Ranger Track Team Is Sixth At Panhandle

The Ranger track team finished sixth in the 19-team field at the Panhandle Relays Saturday, as the Dumas Demons wound up in top position.

Dumas scored 25 points, followed by Phillips with 17.

The Rangers scored 9½ points with a second place in the pole vault by Bill Whitsett who got 11 feet for a new record, only to see Mike Salor of Dumas who cleared 11 feet and 6 inches.

Shorty Dear placed third in the high jump and third in the discus, while Whitsett placed fourth in the high jump, for all of Perryton's points.

Dear and Whitsett tied for second in the high jump, but lost out on a coin flip with Paul Madura of Tulsa.

The track team goes to the district meet in Canyon on April 15-16.

Seashells for Defense

PAPEETE, Tahiti (AP)—A new diving season is filled with hope for the divers. Not long ago, the change of fashion, which substituted plastic buttons for mother-of-pearl fasteners, lowered the price of the pearl shell from the world's market places.

But the mother-of-pearl has become a vital ingredient in the manufacture of certain war materials. Once again prices are high, compensating for a loss in revenue because of a fall in the price of copra (dried coconut meat from which coconut oil is pressed out).

BOSS OF THE MONTH—Orla Burk, center, of Burk's Inc., was named "Boss of the Month" for March by the Perryton Jaycees and was presented this certificate Saturday night. With him are Jim Dunlavy, left, Jaycee vice president, and Frank Shaffer, right, retiring president of the club.

State School Superintendent Proves Kindness Aids Boys

GATESVILLE, Texas (AP)—Dr. Herman Sapier likes to be on hand when classes are dismissed at the brick school building on the campus of the State School for Boys.

Then he eases back on his heels and a glint of real pride comes into his eyes as he watches the youths' pour from the building—joking, sparring and swapping drags on cigars.

What Sapier, superintendent of the institution, views is a big change—one he put in.

Until last September, the youths were marched like prisoners from the school to their dormitories.

Of the change, Sapier says: "That's the best thing I've done here."

The 38-year-old official has made other changes in two years. Take the dining hall, for instance.

When Sapier came to the school, the inmates were given only spoons with which to eat.

"It didn't matter whether the boys were served beef steak or soup—they had to eat it with a spoon. Another thing," he said, "often the employees (they eat with the inmates) had much better food to eat."

The inmates ate from long wooden tables with wood bench-type seats.

Now, the light, airy dining hall is dotted with colored tables and chairs (made in the school workshop). The youths eat from trays and are served cafeteria style—and get a knife, fork and spoon.

Employees eat from the same steam table and are given the same portions of food as the youths.

"These changes are nothing big but they make the boys feel better," Sapier said. "The boys take pride in these things and it is a big boost for morale."

There are other cherished privileges, which Sapier and other school officials can take away from a boy who has disregarded regulations.

Each dormitory has a television set in its recreation room.

If an inmate is guilty of breaking a rule, he can lose some of all his privileges and may be put in a "discipline group" which handles labor details around the school.

At night, lights are out at 10. Inmates sleep in dormitories. A heavy steel wire gate is at each hall entering the mass sleeping quarters. But Sapier said the gate is rarely closed and locked. The supervisor of the dormitory is handy and doesn't resort to locking them up at night.

Sapier said he doesn't believe in taking young boys and locking them up like hardened criminals. "That's the easiest way in the world to make a boy crack, go crazy," he said.

Aladdin's Lamp Reaches Bowery

How it got there is never explained, but Aladdin's wonderful wishing lamp turns up in a New York pawn shop and winds up in the hands of the Bowery Boys in "Bowery to Bagdad," the comedy which comes to the Ellis Theatre on Friday and Saturday.

Leo Gorcey and Huntz Hall are co-stars.

Trouble follows the group at every step once the lamp comes into its possession, for two different factions are determined to steal it from them. One faction is composed of Orientals. For generation after generation, ever since the reign of Caliph Harun, the Persians have been trying to find the missing treasure. The other group seeking it is made up of racketeers, operating from a wise cracking Matt Hart, played by lovely Joan Shawlee.

Bernard Gorcey, David Condon and Bonnie Bartlett have their prominent in the cast are Eric Blore, as the genie; Robert Bice, Jean Willes, Rick Vallin and Paul Marion.

