One-Armed Paperhangers? Meet Trio--One Had Hives

H. H. NORTON
Of Anamosa, Ia.

CHARLES WENHAM
Of Sioux Falls, S. D.

(By Associated Press Feature Service)

The joke about the one-armed paperhanger with the hives wasn't funny to H. H. Norton of Anamosa, Iowa. Norton, you see, is a one-armed paperhanger — and he had the hives.

Bygones are bygones — it happened years ago. He doesn't mind telling about it now. He'll also tell you how good he is at his job. He slaps the wallpaper against a wall with his good arm, hold it in place with his head, sometimes his teeth.

Not So Tough

"It isn't so tough after you get used to it," he says.

Charles Wenham of Sioux Falls, S. D., another one-armed paperhanger, never had the hives, but he's had more business than he has right now.

"I can still hang paper as good as I used to—maybe not quite as fast, but just as good," he says, "but people like their paperhangers streamlined, and at 74 I can't say I'm exactly that."

Keeps Him Working

Arthur S. Hamilton, one-armed paperhanger of Tacoma, Wash., never had the hives, either, but he does have a grin for the publicity he's received. It's helped to keep him working every day when other paperhangers have gone on relief.

Hamilton calls himself the fastest paperhanger in town. A steel hook on the stump of his left arm helps to keep him at top speed. His chief difficulty, he says, is to convince new customers that he really can hang paper fast and straight.

When not working, he likes to pitch ball and play golf. He's sorry miniature golf went out. He used to be a local champion at that.

Hitler Meets With Henlein Again Today

France Struggles Against Her Own Troubles And Italy Has More Restrictions On Jews

(By The Associated Press)

Rising tension between Germany and Czechoslovakia pivoted today on a second momentous conference at Berchtesgaden while France, still fearful for Europe's peace, struggled against internal discord and Italy clamped new restrictions on Jews.

At his mountain retreat where much of Europe's recent history has been made, Chancellor Hitler of Germany again saw Konrad Henlein, leader of the Nazi-supported Sudeten Germans who demand autonomy from Czechoslovakia.

High Nazi Leaders Present

They met alone for what Nazi informants said would be more important and sweeping discussions than those of yesterday. Then with high Nazi leaders joining, they were said to have rejected Czechoslovak proposals, specifically for a three-months truce in negotiations, and to have agreed on new counter-proposals.

Joachim von Ribbentrop, German foreign minister, also arrived at Berchtesgaden. He carried a report to the Fuehrer on the British government's attitude in the crisis given him last night by Sir Nevile Henderson, British ambassador to Berlin.

Britain Sends Appeal

Britain also was said to have sent an appeal for peace to Berchtesgaden in a personal message to Hitler given to Henlein by by Viscount Runciman, unofficial British mediator in the Czechoslovak-Sudeten German issue.

British efforts also were directed toward a new understanding with Poland in what was believed in London to be an attempt to "squeeze" Germany into a policy of

Levees Weak In Wake Of High Water

New Waters Are Sent Racing Down Stream From El Paso Area; Five Are Drowned

BY OLEN W. CLEMENTS
Associated Press Staff Writer

BROWNSVILLE, Sept. 2—The bulk of the Rio Grande flood waters rolled today down stream toward Cameron county where protective levees were weakest in the Rio Grande valley's $10,000,000 flood control system.

Meanwhile, hundreds of miles up river near El Paso, rains on the river's watershed sent new water racing down behind the mass which had drained in from the Monterrey, Mex., flood area.

Five Are Drowned

Five persons drowned in treacherous waters of the stream. At Los Indios, Tex., yesterday George Garcia, 40, and his eight-year-old son, George Jr., were swept away as they attempted to swim to a small island across a levee break.

Sixty miles upstream from El Paso John Garrard, 45; Rose Garrard, 15, and Jewell Garrard, 10, lost their lives when a cable on which they were crossing the river parted and dropped them in the swirling water.

Levees Being Watched

In the lower valley International Boundary commission officials sent several hundred men to watch the levees, some of which broke last month when a smaller flood moved down the river.

The crest of the high water, which originated in the mountains around Monterrey, Mex., in the wake of a hurricane when clouds poured nine inches of rain on the Rio Santa Catarina watershed, was in the vicinity of Hidalgo today, 26 miles west of the Cameron county line.

Flood waters during the night spilled over the Mexican side of the

Man Waits 25 Years Too Long In Celebrating His Divorce

(By The Associated Press)

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 2—Charged with being drunk, a 56-year-old man told Judge Clarence F. Terrp he was celebrating his divorce.

"When were you divorced?" asked the judge.

"Twenty-five years ago," the man replied.

He was fined $10.

Pair Demands $15,000 For Her Return

Mrs. W. R. Meeks, Wife Of Wealthy Rancher, Carried From Home By Two Men

(By The Associated Press)

YUBA CITY, Calif., Sept. 2—Two masked, roughly dressed young men kidnaped Mrs. W. R. Meeks, 55-year-old wife of a wealthy Sutter county rancher, from her home early this morning for $15,000 ransom, Sheriff Bert Ullrey reported.

Meeks said the kidnapers, one of them threatening him with a pistol, forced their way into his home shortly before midnight, bound both him and his wife and then ransacked the house.

They fled with Mrs. Meeks, in her husband's automobile, leaving the 58-year-old rancher bound hand and foot on his living room floor.

As they were leaving the house the pair stood over Meeks and demanded the ransom. He said they told him:

"We'll contact you in a couple of days for that fifteen thousand."

Officers Leave For Scene

Notified of the kidnaping by the Associated Press, federal bureau of investigation agents left for the scene early today to join sheriff's officers and the state highway patrol. N. J. L. Pieper, head of the San Francisco office of the FBI, said his agents in Sutter county would take charge of the case.

Orders to all members of the state highway patrol to watch the roads for the stolen automobile were issued by Raymond Cato, head of the patrol.

Automobile Is Found

Meeks' automobile was found abandoned on one of the main streets of Marysville, twelve miles away. FBI men immediately began examining the car for fingerprints.

Sheriff Ullrey theorized the men must have had used two automobiles when they drove away from the Meeks place.

The rancher "guessed" the men

Southern Farmers Plowing Up Cotton

BY W. B. RAGSDALE
Associated Press Staff Writer

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 2.—Hundreds of acres of cotton, much of it white with open rolls, ready for picking, are being plowed under by Southern farmers eager to qualify for farm bill benefits and to escape its penalties.

Any accurate estimate of the number of acres being destroyed probably would run high into the thousands. It might be obtained only by a county to county study of the area but even then, the percentage of error would be high. One county in middle Georgia has almost 2,000 acres subject to penalties if the cotton on them is not plowed up.

These penalties on cooperating farmers would run to seven cents a pound on the cotton produced on the excess acreage. With cotton expected to sell for not much more than eight cents, they figure that it would be cheaper to plow it up than to pick it.

"It is much like 1934," one county agent said.

Half a dozen county agents in scattered sections agreed that in about ,99 per cent of the cases the necessity for the plow up activities arose out of the installation of a new method of measuring the farmers land. They planted by one acreage survey and are harvesting by another

Second Plowing This Year

The plowing under is more noticeable in Georgia than in the Carolinas, and for some farmers, this is the second time they have plowed up cotton this year in their efforts to comply with the law.

In many sections cotton had been planted before the acreage allotments were made. The weather would not wait on statute.

The farmers consulted with county agents and tried to make allowances in advance for the reductions they expected under the new law.

Then the allotments were announced, the lands were surveyed, and many of those who already had planted found that they had excess acreage. They went out and plowed it up to bring their crop inside their quota. In some cases, the cotton already had been chopped.

Two Hospitals For Texas Are Given O. K.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2. (AP)—The Veterans' administration announced today President Roosevelt had approved construction of two new veterans' hospitals in Texas at an estimated cost of $2,000,000 for both.

The new institution: will be a 150-bed hospital at Amarillo and a 250-bed hospital at the Fort Worth-Dallas area.

The president approved recommendations of the federal hospitalization board.

The board suggested a general medical and surgical unit with about 150 beds be constructed at Amarillo at a cost of not more than $800,000.

It proposed the same kind of unit, with 250 beds, for the Fort Worth-Dallas region, to cost not in excess of $1,200,000.

The board suggested funds for the program be obtained from $1,575,000 previously approved for the erection of a 350 bed general unit in Texas and such savings as might accrue under several appropriations or allotments now available to the veterans administration.

It recommended the Amarillo hospital be undertaken first.

FDR Is For Any Liberal

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 — President Roosevelt told reporters today he would have not the slightest objection to the election of a liberal running on the Republican ticket.

He said the American people were beginning to think more in terms of principles than personalities.

Asked whether he knew of any Republican liberals who were running for office, the president told his press conference there were several.

Authorizes Quotation

He authorized this direct quotation:

"If there is a good liberal running on the Republican ticket, I would not have the slightest objection to his election. The good of the country rises above party.

"It is an absolutely unjustified assumption which is being made by Detroit papers that a failure to go to dedicate the International bridge at Port Huron (Mich.) is in any way connected with the Michigan campaign.

"It is a deliberate distortion of the fact and the Detroit papers might as well get that."

DENTON, Sept. 2. (AP)—D. S. Donald, 83, native of Denton county and well-known cattleman, died here today. He was unmarried.

City And School Seek To Issue $900,000

Voting Comparatively Light Up To Noon; Heavier Pace Expected In Afternoon

Approximately 250 votes had been cast at noon today in elections on proposals to issue $750,000 in bonds for the city of Lubbock and $150,000 for Lubbock independent school district according to information given by election officials.

Voting place on the city bonds is the municipal courtroom of the police station in the city hall. For the school bonds it is the district business office, 1007 Texas avenue.

Voting Pace Steady

Although the voting pace never became heavy during the forenoon, officials said, it continued steady and briskly with the noon hour bringing an increase in the volume. Expectation was that balloting will reach its peak during the late afternoon before the polling places close at 7 p. m.

Somewhat surprising to the election officials was the fact that only one voter not qualified to participate in the election attempted to cast his ballot. The constitution of the state, it was explained, specifies that only property owners who have rendered the property for taxation may vote on a bond issue.

In Four Separate Issues

The proposed city bond total of $750,000 consists of four separate issues. They are $50,000 for a new fire station; $150,000 for street improvement; $300,000 for a storm sewer across the southern part of the city; and $250,000 for a new sewage disposal plant.

The school issue is designed to finance a construction program of

Labor Leader Plan Parade

Only the details of plans remained for completion this morning for the most elaborate Labor Day observance Monday that Lubbock has seen, according to information given by union labor committees which are making arrangements.

Justice of the Peace Walter Davies said the parade, which is to form at the city hall at 8 a. m. Monday, will be a colorful event and he invited those wishing or are expecting to participate to get in touch with him. The parade will be at 9 o'clock.

Clyde C. Stringer, chairman of the dinner committee, reported that all is "set" for the barbecue in Mackenzie park to be served at noon to members of organized labor and their families. Senator G. H. Nelson and former Senator Pink L. Parrish are scheduled to speak following the barbecue.

Closing event of the day will be a fireworks exhibition at Buffalo Springs lakes, starting at 8 p. m. Evidence of organized labor membership will entitle the bearer to admission, swimming and fishing privileges at the lake throughout the day.

Realtors Will Meet In City

A regional meeting of all West Texas realtors will be held in Lubbock, Saturday, Sept. 17, it was announced today at the regular meeting of the Lubbock Real Estate board at the Hilton. Attendance of several score realtors is expected for the meeting which will be held in conjunction with a meeting of the West Texas Property Owners association which will be held here on Friday, Sept. 16.

Principal subjects of discussion will be equalization of taxation at the property owners session and the proposed real estate license law at the realtors' meeting.

Officials To Attend

The meeting of realtors is sponsored by the Texas Real Estate association and John E. Zeller, president, of San Antonio, will preside. E. B. Bynum, jr., of Dallas, executive secretary, will come here several dyas prior to the meeting to aid in arranging details. Sessions will be at

Abernathy Mill Is Burned Last Night

(Special To The Journal)

ABERNATHY, Sept. 2 — Only a few days a ter it was started and a few hours after it had been put on 24-hour schedule Anderson Bros. flour mill at Abernathy burned with total loss Friday night.

C. O. Anderson, who with R. H. Anderson owned the plant said fire broke out "somewhere under the floor where there are conveyers and shafts and other equipment — it must have been about 11:30 o'clock."

Lubbock fire department rushed here after being notified 15 minutes later and laid 150 feet of hose. Tuco power station stretched 800 feet, the Abernathy fire department 400 feet.

Insurance was "not enough more than to cover the stock," C. O. Anderson estimated. He said he did not "have any idea of the loss."

The mill had been shut down for repairs and installation of new equipment.

Fire Chief W. E. Twitty of the Lubbock department said had there been a strong east of northeast wind "half of Abernathy probably would have been threatened."

Toll Of Japanese Typhoon Is 99 Dead, 77 Hurt, 69 Missing

TOKYO, Sept. 2. (AP)—The toll of a 75-mile-an-hour typhoon in eastern and central Japan mounted to 99 known dead, 77 injured and 69 missing today.

Police said 1,560 houses were demolished, 5,000 damaged, 140,000 flooded and 11 ships were washed away. There was widespread damage to roads and bridges.

What May Be Last Reunion For Confederate Vets Ends Today

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 2. (AP)—What may be the last reunion of the United Confederate Veterans ended today with the grand parade—a march down Columbia's wide main street to the state capitol, which bears scars of shelling by General Sherman's Union army.

The veterans elected Gen. John W. Harris of Oklahoma City, their commander. Other officers named included: Gen. J. F. Bonner of Fort Worth, Texas., commander of the Trans-Mississippi army.

The sons of confederate Veterans named J. Roy Price of Shreveport, La., their commander-in-chief.

HAS CLOSE SHAVE

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2. (AP)—Leonard Y. Roll has kept intact his record of having driven an automobile 141,279 miles without an accident or traffic violation—but it was a close shave. Magistrate Edwin Lindell dismissed him on a charge of driving through a red light because, said the magistrate, "I dislike to spoil such a mark."

High Speed Fliers Take Off Saturday

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 2. (AP)—Ten high speed fliers, nine men and one woman, are scheduled to buzz away from Union Air Terminal early tomorrow in the annual Bendix trophy dash to the National Air Races, held again this year at Cleveland, O.

There will be extra prizes for pilots flying on from Cleveland to Bendix, N. J.

The woman in the $30,000 event will be Jacqueline Cochran (Mrs. Floyd Odlum), noted aviatrix.

Also in the race, flying a Seversky, will be wealthy Frank Fuller of San Francisco, winner of last year's Bendix race with a new Los Angeles-Cleveland record of 7 hours, 54 minutes and 26 seconds. Fuller continued on to Bendix, N. J., and set a new race record of 9 hours, 35 minutes for the transcontinental flight.

Best time to Cleveland will win $9,000. The next four best times in order will win $5,000, $3,000, $2,000 and $1,000.

Federal Expenditures Go Ahead Of Year Ago; WPA's Spending Swells Total, Treasury Says

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Federal expenditures, swollen by WPA spending, stepped ahead of a year ago during the first two months of this fiscal year.

The treasury reported today it spent $1,445,227,238 in July and August compared with $1,235,107,369.

In the two months WPA spent $365,248,905 while building its payrolls to a record high of more than 3,000,000 persons. In the same period last year, when WPA rolls were below 2,000,000, the relief agency's cost was $235,034,721.

Under the administration's spending-for-recovery program expenditures ran nearly two to one ahead of income. The two months' deficit was $646,648,203 compared with $372,388,750 in the same months of 1937.

Pension Battle Is Forming

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—Proponents and opponents of the "$30 Every Thursday" initiative measure to pension California's older jobless with scrip, drew battle lines today for a general election campaign."

"Even before the deciding votes were counted in some races of Tuesday's hectic primary election, it became evident the pension proposal would be a prime talking point in campaigning for the November vote, when the unique plan will be on the ballot.

