GM Group Charged In California

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—General Motors Corp. and four of its officers were under federal indictment today on charges of conspiring to prevent the sale of Chevrolet cars through Southern California discount houses.

The indictments, returned Thursday by a federal grand jury, are the first of their kind on record.

In addition to the corporation—the world's largest—and its four officers, three local dealer organizations were indicted. No individual dealers, however, were cited by the grand jury.

The indictments charge that the defendants brought pressure on local Chevrolet dealers not to sell cars through the area's burgeoning discount houses and referral services because their rapid increase in sales "threatened to lower retail prices of Chevrolet automobiles in Southern California."

General Motors was charged with violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act.

Individuals cited for alleged violation of both the Sherman and Clayton Anti-Trust Acts were:

Kenneth E. Staley, Detroit, Chevrolet general sales manager; Lee N. Mays, Detroit, assistant Chevrolet general sales manager; Roy M. Cash, Oakland, Calif., Chevrolet Pacific Coast regional sales manager, and Robert M. O'Connor, Los Angeles, Chevrolet zone sales manager.

The dealers' organizations cited are all chartered in California.

Maxwell M. Blecher, a lawyer in the U. S. Attorney's office, said that discount houses do not sell cars directly but arrange for customers to buy cars from a franchised the dealer who transfers title directly to the buyer. The discount houses receive a commission on each transaction, he said.

According to the indictments, Chevrolet sales arranged through discount houses accounted for $5 million out of $250 million total sales of the car in the Los Angeles area last year.

Clear And Warm Days Predicted

By United Press International

A weak cool front pushed southward across the Texas Panhandle today and fog developed over portions of South Texas.

The front was located from near Wichita Falls to just north of Lubbock. Clear skies and warm temperatures were expected today for most of the state.

A five-day forecast called for temperatures to range from two to eight degrees above normal in Northeastern and North Central Texas; four to nine degrees above normal in Northwestern Texas; near normal in Southern Texas, and two to six degrees above normal in extreme southwestern Texas.

The Weather Bureau said thundershower activity was expected to develop southward into North Central and Northeastern Texas during the day today.

Scattered thundershowers fell in isolated sections of the state Thursday. Presidio had the state's high reading of 95 degrees Thursday afternoon and tied for the national high with Yuma, Ariz. The coolest afternoon maximum was 83 at Corpus Christi and Galveston.

The overnight low was 41 at Dalhart and the overnight high 72 at Corpus Christi.

Rainfall for the 24-hour period ended at 6 a.m. included .33 inch at Presidio.

900 More Troops Land In Germany

(UPI) — Nine-hundred combat-ready troops began disembarking here today to join their units throughout West Germany in a buildup of Western forces in Europe.

The soldiers are part of the vanguard of 40,000 American troops ordered by President Kennedy to strengthen U.S. forces in the face of Communist threats against West Berlin.

A THOUGHT OF WHAT COULD HAPPEN — Today is Friday the 13th . . . and Karen Narron, 610 N. Gray, decided that the best place to be was in the house reading a good book. Teamster Union Leader Called Before Probers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Teamster President James R. Hoffa, already in hot water in the courts and in the labor movement, was called for questioning today by the Senate Internal Security subcommittee.

Hoffa was under subpoena to appear at a public hearing. At issue was the Teamster Union's relationship with the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, long a target of subversion charges.

The mine-mill union was tossed out of the then CIO 10 years ago on charges that its leadership followed the Communist party line.

In recent months a number of its officers and former officers have been involved in a government action alleging the filing of false non-Communist affidavits.

Subpoenaed wth Hoffa for two days of scheduled hearings were three officers of the Mine-Mill union who are appealing perjury convictions on false affidavit charges. They are Albert Skinner, vice president; Irving Dichter, secretary-treasurer, and Sarold Sanderson, controller.

A fourth Mine-Mill official, research director Bernard Stern, also has been subpoenaed for testimony but was not involved in the court case.

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., instructed the Mine-Mill officers to bring along a copy of the union's mutual assistance pact with Hoffa's Teamsters. Th agreement was signed last August.

John Clark, president of Mine-Mill, said in Denver Thursday that the pact was arrived at openly and was widely publicized in the press and in the two union's own publications.

He questioned the subcommittee's right to investigate "a labor unity agreement between two of the most important unions in the non-ferrous metals industry."

Nixon Said To Think JFK Will Win In '64

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Close friends of Richard M. Nixon say the former vice president has told them he thinks it would be impossible to beat President Kennedy in 1964.

Nixon's economic advisers have told him, the friends say, that the current economic boom will probably be near its peak in 1964, providing tremendous impetus for the President's reelection.

One source said that Nixon, a candidate for California's governorship next year, had no intention, money or organization to challenge New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller or Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater for the GOP nomination in 19..4.

He also said that Nixon believes even war would tend to support Kennedy's reelection.

The friend added that Nixon believes there is a strong possibility of a Rockefeller-Goldwater ticket, since both men have moved toward the center of the political spectrum in Nixon's thinking.

20 Persons Hurt As Two Groups Riot In Boston

BOSTON (UPI)—Two separate riots, one a vicious racial brawl in which more than 20 persons were stabbed or beaten, brought a police crackdown today on roaming mobs of teen agers.

The race riot at a schoolboy football game at White's Stadium Thursday was by far the worst of the two incidents. About 250 Negroes and whites fought a pitched battle for 25 minutes with knives, ice picks, broken bottles and clubs.

Six hours later a mob of 400 teenagers, many of them squealing girls, overran a downtown hotel in pursuit of rock 'n' roll singing star Paul Anka, headliner in a show staged by television disc jockey Dick Clark.

Little damage was done but the youngsters commandeered elevators and burst into rooms in the search for Anka who managed to escape.

At the stadium, 75 policemen flailing nightsticks rushed the fighting mob in a flying wedge and finally ended the battle.

Some policeman picked up a small crippled boy, who had been quietly watching the football game and carried him from the midst of the struggling teenagers. Police said his crutches had been stolen and broken into clubs.

Two teenagers were seriously injured. Gerald Flynn, 15, of West Roxbury was stabbed in the back. He was in critical condition. Keith Fritch, 17, of South Boston was stabbed below the heart and was reported in fair condition at City Hospital.

The riot, which had nothing to do with the football game, spilled over into the playing field and halted the contest.

Pampa High Band Going To Canyon

The Harvester band will leave for Canyon at noon Saturday. A new series of drills will be staged for Canyon football fans after their first presentation at the Pampa - Amarillo game here tonight.

Officer Protests Training Of Red Pilots In Texas

Dutch Tell Red Envoys To Depart

THE HAGUE, Holland (UPI)—An aroused Dutch government today considered barring Soviet Ambassador Panteliemon Ponomarenko from returning to Holland because of his behavior over the defection of a Soviet scientist.

Two other Soviet diplomats already were packing their bags under government orders to get out of the country by midnight Saturday.

The diplomats—trade attache S. W. Shibaev and second embassy secretary A. D. Popov—took part with Ponomarenko Monday in an airport brawl over Mrs. Alexi Golub, wife of the defecting Soviet scientist.

The announcement Thursday said they were ousted because of "violence against Dutch officials carrying out their official duties."

"Moreover, the government statement said, "the embassy did not hesitate to put forward slanderous and therefore unacceptable charges against the Dutch authorities at a news conference convened by A. D. Popov."

Ponomarenko was not present to receive the note. He already had taken off for Moscow earlier Thursday.

He said he was going to discuss the Golub incident with the Kremlin and expected to return to Holland within two weeks.

Dutch sources said Ponomarenko left to forestall direct action against him by the Dutch government. They said the Foreign Ministry advised him to return home so it would not have to declare him persona non grata (unwelcome).

The airport fracas started when Ponomarenko and 12 embassy aides took Mrs. Golub to the airport to return her to the Soviet Union after her husband had announced his defection to the West.

When Dutch officials tried to make sure Mrs. Golub was returning voluntarily, the Soviets started swinging.

Guards' Major Brands Program As 'Treasonous'

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — Maj. H. C. Knickerbocker Jr., an Air National Guard pilot, said today Perrin Air Force Base at Sherman, Tex., is training Communist pilots and he called it a "treasonous situation."

He said he saw three pilots from Yugoslavia on the flight line at Perrin, but understood there were four being given instructions along with pilots from West Germany and National China.

Knickerbocker said he sent a letter to Sen. John Tower in Washington, protesting the situation. He said he had talked to several German pilots and they resented the United States training Communists.

"They told me that these Communists are the pilots we are going to have to fight someday," Knickerbocker said. "They wanted to know why we are training them."

The Dallas News reported that Maj. A. F. Spith, information officer at Perrin said: "We are training these men under orders from Washington."

"All Communists, regardless of nationality are enemies of America" Knickerbocker said. "This is a treasonous situation any way you look at it."

Knickerbocker said while he was at Perrin he learned that the Yugoslav pilots arrived wearing Russian-made uniforms which included Red Stars on their hats, but had been persuaded to wear U.S. uniforms and the USAF insignia.

The trainees, he said, are checking out newly developed interception techniques with the F-86L Interceptors.

When he asked one of the instructors about it, he said the man shrugged and suggested "it is not best to question such things."

Knickerbocker said the State Department may explain the situation away as "aid to neutral countries," but he added that would "be too much for me to swallow."

Tower, in Louisville, Ky., to make a speech, telegraphed the Defense Department for an "immediate explanation and complete information" on why Yugoslavs are in this country and why they are being trained.

"Please advise under what authority these Communist pilots are being trained," U. S. Rep. Bruce Alger, R-Tex., telegraphed President Kennedy.

"The people of the United States are vigorously opposed to this. I urge you in the spirit of strong statements you have made against the enemy to order an immediate end to such training."

Alger is in Colorado Springs, Colo.

(In Washington, the Defense Department said Yugoslavia recently purchased 130 F86D Saberjet fighters from the U. S. The agreement provided for training a certain number of Yugoslav pilots and maintenance men.

(The department said four Yugoslav pilots are in training at Perrin. Three Yugoslav airmen and one officer are being trained in maintenance at the same base. Four other Yugoslavs will receive technical training at the Lowry Air Force Base, Denver, Colo., the department said.)

Kennedy Resists Sending Troops Into Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy was reported "far from convinced" today that U.S. troops should be sent now into South Viet Nam's war against Communist guerrillas.

The President was expected to discuss the question today along with the Berlin crisis, at a meeting of the National Security Council, his top policy advisory group.

Argument among Kennedy's advisers over whether use of troops would be considered was said to have been a big reason for his decision to send Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor to Saigon this weekend.

Taylor's mission will be to determine whether the new, sharply expanded U.S. military and economic aid program, coupled with reorganization and enlargement of the South Vietnamese army and civil guard, is likely to be sufficient.

One of Kennedy's closest advisers, special assistant Walt W. Rostow, was reported to have urged consideration of stronger measures, including the dispatch of U.S. combat troops to South Viet Nam as a reserve force.

Neither Secretary of State Dean Rusk nor Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara has joined Rostow's side of the still-informal debate, a reliable source said.

On the Berlin crisis, the President held airborne conferences with several advisers Thursday during his flights to and from North Carolina where he delivered a major speech.