Before he became superintendent of the school.

"I would be the first to admit that the school isn't perfect," Sapier said. "But it is getting better and we are doing a better job for the boys."

Complete and official figures show that again in 1954—for the 19th straight year—
MORE PEOPLE BOUGHT CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER CAR

No other low-priced car even comes close to matching these important Chevrolet advantages . . .

If you're planning to buy a new car, the one you just can't afford to miss seeing is Chevrolet—for 19 straight years America's best-selling car. The Motorama Chevrolet offers you so much more than the other low-priced cars that it's hardly fair to compare them. And even the high-priced cars don't have all the advantages that today's Chevrolet offers you.

The beauty's built in—not bolted on! Chevrolet's beauty is inherent in the basic contours of metal and glass. There's no excessive bolted-on ornamentation to go out of style overnight.

The Body's by Fisher! You see Body by Fisher on lots of the high-priced cars—and only Chevrolet has it in the low-price field!

Today's most modern engines! That goes for Chevrolet's new V8 and two new sixes as well. All bring you a modern 12-volt electrical system—double the voltage of other low-priced cars. Then Chevrolet's new "Turbo-Fire V8" has the shortest piston stroke in the industry!

A drive to suit your driving! There's silky, peppery Powerglide (even better this year!), new Overdrive (also extra-cost option), and a new Synchro Mesh transmission that's as smooth as they come.

All the power helpers you want! Windows, seat, steering, brakes—all available with built-in "muscles" to make driving as effortless as you wish. They're optional at extra-cost—and worth it!

Come take the key! There have never been so many good reasons why you should drive a Chevrolet.

They carry on simple conversations too in the foreign tongue. The program, now in its second semester, is directed by Mrs. Carmen Garcia of Scottsbluff, Neb., who instructs 27 children in Spanish reading and conversation every afternoon.

Last year about 300 children participated, Townsend said.

Nursing Those Dates

PITTSBURGH, Pa. — There's no dearth of dates for members of the Theta Chi fraternity at Pitt. Phil Russo, a 214-pound student, arranges them.

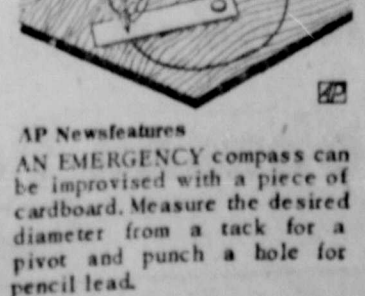

"It is not a matrimonial agency, just a social function," he says. "Theta Chi was sinking into a dateless fraternity because engineering, math and premedical students were too busy 'boning' to make dates."

"I decided to do something to help out. I managed to get dates from student nurses in various hospitals near the campus."

Russo charges no fees.

Misses Mate

FORT WORTH, Tex. — A 45-year-old man was arrested in a tavern after he asked police to help him "get my wife out of this joint." He was booked on a drunk charge when the woman convinced investigating officers the man was not her husband.

Texas Is Big Asset to Tv

One of TV's greatest assets, it would appear, is Texas.

There's hardly a comedy program that does not sooner or later come up with a "Texas skit." You know the one. The star, dressed to the teeth in 10-gallon hat, boots and accessories and packing a bankroll, swaggers in and announces, "Ah'm from Tayx-iss!"

This invariably gets a big laugh, at least in the studio, and must be stock in the trade of script writers.

Neither are most masters of ceremonies, it seems, unaware of Texas' entertainment potential. Let a contestant say innocently he's from Amarillo, and chances are the emcee will shift into an exciting imitation of a drawl the rest of the guest's stay. "You say you is from Tayx-iss? Well I do declare, podner!" etc.

TV's caricature of Texas and Texans puts us Texans who don't wear 10-gallons, boots and carry rolled-up $100 bills in a delicate position. How can we explain that we dully ordinary people are Texans, too?

But it serves to arouse a sort of warm curiosity about our state. Who wouldn't like to visit a place where everybody is oil-rich drives fuchsia Cadillacs and keeps the mink coat trade brisk?

Although Texas long ago decided to join the Union, you'll still hear the TV emcee quip to his Texan guest: "Say, when is Texas coming into the United States? Heh, Heh, Ho, Ho."