Would Affect Jobless

With more than 700 precincts still untabulated in the complicated election, nominations for Rpublican senator and progressive governor remained inconclusive. Other races of national interest and most of those of state-wide importance had been settled.

If the pension plan, which would affect all jobless 50 years or more old, receives a simple majority, the state must start paying an estimated $11,000 persons $30 weekly in the

Kennedy Has Plea For Faith Renewal

ABERDEEN, Scotland, Sept. 2. (AP)—A plea for renewal of faith and spiritual courage in the world was made today by United States Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy at a Scottish-American-Anglican church ceremony at the cathedral of Aberdeen.

"It appears to me," he said, "that we have come to a point where spiritual values have so declined in men that incentive is disappearing.

"We must reawaken the flame of faith and spiritual courage which has always enheartened men of right vision in the world's history."

The ambassador laid the cornerstone of a memorial to Bishop Samuel Seabury, who was born Nov. 30, 1729, in Ledyard, Conn.

Referring to fears of war in the world, Kennedy declared:

"We must give our young men and women who are just coming to age something else to hope for than a short life of carrying a gun.

"One of the main — perhaps the main—pillar of the edifice of democracy is the freedom of worship."

In certain parts of the world, he said, the profession and practice of religion are being called a political offense.

Atlantic Is To Get Warships

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 — The navy is designating 14 warships as an Atlantic squadron, giving the east coast its first organized sea force in nearly seven years.

The new squadron becomes effective Sept. 6 under command of Rear Admiral Forde A. Todd. It will consist of seven cruisers and seven destroyers.

Is Temporary Arrangement

The navy announced last night this would be a temporary arrangement to prepare for general maneuvers next year, and to visit "such ports as are designated." No ports were named.

The general maneuvers will bring the main fleet of about 150 warcraft from the Pacific to the Atlantic for war games involving defense of the Panama canal. The fleet was moved to the Pacific during the 1931-1932 Sina-Japanese crisis and has remained there except for a visit to New York in 1934 for a presidential review.

Open For Speculation

The 14 ships in the new squadron were completed only recently and had been assigned to the main fleet in the Pacific. The order issued by Admiral William D. Leahy, chief of

Cardenas' Head Set On Agrarian Plans

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 2. (AP) — President Lazaro Cardenas is determined that the nation's Agrarian program shall be continued as the keystone of his program for a socialized state, despite protests from abroad against the expropriation of foreign-owned property.

Addressing a new session of congress yesterday, President Cardenas said:

The Agrarian program would go on, although Mexico could not at once pay compensation for expropriated farm lands.

Mexico would not accept a suggestion by the United States secretary of state, Cordell Hull, that deposits be made to guarantee payment for expropriated lands.

There would be no submission of the question to arbitration under international law, but he would agree to a two-man Mexican-American commission to appraise and decide on how to pay for expropriated lands.

This would be the tenor of his reply to Secretary Hull's note of Aug. 25, urging arbitration of the land appropriation claims involving about 1,000,000 acres which their owners value at $10,132,388, President Cardenas said.

Two Firemen Are Killed As Wall Falls On Them At Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, Sept. 2. (AP)—Exploding underground gasoline tanks toppled the wall of a garage in a spectacular fire here yesterday, killing two firemen and injuring three other persons.

Fire Marshal Claude Ligon said damage from the blaze, which gutted three buildings, would be between $30,000 and $40,000.

The dead were Capt. Oscar W. McCain, 64, and Private J. E. Westmoreland, who were caught under the falling wall.

Fireman E. E. Carr, 35, C. R. Harris, 28, and H. H. Cotton, 42, were injured.

AFOL Spends Million Dollars In Past Year Fighting CIO

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 2 (AP)—A high official of the American Federation of Labor estimated today that the federation had spent approximately $1,000,000 in the past year in an organizing campaign intensified by CIO rivalry.

Declining to be quoted in advance of the official publication of the A. F. of L.'s finances at the Houston, Tex., convention Oct. 3, he said the final accounting probably would show that the cost of the 1937-38 organizing campaign would exceed the million dollar mark.

The federation spent about $500,000 in organizing in 1936-37.

Lubbock's Barefoot Screen-Cutting Burglar Puts In Appearance Again; Gets Pennies

A mystery story Mrs. Jack Randal finished after midnight was enough excitement — but Lubbock's barefoot screen burglar put in an appearance soon afterward.

Mrs. Randal, of 2207 Seventeenth street, could not sleep, so sat up with her book. After midnight she "became ill at ease, feeling someone was looking into the room from outside the windows."

She pulled down shades and, at 1:25 o'clock, retired. She said she thought she heard a noise, but decided one of the children in a back room was restless.

About an hour later, after she and her husband, a Lubbock attorney, had gone to sleep they were awakened by a sharp noise. Randal grabbed a flash light and turned its beam into the shrubbery outside and a man rand down a nearby alley.

Investigation this morning disclosed to the Randals and to police the barefoot man, who left tracks 11 1-2 inches long and unusually broad and flat, had slit a screen to the children's

Twenty boys registered for the event which was the first short-term encampment of the kind to be attempted in South Plains council. The activities, he added, have been carried forward without marring incident of any kind.

Tests On New Diesel Engine To Be Finished Next Week

Tests of a newly installed $130,000 Diesel engine at the city power plant probably will be completed next week so that a recommendation can be made to the city commission concerning its final acceptance, according to information given this morning by J. J. Graham, plant superintendent.

The engine thus far, he added, has "performed to expectations." The test consists of intermittent operation followed by examinations and adjustments of mechanical parts.

Numerous citizens, he said, have accepted the invitation extended by the city to visit the plant and see the huge machine which will increase the capacity of the light plant by at least one-fourth.

Registrations In Three Grades Are To Be Made Next Week

Registrations for low sixth grade pupils and for those in the seventh and eighth grades who have not registered are to be received Monday through Friday from 8:30 a. m. until 4:30 p. m. at Junior High school, according to Carroll Thompson, principal.

Special examinations will be given Thursday, between the registration hours, for any student of the high sixth, the seventh and eighth grades, said the principal.

Progress Seen On Water Task

Belief that "real progress" has been made toward a solution of Texas' ground water problems was expressed this morning by City Manager W. H. Rodgers following his return from a meeting in Austin of a special committee named to study the situation.

Rodgers is one of seven members making up the state-wide committee which was appointed several weeks ago following a conference of several hundred persons who attended a meeting called by Governor James V. Allred because of the alarm resulting from diminishing ground water reserves in Texas.

At Tuesday's session, Rodgers said first draft of a measure proposed for submission to the January session of the legislature was outlined. It will be further discussed and put into more specific form at another meeting set for Sept. 16.

The basic intent of the proposed bill, he related, is to place the control of "public" ground water in the hands of the state board of water engineers. That would apply to water used by municipalities, and industries among others in the design to conserve the resource, prevent waste and safeguard against contamination which, in itself, was described as a growing danger in many parts of Texas.

Farm and ranches would not be subject to regulation as to water used for domestic purposes, for home gardens and for livestock. But the measure would give the state board sufficient authority to prevent wasteful irrigation, Rodgers said.

He was accompanied to Austin by Mrs. Rodgers, who returned with him after an overnight stay with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Gillespie, in Lometa.

Party Held In Harper Home

As a courtesy to Miss Ruth Dupree who is leaving today for Crosbyton where she will teach school, Mesdames Paul Williams, Bert Powell and Arch Harper entertained with a shower Thursday afternoon in the new home of Mrs. Harper at 1915 Twenty-first street.

Mary Frances Settle and Rose Marie Settle, dressed as school children, brought the smallest gifts to the honoree in school satchels. Miss Dupree's sister, Mary Beth, presented the larger gifts.

Misses Frances Williams, Eloise Bonds and Alene Jennings assisted the hostesses during the refreshment hour. Punch and cookies were served.

Others attending were Mesdames J. R. Woffard, J. E. Walter, Renford Taylor, B. L. Williamson, F. R. Helms, V. O. Jennings, Hugh Slagle, Vernon McCollough, W. D. Click, W. L. Armstrong, C. S. Gaddis, H. F. McLarty, A. M. Dupree, Wayne Martin, L. R. and J. J. Robinson, Misses Frances Walter, Margie Taylor, Clara Eddleman, Mattie Brownd.

Courthouse Permit Gives City's Building September Send-Off

Building permit for courthouse improvements to cost $20,214 gave new constrruction totals for the new month of September a brisk send-off Thursday afternoon following August's remarkable activities, according to records in the city building inspector's office this morning.

Three small permits this morning added $1,230 to the total, increasing the figure for the one and one-half days of the month to $24,544, for the calendar week to $64,783 and for the year to $1,812,278.

Permit for the courthouse improvement was issued to Sampson Brothers, contractors. The work includes the installation of an elevator and the conversion of present stairway space into offices.

It's A Course In Itself To Be A Famous Queen

MIRIAM BRADSHAW
Takes Trouble To Be Beautiful

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Feature Service Writer

Campus beauties don't just happen.

They take great pains to get—and stay—that way.

Take Miriam Bradshaw, of Chicago. She has been chosen as the prettiest girl on the DePauw University campus in Greencastle, Ind.; will serve as Kappa Alpha Theta's Rush captain this fall; is active in college dramatics, and is on the staff of the student newspaper.

Miriam is the campus beauty because she takes the trouble to do something about it.

First, last and all the time Miriam considers sleep important. She always has seven and a half hours—likes eight to ten. Is in bed by ten-thirty or eleven, "cramming or no cramming." Gets up at seven every morning — except weekends, when she sneaks in an extra hour or two.

For the next few weeks Miriam is staying out of the sun and is using a lemon lotion to get rid of much of her suntan. She's getting an oil shampoo about once a week so her hair will be at its best when rush season comes 'round.

She's going without nail polish temporarily—and rubbing her fingertips in olive oil. When she starts wearing polish again her nails will be soft and pliable.

How will she wear her hair? She'll compromise between the top-of-the-head coiffure and last year's easy-to-wear style. She plans on two rows of curls on top—and a cascade of curls behind her ears.

Miriam, who is five feet four, stays at 113 without trying very hard. She eats what she wants—in moderation and tries to balance her diet. No coffee, but milk with every meal. Toast for breakfast, but no other bread except occasional hot rolls — she likes them. Lots of fruit juices, potatoes in moderation, lean meat, and vegetables, particularly green ones. Avoids candy, but drinks a milk shake between meals if she's hungry.

For make-up she uses: astringent, foundation cream, rouge, lipstick and vaseline. No mascara or eyeshadow—except in the evening, and then sparingly. Plucks her eyebrows along their natural line, clearing them out above the bridge of her nose.

Likes heavy perfume, but saves it for evening wear. Uses eau de cologne during the day.

Alternates with tooth paste and powder for variety's sake. Is fastidious about using mouth washes and a liquid deodorant.

Exercises by walking, dancing bicycling and skipping the rope. Joins in gym class games regularly.

Stamp Tax Collections For State Of Texas Increase

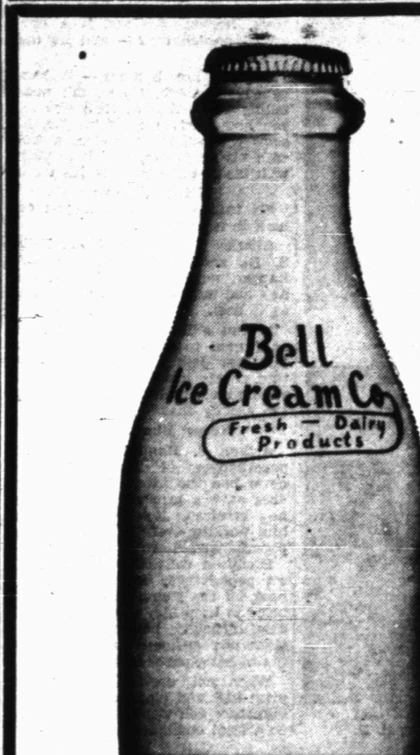

AUSTIN, Sept. 2. (AP) — State Treasurer Charlie Lockhart said today stamp taxes handled by his department showed an increase of more than $690,000 for the fiscal year just ended over the year 1936-'37.

The total stamps sold amount to $13,115,612.

Texas Has Total Of 213 One-Variety Cotton Communities Operating

Quality Grades Are Produced

(By The Associated Press)

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 2.—There are 213 one-variety cotton communities in operation in Texas the current season, with 22,589 farmers and 632,897 acres involved in the organized movements to improve the quality of the state's cotton.

Thus more than 6 per cent of the total 1938 Texas cotton planting, estimated at 9,661,000 acres, is devoted to one-variety blocks.

Growing Year By Year

If normal yields are obtained enough seed will be produced to plant a potential 5,000,000 acres to quality cotton in 1939, even with liberal allowances for replanting.

In 1936 there were 60 organized one-variety cotton communities and in 1937, 62. In each year the acreage involved was around 300,000 acres.

The figures do not include a number of large plantations and cotton breeding blocks planted to cotton of quality varieties and which are virtually one-variety communities.

Buying On Way Out

This information, gathered by E. A. Miller, agronomist of the Texas A. and M. college extension service from county agricultural agents, supports forecasts by Miller and others interested in the movement that hog-round buying is on the way out and that Texas has turned the corner in the drive for an improvement in the quality of her cotton.

Buyers are seeking the uniformity and the inch or better staple of the lint produced by the one-variety communities and are buying the cotton on its merits, reports of L. A. Weiss, jr., county agricultural agent of Refugio county. He said that cotton offered in pools on biweekly sales days in the Bonnie View community was bringing premiums of $6 to $7 a bale.

Not Regarded As Premium

Farmers of the Lone Tree community in Victoria county, who last year received an average return of $10.63 a bale above the county-wide prices, do not regard the extra income as a premium, said J. M. Saunders, their county agricultural agent. "They prefer to consider that they are producing a quality product and are merely getting what their cotton is worth", he said.

Similar reports were received from the Coupland group in Williamson county, the Aiken, Floydada and Lockney communities in Floyd county, and the county-wide set-up in Harrison county, where accurate records have been kept since the communities were organized on a one-variety basis.

Quality Largely To Blame

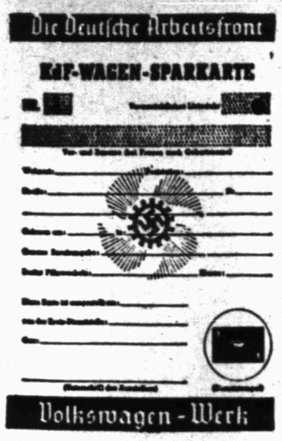

Many close observers of the cotton situation, including members of the Texas A. and M. college faculty, the agricultural experiment station, the Texas Extension service, the U. S. Bureau of Plant Industry and the Texas Cotton committee, have stated that at least part of the blame for the loss of foreign markets must be credited to the deterioration in the quality of the fiber. Any considerable and consistent improvement in the quality of Texas cotton they believe, will be reflected by increased demand from foreign spinners.

The survey of the one-variety community in Texas was undertaken by Miller at the request of Burris C. Jackson of Hillsboro, chairman of the statewide cotton committee comprising representatives of all organizations and agencies interested in the cotton industry.

The number of one-variety communities operating in 1938 would have been much larger had not the April freeze and subsequent heavy rain destroyed the plantings in many blocks. This was especially true along the gulf coast, Miller said.

Auto-Minded Nazis Flock To Buy 'Baby Hitlers'; They Pay In Easy Installments For $400 Car That Won't Appear Until In 1940

Crowds attending motorcycle races at Hohenstein-Ernstthal, Germany, got an advance glimpse—as shown at left—of the cabriolet-limousine model of Adolf Hitler's new low-priced car which is to go into mass production soon. At right is a photo of the savings card which is issued to German workers who wish to buy the new automobile on the installment plan, at five marks a week, in advance of the car's appearance on the market.

* * * * * * * * * * * *

By NEA Service

BERLIN, Sept. 2.—On New Year's Day, 1940, Fritz, Mrs. Fritz and Hans, Johann and Adolf Fritz will get into their shiny new Volksauto, start the motor and go for a spin on one of Germany's highways. Simultaneously, others Fritzes, en famille, will do the same thing. And as 1940 progresses, thousands of good Germans will proudly begin driving their own cars.