Accompanying Kennedy on the trip were U.S. ambassador to Moscow Llewellyn Thompson, Soviet affairs adviser Charles E. Bohlen, U.S. ambassador to West Germany Walter C. Dowling and special assistant McGeorge Bundy.

In his speech at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, the President pledged every effort "to prevent the world from being blown up." But he warned Americans that they would live out their lives in times of uncertainty and peril.

Rayburn Shows Further Gains

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI — House Speaker Sam Rayburn fought off a siege of pneumonia so "miraculously" that doctors have been able to resume treatments to slow the cancer that has numbered his days.

Rayburn, 79, bounced back so quickly Thursday that he was able to sit up on the side of his bed for awhile, and later sat in a wheel chair.

Dr. Robert F. Short Jr., physician in charge of his case at Baylor University Medical Center, said "it is an unusual recovery."

The day before Rayburn had been in a coma and had to have a breathing machine to keep his lungs working. His temperature soared to 103 degrees and forced doctors to stop the experimental drug being used to slow the progress of the cancer in his body.

Rayburn has not been told he has cancer. But Short said Rayburn is a "smart man" and may have guessed. A team of cancer specialists is expected at the hospital within the next few days to examine Rayburn.

Rayburn asked Dr. Short Thursday what had happened to him and Short replied that "he had a little working of the disease." He did not identify the disease.

Short said that he has not been told he has cancer because he has not asked. He said if the patient asks specifically it is the policy of the hospital to tell him, but not before.

Rayburn wants to go back to his home at Bonham, Tex. and his family wants to take him there to spend his last days.

Doctors have been treating him with a drug they hope will slow the cancer and give him enough strength to make the 70-mile trip from Dallas. Now that the pneumonia has been checked, the treatment has been resumed.

Communist Guns Spray Yank Sector In Berlin

BERLIN (UPI) — Communist guards sprayed the American sector of West Berlin with gunfire today trying to stop nine East German refugees. Bullets whizzed past five American military policemen, but no one was hit.

"The Communists fired at everything that moved," a West Berlin policeman reported from the scene of the dawn incident. It was the biggest shooting fray since the Communists sealed the border Aug. 13.

U.S. officials doubted that the Communists had aimed at the MP's and West Berlin policemen. No shots were returned.

"Either they are awfully bad shots or they were not aiming," said one American official.

A U.S. Army spokesman said: "Who can say if they were being shot at? They were in the area. The only way to find out if the shots were aimed at them would be to ask people who did the shooting. The MP's were there as observers."

West Berlin police reported the Communists fired 250 to 300 rounds into the American sector in an attempt to halt the fleeing refugees who smashed into a barbed wire barrier on the border.

Columnist Finds He Has Ally As Fashion Critic

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) Several months ago, in a rash moment that I was shortly to regret, I let myself be conned into attending a style show.

Feeling that I should do something more constructive than just ogle the models, I made some notes which I later put together into a kind of dictum, to wit:

Women will wear anything as long as it is fashionable.

It was a good thing that some of the ladies who read my opus were not in kicking distance. With those pointy-toed shoes they wear nowadays, I might have started a new fashion — perforated hip pockets.

Probably the only thing that saved me was the fact that women now wear skirts so tight they are unable to kick anyone above the ankles.

As it was, the dear creatures had to be content with writing letters demanding my blood.

Faced with such an outpouring, which almost wiped out the postal deficit, I did what any red-blooded American boy would do. I took off my double-breasted jacket with the wide lapels and retired from the fashion writing field.

It was this experience that caused me to read with a great deal of interest an account of a visit here this week by a New York fashion expert named Eve Merram.

Eve is the author of new book entitled — you should pardon the expression — "Figleaf."

What she had to say about fashions warmed not only the cockles of my heart but my gizzard as well. This is one eve who can recognize a bad apple.

Miss Merriam said the fashion is "the most dreadful of all addictions" and is causing women to lose their femininity. Hear! Hear!

I could never see anything very feminine about pointed feet. If women want to point something, let them point something else.

"Even if a fashion seems ridiculous, we wear it," Miss Merriam continued. ". . .were a hall of mirrors . . all looking the same"

Video Cartoon Battle Rages Coast-To-Coast

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — In the dark reaches of TV's jungle there's a life and death battle going on between an awkward moose and a preening peacock.

In one corner is NBC boss Robert Sirnoff flexing the muscles of his web's pet bird. Opposite the fowl is NBC's latest animated cartoon character, a friendly moose named "Bullwinkle," and his mentors, Jay Ward and Bill Scott, a couple of angry middle-aged men.

It seems that antics of Ward and Scott are causing raised eyebrows in the network's eastern headquarters, not to mention the Far West. And, 3,000 miles away, out here in Hollywood, Bullwinkle's owners are fighting mad.

One trick that raised NBC's hackles occurred after a bullwinkle show when Ward and Scott advised kiddies how to make sure they would see the program again next week.

"We told them they should take the knobs off the set and then nobody could change channels," said a gleeful Ward. "The network got upset, so now we're telling kids to glue them back on. And, use plenty of glue so they still won't be able to switch channels.

"We're asked the network to give us a commendation for keeping an audience until the repair man gets there."

On another occasion, the Bullwinkle people traveled to New York where they hired a marching band with "Reclamation Army" written on the musicians' hats. The marchers carried a sign saying "Repent, watch the Bullwinkle show."

The parade took place in front of rival CBS, whose irate brass phoned NBC and threatened to call the police. NBC reportedly told CBS "It's not our band, punch 'em."

"We asked the network to send a photographer down to take pictures," said Ward, "but, they said NBC will not participate in such loathesome exhibition."

Network people said the parade caused one religious organization to protest against NBC which had nothing to do with the band.

"If we can stir up people, for or against us we'll be satisfied," said the smiling Ward, who apparently is doing the job at least half right, fighting the network on the average of five times a week.

"We think TV should create controversy and not be bland," said Ward, his partner Scott nodding in agreement and closing ranks to fend off the network.

In a parting shot, Ward said something he seemed to believe: "NBC tries to pretend we're on another network."

49th Armored Officers Win Promotions

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)— James D. Scott of Dallas has been named assistant commander of the 49th Armored Division and promoted to brigadier general.

Kelley Arnold of Atlanta, Tex., was promoted to chief of staff and to colonel. Luther E. Orrick of Wichita Falls also was promoted to general and appointed commander of the division artillery.

The 49th Armored, which will report for active duty Oct. 15, has 95 units in 74 Texas cities.

Scott has been acting assistant division commander since June, 1961. His military career began when he enlisted in Troop F, of the 124th Calvary, a Texas National Guard unit at Mineral Wells in 1929.

Orrick, a native of Pike County, Arkansas, began his military career with the 36th Infantry Division of the Texas National Guard. He is principal of S. H. Rider High School in Wichita Falls.

Arnold, an automobile dealer in Atlanta, enlisted in the National Guard in 1925.

Tower Thinks Nixon Second GOP Leader

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)— Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., ranks Sen. Barry Goldwater ahead of Richard M. Nixon as a leader of the Republican party

Tower also told a news conference this week that he doesn't regard Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York as "a national influence" in the party.

Tower told the Metropolitan Press Club there is no "boss of the GOP" and that former President Eisenhower "still has a strong influence" in the party.

His list of party leaders continued in this order: William E. Miller, GOP national chairman; Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois; Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, and Goldwater of Arizona, whom he described as a "principal opinion leader."

Spain To Release 20-Year Convicts

Details of the blanket pardon, announced by Chief of State Generalissimo Francisco Franco earlier this month, were published in the official State Gazette.

The pardon also cuts jail terms of up to two years by half and over two years by one - eighth. The pardon, however, did not apply to murderers whose death sentences have already been commuted to life imprisonment.

Reds Seeking World Rule, Solon Avers

CHICAGO (UPI)— The only force stopping communism from world domination is "the alertness, the strength, the steadfastness, the astuteness of the people of the United States and its government," Rep. Walter Judd, R-Minn., said yesterdy.

"Wake up to the fact that it (communism) is not a movement working for the national interests of the Russians or the Chinese," Judd said. "It is working for world domination."

Speaking at the annual meeting of the American Life convention, Judd said, "all over free Asia—and I am there every two years—you find they have two fears. One is the fear of the Communists, the other, of the United States."

"Their fear of the United States is not that we will do something bad to them; they know we aren't going to harm them," Judd said.

"Their fear is of what we may not do."

Reports Disclose Asian Reds May Resume Battling

BANGKOK, Thailand (UPI) — Western military sources said today the Communists may try to rekindle the flames of battle on two Southeast Asian fronts with the approaching end of the monsoon season.

In Laos, the Communist - fed Pathet Lao rebels are reported stockpiling arms and food in their northern "capital" at Xieng Khuong.

There are further reports, not officially confirmed, that the Communist Chinese are building up their ground and air power in provinces just to the north.

In South Viet Nam guerrillas have maintained harassing attacks aginst the forces of President Ngo Dinh Diem despite several major victories by the government forces in recent months.

Human Relations Called Vital Need Of Industry

NEW YORK (UPI)— When 61-year-old Saul Silverstein leaves these shores this weekend, some overseas businessmen can expect to hear some things about management that would come from few other indiviuals.

Silverstein, president of Rogers Corp. with plants in three Connecticut cities, was given the human relations award of the Society for the Advancement of Management last week in Chicago for his practice and expounding of labor-management relations along these lines:

"There are still too many managers who think of good human relations as Chapter 17 of a textbook on management. Good human relations is the whole book . . .management needs more social scientists rather than management technicians. . .for the life of me, I see no evil in doing good."

The Boston-born Silverstein has been working at this idea for close to a generation now. A graduate of Massachusetts Institue of Technology, he taught chemical engineering to graduate students there; did research work for New York City and Boston firms, and joined the Rogers Corp. in 1930. Eight year after that, president.

The firm makes plastic molding materials, shoe materials, insulating papers, and a line of sheet products. But it also makes news in its labor relations.

In 1938, the year he became general manager, Silverstein set up monthly labor-management meetings to thresh out mutual problems, Memorandums of agreement often are the product of these meetings. In 1942, the Rogers Corp. put a cost-of-living clause into its union contract, which deals wih three locals.

Corporation sources say that there has been no strike against Rogers Corp. since 1938, when the monthly meetings were inaugurated. Harvard university has used the firm's labor relations policies as study models.

Cadillac

The word for it is... "Masterful!"

"Superb" . . . "luxurious" . . . "beautiful" . . . "brilliant"—there are many words that might be used to describe the new 1962 Cadillac car.

But if we were to select from the Cadillac vocabulary the one word that most completely captures the essence of this latest "car of cars"—we would choose "masterful".

For here is a motor car that has already established its mastery in everything that makes an automobile good and fine and desirable.

In appearance, it is clearly a Cadillac masterpiece—graceful, clean-lined and elegant.

In performance, it is a revelation. Its power plant is a reservoir of silken power—and the car rides and handles with an instinctive ease and sureness.

In safety, it is in a class of its own—with a host of exclusive features, including remarkable new side cornering lights.