Occasionally, "Texas jokes" break the bounds of good taste. A guest performer on a network comedy show out of New York got to cracking gags about Texas and wound up with:

"Believe me, there would be no Texas if the Alamo had had a back door!"

Now this is the kind of thing that can incite a Texan to violence. This fellow is probably still getting mail from Texas.

All in all, TV probably does Texas a lot of good.

A Texan on a New York quiz show won some money. The emcee asked what he would do with it. This fellow replied:

"I have been in New York four years trying to get enough money to go back home to Texas. Now that I've got it, I'm getting on the first train."

What better advertising could Texas get?

Sea animals are more likely to be fossilized than land animals because their bodies usually are quickly covered with sediment.

Big news about

Buick's 4-Door Riviera

THIS brand-new kind of automobile—the sensation of all the Auto Shows this year—is now rolling off the Buick assembly lines in volume numbers. That's the first news.

And the second is just as wonderful—this dramatic new model is very definitely everything that eager buyers hoped it would be.

For the 4-Door Riviera is the first "hardtop" ever available with separate doors for rear-seat passengers—plus rear-compartment room big as a Buick-size family sedan.

It comes breezing in with all the low-lined sweep and wide open visibility of Buick's original 2-Door Riviera—and with luxurious new spaciousness in its sizeable and full-length 4-door body.

With windows down, no posts appear for the rear doors, and you get a completely unobstructed view at both sides.

You find rear doors are hinged at their front edges to swing wide and free, and assure easy entrance and exit.

And you'll find legroom, headroom and hiproom extra-generous both front and rear—with interiors tailored in fabrics and patterns specially reserved for the 4-Door Riviera.

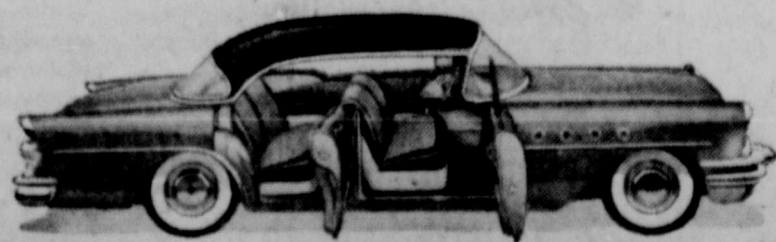

Best of all, this new Buick beauty comes off the line in both the low-price SPECIAL Series and the high-powered CENTURY Series.

So you can pick your 4-Door Riviera with the potent performance of a 188-hp or 236-hp Buick V8 engine—the swift get-away and gas saving of Variable Pitch Dynaflo—the velvet stride of the Million Dollar Ride—the long list of Buick bonus features at no extra cost—and all at "great buy" prices that have helped move Buick into America's "Big Three" of best sellers.

But—better come see us about the 4-Door Riviera now.

With all-out production—and a prompt order—this newest excitement in cars will be yours that much sooner.

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Baptists Plan Revival Meet To Open April 13

Rev. J. T. Harmon

A former Texas who is now the pastor of the First Baptist Church of Richmond, Calif., will begin a series of revival services Wednesday, April 13, at the local First Baptist Church, according to Rev. Keith McCormick, pastor.

Rev. Harmon was graduated from Howard Payne College and held several pastorates in Texas before going to the California church seven years ago.

Services will be at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Bob Bray, music director, will arrange special music for each night service.

Animals Holding Their Own In Battle Of Wits

By Bruce Henderson
The Associated Press

The animal kingdom has been matching wits with Texans. It's not immediately clear who's ahead.

In East Texas they've baffled over how a tapir could find its way into the piney woods. The tapir, a strange-looking beast, is commonly found in Malaysia and South and Central America and rarely if ever in Gregg County.

Phil Dibert of the Tyler Morning Telegraph says Jess Todd of the Sabine Community in Gregg County found the body of what appeared to be a tapir while hunting in the Jay Community. The animal apparently died a natural death, Todd said.

The encyclopedia describes the tapir as having a "heavy, sparsely haired body, a snout prolonged into a short, mobile proboscis and rudimentary tail, stout legs, and four front and three hind toes." Todd says that's what he saw.