For Germany has launched on what may very well prove to be the important achievement of Hitlerism—making available low-cost cars for people to whom automotive travel was formerly out of the question.

Factory Being Built

At Fallersleben, one of the largest factories in the world is already under construction. When completed it will turn out approximately 1,500,000 Volksautos or "people's cars" a year. The Nazi gasoline wagons, which are also known to Fritz and his fellows as "Baby Hitlers" and "Strength Through Joy Autos", will cost 990 marks or about $400 in American money.

And, although the first of these cars won't roll off the assembly line until the end of 1939, good Fritz by the thousands is already paying for his Volksauto at the rate of 5 marks a week. He is also paying 1 mark a week for insurance and a small extra charge which will entitle him to quarterly overhaulings and garage service. At this installment rate, Fritz will have paid for his gas buggy in a little under four years.

But Fritz can't get his Volksauto until he has paid the purchase price in full. In the meantime, the government will have the use of millions of marks paid in by the people. Nominally, these funds are supposed to go into construction of the factory and the 20 villages which will surround the plant and house approximately 120,000 Volksauto workers, and into working capital for automobile production. But they can also go into military uses if Hitler is so minded.

To Use Plastic Materials

For his $400 and some, the German purchaser will receive a car whose body is made of plastic materials. Plastics are handsome but not very good protection gainst smash-ups. It is true that Germany has a low accident record. The tires on the Volksauto will be of "buna," the artificial rubber developed by Germany's great substitute industry, the seats of artificial leather, the tire casings of artificial silk.

The Volksauto will be capable of covering 60 miles on 1 3-4 gallons of gasoline and 1-10 liter of oil. It will have its air-cooled motor in the rear, will develop 24 horsepower, will weigh 650 kilograms, be over 4 meters long and over 1 1-2 meters high and wide. It will ride five passengers comfortably and will be equipped with windshield wipers and possibly a radio if the engineers can make one cheap enough. There will be three models.

In theory, every worker in Germany will be able to buy a Volksauto. Nazis point proudly to the low installments, the cheap operating costs. In practise, it is probable that only the better paid workers will be able to buy cars in Germany, as they are in America. For the average wages of 97 per cent of the population does not exceed $100 a month, and 5 marks a week comes to about $10 monthly.

Sixteen Specimens Of Rocks Collected In Llano County

LLANO, Sept. 2. (AP)—A request received by the chamber of commerce for samples of rocks and minerals native to Llano county resulted in a collection of 16 specimens. They were assembled by Miss Delia Moss, granddaughter of the late Prof. N. J. Badu, widely known minerologist of Llano, whose collection of minerals and rocks was regarded as one of the most interesting and valuable to be found anywhere.

Miss Moss' mother, Mrs. M. M. Moss, is carrying on the work and business of Prof. Badu, and both seemed to have inherited his love for and knowledge of rock culture. Miss Delia, a high school student, collects colorful and unusual-looking rocks and mineral specimens with the skill of a veteran.

Her collection for the chamber of commerce included: silica, white marble, serpentine, talc, iron ore, grey granite, mica, calcite, limonite iron, opaline granite, feldspar, asbestos, flourite, limestone, vermiculite, and amethyst.

Breeding has increased the average annual fleece weight of sheep from two to eight pounds and has shifted the wool production area from the North Atlantic states to Texas, the Far West and Ohio.

U. S. To Guard Army Secrets

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2. (AP)—War department officials here disclosed that the recent arrest of spy ring suspects in New York has been followed by a tightening of the lid on army secrets.

An official circular added "safeguarding of military information" to a standing list of nine basic functions of the army's military intelligence division.

Keeps All Information

This division, "G-2," has charge of preparing and keeping codes, ciphers, and maps and collecting information through attaches abroad.

In line with the new caution, changes have been made in regulations requiring candidates for reserve commissions in the military intelligence to pass examinations in safeguarding secret information.

Precautions In Effect

The navy previously had put into effect extraordinary precautions to prevent leaks.

Publication of detailed information on the progress of warship construction was limited early this year. New legislation has given both services authority to regulate or prohibit picture-taking in the vicinity of military posts or warships.

Navy photographers recenly took official pictures of every officer and man at the Newport, R. I., torpedo station. Though officials asserted the procedure was nothing unuual, military circles believed it was without a peacetime precedent.

State 4-H Club Leaders Given Surprise Gifts At Contests

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 2. (AP)—Miss Onah Jacks and L. L. Johnson, state girls' and boys' agents, respectively, of the Texas Extension Service, were recipients of surprise gifts recently. While announcing winners in various 4-H club contests at closing exercises of the junior farmers short course at A. & M. college, boys and girls attending presented Miss Jacks a chest of silver and Mr. Johnson a reading chair.

The presentations were made by Walter Britten, retiring 4-H club chairman, on behalf of the state 4H club organization in appreciation for the agents' efforts and inspiration to the boys and girls in helping them carry on their projects.

No Marijuana Traffic Here

Cooperation of the police and sheriff's departments with the state highway patrol and narcotic bureau in a state-wide campaign aimed at the marijuana traffic was pledged Thursday.

Officers of this area explained little of the product is produced or used here, but said efforts would be launched to completely stamp it out.

Only One Conviction

District Attorney Burton S. Burks said there had been only one conviction in a marijuana case in courts here recently and a suspended sentence was pronounced upon the defendant.

He pointed out a small amount had been found in a cafe in Mexican quarters of Lubbock, and a complaint was filed; but officers had been unable to produce enough evidence to secure an indictment, not to mention a conviction. They were unable to determine the owner of the product. The marijuana was found when officers were conducting a liquor raid.

Other Instances Found

There have been other instances in which the plant has been found growing in Lubbock and being used, but not many, it was brought out.

Tom Abel, Lubbock county sheriff, announced his intentions of having his deputies work with state police and federal officers in possible investigations in this area.

Don Reeder, chief of police, pledged support of his department also.

Capt. J. B. Wheatley, head of the state bureau, stated that a large number of marijuana fields have been destroyed by state and local officers since the narcotic law was put into effect last September. The "reefer" has been found flourishing in flower pots, fields, along creeks and river banks and other places where moisture is abundant.

Many Charges Filed

In the last 10 months 551 charges have been brought against persons trafficking in narcotics in Texas. A large number of the complaints were against marijuana distribution.

In using marijuana, addicts crush the flowers of the plant and roll the leafy substance into cigarets which sell at prices ranging from 10 to 50 cents each. Costs fluctuate in various sections, depending upon risks peddlers must take in distributing their products.

Crime statistics show that crime, particularly thefts, drop, often as much as 50 per cent, when unrelenting raids are made upon dope dens. Addicts do not hesitate to steal valuable property which they in turn sell at ridiculously low prices in order to obtain the dope. Wheatley quoted an example: a $30 automobile tire and wheel has an exchange value of less than one-sixth its worth in the illegal deals.

Matter Of Concern

"Narcotic law enforcement should be a matter of concern to every citizen," said Capt. W. W. Legge of the Lubbock district office of the Texas highway patrol in quoting Wheatley. "It is difficult to gather convicting evidence in many of these situations because all participants are happy after a transaction."

The rigidity of the enforcement of the narcotics law by both the state and federal government may be emphasized by a recent sentence

Texas State Network To Open Broadcast From Casa Manana

FORT WORTH, Sept. 2 (AP)—The Texas State network, which includes 22 stations, will broadcast its dedicatory program from the stage of Casa Manana the night of Sept. 15 with stations over the nation joining to give their congratulations, Elliott Roosevelt, network head, told the Advertising club here.

"We will have guests of national and state renown including Governor Allred and W. Lee O'Daniel," Roosevelt said.

Anti-Thief Group Thriving In State Of Changing Of Name

CHILLICOTHE, Mo., Sept. 2. (AP)—Now that the Missouri Anti-Thief Association has streamlined itself it is becoming popular once more.

Right after it dropped the "horse" from its name of "Missouri Anti-Horse Thief Association" many of its old time members resigned.

Since then the association has adapted its program to modern problems and no longer worries about the horse-thief situation. The low point in its membership was 1933 when there were 8,000 members. Now there are 12,000.

It's A Bombproof Fort, Built In Just 5 Hours

Government officials visioned an American "Maginot line" thrown up in less than a day, after Karl Bilinger, New York concrete company representative, demonstrated in Washington that a bomb proof structure with 12-inch walls can be constructed in five hours with a new vacuum process of setting concrete. Bilinger is shown above with the completed fort, which accommodates 20 persons.

First of all, select pears that are nice and firm and not over ripe, and use only a quick dissolving, pure cane sugar! For 30 years I've used Imperial Pure Cane Sugar! Then follow my recipe below just like your life depended on it.

Made with IMPERIAL PURE CANE SUGAR

4 pounds pears 3 cups water
3 pounds Imperial Pure Cane Sugar

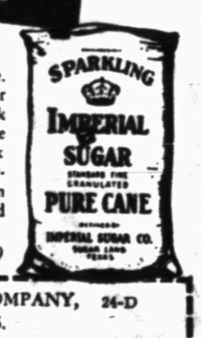

Cut pears in half, remove core and pare. (If pears are very hard, boil first in clear water until tender; drain.) Make a thick syrup of the water and Imperial Pure Cane Sugar, add pears and cook until clear and transparent, 224° F. Remove from fire and allow to stand overnight. Seal in jars.

J. E. McDonald To Wage Campaign Against Federal Farm Program

Talks Slated In 3 States

AUSTIN, Sept. 2 — J. E. McDonald, Texas commissioner of agriculture, announced today that he would carry his fight against the federal farm control program and his endorsement of the domestic allotment plan into Oklahoma and New Mexico.

McDonald has accepted invitations to present his plan at Oklahoma City on September 14. Two days prior to the Oklahoma date, on September 12, McDonald will speak at the Tri-State agricultural meeting at Artesia, N. M. Farmers and agricultural agents from West Texas, Arizona and New Mexico will be present.

Maps Field Campaign

Mapping an active field campaign against what he terms "the tyranny" of the Henry Wallace program, McDonald's speaking itinerary for the first half of September is given below:

September 3—Groesbeck, 3 p. m.; Coolidge, 8 p. m.

September 5—Bay City, address to the Farmers' League.

September 6—La Grange 8 p. m. at invitation of chamber of commerce.

September 7—Bohemian hall, Taylor.

September 8—Travis county courthouse, Austin at 8 p. m.

September 10—Courthouse square, Waxahachie at 8 p. m.

September 12—Tri-State agricultural meeting, Artesia, N. M.

September 14—Oklahoma City.

Appearing on the Oklahoma City program with McDonald will be H. E. Gordon of Kansas who will discuss the wheat program.

At the same time he mapped his campaign against the "federal fairy godmother of agriculture," McDonald came to the defense of the Texas county agents, following a demonstration in Athens where 1,500 farmers refused to hear County Agent James McCown who followed McDonald to the platform.

Defends County Agents

"County agents and extension forces should not be condemned because of the fallacies of a national program they have to administer," McDonald said. "In my opinion the majority of county agents in Texas realize the present program is unworkable and that a more constructive and enduring program must be adopted.

"It must be evident to everyone that the present government program is forcing American agriculture into a state of peasantry such as some foreign countries now have. American farmers have tolerated this impractical program for five years, surrendering their initiative and independence only to find their condition getting worse instead of better. They are thoroughly disgusted and they will refuse to tolerate the program much longer, but will demand of congress an effective agricultural program that will give them an effective offset to tariff burdens," McDonald declared.

Cheered by the fact that thousands of letters from all parts of the country have come in commending his stand on the farm control program, McDonald is determined to campaign actively for the Domestic Allotment Plan throughout the fall and winter.

And Now---The Slowest Plane

Designed so that it can take off in small fields in crowded areas, the new German plane shown leaving the ground at a sharp angle, is capable of flying at a speed as low as 20 miles per hour. Its top range is 100 m.p.h. The ship, recently released by Germany for demonstration abroad, was put through its paces at a showing in Bendix, N. J., where the photo was taken.

Before the invention of blotting paper, pulverized cuttlebone was used to absorb wet ink.

BECOME GUINEA PIGS

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Golden-feathered canary birds are doing their part to help medical research conquer malaria, scourge of the southern lowlands.

The feathered songsters apparently are affected by the disease in much the same way humans are, and the Emory University Medical school is using them to test out new drugs and treatment.

McAllen Importers Have Wild Experience In Mexico Area

McALLEN, Sept. 2. (AP) — Capt. Dudley B. Cocke and Joe De Albe, jr., importers here, said Gen. Saturnino Cadillo "never will be found in the San Luis Potosi county," after returning recently from a trip to that part of Mexico.

The statement was based upon their experience of being lost a day and night in the jungles of that state. They were attempting to drive 16 miles through unfamiliar county to the Pan-American highway.

"The night we were lost," Cocke said, "we had 14 flat tires. While repairing one blowout we heard a noise and our headlights picked out three jaguars standing in the middle of the rough road ahead.

"We were attempting to find the Pan-American highway from a village 16 miles away. After two hours we were completely lost in the dense jungle. We wandered along the trail all night and part of the next day before finding the main road."

Gasoline taxes yielded state governments more than $760,000,000 last year.

Mutilates Self In Religious Frenzy

"Wherefore, if thy hand or thy foot offend thee, cut them off, and cast them from thee." As she finished reading the biblical injunction during the nightly Bible lesson for her two children, Mrs. Irene Harwell, in a frenzy of religious zeal went to the rear of her cabin in Merced, Calif., chopped off her left hand and gouged out her right eye with scissors. She is shown here recovering in a hospital.

Nazis Close Religious And Private Schools Of German Austria

State To Take Over Schools

(By The Associated Press)

VIENNA, Sept. 2.—Religious and other private schools of German Austria will be closed Sept. 12, it was announced today, and the state and the national socialist (Nazi) party will take over the education of youth.

The newspaper Voelkischer Beobachter, making the announcement, said the closed schools would be replaced by a "German upper school" for boys and girls. This, the newspaper said, would be the predominating type of higher school for German Austria.

English Is Foreign Language

The "German upper school" will have eight grades. In the sixth grade boys will have a choice between a more mathematical or a more linkuistic education. English will be the principal foreign language taught.

The upper school for girls also will have two sections, one stressing household matters and the other more general education. Co-education also will be almost completely abandoned.

Must Belong To The State

The announcement followed a speech at Stuttgart yesterday by Joseph Buerckel, Reichsfuehrer Hitler's chief deputy for German Austria, in which he said:

"We must take care of the preservation of our nation in this world. This only is possible if care is total care, therefore the school must blong to the state upon which devolves the responsibility for the future.

"The state owns youth; the church can only act in a secondary capacity in religious care."

European Situation

moderation in Central Europe.

Increasing opposition of workers to Premier Edouard Daladier's decree extending working hours beyond the 40-hour week was given attention at a French cabinet meeting along with the international situation.

Almost 500,000 workers have served notice of strikes to be called by Sept. 15, and 14,000 textile employes struck today.

The Italian cabinet ordered the exclusion of Jews, both students and teachers, from state-recognized schools, universities and "all academies, institutes and associations to science arts and letters."

Severe fighting raged along the Yangtse and Yellow rivers in China with both Chinese and Japanese claiming important victories.

In Spain, government militiamen swapped rifles for picks and shovels to extend their fortifications during a lull on the Ebro river front. Fighting was at a virtual standstill on all British fronts.

Seek New Understanding

Britain, seeking a new understanding with Poland, believed a British Poland or even a neutral Poland would be invaluable to the Anglo-French cause if any conflict with Germany.

This was thought to be the main reason for recent visits of the British charge d'affaires to Colonel Joseph Beck, Polish foreign minister, in Warsaw, and the visit Wednesday of the Polish charge d'affaires to Viscount Halifax, British foreign secretary.