In craftsmanship, it is simply without rival. Every 1962 Cadillac will undergo more than 1400 inspections to assure its quality and goodness.

On and on the list could go. But however lengthy, that list could never replace the experience of inspecting the car and driving it.

Your dealer will happily let you do both.

Once you have, you'll understand why the word has gone out so quickly that this is the finest motor car ever to bear the Cadillac name.

Wide-Eyed President Watches Arms Show

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (UPI) — A marksman split a pistol bullet on an ax's edge and a rocket-powered man sailed 20 feet through the air.

These were among dozens of feats President Kennedy watched Thursday with U.S. military leaders and representatives from 45 foreign countries outside the Soviet bloc.

In a show of Army firepower during a time of crisis, Kennedy reviewed 12,000 battle-ready men of the 82nd Airborne Division and inspected a force of paratroopers ready to board planes an hour after they are alerted.

Between the reviews, Kennedy watched 306 men of the 2nd Airborne Battle Group in a parachute drop and a weapons demonstration ranging from pistol marksmanship to the firing of an Honest John missile across a wooded valley.

In a separate parachute display, four members of the 5th and 7th Special Force units—guerrilla warfare experts—dropped into a lake with pinpoint accuracy and floated with life jackets until a rubber boat picked them up.

Other members of the Special Forces dropped into the water from a 35-foot tower and put on a show of hand-to-hand combat.

"These men are trained to catch and kill," an officer told Kennedy "but they're also capable of training large guerrilla forces."

Several had just returned from Southeast Asia. Specialist E. C. Bailey told the President that he had "dressed battle wounds, extracted teeth and delivered babies in South Viet Nam.

Jet fighters flew by dropping napalm bombs, helicopters maneuvered through the air firing machine guns and rockets, and new weapons were demonstrated.

A Bell Helicopter Co. test pilot, with rockets strapped to his back rose about 20 feet in the air and flew about 200 feet, landing nearly at the President's feet.

An Army officer sitting nearby said Kennedy was "wide-eyed and open-mouthed—just like a kid" at the futuristic display.

fire after they shouted to the Americans and West Berlin police "Get back or we will shoot."

The nine refugees made it to the West safely despite being forced to abandon their truck when it rammed into a second barbed-wire barrier on the border. They jumped out of the halted vehicle and ran to the western zone in a hail of bullets.

Neither West Berlin police nor the MP's returned the Communists' gunfire. Western officials said the incident occurred at the small Siepensteig Street between the U.S. sector district of Klein Machnow and the East German Teltow district.

Auto Victim Knew Lord Was Present

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—The automobile smashed into a bridge abutment. The motor was driven back into the front seat.

When Bobby Marsh, 22, the driver, came to at the hospital Thursday night policeman R. W. Stone casually asked him:

"Was anybody with you?"

"Yes," Marsh answered. Before he could say any more, a doctor about to sew up cuts on his face silenced him.

Stone rushed back to his squad car and grabbed the radio.

"Tell them to look for another victim at the scene," he told dispatcher Ken Reynolds. "This guy had someone with him."

A short while later when doctors finished the repair work, Stone asked Marsh:

"What was the fella's name?"

"Lord."

"Is that his first or last name?"

"Man, it was the Good Lord. If He hadn't been riding next to me I'd been killed out there."

Dear Abby...

Woman's Prerogative To Pay And Pay and Pay

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am 33 and very homely, and I know it. I am not dumb, though. I had a very unhappy childhood, but I won't go into that. I've given men ten and twenty - dollar bills to take me out, and everybody thinks I'm terrible. My friends tell me I am crazy to spend my money like that, but I am lonely and no one ever asks to take me anywhere unless I pay. I don't see where it is any more wrong for a woman to take a manout and show him a good time than it is for a man to take a woman out. When you come right down to it, men buy companionship. So what's wrong with a woman doing the same thing if she has the money?

LONELY

DEAR LONELY: Traditionally, men have always "treated" the ladies, but if you are willing to pay your way — and his, and are satisfied with the kind of companionship you attract with your philosophy, then there is nothing wrong with it.

DEAR ABBY: Yesterday my mother told me to clean the kitchen: I found two rusty old pie tins on the top shelf that hadn't been used for years, so I threw them out. The next day my mother told me she had thirty dollars hidden between the pie tins. The garbage man had already hauled away our trash, so the thirty dollars were lost. I suppose I should have asked her before throwing away the pie tins, but I think it was mostly her fault for putting the money in such a place. She is so mad she hardly speaks to me. Do you think I was in the wrong?

FEELING BAD

DEAR FEELING: You should not have been blamed for throwing out two worthless old pie tins. Both you and your mother had a very expensive lesson.

DEAR ABBY: I know a young woman quite well. I have heard a rumor that she had a child out of wedlock when she was 16 or 17. How can I find out if this is true or not?

INTERESTED MAN

DEAR INTERESTED: If she means something to you — ask her. If she means nothing to you — it's none of your business.

CONFIDENTIAL TO 'WRONGED": A good memory is fine. . . but the ability to "forget" is the ture test of greatness. Forget it!

What's troubling you? Write Abby, care of Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Incude self - addressed stamped envelope.

Dress Up Or Down With Matching Collar, Pillbox

MARY BROOKS PICKEN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A good investment is a simple dress that can be dressed up or down as you desire. Velvet, velveteen, satin, jersey faille—even silk crepe, can be used to make a beautiful collar and matching pillbox — and they're easy to make.

The fabric should have body; otherwise, it should be interlined with lightweight material so it will stand up in the pillbox—and drape well in the collar.

When little hats are in the fashion picture, invariably you find the pillbox. Sometimes it is covered with net, with sequins, or with feathers. The smart shops make it different by adding a pin, bow, or flower. But basically it is straight pillbox — easy to make and to wear.

Detail for hat.

HERE'S HOW:

Two-thirds yd. of 42-inch material is required to make the hat and collar shown. Buy it in rayon satin or faille, or any other material you prefer.

Straighten fabric and pin selvages together, wrong side up, with fold toward you.

Locate point C, as in diagram, halfway between corners A and B. D is ½-inch to left of C; E is one-fourth neck measurement to right of C. F is one-sixth of the neck measurement, plus ½ inch above C.

Shape neckline by connecting D, F, and E, as shown.

Tie a string to a pencil, hold the string 1-inch above C, and draw the half circle from A to B. Locate G at a point on the circle directly above C.

Measure 2 inches each side of G for H and I. For shoulder line, connect H and I with F.

Cut from A to H, H to F, F to I, I to B. Cut neckline D-F-E. Take a 10-inch pie plate and cut around it for top of hat. Cut headband to your head size, plus 4 inches, and make the band as wide as you want it.

Some like to have the band only 2 inches wide, finished. In this case, which means it should be cut 3 inches wide to allow for seams.

If a wider band is desired, allow as much as you need, but do not make it more than 3 inches when finished.

Sew band to the circle, then fit darts at each side; one dart in the seam of the band, to bring the bottom of the band to the right measure for your head size.

Cut a net, sheer crepe or soft satin lining the exact size of the pillbox (circle and headband); sew band to circle, conceal all seams, and put lining in. Cut lining for collar also following instructions given.

THE COLLAR

Join one shoulder seam of the collar, press open. Join one shoulder seam of lining; press open.

Pillbox tops the costume.

Place lining on, right sides together, with stitched shoulder seams matching, and pin completely around circle, neck, and one side of opening on other shoulder. Stitch.

Turn right-side out. Turn raw edges of opening in ¼-inch and close it with slip stitches. Sew snap fasteners to this to close on shoulder, or use jewel buttons and loops to close.

Dear Mrs. Picken: Do you think it pays to use a man's discarded suit to make a suit for a woman? —R. H.

DearR. H.: I have seen this done successfully, but there are so many limitations and it is such a big job, that I generally recommend that the suit be given to someone who can yet get much wear out of it.

Look for a remnant bargain that will give you fabric from which to cut a fashionable garment along new, smart pattern lines.

Do you have a sewing problem? Send it to Mary Brooks Picken, care of this newspaper. While Mrs. Picken cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in the column.

Coax Lifeless Hair Back To Glossiness

ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Baldness is on the increase among women in this country. And to the woman with dry, lifeless hair, the prospect is no joke.

The truth is that hair can stand just so much abuse before it gives up. Teasing, hair sprays, hot dryers, brush and metal rollers all contribute to turning your crowning glory into a mop if you use them regularly.

To bring your hair back to health, equip yourself with several good hairbrushes and use them daily for 100 strokes. Brush with your head down, from the scalp to the ends.

Switch to an olive oil shampoo. Be careful not to brush your hair when it's wet. For this, use a comb but choose a heavy one. The heavier the comb, the more easily it glides through your hair without breaking the strands.

Try to set your hair at some time during the day, rather than leaving rollers in your hair all night.

Never set your hair while it's sopping wet. After a shampoo, comb it, then let it dry. Dampen it very lightly to set it.

If your hair won't hold a set, won't behave even with a permanent, feels dry to the touch and has no shine, you need to step up your hair care NOW.

Importance Of Music In Daily Lives Discussed By Art-Civic Club Speaker

LEFORS (Spl) J. Weldon Moore, music instructor of the Lefors Band, presented a program on fine arts for the Art and Civic Club at a recent meeting held in Civic Center. He brought out the commercialization of classic music to point out the need of music courses in the public schools.

In answering the question, "What Type of Music Do You Prefer?" Mr. Moore said, "What kind of drama, paintings, roses are the best. Most people just like lovely paintings, artistic drama, pretty roses; some prefer Elvis, some Bach, but most people take the middle road and just like music."

"Music was first taught by the Church. In religion we read of cymbals, the lyre and how persons were moved spiritually by music."

"Private schools were formed from which individual ideas came forming other schools. Finally the desire to sing well, dance, listen to music led to the necessity of teaching music in public schools."

"It is my desire," Mr. Moore said, "to teach each student to love beautiful music; not necessarily Beethoven; perhaps, Kern, Rogers and Hammerstein."

Room call was answered with "My Favorite Musical Instrument."

Three new members were welcomed, Dr. Beryl Hixson. Mrs. Joe Watson and Mrs. Charles Roberts.

Mrs. Gradys Pafford was welcomed as a guest.

Mrs. Earl Atkinson, president, presided at the meeting, leading the group in the collect.

Mrs. Carl Hall, federation counselor, announced that Oct. 15 is Texas Poetry Day.

The club voted 100 per cent to take the Texas Clubwoman magazine.

Mrs. Earl Atkinson was elected as delegate and Mrs. R. H. Barron alternate to the district workshop at Hereford, Oct. 12.

Mrs. Charles Roberts was elected assistant reporter.

Secret pal games were drawn.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. R. H. Barron.

Members present other than those mentioned were Mmes. Edith Watson, Floyd Hines, Charles Glissen, G. N. Mounger, C. H. Gustin, Fred Blackwell, Jack Thacker, Lee Airington, Dunny Goode, L. R. Spence, J. E. Carter, Alex Swenn, Keith Geisler, Paul Walden, Bud Cumberledge, Ray Chastain, Misses Norma Lantz and Mickey Sue Johnson.