He and his companions took a look at the creature, then left. Todd returned the next day, but the body was gone. He thinks somebody took it home to be mounted. The tapir is also described as "nocturnal, shy and gentle." Maybe he was playing possum.

The incident reminds Dibert of a "wired fish" caught about a year ago by Bill Butler of Tyler. Butler put it in a jar, and the Telegraph ran a picture of it. To this day, nobody has come forward to identify the odd marine species.

On a recent morning, Dallas police found a 15-pound raccoon curled up asleep behind a sidewalk scale on a busy downtown street. It's in the zoo now.

Dist. Judge Dallas Blankenship got a bird whistle for Christmas. He went out into his wooded back yard to try it.

The judge blew three or four bird calls and waited. No birds came. But three strange crows came running into the yard. The judge figures he has a good whistle.

Tyler paid its respects to Skip, a dog that could make its way smoothly through heavy traffic with three legs.

Skip lost his left front leg as a result of the Courier-Times says Skip, half collie and half German police, was a familiar figure around the courthouse square and drew admiration for his ability to get around in the heavy traffic.

Skip lost his left front leg about three years ago when hit by a train, but the handicap didn't affect his traffic ability.

Write Dozier. "Skip knew enough about the dangers of crossing a busy street to wait for the red lights before he stepped off the curb—which is a lot more than some humans seem to know."

The column "Town Talk" in the Victoria Advocate tells the story of the fellow who came out of a theater, stuck a gun in the cashier's face and growled:

"The picture was horrible—give me EVERYBODY'S money back."

Young people of the church will be in charge of the entire service Sunday evening, April 10. This service is a climax of "Youth Week" observed this week.

Easter Sunday, members of the Perryton Community will be special guests at the morning service.

John (Red) Marion, new manager of the Louisville Canteen in the American Assn., is a brother of Marty Marion, White Sox manager.

Safety Group Makes Plans For Traffic

The Chamber of Commerce safety committee has made general recommendations for improving traffic safety, especially around the Perryton schools.

The committee met Tuesday with chairman Tom Waugh presiding. It was recommended that the street in front of the elementary school building be made a one-way street during the school year.

It was also recommended that a 15-mile per hour speed limit be put on all streets within one block of school during the school year. The committee pointed out that the use of large painted signs on the pavement would be preferred.

The committee asked that steps be taken to secure signal lights at the intersection of Main and 5th avenue, where the school children cross to the east side of town.

A proposal to secure a juvenile officer, with the salary to be paid by the city, county and school, was discussed. This officer would be used to control traffic at school during rush periods and would devote his time to juvenile matters the rest of the time.

The committee also discussed the setting up of a "T-Man" group to help in checking traffic offenses in town.

Members of the committee are Tom Waugh, chairman, Joe Culp, Arlie C. Eblen, Gilbert Mize and Howard Slaughter.

The county lowered the tax rate 30 cents per $100 valuation last year in Ochiltree county. The 30 cent levy would cost an average home owner in Perryton about $2 per year, and would cost farmers about $3.50 per section of land.

This plan proposed would repair and rebuild the dam, impounding approximately 857 acre feet of water. It would make Lake Fryer again available for fishing, boating and picnicking.

County Judge H. E. Slaughter said Wednesday that the commissioners plan another public meeting or so within the next few weeks in order to get more public reaction toward a bond election.

MISS MARY LOU JACQUOT

Symphony Presents Miss Jacquot

Miss Mary Lou Jacquot, talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Jacquot, 405 South Eton, was presented in concert with the Amarillo Symphony Orchestra under the direction of A. Clyde Roller, Sunday afternoon, March 27, at Stephen A. Austin Auditorium.

Miss Jacquot is a piano pupil of Ardith Johnson of Amarillo and is a ninth grade student.

The 12-14 year group was divided into two sections this year and Miss Jacquot was adjudged best in the presentation of the Concerto in D Major by Haydn.

In her presentation she showed unusual poise and had a nice feel for phrasing and displayed good wrist work.

Miss Jacquot also plays the flute and was given the highest rating, "superior" at the Inter-scholastic League contests in Canyon last week. She received "superior" ratings in the flute trio and also in the woodwind trio.

Prison Camp For Pirates

(AP) Newsfeatures—Many of the Pittsburgh Pirate farm teams will take their spring training chores on the site of a former Prisoner of War camp—in Texas. The training site is at Sam Houston State Teachers College's country campus located about eight miles northeast of Humble.

