the moment to the ongoing war.

Art Guild Gatherings

By JAN WENDELL

Traveling on Cloud Nine, riding Aladdin's Magic Carpet, piloting a 747, I was soaring higher ever higher and then in the midst of all this bliss, ecstasy and control of power--I made a very large, loud crash landing. That dull thud you heard last week was my uncontrolled, uncoordinated, winged bird, parachutist without a rip cord, plummeting fall back onto something about which I had forgotten, earth!

The flight began in September when I started taking art lessons one morning each week in Corpus Christi. After not painting for over 3 years, this was a real discipline. Our teacher even made us do homework. That's a word I tried to forget in 5th Grade.

But, I did it, along with 30 other students varying in ages from 20 to "over the ---", well, I'd rather not say. The class is made up of people who have painted before (more or less) and from looking around the studio, at least 99 2/3% more than I have.

However, the bliss and ecstasy of it all was that I was getting it; I was creating; I understood each lesson and did my homework meticulously. For the first time in my life I entered a selling art show, and miracles! I sold two paintings. I was on, had it made. Even some of my fellow classmates said my paintings were fair (coming from other artists, that's like saying you've won the Indianapolis 500!).

Then last week we brought to class our homework, a still life underpainting. I knew in my heart mine was right, had the feeling. Then our instructor proceeded to demonstrate indirect oils--the Old Masters technique of wet glazes and dry paint over underpainting. In one little blitty hour he turned an absolute dog into a luscious waxy green pepper, with vibrant chile patines, surrounded by a shimmering red satin drapery and to top it all, an old adobe cracked wall in back.

And how did he do it? Why, quite easily. With a 2" sable brush, very little paint and zip, zap, slap, dash, whoosh and bingo!-- a finished masterpiece. He told us each of us could do it, too, and just as easily. In passing he said it had taken him 12 years to master the technique.

So we began and in 60 long torturous minutes, I turned a good underpainting into an absolute atrocity. The whole class and I was so tied up in knots that by the time we packed up and out, we all needed 2 years of psychiatric therapy.

My confidence shattered, my courage gone, but my humility stimulated, I have since wiped all the tears off my paint box and have dared take the brush back into my shaky hand.

It finally dawned on me that only miracles can turn ugly ducklings into swans, but with determination, discipline, and a tremendous amount of patience, perhaps an ugly duckling can be changed into an almost pretty duckling. Besides that, why should I audaciously expect to learn in 2 hours something it took an excellent professional 12 years to perfect.

So, I figure in 1983--watch out!

Count the ways he swings electrically.

From the tie game on the tube to the air-conditioner on his left, how many ways does he use electricity? Take a stab and get a free character analysis. If you count "three" you're not as observant as most and are undoubtedly taking electricity for granted. Say "six" (radio, coffee-maker, lights, air-conditioning and two ways to watch TV) ... and we see a more careful person. "Seven" shows you're thorough (spotting that tape deck under the magazines) — but not very imaginative. After all, how do you think that toasted cheese sandwich got toasted? If you counted all eight uses in the picture you're in a good position to understand the good value you get for the money you spend living better electrically. Because, for all the good things it does, CPL electricity continues to hold the line against inflation.

Growing Up In Rockport 1910-21

Last summer an appeal was made to local people--particularly pioneer families--to supply Dr. A. Ray Stephens with interesting data for his History of Aransas County, 1871-1971.

One of the most fascinating contributions, titled "Growing Up in Rockport, 1910 to 1921," was submitted by Mrs. W. L. Patrick, nee Mary Pearl Herring. Following is her account.

Students and their teachers walked to school, no matter the distance; and all carried their lunches. The old school house had two stories. The lower grades were down stairs and the higher grades were upstairs. When the school bell rang we had to form a line and march to our respective rooms. Athletics in the school were tennis and boys and girls basketball teams.

Our drinking water at school was on a bench out under the trees. Each bucket had a dipper in it. When one wanted a drink one might have to take the dipper and first push the woolly worms aside, before getting a drink; but we didn't seem to mind and never heard of the woolly worms causing any ill effects from sharing our drinking water. Mrs. Norvell's little music room was on the school grounds, and most all young girls and many of the boys took music lessons from her at one time or the other during their school years. She also was the Art teacher. Mrs. Norvell held the Etude Club in the parlor of her home. These meetings were looked forward to by her students, as we would play musical chairs; and do some studying of music and composers.