The Bishops Host For Lions' Social

LEFORS (Spl) — Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Bishop were hosts to the Lefors Lions Club recently in the civic center for a fish fry.

A musical program was conducted by Barbara McDowell, club pianist, as she accompanied Misses Shiress Cable and Amy Earhart in vocal numbers. Le-Ann Pafford, club sweetheart was present.

Churches Found Spending Little In Foreign Work

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

"One Sunday in the Near East I attended a mission church. The building was small, one-room, dilapidated. There was no regular minister or missionary. During the service, chickens kept putting their heads up through holes in the floor and curious children looked in through the broken windows.

"I was ashamed. I thought how many Amerinan churches spend more on music alone than it would cost to provide a full-time missionary. For the first time I realized that a Christian church, like an indivdual, can be self-centered."

Those words were written by a Presbyterian minister, the Rev. Donald H. Douds of Erie, Pa., in a recent issue of Presbyterian Life magazine.

The Rev. Mr. Douds has no monopoly on the sore conscience he brought home from the Near East. Clergymen and laymen in many denominations are concerned about the contrast between the vast sums of money which America's churches spend on themselves, and the relatively insignificant sums which they contribute to the world mission of Christianity.

There are notable exceptions. Some local churches give half or more of their total income to the work of Christ beyond their own parish boundaries. But this kind of sharing is by no means typical.

Statistics compiled by the Year Book of American Churches show that the average U.S. Protestant congregation uses 82 cents of every dollar it takes in for its own local expenses.

The remaining 18 cents is parcelled out among a variety of "benevolences." The vast majority of this goes into home missions or other national programs of the parent denomination.

Only about 3 cents of the contributor's dollar goes outside of the United States to help the struggling Christian churches of Africa, Asia and Latin America.

Comparable figures are not available for Roman Catholic churches. But Bishop Fulton J. Sheen, director of the Catholic mission secretariat for the United States, said recently American Catholics have not done as well as Protestants in supporting missions.

A liberal estimate of Catholic giving, added to the published Protestant figures, yields a grand total of about $250 million a year contributed by all of the churches of America to the worldwide Christian mission.

This is one-fourth of the annual amount that U.S. churches are currently spending on handsome new buildings for their own use.

The individual church member cannot be blamed too severely for this record. When he puts his offering in the plate, he has the right to expect that his church will practice what it preaches to him about Christian stewardship of wealth, and concern for the needs of others.

It was not to the man in the pew, but to the people who make up church budges, locally and nationally, that the Rev. Mr. Douds was speaking when he said:

"How we use our money is the acid test of our faith and our love; and this is true for churches as well as indivduls. As we compose our budgets in our local churches, Christ is watching us. Are we obeying his command to love others as we love ourselves?"

$18 Million Paid In Insurance To Hurricane Victims

HOUSTON (UPI)— The Texas Insurance Advisory Association said more than $18 million has been paid in claims for losses from Hurricane Carla.

B. P. L. Carden, general adjuster for the National Board of Fire Underwriters, said Wednesday a total of 119,813 losses had been reported to stock companies and of this total more than half have been "closed," or paid.

German Civil Service Jobs Religious Issue

BONN (UPI) — The people who are trying to bring German Catholics and Protestants closer together in preparation for the Ecumenical Council on Christian Unity called by Pope John XXIII have their work cut out for them.

Dispute between the two confessions in this country take on many forms, but one of the bitterest is over civil service appointments. Catholic and Protestant leaders have demanded that religious parity be maintained in such appointments at state and national level.

In North Rhine-Westphalia, the country's most populous state, Protestant leaders recently alleged the balance had been upset and Minister President Franz Meyers, described by the newspapers as "a liberal Catholic," said "fear a new kulturkampf is about to break out."

Catholic writers at a Catholic-Protestant "conversation" in Bensberg concerning the forthcoming Ecumenical Council, countered with statistics purporting to prove that on a national level the Catholics are being short-changed.

Meyers finally suggested that the Protestants do something the Catholics did long ago — set up an office to maintain liaison with him on all civil service appointments. The Protestants did and for the moment an armistice is in effect.

It was decided after the collapse of the Weimar Republic that the political forces of the democratic center had weakened themselves pointlessly by splitting along religious lines.

After the war, they attempted to avoid this error by forming the Christian Democratic Union, a political party of Catholic and Protestant liberals. Konrad Adenauer, a Catholic who now is Chancellor and head of the CDU, was a co-founder of the new party.

It works. But only as long as religious parity is maintained at most political levels. The party, for instance, must always have either two or four deputy chairmen and they must be equally divided between Protestants and Catholics.

In Germany, Protestant usually is synonymous with Lutheran.

The parity is supposed to be maintained throughout the government, too. The Bensberg group was told by a Catholic publicist, however, that of 16 cabinet level ministers, nine are Protestant and only seven Catholic. But sub-cabinet level Ministerial State Secretaries, the man had to admit, are equally divided between the two religions, 11 to 11.

The Bensberg debters overlooked one big breakthrough made in the federal capital. That was in the election two years ago of President Heinrich Luebke. Until then, it had been understood that because Chancellor Adenauer was a Catholic, the President must be a Protestant.

But the CDU was unable to find a suitable Protestant, so ran and elected Catholic Luebke. Those reluctant to see the balance upset were consoled by the suggestion that after he has passed away, 85-year-old Adenauer probably will be succeeded by a Protestant, and the balance will be restored.

Methodists Will Observe 'Layman's Day' On Sunday

This Sunday is Laymen's Day at First Methodist Church. In more than forty thousand Methodist churches across the land laymen will be in charge of the worship services and will speak to the congregations. The topic this year is, "Ye Shall Be My Witnesses" and is broken down into three parts to be given as follows by the following laymen:

8:30 a.m. Service Brantly Hudson — "The Source of Power to Witness." Bill Ledbetter — "We Witness to the Gospel," Allan Wise — "The Gospel Into All the World." Wendel Watson, in charge of the 8:30 service. Charles Shelton will give the responsive reading and J. C. McWilliams the prayer.

10:55 a.m. Service J. E. Gunn — "The Source of Power to Witness." Jack Skelly — "We Witness to the Gospel." Jim Edminster — "The Gospel Into All the World." Dr. Ed Williams, in charge of the 10:55 service. Loyse Caldwell will give the responsive reading and Travis Lively Sr., the prayer.

Dr. Julian Key, church lay leader, has been in charge of arrangements.

Sunday evening fellowship will be held at 6 p.m. with a light supper for the entire family in Fellowship Hall. At 6:30 p.m. children, youth, and adults will separate for one hour of planned activities according to interest and needs. The Adult Evening Bible Study will continue with Mrs. Frank Stallngs teaching and will be held in the Friendship Classroom.

The Sunday night service at 7:30 will be conducted by Earl Cooper.

Methodist Men will meet Wednesday, October 18, in Fellowship Hall. Guest speaker will be Dr. Emily Teed Hicks with Paul Barrett, guest soloist, featured.

Healing Science Church Subject

The healing and redemptive power of divine truth will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon on the subject "Doctrine of Atonement."

Peter's healing of the lame man as related in Acts (4) will be included in readings from the Bible, together with his reply to those who questioned him regarding the source of his healing ability: "Be it knowp unto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead, even by him doth this man stand here before you whole."

One of the correlative citations to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states: "The same power which heals sin heals also sickness. This is 'the beauty of holiness,' that when Truth heals the sick, it casts out evils, and when Truth casts out the evil called disease, it heals the sick" (p. 135.)

Presbyterian Topic Listed

"The Uncommon Man" is the sermon topic chosen by W. A. Morgan, who will fill the pulpit of the First Presbyterian Church during the Sunday morning worship. Morgan, a member of the church is chairman of the Christian Education Committee.

Church choir rehearsal will be at 8:45 p.m.

Broadcasters Are Warned

DALLAS (UPI)— Robert T. Bartley, federal communications commissioner, said the FCC does not want to use its new muscles, but will not hesitate to do so if necessary.

He laid it on the line for Texas broadcasters — "regulate yourselves or the FCC will."

Bartley spoke this week at a meeting of the Texas Association of Broadcasters. He said the reason the FCC has recently laid down stricter rules for television and radio stations and tightened controls is because it is what the American people wanted.

It started, he said, with the quiz show and payola scandals of the mid and late-1960s.

"The people did a lot of talking and congressmen did a lot of listening," Bartley said.

"And then when congressmen talked, the FCC listened."

Bartley reassured delegates to the meeting, however, the the federal agency would exercise restraint in its new program of increased watchfulness.

He reminded broadcasters they occupy a position of great responsibility.

Porpoises sometimes kill sharks by butting the enemies' tender gill slits with their tough snouts.

Skelton Marks His 11th Year As Video Star

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Red Skelton today accused Mark Twain of being the first sick comedian.

"Samuel Clements had a great sense of humor," Red acknowledges, "but he also was the first sick comic. He wrote stuff nobody would dare attempt to do today.

"For instance, there was the story where he filled a bullfrog full of buckshot to win a frog jumping contest. That was cruelty to animals, cheating in a contest, and then he sent he hisory test, and then he sent the history in under the name of Mark Twain. How sick can you get?"

Red favors "sick" (sic) comedy but he deplores the outright vulgarity of some comedians who manage to get by with off-color material under the guise of being one of the sicknics.

Red's observations came on the anniversary of his 11th year with his own weekly TV series—longest-running show of its kind on the air.

Dozens of other funnymen have come and gone, crying that "over exposure" killed them off.

"There is no such thing as overexposure," Red said.

"If there was I'd have been dead years ago. But I've made more than 400 TV shows and I'm still going strong—thank God. And the ratings have been running along at an even keel.

"Funny thing, my ratings are lower in New York City than in the rest of the country. But when I make a personal appearance there the crowds really turn out. I finally figured a solution.

"A lot of New Yorkers will deny ever having seen my show. They're the same people who say they never see Bob Hope or Jack Benny.

"Ask them if they caught my show last week and they'll say, 'no. I was at the symphony, or at the library.' Some of 'em say they don't own TV sets at all.

"It all goes back to 1849 the gold rush and Karl Marx. Since then there has been a constant defiance against anything people will laugh at. If a nation loses its sense of humor it's a lost country. Napoleon proved that. So did Hitler, and now Khrushchev is doing it.

"But Americans are a hardy breed. They like to laugh. Humor is basically a truth. And Americans like the truth."

Pampa And Amarillo Clash Tonight

Groom, Fritch Play Saturday

GROOM (Spl) — Defending district 1-B champion Groom opens defense of its title against first year team Fritch Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m. in the Groom homecoming tilt.

Coach Dwaine Currie's pesky Tigers have a mediocre 2-3 mark for the season but the Groom club has played five class A teams, including White Deer, Gruver and McLean, three of the area's finest teams.

Sanford-Fritch's Eagles are playing their first year of competitive football and the novices haven't done bad as they too have a 2-3 record.

Currie expects two starters to miss the homecoming game with Fritch. End Jimmy Conrad and guard Tom Wagner may see limited action, but it is doubtful.

Conrad injured a knee in the Clarendon game and hasn't played since and Wagner was thrown off a horse last Sunday and received a painful back injury from the accident.