It covers 887 acres and contains numerous buildings used for the vocational training of students. Originally it was the first German prison camp built on American soil during World War II and at one time handled 20,000 POWs.

A 16-acre portion of the camp, once used as a soccer field by the Germans, has been transformed into a baseball practice field.

Oldster's Chances

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—If you're 65 years old in 1970 you will have an even chance of living to be 79, Dr. Louis Dublin, of the Institute of Life Insurance, told a University of Michigan conference on gerontology (study of old age). He said white males can expect to live 14.1 years after they are 65 and that white females who reach 65 can expect to live 17.8 years—or to about 83—by 1970.

Dublin said 8 per cent of 14 million Americans are 65 or older and that the number is increasing at the rate of 400,000 a year.

Cuba produced eight million tons of sugar in 1952, but in 1953 production was limited by the government to 5,700,000 tons, and to 5,400,000 tons in 1954.

Grasshoppers in This Area Are Seen in Spring

COLLEGE STATION — Severe grasshopper outbreaks are forecast in at least 10 Texas Panhandle counties this year. And a large portion of north central and central Texas is on the "Threatened" list.

Entomologists base their conclusion upon grasshopper adult and egg surveys made during the late summer and fall. In all, they expect 1,750,000 acres of Texas rangeland to experience light to severe infestations this year.

Panhandle counties where potentially severe infestations were found include Lipscomb, Hemphill, Roberts, Hutchinson, Moore, Hartley, Gray, Donley, Armstrong, Randall and parts of bordering counties.

A south central Texas county, Robertson, also is considered a severe area.

An infestation is termed severe when 14 to 28 hoppers are found to the square yard. Concerted control measures may be warranted in these areas.

Biggest grasshopper threat to the nation's cropland centers in the Panhandle, Missouri, southern Wisconsin and eastern Kansas. A noticeable buildup from last year has occurred on some western ranges, reports the Grasshopper Control Project, a branch of the USDA's Agricultural Research Service. They saw some 6,000,000 infested range acres occur in parts of 15 western states.

While playing for the Cincinnati Redlegs in 1949, Walker Cooper made six hits in seven times at bat during one game. Three of the hits were homers.

Strange Partnership

The unexpected support in Congress of the 90 per cent of parity support price for farm products by the CIO makes some of us wonder what is going on.

It has been but a short time ago when rigid farm support prices were attacked quite bitterly by organized labor. Now they have made an about-face and demand higher support prices.

Proponents of the bill for 90 per cent supports say these supports need to be reinstated because the present variable support system is further reducing farm income.

However, the variable supports are not even in effect and won't be until the 1955 harvest. So how could these reduce farm income now?

The Farm Bureau is in favor of reducing farm surpluses, thru expansion of foreign markets and through a more realistic free enterprise system of prices in the United States. The Farm Bureau is also in favor of giving variable price supports a chance to reduce farm surpluses.

The Farm Bureau and other groups say that they are in the dark as to why this present support by organized labor.

Could it be that organized labor would like to call for some support in their drive for a minimum wage of 90 cents an hour and a guaranteed annual wage?

Politics make strange partners sometimes.

The Opposite Direction

Senator Kefauver has recommended that more federal aid for schools be provided as a means of preventing juvenile delinquency.

This, in itself, is not so alarming as the astounding fact that people so readily accept the principle involved. The shift in responsibility from the family to the state is not limited to dictator states, it appears.

We doubt if our debt-ridden federal government can afford expenditures for any and every cause, regardless of the nature of the expenditures. It has been suggested that more federal aid for housing would improve the environment of youths and thus reduce juvenile delinquency.

A national group has advanced a program for government aid for dependent mothers.

There are doubtless other proposals for spending federal money to combat juvenile delinquency in one way or another, and some of these may be good. But parents cannot escape their responsibilities by turning their problems over to the government.

Social welfare should be tempered by some regard for the law and practicality.

From the SIDELINE

with HAROLD HUDSON

People have been crossing the Canadian River at the site of the new highway 70 bridge from time to time, and we have had several tell us that there's nothing to be afraid of, just take it easy and the river bed is as good as a paved road. We have always been skeptical, and one day turned around and came back when we were about half way across the river—our decision being hastened by the sight of a large truck being winched out of a rather deep channel.