Wedged between Russia and Germany, Poland would be in a difficult position in any major European conflict, it was pointed out. Poland has a ten-year friendship agreement with Nazi Germany, but the belief was expressed in informed London quarters that the main Polish hope in a war would lie in choosing the winning side.

Chancellor Hitler in his discussions with Henlein yesterday was understood to have rejected specifically that part of the present Czech plan calling for a three-month truce in negotiations.

The purpose of the truce was to permit tension to lessen.

Hitler was said to have decided more prompt solution was needed, but what were his counter-proposals was not made known.

river in several places near McAllen. Below Matamoros, Mex., a break in an old levee let water run over farm lands.

The river had risen 18 feet to flood stage here and was expected to rise at least a half a foot more. The crest, highest on the river in six years, was expected in this area sometime Saturday or Sunday.

Arrangements Made To Aid American Tourists

LAREDO, Sept. 2. (AP)—The Mexican Automobile association has arranged with the National Railways of Mexico to bring American tourists stranded by washed out bridges to Monterrey, according to word received today at this border city.

An unestimated number of Americans, travelling in automobiles, were caught in the backwash of a tropical hurricane which made torrents of mountain streams, destroying bridges on the Pan American highway.

The Monterrey-Mexico City highway was still closed today, but the road was open from Monterrey to Laredo. The first passenger and freight trains to carry the tourists and their automobiles were scheduled to leave Mexico City this afternoon, arriving at Monterrey Saturday. From that point, the tourists could proceed to their homes by automobile.

Trains will continue to operate until all the tourists are accommodated or until the highway is opened.

Daily Market Reports

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 2 (AP) — Cotton futures opened unchanged to 2 points net lower here today.

Uncertainty regarding the European situation and the approaching double holiday served to restrict trading.

October opened at 8.31 bid, Dec. 8.37, Jan. 8.38, March 8.37, May 8.37 and July 8.33 bid. Towards the end of the first half hour the market was quiet and at the opening figures.

Cotton trades were executed during the morning and business was confined to nearby delivery. Some local and foreign buying, together with covering, absorbed realizing and hedge selling.

Near mid-session Oct. traded at 8.36 and Dec. at 8.39, or unchanged to 3 points higher compared with the previous close.

Textile markets were quiet and the weather map showed scattered showers in most of the growing region. Temperatures were normal to above.

The turnover yesterday was 6,890 bales and open commitments 385,050 bales, a decrease of 150 bales from the previous day.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Sept. 2 (AP) — Cotton futures opened 1 higher to 1 lower. Higher Liverpool cables were offset by moderate hedging and a slow demand. Oct. 8.33; Dec. 8.39; Jan. 8.39; March 8.37; May 8.39; July 8.34.

Prices turned steadier following the opening. Trading remained small.

Dec. sold up from 8.39 to 8.33 shortly after the first half hour, when the list was 2 to 4 points net higher.

Grain Market

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Sept. 2 (AP) — Demand for grain continued fair here today.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Sept. 2 (AP) — A slow-speed rally lifted selected stocks factions to around 2 points in today's market.

Steels, motors, rubbers, mail orders and specialties were in the forefront of the upward jaunt. Many issues finished at or near the best marks of the day.

Another handicap to extensive dealings either way as the approach of the lengthy Labor day holiday.

Bonds lifted forward in spots, with Czechoslovak dollar loans recovering substantially.

Markets At A Glance:

NEW YORK:

STOCKS—Firm; industrials lead quiet rally.

BONDS—Steady; many secondary rails attract buying.

CURB—Improved; a few metals in demand.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE—Steady; sterling, franc unchanged.

COTTON—Quiet; liquidation; hedge selling.

SUGAR—Improved; trade buying.

COFFEE—Firm; foreign buying.

CHICAGO

WHEAT—Easy; evening-up sales.

CORN—Lower; more favorable crop estimates.

CATTLE—Fully steady.

HOGS—10 lower to 10 higher.

Battle On Pensions

scrip.

Originators of the proposal would finance it by a weekly stamp tax of two per cent on the face value of the scrip, which would be legal tender for state taxes and for payment of merchandise from merchants who would accept the coupons.

Willis Allen, campaign director for the measure, announced plans in Los Angeles to put a manager in every one of the state's 58 counties for coordination of activities.

"Now we have 5,000 precinct and assembly district workers," he said. "We are going to have 15,000."

The San Francisco Chamber of Commerce prepared to distribute thousands of copies of arguments against the measure.

"The plan would create a financial crisis from which the state could not recover for years—if ever," the pamphlets asserted.

City Manager James S. Dean of Sacramento, the capital city, said that because of the pension proposal he had been informed Sacramento would have to pay a higher rate on a $530,000 municipal bond issue. "Bond houses are fearful of the risk to be taken in purchasing public bonds voted in California," he said.

the Hilton.

The property owners meeting will be in charge of Judge J. D. Hamlin of Farwell, executive vice president of the Texas Real Estate association and former WTCC president. Others to appear on the program will be J. C. Mytinger of Wichita Falls; Zeller, H. N. Wheeler of Amarillo; and R. C. Hopping of Lubbock.

To Extend Invitation

An effort will be made to have hundreds of property owners of the South Plains present for their meeting on Sept. 16. A committee composed of Hopping, chairman, Wesley Read and J. B. McCauley, was named by Raleigh Martin, president of the Lubbock board, to arrange for the meeting and secure attendance.

Read made a brief report on the needs for an office building here, data on which was gathered in a survey recently.

SIDNEY, Mont. (AP)—When millions of young grasshoppers sprouted wings near here recently and took to flight, residents reported the swarm was so dense it partially darkened the sky for more than an hour.

Woman Is Held For Ransom

were about 24 or 25 years old. They were about five feet nine or ten inches tall. Both were roughly dressed. White handkerchiefs covered their faces up to their eyes and kept the rancher from being able to give a good description of either of his wife's abductors.

The Meeks ranch is at Rio Oso, 12 miles south of Marysville, which adjoins Yuba City, on the highway to Sacramento.

It was the first kidnaping for ransom in northern California in nearly five years. Twenty-two-year-old Brooke Hart of San Jose, department store heir was the victim of the last northern California kidnap, in November 1933. His abductors demanded $40,000 ransom and killed Hart the same day. His body was recovered from San Francisco bay and 12 hours later an infuriated mob lynched his confessed kidnapers — Thomas Thurmond and Jack Holmes.

Mrs. Meeks' kidnapers made no attempt to harm her and made no attempt to injure her husband.

Sheriff Ullrey said the men walked up to the side door of the house, which sits about 100 feet back from the highway, but he was unable to determine whether they came from the road, where they might have parked an automobile, or whether they had walked through the peach orchard.

Both Meeks and his wife were awake and fully dressed when the men entered the house. Both were badly frightened and Meeks was unable to remember whether the second man carried a gun. The orchardist and his wife made no attempt to resist the kidnapers.

Sheriff's officers did not know what loot, if any, the gun men obtained after tying up the Meeks. The couple was left lying on the floor of the living room while the men searched the house.

When the masked men returned to the living room they spoke of the kidnaping for the first time.

They picked up the slenderly built woman from the floor, and carried her still bound, to the orchardists' automobile. Mrs. Meeks weighs 110 pounds and is five feet two inches tall. She wore a blue flowered chiffon dress with short sleeves and black shoes.

As soon as his wife had been carried from the house, the fruit grower began to work his bonds loose. He promptly telephoned sheriff but was so badly frightened, Ullrey said, that he could tell officers little at first except that his wife had been kidnaped. It took him an hour to recall the license number of his own automobile.

Meeks was vague about the clothes the kidnapers wore. They were "rather roughly" dressed, but in exactly what, he could not remember.

Rio Oso is a hamlet with a general store and a post office, situated on the Bear river.

Installation Of Elevator For Courthouse Faces Brief Delay

Workmen blinked when they began measuring the elevator shaft of the courthouse this morning.

It was not uniform in size.

A pilaster supporting the third floor abutted into the elevator shaft.

The general contractor, who had been asked by Otis Elevator company to take the measurements so they could build an elevator for the shaft, telephoned the company he would decline to be responsible and for the company to send one of their own engineers here to measure the shaft.

The company said they would send a man Saturday.

In the meantime, it was understood the question of whether fire escapes will have to be constructed on walls of the courthouse, undergoing extensive improvements, had been referred to the state insurance board.

Lubbock county officials have pointed out the building is of semi-fireproof construction and that nothing but molding, doors and window frames would burn. They further say the courthouse was constructed before the 1925 law was enacted requiring fire escapes. Furthermore, the building ordinance of the city of Lubbock requires that fire escapes be constructed only where there are improvements costing as much as one-fifth the original cost of a given structure, it was pointed out.

The PWA, which is granting $9,000 for the courthouse construction, had insisted on the fire escapes before issuing a work order on the building.

room, had entered and taken several pennies from a child's purse, leaving by the window after pressing a muddy impression of one foot on the window.

Later, evidently having seen Mrs. Randal's purse, her watch, Randal's watch and his clothing near a window of the couple's bedroom, the man presumably was trying to open the screen to their room when they were awakened.

"We didn't have a gun at the time, but my husband has one now," said Mrs. Randal.

"And we both know how to use it."

The burglar has made numerous appearances in various sections of the city and women have been terrorized by him. More than one resident has reported more than one visit. One man, apparently frightened, said he saw the man once but did not call police until he had burglarized his room and departed. No one else, apparently, has been able to supply any sort of authoritative description.

Both the city and the school bonds, if approved, are expected, according to officials, to be the means of securing Public Works administration grants to assist in financing the expansion projects. The city is seeking $250,000 and the school district $123,000 in such grants.

operations, did not say whether they eventually would go to the West coast.

It left the way open for speculation whether a revision of defense strategy was in prospect and whether European tension influenced the decision.

Another defense step announced yesterday was a decision to have a committee of high government officials draft a plan for lacing together with power lines the nation's key munitions and manufacturing centers.

Louis Johnson, acting secretary of war and chairman of the committee, said 15 strategic cities now were unable to tap other power sources should their own fail or be put out of commission in war time. He did not list the cities.

River Boat Race With All The Color Of Old Race Is Planned

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 2. (AP)—A river boat race with all the color and frills of the historic fight between the famous Robert E. Lee and the Natchez in 1872 is to be staged over the same course, New Orleans-to-St. Louis, early next spring.

It will be for a $10,000 purse (just a friendly bet) and an effort to smash the Robert E. Lee's record of 90 hours and 20 minutes. The distance is 1,154 miles.

The contest will put the fastest steamer on the Mississippi river, "The City of St. Louis," against the fastest river boat on the Pacific coast, "Delta Queen," pride of the Stockton-San Francisco run.

All this became known today when Commodore Edward C. Koenig, owner of the steamer, City of St. Louis, announced his challenge had been accepted by the Delta Queen owners of Stockton, Calif.

Twins Of South Plains Invited To Attend 'Twin Sermon' Of Welches Here Sunday

Twins of the South Plains will be the guests of special honor when Revs. Jeff and Jack Welch, twin pastors of Central Baptist church, deliver a "twin sermon" Monday night at 8 o'clock, according to announcement this morning.

The service will be held in the roped-off street fronting the church, 1311 Eighteenth street, and will bring to a close a revival which has been in progress two weeks. The revival marked the beginning of the connection of Jack Welch as co-pastor of the church with his brother, Jeff, who had handled those duties by himself the previous seven years.

The "twin sermon," so far as Lubbock church authorities know, is entirely unique. The twin preachers stand side by side, alternating sentences, words or phrases throughout the sermon. One frequently starts a sentence which the other completes without break or pause in the continuity of the wording.

The pastors announced that a special space will be reserved for all twins who attend the service.

Baptismal service for the revival, they added, will be held Sunday night.

News Briefs

Parents Of Son — Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Ketron, 1614 Eighth street, are the parents of a son born at 8:54 o'clock this morning and weighing seven and one-half pounds, it was reported by Stewart-Benson clinic. The infant was named Gary Don. Ketron is a carpenter.

Son Born — A son weighing 7 1-2 pounds was born at 6:45 o'clock Thursday night in Lubbock sanitarium to Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hegi of Petersburg. The father is a farmer.

Car Sought—A 1936 (Chevrolet) coach, license 25-488, was reported stolen Thursday night at Seymour and to be driven by two men whose names are known. Lookout was being maintained this morning over the South Plains.

In Anyway—"Who arrested this negro charged with assault?" the reporter asked. "He mighta just run in," said a deputy sheriff. The officer explained that the negro occasionally has had trouble with his wife and that her father has been known to grab the family shotgun and "take after him." "When he does this negro runs all the way from the flats to the jail and asks to be locked up," said the deputy.

Daughter Reported — Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Lincecum are parents of a daughter weighing 8 pounds 4 1-2 ounces born at 11:34 o'clock Thursday night in West Texas hospital. The Lincecum residence is near Idalou. The father is a farmer.

In Critical Condition — Joe Nelson, who was injured in a truck crash near Wichita Falls last week, remains in a critical condition in Wichita Falls General hospital, his brother, Jack Nelson, said this morning. A former star player on Westerner teams, Nelson had made his home in Fort Worth for several years. His brother and Mrs. Nelson plan to go to Wichita Falls tonight to be with the injured youth.

In Wichita Hospital — Joe H. Smith, 1808 Tenth street, who has spent the past three weeks in Arkansas, has entered the Wichita Falls Clinic hospital for two weeks' treatment, it was reported today.

Birth Is Reported — Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Glasson, 1910 Fifth street, are parents of a daughter weighing eight pounds born Thursday morning at 8:07 o'clock, Stewart-Benson Clinic reported. Mr. Glasson is with the state highway department.

Boy Is Injured — Floyd Nichols, about 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Nichols, 1711 Fifteenth street, received injuries of possible seriousness this morning when he collided with a transfer truck while riding a bicycle near his home. He was given emergency treatment and an x-ray examination at Lubbock sanitarium and taken to his home. The boy is deaf and dumb and parents said they were prepared to care for him in the home than would be possible at the hospital. He was taken to hte sanitarium in a Rix ambulance.

New Mexico Truck Drivers Get Their Fill Of Troubles Here; Restraining Order Sought

Two drivers for a New Mexico truck line operator had their troubles in Lubbock Thursday night.

Obro Cole and E. D. Burke or Ed Burke (he was charged both ways in the four cases naming him) were stopped by highway patrolmen and charged with hauling excessive loads.

They were placed under $250 bond each, but the law was not satisfied. Burke successively was charged with operating a motor vehicle without registration papers, with overloading and with operating a motor vehicle without proper papers.

Wm. H. Evans, Lubbock attorney, went to 99th court to obtain a restraining order enjoining complaining officers from making further arrests, but other authorities arrested Burke again when he was driving to a camp just outside Lubbock city limits to reduce his load, said Evans, which necessitated Evans' amending of his injunctive application to include any officer.

Evans cited the law provides a truck of another state may operate in Texas without a Texas license (if it bears the license of its own state) when it engages in buying in Texas and does not haul products of other states. He said the New Mexico trucks were loaded with binder twine from Houston.

Maine Asked To Go Demo

(By The Associated Press)

WATERVILLE, Me., Sept. 2. — James A. Farley, Democratic national chairman, called on Maine last night to go Democratic Sept. 12 and thus "get in step with the rest of the United States."

In a speech prepared for a Democratic rally at the Colby college athletic field, he said "our adversaries" would watch the Maine election, in an effort to gather "ammunition and argument for use in the next presidential conflict."

"It is up to us Democrats in Maine and elsewhere," he said, "to prove to the country decisively that there is no abatement of Democratic sentiment; that there is no chance the work President Roosevelt has done shall be undone by any return to that party which multiplied multi-millionaires and reduced the rest of the citizenry to poverty and despair."

Advertising Of Fair To Go Into Papers

Word that the biggest of all Panhandle-South Plains fairs is to be in Lubbock Sept. 26 through Oct. 1 will be spread through at least 50 newspapers of the South Plains, adjacent counties and eastern New Mexico, according to announcement by officials of the fair association this morning.

Copy for the advertisement was received and will be mailed next week for appearance in the weekly newspaper issues appearing nearest to Sept. 16 and 23, the announcement said.