Quarterback Wesley Cornett, halfbacks Eldred James and Leroy Littlefield have been the offensive spark for the Tigers. Tackles John Koetting and Wayne Kotara spearheads the Groom defensive platoon.

"We don't know a whole lot about this Fritch team," said Currie, "but they have good size and some speed, however, they are young."

Continuing, he added, "They are well coached and they are an eager group of boys. And they come from 'football country,' around Borger, Phillips and Stinnett. We expect a tough ball game."

Bayer Leading In Golf Meet

ONTARIO, Calif. (UPI)—George Bayer, golf's home run hitter, is the front-runner today going into the second round of the $20,000 72-hole Ontario Open.

The 6-foot-4, 240-pound Bayer fired a 6-under par 33-31—64 Thursday in the first round and set a competitive course record on the new Whispering Lakes golf course.

Bayer may need a little luck on this Friday the 13th to maintain his first-round lead because his course record got him only a one-stroke edge. Jon Gustin, 29-year-old Gladwyne, Pa., pro fired 32-33—65. Right on his heels was young Bobby Nichols, Midland, Tex., with 34-32—66.

Gay Player, golf's leading money winner of the year with $63,490, was even par with 34-36—70. Player fired three birdies but also had three bogeys.

No. 1 Ranking Stinnett, No. 2 Rated White Deer To Battle

Football fans who go for top-notch Class A football and who have no especial interest in the Pampa-Amarillo game here tonight probably will head for White Deer where the White Deer Bucks, No. 2 in the statewide ratings, play the Stinnett Rattlers, ranked No. 1.

It's pretty hard to find better football entertainment than a game between the team ranked best and the team ranked next-best.

That's the way it will be in White Deer tonight. In a situation like that something has to give.

Rattlers' Coach Don Light and White Deer Coach Colie Huffman both have been busy this week praising each other's team.

The Rattlers go into tonight's contest with a season's record of 4-1. Their only loss so far has been to the powerful double - A Dalhart eleven. The Bucks have a 4-0-1 record. They have beaten Groom, Canadian, McLean and Shamrock and played Lefors to a tie. Stinnett has wins over Clarendon, Spearman and Canadian and just last week squeaked by Lefors in a 14-12 thriller.

Word from White Deer says the gates will open tonight at 6 p.m. Cars may be parked inside at no extra cost and spaces will be on a first come basis. Fans arriving in cars have been asked not block the northeast gate with cars waiting to be parked.

All reserved seats for tonight's game at White Deer have been sold out. There are 900 general admission seats on the east side of the stadium and 800 on the west side. These tickets may be purchased at the box office and the northeast gate and will go on sale at 6 tonight.

Fullmer And Paret Battle In Sight

WEST JORDAN, Utah (UPI)—Negotiations are nearly complete for a middleweight title bout in December between Gene Fullmer and Benny (Kid) Paret, Fullmer's manager revealed here today.

Marv Jenson said "it looks very close," when asked if Fuller would meet Paret in Las Vegas on Dec. 9.

Fuller, the National Boxing Association's middleweight champion, and Paret, the welterweight title-holder, could battle in the Las Vegas Convention Hall in a nationally televised bout.

Jenson said he planned to go to Las Vegas this weekend to finalize the contract for the proposed bout.

Bronchos To Meet Lefors

LEFORS (Spl) — Coach Dunany Goode's upstart Lefors Pirates open defense of their district 2-A championship tonight when they play host to the Clarendon Bronchos here at 7:30 p.m.

The Pirates, who were given little chance of repeating as champs at the season outset, have now established themselves as the team to beat for the crown.

Although Lefors has posted only a mediocre 2-3-1 log, the Pirates have played a rough non - conference schedule and have suffered the three defeats by a narrow total of 13 points.

Lefors battled highly regarded Stinnett on even terms last Friday before falling 14-12 to the state's ninth ranked class A club.

Earlier the Pirates had tied White Deer 6-6 for the lone blur on the Bucks record. White Deer is rated fifth in the class A division.

The Pirates other losses were to AA Shamrock 6-0, and undefeated Stratford 12-7. Lefors have beaten Wellington and Panhandle by identical 14-0 counts.

Clarendon brings a 4-2 mark into the contest. The Broncs were upset by Groom 12-6 after dropping the season opener to Stinnett 35-8.

Coach Tom Jinks' crew holds victories over Panhandle 16-0, Silverton 47-0, Claude 6-0 and Wellington 14-6.

Halfbacks Ronnie Line and Rodney Airington and fullback Scott Dunnam have been the backbone of the Lefors offense this fall. Tackle Larry Ables and guard Jerry Harrington spearheads the stingy Pirate defense.

The Pirates nipped Clarendon 14-8 in last year's battle.

Tonight's winner will be favored to battle it out with McLean for the district 2-A throne room.

Miss Wright Leading In Golf Meet

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Mickey Wright held a bulging 5-stroke lead over her nearest rivals today at the start of the second round of the $15,000 Women's Professional Golfers Association (WPGA) tournament.

"Not bad," the blonde golfer quipped after completing her opening 18 holes on the New Stardust layout Thursday. Mickey, playing out of a Dallas, Tex., club, provided a spectacular finish by chipping in the cup from 60 feet on the 18th hole.

Holding forth in a two-way tie for second were Shirley Englehorn, Spokane, Wash., 35-37—72, and Beth Stone, Muskogee, Okla., 36-36—72. Jo Ann Prentice, Birmingham, Ala., came next with 36-37—73, while Patty Berg, St. Andrews, Ill., Louise Suggs, Atlanta, Ga., and Kathy Whitworth, Jal, N.M., were tied at 74.

FERRISS WITH TWINS

MINNAPOLIS (UPI) —Dave (Boo) Ferriss, former pitcher for the Boston Red Sox, today signed as pitching coach with the Minnesota Twins.

Ferriss will succeed Ed Lopat who has joined the Kansas City Athletics.

Crucial Area Tilts On Tap For Tonight

District competition gets into full swing tonight in every Panhandle conference with several important first game clashes highlighting activities.

Eight teams remain undefeated in their Panhandle grid war but at least two of them are due to fall tonight and another pair face critical tests.

Quanah, the area's highest scoring club with 204 points in five games, takes on the Childress Bobcats in a district 5-AA battle involving two undefeated elevens. And Gruver journeys to Stratford in another contest matching spotless record teams in an imporant district 1-A struggle.

White Deer lays its undefeated, but tied record on the line against the perenially tough Stinnett Rattlers in a 1-A clash at White Deer. Follett, although it is playing winless Wheeler, could be in for a surprise from the Mustangs in a district 1-B tussle at Wheeler.

Other top games find Perryton going to Shamrock, Lefors playing at Clarendon, Canadian hostin 2-A favorite McLean, Groom engagng Fritch Saturday night and Miami's unbeaten Warriors taking on winless Darrouzett.

Tascosa, eyeing the district 3-AAAA title hosts Lubbock High tonight and Palo Duro entertains Monterey Saturday night in the top AAAA attractions.

Pampa tires to get on the winning side aginst arch-rival Amarillo and Plainview — hapless Plainview — treks to Borger to battle the riled-up Bulldogs of coach Gene Mayfield.

A top non-conference struggle has undefeated, untied AA Dalhart at Dumas, the state's fifth ranked AAA club. And Phillips goes to Lamssa for another big non-conference slate.

Nickel Boy Wins Race At Aqueduct

By United Press International

Nickel Boy, a hard-luck performer all year, finally owns his first victory today—and it's a big one.

The 6-year-old Elmendorf Stable's gelding came from far off the pace Thursday to defeat the surprising Troubadour 3rd by two lengths in the $56,900 Manhattan Handicap at Aqueduct. Dress Up was third.

In 18 previous starts this year, Nickel Boy could do no better than six second-place finishes. His best showing was a second to Kelso in the Suburban Handicap.

Trice Crewmen To Face District Title Hopefuls

By JOE LEE SMITH
Daily News Sports Editor

Pampa's Fighting Harvesters entertain arch-rival Amarillo tonight in an important district 3-AAAA contest at Harvester Park at 7:30 p.m.

It's an important game for the Sandies from the viewpoint that coach Bum Phillips' crew is fighting for the district title. For Pampa, the Harvesters would like nothing better than to get into the victory column by knocking off the rugged Amarillo eleven.

But the record books can be thrown out of the window when these two teams meet. Although Pampa is winless in 16 straight games, the Harvesters always battle Amarillo tooth and toenail.

Pampa has won only eight games in the 39-game series and the Harvesters haven't beaten the Golden Sandies, once a great state powerhouse, since 1953.

Coach Weldon Trice has whipped his crew into an outfit capable of pulling off a big upset. The Harvesters almost tripped up well regarded Monterey last Friday but fell by the wayside in the last half 14-0.

Pampa had lost to unbeaten Ysleta Bel Aire, Phillips, Dumas and Tascosa before falling to the Plainsmen last week. But the Harvesters looked better last week than they have at any other time this season, especially on defense.

Trice's crew battled Monterey on even terms before a long 85 yard scamper early in the fourth period finally broke the game open.

Hardly enough can be said to emphasize the toughness of the Sandies. Amarillo has split in four games but the Golden Sandies have lost only to two of the state's top teams.

One of the losses was a startling 14-0 defeat at the hands of the top AAAA club in Texas, Whicita Falls. It was startling because the Coyotes were favored to win by four or five touchdowns.

Wichita Falls, however, didn't tally their final marker until the last period.

Amarillo also lost to Fort Worth Paschal, the fifth rated AAAA club, 14-0. The Sandies nipped Odessa 3-0 in their opener and blasted lowly Plainview 45-0 last Friday in their first district game.

Halfback Ronnie Williams, who rolled up 214 yards rushing against Plainview, is the Sandies big offensive gun.

Pampa will probably go with its same line-up it has used the last two weeks. Kenny Hebert and Rickey Stewart, who played so well last week, heads the Harvesters offense. A group of green and gold lineman have been impressive, including Jimmy Hoyler, James Webb, Dee Wright Keith Reimer and Danny Mathus.

Tonight's battle will be the third district 3-AAAA game for Pampa.

Sandies 'Burned' At Rally

By BOB HALE

They burned the Amarillo Sandies in effigy at the traditional pre-game pep rally and bonfire on Harvester campus last night.

The cheer leaders, the band and student body raised their voices into the Indian summer night air and pedged ever-lasting loyalty and moral support.

The Pampa gridders tonight will go onto the field once more in the underdog role as the curtain rises on the annual Pampa-Amarillo high school gridiron classic out at Harvester Stadium.

Game time is 7:30 p.m.

There are those who think that tonight could be the night, even though the know-it-alls in the statistics box say the Sandies should win by two or three touchdowns.

This just could be THE night, they opine. The reasoning behind this is the steady improvement the bottom-of-the-deck Harvesters have shown since Coach Weldon Trice took them over three or four games ago.

They showed their first real punch against Tascosa. They looked real good during last week's scoreless first half against Monterey although they slipped in enough in the last half to lose another one.

But the thing is — they looked better. Much better.

Coach Trice and his assistants have been putting the team through some rough go-rounds this week.

So the Harvesters will be out their giving their best and the hometown folk will be rooting for them.