Anyway, we were talking to L. K. Cantrell of Canadian, the resident highway engineer for this area, and he remarked that a jeep and a passenger car were lost to the quicksand at the bridge site while the bridge has been under construction. Cantrell has a deep respect for the Canadian River quicksand and probably has had a lot of experience in trying to cross it, too. We are just plumb glad that there are bridges across the river—trying to get unimpaired from quicksand just doesn't appeal to us.

One of our most vivid childhood memories concerns quicksand in the Canadian River. Only this memory concerns the river crossing between Stinnett and Borger. We used to live at Stinnett and made the river crossing every once in a while in a Model T with mother when she drove to Amarillo after a load of groceries for the store in Stinnett. Used to cross the river by being towed with a team of horses driven by Sam Lilly, father of Willis Neal and Irvin of Perryton. Sam used to charge $1 for the service, and people thought they got their money's worth.

However, one day, as we were waiting our turn to cross, a fellow and his wife in a new Buick showed up. They thought $1 was too high, and drove on into the river on their own. Sure enough, about half way across, their car stalled and started sinking into the quicksand. Sam was too busy with other people to haul them out, and we carry a quite clear picture of this man and woman unloading their suitcases, a blanket, a thermos jug and other assorted belongings, while their car slowly settled into the quicksand. They caught a ride into Borger and never saw their car again.

Juvenile delinquency may have started the day the wood-shed was replaced by the garage.

We were dismayed to read the other day where Texas, known as the land of the fur-lined Cadillac, produced only seven individuals with taxable incomes of $1 million or more during 1951, last time the government had a millionaire survey. And Texas ran behind New York, 60, Pennsylvania, 15, California, 14, Delaware, 12, and Illinois, 9. This is going to be hard to explain to all those fellows we talked to in the Army during the late war. We had them thinking that just about everyone in Texas had a million bucks, except us, and the only reason we didn't was because we were so busy fighting that war that we hadn't had time to pick ours up.

Gentlemen do not necessarily prefer blondes—actually, gentlemen just prefer ladies.

Down at Aspermont, the folks were jumping with joy last week—the occasion being the completion of a 19-mile water line from a well north of Rule into Aspermont. The Aspermont Star put out a special edition, they had 3,800 people in for a barbecue, they had a parade, a festival and all sorts of goings-on to celebrate the arrival of this water.

The folks at Aspermont don't want this water for irrigation—they just like it to drink, bathe in, put in automobile radiators, and use for some cleaning. They have been plagued with a water shortage for several years, having to haul it into town in tank cars or trucks. Price has been pretty high, too, when you have to buy water by the barrel.

Makes us think we are pretty fortunate in this section of the country. Here in Perryton, every man, woman and child averages using about 90 gallons of water each day, the year round. In the summer, water consumption skyrockets, and during peak periods, it would amount to 1,200 gallons per person per day, if the city pumping facilities could furnish this much. This peak consumption is for only a few hours during the hot summer days, fortunately. But we have never experienced a real water shortage, thanks to the farsightedness of our city officials.

All a woman really wants is a roof over her head and the right to raise it occasionally.

When James A. Garfield was president of Hiram College, a man brought for entrance as a student his son, for whom he wished a shorter course than the regular.

"The boy can never take all that in," said the father. "He wants to get through quicker. Can you arrange it for him?"

"Oh yes," said Garfield. "He can take a short course; it all depends on what you want to make of him. When God wants to make an oak, He takes only two months to make a squash."

Bad Dream

NEW YORK (AP)—Thomas McGurl, 32, a frustrated bartender-songwriter, never dreamed he'd get the publicity he did for a song of his which was not selling.

With two buddies, he climbed to the roof of a building at noon and showered the crowd with copies of his song. Police gave all three summonses for littering the street.

They asked that the affair receive "the least amount of publicity, but the police captain said he'd whisper that the song's title was 'I'll Always Be Dreaming of You.'"

Mrs. Donald Ellis and Smith left last Friday evening for Phoenix, Ariz. to visit her sister and family. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Thomas and Gary.