The advertising program is the largest, officials of the association declared, in the 25 years history of the fair.

This year two advertisements, each occupying 10 column inches, will be inserted for an aggregate of 1,080 inches of space. Last year, one ad of 20 inches was placed in 47 newspapers of the area, for a total of 940 inches.

The advertising will be placed at the usual space rates of the publications in which they are to appear.

Data On Rodeo Is Distributed

Distribution of pamphlets explaining in detail the rules, program and prizes of the rodeo which will be the night grandstand entertainment at the approaching Panhandle-South Plains fair has been started, according to information given this morning.

Copies of the pamphlet, it was added, are intended for every contestant who takes part in any rodeo event anywhere in the area as well as to numerous the outstanding performers who now are in other states.

"Open To The World"

The pamphlet announces that the rodeo here is "open to the world," and that all entry fees will be added to the purses. The event, association officials predicted, will bring to Lubbock the greatest gathering of rodeo stars ever to be assembled on the South Plains.

The four major events of the rodeo will be calf roping, bronc riding, bull dogging and Brahma steer riding. Aggregate prizes for each of the first three will be $355 plus all entry fees and for Brahma steer riding it will be $270, also plus entry fees.

Daily Prizes Offered

In calf-roping, bronc riding and bull dogging, the daily prizes for each of the six days will be a first of $25, second of $15, third of $10 and fourth of $5 plus one-half of entry fees split proportionately. In Brahma steer riding, the prices will be $20, $15, and $10, plus fees.

The finals will carry $25 prizes plus the remaining half of entry fees, split 40, 30, 20 and 10 per cent.

Interesting among the rules governing the contests will be one which reads: "any contestants who mistreats or in any way enacts cruelty to any animal is automatically disqualified in any and all events in which he is entered and forfeits any money due him."

W. F. Smith Funeral Rites Are To Be Conducted At 4 P. M.

Funeral services are to be conducted at 4 o'clock this afternoon in Broadway Church of Christ for W. F. Smith, 56, of 312 Avenue G. Elders Liff Sanders and Albert Smith were to officiate.

The carpenter who had lived in Lubbock county 23 years, in Lubbock 19 years, died Thursday morning in a hospital here. He had been ill several months.

He is survived by his widow; five daughters, Mrs. W. O. McNutt of Houston, Mrs. Wesley Stallings, Mrs. Dane Bennett, Mrs. S. J. Tussy and Miss Avey Leeth Smith, all of Lubbock; his mother, Mrs. Ada Smith of Houston; six brothers, Asa, John, Pomp, Alex, Cliff and Raymond, all of Houston and Madison county; three sisters, Devereau, Ida and Mary, all of Houston, and by four grandchildren.

Bears will be J. J. Murphy, Pat McWhorter, E. C. Milliner, W. B. Bethany, J. H. Dillard and A. A. Cathey, said Sanders Funeral home.

Court To Convene In Hockley Monday

Three-weeks term of 72nd district court will be convened Monday at Levelland, said Sheriff Ed Hofacket when the official visited Lubbock this morning.

A grand jury will be impaneled by Judge Daniel A. Blair and approximately six cases for investigation will be referred to the investigatory body, including one drunk driving, one rape and several swindling complaints, said the sheriff.

Criminal cases will be heard the second, civil actions the third week.

Sheriff Hofacket said a man he had arrested at Levelland Thursday had paid a $31 fine after he had "kicked a door down to the jail's runaround." He said the man had been drinking and had "chased people in his car."

Stakes have been set for Levelland's new county jail, which will be one of the most modern in West Texas.

Diplomats And Geographers Are Busy After Reynolds Makes Suggestion On Purchases

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP) — The diplomats and geographers are in for a busy time if Senator Reynolds (D-NC) puts over the ideas he has brought back from a long summer trip extending from Labrador to Siberia.

He wants the United States to acquire Bermuda, Newfoundland and a big enough strip across western Canada to build a highway to Alaska.

Great Britain could turn over the land in settlement of its war debt, he said, and the St. Pierre and Miquelon islands in the St. Lawrence could be given the United States in payment of the French war debt.

Then Reynolds would agree to acquisition of lower California in settlement of American oil and other claims against Mexico.

Reservations Being Made

The goal of a minimum of 30 reservations for the four good will trips publicizing the Panhandle-South Plains fair next Sept. 26 through Oct. 1 will be reached today, officials of the fair association predicted. All but four had been taken when workers reported Thursday night.

Four trips will be taken. The last two, Sept. 20 and 22, will be to Clovis and Hobbs, N. M., respectively, and more persons will be accommodated, it was pointed out by fair officials, since extra busses will be taken; but for the first two trips all seats in the bus had been taken except four.

First Set Sept. 13

The first trip, set for Sept. 13, includes Slaton, Post, Tahoka, O'Donnell, Lamesa, Seminole, Seagraves, Brownfield, Meadow and Ropesville.

The second trip, two days later, will carry the delegates to Idalou, Lorenzo, Ralls, Crosbyton, Spur, Dickens, Roaring Springs, Matador, Lockney, Floydada, Plainview, Hale Center, and Abernathy.

Firms which have made reservations for all four trips were: Davis & Humphries wholesale grocery company, Levines', Anderson Bros., Goodrich Silverton, West Texas Utilities Co., Mark Halsey, Dalby Motor Freight Lines, Hub Clothiers, Commercial Credit company, Beasley Motor company, Lubbock City Bus company, Hemphill-Wells Co., Gunn-Hinerman Tire Co., Montgomery Ward & Co., Behren's Drug company, Lubbock hotel, Still and Guess, Hilton hotel, McDavis Clothiers, KFYO, Texas-New Mexico Utilities company, Nunn Electric, Thomas Custom Tailors, McMakin Trailways, South Plains Coaches, Kuykendall Chevrolet company, and Sears, Roebuck & Co.

On the first two trips one bus will take a 25-piece Lubbock High school band and another 30 boosters. An extra bus will make each of the third and fourth trips.

The boosters will wear cowboy regalia.

Reservations cost $4.50 a trip or $18 for all four trips, fair officials said. The fees include lunches.

Young People's Convention Of Salvation Army Opens Here

Delegates from numerous Plains and Panhandle places were here today for the opening of a young people's convention of the Salvation Army at the citadel, Seventeenth street and Avenue K.

Delegates are taking a course in Bible and in Salvation Army history.

A private meeting will be at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Rev. C. E. Hereford, pastor of the First Baptist church, will make an address of welcome. Supper will be served to delegates.

A march through the city and a special meeting at 7:30 o'clock are scheduled for tonight. Brig. Gen. William G. Gilks, state commander, and Maj. and Mrs. E. Pickering will direct services. The meeting will be public.

For Men With Hairy Chests

By Associated Press Feature Service
This is a photograph of Louis Zinberg, of Brooklyn, demonstrating a machine he has invented "for men to remove the great deal of resentment against the Tarzan type of male who parades the beach in shorts, presenting a thick hairy chest." The machine, intended for home use, is too complicated to try to explain. We wouldn't have mentioned it except that centuries hence, historians may be excited to learn than in 1938 a man named Louis Zinberg, of Brooklyn, invented a machine "for men to remove the hair from their chests."

Research Is Great Need

DALLAS, Sept. 2. (Special)—The spectacular growth, continued through 1937, of production and use of rayon in world textile industries is seen in a report of the All-South Development council as further complicating cotton marketing problems and increasing the urgency for finding new cotton uses and cutting production costs through better seed, better ginning, and more thorough insect control.

Production of continuous filament rayon yarns, according to a bulletin of the National City bank of New York, increased by 66 million pounds in 1937, reaching a peak of 1,187,000,000 (billion) pounds. The steady but startling growth of this product is shown by Textile economics Bureau figures for 1913, first year it figured in textile statistics, when the total was a mere 25,000,000 pounds; for 1922, when it had risen only to 77,000,000, and for 1929, by which time it had multiplied six times, for a total of 435,000,000 pounds.

"Staple Fiber" Ise Seen

Even more spectacular has been the rise of rayon "staple fiber," which is rayon cut into short lengths — 1 1-2 to 2 inches — for spinning into yarns or cotton, woolen or worsted spinning machinery. Starting with 20 million pounds in 1932, production more than doubled by 1934, at 52 million, nearly tripled the next year, touching 139 million, doubled in 1936 to 297 million, and doubled again last year, to reach 622 million. This 1937 total for staple fiber represented 34 per cent of total rayon production.

As to the actual competition between cotton and rayon, the bulletin says "the development of staple fiber at this phenomenal rate is something to be considered by the sheepmen and cotton growers of this country as well as the silk farmers of Japan." The total poundage of all rayon produced (nearly 2 billion pounds) is not yet impressive in relation to total cotton (more than 18 billion pounds), and as world use of fibers expands there will be room in the industries for both materials without necessarily reducing the consumption of cotton and wool. "Nevertheless, price relations are affected. The higher the price of the old materials, the greater the competition from the new."

More Apparent Than Ever

With this new re-inforcement of prices, the need for more economical cotton growing and marketing methods, to insure margin of profit despite restricted price, is more apparent than ever, says the council's report. It is further justification for speeding plans for a cotton research laboratory to discover new industrial uses for cotton, and intensifying work toward cutting costs by insect control, better seed selection, better ginning. Research might conceivably make cotton and rayon more "partners" than rivals through emphasizing and perfecting cotton linters' and stalks' usability as rayon raw materials, though wood pulp is being used increasingly now, especially in staple fiber production.

It may be significant that Japan, whose silk is popularly thought of as being most "rivalled" by rayon's growth, has in the last few years become the world's leading producer of rayon filament yarn, accounting for 28 per cent of the world total in 1937. The United States produced 26 per cent. Japan, which uses wood pulp as the raw material, also was second only to Germany in staple fiber, making 28 per cent to Germany's 35 per cent. In this field the United States produced but 3.2 per cent.

Progress of rayon toward a better competitive price status, through technical advances which have also improved its physical properties, is shown in its price history since 1928. Viscose staple fiber, then 60 cents per pound, has come down to 25 cents; viscose rayon filament, over the same period, has been brought down from $1.50 per pound to 49 cents.

Every state, Alaska, Hawaii and the District of Columbia now have divisions of maternal and child health in their public health services.

River Jetties Being Sought

(By The Associated Press)

BROWNSVILLE, Sept. 2.—Spurred by recent high stages of the Rio Grande and subsequent breaks in levees, citizens and civic and business organizations have begun a movement to bring about a river rectification program from Brownsville to the mouth of the stream.

Cost of such a project is estimated at more than $3,000,000, but its need is becoming more acute every year. Levees on each side of the river are being built higher and the water at high stages is impounded at an elevation considerably above that of the surrounding territory.

Would Construct Jetties

The rectification program would call for construction of big jetties at the mouth of the river and straightening of the channel Brownsville to the Gulf.

The Brownsville Chamber of Commerce recently asked Congressman Milton H. West to seek an appropriation for a survey of the proposed work.

The mouth of the Rio Grande is 60 miles from Brownsville and at maximum high stage the flow here is about 23,000 cubic feet per second.

Would Cut Distance

It is estimated the distance could be ut to 30 miles by eliminating a number of large bends as was done near El Paso.

The maximum flow then would rise to about twice what it now is. This would mean the river stage would not be high since the speed of the current would carry more water off, thereby lessening the present strain on the levee system.

The jetties at the mouth would be carried out to a depth of about 25 feet and cause the river current to scour out a channel, which would be one of the principal factors in speeding the water.

Engineers are of opinion the river bed inland would slowly deepen, further relieving strain on levees and increasing the amount of water the river could handle.

Stellar Eclipse Is Said Discovered

AUSTIN, Sept. 2. (AP) — Discovery of a stellar eclipse which repeats itself every 180 days has been announced at the University of Texas.

Officials said it was reported by Dr. C. T. Elvey of the McDonald observatory staff and was based on a prediction of Dr. W. W. Morgan. The observatory is located on Mount Locke in West Texas.

Dr. Otto Struve, co-director of the McDonald observatory and the University of Chicago Yerkes observatory at Williams Bay, Wis., said the eclipse took place in the star Mu Sagittarii in the latter part of May. He described the star as relatively bright and as of magnitude 4.

"The interest of the discovery is enhanced by the fact the phenomenon is quite similar to that which was observed previously in the very large eclipsing binary, Epsilon Aurigae, which was discussed by several Yerkes astronomers last winter," Dr. Struve said.

GIRL IS WIZARD

LONDON (AP) — Girton College, Monmouthshire, is convinced it has a mathematical genius. Rosa M. Morris, 23, whose parents both were teachers, won scholarships valued at $3,000 in her first year. Miss Morris is credited with discovering a method of solving problems in aerodynamics which hitherto defied all mathematicians.

Hubbers Make Final Series Of Shaughnessy Playoff

Midland And Clovis Tied In Contests

Once more the Hubbers came through in a pinch, gave Pitcher Lefty Blanchard, who was hero, goat and hero again, and won a third straight Shaughnessy play-off series game from the Wink Spudders. Victory last night qualified the Lubbock team for a final seat in the West Texas-New Mexico league play-off.

The score was 4 to 3, the second score of that size of the three-game series, all won by Lubbock, and it eliminated Wink, the defending league champion, from the championship race.

Championship Baseball

The Hubbers qualified to play in the Shaughnessy final series against either Midland or Clovis. These teams stand all square after two games. Their third scheduled game was rained out at Clovis last night. Until one or the other of them wins three games, Lubbock's opponent in the titular series will be unknown. Nor will the exact date of starting be known until the Midland-Clovis series is completed.

General Manager Harry Faulkner of the Hubbers suggested last night that Lubbock might play an exhibition game between now and the start of the final series, probably with the Hamlin semi-pros, one of the toughest teams of West Texas this season. Definite announcement will follow.

Truly a championship game!

That describes last night's affair at the local park, as Lubbock took the third straight of a three-out-of-five-game series to gain the league finals.

Lefty Comes Back

Blanchard, who was knocked for a couple of loops recently by Clovis, partially vindicated himself last night by pitching a four-hit game and scoring the winning run in the tenth after giving up three hits and the tying run in the ninth.

The Hubbers jumped on Lefty Lucas for three hits—two singles by Boyd Watkins and Johnny Taylor, and a home run by Malcolm Stevens—in the first inning last night for as many runs.

They held this lead until the ninth, Blanchard setting the Winks down in one-two-three fashion in the second, third, fourth, fifth and sixth for no scores. In the seventh, after walking Reeves and fanning LeMuiller and Jubela, up came Johnny Stone to rap a single through second base for the first semblance of a hit off the Hubber southpaw. But he got by without damage, because Johnny Taylor, who played a whale of a game at third base, nipped Reeves on Rey's ground ball for the third out.

But it was different in the ninth. Simpson was safe when Stevens juggled Simpson's grounder. Reeves rapped a double to right, just out of Al Carr's reach. LeMuiller followed with a triple, in the same place, scoring Simpson and Reeves, and Jubela came up with a quick single, scoring LeMuiller with the tying run. Nobody was out. Jubela scatted for second on a passed ball, went to third on Stone's grounder to Blanchard. Jubela tried to steal home on the pitch that struck Rey out, and Manager Hack Miller was waiting for Jubela to complete the double play.

Gedzius Hits Timely

Stevens got his third hit of the game, a single, in the ninth, but one was out, and Steve was forced at second. Pete Melito hitting for Hillin, struck out, ending the threat.

Blanchard struck out Lucas for the fourth time, and Spangler and Bates went down in Wink's half of the tenth.

Lubbock fared some better. Mosel grounded out to Simpson at third, but Blanchard, who had singled his last time up, patiently waited out a walk. Joe Gedzius got a fine single to right, sending Blanchard to third, and Blanchard and Watkins cooperated on a squeeze play, Blanchard scoring easily on Watkins' perfect bunt down third base way.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Patty Berg, freckle-faced threat from the West, is a red-hot favorite to walk off with Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page's women's golf title at Chicago this month . . . You'll likely see more strange faces on the Boston Red Sox next season than on any other major league team . . . Six Teams Clash Tonight In Softball Tourney At Abilene

ABILENE, Sept. 2 (AP) — Six teams clash tonight in the state tournament of the American Softball association being held here.