Word from Amarillo is that the Sandies are not expecting a pushover victory tonight. On the contrary they figure they may have some trouble in chalking up their second consecutive conference win.

However, one Amarillo sports writer says tonight's encounter should be the easiest of the season for the Amarillo gridders. Amarillo opened its season with a 45-0 win over Plainview. But Wichita Falls and Fort Worth Paschal each took the Sandies by two TD margins. The Harvesters have two conference losses so far. They dropped their opener 41-6 to Tascosa and Monterey downed the locals 14-0 last week.

Someone has said it might be well for each individual member of the Harvesters to repeat the following to himself as the starting whisle blows.

"The Sandies have been beaten twice this year — let's make it three tonight."

The author of the line said something about it having some kind of magic psychological effect on mass morale. One suspects Coach Trice would rather depend on good offensive and defensive play.

Texas Favored In Battle With Sooner Eleven

By United Pres International

Undefeated Colorado meets the Miami Hurricanes at the Orange Bowl tonight — and an impressive victory could land the Buffaloes back in the Sunshine State for the post-season classic.

Colorado, however, still must win the Big Eight title to qualify for the Orange Bowl bid.

Sonny Grandelius' squad has won its first two games, blanking Oklahoma State and squeezing by Kansas last week, and is rated even with the Hurricanes, who possess a 2-2 record.

Miami, seeking to rebound after last week's upset loss to Navy, will be without the services of star quarterback George Mira and a number of regular linebackers.

In other Friday night games, kicking off the big college football weekend, winless Tulane (0-3) takes on Virginia Tech (1-1) and Detroit (2-0) plays host to Boston College, which has failed to score in its first three starts.

Main interest around the nation on Saturday will be centered on the traditional match between second-ranked Michigan and sixth-ranked Michigan State at Ann Arbor. The oddsmakers have made Michigan a one-point favorite over the Spartans.

The game will be televised over the ABC network, starting at 2:15 p.m., EDT.

The top - ranked Mississippi Rebels, with Doug Elmore filling in nicely for the departed Jake Gibbs, is a 20-point choice as they play host to Houston.

Texas, ranked No. 3, carries a devastating ground and passing attack against one-time powerful Oklahoma this week. The Longhorns are a 14-point choice.

Fourth-ranked Alabama (3-0) is a 16-point pick to hold off North Carol'na State and its passing ace Roman Gabriel. Iowa, which dropped to No. 5 after edging Southern California last week, is a heavy favorite over Big Ten rival Indiana.

Notre Dame, rated No. 7 and on the way back as a gridiron power, plays Southern California, a 13-point underdog, at South Bend. Eighth - ranked Ohio State is a big favorite over Illinois.

Baylor, tied for 10th with Maryland, meets a tough conference opponent, Arkansas, with the Bears a six-point favorite. Maryland is picked by 10 over North Carolina.

In the West Coast's top game, the Washington Huskies, in pursuit of a third straight Rose Bowl trip, are a strong choice over lowly California.

U.S. Team Favored In Golf Tilts

LYTHAM-ST. ANNES, Eng. (U —A United States team, with four newcomers to the international competition, was favored over Britain, with only two, in the Ryder Cup golf matches today.

Four 18-hole foursome matches were scheduled this morning with four more this afternoon.

Golfers new to the Ryder Cup play in the American team are U.S. Open champion Gene Littler, British Open champion Arnold Palmer, Billy Casper and Bill Collins. Veteran Tom Haliburton, a Scot who shot rounds of 61 and 65 at Worthing, Eng., for a world record aggregate of 126 for two consecutive 18 hole rounds, and Neil Coles are the British debutants.

Littler was paired with Doug and Peter Alliss in the first foursome match. O'Connor and Alliss paired to beat Art Wall and Ford, 3 and 2, at Palm Desert, Calif., in 1959 when the Americans won the Ryder Cup competition the 10th time in 13 tries.

Palmer and Casper met Dai Rees, captain of the British team, and Ken Bousfield; Wall and Jay Hebert lined up against Scots Tom Panton and Bernard Hunt and Collins and Mike Souchak faced Haliburton and Coles.

The U.S. team was a 5-2 favorite to win the competition.

Jerry Barber, captain of the U.S. team, conceded that "the margin could be very close."

Barber kept himself and Dow Finsterwald out of the opening foursome play, but new pairings will be made for the four afternoon matches and Barber said he may change teams.

Junior High Boys Win 1 But Lose 2

Robert E. Lee Junior High School football teams won one and lost two in games played Thursday afternoon in Pampa and Borger.

Jack Thompson. Smisson Goodlett and Gary McCarrell co-starred as Coach Joe Perryman's 7th grade gridders whopped Pampa Junior High's 8th graders 20 to 0. Thompson ran 75 yards for his touchdown; Goodlett scored on a 31 yard scoot from scrimmage on the very first play of the game and McCarrell took a reverse and ran 20 yards for the third TD.

Thompson carried the ball nine times for 209 yards, McCarrell 5 times for 49 yards and Goodlett twice for 31.

Coach Lee Ramsey's other graders from Robert E. Lee lost 20 to 0 to Sam Houston 9th grade of Borger. Ramsey said: "We simply met a better team. Our boys played a good game but were sluggish at times."

Both games were played at Harvester Park.

Coach Mack Choate's 8th grade team from Lee took it on the chin 34 to 16 from Borger Sam Houston 8th graders in a game played at Borger.

"We just loafed on the job," Choate said today. However, the coach pointed out 245 - pound tackle Bill Quarral as playing top ball both on the offensive and defensive.

The Lee 8th graders were undefeated until yesterday. They had won their first three starts this season. Ellis and Daniels scored Pampa's two touchdowns on a 3 - yard plunge and a 32 yard run, respectively.

Tennis Meet Opens Today

ROME (UPI)—A weak United States Davis Cup team, thoroughly humiliated in the Italian press, faced with determined confidence its opening two singles matches against Italy today in the inter-zone finals.

Husky Jon Douglas, a 25-year-old recently discharged Marine corporal from Santa Monica, Calif., drew the opening assignment against temperamental Fausto Gardini.

Whitney Reed, America's eighth-ranked amateur and its most experienced player here, met Italian ace Nicola Pietrangeli in the second match.

Undefeated-Untied Teams Clash On School Gridirons Tonight

By United Press International

A half dozen games, headed by what promises to be an explosive clash between Corpus Christi Miller and San Antonio Jefferson, sends undefeated-untied teams against each other on this weekend's Texas schoolboy football schedules.

Miller, the defending state Class AAAA champion with 11 consecutive victories including a 26-6 triumph over Jefferson in the playoffs last year behind it, will visit the Alamo city tonight. Jefferson is rated No. 2 in the state behind Wichita Falls, while Miller ranks seventh.

In fact, Miller whipped Jeff twice last year in its string, having beaten the Mustangs 13-7 in a regular season game. Jefferson will be the favorite this time in the non-district encounter.

Another Class AAAA headliner has third-ranked Odessa Permian playing San Angelo in a game which probably will settle the District 2 title. San Angelo, ranked No. 5, has beaten fourth-rated Corpus Christi Ray but lost to San Antonio Jefferson.

There are no perfect record matchings in Class AAA this week, but in Class AA there are a couple of show-stoppers — Childress at Quanah in a District 5 showdown and Ganado at Sweeny in a 26-AA game of similar import.

Sweeny, has been ranked among the top finals favorites since pre - season talk began, while Quanah quickly developed into a major northern bracket threat with the Indians' lop-sided victories.

In Class A, one of the three undefeated-untied battles has defending champion Albany, with 19 consecutive victories behind it, facing Clyde in a District 10-A showdown. In the other two similar contests, Gruver is at Stratford in 1-A and Brownsboro at Kerens in 17-A.

Defending champion Brownwood, ranked No. 1 in AAA, is idle this week, but Class AA's titlist, Denver City, opens its District 3 race against weak Post and should chalk up its 22nd consecutive win.

Brownwood's counterpart in the AAAA UPI ratings, the Wichita Falls Coyotes, aren't expected to get much more than a stiff workout when they host Longview, which has won only one of four starts. The Coyotes boast the state's top scoring average — 43 points per game.

In other games involving the AAAA Top 10 teams, fourth-ranked Corpus Christi Ray meets San Antonio Highlands, sixth- ranked Fort Worth Paschal meets Fort Worth Tech, ninth ranking Galena Park tangles with the Galveston team which last week upset touted Baytown and 10th- rated Brazosport meets Texas City.

Inside The Huddle

By

Joe Lee Smith

What a weekend for football! And what a shame it is that we can only see one game Friday night.

There are many top-rated attractions on tap tonight including our own game between the Amarillo Sandies and the Pampa Harvesters. And down at White Deer, one of the state's top contest will be unreeled between the host Bucks and the Stinnett Rattlers.

Other important battles pit Childress' Bobcats at Quanah and the Gruver Greyhounds at Stratford in crucial district games matching unbeaten teams. A big non-conference tilt is slated at Dumas where the third ranked AAA Demons host undefeated AA Dalhart.

And then comes the big struggle Saturday between the unbeaten and third ranked college team, Texas, and the once-mighty Oklahoma Sooners at Dallas. If that isn't enough, stay home and watch two grid giants—Michigan and Michigan State — clash on television .

Texas' coach Darrell Royal, a former Oklahoma grid star, tries to stretch his winning streak to four in a row over a Bud Wilkinson's club.

The Steers, and they have always been my favorite college team, are ready to make amends for a six game losing skein to the Sooners from 1952-57.

Oklahoma really powdered Texas in two of those wins, 49-20 in 1952 and 45-0 in 1956. Now we hope the Longhorns will get even by an even wider margin.

Anyhow, Texas leads in the grudge series 33-20-2.

The Pampa-Amarillo series dates back to 1921 and the Sandies hold a big edge over the Harvesters with 29 wins to only 8 for the locals and two ties.

Amarillo ran up the longest winning skein with nine consecutive wins in the years 1932 - 40. Pampa copped five in a row from 1949-53.

Pampa's last win was a 20-14 triumph in 1953 although the Harvesters tied the Sandies 14-14 in 1959.

Amarillo owns the widest margin of victory, a 47-0 triumph in their first meeting. Pampa's biggest victory was a 28-0 decision in 1950, the last time the Harvesters won a district championship.

Last week "Ole Fearless" guessed right 15 times in 20 games including a tie. "Fearless'" season record now stands at 80-21-4 for a .781 mark.

Amarillo over Pampa — You gotta score to win and the Harvesters have the district's weakest offense and the Sandies have the top defense, but it should be a tight battle.

White Deer over Stinnett — We are inclined to pick Stinnett due to the Rattlers domination in the series. But it's homecoming for the Bucks and they should be higher than a missile for the tussle.

Gruver over Stratford — The Gruver Greyhounds have played a somewhat tougher schedule. But it could go either way.

Quanah over Childress — Indians to catch 'em Bobcats by the tail and not let go until scalp is got'tum.

Lefors over Clarendon — The Pirates open defense of their district 2-A title in a close contest.

Texas over Oklahoma — Still gunning for the number one spot, Texas to romp by three touchdowns.