Outfielder Bob Cerv of the New York Yankees is a graduate of the University of Nebraska. He received a B. S. degree in education.

Wolf Creek Philosopher

Never Saw Any Normal Weather

(Ed. note: The Wolf Creek Philosopher sounds normal himself, whatever he may think about the weather.)

Dear editor:

While I don't blame the abnormal weather on the fall-out from the hydrogen bombs, in fact, I don't believe the weather ever has been normal, not for longer than a few days at a time. In the history of the world, still, I'll admit that last duster and cold wave, or maybe even the last two or three dust storms, was a hard thing to figure out and probably ought to be called abnormal and would be, except that when we go five months without moisture and the wind gets up I suppose it's only normal for the dirt to blow.

This last freeze, and the one before that, caught a lot of farmers off-guard and wiped out a lot of fruit trees, flowers, etc., but it didn't affect me any out here on Wolf Creek.

None of my crops was bothered because none of em is up yet, in fact, some of my last year's crops ain't even up yet. I never have planted before anybody else yet, and lots of years I wasn't even the last to plant, I just didn't plant, and it turned out I was smart and saved the cost of seed wheat. You don't make much this way, but you sure save a lot of seed and disappointment.

But speaking of abnormal weather, I believe it's the only kind we ever have, or ever have had. People talk about the weather getting back to normal, like they talk about times getting back to normal, but I have always taken the position that whatever weather or whatever times we had, that was normal, as abnormal as they seem.

People talk about when world conditions get back to normal but I'm afraid if they look hard enough at history they'll find times always have been normal, regardless of how rocky things were. If there ever was a time when the world didn't have some kind of a crisis on its hands, when it wasn't on something or other, heard about it.

Smooth sailing, world affairs, home affairs, ranching, the board of school trustees, business, in a church, government, raising a bunch of kids, is always only a Can't any of these things very long without some kind of busting business? Is it normal?

Your truly

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

(Editor, Sports Afield Magazine)

An ounce of prevention is worth you know what, so right now is the time to rejuvenate your casting reel insists Jason Lucas, angling editor of Sports Afield magazine.

We'll concentrate on the cast- ing reel for these reasons: In most fly fishing the reels is subject to very little wear and needs almost no attention; a spinning reel does operate on each retrieve, but it too can be said to be idle during the cast.

These two reels can go through a long life without much oiling or other care.

The case is quite different, however, with a casting reel.

During each cast it works fast and furiously—spool, crank and gears whirring, level-wind mechanism racing madly back and forth. Perfect smoothness is necessary; without it you'll have constant backlashes, short and difficult casts.

To avoid this, your casting reel needs pretty constant at- tention, which includes an oc- casional complete overhaul. Now is the time to do it, before the fishing season. Reconditioning a casting reel is a simple and interesting job that shouldn't take over an hour. It calls for no mechanical aptitude, unless the end bearings are worn. So, before proceeding, see about those.

Remove the end caps. Take the spool between thumb and forefinger and shake sidewise. Look, or feel, to find out if there's a very noticeable amount of sidewise play. If there is, send the reel to its maker for new bearings; it cannot cast properly with worn ones. Let him do the whole overhaul job while he has the reel. It will cost very little, and he'll make it just like new.

But if the bearings aren't un- dully worn, and nothing is bent, you can do the job yourself.

Remember when assembling the reel again, you work back- ward from what you did in tak- ing it apart. If you have forgot- ten what some of these steps were, don't get annoyed or im- patient and start forcing things; if something doesn't slide into place easily, you've got it wrong. Try reversing it, or try another part there.

AUSTIN, Tex.—Two big proposals for the state's water conservation program won in the Senate.

One is Sen. Dorsey Hardeman's $100 million state bond issue for aid to local projects. It calls for a constitutional amendment vote in September. The other is an enabling bill to start operations if and when the amendment is passed.

House sponsors on this, and on the Parish $200 million bond bill to aid local projects have delayed calling for final action. They don't think they have enough votes.

Tax Blank

An openly hostile revenue and taxation committee shunted Rep. Jerry Sadler's $160 million-a-year gas processing tax bill to subcommittee.

It would levy a 1-cent tax on all Texas gasoline and repeal the 4-cent gas sales tax. Opponents said it would bring a 19-cent cut in crude oil prices, costing Texas $190 million a year.