Ennis All-Stars will play Coker grocery of Wichita Falls, Brownwood All-Stars and Maurice Shoppe of San Angelo will tangle, and American Liberty of Kilgore play Texaco Fire Chiefs of Amarillo.

Abilene Coca Cola advanced to a favored position last night by downing Coca Cola of Dallas 4-0, and moved into the third round, along with Brownwood all-Stars, victors 5-0 over Texas Highway of Abilene.

Maurice Shoppe drew a first round forefeit when Hallblack of Overton failed to appear.

Dallas Steers Go Beserk And Down Buffs In Doubleheader

(By The Associated Press)

Not that it made a lot of difference, now that the Texas league season is closing in about ten days, but the lowly Dallas Steers went beserk last night against the Houston Buffs.

After scoring three runs in the thirteenth to win the opener of a doubleheader, 6-4, the Steers whacked out 21 hits in a seven inning nightcap to win, 16-2.

Meanwhile Tulsa's Oilers treated Schoolboy Rowe roughly in a curtain raiser at Beaumont, and the Oilers won 11-3, but the Exporters came back to take the nightcap, 2-1.

Oklahoma City's Indians downed the San Antonio Missions, 8-5.

Shreveport whipped Fort Worth 4-3.

LUBBOCK, TEXAS, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1938

Polo Tourney Will Open Sunday

West Texas Polo association will give the fans a look at championship polo Sunday, in the first games of a tournament at the fairgrounds.

Three games are on the Sabbath card, with two teams each from Lubbock, Plainview, and Lamesa providing competition. The tourney is continued Monday and concluded the following Sunday.

Teams have been going through their paces at top speed this week readying for final test here of the season. New mounts have been added to string of Lubbock Polo club and much of preliminary work has been devoted to adapting the horses to the game.

Probably favorites in the coming tournament are the Plainview club and Lamesa Whites, both handicapped in the association's regular play this summer. Competition has been among five of the teams all year.

The sixth, the Smith brothers aggregation, entered the field late, but has been improving fast.

More than 100 horses will be employed by the six entries in the series.

Junk Car Track Is Undergoing Change

To eliminate hazard and to slow the pace, the track for the junk car derby near the fairgrounds will be changed before Sunday.

Officials decided too many cars lost gasoline tanks and radiators in three previous races, thus the speed cutting movements.

Entries have come in fast this week, with newcomers making appearances. An out of town entry from Amherst has been received and others are expected from Slaton and Littlefield.

Time trials have been eliminated to speed up activities. Three minutes will elapse between races.

The track will be sprinkled before races start at 3:30 o'clock.

Ladies Days At Forbes Field No Pink Teas, Owner Declares

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 2. (AP)—Ladies days at Forbes field are no pink teas.

Bill Benswanger, owner of the Pittsburgh Pirates, whose booming bats have been luring the fans in droves lately, unburdened himself about ladies days today.

"The women have caused some terrific jams," he said. "They push, shove and yell. Why, one woman took another's hat off and threw it to the field. The second woman turned around and grapped the other's shoe and threw it out.

"Two more joined them before they all landed in the police station. You don't see men doing those things."

Texarkana And Tyler Win Games In East Texas

(By The Associated Press)

Texarkana won its third and Tyler its second game last night in the East Texas league's Shaughnessy playoff.

By drubbing Henderson, 11-6, Texarkana, a power-house club which finished second in the regular season, drew within one victory of closing out first round play in its bracket.

Marshall was not faring so well against the determined Tyler Trojans, who lambasted two Tiger pitchers last night to win 17-5.

Where they play today:
Henderson at Texarkana.
Tyler at Marshall.

Refugio And Harlingen Are Winners In The Valley

It's Up To The Reds To Stop Blazin' Bucs

BY SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The National league pennant race—if there's going to be one from here in — is now squarely up to Will McKechnie and his streaky Reds.

With Pittsburgh's Parading Pirates riding along on a seven-game lead at this writing, and what is left of the once-proud Giants resting fourth place, Cincinnati's alternately hot-and-cold outfit either can make a fight of it, or just let it die a natural death.

Meet Them 9 Times

For, with the season down to its last 30-or-so games, the Reds tangle with the Pirates nine times before they ring down the curtain October 2. No other club meets the Blazin' Bucs more than five times the rest of the way, and 15 of the 32 tilts left on the Pittsburgh calendar are against second division outfits.

Thus, if McKechnie can get his boys steamed up when Pittsburgh comes to town (six of the nine games, are in Cincinnati), things still are likely to pop, although the chances are the Smoky City crew, looking like the real McCoy in taking three out of four from the Giants in their latest maneuvering, will breeze in.

Whitewash The Giants

The Pittsburghers, after a sloppy showing all through August, had just about everything yesterday as they opened the final month with a 6-0 whitewashing of the Giants.

With the Cubs' tight 4-2 decision over the Boston Bees the first division standings were mixed like boarding house hash.

For the third straight game, the Cardinals went all out to outlast the Phillies, 6-5, winning in the ninth behind Curt Davis' steady flinging.

The American league, as you may have heard, has no such fuss for the flag. The Yankees, although dropping their second straight to the Detroit Tigers, 6-3, are in about as much danger as the fellow who has the army and navy for a bodyguard.

Boston's second-place Red Sox nipped Buck Newsom and the St. Louis Browns, 5-3, on Jimmy Foxx's 39th homer. The third-place Cleveland Indians walloped the Athletics, 11-4, and Jimmy Dykes' Chicago Sox swept their series with the Senators on an 11-6 finale win.

Hollywood To Open New Boxing Stadium

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 2 (AP) — Hollywood salutes its new $250,000 boxing stadium tonight with a premiere typical of a movie first night giant searchlights music, crowds, celebrities, and the usual horde of autograph hunters.

The stadium, built on the site of the old wooden shack which housed Hollywood's fistic needs for nearly 20 years, is one of the most modern plants of its kind in the country. Designed to maintain an atmosphere of intimacy, the arena, nevertheless, seats 6,200 and boasts many innovations.

To a newcomer, who jumped into stardom in true Hollywood manner by one spectacular performance, and a veteran long a favorite with film colony audiences, go the honor of fighting the first main event.

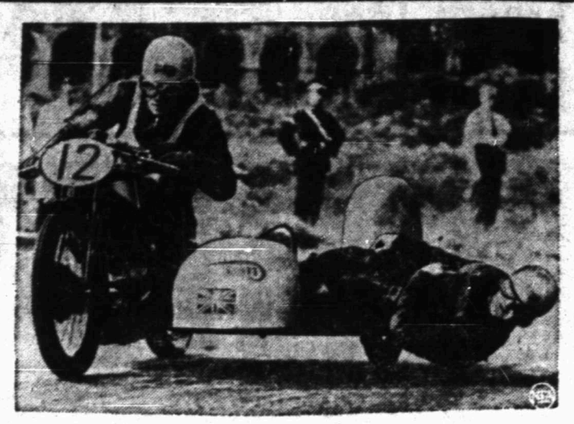

Quentin (Baby) Breese, erstwhile preliminary boxer from Manhattan, Kan., and Georgie Hansford, rugged local lightweight, are the headliners, billed for a 10-round battle.

Vic Ghezzi And Ben Hogan Top Field In Hershey Tournament

HERSHEY, Pa., Sept. 2. (AP)—Two par-busting youths, Vic Ghezzi, 25, and Ben Hogan, 26, today topped a field of 16 top flight pro golfers in giving a surprise twist to the Hershey round robin four-ball invitation tourney.

Ghezzi, of Deal, N. J., and Hogan, of White Plains, N. Y., humbled the lanky Henry Picard, hometown pro, and Johnny Revolta, of Evanston, Ill., five up in a first round 18-hole match that saw Picard and Revolta get seven birdies and 11 pars for a seven-under par 66 and yet fail to win a hole.

Sidecar Racers Know All The Angles

Davis Cup Draw Will Be Made At Noon Today; Play Saturday

BY GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2.—A likely patch of meadow grass has been lined off into three tennis courts, a set of circus bleachers are being knocked together around the pock-marked surface of the tilting ground, and everything is about set for the start of the Davis cup challenge round tomorrow at the Germantown Cricket club.

All that remains to be done is the draw at noon today at the club, when the names of the American defenders and the Australian challengers will be plucked from a hat in pairs and the order of singles play determined. The names of Donald Budge, the world's greatest amateur tennis player, and Bobby Riggs, also plenty good, will be in the Pot and America. Adrian Quist and Jack Bromwich are carrying the entire burden for the Aussies.

Open At 2 O'clock

The first pair drawn will clash in the opening singles watch at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, best three out of five sets, with the second singles to go on immediately after. The doubles will be played at 3 p. m., Sunday, with Budge and Gene Mako opposing Quist and Bromwich. The two concluding singles, with the pairings switched, are scheduled Monday.

The American lads still are firm favorites to retain the mug won from the British at Wimbledon last summer, and if today's draw turns out right there even is a good possibility that the issue will be settled Sunday night.

Three Southwestern Boys Are Standouts In St. Louis Game

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 2. (AP) — Three ball luggers who graduated into the big league from Southwestern colleges stood out last night in the Chicago Cardinals' east 32-0 victory over an under-conditioned group of Midwestern all-stars in a football game played for charity.

The performance of Dwight Sloan, rookie from Arkansas U., Jimmy Lawrence at T.C.U., and Ed Cherry of Hardin-Simmons, turned the drubbing into a pleasant exhibition for the 9,364 spectators.

Sloan and Lawrence scored two touchdowns apiece. Sloan kicked both extra points. Jim Fisher of Santa Clara rammed over the fifth counter from the 20-yard line. The most spectacular play was Lawrence's 57-yard dash for the final touchdown early in the fourth period.

State Girls' Softball Tourney Is Under Way In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 2. (AP)—Alamo Jewelers of San Antonio and the Galveston Anicos were victors last night in the state girls' softball tournament here.

The Jewelers, moving into the second round, beat Balshaw Grocers of Houston, 1-0, after Houston had beat Pearl Brewerettes of San Antonio, 9-2.

Eastland Royal Blues beat K. Wolens of Ennis, 4-1, and Austin Ice downed Abilene 11-5.

Bihl Advances In City Open

Staving off the determined threat of a newcomer named Jimmy Marshall, Joe Bihl advanced to the semi-final round of the Lubbock City Open golf tournament yesterday, joining Alfred Holton, Edgar Doherty, the defending champ, and J. K. Bradshaw.

Marshall, formerly of Hillsboro, took the match to the 17th hole before losing, 2 and 1. Trammel lost to J. K. Bradshaw in a one-sided joust, 6 and 5.

Holton and Doherty had gone to semifinals Wednesday.

Championship flight pairings for semifinal rounds today and Saturday; Doherty vs. Holton and Bihl vs. Bradshaw.

L. E. Works measured Harvey Austin, 2 up; Lee Hubby ousted F. L. McRee, 4 and 3; and J. D. Hinson beat O. A. Terry, 3 and ?, yesterday in second flight matches. Works meets Hubby and Hinson plays J. Webster in semifinals.

Perry Beats Allen

Bill Perry eked out on Sled Allen, 1 up, and J. B. Galland lumbered over Leland Mast, 6 and 5, in the third flight. Pairings today and Saturday are; Perry vs. W. L. Hale and Galland vs. Carrol Claiborne.

Consolation results: championship flight:

Bill Hackett beat Manson Allen 6 and 4.

Second flight:

Hugh Anderson won on default from Ed Bates; T. C. Patterson dropped W. Gregwich, 3 and 2; and J. R. Farmer stopped Arthur Yaggy, 5 and 4.

Third flight:

S. Parkinson defaulted to A. B. Holton and W. F. Helwig defaulted to George Langford.

Newark Bears Win Second Pennant

BALTIMORE, Sept. 2 (AP) — The Newark Bears, a made-over baseball club that couldn't lose the championship touch, were being hailed today as "winners and still champions" in the International league.

The Bears clinched their second straight pennant last night when they walloped the Baltimore Orioles, 9-4, while the second-place Syracuse Chiefs were losing to Jersey City by the same score. As a result the Bears moved 15 1-2 games in front of the Chiefs with 15 games to play for each team.

Sporting a new manager in Johnny Neun, who replaced Oscar Vitt when the latter moved up to the Cleveland Indians, a new infield and other strange faces, the prized farm team of the New York Yankees jumped into the lead at the very start of the season and never was headed.

Police Decide Pikes Peak Not The Place For A Race Track

PIKES PEAK, Colo., Sept. 2. (AP)—Professional race drivers may race once a year up Pikes Peak, on Labor day, but in between times amateurs will have to watch their speed on the famous mountain highway, state police have announced.

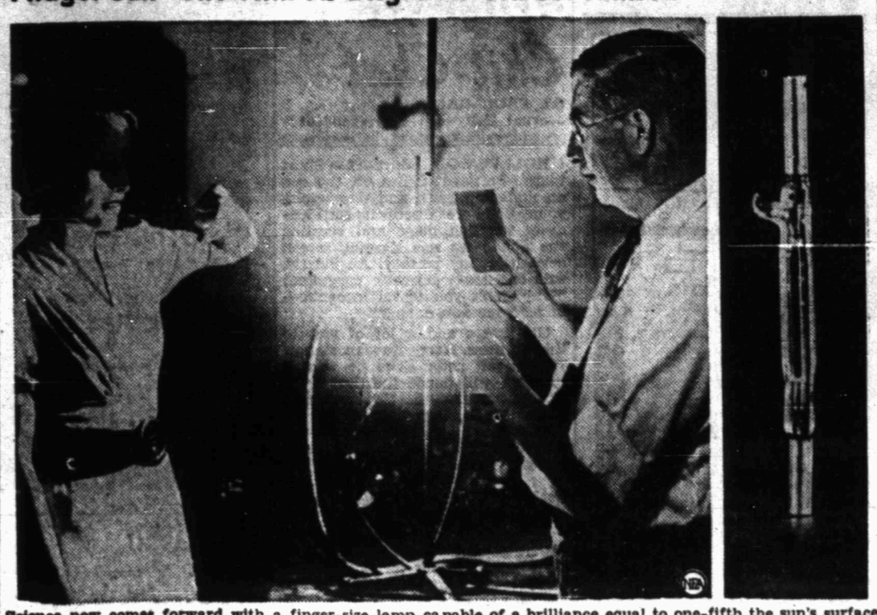

Imitating the professional speed kings became such a popular sport the police announced a rigid patrol will be established and all offenders will be taken to traffic court.

National Grange Members Will Visit Texas On National Tour

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 2. (AP) Louis J. Tabor, master of the National Grange, Columbus, Ohio, has advised Dr. T. O. Walton, president of Texas A. and M. college, that it is likely a special train bearing Grange members from 25 or more states will stop over at College Station Nov. 30 on their return trip from the Pacific coast.

They are touring the western, southwestern, southeastern states observing agricultural conditions.

'Midget Sun' One-Fifth As Bright As Old Sol Himself

Science now comes forward with a finger-size lamp capable of a brilliance equal to one-fifth the sun's surface brightness. That's getting pretty bright and the 1000-watt mercury vapor arc lamp is expected to revolutionize proto-engraving technique and other crafts in which extremely brilliant light is required. Above at left Dr. John W. Marden, research engineer, and an assistant shield their eyes from the lamp's terrific glare in a Bloomfield, N. J., laboratory. New Town Is Taking Form

(By The Associated Press)

EAGLE PASS, Sept. 2.—El Indio, the newest town in Southwest Texas, is taking form 18 miles southeast of Eagle Pass in the center of a 23,000-acre farm tract newly opened to settlement by completion of the 88-mile gravity irrigation canal in Maverick county.

The canal, regarded the longest in the South, was under construction six years and cost $8,000,000 in PWA and private funds. It irrigates more than 70,000 acres in the county with water from the Rio Grande, flowing by gravity from the intake 44 miles north of Eagle Pass.