Each year at Easter, the Episcopal Church had an Easter Egg Rolling; this was held down on the South Ridge at the Cedars, the home of Misses Ella and Corrie Evans. The conventional Golden Egg was to be found, and a prize given to the lucky one. But the highlight of the party was the ice cream cones served, we could always have more than one, which was really a treat to us. For when we were children an ice cream cone was a delicacy enjoyed not more than two or three times a year.

Our first picture show to attend was in the old "Aldome" and open air theatre without a roof. We remember the serial, "The Black Box," which was quite exciting and frightening. Also saw "Dante's Inferno" there. Many good road shows came to town and were shown in tents. However, the center of social activities was the Pavilion, until the storm of 1919 destroyed it. Music recitals, band concerts, Chataugas were held in the Pavilion. Also bathing parties where one could dress and undress in the little rooms surrounding the Pavilion. To pay fifteen cents and get to use one of these little rooms to don a bathing suit was a special treat when a child was allowed the money for this extravagance.

Anyone attending the dances held in the Pavilion, would never forget this pleasure; the moonlight on the water, the gentle breeze, the dance music, all went to make it so romantic. One year the Boy Scouts from Corpus Christi came to Rockport in sail boats on a camping trip. The Scouts were invited to a Saturday night dance. We girls were all quite excited over this dance; for some of us it was our first time to have dance partners, and we local girls all had a wonderful evening with enough boys to go around. The hair style then was to wear a colorful Maline bow in our hair; and we each felt like a "princess at the ball."

In later years the dances were held in the upstairs of the R. P. Bracht building. In those days we were still walking to parties, dances, church, school or any place we may be going. There was a group of girls who would go to the dances together, we were chaperoned by Mr. Charlie Johnson, who with his two pretty daughters, would walk to each of our homes to take us to the dance, then walk us back home afterwards. You may know that we all loved Mr. Charlie, for he was responsible for our getting to attend many a dance and party. In reminiscing with his daughter, Mrs. Joe Sneed, the other day, she said she remembers how very tired their feet would get before delivering all the girls home safely.

In the summertime, picnicking on the beach, swimming and going on moonlight sails were the main forms of entertainment. The hometown girls really suffered during the summer months in Rockport, as the hometown boys would turn their eyes and affections toward the "summer girls."

When our group was still in high school we organized our first bridge club, which was called the "Flippy Flappers." A bridge party in those days would mean from six to eight tables of bridge, with pretty bridge score pads and tallies to match. Elaborate refreshments served on lovely linen clothes and the families' best china and silver.

Our grandfather, John C. Herring was County and District Clerk of Aransas County for 43 years. He had few opponents during these terms of office, but each election year he never failed to electioneer, just as if he had a strong opponent. In the horse and buggy days and later when the cars came to Rockport, he would try to visit each family in the County, taking bags of candy to the women and children and cigars and tobacco to the men. A generation grew up while he was in office and many voted for him because they remembered the candy he brought to them when they were children. Imagine a little bag of sugar candy getting a vote in this day and time.

To make a trip to Corpus when we were children was a great time of planning and anticipation. One trip, my grandfather rented a car to take us to Corpus Christi. We children were all so excited; but it started raining and we got as far as Gregory, the car got stuck in the mud and all we could do was to return home. What a disappointment, for we could count on our fingers the few trips we made to Corpus during our childhood. Then there was the trip to San Antonio on the old SAP Railroad, with our lunch packed in a shoe box, was one never to be forgotten. In the evenings when many Rockport families would be sitting out on their front porches, a group of Mexican musicians would come into the yard and serenade. To us this was the most beautiful music. They would be rewarded with whatever change the head of the house had in his pocket.

AURA MARIS - The home of Mr. and Mrs. William Lloyd Patrick dates from the early days of Rockport.

The following information was taken from the Rockport Pilot, August 4, 1955.

Aura Maris, the home of Mrs. Emma Reese dates from the early days of Rockport. In 1868, John W. Baylor, a ranchman and prominent citizen of the town, lived in this Early American cottage.

T. P. McCampbell bought it for his family home in 1876. McCampbell owned thousands of acres of land in Aransas and nearby counties. The town of Aransas Pass is built on land he owned and many of his descendants still live in this part of Texas.

E. H. Norvell bought the property in 1890. The Norvell family were well known in church and musical circles. Their daughter, Mrs. S. F. Jackson, was raised in this house.

The Rev. Paul Reese, a retired Anglican clergyman bought it for his family about 1935, and gave it the name Aura Maris - meaning 'Breath of the Sea.' Situated on Water street, it faces beautiful Aransas Bay.

The Reese family and their aunt, Miss Mary Shellman, bought many family heirlooms from their ancestral home, the Shellman House in Westminster, Maryland.