Other winners in caps: TCU vs Texas Tech, TASCOSA vs Lubbock, PALO DURO vs Monterey, BORGER vs Plainview, MIAMI vs Darrouzett, RICE vs Florida, BAYLOR vs Arkansas, GROOM vs Fritch, McLEAN vs Canadian, DUMAS vs Dalhart, PANHANDLE vs Sunray, PERRYTON vs Shamrock, MICHIGAN vs Michigan State and KILGORE JUNIOR COLLEGE vs Tyler.

Quarterback Wins Army Call Delay

BEAR MOUNTAIN, N.Y. (UPI) —Jack Kemp, the star quarterback of the undefeated San Diego Chargers, has been granted a delay in his reporting date for active military duty.

Kemp, rejected by the Navy because of a chronic shoulder separation, was originally scheduled to report to an Army transportation company in San Diego for active duty Suday.

However, it was announced on Thursday in Washington that the Army surgeon general's office has asked 6th Army Headquarters in San Francisco for more information before reaching a decision on Kemp's appeal for a deferment on medical grounds.

Kemp, in training here with the Chargers for Sunday's American Football League game against the New York Titans, said if he is eventually called up by the Army "I'll just have to go because Uncle Sam is the boss."

The Common Purse

Greed is as old as human history. From the beginning, men have despoiled one another for self-enrichment. Under the cloak of communism, with high profession of doing good to others, covveting and despoliatin is ramplant in the modern world and has permeated all echelons of society.

In the first chapter of Proverbs, Solomon spoke to our present condition as well as to that of the ancient Hebrews 2700 years ago. Hear his words:

"My son, if sinners entice thee consent thou not. If they say, come with us, let us lay wait for blood, let us lurk privily for the innocent without cause: let us swallow them up alive as the grave; and whole as those that go down into the pit: we shall find all precious substance, we shall fill our houses with spoils:

"CAST IN THY LOT WITH US; LET US ALL HAVE ONE PURSE.

"My son, walk not thou in the way with them; refrain thy foot from their path: for their feet run to evil, and make haste to shed blood . . . And they lay wait for their own blood; they lurked privily for their own lives.

"So are the ways of everyone that is greedy of gain; WHICH TAKETH AWAY THE LIFE OF THE OWNERS THEREOF."

The common purse! The dispossession of the thrifty! The persecution and death of those who have worked hard to save diligently and accumulated the capital that has lifted the human race above the level of savagery. Such is the worldwide phenomenon which we witness today and such it has ever been throughout the recorded history of man.

No wonder Solomon cried out:

"Wisdom crieth without; she uttereth her voice in the streets; she crieth in the chief place of the concourse, in the openings of the gate: in the city she uttereth her word saying,

"How long, ye simple ones, will ye love simplicity? And the scorners delight in their scorning, and the fools hate knowledge?"

". . . because I have called, and ye refused; I have stretched out my hand, and no man regardeth; but ye have set at nought all my counsel and would none of my reproof."

"When your fear cometh as desolation, and your destruction cometh as a whirlwind; when the stress and anguish cometh upon you, then shall they call upon me but I will not answer; they shall seek me early but they shall not find me. For they hated knowledge and did not choose to serve the Lord."

The common purse is the inducement offered by the would-be despoilers to increase their numbers so they can dispossess the thrifty.

The law of God says "thou shalt not covet and thou shalt not steal." The well-being of humanity depends upon keeping these Commandments along with the others. No part of the moral law is being more widely disregarded today and the evils flowing therefrom are apparent to all who have eyes to see. It is destroying our character, our self-government and our prosperity.

Hard Luck Dick

Richard Nixon has decided to make a run for governor of California.

Mr. Nixon is a political twin of Joe Bltffsk in the Li'l Abner strip — the hard-luck guy who lives under a portable black cloud.

In his first sally at the big time, Mr. Nixon very nearly was scuttled by Mr. Eisenhower, you may recall, as the result of some political hanky-panky fortuitously disclosed just as the Republicans were about to choose a vice presidential candidate.

Mr. Nixon, Pat (his wife) and a dog whose name escapes us — no, Falla was that Scottie — took to the TV and put on a performance which, if Rod Serling had done it, would have won an Emmy. As a result, Mr. Nixon emerged a contender whom Mr. Eisenhower couldn't have dumped if he had wanted to.

(That dog was a cocker spaniel, come to think about it. Mr. Nixon's dog, that is, not Mr. Roosevelt's).

Mr. Nixon became vice president without perspiration. Norman Thomas would have ridden home safe on the Eisenhower ticket. And life became dull until Mr. Nixon was dispatched to South America where somebody threw something at him. Let's see, it was an egg. No, it was Mr. Willkie who was hit by an egg. Anyway, Mr. Nixon was thrown - at, and so was Pat, and when they came home it was a sure thing he was going to be elected President just to show them foreigners they couldn't throw whatever it was they threw at our man.

Meantime, in the wings, and slightly to the left of Mr. Nixon was a young fellow which a shock of dense hair and a father who intended to have one of his boys in the White House or his name wasn't Daddy Warbucks. The only thing standing in the way of the young man was Lyndon Johnson who was reported to be the Great White Hope of the South and the smartest politician since we came back ino the Union.

It took Mr. Kennedy 13 minutes to dispose of Mr. Johnson in front of a national television audience, a device suggested by Mr. Johnson himself. (LBJ Corporation has since disposed of its TV station in the Valley; but it would be inconclusive to put this down as a mental bloc against television itself because LBJ continues to own the station in Austin.)

Anyway, having disposed of Mr. Johnson without even consulting a handful of notes, Mr. Kennedy marched onward to Mr. Nixon, who immediately was made part of a political scandal involving his brother.

Mr. Nixon was reported to be a terrible brawler, using his elbows in close and rabbit punching when the ref wasn't looking. Everybody waited for the carnage, and Mr. Nixon came out of his corner, marched up to the TV cameras, drew a dull knife across his throat and collapsed.

It was just another case of miscalculation which seems to have beset Mr. Nixon all along.

It was reasonable to assume that, given a chance to wrest the state from Gov. Pat Brown, a Democrat, all the California Republicans would support Mr. Nixon; but former Gov. Goodwin (Goodie) Knight immediately took out after Dick and said he (Goodie) had been offered anything up to the bench of the California Supreme Court if he would stay out of the race against Nixon.

Mr. Nixon has denied that any of his duly authorized agents made such a shocking offer to Mr. Knight. But another fellow, whose precise relationship to Mr. Knight we couldn't understand from the story we read, said he heard somebody offer Mr. Knight the Supreme Court if he'd stay out of the race.

So, there you are. Mr. Nixon is back in the soup again.

Now, the thought occurs to us that Mr. Nixon is really not worth all that trouble, politically speaking, that is. He is a sort of newt who started out as a conservative because you had to be conservative to beat Helen Gahagan Douglas, as he did, for the U.S. Senate. But maybe it was his hanging around Ike that started him on a slow curve to the left. Anyway, by the time he got to running against Kennedy, you couldn't tell the contestants apart except Nixon was the one with two left feet.

Of course, it is not our worry, what happens to Mr. Nixon any more. He seems to have been shuffled forever off the national scene. But it bothers us the name of that cocker spaniel. Seems it was Trixie, or Peaches or something terrible touching.

Hankerings

By HENRY McLEMORE

With his love of simplicity, Henry Thoreau would have gone crazy on a visit to Europe.

I, who share only a first name with Thoreau, did go crazy.

Not crazy just once, but a dozen times during almost a year of living across the broad Atlantic.

About the first thing that an American notices when he comes home from abroad is the way his country makes simple things simple. And keeps them simple.

There is little simplicity in Europe. I always expected to see a European wheelbarrow with intricate works, a sun dial with a roof, a slingshot with a complicated sight, or a pretzel with instructions on how to unfold it.

Europeans like to make easy things difficult, and they are masters at the job.

Take cashing a check. There is no such thing as walking up to a chasier's cage, presenting your check, and getting the money.

In Italy you present your check to a man behind a long counter. He fills out seven forms. He blows a whistle, and a messenger comes. The messenger disappears into the mists with your check and the forms. The clerk takes on another customer.

After about 30 minutes, the messenger comes back. The clerk fills out some more forms, takes takes them to a higher-up for initialing, and then you are given a slip and sent to a window.

Finally, you get your money. The reason for all this rigmarole is "instant bookkeeping." Every transaction is entered in the books as you wait. In other words, you wait while the bank keeps everything up to date. It's "instant" for the bank, but it takes hours for you.

Getting a book of checks is a chore. You pay for them, they're not free, and it takes a good half hour for all the forms to be filled in, filed, checked, verified and delivered.

You do not buy stamps in a hurry in Europe, either. They are kept in giant books, and there is a great deal of thumbing before your denomination is located. And often that particular denomination is missing, so the clerk must go to the postmaster and buy some, and then enter the purchase in a book, and then have that book stamped and approved. The stamp seller also handles special delivery packages and registered packages. He also handles gas, electric and water bills, and parcels for foreign countries.

Buying a tie is no mean feat. Ties are not kept handy, but are filed away in drawers. They are not filed under colors, so that a clerk may have to look through ten drawers to find what you want. The same is true of shirts and socks.

Eating late at night is not only a bother, but impossible.

Gasoline stations are on the curb, often in the middle of a block, and are impossible to reach because of parked cars.

No one in Europe ever has any change. Offer the equivalent of a $5 bill in a supermarket and the cashier has to go shopping all over the block to break it.

There are no shoe shine boys in barber shops.

Aluminum foil and waxed paper are as scarce as Ming vases.

Paper bags are practically nonexistent.

Matches won't strike.

America is wonderful!

In 1775, the Continental Congress ordered construction of a naval fleet, thus originating the U.S. Navy.

In 1792, the cornerstone of the President's house, the first public building to be built in Washington, D.C., was put down by George Washington.

In 1943, Italy declared war on its former axis partner, Germany.

Wooing The Divorcee

Pegler Says:

New York Most Dangerous And Depraved Big City

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The Associated Press recently carried a fine story by Bernard Gavzer, describing The Terror in New York whose press except for the two Hearst papers has abused the orderly, civilized Southern Tier as a savage wilderness. Mr. Gavzer gave words to a horrible condition that was deliberately cultivated by Vito Marcantonio and Fiorello La Guardia for the utterly cynical purpose of dragooning imported voters with relief money out of taxes paid by usefull producers among the national citizenship. Gavzer confined himself to the region of Columbia University.

Morningside Heights, the home of Columbia, is now called Muggers' Heights, Mr. Gavzer wrote, and a special irony of despair obtains because the savage knows how to terrorize the savant with his objective theories of human behavior. Co-eds, American young women arriving in New York from Jackson, Miss., and Montgomery, Ala., are frankly warned in an official University bulletin that "Morningside Park is never safe; even in daytime," and advised to "avoid Riverside Park and Central Park after sundown."

There are even worse areas where anarchy is more and more aggressive. Yet professional but carefully vicarious rioters in headquarters in the 'Forties and 'Fifties give direction to freedom riders invading the peaceful South. The almost prim reality of normal behavior in the Southern centers of such besetment is dramatic against incidents which invaders kicked up last winter and spring. New York sent those provocators down.