On "River Route"

El Indio, distinguished from most new towns, practically will be built before it has a citizen. A large water tower has been erected that will distribute soft water from an underground reservoir through border wilderness since it was deeded by King Philip of Spain in 1600.

When the highway being built along the Rio Grande by Webb and Maverick counties is connected, El Indio will be on the new border route from El Paso to Brownsville.

mains laid to serve 3,500 persons.

A tourist hotel is near completion and electric light wires are being strung along the main thoroughfare that will be a part of the "river route" highway between Eagle Pass and Laredo.

El Indio is in the center of the 160,000-acre Indio ranch, a cattle and sheep domain that remained a

Late McCulloch County Man Practiced His Slogan And

PIFE, McCulloch County, Sept. 2. (AP)—Friends recalled, when R. K. Finlay, sr., died recently, that he practiced his oft-given advice: "Spend only half of what you make."

Finlay, a native of Scotland, owned 3,000 acres of black farming land in this county and property in other parts of Central Texas. On his McCulloch county land he ran good livestock fattened each year by feed grown on his farms.

Known as its second oldest citizen, Finlay had lived in the county 55 years, coming here from Travis county. His property in Texas was a 565-acre cedar-brake farm, bought with his first savings, six miles north of Austin. It was within easy hauling distance of the railroad which offered a steady market for cross-ties and cordwood, and Finlay was reputed to have transacted $25,000 worth of business in these commodities within four years.

When farming expanded in the region, Finlay erected the first cotton gin and for 22 years operated it with his sons. He was credited with never charging more than $3.50 a bale for ginning.

In recent years he was known as the "father of Fife" on account of gifts for the community's progress. He built the first school here and annually awarded prizes to the most industrious pupils.

What's Going On IN NEW YORK

BY GEORGE ROSS

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Flaneman, who usually occupies this space, is touring the wide open spaces of the West under the slogan "California — Or Go Bust!" From time to time during his absence he will send in observations which will appear here. But on the days when he is traveling he may miss some columns and upon those days this space will be filled by one of The Avalanche-Journal's New York correspondents—George Ross.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2—Novices to Gotham must have been no little startled when they rose to the tower of the Empire State Building the other sunny morning and observed an "African" witch-doctor exercising the evil spirit from some friends of his who believe they are being tormented by a curse.

We weren't startled, but that's our own fault, because time and trial have inured us against stunts like these. When we make matutrial have inured us against stunts turret, we are scared enough by Al Smith's booming voice, which sounds like an invocation of black magic though it is meant to be a greeting. But witch-doctors! We take a casual attitude toward those.

Anyway, we investigated the strange antics and this is what we found out. It seems that there is a negro troupe in town named the Shogola Olobs dancers. They say (or their press agent says) that they are from Africa. They are dancing their native congas and Lambeth Walks at a downtown theater, incidentally. Their chieftain is Abdul Assen who says (or rather, whose press agent says) that he is a Sorcerer, and the other day Abdul Assen decided (or maybe the press agent decided) that there was a curse upon the troupe.

So the other morning, Abdul and his boys ascended to the Empire State's loftiest story. He was attired in the ceremonial garb of his medicinal craft. He faced the east, blew a sacred ram's horn and chanted the mysterious words that the evil spirit deplores. And the reason he went so high is because back in the old country, Abdul's people live on the sacred mountain of Maglala, somewhere in Africa, and go high when they get an inclination to pray. Also, at that altitude, there is likely to be a story in it.

And that's what happened on top of the Empier State the other morning.

* * *

IN ALL the stories, it is so difficult for the young genius to find an "angel" for his play. Yet Chester Erskin was addressed by a stranger in the Algonquin lobby who said he'd enjoyed one of Erskin's dramas tried out in London. One word led to a conversation and the stranger asked Chester what he was doing at the moment.

"Nothing," was the reply. "I have a play but no money."

"Why, that's all right," said the stranger. "I'll back anything you do."

Erskin now is busy with theatrical plans. He has found his angel.

SIDEWALK Interiude: A nondescript panhandler came up to the staid and middle-aged pedestrian. "Hey, Buddy," came the usual spiel, "could ye give me a nickel?"

The prospect stopped short, but not with generous intentions. "You've the wrong system, son," he counselled. "When you walk up to a prospect, you should start with 'Pardon me, sir, but I really haven't had anything to eat for two days. Do you think you could help me out?'"

Apparently this lesson in the correct approach, struck home. Because we watched the panhandler play the other side of the avenue, accost another passerby, apply the new technique and triumph with a proffered coin.

AN UNWEARYING fellow, Irving Berlin is not resting upon his monumental laurel, "Alexander's Ragtime Band." For, at last report, he was in the midst of a fresh slew of songs at his retreat in Atlantic City.

Sophisticated songs, probably, because Berlin permanently has switched to the mood of "I'm Putting On My Top Hat, White Tie and Tails." Ironically enough, the fastidious Berlin seldom wears tails, invariably venturing forth on formal occasions clad in tuxedo. Yet his lyrics are addicted to the most formal items in a man's wardrobe.

And on occasions when the sartorial pomp of tails is a strict requirement, the author of "Alexander's Ragtime Band" reluctantly dons that attire, but he will not wear a topper, preferring to carry it in his hand.

Incidentally, Berlin never has found a chapeau which he though really fitted him, and he never has worn a diamond, though he admires them on lady fingers. The only jewelry he wears is, occasionally, a pearl stickpin.

Gets First Night Jitters

LIKE HIS erstwhile collaborator, Moss Hart, by the way, Irving Berlin approaches a nervous breakdown when his show or film is opening. His "Alexander's Ragtime Band" came to the Roxy on a Friday morning several weeks ago. And by the same evening, a slim little man with serious mien had popped in and out of there ten times to see how things were going. And since Irving Berlin is an inconspicuous figure, he avoided undue notice.

On Saturday, he had walked into the Roxy thrice. By high noon, though, he decided that he had to get away or collapse from the excitement. So he motored to Atlantic City and left word that he was going to sleep for 36 consecutive hours. At 1:30 o'clock the next morning, the phone rang in the manager's office. Irving Berlin on the wire. How did Saturday night go? Great? No more inquiries until Sunday afternoon; he was going to sleep. The phone rang again at 11. Well, what was happening at the box office? Another exclamation of delight. And Berlin has slept well since then.

JOE DI MAGGIO, idol of New York at present, is the idol of the drug store at 62nd Street and Central Park West, where he has his breakfast before going to the Yankee Stadium when the Yanks are in New York. His coming into the drug store is announced beforehand by the cries and hellos of the autograph fans and the kids who really like baseball. On his triumphal jaunt to the drug store, Joe tells one kid what he wants in the way of an eye opener in fruit, another kid gets his order as to what he wants in the way of toast, how he wants his eggs goes to another kid, and so on.

The kids dash off with the order, get to the drug store panting and deliver the data with the breathlessness and sense of importance with which Garcia must has delivered his message. By the time Joe gets to the drug store his breakfast is all ready for him.

CAST OF CHARACTERS

KINKAID PARKER — hero. Handsome, jobless, he has just inherited half-interest in a vacant Connecticut home.

SALLY PENNINGTON — heroine. Blond, pretty, she has inherited the other half of the home. Together they turn it into a "Restatorium."

* * *

Yesterday: Just as Kinks proposes to Sally, Mrs Clipstack announces there is a lunatic in the front yard, taking rabbits out of his hat.

CHAPTER X

Sally and Kinks dashed through the house to the porch. It was apparent at once that Mrs. Clipstack was right. Proceedings of a singular nature were taking place on the front lawn.

On the grass at the edge of the driveway stood a tall, black-haired gentleman. He had a pair of magnificent mustachios which curled at either side of his mouth. His chin was long, tapering and shrubbed by a little goatee. Despite the warmth of spring, he was dressed in somber black with a flowing, black cape draped over his shoulders. On his head was a silk top hat.

The fact that the hat might recently have been standing-in for a rabbit hutch seemed proved, circumstantially at least. A small, white rabbit with suspicious eyes sat at the gentleman's feet, contentedly nibbling a dandelion. And even as Sally and Kinks paused, open-mouthed, on the porch, the top-hatted citizen was in the act of extracting a string of frankfurters from the ear of Mr. Tony Spaldini, to an accompaniment of delighted guffaws furnished by Mr. Bull Griffin.

Lurking in the driveway was a Ford with a trailer attached. And on the side of the trailer in bold, white letters ran the legend:

LE GRAND PIERRE
Maitre de la Magie

Perceiving Sally and Kinks the silk-hatted gentleman hastily extracted all the frankfurters that Mr. Spaldini's ear seemed to contain. Then he swept the top hat before him in a curving arc and bowed low.

"Bon jour, mademoiselle et monsieur," he said. "Etes-vous les maitres d'hotel?"

"Eh?" said Kinks, startled.

"He's a frog," explained Bull Griffin. "You gotta jabber frog to him."

"Mais non," said the tall gentleman. "I speak ze Englies. But tres mauvaise, tres mauvaise."

* * *

Having said which he handed the string of frankfurters to Mr. Spaldini who, a buffoon of sorts, attempted to bite into one. It was apparently inedible and, with a grimace of disgust, Mr. Spaldini cast the whole string down on the gravel driveway. The frankfurters bounced slightly. Obviously they were made of rubber. And Mr. Bull Griffin, perceiving Mr. Spaldini's discomfiture, roared ecstatically. He was immensely entertained.

Sally spoke. Sally was acutely conscious that a possible patron confronted them.

"We run this—this guest house," she said. "Can we do anything for you?"

"I drive along ze road," said the tall gentleman, indicating the entire Connecticut landscape with a sweeping gesture. "I see ze sign, 'Rest - ta - tor-i-um.' Imediatement, I am intrigue."

"It pays to advertise," Kinks murmured.

"I speak with myself," continued the Great Pierre. "I say, 'Tiens,' I say, 'zat should be ze house of rest. Cuisine par excellence. Chambres with ze comfort. Tres biens. My mind, she make up. I come to see for myself."

"We can accommodate you," said Sally, "if you care to stay."

As she spoke it occurred to her that the Pennington-Parker Restatorium was fast taking aboard a most heterogeneous cargo. An irascible elderly lady. A tamperer with electricity. Two New York gangsters. And now a magician. But what of it, she thought. Money was money, no matter who paid it.

"I wish ze room of greatest privacy," said Pierre, settling all doubt as to his intentions. "I rest now. I relax. I am disgust."

"With — with magic?" Kinks asked. He hoped not. He thought the idea of having a magician in the house most attractive. It would furnish much diversion for the guests.

The Frenchman turned a mournful eye on him.

"Mais non," he said. "Not with ze magic. I am ze Great Pierre, ze greatest magician of ze world."

"Damn if you ain't," put in Bull Griffin, who had been very much impressed.

"Eet is with ze women zat I have ze disgust," continued hte Great Pierre sadly. He glanced at Sally. "Who does not pairceive zat mademoiselle ees charming, he ees ze blind man. But zair are ze women zat are — how you say eet — ze traitors."

"Ain't it da truth?" said Bull Griffin. "When you want to know who's double-crossed you, all you gotta do is churchie la foam."

"Monsieur speaks ze French like a native," said the Great Pierre, with a sidelong wink at Kinks.

"I c'n polly frawncie to beat the devil," said Bull proudly. "I was wit' da Seventy-Seventh Division."

* * *

"Here ees what 'appen," said the Great Pierre, who seemed anxious to come entirely clean. "I have zis girl. She ees ze — do you say — assesstant? She 'elp me with my treeks. But what does she do? Two days ago in Bridgeport she leave me." He snapped his fingers. "Like zat, pouf!"

"Took a runout powder, hey?" said Bull Griffin intelligently.

"Out," said the Great Pierre. "She take ze powder. But I, Pierre, know where she go. She go to Yussif, the Treeky Turk. Yussiff, he give what he call magic show in Hartford." Of a sudden the Great Pierre burst into a derisive laugh. "She think she show Yussiff my treeks. But she one beeg fool. Yussif? Zat cochon. Mon Dieu, Yussif ees not feet to take ze egg from ze collar. Like so!"

He extended what appeared to be an empty hand and plucked an egg from the back of Mr. Bull Griffin's rhino neck.

"Boy," exclaimed Mr. Griffin enthusiastically, "dat wuz neat. Show me dat one, will you, pal?"

"I have just the room you want," said Sally, who was anxious to get down to brass tacks, "It's a big one on the ground floor."

The Great Pierre waved his hand. "I take eet," he said Napoleonically. "Ze sight unseen. But all my—my equipement ees in zere." He pointed to the trailer. "Eet must come to ze room with me. Of that I insecst."

"Mr. Parker will carry it in, said Sally.

Mr. Parker did, with the help of Mr. Tony Spaldini, graciously loaned by Bull Griffin. It took them the best part of half an hour to get the Great Pierre's impedimenta out of the trailer and into the house. There were trunks, suitcases, boxes and crates of all descriptions. There were numberless queer - looking bundles. A very green and very profane parrot was in the trailer in a cage. Another cage housed lovebirds. One crate in particular quacked protestingly as Messrs. Parker and Spaldini carried it in. It contained feathered folk of the same general character as ducks.

"How on earth," Kinks asked Sally, "is he going to keep ducks and things in his room?"

"He isn't for long," said Sally. "We've a chicken house and no chickens. The ducks and things can have that. And you, my pet, are going to build a rabbit hutch down by the barn."

"Good night," said Kinks. "All I do is work when I want to be telling you what a swell gal you are. How many rabbits does this guy carry around with him?"

"Fourteen," said Sally cheerfully. "He told me so himself."

"Well," said Kinks, "I've never built any rabbit hutches, but I'll try anything once. That's the kind of a guy . . ."

He stopped suddenly as the sound of a motod came to their ears. A car was coming up the driveway.

"Now what?" Kinks said.

"It seems to be Wilton," said Sally. She gave him a mischievous glance. "Shall I invite him to dinner?"

NO EMERGENCY EXISTS

Even if it were a fact that a special session of the legislature was needed at this time, Governor Allred's positive declaration that none will be called at this time will meet with the approval of the overwhelming mass of the citizenship of Texas.

Chief reason for the public's attitude is the legislature itself. Whether it is true or not, most citizens are of the opinion that there is entirely too much waste of time when the legislative boys do get together. Citizens are of the opinion, too, that there has been little justification for most of the special sessions of the past.

It is difficult to see any present emergency which might justify such a session now. The regular session is only a little more than four months away. It would be difficult to persuade the citizens of Texas that any matter is in such urgent demand of legislative attention that it can't wait four months longer.

New Grasshopper Plague Said To Be In Making In Panhandle

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Sept. 2 (AP)—A new grasshopper plague appeared to be in the making today for New Mexico and the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles.

Reports from these sections, particularly West Texas and eastern New Mexico, indicated hopper hordes which escaped poisoning early this summer were on the march and laying egg pods which will hatch next spring.

In northeastern New Mexico, where farmers fought off the hoppers this spring, grasslands and crops were again threatened by an invasion of migratory hoppers from the north.

The marriage rate since 1868 has uniformly followed the general economic trend. Every depression has been accompanied or followed by a decline in marriages, while every boom year except that of 1918, has shown an increase in the marriage rate.

Hollywood Chit-Chat

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 2 — Short takes: Between scenes on the set, an undistinguished and very uppity young actor was discussing his hideaway vacation plans and berating the public for not allowing screen celebrities any privacy. An elderly, acid-tongued actress suggested: "Why don't you travel incognito—under your own name?"

Old-timers add a lot of zest to this business. Harry Davenport, now 72, and an actor since he was in rompers, will dance the Suzy-Q in "The Lady and the Cowboy." And Flora Finch, after 50 years in theater and movies, will sing for the first time in a sequence of "Stablemates."