Aura Maris is an Early American cottage, built with cypress drop siding, and has a modified Greek revival style front porch; with twelve-paned windows on either side. The entrance door, with hinged side-lights and a transom light above, gives into a reception hall. The doors on either side of this lead into larger rooms, which were sometimes called double parlors. Each has a fireplace with an Adam mantel on the outer wall.

The interior walls are 5 1/2 inch cypress, painted white. The beaded top baseboards are ten inches high. The thick four panel doors are three feet by seven. Some of the timbers in the foundation are hand-hewn square beams.

Very old fig trees and oleanders make a living green frame for the hospitable home.

John Lee Herring bought the home from Mrs. Reese in 1962 and sold it in 1964 to Mr. and Mrs. William Lloyd Patrick, she being the sister of John Lee Herring.

Excerpt from the Corpus Christi Caller, by John Lafferty.

"Folks in Rockport Area Know He's Mr. Encyclopedia."

Rockport -- James Clark Herring has spent all of 80 years in Rockport (where practically everyone in Rockport calls him "Mr. Clark") and remembers the time when there were street cars here that ran to Oklahoma!

"Of course," he said with his eyes twinkling, "Oklahoma wasn't but three miles south of here in those days. A fellow from Oklahoma City bought some land south of Rockport and laid out an addition. Homes sprang up like mushrooms, and they named the place Oklahoma in honor of the promoter."

"This was before the automobile age," Herring said, "and people in Oklahoma wanted some sort of conveyance to get them back and forth between there and Rockport. 'About that time,' he said, 'they changed over to electric cars in San Antonio, and they had a lot of old mule-drawn trolley cars they couldn't use anymore, so the commissioners from Aransas County went up there and bought a couple.'"

The county barn was down by where Heidenfels Shipyard is now, and the tracks ran up Magnolia St. in Rockport. Riding these cars was lots of fun for us boys, and we found out how to jolt them off the tracks."

"This knowledge came in handy according to Herring for as boys he and his friends never had any money to pay their fares and they had to figure out some way around that fact. 'We'd wait until the driver was in the barn, where he couldn't see us, and then we push the cars off. When he came back we'd help him put them on again and he'd let us ride free. I don't think he ever did catch on.'"

The life of the street cars was only about two years, as the community of Oklahoma folded up and most of the homes were moved away, some of them to Rockport, where Clark, in later life was county and district clerk for many years, kept track of them through the real estate transfers in his office in the courthouse.

Letter to the Editor

As a professional engineer, may I add my two cents worth to the comments of M. W. Cochran in a letter to the editor in the October 28 issue of the Pilot.

Speaking of ditch grades and culvert installations, Mr. Cochran notes that "the eye-balling practice of the past has not and cannot do the job right." My comments pertain particularly to conditions in Section 2 of Little Bay Shores.

Following the heavy rains in September during storm Fern and since that time water has stood stagnant in the bar ditches leading to their terminus at the city limits of Rockport just north of Johnson Avenue at the end of Cochran Avenue.

On September 30, maintenance crews widened and deepened the ditches leading to the Johnson-Cochran intersection in an attempt to drain off water standing for several blocks to the south and west of that corner. The net effect was to provide more space for water to stand along Cochran, Bay and Shores to the delight of neighborhood children who have been able to observe the life cycle of polywogs from hatching all the way to young froghood. Unfortunately the mosquito hatch has been and still is more prolific than that of the polywogs.

The problem is simply this: The flow line of the culvert at the end of the Cochran pavement is considerably higher than the bottom of the newly deepened ditches leading to it. Lowering the culvert would, of itself, be of little benefit. The ground just beyond the culvert is higher than the ditch level. A new pond has formed just beyond the Cochran culvert. This provides an even better mosquito hatchery than the ditches themselves.

I asked the maintenance foreman whether there was sufficient difference of elevation between the end of Cochran and the Tule Creek channel about a block away to provide proper drainage if a small ditch were dug between them. He claimed to have no knowledge of this. Isn't it worth investigating?

Incidentally, the Rockport street map distributed to visitors by the Chamber of Commerce shows Cochran Avenue continuing from its present end at Johnson across the swampy area to the Cemetery Road. This may account for much squealing of brakes on Cochran as drivers cross Johnson and are suddenly confronted by a minor dumping ground for large stumps and other debris as well as the newly formed pond just off the end of Cochran pavement.

A barrier and reflectors is clearly indicated to mark the end of the street.