The contrast now frustrates those who had the gall to harass the South.

For New York, thanks in large part to the infestations drawn by the United Nations, is the most depraved and dangerous big city since the draft riots of the Civil War.

It is worse by far than Paris and Rome were between the First and Second wars; even worse than London where sex now seems to be not only an industry but an insane obsession of the majority.

The UN began ominously, to be sure. But since the Rockefellers raised their monstrosity with the turtle-back dome over the political bull ring the descent into danger and fear has been too swift for Government. The political apparatus is inadequate at best. But now wild men and menacing females unrestrained by any rememberance of discipline have backed the police against the wall. The unbelievable effrontery of degenerates on Second and Third Avenues and West Forty-Second Street discredits New York's artificial scorn for even free-and-easy New Orleans.

Captain OBrien, of the 18th Precinct on the East Side in the 'Sixties, an expensive neighborhood aswirl with change, said a neighborhood cleric had remarked that two figures in tight pants and a landscaped poodle were coming to be the new standard family unit. All cops in New York are tensely aware that almost any hour some frantic object may start a commotion of shooting and senseless turmoil which only some regular regiment from Governor's Island can put down. This is no Little Rock to be cowed by a gun-butt on the toes. It is a city almost out of hand where millions of helpless, unacquainted strangers live in risk of insurrection.

It never was true that in the South white men waded into freedom riders with ball bats. A bloody nose can look like a pogrom in the right camera angle. And Northern papers, using service pictures and hot text, were responsible to a great extent for that which they then had the gall to depore, as a dreadfull "image" of "democracy" projected to Africa njungles and the bloody bodegas of Havana.

The Doctor Says:

By DR. HAROLD T. HYMAN

Parents are understandably reluctant to have young children operated upon. But there are occasions, such as removal of tonsils and adenoids, when the risks of doing nothing far exceed the risks and minor discomforts of an operation.

For example, consider the case of the child who has a hernia, usually in the groin. Now the hernia is nothing but a weakness or defect in the abdominal wall through which contents of the abdominal cavity, usually loops of small intestine, may protrude.

Most often, it is the mother who first observes the lump when the child strains or cries.

Ordinarily when the straining and crying are over the lump disappears as protruded contents return to the abdominal cavity. But then there comes a time when it falls to return. Or a more serious moment when it becomes pinched off, blocking the onward rush of intestinal content or shutting off the blood supply.

Now there is no way of telling when a hernia will fail to return or when it will strangulate. A truss won't cure the hernia though it might temporarily prevent these complications. And concern over these possibilities will almost surely prove a source of constant anxiety to parents and a handicap to the child's enjoyment of normal activities.

Under these circumstances, hernial repair is decidedly to be favored both from physical and emotional points of view.

The risks are negligible. Less than those of a tonsilectomy. Convalescence is rapid. And recurrence of the defect is most unusual when expert hands have performed the operation.

In the case of undescended testicles, the concern is less immediate. But the stake is no less important.

For, if the undescended male reproductive glands are not soon brought down to their normal resting place, they will cease function, or atrophy. And if they atrophy the boy may fail to develop normal masculine features and become ineligible for paternity.

Unlike the case of the hernia, for which medical treatment holds no promise, undescended testes may be induced to continue their journey through the efforts of carefully conducted glandular treatments.

But, if these conservative efforts fail, surgery is recommended, particularly since there is often an associated hernial defect.

Again, the operative risk is almost negligible. And the possible gains are of immeasurable magnitude both psychologically and physically.

Looking Sideways

By WHITNEY BOLTON

NEW YORK — Another Long Weekend: You are home on Friday afternoon resting, the heat and the week having spavined you, when the telephone rings and the radio station asks you if you will come in as soon as possible and do a personality piece on Jose Ferrer, actor, director, singer, writer, produce and about to be divorced husband of Rosemary Clooney...You get up, wash your face, find a taxi and get in there in time to do it for a sun-down broadcast, then run into a lady who works at the studio and you ask her if she'd like to dine with you if she is otherwise not engaged...She agrees and you go to Liborio for dinner, remaining after to see the new floor show from Spain...When that is finished, you move out to where the guitars are and sit until 2 in the morning, listening to Spanish, Mexican and Cuban plaints, but, suddenly, at 2, the guitarists strike a sombre, wailing rhythm and a woman who was a guest, sitting with three friends at a table, sings a long, moving lament for Cuba.. When she finishes, men are openly crying and the place is otherwise deadly still.

You see your date to her apartment building and then go home and fall into a deep sleep...You wake up Saturday morning with throbbing teeth and gums, take a look at them and decide that somewhere, where they don't wash the glasses as well as they should, you have picked up a first - class case of trench mouth A.You put yourself on alternate swishings of salt water and peroxide, but they do not abate and the ache becomes constant...You slam down some aspirin, and keep gargling and washing, knowing that no dentist can be found until Monday in the entire city of New York...You get through until Saturday night and, unable to be alone or stand it any more, you get dressed and go to see "La Dolce Vita" again, not because it is so great but because it is long and will take your mind off your ailment for at least three hours...When it is over, near midnight, you go back to Liborio and sit with Perez Blanco, the owner, and discuss world troubles in a kind of muted Spanish.

At 2 o'clock, you go home again and fall deeply into exhausted sleep and dream that small demons literally are taking fire axes to your gums...You wake at 6 in the morning, annoyed, aching and furious...You try to get back to sleep and being unable to do so, get up and stew around until 8 when the Sunday edition of the New York Times is delivered, a comely little package which seems to weigh nine pounds and consist of 8,001 sections...You read most of it, thread your way through a crossword puzzle, play some Bach, play some Bartok, go back to reading and go to bed in the middle of the day wishing that you had no teeth or gums.

You get up in the dawn-dark of Monday, get some work done, finish reading a book that has stympied you irritatedly for weeks, decide you never should even have started it, go to the radio station, do a job there and sit around waiting for 9:30, when your dentist, or at least his receptionist, will be in...You get her on the telephone promptly at 9:30, she tells you that if you can get there in 15 minutes he can see you on an emergency basis.. He looks at your mouth and says you have a fine rosy case of trench mouth, puts you on an oral penicillin regimen for the next 2½ days, and says to go on with the peroxide washes. He tells you to come back Thursday when, hopefully, your gums will have subsided and he can treat you more effectively.

You get the penicillin and swallow some of it, as directed, and two hours later decide that Dr. Fleming did not make such a miraculous discovery because you ache and hurt as much or more than you did before....But inside three hours you begin to feel less devastated and you run into Georgie Solotaire, who tells you a few anecdotes about people you know...You begin to chuckle and you make a date for the theater for Tuesday night.

You telephone home to check on things and your housekeeper asks: "What happened to you over the weekend? This apartment looks as though the hurricane swept through it." You say: "It did," and hang up, annoyed all over again.

HANOVR, West Germany — Erhard Herzigs dentification card reads, "expellee."

This is not exceptional in the West German federal republic's state of Lower Saxony, which borders the Communist zone and which was a creation of the Western powers in a dismembered Germany.

Half of Lower Saxony's six million population is made up of "expellees," refugees from Czechoslovakia, the territories beyond the Oder-Neisse line now occupied by Poland, and from Communist East Germany.

Herzig is a neat, grey - haired man, with the comfortable well-fed and well-dressed look that toda yis common to West Germany

But he remembers his return from the United States where he spent time as a prisoner of war, and his return to his family in Prague, Czechoslovakia.

His sole possession was the cast-off British army uniform he wore.

As the Communists moved up on Czechoslovakia, Herzig, his wife and their small daughter fled ahead of them to Hanover where, once more penniless, they begged two iron cots to sleep on.

Those things have changed for Erhard Herzig. Today, he is a successful newsman and press chief to Lower Saxony's prime Minister.

Herzig has resigned himself to knowledge that he will not return to Czechoslovakia.

The wish to return is not as strong in him as it is in his father.

But there is a sadness in him that exists scarcely at all in his children. His daughter does not remember Prague, and his son, born in Hanover, has no interest it it at all.

His son does not understand why his identification card also should be stamped "xpellee," for he is a native of Hanover.

The three generations of Herzigs are lustrativ oef a sntiment gradually taking over most of the refugees who sought refuge in West Germany.

Stiffer Grain Controls Planned By U.S. Agency

By BERNARD BRENNER

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Administration farm officials and advisers are mapping a 1962 legislative program built around proposals for stiffer-than-ever control of surplus grain production.

No concrete details of the administration's long-range grain control programs have yet emerged from talks between Agriculture Department officials and their wheat and feed grain advisory committees. Informed officials indicated, however, that they hope to develop new proposals regulating output of wheat and all feed grains beginning with 1963 crops. A voluntary 1962 feed grain program and a 10 per cent cut in 1962 wheat planting allotments were approved by Congress this year.

There are no current signs that the administration will attempt to revive this year's proposal under which the secretary of agriculture and farmer advisory groups would be authorized by law to draft commodity - by-commodity marketing programs. Under the original proposal, such programs could have been put into effect if they escaped congressional veto and won approval of producers in a referendum.

This proposed new program-drafting system was rejected by both the House and Senate Agriculture Committees this year.

One strong sign that the administration has no present intention of shifting its basic farm control philosophy came in a recent statement on goals and objectives drafted by the National Agricultural Advisory Commission.

The thinking of this group has generally agreed with the views of Agriculture Secretary Oryille L. Freeman, just as commission members in the last administration generally reflected the views of former Secretary Ezra T. Benson.

The new commission said that if the American farmer is to earn economic quality with other Americans, "the aid of government is essential in ordering the economic and social environment in which he lives and works, so as to take realistic account of the unique characteristics of agriculture . . ."

Further Boosts In Individual Stocks Possible

NEW YOR K (UPI) — Bachet Co. has noted numerous volume downticks in the stock market, that is, blocks of stock trading at prices lower than those of the previous sale.

Bache says that further gains are likely during the next few days for individual stocks, but sees no concrete evidence as yet that the barrier above 720 in the Dow-Jones industrial average will be seriously challenged.

Joseph Granville of E. F. Hutton Co. remarks that with all the publicity the business recovery has received it is interesting to note how few of the cyclical stocks are represented among the list of new highs.

Gerald Loeb of E. F. Hutton Co. says that we are moving into an area where decreasing cash and increasing equity positions are again indicated.

Shearson, Hammill Co. says it is "not quite so confident as the investment community as a whole seems to be that 1962 will be a banner automobile year,a on of the most important factors determining the immediate course of the market."

About 45 per cent of the population of Hawaii, 50th state, is composed of people less than 30 years old.

Rainfall Needed On Wheat Fields

AUSTIN (UPI) — Texas wheat pastures had only limited grazing available Oct. 1, the U. S. Department of Agriculture said today, and rains were needed in some areas.

Some fields of volunteer wheat were being used for grazing at the start of this month. Most High Plains acreage has been seeded and shows a good stand, but rains are needed to firm soil around young plants and to supply topsoil moisture.

Southern Low Plains planting was late and fall growth will depend on more rain and warm weather. Very little wheat is being grazed in the Southern Plains.