Those stories so widely planted about Barbara Stanwyck's health not only were wide of the truth but resulted in a lot of embarrassment to her. Insurance companies were threatening to cancel her policies if she continued to work. . . . Claudette Colbert went into a great dither when she heard that Paramount was planning to put this line on billboards: "Colbert Can-cans in 'Za-Za.'" . . . In "Dawn Patrol," Basil Rathbone is playing his first sympathetic part in years. . . . "The Phantom Crown," about Mexico's Emperor Maximilian, likely will be the biggest picture ever made by Warner Brothers. Music Folds

The musical famine is becoming even more acute. Not one typical tap-and-tune show now is on the 1939 production schedule of 20th-Fox, which led the recent cycle and now is the first to drop it.

Even Eddie Cantor will have to get along without chorus girls.

The current football flicker, "Hold That Co-ed," began as a semi-musical and then was revamped to straight comedy.

They Think Money Isn't Everything

Deanna Durbin has turned down a 26-week radio contract at $5000 a week. Decided she'd be busy enough making pictures. . . And Edgar Bergen has refused a third flicker at Universal for which he would have received $150,000. He couldn't afford to accept the offer, which would have zoomed him into an income tax bracket which is almost confiscatory.

Dolly Haas, red-headed little German, has completed a year and a half at Columbia, at $1200 a week, without making a picture. Now she goes to Ernst Lubitsch and Myron Selznick for $750 a week, but is very happy about it because she'll work. . . . Norman Krasna quit his producing job at Metro because he said he was tired of being an overpaid office boy. He expects to have two plays on Broadway late this season, after which the studios probably will rediscover him.

Having outgrown their rompers, the Dead End boys will be replaced at Warners by a new gang of small roughnecks from New York. But their tradition lingers, and has spread. An animated cartoon outfit—not Disney—soon will introduce the Dead End Mice. And Universal is building its own juvenile gangs, to be called the Little Tough Guys.

Municipality Goes Into The Pig Business; Is Declared To Be Self-Sustaining Project

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 2 (AP) — The municipality of South Charleston went into the shoat business today for two reasons, better shoats and garbage disposal.

After all, said Mayor L. H. Oakes as he told of the town's decision to build a piggery, "Pigs is pigs and there's no reason why we can't dump our garbags there, fatten the pigs and sell them.

"Why the whole plan is self-sustaining."

In 10 out of 20 major cities, residential building costs for July, 1938, were above the peak prices of 1937. The cities are New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Birmingham, Atlanta, Chicago, St. Louis, New Orleans, Kansas City, and Dallas.

The British Museum is still London's most popular "sight," having approximately 1,200,000 visitors annually.

The Potomac Won't Be Quiet For Long

Although Encouraging Reports Are Claimed, Few Betting That Camp Will Defeat George

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 — Although New Dealers claim to have encouraging reports from Georgia, few are betting cash money that President Roosevelt's man Lawrence Camp will defeat Senator Walter F. George in the September 6th primary.

Dutcher

Even more astonishing than a George loss would be defeat of Nevada's Senator Pat McCarran, no New Dealer, on the same date.

Here are some high spots:

Major Test For F. D. R.

Georgia: George's fate will be the first big "purge" decision by voters. He is the first senator up for renomination whose defeat Roosevelt specifically has asked. A Camp victory would be a great tribute to Roosevelt's popularity because the President's support seems Camp's biggest asset. Cagey newspapermen covering the campaign report that support probably isn't enough.

A George victory would have anti-New Dealers everywhere singing and dancing in the streets. The third candidate is gallus-snapping, rabble-rousing former Gov. Gene Talmadge, the "farmer's friend," whom few expect to win.

Must Poll Majority

The winner must poll a majority of county unit votes. Counties have two, four or six votes each. Talmadge is strongest in less populous rural counties. If no one gets a majority the two top men must enter a runoff. A runoff between George and Camp isn't unlikely.

Walter George, former judge, now 60, for 16 years a senator, has a strong well-financed organization, support from power, textile and banking interests and even backing from the bulk of Georgia's federal machine. Most "county rings" are for him and he enjoys the neutrality of Gov. Ed Rivers and Senator Dick Russell. He has William Green's support and C. I. O.-Labor's Non-Partisan League opposition. Few WPA workers will vote, because of poll tax requirements.

Gentleman George

Roosevelt at Barnesville, Ga., called George a gentleman, scholar and personal friend but a "dyed-in-the-wool conservative." George voted for most early New Deal bills, but against the holding company, Wagner housing, wage-hour and reorganization bills. He was an anti-Court plan leader.

Extent to which Roosevelt's declaration for Camp will be offset by resentment against his intrusion in state politics is debatable. So is the effect of the Republican national committeeman's call for Republicans to enter the Democratic primary to vote for George—also resented by some Democrats. Discharge of RFC Attorney Edgar Dunlap of Atlanta because he refused to quit his political activity for George, is also an issue.

Camp Unspectacular

Camp campaigns unspectacularly, boasting New Deal achievements, charging George is a pal of Wall Street and the "Power Trust." Some Camp supporters have written to ask bitterly where's all the material New Deal help they expected.

George stresses such issues as presidential intervention, one-man party rule, white supremacy, "carpetbaggery," Sherman's march through Georgia and alleged Communism of Presidential aides Tom Corcoran, "Benny" Cohen and Eli Oliver.

Talmadge tells farmers the AAA is rooking them and attacks George rather than Camp. If Camp runs strong and lands in a runoff with George his New Deal support will be intensified.

G. O. P. Invades Dem Primaries

Nevada: McCarran opposed the Court plan and reorganization, voted to recommit the wage-hour bill and for various "crippling amendments." William Green and railroad labor brotherhoods support him, however, and Roosevelt, was so sure he would win that he failed to endorse McCarran's chief opponent, Attorney Albert Hilliard of Reno, 100 per cent New Dealer.

Many Republicans have registered in Democratic primary, presumably to vote for McCarran. Hilliard quotes Roosevelt as blessing him personally and privately, but McCarran boasts of getting $108,500,000 of federal funds for Nevada. Dr. John Worden, secretary of the state board of health, also runs as a New Dealer. The winner will meet former Senator Tasker L. Oddie, beaten by McCarran in the 1932 Roosevelt landslide.

Your Uncle Sam Is "Mine Host" Now With Million Dollar Mountain Lodge

Corridor, stairway and bedroom show massive construction, hand wrought decorations.

By SAM JACKSON
Associated Press Feature Writer

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 2.—Timberline Lodge, set amid the perpetual snows of Mount Hood, is open for business, and the host is that old fellow behind the white goatee—your Uncle Sam.

It is the government's first venture into the hotel business, the big hostelries in the national parks having been built by private capital.

Portland businessmen will tell you, however, that this is one federal intrusion into industry they don't resent. For years they have been trying to get a hotel worthy of Mount Hood's scenic grandeur, and when they saw a chance to finance it through the WPA they put up $20,000 of their own money for surveys and general "missionary" work.

Uncle Sam finally got interested, and came in with a cool million dollars.

500 Got Jobs

That million put 400 men to work at Timberline and 100 other persons, largely women, at work in Portland making furnishings. WPA folk here like to contrast the result of their labors with the murals and sculptures their artistic WPA colleagues have produced at other places.

Timberline Lodge is 6,000 feet above sea level — right where the trees stop—and above it the central massif of Mount Hood towers to 11,253 feet.

The lodge contains 62 bedrooms, accommodating 120 guests, and dormitories with double-decker bunks for that many more.

Not Self-Liquidating

Timberline may show an operating profit, but it is not expected to be self-liquidating on its million-dollar cost. Its sponsors say that this financial failure is its artistic glory.

Researchers, artists, designers and artisans lingered long on its details. Rugs, draperies and upholsteries are originally designed and hand woven. Hinges, grills and latches are of wrought iron. Some furniture is rough-hewn, some hand carved. Stair posts and lintels are of carved, selected woods.

The dining room and coffee shop already are crowded to capacity on week-ends.

Owner: Forest Service

Timberline is the property of the U. S. Forest Service, which has created a federal recreation area around it, and on the opposite side of Mount Hood an eternal "primitive area." Its actual operation is by a corporation formed by Portland hotel men for the purpose whose profits and policy are subject to Forest Service regulation.

Sixty-two miles from Protland's business center, Timberline offers its visitors skiing and tobogganing the year round, in addition to the usual attractions of a mountain resort.

HAWAII DECLARES WAR

HONOLULU (AP)—Hawaii has declared war—against the giant Africa snail. One hundred men have taken the field to eradicate the pest, considered one of the most dangerous enemies of the territory's plant life. The snail has been found on two of the five major islands.

Bees Are Shipped From Sandia To Bee Ranch In Wyoming

CORPUS CHRISTI, Sept. 2. (AP)—A. D. Hardy of Powell, Wyo., who cultivates bees at Sandia, San Patricio county, recently started shipping hives to his bee ranch near Yellowstone Park. Excepting two years, Hardy has made large shipments yearly since 1932 from his apiaries in this region.

Hardy expects to ship about 550 hives this year. They are packed in small screened boxes divided into two sections. Each section contains one queen, two pounds of bees and enough honey to feed them on the trip. They are shipped at night as the temperature is more favorable.

Pint-Sized Flask Of Napoleon Brandy, 1802, Found At Corpus

CORPUS CHRISTI, Sept. 2. (AP)—When Gen. Zachery Taylor marched away from Corpus Christi for Mexico he or one of his men left behind what he had "on the hip."

A pint-size flask of Napoleon brandy, dated 1802, was taken from a cache on the roof of an old building being torn down here. It was concealed in a crevice near a hole on the roof that apparently had been a lookout.

The building is reputed to have been Gen. Taylor's arsenal. It was erected in 1846 of material largely foreign to this area. The upright beams are oak, joists of cypress and the roof of two-inch oak planks. Square, hand-made iron nails were used to hold the timbers together.

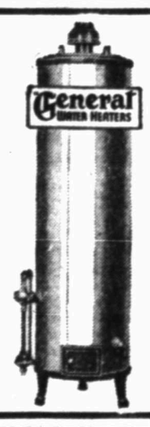

Plans for a canal at Panama were made as early as 1513 by Cortez.

Public School Starts September 12th . . . Texas Tech Starts September 19th

School is a serious business with the youngsters in your family. How much help are you giving them so that they might get the most out of school? Today, for example, every family needs a REMINGTON PORTABLE. Every member of the family can use a REMINGTON PORTABLE. Are your youngsters expecting too much when they call upon you to spend a small amount each week so that they may have a genuine REMINGTON PORTABLE TYPEWRITER to help them with their studies? Values in REMINGTON PORTABLES are higher than ever . . . you get more typewriter for your dollar. Come in, let us show you the latest models.

Lubbock Auction And Commission Co.
AUCTION SALE EVERY TUESDAY AND FRIDAY

With a decline in the market, we sold over 600 cattle with a good clearance of the yards. We needed more cattle for the buyers that were here.

If you have cattle for sale get them in for our Friday sale as we will have the buyers and think that the cattle are high enough to justify you in selling.

If you have no way to get your cattle in, wire or phone us for trucking services. We are bonded.

A New "Brand" Of Baby

It is expected that mix-ups of new-born babies will be easier to prevent with the brand new method of identification at birth pictured here. Above, a baby is shown having her initials "branded" upon her by a soft violet ray which harmlessly "sun-tans" the letters. The mother is similarly "branded" as pictured below, where a nurse in the Beth Israel Hospital in Newark, N. J., is seen comparing the markings. The process is safe and painless, and the initials last about two weeks.

The Triple Test Worsted Suits

tailored by

Hart Schaffner & Marx

It takes a regular army of craftsmen to turn out a Triple Test Worsted suit . . . from the man who sponges the cloth to the eagle eyed inspector who finally okays it, each suit is subjected to a barrage of tests that can be summed up into these three very fundamental ones . . . the test for STYLE, the test for QUALITY, the test for VALUE.

. . . and unless our suits that carry this famous label can pass every test with colors flying, they aren't mustered into the "crack" regiment of Triple Test Worsteds.

This Fall we're ready with the smartest new shades . . . in two and the important three button models as well as many double breasteds . . . and in new patterns that you will like now, and for months and months to come.

University Of Texas Regents To Select President Soon; Two Prominently Mentioned

BY WILLIAM E. KEYS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Sept. 2—Regents guiding the fortunes of the University of Texas—a $50,000,000 institution—soon will sift one name from scores considered for the presidency.

Reliable sources predict the announcement will be made in late [illegible].

Persistent reports are that Dr. Homer P. Rainey, 42, director of the American Youth commission, and Dr. Luther H. Gulick, Columbia university, are the ranking candidates.

Great Opportunity

A $17,500 salary, and the opportunity to pilot a fast expanding institution, will be offered the regents' choice.

A new quirk in rampant speculation is reviewing the history of past presidents as a possible hint to qualities the regents are seeking in the next president. Even detached from speculation, their records, tracing growth of the university with current assets of $50,000,000, make an interesting story.

The school, established in 1883, had no president in fact until 1895, the chairman of the faculty serving also as chief administrator. These included J. W. Mallett, 1883-84, who established the honor system; Dr. Leslie Waggener 1884-94, who brought new educational methods from Virginia and Kentucky and established the school of medicine at Galveston, the college of pharmacy and college of engineering; Judge T. S. Miller of Dallas, 1894-95.

In 1895 Dr. Waggener became the first elected president, serving one year.

Established Summer Sessions

His successor, Dr. George T. Winston, from the University of North Carolina, stayed until 1899, establishing summer sessions before he returned to North Carolina as head of the agricultural and mechanical college.

W. L. Prather of Waco assumed the office in 1899 and to him is credited the infusion of new life in all branches. Most old grads recall "The Eyes of Texas," popular school song, originated during his term but more important, there was considerable expansion of the physical plant.

Harvard Man President

Dr. David Houston, fresh from Harvard, took over the reigns in 1905, staying until 1908 when he accepted the chancellorship of Washington university at St. Louis. Later he became a member of President Wilson's cabinet. He established the school of education; increased entrance requirements.

Dr. Sidney Mezes, brother-in-law of the late Col. E. M. House, stepped into the presidential office in 1908 and won immediate friendship of faculty and students. An employe long in the service said Dr. Mezes had the reputation of being closer to the students than any other. He was the first to give practical recognition to student government. He junked the term "administrative council" in favor of "kitchen cabinet."

A mushroom growth of wooden buildings to accommodate a growing student body has disappeared today but Dr. Mezes left permanently on the campus the bureau of extension and graduate school. He went to the City College of New York in 1914. Today he stands high in business and commerce.

Dr. W. J. Battle, chairman of the faculty, became acting president pending selection of his successor—Dr. R. E. Vinson, an outstanding man whose bubbling enthusiasm for work left a mark on the campus before he became president of Western Reserve university and later a mining executive. The College of Mines and Metallurgy was established at El Paso and the school of business administration was born during his administration. He boosted the maximum faculty salary from $4,200 to $6,000 and said, when he went before the legislature with that request:

"I can defend that better than anything I am asking for."

Sutton Died In Office

Dr. W. S. Sutton, dean of the school of education, was then chosen acting president but died in office a year later.

The regents then plucked Dr. W. M. W. Splawn from chairmanship of the Texas Railroad commission. Called "the ablest of them all" by one faculty member, Dr. Splawn today is chairman of the Interstate Commerce commission.

Succeeding him in 1927 was Dr. H. Y. Benedict—"Dean Benny" to thousands of students and ex-students who loved him. His death last year ended a decade of service which saw the university reach a peak of physical and scholastic development, including a $10,000,000 building program whose fountainhead was discovery of oil in West Texas lands owned by the school.

J. W. Calhoun, comptroller for many years, became acting president in succession to Dr. Benedict. He serves both as president and comptroller. He accepted double duty with the understanding he was not a candidate for permanent president.

Four New Postage Stamps To Be Issued During October

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2. (AP)—The postoffice department intends to issue four new postage stamps in October.

The stamps will bear likenesses of President Franklin Pierce, James Buchanan, Abraham Lincoln and Andrew Johnson. They will range in denomination from 14 to 17 cents, respectively.

Dense forests are most suitable for bird life. Contrary to popular belief, even typical forest birds prefer the edges of the forest and clearings.