The committee left buried the two bills embodying Gov. Shivers' original tax program. It included a 2-cent hike in the 4-cent gas tax bill and a 1-cent boost in the 4-cent cigarette tax.

This confirmed last week's report that administration forces had abandoned the two single-shot revenue bills and pinned new hopes on Revenue Chairman Stone's omnibus bill. It would permit increases in any of the 100-odd present taxes.

The billion and a half dollar House general appropriation bill (for two years) was passed by the Senate which substituted its own version.

When the House refused to concur in Senate changes, the way was opened for a joint conference committee to resolve the differences. Lieutenant Governor Ramsey has named five Senators to the Committee and House Speaker Jim Lindsey five.

Delaying Action

Special session speculation again comes up.

Sen. Jimmy Phillips saw his filibuster record fall this week to Sen. Wayne Wagonmiller.

Like Phillips, however, Wagonmiller lost his battle. As soon as he stopped talking, the Senate tentatively approved the bus registration fee measure he was fighting.

When it was all over, weary Senators suddenly discovered the marathon talks had killed two full "House bill" periods in the Senate, with only one House bill passed in two weeks.

Observers saw that, with Shivers' entire program still hanging fire, and four more Wednesday filibusters in the Senate capable of killing all of it, a new switch in administration strategy might be possible.

Christian Science Services 11 a. m. each Sunday Public Cordially Invited

That God's power heals and saves from all evil will be emphasized in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" at Christian Science services this Sunday.

"God be merciful unto us, and bless us; and cause his face to shine upon us; that thy way may be known upon earth, thy saving health among all nations" (Ps. 67: 1, 2). This Scriptural selection will be included in those read from the King James Version. A key to harmony is indicated in the following selection from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, which will also be read: "Let selfishness, goodness, mercy, justice, health, holiness, love—the kingdom of heaven—reign within us, and sin, disease, and death will diminish until they finally disappear" (p. 248).

Church of the Brethren

The following is the third in a series of messages by ministers of this trade area. This week's message was written by Rev. Alvin Klotz, Pastor of the Church of the Brethren, Waka.

The whole question of a man's stewardship and his loyalty to the church is closely interwoven. Jesus said, "where a man's treasure is, there will his heart be also." The church needs a man's presence, but it demands his presence also, if it is to represent a vital link between him and God. Even the gambler is mighty interested in the horses on which he has bet his money. Indeed, you can count on the fact that he won't miss the race, and he'll probably be in the front row straining with every nerve until the tape is broken.

There is another consideration, and that is our children. There is an unfortunate lad abroad that one can drop the kids off at ten and pick them up at eleven. We seem to feel that our youngsters will gain mightily from the very thing that we would not endorse with our own presence. True, it helps them, but not at all like it would if it were good enough for Dad and Mother, too. Never underestimate the power of a child to think things out for himself.

What better time is there than now to establish the habit of living and giving for the church of Jesus Christ? It is still the greatest power and organization on earth. Be in your church next Sunday . . . and the next.

Disappointingly Prompt

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Judge Edwin H. Satterthwaite admitted he was disappointed when Laurence H. Eldredge appeared right at the appointed time in court.

During a recess, the judge explained that Eldredge had been his first professor at the University of Pennsylvania law school. On opening day, Judge Satterthwaite recalled, his train was late and he came in 30 minutes after class started.

"And you," the judge reminded Eldredge, "stopped your lecture and dressed me down something awful. You said a lawyer had to learn to be on time. Yes, you gave me quite a ride."

"And, continued Judge Satterthwaite, "when I heard you were coming here today, I was waiting to see what time you came in. If you had been late . . ."

Makeshift Bootlegging

SEAFORT, S. C. (AP)—A shortage of copper tubing, wood barrels and good water has driven moonshiners to the use of substitutes.

Sheriff J. E. McTeer reports that recent raids show galvanized pipe and steel drums being used in stills. The water shortage arose with the long summer drought, reducing the workable sites for stills and making them easier to find.

Parking By Radio

HEMPSTEAD, N. Y.—A department store has inaugurated a radio-controlled parking system for its customers. A traffic control director on the roof of the four-story store keeps an eye on the parking lot. Information on available space is radioed to parking lot attendants equipped with portable receivers.