Letter to the Editor

As usual last night's Halloween gave some teenagers the excuse to go out and willfully destroy other peoples' property in the "spirit of good fun." My children came back in this morning to tell me that many hours of labor had been destroyed and several exotic plants killed because someone evidently thought it would be fun to knock my rock garden apart. This is a real fine welcome I must say since we are new in Rockport.

Also a truck load of teenage boys thought it great sport to drive up and down the streets of Oak Terrace at excessive speeds hurling water balloons, which had rocks inside, at everything that moved. Their prime targets were other vehicles' windshields.

I do hope whoever destroyed my rock garden enjoyed themselves, and I hope they will enjoy seeing me get out there and work to try to repair the damages. If they were anything at all, they would come forth and put it back again and apologize for what they have done. I don't expect that, however, because I am finding that although there is much talk of Christianity and much church-going in Rockport, there is also a great deal of sanctimonious hypocrisy.

Welcome to Rockport newcomers.

Leon Thornton arrived from Abilene Christian College to visit relatives and friends.

Mrs. Leatha Bell of Aransas Pass visited several days with her daughter, Mrs. Leslie Sorenson, and family.

Mrs. Ada Young went to Tivoli to spend a few days visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Huffman.

When Australia's bellbirds store away caterpillars for future food needs, they use their beaks to pinch the worms to paralyze their nervous systems. This does not kill them but keeps them from crawling away.

STILL ON THE TEAM, Henri Richard is captain of the Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League this year. This is the veteran center's 17th year as a hockey major leaguer.

Happy Homemaking

By BARBARA BAKER

Mark around the pattern with color crayon before cutting materials that ravel easily, and the cloth will not ravel when cut.

Use a small zigzag stitch when sewing bonded knits—it gives stretch to seams.

When patching a trouser leg, slip a rolled-up magazine inside and let it unroll. This will hold the material smooth as you sew on the patch.

Sew down the outside of the zipper tape about 1 1/2 inches on either side to prevent curling or waving of a zipper at the top of a blouse or dress.

The lining should be pre-shrunk when making a garment that is to be lined. Pre-shrinking may be accomplished by placing lining in a bathtub, let warm water run on it until it is thoroughly wet, remove from tub without wringing and hang on line to dry. It will dry straight and not require pressing.

ACCENT ON HEALTH

Of all diseases, tuberculosis is probably man's oldest and most puzzling enemy. It remains a major public health problem in many states today, including Texas.

"Texas is recorded as having the third largest total of new, active tuberculosis cases in the nation last year," says Dr. James E. Peavy, Texas Commissioner of Health.

Today, with careful diagnosis and conscientious drug treatment, the chances of curing tuberculosis are very good, no matter what the stage of the disease. Great advances in treatment have brought TB under medical control. But don't get the idea that TB is now a rare disease. It isn't.

Tuberculosis affects 37,000 new patients each year and kills over 5,000 people. In 1970, Texas recorded 2,889 new cases of the disease, placing behind only New York and California in the number of new cases reported. At the beginning of 1971, there were nearly 20,000 cases on the TB register in Texas being kept under surveillance.

Today, over 300,000 people in the United States are under medical care or supervision for TB. More than 100,000 of these have active cases of the disease.

"That's why medical and health authorities view the situation with concern," Dr. Peavy said.

Actually, the high rate of new TB cases in Texas is due to the Health Department's intensive new program of searching out and diagnosing cases of tuberculosis. Progress is being made in reducing the rate of occurrence. The number of cases recorded in 1970 actually fell almost 100 cases from the number reported in 1969 and was over 300 cases down from the number reported in 1968.

The highest incidence of new cases in Texas occurred in the very large cities and in areas near the southern border.

TB can be cured, but it is a long, tedious process. Recovery from tuberculosis, unlike many other diseases, takes months or sometimes years. Although other drugs have been useful in the past, the Texas Health Department is optimistic that a new oral anti-tuberculosis drug promises to be a significant development in tuberculosis therapy. Known as "rifampin," the drug was developed by a team of Italian scientists, and has been available in this country since last May.

Before you buy Burial Insurance or a funeral pre-arrangement plan, BE SURE YOU CAN SELECT the Funeral Home of Your Choice. Make the salesman put it in writing, don't find out later you have to travel 40 miles to make arrangements and have your loved ones lie in state away from their home and friends.

One of the world's most magnificent beers is brewed right here in this wonderful Big Country you live in. It's Lone Star . . . and you probably grew up with it.

But did you know it's as fine a beer as you can buy in the world? That's what the United States Testing Laboratory and the Brewer's Association of America both said. They should know.

How great it is to have a beer like this right under your nose.
